

Summer's windup a real carnival

It's time to wring out the last days of summer enjoyment at Clarkston's annual Labor Day festival which starts Friday and lasts through Monday.

Downtown merchants will participate with sidewalk sales Friday and Saturday, and the Jaycee sponsored carnival will open Friday with rides in the Village Parking Lot and games and booths under canvas on the lot next to The Clarkston News.

The Clarkston Jaycettes are going to be a busy bunch of gals during the Labor Day weekend here.

One thing they will be operating is a P.O.W. (Prisoner of War) booth. That will be Friday from 12 to 4 and Monday 10 to 2.

It will be next to the Coke Wagon, which they will also be manning the entire weekend. At the P.O.W. booth bracelets and information will be given.

Further the Jaycettes will have their usual Pick-a-pocket ladies circulating in the crowd and Oscar the Grouch will be around during the parade.

Highlight of the four-day celebration will be the annual Labor Day parade at 10 a.m. Monday. The theme is Pioneer Days and bands, clowns, antique cars and floats are expected.

Clarkston Rotary Club, sponsor of the parade, is hoping to get a lot of entries. Those planning to participate are asked to contact Dick Logan at 625-2250, Bob Newlin at 625-1648 or Irv LaDuc at 623-6887.

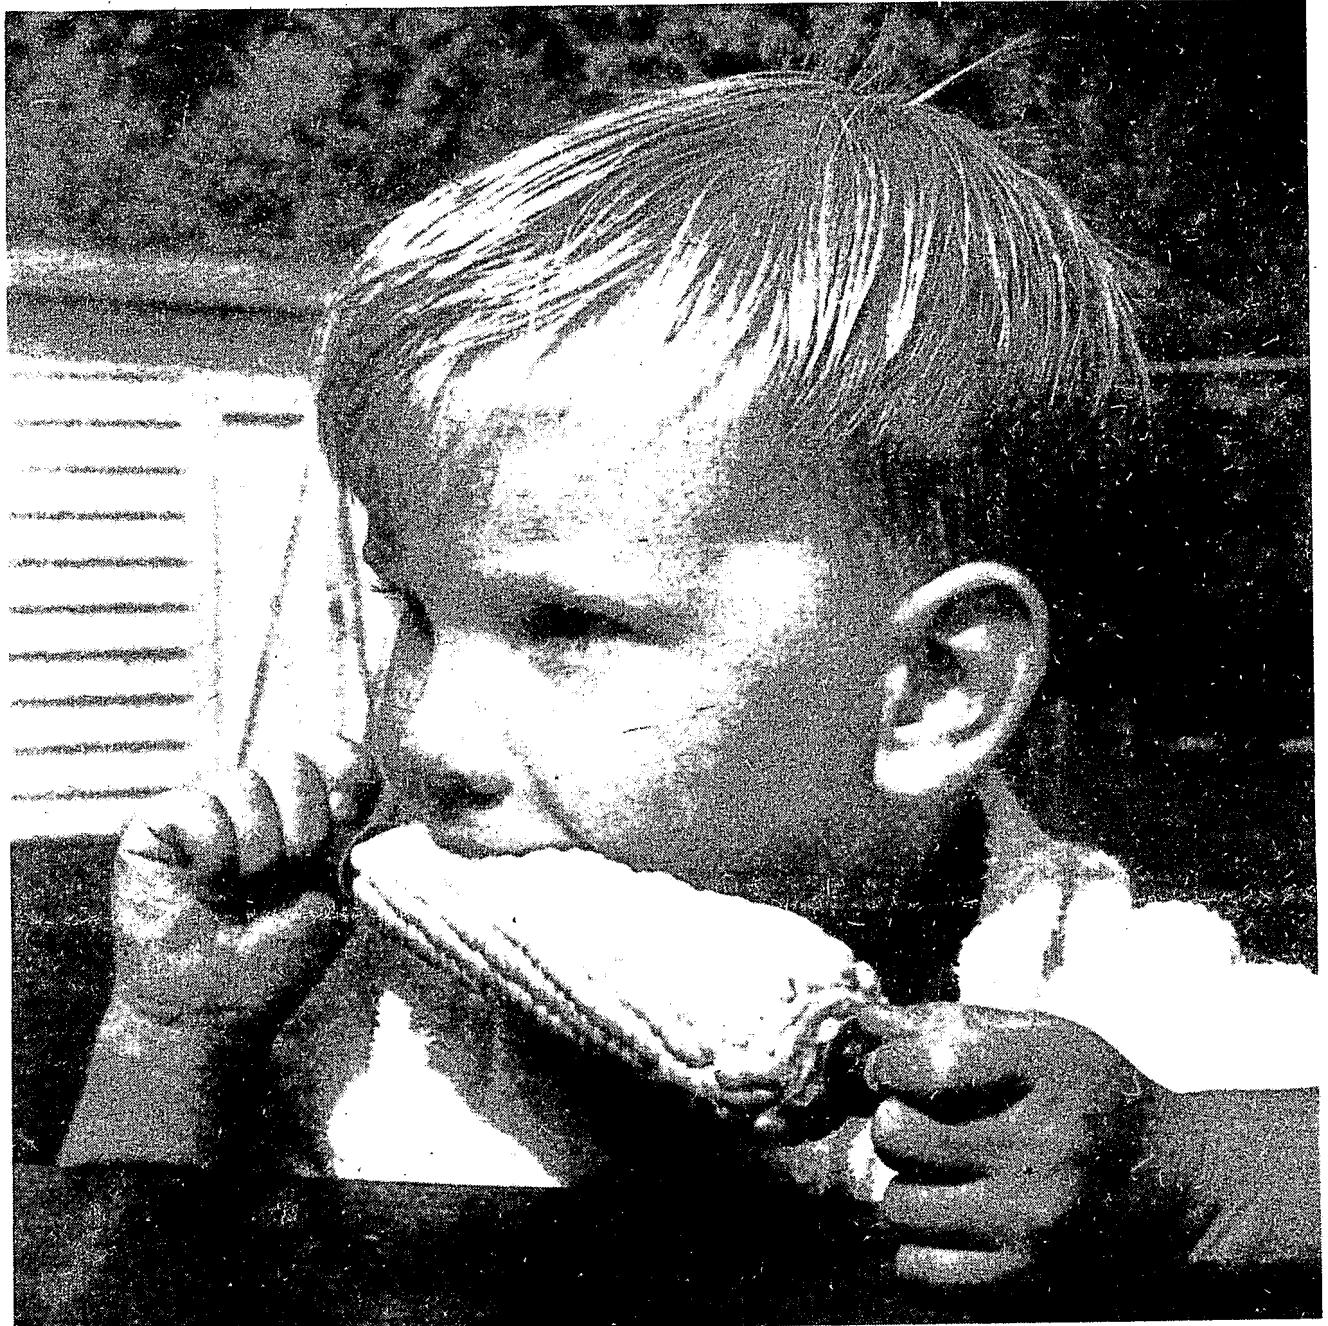

Awards will be given for costumes and floats.

Clarkston Women's Club has invited enthusiastic boys and girls from the area to come in costume for the parade and possibly win one of five one dollar prizes to be awarded. Judging will take place at the Village Parking Lot immediately following the parade.

For those planning to enter, the parade will form at Holcomb and Miller roads.

Following the parade, Washington Street will become the arena for a giant water battle between Independence Township firemen and those from neighboring communities.

The annual American Legion corn roast starts at 11:30 a.m. and will continue to 6 p.m. It's open to the CAN'T WAIT - Labor Day afternoon dozens and dozens of ears of corn will be served to eager eaters at the American Legion Home North of town. Among those getting practiced up for the annual corn roast is 3½-year-old Robert Ronk. He's the son of Fire Chief and Mrs. Tink Ronk, 6056 Overlook. Besides the Legion doings, there will be a parade, water fight between fire departments, sailing regatta, carnival, booth and fun for all beginning Friday and lasting through Monday at "Village Days".

For those more interested in sports than eating, the annual Deer Lake Labor Day Regatta will get underway at 11:30 a.m. from Deer Lake Beach. All sail boats are welcome to participate, and trophies will be awarded.

One of the storms that hit Oakland county last week, in particular the one Tuesday night, may prompt Dr. Rodman Cary Jacobi to enroll in a short course in auto mechanics.

I think Rod, like me, figures the auto engineers have overcome the problems of flooding engines while going through puddles.

After all, Volkswagen has a commercial with a car floating.

Anyway, Rod got off the emergency duty at St. Jo about 12:30 Tuesday night. It was raining hard and the Oxford doctor knew he should avail the perils of the expressway when another 100 year rain came.

He turned onto South Blvd from Woodward. Just short of the tracks he tried going through water up to the floorboards. He stalled out. The engineers hadn't come through.

He sat there quite a while contemplating what to do. One motorist said he would send a wrecker, which didn't arrive.

Then 2 lads approached the car. "Can we help?", one asked. He allowed as how he went to auto mechanics schools. Rod accepted eagerly.

Now, don't get ahead of this story, though you know the conclusion.

The one boy went to work under the hood, the other got into the driver's seat. In no time the car was humming. They started it several times to make sure it was A-ok.

Then one said they were through and did Rod have a couple bucks.

The doctor pulled out his wallet and said, "You bet, I'll give you $5."

With wallet exposed one youth grabbed it and the two hightailed it out of sight.

Rod is the kind of guy who carries about $1.50, but that night, naturally, he had $135.

He did report it, and even picked one face out of a lineup. It was one familiar to the Pontiac police. But cards, credentials and money are gone.

To show this isn't always the case, the editor of the Oxford Leader, Bob Hemming, had his car drown out Tuesday night. He offered 2 lads $5.00 to get him going. They worked very hard for the money, and were grateful for the money.

Some stories do have happy endings.

Seek Blood Bank donors

Friday and Saturday, Sept 1 & 2, Blood Bank appointments will be taken in downtown Clarkston by the Clarkston Community Womens Club.

The sponsors say it is essential enough blood be donated to meet all possible needs for the year.

Additional land sought

The Independence Township Zoning Board of Appeals has ordered principals in the Marietta-Powell building variance case to attempt to purchase additional land to increase the size of their 8,000 square foot lot in Sunny Beach Farms Subdivision across Clarkston-Orion Road from Walters Lake.

The case, once in Circuit Court, was referred back to the local body to be considered under the terms of a newly proposed ordinance. Under the ordinance, 8,000 square feet is too small an area on which to build a home, as is proposed.

The board, meeting last Thursday night, did agree however that if no mutually acceptable price could be determined for additional land, that it would have to grant the variance which would permit the Mariettas to build on presently owned property.

If you miss the downtown appointment booths you can call Gwen Phillips, 625-1739 or Anne Tungate, 625-3805.

The annual Blood Bank provides readily available, large quantities of blood in time of disaster or need.

Coverage is quite liberal: individuals living within the community are entitled to blood up to a year after he leaves the area. Also, parents and grandparents of

Plans shaping for Pine Knob program

Sonny Eliot, personable Channel 4 weatherman will be master of ceremonies for Jaycee Day at Pine Knob Amphitheater, September 10, according to Jerry Powell, program chairman.

The Jaycees have been offered the use of the amphitheater by Joey Nederlander who has presented star shows there all summer.

Powell said that while the lineup of talent for the 1 to 3 p.m. program is not yet complete, it is known that Lorio, the Pine Knob ski lodge group, the Waterford Jaycees 1894 Washboard Band and Rolly Hallman's Barbershop Quartet will entertain.

The Community Women's Club is pleading for your help.

Cheerleaders win awards

Honors for skill and enthusiasm have been awarded in the cheerleading clinic conducted during the summer by members of the Clarkston High School Varsity Cheerleaders.

Skill awards for fifth and sixth graders went to Sharon Fahrner, Jennie Jones and Linda Hamilton, Winners in the seventh and eighth grades were Monica Gibbs, Jennie O'Rourke and Kathy Humphreys and Martha Williams in a tie for third place.

The awards for enthusiasm when to Jennie Jones and Sharon Fahrner in the fifth and sixth grades and to Monica Gibbs and Kathy Humphreys in the seventh and eighth grades.

Honorable mentions were given to Martha Williams, Lana Barnfather, Jennie O'Rourke and Mary Jo Codwin.

Sponsor of the cheerleading teams at the high school is Mary LaBrie who helped supervise the clinic.

50-60 students expected at new church school

Between 50 and 60 kindergarten through third grade students will begin classes Wednesday, September 6, at the new Dixie Baptist Church School, 8585 Dixie Highway.

Judith Vanaman, school coordinator and third grade teacher, said four fully accredited teachers have been employed. Parents have been asked to arrange car pools for transportation, she added.

The school is housed in three relocatable units on the church grounds with the kindergarten meeting in a Sunday School classroom.

Tuition for the school is $35 a month for kindergarten and $45 a month for the grades, Miss Vanaman said.

She said plans are to increase the classes to the sixth grade next year.

Deer Lake getting sudsy

One of the last clean lakes in Oakland County may be in danger.

Township officials with Oakland County environmentalists were to check Deer Lake this week where beach workers have been reporting the presence of detergent suds along the beach in the early mornings during the past month.

As of Monday Mrs. Ingrid Smith reports she took pictures at 7:30 a.m. of suds knee high on a small child all along the beach.

Supervisor Gary Stonerock says if the township can determine where the suds are coming from it will be relatively easy to stop.

Deer Lake Beach until now has been one of the cleanest beaches tested by the Oakland County Health Department. Others in the area, particularly the Mill Pond, are showing significant levels of pollution.

Village Treasurer Artemus Pappas says the village council is expected to extend the September 1 deadline for paying village taxes to mid-October at its September 11 meeting. The extension is in line with past policy, he said.

Board, teachers at impasse

Labor negotiations between the Clarkston School Board and the Clarkston Education Association reached an impasse Monday evening, according to spokesmen for both sides.

A state labor mediator has been requested, spokesmen said. It was not known at what date he would arrive.

Meanwhile what happens Tuesday when teachers are due to report for work remains in question. "That will be determined by the general membership of the CEA at a 10 a.m. meeting Friday," said Lawrence Rosso, CEA chairman. The meeting will be at the high school.

George White, chief negotiator for the teachers, said the sides remain about $70,000 apart on total salary figures. White said the teachers asked for less than a five percent increase excluding the service increment, which is an automatic raise after more than one year's employment in the district.

Board spokesmen say last year's teacher salary package was $2,871,000. With normal increments the package this year would be $3,000,900, but spokesmen contend their offers have brought the package to $3,098,000. The figure includes some $20,000 in additional fringe benefits and alters the pay scale from last year's BA range of $8,175 to $13,935 to the current offer of $8,175 to $14,655 and the MA range of $8,675 to $15,275 to an offer of $8,675 to $16,000.

Clarkston was beset by a teachers' strike three years ago. Rosso said teachers could decide Friday to report for work without a contract as they did at the beginning of the school term three years ago, or they may vote for a work stoppage, he added. Three years ago the strike erupted after classes had been in session short time.

Should the mediator report promptly, it is possible agreement could be reached in time for the start of school, spokesmen said. Students are due to report for classes next Wednesday, according to the school calendar.

The board at its meeting earlier this month voted a 4.5 percent maximum increase for school district secretaries.

The Sailboat Regatta on Deer Lake has attracted 40 entries this year. The race will take place about a half hour after the parade ends Labor Day. Several prizes are being awarded in the two boat classes, large and small. The course is similar to last year's.

7,000 students expected Wednesday

There'll be an average of 29 and a half students in each of the elementary classrooms of the Clarkston School District this fall if tentative figures hold true.

Some 7,000 students are expected to report for the first day of classes Tuesday, according to Mel Vaara, assistant superintendent.

New attendance lines drawn earlier in the year break the attendance figures down as follows: 557 at Andersonville; 748 at Bailey Lake; 710 at Clarkston Elementary; 750 at Pine Knob; 288 at South Sashabaw; 540 at North Sashabaw; 966 including 54 sixth graders at Clarkston Junior High School; 935 including 87 sixth graders at Sashabaw Junior High School; and about 1,500 at the high school.

Unregistered new residents, moves out of the district, and the effect of the opening of the Dixie Baptist Church School could alter the figures, Vaara pointed out.

Decision due on K-Mart

Circuit Court Judge James Thorburn will reach a decision within the next month in regard to whether or not William Gershenson may build a K-Mart shopping center on Waterford Hill.

Final arguments in the case were completed last week, according to Township Attorney Richard Campbell. The case has been in the court since June 26, the first witness having been called July 7.

The case arose when the previous township board granted Gershenson the zoning he needed to build commercial facilities on the golf course. A later referendum by the people of the township withdrew that right. Gershenson and the country club then took the case to court.

Rail for blind bowlers

The blind can now bowl at Howe's Lanes. A guide rail was installed this week by the Blind Recreational Society of Pontiac. Ray Wadley, president of the group, was on hand for the presentation. It was accepted by Jean Thompson, manager of Howe's. Ray is a blind exhibition bowler with a 151 average.

Ray Wadley put on his bowling shoes at Howe's Lanes in Clarkston Friday for the first time this season. His first ball hit the gutter. His second took 9 pins.

A cameraman was taking his picture, so the gutter ball is understandable.

With the pins set up again, Ray hit for seven, then picked up the spare.

Not bad for the first outing of the season.

Not bad, either, when you consider Ray is legally blind. He has only partial vision.

He is president of the Blind Recreational Society of Pontiac, and was at Howe's Lanes for the installation of a guide rails for blind bowlers. Ray is one of the blind exhibition bowlers who promote bowling for the blind.

He carries a 151 average and appeared on "Beat the Champ" once.

Howe's Lanes, Firebird Lanes, Pontiac and Cooley Lanes are among the alleys working with the Blind Recreational Society (BRS) as is the Bowling Proprietors of Michigan organization.

The BRS furnishes guard rails, $850 worth in the last 6 months, for participating lanes. Blind bowlers brush their arm along the rail for guidance on their delivery steps.

The BRS exhibition blind bowlers made several appearances last season, including one at Howe's with Ortonville Lions Club participating.

A therapy class to teach the blind who have never bowled was started last season at Firebird Lanes. The woman who organized BRS, Mrs. Vicki Williams, of Pontiac, said "It turned out to be fun for regular bowlers, too. In a 10 week period attendance was 261."

Four instructors used by BRS are Bill Rogers, Mike Maxwell, Tom Preston and Evelyn Rogers.

The Blind Recreational Society is a non-profit charitable organization with tax-exempt status. "Contributions are deductible," Mrs. Williams said.

Their address is Box 511, Pontiac, 48056.

Blind bowlers from the Clarkston area are encouraged to contact Mrs. Williams or Ray Wadley to learn to bowl or get in one of the leagues.

Here we go again

It appears the Clarkston School District is embarking on another cliff hanger over teacher negotiations — and school just a week away.

Already beset by one strike not too long ago, the district is wary over the "impasse" now reported between the Board of Education and the Clarkston Education Association representing the teachers.

It seems to us it's time to cut out some of the gamesmanship involved in teacher bargaining. Reasonable offers on both sides would appear to be the order of the day — and they should have been made some time last spring.

It's not impossible. Waterford settled in June, and many other surrounding districts have settled.

In our case it's the board team who says it's made its final offer with no further thought of compromise. That's not how bargaining works.

The mediator, now on call, should have been called some time ago — if indeed it was necessary to call him.

Somewhere there's got to be a way out of this community dividing morass known as teacher negotiations.

Room for 1 more

By Jim Fitzgerald

When it comes to touching in church, I was way ahead of my time. I was playing kneesies in the pews 30 years ago.

The cool thing to do today is make physical contact with your pewmates (pewmates? That sounds gross. Make it seatmates).

Modern ministers and priests often include touching in their worship service. They urge their congregation to reach out, join hands, touch shoulders, make some kind of physical contact.

Many people don't like this holy touching. In fact, I know a couple of guys who absolutely refuse to partake, no matter who is sitting next to them. Whenever the minister gets that brotherly gleam in his eye, these 2 guys get up and run. These rapid escapes must leave their deserted seatmates really feeling like pewmates. (Uh-oh, bring me a bottle of Listerine").

I asked my friend Joe why he objected to joining hands in church.

"It embarrasses me," he said. "My wife always sits on one side of me and it feels silly to shake hands with someone I've been sleeping with for 15 years. On the other side there's usually some strange guy with a face like a catcher's mitt. There's no way I'm going to hold hands with him."

"The answer is simple," I told him. "It's just a matter of semantics. You should hold hands with your wife and shake hands with the catcher's mitt."

"I'll bet semantics is a dirty word," Don said. "And besides, it's easy for you to give advice. You never go to church!"

But I used to go way back when I was ahead of my time. And I used to regularly sneak touches with the girl sitting next to me. Nothing obvious or vulgar, of course. I'd simply reach out and grab passersby and assure them there was room for 1 more in our pew. After you've squeezed in 5 more "1 mores", the touching is not only easy, it is unavoidable. It did wonders for a dull sermon.

Of course, in 1942, this was guilty touching. The preacher didn't encourage such messing around in church. He didn't even approve it on the playground (co-educational touch football was forbidden). If you wanted to love your neighbor, it was wise to make it a sin of thought, not deed.

It is marvelous to see the progress that's been made in 30 years. I think it's grand that many ministers are now urging their parishioners to become physically aware of each other.

The idea is Love, of course. Love everybody, including the fat guy trying to read your hymnal. But first you must know him. And a good way to start is to touch him. That way, both of you outwardly acknowledge each other's existence. This world is full of people suffering in invisible agony, waiting in vain to be acknowledged.

Many of you church goers will probably regard that last paragraph as pretty pretentious, even stupid, coming from a heretic who has confused teenage lust with brotherly love. Maybe so. But even lust can look good when compared with hate — or tch-tch sophistication.

I'm for a world where every man is eager to make room for 1 more in his pew.

Letters to the Editor

Encourages larger lot sizes north of I-75

To the Editor,

Another small lot subdivision is being proposed for our rural area. This one on Reese Road, a neighborhood of farms 10 acres or more. Forty acres were zoned to 100x150 ft. lots by the previous board in 1969. The owners are now coming in for plat approval.

The Supervisor, Mr. Stonerock, has recommended a new classification called Suburban Estates of 1½ acre lots for our rural areas. He has worked out with the Road Commission a new road standard allowing roads to be built without curb and gutter in 1½ acre dubsivision.

This would not only bring down the cost of developing a larger lot plat but the rolling ditches are more in keeping with the rural character of the township.

There is considerable economic pressure to subdivide large acreage, not only do taxes become a burden but real estate men are constantly at your door.

But do we need the kind of tax relief that would put 69 homes on a 40 acre plat two miles from a hard surfaced road such as the one being proposed on Reese road?

I have written to the planning board urging them to create this new zoning, now, for use in our rural areas. I live on acreage out Eston Road and like country life.

I don't feel we need tax relief that will bring residential zoning to farm areas. We must say a firm 'No!' to this kind of zoning while allowing tax relief to those who ask for the kind of zoning which would be in the best interest of our Township.

While a good housing mix is desirable to serve the varied needs and economic capabilities of our residents, in areas without sewer a larger lot size would be in order. Every small lot subdivision that goes in north of I-75 brings Phase II sewers that much closer.

Viewpoint

Ekalaka, Mont., Eagle: "Among the most enthusiastic advocates of withholding the 'news' sometimes are those citizens who get into trouble with the law and feel they would be avoiding some measure of disgrace if somehow the information is kept out of the newspaper columns. We have come more and more to question the advisability of this course of thought, even in so-called juvenile matters, but it has done us little good through the years to point out that where arrests are kept secret there is the ever-closer possibility of the gestapo and the spiriting away of the citizen on the q. t. to an unknown and unheralded, but nonetheless catastrophic fate. From little infringements of liberty, mighty repressions grow."

How is lumber graded? It is given certain classifications by American Lumber Standards. The best lumber, or select lumber, is graded by the presence of lack of defects and blemishes - knots, for example. A and B grades of select lumber are very clear of such marks while C and D grades have more blemishes. C and D grades are perfectly good for finish work that will be painted. Lumber used for general construction is called common lumber and is graded from one to five.

Get the hardware and supplies to finish that construction job from BOB'S HARDWARE, 60 S. Main St, 625-5020. We feature a wide selection of electrical and plumbing supplies including iron and plastic pipe, elbows, couples, valves and fittings; copper tubing and fittings; bathroom and kitchen faucet sets; and V-belts and pulleys. Hours: 8-6, Mon-Sat.

HELPFUL HINT

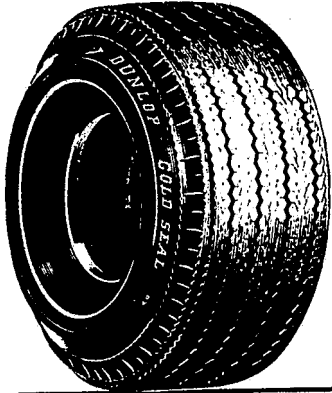

Lumber is always four inches or larger in their smallest dimension.

Weight Watchers offer sandwich month recipes

Love sandwiches, but watching your weight? Here's the answer for you. August is traditionally known as National Sandwich Month, so Weight Watchers of Eastern Michigan, Inc. have prepared some unusual and delicious sandwich ideas that are highly nutritious, easy to prepare and ideal menu additions for the whole family's diet.

TOWNE HOUSE BEEF

8 ozs. roast beef, finely diced
1 tbsp. lemon juice
1 medium tomato, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
Lettuce

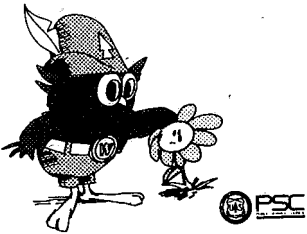

¼ cup chopped celery
¼ tsp. snipped chives
2 tbsps. mayonnaise
4 slices whole wheat bread

Combine all ingredients except bread and lettuce. Mix well. Divide mixture into 2 equal portions. Spread on 2 slices bread; top each with lettuce and remaining bread slices. Makes 2 servings.

QUICK MUSHROOM PIZZA

2 slices white bread
4 ozs. mozzarella cheese, grated
Garlic powder
½ cup tomato juice reduced to ¼ cup
¼ cup cooked mushrooms, sliced
Oregano

Toast bread and spread lightly with reduced tomato juice. Divide mushrooms equally on toast. Place cheese on top; sprinkle with garlic powder and oregano. Broil until cheese is melted. Makes 2 servings.

Join Woodsy Owl's fight against pollution. Today.

CHEESE DELISH

4 ounces cooked chicken, minced
½ cup canned mushrooms, minced
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Pinch of thyme
1 teaspoon freshly chopped parsley
½ teaspoon Worcestershire
Salt and pepper to taste
2 1-ounce slices American cheese
2 slices toast
1 dill pickle, sliced

Combine first 7 ingredients; mix well. Divide equally and spread evenly on toast. Top each with 1 slice cheese and place under broiler until cheese melts. Garnish with pickle slices. Makes 2 servings.

GRILLED REUBEN SANDWICH

1 slice white bread
2 ounces sliced turkey
¼ cup sauerkraut, drained
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 ounce sliced Swiss Cheese
Watercress
1 dill pickle, quartered
Radish rose (optional)

Toast bread lightly. Arrange turkey on toast. Place sauerkraut over turkey; spread with mayonnaise and top with cheese. Place under broiler until sandwich is thoroughly heated and cheese melts. Garnish with watercress, dill pickle and radish rose. Makes 1 serving.

KON TIKI SANDWICH

8 ounces tuna, drained
2 tablespoons chopped celery
½ cucumber, peeled and chopped
1 teaspoon chopped pimento
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste
4 small slices pineapple, canned in its own juice PLUS 4 tablespoons juice*
2 slices toast
Parsley sprigs (optional)

Combine first 6 ingredients; mix well. Divide into 2 equal portions. Place each portion on toast and spread evenly. Arrange 2 slices of pineapple on each sandwich. Garnish with parsley. Makes 2 servings.

*Be sure to consume pineapple juice.

BARNYARD SANDWICH

2 ounces onion or scallion, sliced
3 tablespoons diced pimento
4 eggs
Salt and pepper to taste
2 slices of toast
Watercress

Combine all ingredients, except watercress and bread, in a small mixing bowl; beat well. Pour mixture into a heated non-stick pan and cook slowly, stirring until eggs begin to firm. Remove from heat. Divide into 2 equal portions; place on toast and garnish with watercress. Makes 2 servings.

REGENCY CLUB SANDWICH

1 tablespoon mayonnaise
½ teaspoon vinegar
Chives
2 slices white bread
2 ounces sliced turkey
1 ounce Swiss cheese
½ medium tomato, sliced
Lettuce

Mix first 3 ingredients; spread evenly on bread. Arrange turkey on 1 slice of bread. Add cheese, tomato and lettuce. Cover with remaining slice of bread. Makes 1 man's serving.

"If you apply for an FHA or VA loan, law requires that an appraiser, designated by the government agency insuring the loan, will determine the value of the property in question", writes a leading authority on real estate. And this is indeed the case. The appraiser will look the property over and give in writing his estimate of the total worth of the property. If there are repairs to be made, the appraiser may make his statement subject to these repairs. It is all a necessary part of the procedure for governmental loans.

When you call BOB WHITE REAL ESTATE, 5856 S. Main St, 625-5821 with your listing, we will appraise your property for fair market value. We have a large backlog of potential buyers, and only qualified buyers will be brought to see your home. Your home will be advertised in different papers, and a dated copy of each ad published will be sent to you. We have around-the-clock electronic answering service. Wed on parents' anniversary

Jocelyn Frances Gibson carried a handkerchief made from her grandmother's wedding veil when she exchanged marriage vows August 26 with Roger Alan Price. The date was her parents' 22nd wedding anniversary.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson of 2067 Kohler, Drayton Plains, is a secretary. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moreton Price of Bloomfield Hills, is an Oakland University student.

Rev. Carl E. Price performed the traditional ceremony at Central United Methodist Church in Pontiac. White glads, chrysanthemums and candelabra decorated the church. Some 200 guests were present.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of English lace styled in an A-line with long sleeves and chapel length train. An English lace headpiece held her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and babies breath.

Christine Gibson, her sister, was maid of honor. She wore an olive green organdy gown trimmed with lace and a white organdy hat. She and the similarly attired bridesmaids, Diane Horn of Waterford and Mrs. Charles Amos of Taylor, carried baskets of flowers.

Cynthia and Michael Schell, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. Grayce Warren of Clarkston was soloist.

Mark Price was best man for his brother. David Price, Kirk Gibson, the bride's brother, Craig Pogue of Clawson and Mike Bracco of Berkley seated guests. A reception followed in the church parlors.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will live in Troy.

Mrs. John Charles White

John White takes bride

John Charles White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley White of 6386 South Main, was wed to Elaine Louise Hall of Proctorville, Ohio, August 19 at the United Methodist Church in Proctorville.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Hall.

Rev. M. G. Moyer performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Patty Summers was organist and Robert Houston was soloist for the evening rites.

The bride's empire gown was styled with a Victorian neckline, Renaissance sleeves, and a chapel train. Appliqued lace and Saxin ribbon trimmed the gown. A bouffant veil of English silk illusion was held in place with a Venise petal lace headpiece. She carried yellow rosebuds and white carnations.

Mrs. Earl Lake, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Mrs. Doug Reynolds and Beverly Stephens were bridesmaids. They wore powder blue empire waisted dresses trimmed with blue and white flowers. The sleeves were a blue-green and the A-line skirts white. Blue and white carnations were carried by the attendants.

Denise Lake was flower girl.

George White of Clarkston was his brother's best man. Earl Lake and Gary Gray seated the guests.

Mrs. George White, Mrs. Ernest Hall, Mrs. Ralph McConnell, Mrs. Dorothy Hall and Mrs. Carl Burcham assisted at the reception which followed in the church Fellowship Hall.

The bride and groom, a graduate of Michigan State University, are employed by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. at Huntington, West Virginia. They will live at 225 Elizabeth Street, Proctorville, Ohio.

The Monday Morning Swingers ended their golfing season with Fun Day and Awards Banquet held at Sacco's. Grand prize trophy winners for the First Flight were partners Bernice Bishop and Sharon Tyler; and Second Flight winners were partners Deliah Peterson and Evaline Rogers. The season's lowest actual scores were earned by Bernice Bishop and Evaline Rogers in Flight 1 and 2 respectively. Other awards went to: Beverly Tyler for having the lowest net, Betsy Rice for showing the most improvement, and to Sue Smith for getting the most individual points.

The Thomas Moore's of Glenburnie have returned home from a visit to the Upper Peninsula. It was their first trip to the U.P. and it sounds like they really enjoyed the sights. Tahquamenon Falls and a boat ride thru the Soo Locks were impressive highlights for the entire family.

The Moore's eldest daughter, Arlene 18, and a college girl friend went to the U.P. also, but went on to Drummond Island to visit at another college friend's home. The other Moore children enjoying the vacation were: Craig 17, Matthew 16, Leslie 15, Joan 12, Jim 10, Tom 7, and Shannon 6.

Then, after their arrival home

Thursday, Craig had an appendicitis attack Friday which put him in the hospital for an appendectomy. Hope your recovery is speedy, Craig.

The Thursday Morning Duffers finished their season with a game of Scotch Ball and a pot luck and awards luncheon at Shirley Rademacher's. Top awards went to Bernice Bishop, 1st Flight and to Mary Emerson, 2nd Flight. Respective second place awards went to Betty O'Neill and Jewel Schmude. Other First Flight division winners were: Bobby Cruickshank and Shirley Slone tying for lowest actual score, Barbara Shell and Bernice Bishop tying for lowest net score. Bobby Cruickshank making the lowest actual putts, and Barbara Shell showing the most improvement. Additional Second Flight team awards were given to: Mary Emerson for lowest actual score, Wanona Pierce for lowest net score, Julie Johnson for lowest actual putts, and Mary Emerson showing the most improvement.

Nine year old John Huttenlocher enjoyed a trip to Farrell's Ice Cream Shoppe Monday prior to a Wednesday family gathering in his honor. John is the son of the Richard Huttenlocher's of Parke Lake Drive.

Jim and Sharon Wenger of Pine Knob Road are proud parents of a son, Jason, born May 24. Jason arrived six weeks early weighing five pounds ten ounces and is doing fine. Jim and Sharon are both teachers in the Clarkston School System.

Larry Rosso of Orion Road has returned from the West where he and friends enjoyed the sights and camping amid the beautiful scenery. Two and a half weeks pass quickly when there is so much to see and do.

Dawn Tower was surprised by her family last Saturday. Her daughters, Lynn, Beth, Gail and Julie completely planned a lovely surprise baby shower for her at their home on North Main Street. Her son, Michael, took charge of the cars which brought many friends, neighbors, and relatives. Dawn was more than ecstatic over all the lovely baby gifts. The baby should arrive by early December — a fantastic Christmas gift for the Towers.

The Gus Birtsas' of Robertson Court, the Bill Dennis' of Eastlawn, and the John Jones' of Ortonville Road have all visited Cedar Pointe at some time during the past week. It's a great place for family fun — and there's still time to get down there before school starts.

The Don Hamakers on Kingfisher have just put in a beautiful back yard swimming pool and patio. To break it in, Barb invited the Jaycettes to her home for their annual family picnic and swimming. Everyone had a great time.

The fight against Muscular Dystrophy benefited Saturday afternoon from a carnival at 115 North Holcomb. Through the combined efforts of Nancy Westlund, chairman, Peggy Dale and Mark Westlund, Pat and Mary Ann Daniels, David and Irene Bailey, Robin Bisha and Sherry Karmerisky a total of $8.17 was raised.

There were several games, a wishing well, a book stall, an original puppet show written by the group, a pick-a-pocket man, a fortune telling lady and, of course, refreshments of Kool-Aid and popcorn.

Many neighbors and friends came to enjoy the fun and contribute their pennies.

A former resident of Clarkston, Mrs. Ana-Lida Mathis, formerly Ana Plumb, died July 25, in South Carolina, we've just been informed.

It's nice to be home again. Familiar faces dropping in at the office... catching up on what's been happening at home while we've been on vacation... it's all a part of a feeling of belonging.

There were a couple of letters, too. One from Connie Schnell, a caseworker at Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, said our feature story in The Clarkston News on the work her group does had produced requests to the agency from several of our readers.

Another from Project Concern headquarters in San Diego, Calif., thanked the "lame dames" for their $600 contribution to the May "Walk for Mankind." The 50 percent of that which went to Project Concern will provide medical and dental care around the world, according to David Keesling the Walk director. Carolyn Place and Jan Gabier, take a bow.

If you patronize The Flame on M-59 make sure Howard Bliss Jr. is your cook. Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bliss Sr., 4890. Cecelia Ann, and a June graduate of Clarkston High School, has received a plaque as The Flame's "Cook of the Year". The competition was among grill men who work at the restaurant. Howard was president of the senior class last year.

Well, I've been talked into it again. Clarkston Jaycees have assured me I won't drown if I take the precarious perch over the dunk tank for a while this weekend during the Labor Day Carnival. We'd best keep all the Saile Kids home. A chance like that to get even for all the things they might attribute to a "mean mother" might be too much to resist. I wonder how cold the water is?

A new decibel meter, which cost the township $400, and a ticket book have been turned over to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to aid deputies in the prosecution of noise level standards at Pine Knob Amphitheater. Supervisor Gary Stonerock said he hoped there's be compliance rather than any great number of tickets issued, however.

Mrs. Ned (Christine) McClurg, 6985 Rattalee Lake Road, has been nominated as a candidate for Outstanding Young Women of America for 1972. Fifty are selected in the state, ten to become finalists this fall. Mrs. McClurg is a 1971 graduate of General Motors Institute in Flint with a degree in industrial engineering. She is now employed at Buick in Flint.

An Oakland County Circuit Court judge will be on the November ballot for one of two positions on the State Supreme Court. The candidate is Judge William Beer, nominee of the American Independent Party. Judge Beer, a lifelong resident of the county and a resident of Berkley, calls himself a strict constitutionalist and is opposed to busing.

Don't forget the Independence Center openhouse from 6 to 9 p.m. Sunday September 10 in the old Presbyterian Church on Sashabaw Road. Information about the program and a tour of facilities will be offered. Independence Center will also have an information booth during Labor Day Carnival Days this weekend in downtown Clarkston.

Spiritual Message

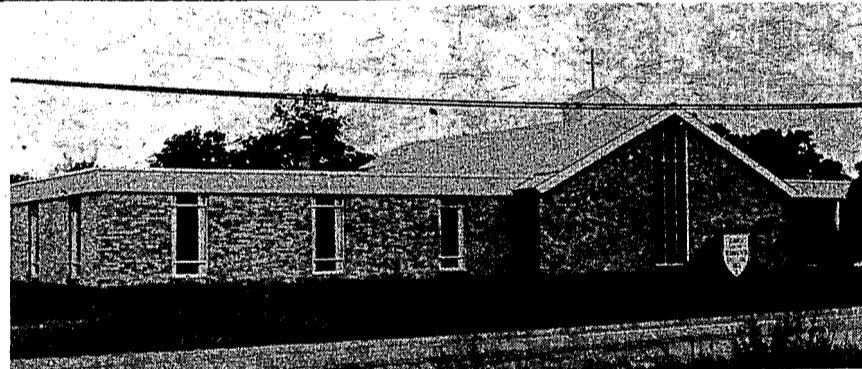

"BE NOT OVERCOME OF EVIL, BUT OVERCOME EVIL WITH GOOD."
ROMANS 12:21

At the township meeting recently a resident spoke of the pollution of the Mill Pond, its source, and the distinct possibility of Parke Lake and all of the bodies of water connected by the Clinton River becoming polluted as a result thereof. At this time undoubtedly most of the people living on these lakes are unaware of this potential threat to their water and, it appears, only a few of those who already are directly affected are concerned about it.

This is an example of how all pollution spreads, moral as well as environmental. It begins from a minor source and slowly, but surely, spreads itself until greater and greater areas are afflicted, more and more people affected. Sure, something could have been done about it early but apathy and the feeling that it is the other fellow's problem allowed it to spread and grow until it virtually becomes insoluble. Sometimes, if we are lucky, as in the case of the Mill Pond, the source of the pollution is known and, if remedial action is taken promptly, can be corrected. Unfortunately, however, this usually isn't possible with moral pollution. But the time it is recognized as a problem it is too wide spread to be corrected at the source, so other measures must be undertaken.

When dealing with any type of poison, which all pollution virtually is, an antidote must be found,

CHURCH OF THE RESURRECTION EPISCOPAL
The Rev. Alexander T. Stewart

something to counteract the effects of the poison. In the case of the Mill Pond, if it were possible, an infusion of fresh water large enough to lower the percentage of the pollutants below the danger level, might be it. When dealing with moral pollution the antidote that not only will do the job but, also, will avoid the harmful side effects that other remedies, such as massive doses of force and punishment, might cause is the infusion of Jesus Christ. Bring the love of God in Christ on the scene; let it permeate the environment; then see the changes that take place, how the moral pollution is cleaned up. This is what the "Jesus people" have done and they are to be commended. However, I pray that, along with the teachings of Jesus which they have accepted, they also have accepted Him as Lord, remembering that good acts alone can't put the world right because it doesn't always respond to them; but, regardless of this, even in the midst of all our troubles, God gives us the victory through Christ our Lord.

Ever hear of the Woodlawn Vase? It's the award given for the Preakness stakes. This trophy has been awarded every year since 1917. It was made by Tiffany in 1860 although during the Civil War it was put away. This vase is valuable for what it represents, and has always been valuable for this reason. Now, however, the numerical value for the vase is placed at $500,000 dollars.

Army taught him

When Walter F. Grogan of Grogan Radio and RV Repair, 4730 Clarkston-Orion Rd., began building his home in Clarkston 20 years ago, he was still a resident of Detroit. About 10 years ago he and his family moved to Clarkston permanently, and that was when he opened his repair shop, just around the corner from his home.

Grogan has been in radio and TV work since before World War II, he also served in the communications department of the Army. Even prior to that, around 1937, he taught a course in radio repair in Pannsylvania. It was a government sponsored education program, aimed at providing the military with experienced radio operators.

Coming back to more recent times, Grogan built his present shop about eleven years ago. He has used it steadily since then with no expansions and he comments that he is satisfied with it as it is. He is the sole owner and proprietor of the shop, although he says occasionally his wife fills in for him if he has to be away.

Besides repair, Grogan sometimes sells used television sets. He also will come out to a home to service a set, but explains that if the person brings it in, then he can usually charge them less in total repair costs.

Business hours are from 9 to 6 weekdays and Saturdays. A phone and doorbell hook-up between the Grogan home and the repair shop insure a customer that his call will be answered at any time of the day, whether in the home or office.

Grogan's shop is registered with the Oakland County Electronics Association. He is also treasurer of the association. Members of this organization insure their customers that they will receive reliable, legitimate service, Grogan said.

Want to rent anything ?

Raymond and Patsy Mellen, owners of Michigan Rental, 6650 Dixie Highway, have made their chosen business a family affair. They operate their rental store with daughter, Linda Melson and son, Rodney. Other employes include, Dale Hocking, Tom LaBrie, Dennis LaBrie, and Richard Hakler.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellen also have two other daughters and one son not associated with the rental service.

Before moving their business to Clarkston, the Mellens were situated in Waterford, across from Our Lady of the Lakes Church, for approximately five years.

Around eight years ago they bought their present building. It had previously been a welding shop, so they made several changes it it. The entire front wall was redone and the office moved, to name a couple of changes.

Although Raymond and Patsy Mellen have named their place of business Michigan Rental, they do much more than just rent items. They also sell machinery and parts and service them, too. Mrs. Mellen comments that they have somewhere in the neighborhood of one thousand items for rental. As the slogan on their business card states, "You name it, we rent it!"

Michigan Rental Service takes in a wide range of customers, but Patsy Mellen adds that most generally, customers are from Clarkston, Waterford, Pontiac, and Lake Orion.

The Mellens are also residents of Clarkston; they live just behind the Rental on Maybee Road.

Business hours are from eight to six on weekdays and Saturdays, except Wednesdays. (They are closed the entire day on Wednesdays.) Sunday hours are from nine to four.

Agriculture- 2nd source of income

Michigan ranks first in the nation in five agricultural products and fifth or higher in 14 others, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The business of agriculture is the second largest source of income in Michigan, figures compiled by the Michigan Department of Agriculture show. Farmers received $925 million for their 1971 harvest. Processing, transportation and marketing increased this amount to $2.5 billion.

A special report compiled by Auto Club shows that while only one out of 100 Michigan citizens operates a farm, 27 percent of the state's residents derive some part of their income from agriculture. Michigan leads the nation in production of blueberries, red tart cherries, dry edible beans, Eastern white soft winter wheat and prune-plums.

About half of the 1971 blueberry crop of 32 million pounds, valued at $9.3 million, was sold fresh. The remainder was divided between canneries and freezing plants.

Traverse City calls itself the "Cherry Capital of the World." Michigan grows 64 percent of the nation's red tart cherries and half of these come from the Grand Traverse area. Almost the entire crop goes to processors. Last year, 3,900 growers produced 89,000 tons valued at nearly $18 million. This is a 59 percent increase in dollar value over the previous year.

Dry edible beans, worth $68.5 million last year, and Eastern white soft winter wheat, valued at $27.7 million, were other Michigan products which topped the nation. Flour from this wheat is used for cookies, crackers, pastry, and as a blend for other flours.

In production of prune-plums, Michigan was tied with Oregon for first in

The proven road to sales success!

Fact: over 94% of everybody uses the Yellow Pages. 70% of those make calls to firms while 30% go directly to the advertiser without calling. Smart businessmen know the Yellow Pages reaches customers, produces sales!

That's why they've found it pays to feature addresses and slogans prominently in their ads . . . to use display ads to stress reliability and to let buyers know the range and variety of brand name products sold and serviced. They also include days and hours open, if delivery service is available, what credit cards they'll accept. And they're represented under all headings pertaining to their business.

Now's the time to expand—or begin—advertising in the Yellow Pages. Just contact your representative—in the Yellow Pages under "Advertising—Directory & Guide". Call soon. Beat the deadline. Join the following businessmen who travel the Yellow Pages road to sales success:

LANDSCAPE CONTRACTORS—
Stone Age Landscape Supplies, Van Dyke, Utica—Mr. John J. Merle

"It took us only one year to prove the value of the Yellow Pages. Being new in business, and a new advertiser, we kept close check on what the ads were doing for us. Based on our survey, we determined about 50% of our calls came from the Yellow Pages."

MOTORCYCLES—Detroit Honda Stores, Chalmers, Detroit—Mr. Gil Engles

"Yellow Pages advertising motivates a person who is ready to buy to call us, or come in and see us, and buy from us rather than another dealer. Because of our locations on Detroit's east side, and in northwest Detroit, Warren and Romulus, we advertise in the Detroit Yellow Pages, all six of the metropolitan directories and the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti Yellow Pages. Our phones ring constantly and I must credit this primarily to our Yellow Pages program."

CONTRACTORS—GENERAL—
Nick Manzella & Daughter Improvement Co., S. Mill, Pontiac—Mr. Nick Manzella

"I've always made a point of finding out where my customers come from and how they found me. Since I changed locations early in 1970, between 70 and 80% of my business has come from the Yellow Pages."

LUMBER—RETAIL—
Tela-Warren Hardware & Lumber Co., N. Telegraph Rd., Dearborn—Mr. Leonard Zucker

"Two-thirds of my advertising budget goes into the Yellow Pages. And my business increased 27% during 1971! Most of that increase can be directly attributed to increasing the sizes and placements of ads in the Yellow Pages."

HALLS & AMPHITHEATRES—
Cameron Hall, S. Telegraph Rd., Taylor—Mr. William J. Campbell

"I placed an ad in the West and Downriver directories and, within a few months after they were out, my date book was filled for the remainder of the year. Business hasn't let up since. I started asking every customer how he or she happened to find us and knew I had made a wise move when 90% of the people said they found us in the Yellow Pages."

DOORS—Doors Galore Inc., Schoenherr, Warren—Mrs. Bernice Osborne

"Since we've placed display ads in the East Area, North Woodward Area and Detroit Yellow Pages, about one-third of all our new business can be traced directly to the Yellow Pages."

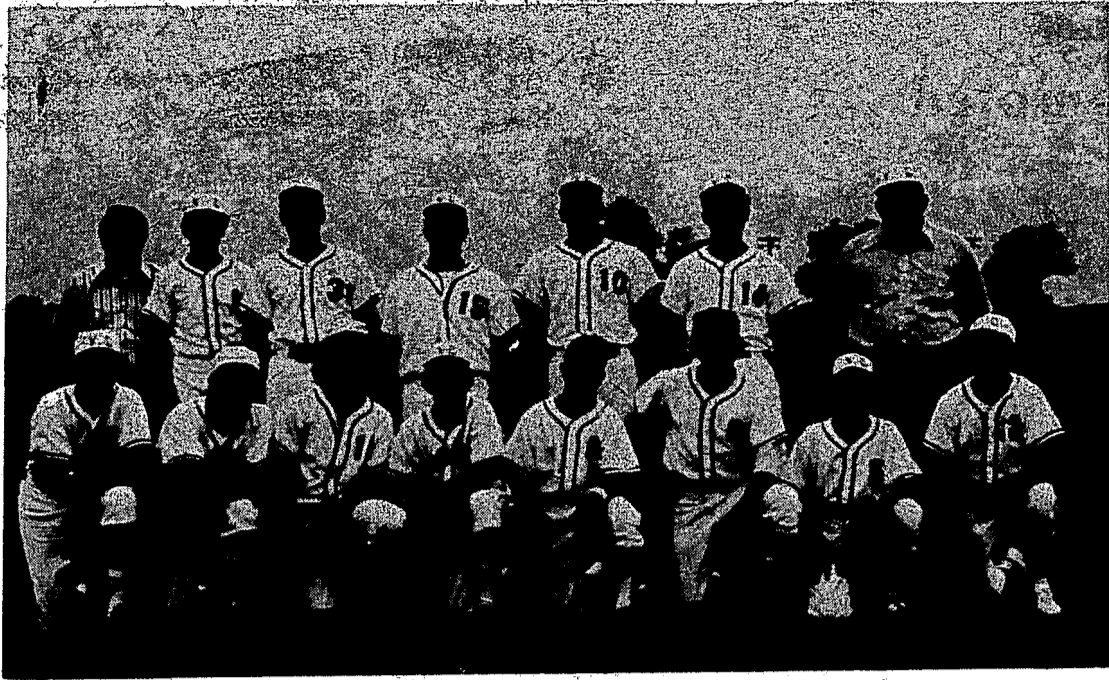

TOWING—AUTOMOTIVE—
Shelton Towing Service, Marion, Redford—Mr. J. C. Shelton

"The first year I advertised in the Yellow Pages my business doubled as a result of my ad! No other advertising has ever performed for me like the Yellow Pages."

Coaches Don Dell (left) and Jack Hess posed with their Pony League championship Village Clinic team. The boys were later defeated in a Waterford match.

Freshmen gearing

Freshmen football teams from both junior high schools have been in practice the past week readying for the Clarkston-Sashabaw season opener September 20 at the high school field.

Dave McDonald, varsity basketball coach at the high school, Dave Bihl, junior varsity basketball coach, and Larry Sherrill, a substitute teacher last year who has now joined the system, are coaching the Clarkston Junior High team.

McDonald says Tim Westover a six foot, three inch 200 pound fullback is worthy of mention.

At Sashabaw Jim Koslosky heads a coaching staff comprised of Chris Krueger and Neal Sage. The Sashabaw boys have been at practice longer than the Clarkston team and they're looking forward to the tangle with their rivals September 20.

Jaycee softball champions

The Clarkston Area Jaycee softball team, led by Jerry Hennig who pitched three winning games, has emerged as District 21 champions. The team defeated Ortonville 8-1, Auburn Heights 17-6, and Pontiac 7-4 in the district tournament last weekend in Pontiac.

The local boys will go to Ann Arbor September 8, 9 and 10 for the State Tournament.

Lawn seeding

Best time to establish a new lawn in Michigan is August 15 to September 1.

Dr. James Beard, Michigan State University turfgrass researcher, and Paul Rieke, MSU soil scientist, list these lawn establishment steps.

1. Test the soil for fertilizer and lime requirements. County Cooperative Extension Service offices have information on where soil testing services are available.

2. Till the soil and prepare the final contour. Do a good job now, since corrections are difficult to make after the grass has been established.

3. Remove stones and other debris.
4. Apply fertilizer according to recommendations based on the soil test. Work into the upper two or three inches of seedbed. A general recommendation of two pounds of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash per 1,000 square feet is adequate for many new lawns. This is equivalent to 20 pounds of 10-10-10 or 10 pounds of 20-20-20.

5. Prepare final seedbed by raking smooth, then rolling.

6. Seed. Divide the seed into two equal amounts and apply in opposite directions across the area to insure uniform applications.

7. Rake seed lightly into the upper-one-quarter inch of the seedbed. Don't "bury" the seed.

8. Mulch with straw to insure seed germination and establishment. Use 75 to 1000 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

9. Roll again to firm the seedbed and hold the straw in place.

10. Keep watered for three weeks. This last step is probably the most important of all. Irrigate at least once a day, preferably at noon. If a mulch is not applied, you may need to water more often to keep the soil surface moist.

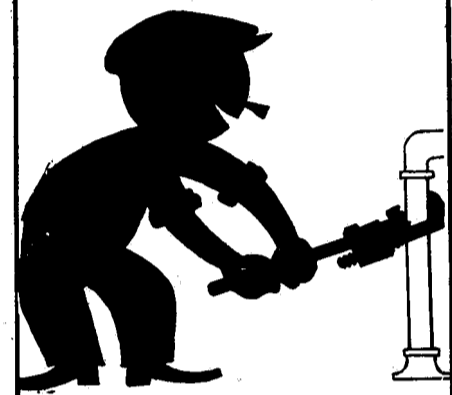

When the grass is approximately one to one and one-half inches high, remove half the straw mulch. When the grass reaches a height of two inches apply a light dressing of from one-quarter to one-half pound of actual nitrogen (one-half to one pound of urea) per 1,000 square feet.

Start mowing when the grass is two inches high. Set mower height at one and one-half inches.

Broadleaf weed control may be necessary but should be delayed until the seedlings are well established, preferably at least 30 days after grass emerges.

Eye Injury

Eye injuries are very common in summer and fall, warns the Better Vision Institute. But especially troublesome is the sun's glare, when we spend more time out of doors.

Glare may bring on a squint (and "crow's feet") which is not only uncomfortable and unattractive, but can be dangerous when it interferes with clear vision.

Furthermore, too much exposure to bright sunshine may contribute to the development of cataract, since the infrared rays in sunshine tend to coagulate the protein in the eye's lens and make it opaque, much as the heat of cooking affects the white of an egg.

So be sure to wear sun glasses whenever you're exposed to outdoor daytime glare for any length of time, the Institute advises. Be sure they are of good quality, with distortion-free lenses. Tiny irregularities in poor lenses affect the eye muscles, and can cause headache, fatigue, irritability and nausea.

Also, poor quality sunglasses usually give no protection against the sun's infrared and ultraviolet rays.

Eyes long exposed to sun, glare without protection also suffer a great loss in their ability to adapt to near-darkness. It may take them hours or even days to regain normal night vision.

Newville, Pa., Valley Times-Star: "It's encouraging to learn that the government itself is preparing to blow the whistle on unlimited contributions to be printed in the Congressional Record by members of Congress. Reform is long past due. Many voters with more logic than experience have been led by congressmen to believe that because their remarks are printed in the Congressional Record, they were delivered in an actual speech before Congress. This was not necessarily the case and the supposed influence on the floor of Congress was a pipe dream to say nothing of expensive publication costs."

The sound is spreading

Freda Swain and Ivan Rouse

There's a big idea emanating from the small red brick tree-shaded building on Main Street.

The idea — that of truly professional music in a small town such as Clarkston — is one Ivan Rouse has been dreaming since he opened the Clarkston Conservatory of Music and Dance in 1959.

There were only 10 students then. Now there are about 125.

The teachers — besides Ivan who has a degree in piano from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago — include local artists, Detroit Symphony members and Wayne State University staff. Classes are offered in piano, violin, cello, ballet and voice.

Ivan, a lifelong Clarkston area resident, has just returned from four weeks in England where he studied with Freda Swain, a Fellow of the Royal College of Music, and where he also lectured at Nemo Music Centre.

Through Miss Swain, whose music Ivan has been performing since 1969, he was able to meet Sir Ernest Bullock who was organist at Westminster Abbey for 30 years and had an important roll in the coronations of George VI and Elizabeth II. His hosts in England included Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Dowsell of Newport, South Wales.

While in England Ivan learned a little about the Newport docks. Dowsell is dock supervisor. Broadening his field of interest is not new to the Clarkston musicologist however.

Now, involved in a burgeoning Clarkston Historical Society, he's also making plans for a cooperative concert series with the Pontiac Creative Arts Center — the first program to be in October at Clarkston High School Little Theater and the second consisting of two chamber operas to be in Pontiac. Wes Fishwick, pianist, of the Wayne State University music department will perform for the first.

Ivan also teaches two days a week at St. Hugo's School in Bloomfield Hills and he plays organ for St. John's Episcopal Church in Holly.

He's also been asked to advise on the Jaycee program at Pine Knob Amphitheater September 10.

Right now he's most enthused about the possibility of a music exchange between Clarkston and England. He'd teach in England for two months with a professor from England coming here.

His affinity for the "tight little island" may derive from his middle name which is Anglophile, and it could be because his grandparents came from Yorkshire.

The music he's had with him all his life. His goal has been to present it so others may enjoy it, too, and the really good artists he's imported to Clarkston for programs have left their mark.

For Ivan, Clarkston has been here all along, despite his time away at school and the two years he spent as accompanist with the Symphony Chorale in Yokohama, Japan.

The history of the town is very much a part of him. The conservatory building, once a stable, was built in 1834 by William Bromfield, he reports proudly. In the pleasantly remodeled quarters is where Ivan makes his home.

The sounds are different now. And they're spreading.

"Some people thought I was foolish when I started this in 1959," Ivan confides.

It's a safe bet that not many think so now.

CHS band students at camp

A number of Clarkston High School band students attended different music camps this summer to further their interest in music and playing in bands.

Becky Smith, first flute and head majorette of the Clarkston Band, attended the National Music Camp at Interlochen for two weeks after receiving three scholarships from different donors last May. Becky couldn't say enough about the camp and hopes to attend again next year for a longer period of time.

Linda DeArmond and Judy Jervis, both clarinetists, attended the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp at Muskegon for two weeks on scholarships and gained valuable musical experience through band concerts, music theory classes, and instrumental sectionals. Gene Schmidgall attended the drum major camp at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Other high school students attending band camp at Northern Michigan University for one week in Marquette, were trumpet players Dan Schwartz, Mike Heenan, and Pat Robinson; flutist Carolyn Smith; clarinetist, Sheryl Carpenter; French hornist Rachel Byers; drummer Gene Salk; and Dan Millward attended the drum major clinic at Northern to gain experience for his position of drum major of the Clarkston Marching Band this fall.

Band students are eligible for scholarships to summer music camp in the spring of each year from funds raised from car washes, school bake sales, donations, and concert proceeds for the high school band.

First aid in Holly

The Holly Ambulance will conduct first aid classes from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday evenings beginning September 11 at the Holly High School. Standard through advanced courses will be offered.

Advanced courses only will be offered from 9 a.m. to noon beginning September 11 at the Holly Village Council Room.

A chance to upgrade

Evening adult education classes will be offered again this fall beginning the week of September 18 by the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center, 8211 Big Lake Road.

Fifteen-week classes costing $30 will be offered in auto body, appliance, radio and television repair, medical and dental assisting, commercial art, distributive education (retailing), metal machining, off set printing and office procedures.

Classes will meet either Tuesday or Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. To register or obtain further information, interested people are asked to call the school at 625-5202.

Nursery

Clarkston Co-Op Nursery is having its parent orientation September 5, at 8:00 P.M. It will be held in the Fellowship Hall at The United Methodist Church, Waldon Road.

Fathers and mothers are invited to this meeting. They will learn about co-ops, get to meet the board members, the teachers, and other parents.

School starts on Sept. 11.

For information on how to get you and your 3 or 4 year old child in a co-op nursery call Mary Ann Heil at 625-3430.

Merger successful

Both owners of Von-Hall Realty, George Vonderharr and Benjamin Hall, had previous experience in separate real estate companies before they merged in late 1969.

Hall had been with his own company, B. Hall Realty, since 1967. In January of 1969 he built a new office at 7150 Dixie. He remained alone until late that year when Vonderharr merged with him to form Von-Hall Realty, as it is known today.

Vonderharr had been in real estate since 1964; his office previously was in Pontiac.

Von-Hall Realty takes in listings from practically anywhere between Flint and Pontiac, though generally most listings are within the Clarkston, Brandon, Drayton Plains boundaries. Vonderharr comments that their sales are equally divided between new and old houses, acreage and residential lots.

The large staff at Von-Hall totals five brokers and nine salesmen. Brokers include, besides Hall and Vonderharr, Al LaFontaine, Gary Herronen, and Jim Brown.

The nine salesmen efficiently handle all customer needs from information to tours of homes and land listed for sale. The salesmen are: Lloyd and Richard Narsh, John Adams, Jim Williams and Ted Bissell. They will show any property to any customer interested at the customer's convenience.

Office hours are from nine to nine on weekdays, nine to four on Saturdays and from one to four on Sunday.

Von-Hall Realty also has a multiple listing service.

Fine Arts Center a find

During the six years that the Fine Arts Sculpture Center has been located on Waldon and Clintonville Roads, few Clarkston residents have learned much about the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Petrucci, owners, moved from Detroit their already established business of sculpture casting.

Petrucci is one of perhaps six or seven sculpture casters in the entire United States that use what is called the 'lost wax' method of reproducing sculpture. This method uses wax in the mold when a piece is put into the kiln. After the wax melts out, the metal desired by the artist is filled into its place. This results in a perfect casting of the original artwork into the finished piece, Petrucci said. Metals used are aluminum, bronze, or whatever the particular artist desires.

Petrucci comments that the rarity of casters using the 'lost wax' method is due to the fact that few people are ever taught this process. Petrucci, himself, learned the trade from the famous Bruno Bearzi of Florence, Italy. Bearzi is the director of the Fonderia Artistica Fiorentina in Florence.

A total of seven people are employed by Petrucci, each one equally proficient at every phase of the casting process. He comments that whatever area demands the most work is where the employees will be that day.

The Fine Arts Sculpture Center reproduces both large and small pieces of artwork, memorial plaques for buildings and occasionally even parts for General Motors.

Sculpture artwork is brought in by artists from all parts of the country.

One statue currently being reproduced, when finished, will be a nine foot tall statue of John Henry, to be displayed in a park in West Virginia.

Teh Petrucci's always welcome visitors, and quite recently several schools have planned tours of the Sculpture Center. In the near future a group of young artists will be staying at the center for a three day workshop and training seminar.

Business hours are from seven to five on weekdays and seven until noon on Saturday.

Barbering better

Garth M. Gordon of Gordy's Barber shop, 5854 Main, has been in the barbering business 13 years. He began in a barber shop in Flint, later becoming manager. Then, approximately six years ago, Garth bought out Don Hafner, in business at the same location since about 1960.

The building presently is owned by Kieft Engineering. (The company next door to Gordy's).

In 1969, Garth completely redecorated the interior of the shop. This included new paneling, wall paper, and flooring. The redecoration helped make better use of available space.

When asked about progress, Garth states, "Barbering in general is currently on an upswing, after a period in which it has been extremely low."

The barber shop is operated solely by Gordon. Most customers are local businessmen from the Clarkston-Waterford area.

Along with his barbering business, Garth is also a salesperson for Bob White Real Estate of 5856 Main Street. He has been a member of the Clarkston Jaycees for four years, has served as Internal Vice President and Ways and Means Vice President of the group. He believes very strongly in the growth and progress of Independence Township. Garth feels that Clarkston is a community that is growing bigger and stronger at an exceedingly fast rate.

Business hours at Gordy's Barber Shop are: Weekdays from nine to six except Wednesdays, when the barber shop is closed, and from nine to four on Saturdays.

Michigan safe pedestrian state

Michigan has been honored as one of the nation's safest areas for pedestrians with an Award for Excellence, the second highest honor for states in the 33rd annual National AAA Pedestrian Safety Inventory.

In recognition of Michigan's outstanding achievements in pedestrian safety programs in 1971, a special plaque has been presented to Governor Milliken by Richard R. Dann, Automobile Club of Michigan executive vice-president.

"Michigan received the Award for Excellence on the basis of its legislative and safety control programs plus a significant reduction in pedestrians injured in traffic the last two years," Dann stated.

"A 16 percent drop in pedestrian injury accidents was recorded in Michigan the past two years," Dann pointed out. "The number of pedestrians injured went from 7,589 in 1969 to 6,402 in 1971.

"This significant decline is a major reason for this state being among the nation's leaders in traffic safety in 1970-71."

Michigan's 1971 pedestrian injury rate per 100,000 population was 71 as compared with an average of 77 for all competing states. The pedestrian death rate was 4.5 compared to 4.6 nationally in the inventory.

Auto Club points out that for the first half of 1972, Michigan has 131 Pedestrian deaths, a 12 percent drop over the first six months of 1971.

Michigan achieved a score of 100 percent in pedestrian legislative phase of the inventory. National AAA commended the State Legislature for reviewing and updating pedestrian laws, permitting local communities to enact pedestrian safety control programs and enabling the governor to do whatever is necessary to secure full benefits under the National Highway Safety Program.

The State Office of Highway Planning and State Police also were cited by National AAA for their efforts in improving pedestrian safety in Michigan.

The Award for Excellence was the 12th honor, including five first-place awards, Michigan has received in the AAA program since 1949. Last year was the first time Michigan was entered in the safety program since 1963.

Donald W. Brown II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Brown of 6510 Northview Drive, Clarkston, is one of more than 1,300 freshmen cadets who have entered the U. S. Air Force Academy class of '76.

Cadet Brown qualified for final acceptance into the cadet wing by completing seven weeks of basic training that included physical conditioning military and survival instruction and field training at a simulated frontline combat base located near the academy.

He is a member of the largest freshman class in the history of the academy, now in its 18th year of operation with a current total enrollment of more than 4,000 cadets.

The cadet is enrolled in a four-year course of academic study and military training working toward a bachelor of science degree in one of 21 major fields of interest and a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

Cadet Brown is a 1971 graduate of Clarkston High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society. He lettered in football and baseball and was captain of the basketball team. The cadet attended the University of Maryland prior to entering the academy.

Airman Dale V. Eisenhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Eisenhardt of 5189 Stevens Road, Clarkston, has been assigned to Norton AFB, Calif., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman has been assigned for further training and duty in the transportation field.

Airman Eisenhardt attended Clarkston High School.

Airman Randy S. Compton, son of Mrs. William J. Fawcett Sr. of 6573 Maple Drive, Clarkston, Michigan, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Chanute for specialized training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field.

Airman Compton is a 1972 graduate of Clarkston High School. His wife, Rhonda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Skerratt of 2223 W. Garrison, Owosso, Michigan.

A MESSAGE FOR DADDIES

They'd rather have you around than your insurance.

Get yourself a good, thorough examination once a year. Once a year, let your doctor really look you over. It'll take a little time, and a little patience. And maybe he'll poke around a little more than you'd really like. And so he should.

The whole idea is to keep you healthy. If nothing's wrong (and more than likely, there isn't) hooray! Come back next year. But if anything's suspicious, then you've gained the most important thing of all: time.

We can save 1 out of 2 persons when cancer is caught in time, caught early. That's a good thing to know. All Daddies should know how to take care of themselves so that they can have the fun of taking care of their kids. Remember—it's what you don't know that can hurt you.

Liberace appearance

It was all sparkle

Liberace, colorful pianist who appeared last week at Pine Knob admits Presidential Candidate George McGovern does sound like him. The two voices have been compared recently by the media.

Other than that Liberace expresses fondness for Polish food, Kool cigarettes, gin and tonic and Pine Knob.

He told a reporter he spends $100,000 a year with a Beverly Hills dry cleaning establishment to keep his "suits of light" sparkling.

The maestro was accompanied on stage by two Elkhounds, one of which promptly proceeded to embarrass him.

Liza next

Liza Minnelli, who won an Academy Award nomination as Best Actress in 1970 for her role in "The Sterile Cuckoo," will appear at the Pine Knob Music Theatre, Tuesday thru Saturday, September 5 thru 9 at 8:30 P.M. Tickets at $7.00 and $5.00 for reserved seats and $3.00 for unreserved seats are available at the Fisher Theatre Box Office, Pine Knob Box Office, and all J. L. Hudson stores.

Appearing with Miss Minnelli will be singer/composer Mac Davis. Mac has written hits for every superstar in the business including "In The Ghetto" and "Don't Cry Daddy" for Elvis Presley; and O. C. Smith's hits of "Friend, Lover, Woman and Wife" and "Daddy's Little Man."

Items needed

Brandon Cooperative Nursery needs white elephant items for a fund raising garage sale September 15-16. Members will pick up any useable items available September 8 and 9. Phone numbers to call are 627-2647, 627-2531, 627-3890 and 627-3003. Proceeds will benefit the Brandon Cooperative Nursery.

The long trip home

by Jean Saile

It took us five days to do what it took the pioneers years to accomplish, and somehow as you follow the old Oregon Trail west those pioneers are very real.

Through the agricultural area of Iowa and Nebraska into the ranches of Wyoming and Utah, on through Idaho to break out of the mountains just above the beautiful Columbia River Gorge in Oregon - what a feat for those old timers!

The fertility of the Oregon river valley after the barren buttes and mountains was some contrast. You can imagine the rejoicing that occurred way back then.

That was the history lesson for this year's family vacation.

Sandwiched in between Archie and Richie Rich comic books, it's given the kids some idea of whence they spring.

There was a side trip involved - one to the Denver mint where a few allowances were imaginarily increased by the sight of all those coins. Jim and I had our vision, too, and it was just as we expected. A pile of a million dollars in gold is not that big. It never is in a family of eight, I think.

Out on the Pacific shore we tried our hands at clam digging, but the clams were smarter than we were. Ditto for the fish that Mike and Doug tried to catch. Fish markets at the Yaquima Bay dock supplied our needs and a sample of a fishing village life.

From Oregon we headed north along misty, rainy Pugot Sound to British Columbia and through the immensely impressive Canadian Rockies to home.

Home, of course, in that part is the farm - now more a ranch - where I grew up. Sitting around listening to the grass grow - gee, it's quiet out there - trips in a pickup to the pasture hills where it was possible to see for 20 miles in all directions - evening trips out through the old 76 Ranch to appraise the cattle and incidentally to see a ghostly herd of antelope in full flight just at dusk - a trip to the local museum where my parents' pioneer artifacts are on display - a chance to regain my horsewoman's seat - were all part of the menu.

Jim, who'd never been to Saskatchewan despite our 20-year marriage, loved it and has plans to go back and paint the prairies.

And then it was time to come home - the Canadian prairies, the wilds of Ontario where our only misfortune of the trip occurred. We lost a trailer wheel - one of the two that were turning - near Marathon and spent the better part of a foggy, rainy Saturday night looking for it in the undergrowth along the highway. It's no way to spend Saturday night.

But the trip was great - another entry in our memory bank.
