By Jim Sherman

We are now setting type by a new, faster method.

Steady readers of this column have seen a statement similar to the one above 5 times since 1966. In seven years we have changed type setting systems for our newspapers five times.

Linotype, Justowriters, IBM Composer, IBM magnetic tape/selectric composer and now Compuwriter.

Obviously none have the endurance of the Linotype by Mergenthaler. The one in our shop is over 60 years old. We haven't plugged it in since moving to our new plant 14 months ago, but it ran when we disconnected it.

It set type by casting a lead slug. It's a fascinating machine of 4,000 moving parts. It was scary at first, but it's movements could be reasoned out.

The came the glorified typewriters, Justowriters (you had to have 2). An operator would punch holes in a paper tape on one machine, and when the story was finished, put the tape on another machine. The copy would print in justified column widths.

The IBM composer was much more sophisticated, though it proved to be a first step to in what appeared to be the ultimate in automated type setting for the weekly press.

The composer required setting a line twice to get the justified result. However, it wasn't a major time consuming duplication. The MT/SC had a memory bank and buttons and lights and was scary in that you couldn't figure it out.

This system stayed with us until this week. After 4½ years Compuwriters are edging out IBM. IBM representatives said I had to think about replacing their machines, thus another update.

Compuwriters are really different typesetters. They have only 3 moving parts. All setting is electronic. We get digital reading of the last 16 characters, we get beeps and buzzes, and we get nervous and jerky.

Our gal typesetters have no hard copy to read as they set. They have to wait until the photographic paper in the machine is developed to see what they have done.

Within a month we'll have two Compuwriters installed. By then the type setters will have no fingernails at all.

Just before switching to this electronic setter for copy such as you are reading here, we purchased an electronic machine for printing headlines and display faces.

This is another Compugraphic unit called a CG 7200. It, too, is all electronic and scary.

I feel pretty good about the way I've held the line on purchasing headline machines. This is only the 4th change. We went from hand set in 1955 to lead cast lines in 1956, to phototype (Headliners) in 1968 to the 7200 in 1973. There are many others I could have bought along the way.

People in the trade tell me not to get too used to my latest purchases. "Put them on a 3-year write-off," they say.

Maybe in three years the laser beam printing system that sets 30 pages of type in a minute will be practical for weeklies. But then, why wait until something is practical. It spoils all the fun.

Deer Lake project causes concern

About 75 people turned out Thursday night to hear plans for the development of Deer Lake Woods at the north end of Deer Lake.

They questioned seriously and some spoke against the plans of Hubert Garner of Farmington who proposes 1470 apartments, condominiums and single family residences plus a 34 acre commercial development on the 372 acres involved.

The property lies between Deer Lake and I-75 and Holcomb Road and the Dixie Highway.

No formal application for the rezoning necessary to accomplish the plans is expected until February 22, spokesmen for the developers said.

Fear of pollution in Deer Lake brought about by the increased population involved in such a development appeared to be the prime concern of those presents.

Supervisor Robert Vandermark told the group that sewer capacity in Independence Township lines will not be able to accommodate the development. He said that of 5,227 tap-ins allowed, 3,107 will be put to use for current residents; another 1,000 is committed to Pine Knob development; 400 to Helwyn on Maybee Road; and 700 to the multiple project which will replace the proposed Singer Kaplan mobile home park on Clintonville Road.

A complaint against the project was filed with the Independence Township Planning Commission Thursday night. It contained 51 signatures and others in the audience asked if they, too, could sign.

Others present asked for a study on what such a development would do to existing roads, the lake, schools and taxes.

Concern over what would happen to rainwater drainage and the water table was also expressed.

In other business the commission approved final site plans for 121 multiple units on Andersonville next to the present Watersedge Development. Robert Tuscon is the developer of the property.

ADD THIS GRAPH (in case I forgot it) "That leaves just 20 taps, and they're probably taken too," Vandermark said.

Ted Lindsay to address Jaycees

Clarkston Jaycees will hear Hall of Fame hockey star Ted Lindsay when they meet for their special membership meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, February 21 in the Green Room at Howe's Lanes.

Lindsay played for the Detroit Red Wings for 14 seasons and is currently a sports broadcaster for the NBC Hockey Game of the Week.

All interested young men between 18 and 35 are welcome to attend the event and become familiar with activities of the group.

They will learn the local club is part of 300,000 Jaycees throughout the country who serve more than 6,300 communities

Additional information is available from "M" Night chairman Larry Rosso at 625-2071 or Jaycee membership chairman, Dave Butler at 673-3491.

School embezzlement not likely in Clarkston

The embezzlement of $192,000 from Huron Valley School District is a situation that could happen here but it's not likely to.

Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent of schools, noted that if a man or woman is skillful enough, embezzlement is always possible. "It happens in banks and auditing firms," he reported.

The reasons why it's not likely to happen in Clarkston were, however, detailed by the superintendent.

"We allow no one to cash a check drawn on Clarkston Schools. All checks must go through the appropriate accounts and our banks are so instructed," Greene said.

He also reported that no accounts are paid, except by check, and that all supplies are ordered by purchase orders in triplicate.

"The purchase orders are noted and signed. When the orders are received, they are matched with the purchase order copies in the administrative office and with the supplier's billing.

"The authority to pay the bill is vested in the Board of Education. The bookkeeper verifies the purchase order against the billing; the data department cross checks; and the treasurer of the board checks the billing against the payment before final payment is made," he reported.

He added that the school district's total accounts are audited twice a year in Clarkston despite some district's habits of auditing just once a year or in the past not at all.

Dr. Greene added that all employees are bonded. He said the accounts were always subject to walk-in audits by the county, state or federal government.

He also credited the data process bookkeeping system as a precaution against embezzlement. "It's hard to fool the machines. An initial juggling means that an unending number of changes have to be continued and it just gets too difficult," he said.

"We've taken every precaution we of the auditing firm of James Moore of Birmingham know how," Dr. Greene said.

Clarkston Village Police Officers David Hodge, Gary Upcott, Bob Schwarze and Chuck Kimbel were early arrivals for a police training session last week. They're learning the operation of the radar system recently purchased by the village. The meeting room is the remodeled village council chambers which now affords a private office for police on duty at the rear of the Main Street building.

Players casting "Last of Red Hot Lovers"

"The Last of the Red Hot Lovers," a riotously funny comedy by Neil Simon, will be the next offering of Clarkston Village Players.

Jean Hendricks, director, has scheduled casting tryouts at 8 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, February 20 and 21 at the Clarkston Village Depot on White Lake Road. The cast is comprised of one male and four female parts.

Further information is available from Jean at 625-3335 after 6 p.m.

Plea for remedial reading programs made

About 45 people attended the Board of Education meeting Monday, half of them there to support a plea for a continuation of remedial reading programs which may be endangered by the federal government's announced plan to discontinue Title I financing.

The group presented a letter to the board asking that if Title I is discontinued would the board use local funds to provide a similar program eliminating, however, the age and economic restrictions of the students served.

Presently the Clarkston Schools have a kindergarten through third grade program for 120 children, financed by a $47,900 federal grant.

Co-op changes days

Independence center's food co-op will start distribution on Fridays as opposed to Thursdays beginning March 9, according to Marge Batchelder, president.

Mrs. Dorothy Neff, coordinator of the program, pointed out that a $3,000 or less income for most of the families whose children are enrolled in the reading program is a federal criteria.

While programs have been instituted at most of the elementary schools, the failure of the Clarkston Elementary area to meet the income criteria has resulted in no program there.

Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent, pointed out the federal program is not yet dead, but he added, if it dies, it will die because of this type of categorical restriction which has been placed upon it.

Noting the current quandary in school financing, he said, "Hopefully, when the smoke screen clears, we should be in a better position to provide such services."

Highway funds paid

The Village of Clarkston will receive $3,097 as its share in the fourth quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for 1972.

Lodge planning to seek re-election

Senator Lodge

The senior senator from Oakland County, L. Harvey Lodge of the 17th District, is looking ahead to another election campaign in the fall of 1974, despite rumors of his impending retirement.

Lodge, who represents Independence Township has had the district he will have to seek reelection in altered considerably as a result of Senate reapportionment arising from the 1970 census.

Now representing all of Lapeer County plus Pontiac, Independence, Waterford, Brandon, Addison, Oakland, Orion and Oxford townships, he will lose all but Pontiac, Independence and Waterford and pick up Holly, Groveland, Rose, Springfield, Highland, White Lake, Sylvan Lake and Keego Harbor and the top two tiers of townships in Livingston County excluding the cities of Howell and Brighton.

Several candidates have expressed interest in the district believing Lodge might favor retirement in place of reelection next time around, but Lodge says there's not much question about his seeking reelection. "I haven't actually made the decision, but I expect to go ahead and build these new areas."

He even looks at the new district as better in a lot of ways than the old one was. Starting at Fowlerville, it extends along his route home from Lansing.

"I expect to seek reelection if my health and mental conditions are all right," he told the Clarkston News.

Lodge serves as chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, is the ranking majority member of the Corporations and Economic Development Committee, the ranking majority member of Natural Resources, Environment and Tourist Industry Committee, a full member of the Legislative Council, a majority member of the Joint Committee on Water Resources, and has been and probably will continue to be chairman of both the House and Senate Joint Committee on Conflict of Interest and Medical and Hospital Malpractice.

As chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, he headed the special committee to investigate Blue Cross and Blue Shield; and as chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee headed the committee continuing study of no-fault insurance.

On the latter, he is expected to make an appearance at 10 a.m. March 9 before the State Supreme Court asking for an advisory opinion on the legislation.

Lodge is also committed to an effort to save the Oakland County Hospital.

He recently wrote the Oakland County Board of Commissioners, "If you are going to abandon it, (the hospital), then you should forthrightly tell the people who are responsible for the failure to get the license renewed."

"In the past when people were moved from that hospital, they died within less than two weeks, and this is what I fear—that these people who are so happy, so well cared for, might have to be moved out to the inadequate care of rest homes and they, also, will find their way soon to the grave."

He concluded, "I trust that you will take immediate action and show the Health Department that you have not alone an intent, but a determination to improve these facilities and continue the license and, undoubtedly, save the lives of these people who are happy even in their great misfortune because of loving care."

Lodge postscripted his letter, "This is not an attack upon the nursing homes, but most of them do not have the facilities, the oxygen, and the means of caring for these people who need extended care, and who need hospital care rather than rest home care."

Hospital improvement was voted by the Board of Commissioners last year, but the new board which took office January 1 stopped the contracts and were to make a new decision regarding the hospital's future later this month. The current license permitting hospital operation is due to expire June 30 unless a lengthy list of improvements are undertaken.

We hear a lot of bad jokes about political pollution. Politicians often fill the air with verbal pollution, and not long ago a frustrated lobbyist suggested that a load of solid sanitary land fill could appropriately be placed between the ears of one local politician replacing the traditional ceremony upon closing a community dump. In any event he said, "It would be a public improvement. The guy hasn't had an original thought in 15 years."

Politics and pollution have come together in another interesting way in our county.

During the past summer it came to public attention that a beach on Sylvan Lake had to be closed. Children could no longer recreate. The lake was too polluted for bodily immersion. That is a good thing to know. So signs were posted and only the foolish dared swim for fear of hepatitis and other such germs.

My interest in the problem led me to inquire whether the Sylvan situation was merely a sign of things to come in this county of lakes. I learned that concerned residents of the Sylvan-Otter Home Owners Association were seeking answers as well.

They received a lot of answers. The most frequent being that it took a long time to muck up the lake and it will take a considerable amount of time to restore it.

Though some bodies of water are thick enough to walk on, and one even caught fire, I decided to let others tread there. I checked into the political mechanisms that impede, ignore, or prevent people from getting results.

There is no established line of communication between the governmental agencies responsible for the pollution of Sylvan and/or other area lakes. The city closed the beach, but for years the county drain office knew of the problem, and there had been little, if any, communication between the two.

One of the best things the preceding drain commissioner accomplished during his brief appointive tenure was to hire an environmentalist. He found a good man in Bill McEntee. Bill met with residents after hours, sometimes well into the night, and took a special interest in their problem.

An environmentalist by nature and degree, McEntee realized that their problem was caused by many factors, but saw to it that any contributing factors for which the drain office may have been responsible were checked out thoroughly.

Now because of politics McEntee is gone. He did a good job, but the former drain commissioner who hired him is of a different political persuasion than the present drain commissioner.

That kind of thing makes a difference to political people. Sadly it may make a difference in terms of the pollution problem.

Broomfield proposes tax relief

Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-19th District, has introduced a bill affording homeowners income tax relief for the expense of connecting to a sewer system.

Broomfield contends such relief would provide an incentive to homeowners causing them to switch from polluting septic systems to nonpolluting sewers.

He notes that the cost of the conversion could range from $500 to several thousand dollars.

He feels further that the incentive would make it easier on governmental units which have in some cases had to choose between further pollution by septic tanks or a moratorium on home construction.

Broomfield is sure that the quality of lakes, ponds, and streams would improve as septic tank use was discontinued.

The great American getaway by Marilyn Lawrence

Tuesdays usually aren't all that hot, but they're a darn sight better than Mondays. Gerry arrived home from a four day business trip with a suspicious tan around the collar, (hard day on the golf links, baby?) and a look that said "tell me in the morning." I reached out to welcome him and got an armload of dirty laundry in the face. Three seconds later he was out cold and snoring.

So much for Monday.

Tuesday morning I was shlepping around with a full garbage bag that had sprung a leak, when the phone rang.

"Good morning, you gorgeous hunk of woman."

"Is this an obscene phone call? Do you mind if I take notes? It's my first."

"This is your brilliant husband, who has just come up with a fantastically wicked plan for the Great American Getaway."

"How do I play?"

"First you run out and get a bottle of champagne and four TV dinners."

"Are we christening a battleship?"

"Then you loll around in a perfumed bath, or whatever you do while I'm out providing for my family. Then you pack an overnight bag containing two champagne glasses and a transparent nightie."

"Look, the best I can do is the flannel pajamas you gave me for Christmas."

"Then just pack the glasses and champagne. I intend to take you out for a candlelight dinner, ply you with a couple of martinis, and take you to a motel."

"But we're MARRIED!"

"Why should single people have all the fun?"

"But the children — they'll think I'm running away from home, and Lord knows I've threatened it often enough! What'll I tell them?"

"Tell them we are going out for dinner. I'll leave a sealed envelope within our whereabouts with Jeff that he's not to open unless the house is burning, the pipes burst, or one of the kids is bleeding from a major artery."

"You're leering. I can hear you leering!"

"You betcha. Be ready to leave at six-thirty."

"You know what you are? You are a Dirty Old Man. I'll be ready at six."

I packed up the champagne, scrubbed three floors, the dishes, a mountain of laundry, and kicked around a few dust balls.

"Mommy, what's in the suitcase?"

"A present for an old friend."

"Who spilled perfume all over the bathroom?"

"It's bath oil, and I'm wearing it. Finish your dinner. It's almost six o'clock."

"Why do you keep smiling and humming? You never smile on Tuesday."

"Eat your chicken, kid."

Yoga exercise offered for adults

Yoga, the scientific method of simple body movements which stress deep breathing, relaxation and stretching, and help a person to live an active life in harmony with himself and the world, will be offered in a new class for adult men and women beginning February 23.

Classes are scheduled for 10 to 11:30 p.m. for those who are not free to attend the regular evening sessions. They will be conducted in the second floor of the Independence Township Hall.

Fee for the eight-week course is $10. Registration is being accepted by the Independence Township Recreation Department at 625-8223, or participants may enroll the first night of the course.

We need variety

Upgrading of an area is fine, providing the needs and desires of the people who live there are kept in mind.

We think that process failed last week when a developer found he would not be able to build two homes on lots of 11,300 square feet each in the Woodhull area.

The turndown came because 12,000 square feet is the minimum lot size afforded in our zoning ordinance.

The people who live there indicated they would be pleased to see the homes constructed on what had previously been vacant commercial property.

Granted, appointed and elected boards cannot hope to maintain sound government without adhering to the governing laws, but maybe it's time to rethink some of those laws.

In this particular area there are homes built on 50 foot frontages as well as 150 foot frontages. The developer proposed 75 foot frontages for both homes.

Such a lot is not a small lot, and whether we choose to like it or not, there are people who prefer living in smaller lots with less outdoor upkeep.

The Woodhull area is one of the few in the township where lot sizes have not made housing costs prohibitive for those who would like the privacy of a home but cannot afford to buy in the "high rent" area.

We suggest a review of the ordinance with the goal of providing various modes of living for the various kinds of people who live here.

Small lots all over the township would be just as wrong as nothing but three acre lots, or nothing but multiple developments. We need the variety — both in lot sizes and people.

Death to Deer Lake

Editor:

It was a heart breaking experience to sit through the hearing, or as it was called, "The Developer Conceptual Proposal" for the North end of Deer Lake, which was referred to as Deer Lake Woods.

The proposal involved 1500 units of multiple and single dwellings with some of the multiple units hugging the shore line of Deer Lake.

It was an ill conceived proposal which should be stifled even before it gets off the drawing board.

The developer's contempt and arrogance in his efforts to obliterate one of the few scenic areas in Oakland County can only be explained as one's complete disregard for nature and his fellow man.

The grave yard of dead lakes in Oakland County are a mute testimony to the ill planned and uncontrolled developments along what used to be some of the most scenic areas in the country.

The developer is doing it for one reason, and one reason only; his only concern is the utilization of the land for a maximum return on his investment.

Will the developer held responsible for the increased traffic, the crime that follows multiple dwellings, the pollution of the lake and for the destruction of a quality of human life?

Until the developer can make a more comprehensive and less destructive proposal, the re-zoning of the north end of Deer Lake from single to multiple dwelling should not be considered.

Everyone needs a DPH

Professional baseball, American League variety, is showing the rest of us how to live. What this world needs is more Designated Pinch Hitters (DPH).

There may be some of you who don't know what I'm talking about. Generally, it is hard for me to communicate with anyone who wouldn't faint at the sight of Hank Greenberg. But herewith is a quick explanation of DPH for all you opera lovers . . .

Historically, with the exception of guys like Red Ruffing and Freddy Hutchinson, pitchers have been lousy hitters. Which is really not as unbalanced as it might sound because it is just as historical that hitters are lousy pitchers. I remember once when outfielder Rocky Calovito tried pitching. He was so wild all people sitting within 50 yards of home plate were automatically placed on the endangered species list.

Of course, there are some hitters who not only can't pitch, they can't hit, either. They are generally called fielders when they are on defense. When they are at bat, they are called bums. DPH will have an effect on the lives of baseball players who can't hit because they are pitchers, and also upon the lives of players who can't hit because they are bums.

Another thing: DPH will also make a big change in the lives of players who can't pitch and can't field but can hit. There are a lot of these players. They are generally known as big bums except when they get a hit. The Detroit Tigers have a couple of these non-fielding hitters. One is Frank Howard who is so big that, during night games, the other players have to keep telling him not to stand in the light. Howard can hit a ball 52 miles but he can't hang onto a ball unless it is mailed to him in a box. The Tigers had planned to station

Howard in deep centerfield this year, with the American flag tied to his head. But now they can use him as a DPH.

By now, DPH is probably clear to even those readers who never had beer dripped on them from the upper deck. The idea is that the pitcher, or maybe the slick-fielding bum, won't bat anymore.

Say the Tiger pitcher is Mickey Lolich. Your sick grandmother on crutches can hit better than he can. So when it is Lolich's turn to go to the plate, he sits down instead. Frank Howard takes his place. (Unless your grandmother is available.) This goes on for the entire game but Lolich can keep pitching and Howard doesn't have to try to catch the ball unassisted by a mailman.

I probably should have pointed out earlier to you opera lovers that, under the old rules, Lolich could not have returned to the game after Howard batted for him the first time. He would have taken "an early shower" as clever sports announcers are often heard to say. Under DPH, Lolich will work longer between showers which may cut down on the number of conferences between Lolich and his catcher.

Also, before DPH, Howard could not bat for Lolich more than once unless he also played a defensive position, usually left field or 1st base depending on which way his manager wanted the field to tilt.

Now that you understand what a Designated Pinch Hitter is, you can certainly see how wonderful it would be if we all had one. I am a marvelous driver, for instance, but I am no good at changing license plates. My DPH would do it for me.

You might be good at reading the financial pages, but lousy at reading this type of nonsense. Your DPH could read it for you. I'd part his hair with participles.

I'm no otom-aton

by Jean Saile

One time back in Saginaw I got on radio as a news reporter and told about how the watchman had kept an all-night vigil after some disturbance there.

Only I pronounced it "viggle".

They never let me near a microphone again.

Pronunciation of words has never been my strong point. I pronounce words like they're spelled — probably because I do a lot of reading and a lot of writing.

You'll know how long ago this was, but another time George Burns and Gracie Allen were talking on TV and Gracie said she was being "mizzled". I knew exactly what she meant, but George didn't.

For years I'd watched the heroines of the books I read get misled, only until that night I thought they were getting "mizzled," too.

Over the years I have built up a whole category of words to avoid in conversation

Intricacies is a bad one. To spell it correctly, I've always given it another syllable. That's not proper, and it's caused me some grief.

Emeritus used to give me trouble. I pronounced it correctly, but there was always the sneaking suspicion it ought to be emer-eyetus.

I'm ready to take on the experts, however, over the use of automaton. Auto-may-ton has been good enough for me for years and now all of a sudden I find out it's otom-aton. When it derives from automation? Or is it otom-ashun?

There have been times in my past when I have fallen into the trap of repeating public figures who use words incorrectly and frequently.

A county official at one time was enthralled with usurp, but he called it "upsurp". He also had the habit of referring to a three-man board as a "try-oka" rather than the troika it was.

He tricked me. There was a time when I didn't know whether troika or try-oka was correct.

Probably the source of my problem is a case of lazy ears, but I wonder. It may be inherited. One of the children has a worse problem than I do.

It's such fun to tell him about it. For years I've had to sit and listen to others correct me.

The President of the United States is obviously the most influential member of whichever political party elected him. Therefore, he is the leader and Chief of that Political Party. When he leads on an issue of public concern, it is expected that other members of his party — particularly those with similar responsibilities — will follow. Thus, it is not surprising that Republican members of the Congress are lining-up on the President's side in the Battle of the Budget which has just commenced on Capitol Hill.

Out in the provinces, however, the situation is a little more confusing. Michigan's Governor Bill Milliken, a loyal Republican and an admirer of Richard Nixon, has raised a mild protest against budget cuts which would — in the governor's view — adversely affect our state. He has been joined by a chorus of local officials, all of whom seem to view the President's proposed fiscal year '74 budget as some sort of atrocity. Perhaps this is to be expected. State and local governments, after all, have become addicted to the soothing taste of massive federal programs. Few are prepared to go it alone — "cold-turkey!"

On the other hand, Nixonian Federalism implies a complementary or reciprocal relationship between federal and state governments. A decrease in federal programs, bureaucracy and red-tape is automatically paired with an increase in state activity — to more appropriately and more efficiently deal with the real problems and needs of our people. The President visualizes a spending see saw — with federal activity going DOWN, and state activity coming UP.

The Governor's school finance message to the Legislature (via the news media and the public) last week, and his proposed budget for 73-74 (which was delivered to the legislator's empty desks after they had returned home for the weekend), does not fit easily into this pattern. While the President suggests less federal support for schools, and implies a greater effort by the states; the Governor suggests less state concern, and more effort by local school districts, communities, and local taxpayers. Two "zigs"; but no "zag!"

Obviously, someone was not paying much attention at the last Republican Governors Conference, when Spiro explained the Nixon program for a "new federalism."

Now, local school officials must choose one of three alternatives:— 1) ask their Congressman and U.S. Senators to oppose the "President's budget;" 2) ask their legislators to oppose the "Governor's budget;" or, 3) ask local taxpayers to levy against themselves additional property tax millage to pick up the slack resulting from federal and state de-emphasis of school funding programs. What a choice!

Group has name change

Independence Land Conservancy, formerly the Independence Township Conservancy, will admit members from outside Independence Township, but they won't have any voting rights unless they're elected members of the board of directors.

The group held its annual meeting Thursday night at the township hall, electing Jean C. Benzing, Carl A. Brendle, Nelson Kimball, James J. Lowe, Janet McCord, Arthur Rose and Jerome S. Wilford to an expanded board.

Main topic of conversation was the intended Deer Lake development which members had heard about as they sat in on an earlier Township Planning Commission meeting.

Particular interest was expressed in the owner's stated intention to give some of the lake property to the conservancy.

Tell it to Bob

by Bob Brumback

Clarkston schools special service director.

A program has been planned for March 13, 20, and 27, 1973 that I think should be of interest to parents of teenagers. The program will explore human sexuality and will be geared to both parents and their teenagers.

Human sexuality is not a subject to be pushed under the rug. It is not a subject that can be dealt with in isolation by the family, the church or the school. It is a subject to be faced by parents in conjunction with the total community and dealt with in a planned, mature fashion.

Human sexuality is much more than a person's sex life. It refers to understanding human anatomy, the reproductive process, self concepts, values, feelings, attitudes and responsibilities. It also includes an understanding of puberty, menopause, venereal disease and family planning.

I have found that human sexuality is one of the most difficult areas for parents and teenagers to communicate about. Parents often attempt to conceal their own sexuality from their children. They also often assume their teenager is not capable of understanding or dealing with sexuality. If that were true — and I doubt it — it would indicate a definite role for the parent to take in helping their youngsters understand their sexuality.

In reality, teenagers are already involved with their sexuality. They are often very involved in their own bodies, sometimes fearful of facing their own feelings, often confused about what is right or wrong. They already have opinions about birth control, abortion and VD and if they are not directly involved sexually, they usually know several people who are. I found it interesting in our survey of high school students last year that most students felt their sexuality was not something to be related to their parents. That rings terribly of sexuality being a bad thing that you keep hidden.

Human sexuality is a very definite part of our society. You cannot avoid involvement in your youngster's sexuality. If you avoid the issue you give the message that you are not concerned or that you can't handle it. If you just lecture, you turn off communication. I personally feel that it is healthy if parents and teenagers discuss their feelings and attitudes and really listen to each other; to hear together authorities and then discuss your reactions; not to just accept what others say but to tell others how you feel and try to understand their feelings. You cannot force anyone, including your own children, to believe a certain way, but you can influence them through your own feelings, factual information and helping them to understand their own feelings. With all that confronts a person in our society that stimulates one's sexuality it is never too early for a parents to get about the business of having a part in how their youngster relates to their own sexuality.

I hope that you will watch for and attend the program on human sexuality.

There will be presentations by some excellent local sources and an opportunity for discussion. See you there!

Craig Moore, Clarkston News sports reporter and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore of 7150 Glenburnie, has been named Clarkston Youth Assistance Teen of the Week.

Craig, 17, a senior at Clarkston High School, belongs to the Pep, Drama and Ski clubs at the school. He also received a scholarship to Cranbrook Summer Theater School and is active in Boy Scouting, having attained Eagle rank and attended the World Jamboree in Japan.

Craig commentates for St. Daniel's Church and works at Lourdes Nursing Home as an orderly.

Diamonds, no; counseling, yes

The Clarkston Area Jaycee plan for six baseball diamonds behind the Board of Education administration building off Clarkston-Orion Road has been sent back for further study.

Because of the large amount of fill needed to prepare the property, the board suggested Monday night that other school property scattered throughout the township or unused township property be considered.

The Jaycees did win approval, however, for a program to provide job counseling at Clarkston High School.

A session has been tentatively scheduled for March 1 in which representatives of occupations in need of more people will describe their fields.

Proposed fields included wholesale or retail sales, bookkeeping, accounting and office management, blueprint, drafting, local, state or federal government positions, medical occupations, data processing, climate control, law enforcement, food services, carpenters and occupations related to leisure time activities.

School nurses active in area

Nancy Clark and Jane Stanlonis are two women playing an important role in the health of the community.

Assigned to the Clarkston area as public health nurses, they also provide community nursing service to families in their homes.

A total of 624 people were counseled last year by the nursing service of the Oakland County Health Department with 292 families admitted to service. The nurses themselves took care of 361 problems and worked closely with school personnel in spotting and working with student problems, said a report presented to the Board of Education Monday.

Student expelled

Another Clarkston High School student has been expelled by the Board of Education for the remainder of the school year.

Action was taken following a hearing between the student, his parents and the board Monday night.

Class skipping and disciplinary problems were cited as the reason.

Student barometer

What was your first reaction when you saw your report card?
R.G.—Good.
Kim Bigger—I was happy.
L.G.—When I saw my card it had a C- on it and it looked like an E-, I went into hysterics.

Detkowski a winner

Clarkston Senior High's Rick Detkowski, a 17-year-old senior, has done an outstanding job on the mat for our school.

Rick has been wrestling for four years. During this time he has picked up 34 medals and five trophies. He has also taken first place in many a tournament, giving the school plenty of recognition, as well as himself. Rick was also named the Free Press Prep Star of the Week.

When asked what he felt was one of his most outstanding meets, Rick answered, "The Oakland County Christmas tournament." The tournament was held December 22 and 23 of 1972. Out of the 34 schools that attended, Rick took a first place.

Rick also gained high honor this past summer, when he won the opportunity to go to Rome. In the spring of 1972 Rick wrestled in the AAU Nationals. After taking a second in the tournament Rick spent three weeks in a training camp readying himself for the International tournaments. After all the time Rick spent training he only got to wrestle once, but this was not too bad since he did win.

Rick plans on going to college after graduation, but as yet has not decided which one he would like to attend. He plans to wrestle, while working in an industrial arts program.

Rick has hopes of someday making it to the Olympics. He said he would like to try out in 1976, if not to make it, just for the heck of doing it. As of now no definite plans have been made to further these hopes.

C.W.—Relief.
B.W.—Better than I thought.
C.W.—Oh my God.
M.B.—What is she going to say about all those skips?
D.R.—Just as good as I expected.
M.M.—I didn't believe it, I got better grades than I was expecting.
What were your parents' reaction when they saw it?
R.G.—They said I should bring some grades up.
K.B.—They were happy.
L.G.—They wanted me to bring my grades up to A's and B's.
C.W.—Nothing to me.
B.W.—My mom wasn't too mad - she was happy I got a D in math instead of an E.
C.W.—I can't cope with it.
M.B.—They said it was good.
M.M.—They were glad.

What do you think of the new attendance policy, and the placing of times missed in each class on your report card?

R.G.—I don't like it at all, get in too much trouble.
K.G.—It's okay I guess, anyway my parents know when and why I skipped.
L.G.—I like it, but you can't skip too many times.
C.W.—It stinks—you don't want your parents to know you skipped.
B.W.—If I could skip without it showing up, it would be alright.
C.W.—I don't like it at all.
M.W.—I don't like it, but who would.
D.R.—Don't care.
M.M.—I don't like it, got a lot in one class and none in another—got grounded from the car.

What did you find more disturbing, your grades or your absences?
R.G.—My grades, had no absences.
K.M.—My absences, I missed 13 times in one class.

L.G.—My grades, I never missed a class.
C.W.—My grades.
B.W.—My grades.
C.W.—My grades.
M.W.—My absences.
D.R.—My absences.
M.M.—My absences.

What did your parents find more disturbing, and what did they say about them?

R.G.—My grades.
K.B.—My absences, but they said nothing about them.
L.G.—My grades, my C- the most of all.
C.W.—They didn't say anything at all.
B.W.—My grades—try to bring up your math.
C.W.—My grades, work harder.
M.B.—They said I better not skip any more.

In the halls

The senior class will be sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins dance February 23.

Girls, here is your chance to have the date of your choice. Just ask the guy that you secretly admire to the dance. Don't forget to make him a corsage, original ones are the best.

The band that will be playing will be Sabbath Opera. The dance will begin immediately after the Varsity basketball game.

The ski club is planning a ski trip to Wolverine, Michigan. The ski weekend is planned to take place March 23-25. The cost of the trip is $40. This includes Friday and Saturday nights' lodging at Wolverine Sports Camp. The lodge will provide Saturday breakfast and dinner, and Sunday breakfast. The $40 also includes the bus fee.

The bus, provided by the Bee Line Bus Company, will leave from the high school parking lot at 4 p.m. on Friday, March 23.

The students going on the trip will be skiing at Boyne Highlands. They will be skiing all day Saturday and Sunday. All students will be under constant supervision by the faculty members.

The ski weekend is open to all students who wish to go. If you want to go, you must make a $10 deposit which cannot be refunded. If you are interested in going make your deposit as soon as possible; the trip is limited to the first 35 people making a deposit.

On Thursday, February 22 at 8 p.m. the Clarkston High School band will be hosting the West Bloomfield High School band in a combined concert in preparation for the band contest. It will also offer an opportunity for parents and local citizens to view the kind of music and high level of performance expected in a contest situation.

Under the direction of June Ludwig, the West Bloomfield band will perform "Wycliff Variations" by Paul Whear, and the "American Variations" by Jerry Bilik which is a panorama of ethnic melodies and rhythms of America.

The Clarkston band, directed by Keith J. Sipos, will perform the march, "Vilabella" by Kenneth Williams, "Procession of the Nobles" by Rimsky-Korsakov and the "Herbides Suite" by Clare Grundman.

Band contest for the Oakland County bands will be Saturday, March 10 at Fraser High School in Fraser. It is a competitive concert played by several county bands at half-hour intervals throughout the day.

Wolves win two

By Craig Moore

Clarkston's Varsity Wolves added two wins to their season record in last week's play. Tuesday, February 6, the Wolves handed the Waterford Township Skippers a 73-66 loss in overtime. Township is winless in 13 games this season. The following Friday, Clarkston boosted its league record with a 60-49 victory over the Bloomfield Hills Andover Barons.

Clarkston came out to win and had a quick 11 point lead over Township. The Skippers took advantage of Clarkston turnovers later in the quarter and put the game in a 19-all tie by the first quarter's end.

Township took the lead in the second quarter and held it until late in the period when Clarkston came back to close the half with a 35-31 advantage.

The Wolves stayed on top in the 53-47 third quarter, but things changed in the fourth quarter.

By the halfway point in the fourth period, Clarkston's 8 point lead had dwindled down to 1 point due to careless turnovers. The lead was exchanged back and forth in the remaining time and the quarter ended in a 61-61 tie.

In the three minute overtime resulting, Clarkston scored 12 points to Township's 5 points.

Clarkston's 12 points included baskets by Brittain, Feneley and Partlo and 6 of 9 free throws.

Darryl Brittain played a fine game, scoring 20 points and totaling 3 steals and 4 assists.

Dick Feneley scored 18 points and Dave Partlo added 16 points to the effort.

Feneley led rebounding with 11. Partlo and Mason swept in 7 apiece.

Clarkston hit 49% from the floor and 71% at the foul line.

The Clarkston JV beat Township's JV, 54-44.

Friday, February 9, Clarkston upset the Andover Barons, 60-49.

Andover the lead in the 16-10 first quarter and held it through the half, which ended 30-25 for the Barons.

Clarkston came alive in the third quarter and pulled into a 7 point lead. The period ended 44-39.

The Wolves stayed ahead in the final quarter, holding Andover to 10 points for the 60-49 win.

Dave Partlo led scoring with 23 points, 9 of 14 buckets and all 5 of his free throws. Gary Mason added 15 points.

Partlo also led rebounding with 16. Steve Philpott pulled in 7 bounds.

Clarkston shot 38% from the floor and 71% of attempted free throws hit their mark.

The Clarkston JV lost to Andover's JV, 60-58 in overtime.

The Wolves are now 7-8 on the season and 4-4 in league play.

Friday, February 16, Clarkston's Wolves will travel to Clarenceville to battle the Trojans. JV game starts at 6:30 p.m. and the Varsity game follows at 8:15 p.m.

Wendorf scores 18 points

Tom Wendorf, playing for the Andersonville Hawks, scored 18 points to lead his team to victory over the Andersonville Warriors 4-22 in Independence Township Recreation Biddy Basketball.

Tom scored in all quarters and along with five other boys proved that the eight-foot baskets are just right for 4th and 5th grade boys. With regular baskets, teams this age rarely score ten points in a game.

Gregg Dudler (10 pts.) and Randy Crandrill (8 pts.) also played well for the Hawks. Keith Gelow's 6 points was tops for the Warriors.

The Sashabaw Cougars, led by Ron Feneley's 12 points and Scott Himes' 10 points, defeated the Sashabaw Eagles 26-11 in a close game until the 4th quarter.

The Clarkston Steelers played nip and tuck with the Clarkston Killers and came out on top 19-6 after being behind at halftime. Scott Waterberry scored 11 and Guy McCallum scored the last two baskets to win for the Steelers. Rick Schebor had a hot hand for the Killers picking up a dozen points.

Paul Brown's 10 points were high for the Pine Knob Panthers who just beat the Clarkston Colts 14-13 in a rough and tumble game. Rick Lamphere scored 4 points to lead his team. Pine Knob's Terry Powell threw in a 20-foot jumper with 1½ minutes to play for the victory margin.

Next week's games are:
9:00—Andersonville Warriors vs. Clarkston Steelers.

10:00—Clarkston Colts vs. Sashabaw Eagles.

11:00—Andersonville Hawks vs. Pine Knob Panthers.

11:00—Clarkston Killers vs. Sashabaw Cougars.

Sixth grade basketball

Independence Township Recreation Junior League basketball for sixth graders got underway Saturday at Clarkston High School.

The Clarkston Bucks, coached by Kurt Richardson, defeated the Bailey Lake-Andersonville Celtics 65-15.

The Celtics' coach, Don Taylor, noted there are only five players on the Celtics and he'd like to see some more sixth graders turn out to help the team. Playing time is 9 to 10:30 a.m. Saturdays at Clarkston Junior High School.

Matt Jameson was leading scorer for the Celtics while Jim Brittain with 21 points, Dave Brown with 12, Scott Brumback with 12 and Scott Parker with 10 led a balanced Buck attack.

In the second game the Clarkston Lakers coached by Chuck Leaf defeated Conrad Smith's Sashabaw-Pine Knob Warriors 29-5.

The Lakers were led by Greg Robertson and Jim Walker who dropped in 11 and 12 points, respectively, while Eddie Christ was high for the losers.

The standings at the end of the first week of play are Bucks 1-0; Lakers 1-0; Celtics 0-1; and Warriors 0-1.

TOWN SHOP IN THE LEAD

Haupt Pontiac had to win its recent basketball match to stay in first place in the Independence Recreation League, but in the first quarter, the Credit Union had double the score 18-9 and went on to defeat Haupt Pontiac 59-55.

Both teams had good scoring with Doug Pierson for Haupt, and Tom Allen for the Credit Union, leading the scorers with 15 points each. Eric Ernst, Haupt Pontiac, and Kurt Maslowski, Credit Union, also reached double figures with 12 points and 11 points, respectively.

The second game saw the Town Shop win and move into first place with the defeat of G and M Sunoco. The Town Shop had good scoring with three in double figures, Dan Bullard and Don Powell with 19 points, and Mel Boomer with 15 points.

G and M Sunoco had a hard time finding the basket. Two scored in double figures: Dennis Diem with 13 points and Tim Doyle with 10 points.

The final score was the Town Shop 66 and G and M Sunoco 48.

CJH defeats Mason

The Wolverines of Clarkston Junior High posted their fifth win of the season by defeating Mason Junior High by a score of 58-55 February 8.

The lead exchanged hands many times during the game. The game was decided in the final period as the Wolverines outscored Mason 22-15. During this last period, Clarkston hit 8 of 11 foul shots to ice the game.

Tim Westover led all scoring with 20 points. Wayne Thompson scored 13 and Dave Brown added 10 points. Andy Madonio led Mason's scoring attack with 12 points.

On Tuesday, February 6, Clarkston Junior High traveled to Crary Junior High for an afternoon game. The Wolverines fell in their seventh loss of the season by a score of 61-56. At one point in the third quarter Clarkston led by 10 points; however, led by the outstanding outside shooting combination of Neal and Brackett who scored 19 and 18 for the game, Crary fought back and pulled out the victory.

Clarkston scoring was led by Tim Westover with 19 points, Wayne Thompson with 12 points and Tom Bosquez with 10 points.

Clarkston Junior High will now put their 5-7 record on the line next Tuesday, February 13 at Walled Lake

Western. The game is scheduled for 3:45 p.m.

Clarkston's next home game is Thursday, February 15 against Milford. Game time is 7 p.m. at the CJHS gym.

Early start on baseball

The Independence Township Recreation Department plans to get an early start for this year's Summer Baseball program. Planning meetings will begin next Wednesday, February 21, at 7:30 at Township Hall and will be held every two weeks until the official season begins on June 11.

"Many changes are needed to correct situations that arose last year," stated Bob Davidson who is returning for his second year as Baseball Commissioner. "If managers want to have a voice in planning and program changes, they should attend these meetings and work on one of several committees to be formed."

The first three meetings, February 21, March 7, and March 21 are planning meetings and attendance is voluntary. The first "Official Managers Meeting" will be on April 11, followed by the "Players Draft" scheduled for April 25.

CHS wrestlers win again

by Roger Zander

The Wolves wrestlers won their third straight league dual meet against Bloomfield Hills Andover by the score of 36-30. Clarkston's JV grapplers won by the lopsided score of 60-6.

The win gave the Wolves a Wayne-Oakland record of 3-2 and a season dual meet record of 4-4.

The CHS wrestlers are now preparing for the W-O League meet which will be held on Saturday, Feb. 17, at west Bloomfield. tell it to bob

Springfield board approves 3 subdivisions

by Betty Hecker

The Springfield Township board has unanimously approved plat plus plans for three new subdivisions in Springfield Township.

Marvin Menzies presented the pre-preliminary plat plans for "Menzies Highlands," 33 lots at Andersonville and Farley Roads. He answered questions and furnished information to the board members about size of the lots (100' x 250'), and the relationship of the lots to the existing roads, and road easements. The board approved his request.

Claude Trim, township supervisor, showed plat maps and supplied information for Delaney Lanes Subdivision, 13 lots on Big Lake Road. This subdivision was platted by Underwood Real Estate and received the board's approval.

Al Valentine had already received the approval from the drain commission, the health department, and the county for his Ellis Creek Estates Subdivision No. 2. He submitted preliminary plat plans for seven lots at Ellis and Holcomb Roads. It was approved.

A rezoning request was denied to Heinz Isecke, 3270 Hilton Road, Ferndale. Isecke asked the board to rezone a lot on Shindler Road so that he might install a 400' Radio Active Communication tower. Supervisor Trim expressed concern about the height of the tower and that the area where the tower is proposed is in the holding pattern for aircraft landing at Pontiac Airport. The board denied the rezoning request and Trim suggested to Isecke that he look at property that is already zoned commercial.

Unhappiness with Sheriff contract

Trim reported that he has in the last weeks received many complaints from "irritated citizens" about the lack of police protection in Springfield Township. The board discussed the contract made with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department on May 1, 1968. The board felt the Sheriff's Department had not fulfilled the contract and unanimously voted to cancel it.

Trim reported that he had an appointment the following day with officials at the Sheriff's Department and would convey the board's decision.

The board discussed the need for a full time law enforcement officer and the beginning of a Springfield Township Police Department. Trim said he had talked with Jim Halsey, the township constable about the position. Halsey would need 240 hours of training to become a qualified law officer. Margaret Samuel, township treasurer, reported attending a meeting where new Oakland

Davisburg Jaycees honor Roger Horton

Davisburg Jaycees recently honored one of their members with the highest award in Jaycees, membership in the Junior Chamber International Senate.

Roger has twice been president of the Davisburg Jaycees and has held every other office during his ten-year membership in the organization.

He is presently a Springfield Township Trustee and is active in many community service projects.

County Sheriff, Johannes Spreen, proposed an expansion program and a new sheriff department for the northwestern section of Oakland County.

The board voted to table the issue of a full time township officer for one month and to investigate plans being made by the sheriff's department.

Since duties of the constables are vaguely defined by the state, the township board voted to pass an ordinance that the supervisor would designate in written form, the duties of each township constable.

The township received three applications to fill the office of constable which the township board vacated at the January meeting.

Art Ball, 66-years old, retired from General Motors, and a part-time security guard at the Pontiac Mall was given the job over the other two applicants, Duane Davison of Clark Road, and Donald Beck of Eli Road.

Power line approval

Detroit Edison Company representative Robert Kelly and Detroit Edison attorney George Hogg, Jr. requested approval of plans to allow the construction of hi-voltage power lines across the northwest corner of Springfield Township, crossing three roads, Rattalee Lake, Holly, and Tucker Roads. The power line is the main line connecting all of Southeastern Michigan, passing through Monroe, Washtenaw, Oakland, Livingston, and St. Clair counties. Hogg said, "It's the expressway of power" comparing it with I-75 as the expressway of travel. The board gave the approval.

After advertising that the old furnace from the township hall would be sold on sealed bid, the board accepted the only bid submitted, that of William G. Walters in the amount of $30.

Gabier says absence policy working

Assistant Clarkston High School Principal Jan Gabier told the Board of Education Monday night that a new attendance policy at the school is working.

"I'm very pleased," she said.

The policy has eliminated the daily check on absent students, concentrating instead on parent conferences when a student's rate of absence interferes with his or her school work. Miss Gabier said.

Among plus factors she cited the removal of the school from the role of judge in determining the validity of an excuse, the saving of office time, and the increase of parent-teacher communication.

Miss Gabier said daily absences are down as a result of the policy, but she had no indication of how hourly absences had been affected.

Tennis Club construction halted by order

Where Milzow intends to put his tennis club.

Builder Forrest Milzow has run into a court restraining order, at least temporarily halting the construction of the Deer Lake Racket Club on White Lake Road near Deer Lake Road.

It's halted until he gets a building permit, according to Supervisor Robert Vandermark.

Vandermark said complaints from nearby residents who feared disruption of the area's drainage flow had prompted him and Building Inspector Ken Delbridge to ask Milzow for a halt to excavation which began in the area last week.

Milzow has a request for site plan approval for a 123' by 222' square foot tennis club building before the Independence Township Planning Commission. Until it is approved there, he can be issued no permit, Vandermark said.

"We also need engineering approval," said the supervisor. "It appears that a large natural swale is being filled in by Milzow and that it could cause flooding problems in neighboring properties."

The supervisor said a drain obstruction ordinance in the township also provides that building permits must be obtained if it appears that natural drainage flow might in anyway be altered by proposed construction.

Milzow contended he was just balancing up some land, getting ready for construction, but he said he hoped to have a valid building permit by February 22.

The building is to contain four indoor tennis courts, two sauna-baths and two whirlpools, Milzow said. He said both a men's and women's pro have already been hired.

CANCER SEMINAR — independence center is sponsoring a Friday Night Seminar Series. The first seminar, Cancer — Fact and Fiction, will be put on by The Michigan Cancer Foundation. The Program will be held Friday, February 16, 1973 from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. at independence center, 5331 Maybee, Clarkston.

According to John Krayling, speaker from the foundation, the program won't make you laugh, but it may save your life. He will discuss the latest advancements in treatment and cover the procedures for early detection. Mr. Krayling will, also show two films, "Cancer — Fact and Fiction" and "Smoking Verboten".

Refreshments and a question-answer period will follow his presentation. Those attending will be asked to fill out a questionnaire to determine what topics future seminars will cover.

FOOD CO-OP — The food co-op is temporarily closed to new memberships. The chairmen of the co-op feel there is an urgent need for more trucks vans, or campers to transport the food from Detroit. Presently, there is just enough vans available so the same people must drive every week. In the event of a last minute cancellation of engine problem, a truck must be rented at the last minute on Thursday morning, which leads to time delays.

People who have signed up to work for the co-op will be contacted by phone if they are needed by the chairman of that job assignment.

Due to conflicts at the center with others who use the building on Thursday the co-op will change to Fridays starting March 9. It was started on Thursday to allow the buyers to go with other co-op groups from the area. They now feel qualified to go to the market on Friday.

TAX-EXEMPT STATUS — independence center has been granted a tax-exempt status, retroactive to May 1, 1972, by the federal government. All those who have supported the center or plan to, may deduct contributions for their personal income tax.

CENTER NEEDS — There seems to be a continuing need at the center for children's clothing. Zells Benson, chairman of the Food and Clothes Closets says "Children's clothes are taken out by families in need as fast as they come into the center." The centers kitchen is four T.V. stamp books away from a large coffee pot for use by group gatherings.

THANKS — The members of i.c. would like to thank all the Clarkston Council Campfire Girls who have given "Baby Showers" and donated the gifts to the centers Clothes Closet.

Thanks, also, to Boy Scout Troop 133 at Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church for donating clothes to the center.

Rehabilitation

The National Health Survey estimates 18 million Americans are physically disabled (deaf, paralyzed, blind, crippled) and another six million are mentally retarded.

There are many sources of help for the handicapped, but a vast number do not receive the care they need because they don't know what rehabilitation can do, or where to go for help.

Vocational rehabilitation starts with medical treatment, then an evaluation to determine if employment is possible. If it is, the program provides help in setting appropriate goals, in learning a new kind of work, and in job placement.

The blind, with their keen sense of touch, make superior workers with small parts in the electronics industry. Deaf persons aren't affected by office noise and work well as tabulator or key-punch operators. Cerebral palsy victims have been trained to use precision hand tools, and paraplegics work productively on assembly lines.

Much effort must be directed toward emotional adjustment, which is often a greater obstacle than physical adjustment.

Although the handicapped pay back $7 in taxes for every $8 of training cost, the need for more rehabilitation services is hampered by a lack of money. About 4 million persons are waiting for therapy, and about 500,000 disabled are added to the population every year.

Independence dropped from Mental Health Center area

A public hearing is set for 8 p.m. February 20 in the Oakland County Board of Commissioners' Auditorium to discuss changes which have been proposed in the boundaries of area served by the comprehensive North Oakland Community Health Center.

These changes have been worked out in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Mental Health, Pontiac State Hospital, the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board and many other agencies within the county.

The Center is a joint project of the State Hospital and the Mental Health Board, and was established in 1967 with the help of a Federal staffing grant. Located on the State Hospital grounds but independent from the Hospital, the Center has provided inpatient and outpatient care, partial hospitalization and emergency services to the 14-township area of Holly, Groveland, Brandon, Oxford, Addison, Rose, Springfield, Independence, Orion, Oakland, Highland, White Lake, Waterford, West Bloomfield.

Theodore Satersmoen, M.D., Director of the Center, explains that the new proposal calls for the Center to serve the Holly, Groveland, Rose, Springfield, Highland, White Lake, Waterford, Milford, Commerce, West Bloomfield Township area, as well as a southwestern section of the City of Pontiac.

The change, according to Pontiac State Hospital superintendent Donald Martin, M.D., is part of a larger plan to reorganize the inpatient services of the Hospital for all parts of the County.

Home has perfect kitchen

Betty Hecker

Markie and Dave Siple and children, Jim (10) and Jane (8) live in Springfield Township. They built their raised ranch home in 1969.

Markie said, "I mixed mortar, and helped all the way up to nailing on roof boards. But," she said, "this is the second house we've built. After we built the house next door in 1965, Dave gave up his physics teaching job and formed the building company of Siple and Angell."

With the experience of building the first house, Markie learned exactly what she wanted in her next one, and she thinks she has it. She said, "I have a perfect kitchen."

A large eight-foot long blue ceramic tile topped island counter with double stainless steel sink enclosed the dishwasher and many cupboards. The dishwasher is located in the end of the island closest to the table and eating area for convenience. The cupboard next to the dishwasher holds the "everyday" dishes, also close to the eating area, and since they are in the low cupboard, easily accessible for the children to set the table at mealtime.

Double kitchen closets with built-in shelves provides an ample nine-foot pantry space. Markie has a cart in the pantry that holds the toaster, cereals, sugar bowl, salt and pepper, all the incidentals you need at breakfast time. She simply rolls it out next to the table, plugs it in and said, "It's very convenient."

The counter of the wall cupboards is also covered with the easy to clean blue ceramic tile. A Nutone Center built in the counter top provides a blender, ice crusher, meat grinder, slicer, shredder, and mixer, all with a single base.

Another convenient feature that Markie described as "beautiful" is the electronic oven which sits on the counter next to the large, self-cleaning double oven and range.

The Siple living room has gold shag carpeting, 24 feet of gold colored draperies for the two door walls opening on the redwood deck, glitter in the textured ceiling, and a beautiful white velvet sofa.

The dining area is accented by the cork and gold veined mirror tiles that form five three-foot vertical panels on the wall. The buffet is centered on a cork panel, and on the buffet is a family heirloom cut glass water jug, dating back to the 1890's.

Serpentine sofa dominates the brightly lit living room.

In Dave and Markie's bedroom is a unique headboard table for their king-size bed. Markie said, "I took a sheet of plywood, and I had never used the big saw in the basement before. I cut the board on an angle, nailed 2 by 4 legs to it, covered it with a piece of left-over carpet, and I like the effect. I like that hanging lamp, too. We have three just alike throughout the house."

The bedroom has huge "his and hers" closets, an eight-foot deep storage closet, and private bathroom. The bath is striking with a red sink, black and red Spanish hanging lamp, black and red shutters and white walls.

The main bath has an "expresso" brown sink set in a soft gold color vanity.

The tile and floor are also a gold color and has what the kids call a hanging "pumpkin lamp".

The children have typical "kids rooms", Jim's in red, black and white. Markie re-upholstered a chair in zebra stiped fake fur for Jim's room. Jane has a blue and white "little girl's" room, with many bookshelves and plenty of room for her dolls.

The family has several pets, the dog, Sammy, who is a Boxer cross, and their Shetland Pony family, Smokey, Snickers, and as of last July, the pony, Sugar.

Markie said that to her country living means "spaciousness."

SPORTS
Go-Round

by Jerry Savoie

Whether you ski on water or snow, the hazards are admittedly many. Perhaps no other sport is so dangerous to life and limb as skiing, not even hunting for wild game. In fact, at the height of the winter skiing season, the Austrians examined the number of skiing accidents that occurred in their country alone. More than 70,000 accidents happened to skiers there — and that is just in Austria. Yet, since the experience or schussing downhill is unequalled to any other sport, it is no wonder that skiing has become one of the largest growing winter sports in the United States.

A basement floor which is level with or below the natural water level must somehow resist the pressure of the water. If your basement is a wet one, you can often apply waterproofing to the floor and to the outer surfaces of the walls. This involves digging a ditch around the house to the depth equal to the level of the footings at the base of the foundation. After this is done, waterproofing in the form of fibrous membranes applied with hot asphalt is the next step. As you can see, it is a complicated business.

There's nothing complicated about shopping at BOB'S HARDWARE, 60 S. Main St., 625-5020; you can easily make your selections from our large inventory of quality merchandise including the most complete line of Sherwin Williams paint in the area; Waterlox products; fiberglass air filters; and plumbing supplies. Governor on education

by Cathy Lessard

Undoubtedly the most significant occurrence in the legislature last week was the issuance of Governor Milliken's proposals on reforming educational financing and the introduction of bills to enact his proposals.

This was an event that we have all been anticipating due to the many problems our educational system is facing. The impending close of the Detroit school system in March due to lack of funds, and the State Supreme Court's decision that a state school aid formula which produces widely unequal dollars per student was inequitable and unconstitutional, mandated that the legislature find solutions.

Those problems were complicated by the fact that last November the people turned down proposals to reform the method of financing education. Any solution must correct the inequities in our present system without overriding the people's decision last November, not to make major changes in the property tax system. It appears that Governor Milliken has made proposals which will essentially meet and solve all of these problems, while still allowing for the tax cuts which he promised earlier.

PROPERTY TAX YIELD EQUALIZATION

Essentially what the Governor has proposed is to equalize the yield of each mill of property tax levied for school financing. For example, under the present system a district with a $5,000 state equalized valuation receives $5 for every mill of property tax levied, while a richer area with a $30,000 state equalized valuation received $30 for every mill of property tax levied. Obviously if the first district levies 20 mills property tax it will receive $100 for every 20 mills, while the second district will receive $600 for every 20 mills.

The Governor's proposal is to equalize these yields. This would be accomplished over a three year "phase-in" period. During the first year the state will guarantee $38 per mill per pupil - up to a maximum of 22 mills. The second year the state will guarantee $39 per mill per pupil—up to a maximum of 25 mills. The third year the state will guarantee up to $40 per mill per pupil on unlimited millage.

The end result would be that every school district will still have the option to determine at what level it will fund its schools, above a state minimum, and will, if it so chooses, have the opportunity to finance a level educational program that is currently possible only for 3% of the students of the state.

Through its state aid formula the state has been attempting for several years now to give assistance to those districts with low state equalized valuation, however it has never attempted to EQUALIZE the yield. The increase which this "equal yield" formula will mean over the past formulas is about $60 million according to the Governor's figures. The Governor has assured us that these increases can be met and still allow for the tax reductions which he promised.

WILL THE GOVERNOR'S PROPOSAL MEET THE COURTS REQUIREMENTS?

Governor Milliken believes that it will. The Governor said in his presentation, "The majority opinion (of the court) makes clear that EQUAL EXPENDITURES per pupil are not constitutionally required: The ruling in this opinion, for example, should not be misinterpreted to require absolute equality in the distribution of state educational resources in all cases with no recognition of reasonable classifications."

A new flag for independence center has been promised by Lt. Edmond Gamble Post No. 4626 of the Detroit VFW. Mrs. Violet DeGeorge of Sylvan Lake said she read about our campaign in The Clarkston News and took the matter up with her group last week. The money we've collected, better than $3, will be applied towards purchase of a flagpole for the center.

Penny giver — you with all the wisdom: The editor of this newspaper hereby challenges you to give up your anonymity. Meet me in May for a Walk for 'independence center.' And is it possible, though I'm not sure, that I might refer to you as Penny McGiver?

Chuck McBride has added another dollar to our flag pole fund. Thank you, Chuck.

The school's recently appointed safety committee is getting down to brass tacks. They're talking about getting Middle Lake Road from the high school to M-15 classified as a primary road which could mean eventual paving, I suppose. Since the road in question runs right by our house and since the springs of several of our cars have been loosened greatly from traversing the bumpy road, I can't say I'm unhappy. Traffic will probably increase considerably, but then it's doing that all over.

It's a pleasure to report: Betty Howe, the campaign manager for my late ill-fated venture into the political world, has been elected chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Party. She's a sharp gal, and I knew her when.

Three of the five free theater passes offered last week in The Clarkston News have made three people very happy. We'll hold the other two for this week only. Meantime there are five new names and five new passes hidden in the paper this week. It could be you, if you're a subscriber.

Clarkston United Methodist Youth Choirs under the direction of Mrs. Adele Thomas, left, participated with the church's other choirs in a program of sacred music January 28 at the Chelsea United Methodist Home. The program has become an annual treat for the residents of the home.

DeGrow-Hutchings

About 350 guests were present at the Gingellville Baptist Church February 10 to witness the exchange of wedding vows by Sandra Kay Hutchings of Pontiac and Raymond E. DeGrow Jr. of 4797 Lakeview Drive, Drayton Plains.

Pastors Bruce Benson and Clarence Bell performed the double ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. James Hutchings of 3719 Gainesborough, Pontiac, chose a white velvet gown and carried a bouquet of roses, gardenias and stephanotis with ivy leaves.

She was attended by her twin sister,

Sally Hoolihan, as matron of honor in pink velvet. Bridesmaids Gay Tinson of Davisburg, Sue Berridge of Pontiac, and Susan Griffin of Pontiac wore red velvet.

Douglas DeGrow attended his brother as best man. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DeGrow of 4694 High Street, Drayton Plains. Norman Davis, Michael Miller and Thomas Hoolihan seated guests.

A reception in the church parlor preceded the wedding trip to the south. The new Mr. and Mrs. DeGrow will live at 4797 Lakeview Drive.

A wedding in Texas August 25 is planned by Barbara Ann Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Boyd of 6726 Amy Drive. Currently a recording secretary for the U.S. Government in Washington, D.C., she will marry Benjamin R. Pounds, now serving with the Navy in Washington, D.C. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pounds of Palestine, Texas.

Mrs. Heil is still Co-op prexy

Clarkston Co-Op Nursery held election at their membership meeting and the results are as follows: President: Mrs. Fred (Mary Ann) Heil; first Vice President: Mrs. Stephen (Toni) Stamas; second Vice President: Mrs. Gerald (Carol) McNally; third Vice President: Mrs. Frank (Mary Jane) Chaustawich; Treasurer: Mrs. Robert (Dena) Kent; Secretary: Mrs. William (Bobbie) Kowalski; and G.D.C.N.C. delegate is Mrs. Floyd (Carol) Dobson.

The three-year-old nursery school class went on a field trip to Mars Pizzeria on February 8 to see the making of a pizza, which they got to eat after it was done. This week all the classes will have visited the Post Office to mail their Valentine cards.

No. 13 lucky for Doug

Springing up
by Betty Hecker

Norma and Wayne Bisball of Bridge Lake Road in Springfield Township had a victory party Sunday, to celebrate the winning of the International 500 snowmobile race that took place Saturday in Sault Ste. Marie.

Wayne and his brother, Doug of White Lake Township, compete in snowmobile races.

Saturday, Doug, wearing "lucky number 13" was a member of the winning team of Melvin Kitchen of Elmira, Michigan, and Dan Prevo of Traverse City, Michigan. Driving a Polaris "440" racing machine, owned by Kitchen, in temperatures about 2 degrees below zero, the three team members completed the race in nine hours and twenty-seven minutes. The red flag on the truck for more than 20 minutes slowed down the winning time.

Several accidents resulted in three broken legs, one broken arm, and other injuries to the unfortunate drivers, and three spectators were also injured.

Wayne said, "There must have been between 20,000 to 30,000 people there. There were five or six people deep all around the one mile track, plus all the people in the stands, and the people up on the hill overlooking the track."

Congratulations, Doug, and I hope you get a good cut of that $10,000 prize money.

Marcia Johnson of Hogback Lake Road in Springfield Township is a freshman at Northwestern University in Traverse City. "She loves college," reported her mother. "She won't even come home for a weekend. We have to go see her!" Marcia has been accepted on the staff of the college radio station, where she will be doing announcing. She is also a member of the college band, as the first chair flutist and piccolo player.

The Huttenlochters on Middle Lake Road in Independence Township are home from a "wonderful time" in Tucson and Sun City, Arizona.

Howard and Dorothy saw friends, visited, and traveled. "We studied the desert, and traveled the trails. I'm in love with the seguaro cactus with its huge arms," declared Dorothy. "We just had a wonderful time!"

Emery and Winona Pierce and daughters, Tami and Meladee, who live on Clark Road in Springfield are home from their two week vacation in Florida. They visited with Winona's parents, Clarence and Edna Smith in Brooksville, Florida, and with "our future home. We already have 10 acres there," reported Winona.

They saw Disneyworld, went to Key Largo, and took the Conch Train Ride through Key West. "We didn't get the connection between the conch seashell and the train ride, though.

"I really look forward to the shopping trip to Maas Brothers in Tampa every year. And we went shelling at Gasparella Island; that is a real paradise, what you call a 'Shangri-la,'" she said.

Tami took enough sea shells to school on Monday to give two each to the children in her class, Miss Bailey's third grade at Andersonville Elementary.

Army Private Ted Wagg, who was drafted in September, 1972, has completed his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He was shipped out February 2, on his way to Korea.

His wife, Bernice will live with her parents, Henry and Helen Kerzykowski on Norman Road in Springfield until Ted completes his tour of duty overseas.

Ted's mother-in-law said, "He's such a nice guy."

The Lakeland Hockey League had a family skating weekend in Amherstburg, Ontario, Canada for the families of the boys who play hockey at the Lakeland Arena. Brian Ladd is a member of the Perry Drug team and his mother, Beth, reported that of the 16 boys on their team, 14 families went. "It was a fun weekend; all the families got together for dinner at the motel, then family skating from 9 Saturday evening. The boys had their practice on Sunday morning. All the kids had a good time."

Last Wednesday evening, the Gertrude Atkins Circle of Clarkston United Methodist Church had a "Sweetheart Supper" for their monthly meeting, inviting the husbands and having a fun time. All the couples were told to bring a "white elephant" attractively wrapped. The "elephants" were the prizes for bingo games. John and Ann Rasmussen brought a live, large white goose as their "elephant," and when that game came up, Ann and Joohn both bingoed, winning their own goose. It was a cover-all game, and I wonder if everyone was really playing seriously?

Judi had her tonsils out. Last Friday, she submitted to the knife at Wheeler Memorial Hospital in Goodrich. Judi is my sister, Judi Anderson, and just a couple hours after waking up, her friend Debbie Peters of Church Street, Clarkston, arrived with a get well gift — a big bag of pretzels, and two red roses, one for each tonsil.

On Sunday, Judy Miracle and Mary Weeks gave a bridal shower for Carla Dutcher of Clarkston at Mary's home at 6287 Snow Apple. The 25 guests brought "pantry shelf gifts," and one was a large box of canned goods — with all the labels removed. Carla will be able to really prepare a "surprise" dinner for Dennis Totulski of Union Lake after their wedding, April 14.

Mrs. Donna Gartner of Cecilia Ann and her sister, Mrs. Vera Morrill of Cadillac are spending the week in Las Vegas, Nevada.

David Beals, 74, a Springfield Township resident for 35 years, died February 11. A retired employe of Pontiac Motor Division, he lived at 5030 Edgar Road.

Mr. Beals was a member of Andersonville Community Church and Cedar Lodge No. 60 F&AM.

He is survived by his wife, Lela; a daughter, Mrs. Howard (Donna) Cook of Santa Ana, California; two grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Mildred Hammond of Pontiac, Mrs. Ruth Smith of Clarkston and Mrs. Ella Fordham of California; and a brother, Wayne Beals of Pontiac.

Funeral services were to be 1 p.m. Wednesday at Andersonville Community Church with burial in Lakeview Cemetery. Arrangements were by Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home.

Three Drayton Plains students have been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for academic excellence at Lawrence Institute of Technology. They are Steven R. Foster, 2306 Pauline, who maintained a 3.83 average in mechanical engineering; Dale A. Stuart, 4001 Athens, who has maintained a 4 average in industrial management; and Charles W. Terry of 4134 Baybrook who has maintained a 3.66 average in electrical engineering.

Six Clarkston area students have attained the same honor at Western Michigan University. They are Cynthia J. Ford, John W. Housefield Jr., Richard E. Porritt, Steve A. Harris, Carol L. Humbert and Mark S. Turnbull.

Pine Knob's Klosters featured by AAA

Klosters, the dining area at Pine Knob Ski Resort, has been written up in this month's issue of the Automobile Club of Michigan magazine.

Here's what AAA has to say about our local facility.

A visit to Klosters, at Pine Knob Lodge, Clarkston, to dine at the foot of southeastern Michigan's longest ski run would be reason enough to drive 38 miles from the center of Detroit at least once, February Motor News magazine tells Automobile Club of Michigan members.

"But Klosters at the Knob has more than a gimmick going for it and therefore is worth at least a second visit," according to Motor News' "Dining Out in Michigan" column.

The managers of Klosters, who also operate the ski lodge, are not content just to let it be a place to refuel for the next assault on the slopes, the article points out. "The sweeping view of the Pine Knob slopes is just the backdrop for Klosters' continental cuisine and smooth, attentive service."

The article continues: Klosters is the rare eating establishment where families and sophisticated singles can have an enjoyable meal side by side. The atmosphere is a pleasant blend of rustic tweediness and best bib and tucker.

Dress ranges from dark suit to dark sweatshirt. There's a fresh flower at your table, a wine glass for your water and sporty red plaid carpeting.

Italian cooking is featured, starting with a thick, not-too-spicy minestrone. Kloster's special salad dressing, an oil and vinegar, subtly flavored with oregano, is tasty. A loaf of bread and relish tray come with dinners.

Klosters also offers several seafood entrees and pasta dishes. For dessert the cheesecake is excellent, not too rich.

There are banquet facilities and a lounge area with live entertainment nights and weekends.

During ski season (late November to mid-March) Klosters is open every day. Dinners 5 p.m. to midnight Monday through Saturday, 2 p.m. to midnight Sunday. Open for lunch, mainly sandwiches, 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Saturday, with Sunday brunch 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Reservations are recommended on weekends. Klosters closes for three to four weeks when skiing ends, reopens when Pine Knob's outdoor theater season begins about May 1.

An October 13 wedding is planned by Patricia Ann Coad and Kevin D. Kartje. Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle F. Cox of 5304 Guyette and Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Kartje of 5881 Dixie Highway. She is a teller with the Oakland County Employees Credit Union and he works for Haupt Pontiac.

Spiritual Message

Listening

The Bible says a great deal about the "Words of God." For example, look at these verses from Psalms. "Your words are a flashlight to light the path ahead of me, and keep me from stumbling. - I have thought much about your words, and stored them in my heart so that they would hold me back from sin. - I will meditate upon them and give them my full respect. I will delight in them and not forget them. I will obey these wonderful laws of yours."

God has spoken to us through His Word. It is there for each of us to read, to face God and His plan for each of us. It is a guide for our lives.

However, many times we find it so much more simple, and convenient to listen to human interpretations. Bruce Larson says, "If people hear what God says through the lips of a man, they can always question the validity and integrity of that man. If they hear God speak for themselves, they have no recourse but to obey or to defy God openly. I believe this problem exists in the church today. People would rather listen to a man in the pulpit telling them what God is saying than initiate a life of devotion wherein they would meet Him face to face and hear His personal word for them. One source is easy to discount; the other must be reckoned with."

God has spoken to us through His Word, the Bible. It demands a hearing and a reaction on our part. Perhaps the greatest difficulty is that of listening to God; we prefer to do all of the speaking. Try reading His Word - listening! HE speaks through His Word.

Sashabaw continues to win

The Sashabaw Cougars mauled the Walled Lake Central Vikings in basketball action Tuesday by a score of 72-57.

The first quarter was started off by Weldon Graham, who scored the game's first points as the Cougars took a quick lead. Central soon countered with a surge of points, taking a big lead, but the Cougars came back and ended the quarter 16-15. The second quarter saw both teams rack up quite a few points with the Cougars going into the locker room leading 38-34. The offenses were in control once again during the 3rd quarter as the Cougars gained 16 and the Vikings 12. The 4th quarter was much the same and the Cougars won 72-57.

Individual Cougar players did fantastic jobs as Tom Ross scored more than any other Cougar player in one game, 22. Bob Fuller was hot as he sank 19 points, and Jeff Ferguson came through with 13.

The Vikings defeated the Cougars earlier in the season accounting for one of their two losses. The victory last Tuesday gave Sashabaw seven wins in a row, and a record of 9 wins and 2 losses.

After this seven game winning streak the Cougars were defeated by the Waterford Pierce Pirates by a score of 51-45. After suffering a loss to the Sashabaw team in January, the Pirates were out for revenge and got it as the Cougars were unable to break the Pirate offense. High point men for the Cougars were Bob Fuller with 13 and Jeff Ferguson with 12 points.

Last Wednesday night the Cougar wrestlers of Sashabaw Junior High School swept to victory again. The Cougars crushed the Clarkston Junior High team 54 to 18. Outstanding performances were given by Rowland Hayward, Steve Howe, Ron Woodham, Jesse Diaz, Jeff Kish, Floyd Thompson and Brian Comstock who all won on pins. This was the 9th victory in a row for the Cougar mat men. Grrreat!

Clarkston and Sashabaw Junior High matmen congratulated each other following last Wednesday night's match between the two rival schools.

Sashabaw matman Pat Cadwaloder gets the upper hand over Clarkston wrestler Louie Warren, but it was only temporary. Warren won the match 8-4 plus a pin.

Sashabaw wrestlers win Vandyke tournament

Steve Smith and Jesse Diaz inspect the trophy which they and Bob Burke helped bring home to Sashabaw.

This past Saturday, February 10, the Sashabaw Cougars went down to the Van Dyke Invitational Tournament. They had to face such wrestling powers as Lincoln Junior High, Wolcott, Beer, Centerline, Carter, East Detroit and Warren Woods. The Cougars tied with Wolcott for 1st place.

Bob Burke, 91 lbs., Steve Smith, 129 lbs., and Jesse Diaz, 135 lbs., all took first place honors. Dan Smith, 108 lbs., Steve Howe, 115 lbs., and Brian Comstock, 158 lbs., all placed 2nd in the weight classes. Rowland Hayward, 101 lbs., and Ron Woodham, 122 lbs., each took 3rd in their weight classes.

Good performances were also turned in by Floyd Thompson, Pat Cadwallader and Rick Smith.

Clarkston Junior High wrestler Kelvin Perkins beat Dan LaBarge of Sashabaw by the match score of 5-0. Perkins went on to win in a pin.

Sashabaw wrestler Jeff Kish pins Clarkston Junior High wrestler Ed Armand during last week's duel between the two schools. Sashabaw won the meet 54-18, Kish scoring 7-2 in this particular bout before pinning Armand.
