

Village parking under review

Village businessmen and commercial property landlords will be invited to state their views on the village parking situation in a questionnaire being mailed out this week, and to appear at a village council meeting June 11 to further elaborate.

Under consideration is a parking ordinance which would prohibit all night parking on certain streets and a two-hour parking limit during the day in the business district.

Goal of the ordinance is to prohibit downtown workers from using available customer parking space during the business hours and to facilitate street cleaning and snow removal during the night.

Village Clerk Bruce Rogers has asked that any businessmen or landlords missed in the mailing contact him for a questionnaire.

The parking ordinance has been under consideration by the council for some time and is ready to go with limitations proposed by businessmen and approved by the council.

Road improvement sought in Walters Lake area

Petitions to create a special assessment district for road improvement in Thendara Park Subdivision at Walters Lake are being circulated this week.

The area, composed of 72 - 76 families with 15 new homes under construction, is said to be the fastest growing area in Independence Township and relies on private roads for access.

Proposed is a $14,000 yearly program for five years to upgrade, drain, improve and remove snow from the roads.

Members of the Homeowners Association there earlier this year purchased material and made street signs which they have posted.

Sashabaw Elementary School kindergarten teachers Yvonne Davidson and Kathy Richardson and their students, with parents as guests, left their mark Friday at the school as they planted two Mountain Ash trees beside the flagpole. Refreshments were served following the planting ceremony in which the children all took turns shoveling a spadeful of dirt.

Ortonville-Clarkston-Pontiac bus planned

It will probably take a year to implement, but if the State Legislature approves plans for a suburban bus service sometime this year, there may be four round trips made daily between Ortonville, Clarkston and Pontiac.

The information comes from Dolores Wolfe, public relations director with the Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority. Mrs. Wolfe says funding for the bus route is to come from the additional two cents a gallon gasoline tax imposed recently by the State Legislature.

She said the counties involved in the overall plan have approved the proposal and that it is now before the State Highway Department for further study and information. She does not expect it to clear the State Highway Department before fall.

The new bus route would supplement existing Greyhound service on the Dixie Highway and I-75, Mrs. Wolfe said.

Deer Lake hearing June 14

The first of two public hearings conducted by the State Department of Natural Resources on whether to control the kind of boating and diving traffic that occurs on and in Deer Lake is scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday, June 14 at Independence Township Hall.

Residents of the area are invited to express their views.

Jim's Jottings

by Jim Sherman

A couple weeks ago a dear friend of ours, playing the part of a good mother, took her son's golf clubs to the course so they'd be there when he got out of school. He's on the school team.

She parked her car in full view of the pro shop, though she did take her eyes off it for a while, apparently. For in a very short space of time a young man opened the car door and stole our friend's purse.

She vows, "I NEVER leave my purse in the car." But she did. It's a local public course where everybody knows everybody, or at least we tend to think so.

Our friend lives with and by credit cards. I've heard her guess the number she carries at 32, and there is no reason to doubt her. She has 'em for a couple stores in Chicago, a couple in New York City, Hudson's, Sears, etc., etc.

At first discovery she called hubby. His instructions, after he realized it wasn't a joke, were to call every store or company to which she had credit cards and inform them of the theft.

Within one hour after the theft had been discovered our friend got a call from Hudson's. Is your son using your card to buy stereo equipment here?

Definitely not!

That quick the thief was caught, held for Waterford Township Police. Actually, there were five young men in the theft ring. Police say they frequent places where women might go in numbers like laundries and golf courses.

The police also said they would get a statement out of four of the boys, but the other one had a record and likely wouldn't say anything.

There is more than one moral here ... always lock your car, never leave your purse or other valuables in your car, and have your credit card numbers and names written someplace.

Going out of business and closing a corporation is not exactly like locking the door and walking away. The government won't let you do that.

After the money had changed hands and both parties were happy with the sale of Tunstead Hardware, our CPA started getting us out of business.

We had to file four returns to the federal internal revenue service, three to the state treasury and one to the state employment office.

Of course, W-2 forms had to be made out for all employes, and there was a couple monthly sales tax forms that went in without figures. We had to file them even though we didn't sell anything.

To begin all this we had to have an attorney write the state of our intent to discontinue the corporation.

Bottles building stopped

Calendar

Construction on a new Bottles for Building center behind the Independence Township Hall has been stopped voluntarily, following protests by neighbors on Robertson Court.

The village last winter gave the go ahead to Mrs. Carolyn Place, director of the glass recycling program, and Township Building Inspector Ken Delbridge to proceed with erection of a "temporary" structure at the site.

The idea was to move the structure, once sewer work is completed, to Depot Road behind the Town Shop. The building, being constructed by Oakland County Jail trustees and Clarkston High School students, has, however, been anchored into the cement.

Plans were underway last week to see if the building could be moved to a nearby shopping center.

Costs of materials for the building, approximately $700, are being shared by the township and the village.

Neighbors, who circulated a petition containing 42 signatures, stating their objections to traffic noise and glass breakage resulting in litter in the area, contend the building is in violation of the village zoning ordinance.

There have been reports of bottle breakage vandalism during the night. Plan for the new building was that it be large enough to accommodate all bottles, leaving none free for vandal tampering.

Supervisor Robert Vandermark said he learned Monday that the Bottles group intends to apply to the Village Zoning Board of Appeals for permission to leave the collection shed at the rear of the Township Hall.

Gas station withdraws zoning suit

Township Attorney Richard Campbell reports that American Oil Co. has withdrawn its Circuit Court case to force zoning which would permit construction of a Standard Oil Station at the corner of Main and Bluegrass. The area is currently zoned C-3, a classification which does not permit gas stations.

Buhl heads Dem club

Donna Buhl is the newly elected chairperson of the Independence Township Democratic Club.

She will be assisted by Chester Hensley, vice chairman; Karen Herron, secretary; Ron Herron, trustee; and Robert Garner, trustee.

The group conducted a rummage sale last weekend at the Herron home on Maybee Road to raise funds for the party.

Clarkston School Board Candidates

WALTER J. CATTIN

Walter J. Cattin, 41, 8150 Holcomb, is an engineer. He has served four years on the Clarkston Board of Education, one year as trustee and three years as secretary.

He has a BSME from the General Motors Institute, an MSME from Case Institute and an MBA from Michigan State University.

His goals: "It is the responsibility of the Board of Education to provide the children of the district with the best possible education consistent with the resources of the community.

"If reelected to the board, I will meet this responsibility by establishing policies and deciding issues in what I conceive to be the best interest of the entire community, and by working with the administration and other interested parties to establish goals and plans for the continued growth of the school system, not simply in terms of increased facilities, but for educational growth as additional resources become available."

IVA SOMMERS CAVERLY

Mrs. Alvin L. Caverly, 51, 5800 Waldon Road, wife of a Pontiac Motor Division retiree, is the mother of four grown children and grandmother of two.

A certified elementary teacher, working towards her Masters Degree in the teaching of reading, she has been a lifetime resident of the area, having taught at Andersonville School.

Salutatorian of her Clarkston High School class of 1939, she was educated as a rural school teacher at Michigan State Normal College and spent one year at Hurley Hospital School of Nursing and has done graduate work at Eastern Michigan University and the University of Michigan.

She has five years' experience of full time teacher, has been a landowner in the Clarkston area 20 years, active in PTA, Cub Scouts, 4-H and Little League.

Her goals: "Continuing to stress reading. Even though Clarkston has finally approved of remedial reading in the junior and high schools that the better teaching of reading with lower class loads in K-3 grades. Another elementary school in the northwest area of Clarkston built on land already owned by the schools will give our students a better basic education for the taxes we pay.

"The building of another high school, away from the village of Clarkston, on land already owned by the school system would give relief from being one of 1,500 or more in a few years like sardines in the can."

"Our school board has to start being concerned soon enough to plan for our future needs and still keep the basics before the enrichments drive our taxes out of proportion to the good our kids get out of going to Clarkston Area Schools."

Richard L. Funk, 50, has lived at 6184 Cramlane Drive for the past 16 years. He has been married to Lee, his wife, for the past 27 years, and has two sons, Rick, a Lt. j.g. in the Navy, and Brad, studying nursing at Northern Michigan University. He also served as guardian for his nephew, George Puddington, attending the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. All are graduates of Clarkston Senior High School.

He says, "I am running for the school board for a third term. During the past eight years I have served the local board as follows:

(a) Local representative to OCVEC 29, the group that helped formulate the plans which resulted in the four Vocational Centers.

(b) Treasurer of the board for seven years.

(c) Clarkston's designate to the Oakland County School Board. "My beliefs and goals have not changed since I first took office. I have only gained understanding of better ways to accomplish them. They are:

1. Maximum, quality, up-to-date educational and personal development of our students, within the bounds of our tax structure and budget.

2. Reasonable wages and working conditions for all our employees.

3. We have made strides in controlling drugs in our schools, but more needs to be done, and parent assistance is needed.

4. Keeping control of the local school district and its functions in the hands of the school board. This includes deciding when busing is or is not needed, and approving educational materials and programs in the schools."

state their views on the issues June 11

Her goals: "Open up the lines of communication between teachers, administrators and the public. To be responsive to the educational needs of a community school board, members must be involved in the community and know what is being taught in our schools and how this is being accomplished — on all levels.

"The public deserves to know what goes on in the schools and when people no longer have children in school usually all communication ceases, except when a millage renewal or increase is on the ballot. I feel the whole area of public relations and thus communication and education (as to the needs of the school system) needs a new fresh approach.

"All children with average intelligence or above should be provided with all the means necessary to that by the 4th grade they are able to read. A commitment of less means compiling problems further down the educational line. Often school discipline problems and the drop outs are brought about because of years of failure frustration.

"We could make better use of existing school buildings and certainly let the buses be used in the summer recreation program."

ROBERT D. WALTERS

Rev. Robert D. Walters, 37, lives at 6986 West Church, with his wife, Beverly, a registered nurse, and two sons, Robert Jr. and Michael, both of whom will be enrolled in Clarkston schools next year. He is pastor of Calvary Lutheran Church.

Rev. Mr. Roberts has a BA from Cathage College, Kenosha, Wis., and a Master of Divinity from Lutheran School of Theology, Chicago.

Prior to coming to Clarkston, he was pastor of an inner city church in Chicago and one in Decatur, Illinois.

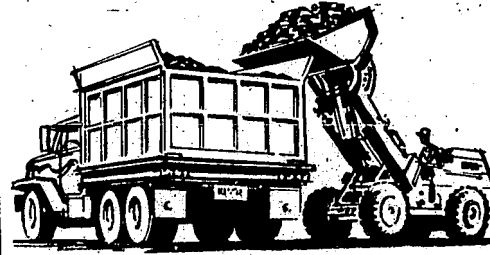

He has served the District 8 School-Community Liaison Committee in Chicago and taught classes as a resource person in parochial and public high schools in all three communities. He recently served on the Clarkston Schools Safety Committee which successfully recommended sidewalks to be built in front of Clarkston Elementary and Sashabaw Junior High schools.

He says, "I would like to supply new initiative and support for our schools in greater public and parental involvement (like the new programs for beginning kindergarten and high school students and parents, and volunteer teacher assistants); for a new look at needs in elementary schools for library, music, art, physical education, and infirmity resources; for expanded high school cooperative education with available federal funds; for increased use of our schools for evening recreation and continuing education programs for adults and children (like the Mott Plan in Flint); and for better rapport between administration and teachers.

"My mid-week day off makes it possible for me to visit our schools while they are in session.

"I see as our main goal to build bridges between our schools and community, increasing expectations of and pride in an improved district that can stand tall among surrounding districts. We need to find ways to solve problems and meet needs instead of finding reasons that we cannot."

Self-starters at work

Oakland County has been allowed to develop with private roads in many areas, particularly around lakes where first development consisted primarily of summer cottages.

The roads are poorly maintained at best, and until this year the only solution was a considerable investment on the part of abutting residents to bring them up to the standard considered necessary by the Oakland County Road Commission. Only then would the county group assume maintenance.

A recently passed law permits such homeowners to create a special assessment district among themselves by the petition route to the township board. That's what's going on now in Thendara park Subdivision near Walters Lake.

They've logically broken improvements they seek into a five-year plan, and are proceeding to get the required majority of signatures from property owners in the area.

They're one of the first groups to do so in Oakland County. We wish them well, and we know that a lot of other areas with the same kinds of problems are going to be interested in the outcome.

It may be the only way that Oakland and Independence will eventually lose those eyesores which are atrocious roads.

The conspiracy

by Jean Saile

My vacuum cleaner looks at me strangely these days. It's developed a blank stare, a definite petulance.

It's taken to falling apart as soon as I travel around corners, leaving me with an unattached hose and no suction—a fact which I don't realize until five minutes later.

The cord pops out of the wall at inopportune times, as well. Stretched to its utter limits—so that the walk back is a long one—it pops and stops.

The attachments have a habit of falling off the pipe frequently, and the hose itself is getting definitely temperamental, clogging when it feels like, choking on a toothpick.

I have given considerable thought to these phenomena, and it may be that the machine is only tired, or it might be that in the past—in its many years of truly good service—it has worn itself out doing such additional jobs as providing the power to paint the swimming pool and blow up the kids' rubber raft.

There are signs of all the colors of paint it has used, but there is no trace left of the rubber raft. Perhaps the vacuum, in a fit of pique, did its job too well, and blew the tensile strength right out of the raft.

It could also be the amount of plaster dust the old vacuum has been required to inhale has produced black lung. In repairing an old home, there is a lot of such dust and a vacuum is about the only prescription to help preserve sanity.

It still continues to roar, when all parts are cleaned and properly aligned and I appreciate it. But I notice that it tends to creep into awkward spots and when I double back, it is there waiting to trip me.

More than that—I believe it has found an ally. The electric can opener is now showing similar symptoms—running its sharp tooth right off the can—and leaving me only with a leaky vessel to which there is no entry.

Were I the worrisome type, I would suspect the oven door as having joined the conspiracy. It has picked up a creak somewhere along the line and is beginning to balk.

But perhaps I blame the vacuum unjustly. Maybe the whole movement started with the leaky water taps: They may be the real culprits in this appliance strike I face—dripping their message nightly until it has at last gained a foothold.

Watergate link revealed

By Jim Fitzgerald

According to highly reliable sources, a link has been established between me and a Watergate TV witness, Robert Odle Jr.

Reports indicate that my involvement began in 1941 when I held a sensitive position behind the soda fountain of the Barnett Drugstore on Pine Grove Ave in Port Huron, Mich. This small store was almost directly across the street from my home. My salary was 20 cents per hour and my employment was terminated after only 6 months because I reportedly made radical demands upon management. The boss claimed I demanded portal to portal pay. Actually, as proven by documents I have forwarded to Sen Sam Ervin's congressional investigating committee, I requested this extra pay only when the chief pharmacist ordered me to bring a bucket of ashes to work with me to spread on the ice in front of the store.

The Washington Post, quoting "highly placed" Justice Dept. aides, reported that I openly allowed Barnett customers to break store rules when the pharmacist wasn't looking. The Post said most of this criminal activity was cleverly timed to coincide with the pharmacist's weekly duty of going into the basement and watching while Coke syrup slowly drained from a giant barrel into gallon jugs.

This task would normally be performed by the fountain attendant but I was relieved of the responsibility in the sticky wake of an unfortunate mistake. I left the barrel draining to answer the phone and forgot to return. The only solution to the resulting problem was to turn off the heat until the syrup froze on the floor, and then paint it. As I recall, it was during this period that the pharmacist made the unreasonable request that I haul my father's ashes to work.

Anyway, a CIA source has hinted that the deserted barrel was merely a devious ruse on my part, aimed at distracting the pharmacist so that I could carry on nefarious activities without being observed. I have already refuted this foul charge in private testimony before Sen Ervin's committee and I am prepared to repeat my denial on TV as soon as I am granted immunity from attacks by irate housewives who want to watch The Watergate Game.

In substance, I am not denying the published reports that 2 steady customers at my soda fountain were an unusually handsome couple, Mr and Mrs Robert Odle. However, it is not true that I violated Barnett policy by allowing the Odles to read magazines they did not buy. Perhaps they did browse through a few pages while eating their ice cream. They had to make certain they didn't buy a magazine they'd already read, didn't they?

It is true, as the FBI has leaked, that I no longer have the receipts to prove the Odles purchased magazines. But, after all, that was 32 years ago. There was no way I could know then that in 1973 there would be a 28-year-old Robert Odle Jr who would be the first witness called to testify in the televised Senate Watergate hearings.

I know nothing about young Odle's duties as director of administration for the Committee for the Reelection of the President. I can only shout "ridiculous!" to Jack Anderson's charge that Odle Jr was influenced to enter politics by something his parents read but did not pay for. I am innocent. I could even sell used cars.

Letters to the Editor

Small i, small c

Lives are important

To the People of Independence Township:

At a time when "big" government is suspect, and taxes for anything receive a resounding NO, I hope the people will consider the millage for the fire department very positively. Not out of fear for the safety of their home and loved ones if they don't vote for this millage, but for what they may personally gain if they do.

I think we all think of the fire department only in regards to putting out fires; why not prevent these tragedies or minimize an adequate equipment to deal with any disaster — fire, tornado, flood, near drowning, trapped in cave-ins, car accident with fire danger, gas leaks, and last but not least, emergency resuscitator runs.

I don't know if you are aware of the fact that the local druggist, M.D.'s, and D.O.'s have a complete emergency kit of medication, up-dated constantly, kept with the emergency squad so that if one of us are called and aren't near our black bag, they have every medication that we keep in our emergency kits in the intensive care units.

This way, whether it's asthma, heart attack, lung congestion, stroke, anxiety, convulsion, etc., there is a complete medical kit available. This has saved two people that I know of personally who would have died without this and I'm sure there are more.

With proper funding, fire inspection, fire codes and enforcement of same, and fire safety education can be carried out in this community, possibly with two happy results, fewer fires and possibly lowered or at least less increase in insurance rates. It seems so little to give for so much and it is for all of us right here in Independence Township.

Sincerely,
James A. O'Neill, M.D.

Dear Mrs. Saile,

Anybody who ever went to school knows a name deserves to be capitalized.

"Independence Center" is a name — why do you persist in always using it in lower case, so — "independence center"? It grates, so I finally was driven to write you — hopefully.

A Subscriber

Dear Subscriber,

The lower case usage of independence center is not the idea of The Clarkston News. When the group was organized that name was adopted — small i, small c — and it does tend to create problems; particularly when the center name is used to start a sentence.

Against fire millage

To the Editor:

I will be voting AGAINST the fire millage increase Proposal No. 1 on June 11, 1973 for the following reasons:

1. My 1973 tax bill has already been substantially increased via the physical reappraisal and increased property values routine.

2. A Federal Revenue Sharing bonanza to the tune of $139,305 is being earmarked in the budget for other programs which are evidently more important than fire equipment for which I understand the up to 1 mill increase would be used. Examples of allocations are:

- a. Policeman's salary & equip. $20,000
- b. Master Drainage Study 5,000
- c. Future Land Needs 16,185
- d. Playground Program 7,000 (Nero fiddled while Rome burned)

3. Comparison Budgets

	1972-3	1973-4
General Fund	$550,800	$831,216
Police-Sheriff	51,000	51,780

Police-local	0	19,200
Fire Dept.	64,301	95,599
Total	666,101	997,795

4. The implication in the first sentence of the proposal is that by voting against this proposal, you would not have continued fire protection. The Township Board voted 4 to 1 to keep the word "continued" in the proposal when the matter of removing it was suggested at the meetin.

5. Once the extra mill is available to levy, spending will accelerate to balance the budget next year; thereby maintaining the vicious cycle of increased property taxes being planned and perpetuated by all levels of government having taxing powers.

I would like to congratulate the present Township Board for publishing and presenting a more detailed type of budget than in previous years, and would suggest that interested taxpayers review it.

Sewer hook-up

Dear Jim:

I noted, with interest, a statement in the Clarkston News which inferred that property owners on streets serviced by the new sewer were obligated — by law — to connect to the sewer within one year.

Any such requirement, as an unconditional requirement, was held void by the Supreme Court of Michigan in March, 1972, in the case of Butcher v. Township of Grosse Ile, 387 Mich. 42. See Page 61 for that part of the majority opinion, reciting the rule, concurring in by all members of the Court.

As I review this ruling, public health authorities may not require that property be connected to a public sanitary sewer without a specific finding that an existing private sewer system is a health hazard.

Yours truly,
Milton F. Cooney

(Editor's note: Township Attorney Richard Campbell agrees with Mr. Cooney that the Supreme Court did void obligations to complete sewer hook-ups within a year as a result of the Butcher v. Township of Grosse Ile case. He adds, however, that new legislation has since been passed in an attempt to avoid the Supreme Court's objections, and that while it has not yet been tested in the courts, it is the prevailing reason why both Clarkston and Independence Township in their sewer ordinances require hook-up within a year to any sewer line which passes within 200 feet of the property.)

School candidate

Dear Editor,

School Board Elections are coming up! This year a very well qualified woman is running for a spot on our school board — Carolyn Place.

I have worked very closely with Mrs. Place for the last year. She was our PTA President at Pine Knob School for the past two years. And one thing I can say about Carolyn — She Gets Things Done!

Carolyn is a leader. She is not afraid to become involved — to take a stand — to speak out. I have attended many meetings with Mrs. Place, and I am constantly amazed at her knowledge. She comes prepared with the facts and figures and gets down to the nitty-gritty.

She guided our PTA with a strong - effective - but always gentle arm. Under her leadership our PTA accomplished a great deal. Mrs. Place has continually strived for better communication between students - teachers - parents and administrators.

On June 11th, Mrs. Place will get my vote. I am appealing to the Clarkston School District voters to vote for her also. I have no doubts whatsoever that she will represent YOU on the school board. She listens - she acts.

Let's fly the flag!

Dear Editor,

There comes a time when all people should be concerned when a minority of our government office holders depart from and refuse to acknowledge to certain traditions of our country.

If the United States flag did not fly over the White House, over our National Capitol, over our state Capitol, and at the county courthouse, there would be cause for great alarm and it would be a patriotic and just cause to insist that the flag will fly over these places. Now, I would like to know what is wrong when the flag no longer flies at the Independence Township Hall?

A check has been made of other townships. This township is the only one that has a full-time government and does not fly the American flag, neither does this local government group indicate that they believe in the United States may not fly over our township, but I can tell you, it will in the very near future fly again.

Last winter, when we had lost two presidents, I questioned the failure to fly the United States flag in mourning. The flag was finally posted. The United States flag was left out night and day, through one weekend and the weather was stormy. Following this the flag was not flown on various days when the Township Hall was open for business.

At one time it was indicated to me that the failure in flying the flag was due to labor technicalities. I have since had assurance out of the township employee's union that they would not object to anyone in the township hall raising the flag at a time of labor shortage.

I am sure that included the Republican (so alleged) elected majority of our township board. It is doubtful that our elected officers would stoop so low as to touch the United States flag or raise the flag over the township hall.

It has been stated the majority of the board are Republicans and were supported by the Republican Party. The question now arises, why did the Republican Party support people that will not fly the United States flag?

There has been a rumor that the area will soon have a Republican Club. Will it be the club's policy to support a failure of both the township and village governments to fly the flag?

Now, I assure you that one, two, or three failures in flying the flag could be questionably excused, but when it is a failure week after week and month after month, there can be no other excuse than anti-American behavior.

It is possible they will indicate lack of funds for a suitable flag and flag pole, but with a million dollar budget available, they had better sweep this kind of oral garbage under the rug.

Sincerely,
Lucky Fletcher

township crumbs

By TOWNMOUSE

The sewer contractors have almost completed their work. Rumor has it that substantial contingency funds will be left over. How will this money be used? Three alternatives come to mind: (1) invest for future use, (2) immediately serve other existing residential areas, (3) extend more lines out over the open countryside.

Those interested in land speculation and profit would no doubt favor putting sewers into undeveloped areas. Nothing increases the value of open land like utility service ready and waiting. Sewers are particularly important for apartment and condominium development. I hope the Board isn't tempted in this direction.

Simply saving these funds is not very imaginative, but safe. You never know about that rainy day. Serving existing areas should also be considered. The subdivision north of the Mill Pond serves some serious study. Sewers would reduce the water pollution and this would benefit many people. Parke Lake, Cemetery Lake, Greens Lake and many others are all downstream.

Proposing additional sewer connections would be a tough political challenge to the Board. Nobody really likes the idea of paying for sewers unless their plumbing has just become stopped up. Pacifying a vocal minority is delicate business for a politician, even if to benefit the majority, both present and future. Perhaps our Board couldn't hack it.

However, the Board will choose. Doing nothing is a vote for the rainy day option. Whatever happened to the Sewer Committee? That body of citizens was supposedly non political; and supposed to recommend future projects. I suggest that they get on the ball and back to work.

Tell it to Bob

by Bob Brumback

Clarkston Schools Special Services Director

As the school year ends, I have some real fears about the problems that will face many teenagers this summer. Clarkston is somewhat sheltered from the serious problems facing the large cities, but we still are affected by the lack of jobs for young people and the large amount of idle time that teenagers will spend doing something.

I have noticed that the use of drugs has picked up rapidly in the past month in Clarkston and it seems that there is always an increase in other problems right behind such a change.

The Independence Township Recreation Program has greatly expanded its opportunities for young people and is one of the major employers of young people in our community. The Pine Knob Resort is definitely an asset to the employment needs of our local youth. But even these do not constitute the total answer to local community responsibility to provide recreational opportunities for the teenage population.

I accept the fact that both young people and their parents have responsibility for creating acceptable spare time activities. At the same time the community has responsibility to guide what activities are provided or chosen, especially if it wants to avoid the development of serious community problems.

In every survey that I can remember in this community in the past ten years that asked about the needs of our community, both adults and students placed recreation at the top. Yet our current facilities are heavily utilized to the point that future expansion programs will be difficult (even considering the new park site) and there is still not a local public facility designed to provide ongoing recreation for the teenager in the evening.

Candidates endorsed

Two local organizations have endorsed Mrs. Carolyn Place and Rev. Robert Walters in their bids for seats on the Clarkston Board of Education.

Polling of the members of the Civic Club resulted in unanimous support for the two candidates. At its monthly meeting, the group also discussed, but took no action in support or opposition to, the proposed fire millage.

The board of directors of the Clarkston Education Association has also endorsed Mrs. Place and Rev. Mr. Walters.

The point of all this is to stimulate concern by young people, parents and governmental officials about what will occur this summer. It can be a summer of fun, new experiences and sensible behavior or it can be a summer of vandalism, getting busted or hiding behind money problems.

There are no pat answers to human problems but constructive thought and planning can certainly help a community meet its goals. Adults can provide more jobs for their children or the neighbor's children - government can develop new programs and extend the availability of existing programs - and young people can take more responsibility for their actions by refraining from destructive activities, by attempting to help their parents with "family activities" and by communicating to the community in a constructive way what they feel they need.

One of the most often recommended bits of advice concerning electrical equipment and wiring is to be extremely careful with household electrical circuits or equipment. The National Safety Council notes that each year a growing number of persons are injured and killed through improper handling of the most common household electrical appliances. On top of that property is often lost through the overloading of circuits and through faulty wiring. So if you need repairs or if outlets are inadequate, be sure to call someone who is qualified to do a proper wiring or electrical job.

The independent view

by Jean Saile

Well, apparently I was wrong in believing that John Sackrider was the bandaged penny giver. The note this week with four pennies attached relates, "I am—not John Sackrider. At the present time—no bandages. But last week I did." That's when we asked.

How about that? Well, anyway, we called our psychic into the office. She held the cards in her hand and came up with the following information: The donor is a very happy, jolly, chubby sort of person who works with machinery (but not cars) and there are filings connected with the job. He travels Amy Street in a blue pickup truck. His wife, like him, is average size, dark haired and she wears a white uniform. In three weeks something (not tragic) is going to scare him into the goosebump stage and then he'll laugh about it later.

Ring any bells anywhere?

The psychic also feels that if the giver were to rub the coins and then seal them himself onto the card so that no one else touches them, she might get a clearer indication.

We have $10.15 in pennies, and Tom Ritter of Ritter's Farm Market assures me that with a little stretching that ought to buy a sugar maple to be planted on Clarkston-Orion Road when the new township park purchase is complete and the driveway is laid out. Somehow a sugar maple sounds most fittin' for a "penny tree," don't you think?

Now, it seems like a good idea to place any future pennies at the Salvation Army where so many of the area's senior citizens get together for conviviality and programs. A good idea might be the replacement of some of the stained windows broken by vandals there.

Back to the psychic. She also volunteered that within the next two or three presidents we'd have a black one, and that Nixon is going to survive the Watergate episode smelling like a rose—to the point she believes that Spiro Agnew might be the next president. "Agnew will do something very courageous that will focus attention on him. The Democrats have a young dark horse," she says.

Mrs. Norman Miller of Clarkston Gardens reports a large doe (deer type) leaping fences and running through the gardens there Friday morning. Wonder if it's the same one the people grew fond of last year in Birdland and out White Lake Road?

One of the sad things about editing a weekly newspaper is the people who leave. Marilyn Lawrence, who held the pulse for most of the area women and some of the men, too, is no longer writing a column. She's moving to Muskegon.

Our high school writers, in particular Craig Moore and Roger Zander, are moving on with graduation this spring. Craig covered sports for what seems like years and did an excellent job and Roger has always been on call for such items as the Senior Prom pictures which appeared last week.

We're going to miss all of them.

There are people complaining about weeds sprouting in vacant lots. Said one neighbor who attempts to keep his yard in good shape, "The township charged our next-door owner $11.50 to cut the weeds once last year. He told me so, and he added he thought the arrangement was a good deal. Maybe we ought to hike the price for weed cutting on these absentee owner lots."

A watchful observer could have seen Township Supervisor Robert Vandermark skulking in the woods near Pine Knob about midnight last Sunday. Complaints on excessive noise sent him out there with the township noise meter, but he says he got there too late to do any good. Traffic at the amphitheater was better last week, but the need for better expressway turn-offs and a wider Sashabaw is still evident.

Two old newspapers were brought to our attention this week.

Herbert Baynes has one, a Clarkston News dated May 1, 1931, which tells the story of his four brothers becoming Masons. It also carries a food ad for Waterbury's Home Market where meaty short ribs sold for 12½ cents a pound, choice kettle roast was 19 cents a pound, prime rolled rib roast was 27 cents a pound, fresh lean picnic hams were 13½ cents a pound, and sugar cured bacon was 24½ cents a pound.

And if that doesn't set your mouth watering, Drayton Pharmacy was advertising double dipped cones for a nickel.

Dave Coulter, our garden editor, was cleaning out the attic and came across a 1940 Detroit News. Lettuce was 5 cents a head at Packers, the forerunner of Wrigley's. He says garden experts are currently blaming the high price of lettuce on excessive rain in the Salinas Valley area of California, and he thinks the price might get more reasonable by mid-summer.

There's some concern, too, he notes, about a lack of tomato crops, and suggests planting your own. When prices start to skyrocket later, you may be glad you did.

The Fire Department made 86 resuscitator runs last year, according to recently released statistics. That could be an awful lot of lives saved.

We hear insurance man Charlie Robinson who covers thefts for everybody else had a Honda 90 stolen one night last week.

In spite of what people think, a newspaper editor is not the arbiter, judge and jury of local disputes. We've run into some misunderstanding with school bus drivers here because of a refusal to open up a story recently and present "their side" of a bus accident involving 15 students.

We said only that the driver had been dismissed on the grounds she had made errors in judgment and added also that the road had been repaired recently with a narrower-than-normal causeway between two swamps. Both statements are true.

For the time being that was the essence of the story in a nutshell.

The accident occurred on Wednesday. No driver contacted us. It wasn't until Monday night at 9:30 p.m., when we were already locked up for the week's stories, that the bus drivers decided they wanted a story.

There was little benefit to be achieved by opening the story up to one side and not the other. Had we taken the bus drivers' story, we would have also had to print the specific errors in judgment charged by the schools in the dismissal.

Since the incident (fortunately nobody was hurt) continues to gather steam, we offer the full use of the paper to both sides. Meantime, there's no editorial position.

Thursday was the first day of operation for Independence Township's new phone system. Beginning then, any caller put on "hold" is soothed by canned music. Besides being cheaper to operate and more serviceable than the previous Bell system as township officials are convinced, it may serve to cool down tempers and make "hot" phone calls easier to handle.

Patterson Pools like us. They've told us they want their ads to continue running indefinitely. The ads pull well and several pools have been sold in the area due to our coverage.

Erwin Teggerdine of Waldon Road says the picture of the "chipmunk" we ran in a recent paper was the best picture of a gopher he's ever seen. The gopher has stripes and is sneaky, Teggerdine says. Chipmunks are black on the sides and they hop, they don't sneak. Guess we'll have to fire the wildlife editor (me).

We've had a call about "selectivity" used in the pictures printed of the Memorial Day Parade. Clarkston Junior High was left out, mainly because I ran out of my 12-picture roll of film just at that time and had to refuel. By the time the camera was loaded again, the band was past. I took pictures of several marching groups, not all of which were used. What appears in the paper depends on the relative quality of the picture plus the room available, and while it would be nice to get everybody, we can't do it.

Clarkston Village council members are calling it "a very poor job of patching" that sewer contractors are doing on village streets. They're also less than satisfied with the blacktopping job on Clarkston-Orion Road and intend to get some action on it.

Clarkston Police Chief Jack McCall reminds parents that their children need license plates and licenses if they operate motorcycles on the highway. Two juveniles were arrested recently and bikes have been picked up by wreckers and towed in, necessitating that parents pay the wrecker fee, he said.

Deer Lake plan nixed

The Independence Township Board has brought to a halt plans of a developer to create an apartment and townhouse community on the north shore of Deer Lake.

By a 4-1 vote, the board voted Tuesday night to follow the recommendations of the Township Planning Commission and the Oakland County Coordinating Committee in denying the rezoning request of the Deer Lake Development Corp.

Township clerk J. Edwin Glennie cast the single dissenting vote, commenting that "we need a more thorough presentation for something of this magnitude."

The proposed 372-acre Deer Lake Woods development, which would have included single-family residences, businesses and professional buildings as well as the multiple residences, has been under consideration by the planning commission for several months.

Bordered on the north by I-75, it would have stretched from US-10 to Holcomb.

The commission objected to the proposal on the basis that it was inconsistent with township plans, that sanitary provisions are not adequate to support it and that it would have "an adverse effect on the general well being of the community."

Village police limited to village

Under present policy of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, village police will no longer be able to regulate traffic following high school sports events, according to Village Police Chief Jack McCall.

The village police department has been hired in past years by the schools for that purpose.

Sheriff Johannes Spreen has instituted a policy of creating no special deputies, a classification the village force needs if it is to operate around the schools outside village limits, McCall said.

Independence Township Fireman Bill Halsey checks out the truck at the Sashabaw-Clarkston road station. He and members of the Independence Township Volunteer Firefighters Association will be taking to the streets this weekend passing out material regarding the fire millage election Tuesday. Some of the money, were voters to approve a second fire mill, would be used to modernize the station. Halsey points out the lack of floor drains and a leaky roof at the Sashabaw-Clarkston station.

Public opposition to the plan included a petition signed by 171 residents and presented to the planning commission.

The beauty of the site, with its woods, ravines and lakeshore, was attested to by all concerned. However, they differed as to how the property should be developed.

The development planner, Victor Shrem, said multiple residences arranged in clusters and leaving much open space would add no more population or traffic congestion than single-family residences.

Council considers litter ordinance

The possibility of a litter ordinance for the village, replacing one adopted in 1932, is under consideration by the Clarkston Village Council.

Refuse on Main Street in front of village businesses is the problem, according to Trustee Richard Weiss.

"We're either going to have to clamp down on the kids or try to educate them. Maybe the only way to educate them is to fine them," Weiss said.

Council members also determined they would check to see that refuse barrels placed conveniently on the sidewalks are empty to accommodate any thrown-away litter.

Historic sites committee

Bryan and Nancy Prucher, Jennifer Radcliffe, Mary Beth Huttenlocher, Mrs. Steven Marsden, Jeanette Hitchcock and Karen Sanderson have been appointed by Clarkston Village Council as members of a committee to help establish Clarkston as an historical district.

The group will be doing studies and research on historical buildings and surroundings, recommending what areas should be included in such a district. Application will be made to the Michigan Historic Commission for the historic designation.

Work is aimed for completion prior to the 1976 bicentennial observation by the country. The possibility of income tax credits for rehabilitation and restoration of old homes so designated and the availability of funds for community items such as a museum will become a distinct possibility, according to Clarkston Village Council President Pro Tem Ruth Basinger.

Not exactly rose-colored glasses, but Dr. Ernest F. Denne's new windshield-wiper-equipped specs gave us something to chuckle about after slogging through the fifth rainy weekend of the six since Easter.

Records fall at track meet

The 9th grade track team at Clarkston Junior High placed fourth in the Central Oakland Junior High School Athletic League Meet Thursday at Clarkston High School. Twelve teams participated.

School records were broken by Eric Young in the high hurdles with a time

7th-8th grade finish third

Clarkston Junior High 7th and 8th grade track team finished their 1972-73 season by taking 3rd in the Central Oakland Junior High School Athletic League Championship meet last week at West Bloomfield High School.

Jeff Breckenridge took 2nd in the long jump and another 2nd in the 100-yard dash. He set a school 8th grade record of 11.1 seconds.

Mike Beyer, Ken Ballard, John Baker and Mark Baker took 1st place in the 440 relay with a time of 50.3 seconds. Baker was 3rd in the 60-yard dash, while his brother, 7th grade, was 2nd in the league in the 75-yard dash.

Additional points were won with 5th place finishes by Ken Ballard, Dwayne Davidson, Greg Moore, Steve Strzelecki and Jime White in their events.

The 7th and 8th grade team finishes the season with 5 wins and 2 losses.

of 18.8 seconds, and the 440-relay team of Larry Bennett, Tim Humphrey, Kel Perkins and Wayne Thompson with a time of 48.6. Larry Bennett smashed the 440-dash record with a 55.8 clocking, and the 880-relay team of Kel Perkins, Tim Westover, Eric Young and Larry Bennett the existing record of 1:41.5.

Highlights of the evening were the stellar performances of Wayne Thompson and Paul Glowzinski. Thompson won the long jump — 18' 6½"; the 100-yard dash, 10.7 seconds; the 220-yard dash, 24.4 seconds; and was a member of the 440 relay. Glowzinski won the 2-mile run in 10 minutes, 55.6 seconds, breaking his own record.

Saturday at the Oakland County 9th Grade Meet at West Bloomfield, Bennett placed 5th in the long jump and Glowzinski placed 3rd in the 2-mile with a time of 10 minutes, 45.9 seconds, once again breaking his own school record.

The meet involved schools from all over Oakland County, including Pontiac.

1100 heed call to "play ball"

"Play ball" was the call, and twenty of the Independence Township Recreation Department's seventy-three teams took to the fields Tuesday to begin the eight week summer program of baseball.

In all, 1100 boys will suit up and play a total of 555 games on 19 playing fields in the community. "That probably amounts to a million or more pitched balls and several thousand runs," stated Bob Davidson who heads up the baseball program.

"One month ago we needed 28 adults to manage teams, today we are happy to say that every team has a manager. We do need six more sponsors to help pay for shirts and caps and safety equipment, if interested please call the Recreation Office (625-8223)," stated Davidson.

Several boys have dropped out or got lost in the switching of players from one team to another to balance leagues and teams. Consequently, the recreation office can take a few late entries up to the cut off date of June 14. These boys will be placed on a list, and picked up by coaches who are shorthanded, no later than the second full week of the season (June 21).

There are a few such openings in T-Ball and Pee Wees - age 7-9, Midgets, 12-13, and Pony, 14-15. The Widget league, ages 10-11 is overloaded with boys at this time.

Boys 14-20 who would like to umpire this summer can still sign up. Forty umpires are used each evening so more boys are needed. The pay is $3 - $4 per game.

A newly formed T-Ball League begins next Tuesday with seven games for boys 7-8-9. The whole league is sponsored by McDonalds of Independence Township who provided shirts for 210 boys. Each team carries the name of a McDonald's food product and the school the boys go to, such as the Sashabaw Strawberry Shakes, the Pine Knob Triple Ripples, the Clarkston Big Macs, and the Bailey Lake Hamburglars.

The Pee Wee League, also for 8-9 year old boys, has 16 teams and will play on Monday and Wednesday nights. The Widget League, boys 10-11, has 21 teams in two divisions playing all four nights. The Midgets, for boys 12-13, are set to go with 16 teams and the Pony or Class E League has 6 teams.

Season opens

The Independence Adult Softball League had its first game of the season Sunday night as the Back Seat Saloon scored 12 runs in five innings to chalk up a 12-2 victory over the Fire Department.

SPORTS Go-Round

by Jerry Savoie

The game of handball is one of the most ancient of games. Today, it is a game where a ball is struck against a wall, or walls, with the hand. Forms of the game were played in ancient Rome. The ancient game of court tennis was originally a racketless form of handball. Nearly all the features of the modern game as played in the United States could be found in Irish handball as early as the eleventh century. It was brought to the United States from Ireland in the nineteenth century.

You'll find all the features you're looking for in the aluminum siding at SAVOIE LUMBER CO., 64 S. Main St., 625-2601. Available in a variety of colors, it can be installed by our own experts or by the do-it-yourselfer; call us for a free estimate at your home. Cougar nine has record season

During the past two weeks, the Cougar baseball team from Sashabaw Junior High School has upped its season record to eight victories in 11 games.

This is the best baseball record in the four-year history of the school.

In the Cougar victory at Walled Lake Western May 24, the Cougars came from behind with four runs in the sixth inning.

The Cougars had been held hitless until Jim Dyke opened the sixth inning with a single, followed by another by Doug Manigold. Both Dyke and Manigold scored on an infield out and a pass ball to tie the score at two runs each.

Later in the same inning, both Tom Ross and Jeff Ferguson singled and both came home on Western's fielding miscues.

The starting pitcher, Bill Matthews, who had given up only one hit plus two unearned runs, had to retire at the end of three innings because of back trouble. Todd Himes, the winning pitcher, pitched the last four innings, allowing only one hit while striking out six batters and walking four.

Tom Ross made the fielding play of the game on a one-handed, over-the-shoulder catch of a long drive to deep left field to preserve the 4-3 victory.

For the first time in the history of Cougar-Wolverine baseball rivalry, the Cougars beat the Clarkston Junior High School team twice in one season. Both victories were achieved on the Wolverine's home diamond, the latest being a 4-0 shutout May 29.

The Cougars scored a run in the first inning on a lead-off single by Bob Fuller and three wild pitches. Fuller, leading off the third inning with a triple, scored the Cougar's second run on a fielding error. Also in the third inning, both Tom Ross and Jeff Ferguson scored on Steve Pearson's double.

Steve Howe pitched for the Cougars, giving up only four singles while walking two and striking out four batters.

Two notable field plays were made by Manigold and Dyke. Manigold took a base hit away from a Wolverine batsman on a liner hit to him at shortstop and turned it into a double play, while Dyke's throw from right field cut down a Wolverine runner attempting to score from second base on a single.

On May 31, the Walled Lake Central baseball team traveled to Cougarland. The Cougars had a 4-1 lead going into the third inning when Central scored five big runs. Two additional unearned runs in the fourth inning gave Central an 8-4 lead.

The Cougars battled back to tie the score at 8-8 in the fourth inning aided by five walks.

Then Central scored a run in each of the next two innings.

Steve Pearson tripled home a run in the sixth inning, and the Cougars had two men on base in the seventh inning but failed to score, leaving the score at 10-9 in favor of Central.

Himes pitched the first five innings for the Cougars, while Howe followed him with two hitless innings.

In a makeup game June 1, the Cougars scored early to post a 7-3 victory over Milford on the Cougar diamond.

Tom Ross, pitching his first game of the season, went the distance while scattering five hits, striking out 11 Redskins and walking only two batters.

Ross helped his own cause with a single and a double.

The Cougars closed out their baseball season June 4 at Lake Orion.

Registration for swim class

It's time to take a plunge with the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department and sign up for one of the swimming classes being offered again this year.

Registrations are being accepted in the parks and recreation department's office either in person or by telephone.

The first 10-lesson program will begin June 18, to be followed by another starting July 23.

Red Cross categories for the young people's classes are beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate, swimmer and advanced swimmer. These 45-minute sessions are scheduled between 9 a.m. and noon in either a Monday-Wednesday-Friday or Tuesday-Thursday series.

Adult swimming, junior lifesaving and senior lifesaving classes will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. twice a week, according to parks and recreation director Tim Doyle. Classes will be held at Deer and Walters lakes and two private swimming pools.

Charge for the lessons is $10 for the first family member and $7 for each additional family member.

Adult Basketball League

By Linc Smith

The first overtime game of the summer season took place last Wednesday night at Sashabaw Junior High between the Town Shop and the Clarkston Chiefs basketball teams in the Independence Adult Basketball League.

The game was forced into an extra three-minute period when Dom Mauti sank a desperation shot from mid-court in the last second of regulation play.

The Chiefs, however, managed to out-rebound the Town Shop team to register their first victory of the season, 76-74.

In other games, the Credit Union squeaked out a 63-39 victory over McGill Heating; Gary Ostrum was high scorer in the game with 28 points for the Credit Union team.

Captain Gerald Lawrence CAP and 1/Lt. Robert Higgins plan the best course of action to follow to solve one of the several simulated problems in disaster relief assigned during the 1973 CAP/Civil Defense exercise June 2-3 in Lansing.

Hilltop windows frame the view

by Betty Hecker

An unusual hilltop home in Independence Township, custom built for Bud and Laurene Patton and their two children, Greig and Stacey, combines interior elegance and a beautiful view.

Immense (big isn't enough for this room) describes the Patton living room. Four triple width windows allow one to look southeast, south, southwest, and west from the half-of-an-octagon shaped room.

Bud said, "We have a beautiful view up here in every season," and Laurene added, "You can almost always see Pontiac and the bank buildings."

Vibrant orange plush carpeting, from Custom Floor in Clarkston, and the white walls with nubby textured ceiling and huge two-foot wide beams make a dramatic setting for the gold furniture arrangements.

Bud and Laurene contacted Plaza Village Furniture in Union Lake for the furniture and its arrangements. Laurene said, "The decorator kept bringing these beautiful crystal pieces, and I said, 'Oh, it's so pretty!' to everything he showed us."

Orange and gold floral velvet sofa and matching loveseat combine with one of the glass topped Italian antiques gold tables to form one of the conversation settings in the living room. Another includes gold striped velvet high backed chairs and a plush, round gold velvet chair.

Spanish influence

The dark beams in the cathedral ceiling are spoke-like, all pointing inward to the massive brick fireplace. It's a double fireplace, opening both in the living room and in the family room.

A dark wood banister divider is used to separate the formal dining area. A round table and high backed Spanish carved chairs are centered under a crystal prism chandelier.

There are two curved stairways. The front stairway is carpeted in the orange of the living room, and has black wrought iron railings. The back stairway leads into the downstairs recreation room, with its pool table and long bar area. The predominant feature here is the sunken conversation pit, carpeted and curved for back comfort, in front of the fireplace.

Brick outlined arch doorways and pass-through windows from the kitchen to both the dining area and the family room illustrate the Spanish theme of the home.

Outside, brick arches hold the deck, which encircles the front portion of the house.

Family pictures, mementos, and plaques decorate the walls in the recreation room and the den. Bud's father, Archie, finished the decoupage plaques that hang on the wall behind the sofa in the den.

The master bedroom has its own fireplace, complemented by Spanish furniture, dark brown shag carpeting, bold, vivid colors in the spread and matching drapes and curtains. A full room-size walk-in closet and private bath make it ultimately comfortable.

The children's rooms reflect their interests and hold their treasures. Greig's shelf unit holds 26 roller skating trophies, and several ribbons from horse shows. Royal blue shag carpeting, cowboy print wallpaper, blue denim spreads with red bandana piping and curtains, and a big red bean bag chair complete the decor.

Stacey's hot pink plush carpeting sets off the white French provincial bedroom furniture. The canopy bed spread of very pale pink tiered ruffles is covered with stuffed animals and toys. Stacey also has won skating trophies, and her bean bag chair is white.

A guest bedroom is decorated in red and white.

If Floyd Gordon, 109 Wompole Drive, will call the Clarkston News, he will receive a free pass to the Clarkston Cinema to see Clint Eastwood in "Dirty Harry."

Housing has always been something of a problem in America. The post war periods have found housing to be a particularly serious need. This is how housing developments had their beginnings. The early developments were laid out by the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the government. They were planned with particular attention to arranging housing so that it would be near schools, stores and churches. Today investment firms, insurance companies, and others have taken over the development of such housing.

BOB WHITE REAL ESTATE, 5856 S. Main St., 625-5821 participated in the development of Waterford Hill, Clarkston Gardens, Clarkston Hill Estates, and Deer Lake Knolls, and our "know-how" and experience in land development equips us to aid you in developing your land, no matter how large or how small. 24 hour answering service. "Springing up" 1, 2, 3 -- You're out!

by Betty Hecker

Monday closing of the News office last week left me missing many holiday get-togethers. But there's one family that we must acknowledge!

On Memorial Day, 70 O'Learys got together at Big Lake. There were several reasons; first, it was Rob's birthday — so his 10 brothers and sisters and their children, and his Mom and Dad all came out to wish him a happy day. Secondly, Rob's sister, Marie from Troy, had a Japanese visitor. The O'Learys thought it would be nice to show her what a good old-fashioned American family reunion looked like, and thirdly, it was a holiday and picnic weather, so why not?

Eleanor, Rob's wife, said, "We all went over to Andersonville School for a while. There was an Uncle and Nephew baseball game, then an Aunt and Niece softball game. The Uncles got slaughtered. But Dad (Clarence O'Leary) was the umpire and he kinda took the nephews' side. He was throwing his sons out of the game right and left. We all had such a good time."

Joe Stetz, Tommy's baseball manager, spent Memorial Day at the Indy 500 race. He didn't stay over after it was postponed.

Larry and Jo Tarp of Andersonville are home from Indianapolis. Every year they go to visit friends and for the race, of course. Jo said, "There was lots of rain on us this year. We didn't stay over for the final running. Our seats are on the fourth turn. That last wreck happened right there. I don't like to see the crashes. But the race is always very exciting. And . . . it's our chance to get away from the kids once a year."

Minnie Mae and Orrie Adams are home on Maybee Road from their place in Lakeland, Florida. Minnie Mae had the cast removed from the broken ankle she suffered falling off her bike.

Herman Jaenichen reports that the Davisburg Juggers All American Kazoo Band has been so busy, they're beginning to wonder if they are overworked. On June 2, they entertained a group at the Ortonville High School. On Sunday, they played at a "sort of a carnival" at an Academy in Bloomfield Hills. Herman said, "They saw us on television and contacted us from that. There was also a 5-piece band there to play their music. We're having a ball anyway!"

Wednesday, the band played at an OEO dinner at Waterford-Oaks. Some of the band members were asked if they could play for a square dance. They began, then Ed Thomas asked them for their union cards. They reported they didn't have union cards, but they were still wearing their union suits.

Next Wednesday, they will entertain the people at the Sunday Rest Home in Holly. On Friday, they are going to a rest home in Milford.

When the Juggers Band plays at Holly, they will visit one of their own, Mrs. Carey.

Lorna Little is home on Bigelow Road, after staying with her daughter in Farmington for a while after her release from Crittenton Hospital.

Rosa Davis is home from the hospital, recovering from her recent surgery.

Kim Blasey of Middle Lake Road and her roommate, Lea Gondzar, are students at Hurley School of Nursing in Flint. They have recently completed their tests.

On May 26, Lea flew home to Cove, Oregon, to spend the summer with her family. On May 27, Kim and Becky Hunt of Holcomb Road flew to Cocoa Beach, Florida for a two week vacation.

The Andersonville School Fair was a success. The fair chairman, Eleanor O'Leary, said, "I am so happy with it. It ran so smoothly, and we made a lot of money."

Darrel Batchelder came to the school about 9 in the morning, just to help set up a tent. He didn't get to leave, working all day (as did so many other parents). Darrel was buying some of the door prize tickets, and didn't want to be cheap when the girls didn't have change for his $20 bill. He bought more tickets. And you know what — he won the first prize! It was a Magnavox Stereo.

Sandy Sanford, first grade teacher at Andersonville School won the bike that was second prize. There were 19 prizes in all, including the 45 certificates for McMuffins from the McDonald's Restaurant on Dixie at M-15. The stereo was purchased with the cash donation received from Al Valentine's Oxford Mining.

Thirty-three young people from Clarkston United Methodist Church Junior High MYF went to Cedar Point last Saturday. Our son, Bob, had a wonderful day, relating to us so many of his adventures. He and Jeff Blackett played putt-putt golf, and he and Brian Carr rode the Blue Streak. And it seems there was something about some girls they met, some Ohio girls. Since Bob wears braces on his teeth, the girls called him "tinsel-teeth" and one of the guys was called "Fatso." Charming?

Two Waterford residents are among the 249 candidates for degrees at Lake Superior State College, Sault Ste. Marie.

They are Michael S. Hampton, 6888 Terrell, candidate for a bachelor of science in business administration, and Mark W. Mercer, 4145 Windiate, who has worked toward a bachelor of science in biological science.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baynes, 6140 Lakeview, were to celebrate their 54th wedding anniversary Monday. "I'll take her out for dinner if it doesn't rain," Herb said. "Otherwise we'll go a day later."

Frances Avery, former Clarkston area resident, now a recognized painter in New York City, is visiting friends in and near Clarkston this week.

Cheryl Elaine Powell and Richard Rowe were married April 27 at Lutheran Church of the Ascension. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jess Powell of Andersonville Road and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rowe of Pontiac. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Humphreys Jr. were honor attendants. The couple received guests at 579 Westbrook, Pontiac.

Arthur Trese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Trese, 5390 Oakhill, has been awarded a scholarship to attend Albion College this fall. As a student at Ortonville Brandon High School, he was a member of the Varsity Club and active in track and cross-country. Trese was also in band and Spanish Club and a member of 4-H. He lists pre-medical studies as his college major.

Persons attending are asked to bring their own meat, grill, table service and a dish to pass.

TOP COOPERATOR

It's easy today to get fed up with exploit people's work, but the the exploiters. Most best-selling tentacles reach out to endanger fiction seems to make heroes of the health and even life itself. For manipulators who twist people examples just look at the newspaper around for a fabulous profit. In real life it is just as noticeable if not For this reason it was refreshing more so. And it isn't enough to to hear about a cousin of mine who back in western Pennsylvania has just been named Top Cooperator for the whole county conservation district. That's just a fancy name for a good, progressive farmer with an eye to the care of the earth as to a profit. He puts underground drains beneath the wet spots on his land; he contours his planting in that hilly area; he rebuilds the soil with fertilizers both organic and chemical; he restores the strip-mined parts with trees, etc.

In both the Good Book there were both kinds of critters, exploiters and cooperators. Each got his just desserts in the end. Jacob tried carving out a career in exploitation until he couldn't stand the results and changed his ways. In the New Testament men did not hesitate to charge fees for soothsaying or magic tricks to exploit a girl with mental health problems.

Today, it is easy to suspect that developers turn into exploiters and that the only cooperators with the good earth or with God are naive and don't know any better. So I'm glad that my cousin back on the farm spoils that image. He makes a good living and lives a life full of challenges but it is the top cooperator. Our Lord urged his followers to be shrewd as serpents but harmless as doves. We could use a lot more cooperators with Him.

State auction at Camp

A 16-year-old horse-drawn plow, a pontoon boat, typewriters and pickup trucks are among hundreds of pieces of State-owned used equipment to be sold by the Michigan Department of Administration at public auction Saturday, June 9.

The location of the sale, which will begin at 10 a.m., has been changed from its usual site near Lansing, Department officials pointed out. The sale will be held at Camp Pontiac, 8120 White Lake Road, Clarkston.

A large quantity of office furnishings, including desks, typewriters and adding machines, is a major feature in the items offered for sale. Also scheduled to be sold to the highest bidders are lathes, planers and other metal and woodworking machinery.

The equipment may be inspected at Camp Pontiac from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, June 8, and during the morning of sale.

Achievement recognition at Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center saw Principal Herb Olson presenting certificates to students having completed one and two years' work.

JoAnn Lemos, commercial art student of Lawrence Keech, received her certificate of achievement from Principal Olson.

She cries a lot

by Joan Peters

A few weeks ago, our second son, Kevin, asked me if I would cry at Mark's Graduation. Being very honest I answered, "Yes of course, why not? I cry at Baptisms, Weddings, Memorial Day parades, Civil War stories, Birthdays, (especially mine) old movies and sundry other things."

My kids are always running for Kleenex, for drippy old mom.

I often wonder who invented the adage "keep a stiff upper lip". O.K. upper's stiff, but the lower still trembles. I have proved that.

I come from a long line of sentimentalists, starting on a metal picture frame, (teardrops) a surprise picture of mom and dad; a really good watch we gave dad for his birthday - I often wondered why it worked, it was full of salt water. (Tears again).

Well, graduation for our first child is Saturday, exactly 27 years to the day I graduated--sob--.

So beware all those who sit near the Peter's family at Pine Knob Music Theater for CHS 1973 graduation! Bring your Life Preservers, I'll be there.

6060 MAYBEE ROAD 625-3731

Back home in Indiana

by Holly Stephens

There are a few highlights of the Indy 500 Race that were missed by the network the other night.

They failed to mention the happenings of the Indy Travel Club.

The club consists of six old friends dating back to high school days, one of whom was celebrating his 19th beer at the race this year and he's only thirty-two.

I am a mere novice of six years and would go to the basement for four days if it included maid service, meals out, and excluded kids.

Planning for our annual outing starts in December when the club president drives from Toledo to Detroit to buy the tickets — same seats on the first turn for 12 years. The motel reservations were made the day after the last race.

Then the big count down starts. It goes by months until the 6-month point, then by days, and finally starting the first of May, at any given moment our illustrious president can tell you exactly how many hours until Tony Hulman says "Gentlemen start your engines."

This upper echelon business man by day goes bananas every May. He starts sending club members newsletters keeping us all abreast the happenings at the track — like how Clarence, the grounds keeper, is doing, and who is adjusting the engines in Gasoline Alley. He thinks we're all cheap because we don't subscribe to the three local Indianapolis newspapers for the month, or go to time trials with him.

He took 367 pictures at qualifying this year so we could all see what we had missed. When I talked to his wife Thursday before the race she had a straight jacket ready and had forbade him to mention the word, Indy, at home.

On a very sunny Saturday we set out for the track. The five-hour drive is spent memorizing car numbers and drivers. Our president gives final exams. Since we are not invited to the awards banquet after the race we hold our own awards ceremony the first night.

We gave the president a large cardboard pocket watch commemorating 19 years of service as a fanatic and his wife an honorary degree for perseverance (putting up with the President for 12 years.)

At 5 a.m. on race morning we are all dragged out of bed by a now near hysterical president saying "Only 6 hours to go." I hate cheerful people at 5 a.m. By 7 he had us all packed in the car and off for the track. He knows all the back roads to the speedway so we only arrived an hour early.

The 50 bands marched in full sun; the celebrities were driven around the track in Eldorado pace cars in semi-sun; the race cars were brought out on the track with a full cloud cover, and the Goodyear Blimp had more sense than the 350,000 other people at the track; it stayed home.

Then the rains came. The race cars were moved back to the pits, and out came the tow trucks — round and round the 2½ mile oval they drove trying to dry the track. Then we waited five hours and ten trips to the concession stands later we knew the life history of all our immediate neighbors in the surrounding boxes and a few in the concession lines.

We had resorted to timing the tow trucks with stop watches, and taking bets on the fastest lap time.

A little rain does not dampen the enthusiasm of Indy fans however, because 24 hours later we were all back at the track, shy only 50,000 who we classified as dead beats. Just because the group behind us had flown in Monday morning and had a return flight out at 6 with no empty rooms within a 100-mile radius of the city did not mean they had to leave. They could have slept under the grandstands.

Tuesday was Mother Nature's repeat performance of Monday, with one exception, only three concession stands had any hot dogs left. Since the race was suppose to start two hours earlier we had voted to skip breakfast and sleep, no club member was willing to stand in the long line and chance missing the race start.

Finally in a weakened condition I volunteered. Fellow members kept me posted on the lap times of the tow trucks at 10-minute intervals. At the end of the first hour in line the other girls joined me; we were a friendly, starving, but not thirsty, group. It seemed the Black Label Company is more efficient than the hot dog company — their line moved very well. At last two hours later and three people from the front of the line, when filet mignon never looked so good, we heard "OUT OF HOT DOGS!!"

It was pouring rain. Then came the real Indy test, the men had to decide whether to stay another day or keep their jobs. So, $300 poorer, we all saw the race at home on Wednesday night like the rest of the fans — to the tune of kids in the background.

Ear Wax

Ear wax is normally secreted by a gland within the ear canal, to protect the sensitive skin in that area. It provides lubrication and a sticky surface to catch the outside dirt before it can harm the eardrum.

This varies greatly from person to person: hard, soft, fluid or gummy. It usually becomes dry when exposed to the air, and flakes out of the ear bit by bit (aided by the normal motion of the adjoining jaw) or is washed out.

Ear wax also provides a mild antiseptic for the canal. As a matter of fact, when the skin becomes infected or inflamed, flakes of skin may be mixed with the wax to make it congeal more rapidly than usual.

It is said that one person in five has excess ear wax at any given time. If not removed, it may harden to the point where it causes hearing loss, pain, dizziness or ringing in the ears.

This is particularly a problem in older people, who have trouble completing their normal routine of hygiene. Then they blame their hearing loss on "old age" instead of on an easily corrected condition.

Impacted ear wax should not be poked with pencils, hair pins and the like. Ear drops are now available which soften the wax so that it moves freely to the outer ear, where it may be swabbed out. Sometimes, too, a simple irrigation of the ear is enough to correct the problem.

Teen of the week

Lori Womack

Lori Womack, 14, a ninth grader at Clarkston Junior High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Womack, 6614 Shelley Drive. She is Clarkston Youth Assistance Teen of the Week.

Lori was on the honor roll all four marking periods last year. She sings in the Maranatha Youth Choir and last year toured with the choir through Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska.

A member of Pioneer Girls since fourth grade, she has earned several badges and ranks.

She likes water skiing and snowmobiling and animals, owning a St. Bernard which she has shown in several dog shows and for which she has won several ribbons. She also plays the piano and enjoys needlework and ceramics.

Ponding result

New deeper drainage ditches in areas where sewer work has been completed is causing ponding problems in Clarkston Gardens, the Stern-Seligman Subdivision and parts of Clarkston Estates.

Supervisor Robert Vandermark said Oakland County Road Commission has apparently adopted a policy of requiring open drainage ditches and culverts to be 18 inches deep. The drainage ditches in most of the affected area are just 11 inches deep, he said, and ponds are resulting in the newly created low areas.

Vandermark said he was attempting to get the problem straightened out informally, but he admitted it might be necessary to seek a court injunction against the County DPW, the Road Commission and Akron Contracting Co. to stop clean-up operations until the problem is settled.

Dorcas Wolf, Pat Beach, Agnes DeNise, Phyllis Bradford and Mary Mose are new officers of Waterford-Clarkston, Business, and Professional Women.

Men in service

Airman First Class Richard T. Leaf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Leaf, 104 N. Main, has been assigned to Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Mich., after training as a jet engine mechanic.

Leaf, a 1970 Clarkston High School graduate, recently graduated from the U.S. Air Force jet engine mechanic course conducted by the air training command at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

Sussex is PTA president

Ward Sussex has been elected president of Clarkston Elementary PTA for the 1973-74 school year.

Fred Rosser is father vice president; Doris Beattie, mother vice president; Karen Yakmalian, teacher vice president; Marty Johnston, secretary; Joy McKibben, treasurer; and Judy Brumback, historian.

They can, canoe?

Thirty-six couples of the Methodist Couples Club recently canoed Middle, Dollar, Greens, Van Norman and Maceday Lake without serious incident.

Margaret Priebe reports one water logged vessel found a friendly dock in time to dump out and start fresh. An unexpected portage was made necessary when the canoers, who take to the water annually, encountered dam construction between Dollar and Greens Lakes.

The canoes were launched in Cemetery Lake off White Lake Road.

Dr. Edward Grattan, his children, Cathy and Larry, and Margaret Priebe set out in an idyllic setting for the Methodist Couples Club recent canoe expedition through Middle, Dollar, Greens, Van Norman and Maceday lakes.

The Grattans and Mrs. Priebe caught up with Mark and Norma Harris.

Diane and Jack Harken and Durant Hatcher in the foreground came launched with a good audience watching.
