Hotel hits zoning snag

By Kathy Greenfield

Pine Knob's quest for a 22-story, ski-run-roof hotel has hit another zoning snag.

Controversies over whether recreational districts should include hotel-resort-convention facilities on 10 acres or more (use) and whether such facilities can be built up to 200 feet high (height) are on the Oct. 16 ballot with the use of a binding referendum and the height of an advisory referendum.

Now, zoning that appears on the map for the proposed Pine Knob hotel site is in dispute.

The Pine Knob map on file with Independence Township and Oakland County shows the proposed hotel site zoned for multiple family dwellings.

If the map is correct, rezoning would be required, putting Pine Knob back at the starting line and requiring a planning commission hearing as well as approval by the township board before the hotel could be considered.

Pine Knob contends that an error was made in drawing the map and the question can be settled by the zoning board of appeals.

The township planning commission voted 8-0 to place the decision with the appeals board, after a discussion that lasted over two hours at its meeting attended by about 100 people last week.

The zoning board of appeals is scheduled to hear the arguments at its Wednesday, Oct. 10, special meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main, Clarkston.

Township attorney Richard Campbell and Pine Knob attorney Anthony Locricchio disagreed on several details surrounding the latest zoning question at the planning commission meetings.

Locricchio said Pine Knob was established as a planned unit development (PUD) to allow the development of the large recreational area that spans nearly one square mile.

In PUDs, the planned facilities are a general outline and there has to be flexibility, he said.

Pine Knob's development was planned when no township laws governed PUDs, Campbell said, and PUDs were not part of township planning laws until March of this year.

"The zoning that was done in 1972 was, in fact, a zoning for a number of uses," he said. "That was the intent and that was what was done."

The zoning map in question was drawn by the township planning department from legal descriptions provided by Pine Knob, Campbell said.

Brochures provided by Pine Knob in 1972 do not agree with the map, Locricchio said, but there is no brochure in the township files.

When the township planning consultant Tod Kilroy discovered the zoning problem on Monday, the township called Pine Knob and asked for any information that could show the map incorrect, Campbell said.

No response was received from Pine Knob, he said.

"We fully expected the brochure to be in your files," Locricchio said. "We have the right to."

A search for the brochure is underway at Pine Knob, he added, but because of several moves between offices, it could not be located right away.

"We have about $10 million worth of projects that, according to this map, are built in the wrong area, that you have approved," Locricchio said listing the music theater, golf course and tennis club.

"We have been functioning as though this was a PUD and you've been treating it that way," he said.

"You can't (change) when a controversial thing like the hotel comes along," he said. "What has to be taken into account here is what the history of the site has been."

Campbell called the placing of such facilities in land zoned for multiple family dwellings "unfortunate."

"There is an old axiom--two wrongs don't make a right," he said. "There is no sense in repeating an error that we have made in the past."

"Under normal circumstances, no plan would be considered without proper zon-

Writers can join Smokeout

The Clarkston News, the Clarkston High School Students Against Smoking organization and the American Cancer Society are sponsoring an essay contest for youths on the topic of "What I Think about smoking".

In recognition of this being the International Year of the Child, entrants are limited to youngsters aged 12-14. Essays should be limited to between 100 and 125 words and postmarked no later than Oct. 31.

Entries should be sent to Clarkston High School, c/o the Students Against Smoking. The Clarkston News will publish the three winners in November; in addition, the first place essay will earn for its author prizes including a $10 gift certificate from the Coach's Corner athletic supply store on Main St.

"The essay contest is part of this year's Great American Smokeout activities," said Jim Blumenschein, a member of the Students Against Smoking group. "Through the contest and our work in the school district, we hope to make more kids aware of the harmful effects of smoking."

This is the second year of existence for the Clarkston High School SAS, which includes about 20 volunteers from the student body under the sponsorship of school principal Dominic Mauti.

Working with younger pupils much of the time, the group has shown films and made presentations to elementary and junior high school students in the past.

"We all feel that smoking is a bad habit that's bad for your health," Blumenschein said. "Our aim is to educate people of that fact and hopefully prevent them from ever starting."

News news tops

Readers of The Clarkston News are getting the best in local news coverage.

That's been confirmed by the Michigan Press Association, which has been awarded the newspaper top honor for local news coverage in its circulation category in the association's 1979 newspaper contest.

The Clarkston News also received a second-place award for its new car special section Behind the Wheel published last October.

A third-place award was earned by The Clarkston News in the best single advertisement category of the contest.

Announcement of the winners was made in conjunction with National Newspaper Week Oct. 7-13, a time concentrated effort is made to stress the community service role of a newspaper and the relationship between personal freedom and a free press.

ing," he added.

The possibility that the map was drawn incorrectly was supported by commission members.

Maps used by the township have been wrong before, said commission member Rudy Lozano, referring to the wetlands map.

"I believe the petitioner (Pine Knob) is right," he said.

"There is a long history of development that disagrees with (the Pine Knob) map," said commission member James Brennan. "It's doing harm to the developer to say, 'Now we must go back and correct the map.' I say, refer it to the (appeals board) and let them approve the boundary."

Lozano made the motion to submit the boundary dispute to the zoning board of appeals for its "determination, correction and action" and commission members voted unanimously in support of the motion.

Citizens speak pro and con

"I don't think we can stop progress. We're not living in a vacuum or a shell. From what I hear about it, I think [the hotel] is going to be an asset to our community," said Ed Petroff, Deerwood Road.

"This [commission] still sits here and is at no point more negative than it was in March. Three thousand people can't be wrong," said Richard Schmaltz of Stowe Trail, referring to the petition signatures gathered by the Citizens Against High Rises in Independence Township.

"I would ask that you make a very strong recommendation that this hotel is not harmonious with our community," said Dr. James O'Neill of Holcomb Road.

"I don't know why people think when they flush the toilet in the hotel, they're going to lose their water here. Why is it you worry about the loss of the water?" asked Iva Sommers Caverly of Waldon Road, referring to questions about the effect of the hotel on the watertable.

Hotel talk to continue

By Kathy Greenfield

It was past midnight when the Independence Township Planning Commission voted to delay its decision on recommendations regarding Pine Knob hotel's conceptual site plan.

The planning commission discussion is to continue Thursday, Oct. 4, before the scheduled special meeting of the zoning board of appeals on Oct. 10 set to consider the hotel plans.

Both meetings are to begin at 7:30 p.m. at Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main, Clarkston.

Thursday evening started with an on-site visit to Pine Knob for all planning commission members except Rudy Lozano and Jean Saile.

All eight commission members were present at the meeting that began shortly after 7:30 p.m. Thursday night and included three items in addition to the conceptual site plan discussion for the proposed 22-story, ski-run-roof hotel at Pine Knob.

The crowd of about 100 people had diminished to less than half that amount, and at least four more people indicated a desire to state opinions on the hotel when the meeting was adjourned in a 5-3 vote.

The atmosphere was a reversal of those in the past--the majority of the audience supported the hotel plans.

"Hello, my name is" tags were worn by many with "For Pine Knob hotel" written in place of names in the white strips.

Earlier in the day, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Robert Webster gave the go-ahead for the planning commission meeting after considering a law suit to stop it brought by "Let the People Speak" and Richard Schmaltz of Stowe Trail, Independence Township, against the township planning commission.

"It would be an unwarranted interruption by this court to enjoin (stop) the planning commission from meeting tonight," Webster said.

Issues discussed in the court case included when "vesting" would occur, giving Pine Knob permission to proceed with hotel plans which would be arguable in court as a right to develop regardless of how the people voted in the special election Oct. 16.

The matter is to be further considered by Webster next Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. at the Oakland County Court House when he will decide whether the zoning board of appeals meeting now scheduled Oct. 10 can be held before the Oct. 16 election.

At the planning commission meeting, attorney Anthony Locricchio said it was his opinion that the use of Pine Knob property for a hotel was approved in 1972 when the general plans for the development were approved.

Recommendations regarding the hotel site plans could, therefore, be made, he said.

Township planning consultant Tod Kilroy said water and planned road improvements for the Sashabaw Road bridge over I-75 were adequate in his opinion.

Fires would be fought within the building using built-in equipment and supplies, he said.

Because the resort carries a family concept, crime rates would be minimal, he said.

"Family convention areas tend to reduce things like prostitution," he said. "This kind of hotel will have less of this kind of crime than any other type of hotel."

An in-house and grounds security force would also be maintained by the hotel, he said.

The 3,000 signatures gathered in a petition drive by the Committee Against High Rise Zoning in Independence Township were mentioned by Richard Schmaltz of Stowe Trail.

"Three thousand people can't be wrong," he said. "These are your friends, your neighbors,

'How many $22-million hotels have we had experience with?'

— James Smith,
Independence Township
Planning Commission
chairman

Some planning commission members also spoke in support of the hotel.

"I think it's perfectly proper and in keeping with reasonable development in this township to build a resort-hotel of this type," said James Brennan.

"There are amenities here on this property backed by good development that are not available at any other location in the township," said Chairman James Smith. "The possibility of setting the precedent for high rises around the township are very remote. I don't see approval as a threat to future development in the area."

Residents who spoke at the meeting presented both sides of the dispute.

"Every time I've walked on Pine Knob property, I've said, 'Hello' to multitudes of children," said Anita Davison who teaches kindergarten at Clarkston Elementary School. "I think they've done a phenomenal job of hiring our children."

The hotel would provide about 500 jobs with 25 to 30 percent of those for young people, Locricchio said.

Spin-off jobs in gas stations and shops would yield another 400 jobs, according to Pine Knob studies, he said.

your associates."

Later, Alvina Blucher of Snowapple Drive countered Schmaltz's statement with, "He said he has 3,000 signatures. There are 12,000 registered voters. Where are the other 9,000?"

Calling an end to discussion, Smith summarized the questions he said the planning commission should consider.

Calling an end to discussion, Smith summarized the questions he said the planning commission should consider.

"Sewer capacity, the question on a water supply (and) what do the 9,000 voters think?" he listed.

"This is really the reason we're in the position we're in," Smith said. "As the planning commission, we are supposed to reflect the majority of the voters."

The motion to table the issue until Oct. 4 in order to further discuss such questions was made by Mel Vaara.

"I don't think we should table it," Brennan said.

"How many $22 million hotels have we had experience with?" Smith responded.

The motion to table passed 5-3 with James Gardiner, Lozano and Brennan voting "no."

The Divine Miss M presented a grand finale to the Pine Knob Music Theatre season Saturday night that was, ahem, a bit unusual.

It seems Bette Midler went on stage for her final bow wrapped only in a plain white towel.

And when she attempted a quick readjustment, the towel fell off!

We wonder if anyone out there was measuring the decibel rating on the crowd's roar.

SCAMP, a summer camp for children with special needs, is $1,390 richer thanks to the efforts of Pine Knob Music Theatre's maintenance crew.

The check was presented Sunday to SCAMP assistant director Jim Butzine and teacher Greg Seaman.

The Pine Knob maintenance crew collected discarded bottles and cans all summer and, taking advantage of the returnable container refund, saved the money to donate to the camp.

SCAMP is a five-week long camp program operated by Clarkston Community Schools and supported through the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corp.

Avoid the bus brigade.

That's the word from Independence Township Clerk Christopher Rose, who suggests voting Oct. 16 when the school buses are not making stops at schools where voting polls are located.

The precincts are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Schools where voting takes place are Bailey Lake, Pine Knob and North Sashabaw elementaries; and Clarkston Junior and Clarkston Senior high schools.

"People should stay away from schools at the times the buses are there, because it's very chaotic," Rose suggests. "You go to some of the elementaries and it's hard to find a place to park."

Absentee ballots available

Absentee ballots are now available at Independence Township Hall for the Oct. 16 special election.

Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 13 at 90 N. Main, Clarkston.

An application must be filled out stating the reason for an absentee ballot request. Voting can then take place at township hall or by mail.

Most common reasons are the applicant is over 60 or the person is going to be out of town on the election date, said Clerk Christopher Rose.

Registered voters from the Village of Clarkston and Independence Township will be able to vote on Proposal B which asks if residents are willing to increase taxes by .3 mill for five years to purchase 80 acres north of Clarkston-Orion Road and west of Sashabaw Road, commonly known as part of the proposed gravel pit site.

Township residents only can vote on the zoning issues regarding the proposed Pine Knob hotel.

Proposal A is a binding referendum vote asking if the use of recreational districts should be amended to add convention-resort-hotel facilities with a minimum site size of 10 acres.

Proposal C is an advisory question asking if the heights limitation should be increased from 35 feet to 200 feet in recreational districts.

Voters may request applications for absentee ballots by mail or telephone or have a third party obtain the application.

Absentee ballots can then be mailed. The final day for mailing ballots is Oct. 13.

Go on record

The time approaches for Independence Township voters to put their ballots where their verbosity has been.

The Pine Knob hotel issue, which has been much talked and written about throughout a summer, will be on the ballot in two propositions Oct. 16.

Also on that ballot will be a request for a .3-mill tax with which Independence Township would seek to purchase 80 acres of potential park land in order to stop a proposed gravel mine development.

Courts, we can be assured, will decide both issues.

So, why bother to vote?

Judges have been known from time to time to take into account the will of the people as expressed in an official election.

It makes sense to go on record when the future of a large chunk of your community is at stake.

Even where money is involved, as with the property purchase proposition, the amount is not so great as to forestall a "yes" vote.

It is important that votes be cast in enough numbers to leave little doubt about the will of the people.

The controversies will continue long after the election. The debates will go on—at governmental meetings, in the media and anywhere more than a couple of Independence Township residents get together.

We all will continue to discuss the choices.

The voting booths Oct. 16 is where you pay your admission fee, in a manner of speaking, to get in on the debates.

To festival supporters

To the Editor:

The Board of the Clarkston Community Historical Society would like to thank the people of our community for their support of the Fifth Annual Crafts & Cider Festival.

The Society has many new members and supporters, and we had a chance to meet and work with them. The beautiful park setting received many compliments from both exhibitors and shoppers. And the shoppers deserve our thanks for their care in leaving the park so clean.

We also want to thank several local people who gave us special help: Jerry Powell, for his extra trip to help keep the park clean; George Anderson and the Lakeview Cemetery crew for placing and removing the tents; Jasso Tree Service for using their crew and rig to tighten the banner when the winds of Hurricane Frederick blew through. Thanks to all of you.

And thanks to our community for making this the best Festival ever. See you next year! The Board of the Clarkston Community Historical Society

On gravel: some prose urging landslide

To the editor:

In order to preserve the value of our property and protect the general character of our beautiful township and its river system, all eligible voters must vote "yes" for Proposal B on October 16th.

Due to the nature of the proposal, a majority vote alone will not accomplish two important underlying factors: a message to gravel miners and other exploiters that we the people of Independence Township, will not be forced, through court action, to have our local government and the will of the people ignored; a landslide vote will also demonstrate to the court system, the county and the state that we unanimously oppose any threat to our park systems and the Clinton River watershed.

Representative Trim and Senator Kammer have been working diligently toward the acquisition of the land in the area of the headwaters, declared by the state to be seventh in importance of over two hundred land areas the state wishes to protect.

An important step toward the protection of the Clinton River system and the parks will be reflected by the response of the township voters to Proposal B.

Please consider the following factors:

(1) The millage asked (3/10 of a mill) is a small price to pay for the purchase of the land adjoining Clintonwood Park.

(2) The rate of growth in the township indicates that the land purchase, in the center of the township, would be a welcome addition to the park area whose programs demand extra space. Also, as the need arises in ensuing years for township offices and/or civic facilities, the land will be readily available. As we all know, real estate is not getting cheaper!

(3) Fear that condemnation of the 80 acres, now owned by Levy Company, would establish a precedent, endangering other property owners should be allayed. No land will be put in jeopardy by the court unless "just cause" can be proved. A vote for Proposal B, showing the township's grave concern, should help the court decision.

(4) Zoning protects no property in the township from gravel mining which is considered to be a "temporary" use of the land.

I urge all voters to put aside any biases, personal or political, and to vote on October 16th as step number one in the preservation of our township.

(Sing to the tune stolen from Frere Jacques - with apologies to the late Alan Sherman who also stole the song)

Senior citizens,
Senior citizens,
Where are you?
Where are you?
Once you had a dream,
Now it's washed down stream-
That's so sad!
That's so sad!

Clintonwood Park,
Clintonwood Park,
Where are you?
Where are you?
Little children's laughter
Won't be heard hereafter -
That's so sad!
That's so sad!

Gravel mining,
Gravel mining,
Where are you?
Where are you?
Everywhere in sight
You've made the land a blight -
That's so sad!
That's so sad!

Jim's jottings

Fancy check welcome

by Jim Sherman

In early summer I remembered to renew my 3-year boat license. I was a year late at that. With the usual excuses of running late and being busy, I asked my son to pick up the license.

Not knowing what anything costs, from one year to the next, I gave Jim a couple 20's.

Later he gave me some change with my registration and stick-on, peel-off license.

Two weeks ago I received a letter from Secretary of State Richard Austin. He apologized for overcharging me for this license. He said if I'd return the old registration, he'd send a new one with a refund.

I'm twice glad. Thank you, Mr. Austin for running an efficient, honest office.

And, thanks for the fancy, Chamber of Commerce check. It's a long way from the green, tax refund variety.

This one has a banner across the top with the words, "Nature's air conditioned playground" within the ribbon.

Across the bottom is "Cooled by 4 Great Lakes & 11,037 inland lakes".

Up on the left side is a shotgun, up the right is a coho fishing rod and reel.

The check arrived just as I was thinking about how to get into my subject this week, "Changing colors in Michigan."

Wonder if Mr. Austin can find room on the check to promote fall colors.

We spent last weekend near Engadine with friends playing golf. There were hints of color, and once in a while a bright red maple would appear ablaze in front of us.

But when we took a tour of the area, back on the fire trails among the aspen, hardwoods and birch, only an occasional branch had been touched by nature's paint brush.

All three days were bright and sunny. One night it froze, but by noon we were in shirt sleeves.

Sunday we made reservations for golf at Gaylord Country Club.

We couldn't have been luckier. The colors came forth in full brilliance. The view from every hole was breathtaking.

Who cared of the missed putt, or losing the dollar bet. Nature had unfurled her rainbow, intricately colored each leaf, then blended it with an abundance of fall colors to lighten the strongest cynic.

Ah, Mother Nature, you did it again. Thank you.

Letters to the editor

As we announced earlier, this is the last week we accepted letters to the editor relating to the Oct. 16 election. Letters about the proposed hotel at Pine Knob begin on this page and continue for several more.

Don't knock McCabe

To the Editor:

Rebuttal to "Pine Knob group's actions criticized article appearing in The Clarkston News, 26 Sept. 1979. Perhaps the Clarkston Historical Society should get their noses out of the cemeteries and archives and musty records and open their eyes to the needs of today and tomorrow.

In so doing, they might realize their collective efforts could better serve the community in the form of better informing them of facts and needs.

Regarding the Residents FOR the Pine Knob Hotel free cider booth at the crafts and cider festival, Irene McCabe was the "familiar face" of the working committee whose name draws attention in print, thus-the one picked on for sensationalism.

She is also the one person in a million who has the intestinal fortitude to commit herself to a cause and more importantly, work for it.

How refreshing this is in a day of cynicism, pettiness and complacency. Quite frankly, she is a fantastic lady for whom respect, admiration and affection come very naturally and easily from those who know her.

The Pine Knob Hotel is needed. It will be an asset to the entire area. Adjoining townships will benefit as well as Independence. Approximately 900 jobs should be created for our "youth from 16 to 66" in a part of Oakland County where jobs are almost as scarce as hens teeth.

There is nothing as changeable as change. This is what makes history. So let it be suggested we put provincialism aside thus making pettiness passe.

Let the Clarkston Historical Society continue their good work in their field and let the Residents FOR the Pine Knob Hotel do likewise. --it is still a free country

Brandon Township

To The Editor:

On October 16th Township residents will voice their opinions, via the ballot box, on the Pine Knob hotel issue. Although nearly everyone is tired of hearing about the proposed hotel, we would like to add our comments before the matter is settled once and for all.

To begin with, we do not begrudge anyone developing their property in any way they wish. We do feel, however, that it should be consistent with how the rest of the area has been developed.

We fought the Deer Lake Farms developer over this issue, and the resulting development is a fast improvement over the 972 apartments and condominiums that were originally proposed.

We feel the same way about Pine Knob.

The introduction of a high rise hotel on that property will make it considerably easier for other developers to build high rises within the township.

We don't believe for a minute that the 10-acre commercial-recreation zoning requirement will deter other developers from building high rises within the township within a very short time.

Nor do we believe that the hotel will reduce our taxes, as stated in the Pine Knob "Fact" Sheet.

Such structures didn't seem to have that effect in Southfield or Troy, to cite only two examples.

Finally, we are concerned about the developer's apparent disregard for those of us who live here.

The $10 per person cover charge at the restaurant is a great example of how welcome we are out there.

The free cider gimmick at the Cider and Crafts Fair was another classy move.

We can imagine what will follow once the high rise is approved.

We'd rather not find out. Please vote "NO" on Proposals A and C on October 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carlson

To the editor:

The Residents for Pine Knob Hotel are caring residents of Independence Township. We are proud of the Village of Clarkston and of the accomplishments of the Clarkston Community Historical Society.

Our committee's intent was innocent and we regret that it may have caused a loss to the Society's fund raising efforts at the Cider and Crafts Festival.

We would like to say that we feel the Board of Clarkston Community Historical Society was unfair to Keith Hallman and Irene McCabe.

Keith was merely an innocent victim of circumstance.

Irene is a member of our committee and she just happened to be helping when Jennifer Radcliff appeared.

It was also unnecessary and totally unfair of the board to continue by making the statement, Quote - Unquote, "These people place Pine Knob and their own profit above the welfare and concerns of the rest of us."

These people, the Residents for Pine Knob Hotel and their many supporters find it hard to believe that our own Historical Society Board could behave in such a manner.

'If it Fitz. . .

From diseased trees to Joe Glover

by Jim Fitzgerald

A little bit about a lot of things . . .

The terrible roar of a power saw awakened our downtown Detroit neighborhood at 6 o'clock on a recent morning. Within an hour, a city crew cut down and removed around 10 good-sized trees from the E. Lafayette median. City Hall later assured me the trees had begun to show signs of Dutch elm disease. The noisy sawing was done early and hastily to beat the traffic. At 9 o'clock a few mornings later, when traffic is thickest, an abandoned car blocked an entire lane of E. Lafayette at the Chrysler overpass, creating an awful bottleneck. The car and the bottleneck were still there at 9 o'clock the next morning. Moral: Trees are destroyed by fools like me, but only God can get a tow truck.

Nevertheless, my neighborhood is improving. It used to be I had to drive all the way out to Mercy College or Livonia to laugh and cry at the dinner-theater songs sung by Phil Marcus Esser, as written by Jacques Brel and Mike Smith. But now Esser is spending weekends downtown as "The Singing Waiter" at Rembrandt's Roadster, just a few steps north of the Ren-Cen entrance. The food is much better than the usual dinner-theater fare and this may be your only chance to hear "Feelings" sung by a waiter eating a submarine sandwich.

Phyllis Schlafly was in Detroit the other morning to knock the Equal Rights Amendment on Channel 7. Out of fear, I rejected an invitation to question her from the studio audience. I was afraid I'd laugh in her face, which would have been rude. It isn't Mrs. Schlafly's archaic opinions that convulse me, it's her robot-like appearance. If she ever strips a gear and dies, she will probably be buried wearing a wide smile, with her hands folded in her lap and her legs crossed at the ankle.

The most incongruous thing on summer TV was Detroit Tigers announcer George Kell reading advertisements for other Channel 4 programs between innings. For George, life is earnest and the ultimate frivolity is stretching a single into a double. He is eminently believable when describing the trauma involved in playing third base. But when George tells his listeners to watch the next morning's TV movie, "Under the Yum-Yum Tree," because it's a really splendid film and he certainly doesn't intend to miss it, his recommendation rings as true as the pope endorsing promiscuity. If George Kell enjoyed "Under the Yum-Yum Tree," I will chop it down and eat it.

On a Friday afternoon, an elderly man entered the crowded National Bank of Detroit branch in Lafayette Park and headed for the public desk to make out his deposit slip. After some fumbling, he announced in a loud voice: "There are six pens on this table and not a damn one of them works." Bank employees looked startled but they didn't offer him a pen. Finally, he borrowed one from a customer.

Phil Spelman, who handles publicity for the State Bar of Michigan, said I probably wouldn't believe that a tiny weekly newspaper no one ever heard of had edged the giant Free Press for top honors in the statewide Advancement-of-Justice writing contest sponsored by the lawyers. The Free Press finished second. Spelman said the winning newspaper was located in Hart, somewhere on the west side of the state. I said he probably wouldn't believe that my oldest daughter, Karen, the mother of my grandchildren, is an employee of the Hart Journal. I never could get the best of her.

A note from Les Wetterholt of Farmington Hills says he greatly enjoyed my recent description of how my much bigger sister, Terrible Jean, used to bounce croquet balls off my head. "She sounds like a wonderful person and I would like to see a fan club formed in her honor, Like Rula Lenska, she must truly be divine," Wetterholt said. "Could you publish her picture so we could see the person we have come to love and appreciate?" Fat chance. More and more I'm beginning to feel like the guy who created Boris Karloff.

TV 2's Joe Glover can't be blamed for balking at being switched to the 5:30 newscast. That's when Mary Tyler Moore reruns are on Channel 9. Why would any patron of the comedic art watch anything else when Mary is available, especially in early episodes when mini-skirts were stylish? For me, the supreme serendipity is to discover a rerun I haven't seen before, which happened the other night. It was the episode where Mary dates the Love Boat captain's father who was killed during the First World War while reaching for an insect. Got it? I'm not good at remembering names, but I never forget how to be boring.

Pine Knob hotel letter — anti

Dear Editor:

In an attempt to overcome the overwhelming citizen response against its high rise hotel, Pine Knob is distributing what it loosely terms a "fact sheet", whose assertions are questionable at best.

Pine Knob asserts the hotel will create the largest tax base in the community and thereby "reduce the homeowners' tax bite".

It offers nothing to back this up.

The truth of the matter is the Pine Knob Hotel would contribute, at the most favorable assessment rated for the township, $43,300.00 per year in tax revenue to the township at present millage — not enough to offset the cost of increased police and fire services which will be needed and to support other services that a high rise requires.

Our schools will not benefit from the larger number of tax dollars generated because, under the Bursley State Aid formula, every dollar of increased operating revenue from higher assessments in the township decreases the amount of state aid available.

Troy and Southfield have high rises and their public services cost per resident is $362.48 and $396.71 respectively. Bloomfield Township and Independence Township do not and their cost per resident is $288.89 and $80.40 respectively. The fact is that high rises don't ease the tax bite, they increase it!

Pine Knob asserts that the hotel will create jobs. They again offer no statistics.

The truth of the matter is that running a large hotel requires a highly skilled and trained administrative staff, most of whom, to qualify, will require specialized training and prior experience in the business. These are obviously not jobs available for high school and college students.

The jobs available for unskilled laborers — bell boys, porters, janitors, kitchen help — will, using averages for other hotels in Southeastern Michigan, number less than 300 for the 600 room hotel and be at minimum wage.

In large hotels that operate year-round, these menial jobs are traditionally not filled by part-time job and summer help but are filled by permanent help. If this hotel is built, much of this unskilled labor will undoubtedly be drawn from the inner city of Pontiac which has a high number of unemployed, unskilled workers who would be willing to take jobs at the hotel on any shift at minimum wage. Under the Equal Employment Opportunity laws they could not be discriminated against in favor of township residents.

Pine Knob implies that the high rise hotel will enhance the characteristics of the area. They don't tell the residents that with the 600 rooms, it will be the fourth largest hotel in the State. The conventioners whom Pine Knob says it will attract, because they are transient, will have no interest in preserving the serenity and security of our neighborhoods.

Police statistics indicate that increasing density in confined areas does bring an increase in crime.

Furthermore, the roads around Pine Knob, with one exception, on which these transients will have to drive to reach our businesses, are all one lane in each direction. Unless widened at taxpayer expense, the congestion, noise and pollution spawned by this increased traffic could be serious.

Pine Knob asserts that allowing one high rise hotel will not automatically lead to others. Again, they offer nothing to support this claim.

The truth of the matter is that legally, you cannot discriminate in zoning.

Once you allow a developer the right to put up one high rise others have to be given similar treatment.

We have many other areas in the township zoned for hotel and office building use.

Remember, there is not one city or township in southeastern Michigan with only one high rise. Once one gets in, others follow and increased density and development — which really benefit only developers and realtors — accompany them.

It is understandable that with a large investment at stake, Pine Knob would attempt to distort the facts and confuse the voters.

Furthermore, most voters aren't going to swallow Pine Knob's bait. Pine Knob's credibility is now at an all time low.

People in the township remember that it was Pine Knob who obtained the township's last public liquor license and put it to use for their private club. It was Pine Knob, according to the Planning Board Minutes which said it had no plans for a hotel when the original concept was approved.

Pine Knob spokesman, Joseph Loricchio, said at the Planning Board Meeting in May, 1979, that if the people of Independence Township didn't want the hotel, he wouldn't built it — yet Pine Knob is now attempting to avoid a showdown at the polls by rushing their plans through the planning board and the zoning board to get special treatment and quick approval — rendering any vote meaningless.

I don't think our responsible township officials will let Pine Knob frustrate the purpose of the election.

I am confident that the large majority of the voters will not be fooled by Pine Knob and the bandwagon of developers and realtors they have been towing around.

The people of Independence Township will vote on October 16, 1979, to keep our neighborhoods free of high rises, congestion and high taxes and put an end to Pine Knob's foolishness.

Sincerely,
Robert P. Hurlbert

Anti Pine Knob hotel

To the Editor:

It is with great sadness that I have read "The Pine Knob Fact Sheet" which was mailed to us at the expense of the "Residents for the Pine Knob Hotel Committee." Residents of what? (Not Independence Township, I am sure.)

I have read the "Fact Sheet" with great sadness because it only reiterated the misleading information that the Pine Knob Hotel promoter has been so blatantly disseminating to the residents of the township.

The promoter claims that the proposed hotel will reduce the homeowners "taxbite."

We have heard that many times before by other speculators, except the tax rate is not set by the developers and speculators, therefore, to believe that the proposed hotel will reduce the tax rate would be foolhardy.

Another "fact" that the leaflet pointed out, is that fire protection will be built into the hotel. Of course, there will be fire protection. Sprinkling systems in hotels is the law, and not due to the generosity of any developer.

There were several untrue statements not worthy of repeating.

The greatest tragedy of this proposed monstrosity, is that it will forever and inexorably change the character of this township, Clarkston, and the surrounding area.

A hotel, twenty stories high, looming over the landscape with a built-in ski slope will be the biggest freak show in the state of Michigan, if not in the whole country.

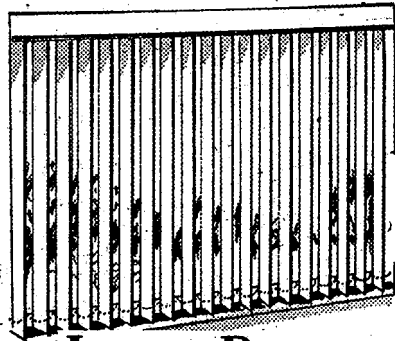

No citizenry anyplace else in the country would allow such an architectural monstrosity to be built.

Once the flood gate is open to make Independence Township a haven to such an ill conceived idea as a twenty story hotel ski slope combination, the residents of this township (and Clarkston) will be in the same boat as Pontiac, the home of the Silverdome, a taxpayer subsidized white elephant, that has been syphoning off tax dollars, away from the school system, and away from essential city services in Pontiac.

Independence Township does not need a freak show or another white elephant.

Coach praises 'team effort'

Wolves clip Rochester, 19-14

By Al Zawacky

Who says the 1979 varsity football season is as good as over?

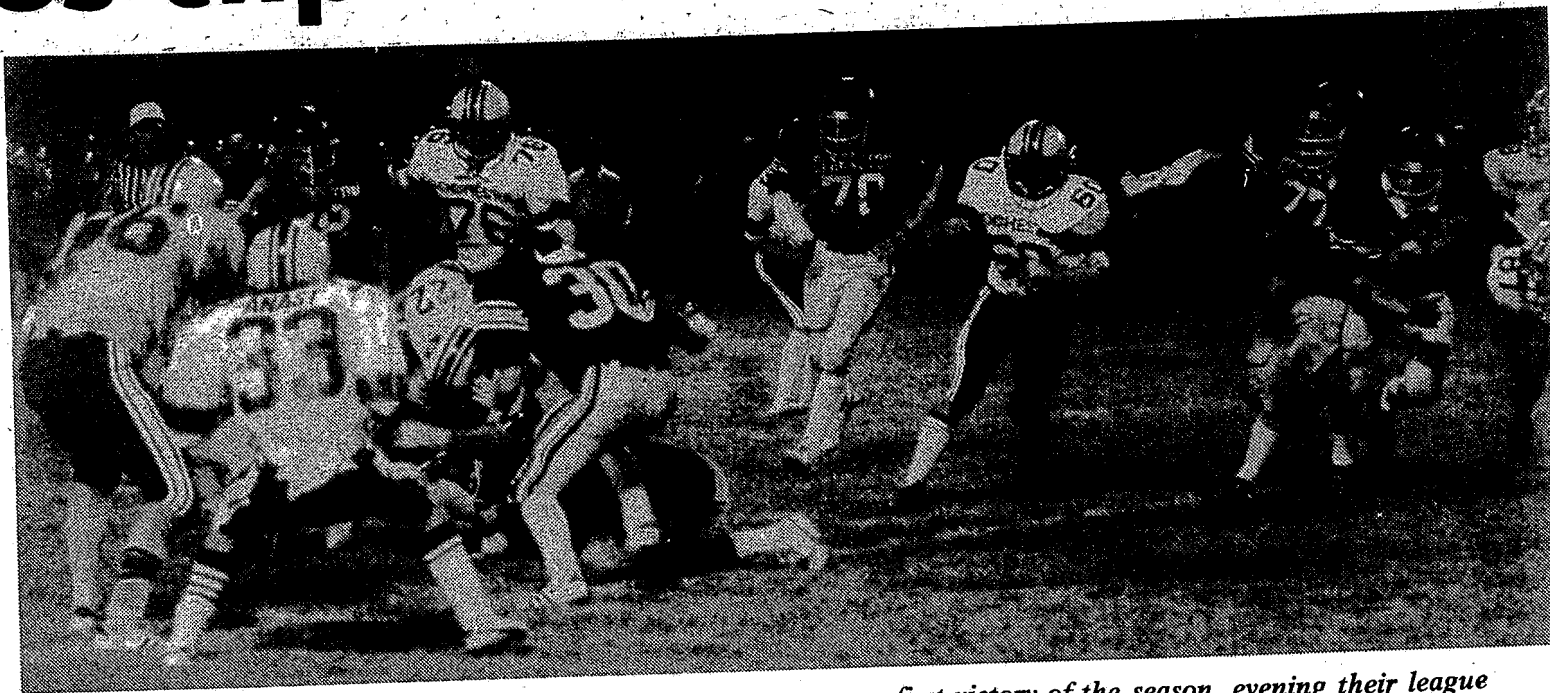

Certainly not Nick Lekas, Jim Farnsworth, Paul Carr, Steve Lafnear and company--and neither would Friday night's grandstand full of spectators, who paid their admission to see the Wolves post their first victory and got exactly that.

Scoring their highest point total of the season and turning back an enemy threat by some gritty defensive play with just seconds remaining, Clarkston evened its GOAL record at 1-1 by disposing of Rochester, 19-14.

"This was a total team victory," coach Walt Wyniemko said in the festive Clarkston locker room afterwards. "Much of the credit belongs to our second and third teams--I really thought everybody played well."

The Wolves scored early in the game on their first possession when quarterback Nick Lekas dove in from the one yard line. A pass good for 45 yards from Jack Sprung to Kevin Krause was the big play of the TD drive; the extra point attempt off the foot of Ron Feneley was good and Clarkston led 7-0.

Rochester tied the score late in the second quarter on an 11-yard run by Greg Bunker and an extra point by Duane McLean, but the Wolves took the lead again late in the third on a one-yard plunge by Jim Farnsworth.

The action was heavy in Clarkston's clash with GOAL rival Rochester Friday night as the Wolves posted their first victory of the season, evening their league record at 1-1.

The two-point point conversion attempt was no good but Clarkston had all the points they needed turning in some stalwart defensive work to halt a Rochester threat in the remaining moments of keep the game in the win column.

Clarkston dominated almost all of the statistics, totaling 19 first downs and 270 total yards to Rochester's 14 first downs and 146 total yards. Farnsworth was the Wolves' leading rushing with an incredible 199 yards in 30 carries; Mark Hughes was next highest with 47.

But for a number of penalties, Clarkston played a flawless ball game, committing zero turnovers on fumbles or interceptions.

The Wolves will be taking to the road Friday, taking on a tough West Bloomfield squad that has yet to lose in GOAL action. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

"I guess you'd call tonight's game a squeaker," Wyniemko replied with a grin when asked about the missed extra point and the late winning TD. "Actually, even when we missed the extra point and fell behind I still felt we were going to win."

Sports

The PAT was blocked, causing Clarkston fans a few anxious moments midway through the fourth quarter when Rochester took a 14-13 lead on a nine yard run by Dan Reador and McLean's second extra point of the night.

The Wolves were not to be denied however, scoring the winning touchdown with just 47 seconds remaining in the game on another one yarder by Farnsworth.

JV gridgers on streak

By Al Zawacky

The Clarkston High School junior varsity football team continued its winning ways last Thursday, posting its third straight victory of the season in romping over the Barons of Andover, 32-6.

Bruce Burwitz scored two touchdowns for the Wolves, one a 10-yard pass from quarterback

Mark Stefanski and the other on a 33-yard run. Teammate Tim Brennan also had two TDs on runs of 34 and 3 yards, and Tim Swalwell accounted for the final Wolves' touchdown on a tight-end screen good for 37 yards.

Defensively, Dave Ryeson and Scott Lawson each intercepted enemy passes and returned them 20 yards.

Offensively, Clarkston rolled up over 300 yards rushing and passing. Burwitz was the individual leader in rushing with 145 yards; Brennan also broke the 100 barrier with 103.

The Wolves will be looking for victory number four Thursday at Rochester High School.

The point after

by Al Zawacky

What does your average Clarkston sport enthusiast have on his or her mind in this, the first week of October?

Most are probably still thinking of football--the Wolves homecoming game is coming up, and even if the varsity squad isn't winning, at least the JVs and junior highs are having some success. Others, forsaking football, are already beginning to approach me with "Wait till you see our basketball team this year. Wait till you see Tim McCormick."

"Who is Tim McCormick?" I made the mistake of initially inquiring.

Who's Tim McCormick? Who's Tim McCormick?! He's probably one of the best eagers in the state! Several colleges are trying to recruit him."

Well, excuse me.

But let's get back to our topic. I suppose that those who aren't thinking football or basketball are probably looking forward to the ski season, tobogganing and ice skating. The cold-weather sports.

Enter my own thoughts at this time of the year. At the arrival of the first early morning chill, apples, pumpkins and the autumnal equinox I find myself overcome by a malady that takes about eight months to run its course: Ice hockey fixation. As proof of my infection, I submit the following symptoms:

*$440 spent just last month for my 1979-80 Red Wing season ticket.

*$600 worth of hockey equipment purchased over the last five years.

*At least another $300 to be spent between now and April for ice rental, gasoline and miscellaneous related expenses.

(More 'Point After' on page 16)

Players of the week

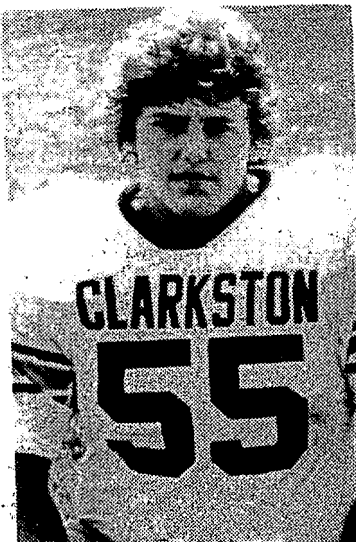

Jim Farnsworth

Seeing as how a case could be made for just about anyone on the Wolves' 55-man roster, how could we realistically limit ourselves to just one "player of the week"?

Through great effort we were able to narrow the number down to two, however--Jim Farnsworth and Paul Carr.

Farnsworth totaled a fantastic 199 yards rushing on 30 carries, and anytime somebody is able to run up totals like that, it's a safe bet that the offensive line was doing the job as well.

Carr earned the praise of the Clarkston coaching staff for doing an outstanding job of "opening up some of the holes that made the running game click."

Paul Carr

'Hotshot' winners

Four winners have emerged from the Pepsi-Cola/National Basketball Association "Hotshot Competition" district finals held at Clarkston High School.

Winning in the boys 9-12 age category was Craig Chamberlain, while Mike McCormick was the winner in the boys 13-15 age group. Winners in the girls categories were Kristin Whisner for the 9-12 year olds and Michele Barks in the 13-15 group.

Each of the four winners will go on to represent Independence Township in the area finals tentatively scheduled at Wayne State University on Nov. 10, and may ultimately compete in the national finals planned during halftime of the nationally televised NBA championship.

I feel it's statistics like those that should some day qualify me for placement in that grand NHL institution in Toronto, the Hockey Hall of Fame. Others may well regard it as evidence that I belong in an institution, period.

Be that as it may, I'd like to share this madness with other puckology pundits in the Clarkston area. I've heard there are local kids playing out at Lakeland arena, and if any family, friends or the players themselves would like to bring their efforts to my attention, feel free to call or write the News' office.

There must be somebody around here who knows the difference between a puck and a burnt Quarter Pounder—and I'd like to hear from them.

Tykes tackle big dream at Silverdome

Two Chief players discuss some game strategy.

Story and photos by Dick Krause

Freshman Chief Mark Austin [22] is taken down.

The Chiefs and the Raiders had a taste of the big time Saturday as the two local groups faced off in football action at the Silverdome.

Representing the Clarkston and the Orion-Oxford areas respectively, the teams and their cheerleaders were among members of the Suburban Midget Football Conference using the stadium that day.

The Clarkston Raiders are in their ninth year of organized midget football. This season the group has outfitted 141 boys for its three teams and 44 girls in its cheerleading squads.

The Orion-Oxford Raiders are in their first year of organized play.

Midget football teams are divided into three age groups: Freshmen (8-9 year olds) Junior varsity (10-11 year olds) and Varsity (11-12).

Conference rules guarantee that each boy is in at least eight plays a game. Anyone who attends practice regularly will make the team.

Merrill Charboneau, director of the Chiefs Freshman unit and board member, sees the organization as being devoted to teaching the concepts of sportsmanship and play. He also believes the early training will improve high school football performance in the coming years.

"Two years ago when the Clarkston Wolves won the GOAL title, they had 11 former Chiefs on the team," Charboneau noted.

Dave Cullen, Raider Freshman coach and association president, expressed similar views on the organization's playing philosophy.

"Everybody tries to win, but we don't make that the most important thing. It's that every kid gets to participate," he said.

Cullen credited the Clarkston organization with helping form the Orion-Oxford group.

"Without Clarkston's help we wouldn't have got going," Cullen said. "Without them there's no way we could have got started."

In Saturday's action the Chiefs won the Junior Varsity and Varsity contests. The Raiders took the Freshman game.

Chief freshman cheerleaders entertain fans during half-time at the Silverdome.

Racquetball big and still growing

By Al Zawacky

At first impression, the incessant popping seems reminiscent of the firing of an old Gatling gun as the spectators eyes bob up and down, back and forth to view the action. Down on the court itself, two competitors sweat and strain in pursuit of victory.

That was the scene at Waterford Hills Courts last Friday, Saturday and Sunday for the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Racquetball Tournament, where 88 players competed for prizes ranging from $100 cash to mugs and T-shirts.

The Waterford event was just the tip of an ever-growing iceberg, as the sport continues its phenomenal growth among everyone from students to housewives. One of racquetball's more recent converts is Sheryl Stickley, an employee of the Independence Parks and Recreation department.

"I used to play tennis," she began, gazing out onto the court where another match was about to start. "But I guess I just got tired of chasing the ball around — I think racquetball is a lot easier."

"It's tiring, but you don't have to cover the whole court like you do in tennis" she continued. "It's really very simple to catch on to — but then it's pretty difficult to excell in it."

Another advantage is that the game is played indoors and can be enjoyed year round.

"During the wintertime especially, you can't find a court to play in — they're all booked up," Stickley said.

"It's a good way to stay in shape and have fun at the same time — you don't really feel like you're conditioning yourself, but you are."

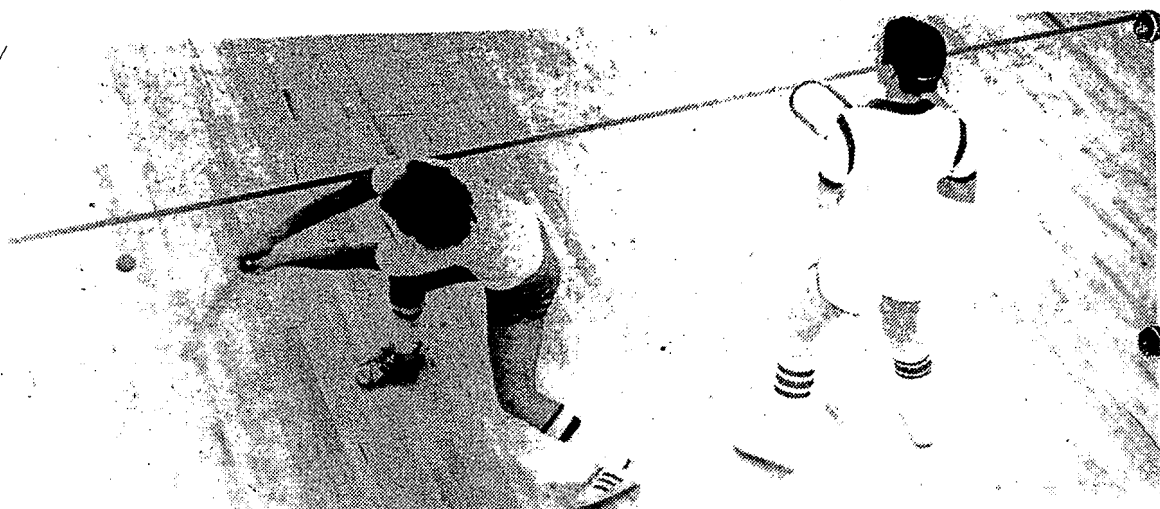

Outside of a racquet and a pair of sneakers, there's not much equipment to buy in order to start enjoying the game.

Court rental runs into a little money, "but it's not really too much, especially if you're playing doubles," Stickley noted.

"What's the hardest thing to catch onto?"

"Well, the walls will drive you nuts," she laughed. "You think you know where the ball is going to travel, yet it's gone and by you before you know it."

"The thing I like is you don't have to be super to just enjoy the game," she observed. "I haven't played in quite a while and am a little out of practice, but I've still been able to enjoy myself."

Sheryl Stickley and Kathy Malone battle in the racquetball tourney held at Waterford Courts this past weekend.

Jr high roundup

Sashabaw Junior High School's gridders dropped to 1-3 on the season last week, suffering a 45-8 bombing at the hands of Lakeland.

"We were behind by 20 points at the half," Sashabaw coach Chris Kruger explained, "so we went with our second team offense and defense the rest of the way. They practice just as much as the first teams do, and actually they didn't do too badly—they scored our only touchdown."

Sashabaw's Cougars scored their only TD on a one yard run by Steve Davidson, the two extra points coming on a pass by Steve Hamlin to Scott Banks.

Will Williams was the Cougar's leading rusher, gaining 62 yards in 12 carries. Mike Macdormott and Tim Taylor were the leading tacklers.

Sashabaw's next game will be Wednesday at 4 p.m. on the road against an undefeated Rochester Vanhoosen squad.

Clarkston Junior High, coming off a victory against Rochester West two weeks ago, was idle last week. CJH's next contest will be at Rochester Reuther, Wednesday at 4:15 p.m.

Pine Knob hotel letter—anti

To the editor:

Within the past week this area has been bombarded by Pine Knob in a telephone campaign and a postal saturation in an endeavor to pump up support for the proposed hotel.

Under Item 1, the statement is made about creating the largest tax base thus far.

Testimony from business leaders to the effect that this type of operation will generate the lowest tax base possible is thus denied.

A further statement is made about the widening of Sashabaw at Pine Knob expense.

The truth is that a deal was made whereby the taxpayers will pick up by far the largest expense in connection with the work on the overpass.

Also, the widening of Sashabaw was a renegeing on the promise made by Pine Knob in 1972 to put stacking lanes for traffic on their own property.

Under Item 2, there is another denial of legal opinion to the effect that after allowing one high rise the precedent will make it impossible to deny others.

An interesting hodge podge of pseudo logic also results in the conclusion that the high rise hotel would preserve the natural beauty of the area.

A 'Sprawling hotel complex' could not be seen from the road, while the 200 foot high monstrosity would be visible for miles.

Under Item 3, we have the old chestnut about jobs. We cannot afford to put up with any more of Pine Knob's assaults upon our way of life. The township would be far better off if it would encourage industry to settle here.

Under Item 4, I must speak only in reference to the experiences of some of my friends and members. I am told that the costs at Pine Knob are so prohibitive that skiing as a family group is virtually impossible. The golf course is private.

Articles in the local press make it clear that the dining facility is run on an exclusive basis.

We are told of the excellent rooms to be available for our use in housing guests, but under Item 5 we are also told that the guests will, for the most part, be from the higher income brackets.

'Nuff said. The costs will be out of sight.

Under Item 5, we who live close to the theater are fully aware of the classic lineup of 'talent' featured in it.

The theater operates for 3½ months in the summer. How this will affect the hotel for the other 8½ months we are not told.

The additional chestnut about school taxes has been run into the ground, and has been refuted so often that I will not deal with it here.

As far as firefighting equipment is concerned, I will take the word of Chief Ronk above any other official in the township, and certainly above anyone at Pine Knob.

We will need additional firemen, and equipment. And WHAT area business will possibly benefit from the hotel? The Big Boy? MacDonalds? Motels? Gas stations? What? Answer—very little, indeed!

Mr. Locricchio made his own statement in the local press. "If there is sizeable opposition, we will build it somewhere else." Good! Build it somewhere else.

Sincerely,
Rev. Philip W. Somers, Sr.

Win a Free Vacation for two in the Bahamas

We're very close to a milestone at Pontiac State Bank. Our big network of 24-hour teller machines will soon reach $50,000,000 in cash withdrawals . . . and we're celebrating with a contest.

$50,000,000 Bank Now Countdown

A contest for everybody

If you can guess when Bank Now will reach the $50,000,000 mark, you could win a free winter vacation — a trip for two to the Bahamas. Eight days and seven nights as guests of PSB.

For Bank Now Customers Only

The same big prize goes to the PSB customer who withdraws the 50 millionth dollar on any Bank Now machine. No entry form needed. The lucky customer will win automatically.

We'll help you guess the day and time. Tune to radio station WPON (1460 AM). We'll broadcast reports each weekday (at twenty minutes after the hour) — giving you the Bank Now total as of the previous day. You can keep track of the countdown and make an educated estimate of the moment we'll reach $50,000,000.

It's easy to enter the Countdown Contest. As soon as you estimate the winning time, just fill out the form below and mail it to PSB.

Entry Form: Bank Now Countdown Contest

I estimate the Bank Now network will reach a total of $50,000,000 in cash withdrawals, as follows:

Month _____ Day _____ Hour : Minutes AM or PM

My Name _____ (Please Print)

Street Address _____

City _____ ZIP _____

My Phone No _____

B

All entries must be completely filled out and mailed to Pontiac State Bank, Bank Now Countdown Contest, P.O. Box 599, Pontiac, MI 48056

Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight of the day before Bank Now reaches a total of $50,000,000 in cash withdrawals. The winner will be the entry that predicts the day and time closest to the minute when the $50,000,000 total is reached, as determined by Pontiac State Bank records. Earliest entry takes precedence. In case of a tie, a drawing will be held to determine the winner. Employees of Pontiac State Bank and their immediate families are not eligible.

Anti Pine Knob hotel

To the editor:

What is the Pine Knob Hotel issue doing to our community? Has anyone really stopped to take a good look at what is happening to people who have been friends and neighbors for years?

It seems that our emotions have completely taken over our logic.

I wrote the following editorial:

I thought that Sugar Daddys died with Howard Hughes! Apparently not. Any registered voter in Independence Township can prostitute themselves just by voting Yes on October 16th.

Pine Knob Management is quick to point out how much they've done for our township and promise more to come. Kind of like the guy who shows up on your doorstep with wine and flowers for your daughter and at the end of the evening demands payment!

Some Sugar Daddy! If I wanted to prostitute myself for Pine Knob it wouldn't be for a free cup of cider!

Hey, Mr. Locricchio—how about a year's free membership with all expenses paid at your Country Club, and of course free season tickets, front row center, to your music theater?

I don't come quite so cheaply as the others you've bought and I imagine you are laughing even more than I at just how cheap they did come.

Frankly, if I wanted the convenience of a hotel like you propose I'd be living in Troy or Southfield.

And to all of you Yes voters, don't feel too bad. If the hotel becomes a reality, the real pros will be around to show you how it's really done!

Some letter to people who are friends and neighbors! Anger and frustration—not logic!

Please stand back and take a good hard look at what Mr. Locricchio has done for us. He has divided us and if the climate continues, he'll conquer us.

Gayle D. Meyers
Independence Township

Anti hotel

To the Editor:

Re: Pine Knob Hotel

Voters of Independence Township — ask yourself a question. What will the proposed hotel do for me as a homeowner and resident?

Your answer will be — nothing!

The Master Plan of your township was designed to provide Recreation Districts for your use and enjoyment.

The proposed hotel (600 rooms) isn't being designed for your use and enjoyment. It is being designed for use and enjoyment of others.

What might happen to you if the hotel is built?

1) Your taxes may increase to provide public services that the hotel will require, such as police and fire.

2) The already overcrowded roads will be further pressed with traffic.

3) Weekend tourism will provide congestion.

4) Crime may increase, such as is associated with hotel complexes.

Given the alternative, the choice is simple. VOTE — NO HOTEL — OCTOBER 16.

Railroad track closed

Emergency repairs on a railroad crossing have closed Andersonville Road in Springfield Township near Farley Road.

Although residents will be able to reach their homes on either side of the track, crossing the track will be impossible, said an Oakland County Road Commission spokesperson.

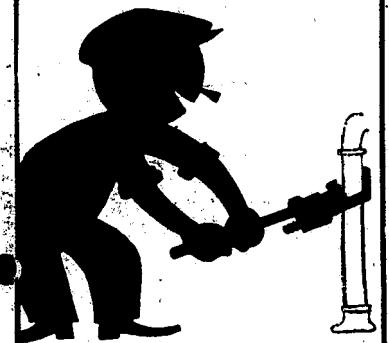

"A routine railroad check found out the track was bowing and they are going to stabilize it before a train derailment occurs," the spokesperson said.

The section of the road was closed at 8 a.m. yesterday and is expected to re-open at 5 p.m. Thursday.

The road commission advises motorists to use Dixie Highway as a detour route.

By giving and giving generously to the 1979 United Foundation Torch Drive, that's how.

Every year you've done your part by contributing to Torch Drive-supported agencies like the Homemaker Service of Metropolitan Detroit, Greater Detroit Society for the Blind, Homes for Black Children, Family and Neighborhood Services of Wayne County, Alcoholism Treatment Center, St. Joseph Hospital in Mt. Clemens. Plus 132 other community and health agencies that provide people you know with the assistance they need. And this year they need your support as much as ever.

So when your neighborhood Torch Drive volunteer calls, show how much you care.

After all, they're your neighbors. And it's your community. So if you don't give, who will?

People who need... need people who care.

Color tour-plus

The fall colors, which should be at their maximum saturation in another week, are just a part of nature's preparation for winter.

As cold weather looms, animals and plants prepare to conserve energy during the months of low food supplies.

Independence Oaks County Park naturalist Kathleen Dougherty will guide a group of hikers Oct. 13 in an exploration of wildlife's methods of energy saving in the environment.

The two-hour walk along the nature trails at Independence Oaks will start at 10 a.m.

"Hikers will get an idea of every kind of habitat in the park," Dougherty said. "The trails go around a lake, over streams, through valleys and wooded areas and over hills."

If autumnal color is good in the area it will be good at the park, where there is a variety of trees.

There also are ample vistas. "Some of the highest hills in Oakland County are in this area," Dougherty said.

Water, heat and food conservation as well as hibernation, migration and predator designs will be among the topics of discussion on the hike.

Hikers can also view the park from the 12-foot high observation tower.

"This is an excellent point to view fall colors, since they should be at their peak on the 13th," says Dougherty.

Hikers will also see and hear a variety of nature's sights and sounds. They may see a large array of birds preparing to fly south, chipmunks filling their pouches with nuts for hibernation, the waxy coverings plants produce to protect themselves from bad weather, insects rolled up in leaves for protection, or a host of bees who have taken winter residence in a hollow tree. The sounds of the kingfish, woodpecker, chipmunk and other animals may also be heard.

Independence Oaks is located at 9501 Sashabaw Road.

Hikers should pre-register by calling 625-0877.

Sixth graders spend week at camp

Pupils have fun learning, exploring at Tamarack

By Al Zawacky

It certainly wasn't a typical week at school for Clarkston Elementary sixth graders last week, as the class spent its time out of the schoolroom at Camp Tamarack in Brandon Township.

Arriving on Monday morning and staying until Friday afternoon, the children were kept occupied with hiking, survival lessons, archery, fishing, use of maps and compass, scientific study and a host of other activities.

"The trip is part of the science program and counts toward their science grade," said Barbara Glover, one of the teachers at the camp. "Each student is required to keep a daily log and write an essay later on what he or she did and learned."

"This is the sixth consecutive year for the field trip, and enough can't be said about the camp's excellent facilities and the success of the program," Glover continued, "and of course, we couldn't have asked for better weather during our stay."

Clarkston Elementary principal Dr. Cecelia Wiar is a strong supporter of the program, citing the emphasis placed on learning.

"Three of the days the children spend are very heavy in academic content," Wiar said. "It's also an excellent social experience--the children really get to know their classmates and learn how to work together."

Wiar credits former Clarkston Elementary principal Jack Hayden with being the principle force behind the program's creation.

"The original idea was Mr. Hayden's--it was an experimental sort of thing," Wiar noted. "Today, the success of the program has prompted several other schools to consider similar programs--North Sashabaw has shown a lot of interest recently."

The children also considered the trip a worthy experience. When asked what they had enjoyed best, a chorus of different answers erupted, ranging from the back packing trip to the disco dance to the bog study.

"Everything was a lot more fun than being in class," was an observation that everybody could agree on.

"Again, we're just very pleased with the program's results and the camp's facilities," Wiar said. "The food has been excellent, the camp staff very cooperative and helpful, and it's been a good educational experience for the children."

A group of Clarkston Elementary School boys discuss what their next activity will be on their way back to camp from the scavenger hunt.

Two Clarkston Elementary School sixth graders search for worms, one of the items on their "scavenger hunt" list.

New arrival, business keep Pattersons busy

The landscaping around their house was done by the Pattersons and Kathy's father. They are especially pleased with the stone work that leads up the driveway in front of their home and up the front steps where [from left] Brooks, Dayne, Shawn and Kathy, holding Brooks Stuart, sit.

The summer of 1979 was hectic for Brooks and Kathy Patterson.

It was the first summer of their son, Brooks Stuart's, life and the first summer they owned the Clarkston Dairy Queen.

Besides their newest family member, the Pattersons share their home in Deer Wood subdivision with Dayne, 12, Shawn, 10, and Mary Margaret, 3.

"Brooks has always maintained he wanted to own a Dairy Queen," Kathy said, "and one day he came home and said, 'I bought the Dairy Queen, and guess who is going to run it?'"

Their son was born Feb. 9 and eight days later, Kathy was at work at their new store.

She and her father, Stu Coleman, manage the Dairy Queen during the day and Brooks, who is the Oakland County prosecutor, closes the store in the evenings.

"We toot horns as we pass Rudy's," Brooks joked about driving past each other going to and from the store, and the lack of time they've been able to spend together this summer.

"It's been a good business venture, but we're looking forward to raising the family," he added, referring to closing the Dairy Queen for the winter. "Actually, we haven't been to a movie."

The most difficult part of starting the business for Kathy, though, was leaving her new baby, she said.

But her mother offered to baby sit and the children and their grandmother share a mutual affection, she said.

As the Pattersons sat in their family room talking about their newest adventure, their four children gathered around to listen and add their comments.

Dayne's activities are playing football for the Clarkston Chiefs and school right now.

A recent game the Chiefs won at the Pontiac Silverdome was especially fun, he said.

"It's so exciting when you're on the field and you look up and see the lights and the lights said Dayne plays defense and on the varsity team."

Shawn is the cheerleader for the Clarkston Junior Varsity team, and likes chess, gymnastics.

Shawn practices her gymnastic skills on bars constructed by Brooks in the backyard.

Brooks and Dayne take time for some one-on-one basketball practice.

More Country Living

her older brother pointed out, was busy taking notes just like the visiting reporter.

Eight-month-old Brooks provides a little quick-crawl interference for his sister, but is quickly distracted, and adds his smiles and laughter to the conversation.

The family scene is a preview to their planned winter break now that the Dairy Queen is closed.

"We're looking forward to using the fireplace and watching the logs burn all winter long," Kathy said.

"We burn eight cords of wood and make Gallo winery very happy," Brooks added.

Although the entire family hasn't been able to do things as a group this summer, Brooks and Kathy each take one of the older children on dinner or movie outings and manage to attend the Clarkston Chief's dinner dance, American Legion functions and Wednesday Night Dance Club.

Their family is large by modern standards, but the Pattersons are happy with lots of children around.

"If I had my druthers," we'd have four more; we'd have eight," Brooks said.

"I enjoy my sisters and brothers so much that I thought these kids would enjoy themselves," he said. "Hopefully these kids will be as close as I am with my sisters and brothers and Kathy is with hers."

The large family means that everyone has to pitch in and help, a factor which could contribute to their closeness, Kathy said.

"We love this house and I think when you're happy with your surroundings, it really shows on the kids," she added. "I think it's a naturalness—you all just help each other."

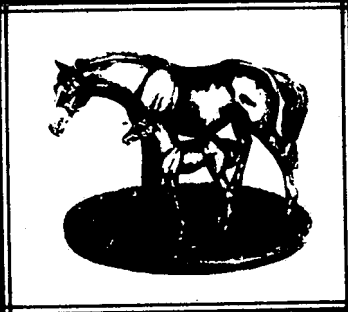

"Dayne's friends are always amazed, because he's holding the baby or wiping Mary Margaret's nose," she said.

An antique wagon, a gift to Brooks from Kathy, sits outside the Pattersons' Independence Township home.

Pine Knobbing

Midler wraps up season with outrageous humor

As Delores DeLago, the Toast of Chicago, Bette Midler appears in a sequined mermaid outfit which requires her to get more than vocal assistance from her hula-skirted backup group, the Lago-Rhythms.

Bette Midler, who is well on her way to making outrageousness an art form, closed the Pine Knob Music Theatre season on a high note over the weekend.

Midler delighted large audiences Thursday through Saturday by singing and sleazing her way through a mixture of moods. She has the ability to sensitively render a torch tune — like "The Rose," title song from her new film — then tickle the crowd's risibility with a series of Jokes From the Toilet.

Her act — full of actions and words that could be tasteless from a lesser talent — works so well because she projects a quality of "Don't take anything — especially me — seriously."

The oft-too-serious subject she has the most fun with is sex. With a well-rounded body topped with Brobdingnagian breasts, Midler could be a serious sex object.

But her whole demeanor is a spoof of such an attitude, with her mincing, high-heeled walk, Mae West-type drawl and (for the moment) frizzy blond hair that looks like it belongs on a strung-out poodle.

She encases said body in such skin-tight outfits as a lavender, spangled dress with a slit up the back bisected with a tassel hanging from her derriere.

She jokes a lot about her bosom but also is able to poke fun at flab on her upper arms. Her humor, largely sex-oriented, frequently strays into the iconoclastic.

"Queen Elizabeth is the whitest woman in the world. She's so white she makes the rest of us look like The Third World."

"Grosse Pointers are vogue on the outside, vague on the inside."

A highlight of the evening was her appearance as Delores DeLago, the Toast of Chicago, with her backup group, the Lago-Rhythms.

Still, though humor made for a substantial portion of the evening's entertainment, Midler's not all "trash with flash."

She can sing, in a variety of styles — from the bouncy "In the Mood" and "Big Noise from Winnetka" to the bluesy "Stay With Me" and the touching "Millworker."

And usually Midler varied the moods nicely. But a second-half pantomime about an old woman and a park bench went on too long, especially when it was followed by two slow ballads.

She seemed to realize the show was dragging, and moved to a medley of "Ready to Begin Again" and "Do You Want to Dance?," but the audience that had been thoroughly hers begin drifting out. Many of them didn't stay for her encores, which included her hit, "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy."

"Low rates are a big reason we're the largest home insurer. But there are more..."

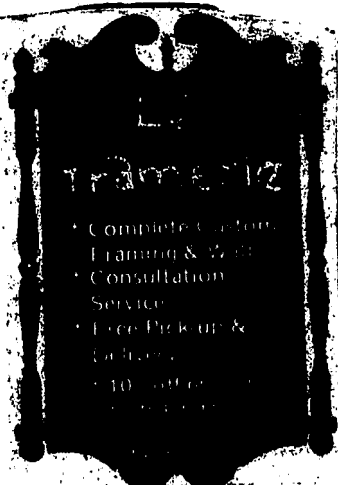

Low rates wouldn't mean much without our first class service. Drop by, or give me a call.

'Family-less' man finds he isn't so alone

By Kathy Greenfield

Fred Willockx always figured he had relatives in Belgium, because his grandparents hailed from the country.

But he was surprised and pleased when two overseas cousins tracked him down with help from the American Embassy in Belgium, and arrived last week for a visit.

"I'm still floating," Fred said.

"You have no family then all of a sudden, you do."

Because Fred, as well as both his parents, were only children, there are no relatives on his side except the Willockxes' four children, his wife Theresa said.

"He's thrilled to death," she said. "It's almost a gift to him."

Fred's cousins Mary Paul del Bruyere and Christine de Vuyst, brought with them a genealogy study that has deepened the family's heritage.

The family tree dating back to the 1500's that Mary Paul's son compiled in French was translated into English by Christine's mother and presented to the Willockxes along with a family crest.

Comparing lifestyles and delving into family history have been ongoing topics since the guests arrived.

It was dark outside when the two visitors arrived at the Willockxes' Springfield Township home on Big Lake.

When they awoke the next morning, Mary Paul, who now lives in Brussels, was reminded of the Belgian Congo where she and her family lived before the country became independent.

"It made her think of the colonial life in Africa — same trees, same water, same way of living," said Christine, who speaks English and served as translator between the Willockxes and Mary Paul, who speaks French and Flemish.

Christine works in reservations for a travel bureau in Lede, where she lives.

"It has always been expensive for us to come to America," she said, "so it became possible when the fare was reduced. You hear so much about America, it's nice to see."

"The rate of exchange for the American dollar has gone down," Fred added. "They can get more for their money, so they can afford to come."

Although incomes are comparable in both countries, higher taxes result in take-home pay of about half of Belgian resident's salaries, Fred said.

In addition, they pay more taxes if they own such items as television sets or cars and gasoline costs $4 a gallon.

Voting is required in Belgium — the first time a resident fails to vote, he gets fined and the third time, he loses all civil rights including his passport and opportunity to be employed by the government, Christine said.

America is large, as she expected, but after their arrival to New York by airplane and a frustrating search for information, it took four hours to locate their nearby hotel.

"I did not expect that in the United States," Christine said.

Mary Paul and Christine were planning to go by bus to other places in America, but a tour with descriptions and hotel accommodations along the way is nonexistent.

So they plan to fly to such spots as the Grand Canyon, New Orleans and back to New York City.

The Willockxes are planning a trip to Belgium in a couple of years, where Christine said they have 50 to 60 other relatives.

And many old photographs in the family album have been identified by the Belgian visitors as family members across the Atlantic.

Fire safety class

A student at NWOVEC grabbed the wrong fire extinguisher to put out a fire some time back, and the school started its fire safety program. The Independence Township Fire Department provides classroom instruction and a practical demonstration of the types of extinguishers that work on gasoline fires is provided by the Springfield Township Fire Department. Students enrolled in programs where fires could occur—like shop courses and food preparation—receive the instruction. Here, Jeff Queen of Waterford Township, demonstrates the effectiveness of the extinguisher on a roaring fire.

The decision as to whether to rent or buy a motorcycle scooter may depend on where the traveler happens to be. In Europe, it is often cheaper to buy one than to rent. This is also true in the Orient. But in the Caribbean and Bermuda, renting a moped or scooter makes the most sense. This is particularly true since the usual stay for the traveler is for between one and two weeks. But, if one is a serious cyclist and is planning an extended tour, it is worth it to contact the particular distributor and ask about purchase plans abroad.

You'll find it's well worth the time it takes to talk to our experienced people at CLARKSTON TRAVEL BUREAU INC., 6 N. Main St., 625-0325 before you make arrangements for any type of travel. We're conveniently located in downtown Clarkston with ample parking facilities. Our staff has traveled widely and can probably eliminate those knawing doubts you have on unknown places. Open: Mon thru Fri 9:30am-5:30pm, Sat 9:30am-1pm.

PSB's new branch provides drive-in service

Pontiac State Bank has opened a new branch office on Dixie Highway at the corner of Maybee Road, to attract new business and provide drive-in service for regular customers using the PSB office at 15 S. Main.

"This is a satellite of the Main Street branch," assistant branch manager Denise Schons said of the new facility. "There wasn't any room to build a drive-in window in the village, and as the area continues to expand there will be a definite need for both branches."

Three of the new building's walls are the remnants of a gasoline station, but visitors to the bank would be hard pressed to find any clues to the office's former identity.

The interior design is in an Early American motif.

"People have been telling us what an asset our new building is to the area," said Martha Wheeler, manager of both Clarkston and area branches. "Naturally, we're all feeling very proud."

But while the bank's aesthetics may be reminiscent of simpler times, the equipment and services are among the most modern available.

"The surveillance system, the protective glass and the drive-in system are all the very latest," Wheeler said. "Some of the equipment is just out of the experimental stage."

One of the innovations is a sort of go-cart and track system for the drive-in service.

Older systems use plastic tubes which move between customer and teller by air pressure, limiting the amount of weight which can be moved.

Occasionally, customers would overfill the tubes with coins, causing the carriage to get stuck while in transit.

In the new system, the carriages actually move on a small track, increasing the limited weight capacity to forestall breakdowns.

With the opening, Pontiac State Bank has 18 branches in the north Oakland County area.

"We have an excellent staff and excellent equipment," Wheeler concluded, "everything we need to provide the customer with every banking service they require."

Pontiac State Bank assistant branch manager Denise Schons (left) and manager Martha Wheeler stand proudly in the Clarkston area's newest banking facility on Dixie Highway.

Village Haberdashery: new look for new store

The faces are the same, but the Village Haberdashery in the Clarkston Mills has a new name and new owners.

Dan Kelly of Fenton and Delores Priebe of Independence Township are owners of the men's clothing store that opened at the former location of the Saratoga Trunk.

Kelly was previously the manager of the store and Priebe was tailor and salesperson.

The two decided to buy the business in June after working together for nearly a year and to maintain the "attitude of personal warmth, service and everything that goes along with it," Kelly said.

New fixtures in the store include an added seating area for customers, new lines of clothing and rustic touches like antique accent pieces.

Monogramming, home delivery and alterations are also services the haberdashy offers.

The clothing at the store has a country-English look with prices ranging from $11.50 to $95 for sweaters and $75 to $165 for sportcoats.

The haberdashery opens at 10 a.m. Monday through Saturday and closes at 8 p.m. on Monday, 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, and 9 p.m. on Friday.

It is located at 20 W. Washington, Clarkston.

Owners of the new Village Haberdashery are Dan Kelley and Delores Priebe.

New games festival Sunday

It's how you play the game that counts with the New Games philosophy of physical activity.

There are no losers—and the participants win an increased understanding of how goals can be accomplished through cooperation rather than competition.

A New Games Festival is being organized at Springfield Oaks Activities Center as a celebration of the International Year of the Child.

The event is scheduled for noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

People of all ages are invited to take a picnic lunch and wear playclothes for an afternoon of fun.

No athletic ability is required for New Games, just a desire to interact creatively with others.

The games are physical, non-competitive outdoor activities in which people work as partners, not as opponents.

Participants challenge their own abilities rather than opponents.

Sponsors of the festival are Campfire of North Oakland, 4-H, Jewish Community Center, Metropolitan Detroit Campfire, Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission, Red Cross Youth, Southern Oakland Girl Scouts and the YMCA of Milford.

Admission is free to the festival, but there is a $1 parking fee at the center, 12451 Andersonville, Springfield Township.

For further information, call 625-8133 or 634-9371

New arrival

Jerry and Annette Whitehead welcomed their son Jason Leon to the world Sept. 21.

Jason was born at 4:15 p.m. and weighed 6 pounds, 11 ounces.

The Whiteheads of Spring Lake, N.C., are former Clarkston residents. Jerry is presently stationed at Pope Air Force Base.

Jason's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Donnelly of Burgandy Road, Independence Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Whitehead of Oak Park Street, Independence Township.

Great-grandmothers are Celia Soldan of Kalkaska, Avenelle Deem and Thelma Donnelly.

Jason also has a great-great-grandmother, Gertrude Deem.

Sworn in

Paul T. Thomas of Clarkston has been sworn in as a trooper in the Michigan State Police and has been assigned to the Negaunee post. Thomas, a 1971 graduate of Clarkston High School, is following the same career chosen by his brother Dan, a trooper at the Ypsilanti MSP post. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas of Ortonville Road.

College notes

Lori Anderson is one of 16 Alma College seniors student teaching during the fall term.

She is teaching fourth grade at Luce Road School, Alma, under teacher Sandra Vibber.

A 1976 Clarkston High School graduate, Lori is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Anderson of Cramlane Road, Independence Township.

Mrs. Orville Anthony Tati

Bennett, Tati marry

Susan Jane Bennett and Orville Anthony Tati were married Sept. 22 at Good Shephard Chapel, Caledonia, Ohio.

The Rev. Jo Anna Brooks performed the afternoon wedding ceremony.

The bride, a 1978 Clarkston High School graduate, is the daughter of Robert Joseph Bennett of Ortonville and Mrs. Bruce Olson of Washington Street, Clarkston.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams of Marion, Ohio.

The bride's father and her step father Bruce Olson gave her in marriage.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Shari Bennett of Clarkston.

Best man was the bridegroom's uncle, Keith Johnson of Marion, Ohio.

Terri Lynn Hamilton, the bridegroom's cousin, of Marion, Ohio, was flower girl.

Ring bearer was Erik Olson of Clarkston, the bride's brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Tati are residing in Marion, Ohio.

Recipe File

By Lorna Bickerstaff

With apples as plentiful as they are, now's a good time to put Hilda Lowrie's apple dumpling recipe to use.

Apple Dumplings

Make enough pastry for a two-crust 9-inch pie, cut it into six squares large enough to wrap apples.

Boil together for three minutes the following:

- 1 c sugar
- 2 c water
- 3 T butter
- ¼ t cinnamon

Fill cavities of six apples with mixture of: (Peel and core)

- ½ c sugar
- 1½ t cinnamon

Dot with ½ T butter.

Place apples on each square of pastry. Fill core cavity with sugar and cinnamon mixture. Dot with butter.

Bring opposite points of pastry up over the apple, overlap, moisten and seal.

Lift carefully. Place a little apart in baking dish. Pour hot syrup around dumplings. Bake at 425 degrees for 40-45 minutes.

Coping with kids

Children copy bad traits as well as good

Mr. McRae was a good father in several ways.

He was a hard worker and had a fierce sense of pride in his family. He thought highly of his children, especially his sons. He frequently included his sons in his hobbies, which numbered among them sports and electronics.

Ten-year-old Donny McRae had to be like his father. He liked the same things and even walked the same.

Unfortunately, Mr. McRae had some things about him that his wife thought were less than admirable. He tended to be explosive in his temperament and often resorted to physical punishment. That was another way that Donny was like his father.

When Donny's sister, who was only 5, did something that Donny did not like, he would hit or spank the little girl. He continued to do this, despite warnings from both his mother and father.

His argument was that he was only doing what his father would do.

Donny has identified with his father.

Identification is a concept that derives from Freud and refers to the process that leads a child to think, feel and behave as though the characteristics of another person belong to him.

Identification is not conscious nor deliberate.

And with a strong parent, it may be an important source of security. By taking in the parent's strength and adequacy, the child can feel himself to be more adequate.

Mothers and fathers who have numerous desirable and nurturing qualities are more likely to be readily identified with. When parents are warm, kind and accepting, the youngster will view their behavior as rewarding and consequently want to be like them and act like them.

However, identification with an undesirable part of a parent or even of a feared or hated mother or father is also frequently seen.

When a parent is very aggressive or rejecting and the child still identifies with him or her, the mental and psychological mechanism might be referred to as "identification with the aggressor."

This aspect of child development seen in some families has a defensive value.

A young boy or girl can protect himself from anxiety and fear and feelings of inadequacy by internalizing the attitudes and values of the aggressive parent. In extreme cases, such children exposed to very cruel or abusive parents may become early in life cruel to other children or pets and later in life show, along with some personal strengths, unhealthy and aggressive characteristics, sometimes with a lack of suitable conscience or guilt.

In our society, aggression tends to be sex-typed as a male characteristic. Children who are exposed to aggressive models, however, whether the child is male or female, will show more aggressiveness in their play with other children.

Young boys who identify with their father will, if that father is aggressive in his punishment, display a resemblance in aggressive behavior.

Things to do

Activities outside the Clarkston-Springfield-Independence area

A benefit fashion show and card party Oct. 11 will bolster the Chris Mihalek Memorial Fund, established to furnish a new pediatrics playroom at Pontiac General Hospital.

The fund was set up to honor Chris, whose mother Gayle works for Dr. James O'Neill of Clarkston, after the 10-year-old boy died as a victim of cystic fibrosis.

The card party and fashion show, sponsored by Gamma Theta Chapter of Sigma Beta Sorority, and will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the All Star Restaurant at Featherstone and Opdyke in Pontiac. Clothes modeled will be from Dancers Fashions of Waterford Township.

Tickets, at $7.50, can be ordered by calling 673-3188.

Humorist Sam Levenson will open the Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall's 1979-80 season Oct. 10 at Roma's of Bloomfield Township.

His lecture, entitled "Humorous Observations," is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. and can be attended only by those who have season tickets. The tickets are still available at $20 by calling Mrs. Thomas Follis at 335-9835, Mrs. Glenn Baker at 682-4995 or Mrs. Robert Bego at 332-8228. Season ticket holders can also make reservations for a celebrity luncheon following the talk.

A coin show and sale will be held at Meadowbrook Village Mall in Avon Township this weekend by the Pontiac Coin Club, under the auspices of the Michigan Numismatic Association.

Over 20 dealers from Michigan and out of state will display and sell gold, silver, foreign and type coins along with paper currency.

A potluck dinner and program entitled "Families Facing Change" will kick off the new season for the Waterford Branch of the American Association of University Women Oct. 4.

All Clarkston-Waterford area women who are college graduates are welcome to attend the 6:30 p.m. meeting at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, 3795 Sashabaw, Waterford Township. For further information, call 681-0534 or 623-1875.

Autumn Harvest Weekend, Oct. 5-7, at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

Weekend will feature antique machinery, newly pressed apple cider, antique tractor pull and costumed craftspersons splitting rails, churning butter and other activities. No charge beyond regular Village admission—adults $3.75, children 6-12 $1.75 and children under 6 free.

"Coppelia," a full-length comedy ballet, will be performed by the Flint Ballet Theatre at the Flint Auditorium, Sunday,

Oct. 14, to benefit the March of Dimes. The ballet is about a mischievous girl who disguises herself as a doll to teach her fickle fiancé a lesson. In addition to this production, the children's group of the Flint Ballet Theatre will do six sequences in a group entitled "Folklore Festival." Performances at 2 and 6:30 p.m. are scheduled under the slogan "We Dance so that Others may walk." Tickets, which are $3, $4 and $5 for adults are $1, $2 and $3 for children, can be ordered by calling 239-6772.

Carmen Cavallaro, tenor, and Martha Windsheif, violinist, will be featured at the Oct. 9 meeting of the Tuesday Musicales of Pontiac.

The 1 p.m. program will follow a noon salad luncheon at Central Methodist Church, 3882 Highland, Waterford Township. New members are welcome.

"Peter and the Wolf," the symphonic fairy tale as written by Serge Prokofiev, will be performed by the Pontiac Oakland Symphony Orchestra in a special "children's concert" at the Pontiac Mall Saturday, Oct. 6. Performances under the direction of David Daniels will be given at 2 and 3 p.m. Admission is free.

A multimedia fine art show by Oakland County artists will continue through Sunday, Oct. 7 at the Pontiac Mall.

Entitled "Reflections," the show and sale is sponsored by the Pontiac Society of Artists and is in the south mall of the shopping center at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads in Waterford Township.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" opens 1979-80 season for Hilberry Theatre Wednesday, Oct. 17, at Detroit's Wayne State University.

Pulitzer Prize-winning dramatization of the diary of a 13-year-old Jewish girl in hiding from the Nazis during World War II will officially open following a special benefit performance Tuesday, Oct. 16, for International Year of the Child activities.

Tickets for the shows, as well as information about the Hilberry and Bonstelle 1979-80 seasons are available at the WSU box office, Cass and Hancock, Detroit 48202, telephone 577-2972. Tickets are also available through J. L. Hudson ticket offices and Detroit area colleges and universities. PUBLIC NOTICE

ABSENTEE BALLOTS FOR SPECIAL ELECTION
OCTOBER 16, 1979

Voters may vote absentee ballot in the October 16 Special Election if they qualify in one of the following categories:

I expect to be absent from the community in which I am registered for the entire time the polls are open on election day.

I am physically unable to attend the polls without the assistance of another.

I cannot attend the polls because of the tenets of my religion.

I have been appointed an election precinct inspector in a precinct other than the precinct where I reside.

I am 60 years of age or older.

I cannot attend the polls because I am confined to jail awaiting arraignment or trial.

Independence Township residents who qualify and wish to vote absentee ballot should call the Clerk's Office at 625-5111 or write the Clerk at 90 N. Main Street, Clarkston, MI for an application for absentee voter's ballot.

The deadline for applying for absentee ballots to be mailed is Saturday, October 13, 1979 at 2:00 p.m.; however, voters qualified may vote in the Clerk's Office until 2:00 p.m. on October 15, 1979.

Qualified voters will be voting on the following Proposals:

PROPOSAL "A"

"Should the Independence Township Zoning Ordinance #83 under Article XXI Recreational District be amended under Section 21.03, to add as a permitted use after conditional approval: #2. Convention - Resort - Hotel Facilities with a minimum site size of ten (10) acres."

PROPOSAL "B"

"Shall the Township levy 3/10 of a mill (30c per $1,000 assessed valuation) in excess of the constitutional limitation for a period of five (5) years for the purpose of purchasing a site of approximately 80 acres north of Clarkston-Orion Road and west of Sashabaw Road (commonly known as part of the proposed gravel pit site) for use by the Township for a civic center, park or such other purposes as may be decided by the Township Board?" Said millage will be used to purchase the land directly, or it will be used to repay bonds which will be sold to purchase the land.

ADVISORY QUESTION "C"

"Should the heights limitation as contained in the Independence Township Zoning Ordinance be increased from 35 ft. to 200 ft. in Recreational Districts?"

NOTE: Village residents are only eligible to vote on PROPOSAL "B". Township residents will be voting on Proposals "A", "B" and Advisory Question "C".

Players work behind scenes before scenes are staged

Judy Rood gets a once-over with stage makeup from Doris Libstaff, who'll prepare the players for the limelight on the Depot Theatre stage.

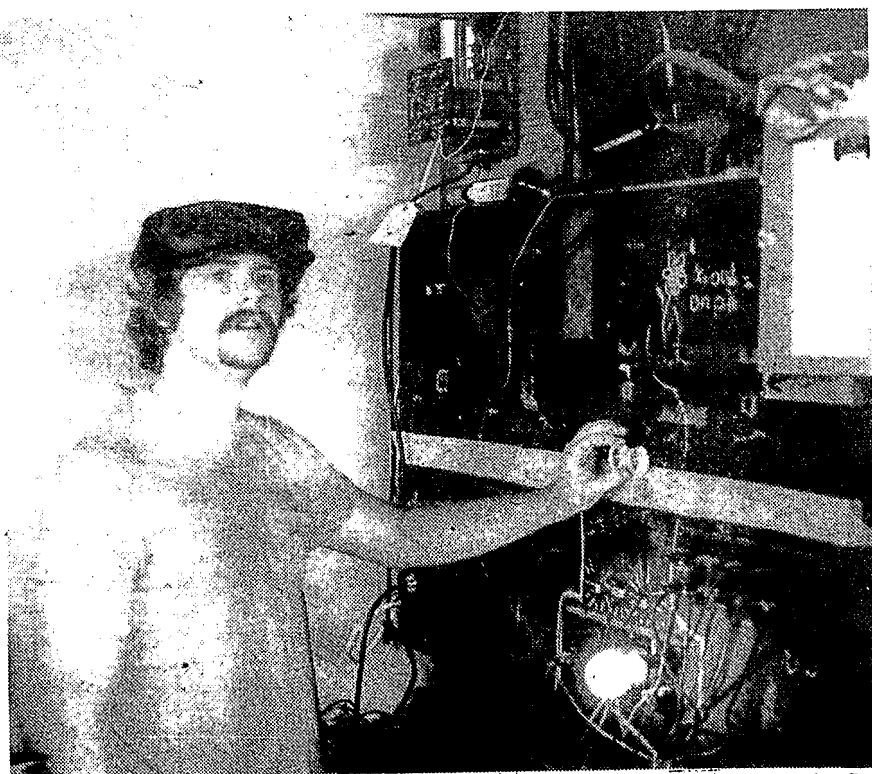

Putting together a styrofoam bookcase, as Russ Inman does here, is just one of the tasks taking pre-performance time at the Depot Theatre as the Clarkston Village Players get ready for their Oct. 12 season opener, "The Cat and the Canary."

Jan Malane discovers an amusing assortment of old hats in a bag borrowed from the costume closet.

Those who have dreams of seeing their names in lights frequently find themselves doing time on the lightboard as part of the chore-sharing of community theater. Larry Bate, a member of the cast of "The Cat and the Canary," makes a behind-the-scenes adjustment of the lighting of a scene.
