Remedy: Special meeting

Residents blast liquor license quest

By Marilyn Trumper

Armed with a 67-signature petition opposing a liquor license for La Piazza, a standing-room-only crowd filled Independence Township Hall April 20.

The petition appealed to the board to deny Allie Assad's application for a Class C license to sell beer and wine at his recently approved sit-down restaurant in the shopping strip at the Clarkston-Orion and Eston road junction. The petition cited dangerous levels of traffic and business congestion, and Sunnybeach subdivison residents stressed the area is dominated by single-family zoning.

The board listened to residents' pros and consbut made no decision, opting instead to invite all parties who have expressed interest in liquor licenses to a special May meeting.

Several people at last week's meeting said granting the liquor license to La Piazza would cause undue hardship to property owners and their children because of the added traffic.

"I think the petition speaks for itself," said Jesse Quigley of Sunnybeach Drive.

His concerns were echoed by John J. Tisch of Lakeview Drive.

"The closest businesses to us with liquor licenses are Pine Knob and the Clarkston Golf Course. Richardson's (Farm Dairy) and Harry's Fruit Basket already sell beer and wine," Tisch said.

"Allowing drinking on the premises will only create a greater problem. And, Mr. Assad might well plan to run a perfectly legitimate operation. But what if he's successful, moves out, and another guy moves in. He says, 'Oh, you didn't run this right, you needed bands.' And he puts in bands. The next guy comes along and says, 'Oh, you didn't run this right.' And he puts in dancing girls.

"What do we have to protect ourselves against this?" Tisch demanded."I realize Mr. Assad is trying to protect his business, but we have our homes to protect."

In mid-April, Assad received a variance from the zoning board of appeals to renovate his former carryout pizza shop into a sit-down restaurant for 45 people, specializng in Italian cuisine. From the start, Assad has made it clear he intends to offer beer and wine to patrons in the event the township approves his application for a liquor license.

Repeatedly Assad stressed the "family" restaurant theme he intends to cultivate.

"I don't want a shot and a beer place. I have room for a 45-foot bar if I wanted to do that," he said. "We don't want that kind of atmosphere.

"This establishment is my livelihood and I'm going to run it the best way I know how," Assad said. "We're going to have a Class A family restaurant."

But, he admitted, no guarantees could be given on the restaurant's future in the event it changed hands.

Paul Sanderson, president of the Heather Lake Homeowners' Association, applauded issuing the liquor license for La Piazza.

"As long as it's a family-style restaurant and not turned into a bar, I see no objection," he said. "We eat out a lot," said Paul Tews of Eston Road. "I'd enjoy a beer or wine with my dinner." Assad's is one of two recent bids for the township's four available liquor licenses. Three became available following the latest allocation from the 1980 Census. The fourth became available when the Deer Lake Inn forfeited its license, according to township Clerk Christopher Rose.

The other applicants are Paul and Jean Clements, co-owners of Waterford Hill Courts Inc., on Dixie Highway.

Clements proposes squaring off the building and establishing a small beer and wine bar to serve thirsty patrons.

Over the past few years, Independence Township has received nine inquiries from persons interested in obtaining liquor licenses, Rose said.

Some board members expressed concern that the racquet club's plan involved a relatively small area and questioned the economic feasibility of the plan. Others looked at Assad's locale and pointed out that the site is nonconforming, was not zoned for a sitdown restaurant, and questioned the intensity in use coupled with the sale of liquor.

Board members made no decision, opting instead to call a special meeting Monday, May 10, and to invite all nine liquor license applicants to make their pitches.

The meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. at Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main, Clarkston.

Runners beware—springtime can be dangerous

By Kathy Greenfield

Dr. James O'Neill is worried about what he calls "a potentially very, very dangerous situation" for joggers who can make fatal mistakes during springtime runs.

The Clarkston pediatrician bases his concerns on three items: the number of joggers he's seen in the area not dressed for the weather, Boston Marathon winner Alberto Salazar whose body temperature fell to 88 degrees after the race, and the recent death of a 24-year-old jogger in Independence Oaks, although O'Neill says he does not know the official cause of his death.

Shorts and T-shirts are simply not adequate dress for running in temperatures below 70 degrees, O'Neill says.

"You can get hypothermia, the loss of body temperature, essentially below normal, below 96 degrees you can be in deep trouble," he says. "Jogging can be very healthy, but there are some rules and guidelines they ought to follow." and physical exercise. You're not in competition with anybody but yourself," he says.

Among O'Neill's suggestions for runners are the following:

•Layer dress. "They should have a Windbreaker or jogging suit with a hood on it so when they slow down they can put the hood up."

•Do not run on cement or asphalt. Injuries can result to the back and tendons, he says, especially the older you get.

•Don't run in shorts and T-shirts unless the temperature is above 70 degrees. "And even then if there's wind or in the chill of the evening, I would be worried. In 50-degree weather with a low wind and you're running fast and you have little fat, especially with a man, you can lose (body) heat fast."

•Do stretching exercises before and after running. "People can't stop running, jump into a cold tub or a real hot tub and then guzzle beer. You might blow yourself away."

•Drink adequate fluids. O'Neill suggests at least eight ounces of orange juice, water "or even something like milk where you have protein in it" before running. Fluid intake after running is important, too, but alcoholic beverages should be avoided both before and after, he adds.

here and the second and •Don't run in races without adequate training. "Most important of all, they should not run in a (race) that they can't run leisurely twice that distance," he says. For long-distance runners, training should include twice the race distance at a leisurely pace (walking and running) two or three times before the event, and for marathoners their schedules should include running long distances at least three times a week "practically year round."

O'Neill also notes that the track season is here for young runners on Clarkston schools teams. He says the coaches are doing an excellent job, and calls the emphasis on physical training and information on proper nutrition "really fantastic." "Everything that I see is absolutely first-rate," he says.

Partial racing permit forces return check-up

By Marilyn Trumper

When the Waterford Hills Road Racing Association sought approval of their summer race schedule and licensing, the group and neighboring residents met with a sudden twist of events.

Instead of giving carte blanche OK, the Independence Township Board granted a temporary license through July 6. And residents of Pelton Heights and Woodhull Lake subdivisions, who've been asking the township for help with relief, found they are responsible to enforce a 1964 consent judgment regulating race dates and sound levels at the track.

Shocked faces and a scattering of "you've got to be kidding me" went through township hall April 20 as Independence attorney Gerald Fisher informed the residents of their legal position.

"The provisions of this private agreement must be enforced by the people who live there and entered into the agreement," Fisher said. "It is a private lawsuit and, therefore, must be privately enforced. The township can monitor activities there with its

•Trash presents problem

By Marilyn Trumper

"Yes sir officer, I confess. I put that letter under that pile of garbage."—Arlo Guthrie in "Alice's Restaurant."

Not even church property is safe from illegal dumping.

For years Colombiere Retreat-Conference Center on Big Lake Road, Springfield Township, has been victim to wanton dumping, with parts of its 400 acres covered in old matresses, appliances and garbage, according to the Rev. Frank McGough, assistant director of building and grounds maintenance. Isolated, the pine-covered acreage is a prime target for lawbreakers who venture onto the property to deposit refuse, or dump around its perimeters, bound by Farley, Foster and Big Lake roads.

It's the opinion of several township officials that the only recourse, other than apprehending dumpsters in the act, is to dig through the rubbish for an envelope bearing the name of the alleged lawbreaker. A simple phone call and threat to ticket often brings about a quick clean-up.

"The big problem is we don't know when they're doing it," McGough said. "They are far enough away from any building that we can't see them in the act." Officials at Colombiere have posted no-dumping equipment and be a witness, that isn't to say the township can't be of assistance.

"But, we can't enforce the consent for you," he said.

According to Supervisor James B. SMith, very few of the original 39 residents who were party to the consent judgment still live in the area.

Carol Rudd, neighbor to the track, cited the township ordinance regulating sound and fencing, and called for Independence to enforce the law to protect the health, safety and welfare of residents. Others offered repeat arguments criticizing loud noise, flying tires, fires and poor barriers.

The ordinance reads "...a guard rail, barrier or barricade shall be provided in order to separate the participants and nonparticipants, and shall be shown to be adequate for the protection of the public health, safety and welfare of nonparticipants."

In addition it reads "...the maximum intensity level of sound from the speed exhibition...shall not exceed...55 decibels measured from ...a residential district."

Jeffrey A. Heldt, attorney for the race track, questioned how the scheduled Mondays, listed as part of the association's summer racing schedule, were defined as "race" dates and how they violated the judgment which specifically restricts actual racing to weekends.

"We'll make every effort to prevent (track activity on Mondays) in '83, but now we depend on track rentals for revenue, revenue that pays professor Barnard (an audiologist hired to study track sound levels and make recommendations to ease noise).

The consent judgment restricts use of the track to two weekends in a four-week month and three weekends in a five-week month. In addition, drivers are allowed to test vehicles 50 percent of a week or two-and-one-half days.

The agreement also mandates all vehicles "...use mufflers as required by Michigan statutes for motor vehicles using public highways."

Trustee William Vandermark discouraged carte blanche denial of the application for licensing and proposed a temporary approval from now through July 6, excluding the proposed May 31 and July 5 Monday race dates.

In the interim, he said, the township should expect to see the association's report from the professor on ways to eliminate and ease noise.

Vandermark stressed he did not want to put a hardship on the racing association.

"This way, we allow them the use of the track but give the residents a break on the Mondays, and it allows us time to look at improvements."

After discussion, board members voted 4-2 to eliminate racing Mondays and approve licensing through July 6, with negotiations in the interim.

Trustee Daniel Travis, a life member of the Oakland County Sportsman's Club which houses the track, abstained.

And don't miss the ads—they'll be stockful of gift ideas for Mother's Day, coming up May 9. Officials at Colombiere have posted no-dumping signs and they ask those who spot violators to contact the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The center's three-man grounds crew spends the majority of their time on cutting, weeding, trimming and general maintenance, McGough said.

"Clean-up is almost impossible because we just don't have the money," he said.

Springfield Supervisor Collin Walls is sympathetic to the center's problems.

"Every rural township has areas that suffer from people dumping, but I don't know of any one area here that's worse than another.

"The problem is our ordinance is set up to ticket the property owners, and with a few exceptions it's not the property owners who are doing it," Walls said. In the past, the Davisburg Jaycees have sponsored a township-wide spring clean-up, paid for from the general fund, but with the closing of nearby Marlowe landfill the future of the clean-up hangs in limbo. Walls said. Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem's jammed docket, according to Richard Campbell, Independence Township attorney.

Since last November when the arcade opened for three days and was closed following township action, would-be arcade owner Robert Warrington has sought to open an arcade on M-15, south of Clarkston Village.

Warrington received mini-mall status from the zoning board but was unsuccessful in his bid to receive parking and setback variances needed to open his arcade doors. He is charging the township zoning ordinance is unconstitutional because it restricts arcades to enclosed malls, and the township has no malls.

Independence is arguing the township has not sought exclusion of malls, that mini-mall status was granted Warrington. In addition, the township board recently adopted an ordinance regulating arcades.

Warrington could not be reached to comment on the delay.

Run on permits

The momentum's rolling and it's picking up speed!

Independence Township experienced a run on building permits just after it announced a record low issuance for 1981.

Tuesday, April 20, six people applied for construction permits, three for home additions and three for new residential home construction, according to Kenneth Delbridge, director of building and planning.

"I really expected it would happen sooner," Delbridge said, noting the heavy snow at March's end that put the kibosh on residents' plans for spring construction.

Two weeks ago, the Southeast Michigan Council Governments ranked Independence Township of ninth in Oakland County for construction in 1981, when 38 building permits were issued.

Daylight Savings Time has become a way of life. But I remember when it was first introduced, and when it hit the ballot in Michigan. I voted against it.

Obviously I was in the minority, because voters approved falling back in winter and springing forward in summer. I guess there's a little farmer in most people-up with the birds, work until dusk, that sort of philosophy.

My major problem with fooling around with the time, losing and gaining sunlight hours, was the reaction of my young children. They stayed up later, got up at the same time in the morning and, invariably it seemed, came down with some sort of illness.

I realize that the seasons when the time switches take place are also during weather changes, and illnesses are more prevalent then.

But why tempt fate?

Now that years have passed and the kids are older, the illness problems have eased. But something has taken their place.

Sunday morning conversations after twirling clock dials go something like this:

"Mom, what time is it?"

"It's about 11:30."

"No, I mean what time is it REALLY?"

"It's REALLY 11:30. I fixed this clock. The others are wrong.'

"Oh, Mother!" (Translated: "You big dope!") "Then it's REALLY 10:30. I don't go by the time change until I have to go to school."

I knew I was right when I voted "no." At least my quiet protest in the voting booth gave me something to fall back on.

Or should I say spring forward on?

We welcome our readers' opinions. Letters to the Editor must be at The Clarkston News office by noon Friday to be considered for the following week's paper. Plotting panels

I was sure Tom Middleton would be a good school board member. Then I got a call from Jim Burnett, director of public relations for Michigan Milk Producers.

Burnett asked if I'd appear on a panel of media types at a statewide meeting of Dairy communicators of MMPA. How did milk producers. get my name? Tom Middleton, Oxford/Brandon dairy farmer!

This told me a little of the character of Tom, and I hope now we're even. Should he win election to the school board I'm sure there will be times he'll plot more panels.

Over 50 dairy communicators, dairy farmers or wives; who volunteer their time to speak out in behalf of dairying to media, etc., were in the Lansing motel banquet room.

We wondered right up front what farmers wanted us to talk about; after all, few townships in Oakland county have more than one farmer, and our newspapers certainly don't carry farm news.

That was just the point. These dairy communicators wanted to know how to get news in suburban newspapers.

We prepared by calling Cathy Snyder, editor of the Grand Blanc paper, Sue Rosiek, editor of Livonia Observer, and Dave Hohendorf, former editor and now business manager of the Spinal Column newspapers in Union Lake.

All made one unwelcome point. Chances are dairy farmers can't get news in suburban newspapers:

We have cut our 'news hole'. Hohendorf calls it a 'space crunch'. The only hope we gave the farmers was, write letters to the editor.

For over 25 years we've told club presidents, church groups, school related organizations, and others, "If you have something going on, let us know. We'll be there."

Taint so no more. And, we don't like it. We believe the only way a community newspaper can do its job is to be available to local news from every angle. It's frustrating and maddening to have to set

100th foster child into home

Dorothy Rice holds Douglas, she and her husband's 100th foster child, while husband Roy delicately grips Jennifer, number 99.

Guy Rice, 68, sits in a living room chair delicately holding a "bundle of love."

Jessica, 1 month old, whines and fusses and complains as he pats her pink-sweatered back. In retaliation for the lavish attention, she kicks her pink bootiecovered feet.

Guy's wife Dorothy, 59, laughs as she cuddles 1-month-old, black-curly-haired Douglas, the Rices' 100th foster child in their 12 years of service to Catholic Social Services of Oakland County.

Jessica is number 99.

"Sometimes the mother names them and sometimes we do," Dorothy said. "We've been through the alphabet twice, once for the girls and once for the boys.'

The Rices' yard fronts Waldon Road in Independence Township. The driveway's decorated with Big Wheels, plastic ponies and, off to the side, a swing set

The living room cabinet is covered with framed photographs of kids in every shape and size.

But they're not the faces of the 100 wards they've housed through the years.

"Those," laughs Dorothy, "are our grandchildren." And that's who the toys in the yard belong to, too, she says.

Having raised three children of their own and now enjoying seven grandchildren, it's babies, babies and more babies for the Rices.

'Sometimes when we get a baby, they go up for adoption right away. Other times we may keep them for 11 months," she says.

But there's no pain when the couple say goodbye after almost a year together.

"We realize when we take them we'll have to give them up," says Dorothy. "We just get ready for the next one. We've raised three of our own; we don't want to raise anymore."

The Rices have devoted 12 years to "...giving (babies) a good start in life," Dorothy says.

"And having them around, well, it's what keeps us young," says Guy.

Bikers can spin their wheels to benefit St. Jude-Children's Research Hospital on Saturday, May 15, when the Clarkston Eagles Auxiliary sponsors a Bike-A-Thon.

The one-and-one-half mile course is to wind through Lake Oakland Woods subdivison, across from the Clarkston Eagles Hall, 5640 Maybee, Independence Township.

Participants are to gather pledges for each mile they bike during the event which runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Registration is to take place at 9 a.m. at the Eagles Hall, said Lorraine Mayo, chairperson.

In case of rain, the Bike-A-Thon is to be held Saturday, May 22.

In addition to helping a worthy cause, there's a bonus for each child or adult with pledges of $25 and up or $75 and up. If the money is turned in within 10 days of the event, the $25 contributors are to receive a T-shirt from St. Jude and for $75 the rewards are a jacket and T-shirt.

Pledge sheets are available at the Eagles Hall. For more information, call 625-2845.

Seniors: Play ball

Seniors 55 years and up, this is your chance to play ball.

Seventy-eight-year-old Oliver Hubert is organizing the Independence Township Parks and Recreation senior citizens' softball team and he's looking to fill all positions. Plan on practice once a week with a game at least once a week.

And, whispers Hubert, the ballclub's looking for a sponsor.

For more information, phone Hubert at 625-4026.

Dust relief on way

There's some dusty road relief on the way for residents living on Big Lake, Ember and Hillsboro roads in Springfield Township, as the board unanimously entered into the Tri-party Road Agreement for the '82 year.

The three road approaches are slated for paving, with the township paying one-third of the cost, or $11,700, and the Oakland County Road Commission and Oakland County Board of Commission picking up the balance.

When it comes to doctors, what I want is revenge, and I'm not ashamed to admit it. I don't like to get mad, because anger messes up my good times, but I do like to get even. I recently did something dumb at the car wash that I want to do in a doctor's examination room.

Before I went to the car wash, I showed up five minutes early for a 1 p.m. appointment at the Eye Institute. I finally saw a doctor's assistant at 2:15. I didn't see a doctor until 2:45. Why do doctors think their time is more valuable than their patient's time?

innocence by hanging the guilt on their hired help. When criticized for making 2 p.m. appointments with 15 different patients, they say they're sorry but they didn't do it, their receptionist did. That brand of baloney reminds me of something J.P. McCarthy, my favorite disc jockey, proclaimed the other morning.

McCarthy righteously named enterpreneur Mark McCormack "loser of the day" because he is committing the terrible sacrilege of marketing Pope John Paul II's coming visit to London, selling papal T-shirts and other holy souvenirs for filthy lucre. But McCormack is simply doing the job he was hired to do for the pope, the same way he does it for Muhammad Ali and Arnold Palmer. The loser is Pope John for allowing McCormack to be hired. And the loser in the over-booked doctor's office isn't the woman who makes the appointments, it's the doctor who hired her. What the doctor loses is the love of weary-from-waiting patients, many of whom are loathe to complain to the person holding the scapel over their good health. And the only thing the doctor receives to compensate for that terrible loss of affection is enough money to buy every drugstore within 1800 miles of his prescriptions. Doctors who keep patients waiting endlessly usually use the "emergency" excuse. They say they often can't keep an appointment with one patient because another patient needs them more. The her best with the first the second second second her bury answer, of course, is that if these emergencies occur so regularly, the doctors should regularly leave gaps for them in their schedules. If, God forbid, a gap should ever remain unfilled, without a shivering patient waiting in every examination cubicle, the despondent doctor could spend his idle time killing himself for neglecting his investments.

While waiting until 2:15 for my 1 p.m. appointment with the eye doctor, I kept thinking about the work I could have been doing in my office if the doctor hadn't invited me to his office 75 minutes before he could see me. And I kept wondering what I could do to get even with him. I didn't think of the proper revenge until later when, at Paul's Car Wash, I left my car at the first cleaning station and strolled to the end of the wash line. Soon a wash employe was running around frantically, questioning people. He wanted to know who'd taken the keys out of the silver Oldsmobile. It was blocking the line and stalling profits. Who was the big dummy who had absent-mindedly locked his car and walked away with the keys in his pocket?-

This is a sad song that I've wailed several times before. And, each time I rap doctors for being inconsiderate and arrogant, I hear from dozens of patients who say amen, amen, jab the thoughtless jerks again. But I also hear from a few patients, and doctors, who insist that not all doctors over-book appointments to make certain that no moment passes unmilked of money.

That is true. So I hereby qualify today's remarks to except those doctors who don't waste their patients' time in the name of greed. I only wish those innocent doctors advertised in the Yellow Pages. Something like: "Free Office Calls for All Patients Required to Wait More Than 20 Minutes Beyond Appointment Time." Incredibly, some doctors try to establish personal Mel I was plugging the production line and costing management money.

Now all I have to do is make an appointment for my eye doctor to examine my headlights. I'll park the Olds in front of his eye charts and eat the keys.

Springfield debates game law

By Marilyn Trumper

Eight months after the issue first surfaced and the flag went up for a regulating law, the Springfield Township Board continues to banter about a proposed arcade ordinance.

Key in debate that splits the five-member board is whether video games should be licensed on an individual basis or whether shops with one or two machines should be exempt.

Treasurer Patricia Kramer repeatedly favored the exemption, calling instead for licensing of shops with three or more video games.

Trustee William Whitley remains steadfast that all machines should be licensed for fail-safe coverage.

"We have the opportunity to face the problem before it begins where other communities deal with the problems later as they arise," Whitley argued. "I think we need a mechanism in place to deal with the problems when they arise. It becomes very difficult later."

Trustee Glen Vermilye echoed Whitley saying, "I think that whether you have one or 50, you've got to have a license."

Currently Springfield has no established arcades, but does house a number of businesses with one or two video games.

the past favoring licensing of individual machines, began to waiver looking for a compromise at the April 14 meeting.

"In retrospect it seems a reasonable compromise," he said, of the proposed two-machine exemption. "I don't see any major problems arising from this."

After discussion, board members voted 3-2 to amend the proposed ordinance exempting one or two machines from regulations. Walls, Kramer and Clerk J. Calvin Walters voted "yes," trustees William K. Whitley and Glen J. Vermilye voted "no."

The proposed ordinance, following revamping by the township attorney, is slated to come before the board at the next meeting to begin at 8 p.m. on May 12 at Springfield Township Hall, 650 Broadway, Davisburg.

The proposed law, less restrictive than neighboring Independence Township's and Clarkston Village's, will give the board authority to review each arcade petition on an individual basis.

The law would restrict development of arcades to business zones, like downtown Davisburg, an area that serves the immediate community and less transient highway patrons, Walters said.

Repairs on way

Last year vandals caused in excess of $6,000 worth of damage to a vacant farmhouse owned by Independence Township adjacent to Clintonwood Park. Spring finds government officials weighing the feasibility of repairs and how to prevent repeat attacks

The Clarkston (Mich.) News Wed., April 28, 1982 9

The abandoned building has been a point of discussion among the board, with some favoring housing the parks and recreation department within its walls. Others propose using the house for senior citizens' crafts while still others propose a caretaker live there to oversee all township operations in the park.

According to Clerk Christopher Rose, Independence purchased the property in 1980 for part of the Clintonwood Park acreage off Clarkston-Orion Road. The house sits behind the senior citizens' building.

Abandoned and vacant, the farmhouse has been the target of attacks, with vandals smashing every window, pushing two-by-fours through walls and destroying outside siding, Rose said.

At the April 20 meeting, board members voted to have the insurance company proceed with repairs to the house, estimated to total $6,800.

2-week extension Salem Gravel shutdown reprieve

By Marilyn Trumper

Salem Gravel Pit, which would have shut down last Monday had its owners failed to post a $250,000 cash bond or letter of credit, has received an 11thhour reprieve.

At the April 20 Independence Township Board meeting, gravel pit management won a bid to continue negotiations for an extension to mine the 35-year-old site. The vote was 5-2 granting the twoweek extension to negotiate reclamation of the 200-acre site on Oak Hill Road, with the stipulation a $250,000 bond be posted in addition to a $100,000 construction bond that already exists.

reasonably assure that," McFadden told the board. "I'm asking your forebearance to allow me to sit with your people and resolve the problem.'

Salem Gravel is bound by a 1977 consent judgment that mandates the pit close April 26, with one year thereafter to make reclamations as outlined in the court-sanctioned agreement.

For the past two years, management has sought a five-year extension to mine the site, blaming the economic climate for poor sales, and citing discovery of new reserves.

Two weeks ago the township board, angered by what members saw as noncompliance with specific reclamation ordered in the judgment, demanded a period one day. I think you should just sit on it until that you do not want to post bond," Vandermark said

Trustee Larence Kozma cast the second dissenting vote.

For the past several weeks Independence Township has sought to implement a 6-cents-a-ton tax on outbond gravel; a fence around the site; and the key $250,000 cash bond or letter of credit.

Blount Inc. has until May 10 to come to agreement with Independence Township. If no progress has been made operations will shut down then, according to Clerk Christopher Rose.

Salem Gravel is not prohibited from operating during the two-week extension, and is to continue mining through May 10.

m Kaul selected CHS JV coac

By Kathy Greenfield

Tim Kaul was selected Clarkston High School Junior Varsity coach from a field of four candidates Friday

Kaul, 35, is a mathematics teacher at Sashabaw Junior High School. He coached the ninth-grade basketball team at SJHS seven years and served as the JV coach at Avondale High School last year, posting a 12-7 record overall and winning the top spot in Avondale's JV league competition with a 5-1 record.

"I feel good about it, naturally, because I wanted the job," Kaul said Monday. "It's no reflection an anything at Avondale, because I enjoyed the experience out there.

"But when the job opened in Clarkston, Clarkston's my home, the community that I live in, and I felt I would feel very comfortable working with (CHS Varsity Basketball Coach) Dan Fife, so I decided to apply and was very pleased I was granted the opportunity to come back and coach.

"We're going to have a real good group to work with, that was something I took under consideration, he added. "They're a real class group of too,' kids-they're good athletes and they're a good group of young men.'

An Oakland University, Rochester, graduate, Kaul has been employed by the Clarkston school district 13 years. He taught sixth grade at North Sashabaw Elementary School four years before joining the staff at SJHS.

Kaul was selected for the position by Clarkston schools Athletic Director Paul Tungate and Fife, the former SJHS ninth-grade basketball coach who was named CHS varsity coach May 31.

"Dan Fife and myself handled all the interviews for JV and made the decision. Our feeling is the head coach for varsity really makes the choice, so Dan made the choice and I sat in on the interviews," said Tungate. "I think (Kaul) will do a good job. He's coached before and he's proven himself, so I'm very confident."

While the varsity and JV teams do not practice or play basketball together, the coaches of the two teams coordinate the types of plays to teach the teams, Fife said, and he's looking forward to working with Kaul.

"I've known (Kaul) for quite a while. I know he loves basketball and loves working with kids," Fife said. "I'm excited for him and I'm happy for him."

All the candidates for the JV post were good, Fife added, and he plans to try to involve them in the team training programs.

Wrestling champ plays to win

By Kathy Greenfield

Jerry Lawrence assumes the stance he takes right before a wrestling match begins. At first he grins, but then his expression becomes far more serious. "I'm going to win," says the freckle-faced 10-year-old as he explains what he thinks about before a match.

And win he does. Jerry is the proud owner of a "gold" medal from the recent state meet of the Clarkston Wolves Wrestling Club, a private wrestling club formed two years ago by a group of parents.

The club, open to 5- to 14-year-olds, meets twice a week from January through April at Sashabaw Junior High School. Head coach Craig DeLlowe is in charge of the 40 members. The state meet is the culmination of the season. Sponsored by the Southeastern Michigan Age Group Wrestling Association, the meet was held April 3.

Jerry has participated in wrestling meets four years, but his knowledge of the sport goes way back, says his mother Sandy Lawrence.

The Lawrences, who live on Waldon Road in Independence Township, have made wrestling a family event, dating back to the time Jerry's 16-year-old brother Jeff became involved in wrestling clubs.

Sandy remembers going to Jeff's meets when Jerry was 2 weeks old, and as his older brother continued to participate, Jerry was there watching.

Al Lawrence has coached his sons in the sport, and the family rarely misses an event when either of the boys participates. Jeff is now a member of the Clarkston High School wrestling team.

"He's doing much better than I am," notes Jeff about his younger brother, adding that Jerry has already placed 27 times in wrestling meets, and 19 of those are gold medals for first-place wins.

Jerry, a fourth-grader at Pine Knob Elementary School, says there's a reason why he wins.

"Because I try hard in wrestling," he explains.

In the state meet, Jerry was expecting to take second place, because it was his first year in the 9- to 10-year-old division. During the meet, he was 9, having recently celebrated his 10th birthday.

Jerry wasn't aware he'd won first place in his age group until his name was announced, but he remembers his reaction.

"I just walked out there and jumped up in the air," says the 74-pounder.

Of the 22 members of the Clarkston wrestling club who participated in the state meet, four others brought home medals-Jayson Valenzuela took a third, at 62 pounds, 11- and 12-year-olds; Jayson Campbell took a fourth, at 100 pounds, 9- and 10-year-olds; Josh Bennett took a third, at 74 pounds, 8 and under; and Jim Allen took at fourth, at 53 pounds, 9- and 10-year-olds.

Other boys participating in the state meet were: 8 and under-Ruben De Los Rios and Brian Parsons; 9 and 10-Chris Luzi, and Kevin Keility; 11 and 12-Don Stuk, Kurt Hart, Scott Stuk, Mike Sanborn, Jeff Valenzuela and Danny Souheaver; and 13 and 14-Brent Gwisdella, Mark Morles, Jackie Bashem, Jammie Wurm, Larry Hart, Billy Hartley and Brian Campbell.

CHS varsity softball sluggers win 'em all

Four games into the season, the Clarkston High School Girls' Varsity Softball team has won them all.

All non-league games, they gave the team a chance to practice skills before the league contests were to begin Monday against Rochester, said Coach Carla Teare.

"We're on the right track," she said. "Our pitching has come through for us; our hitting is there; I know we have the potential. I'm looking forward to the rest of the season."

The scores were: 10-0 in the April 21 game against Milford High School; 7-5 and 16-5 in the April 23 double-header against Brandon High School; and 8-7 in the April 23 game against Milford Lakeland High School.

In the Milford game, pitcher Lanette Whitehead threw a no-hitter with nine strikeouts; Audrey Campe went two for three, scored two runs and had two RBIs; and Annette Ulasich and Sandy Mason hit doubles.

Ulasich was credited with the wins in both Brandon games. In the second game, she pitched seven strikeouts and hit a two-run home run to aid her cause. Whitehead had three RBIs on a bases-loaded single; and Shaun O'Brien went two for two with two RBIs.

The Wolves pulled it out at the end of the Lakeland game with pitcher Whitehead credited with the win and Jeanne Herron, who pitched the last two innings, with the save. Lori Martin went three for three with two RBIs including a double.

JVs stomp two opponents

After two solid wins for the Clarkston High School Girls' JV Softball team, Coach Don Peters has high hopes for the season.

"They're a really, really good ball team. They should do well," Peters said. "They play well offensively as well as defensively. There's no weak spot in the lineup.'

The team stomped Milford High School 29-5 in the April 21 game; and performed as well in the Milford Lakeland game April 23 with a score of 30-9.

Peters credits seven team members with outstanding performances in the Milford game: winning pitcher Julie Marshall went three for four with four RBIs and a home run; Krista Pilditch went three for five and had five stolen bases; Kelli Keating went two for two; Michele Barks went two for three, had four RBIs and a home run; Cindy Covert went three for four, had three RBIs and hit a home run; Kim Lorenz went two for five, had three RBIs and a home run; Shannon Moore went three for four and had five steals; and Sheila Moore went two for four and had three RBIs.

In the Lakeland game, Lorenz was the winning pitcher. She went four for four, had two RBIs and scored three runs.

Independence Oaks park hosts Hidden Forest Run

Runners aren't the only ones who can celebrate spring on Sunday, March 2, when Independence Oaks County Park hosts the fourth annual Hidden Forest Run.

Hurdle record

Julie Beamer set a new Clarkston High School record in the 220-yard hurdles with a time of 31.3. She tied another record in the 110-yard hurdles with 31.3. And the Clarkston girls' track team dominated the meet against Waterford Kettering April 20, winning first place in all events except the shot and discus.

The final score was Clarkston 90, Kettering 31. First-place finishes were also posted by Denise Giroux in the 100-yard dash, Pam Stoecklin in the mile, Kris Tisch in the 440-yard dash, Amy Stark in the 880-yard run, Paula Ziolkowski in the 220-yard dash, Sheri Rowland in the two-mile, Kelly Craig in the high jump and Beamer in the long jump.

Winning relay teams were: 440-yard relay—Ronnie Barnard, April Hodges, Ziolkowski and Giroux; 880-yard relay—Jamie Howenstine, Craig, Tisch and Barnard; and mile relay—Wendy Hunt, Aileen Collins, Stark and Stoecklin. Besides the cross country and short course races, there'll be music by a bluegrass band, a puppet show, and boating, fishing and hiking in the 850-acre park. The races are to take place on wood chips and earth surfaces with a mass start for all races at 1 p.m. Nine age classes for both men and women will be judged with four races—a 2.5-mile walk and runs of 2.5, 5.5 and 8.5 miles.

Plaques and medals are to be presented to the winners at a ceremony following the races and all participants are to receive certificates.

Runners can register for the race from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the park the morning of the event. The fee is $6. Independence Oaks is located on Sashabaw Road, two-and-one-half miles north of 1-75 in Independence Township.

The Hidden Forest Run is co-sponsored by the county parks and recreation department and Bluc Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan. Proceeds are to benefit the Cerebral Palsy Olympics to be held May 20-23 at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

For more information, call the county parks and recreation office at 858-0915.

Boy's track improves despite loss

Despite a loss to Waterford Kettering 84-48, the Clarkston High School Boys' Track Team is continuing to improve, says Assistant Coach Mike Kaul.

"We had better times than we had had so far this year in many events," said Kaul who serves under Coach Walt Wyniemko. "Our quarter milers and hurdlers are doing better at this point than we expected. "Problem areas include half mile and high jump, but the athletes in those events are working hard and improvement is coming," he added.

First-place finishers in the Kettering meet were Kurt Esslink in the high hurdles, Paul Bursh in the two mile, Eric Beamer in the discus, and the 440-yard relay team of Esslink, Dave Ryeson, Steve Lippincott and Rusty Bennett.

Club notes.

Clinton Valley Barracks No. 2803, Veterans of World War I and Auxiliary, met at Springfield Township Hall on Saturday, April 10, for their regular monthly meeting.

Attendance was small due to some members being away, but a delicious Easter dinner was enjoyed by all.

Marie Green furnished attractive table favors; also, a nice birthday cake was enjoyed by all, celebrating the birthday this month of Alice Rioux.

The business meeting was held following the dinner. The Fifth District dues were voted upon and paid.

Notes from out-of-state members were read, and reports given of those who are ill and in the hospital. Delegates to the State Convention were elected and necessary fees paid. The State Convention is to be held in Kalamazoo June 6, 7, 8 and 9.

It was voted to retain the same officers for next year. The Buddies met with the Ladies, and they are also retaining the same officers for the coming year.

The next meeting is to be held Saturday, May 8, in township hall, Davisburg.

Moon Vally Rustic celebrates

It's unusual for a business in existence for some 50 years with the same owner for about 22 years to have a grand opening, but at Moon Valley Rustic Furniture, the reason is worthwhile.

"Because of the fire, and just to make sure people know we are here and back in business-we were never really out of business, but we were a bit disorganized for a while, and people wondered if we were still opened because the building was gone," explains Kim Beattie, owner of the business with his parents, Edwin and Mickie Beattie, and his wife, Pat.

Nearly a year ago, on May 22, fire destroyed the main building of the furniture manufacturing plant on Dixie Highway. Now the building has been replaced, the showroom is open and the season is right for the cedar and Ponderosa pine picnic tables, swing sets and porch and patio furniture built there, and sold in a four-state area.

"It's been a lot of hard work from some really faithful employes. They're a lot responsible for accomplishing what we have done in a year," Beattie said. "We really couldn't have done it without them."

Grand opening day at Moon Valley Rustic Furniture, 6465 Dixie Highway, Independence Township, is Saturday, May 1, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

There'll be refreshments and visitors can register for a drawing for a picnic table.

World's Fair pick here

The Clarkston (Mich.) News Wed., April 28, 1982 17

Local residents won't have to go as far as Atlanta, Ga., to see the the only catalytic wood heater to be displayed in the Energy Saving House at the 1982 World's Fair.

The Shenandoah Catalytic wood heater is sold at Kinetic Systems, 16745 Dixie Highway. Springfield Township.

According to Lucy Kash, owner of Kinetic Systems, the wood heater was chosen for the Energy Saving House because of its energy savings, return on investment, practicality, safety and manufactured quality.

WORDS OF LIFE - "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also...I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.' Color guard wraps up season with trip south

Clarkston High School's Winter Guard wrapped up their season in Nashville, Tenn., during spring break.

"It was a good trip. We really had a good time. The weather was great," said Yvonne Wilson, CHS teacher and sponsor of the guard.

Unfortunately, the guard placed 41st out of 46 groups from all over the United States and Canada in the Winter Guard National Olympics.

"It was the toughest competition we've had ever," Wilson said. "Guards from out east dominated it.

"As far as my kids went, they did the best they had all season. I was really proud of them. In fact, they beat three guards from the midwest that had constantly beaten them all year," she said.

Just being able to appear in the event was an honor, Wilson added. Of the over 70 guards eligible, the CHS group was one of the 46 accepted to compete, and it was the only Michigan Class A guard there.

In an earlier competition, the guard placed in the top 10 in the Midwest Color Guard Circuit held April 1 in Illinois. Their 10th-place finish netted them Midwest Color Guard finalist patches.

Guard members begin their season in the fall when they march with the CHS band. During winter months, November through the beginning of April, they practice about nine hours each week for competition as the CHS Winter Guard.

The three-day trip to Nashville cost about $2,300 for housing and transportation. The guard earned the money by taking parking tickets at the Pontiac Silverdome during Lions' games, working during the Super Bowl and holding bake sales once a month.

Wilson is paid for sponsoring the group during the band season, but she volunteers her time during the winter guard season.

'They're good kids. They're worth it," she said. "It serves a group of kids that aren't into sports, but need something to do."

And, she notes, they're good students-two out of the past three valedictorians at CHS have been members of the guard.

Commanding officer of the winter guard is Karen Thomas, a CHS senior. She's marched with the group for all three years she's attended CHS. "It's a lot of fun; it's a challenge," she said. "It just feels good when you do a good show."

Synchronized marching and serious demeanor give the guard its military flavor. At the front of

Bassist Mark Doolin joins band," paves way into musical scene

Twenty-one-year-old Mark Doolin-bass player with the band Topper-is taking on the music industry.

The father of six-month-old Jennifer, husband of Sheryl, got a taste of fame during Super Bowl Week's blast on Pontiac's Bourbon Street North.

For a full week, Topper rock and rolled its way into the hearts of throbbing mobs.

Says Mark, "It was a lot of fun. It was crazy down there with all those thousands of people.

Topper's slated for gigs April 28 through May 2 at the Off Broadway in Lake Orion, and June 10, 11 and 12 at the Wildwood in Brandon Township.

"When we played the Off Broadway, we were told by management we outdrew the house band," Mark boasts.

Mark's humble when it comes to assessing his talents at the strings of a bass guitar.

"I can hold my own," he says.

By day, the 1978 Clarkston High School graduate works for Smith's Disposal. Nights and weekends, he plays top 40 music with other members of the band Topper: drummer Mark Tysick, guitarists Frank Moran and Rick Cafek. singer Oscar Macies and soundman Rod Hargraeves, all of Pontiac.

Mike Doolin balances on a chair and holds the extension of himself, a Rickenbacker Bass, prized among guitarists as one of the best instruments around. Doonlin, 21, a Clarkston High School graduate, plays with the band Topper and is seen regularly atop stages throughout Oakland County.

center

The same people kept coming back to see us every night. There was no room to breathe-it was like a concert at the Silver Dome.

"There were people wanting to jump up on stage and dance.'

Like that first taste of sugar to a chocoholic. The first glimpse of chrome to a car buff.

Screaming fans mounting the stage for a dance whetted Mark's whistle for more. Although Bourbon Street's Sear's Building didn't mean the first live performance for the band, it was the biggest.

The group met five months ago via "wordof-mouth," and they've played together ever since.

From inside his home on South River Road, Independence Township, Mark recalls his youth. playing bass guitar in his big brother's band and why he learned to play the bass. Simply, he says, because they needed a bass player.

And his parents, who allowed the neighborhood to congregate in the Doolin garage on Snowapple Drive, while the band turned up the amplifiers.

"It's a long ways away," Mark said, of the day he'll support his family playing music. "My wife Sheryl, she's behind me 100 percent. I gos depressed, but she says keep on going, don't give up.

When first spotted, Pauline Ryerse wore garden gloves as she guided her bike down a subdivision street. She laughed, and removed them, explaining that she was raking her yard when the kids wanted to go for a spur-of-the-moment bike ride. Whispering winds ~

Adam Rosenthal gives his kite an "all right" rating as he proves with his smiling face that kites are fun when spring breezes blow. Adam, who lives on Snow Apple Drive and attends Pine Knob Elementary School, says he had his kite out once before this year, but there was snow on the ground then. The gentle wind this day is perfect for launching the bright plastic kite straight toward the warm sunshine.

Huggable springtime

Crooked Lake's clear waters and the smell of charcoal wafting through the air provide the springtime atmosphere during a Camp Fire outing to celebrate "Hug-a-tree" day at Independence Oaks. Bailey Lake Elementary School pupils, the girls are members of a Camp Fire Adventure Group led by Pam Schmaltz. Exploring the lake's waters with a stick are (front to back) Nikki Dolsen; a visitor from Commerce Township, Brooke Mongene; April Wayne; Stacey Crites; and Renee Bowers. At right, in the top photo, three girls preparing hamburgers for the picnic lunch are (from left) Stacey Crites, April Wayne and Amy Schmaltz. Below at right, cousins Brooke and Renee continue the water exploration behind a faded and mercifully outdated sign that says, "No skating."
