The old Mill Pond

Will people just stand by and let pollution take its course or will they work together so all may enjoy the beauty and fun of clean water? Usually when one speaks of pollution it is a matter far removed from the average citizen, but here in Clarkston is an example of the inevitable - when man loses concern.

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Let me define frustration for you.

Frustration is when your newspaper press breaks down and you call the company in Chicago to have them ship you the part immediately and find they are closed by a strike.

That's what happened last week with our Goss Community offset press. Goss, a division of Meihle-Dexter-Goss and subsidiary of North American Rockwell, is the largest manufacturer of newspaper presses in the world.

"Are you aware we have a work stoppage here!" the man says.

And that reminded me of another hangup gripping the nation. For some reason we are using euphemisms for words considered harsh by some. We have a work stoppage, not a strike.

The DNR calls deer killing "harvesting." No one is insane, he is mentally ill. No one is poor, he's underprivileged. We're not at war but in an involvement in Vietnam.

What bothers me is that the social workers and mind shapers are working so hard to soften expressions... while at the same time the movement is on to put the dirtiest four letter words in general news columns and social conversations.

So, the work stoppage may hold up the shipment of the part. If it does harsh language and even dirty words may creep into my voice and into print.

I had my first experience with a lost credit card the other day. I lost a gasoline credit card once before, but a local distributor took care of that.

This one was a BankAmericard. It's no big thing. I called the Oxford Savings Bank. They gave me a number in Southfield to call. They asked the usual questions... name, age address, when was the card last used, phone number, and number of the card.

I assume having that number is very important. Better write yours down someplace... away from your person.

Then I had to write this same information to the home office in Lansing. Without the letter your chance of avoiding paying bills run up by the card finder are diminished considerably. Maybe permanently.

In this letter I was also to ask for a new card. The odd thing is they told me I would receive the same number.

I suppose I could go back to paying cash, if it ever becomes popular again.

Residents take action to stop break-ins

After the initial rush to take advantage of Operation Identification, the Clarkston Police Department now averages one family a day using the program.

Operation Identification is a unique program to reduce home and business burglaries. Valuable items are engraved with the owner's driver's license number which can't be removed.

Then, a printed emblem is placed in the owner's window or door warning burglars that the resident is a participant in the program.

"We were real busy in the very beginning," said Jack McCall of the Clarkston police department. "In fact, we had to order another engraver to handle all the calls. Now we get about one family a day.

"We had quite a few break-ins in the area," McCall said. "I work for Bloomfield township police and we picked up a few guys for breaking and entering. They said they avoided homes with the stickers from Operation Identification because they didn't want to take a chance."

McCall thinks the program is a definite tool to deterring break-ins.

"We'd like to see as many people as possible using the program. The department is only trying to provide a public service."

Engravers can be obtained by calling 625-5921 and asking for Operation Identification. Engravers are loaned out on a 24-hour basis.

Taxes due

The last date to pay Clarkston Village taxes is Thursday, August 31, announced Artemus Pappas, village treasurer.

Village residents can pay their taxes care of the Village Treasurer, P.O. Box 207, Clarkston or at Pappas' home on 55 West Washington.

Pappas has business hours from 9-11 a.m. Monday and Wednesdays.

The Veterans Administration in recent years had adopted an aggressive "outreach" program of encouraging veterans to use their benefits.

Watch for meteors this week

The Perseids - a shower of meteors that appears annually - will flash across the evening skies of August, notes University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

She says these bright "shooting stars" will reach a peak of about 70 per hour around August 11. The iron or stone meteors, which burn up when they enter the earth's atmosphere at high speeds, grow more numerous with the approaching dawn.

The U-M astronomer says the meteors are believed to be debris spread out along the orbit of a comet and they appear to radiate from a point in the constellation Perseus in the northeast.

Although the shooting stars' paths may seem divergent, Prof. Losh notes, they actually move along parallel lines. The meteors can glow as brightly as the North Star upon hitting our atmosphere, she adds, but they are probably no larger than the head of a pin.

August constellations include Aquila, the eagle, in the eastern portion of the Milky Way. Aquila contains the conspicuous star Altair, easily identified by two attendant stars. With Altair in the middle, the three stars form a striking line, Prof. Losh says.

Contract negotiations stalled

Last night's meeting for teacher contract negotiations produced no results.

"No progress was made," explained George White of the Clarkston Education Association negotiating team.

"All negotiations are stalled. We're going to have to go to a state mediator." The next meeting will be set by the state mediator. White suggests those wanting a progress update call the Professional Negotiation's hotline number, 625-3934.

Wednesday evening the township board adopted by reference the official plumbing code of the city of Detroit. As Gary Lessel, township plumbing inspector pointed out, it is very plain and exacting in what is permitted.

This makes it easier for the contractor to comply with and is a definite protection for the property owner.

Ronald Vore, township electrical inspector also explained some of the changes brought up in the electrical code and the board adopted by reference the national electrical code.

New building inspection fees were stated as minimum fee for new structure, $25, remodeled structures $10. Lewis Bonfield, building inspector, answered questions asked from the floor.

Election board fees were set at $30 per day. Board chairman will receive $35 and custodian of the machines will receive $12 per machine. At present there are four machines.

Bob Clark, of the Springfield Township Park Commission, explained some of the costs, at present, for the beach and park area on Dilley Road. He said it's hoped they can develop three ball diamonds for next year on Dilley Road and the beach will likely have a minimum charge of between 10-25c for the persons walking to the beach.

A higher charge would have to be made for cars coming in. This would help defray some of the costs. Next year, the county park Commission has plans for rest rooms. Mike Tubbs, lifeguard, is to leave for the armed service August 23.

Supervisor Claude Trim recommended a $50. donation to the Anti-Cruelty Association.

They work by donation only and have been most helpful in our township this last month in helping with the removal of over 20 stray or neglected dogs. The County Dog Pound was called, but said they would only pick up the dogs if given the sex and color of each dog. Several people stated they'd been instructed to tie the dog up and wait until Thursday, the pick-up day for Springfield.

After discussion the $50 was approved and donated to the Anti-Cruelty Association.

2 kisses for hunters?

By Jim Fitzgerald

Not many people noticed, but the State of Michigan has taken a dramatic step aimed at keeping blood off cars and highways.

At the same time, Michigan has also made more room for TV dinners in home freezers.

The credit goes to the state's Department of Natural Resources (DNR). At a recent policy meeting, the DNR decided to award 4-color shoulder patches to hunters for killing deer.

Boy, 4 colors!

Distribution of the free patches will begin this fall. Successful hunters need only produce their dead deer at one of the DNR roadside checking stations which are scattered through the north country during the annual deer harvest. (Gosh, I love that euphemism, Farmer Brown slaughters his corn.)

The patches are not only an award for killing. They are also the DNR's way of thanking you for helping them count deer.

In the past, a lot of successful hunters didn't check in at the DNR counting stations. A lot of dead deer didn't get counted and the DNR was forced to record the annual harvests in approximate figures which were sometimes questioned. After all, how reliable is it to count dead deers as they buzz by on the fenders of Chevrolets? Some of those guys drive around the block 15 times.

Now, the DNR has hit upon a way to entice hunters into counting stations. No countee, no patchee.

It is easy to understand why the DNR might welcome new methods of counting the deer herd. Herd size is usually calculated by men who go into the woods and count deer feces. That can't be a lot of fun. A successful hunter shouldn't be surprised if, when the DNR man pins on the patch, he also kisses him on both cheeks.

It is easy to see how the patches will mean less blood on cars and highways. And more room in freezers.

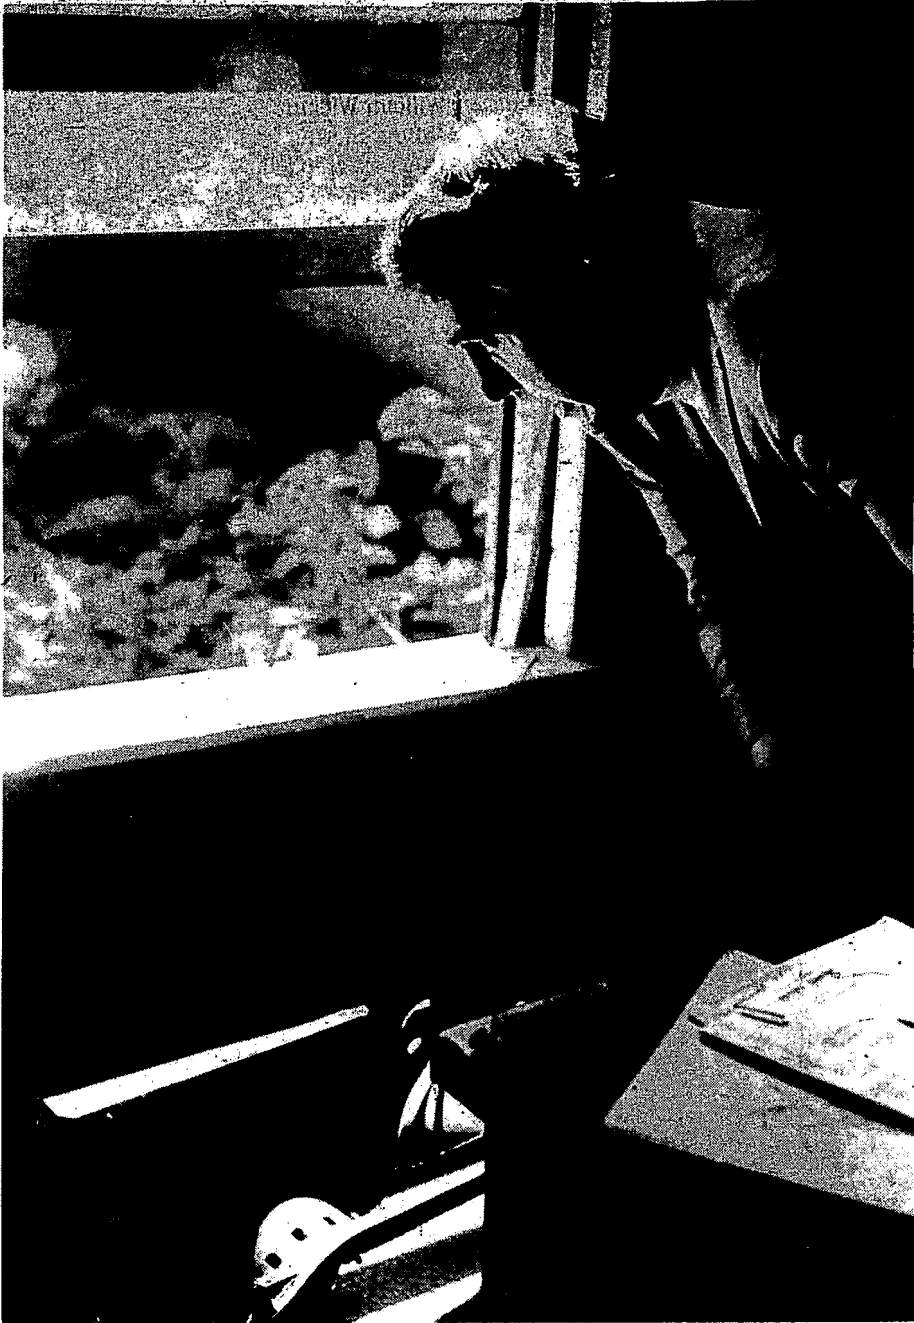

Most deer hunters kill for the adventure. Naturally, there is no sense being an adventurer if your neighbors don't know about it. The nimrod is forced to strap the bleeding carcass to his car and drive hundreds of miles so he can park in front of his home until the sun gets too hot. In small towns, he also must park in front of the newspaper office.

Few people like to eat deer meat. Wives don't know how to cook it and don't want to learn. To get rid of the meat, hunters often resort to generosity. They have the deer butchered into hundreds of roasts which they give to people who don't want them. The venison roasts go immediately into home freezers where they will stay until nuclear warfare scares everyone into the basement for 6 years.

Under the patch plan, the successful hunter won't have to bring the dead deer home. He can leave it at the counting station and simply wear his 4-color patch around the neighborhood for several days. The newspaper photo might look a little silly — down on one knee with a rifle in one hand and a patch in the other. But people will understand.

Of course, all those dead deer might cause a pollution problem around the DNR counting stations. But the DNR men can console themselves by remembering that all those dead deer represent a lot of feces that won't have to be counted.

Bill Housefield of Fidelity Plan, Inc. examines the window thieves used to enter the adjoining businesses.

Two firms robbed

Two Clarkston businesses were robbed August 3 sometime during the night said Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The Ken Hall Insurance Agency and Fidelity Plan Inc., which share adjoining offices at 24 South Main were robbed when thieves pushed an air conditioner out of a back window.

As of yet, police detectives have no clue to the identity of the thieves.

"It was probably some of those yippy hippies hanging around town," said Bill Housefield of Fidelity.

"Well, whoever it was must have had a lot of nerve to take my typewriter which was sitting right in the front window with a light on above it," he continued. "Unfortunately, the people upstairs didn't hear anything."

His office partner, Ken Hall, was vacationing in California at the time.

The thieves took various office equipment, a clock radio and a success motivation kit.

"Maybe, taking the kit will motivate them to find a job," Housefield shrugged.

Police are still investigating the robbery.

TORNADO TIME

Cyclones, tornados, windstorms . . . call them what you may, occur in all 50 states. Any property above ground is subject to destruction. The season of the big winds is approaching.

The "big blow" may never reach your home or property but in the event it does, adequate insurance will be the best friend you'll ever have.

Lot split up again

In a crash program between June and early October last year, VA opened 27 hospital drug treatment centers, bringing the total to 32.

An Oakland County Circuit court has ruled the Independence Zoning Board of Appeals meet within 45 days to hold a public hearing and take further action on a lot split in the Walters Lake area.

Mr. and Mrs. David Marietta had requested a lot split in Sunnybeach Subdivision No. 2, which the zoning board of appeals approved, but later the township board voted not to allow the split.

Mrs. Robert Hoard and Mrs. Ernest Hobson of Sunnybeach Subdivision No. 2 took the lot split to court.

"The court still has jurisdiction and this matter can go back to court," stressed Mrs. Hoard. "There are a lot of people involved in the decision that will be made by the zoning board of appeals."

The court ruled that public notice of the meeting was not given for local residents whom the lot split might effect.

Future hopefuls for the PGA had better keep their eyes on this one. Christian Gillis, three year old son of Bill and Carol Gillis of East Washington has proven himself in just a few short weeks of practice. Last weekend Christian scored 26 on the par 18 Putt-Putt course with two holes-in-one on the eleventh and fourteenth. Aside from bolstering Christian, this informative idea may give parents of children this age an answer to the "What can I do now?"

Pete and Connie Lektzian of Plum Street returned home Friday from a two-week tour of the South. Cape Kennedy, Coco Beach, Marineland, and the glass bottom boats at Ocala were top attractions in Florida. Enroute to and from Florida, the Lektzians enjoyed all the sights along the way. Their ten year old son Mark seemed most impressed with Marineland — and with good reason. He was singled out, by the dolphins, to participate in a game of catch with them. A rarity, according to the trainers. The game continued for nearly half an hour much to the amazement of the Marineland Staff — and the amusement of Mark.

June 30 thru July 30 was a most exciting month for the Ken Barks family on Warbler. An extensive trip thru the West with each leg of their journey turning new and beautiful sights entranced the entire family. Visiting nineteen states and Mexico, and eight National Parks, the Barks hardly left a stone unturned. San Francisco seemed to stand out as being most fun with the cable cars, China Town and a good meal at Fisherman's Wharf. Of course, Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm and the Grand Canyon were sights not overlooked.

On the homeward route, Peaceful Valley Ranch in Lions, Colorado was their resting place (?) for five days. Activities for everyone to enjoy and wide open spaces for lots of riding. It was a trip the family, June, 14, Dave, 12, MaryAnne, 9, and Michele, 7, will not soon forget.

The Carl Hardys of South Main are busy, busy these days. They have just purchased a lot in Gladwin County right on the Tittabawasee River and got a trailer which will serve as a great hide-away for year round enjoyment. In addition to their new northern spa, they are nearing ground breaking time on a new home here on Foster Road.

Mrs. Valeria Wegman of West Washington is home after a two week vacation visiting her daughter Jean and family in Indiana.

She also visited her oldest grandson, Jean's son, Sam and family living in Indianapolis. While there, she was able to spoil two pretty little great granddaughters. Mrs. Wegman's granddaughter Paula Wegman from Waterford accompanied her on the trip.

The Clarkston delegation who attended Greenville's "Lazy Summer Daze" sponsored by the Greenville Jaycees have returned, a little wet and a little sandy. Week-end campers were: Bob and Judy Brumback, Bob and Marietta Jones, Mike and Barb Thayer, Marty and Sue Steiner, and Don and Sharon Cooper who now reside in Greenville. With all the kids, the group numbered twenty-three.

Saturday night's dinner was three roasted pigs, with corn-on-the-cob, baked potatoes and dressing. Unfortunately, rain hampered some of the outside activities, but all had a good time helping neophyte campers Bob and Judy set up their gear.

Sixty some members of our two most active community service organizations will attest to the success of this year's Annual Jaycee-Rotary Night held Monday, July 31 at the American Legion Hall.

This year's get-together was sponsored by the Clarkston Area Jaycees with Bob Jones serving as their Chairman. The fare included mouth watering mushrooms and potato salad with steaks done to perfection under the expertise of Dr. Al Hamilton and Dr. L. F. Greene.

The Annual Horse Shoe Contest was undisputed as Ron Schebor and Jerry Bradley successfully completed the evening as undefeated champions.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Boadway of Deer Lake Road celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a buffet reception July 30 at the Drayton Plains Methodist Church.

The couple has lived in this area for almost 50 years. They were married July 29, 1922 in Millersburg.

Hosting the celebration was Mrs. Ralph (Maxine) Shell of Lake Orion and Mrs. Irwin (Barbara) Mosher of Okemos and their families. They are the daughters of the Boadways. There are eight grandchildren and two great-grandsons. Over 200 guests attended the golden anniversary celebration.

Sail club sponsors inter-club regatta

Braving wet cold weather, the Deer Lake Sail Club sponsored its first inter-club regatta August 6 at Deer Lake.

Sixteen sailboats, their skippers and crews participated in the two race series. Jim Falardeau, with his brother Bill for a crew, won both races and the series with his Sunfish. Coming in second was Ron Chambers, also sailing a Sunfish. Bob Heazlit, sailing a Rebel, took third place.

The first boats across the finish line in both races were the Shark Catamarans

"Grog," sailed by Brooke Bennett and "Day Tripper," sailed by Bud Volberding and family.

The Sharks far outdistanced the other boats, but lost on corrected time.

Bill Pfahlert, sailing his Pintail "Win Dee" had a beautiful race going looking very good on corrected time, but broke his rudder beating to windward. This put him out of commission before the end of the first race.

In the first race, Tom Goldner took third place sailing a Gull and Judge McNally, also in a Gull, took fourth place.

Rick Bennett took third place in the second race sailing a Hobie Cat.

The next sailing club event will be the Labor Day Regatta following the parade. The Labor Day Regatta is an invitational series open to all.

Christy Harrison, 18, of 5610 Hummingbird, participated in the 1972 NBC All-America Youth Bowling Championships in Washington, D.C. She placed 23 out of 51 participants and won a $500 scholarship.

DNR reports

Large bass are being taken at night using jitter bugs on many area lakes. Large-mouth bass fishing is fair in Wolverine Lake. A few big, 4-5 lb. bass are being taken on Lakeville Lake. A few 11-12" perch, some pike, and an occasional 2-3 lb. bass are being caught in Pontiac Lake.

On Deer and Maceday lakes a few pike and bass are being taken. Reports from Union Lake were real good bass fishing, some splake are being caught at night, and good bluegill and crappie fishing. Limit catches of trout are still being reported in Proud Lake. Trout fishing in the streams has slowed down due to the mid summer weather. Fishermen are catching a few panfish in Lake Orion.

Spiritual Message

A week ago Monday I took in the concert of world renowned organist, Virgil Fox, playing solely the work of the great Christian composer, Johann Sebastian Bach, at Pine Knob.

In spite of the light show, I expected a small, sophisticated, older audience — a good opportunity to hear Fox, for twenty years organist at Riverside Church in New York City, and see Pine Knob for the first time without the crush of crowds and traffic jams. And what a surprise!

Three or four thousand persons, as varied as you could imagine, thrilled to music inspired by God's good news in Jesus the Christ. White hair, greying hair, dark hair, long hair, short hair — suit coats, sport shirts, tee shirts; formal gowns, short skirts, jeans — men, women, blacks, whites, old, young, all joining in ovation after ovation for this sacred music, including "Jesu, joy of man's desiring," and

"Behold, I stand with one foot in the grave."

Paul, the late-coming follower of Jesus, in a letter to the Galatians about 50 A.D., said:

"So there is no difference between Jews and Gentiles, between slaves and free men, between men and women: you are all one in union with Christ Jesus." And it's still true!

Two awards created

Two new awards were initiated by the Independence Recreation Department at last week's Pee Wee League Championship game.

"Most Valuable Umpire Awards" were presented to Kirk Hart and Mike Jewell for their participation in the recreation leagues.

Beth and Jim Ladd received the "Mom and Dad Award for '72" for their continuous effort of support for the program.

"Many parents involved in the program deserve such an award," stated Bob Davidson, baseball commissioner, "but Beth and Jim's interest goes beyond just their own son or team's involvement."

Beth organized both concession stands for the successful fun day in July, headed the League's rainout procedure plan, and on numerous occasions mowed the grass and raked infields prior to keeping the scorebook at all O'Neill Realty games.

Jim coached his Pee Wee team to a fine 13-1 league championship, served on the Protest and Rules committee, worked on improving the fields and kept score for Waterford Hill Florist in the Widget League.

Asphyxiation

The American Medical Association says that among little children, asphyxiation is more of a hazard than are many communicable diseases. Unguided play may lead them to deep water, to gas jets, to defective electrical apparatus, wires or outlets. Some older children are buried under a dirt or sand slide while "mining" or "building a castle."

Suffocation is also a hazard, though many infant deaths alleged to be due to suffocation are really caused by infection.

Infants should sleep on firm mattresses without pillows, the AMA experts said. Bed clothing shouldn't be gathered and heavy around the neck. An infant may be accidentally smothered by a mother who sleeps with him, or he may be trapped between bars of a poorly designed play pen or crib.

In such emergencies, give mouth-to-mouth respiration promptly. Anyone familiar with up-to-date first aid techniques should be able to show you how this is done, if you haven't already learned it yourself. Just remember that a faster cycle (20 to 30 times per minute) is needed for small children.

Also, be aware of the hazards that face an unsuspecting, spirited child and do your best to eliminate these dangers

Popman-an answer to ecology problem

There's a familiar rattle of bottles clinking together at the truck pulls up in front of the house. The Milkman? No, it's the Popman.

The Popman is a unique idea of brothers Tom and Ben North to offer home delivery of pop at supermarket prices with no obligation. The business boasts no pollution, no inflation and no bother.

"It started out as an experiment in December to see if it would really work," explained Tom. "We were interested in profit and the environment, so we experimented for four months."

Obviously, the experiment was successful. The Popman now covers the Clarkston, Troy, Southfield, Bloomfield Hills and Franklin areas.

"We have customers in three quarters of this county," said Tom. "We offer clean, glass, returnable bottles for the same price as non-returnable bottles and we will deliver and pick up bottles."

"We haven't really had the time to penetrate the Clarkston area, but when we first moved in, we donated our trucks for the Bottles for Building program," Tom explained.

The brothers operate a full time Gulf gas station which also serves as a warehouse for their pop.

Presently, the brothers have over 40 customers in the Clarkston area and will soon start a campaign to offer their services to more of the Clarkston community.

Tom asked, "Why should people pay for non-biodegradable undisposable glass when they can buy pop in returnable bottles complete with home delivery at the same price."

"I don't think people realize that many flavors and sizes are still available in returnable bottles. With us, people can save money and help the ecology problem too."

Popman Tom North

Water accidents reduced

Michigan had 136 deaths and 125 persons injured in 316 water accidents reported for the first seven months of the year, according to the State Police water safety unit.

These were decreases of seven in deaths, 39 in injuries, and 26 in accidents compared with the same period last year.

Of the accidents, 124 involved fatalities, 106 involved injuries, and 86 were property damage only.

The deaths included 61 swimmers or waders, 30 resulting from various falls into water, 17 boat passengers, 11 boat operators, seven attempting rescues, three divers, and seven miscellaneous.

Eleven of the victims were under five years of age. Seven drownings occurred in swimming pools and 19 occurred while fishing.

Pointing out that the May-September span is the worst period of the year for deaths and injuries in water accidents, the State Police re-emphasized the continuing need for caution and care in all water activities in this higher hazard time.

Sailboats for Clarkston

Clarkston is the home of a new firm specializing in sailboats, the North Bay Sailboats Company of 7960 Dixie Highway.

Owned by Vince Luzi of Clarkston and Greg Garrett of Pleasant Ridge, North Bay has been open almost a month.

"The sport of sailing seems to be catching on in Clarkston as fast as it's spreading all across the country," Luzi said.

"In fact, a local sailing club has sprouted roots this year making sailing regattas a colorful holiday tradition on Deer Lake."

Currently, North Bay is a part-time business for both Luzi and Garrett, both of whom are employed by Oakland county.

"North Bay is the sole distributor in this area of the Sizzler Ski-16 catamaran sailboat," said Luzi.

"Weekends we both introduce the novice to sailing and the expert to the exciting characteristics of the Sizzler."

Barb and Les Howe of Howe's lanes received the Proprietor of Michigan award in special recognition of their work with the 1971-72 youth bowling association.

If you like plant tours, there's a wide variety to choose from in Michigan ranging from auto assembly to nuclear energy plants, according to a survey prepared for Automobile Club of Michigan.

It would take more than 10 days to visit approximately 130 plants which welcome visitors, allowing a meager two hours for each and not counting travel time between cities.

Some 46 of the state's cities offer tours, many several. Surprisingly, Grand Haven offers 17 tours, more than any other city, with 12 by Grand Rapids second, followed by Detroit's 10. Port Huron and Ypsilanti have nine each.

Visitor rules vary, and an advance call is advised to learn each tour requirements. All establishments open to the public have specified tour hours.
Some ask advance notice, a day or even a week prior to the visit. Some plants bar children. A call to the plant or to the chamber of commerce in the particular city you wish to visit is the best way to get the latest information.

There are some seven automobile plant tours, but a few are closed to visitors during late summer or during model changeover. At other times, auto assembly operations can be seen in these cities: Dearborn, Ford Motor Co. Rouge Plant, open all year; Detroit, Cadillac Motors (no tours from June to December); Chrysler Corp. Hamtramck Assembly Plant, Jefferson Assembly Plant and Lynch Road Assembly Plant (no tours at latter from June through Sept.
15); Flint, Buick Motor (no tours from mid-summer to September), Chevrolet Assembly (no tours at time of model changeover); Lansing, Oldsmobile
Division, of General Motors; Pontiac,
Pontiac Motors Division of GM; Ypsilanti,
Chevrolet Motor Division of GM.

Fisher Body Division plants of GM can be visited in Flint, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Livonia, Tecumseh and Ypsilanti. Automotive parts plants are AC Spark Plug in Flint, Chevrolet Spring and Bumper in Livonia and the Hydra-Matic Division of GM at Willow Run.

The General Motors Technical Center
in Warren is a showplace of engineering and automotive development. Guided tours are offered from June 1 through Labor Day. Visitors can see various research, design and engineering displays and exhibits.

Another showplace is the Big Rock Nuclear Power Plant near Charlevoix, in northern Michigan. The information center is open the year around.

Michigan also has three breweries which offer tours. They are the Stroh Brewery Co. of Detroit, which also makes ice cream; Carling Brewing Co. and Geyer Brothers Brewing Co., both of Frankenmuth.

For those who favor soft drinks, Vernors Ginger Ale of Detroit is a longtime favorite, open Monday through Friday. The Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Port Huron also is open to visitors, but requires two days advance notice.

Bronte Champagne & Wine Co., Inc., in the small crossroads community of Keeler, five miles south of the Hartford exit of I-94, about midway between Kalamazoo and Benton Harbor, offers tours the year around except New Years, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Free tasting is a bonus.

Ye Ole Wine Haus and Frontenac Wine
Co., both in Paw Paw, also offer tours and sampling.

Dairy tours are in the minority, but Ira Wilson & Sons Dairy Co. in Detroit has year-around tours, Wednesday through Saturday, and London's Farm Dairy, Inc., in Port Huron can be visited, but there are no summer tours.

Food processing is demonstrated at Ore-Ida Foods in Greenville and D C A Food Industries in Hillsdale.
Kellogg Co. of Battle Creek, manufacturer of breakfast foods, offers continuous one-hour tours Monday through Friday and also gives a gift package to visitors.

The Model Products Corp. of Mt.
Clemens now makes Lionel electric trains,
a favorite toy of several generations.
Tours are possible by special arrangement.

The state's lone refinery to offer tours is Leonard of Alma. Visitors are welcome Monday through Friday, evenings and Saturdays by special arrangement.

Brown City is the home to Travco Corp., one of the largest trailer and mobile equipment manufacturers. Tours are daily, Monday through Friday.

The Vesely Co., of Lapeer, manufacturer of trailers also offers tours
from Jan. 1 through Aug. 15:

The National Bank of Detroit main office on Woodward Avenue at Kennedy Square is renowned for its Money Museum, which contains more than 12,000 specimens of rare world moneys and media of exchange.

Other banks in the state which offer tours include the Security First Bank & Trust and the Peoples Bank & Trust, both of Grand Haven, and two Grand Rapids banks, Old Kent Bank and Trust Co. and Union Bank and Trust Co.

Other types of tours available in Michigan include soaps and detergents, furniture, lumber, building materials,
electronics, brick and clay products,
sporting goods, paper manufacturing, steel products, machinery, leather products, tools, household equipment, plastics, telephone facilities, bakeries and printing companies.
