Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Just told a friend about how I wheeled and dealt to get a new compact car for my wife. Naturally, my friend had to ask, "What do you think they'd give me for my wife?"

Had a couple of calls from people who complained that I spent too much Jotting space last week on fishing and hunting. They said they, personally, weren't skilled hunters or fishermen. That's the whole point - neither am I. Still I keep hoping for better fare than deer-track soup and broken-line chowder.

Nostalgia is a terrible thing. The historic Oakland Hotel is torn down before its hundredth birthday. Oxford is so rich in legend that it's time we thought about establishing a historical museum, again. Couldn't that be a great civic project?

This area has many people who "keep" horses although they seldom if ever ride them. It must be expensive and a lot of work, but to each his own. If I enjoy shoveling, why shouldn't they?

It's strange how misnomers are perpetuated. Our annual Memorial Day Celebration is coming up. It's hardly an occasion for "celebration."

Nobody loves a grouch or a poor loser. At least that's what my dear wife keeps telling me. Bah! What do women know about the hard facts of business or the fine points of poker?

A recent letter to the editor of "Time" challenged people to come up with a word to rhyme with SILVER. The way even college youngsters spell and pronounce today, there must be dozens of "words" that would solve this old problem in balladry.

Soon school will be out for the summer and thousands of parents will seriously consider running away from home.

I've always envied people who plant and tenderly nurture good gardens. It takes a lot of time and hard callouses to do a good job. When I've tried it, my potatoes developed to the full size of marbles - about one-tenth the size of my hollow radishes. My best hoe-hoeing performance is at Christmas.

Bowled for seven years before I learned that the game couldn't also be called "ninepins".

Legionnaires announce Memorial Day schedule

Parade time 10 a.m.

"Let no ravages of time testify to coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided Republic."

This order, issued by General John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1868, to every post of the organization began the practice of a Memorial Day observance, the conducting of suitable exercises and the placing of flowers and flags on the graves of dead Civil War soldiers. The practice now extends to the memory of the dead of all wars in which the United States of America has been engaged, and includes decorating the graves of families and friends.

"With these thoughts in mind," said Commander Lou Seffens, "Campbell-Richmond Post No. 63 invites all area residents to join in the sacred duty of honoring those veterans who gave their lives and those who gave service to their country."

The annual Memorial Day parade will begin at the Salvation Army Church on Buffalo and Church Streets at 10 a.m. and will terminate at the Veterans Plot at Lakeview Cemetery.

Participating groups will be the American Legion Campbell-Richmond Post and Auxiliary Unit No. 63, leading with the colors and rifle squad, W.W. I veterans riding in cars, Civil Air Patrol, Clarkston Senior High, Clarkston Junior High and Sashabaw Junior High School bands.

They will be joined by Sea Scouts, Explorers, Boy Scouts, Webelos, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Campfire Girls, Boy's Brigade, Pioneer Girls, DeMolay and Job's Daughters.

These groups should be ready to form the line of march at 9:30 a.m. It is hoped that all veterans in the community will participate and are welcome to join the parade.

Commander Lou Seffens of the Post requests that no horses, no antique or decorated cars, bikes, pets or floats enter the parade because of the sacred and patriotic purpose of the parade.

Rev. Paul Vanaman will deliver the Memorial address and Lou Seffens, Commander of Post 63, with Gary Stonerock, Township Supervisor, will present the memorial wreaths.

Lynn Orlick, a high school senior, will deliver Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Everett Butters, who has delivered the Address for the past 29 years will be unable to perform this service because the convalescence of his wife has made it necessary for him to be with her in Boston.

Special music will be provided by a vocal group from Clarkston and the Clarkston High School Band will play the National Anthem and the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

Children who participate in the services will be treated with popsicles when they return to the Village immediately following the ceremony.

Spokesmen for the Legion remind parade viewers that the flag should command respect. They hope that this respect will be shown as the flag passes. They further suggest that children riding bicycles be careful and not ride through the ranks.

Groups that are marching in the parade are asked to form at the meeting place at 9:30 a.m.

CHS choirs give concert, May 27

A combination of pop, folk and modern music will be featured at a program presented by the Clarkston High School's vocal music department.

The concert will be held at 8 p.m. on May 27 in the Little Theater at the school.

The Varsity Choir will be heard singing an unusual musical composition with electronic tape accompaniment.

In addition to the Varsity Choir, the Girl's Glee Club and the beginning Chorus will also sing.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. Pat Race, vocal music instructor, and Val Ganther and Kendra Bolin will provide the accompaniments.

Tickets are available at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

NOTICE

All deadlines for the Clarkston News June 3 issue will be advanced due to the Memorial Day Holiday.

Social and routine news should be in the office by 5 p.m. Thursday, May 27 and final deadline will be at 5 p.m. on Friday, May 28.

CHS sophomore drowns in Gulick Lake

John Abbott

John Abbott, 15, a 10th grade student at Clarkston High School was drowned while swimming in Gulick Lake on May 19.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Department reports his body was recovered in 6 feet of water by Edward Raby, 25, of 6250 Gulick after it had been located by Independence Township firemen.

John, who had attended the Clarkston Schools since kindergarten was active on the debate and the track teams. While attending the Sashabaw Junior High he was the sports editor for the Clarkston News, and was active in Widget baseball and other school activities.

According to Sheriff's deputies, John and 2 friends had skipped classes at school and gone to Gulick Lake at Camp Oweki for a swim.

His companions, William Knox, 16 of Bronco Drive and David Johnson, 17 of Cranberry, both of Independence Township told the deputies that John disappeared just minutes after they had entered the water.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Arthur Abbott, his brother, Martin, 14, sisters Theresa, 11 and Ardith, 7.

Funeral services were held on May 22 from the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home in Pontiac with Rev. Thomas Dunn of the Dixie Baptist Church officiating. Burial was in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

On a scrap of paper found in his dresser, John had jotted down a random thought. It said, "I believe that young people should take advantage of opportunities offered to them."

Honored

Edwin Stevens of Clarkston, senior student in economics and business, was among 146 students honored on May 10 for their scholastic achievement at Spring Arbor College in Spring Arbor, Michigan.

Stevens will graduate at the close of the school year.

Pat Dean, has been named "Teen of the Month" by the Clarkston Youth Assitance Committee. Pat made the costumes that she wears as a Drum majorette for the Sashabaw Junior High School band.

Pat Dean named "Teen of the Month"

Pat Dean is 15 years old. She is a 9th grader at the Sashabaw Junior High School. Last week she was named the "Teen of the Month" by the faculty and administration of her school.

The basis for the selection is that Pat, a B+ student, is also a busy girl. She is Editor of the school newspaper and works on the Staff of the yearbook. She is a member of the school band and a drum majorette. In addition she finds time for intramural volleyball, basketball and baseball as well as for her responsibility as a member of the Journalism Club.

Being president of the Youth Group at the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church doesn't crowd her schedule to the degree that she hasn't found time to assist in the "Bottles for Building" campaign, UNICEF and Newspaper collections.

"Just what do you do in your spare time?" Pat was asked.

"Well, she replied, "I like to sew, read and play the piano."

Pat lives with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dean and sister Barbara, 13 and Larry, 11 on Independence Drive. The family have lived in the Clarkston area for 16 years.

Pat's goal is to become a nurse.

CJHS thinclads tromp Sashabaw in final

By Brian Becker

Clarkston Junior High piled up their 8th track victory of the year when they defeated their inter-system rival, Sashabaw Jr. High, by the score of 91-18.

The Wolverines who won 12 out of a possible 13 first places scored their season's high of 91 points. The team effort was led by Mike Dennis who scored 14 1/4 points with a 1st in the shotput: (a new school record of 39 ft, 8 1/2 inches), a first in the 440 yd. dash, a member of the 1st place mile relay team and a 2nd in the long jump.

Also scoring 14 1/4 points was Bill Rondo who took 1st place in the long jump, the 220 yd. dash, a member of the 880 relay team and a 2nd in the 100 yard dash.

Lee Booker was close behind with 11 1/4 points for 1st places in the 100 yard dash, the low hurdles and a member of the 880 relay team.

Don Auten who was sidelined all season with a broken ankle, competed for the first time this year and set a new school record of 9 feet in the pole vault.

School personnel changes announced

Some changes in assignments of the personnel of the Clarkston School District were announced by Milford Mason, Assistant to the Superintendent, this week.

B. J. Hanson will become Athletic Director for the Clarkston High School in addition to his classroom teaching assignments. He will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Ralph Kenyon, who was the high school Assistant Principal and Athletic Director.

Taking Hanson's place as coach of the high school varsity basketball squad is David McDonald. McDonald was the successful basketball coach at the Clarkston Jr. High School. Along with his coaching responsibilities, McDonald will teach science classes in the high school.

Some switches have been announced in the counseling staff as well.

Harry (Bud) McGrath, high school counselor has been reassigned to the Clarkston Junior High School. Duane Lewis, Clarkston Junior High counselor will assume the same tasks at Sashabaw Junior High School and William Bonnell will replace McGrath at the high school. Bonnell has been a counselor at Sashabaw Junior High School.

In a further move, Robert Brumback, school social worker, will take over the supervision of the Special Services Department in addition to his present duties.

The moves, according to Mason, were made by the Board of Education to strengthen the educational services to the community.

Wolverines victorious win All Sports trophy

Clarkston Jr. High's track victory over Sashabaw Jr. High last Friday enabled the Wolverines to win the coveted "All Sports Trophy."

The All Sports Trophy is set up for athletic competition between the 2 schools in 9th grade inter-scholastic sports. The 2 Jr. Highs compete twice in football, basketball, wrestling, baseball and once in track.

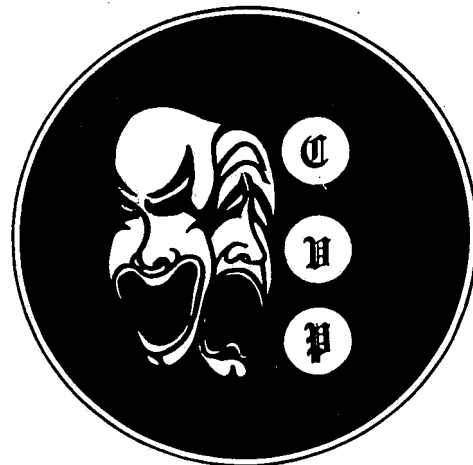

To win the Trophy a school must win 5 of the 9 encounters. The first school to win the trophy 3 times will retire it and a new one will be purchased.

This year the Wolverines defeated the Cougars twice in football and basketball and once in track. This is the second year the Wolverines have won the Trophy.

The Trophy was donated by students who held various fund raising events for its purchase.

Caution advised over holiday

How safe or unsafe roads will be this weekend depends on factors which range from weather conditions to highway engineering improvements which were not present last year.

Sixty percent of all the fatal accidents take place on two lane county roads and involve motorists within 25 miles of their homes about 7 out of 10 times.

Last year, there was a notable drop in highway deaths, yet 60 percent of these fatal accidents still happened on two-lane roads, according to Automobile Club reports.

It is timely to again point out that motorists can help make this Memorial Day weekend one of the safest ever, if these tips are followed:

- *Plan trips so they begin and end in daylight.
- *Plan to stop and rest at least every two hours if driving a long distance.
- *Use extra vigilance on two-lane roads.
- *Be extra alert near home.
- *Avoid alcohol when driving. Just two ounces of alcohol or two bottles of beer before driving double chances of an accident.

Pass something to Mother

By Jim Fitzgerald

When you sit down to eat at our house, you get to chew on a lot more than food.

And this is a good thing, says Dr. Dena Cederquist who is a nutrition expert at Michigan State University. Of course, she's never eaten at our house. We never feed strangers at our house, unless they are cats.

Dr. Cederquist bemoans the loss of the family dinner-hour. Today, people eat on the run, she complains, and that's bad — not only for your digestion, but also for your mind, personality and character.

"The dinner table was a place where ideas were exchanged, questions debated and where children learned to be part of a group," Dr. Cederquist says.

It is a shame Dr. Cederquist is a woman. Otherwise, she might have married my wife and they certainly would have lived happily ever after. This would have left me a lonely bachelor, reading a newspaper as I ate my meals, with no kids fighting across the roast beef and no cats licking crumbs off my shoes. Under such miserable conditions I probably couldn't have survived more than 150 years before I died of a terrible ache in my side from laughing so much.

My wife likes to teach lessons in living at the dinner table. For instance, during a recent dinner I happened to catch sight of her through the flowers and candles in the middle of the table. She looked peaked and drawn. There was no food on her plate.

"Why aren't you eating?" I asked her.

"Because no one will pass me any food," she gasped, writhing in the last stages of malnutrition.

All the food was on my side of the centerpiece where I could suck it up without even leaning forward. Attacking from the sides, both kids could also easily grab what they wanted. But my wife couldn't even see the food.

"Why don't you ask us to pass something?" I asked.

"I shouldn't have to ask," she answered.

It occurred to me that the food is always placed at my end of the table, every meal, every day.

"How long has it been since you've eaten?" I asked her.

"About a month," she said.

"The last time was when the kids had guests and I got to sit at your end of the table."

"You set the table every meal. Why do you always put the food at my end? Why don't you put some at your end?" I asked her.

"I want to teach this family some manners," she said. "You shouldn't just sit down and gobble. You should always pass the food plates around and you should never have to be asked to pass something."

"Not even the butter?" I asked.

"I might have asked for the butter but I never had anything to spread it on," she said as she slowly slumped to the floor.

"What's wrong with Mother?" our daughter asked.

"She has passed out from not having anything passed," our son explained. "It's a good thing she didn't fall on my cat."

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE

Our policy governing the printing of "Letters to the Editor" has been questioned recently. The Clarkston News gives preference to those who sign their names or allow their names to appear in print, but we will withhold names when there is a good reason to do so.

It is the opinion of the News staff that people should have a place to express themselves without fear of retaliation and that the intimacy of a small town sometimes necessitates these circumstances.

Letters, like one received this week from "A silent majority", cannot be printed because the writer did not sign the letter for our files.

We take the time to check all letters that come through the mail to verify the authenticity of the signature.

Youth charges selfishness

Dear Editor:

I have just watched the establishment work within the limits of the law, next year I will be old enough to vote, which people may think, will make me just use my vote and give up dissent. If this past township election was an example my answer is... No Way!

Number one: 2,000 people voted out of 18,000 township residents; tell me this is the voice of the people.

Number two: Tell me the voters look at the issues. NO, they only judged what it might do to a property value and to heck with the people.

What about the young people that live out here and don't have a car? Where do we go to get a job? Yeah, down with a shopping center, give the rich kid with golf clubs a place to play.

Let me ask you, did they think what it could mean to some of us to have a movie we could walk to? A place to go?

So they took away jobs and a movie - they're going to give us a neighborhood park. The first time more than six of us show up in one park, they scream "Pot Party."

I heard the yell of "They'll loiter in a Mall and we don't have enough police." That's funny - a shopping center provides its own security police. Well, let's see your force cover neighborhood parks - Royal Oak and Dodge Park haven't even done that.

Next point, where do they want the young marrieds to go to live? About all most can do is buy a trailer, and no one is going to be able to do that, if they don't let us have a place to put them.

People are always yelling about the young not caring about the old folks - seems to me you just turned down Condominiums for retired people.

Now tell me I should work within the system. Our elected officials have set a fine example - they didn't think of anything but themselves, so they shouldn't tell me how to live. They don't care and they proved it.

Mr. Stonerock - he didn't want a golf course, he wanted votes.

Mr. Humbert - he didn't care about the children on Waldon, he wants a grassy view from his kitchen. Add up the lawyer's fees, printing costs for fliers, and the rest of this campaign, and they could have paid for a walk all the way to school on Waldon Road.

Mr. Bullen, I figured for a straight guy, how come he plays follow the leader?

Mr. Altman - I have to ask, which side is he on now?

Some system. People were whipped into action in each subdivision by the same group, and they tell the young they are too easily led!

Congratulations to the one and only winner, Mr. Campbell, it looks like a lot of time in court.

Seventeen Going on Eighteen

Signatures can be misleading

Dear Editor:

As the writer of many thousands of words, under a pen name, I feel I must leap in front of those faceless unsigned letter writers, and in my most commanding voice say, "Don't strike my child!" I could not live a peaceful life among my friends if I was required to identify my words. Many columnists and authors use this method of protecting their privacy, if not for themselves, perhaps for the sake of their families.

I think you are asking to be misled if you judge the content of a letter by a signature. If I sign this letter John Smith, are you sure I really am John Smith or do you discredit this letter? Do you know all the residents in this township so that a name at the close of a letter establishes the sincerity and credibility of its thoughts? What is your reason for requiring a name? Surely you see this proves nothing. The voice of the people is meant to be just that, a means for voicing one's thoughts.

Good night, Mark Twain, wherever you are.

Lose face over petty issues

Dear Editor:

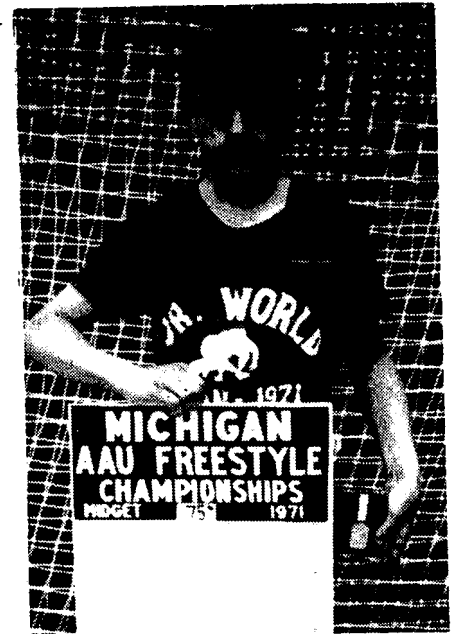

For the past winter on several occasions I have sat and listen to our township officials address themselves to petty issues. I've tried to remain quiet, but can no longer do so.

These gentlemen, should know that their public image is suffering as the result. I know they are capable of rising above these things. I expect their very best and know they won't settle for less. Being prudent men, I hope they will consider their actions. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose in doing so. Their differences should be settled privately.

Please consider this as constructive criticism. It has been given in this context.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Colette Kloc

Kutting Korners

I guess this is the time of year to clear up the clutter that has piled up in your files.

First of all there is a Celebrity Favorite Barbecue Sauce that somebody sent with no name on it. It may come in handy for your Memorial Day menu.

CELEBRITY BARBECUE SAUCE

1 (8 oz.) can Tomato sauce
 1/2 cup A. 1 Sauce
 1/3 cup cooking oil
 1/3 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 2 tablespoons vinegar

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Refrigerate until needed. Makes 2 cups. Good basic barbecue sauce for anything grilled.

***

Then I promised to give you another recipe (my favorite) for cold Spanish soup, Gaspacho, the way that my daughter-in-law learned to fix it in Spain.

GASPACHO

8 to 10 tomatoes peeled & seeded
 1 cup bread or cracker crumbs
 1 to 2 cloves of garlic (to suit)
 1 onion
 1/2 green pepper
 1/2 cup seeded, peeled cucumber
 4 teaspoons olive oil
 4 tablespoons vinegar
 Hot pepper sauce
 salt & pepper

Blend and chill. Garnish with chopped green peppers, peeled and seeded cucumbers and tomatoes, chopped onions and toasted croutons.

We serve the garnishes in separate bowls and let each person add whatever he wishes.

***

I promise that I will get off the Spanish kick. But before I do - I finally found a recipe for famous Sangria. Here it is.

One of the delights of traveling in Spain is the marvelous array of fresh preparation. No! Spanish food is not hot; it is not Mexican. Spaniards are much like the French in their love for fresh produce. They use fruits in a greater variety of ways than we do.

A good place to sample Spain's beverages is in her snack bars, cafes, or taverns. These snack bars seem to be on every block in Spanish cities. Here people gather to talk and sip coffee, juice or Sangria.

The juice is often called "Jugo Varios" which loosely translates to "juice made of the various seasonal fruits." A typical Jugo Varios would be a glass of orange juice whipped up with a mashed banana.

Travelers returning from Spain vividly remember Sangria. James Michener describes this drink in Iberia his bestselling book about Spain.

Sangria might be called the national drink of Spain. It is served any time of day. Somewhat like a fruit-wine punch, it is made in a tall pottery or glass pitcher. Any fruit can be substituted.

SANGRIA

1 lime
 1 orange
 1/4 cup brandy
 2 Tbls. sugar
 3 bananas, peeled & sliced
 1 (4/5 qt.) hearty red wine
 1 (7 oz.) bottle carbonated water
 Banana slices & lime slices (optional).
 Ice cubes

Squeeze lime and orange; pour juices into pitcher one-half full of ice. Pour in brandy and sugar. Drop in banana slices; press them lightly against sides of pitcher. Pour wine, then soda into pitcher. Stir well. Pour into glasses. Garnish with extra banana and lime slices, if desired. Makes about 6 servings.

Around the town Ripleys welcome AJ

by Donna Fahrner

It's a boy for the Ripleys. Arthur John who will be called AJ was born on May 21st and weighed 7 lbs 10 oz. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ripley have two daughters, Karla and Wendy who are waiting for AJ to arrive home. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Tate of Onaway, Michigan.

***

Don Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Powell of Andersonville Road is a patient at Pontiac General Hospital room 325D. Don was injured in the Clarkston, Clarenceville Baseball game on Thursday. He is a junior at Clarkston High School.

***

Coketail parties were a popular pre-prom event on Saturday night. Before going to Addison Oaks, couples were guests of Beth Cowen daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cowen of Middle Lake Road, Kyle Anderson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson of Middle Lake Road and Nancy Craft daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Craft of Church Street.

***

Jennifer Cushman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cushman of Princess, was confirmed at the Calvary Lutheran Church on Sunday, May 23. An Open House was held at her parents' home in the afternoon for family and friends.

***

Patti Olney was another member of the confirmation class at the Calvary Lutheran Church. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Olney of Hidden Lane entertained family and friends at an open house in her honor.

***

Herbert and Isabel Baynes of Lakeview spent Tuesday, May 18 in West Branch visiting friends they hadn't seen all winter. The Baynes were in the sunny south.

***

Sandy Walts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walts of Snow Apple has been very busy the last few weeks opening shower gifts. She has had four bridal showers. Sandy will become the bride of Rick Blimka on June 5th.

***

Mr. William Dennis failed to heed the warning of Mr. David Couture when he said, "Watch the sand." With the price of beef steak today, a black eye is no laughing matter.

***

Somebody was "locked out" this week! Their lost keys were turned in to us here at the Clarkston News. We'll be happy to get them back on the road and in the door if the owner will just identify them.

Expectant parent class scheduled

The Health Department is offering a summer series of Expectant Parents Classes that will begin Tuesday, June 8, 1971.

Topics covered in the series of eight classes include mental health of the family unit; growth and development of the baby before birth, and immediately after birth; labor and delivery; and the care and feeding of the infant.

Films and other audio-visual aids are used to illustrate some of the topics. One of the classes is a tour of the hospital.

The classes, taught by Public Nurses, are co-sponsored by the Oakland County Medical Society and various adult education departments in Oakland County.

The classes will be held weekly for eight weeks from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Oakland County Health Department, 1200 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac, Michigan. To register please call the Health Department, 332-9255, and ask for the Education Office.

Faculty-students present concert

The Clarkston Conservatory of Music in conjunction with the United Methodist Church of Clarkston presented their Faculty-Student concert on May 16.

A spokesman from the conservatory said, "The concert was a resounding success. The pupils came through with seriousness of purpose and proficiency."

Twenty-three students performed at the piano and 2 on the violin.

Among the faculty performers were soprano, Connie Grubaugh, cellist, David Levine, guitarist, Eugene Hargis, pianists, Pamela Fishwick and John Williams, and percussionist, Wesley Fishwick.

Taras Hubicki and Adele Thomas provided the accompaniment.

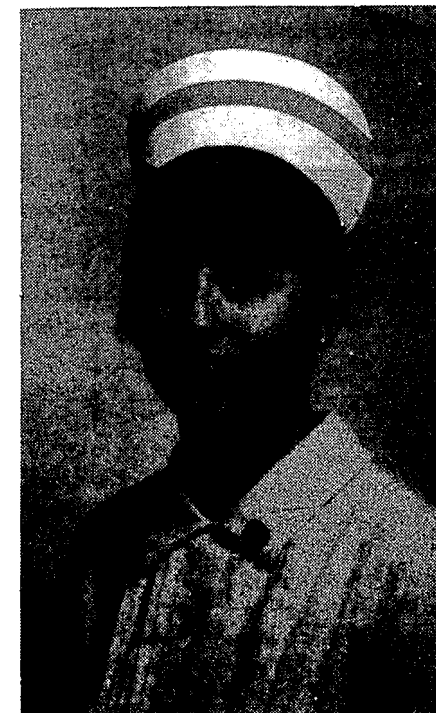

"All in all," the spokesman continued, "the event turned out to be a cultural triumph for Clarkston. We hope there will be more in the future."

Graduates

Herschel R. Fry of Glenburnie Drive was a member of the first graduating class in Pontiac Motor Division's Management Education Program. He received a special diploma at Oakland University, Tuesday evening, May 18.

Addressing the 41 graduates who had completed the basic and advanced management programs were F. James McDonald, general manager, and Thomas C. Dorais, director of personnel, Pontiac Motor Division.

The graduates, who hold supervisory and managerial positions with Pontiac Motor, have attended evening or daytime classes in the University's division of continuing education over the past several years.

Patricia J. Sutton, (nee Cummings), is a recent graduate of Genesee Community College where she earned her certificate as a Dental Hygienist. Mrs. Sutton has joined her husband, Sgt. Stephen L. Sutton who is stationed at Patrick Air Force Base at Cocoa Beach, Florida. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cummings of Clarkston Road.

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News, 5 South Main, Clarkston.

Part 2

By Haslett Hemmor

Old Ernest Earl may not be the world's greatest auctioneer, but it sure is good entertainment to watch the guy work. Effie feels the same way I do, so we're in the crowd near every Saturday night at Ernest Earl Allen's Auction Barn. Love to see that chubby little guy bounce around with his hard straw hat cocked over his ear. Thing sure must be glued on.

Raised stage he works on runs full length of the barn. So does he. And all night long.

"Gimme the fi" he'll bark out, whacking the auction podium with his cane to get complete attention, "Got the fitty, who'll say fitty fi? It's only money, folks. Fitty fi, fitty fi, fitty fi, fitty fi. Got the fifty-five and lookin' for sixty. Gimme sixty, sixty, sixty. Bid the sixty, sixty, sixty."

He's got a pretty cute gimmick, too. While he's chanting and pounding and whirling here and dashing there, he manages regular to look you right in the eye, and while he's barking away, he'll nod. Less you're on your guard real good, you'll sociable-like nod back and that's a bid.

If you're high bidder with your nod, you'd feel like a fool trying to argue that you were only being friendly and didn't really mean to bid at all.

Over the last five years, my off-guard nods have got me an antique dry sink, a rusty push-lawn mower and a real jim dandy small cream separator.

Fellow feels like such a blamed fool nodding himself into high bid that, well —, in my case, I wouldn't even admit to old Eff that I didn't mean to bid on that stuff.

"What you goin' to do with a push lawn mower?" old Eff asks me when we leave that particular time. "You moan and groan about how hard it is to climb that little rise with the rotary, so you get a beat up old push job. What you going to do with it? Make a lamp out of it? Going to make me a nice lamp on wheels so we'll have something special like a conversation-piece thing?"

"Good for trimming," I explained. "Can't get tight up to the wire fence with a rotary and sure would be a mess if you caught a hunk of that wire in a rotary. Right dangerous, too."

"Bet that thing hasn't cut a blade of grass in ten years." Effie says, "Seven-fifty good money you pay for a rusty hunk of iron that somebody was smart enough to throw out in the barn ten, twelve year back," she talks like she can't get her teeth apart.

"Oh, it could take a bit of oiling and sharpening," I kind of muse, like I'm thinking on how I'll put her in shape. "Those old babies were built to last."

"Humph," Eff snorts and I know it's time to stop any more argument or even discussion.

"Humph," she snorts again, even if I haven't said a word.

Matter of fact, old Eff wouldn't go Saturday nights three weeks running, but last Saturday we're back in our usual spot.

Earl's selling off a bunch of women's clothes that he claimed came out of a good clean home. I'm paying no attention until I hear him whang his cane down hard and yell out, "Sold to Mrs. Hemmor, and she'll never make a better buy. Must be twenty, thirty hats in that carton. And now we have . . ."

"What are you going to do with two-three dozen old hats, Effie?" I ask her smug-like on the way home.

"Use 'em for trim," she snaps back. I feel better, now that both of us have a nodding acquaintance with old Ernest Earl.

Spiritual Message

Rev. Lloyd E. Ehmcke

"I CARE"

In a recent issue of the Light and Life Magazine, there was an editorial about a boy who ran away from home, following a day of frustration in which he had been reprimanded by his mother for quarreling with his sister. After going only two blocks in the cold and snow, he returned home and ran upstairs with the explanation he had "forgotten something."

In a few moments he came down again with tears in his eyes and said, "I'd stay, if somebody loved me."

Have you ever wondered how many of your friends, neighbors, slight acquaintances have mullered these words, "if somebody loved me"?

Are we guilty of substituting program for passion in our churches? Are we so disillusioned that we have substituted activity (of which we have plenty) for faith? Are we satisfied to have zeal without the anointing of the Holy Spirit?

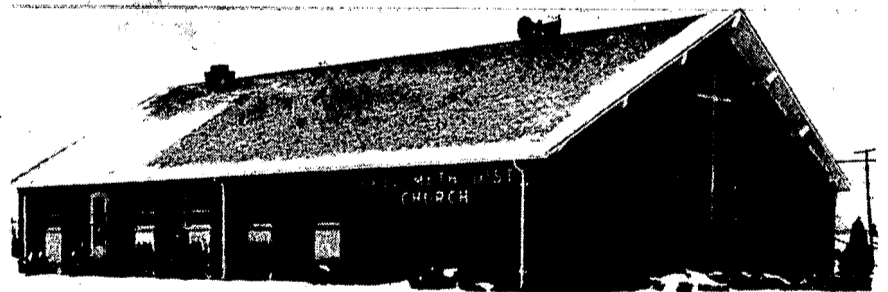

Introspection may be a painful process; however if midst that pain we catch a new glimpse of our innermost self and our ambitions, desires, hopes, fears, etc. it will be a most rewarding experience.

The re-evaluation of your emphasis in life may jar you back to the realization that Christ died for EVERY member of the human race, and to the knowledge that many may be saying today, "if somebody loved me."

There is one. Go tell them of Christ. Tell of His sacrifice, of the crown of thorns, of the cross. Don't leave out the fact that He rose from the grave, and above all, He loves you.

"For God so loved... the world..."

Co-op students treat bosses

The Co-op Vocational Department at the Clarkston High School held its first annual banquet for co-op employees and their employers last week.

Approximately 120 people attended the dinner at Howe's Lanes on May 19 to celebrate the completion of the year and to present certificates to employers who have hired students in the program.

The program has directly affected 60 students. Twenty-two have been employed in office situations, 20 in retail positions and 18 have been engaged in trade and industrial jobs.

Mrs. Pat Schebor who heads the program made the presentations. Attending as honor guests were the advisory board, Keith Hallman, retailing;

Tom Rademacher, trade and industrial; Mrs. William Mansfield, office; and Judge Gerald McNally, member-at-large.

About 40 of the students involved in the program will continue on the program by going on for further training in advanced programs. Some will move into permanent jobs where they have been employed.

An additional service is being inaugurated by the department this year. A full time senior placement service has been established for graduates looking for full-time work.

"Our files are filled with highly qualified people," said Mrs. Schebor. "We are also hoping to find part-time situations for the college bound student who needs financial assistance and finds it necessary to work either for the summer or on a part-time basis throughout the school year.

"In addition we hope to fill the need of finding jobs for 10th and 11th grade students who want to work after school or on weekends.

"We feel that our service can be invaluable to both students and employers," she continued. "Our screening of students can relieve the employer of the necessity of interviewing many prospects.

"It is my sincere hope that employers will avail themselves of our services."

Twenty-five antique dealers are packing their wares and heading for the Clarkston United Methodist Church's annual antique show on June 3 and 4. Susan Huttenlocher, sitting, and Sarah Vascasseno are getting in the mood for the show playing school at an antique desk in the home of Chairman, Mrs. Gary Duncan. The show will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and tickets are $1.25. Fonti ApMadoc, Faith Bronson, Daisy Dowling and Ann Thatcher are local dealers who will have booths at the show. A buffet will be served.

Briefly told

The "Bottles for Building" collection on May 22 netted 26.8 tons of trash glass. This brings the total collected since the beginning of the campaign to 121 tons.

The Pontiac Y.W.C.A. will be offering a free tutorial service in reading from July 6th to July 29th for children in grades 1 through 4.

Volunteers are needed to help the children improve their reading skills. No previous teaching experience is needed and anyone 15 years old and up may volunteer.

The sessions are held Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Any interested persons may call the Pontiac Y.W.C.A. at 334-0973.

***

A phone call from an anonymous person to the Clarkston News office criticized the account of the incident that occurred in the Village Parking Lot last week. While the criticism cannot be printed because the caller did not identify himself the News will print any further developments as released to us through proper channels.

***

Keith Humbert, of Snow Apple Drive pleaded not guilty to a traffic violation ticket charging him with exceeding the basic speed law. A trial date was set at 8:30 a.m. on June 30. The ticket was issued following an accident with the Township truck a few weeks ago.

Behind the Counter

From Keith
Hallman

In the past decade, "consumer protection" has become a familiar phrase, and a concept that involves the government more and more in the daily market place. It has been suggested that three factors brought this about:

1) The consumer no longer personally knows the butcher, the baker, the candy maker; he has no one to complain to, so there is an accumulation of things he's annoyed about.

2) There is a greater variety of products which he may choose.

3) Many of these new products are more complex in their preparation and packaging.

It was pleasant to be told by the president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America that pharmacists have escaped the wrath of consumers more than most merchants. He gives most of the credit to the drug store staff — "someone is readily available to the consumer, someone who cares."

"The pharmacy stocks more variety than in the past, but its employees aid the consumer and prevent confusion," he said. "No product in a pharmacy today is beyond the means and comprehension of the druggist's explanation."

Naturally, we aren't satisfied even with such praise. We want to provide even better service, and that's why we value your suggestions and even your complaints. We want to know how we can serve you better today and tomorrow.

If you aren't satisfied with a product, or with our service, we want you to let us know. You aren't being unpleasant, or getting somebody into trouble; you are helping us and the whole community when you bring a difficulty to our attention.

Industrial Arts

The basic reasons for incorporating the industrial arts department in the high school curriculum are many and complex. This department has always met the needs of the school. At one time the courses were designed to provide recreational and hobby information.

However, as the philosophy of education changed and the demand for high school graduates to acquire a salable skill became more intense, the course offering changed.

At the present time Clarkston has what is recognized as unit shops. That is each area is complete in itself and provides a skill.

A student specializes in drafting, taking a 3 year course which covers the fundamentals, architectural design, and tool design.

Auto mechanics offers the student a 2 and a half year program beginning with power mechanics and progressing to specialized areas such as front end alignment, wiring and charging systems.

In the area of metals, there is a complete machine shop offering as well as complete facilities for acetylene and arc welding.

Woodworking offers the student the opportunity to create small projects as well as large ones.

Electricity is offered on a semester basis for 2 semesters, while basic crafts is offered to both boys and girls for 1 semester only.

The industrial arts department has for the past 5 or 6 years involved the student in state wide competition. From these experiences many first prize trophies have been won and are now on display at the high school. In fact, 6 students entered the state finals at Lansing and all 6 placed first.

The industrial arts department allows the student an opportunity to explore several areas, or concentrate in one, and achieve a skill which can lead to employment directly from school or allow entrance into an apprenticeship program.

One thing remains true in this department as in all others, the student's attitude toward the subject and the goals set for the courses play a big part in the success gained.

See record traffic for Memorial weekend

State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth has ordered a halt to highway construction and maintenance work over the Memorial Day weekend.

Department of State Highways traffic engineers estimate that, given good weather, motorists will drive 636 million miles from Friday through Monday. That's an increase of approximately four per cent over last Memorial Day and all state highways must be clear to handle

The order suspends all but emergency highway work from 5 p.m. Friday (May 28) to 8 a.m. Tuesday (June 1). Movement of heavy road construction equipment also is suspended.

The Department also has recommended voluntary restrictions to Saginaw River shippers to minimize weekend opening of the Zilwaukee Bridge carrying Interstate 75 over the Saginaw River. The recommendations ask shippers to avoid using the river during peak highway traffic hours on Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

Generally, northbound traffic will be heavily concentrated Friday from 2 to 10 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4 to 9 p.m. Southbound return traffic Monday will be heaviest from 2 to 9 p.m., with the peak predicted from 5 to 7 p.m.

Some congestion is expected on all major north-south highways and motorists are urged to plan their trips to avoid peak travel periods.

SYNOPSIS INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP BOARD MEETINGS

May 4, 1971

The Board received word from the County Equalization Department that the Township's equalization factor for 1971 would be 1.00.

Mrs. Harold Smith, Lakeview Street, Woodhull Lake Subdivision, presented a compilation of figures and facts that illustrated the existence of some undesirable conditions within that neighborhood.

Pontiac Board of Realtors Representatives asked delay and further examination before the Township Board acted on a proposed Division of Land Ordinance. A sixty day stay was approved.

No action was taken subsequent to the discussion concerning the opinions of the State Attorney General's Office, the Secretary of States' Office and the Township Attorney, in respect to the placement of two questions on the May 11 ballot: 1) Abolition of the Township Annual Meeting; 2) Establishment of a Township Park Commission.

The Librarians' request for additional help at the Township Library was not approved.

Approval was given to the participation of the Township in 25% of the cost (up to $2000) of chloriding public roads. Residents will pay .06 a foot, the Township .02 a foot.

Four separate applications for lot splits were approved and the Board adopted a resolution requesting the Department of Natural Resources to hold a hearing to establish speed and horsepower limits on Walters Lake.

Mrs. Richard Johnston was appointed to the Independence Township Library Board and the Board took no action on a discussion to approve the blacktopping of the Township Library Parking Lot.

May 18, 1971

The Board approved a special beer permit for a road racing event at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club June 27 and 28, 1971.

Librarian Colleen Smith announced her retirement effective June 1, 1971.

The Board deferred action on R.A.P. request for funds pending presentation by R.A.P. Officials at the next Board meeting.

The Engineers' estimate was presented for a one-half million dollar special assessment drainage district in the Clarkston Estates No. 2 Subdivision area. A meeting with Clarkston School Officials was suggested.

Approval was given to blacktop the Library parking lot at a cost not to exceed $7,000 - the same to be negotiated and completed not later than Nov. 1, 1971.

Approval of Fire Department budget was tabled pending joint meeting with Fire Department Officers.

The Board approved an agreement between the Townships of Waterford and Independence, which would permit the Township of Independence to purchase potable water from the Waterford System and in turn sell same to a multiple development being constructed on Andersonville Road near the Township boundary line.

Subsequent to denial of State funds for purchase of Waterford Hill Golf Course, another site (40 acres on west side of Sashabaw Road north of Clarkston Road) was selected as desirable location for future Township owned recreational land.

Bottles for Building Program was officially recognized as the outstanding Oakland County Achievement Award winner.

Howard Altman
Independence Township-Clerk

Trustee Jones was instructed to contact Mrs. McAlevy with regards to cleaning the Village Hall.

Mr. Howard Huttenlocher was re-appointed to the Zoning Board of Appeals, and Mr. Edward (Ted) Thomson was appointed to the Board to fill the existing vacancy.

The following committees were established for the 1971 - 72 Village year:

Sewer Committee - Irwin, Johnston

Financial Committee - Irwin, Johnston

Police and Streets - Jones, Hagen

Legislative, Planning, and Administration - Tower, Basinger

Meeting called adjourned by President Cooper.

May 11, 1971

Meeting called to order by President Cooper.

Roll: Hagen, Johnston, Jones, Irwin, Tower - Present. Basinger - Absent.
Minutes of the last meetings were read and approved.

The Village Attorney was present to report on Mr. Radcliff's request for a building permit on Main Street on the South side of the spillway of the Mill Pond. Mr. Banycky advised the Council to recommend to Mr. Radcliff that he request a decision on this matter from the Zoning Board of Appeals. The Village Attorney informed the Council that the Zoning Board of Appeals should act upon this request.

Mr. Banycky's letter also outlined what would be considered in the request of R. N. Stover with respect to Marathon Oil Company's inquiries regarding the gas station on the northeast corner of Orion Road and M-15.

Mr. Jay Green, representing the Eagles, requested permission for that organization to hold a parade on the first Sunday in October from 12:00 to 1:00 p.m.

Moved by Tower, "That the Eagles be allowed to conduct their parade in the Village of Clarkston on October 3, 1971, as requested by Mr. Green." Seconded by Hagen. Motion carried.

Moved by Jones, "That the Memorial Day Parade sponsored by the American Legion be approved by the Village Council in order to obtain proper permits from Oakland County Road Commission." Seconded by Hagen. Motion carried.

I worry a lot. The more I read about what worry does to a person the more I fret.

"What's the matter with you?" my husband asked the other night. "You're so quiet I can't read."

"I'm worried," I answered.

"I hate to ask this question—but what is bothering your little head?"

"Poor old Ed Sullivan is retiring," I said with a catch in my voice. "I think somebody should do something as a tribute. After all it is almost Memorial Day."

"You're wasting your time worrying about Ed Sullivan," he said lowering his paper and looking over the top of his glasses. "You haven't watched that show since we gave up our seven inch TV set and Howdy Doody went off the air."

"But I feel sentimental about old Ed, and think of all the jugglers, trained seals and dogs that will be out of work."

"Sorry for Ed Sullivan? You are out of your mind. That guy is as rich as Midas and got that way standing around with his arms folded, muttering through his teeth. If that's all you have to worry about, forget it."

"That isn't all I worry about. I don't think you love me anymore."

"Oh, cut that out," he said throwing his paper down and heading for the refrigerator.

"See there, you lose patience with me. I read the other day that it's wise at my age to have an extramarital affair to keep your husband on his toes."

"I think that is a good idea. Why don't you try it? And if you do be sure to tell the poor slob about all your worries," he yelled from the kitchen.

"You see, that's why I worry. You aren't the least bit jealous. Like the time I planted some men's clothing in compromising places you just asked me why I bought all that junk at the rummage sale. Then when I put half-smoked cigars in the ash trays you complimented me on giving up cigarettes."

"Maybe you should see the doctor," he sighed.

"What—pay him to tell me to stop worrying? I can't waste money that way. We'll be needing it in our old age."

"Let's see," he held up his fingers. "you are worried about a monument for Ed Sullivan. You are worrying about the unemployed jugglers, seals and dogs. You're afraid that we are going to end up in the poor house and that I don't love you anymore!"

"Well, I can put your mind at ease. Ed Sullivan owns the World Bank and the poor animals have made enough to retire to a secluded ocean front home to scratch their fleas in comfort."

"Medicare will help us over the hump supplying band-aids, and I wasn't in charge of a produce counter in a super market for nothing."

"You may not be so round, so firm, so fully packed as you used to be but I know a good tomato when I see one."

"Go take out the garbage, scrub a floor or something glamorous. Let me read in peace."

That's when this tomato stopped stewing!

March against MD set volunteers needed

A local resident has been named area chairwoman for the 1971 "Mothers' March Against Muscular Dystrophy" to be held Tuesday, June 8, from 5:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Mrs. Curtis Bishop, Middlelake Road, will direct the 4-hour march in Clarkston for the benefit of youngsters with muscular dystrophy.

Mrs. Bishop has issued an appeal for volunteers to join in the house-to-house march by calling MD headquarters at 399-8800.

Proceeds from the 4-hour march will support medical research and patient services for victims of muscular dystrophy. The disease, as yet incurable, primarily attacks children and is nearly always fatal.

Local MD patients receive free diagnosis, therapy, braces, wheelchairs and social services at the Muscular Dystrophy Clinic in Detroit Memorial Hospital. The clinic, supported annually by the Mothers' March is free of charge to all MD patients in Michigan.

Wedding invitations and accessories quickly, precisely printed at the Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston. 625-3370.
