Schools are open despite labor problems

By Jean Saile
of The Clarkston News

Clarkston Schools resumed classes Tuesday on a day-to-day basis without a new teacher contract and without an extension of last year's Board of Education agreement with the 327-member Clarkston Education Association, which represents teachers.

The decision to work was made by most of the membership at a meeting early Monday morning at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Maybee Road. The vote contained the proviso that the CEA executive board could recommend a work stoppage should members deem it the best way to reach equitable settlement.

The on-time and relatively smooth opening of school came despite problems with the teacher negotiations and the 35-member bus drivers' organization, which in a last minute bargaining session Monday failed to reach agreement, either on a new contract or an extension of the old one.

A State Labor Board mediator is due to arrive September 7 to settle differences between the board and the drivers.

Another mediator was to arrive in the district Wednesday if teachers and Board of Education negotiators had not been able to arrive at agreement in a bargaining session scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Presidents of the various locals representing the drivers, general custodians, head custodians, secretaries, cooks and cook-managers met with CEA representatives last week to affirm they would not take over the responsibilities left untended in the district by any group which should decide to strike. The only group to disagree was the cook-managers, CEA officials said.

A meeting was called Monday night to decide what to do about picket lines, but it was decided to keep the schools open.

Some movement in negotiations between teachers and the board, particularly in the area of fringe benefits, was reported as the result of a bargaining session which lasted from 9 p.m. Sunday to 2 a.m. Monday. At that time insurance benefits included in last year's contract were extended.

Still at issue in the Tuesday meeting was the salary package, grievance procedure and a clause which the CEA calls maintenance of standards, and which it says has to do with staying off unilateral cuts or the underfunding of certain programs by the board.

Schools spokesmen have said the clause makes no provision for a cut in state funding or a loss in local revenue.

The only school employee group to have reached tentative agreement on a new contract when school opened was the head custodians, numbering about 10. Tentative agreement with the cooks' negotiating team was reached Monday, and it was expected agreement might be reached with cook-managers on Tuesday.

General custodians, numbering almost 45, who affiliated last August with the Michigan Education Association Organization were still in the process of reaching agreement, and a proposal made to the secretaries on Friday by the board had as of Tuesday not yet been answered.

Clarkston is one of 12 districts in the county which as yet has no teacher contract. Included in that number are the nearby districts of Brandon, Lake Orion and Waterford.

One hundred twenty-five teachers representing the 26 education associations of the county and known as the Region 7 Coordinated Bargaining Council (R7CBC) met last week to take action regarding a county-wide strike.

It established a special task force to prepare specific strategies for implementation of such an action.

"This is not threat," said Richard Dengate, chairperson.

"We're serious about this effort. It may be the only tactic left to us to achieve settlements particularly in West Bloomfield where teachers have been working an entire year without a contract."

Meeting change

The next monthly meeting of the Clarkston Village Planning Commission will be held on Sept. 6, rather than Monday, Sept. 5, Labor Day. Meetings are at 7:30 p.m. in the new township hall on Depot Road.

Bus driver talks stall

School buses rolled out of the transportation depot early Tuesday morning dispelling rumors of a "yellow flu" outbreak among the 35 school district bus drivers.

Janet Wells, head of the bus drivers union, said the drivers met Monday and decided to report for work pending the outcome of a Sept. 7 negotiation session with the administration and a state mediator.

The union and the administration are far apart in their negotiations with salary, working conditions, life insurance and Blue Cross coverage the main areas yet to be settled.

The drivers, Mrs. Wells said, now consider themselves full time employees, with the workday being increased from about four hours last school year to between eight and nine hours this year due to a staggered schedule of starting times.

One driver, Mrs. Wells said, starts with junior and senior high runs and then has 15 minutes to get to Andersonville Elementary.

The administration handed the drivers a proposed package Monday and said that is all there is, she added, and then refused a request to extend the old contract to Oct. 7.

Rumors of a "yellow flu" outbreak began spreading last week when it became evident a contract could not be reached before the opening of school.

all ages will be allowed to compete.

Entertainment kicks off with a Gong Show at 7 p.m. Friday in the beer tent. Sugarfree, an all-girl bluegrass band, will play there Saturday at 8 p.m. Ronald McDonald will perform a magic show for children after the parade in the vacant lot at the corner of Washington and Main Streets, and Independence Firefighters will sponsor a water battle across the street in the Village Parking Lot soon after.

Organizations taking part include the Village Business Association, Clarkston Area Jaycees and Jayettes, Independence Township Firefighters, Deer Lake Sailboat Club, the American Legion Campbell-Richmond Post No. 63 and Clarkston Rotary Club, which sponsors the parade.

Pine Knob concerts during the weekend include Johnny Cash on Friday night, Linda Ronstadt on Saturday and Sunday nights, and Julie Andrews and Henry Mancini on Monday night.

Edmond Fitzgerald launches a career

Tim Carr displays his model of the Edmond Fitzgerald.

BY Jean Saile
of The Clarkston News.
A Clarkston man who aspired to be "the best there is" on the harmonica may have reached his goal.

Tim Carr's rendition of "If Children Had Wings" is to be included on Gordon Lightfoot's new album "Endless Wire" which will be out in January.

Carr, a 1966 Clarkston High School graduate, says he first turned to the harmonica through the efforts of Clarkstonites Andy Rossano and John Bickford. It was John who taught him blues style, and that has been his main love since.

And now—with the Lightfoot inclusion—he's sounding out a New York group, the percussionist of which is a friend of his, and they're thinking about launching their own musical group. The neophytes already have been offered a record contract for three songs.

Yet Carr, now 28, still prefers to think of himself as a carpenter, and it was his work with wood that sealed his association with Lightfoot.

Carr carved in 35 hours from bass wood and fitted with brass a replica of the Edmond Fitzgerald, which sank recently in the Great Lakes and which provided the theme for Lightfoot's million record seller.

He had known Lightfoot for six or seven years, jamming with him occasionally, and flew out to Las Vegas for a fabulous two-week vacation at the time the Fitzgerald was presented.

The Fitzgerald was a good subject for Carr who as a boy spent summers on Harsen's Island and saw the huge freighter frequently.

The working drawings came from Dossin's Great Lakes Museum, and the model was built on a 200 to 1 scale.

Unfortunately, the model is now in drydock. Lightfoot's two Siamese cats attacked it and Carr is now repairing it. He's building a case for it, adding navigation lights, and spiffing up the brass.

This he's doing while restoring Leopold Blooms restaurant in Ann Arbor. Of the 1890's Victorian era, it is being decorated in an art nouveau style.

Helping Carr with the project is his girlfriend, Casey Smith, also of Clarkston. Though trained as a nurse, she finds carpentry more exciting, she says.

Carr first played "If Children Had Wings" backstage for Lightfoot at the Las Vegas MGM Hotel, and the record was finally cut this summer in Toronto.

Carr speaks highly of Lightfoot's attention to detail. "He will rehearse one song all day long until he gets it just right," says Carr, whose musical prowess also includes the guitar and violin.

Last chance!

Last chance to have preschoolers immunized, as required by state law, is being offered free of charge by the Oakland County Health Department from 1 to 4

Change in allocation procedure could hike tax

A proposal that could hike taxes in much of Independence and Springfield Townships is now under consideration by local municipal units.

Proposed by the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board, the plan calls for a fixed millage split of what has been the constitutionally guaranteed 15-mill ($15 per $1,000) limit on the unvoted tax levy apportioned between the county, schools and the townships.

The plan has the effect of increasing or stabilizing governmental revenue but would provide for a basic 16.46 millage non-voted levy in all unincorporated parts of the township, up from what has traditionally been 15 mills.

Cities and charter townships—such as Waterford—have not shared in the 15-mill split. They are financed by locally imposed revenue.

For years there has been movement at the county level to do away with the Tax Allocation Board, and the need for it to decide an equitable split of the available revenue.

Proponents of the plan argue it would do away with the oftentimes "farical" allocation budgets which townships and schools and the county must present to the board, long before they know what cash will be available in the coming year.

Hours of manpower are put into the preparation of such budgets, which tend to be inflated in the belief that all allocation budgets are cut, a fact that is not universally true.

However, more realistic budgets, based on the money available, are prepared in the fall after the spring appearance before the allocation board.

Opponents state the allocation board is one of the few overall budget reviews accorded to county, township and school budgets, and plays an important role in keeping them realistic.

The reasoning used by the allocation board for hiking the 15-mill limit is based on the fact that in cities and chartered townships there has been no need for a township tax levy.

Instead of cutting the tax, the schools benefitted up to 1½ mills extra (the average allotment for townships).

In those areas where school districts crossed a corporate line into the township, it became the rule that residents paid both the 1½ mill township tax levy and the 1½ mills which the cities were producing for the schools.

Proponents of the new plan contend the hike to 16.46 mills across the board in the unincorporated areas would even things up. Whatever the decision, voters must approve any change contemplated.

A squash takeover

These Davisburg youngsters aren't hiding from the school bus in this squash plant. It won't arrive for them as students in the Holly district until Sept. 7. The usual lawn cover wasn't planned. Marge Garrison, 230 Broadway, found it growing in the lawn after the Garrisons dug a basement under their home and used the soil for fill. Another, only a fourth as large, took over her flower bed. The errant plants apparently grew from seeds of squash stored in the crawl space in years past. Throughout the plant are [left to right] Karen Prose, 7; Kathy Schoenhals, 6; Steve Schoenhals, 3 [with acorn squash]; Ellen Burns, 10; Phillip Burns, 8; and Shannon Burns, 12, in foreground.

M-275 plans dim again

The future of an M-275 or an M-275 parkway grew increasingly dim at a hearing last week in Lansing before the State Highway Commission.

While no official stance was taken, indications were that the commission would vote 3-1 against construction of a major

People are still driving

In spite of rising gasoline prices, Michigan motorists are driving more than ever, according to the State Department of Highways and Transportation.

The agency reported a 5.1 percent increase in the three-month period ending June 30 over the same period in 1976. Weight taxes were up 36.1 percent for the quarter over last year's totals.

Clarkston's share of the total is $3,816 compared to $3,384 last year.

Total collections for the second quarter were $106,953, 132 for motor fuels; $33,133, 121 for license plate fees.

Collections in the Michigan Motor Vehicle Highway Fund totaled $145,681,623, up 12.7 percent. Part of the increase is $1,345,653 in interest earned by the fund.

north-south road when it meets again September 28.

Only one commissioner, who had voted against the original cancellation of an M-275 expressway, spoke in favor of the traffic artery.

Several Oakland County officials were present including Supervisor Collin Walls of Springfield Township.

M-275 was originally designed to connect I-96 and I-75, running through Novi, Commerce, White Lake and Springfield Townships.

When those plans were summarily cancelled by the commission last January, local officials presented an alternate plan which involved a tree-lined, four to six lane, divided, ground level highway with intersections and traffic lights at major roads.

Where once the main argument against the road's construction was disruption of the environment, local officials have expressed the opinion that the commission's reasons seem to lie more in the area of containing urban sprawl.

The cancellation of the M-275 Freeway in Springfield Township and western Oakland County has been tied to the governor's support of rapid transit and the need for additional funding for that purpose.

John L. Grubba, managing director of the Oakland County Road Commission, made the charges as he spoke before a recent meeting of the Pontiac Rotary Club.

The single transportation fund proposed by Gov. Milliken aims to sidestep the vote of the people and sell bonds voted in by statewide highway user tax payers in order to build mass transit in southeastern Michigan, he claims.

Grubba noted that such highway users' funds may be pledged to back sale of bonds without a public vote, and have been for highway purposes many times, but never yet for non-highway uses.

"Half of the state highway department's income would be diverted into supporting public transportation. That means money will not be available for a reasonable program of maintaining the state trunklines."

"I suggest that is already happening based on the state highway commission's decision to cancel M-275 in Oakland County. They are cutting back on programs for state trunklines in order to provide for public transportation," Grubba charged.

Schools open — for now

Clarkston Schools started off on a tenuous basis at best this year—no one sure until the last minute whether bus drivers would strike, and teacher negotiations stalled to the point that classes are being operated on a day-to-day business.

Nevertheless, Clarkston area voters are satisfied that school is underway. The reaction would have been considerably different—if after two millage votes—there had been labor problems sufficient to delay the start of class.

Some said it was not knowing how much of the additional millage would be used for salaries that caused defeat of the first vote. Some said it was simply the fact that Clarkston area people—hit with ever increasing assessments—did not feel they had the money to pay for “improvements” of which they doubted the real value.

Bus drivers are facing a different situation this year, the new starting times causing them longer working hours and more runs. Designed as an economy move on the part of the Board of Education, the new schedule has added to the unrest felt by drivers who believe they should get more money and better fringe benefits.

Teacher contract negotiations have been affected by a five percent mandated pension plan which the district must pay this year, in accordance with state law.

The board views that as part of the overall expenses, along with teacher increments (those wages given year to year as the teacher stays in the district) and have held actual pay increases to a minimum.

Much teacher dissatisfaction has stemmed from the fact that 40 percent of the 323 teachers in the system are no longer eligible for yearly increases. The pay package has been designed to provide for plateaus between the 11th and 16th years and until the 21st year.

Since Clarkston's staff is getting older, there are more and more people who fall into that category.

To the time we went to press, efforts were being made to iron out differences to the satisfaction of both sides and the voters who dug deep the second time around and approved increased millage.

We wish them well. Negotiation is a sticky business at best.

Ingenious mourning counts

by Jim Fitzgerald

There has been no hint that Groucho Marx died from a drug overdose. If you are a show biz celebrity, there is something to be said for waiting 86 years to die, and I just said it.

When someone like Elvis Presley dies, two races are immediately begun.

In the first, newspapers race to uncover the secret autopsy which proves the star did not die from cancer. The real cause of death was acute perforation resulting from an unnatural relationship between the star and his guitar pick.

In the second race, the star's bereaved fans compete for sorrow honors. Who loved the lost star most? Some heartless people might measure this adoration by the number of albums bought or concerts attended while the star still shone. But this is too commercial. Money can't buy everything, including a sincere lump in the throat.

What counts is not economic investment in the star's memorial T-shirts. What counts is how loud a fan wails when first informed of the death. How far will the fan travel to throw his or her first-born under the wheels of the star's hearse?

Ingenuity counts. Not everyone can get to the funeral. Thousands of Elvis fans were left moaning in airports by Memphis-bound airplanes which didn't have room for one more case of hysteria. But that doesn't mean the first prize for Magnificent Mourning can't be awarded to a mourner who never even sees the cortege.

Personally, in the case of Elvis, I was most impressed by the employees of Texas Instruments Inc., a factory in Midland, Texas, hundreds of miles from Memphis. They proved that if your sorrow is real, it is not necessary to see the corpse to get sick.

A few hours after Presley's death was announced, a Texas Instruments worker fainted. Within the next 30 minutes, four other workers keeled over. Plant officials, fearing some toxic gas, ordered employees evacuated to a parking lot where 100 others said they felt faint.

Inspection of the factory uncovered no organic cause for the contagion. But a Dallas professor, Dr. Heinz Eichenwald, blamed it on mass anxiety caused by the death of Elvis Presley.

We see this often in the death of public figures with whom people identify or admire," Dr. Eichenwald said.

No other factory, in Texas or anywhere, reported an increase in faintings after Presley's death. Certainly this indicates that Texas Instruments workers loved Elvis more than anyone else did, at least under the group plan. You can expect that these people will receive the recognition they deserve when the Magnificent Mourning trophy is awarded in the mass sorrow category.

I was never a Presley fan, but that was my fault, not his. It was not Elvis' fault that he started singing in 1954 when I couldn't hear him. I was still in seclusion, recovering from the death of Glenn Miller.

I wonder how Presley's fans would like it if his body were lost somewhere outside Memphis? That's what happened to Miller during World War II. His airplane disappeared and there has been no word since. For Miller fans, this has meant over 30 years of anguished uncertainty and Tex Beneke.

I mention the loss of Glenn Miller only so you Presley mourners will realize we old crocks have also known real sorrow. And now many of us are knowing it anew, due to the demise of Groucho Marx.

The death of Presley received much more publicity than the death of Groucho. The worldwide wailing for Elvis was much louder. This is not because Elvis was more talented than Groucho. Don't be ridiculous, please.

The thing is that Groucho outlived his greatest fans. And the lingering death of an 86-year-old man leaves behind no cocaine-dusted mystery to titillate the public. If Elvis had been 86 when he died, there would have been no fainting at Texas Instruments.

All of which doesn't mean Groucho's death attracted no competitors for the Magnificent Mourner award. There was Georgie Jessel who was angered because he wasn't invited to Groucho's memorial service.

"I was closer to him than anybody," Jessel told newsmen. "I was the only person who could make him laugh in the last six months."

Magnificent Mourners make a lot of people laugh. You might as well laugh at them. The big saps are never going to go away anyway.

Short items

by Jean Saile

The Orion Township minister who has launched an investment news letter in addition to a "Best sermons" letter is now in search of the "shortest sermon" in the world.

Rev. John H. Albrecht, rector of St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church in Keatington Village, is using the contest to mark the church's silver anniversary. He's asking that each suggestion be accompanied by a $1 donation to the church.

Some of the ones he's received are "God so loved the world," "The greatest sin of man is not to know and not to seek to find the answer," "Love!" "Love one another," "Loyalty," "Love all," "Charity," "Mankind," "Believe," "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God," "Joy," "To know God is to live forever," and "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter; Fear God, and keep His commandments: For this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil."

I am not sure I am qualified to write any sermon, but the Rev. Mr. Albrecht's proposal has possibilities.

Suppose we used his idea in the writing of political speeches. Would it not improve government considerably? Perhaps interest more people? Aid the campaign coffers? Maintain sanity and common sense?

And what would those very brief campaign speeches then consist of?

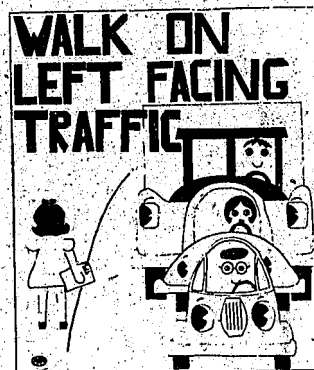

"Honesty?" "A day's work for a day's pay?" Goodness knows, we have advanced beyond the stage of "A chicken in every pot."

Maybe it should be "A pound of coffee in every kitchen," or "Insurance you can afford" or "Lock up the criminals" or "Stop property tax increases."

Any politician committing himself entirely to one program would be expected to work at it, and he might even have to give considerable thought, in that case, to what he said.

Mr. Albrecht may have started a trend with great ramifications.

"Peace!" Mr. Albrecht. I wish you well!

And the sound of the alarm clock was heard again in the land!

Students arrived at Bailey Lake just in time for classes starting at 9:35 a.m.

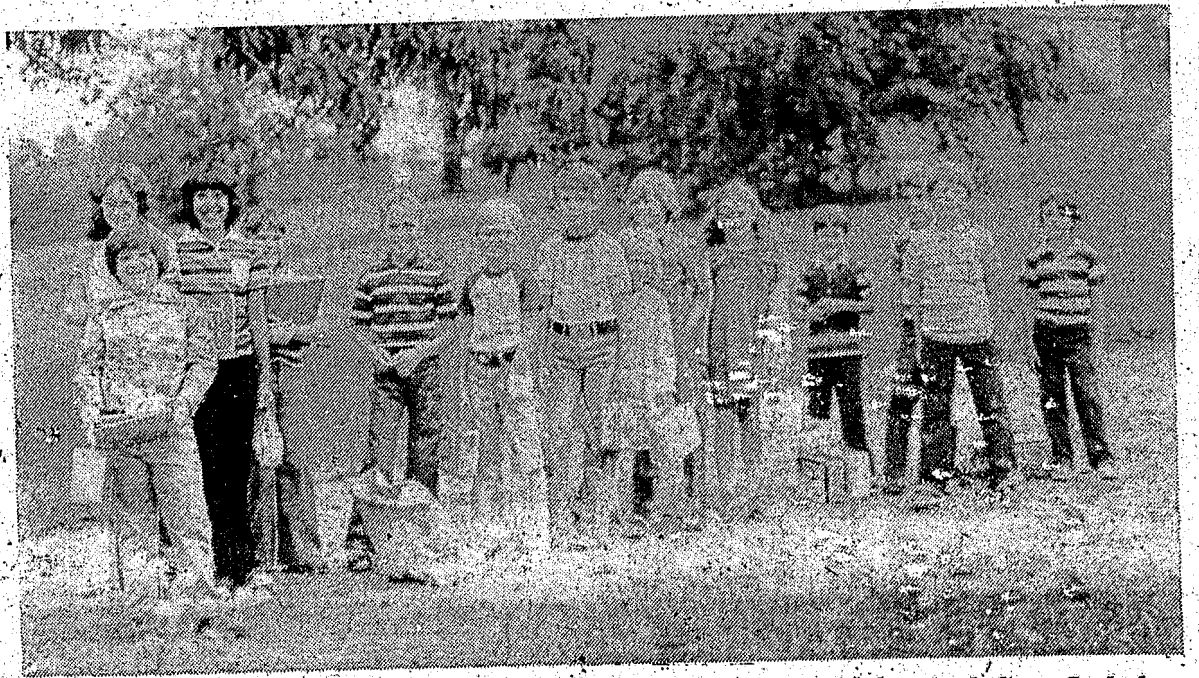

The first day of school is a big one for Timi Agar, Kendra Kurz and Tara Thomas. They are seventh graders this year at Clarkston Junior High.

Renee Mellon and Nikki Lafever thought the Sashabaw bus must have missed them as they waited with Nikki's mother Chris Lafever

Photos by Hilda Bruce, who was also up bright and early.

Teacher Bill Rathburg [right] helps Chris Truba find her room number at Bailey Lake, as Howard Wright aids another student.

First at the bus stop is first on the bus and these Sashabaw students from the Walters Lake area were all lined up ready to board.

Girls win racing trophies

Two area youngsters are among those who will be honored Sunday, September 11, when the Michigan Midget Racing Association presents trophies in the Tri-City Championship Race at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

Heather, 8, and Kerry, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wallace of Drayton Road, accumulated enough points this summer in races at Waterford, Toledo and Lansing so that Heather placed second behind a first place tie in the junior stock division and Kerry placed 7th in the junior novice division.

A fun race, in honor of the events, will begin at noon that day. The girls race on a one-twentieth mile oval track in three horsepower cars built to one-quarter scale of the regular midget race cars.

Ready for Oxford

The 1977 Clarkston Wolves football teams with an eye on improving over last years impressive 7-2 record and with hopes of capturing the top spot in the Oakland A League will be co-captained by five returning lettermen, when they take the field Sept. 9 at Oxford High School. Co-captains are [front] left Guard Brian Snyder and Tackle Randy Cummings. Back, from left, are Running back Chris Camp, Quarterback Tim Fogg and Tackle Syd Standring.

Area cyclists win trophies

Clarkston area youths captured a first and two second place trophies in the Bicycle Motocross held Sunday on the Oakland County Courthouse grounds.

Steve Aitken, of 5273 Frankwell took top honors in the 13-year-old class finishing ahead of Brian Barlow, of 6075 Sunnydale, while Jeremy Deighton of 6724 Plum took second place in the 7 and 8-year-old classification.

The event, sponsored by the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Department, saw more than 100 cyclists compete for trophies in six classifications.

The cyclists took part in one-eighth mile elimination sprints until the top three winners in each class were determined, based upon time.

There's a new boathouse and docking facility at Crooked Lake in the Independence-Oaks County Park two miles north of Pine Knob on Sashabaw Road.

Designed by Ellis, Arndt & Truesdell, the facility offers boat rentals, a boardwalk patio and restrooms. Canoes, rowboats and pedalboats are available at daily and hourly rates.

Fifty percent of construction cost was provided by the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission's quarter of a mill tax levy with matching funds from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation's land and water grant.

Frank Crowley even brought his newspaper to the parade.

According to Rotarian Dick Ayres the Labor Day parade is shaping up with lots of entries including many musical ones.

The parade will stop at different spots along the route so the crowd can enjoy the music.

There will be prizes for first, second and third place floats.

It is still not too late to join the line up. Call Ayres at 623-9220 or 625-4090.

The kinds of exercises we hear most about these days are called aerobic exercises. They cause the heart and lungs to work harder than when at rest. They are the type of exercises that can be sustained for a long time without causing damage to muscles through a lack of oxygen. Aerobic exercises can make everyone a sport-person, whether they choose to walk, jog, cycle, swim or skip rope. These are the kinds of sports and activities that pit the body against itself in a healthy way, both physically and mentally, if done with the proper care and pacing.

Choose your sports equipment from the wide selection we stock at COACH'S CORNER, 31 S. Main, 625-8457. Sports will be enjoyed more with properly fitted equipment and we are specialists in this. Adidas and Wilson football shoes, safety pads, jerseys and helmets are handled for individual players or teams. Hours: 9:30am-6pm daily, until 5pm Sat.

If the number of accidents per performance at Pine Knob Music Theatre is any gauge, then the fans of the Beach Boys should be the first in line for a refresher course in driver education.

Last Thursday, Aug. 25, there were nine separate accidents involving 21 vehicles, followed by Friday's performance when there were 11 separate accidents.

Neil Diamond came next to the theatre and there were only two minor accidents.

Perhaps the Beach Boy fans are taking the song "Little Deuce Coupe" too much to heart.

Golfing friends of George Ferguson, 69, former owner of the Davisburg Golf Course, pro at Waterford Hill Country Club until it closed, and life member of Spring Lake Golf Club, honored him at a golf outing Sunday at Spring Lake two days after his death.

About 200 friends raised $2,000 which will be applied to Ferguson's medical bills, generated during four years of illness. His funeral was Monday.

Don Tee shared $146 with his golfing buddies during the Ferguson benefit Sunday at Spring Lake. Tee eagled the par 4 15th hole to pick up the win, much to the satisfaction of J.D. Powell, Jack Hewson and Mel Kramer.

It's later than you think. Just take a drive and note the beginning of fall color display. West Church Street, Main Street and Waldon Road maples are beginning their glorious red and yellow flaming. Some have even gone so far as to lose their leaves, including a maple on Waldon near Clarkston Elementary, and at least one out on Rich on Maceday Lake has been reported.

If you've griped about mortgage escrow accounts, you can have your day in the sun at public hearings scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. September 7 in the 13th floor of Detroit's City-County Building or from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Senior Citizen Activity Center, 15218 Farmington Road, Livonia.

The hearings are sponsored by the Michigan House of Representatives on two proposals for reform. One bill would require banks to pay home buyers interest on funds paid into escrow accounts, and would limit the amount the lender could require in escrow to 10 percent above the amount necessary to meet taxes and insurance. The second would add the provision that an escrow account would be allowed only if the home is purchased under a state or federal loan guarantee, if the owner should fall behind in tax payments, or if the purchaser puts up less than 10 percent of the house value.

Four new safety road markings for Clarkston Schools could result from a federal grant.

If the grant comes through, Andersonville, Clarkston, Pine Knob and the Sashabaw schools would benefit.

ACE opens in Pine Knob Plaza

The newest A.C.E. Incorporated hardware store opens today (Thursday, Sept. 1) in the Pine Knob Plaza.

Theodore Travis and 22 other hardware dealers throughout the nation opened the first super-market type hardware store in Inkster in 1963. Travis had been in the hardware business since 1946 when he and his brothers opened up shop in Dearborn.

Within 14 years the chain has grown from one to 31 stores with two more scheduled to open this fall. Stressing customer assistance and competitive prices, A.C.E. has become mass-merchandising and home-center oriented, relating to the economically minded do-it-yourself homeowner.

The new 15,000 square foot store is stocked with 7,500 different items in 10 areas—paint, tools, electrical, garden, plumbing, hardware, sports, automotive and sundries.

Electronic terminals with optical scanning rather than conventional cash registers assure more accurate pricing and inventory control.

Four strike it rich in the lottery

By Jean Saille
of The Clarkston News

Four Clarkston people went to the races via Michigan's instant lottery tickets and came away $5,000 richer in the last two months.

The Bureau of State Lottery says Margaret Bentley, Mona Gauthier, Janice Nicholson and Terrence Scheib were the lucky people, and The Clarkston News was able to contact all but Ms. Gauthier.

For Janice Nicholson of Mary Sue, the big win almost turned out to be a birthday present. She struck it rich on July 8, eight days before her 41st birthday, when she purchased her winning ticket at Food Town.

An unusual woman who has poured patios, rebuilt vestibules, refinished furniture, and loves babysitting her two grandchildren, Mrs. Nicholson is convinced her luck had something to do with the number 2.

That's the number that brought home the bacon, the amount of money she spent on lottery tickets, and the kind she most often won on—$2. It's also the number she bet at Hazel Park this summer at the real horse races, and the number that enabled her to bring home $38.

It was also the time she had to spare when she arrived at the Oak Park lottery office to claim her prize. The office closed at 5 p.m. and it was two minutes to when she arrived.

An avid bingo player, she wins regularly at Pontiac Catholic, the Eagles and the American Legion, and though she's won as many as eight times in one evening, she says she never brought home more than $220 at any one time. One reason she may win so often, she admits, is that she plays 30 cards at a time.

And the money—when it came in the mail about three weeks later—provided "a ball" for the woman, who says she has always saved and budgeted to get the things she wanted.

"I bought my husband a color TV, my son a bed and lamps. We insulated the house, and now we're having a fireplace built and we're going to save some to pay the taxes."

Mrs. Nicholson's husband, Harvey, an employe at Fisher Body, was obviously pleased with his wife's success, as were her four children.

He'd been the lucky one once before, winning her a circular saw for Mother's Day at a Kmart drawing and thereby giving her the wherewithall to get on with her building projects.

Margaret Bentley, 57, of M-15, an employe at Naum's, just received her money. She was leaving the news office Friday morning for Pontiac State Bank where she intended to pay off the mortgage on the house.

The mother of six boys and a girl, she had a hard time convincing her husband, Victor, an employe of Systematic Heating and Cooling Co., of her good fortune.

She'd purchased the ticket in Onaway, while visiting relatives during a funeral. It was reported in Saginaw on her way home, and when she told her husband she had come home $5,000 richer, he found it hard to believe.

Like Mrs. Nicholson, she's also experienced luck before. Only a week and a half ago she won $300 at bingo at the Sportsmen's Club. She plays 15 cards at a time.

She also considers herself fortunate in other ways. "The kids are all healthy and all good. The good Lord always takes care of me one way or another."

Besides her avid bingo playing, she crochets, does ceramics and cake decorating. She feels there's nothing she really needs.

A young couple, Terrence Scheib, 27, and his wife of five years, Janet, are going to be enjoying some good camping with the van they've purchased from his winnings.

Already Terry has the '74 pickup and camper they used during a recent stay at Groveland-Oaks up for sale, and Janet says, "It's going to be nice to have room in the car for a change."

She's thinking about the two young Scheibs—Danny, 2, a curly headed blonde bombshell, and Brendon, just four months old.

Terry can smile sheepishly when he remembers the day he purchased the winning ticket. He had to go to work and the family was out of milk.

"I went to Richardson's on M-15, and I was mad. All I bought was the milk and four tickets. I gave Janet two and she scratched hers and didn't get anything, then I scratched my first one and it didn't have anything."

"He was scratching the second one real slow," interrupted Janet. "And I could see the two fives. 'Big deal,' I said. 'You've won $5' and he said, 'No, $5,000!'"

Terry works at Pontiac Motors. His wife has a full time occupation as wife and mother.

Church, commercial additions ok

Independence Township Planning Commission has approved site plans for additions to Calvary Lutheran Church and what will be known as the Mercantile Building to be added onto the building currently occupied by House of Style on south M-15.

Construction is expected to begin October 1 to add a new sanctuary and a kitchen to the church. The 5,500 square foot addition will mean that the present sanctuaries will be converted to class and meeting rooms.

Work has already begun at the south M-15 site, the completed building to house a Tru Value Hardware Store. Some 6,243 square feet will be added to the present small structure.

In other business Thursday night, the commission learned work is progressing satisfactorily at the Nickelodeon on north M-15. An earth berm has been erected, a fence is up and some blacktop is in, however improvements to the front of the building await State Highway Department approval on ingress and egress plans. The improvements were required at the time approval was given for the present enlarged restaurant.

The zoning ordinance was amended to provide for a more realistic allowance of a four-foot cyclone fence. The commission recently became aware of its requirement for a three-foot fence when a homeowner applied for a variance. Cyclone fences are built only in the four foot size.

Also approved was an amendment allowing better placement of accessory buildings in residential areas. The ordinance previously required such a building be 50 feet from the house, and many lots were not large enough to comply. They are now permitted 10 feet from the principal building or lot line.

A-a-a-choooo!

Suffering from hay fever? "Take a trip at sea," said Dr. Al Hamilton of the Village Clinic.

"Pray for frost," said Dr. Irving Kernis, area pediatrician. Cheaper and quicker is to tough it out or see your family doctor.

Area doctors say that for some reason the annual onslaught is worse this year than usual.

"And later, too," said James O'Neill, local pediatrician.

"The number of those affected is reaching the ridiculous," he added.

Hamilton said he is seeing about 100 sufferers a week now and Kernis noted about 25 percent of his patients are complaining of the symptoms.

Brought on mostly by ragweed, but also by other weeds as well, most folks sneeze, cough, and dry their teared eyes with frequency.

"While hay fever is an annoyance, it is no threat to life," Hamilton said. "To avoid the situation is ideal but impossible."

Besides avoiding pollen filled situations like mowing the lawn, victims can use antihistamines, the doctors say.

The lowly weed

If a case is severe, steroids with a long term effect are used.

"Avoid the continued use of nasal sprays. They may bring relief for 10 or 15 minutes but aggravate the nasal membranes compounding the stuffiness problem," Hamilton said.

Deer Lake Farms attracts professionals

Country Living

By Rhea Lodge
of The Clarkston News
Wondering about the new neighbors up on the hill?

Clarkston residents can be reassured. Lot buyers in the new Deer Lake Farms development are lawyers, small businessmen, plant owners, General Motors and Chrysler executives, doctors, manufacturer's representatives and insurance agency owners.

They are attracted to the area by the good schools, the rural beauty and easy accessibility to work, according to Gary Sanders, manager, one of Clarkston's most enthusiastic boosters.

Sanders loves the area so much he brought his wife and five children out to live in the village in 1975, leaving Detroit's most beautiful neighborhood and his job as director of development for the University of Detroit.

He has been showing prospective home buyers through the development in a four wheel drive wagon that can scoot up its steep hills and slide down to the water's edge.

There have been 250 visitors the past two weeks and already 12 of the 16 lake lots in the first phase of the development have been sold.

Sanders reports that Hubert Garner's company, Winchester Real Estate Investments, Ltd. has done almost $2 million of business in less than a month.

Garner, who bought the heavily wooded property in 1972, is rapidly developing the first phase of 45 lots, four of them bordering on Deer Lake, "the cleanest lake in Oakland County and the fourth cleanest in the state."

Eventually there will be 150 homes in the tract. Lots are usually generous, ranging from 1½ to 2½ acres with price tags from $22,000 all the way up to $75,000.

Financed through First Federal Savings of Oakland, developer Garner will also build custom homes if that's the way the lot buyers want it. They are also free to have houses designed by their own architects and built by their own choice of builders.

At the present time, Garner has completed a $115,000 model home on a rise overlooking the village of Clarkston. The four bedroom "country mission" home will be sold complete with landscaping, carpeting and draperies.

Without question, the site is beautiful. The land is densely wooded with large oak, hickory, maple and pine, and there is a large scenic pond near the heart of the property, adjoining some 25 acres of private parkland.

Development has been planned with great care in order to preserve the trees, the ground cover and wild animal life.

Individual lots have been laid out to take advantage of spectacular views and there is a flowing stream.

An artesian well was discovered, to the delight of the developer.

Village residents will be happy to learn that the curving dirt roads winding through the development will be black-topped this week.

That should eliminate most of the dust that drifts down to Holcomb Road and its immediate area, Sanders hopes.

Electric power lines will be entirely underground and all residents will have full lake privileges on both Deer and Dark lakes.

There will be a boat storage area, picnic site and motorized vehicles will be prohibited on land and water.

There will be individual wells and septic tanks because there are no city sewers or water at the site, which rises from the shoreline of Deer Lake to 170 feet at its highest point.

Sanders, manager of the project, believes the new homes will not change the essential character or charm of Clarkston and foresees much that is good as the newcomers settle in.

Majority of his visitors knew all about the school millage vote and were interested in becoming an active part of the community, he said.

Like it or not, Clarkston is part of the building boom in northern Oakland County as more and more prospective homeowners cast a covetous eye at wooded homesites, rolling hills and sparkling lakes.

Everyone seems to want a "country estate" away from the noise and dirt of the urban sprawl, but close to work, shopping centers, sports facilities and parks.

Clarkston fills the bill, Sanders has found.

Coping with kids.

The role (roll) of the ball

by Jim and Ellen Windell

This summer we have been thinking about children's play and the importance of the ball. How many balls does a child own, and a parent buy, during the life of a typical child and teenager?

From early infancy and the hanging balls on crib mobiles to adolescence and yellow tennis balls, expensive footballs, and tri-colored basketballs, parents provide bright, colorful, shiny moving spherical objects called balls for their children.

"Educational toys" are a must, but balls are frequently overlooked in their importance and perhaps bought as an afterthought without much regard for their special educational value.

Rolling balls and floating balloons are a vital factor in the child's development through play as each and every child must try out and master the environment in addition to gaining a great deal of pleasure.

Motor skills, involving the ability to move in a coordinated manner, need opportunity for growth and development, and a ball from the earliest days of babyhood provides this.

The sensorimotor skills, which involve vision, hearing and touch, are being trained as soon as a ball is hung from a mobile in the crib and the baby learns to reach for it and follow it with his eyes or his touch sets it in motion.

Ball is one of the first words children understand and use in speech during the first twelve to fourteen months of age. Also, there are other speech lessons involved in playing with balls.

"Catch it," "Throw the ball," "Where is the ball?" Bouncing, rolling and trying to balance a ball involves the first intellectual lessons in physics and science. The principles of gravity and the concepts of space and time are also frequently first introduced through play with a ball.

Movement in a more grown up and coordinated way may be first achieved as a child crawls after a rolling ball. More importantly, the ball frequently is the connecting link between father and child.

It may be the father who first buys a real ball and tries to teach a child to roll it and catch it. Later, this social relationship is extended outside the family as the child and his peers play catch, bounce balloons, play with beach balls, have a game of jacks or shoot marbles.

The important social skills as these childhood games begin include learning to conform to rules, sharing and cooperation with others, and learning to accept both winning and losing with a certain amount of equanimity.

You might look in vain in most child development textbooks for even a mention of the simple and common ball, but its role in the growth and development of children is quite essential, and perhaps, far more complex than is known at this time.

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

"See how homes winning Detroit Edison EEE Awards are built to save on energy costs from top to bottom."

Detroit Edison is a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation. The wise use of energy is a national goal, but it requires a working relationship between those who supply energy and those who use it. To demonstrate publicly the desire to take a leadership role in this crusade, Detroit Edison has established the Energy Efficiency Excellence (EEE) Award to encourage the building of more energy-efficient homes.

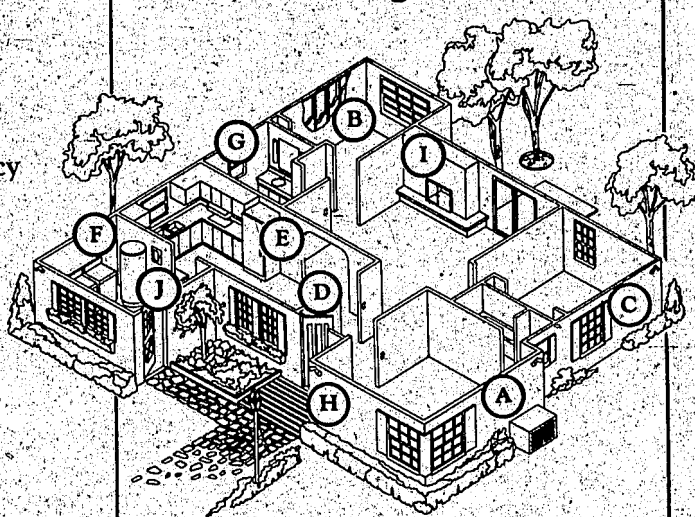

EEE Award homes are designed with conservation in mind.

Detroit Edison presents the Energy Efficiency Excellence (EEE) Award to builders whose homes meet maximum standards in insulation, lighting, wiring, appliances and are comfort-conditioned with an energy-efficient electric heat pump.

From attic to basement, EEE Award homes are designed to keep your heat inside during winter and your utility costs down. These same features also make EEE Award homes easier to cool in summer. The heat pump that keeps EEE Award homes comfortable all year round is an efficient way to heat, cool, filter and dehumidify electrically.

If you're planning on buying or building a new home, take a look at the Detroit Edison EEE Award homes. These homes will help you conserve energy and keep your operating costs at rock bottom.

Detroit Edison EEE Award homes must meet or surpass the following standards:

A. Energy-efficient heat-pump heating and cooling system which conforms to design and installation standards established by the electric utility industry.

B. Maximum insulation including R-17 material in exterior walls, R-44 in attic, and fully insulated basement walls with an R-13 value.

C. Windows with wood sash and insulating glass or single glass with full storm. Or aluminum sash with thermal break and insulating glass or single glass with full storm.

D. Exterior doors with foam core and magnetic seal.

E. Refrigerator and freezer must be energy-efficient if provided by builder.

F. Water heater is energy-saving type, located as close as practical to point of use. Hot water lines wrapped in insulation are recommended.

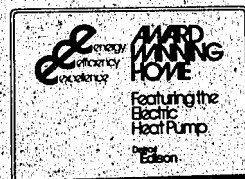

G. Interior lighting that conforms to the Illuminating Engineering Society standards for energy efficiency in residential lighting.

H. Exterior security lighting, if provided, has automatic dusk-to-dawn control.

I. If home has a fireplace, it must have a tight-fitting damper and glass screen, and if practical, an outside fresh-air supply.

J. Materials, equipment, design and construction of all electric devices and wiring must comply with all local and national codes.

If you're interested in finding out more about energy-efficient living, call these builders. They'll be happy to give you more details about the benefits you enjoy in EEE Award homes.

Yes, you can make your present home more energy efficient.

Detroit Edison's Home Insulation Finance Plan is designed to help you bring your present home up to today's energy-saving standards. Ask about it at your Detroit Edison Customer Office. Here are other things you can do to help conserve energy and also save money: Put up storm windows and doors; Check weatherstripping and caulking; Dial down in winter and dial up in summer; Lower furnace fan settings; Keep electric appliances in good repair. That way, we'll all be using energy more wisely.

Pick up a free copy of "Planning a New Home?" at any Detroit Edison Customer Office. Or call Detroit Edison for more information.

Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

Carry Nation festival in Holly

High point of the Carry Nation Festival in Holly will be the crowning of a new queen on Saturday, September 10. The festival is one of only seven sanctioned by the State Festival Committee.

Thirty community leaders who make up the festival committee have announced ambitious plans for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, including a high school band competition, a basketball contest, a barbecue, an historical pageant and a gospel sing.

Aware of the growing fame of the festival, co-chairmen Ellen Hilty and Bobbie Benscoter began work on the project back in January. As a result the entire community is involved in the Carry Nation Festival and the schedule is crowded with events.

The Holly Police Department will greet visitors in 19th Century uniforms; downtown streets will be roped off and extra parking will be provided.

A secret celebrity will demonstrate and shoot baskets against local challengers in the free-throw game with three 10-speed bikes as prizes. Ten bands will compete for a traveling trophy during the Sunday parade.

Ellen Stallcup, Miss Carry Nation of 1976, will crown her successor and also a Little Miss Carry Nation at an 11:30 a.m. ceremony.

Roles are being cast for "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" and Barber Shop Quartets and Sweet Adelines will provide musical entertainment.

Band Boosters, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, Jaycees and Jaycettes, Holly Fire Department, senior citizens and 10 community churches are actively participating and the Holly Area Board of Commerce will man an information booth for the three-day event.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rembach of Shelley Drive have announced the engagement of their daughter, Connie, to Robert Dean Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lewis of Houston, Tex. A December 3 wedding is planned.

Bowden-Palace wed

Garnet M. Palace and Kirt R. Bowden exchanged vows in a recent wedding ceremony at All Saints Episcopal Church, Pontiac, with Rev. Alex T. Stewart of Clarkston officiating.

Garnet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Palace of Holly, is currently employed at WXON-TV. Her husband, son of H. Lloyd Bowden, Jr. of Clarkston, is employed at Oakland County Children's Village.

The bride wore a high collared white nylon gown with an empire waist and trimmed with lace and pearls. Her fingertip length veil was trimmed in pearls and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of blue daisies, white carnations and purple bachelor buttons.

Maid of honor was Barbara Palace, sister of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Dianne Hartley, Nancy Loftus; Jill Bowden, sister of the bridegroom, and Mary Jo Brazier. The attendants wore identical gowns of white eyelet trimmed with baby blue satin ribbons. The bridesmaids wore white sun hats and the maid of honor a blue sun hat.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo with a blue carnation boutonniere. Best man Steve Snover and ushers Randy Allen, Tom Smith, Steve Bowden, brother of the bridegroom and Kim Best wore blue tuxedos with white carnations.

A reception for the 350 guests followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Maybee Road in Clarkston.

The newlyweds honeymooned in the Rocky Mountains and are living in Oxford.

Chamber opens consumer bureau

A consumer complaint bureau to handle problems arising between purchasers and business establishments in the North Oakland area has been reactivated by the North Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

David Erwin, a recent graduate of Oakland University and former assistant to the chairman of the sentencing panel for Oakland County Probation Department, has been named program coordinator.

He explains that the chamber will attempt to act as intermediary on any complaints, opening lines of communication and attempting to get a fair settlement. Should three complaints be received, the matter will be brought to the attention of the chamber's Business Ethics Board and should further action, such as taking the matter to small claims court, be required, the chamber will furnish assistance.

A new registration program for solicitors is also to be reactivated, Erwin said. Those solicitors who have the approval of their local units of government will be added to a master list kept by the chamber.

The Silent Observer program, an anonymous method for preventing crime and delinquency, is also being pushed, Erwin noted. Confidentiality of information will be maintained, he said.

WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT

Rainfall for our 4-township and surrounding area during the past week ranged from only 0.16 of an inch at Clarkston/Gulick Lake to 0.58 of an inch at Pontiac/Elizabeth Lake. The northern Clarkston station recorded 0.32 of an inch for the week. Based on a combination of data from the northern Clarkston and Clarkston/Gulick Lake stations, the highest temperatures recorded during the week was 90° on the 27th; the lowest temperature was 46° on the morning of the 25th. Our high of 90° on the 27th was the first time since July 20 that the temperature reached the 90-degree mark; on the other hand, our high of 66 degrees on the 21st was the coldest high temperature in our area since June 11. For those people interested in joining our area rain gage network, information may be obtained by calling Bob Davis at 625-8169 after 6 p.m. on weekdays. (This report was prepared by Robert C. Davis and Susan E. Rosin of Johnson & Anderson, Inc.)

Next week's school menu

MONDAY—Labor Day. No school.
TUESDAY—Sloppy Joe on bun, peas, fruit cobbler and milk.
WEDNESDAY—Meat balls and tomato sauce, mashed potatoes, pineapple and cabbage salad, bread, butter, cake and milk.
THURSDAY—Hot dog in blanket, baked beans, applesauce and milk.
FRIDAY—Pizzaburger, green beans, vegetable salad, fruit and milk.

REGISTRATION

Registration will take place on September 13, 14 and 15 from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. at LAKE ORION JUNIOR HIGH EAST CAFETERIUM and also first night of class.

ELIGIBILITY

Any adult (18 or older) will be eligible to participate. Exception to the age limit will be made for senior day school students with the recommendations of their principal and the Director of the Adult Education program. Age limitation does not apply to those wishing to take courses for non-credit.

TUITION AND COURSE FEES

No tuition will be charged those working toward a diploma who are not in a day school and those under 20 years of age on September 1, 1977 with a diploma. Any student currently enrolled in a full time high school program and graduates over 20 years of age will be charged $18.00 per course.

Book, Supply and lab fees will be charged where necessary. Tuition and course fees must be paid in full at registration. A portion of the tuition fee ($5.00) for each class is considered a registration expense and will be deducted from the refund in case of withdrawal. There will be no refunds after the second class session.

GRADUATION CREDIT

Credit toward graduation may be given for work experience, military experience, previous high school credit, correspondence, trade or business school credit and for equivalency testing.

SEMCOG water hearing Thursday

Local officials and private citizens will have a chance to air their views on SEMCOG's proposed water quality control board on Thursday, September 1. A public hearing is scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m. at the member units in Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne counties. It is the state and federally designated planning council for land use and the environment, transportation, housing and criminal justice.

VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON AMENDMENT TO ORDINANCE NO. 80

An ordinance to adopt by reference amendments to the Uniform Traffic Code for Michigan cities, townships and villages, and to make changes in and additions to said amendments to the Uniform Traffic Code for Michigan's cities, townships and villages.

VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON ORDAINS: SECTION 5.15, DRIVING UNDER INFLUENCE OF INTOXICATING LIQUOR OR NARCOTIC DRUGS.

Section 5.15a (1) (b) is amended to read as follows:

"If there was at the time in excess of 0.07 percent but less than 0.10 percent by weight of alcohol in the Defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant's ability to operate a motor vehicle was impaired within the provisions of Section 5.15b of this Code due to the consumption of intoxicating liquor."

Section 5.15a(6) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code, a person requested to take this test shall be advised that he has the option to demand that only a breath test shall be given, in which case, his refusal to submit to any other test shall not constitute a refusal for the purposes of Section 5.15c and 5.15d of this Code."

This Amendment shall be in effect thirty (30) days after publication.

BY ORDER OF THE VILLAGE COUNCIL OF THE VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON.

Made and passed by the Village Council of the Village of Clarkston this 22nd day of August, 1977.

Bruce E. Rogers, Clerk
Village of Clarkston

The Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) has proposed a 27-member area wide board to monitor waste water treatment facilities and pollution control in the seven county area it represents.

Officials said final recommendations could be influenced considerably by reaction to their plan at nine public hearings to be held throughout the region this week.

Under the proposal, 14 appointments would be made through SEMCOG with the remaining 13 split among business, education and environmental groups, including two appointments by the governor. Members would serve three-year terms.

Also under consideration will be two alternatives to the initial plan. One would turn monitoring over to the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

The other would have the monitoring performed by the existing SEMCOG structure, a voluntary association of governmental units controlled by local elected officials.

These would be the same delegates who will vote on the final recommendation at a general assembly meeting October 20.

SEMCOG's work is being carried out under a $5 million grant awarded in 1975 by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) under Section 208 of the federal Water Pollution Control Act.

Section 208 planning is mandatory across the United States as part of a national goal to achieve "swimmable and fishable" waters by 1983 and to eliminate pollutant discharges into the nation's water where attainable by 1985.

In addition to SEMCOG, Governor William Milliken has designated 13 other agencies throughout the state to deal with water quality.

Growing things

Growing peanuts can be fun

by Lyle Abel

To satisfy one's curiosity most every home gardener has likely grown a few plants that are not commonly found in North Oakland gardens.

With all the publicity peanuts have been having since we elected a peanut farmer as president, I'm certain several local folks have been finding these interesting relatives of the pea family to be a novelty item of conversation.

At least that was our experience when we grew some a few years ago.

To grow peanuts, get some of the raw "nuts" that are quite readily available. Plant these at about the same time you would plant beans and care for them much as you do the beans.

Give them plenty of space, rows 30 inches apart. The attractive green plants have a trailing habit of growth getting but a few inches high in Michigan gardens.

Their most interesting features are the two kinds of blossoms. The staminate or male blooms are an attractive bright yellow color and quite decorative.

The inconspicuous female or pistillate flowers, after fertilization, bury themselves in the soil where they complete their growth to become peanuts.

Actually, these are not nuts botanically but are pods containing seeds similar to peas and beans.

Raw they are quite tasteless and need to be roasted to bring out the flavor with which we are familiar. They grow best in fertile, sandy soil.

Allow them to grow until the frost blackens the tops, then dig them up, permit them to dry, then pick off the pods to store or roast for eating.

Non-gardeners who claim, "I can buy it as cheap as I can grow it," must never have tasted fresh, vine-ripened tomatoes.

The flavor and appealingly beautiful color of a fully and naturally ripened tomato make all the work and care it takes to grow these fruits very much worthwhile.

This is so very true when compared to the imported, artificially ripened and flavorless fruit we so often encounter.

Last Thursday I traveled with the Independence Township Senior Citizens on a tour of the Detroit Eastern Market.

We arrived at the market shortly before seven o'clock and side-stepped our way between tons of watermelon, semi-loads of peaches and acres of all kinds of tempting fruits, vegetables and flowers.

Trade was brisk and our group, even though our purchases were few, thoroughly enjoyed the hustle and bustle of the market.

If you have ever been on a trip with senior citizens you realize that the male senior can almost be classed as an endangered species! In our group the women made up 82 percent of the total.

Makes a fellow feel quite inadequate! To add to that feeling of being non-essential was the capable and very efficient way our tour guide and director, Darlene Bringard, maneuvered our van through the early morning Detroit traffic.

And what seemed to be the biggest thrill for the ladies? Not the fresh produce market but the items for sale in some of the fascinating import and specialty stores and shops that are in the market area and where you can purchase all kinds of exotic goodies not available in most of our local markets.

Senior citizens will find these trips that are arranged by the Parks and Recreation staff to be extremely interesting and very well arranged. You do meet some mighty nice folks!

It is a sure sign that fall is not far away when our local wild Canadian geese start congregating in large flocks that fly from one lake to another in preparation for their trip south for the winter.

On our lake we have counted to a hundred birds at one time. These groups are made up of the same goose families that fought each other for exclusive territory in the spring months of the year.

We spent one winter in the Rio Grande Valley area of Texas where the geese gather by the many thousands during the winter months.

It was quite uncanny to look out over a large area of land and see acres of goose heads peering at you!

Dividend paid

The board of directors of Community National Bank has declared a 35-cents-per-share regular quarterly dividend. This dividend will be payable October 1, 1977 to shareholders of record September 20, 1977.

"NOTICE"

Clarkston Village Players gathered at the home of Pete and Janet Rose last weekend to fete patrons and angels who support the little theater group.

Young readers

The Great Wintini, Bill Winters from Northville, entertained about 40 youngsters at the Independence Township Library, Wednesday, Aug. 24. After the magic show Sushil Lahari, librarian and Chris Rose, township clerk, presented certificates to the children who had participated in the library's summer reading program.

He's proud owner of Herbie

Brad McConnell is going to be the most popular kid in his neighborhood on Crosby Lake Road.

He won "Baby Herbie," a miniature Volkswagen fashioned after the children's hero "Herbie," the strong willed star of such films as "The Love Bug," "Herbie Rides Again," and "Herbie Goes to Monte Carlo."

The eight-year-old Andersonville Elementary school student was among 35,000 who entered the drawing, according to theater owner Arnold Simmons.

"That's what I'm going to win," Brad told his father, John, as he filled out the entry card two weeks ago.

"But when he was notified that he had won the drawing Aug. 24, he was shocked," said Brad's mother, Gwen.

Winning the car was a timely event. Brad's minibike broke down a couple weeks ago and he told his father he was all done trying to fix it.

"He's been warned he is not to touch this engine," Brad's father said.

The miniature VW, complete with racing stripes and Herbie's number 53, was made to order with a three horsepower engine that powers it at speed up to 14 miles an hour. It is valued at $578.

Twenty-six other prizes were given away in the drawing held in conjunction with the 35th anniversary celebration of the Huron Theater.

Other Clarkstonites winning prizes included Kevin Biernat, a set of Betty Crocker cookbooks; Guy McCallum, an ice bucket; Kimberly Marshall, a desk lighter and LeLane McCarty, a season pass to the Huron for the whole family for a year.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING September 20, 1977

Notice is hereby given that the following Public Hearing will be held by the Springfield Township Planning Commission on Tuesday, September 20, 1977 beginning at 8:00 P.M. at the Springfield Township Hall, 650 Broadway Street, Davisburg, Michigan for comments related to the following:

1. Request by Bruce A. Bordine, 1835 S. Rochester Road, Rochester, MI 48063 to rezone the following described property:

a. Lots 3, 4, 5, and 6 Springfield Estates, a subdivision of part of the North 1/2 of Section 24, Town 4 North, Range 8 East, Springfield Township, Oakland County, Michigan, from Residential to C-2

2. Amend Schedule of Regulations, Article 23.00 by adding a new footnote "i" as follows:

In the R-3 and R-4 Single Family Zoning Districts where individual lots and/or parcels are classified as non-conforming as to the minimum lot area and/or minimum lot frontage, the side, front, and rear yard setbacks may be reduced by the same percentage ratio as is determined by dividing the actual frontage of the lot or parcel by the required frontage for the district provided however that the minimum side yard set back on one side shall be at least ten (10) feet in width.

Notice is further given that the tentative text and any maps of the Zoning Ordinance to be amended may be examined at the Springfield Township Clerks' Office, 650 Broadway Street, Davisburg, Michigan during regular office hours each day Monday through Friday until the date of the Public Hearing.

VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON MINUTES OF REGULAR MEETING August 22, 1977 Village Hall, 375 Depot, Clarkston

Meeting called to order by President Hallman at 7:30 p.m.

New Trustee Jack Byers was sworn into office by the clerk.

Roll: Present, ApMadoc, Basinger, Byers, Sage, Schultz, Weber. Absent, none.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. President Hallman appointed Trustee Byers to the Sewer and Finance Committee.

Moved by ApMadoc, seconded by Schultz to adopt the following Resolution: Be it resolved by the Village of Clarkston that we enter into an agreement with Independence Township to extend the existing village sidewalk on the west side of M-15 through the village to the township limits. This work to be performed by the township, the cost of the project being provided for through township Community Development Funds. Motion carried unanimously.

Trustees Basinger, ApMadoc, and Sage will set up a meeting with the township to discuss the upcoming Deer Lake Beach lease.

Trustee Weber reported that citizens concerned about the noise problem at a residence on N. Holcomb will have to sign a complaint with the police dept.

Jack McCall introduced Beth Hock, our new Community Service Officer.

President Hallman opened the Public Hearing on the request of Marc Alan, Inc. to rezone Lot No. 115, Assessor's Plat of Clarkston, commonly known as the Hawke's Cove development, from M-1 Light Industrial to B-1 Local Business. Minutes from the Planning Commission meeting of August 16, 1977 were read, stating their recommendation to the council that the rezoning request be granted, by a four to two vote. Correspondence was read from Village Needlecrafts, Tierra Arts & Design, Village Business Association of Clarkston, Clarkston's Little Chef, Bunyan Forestry, Pontiac State Bank, James C. Scott & Associates, and the June 23rd, 1977 editorial of the Clarkston News, all stating their support of the proposed Hawke's Cove development.

Karen Sanderson of S. Holcomb asked about the impact that the proposed development will have on traffic.

Stan Cool, traffic engineer for the developer, replied that that would depend on whether Depot remains one way or is changed to a two way street.

Police Services Director Jack McCall stated that making Depot two way up to M-15 would not be desirable, and that the intersection at Depot and Holcomb should be improved.

Jennifer Radcliffe of N. Main stated that she is concerned about the traffic situation, the developer's financial responsibility on the traffic they generate, and wanted to know why the developer objected to a proposed by-pass road going through the development.

Nick Romano of Clarkston-Orion Rd. stated that the traffic from Hawke's Cove could clog village streets, making some stop lights necessary.

Marc Alan stated that he wants to keep the total integrity of the project, and he doesn't want this destroyed by a by-pass road going through it.

Nick Romano would like a study done of the total traffic situation. Mrs. Schultz of Robertson Ct. stated that the Deer Lake development north of town will be generating a lot of traffic in the village. Art Pappas of W. Washington said that the by-pass road could provide a good barrier between the residential and commercial area. Dave DeLong of Buffalo wanted to know if the by-pass was constructed, if Holcomb could be controlled by the village in order to limit the truck traffic.

Mrs. Hagen of N. Holcomb said that a by-pass would create traffic problems for Holcomb.

Mrs. Mosher of Overlook asked for the results of traffic studies on M-15, but they haven't been received yet.

Karen Sanderson wanted to know who will be paying for any proposed road improvements because of the development.

Frank Walker, manager of Hawke's Cove, stated that they would not participate in the proposed by-pass, since they are against its idea.

Ted Thomson of N. Main said that the village can't bear the high expense of constructing this by-pass, estimated to cost between $100,000 and $150,000.

Sue Basinger of E. Washington stated that the village should obtain the option of having a by-pass right of way, in case it could be constructed in the future.

Nick Romano said that the council should do a study on what the developer should pay for road improvements necessitated by the Hawke's Cove project.

Mrs. Hagen stated that improvements should be made on Depot Rd. Bill Kester of S. Holcomb stated that he favors the rezoning, but that the council should solve any traffic problems that it brings.

Carl Hansen of N. Holcomb stated that any further developments could turn the village into a commercial area.

Dick Degener of N. Main agreed with Sue Basinger that the village should obtain a right of way option in case a by-pass road was desired in the future.

Marc Alan's attorney, John Gelder, stated that Mr. Alan was not willing to have a by-pass road through the development.

Rocky Bullard of W. Washington stated that the council should seriously consider the traffic problems that would arise from Hawke's Cove.

Laurie Stern of E. Church felt that traffic problems wouldn't be bad on Depot, since there are no residences there.

Jack McCall asked how much the developer would contribute financially to road improvements around Hawke's Cove.

Marc Alan said that he would pay his fair share for road improvements, arising because of Hawke's Cove.

Eric Haven of Buffalo asked if he could contribute 50% towards these improvements, but Mr. Alan's attorney stated that more studies would have to be done before any actual numbers could be put on it.

Eric Haven asked who will determine what the cost participation is between the village and the developer, and President Hallman responded that this would have to be determined by a professional.

Ron Schebor of N. Holcomb said that rezoning the property to commercial is better than leaving it in its present manufacturing zoning classification.

Bob Adams of Buffalo said that the council should table the request until the portions of costs on road improvements are determined.

Nick Romano said that road improvements for Hawke's Cove shouldn't be paid for by village tax dollars.

Bob Basinger of E. Washington said that more traffic studies should be done, since the character of the village could be altered.

Laurie Stern said that Depot Rd. should be improved anyway.

Howard Huttenlocher of Middle Lake Rd. suggested that a citizens committee be appointed to work with the developer on proposed road improvements.

Les Hyde of Waldon asked about the possibility of more stop lights on M-15 and getting road improvement costs before the rezoning is granted.

Dick Degener asked about the water levels on the Mill Pond and surrounding lakes and streams.

John Gelder stated that the developer had agreed to enter into an agreement with the village to maintain the water level of the Mill Pond, and that this was part of the motion of recommendation of rezoning made by the planning commission to the council.

Virginia Walter of W. Washington felt that a water level could be established and then maintained at a slightly lower level, to compensate for emergency conditions.

Mrs. Cushman of N. Holcomb agreed with this, but said that this wouldn't help homes along the spillway where the Mill Pond empties into Parke Lake.

Carl Hansen asked what benefits the village would derive from Hawke's Cove, and Mr. Gelder replied that it would provide extra taxes, parking, and employment.

The Public Hearing was then declared adjourned by President Hallman.

The council discussed the traffic and road improvement situation that would be generated by Hawke's Cove. Trustee Basinger said that the developer should be committed to some costs on road improvements before rezoning is granted. Trustee Sage said that developments outside of the village will be affecting traffic, as well as Hawke's Cove. Trustee ApMadoc felt that road improvement commitments should be made by the developer before rezoning.

Moved by Basinger, seconded by Schultz to table the request to rezone Lot No. 115 for further study on the developer's commitment on road improvements and water level control. The council discussed whether to tie road improvements to the rezoning or to attach these to the site plan approval which the developer must present to the planning commission and the council in the future. Roll: Ayes, Basinger, Schultz, Nays, ApMadoc, Byers, Sage, Weber. Motion defeated.

NOTICE

At the Regular Meeting of The Clarkston Village Council held on August 22, 1977, the council passed a motion to rezone Lot No. 115 of Assessor's Plat of Clarkston, known as the Hawke's Cove property, from M-1 to B-1. Therefore, the Zoning Map as attached to Ordinance No. 72, The Village of Clarkston Zoning Ordinance, is hereby amended to reflect this zoning change.

Bruce Rogers
Village Clerk

Moved by Weber, seconded by Sage to approve the request to rezone Lot No. 115 of Assessor's Plat of Clarkston from M-1 to B-1. The council discussed whether or not to act on the rezoning before we act on the proposed change in the title and intent of the present B-1 Local Business District in the Zoning Ordinance, as recommended by the planning commission. Also discussed was the possibility of requiring the developer to pay for off-site improvements. Roll: Ayes, ApMadoc, Byers, Sage, Weber. Nays, Basinger, Schultz. Motion carried.

President Hallman presented a plaque to Neil Granlund, stating the council's appreciation for his services as Village Trustee for the past four years.

Moved by Basinger, seconded by ApMadoc to grant Final Plat Approval for Deer Lake Farms No. 1. Motion carried unanimously.

Bids were opened for the old village hall at 25 S. Main. The four bids were: $48,000, $43,020, $42,201, and $22,500. The council instructed the village attorney to study these bids, and they will be discussed at the next meeting.

Moved by Sage, seconded by Schultz to adopt the Amendment to Ordinance No. 80, the Uniform Traffic Code, as recommended by the village attorney. Motion carried unanimously.

Moved by Byers, seconded by ApMadoc to hold a Public Hearing on Sept. 26, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. at the Village Hall, 375 Depot, Clarkston, for the purpose of discussing possible amendments to Ordinance No. 72, the Zoning Ordinance. These amendments would be to change Article VIII - B-1 Local Business District, Title and Section 8.00 Intent, and Section 10.02 - Off-Street Parking Space Layout. Motion carried unanimously.

The council discussed undertaking cost studies on road improvements for the Hawke's Cove project. Trustee Sage will set up a meeting with the county road commission to get this started.

Moved by Weber, seconded by Sage to adjourn at 11:35 p.m. Motion carried unanimously.

Simplified but it's still complicated

Older Americans may now want to amend their 1976 income tax returns to claim the retirement income credit that has now been extended through 1976, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977 gives some taxpayers the option of reducing their tax liability for 1976 by choosing either the new tax credit for the elderly or the former retirement income credit. Previously, under the Tax Reform Act of 1976, the retirement income credit could not be used on 1976 tax returns since it was replaced by the tax credit for the elderly.

The IRS also advises taxpayers who claimed the tax credit for the elderly on their 1976 returns to consider recomputing their taxes to determine whether they could get a larger credit under former retirement income credit provisions.

In general, taxpayers over age 65 with larger incomes which substantially limit or completely eliminate eligibility for the tax credit for the elderly, will benefit by electing the retirement income credit. Also, married individuals who filed separate returns and lived with their spouses at any time during the year are not permitted to claim the tax credit for the elderly. Taxpayers in this situation may, however, be eligible for the retirement income credit.

Amended returns — Form 1040X—and new retirement income credit computation forms — 1976 Schedule RIC (Form 1040)—are available at local IRS offices.

Guts frisbee in Waterford

The Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission, in cooperation with Strohs Brewery, will present the Third Annual Guts Frisbee Tournament, September 3, beginning at 10 a.m. at Waterford-Oaks Activities Center, 2800 Watkins Lake Road, Pontiac.

Frisbee teams from the United States and Canada, including last year's tournament champs, the Air Aces of Rochester, Michigan, will compete for tournament trophies in both men's and women's competition. Teams spaced 15 yards apart attempt to score points by forcing misses. Frisbees fly at speeds reaching 90 miles an hour in tournament play.

Pass the zucchini

by Hilda Bruce
of The Clarkston News

A common plea these days around the family dinner table is, "Take some zucchini!"

Already most cooks have run out of different ways to fix the delicate and prolific squash, when only a month ago their mouths were watering for it.

This week we gleaned a few recipes from Clarkston housewives, ones we hope you might want to try.

The only way Brenda Callison will eat zucchini is raw. There is the advantage of few calories. But Brenda remedies that by dipping her thin slices in Dill Dip.

Dill Dip

1 Tbl plus 1 tsp. dried dill weed
1 Tbl plus 1 tsp parsley flakes
1 Tbl plus 1 tsp dried onion
1 1/2 tsp beau monde
1 cup miracle whip
1 cup sour cream

Mix well and chill overnight.

Beginning with Brenda's hors d'oeuvres, one could conceivably plan a whole meal using zucchini in each course.

Most main dishes using the squash are casseroles. Dick Moscovic likes the one his wife Toni makes.

Baked Squash Casserole

2 pounds zucchini or summer squash
3 Tbl chopped onion
3 eggs well beaten
1/2 cup melted oleo
Dash tabasco sauce
2 tsp parsley flakes
2 cups cracker crumbs
Salt and pepper to taste
Slice squash in 1/2 inch slices.
Boil three minutes or until tender.

Drain squash.

Add onion, eggs and seasoning to squash and mix well.

Pour into one quart buttered casserole.

Mix butter and crumbs, sprinkle on top.

Bake at 350° for 35 or 40 minutes until browned.

Makes 6 servings.

Then for those with a sweet tooth is Kay Potvin's

Zucchini Bread

Combine all ingredients:

1 cup oil
3 eggs
2 cups raw, shredded squash
2 cups sugar
1 tsp vanilla
3 cups flour

1 tsp salt
1 tsp soda
1/4 tsp cinnamon

If desired, walnuts, dates or raisins can be added. Grease and flour pans. Bake in two bread pans for one hour at 325 minutes.

Kay suggests making three smaller loaves as they bake through better.

Toni frosts her bread with powdered sugar icing and calls it cake.

It's also a good idea to shred squash and freeze in correct amounts to use in bread later.

Karen's a designing woman

Completed Rockwall pattern—Karen took the image from a photograph of a rock wall in Mendocino, California.

Karen MacDougall of Hillside Dr. learned to sew from her mother, Mary Alice, then she obtained a degree in ceramics from the Society of Arts and Crafts, now the Center of Creative Studies. She found it too expensive to set up a ceramics studio, so she opted for silk screening fabric and making it into garments.

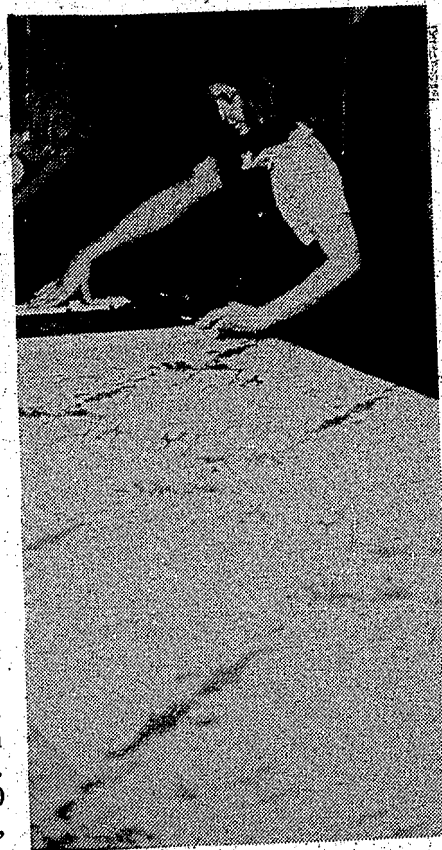

She made her own work tables complete with storage space for fabrics and screens, designed an adhesive surface to hold the fabric secure while printing, and designed an angle iron rack to hold the square used in the printing process.

"It was quite a challenge," Karen said with satisfaction.

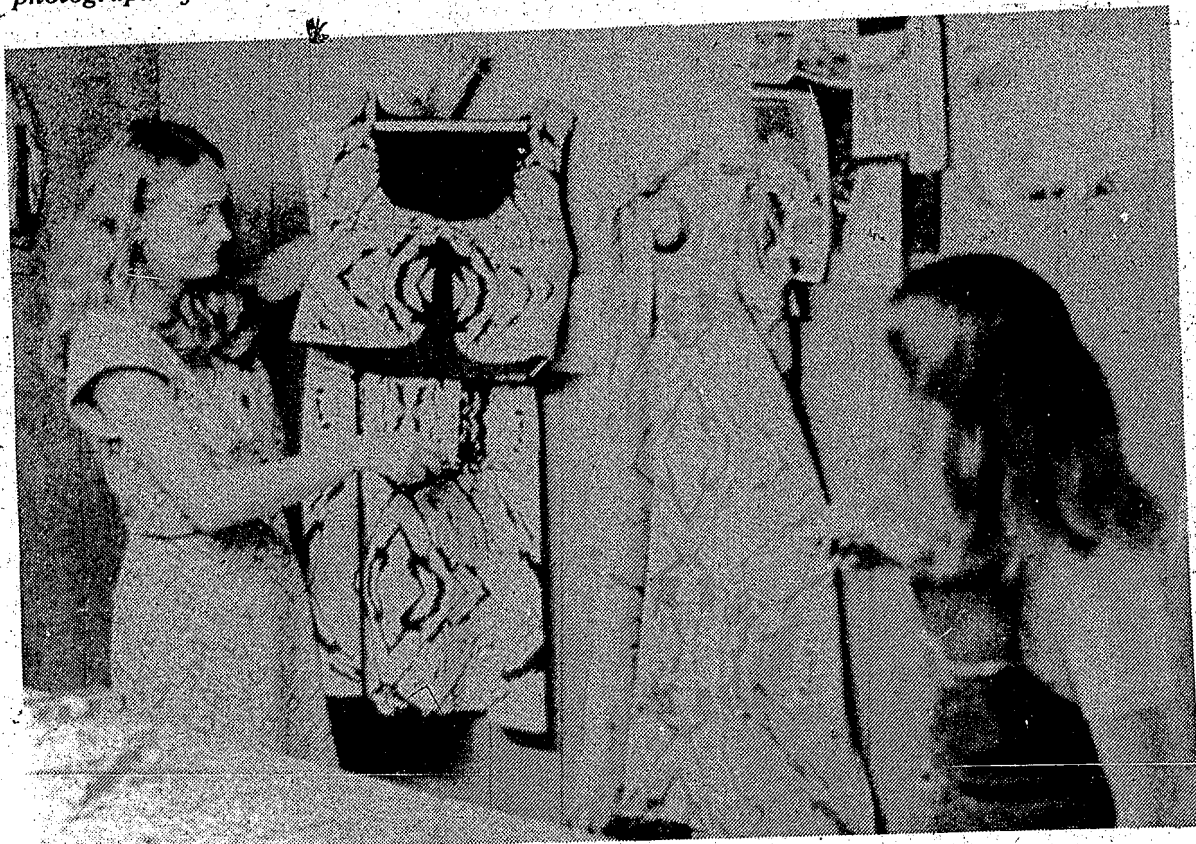

Karen has designed her own fabric patterns including "Rockwall," "Beets," "Fish," "Zebra," "Butterflies," "Feathers," and "Lines Askew." Now a partner in the venture, Sudee Taormina of Livonia is designing too. Karen is looking for a retail outlet for her hand printed fabric.

Some of Karen's garment patterns are originals and others are commercial. Many of her designs are on display at the Essence of It.

Garments retail from $50 to $200 depending on fabric, difficulty of construction and such.

Overall pattern develops

Sharron and Karen display garments made from fabric of the same pattern as that just printed. Karen's two-piece dress is the feather pattern.

Sharron lines the screen up with a registration square so pattern is even.

Jim's Jottings

Home from vacation

by Jim Sherman

Miss me?

I just parlayed a 10 day vacation into two weeks off for this column. As far as fishing and golf are concerned I should have stayed at work.

As for rest and relaxation, that's another story. Gol-lee, as Gomer Pyle says in the reruns, it's great sleeping in pine country with a cool breeze blowing back the curtains and the sound of splashing water coming in.

What age is it when a person starts appreciating a good sleep? Certainly, it's after 23. All three of our kids are less than that and they don't care if they ever go to bed.

Maybe we can get big Daddy in D.C. to fund a study to determine exactly when sleep becomes most welcome. The findings would be about as enlightening as the project to determining the sex life of the clam.

But, I digress. Of the 10 days near Engadine partner Don Davidson of Oxford and I fished six days. One day Don caught 4, another day 2, then 3 and 2.

I was allowed one keeper, giving us a total of a dozen pan fish for the six people involved. We had them last night. In man hours spent, and not including the cost of equipment, a pound of fish cost us $57.60.

That's figuring our time at minimum wage since the results indicate we haven't the experience to demand more than $2.30 an hour.

The six of us, 4 adults and 2 kids, went to the Porcupine Mountains outside Ontonogan. It rained practically all the time... as it did the other 8 days.

Lake of the Clouds must be absolutely beautiful with the sun shining. It's fairly spectacular in the rain. During a drizzle the dads and daughters took a marked tour in the Mountains.

With a free brochure we followed the trail of a mining attempt in 1845. This was the Union Mine Trail. It's another of the many mine failures in the area.

Following the trail was fun, though slippery. There were 17 marked stops, only 5 of which involved the mine. The others concerned blueberries, trees and stream.

At Greenland, east of Ontonogan, we visited friends and former Oxford business people, Jack and Margaret Neph.

They own the Adventure Mine. We'll write more on the mine later, but if you're anywhere near the area stop by. The Neph's are doing fine with their tourist attraction and they couldn't be happier.

From the heating business to the tourism, the Neph's made the change. They've done successfully what some of us fear trying... fulfilling a dream.
