

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

I'm one of those men who has a favorite pair of old shoes to wear while doing dirty work. I have a hat for the same purpose.

These shoes are the ones I put on to paint, wash down the garage, or mow the yard. They're comfortable, and they're always convenient.

Well, I've got to decide on another pair. The sole broke loose from one I was wearing the other day. And, as I walked across the concrete floor a whole wave of nostalgia hit me.

Remember those depression days when a sole came loose from one of your shoes? What did you do about it? One thing I did was head for the cellar (that's what we called basements), and look for rubber rings Mother put around fruit jars for sealing.

I'd put them over the toe of my shoe as close as possible to the toe and head out to play again . . . or to school. New shoes for kids was a once-a-year occasion and until that day came we improvised.

Sometimes Dad would resole our shoes. Mother would buy the half soles, and Dad would get out glue and nails. Dad could never hammer anything without several nails sticking out his mouth. Best thing about that was he couldn't tell us what we were doing wrong with a mouth full of nails.

One by one he'd spit out a nail and hammer away, using up the required number of swings before he hit his thumb.

When we wore a hole in the sole, a piece of cardboard or two would get us through for a while.

At times, when we'd gone barefoot a lot and our feet hadn't grown too much, Mother would make our annual purchase tennis shoes.

Boy, could I run fast then. "I'll race ya to the windmill!"

Those tennis shoes were great, but Mother yelled a lot about washing my feet, "'Cause those shoes make your feet stink."

To this day I don't know if that's true.

Then there were the shoe strings with a couple knots . . . always on the wrong side of the hole.

In recalling all this it has dawned on me that I can't tell you how other classmates dressed.

I can't even tell you how my brothers dressed. I remember something about my sister being a straight girl in a straight dress, but perhaps my recollection is swayed by recently viewed pictures.

Come to think of it the pictures were recently taken too. If she reads that, things will warm up in Rome, N.Y.

'Pretty good cache' here

The state police, working with Clarkston Village police, raided an apartment at 59 S. Main Monday evening at 10:03.

"Five subjects were apprehended," according to the State Police Post; however, no further details were given. They said, "We don't give out such information while the case is pending."

It was expected to go to court late Tuesday or Wednesday.

Clarkston's Sgt. Jack Frost, who participated in the raid said, "It was a pretty good cache." Two of the people apprehended are married and have a 10-month-old child.

Frost said, "The place was quite a mess - psychedelic lights and the whole bit."

October 25

Opinion ballot in, boycott out

Parents of students in Clarkston School District will get to vote their opinion on busing.

Through the cooperation of the Board of Education and administration, the Clarkston Chapter of NAG (National Action Group) will distribute ballots, collect and count them.

This balloting will take the place of the reported boycott originally set for October 25.

More recently, the "proxy boycott" was suggested and Monday night, at a meeting of Chapter presidents in Pontiac, the opinion proxy emerged.

Mrs. Taylor Phillips, of Waldon road, local chapter president, said she told other NAG heads that the Clarkston Board of Education "is behind us right now," and that this was good. "We're for betterment of education," she said, and school attendance is "necessary for education."

Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent of schools, speaking for the Board, said, "We would have to support anything that will keep children in school."

The ballot, which is paid for by NAG, will carry both questions on busing. One side will state, "We are not withholding (blank) from school today in support of the planned boycott; however, we want our opinion recorded."

The ballot then says "We oppose busing and support legislation, etc." and on the other side is the reverse, "We oppose busing, etc." Space is allotted for response.

When the ballots are tabulated, the results will be sent to Pontiac and in turn sent to Washington.

Chickadee home hit second time

"What are we going to have to do now, hide our radio every time we leave the house?" Such was one of the questions Mrs. Thomas Humphrey, 5705 Chickadee, was asking herself Monday.

The Humphrey home was broken into Sunday evening for the second time since Sept. 27.

A new, solid door was installed on the service door in the garage attached to their home at 1 p.m. Sunday. It was broken open between 4:30 and 8:30 that evening.

This time the thieves took a portable color TV and a radio. The first time a radio, TV, iron and gun were taken.

Their dog, a Chihuahua was sprayed and was wandering around, bewildered.

Mrs. Humphrey said others have been losing gasoline and tires from their cars in the subdivision.

She said one of the county detectives said he understood why they were considering organizing their own patrol.

Set 'school' nites

The two junior high schools have scheduled their back-to-school-nights. For Clarkston Jr. High it's Nov. 2 and for Sashabaw Jr. High it's the next night, Nov. 3.

Both start at 7:15. Parents can see how and what their students learn these evenings and talk to teachers.

ACE - Lee Booker, 15, son of the Gordon Bookers of Holcomb street, led his team to a regional win at Atlas Valley Saturday. A hole-in-one helped him to a 36-40, and medalist honors. The Clarkston team goes to Midland Saturday to compete in the state finals. This is the first time a team from Clarkston has gone to the state finals.

Booker's hole-in-1 helps team to title

Led by sophomore Lee Booker and his hole-in-one, the Clarkston Wolves captured their regional golf championship Saturday. They did it at Atlas Valley on a team total of 329.

The hole-in-one was the first in high school regionals and came on the 205-yard eighth hole. The sophomore golfer used a 4 wood.

That shot allowed Booker to make the turn with even par, 36. Coupled with his 40 on the back nine, the 76 gave him medalist honors, also.

Filling out the team are Kirk Hart, who shot an 81, Tony Sanchez, 85 and Bill Bildstein, who carded an 87.

Saturday the Wolf team gets to play in the state finals at Midland. The Wolves are undefeated in league play.

Opposes forced busing

Sewer on schedule

1. The Independence Township Board went on record as opposing forced busing to achieve integration in schools.
2. Road Commission considering lesser standard for country roads.
3. Sewers on schedule; $1 million saved.
4. Board to hear building inspector.
5. Park site not approved, yet.
6. Petitioners oppose gravel pit.

These are some of the agenda items covered in Tuesday night's meeting of the Board.

On the first item, the 5 men voted in favor of a resolution opposing forced busing of students to achieve integration. It was copied from a like resolution passed by Berkley.

Howard Altman, clerk, and Gary Stonerock, supervisor, said they felt their opinion on this matter was personal; however, they voted with the rest. The understanding of the others was that they felt the people who elected them should know how they feel on this subject.

Paul VanRoekel, county highway engineer, answered Stonerock's letter asking the county to consider lowering their road construction standards in less populated areas of the county.

Stonerock said in his letter of Sept. 24 that curb and gutter on large lot subs off country roads was too high a requirement, that it would force multiple developments.

VanRoekel said he agreed, that the county road commission was considering lowering the standards on such developments.

He emphasized, though, that he was thinking in terms of 2 1/2 acre lots. Lots of 1/2 acre or less would continue under present road restrictions, he said.

Stonerock reported that it appeared sewer construction in the township was on schedule, that the Clinton Oakland interceptor would be ready in May, 1972. He said bids for Independence laterals would be out in a month, bonds would be sold in early January and construction start in February.

Also of concern was a question of a $1 million state grant. In the township's first application for the state money the $1 million wasn't reflected though it had been granted. The state said it had to be and rejected the application.

The amendment to be added to the application included the million and was approved by the board. The money will be granted, assured township attorney, Richard Campbell.

Stonerock's attempt to hire a replacement for the building inspector didn't pass the Board. He planned to fire the present inspector and hire a new one.

Altman said they hadn't faced the inspector to listen to him, and wondered at the inspector's future.

Stonerock said he hired the man, and he didn't work out to the supervisor's satisfaction.

The board will have a secret meeting Monday night, part of it with the inspector, to discuss the matter further.

The Board did not approve the application for the state grant of $38,600 for park funds. The application allowed the township to proceed toward the purchase of 40 acres on Sashabaw as a site.

The argument continued over which would be best, neighborhood parks or a larger park to serve township residents. A letter is coming from the Department of Natural Resources stating whether the grant can be used on other sites, if chosen, and how long the grant is available, Altman said. The Board will wait.

Petitions bearing 313 signatures were turned in to the Board opposing establishment of a gravel mining operation on 388 acres on Sashabaw, just north of Clarkston road.

This zoning appeal is before the township board of appeals. Mostly the signers opposed an asphalt plant on the property.

Unicameralism

Solution to almost everything

By Sue Gulley
Oxford Leader Associate Editor

The inadequacy of minor remedies offered for legislative ills has led to proposals for more radical changes in the structure of the legislature... changes in the nature of simplification.

There is a drive spearheaded by the Michigan State Jaycee organization, to get signatures for a unicameral legislature proposal, which they want on the 1972 ballot.

The theory behind this is that it will cure just about everything that is wrong with our present legislative disorganization, and the tremendous increase in the costs of this body.

The proposal for the one body has been discussed in many states but has been carried past the blue-print stage only in Nebraska, where a single house was installed in 1937.

Nebraska's experience indicates that the unicameral plan does make for greater simplicity in legislative organization and for clearer lines of responsibility in legislative organization and for clearer lines of responsibility to the people.

The entire legislative business of the state is transacted in a single body, so small in number that all members are known to one another, the press, and the public.

The legislators cannot lay the blame for their failures on a second chamber, for there is none. Nor are their achievements lost to sight in divided responsibilities.

They cannot escape criticism by claiming that their good intentions were defeated by party bosses, for they are chosen at non-partisan elections, and each member is the only person in the legislature to whom the voters in the district look for the representation of their ideas and interests.

If the member succeeds, the honor belongs to him; if he fails, the responsibility is at his door.

In these circumstances, the membership of the Nebraska legislature has risen in quality, as judged in terms of better education and higher status in professions and occupations.

Advocates of the Unicameral system say that this system reflects the spirit of simplicity and responsibility. Preliminary business is handled by only 11 committees and hence is not beclouded by distribution among forty or more committees divided between two houses.

Every bill is accorded a public hearing duly announced in advance thus laying affairs open to interested parties and the press. Another point to mention in favor of unicameralism is that the cost would be considerably lessened.

Five area homes will be open for inspection on Sunday, October 24 when the Clarkston Community Women's Club hold their first "House Tour" from 2 to 5 p.m. The pillared, colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Land on Allen Road will be among them. Admission to the tour will cost $2.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Martin at 58 N. Main Street will be one of the five featured on the House Tour on Sunday.

5 homes open Sunday

The day has nearly arrived for the Clarkston Community Women's Club Home Tour. Sunday 5 area homes will be opened from 2 to 5 for visitors with tickets.

Tour participants are asked to pick up brochures at the Township Library on Clarkston road before going to any of the homes. A map is in the brochure.

Tea and refreshments will be served at the library.

Homes featured will include the Dale Hill, California-modern home on Scenic Ridge Drive, the Vincent Bronsing log cabin on Walters Lake, the former Allen farm home which the Jack Lands have converted to French Provincial, the Tudor residence of the Alan Hawkes on Middle Lake road and the Greek revival Main Street residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin.

Proceeds will be used by the club for charitable and public service projects.

Pay attention! County wants more

There is seemingly no end to the gall and greed of many county officials, elected and appointed. And there will likely be no end to it until taxpayers climb on their commissioner's back and make him know your wishes.

One thing that is helping keep the money grabbers in there pitching is that it's so easy to ask and there is seemingly so little opposition from the commissioners.

Much of this, in our opinion, is because we voters in many cases don't even know who our Commissioner is. His title was changed from Supervisor and his number (87 to 27) reduced faster than we could comprehend.

Who is your Commissioner? How does he vote? When did you see him last? When was the last time you heard from him or saw his name in print?

His name is Richard "Dick" Wilcox and you can answer the rest yourself. Wilcox's district includes the Townships of Oxford, Independence, Holly, Brandon, Groveland and Springfield.

This is by way of letting you know what we think of the county's most recent appeal for more taxpayer money without a vote.

Louis Schimmel, Jr., director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan spells it out:

During the 1971 Allocation Board deliberations I specifically asked the following questions:

"Why doesn't the County consider levying .08 mill for drain bonded indebtedness over and above allocated millage as provided for by law?"

County officials responded as follows:

It is the policy of County Commissioners to not levy millage above what is allocated to the County by the Allocation Board.

The county then commenced to take .10 mill away from local schools in the allocation process.

It is interesting to note, in an article which appeared in the October 5 Pontiac Press, that the County Board of Auditors is NOW recommending that County Commissioners approve a levy of .08 mill for county drains in addition to the 5.26 mills already allocated to the county by the Allocation Board.

I think it would be a good idea if school boards and others would remind their local County Commissioners of the position they took (the Commissioners) on this matter during allocation deliberations.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Archie sits strangely

By Jim Fitzgerald

You might be impressed to learn that my family discussed The Last Supper at the dinner table the other evening. Real religious, huh?

Not really. Save your awe. The main subject of our conversation was actually Archie Bunker's TV show. All in the Family. The Last Supper just kind of slipped in at the end, unexpectedly, between I Love Lucy and Efrem Zimbalist Jr.

Obviously the discussion was not as religious as it was intellectual.

All in the Family is supposed to be more than just another situation comedy in the awful mold of Bachelor Father and I Led 3 Sons, or whatever that lousy thing is. Archie Bunker is the friendly neighborhood bigot. He is continually knocking the Jews and the niggers and the spiks and the polacks and the wops. Fred MacMurray would never do anything like that.

Archie is wrong, of course, but he's also pretty funny. And the show is supposed to contain some worthwhile "social commentary". The idea is that you, the viewer, see a lot of yourself in Archie. And when you see what a jerk Archie is, you solemnly resolve to go forth and bigot no more.

Which is a noble concept. Although I wonder if Archie isn't maybe a hero to a lot of viewers, sort of a George Wallace in hard hat. Some people couldn't see bigotry in themselves if they looked in the mirror and saw Lester Maddox.

But I always did worry too much. Back to the important things.

I told my family the Bunker show is the same as every other situation comedy in 1 vital aspect. It lacks reality. The Bunker family crowd around the same side of the dinner table, just like Lucy's family, the Beverly Hillbillies and Mary Tyler and Moore. This is artificial. If all 4 members of my family jammed together on the north side of the kitchen table, leaving the south side vacant, a passing stranger would think we were either nuts or perverts.

My family naturally urged their Wise Old Dad to reveal why the TV people arrange their seating so peculiarly.

"So they can all face the camera," I explained.

"They all sat on 1 side of the table at The Last Supper," my son said. "What channel was that on?"

I ignored this Christian aside and pointed out another example of strange sitting on TV. When 2 men are in the front seat of a car, the passenger always sits smack up against the driver. Even if they both work for the FBI and drive Ford's widest idea, they still sit so cozy it's a miracle if their neighbors aren't talking.

"It's the only way they can both get their heads on a 24-inch screen at the same time." I exclaimed with modest pride at my perceptiveness.

It was at this fascinating point in the conversation that my family insisted on swinging the conversation away from show biz. They are jealous of my superior knowledge in this field.

My wife had recently made her modeling debut in an underground style show. Photos of the event were passed around the table and she said she hadn't realized what a deep dimple she had in her chin.

"It's handy for carrying nickels for the parking meter," I said.

"I carry them in my navel," she said.

"Oh, that's where I carry lint," I said. "But only during the 40 days before Easter."

That's when they left the table. But at least they left on a religious note.

Onward and Upward.

blow from the...
Letters to the Editor

I gave $10 and ask for petitions

Dear Editor:

In reading the letter of Keith A. Humbert, published in your Oct. 14 paper, I believe he meant me, that dirty old man Fletcher, from the Ghetto in Woodhull.

He seems to accuse me of a terrible sin, called, putting the facts on the nitty-gritty of our lives. Also of publishing a hate sheet. Mr. Humbert, I would like to tell you about it.

Now you know, Mr. Humbert, I am going to tell the truth because, as you know, a liar can catch a liar real quick like. There is a group in the township intent on recalling Mr. Stonerock (also called Mr. Pebbles) and also you know your name has been mentioned.

Now, I am going to tell you about it, Humpy. I rented the box and donated the use of it to the men that have your buddy on the recall list. Then, I gave them $10. Also, I asked for a recall petition, and it is almost full. Just as soon as I get my next Social Security check, I will give them another ten dollars.

At that time, I will have money to buy gasoline with, so I will take two petitions out and get them signed. If your petition is ready, I will take out all I can carry.

Now, with regard to your opening statement, that you are "prime." I and others have studied your political carcass and we were unable to find any "prime" meat. We did find a lot of bull meat.

Now, Mr. Humbert, I want to make one thing clear, that you can accuse me of anything but don't accuse me of the following: beating my wife, or chasing her around the house with a shotgun, or beating my daughter. Now there are two things, that, if you accuse me of, I will sue. They are: One, that I have wrecked a truck. Two, that I received a traffic ticket for it.

Mr. Humbert, I am so glad you asked the people to come and see Woodhull. Why didn't I think of that? So, people of Mexico, United States and Canada, please come out to Woodhull and see what has happened when Mr. Humbert and Mr. Stonerock forgot their campaign promises.

It is now indicated they wanted to downgrade the area so HUD could come in. Folks, see what happens when a Township Supervisor refuses or ignores requests to enforce litter, garbage and the weed ordinances?

For the records on the requests made, check the township clerk's office.

Also, see what Detroit Edison left when they had trees topped in a manner that caused them to die. Take a look where Bell Telephone has used dead trees for telephone poles. Take a look at the right-of-way, where the Oakland County Road Commission has neglected to mow or clean up the rubbish. These three groups do not do this in other residential areas, so why, Humbert, should your Mr. Stonerock allow them to do it here?

While all of you people are here in Woodhull, I want you to see the garbage, litter and rubbish on a property that is the responsibility of George Woody, 4753 Circle Lane, Woodhull. It is called the Association Property, and he is the Chairman of the organization.

Now, I want all you people to know that I, one Lucky C. Fletcher, living at 4657 Center Street in Woodhull, did on this date, make a formal request to the Central Committee of the organization recalling Mr. Stonerock.

In this request I asked to be allowed extra recall petitions and the use of various records that indicate just a few of Stonerock's failures. I assure you, that obtaining of this favor was not easy. But after hours of filibustering the committee finally voted to accept my request.

May I indicate to all registered voters of the township that if they want to sign a recall petition or to carry one, stop and see me at the above address.

Mr. Humbert, it was difficult to answer your letter because there was a letter right next to yours that was from a Ku Klux Klan member. I am forced to ask questions because incidents that have happened in this area indicate bigotry and religious discrimination. Now, I want to be fair, so I read the Klan letter four times and your letter five times.

Mr. Humbert, on second thought I am not going to ask the questions. Instead, I will tell what happened. I have the documents or witnesses to prove all my statements. So, when anybody comes out I will introduce the people to whom these things happened, or I will produce documents of proof to show the public.

On Lakeview in Woodhull there is a property belonging to John Mulherin, a good Catholic and family man. Your Mr. Stonerock forced this man to put up $1,000 cash bond before he would let him bring the house up to code by remodeling.

He demanded a work schedule that no man could meet with if he had to do the work himself, while earning a living for six children. This man has had to quit his job, to work on the house to keep from losing this bond. The man now needs the bond money to feed his hungry children.

On the corner of Hillcrest and Fourth there is a house for which the owner asked for a building permit to bring the dwelling up to code. Stonerock refused, and there are witnesses to this refusal. Oh, yes, Catholic owner again.

Right next door to this house, a Catholic bought a house for one of his children. When he went to get a permit, this Supervisor asked him for a $5,000 bond. It seems when you are both Catholic and Mexican this Supervisor really demands a bond. There are witnesses and records to the Catholic and Mexican problems. No other individual or religion in the area had to put up a bond. Why is it so often the Catholic that Stonerock treats in this manner?

Mr. Humbert, I have checked all ordinances, building codes and minutes of meetings and I cannot find where the Supervisor has the right to demand that kind of a bond from a homeowner. Remember, Humbert, I said a homeowner, so don't try to confuse it with a contractor's bond.

You are not Catholic, neither is Stonerock, that I will acknowledge to. Now, you have been such a strong Stonerock man in the past, I have to classify you in the same manner.

Due to Stonerock's attitude towards these Catholics in Woodhull you two are going to have one helluva time convincing me that you are not members of the Ku Klux Klan.

By the way, folks, I am not Catholic, but at the same time I am going to fight to defend a Catholic in his right to equal consideration.

Mr. Humbert, in closing I want to say this brings back memories from about a year ago. At that time, Mr. Stonerock and apparently you, did not seem to think The Clarkston News had adequate circulation for your needs. Now it seems somebody has changed their minds.

Here comes your letter, published in the paper. So, tell me Humpy, don't you really think our local paper does a pretty good job after all that has been said and done?

Since Mr. Humbert has in his letter so graciously offered about 17,000 people one hour of his time each month just to answer questions, I am forced to go one better. I will be available eight hours a day, seven days a week, to introduce people to a witness, produce a document of record, or to tell people where the records are kept.

Now, if you ask Mr. Stonerock, he may refuse to show a public record. He did that to me and I can produce the people that heard the refusal to show the records.

Sincerely,
 Lucky C. Fletcher

Mrs. Eric Haven

Havens honeymoon in Disneyland, Calif.

Saturday, Nancy Jo Weiss exchanged wedding vows with Eric Haven at Waterford Community Church.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weiss, 42 North Main, Mrs. Haven is a Clarkston High School graduate and senior nursing student at Grace Hospital.

The groom is a University of Michigan graduate with GMTC. He is from Madison Heights and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haven of Traverse City.

About 250 guests attended the ceremony conducted by the Rev. James Grider before a candlelit altar.

The bride wore a floor length traditional gown with lace sleeves, silk organza and lace chapel train with Sabrina neckline highlighted with sequins and pearls. She wore a 3-tiered illusion veil and cap of silk etched in seed pearls.

Miss Holly Haven, of Grand Rapids, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Mrs. James Cseh, a cousin, Mrs. Phillip Nelson and Mrs. Keith Mueller were attendants.

The best man was Robert Barker of Grand Ledge and ushers were John Jackey, Phil Nelson, David Erickson, Lanny Haven and Dan Williams.

The reception was in Addison Oaks.

The couple is honeymooning in Disneyland, Calif., and upon their return will live in Madison Heights.

The Charles Lyons at home in Lake Orion

Mrs. Charles Lyons

Sharon Lynn Srock was married to Charles Warren Lyons October 9 in St. Stephens Lutheran Church, Drayton Plains.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Srock, 8020 Foster road, Clarkston. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lyons of Oak Park.

The couple exchanged rings before about 200 guests in a ceremony officiated by the Rev. E. Dale Evanson.

The new Mrs. Lyons wore an Empire gown of chiffon with Venice lace trim, high ruffled neckline, Bishop sleeves and a chapel length mantilla veil.

Sheri Mielke of Clarkston was the maid of honor and attendants included Patricia Caverly, Mrs. Roderick Craves, Mrs. Larry Srock, and Mrs. Dale Pomeroy.

Roderick Craves was the best man and ushers were Larry Srock, Dale Pomeroy, Richard Czubaj, Blake Green, Sam Sheikh and Charles Jones.

The reception took place at Waterford CAI Building, after which the couple left for a honeymoon in Florida.

The Lyons are making their home in Lake Orion.

Benefit from Day

The Dorcas Circle of the United Methodist Church will benefit again this year from a "Boothby Day."

On this day, October 27 from 9:30 to 6, Boothby's Gifts, 7081 Dixie, will give the club 20 percent of its cash sales.

Wedding invitations and accessories quickly, precisely printed at the Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston. 625-3370.

Back from Israeli

The Nelson Kimballs of No. Main St. are home from their recent visit to Israel. Their trip coincided with the end of the Jewish holiday season Yom Kippur. The holiday came to a close with the celebrated dance of the Five Torah (Five Books of the Bible).

The Kimballs were fortunate enough to be invited to a Bar Mitzvah in Jerusalem. While in the ancient holy city they visited the Wailing Wall and found tight security. On a tour of the country, they visited the Dead Sea and the Red Sea along with the resort of Heazylia.

Evening library hours are now in effect on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 10 a.m. til 9 p.m. The Library staff hopes to make hours more convenient to the public.

The Library Story Hour is proving to be quite popular with the young fry. Over 25 four and five-year-olds were present for last Thursday's "Goodbye Summer Hello Fall Party." A big treat is coming Oct. 28 Story Hour. All children are welcome. Story Hour begins at 10:15 a.m.

George Phillips of Snow Apple Dr. has been busy over the summer preparing for his photographic show at the Xochippi Gallery in Rochester this month. Many of his shots are from sunny Florida - viewing the show may help ward off the coming cold weather.

Next spring we will see all the beautiful tulips and flowering trees now being planted as part of the school site development at the Pine Knob Elementary.

The trees were donated last June in honor of Mrs. DeNise, school secretary, and Dave Westlund, Pine Knob Principal, by the Pine Knob PTA.

Diane Freitag celebrated her 12th birthday a day early this year, so her family could join her for her Girl Scout Troop's Rededication Ceremonies. 60 persons enjoyed a family potluck and ceremonies of GS Troop 210.

Darlene Freitag celebrated her 5th birthday also last week. Both celebrations included family parties.

This week is Bazaar Week at the Pontiac Mall. And behind a gigantic fruitcake you will find Super Salesmen from Clarkston, including Don Place, Gary Stonerock, Terry Thomas, Doug Foyteck and Bill Kunse. Their goodies include Claxton Fruit Cakes and mixed nuts. Civitan projects help aid retarded children.

Many Clarkston women enjoyed Eve Arden at the Town Hall series. All agreed she's come a long way from "Our Miss

Around the Township by Joette Kunse

Brooks."

We haven't heard from you. What has your family been doing? If it's the last visit to the cabin or a trip up north to view the season's colors, let us know your experiences and travels.

Holding Mission

A period of spiritual inventory and personal re-evaluation begins at Our Lady of the Lakes Parish Sunday. This spiritual audit is in the form of a Parish Mission to be conducted by Augustinian Father Jerome Heyman Oct. 24-29. The opening service will be Sunday, Oct. 24 at 7:30 p.m. (No mass at this opening service.) From Monday through Friday, the schedule will be Mass at 9 a.m. and evening Mass and instructions at 7:30 p.m. Confessions every evening after 7:30 services.

Music Club growing, set get acquainted night

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of 9885 Reese Rd. announce the engagement of Pamela Joyce Smith and Robert Vernon Taylor, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vernon Taylor of 1227 Tull Road, Pontiac. Pamela is a 1971 graduate of Clarkston High School and Robert was graduated from Waterford Township High School in 1970. No wedding date has been set.

"Lakeland Sounds of Music" is the name of a 1-year-old club in this area which is dedicated to music and the fine arts.

The young club had a successful first year and hopes to function with even more vim and vigor this year.

At once a month meetings, plans for activities are made, followed by a musical program and refreshments.

These meetings are held on the fourth Monday of each month at 8 p.m. Some are held in homes and others in the area schools.

Programs on the agenda for this year include such things as: a young Detroit vocalist, a couples' Christmas caroling and potluck, an arts, crafts and poetry night, a duo-piano program of all American music, the Clarkston High School Madrigal Singers, an all youth night with ballet, a group of singers from Waterford Kettering High School, our own Interlochen scholarship winner, and much more.

Some of the service activities in the past have been a visit by some members each month to the Oakland County Hospital on Telegraph and financially assisting a student to attend Interlochen Music Camp this past summer.

It is hoped that we can form a Jr. Club this year which will give an opportunity to the young people of the area who have talent to perform for each other, therefore becoming more professional in their performances.

It will also prepare them to try for scholarships and give them a feeling of accomplishment by sharing their talents with each other and perhaps some less fortunate shut-ins as those at the Oakland County Hospital and nursing homes, where a visitor means so much.

The club is anxious to find many more interested people as new members. Persons can be performers, listeners, or just very interested, to be good members.

A membership and get-acquainted party will be held on Monday, Oct. 25 at the home of Mrs. Floyd Hicks, 3516 Lakewood Dr., Drayton Plains. The time is 8 p.m.

Any interested woman in this area will be welcomed and may call Mrs. William Race, president, 625-2288 or Mrs. Hicks, 674-3852. Students in the area who are interested in the junior group can also call Mrs. Race.

Spiritual Message

Rev. Frank A. Cozadd

All I am, all I have, all I know, all I can do, is a trust from Almighty God, to be used for my highest good, for the good of my fellow man, for the glory of God, and for the advancement of the Kingdom of God on earth.

This is the principle that guides the life of the committed Christian.

When you find people who think like this in a church, you know you have discovered a real church. They accomplish their every task with thoroughness, devotion and fervor.

In I Samuel 21:8 we read, "The king's business required haste." We need a sense of urgency about the business of the church.

Here are some other words of scripture to wrestle with: "Woe to them that are at ease in Zion;" "No man, having put his hand to the plow and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God;"

"The harvest is indeed plenteous but the laborers are few;" "You know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord;" "I must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work;"

"Let us not be weary in well-doing; for in due season we shall reap if we faint not;" "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord."

There is much work to be done. It is the most important work on earth. It is work you must do for the sake of your own soul.

Will you give your time, talents and treasures to be used for your highest good -

... for the good of your fellowman?

... for the Glory of God?
... for the advancement of God's Kingdom on earth?

If you will, then it means that you will want to serve instead of dominate; to be useful, instead of important; to walk humbly before God, instead of parading before man; to give, instead of to get.

Clarkston NAG's

They'll run down rumors for you

The Clarkston chapter of NAG (National Action Group) has established a "Rumor Control Center," and published 4 names and numbers.

One to call is Mrs. Taylor Phillips, president of the chapter (625-5275). She said they were copying a Pontiac call center... they will answer or run down any rumors you might question on busing or their group. Mrs. Phillips said they would also seek reports of incidents, real and rumored, in schools.

Milford Mason, administrative assistant in Clarkston School District, said their offices could be contacted concerning matters pertaining to schools or education locally.

"Just a short time after Judge Roth's announcement (on segregation) many people called us, and we are pleased they did," Mason said.

Mrs. Janet Rose, right, learns how to make original instruction tapes for Clarkston first graders. Oakland Schools' Media Consultant Patrick Mardney explains how to combine a section of a phonograph record with other sound materials to Mrs. Rose and a Clawson teacher, center.

Learns teaching aids

Mrs. Janet Rose, Clarkston Elementary School, was one of 24 Oakland County teachers who spent last Saturday morning learning what records and tapes can add to teaching.

Held at Oakland Schools second floor, the class was the first of a series of after-school and Saturday morning sessions in which teachers will investigate the possibilities of bulletin boards, overhead projectors and graphic arts for classroom instruction.

The classes are taught by Dr. Robert Johnson, Director of Media for Oakland Schools, Patrick Mardney and Mrs. Denise Jenkins, Media Consultants.

They are open to teachers and other educators in the 28 constituent districts of Oakland Schools. Teachers may enroll by calling Oakland Oakland Schools Media Center at 338-1011.

Briefly told

If there is one thing this world has been waiting to see it's the skeleton of a Mastodon that suffered back trouble all his life. It and other "glorious gems" will be at Waterford Gem and Mineral Club Show in the Gold Room of OU Saturday and Sunday. Don't push.

The Clarkston NAG's have a meeting for Independence residents set for Thursday, 7:30 p.m., in the VFW Hall, 1690 Airport road.

Mrs. Phillips said Representatives Loren Anderson and Arthur Law have accepted invitations to speak along with Independence trustee Keith Humbert and Jack VanNorman, trustee and membership chairman of American Legion Post 1008.

The hall will hold about 500. 600 to 700 attended the first meeting in the courthouse.

"I feel there is a need," Mrs. Phillips said, "for a rumor center where people can get their questions answered without calling schools or officials. Sometimes we can get answers quicker than other people."

She went on, "There are a lot of people who are concerned about busing and a lot of people are not. I'm all for keeping the neighborhood school concept. Our organization is not a black vs white group.

"It (neighborhood schools) is one freedom if we don't fight for it will be taken from us.

"Once this is settled I hope the group stays together and works to keep freedom legislation. There are other causes that need support," concluded Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. Phillips has been attending meetings of like-groups for 2 years. While in Pontiac, she has lived on Waldon road 6 weeks, she went to "Concerned Parents" meetings. They split and Northside Action Group was organized. More recently the two went back together and NAG was the result.

Mrs. Phillips said the local chapter was soliciting funds to support their cause. They have a box number in Clarkston, 274, and seek donations door to door and at meetings.

Each month part of the money goes to Pontiac and some stays here for postage and costs. The Pontiac connection would give them attorney representation should they need it, plus helping the nation-wide movement.

Local people handling the money are bonded.

Besides asking for money the Clarkston chapter has sweat shirts for 50 cents and sales are planned to raise funds.

Jaycee-student bottle drive gets record 35 tons

Checking the 'Bottles' drive route, Karl Nadolsky, Gordon Mason, and Butch Krich.

Students and Jaycees worked together to pick up 35 tons of glass for October's Bottles for Building drive.

Chairman Karl Nadolsky, a teacher at Clarkston Junior High, decided to combine Jaycee guidance with student enthusiasm to get students involved in a constructive community project.

The Jaycees provide trucks, drivers and supervisors. The students provided added manpower by de-ringing and sorting bottles and riding on the trucks which picked up the various areas around Independence Township.

Comments from students seem to show much interest in this ecological project.

Future drives will probably be the scene of even more student involvement.

The Clarkston Jaycettes provided the crew with barbecues and cold drinks. Next month, the Rotary Club and a newly organized group, the Civitans, will coordinate the drive.

The 35 tons is a new monthly record for the 10-month old project. It tops August's 33 tons.

Barbacoa

By Bob Beemer

I enjoy the look on people's faces when in the middle of winter, and we're having a dinner party, announcing that it's time to put on the charcoal and head out the door armed with matches, sweater and martini. Why people think the end of summer is the end of outdoor grilling, I can't quite grasp.

A few weeks ago, I had the pleasure of dining at The Cattleman's Restaurant at 5 East 45th in New York. The address is for anyone who may be lucky enough to be going there soon.

Don't miss it. Dinner is a real production. In addition to dinner, I came away with one of the finest books on beef I've ever seen.

The book is written by Carol Truax and S. Omar Barker. Truax has a great sense of humor and a mind that seems to be more than a little like Irma Bombeck's. Most of us have borrowed a water pistol from one of our children to control the flames during broiling and she suggests the same thing.

However, "Lacking a child, you can drop a small piece of ice out of your martini on the offending flame." You've got to love someone who sees things as you do.

The name "Barbacoa" came from the people of our southwest - Mexican and Spanish descent. We've changed it over the years to its present form.

My way takes some doing but I like the results. I stack up about 40 or 50 charcoal briquets and soak with lighter fluid. Proper waiting time before lighting is four sips of your own antifreeze and a half of a cigarette. Toss on a match and leave the premises for thirty minutes. And leave the grill portion of your rig off during the burning time.

I use this waiting time for the final preparation of the meat. The steak should have been out of the refrigerator for several hours before this and well out of reach of any dogs in the house.

Even cooking is possible only with meat at an even temperature all the way through. Seasoning, etc., is too much a matter of personal preference to comment on.

Now you're back to the grill with a fresh libation in hand, asbestos gloves, cooking oil with brush, various seasonings and your tongs. That's TONGS, not FORK.

Puncturing the meat allows the juices to escape. You probably won't care if you cook yours well done. But then, if you like your steak that way, you would have sent me a letter of complaint before this.

Now's the time to put the grill portion back in place and brush well with oil. The coals will have been spread out evenly before placing the grill in position, just large enough to be directly below the meat and concentrate the heat to the meat and not the outdoors.

One and one-half inches thick is my favorite thickness for steak. This way, you can count on being all done with your cooking ranging from a minimum of 8 minutes for extremely rare to a maximum of 20 minutes for the shoeleather fans among your guests. When I accidentally invite one of these latter creatures, I just make sure we don't have steak the next time they come over.

Here's a final hint from the Cattleman's for those who like juicy rare hamburgers. Stick a small ice cube in the middle of the patty and cook as usual. You'll love 'em this way.

Silent Observer

Solution to apathy

By Sue Gulley

The "Silent Observer" is coming and it might mean a profit for someone.

The North Oakland County Chamber of Commerce, desirous of making our communities a better place in which to live, has created a cash-reward program called the "Silent Observer" to assist law enforcement officials in solving crimes.

Cash rewards will be paid to individuals who provide information leading to the arrest and conviction of criminals in the cities, villages and townships of north Oakland County. Rewards range from $50 to $1,000.

Any citizen with knowledge of a crime committed or about to be committed should call the state, county, city or township police department in his area and identify himself as a "Silent Observer" if he wishes to remain anonymous. If desired by the informant, his true name and address may be used.

The identification of the "Silent Observer" is established when the police are called by giving a coded number, such as social security, phone or license number, in scrambled order which can be readily recalled. The police will then follow standard investigation procedure with the information provided.

If a conviction is the direct result of the information provided by the "Silent Observer," he is then entitled to the reward.

The story of the conviction will be printed in the newspapers and the Silent Observer will be advised to call the Chamber of Commerce using his coded identification.

Confidential arrangements will be made by the Silent Observer Rewards

Committee for payment of the reward money, upon determination of eligibility.

Those ineligible for rewards are law enforcement personnel, security guards, employees on duty of affected premises and victims of the crime.

Reward for information leading to arrest and conviction for murder will be $1,000. Armed robbery, arson, breaking and entering, larceny from a building and the sale of certain narcotics will net the Silent Observer $500. All other felonies rewards are $50.

Independence Township Supervisor Gary Stonerock encourages local participation in the program. At last week's board meeting he said, "I encourage businesses and citizens to support it as a deterrent to crime."

The Board agreed with Stonerock and moved to endorse the Silent Observer approach.

Plea for $47,000 'lost', asking $86,000 this time

What happened to the Emergency Employment Act money Independence Township was entitled to?

$47,000 was applied for. It was to go for a Department of Public Works head, a janitor and 2 policemen.

Supervisor Gary Stonerock suggests there was a "pocket veto" of his application for the funds on the part of the county.

The deadline, supposedly, for filing for these EEA funds was Oct. 1 at 4 p.m. Stonerock said he knew this and therefore made a special effort to get to the county auditor's at noon that date.

He felt the money would help the township finance their own police department should they choose to do so.

(EEA money is given by the Federal government to the counties for distribution to smaller units of government.)

When no word was received on the application, Stonerock said he called the county board of auditors' chairman, Dan Murphy. Murphy said he had no application from Independence.

"He said it was lost," the supervisor said.

This all took place before October 12. At the Clarkston Council meeting October 12 village president Richard Johnston said the county had called, urging them to get an application in for an EEA grant.

The project was thoroughly discussed by the Council. In the end it was decided to fill out the application and ask for 2 men.

The Village could apply 2 weeks after the deadline.

The township's application was lost 2 weeks before that.

Now the township has been informed by Murphy that there is a second EEA Act that has funds the township can apply for.

This is called Title 6. Stonerock said he is applying for $86,000 from this grant and the number 1 priority is for police.

"I'm asking for 3 for the police department," he said. He hopes it isn't lost.

Village hiring 'extra' help

Last week the Village of Clarkston advertised for employes. Their employment is to be funded 90 percent by the Federal Emergency Employment Act and 10 percent by the village.

Applications are still being taken, at least through Friday.

This Act money is given to county governments for local distribution. Clarkston Schools hired 3 people through the program.

Clarkston's application for funds was for $20,355.00. The village's share is $2,611. The persons to be hired are to do general street maintenance and perhaps some police duty, according to discussion at the Council table last week.

The new employees are to do extra work around the village, work that would not be gotten to by part time employes of the village. Their status is not to be affected.

Public info meeting Tues.

Independence residents can learn more about the public safety approach to police protection at a public information meeting Tuesday night.

Supervisor Gary Stonerock says panelists have been invited to talk on the subject beginning at 7:30 at the Little Theatre in the high school.

One speaker is William Weiss, a Detroit businessman who formerly served as public safety director of Fraser. Glen Leonard, public safety representative for SEMCOG will also appear.

Completing the panel is Lew Wint, chairman of the township's police study committee and a representative of the county sheriff's department, or Dan

Murphy, chairman of the county board of auditors.

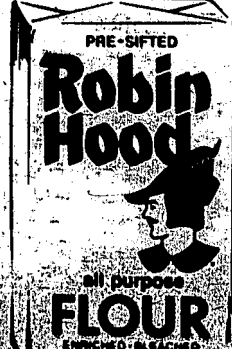

Gaining

The Independence section of the Pontiac Area United Fund Community Division Campaign reported Friday it has collected $744.50 or 19.0% of its $3,916 goal.

Mrs. Larry (Judy) Ettinger, 2070 Denby Dr., Co-Chairman of Community Division's Drive, made the report.

The campaign will continue until November 5.

Former Councilman

Charges police with harassing his son

The Clarkston Police Dept. has been severely criticized by a former Councilman.

Jack Hagen, who resigned from the Council in July after being elected in 1968 and 1970, aired his grievances at last Tuesday's meeting.

He charged Village police with "harassing" his son, and quoted his son as saying the police told him to "Get the hell off the street or get the hell out of town."

Hagen served as Police Commissioner while on the Council. He said he ran for the seat to learn more about how the Police Dept. and Village was run.

He told the Council an older son had been mistreated by the police in years past. Asked by trustee Floyd Tower what treatment his sons received when he was Police Commissioner, Hagen said he would tell him in private, but not in public.

Hagen started his blast by referring to Ordinance 64; it covers "disorderly persons." He said, "I was upset with it at the time it passed. It put an awful lot of authority in the hands of unqualified personnel."

"I've had occasion," Hagen continued, "to have police send my youngest boy home 4 times at around 8 or 8:30. Tell the police either to ticket the boy or leave him alone, but quit harassing him. Let's bring it to a head."

Hagen read the section of the law dealing with Harassment. He used this section in bringing the charges of harassment on the police.

"I consider it harassment on the part of the Village police. If it doesn't stop, there'll be other matters taken on it," Hagen said. Asked what matters, he said, "Probably legal."

President Richard Johnston said he learned from the police that they pursued the Hagen boy home once after the police car had been stoned.

Hagen countered with, "Then why didn't they charge him or come and see me?"

The former Councilman asked if the members thought it was the intention of the ordinance to run the kids off the streets of Clarkston.

Tower responded that this was not the intention of the ordinance.

Johnston pointed out that the park was much less inhabited since the ordinance passed and added, "There are 2 sides of every story. I'd like to hear both sides. I will check it out, and have a police dept. meeting with the police committee from the Council so we can come to an understanding."

Trustee Richard Weiss added the closer, "Common sense has to be used in all instances."

Wolves up league record, face leaders

By Craig Moore

Clarkston's platoon tactics delivered the goods Friday as the Wolves took a 34-20 homecoming victory over the Clarenceville Trojans.

The Wolves got an early start in the first quarter, climaxing a 70-yard drive with a 5-yard scoring run by Bill Hamilton. Bruce Soulby kicked the extra point, his first of 4 in the game.

Clarkston quarterback Mark Warren added another 6 to the scoreboard in the second quarter on a 1 yard dive. With Soulby's PAT the score went to 14-0.

Clarenceville scored on a 34-yard touchdown pass from Trojan quarterback Paul Simons to Jim Hover. The attempted extra point run failed.

The Wolves marched right back down the field and sent Hamilton in again from the 10 to give CHS a 21-6 lead at the half.

Dan Taylor charged in from the 1-yard line, giving Clarkston a 27-6 advantage at the third quarter mark.

A sudden fourth quarter Clarenceville surge cut the Clarkston margin down to 27-20. Both Clarenceville scorers came in from the one yard line.

However, Clarkston came back with an insuring score on an 11 yard pass from Warren to Mark Stapleton. Soulby kicked the extra point and the Wolves topped Clarenceville, 34-20.

Clarkston managed 324 yards on the ground to the Trojans' 147.

The Wolves sport a 2-1 league record and are 2-3 overall.

Next Friday, Oct. 22, the Clarkston Wolves travel to West Bloomfield to battle the league leading Lakers. Game time is 8 p.m.

Rod Latimer hauls in a pass from quarterback Mark Warren.

For Jr Hi girls only

A recreation program for junior high girls gets underway Wednesday, October 27 with a flag football game.

Sponsored by the Clarkston Jayettes, the plan calls for involving all 7th, 8th and 9th grade girls in planned recreation once a month.

The first five dates are all Wednesdays; however, no date has been set for March and April. The final meeting, May 26, will be a Sadie Hawkins bonfire.

The first program will take place at both junior high schools. Four girls from the high school will act as referees at the junior highs.

The flag football games will run from 3 to 5 p.m.

Other events scheduled are:
Nov. 17, Trampoline and mats
Dec. 15, same
Jan. 19, skin and hair care
Feb. 16, variety show.

Music 'council' to help

band and chorus at CHS

Again this year, selected students from Madrigal Singers and the Varsity Chorus of CHS will participate in the Wayne Oakland League Choir. It will take place in February.

Something new has been added to the department this year, according to Miss Grayce Warren, local music director of CHS.

There is a Music Department Council, which is comprised of representatives from each of the Chorus classes and from the Band. This Council works together to help improve the Dept., discuss matters related to both groups, and also plan activities and events throughout the year.

Also new, is the addition of a beginning piano class. This is a semester course offered to students who would like to gain the knowledge of the basics of piano technique, theory and general piano background.

The Music Department and Drama Department will be working quite closely again this year on the production of the Musical "Once Upon a Mattress," which will be performed in the spring.

In addition to these events, there will be other concerts presented by the department throughout the course of the year.

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News, 5 South Main, Clarkston.

Wolverine record 2-2

At the halfway point of the football season, Clarkston Junior High's Wolverines have posted 2 wins and 2 losses.

EAST HILLS

In a rematch of the Sept. 29 game in which the Wolverines suffered their first loss, the Clarkston team was again defeated by East Hills, this time 28 to 16.

Scoring in the losing cause were Jerry Molina, a TD, Mark Blumenau, a TD, George Porritt an extra point, and Chris Vosie, an extra point on a pass from George Porritt.

MASON

The Wolverines evened their record to .500 with a fine 24 to 0 shutout victory over Mason Junior High from Waterford. Leading scorer for the Wolverines with 2 TD's, was Rich Mahar. Jerry Molina scored a TD on a 90 yard run from scrimmage and Chris Vosie scored on a pass from George Porritt.

The Wolverines will host West Hills J. H. on Thursday, Oct. 21 at 7:00 p.m. on the high school field.

Three Chiefs face Lakers

Oct. 24 the 3-unit team of the Independence Township Chiefs will entertain the Lakeland Lakers.

The first game will start at 12:30 p.m. on the Clarkston Senior High School football field.

The results of games played the past two weekends are:

Cancer

Looking back on recent cancer research, the experts now agree they know more about diagnosing a tumor than they know about dealing with it. Said Dr. Judah Folkman: "There are many tumors we can now spot that we cannot treat."

Drugs have been useful in some cancers—but they are among the most rare type. The outlook for the most common cancers (lung, digestive system, breast) is still pretty glum.

Once a cancer has spread beyond its original site to other parts of the body, the surgeon can only offer treatment to reduce pain and enable the patient to work and live at home. That's a great deal to those racked by the pain of cancer.

However, most cancers can still be removed, irradiated or treated with drugs if they're caught in the earliest stages. That's why advances in diagnosis are important; perhaps as vital as research into the various causes of cancer.

If the basic mechanism of a malignant growth can be found, perhaps prevention will follow. If a virus is responsible, it may be possible to create a vaccine. If chemicals are to blame, it may be possible to eliminate them from our environment.

This hasn't always proven true, up to now. Dr. Sidney Farber, American Cancer Society president, points out that cigarette smoking has been linked to lung cancer, but millions still smoke. Overexposure to the sun has been shown to cause skin cancer, but millions still sun bathe at every opportunity.

"There may be no single answer to the cancer problem," he said. "None of the answers may be simple, but the future has never looked brighter for a sustained, continuing effort."

News cures

homesickness

Dear Editor:

One of the greatest pleasures I can think of after a long day's work here in Oakinaw, is coming to the barracks, taking a shower, then relaxing while reading the Clarkston News.

Your paper is the next best thing to home. Words really can't explain how close this paper brings me to home. If there ever was a cure for home-sickness, the Clarkston News would be mine. Thank you for such a great paper.

Snowmobile fever

No one can ride just one

By Jim Sherman

Most of us have experienced Spring Fever, or been hit with the ski bug, or had our senses dulled with the expectations of deer hunting season or otherwise been affected by maladies of nature and outdoors.

But nothing can match the intensity of fever being generated by snowmobile enthusiasts.

Men who have hated winter and every flake of snow for years are wearing buttons and bumper stickers that read, "Think Snow."

I heard more discussions on snowmobile mechanics, horse power, safaris, and daring during the past golf sessions than I did about golf.

And now the fever, which never cooled to normal since the last thaw of Spring, is growing again. Surely there will be an epidemic of varoom-varoom's if an icy blast doesn't descend by Thanksgiving.

The men are ready. The ads are clamoring for takers.

"Ski-Doo '72" ... "Yamaha, it's a better machine" ... "you can count on the Cat" ... "Ariens record setting racing sleds" ... "Bolens, the Bold Breed for '72" ... and Scorpion saying, "Look out Cat, look out Ski-Doo, the big one is coming thru."

"Rupp's got class," "Drive Mercury," and John Deere, and Harley Davidson, and Evinrude, and Johnson, and Sno Jet, and Boa Ski and Moto Ski, and I think I'm going to throw up.

What's happened with all this urge to buy and friends urging you to go, is that man now has to have two snowmobiles.

And, if there are kids you may need a trailer for 4, plus a fibreglas sled.

It's interesting, though, hearing men tell each other the arguments they used to gain HER approval on the second investment in "over the snow we go at 30 below" vehicle.

I remember that we were given 2 lamps for a wedding present in 1949. I asked then, "Why 2?" Later we went to get an end table, and we ended up with a matched set. Again I asked, "Why 2?" It's been the same with chairs.

My wife would draw herself up like a banty rooster and state (leaving no opportunity to challenge), "You can't have just one!"

Men are doing the same thing with snowmobiles, only men just sort of mumble, "You can't have just one!"

We need one for the other foot. We need one in case the first one breaks down. We need one when you go with us, dear. We need one to balance out the trailer.

The excuse can be anything, because having 2 is the thing to do in '72.

One thing about snowmobiles, though. They get men out of the house more often so women won't be bothered and they can try to get that work done ...

That's it! The excuse I need. I'll remind the battle-axe of the saying, "Man, he works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done," then I'll tell her I need another snowmobile so I can get out of the house more so she can work a little harder and longer at getting her woman's work done.

Sure I will!

Carol, this week's teen

This year the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee will honor a teenage student each week for his service to the school and community.

Last year CAYAC selected an outstanding teenager once a month during the last 4 months of the school year.

The first selection this year is Carol Galbraith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Galbraith, 6230 Overlook. Carol is 17 and a senior at Clarkston High. She was named to the National Honor Society as a high school junior and is a member of the GAA.

As a Senior Girl Scout Carol has worked on Bottles for Building and has spent Sundays at a nursing home in Ortonville playing bingo with patients, as well as doing other activities with them.

She is also a candy stripper at Pontiac General Hospital. This is in keeping with her hopes after graduation. She plans to enter Ferris State College and study to become a medical technician.

Kutting Korners

The most famous Hungarian dish is probably Goulash yet we have misnamed a combination of ground beef, tomatoes, macaroni and cheese as Goulash here in the United States. Real Goulash is actually a stew. Here is the real thing:

A simple menu adds to the success of a dinner party. Goulash with noodles is a dish that can be started early in the day and simmered to perfection while the hostess finishes other party preparations.

HUNGARIAN GOULASH WITH NOODLES

- 4½ pounds onions, thinly sliced
- ¼ pound butter or margarine
- 4½ pounds cubed beef
- 3 tablespoons sweet paprika
- 2 tablespoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 quarts water
- 3 tablespoons salt
- 6 to 9 quarts boiling water
- 1½ pounds wide egg noodles (about 12 cups)
- 1/3 cup poppy seeds (optional)

In a large kettle or dutch oven, saute onions in butter about five minutes; add beef, paprika, two tablespoons salt, pepper and two quarts water. Simmer covered two hours or until meat is tender, stirring occasionally.

Add three tablespoons salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. (You may cook noodles in one or more pots, according to sizes available. Use proportion of three quarts rapidly boiling water and one tablespoon salt to eight ounces of noodles.) Toss with poppy seed; serve goulash over noodles. Makes 12 servings.

If you want to make it an authentic Hungarian dinner why not try this sauerkraut salad and top it off with apple fritters.

SAUERKRAUT SALAD

- 1 can (1 pound 12 ounces) sauerkraut
- ¼ teaspoon caraway seed
- 4 green onions (tops and all) finely chopped or 2/3 cup minced onion
- ¼ cup olive oil

Toss all ingredients together thoroughly. Serve in scooped out head of Savoy cabbage, thoroughly chilled. Serves six to eight.

Note: This unusual salad-relish keeps for days in the refrigerator. Many cooks prefer to make it a day ahead so that flavors mellow and blend.

Apple fritters are light and delicate. The best wine for marinating the apples is a slightly sweet one—such as rhine or riesling.

ALMA CSOROG (Apple Fritters)

- 3 medium tart apples, peeled and diced
- ½ cup white wine
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 2/3 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon pure vegetable oil
- 1-1/3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 3 tablespoon sugar
- 2 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Pure vegetable oil
- Confectioners' sugar

In glass or pottery bowl combine apples and wine; cover and refrigerate several hours. About one-half hour before serving, beat eggs, milk and one tablespoon oil; sift in flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Stir until smooth. Drain apples; fold into batter. In skillet heat one-half inch oil to 375 degrees. Drop apple mixture by scant tablespoonfuls into oil (don't crowd). Cook until browned on one side; turn and brown other side. Drain on paper towels. Sift confectioners' sugar over fritters. Serve warm. Makes about 14 fritters.

Note: Don't throw away the apple flavored wine marinade; refrigerate in a covered jar. Use the wine as the braising liquid when simmering browned pork chops, ham, steak or chicken.

KUTTING KORNER KLUE

Flatten out milk cartons and place them under legs of heavy furniture before starting to move furniture. The furniture will then slide easily and the floors are not marred.

Enrollment figures in, look at attendance lines

Complete enrollment figures for each school in the Clarkston School District have been compiled by the Administration.

Students totaled 6892 on the fourth Friday of this school year. This compares to 6630 last year. That's up just over 1,000 from 1967 and just under 2,000 from 1964.

A conclusion will be drawn from enrollment figures from various grades by Superintendent of Schools Dr. L. F. Greene, and he will make a projection of needs. He told the Board last week that this study was under way and his conclusions would be announced in a few weeks.

For the present, there are 3781 students in the grades at the 6 elementary schools.

There are 1916 in the junior high schools including 225 sixth graders.

The high school has 1420 students. Enrollment by schools are: Andersonville, 598; Bailey Lake, 761; Clarkston El, 670; Pine Knob, 683; N. Sashabaw, 561; Little Sash, 283; Clarkston junior high, 916; Sashabaw junior high, 1,000; Senior high, 1420.

"Long distance, please."

There are also 17 in the vocational school from Clarkston and 15 Type B students.

Assistant Superintendent Milford Mason said the district's greatest growth area is in Andersonville.

Charles Walker

Navy Seaman Apprentice Charles D. Walker, son of Mrs. G. A. Heenan of 9970 Sashabaw, Clarkston, has graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

David Milligan

Airman David H. Milligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard N. Milligan of 8600 Pine Knob Rd., Clarkston, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force refrigeration specialist course.

The airman, who studied the principles of refrigeration, air conditioning and equipment cooling, is being assigned to Shaw AFB, S.C., for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Airman Milligan is a 1970 graduate of Clarkston High School.

He said his office was "looking closely at school building attendance lines within the district, almost entirely at the elementary level."

He indicated this study would be ready in the spring, perhaps for implementation at that time.

Golf tourney here Friday

Friday 16 area high school golf teams will meet at Waterford Hills Golf Course in the Clarkston Invitational.

Beginning at 9 a.m., and running to about 4, the teams will vie for 3 awards: medalist, team and runner-up.

Junior varsity coach Jim Chamberlain said Clarkston would be favored, with the stiffest competition coming from West Bloomfield.

Marine Pvt. Mark S. Sover, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Sover of 7651 Eston, Clarkston has graduated from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego. Surver is a graduate of Clarkston High School.

Marine Pvt. Wade A. Cleffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robin C. Cleffman of 7889 Eston Rd., Clarkston, has graduated from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego. He is a 1970 graduate of Clarkston High School.

Homecoming flashbacks

By Karen Nicholson

It's all over. Now, everyone can sit back and remember the hectic but pleasureable moments of the 1971 Homecoming week.

The victors of the annual Powderpuff game were the junior girls. However, the senior girls selected three very real guys to represent them in the Powderpuff court.

Dave Cinader was a very bold king. He attributed his victory to his "virtue, extreme good looks and modesty."

Dave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cinader, of Snow Apple Drive, has been a high school jock since ninth grade, during which time he has accumulated 20 varsity letters. Dave plays various positions for the Varsity football team, but mostly fullback.

One of his main duties as king was to ride around in a wheelbarrow and "look cool."

After graduation, Dave plans to continue his career as an all-time athlete at UCLA, where he will also learn to become "president of the United States."

Rick Butler, a defensive center for the CHS Wolves, was tapped as one of the senior princes. The royal duty of Rick, who is also a big time athlete, with 21 Varsity letters, was to "walk around the football field and make a fool of himself."

Rick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Butler lives on Ellis Road in Clarkston.

After graduation, he will study forestry at either U. of M. or Michigan Tech, where "Butts" will learn to stamp out forest fires.

Chosen as a part of the Powderpuff Court to assist Dave and Rick in "goofing around" at the game was Bill Svetkoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Svetkoff of Snow Apple Drive.

Bill's success of being coronated was a process of mixed emotions. He was puzzled, embarrassed and slightly dismayed at the lack of affection displayed by his subjects, for what is a tapping assembly without hugging and kissing?

Besides playing split end and defensive safety in Varsity football, Bill has also taken an active part in basketball and track. When he graduates, Bill will attend the college that offers the most in the line of political science.

A distinguished panel of judges made up of students and faculty selected Mike Humphreys as the first annual winner of the Ugly Man Contest, held in the CHS Auditorium Oct. 13. Competitions were held in swim suits, talent and personal appearance. Contestants were Jack Boyd, Dave Cinader, Norm Galligan, Mike Humphreys, Terry Lane and Steve Philpott. The Madrigal Singers and the Girls' Glee Club provided entertainment between competitions.
