Here's to happy Halloween

Halloween beggars can be choosy about safety.

Trick-or-treaters should be on the trail for goodies from 6 to 7 p.m., according to a recommendation by the Independence Township Board and township police services.

Other precautions suggested by police are flame-resistant costumes, reflective tape on the back and front of costumes and double bags or containers with handles so there is no scrambling on highways to pick up dropped treats.

Parents should inspect loose candy and all apples before children start nibbling, police suggest. Any suspicious items should be reported to police.

MacDonald's Restaurant at 6695 Dixie Highway, Independence Township, will have metal detectors on hand from 6:30 to 10 p.m. to check treat bags. The program is co-sponsored by McDonald's, the Michigan State Police and The Clarkston News.

Free coffee will be provided for parents of children having their candy checked.

Face painting instead of masks is suggested by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Beginning Oct. 29 through noon on Oct. 31, makeup sheets with instructions for a rag doll, clown, skeleton and cat are to be available free at the 55 Auto Club offices across the state.

Also suggested are short costumes so they won't trip tiny feet and making sure youngsters dress in bright colors so they can be seen by motorists.

Caution by parents and children will help make Halloween '79 safe for everyone.

Gravel pit purchase plans underway

By Kathy Greenfield

In the wake of last week's special election, steps toward a property purchase are underway, and the proposed Pine Knob hotel remains on the zoning board of appeals agenda tonight.

Township attorney Richard Campbell said he has written to Norman Hyman, attorney for the Edward C. Levy Co. of Detroit, asking for negotiations on the purchase of 80 acres, part of a proposed 23-year gravel mining operation.

"If we can't purchase it peacefully, I guess we'll have to condemn it," Campbell said.

The first step is to offer to buy the property at fair market value, he said, and if the offer is declined, the matter goes to court.

Last week, 72 percent of the voters approved higher taxes to buy 80 acres of the 487-acre mining operation proposed west of Clarkston-Orion Road and south of Sashabaw Road.

The 3 mill for five years means taxes will increase by 30 cents for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

The township board unanimously authorized Campbell to proceed with condemnation of the property if necessary at last night's meeting.

The millage passed by voters will raise about $350,000, enough to cover the property purchase, legal fees and interest on bonds, according to Treasurer Frederick Ritter who made the ballot proposal to the township board.

Dubbed the "Stop the Gravel Pit Proposal," the 80-acre purchase is to be part of a larger effort.

Through the Michigan Land Trust Bill the state is considering buying between 200 and 300 acres of the property to protect the Clinton River Watershed.

Although the Levy Co. says it will not mine in the Watershed area, supporters of the purchase, including State Sen. Kerry Kammer (D-Pontiac), contend that the land needs protection because of its unique characteristics and environmental sensitivity.

On the Pine Knob hotel front, lines on the official township zoning map show the area of the proposed 600-room, ski-run-roof hotel zoned for multiple family dwellings.

Pine Knob says that according to all other maps, the site is zoned recreational and that an error was made in drawing the map.

"I've recommended to the appeals board that they meet for the purpose of setting proper zoning boundaries, because that's still a question," Campbell said.

If the appeals board decides the official map stands, Pine Knob would have to request rezoning.

Because of the election results, Campbell said he also recommended the appeals board dismiss agenda items on the height and use of recreational districts for convention-resort-hotels.

Of the approximately 4,480 votes cast in the special election, 71 percent were against allowing convention-resort-hotels as a use for recreational districts.

On the advisory question asking if height limitations should be increased from 35 feet to 200 feet in recreational districts, 75 percent of township voters said, "No."

Township to review hunting ban

A public hearing to consider elimination of hunting in one-third of Independence Township is scheduled Wednesday, Oct. 31.

On the docket are a four-square-mile area north of Waldon Road and east of M-15 and all areas south of I-75 with the exception of waterfowl hunting on Greens Lake.

The Hunting Area Control Committee public hearing is set for 7 p.m. at Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main, Clarkston.

The four-member committee consists of township Supervisor

Whitey Tower and a representative from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR), Oakland County Sheriff's Department and Michigan State Police.

"No hunting" requests for any other township areas can also be made at the meeting, Tower said.

"That's the place to take petitions," he said.

Those with requests for open-hunting areas south of I-75 should also attend the meeting, he said.

"It's the only process we have rather than blanket all areas south of I-75 closed," Tower said. "They might have a 20-acre parcel that the family wants to hunt on—they could ask for an exemption."

A map at township hall shows where hunting is now allowed in the township.

The public hearing is the first of two usually scheduled to change hunting areas, Tower said.

The committee is to make recommendations and the DNR makes the final decision, he said.

Home improvement

Private citizens can join community leaders and housing specialists at a one-day conference on rehabilitating homes with the assistance of Community Development funds.

The workshop is scheduled for Oct. 31 by the Oakland County Department of Community Development. It will be held at the Management Education Center in Troy.

Historic preservation, weatherization, loans and grants and opportunities for contractors will be among the topics.

The $5 includes lunch. For registration information, call 858-0196.

Shoplifting: Hardly anyone does it for economic reasons

By Maralee Cook

"For kicks"... "Impulse"... "It's a trend today".

These are answers given by kids caught at various Perry Drug Stores when asked the question, "Why did you steal?"

Shoplifting, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is the fastest growing kind of larceny in America. In this area, the attitudes toward those who commit the crimes, as well as those of the criminals, are varied.

Apprehensions of shoplifters at Perry Drug stores are up 23 percent for 1979, which is an average of 30 persons per month. Juveniles 16 years of age and younger make up 60 percent of the total shoplifting corps. Ninety percent are younger than 29.

While the Perry Drug stores have found that juveniles are doing most of the shoplifting, and more for kicks than out of economic need, that is not necessarily the case for some stores in Independence Township.

Lou Goldfaden of Wonder Drugs says he has no idea which age group is stealing more than another, only that the amount being stolen from his store is "terrible."

Goldfaden has seen an increase in the theft items such as aspirin, Geritol, Maalox, eye drops and support hose. He said he caught two persons in their 60s last week shoplifting such items, and Goldfaden said he really felt sorry for them.

Goldfaden added that he understands the problems seniors have living on fixed incomes, and that they are stealing because of a real economic need.

Most juveniles steal items like toys, cosmetics, magazines and candy, Goldfaden said.

"Acne preparations are the biggest loss we can positively see," he continued, "because of the empty boxes left on the shelves."

Yet Goldfaden can also understand that problem, because the price for that item has risen from 98 cents to $3 and $4.

'Acne preparations are the biggest loss we can positively see.'

-Drug store manager

Hallman Apothecary, on Main Street, Clarkston, also has more acne preparations and cosmetics stolen than anything else, according to Larry Max, pharmacist.

Their biggest loss used to be candy, but a recent change in store layout, making the candy available only by asking a cashier, has deterred thefts somewhat. Max says a very rough estimate of losses per year is about $1500.

Joan Kopietz, co-owner with her husband of Tierra Arts and Design on Main Street, says that shoplifting is not a major problem for them. And while they are now experiencing more stealing in their store, it is because they carry more merchandise, she said.

"In the bead business," said Kopietz, "we plan on losing 15 percent of the beads."

Joe Faino, manager of the Perry Drug store at the Harvard Plaza in Waterford Township, said that shoplifting is a real problem. "We have a lot of it," he said, adding that mostly teenagers are doing the stealing.

"He has found that the items most often stolen are cosmetics, automotive accessories and, in the summer, fishing rods and reels. Recently transferred to this area from Detroit, Faino didn't expect to see as much shoplifting here because it is mostly middle class.

"I think it's a game to them," he said, adding that he's caught kids stealing a $2 item when they have $20 or $30 in their pockets.

Perry Drug stores, in an effort to curb the rise in shoplifting in their outlets, has begun an intense program to combat the problem.

According to William Krupka, assistant vice president of corporate security for Perry Drug stores, youthful shoplifting stems, in large part, from the fact that many youngsters have never been taught by their parents or in school to think of shoplifting as a crime.

"It's better to stop them than to catch them," said Faino.

Perry stores have put security clips on merchandise, making it harder to remove the items from the shelves, installed two-way mirrors for better surveillance of the store, and instructed employees how to properly observe persons to detect the often obvious signs of a possible theft.

The policy now held by Perry stores is to prosecute every shoplifter. The only exceptions are pre-teenagers and instances where evidence is technically lacking.

While calling the police is sometimes necessary for Independence Township stores, some find that calling parents of teenagers caught shoplifting is enough.

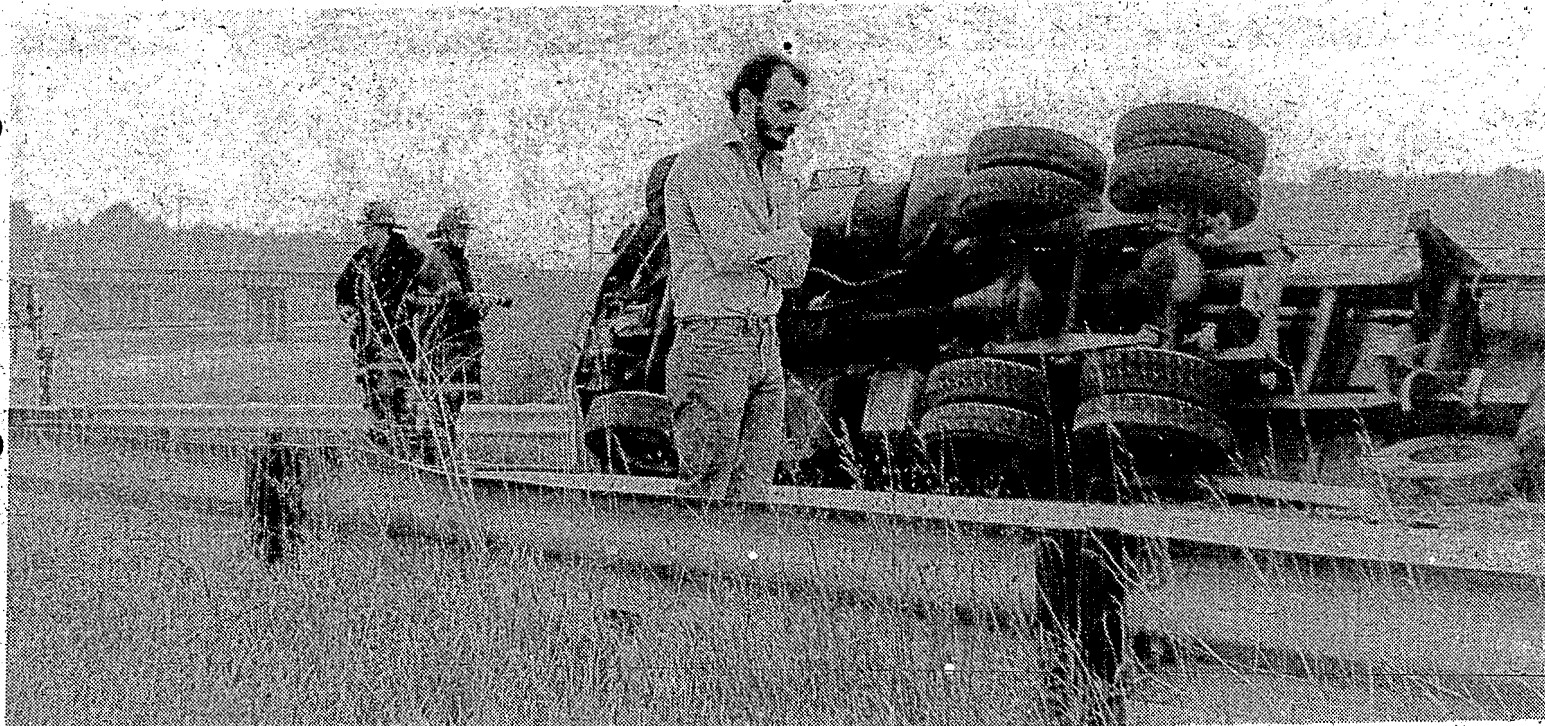

Kopietz said that parents often bring kids back with stolen items to apologize.

Kopietz apprehended one young teen outside her store with a stolen item and explained the ways in which stealing hurts their business. That girl has since become one of Kopietz' best customers.

Kopietz, Max and Goldfaden say shoplifting is just part of the cost of doing business, and as yet make no compensation in pricing for the loss.

According to Charles Kimbel, director of Independence Township Police Services, shoplifting on Main Street is not as prevalent as in shopping centers.

He added that shoplifting takes place more often in larger stores and that the shopping centers at Maybee and Sashabaw roads and at Dixie and M-15 are the hardest hit.

Although his truck has thousands of dollars of damage and some 20 tons of gravel are lost down the side of the southbound I-75 entrance ramp on Sashabaw Road, driver

Russell Fraule walks away from the accident. "I didn't think this could happen," he says. "I never saw one tip. I get to see my own now."

Tricky turn catches gravel hauler

By Kathy Greenfield

An overturned truck dumped at least 20 tons of gravel down the side of the southbound I-75 entrance ramp at Sashabaw Road, Independence Township, and closed the ramp for about five-and-one-half hours Friday, according to police.

The accident occurred at about 10:30 a.m. when truck driver Russell J. Fraule of Warren was attempting a left-hand turn onto the ramp with a load of gravel from the Salem Sand and Gravel Plant on Oak Hill Road, Oxford Township.

Looking at his overturned truck, Fraule shook his head in disbelief, said he was lucky to walk away from the accident with minor injuries, and said the accident left him shaken.

"I didn't think this could happen," he said. "I never saw one tip. I get to see my own now."

The double tandem's cab and middle section overturned, crushing the guard rail and causing thousands of dollars of damage to the cab, police said.

No ticket was issued in the accident, said Charles Kimbel, director of township police services, but the trucking company would be responsible for damage to the road shoulder and guard rail, plus towing fees, loss of gravel and truck repairs.

At least four trucks have overturned on the ramp in the past three or four years, said township police officer Dirk Fenley and fire department Captain Dale Bailey.

"It's due to the design of the entrance ramp, because it tips the wrong way," Bailey said. "Most of the drivers get to the point where they know it—they slide around the first time and then they take it easy."

According to the police report, "tire marks on the ramp and on Sashabaw Road indicated speed too fast."

"I talked with two or three truck drivers," Kimbel said. "They said you have to be careful taking that kind of turn—the gravel shifts just like water."

The problem should be corrected when the proposed expressway entrance loop is constructed at the site, Kimbel said.

"The new ramp that's going in out there will stop this kind of thing," he said. "You have to make a square left-hand turn right now."

You CAN buy time

It's that time of year again—time for Michigan residents to move their clocks back one hour as the state goes back on standard time this weekend.

Following the "spring ahead, fall back" rule, the easiest way to change over is to set all your clocks and watches back one hour before going to sleep Saturday night. The official change takes place at 2 a.m. Sunday.

You'll not only be getting an extra hour of sleep, but early risers next week will be getting an extra hour of daylight as well—balanced off, of course, by the fact that darkness will start to settle in around 6 p.m. each evening.

Local road work in OCRC plans

Smoother rides on some Independence and Springfield township roads and curbs in the village of Clarkston are proposed by the Oakland County Road Commission as part of its 1980 budget.

Of the $10.8 million proposed road construction program, $418,000 is proposed to be spent on the local projects.

A public hearing is set for Nov. 7 prior to adoption by the county road commissioners.

The hearing will be simultaneous with a hearing on the commission's total 1980 budget of $34.9 million, and will be held at 8 p.m. in the Commissioners' Auditorium, Oakland County Service Center, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac.

COPIES OF your personal papers, etc., made while you wait. The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston; 25c first copy, the rest are less. 625-3370.

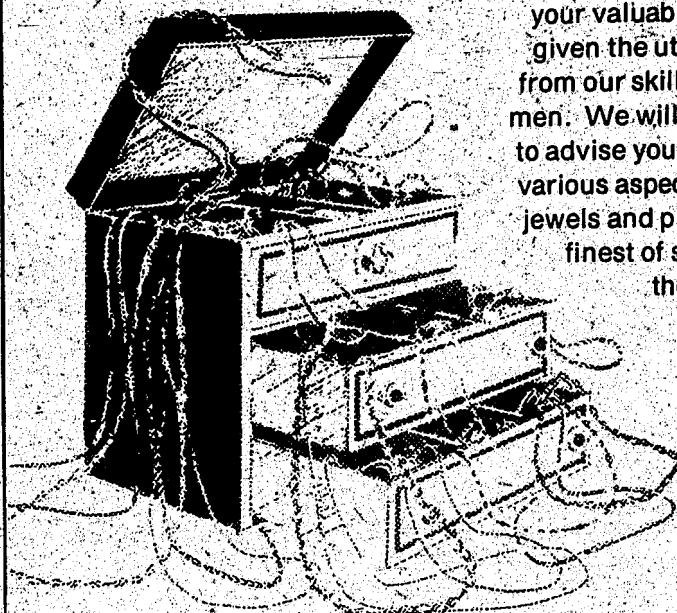

In Independence Township, Holcomb Road is to be paved for four-tenths mile from the Clarkston Village limit to near I-75 at a cost of $100,000 to be shared equally by the road commission and the township.

In Clarkston, Washington Street from M-15 to Holcomb will receive repaired or replaced curbing as needed at a cost of $8,000.

In Springfield Township, Big Lake Road is to be paved for one-tenth mile and a hill is to be lowered east of Andersonville Road at a cost of $50,000 to be shared equally by the road commission and the township.

In Springfield and White Lake townships, White Lake Road is to be paved for 1.2 miles from Andersonville to Orr Roads at a cost of $260,000 of which $195,000 is to be federal funds.

Election one battle

The result of last week's election in Independence Township were pretty impressive, as was the voter turnout.

When 40 percent of the registered voters go to the polls for a referendum election—and the tallies are as lopsided as they were here—that's a strong mandate.

The people have spoken, most emphatically.

They did not, however, bring a final resolution to either the hotel or the gravel pit issue. Would that it were that simple.

The voters have given strong ammunition to those opposed to construction of a high-rise hotel and those working to save a large chunk of Independence Township, including the headwaters of the Clinton River, from becoming a gravel pit.

But the wars involving the two issues are not over.

There will be further battles—in negotiations for the property designated as a gravel mine, in meetings of various boards and in courtrooms.

The vote was important—and now must be followed up with action on the part of officials and with vigilance on the part of those citizens who indicated they care.

Letters to the editor

Not impressed with vote

To the Editor:

It was a tremendous pleasure to see the results of the Pine Knob Hotel vote on Tuesday, October 16, 1979.

To think that those opposed to this fantastic venture could only come up with a total of 2,000 supporters while in only one month's time the Residents FOR the Pine Knob Hotel roused 1,000 supporters; which means there are 9,000 voters who are not opposed, and more than likely have a better understanding of economics, as in "today's economy."

To quote a line from one of Clarkston's very successful merchants, "you can't talk to somebody who doesn't think it is the hottest growth area around."

Developers have known this for years with their feasibility and marketing studies and planned subdivisions in all directions. Using techniques like "Ravines, lake access, lakefront, close to I-75, M-59, M-15, Meadowbrook, Alpine, Pine Knob, etc."

These new purchasers of these homes brought with them families or plans for families, requiring good fire and police protection.

New medical facilities continue to mushroom or expand, banks appear on every corner, the beautiful Deer Lake Racquet Club, and the elegant Clarkston Mills. Boutiques have sprung up on Main Street.

The Independence Township offices will be inadequate and will require new facilities and additional employees. People found their property values skyrocketed and took advantage to make fabulous profits. So you closet thinkers who oppose Pine Knob Hotel had better take a good look around because you are surrounded with people who live in the REAL world, today's.

History is fine to read about but we have to make it first and every day adds a new page.

I intend to stand up and be counted as one who is 100% FOR THE PINE KNOB HOTEL.

And to S.S. "Long Live the King."

Rep. Tomboulia replies to editorial

I had a good talk with Jim Sherman a few days ago. We came to a much better understanding about my bill to allow a township to publish in the newspaper only a synopsis of an adopted ordinance.

This bill does not embody a new concept. Already townships do not have to publish in the newspaper their lengthy building code ordinances. Last year, a new law gave townships the option to publish only a notice that a new zoning ordinance has been adopted, rather than to publish the entire text at length.

This change was welcomed by townships as a way to economize and to decrease red tape. No criticisms from citizens or the press were heard before or after this law was passed. My bill would simply extend the idea to cover all township ordinances, which under current law must be published at taxpayer expense in a newspaper.

During our conversation, I emphasized my over-riding concern that the public should be well-informed. I don't believe that the printing of lengthy ordinances written in legal terminology is an effective way to inform the public. Most people find these published ordinances confusing, difficult or tedious, and turn away having gained little information. Thus, township tax money has been spent with little benefit.

Instead, I believe that a short synopsis or a statement of the subjects covered in an ordinance, which my bill would allow, would actually be read and understood by many more readers.

This would increase the public's knowledge and awareness of local regulations, a real benefit to the community. The public and the press would retain every right to know what the government is doing.

All township meetings are already required to be open to the public, and the press would continue to report events of importance. Full copies of any ordinance are provided by township offices upon request, and township meeting minutes may be inspected by the public as well.

State Rep. Alice Tomboulia
Democrat - 61st District

Jim's jottings

Visiting isn't easy

by Jim Sherman

Don't visit a nursing home just once.

Make up your mind before you go that you will go back at least three times.

By then you will have some understanding, some compassion, and yes, some callousness. You might even find yourself wanting to return to see if there's someone you can visit or help.

Dad has accepted his surroundings pretty good in Pleasant View Hospital, Corunna. (Are all homes for aged and weary named Pleasant something?)

Except for having to have that darn bag with him wherever he goes, Dad could just as well be in his own home. Certainly, it isn't his mind that's keeping him confined.

He says he forgets a lot, but I don't know what it is. He remembers where everything is in his home and doesn't hesitate to send brother Dair or I after it... mostly Dair. He's the loyal, helpful one of the family.

Dad, now 87, still says he doesn't read anything I write, so I can say about anything about him and not get switched like I was as a youth for a wrong doing or two.

Now, there's a case where Dad's memory has failed. But it failed 20 years ago. He says he never spanked my sister nor I. Just my two brothers.

They definitely needed it much more, and harder, than Barb or I, but I felt the sting. Probably Barb didn't. Never could tell. She cried and carried on so much you'd think she was being tortured all the time.

Back to Pleasant View. The first day there, Dad was taken to the lunch room for lunch, naturally. He couldn't eat, and wouldn't eat there.

For a calloused, cursing old railroad man, Dad was shaken and disturbed at seeing a few folks sitting in wheel chairs, unable to hold their head upright, staring blankly, or mumbling.

One would keep repeating "Nurse, Nurse, Nurse."

You can hear others say, as you walk by, "Doesn't anyone come and see me?"

That's the one that gets to me.

So, since that first day, Dad is served in his room, sitting in a wheel chair. He doesn't spend a lot of time this way.

The rest of the day he situates himself near the nurse's area in the center of the hall.

That's where the action is. That's where he can tease an aide he's nicknamed "Useless", who comes in each day at the end of her shift to say "Good night".

I hope Dad keeps teasing the girls... more than that, I pray for all the hospital gals who let men like my father call them "Useless".

Letters to the editor

Election results gratifying

To the Editor:

Many thanks to the responsible voters of the township who went to the polls on Oct. 16.

At a time when much skepticism exists, relative to exercising our democratic rights, it is most gratifying to get a 40% response from the local citizens.

Many thanks are also due to the Gravel Isn't Green group and the committees working against the high rise and all who assisted them. The immeasurable time and effort donated by concerned and meaningful residents certainly played a large part in the voter turnout. May we continue to stand together in our efforts to protect our township whose "growing pains" will demand our solidarity.

At a ratio of approximately 3 to 1, the voters have imparted an important message to the township officials and to the court. We hope that both will heed the voice of the people.

If the Pine Knob developers had any respect for the township and its residents they would have been willing to compromise regarding the height of the proposed hotel. However, they chose to believe they could make us an offer we couldn't refuse.

At the same time, they were preparing a lawsuit to circumvent the will of the people if we did not choose to buy their proposal.

The developers, seeking court action, are truly saying, "We don't give a you-know-what about the wishes of the residents of Independence Township."

This attitude, indicating very poor relations with Pine Knob in the future, would make me think twice before I would approve of any proposals made by the Locricchios.

I greatly resent the comment allegedly made by attorney Anthony Locricchio that "scare tactics" and "lies" were used to induce people to vote against Proposals A and C.

To the best of my knowledge, the people fighting the high rise based their arguments on accurate facts and figures. Their presentation was commendably objective.

Three cheers for the voters of Independence Township and for the Clarkston News who generously offered space for a full discussion of all the issues!

Here's Herb

By Herb Rose

I was standing on a ladder the other day trying to drive nails into both ends of a 14-foot board at once when I was struck with the thought, what do people do with their time if they don't own old houses?

The time I put into my ignoble edifice if dollarized at $.18 per hour would amount to slightly more than the replacement costs of San Clemente.

I can visualize myself leaning into the wind at the tiller of a small sailboat that is skimming the water like a low flying bird, at peace with the world, a song in my heart.

Instead I find myself standing on the roof of my house; my left hand gripping the dormer window frame with strength born of stark terror and my left arm inexorably stretched so that no suit will ever fit as I lean outward to reach to the topmost gable.

There is a bucket of paint clenched in my teeth and an alternate brush jammed in my right ear. I do not have a song in my heart.

My only thought, other than a fervent prayer for survival, is a vitriolic diatribe directed at architects, builders and any one else associated with the construction trades.

I don't know how it will be done, but the next two story house I buy will be so configured that the dormer windows are at ground level.

Perhaps I could hone my chess skills to a keen edge but it is difficult to absorb the finer points of Lasker when you are upside down under the kitchen sink with your heels laying down a crazy paradiddle on the floor while your hands grapple with a plumbing fiasco that was obviously installed under the influence of a hallucinogenic drug and resembles nothing quite so much as an octopus playfully wrestling with its young.

The water dripping from pipes in a manner reminiscent of primitive torture induces a mindless funk where either chess or paddy cake is too great an intellectual challenge.

People that don't own old houses might develop a formidable tennis game or savor the 100 Great Books, but I would think they would still have time available.

ApMadoc asks citizen help

Dear Editor:

I am writing to ask for the help of the township and village residents.

Rep. Claude Trim (D-Davisburg), has informed us that the decision for M-275 is far from being settled.

There are three proposals that would be disastrous for the village.

Proposal C—Rosman Boulevard—is shown as stopping at M-59, but taking the same route as Proposals E and F.

Proposal E—Vivian 5 Lanes—actually comes into south M-15 at Dixie Highway, then continues through the village to tie into I-75.

Proposal F—Union Lake Freeway—follows E and F, but would come out at Dixie Highway, cross over run along the west side of Deer Lake.

Please, take a few minutes to write Rep. Claude Trim, State Capitol, Lansing, MI 48901.

He will send the letters to the right person and let them know how you feel.

Proposal A—Modified Freeway—takes the route that has been proposed for years with some modifications south of M-59.

PLEASE WRITE.

Fontie ApMadoc, president
Clarkston Village Council

Every voter deserves thanks

To the Editor:

Thank you Independence Township Residents!

During the last several months, a small but vocal group of your neighbors have worked selflessly and ardently to prevent the character assassination of our township.

I thank every one of those tireless workers for a job well done. I thank every voter who went to the polls to make your voice heard—regardless of how you voted.

The referendum election has proven again that this is a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

The Oct. 16, 1979, mandatory referendum has declared the direction that this township is to follow. Let's see if the township officials can get in step.

'If it Fitz. . .'

Not Halloween pranksters

by Jim Fitzgerald

Usually, the middle-aged son is against capital punishment. But he is tempted to recommend an exception in the case of the crime that scared his aunt out of the cemetery.

It is ironic that he should be so concerned. Personally, he doesn't approve of cemeteries. He thinks they are a waste of money and space.

Six months after the funeral, for example, the middle aged son hasn't yet returned to his mother's grave. He often thinks about her, and talks and laughs about her with other survivors who also think she was pretty special. He thinks this should be a socially acceptable way to honor her memory, and he feels no need to drive 140 miles to stare at a stone engraved with her name.

Every time he sees an elderly woman, perhaps uncertain in her steps, he thinks of his mother and her last couple of years when she was blind and weak, afraid of traveling and strange surroundings. He is reminded that his mother wouldn't attend his youngest daughter's wedding, and he berates himself for not coaxing harder; for if she was there, he knows, she would have loved her grandaughter's wedding. He remembers his mother's delight when he played a tape of the ceremony for her in the nursing home.

He wishes he'd been home the other afternoon when 14 old women visited his apartment. But hearing about it from his wife was almost as satisfying as being there.

The women came in four taxi cabs from a Highland Park rest home. The excursion was arranged by a thoughtful neighbor who knows the importance of breaking the monotony for people who are confined to the same few rooms and see the same few faces day after day and year.

For most of them, it was the first look at the city from so high up—26 floors. But it wasn't only the view of the river and the downtown area that fascinated the women. They were just as interested in the wife's jungle of plants. They fingered the leaves and put their noses close to the buds. And they looked closely at the family pictures hung along the hallway wall. The people in the photos were all strangers to them, but still they wanted to hear about each face. They especially wanted to hear about the little children.

One visitor laughingly admitted she probably wouldn't remember tomorrow what she was seeing today, but she was having a marvelous time anyway.

Another woman, offered tea or coffee, said "hot water will be fine."

As the visit ended, the woman who appeared to be the frailest of the group said she was deaf and hadn't been able to hear a word the wife had said. She then took the wife's face between her hands and kissed her, crying as she said thanks for giving her something new to see.

When the middle-aged son heard about his wife's visitors, he naturally thought of his mother, and of the several people who had been so kind to her when she was in a nursing home. He thought about how his sick mother, during her last months, had simply been waiting to die. He thought about all the other old people who are waiting for the same thing, and what should be done to make their waiting more pleasant. He didn't think about visiting his mother's grave.

But to each his own. That's what the middle-aged son always says. Just because he wants his remains cremated, and the ashes scattered throughout the Alibi Bar, doesn't mean everyone has to be screwy. Other people visit his mother's grave, and he thinks that's fine.

One of the regular cemetery visitors was his mother's sister, the same sister who was at her bedside almost every day in the nursing home. His aunt is over 75 years old. She continued her graveside prayers even after the local newspaper reported that young thugs on bicycles have been patrolling the cemetery, snatching purses from unaccompanied women, sometimes knocking them down.

But one of the thugs chose the aunt the other afternoon. Fortunately, she saw him coming and barely escaped. Now she is afraid to go back to the cemetery alone.

If given the chance, the middle-aged son probably won't sentence the cemetery thugs to hanging. Drowning will be sufficient. Hot water will be fine.

Letter to the editor

Appeal board conduct irks resident

Dear Editor:

Last week I attended an appeal board meeting conducted by an individual named Vaara, alleged to be with the Clarkston system, Mason's righthand man.

The case I was interested in was one where an owner of a lot in Woodhull was seeking a variance.

Why was he seeking a variance? Last April the 25th, 1979, he went to Palulian with a sketch showing 20' by 24' garage set-back 40' from right of way. He was given a permit.

Three weeks later the job was about done.

What was the building like?

It was a building set back approximately 16' instead of 40'. The garage instead of 24' long was approximately 40' long on the side.

What else did he have? A breezeway, enclosed porch with electric in. The building department has never shown me a record of any inspections, footing, electrical or otherwise.

If it would have been the average person, some allowances could be made, but this individual is alleged to be a carpenter and he has been associated with Statwide Construction for years.

Now what did Palulian do with the man? Did he cite him for violation of Ordinance? Prosecute for procurement by fraud? Or check for all non-conformities and then cite. No, he sent him to the Appeal Board so Vaara could grant the variance.

Is that the way our township board wants things done? Tower will have to answer that one.

The part that shocked me most was Vaara tolerating the following abuse that was directed toward the complainant. One individual called me a liar, three times I was called Gestapo and as they left one female hissed, "You old son-of-a-bitch!"

This I am sure is to be expected from people like Vaara. If he wasn't like that I doubt if Mason would keep him around.

Why did Vaara condone and apparently support the name calling and harrassment toward a Senior Citizen?

The next question is: Is Vaara and Palulian guilty of nonfeasance of office and is the individual guilty of a felony through failure to comply with original permit?

In closing, do you think the board will do anything about this failure or will it take action by prosecutor?

The Clarkston News goes to school

By Kathy Greenfield

When the school year started, Clarkston Junior High School teacher Jim Ashmore gave his current events and Michigan history class a questionnaire.

He asked his eighth and ninth graders what they read and what they would subscribe to if they could.

"It was all sports," Ashmore said. "It was depressing."

Although a sports fan himself, Ashmore believes there is more to news and he set to work covering local events.

For three weeks, his students were given complimentary copies of The Clarkston News and were instructed to keep track of the hotel and gravel pit issues in other newspapers as well.

"I never used to really read the newspaper before," said Gail Richards. "I think the articles were really good. They gave me a lot of opinions on stuff that I didn't have before."

Steve Sheehy's news scope was also broadened.

"Before I took this class, I just read sports or comics," he said. "I think it's a lot more fun reading the paper than it was—we've learned a lot more about what's happening in the community."

There were also some news critiques offered by the students.

"There should have been more information on the gravel pit," said Greg Seddon.

"When I was reading, it seemed there were more letters and articles against the hotel than for the hotel," said Stan Cool.

The students also included comments on sports.

"There's not enough coverage of junior high sports," said Craig Nicolai.

The class will use about 60 percent of its time on current events and 40 percent studying Michigan history.

Newspapers and magazines and radio and television will all be part of the studies.

"There aren't any current events that don't affect you," Ashmore said. "If you can see a gravel pit affecting you, then you may also see PCP in northern Michigan cows can also affect you."

The students are at work taking news stories, underlining the main themes and writing their reactions to the stories.

"I'm not teaching the current event as much as I want to give them the tools to analyze news," Ashmore said.

Greg Seddon peers over the shoulder of Scott Smith as the two CJHS students keep up on current events with the help of The Clarkston News.

McDonald's® Restaurants in cooperation with The Clarkston News present the following program for a safe Halloween

It's that time of year again when our neighborhoods are invaded by goblins, witches, and other spooks anticipating good Halloween fun and the treats that are given out each year on October 31.

A problem with which we must concern ourselves is the attempt to maim and injure children by placing harmful objects in treats. To help safeguard your children this year, the Waterford Fire Department and the Michigan State Police will be working with McDonald's® Restaurants and The Clarkston News to help insure a safer night for all.

These teams will be located at participating McDonald's® Restaurants from 6:30 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. on Halloween night, October 31, 1979. Metal detectors will be set-up to check treat bags for metal objects that may have been placed in treats.

These locations are:

Clarkston

McDonald's®

4772 Dixie at Walton Rd.
Drayton Plains

McDonald's®

5854 Highland at Airport Rd.
Waterford Twp

We hope this program and the following safety tips will help provide a safer Halloween night for all.

1. Please trick or treat between 6:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.
2. An adult should accompany children.
3. Children should be reminded to cross streets at the corner.
4. Dress children in light-colored clothing with fluorescent trim.

5. Escorts should carry a flashlight or light stick.
6. Do not drive children around in a car and do not let children use bicycles.
7. If necessary to drive, please drive less than 15 miles per hour.
8. Have children carry identification.
9. Avoid taking candy from strangers on the street.
10. Do not eat any unwrapped candy or any other treats until they have been thoroughly checked.

Free coffee will be provided for parents of children who are having their candy checked. Please feel free to stop by the McDonald's® nearest you between 6:30 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. Halloween Night.

Sports

Clarkston's Steve Wyckoff [at the extreme right of the picture] attempts to drop Kettering ball carrier Andy Hepburn [30] for a loss as he charges toward the line of scrimmage during Friday night's contest with the Captains. The Wolves played well in the game and led through most of the second half, but a late Kettering touchdown enabled the Captains to pull out a 12-7 victory, leaving the Wolves with a final league mark of 2-3.

Milford bows, 21-14

JVs still perfect in GOAL

Clarkston's red hot JV football squad rolled to another victory Thursday, crushing the Redskins in Milford, 21-14.

It was the sixth win in a row for the Wolves, who can wrap up an undefeated campaign against GOAL opponents this coming Thursday at home against Waterford Kettering.

Clarkston picked up all of their 21 points in the first quarter, scoring on touchdown runs by Bruce Burwitz, Mike Stefanski and Tim Ellis.

Burwitz's run came on the second play of the game and was good for 52 yards. Kim Lair accounted for all three extra points.

The Wolves seemed to relax a bit in the second half and Milford pulled to within a touchdown by scoring 14 points in the fourth quarter—but Clarkston held on for the victory.

"I think we got a little over confident in the second half," coach Gordie Richardson opined later. "We let Milford get back into the game—that's something we're going to have to guard against."

Richardson expressed some concern about Milford's ability to move the football on the ground late in the game, but overall couldn't very well find fault with another victory.

"We just didn't play good football in the second half," the coach said. "But I suppose in a way that's a credit to the team's talent—that we were able to have a bit of an off game and still win it."

The point after

by Al Zawacky

Seven weeks, 10 hours and 30 minutes. That's how much time remains before the start of the 1979-80 prep basketball season. And how many Clarkston area students, parents, players and fans are looking forward with unrestrained optimism to the upcoming cager campaign?

Probably all of them. "March madness" may be five months away, but basketball fever is already in full bloom.

Familiar stuff for yours truly. My old alma mater, Sterling Heights Stevenson, was a basketball school. Each year I was there we fielded impressive winning squads, taking two league titles, while posting an overall 48-8 record.

Wolves' fans are expecting similar things from their cagers this season. Tim McCormick, the most prominent member of the 79-80 Wolves and one of the major reasons for all the preseason enthusiasm, is looking forward to the coming campaign as much as anyone, but cautiously avoids making any sort of predictions.

"There are a lot of things that can happen over the course of the season," McCormick points out, "but it's really unbelievable how hard everybody is working, how bad everybody wants to win and how excited everybody is about the season."

"We're all really looking forward to it."

Indeed, it hasn't been a particularly happy autumn for Wolves' fans—in a situation very similar to last year's, the JV football program has been the only success story of the fall.

The football program is now in competent hands; girls' basketball and cross country also appear to be pointed in the right direction, but it may be a while before the results become apparent. In the meantime, Clarkston's image as a "football school" will erode a bit this winter.

I've yet to hear anyone say anything but good things about coach Gary Nustad and his basketball program, and—ruling out some unforeseen disaster—the Wolves will indeed deliver this year.

So there you have it—there's really nothing left to do other than wait for the beginning of the season. And since it's taken me about 20 minutes to type this column, the new magic number is seven weeks, 10 hours and 10 minutes.

And counting.

Player of the week

If one were to summarize the performance of Clarkston's Ron Feneley this season in a single word, that word would probably be consistent.

Feneley, a 6-foot, 195-pound defensive end has been a standout for the Wolves' defense game in and game out, and has also handled some place kicking duties with distinction.

The junior defender played his usual game Friday against Waterford Kettering—which is to say he played very well, thus earning him our "Player of the Week" honors.

"Ron did a fine job for us de-fensively," Coach Walt Wyniemko said recently. "He's big and strong and has a lot of natural ability."

Congratulations to the Wolves No. 75.

Clarkston defensive end
Ron Feneley

Late rally lifts cagers

According to an old baseball saying, "the game is never over until the last out is made."

Last Thursday the Clarkston varsity girls' basketball proved the proverb to be true in the hoop sport as well, taking a thrilling 59-58 come-from-behind victory in the closing seconds of their contest against Rochester.

Trailing by seven points with just one and a half minutes remaining in the game, the Wolves erupted with a furious rally, pulling to within one point when Pat Bradley hit from 18 feet out with 25 seconds left.

The game winning play began when Michelle Ulasich deflected a pass to Tracee Antos. Antos passed off to Lanette Whitehead, whose full court driving layup with two seconds remaining earned the victory for Clarkston.

Antos was high among individual scorers in the game with 14 points, teammate Lynn McCormick had 11, while Pat Bradley and Kelli Ketzler each had 8.

The win was a solid rebound from a 51-42 loss at Ferndale the previous Tuesday. "We played a bad first half and tried a press in the second half," said Wolves' coach Dave McDonald. "We played well in the third and fourth quarters, but just fell short."

McCormick led the Wolves in scoring in the contest, racking up 11 points.

GOAL scoreboard

ANDOVER 14, WEST BLOOMFIELD 13: It took three overtime periods to do it, but the Andover Barons earned a share of the league crown Friday night by trimming West Bloomfield, 14-13.

The teams ended regulation time tied at 0-0 and exchanged touchdowns in the first overtime, but Rick Hawkins' reception of a Rick Forzano pass in the third extra stanza put the Barons on top to stay. Ron Breaugh's extra point kick proved to be the difference as the Lakers gambled and lost on a two point conversion attempt following a Chris Mayone to Rick Mickley TD pass that closed the gap to a single point.

MILFORD 8, ROCHESTER 7: The Milford Redskins managed to salvage a victory in their final league contest of the year, clipping the Rochester Falcons by a score of 8-7.

Ray Persia's two-yard touchdown run followed by his successful conversion attempt rallied the Redskins from a 7-0 deficit and brought Milford the victory.

Odds are...

by Al Zawacky

Three-for-five may be a pretty good average in baseball, but it's no great shakes for the resident pigskin prophet. Milford pulled one out against Rochester, and Andover clipped West Bloomfield to account for the two miscalculations, leaving me with an eight-for-10 mark on the year.

How about this week? The GOAL campaign is over, making any sort of forecasting a very difficult proposition—due to a lack of statistics on many of the non-league opponents. What do I know about Rochester Adams, anyway?

Not much. But you'll never catch me without an opinion, regardless of the topic...

ROCHESTER ADAMS AT CLARKSTON: Adams has been playing pretty good ball of late, but the Wolves have also begun to jell... the defense played their best 48 minutes of the season in Waterford Friday night, and I'm counting on the offense to revive itself in front of the last home crowd of the year.

CLARKSTON 20, ROCHESTER ADAMS 14.

BUFFALO AT DETROIT: Does it really make any difference who the Lions play these days?... this is a bad, bad football team, and the Detroit front office is hallucinating if they think that the return of Gary Danielson next season is going to be some sort of a panacea for their pathetic performances... by season's end, that lone victory against the Falcons may well rank up there with the parting of the Red Sea. BUFFALO BY 7.

MICHIGAN STATE AT OHIO STATE: Can the Spartans lose five in a row?... it's going to happen this Saturday in Columbus... Earle Bruce is doing a fine job of proving that the Bucks won in the past in spite of Woody Hayes, not because of him. OSU BY 20.

MICHIGAN AT INDIANA: This is not going to be an easy affair for the Wolverines... the Hoosiers are solid at quarterback, run the ball well and play good defense, too... Bo won't have any trouble building up the opposition at this week's press conference... but the Maize and Blue will prevail. MICHIGAN BY 7.

Correction

In last week's edition of the Clarkston News, a story on the Clarkston Junior High girls' basketball team incorrectly stated Martha Huttenlocher's first name. We're sorry, Martha.

Junior high roundup

Sashabaw Junior High School's football squad put on by far its most impressive performance of the season last Wednesday, crushing the visitors from Brandon, 31-16.

"That was easily our best overall effort in the last couple of weeks," Cougar coach Chris Kruger said of the contest. "I was pleased with our performance."

Once the game got underway, Sashabaw wasted no time in getting on the scoreboard. Brian Davies returned the opening kickoff 82 yards for a quick 6-0 lead, and before Brandon could recover, quarterback Mike Dearborn flipped a pass to Tom Williams for the two point conversion.

From that point on, the result was never in doubt. Dearborn made it 14-0 before the quarter ended, tossing a 15-yarder to Scott Banks, and Ken Knott followed that with a successful run for a 16-0 margin.

The Cougars made it 24-0 on Davies' second TD of the half and Will Williams' conversion before Brandon tallied to set the halftime score at 24-8.

Mike Clem scored on a 30-yard run in the third quarter and Will Williams kicked the extra point to round out the scoring for Sashabaw. Brandon scored an anti-climatic fourth quarter touchdown to arrive at the 31-16 final.

***
It isn't often that a football coach refers to a loss as "very encouraging," but that was the situation after Wednesday night's contest between Clarkston Junior High and Milford Lakeland.

The game ended with the Wolverines on the short end of a 25-20 score, but Coach John Craven wasn't overly displeased.

"We played very well—I was proud of our kids," Craven said later. "Lakeland is probably the toughest team we've faced this season, and we had our chances to win right up to the final play of the game."

It didn't appear at first as if the final score would even be close, as Lakeland jumped to a 13-0 lead just seven minutes into the ball game.

But the Wolverines were not about to roll over and play dead. Richie Schrader continued his blistering scoring streak, putting CJH on the scoreboard with back to back touchdowns in the second quarter, and Rick Carter's three yard pass to Eric Petterson for a two-point conversion put the Wolverines in front, 14-13.

CJH took another one point lead in the second half on Bruce Dale's 10 yard run into the end-zone, but a 75 yard run from scrimmage on the Lakers first play of the fourth quarter proved decisive.

A library with current magazines and books is included in the center's lounge area, and Ray Raupp pauses to plan some relaxing hours.

Good food. Good friends. Alice Brooks [center] stops by to chat with Gladys Clair [left] and Althea Rose during a potluck dinner last week at the new Independence Township Senior Citizens Center.

The food looks so good that Mary Newton takes a taste before returning to the table at last week's potluck dinner.

Senior center ready for debut

A warm welcome and a good time are offered by the Independent Seniors for the grand opening of the Independence Township Senior Citizen Center on Saturday, Oct. 27.

Purchased in 1977, the building that was once a residence has been made barrier-free and a deck has been added to the outside.

The first floor has a lounge area with a fireplace and library, a kitchen and a dining and crafts area and the second floor is used for storage.

The open house is planned for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the center located adjacent to Clintonwood Park, 5980 Clarkston-Orion Rd., between M-15 and Sashabaw Road.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony at 10 a.m. includes a greeting by State Rep. Claude Trim (D-Davisburg).

Door prizes donated by local businesses will be drawn throughout the day and homemade cookies and refreshments will be on hand.

Two years ago, the new Independence Township Senior Citizen Center was a private residence. Changes include the wrap-around barrier-free deck and a cafeteria-crafts area where the attached garage used to be. The interior is different, too. See for yourself at the center's grand opening on Saturday.

Note this bottom-side view of the Rug Doctor Vibra Brush method carpet cleaner in action.

A. Hot water and cleaning solution jets into the carpet.

B. Vibra Brush (like electric tooth brush) agitates carpet back and forth 3,400 times each minute. This breaks soil loose and polishes each carpet fiber to a clean, brilliant finish. This type of brush does not distort pile.

C. Powerful suction extracts hot water and loosened soil back up to waste tank.

Architect's drawing of Pacesetter Bank's permanent Clarkston office on Dixie Highway. The new building is expected to be constructed by the end of the year. In the meantime, the local office has opened in a temporary facility on the site.

Pacesetter's here

Pacesetter Bank-Southeast is entering the Clarkston financial community with the claim that it offers the "best deals" on all basic banking services.

Home-based in Grand Blanc, the local office opened last week in temporary facilities at 6500 S. Dixie, Independence Township. A permanent building on the site is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The bank started business in September of 1974 as the First Security Bank of Grand Blanc. It had assets of $1.5 million.

In 1975 and 1976, Pacesetter distinguished itself as the most rapidly growing independent bank in Michigan. A second office was opened in Grand Blanc, and a computer system was installed.

Two years ago the bank merged with Pacesetter Financial Corp., the state's eighth-largest multi-bank holding company. The bank now has assets approximating $35 million.

Pacesetter Financial Corp., with assets in excess of $800 million, is made up of banks in eight communities throughout Michigan.

Pacesetter Bank-Southeast, however, has maintained much of its autonomy, according to bank president Charles B. Phillips.

The bank's philosophy is to provide the best basic banking services at the lowest possible cost.

For instance, Phillips noted, the bank does not offer

Doing Business

premiums such as blankets, silverware and the like, but provides "new account mementoes" which are usable items such as a pen, a jar opener or a sponge.

Phillips said Pacesetter has three major advantages over its competitors:

- Free checking—with no minimum balance required and no service charge added.

- Savings and certificate of deposit programs—the bank compounds all savings and certificates of deposit continuously when legally possible so that the maximum effective bank rate is obtained on all savings programs. All minimums have been eliminated where allowed by law.

- Discounts on personal loans—to individuals who do all checking and savings with the bank, a 5 percent discount from the bank's normal loan rates is offered.

The bank changed its name in July in anticipation of entering the expanded market.

"We feel confident that the cornerstones that have made us successful in Grand Blanc will again apply to Clarkston," Phillips said.

In offering its own brand of personalized service, Pacesetter provides a cup of coffee or soft drink to any individual who must wait for banking services, Phillips said.

"Hopefully, there's a market for our type of bank in Clarkston—we certainly think there is and feel that by satisfying our first customers we will develop a positive image within the community that will add momentum to our growth."

Charles B. Phillips is president and chief executive officer of Pacesetter Bank-Southeast. Betty J. Simmons is assistant vice president and manager of the new Clarkston branch.

Doing Business

There's something new at Nanjos, Amigos

There's a lot more than just tasty pizza and Italian dishes at Nanjo's Restaurant, 10063 Dixie Hwy. in Springfield Township.

"We got our liquor license just this past month," says Nancy Clouse, the restaurant's owner. "It's a full class C permit, which means we can serve our customers a full line of beer, wine or mixed drinks."

"It's still too early to tell what effect this is going to have on our overall business—it'll probably be a while before we can really tell."

Although Nanjo's is best known for its Italian fare, the menu also offers a number of Mexican dishes as well as steaks, chops, fish and the usual American favorites.

"We sell a lot of pizza because of our carry-out business," Clouse explains, "but we really have a pretty well-rounded menu—and most everything is prepared fresh."

She recalls the advice of a friend, also in the restaurant business, who advised her to start purchasing the more convenient pre-prepared and frozen food items.

"But I don't think you can fool people—they can tell the difference," she insists. As a result, almost all the menu items, even the desserts, are prepared fresh on the premises.

One of the more unique desserts that Nanjo's offers,

"sopapias," is Mexican in origin. It consists of triangular flour-based tortillas, covered with a mild melted cheese and lightly coated with honey.

"The Mexican items are going over quite well," Clouse says. "Our nachos are moving pretty good, especially for an Italian restaurant."

It's been eight years since she opened Nanjo's, and in that time the business has grown from a purely carry-out establishment to a sit down restaurant able to accommodate 80 diners at one time.

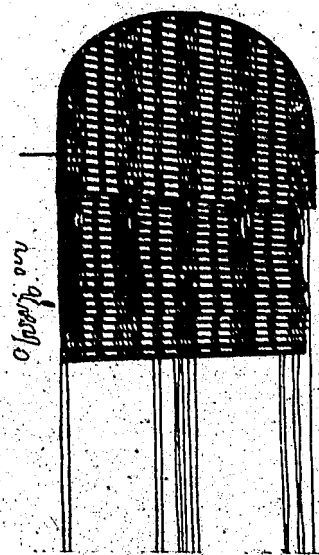

"We really haven't done too much in the way of advertising—a lot of our business has come about by word of mouth," she says. "We're very grateful for our steady customers and for the people that recommend us to their friends."

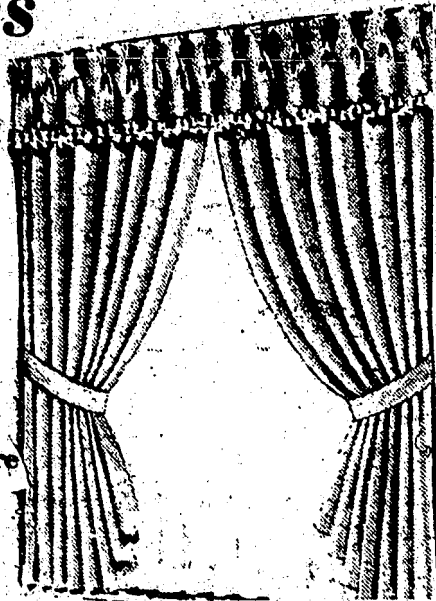

Owner Nancy Clouse stands proudly in front of Nanjo's Restaurant, which now offers its patrons cocktails in addition to its wide variety of foods.

Baetzes have well-defined goals

Randy and Lisa Baetz spend as much time with daughter Melissa as possible. Sunday is family day for the Baetzes and they usually try to organize an outing together.

These glasses, like most of the Baetzes' crystal, are from Poland. Randy and Lisa hope to pay a visit to Warsaw in the near future.

Much about Lisa and Randy Baetz reflects the sense of purpose with which they approach life.

It's evident in their choice of careers, reasons for living in Independence Township and in the manner in which they plan to raise their daughter, Melissa.

Both Randy and Lisa have an aptitude for science and math—one of the reasons Randy is a dentist and Lisa an engineering data control analyst for Ford.

They also share a love of the outdoors, playing tennis and cross-country skiing. And, they think the small-town, country atmosphere of Independence Township is perfect for their needs.

After having lived in outstate Ludington and more urban Sterling Heights, Randy and Lisa opted to combine the qualities of country life with the cultural advantages of the city. They looked at different communities for a long time before moving to Independence Township last January.

"It has everything we ever wanted," said Randy. Some of those things include the woods and cross-country ski trails just outside their back door, their friendly neighbors in the Oakland Woods subdivision and the relative proximity to Detroit and the suburbs.

While Randy and Lisa attend ed the same high school in Dearborn, they did not meet until after they had graduated. They dated while Randy was a student at the University of Michigan and Lisa was studying to be a teacher at Eastern Michigan University. They were married in 1973.

Randy, who recently opened an office in Independence Township, chose the field of dentistry while still in high school. He wanted to pursue a career that would offer a position of respect, independence and include the study of science.

Lisa taught high school after college, but moving, disillusion with students and the birth of Melissa were causes for some changes.

Since April, Lisa has been using her background in math by providing computer parts inventory and accounting services for Ford dealerships.

Her office is in the Renaissance Center in Detroit, which she thoroughly enjoys.

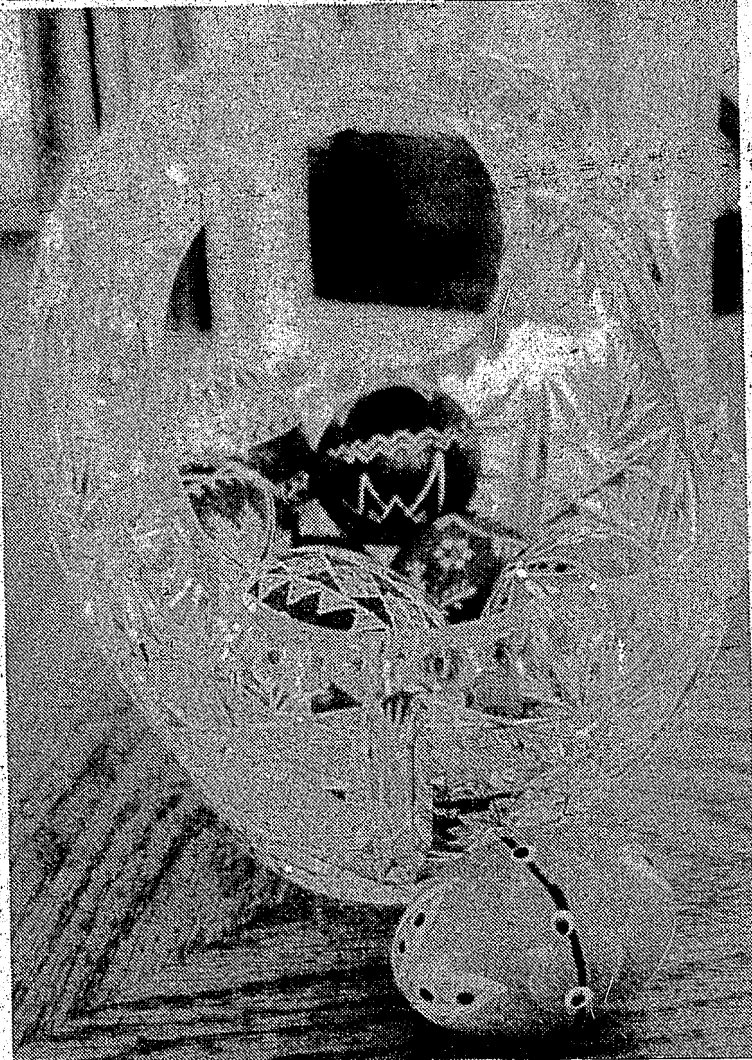

"There are people everywhere, and it feels good to be there," said Lisa. She said she never gets tired of the RenCen because there is always something new to see. Lisa can now view two new towers being built outside her office window.

Randy's familiarity with the city developed when he provided dental care part-time for foster

More Country Living

children at the Children's Aid Society. Both now make frequent use of Detroit's cultural benefits.

Lisa was born in Warsaw, Poland, and came to the United States with her family when she was 10 years old. Her parents moved to this country in hopes of being able to offer their children more opportunities to develop their potential.

Lisa was enrolled in a parochial school in Detroit where both Polish and English were spoken, and she now speaks without a trace of an accent.

Lisa's experience of making a new life in a new country has given her firm convictions (shared with Randy) in the belief that people control their own destinies.

"Everyone should work hard," said Randy, "to do the best they can. Your successes, goals and failures are up to you."

"Lisa said she has seen many people who come to the U.S. unable to speak English, yet had enough ambition to make something of themselves.

"It's all in your frame of mind," she said.

As a high school teacher, Lisa found the students disinterested in learning, preferring to be entertained.

Randy and Lisa believe that if kids continue in the same vein, ours will become a society of followers.

They also feel that these attitudes can be passed on by parents to children. Although Melissa is enrolled in nursery school while her parents work, Randy and Lisa make a concentrated effort to involve her in their activities at night and on the weekends.

The Baetzes also like to travel. Lisa went back to Poland in 1968 and hopes to take Randy for a visit soon. Until then, goals closer to home include finishing decorating their home, planning a big backyard garden for next year and playing in their tennis leagues at Deer Lake Racquet Club.

The principle behind a glider has been known for a long time but gliding techniques were not perfected until after World War I. The Germans were prohibited by peace treaties from using motorized aircrafts. As a result, they worked on perfecting use of the glider. They did so well that some remarkable records were set. One German pilot who obviously knew how to catch the right wind currents (thermals) stayed aloft for over 36 hours. Another travelled led several hundred miles.

You won't have to travel far to find the sporting goods you need. It's just a short trip to our place, COACH'S CORNER, 31 S. Main, 625-8457. Duo-fold insulated underwear, for men and women, hunting boots, warm, comfortable hunting socks and colorful wool shirts and, chamois shirts are available. Hours: 9:30am-6pm daily, until 5pm Sat.

SPORTS TIP:

A glider pilot requires a special aeronautical rating on his pilots license.

Christmas cards benefit SCAMP

Clarkston art students design greetings

Christmas cards to benefit SCAMP are to go on sale next week.

SCAMP, a five-week summer camp for children with special needs and handicaps, is mainly supported by various fund-raising events.

The card designs were selected in a contest entered by Sashabaw Junior High and Clarkston High School students in April.

Prices are $3 for 20 postcards or $5 for 25 cards with envelopes.

The cards may be ordered by calling the Clarkston Community Schools' Special Services Building at 625-3330, or writing special services at 6590 Middle Lake Rd., Clarkston, MI 48016.

All cards ordered by telephone or mail must be picked up after Nov. 5 at special services.

Beginning Oct. 30, cards will also be on sale at Pontiac State Bank's branches in downtown Clarkston, Dixie Highway at Maybee Road, and at Sashabaw and Maybee roads.

A black-and-white postcard designed by Keith Erkfritz costs $3 for 20 cards.

Amy Sutton's design is a mouse perched on a wreath with "Season's Greetings" printed inside the card. Patty Becker's creation is a child giving a dog a bone with an inside greeting of "May the true Spirit of Christmas be with you always." Printed on tan paper in brown ink, 25 cards of one design with envelopes are $5.

Curtain time

Former protest play now traditional favorite

She Stoops to Conquer
By Oliver Goldsmith
Bonstelle Theatre

Wayne State University

Oliver Goldsmith's 18th Century comedy "She Stoops to Conquer" opened at the Bonstelle Theatre last Friday night for a two-weekend run.

Written in 1773 as a protest against the sentimentality of popular drama of the time, "She Stoops to Conquer" or "The Mistakes of a Night" is now considered to be one of the first modern comedies and is one of the world's most beloved plays.

The play seems in part to be written out of the real life experience of Oliver Goldsmith, a who was stricken by smallpox and scarred for life.

With his homely appearance, he became extremely shy, particularly around people of fashion.

Like young Charles Marlow in this play, around his own kind and his few chosen friends, he could be very bold. The plot is centered in this very personality defect.

Young Charles Marlow (William Shanks) has been sent from London by his father to win the hand of Kate Hardcastle (Amy Beth Beer), whom he has never met.

Marlow and his friend Hastings (Richard A. Schrot), on their way to the Hardcastle mansion, are given directions by the prankster Tony Lumpkin, Mrs. Hardcastle's son by a former marriage.

Marlow and Hastings are tricked into thinking the Hardcastle house is an inn and treat Hardcastle as a landlord and Kate as a barmaid. Kate stoops to maintaining this charade to break through Marlow's reserve and stammering manner.

The mistake is compounded and the hilarious action increases with lovers' intrigues, mistaken identities and an attempt to steal some family jewels.

Robert Emmett McGill directs this student production, which at times is tedious despite a slapstick approach to the comedy.

William Akey makes for an engagingly funny Lumpkin as he takes the brunt of the pummeling by others in the Hardcastle house.

At times this is over-done and turns comedy into a commedia dell'arte spectacle. Much of the play is whimsical with fine performances by William Shanks as young Marlow, who suffers the terrors of a formal courtship, and Richard Schrot as Hastings, Marlow's friend who has a romance of his own going.

However, the play needs tightening up and a sharper focus.

"She Stoops to Conquer" marks the beginning of the 1979-80 Bonstelle Theatre season, which will also include "A Christmas Carol," "Sherlock Holmes," "Detective Story," "Pippin" and "Does a Tiger Wear a Necktie?"

Places to go

Broadway musicals have, at times, contained songs of social significance.

A musical entertainment based on some of them, entitled "The Other Side of Broadway," will be presented Sunday, Nov. 11 at the Community Arts Auditorium on the Wayne State University campus. Tickets, which are $4 for general admission and $1 for students, can be purchased by writing the Center for Peace and Conflict Studies, 3227 Cass Ave., Detroit 48202. The performance is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

Season ticket sales have begun for the 10th anniversary season of the American Artist Series, five consecutive monthly concerts from Jan. 20 to May 18.

Highlights of the season include guest appearances by choreographer Agnes De Mille, Flamenco guitarist Juan Serrano, the Concert Royal and the New World Quartet.

Season tickets for the non-profit concerts, held at Kingswood Auditorium in Bloomfield Hills, are $25.

For ticket information call 647-2230 or write 435 Goodhue Rd., Bloomfield Hills, MI 48013.

The sale is to be held at the American Legion Post 63, 8041 M-15, Independence Township, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Items on sale will include dishes, books, coats and jackets, toys, musical instruments, sports equipment and more.

To donate items for the sale, call 625-8793 or 625-2140. Pick-up is available.

Food co-op looking for members

The telephone number for information on joining the Independence Food Co-op was incorrectly listed in the Oct. 10 issue of The Clarkston News.

The correct number to call is 623-0124.

The co-op meets on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 5660 Maybee, Independence Township.

Orders placed for fruits, vegetables, meats, snack foods, cheeses and eggs are delivered at the next meeting.

There is no fee to join, but members are required to work once a month for about two hours.

Senior citizens who join the co-op are not required to work.

Golden anniversary

Former Clarkston residents Kenneth and Eliza Johnson of St. Johns are being honored with an open house to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. The party is planned at the First Congregational Church of St. Johns, located at the corner of M-21 and Maple Street. Their friends are cordially invited. They ask that there be no gifts. Hosts for the occasion are the Johnson's children, Susan and Robert Tressel and Rae Johnston and their families.

In service

Marine Pvt. James K. Newman has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Depot, San Diego, Calif.

During the 10.5 week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized.

A 1979 Clarkston High School graduate, Newman joined the Marine Corps in January 1979.

He is the son of Mary Scareborough of Tappan Drive, Independence Township.

Coping with kids

by Jim &amp; Ellen Windell

Best way to get teen into therapy is quickly

Getting an adolescent to accept therapy is often a most difficult task for parents. Most teenagers, unlike adults, are rather oblivious to the significance of therapy; the talking through of problems with a professional.

In many cases, adults initiate their own treatment while teenagers need some form of coercion to cross the threshold of a therapist's office. Adolescents tend to typically deal with problems through denial, avoidance and activity. Being on the move is their way of dealing (or not dealing) with a disturbing conflict or situation.

The result is that problems are pushed aside and not thought about and the difficulty is ignored or blamed on others.

When it begins to affect those around him, then it is likely that an adult is going to attempt some form of resolution.

Therapy may be considered, but most teenagers will shy away from or delay such a solution.

The best way to get a teenager into therapy is quickly. He or she will be most amenable to see a counselor when a crisis is at its peak. After the problem has cooled in its intensity, the teen may feel that it has been solved and "there is no use talking about it anymore."

Aside from swift action to initiate therapy, it is preferable to use reason and talking to try to help him acknowledge and accept a problem and his need for help outside the family.

Sometimes the firm approach will work ("We are taking you to see a counselor"), but with more angry and rebellious young people this will only serve to increase resistance to working with a professional.

The use of outright force almost always produces an aggressive response that makes it virtually impossible for the therapist to relate to the adolescent because the counselor is identified with the parents against him.

A doctor or friend or relative that the teenager has known for a long time and still respects can be useful in helping her to accept a try at therapy "to see if it will help."

Often the youth will resent being singled out as "the problem" in the family. In certain instances, parents can solicit a teens cooperation by having the whole family go together to see a therapist with the intention that the family has the problem not just the youth.

500 feet do their stuff for charity

Off and running, the crowd leaves the village park and heads up Depot Road toward downtown Clarkston on the three-mile long Mini-Walk-for-SCAMP.

The 10-mile hikers form a long line down Holcomb Road as they near the one-mile marker along the Walk-for-SCAMP trail.

The 10-mile maxi-Walk-for-SCAMP leaves Lisa [front] and Sharon Burkemo with enough energy to run to the finish line at the village park. The sisters live on Phelan Drive, Independence Township.

The Clarkston Village Park stream cools the tired feet of Walk-for-SCAMPers Terry Bruns [left] of Sashabaw Road, Independence Township, and Jennifer Farough of Clarkston-Orion Road, Independence Township. They were among about 250 people who gathered pledges and hiked Sunday to earn money for the five-week summer camp program for kids with special needs and handicaps. Preliminary totals show over $14,000 in pledges for SCAMP, said Pat Loveless, co-chairperson of the event with Greg Seaman. Last year, the walk-a-thon raised over $7,000 for SCAMP.
