

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Nowhere is it more obvious that the north two-fifths of Oakland county is unwanted and neglected than in roads.

I have before me the Oakland County Road Commission annual report that has a map of "10-year construction accomplishments."

33 1/2 miles of blacktopping, some of it was prime and seal, was put down between 1960 and 1970 in the top two tiers of townships in Oakland. That's just over 3 miles per township on an average. Just over 3-tenths of a mile per year per township.

No surfacing was done to roads in Addison, Groveland or Rose Townships during this period. Oxford and Independence townships had 4 1/2 each and Orion had 3 miles.

There is no truth to the rumor that AAA is merging with AA for those who are driven to drink.

Some auto insurance companies are claiming they'll lower rates if manufacturers produce cars that are stronger... like being able to hit a wall at 5 mph without causing damage.

Weren't similar claims made when the push was on promoting driver training at public expense in schools?

Jim Damman, 63rd district representative, says, "While most Republicans (he's one) oppose the graduated income tax, some do not. However, I think most of us believe the property tax and income tax proposals should be decided separately on their individual merits."

Therein lies much of the difficulty in getting a change in tax legislation in Lansing. The Dems want to have the people vote on a graduated income tax and reducing property tax in one question on the ballot... the GOP wants to have the two questions asked separately. And, they'd be even happier with the present ungraduated income tax.

The people that holler the loudest about teacher cuts are the same ones who voted down an increase in taxes.

Which brings us to another question about teachers and voting... have you heard how many school employees and their spouses didn't vote in the school election in Oxford last week? 86.

Had they voted, the millage would have passed. And, if they really believe it takes money to do a better job in education, why did they stay away from the polls? It doesn't just happen in Oxford either.

Firemen kept busy

Car fires, kitchen fires, a burning truck and barn, grass fires and a false alarm kept the Independence Township Fire Department hopping in the last few weeks.

The burning cars belonged to Mike Ostrowski of 4687 Lakeview and Mrs. Viletta Pincumbe of Oxford.

Fire in the Ostrowski car was thought to have been started by a gallon can of thinner on the front seat. Damages to the interior were estimated at $200. A witness told firemen that he saw 2 males set the fire.

Mrs. Pincumbe's damage was limited to $40 when a backfire started a fire in the air cleaner and carburetor.

Kitchen fires were extinguished at the home of P. Roeser, 6280 Waldon Rd. on June 3 and Paul Wood, 6322 Peach on June 21. Though the fire was contained in the kitchens of both homes, damages were reported to amount to $2000 and $4000 respectively.

It was believed that heat from a truck muffler ignited some hay and resulted in the loss of the truck and a barn at 10140 Ortonville Rd. according to fire reports.

Arthur T. Tavender was unloading hay from the truck into the barn, when the fire started. Losses were estimated at approximately $8500. The barn is owned by Anthony Miaullo of Detroit and William C. Cobb is the caretaker.

"Gone fishin'" was what the sign might have said at the Clarkston Church of God on Main Street. "With my boy, Clayton," minister C.J. Chesnutt might add. With the Mill Pond so handy it is a great way to spend a lunch hour, or an afternoon or a day, at least for Clayton who is 7 years old.

Springfield-Holly collect glass

The Bottle for Building program of collecting trash glass has now spread to Springfield and Holly Townships.

The committee in those communities will be collecting on Saturday, June 26 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Drop-off points are located at the Dr.

Merle Plagge, residence; Springfield Township Hall; Quinlan Emporium, Davisburg Elementary School; Springfield Veterinary Clinic, Andersonville School and at St. Rita's Church on Maple Street.

The committee reminds residents to rinse all bottles clean, remove all metal and sort by color.

Deer Lake Beach

beckons residents

The swimming, boating, and scuba-skindiving season opened at Deer Lake Beach on June 12. Leslie Bell is the coordinator of the program this year which will find lifeguards on duty from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. through September 12.

Lifeguards who will be on regular duty are Mary Ann Hennig, Jane Richard and Connie Rush. Part-time assignments will be filled by Mollie Lynch and Mike Redwood.

According to Township Officials the new passkeys have been received and may now be picked up at the Township Hall.

Ten dollars will permit a family all privileges for the year.

An attendant will check for passes before allowing anyone in the beach area.

Rules that have governed behavior at the beach are unchanged. Children under 12 will not be admitted without their parents. Alcoholic beverages, animals, glass containers will not be permitted. Baseball, softball and fires will be prohibited.

Give sailing lessons

The Deer Lake Homeowners Association is sponsoring sailing lessons and races this year. The classes will begin at 10:30 a.m. on June 26 under the guidance of Wayne Viergever at Deer Lake Public Beach.

The lessons are free but entrants must have a boat.

Viergever can be reached at 625-3877 for more information.

Little phone directories go on sale July 4

By Jean Sura

The little books are coming, hurrah, hurrah! Goodbye Central, we won't need your help! No longer will my fingers get tired from walking through the pages!

Through the combined efforts of the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club and the Clarkston Jaycees a new little telephone directory with the exclusive listings of Independence Township numbers will go on sale over the July 4th weekend. They will cost $1.25.

When the Michigan Bell Telephone Company changed their methods of listing and included small, suburban communities in larger books the convenience and intimacy of the small town was lost.

During the past 6 months 30 members of the Garden Club have spent countless hours extracting names (30 pages each) from the large directory. Students at the new Northwest Oakland County Vocational Center typed and retyped the lists.

The members of both clubs with an assist from the local Jayettes then embarked on the tedious job of editing and proofreading the 68 pages of names and numbers.

Local merchants were asked to buy advertising to help defray the cost of printing.

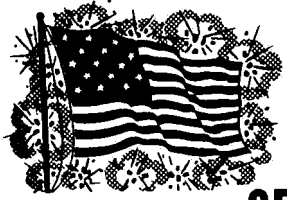

A cover, in bright blue with a precinct map of the Township was designed.

In addition to its other advantages, all names and numbers in the new book are listed in larger print with bold type used to expedite finding the number of business listings.

There are separate pages for professional and church listings.

A limited printing of books will be available at a booth at the Jaycees' July 4th celebration. During the following week they will be available at the office of the Clarkston News, Hallman's Apothecary and Ronk's Barber Shop.

John Smith, I've got your number!

"Bottles" collection over the top

The amount of trash glass collected by Independence, Brandon-Groveland and Waterford Townships exceeds all expectations. The open hopper rail car was filled to overflowing and glass had to be stored for future transportation to the recycling plant.

The joint glass collection of Bottles for Building groups of Independence, Brandon-Groveland, and Waterford Townships filled an entire 2,608 cu. ft. open hopper railcar. Mrs. Carolyn Place, Chairman of the Independence drive and originator of the Bottles for Building collection summed it up, "Successful, the most successful drive to date."

A car equipped with a loud speaker assisted the drive by preceding the trucks and reminding residents to place their glass at the curb.

Masonic Lodge Cedar No. 103 and the Clarkston DeMolay Chapter provided the curbside collection and transferred all the glass to the rail site or to the storage facilities where it will be transferred next Saturday to another rail car.

Joe Saul and Jay Helvey of the Masons acted as chairmen of this month's drive. Lunch was provided by St. Daniel's Guild for all workers.

An accident almost marred the success of the monthly collection. Elton Houston, dedicated worker for the Bottles committee was treated for cuts and lacerations when somebody mistakenly dropped some bottles into the rail car when he was down inside breaking glass.

Houston was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment but returned in time to volunteer his garage on Mohawk as a temporary storage place for the surplus glass.

A report of Bottles for Building activities in North Oakland County was given on the Bob Hynes Morning Show Friday, June 18. Mrs. William Kunse was a guest on the Morning Show and talked with Mr. Hynes regarding Independence's glass recycling project, its origin and its future.

Glass collections will continue throughout the summer on the third Saturday of each month. It was noticed that not all glass containers were put out for collection. Glass that can be recycled includes: perfume, cosmetic bottles, relish jars, beverage bottles and all other household jars and bottles. Window panes cannot be used as they melt at a different temperature.

Carnival days benefit football

The Independence Township Athletic Association will sponsor a fund-raising carnival to outfit the boys in their 3 unit football team. The teams will compete in the Suburban Football League for 9 to 12 year olds in the fall.

The carnival will be held on the grounds just north of the Pine Knob Plaza at Sashabaw and Maybee Rds. from June 29 through July 5.

Through the efforts of members of the Clarkston Senior High varsity football team the grounds were cleared and cleaned.

Vocational school surveys night school needs

The administrators of the Northwest Oakland Area Vocational Education Center under Herb Olson, principal-director, are conducting a survey to find the needs of adults or students who wish to continue their education at night.

Larry David, counselor at the school, is coordinating a program that could be provided if sufficient interest is shown by area residents.

The program would be made available to veterans at no cost and those who do not have a high school diploma would pay for materials only. Tuition charges of $25 to $30 would be required of others, according to David.

Courses that are being considered are listed elsewhere in this paper on a questionnaire.

"We hope that interested people will fill out the questionnaires and return them to us at their earliest convenience so we can plan our services to best serve the community," said David.

If it's good, it can't happen here

The following, sent in by an alert reader, is not at all new. It has been circulating, in varying versions, through the public prints for many years.

We reprint it because it is a classic bit of Americana, with a great number of truths, that can bear repeating from time to time. The title is: "How To Ruin a Town."

1. Never attend any meetings. Just sit around and criticize about the way "they" are doing things.
2. Vote against any kind of tax levy whether the purpose is good or not. "They" just want your money.
3. Make fun of the fire and police departments. "They" are just out there for the glory and pay.
4. Don't ever go to the movie, school concert or ball game, benefit program, or exhibit. Sit in a half-trance in front of that "idiot box."
5. Knock your city commission. This is a must. Every one of them is just on the commission to get a little kick-back.
6. Stay out of church. You might go on Easter and Christmas just to prove to yourself that the minister does not know what he's talking about and everyone is a hypocrite.
7. Buy everything you can out of a discount catalog or mail order book. These firms are the first to come forth with donations and service to the community.
8. Don't support your town's newspaper. The out-of-town papers are a lot better and contribute much more to your town than the local bugle. But jump on your paper's editor the first time Aunt Hegatha's visit is left out - forget the other 10 times it was in.
9. Spread any story or rumor that is detamatory or

Vrooom! That's Grandpa

By Jim Fitzgerald

There's supposed to be a little boy inside every old man, screaming to get out. Lately, a lot of these dumb kids are getting out and buying motorcycles.

The result is grandfathers in crash helmets, completely enveloping both Harley and Davidson in middle-aged spread. When I see an old crock roaring down the road, I am reminded of a refugee fleeing a bombed city in whatever vehicle was available in the emergency. I keep expecting to see his wife trailing along behind, wheeling the family possessions in an old baby carriage.

I know a guy who sells Hondas and one night he took advantage of my bent elbow. He said he'd be over to my house that weekend to give me a ride on a 747 or whatever 2-wheeled monster he was pushing at the moment. I nodded in agreement because he was buying. The next morning, when I realized what I'd done, I jumped out of bed and left town for 3 weeks.

A 60-year-old friend recently told me how he had his Honda going 90 mph on the freeway the day before. His nose was still touching both his ears and his teeth were bent in.

"You own a 1971 Cadillac with air conditioning and a roof. Why would you want to ride a motorcycle?" I asked him. "If God had wanted man to ride motorcycles he would have given them leather fannies."

"It is exciting," my friend explained. "I like the wind in my face and I like the feeling of risk."

"You can get the same feeling by sticking your nose too close to an electric fan," I said.

I have a 50-year-old Honda-friend who likes to hit the road and the trails at 5 o'clock every morning. He hits them often because he enjoys skidding and slipping and bumping on the roughest terrain he can find. You can track him the same way you'd track Hansel and Gretel except his crumbs are skin.

"You could kill yourself," I told him. "Motorcycling is for young men with nothing to live for. You're old enough to smell the joys of retirement but you could blow the whole thing on that bike. It will be the first time I've been a pallbearer for a man dressed in a black leather jacket with 25 zippers."

"The trouble with you is you have no sense of adventure," my friend snorted, kicking sand in my face. We weren't at the beach but this guy has carried his own sand in an autographed Charles Atlas bag for 35 years.

He is right. My idea of adventure is to sit with my family and pretend to read the newspaper while I am actually watching Raquel Welch on TV. Happily, I can enjoy this type of risk despite the certain knowledge that Raquel would pick a motorcyclist over me every time. There is something to be said about being over the hill and I just said it.

There's a little boy inside me, too. But I only let him out to shoot pool. And if he ever suggests that the Honda shop will cash my Social Security check, I will drown him in Geritol.

Letters to the editor

I am curious hot

Dear Editor

I am one of the property owners and taxpayers who is guilty of being lax in attending township functions. I try to keep abreast by reading the papers.

I am curious, as many may be, regarding the new township government officials and employees. What capacity does the lady, who writes frequently under the name of Marie Brendle, hold? Is she a paid advisor to the Board or some of the Board, or is she the head of the Democratic Party?

I was told she does not work on the staff at the Township Hall. No one I know seems to know her position or where she gets her information.

So as a taxpayer, I was just wondering her source of information so I may read the township government news with an open mind.

I do not wish my name be used as I do not want to get involved in politics. I just get curious.

Golf course zoning case year away

It will likely be 6 months to a year before the zoning question on Waterford Hill Country Club gets action in court.

It has been assigned to Circuit Court Judge James Thorborn, and it takes that long to get attention according to James G. Hartwick, attorney for the golf course owners and William Gershenson, proposed developers of a shopping center on the course.

Hartwick filed the suit June 14 and the township has 20 days to file an answer. Then time has to be allowed for pre-trial activity before the actual trial begins.

In their suit, the golf course and Gershenson charge that the referendum voted on May 11 was illegal because it had "no reasonable relationship to public health, safety or welfare."

They also claim that neighboring property is zoned multiple, which is the same zoning requested for part of the 66 acre golf course.

Residents on Waterford Hill and those near the golf course petitioned for the referendum. They claimed shopping center traffic would create a problem, there would be pollution from water running off the parking lot and the discount character of one of the stores was not in the best interest of the community.

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP BOARD MEETING June 15, 1971

SYNOPSIS

Final Plat approval was given to Pine Knob North Subdivision No. 2, located at the northeast corner of Pine Knob and Clarkston Road, the 2nd segment of an original 56 lot development.

The Board approved of an application to transfer and upgrade a resort Class C Liquor License from Spring Lake Golf Club, Inc. to Spring Lake Country Club of Clarkston, Inc. to a full year license. The Club is located on Maybee Road between US 10 and Sashabaw Road.

Also approved was 1971-72 fiscal budget of the Township Fire Department. An approximately $85,000 budget calls for equipment and maintenance increases, capital purchase of a new fire truck as well as normal operating expenses. Salaries of the department officers (7) were increases in total, approximately $2100.

The Board is seeking reimbursement from the County D.P.W. of $44,000 used by the Township in preliminary design of the Sanitary Sewer program.

A 90 day suspension of building permits in the Woodhull Lake Subdivision area was approved by the Board.

Automated Valuation Service, an appraisal firm who offers property reassessment programs, was invited to make a presentation to the Board.

The Board also approved additional help at the Township Library and requested the Planning Commission to review the land use classification of the once proposed Mobile Homesite (Singer-Kaplan) south of I-75 on the east side of Clintonville Road.

Red Cross warns against tornadoes

As spring and warm weather approach the southeastern Michigan area so does the possibility of a tornado, said Kenneth A. Barnes, director of disaster service for the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, American Red Cross.

Tornadoes happen most frequently in the midwestern, southern and central states from March through September, he explained.

According to the Commerce Department's National Weather Service, since 1950 tornadoes in Michigan have occurred most frequently in April and May. They are less frequent in July and August.

Barnes said, tornadoes may occur at any hour, but statistics show most have occurred between the hours of 4-9 p.m. In nearly all cases they move southwest to northeast at estimated average speeds of up to approximately 40 miles per hour.

"In April, 1965 a series of tornadoes roared across 16 counties in southern lower Michigan. When the debris had settled, 53 persons were dead, hundreds were injured and many homes and buildings were destroyed."

Barnes said if conditions are favorable for the formation of a tornado the weather service will issue a tornado "watch." If a tornado has been sighted, visually or by radar, a tornado "warning" will be released.

The American Red Cross offers a number of steps you can take to provide protection for yourself and family in case a tornado hits your town.

If you are at home when a funnel cloud threatens your neighborhood, take shelter in the southwest corner of the basement or under a heavy table or workbench near the center of the house. Keep several windows open on the side of the house away from the wind to help equalize atmospheric pressure inside and outside.

If you are in a school, office or industrial building of substantial construction, seek shelter in lower interior floors away from the windows. Usually, the area designated as a Civil Defense shelter is safest.

If you are in the open when a tornado is sighted, seek refuge in a building of reinforced construction; if a sturdy structure is not handy, lie flat in a ravine or a ditch.

Mobile home dwellers and people in rural areas should seek refuge in a solidly built building, storm cellar or as a last resort, a ditch or ravine.

If you are driving in an open area and sight a tornado, turn off at a right angle to the storm's direction.

Citizens angered, visit council over parking lot goings on Village residents crowded the Council chambers Tuesday night, there to protest goings on in the downtown parking lot.

Complaints of rowdiness, drug pushing, yelling, swimming, breaking bottles and even breaking small ducks' legs was voiced to the council members.

There were further complaints of young parking lot loungers using the neighboring creek and woods for relieving themselves.

Businessmen said that women "are not coming into stores to shop after 3 p.m." They blame this on the parking lot permissiveness as well as rowdiness in general downtown.

Good news for canoe fans is the availability of a revised set of canoeing maps put out by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. They are free to those who write the Authority at 600 Woodward Avenue in Detroit, 48226 or phone 961-5865.

The owner of the antique shop along side the lot said he was hesitant to open, that he had been broken into several times and now had boarded the place up.

The group, as a whole, gave the Clarkston Police Dept. a clean bill of health for doing all they could with present ordinances. They also said they have seen the police working around the Mill Pond and lot.

After listening to public comments, president Donald Cooper stated that the Council and police dept. were going to have a meeting on the problem.

After the citizens left, the Clarkston News reporter was also asked to leave.

SEED GROWING SECRETLY

"The kingdom . . . is as if a man should scatter seed upon the ground, and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should sprout and grow, he knows not how."

Mark 4:26-27

The other day a brother and sister whom I hadn't seen for a couple of years showed up in church and I was startled at how they had grown and changed. They are still pre-adolescent so it wasn't so much the blossoming of puberty as just the growing up of little kids into big kids.

This brings to mind the mini-parable in Mark's Gospel of the seed thrown out casually and forgotten, but which grows and sprouts and surprises the sower.

This phenomenon in practical daily life is a tricky thing. At best it is like a good teacher throwing out a phrase to explain something he greatly believes in and it sticks in the thinking of a student to come back years later having blossomed into some surprising result in the student's life. At worst a cynical, down moment for a leader might be caught by a follower and bring correspondingly disillusioning results.

Life moves on and we throw out seed for good or ill. They may sprout and grow to come back and haunt us or they may propagate a bit of real life. The percentages then should impel us to take care what seeds we throw casually over our shoulders. This old earth is built to nourish and mature growing things into fruit. It may surprise us but we have it to count on as a part of our inheritance in an often disinherit kind of time.

Guess Who?

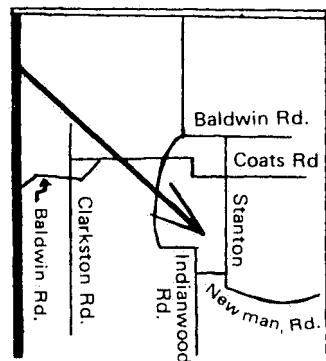

Sorry if the picture last week was a little dark. No — it wasn't a boy with a mod hair cut. It was a 1926 graduate of Howell High School. Mrs. Marion Terry attended the 45th reunion of her class last week. You have just one more chance. Guess who this week's graduate is and tally your score. Final answer next week.

Couple honeymoon in Northern Michigan

Audrienne Wanke became the bride of Dale E. Karbgensky on June 19 when they exchanged vows before Rev. E. Dale Evanson at the St. Stephens Lutheran Church in Drayton Plains.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white silk crepe trimmed with lace rose appliques, pearls and sequins. The lace trim was repeated on her tulle veil.

Geraldine Luvchue of Utica was the maid of honor and wore a gown of blue chiffon.

Gowned in a rainbow of daisy-embossed material were the bridesmaids, Paula West, Barbara Stimson, Angela Hyndman and Joan Froling.

Kimberly Stimson was the flowergirl. The groom's brother, Darrell Karbgensky stood as best man.

Another brother, John Karbgensky and the bride's brother, William Wanke were the ushers.

After a reception at the Gingelville Hall the couple left for northern Michigan for a wedding trip. When they return they will make their home in Waterford.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Wanke of Norman Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Karbgensky of Waterford.

Kutting Korner

There's pure country-kitchen inspiration in this recipe for Tomato-Topped Chops. Juicy pork chops are breaded with a combination of pancake mix, garlic salt and oregano. (Flavorful pancake mix also makes a good coating for chicken or fish.)

Transferred to a baking dish and covered with onions and tomato sauce, the chops are baked 'til tender. It's a recipe sure to enhance your culinary reputation; there'll be calls for seconds and praise for the cook!

TOMATO-TOPPED CHOPS

Makes 4 servings

1/4 cup pancake mix

1 tablespoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon oregano
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon water
8 lean pork chops, 3/4-inch thick
2 medium onions, sliced 1/4-inch thick
Two 8-oz. cans tomato sauce

Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees F.). Place pancake mix, garlic salt and oregano in paper bag; shake to combine. Combine egg and water. Dip pork chops in egg wash, then shake, one at a time, in bag.

Brown pork chops in large skillet in hot shortening. Transfer to glass baking dish; top with onions and tomato sauce. Cover and bake in preheated oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour or until tender.

Taste one, you'll keep on munching. They are so full of crunchy goodness you won't be able to stop.

Make up several batches of these quick drop cookies in the cool of the morning (the kids can help) to serve with frosty lemonade or milk. They're perfect with fruit for an easy dessert.

RAISIN MUNCHING COOKIES

1/2 cup butter or shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup toasted wheat germ
2/3 cup California seedless raisins
1/2 cup butterscotch chips

Blend together butter, sugar, egg and vanilla. Add flour resifted with baking powder and salt. Mix well. Stir in wheat germ, raisins and butterscotch chips. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto lightly greased baking sheets, about 2 inches apart. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes, until browned. Let stand a minute, then remove to racks to cool. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

What happens when you have two brides wearing Juliet caps, gowns trimmed in lace, dark hair and you forget to put the name on the back of their pictures? You guessed it, the wrong name goes under the bridal pictures. We are very sorry and hope Mrs. Robert Heath and Mrs. Daniel B. Williams will except our apologies.

Walters Lake boating hearing set July 1

Walters Lake residents, and anyone interested in boating on lakes, have been informed of a public hearing being called by the Department of Natural Resources.

The hearing concerns boating problems on the lake. Supervisor Gary Stonerock said the DNR would take both voice and written comments.

Time of the hearing is 1 p.m. and the date is July 1. The meeting will be in the Township Hall.

The Jaycee's community bulletins board announces the recent bottle collection. Mistakenly, some residents interpret the announcement to mean that the Village parking lot is a drop-off center. The Bottles for Building Committee emphasizes that the closest drop-off spot is at the Township parking lot.

Backache

Backache is now one of America's most common physical complaints and "the membership of the Aching Back Club runs into the millions," according to the Journal of American Insurance.

They suggest four major reasons for back pain:

- Injury—About 400,000 workers suffer disabling back injury each year, and this number is increasing. A large number occur while objects are being lifted or handled improperly. Any part of the back—the spine, the muscles or ligaments—may be hurt and treatment depends on the area and nature of the injury.

- Abnormal spines—Some people are born with spinal defects so minor as to escape detection, but which can cause trouble when the body is exposed to extra strain. Studies suggest one American in four has a spine that is abnormal in some way.

- Posture—The continuous standing or sitting posture can damage the spine by stretching the ligaments and tiring the muscles. Excess weight, pregnancy and high heels can cause poor posture, and so can standing for long in one position.

- Aging—As we grow older, our joints and ligaments aren't as resilient as they once were, and our muscles can be weakened by too little use. The problem may be helped by more frequent rest in a firm bed, the use of belts or other back supports (though you don't want to become dependent on these), massage and heat.

Since there are so many varieties and causes of back pain, it's something that demands careful diagnosis by your doctor and your careful following of his instructions.

Armchair travels

Tangiers

By Jean Sura

Our party strolls through the Casbah, (native quarter) in the City of Tangiers, Africa.

The skiing portion of our snow and sun vacation in Spain was ended. Next, our program called for a 3 day stay in Torremelanos on the Mediterranean. We chose to make a flying, one day trip to Africa during this time.

Busses took us to the airport at Malaga early in the morning for the twenty minute flight to Tangiers. The plane flew over the Rock of Gibraltar which didn't look the least bit like the picture on the Prudential ads but rather like a large island.

Tangiers, a seaport of Morocco, is a city on a bay or inlet of the Straits of Gibraltar. Its population is comparable to Flint or Lansing.

It is an international territory, dissociated from the neighboring French and Spanish Morocco.

Tangiers was taken by the Portuguese in 1471, and given to Charles II of England as dowry with Catherine of Braganza, but abandoned to the Moors by the English, in 1684, when it became a pirate haunt. It was temporarily internationalized in 1911-12. A protocol signed by Great Britain, France, and Spain in 1925 provided for permanent security. But in 1929 Spain was given police control, and an international legislative body to exercise ruling power was established. Spain had full control from 1940 to 1945, when international control was resumed.

Our bus from the airport took us to a site where we could view both the Atlantic Ocean and Mediterranean Sea. The Baron C. Munchausen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Munchausen, 8790 Ortonville Road, has been promoted to cadet lieutenant and Athletic Officer of Company C at Culver Military Academy. As Athletic Officer for 1971-72, Munchausen will be responsible for keeping the 64 cadets in the company informed of intramural and varsity athletic schedules and will be in charge of all company athletic equipment.

Promoted

Graduates

Cecil J. Sherwood, of Crosby Lake Rd. was awarded a Bachelor of Science Degree in recent graduation exercises at horse, mule and camel are much in evidence as beasts of burden and we were sharply aware of the primitive means of both farming and construction.

The casbah, or native quarter, was reminiscent of an old Sidney Greenstreet movie featuring spies and smugglers. The smells, congestion of narrow passageways, sounds of vendors hawking their wares and natives, dressed in flowing robes took us back in antiquity.

This aura of danger was encouraged by our guide's repeated requests that our party stay close together and guard our purses and purchases closely.

This was all in sharp contrast to the wily art of barter that is plied by boys and young men, to attract the tourist trade.

At a brief stop for refreshments a native band and dancer performed. At another point in our excursion a snake charmer caught our eye. Of course after each performance we were given the opportunity to contribute coins.

After eating lunch at a modern hotel we were allowed some time to explore the city. Our choice during this time was to sit on a bench in the middle of the city and watch the passing crowd.

Strange to our eyes, yet common, were the burnouses or hooded cloaks, worn by the Arabs. Many of the women wore veils to hide their faces.

One interesting encounter was with an American who came up and introduced himself to us. He was living there in Tangiers, teaching English.

Another rewarding experience was our conversation with Abdul, an intelligent, philosophic, 15 year-old Arab boy and his smiling, hunchback friend.

The flight back to Malaga got us back to our modern hotel in time to dress for dinner.

Next week: The sunny Spanish Riviera.

TROOP 126

By Mike Smart, scribe

On June 7 Troop 126 had an Eagle Court of Honor for John Whitmer. There were presentations for all ranks from Tenderfoot to Bronze Eagle Palm. Included were about 10 merit badges.

On the weekend of June 12, 5 boys from Troop 126 who were elected by fellow scouts in their own troop attended the Order of the Arrow Conclave. The 5 boys were Mike Smart, Terry Johnson, Dan Preibe, Rick Miller and Tom Jones.

The boys who attended the conclave had to spend one night in the woods with only a sleeping bag, a ground cloth, a rain coat, two matches to build a fire, and a jack-knife to carve an arrowhead. The next day the Scouts spent doing hard labor to prove their manhood.

For the birds

by Jean Sura

The balance of nature is a crazy thing. Necessary? Probably, but hard to watch at close range. I tried to do a little rearranging last week when I had our yard sprayed to kill the mosquitos and spiders.

"What is the sign doing on the front door?" asked my husband a couple of weeks ago. "Why do I have to use the garage door to come into my own home?"

"It's for the birds," I answered. "You bet it's for the birds! What's going on now?" he growled.

"The robins have built a nest in that little tree next to the front door, right outside the powder-room window, just like they did a couple of years ago. Remember?"

"Remember, how could I forget? First of all we have to tiptoe around until the eggs were laid and then when they hatched you barricaded the door so we had to go all the way around the house to get in. Then, as though that wasn't enough, you cried for two days when the crow's robbed the nest. "Do I remember? I remember your moaning and wailing until our son borrowed a gun and shot the crows. But two wasn't enough for you. If you had your way he would have had to decimate the whole crow population."

"The best thing to do when you see a robin eyeing that tree is to go out and shake it so the poor jerks will find another place for their nest."

"Well, it's too late now. I can see at least two eggs already."

"Here we go again," he said. "Just don't break your neck falling off the 'john' when you climb up to pry into their business. And don't let me catch you throwing rocks at cats or crows. They have to live too you know. It's all a part of the balance of nature."

That was the way it went. Each day I climbed up to my perch and checked the progress. But then the rains came and hatched a swarm of mosquitos with stingers about six inches long. Our yard was no fit place for grandchildren to play. They ran the risk of being chewed alive. Taking the garbage out was an act of courage.

I decided to control the balance and protect my young, prevent them from being victims of the law.

I was conscientious about the contents of the spray that was to be used. The man assured me it wouldn't hurt pets, people or birds.

He gave us a good shot of spray. Spiders, mosquitos, flies all succumbed to his fog.

"Oh, my gosh," I yelled. "Watch out for my baby birds. Don't hit that tree."

It was too late! They had taken a full blast in the nest. Mom and dad Robin abdicated in a flurry. Those little kids just sat there panting for air. Then they shook their heads and teetered around the nest like drunken sailors.

It must have been a shot of instant adulthood. The next day they took off into the world.

"Good," said my husband. "Now take that silly sign off the front door. That trip through the garage is for the birds. If you have anything to do with it the meek WILL inherit the earth."
