Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

There's just no way for parents to keep up with the child psychologists.

Back a few years, they told us that the reason we had such rotten kids was because we were repressing the little darlings.

"Of course they will strike out," the headshrinkers told us, "they rebel because you are refusing to allow them to become whole persons. You are dictating instead of just keeping yourself available in case they happen to ask for advice."

So we felt like dummies that we hadn't let the young 'uns be themselves and agreed that we were responsible for their not being responsible. Boy! What stinking parents we had been.

All that changed. The new batch of kids were more destructive and more defiant than ever before.

"See," the shrinks told parents all over the world, "see what comes of your permissive attitudes. Children become outlaws because stupid parents deny them the haven of authority which they so desperately need."

Without this haven, you are driving them out of the home shelter and making them wandering, lawless, desert nomads. They need and want to be dominated. This is essential to the family equation, as any idiot should be able to see."

Wrong again. Maybe we had misunderstood the earlier advice. These learned people studied thousands - maybe millions of child behavior cases - and certainly were qualified to advise us simple yokels whose experience was limited to a couple or at most a dozen youngsters at home - or more likely - out on the prowl.

So papas and mammas stiffened their backs and told their offspring, "This is where you get off. We'll do it my way because I'm older and wiser and don't forget it."

Did the kids respond? They sure did. They created a whole new culture where the magic phrase is "doing your own thing."

Their OWN THINGS are pretty far out and mostly it seems to us that self-destruction in the drug scene is terribly, tragically sick. We can't understand it and in our utter despair the only thing we can grasp solidly is that we've obviously been lousy parents.

Soon, you may be sure, those wonderfully informed child psychologists will tell us exactly how we've goofed again. We can hardly wait for their erudite verdict.

Stan Stelmach of Waldon Rd., tends his bonfire of fallen leaves carefully. Independence Township Firemen urge residents to put leaves in bags for collection wherever possible. Call for advice or burning permits if you can't comply.

Youths attacked in jail cell

Two local youths have filed aggravated assault charges against 2 inmates of the Oakland County Jail, according to the records of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Alan Caverly, 20 of 5800 Waldon and John R. Casper, 17, of 5600 Delmas brought the charges when they reported being attacked by inmates Ardell J. Shelton, 22 and Charles H. Adams, 17 in the jail cell.

Caverly and Casper had been stopped earlier by deputies on October 19 at Sashabaw and Maybee Roads for obstructing traffic and failing to signal for a turn, according to Sheriff's records.

The automobile which was being driven by Caverly was reported to belong to Casper. When deputies noticed that the vehicle identification number had been removed, they booked the 2 pending further investigation and the car was impounded.

Shortly after their arrest, Caverly and Casper reported to the turnkey at the prison that Shelton and Adams had assaulted them and that they had been injured in the attack. They were released on interim bond of $25 after the assault.

An aggravated assault warrant was issued against Shelton who is in jail on an unarmed robbery charge by the Bloomfield Township Police Department and Adams, who is being held on armed robbery charges by the Pontiac Police after an investigation by Detective William O'Brien.

Shelton and Adams were arraigned on the charge before Judge James Stelt of Pontiac District Court on October 20. Their examination was set for November 4 at 9 a.m. Bond was set at $1,000 each and they were returned to jail.

'Possession' case Nov. 18

Of the 5 people apprehended in the raid at 59 S. Main in Clarkston October 18, 2 were charged with possession of narcotics and 3 with disorderly persons, loitering in a place of illegal occupation.

Sgt. Ray Hoopengartner, head of the Pontiac State Police Post, said 6 nickel bags of marijuana worth about $5.00 each, were found in the apartment. He said pills were picked up, too; however, they were not narcotic.

The man and wife who rent the apartment, John and Pamela Ronk, both 19, were charged with possession. They appeared before District Court Judge Gerald McNally and examination was set for Nov. 18. They are on personal bond.

The other 3 pleaded guilty when they appeared before Judge McNally. Michael Tyler, 22, 6171 Ascension, Martin Brown, 20, 11801 Scott road, Davisburg, and Richard Cable, 20, of Milford, paid fines of $30.

School salary talks progress

Spokesmen George White, Clarkston Education Association (CEA) and Milford Mason, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of the Clarkston Schools, reported that negotiations for the financial portion of the 1971-72 contract between the teachers and school board are progressing toward a satisfactory conclusion.

Four meetings have been held since the middle of October and representatives from both negotiating teams feel that agreement is close. The next meeting is scheduled for November 4.

Because all the non-economic issues were agreed upon in previous sessions, the areas of discussion center around teacher salary, extra-curricular salary and insurance benefits.

Both spokesmen seemed optimistic about an early settlement.

"Our negotiations got off to a sound start when the administration gave us their budgetary figures. We have been endeavoring to keep our requests within these figures," reported George White, president of the CEA. "We have each submitted proposals and counter-proposals. The climate at the bargaining table has been one of cooperation and unity of purpose."

Boat hearing

There'll be a final public hearing on establishing controls on boating on Walters Lake Nov. 10. The meeting will take place in the Township Hall, 90 N. Main at 10 a.m.

'Many from here on drugs'

RAP gets pledge

"I'll be sending out Christmas cards shortly." With that, Independence Township Treasurer Ken Johnson explained this year's breakdown of tax rates residents here will pay.

The increase amounts to 90 cents. Ten cents was taken from school rates and the people voted 1 mill for police protection.

The county, school, and township taxes add up to $40.25 per $1,000 assessed valuation as equalized for residents in the unincorporated portion of the township.

Clarkston village residents will pay $1.00 per $1,000 less. They don't pay the police protection millage.

Township residents in the Lake Orion school district will pay $40.44 per thousand and township residents in the Waterford school district will pay $49.17.

The taxes are due Dec. 10, hence, the remark about Christmas cards.

Tuesday night the Board split 2-2 on taking a stand on vacating a portion of a private road (Iroquois) at Walters Lake. The court had asked their opinion.

Building Inspector Richard Curn reported that of the 6 dwellings in Woodhull Lake Sub that the Hearing Officer had ordered repaired or demolished, 1 had burned, 1 will be demolished and the other 4 rebuilt.

The Township made good on their promise to support the Resident Awareness Program (RAP drug abuse center) with $6,500. The pledge was made about a year ago, but is being asked for now because RAP has found a location. They are starting to work with youths who voluntarily come forth for help to kick the habit.

Those on soft drugs are being helped now, but with the new facility harder drug victims will be treated, some on a live-in basis, a spokesman said.

She also said volunteers are needed to help at the center, partly because there are "many people from this area on drugs."

The Library is going to get a sliding glass door to help ventilation.

The county road commission has given their first approval to a plat in Independence with reduced road requirements. They waived the curb and gutter restriction on the Bessie Forman Estates of 3 acres.

These reductions have been encouraged by supervisor Gary Stonerock.

The township attorney is working on the penalty clause of the junk car ordinance.

ABWA hear of RAP and fashion

The Waterford Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold their regular meeting on Nov. 10 at the Pontiac Holiday Inn at 7:00 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Marty Beneteau of the RAP Association. Debbie Varion of the Penthouse Fashions will be the vocational speaker.

Bob Burke, left, and Joe Ruelle, right, both 8th graders, were awarded 1st and 3rd prize at the costume party at Sashabaw Junior High School last week. Lori Gardiner, 9th grader won 2nd place. The dance was held to celebrate Halloween.

Vandals plague over weekend

Police officials in Clarkston estimated that damages over the Halloween weekend would amount to between $1,000 and $2,000.

The flower box that was built in the parking lot by the Clarkston Garden Club was painted, necessitating sand blast removal, an expensive process. A privately owned travel trailer was maliciously painted, as well as numerous buildings around town.

Another act of vandalism brought out the fire and police departments. A flag behind the Hawk Tool Company on Washington Street. It was extinguished before any severe damage was caused.

A youth was apprehended when he was caught spraying passersby with a fire extinguisher. He was fined $25 and released when he pleaded guilty.

On Sunday night Ronk's Barber Shop on Main Street was the target of egg throwers. Cartons for 18 dozen eggs were found on the sidewalk, the eggs had been thrown at the front of the building.

"Surprisingly," said the police spokesman, "the traffic in Trick or Treaters was very light and we didn't have any reports of accidents or doctored treats."

Letters to the Editor

Constitutional rights govern our actions NAG will give facts we have been in dark

Dear Editor:

Poor, uninformed Mrs. Smith. The National Action Group (NAG) is doing only what the Declaration of Independence entitles us to do... "All men are created equal, they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness..." This liberty was granted to us in 1776. Now our liberty is being jeopardized.

Are you really labeling the National Action Group as being Neo-Nazis? I certainly hope you are not ignorant of the Nazis - either in the past or in the present - because they represent a horrible way of responding to the things or issues that they disagree with.

If memory serves me correctly, at least regarding the war years, they advocated silencing dissent... believed people should go along with all governmental rulings regardless of how they personally affected people... labeled those who in the beginning disagreed with them with distasteful names... called upon the majority to support their beliefs at the cost of all else. Sound familiar, Mrs.

Smith?

I belong to the National Action Group because I do not want my child bused beyond the school which is only a block from my home.

If our minority groups are getting an inferior education, let's use money to rebuild the schools they attend with better equipment and materials instead of using it for busing out of their neighborhoods.

What is America, Mrs. Smith? America is government of the people, by the people and for the people. The majority rules is the basis for our government.

The majority is us, Mrs. Smith... you and I and all the people who have been too apathetic for too long.

The majority spoke in our paper boycott count. Of the 2,930 ballots received, only 28 were for busing. Doesn't this say something for our community's wishes?

Please, Mrs. Smith, take time to learn the facts before you label anyone Neo-Nazis or racists.

Jeannie Davis

Dear Editor,

In reply to Mrs. Ingrid Smith's letter to the editor Oct. 28, I am not now and have never been or have any intentions of ever being affiliated in any way with the Neo-Nazis party.

And resent very much being accused as such. Anyone who would make such an accusation would have to be very stupid or uninformed or a combination of both. You say "busing is not the issue, racism is," how naive can one person be. If my choice in moving to Clarkston and having my child educated in this school system is being a racist, then I am.

Everyone has the same opportunity I had to choose where he or she wanted to live. Since I chose Clarkston, I want my child attending the neighborhood school. If you would take time out from your nasty little jobs of trying to stop us from what we believe in, and read our goals before making any decisions, you would find we are even trying to help people like you with our amendment to the Constitution.

The officials whom you claim were gutless and spineless, are only facing reality, which some people are trying to close their eyes and ears to.

Remember one thing, you and others like you, who don't think the forced busing will be implemented in Clarkston - these were the famous last words of many parents in Pontiac even after their children were boarding the buses transporting them across town.

In many areas many adults are afraid to go during daylight hours. The police report which was given Oct. 28, 1971 showed an increase of crime in the schools of 85% for the first 3 weeks of school since busing across town started.

As for our ballots being both unethical and questionable in their legality, I think a man in Dr. Greene's position is far more versed on this subject than you. He had knowledge and gave his approval as to the distribution of the ballots.

There was also not a promise of a "No

Boycott" day. We had planned to use this method instead of a physical boycott. But, since you and others like you tried to stop our plan after having been given the permission to conduct this, we had no choice.

The men dying in Vietnam... why are they over there? To protect our freedom! Yes, even yours, Mrs. Smith. If children are injured while being bused to another city are you and yours going to be able to justify this?

People might as well get used to seeing us NAGs, because we are here to stay. We also plan on enlightening the public on the facts. Facts we have been in the dark about for years. The only thing people in your category do to our organization is make us believe stronger and fight harder for what we know is right.

Thank you

Dear Editor,

The Clarkston Community Women's Club wishes to thank you and the paper for your help in promoting our first Fall Tour of Clarkston Homes.

We thank you for the photography you did on all the homes. We received many complimentary comments from Clarkston residents.

Our success is due largely to informative way the community was presented with the material. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Clarkston Community Women's Club

Question criticism

Dear Editor,

In reply to Mrs. Ingrid Smith's view on the National Action Group (NAG), I find that she knows little or nothing of this organization.

We believe that our individual freedom is very much in jeopardy and that the only way to save that freedom is to return the government to the people. The Constitution clearly states for the people, by the people, and it MUST BE: our freedom is doomed.

The people who want a black and white issue only are the ones on the outside who will profit politically from such views or have personal gain.

Mrs. Smith, as always, your activity is surrounded by confusion and strife, and I hope the veil that has blinded your eye for so many years will be removed. The light might clear your way in many respects.

There is a saying that "sometimes it is best to remain silent and thought ignorant than to speak and remove all doubts."

"If It Fitz..."

Another 1 of those days

By Jim Fitzgerald

It was another one of those days when nothing went right and I knew the world was against me.

For one thing, Michigan State lost another football game.

It has been 20 years since I left that school. It has grown way too big. Its fancy buildings are full of youngsters learning "business administration," whatever that is, while what the world needs now is more plumbers. I resent the expensive brochures which come regularly through the mail, seeking cash from alumni. The football players are nothing more than paid assassins, trading their muscle and speed for a diploma and a chance to pull the brass ring out of the Super Bowl.

But yet, every autumn Saturday I agonize along with old MSU, exulting in its touchdowns and despairing in its fumbles. I can't help it. Why is that, doctor?

After the game came dinner in a fancy restaurant. The waitress took our drink order and became invisible. I had yearned for a drink since MSU fell 2 TD's behind in the 2nd quarter.

"Where is that waitress," I whispered to my wife.

"Don't scream," she said. "People are looking. And it isn't her fault: Michigan State has a terrible team."

About a week later, the waitress materialized. I welcomed her back and asked her why she hadn't dropped us a postcard. She smiled and handed me a glass containing whiskey and soda. I had ordered whiskey and water. I started to sob.

The steak wasn't rare enough and the people at the next table were loudmouthed Notre Dame fanatics. I dropped soft butter on my new suit and the most obnoxious bore in the place was an old schoolmate who wanted to relive the days when he was a basketball star and I had 500 pimples on my nose. It was that kind of a day...

And that's not the worst of it. The worst part had been getting out of the house, 5 hours earlier. At the last minute our 2 teenage kids had informed us we couldn't leave because they needed chauffeuring. Chris had singing rehearsal in the afternoon and a church supper in the evening. Eddie had to go to a shopping center and to a football game. How were they going to get there if their selfish parents took the car and left town?

I told them I didn't care, so goodbye. I was a real grump and I didn't even look back as I drove away. As I explained to my wife, those darn kids expect too much. They're not going to run my life, by God.

As usual, my wife wasn't convinced. Throughout the day she kept muttering little worry-words about the wheel-less plight of her poor little children. Which just made me grumpier. By the end of dinner I had made it clear the whole day had been a pain and the biggest pain of all was caused by those damn kids.

As we left the restaurant, a young boy sped out the door ahead of us. He was racing his parents to their car. They were all laughing and having a great time. The boy was about 13, the same age as our son.

And this laughing boy was doing his racing in a wheelchair. He didn't have any legs.

It was another one of those days when nothing went wrong and I knew the world had been so very kind to me.

Letters to the Editor

I'm young, sensitive, you're old, rich, toad

Have right to own opinions

Dear Editor,

I just read Jack McCall's letter and I think he's confused about a few things.

1. The recent police harassment has not ended the tribal gatherings in the parking lot, the cold weather did.

2. Drug traffic continues to increase, and the stuff is getting a lot better to boot. The yellow caution acid that's been around lately is of a very high quality.

It's like Jack knows nothing about the problem. He never thinks about the kids who have to grow up in a filthy world with air unfit to breathe, water unfit to bathe in.

He can't understand how a kid feels when he sees the fields he used to play in raped and covered with gray and black plastic apts., tomorrow's slums.

I doubt if Jack has ever seen the stream that flows out of Hawk Tool, the one so full of filth, you can walk on it.

Jack may never know how a kid feels when he can't find a job, or when his family, like all other aspects of the great society, falls apart. Jack probably never knew what it felt like to worry about being sent to 'Nam — to murder innocent people.

All Jack knows is what the wealthy old toads who run this town tell him to do, and he does it. He's nothing but their watch dog. Right now he might feel like a big cowboy, but time is on our side.

18-year-olds can vote now, and in a very few years we will have built a youth community here capable of taking over this town and then all the old toads and puppet pigs are gonna wish they had passed a few less ordinances, busted a few less kids.

The day's gonna come when Jack is gonna have to pay his dues, and my friends and I are gonna grow stronger and larger in numbers as time goes by.

Whether or not we grow more bitter depends on how many new ordinances are passed and enforced.

We're young and sensitive, we've been led to war, and from great society to wage price freeze by old, insensitive people.

Our world is falling apart around us, we need each other's love to survive, WE NEED IT!

We need to get together even if only in a stinking parking lot and if McCall's Marauders' puppet masters try to stop us, if they continue to oppress us, it'll be like watching a little black kid grow into a Panther.

How many police must be shot down before they realize their enemy is not their children, it's their boss?

Love,
Al Ventimiglia

NO SNOWMOBILE SIGNS available at the Clarkston News, 5 S. Main St.

Dear Editor,

I wonder about the writer of the letter, "Busing not the issue, racism is."

I would like to know where she got all her information that all the people opposed to busing were racist or neo-nazis!

According to the latest polls, 80% of the people are opposed to busing. Could all of these people be racists? I bought my home in this township because I didn't want my family in the city of crime.

Are we, as NAG people, neo-nazis and racists because we believe in the freedom of sending our children to a nice school that was mostly built by the labor class of people?

I have 4 daughters and I will continue to fight for their freedom and mine. I was for the boycott, and not the ballot.

If I had a choice of losing a day of school or next year busing my children — naturally, you know which of the 2 I would choose. We should have a choice of how we spend our tax dollars and this busing business.

I don't know why you live on Eastlawn, but if you are living in a racist community maybe someone in the south end of Pontiac would love to trade houses with you.

Technology brings more natural gas to Michigan

A typical natural gas reforming plant.

For the past year Michigan has been affected by the national shortage of natural gas, and by the limited supplies available by pipeline from other states. At the same time, the demand for natural gas — one of the cleanest sources of energy — has continued to rise.

Now, thanks to a technological breakthrough developed by the British Gas Council in 1964, a new source of natural gas will become available to our 860,000 customers — from Canada.

To provide this additional gas for Michigan, Consumers Power Company is building a $40-million natural gas reforming plant at Marysville, in St. Clair County; the first of its kind in this hemisphere.

This new reforming process takes light liquid hydrocarbons and reconstitutes, or reforms, them into natural gas. In 1972 these natural gas liquids will begin arriving from Alberta, Canada, via a 1600-mile pipeline. By 1973 we expect to be able to provide 100 million cubic feet of natural gas daily for our customers; and output is expected to double in 1974.

Natural gas is vital for Michigan and its people, and Consumers Power is seeking every available means to meet this ever-growing need.

This task rests with three old but willing fairy godmothers (played by Julie Wilford, Nancy Hyde, and Jan Lundy) who set out to prove that they can still work a miracle or two.

Will they be able to do it? Or better still, will they be able to survive Dulcie's mean tricks?

NAG wants to bus mothers

The Clarkston Chapter of the National Action Group is looking for 150 mothers to take a bus ride to the capitol in Lansing Nov. 9.

Mrs. Taylor Phillip of Waldon road, local NAG president, said the group's headquarters in Pontiac want a total of 1,000 women from across the state to make the trip.

Once there they will picket for their cause, legislation prohibiting forced busing of school children, and meet with legislators.

Mrs. Phillips said the cost of the trip is $3.00 which must be received by November 6. The trip is expected to take about 4½ hours. They will be leaving from behind the Pontiac Mall at 9 a.m. Tuesday. She said she can be called at 625-5275 for further information.

Busing, not racism NAG main issue

Dear Editor,

In reply to Mrs. Ingrid Smith . . . Isn't this a great country that we live in where a person, such as yourself, can write such slanderous remarks about a group of people (of which she has no correct knowledge) and have the freedom to get away with it?

You see, we of the National Action Group do know what freedom means. It is what we are fighting to preserve.

I, personally, resent the name calling that you have been doing. But I respect your freedom to do so. I also resent you using our local newspaper to exploit your personal slanderous remarks, but again I respect your freedom to do so. At the same time, you should respect my freedom to do what I consider best for my 6 school-age children.

Racism is not the issue. But forced busing certainly is. That's what it's all about. And I will work to the best of my ability without violence, and without distasteful name calling for my cause.

I have been working wholeheartedly with the Clarkston Chapter of the NAG and I have yet to meet anyone I could call a racist. These people are sincerely concerned only with the forced busing of their children.

Since you apparently have no knowledge of the objectives of the National Action Group I am sending to your home a copy which I suggest you read very carefully. Especially No. 3 which states "To work for better understanding between black and white members of our country and the equal protection of individual rights for all our citizens."

Mari-Karen Brown

Change law main concern

Dear Editor,

Citizens' main concern right now should be the H J Resolution 620 Bill. This bill provides:

"No public school student shall, because of his race, creed, or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school."

We need to think, feel, and breathe Bill 620. When we meet a neighbor, don't say, "Hello," say, "620."

Do you realize, New York State Representative Emanuel Celler, age 81, is keeping this bill from being voted on? He is head of the judiciary committee and has the power to bring this H.J.R. 620 out of the committee. We should give him so much noise and so much pressure that he lays his eggs, and gets off that bill, NOW!

We should give that House of Representatives so much noise and action that the 218 plus 1, representatives start begging to sign 620. We can write and inform them that election time is very near. Let's let the Senate and the House both know, we are NOT going to wait 7 years for their decision.

People should get out their pens and start writing letters, to Congressmen, and to your relatives out of state, and in state. Tell them what is happening. Tell them about this H.J.R. 620 Bill. Tell them we need their help. We also need their Congressmen's help to get this Constitutional Amendment out of the committee.

Tell them to write letters too, so we can get the information about H.J.R. 620 ALL over the United States.

Let's Wake Up! This is our only hope. Let us, the people, prove once and for all that the government and the Constitution is "For the people, by the people." Let's put a stop to giving up our rights. Let us stand tall, and speak loudly for the freedom for which our fathers, our brothers, and our sons have fought.

If we don't, that little baby of ours will one day, look us in the eye and say, "What is freedom?"

THE TEST OF REAL FAITH COMES IN BAD TIMES

"Can a mother forget her infant, be without tenderness for the child of her womb? Even should she forget I will never forget you."

Isaiah 49:15

At times people feel that God is very far away from them and that he is completely unconcerned about what is going on in their world. They seem to think that God has lost all interest in them. The Israelites during the time of their exile in Babylon felt very much like this. They felt abandoned by God. Their home land was taken away from them and they were led into slavery. This period for them was very discouraging, and with one voice the people cried out, "The Lord has forsaken us, our God has forgotten us." Then God sent his prophet Isaiah to tell them that they were not abandoned by their God. In a very beautiful and tender image the Lord replied to the people through his prophet: "Can a mother forget her infant, be without tenderness for the child in her womb? Even should she forget I will never forget you." There are many times in our lives when we are tempted to wonder whether God has forgotten about us, whether He really cares about us. This can happen especially when someone we love very much dies, especially very unexpectedly. Then we may ask why it had to happen to us. It just does not seem to make any sense.

But we must never think that God has abandoned us or that he is unconcerned about us. The real test of faith comes not in good times. The real test of faith comes in bad times. It is then that we must cling to our belief that God really cares for us.

Clarkston edges Milford

By Craig Moore

One minute can make a difference and 1 point can mean the difference between winning and losing a game. It proved to be the difference between the Clarkston Wolves and the Milford Redskins, as the Wolves edged the Redskins, 26-25 in the last minute of play on Friday night.

Clarkston quarterback Mark Warren found the fog advantageous to the Wolves and their second half passing. Although it was impossible to see across the field, Warner connected on 3 passes for 47 yards in the last minute of play.

Milford had scored 3 times before the gun at the half. The first 2 Redskin scores were set up by 2 Clarkston fumbles.

The Wolves fumbled the opening kickoff and Milford's Trent Moore recovered on the 25 yard line. Three minutes later, Tim Moore scored from 4 yards out. The extra point kick was good and Milford led 7-0.

Clarkston took the ball on their 42, but 3 plays later, a fumble returned the ball to Milford. Redskin Steve Heffelbower climaxed a 40 yard drive with a 2 yard dive into the end zone. The kick failed and Milford had a 13-0 advantage.

Milford boosted their lead to 19-0 with about 6 minutes remaining in the first half as Tim Moore scored again, this time from the 6 yard line. Then Warren took over.

The first Clarkston score came when Warren knifed in on a keeper from the 1 yard line after a 45 yard drive to the goal line.

By the third quarter, the playing field had become slippery and wet and the fog which enveloped the field had reduced vision to about 50 yards.

Warren took almost the entire third quarter to score again, but he did with 40 seconds remaining in the period. After moving the ball to the Milford 3, Warren dashed in. Milford still led, 19-13.

Clarkston had control of a 29-19 lead, momentarily, in the fourth quarter, driving 66 yards and sending Bill Hamilton in 5 yards for the score.

With the clock registering 5:05 left in the game, Milford took possession of the ball. A personal foul on the kickoff placed the ball on the Wolves' 45 yard line. Redskin Barry Kloenhammer ran in from the 14 yard line 4 minutes later.

"Dewey" Warren found a silver lining in the cloud of fog as Clarkston took possession on the Clarkston 38, with only one minute left in the game.

After one incomplete pass, Warren hit Rod Latimer with a pass good for 7 yards. Another incomplete pass and with fourth down and 4 yards to go, Warren completed a pass to Mark Stapleton to the Milford 45 yard line.

Pass interference was called on Milford the next play. The officials marched the ball 15 yards to the Milford 30 yard line.

Warren's scanner picked up end Bill Svetkoff crossing to the middle with 19 seconds to go. Svetkoff bobbled the toss at first but finally regained his grip and dove for the end zone and the winning score. The crowds cheered and the scoreboard proclaimed the 26-25 Clarkston victory.

Coach Rakow commented, "We decided to play in the second half. The team found that when they wanted to win, they could."

This victory gives Clarkston a 3-2 league record and a 3-4 season tally.

Friday, Nov. 5, the Clarkston Wolves will meet Fenton at Fenton. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

Coach Rakow said, "We hope to finish the season in fine fashion."

Clarkston coaches confer on the sidelines as action goes on in front of them. Left is assistant Roy Warner, in the middle is assistant Rob White and with the headphones is head coach Paul Rakow.

CHS golf team post 18-0 season

The Clarkston Varsity golf team finished a very successful season this year posting 18 wins and no losses in dual meet competition.

This year, golf changed from a spring season to a fall schedule and proved to be advantageous to the Clarkston linksmen.

In high school golf, 6 members on each team compete and the best 4 scores from each team comprise the team total.

This year's team has compiled an impressive record. In the first match of the season, the linksmen broke the past record of 154 by seven strokes. The record was bettered twice more during the season, establishing a team total of 144, the present school record.

The Clarkston golfers slated a remarkable 152.6 season average or a 38.2 average for each person scoring.

The Wolves shared the league championship with the Class A State champs, West Bloomfield.

At Atlas Valley the team won the regional title posting a 329 total to lead the field of 23 competing teams.

Again the Wolves came out on top by posting a 314 total to win the first annual Waterford Hill High School golf tournament. Fifteen area teams competed in the invitational at Waterford Hills Country Club.

Disappointment resulted when the team competed in the Class A State Finals at Midland. At the end of the day the golfers had fallen to the 13th spot.

"Though the boys were disappointed in their last effort of the year," said coach Doug Pierson, "we were honored to have earned the right to compete in the State finals. Our efforts will be directed at returning next year."

A nucleus of Booker, Johnson and Short will return to next year's team. Bildstein, Hart and Sanchez will graduate in June.

The persistent, skilled varsity team members were Bill Bildstein, Lee Booker, Kirk Hart, Ken Johnson, Tony Sanchez and Don Short.

Midget JV footballers score first victory

By Ken Wolven

Playing their home finale, the 3-unit Independence Township Chiefs had their most successful Sunday afternoon of the midget football season, gaining two victories and one tie. The Chiefs proved to be very un hospitable hosts as far as the Madison Heights Wolverines were concerned.

In a fine defensive battle, the freshmen gained a hard-fought 7-7 tie.

With a great defensive effort, the JV squad provided the greatest thrill of the day in a 6-0 victory for their first win of the season.

The varsity showed excellent offensive power while gaining a 24-0 victory.

The surprise of the day was when the cheerleaders presented a corsage to Mrs. William Hool, their sponsor, in honor of her birthday and as a token of appreciation for her efforts throughout the season.

The final gridiron battle for the Chiefs will take place on Saturday, Nov. 6 at 6 p.m. under the lights at the Walled Lake Central High School football field. Their opponent will be the Walled-Lake Eagles.

On Thursday, Nov. 11, the members of the 3 football teams, the cheerleaders, and the parents of both groups will be honored at a banquet at Mason Junior High in Waterford.

Twins lead Wolverines

Clarkston Junior High football team suffered its 3rd loss of the season in losing to Milford last week by the score of 50 to 34. The loss evened the Wolverines' record at 3 wins and 3 losses.

The Wolverines rolled up 354 yards on offense and seemed on the verge of breaking the game open right up until the final minute of play.

Leading the offense was quarterback George Porritt, who passed for 3 touchdowns and ran for both extra points, accounting for 22 points. Two sets of twins on the Wolverine team were involved in the scoring. Twin halfbacks Gary and Jerry Molina each scored TDs, as did twin ends Barry and Jerry Miller.

Rich Mahar scored the remaining TD.

Milford extended their record to 6-0. The game marked the first time that Milford had been scored upon this year.

Jean's Jettings

PASSPORT TO EUROPE

by Jean Sura

"Hey, Mom," said one of my kids, "we're going to give you a medal."

"For what?" I answered skeptically.

"You're one of the few people that we know that could take a slightly infected vaccination and parlay it into a trip to Europe."

"It did work out pretty well, didn't it?" I smirked.

"What are you talking about?" asked my friend, Jane, looking up from her knitting.

So I explained.

Several months ago my husband had to be vaccinated. It had been about twenty-five years since he had been inoculated and before he left for the doctor's office, he regaled us with stories of his last experience.

"You should have seen those great big, muscular guys. They were fainting and falling around like a pack of flies in a room full of DDT. The funny part was," he continued, "there was nothing to it, just a little scratch, no after-effects, no nothing."

One week later his arm began to swell.

The reaction set in. It was a beauty, red, sore and swollen.

"Be careful. Here, help me, I can't raise my arm. I won't be able to sleep a wink." It went on and on.

"If I had known how I would suffer I would never have agreed to this nonsense. I'll tell you one thing, I'm never going through this again. If you are planning on any trips abroad you had better get it over with before I need another one."

So I took him at his word. I used the same tactics on him that he uses on me when he wants a new car. I brought home slippery slick books filled with colorful, tantalizing pictures. Instead of pictures of sleek, new cars, mine were pictures of castles and cathedrals.

I used the worn out cliché about the fact that we were getting on in years and if we didn't hurry, we would be too old to enjoy such an exhausting trip.

I altered a few menus from chops to hamburger and sneaked some of the food budget into the sugar bowl.

"If you are really serious about this crazy trip, remember that I can't be gone over two weeks," he said one day.

"Whatever you say," I agreed. "Of course," I added quietly, the air fare is the main expense. Really, the extra time over there is free. We could see so much more if we just stayed one more week."

"Okay, okay, let's get it over. I am tired of hearing about it."

So that's how I got my medal. We jetted to London and then took one of those rat-race trips through 9 countries in twenty-two days.

Now we know how a cross-country track star feels when he finishes his race. It is an accomplishment to complete the course.

We looked until our eyeballs were tired. At that, we just scratched the surface. It was worth the deception and effort.

The New York skyline, the Statue of Liberty and home were welcome sights.

I couldn't help but think that the greeting from the Statue fitted us when she said, "Give me your tired and poor."

We were both.

That vaccination was our passport to Europe—an experience of a lifetime.

TROOP 189

An impressive Court of Honor of Troop 189 was held in the activities room of Calvary Lutheran Church on October 18. It was a time of awards, recognition and good fellowship.

The opening ceremony consisted of a presentation of the flag by the color guards and the Pledge of Allegiance led by Dennis Loba.

Scoutmaster William Purves performed the traditional candlelighting ceremony for the investiture of four Tenderfoot Scouts: Norman Hunt, Forrest Hunt, Jeff Williams and Scott Hamilton.

Advancement Chairman Norman Hunt presented the following awards: second class badge to Paul Zelenak, and first class badges to Leif Gruenberg, Tom Waterbury and Tim Purves. Eric Gruenberg received his Life scout badge. Dennis Loba received his Silver Palm. This is awarded to scouts who have achieved 15 merit badges beyond the 21 required for Eagle Scout.

A total of 30 merit badges were presented to 10 boys.

The scouts performed two humorous skits for entertainment.

Dennis Loba showed slides he had taken at the XIII World Jamboree in Japan this past summer. Dr. Forrest Hunt, scoutmaster of World Jamboree Troop 724, showed his movies of the Jamboree and tour. These slides and movies included shots of the 3-day typhoon and typical Jamboree activities. They answered many questions after their informative presentation.

The Scout Vesper song was the closing ceremony.

Coffee, cider and donuts were served by Mrs. Norman Hunt and Mrs. William Purves.

It's football party time! And the hostess for these gay fall events at home after the game or around the TV set during the playmaking is often pressed for ideas on how to add a little seasonal "gridiron" flair to her menu.

Here come some ideas on what to serve to put the right mood on such occasions.

The Star of the party is a "Football Stack-Up," a hale and hearty football-shaped loaf of oatmeal bread that is split and filled with assorted meats and cheeses. The baking method is "Easy" to enable housewives to turn out in jig time delicious bread with all of the home-style flavor of grandmother's productions but in only a fraction of the time it used to take.

Although the "Football Stack-up" takes the spotlight on the party menu, and can be served alone as a satisfying meal, a robust flavor to a complete dinner menu is added with a steaming casserole of baked beans and servings of hot western consomme. Relishes and an assortment of bar cookies round out a repast that will take good care of the appetites of the football enthusiasts.

FOOTBALL STACK-UP

- 1 packet active dry yeast
- 2 cups flour
- 1/2 cup quick-cooking rolled oats
- 1/4 cup molasses
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup hot scalded milk
- 12-15 slices luncheon meats
- 3 large slices Swiss cheese
- Soft butter
- Prepared mustard

Place the first 8 ingredients in large mixing bowl in the order given. Beat at speed 3 for 3 minutes. (Batter will climb beaters, just push down with rubber spatula). Turn into well-greased 1 1/2-quart oval or round casserole. Cover; let rise in warm place 30 minutes. * Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes, or until deep golden brown. Remove from pan immediately. Cool.

TO FILL: Cut loaf horizontally into 4 slices. Spread slices with butter and mustard. Place several slices of meat and cheese on each slice, re-stacking to make a loaf. Wrap in foil and refrigerate until serving time. Just before serving heat in a 400 degree oven for 30 minutes. Place hot loaf of bread on serving platter and arrange relishes around bread. To serve, cut hot loaf into 6 to 8 slices. NOTE: If you have an automatic timer on your oven and you want your stack-up ready when you come home, place loaf in oven and set oven at 350 degrees to come on an hour before serving time.

Another way of pleasing the football or school crowd are these hot snacks.

Canned meat spreads in crescent rolls make terrific treats. They're easy ingredients to keep on hand for spur-of-the-moment get-togethers. Everybody loves them, and you can serve them anytime.

Just take an eight-ounce package of refrigerated crescent dinner rolls, unroll the dough and separate into eight triangles. Spread with one of the following combinations, not quite to the edges. Roll, starting at the wide end of the triangle. Place rolls on an ungreased baking sheet, tucking tip of dough underneath the crescent. Brush tops of the rolls with egg white and sprinkle with sesame seeds, if desired. Bake at 375 degrees F. about seventeen minutes until golden brown. Serve warm. Makes eight rolls.

If you're serving a crowd, make a variety. Each of the following recipes will fill eight crescent rolls.

DEVILED MUSHROOM FILLING

- 1 4 1/2 oz. can deviled ham
- 1 3 oz. can mushrooms, chopped
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

CHICKEN-ALMOND FILLING

- 1 4 1/2 oz. can chicken spread
- 3 tablespoons chopped almonds
- 3 tablespoons chopped chutney

LIVERWURST-CHEESE FILLING

- 1 4 1/2 oz. can liverwurst spread
- 1/3 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
- 4 bacon slices, cooked and crumbled

ZESTY CORNED BEEF SPREAD FILLING

- 1 4 1/2 oz. can corned beef spread
- 1 teaspoon minced onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped celery
- 1/3 cup grated Swiss cheese.

With a little help from their advisors, Mrs. Barbara Gibson and Mr. Ed Johnson, the class of '73 decided to have it on May 27 at the Oakland University Center in Rochester. The evening attire will be formal, but the guys reserve the right to wear suits instead of tuxedos.

At the beginning of the school year, the "T" and "F" system of scheduling was abolished. Classes are all fifty minutes long and study halls take the place of free time. This system has made it easier for a new way of scheduling. Last week each department set up a table in the library where students were able to select their own curriculum and submit it to be typed in a matter of a few minutes. How will this new system of scheduling work? Only the first week of the new marking period will tell.

McDonald in Washington

Editor's note: This was a weekly column from the office of Congressman Jack McDonald.

It came as no surprise to me that the U.S. Supreme Court let stand the lower court's decision to enforce busing in Pontiac by virtue of its refusal to hear the case. At least three Justices must agree to hear a case, and with two vacant seats there was little likelihood of that happening.

There is a possibility, of course, that after the vacant seats have been filled that another appeal will be better received.

Regardless of the Court's decision, we must settle once and for all the question of busing school children for other than transportation purposes. And that can, under existing circumstances, only be settled in one way: A Constitutional Amendment which specifically provides that no public school student shall, because of race, color or creed, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school.

As of November 1, I had received nearly 4,300 direct appeals from people in the 19th Congressional District for the adoption of this Constitutional Amendment. Many letters also supported the discharge petition currently before the House demanding that the Amendment bill be released from the House Judiciary Committee.

But none of the letters were as direct and succinct as that received from an 8-year-old Pontiac girl. "I don't want busing," she wrote, "because now I can't ride my bike to school."

The real issue which this girl exposed is the education of our children. We have many tools at our disposal to implement racial integration. Busing school children need not and must not, be one of them.

If that young girl is to ride her bike to school again, we must focus our efforts on the Constitutional Amendment and not rely on the Court's rulings. Interpretation of the Constitution is subject to variations, depending on the makeup of the Court. We must be specific, and spell out in the Constitution that our children are not to be used or abused in an attempt to implement integration.

The mass of letters I have received is overwhelmingly in favor of my plan to seek relief through the legislative process. Legislative redress at this point is Constitutionally guaranteed and the only lawful means at our disposal to correct what I consider to be a misinterpretation of the Constitution of the United States.

Supervisor comments on public protection

By Supervisor Gary Stonerock
 October 17 the following address was made to the Independence Township Volunteer Fire Department. Because of my position regarding the Public Safety Department and the involvement of the Volunteer Fire Department and their budget, I felt that they should know that there would be no threat to the operations concerning fire-fighting.

There are many citizens in the Township who would also be interested in some of the information and reasons regarding the Public Safety Department. My comments were as follows:

Departments of Public Safety are not new. In fact, I would say that in Michigan some of the more progressive communities have Departments of Public Safety. Grosse Pointe Shores started theirs in 1911. Some of the communities around us, that you will all recognize, that have integrated departments are: Grosse Pointe Woods, Northville, Huntington Woods, Centerline, Essexville, Garden City, Beverly Hills, the City of Lapeer, the City of Dearborn. Probably the most well known Public Safety Department and the model, not just for this area, but for the whole nation, is Oak Park. When we first started looking into the various methods of police protection, I contacted Oak Park, and they sent us information upon request. If anybody is interested, I have a report from Mr. Glen Leonard of SEMCOG, the President's Task Force Report on police services, a consolidated study that was done in Berkeley, one that was done by Mr. Darryl Bruestle, and a police study committee report for the City of Birmingham. So there is much information available.

I'd like to state that from my standpoint, I looked at it not through the eyes of the firemen, not through my own wishes, but in representing the community and I feel that a Department of Public Safety is going to benefit the community and the taxpayer by better service.

There are several advantages that I have listed and I'll give you later on, but I'd just like to say that communities, that have experienced tremendous growth in population, find that combined departments operate on the tax base that they have much more efficiency with a Department of Public Safety than with separate systems. Salaries in an integrated department would run pretty close to 85% of the total budget; they are slightly higher, due to the dual training involved.

There is no definite pattern to the development of Public Safety Departments. Oak Park, for example, has four departments. They are broken down into the operations division, which is the law enforcement and fire, the fire marshal, special services and investigation. In Oak Park they use the rotation system so that there is no one individual who becomes stuck in one position; they are trained for all duties. At this point it is a totally integrated department, which is far from what we would have to look at for possibly 10 to 15 years. We just do not have the type of population and density in industrial and commercial that Oak Park has. I have been there and was very impressed by their operations. I also have talked to different ones in the community and I think any of you, if you doubt me, can pick up your telephone and call anybody in Oak Park, and you will find them very well satisfied with their service.

You might say, "What does a Department of Public Safety have over a separate police and fire department?" There are several advantages. One is response time. Everybody's service is just as close as the nearest squad car. In a combined department, a man is trained both in law enforcement and fire fighting. Basic operations are done from the road patrol vehicle. If a car catches afire, or some lady has a grease fire in her kitchen, or there is a small grass fire along the side of the road, patrol cars can handle them. I guess the saying is, "Little fires don't become big fires" if treated quickly enough. A second advantage is that it keeps men busy. In a full time fire department, a man under the Kelly Act works a 24 hour shift, and while he sleeps, his pay goes on. You are a taxpayer, I am a taxpayer, the 18,000 people in this township would be paying firemen while they sleep. An integrated system keeps men busy. In Oak Park, the full time people who man the fire stations are also working on records.

They use the key sorter system there, and write up every report. When a call comes in to the station, a report is written for it, and these are sorted and studies done to know where the greatest fire potentials are, and when and where the greatest crime rates occur. All things being equal, in an integrated system, the same number of men will provide better service. Therefore, I think it is only logical to state that it will take fewer men to provide the same service.

When you start talking about integrating police and fire services, there are three main things that come up. To a great part they are academic. Usually, the first is money. How much money are we going to save? I don't know whether we can look at police and fire integration and say that we can save money. In looking up the National per capita cost of fire protection in the United States, I found it to be $13.79. In Independence Township, we operate on a budget of $67,000 and we have 18,000 people, which works out to $3.70 per capita. People of this township are getting not only a good deal economically, but are getting good service.

Let us consider fire departments. Firemen become effective in their work through training, repetition and drills; not by fighting fires. An average house fire is certainly not indicative of all the ramifications of fire fighting. There is no high-rise in this community, and little commercial or industrial at this point, but when we get into these areas of fire fighting, they become very involved and intricate. Precise plans and diagrams have to be made up for each individual building and how you are going to approach this building, and what the plan of attack will be. There is nobody that fights enough fires, even in a big city, who really becomes proficient by fighting fires. It is largely due to training that a fireman becomes effective.

The success of a Public Safety Department should be the concern of every one, if we embark upon it. In my opinion, leadership, that being the Public Safety Department Director, would be the key man. Under good leadership will come about four or five noticeable effects that I have outlined. 1. An aggressive department. 2. Vigorous leadership, so that the department can make a go of itself. 3. It should have a good training program and there should be good morale. 4. Operations should be at a high at all times. 5. The public should be kept informed of what is going on, and what is being done with their money.

If there is anything that will kill a Department of Public Safety or a police department and keep it from becoming effective, it would be political interference! I put a big exclamation mark after that because that can be the most deadly part of any program that is undertaken in government, whether it be a township, city, or village. I'm not a politician and I don't cater too much to political ways. In fact, I've been accused of being abrasive because I just more or less tell it like it is, and that doesn't go over with everybody.

Departments of Public Safety bring both efficiency and economy to the police and fire services, which means tax savings to the individual. When you start analysing how effective a Department of Public Safety or police or fire department are, you have to consider your per capita costs, for the service that you provide; the manpower per thousand persons of population and how this effects your crime rate or your fire rate; whether you are coming out above or below the national average, using figures compiled nationally.

It is sometimes rather difficult to know just how good your operations are without good records. Therefore, record keeping becomes extremely important in any operation of this nature. Another advantage would be that budget competition is eliminated. You also have more efficient use of administrative staff and facilities. Presumably, both departments would come under one head and be housed in the same building, using the same communication facilities. Public Safety Departments provide good public relations through progressive rather than repressive functions, through first aid programs, and through rescue work and fire inspection.

Let me give you an example of that: If a tough cop gives a kid a rough time and it is done publicly, this is a reflection on the whole police department. The image which each individual officer leaves is a direct reflection on all policemen. The law enforcement arm of the government has a repugnant type of appeal, because when you administer law enforcement, you are punishing people. With consolidation, the man that is patrolling is serving in a dual or a multiple service to the people and not just enforcing the law.

You might wonder what kind of training is required for a public safety officer. In the one periodical I read, they outlined three phases: five weeks of academy program within the department, six weeks at a metropolitan police academy, and one week of fire fighting procedures, which is a course that is sponsored at the University of Michigan. If we get into any type of police protection we have to guarantee that we have not only a good department, but the best department. There are many things that can be instituted along these lines. Performance standards and methods of evaluating personnel must be set.

Evaluating men with such standards as: ability, judgment, experience, emotional stability, interest, and production. Our budget would be as follows combining departments:

Fire millage (includes village) $ 66,855.96
 Police millage (township only) 62,611.31

$129,467.27

Three positions for police under the Emergency Act for 2 years 37,500.00

TOTAL PER YEAR . . . $166,967.27
 This would equal 2½ mills if combined as shown.

In conclusion, our choices are to contract with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, or go in our own department by consolidating and forming a Department of Public Safety. I have outlined my thoughts on the matter. What are yours?

TEETH CARE

When youngsters lose their teeth, it is usually because of neglect and decay. However, for adults the major cause of tooth loss is a disorder of the gum tissue and of the bones underlying and supporting the teeth. The more common of these are gingivitis (inflammation of the gum) and pyorrhea (or periodontal disease).

If your gums are red, tender, swollen and apt to bleed easily, you may have gingivitis. It's believed to begin when tartar and food particles accumulate on the surface of the teeth, to the point where they irritate the soft tissues of the nearby gum. It can usually be cured (and prevented) by removing the layers of tartar, and then keeping the teeth clean with regular brushing.

If it isn't taken care of, the gum tissues may draw away from the neck of the tooth, creating pockets. This is called periodontitis. The pockets become inflamed, and the exposed bone at the base of the teeth is eroded away. In time, the teeth become loose and drop out, or must be removed.

Periodontal disease may also develop, even if you keep your teeth saber clean. Poor diet, viruses and other causes have been suggested for this disorder, which also attacks the bone that supports the teeth, but with little effect on the gum. This is called periodontosis, and demands immediate dental care.

Remember the basic rules: avoid sweets, brush your teeth regularly, and see your dentist often.

Rec. program starts

Coupon deadline set for Nov. 9

The Jaycettes announced that the final collection of Betty Crocker coupons will be held on November 9. The program which has benefited the Kidney Foundation will end at that time.

Mrs. Louis Jaenichen, chairman of the collection, expressed her appreciation of the cooperation of members of the community in this project.

In the past a $5 donation was given to each school whose students had collected the most coupons. All the results of the past will be tabulated and the school whose students have contributed the greatest number during the entire campaign will receive a plaque of appreciation.

The box score in the race of schools collecting the coupons presently is as follows: North Sashabaw, 17,129; Bailey Lake, 14,420; Clarkston Elementary, 13,595; Pine Knob, 13,376; Andersonville, 9,434; Clarkston Junior High, 4,618 and Sashabaw Junior High, 2,299.

"Remind your friends and neighbors who have been saving their coupons that this is our last collection," said Mrs. Jaenichen. "We would appreciate it if each donor would clip and trim their coupons to expedite our handling and enable us to get them to headquarters on November 10 in ample time."

The new Jaycette sponsored Girl's Recreation Program got under way on October 27 when 250 girls from the 2 junior high schools showed up for the first activity.

Five high school girls volunteered their services as referees. Enthusiasm was high as the next scheduled event was announced for November 17. At this session mats and trampolines will be available from 3 to 5 p.m.

All 7th, 8th and 9th grade girls are invited to attend.

James Workenbert, program director at Camp Oakland was the speaker at the October membership meeting on Oct. 29. He explained the work being carried on at Camp Oakland with the help of slides.

Interest in the work being done at the camp was enhanced by the fact that each year the proceeds from the Christmas Auction are used to take some of the girls from the camp on a shopping trip.

The Jaycette organization presented a duplicating machine to their Jaycee group in honor of their 10th anniversary. The Jaycettes are marking their 5th year as a Jaycee Auxiliary in November.

Mr. Kieft presented the final engineering plans for sewer construction to the Council. Mr. Kieft was instructed to furnish copies of the overall final sewer lines to each council member.

The matter of bids on a new tractor and building for the street equipment was tabled until the next meeting.

Moved by Tower that the following resolution be passed:
WHEREAS, The Oakland County Road Commission has certain subdivision regulations which include road standards and specifications; and
WHEREAS, the Oakland County Board of Road Commissioners has the complete authority over such regulations; and
WHEREAS, these regulations do not reflect the varying character of communities throughout the county and may indeed erase the distinctive features of these communities; and
WHEREAS, these regulations are such that their economic impact results in high density developmental pressures on the land, contrary in many instances to local land use policies; and
WHEREAS, there is no question that good subdivision plats can and do result in the establishment of fine residential communities; and
WHEREAS, these regulations do discourage platting activity as shown by the lack of platting in Oakland County; and
WHEREAS, enclosed storm drainage systems have inherent problems which adversely affect lakes, streams and the replenishment of ground water;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

That we, the undersigned Village, petition the Oakland County Road Commission to adopt supplementary road standards, allowing a greater flexibility in dealing with roadway construction and design.

FURTHER, BE IT RESOLVED:

That a joint meeting be held with all interested municipalities to discuss and implement the intent of this Resolution at the earliest convenience.

Resolution seconded by Auten. Resolution carried.
 The matter of the official name of the Clarkston-Orion Road was discussed. It was reported by Trustee Tower that the County records indicate that the official name for this road is the Clarkston Road.

Trustees Jones and Auten were instructed to interview applicants for the openings created by the Emergency Employment Act grant. Trustee Wilford was to assist.

Moved by Tower that the due date for the collection of Village taxes be extended from September 1 to October 18. Seconded by Auten. Roll: Auten, yea; Basinger, yea; Tower, yea; Wilford, yea. Motion carried.

Moved by Tower that the following proclamation be passed:
WHEREAS, the schools represent the best efforts of the community, the state, and the nation to improve the quality of life for each individual and for all mankind; and
WHEREAS, each citizen, in order to contribute to such efforts, must have an opportunity to learn about and understand the progress, problems, and potential of the schools; and
WHEREAS, the public schools constantly strive to bridge the gaps that threaten the unity and strength of the nation, by promoting

Understanding of the diverse ideas that lend vigor to our pluralistic society;
 Realization for each person of his unique worth and capabilities;
 Opportunities for the development of each student's talents and character to enable him to determine his goals and to find fulfillment in reaching them;
 The preservation, as a paramount priority, of an environment that enriches the life of every human being and that supports the individual in his quest for satisfaction in worthy endeavors,
 Now, Therefore, I, Richard C. Johnston, President of the Village of Clarkston, do hereby designate October 24-30, 1971, to be American Education Week and do urge all citizens to reaffirm their commitment to examine our schools and assist them in bridging the gaps between what is and what can be in the process of providing the best possible education for all.

Seconded by Wilford. Proclamation passed.
 The Clerk was instructed to approve the request of Michigan Bell Telephone Company for the underground cable for the Surrey Lane development.
 Meeting called adjourned by President Johnston.

Pine Knob gets face lift . . .

By Jean Sura

A 31-year-old dynamo is literally and figuratively "moving the earth" out at Pine Knob Resort in Independence Township.

"Hey, Joe, what do you think about this molding?"

"Looks like 3/8's to me," said Joe. "Tell him that will be perfect but to get it out here by Monday for sure."

"Hey, Joe, what do you think about this paint?"

"Hey, Joe, they have the electrical lines across the driveway."

"Hey, Joe, are they going to get that cement in today?"

"Fine. Pick them up and drive under. They had better."

Joseph Locricchio, the dynamo, and a partner, Gary Francell, in the Indusco Corporation of Troy have bought the 70 acre resort from 4 partners in A&A Asphalt Co. of Birmingham for a reported $1.5 million.

Approximately $300,000 are being spent on the renovation of both the lodge and the ski slopes. Already, runs have been made longer and steeper. The earth has been contoured to eliminate the bowl terminus of the runs.

Four new runs have been added, 1 for beginners, 2 for intermediate and 1 for advanced skiers. The longest run will be 2,300 feet in length. As a result, the area will be able to accommodate 3 times as many skiers as in previous years.

Changes in the lodge included rearranging the dining area and doubling the facilities of the cocktail lounge. A dining room for employees has been added. Exterior changes in the lodge, elevations and landscaping, have enhanced its appearance and accessibility.

Plans include a 12-foot metal sculpture to grace the entry and all areas on the outside have been seeded or grass sodded. The parking lot contours have been changed to expedite drainage and parking. New blacktop has been installed. A valet parking lot will service the restaurant.

The cafeteria and rathskeller have not been overlooked in the renovation. Tile, rough plaster and antiqued barnwood paneling compliment the rustic, Alpine decor.

"Our plans are being made for a year-around operation," said Locricchio.

Our chef has a top-notch reputation. He has been employed at a large country club in the Grosse Pointe area. The bar and dining room will be under the direction of equally known and experienced men from the Detroit area.

Pine Knob Lodge has a new facade. A 4-foot foundation, roof changes, Alpine ski symbols, grading and landscape architecture add to its appearance. The interior is being remodeled to provide deluxe restaurant and bar facilities.

"We are working at top speed to complete the enormous tasks to make Pine Knob the finest in the area.

"Much credit for the expansion of the slopes goes to Paul Hartle who has managed the ski area for some years. I am primarily a builder and developer, having been in this business all my life."

As workers swarm over the area, intent on completing their work before the deadline which has been set for November 20, an aura of cooperation and industry prevails.

Someone commented, "Looks like one, big happy family, Joe."

"We are," said Locricchio, grinning. "Meet my cousin, Matt and my other cousin and uncle over there."

Locricchio lives in Bloomfield Township and his partner, Gary Francell, 30, lives in St. Clair Shores. Their past building and developing projects include the $7 million Troy Hilton Hotel, 2 industrial parks in Troy and 1 in Livonia.

Joseph J. Locricchio, part owner of Pine Knob Resort talks with cement contractor Richard DeCiantis of Colasanti Floor Company in Roseville in front of the lodge which is being renovated and refurbished.

The parking lot at Pine Knob has been leveled and repaved. Ample drainage has been installed. Surplus dirt was used to improve the ski slopes.
