From the bizarre to the beautiful — monsters to princesses — Santa Claus to a red, white and blue voting machine, Andersonville Elementary students showed ingenuity in their Halloween parade. No attempt was made to judge the 600 costumes represented.

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

To those in my generation... don't you wish the toilet paper craze was popular in our youth? Wouldn't you love to hit someone in the back of the head with the harness section?

Or strew the lingerie pages from trees in the girls' yard?

-----o-----
This column is carried in both the Clarkston News and Oxford Leader. Oxford has just gone through "sewer construction." Clarkston and Independence Township are going through it.

I put "sewer construction" in quotes because there is no construction, just lingering destruction.

Example: Edison Drive in Oxford was torn up for a sewer line early in November, 1971. In early Nov., 1972 the job has not been completed. Three Vegas and 2 Toyotas failed to come out the end of that block long road in the last 12 months.

Example: After a similarly long time a residential street was about to be resurfaced. When queried about where the edges of the blacktop would be the county DPW inspector said, "Where they are supposed to be."

Asked where that was the inspector admitted he didn't know, but further complicated the matter by insisting, "They'll be where they are supposed to be."

We've had more completion date promises than a losing politician makes to unseat an incumbent.

There are few ways to deal with the situation besides patience, drink and tranquilizers.

-----o-----
Some nutty printer-turned-editor once said, "Editors and publishers should never get too far from the print shop."

Things got a little hectic the last couple weeks and I donned a printer's apron and turned to in the back shop.

In a couple hours there were about a half dozen people who came back to utter something like, "I see they've got the boss working."

If you don't get dirty you're not working, I guess.

But if that is true, why am I more tired when I go home now than when I wore that apron 10 to 24 hours a day?

-----o-----
I haven't had the task of buying groceries for deer camp in some time. However, this year I volunteered. The date at the top (I date everything) of my Deer Hunter's Menu is 1965.

Do we really eat 4 lbs. of liverwurst? I do recall that we used to buy peas with onions every year for one of the hunters. But no more. We learned he insisted we buy them as a joke and we fell for it.

The Poupon mustard, Old Style dressing, pumpernickle bread, salami, sardines and French onion dip are still a must.

Someone else has been scribbling on my list. What do they mean, a fifth of milk?

Republicans sweep township

There'll be a new township board in office as of November 21. Local Republicans walked away with the township election Tuesday by a margin of almost 2-1.

Voters, however, turned down the fire and road millages and voted overwhelmingly against the purchase of land outside the village for new township offices.

In county-wide race totals available Tuesday night, Independence Township voters consistently favored Republicans for the offices of prosecutor, sheriff, clerk, treasurer and drain commissioner.

Republican candidates also won in the three county commissioner races in the township.

The unofficial vote totals were as follows:

Supervisor: Robert Vandermark, 4,348; Gary Stonerock, 2,245.

Clerk: J. Edwin Glennie, 4,312; Karen Herron, 2,244.

Treasurer: Betty Hallman, 4,370; Donna Buhl, 2,119.

Trustee: Jerry Powell, 4,320; Chester Hensley, 2,188.

The new board will have only one Democrat, incumbent trustee Keith Humbert whose term does not expire for another two years.

Constables Bud Yoh and Donald Trarop received 3,899 and 2,531 votes respectively.

The fire millage was voted down 3,565 to 2,710; the road millage 4,607 to 1,628; and the land purchase 5,008 to 1,247.

Independence totals for the county races were as follows:

Prosecutor: Brooks Patterson, 3,870; Thomas Plunkett, 2,714.

Sheriff: Leo Hazen, 3,843; Johannes Spreen, 2,744.

Clerk: Lynn Allen, 3,992; Jean Saile, 2,461.

Treasurer: Hugh Dohany, 3,953; Jim Brennan, 2,257.

Drain Commissioner: George Kuhn, 3,908; William Richards, 2,453.

In the commissioner races in Independence Township Richard Wilcox outpolled Michael Pantel 2,878 to 1,247; James Dunleavy beat Alice Davies 335 to 145; and Eric Allen won over Niles Olson 815 to 689.

Bailey Lake likes early time

Daylight savings time is favored by Bailey Lake students 164-93. The question was one in a mock election held at the school last Friday in which 270 students participated.

President Nixon received 186 votes to 67 for Senator McGovern. Senator Griffin beat Attorney General Kelley 150 to 97 in the senatorial race.

Locally Robert Vandermark outpolled Gary Stonerock 136 to 104 for township supervisor; J. Edwin Glennie received 173 votes to Karen Herron's 70 for township clerk; and Leo Hazen received 158 votes to Johannes Spreen's 77 for sheriff.

Earlier the sixth grade heard Glennie and Stonerock discuss their offices.

Flyers score win

The Clarkston Flyers hockey team won its first home exhibition game at the Lakeland arena Sunday.

Al Frieberg and Jack Hagen each scored two goals in leading the Flyers to their 8-1 victory over Mount Clemens.

Other goals were scored by Mark Cushman, Mark Johnson, John Dickie and Kirk Hart.

The next game will be played at St. Clair Shores Nov. 11, when the Clarkston Flyers meet the Flint team.

Junior high schools schedule open house

Both Sashabaw and Clarkston junior high schools will hold open houses for parents next week — Sashabaw on Tuesday, Nov. 14 and Clarkston on Wednesday, Nov. 15.

At Sashabaw Tuesday, parents are to meet in the gymnasium for the 7:15 p.m. program. The band, under the direction of Douglas Doty, will entertain, and there will be many projects on display throughout the building.

The Clarkston open house will begin at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Parents are to meet in the gym. After they have visited classrooms and talked to faculty members, a program featuring chorus, classes and a sixth-grade class will be presented. Coffee and dessert will be prepared and served by the ninth grade home economics classes.

Smitty just wheels along

Richard Smith of Northview is the bump shop manager at Rademacher Chevrolet, and like most husbands he gets bawled out at home when he doesn't fix those things that get in disrepair.

Except for the wheelchair at home or the low dolly he uses at work, "Smitty" is just about like most other 47-year-old men.

He's got a wife, three daughters and a son, and Smitty credits them with having been the main factor in his decision to live a normal life some 15 years ago.

There had been an accident on the parallel bars during junior high school and a motorcycle accident later that "just sort of culminated" in him needing an operation to remove a tumor on the spine.

The operation left him without use of his legs. A former bump and body shop repairman, he tried telephone answering for a while, but as he recalls "that wasn't enough."

He went to work for the old A & B Auto Service on Elizabeth Lake Road and later spent six years at Pontiac Auto Body before joining the Rademacher firm seven years ago.

"I knew I could do it if somebody would give me a chance," Smitty recalls.

The dolly is a familiar sight at Rademacher's, and Smitty has kind words to say about Tom Rademacher who saw to it that ramps were installed at all bump shop inclines in the new facility.

When the job at hand calls for a little more elevation, Smitty switches to a chair.

Smitty tends to forget he's got a problem. Sometimes he leaves home and forgets his wheel chair. A finger control auto enables him to get around, and until last year he drove the riding lawn mower to cut the grass at the Smith home.

About the only time he runs into problems is when he's on a trip, and he feels gas station lavatories have kind of ignored the problem of a traveler in a wheel chair. On a trip to California six years ago, he found Texaco most accommodating, however, he reports.

Smitty spends a lot of time swimming in the family pool and on occasion he bowls. "I do about anything I want to," he says, and his firm grin leaves no room for doubt.

Success with a handicap depends a lot on what's in a person's mind, Smitty feels. "It's rough to take at first, but you've got to accept that you've got to live."

"There's something that anyone can do," says Smitty. He feels that some smaller employers are tending to hire handicapped men because they're more willing to work.

And as he says, he couldn't afford to be bitter with a family to support.

Two shows for Junior Miss

A two-show run is promised this year for the Clarkston Jaycees' 11th annual Junior Miss Pageant.

The first show, complete except for judging, will be 7:30 p.m. Friday, November 17. The judging and crowning will take place the following evening at 8 p.m. in the Clarkston High School Little Theatre.

The dual affair is being tried to eliminate the number of people having to be turned away at previous affairs, according to Lynn Smith, public relations chairman for the show.

Bill Halsey, general chairman for the show, says advance ticket sales and the generosity of local businessmen has assured compliance with this year's theme, "Up, up and away." He said the scholarship fund to be offered this year shows the potential of being the largest ever for a Clarkston Junior Miss.

Building permits

Independence Township issued 32 buildings permits for a total of $435,536 in construction during October.

Permits included 14 for residences, with an estimated value of $349,168.

Sewers headed north of I-75?

The possibility of extending Stage I of the Independence Township sanitary sewer north of I-75 into the Cranberry Lake area is under consideration at township and county levels.

The county health department has recommended that three acreage parcels amounting in total to about 545 acres be investigated for sewer service through an extension of the sewer line now under construction.

It has noted that one parcel, Deerwood, owned by Anson Priehs and John Bodette, has some unacceptable soil formations which would not allow for normal development with septic tanks and tile fields.

Other property involved is that of Jack Helveston who has 330 acres north of Cranberry Lake and Ed Whipple who has about 100 acres west of M-15.

The department also recommends that a central water system be planned for the area to become part of the township water system.

Supervisor Gary Stonerock noted a preliminary draft of a Sewer Disposal Extension Agreement has been prepared which he expects will soon be adopted by the township board.

He said he would recommend that, if Helveston is willing to accept the financial obligations, Stage 1 could be extended to north of Cranberry Lake. He said he will recommend against any immediate plans for Stage 2 of the sewer program for the area.

He asked Howard Kieft, engineer for Helveston, to meet with the township board and planning commission "so that the entire development and its impact to the community can be viewed and explained."

Kieft had said earlier the alternative to extension of the sewer plan would necessitate construction of a treatment plant.

Stonerock said he did not feel that would be the answer, because of the proximity of the sewer system.

Warrants authorized on property split

The Oakland County Prosecutor's Office confirms it has authorized the issuance of warrants for the misdemeanor violation of the Michigan Plat Act against Robert White, Marvel White, Dorothy Kirby and Lloyd Kirby.

The warrants contend the four violated the act in two sales of Deer Lake Knolls property in 1971 and 1966.

The matter has been referred to Judge Martin Boyle's Walled Lake District Court. Judge Boyle said Monday he had not yet issued the warrants, preferring to wait until he can call the principals together to discuss the matter.

An investigation into the division of property in the unplatted Deer Lake Knolls was authorized last summer by the Independence Township Board.

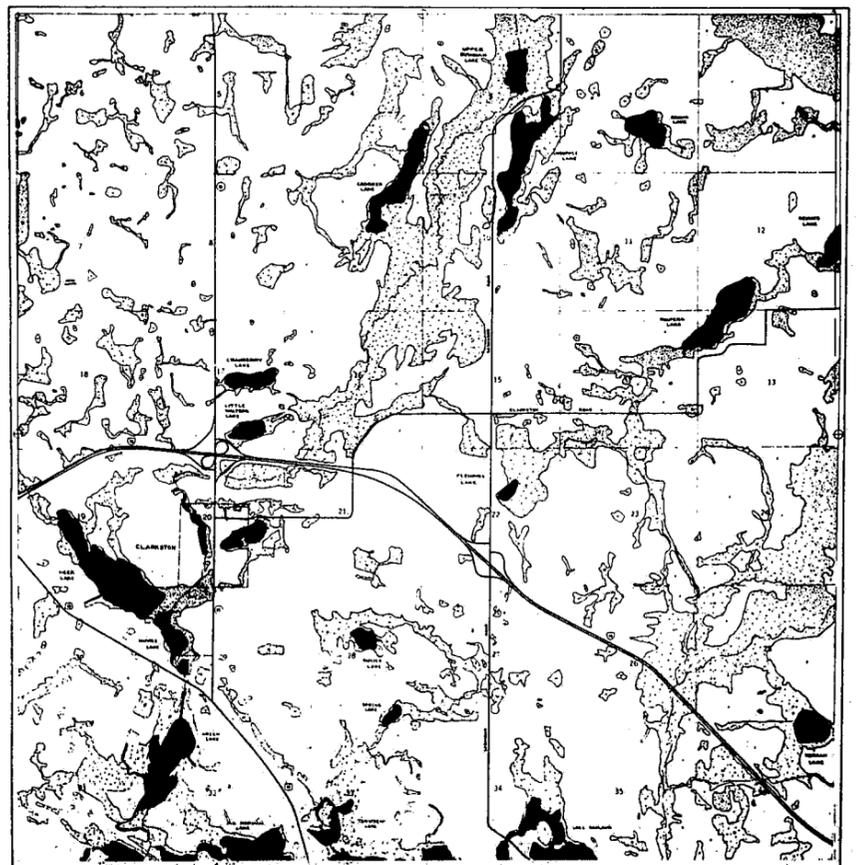

Assessor and supervisor candidate Robert Vandermark did the study of 81 deeds involved. The area is presently divided into 27 parcels with 13 homes now constructed there, township officials said.

Supervisor Gary Stonerock said the violation carries a $1,000 maximum fine and up to one year in jail penalty. He said he doubted any action could be taken where homes have been constructed, but he said conformance could be asked of the owners of the remaining property.

He said many of the lots as they now stand would require zoning board of appeals action to get a building permit for them.

Stonerock said he had also received three letters demanding retraction of statements he made in connection with the property in a story which appeared October 25 in The Oakland Press.

"The judge will make the ultimate decision," he said. "If the people cited are not guilty, I'll be glad to retract my statement."

Independence Township's proposed wetlands ordinance will be considered at a 7:30 p.m. public hearing Thursday, Nov. 16. Wetlands are the gray shaded areas on the map, while lakes are designated in black. The ordinance would give the township authority to monitor development affecting 10 or more contiguous wetland acres. The two major areas of concern are the Clinton River headwaters, running down the north-central portion of the township, and the Sashabaw Creek watershed in the lower right corner of the map.

Editorial

First things first

The election is over, and in putting away the campaign rhetoric, we must also put away any bitterness evolving from closely contested races.

The public has decided, and whether or not we personally agree with their choice, now is a time for cooperation, not the highlighting of differences.

We must get back to the issues as distinguished from personalities. We've got a job to do here in Independence Township, one that will have significant effect on our lives and those that follow us.

Next year when sewers are connected, we're due for the biggest onslaught of development yet seen. How we handle that, the collective wisdom we bring to the job, is the important thing.

Letters to the Editor

"Ban Burning"

Dear Editor:

With all the concern and interest that we have on ecology, there are people who still insist upon burning leaves and rubbish and leaving a smudge for several days, which makes it very difficult for people who have respiratory problems. The situation is so bad at times that it is even impossible to be outside.

We are certain that these people who are burning are not aware of the problems they are causing people who are allergic to smoke. We are definitely in favor of a ban against burning in the village.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Here come de pay raise

By Jim Fitzgerald

A judge in my hometown is miffed because he makes less money than most of the lawyers who must stand up when he enters the courtroom.

Asking county commissioners for a raise, the judge said: "It is . . . a problem of morale when a judge constantly has before him attorneys — who may even be his juniors in age and experience — who are earning a living standard for their families which far exceeds that of the judge."

Yeah.

It is easy to follow the judge's thinking. Before you can become a judge, you must be a lawyer. Judges get to pound their desk with a hammer and tell lawyers to sit down and shut up. This particular judge has even castigated lawyers for not sitting up straight in court. Obviously, the judge is boss and the lawyers are the bossed. So it can't be right for the boss to make less money than the people he is bossing around. Can it?

Actually, this is a problem that has bugged me for some time, although in a different context. I was thinking about sports.

You know. In basketball, Wilt Chamberlain and Abdul Kareem Jabbar makes 5 times as much money as their coaches who are supposed to tell them what to do. The same thing is true in other professional sports. It wouldn't even be surprising to learn that some college football players make more than their coaches.

So how does a coach order Wilt Chamberlain to practice his free shots for 3 hours every Saturday afternoon when the coach knows Wilt can afford to buy all Saturdays and have them converted into Wednesdays?

The answer is obvious. Every time Wilt has a disagreement with his coach, the coach is fired. And Wilt continues to miss most of his free shots.

It is an unhealthy situation. The only answer is a universal law requiring that all coaches make $10-per-week more than their highest-paid player.

Yeah. And here come de judge. And the lawyers who must genuflect before the judge in court, but then go home to $800,000 mansions while the judge lives in a trailer court. And the judge depends on lawyers to finance his reelection campaign by buying $50 tickets to "I-Love-the-Judge" banquets staged spontaneously by the judge's brother-in-law who is also a bailiff.

Another unhealthy situation, probably never be equaled again.

Someone asked me recently if I would ever consider running for office again, and I answered that I imagined political races were akin to having a baby.

By the time another one comes around, you've probably forgotten the worst of the first.

There has been, for example, my struggle over learning to be comfortable in public speaking. As a woman who's sat — maybe hidden — behind a typewriter all these years, it's a bit of a trauma to get out in front and start talking up a very confining subject — yourself.

I almost learned to handle it in the final week of the campaign.

And there's the matter of "image." As a newswoman I've never been known for my bandbox appearance. As a candidate, I felt it wise to try to give the people something good to look at.

There were times as I painstakingly prepared for public appearances that I felt kinship with toreadors. A little bullfighting music in the background would have been appropriate.

These, of course, are the sidelights.

The race itself was over issues and the matter of the personal responsibility of government. The latter is important to me. It has been important to me as a newswoman, and will continue to be so if that is the electorate's decision.

If Lynn has won, I wish him well. He really is a nice guy. If it turns out that I've won, I hope that those who voted for me will never have reason to be disappointed in their choice.

It's all over now

by Jean Saile

By the time this column reaches print, the election for County Clerk/Register of Deeds will have been won or lost.

It's been quite an experience being a candidate for countywide office. The greatest part of it is the people one meets, and the worst is the physical exhaustion inherent in any strong bid for election.

There have been nights I've been so tired my teeth chattered, and there have been days of such profound satisfaction that they'll

Clarkston Junior High aims at better readers

By Pat Braunagel

Youngsters who are reading below the level of their classmates are going to have trouble keeping up, not only in English, but in virtually every subject they tackle.

And, as they become more and more frustrated with the written word, they're going to lose interest in reading and the worlds it can open to them.

An attempt to reverse this cycle is being made for 26 pupils at Clarkston Junior High School, who are involved in an experimental project initiated there this year.

The youngsters are enrolled in two classes of 13 pupils each to receive individualized instruction in basic reading improvement. All seventh graders, they were identified by their elementary school teachers as students who could benefit from the course.

Working with the youngsters one hour a day are Mrs. Sharry Doty and Mrs. Virginia Shelton, two English teachers who have had inservice training at a reading workshop.

Gordon Keller, a reading specialist with Oakland Schools, has helped the women organize the class and select materials.

The materials are varied, most of them geared to allowing a pupil to work by himself or in small groups. Generally, he will team up with another student who shares a particular problem with him.

"First we determine a pupil's error patterns, and then we work on those individually," said Mrs. Shelton. "The pupil competes only with himself."

Goal of the course is "to develop the necessary techniques and skills in reading and also a permanent interest in reading."

"If a child learns to read, he has motivation," Mrs. Doty said. "Kids don't like to read if they can't read well."

Youngsters selected for the course, which replaces English, were reading at the second-through-fourth grade levels.

No specific achievement goal has been set for them — they are simply to improve at their own rates.

Areas covered in the course are word recognition; language skills, comprehension, paragraph meaning and visual tracking, or the ability to recognize letters of the alphabet.

If the program meets with success this year, the teachers hope it will be expanded to the eighth grade level next year and, later, to the ninth grade.

Volunteers train at IC

A second session of volunteer training for people who would like to work at independence center will begin November 14.

The classes will be conducted by Dr. Aubrey Crawford of North Oakland Community Mental Health Center. Thirty hours of instruction will be offered in five weeks to prepare volunteers to answer emergency phone calls.

Alice Salzano, independence center coordinator, has further information. You may reach her at 673-2244.

Cub Scouts plan tours of two GM facilities

Tours of two General Motors plants and the Pinewood Derby will replace this month's meeting of Cub Scout Pack 49.

The scouts will tour Pontiac Motor Division Nov. 10 and, accompanied by their families, Fisher Body Division Nov. 15.

For the later outing, the boys and their families are to meet at the Independence Township Hall at 7 p.m. The scouts and leaders are to wear full uniforms.

Between these two events, on Sunday, Nov. 12, the boys will attend the Pinewood Derby in the township hall. The 2 p.m. program will also include a cake raffle.

Mrs. Virginia Shelton (seated), and Mrs. Sharry Doty use a variety of materials to improve the reading skills of the seventh graders they teach at Clarkston Junior High School. Here they examine the tachistoscope, dubbed the "T machine," which encourages rapid word recognition by flashing words at one-tenth of a second.

Bakers live in Davisburg

Glenda Dee Sommers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sommers of 10730 Clark Road, Davisburg, became the bride of Charles Edwin Baker III October 7 at Davisburg First Baptist Church.

They are now making their home in Davisburg.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker Jr. of 9479 Whipple Shore Drive.

Rev. Robert Hazen performed the traditional candlelight ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride chose a full length gown of chantilly lace with a scalloped neckline and lantern sleeves. Her fitted bodice topped a many layered lace skirt, and the fingertip veil was held in place by a matching headpiece. She carried white roses and carnations.

Linda Sanshie of Davisburg, maid of honor, and Donna Sommers, the bride's cousin, Sue Trim and Lynn Sommers, the bride's sister, wore princess style gowns of lime green, yellow, apple green and orange. Each featured lantern sleeves and a stand up collar.

Albert Gedit Jr. was best man. James Baker, brother of the groom, and Bruce and Mark Sommers, brothers of the bride, seated the guests.

A buffet dinner was served following the ceremony in the church hall, and the guests of honor departed for a trip to Disney World in Florida.

Miss Sommers was guest of honor at five showers preceding her marriage. Hostesses were Mrs. Leo Pence, the bridegroom's aunt, Linda Sanshie and Mrs. Lynfod Allen, her cousin, Mrs. Duane Davison, the women of Davisburg Baptist Church and her aunt, Mrs. Clayton Ross.

Nursery accepts '73 enrollments

As of November 13, the Clarkston Co-op Nursery School which meets at Clarkston United Methodist Church will be accepting registrations for the fall of 1973.

Parents having a child who will be 3 or 4 before December 1, 1973, may enroll him or her by calling Mrs. Mary Ann Heil, 625-3430. She will be able to answer any questions about the nursery.

The nursery school's Fall Conference Workshop, open to the public, will be Saturday, November 11 at the University Drive Church of Christ, Pontiac Township.

Anyone not pre-registered should plan to be present by 8:45 a.m. Advance registrations are being accepted by Mrs. Stephen Stamas at 625-3835. Cost for the two workshops plus coffee and donuts is $1.75 for members and $2 for non-members.

The engagement of Sharyn M. Cook to Timothy F. McDonnell has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wiegand of 3630 Percyking, Waterford. Timothy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McDonnell of 5390 Cecilia Ann. A June 16 wedding is planned.

Beverley Morse a bride

Beverley Ann Morse became the bride of David Alan Merz in a double ring ceremony November 4 at Clarkston United Methodist Church. Rev. Jon Clapp officiated.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morse of 6808 Snow Apple, chose an empire waisted gown of lace and crepe. Her veil was capped with a petaled arrangement of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, yellow roses and star flowers.

Serving as maid of honor was Carol Galbraith of Clarkston who wore a long royal blue gown. Jane Morse, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid with a similar gown of a lighter shade of blue. Their flowers were blue tipped carnations.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Merz of 3845 Dorothy Lane, Waterford, was attended by William Jackson of Waterford. Fred Merz, his brother, was groomsman and Robert Morse Jr. and Brian Merz, brothers of the bride and groom, seated guests.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the ceremony. Following a trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside in Waterford.

The Don Beaches have returned to their home on Hidden Lane after spending two weeks touring Florida. A stop at Busch Gardens, near Tampa, was most interesting; as was the drive over the Sunshine Skyway toll bridge. A brief visit with Don's sister located in Bradenton was followed by the long journey South to Key West.

En route, a unique ride on an air boat topped off their trip through the famous Everglades via the Tamiami Trail. Coming home, the Beaches found the Great Smoky Mountains to be at the height of color, and what better place to view the beauty than Gatlinburg, Tennessee. A lovely trip — and many miles were covered in a relatively short time.

Mrs. Frank Muscat on Robertson Court recently underwent back surgery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. I am sure she would enjoy hearing from friends and neighbors during her recovery stay — room 443-3.

The thought occurred to me that perhaps Mary was trying to keep up with the Joneses, Bob Jones that is. He has received so many cards, letters and tidbits during his recovery period (and R&R is still in progress) it may have sounded like a good deal! So, until next week, keep up with your correspondence friends and neighbors.

Jack and Char Frost on Cramlane report their son, Jack, an Ensign in the U.S. Navy, has completed training in the Nuclear Power School and has been assigned to the nuclear submarine U.S.S. Sea Devil. Dick and his wife Jan (Hanson) reside at 6954 Bonnot Drive, Norfolk, Virginia 23513.

Pat and Jean Thompson on Perry Lake Road had a house guest for several days from Dallas, Texas. Don Cameron, a former Clarkston resident, came to Michigan on a business trip for Pontiac Motor Division. While here, Don, the Thompsons and the Jerry Wagnons went to the JV football game, and topped that by viewing the Dallas-Detroit football game on television. Don comes to Michigan infrequently on business and always enjoys revisiting Clarkston.

"Wish I could vote"

by Betty Hecker

LaVerne and Ray Beaulieu and daughters, Shelley, Brenda and Tracy, 11201 Andersonville Road, Davisburg, have returned from a weekend trip to Toronto, Canada. They visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mercier, and Ray's mother, Mrs. Beaulieu. And it rained in Toronto all day Saturday, just like here.

LaVerne and Ray are attending citizenship classes and hope that the appointment for their citizenship tests will be soon. Laverne thinks it will be about Christmastime. Although they can't vote yet, LaVerne worked at the campaign office of Bruno Jandasek, Lake Orion Commissioner candidate, answering telephones, telephoning voters, and on election day she was a volunteer driver — chauffeuring people to the polls to vote if they had no transportation. And she said, "Wish I could vote."

Cub Scout Pack 133 went on a hayride. The annual family hayride was more successful this year than last, with more families than space on the two haywagons.

Thanks to Jack Parr, 7595 Clement Road, and Pace Halsey, 9900 Andersonville Road, for furnishing the tractors and wagons. And thanks to Cubmaster Glenn Guilds, 11832 Big Lake Road, for the doughnuts and hot chocolate that was enjoyed at the midway stop, Davisburg Pond Park. Thanks to Al Pope, 9045 Bridge Lake Road, for the roaring, blazing fire that took the chill out of the air. The boys and their families sang songs, told jokes and had good fun.

For a month before Halloween, Davisburg Jaycees were busy selling pumpkins — in fact, they sold over 30 tons of pumpkins and raised over $1,000. They also planned and held the annual Jaycee Halloween Party in the Springfield Township Hall. There was 80 gallons of cider and 120 dozen doughnuts, free, given away to 400-500 people who came to watch or to participate in the costume contests. Who was the ugliest? the prettiest? or the most original? The winners received cash prizes of $2 each.

Chuck Underwood, chairman of this year's Jaycee Halloween Party, said that he "hoped everyone had a good time. This party is one of the ways the Jaycees help in our community, giving children some place to go and offering them something safe to do on Halloween."

Kristy and Lee Rice, 10975

Andersonville Road, Davisburg, hosted a birthday dinner party for Kristy's father, Ted Pearson, Jr. Ted's family came from all over Saturday, to celebrate his birthday. His wife, Ruth, and Mrs. Alleman came from Oxford, son Bill and daughter-in-law Maryanne came from Flint, son Ted and daughter Ellen came from Southfield and Mrs. Porritt from Clarkston. Ted's other son, David, was away at Central Michigan University.

Historic preservation expert to speak

The chairman of the state's Historic Preservation Task Force will speak at the Nov. 15 meeting of the Clarkston Community Historical Society.

James Bryant will address the group at 7:30 p.m. at the Independence Township Hall.

Historic preservation coordinator for the Department of Natural Resources, Bryant has the responsibility of preparing a statewide historic preservation plan.

The task force he heads includes representatives from most state departments and the executive office.

Bryant also was recently appointed to a special six-member committee of state liaison officers for historic preservation to evaluate the historic preservation program of the National Park Service. With a background in urban planning, Bryant has had a long interest in historic preservation. He is convinced it has a vast potential for creating pride and enthusiasm in community development and can make a significant contribution to an improvement in our living environment. Bryant lives on a centennial farm near Marshall which has been in his family since 1844.

Spiritual Message

And They Worshiped Him
Mr. Keith Huttenlocker in his book "Alive" comes forward with an amazingly clear look at true worship. He says, "Worship entails a search. The idea that 'He's only a prayer away' has merit, but — it can lead to an overly simplistic view of worship. Worship does not begin until we are in His presence. If God is not a party to the scene, if He is not in the midst, the drama of worship cannot be enacted, no matter how elaborate the service. "When word came to the Wise Men that the Christ Child had been born, do you suppose they said among themselves, 'Wonderful! Let's have a worship service?' Suppose they had then agreed that Wise Man A would lead the singing, Wise Man B would pray, and Wise Man C would bring a sermon. What's wrong with this scene? No Christ Child! And so it is recorded that the Wise Men came 'to Bethlehem, saying, Where is he...? For we are come to worship him.'"

Worship must be Christ-centered. More is required than trained workers and an order of worship. Most important is the way each person's thoughts are structured. IT REQUIRES INDIVIDUAL EFFORT.

Worship entails synchronization. Hopefully God and man converge, join strides and walk together as two agreed. The goal of worship is to achieve total harmony with God. When one steps to the heart-rhythm of the Author of the universe, he finds an indescribable serenity of soul. Life loses tension and strife. Turbulence is somehow transcended."

Worship entails commitment and giving to the One we walk with. It involves a coming together of people for the common purpose of worship. The author of Hebrews puts it this way: "Let us not neglect our church meetings — especially now that the day of His coming back again is drawing near."

To live in Davisburg

Karl William Fredericks of 6504 Clarkston Road was wed to Donna Marie Fillman of Newberry, October 29 at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Newberry. They will make their home at 17123 Detroit, Davisburg.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Phyllis Fillman and Edward Fillman of Newberry, chose a white floor length gown of chiffon featuring a mandarin neckline and long sleeves. Her floor length train was held by a Juliet headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and orange roses and white carnations.

Dianne Fillman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and another sister, Debbie, served as bridesmaid. They wore floor length gowns of orange chiffon fashioned with softly gathered skirts, high necklines and long puffed sleeves trimmed with white lace. They carried colonial bouquets of bronze and yellow pom pom chrysanthemums.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everette Fredericks of Clarkston, was attended by Michael Church of Holly as best man. Michael Henry of Clarkston was groomsman and Gary Fahler of Newberry and Gus Fillman of Engadine seated guests.

Vicky and Kathryn Macki were organist and soloist.

Apple and mint green floor length gowns were chosen by the mothers of the bride and groom. Their corsages were of yellow roses.

A reception followed the afternoon ceremony at Garfield Township Hall in Engadine.

The independent view

by Jean Saile

Pat Braunagel was Pat McCarty when I first met her some years ago in the cityroom of the old Pontiac Press. She was the school reporter and a good one, and then she married Don Braunagel who at that time was a member of the copy desk. Pat dropped out of the newspaper business and Don went on to be entertainment editor of the Oakland Press. I'm glad I was able to lure her back into the business during these hectic campaign weeks. Newspapering needs good people like Pat.

Thought for the day: The trouble with people who circulate scurrilous election material is that they expect others to do their dirty work for them, and when it doesn't work out that way they get petulant.

We've had an unsigned letter from a disgruntled parent of a Sashabaw Junior High School football player. The parent says, with some justification, that we've had no coverage of Sashabaw Junior High sports.

What the parent doesn't know is the unnumberable phone calls we've made to the school asking them to find someone who will cover Sashabaw sports for us. Clarkston Junior High has automatically provided us a correspondent, even before we got around to asking. We do believe, however, that we've finally latched onto someone who will help us, and we trust there will be pictures of Wednesday night's game in next week's paper.

Weekly papers are for the most part one-man operations as far as editorial content is concerned. In this case it's a one-woman operation, and the woman doesn't know a great deal about sports. We've tried to compensate by finding people who really do know about sports to do our reporting for us, and with the exception of the Sashabaw case, we feel we've been very fortunate.

I can't recall and neither can Jim Sherman, the publisher of this paper, where either one of us have foolishly stated that "for two cents we'd shutup."

Nevertheless some kindhearted soul has begun sending Jim and me two pennies taped to a file card. A new one comes each day, and there are no identifying marks to indicate where the money might be coming from or who might be sending it.

We've decided, however, we'll use it to purchase a POW/MIA bracelet which the Clarkston Jaycettes offer at the rate of $2.50 for a stainless steel model and $3 for a copper model.

As of Monday we had 16 cents. At the rate of return we should have the bracelet by February, unless someone else wants to get into the act.

The modern pentathlon is an event that was begun at the Olympic games in 1912. It consists of five events: There is a 5000 meter cross country race, horses being drawn by lot. Then there is a 4000 meter run, a 300 meter swim, foil fencing, pistol shooting. In the pistol shoot, the twenty shots allotted to each competitor are shot at a disappearing silhouette at a twenty-five meter distance. The winner of the pentathlon has to be talented in many diverse ways.

Toward recovery

by Pat Braunagel

Mental illness does not, thank God, mean commitment to an asylum for the rest of your life.

Nor is it the dramatic cavorting too often associated with quickie television shows — in which the wild-eyed patient is miraculously cured when he remembers, under the guidance of the wise psychiatrist, that his mother once locked him in a closet.

Mental illness for many involves a tormenting struggle with the trivialities of life — the sheer pain of being forced to face another day of obstacles made terrifying by emotions which no longer respond to the "normal" controls.

Mental or nervous patients may panic at the thought of driving to the post office, become frightened when their spouse leaves the room, freeze into a crisis of indecision over the choice of a breakfast cereal or sink into a deep depression at the prospect of doing the dishes, mowing the lawn, etc., etc.

Annoyances soon forgotten by others become catastrophies.

"What did he mean?"

"What should I do?"

"Must I?"

"Can I?"

One avenue of help for many nervous and former mental patients is Recovery, Inc. It does not supplant psychiatric care, diagnose nor give advice.

It offers hope to those who felt they were alone in their struggle, and it offers a method of coping with that struggle.

The self-help method, developed by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, is a sharing of trivial experiences with others and "spotting," or identifying, the significant factors in those experiences.

Recovery works toward dispelling the fear of danger attached to nervous symptoms. It encourages its members to use muscles that can function but care not to.

Founded in 1937, the organization was originally designed to provide after-care for ex-patients at the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, of which Dr. Low was assistant director.

No longer connected with the medical school, Recovery has expanded to include psychoneurotic patients, whose complaints are similar to those of the returned mental patient.

Recovery, now an international organization, came to Michigan relatively early in its history. There now are groups throughout the state, with several operating in Oakland County. One meets in Lake Orion, and there are two in Pontiac.

Led by lay persons who are themselves nervous persons or patients, Recovery meetings last about two and a half hours. There are no fees, although a free-will collection is taken.

The typical Recovery group has been about 15 members. Some have been hospitalized. Some are, or have been, under the care of a psychiatrist. Others are simply nervous persons.

At the meetings, they read from Dr. Low's book "Mental Health Through Will-Training," give examples of how they've used Recovery techniques and then have a period of socializing.

Members use the particular terminology developed by Dr. Low to keep examples and the comments made about them as objective as possible.

They are encouraged to "endorse" themselves for every effort they make, whether or not it results in a completed act. They learn to spot fearful (inward-aimed) temper and angry (aggressive) temper before such reactions develop into a vicious cycle.

Ways of dealing with a panic, should it strike, are described by Recovery participants.

They caution each other against using such words as "unbearable," "intolerable" and "uncontrollable" which serve only to reinforce the patients' feeling of despair.

Recovery members aim at self-leadership by training their wills to accept or reject thoughts and impulses.

They strive to replace insecure thoughts with those of security.

And one secure thought for many is that there's a Recovery group close at hand.

Further information on Recovery can be obtained by calling Mrs. Grace Spry in Lake Orion, 693-8556, or writing Detroit Recovery, Inc., P.O. Box 6511, Detroit, 48240.

Lead paints are generally unsafe, but they are good for painting copper. Zinc paints cause a chemical reaction which is destructive to copper; lead paints do not. Paint should be applied evenly but in very thin coats. Be sure that one coat is dry before applying another. Before beginning the job, however, be sure that dirt and soil should be removed: use plenty of steel wool, and do a very thorough job. It's the only way to keep the paint looking nice.

BOB'S HARDWARE, 60 S. Main St., 625-5020 carries the quality products you'll need for the job. We feature the area's most complete line of Sherwin Williams paint as well as a wide variety of wood finishes and antiquing supplies, and will help you select the right paint for the right surface. Hours: 8-6, Mon.-Sat.

HELPFUL HINT:

Vying for the vote of Jeanine Joldersma at Andersonville Elementary School are Steve Lyons (left), surrogate McGovern and Craig Giroux, the school's "Nixon." The approximately 290 fourth, fifth and sixth graders at the school balloted just like their elders Tuesday, after an intensive four-week campaign.

Bruce Rogers and his pupils collected about 130 bumper stickers and signs, along with newspaper articles and other election materials, in preparation for their mock election at Clarkston Elementary School.

JV loses first game

By Roger Zander

It was Halloween night when Clarkston played Milford in a JV football contest. However, the Milford Redskins brought all tricks and no treats when they rolled into town last Tuesday. The Redskins' number one trick came in the form of a little guy named Birchard.

This speed demon scored four touchdowns against the Wolves and led Milford to a 32 to 16 victory. Birchard scored on runs of 60 and 20 yards in the

New basketball league forming

A new men's basketball league being organized by the Independence Township Recreation Department has room for four more teams, according to Tim Doyle, recreation director.

He said play will begin in January and entry fees of $40 per team will be accepted in advance on a first come, first serve basis. He added that preference would be given to township teams. Fees may be paid at the recreation department.

A league meeting will be called later this month, Doyle said. He said written notification would be sent to league teams.

first quarter and Shwartz added six more points in the second quarter to make the halftime score 20 to 0.

Less than one minute had elapsed in the third quarter when Steve Klein broke away on a 60 yard run for the Wolves' first touchdown. Exactly one minute later, with Clarkston on Milford's 40 yard line, Porritt threw to Mark Wagnon for the Wolves' second and last score of the night.

Birchard wrapped the game up with two more touchdowns in the third quarter.

The only action in the fourth quarter was when Mike Hooper blocked a Milford punt and Clarkston had first down on the Redskins' 47. The Wolves failed to capitalize on this when on 4th down and 24 to go they had to give up the ball.

This was the first loss of the season for the JV Wolves and their record is now 6-1.

Breckenridge, Noonan high point scorers

Clarkston Junior High's seventh and eighth grade football season came to a close on October 28. Sixty-three eighth graders and 30 seventh graders finished the season.

Winner of the 8th grade championship was the team coached by John Matheus. His team finished with a 3-2-3 record. Runner-up was Cliff Irwin's team with a 4-3-1 record. Third place was Dennis Bronson's team with a record of 1-4-2.

In the 8th grade championship game, Matheus' team beat Irwin's team in a sudden death by a score of 6-0.

Individual high scorers in the eighth grade were:

- Jeff Breckenridge, 20 points
- Rich Armstrong, 20 points
- Duane Davidson, 12 points
- Ken Ballard, 12 points
- David Millmine, 12 points
- Kevin Dutcher, 6 points
- John Newman, 6 points
- Keith Bradley, 6 points
- Mike Robinson, 6 points

The seventh grade intramural flag football season ended on October 24. This year the number of students in the program limited the league to three teams. Gerald Granlund was in charge of the program which ran two nights per week.

This year's seventh grade championship team lost one game during the season and was undefeated in the double elimination tournament. Captain of the championship team was Tim Birtsas. The leading scorers in the seventh grade were Jay Noonan with 29 points and Tim Birtsas who scored 19 points.

CJH falls to Milford, Pierce

"Happy Ad"

October 26, Clarkston Junior High's Wolverines lost to Milford, 34-0. Milford held the Wolverines to 180 total yards while Clarkston was unable to hold Milford's strong first half attack. In the second half Clarkston's defense held, but their offense was unable to score.

November 1, Clarkston Junior High traveled to Pierce after their fourth victory of the year. The Wolverines started strong, jumping out to 19-0 first quarter lead. From that point on the game was all Pierce as Clarkston could not move the ball continuously and Pierce rolled for 36 points. The final score was Pierce 36, Clarkston 19.

Larry Bennett scored all three Wolverine touchdowns in the first quarter. Mike Fahrner kicked an extra point to finish out the scoring for Clarkston.

CJHS now stands 3-4 on the season. The final game of the season will be played this Wednesday night, November 8, against district rival Sashabaw.

Sashabaw will be going after their first win of the season while the Wolverines will attempt to even their win-loss record. In their first meeting of this year, the Wolverines came out the victors by a score of 26-12.

Come out to see the last game of the 1972 season for both schools. The game is scheduled for 7:00 at the High School field.

We won't take a back seat to anybody.

Not when it comes to selling cars. Or trucks.
Or recreational vehicles.

Let's start right off with car prices.

Lots of "big city" dealers make claims about lower prices and higher trade-ins. There's no bigger myth than the volume dealer saying he deals lower because he sells more cars.

Know why?

Every Chevrolet dealer pays the same prices for Chevy cars and trucks. He can sell a thousand of 'em a day but he still has to make a profit. And that profit margin, believe you us, is just the same for the big guy as it is the smaller dealer. So watch it when you get the low, low price pitch.

Something else you ought to know. We're in the front seat when it comes to higher re-sale values. It's a matter of record we do better in this department up here in Northern Oakland County than in Metro Detroit.
People just keep their cars in better shape around here.
Score a big one for you.

Another thing. We're closer to you for service and warranty needs. No 80-mile round trips. Just down the street a piece where we're committed to make your service visit easier, friendlier, and more satisfactory.

See what we mean about not taking a back seat to anybody?

Wolves boost Adams' ego

By Craig Moore

Clarkston's Varsity Wolves generously boosted the Rochester Adams Highlanders' ego in breaking Adams' 20-game losing streak. Adams edged the Wolves, 14-12 last Friday.

The first quarter ended scoreless, but in the second quarter, the Highlanders got on the scoreboard for the first time in their last four games. Mike Dillon did the scoring on a one-yard plunge. The Adams kick failed and the Highlanders led 6-0.

Clarkston took the ball on its 40 yard line. The 60-yard drive to the end zone was climaxed when Mark Blumeneau took the ball in from one yard out to tie the score 6-6 at the half's end.

Adams took hold of the game in the third quarter. Clarkston fumbled on the Adams 30 yard line where the Highlanders recovered the ball. Adams moved the ball 70 yards to score, with Mike Springer gaining the last yard for the touchdown.

Highlander Rick Brooks scored what proved to be the game-deciding points when he grabbed the ball, completing a successful conversion pass for two points.

Clarkston got moving again in the final period but all to no avail.

Clarkston advanced the ball 65 yards in seven plays. Mark Blumeneau dashed 20 to the goal line for the score. The Wolves could tie the game with a successful two-point conversion, but it wasn't to be as quarterback Greg Swanson was tackled in his attempt to pass for the conversion.

The Wolves had several opportunities to score in the game, but somehow couldn't keep control of the ball in the constant drizzling rain.

Clarkston gained 169 yards rushing and 99 passing and Adams gained only 138 on the ground and 38 yards in the air. Clarkston lost the game, though, in being intercepted once and losing three of the five Clarkston fumbles at key moments.

Clarkston holds a 3-5 record.

Friday, November 11, the Clarkston Wolves will host Avondale for the final game of the season. Game time is 8 p.m.

Four touchdowns make flagger star

Speedy Kim Allen stole the show in Saturday morning flag football by scoring four touchdowns and racking up 124 yards in eight carries.

Kim scored once in each quarter, going 12, 14, 30 and 30 yards for 24 points. He led the Richardson Lions to a 12-2 victory over the Taylor Cowboys and a 12-6 victory over the Mauti Jets.

Gary Anderson ran a kickoff back 34 yards for the Jets' only score. Kim also picked off two passes on defense.

The Brittan Chiefs scored 20 points to roll over the Ruelle Tigers 20-7. Tony Smith went 32 yards on a quarterback keeper and scored the extra point. Adam Kline skirted the end for 15 yards and six points. Steve Davidson scored on a halfback sweep, good for 12 yards.

Ray Kubani rescued himself on a quarterback rollout and raced untouched for 32 yards for his team's only touchdown.

In Midget League play, all the excitement was saved for the last play of the game. After playing scoreless ball for three straight halves, Rusty Shedd ran 42 yards straight up the middle for his team's six points and victory. Rusty only had one chance to carry the ball, and he made it good for his third TD in three games.

Next Saturday, weather permitting, will be the last week for flag football.

Speech and Hearing Problems

Too many parents blame a child's speech or hearing problems on stubbornness or stupidity, and believe he will "grow out of it." Instead, parents should seek professional help while the disorder can be most easily corrected.

"We correct crooked teeth, lazy eyes, even flat feet, but we too often let a serious condition go untreated because it doesn't show," says Dr. Thomas S. Singer, of San Francisco. "This is a tragedy, because the sooner communication handicaps are detected, the better the chances for correction."

Part of the problem may be that the child is not completely deaf, but is hard-of-hearing. Dr. M. M. Paparella, of the University of Minnesota, says such youngsters face serious emotional and social problems.

"Profoundly deaf children are discovered when they don't learn to talk (usually early in life) but the child who just doesn't hear well is often regarded as 'slow' or even mentally retarded," he said.

In some cases, hard-of-hearing children have stayed for years in institutions for the retarded, before it was discovered what was really the matter. The resulting emotional handicap could be harder to treat than the lack of hearing.

The child himself may not realize he is partly deaf. He thinks the way he hears is the way everybody hears, and accepts society's judgment that he isn't too smart.

Service is offered speedily and efficiently from the new Service Department at Rademacher's Chevrolet.

A fast-service lane, doors at either end, has been designed into the area to allow minor repairs in a minimum of time.

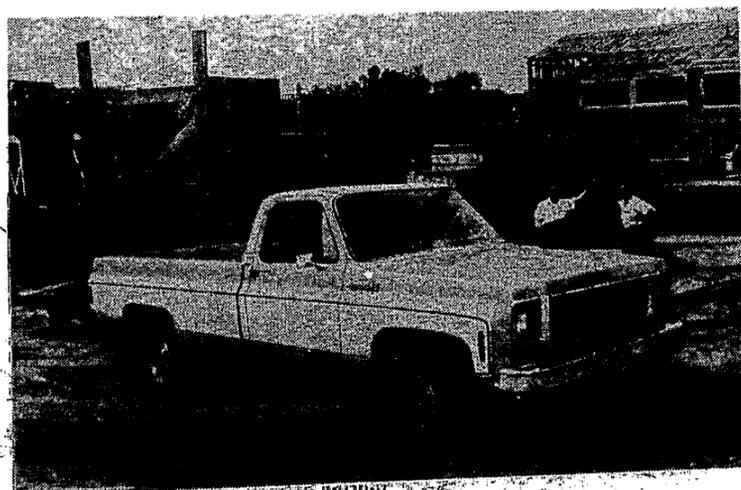

Bright red phones at all service stalls connect the mechanics with the parts department. A mechanic can place his order by phone and by the time he appears at the counter to pick up the needed part, it is ready and waiting.

Safety precautions play a big part in the building design. Giant fans suck out carbon monoxide and the whole atmosphere is changed once every 2 minutes.
