Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

My reactions are changing. When my 8-year-old daughter wiggles to a rock tune, it's cute. When my teenage daughter tries it, I cringe.

Noel Coward said it...it's amazing how many people are shocked by honesty, and how few by deception.

I've often wondered if water beds sloshed when people used them. Now I've learned they may really slosh...like right through the floor.

FHA building requirements call for bedroom floors supporting 30 pounds per square foot and living area 40 pounds per square foot.

Water beds have a weight of 75 pounds per square foot. I hope all you owners of water beds sleep well tonight.

Here are some lines every editor has heard (and will likely hear again).

"Please put it on the front page."

"Use the story just as I have written it. The club wants it that way for the scrap book."

"You're invited to our annual dinner tonight (this was the third invitation that week and we wanted a night home). There will be plenty free to eat and drink. Oh yes, please bring your camera."

"How come it wasn't in the paper? It was - well, I didn't see it. Will you please go through the back copies and tear it out for me?"

"I just stopped by to talk a few minutes, but if you're busy."

"We voted to make you our club publicity chairman."

"I know you have a deadline, but couldn't you just squeeze this little item in?"

"I know it's on a Sunday, but it's our annual reunion and someone ought to cover it."

"My uncle's brother is one of your biggest advertisers and I was wondering if..."

"I'll try to get my ad in to you before the deadline next time."

"You ran the disaster picture, but you didn't get my first wedding anniversary picture in until the day after."

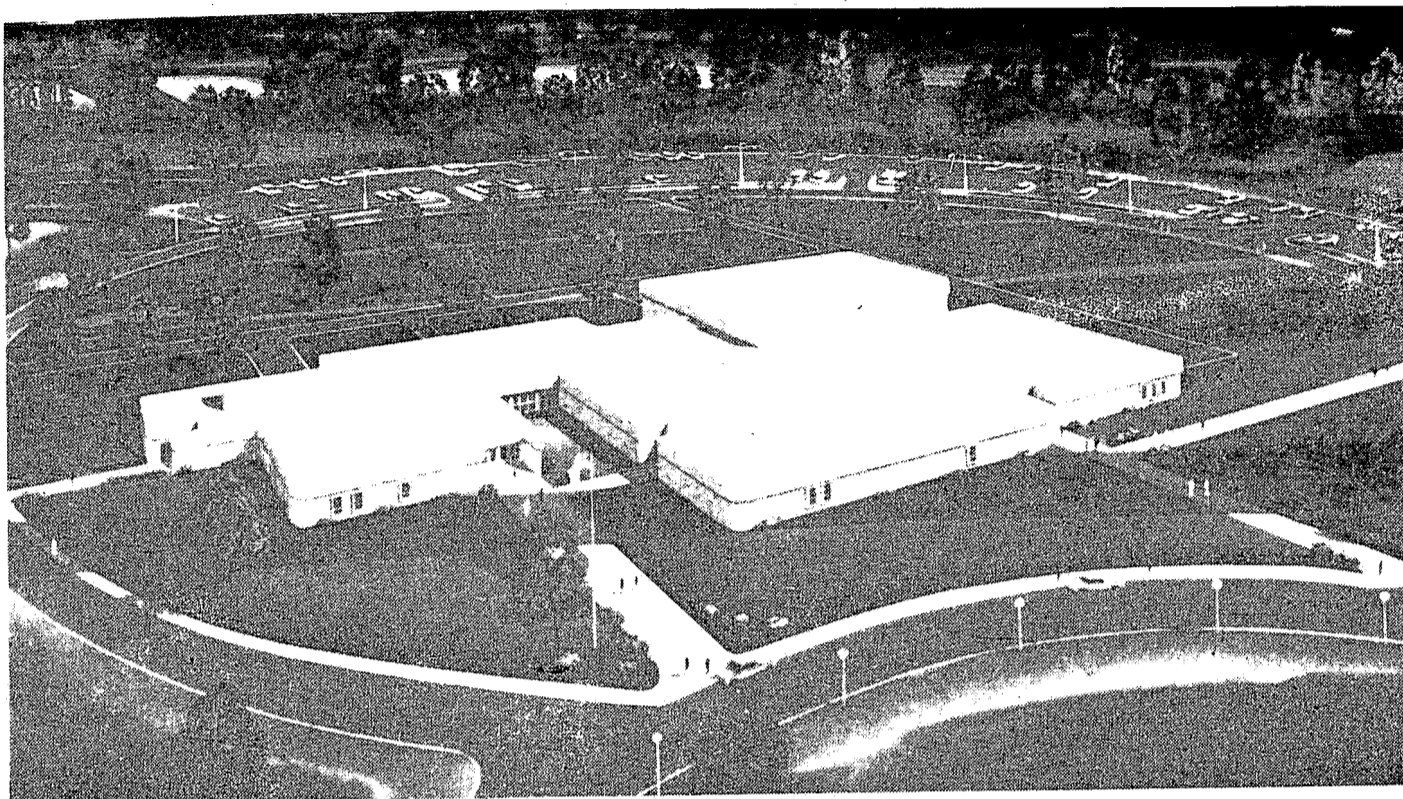

"If there wasn't room for the other picture, why couldn't they run it on another page?"

Are school bus drivers more courteous this year, or is it just more evident to me? Seems like the drivers are staying off the side of roads longer to let cars pass after dropping children, and making sure the road is clear.

Vocational Ed Center holds open house May 2

The Northwest Area Vocational Education Center will hold an open house on May 2. The building, which is located at 8211 Big Lake Road (near the I-75 and Dixie Highway interchange), will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. to allow area residents to tour the building.

Students will be on hand to act as guides, according to Herb Olson, Principal.

Classes of students from Clarkston, Holly, Brandon and 4 Waterford high schools were started in the building early this year. The students spend half of their school day at their own high school studying the conventional curriculum and then are transported by bus to the new facility for special training in the vocational areas.

General office practice, medical and dental assistance, retailing, commercial art, appliance repair and printing are some of the areas of specialization.

"We are proud of our school and hope that people will take advantage of this opportunity and let us show them our accomplishments," said Olson.

Sign for vote

It's time to register for the June 14 election of School Board members. The deadline for registering at the township offices is 5 p.m. May 14.

On the Saturday preceding that date, May 8, residents can sign up between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Application for registration should be made to the clerk of the township in which the elector resides.

Recommend new canvas

A complete report, with recommendations, has been made of the assessment records in Independence Township. They were submitted to the Board last Tuesday night by assessor, Bob Vandermark.

He wrote that it had been 13 years since the township had been canvassed and description cards brought up to date.

There have been additions and corrections made on the cards through the years, he said, but he felt the number of inequities required a new assessment of the entire rolls.

There are 9,000 property descriptions in Independence, Vandermark said. The new canvas would review each and add properties that had unrecorded additions.

He anticipated no great change in overall assessment figures, the township is now assessed at $67 million, only an equalizing of values between like or comparable properties.

Spring was all around.

Physical education

The primary factor determining the type of physical education program provided is the facilities that are available. The high school student is required to participate in the physical education program for no less than one semester and is encouraged to take at least one semester of work each year.

The philosophy of the P.E. curriculum is to introduce as many types of games and sports with an adequate background knowledge of the various rules as possible. The reasoning for this stems from the fact that many people are acquiring additional leisure time. Therefore, the individual will have an opportunity, to not only come in contact with a variety of recreational games, but also find the ones he likes and excels at the most.

The offerings are geared to the seasonal sports so as to use the outdoor facilities as much as possible. In the fall the course offerings include football, soccer, speed ball, tennis, golf, archery, track, softball and body building.

During the second marking period basketball, wrestling, gymnastics, cheerleading, first aid and recreational games are offered. Many of these classes are again offered the 3rd marking period.

In April the spring sports are emphasized and the outside facilities are again used.

Many of the courses are offered in a co-educational situation while several are offered only to girls. Several of the courses are designed for the individual who wishes to better his physical fitness. These courses allow the individuals to progress as far as they wish and many of the school athletes take part in the programs designed to benefit them in their particular sport.

The physical education department is a very integral part of the total education process and with the expanded offerings, this becomes even more so.

If any parents wish to receive help in the course selection process, which is now in progress, they are encouraged to call the high school.

The next article will examine the fine arts department.

North Oakland Girl Scout drive begins

The annual Sustaining Membership Drive of Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council kicks off April 30 in all areas served by the Council.

Donald Place, Assistant Director of Special Education with Oakland County Schools and Jack DeLorge of GMC Truck and Coach, will head the drive in the Independence Township area. The Council is seeking $20,000 to meet this year's operating budget. Friends of Scouting, volunteer adult leaders and parents of Scouts are participating in the drive.

Sustaining Memberships provide supplementary funds necessary to serve the Council's current Scouts and to provide for growth of the program in 1971. Membership also offers community members the opportunity to financially aid Scouting.

The Council serves more than 10,000 girls and 2,000 adults in North Oakland County. Over 700 of these are in the Clarkston area.

The Girl Scouts are encouraged by the United Funds to engage in Sustaining Membership Enrollment as a means to supplement United Fund allocations.

Two seats at stake

Nominating petitions for 2 seats on the Clarkston Board of Education are now available.

At stake will be posts of incumbents Ronald "Buck" Weber and Ferdinand Sanchez. Both are 4 year terms.

The petitions can be picked up at the Board office, 6389 Clarkston Rd. They must be turned in by 4 p.m. May 17 with signatures of at least 20 registered school electors.

Weber, 6110 Overlook, who has served as president of the Board for several years, is completing his 23rd year as a member.

Sanchez, 5173 Sashabaw, was appointed to the Board in 1967 and elected in 1968 to fill an unexpired term.

The election will be June 14.

Get out red ink, Clarkston schools may need it

By Jim Sherman

July 2 Clarkston School District may be broke.

Current estimates of the cash position of this district at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, 1971, is $30,700. This will not operate the schools for one day.

The financial crisis is not peculiar to Clarkston Schools, but this is the one that concerns this area the most. Dealing with the crisis here falls primarily into the hands of Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent of schools.

During our interview with Dr. Greene this week he said the thing that concerned him most was how to deal with the crisis in such a way as to "minimize the impairment of the education program, both curricular and extra curricular."

The superintendent's most immediate problem is trying to convince the county allocation board to continue another year the 8.31 mills given here last year from the 15-mill spread.

Rumors are flying that the county board will try to cut schools in Oakland County by a half mill and give it to county government.

It has happened in the past. Over the last 20 years the allocated millage for schools has decreased from 9.73 mills to the current level.

Efforts are being made by county school districts to convince county commissioners to urge the court appointed allocation board to continue the present allotment or even increase it.

The need for this millage, along with monies from other sources, is apparent from audited fiscal year cash positions. They show the inevitable consequence if the "cash position" trend continues.

July 1, 1967 Clarkston school "enjoyed" a cash position of $569,430. This was approximately 20 percent of the operation budget. The annual cost per year for each student was $492.08.

Each year since then the fiscal expenditures have risen about $400,000. Enrollment has gone up 1,000, from 5600 to 6600, during the past 6 years.

However, as mentioned, the "cash position" has dropped to nearly zip.

That $492 per year child now costs $736 a year to educate, and the $30,000 estimated balance is less than 6-tenths of 1 percent of the annual operating budget.

It takes about $400,000 to meet school expenses from July 1 until revenues start coming from the state.

Of course, the county allocation board determination is not the only money matter facing Dr. Greene.

As he says, "There are many other factors contributing to our current dilemma."

The decrease in the percent given Clarkston Schools by Michigan has hurt. In 1964-65 the state provided this district with 71.69% of its operating budget. This current fiscal year will show the state's share as 61.25 percent.

Who picked up the difference? The school district! In the years mentioned, the local portion went up from 31.7% to 38.75 percent.

And, the superintendent adds, "This process of shifting the state's obligation to the local taxpayer, by the process of increasing the local state equalized value, does not result in additional revenue to schools, but causes the local taxpayer to carry a larger share of the cost."

Another factor to the decrease in "cash position" is the Supreme Court decision telling school districts to pay for instructional supplies.

Too, the auto strike forced the state to cut aid to schools by what added up to 1.16 percent.

However, the largest single factor leading to the "cash position" column decrease came. Dr. Greene said, in 1966-67 when it was determined municipal employees had the right to bargain and negotiate for such gains as they felt desirable.

"This single factor has been the major contributing cause of the increase per capita cost of educating a child per year in the past 5 years," he said.

Clarkston administrators are now at the "What do we do now?" stage.

Negotiations have started with the Clarkston Education Association.

We said above that fiscal expenditures have risen about $400,000 annually. The school board's budget submitted to the county this month showed an increase in this area of $320,000.

The initial proposal offered by the CEA adds up to over a half million dollars. The 1970-71 CEA package amounted to $2,804,165.

Dr. Greene says that to meet the needs of 1971-72 it will take an additional 3 mills. That's considering the state aid figures remain the same and that there is a 10 percent increase in school district valuation.

The district has already reduced its work force by 1 administrator, 2 custodians and a secretary. Further, other steps are promised to "maintain a solvent position."

Also being considered is borrowing $1 million as of June 1 on tax anticipation notes to pay bills July 1 to December when revenues begin to come in.

The next cut consideration, of course, is to reduce curricular and extra curricular programs from what Dr. Greene says are now "minimal."

Concluding the interview, Dr. Greene said, "This is the situation facing your school today. I am hopeful that you will support our efforts to obtain a more equitable state aid program and to prevent any further allocation board diversion of funds from schools to county government."

"Governor Milliken and members of the legislature as well as your local county commissioner should be informed as to how you feel and what you think should be done."

Senior Girl Scout Janice Easton gives High School Principal and Rotarian William Dennis a service award for his cooperation and assistance to the Girl Scouts of the Clarkston area.

Temporary & permanent synonymous in taxes

Out of every 8 hours we work, some 2 hours and 51 minutes of earnings go for taxes. More than one third of our working time is, therefore, devoted to: supporting a war that most of us abhor; paying the "very adequate" salaries of state officials; underwriting upkeep of county roads that aren't kept up; and discharging the costs of township and village services rendered and unrendered.

Every so often there's a fine new tax reform program. Generally those advocating tax reforms point out that present methods put an undue burden on widows with fixed incomes and farmers who no longer can afford to farm or the poor kids jammed into over-crowded school buildings.

Tax reform moves to take the load off the little guy's back get lots of popular backing. The trouble is that the new taxes which are supposed to REPLACE the "unfair" levies wind up being imposed IN ADDITION to the old taxes.

Just a few years back, some genius promoted a Michigan State Sales Tax as a temporary measure so that the overtaxed could get some relief. Backers of the sales tax said that this could be the permanent welcome relief to eliminate burdensome and inequitable property taxes.

Things didn't work out quite that way. The sales tax became permanent — after being jacked up in rate and being expanded to cover lots of services as well as goods. Property taxes doubled and tripled and the end isn't in sight.

Then came new hope for tax relief of the oppressed. Let's soak the rich with a state income tax, they said. Let's make the guy pay who can afford to pay and give the little old ladies and the pensioners a break.

Church is improving

By Jim Fitzgerald

This man said maybe God doesn't exist in a human form, maybe He's a mass of electricity.

I nudged my wife and whispered: "Is our Edison bill paid?"

Another man said he believed in God OK but he had a hang-up on Jesus Christ. The resurrection is a lot of malarkey to him and Easter is just another Sunday except he is always careful to wear a clean shirt to church.

A 3rd man said maybe God is dead but did it really make any difference?

And a young woman said she talked to God regularly, usually at home.

This was not a bunch of heretics sounding off in the corner saloon. These people were standing up and sounding off during Easter services in my favorite church. I was there for the usual religious reasons: my daughter was singing "Everything Is Beautiful" but things wouldn't have been so beautiful for me if I hadn't shown up to hear her.

Veteran readers of this weekly nonsense may recall it was in 1965 that I wrote a column titled "My Church Is Inside." It was in response to a reader who asked why I didn't go to church every Sunday. I told him. I said I was turned off by preachers who were constantly quoting the Bible and counting heads and raising funds to build magnificent, tax-free churches that were really country clubs. I said too many preachers were speechless on the real moral issues — such as racial injustice — and too many congregations refused to listen to any minister who dared promote true Christianity as it was taught by Jesus Christ.

This is no attempt to revive that old hassle. Reader response at the time established firmly that I am either a sacrilegious sap or a fine fellow, take your pick, that's what makes the world go 'round. Some people think Big break! Again the "instead of" tax grew like Frankenstein's monster and the taxes it was supposed to replace were upped again.

Now our governor is singing the tax relief tune again. The lyrics have been changed, but the melody is hauntingly familiar. Schools need more money and property owner tax burdens must be eased.

Let us look this one over carefully before we support the latest tax reform package.

Letters to the Editor

Township diets

Dear Editor:

The "Bottles for Building" committee is happy to announce Independence Township's April loss of 27.6 tons of unsightly trash glass. Since January, when Independence started its "program," it has managed to shed no less than 94 tons!

Are you listening, weight watchers?

Through participation, currently estimated at 35%, weight loss has increased steadily over the past four months. The township goal of 80 tons per month, through 100% participation, is still a long way off.

Anyone can help Independence continue to get in shape by becoming a Glass Grabber.

Just save ALL glass containers. Rinse. Remove ALL metal, including metal rings around the necks of pop bottles. Sort by color: clear, green, brown.

Next — place at your curb or bring to one of the many neighborhood drop-off centers on May 15 and every third Saturday of the month thereafter.

Remember, "If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the pollution."

Sincerely,
Mrs. Jack Belbey

Looks better

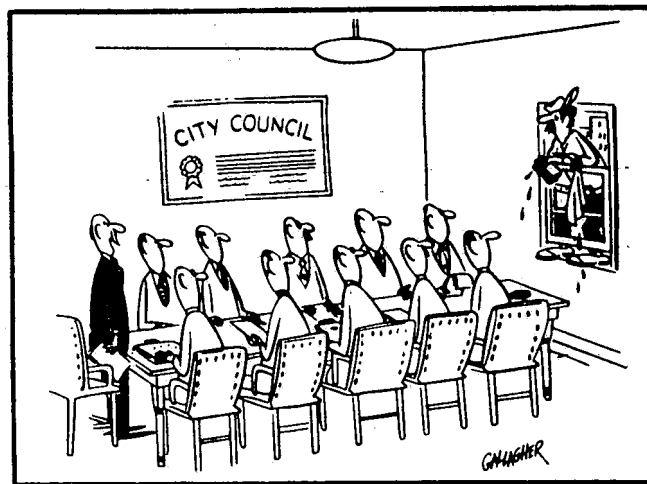

Dear Editor,

Your picture of the litter on the northbound Sashabaw exit of I-75 that appeared on the front page of the March 15 issue was taken before March 10. On that date, 2 Camp Fire girls cleaned up this area.

Pamela Weber and Cheryl Stonerock picked up 2½ bags of trash and 2 boxes of bottles. They cleaned ¾ of the way down the exit.

It was all clear for Easter Sunday. Who knows now how clear it is?

lightning would have flattened the church.

There was a Sunday when a fine tenor stood up in the choir loft and sang "What's It All About, Alfie?" from the risqué movie of the same name. There was a black visitor from a Detroit slum. His grammar was ragged but his story was about how some lost boys needed finding. Everyone listened hard — and then gave him some help.

And then there was Easter when the pastor sat in the congregation and let the teenagers run the service. And the kids invited the congregation to give their own sermons. And that man made me wonder about my Edison bill.

Excuse me, Pastor, but it was all so much more meaningful than the scripture readings which usually set me to eyeing the pretty girl across the aisle.

Onward and Upward and Amen.

Edward and Jeanette Krause (Mr. and Mrs.) have remodeled the old Trading Center on M-15 and made it into an elegant antique shop and delicatessen store. A hobby of making picture frames from old barn wood has taken the couple from their supermarket business in Detroit and set them up in a full time business in Independence Township. People who attend antique shows will be familiar with their merchandise. An old nickelodeon in their shop has become the trademark and named their country store. The Krauses have bought a home from Ralph Brady and have renovated it for their living quarters as well.

Nadolsky to head Jaycees

Dave Nadolsky

David Nadolsky was elected last week to head the Clarkston Jaycees for the coming year.

He is a graduate of Ferris State College where he earned a B.S. degree in pharmacy and is a partner at Hallman's Apothecary on Clarkston's Main Street.

"The emphasis of all Jaycee work is centered around service to one's community," said Dave when questioned. "I hope that this year we can continue in this program. I hope that we can look over our 70 or more projects and figure ways of making each of them as efficient as possible.

"I guess that my most sincere desire is to get the high school kids involved in our community. I think that they have proven their interest in the past and I would like to encourage their involvement. I think that the young men in our organization will make it possible for easy communication."

Nadolsky and his wife, Shanna, live at 9 N. Holcomb. They have 3 children, David, 6; Erik, 4 and Elizabeth, 1.

He will be installed in the office on June 1.

there be one, share the responsibility.

Township attorney Richard Campbell says this "Ordinance to control the division of land" is a first. He told the Board he knows of no others of this kind.

"However," he said, "I think this ordinance is reasonable and within the police powers of the township. I do wish to advise that we may well expect the ordinance to be attacked and because of the lack of precedent, we may have a long, hard defense."

In explaining the reasoning behind the ordinance, supervisor Gary Stonerock said land transactions in the past have been on the basis "let the buyer beware. He said this ordinance would alleviate this attitude in some cases.

"He told the audience at the last board meeting that he felt the seller of the land and salesman usually know what can be built on the land, and it should be up to them to tell the potential buyers the land limitations.

"Because of the numerous problems involved in splitting of lots," Stonerock said he felt there was a need for an ordinance to make it illegal to sell a piece of land that can't be built on or the zoning complied with.

A public hearing on the proposed ordinance will come at the beginning of the next regular board meeting, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Stonerock said he expected the Board of Realtors would object to the proposed law.

Wolves open season with 3 victories

By Craig Moore

The Clarkston Wolves opened their 1971 baseball season with 3 fine victories.

Monday, April 19, the Varsity team came up with an unusual feat in scoring 3 successive home runs in the first inning. The burst was enough to carry the Wolves to a 9-1 victory over West Bloomfield.

With one man out, Rick Prasil put the first 4-bagger over the centerfield fence, Mike Turk knocked one out to the left, then Mark Swanson slammed another to the right.

Clarkston edged Lake Orion 8-7 in a come-from-behind victory Wednesday. With one down, the Wolves evened the score 6-6 in the bottom of the sixth when Rick Prasil belted a home run. Orion countered with a run in the top of the sixth.

The Wolves took charge when Mark Wornen hit a double with bases loaded, driving in 2 runs for the win.

This was Clarkston's second win and Orion's first loss in three.

On Thursday, the Wolves posted their third victory by a 10-2 margin over Brighton.

Clarkston exploded with home runs hit by Mike Turk and Mark Swanson. Turk was credited with 5 RBI's and Rick Prasil,

3. Pitcher Bob Hoy got the win. ***

The double-header against Waterford Mott which was originally scheduled for Saturday, April 24 was canceled until Monday, April 26.

The JV Wolves also opened with 3 wins.

The JV burst forth for a 15-5 win over West Bloomfield. Winning pitcher was Larry Miracle, with Dave Partlo in relief.

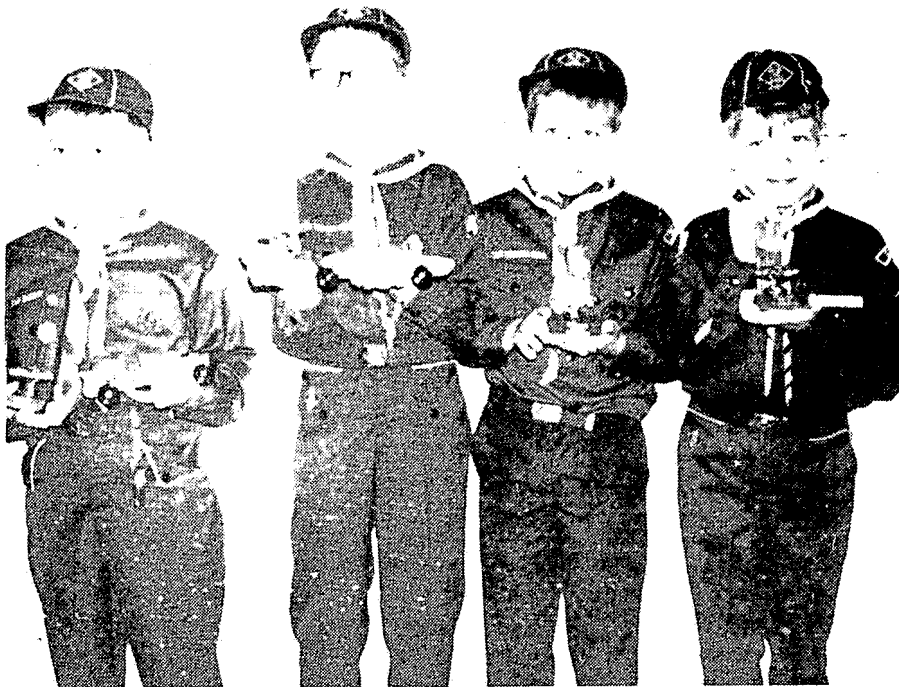

Clarkston nipped Pontiac Northern 6-5 in a seventh inning effort. Al Hux doubled to pull in the winning run.

The Wolves tallied 5 runs in the sixth inning on Wednesday for their 7-4 win over Lake Orion.

This fine start has generated team spirit and confidence that it will be a good season for both varsity and JV teams.

Wednesday, April 28 the Wolves play in Rochester and on Thursday Clarkston will meet Bloomfield Hills Andover at home.

Game time is 3:30 p.m. on May 1. On Saturday, the Wolves will clash with Kettering in a doubleheader starting at 1:00 p.m.

2 wins posted by Wolverine thinclads

Clarkston Junior High's 9th grade track team started its first season with 2 big victories last week.

On April 19 the team defeated West Hills Junior High from Bloomfield Hills by the score of 88-21.

The Wolverines took first places in 11 out of the 13 events and placed 2 men in every event while sweeping 4 events.

An outstanding performance was turned in by Bill Rondo who took 1st place in the long jump, 100 yard dash and carried a leg of the 880 yard relay team for a total of 11 1/4 points.

The Wolverines defeated Walled Lake Central 75-30 on April 22 to collect their second victory.

They swept 10 out of 13 first places, and 26 out of 35 possible places.

Lee Booker was chief point scorer for the Wolverines with 11 1/4 points, winning 1st places in the 100 yard dash, 180 yard low hurdles and was a member of the winning 880 yard relay team.

The Wolverines will meet Muir Junior High on April 27 and will run in a triangular meet with Bloomfield Hills and Mason Junior High Schools on April 30.

The team is coached by Duane Lewis.

Runners eye league title

By Craig Moore

The Clarkston Wolves' track team is still eyeing the Wayne-Oakland League track championship.

Clarkston has a 1-2 record at present. Tuesday, April 20, in a dual meet, the Wolves were defeated by Northville, but rallied to beat Brighton.

Waterford Mott defeated Clarkston, 67-51.

Coach Bruce said, "We were beat in the high jump and long jump 18-0."

Clarkston ran first in the 1/2 mile, Fred Seyler first and Blair Warren second. In the mile run first was taken by Rick Svetkoff and second by Rick Plummer. Dan Dankert and Plummer took first and second in the 2-mile run.

The Wolves won the 880 relay but lost in the mile.

Coach Bruce continued, "We scored well in the hurdles and sprints and I feel had we not lost Kurt Carlsen and Bill Svetkoff to injuries, we could have taken the meet."

Clarkston was among 19 schools competing in the Waterford Invitational. The team placed 8th.

Rick Svetkoff, second in the mile, had a 4:32:3 time. Clarkston took first and a trophy in the two-mile relay. Seyler, Dankert, Warren and Carlsen had an 8:17 time.

The Wolves took 6th in the 880 relay. Coach Bruce said, "With more than two losses, we won't have a chance at the league title, but we're still in the fight."

Clarkston will run against Milford on Tuesday, April 27.

For the first time the Clarkston team has been invited to compete in the Charles Mott Relays at Flint Northwestern with 26 other schools on Friday, April 30.

Good intentions

By Haslett Hemmor

Big Sarah Orness may be one of the clumsiest females in the world but she's also one of the best hearted.

Trouble is that even the nice things Sarah tries to do come out pretty bad. Wouldn't hurt a fly on purpose but the trouble is that she's big enough to crush a cow, when she trips over her own feet — which is usually. And she sure can stumble just as bad in talk as she does in walk.

Guess I never did see Big Sarah that she didn't look like she just stepped out of a steam bath. Stringy red haired and red faced, she is, and near always with that big buck-toothed grin. You just got to like her but you sure hope she won't pick you out for any special favors.

Fact is, she's ready day or night to help out near anyone that's in trouble. Barely knew that widow lady, Mrs. Jenson, south-of town but last fall it was Big Sarah that showed up right after Mrs. Jenson fell and broke her leg. Old Sarah not only showed up but took over, complete the same day.

Sarah hadn't been in the house ten minutes before she remarks, real cheerful, that Mrs. Jenson's cleaning lady had only half dusted and she'd better finish the job.

Three minutes later two vases are broken and Mrs. Jenson is pleading for Sarah to stop using her good shawl for a dust rag and don't bother with the high shelves or the low places either, for that matter. Actual fact, if Sarah's house was ever as neat and clean as the widow's it would be a miracle. Mrs. Jenson couldn't afford a cleaning woman and wouldn't have allowed one to touch her prized antiques, anyway.

Come afternoon and Mrs. Jenson sees a couple of kids picking peaches in her back yard. She asks Big Sarah to shoo them off because she plans on entering the state fair for the best bushel from one tree and best single fruit contests.

"Planned to pick them tomorrow," says Mrs. Jenson, "tended those peaches like they was my own kids. Wouldn't trust anyone else to prune or pick. Not one speck of spray ever touched those three wonderful little trees."

So Sarah shoos off the kids and assures Mrs. Jenson that she'll keep an eye peeled for any other trespassers.

Next morning, just after daybreak, old Sarah's there with a big ladder. Thing must have been thirty feet long and extra heavy. Sure was nice of Big Sarah to take on the job of picking those peaches. She'd never even seen anyone pick, before, but Mrs. Jenson was worried about those kids, so Sarah figured it had to be done.

Doc had left some sleeping tablets for Mrs. Jenson just in case her leg kept her awake. The widow held off until near morning but couldn't sleep so she took a couple tablets. When she woke up at ten, the three peach trees looked like they'd been hit by a tornado — broken branches all over from that big ladder. Guess it must have slipped and fallen a dozen times but Big Sarah is a stubborn woman. The picked peaches were more like mush. Sarah had left the baskets on the ground and tried her best to pitch the fruit down into them but missed more often than not.

Doc says it's the only case he knows of where an older woman with a broken leg was up on crutches and doing everything for herself within three days. Self-preservation, I guess.

Spiritual Message

Rev. Arlon K. Stubbe

CALVARY LUTHERAN CHURCH
SPIRITUAL MEDITATION

"But the apostles thought that what the women said was nonsense, and did not believe them. But Peter got up and ran to the grave; he bent down and saw the grave cloths and nothing else. Then he went back home wondering at what had happened."

St. Luke 24:11,12

In the times of movements for the liberation of women, it does not auger well for men that they listen so seldom to the advice and testimony of the female sex. Perhaps man was 'burned' once too often in the Garden of Eden, and simply doesn't wish to repeat the mistake. More likely, Jesus' disciples were only acting on their human instincts in rejecting His resurrection from the dead.

After all, it's not every day that you hear tales of a dead man

The passage in Luke ends with Peter going home, and wondering about what had happened. Perhaps that's where most of us are after Easter each year. What has happened, if anything?

A man rose from the dead, we are told. None of us has seen him, for a fact. We haven't met someone who knew Him, for it was too long ago and too far away. We haven't even got the women to blame for such a tall tale anymore.

walking about in the town cemetery on Sunday morning! From either a man or a woman.

And yet... there are four Gospels in a book called the Bible which specifically talk about Jesus' rising from the grave. There were Twelve men in the beginning who accepted His new life enough to lose their lives believing in Him. And hundreds of thousands, no-millions today—accept as fact the tale that Jesus lived and died and rose again.

What are we to make of it all? What did happen, do you think? Did Jesus rise? Or, if not, then what sense do you make of your own life now? And what future is there for us men?

Schedule is heavy

Due to unforeseen conditions, the Seniors' trip to Cedar Pointe has been rescheduled for Tuesday, June 1. The reasons for the change were the unavailability of charter buses and the crowded conditions that would occur on the previous date, May 28, which is during Memorial Day weekend.

The cost of the trip will be $11.50 per student. This will include the bus fee and admission costs. The deadline for payment is April 30. Students will be at the bookstore window during the school day to take payments. The entire cost of the trip must be paid for at one time.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the senior class sponsors, Mr. William Hartwell and Mr. Larry Rosso.

On Saturday, May 1, the Jaycees in Clarkston will be sponsoring the second annual "Walk for Mankind." Under the direction of the Jaycee chairman, Ron Rule and the student chairman, Bill Latoza, this year's walkers hope to raise even more money for Project Concern than last year. Project Concern is an independent, non-profit, medical-relief program which aids ill and starving persons throughout the world.

All persons in the community and especially students are urged to participate in this most worthwhile activity.

After being anxiously awaited for many months, the Hilltoppers finally arrived. On Monday, April 19, the 1970-71 yearbooks were distributed to the students, who are now eagerly awaiting the summer supplements, which will arrive during July or August.

The Spanish Club, newly formed by Spanish teacher Mrs. Ann Tucker, is busily studying their "diccionarios" to prepare for the Scrabble contest that they are sponsoring on April 29. Besides perfecting their ability to speak Spanish, the members of the club have planned many activities including a dinner at a Mexican restaurant, learning to prepare Spanish and Mexican foods, and investigating various trips and tours to Spanish-speaking countries. Any interested students are welcome to attend the meetings.

Since most students are counting the days until the end of school, a sort of timetable might help you plan for the upcoming events, from now 'til June 14.

During this week, student scheduling for next year is being done. It is important that students have their registration cards signed by their parents and returned to the school counselors as soon as possible. Each card will be dated upon its return to the school and those with the earliest dates will be scheduled first. If you do not turn your card in until late, it cannot be guaranteed that you will receive the classes that you wish to take. Many classes have a limited enrollment and will soon be filled.

On May 5, the representative from Inter Collegiate Press will be at the school to deliver the graduation announcements to the seniors. All seniors who ordered announcements are reminded to have their balance due, as well as their receipts with them on the 5th.

On May 17 at 8:00 p.m. a college information night will be held for all members of the junior class and their parents. This is a program for informing and answering questions of all those juniors who are planning on attending any type of school after graduation from high school. Further information concerning this program may be obtained from counselor, Mrs. Marilyn Hanson.

On the morning of June 9, there will be a rehearsal for all those persons who will be participating in the

PAUF present awards at luncheon

By Carolyn Jorgensen

"Personal involvement is a term very much in vogue," began Mrs. Vincent Bronsing, chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund Women's Division. She continued with a message designed especially for the 25 individual agencies being recognized for outstanding service to the community at the annual PAUF Women's Division Awards Banquet. The banquet was held on Wednesday, April 21 at the Pontiac Sheraton Motor Inn, in Pontiac.

"The whole community has certainly been the richer for your devotion," she said.

William Belaney, Master of Ceremonies, introduced the guests at the head table. Pre-luncheon music was provided by the Central High Jazz Combo, under the direction of Thomas Course.

commencement exercises. At 1:15 in the afternoon will be the senior assembly. All parents of members of the graduating class are cordially invited to attend.

Exams for all seniors will be on June 7 and 8. Exams for underclassmen will be on June 10 and 11.

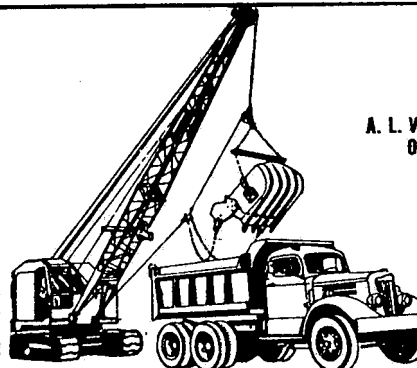

And now comes the big moment. Commencement exercises for the class of 1971 will take place at 7:30 p.m. on June 14 in the CHS gymnasium. The senior party will immediately follow the graduation ceremonies.

Guest speaker, Bob Talbert, Detroit Free Press columnist's humorous presentation included many anecdotes about his wife, children and profession.

The purpose of the luncheon was next accomplished through the presentation of awards by Mrs. Thomas Murray. She was assisted by Mrs. Timothy Patterson and Mr. Milo Cross.

Chairman for this year's luncheon was Mrs. Richard Jorgensen of Clarkston and co-chairmen were Mrs. D. Richard Veazey and Mrs. Merrill Petrie.

RAPS seek assistance

Rev. Ronald Farah

Edgar W. Flood

Oakland County's program of religious assistance to troubled youth has launched a $50,000 fund raising campaign to continue and expand its operation

Religious Assistance and Protective Service, Inc. (RAPS), the only organization of its type in Michigan, aids youth in trouble with the law through counseling, involvement with the local churches and synagogues, and referral to local agencies.

"RAPS, supported entirely through contributions, has assisted scores of families in recent years by channeling the natural energy of adolescents into productive activities," says Judge Eugene Arthur Moore, Judge of Probate-Juvenile Court, Oakland County, and member of the Executive Committee of RAPS.

The campaign will begin April 26 and will be conducted among area churches, synagogues, businessmen and individuals of Oakland County, according to the Reverend Ronald Farah, President of Religious Assistance and Protective Service, Inc., and Campaign Chairman.

Edgar W. Flood, Supervisor of RAPS and Director of the Oakland County Youth Assistance Program, pointed out that the funds raised will make it possible for RAPS to employ additional staff to counsel youth and to expand its activities through more frequent contacts with police, community agencies, and with local courts and families and children in trouble.

'Tis spring, the beginning of the warm weather months... and a good time to add some cool and refreshing recipes to your culinary repertoire.

Perfect for many occasions coming up this season is Frosty Fruit Freeze... a light and colorful combination of canned apricots and pineapple, maraschino cherries, diced dates and whipped cream.

A versatile dish, Frosty Fruit Freeze is equally delectable as a salad or a dessert. And, it can be prepared well in advance... making it especially convenient for the homemaker during the busy spring and summer months.

Serve it as a tempting dessert at bridal showers, club meetings or luncheons. As a salad, it will be a scrumptious addition to family dinners or party buffets.

Since it can be stored in your freezer for weeks, why not keep a batch on hand large enough to serve a crowd? Here's the recipe for 12 delicious servings.

FROSTY FRUIT FREEZE

1 8-oz. package diced dates
1 cup diced, canned apricots, drained
1 cup diced, canned pineapple, drained
1 cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained
½ cup sugar
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup heavy (whipping) cream
½ cup mayonnaise

Place dates, apricots, pineapple, cherries and sugar in a mixing bowl. Add cherry and lemon juices and mix well.

In a separate bowl, whip cream until stiff. Mix mayonnaise into whipped cream, then fold into fruit mixture.

Spoon into individual molds, cover and freeze until firm. Remove from molds by soaking containers for a few seconds in hot water. For a special touch, serve on a crisp lettuce leaf and garnish with a dollop of whipped cream.

I saw some fresh rhubarb in the market the other day and couldn't resist trying this Almond-Rhubarb Crunchle. The crust is made of ground almonds, flour and butter. It's terrific.

The rhubarb cooks down considerably during baking, so don't be alarmed at serving time if there is less than you expected.

ALMOND RHUBARB CRUNCHLE

1/3 cup whole natural almonds
1/4 lb. fresh rhubarb
¼ cup water
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup butter or margarine, softened
½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt

Grind almonds in electric blender or through coarse blade of food chopper. Wash and trim rhubarb; cut into 1-inch pieces and place in buttered 1½-quart shallow casserole. Combine water, ¼ cup sugar and almond extract; pour over fruit. Cream butter with ½ cup sugar, then beat in ground almonds, flour and salt. Sprinkle dough in large, crumbly pieces over rhubarb. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes. Serve warm or cooled.

Makes 6 servings.

Mothers-daughters

honored at banquet

A Mother-Daughter Banquet, sponsored by the WSCS of the Clarkston United Methodist Church, will be held in the church's fellowship hall Thursday, May 6.

Tickets may be purchased from circle chairmen or by contacting Mrs. Robert Carr at 623-1312. Prices are $2 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under.

A fashion show will be the featured entertainment for the evening.

Guerin at 674-1353. The group meets at the CAI Building every Thursday night.

Please ignore the cold weather and place your order for geraniums with any Jaycette. It just has to warm up in time for planting. They are 75 cents and come in pink, red and salmon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Allen and daughter, Jody and Mr. and Mrs. Tink Ronk and children, Katherine and Steve were among the Clarkston folks who spent the Easter vacation in Florida. I do think you could have brought us back some nicer weather.

Mrs. Mildred Butters, who suffered a coronary occlusion while attending a funeral in the Boston area, is confined to the Faulkner Hospital in Jamaica Plains, Massachusetts 02130. Her husband, Everett and daughter, Mrs. Duane Hursfall sent word that she is "holding her own."

Editor's note: Hope Sharon Fahrner (the blonde bomber) got her birthday wish — a catcher's mitt and boy's tennis shoes. Happy birthday, Sharon.

The children in the 5th grade room of Mrs. Pat Thomas at the Clarkston Elementary School had a "Book Happening." Students from throughout the building brought used books to exchange for 15 minutes of records, cookies and punch. The books collected are being sent to underprivileged Indian children in Northern Michigan. The donated book is inspected at the door. A ticket is issued that entitles the bearer to cookies and punch.

The punch bowl is a popular place to be at the 5th grade "Book Happening."

OK North-south Detroit bypass

The State Highway Commission has approved design and alignment plans for the 8.5-mile segment of M-275 freeway from M-59 north to Interstate 75 freeway in Oakland County.

The commission authorized purchase of right-of-way of variable width with minimum width of 500 feet. The proposed freeway will provide 3 traffic lanes in each direction with interchanges at M-59, White Lake Road, Andersonville Road and I-75.

Estimated to cost $20 million, the design of the proposed 8.5-mile segment still requires approval by the Federal Highway Administration.

The Highway Commission scheduled start of construction on the freeway for early in 1975. M-275 will be part of a north-south bypass of Detroit extending from I-75 near Davisburg Road northwest of Clarkston, south to I-75 near Monroe.

Kids and Drugs

Every year, you hear warnings about children swallowing aspirins and other pills taken from unlocked medicine cabinets. Now, pediatricians and pharmacists are warning parents about another danger: children who are accidentally poisoned by their mothers and fathers.

Some parents misjudge what is a "reasonable dose" of, for example, aspirin for a child under five years of age. A mother may notice a child's fever and, without realizing this is a sign of dehydration, will give him an aspirin. This increases the dehydration, causes acidosis, and raises the fever to a critical point. Then the parent may give still more aspirin, making the problem even worse.

Another common situation arises when a child has an ear or throat infection, and the doctor prescribes a drug. Without consulting the doctor further, the mother gives the medicine for several days. The drug accumulates in the child (who doesn't excrete a drug as quickly as an adult, even when he's well) to the point where it becomes dangerous.

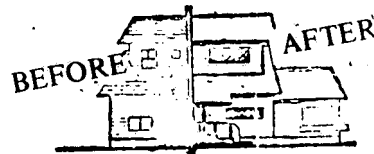

Or the child may be given an adult dose of medicine, and there are those who believe that if two pills are good, four pills are better. To make things worse, a child may be too young to describe symptoms that would alert us to danger.

The concerned doctors agree that modern drugs are useful in treating many childhood disorders, when given carefully and under medical supervision. The key word is: careful!

Armchair travels

Spain

By Jean Sura

Our 707 jet plane left the runway just before 9 p.m. We were headed for Malaga, Spain, just up the coast from Gibraltar.

The temperature when we landed on the Costa del Sol (coast of sun) was well up in the 80's, a welcome treat for us frost-bitten Michiganders.

A quick trip to the money changers to exchange our American dollars for some Spanish pisadas (70 for 1 dollar) and then we shifted our bags and skis to a bus that took us up into the Sierra Nevada mountains to Solynieve, a ski resort.

The ride up through the mountains was very beautiful. It was more beautiful if you didn't look down as the bus traveled along at a lively rate of speed and the roadside fell off sharply.

Most surprising to me was the amount of tropical vegetation that we saw along the way. Palms, cacti, cork and olive trees were common.

Our first rest stop was at a small, authentic Spanish wayside hotel and restaurant. Our first direct encounter with Spanish speaking people had the dictionaries out and caused a bit of delay getting our food orders straight.

Some of the more brave members of the party ordered shellfish soup. It turned out to contain shellfish (shells and all) and small pieces of squid. The squid was reported to taste like rubber-bands. They said it was tasty in spite of that.

I was more fortunate. I ordered a cheese sandwich. The bread was heavy and finely textured. The loaf had been sliced in half. Inside was a slab of good, white cheese about half an inch thick. The only way I could manage to get it in my mouth was to eliminate the whole bottom piece of bread. We washed it all down with a bottle of dry, red wine.

The last leg of our trip took us up into the snowy world of Solynieve (sun and snow) and our 200 bed, modern hotel.

The name seemed very apt as we snaked along roads with snow sometimes as high as the bus top and a brilliant sun shining.

Our room was no disappointment. The headboard of our beds and closet doors were of carved, dark wood and were trimmed with insets of white leather. There was a goat-skin (hair and all) covered bench and a large leather seated chair. The bedspreads and draperies were woven of red, white, black and green wool.

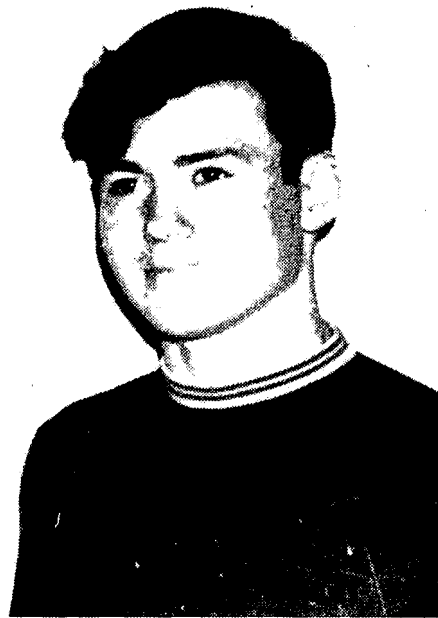

Next week: Eating and skiing at Solynieve

Shopping for car

Dad treated better, but son gets better deal

By Jim Sherman

We've often heard that the second biggest purchase an average family will make is for a car. We take great pride in our cars and brag about deals we've made.

My son Jim started driving as soon as he was eligible last September, and with it came the cry for a car. He isn't going to get one very soon, but his prodding prompted me to wonder if a 16-year-old would be treated differently in an automobile showroom from his 45-year-old dad.

Since I wanted his mother to trade our 1965 Pontiac for a smaller car, I planned to have Jim and me stop at several dealers a few weeks apart.

March 5, Jim visited six dealers in this area of Oakland County. During our talk on his return home I was reminded again what a friend told me about the hearing of a 16-year-old.

I knew about this teenage deafness and made special effort to tell Jim exactly what accessories I wanted on the car. The night before he went shopping and that morning I said, "Jim, remember, we want a car with automatic, radio and heater."

In no case did he come back with this precise equipment. We got rear seat speakers, power steering, fast backs, three door jobs, various size engines and some decor groups. Jim wasn't even consistent from one dealer to another.

I also told him I wanted to know how he was treated as well as prices. This he remembered and wrote down, to my surprise.

I expected salesmen to show annoyance at a teenager shopping for a new car. Unfortunately, I was right in two cases. However, in one instance the salesmen were exceptionally willing and in two others the personnel was courteous, though wisecracking a little, Jim said.

In one dealership my son stood around the showroom for 20 minutes, he said, and no one came to help. "They wouldn't help me because they were playing cards," is the way Jim worded it. But, when an adult came in a salesman came out of nowhere.

Overall, Jim seemed to be well received and made kind remarks about six of the eight salesmen he talked to in the six dealerships.

I took the family to some of the dealerships, not all, April 5. We were attended to quickly. The only feeling I had toward a couple salesmen was one of indifference. It was like, "Here's the deal. If you want it okey, if you don't okey."

What stood out between my son's shopping efforts and mine was the difference in allowance for the 1965 Pontiac.

All six dealers Jim visited appraised this car at either $350 or $400. The dealers I contacted put the value at $150 and $200.

I asked an appraiser, at a dealership not contacted by me for a deal, why this difference in less than 3 weeks. His guess was that in this period used cars shoppers have raised their sights. They want a newer model used car now than they did just a short time ago.

He allowed as how the drop should not have been $200, however.

I don't know as there is any conclusion to be drawn from our experiences, unless it is that I may have been attended to quicker, but my son got the best deals.

Garden tip

Lined up in formation like a platoon of soldiers, these are plastic-coated milk cartons that can be planted in your garden to help feed tomatoes, cabbages and cucumbers. Punch holes in the bottom of the carton on the plant side, then add fertilizer and fill the container with water. Plants will be fed directly and should increase the yield and size of your crop to almost double.

Jazz comes to Meadow Brook

A generous selection from the cream of today's jazz world — soloists and big bands — will take part in this season's Jazz Concert Series at Meadow Brook Music Festival.

Such internationally famed artists as Duke Ellington, Dave Brubeck and Ella Fitzgerald will headline sessions in Meadow Brook's outdoor Baldwin Pavilion at Oakland University every Friday night, according to Festival Manager Sandor Kallai.

"There's no doubt that jazz is a vital, important musical language that deserves a hearing right alongside classical music," said Kallai, "and that's why we inaugurated the jazz series last year.

"It has turned out to be an enormous success. This year, with a list of great jazz figures like Erroll Garner, Thelonious Monk and Gerry Mulligan, we should set new records in attendance and accomplishment."

The Jazz Concert Series opens on Friday, June 25, with the popular pianist Roger Williams.

Next, on Friday, July 2, the dynamic Erroll Garner, called the world's most creative jazz pianist, will appear with his group.

The legendary Ella Fitzgerald will follow Garner on Friday, July 9.

The fourth evening in the Meadow Brook jazz series, Friday, July 16, will feature Duke Ellington and his orchestra.

On Friday, July 23, it will be an evening with Thelonious Monk, Anita O'Day and the Newport Jazz Festival All-Stars.

The Newport Festival All-Stars, a combo made up of some of the top musicians who appear regularly at the Newport Jazz Festival will finish off this July 23 program with their accustomed bravado.

The man who gave modern jazz widespread popularity, Dave Brubeck, will bring his trio — featuring Gerry Mulligan — to Meadow Brook on July 30.

On Friday, August 6, the celebrated New Orleans jazz clarinetist, Pete Fountain, will bring his combo to Meadow Brook.

Meadow Brook's 1971 Jazz Series will conclude on Friday, August 13, by presenting an evening with Jose Feliciano.

"We think this season we will have one of the most exciting group of jazz musicians ever assembled in one place," said Festival Manager Kallai. "This year at Meadow Brook will truly be a festival of great jazz."

Added Kallai: "We will also soon be announcing a whole new Wednesday night series of rock-folk concerts at Meadow Brook. Altogether, 1971 will see the greatest variety of quality music and musicians we've yet had at Meadow Brook."

Mr. John Shiff requested the Board to establish the legality of placing the question of a township park commission and the abolition of the annual meeting on the special election May 11.

A status report of the township assessment past and future was submitted by Mr. Vandermark, township assessor, who in essence recommended a complete field inspection of all the property in the township.

Morris Stelmach, Floyd Tower and Amos Wilmont were names to be submitted to the township electrical board as potential electrical inspectors.

An application for a special beer permit for Oakland County Sportsmen's Club (road racing) May 29 and 30 was approved.

Permit fees for construction of a Pentecostal Church building on M-15 north of Hadley Road were waived.

Dr. Bernard Berman, M.P.H. of the County Health Department was appointed as Health Officer of Independence Township.

No action was taken on approval of a retention basin at Pine Knob Sub. No. 2, or a lot split application for Lot No. 6 of Marvin Sub. pending further study of each.

May 4th was set as a date to hold a public hearing on a proposed "division of land" ordinance.

No decision was made in response to a citizen's request for township participation in the cost of chloride treatment of a gravel road.

A resolution setting forth certain suggested areas of consideration was forwarded to the township police commission to use in their deliberation toward a future recommendation regarding township police protection service.

A letter was received from the township attorney regarding Alva Cook's allegations in relation to Duane Hursfall and a rezoning of parcel of land located on Sashabaw Road.

The possibility of extending "ticketing powers" to the building inspector and agent of the County Health Department was a consideration that received no official action.

Coffee, tea or milk

by Jean Sura

"Spend Easter in Spain." That's what the brochure said. "Have a fantastic eight day ski fiesta. Go where the action is - to the sun and snow on the Costa del Sol."

"Unbelievable," the brochure continued, "Here's what's included: * Direct flight between Detroit and Malaga, Spain. * First class meals and liquor served en route."

It went on about how you would never forget this trip of a lifetime, you would also make many new and lasting friendships.

"You had better let me sit by the window," said my strong, loving husband as we boarded the plane. "Then if we have to bail out I can help you into the life raft."

I scrambled into the middle seat and pulled my seatbelt good and tight around my middle.

"Madam," said the stewardess, "please don't use the belt as a garrote. You'll strangle yourself. Just ease the belt back about six inches. That way your circulation will continue and you'll be able to breathe."

"Smartie," I thought. "She wants to get rid of me. I've heard about husband hunting stewardesses. She probably thinks that old Gene looks pretty good. Well, I have news for her. By the time we finish this 'economy' vacation, there won't be any money left, so she might as well peddle her smiles down the aisle."

"Come on, lover boy," I seethed to Gene, "where is the ejection button? Where are the air sick bags? I am getting more sick every time I look at that woman. This isn't the kind of action I was looking for."

"Now, relax," said old faithful. "I'm right here to take care of you. See, here is your oxygen mask and your Mae West life jacket. Just hold them in your lap and then you will be ready for anything."

We were interrupted when a dapper, goateed, fortyish man (carrying an attache case and an umbrella) said, "Excuse me, I believe this is my seat." He pointed to the seat next to me.

"Golly," I whispered to Gene, "do you suppose he is some dignitary?" Two can play the same game, I thought! Here comes the action!

"He's probably Tony-the-junkman and he just slipped his mother's leash," snorted Gene.

Just then we started to taxi out onto the runway. The engines revved up and kazowie, just that easy, we were airborne.

"May I get you a cocktail?" said Miss Mata Hari, the homewrecker.

"I'll have a double, dry martini," said Gene, nibbling at the bait.

"I'll have any kind of courage you have in a bottle," I said, stuffing a dramamine, a tranquilizer and a lemon drop in my mouth all at the same time.

"I'll have two doubles martinis," said the elegant one. "Accustomed as I am to flying, I don't have to worry about air-sickness." He dusted his lips with a linen handkerchief.

Those were some kind of "famous last words."

Mr. Elegant didn't fare too well. We hit a little turbulence right after he bolted both of those martinis.

It was lucky for him that I had checked on the little white bags. I not only found his for him but loaned him mine for a spare. How's that for instant friendship? But that was where it ended. I let Miss Hari take over.

Those brochures sure called it right - action - all the way - and first class meals and liquor.

"Aren't you going to eat anything?" I said to Gene as I polished off the last of my dessert.

"They say that the meek will inherit the earth. Honey, I'm sticking with you. Pass the pills please."
