

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Most of my conclusions are reached after 10 to 15 seconds of debate with myself. Making quick decisions gets the immediate problem behind you. Of course, it frequently makes greater problems later, but that's later.

Debating with yourself is helpful, too. There's no cluttering of the mind with opposing views.

Such has been the extent of my research in determining that of all the pollutions popular today, noise has got to be the worst.

Pollution of the air and water will kill you, but then it's all over.

Noise pollution will drive you nuts. Your mind will be boggled, your eyes crossed, the tongue hanging loosely, etc. . . . but your life will go on. Even that might not be bad, it's only a little different than my outlook most of the time; however, if realism reoccurs the noise'll drive you to despair again.

There are several noises that will put me away. The worst one I'm not going to mention because there are a few people out there in readership-land who would torment me at every opportunity.

The noise of an ailing car is very disturbing to me, probably because I know so little about them. Probably, too, because the same wheel bearing has gone out of my car twice in two months.

Television can really get to me. There are times when I've hit the off button so hard Channel 9 has gone off the air. The Nielson rating people have asked us to help them with their weekly survey, and I hope I see the programming after the kids get it filled out. Even that will likely be loud.

The ringing of a telephone, urging immediate action whether it's a call of help or trouble, is usually an irritant. One of the things we men enjoy most about getting out on a golf course or going north fishing is the absence of that ring.

A Michigan State PhD'er says noise can not only damage hearing, but can also affect morale, anxiety, sleep, irritability and fatigue.

I'm sure he didn't need that doctorate to figure that out, but he should've added. . . all of which will drive you up a tree.

And, while up there your skin will be crawling from the sound of fingernails on a blackboard. . . .

Your hair will be standing on end from the screeching of brakes when you know your child is playing in the street. . . .

Your toes will be curled from the sound of that awful noise coming from your kid's transistor. . . .

And, pollution of the air will be hurting your eyes.

School election June 14

6 candidates vie for 2 School Board seats

Voters in the Clarkston School District will have their choice of 6 candidates to fill the 2 vacancies on the School Board at the June 14 election.

Two incumbents will ask to be returned to their posts and 4 other candidates have qualified to have their names on the ballot.

The candidates are Louise Cohen, William Rausch, Fernando Sanchez, Charles J. Smalley, R. A. Weber and Charles H. Weichel.

Mrs. Joel D. Cohen (Louise), 32, lives with her husband and children, Anne, 6 and Kate, 3 at 6642 Wealthy. She has been an Independence Township resident for over 5 years.

Mrs. Cohen holds a BS Degree from Wayne State University and has worked for 5 years in broadcasting and advertising for CBS Television in Detroit.

She was a charter member and co-incorporator of the Clarkston Nursery, Inc. and has done volunteer work at Children's Hospital.

Mrs. Smith says, "As one of the young mothers who started our co-operative nursery school last year, I saw just how positively involved parents can and are willing to become in their children's education.

"Now that my first child has entered public school, I would like to continue being as actively concerned because I feel a mother's place is on the School Board."

William Rausch, a supervisor at the Pontiac Motors will also seek to be elected. Twenty-nine years old, he lives with his wife, Carole and children, Patrick, 6, and Megan, 4, at 6749 Townview.

Rausch is a graduate of the Clarkston school system and studied mechanical engineering at Michigan Technological University for 4 years.

The Independence Township volunteer fireman helped in organizing the Clarkston Co-op Nursery. He worked vigorously in opposition to the building of a gas station in the Village last year.

Rausch stated that he has a deep interest in serving the community. "I feel," he said, "I can represent my age group on the Board. I would do my best to serve all the voters."

Paramus flooding problem eased

Supervisor of Independence Township, Gary Stonerock and Paul VanRoekel, Oakland County highway engineer have agreed on the completion of emergency drainage for the waterlogged Paramus-Lakeview area in the Clarkston Estates subdivision east of M-15.

According to VanRoekel, the Road Commission will install a catch basin in Lakeview Street and furnish pipe for the necessary 200 additional feet of drainage ditches that the Township will complete. The cost will come from highway maintenance funds.

The commission will also make necessary repairs to driveways of abutting properties following installation of the pipe on Lakeview by Township crews. The Township will be responsible for repairing landscape damage.

The situation was the outgrowth of heavy thaws last February that caused flooding of homes on Paramus Street. The temporary solution necessitated emergency ditching and the removal of a catch basin that had been filled with cement.

Van Roekel pointed out that this is a temporary measure. The Township Board is in the process of attempting to establish a drainage district in the subdivision as a permanent solution.

School Board candidates

Four year incumbent, Fernando Sanchez, 47, of Sashabaw Road says, "A pleasant atmosphere where every child can feel valued and successful; a faculty concerned with the development of youngsters; and programs that respond to children's individual needs are a few of things I feel contribute to making a good school system. I feel Clarkston does have this kind of a system."

"If I am re-elected I will do my best to maintain this type of atmosphere."

Sanchez has lived in the Independence Township for 17 years. He and his wife have 8 children. Three of his children are graduates of Clarkston High School and 5 are presently enrolled in the school system.

The family attends Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church and he is a member of the Knights of Columbus Pope John XXIII Council.

Charles J. Smalley, 5247 Sashabaw Rd., told the Clarkston News that he has always been interested in the Clarkston School system and its functions. "I would like to be elected to the school board so that I can represent all the people of the Clarkston community."

Smalley and his wife, Betty have 3 daughters. Sandra is a college student and Cindy and Susan attend Clarkston schools. The family have lived in the area for 19 years.

The disabled veteran of World War II has been a letter carrier for the Pontiac branch of the U.S. Post Office for 22 years. For the past 7 years he has been president of the Letter Carrier's Union. He is also an elder at the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church and a member of Cedar Lodge No. 60 F & AM of Clarkston.

Ronald V. (Buck) Weber, Board President and 24 year veteran will ask to be returned to office for another term.

"I am interested in seeing further improvements in our school system, and want it to be recognized as one of the best systems in the State. I wish to continue to work toward this end."

"I have served on the Board for over 24 years and believe this experience together with my accounting training and administration position will enable me to make a positive contribution to the Board in our problem areas."

The resident of Overlook Drive is a widower with 2 grown sons and 2 grandchildren. He attended Pontiac Business Institute and is presently employed as an administrator in the Accounting Department of GMCTC Division.

Charles H. Weichel of 6609 Amy Drive feels that the time has come for everyone in the Clarkston School District to decide if they want the education system to improve. "If we do we must take a part in it. I would like to do my part by serving on the School Board."

Weichel, who is 40, has a wife, Lois and 4 children. The children are all attending Clarkston schools. He works in the Accounting Department of Pontiac Motors and is a member of Calvary Lutheran Church.

His civic involvement includes being Bailey Lake PTA president, treasurer of Chief Pontiac Post No. 377, president of Cranberry Lake Estates Subdivision, Little League and Junior Achievements.

"The ABC's of learning must come first, but maybe we can re-evaluate our budget to include such activities as band and physical education in the elementary schools," said Weichel.

"I believe that additional monies must come from another source than property tax."

Ray Norton, custodial supervisor for the Clarkston Schools cleans up a few last minute details before he leaves the system and begins his retirement. He had worked for the school district for 25 years.

Ray Norton retires from school work

By Jean Sura

"I told my wife, Wilma, that the time had come for us to take it easy, take care of ourselves and enjoy our hobbies and our cottage on the AuSable River. We have 5 children, 21 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren. It is time for us to take time to look around." These were the words of Ray Norton of Maybee Road, who will retire at the close of the school year. Norton has worked for the Clarkston School District for 25 years. He is currently the supervisor of all building custodial help which numbers 40.

The Nortons who were born in Richmond came to this community from Keego Harbor. He was a construction supervisor at Ottawa Park Cemetery. He also worked on the building that is now called Clarkston Junior High School.

"When I started on the job," said the ex-merchant Marine, "there were just 2 buildings in the district, the old high school and the school out on Maybee Rd.

"A lot of things are different. A trip up to our cottage in the north used to take 5 hours. Today we made it easily in 2½ hours. Of course people getting around so quickly have changed the hunting and fishing up there too.

Ray Norton and his wife are hobbyists. Mrs. Norton specializes in painting china and ceramics. Norton is a cabinet maker and has a small shop. They are busy people.

"I made a couple of baby cradles for my great-grandchildren," he said with a chuckle, "but there isn't much money in that."

"I have no regrets," he continued smilingly. "This job hasn't paid a lot of money but I have enjoyed every minute of it."

"Go get those trout, Mr. Norton. Go get those white-tailed deer. Enjoy yourself and the world. And for heaven sake, with all those grandchildren growing up you had better get going on some more cradles."

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News, 5 South Main, Clarkston.

Fair values twp. goal in reappraisal plan

Equalization of assessed values is the prime reason behind having professional appraisers canvas Independence Township.

This was pointed out at Tuesday night's public hearing by supervisor Gary Stonerock and repeated by the president of United Appraisal Co., Sherwood Vermilya.

Vermilya and his associate, Carroll Shanks, had been invited to tell the public about his company, what approach they use in assessing, what could be expected of them later, and costs.

Stonerock said 4 or 5 other appraisal companies had been considered prior to settling on United to give their presentation. The board made no decision on hiring the firm, but is expected to next week, the supervisor said.

"We have 3 ways to go on reappraising the township," Stonerock told the News. "We can hire an outside firm like United Appraisal, do it ourselves, or do nothing."

He reasoned that doing nothing wasn't fair because the county would add a factor each year that widened the disparities... doing it ourselves, with assessor Bob Vandermark, would take too long (years).

"With an outside appraisal firm all assessments would be equalized at one time, thus being fair to all," Stonerock said.

Independence Township has received $38,736 in recreation funds from the state. This is to be used on the site north of the fire station at Sashabaw and Clarkston roads.

Vermilya said his company, based in Cleveland, appraises 200,000 parcels a year. Their closest job is reappraising Commerce Township. He estimated it would take 18 months, to Dec. 1, 1972, to completely reassess Independence.

He estimated the residential parcels at 6500, vacant lots at 1,000 to 1500, and commercial properties about 350.

United is asking $69,800 for their work here. Vandermark said this figures out at $8.30 per parcel.

All of United's records are computer programmed and they offer a keep-current service after completing their work.

"Frustrating" half solution

The extra work involved in removing the concrete-laden drain in Clarkston Estate No. 2 doubled the cost of the Paramus Drive drain project.

The bid for cleaning the drain came in at $2,302 from Lloyd Betts and he was awarded the contract by the township.

His bill, however, reflected the cost of the additional work, $4,619.

After paying the bill, Supervisor Gary Stonerock commented, "It's still only half the solution, that's what frustrates me."

The other half of the solution would involve draining on Paramus to alleviate flooding around the Paramus-Lakeview Drive area. Part of Stonerock's "frustration" comes, he said, from the county's unwillingness to spend a portion of the township's road allotment money for this drain.

"Happiness" is receiving the Clarkston News.

Jaundiced jottings

A columnist friend of mine refuses to use the term "Shyster Lawyer." He claims it's redundant.

Perhaps he holds the same opinion about phrases like "quack doctors," "shoddy realtors," "hack journalists" and "thieving plumbers." He hasn't confirmed such opinions, but he is a cynic, so it wouldn't surprise me to learn he believed that the redundant label could be applied across the board up to and including "sanctimonious preachers."

In this strange world we live in, there seem to be few remnants of respect for professions or specialized occupations. People used to admire teachers because they were supposed to be so dedicated that they were willing to settle for pride of accomplishment instead of scrambling for the grubby dollar.

Once, building contractors were delighted to show their beautifully hand-crafted cabinets, made to artisan standards. Now they complain about the "wood butchers" demanding another 50% hourly increase for their leisurely hacking.

Psychiatrists have been labeled "head shrinkers" for so many years that colleges might as well put the term on diplomas, so the patients will know they're in the right office.

Social workers are more often called "meddlers" or "sob sisters" or "do-gooders" than by the multitude of specialist designations for which they qualify by training or experience.

Can we be assured that, in spite of all the bad publicity, tiny tots still respect and admire the police still regard them with affection instead of fear?

I wondered about this again last week when I overheard the conversation between two boys, one six and the other nearly seven.

"Let's play cops and robbers," proposed six-year-old Billy. "You be the fuzz and I'll be the payoff man for the mob."

"If It Fitz . . ."

A racial confrontation

By Jim Fitzgerald

There were over 53,000 people at the ball park that Sunday, which meant waiting in a long line to buy a beer. I came away from the counter wondering if a race riot could be caused by a barmaid who had only Stroh's, no Budweiser.

It was the guy in front of me who wanted a Bud. He was a fat black man who smiled at my redheaded son and made friendly conversation as the line edged slowly forward. The trouble began when Fatty finally reached the barmaid and requested a Budweiser.

"Go to the next stand," she said curtly, "all we have is Stroh's." She was white.

Many of the concession stands at Tiger Stadium sell only Stroh's on draft. It is no coincidence that Stroh's sponsors the baseball broadcasts. And it is probably no coincidence that there is no large sign at these stands, warning thirsty patrons that they shouldn't waste time standing in line if they want something besides Stroh's. An uninformed customer is good for Stroh's business. By the time he reaches the counter he has already missed 2 home runs and his thirst has grown fatter while his patience has thinned. He'll take whatever the barmaid is handing out, as long as it's cold and quick.

That's how black Fatty felt about the situation. He told the barmaid he'd buy whatever she was selling, rather than push another long line. But he couldn't resist commenting on her impolite dismissal. "That's no way to talk to a man," he told her. "Don't tell me to go somewhere else. Ask me if I want a Stroh's."

The barmaid wasn't going to take any of his lip. She lipped right back. With great nastiness, she informed Fatty that he couldn't tell her what to say, and what she had said was perfectly OK, she had no Budweiser, and so on . . .

Now Fatty was angry. He

"What's a payoff man?"

"Aw, he's the one that gives the money to the pigs so it's OK to push grass and stuff. You're dumb."

"Don't want to be the fuzz. I'm almost seven. You be the crooked cop."

Maybe my poor, cynical columnist friend thinks "crooked cop" is redundant, too.

I observed her twice more throughout the doubleheader. She was nasty to 2 youngsters — both white — who had innocently sweated out a long line only to reach the dragon at the end and learn that she wouldn't sell them pop: "Y'er in the wrong line, kid." (But there's no sign warning the kids.) I told my son there's something important to be learned from what we'd seen: is the importance of politeness. Everyone should smile more. They should always say "please," and "thank you." They should be kind to each other. Why not? It doesn't hurt. Actually, it makes you feel good.

There's a lot that's lousy in this world. And God knows good manners are no cure-all. "Thank you" said a million times isn't going to take the sting and unfairness out of bigotry. But politeness is certainly the Onward and Upward way to go. Thanks for listening to the sermon. Please come again. †

Letters to the editor

Almost thirty

June 1, 1971

Dear Editor:

I just want to express my complete agreement with the letter concerning the recent township election that was in the paper on May 27th. It was signed seventeen-going-on-eighteen.

How great it would be if someone with similar sentiments and ideals could be working for our township.

We need more people who care and will work for all the peoples' welfare and interests rather than those who are just concerned with the monetary value of their property.

I wish you were going on thirty.

Cub Scout

PACK 341

Displays in keeping with the theme of insects, (crawling and flying) and growing things highlighted the Cub Scout Pack 341 meeting at Sashabaw Junior High School on May 20.

The opening and closing ceremony was conducted by Webelos dens.

Awards were presented. Among them Donn Fillmore and Jim Wood received aquanaut awards for Webelos activities.

Crossing the bridge from Cub Scouts to Webelos were Scott Turnbull, Mark Roberts, Bob Bray, Jim Johnson, Joel Raymon and Edward Eaglen.

Graduation ceremonies from Webelos to Boy Scout rank were conducted for Tim Roberts and Don Hawkins.

Risto Rajala, 17, of Jarvenpaa, Finland will graduate with the class of 1971 Clarkston High School. The member of the Youth for Peace makes his home in Clarkston with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bishop on Middle Lake Road. "Crowded" was the word Risto used to describe the U. S. He will return home this summer after some travel around the country.

Wrestler soars to Eagle

Charles Rowan

A Clarkston High School JV wrestler will be flying with the Eagles this week. Charles Rowan, 15, will attain the coveted rank of Eagle when Troop 105 of the Boy Scouts of America hold their Court of Honor this week.

Chuck, who lives at 4911 Cecelia Ann with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Rowan is a 10th grade student. He has been active in scouting for the past 5 years. His dad has served as Committee Chairman for the Troop which is led by Howard Bliss.

Merit badges in citizenship and dog care were reported as Chuck's favorites. The citizenship award resulted in a knowledge of Clarkston history and the dog care badge was put to practical use for the care and training of the Rowan dogs.

Trap shooting and squirrel hunting are 2 of the new Eagle's hobbies.

"I intend to continue on in scouting," said Chuck. "It is a lot of fun. I guess that the best time I ever had was up on the canoe trip. We sure got wet, but we sure were happy!"

Spring Training

With the spring sun beckoning you out-of-doors, doctors are offering some sensible suggestions on preparing yourself for the summer months ahead.

• Tone your body slowly; don't try to play four sets of tennis on your first day on the courts.

If you've put on a few extra winter pounds, take them off sensibly — no crash diets. This is a good time for a medical check-up, including advice on exercise and diet.

• This is the time, too, for your immunizations. Most doctors prefer to give shots in cool weather, rather than in mid-summer. Tetanus shots for you, if you're at all active. For the children: tetanus, whooping cough, measles, diphtheria and polio may all be indicated.

• As part of your spring cleaning, chuck out all those stray out-of-date drugs in the medicine cabinet if you don't know if a medication is still useful.

• Call your local Red Cross for information on first aid classes. This could save a life on the beach this summer. If you know about artificial respiration and treating bad cuts.

• This might be a good time to brush up on your swimming, too. Or if you need instructions in handling a boat safely, you still have time.

• Remind the children what poison ivy looks like, along with other poisonous plants, bushes or vines. Their memories can be short, from summer to summer.

In recognition of the adverse effect that obstructions in drainage ditches have upon the health, safety, and general welfare of persons and of property in Independence Township, because of the flooding, stagnation, and other problems connected therewith, the Township of Independence enacts this ordinance to regulate obstructions in drainage ditches in the Township of Independence and to prescribe penalties for the violation hereof.

This ordinance is enacted by the Township Board of Independence Township, County of Oakland, State of Michigan pursuant to the authority vested in it by Act 246 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for 1945, as amended:

ARTICLE 1: Short Title

Sec. 1.1. This ordinance shall be known as the "Independence Township Drainage Ditch Obstruction Ordinance" and may elsewhere be referred to as such, and hereinafter shall be referred to as "this ordinance."

ARTICLE 2: Definitions

Sec. 2.1. Drainage Ditch: Any natural or man made channel, stream, natural depression or draw.

ARTICLE 3: Obstructions in Drainage Ditches; Removal

Sec. 3.1. Whenever the flow of stream water or surface water in any natural or man made channel, natural depression, natural draw or other drainage ditch is obstructed by any obstruction which in the opinion of the Building Inspector for the Township of Independence or his agent causes or will cause flooding or damage, the Inspector or agent shall order such obstruction removed by the owner of the land so as to provide for the free flow of water therein.

ARTICLE 4: Construction of Obstructions in Drainage Ditches; Prohibitions

Sec. 4.1. No person shall construct or reconstruct any building, structure, or dike, or otherwise obstruct the flow of stream or surface water through any natural or man made channel, natural depression or natural draw through which water normally flows unless a permit has been obtained from the Township Building Department.

ARTICLE 5: Application for Permit for Construction of Obstructions in Drainage Ditches.

Sec. 5.1. Any person desiring to obtain a permit to construct, alter, repair or reconstruct any building, structure or dike, or any other obstruction which obstructs the flow of stream or surface water through any water course or natural or man made channel, natural depression or natural draw, shall file an application in writing with the Township Building Department, which shall state the following:

- a. The name and address of the applicant, and if the applicant is other than an individual, the names and addresses of the principles thereof;
- b. The place where such construction, reconstruction, repair or alteration is to take place;
- c. The reason for and effect of the construction, repair, or alteration;
- d. The type of construction to be used in such construction, reconstruction, repair or alteration together with a description of the materials to be used;

Sec. 5.2. At the time of filing an application with the Township Building Department, the applicant shall deposit with the Clerk of Independence Township an application fee of $25.00.

Sec. 5.3. If the Building Department determines that the proposed structure, alteration or repair will not interfere with the flow of natural stream, surface or storm water, and does not cause or will not cause flooding or other damage and will not injure adjoining property, it shall issue a permit to do the proposed work in the manner specified in the application and in accordance with the plans submitted with the application.

Sec. 5.4. The Building Inspector or his agent may make such suggestions, recommendations, modifications or changes in materials presented him as he deems necessary to prevent flooding and avoid damage.

ARTICLE 6: Violation

Sec. 6.1. Whenever the Building Inspector or his agent determines that any existing obstruction as outlined in Article 3, causes or will cause flooding or other damage, the Building Inspector or his agent is authorized to enter the land and order such obstruction removed.

Sec. 6.2. Whenever an obstruction, building, structure, dike or alteration which has been constructed pursuant to Article 5, does not conform to the submitted application, or after completion, causes or will cause flooding or damage, the Building Inspector or his agent shall order such obstruction repaired, altered, or revised so as to not cause flooding or damage.

Sec. 6.3. When the Building Inspector or his agent has ordered repair, removal or alteration of the obstruction, building, structure or dike and the owner refuses or otherwise fails to comply with such order, the Building Inspector or his agent shall cause the removal, repair or alteration, and the costs may be assessed against the owner of the land.

Sec. 6.5. Each day or fraction thereof that said failure to remove or failure to pay for said removal continues after order or notice thereof shall be considered a separate violation hereunder and separate penalties may be levied therefore.

ARTICLE 7: Severability, Laws

Sec. 7.1. If any section, provisions, phrase or word of this ordinance shall be held void, ineffectual or unconstitutional, by a court of competent jurisdiction, then such finding shall not affect the validity of the remaining sections, provisions, phrases or words thereof.

Discuss taxation

Willis Stone, a former industrial engineer, will present his views of the dollars and cents statistics to support the Liberty Amendment premise when he speaks on Tuesday, June 15, at 8 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Southfield Road south of Thirteen Mile Rd. The program, sponsored by the Oakland County Conservative Club, is open to the public with tickets available at the door.

Students at Clarkston Junior High School have a field day. The events of their annual field day ran from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Briefly told

If you were at the cemetery Memorial Day you likely heard everything that went into the microphone. The reason we say this is because a young rock and roller's $1200 amplifying system was used.

The story of how it was pressed into service was told us by John Lynch of the American Legion.

It seems electrician, Whitey Tower, was in charge of hooking up the public address system for the cemetery proceedings, and the Legion amplifiers wouldn't work.

Neither would the Township's, which Whitey borrowed. Then he thought of his neighbor, John Bickford, 22.

Together, Whitey and John, rewired all the Legion equipment so they would work, along with John's. It took a few hours. When they finished early in the evening, John told Whitey he had to use his amps that night, and not to call him before 9:45 a.m.

The parade started at 10:00. The amps were needed no later than 10:45.

Whitey got to the cemetery at 9:00 and worried his way through John's arrival and the set up and testing. It was all worth it, but now the Legion is spoiled and looking for some $1200 amps.

The full-house at the last Township Board meeting seemed pleased when supervisor Gary Stonerock said he was closing the meeting to comments from the floor during the meeting. Commenters now have the last slot on the agenda. Stonerock said, "The meetings are just taking too long," and all agreed.

For the next 3 weeks, the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) will be holding public hearings to determine the anti-poverty priorities of 1972.

A public hearing for residents of Brandon, Independence and Groveland townships, will be held at United Methodist Church, 6600 Waldon Rd., Clarkston at 7:30 p.m. on June 17. If you need assistance with babysitting and/or transportation please call 634-9001 or 634-9027.

Approximately 20 Clarkston Area Jaycees and members of the community worked at the Village "Clean-up" on Sunday, June 6. They cleaned and removed the debris from the stream and parking lot area.

Despite the heavy winds and rain and with the aid of tractors loaned by Dr. James O'Neill and William Halsey the grounds at the Independence Township Library were plowed and leveled and made ready for sod and seed.

Kutting Korners

Here is an elegant idea for a brunch or luncheon appetizer. Carve a melon in the shape of a basket. This can be done by leaving a 2 inch band for the handle on top and then cutting out the wedge. Be sure to leave the bottom half intact.

Now scoop out the melon, make into balls. Add other fresh fruits in season, chill and serve.

Use your imagination. If your group isn't large enough to warrant using a watermelon, select a smaller type that will do the job. Honeydew, for instance, is excellent.

If you don't want to fuss with the basket handle, just cut the melons in half (long way) and they make attractive serving bowls.

Try this on your outdoor grill.

FLANK STEAK IN WINE SAUCE

Brush flank steak with soy sauce and sprinkle well with salt, freshly ground black pepper and a teaspoon of dried thyme, crumbled. Let stand for an hour or so. Brush again with soy sauce and grill over brisk fire, 3 to 4 minutes on each side for rare steaks. Carve with sharp knife in thin slices on the diagonal.

For the sauce, combine 1/4 cups red wine. Bring just to the boiling point. Add 1 stick butter and salt to taste and stir until butter is melted. Add 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley and spoon over the steak slices.

And here is something to occupy you hobbyists—Sand Candles. My daughter-in-law cautions that coarse sand is desirable and that really fine beach sand doesn't work too well.

SAND CANDLES

Soft shimmering sandcandles. They add a warm romantic touch on the deck, the patio or in your livingroom. Whimsical and fun, sandcandles are easy to make.

Kits are available at most craft stores for the sandcandles. The things needed are simple: scented wax, colored wax chips, wicks, a can to melt the wax in and a burner. Also needed is a thermometer to measure the temperature of the wax. (A candy thermometer will do.)

Make the shape for your candle in damp sand.

Be creative, let the shape be anything that comes to mind. Ours were round, stuck with pencils to make holes for funny leg like arms. Once this is done, put the wick into the mold. Drop it over a wire or stick to keep it straight. Heat the wax in the can to 300 degrees, no higher as the wax reaches a flash point at 400 degrees. Pour it into the sand mold and let it harden completely. Gently remove the candle from the sand, wash off the excess sand.

The candle may be left with the outside cover of sand or it can be dipped in colored wax. The new color adheres to the sand. Dip the candle in and out of the hot colored wax quickly so as not to melt the candle. Let this cool and harden.

Lighted sandcandles add a soft glow and gentle fragrance to any room. They make great gifts too. Your friends will think you're fantastically clever. So go ahead—and enjoy yourself—be whimsical. Add a creative flair to your home with sandcandles.

Linda Ann Skarritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Skarritt, 27 Miller Road in Clarkston, will be installed as Honored Queen of Clarkston Bethel No. 25, International Order of Job's Daughters, on June 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Davisburg Masonic Temple, 21800 Andersonville Road, Davisburg. Other officers to be installed are Susan Yarbrough, Senior Princess; Linda Thomas, Junior Princess; Shannon Lynch, Guide; and Debbie Helvey, Marshal. Refreshments immediately following the installation. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. & Mrs. Douglas lid

Altman - Iid wed at St. Daniel's

Kristine Altman became the bride of Douglas (Randy) Iid of Ortonville in an evening ceremony performed by Fr. Francis Weingartz at St. Daniel's Catholic Church on May 28.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Altman of S. Holcomb Street. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Iid of Hadley Road, Ortonville.

Kathleen Altman, was the maid of honor for her sister and Lawrence Engler was the best man.

After a reception in the home of the bride's parents the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. They will make their home in Pontiac.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Clarkston High School. The groom graduated from Brandon High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swanson of Dearborn announce the engagement of their daughter Judy to Greg Gordon of Wompole Drive in Clarkston. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gordon. The couple are planning to be married on July 25. The prospective groom is a 1970 graduate of Central Michigan University and the bride will graduate in August.

Exchange vows in Arkansas

Guests from Indiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Michigan, Illinois and Colorado attended nuptial ceremonies that united Susan Elaine Martin and H. Boyd Mosier, Jr. in matrimony.

The bride's father, Winfred Kenneth Mosier gave his daughter in marriage.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Higginbotham in the Hutchinson Mt. Church of Christ in Floral, Arkansas on May 29.

The bride chose a floor length gown of white satin. It was styled on princess lines and trimmed with lace. It featured long sleeves and a lace train. Her shoulder length veil was held by a pearlized tiara.

A cousin of the bride, Carolyn Sue

Strother was the maid of honor. She wore a short green gown and carried yellow roses.

The groom's brother, Gale Alan Mosier of Clarkston was the best man and the bride's cousin, Dan O'Brian of Denver, Colorado ushered the guests to their seats.

About 100 guests greeted the newlyweds at the Community Building in Hutchinson Mt. Floral, Arkansas.

The couple, who will live in Pontiac, traveled through the Ozark Mountain area for their wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Nelson of Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gonzalez of Drayton Plains attended the wedding.

Around the town

Pomp and punch

by Donna Fahrner

Tornado warnings, high winds and rain managed to dampen a few people but not the spirit of the many social events on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newlin of Princess had a double graduation open house in honor of daughter Carol and son Dick who will both graduate from Clarkston High School on June 14.

Friends and relatives gathered at the James Cowen home on Middle Lake Rd. to honor Beth Cowen who will graduate on Monday from Clarkston High School.

Dr. and Mrs. Ronald LePere of Waldon Road had everything set up in the yard for their 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. open house for daughter, Valerie, but managed to move in before the storm.

Mrs. Beth Ladd held her annual dance recital on Sunday, June 6 at the High School. Beautiful costumes, excited dancers and nervous parents helped to make it an outstanding program.

Mr. and Mrs. James Frady and their four children of Center Circle entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Webster Reed and their four children from Philadelphia over the Memorial Day weekend. The Reeds had never been to a small town parade and were very impressed. Swimming and picnicking filled their weekend plans.

R.J. McCormick son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCormick of Phalen celebrated this 9th birthday on May 25th at Farrell's. He was joined by sisters Amy and Ann and five school friends.

A "thank you, workers" pot luck cook-out was held on May 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Place of Chickadee. Fifteen couples who have worked long and hard on the "Bottles for Building" committee turned out.

I understand Calvary Lutheran Church looked like an orthopedic clinic on May 23. Cindy Heazlit was in a wheel chair, with a full leg cast supporting her broken ankle. Jenny Kushman, whose cast was just removed, was confirmed on crutches and Mike Crosby had an ace bandage on his right hand as the result of a painful sprain on May 16. Take it easy, you folks!

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Bonner will be going to Japan and the Philippines as part of their world trip this summer. They will visit Rosie, the foreign exchange student who lived with them 2 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lukemire II (Beckie Hubbard) are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, Donald Frank III who weighed 6 lbs., 7 ozs. Grandparents are Mrs. Vera Hubbard of Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lukemire of Orlando, Florida.

A Mother-Daughter breakfast followed the 8:30 a.m. mass at St. Daniels Church on Sunday. The fathers did the cooking and serving at the Township Hall. A fashion show followed.

Dennis Roy, age 10, of South Main Street, proved himself a true friend to animals on May 24. On his way to school he noticed a cat on a leash tangled in a fence and in danger of being strangled. He released the cat and managed to find the relieved owners.

It is the time of year when new officers are to be installed and clubs have luncheons to end the year. The Clarkston Woman's Club will hold theirs on Wednesday, June 16 in the Green Room at Howes Lanes. The time is 12:30 and reservations can be made by calling Nancy Gruenberg at 625-4583.

The Clarkston Child Study Club will be enjoying lunch and installation at Waterford Hill Country Club on Tuesday, June 10 at 12:30 p.m.

The Clarkston Village Players will be presenting "The Odd Couple" again this weekend at the Depot Theatre. Curtain time is 8:30 on Friday and Saturday nights. Reports are traveling on Main Street that it was a smashing success. It might be worth getting your tickets in advance.

Many Clarkston folks are noted for their lovely yards with trees, flowers and green, green grass. So it was a complete surprise to the neighbors to see plastic knives, forks and spoons growing in profusion in one yard last weekend. I guess it wasn't too much of a mystery to the lucky home owner though!

Principal's views

The Home Economics Department is rapidly changing. Next year the student interested in the skills offered by this department may concentrate in either foods or clothing or select courses from both areas.

The area of food preparation will offer the standard skills involving various methods used with several meats. Students will become familiar with cuts, costs and grades of meat. They will experience many ways of "dressing up" many standard meals.

A new course is being offered which will involve methods of preparing food for entertaining. That is, instructing the student how to make the fancy sandwiches, salads, how to use fruit, preparation of baked goods, etc.

During the year there are several opportunities for the home economics students to actually use their skills, through scheduled lunches for faculty, parents and small children.

The clothing area offers students the opportunity to gain only the basic skills of sewing, or they may continue through the entire sequence of courses to the advanced tailoring classes. The students learn types of materials, cost and what material is best for various types of clothing.

The courses include use of patterns, how to adjust these patterns and fitting. The skill of sewing by hand and by machine is dealt with. By the time the students progress through the clothing curriculum they have the ability to create much of their own wardrobes.

During the past several weeks an attempt has been made to identify many of the highlights of Clarkston High School curriculum. At the same time the unique areas have been described with the hope that this information might help parents and students plan the proper curriculum for a worthwhile and interesting experience.

Communication between the home and school might not guarantee this, but it will certainly help, so please feel free to contact the high school office for any information pertaining to the curriculum, counseling services, or scheduling.

Top class

Achieve highest honors

Alan Hyde, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hyde, 63 Waldon Road has achieved the highest honor point average in the 1971 graduating class at Clarkston High School.

His record is a perfect 4.0.

Alan is 17 and started kindergarten in Clarkston. He plans to attend Columbia Bible College in Columbia, South Carolina in September. His father is a supervisor at Camp Oakland in Oxford and his mother teaches English at Clarkston High School.

Three other members round out the Hyde family circle. They are Nancy, 16, Steve, 9 and Carol, 5.

Playing varsity tennis, working part-time at the Clarkston post office, teaching Sunday School and working with youth groups at the Waterford Community Church, dating and music have kept Alan occupied. He is also a member of the National Honor Society.

"I have let up a little in my senior year," said Alan, "but I worked hard studying to maintain the A average. I'll probably have to get back to work when I go to school this fall. I hope to perform some kind of full-time Christian work.

"I don't know if I could qualify as a minister. Public speaking was the most difficult subject that I took in high school."

The Clarkston News asked Alan his opinion of the dope situation and whether 18 years should be allowed to vote.

"My personal friends," he said, "are not involved with dope. But of course I know it does exist."

"I think that 18 year olds may lack

Alan Hyde

Debbie Thatcher

wisdom but are better informed about the operation of the government than most adults."

Alan will be one of the students to address the guests at this years graduation exercises.

Congratulations, Alan Hyde. You seem to have assumed the responsibility of being intelligent.

Debbie Thatcher has had 9 operations in her 18 years. Yet this week she has been designated scholastically as the second highest student in the 1971 graduating class at Clarkston High School with a point average of 3.875. Her winsome grin gives indication that it would have taken a bigger pile of obstacles to hold her down.

Eight of Debbie's operations were to correct Spinal Bifida, an unusual deformity of the spine. The ninth was the result of a freak accident when she got a pencil stuck in her eye.

As a youngster growing up the thing that upset her the most and seemed the most monumental was when a little classmate in kindergarten accused her of wearing "baby shoes."

Her physical problems didn't prevent her from climbing trees, learning to play the piano and flute, being active in her youth group at the United Methodist Church and teaching Sunday School.

Nor did it stop her activities in the National Honor Society, Pep Club, Bible Club, and Quill and Scroll or impare her qualities on the School Yearbook as manager.

Despite her studies she found time to attend Wolverine Girl's State where she was elected mayor of a city. She carried out the responsibilities of being Senior Class Secretary and participated in school forensic activities. She also found time for a part-time job in a hobby shop.

Debbie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn L. Thatcher and the family (Steven, 21, is married) and Bradley, 11, live on Everest Drive.

"I think that my dad, who is the Assistant Manager of a J.C. Penney Store, planted the idea in my head that there is nothing that can get you down if you really try," said Debbie. "Dad always said that I should just keep trying and some day he would be proud of me."

Mr. Thatcher must, indeed, be very proud of Debbie. Mrs. Thatcher must be proud too.

Debbie will attend Michigan State University in September. She will study to become a physical therapist. She has a lot more to give to her patients than manipulation.

Spiritual Message

Rev. Arlon K. Stubbe

"Go, then, to all peoples everywhere and make them my disciples: baptize them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teach them to obey everything I have commanded you..."

St. Matthew 28:19, 20

Last Sunday was Trinity, the day of the Church year when we praise God in Three Persons - giving thanks for His showing Himself to us as a Father, as a loving Son, and as a guiding and Holy Spirit.

Some churches refuse to believe in a Triune or three-part God; "Either He's God or He isn't," they say. "He's not a committee." And there is good evidence in early New Testament manuscripts to suggest that the verses from St. Matthew printed above were not original with Christ. The reference to the Father, Son, and Spirit may well have been added later, the authorities say.

What does all this mean for the common person in the Church, or outside it? Well, if you've built your faith on inspired details in the Bible, then you are forced to defend the Trinity and its accompanying doctrines with all your might... either that, or join a different church!

But if you've based your faith on a personal and loving God, and haven't been too concerned to fill your problem is a bigger one. You have to decide on the meaning of life for you, without any skirmishes about unimportant frills. In making that decision, it might be helpful to keep this in mind: if you reject Christ and Christianity, be sure you are rejecting the real God... not same man-made or humanized version.

If you're one of those many people who do not accept any God in any way, shape, or form... then

Happy to me

by Jean Sura

"Come on Gene, don't sit down, it's time to get dressed for the party," I said to my husband the other afternoon.

"What do you mean, get dressed? It's ninety degrees in the shade, I've cleaned the porch, cut the lawn, washed the car and swept the garage. I'd like to take a breather."

"Well, you'll just have to breath later. We're due at the party right now."

The guest list at the party was very select, just a small group of grandmothers, grandfathers, aunts, uncles and cousins, about twenty in all.

The celebration was a double birthday party for our two youngest grandchildren. The weather was fine so it was held outdoors.

"Didn't you bring a present for the kids?" said my husband.

"Oh, sure. Will you come and help me get it out of the trunk of the car?" So together we hauled the big box out to the yard.

"Happy to you," sang one of the birthday boys. But he lost interest when the package was opened and there was nothing to play with.

"Come on Mom," groaned our son, "don't tell me it's another one."

"Another what?" I asked guiltily.
"You know what I mean. Just look around this place. There is enough paraphernalia to equip three playgrounds. Everytime I mow the grass it take me forty-five minutes to move all this stuff and an hour and a half to move it all back. Anyway, the kids aren't old enough to use most of it."

"What do you mean, they can't use it?" I said.

"The wading pool is so big they can't get in or out and everytime the little guy gets his bathing suit wet he cries and takes it off right there on the spot.

"See, there he goes again. Somebody grab him before he runs out in the front yard. Get some clothes on him."

"He hasn't been toilet trained very long," said the nudist's mother. "When the water hits his bathing suit he thinks he has had an accident."

Anybody knows that all you have to do to straighten a child out is to divert his attention. So sliding the little peeler into a dry pair of drawers I took him over to the swings.

"Push, Granny. Up high," he yelled as I went to sit down.

"Okay," I walked back. "Here we go. Whee."

"I want to ride on the swings," trilled all the other kids.

"Me too, Granny. Push me, too."

"It's my turn, Granny. I want to swing too."

"Whoops, careful," I yelled. "You're going to get hit in the head. Don't stand up. Sit down. Wait your turn. Don't get on while the swing is moving. Don't get off until it stops."

"Gene," I wailed, "don't just sit there. Give me a hand."

Just then somebody else yelled. "Who put the baby on the hobby horse and left him alone. He'll surely fall off and kill himself."

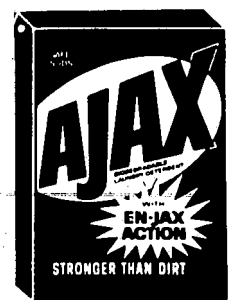

"Now, Mother, do you see what I mean about their not being old enough?" snorted son.

"This present is better," I promised. "It's just a little picnic table. All you have to do is put it together."

The box was really very compact and the model in the store didn't look very complicated. How was I to know that there were four hundreds nuts and bolts involved in the assembly and that the directions were reversed.

"Happy to you too."
