Clements Road.

The property is posted ---- No hunting or trespassing the sign says, but it doesn't deter the trash dumpers. A crackdown on litter, undertaken by the township building department, is now under way. Pictures on page 24 show it's needed.

By Jim Sherman

You all know who David Brinkley is... tv commentator, newsman, etc.

Not too long ago the University of Southern California gave him an award for journalistic excellence.

On this occasion he made these short, sharp remarks:

"To politicians on an ego trip, which is most of them most of the time, any piece of journalism not filled with overwhelming and obsequious flattery is biased on its face.

"What Gertrude Stein said of writers applies with equal accuracy to politicians. She said writers want three things: praise, praise and praise.

"If I went on the air tomorrow night and said Spiro Agnew was the greatest American statesman since Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Adams and Hamilton... the audience might think I was biased. But he wouldn't.

"When politicians and the press are quarreling with each other, that is their natural state. That is what they ought to do. And it is in the best interest of the American people.

"If over the last generation, the politicians and the bureaucrats in Washington have made such a mess of things with the press keeping some kind of watch over them, that would they have done with nobody watching?

"And without the press, there is nobody. Nobody to watch over them. Nobody at all...

"There are numerous countries in the world where politicians have seized absolute power and muzzled the press. There is no country in the world where the press has seized absolute power and muzzled the politicians.

"So, if people are concerned about danger to their rights and freedoms, they should be aware of where the danger comes from. And it does not come from the press."

IT IS NOT UNCOMMON to have an elected official threaten me or editors working for me with comments like, "If you don't report our meetings more accurately we're going to start going into executive sessions."

"Executive session" translated to layman's terms is "secret meetings." Meetings minus the press. No formal action can be taken in the sessions, but all the discussion goes on behind closed doors.

It doesn't take the Lansing or Washington level to have politicians think of muzzling the press.

One thing I wonder about when people say our reporters get things all loused up is... When we write notes all evening of what transpires then consult them when we write the story how do we get things so wrong... when on the other hand the person who relies on memory for what went on has all the facts just right?

Like David Brinkley said, "When politicians and the press are quarreling with each other, that is their natural state."

Good night, David.

McCall named new police chief

Chief Jack McCall

Clarkston has a new police chief with the resignation of John Walts effective January 23. The council has affirmed the appointment of Jack McCall, a sergeant with the force the past eight years, by Police Commissioner Don Auten.

Walts submitted his resignation to the council Tuesday night. While no reason was stated in the letter, Auten explained that Walts' job with the Franklin Village Police Department was taking too much time for him to continue as chief here, Auten added however that Walts had agreed to continue serving as a patrolman if needed.

McCall, a patrolman with the Bloomfield Township Police Department, was named their outstanding officer of the year in 1971. As chief of the part time Clarkston department, he will get an extra $25 a month in addition to the hourly salary he now draws.

Business area study contemplated

A possible study of the village commercial area will be considered when Clarkston council draws its 1973 budget.

Mrs. Ruth Basinger, a member of the planning committee, said such a study has been under consideration, but noted it would cost more than the present planning budget allows.

Village officials are also planning to state their opposition to development of the north end of Deer Lake. A 1470 unit apartment-condominium-single family development with commercial services has been proposed for the area.

Objection was expressed to the additional traffic village streets such as Miller, Washington and Holcomb would have to absorb. The proposed development is adjacent to the village.

A new village zoning ordinance is under study by the planning committee. The committee is within two weeks of winding up its study of the ordinance, but no action is expected until March, council members said.

Bottles center location studied

Township Building Inspector Ken Delbridge and Bottles for Building Chairman Carolyn Place are proceeding with caution in the erection of a new village center for bottle collection.

The village council agreed some time ago to fund the cost of materials for a new 16 by 16 foot center, labor to be donated, and Monday night members were asked for an appeals board hearing on locating the building at the rear of the township hall.

While speed is necessary to end present littering problems about the temporary shelter at the township hall site, the new building could occupy that location only temporarily, Mrs. Place said.

Delbridge asked the council to consider village-owned property off Depot Road behind the Town Shop as a possible future location. He cited an expanding district court and the need for more parking at the township hall as one reason why an alternate site should be considered.

Village President Richard Johnston said nothing could be done until sewers make obsolete the present malfunctioning village filtration system now located in the area off Depot Road. The building should also be reviewed in light of a proposed park and municipal garage on that land, Johnston added.

The township has received formal complaint on the litter which besets the weekly Saturday collection in present facilities.

Mrs. Place added that 139 people delivering glass last week had signed petitions asking that the collection center be kept in its present location.

Bottles for Building has recently changed from a once-a-month pickup venture to a once weekly drop-off collection.

Another $4 million for roads

The recently passed Governor's transportation package, which takes effect February 1, 1973, provides Oakland County with a considerable increase in road monies.

At the Oakland County Road Commission, the chairman of the Board, William M. Richards, explains that the road commission will receive about $14,400,000 from the motor vehicle fund in 1973. Had the transportation package not been put into law this year, the road commission would have received about $10,900,00. Much of the $3,500,000 increase will be utilized for new construction projects; the commission's 1973 construction program includes some 40 various projects at a total cost of $13,500,000. However, Richards says that many of the projects are on a "matching" basis, whereby Federal funds or monies provided by local townships, cities and villages are incorporated into the construction program. The Road Commission also intends to use some of the new money to expand their program of paving subdivision streets under special assessment procedures. Monies not spent for construction will be used to provide a higher level of maintenance on the more heavily traveled county roads.

Richards points out that the transportation package was, from the outset, tailored to meet urban area road needs. Because Oakland County is the fastest growing county in the state, in terms of population and vehicle usage, the Road Commission had been seeking an increase in urban area road revenues. The original 1951 revenue return formula had remained unchanged for more than twenty years. Originally designed for a predominantly rural state, the formula did not provide an equitable distribution of funds to deal with the rapid increase in urban traffic congestion.

The transportation package can trace much of its success to the Road Commission staff and to the Board of County Commissioners, as well as to state representatives Philip Mastin, Jr., James Damman, and state senator Carl Purcell. The basic program was originally conceived in Oakland County as a measure necessary for dealing with an alarming increase in road problems.

Richards says that the major points of the program are, first of all, the tax on gasoline has been raised 2c per gallon, but there has been no increase in license plate fees, nor has there been any increase in diesel fuel tax. Secondly, the percentages of these State collected motor vehicle funds that are returned to the State Highway Department, the 83 county road commissions, and the various cities and villages have been changed.

Presently, the State Highway Department receives 46% of the money, the county road commissions receive 34% and the cities and villages receive the remaining 20%. Under the new program, the State Highway Department receives 44.5%, the 83 county road commissions receive 35.7% and the cities and villages receive 19.8%. Thirdly, one-half cent of the gasoline tax will be earmarked for public transit. The fourth point of the transportation package is the creation of a special urban area fund, for urban county roads.

Richards does not believe that the program is comprehensive enough to solve all of the county's road problems but he does see the program as a step in the right direction.

Because road funds have lagged behind county road needs for a number of years, the Road Commission is putting emphasis on new construction as means of alleviating some immediate critical problems, but "catching up" will be impossible if a recently completed "need study" is correct. The need study details various necessary improvements at the rate of 50 million dollars per year for the next 20 years.

Friday's showers turned Big Lake Road in Springfield Township into a hazard course. Puddles and potholes were the order of the day.

Looks like "go" for Waldon Road multiples

It looks like developer Gerald Anderson may get his multiples for 17 acres east of Clarkston Gardens Subdivision, south of Waldon Road. Entrance to the development is planned opposite Almond Lane.

The construction plan won't be the same as that which triggered a referendum May 7, 1971, in which the multiple rezoning granted by a previous township board was overturned and the property was again classified as suburban farms.

The compromise, calling for six units per acre in a brick and rough sawn cedar facade, was presented by developer Gerald Anderson to about 50 members of the Clarkston Gardens Homeowners Association, residents of the area, and township board members Monday night at the township hall.

It was an effort to reach settlement in a law suit which is still pending over the validity of the signatures on the petitions calling for the referendum vote, and to stop further litigation over future zoning, principals reported.

Following Anderson's presentation, Clarkston Gardens Homeowner Association president Keith Humbert and Attorney Thomas Hunter, principals in the suit with the township, the association and the Camp Fire Girls which owns property adjacent to the site recommended for the compromise.

Said Hunter, "We feel in all probability if the thing isn't settled, we would probably win the law suit on the petitions, but if there is suit on zoning, the property owner would probably win. "We are better off to take the compromise and get the kind of development we want in there rather than take the time and trouble of going to court and probably losing in the end," he added.

Residents of the subdivision voted strongly to accept the compromise during a straw poll taken at the meeting, but those who were members of the homeowners association voted 50-50 on the compromise, Hunter reported. There are about 300 homes in the subdivision which straddles Waldon Road, but only about 100 families belong to the association, Humbert reported.

Anderson told those present his intention of building no more than 104 units as compared to the 168 originally planned for the area. He said buildings would be grouped with no more than four units to a building - three two-bedroom and one three-bedroom - the elevation to be mixed with three two-story units and one one-story unit. The units would sell for $32,000 to $38,000 each, he said.

He said plans are to build at least one enclosed garage for each unit, and to eliminate a perimeter drive which neighbors had originally objected to. He also affirmed his intention of contributing $2,000 towards the construction of sidewalks which would lead from the development to Clarkston Elementary School.

He said the present plan, a conceptual plan still to undergo minor changes, would preserve as much of the woods on the property as possible.

While Anderson was not yet sure of water supply for the development, Humbert reported that interviews with township engineers had disclosed an interconnecting well system with Clarkston Gardens would be the best solution.

To questions of, "Why did we have a referendum if it doesn't mean anything?" and statements such as, "I came here for privacy," Township Attorney Richard Campbell reported that housing is taking priority in the courts. The courts have adopted the attitude, he said, of giving multiple and trailer park rezoning a favored use category and has shifted the burden onto the township to prove that such zoning is not "reasonable."

He added later that steps taken by the township planning commission to start rezoning of the property from suburban farms to single family residential was only to improve the township's case should the zoning question come to court.

Anderson said he would agree to being "locked into" the accepted site plan by the courts and would begin building as soon as possible, but he put no deadline on when he would be ready.

School financing changes have no immediate affect

A recent ruling by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission banning tax anticipation borrowings for school districts during the current school property tax milieu is not expected to affect Clarkston.

Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent, said the district for the past two years has borrowed on state aid anticipation notes as opposed to the property tax.

The money is needed to carry the district during the latter part of the year until new property tax payments are received beginning in December.

The schools are financed almost wholly by a combination of local property taxes and state aid. Some federal money is received, but in Clarkston the sum is minute.

Greene did say, however, that a further ruling from the Finance Commission, which approves or disapproves all municipal financing endeavors, prohibiting school districts from borrowing money based on income they expect to receive from future property taxes could affect building plans in the district.

The schools have recently purchased property on Holcomb Road which has been earmarked for the site of a new elementary school. The proposal had been made to have the new facility ready for use in two to three years, providing citizens were to pay a needed bond issue.

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission rulings are based on a recent Michigan State Supreme Court decision in which the method of spreading the property tax to support schools in Michigan has been found illegal.

No more newspapers

No more newspapers are being accepted at the Springfield Bottles for Building drop-off points. Bottles will be accepted 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, January 27 at the Springfield Township Hall parking lot and at Andersonville School.

Deer Lake development

Discussion on the development proposal for the north end of Deer Lake has been tentatively placed on the February 8 agenda of the Independence Township Planning Commission. There will be no hearing January 25 as previously announced, and the commission will not meet again until February 8.

Landfill needed

It seems to us that Independence Township will never resolve its litter problem until it manages to provide some place where people can get rid of unwanted items at little or no cost.

The township needs a landfill — whether it be shared with other townships as in the past or whether it goes it alone.

A drive down country roads shows exactly what is happening when such a facility is not available. Everything from building rubble to refrigerators, davenports and bedsprings can be found along what might otherwise be a scenic drive.

We know that landfills are not popular with the people who live near them. Neither are roadside dumping spots, and it appears that those are affecting a lot more people than one well run landfill would.

Are we so sick?

(Editor's note: Homer Biondi suggests we use this article from the Manchester Guardian reprinted in the Air Conditioning, Heating and Refrigeration News.)

There are those who claim that ours is a sick society. Maybe they are right. I submit that I am sick and perhaps you are too.

I am sick of being told that religion is the opiate of the masses, but marijuana should be legalized.

I am sick of being told that pornography is the right of a free press, but freedom of the press does not include the right to criticise the actions of African dictators.

I am sick of commentators on television canonising anarchists, revolutionists, and criminals, but condemning law enforcement if it brings such criminals to justice.

I am sick of being told that policemen are Facist beasts who must be prevented from using force, but that criminals who use guns to rob, maim, and murder should be understood and helped back to society.

I am sick of riots, marches, protests, demonstrations, confrontations, and the other mob temper tantrums of people intellectually incapable of working within the system.

I am sick of hearing the same phrases and slogans of people who must chant the same things like zombies because they have not the capacity for verbalising thought.

I am sick of those who say I owe them this or that because of the sins of my forefathers when I have looked down both ends of a gun barrel to defend their rights, their liberties, and their families.

I am sick of cynical attitudes towards patriotism. I am sick of politicians with no backbones whose god is short term expediency. I am sick of permissiveness.

I am sick of the decline in personal honesty, personal integrity, and human sincerity.

And most of all, I am sick of being told that my country is sick when fully 50% of the people on the face of the earth would willingly change places with the poorest among us.

A noble job

by Joan Sailes

Renovation of old homes is a noble undertaking, we Sailes keep telling ourselves.

The only trouble is that after a time the job begins to resemble the snake who ate his own tail. It's a never ending circle.

Still faced with at least one major renovation project left over from those mad, carefree days when we purchased the large, airy and decrepit house on the hill, we are now also caught up in the process of renovating the renovations.

Unsuspecting callers are apt to wind up with a paint brush in their hands.

One couple, who hasn't shown up since, arrived recently during countdown two hours before a major teen party as we finished paneling, subflooring and the laying of a carpet in a room off the family room.

I don't think they still know what hit them, but they worked like Trojans beside us and we made the deadline.

Old homes have a charm and personality all their own, and I really wouldn't trade ours, but as we slave together I am apt to remind my husband that a new three bedroom brick ranch, the kind we abandoned to move to our relic, keeps looking better and better.

What do married couples do, anyhow, when they haven't tile to lay, or light fixtures to install, or old ceiling plaster to knock down, or bathrooms to build, or stairs to replace, or 32 gallons of paint to be applied to the outside?

What did we do in those days before we moved to Clarkson? A little bridge? Some television? A movie once in a while? Did we actually have the time to belong to clubs back then?

Do I remember having the time to sew? Or is it just a figment of a wornout brain?

Ah, but the reading stays. Like a bookaholic, I stay away from them for just so long and then everything slides while the books come out.

And yet renovation isn't so bad. I can remember arranging for the family room ceiling to be painted the day of the Superbowl. We were able to paint and watch at the same time, and I tell my husband he has a considerate wife.

He doesn't always agree.

Right now I'm working on a picture window for the living room. In our new and spotless previous home we had one. It looked right across the street into the neighbor's picture window.

Now we have a view, and small paned windows filled with wavy old glass that causes antique hunters to "oh" and "ah" and me to get headaches.

I want a picture window — one I can see through — and oh yes, a new living room from which to look.

"If It Fitz . . ."

I'll never read this

As I grow older, I grow more amazing to my friends who can't believe I have lived so long without once doing so many things other people do all the time.

For instance, I've never been snowmobiling, or skiing. I've always believed strongly that snow is God's way of punishing people for being idiots. Which proves again that God is just. Only idiots go out into the snow unless the house is on fire. I learned in the army there is no worse agony than frozen feet and snow up your sleeves. All my nightmares center around chapped wrists. Only an idiot would deliberately court the many discomforts and disasters inherent in sliding down a mountain of snow. Only an idiot would desert his heated Chevrolet in favor of a topless machine that hangs its passengers on barbed wire fences. Such idiocy-on-purpose is similar to volunteering to take your friends' dentist appointments. I refuse to be such an idiot. Go get 'em, God.

I've never been to a racetrack. If horse racing is a sport, so is craps. Eliminate the gambling and all horse fans could go to the track in the same cab. But I don't just object to the phonies who blat about loving the ponies when what they really love is doubling their money. I'm also turned off because I've never been convinced that a horse enjoys running around with some guy on his back, whipping and kicking him.

For similar reasons, I avoid animal acts where the trainer slips the animal a hunk of food after it successfully performs some dumb trick. If the bear doesn't feel like standing on his head, is he starved until he changes his mind?

I never go camping. If God had intended people to live outdoors, he would never have created mortgages.

Long ago, after taking lessons and giving it a fair trial, I quit playing bridge. The good players are too quarrelsome and the bad players (like me) would rather play poker anyway, so shut up and deal.

I never play Scrabble. As an editor, I don't want people to find out I can't spell.

I have never driven a motorcycle. Motorcycles are God's way of punishing snowmobile owners in the summer.

I have never been hunting or fishing. But, yes, I do eat hamburg and trout. I know no alternative to killing for food and I'm just grateful there are people who can stomach working in slaughter houses. I'm sure I could learn to do it if I were hungry enough. But I couldn't learn to enjoy it. And I'll never understand the Great White Hunters who patronize hunting preserves and pay some guy to throw a bird in the air so they can shoot it down. Sure, shooting is an honorable sport, but why not shoot skeet or tin cans? I can't escape the thought that animals can also say: "Ouch, that hurts!"

I never read columns like this because they always make me more mad than glad. How about you?

Letters to the Editor

Fight urban sprawl

Dear Editor:

The Village of Clarkston encompasses an area of 320 acres with a population of slightly more than 1,000.

In contrast, the Deer Lake plan to build 1,470 apartments, condominiums, and single family residences on 338 acres will, when based on a three person minimum per unit, house over 4,400 people — four times greater the amount with approximately the same acreage.

The environmental, social, and civic obstacles that are likely to be created if this plan is approved can be overwhelming, together with the unforeseen traffic problems that are presently overburdening our roads.

Two proposed entrances from Holcomb road to the development would create insolvable problems.

The appreciation and understanding of the quality of our standard of living in the Village and surrounding area are in jeopardy once we allow ourselves to become a part of the urban sprawl that threatens the loss of our identity.

We cannot dictate what a person can do with his own land but we should encourage and suggest its best use. The urban designer hired for this project called the property "one of the most scenic in the area." If the plan is approved we can expect completion of the project in five to seven years. By that time it might be said the property "was one of the most scenic in the area."

While the formal petition for rezoning this land has not yet been filed, concerned citizens can voice their disapproval of such a massive development by appearing at the Independence Township Planning Commission meetings. We must rescue and preserve the dignity that our area offers its residents.

Nancy Prucher

Jan Lopucki and daughter, Jill, viewed the 250 pennies received by The Clarkston News, exchanged Friday for a POW bracelet now being worn by Janet Saile. The pennies began arriving anonymously several months ago, two each day for Publisher Jim Sherman and two each day for Editor Jean Saile. We've even got a start toward a second bracelet.

Board criticized

Dear Editor:

What gives with the township board? They raise fees without public notice, they raise fees with public notice and they raise taxes without public notice, they raise taxes with public notice!

I would not mind paying a higher fee for copies of records, if Glennie would keep the records word for word, and that he would furnish a notarized attachment, indicating that it was the truth. As it is now, you don't know what really happened if you rely on the minutes as published.

I have heard tape recordings of township meetings and I have read the published minutes and they are miles apart.

Why is it the township brings people into court for littering and the township has had enormous piles of litter in its own back parking lot? When did a few people become so privileged? It appears to me that somebody's constitutional rights have been violated.

Why did Glennie lead the action by the township board to award thousands of dollars in work on the water department and without a published notice of intent or competitive proposals or bidding? Glennie is on record in criticism of Stonerock awarding a couple thousand or more in work by the same manner.

Why has the water department been in so much of a financial strain, since Glennie has had the say so?

If Glennie is in charge of flying the American Flag at the township hall, why doesn't he insist on flying it as customs and courtesy indicate? It has been left out all night in storms, it is not flown regularly through office hours, some days it is up and other days it is down. Does courtesy and custom toward the flag mean nothing to Glennie? If the failure is caused through neglect of an employee, fire the employee. I don't want to see my tax dollars pay a man that has no respect for the flag or the country that it represents.

James Harmon
8665 Lakeview Drive
Walters Lake

Squaring the account

Editor:

Glennie, clerk of the township, indicates he will square the account with a resident of Independence.

The reason: this person used up too much of an employee's time. The person paid the bill, but with Glennie that doesn't count. I have never criticized Glennie for the booze party held in the water department's office in December and that was during working hours and it lasted a lot longer than forty minutes.

Why can't Glennie and troopers drink on their own time?

The reason I wanted copies from the files was due to the fact an individual pointed out irregularities in office in which Glennie was a part of these irregularities.

I did not want to believe the allegations so I used my own money to check. The allegations were found in the minutes of the township board meetings.

Glennie really did a great job when he obtained the raise on the fees, without any published notice of intent to raise a township fee.

We are constantly reading Glennie's news statements and his reasoning for the township board actions. Who would ever think that Glennie would rule the board and the village and become judge and really try people?

Several days ago I met with Delbridge and Curn of the building department. The reason, to check their file on Paul Frechette. Glennie entered into this case and the meeting. At first they refused to allow me to see the records, even though the records are public.

When I pointed out to them that if they did not show these records, I would seek a warrant for their arrest, they then showed the records.

The records were not complete and the file did not contain a court order for the removal of these records.

It has been said that I "am a trouble maker."

As long as our township officials ignore the processes of office and fail to follow the guidelines as established for those serving in office, there will be what they call trouble.

If they choose to reverse their behavior, the troublemaker could become a praisemaker.

Lucky C. Fletcher

(Editor's Note: Clerk Glennie tells us the employes' Christmas party at the Water Department took place after the noon closing December 22 prior to Christmas. He also said township records are open to the public, and that copies will be provided as fast as it is possible to do so.)

We need the gravel

Home-owners, renters, drivers, visitors, and ALL.

Do you want better roads and more roads?

Do you want better driveways and parking lots?

Do you want good solid foundations and porches or patios?

Gravel and sand is where God and the Glacier put it. Mere man cannot get gravel and sand by wiggling his nose. It is mined where God put it, and hauled by man and his machines. He can use gravel, move it, and wish for more gravel.

Oakland County has God-given gravel and sand deposits but we have "such terrible roads" and so little gravel put on our "scenic" country, graveled county roads by our road commissioners each year.

The terrible road commission has to pay for that gravel and sand. We, all of us, pay taxes for the support of our roads.

Where is that gravel and sand to come from for our roads?

Are they to buy gravel and sand from far away and wish it trucked invisibly to this area? How do you suppose those nice roads, driveways and patios, etc. you all desire get made?

You, who object to gravel and sand mining, should look around your own little kingdoms and realize how much gravel and sand you have bought in one form or the other.

Would you, also, like to PAY MORE for it? Would you like to haul it yourself without those "eye-sore" trucks? Just imagine loading it, too, yourself, with a quiet hand-shovel!

Or surely, too, you could PARK — in the mud and mire as you try to get to work, to school, to the stores, to the park for a scenic picnic, or to church, or just to the neighbors, or even to the township hall to complain or plead that "SOMEBODY HAS TO DO SOMETHING! WE PAY OUR GOOD MONEY IN HIGH TAXES FOR GOOD ROADS!"

Try wiggling your nose and see if it helps.

We lost half of our land to the Sashabaw I-75 interchange. My father's ancestral farm gave 16 acres to the 75. I hate it but I use it and any other expressway and thank God for them.

Some of the gravel for I-75 was mined across the road from my house on Waldon Road, east of Clarkston. Waldon Road was graveled with gravel from that same pit.

My son-in-law is a gravel-truck owner and operator, my oldest son drove a gravel truck, and my other son is a cement block truck driver. My house is made of cement blocks and cinder blocks. My septic field has the 10A stone for its 365 feet of tile. Half of the circle driveway and garage approaches is underlaid with 8 inches of fieldstone and overlaid with gravel and clay.

These are just a few reasons for us to thank God for gravel and sand

HOW ABOUT YOURS? DID YOU LIKE THE COSTS? DO WE NEED OUR OWN NATURAL RESOURCES?

Student safety group formed

A committee to study the safety problems of children who walk to school has been appointed by the Clarkston Board of Education and will meet for the first time January 29.

Serving on the committee are James McIlrath, Rev. Robert Walters, Mrs. Charles Weber, school board members Charles Smalley and R. A. Weber, township supervisor Robert Vandermark, the principals of the three schools most involved with walk-ins — Lynn Jervis of North Sashabaw, Jack Hayden of Clarkston Elementary and William Potvin of Clarkston Junior High, plus Mel Vaara and Milford Mason of the board's administrative staff.

Mason said problems would be spelled out at the first meeting and that resource people would be brought in to add their experience to the decision making process.

Tell it to Bob

by Bob Brumbach

Clarkston schools special service director.

For several years now I have observed a situation develop which has caused me much concern. I am speaking about the number of children who are on medication because of behavioral problems.

The number of children in this category has grown tremendously in the past decade and schools, particularly, have felt the impact of increased efforts to control children's behavior with drugs.

There is no question that advances have been made in the use of certain drugs to treat specific problems. The treatment of epilepsy is one area in which tremendous advances have developed and there are many other good examples.

My concern is for the youngster that is given medication because someone says he is hyperactive, hyperkinetic, emotionally disturbed, brain damaged, perceptually handicapped, immature or a variety of other "labels."

Is the medication really necessary or helpful in changing the child's behavior? Is something needed in conjunction with the medication for it to really be effective? Is the medication given to give the parent relief or the child?

My observations have been that: (1) Children are too often given medication without adequate medical follow-up on its effects. (2) Medication for behavior problems needs to be in conjunction with other therapeutic services but is frequently given in isolation — called Chemotherapy. (3) Parents are often fearful of questioning the effects of medication and don't keep after the doctor or the school about progress. (4) There is much lack of understanding by parents about what the medication is, what effects it should produce and the time span for producing the desired results.

If your child is on medication because of behavior problems there should be a very complete diagnosis of the problem — medically, psychologically, socially. The medication should be a part of a plan to deal with the "whole" situation rather than just immobilize the child and control him.

You should communicate the plan to school officials and gain their cooperation in the efforts for your child. The school may be able to offer services in cooperation with your plans and are often essential to observing the effects of medication.

Don't be afraid to ask what the medication is and what it is supposed to do. Find out how long it will take to show effects and if there are side effects to look for. Write down your observations on the effects of the medication so that you are accurate in your impressions.

Give the medication exactly as prescribed. I have known situations where parents did not give medication on weekends or holidays and then complained that the medication was ineffective. Be consistent and communicate regularly with the others involved with your child.

The parent is the key to the effective use of medication for behavior problems. Do not accept that medication alone will solve the problem. Insist that the school and your physician share information and you communicate frequently with both.

Be sure that there is a specific treatment plan for dealing with the behavior problem and follow through on the responsibility you agreed to.

Beginning this week the Clarkston News starts a Country Living section designed for those who choose this area for their homes. We're interested in houses, hobbies, recipes; anything. Let us hear from you.

The Pidd home.

Outdoors is part of home

By Betty Hecker

The idea of bringing the outdoors inside helped Jim and Doris Pidd seek out an architect and together they drew up plans for a dream house.

After looking at both used houses and vacant lots in Utica, Rochester, in fact "all over the country," according to Doris, they decided on a wooded lot near Clarkston. "We came from Fenton, which is a small town, and we wanted to live in another small town. We really like Clarkston — the village and the schools. And, of course, the closeness of Deer Lake was a positive factor in our decision.

"We really like the outdoors, we camp in the summer and we love to ski" — so it seemed natural to use rough sawn cedar boards for both the outside and the inside of the two story contemporary house.

Openness and spaciousness are evident in the twenty-six foot living room, the open stairway, and in the large, white-countered kitchen.

Simplicity and ease of living are accented by the graceful lines of a high intensity lamp over a comfortable reading chair, the absence of curtains or drapes on the many windows or two doorwalls that view the patio and the woods.

"In the spring the woods are full of trillium and violets, it's so gorgeous," Doris said. "We've planted all the trees in the front and side yard, for more woods atmosphere. Jim has built the patio and done all the landscaping by the front entrance. In the spring he plans to build a rock garden on the bank outside the basement door."

On the hearth of the square cement block fireplace was a beautiful wood sculpture of ducks that was a gift from Doris' sister. Doris explained, "When we first moved here, we didn't know much more about birds than what a robin was. But there are so many birds here in the woods that we spend a lot of time watching them. Learning the names of all the birds really became a hobby. Jim has joined the Audubon Society and we have a book that helps, 'Field Guide to the Birds.'"

Outdoor planter at front entrance.

Vertical open lines lend to home's atmosphere.

Clarkston Co-op gets underway

By Dawn Ridley

Have you got the January Blahs? Do you need a change in your life? Would you care to save on food bills? Why not join the Clarkston Food Co-op, and also volunteer to help! I can guarantee that what you do at the Co-op will be a new and fun experience, and it would qualify, locally, as the latest "in" thing to do!

It's simple to become a member in the Food Co-op: Enter your name in the books... pay $3... pick up your food order, which includes a variety of fresh fruits, produce, eggs, on the following Thursday. Each person also must bring in clean shopping bags and empty egg cartons, and a member should find an occasional day that he can donate an hour or so of his time.

The first Clarkston Co-op day was January 18 at independence center on Maybee Road. Marge Batchelder, who is overall chairman, and Barb Gusie, left for Eastern Market, in a rented truck, before 8 a.m. It was expected that they would be back from their buying trip by noon.

Meanile, back at the ranch - er, Center, all the other chairwomen and their helpers had sorted the bags and egg cartons, made coffee and received final instructions. Linda Yantis, chairms of the baggers, had her people divided into two groups of five; one half to sort fruit, one half to sort vegetables.

Barb Hammond, chairms of money and new receipts, had made a quick trip home for a money drawer, after which she got her people assembled at a long table by the door.

Irene Zander, chairms of eggs, had her sorters and the empty egg cartons at a table in the back of the room, and finally, in the kitchen, Cindy Brancheau, chairms of cheese department, had her scales, cutting boards, knives and helpers ready to start as soon as the truck arried. Overseeing all of this at the center was Nancy Tilley, who is co-chairwoman of the Co-op.

I have to admire the professional setup of this organization... every angle had been covered as far as personnel... machinery, now that's a different thing!

We were ready and waiting by 11:30, at which time we learned that the truck had broken down on the way to the market, but they had gotten a different truck, and should arrive a half hour later than expected. Each time the door to the center opened, everybody tensed for action only to be disappointed... then, at 5 minutes to 1 p.m. the truck arrived and everybody went into action: unloading crates and carrying them to the basement... boxes of tangeloes, crates of celery, cartons of radishes, cucumbers, carrots, green peppers, bananas, lemons, grapefruit; the eggs came by car with the cheese, and were taken to their proper area... all this was done within 10 minutes' time!

Then we started bagging; at exactly 5 minutes to 2 we were finished... 20 people had bagged 272 bags for a total of 136 orders (there are two bags in each order, plus a dozen eggs)! We had done it all in one hour!

Hunter, Krick named to CF

Thomas Hunter and Mrs. Robert Krick of Clarkston have been named to positions with the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls.

Hunter will serve a three-year term on the board of directors and Mrs. Krick will serve a one-year term as chairman of a Leaders Association.

The group received $750 as partial payment of the $1,500 pledged to the council by the Pontiac Area Zonta Club. The money will be used to help construct an overnight cabin for the Camp Fire girls.

Here are some important real estate terms that you should know: (1.) Abstract of Title - the Abstract of a Title is a condensed history of the title of a piece of property consisting of a summary of the various links in the title chain. This history also includes a record of all the liens, charges or encumbrances that may effect a certain piece of property. (2.) Blanket Mortgage - A Blanket Mortgage is a single mortgage that covers more than one piece of real estate property.

Let BOB WHITE REAL ESTATE, 5856 S. Main St., 625-5821 help you to understand the many unfamiliar terms and aspects of your real estate transaction. Call us first with your listing for maximum exposure to the buying public. Our nation wide transfer service brings us many referrals that are looking in this area too. delay: the second truck had also broken down!

As I said when I began this article, being in a Co-op is a real change from the normal daily activity... there are a lot of laughs, some friendly people to work with, a short term work period, and a real money saving on a food bill.

The Co-op still needs offers of trucks and drivers for the Thursday pick-up at Eastern Market. If you know of a truck that is available please contact Independence Center or tell any of the workers that are there on Thursdays.

If you want more information about the Co-op, want to place food orders (at $3 a unit), stop at the center, after 2 p.m. any Thursday. It's the place to be!

Don't answer that phone

by Marilyn Lawrence

"Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Marilyn Lawrence?"

"That all depends."

"Mrs. Lawrence, it's useless to disguise your voice. We are familiar with your tricks."

"Oh, you mean THAT Mrs. Lawrence. She died last month. Very sad..."

"What did she die of?"

"Terminal Acne."

"Come on, it's useless to try to maneuver out of this. We'll only get you in the end, and it will be much more painful if you keep putting us off like this."

"Yes, well uh, my Mother-in-law is very poorly... won't take nourishment from any hands but mine, and..."

"Where does she live?"

"Schnectady."

"Last time you hid from us in the Upper Peninsula, Bear Country, I believe."

"Well, I..."

"And the time before that, you had to search for a downed plane with the Civil Air Patrol. You probably shot down that plane to elude us. You can't hide from us forever, you know."

"Wanna bet? Who squealed on me this time?"

"Your husband."

"The fink. Why don't you take him, or one of the children? Why me?"

"Our records show it is your turn. If you come peacefully we won't have to stun you with an animal tranquilizer in the A&P. We are not unreasonable people, Mrs. Lawrence."

"Same procedure as before?"

"Yes, but this time, only take two of the capsules an hour before, and have your guard bring you in through the rear entrance. You frightened the others the last time."

"What did I do?"

"You sang three choruses of 'Melancholy Baby,' and insisted that we all get tatoored."

"I was mad with fear. Forgive me. This time it will be different, I promise."

"All right. These are your instructions. Report Monday at 1 p.m. sharp, rear entrance. At that time we will x-ray and apply fluoride. We will attempt to clean only one-half of your teeth at this time. Do you understand, Mrs. Lawrence? Mrs. Lawrence...? Doctor, I think she fainted again."

The cookie pushers strike again

Northern Oakland Girl Scouts will be taking cookie orders January 26 through February 4. Delivery and sale will be March 9-25. The large family size boxes, featuring colorful wild flower designs, will be $1.05.

Cookies will be chocolate chip, sandwich cremes, sugared shortbread, thin mints, and peanut butter patties.

Clarkston area girl scouts finance their troop activities and camping trips with profits from the sale. Council proceeds are used to help local girls participate in special girl scout opportunities, give direct services to girls, purchase equipment and property in their behalf and provide for camperships.

Every penny earned by these sales remains in the local council for girl scout services. The annual cookie sale raises a large portion of the monies needed to meet the expenses of serving nearly 10,000 local scouts. United Funds pay for 35% of local operating expenses, and camping fees about 20%.

Chartered by the national Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., each council is autonomous and determines the bakery, price and sale dates according to the financial needs of the council. (For this reason, girl scouts in neighboring councils may have different cookies, prices and dates.)

Council product sales chairman Margaret Greaves, of Waterford Township, is assisted by service unit cookie chairmen Sheila Cummings, Dorothy King, Jackie Larkin and Jean Miracle of Clarkston, and Signe Davis of Gingellville.

Kara Joslin, Mary Anne Higginbotham, Renee Weaver and Lisa King are cookie pushers. They'll be taking orders for Girl Scout cookies between January 26 and February 4. The cookies will be delivered in March.

By Debbie Wentz and Gary and Chris Mills

Clarkston 4-H Wranglers have cancelled all winter activities until the weather shapes up; however, some members are planning to attend the Michigan state horse short course at the Davisburg Youth Activities Center.

Three members, Debbie Wentz, Gary Mills and Sheryl Schwartz, reported on Morgan, Appaloosa and Arabian horses at the January 18 meeting. Following the meeting, members cleaned their tack for the upcoming season.

Classes for diabetics start

A series of five diabetic classes will be Tuesdays from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., beginning January 30 at the Board of Commissioners Auditorium in the Oakland County Courthouse.

The topics to be covered include the nature of the disease, dietary management, medications and suggestions for coping with the everyday problems which arise. Films and other audio-visual aids are used to illustrate some of the topics.

The classes are sponsored by the Oakland County Department of Health and will be taught by a Public Health Nurse and Nutritionist.

The classes are free. A written statement from the doctor is all that is required for attending and is to be presented at the first class meeting.

Pre-registration must be made and can be done by calling the Oakland County Health Department at 332-2955, ask for Education Office.

May-December romance is Players' comedy

Clarkston Village Players will offer light hearted fare February 2, 3, 9 and 10 in its production of "Forty Carats," adapted by Jay Allen from a play by Barillet and Gredy.

A romantic comedy, "Forty Carats" deals with the May-December romance of two couples. Pat Thomas is directing.

The cast includes Pat Breidenbaugh, Homer Biondi, George Gray, Sandra Sanford, Rick Gaff, Jean Hendricks, Nancy Frady, Joyce Little, Charlie and Phyllis Robinson and Keith Conklin.

The curtain raises at 8:30 p.m. at the Depot Theater on White Lake Road. Tickets are available from Clarkston Village Players or contact Bruce Rogers at 625-3686.

Women's Club Cootie Party

The Clarkston Community Women's Club will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday, January 25 at independence center. Program for the evening will be a Cootie Party. All area women are welcome to come and join in the fun and help make '73 a good year by participating in community activities.

Members wishing to attend the February 24 sleigh ride and spaghetti dinner at Hayride Lodge are asked to please bring their checks to the January meeting, as this will be the deadline for reservations.

Donations of toiletries and paper articles are still needed at independence center and are greatly appreciated.

Learning disabilities group meets

A movie, "School Daze," will be shown at 8 p.m. January 30 when the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities meets in the Kiva Auditorium and the Oakland Schools Building, 2100 Pontiac Lake Road. State president Al Katzman will be present for a question and answer session. The public is invited.

Square dance

Girl Scouts will entertain their fathers at a square dance from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, January 30, at the township hall. Bob Long will call the dances.

History saving is Springfield woman's goal

Organization of a Springfield Township Historical Society is scheduled for 1 p.m. Sunday, February 4 at Springfield Township Hall in Davisburg.

Mrs. Martin Parker reports the meeting has been called because the history of the township is presently scattered through a number of county atlases, several commemorative publications, innumerable newspaper clippings, old photographs, and records of the county, township, schools, churches, cemeteries and old diaries.

She points out a large store of valuable background information also rests in the experience and recollections of the elder citizens.

Mrs. Parker said interesting old homes and other structures in the township could be lost with the passage of time due to fire, neglect, or just the crush of suburbia. "The significance of road and place names may also be dimmed or forgotten by time," she added.

She's in favor of collecting the material available through the offices of an historical society, but she puts the most urgent goal of such a society at saving the old Davis home, the former clubhouse on the Davisburg Golf Course, from demolition.

Mrs. Parker said, "If enough local interest, enthusiasm, and elbow grease can be mustered, it appears possible to save and restore the old home on its present site. It would then serve as an historic center and repository for all sorts of information and mementos of interest in the township."

She has invited all interested citizens to attend the organizational meeting.

It's birthday season

Springing up
by Betty Hecker

Our son, John Hecker, and Herman Jaenichen share the same birthday. On January 18, John was eleven years old and Herman was 78 years old. Herman said, "John's getting up there!"

"I can't remember ever having such a nice birthday," Judy Blackett said about the surprise party that husband Darrel planned for her. He told her that they would go out for dinner, but he didn't tell her about the dinner companions, Brenda and Doug Alexander, Connie and Ronnie Roy, Judy and Randy Merrill, and Joanne and Chuck Law.

After Topinka's and the theater, they all went to Alexanders for cake, homemade ice cream and "a good old time."

Eva Boice reported that the Clinton Valley Barracks 2803 and Auxiliary held their January meeting at the Davisburg Town Hall, with 20 members and guests enjoying a co-op dinner. The next meeting will be February 10, at noon and all WWI "buddies," their wives or widows are welcome to come.

Last week, Winnie Pidd was accepted into the nursing school at Northwestern University in Traverse City. Her mother, Doris, is a nurse, working at the hospital in Goodrich, and her sister, Cindy, as a candy stripper at Lourdes Nursing Home on Watkins Lake Road.

Congratulations, Winnie.

Rainy weather shortened Acie and June Anderson's Florida vacation, but they really enjoyed seeing the "mermaid" girls at Weeki-Wachi, and termed the boat ride into the Everglades as "unbelievable." The unbelievable part was that wild boars would ham it up and beg for bread, along with bears, raccoons, and that even cardinals would venture up to take bread from the tour boat captain's hand.

June said that she "most enjoyed the drive through the Everglades where we saw so many tropical birds."

Michael Patterson of Parview and "the boys" spent the weekend at "Tip-Up Town" (generally called Houghton Lake). "There wasn't enough snow for much snowmobiling, and they almost canceled the show, but the lake did freeze over so they held it anyway. The crowd they expected was there." Better luck next year.

Susan L. Griffiths, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Griffiths of 6606 Pear, was recently admitted to the Honors College at Western Michigan University. She has maintained better than a B academic average and is now expected "to pursue programs of study which will widen her intellectual interests and competence and to undertake a field of specialty," according to the college. Sounds pretty good.

Louise E. Kasl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Kasl of 7818 Perry Lake Road, has been named to the Dean's List at Albion College. To be named she had to have attained a 3.3 or better scholastic average while carrying a full class schedule.

Cecil Caverly, recently returned Vietnam veteran, has enrolled in a two-year course at Spartan Aviation School at Tulsa, Oklahoma. He's learning to be an airframe and power plant mechanic, according to his mother, Mrs. Alvin Caverly of Waldon road.

Former Clarkston residents Mr. and Mrs. Wes Cinader of Phoenix, Arizona, have announced the birth of a granddaughter, Laura Lynn, January 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Herman (Cheryl Cinader) Hoard of Los Angeles, California. The baby weighed five and a half pounds.

"People helping people help themselves"

By Holly Stephens

JUVENILE COUNSELING — Child pre and after care center is one of the "people helping" agencies at independence center. The Children's Center was originally a part of Fairlawn Center, the juvenile section of Pontiac State Hospital. It has recently come under the joint direction of North Oakland Community Mental Health Center and Fairlawn, and broadened its scope to include community activities aimed at preventing problems before they reach a serious stage.

Peggy Hlavac, activity therapist from the Center, counsels children from the Independence Township Area with problems. She works at independence center one afternoon a week. These children may be out patients from the hospital or referrals from local schools or doctors. They are six to seventeen years in age.

As part of the effort to work on general community mental health, Mrs. Hlavac has initiated the "Peer Counseling Groups" at independence center. This is an attempt to get the children involved in helping each other solve problems — a kind of "preventive medicine" approach. CENTER NEEDS — The center's clothes and food closets chairman Zella Benson says there is still a need for children's clothes in all sizes. There was also a request for a used washing machine — the wringer type could be used, and a wheelchair for long term use.

THANKS to the Sashabaw Neighborhood Mothers — The members of independence center would like to extend a big thanks to Eleanor Sims, chairman, and the mothers who put on the "Tasters' Choice Dinner" at the center. The 255 people who came chose from a wide variety of dishes — Swedish meatballs, Mexican tacos, Italian spaghetti, American fried chicken, and many delicious casseroles. The only thing left over was a gallon of milk, which testifies to the superior efforts of the cooks.

The proceeds will be used to purchase a Code-A-Phone for the center. The 24-hour phone answering device now in use is on loan to independence center from the Clarkston Education Association.

Spiritual Message

"So I run straight toward the goal..."
Philippians 3:14a T.E.V.

By the time this reaches print, our observance in Independence Township of the Annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity will be past. This writer does not pretend to know how that particular observance will have fared, nor is that the real question asked in the topic. What we would like to know is how are we doing in our practical expression of "the faith" as between Roman Catholic Christians and Salvation Army Christians, as between Methodist and Lutheran beliefs, as between high churchmen and low, as between conservatives and liberals. Is there any truth to St. Paul's declaration that we all have one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism?

Certainly there are some circles of helpfulness and cooperation. We could point to mixed groups of youth from various churches knocking on doors on behalf of children's needs worldwide (UNICEF Project). We could delight in that poignant moment when our beloved 'Brigadier' (feminine gender) had preacher and priest, liturgist and non-formalist alike, in pulpit and in pew all united in giving "testimonies of thanksgiving!"

But why are these experiences so rare? Why is it easier for churchmen to cooperate neutrally and almost anonymously in a "bottles for building" effort than in a prayer service for unity? The combined weight of unified churchmen could insist persuasively on more harmony at township hall, more integrity in business and land use deals, more preservation of the precious assets of the youth in our midst and the aged on the sidelines. How are we doing?

The people who organized the Mobilization effort and Moratorium attempt in the late 1960's went to Washington, D.C. with hope that their action to "petition the government" would "Halt the Bombing - Stop the War."

That was well before it was labeled "Nixon's War," and many lives ago.

Those who traveled to the Nation's Capitol last week went resigned to the fact that their presence had precious little influence on foreign policy.

They went to bear witness to their personal feelings and beliefs.

People of student age returned with satisfaction that they had seized the opportunity to "demonstrate" their personal conviction that the war has lasted too long. Some, not as old as the war itself, are shaken by the realization that war of any kind is ever justified.

A characteristic of the young, in touch with reality, is that they blame individuals as being personally responsible for catastrophes. Unlike their parents, who see Vietnam as "an entangling alliance in which the United States should never have become involved," the NOW generation views it as Nixon's War, and his personal responsibility to stop it.

I tend to believe that the responsibility of government, at any level, is more than that of management, orchestration, if you will. It is not enough simply to be aware of what is happening in the world. The task is one of leadership, not merely management. Leadership includes the ability to decide. When to decide to initiate. When to decide to halt.

I didn't go to Washington this time. I have been there before. But clearly it is time to halt our purpose on Asian soil, and to initiate peace.

Back to nature

Rose Baird is a woman who loves nature and sends along articles by Freida Nusz in the Conservation News as well as a promotion for one of Mrs. Nusz' cookbooks.

The article:

"A young boy packs sand into a straw and then, using an eyedropper, adds water drop by drop, counting the drops until water begins to accumulate on the top of the sand.

"By counting how many drops it takes to saturate the sand, we will know whether the major component of the soil is sand, clay or mulch and how easily it will absorb nutrients.

"Taking a piece of ordinary nylon stocking a young girl stretches it across a specially made holder and sets it outside overnight. In the morning she counts the number of breaks in the nylon. From the deterioration, she can determine the acids and hydrocarbons, pollutants in her neighborhood air.

"These are just a few of the wide variety of ecology kits, games books and items now on the market—the kits encourage an environment education and respect for surroundings for a generation which has not yet learned the wasteful polluting of the past."

And the cookbook:

If you work and need quick, easy ways in your cooking; if you desire nutritious food for your family; if you like to cook from "scratch"; if you can use helpful hints, such as making paste for the children when preparing potatoes; if you want to make fruits and vegetables attractive to tempt your family; if you really wish to make the best use of your blender; if you are allergic to common foods; if you appreciate concocting such things as sugarless sweets, dairyless milk and popcorn flour and cereal; then Mrs. Nusz will be of certain help to you.

She writes a cookbook as interesting as a storybook. She offers enjoyable reading in a lively, natural manner. The book, in spite of its variety of ideas, is well arranged. The products used in her many recipes are listed at the beginning and are treated alphabetically by chapter. The book is also well indexed. It is a combination of her past books: "Wheat and Sugar Free" and "Blenderbuss—two books in one."

Tarzan maybe.

We stand behind our Good Neighbor Policy.

Personal Touch.

You won't be involved in any "Big City Maze" or caught in the crowd. Unlike big city dealers, to us you are not just another nameless face. You're an individual... a neighbor. In a sense, our reputation in the community rides on every transaction.

Straight Talk.

We will not double-talk you or make promises of deals we have no intention of keeping. We are honest businessmen who talk straight. This assures you of one of the most important elements in any deal—confidence.

Fine Cars, Fairly Priced.

If you can get a better deal, either from one of us or any other competitive dealer—on similar type cars—we'll tell you to take it. But we're confident enough in our individual pricing policies to feel that deal for deal we will match or better any other dealers—particularly Detroit dealers.

Good Service.

We are fully aware that service is one of the most irritating aspects of car ownership. People are only human, mistakes are made, and customers get impatient. We are determined, individually—and we have each talked to our people—that we will do our human best to give you prompt, courteous and efficient service—priced as low as our costs permit.

This is more than a policy. It's a promise. We operate this way and we hope you didn't miss the phrase "good neighbor" because that's what it's all about.

We are all part of the same North Oakland Community. Many of our people live in your neighborhood, go to the same churches and PTA meetings. After we do business with you, we've got to live with you and look you in the eye when we meet.

We hope to be your Chevrolet Dealer—and a very good neighbor.

Spring may be a little late

By Jean Saile

Take it from me, groundhogs are not the gentle, friendly animals we have been led to believe.

Not when you wake them up a week early.

Almost rude, they are.

I was recently called upon to approach the Clarkston groundhog for an insight as to what the weather would be this spring. Not willing to wait until February 2 to see if the sun shines like everyone else does, I — using my best investigative reportorial style — looked up his address in Bresser's and went calling.

"Groundhog," I shouted near his favorite tree. "Come up and talk with me."

Nothing. I put my ear near to the burrow and listened. "Snog . . . puff . . . snog . . . puff." He was sleeping, noisily.

A stick, I thought. A long, flexible stick. I pushed it down the hole and wiggled it around.

"Infiltrators, spies, disturbers of the peace!" he shouted.

"Come out," I said. "What's the weather going to be?"

Muttering about folks unable to wait and see like everyone else, he slowly emerged, his eyes blinking and reddened from sleep.

"The weather," I said. "Is spring going to be early?"

"A minute," he said and he disappeared.

Emerging again with a copy of The Old Farmer's Almanac, he began reading and speaking.

"Temperatures in February will be 3 degrees above normal, not much snow, some rain and a mild spell February 16 to 18. March, however, will be 2 degrees cooler than normal with 3 to 5 inches of snow about the 20th. April will still be cooler, but beginning with May, you're going to get one of the hottest summers you've had. Temperatures will be 3 degrees above normal in May, 2 degrees above normal in June and 5 degrees above normal in July. August will cool, but September is going to be warm again. It's going to be a drier than normal summer and fall."

"Groundhog," I said, "you're a dear."

"I know," he said, "and for waking me up early, you're going to get cold weather until February, and it's going to be cloudy February 2, and I'm not going to see my shadow, and . . . 'Spring is going to be a little late this year.'"

With that he disappeared.

Proposed tax cuts upset MASB director

Tax cuts as proposed by Governor William Milliken in his State of the State message earlier this month have not found favor with the Michigan Association of School Boards board of directors.

"Basically, the MASB favors tax relief when the essential needs of our state and the Supreme Court mandate to equitably finance education have been met," said Norman P. Weinheimer, (Executive Director of the state-wide association which represents over 580 local publicly elected school boards in Michigan and, includes school districts enrolling 99% of the children in the State's public schools.)

"The local board of education members were amazed to learn, after being told for more than a year that there was not enough money in the State Treasury to meet the full needs of public education and the growing crisis in school funding in Michigan, that suddenly we find ourselves with an anticipated unneeded $370 million dollars surplus in state revenues during the next two years," remarked Dr. Weinheimer.

"Our local board members are all asking — 'Where did this money suddenly come from? when a year ago the state withheld over 26 million from state aid to local districts because the Governor said the state was going to have a deficit — 'Why are we still being told that the state will not be able to substantially increase its school state-aid share, and thereby, live up to its constitutional responsibility of providing an 'equal educational opportunity' for all our children in Michigan?'"

"These serious questions and many others, are being raised across the state by local boards and citizens regarding the Governor's tax-cut promise," according to the MASB Executive Director.

"Last year at least 55 school districts in Michigan ended the school year in a financial deficit. By the end of this year, according to our estimates, the number of school districts with a deficit could run as high as 200 state-wide."

"The vast majority (perhaps all) of these school districts in financial difficulty are having deficit problems not because of mismanagement or inefficiency, but chiefly due to an inadequate and inequitable tax system and state-aid distribution formula," Dr. Weinheimer emphasized.

"This fact," he continued, "is becoming more and more evident to all who closely examine the Michigan school finance picture."

"Michigan's taxpayers and public school districts all badly need short-term financial aid and long-term equitable tax reform."

"This is why the MASB expressed sincere dismay and skepticism over the Governor's proposal to cut taxes, up to $370 million dollars or more during this year and the next," said Dr. Weinheimer.

"Our members have further asked, 'How does the Governor (and the State Legislature) plan to meet the many needs of all districts as now mandated by the Supreme Court decision, including those school districts in financial difficulty?'"

"Will we be given a tax decrease this year (prior to the 1974 election) only to be faced with the need, again, to increase taxes in 1975?"

"MASB believes the people of Michigan do have a right to know much more about where all this alleged 'surplus' money is coming from, when only a year ago there was serious talk of raising taxes again," said the MASB Executive Director.

"If the Governor is truly sincere in his statement that he intends to propose a budget that will take care of the state's critical educational needs, and other pressing state service needs, and still leave a surplus to be returned to the citizens in the form of tax cuts, then we'll back him 100%. First, however, he should (must) explain to us how he plans to meet the needs of the increasing number of deficit school districts, an equitable school state aid plan for education, full funding of the state's mandatory special education act, and so forth."

"In short," Dr. Weinheimer summarized, "the Michigan voters, and the entire educational community deserve to know a lot more about the alleged 'surprise surplus' than was related to them in the Governor's recent message."

Bob Armstrong of Hilde's Taxidermy on M-15 admires a polar bear, probably one of the last to be taken out of Alaska. The 1200-pound bear was shot by Clarence Wessell of Rochester with a 250 grain bullet from a 358 Norma Magnum rifle. It has recently become illegal to shoot the polar bear.

Search has happy ending

Jennie was next door

Eight-year-old Jennie Feagans, a third grade student at Pine Knob Elementary School, had no idea she was the object of a 20-man, police dog and helicopter search Saturday.

She was playing next door with her friend, Annette McCain, at 4635 Independence Drive.

Jennie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schaar, 4625 Pinedale, was reported missing about noon when her mother found a sandwich in the refrigerator which Jennie had said she was going to take next door to eat.

A search of the neighborhood failed to turn her up, and Mrs. Schaar called the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. A tracking dog from Bloomfield Township was brought out, but Jennie's scent was too old and the dog was sent back.

About that time Terry Cranston, Sheriff's Department helicopter pilot, got into the act and 20 people responded to an appeal for a search party over Radio Station WPON.

At about 5:30 p.m. James McCain, father of Annette, stopped at a neighborhood gas station and learned of the search for a girl resembling Jennie. He went home, picked up Jennie and took her home.

She'd been playing at his house since noon, he told deputies.

Jennie was back in school Monday and happy to be there.

Wolves drop two

By Craig Moore

Clarkston's Varsity Wolves added 2 losses to their season record in last week's play. Their record now stands: 3-7 on the season, 2-3 in the Wayne-Oakland League play.

Tuesday, January 16, the Wolves suffered a 64-54 loss to the Rochester Falcons.

Clarkston played a fine first half. The first quarter 14-14 tie indicated a good game. Clarkston pulled ahead 34-29 through the efforts of Larry Miracle, who scored 11 of his 16 game points in the second quarter.

Late in the third quarter, Rochester moved into the lead. The Falcons had a 20 point quarter and Clarkston scored only 13 points. The quarter ended 49-47 for Rochester.

Again in the fourth period, Rochester outscored Clarkston, 15-7, for the 64-54 win.

Shooting for the Wolves was poor, 18 of 31 free throws for 58% and shooting from the floor was below 30%.

Larry Miracle was top scorer with 16 points. Dirk Feneley scored 10 points, all in the first quarter and Rod Rumsey added 9 points to the losing effort.

Dave Partlo grabbed 10 rebounds and Miracle pulled in 9.

The following Friday, Clarkston lost 78-53 to the Milford Redskins, who hold second place in the league.

Milford got off to a quick start and had an 8-0 lead before Clarkston scored. The Redskins had gained a 24-10 advantage by the opening quarter's end.

Clarkston's zone defense looked good but was not effective against the Redskins who hit the far and close shots alike. The Wolves fell back another 9 points in the second quarter. Milford ended the half ahead 45-26.

The Wolves were having a tough time keeping up in the third quarter let alone catching up. Milford moved 22 points ahead, 57-35.

The Redskins had another quarter with above 20 points in scoring in the final period to top the Wolves, 78-53.

Larry Miracle played a fine game, scoring 15 points and grabbing 16 rebounds. Dave Partlo added 16 points.

The Wolves hit 13 of 26 for a 50% at the foul line, but shooting was again below 30% from the floor.

Friday, January 26, Clarkston's Wolves travel to West Bloomfield to break the third place tie between the two teams.

Tuesday, January 30, Clarkston will host Rochester Adams. JV game starts at 6:30 p.m. and the Varsity game follows at 8:15 p.m.

Near miss for grapplers

By Roger Zander

Last Thursday the CHS wrestlers fell just one point short of tying Waterford Kettering. The final score of the dual league meet was 27-26. Both Rick Detkowski and Greg Johnson won by pinning their opponents. Randy Lane and Ken Johnson won on points, 9-0 and 8-6 respectively. The loss gave the Wolves a season dual meet record of 1-4.

Two days later up at Fenton, the Wolves finished in eighth place. Detkowski took first; Craig Warren and Lane both took third in their weight classes.

Back on January 11, the Wolves lost to West Bloomfield 39-21. Clarkston is winless so far in league wrestling but the grapplers are hoping for a victory against Clarenceville this week.

The Clarkston Invitational Wrestling Tournament is Saturday, January 27.

The Milford Redskins are held at bay as Dirk Feneley, 45, goes up for a basket.

Flyers 1 point out of first

Clarkston Flyers hockey team dropped a 3-0 game to Southfield Saturday night, putting Southfield in the league's first place.

Sunday the Flyers beat Lakeland by 5-1, goals being scored by Mark Johnson with assists from John Dickie and Jack Hagen; John Dickie with assists from Mark Johnson and C. Gauthier; Mark Cushman unassisted; Ron Livingston assisted by M. Stoutenburt and Al Frieberg; and Jack Hagen assisted by John Dickie. Chuck Shoeman was goalie.

The 1-win, 1-loss weekend put the Flyers a point out of first place. The team plays again at 4 p.m. Sunday at Lakeland.

G & M Sunoco leads league

Independence Men's Basketball League is paced by G&M Sunoco, now in the lead with two wins and no losses.

G&M defeated the Town Shop January 15 as Diem with 21 points led to a 64-46 victory. Brami of the Town Shop scored 14 points.

Haupt Pontiac, led by Walters with 21 points, defeated the Clarkston Credit Union by a score of 76-70. Getzan and Osgood with 18 and 16 points, respectively, scored high for the losers.

CHJ wrestlers best Avondale

Last Wednesday evening the Clarkston Junior High wrestling team brought its record to 3 wins and 2 losses by defeating Avondale 33-27.

Winning decisions for Clarkston were Scott McCallum, Grady Parker and Jason Sawyer. Gill McCallum, Kirt Poepppe, Kelvin Perkins and Louis Warren scored by pins over their opponents. Joel Humphrey won by a decision in a J.V. exhibition match.

Clarkston hosts 4th annual wrestling meet

Eight of the finest high school wrestling teams in the immediate area will gather at the Clarkston senior high gym Saturday, January 27, for the annual invitational tourney.

Rochester Adams, Rochester High, Avondale, Bishop Foley, Davison, Waterford Mott and Lake Orion grapplers will be the guests of the Clarkston Wolves for the day long tourney.

Preliminary rounds will begin at 11 a.m. with continuous wrestling until all elimination rounds are complete. Consolation finals will begin at 7 p.m. with the championship round beginning at approximately 8:15 p.m.

FISHING:

Good catches of large (12-14") rainbow trout are being caught on Proud Lake. Splake fishing on Deer Lake is slowing down.

Pike fishing is fair on Cass, Duck, Kent, Pontiac, Union, Walled and White Lakes. Large size muskies are being taken on Pontiac Lake.

Ice fishermen on Kent Lake are having good success catching perch and bluegills. The best time to fish on Kent Lake is during the evening. The bluegills are nice size and limit catches are being reported.

Fair bluegill fishing on Cass, Walled and Pontiac lakes. Good bluegill success noted on Holly Millpond and Bush lakes.

Reports of good catches of nice size crappies on Woodhull and Oakland lakes. Crappie fishing is fair on Kent Lake.

All lakes receiving light pressure weekdays and medium to heavy pressure on weekends.

Fishing activity is picking up on Lake St. Clair. Perch fishing is poor to fair at most places with some good catches taken off the Fair Haven Point and near the Salt River with some walleye also being taken. Pike fishing is fair in the Flats area. Perch are running small to medium off Fair Haven, Blue Lagoon and at the foot of Hall Road.

Small to medium size panfish (bluegills and crappies) are being taken regularly at the end of Middlebelt Road in Huron Township on the Huron River through the ice. Pressure is moderate and success is good. A few crappies and bluegills are being taken on Phoenix and Wilcox lakes located in Plymouth and Northville Townships.

Don't be content with less than the best; see the excellent selection of lighting fixtures at SAVOIE INSULATION CO., 64 S. Main St., 625-2601. You'll find just the right fixture for every room in the house as well as a wide array of outdoor fixtures to choose from. Of course, we have a complete inventory of blanket and blown-in cellulose or fiberglass insulation. Open: 7:30-8:00, Mon.-Fri.; closed Sat.

HELPFUL HINT:

Stuff water-soaked shoes with newspaper and dry them away from heat to keep shrinkage to a minimum.

A pane of glass is usually set in putty or a glazing compound. Be sure that the glazing material is not cracked or loose. Rain can be forced in or will run down into the channel and seep into the room on the other side. Casement windows leak sometimes because of improper installation. All windows should be installed with a flashing to prevent moisture from being forced in around the frame. Check your windows. You can prevent much water damage by being certain they are completely watertight.

You can be certain of quality merchandise and personal service at BOB'S HARDWARE, 60 S. Main St., 625-5020. We stock a full inventory of plumbing and electrical supplies including switch boxes; conduits; copper tubing and fittings; bathroom and kitchen faucet sets; and a wide assortment of iron and black plastic pipe, elbows, couples, valves, and fittings. Open: 8-6, Mon.-Sat.

HELPFUL HINT:

REGISTRATION NOTICE

FOR

VILLAGE ELECTION Monday, March 12, 1973

To the Qualified Electors of the Village of Clarkston, COUNTY OF OAKLAND, STATE OF MICHIGAN

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT I WILL BE AT MY OFFICE

Friday, February 9, 1973 - - Last Day

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m.
The Fifth Friday preceding said Election

As provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954 As Amended at 1 Garden Court, Clarkston, Mich.

For the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP, or VILLAGE as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

ELECTOR UNABLE TO MAKE PERSONAL APPLICATION, PROCEDURE

SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

UNREGISTERED PERSONS NOT ENTITLED TO VOTE

SEC. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act 116, P.A. 1954.)

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION, APPLICATION, TIME

SEC. 506. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his resignation to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made after the Fifth Friday next preceding any election or primary election, unless such Fifth Friday shall fall on a legal holiday in which event registration transfers shall be accepted during the following day.

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION ON ELECTION DAY

SEC. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village and has not recorded such removal with the local Clerk shall execute a transfer of registration request, listing the new residence address thereon over his signature, with the election board in the precinct in which he is registered at the next ensuing primary or election. The inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact by affixing his initials upon said request. The applicant for transfer, after having signed an application to vote as provided in Section 523 of this act, shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that primary or election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

The independent view

by Jean Saile

A local insurance man has insured a house on Shamrock Lane and can't find it. It's crossed his mind to turn in a false alarm with the fire department and then follow the trucks. Anybody having information might contact this paper for relay to our shy salesman.

Pat and Virginia Beach in attendance at last week's township board session almost got into the action. The board was ready to move what might have been an unpopularly received item — that of increasing the charge for township minutes copies from 10 cents to $1 — partly on the advice of the Beaches who in their search for family tree information have had to request official document copies in other municipalities. "The price varies from $1 to $2," said Pat. Clerk J. Edwin Glennie started writing his minutes, "Moved by Beach, seconded by Beach, that we increase..." and broke up the crowd.

Why is it when you get one of those fabulous mail order offers, it takes a magnifying glass to find out the cost of the "can't live without it" item described? And then sometimes the only price quoted is what it costs per month. For a paring knife? I personally want none of those financial surprises and the beautifully executed but incomplete brochure winds up in the wastebasket.

Cockroaches

Cockroaches, long suspected of carrying disease, have now been found guilty of spreading Salmonella food poisoning. This is the disorder associated with acute diarrhea, stomach cramps, vomiting and sometimes death.

It is not generally considered very dangerous, but one adult poison victim in 10 may be killed. The record is even worse for children.

Some cockroaches acquire and harbor Salmonella bacteria in their bodies for a month or more. When they come across something particularly appetizing (such as cake) they gorge on it, and then vomit to make room for more food.

Another source of contamination is the cockroach's droppings, which are left all over the kitchen. Salmonella bacteria can live on glass for 34 days, on cornflakes for 62 days, and on soda crackers for 88 days.

Dr. Theodore A. Olson, who has made extensive studies of the cockroach, says many outbreaks of poisoning blamed on rats and mice may actually have been caused by roaches.

There is also evidence (though no proof) that infectious hepatitis viruses are spread by the cockroach.

In most homes, the insects can be controlled through the use of insecticides and powders, but if the population gets out of control it may be necessary to call in a professional exterminator.

Up in Lapeer County there's a man touting the use of farm manure to keep the roads passable. He says it melts the ice. Wonder what he's got to suggest for next spring when the breezes carry that thawed out aroma into every passing car.

We have reached our $2.50 for a POW/MIA bracelet with donations from our anonymous penny giver, and we're well on the way to a second start. Jan Lopucki, where's the bracelet?

The wisdom continues to accompany the pennies. "Action may not always bring happiness, but there is no happiness without action." "The common man concerns himself with people and things. It is only great men that truly occupy their minds with ideas."

Ingrid Smith contributes: "Dad scolded Jim for his low grade in spelling. 'What does it matter if I can't spell all the words right — as long as I know what they mean?'"

"'But do you?' asked the father. 'You might be like the Scot who thought the sign on the door said LADDIES!'"

For families who think they'd like to try the Recreation Department sponsored swim and gym sessions from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Sundays at the Pontiac Y and who don't feel they want to sign up for the whole ten-week session: Tim Doyle says you can pay as you go — $3 each Sunday.

Doyle also notes that there's still room for the teenage swim and gym classes, also at the Y from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Saturdays. A bus will provide transportation to and from Pontiac, leaving from Clarkston Junior High School. Cost of the eight-week session is $8 and all it takes to get aboard is a call to the Recreation Department, 625-8223.

Fire Chief Tink Ronk is now a life member of the Clarkston Area Jaycees. He was recently presented the honor for outstanding service to the community. Congratulations!

Councilman James Grannan of Fraser has been nominated for chairman of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG). The election will be January 26.

Proposed as first vice chairman is Homer Case, supervisor of Bloomfield Township. Conrad Mallett, a member of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, has been suggested for second vice-chairman.

Grannan has been a delegate from Fraser to SEMCOG since 1968 when it was formed. He served as chairman of SEMCOG's by-laws committee, as a member of the Governor's Task Force on Urban Imbalance, and is presently a member of the Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority.

Frank Gineman, tower chief at Oakland-Pontiac Airport for the last 11 years, ever since it was declared a controlled field, was feted at a retirement dinner Sunday night at the Voyageur in the airport terminal. Frank had been in government service for better than 40 years, but he wasn't a bureaucrat. It was he and his boys who used to signal, "Well, come on home" when a timorous Jean Saile checked in after a solo flight back in those student pilot days. The whole tower crew was tops and Frank had a lot to do with it.

Chuck Ferrere of The Prologue, Clarkston's new bookstore, reports a bonanza sale last week. He advertised 45 Civil War vintage books in Thursday's Clarkston News and by Friday he was telling the still arriving customers he was all out. That's the kind of news we like to hear. It does pay to advertise in The Clarkston News.

We hear there'll be six Miss Universe contestants working out Sunday at Pine Knob. Sounds like the scenery will be better than ever.

Tom Wilford, the Clarkston vagabond, has left for the international hot air balloon races in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Tom's spent a lot of time in Wyoming and has become a real fan of the Rocky Mountains. Possibilities for the future? Maybe a ship off the West Coast.

Township to get rid of trash

Clement Road — a winding dirt track between trees and bodies of water — connects White Lake Road to Andersonville Road in Independence Township.

It should be pretty, but it's not. Junk litters the roadways — here an old sofa waiting for company that never comes — there an abandoned bedspring — farther along an old refrigerator — even garbage bagged but left along the road. Out of sight, out of mind.

In other areas of the township, abandoned cars, some in front yards, some stacked beside a gas station — irritate the eye.

A commercial shopping center does not supervise its trash area. Boxes, bags and assorted papers blow down a hill into what might otherwise be a scenic area.

Independence Township has a litter problem, members of the township building department affirm. They'd like to clean it up.

Chief Building Inspector Ken Delbridge hopes a new system of warning violators might have the desired results.

Inspectors finding areas of serious violation throughout will be issued to the responsible party — in most cases the property owner.

Information will be made available to the violator as to where the junk cars can be towed or where the unsightly rubbish can be taken, and hopefully nothing further will need to be done.

If the problem is not resolved within 15 days, only then will a violation notice be written and the matter turned over to the District Court, Delbridge said.

He said a similar enforcement program in West Bloomfield Township from whence he came resulted in 75 percent compliance.

"A lot of times people just don't know where to get rid of the stuff," Delbridge said.

While he has the names of a couple of people who will haul away junk cars for free or a minimal charge, he is still having to route people with rubbish to the landfill south of I-75 on Joslyn.

"Independence Township needs a dump of its own. Most of the roadside littering would disappear if there were some other place where people could get rid of unwanted articles for free, or at little charge," he said.

The township shared a dump with Brandon and Groveland townships on M-15 north of Clarkston for some years, but it was closed two years ago when the Oakland County Road Commission found it could no longer maintain it economically.

TREASURE TROVE: on Clements Road.

Waiting for company that never comes.

THE TRASH behind a shopping center.

SCENIC DRIVE blocked by discarded appliances and furniture.

OLD CARS — unlicensed, outside a gas station.

COMMERCIAL TRASH BOX overflows.

Teen of the week

Clarkston Youth Assistance has chosen Ranette Byers, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Byers as Teen of the Week. A ninth grader at Clarkston Junior High School, Ranette is a cheerleader, student council representative, an honor roll student and a member of the Honors Band Club.

She takes part in the Methodist Youth Fellowship and sings in the honors choir and is a member of the honors handbell choir. She is also a Girl Scout.

Her hobbies are collecting cups from all over the United States, swimming, water skiing and ice skating.

Larsen outstanding Calvary layman

At its recent annual congregational meeting, Calvary Lutheran Church honored Wendell "Lars" Larsen, 6991 W. Church, as an Outstanding Layman. The recognition included a "this-is-your-life" reminiscence, authored by his wife, Judy, and read by the first recipient of the award, Ed Bey. A commemorative plaque created by Marje Hood from materials that make up Calvary's new classroom building was also presented.

Larsen was cited for his leadership of the classroom building project, adding 1,600 square feet of space to Calvary's facilities, in the pulpit committee and for having been "prayed back into the church choir" where he is singing after a 14 year "lay-off" from choral music.

New Council members elected at the meeting were Roger Graves, Jim Kiso, Betty Kratt, Bill Meredith (who served as the congregation's vice president this past year), Ed Waterbury and George Webster. Youth Advisory members elected were Cindy Heazlit, Esther Hoffman, Tim LeVigne and Mike McClean.

Also honored were Lois Bonner, who had served as treasurer for six years, the new treasurer Dena Kent, and retiring Council members Glenn Brancheau, Ken Craft, Marion Johnson, Bob Jones, Jr., and Bill Kushman.

Calvary's Pastor is Robert D. Walters.

Service news

Marince PFC Arthur B. Williams III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Williams Jr. of 5079 Parview Drive, has reported for duty at the Marine Corps Base, Camp LeJeune, N.C.

Schimmel named bank director

Louis H. Schimmel, Jr. has been elected to the Board of Directors of Pontiac State Bank according to Milo J. Cross, chairman and Edward E. Barker, Jr., president.

Schimmel is Executive Director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan. Organized in 1931 by some of the principal investment firms and banks for the purpose of supervising defaulted municipal securities, the Council has grown to be not only the principal source of financial guidance covering Michigan municipal bonds but also an influential factor in the improvement of the credit structure and bond ratings of local government.

The Council is the clearing house for banks, bond houses, trust companies and investors who have a continuing interest in Michigan municipal securities.

Mr. Schimmel, his wife Mary, their daughter Amy and son Louis reside at 2835 Sylvan Shores, Waterford Township.

Places to go, things to do

Clif Taylor, founder of the Graduated Length Method (GLM) for skiing instruction, will be conducting a clinic and certification for apprentices and professional instructors Thursday and Friday, January 25 and 26, at Pine Knob. The course includes lectures, movies, written, oral and on-the-hill exams in parallel skiing.

Fifth wheel travel trailers, just now coming of age in the booming recreational vehicle industry, will have a prominent place in the sixth annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show. The event opens Saturday noon, February 10 and runs through Sunday, February 18 in the Detroit Artillery Armory on West Eight Mile Road. Show officials explain that a fifth wheel travel trailer is one designed to attach over the rear axle of the tow vehicle, semi-truck style. The style allows the owner to tow a larger trailer with greater ease.

A special original musical composition by a Saint Mary's College student, and a movie connected with the life of Mikolaj Kopernic (Copernicus) will highlight "Polish Day, February 4 on the campus of the Orchard Lake Schools.

A special guided tour of Meadow Brook Hall at Oakland University in Rochester will be extended to the wives of scouters from the area and especially those attending the seminar and scouting conferences being held at the Oakland University Center on Saturday, January 27. Information on the tour and tea can be obtained from Mrs. Wallace W. Edwards in Pontiac at 682-8938.

A special exhibit entitled "Nature in Print" will be featured in a 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. exhibit February 3-18 at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford. Old and new books and field guides will be displayed.

More than 100 watercolors of costume and set designs from the Diaghilev era will be on view in the Detroit Institute of Arts South Wing Ground Floor galleries from January 30 to February 18. The display is comprised of sets created for the Ballet Russe in Paris for which Pavlova and Nijinsky danced.

Special once-a-month guided nature walks on Sunday mornings will take place during the next several weeks to help acquaint area citizens with a better understanding of the natural world around them. The walks are scheduled at Stony Creek Metropark near Utica and Kensington Metropark near Milford. The next walk is 9 a.m. February 11.

"A Fish-Eye View for Fishermen" is the name of an eight-week course being offered by Oakland University's Division of Continuing Education beginning January 31. Ronald J. Spittler, district fisheries biologist with the Michigan department of Natural Resources, will conduct discussions on lake and stream succession and on the relation of different kinds of aquatic life in each.

- To immediately arrange for painting of township name on all township vehicles.
- To establish policy of $1.00 charge for each copy made from township copy machine.
- After discussion regarding storm drainage in Bessie Foreman Estates it was agreed that all parties concerned would agree to work toward successful solution regarding the problems in this area.

Sashabaw sweeps Clarkston

Sashabaw cheerleaders Pam Bowman (from left), Denise Langdon, Jean Brown and Mary Smith had something to cheer about as the Cougars' basketball team defeated Clarkston 29-26 Saturday.

By Rick Langdon and Pat Shaw

The Cougars slipped past their arch rivals, Clarkston Junior High School, in a closely played basketball game last Saturday. The win was Sashabaw's third in a row giving them a 5 and 2 season at this point, as opposed to Clarkston Junior High's 2 and 5 record.

The game was tied 7-7 at the end of the first quarter with the Wolverines heading into the locker room at half-time with a 17-15 lead. Defense seemed to be the name of the game with third quarter action at 23-21 and the final score reaching only 29-26. Bob Fuller with 11 points and Tom Ross with 8 points were the Cougar high point men. Wayne Thompson with 12 points was high for the Wolverines.

The Sashabaw Cougars whipped the Milford Redskins 57-40 in last Tuesday night's basketball action. Sashabaw took command in the opening seconds and never lost the lead.

First quarter action saw the Cougars score frequently while playing excellent defense. The scores at the end of the quarters were:

	Sash - Milf.
1st quarter	18-10
2nd quarter	32-23
3rd quarter	43-26
Final quarter	57-40

High scorers for the game were Bob Fuller with 13 points and Steve Pearson with 12 points.

In wrestling the Sashabaw Cougars crushed the Clarkston Wolverines Friday night by a score of 60 to 3. Rowland Hayward and Dan LaBarge won their hard fought matches on decisions while Steve Howe, Ron Woodham, Randy Smith, Jesse Diaz, Floyd Thompson, Brian Comstock and Pat Cadwallader won their matches on pins.

Wednesday the Cougars wrestle Walked Lake Western at home in what could prove to be the toughest match of the season.
