Elections set Feb. 28 - Mar. 20

Voters of Independence Township will go to the polls February 28 in a special primary election and March 20 in a special election in order to fill the vacant post of township clerk.

This was the word received Monday by the township from Gov. William Milliken's office. The governor gained the right to intervene when local officials let 45 days expire after the resignation of former Clerk Howard Altman without appointing his successor.

The governor also informed the township that the deadline for voting to register in the primary and for filing nominating petitions is February 14, while the deadline for registering to vote in the election is February 18, according to Acting Clerk Robert Vandermark.

Village sewers could cost $200 - $300 a year

Likelihood that the costs of the village's $1.2 million sewer program will be added to village property tax bills over the next 30 years is gaining support in the Village Council.

Village President Richard Johnston says that the spreading of costs on a property tax basis would put the burden "somewhat on an ability to pay and afford federal income tax relief for the costs involved."

Johnston says the increase would likely be in the range of 15 to 22 mills additional, meaning that the owner of a $25,000 house might be charged $200 to $275 a year extra for the sewers.

He pointed out, however, that added development in the village could serve to reduce those costs over the years. Everyone in the village will be served by the sewer and total costs to meet each year's obligations will be divided among property owners, he said.

Sewers became necessary in Clarkston when the state cited the area several years ago for contributing to pollution.

The village president said final figures - which will show up on tax bills for the first time in July, 1974, - will not be determined until bonds for the project have been sold and the interest has been computed - probably sometime in February, he said.

He said older people living in modest homes in the village may not have to bear any of the cost if the value of their property does not exceed the homestead exemption presently allowed. Those who do pay will be able to add costs to federal income tax exemptions.

While the village proceeds along an ad valorem property tax route, the township is contemplating that sewer connections in the outlying areas will cost homeowners about $2,500 plus interest each regardless of the size of value of the property.

Since not every home in the township is to be served by the sewers, a connection fee is about the only way the township can raise the necessary funds to pay for the $9 million plus project proposed there.

The township also proposes, however, that sewer costs could be spread over 30 years, interest on the delayed payments to be computed into the overall cost to the homeowners. Sewers therefore could cost $5,000 by the time 30 years' interest has been added.

Construction on Clarkston-Independence arm of the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor is expected to start in March with completion sometime in 1973.

Some 359 housing units plus commercial enterprises in the village would be served as compared to 2,500 connections proposed in the township.

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

We are in receipt of a letter sent to one of the area utilities from the nearby nudist camp.

Dear Mr. ---:

I wish to express my sincere thanks to you for the excellent service your linemen performed last summer. It was explained to us that the transformer on the pole next to our swimming pool was of a special type that had to be dusted twice a day, oiled once a week and have the bolts tightened every ten days.

A Mr. Watt explained to me that unless the transformer was dusted regularly, the dust would coagulate with the paint, which would set up a chemical imbalance of the hydrofoil and cause a great deal of trouble.

I am happy to report that your fine line crew stopped every morning and afternoon and spent 15 minutes dusting the transformer.

While this operation was being carried on, a Mr. Volt stood on the top of the truck cab overlooking the 8-foot fence around our camp and carefully warned the girls around the pool not to get too close to the transformer.

Your crews always were very conscientious in making repairs. On one occasion a crossarm broke on a pole next to the tennis court where some of the girls were playing tennis.

Nine men with three ladder trucks worked four hours to replace the crossarm. They had quite a little trouble making repairs as they would put up a crossarm, put a level on it, then unbolt it and install another.

A Mr. Shock explained to me that unless the crossarm was absolutely level the wires to the transformer by the swimming pool would sag, the power flow would be uneven and, as a result, only half the swimming pool would be heated while the other half remained cold.

Evidently we have a special type meter by the swimming pool. The meter reader told us that it had to be read twice a week by two men so that an exact average of the power could be calculated.

One of your meter readers is very clumsy, because last summer he fell over two lawn chairs, a picnic table, and a garbage can while walking over to check the meter.

I wish to thank you again for the wonderful attention your line crew and meter readers gave us last summer.

I have been assured that all the men will again be on the job next summer. I also understand that last summer two men even gave up their vacations just to make sure that our electrical equipment worked properly.

Mrs. Ingrid Smith:

Well, a problem

Mrs. Ingrid Smith, 6360 Eastlawn, says she will petition the Independence Township Board February 8 to adopt a local ordinance controlling well digger performance.

Without water for three months now, the Smith family has seen three firms come and go. The latest, Orville McCarty of Pontiac, has with him $1,000 in check number 1470 made out by Mrs. Smith on December 10. He has been cited by the Oakland County Prosecutor for failure to keep state licensing and registration requirements in effect.

Mrs. Smith said investigation in the matter has disclosed that no community in Oakland County has ordinances regarding well men. "Water is one of the most important items in our lives, yet there are no regulations for the people who provide it. We have controls on septic tank servicemen, builders and everything else, and I think we should have them on well drillers."

Meanwhile there's a large hole on the Smith property where work to dig a new well was started but never completed. "I'm also worried about that hole. We've been very careful trying to keep people away from it so they don't get hurt," she said.

Youth organize

By Julie Wilford

Four areas of involvement — parks, drugs, general counseling and politics — will get the attention of a group of young Independence Township residents.

Organized as the Youth Task Force, the group is sponsored by the Clarkston division of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO).

About 30 young people met Monday night with Tom Collins, local OCCEO director, to designate areas of action. Those present felt more adults should be represented on the council, and set another meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday, February 7, at the old library.

Tentative plans are to formulate ideas and carry out projects in the recreation and park area, to combat and counsel drug users, to investigate development of a youth center for counseling in the areas of family problems, problem pregnancies, draft counseling, etc., and to make an organized effort to offer political representation to the youth and newly enfranchised voters.

Meanwhile a new OCCEO advisory council consisting of representatives of the poor, youth and senior citizens has set program goals of offering high school equivalent courses (GED) to those who wish to complete their education and to furnish transportation to the County Service Center for people needing food stamps.

The council will meet again at 7:30 p.m. February 21, in the old library.

Dog licensing clinics slated

Independence Township dog owners have until March 1 to purchase licenses for their animals at the township hall. Rabies shots, required for licensing, will be offered for $2 each at clinics in various locations of the county.

Shots will be given at the Holly Township Fire Hall, Holly, from 1 to 4 p.m. February 5, at the Oakland County Central Garage, 1200 N. Telegraph, from 1 to 4 p.m. February 13, at the Brandon-Ortonville Fire Hall in Ortonville from 1 to 4 p.m. February 20, at Groveland Township Hall, 4695 Grange Hall Rd., from 1 to 4 p.m. February 26, and again at the Central Garage, 1200 N. Telegraph, from 1 to 4 p.m. February 27.

License fees, now $1 for males and unsexed dogs and $2 for females, will climb to $5 and $7.50 on March 1.

Greene doubts latest school proposal

By Jean Saile

Clarkston's Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Leslie F. Greene, has his doubts that a recommendation which would combine Clarkston and other suburban areas with the Pontiac School District will ever come to fruition.

Such an integrated school borough has been recommended to U.S. District Judge Stephen J. Roth by the Detroit predominantly white Citizens Committee for Better Education. It has been produced at a time when Roth is considering a Detroit integration plan.

Said Dr. Greene, "Without seeing the program in detail, it appears that it will entail many legal questions. I also question if mothers and fathers would be supportive of such a plan.

"Anyone who has ever investigated the transportation of large numbers of students knows that the project is expensive and difficult, if not impossible. It's incomprehensible that it would ever be brought about," he said.

Also included in the plan is a special borough for Mount Clemens which would include parts of Macomb County. Other areas are tied in directly with Detroit schools.

Included along with Clarkston for the Pontiac program are Avondale, Rochester, Lake Orion, Waterford, West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills school districts.

It would form an area of about 81,000 students, 9.3 percent of which would be black.

GOP to hear candidates

Independence Township Republican Club will meet at 8 p.m. February 14 at the township hall to hear from Republican candidates seeking election as township clerk.

The meeting occurs the evening of the deadline for filing nominating petitions for a special primary February 28 and a special election for the clerk's spot March 20.

Newly enfranchised voters between the ages of 18 and 20 have been invited to attend.

High school band concert February 10

The Clarkston High School Concert Band will present a winter concert in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday, February 10.

Lee Campbell, high school senior, will be student soloist, performing "Nightfall" for alto saxophone by John Morrissey.

The concert will open with the majestic symphonic march, "The Sinfonians" by Clifton Williams, which will be followed by the concert overture, "Nabucco" by Giuseppe Verdi. Written in 1842, this overture to Verdi's opera depicts a variety of contrasting musical moods.

Other selections on the program will include "Blessed Are They" from Brahms' "German Requiem," "Funiculi, Funicula" by Luigi Denza, selections from the musical hit "Man of La Mancha" by Mitch Leigh, and "Alla Barocco" by Caesar Giovannini.

The drum section with Dan Millward, Chris Lehman, Gene Salk, Duane Day, Bill Rondo, Steve Buddrow, and Kim Mayo will be featured in a contemporary band work by John Barnes Chance: "Variations on a Korean Folk Song."

Assembly concerts will be presented at Clarkston Junior High and Sashabaw Junior High on February 4 and 5.

Tickets for the February 10 concert may be purchased from band students or at the door on the night of the concert.

Getting in practice for the February 10 Clarkston High School Band Concert is Lee Campbell, featured saxophone soloist. Backing him up is the percussion section with Bill Rondo on tambourine and Gene Salk on traps.

Outdoor showcase at Pine Knob

Celebrity concert productions featuring such attractions as Sammy Davis Jr., Burt Bacharach and Andy Williams may be in store for the Clarkston area.

They've been proposed by Detroit's Nederlander family to fill a $1 million, 5,000 seat summer theater pavilion at Pine Knob Ski Resort beginning next June.

The Nederlanders who are connected with the Fisher Theater in Detroit and nine other theaters across the country also own summer showplaces in New Jersey and outside Baltimore, Maryland.

The proposal for Pine Knob includes 5,000 seats under cover and an additional 5,000 seats in an open bowl-shaped lawn area.

The theater would be the gem development for a $60 million apartment and commercial enterprise proposed there by Indusco Co. of Troy.

Rezoning to allow the development will be the subject of a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. February 3 at the township hall. Details for the theater are expected to be presented at that time.

Year's report counts crime in the townships

There were 213 burglaries reported to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department in Independence Township last year.

Lewis M. Doyle, chief of the identification bureau, says the number does not include those crimes investigated by the Michigan State Police or village police officers.

Of the 213 break-ins investigated, 136 occurred in residences, 14 in garages, eight in business establishments, seven in schools, six in churches, and five in gas stations.

There were 202 property damage auto accidents investigated and another 102 in which someone was reported hurt. Two deaths due to traffic were counted.

Apart from the forced entry into buildings, there were 164 cases of larceny involving sums over $100 reported, 40 involving $50 to $100 and 98 involving sums of $5 to $50.

There were 36 cases of assault and battery investigated, 129 cases in which people complained of malicious destruction of property, 21 weapons violations, 22 narcotics complaints of which 13 involved heroin and the hard drugs, another two for glue sniffing, 24 drunk driving charges, 28 drunk and disorderly charges, and 19 cases of disturbing the peace.

Twenty-four prowlers, 25 obscene phone calls, 22 trespassing and 16 littering and dumping violations were reported.

Deputies investigated 60 complaints of family trouble, 20 animal bites, three cases of neglect, 29 missing persons reports, 16 abandoned autos, 40 suspicious cars and 17 suspicious persons. There were 10 wayward minors who met the law.

Six people committed suicide in the township and seven people were apprehended for mental reasons.

There was one drowning and one case of manslaughter reported. Deputies counted three cases of forced rape, three armed robberies, two strong arm robberies and four cases of assault with a gun, and one with a knife.

Twelve cars were reported stolen. There were six cases of arson reported, and one attempt at arson.

Forgery and fraud were attempted and embezzlement was reported. There was one case of receiving stolen property.

The report included one case of indecent exposure and six where indecent liberties were taken.

In Springfield Township, the numbers were considerably less in most areas; however, there were two cases of indecent exposure and four involving indecent liberties.

Two marijuana charges were made, one neglect charge was filed, and eight charges were made for drunken driving.

Also in Springfield there were ten drunk and disorderly investigations, 11 reports of prowlers, eight trespassing cases, and six obscene phone calls reported. Five charges of disturbing the peace were investigated.

Forth-three accidents in which someone was hurt and another 47 which involved only property damage were reported. There were two deaths due to accidents. Three hit and run accidents involving one injury were reported.

Officers also investigated three suicides and two sudden deaths in Springfield.

Springfield had 68 break-in robberies of which 40 involved residences. Thirty-four cases of larceny were reported.

There were ten investigations of assault and battery and two of assault with a gun. Two cases of arson and 29 involving malicious destruction to property were reported in Springfield.

Eleven missing person reports were filed from Springfield; five cases of animal bites, 14 suspicious cars and six suspicious persons were reported. Four mental cases were investigated. Eight weapons violations were counted.

The input counts

In general it is true that people get the kind of government they deserve. Where the electorate is informed and interested, government is apt to be good. Where people care little, it is an axiom that the same often holds true for the people they've elected to office.

Independence Township government, now more in conflict than at any time in its history, deserves your attention. It also deserves your attendance.

Board meetings are at 7:30 p.m. the first and third Tuesdays of the month; however, the February 1 meeting has been delayed to February 8.

Questions presently facing and dividing the board are going to have an impact on your lives. Sewers . . . public safety . . . roads . . . They're the items that will dictate the kind of place this will be in the future.

While the controversial selection of a clerk will be a matter for voters to decide in a public election, there are still plenty of problems that should be getting the attention of the people who live here now.

Letters

Why the silence—

Dear Editor:

In a recent letter to your paper written by Mrs. Stonerock, a question was made as to my comparative silence at the Township meetings. The answer should be obvious—

In view of the great interest and concern expressed by numerous residents of Woodhull, it has no longer been necessary for my voice to be the lone cry in the wilderness. Nothing gives me greater satisfaction than the united effort of the residents of this subdivision in seeking improvements and help. Nothing is of greater disappointment than the township response to the people's requests.

Our progress in Woodhull for the past several years has been one of slow but steady improvement. This improvement has been accomplished against the great odds engendered by the neglect and deterioration permitted by our local government, which has taken place in the past. The amount of help we need now is a direct result of the lack of help and enforcement previously.

Independence Township now has the ordinances necessary to continued improvement. These ordinances, especially in regard to home improvements and condemnations, can and should be enforced, but, enforcement can be accomplished with allowance for individual circumstances and with human regard.

Unfortunately, there seems to have been no great push toward improvements in properties owned by absentee landlords. I have no sympathy for these "property milkers," who take advantage of and profit from large or low income families who can find no other place to live.

Another instance of disappointment is in reference to litter and garbage violations. There are those who can only learn by being fined. To the best of my knowledge the ticketing powers of the Township building inspector have never been employed in Woodhull, despite many requests and demands from our residents.

I have lived in Woodhull Subdivision for over six years and have never known any finer people than the majority of our residents. Many of us bought property here and live here seeing the future potential of the area. Hopefully, with the full and complete cooperation of the township government the future we see for Woodhull Subdivision will be realized.

Very truly yours,
Julie A. Smith

Here's snow up your sleeves

I can say 1 good thing about snowmobiles: I've never been run over by one.

I drove a snowmobile once. I ran it into a mailbox, a federal offense, and there have been strange clicks on my phone ever since.

Right now, my favorite county is in a terrible tizzy over new laws which limit where Joe Outdoorsman can drive his snowmobile. He must keep off the roads and right-of-ways. If Joe wants to rip his machine through your backyard at 3 a.m., he'd better live next door. Otherwise, he must haul his snowmobile into your neighborhood on a trailer. This takes the phantom fun out of snowmobiling for Joe who likes to roar in and roar out before you can grab your shotgun. Joe makes a beautiful target while strapping his machine back in the trailer. This unfair law is similar to requiring robbers to check their tire pressure before making their getaway from in front of the bank.

Whenever I suggest an audit of snowmobilers' marbles, I am accused of being more Jill than Jim. My rugged friends say I have no adventure in my blood. They say I'm a homebound sissy who doesn't appreciate the bracing beauty of snow and cold air. They usually tell me this in some bar outside of which they parked their snowmobiles 9 hours earlier.

I deny this slander, hearkening back to my boyhood to prove there is nothing wrong with my spirit of adventure. My buddies and I used to hook cars in the winter. We used to hide behind trees on Ontario St. When a car slowed at a corner, we would dash out and grab hold of the back bumper. We'd crouch low and use our feet as skis. We'd slide behind those cars as far and as fast as they'd take us. The trick was to somehow survive when you suddenly hit a bare hunk of pavement. You either shifted your rump quickly onto the bumper, or you fell forward and suddenly had a 2nd mouth, this one above your eyes. I lost a lot of skin that way. My shoes didn't last long, either.

But that was when I was working hard to be A Real Boy, as required by Saturday Evening Post covers. There was nothing I hated worse than snow up my sleeves but I didn't dare admit it. The leader of our gang was my lousy big sister and if I didn't follow the leader through every blizzard she would enroll me in a convent.

It was nice to grow up and be able to admit that winter is for looking at through Thermopane, or for leaving via Delta. Snow and ice are horrible things and adults who touch them on purpose are badly in need of psychiatric help. That's why I'm stunned to see grown men sob because they can't ram through snowbanks in motorized sleds.

I mean, everyone of these guys owns a hardtop with a heater. Admittedly, a snowmobile will take you places where a Chevrolet won't go. But why go there? Why risk barbed wire, buried stumps and landowners' wrath simply to enter a tavern through the kitchen door?

"The scenery is beautiful and it's great for family togetherness," explained 1 friend who has $10,500 invested in 4 snowmobiles and $500 invested in 4 matching snowsuits, each with 25 zippers that can't be worked by frozen fingers.

Oh well. To each his own. There's no way I'm ever going to understand a grown man who likes to play in the snow with kids. As for scenery, my friend recently ran his snowmobile into a parked car and broke his collarbone. If he can't see a parked car, how can he see scenery?

Onward and upward, thermostatically controlled.

Is and ought

by Jim Briney

The name of this column, "Is and Ought," comes from a lecture I heard several years ago entitled "The Gulf Doctrine."

The professor spoke of the gap between what is and what ought to be in society.

I have thought for some time that the gulf in our society lies between what we claim we are and what actually we do.

In terms of our governmental structure, we do not all play an equal role—nor do we have opportunities to do so.

In 1968, at age 21, I first sought a seat in the Michigan Legislature because I believed that young people (also) ought to be a part of the decision-making process that affects all of our lives as individuals in society.

I learned quickly that what "ought" to be does not become reality simply because we think it should; even though our principle and philosophy of government is based on equal opportunity and full participation.

I learned quickly, but perhaps not well, because I again ran in 1970 for the State Senate. The last campaign was quite dear in terms of health and money, neither of which I had in any substantial amount.

Friends, and the occasion to meet others made the effort worthwhile if not successful. Even had we won that first race in '68 or the second in '70, it would only have been a beginning—for there is a great deal of difference between being elected and doing the job.

One thing I have learned well, as a constant observer of legislators and politicians, is that "you cannot judge people by what they say, for it's real clear from what they do."

An attempt is being made this week to enact legislation that will allow greater participation on the part of the electorate in the choice of presidential candidates.

Conceivably this legislation could be before the governor by Friday for his signature which would make it law that a Michigan presidential preference primary be held in May.

While there are yet a number of details to be worked out, it is interesting to note that the Democratic State Central Committee supported the presidential primary concept by one vote.

The Republican State Central Committee favors it unanimously.

Laying it on the line

Dear Editor:

Enclosed is a note for Mr. Keith Humbert.

Dear Keith:

I received your public letter to me in the Clarkston News. Corresponding by newspaper seems a bit zany, but don't be dissuaded. Your letters give us all a little chuckle, especially the driving lessons.

You suggest I resign and run for trustee in the clerk's election? This idea is kinda foxy. Wouldn't you and Mr. Stonerock then control the remaining 3-man Board? Your "caretaker" government smells faintly like the 2 wolves left to guard the chicken coop. Be patient, Keith, you'll have your chance at me in November.

But how about you? Must we wait until 1974 to learn whether the voters have been impressed? Let's put the following issues on the clerk ballot:

(1) Should the Township buy a 40-acre, central park located 1/2 mile from Oakland County's 700-acre park?

(2) Is a central park more important than neighborhood parks close to where the people now live?

(3) Should we consider a superhighway for the Edison power line corridor?

(4) Should we plan to sewer the entire northern township in 1980?

The people could endorse or reject these propositions, and you at the same time. You've answered yes to these questions, as you may recall. Or you could back a particular clerk candidate, and if your horse lost you lose too—fair enough?

Your pen pal,
Tom

Letters to the Editor

Lynch has questions

Dear Editor:

The Republican Party must ask these questions to insure that all people living within this township are not deprived of their rights. These questions have been asked by others and they are questions that concern us now that we will have an election for clerk in the next few months.

The new young adults may be the ones that have been wronged more than anyone else because the age of majority became effective during this time.

Quote from the Clarkston News December 9, 1971: "There'll be something wrong if we can't get a Democrat appointed," Stonerock said.

Was it so important that a Democrat be appointed instead of someone that could fill the clerk's position, no matter what his party label?

Has personal feeling deprived the township of its continuity of governmental operations?

Was the titular head of the township looking out for the best interests of the people when he asked to have the deputy clerk, and thereby the registrar of electors, removed?

Are those people that have registered since December 7, 1971, legally registered or will they be challenged when they vote at the polls?

Does the action of appointing registrars for registration of electors at the Township Board meeting on January 27 imply that those people that have registered since December 7, 1971 are illegally registered?

Should the people whose legal registration is in question be notified for re-registration?

Does attempting to make registrations retroactive to December 7, 1971 admit that there was an oversight?

Was the special meeting of January 27 a proper meeting? Were some proper legal requirements overlooked?

These questions must be answered because there is some doubts that the proper safeguards are being taken to insure that those duties of the clerk's office are being administered properly—that if they are not, it will be the people of the township who will suffer.

Sincerely,
John J. Lynch, Chairman
Independence Township Republican Club

Where to file recall?

Dear Editor:

There is one question that is without answer at this time. The question is, who in the township can accept recall petitions?

The clerk, by fictional appointment, has no authorization from the township board. Stonerock would not accept petitions for his own recall.

There is another question. Where would a candidate for office file his petition?

The last two township meetings failed to correct these problems. The last township meeting failed by reason of improper notice to the public.

"Busing is a reality"

Dear Editor,

Parents of Clarkston children:

Cross district busing is a reality. The plans have been submitted to Judge Roth which would involve our township in busing.

The National Action Group, of which Clarkston is a part, has asked to intervene before Judge Roth regarding cross-district busing. We need support of ALL Clarkston parents to try to stop the issuing of a cross-district busing order.

State School Board member James O'Neill has a plan which would create better education for all Michigan school children, without cross-district busing.

It is our feeling that this would be a much better way of upgrading education than cross-district busing, which would require busing of 550,000 students.

We are presently trying to raise money to help pay for the intervention petition before Judge Roth. We need your help. Please call 623-9218 or 625-2592 for details on how you can help.

If you want to maintain a local school board with local control of education and have any say in the educational process of your children, don't sit back and wait for Joe to do it.

Ed Manley, Chairman
Clarkston Chapter of N.A.G.

"Don't be a hypocrite"

by Carl W. O'Brien

Now that I am in my 41st year and am approaching middle age with all the gracefulness of a walrus on roller skates, I feel that I should comport myself as other overripe parents do. So I'm going to perpetrate my first 100 percent middle age act.

I'm going to give youth a lot of unsolicited free advice. I do not know what the true worth of these wisdoms are which I am about to spray upon the young of the community, but since the counsel of guardhouse lawyers is traditionally offered free gratis, at least the price is right.

Suggested dosage: the below items to be taken sparingly, followed by grains and grains of salt.

* Always be gracious to those you disagree with—especially while they are within earshot.

* Eschew sloth and violence; meanwhile, work hard down at the munitions factory like your old dad does.

* Groom an Irish look while keeping a Jewish grip on reality.

* Cultivate intellectuality: read The Sensuous Woman, The Sensuous Man, The Prisoner of Sex, The Female Eunuch, and Everything You Always Wanted to Know about Sex, so when your marriage breaks up you won't find yourself at loose ends.

* Respect yourself highly and others may be fooled into thinking you know your own true worth.

* Go to med school and make your mother happy—she always wanted a millionaire in the family.

* Avoid marijuana, social diseases and books penned by foreign-born authors. Follow your elders' example: Drink socially until in a complete stupor, commit adultery only when out of town on business trips, and in lieu of reading anything watch 18 hours of football on the tube each weekend.

* Emulate John Wayne. Make patriotic movies all during the next war. That way you will become rich while remaining healthy.

* Vote Democrats into office during the next depression. Then go for the Republicans during the next war. This is the basic political philosophy of my generation and it has served us well!

* Every time some effeminate French or British designer picks up a crayon be persuaded to change your clothing style and hair length. People will think you are keen.

* Launch passionate crusades that do not require you to get out of the house too much—like ecology.

* Oppose busing for purposes of racial integration on the firm scientific basis that diesel fumes may be hazardous to children's health.

* Above all, don't be a hypocrite.

A reply to Mrs. Stonerock

Dear Editor:

Now that Mrs. Stonerock has refreshed the memories of the people, let's compare the results!

1. Nine months later we have yet to see the litter ordinance enforced.

2. Attorney's opinions and examples of township cooperation: 1.) Building permits terminated. b.) $5,000 performance bond graciously lowered to $1,500 when building permit was finally issued. c.) A proposal that new and remodeled homes come down in area of rehabilitation. d.) Refusal to show public records! e.) Five months' deadline to renovate homes in the dead of winter! f.) Refusal to meet with the people until recently.

3. Check for state or federal funds on a selective urban renewal project basis. (Result at a joint Planning Commission-township board meeting 6:15 p.m. Aug. 3, 1971, which excluded 13 residents, an estimate of $30,000 to $60,000 was given for township planners, Parkins and Rogers Associates, to do work on a "Complete Redevelopment" under the H.U.D. program. Petitions with 156 signatures were submitted by residents to terminate the study. The only objector was George Woody, vice chairman of the Township Planning Commission, who is in favor of continuing the study.)

4. Seek street signs from County Road Commission. No signs as of this date!

I agree, Mrs. Stonerock, I was there. We spent a long day working very hard. But what were we doing two blocks away from our home when Mr. Stonerock should have enforced the litter and obnoxious weeds ordinances?

No doubt the owners of that lot appreciated the help as after the improvement a "for sale" sign was displayed.

We do appreciate any sincere attempt to help but let's not confuse the issue. The problem obviously is not whether we know what we want but in getting others to accept the fact the people do not want H.U.D. or their homes taken from them. You have a right to your opinion. Mrs. Stonerock, although I feel it is biased, but because it is our homes at stake and our lives being disrupted, I hope our opinions have priority!

If fighting for what is rightfully ours is considered causing trouble then I will have to plead guilty to your accusation.

Sincerely,
Mrs. A. E. Mann

"Wheels" author to speak in area

Arthur Hailey

The author of the best selling Detroit-based novel, "Wheels," Arthur Hailey, will address Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, February 9, at the Kingswood Theater, Bloomfield Hills.

A celebrity luncheon at the Kingsley Inn will follow Hailey's talk. Ticket holders interested in luncheon reservations may send $4 to Mrs. S. V. Sekles, 2930 Bloomfield Shores, Orchard Lake, Mich., 48033, no later than February 7.

Although many people have tried to identify characters of Hailey's most recent book with individuals associated with the Detroit auto business, Hailey merely states, "All characters could exist, but I am a fiction writer and this is a novel."

Hailey feels, however, that the picture he draws of the auto plants is reasonably representative.

Other books authored by Hailey included "Airport" and "Hotel." The best selling author says he spends at least three years researching and writing a novel.

Donna Lynn Pfahlert

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert C. Pfahlert, 9150 Evee Road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Donna Lynn Pfahlert of Peshtigo, Wisconsin, to Gene Joseph Kuberta, 1915 Shore Drive, Marinette, Wisconsin. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Joseph Kubert of Marinette. A March 10 wedding at Calvary Lutheran Church is planned.

Maranatha Baptist celebrates

The Maranatha Baptist Church of Clarkston, 5790 Flemings Lake Road, will celebrate its fifth birthday during the week of Sunday, February 6 through Sunday, February 13.

Each of the regular services of the church will bring into focus some of the events and the people instrumental in the beginning of the church. Dr. Harry Love, general director of the Conservative Baptist Association of Michigan, will bring the first of the special messages Sunday morning, February 6, at the 11 a.m. service. At 7 in the evening Alan Somers, now assistant pastor of the Maranatha Baptist Church of Flint, will preach and sing.

Maranatha's assistant pastor, Rev. Philip W. Somers, Jr., will preach and also show selected slides of the past five years in Maranatha's life on Wednesday, February 9. Sunday morning, February 13, Pastor Philip W. Somers, Sr. will preach, and in the evening of the 13th an old friend of the congregation, Rev. Sydney Hawthorne, now of Plainwell, Michigan will bring the birthday week to its close.

Incorporated five years ago by 180 people and no physical assets, Maranatha is now a firmly established church with 12 acres of ground and a fine church building which is the first of a projected three to be built on the site.

The youth work of the church includes Boy's Brigade and Pioneer Girls, which have averaged a membership over 110 for the past two years, meeting weekly.

The Maranatha Youth Choir is now in preparation for its fourth annual midwestern tour, which will take it into Denver and the surrounding area, Kansas, Nebraska, and several other states. This choir will have 42 young people and 18 adult sponsors on tour this year, and will sing to hundreds of high school young people as well as in church rallies over a 10-day period following Easter.

Maranatha is known for its music, and for the uncompromising stand which it maintains concerning the accuracy and relevancy of Scripture. The public is invited to share in the birthday celebration of the church.

Pope's teachings get weekly airing

Oakland County Chapter of Catholics United for the Faith has announced a weekly radio show, "The Pope Speaks," will begin at noon Saturday, February 12, on radio station WMZK-FM, 97.9 on the dial.

The program is sponsored by the Greater Detroit and the local chapters. Next regular meeting for Clarkston area residents is 8 p.m. February 3, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Maybee Road.

The group, needing donations to continue the radio show, is interested in a return of the church to the teachings of the Pope, according to Mrs. Pauline Day, a member.

Orchard Lake "Polish Day"

"A tribute to Frederick Chopin" performed by David Krakowski, St. Mary's College sophomore, will be featured as part of the monthly "Polish Day" February 6, at the Orchard Lake Schools (Saints Cyril and Methodius Seminary, Saint Mary's College, Saint Mary's Preparatory).

The featured soloist from Cleveland, will perform a total of 14 selections by Chopin beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the Polish Room.

Around the Township

A small world

by Delilah Peterson

Mrs. William (Skip) McClean of 6281 Middle Lake Rd. has first hand knowledge of how TV has made the world smaller.

While watching "The Dating Game" January 26, she saw her nephew, Louis Paradise of Glendale, California, win the game.

She last saw Louis, now 22 years of age, when he was ten years old.

The McClean family are former residents of Birmingham, Mich.

Mrs. Derrell Batchelder of 6191 Wertz St., Davisburg, has returned home after a short stay in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. During her absence, her mother-in-law came from Detroit to mind the house and her grandchildren, Randy and Ricky.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gallo are new residents of Rattalee Lake Road. They are originally from Warren, Michigan. They have one daughter, Beth, now attending Oakland Christian School of Bloomfield Hills.

The wedding of Mary Moon to Frank Emerson took place on Saturday, January 29, at the United Methodist Church of Clarkston with the Rev. Frank Cozadd officiating.

The attendants were Cathy Crowley, daughter of the bride, and the groom's brother, Paul Emerson.

Following the ceremony, a beautiful reception was held in the community building of the Greens Lake Apartments.

Approximately one hundred guests attended the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Schemel.

The bride and groom will spend their honeymoon in Jamaica. On returning, they will make their home at 6926 Tappan Court.

Thirty-five guests attended an Italian dinner at the home of the Pete Roses Saturday night.

Each guest had a special reason to celebrate, ranging from wedding anniversaries and engagements to a recovery from the flu.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Matt Hubchen of Berea, Ohio.

When Spec. 4 and Mrs. Michael Dengate return to Clarkston March 1 from Okinawa they'll be bringing a new addition. Buffy Jane, 9 pounds, 15 ounces, was born in Okinawa January 20. She joins Rory, 2, at home. Mrs. Dengate is the former Judy Tossey of Clarkston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Tossey of Felix Drive. Mrs. Margaret Dengate of Pontiac is the paternal grandmother.

Mrs. Tossey reports Michael's discharge from the Army is due and that the couple expect to settle in the area.

Kay L. Speace, a student at Clarkston Senior High School, has been notified she's the school's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for 1972. She was chosen on the basis of her score in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken by senior girls December 7, and will receive a specially designed award charm from General Mills sponsor of the annual educational program. She's also in line to compete for state and national honors. Good luck, Kay.

Freshmen Paul A. Campbell of 6533 Northview, Elizabeth A. Cowen of 6079 Middle Lake Road and John Daniel Hux of 6907 Snowapple Drive and Junior Mary A. Hennig of 8180 Allen Road achieved Central Michigan University's honors list during the fall semester there.

Cub Scouts of Pack 49 took part in a hayride, sledding and hot dog roast Sunday, January 30, at Circle C Ranch. About 60 people attended the family outing.

People said the warm fire furnished by Circle C was appreciated as they returned from the chilly hayride and sledding.

"How I Can Help America" is the theme for the fifth annual America And Me Essay Contest sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group. The contest, open to all Michigan eighth grade level students, will begin on February 1 and end March 1.

Purpose of the essay contest is to stimulate teacher-student-parent interest in America's problems, its strengths. And, more important, it will give youngsters a chance to reflect upon their role in tomorrow's America.

DID YOU KNOW?

What a shocker! God's not "up there;" He is down here. Paul said to the Corinthian people, "Haven't you yet learned that your body is the home of the Holy Spirit God gave you, and that He lives within you? Your own body does not belong to you. For God has bought you with a great price. So use every part of your body to give glory back to God, because He owns it."

So many, many times we make our approach to God by doing this and that, going here and there, as though it were of extreme necessity to climb a ladder to the heavens to reach God, and arriving at the top rung, discovering, not God, but that we're exhausted from climbing. We missed a simple fact. We don't have to climb to reach God. He sent Jesus, His Son, down here. Jesus meets us where we are and as we are now. When we meet Him, we discover God, not exhaustion.

Spiritual Message

Clancy J. Thompson

DRAYTON HEIGHTS FREE METHODIST CHURCH

What does this mean to us? It means that Jesus is encountered on your level, at your point of need, at your place of desperation, to take care of that burden of guilt and sense of sin that blocks your sight and understanding of God's love. The Bible says, "For God so loved the world that He sent His only Son - so that believing in him - we should have eternal life - His life."

Another meaningful Bible promise, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door (heart's door, or life), I will come in -" makes provision for us to receive Jesus when He meets us at our level.

Not only does He meet us on our level, and give us "life" - His life, but He makes our bodies the dwelling place of His Holy Spirit, guaranteeing his presence and guidance in our every day walk, not from the heavens, but from within. Did you know that?

Old timer's column

It occurs to me that during this month of coughs and colds, we had a lot of medicines and cures for the common cold that are not used in this day of pills and shots.

Results seem to be about the same, then a cold lasted about a fortnight, while now it takes about two weeks. I think the medicines then tasted worse, and perhaps that's the reason they fell into disfavor, and are no longer used.

I believe that there were more colds then. This is not because of any improvement in medicine, but we have trained everyone to cover his mouth when sneezing or coughing.

We no longer have a common drinking cup.

Third, we use the handkerchief or disposable tissue now. We eat more fresh fruits and vegetables now, due to refrigeration and freezing, which keeps our bodies better nourished and more resistant to disease.

It seems to me that in those "good old days," most children had a runny nose. The coat sleeve was a handy handkerchief, and in school, at least, everyone used the old dipper hanging by the water pail.

Of course, we had a preventive against colds that we don't have now. It was the bag of assefoetida (commonly known as "fetty bags"), a fetid substance made as a by-product of parsley, that was hung around the neck on a string.

It seemed to work on children, as I never heard of an adult who wore it. Just when one graduated from it, I do not know. It was one of the vilest smelling odors I ever sniffed, and parents must have thought it would even keep a cold away from the kids. Perhaps its efficiency, if any, was that it kept other kids from getting close enough to transmit colds.

We took all kinds of the concoctions the mind of man could conceive in order to prevent a cold from "going down on the lungs," and the dreaded pneumonia developing. It was the killer of the time until World War II and the development of penicillin.

We had a cough syrup second to none: slice an onion and add sugar, then let it stand for awhile. The sugar draws out the juice of the onion, and the patient sips it by the spoonful. My sister-in-law still can't stand the taste of raw onions, even after more than sixty years.

There were two types of poultice used for chest colds. One was a mixture of lard and turpentine that was spread on a cloth, then folded over and laid out on the chest and pinned to the night shirt. If you were still breathing in the morning, but the cold no better, a patient was exposed to the old reliable mustard plaster, which was just that—a paste or plaster made of mustard, and put on the chest.

If that did not literally burn out a cold, it at least burned up the hide, leaving it red and blistered.

There were also goose grease, skunk oil, and a host of other poultices for the purpose, and by the time they had all been tried, either the cold was better on its own, or you were dead either from pneumonia or the various cures.

Does this writer believe in using any of the old remedies? He would just as soon use them as the new ones. If he does get a cold, he ties one of his socks around his neck, fixes up a dose of Watkins Liniment, and goes to bed.

Some people use a whiskey sling, and I suspect some use it occasionally as a preventive. I never use the Watkins Liniment unless I really have a cold, try it, and you'll understand why!

If any of my readers would like to read more about the life of the man, woman and child as it was lived in those days of the general farm, before the tractor came, read my book, GRANDPA TELLS IT LIKE IT WAS. You can pick up a copy at this newspaper office, or write Art Coffee, Goodrich, Michigan 48438, enclosing $3.95 plus 25c for mailing and handling.

Movies now court fare

The use of video tapes to introduce testimony in Circuit Court has been initiated by Judge William P. Hampton, in line with recommendations by the Oakland County Circuit Court Bench.

Hampton said, "This is being done pursuant to a newly adopted court rule which indicates that trials will not be adjourned because of the unavailability of expert witnesses at the time of trial."

"The advantage is that trials are not delayed, that doctors are not burdened with court appearances during their office hours and that jurors may observe the witness on video tape which is more personalized than merely reading into the record a deposition taken of the witness."

Classroom Window

By Bill Mackson

The Flexible Program originated five years ago as an attempt to make the curriculum at Clarkston High School more beneficial to the students. At first, only biology and English were involved but now the program encompasses nearly all departments.

The program centers around a series of four and one-half to nine-week classes in each department. No longer is biology confined to the tenth grade — now teachers meet students in grades 10 through 12 who elect one of the selections from the 23 different offerings found in biology alone.

For example, the same tenth grader who formerly would have had only the choice to take or not take biology now may select from field biology, ecology, vertebrate zoology, biogeography, cell physiology, non-vascular plants, human genetics, etc. Later he may select classes from parasitology, plant morphology, experimental botany, human anatomy and physiology, heredity, evolution, embryology, endocrinology, biological literature, physiology lab, genetics lab, research lab, research problems and senior review.

All of this is a far cry from the old idea of starting on page one and finishing on page 700.

Some of the things we are attempting to do with the Flexible Program are:

- † Increase the total number of class offerings available to students in all grades.

- † Allow as much freedom as possible for all students to select the classes they would like to take.

- † Vary the degree of difficulty so students can elect classes they feel competent to handle.

- † Allow freedom of choice in most cases.

- † Expose the students to all teachers in a department and thus a variety of teaching methods.

- † Utilize the special skills and knowledge of each teacher.

- † Increase the amount of knowledge available to each student.

- † Allow for constant change both for students and teachers.

How do students react to the Flexible Program?

Some comments I have received:

"It's nice to be able to select the classes you want to take and be able to make your own schedule."

"I really like the variety of classes offered."

"I think it bridges the gap between high school and college."

"The only problem I can see is in making up your schedule. Sometimes you don't get the classes you want because they are filled up."

"It's about time education turned out to be for students."

Student leadership conference at OU

High school students will gather at Oakland University March 3 for the tenth annual Governor's Conference on Student Leadership.

Many of the attending students will be in the age group entitled to instant adulthood and on the threshold of community leadership.

Governor William G. Milliken will address the students on the subject of responsible leadership at 2 p.m. During the morning, students will meet in small groups led by experts in leadership philosophy and techniques. Immediately after lunch, concurrent sessions will be conducted by student-moderators for the purpose of providing discussion on areas of specific concern.

According to Mrs. Douglas Owen, university conference director, selected high schools are invited to choose a student-moderator to represent the school on the day of the conference.

Sessions will be conducted by Senator Donald Bishop, R-Avon Township; Robert L. Donald, assistant professor of English, Oakland University; Jane Greenawalt, coordinator, Continuum Center for Women, Oakland University; J. Downs Herold, M.A., M.S., director of conferences, University of Michigan Extension Service; and Patricia Houtz, Ph.D., Assistant Vice President Student Affairs, Oakland University.

Additional professional staff include James D. Knotts, Ph.D., Teacher-Group Leader-Consultant, South Redford School District; Jack Paul, M.A., Co-Director, Humanistic Counseling Clinic; Aileen Selick, M.Ed., Coordinator, Magnet School Plan Office, Detroit Board of Education; the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas F. Stoll, Rector, Nativity Episcopal Church; Richard Thompson, M.A., Dean Highland Lakes Campus, Oakland Community College; James Wiedig, M.A., Personnel Research and Training Consultant, Ford Motor Credit Company; and June Shada, Lecturer.

Concurrent with the students' conference will be a teachers' program "Focusing on the teacher as a person" to be conducted by Linn R. Coffman, Consultant Advanced Training, National Training Laboratories.

Registration information is available by calling Conference Department, Oakland University — 377-3272.

Confessions of a reformed science teacher

by Marilyn Lawrence

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . Oct. 12

TO: Mrs. Lawrence, Science Lab

It has been brought to my attention by Mr. Olson, the custodian, that the "Crazy Lady" left three 5-gallon gasoline cans, horribly crushed and mutilated, in her wastebasket. What are you doing up there?

SMA

MEMO: To Sister Adelaide from M. Lawrence . . . Oct. 12

It has to do with air pressure. You said I could use the "Discovery Method" to teach scientific principles. I imploded the cans by boiling water in them, putting on the caps, and plunging them into cold water. I did NOT strangle them by hand, and tried to tell Mr. Olson that, but my Swedish is lousy, and his English isn't much better. I wish he would stop waving his fist at me in front of the children.

ML

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . Oct. 13

TO: Mrs. Lawrence, Science Lab

Gotcha. When you move on to "Explosion," cool it. Sister Rose Therese next door is rather high strung.

***

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . Nov. 19

TO: Mrs. Lawrence's Third Hour Science Class

Dear Boys and Girls,

Thank you for inviting me to your Hurricane. It certainly was interesting, and I'm sure you learned a great deal about air, weather, water, and the destruction caused by the forces of nature.

Sister M. Adelaide

Note to Mrs. L.: Mr. Olson has agreed to clean your classroom as soon as you remove the machine from the building. He says he was NOT swearing at you. He probably was.

SMA

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . Jan. 9

TO: Mrs. Lawrence

I think you blew it. Sr. Rose Therese has requested transfer to the ground floor, next to an exit. Her students explained that they had to wear gym shoes today because you were making lightning, and they had to be grounded. It was my impression that you "borrowed" a small Van de Graf generator. I had better check it out before first period. Find a pair of sneakers—size 6½.

SMA

(That IS static electricity, isn't it?)

***

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . Feb. 16

TO: Mrs. Lawrence

Of course he's mad! That "slip-of-the-circuit-breaker" knocked out the clocks in 40 classrooms, and they had to be reset by hand. You also shorted the bell system, and the hallways resembled a Chinese Fire

Drill for the entire afternoon. Be informed that I have cut off your AC-DC. It's back to batteries until you become more familiar with your "Discovery Method." Have you ever considered Vocational Counseling?

SMA

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . April 4

TO: Mrs. Lawrence

Per your request for a micro-projector, I have checked prices, and suggest you use your considerable talents for scrounging up equipment. Just keep it legal. What are Daphnia, and how far do you plan to go with this sex thing?

SMA

MEMO: To Sister Adelaide FROM: M. Lawrence . . . April 6

Daphnia are water fleas with transparent bodies—a perfect way to teach reproduction on an elementary level, because the female's eggs are visible, and the micro projector will blow her up to about two feet on the projector. With luck, I should have a live birth or two, and this is as far as I go in the Sex Business! (My own four kids think they were crocheted.)

M.L.

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . April 7

TO: Mrs. Lawrence

What's next—the Vice Squad? Those oversexed little water fleas were engaged in a mass orgy during first period, and half the Faculty has requested a "special showing"! The live birth was very good—if anyone was watching. Suggest you put specimens in refrigerator during lunch for cooling off period. "Marilyn Lawrence and her Copulating Fleas"—God, what an act!

SMA

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . May 1

TO: Mrs. Lawrence

At last night's Board meeting Dr. Ostrowski mentioned that you conned him out of 84 disposable scalpels. Please advise. Now.

SMA

MEMO: To Sister M. Adelaide from M. L.

This great slaughterhouse I found DONATED the 84 pork hearts. We're studying the human heart, and pork hearts are as close as I could get. Dissection by teams is planned for tomorrow, while they're still fresh. Besides, my husband wants them out of the refrigerator.

M.L.

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . May 2

TO: Mrs. Lawrence

Enclosed find: One Lysol Spray Deodorizer, One ounce Spirits of Ammonia, and Ten Lbs. Sawdust. Mr. Olson says if anyone faints or throws up, it's your problem. He said a lot more.

SMA

FROM THE DESK OF SISTER M. ADELAIDE . . . June 6

TO: All Faculty-Members

As you know, because of the crowded conditions here at Gesu, we have leased the old St. John Vianny school on Twelfth St., and plan to bus our Third Graders to this new "Annex". Because of last summer's unfortunate riots, some of our teachers are reluctant to change buildings, and so I am sending Mrs. Lawrence, one of our most creative teachers, to head the Art Department there. She will also teach Spelling, English, and Phonics.

Mr. Olson, our beloved custodian for the past twenty-four years, has reconsidered and decided not to retire after all. Have a restful summer!

"Portia faces life"

by Jean Saile

I'm just an old fashioned girl. Gadgets leave me depressed, the buzz of an electric typewriter can incapacitate my brain, the ring of a telephone can start a full-blown persecution complex.

Television is okay—sometimes. But the radio was more fun. Squeaking doors and horrendous wind sounds did much more to my imagination than they do to my eyeballs.

Books were always pretty good, too. My heroines were more beautiful, my villains uglier, and the good guys better than any I've seen depicted on the tube or screen.

Imagination always played a big part in my life. Growing up as the only small child on a remote Western Canada farm, I can remember lying on my back reading pictures into the clouds as they swept overhead.

If one of the Saile children did that for any length of time today, I'd probably begin to wonder what ailed him.

Today we're so pampered by automatic devices and organized to the teeth that there is very little opportunity for flights of fancy.

When I was a kid, if I wanted to talk to one of my friends, I had either to hike or ride horseback a mile to see them. The anticipated joy worked up during the trip was worth the visit in itself. Now, we dial a telephone with no thought.

A shopping trip was a thing to be debated and planned for days. It was an event of immense enjoyment, including dinner out, a chance to meet friends and to learn what was new.

Now, there isn't a day goes by that I—or one of the family—don't rush into a store to pick up some item we're "desperately" in need of. The shopping trip has lost its magic, too.

I see the changes I don't like, and I begin to feel it must be only because I'm growing older, and yet I don't think that's the whole story.

Our society is operated on a "run, don't walk" basis.

We've brought some of it on ourselves, choosing to keep up the city pace even after we move to the country—running five miles to the store for a loaf of bread—sending children to piano lessons or club meetings farther away than they can walk—considering ourselves non-productive (and perhaps non-protected) without every day scheduled to its limit.

But I—like lots of other people—don't know what to do about it.

Reward paid

The first reward on the "Silent Observer" program sponsored by the North Oakland Chamber of Commerce has been made from a clue that resulted in the arrest and conviction of a person involved in a break-in at a home in Waterford Township.

The anonymous tipster phoned the police while the break-in was in progress, enabling them to arrest the man as he left the house.

When meteorologists came up with the chill factor, it explained why we can feel a whole lot colder today at 10 degrees Fahrenheit than we did yesterday with an identical reading on the thermometer.

Wind makes the difference. A mere 20 miles per hour—hardly uncommon in the winter months—hits us with the bone-chilling equivalent of 25 below zero, even though the mercury reads a modest ten. That's two and a half times as cold.

Should the wind reach 40 mph, as it easily does during a January blizzard, the chill factor delivers an effective temperature of minus 37 degrees!

Registration legality could affect recall

By Jean Saile

There are people in Independence Township who say they're not willing to accept the legality of a reaffirmation of voter registrations accepted in the township since Dec. 6.

They say they're not willing to accept it because of the effect it could have on a recall petition now being circulated in the area against Supervisor Gary Stonerock.

Donald Sheldon, one of the movers in the recall effort, has indicated that it might be possible to prove that some of the signatures on the petition were not valid because their owners registered to vote after the resignation of Clerk Howard Altman.

When Altman left, it was ruled his deputy, John Shiff, could not serve because it was reported at that time there can legally be no deputy when there is no clerk.

The township board, meeting in special session Thursday night, moved to reaffirm that Betty Herner, Marian Lessard, Betty Hallman, Jody Norton and Sally Horsch be authorized to accept registrations, and members made the action retroactive to December 6 in an effort to protect the rights of 100 or so people who have reportedly registered since Altman resigned.

The meeting was called by Treasurer Ken Johnson and Trustee Keith Humbert who met with Trustee Tom Bullen in the absence of Supervisor Gary Stonerock to effect the motion. They also moved to empower Township Attorney Richard Campbell to hire Richard P. Condit of Bloomfield Hills to defend the township in a suit challenging the legality of a raise granted Stonerock at last April's annual meeting.

Campbell said another lawyer should be hired as it was probable he (Campbell) would be called on as a witness in the case. The suit charges that Campbell chaired the meeting temporarily without having been properly authorized to do so.

Luther Fletcher, another activist regarding the registration problem, contends further that Thursday night's meeting was improperly called and might therefore adversely affect the legality of the business transacted.

Quoting Michigan statutes, he said notice of a special meeting is to contain the agenda items, particularly in the absence of the supervisor. He maintains this was not done, and he blames the township's legal counsel for failure to spell out the laws regarding the whole situation.

Campbell, who admitted he had advised calling the special meeting, said he felt the registrations would be upheld in court because of two separate codes governing the clerk's deputy and the election clerks. He said the special meeting was advised just to make sure of registration validity.

"I want this matter settled, not just for the recall, but for everyone who votes in Independence Township," Fletcher said. "I'm appreciative of the efforts being made presently by township officials in getting this cleared up."

Registration deadline is February 11

Friday, February 11, is the last day to register to vote in the March 13 village election. Registrations will be accepted until 8 p.m. on that day at the home of Village Clerk Artemus Pappas, 55 W. Washington.

All village officials with the exception of Councilman Floyd Tower seek reelection. There will be no competition for the posts since no new nominating petitions were turned in prior to deadline.

Seeking reelection to two year terms are Richard Johnston, village president; Pappas, clerk; Mary Ann Pappas, treasurer; and Ralph Thayer, assessor.

Running for two-year terms on the council are Robert Jones, Ruth Basinger and Richard Weiss. Seeking one-year terms are Donald Auten and Lucia Wilford.

Bey honored by Lutherans

Ed Bey, 6210 Snowapple, was presented Calvary Lutheran Church's Outstanding Layman Award during the church's annual meeting last Sunday.

Sharing the honor were his wife, Leora and their children, Diane and Jeff.

Bey was honored for his vital leadership during the recent pastoral vacancy, his outstanding service to Calvary as a Church Council member the past six years, and as its top lay officer for the past three; however, Harvey Schroeder's highlight account of Ed's life also included his nicknames.

At the same meeting chaired by Pastor Robert D. Walters, the 66 confirmed members present elected seven persons to the Church Council.

Named were Marge Hood, 5918 Kingfisher; Marion Johnson, 5846 Flemings Lake Road; Bob Jones, 79 Robertson Court; Bob Kent, 6558 Wealthy; and Ken Peterson, 6646 Shelley.

Chuck Jorgensen, 6880 Bluegrass and Patti Olney, 6912 Hidden Lane, were chosen as the congregation's first Youth Advisory Members.

Outgoing council members cited, along with Ed Bey, were Dick Butler, Ray Hughes and Dallas Lippincott.

A councilmen's dinner Friday evening, February 11, will bring together all present and past leaders of Calvary. Former interim pastors, Lightner Swan and A. E. G. Daeschel, will be present and the Girls' Glee Club of Clarkston High School, directed by Grayce Warren, will sing.

Bob Newcombe of Southfield and Mike Freeland of Livonia demonstrate the kind of karate they'll be teaching Clarkston area men, women and children beginning February 8 at the high school. The 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday night classes will last for eight weeks and cost $12 per enrollee.

Residential property up 5%

While individual assessments have not yet been computed for the December, 1972 tax bills, Township Assessor Robert Vandermark says it appears that residential property will be assessed at about a 5 percent increase over last year.

He said the individual figures should be available by February 20 in time for Board of Review sessions which begin March 7.

Vandermark said that besides the residential increase, commercial property is likely to go up 4 to 8 percent, and large acreage as much as 13 to 16 percent.

"All increases will vary greatly from parcel to parcel," Vandermark said, with the overall township increase averaging 6 percent.

Independence Township currently has a state equalized valuation of $66,855,955, Vandermark said, with the new total apt to top $70 million, plus whatever new construction is completed.

"Plaza Suite" next for players

Rehearsals, set construction and requisition of costumes and props are well under way for the Village Players' next production of "Plaza Suite," written by Neil Simon and produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc.

Directing this funny adult comedy is Mrs. Joe (Jean) Hendricks, a new member of Players who made a hit in "Never Too Late." She portrayed Edith.

Opening night, February 25, will feature the usual afterglow with all playgoers invited to stay and meet the "stars."

The play will be presented the 25th and 26th and on March 4 and 5. Tickets will be available at the door or at Dr. Ernest F. Denne's office, 22 S. Main.

Briefly told

Russell Johnson, traveler and lecturer who has recently visited mainland China as Peace Secretary for American Friends Service Committee, will speak in a public appearance at 11 a.m. Friday, February 4 at Oakland University. His topic will be "Personal Report on China and a Visit with Prince Sihanouk."

Behind the Counter

From Keith Hallman

Doctors are increasingly concerned about the rising number of suicides in this country, with reported cases totaling more than 22,000 last year. Nobody knows how many cases are not reported because of careless investigation, or because the death was planned to look like an accident. However, several experts believe the true annual total may be around 100,000 suicides.

Of particular concern is the number of young people committing suicide: three known cases a day in the U.S. It's No. 2 cause of death among college students, and No. 3 among those 15 to 19 years of age.

Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, suggests there are five problems troubled young people hesitate to discuss with those who might help them: parents, poverty, friendships, broken romances and pregnancy. In college, there can be also an intolerable pressure to get grades higher than the student is capable of, either to satisfy parents or just to stay in school.

At any age, there are danger signs: insomnia, loss of appetite, energy and interest, vague aches and pains, a "hopeless and helpless" feeling, and social withdrawal. Often, the suicide victim will give plenty of hints or warnings about his intent; psychiatrists describe these as "calls for help." However, many suicides stem from a sudden panic or loss of control, and so far the experts haven't come up with a way to prevent or forestall these deaths.

Hiring quiz will help

A cross section of Oakland County employees will be asked what kind of people they expect to hire in the next five years as an aid in planning vocational training for high school students.

Dr. David Soule, Director of Vocational Education for Oakland Schools, said survey forms will be mailed this week to 1,483 employees representing the range of business and industry in the county.

Heads of businesses are asked to indicate the level of training at which they would prefer to hire people just beginning work careers and the number of people they hope to employ within the next five years. They are also asked which occupational areas they expect to expand and which they plan to reduce.

The employers survey is one of four surveys now being made to plan vocational courses in four area centers for vocational training as well as in the high schools of the 28 local school districts that comprise Oakland Schools.

Ten per cent of the 144,840 students from the fourth grades through the tenth grades will be sampled to learn their educational and career preferences. A telephone sample of 10,000 adults residing in the 28 districts will be made in February. An inventory of present and planned course offerings in the area high schools is also being made.

"The information on which we planned the courses now offered in the Area Vocational Centers is now five years old," Dr. Soule explained. "The economic outlook was quite different then. We need new information to keep the training offered in the Centers realistic and useful to both students and employers."

Winning game "too close"

By Craig Moore

Clarkston's Varsity Wolves picked up their fifth Wayne-Oakland League win against one loss last Friday, January 28. The Wolves, defending the first place spot in the Wayne-Oakland League title race, slipped by West Bloomfield's Lakers, 59-57.

Coach McDonald was not at all surprised with the win and commented, "That's a typical Clarkston Varsity game — we won!" However, McDonald wasn't too pleased with the way the game was won, as it was too close and much too sloppy.

The Wolves took the lead upon which West Bloomfield launched repeated attacks, but Clarkston held the lead for the major portion of the game and finally emerged victorious.

The Lakers showed little resistance to the Wolves in the opening quarter as the Wolves scored 14 points to West Bloomfield's 4. In the second quarter, however, West Bloomfield made an attempt to cover up for a poor first quarter showing. The Lakers scored 18 points while Clarkston put in 11 and the half closed with the Wolves up 25-22.

Clarkston had built up as much as a 7 point lead in the third quarter, but again the Lakers outscored the Wolves and by the period's end, West Bloomfield had moved into a 39-all tie.

The ball went back and forth in the final period and Clarkston had gained as much as a 6 point advantage, but with less than one minute remaining, West Bloomfield came within 2 points of the Wolves. However, in the last 39 seconds of the game, neither team scored and Clarkston sneaked past West Bloomfield, 59-57.

Snowmobile race

Lake Orion's second March of Dimes Snowmobile Drag Race will be Sunday, February 6, on Lake Orion at Green's Park.

The Lake Orion Snow-Drifters, sponsors of the race, will accept registrations from 8 to 11 a.m. at the race site and drivers will meet at 11:30 a.m.

There'll be a powder puff race as well as first, second and third place trophies for regular runs.

Registration is $6 for people equipped with helmets, goggles or shield and ankle high boots. Drivers under 18 must have parents' consent.

Small businesses benefit from SCORE

The largest number of small businesses on record in Oakland County secured free counseling during 1971 from SCORE, the Service Corps of Retired Business Executives sponsored by the Small Business Administration. The Oakland County total represented an increase of 47% over 1970, the previous high.

Established in 1965, SCORE nationally is composed of well over 3900 retired successful executives from practically every conceivable type of business. In Michigan, SCORE has its headquarters at 1240 Book Building, Detroit 58226. There are some 55 SCORE counselors in the Lower Peninsula.

Primary objective of SCORE counselors is to help the owners or managers of small businesses by identifying their problems and pointing out ways toward more effective and profitable operation. They also counsel individuals considering going into business for themselves.

Backgrounds of the counselors range all the way from manufacturing and engineering to marketing and promotion and include attorneys, accountants, etc. They serve without compensation.

The Wolves shot 73% from the free throw line, dropping in 11 of 15 foul shots.

Gary White put in 11 buckets and 7 of 8 free throws to lead all game scorers with 29 points. Mark Warren scored 5 baskets and 2 of 2 free throws for an additional 12.

White also led in rebounding, sweeping 18 down off the boards, and Warren added 9.

The win boosts the Wolves' season record to 8-3.

The last four games on the Clarkston basketball schedule are Wayne-Oakland League bouts. The first comes Friday, February 4, as the Wolves travel to Waterford Kettering to battle Kettering's Captains. JV game starts at 6:30 p.m. and the Varsity game follows at 8:15 p.m.

Clarkston JV now 9-2

By Mike Jewell

Clarkston's JV basketball team was involved in another black-out game against West Bloomfield. This time it was Clarkston's offense that was blacked out as they lost that make-up game 50-48 to set their record at 6-2.

They then came on after that game to run over Clarenceville 81-55 and to beat Milford 71-43. Then last Friday night they met West Bloomfield for the second and last time of the season and obtained revenge as they won 65-57.

Their record is 9-2 and Varsity's is 8-3. Dirk Feneley is still high scorer on the team with 119 points and coach Dave Bihl said he is very pleased with the team's winning attitude.

Haupts rebuild

The Village Council has given permission to owner Bill Race to rebuild Haupt's Body Shop at the corner of Main and Church. The building, damaged in a New Year's Eve fire, is a non-conforming use of village zoning laws.

Class openings still available

There are still a few openings in adult education winter term classes starting this week at the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center, according to Herbert Olson, principal.

Enrollments are still being accepted in dental office assisting I and II, auto body repair I and II, retailing and marketing, total office refresher procedures, and radio and television servicing.

Those interested may call the center, 625-5202, between 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays through Tuesday, Olson said.

Camp show due Feb. 19

More than 800 recreation vehicles will be on display at the fifth annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show February 19 to 27 at the Detroit Artillery Armory on West Eight Mile Road.

Vehicles on display will include tent campers, pickup or truck campers, travel trailers and motor homes. There will also be displays of supplies and accessories plus pickup trucks and cars specially equipped to carry or pull the units. Such items as trail bikes, air conditioners and communication radios will also be featured.

Information will be available on financing and insurance, campgrounds, conservation and popular trailer clubs.

More than 150,000 people are expected to view the show.

Rick Detkowski of Clarkston won this match for 119 pounds over John Shiappiacasse of Rochester Adams during the Clarkston Invitational Wrestling Match Saturday at the high school. Clarkston placed fourth out of eight teams competing, the local team losing out on third place by only half a point to Davison. Rochester Adams placed first and Mount Clemens second.
