Dixie patrol

Troopers on the lookout

By Marilyn Trumper

The Michigan State Police Department is coming down hard on traffic violators along Dixie Highway, from M-15 to Telegraph Road.

Look for their blue patrol cars beginning the first of the year as the department targets Dixie Highway for concentrated preventive patrol.

That's the word from Trooper James Bush, Pontiac post communication service officer.

State Police statistics show the 10-mile stretch of road has one of the highest traffic accident totals in the state, and one additional trooper is to patrol from 3 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from midnight to 3 a.m., Bush said. Those are the times the greatest number of accidents occur, he added.

The program, to be in effect for one year, should begin to yield results and the state could see a decrease in accidents within the first six months, he added.

Troopers will be looking for speeders, tailgating drivers, improper turns and those forgetting to use turn signals, drunk drivers and erratic drivers, Bush said.

Below follows a breakdown of traffic accidents between specific intersections for the 1979-80 year.

•M-15 to Maybee Road—95 accidents or 8 percent of the total number of accidents along that stretch of Dixie Highway for the year.

•Maybee Road to Andersonville Road—181 accidents or 15 percent.

•Andersonville Road to Hatchery Road—486 accidents or 39 percent.

•Hatchery Road to Scott Lake Road—104 accidents or 8 percent.

•Scott Lake Road to Telegraph Road—366 accidents or 30 percent.

According to Bush, another study says from 1979 to 1980, 6 percent of the accidents along that stretch of road resulted from cars being run-off the road, 14 percent from improper left-hand turns, 37 percent from rear-end collisions and 37 percent from head-on accidents and all others.

Fish watch

Rick Austin peers into the clear, shallow water of Walters Lake. His hook and bait in place, he waits until he sees perch swim by so he can jiggle the line at precisely the right moment. The pile of fresh fish nearby illustrate his success.

Rick, who lives on Muskoday Road, Independence Township, says he's looking forward to eating the fresh fish later with his friends and their father who are fishing nearby. There are more photos on Page 7.

Early morning parking banned

Between 2 and 6 a.m., there's to be no parking on any Clarkston Village street.

That's the annual word delivered by Gar Wilson, director of Clarkston's Department of Public Works.

Maneuvering the plow around cars parked in the street is no worse this year than in the past—but the problem still exists, Wilson said, offering tips on how to avoid having cars plowed under.

"Really the business district is the most important, and if people would just watch for us, I know they hear us, and either move or park some place else.

"Also, if they know it's going to snow, just don't park there," he said.

In addition, Wilson stresses that individual property owners are responsible for cleaning sidewalks fronting their businesses and homes.

Windy Monday

Monday's 50 mph winds are blamed for blowing out an 8-by-10-foot sheet of glass in Rademacher Chevrolet Inc.'s showroom floor, 6750 Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

According to salesman Al Jespersen, one customer was "pretty shook-up" for she'd been standing before the towering pane of glass just moments before it shattered and fell into the showroom, scattering squares of glass across the new cars and carpet.

The dealership's Christmas tree was also blown over, its blue bulbs tossed haphazardly around one corner of the room.

"In his haste to move all the cars from the showroom floor, Joe here ran over my foot," said owner Tom Rademacher, brandishing a newly creased wingtip toe.

Did it hurt?

"Terrible," he replied.

Within minutes the glass company had arrived and boarded up the gaping hole which filled the dealership with chilling air.

Monday's high winds—with velocity ranging up to 50 mph—are blamed for the broken floor-to-ceiling window at Rademacher's Chevrolet on M-15 and Dixie Highway.

Sunday, thieves stole a trailer from a Nepahwin Road driveway, Independence Township, according to police reports.

Sunday, thieves stole four wheels, a battery and a radio, and smashed the driver's window of an abandoned disabled vehicle on Rattalee Lake Road, Independence Township, according to police reports.

Sunday, a mechanic working at Riverside Ambulance station, 5885 M-15, Independence Township, caught a thief stealing an ambulance's "drug box."

According to police reports, a struggle ensued, but the thief escaped on foot with the drug box in hand.

The above information was collected from reports at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Clarkston's Parking Enforcement Officer Charles Smalley is looking to increase his policing powers.

At a recent meeting, Smalley asked the village council to endorse him for deputy status with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department (OCSD). The request met with all members' approval.

"It would give me a wider scope to work with," Smalley told council members. His powers are currently limited to ticketing parking violators.

"Also, the township just lost its ordinance enforcement officer, and I could help them out too," he said.

The council heard the proposal but made no decision.

According to Deputy Lawrence Liggett, reserve program coordinator for the OCSD, he first would require a letter from the village council explaining why it wanted special deputy status for Smalley.

The department would then review Smalley's training, investigate his certification status with the state to see if it's still good and would most likely mandate he complete the OCSD reserve program training before assuming liability for his actions, Liggett said.

As a deputy, Smalley would carry a gun and make arrests, but would not move independent of a full-time deputy, he added.

Each decision the reserve deputy makes is contingent upon the OK from a full-time deputy on patrol, but contact could and would be made via radio, Liggett said.

Smalley is expected to bring the issue up for discussion at a future council meeting.

When we reported our serious fire of December 26th we were not aware that there was far more damage than originally estimated. However, this unhappy situation has been offset by the complete and incomparable cooperation of everyone involved. Bob Wood our associate, Diane and I wish to thank each and everyone.

Again our special thanks to Bob Coats owner of Coats Funeral Home in Drayton Plains. We have conducted services from his funeral home and the families assured us they were satisfied and were generous with their comments. Because of Bob's cooperation we are able to remain in business.

It appears that we will be back to normal within the original time schedule. Our new roof is completed, heat has been restored and we are continuing to maintain regular office hours and telephone service.

The number of people who have helped and are helping is unbelievable. Our gratitude to all cannot be measured in words.

Meadow Fresh showroom to open

Local developer Hugh Garner sees business venture as real money-maker

By Marilyn Trumper

Keeping one step ahead of the stifled real estate market, local developer Hugh Garner is branching out into a new field.

The first of the year Garner plans to open the doors of his warehouse/showroom for Meadow Fresh, a newly developed imitation low-fat dry milk product. It is to be located in the former People's Furniture building on M-15, north of Clarkston Village.

According to Garner, owner of Winchester Real Estate, Meadow Fresh is being marketed east of the Mississippi for the first time, and is sweeping the midwest with newly established franchises.

"The real estate business hasn't been at this kind of low since the depression. Being an entrepreneur, I've been looking for new ways to make a living," Garner said.

"I was just exposed to this product Dec. 3. I've decided it's a good product and it's a good way to get in on the ground floor of a business that's growing," he added.

According to Garner, a Utah firm began Meadow Fresh operations last March, and "...it's just gone crazy."

To date, Meadow Fresh warehouses are located in just two Michigan cities, Troy and Grand Rapids, according to Garner, who added that the People's Furniture building should prove a prime site with its close access to I-75.

Meadow Fresh, marketed similarly to Amway, offers distributorships to individuals.

The warehouse/showroom will serve as the site for meetings, training sessions and retail sales—Meadow Fresh white milk and cocoa will be available in 25- and 5-pound bags, as well as mixing implements, Garner said.

The public can walk in and pick up information on the milk substitute, and those with questions may call Garner at 625-7500.

Last week Michigan health authorities alerted local health officials to caution users of Meadow Fresh, stressing the necessity of sanitary conditions when mixing the powder-like substance.

The report also said that dry milk is capable of supporting rapid and progressive growth of infectious and toxic micro-organisms, and should be refrigerated after mixing, as with milk.

Meadow Fresh is made primarily of whey, the liquid left over from cheese production, and contains corn syrup and coconut oil. It's also flavored with non-fat powdered milk.

Garner responded to recent newspaper articles warning of the Meadow Fresh alert by saying any milk product requires refrigeration and common sense tells the user to mix the powder in a clean jug.

He added that guidelines are sold with the product on how best to mix the powder.

"Meadow Fresh is a milk substitute, and therefore it's better for you," Garner said, praising what he sees as the product's superiority over milk. "It's also cheaper than milk."

Garner's partner Gary Sanders, echoed his comments and added, "It's low in cholesterol, low in fat and is nutritious."

"Meadow Fresh is a very fine product and it's one of the fastest growing companies this year. It made $5 million in its first 10 months. And I really believe it's a tremendous product," Sanders said.

Despite what Sanders calls mounting opposition from the dairy industry which sees new competition in a previously unchallenged market, the partners are positive about their latest venture and remain solid in their conviction that Meadow Fresh will be to food investors what K mart was to dime store stock.

A real money maker.

Snow giant

It started out as just something to do over Christmas vacation, but by the time sisters Cindy (left) and Judy Sommers completed their snowman off Princess Lane in Independence Township, the project seemed to take on gargantuan proportions. The two builders got a helping hand in constructing their abominable snowman from Cindy's fiance, Bill Jaruzel.

Chief Ronk wants you!

Independence Township Fire Chief Frank Ronk wants you.

Looking to beef-up his volunteer force, Ronk's put out the call for conscientious men and women interested in working as firefighters—and it's a real plus if they can work the day shift.

"Over the last year we've lost several (volunteers), and we really need people to work the day shift," Ronk said. "Most people work during the day, and are free nights, so we always seem to have enough volunteers in the evening."

"But now, there are very few available during the day. Whereas in the past (volunteers would) answer a call maybe twice a week, we're using them as much as twice a day now," Ronk said.

Below are the requirements to join the ranks of Independence Township's current on-call staff of 32 firefighters, according to Ronk.

- You must be 18 years or older.
- You must be able to pass a complete physical exam (paid for by the department.)
- You must have lived in Independence Township for one year and be a resident now.

All volunteers are required to make the quota of fire calls, which is 60 percent of all calls that your work hours allow, and at least two drills per month.

In addition, volunteers must complete the required 60-hour Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care Course as well as the state's 66-hour basic Firefighter Training Course.

After the first six months, volunteers are eligible to receive $5 an hour for medical and fire calls and authorized work details, and $5 for training or drills they are required to attend, Ronk said.

Applications can be picked up at the Independence Township Fire Department, 3 East Church, Clarkston, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Trustee balks over wide paths

By Marilyn Trumper

Township board Trustee William Vandermark thinks eight-foot-wide safety paths are too wide in the less trafficked areas of Independence and he's taking his philosophy to the Safety Path Task Force.

"From looking at other communities, some outside the state and at what they've done, I feel what we have is all right, but that in the future we should give strong consideration to looking at four-foot-wide paths, especially in the more rural areas," Vandermark said at the Dec. 15 board meeting.

After the meeting, he elaborated. Township residents have voiced opposition to the eight-foot-wide swaths cut across their front lawns and residents along Waterford Road have gone so far as to petition the township to remove them from the safety path master plan.

"It's my intention to work with the safety path committee on this," Vandermark said. "I've heard the same comments throughout the community. It's not just my own observations."

"I think it would be wise to go smaller. We could save money and, considering the latest overrun cost figures, we can do more."

Independence Township just completed construction of the first three miles of a proposed 50-mile safety path network, with the first 14 miles to be paid for with .5 of a mill approved by voters in August 1980. The millage, to be levied each year through 1990, should total $1 million at the end of the 10-year period.

Chairman of the Safety Path Task Force, William Pfahlert, has worked closely on the project for years and disagrees strongly with Vandermark's philosophy.

"First of all, the federal government recommends a seven-foot standard. Also, most construction equipment is designed to cut an eight-foot strip so you'll realize no significant savings there by the time you alter the machinery."

"Finally," he said, "the eight-foot width is designed for multiple use, with one person passing on the right and someone on the left. We've gotten a lot of information over the years, studying what was best, we've been to seminars across the state, and the eight feet is just good common sense."

Court postpones 2 adult foster care home suits

The wheels of justice are turning slowly for Independence Township in two lawsuits filed at the Oakland County Circuit Court level to keep out adult foster care homes on Whipple Lake and Chickadee roads.

For the second week in a row, both cases have been postponed, this time until Jan. 13 when the township is expected to ask for injunctions to prevent the homes from establishing until the court make a decision in the lawsuits, according to township attorney Richard Campbell.

"In the case of the Whipple Lake home, the judge has asked for more time to review the briefs," Campbell said. The home is proposed to be built from the ground up and house six developmentally disabled adults.

Regarding the proposed Chickadee home to house six aged adults, the state's attorney has agreed no licensing action will take place before the 13th, Campbell added.

The proposed Chickadee home is on the docket of Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Hilda Gage, while Judge George La Plata is scheduled to hear the Whipple Lake Road suit.

The township continues to argue such homes violate local zoning ordinances which prohibit multiple dwellings in single-family residences and that the state overrides the township's right to self-determination by allowing foster care homes to establish in such locations.

Clerk explains re-election bid

Clarkston Village Clerk Bruce Rogers knew it was a gamble when he filed for re-election.

He knew he might find a buyer for his Washington Street house that's been on the market since last June. He knew that sometime after winning the March 1982 election, where he's running unopposed, he could be forced to resign the post.

"I thought about that when I filed for re-election, but I didn't know what else to do," he said. "I wanted to run again and we haven't had any activity on the house, so I decided to run again."

Asked about taking office, resigning, and the search to find someone to fill his seat, especially when he's now running unopposed, Rogers responded: "I thought about that too. I know that if we sell the house, it will be sometime before we actually move. I don't want to leave them in a lurch, and I won't."

Rogers has served nine-and-one-half years as village clerk.

The family plans a move to Florida to escape Michigan winters.

"We love this area, the people, the community, but just can't stand the winter. Every time we go to Florida, we love it even more," he said.

Maybe next year

by Kathy Greenfield

The new year is always a time of hope—sort of a spring cleaning of self.

This year, it took me less than four days to give up.

It all started when I cleaned my desk drawer. While I avoid New Year's resolutions at all costs, the yen is still there to improve. It was time, I thought, to look with a critical eye at several years' worth of accumulations.

There are six drawers in my desk. One got cleaned. Sort of. There were a few files I put back at the end of the day that needed to be broken down into categories, but at least they were all lined up in alphabetical order.

The next work day, I dug through the entire waste basket looking for a lost item. Tidiness breeds insecurity. I found what I was looking for at home.

Still, I felt I was on the road to becoming more organized.

Then Monday came. Everything was going to go well, I just knew it. A new year. A new beginning. The alarm went off on schedule.

The phone rang. Somebody answered it. "There's no school!" rang gleefully throughout the house.

I could handle that. Every parent remembers the joy snow days bring to pupils.

So, it was off to work in Oxford putting together The Clarkston News MAGAZINE.

After I arrived, I remembered I forgot a photograph I needed. Then I remembered I forgot several other ingredients of the section. Someone was due to arrive from Clarkston shortly, so I just had to wait.

Crumble, crash, crack. So much for 1982. It started with the worst Monday morning I have had in a long time.

I stopped believing in New Year's resolutions when I started coming up with such ditties as: "Stop eating" and "Always keep everything in order."

I have another to add to the collection. "Give up Mondays."

If it's a major fire or a minor oddity, give us a call at The Clarkston News. 625-3370

Jim's jottings

Small is best

by Jim Sherman

There have been times in our nearly 27 years of hiring and firing, excuse me, employe relations, when we desperately needed more help.

Today that time seems so very long ago. We're down some eight people from a couple of years ago and others are part time who were on a 40 hour week. Eight people is 20 percent, for those who like percentages.

In those days when employes were scarce, GM was our biggest competition. Thank goodness there were people who did not like the idea of working in the "assembly line" atmosphere, real or imagined.

We went through several people trying to find those wanting small shop work.

Some who applied would be very open when applying for a job with us. They'd say something like, "I'd like a job until General Motors starts hiring again."

Or, once on the job, some would say, "Can I have the afternoon off. I want to go to Fisher Body and apply for a job."

We, and, in this case "we" refers to all small business and industry owners, were a training ground for GM.

GM held the carrots. The magnetism of wages twice as high as 'we' could afford, plus fringes, plus cost-of-living, plus the prevalent rumors of GM employes getting numerous breaks, two hour john-time, and nothing to do after 2:30 p.m. was strong.

We just could not compete when it comes to dollars. We could only offer working conditions that were more personal, perhaps a little more freedom to come and go, and hopefully a good place to work.

In time 'we' found the people we needed to get our jobs done.

Now GM is not only laying off more and more people, they are cutting wages of employes. Even they (and this goes for many big businesses) can't afford what they agreed to.

The big guys who paid the big bucks, and bought workers away from small shops are hurting.

But, while we'd like to say, "it serves them right", we can't.

They have dragged us down with them. The big guys economic policies didn't work, and we can't gloat that we knew it all along.

The big guys' policies have taught us one thing, though. Small shops really are best.

Ice fishing's a Wilson family affair

Sam Wilson baits another hook and keeps up his quest to catch lots of fish. The family uses wax worms and spikes to hook their catch.

James Wilson's favorite activity summer or winter is fishing, says his father.

With Jo-Jo on sentry duty, Charles Wilson of Minnewanna Road, Independence Township, gathers fish for dinner from Walters Lake. He and his sons plan to head for home, cook up a pot of hot chocolate and fry the perch and bluegills for for the family. Each member of the group chops a hole in the ice some distance apart, and fishes.

'If it Fitz. . .'

Mix-up in the stomach

by Jim Fitzgerald

"You seem to be promulgating an alternative theory of cooking," the husband said. He talked strangely because he was reading the newspaper while eating. He was reading about the "Monkey Trial" replay in Little Rock, Ark.

It was Saturday and, as his reward for getting out of bed before 2 p.m., his wife had offered to prepare whatever he wanted for breakfast, if she had it in the kitchen, if she could find the kitchen. He had ordered corn fritters, and after one bite, he had a question:

"There is something green in this corn fritter, also something red. What is that?"

"Peas and carrots," she said. "I didn't have any corn."

That is when he accused her of ignoring the evolutionary theory of cooking.

"There is no such thing as corn fritters with peas and carrots instead of corn," he said. "These are pea-carrot fritters."

"You like corn fritters made with peas and carrots," she insisted. "Peas are your favorite vegetable."

The husband likes peas alone. All his life, whenever he's been served peas and carrots mixed together, he has separated them, eating the peas and hiding the carrots under his plate.

"There is an abundance of scientific evidence proving that peas and carrots eaten together don't taste the same as peas eaten alone," he said. "This is especially true when the peas and carrots are munched together inside a yucky fritter."

"There's no sense being so fussy. Everything you eat goes into the same stomach anyway," she said.

She really said that. The husband thought he might cry. His mother used to say the same thing when she found carrots stuck to the underside of his dinner plate. Throughout his youth, authority figures were always telling him it didn't matter if his pickled beets leaked into his mashed potatoes because all the different foods on his plate would soon have a reunion inside his stomach anyway. In Army chow lines, servers told him the same dumb thing just before he bayoneted them for downing his meatloaf in canned-peach syrup.

"Living creatures have been tasting and eating for millions of years. As they evolved from dinosaurs into people, they gradually stopped ordering slime on their grass," the husband said. "The dawn of modern civilization came when the first ape noticed that everything doesn't taste better with ketchup on it, even though the ketchup ultimately ends up in the same stomach with everything. If people are going to eat pea-carrot fritters, they might as well go back to living in caves."

"Just because you say corn fritters are better than pea-carrot fritters doesn't make it true. It's just a theory," she said. "If there are corn fritters served, there should also be pea-carrot fritters served, so people can taste more than one theory."

"Not in public restaurants," he said, "If people want to be dumb enough to eat pea-carrot fritters in the privacy of their own homes, that's up to them. However, it would be criminal to put pea-carrot fritters on a restaurant menu. Corn fritters have stood the test of time and scientific tasting, but no one except you ever hears of pea-carrot fritters. If such awful food were made available to the general public, it could poison young stomachs."

"Cooking is a science, not a religion," he continued, "so it was dumb of you to create a new fritter in only one day and then pray I wouldn't notice there were mashed peas and carrots in it, but no corn."

"In the 26 years of our marriage, and your nonsense, this must be the dumbest conversation we've had yet," she said.

"We wouldn't have had this conversation if you hadn't forgotten that our constitution requires the separation of peas and carrots," he said. "You might have gotten away with using peas to make corn fritters, but no fritter can hide the yucky taste of mushy carrots."

Moral: A real creationist would never run out of corn.

Business practices task force lauded for report

One day short of its first-year anniversary, the Independence Township Task Force on Business Practices and Procedures offered its report to the township board.

Hailed as "a labor of love" and "monumental task" by Supervisor James B. Smith at the Dec. 15 meeting, the board listened as task force Chairman David K. Leak briefly reviewed the report, covering everything from computers to payroll, budgeting procedures, purchasing and more.

"In our studies we found there were some areas of the township that did very well, and others that operated less well, and we made recommendations there," Leak said.

"In no area did we find employees to be negligent. We did find a lack of documentation and discovered that as a result of this, employees coming in under new administrations find they have to learn their jobs from scratch.

"We feel a policy should be set by the board itself on how things should be done," he finished.

After the brief presentation, board members unanimously accepted the report with gratitude.

"I don't think you could buy a report as thorough as this, I really don't," commented Trustee William Vandermark.

Established last December, the task force on business practices and procedures was the second appointed under the Smith Administration.

Recreation department offers 2 trips

Two major trips are in the offering next year from Independence Parks and Recreation.

In September, a seven-day trip to the 1982 World's Fair in Knoxville, Tenn. will be offered. Cost of the trip is $326, which includes lodging, fair tickets and visits to the Opryland Theme Park in Nashville, Abraham Lincoln Birthplace National Park, My Old Kentucky Home State Park and a guided tour of Mammoth Cave or Bardstown.

On Feb. 14-16, the rec department is sponsoring a trip to Wheels Inn in Chatham, Ont. Cost of $149 per person includes transportation, admission to movie night, guided tours, meals and lodging at Wheels Inn, which features an indoor pool, saunas, putting green, billiards, bowling, ice skating, tennis, racquetball, whirlpool and exercise pool and exercise room.

For information on either trip, contact Sheryl at the recreation department office by calling 625-8223.

Hamburgers here we come

The fish weren't biting too terrifically on Walters Lake Sunday for Bob and Barb Lawless, but the weather was just fine at about 40 degrees. They were trying for supper of perch and bluegills. But, as Bob pointed out, it looked like the evening meal was going to be from McDonald's. The Lawlesses live on East Circle Drive in Independence Township.

X-country skiers can glide in Grayling

The Independence Parks and Recreation Department is offering a cross-country ski weekend in Grayling Feb. 19, 20 and 21.

Cost of the trip is $128, which includes transportation, lodging, two buffet style breakfasts and a gourmet prime rib dinner.

Anyone interested in the trip should contact Sheryl at the parks and recreation office by calling 625-8223.

Canvassers OK'd

The Independence Township Board unanimously approved the re-appointment of three members of the Board of Canvassers at the Dec. 15 meeting.

Jeanette Barks, Sandra Sanford and Nancy Woodruff were re-appointed, and join fourth member, E. Brewer.

The four women, comprised of two Republicans and two Democrats, meet after each township election to certify results, and are paid $20 apiece for their efforts, according to Clerk Christopher Rose.

The women met twice in 1980, during the August primary and the November general election, he added.

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

The Independence Township Board of Appeals will meet Wednesday, January 20, 1982 at 7:30 PM at the Independence Township Hall, 90 North Main Street, 48016 to hear the following case:

Mahrle savoring life at the top

By Al Zawacky

AN HOUR BEFORE game time found Larry Mahrle making the rounds in the Troy High School gym, smiling, chatting, shaking hands.

You should have seen him—that is, if you weren't one of the several Clarkstonites in the crowd there to see Mahrle's Avondale High School Yellowjackets take on Troy in the finals of the Troy Roundball Classic Christmas tournament.

The ex-Clarkston JV basketball coach was a bundle of nerves, but you could tell he was savoring life at the top—life as a varsity mentor after years of apprenticeship at the JV level. He was going around pointing out to everyone that the Troy Colts are big (they were), that they won a Class A district title last year (they did) and that they were sure to be tough to beat at home in their own tournament.

They weren't.

AVONDALE WOUND UP on the better end of a 67-53 final. The Yellowjackets had previously downed Troy Athens 53-38 to advance to the finals while Troy was bouncing Clawson 49-41.

It bears mention that Avondale and Clawson are both Class B schools, and Athens falls in the peasant class of hoopsdom. Do you get the feeling that Class-A Troy set this tournament up just to award itself a trophy?

In any event, the Colts—despite their dominating height and home court—played terrible ball and hardly looked the role of defending Class-A district champs. Avondale, meanwhile, didn't look the role of Class B anything.

The two tourney victories boosted the Yellowjackets season mark to 6-1, and all six victories have been against Class A schools.

On paper, the Yellowjackets may be Class B, but in actuality you'd best believe this team could probably take the crown in the Class A Greater Oakland Activities League.

MAHRLE ACKNOWLEDGES THAT he walked into a pretty good situation when he accepted the Avondale job this fall. He wound up with two Pontiac transfers, including the proficient Ken Lamb, ex of Pontiac Northern. He's almost assured of a league title with Oxford, Brandon and Cranbrook providing the only competition in Avondale's four-team conference.

But it hasn't all been a Caribbean cruise for the new head coach.

For one thing, Mahrle has found out that there's a lot more demand on his time at the varsity level, putting together programs, ordering equipment, setting up scrimmages and going over scouting reports.

The coaches encountered at the varsity level are also usually a clear cut above those in the JVs, too. And when Mahrle arrived in Avondale in November, he found himself with a group of strangers capable of running only one offense: Run, pass, shoot—and hope for the best.

"It's been kind of difficult to get them to play a pattern," Mahrle says. "Their play in the past has been too unorganized and undisciplined—it was just run and gun and throw the ball up court."

"That's the thing I'm really pleased about—we've taken a group of kids I didn't know at all at the beginning of the year and instituted my system."

But as one might expect, the Yellowjackets aren't the only high school basketball team on Mahrle's mind this winter. There's still a warm spot there for the team he left behind in Clarkston.

Larry Mahrle: Calling the shots from the Avondale sidelines.

It's only natural after five years at CHS, including a 15-4 record last season, his best ever.

"I still like the kids on Clarkston's ball club. They (last year's JVs) were the best group I ever had, and I want them to succeed this year."

As for Larry Mahrle and his Yellowjackets, they're succeeding quite well so far, thank you.

Forfeit puts Wolves alone in 1st

By Al Zawacky

Coach Gary Nustad and his Clarkston High School varsity basketball team got one of their Christmas presents a little late this year.

Thanks to an eligibility mix-up at Rochester High School involving transfer student and varsity basketball player Ira Whitlock, Rochester will forfeit its 49-47 Dec. 11 win over Clarkston, according to Bill Seltz, Rochester athletic director.

As a result of the forfeit, the Wolfpack finds itself alone in first place in the Greater Oakland Activities League with a 2-0 record. Prior to the forfeit, all six teams in the GOAL were tied with 1-1 marks.

Seltz added, however, that the paperwork oversight that made Whitlock ineligible at the beginning of the season was being corrected, and as a result the junior transfer student from Pontiac Northern should be able to play for Rochester the rest of the season.

Whenever a student transfers, a waiver must be signed by both building principals before he or she can participate in athletics. Whitlock's papers were never put in order, and once they are Seltz expressed confidence that his residency in Rochester and eligibility to play ball there will be OK'd by the Michigan High School Athletic Association in Lansing.

"Lansing still has to approve the papers, but we feel he'll be declared eligible and get this whole thing squared away," Seltz said.

"In the meantime, we'll be writing letters to the three schools he played against offering those games in forfeiture. It's only right—we were in error on this."

Of the three games Whitlock played in—Avondale, Rochester Adams and Clarkston—the offer to forfeit will affect only the Adams and Clarkston games, which Rochester won. Avondale defeated Rochester in the season opener, 62-61.

Coach Nustad and the Wolfpack got word of the forfeit Monday afternoon after practice.

"It's unfortunate that it occurred for Rochester—I highly respect (Rochester Coach) John Bailey. He's a man of integrity and honesty, and I'm certain this (Whitlock's ineligibility) is nothing he had any knowledge of," said Nustad.

"The forfeit certainly gives us a big boost, but it's so early in the league season with eight games still to be played. It's not as important as if we were in the last one or two games.

"But it does put us one game up on the pack."

Clarkston will swing back into action from the three-week holiday break in the schedule Friday night when the Wolfpack travels to GOAL rival Waterford Kettering.

Spikers hope to build on successful past

sity scrimmage at Clarkston High School.

By Al Zawacky

When it comes to varsity volleyball, the Clarkston Wolves have a pretty tough act to follow this winter.

To be precise, last year's Clarkston High School varsity squad posted a 17-4 record overall, and a 9-1 mark in the Greater Oakland Activities League—good for a share of the league championship with Rochester.

But based on what she's seen so far in the weeks of practice and preparation for the upcoming season, Coach Linda Denstaedt figures the Wolves will again be a force to be reckoned with in the GOAL.

"We've got a lot better hitters this year," she says. "We're going to be very strong hitting and very strong in our blocking."

But the Wolves passing needs some work, she adds. So far the team's passing hasn't looked as strong as last year's, and Denstaedt listed passing as a weakness at the beginning of the season last year as well.

Much of the Wolves fortunes this season will rest on the play of senior co-captains Sandy Mason and Michele Ulasich, who excel in hitting and blocking.

Other standouts in the hitting department are senior Lanette Whitehead and juniors Jamie Howenstein and Annette Ulasich.

"All of them, Annette, Michele, Lanette and Jamie are strong hitters, and Sandy has been outstanding," Denstaedt says.

Senior Kathy Weber figures to be a starting setter-blocker for her excellent blocking ability, the coach adds.

The strongest servers to surface in the Wolves' practices so far are junior Becky Buhl, Michele Ulasich and Howenstein.

"All the girls serve well, but those three now have the best serve," Denstaedt says.

Senior Shaun O'Brien will see action as Clarkston's second setter. "Shaun gives everything she has and works really hard," Denstaedt says. "She contributes a lot of good feeling and spirit to the team."

Juniors Marina Hamelett and Dawn Willett both have the talent to be fine setters, while juniors Stacey Wasik and Diane Pfahlert have a lot of potential in hitting, according to Denstaedt.

The Wolves will open their 1982 campaign Monday evening at home against Grand Blanc, a perennial volleyball power, and Brandon. Denstaedt sees it as a portent of things to come when the Wolves begin GOAL competition Jan. 25 at home against Rochester.

"I'm sure Rochester is probably going to be tough against us," she says. "With the growing popularity of volleyball, more and more girls are attending camp every year and the quality of play is getting better all the time."

Wolfpack, JVs trade players

By Al Zawacky

The Clarkston High School varsity basketball team has made some personnel changes heading into its first game after the holiday break, a Jan. 8 league contest at Waterford Kettering.

Brought up from the JV to the varsity was sophomore guard Craig Kulaszewski, who practiced with the varsity Wolfpack for the first time Dec. 28.

Joining the JVs were former varsity players Craig Nicolai and Shawn Mosele, both juniors.

"We feel that Kulaszewski can take some of the pressure off Mike McCormick," said varsity coach Gary Nustad, explaining the move.

"It should free Mike and allow him to do even more for us scoring-wise."

McCormick, a junior guard, has been one of the Wolfpack's steadiest performers in the young season.

Kulaszewski's presence on the team will give Clarkston the option of playing McCormick at forward or guard, Nustad noted.

"The move will also give two players who were only seeing limited playing time (Nicolai and Mosele) an opportunity to play," Nustad added.

Kulaszewski, a 6-foot, 170-pounder, was averaging 11 points a game in regular duty this season with the JVs.

Wolfpack Injury Report:

Junior center Ray Kubani remains a doubtful starter for Friday's game at Kettering...Kubani injured his ankle in practice Monday afternoon...Sophomore guard Chris Bruce is fully recovered from a foot injury that sidelined him last month and will be ready to play, according to Coach Nustad...

Cougars humble Wolverine rivals, 55-40

By Al Zawacky

Clarkston Junior High's era of dominance in freshman boys' basketball is over.

The era of the Wolverine came crashing down in dramatic fashion Dec. 22 as the Sashabaw Junior High Cougars cruised to an easy 55-40 victory over cross-district rival Clarkston Junior High in the Clarkston High School gym.

Over the past two years, the Wolverines not only triumphed in all four meetings between the two schools, but won them by decisive margins.

This time, it was the Cougars' turn.

"It's something the kids take to heart," said Sashabaw assistant coach George Porritt. "It's kind of like the Michigan-Michigan State game."

"I thought both teams hustled pretty well."

Both teams played each other close in the first quarter, but the second quarter set the tone for a Cougar rout. By the time the first half ended, Sashabaw held an imposing 30-15 lead and was never headed the rest of the way.

"They're a good, good ball club," said Clarkston Coach Larry Sherrill of the Cougars. "They played good defensive basketball in the second half and didn't allow us to come back."

Leading the scoring parade for Sashabaw was Erik Kline with 12 points. Teammate Robert Newblatt had nine points, Dave Ladd had eight and Jim Acton seven.

Rounding out the Cougars scoring were Doug Colling, Mark Foyteck and Rod Thomas with four points, Bobby Williams with three and Tim Thrift and Matt Riddle with two.

Clarkston's Mike Galley was the high scorer in the game with 13 points, followed by teammates Shawn MacCartey with eight, Steve Mayer with five, John Burnell with four and Scott Carter, Greg Garrett and Dean O'Neil with two.

Newblatt and his Cougar teammates went on to post a win over their cross-district rivals, 55-40.

JVs play Santa Claus in loss to Lake Orion

By Al Zawacky

In their last game before the Christmas break, the JV Wolves decided to play Santa Claus with the basketball.

"We were terrible all the way through our lineup," said a visibly upset Coach Dave Smith, who had to watch in agony as his Clarkston High School JV basketball team committed 33 turnovers en route to an embarrassing 76-55 loss at Lake Orion.

"We made some progress in each of our first three games," Smith said, "but tonight, we regressed back to square one."

"The kids have got to learn that this is high school basketball, and those little things they got away with in eighth and ninth grade turn into big mistakes up here."

It wasn't until the second quarter that a rout began to take shape. Holding a modest 12-9 lead at the end of the first eight minutes, Orion's Dragons blew the game open with 22 points in the next eight, while the Wolves answered with only five.

At one point in the game, the Dragons held an embarrassing 42-18 lead.

Lake Orion's final outburst of 76 points represented the most points anyone has scored on the JV Wolfpack in years. Last season, for example, the Dragons managed just 73 combined points against Clarkston in the two games played between the two teams.

The loss dropped the JV Wolves to 1-3 on the season.

"The thing that really hurt," Smith noted, "is that I thought tonight, for the first game out of four, we didn't show any desire at all."

Scoring for Clarkston were Ken Temple with 14 points, Craig Kulaszewski with 10, Tom Hall, Greg Molzon and John Spiker with six, Tim Dangel and Bob Ruelle with four, Dean Callison with three and Steve Luchenbach with two.

Greg Drumb, one of numerous Dragons to benefit from Clarkston's Christmas spirit on the court, notched a game-high 23 points.

"You'll remember that at the start of the season I said to judge us by our performance and progress, not by our record," Smith noted.

"As coach after four games, if I were giving out a report card right now our performance would get a C and our progress a D.

"Which means we've got a lot of work to do."

Springfield club Carolina bound

Springfield Christian Academy of Springfield Township has been invited to play in the Tenth Annual Christian High School Invitational Basketball Tournament sponsored by Bob Jones University in South Carolina.

The tournament is to take place in the campus gymnasium in Greenville, S.C., Jan. 26-30, and is to include eight schools from the midwest and south.

Massillon Christian School of Ohio won the tourney last year and they plan to be back to defend the championship.

Softball tourney on ice Feb. 6-7

The "Slip and Slide Classic," a winter softball tournament sponsored by the Independence Parks and Recreation Department, will be played at Spring Lake Country Club Feb. 6 and 7.

It will be a single-elimination tournament open to men's, women's and co-ed teams with open rosters. T-shirts will be given to teams finishing first and second. Cost is $50 per team, and interested teams should contact the recreation department at 625-8223.

Clarkston at Waterford Kettering (Jan. 8): Traditionally, Kettering's gym hasn't been a very good place to watch the Wolfpack in action.

Unless you've come to watch the Wolves lose, of course.

There's scant reason to believe the spell will be broken this time, either. The Captains are a decent ball club, boasting the likes of Bob Hein, Greg Yates, Dave Meyer, Ralph Gates and Kevin Scott. They were good enough to ace the Waterford Mott Christmas Tournament last month.

The Wolfpack, meanwhile, has come a long way from the Davison. But not far enough to achieve a Clarkston rarity—a win at Waterford Kettering. Captains by Five.

Club notes

World War I Veterans and Auxilians of the Clinton Valley Barracks were not forgotten this Christmas season as they met at the Springfield Township Hall Dec. 12.

Dinner was at noon at tables decorated with garlands of evergreens and candy-stuffed stockings donated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Small bags of fruit were distributed to everyone. Star Christmas tree ornaments and miniature stockings were gifts of interested guests.

Lap robes for veterans in nursing homes were displayed. An exchange of cards and good wishes followed the auxiliary meeting and barracks report.

First Federal plans expansion

By Kathy Greenfield

The intended merger between First Federal Savings & Loan of Oakland and Surety Federal Savings & Loan of Southfield means more banking locations could be available to local customers.

The completion of the transaction is expected to take about seven more weeks for the required approval of federal regulatory agencies, said James Clarkson, president and chairman of the board of First Federal.

"It (the merger) makes us a stronger association, plus moves us from 169th to 130th in the nation," Clarkson said, adding there are about 5,000 savings and loan associations nationwide.

The consolidation agreement is to add $150 million to First Federal's assets and total in excess of $750 million at the conclusion of the transaction.

There are seven Surety offices—in Southfield, Detroit, East Detroit, Plymouth, Rochester and Warren. When added to the First Federal offices located in Oakland, Macomb, Lapeer, Sanilac and St. Clair counties, the total locations will be 37. The addition of Wayne County will make it a six-county association.

The Clarkston office of First Federal is located at 5799 M-15, Independence Township, adjacent to the Clarkston Professional Plaza.

For Surety, the merger means more services to its customers including the addition of automatic tellers.

"They're (Surety) a good association. That's what makes it news—they're not in financial trouble," Clarkson said, explaining that many mergers are made because of that reason. "They have seven offices and in today's competitive market, it's hard for them to compete with larger associations."

Owner Tom North and employee Jack Parker (left) stand ready to hand out more treasure hunt clues at The Pop Man in Waterford. Piecing together the cryptic clues and finding the "treasure" will net some clever customer a $300 gift certificate.

Treasure awaits shop patrons

The clues read like the obscure passages of an old pirate adventure.

"In the summer of 1869, Mr. Horton built me tall. Southeast lies the treasure today—go ahead, give it your all."

"Clinton and Huron, Shiawassee and Thread. The treasure is east—go on, use your head."

The booty? Not a chest full of diamonds, rubies, gold or pieces of eight. It's a $300 gift certificate from Danny Paris Appliance in Waterford Township.

And the masterminds behind the merry treasure hunt stretching across Waterford, Independence and books before you could win. It's surprising how little people know about local history."

Response to the contest was enthusiastic as treasure hunters began taking crash history courses, prowling through libraries and cemeteries in search of the hidden object.

When a clever treasure hunter found the porcelain figurine and collected his canoe, the Norths decided to hold another treasure hunt with a color TV as a prize. The current hunt for the $300 gift certificate is their third treasure hunt.

"My wife writes most of the clues, and since then has gotten to be a pretty good authority on local history," Tom says.

Tom is mum on what the object of the current search is, saying only that it's hidden somewhere in Independence, Springfield or Waterford townships. The exact location and what is hidden in concealed in the clues, he says.

Recent snowfalls won't hide the mysterious object from view, he adds. "We thought about that ahead of time—the object is placed in such a manner that the snow shouldn't cover it."

New clues are given out at The Pop Man every Tuesday and Friday as customers walk in or drive through the store on 4546 Dixie Highway, picking up their pop, beer, wine, milk and party goods.

"The Oakland County Historical Society people have enjoyed this—they say they've never gotten so many calls," Tom chuckles.

Doing business

Springfield townships these days are Tom and Sandra North, owners of The Pop Man in Waterford.

"We were trying to come up with some way, other than a raffle, to stir up interest and increase traffic," says Tom. "We thought this would be interesting."

It was in July that Tom and his wife began their first treasure hunt contest, offering a prize of 16-foot canoe.

Clues were given out twice a week, all of them involving local history. The object of the search turned out to be a porcelain turtle, hidden at an old Waterford Township cemetery.

"We wanted something a little different," Tom recalls. "Something where you'd have to read a few

Importance of pets bears scrutiny

How do you feel about your dog?
How have your children related with a dog or cat?
What childhood memories can you recall about some special pet?

Have you grieved over a lost pet?
Understanding and improving the role of animals in society is the purpose of the Center for the Interaction of Animals at the University of Pennsylvania.

Established in 1977, the Center has been funded by foundation grants, the United States Department of Health Education and Welfare and the university.

The center has developed in three major areas: research programs to better understand and utilize the bond between animals and people; clinical services for owner clients; and programs to expand curriculum for veterinary students and programs for the community.

Dr. Aaron Katcher and Dr. Erika Friedman have shown that animal owners have a significantly higher survivorship after a heart attack. This effect is independent of other support systems available to the patient.

It is apparent that stroking a dog has a marked positive effect on blood pressure. Similar lowering effects occur while watching a fish tank!

Not all interactions between dogs and people are beneficial, and this is being studied by Dr. Victoria Voith and Dr. Alan Beck. They are investigating families with dogs that bite.

Basic research includes investigations on play behavior in animals, and Dr. Barbara Jones is studying the role of the horse in the lives of young people.

Projects are going forth evaluating the health of senior citizens relative to pet ownerships, and the use of dogs in the therapy of disturbed youngsters.

The animal behavior clinic is designed to diagnose and treat animals with behavior problems.

Voith, who is a behaviorist, works with the family and the animal to establish a mode of treatment.

The clinic deals with 70 percent dogs, 30 percent cats. Aggression is the number one problem, then soiling, and destructive problems.

The veterinary school offers two courses—one on the theory of behavior and the other teaches applied animal behavior and behavior modification.

The university feels animal relationships are important enough to be worthy of the combined skills and experience of the university community.

Animals are a vital part of our lives. They are a presence at home, play and work.

6495 Clarkston-Orion
625-2212

Winter hours: Monday through Thursday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; closed Friday and Sunday.

Pre-School Story Time meets Tuesday, Jan. 12, at 4:30 p.m. and Wednesday, Jan. 13, at 11 a.m. Films planned are "Tasting" and "Peter's Chair," about a little boy who has trouble accepting his new baby sister.

After-School Movie Hour is scheduled Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 4:30 p.m. The film planned is "Seven Wishes of a Rich Kid," in which a video fairy godmother warns a rich kid that money alone isn't enough. Two short films are "Magoo's Puddle Jumper" and "Conrad, Josie and the Zoomerang."

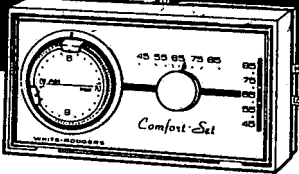

Three new books for mystery lovers have been added to the shelves—"The Valkyrie Project" by Michael Kilian, "Double Jeopardy" by Michael Underwood and "Rockabye" by Laird Koenig.

Ellen Conford has written a new junior book, "The Revenge of the Incredible Dr. Rancid and his youthful assistant, Jeffrey."

Two new junior easy books added to the collection are: Theo LeSieg's "Maybe You Should Fly a Jet" and "Babar and the Ghost" by Laurent de Brunhoff.

Independence Township Fire Department
Information for Firefighter Candidates

Firefighters have a tough job. Firefighting is hard, dirty work. Claims list it the most dangerous job in the U.S. but the job is rewarding. You can see first hand, what you have accomplished. And a lot of people are grateful for what you do.

If you decide to apply for membership on the Independence Township Fire Department, you'll be applying for membership on one of the best departments of its type in Michigan. Although you are applying for volunteer-on call status with the department you'll be trained as a professional and work as a professional firefighter.

REQUIREMENTS:
In order to become an Independence Firefighter you must be 18 years of age or older. You must be able to pass a complete physical examination (paid for by the fire department). You must have lived within Independence Township for a minimum of one year and be a resident now.

As a probationary firefighter you'll spend one year under the careful scrutiny of your fellow firefighters. You will be required to make your quota of fire calls (60% of all calls that your work hours allow) and at least two drills per month. You will also be expected to complete the required 60 hour Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care Course as well as the State of Michigan 66 Hour Basic Firefighter Training Course within your first year with Independence Township Fire Department. At the end of your year as a probationary firefighter, departmental members will judge you on the basis of your performance for regular membership.

BENEFITS:
The Independence Township Fire Department is made up of full time and paid on call personnel. This means that you as a paid on call firefighter will at the end of your first six months with the fire department, receive $5.00 per hour for fire and medical calls and authorized work details. You will also at the same time receive $5.00 per training or drill that you are required to attend. As an Independence Township Firefighter you will be covered with Volunteer Firemens Accident Insurance and Workmens Compensation in the event of injury to you while on duty.

If firefighting sounds like the kind of work you'd like to do, then the Independence Township Fire Department is the place to do it. Pick up an application at fire headquarters located at 3 East Church Street in Clarkston between 9:00 and 5:00 pm.

We hope you'll think about it. If you have time to participate in our service we can use your help.

Frank G. Ronk, Fire Chief,
Independence Township Fire Department

CHS builders raise another roof

From interior to exterior to the roof, activity abounds at the Clarkston High School building trades house on Goldfinch Lane in Independence Township. This latest house is a little smaller than some of the previous homes built by CHS students.

Dave McGeary takes care to securely nail wall ties in preparation for the next row of bricks.

'Mo' and crew: Putting it all together

His students call him "Mo."
A former Clarkston High School teacher, he's now an independent builder and head of the CHS building trades program.

His real name is Dick Moscovic, an Independence Township resident currently busy helping his students raise the fourth roof in the CHS building trades program's four-year history.

"It (the nickname) is something that goes all the way back to when I was a kid in grade school in Pennsylvania," he says. "The other teachers used to call me that, and I guess the kids picked it up."

Moscovic himself bought the last home constructed by his students on Waldon Road in Independence Township. Work on the current project began in September, and if all goes according to plan the new house will be ready for occupancy in June, he says.

"It's a little smaller than the one we built last year," Moscovic says. "About 1,850 feet."

That fact combined with the soft housing market should put the new house's price under $90,000—less than the two built previously.

Trials, tribulations of winter hibernations

I WAS THINKING the other day as I was looking out at the cold winter rain that bears have the right idea. As I understand it, in the fall they stoke up on a few bushels of pine needles topped off with a couple of quarts of fermented berries and then, muttering half-remembered bits of ursine versions of old sea chanteys, stagger off to a warm cave.

Here they find some soft, warm sand, burp contentedly a few times, and drift off to treat the rigors of winter with somnolent ignorance.

The idea beckons of missing the Michigan winter and waking up to a Walt Disney "Song of the South" type spring with bluebirds singing gayly and the world a burgeoning green.

Of course there could be some problems.

There are conditions under which it is difficult to remember exactly what happened the night before. Under comparable circumstances, it must be pretty grim trying to recall events of the fall before.

If in the morning after one's mouth tastes like a fur-lined glove, I wonder if the bear starts the spring after by repeatedly pushing his tongue against the roof of his mouth and then out.

The taste left in one's mouth by pine needles and fermented berries consumed months earlier must give the bear a craving for about 55 gallons of Scope.

The problem presented to bears who wake up in the wrong cave would be augmented by the fact young bears are born when old bears are hibernating.

I understand bears usually have twins, so the poor bear wakes up with his stomach trying to digest the remains of a compost heap and finds along side of him not only a female bear he vaguely remembers meeting last fall, but two totally unplanned offspring.

Now he must placate the poor sobbing female bear who is weeping over her ruined life, while wishing his stomach and head would stop behaving like they were involved in a personal vendetta.

He will probably be groggily patting the female bear on the shoulder, muttering, "There, there honey. Everything is going to be just fine," frantically trying to remember her first name. When who is going to lumber into the cave—Mrs. Bear.

So the image of the bear happily spending the winter in the arms of Morpheus, blissfully unaware of snow tires and fuel bills, awakening with the rest of nature in the spring, is replaced with the thought of coping simultaneously with a belligerent headache, a non-conforming stomach that has been churning pine needles and resents it, a semi-hysterical girlfriend, two hitherto unknown offspring and a wife who is probably not going to see the underlying humor in the situation.

Cold weather. Where is thy sting?

Motocross puts brake on 10-speeds

Remember learning to ride your first coaster-brake two-wheeler sans training wheels?

Remember mastering the art of maneuvering the heavy frame supported by bulbous tires, protected by fenders?

The seats were big and wide, large enough for you and a friend; and the handlebars, they angled off to the side just the right size for a driver with arms the width of King Kong.

It had but one speed, slow and difficult. The pedals were big and wide—they had to be, because speeds were only reached by standing up and using your full weight to pedal.

Today, those bikes have been replaced by the light-weight motocross bikes, with knobby tires and smaller seats. But, unlike the 10-speeds of the '70s where sprockets and gears replaced the drudgery of a single speed, the old "coaster-brake" theory's been revived.

In motocross, daring young lads and lasses use a single speed to pedal forward and a slap backwards to brake the bike. They drive over mounds of earth, make air-jumps and traverse paths all at great speed. The bike's light-weight Molybdenum Aluminium frame eliminates the effort needed in traditional pedaling.

The 10-speed's on the way out and motocross isn't so new anymore, according to Cecil Warden, owner of Warden Cycle Sales on Dixie Highway in Waterford Township.

"First it was the 10-speeds that were the thing to have, and out in California they found they could not ride them on the beach, the tires were too thin to go through the sand," Cecil said.

"So, two guys got together and invented the balloon-tire, 10-speed bike; they call them beach bikes."

The beach bike is not marketed in the midwest, and until they catch on, motocross will remain popular, he said.

Technology.

It's stuck a stick in the spoke of the heavy-frame, bulbous-tire bike.

CHS builders

There's activity these days on Goldfinch Lane in Independence Township. Students in Dick Moscovic's Clarkston High School building trades class are putting together the fourth house in the program's history and hope to have it finished and ready for sale when the school year ends in June. Here, Tom Muhleck mixes mortar for some of the brick work—there are more pictures from the site in this week's Clarkston News MAGAZINE.

Abe's Earth Story

-Drawing by Abe Savas

The assignment: Write a story that will make teacher Pat Andrus say, "That's impossible!"

The second grade reading group had just read a story called "The King Who Was Polite" about a girl who sets out into the world to make her fortune. She must get the polite king to say, "That's impossible." She has three tries, and if she succeeds, a bag of gold is hers. If she fails, she loses her head. She succeeds.

From there, the assignment was made and Abe Savas, a first-grader in the reading group, was successful.

"Of course I said, 'That's impossible!' It's not only impossible, but incredible," says Andrus about her reaction.

Abe is the son of Sam and Theodora Savas of Springfield Township.

ABE'S EARTH STORY By Abe Savas

I was lost.

A monster came up to me. I was so scared, I ran 15 times around the world!

Then I heard a big THUMP. The world cracked!

There was chicken soup inside the world. I ate it up. When it was gone, I was so skinny I could fit through a door when it was closed.

I looked out the crack in the world. I was on Mars. Little did I know that it was plastic. I stepped out. It cracked!

Out came chicken soup again. Oh, no! Now I had to eat that. But I did.

I was so skinny, I was not there.

The End

"The Friendly Ones" can help you LOWER YOUR TAXES and PROTECT YOUR FUTURE with our new

I.R.A. PLUS ACCOUNT

It's our new retirement plan for all working people.

At last — starting January 1, 1982 — ALL wage earners may enjoy the advantages of establishing your own tax-sheltered retirement plan — even if you already have a pension plan where you work. It's the Individual Retirement Account (I.R.A.), from First Federal of Oakland.

And now, when you open a new "I.R.A. PLUS" (or Keogh) time deposit account for just $100.00 or more here's what you'll receive:

INSURANCE AT NO COST TO YOU — UP TO $250,000. You'll receive accidental death and dismemberment insurance up to your account balance — up to a maximum of $250,000! — underwritten by the Hartford Insurance Group. It's a gift that keeps growing every single day, because the more you save (and the more interest that accumulates), the more it's worth!* Plus . . .

FREE CHECKING ACCOUNT. You'll receive a FREE "Checking Account That Pays Interest" from First Federal of Oakland. Every cent you keep in this account will earn interest — compounded continuously. And WE'LL PAY ALL THE MONTHLY SERVICE CHARGES for the first six months no matter how many checks you write, with NO MINIMUM BALANCE requirement. Plus . . . when you keep $300 or more in your checking account you'll receive FREE MEMBERSHIP in our popular "Friendly One Savers Club." That means merchant discounts, travel savings, no-charge travelers checks and more — FREE! Plus . . .

FREE "FRIENDLY ONE" 24-HOUR CONVENIENCE CARD. You'll be able to enjoy financial convenience any hour of the day or night at more than 25 "Friendly One" 24-Hour Automatic Teller Machine locations throughout the area. Make deposits, withdrawals, payments, receive cash and more — whenever you want! Plus . . .

PERIODIC DEPOSIT PLAN. Make I.R.A. deposits for as much or little as you want, whenever you want. Weekly, monthly, quarterly, whenever. We even have a payroll deduction plan, too! Plus . . .

TAX-FREE SAVINGS. Individuals can deposit up to $2,000 each year ($2,250 if you have a non-working spouse) into an I.R.A. and deduct those deposits from your gross income on your current year's tax return. All the money you save in your I.R.A., plus all the interest that accumulates, is tax-free until withdrawn! Plus . . .

THE START OF A FINANCIALLY SECURE RETIREMENT. When you add regularly to your I.R.A. your tax-deferred savings and interest will keep growing until you retire. If, for example, you could put away $2,000 at the start of each year in your tax-sheltered I.R.A. and it earned 12% per annum, compounded daily, you'd have over $180,000 accumulated in just 20 years. After 30 years, you'd have a $650,000 retirement nest egg. And — believe it or not! — you'd be a millionaire in less than 35 years! Plus . . .

FUNDS INSURED TO $100,000. Your I.R.A. savings are insured to $100,000 by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U.S. government.

So get all the benefits of our new "I.R.A. PLUS" account. It's a big tax break now that adds up to a financially secure retirement . . . PLUS A WHOLE LOT MORE! Sign up now!
