Headed out

By Jim Sherman

I don't know exactly what made the Dick Kroningers move from Clarkston to Oxford about 6 years ago, but I'm glad they did. They're my neighbors.

And, they are better neighbors than I am. He can do so many things. Dick is one of those guys with mechanical-electrical-plumbing skills, who is always busy. Put that against a guy who can't operate anything that isn't push-button and you have our contrasts.

Dick's latest good-neighbor effort will go as another unrepayable debt.

While away last week a couple lads came into our yard to fish in our lagoon. Our black labrador joined them. She likes to go into the water after things. And she did.

Result - three fishhooks in her tongue and lip.

Fortunately for my two kids and the baby sitter, and unfortunately for Dick he was home. He got Dr. Earle Davis to open his Clarkston Veterinary Clinic. Earle was kind enough to give up his yard work to take care of our needs.

In doing ambulance duty Dick's station wagon was well splattered with blood and he had lost hours of homework.

I'll never be able to help Dick like he has helped me but I will always wish I could.

If you have a photo copying machine don't call it a Xerox. Even if it's a Xerox, don't call the copies Xeroxes. This is the plea of the Xerox Corp.

They're afraid the word will be used so much the federal government will concern themselves with Xerox having a monopoly.

Kodak, Kleenex, Scotch tape, Coke and a few others have fairly well known names and they don't seem worried.

What if newspapers signed off their editorials the way WWJ-TV does with that note about accepting replies from 'responsible' citizens.

It would appear we would be deciding who is responsible, and it appears WWJ-TV is doing just that.

Heck, we'll print letters from anyone, as many of you already know.

This being an election year, it is well to remember the importance of a single vote. John Quincy Adams was elected president by just one vote. In that 1824 election no electoral majority for any candidate was yielded. Therefore, the election was thrown into Congress which voted by states.

Of the Union's 24 states, 12 voted for Adams, 7 for Jackson and 4 for Crawford.

New York's representatives were evenly divided between Adams and Jackson. Finally, New York's Van Rensselaer switched his vote to Adams, thus making him president by one single vote.

The half of a percent margin President John Kennedy won by also points out the importance of 1 vote.

Candidate forum attracts few

Clarkston Education Association has endorsed the candidacies of Vincent Luzi and Charles Smalley to the Clarkston Board of Education.

The determination was made following a public forum last week.

About 30 people, most of them candidates or teachers, showed up Thursday night to hear nine of 12 contestants for the two openings on the Clarkston Board of Education discuss their views at Clarkston Senior High School.

Absent from the roster were Dave Bickerstaff, Jr. who sent a letter stating his views; incumbent T. O. Doremus; and George Phillips.

Mrs. Myrna Biggs, 5656 Dvorak, said she wants more discipline in the schools with a closer scrutiny of books, classes and teachers. She also spoke of her opposition to cross district busing and the need for better communication between the board and the community.

Iva Mae Caverly, 5800 Waldon, a teacher, concentrated primarily on school failures in reading instruction. Calling herself against busing, she said she was not in favor of it even as it pertained to changes in attendance boundaries within the local district.

Albert W. Foster Jr., 5960 Paramus, a former Pontiac Police Department detective and an insurance agent, said he was against busing and Gov. Milliken's proposed consolidation of districts. He would construct new schools with multi-purpose rooms which could be used for cafeterias, gymnasiums and the instruction of music and related subjects.

Gerald Lawrence, a manufacturing company vice president and leader of Clarkston's Civil Air Patrol squadron, said he thought schools should be run on a business-like basis. He would reallocate financial priorities, and strive to improve teacher quality, getting rid of those who do not produce.

Vincent Luzi, 7960 Dixie, an ex-teacher now with the Oakland County personnel department, concentrated on the need to get other methods of school finance. He proposed that Clarkston is not a long way off from the crisis now faced by Detroit schools. In favor of enrichment programs, he said they are necessarily controlled by available finances. He also noted a lack of communication between teachers and the administration.

Mrs. Evelyn Millward, 6715 Amy, said overall she is pleased with the school system at present, however she would like to see the recreation program expanded so more students could participate than are now allowed to in organized sports programs. She also said she is in favor of more communication between teachers and students, and she is opposed to busing.

Jim Peters, 3723 Maiden, Waterford Township, said the administration must consider those parts of the district lying outside Clarkston and Independence Township. An employe of MESC, he said he worked with school and family failures every day. Calling Dr. Leslie F. Greene, schools superintendent, a "tough necked old bird," he credited him for keeping the district out of debt. He also said he was opposed to teacher tenure.

Dr. Frederick L. Roeser, 6380 Waldon, a dentist, put himself in favor of the best program we can afford "with a sensitivity to the need of students, teachers and taxpayers." In favor of elementary art, vocal music and physical education programs, he said other enrichment programs should be provided only if finances are available.

Charles Smalley, 5247 Sashabaw, a past president of the Pontiac Letter Carriers' Association, put his faith in a state lottery as a solution to school finance problems. Opposed to busing, he is in favor of teacher tenure; wants remedial reading programs, more enrichment courses and field trips; and voice votes at the board sessions.

The forum was chaired by Douglas Doty, political action chairman of the Clarkston Education Association, sponsors of the meeting.

Mill Pond rated unsafe

If Clarkston's Mill Pond is going to be posted against swimming, it's up to the village council to do it, according to County Department of Health sanitarian Robert Coleman.

State laws, he said, permit the department to post only bathing areas offered to the public for swimming. Since the Mill Pond is in no way a bathing beach, Coleman said he felt the department would be exceeding its authority to declare it off limits.

He did advise however, that any equipment contributing to bathing usage be removed and that the council place "No swimming" signs in the area.

He said bacterial counts of the water indicate pollution levels high enough to be unsafe for swimming.

Counts taken last year in five areas on the pond showed a range of 1,300 to 6,000 total coliform, and 84 to 178 fecal coliform. Fecal counts of a hundred is considered the upper limit for swimming safety, Coleman said.

Supervisor Gary Stonerock pauses a moment after assisting Commander Ernest Head of the American Legion lay a memorial wreath at Lakeview Cemetery.

DeMaso speaks

Sen. Harry DeMaso (R-Battle Creek) will address the Independence Township Republican Club at 8 p.m. June 12 at the township hall. Sen. DeMaso is chairman of the Michigan Senate Taxation Committee. The meeting is open to the public.

A bomb search Thursday at Clarkston Senior High School failed to turn up any bomb Thursday, but the scare was good for some free time outside in the parking lot. Kids and teachers congregated around cars — some of them in informal songfests — and some taking advantage to skip.

Place named chairman; Independence House looks to fall opening

Don Place has been elected chairman of the organizing Independence House. Designed to serve the human needs of area citizens, the non-profit corporation will probably be located in the former Sashabaw Presbyterian Church, and a fall opening date is projected.

Assisting Place will be Don Hamaker, vice chairman; Janet Thomas, treasurer; Holly Stephens, secretary; with Tom Rademacher, Marilyn Hanson, Lynn Thompson, Alice Salzano and Bernard Speace as directors.

By-laws were approved by the board May 22 and cash contributions totaling $525 were received. Pledges of approximately $600 were also acknowledged, and it was anticipated that several hundred dollars would be received from the Jaycees Walk for Mankind.

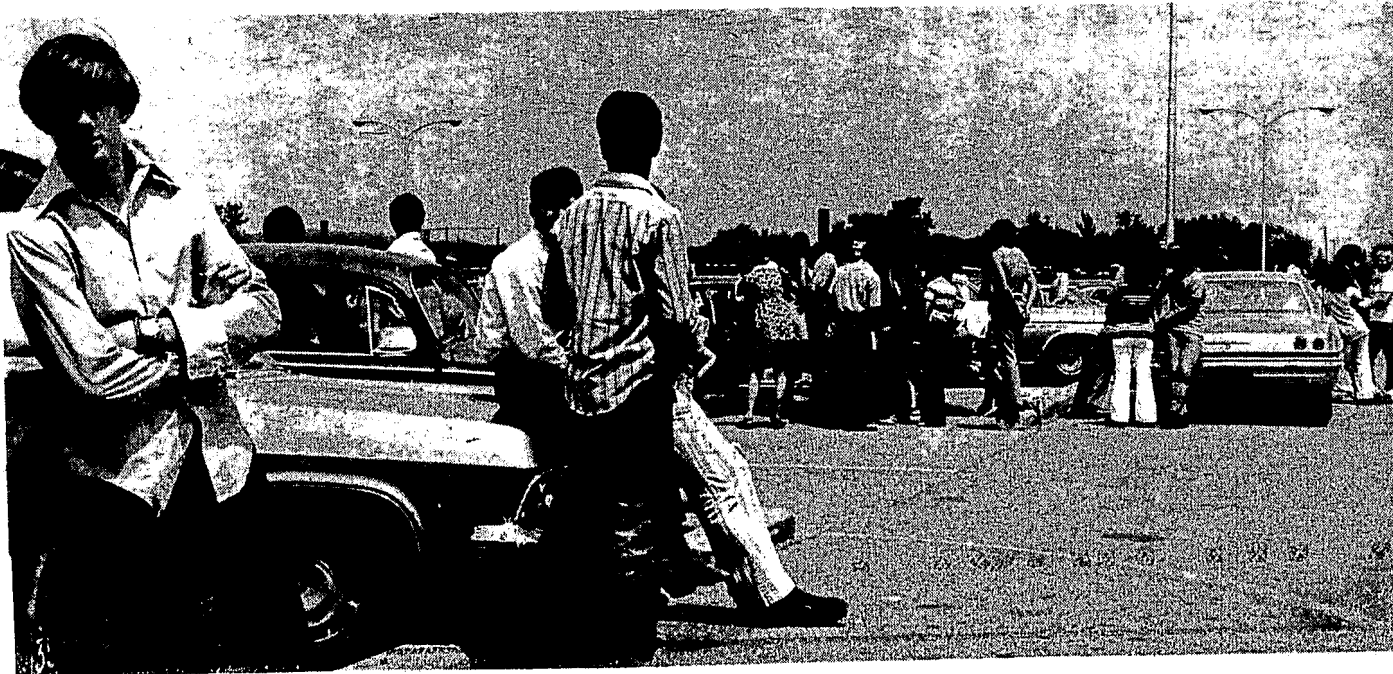

It was stated however that additional contributions will also be needed.

The facility is to be operated by a volunteer staff of professionals and non-professionals from the area.

Counseling and referral to appropriate agencies, emergency help with food, clothing, shelter and transportation are some of the contributions that the House hopes to make to the citizens of the area who have such needs.

Independence House will also provide help with problems such as aged parents, family disturbances, alcoholism, use of drugs, marriage conflicts, unwanted pregnancies, etc. Such help will be offered by the cooperating agencies affiliating with Independence House.

Citizens who are interested in helping with any aspect of the project were urged to contact members of the Board of Directors by calling 625-2390 or writing to Independence House, Box 274, Clarkston.

Ordinance side effects

Township officials are now considering adoption of a "Hazel Park ordinance" which would require that all homes be brought up to code before they are sold.

We believe the ordinance deserves some serious consideration before it is adopted. While it would go a long way toward clearing up eyesores in the area, and put an effective end to "cosmetic" sales by unscrupulous realtors, it could also have side effects which we doubt that the community really wants.

People unable to afford new homes of the type they like have for years made a practice of buying older homes and renovating them.

Many of the fine old homes in Clarkston would have been razed by now if such an ordinance had existed previously.

Senior citizens living in homes of little value could in many cases not bear the expense of improvements and still have money left to relocate. The fact that some of them are forced to sell because of rising property taxes makes the situation worse.

We doubt that there are many homes in the village today that could pass a complete code inspection, and yet Clarkston - because of its old homes - is considered an ideal place to live.

Letters to the Editor

Humbert objects

Open letter to the editor of the Clarkston News:

In answer to your editorial of May 18, 1972, I can only say that accuracy is the price the newspapers must pay to remain a free press.

Inaccuracy No. 1: I voted to allow Fairwood Corporation 10 units to the acre (an 800 plus unit development at Maybee and Sashabaw) They had the zoning before I took office. The ordinance allows this density. The Planning Commission has no control other than to see that the neighbors are protected; the internal roads are laid out well; the on-site lake and pond and the drainage is such as not to damage the environment; the Edison easement is not violated; play areas are provided as agreed upon; the buildings are attractive, etc. The Planning Commission has no control over density. This is why it is so important to get things straight at rezoning time - which was precisely what I tried to do with Hel-Win. If the editor had only called as I suggested in her paper recently, this fact could have been established before printing a misleading statement.

Inaccuracy No. 2: The Hel-Win parcel is not cluster housing. I did not admit that Hel-Win was a cluster housing development.

Inaccuracy No. 3: Politics. Four friends that I could be politically in debt to have appeared before the Planning Commission for plot plan approval on their buildings. I have, with the other members, insisted that the buildings be beautified. Plain old utilitarian buildings like the pipe place at Sashabaw and Waldon are not a credit to the community. Most have agreed that the plans are better for their review. Politics, rezoning, and plot plan approval must be divorced.

If the records were looked at, the editor would have found that I voted to allow Hel-Win a sewer tap. This was done before the sewer contract was let. I felt they should be allowed to develop their property without waiting until Stage 2 of the sewers. I was naive to expect them to develop the 52 acres for single family dwellings as it was zoned for.

Let the reader decide where the politics lie.

Keith A. Humbert, trustee

(Editor's note: We realize there are always two sides to every issue, but we do not back down from the amount of influence we know the planning commission can have in reducing densities. The commission carries a lot of clout with developers and most of its suggestions are implemented whenever possible.

Cluster housing, while not the same as planned unit development, we believe more closely fits the Hel-Win development than PUD zoning does, which county planners point out includes provision for office and commercial facilities. There are none such planned in the Hel-Win development; however, there is a lot of common open space, a prime consideration in cluster development.)

A fireman's fireman

Don Beach - fireman almost 40 years - chief for 30;

Brought the department from a one-truck operation to its present 11-piece status.

Increased manpower from 14 to 40.

Answered fire calls alone in the middle of the night, when there was no one else to go.

Stepped off a roof once, missing the ladder and missing the truck, too, in an avid pursuit of duty.

Got tough when necessary, but gave encouragement and praise where merited.

Clamped down on the use of the firehall and fire equipment, but offered his own facilities and supplies as a substitute.

Had a wife who answered telephones, dispatched men, helped him get on the road.

Don Beach will be missed. This unit is a close-knit unit and morale is high. It was his dedication that built it, his dedication that rubbed off on the men, and made them better persons as well as better firemen.

He is a fireman's fireman.

"If It Fitz . . ."

It must be the same Mike

By Jim Fitzgerald

Could it be the same guy? The same Mike Handley I thought would grow up to be either President or Pope?

The newspaper said he was Michael J. Handley of Saginaw. The photograph could be old Mike. There is less hair than I remember, and more face. But I haven't seen him in almost 30 years. A man can change a lot in that time. The last time I saw Mike I probably weighed 90 pounds. I now have chins that weigh more than that.

Mike Handley was about 6 grades ahead of me at St Stephen School in Port Huron. Every school should have a Mike Handley today. They wouldn't need cops patrolling hallways. More likely they'd need ushers to handle the crowds at peace rallies where Mike would preach brotherhood and self-fudge.

Mike was a lot more than a teacher's pet. An ordinary pet was rewarded by being allowed to pound the chalk dust out of erasers. If Mike had the eraser franchise, he would raffle it, selling tickets to classmates and to strangers in the bus station. Profits would be donated to the Archbishop's Fund to Feed Starving Mice in Vatican City. And the chalk dust would be bottled and sold to the Phillip's Milk of Magnesia people.

What I mean, Mike Handley was an organizer, a leader and a solid inspiration. Nuns used to point to him with their right hands while using their left hands to clutch the ears of 6th grade boys. "Be like Michael Handley," they'd implore.

He was more than the slick-haired kid who went from class to class pleading whatever cause the nuns were pushing that week. (He could be asking for anything from Hall Marys to canned peas). Mike was also a football hero, for gosh sakes. And he was a rubber-legged, iron-voiced cheerleader at basketball games.

My most vivid memory of Mike concerns basketball. It was a glorious night. St Stephen's had won a championship. They couldn't have done it without Mike's incredible leaping and yelling and imploring from the sidelines. After the great victory, the celebrating fans crammed into Ruff's ice cream parlor.

Half the town was there. The noise was deafening. The non-fans, cowering behind their sodas, must have thought an insane asylum had sprung a leak. But then Mike stood up on a table and called for quiet.

"We should all get down on our knees and thank God for this victory," he told the St Stephen kids.

And that's what we did. Every one of us. Right there in public, in front of all those Protestants. We knelt among the hot fudges and Cokes while Mike led us in prayer.

Wow. The next day, when the nuns heard about it, they began petitioning Rome for the immediate canonization of Michael Handley to full sainthood. I guess that's when I decided he'd be Pope someday if he didn't want to be President.

So what is he doing 30 years later? You probably expect a hooker here. You think the newspaper printed Mike's photo yesterday because he stuck up a bank. Wrong.

The newspaper said Michael J. Handley is coming to my town to teach . . . a Dale Carnegie course.

Beautiful. One of his students will become President or Pope.

Memories of a retiring chief

Beach locked the firehouse doors

By Jean Saile

When Don Beach became chief of the Clarkston-Independence Township Fire Department 30 years ago, one of the first things he did was change the locks on the firehall door.

"Why, we had a fire at the church, and we had to figure out who all was painting houses so we could round up the ladders," he remembers.

About all the equipment he had were a few ladders and an old chemical fire truck; and there wasn't much help either back than during World War II.

He can remember getting the insurance waived on 17-year-old Frank Ronk and a few other boys so they could help him out on fire calls. Prior to that Don was going to some fires alone.

The kid he waived the rules for is about to take his place as fire chief. Don's retirement is effective today and Frank Ronk is the man who will succeed him.

A resident of Independence Township since 1921, Don joined the department in the mid 30's. Those were the days when firemen used a soda and acid mix to squelch fires and Don recalls, "What the fire didn't burn, the acid ate."

He thinks the fogmakers now used by departments are probably one of the most effective inventions during his period of service.

"All water does is keep temperatures down to keep materials below the flash point. Only the exterior layer of a stream of water does any good. With fog, the water is broken into droplets and it's said to be 1,700 times as effective," he reports.

Don spent several hours a few years ago going through old Village of Clarkston minutes to learn that the fire department here was organized May 7, 1901. Four good ladders at a cost of $10 and a hundred buckets costing $11.69 was all the men had to work with, the minutes show.

As a comparison figure, the "squirt" truck now being considered for purchase by the township is due to cost about $70,000.

Firemen didn't get paid anything to start with, but in 1905 all males, excepting members of the department, had to pay a $1 poll tax, again according to the old records.

It wasn't until 1910 that the first fire engine was purchased. A hand pulled outfit, it was never replaced by horse drawn vehicles but fell into disuse when the department purchased an old truck from the Village of Orion in 1920. It had to borrow the $600 from Mrs. Florence Reid to do it, the records proclaim.

Independence Township first got involved with the department in the mid-30s, as best Don can figure. At that time the records show the township going 50-50 with the village on a $100 repair bill to a truck.

The chief's interest in department history led him to learn that trucks were stored in the Clarkston Garage, the Caribou Garage and the Seeterlin Bros. General Garage until 1925 when voters approved $8,000 for a new fire truck and a place to store it.

Firemen's pay has increased some over the years he's been in the department, he notes. While firemen now get $4 for the first hour and $3 for each succeeding hour, Don can remember fighting fires all night for $2 and ruining an expensive pair of shoes in the process, to boot.

One of the most spectacular fires he remembers is the Beattie Ford Sales and Service and Firestone store, once located where Haupt's Body Shop is now at the corner of Main and Church.

It was election night, Don recalls, and the store part of the dealership was stocked with Christmas toys. The fire truck, kept there where the village hall is now, was locked in, per Don's policy — and he remembers a local businessman stopping him in the middle of the street to give him "what for" on the locked doors.

The man — now dead, according to Don — told him he could have had the fire out before the whistle blew if he just could have got to the truck. But the chief remembers — it being election night — the man was so drunk he couldn't stand up.

Being fire chief has been a satisfactory life for Don.

"I think most people join the department because of the glamour, but after the first time in zero weather and frozen fingers and frozen toes, and getting hauled out at 4 a.m., about 25 percent fall by the wayside. It takes a person who loves all his neighbors and wants to do something for them," he said.

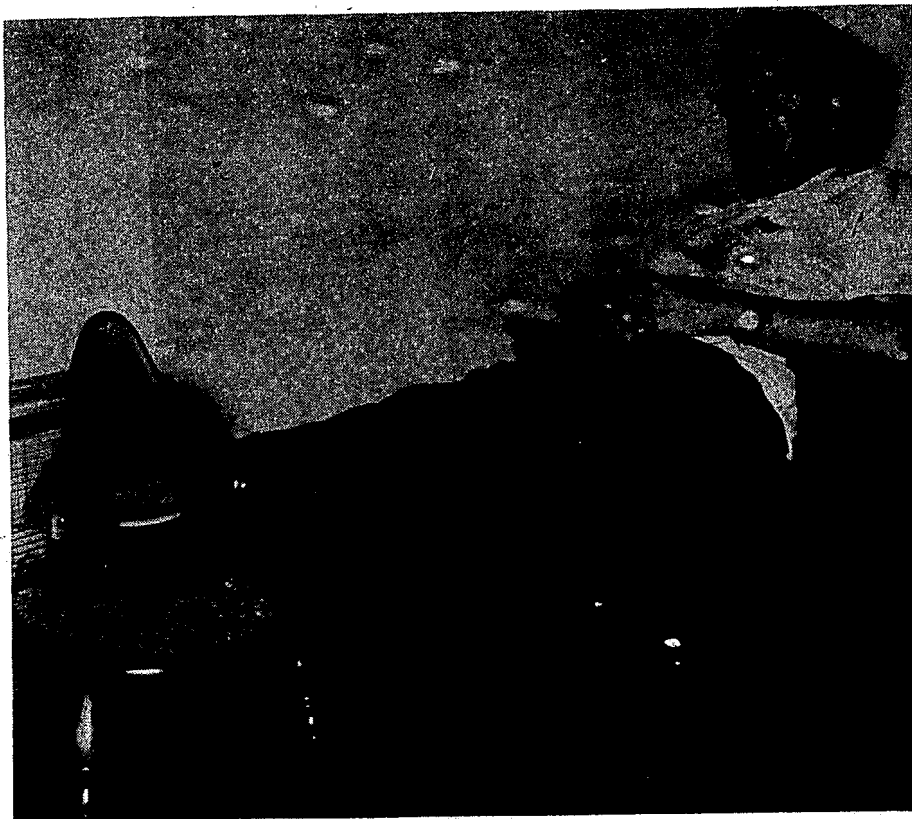

Apparently Don has been successful. People are telling him they're not going to feel as safe in this town without Beach around. Some are bringing him presents.

A travel trailer looms in his future. He's sixty now, and will retire in January from GMC Truck and Coach. A little fishing, some fun with the grandchildren — Kim, Jeff and Matt — all make up part of the future.

One more week

Freedom's on its way to the 6,900 Clarkston School District students, due for a parole from classes June 8.

Instead of alarm clocks and homework, it's going to be wet bathing suits, summer jobs and grass cutting.

Don Beach, retiring Independence Township fire chief, gets in the habit of taking it easy.

We were all rainmakers

by Jean Saile -

Church, when I was a kid, meant returning to the same one-room country school on Sundays that we kids inhabited (and probably desecrated) most of the rest of the week.

On Sundays though, the old polished wooden desks — carved and stained — accommodated our parents. A hard working, God fearing bunch of farmers, they did their best in those lean, dry years of the 30's, and $2.75 in the collection basket was considered "a good take".

The money helped support an ex-Orangeman who had lived through and was still traumatized by the Irish rebellion years earlier.

His stories of that time are still more vivid in my mind than the Sunday School lessons which preceded the service.

Rev. Mr. Cree was his name, and he had a couple of "churches" like ours plus a "home" church in the village nine miles away. Next door to the home church was the drafty manse in which he and his lovely wife abided.

There were stories at that time how the minister and his wife always showed up on congregational calls at mealtime, but looking back on the scimpy funds, he received, I do not blame him.

The Sunday services he conducted were often a plea for rain in those days, and the congregation reinforced his prayers with wholehearted singing of old familiar hymns.

As a kid, sitting in the congregation, — or sometimes drafted to pump the wheezy old organ which gave us our only accompaniment — I can remember watching for the "old familiars". A neighboring farmer who always rocked on the balls of his feet and dipped his knees in time to the music. The rich contralto of his wife's voice. Hearing my own parents sing aloud — IN PUBLIC.

Watching the kids cut up as the sermon wore on... asking to be excused to visit one of the outdoor johns with which the school was equipped... forgetting to come back in.

And after the service was over, the farmers stood on the school steps and searched the sky for rain clouds, wondering if just possibly God may have heard them and decided their plea was just.

County planners think CBD premature

The Oakland County Planning Commission thinks designation of property in the Maybee-Dixie-White Lake area as a township central business district is premature.

In a letter to Supervisor Gary Stonerock, assistant director Philip Dondero points out that the "triangle" of land proposed for the district does not in fact exist.

"As Maybee Road does not extend west of Dixie Highway, it is not known when, or if, the triangle would ever exist," Dondero wrote.

"It would seem logical that any proposal for a central business district for the township would be prefaced by a comprehensive review of the community master plan to determine actual feasibility of such a function, and to isolate the best of several alternative locations, if such a district is found to be justified.

"From the information that has been presented to us, this review process has not yet been undertaken," Dondero wrote.

He said a feasibility study of the site at this time would be premature.

Around the township

It was a great week for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ruggles of Reese Road last week.

Visited by their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ruggles of Montrose, Col., they celebrated their 36th and 10th wedding anniversaries with a trip to New York, returning just in time to see Larry's twin, Mrs. Laura Roehler of East Lansing, awarded an Excellence in Teaching Award during Michigan State University's Awards Convocation May 23.

Laura, mother of Danise, 14, Christopher, 10, Kathy, 8, and Byrch, 6, received her doctorate in elementary and special education. She will teach next year at the university, where she has been employed as a graduate assistant.

Larry, an engineer with the U.S. Department of the Interior, and his wife were accompanied by their two boys, Scott, 4, and Steve, 2.

John Chauncey Dipietro, son of the John Dipietros of 6279 Snowapple, was among 1,736 seniors receiving diplomas at Western Michigan University's commencement recently.

Michael Davis, 17, a Clarkston Senior High School student, and his father, LeRoy W., of Williamson Street, Clarkston, joined 2,200 bike riders from 37 states who left from the Columbus, Ohio, capitol building Saturday, May 13, for a 210-mile two day ride to Portsmouth, Ohio, and back. It took the pair 10 hours, 45 minutes, on Saturday and 9 hours on Sunday - some if it in the rain - to complete what is said to be America's biggest bicycling event.

Pamela Gillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gillis, 8254 Perry Lake Road, has been named to the Dean's List at Central Michigan University. She has just completed her junior year in business education.

The annual piano-organ recital for the students of Mrs. John M. Cook of Seymour Lake Road will be at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 3, at Seymour Lake United Methodist Church. Fifty-five students, from Clarkston, Orionville, Oxford and Pontiac will participate in a program featuring a variety of classical, religious, folk and popular music.

Graduates honored

Five Clarkston High School graduates have been named Regents-Alumni Scholars by the University of Michigan. The winners will receive a certificate and a $50 honorarium.

Those selected for their "superior academic achievement and their potential contribution to the scholarly community of the University of Michigan" include Michael Paul Daniels, 73 N. Holcomb; Christie Sue Harrison, 5610 Hummingbird; Denyse Robin Kraud, 7840 N. Holcomb; Michael Zane Pyromski, 8770 Big Lake; and David Edward Taylor, 5547 Kingfisher.

Teen of the week

Kathy O'Rourke

Kathy O'Rourke, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted O'Rourke, 6445 Lakeview, and a 9th grade student at Clarkston Junior High School, has been named Clarkston Youth Assistance Teen of the Week.

She's a B student, making the honor roll except for three times since the 7th grade. A cheerleader, she has been active in intramural basketball and was a student assistant in physical education. She has also helped with the 9th grade track team.

A member of St. Daniel's Church, she is a "cross age helper" and does volunteer work at the Ortonville Convalescent Home.

Hole-in-one

"Believe me, it was just an accident," says Helen Christiansen, 6037 Middle Lake Road, who shot a hole-in-one Thursday on Waterford Hill Country Club's 8th hole on the inside Par 3 course.

Helen, who says her average is about 48, claims the whole thing was a miracle.

Golfing mates, Cloe Tabor, Mary Coltson and Pat Thayer, knew immediately she had scored an "ace" on the 110-yard hole, Helen reports. There was no time wasted hunting for the ball.

A member of Savoie's golf league, she is in her third year of golfing.

PTA fair

Andersonville School PTA Fair will be 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, June 3, at the school. Entertainment will include a dig for gold, a toy booth, makeup booth, spook house, bazaar and country store. Hot dogs, coffee and donuts will be served. Booth donations still may be taken to the school or Mrs. Ann McCormick, 625-4978 will arrange for pickup.

At a recent meeting the Michigan State Board of Education approved a proposal to establish and operate a direct telephone reference information office which will service all public libraries in Oakland County. Funded by a $25,000 Federal grant, the office will be located in Kresge Library at Oakland University.

Under the grant, Oakland University's Kresge Library will provide a direct telephone reference service to public libraries in the County.

A great week

By Shanna Nadolsky

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Karbownik, 9530 Columbia, are proud of their daughter, Eva, who has just completed her junior year at Central Michigan University. She's been named to the Dean's List with a 3.5 average. Eva is majoring in health education.

Clarkston Rotarians went on their annual stag outing last week to hear Pete Fountain who was appearing at the Michigan Palace in Detroit. I understand the bus made a mystery stop on the way home, but no one seems to volunteer too much more.

Cub Scout Pack 49 will serve a pancake supper from 5 to 7 p.m. Friday, June 2, at Clarkston Senior High School. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children aged 4 to 12.

No one is happier than members of our household to have my parents, Dave and Fran Stewart of Orion Road, back home again. After Dad retired from Pontiac Motor Division early in February, they bought a beautiful new trailer and were on the road early in March. Most of the three months time was spent in Winter Garden, Florida, where mother's parents, the George Marshalls, are located. They took several short trips from this area and got a good head start on the golfing season. It's sure good to have you back!

After 6 p.m. cocktails, hors d'oeuvres and a decoding of clues in President Nadolsky's backyard May 23, 14 of the 1971-1972 Board of Directors of the Clarkston Area Jaycees boarded a bus in the driveway. They were bound for several destinations for dinner and entertainment.

The first clue led them less than a mile to the pay phone at Morgan's Gas Station where a series of calls and some fast figuring got them headed out of town.

They ate well at Wally's Supper Club in Flint, and proceeded from there to take in some of Flint's night life. It served to be a good excuse to gear up early for the following night at Spring Lake Country Club for the Eleventh Annual Installation and Awards Banquet.

Prom patrons

What's happening?

Teresa Rademacher and Jeff Hawke at Saturday night's prom. Jeff looked forward to graduation ceremonies Saturday, June 3.

Linda Bellaire and Jim Klark enjoyed dinner at Oakland University Saturday night as they attended Clarkston High School's graduating class prom.

The new Pontiac facility of New Horizons of Oakland County will open its doors Tuesday, June 6, to rehabilitation professionals and the general public.

Guests will tour the completely refurbished warehouse where New Horizons operates its central headquarters and the largest of its three sheltered workshops.

Tours will be conducted between 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. at the facility, 117 Turk Street. New Horizons' mentally and physically handicapped clients will assist the staff and Women's Auxiliary in welcoming guests.

Kerry Kammer of Pontiac has been named to head the Oakland County Democratic Party's 1972 State Membership Campaign, according to County Chairman Morley Winograd. Kammer states that state party membership forms are available at the Oakland County Democratic Headquarters, 1700 S. Telegraph, or from local Democratic Club Chairman Francis Crowley.

"IN MEMORIAM"

For all who have made a good witness of their faith in thee; for the wise of every land and nation... We give thee thanks, O God.

For the martyrs of our Christian faith; the faithful witnesses to Christ of whom the world is not worthy; and for all who have resisted falsehood and wrong even if it meant suffering or death... We give thee thanks.

For all who have labored and suffered for freedom, good government, just laws, and equal opportunity; for all who have given their lives for their country... We give thee thanks.

For all who have sought to serve others real needs to lighten the dark places in the minds and hearts of the confused, the lonely, and the discouraged... We give thee thanks.

CLARKSTON UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Reverend Frank A. Cozadd

For our family members and close friends, whose faces we see no more, but whose love is with us always... We give thee thanks.

For those significant persons in our childhood and youth who gave a part of themselves to us, and all those members of our church who worship thee now in heaven... We give thee thanks.

For the grace which was given to all these persons; for the trust and hope in which they lived and died... We give thee thanks.

For the capacity to hold them in continual remembrance; that we may be comforted and sustained by the promise of a time when we shall not be separated by time and space in thy house... We give thee thanks, O God.

June festivals busting out all over

Everything's coming up "spring" in Michigan—in June—according to the Michigan Tourist Council. Art fairs, flower festivals, fishing contests and boat races dominate the month's 30 days. Extra special events for the month include the Bavarian Festival at Frankenmuth, the Muzzle Loaders Festival, Greenfield Village, Dearborn; the Miss Michigan Pageant, Muskegon and the Gold Cup Race at Detroit.

In the art department, Flushing will hold their Art Fair on June 3 and Grand Haven's downtown sidewalks will be adorned with chalk art for their Side Walk Art Contest. Kalamazoo and Augusta hold Art Fairs on June 10 followed by Milan's Arts and Crafts Fair June 11. An Outdoor Art Exhibit will be held in Irving Park, Battle Creek, June 17 and the YWCA Art and Craft Festival days are 24 and 25 and the Artrain pulls into Lapeer on June 25.

Roses will reign supreme June 12-18 at the Jackson County Rose Festival, Jackson and again June 17 and 18 at the Rose Society Show, Westmain Mall, Kalamazoo. While Kalamazoo shows off their prize roses, Mackinac Islanders will be holding their Lilac Festival. Not showing favoritism of any kind, South Haven holds their Spring Garden Show June 24, with entries open to all varieties.

Visitors to Frankenmuth's Bavarian Festival, June 11-17, will enjoy a variety of daily activities plus special events scheduled during the week long celebration. Following the opening parade on Sunday, June 11, the center of activity will be in Heritage Park. For flavor there will be bratwurst and sauerkraut and polka bands to keep things on a lively note.

The flash of muskets, the roar of cannon and Gatling gun intermingled with stirring tunes of the fife and drum bring back American frontier days at the Muzzle Loaders Festival, Greenfield Village, Dearborn, June 17-18. Hundreds of colorful costumes, frontier scouts and Civil War soldiers add authenticity to this impressive, and popular, annual event.

There's more to beauty than just a pretty face as the 35 contestants for the title of Miss Michigan will verify. The four day pageant will be climaxed on Saturday, June 24 at 8 p.m. in the L. C. Walker Arena, Muskegon. The winner will then go on to Atlantic City to vie for the glamorous title of Miss America.

Competition of a different sort, for an equally coveted trophy, takes place Sunday, June 25 at the running of the Gold Cup Race for unlimited hydroplanes on the Detroit River. These are the world's fastest propeller-driven powerboats. The race attracts boats, drivers and owners from all over the United States and thrilling is the byword.

Other events scheduled between June 1 and 15 include a Fishing Derby at South Haven; Michigan State Speed Championship Roller Skating at Midland; Flea Market and Antique Sale at Wyandotte; Grand National ATV Racing Championships, Monroe; and the Great Muskegon River Canoe Race from Evert to Big Rapids. Saginaw will host the Antique Auto Festival and there will be an Antique Auto Tour from Grand Rapids to Kalamazoo... Battle Creek will hold a Little Folks Fair and the Tawas River Canoe Race will be held at East Tawas.

During the last half of the month, Rockford holds their Start of Summer Celebration and it will be Red Cedar Jubilee time at Williamston. Sails billow in the breeze during Deer Lake Regatta.

Luzi wins regatta

Vince Luzi with Mark Witherup crewing in a Wayfarer won the Deer Lake Memorial Day Regatta Monday.

Following them on the four-mile course were Wayne Viergever and his son in another Wayfarer.

A three-way tie for third involved Jim Hitchcock and Rick Huttenlocher in a Sunfish; John Meyland and Julie Pohe in a Laser and Brooke Bennett and Eric Bennett in a Hobie Cat.

Sailing enthusiasts organize

A number of local sailing enthusiasts have formed the Deer Lake Sail Club to promote sailboat racing on Deer Lake and to provide an outlet for competitive spirit among young and adult sailors.

Officers are Vince Luzi, commodore; Keith Hallman, vice commodore; and Brooke Bennett, racing captain.

Members, who will meet again at 6 p.m. Sunday, June 11, at the Luzi home, 7960 Dixie, are currently working on organization and racing rules.

They have already acquired a huge, fancy trophy cup they say is equal to, or surpasses, the America's Cup. To be known as the Deer Lake Regatta Cup, it will be awarded to the champion of each of the club's major regattas.

The cup was donated to the club courtesy of Paul Bennett of Piety Hill Pine, who accomplished the woodworking, and Luzi.

Major races are planned for the Fourth of July, in August, and again on Labor Day. Regular Saturday races for young sailors and basic sailing instruction are also planned by the club.

Officers report that anyone interested in joining the group is welcome. Ownership of a sailboat is not a requirement as the club needs crew members, race officials, committee boats (the smelly, non-sailing types), and supporters who would like to sail, are planning on buying a sailboat, or would just like to watch.

Those interested are invited to contact an officer or attend the next meeting of the group June 11.

Aging

The physical deterioration we often associate with aging may be delayed in those persons who keep "habitually active," according to Dr. James S. Skinner, of the University of Pennsylvania.

He also claims physical conditioning seems to help some illnesses in the aged. For example, physical training may not change the underlying cause of emphysema, but it may help the patient breathe more easily.

"There is little evidence that increased physical activity has any harmful effect on healthy persons of any age, but the conditioning program may have to be modified to fit the special needs and problems of the aged," Dr. Skinner said.

With such careful conditioning, he has found improvements in the older person's heart rate, blood pressure, breathing capacity, sense of balance, muscular speed, power and efficiency.

In most older people, it takes more time for the heart to return to a normal beat after a period of exertion. Dr. Skinner said this "recovery time" is reduced quite a bit in persons who keep in good physical shape with regular (but not excessive) exercise.

Another specialist in aging, Dr. K. Lange Andersen, agrees with most of this but he argues it's better to start such conditioning programs while you're young. He says "very intense" training is needed to improve an adult's physical conditioning, but the body functions much better—even in old age—when the person has been active in his earlier years.

Clarkston Area Jaycees wound up their tenth year of organization Wednesday night at Spring Lake Country Club by naming William Halsey, 6074 S. Main, and Jan Lopucki, 6341 Peach, as Jaycee and Jaycette of the Year, respectively.

The awards banquet and dance, attended by more than 100 guests, also saw the installation of new Jaycee and Jaycette officers for the 1972-73 year.

John Sackrider will head the Jaycees, taking over from David Nadolsky; and Lana Appleton will head the Jaycettes, taking over from Adele Powell.

Jaycees honored Ron Rule as the outstanding new Jaycee of the year.

George White was cited for youth involvement.

Outstanding projects of the year and their chairmen, selected for special attention were Jerry Bradley's publicity, Halsey's Deer Lake Beach project, and Sackrider's Labor Day Carnival.

Jaycettes named Sue Rule outstanding new member. Projects and their chairmen cited for special mention included Shanna Nadolsky's duplicating machine, Lana Appleton and Karen Jaenichen's girls' recreation program, Marilyn Smith's Junior Miss Pageant, June Sackrider's car wash, Sue Rule's safety program, and Pat Martin and Jan Lopucki's project reports.

Jan Lopucki earned the Jaycette of the Year award on both the local and district level.

Conversation during dinner included some hefty discussion by Robert Vandermark and Bob Newlin. Mrs. Vandermark listened in.

Jaycees at their 11th annual awards ceremony last week locked retiring president David Nadolsky's gavel to his suit coat. David set a new record during his term of office. He lost the gavel four times and had to give the Royal Oak Jaycees a couple of cases of beer to get it back the last time.

Now, we're told! The Oakland County Planning Commission recommended when it reviewed the Hel-Win application for planned unit development on 69 acres off Maybee Road that the whole thing be rezoned multiple. That's the direction developers started out with originally, but switched to the current plan on recommendation of the township planner and planning commission. As presented to the county group, the plan was recommended for denial - too late to meet deadlines affecting township action and in fact after the township board had voted rezoning approval.

The township board is getting close to agreement on what new Fire Chief Frank Ronk should be paid. A meeting this week was expected to result in Ronk's salary as full time fire chief be in the neighborhood of $15,000.

White birch trees that begin to droop and die may be afflicted with borers, according to Mrs. Frances Orlick of 6126 Snowapple. She learned the lesson the hard way when a birch died, but she's since found that spraying late in May with Lindane will kill the borers. Anybody else got any sick birches?

The three "lame dames" have now collected $573.05 for their 16-mile "Walk for Mankind" on May 6. The cooperation of area residents who sponsored them is much appreciated.

Manito District Cub Show-A-Ree is from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 3, at the Oakland County Sportsman's Club, 4770 Waterford Road. A donation of $1 will let you see Cub Scouts in action.

Mrs. Nelson Kimball, 72 N. Main, would like donations of pine cones to be used by patients at Pontiac State Hospital in the construction of wreaths. She'll even pick them up if you'll call her at 625-3296.

Timothy Doyle and family, the township's new recreation director, is to take up residence in the area this week. While the Doyles are arriving from Connecticut, they have Clarkston ties. Mrs. Doyle is the sister of Mrs. Wendell Larsen of Church Street. The Doyles are parents of two children.

There are people one winds up being eternally grateful to time and time again. With us, that kind of person has turned out to be Bob Tilley. Without his help, the process of getting Memorial Day pictures in this week's issue would have been much more difficult. Without him, there are a lot of pictures that would never appear. Just a public thank you, Bob.

Clarkston Cinema owners are now looking forward to a June 14 opening. Delays in sign approval plus construction holdups have put the date back a couple of times, but owner Ted Damerow says the interior is just about finished and blacktopping of the parking lot should be accomplished this week.

The replacement for George Woody who has resigned from the Independence Township Planning Commission will be a resident of the southeast portion of the township, but Supervisor Gary Stonerock says he as yet has no candidate in mind.

Independence Township's newly adopted building fees are not yet being published. The supervisor says the fees were adopted by the board on the basis of old materials which have since been altered by recommendations from the building department. He said work would be required to formalize what they now have.

Builder having village problems

Whether or not to give more footage on an alleyway behind the Town Shop on Main Street to Forrest Milzow, a builder now in the process of constructing a new office building next door, is under study by the Clarkston Village Council.

Milzow contends he needs the access in order to provide off-street parking for employes.

That's his first problem. His second is that the council is now debating whether he should be allowed to hook into the village septic system.

Milzow contends such a tie-in was included in original site plans approved by the council.

The village septic system, though under citation by the State Department of Water Resources, is being allowed to continue in operation until sewers become available in about two years.

Milzow has reportedly said he would sue the village should permission to use the facility be denied.

Check ladder

Painting or repairing are routine jobs which can quickly become hazardous occupations through the unsafe use of ladders, according to safety consultants of the Michigan Department of Labor.

About 20,000 persons die in falls at home and on the job in the nation each year. Safety consultants point out that many of these deaths are the result of ladder mishaps and offer these tips for safe ladder usage:

1. Check your ladder for defects before using it.
2. Place the ladder on a level surface, never on a box or other object to increase its height.
3. Place a straight ladder so that the distance from its base to the wall is one-fourth the distance from the ladder's base to the point of support.
4. Don't climb above the third rung from the top of a straight ladder or above the second highest step of a step-ladder.
5. Lock the spreader securely on a step-ladder.
6. Always hang on with at least one hand and don't over-reach from any ladder.
7. Always face the ladder when ascending and descending.
8. Only one person should be on a ladder at a time.

An additional safeguard is called to the attention of users of metal ladders - don't touch electric wires or equipment or let your ladder contact them.

Who is Richard Campbell?

By Jean Saile

Sitting in the hot seat is something Richard Campbell, Independence Township attorney, would probably rather not do.

The bearded, personable 38-year-old legal advisor to one of the fastest changing townships in the county proclaims himself a conservative Republican.

Yet, it is local Republican conservatism of which he has most often run afoul in his role as legal advisor to Democratic Supervisor Gary Stonerock and the township board.

In a way, his life till now may have prepared him for this role. There is little of the expected in this successful and controversial lawyer's background.

Campbell grew up in Independence Township, attending Waterford schools. He was 17 when he married, and promptly hitchhiked to Alaska to see about homesteading there.

That was the summer of 1951, long before the 59er's took off. He learned what most of the 59er's learned later. "Alaska was no place to live — not for me — and apparently not for most of the 59er's, who also returned."

Back to join his wife, he got a job on the assembly line at Budd Co., and left there within three or four months to take a job selling vacuum cleaners for ACE Vacuum Stores.

"Remember those $12.95 rebuilt Electroluxes advertised on television?" he asks. "That's what I sold."

From that job he went to Household Distributors who also advertised their pots and pans on TV. "Two suitcases and a deep fry," Campbell remembers.

Meanwhile the young bridegroom and father was holding a second job — on the night shift for a while on the Chrysler assembly line and for a period, a meat cutter nights and weekends at A&P food stores.

Not yet 21, he decided selling had gone sour for him. "It was a high pressure job, and I quit to take a job on the line at Chevrolet Gear and Axle."

From there he went to Parke-Davis as a research lab assistant and thence to Ford Motor Co. as an IBM tab operator.

He left there to become a Detroit policeman and that's where his interest in law took hold. He was 25 years old when he enrolled in Wayne State University, graduating four years later as an honor student; stayed on for the law school, graduating second in his class and earning a silver key.

Now 33 years old, he immediately went into partnership with Parvin Lee and opened an office in Birmingham. The site was chosen, Campbell recalls, because it was mid-way between Detroit and Independence — areas where he had most of his contacts.

Since that time the firm has merged with Stan Kurzman and Bruce Leitman and a new office building has been erected at 1263 West Square Lake Road in Bloomfield Township.

The partners are a mixed bag as far as politics go, Campbell states. Lee is an active Republican, serving as precinct delegate; Kurzman is a conservative Democrat; and Leitman a liberal Democrat.

"Actually, I don't think the party label means much anymore," says Campbell. "Look at Wallace. As a Democrat, he's more conservative than Nixon."

Attorney for Independence and Brandon townships since January, 1971, Campbell's philosophy is to "try to call 'em like I see 'em." He adds, "Sometimes I please one faction and sometimes another."

In matters of township business, all of Campbell's partners have represented the township at one time or another.

An avowed opponent of "big brotherism" or heavy-handed government, he has yet written more new ordinances for Independence Township than at any other time in the area's history.

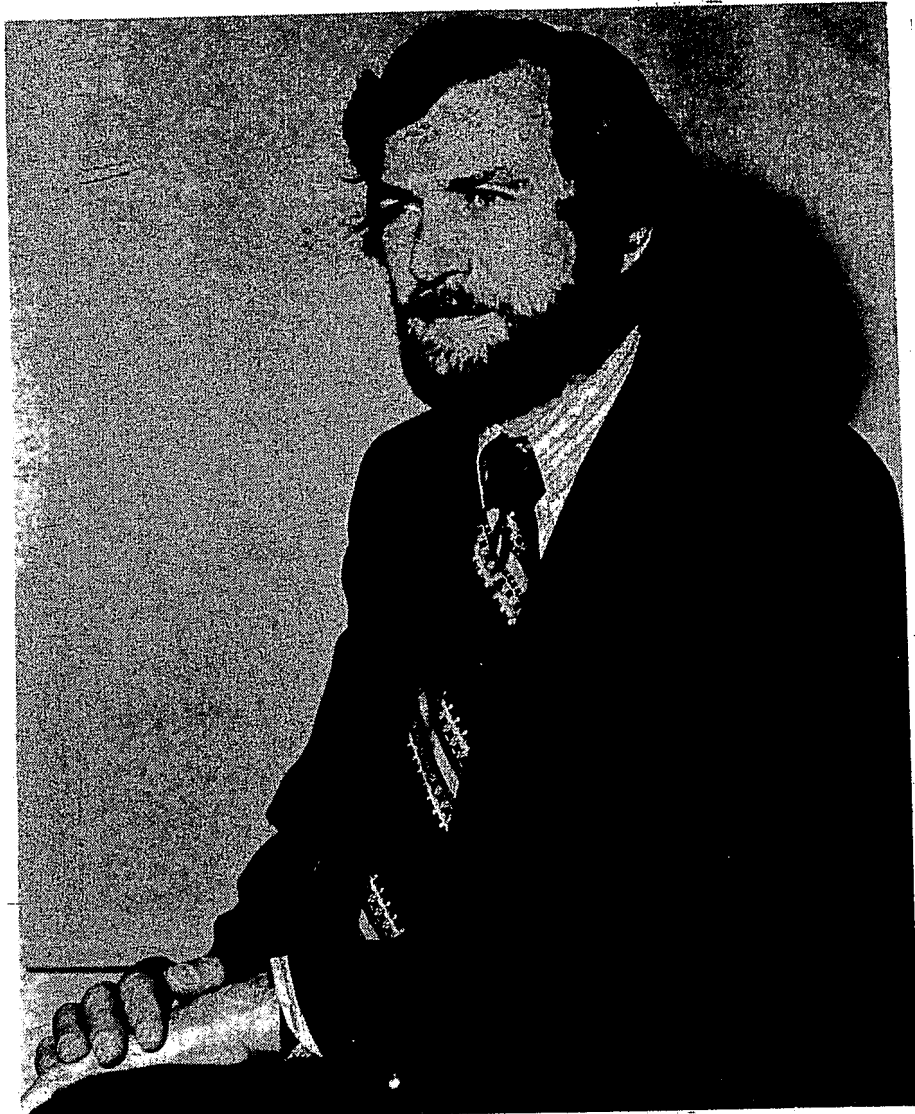

It doesn't stop him from having opinions about them. The proposed Hazel Park ordinance now being considered for adoption here leaves him cold. It would require that every home in the township be brought up to code before it could be sold.

"Besides being totally unenforceable, it's uncle meddling in people's private business," he believes. "Things like that sound good, but there are an awful lot of people they can hurt."

And while he admits frankly that township legal fees have been high, he points out, too, that the firm has saved the township money as when it fought the Singer-Kaplan zoning case all the way to the Supreme Court, and was able to get that issue combined with two other zoning issues on one election referendum ballot.

As a man who has lived in a house trailer and owned half of a two-family flat before graduating to his present circumstances on Waterford Hill, he realizes that poor people must have opportunity to buy houses and live decent lives.

He's really for government staying out of the picture as much as possible, he says.

Richard Campbell

Wolves go on in state tourney

By Craig Moore

The Clarkston Varsity Wolves remained in the state Class A baseball tournament by taking Walled Lake Central for a close 7-5 victory.

Clarkston got a 2-0 lead in the second inning as John Walts hit his first of two home runs in the game to knock in Dave Partlo who had earlier reached base on a single.

Walled Lake Central took a 5-2 advantage, scoring 5 runs in the third inning. However, the Wolves came back with a 2-run homer hit by Al Hux. Central still had a one run advantage.

Clarkston tied the game 5-5 when John Walts sent Don Powell across home plate with a 1 RBI triple.

The Wolves scored 2 runs to clinch the 7-5 win in the sixth inning and John Walts, with his second home run of the game was responsible. Walts' home run brought in Dave Partlo.

As a result of the win, Clarkston will go on in the state tourney to play

Milford's Redskins.

Clarkston won 1 or 3 games played earlier that week.

Clarkston beat Waterford Mott, 9-7, on Monday, May 22.

The Wolves scored 2 runs in the first inning on a triple by Dave Partlo which sent in Greg Swanson and Mark Warren.

Three more runs were added to the Wolves' lead in the third inning. Al Hux and Greg Swanson led off with singles. Mark Warren hit a single which brought Hux in. Swanson scored as Dave Partlo was thrown out at first base. Warren scored in the same manner as Tom Smith was tagged out at first.

Mott tied the score, 5-5, in the fourth inning, but Clarkston scored 2 runs in both the fifth and sixth innings on a 2-run homer hit by Mark Warren, knocking in Greg Swanson, and another 2-run home run hit by Larry Miracle in the sixth which brought John Walts in.

The Wolves lost 8-2 to Rochester despite a home run in the third inning hit by Greg Swanson on Tuesday, May 23.

Clarkston got off to a good start with a 2-run homer hit by Mark Warren in the first inning; however, the Wolves fell back later in the game to lose 7-3.

The Wolves have an 11-10 season record.

The Class A state tournament Clarkston-Milford game will be played Saturday, June 3 at Pontiac's Jaycee Park.

JV ends season

By Mike Jewell

Last week the JV baseball team ended their regular season with 5 games.

The first game was last Monday against Clarenceville which Clarkston won 9-1. Denny Johnson was the pitcher for Clarkston as he picked up his first win of the season as he struck out 11 batters and gave up only 2 hits. Supplying the offense for Clarkston were Kirk Comstock as he was 2-3 at the plate with 2 RBI's. Dennis Johnson was also a big factor to his own cause as he went 2-2 and got an RBI. Daryl Brittain went 2-3 with an RBI and Terry Green collected 2 RBI's.

Against Rochester Tuesday night the team picked up a 2-1 victory behind pitchers Kirk Comstock and Terry Green. Comstock, who pitched most of the game, struck out 7 as he picked up his 4th win against only 2 losses. It was Tim Thomson starring in that game as he was 1-2 at plate, earned an RBI, then scored the winning run.

Wednesday they beat Waterford Township 9-4 as pitcher Dennis Johnson upped his record to 2-2. Terry Green went 2-3 at the plate with 3 RBI's. Tim Thomson, Curt Johnson and Kirk Comstock each had 2 hits in 4 trips to the plate with Johnson getting a triple-bagger as one of his hits.

Then last Thursday their 3 game winning streak was broken at the hands of a 3-1 defeat by West Bloomfield. Larry Miracle, Reggie Alexander and Terry Green pitched for Clarkston as Larry Miracle got the loss making his record for the JV 1-1. Green got the only RBI as he went 1-3 and Kirk Comstock was 1-2, his hit being a double.

Clarkston ended their season last Friday with a 9 inning 9-8 victory over Waterford Kettering. Dennis Johnson got the win, making his final record 3-2. Clarkston blasted out a total of 13 hits as Brian Powell went 3-5 with 2 RBI's and Terry Green, who also pitched in relief, got a triple and 3 RBI's. Curt Johnson was 2-2, including a double, and an RBI. Tim Thomson walked 3 times, sacrificed, and then doubled for an RBI. Thomson then put a pin-point throw out to the plate in the bottom of the 7th to end the inning; the run would have won the game for Kettering. Chuck Jorgenson was the big hero as he sacrificed to deep center to score the winning run in the 9th inning.

Clarkston ended the season with a successful 11-6 record, their league record being 5-5.

Curt Johnson was the big hitter on the team as he ended the season with a team high 350 batting average. It was "Road Runner" Rod Rumsey that led the team in stolen bases with 12 and Terry Green collected a team high total of 14 RBI's.

Coach Pop Warner was proud of this year's team, saying they were successful and won most of their games on their excellent team work.

Young golfers get their chance June 16

Clarkston Area Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament will be Friday, June 16, at Waterford Hill Country Club.

Boys and girls will be able to compete in three separate age divisions: 10-13, 14-15 and 16-17. Rules exclude players who will turn 18 prior to Sept. 1.

Applications for the tournament are available at the club, Clarkston High School and both junior high schools, according to Tim Kaul, tournament chairman. A $2 registration fee must accompany the application and be in Kaul's or Jim Chamberlain's hands before June 12. The applications will be accepted through June 13 at the club, Kaul said.

Players will compete for trophies and a chance to attend the regional golf tournament later in the season.

Applications, Kaul said, are to be mailed to him at 5075 Maybee Road, Pontiac, 48055, or Jim Chamberlain, 5741 Clinton Ridge, Apartment 3, Clarkston, 48016.

New records set

By Mike Jewell

The Clarkston Varsity track team traveled to West Bloomfield last Wednesday to compete with the other W-O league teams in the League meet held there.

Clarkston finished 2nd to Milford again as Milford had a total of 88 points followed by Clarkston with 44, West Bloomfield had 43, Waterford Kettering 31, Andover 19, and Clarenceville with 18.

In the pole vault it was Dan Thomas of Clarkston going 13 ft. for a first place medal and a new school record. Bill Svetkoff also set a new school record in the long jump with a leap of 21'6 1/2", which earned him only a third place. Svetkoff also finished 4th in the 120 yard high hurdles and 2nd in the 180 yard low hurdles with a time of 21.4.

Gary White placed third in the high jump with a jump of 6' and Greg Becker placed fifth.

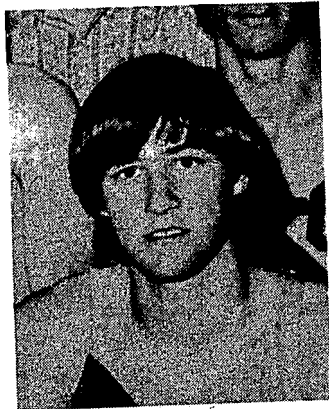

Gary Seaman placed 3rd in the shotput as he threw the lead ball 48'5 1/2".

The 880-yard relay team of Kath, Dancey, M. Humphreys and Whitehead took a second with a time of 1:39.9.

The mile relay team also took second as Kath, Dancey, Carlson and M. Humphreys were timed in 3:37.1.

Cemetery observance was solemn

A bugler sounds Taps over the cemetery hills in solemn tribute to the dead of past wars.

Keith Leak, Jackson Byers, Dan Addis, Bob Grimes, Charlie Robinson and William Mansfield harmonized for some stirring songs during the cemetery service.

Snappy rifle salutes honored the war dead of Clarkston and Independence Township from the time of the Revolutionary War. The resounding crack of the rifles, followed by the eerie solemnity of taps, marked the end of the day's official observance.

Men of past wars and their wives had shady seats for the Memorial Day services Monday at Lakeview Emetary. The parade and program were sponsored by American Legion Post 63 of Clarkston.
