Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Have you bought your grave yet? I haven't either, but if you'll accept the pun... I have 8 laid away.

It's hard to beat the price being offered right now by Oxford Township at their cemetery. $50 a lot. I didn't know that was a good price until I checked other offers, however.

I figured fifty bucks for a 3 ft x 8 ft piece of land was quite a bit by the acre.

Anyway, I learned you can pay $500 for a lot. I don't really understand why anyone would want to pay more than the minimum. If you believe in some religions when you're dead you're dead... you don't have to worry about the hereafter.

And, if you believe in some other religions, you won't be staying there long anyway, so why go first class. Of course, I'm the cheapest kind of conservative.

Howsoever, during the cemetery tour I learned that now is a good time to go, too. At the Oxford cemetery a grave can be opened and closed for just $75.

It'll cost my heirs $225 in other burial grounds. I can save even more, one funeral director told me, by walking in and lying down in place.

Popular terms come and go. Right now nearly everybody likes to talk about his "hangups." One of our pressmen has a hangup about anybody demanding his attention when he's in the middle of a complicated big run.

Our proofreader has a hangup about not being allowed to check headlines. I have a hangup about people who bumble around, charging here and there like a wounded water buffalo.

Maybe it's because I'm fundamentally a slow mover, but I like to think that I'm reasonably cautious and deliberate. Sometimes I rush into something and when I do I wind up with my left foot in my right hip pocket.

Let others dash and charge and spin their wheels. Let 'em write scintillating copy about one subject while they're holding on the phone about something else and maybe also waving hello at the same time.

Let 'em show off how nimble and quick they are and I'll just stand by ready to patch up some of the silly mistakes made because there wasn't enough time to do it right.

You've heard about those who never have time to do things right but always have time to do it over.

If I ever have to have brain surgery, or heart transplant, I'm going to tell the surgeon, "You

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic
for which it stands,
one Nation under God,
indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The original author of the pledge was Francis Bellamy, who was born at Mount Morris, New York, May 18, 1855, died August 28, 1931. He was ordained in 1879 at the Baptist Church in Little Falls, New York. The pledge he wrote was first used at the dedication of the World's Fair Grounds in Chicago on October 21, 1892, the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America, and has been recited from that day to this, with some changes, by school children throughout our land. Reverend Bellamy's original wording was altered slightly by the First and Second National Flag Conferences in 1923 and 1924 and his work was officially designated as the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag by Public Law 287, Seventy-ninth Congress, approved December 28, 1945. On June 14, 1954, Flag Day, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed into law House Joint Resolution 243, introduced by Representative Louis C. Rabaut of Michigan, which added to the Pledge of Allegiance the compelling and meaningful words "under God."

Independence Day, 1971

The Fourth of July will mark the 195th anniversary of the founding of our nation. As we celebrate this historic date, our nation is faced with its greatest challenge; a burgeoning population, restless youth impatient for fulfillment of our nation's ideals, demands for greater civil rights, and the sapping of our country's moral strength through increased crime, drug abuse and poverty.

Communities throughout the nation are declaring this Independence Day, July 4th, as "Honor America Day" in an effort to encourage an expression of appreciation for the blessings and greatness of our country.

We join them in the hope that this activity will be recognized as an effort to unite Americans at a time when our patriotism and respect for the nation's purposes should be encouraged by all responsible citizens.

Terry sells grand noise

By Jim Fitzgerald

I cannot tell a lie. The most god-awful noise I ever heard is created on purpose by the Grand Funk Railroad. That's the rock group managed by Terry Knight, the only millionaire who has ever been inside my humble home.

Terry sends me all the Grand Funk albums. I probably shouldn't knock them. Terry recently bought new uniforms for the school band in his old hometown. Some day he may want to do something similarly nice for the faithful, ink-stained old editor of his hometown newspaper. I could use a pair of pants without those lousy ink stains, for instance. To heck with tradition. So it's dumb for me to say the Grand Funk sounds like the switchman fell asleep and there was a head-on crash with 15 miles of track ripped up and no survivors.

But I can't help it.
And it's not that I'm strictly an old fogey, wed forever to Glen Miller and Tuxedo Junction. I've been a Beatle fan from the first and I've been excited by several of those weirdly named groups, such as Blood, Sweat and Tears. With Neil Diamond around, who cares if Frank Sinatra hangs it up for good?

But the Grand Funkers do nothing for me except make my ears cringe.

I offer this opinion not as a jealous rap at Terry. I'm proud of his success. When the Wall Street Journal, on the front page, called Terry a millionaire, I was happy for him. In fact, I immediately sent him a letter of congratulations (enclosing a photo of my ink-stained pants).

Actually, it appears that no one likes Grand Funk — except

A time to think

Editorial from the Clear Lake, Wisc., Star: "You are now reading what Webster defines as a newspaper article and explicitly stating opinions held by the editor or publisher — an editorial.

"We do not claim to have all the answers on all subjects but as most free thinking Americans, we do have ideas and opinions on many of the happenings around us . . . It is our opinion that editorials should not only advocate express ideas, they should prod people into thinking and structuring their own thoughts.

"We have accomplished one of our purposes if readers, after digesting our comments, say, 'That clown is all wet . . . here's the way it should be' . . .

"You may agree or disagree with the ideas presented. The important thing to us is, you did read it and your thinking may have been 'turned on'."

We understand that the Township board has an option on the old school building on North Main St. This building could be used for a combined Village Hall, Township Hall, Fire department, and Community Building.

This will be the first peace time Fourth of July in Clarkston since 1941.

them, any more than you could ignore World War 3 going on inside your skull.

Knight says he sells Grand Funk "like toothpaste." He knows it pays to advertise. More important, he "orchestrates" his 3 Funkers right down to the last lingering yowl. All that jumping and yipping and moaning and grimacing doesn't just happen naturally. Terry knows that's what the kids want and he makes certain they get it. Grand Funk rehearsals must be like practicing to have a tooth pulled.

His ex-fans hung Mussolini. Certainly, such a thing could never happen to Grand Funk. But if it did, Terry could always sell tickets and position his amplifiers strategically so as to pick up the last noises made by his boys.

It would probably sound like just another Grand Funk concert.

the kids who overflow their concerts and buy their records by the millions. Disc jockeys never play Grand Funk. They're never on TV. Music critics agree unanimously that their music is "hideous" and "atrocious." Even Terry admits his 3 Funkers are not overloaded with talent.

Which naturally brings up the fascinating question: If they're so lousy, why are they so popular? The New York Times critic had a smart-aleck answer: "Mussolini was popular too."

But the real answer is much more interesting. The Funkers are rich because they are twice as loud and because Terry Knight is twice as shrewd.

Most groups use 2,000 watt amplifiers. Grand Funk uses 4,000 watts. They are so loud and frenzied you can't understand most of the words. But you sure as heck can't ignore

Church breaks ground for new ed building

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the education unit of Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church were held Sunday, June 27, at 1:30 p.m.

The new building will include classroom spaces, offices, kitchen and a multi-purpose room to be used both for worship and fellowship activities.

Elder Loren Rumsey of 5248 Sashabaw is Chairman of the Planning Committee which prepared for the building. The Architect is Merritt, Cole & McCallum of Farmington. Kerner Construction, Inc. of Utica is the general contractor and the firm is already at work putting in the footings for the foundation. Completion is hoped for in February, 1972.

Speaker for the ceremonies was the Reverend Francis R. Nagy, Jr., Associate for Church Development of the Synod of Michigan who has worked with the Planning Commission on the planning and financing arrangements.

Also bringing greetings was the Reverend Frank A. Cozadd, President of the Independence Township Pastors.

Following the ceremonies the congregation and visiting friends went to the lawn of the present historic church building for a cookout meal and games.

The still, chilliness of winter at Deer Lake Beach was dispelled during last weeks' heat wave as swimmers and sunbathers frolicked in the sand and water to get relief from the torrid sun. The beach is operated by the Independence Township Recreation Program.

ESCAPE

"How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation!"

Heb. 2:3a

On a day when summer has caught up with us and it is a hundred degrees in the shade, we might feel there is no escape from the heat. Everywhere people seem to be sweltering and desperately trying to devise ways to escape. But then if we can enter an air-conditioned office or theater or even a car, we know there is at least temporary escape. Man has licked this problem, at least affluent man has.

Or this may be the season when we wish we could escape from the routine of the job. We would like to get away from it all. This feeling intensifies if we have a vacation period coming. This escape, too, is possible sometimes.

We flee, to a new setting or to a beach or to a favorite fishing site. Cares do sometimes melt away and we return refreshed in due time.

But if what we are trying to escape is ourselves, we can't remedy that by running away. What we need here is a new person on the inside rather than a new exotic setting on the outside.

For if we are breaking the laws of the Maker in regard to our persons, there is no escape short of following the Manufacturer's instructions for inner change. These directions say you have to love instead of hate; you have to live in trust rather than be turned in away from people by suspicion.

The only escape is to take the disgust and terror out of that inward climate we live in.

Meadow Brook Rock-folk concerts

In response to the popularity of last season's folk and rock music concerts at the Meadow Brook Music Festival, Sandor Kallai, General Manager, announced today a new 6-concert rock-folk Wednesday evening series for the Festival's 1971 season.

The series opens Wednesday, June 30, with legendary blues singer B.B. King.

B.B. King will be joined on the June 30 program by the popular gospel singing group, The Patterson Singers.

Youthful folk-rock hero John Sebastian will be featured in the Wednesday, July 7 concert. He was the founder of the Lovin' Spoonful and has now organized a new band that will accompany him at his Meadow Brook appearance.

On Wednesday, July 14, the dynamic young rock group called Poco will appear at the Baldwin Pavilion.

Perhaps the leading folk singer of her generation and one of the founders of the current folk-rock renaissance, Judy Collins will star in the July 21 concert.

On Wednesday, July 28, the Saginaw-born former child prodigy, Stevie Wonder will perform at Meadow Brook. Stevie, born blind, became one of the music world's biggest names at the age of seven with a series of hit recordings featuring his amazing harmonica playing and feel for jazz-rock singing.

The series will close on Wednesday, August 4, with a concert by famed jazz-rock flutist Herbie Mann and his new rock group, Air.

Tickets for the rock-folk series will be $3.50 for all seats, pavilion and lawn. All seating will be unreserved and season tickets are not available. For ticket information call 377-2000 or (toll-free from Detroit) 962-0353.

Drivers cautioned

The average person has little choice but to drive during the peak traffic periods over the July 4th weekend. Those who can avoid doing so should plan on leaving home Thursday for the best selection of camping and recreation space and return either early Monday or Tuesday.

Last Fourth of July weekend, 27 persons were killed during the 78-hour period. Records show that alcohol played a major role in these deaths.

Statistics indicate that if the motorist just avoids alcohol this holiday, deaths could be cut 50 per cent.

Over Memorial Day this year, 15 persons died, nine below the same holiday in 1970.

You were complaining about this just 4 months ago.

It was so hot . . .

By Jim Sherman
If I hear "Is it warm enough for ya?" one more time . . .

The only thing I know of that gave a hope of relief from the heat was in knowing that the longest day of the year is past and now each day is a minute shorter.

You could get a different temperature from everybody with a thermometer this week. 99 degrees, 104 degrees, 110 in the sun. Officially, no one knew; unofficially, everyone knew . . . it was too darn hot!

Over the weekend lawns died. Dogs ceased playing. Children collapsed. Tempers grew short, then stopped entirely.

The motorcyclists and convertible lovers took to the roads to feel the breezes. Motorists took to the roads to escape the heat, but many just found more heat, and added frustration.

It was so hot the skinny people suffered as much as we heavier folk.

It was so hot some hippie-types put their sandals back on.

It was so hot the Bickersons quit arguing.

I saw a sweat fly sweating.

Nobody remembers the snow storm that came in early December and left 12 inches of that cold, white stuff piled up until the last of March.

What we do remember is that it was too hot to sleep Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights.

The weather man says relief is coming. This is the same guy who didn't predict the 12 inches of snow in December.

Busy weekend for Jaycees

The Clarkston Area Jaycees and their wives attended the Tiger baseball game and a picnic over the weekend.

They boarded a bus at the village parking lot on Saturday and were driven to Tiger Stadium to see the Tigers defeat the Cleveland Indians. The wives of co-chairmen, Ron Crites and King Robinson provided a lunch on the bus.

The annual family picnic was held at Groveland Oaks on Sunday. Chairman, Lou Jaenichen and his wife served chilled watermelon as a surprise after the pot-luck lunch.

Sandy Freel, Jaycette Assistant Chairman, provided a rounded program of games and events for the entire family.

According to Garth Gordon, Internal Vice President, "Everyone seemed to enjoyed the reprieve and beat the heat by swimming and relaxing in the shade."

Prescriptions

Each year, American pharmacists compound more than 35 million prescriptions. Seven out of 10 medications prescribed today weren't even known in 1950.

That's one reason a druggist today may stock as many as 10,000 different drugs. He must also keep abreast of new medications, knowing which ones don't go together and which ones can be misused or abused.

In filling your prescription, we must check (or know) the chemical reaction of the drug in the body, its possible side effects, and when it should or shouldn't be used. Even if your doctor prescribes pills or tablets that come from a drug manufacturer, it's still necessary to check and re-check many aspects before the drug is passed across the counter.

All of this means that pharmacists have moved into an important spot in the community health team's line-up. A recent survey revealed that when people were asked whom they turn to as a source of health information, 82% mentioned their druggist—second only to their doctor.

This is quite a responsibility for all of us "behind the counter," but it's also a challenge that is drawing excellent men into the profession.

World War 1

Vets meet

The Clinton Valley Barracks 2803 and their Auxiliary held their regular co-op dinner meeting last month at the Davisburg Town Hall. Thirteen members and 1 guest attended.

It was announced that 2 cars, filled with Veterans and their Auxiliary members, took part in the parade in Davisburg on the 125th anniversary of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Lucile Gries and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rioux reported on their attendance at the annual Department Convention. The group will convene in Lansing in June of next year.

There was a discussion of the need to establish Commissaries in the Pontiac area where members could purchase their groceries at a reduced price.

Regular meetings will be suspended for the summer months and replaced by picnics, the first to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rioux on Davisburg Rd. on July 10.

The new officers were installed by Mrs. Eva Boice, Installing Officer.

World War I veterans and their wives or widows are encouraged to join the group.

Armchair travels

By Jean Sura

Our short stay in Tormolenos consisted of bright sun filled days for strolling along palm shaded walks and beaches; rushing through shops for the inevitable souvenirs; touring bull rings, lolling by the hotel pool and sipping chilled fruited wine, Sangria. It was evenings for dining late and dancing.

It was relaxing with good company. But as all good things must end—the time came for us to start the chore of packing. Suitcases that had seemed adequate when we started out now bulged.

Straw baskets and hampers overflowing with what we called "El Junko" appeared amid the hand luggage.

Understanding personnel on our flight packed us in securely. The fasten your seat belt and no smoking signs came on. We were off for home.

Our arrival at Metropolitan Airport around midnight and subsequent trip through customs and home ended our vacation at 3 a.m.

DeMolay observes Parents Day

Cedar Chapter, Order of DeMolay observed Parents Day on Wednesday, by sponsoring a potluck dinner at the Clarkston Masonic Temple.

Following the dinner a Majority Degree was conferred upon four members of Cedar Chapter: Lloyd Agar, Michael Cooper, Patrick Glaspie and Jack Sansom. These members have reached the age of 21 and are no longer able to take an active part in the work of the Order.

Afterwards, the Cross of Honor was invested on Kenneth Thomas, a Cedar Chapter advisor. The Cross of Honor is the highest honor the Supreme Council can bestow upon an advisor.

Mr. Thomas had no previous knowledge that the Cross of Honor would be conferred upon him that night.

Edward Raper, District Governor of District 10 was on hand to grant the award. After the ceremonies were completed, it was announced that Doug Kath had been elected by the members of Cedar Chapter to serve them as their State Representative for the coming term.

The Chapter's next meeting will be July 7, at which time the Mothers Club will also meet.

MINUTES OF SPECIAL MEETING

Village Council
Village of Clarkston
June 25, 1971

Meeting called to order by President Cooper.

Roll: Basinger, Hagen, Tower, Jones, Irwin, Johnston—Present.

Also present was Village Attorney, Jack Banycky.

Proposed Ordinance No. 64, "Disorderly Persons" ordinance, was read by the clerk. Afterwards there was a discussion by the Council and also with several members of the audience on various portions of this ordinance.

The general discussion with the audience led to the question of the Village Parking lot and complaints that had been received regarding conduct in the parking lot. Many of the young people in the audience felt that the Village Council should take action on locating an area in which young people could congregate without violating Village ordinances.

President Cooper agreed to arrange for a meeting with the Village Council and the Township of Independence Board in order to determine what joint actions may be available in this area.

After considerable discussion regarding the proposed ordinance, it was moved by Jones, "That Ordinance No. 64 as read be adopted with the changes suggested." Seconded by Johnston. Roll: Tower, yea; Basinger, abstain, Johnston, yea; Hagen, nay; Irwin, nay; Jones, yea. President Cooper voted yea in order to make passage of Ordinance No. 64 affirmative.

Trustee Hagen announced that if this ordinance was passed, his resignation from the Council would be effective on the effective date of the ordinance as he felt that the Council had not had sufficient time to study proposed Ordinance No. 64.

Trustee Tower moved, "That a reconsideration vote be taken due to the narrow margin of the vote cast towards passage of proposed Ordinance No. 64 and that this matter be tabled for one week and be considered at a Special Meeting of the Council." Seconded by Irwin. Roll: Tower, yea; Basinger, yea; Johnston, yea; Hagen, yea; Irwin, yea; Jones, yea. Yeas 6, Nays 0. Motion carried.

President Cooper announced that there would be a Special Meeting held at 7 p.m. on Thursday, July 1 at the Village Hall for the purpose of considering Ordinance No. 64.

Meeting called adjourned by President Cooper.

Letters to the editor Pencils aweigh

Dear Fitz,

I am so glad to see you have taken that pencil away from your ear. I was afraid you would forget and go to bed with it there.

If you had gone to sleep and forgotten to remove the pencil and rolled on it — who knows? It might have punctured your brain. Had it damaged your brain you might lose your sense of humor. If so you no longer would have a job. In that case your children would have to continue eating peanut butter sandwiches until they were old enough to get jobs for themselves. Then your wife could never stay home but would have to babysit all day for other babies instead of her own grandchild as she wouldn't get paid for her own.

So instead of two and a half days away from home she would be away all week. Congratulations the pencil is gone!

water weeds?
You can kill them fast.

If you own a pond or lake-front and are tired of having water weeds and algae reduce the value of your property, Pennwalt and your local dealer can help you.

Pennwalt makes aquatic herbicides—Aquatol and Hydrothol — and they kill most water weeds and algae.

For less than the cost of a good rod and reel, you can rid an average size pond or lake-front area of water weeds that are spoiling your recreational plans.

Both Aquatol and Hydrothol are easy to apply and quick-acting. In less than two weeks you should be enjoying a weed-free lake or pond.

You should have fun in your water, not weeds.

Dean's list

The Dean's list for the second semester has been announced at Albion College. Students on the list are:

James K. Bell, junior, Park Lake Rd.
Curtis B. Mansfield, junior, Ohio Rd.
Kurt N. Mueller, junior, Shaw Appleton
Jody Hawke, senior, Hammett Rd.

To be eligible for this academic honor, a student must carry a full class schedule and earn a minimum grade point average of 3.3 (based on a 4.0 system).

Albion College is a liberal arts, coeducational institution founded in 1835 and located in south-central Michigan.

Playground news

While kicking-off the Summer '71 Program, the Recreation Department opened a new playground in the Woodhull Lake Area.

The children of this neighborhood now have a mowed baseball diamond, and a basketball court, which also hosts the weekly Arts and Crafts, 4-Square, and various other games.

This playground would not have been possible, if it were not for the work of several neighborhood adults and children who generously donated both time and equipment.

The three Recreation Department supervisors, Ruth Addis, Jim Klark, and Kurt Richardson, also deserve recognition for their clean-up details and their catalytic effect on the various activities.

Ruth is a junior at the University of Michigan. Kurt will enter Grand Valley State College this fall, and Jim will return to Clarkston as an active senior in many high school events.

These three people are at the playground from 8:30 a.m. to noon, weekdays. Last week they did everything from handing out Kool-aid to cleaning up a freshly-dog-bitten crayon.

But the activities do by no means stop when these three leave. Many responsible volunteers from the neighborhood continue to organize softball and other sports.

In the evenings, other residents have baked cookies for the children, as well as cut down the unnecessary tree branches.

A lot of work and energy goes into a successful playground, especially a playground that has just started. But the amount of work done by the children, supervisors, high school students, and parents, indicates the love and concern for a child's summer enjoyment.

Are you a little tired of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches? Had your fill of grilled cheese? For those of you that are, here are a few suggestions that will let you eat your sandwiches and have a little adventure and variety too.

Remember Dagwood and his towering concoctions of whatever was in the refrigerator? These ideas may stimulate your imagination and that is the only thing that will keep you from some fun eating this summer.

BROILED CASSEROLE SANDWICHES
4 dutch rusks
4 slices cooked ham or turkey
8 slices tomato
Cheese sauce
Paprika

Set oven control at broil and/or 550 degrees. Place rusks in 4 ungreased individual casseroles. Top each rusk with ham slice and 2 tomato slices. Pour cheese sauce over top and sprinkle with paprika. Broil 4 to 5 inches from heat for 3 minutes or until sauce is bubbly. Makes 4 sandwiches.

CHEESE SAUCE

1 cup cold milk
2 tablespoons instantized all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon horseradish
½ teaspoon worchestershire
1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese (4 oz.)

In saucepan, combine all ingredients except cheese. Heat to boiling over medium heat stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Stir in cheese. Heat over low heat, stirring constantly until cheese is melted. Makes about 1 and two-thirds cup.

How about a turnabout with French twist?

CRAB SANDWICH A LA FRANCAISE
1 can (7½ ounces) crab (or other seafood)
1 tablespoon minced green onion
¼ cup thinly sliced celery
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 package (3 ounce) cream cheese
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
12 slices day old bread
French dip batter

Drain crab and slice larger pieces. Combine crab, onion, celery, lemon juice, salt, softened cream cheese and mayonnaise. Mix well. Spread on six slices of bread and top with other slices. Dip both sides of each sandwich in the batter mixture. Bake on lightly greased grill or skillet. Serve hot. Makes six sandwiches.

FRENCH BATTER DIP

2 eggs
2/3 cup milk
Dash of salt
Beat ingredients together in a shallow dish.

Here is my favorite

SNAPPY CHEESE BUNS

2 cups shredded sharp cheddar cheese
12 slices bacon, crisply cooked and crumbled
1/3 cup chili sauce
¼ cup chopped water chestnuts
6 hamburger buns, split

Mix together cheese, bacon, chili sauce and water chestnuts. Spread mixture on bottom halves of hamburger buns. Broil 3 to 4 minutes, or until cheese bubbles. Cover with bun top, serve immediately.

Note: To freeze, wrap in aluminum foil and fasten with freezer tape. Label with filling and date. Freeze up to 2 weeks. To heat, remove sandwiches from freezer and place under broiler until cheese melts. Serve hot.

I had a ball

by Jean Sura

I was sure surprised when Mrs. JoAnne Carner won the U.S. Women's Golf championship last week. I didn't think she had a chance, being married. I wonder what kind of a golf ball her husband gave her to use in the tournament.

While she was playing her way to fame and fortune in Erie, Pennsylvania I was flailing my way to disgrace and oblivion in Port Huron, Michigan. My very special cousin, Carl and his equally special wife, Esther, invited my husband and me to play in the mixed invitational tournament at their club, Black River.

I had my lipstick, hannel, rainbonnet, extra sox, rain gear, wind breaker, lemon drops and water themos all stashed and was ready to go, feeling fine, until the starter called our names to take the tee.

With shaking hands I pulled a club out of my bag and reached in the pocket for a ball.

"You can't tee off with a putter," said my husband in exasperation. "Try your driver. What kind of a ball is that you're going to play?"

"I don't know," I said turning the ball in my hand. "There is a cut where the name is supposed to be."

"Come on now," he said, "that ball won't go five feet. There isn't any paint left on it. It isn't even round. You must have something better than that."

I dug deeper in the pocket of my bag and brought out three more balls.

"Those all look like rejects from a driving range or a shag bag. Good night!" he fumed. (He would have said something stronger if there hadn't been ladies and caddies present). "Here, take one of these." He tossed me a round, shining white ball.

"Oh, my gosh," I exploded. "I couldn't hit that."

"Why not?"

"There is a river over there. I might lose it. I'd be so busy watching that pretty little thing I could never keep my head down. Anyway, it looks expensive. I might put a cut in it. Just give me an old one of yours like you always do."

He stalked away shaking his head.

About this time Carl walked over to Esther and said, "Let me see what kind of a ball you are going to hit."

"I'm just fine," said Esther. "I have this nice Podo Special that you found in the creek last fall."

"Hey, Gene, wait for me," Carl yelled. "Here try this." He threw her a new ball and followed Gene to the men's tee.

"I get nervous in these tournaments anyway," said Esther. "Playing with this new ball will really throw me off my game. It's so white and shining that it glares in my eyes."

"I know what you mean," I said. "I wonder if that JoAnne Carner's husband gives her a new ball every time she plays in a tournament."

That isn't quite the end of the story. I played eighteen holes without losing that new ball, just cut it a little. Not only that - Gene gave me another one the next day for the second round.

Of course, playing with that crazy thing made me so nervous that we lost badly. Nevertheless, riding home we talked about the fun we had.

"I only wish that you hadn't taken your shoes and sox off and waded in the creek to retrieve that 'stupid ball,'" said Gene.

"I just hope that we get invited back next year," I retorted. "Just think with two new balls this year and two more next - I'll practically be supplied for life!"

"Yeah, you can impress the girls!" "Are you crazy?" I asked. "I'm not going to play with those. I'll save them for a tournament."

We really did have a ball.

SUPPLEMENT to THE AD-VERTISER and THE CLARKSTON NEWS July 1, 1971

Campers Can Show Way to Keep Land Beautiful

Ask any camper — camping is the finest kind of outdoor fun. To think it might be threatened by careless use of our environment is a sobering thought. Will our children have to forego the shimmering beauty of the desert, the peace and solitude of a mountain pass, the discovery of an isolated stretch of beach? Or will they be preserved and kept intact for future generations to enjoy?

"The answer depends in part on today's campers," according to Jack Hamilton, camping expert at the Thermos Division of King-Seeley Thermos Co., the company whose vacuumware and outdoor living products are so familiar to those who relish the great outdoors.

"Although government and private industry are taking corrective measures to rectify our environmental oversights, the task should be a personal one to assure real success. Each one of us should be committed actively to curing the ills of our littered, polluted and scarred land."

"Campers have a special stake in keeping America beautiful. They know its recreational potential and, as concerned citizens, they can help assure that this heritage will not be forfeited.

"Individually and collectively, they can lead the way in changing careless attitudes about littering and pollution. If every camper set a good example, the result could be an unspoiled countryside instead of a desecrated landscape."

A good start on environmental concern is the journey to camp. The evils of being a litterbug should be stressed to children. This might take the form of a game for youngsters — drawing their version of a litterbug to keep them occupied en route.

Grownups, too, should be reminded that a litterbag in the car is the place to stash empty beverage containers, cigarette stubs and wrappings, etc. rather than leaving a wake of trash along the roadside.

Once at your destination, be considerate of your neighbors if you've chosen a public campground. Keep your conversation low and your radio turned down after bedtime. Arrange your camp lanterns so they don't shine into neighboring tents or invade the privacy of others.

To avoid being a litterbug, the scourge of the camping world, knowing campers set up their own convenient receptacle by supporting a plastic trash Campers have a special stake in our country's beauty. They know its recreational potential and can do much to cure the ills of our abused land, especially littering. To keep your own campsite in apple-pie order, you might set up a trash receptacle by driving four forked sticks in square formation. For crossbars, place four sticks in "forks." Support plastic trash liner on frame.

Lucky the fisherman who has a rugged, unbreakable, all-stainless Thermos vacuum bottle for refreshing beverages. For welcome variety, fill vacuum bottle with hot water and pack a supply of instant coffee, tea, hot chocolate™ or bouillon.

LET HIM GO

When a fish wants to make a run, give him line and let him go. Be certain that the drag on the reel is set properly, then let the fish take line against the tension of the drag. Never try to stop a fish's determined run because the line may break or the hooks pull out.

can liner on four forked sticks driven into the ground, to provide support for the cross bars.

Dispose of it at the designated trash area if you're in a developed campground. Otherwise, leash it above ground at night so animals won't be attracted to it. When you leave the campsite, take it with you and dispose of it at home.

As any husband knows, the lady of the house — or in this case, the tent — brings along everything but the kitchen sink on a camping trip. So what about dishwashing in camp? Unwashed dishes and vestiges of food from the last meal are telling signs of a sloppy camper.

You'll find it's time-saving and less of a chore if you heat the water for dishwashing while the family sits down to eat. Then you can tackle the dishes as soon as the meal is over without missing out on any of the fun. Wiping greasy plates and pans with paper towels before washing simplifies cleaning up.

If you've strung any ropes around the camp for washlines, etc., remove them before you strike camp. Leave any wilderness campsite just as natural as possible so the next camper may enjoy it as much as you did.

How to have your boat and live in it too - wave of future

You can have your boat and live in it, too. This delightful fact is the secret behind one of the most impressive growth trends in boating.

From disreputable beginnings as ungainly and unseaworthy "shanties of the shoreline" houseboats have evolved into smart, seagoing vacation homes.

The houseboat turnabout is clearly illustrated by sales figures. In 1963 only 500 houseboats were sold in the entire U.S.A. By 1969 the annual houseboat sales figure had zoomed to 4,000. The U.S. houseboat fleet now numbers 14,000 and is expected to grow much larger during the next decade.

Keys to the growth of houseboating are rapid development of attractively decorated and furnished living areas equipped with modern appliances, dramatic improvement in hull designs, and the development of efficient high-horsepower outboard motors and stern-drive engines to propel them.

By shedding their Ma and Pa Kettle appearance and unseaworthy bargelike bottoms, modern houseboats have attracted families who want to have their vacation or retirement home and their dream boat all in one neat package.

Houseboats still feature big cabins, wide picture windows, and lots of living space and head room inside.

But now they have modern planing hulls, vees, cathedrals and catamarans - that make them nimble enough to compete in rugged offshore races. No kidding! Several have entered and completed the Bahama 500, one of oceandom's toughest competitions. One, equipped with a 115 hp outboard, won a recent Mississippi River marathon.

These developments have turned boating's ugly duckling into a beautiful swan. Technology has yet to solve the classic problem of having your cake and eating it, too. But boating has made it possible to have your boat and live in it, too. No wonder Americans are taking up houseboating in rapidly increasing numbers.

BOATING TIPS

When beaching a boat in an area where there are apt to be waves hitting the shore, the authorities recommend beaching the craft stern first to avoid water splashing over the transom.

If a fishing line is twisted it can be remedied by simply dragging the line in the water behind a boat. The water flowing over the line will take the twist out of it.

Balancing the weight in a boat is essential for safety and comfort. If the bow tends to plow through the water, the load is too far forward, and if the bow tends to be high, the load is probably too far aft.

When using a braided fishing line, a short length of monofilament should be attached between the end of the line and the lure, as braided line is too obvious in the water.

Electric tractor makes appearance

GE's electric, compact tractor.

A major step in applying electricity to a practical consumer vehicle was disclosed by the General Electric Company when it announced the first commercially available, totally electric, compact tractor, Elec-Trak - a new concept in home grounds care.

The many futuristic design and engineering concepts of the Elec-Trak tractor characterize it as a vehicle of the new decade, according to Harry Carman, of Clarkston Motor Sports, the dealership in this area.

"With features anticipating solutions to many of man's current and future environmental problems, the Elec-Trak tractor is expected to become a significant force in the market before the end of the decade." "Mowing or snow blowing no longer need to shatter the peace and quiet of residential neighborhoods. Air and noise pollution from this new tractor are insignificant because of this vehicle's electric motor and power pack," Carman said.

The Elec-Trak tractor is available in three models, E12, E15 and, E20. Although competitive in price with 10, 12 and 14 horsepower gasoline-powered units, the Elec-Trak tractor models offer higher performance in most respects because of the high-applied torques available from the DC drive and attachments motors.

The Elec-Trak tractor combines a number of features utilizing the most advanced technology in lawn and garden attachments with the unique concept of the tractor serving as an outdoor power source.

General Electric has designed a 36-volt outdoor power outlet into the tractor body and is also making available a portable power tool head and a number of power tools which operate off 36 volts.

The tools include earth augers, hedge shears, drills, lawn edgers, grass trimmers, and chain saws. For those who already own a number of 110-volt tools, a 110-volt ac inverter will be available as optional equipment.

This Elec-Trak feature takes the electric plug outside the house and makes it available anywhere you want to use it. This feature makes this tractor very popular with women. For instance, they will have a handy source of power with which to run small rototillers to weed their gardens.

Today's modern, compact camping equipment makes it easy for these fishermen to carry all the equipment they need in their boat for a combined camping and fishing trip.

Toys for kids essential on vacation trips

There's no end to the opportunities for fun in the outdoors, especially for youngsters. For them every thicket and stream presents a new challenge.

Children explore, discover and learn in America's summer playgrounds.

The experience leaves them asking to return to the outdoors again and again.

Toys are special companions to children wherever they may go.

They provide a helping hand for Mom and Dad on camping trips. While working around the campsite on the cooking and cleaning chores, toys keep youngsters safely occupied, full of laughter and out of the working area while parents go about keeping the camping locale in order.

Three important factors in judging the ability of a toy to be useful during a journey are its compatibility with the youngster, the durability of the toy and safety.

Toys that have special meaning to your child should certainly be included. However, if the plaything is very fragile or small enough to be misplaced and possibly lost, encourage substitutes.

Rugged plastic toys are ideal for outdoor recreation. On the way to the campground, they provide plenty of entertainment for children riding in an auto's back seat.

Safety cannot be overlooked in filling up a child's toy chest for an outdoors trip. Plastic toys have easy to manipulate smooth surfaced parts that avoid cutting or scratching.

At the best planned picnics, someone may forget the salt but you can be sure appetites are never left at home. Today's coolers and picnic jugs make it easy to carry all sorts of goodies while vacuum bottles hold beverages either hot or cold.

Every day has picnic party-time potential

Let's go on a picnic! Doesn't the idea conjure up wonderful pictures of marvelous food enjoyed in pleasant company amidst scenic settings? If you're still going on the old-fashioned theory that picnics are for Sundays, you're missing out on a wealth of alfresco dining.

Every day has its picnic potential, but who ever heard of a picnic without a vacuum bottle?

What's new under the picnic sun? Here are some ideas.

How about a romantic candlelight picnic a deux in the park before a concert or play? Carry your picnic in elegant style in an outing kit with two vacuum bottles, one to hold vichyssoise, the other minted iced tea. Serve with French bread, Danish blue cheese, Thompson seedless grapes and Bartlett pears. Bring the picnic to a sweet close with petits fours.

Fresh corn-on-the-cob fans have been known to have a lot of water boiling before going out to pick corn after donning their track shoes, of course. Maybe you think that's corny but if you have wistful memories of how good corn used to taste, treat your family to a tailgate picnic with corn-on-the-cob as the star of the menu.

Thinking about getting into boating - here's how to do it

Thinking about getting into boating? Bewildered by the problem of choosing between prams, dinghies, runabouts, cruisers, houseboats and sailboats in a puzzling variety of sizes, shapes, colors, materials and, of course, prices? Frightened by your friends' and neighbors' salty talk of burgees, flag codes, rules of the road navigational calculations?

Don't be.

Getting started right in boating is easy if you first ask yourself a few simple questions and then seek advice from experienced boat owners and a qualified marine dealer. Before you shop for a boat you and your family answer the following questions:

1. WHY DO WE WANT A BOAT? For fishing? Cruising? Water skiing?
2. WHERE WILL WE USE OUR BOAT? On a small lake? Large lake? On a river? In the ocean?
3. WHO WILL USE OUR BOAT? The whole family? Guests? The children? Together? Separately? All at once?
4. WHEN WILL WE USE OUR BOAT? On weekends? Summer vacations? For day cruises? For long trips? Daily?
5. WHERE WILL WE STORE OUR BOAT? In the garage or yard? At our own waterfront slip or boat house? At a marina or yacht club?
6. HOW MUCH CAN WE AFFORD TO SPEND? For the boat and motor? For a trailer? For fuel, storage and maintenance?

Once you've answered these questions your chances of getting started right in boating are greatly improved.

But before you actually start shopping take a good look at the types of boats that are most popular on the waterways where you will do most of your boating. Talk to friends, neighbors and even strangers.

We offer the following clues for identifying qualified, reliable dealers: reputation with customers, good selection of top quality national and regional brand name products, good parts and service facilities.

Take the answers to your personal boating questions to these qualified marine dealers and they will get you started right in boating whether you need a 12-foot car top fishing boat with a 2½ hp outboard, a racy ski boat with an 85-horse engine, or an ocean-going cruiser or houseboat with a pair of 125s.

Nearly all good marine dealers are enthusiastic boaters themselves. They want you to get started right in boating because they know that people who start right usually become boaters (and good customers) for life.

Still worried about those burgees, flag codes, rules of the road and navigational calculations your salty friends bandy about? You can catch up with them quickly by enrolling in the free boating courses offered by the United States Power Squadrons and the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary in your area.

Stowaway first aid kit in container

Great adventures out of doors vary for everyone who journeys to the woods and campsites of America. The adventure can range from a leaping, fighting bass to a glimpse of a rare bird seen only by a handful.

Or, the experience can be the sunburned nose, dry chapped lips, and aching cracked hands that sometimes go with the pursuit of adventure.

Going outdoors means having the right precautions to keep comfortable. Even with imaginative planning and the right equipment, you may not completely avoid trouble areas like mosquitoes, red ant bites, or sore muscles. But planning and equipment can go a long way toward easing the discomfort campers encounter.

Sunburn is always a threat. Bring along plenty of lotion, especially for those who are not used to prolonged exposure to the sun. The time to use the lotion is before soaking in those sunny rays!

Almost as important as lotion is shade.

A tent or umbrella is great for shelter from the sun.

Should sunburn occur, first aid in the form of an ointment or cream should be available to relieve the pain. Sprays also are handy for wiping out the burning sensation that sunburn brings along with the familiar redness.

Dry lips and hands have plenty of preventatives. Lip balms and sticks are veritable necessities in keeping sun and wind from turning lips dry and cracked. Hand lotion can restore moisture to skin and keep hands ready and willing to keep on with the tasks around the campsite.

Plan ahead on minor medical needs. Take them with you, sealed, ready for instant use.

GIVE IT A TRY

To find out why fishing is such a fascinating sport, all you have to do is try it.

Be sure your ignition is in the best of condition

Of all the woes that lurk in neglect for the motorist on vacation, ignition problems top the list, according to a study made by the Missouri Auto Club, of 1,603 cars.

A break-down of the study reveals these as the most critical faults:

1. IGNITION - 1,500 defects or .94 per car.
2. FRONT END - 1,450 defects or .90 per car.
3. BRAKES - 1,354 defects or .85 per car.

4. HEADLIGHTS - 1,055 defects or .66 per car.

5. TIRES - 922 defects or .58 per car.

6. STEERING LINKAGE - 402 defects or .25 per car.

Evidence from the extensive diagnostic checks as recorded above give strong proof that every car has at least one major fault... a fault that is probably in your car... a fault that should be corrected before any vacation trip.

OXFORD, MICH.

In late September, an early snow caps the upper reaches of the Grand Tetons in majestic splendor. A family and friends pause by Snake River bend, north of Jackson Hole, Wyoming, one scene in our country's vast array of natural beauty that can be discovered in comfort in a motorhome.

Motorhome provides real living space

Vacationing Americans see the country in many ways: by car and motel, by car and travel trailer, by motorcycle and campsite, even by flying their own private plane.

Each in its unique way affords a choice in fulfilling one's craving for adventure and relaxation in the great outdoors.

But now the choice has been broadened in a manner which wraps up just about every desirable aspect of these modes of travel, except possibly the motorcycle and the airplane, in a single vehicle for the greater enjoyment and convenience of families or groups of fishermen or hunters or amateur photographers.

The new facility is the modern motorhome, not to be confused with the mobile home, for the former has mobility far in excess of the latter.

It's so rugged, you can use it on the road wherever parking is permitted. No worry about the availability of utilities, for everything necessary to normal comfort in one's own home, even to the point where you figuratively "put the car out" and lock up securely for the night, is built in.

Yes, that includes meal-making equipment, lighting for leisurely living room-like reading, watching what's on the air, sleeping as confidently relaxed as one does at home, plus lavatory facilities, all operable without the customary hook-ups required for other types of personalized vacation-time travel.
