

Jim's Jottings

As far as I know Detroit Edison has completed the task of bringing power to our new printing plant. It's strictly a guess, however.

I've gone down the aisle of promises and guarantees so many times I'm getting the idea of what the eternal bridesmaid—never a bride—feels like.

I can't understand, and don't try to explain, why a company, to whom I'm going to pay thousands of dollars, can't drape their lines reasonably soon... as they promised.

At times I've heard their spokesmen tell why competition isn't good in the utility field, but I wonder.

With power, some of the interior work will be hastened. The furnaces and air conditioners (suspended) are up but not quite finished, carpeting is in but not laid, the parking lot and drive are started but other outside work needs to be done.

The plumbing isn't hung, the offices aren't paneled and papered, and all the painting isn't completed.

In going over this list I'm getting the idea that you might think nothing is done.

Naturally, over the last 3 months a lot has been done. It's the finishing that seems slow. Three more weeks and we may even start moving. That in itself will take a few weeks.

Right now that 9,000 sq. ft. looks cavernous. I'm considering holding employe meetings once a month so they will be able to get reacquainted. We should all get into better shape physically. It will take a 10 minute break to go to the water fountain.

Have you wondered why the courts are just now getting around to declare the property tax an illegal way of supporting schools or education?

I wondered to attorney Bob Parenti. He said this question is often asked, that people had misconceived ideas of how a court functions.

A court, Bob said, doesn't render an opinion until it has been asked a question. Thus, the question of use of property tax to support schools may never have been brought before the court.

Asked if the Supreme Court had ever considered the same question twice and given reverse answers, Bob said, without giving a direct answer, that the world, times and thinking changes and judicial interpretations of the constitution might be different today from 75 years ago on the same subject.

My thinking frequently changes from one minute ago, and time and the world has nothing to do with it. Hazel does, tho'.

NAG wants gym

"Cross district busing remote"-Dr. Greene

"I think it is a very remote possibility that there will be cross district busing in the near future."

That was one of the statements of Clarkston Schools superintendent Dr. L. F. Greene Monday night when confronted by NAG representatives at the Board of Education meeting.

Dr. Greene also stated that he felt the Board "doesn't want to transport anyone outside this district."

The Clarkston chapter of NAG (National Action Group) went to the Board to get their approval to use the high school gym for a public meeting.

They had been turned down by the administration because of the school policy which states that groups not school related must have liability insurance and pay rent.

Dr. Greene said this has been the policy since 1963, and before.

Mrs. Loretta Phillips, 5860 Waldon, president of the Clarkston NAG group, said they tried 9 agencies and couldn't get the insurance. She wondered why they couldn't have the building without insurance.

Board trustee David Leak said he felt the group's inability to get insurance was all the more reason they should be required to have it. "The companies must feel there is a high risk," he said. He also stated that if the board allowed the NAG admission it would show board support.

Board president R. A. Weber said, "It is strictly a matter of protection to people of this district. If a door closes on someone's finger and it's chopped off, the district could be sued, thus the district people would have to eventually pay for it."

This problem was resolved when Weber suggested having Dr. Greene check with the school's agent to see if they could get the insurance for the local chapter.

The statements on busing came when one of the 42 visitors asked each board member to state his decision on busing. They later changed it to "opinion" instead of decision.

Leak started by saying without court rulings there can be no decision, that he would be happy to give his personal opinion when the meeting was closed.

Then Dr. Greene commented. He said it had been a Clarkston board precedent since 1961 that a child should attend the school closest to his home.

He gave the reasons as: 1. Cost, 2. Welfare and safety of the child. He said, "History will bear us out that if a child goes to the school assigned (closest) the costs are lower to the district" and the child is better off.

He added that if a parent wants to transport his child to a school in the district other than the one to which he is assigned, the parent may do so.

Dr. Greene also pointed out that children are presently being transported across district lines... for special education classes and vocational education.

During the meeting, Dr. Greene and board members said they were opposed to parents' taking children from school as a means of protest. He reviewed the 180 days—70 percent attendance requirement of the state board of education for state aid.

A citizen said, "The boycott is our way to protest and I feel it is as just as a teacher strike."

The superintendent said, "I understand why you did it, but we don't agree children should be kept from school."

Tuesday morning Clarkston NAG publicity chairman, Mrs. Robert Jensenius said a meeting of their group was now set for Oct. 21 at VFW David Bellis Post at 1690 Airport Rd. at 7:30 p.m.

She also said a "Rumor Control" committee had been set up. People and numbers to call are:

Mrs. Robert Brown, 391-1186
Mrs. Bruce Davis, 623-9218
Mrs. Gerald Barnfather, 623-0960.

Fire started in house in foreground and spread to second home.

At Woodhull

Fire guts 2 houses

Two houses were destroyed by fire in Woodhull Lake Subdivision Monday evening.

Independence Township fire chief Don Beach said the fire started in 4687 Lakeview, owned by Mike Ostrowski, and spread next door to 4695 Lakeview, owned by Charles Halsey.

The Ostrowski house is one of 5 in Woodhull acted upon by the township hearing officer recently. It was cited as a health and safety hazard. The owner was given 30 days to take out a building permit. The alternative is for the township to proceed with condemnation action.

The fire report says 4687 Lakeview is a 2-family house and that the occupant of one of the apartments, Jim Ehricke, was home at the time.

Ehricke said he saw smoke coming from the ceiling. Flames were coming from the roof before firemen arrived.

Firemen were at the scene from 5:36 to 9:30 p.m. No cause was given for the fire.

A neighbor named West told the News he went into the Halsey house and rescued their 8 poodles.

Child hit

Tracy Cleland, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cleland, 4743 Lakeview, was struck by a car on Hillcrest at 5:24 Monday evening.

She was treated and released from the hospital.

The sheriff's report quotes the driver of the car, Victoria Hicks, 21, of 4763 Lakeview, as saying the girl darted in front of her car from behind a tree.

Pleased with ordinance that cleaned up parking lot

The disorderly persons ordinance passed by the Clarkston Council July 1 was given credit this week for "cleaning up the village parking lot."

Police Chief John Walts said the new law gave them the authorization necessary to put an end to loitering and other activities that had brought many citizen complaints to the Council.

Police Commissioner Robert L. Jones said nine tickets were issued by village police in the park last month alone. Some went before Judge Gerald McNally, posted a $25.00 personal bond, then were later fined $15 for their violation.

Walts said most of the parking lot visitors were from outside the Clarkston area, with the majority from Pontiac.

***

The "disorderly persons" ordinance defines disorderly conduct, prohibits it and sets a penalty for being disorderly.

Forty specific terms are mentioned as being prohibited. They include the usual assault, being drunk, fighting and accosting.

However, also included is obscene language and gestures, excessive noise and nuisances, and throwing anything in the water that might pollute.

The specific portion of the ordinance most violated was not mentioned by the chief or commissioner.

Both were, however, pleased that the parking lot visitors, so prevalent early in the summer were no longer downtown.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Bronsing will open their rustic home on Thendara Boulevard for the Clarkston Community Women's Club House Tour on October 24. Five homes will be included on the tour which will be held between the hours of 2 to 5 p.m. Admission of $2 will be charged for the entire tour.

Boycott? What boycott?

The matter of a boycott of schools on October 25 was brought up at Monday's Clarkston Board of Education meeting.

Mrs. Loretta Phillips, 5840 Waldon, chairman of the Clarkston chapter of NAG, had this to say on the subject of parents keeping their children home that day.

She said, "I have attended meetings (NAG type) for 2 years . . . the only thing I know about a boycott for October 25 is what I read in the papers or see on television. It has not appeared in any of our newsletters."

Judges couldn't go wrong

Briefly told

A woman wondered aloud in a Clarkston beauty shop this week about the demonstrations in the village. She said it must have been something big because the new, big fire truck had been called from Waterford. Parts of what the woman said were true. There was a big demonstration in Clarkston, but it was by the new fire truck. Firemen were running water out over the Mill Pond. Spray from the "demonstration" covered the downtown and some pedestrians put up their umbrellas.

When the road grader went down Whipple Lake Road Monday morning it caused a mild sensation. One man called the News office to see what was going on.

He said, "There must be something big going to happen, the road grader is going by." He said he'd broken 2 springs on his 1971 car this year and he "can't go over 15 miles an hour."

He was so sure "something big" was going on he was going to contact the township offices right away. Really, sir, the county road commission sometimes goes down a gravel road twice a year, at least that's what they tell us.

Hand bills stir ire

A couple handbills circulated in Independence Township last week drew comment from Township trustee Keith Humbert at their last board meeting.

He said the sheets were "full of untruths and half truths" and that the cartoon had his name, apparently, misspelled.

He told the audience, "If I sign it, it will be Keith A. Humbert. I just don't understand how people can spread such rotten filth." He said he looked at the criticisms of local government as a push toward eliminating township governments. The handbills were not officially signed.

Letters to the Editor

I'll stay a Klansman as long as I live

Dear Jim Fitzgerald:

Great. You have found someone else to boil in your column oil, Mr. Robert Miles.

I've read other articles you have written about the Klan. No one could be any bigger racists than the editors of the news media. The nastiest racists are the whites who lust after that colored flesh.

In place of being content as the Lord created you, you can be sure the Lord doesn't advocate race mixing. No where in the 66 Books of the Bible is it advocated. I have just finished reading those 66 Books again. That makes several times in the past 30 years I have carefully read the contents of the Bible, cover to cover.

I am sure if you would read the Bible through 2 or 3 times you would much rather be on the assembly line than on the typewriter stirring up the public with your immoral ideas.

As for the Klan, they are no worse than your K of C or your Jesuit order, which, when the time is ripe and the orders are issued will be far worse than the KKK ever thought of being.

I've been a Klansman for a good many years and I intend to remain one as long as there is a breath of life in me.

I hate no man. Can't you whites that want to be black realize the blacks do not want you dirty whites to spoil their race. Why can't you fools be satisfied the way you were created, and learn the message of the Bible.

Your continual blabbing about races and race mixing will get you nothing. The blacks hate your type worse than the whites do.

Why aren't you more interested in your soul's salvation and the salvation of your family than in getting these white girls bred by some black buck, and the black girls bred by some white punk who doesn't have any respect for himself or his family?

Why can't you let this race trouble quiet down. Tend to your own and they will tend to their own.

He resents remarks

Dear Editor,

Having lived in Oakland County over 40 years, I resent Mister Stonerock's and Mr. Humbert's derogatory statements regarding the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. I am happy and proud to believe in the "Support Your Local Police" slogan, and all other police associations.

To actually run down our main source of police protection at a public meeting, saying they are not qualified and an inadequate police protection source, is highly distasteful and shows very poor judgment.

I will gladly sign my name to this letter, but being an employee of Independence Township, I will leave it up to the good judgment of our editor if he wishes to print it.

4-minute test flunked

At breakfast this morning my wife greeted me with: "I was awake from 3 to 6 a.m. listening to you snore."

This isn't the worst. On other mornings she is even more evil because of something I did in her dream the night before.

"Boy, were you a dirty rat last night," she'll say. "You were 2 years late getting home for dinner and you had nerve enough to give me heck because the food was cold."

Our marriage is obviously in real trouble. So says 1 of the nation's most prominent psychiatrists, Dr. Leonard Zunin, director of the Institute for Reality Therapy in Brentwood, Calif. He recently said the success or failure of marriage can depend on what happens between a husband and wife during two 4-minute periods each day - when they wake up and when the husband gets home from work.

"These are periods of intense communication. And what comes through to the husband and wife is not only conveyed by spoken words. From 50 to 90% of the message is transmitted by body language," Dr. Zunin said.

"The body postures, attitudes and gestures of each mate make swift subconscious impressions on the mind of the other mate," he said.

"Hoo boy. Please pass the lawyer."

When the alarm goes off at our house, I get up first and head for the bathroom. Sometimes I am careless and pull the blanket off my wife. "I am freezing," she says sweetly. "PUT THE BLANKET BACK!"

Thus begins our crucial 4 minutes.

We next meet in the kitchen.

Long ago my wife decreed that I must kiss her each morning just before breakfast, otherwise I don't love her. But this is hard to do when I have snored, or misbehaved in her dreams, or pulled the blanket off her. She gives me a full dose of the "body language" and I can't catch her. She always has her back to me and, when I approach for the smooch, she moves away, from stove to toaster to refrigerator, acting all the time as if she doesn't know I'm on her trail, trying to fulfill my husbandly duty.

Finally, I give up and eat. She sits down opposite me and asks: "Why didn't you kiss me good morning?"

"Because I am not the type who runs and kisses," I say.

And the first 4 minutes are up. Things aren't any better during those important 4 minutes in the evening, when I return from a hard day's work.

"How come you're late?" she says.

"Why don't you greet me at the door with a smile and a drink, like in the movies?" I say.

"I made the drinks yesterday. It's your turn today," she says.

"I had a tough day at the office," I say.

"I called you at 4 o'clock and they said you weren't back from lunch yet," she says.

"I was out shopping for a new ring for my nose," I explain.

Then comes more body language. I can tell she is unhappy simply by the way she moves her right leg, eloquently propelling her well-shod foot into my shin.

And the 4 minutes are up.

Dear Ann Landers . . .

I'll sign my name Keith A. Humbert

Dear Editor:

As the prime mover in the last election, I feel personally and morally responsible for all action taken by the Independence Township Board. You people deserve the best, most honest government conducted in a manner that is a credit to our status as a most desirable area. There are 3 points I wish to make in this letter.

1. Use of my name. Recently, a 2-page hate sheet circulated in some areas with "art work approved by Humpert." My name was obviously misspelled on purpose. Other misspellings were not on purpose. It fooled no one I know, but please be advised that anything I have anything to do with will carry my full name and address, Keith A. Humbert, 6440 Snow Apple, Clarkston, Mi, phone 625-3908. I will not hide behind a box number.

2. As a campaign promise to the Township as a whole and especially to the good citizens of Woodhull Lake, I vowed to help clean up this festering sore. Please drive out through this area in the next week.

There is a quarter square mile of the likes of which many of you do not believe could exist in this beautiful township. Some residents of the area demanded on May 13, 1971 that the township help them improve the area.

To back up their demands, they presented a survey which found only 30 good homes in the area, but 18 fair homes and 52 poor ones (mostly rental). How does this compare with your neighborhood? At the insistence of this group, 5 of the worst houses were condemned. The box number indicates this is the area that produced the hate sheet.

3. As of October 19, I will be available at 7 p.m. one half hour before each board meeting to answer any questions that you may have. Please avail yourself of this service so we can all be better informed. Me, as to your wishes; you, as to why the township is doing certain things.

School board getting fed

By Ruth Montney
Sashabaw Junior High foods classes, under the direction of Phyllis Zavislak and Carol Burdette, will be utilizing cooking skills they have developed when they serve a sumptuous dinner on Wednesday, Oct. 27, to members of the school board.

Board members are, President R. A. Weber, Walter J. Cattin, Richard Funk, David K. Leak, Arthur Rose, T. O. Doremus and Fernando Sanchez.

From the administrative staff, Superintendent Dr. L. F. Greene and assistants George Barrie and Mel Mason will attend. Principal Mel Vaara and assistant principal Gus Birtsas will be onlookers (and consumers) as the girls "do their thing."

Some of the officers of the C.E.A. will be in attendance too. Their organization is sponsoring the event - buying the groceries, that is - while the girls provide the "know how."

Home Ec. III girls who have been studying meats will prepare the basic items for the meal. Home Ec. II girls, who have been learning the fine points of dessert preparation, will prepare the pies.

Bread will be the contribution of Home Ec. I girls who have learned in class how to perfectly prepare the "staff of life."

There will even be a salad buffet, served in the carpeted dining area that adjoins the kitchen facilities.

A Sashabaw Junior High choral group, directed by Linda Dewey, will provide entertainment, and village president Richard Johnston will address the group.

And, at Clarkston Junior High, Mrs. Montney's two Home Ec. III classes are studying a unit on entertaining. Each girl has thoroughly planned the details of a teen-age party she could; and perhaps will, give.

Laboratory work has included the making of tea sandwiches, cookies and punch. As various cookie recipes are tested, a part of each "batch" is reserved and frozen. When the unit is completed, a tea will be served and each girl will have the opportunity to invite her mother or another adult guest.

The fourth hour class has chosen to use class time, and to serve in the classroom, but the first hour group elected instead to serve after school in the cafeteria, considering the time they regularly meet to be a little more appropriate for breakfast than for entertaining.

The C.E.A. also provided some of the supplies for this unit and in return, the girls are using their talents and training to provide cookies for the open house to be held at the new office of the organization at the corner of Main and Church Streets, over what was formerly Bob's Hardware. Offices of the N.O.C.A. located there also, will be open too. The girls are invited to the open house at 4 to 8 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 25, and so are you.

Cyclamates

When the first artificial sweeteners came on the market, they were sold only in drug stores. But as the demand for sugar-free products spread from diabetics to the weight-conscious, that restriction was dropped.

Now there are fears that these sweeteners aren't safe, and the Food and Drug Administration has proposed a label change that would show the top level of safe usage each day. It based its recommendation on a National Research Council committee report.

But that paper said "based on presently available research data and current consumption levels," artificial sweeteners such as saccharine and cyclamate are safe.

The only symptomatic effect of cyclamate seen up to now has been a softening of the stool experienced by some people at fairly high levels. This led the FDA to urge people to keep their daily consumption of cyclamate down to 5 grams a day.

The only toxic effects found in animal experiments have been found with really massive doses. For example, a researcher offered what he called "highly inconclusive" data on chromosome damage—but a 110-pound human would have to ingest 125 grams of cyclamate (about 250 bottles of soda pop) every day to match the evidence found in some mice.

Unreasonable consumption of any food may produce harmful effects. Nonetheless, it probably is a good idea to keep your cyclamate and saccharine levels down; children probably shouldn't drink more than five bottles of artificially sweetened pop per day. Or sugar-sweetened pop, for that matter, according to most dentists.

W-K comes from behind

By Craig Moore
 The Clarkston Wolves envisioned an upset over Waterford Kettering, but came out of the game 12-7 losers.
 A swing pass from Kettering quarterback Gary De Var to Ernie Bragg with 2½ minutes remaining in last Friday's Wayne-Oakland battle proved fatal to the Clarkston Wolves.
 Clarkston's defense held the Captains down 7-6 throughout the third quarter and for the majority of the fourth.

 The would-be upset was foiled again in the final minute of the game as Clarkston made a desperate last effort to score, only to come inches short of the needed first down on the Kettering 46 yard line.
 Clarkston took advantage of an early break in the second quarter to open a 7-0 lead over the host team. Wolves' tackle Chuck Chamarro recovered a Kettering fumble on their 4-yard line, and Lyle Johnson tore into the end zone on the next play. Clarkston's Bruce Soulbly kicked the extra point.

 The Captains came right back, moving the ball 66 yards in 7 plays and climaxing the drive with Ernie Bragg's score on a 15 yard run. The attempted Kettering run failed. A fierce defensive battle followed.

The Wolves contained Waterford's offense until the last minutes of the game, when Bragg's 40 yard run clinched the Kettering victory.
 Clarkston's quarterback Mark Warren lost 7 yards on the only completed pass of 10. The Wolves' passing game was impaired by the drizzle and wet field for the greater part of the game.
 The Wolves' runners totaled only 74 yards to Kettering's 185.
 Coach Rakow commented, "Defense played a heck of a game!"

Cutting Korner

Hungarian cooking seems to fit this season. It is famous for its gravies, sauces, fritters and dumplings. The advantage is that a crispy salad and roll are all that is needed to round out a well balanced meal. For company add a dish of fruit and a cookie.

All the dishes are familiar but a twist of seasoning stamps them "authentic Hungarian."

CHICKEN PAPRIKA

1 boiler-fryer (2½ to 3 pounds), cut up
¼ cup pure vegetable oil
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 onion, chopped
1 cup chicken broth
¼ cup catsup
1 tablespoon sweet paprika
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons flour.

In skillet brown chicken in oil; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Move chicken to one side of skillet; add onion and cook until tender. Stir in broth, catsup, paprika and parsley. Simmer, covered, 45 minutes or until chicken is tender.

Remove chicken pieces to serving dish; keep warm. Blend sour cream and flour; stir into drippings in skillet. Simmer over very low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Do not allow mixture to come to a full boil.

Pour over chicken. Makes four to five servings.

***

Hungarian skillet stew a la marinade is juicy and tender, with rich brown gravy. With it serve potato dumplings.

HUNGARIAN SKILLET STEW A LA MARINADE

4 to 5 pounds round bone or 7 bone chuck, cut into 2 inch cubes
1 package instant meat marinade
2/3 cup cold water
1 tablespoon sweet paprika
2 medium onions, sliced (or 18 boiling onions)
3 carrots, cut diagonally in 1 inch pieces
2 tablespoons chili sauce

Thoroughly blend contents of package of instant meat marinade and water in large, shallow pan. Arrange meat in marinade in a single layer. Pierce surfaces of meat thoroughly with fork. Marinate 15 minutes, turning several times.

Place meat and bone from meat, marinade, paprika and onions in large skillet or dutch oven with tight fitting cover. Cook over low heat, turning each piece of meat once. When liquid begins to bubble, reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, 30 minutes. Then cover and continue cooking 30 minutes longer. Add carrots and chili sauce; simmer tightly covered one and one-quarter hours more or until meat and vegetables are tender. Serves six to eight.

Note: For a variation, stir in one-half cup warmed dairy sour cream just before serving.

***

KARTOFFELKLOESSE (Potato Dumplings)

1¼ cups unprepared instant mashed potatoes
1¼ cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup flour
Prepared croutons
Melted butter, optional
Chopped chives or parsley, optional

Combine instant mashed potatoes, boiling water and salt (or use two cups regular mashed potatoes). Beat in eggs, nutmeg and flour thoroughly. Mixture should be moist but not so sticky you can't handle it with floured hands. Spoon out dough by heaping teaspoonsful; place a crouton in center of each and with floured hands shape into small balls.

Drop into gently simmering salted water. Cook 8 to 10 minutes. Remove with slotted spoon, draining well. Toss with melted butter and sprinkle with finely chopped chives or parsley, if you wish. Yields about 24 dumplings to serve six.

If you don't want to bother with the dumplings just toss in some raw potato pieces when you add the carrots.

Next week: More Hungarian dishes.

The same month last year 18 permits were issued with valuation of $483,272. This year 14 permits were valued at $324,300.

Addition and remodeling permits rose from 12 to 24 ($27,000 to $60,000). These were the major changes in comparable figures.

The total permit figure a year ago was $542,722 in September and this year the total was $398,093.

POSTER BOARD - white and colors, felt, pens, red, blue and black, Clarkston News, S.S. Main St.

Board disagrees on 40-A park site

Any action of purchase or planning on 40 acres on Sashabaw road as a park site has been stalled by the Township Board.

Last Tuesday night, on a 4-1 vote, the Board deferred all action.

Trustee Tom Bullen led the move to have progress toward purchase of the property stalled, at least temporarily.

He has opposed the site for some time. He said he felt a township park should be located more near the center of future population . . . south of I-75.

He said, "There are going to be 38,000 people south of I-75, according to population forecasts used to determine how and when sewers could be paid for." He said the site should be near them.

Supervisor Gary Stonerock favors the 40-acre site just north of the Clarkston-Sashabaw road intersection. He said when the township was making application for the parks and recreation grant, 3 sites were picked by the board.

The first was Waterford Hill Golf Course, which was rejected by the state. New plans were drawn for the 40 acres, and they were approved for a $38,000 grant.

Bullen stated that he felt Stonerock had made commitments on the site that should have been Board decisions.

Stonerock said the board knew the sites, had approved them, and the site was centrally located to the 3 most populated areas of the township . . . Walters Lake, The Gardens and Pelton-East Maybee road area.

The motion to defer action carried the clause "should the grant be in jeopardy" plans to purchase the 40 acres should proceed.

Clerk Howard Altman was to contact authorities on this matter. He reported to the News Friday that a Department of Natural Resources official had said the Board could review their plans and add to them or consider a new site up until the time final commitment is made. This has not been made, Altman said.

$22,000 was mentioned at the meeting as the township's part of the site purchase. This, combined with the state grant adds up to $60,000. This is the price mentioned as possibly being what the property is worth, $1500 an acre.

The land is presently being considered for gravel mining operation. During Tuesday's meeting, Trustee Keith Humbert hinted that this was one of the reasons the site was chosen for a park, to halt a gravel pit.

The township, through the Parks and Recreation Authority, has powers of condemnation, should they desire to use them.

Big, fascinating Alaska

*Around the Township
by Joette Kunse*

The Richard Bullens are back home with many memories of their recent trip to Alaska. They journeyed to our most northern state on the inland passage boat. They visited Anchorage, Fairbanks and traveled the narrow gauge railroad through White Horse Pass. They also saw the great boom town of Scagway caused by the 1898 gold discovery.

On their return to Washington state they visited Mt. Rainier, and the Columbia River country. While touring the Columbia River they visited the fish ladders which the salmon and trout must climb to get to their spawning grounds. Both agreed it was a big and fascinating country.

Twins Bruce and Barry Collins of Lakeview St. celebrated their 11th birthday with a spaghetti supper enjoyed by 27 friends. Games were played and ice cream and cake served. A large medal of bravery to Mom and Dad for hosting 29 boys!

Mrs. Jessie Parker of North Main Street is recuperating in Pontiac General Hospital. We know she would like to hear from her friends in Clarkston. Let's send our cards to cheer her to a speedy recovery.

Visiting Mrs. Edith Spencer of North Main St. is Mrs. Eliza Darling of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pritchard of Holcomb Rd. have just returned from a visit with their granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Buncé in Berchtesgaden, Germany. They were accompanied by their son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Bernard of Richmond, Mich. Berchtesgaden is located in Bavaria, high in the Alps. While in Europe, they traveled to Switzerland and Vienna, Austria visiting many of the castles, palaces and churches.

Attending last week's Michigan vs. Michigan State game were the Chuck Robertsons of Hummingbird Lane and the Rich Johnstons of Middle Lake Rd. They were joined by former Clarkstonites, the Don Coopers of Greenville. The Robertsons and the Johnstons were happy to be on the winning side.

Word has been received from former Clarkston residents, the Ralph Kenyons, who moved to Battle Creek. They have moved into their farm home in Ceresco.

The Jaycees will be collecting glass starting at 9 a.m. Saturday morning. Here's your chance to get the garage clean for another month.

Clarkston Home Tour tickets are available at the Clarkston-News office. Price of $2.00 per ticket includes tour through 5 area homes and refreshments at the Independence Township Library. Profits from the ticket sales will be used in Women's Club charitable activities

Really understanding

By Haslett Hemmar

Grace Helga Clarke is certainly the best looking female in our town. She's maybe 30, but it's a Scandanavian type 30 — blonde and pink — that makes her look 18 to the young boys that don't know any better and 40 to the older boys who should know better.

Guess her name was Swenson or Svendson or something like that before she married. Didn't move here until she lost her husband in a bad car accident. Came to visit her uncle, Ollie Olson, and just stayed on. No kids or anything to tie her down to any particular place so I guess here was as good as anywhere.

Got herself a job out at the Mr. Charles beauty shop and even the women really took to her. Guess that's fair unusual.

Don't know why they call that place "Mr. Charles" unless it's to give the shop a little phoney class. Doris Quigley owns that beauty parlor and they don't even have a man working there — unless maybe you'd count Hawley Mandrake as a male. He cuts hair but won't shampoo or set no matter what. Has a regular little old temper tantrum when a customer even dares to suggest he do anything but his snip and trim specialty. He calls it "styling" so maybe that's what it is.

Actual fact, old Hawley the hair clipper is one of the very few, male or female, that ever had anything but praise for perky little blond Grace Helga, probably resented it that she was prettier than he was.

Local gossip had it that she could send him into a real tizzy just by calling him Mr. Mandrake, ever so nicely.

Not that she would seem to be trying to upset him, but it got pretty obvious to most of the regular customers that the sweeter little Grace talked to him the more furious it made Hawley.

Even if she said to him something complimentary like, "You certainly made the most of Mrs. Warmack's coiffure," Hawley would near scream at her to mind her own business and don't pass an opinion on something she just never would understand.

"Yes, Mr. Mandrake," she'd reply real meek-like, "You're right, as usual, of course. Thank you for correcting me, Mr. Mandrake."

Poor little fellow would just stomp his feet and maybe get so upset he'd be actually sick and say he couldn't stand it and would have to go home to bed.

So pretty Grace Helga would sympathize and offer transportation if he was too sick to drive. That would do it. He'd near run out to escape her tender concern.

Finally, he quit and went out East to New York or maybe it was Newark.

Old Eff gave me a blow by blow of the whole thing every two weeks after her regular appointments at Mr. Charles.

"Good thing Grace was there to calm him down," Eff told me, "with a temper like that, the crazy little twerp might have stabbed someone."

"You sure she didn't deliberate drive him bananas?" I ask Eff.

"Oh, heavens, no. She was married to a psychiatrist for five years and she confided to everyone privately that little Hawley wasn't quite right. She ought to know. Being married five years to a head doctor and all. She's smart. Must have learned plenty about the odd ones. Good thing she warned us all on the Q.T. to be extra nice to that funny character."

Trumpeter with Chips

Over 50 new members have joined the Central Michigan University Marching band and Paul Campbell of Clarkston is among them.

Two big dates lie ahead for the Chips' musical unit. One is the homecoming game with Eastern Illinois, Oct. 23, and the other is Nov. 14 when they perform at halftime of the Lions vs. Rams game at Tiger Stadium.

Spiritual Message

Rev. Mark H. Caldwell

*A Plea for De-Fusing
"as if a man fled from a lion,
and a bear met him;
or went into the house and leaned with his hand against the wall; and a serpent bit him."—Amos 5:19*

This picturesque bit of description was directed at people in ancient Old Testament times who kept calling for the Day of the Lord to come, thinking it would make things favorable to their chosen nation. But the prophet said justice would not make them happy. They were not necessarily on the Lord's side that day.

Today I wonder if it might not apply to us who run from one spectre of what seems undesirable, only to find that the alternatives might be just as bad or worse. The situation which desperately needs de-fusing of course, is the climate of controversy over schools and who goes where. The thing which is overlooked, though, is that the way the explosive mixture is unpressured may be just as critical as doing it at all. Those who deplore busing are lining up powerful allies who promise to take it through the courts to stop it. There may be some justification for this. But boycotts, bomb threats, and boys lying in front of buses is too much for this writer.

And what about that man in the prophet's word who ran from a lion and was met by a bear? If we run from people we don't like now we will soon be to the Big Mac Bridge and then on to the Canadian bush, and who knows but that the red man will be there waiting to confront us with his agenda! Where are the people of good will who may not like busing, but who know that getting along in some sort of respect and fairness with all kinds of human critters is bound to demand solution one day. What this writer pleads for is that it not be put off until the violence is completely out of hand. Any peacemakers in this Independence promised land?

Scholarship chance

Finishes high

One CHS student became a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program for 1971-72 and a second was commended for his performance.

George Puddington

The semi-finalist, announced by high school principal William Dennis, is George Puddington, 6184 Cramlane Drive, Clarkston.

The commended student is Robin Ridley, 7809 Bridge St., Waterford.

Puddington was one of approximately 15,000 semi-finalists who are among the nation's most intellectually talented high school seniors. He will be competing for one of 3,000 merit scholarships to be awarded this spring.

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for the Merit Scholarships to be awarded. Semi-finalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their high NMSQT performance on a second examination, and providing information about their achievements and interests.

About 96 percent of the semi-finalists are expected to become finalists, and each will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 scholarships which are allocated by state.

High school grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities, and extra-curricular activities of the finalists are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholarship winners.

Robin Ridley

It's been 5 years since Clarkston High has produced a semi-finalist.

A commended student, like Robin, is one who finishes one step below the semi-finalist.

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News, 5 South Main, Clarkston.

Hire 3

Clarkston school district received $22,111 from the county through the Emergency Employment Act. With the addition of 10 percent, required by the Act, 3 employees have been added.

Milford Mason, assistant superintendent, said a matron had been hired at Clarkston Junior High, a custodian at the high school and a custodian at an elementary school.

Mason said they had asked for 8 positions and $56,000.

Building for bottles

Bottles for Building will soon have an enclosed shed at the township hall where residents can leave their bottle collections.

Mrs. Carolyn Place, chairman of the B for B campaign, received Council permission to put a metal building that would hold 16 barrels in the hall parking lot.

The hall has been one of the main drop off stations in the township, but there have been some complaints of broken glass in the lot and unsightliness.

Urges grand jury investigation here

The group behind the move to oust Gary Stonerock as supervisor of Independence suggests that he be given a "thorough investigation" by a grand jury.

Over the signature of Donald J. Sheldon, the group (Citizens for Honest Government) said in a news release, "As investigation by the group continues, it is definitely indicated that the supervisor of Independence has definitely failed in his responsibility toward the people of Independence Township."

They went on, "The Citizens for Honest Government feel that his performance while in office should be brought before a grand jury and given thorough investigation. The Citizens for Honest Government have found repeated indications of malfeasance of office."

This group reported they have 180 people supporting the drive for Stonerock's recall. Circulation of petitions asking the recall continues, Sheldon said.

Jaycees collect for UNICEF

"The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) will add a new facet to its 25th year of concern for the welfare of children and mothers around the world," said Dave Nadolsky, president of the Clarkston Jaycees.

Over the past years youngsters have taken canisters on Halloween Night and solicited donations for the 1 billion children living in the world's developing countries who must be protected against hunger and disease.

This year a number of manufacturers have volunteered to contribute a percentage of money for labels and wrappers from their products.

The Clarkston Area Jaycees will coordinate the new drive to collect the labels and wrappers. The drive will be called "Treat for Life." Hallman's Apothecary and the office of the Clarkston News will serve as collection points.

Manufacturers included in the list of donors are: Welch's (jams and jellies), Hunt's Snack Pack, Birdseye vegetables, Pals Vitamins, Clark Gum, Peter Paul Candies, and Kool-Aid Soft Drink Mix.

"We hope to get the collection going in the schools as well," said Nadolsky. "Right now we would appreciate it if labels and wrappers are dropped off at the designated spots."

"The buying power of these wrappers is amazing," he continued. "UNICEF can buy the following: Vaccine to protect 1 child against smallpox for 2 Kool-Aid packages; 25 glasses of milk for 10 Peter Paul Candy seals; 1 year's school supplies for 2 children for 100 Clark gum pack wrappers; vaccine to protect 10 children against tuberculosis for a Pals vitamin box; seed to sow a 200 foot row of carrot plants for 2 Birdseye vegetable packages; vaccine to protect 3 children against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus for 2 Hunt's Snack Pack cartons and antibiotics to save a child from blindness due to trachoma for 1 Welch's jar label."

FLAPJACKS ANYONE? There'll be some high-class waiters at the pancake supper in the Clarkston Junior High Monday evening. Two of them will be Dr. L. F. Greene, serving sausage, and Mil Mason, helping the tyke. The sausage pusher is superintendent of schools here and Mason is one of his assistants. Both are Clarkston Rotarians and both will be helping their fellow Rotarians at the pancake supper from 5 to 7 October 18.

Drop out champion says

Schools, unions, business not helping 'em

By Jim Sherman

Bill Matus is not a new champion of teenage boy dropouts; however, his recent statements show he is changing his approach to aiding their cause.

The executive director of Camp Oakland Youth Programs, Inc., is raising his voice in condemnation of the present lack of responsibility shown these young people.

He is urging various media to ask questions about programs and policies for assisting dropouts; and potential dropouts. At the same time, he is asking those who might come into contact with this age group to reassess their approach.

***

Last Thursday at Camp Oakland on Draher road in Oxford, the 20 boys in the Camp's Work Education program put the final roof board on a new 60x100 vocational building.

From start to finish, from moving in 280 yards of sand to the end, the 15 to 18-year-old boys have, or will have, done all the work.

Guided by Gale Shafer, the boys will do all the carpentry, electrical, plumbing, masonry and painting.

Other boys in the 14-year-old Work Ed program have built buildings, maintained others, fixed cars, farmed and done numerous other work-training jobs on Camp Oakland's property.

It is from his experience of working with these temporary wards of the Juvenile Division of Oakland County Probate Court that Matus is making conclusions about job training for dropouts.

These conclusions are: 1. Revise child labor laws. 2. Obtain, by force if necessary, union cooperation on apprenticeships for 16-17-year-olds. 3. Get business and industry to make sacrifices for these people. 4. Change social worker thinking.

Thursday Matus made this statement: We don't need prisons. What we need is to eliminate them. We could close 5 out of 6 of them if every community had programs similar to Camp Oakland's Work Education, where boys could work as apprentices and learn trades while going to school.

We know this program works. It could and must be available earlier in a boy's life in his own community... before he drops out of school, gets in trouble and is committed to us by the court.

We have concluded after our experiences at Camp Oakland that the child labor laws are no longer applicable. They should be reviewed and drastically changed. They keep boys under 18 from getting decent jobs or becoming apprentices if they drop out of school. The laws say a dropout can't work around construction or work with machinery before he's 18, yet he can drive a car at 16.

Labor unions are guilty, too. When boys finish their training here at Camp Oakland they can't get apprenticeships to become carpenters or plumbers or electricians because the unions have a monopoly and they don't want that many trained people available.

Business and industry have never made any real sacrifices for young people. Ford and General Motors and other big companies should step up to their responsibilities. They should invest more money in kids- and start apprentice programs for boys under 18.

Insurance companies also deserve some blame. They won't let businesses hire 16 and 17-year-olds because they don't want to take unnecessary risks. Even social workers and their local chapters have not lobbied for children with zeal and enthusiasm.

The schools have failed the young miserably. The strong educational lobbies in our state and national capitals really exist to perpetuate themselves and not to represent children. High schools WANT problem kids to drop out, the sooner the better. Vocational schools aren't worth a damn.

At Camp Oakland we have classrooms with eight boys in them, where boys are learning to read and spell and enjoying it. Why can't they get this kind of help in public schools? The public schools claim they can't afford it. So the taxpayers have to pay twice; locally and here, where it costs $21 a day for a boy. But if he goes to prison, it costs the taxpayers $7,000 a year.

Boys ought to have the chance to become mechanics, carpenters, plumbers and tradesmen earning good pay. Then they'll be so busy making out their income tax forms and making payments on their cars they won't lie around the parks smoking marijuana. If kids are working, they don't need drugs.

If the jobs aren't there then the government should create the jobs. It's cheaper than welfare and prisons.

We believe the great majority of young people are good and intelligent and deserve to be represented and considered.

There are three generations in this country today. We think they should all work together to make it a better country for the generations to come.

performance to the entire student body in the gymnasium. Besides music from all media, they also presented a folk trio and a barbershop quartet.

The Madrigal Singers were hosts for the day for both groups.

Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre, the Varsity chorus is sponsoring an "Ugly Man" contest, for all guys in the school as a way of adding to the activities of Homecoming week.

The object is to disguise his identity in a manner of being "Ugly," have a talent that is equal to it, and enter under a fictitious name. The winner will be presented the "Elmo Award." The public is invited to attend for a minimal charge at the door.

Oct. 15, the Madrigal Singers will be singing for the Queen's assembly in the afternoon. Singing numbers appropriate for the occasion, they will make their first formal presentation for the year in their new attire.

The girls will wear floor-length culotte dresses and the boys, blazers. Letters have been sent to most civic and church organizations within the community offering their services for entertainment.

If any organization would like to have such a group, contact the high school or Miss Grayce Warren.

This year, the two girls' glee clubs and chorus class, will be wearing navy blue sweaters for their performances. Letters and pins will identify their years of recognition to the organizations.

The Christmas concert date has been set for Dec. 16. Miss Grayce Warren is vocal music director at CHS.

REGULAR INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP BOARD MEETING

October 5, 1971

SYNOPSIS

The Board rejected the recommendation of the Area No Hunting Committee which failed to agree with the recommendation of the Township Board to close all game hunting south of I-75.

Motion by Bullen supported by Humbert that the Township recognize and pursue signed complaints of Woodhull residents or association members of Township ordinance violations; if violation exists Township Officer is to proceed with remedial action. The motion carried unanimously.

Support was given to H.B. No. 1040 which requires the covering of gravel hauling vehicles on the highways.

The Township Police Study Committee submitted a report accepted by the Board which took no immediate action on the committee's recommendation to contract with the County Sheriff's Department as an interim provision for additional township law enforcement.

The Board agreed to invite the Village of Clarkston to become a member of the North Oakland Utilities Authority.

Appointment to the Township Building Authority will begin by the selection of persons nominated by Board members.

The Board voted to defer action on proceeding with the site location of a proposed township park site in respect to a site that may serve as a better, an equal, or an alternate site to the recreational needs of the township.

Protective outdoor lighting is proposed for the Township Library.

A request was granted "Bottles for Building" to place a metal building in the Township Hall parking lot to maintain a neater appearance for waste glass collection.

A bid of $6800.00 from Ann Arbor Construction was accepted for the blacktopping of the Township Library if a previous bid of $4500.00 from Stolaruk Asphalt Paving is withdrawn.

CHS's marching musicians

The performances of Clarkston High School's marching band this football season have been outstanding. Band director Keith Sipos, right, in his second year here, has a great band following... won with his hard work, enthusiasm and ability to bring out the best in his student musicians. These pictures were taken at the Southfield Lathrup game.
