Zoning amendment may stop ski run

By Marilyn Trumper

If the Independence Township Board adopts a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance limiting structure height to 35 feet, Pine Knob's proposed 185-foot ski run would be subject to the new law, said Richard Campbell, township attorney.

"If the judge rules Pine Knob can come back to the township and apply for a building permit without site plan approval, in my opinion, Pine Knob's project would be subject to the new ordinance," he said. "That's assuming all effective dates have passed.

"Unless there is the actual beginning of construction there is no vested right in zoning," he said.

To date, the township's zoning ordinance has been void of limitations on structure height and amusement park regulations.

The planning commission is in the process of reviewing a string of proposed amendments, several of which relate to structure height limitation and regulations on amusement parks.

Two related ordinance amendments would limit structure height to 35 feet — mandating television, radio and microwave towers go before the zoning board of appeals for height variance and to the planning commission for site plan approval.

A second ordinance proposal limits amusement park size to 4.5 acres and the number of rides within a park to 16. In addition, the amendment defines amusement park rides as structures and mandates no amusement park be located within one mile of another amusement park.

Thursday, the planning commission was scheduled to deliver a recommending vote, but tabled a decision until the next meeting.

'Very specific legislation here, guys' — Brennan

Commission member James Brennan asked what structures would be excluded by adoption of the proposed amendment limiting height to 35 feet.

Brennan spoke of church steeples, ham radio towers and power lines.

Tod Kilroy, planner, said those applicants would go to the ZBA for a height variance and to the planning commission if they were proposed to be higher than 35 feet.

"What about the ski-slope?" Brennan asked.

Kilroy responded it would have to be before the ZBA for height variance.

"Looks like the only thing not exempted is the ski slope. Very specific legislation here guys," Brennan said to the planning commission. "Looks like it was done very specifically and I really question that. It seems it was written for one purpose only."

After the meeting Brennan elaborated.

"That particular part of the amended zoning ordinance was drawn up specifically to stop Pine Knob," he said.

"There was no study to see what else would be affected. There was no inventory on structures to see if we were exempting a structure that might be desirable.

"The purpose of a zoning ordinance," he said, "is not to exempt one specific project or group. There was no real thought put into the amendments. It was done to stop Pine Knob."

Commission Chairman James Smith disagreed with Brennan's comments, and elaborated after the meeting.

"These amendments were proposed when the planning commission saw problems. They are an attempt to end problems.

"The situation is clear," Smith said. "These proposals were under consideration months before Pine Knob proposed their ski run. The ski run had nothing to do with it."

"There are games being played here (on the planning commission) to extend the time it's taking to pass these amendments," he said.

Pine Knob Investment Co. submitted plans on Sept. 5 for a 185-foot-high ski run, which would rise five feet above the current radio tower on the Knob's highest peak.

According to those plans, the proposed ski run is to be constructed of poured concrete and steel and to measure approximately 90 feet wide, with 80 feet in the center for skiing.

Co-owners of Pine Knob Investment, Gary Francell and Joseph Locricchio are in circuit court now, charging the township illegally and improperly denied a building permit for construction of the proposed ski run.

Pine Knob contends it does not have to appear before the township planning commission for site plan review and instead can apply for a building permit. The township is arguing the proposed ski run is an addition to an existing structure, requiring site plan approval under Section 5.12 of the zoning ordinance.

Zoning snags

It has taken Independence Township's Planning Commission five months and 12 tabled decisions to tie up loose ends concerning proposed amendments to the township's zoning ordinance.

Thursday night, after tabling a vote for the 12th time, commission members promised a decision at the next meeting on the first half of the amendment package which includes regulations on amusement parks and limitations on structure heights.

Commission Chairman James Smith was disgusted with the delay.

"We've had copies available to us since March," Smith said. "Under state law the amendments should have been in effect by April 1. We're in violation of state law."

"We've met at 11 regularly scheduled meetings, and one special meeting, and we've either not had a quorum or you've chosen to adjourn as early as 9 o'clock. We've had plenty of time to discuss the amendments and you've had ample time to read them at your leisure."

"I don't see why the delay. It seems as though the feeling has been to adjourn rather than to take action and I don't see that as responsible behavior on the commission's part," Smith said.

The first half of the amendment package includes 15 changes or additions to the ordinance. Several are in the process of revision now.

A minority of commission members wanted to review revisions on greenbelts, outdoor vehicle parking and one language change before sending the package to the Oakland County Zoning Coordinating Committee for its recommendations.

"I don't see the advantage of sending the amendments to the county in a piecemeal fashion," said Jean Saile, commission member.

A second commission member agreed.

"We've waited this long," said James Gardiner. "Two more weeks isn't going to hurt. Personally, I want to see the revisions before they go to the county."

Smith made one more argument for a vote.

"You've already been told you'll receive copies of the revisions at the same time the county does. The county is a recommending body, they don't have the final vote."

"When the amendments come back to the township board for final approval, then if there are problems, if you want to make amendments or revisions, you can do it," he said.

The commission voted 5-2 to table a decision until the next meeting, scheduled for Nov. 6, 7:30 p.m. at Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main, Clarkston.

Smith and commission member Jean Benzing voted to approve recommendation that night.

Members James Brennan, James Gardiner, John Gray, Jean Saile and Mel Vaara voted to wait until the next meeting.

Rudy Lozano was absent.

After the meeting, Smith elaborated:

"I feel the decision was irresponsible. There has been a refusal to get down to business and there's been a consistent and structured plan to delay."

"There were a number of items that members agreed upon. I see no reason why they couldn't have been approved and sent to the county with the revisions following," he said.

Frankly frightening

Dan Traynor adds details to "Frankie," his Halloween creation that adorns the windows of McDonald's of Clarkston. "He's a cartoon, it wouldn't be right to call him Frankenstein," says Dan. Other creations of four Sashabaw Junior High School art students make up the collection of ghosts, ghouls, witches, a troll, spider and pumpkin man designed to delight diners at the restaurant. Dan and Audrey Chenoweth, Guy Davis and Jo Ann Moss said they planned to work about 12 hours on the project.

Adams resigns council post

Clarkston Village Council member Robert Adams has resigned with just five months left to finish a two-year term.

Adams made the announcement, effective immediately, at the council's Monday night meeting.

In a letter read by village Clerk Bruce Roger, Adams said he was forced to resign as he is moving from the village to Maceday Lake in Waterford Township.

Adams was elected to the council in 1979. His term would have expired in March of 1981.

He and his wife Kathy have lived at 29 Buffalo Street for the past four years.

Village President Fontie Ap-Madoc praised Adams' involvement on the council, pointing specifically to his work with community development funding.

"I've enjoyed my time here," Adams said to the council. "I only wish I could stay."

Absentee voting heavy

So far, over 700 Independence Township voters have cast absentee ballots.

Township Clerk Christopher Rose expects the number to reach over 1,000.

His prediction is based on the number of absentee ballots used during the special election held in the township last year when between 700 and 800 such ballots were cast, he said.

Absentee ballots may be cast until 4 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 3. The deadline to apply for ballots through the mail is Saturday, Nov. 1.

Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main, Clarkston, will be open Saturday until 1 p.m.

Absentee ballots may also be cast at township hall the rest of this week — weekday hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Voters may use absentee ballots for the following reasons: They will be absent the entire time polls will be open on election day (7 a.m. to 8 p.m.); Religious reasons. Physical reasons: Age 60 or older. Jail confinement (if awaiting arraignment or trial).

For further information, call the township clerk's office at 625-5111.

Halloween hints

Trick or Treaters prowling the Village of Clarkston and Independence Township will have one hour to beg for goodies.

The township board and village council recommend that masqueraders conduct their door-to-door begging between 6 and 7 p.m., Friday, Oct. 31.

Happy haunting!

McDonald's of Clarkston is again offering free Halloween candy screening in cooperation with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

A deputy is to be at the restaurant from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. with a metal detector to check each sack of candy collected by Trick or Treaters.

Free coffee will be provided for parents.

McDonald's is located at 6695 Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

Trick or Treat faces can be purchased at the Clarkston Mills Mall on Halloween from 3 to 6 p.m.

Independence Township residents Homer Biondi and Linda Porter have an assortment of Halloween faces to be applied using professional make-up and techniques.

For $2 a person, participants can choose to be a clown, vampire, witch, the Hulk, a rag doll or an Indian.

The Halloween face painting is sponsored by the Clarkston Mills, 20 W. Washington, Clarkston.

County tallies Independence tax rate

Oakland County has tallied up 1980's tax rate for Independence Township property owners, calculated with the rollback factor.

According to David Sherill, head of the township's assessing department, a total of 4.7031 mills will be levied to generate revenue for the county's general fund.

Parks and recreation is .2401, a renewal millage voters approved county wide in August. This millage pays for the operations and development of county parks.

In addition, property owners face a .25 mill to generate revenue for the Huron-Clinton Metroparks. This millage pays for maintenance and operation of 11 metroparks in south east Michigan.

Together, the county's taxes total 6.9537 mills.

A homeowner with property assessed at $40,000 (Or one half market value) would pay $278.15, to the county for the 6.9537 mills. Because 1 mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

In addition to county taxes, property owners in Independence and the Village of Clarkston will pay 1.3122 mills for the township's general fund, 2.8614 mills for the fire department and .2928 mills for property purchase.

The school tax, paid by both township and village property owners, is 8.897 mills for the operating millage, 19.591 mills voted in for additional operating costs and 1.63 mills voted in for debt service.

Property owners living outside the village and in the township will pay 1 mill for sewers, .9307 for police and .5 for safety paths.

The typical taxpayer living in the township outside the village will pay a tax rate this year of 45.6292 mills, including county, schools and township taxes.

A homeowner with property assessed at $40,000 (or one-half market value) will pay $1,825 in taxes, because 1 mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

If you don't know, vote NO

We saw this in a letter to the editor in another paper: "The savings account is empty, the gas tank hasn't been full since I can remember and the State of Michigan has the nerve to ask me if it's all right to raise income tax a full 1½% or the sales tax to 5½%."

These increases are part of proposals A and C, respectively.

Sure, they talk of reducing local property tax, but in the end it's a tax increase. Proposal C even allows the state to make a profit and put it in the bank. Governments are not supposed to make money — just balance income and outgo.

We will be voting NO on Proposals A and C.

We will be voting YES on Tisch for reasons previously stated.

Proposal B would lower the legal drinking age to 19. Our 23-year-old daughter says by 19 kids are usually on their own and able to make up their own minds.

We say the state police statistics that accidents dropped 17 percent among this age group, when the age for drinking was raised from 18 to 21, prove the age should remain as it is now.

We will be voting NO on Proposal B.

Proposal E would raise income taxes for prisons. Perhaps there is a need for new or more prison facilities. Maybe it's even probable.

But, if the need is there, why didn't the governor put it in his budget, or why didn't the lawmakers go to the general fund for it? Duty has been shirked, or else the Lansingites don't believe new prisons are needed.

We will be voting NO on Proposal E.

Proposal G will let the lawmakers put themselves above the law. It would end up making legislators exempt from traffic tickets, driving violations and perhaps worse.

Lawmaking is just another job. Some people apply for a job and get it one way, some people get a job another way.

Regardless, there is no reason to exempt one person from a parking ticket and not another.

We will be voting NO on proposal G.

Proposal H is only partly good, therefore it is no good.

A procedure is probably needed to fill the Lt. Governor's position, if there is none. This should be one issue.

But, also this proposal would take the Lt. Gov. out of the Senate where he is the presiding officer and can cast a tie breaking vote.

It's a good, defined job for the Lt. Governor. Every Lt. Governor should have one.

We'll vote NO on Proposal H.

Note, only one proposal gets a YES vote from us, and we wouldn't feel bad if that was a NO vote, provided the other tax measures failed, too.

Our theory on proposals is, if you don't know, vote NO. After all, we have survived under present conditions.

In this Nov. 4 election, the proposals are the most important thing on the ballot. Winners of races for office won't really change things much. But, oh, those tax proposals. J.A.S.

Truth vs fantasy

by Kathy Greenfield

My 13-year-old daughter was leafing through her baby book the other day when she burst out laughing.

The source of her amusement was a passage I wrote some seven years ago about when she learned the truth about Santa Claus.

She had asked if that meant the Tooth Fairy was pretend, too.

The string of truths proved painful, for when I told her, "I'm the Tooth Fairy," her eyes filled with tears.

"But Mom," she said, "I thought the Tooth Fairy was beautiful!"

That's the line that brought the roars of laughter.

It certainly wasn't funny at the time — I can remember wishing I hadn't told the truth, that the world of fantasy could have continued forever.

I had been thinking for a long time about truth versus fantasy and how to handle the Santa Claus question that had begun to surface.

She had noticed such things as Santa being in two places at the same time, sometimes with glasses, sometimes in different outfits.

"Santa has helpers," I explained.

Then the questions got tougher.

"Mom, are you and Dad Santa?"

"Well, what do YOU think?" She thought, for awhile. San-

If it's a major fire or a minor oddity, we want a call at The News.
625-3370

ta just had to be real. But, finally, only "yes" or "no" would do for an answer.

I still sometimes wonder how I would handle it if I had to do it over again — would I begin the whole Santa passage by introducing it as a wonderful pretend game? Or, would I just encourage belief by blatantly not telling the truth.

To let a child believe in a wonderful being who has flying reindeer and hops down chimneys and leaves presents for "all good boys and girls" seems harmless enough.

But to find out your parents weren't telling you the truth all those times doesn't seem quite right either — it's like when Santa goes, so goes absolute trust.

The funny thing is that my parents handled the Santa discovery period in much the same way. Then again, I guess that makes a lot of sense.

I still vividly remember when I learned the truth about Santa.

I was looking up at my father who happened to be shaving.

My oldest sister was there, giggling in the background.

When I asked my Dad to tell me if he was Santa Claus, he asked me what I thought. I pushed for an answer. He told me the truth.

My next question was if that meant the footprints left in the living room that Christmas were really his (now I know it must have been talcum powder, not magic snow). He said, "Yes."

I remember being saddened by the knowledge — someone special was gone forever.

That wasn't quite true, however. He came back when my children were young and, I'm sure, will reappear for their children as well.

Treasurer denies high rise zoning support

Dear Editor:

Your 1980 supplemental election guide contains a statement from Township Trustee William Vandermark that "Mr. Ritter made a proposal for high rise zoning only to have it overturned by the people."

The proposal that I supported at the Township Board meeting of August 7, 1979, and which was later overturned by the people was the question of hotel use, not "height."

Interestingly enough, William Basinger, spokesman for the Committee Against High Rise Zoning, stated at that meeting that his group was not opposed to hotel use, but only the height.

As Mr. Vandermark should know, the question of height was never dealt with by the township board. Instead the board decided on an advisory referendum. I was opposed to that referendum because of its cost and since it was not a binding referendum, the question of height, regardless of the election results, had to ultimately be determined by the zoning board of appeals.

In retrospect, I was correct. After the referendum Pine Knob took the Township to circuit court.

The judge required them to go back to the zoning board of appeals for a variance before he would proceed with the court case.

The whole point is that I have never voted for nor proposed any high rise zoning in Independence Township.

Mr. Vandermark's distortion of the truth not only does a disservice to me but also to himself. For the public to believe his statement would be to ignore the record of my six-year advocacy for strong zoning adherence as a member of both the township board and the zoning board of appeals.

Such intellectual dishonesty is not becoming to him nor does it serve the best interest of those we are elected to represent.

Frederick P. Ritter

Treasurer

Township of Independence

Vandermark apologizes

Dear Editor:

I wish to apologize for any misunderstanding that may have occurred as a result of my statement in the election section of The Clarkston News regarding a proposal made by Mr. Ritter.

I stated that, "Mr. Ritter made a proposal for high rise zoning only to have it overturned by the people."

That is not exactly what happened, so let me set the record straight. The minutes of the Aug. 7, 1979 township board meeting reflect the following:

Mr. Ritter moved to allow hotel usage in recreation zoning and stated that the high rise question was excluded from the motion "so that Pine Knob could go to the zoning board of appeals." It was Mr. Ritter's proposal for the hotel use that was overturned by referendum, along with the high rise question.

Once again, I want to apologize if my comments created any misunderstanding.

Column comments

by Herb Rose

I was thinking the other day that although I have been writing a column for over a year I still have no answer for the infrequently asked question: "What is the column about?"

Instead, I have a mind-boggling image of several things I have foreseen all coming to pass at once.

A man with a feathered head walks along the edge of the Mill Pond practicing four-letter words to use in restaurants. On the shore a moose with an orange highway marker lashed to its antlers shares tender vegetation with a partially submerged hippopotamus.

In a nearby tree sits a distraught-looking horse holding its front feet over its ears.

Overhead drifts a mischievous little urchin tied to a weather balloon headed toward Tibet.

There is a ringing sound. The man goes into the house, picks up the phone and moos.

Perhaps the serenity of this pastoral scene would be jarred by the arrival of a ship from outer space carrying an inquisitive alien who was preparing a definitive report categorizing earth life forms.

He would have to tell his superiors that the behavior patterns of such forms exhibit no predictability and no repeatability and also request to be taken off the active field service role and be given a desk job.

In the last year, the overwhelming response to the column has been a flood of one letter which used words like "disgusting" and "reeks."

Considering it has been pointed out that I may have offended the Catholics, the Jews, the Fundamentalists, teenagers, dogs and stumps, it may be just as well there weren't more letters with more colorful vocabularies.

I don't think I could write a totally non-controversial column.

If I started to write something innocuous about sidewalks, I would remark on the discriminatory practice evinced by providing concrete for the Catholics to walk on to church, but letting the Episcopalians slog through the mud.

Or I could point out that Clarkston is the only place in the world where sidewalks are provided to a choice of funeral homes, but to get to the library you walk in the street.

I may have to convert to Catholicism and develop an abiding reading interest in funeral home literature.

'If it Fitz. . .'

Ps-s-t! He married his helper

by Jim Fitzgerald

It is easy for my wife and I to identify with the troubles of Mary Cunningham and William Agee. We went through the same sort of trauma 27 years ago when, as a weekly newspaper executive, I needed an assistant to carry my clipboard.

Unless your funeral was two months ago, you know Mary Cunningham resigned as vice-president for strategic planning at the Bendix Corp. because she could not handle the published rumors linking her romantically with her boss, William Agee, chairman and chief executive officer. Many people think the titillating media made too much of the situation, making it impossible for Cunningham to feel comfortable in a job which would fit her perfectly if she were a man. The media's answer is that when Agee made a public speech denying he promoted Cunningham for any reason other than her business ability, he underscored the unfair obstacles a woman must overcome to achieve executive-level success in a man's world, and created a news story too big to ignore.

The truth, of course, is that you read every word available on the Cunningham-Agee flap simply to fuel your anger at sexist publicity, but your neighbor reads it because he loves juicy gossip.

Way back in 1953, before anyone knew Bella Abzug was born wearing a hat, Women's Lib was no big deal. So it was much more unusual for me to hire a woman to carry my clipboard than it was, 27 years later, for William Agee to hire a woman to be his vice-president for strategic planning.

In my early newspaper career, part of my job as a combination advertising salesman-sports writer was to cover high school football games. This was before the energy shortage, and I had some. Instead of sitting in a press box, I followed the action from the sidelines, running along with the football. I also took pictures with a speed-graphic camera that weighed more than I did. The only possible way I could make notes on the progress of the game was to dictate to an assistant who ran along behind me, carrying the newspaper's clipboard.

Usually I hired schoolkids for this job, but they always resigned when they learned they were too young to collect their pay, which was drinking beer with me in the nearest saloon following the game.

So I was on the alert for help when the newspaper hired a beautiful bookkeeper named Patricia who, as a graduate of Cleary Business College at Ypsilanti, obviously was brilliant. I quickly summoned her to a management conference at which, after an extended interview, I asked if she wanted to stretch her horizons by accepting the challenge of working Friday evenings and some Saturday afternoons as my vice-president for strategic clipboard carrying. She accepted, explaining the position tied in perfectly with her 50-year career plan to save the world while not having to buy her own beer.

The rumors began at the first game and continued through the football season, peaking right after the homecoming game when we took Patricia's three year-old daughter into the town's busiest restaurant where the kid stood on a chair and yelled at me: "Are you going to marry my mommy?"

Despite the gossip, Patricia continued to carry my clipboard. We told everyone I hired her because she took shorthand and could run as fast as I could, and we didn't care if they believed us. I didn't hire her because she was beautiful and nice, but those are two of the reasons I married her.

Such parallel relationships can work out beautifully. Patricia continued to tend my clipboard for many years after the wedding, except when she took time out to produce siblings for that three-year-old loudmouth. I wish Mary Cunningham and William Agee that much happiness, together or otherwise, at work and at home.

I have no idea what personal intentions Mary Cunningham and William Agee have toward each other, and it's none of my business. But I'm here to say the possibility of romance between boss and employee shouldn't be rejected simply because of stupid gossip, just as jobs shouldn't be resigned for the same reason.

Letters to editor

Important election

Dear Editor:

We are approaching a very important election. Important especially to Clarkston and Independence Township due to the fact that the term of office is now four years instead of two.

It's important to keep in mind that the people we vote into office are our employees. We are paying them to represent us and to uphold our beliefs. The decisions they make affect our everyday lives.

The only way we can make a decision as to who to vote for is to take a look at each board member's past performance.

What were their attitudes toward issues that were important to us? When we took a problem to the Board, how was it received?

Through experience we have found board members who were not exactly enthusiastic about our problems and it was only through our endeavors that we were able to partially succeed in our cause.

Our community is growing and with this growth comes changes. It's time we elected officials who are in tune with this community's growing needs.

Jim Smith and Carol Balzarini have lived and worked in this community for many years.

Neither one is running for office as a means of support, but because they have been in close touch with the people and know what our problems are. Maybe this is the change we need.

Man for all reasons

To the editor:

Recently a cemetery in Springfield Township had its license revoked. As I remember it, the supervisor of the township fought it back in early 1970, but lost to the courts.

The same thing with the toxic waste dump in Springfield. Again he lost after a long, hard battle to the courts or Lansing.

So he resigned a good job at GM, won a seat in the House in Lansing. Why? — to correct errors at their source.

He knows how to fight the good fight on issues, not personalities. He may disagree, but he knows he must go through the same doors and sit with his adversaries.

Name-calling and petulant behavior may make headlines, but not progress. Respect of his colleagues, constituents, and the Press are Claude Trim's.

Trim. A man for all reasons.

Quality candidates on the ballot

Dear Editor:

Nov. 4, Independence Township residents have a unique opportunity to elect a top quality group of full time officials to represent their interest on the township board.

The main issues are as follows:

1. The preservation of the present character of the community in the face of growth.
2. Level-headed business like management of the affairs of the township.
3. Representation of the desires and interests of the citizens.

Our present township supervisor and treasurer have failed in all three areas. They have supported the hotel at Pine Knob and tried to pass the buck on the question of the high-rise to the board of appeals, a non-elected body appointed by the township board. The citizens had to circulate petitions and hold an election to stop this.

Sewers north of I-75 and west of M-15 in a planned low-density area were permitted. This will bring high-density development.

They continue to levy taxes for sewer payments in spite of cash reserves of over $2,400,000. The interest on this alone exceeds the tax levy of $210,000. The only permitted use for this money is to make bond payments or build more sewers. More sewers means more development.

We have the opportunity Tuesday, Nov. 4, to elect officials who will be sensitive to these issues.

Jim Smith, the township supervisor candidate, has years of successful business experience. He has worked with the township as chairman of the planning commission for years and has been involved in Boy Scouts, church and community affairs.

Chris Rose, the clerk, and Carol Balzarini, treasurer candidate, are experienced and well qualified for their jobs. I urge you to vote for them.

Some election advice

Dear Editor:

It's time to remember to get out and vote come the 4th of November, be it raining or snowing or a bright sunny day.

Get out and vote to re-elect State Rep. Claude Trim, Democrat from the 60th District, of Davisburg.

Re-elect Patricia Kramer, treasurer, Springfield Township. Elect Marjorie "Maggie" Cavanaugh, Democrat, county commissioner, District 2, from Davisburg.

Re-elect Floyd Whitey Tower, Democrat, supervisor, Independence Township. Re-elect Frederick Ritter, Democrat, treasurer, Independence Township.

Re-elect Richard Wilcox, Republican, county commissioner, of Brandon Township. Re-elect and go right with Leslie Bill Wright, supervisor, Democrat, Brandon Township.

Herman Jaenichen

He supports Jim Smith

Dear Friends and Concerned Citizens,

I believe all of us feel frustrated and alienated by government, both locally and in Washington. A lot of us feel that we don't count, nobody cares, and that we can't change anything.

I believe that a group of us have demonstrated that concerned and responsible citizens can change things and protect our township as demonstrated by our campaign against the high rise.

To accomplish our goals of a competent, caring, and concerned local government, we need competent leadership.

I believe the most qualified man for the position of leadership and direction of our township and concerns, is Jim Smith.

Please join, literally, the thousands of us who plan on voting for Jim Smith next Tuesday.

James A. O'Neill, M.D.

Votes for Smith encouraged

To the editor:

As election day draws near, we would like to encourage the election of Jim Smith as Independence Township Supervisor.

We have come to know Jim quite well over the past few years, and we are impressed with his knowledge of the township and his ideas on how things could be accomplished more effectively.

Jim is always willing to listen to other viewpoints, and he weighs all information carefully.

before making a final decision.

In short, Jim "does his homework," and we feel that he would do an excellent job as supervisor of Independence Township.

Adams shatters Wolves' dream

Highlanders squelch Clarkston attack—playoff hopes slim

By Al Zawacky

Who would have believed that the foot of a guy named Steve Maloney could do so much damage?

At 5-foot-10 and 180 pounds, the Rochester Adams junior doesn't look like much of a giant killer. Yet with one swipe of his foot he sent a football arching 27 yards over the uprights for the field goal that doomed the hitherto undefeated Clarkston Wolves.

No more undefeated season. The post-season playoff berth that looked so certain suddenly became only a remote possibility. It was a bitter pill for Coach Walt Wyniemo and his Clarkston High School varsity football team.

"Let me put it this way," Wyniemo said, describing the long ride home after the heart-breaking 3-0 loss. "There were a lot of young men in that bus with tears in their eyes."

"They were just the better team on that particular day. We have no alibis, no excuses."

It would have been difficult to guess the Rochester Adams Highlanders' record on the basis of how they performed against the Wolves. Adams had won only one of its previous seven games.

Nevertheless, Wyniemo was preaching caution before the game, warning that the Highlanders traditionally play the Wolves hard. The prophecy proved painfully true.

"We knew it would be a hard-hitting football game,"

Wyniemo said, citing Adams' strong defensive record. "It's difficult to predict scores, but we knew it would be a good football game."

Prior to Maloney's game-winning kick, the Highlander junior failed on two other field goal attempts as Adams fought to get on the scoreboard.

Meanwhile, the Wolves' offense, so potent against Milford the week before, fell silent. Adams had 17 first downs, 171 yards rushing and 90 yards passing to Clarkston's seven first downs, 81 yards rushing and just nine yards in the air.

Even so, the Wolves came tantalizingly close to winning the game right at the wire, as the Highlanders were forced deep into their own territory by penalties and the Clarkston defense.

Clarkston's Rich Lamphere returned a punt inside the Adams' 10 with less than two minutes remaining, but a fumble on the very next play sent the ball squirting into the end zone where the Highlander defenders grabbed it for a touchback.

With only a minute remaining, Adams sat on the ball and ran out the clock to wrap up the victory, improving its record to 2-6 while dropping the Wolves to 7-1.

"We're not out of the picture completely," Wyniemo said in reference to the playoffs. "It's a long shot, but it's not right to say we're entirely out of it."

"All we can do is pull ourselves together for Brighton on Friday."

Neither team could generate much offense in what turned out to be a classic defensive struggle. Adams ended the game with 261 yards total offense, while the Wolves were way off their average with only 90.

The Point After

by Al Zawacky

The fall season: Rating the teams

Not bad, not bad.

Those who remember the abysmal 1979 Clarkston fall sports season can appreciate the progress made in 1980. Last year just three of 11 teams at Clarkston High School, Clarkston Junior High and Sashabaw Junior High produced winning records; this year the number could reach as high as seven or eight.

Which brings us to the following "four-star" rating of all the teams. Those familiar with movie reviews will recognize the rating system: Four stars—excellent, three stars—good, two stars—fair, one star—poor, no stars—wait 'til next year.

VARISTY FOOTBALL: The success story of the season. There were chuckles when Coach Walt Wyniemo and his players labeled 1980 "The Year of the Wolf" before the start of the season, but nobody's laughing now.

The offense line, pass rush, defensive secondary—where is the Wolves' Achilles' heel? No point looking for something that isn't there.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL: This team overcame some early deficiencies with old-fashioned hard work and determination, posting its third straight league title when most everybody said they wouldn't.

Hats are off to coaches Gordie Richardson, John Getzan and every single JV player.*

FROSH FOOTBALL: There is a nagging suspicion that the CJH gridgers developed a habit this season of playing only as well as they had to—which is fine against patsies like Warren Lincoln and Rochester West, but didn't quite work out at Walled Lake Central.

Still, it's tough to quibble with an outstanding record, which is exactly what the Wolverines are putting together this year.*

SASHABAW HAS A nucleus of talented kids who want to play football and provide the team with leadership. This nucleus will be an excellent asset to the JV program next year.

But the team has an acute shortage of size on its roster—a critical handicap.

VARSITY BASKETBALL: A disappointment. The Wolves have made tremendous progress from last year, but better things were expected.

For reasons unknown, the team seems to lose its concentration from time to time. By eliminating those mental letdowns, this team could surprise some people in next month's tournaments.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL: Like their varsity sisters, the JV squad has played erratically, from duds one night to diamonds the next. Still, the team is making progress from last year, and that's important.

FROSH BASKETBALL: Coach Dennis Bronson is an old hand at putting together winning teams, and his 1980 Clarkston Junior High Basketball team is true to tradition.

SASHABAW'S CAGERS MAY not own a sizzling record, but they rank high marks for determination and team play—qualities never more evident than against the Wolverines several weeks ago.

CHS GOLF: The golf team didn't manage to beat nemesis West Bloomfield this season, but Coach Jim Chamberlain and company deserve accolades for an 11-3 record in their dual matches.

CHS TENNIS: After failing to win a match in two years, it's hardly fair to say that the Clarkston netters were "only" 7-7 this season. After poor turnouts and general lethargy, this program is on the move.

CHS CROSS COUNTRY: The harriers made progress this season, but their improvement didn't really live up to expectations. Coach Mike Kaul put his finger on the problem when he recently discussed the need for off-season recruiting.

But that's something that should have been pursued all along—before interest declined and the program suffered.

ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT

Board of Education
Clarkston Community Schools
Clarkston, Michigan

We have examined the balance sheets of the General Fund, Debt Retirement Fund, Building and Site Fund, Northwest Oakland County Vocational Center Fund, Internal Accounts Fund, Student Service Fund and the Long-term Debt Group of Accounts of Clarkston Community Schools as of June 30, 1980 and 1979 and the related statements of revenues, expenditures and change in fund equity for the years then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The School District has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets, and accordingly a statement of general fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in the financial report.

The District capitalizes the cost of its buses in the General Fund and amortizes the cost over seven years in conformity with the revised Michigan School Accounting Manual. According to generally accepted accounting principles, however, these costs should be recorded as a General Fund expenditure in the year of acquisition.

Except for gasoline and food inventories, the cost of supplies on hand at the end of the current year is included in the expenses for the current year. Under generally accepted accounting principles, these costs would be carried as assets at the end of the current year, and would be included in the expenses for the following year.

In our opinion, except for the items in the three preceding paragraphs, the above-mentioned financial statements present fairly the financial position of Clarkston Community Schools at June 30, 1980 and 1979, and the results of operations and changes in fund balances for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The accompanying supplemental information is not necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements, but is presented as additional analytical data. This information has been subjected to the tests and other auditing procedures applied in the examination of the financial statements mentioned above, and in our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Wolverines romp; SJH showdown next

By Al Zawacky

Riding the crest of a 24-point outburst in the first half, the Clarkston Junior High Wolverines rolled to their seventh victory of the season last week, besting Waterford Crary 24-0.

"I was hoping we wouldn't come out flat," said CJH football coach John Craven, noting that the Wolverines might have been tempted to look past the Crary game with a big game against cross-district rival Sashabaw Junior High coming up.

"We played pretty well — although we were a lot better in the first half than in the second," Craven added.

Clarkston scored on its first possession of the game as Craig Kulaszewski finished off a march down the field with a 2-yard dive into the end zone.

Kulaszewski also initiated the big play that kept the drive going, hitting teammate Glenn Sherman with a 11-yard pass on a third down and eight deep in Crary territory.

Bill Hudler followed Kulaszewski's TD run with another jaunt across the Crary goal line for the two-point goal line for the two point conversion and an 8-0 lead.

Kulaszewski continued his strong play by intercepting a pass and returning it 15 yards to the Crary 30 on the Waterford school's first possession. Rob Mortimore finished off the drive with a 2-yard touchdown burst and the PAT run to increase the Wolverine lead to 16-0.

Clarkston's Lee Vail Boyd set the stage for the final CJH touchdown by snaring an enemy pass on Crary's 40 yard line. Mortimore carried in from the 18 a few plays later and Sherman followed the score with another successful two-pointer.

"They (Crary) threatened in the second half," Craven said. "Three times they got close to putting one in."

But the 24-0 score stood up as the Wolverine defense stiffened. Some strange decisions from the Crary sideline helped, too.

"Twice on fourth down, trailing 24-0 and deep in our territory, they went for field goals," Craven observed incredulously. "We couldn't figure it out."

Several Wolverine defenders played well in the game; Tim

Parke led the defense in tackles. Kulaszewski and Boyd each had two interceptions and Mike Kornacki played a "strong game at defensive tackle," Craven added.

The win set the stage for the Clarkston Junior High-Sashabaw Junior High showdown this Wednesday, a cross-district battle that traditionally draws big crowds and generates plenty of emotion.

Although the Wolverines are 7-1 while Sashabaw is 1-5-1, records have traditionally accounted for very little in the game. When the two teams last met in the beginning of the season, Clarkston pulled out a 20-0 victory.

"We're looking forward to playing them," Craven said. "We have a few bumps and bruises, but everybody's healthy."

"We'll have a few surprises for them, too."

John Fry's doing what comes naturally

By Al Zawacky

John Fry breaks into a wide grin when recalling his first time ever on skis.

"I think I was about 7 years old — my dad just piled up some snow in our backyard. That was my first slope," he jokes.

It proved to be the start of something big. Two years later John took his first trip to Mt. Holly and by the time he was 12 he was ready for ski racing.

Today at 23 years of age, the 1975 Clarkston High School graduate is a professional ski racer, spending his winters in Winter Park, Colo. with the American Pro Tour.

"I was doing pretty well as an amateur, but I finally reached a point where it wasn't satisfying," says Fry, explaining one of the reasons that convinced him to turn pro.

"As a kid, I had the same dream that a lot of kids have — I'd watch the '68 Winter Olympics and say 'That's where I want to be some day.'"

"It's a difficult — and very expensive thing to accomplish. Unless you've got a sponsor or parents who are able to invest a lot of money, it's tough. And they seem to look for kids who are in their prime when they're 15 or 16, so that those who develop later are often overlooked."

The big difference between amateur and professional racing is naturally the money, he notes. After racing in the winter and working as a draftsman in the summer over the last two years, Fry hopes to be able to race full time starting this season.

"Money is a factor, but it's not the only consideration," he says. "I enjoy drafting work — it's okay, but sitting in an office all day can get to be a drag."

"I don't think I've ever been bored on a pair of skis. It's hard to explain why, but I've always loved it — I guess I was just a natural."

The sport is not without its risks, he notes. When schussing at speeds of 70, 80 and sometimes over 100 miles per hour, serious injuries are always a possibility.

Fry should know — he broke his leg last February.

"Right here — tib and fib, he says, pointing to a spot just above the ankle. ("Tib" and "fib" are short for tibia and fibula, the two bones that form the lower leg between the knee and the ankle.)

"It's strange, because sometimes you'll be involved in what looks like a serious crash and escape with just a little soreness. I've walked away from two 70-mile-per-hour crashes."

"It's not something I think about before a race. You can't. You've got to concentrate on what you're going to do out there."

Fry has spent the summer lifting weights, skiing on grass skis and running to rebound from his injury. He even visited a hypnotist to improve his mental concentration while racing.

"It's a natural tendency to wonder where your opponent is while you're competing. You tend to look around, and that's when you lose concentration on what you're doing."

"I don't know if the hypnosis will help this winter, but it has helped me during the summer when I was doing my running."

Fry will leave for Colorado next month and hopes to do well in this season's tour. He's particularly proud of the fact that he competes in four individual events — the dual slalom, the giant slalom, the downhill and the international speed skiing circuit.

"1978-79 was my first year with the pro tour, and I made it by the skin of my teeth," Fry says with a chuckle. "I looked around me at all the big name skiers and just said 'Wow — I'm with the big guys now.'"

"I think I'm at the point now where I can do it full time, and it's always been a dream of mine to be a No. 1 skier."

Professional ski racer John Fry loads up his car for a grass skiing trip to Oakland University. Grass skiing is a great snowless substitute, he notes. "The movement is almost the same—in fact, it can break you of some bad habits since the grass skis can't slip from side to side," Fry says.

YOUR EYES

By Dr. Theodore B. Walton
OPTOMETRIST

During the next year, nearly 50,000 people will become legally blind here in the United States. This means that every 11 minutes, on average, some American loses the priceless gift of sight. Legally blind is a term used to describe a person who, even with properly-fitted corrective lenses, can see no more at a distance of 20 feet than a person with normal sight can see at 200 feet, or if peripheral (side) vision is no more than 20 degrees.

The leading causes of blindness are cataracts, glaucoma, diabetes, hereditary conditions, eye accidents and degenerative conditions associated with aging. Half of all cases of blindness could be prevented with existing techniques.

Even if you're not going blind, it's so much nicer to be able to see easily and well. Have your eyes examined; phone for an appointment.

Football cast in shadow of gloom

By Jim Sherman
Clarkston News Publisher

Is football an endangered species?

No less a person than the athletic director at the University of Michigan is wondering at the future of high school football.

Don Canham, lamenting the numerous failures in millage votes at the local level, was no less vocal at the effect inflation has had on U-M programs.

Before a group of Michigan newspaper publishers and editors last Saturday he predicted "High Schools will drop football for soccer. Why not, all you need is underwear."

Athletic directors for Clarkston, Lake Orion and Oxford high schools are also less than optimistic about the rough, contact sport of football.

Clarkston AD Paul Tungate views soccer as the "coming sport," and wouldn't be particularly surprised to see football phased out in the next 10 or 15 years.

"Our gate receipts don't cover the costs," Tungate said of the CHS football program. "I'd hate to see football go because of all the spirit it generates and the teamwork the game teaches. But it's a money-loser."

Hal Carlin, AD at Lake Orion, experienced a year without football last year. A millage increase failed and sports were dropped for the fall.

AD Lee Nofitz of Oxford, while not having first hand experience without football, is concerned about the high cost and liability.

A new shadow was cast on the sport last month in Clarkston when a former player sued the school district. The player blames a faulty field caused him to injure himself.

With the filing of the suit, several doctors informed the Clarkston district they would no longer offer their services. It's just a matter of time the doctors said, until they would be included in a suit.

This would not affect playing high school football, but if the player vs Clarkston School District suit decision favors the player, dropping the sport is predictable.

Canham pointed out another reason for the possible decline in the high school "feeder" program for college football: Title Nine.

That's the law that states women must be treated equally in athletic programs.

Canham said he was all in favor of girls sports, but mentioned smaller colleges that had dropped all but major sports because they couldn't support the total program.

U of M is feeling it, too. Total program costs (inflation) has forced a cutback in track scheduling.

"We no longer fly our track team to meets," he said. "Now if they can't get there by car we don't play teams like Minnesota, unless we're in the play-offs."

Canham, perhaps the most successful athletic director in the United States, with a $9 million budget, also commented on the plan to have players pay to play. "How will that solve the problem?" he asked.

He did have an answer, and backed it with an example.

Canham said school districts with athletic financing difficulties "Should hire a marketing and promotions director."

He said there is a junior high school in Ypsilanti that budgets no money for sports.

"Yet they have a fine program. That guy is in my pocket all the time for 10 bucks here and 10 bucks there, but he gets it," Canham said.

Football is probably not an endangered species, but certainly soccer is a coming sport in America. Locally, there are far more students playing it now than football.

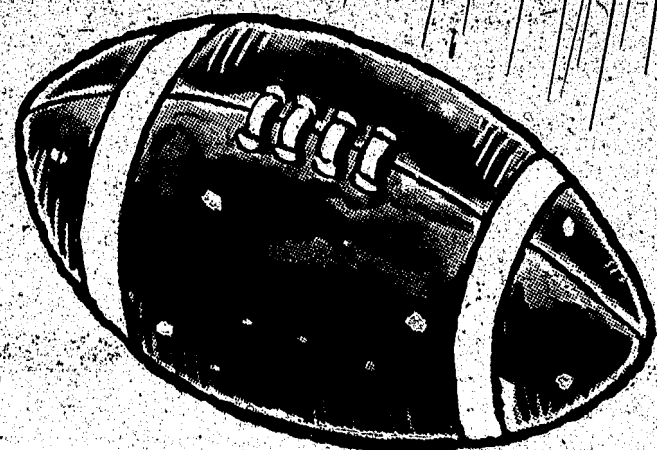

Canham says football has many more injuries than soccer. That, plus less cost makes the sport attractive.

But, "the great American pastime" will be with us a long time. Too many enjoy it too much to let it die.

'High schools will drop football for soccer.

Why not—all you need is underwear.'

Cagers edge Dragons in double overtime

By Al Zawacky

After blowing out Brandon 42-12, the Clarkston High School girls' basketball team had every right to expect a similar cake walk over Lake Orion two days later.

Hadn't the Clarkston cagers mauled the Dragons of Lake Orion in a previous meeting?

That observation was true enough, but it had no bearing at all on the game played last week as Clarkston battled through two overtime periods to pull out a slim 42-38 victory.

"I wasn't fooled by the score the last time we beat them (53-24)," said Clarkston Coach Dave McDonald. "Lake Orion beat West Bloomfield by the same score we did, so we pretty much knew that they'd just played terrible the last time we played each other."

Lisa Forsyth led the Wolves in scoring with 10 points, while teammate Annette Ulasich had eight points. Lanette Whitehead had a team-high 13 rebounds and seven points.

Two days earlier against Brandon, the result was never in doubt as the Wolves built up an 18-5 halftime lead and coasted to a 42-12 victory. Forsyth had 10 points, Ulasich and Lynn McCormick eight and Acton had nine rebounds.

The non-league win against Brandon and league decision over Lake Orion improved Clarkston's overall record to 8-5 and Greater Oakland Activities League mark to 4-2.

Rare occasion: JVs lose

By Al Zawacky

Coach Gordie Richardson refused to make any excuses.

"We've got nobody to blame but ourselves," Richardson said after his Clarkston High School JV football team suffered its second loss of the season, a 16-13 clipping at the hands of Rochester Adams Highlanders.

"They (Adams) were the hammers, we were the nails."

Fresh from wrapping up their third straight undefeated league championship and sporting a 6-1 record overall, Richardson's Wolves appeared to be on their way to victory number seven right from the opening moments against Adams.

Clarkston's Richie Schrader took the opening kickoff on his own 10 and returned it 90 yards for a lightning-fast 6-0 lead. Willie Williams kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0.

Adams fumbled away several promising drives in the remainder of the half, but once the second half began the Adams' offense seemed determined not to repeat its mistakes.

The Highlanders punched in two third-quarter touchdowns and followed each with a successful two-point conversion play to jump ahead 16-7.

The Wolves weren't quite through-however, closing the gap to 16-13 on 3-yard run by Bruce Dale. But a bad snap on the two-point try prevented Clarkston from pulling to within one.

Several times in the final quarter the Wolves gained excellent field position and threatened to go ahead, but the Highlander defense was equal to the challenge.

"After that opening kickoff return, we seemed to relax and think it was going to be easy," Richardson observed. "I'm disappointed, but all we can do is just do our best to win next week (on the road against Brighton) and finish the season on a winning note. I think that's important."

"We didn't do a very good job of blocking their defense," Richardson continued. "Adams played good rock 'em, sock 'em football — we lost our poise and didn't play like a good football team."

"Still, nobody can take away our undefeated league championship. That's still quite an accomplishment."

Wolves in Brief

It's been a long time since the Clarkston High School football program suffered a double-dip defeat similar to what happened against Rochester Adams.

The last school to defeat both the CHS varsity and junior varsity squads in the same week was Grand Blanc, who did the trick 16 games ago on Sept. 6 and 7, 1979.

Not all the Rochester Adams cheerleaders were on the field.

The biggest cheerleader of all was handling the microphone up in the press box atop the grandstands. Throughout the game this frustrated Howard Cosell enlivened the game with sophomoric comments like:

"Gee, wasn't that a great play!" "Gosh, that sure was exciting!" "Golly, he pulled that pass right out from between two big bad Wolves' defenders!"

Ad nauseam.

Add Rochester Adams to the list of schools that have a better souvenir program. The score in that department is opponents 8, Clarkston 0.

The law of averages has a way of catching up with you.

Despite their reputation for playing tough against Clarkston, the Rochester Adams Highlanders were actually the only school to lose to the Wolves in both 1978 and 1979.

Clarkston downed Adams 14-6 at home last season and beat them on the road 13-0 in 1978. Both JV games were also decided in favor of the Wolves.

Senior Steve Wyckoff, an all-league selection on defense this season, suffered a compound fracture in his finger early in the first quarter Saturday and was lost for the rest of the game.

Wyckoff remains a doubtful starter for the Wolves Friday night against Brighton, the final game of the regular season.

Clarkston dominates All-league grid picks

As could be expected from the way they dominated the Greater Oakland Activities League title race, Clarkston High School varsity football players dominated the All-League picks last week.

Ten Clarkston players were named All-League by the GOAL coaches, the most of any team in the six-member league.

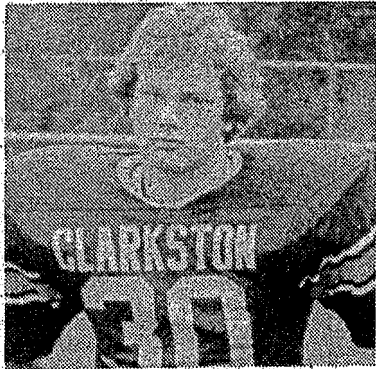

Players selected were seniors Karl Fritzinger, Mark Hughes, Mike Kinney, Kevin Krause, Craig Pilditch, Mike Schumborg, Brad Sheldon, Jim Smith, Steve Wyckoff and junior Kurt Norman.

Nine other Wolves received honorable mention: Seniors Ron Feneley, Rich Lamphere, Mike Ogans, Joel Partlo, Bryan Rexford and Greg Thomas; and juniors Tim Brennan, Bruce Burwitz and Dave Fulcher.

"These kids deserve a great deal of recognition," noted Clarkston Head Coach Walt Winiemko.

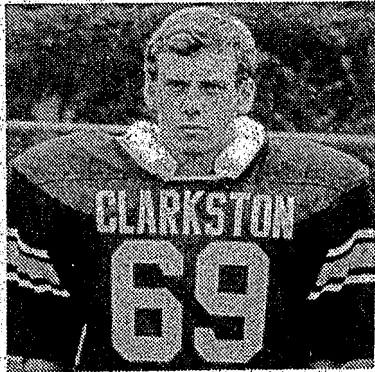

"But there are also a lot of other kids who gave a lot of their time and effort that weren't picked. I think it's important to recognize the hard work and contributions that everybody has made."

Halloween hurrahs to the Clarkston United Methodist Youth Fellowship members for creativeness.

The group is offering Spook Insurance.

Here's their sales pitch, reprinted from the "Clarkston Chimes," the church newsletter.

The fund-raising effort was conducted by members of youth groups from Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church, Clarkston United Methodist Church, the Episcopal Church of the Resurrection, Calvary Lutheran Church, Drayton Heights Free Methodist Church and St. Daniel's Catholic Church.

The effort was sponsored by the Independence Pastors' Association.

nights lodging, two buffet breakfasts and one buffet dinner, two all-area lift tickets or cross country pass and lunch, evening entertainment and round trip transportation.

The trip will be limited to the first 32 persons who register.

Coaching spots open

Leaders sought for JV softball, SJHS wrestling

Clarkston High School and Sashabaw Junior High are looking for coaches.

A junior varsity softball coach is needed at the high school, while a wrestling coach for the upcoming winter season is needed at the junior high.

Karla Teare, who held the JV softball coach position last season, has accepted the varsity job previously held by Kathy Mahrle, who recently resigned. Dan Whiston, the former SJH wrestling coach, has changed his regular employment and won't be returning this year, according to Clarkston High School Athletic Director Paul Tungate.

Anyone interested in either coaching job can arrange an interview by calling Tungate at 625-0906 during regular school hours.

The Clarkston (Mich.) News

What it says:

What it means:

PROPOSAL A—A PROPOSAL TO MAKE LOCAL SCHOOL BOARDS RESPONSIBLE FOR SCHOOL PERSONNEL AND PROGRAMS, TO REDUCE LOCAL PROPERTY TAX MAXIMUMS FOR OPERATIONAL PURPOSES, TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL PROPERTY TAX RELIEF FOR SENIOR RETIREES, AND REQUIRE THE STATE TO RAISE REVENUES NECESSARY FOR EQUAL PER-PUPIL FUNDING OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The proposed amendment would:

1. Make local school boards responsible for school personnel and programs.
2. Reduce current maximum property tax for county, township and educational operations from 50 to 24.5 mills and allocate millage.
3. Allow state 30.5 mill school property tax on non-homesteads.
4. Eliminate property taxes on $25,000.00 of home assessments of retirees 65 and older.
5. Require general state taxation for equal per-pupil school financing at highest state support level.
6. Limit local school tax to 7 mills or 1% income tax by vote of electors.
7. Exclude additional school financing from other revenue and spending limits of constitution and require millage reduction by class.

PROPOSAL B— PROPOSAL TO REDUCE THE LEGAL DRINKING AGE.

The proposed amendment would reduce the legal drinking age from 21 to 19 years of age.

PROPOSAL C—PROPOSAL TO PROVIDE PROPERTY TAX RELIEF, TO REIMBURSE LOCAL AND STATE GOVERNMENTS WITH ADDITIONAL SALES TAX, TO MANDATE NET STATE LOTTERY REVENUE FOR SCHOOLS, AND TO MANDATE STATE "RAINY DAY" FUND.

The proposed amendment would:

1. Eliminate property taxes on first $7,100.00 of home assessments for school and government operations. The amount of this exemption will increase with future inflation.
2. Eliminate sales tax on home use of electricity, gas and other heating fuels.
3. Increase sales tax by 1.5 cents per dollar to reimburse state and local government and schools for lost tax revenues including new tax relief for renters.
4. Mandate use of net state lottery revenues for schools.
5. Mandate state "Rainy Day" fund.
6. Modify existing constitutional requirements concerning state aid to local government and provide greater millage reductions.

PROPOSAL D—PROPOSAL TO DECREASE PROPERTY TAXES AND PROHIBIT NEW TYPES OF HOMESTEAD TAXES, TO REQUIRE 60% VOTER APPROVAL TO RAISE STATE TAXES OR FEES, TO REQUIRE PARTIAL STATE REIMBURSEMENT TO LOCAL UNITS FOR LOST INCOME, TO LIMIT LEGISLATURE'S ABILITY TO CHANGE TAX EXEMPTIONS OR CREDITS OR CHANGE PER-PUPIL FORMULA.

The proposed amendment would:

1. Prohibit new types of homestead taxes.
2. Prohibit new or increased state taxes without 60% voter approval.
3. Provide for taxation of property by class.
4. Eliminate certain property tax exemptions.
5. Reduce appraisal of all property to 25% of 1978 value; limit future residential and agricultural increases to 2% per year.
6. Expand homestead tax reductions for low-income and seniors, including renters.
7. Mandate additional state reimbursement to local governments for portion of lost revenue by possible reduction of some existing state services.
8. Require 4/5 vote of legislature to reduce income tax exemptions or credits or change per-pupil formula.

PROPOSAL E — PROPOSAL TO CONSTRUCT FOUR REGIONAL PRISON FACILITIES, DEMOLISH THE MICHIGAN REFORMATORY, EFFECT OTHER STATE AND LOCAL CORRECTIONAL PURPOSES, DEVELOP PREVENTIVE PROGRAMS, AND PROVIDE THE FUNDS THEREFOR BY INCREASING THE STATE INCOME TAX BY 1/10 OF 1% FOR 5 YEAR PERIOD.

The proposed law provides for:

1. Construction of 4 new regional prison facilities.
2. Demolition of Michigan Reformatory.
3. Other state and local correctional purposes and preventive programs.
4. Funding the foregoing with an increase in the state income tax by 1/10 of 1% for 5 years beginning in 1-1-81.

Smith-Bullard

Named the Smith-Bullard proposal after the two legislators who originated it, the proposal would reduce current maximum property taxes for schools, counties and townships from 50 to 24.5 mills while requiring the state to replace the lost local revenue.

It would require increases in state taxes to provide equal per pupil funding throughout the state. Money would be raised by permitting the state to levy up to a 30.5 mill school property tax on non-homesteads and allowing a local school tax of up to 7 mills or a one percent income tax subject to voter approval.

The proposal would also eliminate property taxes on the first $25,000 of the home assessments for retirees 65 years old and older and make local school boards responsible for school programs and personnel.

If approved, this proposal would lower Michigan's legal drinking age from 21 to 19. State voters raised the legal drinking age from 18 to 21 in 1978.

Milliken Coalition

Often called the "Milliken-Coalition" plan, since it was worked out by the legislature and Governor William Milliken, this proposal would eliminate property taxes for operating purposes on the first $7,100 of home assessments and provide for a flat grant of $140 for renters, both adjusted to keep pace with inflation.

To cover the lost revenue, the state sales tax would increase from the current 4 percent to 5.5 percent.

The proposal would also phase out the sales tax on electricity and home heating bills, earmark revenues from the state lottery for schools and provide for inflation adjustment of the personal exemption on the state income tax.

Tisch

Known as the "Tisch Amendment" after Shiawasee Drain Commissioner Robert Tisch, its principal author, the proposal would reduce property tax assessments to 50 percent of 1978 levels with additional tax reductions for lower income homeowners. Property taxes for those with incomes less than $5,000 a year would be eliminated under the proposal.

It would also require that the state replace some of the lost local revenues and require that any statewide tax increase be approved by 60 percent of the voters.

Prison construction

If adopted, this proposal would increase the state income tax by one tenth of one percent (from 4.6 percent to 4.7 percent) to finance prison construction and improvement.

The increased tax would be for a five-year period and would raise an estimated $360 million for the construction of four regional prison facilities, improvement of existing facilities and various crime prevention programs.

Springfield board candidates without opposition

Only township race is for two library board seats

Two seats on the township library board will provide the only contested race in Springfield Township when voters go to the polls Nov. 4.

Three candidates, incumbent Republican Mary Watson, incumbent Democrat Ina Golden and Republican challenger Shirley Secatch, are all seeking one of the two four-year terms up for election on the township library board.

All the other candidates for Springfield Township offices face no opposition, although two township board candidates who have withdrawn from the race will still appear on the ballot.

Running unopposed for the five Springfield Township Board positions are the five incumbents: Supervisor Collin Walls (R), Treasurer Patricia Kramer (R), Clerk J. Calvin Walters (R) and trustees Glen Vermilye (D) and William Whitley (R).

Appearing on the ballot will be supervisor candidate John Mulloy (D) and treasurer candidate Marjorie Kirk (D), but both candidates have announced their official withdrawal from the race. They made their decisions to withdraw too late to have their names removed from the ballot, however.

Republicans Charles Going and Frederic Stewart are running unopposed for two four-year terms on the township park commission, having out-pollled another Republican, Robert Stiles, in the August primary.

There are four voting precincts in Springfield Township. Voters can find where they are to vote by looking at their voter registration cards.

Precinct 1 is at Springfield Township Hall, 650 Broadway.

Precinct 2 is at Springfield Estates Mobile Home Park, 17196 Dixie Highway.

Precinct 3 is at Andersonville Elementary School, 10350 Andersonville Rd.

Precinct 4 is at Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center, 8211 Big Lake Rd. Formerly, Precinct 4 was located at Dixie Baptist Church.

Of the 4,900 registered voters in Springfield, Clerk Calvin Walters says he expects about 70 percent to cast ballots in the Nov. 4 election.

"We've been close to that before," he said. "Four years ago, we were right around 70 percent."

Statewide propositions

What it says:

PROPOSAL G — A PROPOSAL TO ALLOW THE LEGISLATURE TO PASS LAWS RELATING TO THEIR CONSTITUTIONAL EXEMPTION FROM CIVIL ARREST DURING LEGISLATIVE SESSIONS.

1. The Michigan Constitution now provides: "Senators and representatives shall be privileged from civil arrest and civil process during sessions of the legislature and for five days next before the commencement and after the termination thereof. They shall not be questioned in any other place for any speech in either house." The proposed amendment would allow the legislature to pass a law to modify this exemption.

PROPOSAL H — A PROPOSAL TO RESTRICT THE AUTHORITY OF THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR AND SET UP A PROCEDURE TO FILL A VACANCY IN THE OFFICE OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

The proposed amendment would:

1. Allow an incumbent legislator to be eligible for appointment to the office of Lieutenant Governor.
2. Eliminate provision making Lieutenant Governor President of the Senate with the right to break tie vote.
3. Allow the Governor to appoint to fill a vacancy in the office of Lieutenant Governor, subject to the approval of the appointment by majority vote of both houses of the legislature.

What it means:

Lawmaker immunity

The Michigan Constitution currently grants state lawmakers immunity from civil arrest while the legislature is in session or five days before or after sessions.

This proposal would allow the legislature to modify this immunity from civil arrest or civil process.

Lieutenant governor

If adopted, this proposal would eliminate a provision in the Michigan Constitution making the lieutenant governor the presiding officer of the state senate with the right to vote in case of a tie.

It would also allow the governor to fill a vacancy in the lieutenant governorship by appointment, subject to the approval of the legislature, and make a legislator eligible for appointment of that office.

Hunters' adventure yields 1,500 pound Alaskan brown bears

By Al Zawacky

Even though they've been dead for over a year and are thousands of miles away from their natural habitat, the two Alaskan brown bears at Hilde Taxidermy haven't lost their ability to frighten.

Towering over 10 feet high with fangs bared, the awesome creatures dominate the room.

And hunters Dr. Charles Munk and Frank Bays have a story to relate about how the bears wound up in Independence Township—a story that includes a near brush with death.

Dwarfed by the huge beast, Bays can look relaxed nowadays when he looks up at the vicious fangs and sharp claws, frozen in time.

There was a time in faraway Alaska when the sight of those fangs and claws was almost the last earthly vision he had.

"We arrived in Alaska for a bear and caribou hunting trip on Oct. 1 of last year," Bays recalls. "Naturally, we both hoped to come home with something."

As it turned out, both Munk and Bays managed to bag an Alaskan brown bear—but there was a stark contrast between how each was obtained.

"Mine was pretty uneventful," Munk says. "I spotted the bear at a distance, stalked him and shot from about 25 yards out."

It was Bays' bear that proved to be a rather frightening experience.

The two hunters and their guide had spotted a bear feeding on a moose, returning at regular intervals. Setting themselves on a ridge above the moose, the trio waited for the bear's return.

"We spotted the bear coming to his moose kill, and somehow he got our wind," Bays says. "He got spooked pretty fast and took off on the run."

The hunters pursued and Bays managed to hit the bear with a long shot in the shoulder, sending the wounded animal scurrying into some heavy brush to hide.

When the hunters approached the brush they couldn't see the bear, but their ears told them where he was. Sounds of growling, snapping and gnashing teeth were clearly audible in the midst of the thick brush, contrasting the stillness of the falling snow.

"He was obviously very angry," Munk says. "We couldn't leave him there—it's an ethical thing about leaving a wounded animal. Not only does the animal suffer needlessly, but a wounded animal can turn into a man-killer."

When the bear failed to respond to several ruses to lure him out of his cover, the hunters found themselves with only one option: Move in and flush him out.

"It was eerie," Bays says, recalling the scene. "The moment we entered the brush, the bear went silent. We could hear each other moving through the brush, but that was it."

entering in a straight line, the three hunters approached slowly, hampered by the thick brush. The wounded bear, meanwhile was waiting in ambush.

Suddenly, when Bays was only about 10 or 15 yards away, the bear appeared from a small depression in the ground where he was hiding and charged.

"For a man, the brush was thick and slowed us down," Munk observes. "But to an Alaskan brown bear, he might as well have been in an open field—with one swipe of his claw, he can knock down trees as thick as a man's leg. You just can't appreciate how powerful they are."

Confronted with a charging bear, Bays quickly raised his rifle and fired, hitting the bear in the chest from about five yards. The blast had little effect.

"It sort of set him back for a second, and that gave me time to hit him again," he says. "But the second shot didn't seem to slow him down at all."

As he pulled back the bolt for a third shot, Bays recalls, he suddenly realized he wouldn't have time for another shot.

It was the proverbial "moment of truth."

"I remember thinking, 'My God, this is it,'" Bays says. "My first instinct was to throw up my feet at him—if he was going to gnaw on something, I'd rather have it by my legs than my head."

By that time Munk and the guide had spotted the bear and began firing. The bear lunged forward, landing on the hunter's feet and severely breaking both legs before falling.

The bear wasn't quite through, however. He snarled and snapped for a few more moments before finally breathing his last. "He was on top of my feet—I could feel the last shots hit him," Bays says.

The ordeal wasn't over, for the trio faced the task of walking eight miles back to camp on foot.

"We managed somehow—I just put one arm over each guy's shoulders and we went the whole distance like that. There was nothing else we could do."

Not only were both his legs broken, but Bays' also suffered extensive nerve damage.

"I still don't have any sensation here—and here—or here," he says tapping various spots above the ankle and below the knee. "I just feel fortunate to be walking."

Bays spent two months in a cast, had to wear a leg brace, required an operation on his knee, "just about had to learn to walk all over again"—and recovered just in time to go moose hunting last month in Alaska again.

"It's just something I like to do," he says. "It's hard to explain exactly why—I grew up Bambi and Smokey the Bear in this area, and hunting has always been a way of life for me."

"It's dangerous," Munk agrees, "and I think that adds excitement and flavor to the hunt. No hunter ever wants it to be too easy—and the fact that you're hunting an animal that can kill if you make a mistake adds to the excitement."

"These bears aren't very pleasant creatures," Bays notes, looking up at the snarling fangs. "I get a little upset with the image that a lot of people seem to have. They're extremely dangerous animals."

Older male bears (called "boars") are also known to kill and eat young bear cubs, notes Munk, adding to the species' infamous reputation. Both Munk's and Bays' bears were old boars.

"The Alaskan brown bear and the rat are the only creatures known to eat their own young,"

Independence Township resident Dr. Charles Munk [left] and hunting partner Frank Bays of Fenton, stand in front of their respective bears at Hilde Taxidermy. Munk plans on putting his bear in his private office at his soon-to-be opened orthodontic clinic under construction on M-15 near Dixie Highway, while Bays says he'll place his bear in his private trophy room at home.

Even a Halloween bunny gets thirsty, so Susan Bartig sips on her bottle while she sits in her mother Pat's lap during the Halloween party at the Springfield Township Library. The Bartigs, who live on Farley Road, were among a gang of parents with kids in Trick or Treat garb.

The kids settle down among the Springfield Library bookshelves and listen to a Halloween record. Their costumes, like the one of Kim Tindell whose white face creates the look of "Frankenstein's Bride," give the scene a Halloween look.

A few playing cards add a special touch to the gypsy outfit of Laurie Haggitt of Andersonville Road.

Munk plans on keeping his bear on display at Hilde Taxi-dermy through the fall.

"People will drive by at night, see the bears in the window and then come back during the day when we're open just to get a closer look."

Mike cheers Noreen's big success

Country Living

Noreen Christina had set her mind to it.

For nine long months she struggled with temptation and tested her willpower, bound and determined to lose weight. No cookies. No candy. No junk food. It was trying at times.

And a few weeks ago she reached her goal, going from a size 14 to size eight and losing almost 50 pounds.

Her husband Mike figured that achievement deserved some special recognition.

"It was our anniversary," Noreen recalls, "and Mike left these little clues for me to find a card and a dozen roses he had hidden.

"One of the clues led me to a box, and when I opened it it said that the next clue was on page five of The Clarkston News."

Noreen breaks into a grin remembering the moment she leafed through the Oct. 15 issue, turned to page five — and opened her eyes in disbelief.

A full page-ad proclaimed in bold type: "Congratulations Noreen . . . on achieving your goal — 'We're proud of you!'"

"I was in shock," Noreen chuckles, glancing over at her grinning husband. "I really felt kind of embarrassed at first — like the whole world would know. But then I realized that most people wouldn't know who I am or what my 'goal' was."

Mike says that the inspiration for the ad "just sort of happened."

Noreen spent three weeks vacationing in California two summers ago, and when she came back I bought a little 'Welcome home' ad in The Clarkston News," he says.

"This time, I just figured I'd get family and friends together and do something bigger."

Mike collected $1 apiece from each person who wanted to extend their congratulations by having their name appear at the bottom of the ad.

That left a pretty big balance to be paid out of his own pocket.

"One of the first things I wanted to know was how much he spent," Noreen says. "I got a little upset — I didn't realize advertising was so expensive."

"Now, all my friends at work are saying things like, 'Gee, I wish my husband was like that,' 'My husband would never do anything like that for me.'"

Mike figures the money was well invested.

"I had to listen to her complain for nine months," he says teasingly. "She couldn't have any chips, any candy or baked potatoes piled with sour cream. All I ever heard was 'You don't care about what I'm going through.'"

Noreen takes the kidding in good humor.

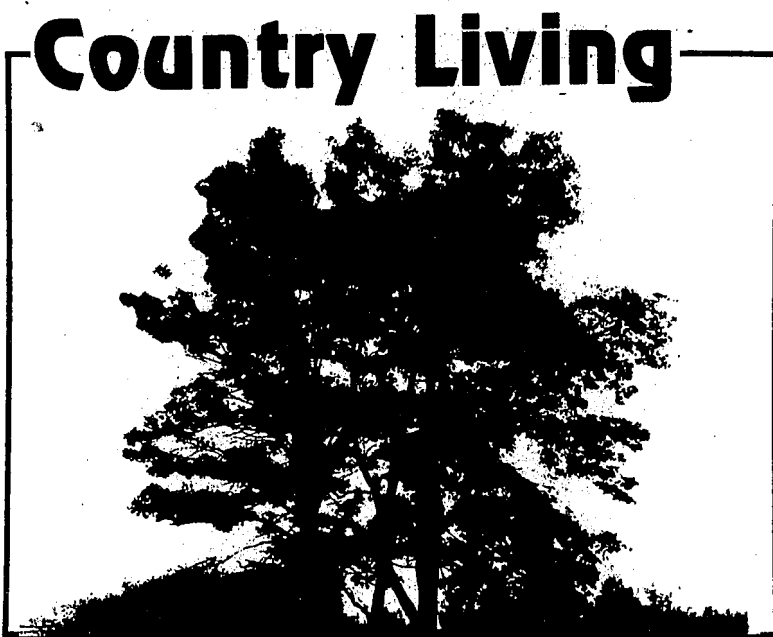

"When I joined Weight Watchers, Mike promised not to eat the wrong kinds of things in front of me — so he ate most of his junk food when I was asleep," she laughs.

"There were times when I'd wake up and it'd look like we had a party in the house the night before. There'd be empty potato chip bags, candy wrappers, pop bottles — it looked like an instant party."

"At work, everybody would make sure I'd stick to it — 'Don't touch that candy! Your not getting any! Do I smell cookies on your breath?'"

Although she's reached her set goal, Noreen adds that she'd still like to lose a little more weight. And she says she isn't worried about ever putting weight back on.

"Weight Watchers is a 'behavior mod' program," she says. "The idea is to teach you new eating habits so that you don't go back to your old ones once your diet is over.

by Al Zawacky

"I never was a big eater — the extra weight just seemed to sort of slip up on me, five pounds a year."

Noreen works as a special education instructor in Hazel Park, while Mike works in Sterling Heights for the United States Postal Service.

They both attended Wayne State University, but met while

Noreen still chuckles and shakes her head when she looks at her full-page ad in The Clarkston News. "I was shocked," she laughs, recalling her initial reaction. "I couldn't believe it."

Mike and Noreen sit near the fireplace in the family room of their house on Transparent in Independence Township. "This is our favorite room," Mike says, surveying the beamed ceiling and fireplace. "It's really what sold the house."

1,000 cardholders

Rita Councilman signed her name on the dotted line and became the 1,000th cardholder for the Springfield Township Library.

To celebrate the event, the Springfield Library Board will donate a book title or subject in her name to the library.

The library, open for three years, now has over 1,000 people registered.

With a township population of about 8,000 persons, the number of library card holders pleases Librarian Cathy Phillips.

"The national average is 2 percent, so for our township we're well over the national average — in fact, we're over 12 percent," she said.

Madrigal reunion

A reunion for all Madrigal Singers in celebration of the 10th year as a formal organization is planned by the Clarkston High School Music Department. Present addresses of all former members of the select singing group are needed.

Call or write Grayce Warren at Clarkston High School (625-0900) with any information.

Postponed party

The call went out over the Clarkston schools bus radios last week — the party had to be postponed.

Although the gifts were all wrapped and the special cake was ready, Kevin Bickerstaff's surprise baby shower was delayed a day, because he had gone to the hospital to bring his wife Dana and new son Scott Ryan home.

The next morning, though, things went as planned and the Rickerstaffs and their son now have some special gifts — many handmade by the bus drivers.

Kevin is a mechanic in the school bus garage.

Even if you do not like fish, you will probably like Blair Collins' Red Fish Stew. Future chef Blair is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Collins of Havelock Street, Independence Township.

Red Fish Stew

- 1 large onion sliced
- 4 T. butter or oleo
- 1 c. catsup
- 2 T. fresh lime juice or vinegar or lemon
- 2 t. bottled steak sauce
- Dash Worcestershire sauce
- ½ t. salt
- 1/8 t. pepper
- 1½ to 2 lbs. fresh or frozen fish fillets, cut into serving pieces

Saute onion in oleo until soft — 5 minutes — in large heavy skillet. Add Catsup, lime juice, steak sauce, W/shire, salt and pepper. Bring to boiling. Arrange fish in sauce, cover, simmer 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily.

Firefighters donate $8,800

Especially pleased with his newest possession, a red firefighter's helmet, Christopher Rush smiled as he sat behind the wheel of an engine at the Independence Township Fire Station in downtown Clarkston.

Christopher, 4, is the Muscular Dystrophy Association's (MDA) 1980 Poster Child for the Greater Detroit Southeastern Michigan Chapter.

Thursday he was in town to give the township firefighters and Pine Knob his thanks for their support for MDA.

For the past eight years, the firefighters have worked Pine Knob — concerts soliciting contributions for MDA, and they annually sponsor a pancake breakfast.

This year the firefighters raised $8,800 for MDA.

"They are always welcome at Pine Knob," said Joel DeShane, theatre manager, on hand for the presentation. "I believe MDA is one of the best causes they could ever collect for."

Fred Pellerito, program coordinator for MDA said of the firefighters, "These men are a very special group. We don't make presentations to everyone. Over the past eight years, annually, they've raised money for MDA. This year they raised $8,800, that's a lot of money and we're thankful."

Money raised for MDA goes toward paying for wheelchairs, anyone with a neuro muscular disease, he said. operations, medical needs, Families are never asked to clinical services, camp and pay for anything, he added. transportation, and helps Sitting behind the big black steering wheel Christopher Rush busts out in peals of laughter. Christopher is the Muscular Dystrophy Association's Greater Detroit Southeastern Michigan Poster Child for 1980. Club notes

American Legion State Commander Glenn Ainslie is to be honored guest at the Chief Pontiac Post 377 in Independence Township on Saturday, Oct. 25. The post is hosting its annual War Bonnet Party and the state commander is to be presented with an authentic replica of an Indian war bonnet, the symbol of the post.

A dinner-dance is to be held at the post at 4819 Edgewood Drive beginning at 6 p.m.

As state commander of the American Legion, Ainslie represents Michigan's nearly 75,000 Legionnaires.

SJHS officers

Campaign posters filled the halls two days before Sashabaw Junior High School's student government election. Prior to opening the polls on Wednesday, Oct. 22, students assembled for a campaign rally to hear candidates' speeches. For the first time, rather than have student government representatives elect their own officers, polls opened for the entire school. In all, 12 candidates vied for the four positions. When the votes were tallied J. R. Keelin was elected treasurer, Julie Beamer, president, Katrina Lussier, secretary and Tracy Smallwood, vice-president. On Nov. 7, the new officers are scheduled to attend a Student Government Leadership conference in South Lyon to learn the application and skills of good leadership.

Caring to be a dad

Youth Assistance sponsors program

So often trouble signs in adolescence appears in the 11 to 12-year-old range.

There's a switch from grade school to junior high. As a result, there's a change of friends; a change of attitudes. Grades may plummet and boy-girl relationships are discovered. Kids begin testing their parents.

They may try drugs, smoking, cussing, reading pornography and refusing to attend family functions. They could go off into a private world of their own.

Clarkston Community Youth Assistance (CCYA) has created a program geared to deal specifically with these areas.

Al Katzman, a clinical social worker with the Center for Contemporary Psychology in Birmingham, is scheduled to be one of the program speakers.

"I'm going to talk about the role of husband-father," Katzman said. "Before a father can look at the kid and the kid's problems, he has to look at himself and his relationship with his wife. If there's a criticism, a lack of caring or an inconsistency, there are then problems with the children."

"You have to be a good husband before you can be a good father," he said.

The program is planned to answer questions like: Do I set a good example? What are my priorities? Do I yell too much? Do my children know I love them? Do I spend time with my children and if so, how much?

The program is also geared to the husband and wife relationship and should answer questions like: Do I listen? Do I share my thoughts? How do we spend our time?

It's planned to help fathers meet the responsibilities and problems of many of today's families. By sharing with others, father will realize they are not alone.

The program is free, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 8, from 8:30 a.m. to noon at Calvary Lutheran Church, 6805 Bluegrass, Independence Township.

A free breakfast is to be served from 8:30 to 9 a.m. and each session following is planned to be one hour long.

The two other speakers are John Bodary M.A. with the Human Growth center, Dearborn/Southfield, who is to speak on "Discipline with Love and Communication," and Dr. Michael Levitt, MD Child Psychiatrist at Tri-County Mental Health, who is to speak on "Self Image of the Child and Dad as Role-Image."

That's what Dan Murphy has done for us.

Since 1974, when Dan Murphy was first elected as our County Executive, he has encouraged and developed a climate for business growth and expansion. A climate which provided Oakland County with over 4,000 new businesses and 64,000 new jobs. Most recently Dan spearheaded the drive to attract the new General Motors plant to Oakland County. A drive resulting in 6,000 jobs for our workers. Dan Murphy has delivered these results through leadership — proven leadership.

Witches, ghosts, pumpkins

Clarkston Elementary 5th graders capture Halloween spirit

Sandy Coulter

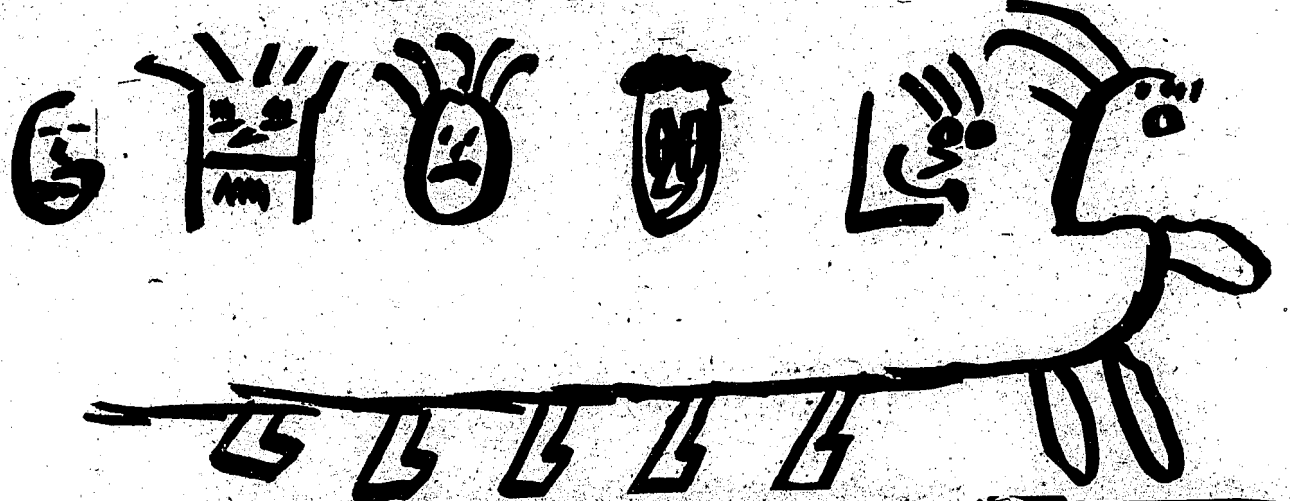

Moon
Round, bright
Shining, glowing, gliding
Scared, lonely, cold, tired
Halloween Moon
—Gary Kortge

Pumpkin
Orange, gutsy watching, gleaming, scary
Always gleaming with light
Halloween
—Missy Nelson

A great big pumpkin
Towered so high above me.
I felt skimpy.
—Todd Roeser

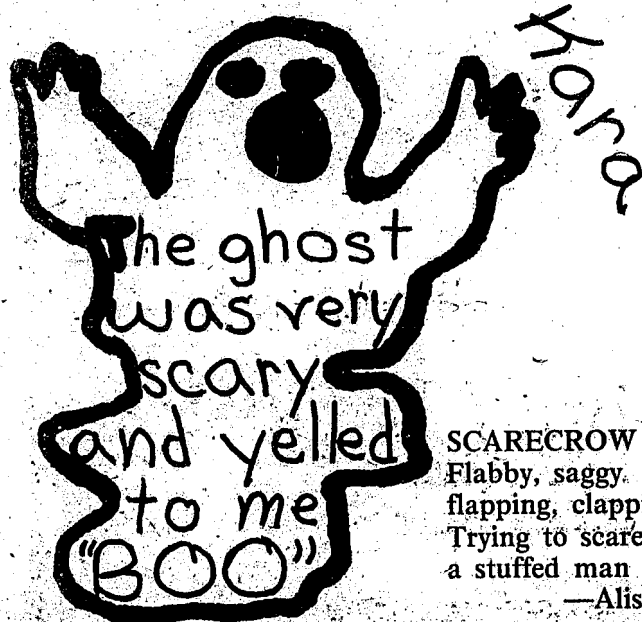

CANDY
I like candy,
It is neat,
And good to eat,
It comes in handy,
For me and Andy!
—Mike Gilbert

WITCHES
Ugly, mean
Cackles, flies, laughs
Scares you out of your shoes
Halloween
—Lisa Irwin

There was a young witch from Natchez,
Whose dress was all covered with patches.
When someone asked why,
She was quick to reply,
Man, when I itches, I scratches.

Talking about . . .

On Main Street, Clarkston, we asked this week's question: 'Trick or Treating' has been banned in several communities, do you think that should happen here?

"Not as long as parents accompany their children and take them to areas in their own neighborhood where they know the neighbors. There is nothing wrong with it." — Christine Abbott, Waterford, housewife.

"It's quiet and controlled here and I've never had any trouble. For the most part, Trick or Treaters are the small children. As long as they're accompanied by parents I think it's fine. It gives the kids something to look forward to." George Chakroff, Allen Road, Independence Township, retired.

"No, it's too much fun to eliminate it. If you take away Trick or Treat you might as well take away Christmas." — Bill Flanders, Brandon Township, heating installer.

"No. It's fun. It was fun when I was a kid and it's something that's done every year. I don't think it should be banned." — Lisa Meyers, Rattalee Lake Road, Springfield Township, student.

"No, why even ask such a question? It was fun when I was a kid, and it's still fun today. I'm in favor of it." — Kenneth Binkley, Parview Road, Independence Township, retired.

How to properly housebreak puppies

Housebreaking the puppy or reinforcing training in an older dog is a challenge and a test of persistence and consistency on the part of the human involved.

It is nowhere near the effort needed to train a child, and often the dog will get the message in a day or two if you are on the same wavelength.

Like all encounters with a dog, it can be rewarding and another thread in the fabric of emotion and communication between man and dog.

Many dog training books and experts in the field advocate catching the dog in the act of eliminating, showing the dog the mistake, verbally chastising the dog, and racing the dog outside.

This teaches the dog that you disapprove of his eliminating, a completely normal and necessary function.

It also creates a sneak out of your dog, because he is afraid to eliminate in front of you! Therefore you will be likely to find a deposit in the guest room, dining room, or any place where you are not!

So what is the proper procedure?

Confine the dog to one room, preferable the kitchen or the utility room and cover the floor all or half with paper. If the dog relieves himself on the paper, praise him.

If you have him out in another room and he wets, let him finish. At this point, it is your fault, not his. Don't scare him.

Blot up the spot with paper toweling and pour a little vinegar water on it (1/4 vinegar to 1C water) and blot again.

Are you beginning to think that you are your dog's servant? Maybe. Now is the time to put you and the dog on schedule so that the day is divided up evenly and the dog is taken outside.

First thing in the morning, the dog should be taken outside, walked, brought in, and fed. He should be taken out again if everyone is going to be away for the day.

Verbally praise the dog when he relieves himself. If you have time, play with him afterward.

Repeat the procedure at noon and at dinner time. Take the dog for a walk at bedtime at 9:30 or 10 o'clock. Spend at least 10 minutes with him.

Soon you will learn when your dog eliminates and, therefore, know the most important times to walk him.

A young puppy should be taken outside after naps. You should begin to observe his behavior before he eliminates and thereby get him outside.

He may walk away from you or his toy and begin to sniff. The alarm is sounded. Whisk him outside.

After a few weeks of complete success, you can assume your dog has the message and is house trained. After this conditioning, the dog may even begin to signal at the door to go out!

Will the dog be house trained forever? Perhaps, but a change of pace can throw him off, or an illness, or some other tension or frustration.

Be sure you are giving your dog the attention he needs and that you are being fair in your assessment of the problem before you resort to punishment.

Dr. Michael Fox claims that emotion centers of dogs brains are similar to human emotion centers, so remember patience, persistence and a reinforced systematic routine are the keys to housebreaking!

Grand opening

Almost a year to the day after opening a temporary location in Independence Township, Pacesetter Bank recently celebrated the grand opening of its new permanent facility at 6500 Dixie Highway. "We offer fast, pleasant, efficient service with the highest possible interest and absolutely free checking," says

Betty Simmons, assistant vice president and branch manager. The bank also features a community room in its basement, available to non-profit organizations, Simmons adds. "This is a nice facility, and Clarkston deserves a nice facility," she says.

Business briefs

Scott Robeson has been named a Syntex Ophthalmics sales representative. In his new position, he will cover the Detroit area. Prior to joining Syntex, Robeson was an account executive with Basuch and Lomb. Based in Phoenix, Syntex Ophthalmics manufactures and markets the Polycron contact lens. Robeson lives on Parview Drive in Independence Township.

Sandra Striggow, former assistant manager of Pacesetter Bank-Southeast's main office in Grand Blanc, has been transferred to the bank's Clarkston facility at 6500 Dixie Highway.

In addition to serving as main office assistant manager, she has served in the audit, new accounts, lending and teller areas for the bank.

"Sandy was chosen specifically for her wide knowledge of banking in general, our products in particular and her ability to convey our 'Positive Attitude' approach to banking," said Gary Millikan, executive vice president and cashier of Pacesetter Bank-Southeast.

John Schoff of Clarkston was one of 25 alumni who recently returned to Ferris State College, Big Rapids, to discuss their career experiences with students.

Schoff discussed data processing during the Business Alumni Day held Oct. 14.

Crittenton Hospital of Rochester is to benefit from a dish from the Clarkston Cafe.

Airlines compete among themselves to determine their dependability. Thankfully for the air traveler, this aspect of punctuality is monitored by the Civil Aeronautics Board. The CAB measures dependability by checking how close an airline meets its published schedule. It rates dependability each month over the 200 most heavily traveled routes in the country. The CAB defines "on time" as an arrival within 15 minutes of its schedule without cancellation. Using this system of measuring its dependability, a traveler may make a choice of airline partly based upon this factor.

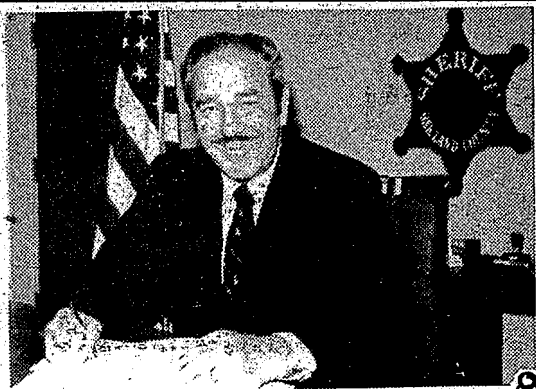

Just as many people like to take their winter vacations in a warm climate, as in the snow regions. For ski or sun information call on us at CLARKSTON TRAVEL BUREAU INC., 6 N. Main St., 625-0325, conveniently located in downtown Clarkston. We specialize in family travel planning, honeymoons, cruises and vacations. Come in and browse, or visit with our friendly staff. Coping with kids

by Jim Windell

Boys can adjust to changing world

When Marlo Thomas was in this area recently, she talked about an issue that is essential to both families and therapists.

That issue is change. Addressing the fact that women have gone through various changes in the last several years in liberating themselves from restrictive thinking about their role, she said that women understand about change. They have changed their attitudes and behavior slowly over the decades of the '60s and '70s.

Men may still ask what do women want, but women of today know and little girls are being tutored in this new attitude. "We want everything," Marlo Thomas says for them.

Girls can grow up today believing that it is all right to want a home and family and career. All without feeling guilty or that they have betrayed their life's role.

But, what about men? And boys? Can they change to accommodate the liberated woman? Can they adjust to a world that expects them to act and behave differently?

Marlo Thomas, speaking for many people in this country, says yes they can change.

The task seems however, to fall as much on mothers as it does on fathers to raise boys to be open with their feelings, tolerant about the role of women and accepting of themselves as emotional, caring and sensitive; without giving up a quality of masculinity which separates them from women.

Mothers have changed their feelings and expectations of themselves, now they must alter their thinking about boys and men.

In raising a boy, a mother must expect the same things she expects of a daughter in terms of attention to others' feelings, responsibility for baby-sitting and housework and learning to care for one's self.

Boys do not have to be raised to be dependent on women; an attitude that further serves to make both men and women slaves to roles that seem no longer viable.

John Hancock thinks you should have the opportunity to plan for retirement, even if you can't be sure you can make a fixed contribution every year. The plan to ask for is John Hancock's Flexible Premium Annuity contract. It permits eligible individuals to vary their annual retirement contributions — or even suspend them if necessary — to meet changing circumstances. And it provides immediate cash value as well as making possible a guaranteed lifetime retirement income.

If you're eligible for IRA, HR-10, TSA, or certain other tax-qualified pension and profit-sharing plans, you may take advantage of this opportunity. Call me before you select your tax-qualified retirement plan. I can help you put more life in your future.

Tough man:

Prior to Friday's fight, "Toughman Contest" participant Steve McGill was working out at Lifter's Gym in Waterford, lifting weights and going a few rounds with the bag.

By Al Zawacky

The announcer's voice filled the cavernous Pontiac Silverdome: "Will Steve McGill of Clarkston, Michigan, come to ring side!"

And with that Steve McGill, one of 64 men battling it out for a $50,000 first prize in last week's "Toughman Contest," made his way through the darkened seating area to the brightly illuminated ring.

The scene was the Lifter's Gym in Waterford. Walking past rows of grimacing weight lifters brought you to the punching bag near the back of the building where McGill was pounding away, preparing for the next day's "Toughman" competition at the Silverdome.

Tall and muscular, a coarse black beard concealing much of his face, it was easy to understand why McGill worked as a "doorman" at a nearby bar.

"I think you'd be a fool if you weren't a little afraid," he confessed with a smile. "But actually, I'll be safer in the ring than I am in the bar some nights. I've had guys in there with knives, pistols, hatchets. . ."

The two fighters climbed into the ring. McGill and his equally brawny opponent. Thousands watched while the two combatants took off their robes and sparred the empty air in front of them in preparation. The obtrusive mechanical eyes of the TV cameras and the photographers stared intently.

Beads of nervous sweat showed on both men's brows.

"How many times do you have a chance to do something really big in your life? I'm in my 30's now — this is going to be my one last shot."

McGill tapped the now motionless punching bag for emphasis.

"All I've got to do is give it my

Clarkston's Steve McGill gives his all for 'one last shot' at glory all, for 36 minutes. Sure the money is nice, but it's not just the money — it's that chance to accomplish something really big, just this once."

The two combatants tapped gloves at the center of the ring. The referee gave the signal and the fight was underway. Wham! A McGill hook found its mark in the opening seconds, surprising his foe and sending him tumbling to the canvas.

Somewhat embarrassed, the fighter quickly recovered and hopped back on his feet. The fight continued.

"I was working in the bar one night when a bunch of the Toughman promoters happened to be there," McGill said, recalling how he got involved. "They just started talking to me about competing, saying I was the type of guy they were looking for."

He signed up as an alternate, meaning that he'd only fight in the event someone else backed out. As a result, McGill didn't know for sure if he was competing until the afternoon of the fight.

"That's tough," he said. "It's hard to prepare yourself mentally if you're not even sure whether or not you're in."

The seconds ticked away in the first two-minute round, and the flow of the fight began to shift in favor of McGill's opponent. A flurry of punches opened the second round and blood appeared on the face of the man from Clarkston.

The weigh-in the morning of the fight made for a few humorous scenes, McGill said.

"Everybody was just sort of sitting around, not wanting to talk too much to any of the guys — you know, you might have to fight the guy later."

"There was one guy there that really made me laugh — he kept shaking his head, saying he couldn't believe he'd been crazy enough to get involved in the whole thing. He was just a little guy, looking at all these other really big guys and shaking his head.

"I think a lot of the guys might have been getting cold feet right about then."

The fighter mercilessly pum-

The fight was over.

But McGill could leave the ring with his pride intact. He was one of the 64 — one of a handful of men who had the nerve to get up before thousands of spectators. TV cameras, family and friends in search of that "one last shot" for glory.

As he left the ring and made his way through the mob, the announcer's voice was bellowing again: "Will John Crite of Greensboro, North Carolina, come to ring side?"

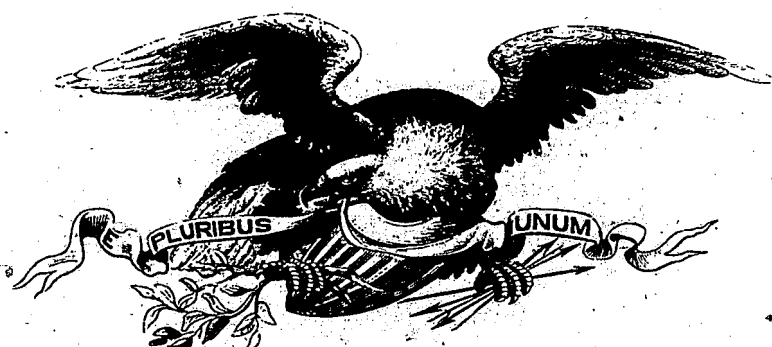

As the crowd and the referee watch, McGill and his opponent battle it out in the first round of their "Toughman" battle Friday night in the Silverdome.

Independence voters' guide

In order to explore the 11 township board candidates' views on issues facing the township, we asked them to answer six questions, each in 50 words or less. The answers, submitted in writing, follow.

The questions:

1. Do you support any of the state tax proposals — Tisch, Smith-Bullard or the Milliken Coalition?

2. Due to the state of the economy, the township now has less money than in the past and if any of the tax proposals passes, there will be even less income. Where would you make budget cuts?

3. Do you support the ½-mill township tax proposal for roads? If so, would you spend some of the money on private roads?

4. Pine Knob has had several controversial proposals lately. How do you feel about the proposed hotel, amusement park and ski run?

5. The present township master plan, approved in 1975, has been closely followed. Do you agree with the plan or would you make changes?

6. Did the township do the right thing by deciding to go with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department exclusively for police protection? Do you see this as a permanent solution?

Supervisor candidates

Floyd J. Tower

James B. Smith

Floyd J. Tower Democrat

Floyd (Whitey) Tower, 48, 177-N. Main, Clarkston. Incumbent supervisor, elected in 1976. Formerly served one year on Clarkston Village Council, five years on township planning commission. Detroit Trade School graduate in 1958. Township resident 39 years; wife, Dawn; six children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"Our board has provided four years of cash reserves, budget restraints, an employee level less than five years ago, and has received millage support of needed services. The 32 percent Tisch reduction to us is not fair, but we will live with the alternatives the public mandates until someone gets the message in Lansing."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"With past criteria of honoring public supported millages, consideration for departments already cut below employee level of five years ago and the effect of cuts in service, we would have to reduce hours of operation, contractual services, replace many recreation programs with volunteers and combine any comparable positions more than we have already."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"I initiated the ballot proposal which includes private roads, mainly because we have to provide matching funds with the Oakland County Road commission to get a share of paving, gravel and chloride projects. Due to present county funding cuts, township projects could be delayed for two years without any commitment of matching funds."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"It is somewhat after the fact, with all three issues in some form of procedure and litigation, to maintain that a hotel proposal on 530 acres of private land, one-half mile from I-75, providing local jobs and revenue, would be a better alternative than a later proposed amusement park or a steel girded ski ramp."

MASTER PLAN

"The 1975 plan, which I supported, is our guide and portrays how we intended to develop to maintain future growth pattern. Changes occur in housing needs, economy, values, interests and beliefs which necessitate we apply the plan with reasonableness and flexibility. After six years, it is time to review those changes."

POLICE PROTECTION

"It is not necessarily a permanent solution, because we have to continually review rising costs of contracting services, the recent millage turndown and our limited funds, but it is working. The reserve program's actual cost and combined public safety aspect warranted more study than was given, but we must continually review to provide the best protection for the public."

James B. Smith Republican

James B. Smith, 63, 8551 Allen Rd. President of Howard Smith Inc., Royal Oak, designers and distributors of educational systems and equipment. Independence planning commission member since 1972, chairman since 1977. Attended Wayne State University, business administration major. Township resident 11 years; wife, Betty; four children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"No. Tisch, appealing but irresponsible, cuts too far too fast, hurts most those it aims to help. Proposal A subsidizes education into state control, taxes still more employment out of Michigan. Proposal C shifts tax pockets again. None address our real problem: Continued overspending, mushrooming bureaucracy in Washington and Lansing."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"Through a four-step process including 1) a searching scrutiny of line budgets to locate fat, inefficiency or hidden surpluses, 2) a 'fresh-look' review of current services to qualify priorities and pinpoint savings, 3) adjustment of fees or curtailment of discretionary services, 4) prudent use of present surplus to subsidize essential services."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"YES. Shrinking highway revenues mandate greater local maintenance effort. Although opposing new private roads, I believe we must provide emergency repairs while simultaneously helping affected property owners upgrade such roads to permanent standards. Municipal revenue bonds supported by special assessment levies against benefiting properties offer one of several viable approaches."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"Several Pine Knob developments have been well accepted. Arbitrary 'our way or we sue' postures on new developments and disregard of nearby property owners' complaints have created adversary conditions. Township voters have clearly indicated their opposition to construction, operating activities and attitudes which encroach on the environment and citizens' welfare."

MASTER PLAN

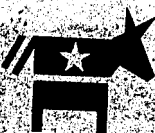

"The township master plan has been instrumental in determining both quality and quantity of township growth. Now, with new census figures, changing commuter patterns and the pending impacts of new industrial developments in north Oakland, an updating review is timely. The first phases of this update are already under way."

POLICE PROTECTION

"Better communications and administrative leadership might have forestalled head-on all-or-nothing confrontations and the existing sheriff's contract eliminating local participation. Current arrangements seem best for now. Rising contract costs and local needs may forecast future advantages in joint services with local participation and an active reserve force."

Independence clerk candidates

Karen Herron

Democrat

Christopher L. Rose

Republican

Karen Herron, 41, 6315 Maybee Rd. Secretary for Jered Brown Brothers Inc., Auburn Heights; 15 years' experience in typing, shorthand, book-keeping and diversified office procedures. Past secretary and treasurer of township Democratic Club. Township resident 20 years; husband Ronald; six children.

Her statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"I will support either the Milliken Coalition OR the Smith-Bullard. I am still undecided. I cannot support Tisch; it will cut too deeply into services for the needy, such as mental health, Oakland County schools and special education. I believe if Tisch passes, many people will suffer while waiting for the cutbacks to be rectified."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"This question cannot be answered from the outside looking in. I do believe if there have to be cuts in our budget, they must be done intelligently so as to minimize the cuts in service to the public."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"I am in favor of improving private roads. My heart goes out to the people who have to tolerate their conditions, although each and every private road is a special case and needs its own hearing, with a majority in favor of necessary change for each."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"Because of the great animosity and hostility on this issue, I suppose I can expect to be tarred and feathered and driven out of town for my opinion. I am probably the only candidate in favor of the Pine Knob proposals. I feel that because of their recreational zoning that they are unique requests, not a threat to anywhere else in the township, and easily controlled. I think the hotel would have been fantastic. I would have been as proud as could be to have it in my township!"

MASTER PLAN

"No master plan could be made without some updating or change. Regular review is necessary for improvement and growth."

POLICE PROTECTION

"I do believe that we made the right decision to go with the sheriff's department. I feel we can get better coverage for our money. With the present inflation and high taxes, our township cannot afford its own force."

Christopher Rose, 30, 6767 Snowapple. Incumbent clerk, elected in 1976. Graduate of University of Michigan-Flint with distinction. Lifetime township resident; wife, June; two children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"While I feel that tax relief is a goal that should be pursued, I do not feel that any of the tax proposals now on the ballot are responsible solutions to our current problems. All three would cause drastic reductions in township, county and state services."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"Obviously the township will continue to offer basic services such as police and fire. Our cuts would have to be in non-essential areas; such as, recreation, parks and library services. The township board would also have to review our township's budgets and expenditures carefully to institute general belt tightening."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"I feel our priorities on use of the funds should be to maintain and improve our major road arteries which are county roads. However, a portion of the funds should be used to provide dust control on private roads, as we do now."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"I am one of the two current township board members who opposed the construction of the 20 story hotel. I do not feel it would have had a positive effect on our township. I also do not support the proposed ski ramp or amusement park for that area."

MASTER PLAN

"I feel that it is important the township have a master land use plan to provide for orderly growth in the township. I think the current plan does have some flaws and should be reviewed. However, I feel it is a basically good plan."

POLICE PROTECTION

"I support the decision of the township board to have the Oakland County Sheriff's Department provide the township with police protection. However, it is not a permanent situation. We will eventually need our own police services department. But, this will not be necessary until the township has grown much larger."

Independence treasurer candidates

Frederick P. Ritter

Democrat

Carol D. Balzarini

Republican

Frederick Ritter, 31, 6593 Amy Drive. Incumbent treasurer; elected in 1978. Also served on township board as trustee, 1974 to 1978. Former member of township planning commission and zoning board of appeals. Township resident 14 years; wife, Sheila, two children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"Tisch is too radical a solution to a very critical problem. The Milliken and Smith-Bullard proposals are not well thought out, but instead are knee-jerk reactions to Tisch. They offer no true relief; both are simply tax shifts. The present method of taxation, though admittedly inequitable and imperfect, offers some relief to senior citizens and others on fixed incomes through the circuit breaker."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"The township board has an excellent record of money management and budget containment. Cuts have been made through employee lay-offs and deletion of certain capital expenditures. I cannot arbitrarily say where future cuts will be made. Logically, the areas cut the least are those the public relies on the most."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"I support the 1/2 mill. Each local dollar is matched by the Oakland County Road Commission. The first item should be paving Pine Knob Road from Clarkston Road north to the entrance of Bailey Lake School. I would propose the use of a portion of road funds to upgrade private roads to a standard that would gain them acceptance by the county."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"I did not support the height of the hotel, but have been supportive of the concept of a hotel use on that site. I believe the amusement park and ski ramp are reactions by Pine Knob in retaliation to the voters' rejection of high rise construction."

MASTER PLAN

"I support and agree with the master plan as it currently exists. Much time and money was invested in its creation in 1975. Proof of its success has been demonstrated in quality, well-planned development and ultimately higher property values. In conjunction with our zoning ordinance, it has made Independence the most desirable community in north Oakland county."

POLICE PROTECTION

"I led the township board in its decision to contract fully with the sheriff's department. There is no question we now have a higher level of service and professionalism at a lower cost, along with a free reserve program. I think the contract is permanent as long as it continues to be cost effective."

Carol Balzarini, 42, 10270 Reese Rd. Former reporter and government editor for the Reminder. Former member of Clarkston schools' citizen advisory committee. Delegate to 1980 State Republican Convention. Graduate of Michigan State University. Township resident 10 years; husband, Don; two children.

Her statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"Independence could suffer an estimated 32 percent revenue loss if Tisch were approved. Smith-Bullard benefits education while townships the size of ours would suffer — limited to 4 mills overall; we now levy 6.33. The Milliken Coalition gives some property tax relief but increases the sales tax; it appears to be the best of the three proposals."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"If any (or all) tax proposals were approved, I would first oppose any increases in salaries of elected officials. Department heads would be expected to recommend their own budget cuts. 'Belt-tightening' should be shared by all departments, but essential services must be maintained at the same time."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"I support the 1/2 mill for road maintenance only if it can be used for both public and private roads. The township created the problem of private roads by allowing them in the first place. With construction costs up and revenue down, local millage may be our only option."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"I oppose Pine Knob's proposed 200 foot hotel primarily because it does not conform to the height limitations of our zoning ordinance. Township approval of that enormous ski ramp would only enhance Pine Knob's multi-million dollar lawsuit to gain a hotel. I'm opposed to carnivals anywhere in the township."

MASTER PLAN

"Our master plan was drawn up with the aim of preserving the rural residential character of the community. It is not irrevocable, but, on the other hand, I see no reason to make any drastic changes at this time. Recent proposed changes in the Sashabaw commercial corridor from I-75 to Maybee warrant consideration, however."

POLICE PROTECTION

"With responsible leadership on both sides, our police department and the sheriff's department could have worked side by side. Our local reserves never should have been disbanded and every effort must be made to reinstate them. The whole police issue was poorly handled from start to finish."

Democrat

Guy Derryberry, 27, 6953 Tappan Ct. Skilled trades machine repairman, Pontiac Motor Division, General Motors Corp., nine years' seniority. Attended University of Detroit and Oakland University. Township resident 23 years; wife, Loretta; four children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"Of the three state tax proposals, I would say the Milliken Coalition would be the most realistic and have the least adverse effect on the township. However, because of the ramifications of each proposal being so uncertain, I could not urge anyone to support a certain proposal."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"Before I would make any budget cuts, I would have to carefully study the budget. After studying the budget, I would list the programs in order of priority and the lowest priority programs would be where the budget cuts would take place."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS

"There are many roads in the township in dire need of repair. Therefore, I would support the 1/2-mill township tax proposal for roads. However, if some of this money were to be used for private roads, I would not support the proposal."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"On the Pine Knob hotel proposal, I feel the residents might end up with a better solution if the board could work out a compromise than they would if the courts have to make a decision. At this time, I have no objections to Pine Knob increasing their skiing facilities. Without looking at an in-depth study of the amusement park proposal, I stand opposed to it."

MASTER PLAN

I pretty much agree with the township master plan and would be hesitant toward making any changes. There are many people who have invested a lot of money in homes and land in the township basically because of the master plan. To make big changes in the plan now would definitely anger these residents."

POLICE PROTECTION

"I think the township did the right thing by deciding to go with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department for police protection. I have not heard of any complaints about their service. I do not see this as a permanent solution, because circumstances could change in the years to come."

Larence R. Kozma

Republican

Larence Kozma, 31, 5190 Woodcreek Trail. Assistant prosecuting attorney for Oakland County. Graduate of Central Michigan University, Juris Doctorate from Detroit College of Law. Township resident two years; wife, Betty; two children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"No, I do not support these tax proposals. Tisch does not just cut taxes, but has many provisions which will have unknown detrimental affects upon the present tax structure and residents in Michigan. Smith-Bullard and the Milliken Coalition merely shift taxes around and do not provide the needed tax relief."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"First, a complete analysis of critical township services must be made with input from all responsible government members such as department heads. After analysis, a careful determination must be made as to what areas can be cut back with the least amount of detrimental impact upon the citizens."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS

"There are roads within the township that need extensive repair and this millage would be for that purpose. I don't oppose that; however, further attempts should be made to obtain that service from the county. This millage is not intended for private roads, but we must solve the private road dilemma facing our residents."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"I am opposed to the high-rise hotel concept that Pine Knob has proposed for this community. I am also opposed to the ski-ramp, because it appears to be the first step in Pine Knob's continuing attempt to build a high-rise hotel. I personally do not like the amusement park."

MASTER PLAN

"I agree with the master plan. I feel that the best results will be achieved by following the master plan where practicable to insure that the growth enhances the character and quality of our community while benefiting the entire township."

POLICE PROTECTION

"The township made the right decision in going with the sheriff's department, because it provided the residents with the greatest protection for the money available at the time. I do not perceive this as being a permanent solution and the township government must continually evaluate the situation and its alternatives."

Dale A. Stuart

Republican

Dale Stuart, 37, 7336 Mustang. Attorney with Langs, Schatzberg, Patterson and Langs, Detroit. Director of Independence Township Republican Club. Lawrence Institute of Technology graduate, Juris Doctorate cum laude from Detroit College of Law. Township resident over three years; wife, Deborah; four children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"The most appealing of the proposals is Tisch. It is the only proposal that would really affect taxes. I cannot support it, however, because it is too drastic without a viable plan to continue vital services. Neither Smith-Bullard nor the Milliken proposal reduce taxes at all. I cannot support either."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"As a first step, I would ask each department to analyze its expenses to see where costs could be reduced. In conjunction with this, I would have the entire budget classified by priority of essential services. The least priority service would be reduced after all efficiencies were realized."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"Yes. Our township has too many unacceptable roads. The county appears unwilling to help unless matching funds are available. For emergency private road situations, such as Thendara Park, I would favor using this revenue on a limited basis. Private roads are a problem that the current board has not adequately addressed."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"All three of these Pine Knob proposals violate the character of this community and the spirit of the master plan. Pine Knob has shown a callous disregard in its efforts to ramrod these proposals. I will support any development by Pine Knob or others that maintains the character of our township."

MASTER PLAN

"The master plan has served us well... evidence, the beautiful community. It should not, however, be cast in bronze. At such time as it needs modification, it should be changed by adoption of a revised master plan. It shouldn't be changed piecemeal by operation of the planning commission and ZBA."

POLICE PROTECTION

"Exclusive sheriff police protection was the right decision. Whether that choice remains correct, only time and intelligent study will tell. I favor a continuing analysis of both police and fire protection to get the most service for the least money."

Daniel F. Travis

Republican

Daniel Travis, 39, 7973 Perry Lake Rd. Sales representative for Laclede Steel Co., St. Louis, Mo.; employee 16 years. Graduate of Westminster College, Fulton, Mo. Township resident 12 years; wife, Betsy; two children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"No. From considerable research, I've found quicksand in each. While the need to eliminate tax waste and help correct property tax inequities is basic to our future, these plans may well do more harm than good and boomerang the well-intentioned voter."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"Each department head has a budget and priorities. These expenses must be matched to our expected revenue. The programs which are not self-supporting would be scrutinized initially and paring to bare essentials will follow the passage of any of the tax proposals. Every employee and official will need to take stock and cut back wherever possible."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"Not at this time. Voters tell me they want to see the effect of our new millages before making yet another commitment. Our roads are in need of improvement and major maintenance. Private roads are an ongoing and growing concern, but a 1/2 mill would only generate approximately $102,000 a year — how far will that go? Our residents must contribute their thoughts of how they rank the road program's priority."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"I have actively supported the opposition to high rise zoning in Independence Township either in buildings or in new major use structures. I am only more convinced with all their pending litigation that they do not want to be a good neighbor and their desire to create a 'Disneyworld-like' park here is not in the best interests of our community."

MASTER PLAN

"All plans are subject to review, but you must plan and develop long-range goals and objectives to reflect the character of this community, stressing its charming residential and attendant service/shopping corridors. Zoning protection is all our residents have to forestall random unsightly growth and loss of property values."

POLICE PROTECTION

"Yes (I support the decision to go with the sheriff's department.) Given available revenues at this time, we could do little else and may ultimately have to adopt this program permanently. I would be happy to discuss the alternatives."

Treasurer Fred Ritter

Independence Township

William D. Vandermark

Republican

William Vandermark, 39, 6594 Cherrylawn. Process engineer for Borg and Beck, a division of Borg Warner. Former president of Thandara Park Homeowners' Association. Township resident 10 years; wife, Jeannette; two children.

His statements:

TAX PROPOSAL SUPPORT?

"I do not support the state tax proposals. The Tisch Amendment is the worst of the lot. It does not target relief to the area hit the hardest by large increases, residential property. It places a burden on industry, where productive jobs are created, by adding a tax to special tools and dies."

LOCAL BUDGET CUTS

"I would take the most money from non-essential areas such as recreation and library funds. In addition, I would reduce areas such as police and fire to absolute bare essentials by law."

MILLAGE FOR PRIVATE ROADS?

"I support the 1/2 mill tax for roads, because it would make funds available to both county and private roads. At least a third of the township road mileage is private roads. The people on those roads pay the same taxes as the rest of us. They have the right to expect services."

PINE KNOB PROPOSALS

"I do not favor the proposed high rise hotel or the amusement park as they do not fit our master plan, or the existing zoning. They are not in keeping with the character of the community. The ski ramp is nothing more than a ruse to defeat our 35 foot height limitations."

MASTER PLAN

"The present master plan is reasonable and should be followed. I disagree with your assumption that it has been followed. I would point out that Mr. Ritter made a proposal for high rise zoning only to have it overturned by the people; high rise zoning is contrary to our master plan."

POLICE PROTECTION

"Contracting with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department was a good move based on quality of service and economics. The elimination of our reserve police was a bad decision based on quality of service and economics."

Independence Township Board candidates are running for four-year terms. There are three full-time positions — supervisor, clerk and treasurer — and four part-time trustee positions. Each board member has equal voting power.

All seven positions on the board are up for election.

Independence voters face road tax question

What it says:

ROAD MILLAGE

Shall Independence Township levy a one-half (1/2) mill levy upon all property within the unincorporated portions of the Township of Independence for a period of five (5) years, 1981 through 1985, inclusive, for the purpose of providing funds to be used solely for dust abatement, repair, resurfacing and drainage of roads in the unincorporated portions of the Township? Such levy is in excess of the Constitutional limitations as set forth in Article IX, Section 6 and Sections 25 through 34.

YES

NO

Village residents won't vote on road millage

Independence residents to decide

Whether or not a 1/2 mill for roads will be approved is a decision left to Independence Township residents living outside the Village of Clarkston.

"That's because Clarkston receives its own gas and weight tax from the state to pay for road repair and maintenance," said Village Treasurer Artemus Pappas.

"Each year we receive approximately $30,000 in gas and weight taxes," he said. "And this year we budgeted $2,500 from the village's general fund for roads too."

Independence Township, according to George Anderson, head of the Department of Public Works, is prohibited by law to receive gas and weight taxes.

Last year, the township received $40,000 for road projects from federal revenue sharing and $15,000 for dust control.

But, Anderson said, township officials are expecting cuts in that revenue and proposed the 1/2 mill to offset the loss.

"The Oakland County Road Commission (OCRC) is responsible to repair our roads," he said. "We contract through them and pay them for their services. The township does not own road equipment."

"The OCRC won't do any job unless we match the cost 50-50."

In the past we've gotten those matching funds from federal and state shared revenue. That is how Holcomb Road was paved," he said.

Approval of the proposed 1/2 mill for road repair would generate $102,000 each year in revenue.

When the board approved placement of the proposal on the ballot, they agreed unanimously that income generated from the millage would go into a separate road fund.

At that time, the board anticipated the county would continue to share the cost of projects paid for from the fund.

What it means:

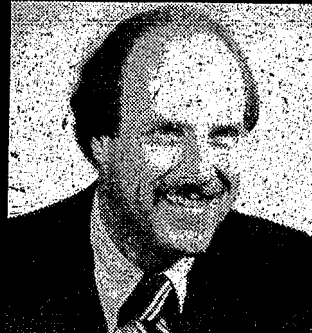

The approval of a new 1/2 mill tax to be paid by property owners of Independence Township over the next five years, excluding the Village of Clarkston, would pay for dust control, repair, resurfacing and drainage of roads in the township.

Levied annually, the 1/2 mill would generate $102,000 in revenue and would be collected the first time in December of 1981.

A homeowner with property assessed at $40,000 (Or one-half the market value) would pay $20 for each 1/2 mill because 1/2 mill is 50 cents for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

"I advocate a citizen watchdog stance on issuing permits and licenses for existing and proposed disposal facilities.

"North Oakland taxpayers will not be hoodwinked into paying for a subway."

LeRoy M. Cagney (R)

Leroy M. Cagney, 52, resides at 956 S. Main, Milford.

His background:

Twice elected Milford Village council member; director of Milford Historical society; member of Milford Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and American Legion Post No. 216; former Republican township director, precinct delegate, delegate to two state conventions.

His statement:

"Due to probable passage of Tisch, there will be difficult decisions to be made in the next two years.

"I want to be a strong voice for District 2 and make sure the inevitable cuts in service will be achieved fairly for everyone in Oakland County.

"Another concern is the solid waste problem which must be moved forward and acted on.

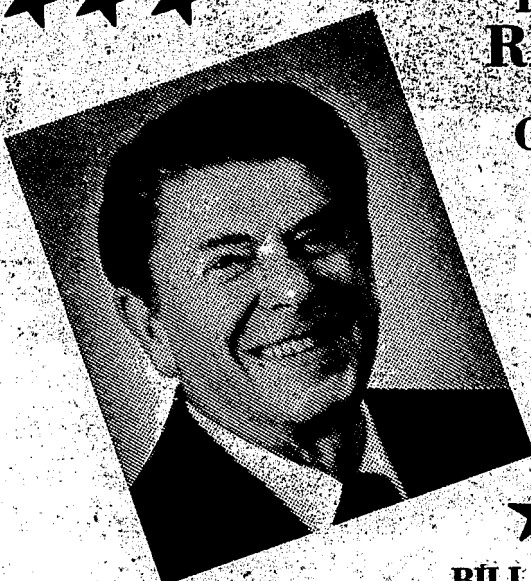

"The continued push and now lengthening of Coleman Young's monument — 'The Subway' — is a slap in the face and a hand in the pocket of all Oakland and Macomb County taxpayers who will never ride that boondoggle."

(D)

Jerry O'Dean, 47, resides at 810 E. Silver Bell, Pontiac.

His background:

Presently on Orion Township Fire Board of Governors which sets budget and policies; public servant 21 years, fire engineer, City of Pontiac; has sat on numerous state arbitration panels; received highest rating among candidates in District 3 commissioner race from "Civic Searchlight."

His statement:

"Taxes: County government has grown and its spending has increased in recent years, in part because county commissioners haven't been tough enough when reviewing the budget.

"As your commissioner, I would fight to establish clear priorities for county government. I would make sure the county spends as little of your tax dollars as possible to deliver crucial services.

"We can hold down on spending.

"Subway: I am against the subway and will work to get a better mass transit system for this area.

"I support a county emergency medical service. I think each township should have some type of advanced life support system."

Charles T. Whitlock
(R)

Charles Whitlock, 58, resides at 5364 Drayton Rd., Independence Township.

His background

One year formal college; additional courses in management, administration, legal research, personnel relations; retired captain, Oakland County Sheriff's Department; married 38 years, three children, five grandchildren.

His statement:

"Due to the tax proposals and the uncertainty of what is in store for the future, it is difficult to predict what impacts will have to be addressed in the coming years.

"Certain mandated and statutory functions in county government will have to be continued within appropriate management restraints.

"Austerity and priority will be key words if non-mandated services must be curtailed.

"Major issues facing the county are: (1) cost-effective mass transportation; (2) a balance of interests between solid waste disposal and the environment.

"The county currently is financially sound and is attempting to address both issues without sacrificing local assistance in areas such as crime control and human services programs."
