Township to force sewer hookups

by Jean Saile

Independence Township officials have agreed that they must enforce the mandatory 18-month deadline for sewer hook-up.

The action will immediately affect 160 residents of the Goodrich Farms-Dixie Highway area whose deadline to connect passed on February 1.

Soon to be affected are residents who live south of Waldon Road and east of M-15, their deadline coming in July, and the residents of Clarkston Gardens whose deadline will follow in August.

Director of Public Works Andy Anderson reports that those failing to comply will be taken to court and forced to connect.

The decision to enforce hook-ups has come about, according to Supervisor J. Edwin Glennie, because of the need to meet a $269,000 interest payment due next April.

"We will have enough money from the $169.50 yearly payments of the 780 homes already connected, plus fees from the schools and an apartment complex due to connect to meet the $269,000 payment due this fall," he said.

He added the township has asked its attorneys for procedures to set up a special assessment district in the areas where sewers are available in order to meet continuing payments on the $10 million sewer complex.

He said he advised those people who will be affected to connect now while the current $2,260 flat fee and $169.50 annual payments are in effect.

"When we go to the sewer special assessment district, we expect the cross will increase," he said.

Glennie added, however, that the special assessment district is planned to be set up on the basis of principal costs only. People wishing to pay in a lump sum may do so; those accepting the time payment period would be charged interest. He said that plans are to let those who are paying on time pay the full amount at any time they desire, thereby saving interest.

The payments for the sewers run through the year 2,000 Glennie said.

Friday night's rain and wind storm may have spawned a small tornado, whose tracks were visible Saturday across Lakeview Cemetery, Cemetery Lake, the Middle Lake Road residential area and across M-15.

Fire Chief Frank Ronk and Supervisor J. Edwin Glennie agreed the path of felled trees and roof damage appears to have been the work of a tornado, which -- if it did not actually touch the ground -- hovered close enough to inflict a string of damage.

No one was reported injured in the storm which sent wind gusting to near 60 miles per hour and dumped nearly three inches of rain on the ground already sodden from melting snow.

The Independence Township Fire Department worked Friday night and all day Saturday pumping basements and answering calls, which included a small blaze at the Eugene Gauthier home, 6211 Ascension, where running water was believed to have shorted the wires leading from the meter box into the house.

Power lines were downed at the Detroit Edison sub-station at the north end of town. Customers in Independence Township and part of the village area were without lights from 7:05 p.m. to 12:10 a.m., while others in eastern Independence and southern Springfield went without power from 10:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., Detroit Edison spokesmen reported.

The near loss of the Davisburg Mill Pond Dam resulted in the erosion and closing of Davisburg Road in that area Saturday, while families living around Lake Louise off M-15 in Brandon Township began evacuation procedure in the fear their dam would break.

Sandbagging efforts by Springfield and Brandon Fire Departments and neighborhood residents apparently averted serious consequence.

In Springfield nearly 100 people worked Saturday to sandbag the Department of Natural Resources trout pond off Davisburg Road and keep more water from entering the Davisburg Mill Pond. Their efforts were successful, the water level dropping soon after the job was finished, according to Assistant Fire Chief Elwyn Hillman.

A washout on Andersonville Road in front of the Oakland County Youth Activities Center damaged pavement there, but Hillman reported Springfield little affected by the winds which struck other areas.

Members of Clarkston Composite Squadron Civil Air Patrol worked throughout Saturday night shoring up waters of the Shiawassee River near Corunna.

In Waterford Hill, a power loss caused malfunctioning sump pumps and several wet basements had to be pumped out. Workers reported the water seeped in the basement walls as opposed to coming in from surface water spillover.

Along Bluegrass at the north of the village, the creek-like Clinton River became a raging torrent, and again several wet basements were reported.

The Lower Mill Pond flooded over the village parking lot, endangering homes in the area, and at Deer Lake Beach, water lapped nearly to the road. The Mill Pond dam was kept closed for fear of further endangering some swamped homes in the Dollar Lake area.

While the winds overturned trailers in White Lake Township, there was no excessive damage reported at one of the three mobile home parks in this area.

Meanwhile the Walters Lake area, equipped with a new dam completed by residents last year, stayed relatively dry.

Disaster aid could rebuild roads

If President Ford moves to designate the northern tier of Oakland County as a disaster area, there's a chance some of our worst roads may be fixed, according to State Rep. Claude Trim.

The president was petitioned Monday for the designation by Gov. William Milliken.

Should this part of the county be so named, individuals within the damaged areas would become eligible for low interest loans, communities would have the full resources of the federal government at hand, and direct grants in aid would be possible, according to John Dent of the county Disaster Control Office.

Trim said he is especially interested in the funds in the hopes that Davisburg Road might be raised and repaired as a result of the Mill Pond flood damage, and that other washed out roads in the area might be mended.

Trim said he was also interested in seeing the Oakland County Drain Commission take responsibility for the Davisburg Mill Pond Dam and the Lake Louise dam. If that happened, lake levels could be established, Trim said.

One dead, 3 injured in traffic

One young man is dead, a girl is in critical condition in intensive care and two other young people sustained broken bones as a result of traffic accidents in the area during the past week.

Dead is George Gilbert Thomas, 19, 5530 Mary Sue, who Sheriff's officers say was traveling at a high rate of speed along Maybee Road at 11:58 p.m. April 18, when he struck a car parked alongside the road. His vehicle reportedly became air borne and landed against a tree in the front yard of a nearby residence. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Deena Eller, 17, 9855 Rattalee Lake Road, suffered severe head injuries when the car in which she was a passenger failed to stop at the Dixie Highway Road-Davisburg Road intersection and struck one driven by Samuel E. Walker, 22, 13318 Dixie.

Also injured was the driver of the car in which Deena rode, John W. Zubalik, 17, 5218 Marconi who is listed in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with broken bones, and another passenger John Petterson, 17, 6716 Almond Lane, who also suffered broken bones.

Walker was treated in the hospital and released.

Sheriff's officers said the accident happened at 8:11 p.m. Friday during the heavy rain storm.

Memorial Day parade planned

American Legion Post No. 63 Commander Merle Riddle has announced that the Memorial Day parade will be 10 a.m. Monday, May 26.

The parade will start at the corner of Church and Buffalo streets and proceed to Lakview Cemetery. Marching units are asked to assemble at 9:30 a.m. Because of the memorial nature of the parade, Riddle has asked that no floats, horses or decorated bikes be entered.

Further information is available from John Lynch at 625-3994.

Clarkston News wins School Bell

The Clarkston News was presented one of 25 School Bell awards Friday before nearly 6700 teacher-delegates attending the annual Representative Assembly of the Michigan Education Association in Lansing.

This well-known award recognizes "outstanding contributions to community understanding of education. Winners were selected by an independent panel of judges drawn from newspapers, broadcast stations, as well as citizens and education groups.

Ted Malone, roving reporter, former war correspondent and network reporter, from New York, made the presentation on behalf of the MEA.

Quoting directly from the judging panel's report, Malone said of the entry, "heavy coverage of education... lots of stress on students and their activities... excellent photos... good reporting."

The News' sister paper, The Lake Orion Review, was also honored.

Each winner received a plaque and an engraved brass bell with a black wooden handle--a replica of the old-fashioned bell that stood on the classroom teacher's desk.

Clarkston News Editor Jean Saile accepts the Michigan Education Association School Bell Award from media personality Ted Malone.

Who gets the court? It's a new ballgame

The Oakland County Board of Commissioners has rejected all bids for construction of a new Clarkston District Court facility.

The vote was 14-12 along party lines last Thursday, only Mary Dearborn, R-Birmingham, jumping party lines to vote with the Democrats against rejection.

Action came on a motion of Richard Button, R-Royal Oak, who asked that all bids be rejected and that new advertisements for bids be taken for a building minimum of 4,200 square feet in size.

Lawrence Pernick, D - Oak Park, opposed, contending that while such action would clarify the clouds of confusion over the court, there is no need for it. He asked that the bid be awarded to Dale E. Millward whose $27,000 a year for a location at M-15 and Cranberry Lake Road was the lowest total bid.

Pernick said that rejection of all bids who in reality only a method of letting the newly formed Clarkston Economic Development Corporation rebid for the project. The EDC bid had been rejected when it was determined that it had not become a legal entity until two days following the bid deadline.

He noted: "A lot has been made of the lower square foot bid, (submitted by Warren Newsted) but the project wasn't advertised that way. It is clear our specifications were met by one bidder," he said.

Other Democrats contended Pernick was right if the "sanctity of the bid system was to be preserved in the county."

County Executive Daniel T. Murphy said that while he agreed the bid process had left a lot to be desired, the price per square foot offered for Clarkston locations was higher than that paid in Rochester.

He said he considered $5.50 or $6 a reasonable square foot bid in the Clarkston area. Of the four companies bidding for the court, the square footage bids ranged from $6 to $7.52. Warren Newsted, while low in square footage, had been high in total cost in that he proposed to build a 5,000 square foot building, which would have cost the county $30,000 per year.

EDC spokesmen were loath to say whether they will rebid or not until directors meet again in the near future.

Millward, whose previously recommended low bid was thrown out by board action, said, "Needless to say, I'm very disappointed. I'm just a small businessman who was gullible enough to think that fair and equal treatment could prevail against the powers of government conspiracies in the interests of justice. My bid met all the requirements asked for by the county and it was the lowest within the confines of the county requirements, regardless of what others might think."

Millward said he wouldn't resubmit his bid, but that he would watch what happens.

"I'm very appreciative of those commissioners who based their vote on the logic and merit of the issue, rather than distort the facts for party affiliation," he added.

He said he would take legal action based on the advice of his attorney.

County landfill plan approved

Oakland County Board of Commissioners has approved the county-wide solid waste disposal master plan, despite considerable debate during its meeting last Thursday.

The plan was amended to state that recycling and recovery programs proposed might nullify landfill tonnage figures contained within the report.

Lew Coy, R-Wixom, contended the original plan adopted a year ago did not take recycling efforts into account, and he added that later amendments to the plan had never been officially approved by township and municipal governments involved.

Alexander Perinoff, D-Southfield, a member of the Board of Public Works, contended amendments were fly-specking the plan to death.

"It's become like the king who had a garment woven so fine you couldn't even see it," he stormed, "and yet this is the most important plan facing us as a county. We've worked on this proposal for 14 years, and it's time to resolve our differences before we drown in our own garbage."

Shortly after his rebuttal, Perinoff was stricken with what was believed to be a small stroke and taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Coy, who was upset at the county's designating Lyons Township to receive 1,700 tons of garbage a day, contended soil borings had not been taken to prove if Lyons land would indeed be a suitable site for a landfill.

Niles Olson, D-Orion Township, wanted the county to delay until at least October 1 submission of any plan. He said many areas were on the verge of a break-through in solid waste treatment and that the county might well wait to submit a plan that meant something and one that county board members understood.

His amendment was defeated in a vote following a plea by County Executive Daniel Murphy to present the plan to Lansing. "We must have a plan filed with the state or there is not one funding agency that will give us money to put our recovery program into action," he said.

"In the meantime," he added, "Oakland County's delay is contributing Wayne County and Detroit's delay and they are still bringing their garbage to Oakland County. It is in the best interest of all the people of the county to approve this plan," he said.

Though representatives from Independence Township were present at the meeting, they were one step removed from direct involvement with the county plan. The township has been permitted to submit a plan of its own, which should exempt it from overall county plans.

Viet baby comes home

Troy Oliver Joyal is home and surrounded by family. The Vietnamese orphan arrived last week at Metropolitan Airport in the care of a stewardess and was met, after a time mix-up, by members of the Edgar Joyal family of Walters Lake. Four months old, weighing 10 pounds, 1 ounce, he was suffering a chest cold, ear infection and temperature, but as of Friday, the temperature had departed. His new family includes Renee, Aaron, Erica and their parents.

Springfield planners get a look at fair plans

By Betty Hecker

Development plans for Springfield-Oaks Park, involving a year-round $20 million project in its ultimate stages, were presented last week to the Springfield Planning Commission for discussion.

The plan has been approved by the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission, but must yet be approved by the Oakland County Board of Commissioners.

Fred Ellis of Ellis, Arndt and Truesdell Inc. of Flint was present to answer questions and detail the planned exposition facility which includes an historic village.

Ellis said 48 acres north of Scott Road is needed in addition to the 59 acres now owned by the county. There is the further possibility another 104 acres west of Hall Road would be needed for parking.

A new expressway, I-275, is seen as the main highway artery servicing the project. A major intersection would be at Andersonville Road, which Ellis said would be expanded to six lanes from the cloverleaf to the park entrance. He said I-275 should be ready in about four years.

The plan, which Ellis stressed was a concept -- not a rigid and inflexible design, can be developed as needs and funding develops, he said.

"The key to the whole project is cooperation, both with government and private enterprise," it was reported. Ellis said it was a possibility that private companies might build and deed exposition type halls to the county.

The plan began, he explained, when it was determined that 4-H facilities at the ground are not adequate. A new pole barn was needed, and in order to determine where to put it, action began on the development of a master plan.

Six months of work, including visits to 17 county and state fairs across the United States, followed.

Ellis added that the investigators had found 4-H essential to good fairs, but he also advised expansion in other areas -- an indoor winter tennis facility, summer picnic grounds, ice skating facilities on a new man-made lake, all facilities to have dual purpose.

A model farm, a replica of an 1800's development, would house actual people doing actual farm work. A modernization of traditional 4-H displays should show the butchering process as well as the meat on the hoof, Ellis said. Milking demonstrations could include the whole process up to pasturization.

He added that entertainment is a most important part of the fair and its success. Some 75,000 visitors a day, during an eight-day fair, involving 15,000 cars, would require additional parking land. An indoor-outdoor arena holding 7,000 people is also included.

Sanitary facilities, wells and sewage treatment facilities were included as musts.

While the intention is that the county would originally fund the development, it should become self-sustaining over a period of time, Ellis said. He added he didn't expect that the county would ever recoup its initial investment, but that the project would aid the area through greater employment possibilities and accompanying commercial development. Other funds might be available through federal or Bicentennial sources, he said.

Ellis recommended that the fair be operated by an independent fair committee, which, he said, could make more than $1 million a year.

Year round security would be needed and during the proposed eight-day operation of the fair, the security force would have to be increased to 700 to 800 people, Ellis said.

All reserved seating is planned for Clarkston High School Drama and Vocal Music Department's presentation of "The Music Man" April 24, 25, 26 and 27 and May 1, 2, and 3 at the high school.

Tickets are $1.50 for Thursday and Sunday matinee performances. Friday and Saturday 8 p.m. shows are $2.50 for adults and $2 for students.

Backed by a 22-piece orchestra directed by Keith Sipos, the group performs under the vocal direction of Grayce Warren and dramatic direction of Barbara Gibson. Yvonne Wilson is costume director.

Townpeople celebrate

Cindy Karpovck is the scene painter and designer for "The Music Man" which will be presented at Clarkston High School April 24, 25, 26, 27 and May 1, 2, and 3.

Five-year-old Zundra Lynn Wood takes a hearing test from Speech Therapist Jane Carpenter during Bailey Lake Elementary pre-school registration for kindergarten. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood of 8761 Thendara, she is one of 89 children screened Monday at the school. Other schools were to conduct registrations this week.

Village Stroll days planned

A "Village Stroll" has been planned by members of the newly organized Village Business Association of Clarkston for the week of May 16 to 24.

Downtown craft demonstrations and informal entertainment are proposed in addition to open houses at all village businesses.

Members are hoping a low-key carnival atmosphere will prevail -- particularly on the evening of May 22 when stores plan to remain open until 9 p.m.

Street corner musicians, outdoor film showings, buggy rides, handicraft demonstrations, and perhaps a small circus are being considered.

Proceeds raised, over and above the regular commercial endeavors of the stores, would be turned over to independence center.

Sidewalk sales of cotton candy, popcorn, and flea market goods would produce funds for the troubled volunteer agency.

Business people will meet again at 7:15 p.m. May 1 at the Old Village Coffee Shop to proceed with plans.

DNR hearing on hunting ban

Whether or not land south of I-75 in Independence Township should be closed to hunting will be the subject of a public hearing at 7 p.m. May 1 at Independence Township Hall.

A hunting control committee composed of Supervisor J. Edwin Glennie, Bruce Andrews of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Michigan State Police Lt. George Gedda and a representative of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department will make recommendations at that time.

The committee has already met and looked over the area with special emphasis on those portions off Perry Lake Road, between Cranberry Lake and Hubbard, the Greens Lake area and Birdland Subdivision, Glennie said.

Following the hearing, the findings will be acted on by the township board -- it having the right to reject or accept the proposal of the committee.

Cooperative efforts praised

Cooperation between governmental units is rare and when it's tied in with a concerted citizen involvement it's even rarer, and yet it happens. We were out much of Saturday shooting pictures of the aftermath of Friday's big storm; and one of the things we found were people working together for the good of all. In Springfield Township, citizens led by the officers of the local fire department averted a disaster by laboring shoulder to shoulder to avert a Davisburg Mill Pond dam break.

There was some help from the county, but not nearly the amount that could have been used. Four loads of dirt were dumped by the Oakland County Road Commission for a sandbagging operation, and some parks and recreation equipment was turned out at the Mill Pond site.

In nearby Brandon, the Fire Department there labored with residents of Lake Louise to prevent what could have been tragedy and many homes destroyed.

Independence Fire Department, while not facing flood problems of that scope, labored around the clock to help homeowners empty water from their basements.

One of the reasons Independence didn't have a possible tragedy was because of prior neighborhood efforts which had restored the Walters Lake dam. It held, and beautifully, we're told.

A Clarkston contingent of Civil Air Patrol cadets went to Corunna to help shore up a Shiawassee River flood situation. They labored through the night.

There were probably many other evidences of such cooperation and we're happy to point them out. Any community needs people like those who respond when they are needed.

Golfing with the pros

by Jim Fitzgerald

As a fellow tournament golfer, I find myself swinging in the same groove as Jack Nicklaus. (He's that big blonde guy who is on TV a lot. You know who I am).

After he won the Masters, Nicklaus explained that the terrible pressure of playing tournament golf against the best pros in the world is really "a lot of fun." I agree.

Nicklaus said it really pumps him up to hear the crowd yell and applaud when he walks up on the green after splintering the pin with his approach shot. I know just how he feels.

I recently competed in the Tony Lema Memorial Golf Tournament on Marco Island, Florida. All the guys were there. I teed off right behind Sam Snead and just ahead of Bobby Nichols. Other touring pros present included Homero Blancas, Larry Ziegler, Dale Douglas, Ray Floyd, Ken Venturi and dozens more. Nicklaus didn't show up, obviously fearing the embarrassment of being beat by a Michigan amateur who doesn't have time to play much golf because my real game is tennis.

This was a celebrity-pro tourney, for charity, and I was rubbing elbows with such personages as Jackie Gleason, Micky Mantle, Joe DiMaggio and Garo Yepremian. I had a long talk with Gleason. I said "hello" and he said "Quit rubbing my elbow."

You are probably wondering what in the devil I was doing in this tournament. (Nuts to you). Was it because I am a great golfer, or a great celebrity? Or was it because the tourney is sponsored by the Deltona Corp, Florida's leading housing developer, and their assistant vice president for public relations is Chuck Werle who used to work for me?

When I heard about the tourney I wrote Chuck, telling him my column now appears in the Devil's Lake World in Devils Lake, North Dakota, and didn't this make me famous enough to play in the Lema tournament? In the same letter I reminded Chuck of some of the stunts he pulled as a young man in our hometown, adding that a copy of the letter had been given to my lawyer to be forwarded to all Florida newspapers in the event of my death or non-appearance in the Lema.

An invitation was quickly forthcoming. As the man hanging from the cliff said, it is handy to have friends in high places.

I'll admit I was slightly worried about my ability to hit a golf ball in front of the thousands of people who paid $7 each to see such people as Snead, Gleason and the columnist for the Devils Lake World. But I whiffed only once and it wasn't my fault. As I went into my backswing, a thing of fluid beauty, a voice in the gallery hissed: "Tuck in your shirt." I knew it was my wife because my mother wasn't there. Under such conditions, Nicklaus would have whiffed.

My most magnificent moment came on the 9th green which always draws the biggest gallery because it's nearest the bar. My playing partners, including touring pro Frank Wharton, hit decent approach shots, all between 10 and 30 feet from the pin. Then I flew my approach over a tree. It hit on the front of the green and rolled within 5 inches of the pin. The crowd roared its approval and continued to applaud as I strode onto the green and performed a humble curtsy, spreading my shirttail ala Shirley Temple. ("That'll show her!")

As Nicklaus said, the pressure was fun. All I had to worry about was someone telling my adoring gallery that it had taken my partners 2 shots each to get on the green, and it had taken me five.

It is comforting to compete before an audience that sees only your finish. I am going to run in the Boston Marathon next year and take a cab all except the last 2 blocks.

Onward and Upward, and always whisper to the scorekeeper.

Our young femmes

by Jean Saile

It was pointed out to me at a recent Girl Scout Mother-Daughter affair that all the young scouts were decked out in pretty dresses and all the mothers showed up in pants suits.

I'm not sure exactly what that means.

Is it that femininity of dress is not yet dead among the younger generation? Does it mean that in five to ten years pants suits will be passe for dress affairs?

I can hear all the men grinning.

You've got to realize however that all those really sweet young things wear pants day - after - day - after - day to school, and the chance to dress up is welcome.

Most of the mothers, I suspect, were raised as I was. One wore dresses to school, and even if one rode a horse to get there, the necessary slacks were hitched up under the dress and abandoned once school was reached.

We were never allowed to appear anywhere in public in jeans until after World War II. The debarkation line came, I think, when Rosie went off to the shipyards to rivet and pants became a necessary item of apparel. They were even patriotic.

And it was a good thing. I can get quite as comfortable as any man I know with my feet up on a hassock, and windy days, once a boon to pretty girls, no longer are a threat to aging matrons.

I do suspect, however, that dresses are returning sooner or later. I don't know whether or not I will join in the return.

My pants suit with its flowing jacket covers a multitude of sins, and I like it that way. The only other style that ever came close to doing the job were the old straight shirt dress and the shift.

Both were also masterful at disguise, and they were cool when summer came.

But, I must admit, those little girls looked awfully pretty.

Letters to the editor

On behalf of the Springfield Township Firefighters Association, a great big "Thank-you" for your help and support toward our efforts Saturday, April 19, in saving our dam in Davisburg. Without the many helping hands of men, women and children using shovels filling sand-bags, men donating their trucks and time to haul sand and people responding with tractors and bulldozer, our efforts would have been defeated. We lost a part of our road but saved the dam and a tremendous amount of property damage not only in Davisburg, but in Holly, Fenton and other villages down river whose dams were also operating at a full capacity and under as threatening condition as our own. A special "Thanks" to the ladies who prepared food and coffee which was so appreciated. Again, your help was deeply appreciated.

Elwyn Hillman, Assistant Chief Springfield Township Firefighters Association.

Places to go,

things to do

The Detroit Hot Jazz Society will present the 3rd annual Dick Saunders Memorial Jazz Concert on Sunday, April 27th at Alvaro's Restaurant, 14 Mile and Crooks Road, Royal Oak.

The Concert begins at 2 p.m. and will include 10 top jazz groups. Last year over 1,000 people came to honor Dick and to listen to the jazz he loved.

Dick Saunders, a veteran newsman, died a victim of a heart attack, January 29, 1973, at 39 years of age.

There will be a meeting of Oakland County American Indians, Inc. at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 24 at the Pontiac Eccumenical Building, 70 Whittemore Street. For more information, call 335-6120.

A Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at VFW Hall No. 1008, 1690 Airport Road, Waterford Township, from 1 to 7 p.m. May 14. Call 674-2826 for an appointment to give.

Avon Players will present the comedy, "Twigs", Friday, Saturday and Sunday the weekend of May 8 and 15.

New Orleans jazz returns to the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts with the appearance at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, May 3 of Preservation Hall Jazz Band.

Meadow Brook Hall's next Stately Dinner will be a Hawaiian Wedding Feast April 25. Cost for the entire evening, including all wine courses, is $35 per person. Reservations are available by calling 377-3140.

Some 200 senior citizens are expected to attend the April Senior Citizen dance at the Waterford-Oaks Activities center, sponsored by the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission.

The event will be held from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. on Friday, April 25, with music provided by Floyd Snyder's band, which has played together for more than a quarter of a century. Coffee and snacks will be served.

Oakland University's swimming pool and bike trails will be open for children and teenagers while their parents attend an antique show and sale in the Sports and Recreation Building April 26-27. Proceeds will benefit the University's Athletic Scholarship Fund. Donation is $1.

Tickets for the Metropolitan Opera Company's visit to Detroit April 28 - May 3 may be obtained by calling 1-965-7275 and charging them to either Master Charge or BankAmericard. They may be picked up at the Masonic Temple boxoffice immediately before a performance. Offerings of the group include "The Siege of Corinth", "Romeo and Juliette", "Falstaff", Verdi's "La Forza del Destino", "Cavalleria Rusticana", "La Traviata" and "La Boheme."

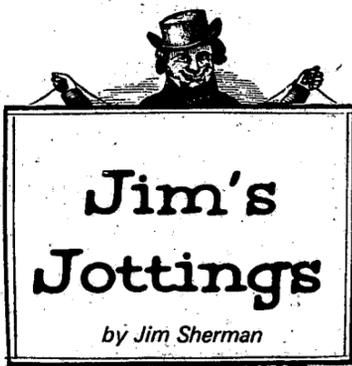

The Spring Coin Show of the Region 1B UAW Coin Club is scheduled for Sunday, April 27, 1975, at the Regional Headquarters, 711 West 13 Mile Road, Madison Heights. Doors will be open at 10 a.m. and browsing, brisk buying and selling will continue until 6 p.m.

Detroit Science Center, 52 East Forest, Detroit, is open Mondays through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sundays from noon to 5 p.m. There is free admission. During May the center will feature a student exhibit from the 1975 Detroit Science Fair -- "Solar Energy" designed by Gregg Rapp of Farmington Hills.

A NASA film, "Magnetic Effects in Space", will be shown Sunday, May 18. Learning Lab experiences for visitors 6 years to adults takes place daily.

Group tour information is available by calling 833-1892.

You are invited to meet "The Drunkard", a new musical, at 8:30 p.m. April 24 at Meadow Brook Theatre. Tickets can be reserved by calling 377-3180.

As we head toward the bicentennial (centennial, too, in Oxford) our papers will be carrying more and more items of history and nostalgia.

We may not go a long way back for some that are interesting. A furinstance appears in a minute. But before we start, as you read try to recall some of the unusual news items that have appeared in your time.

Let's make 'em short and at least 20 years old. And, make sure they are involved with local people, places or things.

This "happening" was to Harmon Fritch of Oxford. In early February 1951, Harm, took an auctioneering job in Millington.

He was selling the effects of the late James McPherson of that fair community. The administrator was closing out the McPherson estate.

One news article said "The hammer had dropped on most of the saleable stuff when Fritch reached for contents of an old gunny sack. He pulled out a two-quart jar... crammed with $12,000 in greenbacks.

The money was taken immediately to the Millington bank."

That item went out on the Associated Press wire and Harm has clippings from Des Moines Register, Florida, the Los Angeles Times and a half dozen others.

Stories like that have probably attracted a lot of bids on boxes-of-unknowns at a u c t i o n s everywhere.

I haven't printed or saved all releases from Rep. William Broomfield's offices (there isn't that much newsprint) but I have noticed an unusual thing.

One would almost think he was the voter instead of the votee. Frequently he starts a story that makes Congressmen or Congress sound like something far off. Like his news release of April 11.

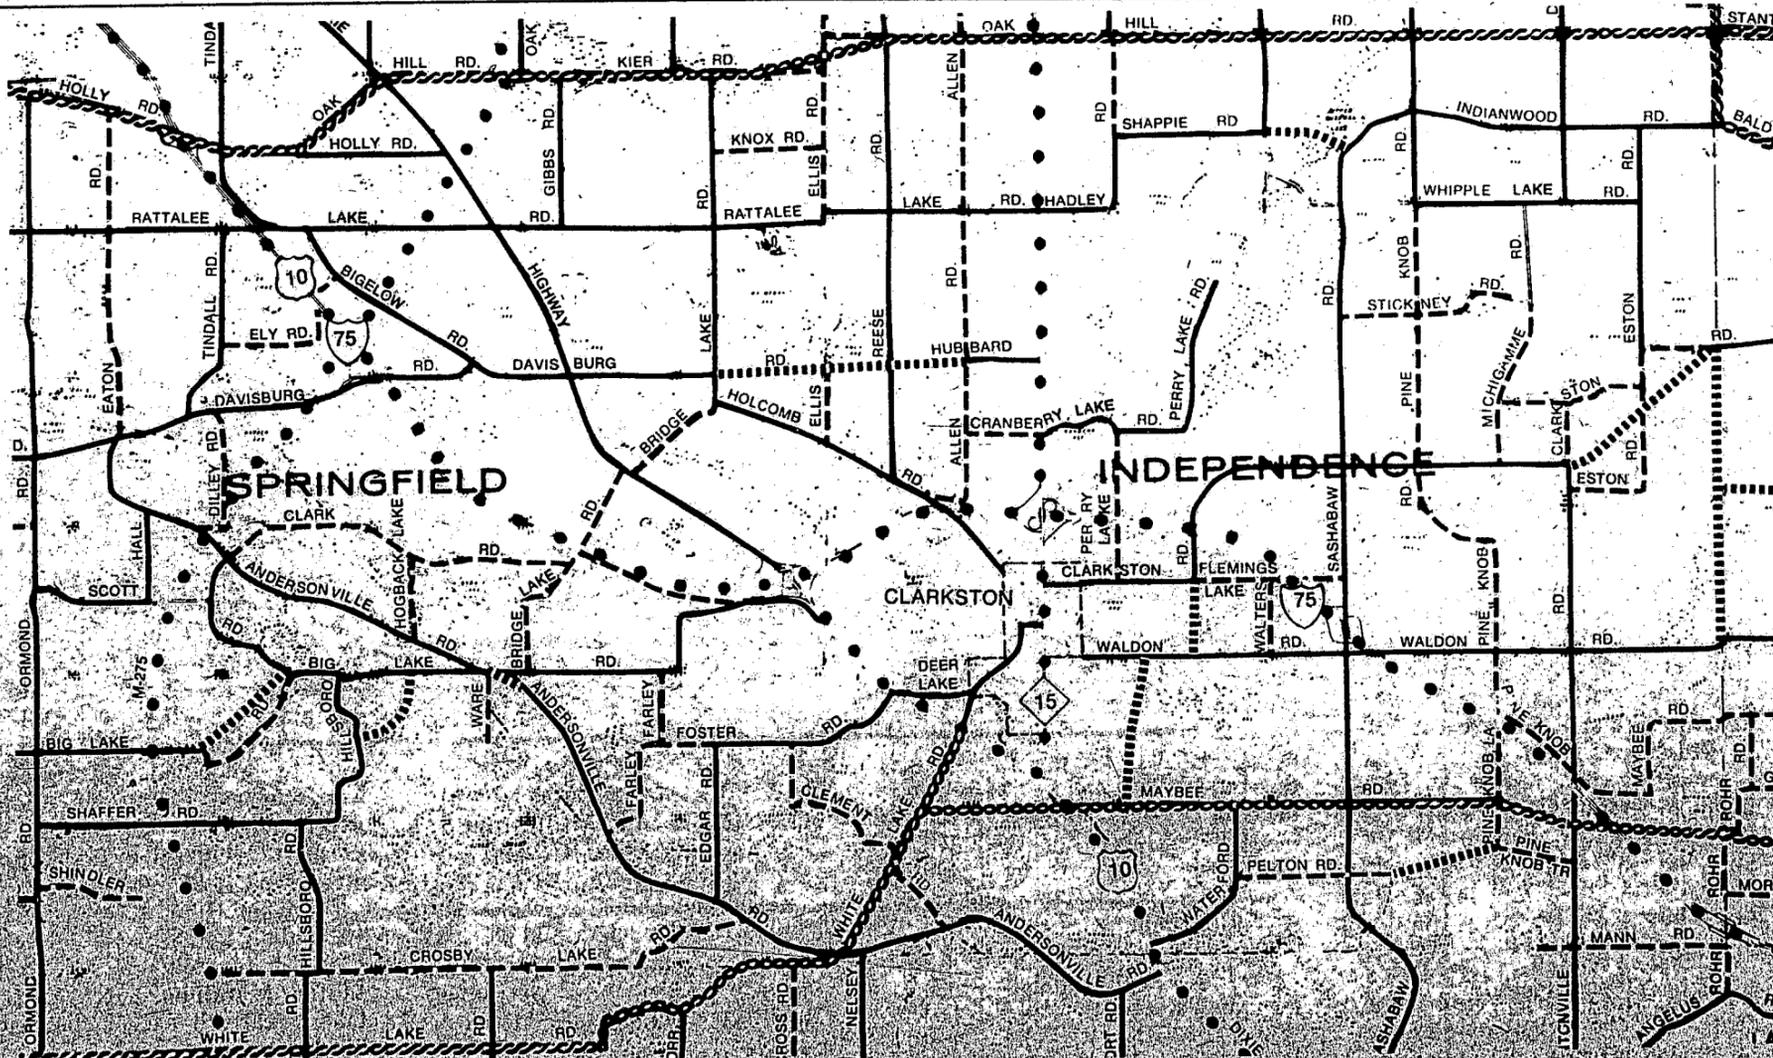

"Congress has a notorious reputation as a buck passer, in more than one sense. Many members seem to delight in appropriating the people's tax dollars, but show little interest in accepting responsibility for how the money is actually spent."

There follows two pages of describing how the National Science Foundation has used its funds, poorly.

Then Bill concludes, "Congress owes it to the taxpayers who elected them to play a more active role in the allocation of these funds. By refusing to accept the responsibility for how this money is spent, Congress becomes every bit as guilty of misuse of tax dollars as the misguided bureaucrats who actually approve the specific programs."

Doggone those Congressmen! Next time I contact ours I'm going to address my letters to "Just Plain Bill, Washington, D.C."

This is the revised Oakland County Road Commission master road right-of-way map. Links designate major east-west roads, widely spaced dots federal and state highways. Collector roads are shown by broken lines, routes under study by picket rows.

Obituary

Maud Davison

Maud I. Davison, 70, of 6588 Eastlawn died April 20 after a long illness. Funeral services were to be 1 p.m. Wednesday at Goyette Funeral Home with Rev. Frank Cozadd conducting. Burial was scheduled for East Highland Cemetery. DAV memorial services were Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Davison, a member of Clarkston United Methodist Church, was treasurer of Pontiac Memorial Post No. 101 of the DAV Auxiliary and a member of Drayton Plains Mother Singers.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. William (Norma) O'Roark of Clarkston; a son, Glenn Davison of Clarkston; three granddaughters; three great-grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Robert (Edna) Hargett and Mrs. William (Orva) Sholtz, both of Pontiac.

The family has requested that donations be made to Clarkston United Methodist Church or the Michigan Cancer Foundation as a memorial for Mrs. Davison.

David Carter

David F. Carter, 22, of 9318 Villa Crest, died April 18 in New York City, where he was attending Baruch College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Carter of Clarkston.

Funeral services were to be 11 a.m. Wednesday from the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home with burial in Lakeview Cemetery. Rev. Alexander T. Stewart of Church of the Resurrection was to officiate.

Surviving besides his parents are a brother, Rick of Clarkston, and a grandmother, Mrs. Emily Carter of Pittsburg, Penn.

David attended Clarkston Community Schools.

Henry R. Wallace, 85, of 6058 Pine Knob died April 15. Funeral services were Saturday in Pontiac.

Bicentennial group seeks homes for foreign students

The Independence-Clarkston Bicentennial Commission is hunting for homes willing to accept three or four foreign students for the school year beginning in September.

The Commission has resolved to sponsor the students, preferable from England and France, during the year of celebration in honor of the Revolutionary War.

Service clubs are also being asked to pick up $100 tabs per student, which will enable them to participate in the school lunch program and athletic events.

William McClean, chairman, said the students would be obtained through Cultural Exchange and Youth for Understanding.

The commission has also earmarked a potential $150,000 from the sale of its area history books for purchase hopefully of the old Clarkston Methodist Church at Church and Buffalo.

Plans are to preserve and restore the building, making it available as a community center.

Lewd magazine covers covered

Merchants are cooperating in an effort to screen the more explicit sex magazine covers from juvenile eyes, according to Police Director Jack McCall.

Two weeks McCall notified the eight merchants in the area selling the magazines to display the books in such a manner that only the name plates show.

He told the merchants he had several complaints dealing with commercialized alleged obscenity, and noted that the Supreme Court has okayed state and local crackdown on public displays.

He said, "We do not feel that a local ordinance is necessary unless cooperation cannot be gained."

"Those we've checked seem to be cooperating," he told The Clarkston News this week.

What makes real estate appreciate in value? Any repair, remodeling, or decorating will increase the value. Some forces not directly controlled by the owner also cause appreciation. An increase in population of the town or neighborhood will do it. New roadways that improve accessibility will do it. A new shopping center or industrial facility will do it. And most basic of all, the ever increasing cost of new houses raises the value of existing structures.

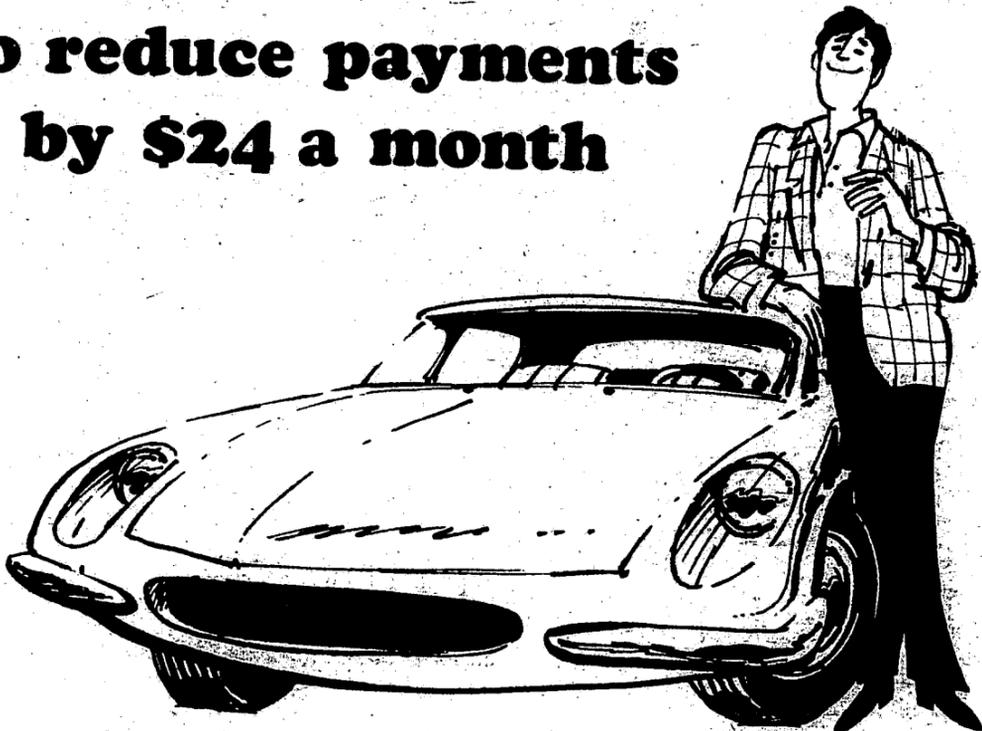

And the knowledgeable salespeople at BOB WHITE REAL ESTATE, 5856 S. Main St., 625-5821 know the value of real estate in this area and can help you receive the full market value for your property. Your last chance to reduce payments by $24 a month

PSB special on new car loans up to April 30

If you'd like to buy a new car soon, come to Pontiac State Bank right away. We're still offering a 48-month loan to reduce your monthly payments.

The difference could be as much as $24 a month. It depends upon how much you need. So, to give you a clear picture, we printed the chart below. It shows a practical way to put yourself in a brand-new car and still keep control of your budget.

Our rates are good news, too. PSB has always charged less on loans but, now, the difference is even greater. Others have raised their rates this month — up to 12.8% annual interest. Our rates haven't changed. Our highest rate on any 1975-model is only 11.0%. On some of our loans, you can do even better.

But now is the time to see us. PSB introduced the 48-month loan last January and there are only a few days left for the special offer. It ends April 30, and you know that date will soon be here. Come to any PSB office and arrange your loan right away.

Varsity loses opener, downs WB

by Dave Johnson

The Clarkston Wolves Varsity baseball team, coached by Paul Tungate, split its first two games of the season last week. The Wolves lost their opener to non-league Waterford Township 11-8, but rebounded to defeat West Bloomfield 3-1 in a league game.

In the Wolves season opener, Clarkston struck first by scoring three runs in the second inning. Catcher Dan Blower led off with a triple and was followed by a walk to starting pitcher Tom Ross. Blower was driven home by a George Porritt single and Ross scored following a Waterford Township error.

After trading runs in the fourth inning giving the Wolves a 4-1 lead, Clarkston pounded out three more hits to score two more runs before disaster struck. Waterford scored ten unanswered runs and took the victory 11-8.

In Clarkston's second game of the season, they clipped West Bloomfield 3-1. The Wolves scored all the runs they needed in the first inning on a single hit. Ken Grable walked and was sacrificed to second by George Porritt. Dan Blower drew a base on balls and advanced to second on a throwing error by the catcher which also scored Grable. A single by Rod Hool drove home Blower with the eventual winning run. Clarkston scored their final run in the second inning as Steve Howe singled and raced home on a double by Grable.

West Bloomfield scored their lone run in the fourth inning as the game ended 3-1 in Clarkston's favor.

Steve Howe pitched superbly, scattering eight hits, walking four, and striking out eight.

Clarkston plays four games this week as they make their run toward the Wayne-Oakland League Championship.

JV defeats W. Bloomfield 9-0

by Dave Johnson

The Clarkston Jr. Varsity baseball team, coached by Roy Warner, began its season on a happy note last week by easily defeating West Bloomfield 9-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Jeff Schatz. A combination of clutch hitting, good fielding, and superlative pitching secured the victory to put the Wolves in first place in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Clarkston took a first inning lead as Larry Bennett and Mark Czinder singled, followed by a walk to Don Blower to load the bases. Bennett scored on a passed ball and Czinder gave the Wolves a 2-0 lead following a groundout to short.

All was calm until the fourth inning when the Wolves exploded for three more runs on three hits. This gave Clarkston a commanding five-run lead, but the night was still young.

Clarkston erupted for four more runs in the fifth inning as the Lakers saw their dreams of an upset destroyed. Bob Kratt led off the inning with a sharp single down the third base line, but was forced out at second on a groundout by Blower. Manigold followed with a walk and Himes loaded the bases after being hit by the pitch. Dave Johnson singled up the middle to drive in two runs, and Dick Armstrong singled to right to drive in the last two runs of the ball game.

Larry Bennett led the way with two hits and a stolen base. Armstrong and Johnson supplied the power with 2 and 3 RBI's respectively. Pitcher Jeff Schatz went the distance in picking up his first victory, walking none and striking out seven.

The Clarkston J.V. Wolves play three league games this week.

Linda Sanborne, Idaho State student trainer from Clarkston, tapes the hand of defensive end Pat Beck prior to the Pocatello, Idaho, Bengals' final spring football scrimmage of 1975. Sanborne is a senior at ISU, and plans to work for her master's degree in training.

CJH wins opener

A home run to deep right center field by Scott Hool opened the freshman baseball rivalry between Clarkston Junior High and Sashabaw Junior High, April 17, but Hool's fellow Cougars were unable to sustain the pace.

They lost to the Wolverines 9-5. With the score tied 2-2, the Wolverines scored two runs in the fifth inning and five runs in the sixth inning. The Cougars rallied for three runs in the seventh, but fell short in the final tally.

Hool led the Cougars in hitting with 3 and Randy Hall was credited with a triple. Bill Eibergen, Cougar pitcher, pitched five innings while allowing eight hits and seven runs with only four earned runs.

The April 16 game with Lake Orion East has been rescheduled for Friday, May 30.

Girls lose opener

The Varsity and JV girls' softball teams opened their seasons last week with losses to West Bloomfield. Both contests were close, the varsity losing by a score of 10-7 and the JV by a score of 25-23. The games scheduled with Milford and Andover were cancelled due to inclement weather.

Clarkston's varsity led throughout the game only to lose in the final inning as West Bloomfield erupted for 5 runs. The Wolves 8-hit attack was led by Kathy Rush (2-3) and Jody Combs (2-2). First baseman Autumn Matlock played an outstanding defensive game as she robbed the Lakers of many base hits with her "stretching" abilities.

The JV team staged a valiant come-from-behind effort in their 25-23 loss. At one point the JV's were behind 19-5, but aggressive offensive play kept them in the game. The leading hitters for JV were Tammy Campbell (4-4) and Barb Foote (3-3).

Weather permitting, the teams should be able to get back on the winning track with home games this Monday, Wednesday and Friday against Kettering, Clarenceville and Milford. All games begin at 4 p.m.

Pond cleanup on unit basis

Residents of the Upper Mill Pond and the Clinton River above it will have a choice of paying their share of the pond clean-up all at once or spread over five years.

The Independence Township Lake Improvement Board devised a system of unit costs at its meeting last week to enable the differences in payment methods.

People living on the pond will be charged for two units at a cost of $2,077.92, those on the river for one unit at a cost of $1,038.96 and one homeowner with only six foot frontage on the pond will pay a half unit rate, according to Supervisor J. Edwin Glennie.

Work was to begin on the cleanup as soon as conditions permit, according to the contractor. The effort is an attempt to end pollution in the pond.

Rezoning of Pine Knob land considered

Independence Township Planning Commission will consider the request of Dr. Albert Shulman of West Bloomfield Township to rezone 85.54 acres north of Clarkston Road and east of Pine Knob Road to a 33,000 square foot minimum lot size. The land is presently zoned for a three-acre minimum.

The body meets at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday) and will also consider amendments to its zoning ordinance text to erase references to a planned retirement community. The land has already been recommended for rezoning to three-acre minimum lot size.

Members will also discuss construction of swimming pools and backyard setback restrictions.

The manner of applying powder is terribly important. Powder sets your make-up, so be sure that all is perfectly blended before applying it. Then use a fresh square of cotton about five inches square, and fairly thick. Dip it into the loose powder, and try not to wad it down. Take your time. Powder over your eyebrows and right up to the hairline, pressing, never rubbing the powder into the skin. Let the powder set for a few minutes, and then brush off all the excess.

The manner of applying hair color is very important. Be sure to have it done by a professional colorist. Come to "SALON OF BEAUTY" BONNIE JEAN'S HAIR STYLISTS* 5488 Dixie Highway, Waterford. Call 623-1411. Open 6:30-8:30 Sat. 6:30-3. Tinting, frosting, bleaching, conditioning, cutting, eyebrow arching, and much more available here.

BEAUTY TIPS:

Use an eyebrow brush to remove excess of powder in brows and lashes.

Deadline for cash payments is May 20, according to Glennie. Those accepting the time payment method may pay in full at any time during the five-year period, he added, thereby saving some interest costs.

4 arrested in market robbery

Two juveniles are in Oakland County Children's Village and two have been returned to the custody of their parents as a result of a break-in recently at the Clintonville Market, 4494 Clintonville.

Four boys, aged 15 and 16, have been taken into Probate Court, one of them, who was believed to have been intoxicated, charged with kicking Deputy Jerry Gugliemello in the mouth while he was trying to handcuff the youth.

A quantity of merchandise taken from the market was found in one of the suspects' rooms and in a treehouse.

Officers were called by the mother of one of the suspects, who said they had been traunt from school.

Representatives of B & E Ceramics of 5880 Dixie Highway, Waterford, brought home 12 ribbons for their 15 entries in the recent Flint Ceramic Association hobby show. Dennis Beach [from left] won a first place ribbon in the 10-year-old division and also a teacher studio award; Bette Beach, owner and instructor at B & E Ceramics, won a first place ribbon and two second place professional awards; Kristy Fangel was awarded one first and one second place ribbon in the 15-year-old classification, plus a studio teacher award; Debbie Beach won ribbons for second and third in the 15-year-old category; third place in the hand made division went to June Harvey for her bust of a man; and Ralph Brackett won a third place ribbon for his decorated plate.

Art auction raises camp funds

Art patrons raise $1200 for Clarkston Youth Assistance summer camp program in an auction Sunday at Rademacher Chevrolet. More than 400 tickets to the event were sold and the group collected 20 percent on all paintings sold. The sum will send 40 children to camp, but the goal of the group is to double that number and more fund raising activities are planned.

Heartworm tests advised

There are at least 19 dogs in the Clarkston-Independence-Springfield area afflicted with heartworm, and the list can grow rapidly, according to doctors at the Springfield Veterinary Clinic. They advise yearly blood tests to determine the presence of the worms, which may grow in size from six to 14 inches in length, and inhabit part of the heart and the adjacent blood vessels. Drs. J.M. Bruggeman and P.M. Cunningham report that one untreated and infected dog has the potential to infect all other dogs in a quarter mile radius of his home -- depending on mosquitoes, a wet summer, the presence of swampy areas and lakes and the area traveled by the infected dog. The clinic displays a map on the office wall with red Xs denoting dogs tested and found to be infected, and circled Xs showing treated dogs. Random locations on the map show a treated dog in Clarkston an untreated dog in Drayton Plains, a treated dog in Greens Lake, and untreated dog at Dixie Highway and Big Lake Road, an untreated dog at Dixie Highway and Davisburg Road, a treated dog in the Big Lake area, two treated dogs on Rattalee Lake Road, etc. Dr. Cunningham stresses, "By the time the owner detects any signs of sickness, the dog is in a critical condition, treatment is difficult and very hard on the dog." His cohort, Dr. Bruggeman, guesses that 25 percent of all unprotected dogs living outdoors have heartworm. Signs of the disease most easily detectable to owners are frequent coughing, sluggishness, rapid tiring and labored breathing, the doctors report.

Center aided through bike, walk-a-thon

Clarkston Area Jaycees are planning their annual Bike-a-thon and Walk-a-thon for May 17. Much of the funds raised through the sale of sponsorships will benefit financially troubled independence center. Bikers will leave first from Clarkston High School following a safety demonstration, and the walkers will follow on the 15-mile hike. Sponsorship sheets are available at the schools, independence center and at The Clarkston News.

Sashabaw Junior High Principal Gus Birtsas meets with parents in an informal coffee klatch setting. Several such meetings have taken place at the school.

Want to learn billiards?

Want to learn to play cards, do ceramics, repair a bicycle, go on a backpack, learn about books or birds or billiards?

You can if you're a member of Clarkston Junior High School student body.

One and two day classes in activities of the students' individual interests will be offered on the afternoons of May 8 and 9, and the choices are many.

Principal William Potvin said the school recognizes it is important for students to have the opportunity to pursue their own interests, but that it is difficult to develop new interests without many types of exposure.

As a result of a faculty survey, the school has come up with 59 different possibilities, and they'll be limited only by the amount of interest displayed by the students.

Besides those mentioned earlier, some of the other possibilities include backboard basketball, bowling, camping, chair caning, cheerleading, chess, comics, cooking for boys, crafts for girls, creative dance, debate, dramatic reading, an ecology club, embroidery, a field trip to an engineering department, and floor hockey.

Others are fly and bait casting, games, golf, creative writing, guitar, handball, handicrafts, hiking, knitting, mathematics, mechanical drawing, modeling, needlework, party planning, ping pong, photography, just talking, rug making, sewing for boys as well as girls, science and the Bible, social dance, stage band, stamp collecting, tennis, terrarium and house plant growing, watch slides of Europe, check your values, weight lifting or woodshop for girls.

Students will have the opportunity to sign up in their interest areas on April 29, school officials said.

BIDS WANTED

Bids are requested in sealed envelope from interested parties for the construction and installation of wooden book shelving for the Independence Township Library. Bids acceptance will be closed on the 15th of May 1975. Specifications to be obtained from the Library.

Larcenies were plentiful in the area during the past week according to Oakland County Sheriff's reports.

Thefts included a roto-tiller and a tire from homes on Whipple Lake Road, two ten speed bikes from homes on Holcomb and Perry Lake Road, a mini-bike from a home on Woodlane, gasoline from a station wagon on Cayuga, a bike from a home on Almond Lake, a radio from a house under construction on Eagle Road, and a tape deck radio from a car parked on East Church in the village.

Cpl. Robert Potts of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department reports there have been a number of home break-ins in the Waterford Hill area, the most recent involving theft of a watch, silver, money and jewelry amounting to $160.

The corporal has taken minor issue with us over use of a social security number to be used in marking stealable items. Operation Identification works a lot better, he says, when people engrave their driver's license numbers into appliances. The driver's license number can be checked immediately, the social security route takes longer, he reports.

Mrs. Beulah Jones of Holcomb has succeeded in identifying a number of the students pictured in an old photograph of Independence Township Union School. She herself is second from the right at the rear. Others include (Anna Poole, Lena Irish, Nina McMason, Luly Reed, Lucile Brown, Millie Trec, Julia Smith, Edith Wich and Fay Hammond.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation alerts hard-pressed citizens that over-eager bill collectors are breaking federal law. Extortionate means are a no-no, and those include use of threats or of physical violence to force repayment, the bureau says. The origin of the debt is immaterial -- whether it's legitimate bills or illegal gambling debts.

So -- any individual who is a victim of a loanshark or any debt collector employing threats or violence should report it to the FBI.

Independence Township will seek no further court action to compel developer Leonard Bullard to turn over a water system built in his Hillview Estates Subdivision to the township. Having lost in Circuit Court, the board noted Tuesday night that in order to operate the system Bullard will need state approval.

Want to buy a 1969 Plymouth? Independence has one for sale to the highest bidder.

It now costs $25 if you want to haul garbage in Independence Township. Rules and regulations complementing an ordinance adopted March 18 call for licensing of haulers "so that we can remove their license if they don't come up to standard," said the supervisor.

A special beer permit allowing Waterford Hill Road Racing Association to sell beer out of doors during races May 10, 11, 24 and 25 has been granted by Independence Township. The request is the first of several anticipated during the year.

Pickers were out Friday at the Old Mill, but according to Joe Wood there, it hasn't stopped work on the renovation of the restaurant. Joe says the totally remodeled facility will open the week of May 5.

Both the Sashabaw Junior High planned camping weekend at the Highland Recreation area and the Girl Scout Olympics were canceled last week due to the big storm. The junior high group was rained out Friday night, and the Girl Scouts just didn't bother to show up on Saturday morning at the high school athletic field.

Ann Williams has a male Schnauzer she's rescued from the vicinity of M-15 in the village and is holding in her back yard, and she'd like to find the owner. You can call her at 625-5680.

There might be an unexpected bonus for the membership of the Business Association of Independence Township. Some are pooling dollars for purchase of lottery tickets, the winnings -- if any -- to be split among those participating.

You can help Drayton Plains Nature Center between now and May 15 by buying a Whopper at Burger King in Drayton Plains. Present the coupon in this week's paper, buy yourself a 79 cent treat for 59 cents and Burger King will give another 20 cents to the center.

Pine Knob early bookings announced

Frank Sinatra will appear this summer at Pine Knob Music Theater, according to the theater's booking office.

16-19, Andy Williams on July 22-26, and Mac Davis on August 7-9.

Only scattered bookings have been made as yet, spokesmen report, but they include Paul Anka, due July 2-5, The Carpenters who will appear July

Among the pop groups reported signed up are Chicago, The Beach Boys, Stephen Stills, and America.

Others include the Lettermen, Fifth Dimension, Merle Haggard, and Blood, Sweat and Tears.

David Wright mansion converting to restaurant

Work on Ye Old House Restaurant will begin in May, according to owners Robert and Wanda Rothermell, 10685 Dixie Highway, Springfield Township. They report that contractors have been lined up to begin the renovation of the David Wright Mansion, an historic house built in 1843-44.

Plans include a face lift for the outside (adding pillars and wood trim) and completion of the comfortable, warm atmosphere dining room to seat about 100 people on the main floor, a banquet room and sitting room on the second floor for another 50 people, and a downstairs pub called Ye Old Cellar.

The restaurant will feature a full dinner menu, served in a rustic, colonial setting. Rothermell said, "We want a place that's as attractive and comfortable as possible, similar to what Chuck Muir did to Charlie's Crab."

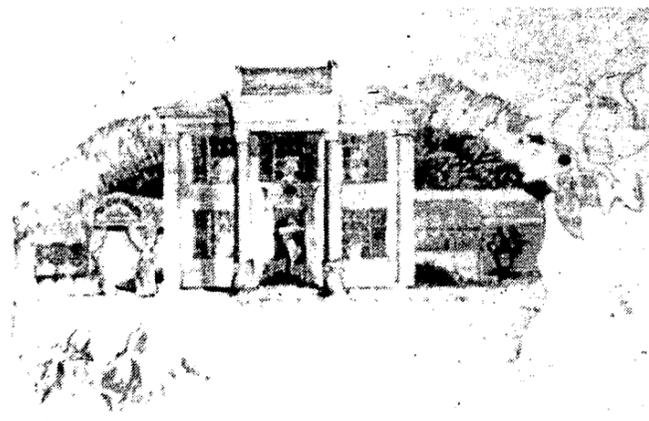

"A lot of the preliminary work has already been done, permits for the gas, for the big equipment, and for parking have all been approved," he reported.

"The township and the county have given their okay on the liquor license, and now it's in the hands of the State Liquor Commission. That's just a formality, though, since all the paper work is done," he added.

Rothermell said work should be completed in six months with the restaurant due to open in late summer or early fall.

Meat grinder accident

Sandra Butler, 22, 7130 Oak Hill Road, is reported in stable condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital where she was taken Monday afternoon after catching her right hand and arm in an electric meat grinder at her home.

Face-lifting and transformation into a restaurant of the old David Wright mansion, built in 1843-44, will begin in May, according to owners, Robert and Wanda Rothermell. To become the Ye Old House Restaurant, the building is located at Dixie Highway and Holly Road.

Bottles 'green' the schools

Project "Green Up" a beautification program sponsored by Oakland County Recycling Center, marks this week designated as Earth Week and Arbor Day Friday and Keep American Beautiful Day Saturday.

$100 certificates for plantings are being awarded for each 50 tons of glass delivered to the center. Bottles for Building has received 10 such certificates, and allocated the plantings obtained to the schools.

Mrs. Carolyn Place, Bottles for Building director, said each school in the district would be presented a certificate for $100 worth.

She added she hoped the project would encourage various school related clubs to purchase additional plantings through group efforts and beautify the township for the Bicentennial celebration.

Free pine and autumn olive (a berried tree) seedlings will be given locally May 3 to anyone bringing materials to the Bottles for Building Collection Center at

The center accepts glass if sorted by color and all metal removed, tied or bagged newspapers, tied magazines, and aluminum cans.

OCC class

One seven-and-a-half week course in Pol. 151 (American government) will be offered at Clarkston High School during the spring term of Oakland Community College. Three credits will be offered. The classes meet from 7 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Registration will be accepted from 6 to 8 p.m. April 28, 29 and 30, according to Jan Gabier, assistant principal.

Contemporary lake living

COUNTRY LIVING

by Betty Hecker

Striking and dramatic are two descriptive words that cross your mind when you first step into the butternut brown contemporary home of Gale and Judy McAnnally.

This new house was built into a hillside, with three levels and many rooms all directed to the back, to the decks, the patio, and the lake. Judy reports, "Every room in the house has a view of the lake."

The upper level was designed for grownups and entertaining. Large, uncluttered rooms, all decorated in bold colors, have white walls and high sloping ceilings, accented by dark stained woodwork and hardwood floors.

The living room (with one whole wall of glass opening onto a redwood deck), is furnished with a pair of velvet sofas, in brown and black print, complimenting the brown, grey and beige area rugs. A graceful, freeform polished aluminum base holds a large circle of plate glass—the coffee table.

There are no curtains or drapes—the only window decorations are live plants: potted trees, palms, ferns, tropical plants of all kinds. Cactus plants flourish in the four-foot-long combination glass terrarium/aquarium—that is when the live lizard doesn't take delight in digging them up. This large unit is in the wet bar, a room adjacent to the living room. It's complete with a bar, high stools, or if you feel a desire to relax, sit on one of the many floor cushions surrounding the low Japanese style table.

A large cactus in the corner was a housewarming gift and has grown more than 14 inches in the nine months the McAnnally's have been in the new house.

The main floor kitchen is striking—decorated in red, white and black — red countertops, white vinyl wall covering and black and white cabinets. Judy said, "I just love the formica cupboards. They wipe up so easily. We always had wood cabinets before."

Before refers to the several other homes the McAnnally's have owned. "The longest time we lived in a house was three years. The last house was only ten months. We build them, then something comes along, and we sell them."

The second level has a large family room and the bedrooms. Black and white dominate the color scheme of the family room and the master bedroom.

The open windows in the master bedroom pose somewhat a problem. Judy explains, "In the summer, fishermen out on the lake at night can see right in. We must do something if we want any privacy. I think we might put up Roman shades."

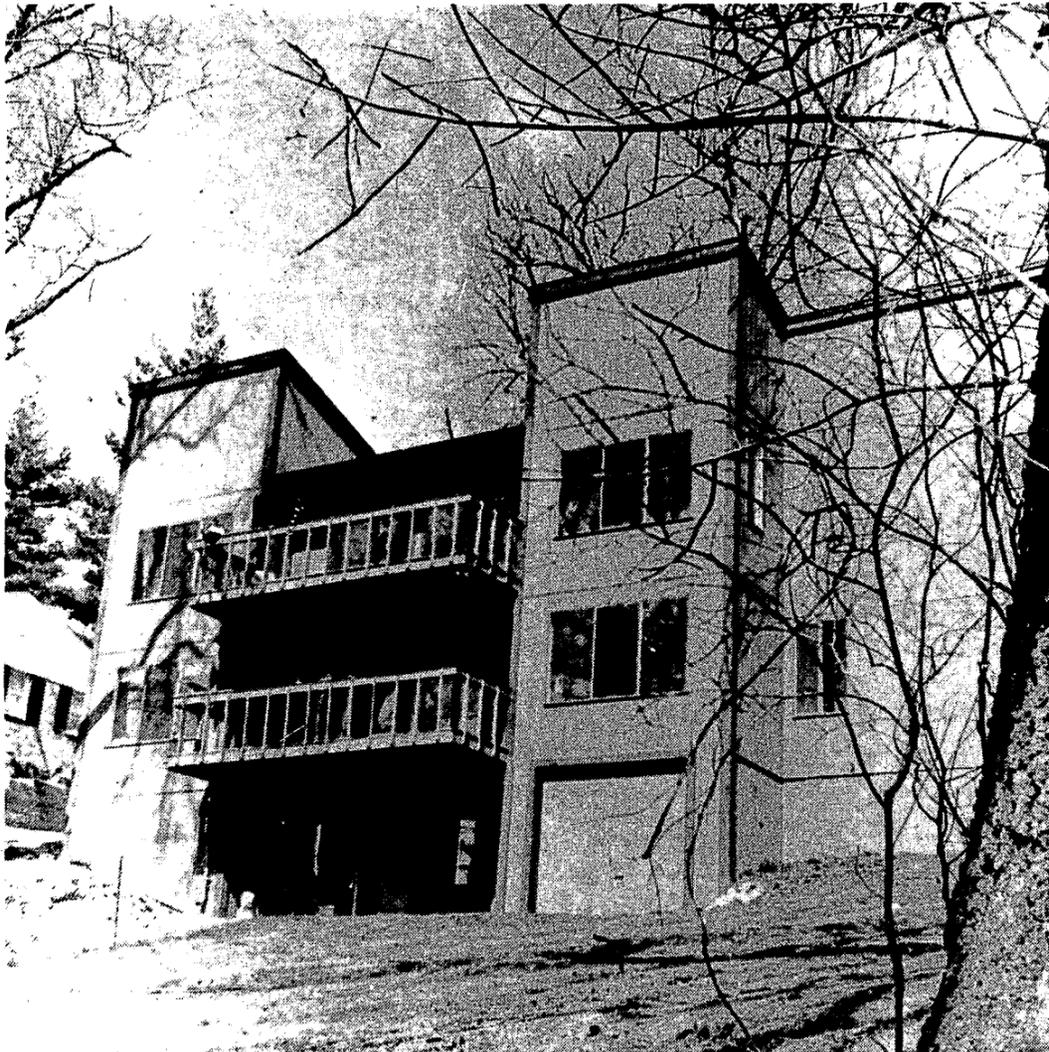

The white shag carpeting and white walls carry right on through to the adjoining dressing room, closet and private bath. The king size bedspread, accessories, and bedroom chair are all black.

A matching pair of barrel chairs sitting in the family room were built by Judy's father, Herman Sowerby. He bought one $5 barrel at the Whoopie Bowl, for starts. The large wooden chest separating the chairs was Judy's grandmother's hope chest, built by her father, Judy's great-grandfather. Some of the accessories in this room include an old horse collar mirror, a black iron water pump converted into a lamp base, an oil painting of daisies, and more green plants in front of the window wall.

Four year old Joy Lynn has a hot pink and white bedroom, hers being the only room with a window treatment, a pale pink sheer valance. Her hand crocheted bedspread was made by Judy's grandmother.

The two boys, ten-year-old Blair and five-year-old Bryant share a wall-papered wild kingdom: bold yellow, gold, black and white. Their twin beds sport matching plaid spreads in the same color hues as the wall.

The lower level is a tiled recreation room, with plans for lots of summer activity. Judy said, "We want to put a bath and another kitchen down here. Then when the patio and the beach are finished, we can practically live here in the summer. Everything takes time, you know."

Local Rotarians at conference

Two Clarkston men in high positions will be among those attending the annual conference of Rotary District 638. They are District Governor Charles W. Robinson and local club president Jack Frost.

Frost said that over 500 Rotarians and their families will attend the conference. Combining work sessions, entertainment and group discussions of Rotary concerns, the meeting will be held at Hillcrest Country club in Mount Clemens. Frost said the purpose is to explore new opportunities for bettering communities, raise standards of business practices and further friendly international relations.

The district includes 50 Rotary Clubs in southeastern Michigan and western Ontario and is headed by District Governor Robinson.

Rotary clubs number 16,000 in 151 countries and embrace 750,000 members. Current international president is William R. Robbins of Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

The district program will feature an address by Jules P. Flock, business executive of Mantua, Ohio who will represent President Robbins.

Village seeks 2 more CETA employes

People unemployed for at least two weeks will be interviewed Thursday and Friday for two vacant federally funded CETA positions in the village of Clarkston.

Bob Waters, CETA director, said preference would be given to veterans living within the village, however he said he would also consider residents from the immediate outside area.

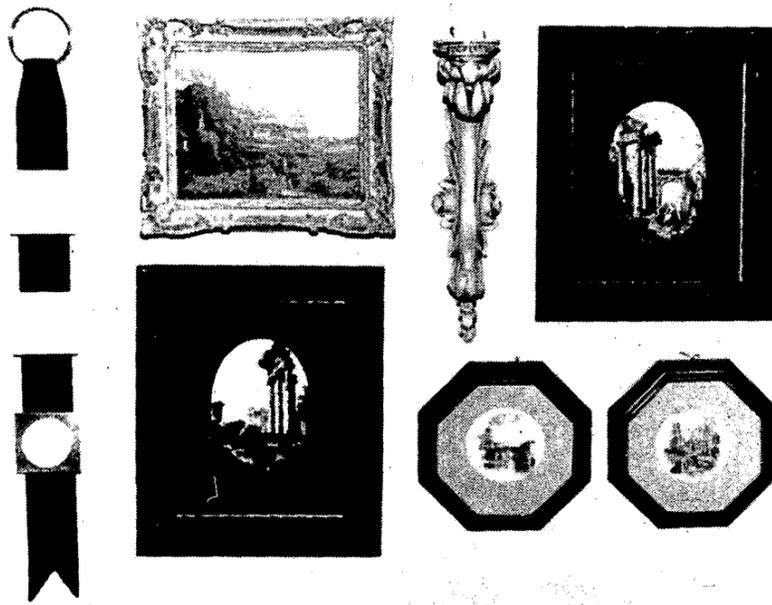

The jobs are open in the Department of Public Works, Waters said, and are available because of the recent discharge of one employe and the availability of extra unspent funds allocated to the village.

The village already has four CETA employes at work.

Waters reports the going wage is $3.95 an hour.

3 new Ceta positions okayed

Three new CETA VI positions, funded with an additional $19,215 from Oakland County's Manpower program, have been created in Independence Township.

Two labor positions are for the Department of Public Works at the rate of $3.90 an hour and the other is a clerical position at $3.60 an hour with Police Services.

Two present CETA employees in the DPW will be switched to the Parks and Recreation Department.

Warehouse, subdivision under consideration

Springfield Township Planning Commission has been asked to review site plans for a Savoie Insulation Co. warehouse on the Dixie Highway next to the Whoopie Bowl. The land is presently zoned light industrial.

The commission also looked over plans for Underwood Estates which consists of eight lots of varying sizes at Hillsboro and Schaefer Roads. Planner Todd Kilroy, noting odd lot sizes, has reported the lots will have to be redesigned. The plans are to go to Johnson and Anderson, engineering consultants, for review.

PSB declares 2 for 1 split

At its annual meeting, shareholders of Pontiac State Bank approved a two-for-one stock split and the bank's Board declared a 50c per share dividend on the new shares, payable June 2, 1975 to shareholders of record May 9, 1975.

It is the Board's reported intention to maintain the bank's traditional $1 per share dividend; thus, annual cash dividends to shareholders will be doubled.

Earnings for the first quarter before securities transactions were up 12% over the same period a year ago and increased 16% after securities transactions. The former figure exceeded that for any first quarter in Pontiac State Bank's history, according to Milo J. Cross, Chairman and Edward E. Barke, Jr., President.

Shareholders also approved a pension plan which will replace the bank's profit-sharing retirement plan.

Request denied

Independence Township has turned down the request of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Krause for an SDD license which would allow them to sell packaged liquor at the Nickelodeon on M-15.

"We just gave them rezoning, and we'd better wait to see what they do with it," said Treasurer Betty Hallman. "Until he enlarges the store, he doesn't need more than the SDM (packaged beer and wine) or tavern license (beer and wine on the premises) he now has."

Rotary plans career night for students

High school students interested in learning about future career possibilities will be given a hand by Clarkston Rotary Club May 26.

The club is planning a 7:30 to 10 p.m. career night at Clarkston High School, presenting for student interview as many representatives of various careers as it can find.

Program chairman Ken Winship reports the students and their parents will be able to wander around from panelist to panelist picking up information from all.

Career night is a first time effort on the part of the club, and Winship is in hopes that most of the students and their families will avail themselves of the opportunity to gather insight.

VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON MINUTES OF REGULAR MEETING

April 14, 1975

Meeting called to order by President Hallman. Re-elected Trustees Schultz, Thayer, and Weber were sworn into office by the clerk.

Roll: Present: Basinger, Granlund, McCall, Schultz, Thayer, Weber. Absent—None.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Moved by Thayer to pay the following bills:

Salaries	$6323.97
Municipal Services	644.44
Administration	432.08
Clarkston News	511.40
Legal Fees	505.00
Insurance	1547.80
Sewer Charges	3184.78

TOTAL 13,149.47

Seconded by Weber. Roll: Ayes—Basinger, Granlund, McCall, Schultz, Thayer, Weber. Nays—none. Motion carried.

After council discussion, it was decided to have Gar Wilson do the following: get bids for putting in ramps where the sidewalks meet curbs to benefit the disabled, fill in the ditches on Princess and Overlook and install catch basins and covers there, and get estimates on materials for revamping the village hall.

Following the recommendation of the Fire Dept., a letter will be sent to the owner of the old Methodist Church on Buffalo St., requesting that they board up the building while it's vacant for safety reasons.

Sewers that are uncompleted by Pinehurst and restoration complaints were discussed by the council, as was the quarterly usage billing breakdown.

The budget should be ready for approval by the next council meeting.

Moved by McCall to follow the treasurer's recommendation to transfer Revenue Sharing funds in the amount of $3241.29 to the General Fund for the township police bill. Seconded by Thayer. Motion carried unanimously.

President Hallman made the 1975-76 appointments, which were acted on as follows:

Moved by Basinger, seconded by Schultz to re-appoint Jack Byers and Bob Schwarze to three year terms on the planning commission. The other appointment will be made at the next meeting. Motion carried unanimously.

Moved by Basinger, seconded by Thayer to appoint Trustee Neil Granlund as President Pro-Tem. Motion carried unanimously.

Moved by Weber, seconded by Granlund to re-appoint William Rausch and H. W. Yoh to three year terms on the board of appeals. Motion carried unanimously.

Moved by Basinger, seconded by Schultz to approve the following council committee appointments: Legislative and Planning, Trustees Basinger and Schultz; Sewer and Finance, Trustees Granlund and McCall; Streets, Trustees Thayer and Weber, and Street Administrator, Trustee Thayer. Motion carried unanimously.

Moved by Thayer to designate Pontiac State Bank as the depository for village funds. Seconded by Schultz. Motion carried unanimously.

Trustee Basinger will check with the Clinton River Watershed Council for information regarding a proposed flood plain control ordinance.

Moved by Schultz to approve the request of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc. to solicit funds in the village on June 3, 1975. Seconded by Thayer. Motion carried unanimously.

Correspondence from the attorney was read, regarding his opinion that the village should not charge fees for copies of the recent structural study of the old Methodist Church, as this is public record.

Moved by schultz, seconded by Weber to adjourn. Motion carried.

Janet McCord, Clarkston Garden Club, helps Ortonville Nursing Home residents Joan Hendricks and Orval Smith with advice about a potted peanut plant. Members of the club have been working at the home since last fall, assisting in the planting of tulip and crocus bulbs, the creation of dish gardens, the planting of peanuts and marigolds and the rotting of pussy willows and forsythia. People of the nursing home have been responsive to the program, club members say.

Co-op students fete bosses

by Dana Goodell, phone 625-3370

Last Tuesday co-op students of Clarkston High School held their annual dinner banquet at the Sveden House. Each student buys his or her employer's dinner in appreciation for the time and cooperation given to the student throughout the year.

About 250 employers and employees along with coordinators, a few members of the school board, Mr. and Mrs. William Dennis and Rev. Robert Walters attended.

After dinner an awards presentation was held in which each student nominated his or her boss for a certain category. There were a lot of categories my boss, Mrs. Donna Fahrner, would have easily fit, but fearing for my job, I nominated her for most humorous. I wasn't about to take any chances.

However, there were a few braver than I, like Laurie Mill who nominated Mr. Tink Ronk for the Hair Award. Dick Morgan nominated his boss Mr. Jim Putnam for the loudest mouth. Jeanne Berquist thinks her boss Mr. Dave Springer is a Dirty Old Man and Brenda Holey says her boss Dr. Asif Ahmad is always Out to Lunch and Brenda Clark nominated her boss Mrs. Betty Christie for talking to herself. Other categories were Chain Smoker, Muscle Man and Clock Watcher.

I wonder if everyone still has their jobs?

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Oakley of 7259 Mustang are proud to announce the birth of their first baby, Jennell Kristin. Jennell was born April 16 and weighed 6 lbs. 4 1/2 oz. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Oakley of Moline, Illinois, and Mrs. Betty Humphrey of Pontiac. Congratulations!

Ruth Prescott of the National Organization of Women will speak at the Clarkston Women's Club at independence center, 5331 Maybee Road, tonight at 8. Ruth, who has been a high school teacher for five years teaching English, journalism, and speech and has worked as a systems analyst for Blue Cross for two and a half years, is presently a marketing representative for General Electric.

Besides being the corresponding secretary for the Oakland County Chapter of N.O.W. and also its future president, she had co-ordinated a taskforce on marriage, divorce and the family and is head of the employer compliance task force. Guests are welcome to come and join in the discussion. Refreshments will be served.

Recently, parents sponsored a 50-50 raffle at the high school. All donations went to the Spanish Club. The winners of a $400 prize was Deloris Lundberg of Fremont, Ohio. Many thanks to all the parents who participated.

It was a double suprise Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Zukowski of Overlook and Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Arnold of Deer Lake Road were both honored with a suprise 25th wedding anniversary party. The celebration, which was planned by their nieces and nephews included 130 guests and buffet dinner from 2-5 at the V.F.W. Hall.

Vic and Sally Kubani of Allen Road, Don and Hope Hoff of Wealthy, John and Sylvia Harken, Dick and Ila Surre and Dr. and Mrs. Bullard all celebrated their anniversaries this week too. Happy Anniversary.

The Honorable Jerry sez: "You can reach farther with an open hand."

Despite soaring sugar prices and a sagging economy, the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council's 1975 cookie sale went well.

Just over 200,000 boxes of cookies were sold by girls throughout the Council. One fourth of these were the Peanut Butter Pattie variety.

In the Clarkston area, the girls sold 17,676 boxes of cookies nearly equaling their figure from last year.

Cookie money is used to maintain the organization, and provide the required materials and programs such as camping and troop type for membership. The Council would like to thank you for making Girl Scouting possible through your cookie purchases.

Donna Fahrner of Robertson Ct. celebrated her birthday Sunday, also celebrating Sunday were Marion Terry, Lynn Strechle, Mary Brown and Eric George. Happy Birthday!

Pat and Bill Race of Allen Road were honored Saturday night at a dinner and dance at Knollwood Clubhouse in Grand Blanc. The occasion was their 25th wedding anniversary, which 40 guests helped them celebrate. The Races were married April 15, 1950 in Louisville, Ky. Hosting the party were their children, Lynn and Dan.

Joy Verhey suggests that any readers having recipes calling for Granola, send them in for printing. Sounds good to us.

4-Hers to model

Oakland County 4-H will sponsor its annual County Style Revue on Saturday, May 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the Springfield Oaks Youth Activities Center, 12451 Andersonville Road, Davisburg.

Boys and girls enrolled in the clothing or personal appearance program will be modeling on stage, in front of judges, and showing off their skills in coordinating outfits, that they have either made or purchased. They will be judged on the "total look" of their garments as suited for each individual.

The theme for this year's program is "Impressive Images."

Co-op nursery open house

Clarkston Co-op Nursery will host an open house at the United Methodist Church on Waldon Road from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday, April 27. Parents interested in enrolling their children, ages three and four, are invited to attend.

Teachers and board members will be present to answer questions. Further information is available by calling Jan Mackson, 625-3465.

Kathy Hartwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Hartwick of Lakeland, Fla., will wed Brent Paul Agar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Agar of 5175 Maybee Road, June 14 at Clarkston United Methodist Church.

Gardeners to discuss herbs

Nature Center Organic Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. April 30 at the Drayton Plains Nature Center, 2125 Denby. Herbs are the topic for discussion.

Just a reminder -- don't forget Boy Scout Troop 126 paper drive May 3 at Clarkston United Methodist Church. Pick-up service can be had by calling Harold Sutherland at 625-3356 or Sandy Sanborne at 625-5311.

The public is welcome to attend the Davisburg Joggers meeting at the Davisburg Town Hall on Saturday, May 3, at 12 noon. There will be a pot luck dinner.

Welcome to Christopher Anthony Lewis, the first baby born to Mr. and Mrs. Duane Lewis of Clarkston. Christopher was born April 7 and weighed 5 pounds 6 ounces. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lewis of Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gradine of Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. John Hayday of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Emmendorfer of Clarkston wish to announce the birth of their first grandchild Amy Lynn Emmendorfer. Amy is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Emmendorfer of Romulus. Amy was born April 17, and weighed 7 pounds 7 ounces. Other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Charter of Pontiac. Congratulations to all parents and grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Fletcher of Clarkston recently returned from a trip to Indiana. While down there, all sorts of exciting things happened. For instance, the candidate for mayor was put in jail and charged for murder. The Fetters visited their new great-grandson and also their grandson Richard Anderson who is attending one of the oldest colleges west of the Appalachian mountains.

Don't forget Mother's Day which is coming up soon, and if you want to do something nice for your special mother, the Jaycettes are holding a geranium sale and will deliver red or pink geraniums on May 21 or 22. The flowers will sell for 95 cents and orders can be placed by calling 623-7779. All proceeds will be used to finance club activities.

The Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club is planning a vacation slide presentation for members and guests at 7:30 p.m. April 24. The presentation will be held at the First Federal Civic Room, 761 W. Huron St., Pontiac, according to hostesses, Zella Mitchell and Lois Grice. An election of officers and business meeting will also be conducted.

Last Wednesday, April 16th, a group of mothers met with Principal G.N. Birtsas at Sashabaw Junior High School for an informal meeting with a cross-section of Sashabaw Junior High students. All grades were represented with the discussion centering around parental and student concerns.

Sashabaw Junior High is planning a Men's night on Wednesday, May 14, 1975 from 7:00 to 9:00. The program will be informal with the administration and faculty presenting the curriculum and extra-curricular activities and answering questions. Fathers will be given an opportunity to contribute ideas for an improved school. All fathers are invited and encouraged to attend.

Grandparents have a role in raising children

By James and Ellen Windell

Being a grandparent can be enjoyable and grandchildren can be seen as a blessing enriching one's life. However, grandchildren are at best a mixed blessing and the role of the grandparent can be exhausting and frustrating. Grandparents, like other groups in our society, seem to be at the point of liberating themselves from previous roles.

Although many grandparents look forward to the time when they have grandchildren to help raise, others anticipate being free of the responsibility of children. For an older couple who want to enjoy their retirement, regular babysitting chores are an imposition: One grandmother said recently, "At times I don't want to be bothered. After all, I raised mine."

Of course, some grandparents want to be with the grandchildren, which can be healthy for both grandparent and child. However, some of these grandparents are trying to make up for failures with their own children. Often it is these grandparents who are less understanding, less responsible, and overly indulgent with the grandchildren.

As people become older, their life becomes more structured and often their tolerance decreases. Grandparents find themselves feeling as a grandparent we know who said, "I love the little rascals, but after they are here for a couple of hours, I wish they would go home." Although she went on to say that the children were not being mischievous, she found that her patience was limited and she was far more intolerant than she had been ten or twenty years before.

Grandparents are sometimes caught in a dilemma of recognizing a problem in a grandchild, but feeling concern about bringing it to the attention of their own children. Since grandparents are not viewed in this society with the respect that their years of experience might suggest, they hesitate to interfere.

In other situations, some parents, perhaps when the parents and children live with the grandparents, allow the grandparents to become the parent. The actual parent may be relegated to a position of the child's older sibling or aunt or uncle. Sometimes the grandparent assumes the parental role out of necessity, rather than malice, because of neglect or lack of child-rearing skill by the actual parent.

Grandparents, as they live longer lives, and as extended families continue to have less relevance, have to face the grandchildren growing up and away from them, perhaps as their own children did. Grandparents need to maintain a healthy distance from their grandchildren, but as important elements in the extended family, the beneficial role that a grandparent can play in the development of a child should not be disregarded.

Engagement announced

A June 20 wedding is planned by Marcia A. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood W. Johnson of 6555 Eastlawn and Ronald H. Evely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian R. Evely of 5940 Pinehurst.

Spiritual Message

One of the greatest temptations to self-righteousness rises up in disagreements and controversy—to consider an opponent of inferior worth because he or she disagrees with you.

—Your motives are pure, but his are self-serving.

—Your one example that supports your opinion destroys his research that disagrees.

—Your supporters are loyal friends, but his are mindless fanatics.

—Your ideas are the will of God; his are the work of the devil.

And when you can't persuade another with the power of patient discussion, attack him as a person; he must be morally deficient.

The thing I have to keep telling myself again and again is that the person with whom I disagree is a person whom God loves as much as he loves me.

When I forget that Jesus said, "Love your enemies," I usually get side-tracked from the issues at hand. More time is spent in personality degrading (which reflects more on the degrader than the degradee) than on dealing with facts and real questions. And the job I want to get done often doesn't get done.

Jesus didn't mean love in the sense of like, but, to respect the other as a human being as you wish to be respected, assuming (until absolutely proven different in face-to-face conversation) his motivation is at least as pure as yours.

In that way more issues can be resolved and, incidentally, your foot tends to stay on the ground and not in your mouth.

I'll remind you of this if you'll remind me.

A red, white and blue bicentennial

by Dave Coulter

Mrs. Saile has seen fit to dub me as a garden editor, just why, I don't know, because I doubt if the Clarkston News, has a garden policy that I am required to reflect. It is a requirement of an editor to editorialize so I'll try it, maybe, just this one time.

Two hundred years ago this week the Revolutionary War began. To quote Longfellow, "Twas the 18th of April in '75 and hardly a man is now alive, who remembers that famous day and year". With this quote I've telegraphed my punch -- Bicentennial Gardens.

In one of my earliest columns I said, "Plan Your Work and Work Your Plan". What I propose is that, soon, the Bicentennial Gardens or better yet the Bicentennial Beautification of Clarkston, Independence Township and the area served by the Clarkston News consider a coordinated plan of beautification of the business district, the schools and other public buildings, the homes in Clarkston and its adjacent subdivisions. Quite correctly such a coordinated plan should have the theme of red, white and blue.

The town of Frankenmuth, where many of us go to enjoy their famous chicken dinners has proudly received many awards from national institutions for its wise and almost lavish use of flowering annuals. Most of the tasteful Carlings logo is done with annual flowers. Petunias grace most of the homes and the areas between the curbs and sidewalks and this gives the visitor the impression of a clean, well ordered town that is proud to have good food and relaxation enjoyed there, while the visitor spends his or her money.

Frankenmuth's thinking must be part cold business reality and part just plain old civic pride.

Clarkston perhaps no longer has the number of drive-through visitors it once had because thousands speed by the area on I-75 without seeing our town, yet it still exhibits both pride and tradition to the visitors. Clarkston's traditional Fourth of July Parade and celebration is one of the few sponsored by small towns in continuing this tradition and should be proud of it. It is my personal hope that our Bicentennial Commission will give some consideration to the encouragement of the wide use of annual flowers in the village and in Independence township both in '75 and '76.

Recently we were extolled by the TV to buy some produce with the theme, "It's Not Nice To Fool Mother Nature". Nice or not, Mother Nature has pulled some tricks on us and one of them is that to the best of my knowledge, no well known flowering annual displays all of the primary colors. There are plenty of white flowers, but no real blacks. Petunias have good reds, whites and some blues, but no true yellows. Tulips, probably, come the closest to having a full range of colors, and of course they are beautiful, but short seasoned.

One of the few annual flowers that displays all three patriotic colors is Centaurea or Bachelor Button which has good, true reds, whites and blues. Petunias have very good reds and whites, but the blues tend to be violet hued or to "wash out" in the drought and heat of summer.

People with shaded planting areas will find good reds and whites in Impatiens, but no blues. The breeders have pretty well eliminated the erratic plant growth of older Ageratoms and now Blue Mink Ageratom will provide a good blue, adaptable to a wide range of growing conditions. A fairly new family of Zinnias is now on the market called the Button series, that are about a foot tall. Of these both, Red Buttons and Cherry Buttons will provide good red that could be mixed with Zinnia, Lilliput mixed to provide a taller background for Blue Mink Ageratom.

In no way am I proposing that our area should be a carbon copy of Frankenmuth or that we should drop the individuality shown by the area's use of flowering annuals. I just hope to provide some information from which homeowners and flower gardeners may use to display flowers with a patriotic motif.

'Shot in the Dark' starts May 9

Clarkston Village Players will present "A Shot in the Dark" at 8:30 p.m. May 9, 10, 16 and 17 at the Depot Theater on White Lake Road.

The story concerns the investigation of the murder of a chauffeur. Jerry Barnfather as Seigne leads the hunt. Josefa, the amorous maid and accused murderess, is played by Linda Porter. She is employed by the Bouviers, portrayed by Homer Biondi and Pat Thomas. The proceedings are watched over by Dominic Cipparone and Russ Inman. Marie Luzi is director.

Holly Whole Sale and Tri-City Aggregates, located on Shields Road in Groveland Township, were broken into April 15. Sheriff's deputies report two calculators valued at $470 taken from Holly Whole Sale and more office equipment valued at $1175 from the Aggregate place. Sheriff's officers are still investigating.

Jody Rothermel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rothermel, 10685 Dixie Highway, placed first in the polka divisions, second in the solo division and 4th in the pop division in the recent Michigan Accordionists Association State Championship contest in Inkster. He was also accorded a score of 97 percent in the Challenge Cup Division in which 72 participated. Jody has been studying the accordion since he was 5 years old. At Present he is studying Ms. Lana Gore of the Modern Accordion Studios of Dearborn Heights. He is a sophomore at Holly Senior High School.

CDA fund contract eyed

Some $33,500 in Community Development Act funds earmarked for Independence Township will not be available until July, according to Supervisor J. Edwin Glennie. Even then, there is a remote chance the township will not want the money. The board, under instruction from the county, revised its contract on the funds to include the phrase that the money would be spent for urban renewal and public assisted housing. Since the township has already let it be known that the funds are intended for construction of a new park road, and since the new application takes into account the original application, Glennie said he thought the change in phrasing would have no application. "If it does, we can refuse the money," he said. The road would then be paid for from federal revenue sharing money, he added.

Weaver bound over to Circuit Court

DeWayne Daniel Weaver, 28, of Keego Harbor will be arraigned at 8:30 a.m. May 9 in Judge Robert Templin's Circuit Court. His bonds of $50,000 each on charges of armed robbery and assault with intent to murder were continued and he was sent back to Oakland County Jail following his appearance Monday in Clarkston District Court. Weaver was arrested in connection with a hold up March 22 of Boucard Party Shoppe, 6450 Dixie Highway.
