Residents vow continued fight

'Wonderful World of Pine Knob' rides high with commission's okay

By Marilyn Trumper

"The Wonderful World of Pine Knob" received the go-ahead from the Independence Township Planning Commission last week.

Co-owners of Pine Knob Investment, Gary Francell and Joseph Locricchio, received final site plan approval for the 12-ride amusement park on 2.5 acres in a 4-2 vote April 24.

Plans for the amusement park do not necessarily end with its present size, Locricchio said.

"I didn't call it 'The Wonderful World of Pine Knob' because it has 12 rides on it," he said. "I'm not limited to 2.5 acres. If I want more acres, it's going to be expanded as such."

"Now the plan for the park is small, but if it is successful, I'll come back to you like any businessman for a review," he added.

The commission gave its okay for the final site plan with stipulations that a landscaped greenbelt be added on the northern boundary and a description of the rides and the distance between the rides be added to the plans before a building permit can be issued.

Differences between the final site plan and the conceptual site plan submitted by Pine Knob last February was one of several objections raised by the commission during the three-and-one-half-hour meetings attended by 17 people.

Originally, the park was to be located between the ski hill and the Pine Knob Music Theatre.

With the commission's final site plan approval, the amusement park is to be located west of the music theater ticket booth.

The site includes an area presently used by concertgoers for picnics and part of an asphalt surface parking area.

Locricchio offered several reasons for the site plan change during his presentation.

The relocation was due to topographic problems in the former site that was already congested with the music theater, the hill and concession stands, he said.

In the new location, three sides already include trees that will serve as noise buffers and the ticket booth used for concerts could also possibly be used for the amusement park, he said.

Finally, a circling train he proposes for Pine Knob would have better access to the amusement park in its new location, Locricchio said.

ed that he did not see what difference it made, because all that was done was move the location of the park 1,000 feet.

Commission member John Gray expressed concern over the type of crowd control that would because school groups may use the park on special occasions, Francell said.

The planning commission voted to recommend to the township board that the park be closed at midnight.

Residents of the township said they would continue to fight development of the amusement park.

"I've lived with Pine Knob for seven years," said Richard Schmalz of Stowe Trail. "I have levels are hard to enforce, because the reading register cars passing down the road, as well as the music.

A second resident at the meeting, Karen Ohrberger of Caberfae Trail, said she would take the question of hours of operation to the township board.

"We are kept awake by Pine Knob until 1 a.m.," she said. "If they keep the park open following a concert, it will be even later by the time everyone leaves."

After the meeting, Tower said the township board does not regulate the hours a business stays open, unless it is creating a public nuisance.

Another concern at the planning commission meeting was height limitations for rides. Present township ordinances dictate a maximum of 35 feet for buildings, but the figure does not apply to structures (like rides), according to the township attorney.

"We are going to have to work on this and set some regulations so that the next time you (Loericchio and Francell) come before this commission, we have some regulations dealing with this," Smith said.

Commission members voting to approve the final site plan were James Brennan, James Gardiner, John Gray and Mel Vaara.

Smith and Jean Benzing voted against the plan. Jean Saile and Rudy Lozano were absent.

be used. Other commission members wanted to know about park hours.

Closing the gates when capacity limits were reached, the same method used by Disney World, would control crowds, Loericchio said.

Tentative hours have been set for a 9 a.m. opening, closing before showtime and reopening following the end of the concert, perhaps until 1 a.m., Loericchio said.

"It all depends on what type of response the amusement park receives," he said. "Right now, I can't tell you exactly what the hours will be, because it's all in the planning stage."

The hours were chosen, waiting for rides following a concert, there would not be any traffic problem," Loericchio said. "We would trickle out all our traffic."

Safety of the rides in the event of a power failure was questioned by James Smith, chairman of the planning commission, who asked how patrons would be removed from rides.

Auxiliary motors would be provided on all rides, Loericchio said.

"I have to have them by law and you don't have to worry about safety," he said. "The Michigan Department of Labor licenses me and they release the township of the responsibility of safety and operations of the measured the sound from Pine Knob at 65 decibels and sound has been proven to be a health factor.

"You people didn't get your hotel and we fought you on that one," he continued. "I think we can muster the people together to do it to you again."

Township ordinances include a clause about noise levels, said James Hock, township ordinance enforcement officer, after the meeting.

It states the level of sound shall not exceed 55 decibels in a residential zone, measured from the common lot line adjacent residential dwellings, he said.

But township Supervisor Whitey Tower said those noise

Now that the approximately 4,300 local telephones that were out of service last week are back in working order, thoughts can turn to who's going to pay for the damage.

"It would be over $10,000, no question about that," said a Michigan Bell spokesperson.

The four cables were cut Tuesday, April 22, when a tool operated by State of Michigan employees dug down for a soil sample and came up with pieces of cable near Lakewood Road and Dixie Highway.

Six telephone company crews worked around the clock to repair the damage and all local telephones were back in service by Friday morning.

When it is determined if the area was properly staked for the drilling, it will be decided if cost of repairs will be paid by Bell or the state, the spokesperson said.

Ultimately, that means either the customers of the phone company or taxpayers in the state will pay.

Hmmm.

Keep an eye on your telephone bills, by the way.

If your phone was out of order, you should receive credit for the time on your next bill.

If you were overlooked, call the Michigan Bell business office at 857-9900. Businesses should call 332-1310.

About 30 pupils of Clarkston elementary schools are the holders of the first certificates of good conduct for behaving while riding school buses.

It's all part of a safety-awareness program started by the schools in January.

The idea is to encourage well-behaved bus riders by using the positive approach, says William Dennis, Clarkston schools administrative assistant.

About five of the 40 bus drivers are participating in the pilot program to see if the method works. The certificates will be awarded weekly.

At the end of the school year, the person on each bus who has received the greatest number of good conduct certificates will receive a free meal from McDonald's of Clarkston.

Here's some good news for lovers of swimming and boating.

Deer Lake beach and boating keys are now for sale at the Independence Township offices, and, for the most part, the prices are the same as last year.

For Independence Township residents or taxpayers, family or individual beach memberships are $12 and boat gate keys range from $12 to $28, depending on the size of the boat.

Non-residents who are employees or residents of the Clarkston Community School District may buy family beach passes for $17.

Other non-residents may purchase one-day permits at the beach for $3.

Changes for 1980 include an increase from $3 to $5 to replace lost beach passes and from $2 to $3 for a one-day pass.

In addition, after Aug. 1, beach passes and boat keys will be sold at one-half the original price.

The beach is open from 10 a.m. to sunset May 24 through Sept. 1.

For those who attempted to use figures published in last week's Clarkston News on cost of taking a load of trash to the City of Pontiac's landfill, we apologize.

"We figure it would cost about $300," a caller informed us.

In fact, the landfill's method is to combine the weight of the garbage and the vehicle and charge 10 cents for every 100 pounds.

Average cost to dump a carload of refuse is between $5 and $7, a landfill spokesperson said.

The landfill is located at 575 Collier, Pontiac, and hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Call 857-7968 for more information.

Village council delays adoption of budget

Clarkston's Village Council reviewed the proposed 1980-81 general fund budget of $133,587 Monday evening.

Council members decided to wait until the next meeting to vote on adoption of the budget for two reasons.

"President Fontie ApMadoc should be here because I don't think she was aware of the millage breakdown," said Jackson Byers, council member.

"We also want Gary Symons to be here because he was on the committee that worked on the budget."

Major items on the budget include $12,822 for the village hall mortgage payment, $13,525 for general services, $10,500 for police services, $28,240 as reserves for building payments, $5,200 for legislative, and $5,000 for street equipment reserves.

Albert Mann points toward the house on Ennismore Road as he greets township officials with a list of complaints about the time it has taken to make repairs on the structure declared unsafe for occupancy last spring.

'Unsafe structure' needs work

Woodhull residents seek faster repairs

By Kathy Greenfield

Woodhull Lake subdivision residents are angry, because a duplex declared unsafe by Independence Township over a year ago has yet to be fully repaired.

Todd Irish of Troy, co-owner of the duplex at 4656 Ennismore, says he has been working on the building, but needs more time.

Independence Township officials met with Irish and subdivision residents last week at the house to discuss the issue.

The residents chose Albert Mann of Jerome Road to represent them in the talks.

Mann cited cases in the past where homeowners in the subdivision were required to comply with building ordinances and time limits.

In a court order dated May 18, 1979, Irish and Tina Addis, co-owners of the Ennismore property, were required to complete repairs to make the rear unit habitable within 60 days and the front unit within 120 days.

"We feel our rights have been trampled on," said Mann. "Either we have a law or we don't have a law. A year ago condemnation proceedings were started. (The repairs) were not completed and nothing was done (by the township)."

"We want this (building) brought up to code," he added. "Homeowners here have been attacked on little. We feel this property is far out of being in compliance."

Representing the township were attorney Richard Campbell, building department director Timothy Palulian, ordinance enforcement officer James Hock and building inspector Richard Curn.

When a house is condemned because of its condition and is torn down, the property owner gets no compensation and must pay for demolition costs, Campbell said.

"The right of property is probably one of the firmest rights people have," he said. "You have to be very, very careful."

Irish invited the half-dozen Woodhull residents inside to view the half of the duplex that was repaired.

"I think you can see we've made a real effort to make the place decent and upgraded here," he said, later adding he has spent some $5,000 in repairs and requesting a 90-day occupancy permit for half of the house so there would be income to fix the other half.

The subdivision residents asked Irish what he charges for rent and he said about $250 per unit.

The residents said they thought the amount was too high.

Afterwards, Irish said the figure is low for a Clarkston-area rental.

When he places an ad for rental of one of his units (Irish said he also owns an adjoining duplex), "the phone rings off the hook," he said.

"You put Clarkston schools near Woodhull Lake and the phone just rings and rings," he said. "People are desperate to find low-cost homes in this area."

He supports the need for low-income housing, Irish added.

"There's nothing accomplished when you destroy things," he said.

A real estate salesman, Irish said he invests in income property and fixes up houses and that he "owns quite a few."

"That's my retirement some day," he said.

The township officials planned to meet Monday at the duplex, reinspect the property and have detailed reports to present at another meeting with the Oakland County Circuit Court condemnation hearing officer.

"Essentially, we'll be going back with new reports stating we're having problems with the time involved," Palulian said later in the week.

"As far as we're concerned, it's gone far enough, I would presume," he said. "I don't care how much money (Irish has) put into it; he's had plenty of time to do it."

"If he takes on the burden of having that kind of structure, then he's going to have to take on the burden of having to fix it."

The year-long lapse between the court order for repairs and now is ultimately his responsibility as director of the building department, Palulian said.

"In any given case, where we have a situation where somebody is working on it, we'll give them extra time," he said. "We just lost track of it and we shouldn't have."

"We're trying to treat everybody fairly," he added.

On May 8 planning commission agenda

Mobile home park, mining plan face reviews

By Marilyn Trumper

Two controversial issues are approaching review by Independence Township's Planning Commission.

May 8, the commission will recommend whether or not to rezone 51 acres located in the southeastern portion of the township from single family residential to a mobile home park.

The second issue is whether or not to recommend the mining of approximately 60 acres in the area of Sashabaw and Waldon Roads.

An application has been filed by Greg Christopher requesting that the 51 acres south of Maybee Road and east of I-75 be rezoned to accommodate a mobile home park.

Christopher's proposed plan outlines 400 trailer sites within the 51 acres, according to Timothy Palulian, head of the township's building and planning department.

In keeping with the township density requirement, Palulian said no more than four units would be allowed per acre if approved.

"According to Christopher's outline, he is requesting double the amount of trailers the township allows," Palulian said. "Between now and May 8 he may choose to alter his outline. If he still wants double the amount of trailers, following the May 8 meeting, he will have to go to the zoning board of appeals and go through variance procedures."

Palulian said that when rezoning is discussed for the building of trailer parks, the same problems keep cropping up.

"There are not any land use plans for additional mobile homes in the township. There is already one mobile home park in the township and one north of the township line in Brandon Township."

"There are also traffic considerations. The services required to take care of the park, like water, sewer, police and fire," Palulian said. "And people always feel the presence of a mobile home park in degrading to their property."

Village Development and Charles Nunn are seeking permission from the commission to mine 100,000 or more yards of dirt and gravel from approximately 60 acres in the corner of Sashabaw and Waldon Roads.

According to Palulian, they are having topographic problems with the property, and the upgrade slope of the land. They want to level the land by removing the dirt and gravel.

"It all depends on your definition of mining," Palulian said. "There are future plans to build an industrial park on those acres, and until the land is leveled, nothing can be built."

They are asking for mining privileges, but not processing privileges, according to Palulian.

Processing means the crushing of gravel within the 60 acres. This means the gravel and dirt will have to be trucked off the land.

"The township has not had good experience with mining operations in the past," Paul Palulian said. "There is an aversion to mining from past history of operations which have not compiled with operating restrictions."

If the planning commission recommends the mining of the land, Village Development will have to have the land zoned for mining.

The township planning commission is to meet May 8, at 7:30 p.m. at Township Hall, 90 North Main, Clarkston.

Add Magna Charta to taste

by Kathy Greenfield

We were having one of those appetite-stimulating mealtime conversations about things you can eat that can kill you.

"Is it true you can die from eating too much salt and pepper?" asked my daughter.

She has been studying nutrition in school science classes and listening to her grandfather's discussions about his doctor's advice to avoid the condiments.

Talk about the pyramid theory evolved--it's not one thing you do or eat, but a combination that can result in a build-up of little things leading to a negative end.

It was then my son decided to add some flavor to the conversation.

"You can also die from too much Magna Charta," he said.

Magna Charta. Magna Charta. My mind raced. Does he mean marjoram, oregano, mustard?

Okay, so I bit.

"What do you mean, too much Magna Charta?"

"Do you know what the Magna Charta is?" he asked with feigned innocence.

"Aha," I thought, "while his sister was involved in nutrition studies, he was discussing history in school."

When in doubt, answer a question with a question.

This philosophy, by the way, doesn't fool my son one bit, but it makes me feel better.

We've talked about how neat I think it is that he's interested in history and he also knows there is a definite weakness on my part in rattling off historical facts.

"Let's see. That has to do with the British government, right?" I asked.

"Some English leaders make King John sign the Magna Charta," said my young history buff. "He didn't want to do it and, about a year later, he died."

The "great charter" was signed in 1215. It established supremacy of law over the king and laid the foundation for parliamentary government, and, therefore, had much to do with the United States governmental system.

I looked up the date later. The conversation, as it turned out, was an intriguing way to refresh my memory.

And, my son was right. Stress can do a great deal of harm to a king or anyone else's system.

Maybe King John combined that with too much salt and pepper.

On the ballot

Why fire department needs Act 134

In the second of a three-part series, Fire Chief Frank Ronk presents his views on why the Independence Township Fire Department proposed the millage request on the May 20th ballot.

Next week, Ronk will explore what he feels the ramifications will be on the fire department if the millage is defeated.

"On the ballot" does not necessarily reflect the viewpoint of The Clarkson News, but is designed to give voters knowledge about ballot issues.

Readers are welcome to submit their opinions as well.

--The editor

By Frank Ronk
Independence Fire Chief

First we would like to make it clear to the voters that Act No. 134 which is being asked for adoption by the voters at the May 20 presidential primary election is not the perfect solution to funding your fire department.

We do not like the portion of the Act that states "The township board may provide by resolution, for the appropriation of funds in an amount which in a one-year-period shall not exceed 10 mills of the assessed valuation in the area for which fire protection is to be furnished."

"We would much rather put the question of 3 mills in the Act. Unfortunately, the State Law prohibits the changing of the wording of the State Act by townships, villages or cities.

We are asking at the May 20 election that the voters approve our request for adoption of Act 134 with the sole purpose of allowing the township board to levy one additional mill to combine with the existing 2 mills that are presently levied for fire protection in Independence Township.

Thus, there would be 3 mills levied annually to provide for fire services.

There is a drastic need in your fire department for a large fire tanker to transport water to the large, all-wooden homes being built in the subdivisions where there were no provisions made that would provide for fire hydrants.

All water for fire suppression must be transported into these areas by large gallonage fire tankers of 2- to 3-thousand-gallon capacity which we do not have at this time.

The three fire stations themselves need repairs and modifications badly to properly house the needed two pumpers we must purchase within the next three years along with the fire tanker mentioned.

With the inadequate funding we have for the fire department at this time, due to the growth in the Township and the added services that are required and expected from your fire department along with the inflationary costs imposed on the fire budget, it is impossible to make any additions or improvements within this department without added funding.

The addition of 1 mill would cost the average property owner $25 to $30 additional a year.

We feel that this is a small amount to pay for providing more adequate fire protection to your home and family.

The mill would also assure that we can continue the level of services that are presently provided through your fire department.

Here's wording of ballot proposal Ronk favors

"Shall the Township of Independence (Village of Clarkston) acting under Act 134 of the Public Acts of 1970 create a special assessment district of the entire Township for the purpose of providing fire protection?"

"Such special assessment shall be levied annually as determined by the Township Board and shall be in excess of any constitutional limitation. If and when levied, such special assessment will be in place of and instead of the present fire protection millage.

"Said millage, if levied, shall be to a maximum of 10 mills."

Jim's jottings

Nuns are special

by Jim Sherman

It must have been my upbringing that brought about the uneasy feelings I had while interviewing a nun the other day.

However, I don't think my rearing was much different than any others in the 30's and early 40's.

When I was a sophomore in high school our family lived across the street from St. Marys Catholic Church in Morrice. I seldom crossed the street.

Only on occasion would I get a glimpse of Father Martin, and it was extremely rare when I saw a habit, sans face, in Morrice. None lived there. They must have visited from St. Joseph's in Owosso.

Much later in life George Talbot, a Morrice friend and a Catholic (one of 21 Talbot children) told me of Fr. Martin's woodworking hobby. George said Fr. Martin would be busy working in his basement and forget the time. Then in a hurry, he'd just slip his robes over his t-shirt to give mass.

It was scandalous.

We heard nothing about nuns. All our impressions were assumed. We held them in reverence. They prayed, they taught, they prayed, they nursed, they prayed.

We didn't even hear the tale of nuns wearing no hair under their veil until I was 30. (If they cut their hair it was for comfort-not faith.)

Then when Pope John, I think it was, permitted nuns to wear shorter habits, then they could even wear street clothes . . . I thought 'here comes the downfall of the Roman Catholic church. Surely their religion is going to-hell'.

"But, it's probably not. Publisher Rudy Petzold of the Tuscola County Advertiser in Caro, a very well read guy, and a Lutheran, insists the present Pope in the Vatican is the best of them all. "I read everything I can about him," Rudy says. "He's really super." I've wandered too far from my opening remark, the uneasy feeling I experienced interviewing Sister Alberta of the Dominican Order in Oxford.

I felt at first like a little boy, wanting to stand on one foot; then the other. But not for long. Sister Alberta is special, though I guess someone says that about all nuns. They are special.

Sr. Alberta is celebrating her 50th jubilee May 4. We've known her a quarter of that time. She's the only nun we've ever had more than a nodding acquaintance with, and what an impression she's made.

Congratulations, Sister Alberta. We love you.

Artist recreates plant life realities

By Marilyn Trumper

Traditional water-color painting is a spontaneous movement of broad washes and color blending.

In her work, Pam Kessler, an Independence Township resident, shrugs off the traditional and opts to control the flow of

In one corner of her studio, artist Pam Kessler sits surrounded by dried plant life. On paper she creates a water color garden of permanence.

'I want to make people more aware of their surroundings and the beauty of nature.'

her paint, creating a vivid, solid form instead of a blending.

At 31, Pam is an accomplished professional artist and has earned her living painting for the past five years.

Each day she walks downstairs to her studio on Perry Lake Road to begin work, and, as with all jobs, it often becomes a chore.

"I have to discipline myself to come down here and work," Pam said. "And it is work. Every day is not conducive to painting and often I end up throwing out something I've worked on."

"When I paint, I wet only the area I intend to work on. Traditional water color painters wet the entire paper. I can't do that because I control the colors and where they will go," she said.

In oil painting, Pam said, you can scrape off a mistake and begin again.

"But once I start to make a statement I have to paint it, I can't go back and start again."

The colors in her work are intense and dramatic, and one of the reasons for this is her use of dye. Dye creates a striking tone.

The majority of her work involves plant life. Blue Irises, Tiger Lilies, roses and of all things, Bermuda Onions.

"I am interested in the texture of onion skin and the details of the root system," Pam said. "Details attract me, I think it stems from the etchings I did in college." Pam received a bachelor of fine arts degree from Wayne State University.

In her studio hangs a water color of two onions. They look real enough to pluck from behind the glass and use in a salad. The skin is marked from the earth, the leaves are torn and shredded and the tips are yellowed from the sun.

It was a painting of two Bermuda Onions which opened the doors of the Michigan Water Color show to Pam, a show with tight competition.

Three hundred people applied for entry into the show, and only 75 were accepted.

"I have tried for three years to make it into the show and I've finally done it," Pam said. "All present and former Michigan residents are welcome to apply for entry, and submit two pieces of art for consideration. The works must be done independently without the help of an instructor, and they must be aquatic mediums on paper."

The Michigan Water Color Show will be held May 27 through June 8 at the Flint Institute of Arts, 1120 E. Kearsley in The DeWaters Art Center.

Pam recently returned from a showing in Fort Lauderdale, Fla, attended by a majority of patrons from the mid-west. She sold two-thirds of the work she displayed.

Saturday Pam received notice she has been accepted as part of a four-woman show, "How does your Garden Grow?" to be held in Ohio this summer.

Most of her work was sold during her last exhibition, and Pam said she would have to really start moving to create enough works for the show.

"The director of the show saw my work when I was in Florida, and I guess he must have tucked by paintings in the back of his mind. I guess he thought the fact that I paint plant life would be appropriate for a show with that title," she said.

"I paint plant life because it interests me," she said. "I want to make people more aware of their surroundings and the beauty of nature. In my work there is detail, and you have to stop and examine the work to see the detail and appreciate it."

'If it Fitz. . .'

25 years of bliss

by Jim Fitzgerald

Twenty-five years ago, on April 21, 1955, I proved I was a wild and crazy kind of guy. I eloped.

Eloping is not something that can be done alone, so I took a bookkeeper named Pat with me. She kept the books at the newspaper where I sold advertising and wrote columns. I eloped because I thought the experience would furnish good material for a column. Pat went along because I owed our boss money for a company car I had wrecked and he had ordered her not to let me out of her sight.

We went to Angola, Ind., which in those days was something of an elopement capital. You could buy a marriage license, a blood test and a brief ceremony all in one day if you didn't mind standing in lines and sitting around waiting rooms. In case she needed evidence later, my bride took several snapshots of our wedding day. One of these photos shows me reading a newspaper outside the justice of the peace's office.

Many years later, when our daughters saw these pictures, they asked their mother why she married a clod so insensitive he read a newspaper at his own wedding. Pat said it was part of her job as company bookkeeper.

The romantic aura continued after the wedding. We ate our marriage supper in a bowling alley in Muncie, Ind. Our first night was spent in a travel court containing five tiny units so close together they all used the same screen door. During the remaining three days of the honeymoon, I led an intensive search for a lost barracks in Ft. Knox, Ky.

I had lived in that barracks while learning to be a soldier in 1944. I knew Pat would tingle at the sight of the actual building from where her husband launched the military career that ultimately meant victory for the United States in World War II. She wasn't surprised that I would use our honeymoon to revisit scenes of my Army glory. The reason she wasn't surprised was that she had just recently learned I was so military that, nine years after my honorable discharge, I still wore khaki underwear.

Unfortunately, all barracks look alike and I never did find the right building. Pat suggested it had been moved to Arlington Cemetery as a shrine to the Unawakened Soldier. On the drive home she took a picture of me changing a flat tire in the rain. I said I should have married a mechanic instead of a bookkeeper. The honeymoon ended as we moved into a one-room apartment which featured a combination sink-stove-refrigerator and a five-year-old daughter named Karen.

Karen is the answer to those finger-counting readers who recall that I have a 10-year-old granddaughter. A guy can do it in 25 years of marriage if he adopts a five-year-old girl soon after the wedding. She came equipped with a bookkeeper.

Given the circumstances of the first one, it is obvious that my wife deserves a second honeymoon on our silver anniversary. So we're taking off a couple weeks.

Originally, it was my intention to dig out my khaki underwear and take Pat back along the route to Ft. Knox, perhaps skipping the bowling alley in Muncie.

Instead we will go to Toronto for a few days, for the good times, and to other towns to see the children who went away too fast, along with the 25 years, and to squeeze the grandchildren who remind us how sweet our life has been.

We'll also stay home alone a lot, and it will be like so many other nights. I'll watch TV while she sews, and she'll ask me what she missed on TV while she was out of the room, and I won't admit I fell asleep and don't know. Instead, I'll tell her Lou Grant hired Mary Richards to take Billie Newman's place on the Los Angeles Tribune.

And once in a while I'll look at her, and touch her, and feel very lucky.

She has been the best bookkeeper a husband could ever want, and if I had known in 1955 what I know today, I would have eloped with her even if I hadn't been a wild and crazy guy who needed some column material.

Letter to the editor

Con fire proposal

Dear editor:

In last week's Clarkston News, you featured an article on why the voters of Independence Township should support the Fire Special Assessment Ballot Proposal which has been placed on the May 20th Presidential Primary Ballot.

In response, I would like to offer some of the reasons I feel the voters should oppose the proposal.

This proposal, if passed, would set up a Fire Special Assessment District covering the entire township. The tax, as a special assessment, would not be subject to any tax limitation provisions.

For example: Despite any growth limitations in the Headlee Amendment, this tax could be doubled or even tripled by the Township Board without further voter approval, this allowing the local government to collect taxes which would circumvent any voted limitations.

The passage of this proposal would also mean a loss to the township of other revenues. This is because, currently, State Revenue Sharing funds are based partially on the amount of millage levied by a municipality. Special assessment taxes do not qualify as a basis for these funds.

The proposal under consideration would, in effect, eliminate the current levy of 2 mills for fire and would instead levy an amount of up to 10 mills as a Special Assessment Tax.

Therefore, if the proposal passes, our State Revenue Sharing funds would be reduced.

Another point to be raised is there is no reason to be asking for this type of Special Assessment District for fire in our township as opposed to asking for a 1 mill levy for fire when additional funds are needed for our department.

The State Act, under which this millage is proposed, was passed into State law in 1970. Its intended purpose is to help new fire departments to get started. Our department has been operating for many, many years. It is currently funded by approximately 2 mills of tax revenues, as well as Community Development Funds and federal Revenue Sharing funds.

The combined total of these funds currently supporting our fire department is approximately half a million dollars.

In my eyes, a department with a current budget of half a million dollars hardly qualifies as a new department that is trying to get started.

As my final point, I think the people should clearly understand that this proposal, if passed, would allow the Independence Township Board to levy up to 10 mills.

The firefighters have on occasion stated that either "it is only for one additional mill" or "the fire department will only ask for one additional mill."

However, the amount to be levied will be set, ultimately, by the township board and not the fire department and, this proposal would authorize the township board to levy up to 10 mills.

This is especially significant since the assessment would never need to be put up for a renewal. It is a permanent special assessment. The township board would decide each year the amount, up to 10 mills, to be levied.

For these and other reasons, I feel that this is neither a good nor responsible proposal.

Therefore, I urge the residents of Independence Township to vote NO at the Presidential Primary.

Christopher Rose
Independence Township Clerk

Resume misleading

To the editor:

Last week a nine-page resume published and distributed by Kirk McLauchlin, candidate for county commissioner out of the second district, Oakland County, was brought to my attention. On page four of this resume, Mr. McLauchlin lists several peoples' names to whom he says he has talked about his candidacy.

My name is one of those on this list. HOWEVER, as of the writing of this letter, I have NOT met, talked with, seen or had correspondence with this gentleman who claims to have contacted me.

I want voters in the second district of Oakland County to be aware of this and if they see one of these resumes DO NOT take for granted I support this man.

In my opinion, the resume insinuates that each person on the list has had contact with Mr. McLauchlin and might even support him and I want it understood that, at least in my case, this is NOT TRUE.

Sincerely,
Francis C. Trimmer, Trustee
Rose Township

Editor's note: Mr. Trimmer expresses my sentiments exactly, for on the list included with McLauchlin's resume is my name as well.

A portion of McLauchlin's list is "people I have spoken with concerning either my candidacy or those assisting me in what any candidate should know about being a commissioner"--my name is under that section, whereas Trimmer's is under a heading that states, "we are presently making arrangements to meet with the following."

McLauchlin came into The Clarkston News' office, said he was running for the commissioner's seat in the second district and asked if we would put something in the paper about his candidacy.

I took his picture and told him we would run an item on his candidacy. We offer the same service to all candidates.

I feel inclusion on McLauchlin's list infers my support for his candidacy which is simply not the case.

ATTENTION BRIDES The Clarkston News will be happy to let you check out one of our wedding invitation books overnight or for the weekend. If there is a particular book you would like, please call 625-3370 to reserve it !!!

Here's Herb Potato fantasy

by Herb Rose

It was decided, the other day, to buy a new kitchen stove.

I found there have been impressive changes in stove designs since our current stove was marketed just following the discovery of water.

Our present stove has the capability of, given sufficient time, heating, cooking and burning food.

The new stoves have a built-in microwave unit for which marvelous claims are made. Like: "If 12 people drop in unexpectedly, you can take a roast out of the freezer and prepare a lovely, complete dinner."

Sure.

Look, Murgatroyd, in the first place, I'm certain any financial consultant would advise delaying the commitment of funds for as significant a purchase as a roast for 12 people until there was a firm need so the monies could be held in an interest-bearing account.

In the second place, if 12 people drop in unexpectedly, they can count themselves as lucky if they get anything more than tight-lipped hospitality.

In fact, if I suspected 12 people were considering an unscheduled stop, I would hide the cars, pull down the shades and put a "for sale" sign in front of the house.

I am also told you can bake a potato in three minutes. Great!

I can't remember the last time I developed such a baked potato deficiency that one had to be administered within three minutes.

Perhaps the abbreviated cooking time is not to be able to satiate bizarre cravings but to maintain an impressive production schedule: "We're baking about 30 bushels of potatoes an hour."

We might even have a conversation like:

"What happened to that house on Holcomb?"

"I think it collapsed from the weight of the baked potatoes."

I was told that a microwave provided an excellent method of defrosting frozen foods. This claims boggles my mind. I thought items tended to defrost when you took them out of the freezer.

I am reminded of a friend of mine who claimed that, with thought waves alone, he could make ice water boil. He would put a glass of ice water on the floor, sit cross-legged and intently stare at it until it boiled.

Actually, he had never made the water boil, but several times he had brought it up to room temperature.

Although our present stove is operated with on-off switches, the control panel on the modern stove looks like something from the range safety officer's console at a missile launching site.

If we don't lose the house due to structural failure, induced by an overload of baked potatoes, it may vanish if someone inadvertently hits the "destruct" button.

Wheels to turn

Despite drivers' ed car cut

There will be fewer cars, but about 450 Clarkston High School students will be behind the wheel during drivers' education classes this summer.

For awhile, it looked like some of the students would have to wait another year, said Milford Mason, Clarkston schools' superintendent.

A troubled economy resulted in the cutback on cars provided by local dealers from 18 to 20 in years past to about 10 this year.

Mason said.

"The dealers have been extremely cooperative with us to the best of their ability under the circumstances," he said.

The students, who must be 16 by Nov. 1, will attend one of two sessions.

The first will run from June 17 to July 9 with a break for the Independence Day holiday July 3 and 4.

The second session is July 14 to Aug. 1.

Tiny tots meet friendly 'giant'

Children at the Clarkston Preschool in Independence Township got a chance to see some of their heroes up close recently.

Two weeks ago Wednesday Clarkston High School basketball star Tim McCormick, joined briefly by teammates Scott McKoin and Nick Lekas, paid a visit to the school on 5300 Maybee Rd.

For McCormick's mother Terri, who is an instructor at the school, the children's reaction was just one more indication of the type of community in which she and her family live.

"You might think that children this small wouldn't know much about the basketball team, but it turns out they've been following them all season," she said.

"The way the community reacted and rallied behind the team just shows what type of town Clarkston is. That banquet they held at the Silverdome two weeks ago—that was just unbelievable," she said.

Her personable 6-foot-10 son, fresh from a trip to California to compete in the McDonald's All-American contest, said he was more than happy to spend some time signing autographs and playing games with the delighted youngsters.

"It's been a great season," he said, reflecting on the past five months and the community's support for the team.

"It's a shame it has to end."

A visit by Clarkston High School star basketball player Tim McCormick recently was a major event for the children at Clarkston Preschool on Maybee Road, Independence Township. McCormick, whose mother is an instructor at the school, signed autographs and did a few tricks with a basketball as well to the youngsters' delight.

JV strengths: 'Hitting, learning'

By Al Zawacky

Take a baseball team with a leftfielder hitting .500, a rightfielder hitting .389 and a first baseman hitting .412, and you have the makings of an offensive juggernaut.

The names behind those impressive stats are Pete Carpentier, Adam Kline and Tony Wilson, respectively.

And the team on which they play is the Clarkston High School Junior varsity Wolves.

"Right now, I'd have to say that hitting is our strong point," says first-year coach Kurt Richardson. "That and our kids' willingness to learn have been our strengths—we've thrown a lot of baseball at them, and they're picking it up."

Depth is another plus for Richardson's team—the Wolves have 17 players on their roster: Joel Schrader, Jeff Hoeksema, Bill Ross, Carpentier, Kline, Klaus Ohrnberger, Mike Stefanski, Wilson, Mike Marcum, Duane Cahill, Mike Conway, Todd Johnston, John Morris, Jerry Gdula, Kevin Teague, Dan Gaulin and Paul Carpentier.

Seven games into their season, those 17 players have fashioned a 4-3 record, most recently sweeping a double-header from Brandon by scores of 7-6 and 8-1.

On the mound, the Wolves' top man has been Duane Cahill, a 6-foot-3 lefthander. Cahill has been credited with three of Clarkston's four victories and has yet to be charged with a defeat.

"Cahill's our top pitcher right now," Richardson says. "He doesn't do anything fancy, but he doesn't walk many. He's got good control and almost always throws strikes."

Another promising hurler is Stefanski, who went the distance and pitched a four-hitter against Bloomfield Hills Lahser, but lost 5-4 due to some errors in the field.

Richardson is confident that Stefanski will continue to pitch well and improve on his 0-2 mark.

"His record really isn't any indication of the type of pitcher he is," says the coach. "Stefanski has been the victim of some mistakes in the field, but he's still throwing well."

Ohrnberger and Marcum are two other pitchers Richardson sees as factors in his team's success as the season wears on.

Forming the other half of the JV battery is Teague and, when he's not pitching or playing in the infield, Stefanski.

"Teague's a good catcher," Richardson says, adding that his backstop's penchant for timely hits has enabled him to lead the club in RBIs.

In the infield, the coach has been platooning several players, starting the stronger hitters and then going with the better gloves later in the game.

At second base, Conway and Gaulin have shared the duties, while shortstop has been occupied by Stefanski, Ohrnberger and Johnston. Wilson's .412 average has earned him a lock on the first base job, while Hoeksema and Ross have seen most of the duty in the hot corner at third.

In the outfield, the Wolves can call upon the services of

Carpentier and Kline swing the big bats, while Schrader is an outstanding defensive player, says Richardson.

Adding to the Wolves depth have been Morris, Gdula and Paul Carpentier.

Richardson, who succeeded Gary Warner as JV coach this season, teaches physical education at Sashabaw Junior High. He also served as assistant to CHS varsity football coach Walt Wynnemko last fall.

The point after

by Al Zawacky

Lord knows, Don has problems.

Allow me to explain. Don is a close friend of mine. We went to school together, and still visit each other often.

When we do, the topic of our conversation is invariably sports. Usually, Don does the talking while I listen, passively gazing into a shell of Michelob.

This doesn't sound too unusual. The scene is repeated everywhere friends get together, from the Big Apple to Tinseltown. But Don is not your typical fan.

He hates sports.

The other day I happened to drop by his apartment and found him lounging in his chair, surrounded by the sports sections of at least four daily newspapers.

On the radio was a Tiger baseball game, while the television featured film clips of the Red Wings, Pistons and Lions preserved on Don's Beta Max.

Upon seeing me, he went into a tirade about how he hated the teams, the players, the coaches, the owners, the fans and the games themselves.

This prompted the following series of questions and answers:

AL: Don, have you ever given any thought as to what sport you hate most? I mean, which is your least favorite?

DON: (After a long pause.) That's tough to say. I hate them all.

AL: How can you hate baseball, an American institution? You know, hot dogs, apple pie, motherhood...

DON: Baseball is dull, dull—with three capital 'd's. I heard a study conducted in Baltimore revealed that only about 25 percent of baseball is action—the rest is nine guys just standing around doing nothing. If I wanted to see that, I'd visit the White House.

AL: Sorry, but the Washington Senators moved to Texas years ago, guy. What about basketball?

DON: Basketball reminds me of week-old unrefrigerated cheese...

AL: How's that?

DON: It stinks. Half the scoring takes place at the foul line, and what kind of sissy sport is it that bans any type of body contact?

AL: You must like hockey, then...

DON: Naw, it stinks, too. Half of the time I can't see the puck, and the whole time I can't see the goaltenders' faces. How can you passionately root for a sheet of fiberglass? The players don't look human.

AL: Football?

DON: Sheer brutality. The whole object of the game is to assault and maim the one guy unfortunate enough to get the ball. If I wanted to see that type of thing, I'd go to a Waterford Kettering basketball game.

AL: Soccer?

DON: Soccer makes baseball look exciting, if you'll excuse the exaggeration. The last soccer game I went to was tied 0-0 after two 45-minute halves, two sudden-death overtimes, and 117 rounds of shootout. At that point, refreshed from my hour nap, I went home. Heck, that was only two years ago—they may still be playing.

For years, I had dismissed Don as some unique aberration of nature, a helpless victim of his heredity.

Why else would he put himself through such punishment—completely absorbing himself in something he hated?

But then it occurred to me—it wasn't a matter of heredity at all, but one of environment. For years, Don had faithfully followed the exploits of the pitiful Tigers, Red Wings, Lions and Pistons. Who could blame him for hating sports?

I devised a form of therapy.

"Don, you ought to come and visit Clarkston with me some day," I said. "The high school teams here aren't like the Tigers or Lions at all. In 1976, the baseball team won the state championship. In 1977, the Wolves' football team went 9-0. And the basketball team we had just this past season was nothing short of outstanding."

"I'm telling you, guy, the team's out here are different. They actually post some wins."

Don looked up from his shell of Michelob. For the first time in a decade his cynical eyes lit up in wonder and fascination. Finally, the die-hard Detroit sports fan spoke.

"What's a win?"

"I told you, Don, had problems."

Sports

Catcher Mike Stefanski quickly discards his mask following an infield grounder off the bat of a Brandon player.

Pete Carpentier shows the form that's earned him the top batting average on the team in a game against Brandon. Carpentier has six hits in 12 times for a .500 average.

Wolves burn Brandon at both ends

By Al Zawacky

Coach Roy Warner beamed that the "fire was back in the eyes" of his Clarkston varsity baseball team last week—and it was the visitors from Brandon who got burned.

Riding the crest of some outstanding pitching by junior Kurt Esselink, the Wolves blanked Brandon 3-0 in the opening contest of a double-header Friday afternoon, then went on to take the second game 8-5 behind the strong hitting of Greg Lane, Rich Lamphere, Ron Feneley and Brent Davies.

Warner was obviously pleased with the twin bill sweep, which enabled his team to up its season mark to 3-4.

"We're a much improved ball club," Warner said, adding that his team's turn-around couldn't have come at a better time with the first GOAL opponents coming up on the schedule.

"We're doing much better in the mental aspects of the game—hopefully, we can keep this up," Warner said.

The Wolves opened last week's action with their first victory of the season, an 8-3 home win over Milford Lakeland.

Chuck Nicolai posted the victory and teammate Jerry Charboneau was credited with a save. Leading the Clarkston attack were Scott Himes, Kevin Kraus, Lamphere, Lane and Doug Hagyard, all with two hits apiece.

The bats fell silent two days later against Bloomfield Hills

Lahser, as the Wolves bowed 9-2. Hagyard continued his solid hitting by collecting three of his team's five hits.

That set the stage for Esselink's standout performance on the mound against Brandon. The junior righthander allowed just three hits, walked only one and fanned 12 en route to posting a 3-0 win and lowering his already impressive ERA to 1.11.

"We didn't commit any errors in that game, either," said a proud coach Warner, who's always been a stickler for defense.

John Tisch, Charboneau and Himes shared the pitching duties in game two, and it was Himes that posted the victory.

On the offense, the Wolves were paced by Lane's two RBIs and second roundtripper of the season and two hits apiece by Lamphere, Feneley and Davies.

Statistical standouts for Clarkston include Charboneau with a team-leading 0.88 ERA and batting average leaders Hagyard at .440 and Lamphere at .429.

Clarkston's Kevin Krause swings and makes contact in the early stages of the Wolves' 9-2 defeat to Lahser. The loss proved to be only a temporary setback for the Clarkston nine, as they stormed back two days later to sweep a twin bill from Brandon.

Sports certainly can be a great deal of fun but also have some potential for accidents. Avoid accidents by first making sure that the playing area is cleared of glass or obstacles that might cause a fall. Then, insure that all equipment that will be used is in good order. In scuba diving it is a matter of life and death, while in tennis, it could be a matter of incorrectly straining an arm. In hockey a face protector that does not really protect, is certainly useless. Proper conditioning and warm-up, including some stretching exercises also help to prevent injury.

Being properly fitted to sports equipment is also important. We at COACH'S CORNER, 31 S. Main, 625-8457 are well known for our expertise in this area. We guarantee everything we sell and always maintain a large inventory. This avoids long waits for delivery. Open: Daily 9:30am-6pm, Sat. until 5pm.

Michigan Week Run scheduled

Michigan Week is coming, and so is the second annual Michigan Week 10,000 Meter Run.

Sponsored by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department and Runnin' Gear, a specialty running equipment store in Waterford, the race will start at 10 a.m. May 25, Sunday, in the Pine Knob Music Theatre parking lot.

Last year the race attracted 70 participants, but recreation supervisor Sheryl Stickley says she hopes for twice that number this time around.

"The best overall time we had last year was 33 minutes, 29 seconds," says Stickley. "There'll be several winners—everybody will be divided up into categories so that they'll be competing against members of their own age group."

"We had runners as young as 14 and as old as 57 competing last year," she adds.

The race will follow a circular 3.2 mile course that will take the runners back to Pine Knob for the finish. First-place winners will receive a gift certificate from Running Gear, while second and third-place finishers will be awarded trophies or medals.

In addition, a special award will be given to the oldest and youngest runner completing the race.

Those interested in competing should contact Independence Parks and Recreation by phone at 625-8223 or by going in person to the department office, 90 N. Main, Clarkston to pick up the necessary forms.

Those who pre-register by May 21, at a cost of $5, will receive a free T-shirt. Registration the day of the race will take place at Pine Knob between 8 and 9:30 a.m. at a cost of $6.

Wyckoff breaks record—again

Steve Wyckoff isn't satisfied by just breaking other people's records.

So he went ahead and broke his own Clarkston High School record of 6-5 in the high jump by two inches at the West Bloomfield Invitational track meet Saturday.

"His 6-7 school record also ties the West Bloomfield Invitational record," said Clarkston boys' track coach Walt Wyniemko. "To break your own record and establish another school mark is a tremendous accomplishment."

Placing in the top three in various events at the tourney were Wyckoff, Mark Johnson, Paul Brown and Joe Partlo in the high jump; Ron Thompson and Brown in the discus; Thompson in the pole vault; Foos, Kurt Runey and Pete Ludwig in the high hurdles; Mike Ulasich in the 100-yard dash; Brown and Dave Ryson in the 440; Mark Hughes, Steve Neff and Partlo in the 440-yard relay; Foos, Runey and Wyckoff in the low hurdles; and Neff and Greg Wilson in the 220-yard dash.

Tennis team splits

For the Clarkston High School tennis team, what a difference a day made.

The Wolves opened their 1980 season last week against Pontiac Northern and suffered a 7-0 whitewashing—but turned the tables on Milford Lakeland just 24 hours later to post a 6-1 win.

"It was just a matter of the guys keeping their heads and winning the close matches," said Clarkston coach Dick Swartout. "We won the tie breakers (against Lakeland) by just staying cool."

Clarkston had three winners in singles competition: Clark Maxam defeated Jim Springer 7-5, 6-3; Brant Volberding downed Dave Forsyth 7-5, 6-4; and Steve Rollman took Tom Wertenberger 6-4, 6-4.

The three winning doubles teams for the Wolves were the combinations of Tom Beattie and Bill Cattin; Brian Ladd and Joey Hoopfer; and Scott Saltmarsh and Fred Roeser.

Travel agents do a lot more than sell tickets and reserve rooms. However, to do even that much a travel agency principal must be well-trained and appointed by the airlines. Having served a long apprenticeship as a travel agent, we must be familiar with all aspects of the travel business and then apply for appointments. Registered agencies must also have sufficient capital and/or be bonded to insure that the cost of the tickets they issue can be recovered. There is more than meets the eye in selling airline tickets and reserving rooms!

We do more for you than just selling tickets and reserving rooms. We're here to help you plan entire trips, from a few days to several weeks. Our experts have traveled widely to bring you back personal knowledge of various places in the world. The next time you plan to travel see us first at CLARKSTON TRAVEL BUREAU INC., 6 N. # Taking good care of history

Members of the Davisburg Jaycees and Rotary Club were busy taking care of history Saturday at the Davisburg Cemetery. They leveled the old gravestones, placed cement bases under some for more stability and repaired broken stones. Norris Walls, president of the Rotary Club, was there smoothing out the roads with a scraper on the back of a tractor.

Rotarian Mike Boyers heaves and pushes a heavy gravestone back in place after evening out the ground underneath.

This old monument leaves no doubt about what happened to the man buried here.

Surrounded by monuments of all sizes, Jaycee Don Mackewich levels out yet another old gravestone. Readable dates on the monuments go back to the mid 1800s.

Organizer of the project, Jaycee Dennis Omell, puts a monument back in place while young Matt Mackewich perches atop another gravestone for a bird's-eye view.

Talking about . . .

On Main Street, Clarkston, we asked this week's question:

Do you plan to buy a new car this year?

"No, because frankly I can't afford it. But if I could I'd help out the American economy and purchase a small American station wagon." — Larry Terry, Sashabaw Road, Independence Township, musician.

"We just bought a Buick Riviera last year, but if we needed a new car this year we would buy one." — Doris Smith, Northview Road, Independence Township, owner of Clarkston Fuel Supply.

"Yes, probably a truck with a club cab and jump seat. I'm thinking about buying a Ford." — Julian Galan, Union Lake, owner of a machine shop.

"It's kind of debatable. I am thinking about it because my car is four years old. If I do buy a new one it will be in the fall, and will probably be an Oldsmobile." — Betty Spratt, Northville Road, Independence Township, retired.

"No, we just bought a Chevrolet truck last June. If we had to buy a car now I don't think we would, because the interest rates are too high." — Paula Benfield, Tindall Road, Springfield Township, cook.

Springfield 'Jaws of Life' fund grows slowly

Springfield Township firefighters, their wives and a concerned community have raised approximately $1,850 for the "Jaws of Life" device, according to volunteer firefighters Ralph Przybylski.

"That leaves us with about $6,500 to go—which is quite a bit, but we're hopeful we can raise that amount by the first week in September," Przybylski says.

Included in the fund raisers to date have been a raffle, bake sale, spaghetti supper and benefit movie at the Clarkston Cinema.

The next money raiser is scheduled for May 16 at the Roaring Os C. B. Club in Davisburg. Pancakes and sausage will be served from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. with the proceeds for the "Jaws of Life" fund.

"We've also got a number of other community service clubs planning fund raisers in the near future," Przybylski says. "Plus, we'll probably have a car wash and another bake sale."

Outright contributions from individuals and businesses have also been coming in amounts from $1 to $200, he says.

The "Jaws of Life" is a hydraulic device used to free accident victims from cars by cutting and prying through the metal. The tool can also be useful to rescue people trapped in burning buildings when something falls on them, Przybylski says.

Two companies make the device, and the volunteer force will decide between the two based on cost and a demonstration of each one, he adds.

Springfield Township firefighters and a few curious onlookers got a chance to see the "Jaws of Life" in action last week.

Millage renewal

Voters will face a 3-mill tax renewal for Clarkston schools on the June 9 school election ballot.

The present 3-mill levy runs out after the December 1980 tax collection.

If approved, the millage renewal would last 10 years, until 1991.

The 3 mills accounts for about $934,000 income to Clarkston schools, said Superintendent Milford Mason.

The figure includes about $211,000 for each mill plus state aid determined by formula for each mill approved by voters.

One mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

If defeated, the cut in income to the schools would have serious effects, Mason said.

"In a district that's pretty bare-bones and basic, it knocks you right out of the box," he said.

The school operates on a $12 million, 136 thousand yearly budget.

Police log

Friday evening a van parked in the lot of the Deer Lake Inn, 7504 Dixie Highway, Independence Township, had both windows broken and the knobs from the radio stolen. An estimate of the loss was not available.

A thief or thieves broke into the lockers of three patrons at Waterford Hill Courts, Inc., 6110 Dixie Highway, Independence Township, Friday evening, taking a watch, wallets, money and credit cards.

One of the patrons, a member of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Mounted Division, lost his department O.D. Card and small pocket badge.

The total amount taken was $67 in cash, one wallet with an estimated value of $16, two additional wallets and eight credit cards, according to police reports.

Saturday, the Winship Photography studio, 5530 Sashabaw, Independence Township, had a window damaged with shots from a B.B. gun. Damage costs were not available.

A homemade bicycle was stolen Sunday from a garage on Crescent Lake Road, Independence Township. The value of the 20-inch red bike was not available.

The Village Pharmacy, 5875 Dixie Highway, in the Independence Commons Shopping Center was broken into Sunday evening. The owner thinks a number of watches were taken but will not know until an inventory is taken, according to police reports.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department brought in a dog to track the thieves, but were unsuccessful. Police theorize the thieves fled in a waiting car, according to reports.

Mailing a package leads to postal career

Laverna Skibowski is new Davisburg postmaster

Laverna Skibowski, Davisburg's new postmaster, weighs a customer's letter to assess postage. The opportunity to serve her community is what she says she enjoys best about her new job.

By Al Zawacky

A routine trip to the post office turned out to be the start of a career for Laverna Skibowski.

"I was mailing a package," says Skibowski, who was officially named Postmaster at the Davisburg office last week. "The postmaster and I started talking, and in the course of the conversation he asked me if I'd be interested in a part time job."

Skibowski said yes, and in 1973 she became a substitute rural carrier. It was the first step down a road that would lead her to the full time postmaster's job seven years later.

She became a regular carrier in 1977, the officer in charge in 1978, and postmaster on April 25.

"I certainly wasn't thinking about a career when I started--It was just a part-time job," Skibowski says.

"I really enjoy my work--I'm able to serve the public right in the community I live in."

Skibowski has lived with her husband Gary and three children at the same Springfield Township address 10 years.

In her leisure time Skibowski has been active in little league baseball and fund raising for different organizations in the community.

She says she loves to bowl, but adds that her favorite leisure activity is to have a big picnic in her backyard with friends and family.

When listing her duties as postmaster, Skibowski jokes that she "wears many hats."

"It's a combination of a lot of things--sorting mail, servicing customers, supervising routes and carriers, and taking care of all the reports and financial documents. It's really a paper mill her," she adds.

To get the job she had to pass a civil service test and submit an extensive resume to the postal service's regional selection board.

"The candidates are narrowed down to five people, and the board makes its selection from those five," Skibowski says. "Of those five, I was the only one from the Davisburg area and had worked at this office all along, so I guess that was in my favor."

Occasionally, she hears complaints about postage rates or the new regulation about standard envelope sizes, but most of the feedback she gets from the public is positive, she says.

"I know a lot of the people who come in here," she says. "We're small enough to be able to provide fast, personal service."

Spring spiff-up time down on the Miller farm

With warm weather comes the chore of spiffing up the barn at the Miller centennial farm on Bridge Lake Road, Springfield Township. Neighborhood kids use the baled hay for jumping into off the barn's rafters and, come spring, the hay needs rebaling, says Charles Icenhower who has worked on the farm since 1953. Sharing the task is Sharlene Miller who grew up on the farm and now teaches elementary school in Royal Oak. She comes home on weekends and during vacation time. The barn once housed dairy cows, but is now used to store the baled hay sold by the Millers.

Players ride along on Noah's Ark

Songs, dance to fill Depot Theatre stage beginning May 2

The Clarkston Village Players' rendition of the lively musical comedy "Two by Two" is the grand finale of the theater group's season.

The production opens Friday, May 2, at the Depot Theatre, 1801 W. Main, Clarkston, Mich. The show will run through May 11.

A production of the play is being mounted by the Clarkston Village Players, a group of about 20 actors and actresses.

Starring in the production is Roy Dennison as Noah, Judy Rood as his wife Esther, and the Ark embellished by its author Peter Stone with humor and fictional accounts of Noah's family.

As Noah, struggles to carry out God's commands with the support of his wife, Esther, played by Judy Rood, he is confronted with all sorts of problems.

Noah's oldest son, Shem, and his wife, Leah, played by Chuck Storey and Sandy Grider, manufacture manure briquettes in anticipation of the day they'll have the only dry fuel supply in a wet, wet world.

Meanwhile, middle son Ham, played by Darwin Bragg, has fallen in love with Goldie, portrayed by Marcia Cybul.

Goldie has been brought aboard the Ark as a possible mate for Noah's youngest son, Japheth, played by Larry Bate.

In the situation he viewed as a comedy, the strange, Rachel, who is a pharisee, will be taken for her own good by her son, Japheth, played by Larry Bate.

"Two by Two" is directed by Paul Thomas with musical direction by Miriam Bate. Accompanist is Melissa Allen and Sandy Grider is choreographer. Dennis Colwell is producing the play.

Tickets are $3.50 and are available at Tierra Arts and Designs, 20 S. Main, Clarkston, or by calling 363-0188.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. except Sunday, May 11, when the play begins at 7:30 p.m.

The cast hosts an afterglow following the opening night performance.

The benefit performance Thursday, May 15, is for Clarkston Youth Assistance.

Noah tells the dove to fly away and find dry land so the Ark can end its voyage.

Kids, bus driver, firefighters make a team

Seven kids waiting for the school bus and a CB radio saved the day last week when a fire broke out at the Deer Lake Inn.

Telephone service was out in the area Wednesday morning when the kids smelled smoke.

While most of the 4,300 Michigan Bell customers were merely frustrated by the inconvenience, Jigger Barb Zabel ran into a more serious situation as she approached the bus stop on Deer Lake Road behind the inn that faces Dixie Highway.

"My son said, 'Mom, the Deer Lake Inn is on fire,'" Barb said.

And as she was trying to figure out what to do, he added, "Never mind, Miss Bennett has a CB on our bus."

Shortly afterward, Pat Bennett radioed the plan for fire trucks through the bus garage.

And before Barb had jugged past four more houses, the fire trucks arrived at the burning building.

"So Miss Bennett with her CB in Bus 26 saved the day," Barb said. "I don't know what we would have done without her. We were really in a pickle."

The fire caused about $1,000 damage, said Fire Chief Frank Konk.

It started in a beer carton, burned through the dry wall and a beam and was going up the outside of the wooden building when the fire trucks arrived.

Konk agreed the kids and their bus driver may very well have saved the Deer Lake Inn from more serious damage.

"That extra five minutes could have made a big difference," he said.

The alert youngsters are Lisa and Lynn Burkemo, Lee Ann Carlson, Steve Carlson, Bill Falardeau, Doug Schierz and Mike Zabel.

Their hobbies ignite second childhood

Adults engineer extravagant sand castles on the beach, or slowly sip a glass of cherry Kool-Aid while sitting in the shade.

It's all a part of reliving childhood.

Juanita and Carl Roselli simply walk down a flight of stairs to their basement. There they go about business in two fantasy worlds.

Juanita becomes the Albert Kahn of doll house architecture, and Carl evolves into the Orville Wright of airplane design.

"The basement is our second childhood shop," Juanita said. "We are reliving a childhood we never had. It's fun and relaxing to work on our hobbies."

Juanita's pastime is building doll houses and the furniture to go with them. Carl builds model cars, train layouts and radio controlled planes.

Juanita, 58, and Carl, 59, spend many evenings working in the basement of their Independence Township home. She is on one side, and he is on the other.

But always there is communication.

"We call out to each other all the time," Juanita said. "We ask each other to hold this, or saw this, or wire that," she laughed. "One or the other of us always needs help with something."

Carl's penchant for model cars, electric trains and airplanes dominates half of the basement. Juanita's work bench and doll house have laid claim to the other half.

The doll house comes un-assembled, with banded pieces of wood, miniscule nails in plastic bags and hundreds of wooden shingles.

Juanita spent five months constructing her last doll house.

"Every piece must be cut, sanded, stained and glued with precision and patience," she said. "But I like it. Every piece is

When you don't have the time to build the real thing, the next best option is to have a model.

Juanita spends a lot of evening hours constructing this doll house.

Miniature wooden furniture Juanita has constructed from kits, will be placed throughout the doll house. Each piece had to be sanded, stained and nailed together with tiny pin-like nails.

so tiny that you can't concentrate on anything else but what you are doing. You forget all your other problems."

Carl said he has always enjoyed building model cars. A case against the wall is filled with multi-colored automobiles of a variety of years.

"This is my favorite," Carl said, pulling out a 1932 Ford. "It is a four-door convertible. It's rare, you just don't see them like that anymore. And they don't make them like that any more."

"They come as a lead mold, and I sand them with fine paper, and paint them. The detail is all there," he said pointing to the small-spark plug wires under the hood.

With Carl, model cars just don't quite make it like the real thing would.

"What I'd like to do is recondition a 1932 Ford out in the garage," he said.

When it comes to airplanes, Carl is right at home. He has been building radio controlled airplanes for 20 years, and the basement ceiling is proof.

Six crafted planes hang from wires across the ceiling. Two are in production stages.

"I take them out and fly them in the field off of Scott Lake Road," Carl said. "Sometimes they crash."

"I also enter them in promotional airplane shows at the Pontiac Mall to show the public what they are all about."

Juanita spends time constructing furniture for the doll house when she isn't working on the doll house itself.

"Carl constructed a special magnifier for me to use when I am building the furniture, because the detail is so small," she said. "I paint the trim and design with a brush that has just a few hairs."

The furniture must be sanded, nailed, glued, painted or varnished according to Juanita.

"It gives me a chance to be creative though," she said. "I can decide what color to paint them, or if they should have trim. I spent some time today rearranging the furniture in the half-finished doll house just to see what it would look like. It is fun."

Juanita said she often strays from the instructions and allows the creative juices to flow.

"I changed the way the stairs will go up. I changed the panes in the windows, I even created my own hardwood floor," she said. "Most of all I enjoy being able to pick out the wallpaper and making the drapes. It gives me a chance to design and takes away from the frustration of wanting to redesign my own home all the time."

When they are not working on their hobbies, Juanita works at the Pontiac State Bank and is in her 25th year.

Carl is an inspector for General Motors Truck and Coach and has worked there 10 years.

But they agree that as far as their hobbies go, "We'd rather do those any day."

Hypnotist James Hoke's appearance Thursday, May 15, at Clarkston High School's Little Theatre promises to be a real spellbinder.

Hoke demonstrates his mastery of the ancient art of hypnosis using volunteers from the audience.

His presentation, to begin at 7:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Clarkston Community Women's Club as a fund raiser.

Hoke keeps his audiences spellbound by giving his subjects suggestions that keep them dancing to imaginary music, riding down a bumpy road, seeing with x-ray vision or reliving an experience as a 4-year-old.

He whistles and a subject slumps into a hypnotic sleep. He cements a person's eyes shut by merely touching his forehead.

He makes a subject's arm stiff as a board by merely giving it a firm tug.

During his 12-year career as a hypnotist, Hoke has hypnotized more than 300,000 persons in groups and individually at his Southfield clinic.

Tickets for the show are $5 and may be purchased from the women's club members, at the door, or call 623-9462.

James Hoke illustrates the complete relaxation of being hypnotized as his subject's muscles relax.

Scott McKoin, of Clarkston High School basketball fame, leads the way in a performance of the "bunny hop" during festivities at McHappy Day. The 1950s dance was performed as part of McDonald's commemoration of its 25th anniversary.

'McHappy Day' benefits charity

McDonald's of Independence Township employees and local community leaders kick off "McHappy Day" Sunday morning by opening a box of helium filled balloons in front of the restaurant on 6695 Dixie Highway. Local celebrities and community leaders lent a hand cooking hamburgers and waiting on customers in an effort to raise money for the Ronald McDonald House near Children's Hospital in Detroit, a home-away-from-home for ill children and their parents. McDonald's donated 25 cents toward the Ronald House for each Big Mac sandwich sold, as the event marked the restaurant chain's 25th anniversary.

They head for Loch Ness shores

By Herb Rose,
Boy Reporter

After 40 years of bending twigs, Janet F. Rose was feted in June of last year with a surprise party given at her home.

A champagne fountain, coupled with a band, gave the 125 guests—which included 17 Roses, the teaching staff of Clarkston Elementary School, a healthy contingent from the Clarkston Village Players, miscellaneous ungrouped personages and a dachshund from Chicago—the option of dancing or drinking.

The dachshund did not state a preference.

Mrs. Rose had been enticed away from her home by invitations to a wedding and reception. After the wedding, her husband, Pete Rose, who was privy to the clandestine operation, declined to attend the reception and insisted on returning home.

It is to be hoped that Mrs. Rose was surprised to find the stage set for a gala orgy.

The Pete Roses were presented with a bowl of money, to which all other guests had contributed, with the sincere wish that they enjoy a trip to Scotland to visit the old family Castle.

After a series of successful delays resulting from sound application of trusted procrastination techniques, the Roses left Wednesday, April 23, for their long-anticipated trip.

We understand they will spend their time feeding the Loch Ness monster and photographing the Rose ghost.

Inventive suggestion

Toolmaker Neal Philpott [left] has won a $10,000 award from the General Motors Suggestion Plan for recommending use of an air probe gauge on the piston pin hole gauging operation in Pontiac Motor Division's Engine Plant. Robert C. Stempel, Pontiac general manager, says in addition to allowing a larger gauge range on the piston hole operation, Philpott's suggestion reduced reruns and equipment expense while improving quality. Philpott resides on Northview Road, Independence Township, with his wife.

New arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kratt of Hummingbird Lane, Independence Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Molter, Guyette Road, Independence Township, are the proud grandparents of twin boys.

Jason and Jeremy were born April 22 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. Their parents, Robert and Darlene Molter, are both former Clarkston residents, now living in Ortonville.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Kratt, Port Charlotte, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Lesar, of West Bloomfield, Mrs. Madeline Molter, Pontiac, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Revei, Brooksville, Fla.

Don and Teri Foote became parents the second time April 21 when their daughter Kylee Ann was born.

She weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces at birth and measured 19.5 inches.

Waiting to greet her new sister at home in Waterford Township was Linnea, age 2.

Grandparents are Mack and Lois Morrow of Transparent Drive, Independence Township, and Gene and Jackie Foote of Church Street, Independence Township.

Great-grandparents are Ed and Betty Morrow of Gladwin, Vic and Roma Stachler of Pontiac, Edith Perry of Pontiac, Don and Loretta Foote of Houghton Lake and Marie Palmer of Waterford Township.

Club notes

Helpful hints about nutrition and breast feeding are offered monthly by the Clarkston LaLeche League

Topic for the Wednesday, May 7, meeting is nutrition and weaning. Babies are welcome.

The group is to meet at 7:30 p.m. at 6635 Laurelton, Independence Township.

For more information, call Justine at 634-7957.

Students win awards

Several Sashabaw Junior High School students were winners at the Michigan Industrial Education Society competition held April 10-12 in Grand Rapids.

Wayne Elkins won a first-place award for a cast metal rooster.

Fourth-place ribbons went to Denise Humphrey for a plastic pen set and Richard Wiley for a drafting project.

Jane Coleman's copper tooling Project won ninth-place honors.

Drafting projects also won a sixth-place prize for Jeff Dwire and a seventh-place ribbon for David Stephens.

Honors

New officers have been elected by the World War I Veterans of Clinton Valley Barracks No. 2803 and auxiliary.

Minnie Schneller was re-elected president as was Alice Rioux as senior vice president.

Eva Lucas as junior vice president, Iva Landon as conductress, Eunice Tremper as chaplain and Jeanette Atkins as flag bearer and Americanism chairman complete the roster of elected officers.

They are to be installed at the May 10 meeting to be held at noon at Springfield Township Hall, Davisburg.

Winner of the American Business Women's Association Inde-Spring Charter Chapter, Boss of the Year award is Robert Shapiro, vice president of professional affairs for Perry Drug Stores.

Shapiro was nominated for the honor by his secretary Linda Houston of Springfield Township.

An engraved plaque was presented to Shapiro at the club's Boss Night banquet held March 25 at Spring Lake Country Club, Independence Township.

Recipe File

By Lorna Bickerstaff

Joanne Orr Weiss graduated from Clarkston High School in 1951 with about 50 fellow students.

Her old alma mater now houses Clarkston Junior High School and the building celebrated its golden anniversary Saturday.

In honor of the occasion, Joanne shares her recipe for Pineapple Nut Cake.

Parents of three grown sons, Joanne and her husband John live in Waterford Township.

Pineapple Nut Cake

- 2 c. flour
- 2 t. soda
- 1 c. chopped nuts
- 1 large crushed pineapple and juice (1 lb. 4 oz.)
- 2 c. sugar
- 2 beaten eggs

Do not use mixer. Mix all ingredients together and place in oblong cake pan. Bake 40 or 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Icing

1 large pkg. cream cheese, 1½ c. powdered sugar, 1 t. vanilla.

Beat together until consistency to spread on cool cake.

Note: If you have a recipe you would like to share with us, please mail it to us or drop it off at the office. Give us your telephone number in case we have a question.

Musical comedy good for what ails you

You Can't Take It With You
By George S. Kaufman & Moss Hart
Meadow Brook Theatre

Departing from the usual finale to a season, Meadow Brook Theatre ended its 14th season not with a musical but a comedy.

If that is unconventional for Meadow Brook, that's okay. Because the comedy they are presenting instead has a lot to say about conformity and individualism.

"You Can't Take It With You," George S. Kaufman's and Moss Hart's 1936 Broadway comedy hit, is a strong expression of a deeply felt American unconventionality. Represented by the Vanderhof family, rugged individualism and a free and uncommitted life are given a nod of approval by the authors.

The Vanderhofs a free and easy amalgamation of family and strays, live in zany hubbub on which they seem to thrive.

When Alice received a marriage proposal, she is forced to examine the eccentricities of her family realistically.

The vast differences between her fiance's conforming, business-oriented family and her own family where no one seems to actually work (except Alice) become apparent. No one cares with the exception of Alice, a bright and sensitive girl played by Cyd Quilling.

While the serious theme of the play frequently rises to the surface in the contrast between the Vanderhofs and the Kirbys, the play is more significant from the audience point of view because of the delightful chaos and the gay madness of this charming family.

The play is a classic and the directing and performances by a large cast were worthy of a classic.

Delightful cameo performances were turned in by Eric Tavaris as a slightly mad Russian and Jeanne Arnold as a Russian dutchess.

But of all the excellent portrayals, the most critical and best came from Harry Ellerbe as Grandpa Martin Vanderhof. He is a vigorous, cheerful old man who comes off a bit like the elderly George Burns.

Ellerbe gives Grandpa a slow-moving but essential shrewdness with which he maintains his non-conformity and punctures the pretense of others; even the government (to the obvious enjoyment of the opening night audience).

In the final scenes of act three, Grandpa argues about the dangers of conformity and doing the important albeit nonessential things in life. He tells Mr. Kirby (A. D. Cover) that he's made all the money he will ever need besides, "You can't take it with you."

Grandpa gave up his own business 35 years before and what has he done since?

"Well, I've had fun...and I haven't taken bicarbonate of soda in 35 years. What's the matter with that?"

There is, in fact, no better argument for seeing this play during its run which lasts through May 25th.

A light touch in its comedy and lines that are perhaps even funnier today than they were 44 years ago make "You Can't Take It With You" a good antidote to what ails you about the world and the human condition these days.

COPIES OF your personal papers, etc., made while you wait. The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston. 25c first copy, the rest are less. 625-3370.

Coping with kids

by Jim & Ellen Winkell

Delightful, annoying mix of child, adult

If you have an 11 year old and you wonder what's gotten into him, rest assured you probably have a normal preadolescent.

Pity the poor sixth grade teacher who has to teach 11 year olds all year long. The typical 11 year old is restless and talkative and generally resistive to adult authority.

At 10, youngsters tend to be rather compliant and easy to manage. A year later and you have the beginnings of preadolescence with all the problems this will bring for parents and teachers.

At 11, the usual boy or girl is indifferent or outright resistive to adults.

They may be abrasive or as one parent put it "obnoxious."

They are argumentative, often over insignificant points, and getting him or her to cooperate with housework may be next to impossible.

These sixth graders are a delightful and annoying combination of child and adult. There is a great interest in boys by girls and girls by boys. But, there is also competitiveness between boys and girls.

Peer relationships with same-sex friends are very important; however, also changeable.

There is much talking on the phone about those friendships and the petty fights and jealousies that go along with them.

When an 11-year-old girl calls her friend, you can be sure it will involve a boy. And while there is a lot of allusion to sex, it is a subject that will cause blushing.

Because of the lack of cooperation at home, parents tend to see the typical 11 year old as selfish and self-centered.

It seems, however, that the 11 year old gets so caught up in a restless pursuit of relationships and friendships, as well as activities related to these things, that they have little time for the "unimportant" things which parents usually feel fall into the area of responsibility and obligation.

Peeking into the past

10 YEARS AGO
April 30, 1970

Mr. and Mrs. William Pelton celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a Kingsley Inn gathering of relatives and friends following the dinner. The couple were surprised at an open home at the home of their daughter Mary and her husband.

Clarkston Police will soon have their own patrol car. Combined efforts of the village and police, plus some help from Hauptmann, will allow village to lease a 1968 Pontiac.

The Student Government of the Clarkston Junior High is planning a "clean sweep" of the Clarkston area. They will spread out to eleven areas which will include The Orchards, shopping center, downtown, Mill Pond, Holcomb, Middle Lake and the school areas.

25 YEARS AGO
April 28, 1955
Last week honors befell Mrs. Frank (Agnes) Jewell who has been a patient at the Oakland County TB Sanitorium for many months. The Medical and Rehabilitation Staff named Mrs. Jewell the new editor of The Panacea, the hospital's monthly publication.

Jeanette Kay Whitlock was runner-up at the regional spelling-down. The spelling contest was sponsored by The Detroit News.

Perhaps it's the thought of leaving behind familiar friends or teachers, or maybe that coveted toy. Whatever the reasons, moving up a rung to kindergarten does not seem an appealing prospect to one graduate.

Littlest graduates

Graduation is always special, whether it's pre-school or college. Paul Caster smiles as he is dressed by his teacher Janet Shiel, preparing for that moment of glory. The tots would relinquish just seconds of their scampering to stand for the tedious fitting.
