Making waves

Yielding to Monday's 55-degree tempting spring temperature, Mark Eidan (at left in lower photo) and George Antos dive into Deer Lake. While fishermen in the background sit bundled in down jackets and on buckets to keep their backsides off the ice, Eidan and Antos throw sheets of ice and laugh at gawkers. The pair had been running and thought a dip in the water would cool them off. "That, and we wanted to be able to say we'd gone swimming the last day of February," Eidan said.

4-H ponders switching from Springfield fair site

By Marilyn Trumper

Changes in site and concept for the annual 4-H Fair are under consideration by the Oakland County 4-H Board.

The board is considering changing to an "open" fair and is looking at alternate sites for the week-long annual event held for the last decade at Springfield Oaks County Park outside Davisburg.

Last summer 30,000 people attended the popular fair traditionally held the first week of August with livestock competitions, horse shows and craft exhibits.

"In January we appointed a two-man expansion and review committee to look around at other possible sites to see what can be done," said William Porritt, fair board president.

"We've been here 10 years. But just because we're looking doesn't mean we're going to move. We're just looking at where we've been, where we are, and researching what we can do. All organizations do that."

The concept of an "open" fair differs from 4-H which is limited to youth entries, and would allow adults to compete. It would be billed as a "county fair," Porritt said.

"There are probably only 12 true 4-H fairs left in the state. Most communities have gone the county fair route. By offering an open fair you can let the adults show, too, and give the whole public a good show instead of just the youth."

The 100-acre county park on Andersonville Road in Springfield Township has two arenas, a rabbit barn and exhibit building for 4-H's youth exhibits.

"It serves our purpose well now, and the parks department has been good to us, real good to us. But if we went to an open fair we'd need more space," Porritt said. "If someone gave us a tract of land tomorrow and said 'Here, expand,' we couldn't do it for four or five years. That's a big move.

"If it happens it won't be anything immediate," Porritt said.

Sign up now to appeal taxes

Independence Township Assessor David Sherrill expects a "typical" turnout before the Board of Review for 1983 property assessment appeals.

"Probably about 150 people. Commercial, industrial and developmental property has stayed about the same. Residential has decreased by approximately 1 percent, but again, there are exceptions," Sherrill said.

The three-man Board of Review is scheduled to meet Monday, March 14, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Tuesday, March 15, from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., at Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main, Clarkston.

Citizens with appeals are asked to make an appointment by calling 625-8114 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"We may be able to take care of some problems without an appeal before the board," Sherrill said.

Fire's out in seconds

There was minimal damage Monday afternoon to a grassy area in southern Independence Township. Within seconds, the fire department had extinguished a grass fire on Mary Sue Road, at the Detroit Edison easement. Firefighter Mike Fahrner said he did not know how the fire started, but that the sumac trees would continue to thrive.

Get absentee ballots now for March election

If you're planning to vote absentee for the March 14th Clarkston Village Council election, now's the time to pick up the ballot.

Absentee ballots are available at the home of Clerk Norma Goyette, 149 N. Main, Clarkston, and must be received no later than March 14.

Citizens qualify to vote absentee in the following categories:

- If they are physically unable to attend the polls.
- If they will be absent from the community during the time the polls are open.
- If religious principles prohibit a trip to the polls.
- If they're 60 years old or older.
- If they're confined to jail awaiting trial or arraignment.
- If they've been appointed precinct inspector in a precinct other than their own.

"It's also important for everyone applying for an absentee ballot to know they have to fill out an application first, and pick up their own ballot," said Goyette. "If husband and wife are applying, they both have to come and pick up their own ballot."

Neck, Shoulder and Arm Pain

By Paul A. Rumph, D.C.

Do you suffer from tightness or stiffness of the neck? Sometimes just reaching for something or a little work causes a nagging pain in the shoulder. Does the pain radiate into the elbow and wrist and your fingers tingle? Do you use pain pills or aspirin to relieve these pains? These only mask the underlying reasons for your discomfort. The symptoms may come and go, but if the cause of the condition is not corrected, the condition will progress into constant pain, loss of strength and could cause total disability. Chiropractic has had great success in treating the above conditions in a natural non-drug related program that releases the life force through your nerves, enabling the body to heal itself.

The Rumph Chiropractic Clinic asks: "Why be sick when you can be well again?" This week only we are offering a FREE spinal examination and nerve test as a public service (if you mention this article) to see if your problem can be helped by Chiropractic. Pick up the telephone now and make an appointment with Dr. Rumph at 673-1215.

Don't ignore these danger signals:

• Lower back and leg pains	• Recurring headaches and nervousness	• Painful joints and restless nights
• Difficulty in breathing	• Numbness in hands, legs or feet	• Neck, shoulder, or arm pain

If not corrected, these can lead to more serious complications.

What do you think of Gov. Blanchard's proposal to increase the state income tax?

"I don't like it, we're over-taxed now. They take about 40 percent of the check now," Ronald Keener of Independence Township.

"I really don't like the idea. Michigan is in trouble and with people out of work, how are they supposed to pay the taxes? I'm glad I don't have his job because I would probably would have to raise them too," Janet Vernier of the Village of Clarkston.

"It's a rip off. He's just like every other politician—once they get in office they raise the taxes. I'm not against taxes, but in my opinion the government should clean up their act and maybe they wouldn't have to raise the taxes," John Bebo of Springfield Township.

He strives to indentify flouride levels in water

By Kathy Greenfield

Most of the 505 baby teeth he's pulled in the past year could have been saved, says Dr. George Krull whose specialty is dentistry for infants, children and teen-agers.

"The more preventive measures, be that flouride supplements, improved oral hygiene, care with diet, you're going to reduce decay," he says.

If flouride doesn't appear naturally in water, it should be included in children's diets, Krull says, and he's been compiling data on the amount of flouride in the drinking water in northern Oakland County for one-and-one-half years.

"What we found was a wide range of natural flouride in water supplies," he says.

Highlights from the tests on about 200 samples of water include the following:

- "In Independence Township, it's the potpourri of flouride levels," Krull says. In the Village of Clarkston, there is usually no flouride in the water. On Waterford Hill, there are houses within one-quarter mile that range from zero flouride to a high level.

- In Lake Orion's Keatington area there is a high, natural level of flouride consistently.

- In Ortonville and Brandon Township, the levels vary.

- In Holly, the flouride levels are usually high. "Everything else falls in the center. People should get their water checked and then they know," Krull says.

It all started when he was told flouride was naturally low in the area's water.

That would indicate the need for children from birth to age 12 to take flouride with vitamins or in separate pill form, or to use a mouthwash with flouride, all of which require a prescription.

Taken orally, the flouride is absorbed by the body and when teeth come into the mouth, they already contain the substance, making them less susceptible to acid and the resulting decay, Krull says.

But too much flouride can cause problems. "We want to provide the child with the optimal protection the flouride will give without introducing an excessive amount of flouride in the system which can cause blemishes in the coloration of the teeth," he says.

The flouride supplements should be started at birth, which creates a problem for dentists because they usually don't begin serving children until around age 2.

In his quest to provide protection earlier, Krull has enlisted the aid of local pediatricians, Irving Kernis, James O'Neill and Charles Yee.

Dr. George Krull keeps a map in his office showing the flouride levels in the about 200 northern Oakland County wells tested in one-and-one-half years.

They all now have water testing bottles that can be filled and sent to the State Department of Health. The water tests include checks for the flouride level which determines whether oral supplements are needed and how much.

The water bottles are also available at Krull's office, 5825 M-15, Independence Township, and at the Oakland County Health Department, 1200 Telegraph, Pontiac.

Flouride supplements taken orally should not be confused with the other type of flouride treatment where the substance is put on the outside of teeth.

The procedure is to place a tray designed to fit around the teeth and filled with flouride gel in the patient's mouth for four minutes.

Krull says that should be done every six months even if flouride is taken internally, with special attention to three age spans—from 4 to 6, 12 to 14 and 17 to 20.

During those ages, young people's teeth seem to be especially prone to cavities, and the relationship appears to be linked with more freedom of choice in diet, he says.

February is National Dental Health Month, and Krull's main message is that there are proven methods to reduce cavities.

"The key to this thing is getting kids into the dentist," he says. "There's absolutely no reason in the 1980s that children should not expect to keep their teeth for the rest of their lives."

Committee named to draft new historical district ordinance

By Marilyn Trumper

Clarkston Village President Jackson Byers ended four months of waiting Monday night and appointed a seven-member committee draft a new historic district ordinance.

"And Gary Symons has agreed to serve as consultant to the committee since he's familiar with the legal requirements and had such a close hand in drafting the first one," Byers said, adding, "I think that's fine."

Trustee Ruth Basinger abstained from the otherwise unanimous council vote, arguing for educating the public before drafting a new law.

Byers named Trustee Carol Eberhardt to be the village representative to the committee and chairperson.

Also appointed were Sharon Catallo and Marilyn Weiss as representatives of the Clarkston Community Historical Society; Tom Hunter, a former historic district commission member; Gordon Spelbring of the village planning commission; Steven Sitar, a past applicant to the commission; and Pat Schbor, representative at large.

In November, the council revoked the controversial Historic District Ordinance regulating construction and repair of the 174 homes in the historic district.

The action also disbanded the five-member Historic District Commission which approved all construction.

The new committee is expected to begin work immediately, and will disband when the new law is adopted, Byers said.

Tax laws make us pay extra

Some people will not be paying the summer property tax to schools. They will leave the money in the bank, drawing interest, pay the late tax penalty and come out ahead.

A taxpayer with time on his hands prepared four tax statements for us, using identical income and withholding figures. The hypothetical person's real estate tax is $2,000 a year, $1,500 to schools. His income is $25,000 a year.

If this person pays his property taxes every other year (2 years one year, none the next) to double up his deductions, it would cost him an additional $434 over a 2-year period to pay summer school taxes.

If all the taxpayers took their money from interest-paying accounts to pay their school tax in the summer, totally they would lose all the money school districts plan to save by not having to borrow in the fall, according to our source.

Of course, "people" will not go to the trouble our "source" did.

They will pay because they always pay their taxes on time. And, as always, these "people" will end up paying extra because somehow that's the way it seems to work out...tax law after tax law after tax law.

Give county surplus to voters

Oakland County ended 1982 with $744,000 more in the bank than it started the year with.

Since we Oakland citizens started the year with $4,386,000 in the bank, our total is now over $5 million.

County Executive Daniel Murphy is recommending the new three-quarters of a million be put into the contingency fund for the 1983 budget.

A contingency fund is money not marked for spending.

A surplus.

Profit.

Murphy said, "The previously identified surplus is being used to continue recent cuts in the county tax rate."

Since governmental units are not supposed to make a profit, by collecting more from the taxpayers than is necessary to run the government, why can't:

1. taxes be cut to reduce the $5 million profit, or
2. give it back?

A surplus is how buildings get built without voter approval, particular projects get political nods, and greed creeps into thinking.

Give it back to the voters and eliminate the temptation.

Letter to the editor

'I believe in ... preservation'

By the time this appears in the paper, I will be home after four months of driving through the south and southwest, visiting my children, grandchildren and friends.

It has been a tremendous trip of which I enjoyed every minute.

I have been very concerned about the split in the village over the historical ordinance.

Remember, I have been hearing things second and third hand, but I am sure you will want to know how I stand on this issue.

I believe in historic preservation, but an ordinance must, or should be, administered fairly, reasonably and with common sense.

Maybe a good thing has come out of this—just maybe, more of you will attend the meetings, particularly the new ordinance public hearings.

I was very amazed when only one person attended our public hearings on the historical ordinance—to object.

You know my past record, and how much I care about our village.

Vile virus

No doubt about it, the unseasonably warm weather this winter has caused more colds, flus and illnesses than the conventional minus 20 degree winters.

If I were a scientist I couldn't say that. A University of Michigan virus specialist, Dr. Arnold Monto, can't say that either. Neither can he say I'm wrong. What he did say was... we have no evidence either way.

I've had strong friends knocked right into hospitals from cold-flu-pneumonia, this year. For two months three friends have been antibioticked into submission.

In my own case, I caught a cold the third week of December. My concern then was I'd be eliminated from Christmas dinner if it hung on. My concern now is that I may be confined with the sniffles on Memorial Day.

The only day since mid-December that I haven't taken a pill is when I substituted a liquid home remedy. Actually, I did that a couple days.

It's been one week on aspirin, the next Comtrex, the next Excedrin, back to aspirin, and then a call to Chicago for some Tylenol capsules.

By the time I go to work at 8 a.m. my 220 pound system is dehydrated by eye and nose drip-page. I tell you it's a lousy way to lose weight.

This probably all sounds like I'm complaining, which I am. But, no more. From now on I'm looking on it as a challenge.

Instead of zipping up my coat (over my pajamas) to get the Morning Friendly, I'm going to leave it unzipped. Let the crisp air filled with tear drop causing viruses hit the body full force.

Pretty bird

by Kathy Greenfield

The other day, someone asked if we still had our bird.

He died a few years ago, but memories of Nickie came flying back. A green and yellow parakeet, he was part of our family for about eight years.

Nickie's saga began when my husband decided we needed something other than a plant to fill the antique brass bird cage my grandmother gave me.

She had raised canaries and the cage was saved in her attic until I discovered it one day.

A friend had a particularly nice parakeet—it would say things like "pretty bird" and kiss and sit on a finger.

So, a parakeet it was.

The first years were relatively calm. We'd leave the cage door open so Nickie could come and go at will.

He learned to say "pretty bird," would only kiss my husband and, once in a great while, would sit on an outstretched finger.

As more years passed, we added to our menagerie. At its peak, we had two dogs, a pair of guinea pigs, an aquarium and the bird.

Vacuuming bird seed was never my favorite chore and cleaning the guinea pig box didn't rate in the top 10 either, so I decided to group them together to facilitate housekeeping.

One day, we noticed that the bird was in with the guinea pigs.

"Isn't that cute," we said. "They're friends."

Then we noticed that the bird had taken over.

While Nickie figured out he could herd the pigs around the cage, the guinea pigs never quite grasped the fact they could roll over and smash their antagonist, for he was about one-eighth their size.

Or maybe they did, and that's when Nickie decided to get rough with his guinea pig crew. When his biting drew blood, we decided the situation had to end.

We shut Nickie's cage door.

The bird squirmed out between the soft, metal bars. We bought a new cage of non-bendable metal.

He created such a squawk that we couldn't stand it.

We opened the door and removed the guinea pigs from his flight pattern.

He was never the same after that.

I never knew there were so many people who didn't like birds.

Those kinds of people were Nickie's favorites. He would land on their heads and, when shooed away, would watch quietly until they had calmed down before swooping in again.

No one ever said, "I really like your bird. I think I'll get one."

But no one ever forgot him, either.

By Jim Sherman

Bayer can take his aspirin, Kleenex can blow her own tissue, and doctor's appointment calendars can become outdated. I'm going to whip this virus.

Really, I've seen two of them today. Got 'em both. The idle watcher probably thinks I'm nuts because in chasing these virus I've looked like I was clapping. What that idle watcher doesn't see is the wasted wings awash in my palms when I crushed two of the enemy.

There wasn't enough left of 'em to get a scientific opinion on which type of virus I'd eliminated. Chances are they would reach the same conclusion they did on more or less illness in warm winter weather.

I suppose there's the odd chance they could conclude what I really killed were fruit flies.

Teachers debate students' view of Pacesetter

When the concept of the Pacesetter program was first suggested, the Clarkston Education Association wholeheartedly supported the concept.

The association still feels that this program has much merit.

If it is possible to help educate young people who could not or would not adjust to the regular classroom environment, we believe that this kind of program will at least provide these young people with a basic education.

In addition, if rock and roll music and a type of "free form" learning will keep the attention and interest of these young men and women—well, at least they have the chance to learn.

Our concern is that we do not ignore the hard work and effort put forth by the over 1,500 students and 68 teaching staff at Clarkston High School in our regular program.

It is regrettable that such a learning environment ranging from automotive mechanics to American literature to child development to secretarial typing could not interest these 15 young people.

It does, however, meet the needs of most Clarkston youngsters quite well. These 1,500 students at Clarkston High School respond by doing fairly well in most cases.

Although not all of them are devoted to English (I regret to say), most are able to find an area or areas of interest.

The Clarkston Education Association does not agree with all of the statements made by the Pacesetter students (in an article in the Feb. 16 edition of The Clarkston News).

For example, we question whether Ms. Crouch was ever emphatically denied the opportunity to write her poetry or how often Ms. Helton came for assistance from a teacher during his/her conference hour, before or after school and was denied help.

We feel that such statements are, at best, exaggerated.

As previously stated, the Clarkston Education Association wishes the best for the Pacesetter students in their quest for knowledge, but it certainly does not want those 1,500 high school students and 68 teaching staff who did not get their names in the newspaper to be forgotten for their hard work too.

Allen Bartlett, President
Clarkston Education Association

Get off your duff and complain

Politics is like the weather. Everyone talks about it but no one does anything about it.

How often in the course of our daily lives do we hear associates, friends and relatives complain about something that has been brought up in the political arena?

How often in comparison do these same people let their senator and/or congressman know that they are opposed to the particular issue at hand?

VERY FEW!!!

I'm not patting myself on the back. Until recently, I was the same as the vast majority.

The current issue that is causing a more severe reaction from me is the income tax. Both state and federal governments are talking about increases.

That happens to be my hot button, so after years of complacency (along with everybody else), I wrote to my senators and representatives.

It takes more than just my letters to cause our legislators to vote as we want them to.

They are representatives of the people, but unless they hear from us, they will not reflect our wishes.

Get off your duffs, all you able-bodied citizens.

Find out who your lawmakers are and let them know how you feel.

Unless you do, they're going to continue to shove their desires down your throats.

Gerald W. Councilman
Springfield Township

Editor's note: State Rep. Mat Dunaskiss says he's received only about 50 letters from constituents expressing their opinions about Gov. Blanchard's tax proposal.

For those who wish to write to legislators, here's the list of addresses of those who represent Independence and Springfield townships:

•United States Senators—The Honorable Carl Levin, 2113 Dirksen Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510; and The Honorable Donald Riegle Jr., 1207 Dirksen Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

•United States Congressman—The Honorable Bob Carr, 2439 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

•State Senator—The Honorable Richard Fessler, State Senator, State Capitol, Lansing, MI 48909.

•State Representative—The Honorable Mat Dunaskiss, State Representative, State Capitol, Lansing, MI 48909.

THE CLARKSTON NEWS LETTER POLICY

We welcome our readers' opinions. Letters to the Editor must be at The Clarkston News office by noon Friday to be considered for the following week's paper. We reserve the right to edit all letters for the sake of brevity and clarity and to limit the number of letters from any one individual on any one issue. We don't publish open letters or copies of letters sent elsewhere. Letters must be signed and a phone number and address included. Names will be withheld on request.

All Saint's choir comes singing to Colombiere

By Kathy Greenfield

Jerry Wilford will be there, doing one of his favorite things, when the 30-member All Saint's Episcopal Church Choir performs Sunday, March 6, in the Colombiere Center Chapel.

He joined the choir of the Pontiac church about two years ago after a 10-year break from performing in church choirs and amateur musicals.

"It's the best group I've ever sung with," says Wilford, who lives on Main Street in Clarkston.

When the choir recently performed at St. Paul's Cathedral in Detroit, a tape recording was made. And Wilford is proud of the sounds of the choir's music.

"I absolutely am impressed," he says. "Of course, when you're singing it's like being in an orchestra. You don't hear the whole group.

"But when I hear a recording I am, perhaps a bit immodestly, impressed by it."

Wilford sings bass. A semi-retired publishing consultant, he's enjoying the challenges of membership in the choir.

"I've been struggling to catch up since it's a very challenging group," he says. "There are people in this choir who are really professional caliber as musicians—I mean graduates of music schools.

"I'm not really up to their caliber. I can't even read music, which they notice," he says. Then he laughs, revealing how much he's enjoying the experience.

The All Saint's Choir was recently chosen to sing in the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C., where they'll appear in June.

"It's quite an honor to be selected for it and it's a terrific experience for the choir to do it," Wilford says.

The program at Colombiere Sunday is to begin at 4 p.m. It includes works by Palestrina, Scarlatti, Brahms, American composer Randall Thompson and Canadian composer Healey Willan.

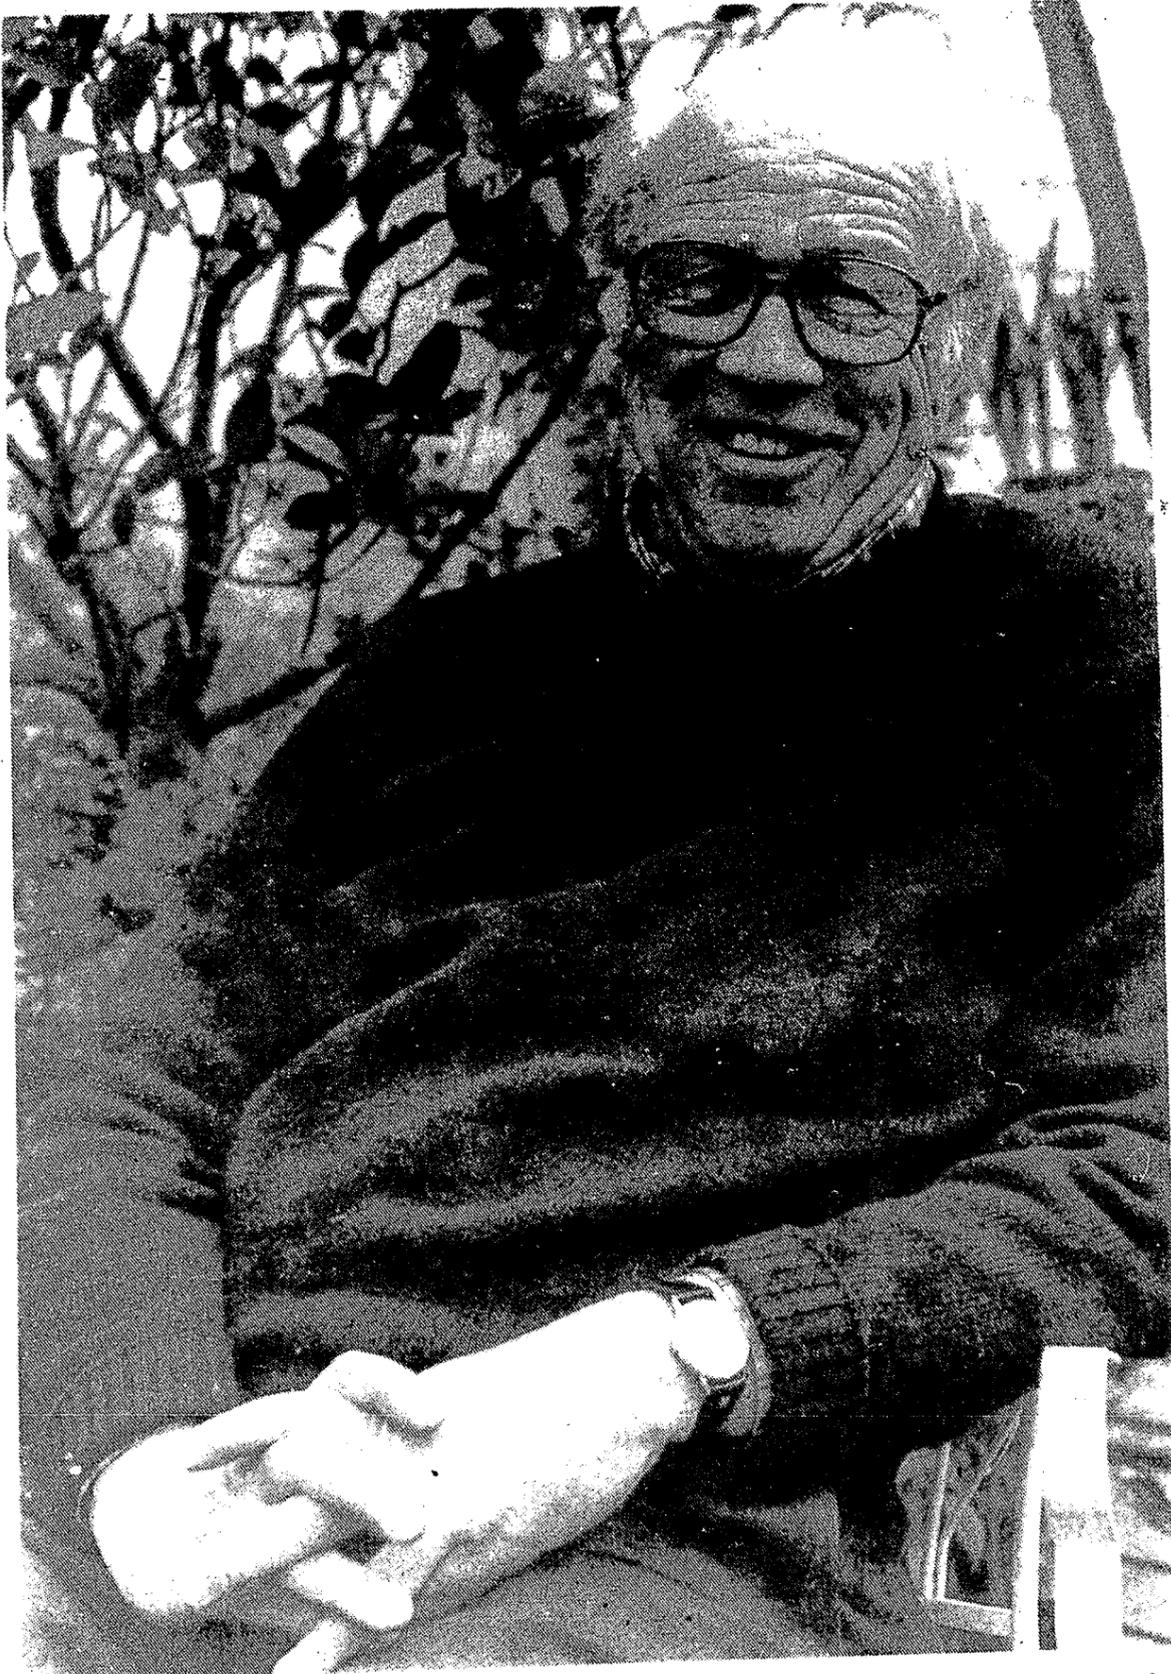

Admission is free, although an offering may be made to support the choir's activities. The Clarkston Conservatory of Music is sponsoring the event.

"If (people) are interested in music, they're going to find a performance, I think, above the amateur level," says Wilford.

Colombiere is located at 9075 Big Lake in Springfield Township.

Don Renz, All Saint's organist and choirmaster, is to play a Bach work on Colombiere's organ. Renz holds degrees in choral teaching and organ performance from the University of Michigan.

"He's just better than anybody I've ever worked with," says Wilford, noting that because of Renz's expertise, choir membership includes people from Brighton, Milford, Lake Orion, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Oak Park, Oakland University, Pontiac and, of course, Clarkston.

Jerry Wilford's bass voice will ring out with 29 others in the All Saint's Choir performance in the Colombiere Center chapel on Sunday where, he says, the acoustics are excellent.

Rising sales signal springtime

By Marilyn Trumper

Used mobile home ads are showing up in increased numbers on classified pages, testimony to lower interest rates and the annual spring moving migration.

That comes from Richard Wade, manager of Clarkston Lakes Mobile Home Community just north of the Independence Township line in neighboring Brandon Township.

"I think it's a couple of things. The interest rates are coming down and people are looking to buy homes. So, they're selling their mobile homes," Wade said.

"Second, it's springtime, or almost springtime, and there are more people moving in the spring. Consequently more homes are up for sale."

According to Wade, most parks boast a high number of units for sale at any given time.

"As many as 10 percent," he said. "We are a 500 unit park and have 50 for sale now. Sometimes it's as high as 70 or as low as 25. But 10 percent's an average."

A random sample of classifieds in The Clarkston News found advertisers selling mobile homes for several reasons.

One cited the necessity to relocate.

Another said he is purchasing a house and needs to sell the mobile home.

One woman said her husband anticipates losing his job and the couple will be unable to meet their mortgage payment.

One man said his unit had been on the market on and off for five months.

Tyra heads to Miss Michigan USA with winning on her mind

Tyra Lea Warden sees the Miss Michigan USA Beauty Pageant as a stepping stone to her modeling career.

The 19-year-old Independence Township woman's gearing up for Saturday's competition at the Center Stage in Garden City where 12 semi-finalists will be chosen from a field of 140.

Sunday, one of the 12 will be named Miss Michigan USA and go onto the Miss USA and Miss World competition.

"I'm really excited. New York agencies will be there. I've been modeling for years, but maybe this will be it. Maybe I'll be signing up with them and going back with them. This has been an experience," Tyra said.

In addition to the modeling exposure, Tyra says she's hoping for a scholarship to study fashion coordinating.

Tyra Lea Warden: Candidate for Miss Michigan USA Beauty Pageant in this Saturday's competition.

Tyra works for Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers by day.

The Gail Rice/T.L.C. Casey Modeling Agency in Detroit monopolizes the rest of her time.

Asked if she'll win, Tyra laughed.

"I guess I'm going to win. At least I'm going in with that attitude and putting everything into I have. "There's a lot riding on this."

Tyra, a 1982 Clarkston High School graduate, was one of 140 contestants selected from a field of 5,000.

There's no sound from the audience held spellbound by actors from Clarkston Junior High's Theater I Class in the production of "Toby Tyler." Here the star Toby, played by Dan Stuk, talks with bareback rider Tasha Vaara about the future of the circus.

Applause, applause

For junior high production of 'Toby Tyler' at Bailey Lake, Pine Knob elementaries

A roomful of third-, fourth-, fifth- and sixth-graders sat in rapt attention as the Theater I class of Clarkston Junior High dramatized "Toby Tyler."

At the close of each act, the otherwise quiet group burst into loud applause and whooped the budding thespians' production.

Under the direction of drama teacher Linda Robenault, the school's two theater classes worked shows at Bailey Lake and Pine Knob.

The script follows the adventures of Toby Tyler, a boy who runs away from the farm to join the circus. Once there he becomes the star attraction and ends up saving the bankrupt circus.

For five weeks the troupe of actors rehearsed the production, making their curtain call before a shocking pink curtain and orange popcorn booth, dressed in the garb of snake-charmer, human skeleton, gypsy and fat lady.

See Mt. St. Helens erupt free—via the big film screen

Those who have seen the film "Mt. St. Helens Eruption" call it "breathtaking," "unbelievable" and "certainly interesting."

Thanks to the North Oakland Civitan Club, area residents can see the movie, without charge, on Monday, March 7, at the Clarkston Community Learning Center, 5275 Maybee, Independence Township, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Produced by the National Forest Service, the film shows the complete action from the beginning of the volcanic eruption until it was quiet again.

On hand to answer questions are to be Lt. Col Charles Srull and Master Sgt. William Kratch, members of the 403rd Rescue and Weather Reconnaissance Wing of the Air Force Reserve stationed at Selfridge Air National Guard Base.

Kratch was on duty and in charge at the prime communicator site during the eruption.

Before the film, beginning at 7 p.m., the Civitans will hold a special meeting as they seek to enlarge their membership.

The service club is open to men and women. It works to serve the community and aid the mentally and physically impaired.

Projects include co-sponsoring the Independence Community Awards Banquet, assistance with Special Olympics, group home sponsorship, gifts and Christmas parties for an area senior citizens home and sending high school students to a one-week seminar.

In order to keep the club charter, 25 members must belong, and there is a March 31 deadline to meet this requirement.

Meetings are held on the first and third Mondays of each month at 7 p.m.

Phone Gerry or Kelly Stevenson at 887-4770 for more information.

Icy, wet landing

Walking on thin ice rang true for an 18-year-old Independence Township man this past week. According to reports at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department the man, allegedly fleeing a woman who saw him vandalize mailboxes, ran onto the melting ice of Lake Oakland and went through. She readily called police. Twenty minutes later after an exhausting swim in the frigid waters, the man pulled himself from the lake and headed home. Police arrived at the house and found him there trying to shake the experience and his soaking wet clothes. He was uninjured, reports said.

Something's fishy

Forget about tearing down this year's ice shanty. Burn it. Independence Township firefighters suspect that was the philosophy that led to a near midnight scramble to extinguish a blazing shanty on Van Norman lake in the southern sector of the township. Fearful about venturing out onto the thinning ice, firefighters called in the Marine Division of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. Using a raft the men inched their way across the ice and used a fire extinguisher to put out the flames. Not knowing if a fisherman were inside spurred them on, said firefighter Gar Wilson. "Otherwise we would have let it burn its way through the ice."

There's a change on our front page

You may have noticed a change on the front page of The Clarkston News this week. Look closely, now. Instead of "On top of local news for 52 years" under The Clarkston News, it says "On top of local news for 54 years." And for those even more observant, there's a change in the Volume Number, from 58 to 54. Publisher James Sherman began checking the year the paper came to be after General Manager Bill Ardelan noted that the volume number and the on-top-of number should agree. Previously, the on-top-of date noted when the News was accepted by the post office as a second-class publication, Sept. 4, 1931. Apparently distribution was handled differently prior to 1931. And it was decided to use the earlier date. "We do know there was a Clarkston News in 1929," said Sherman.

Church site OK'd

Independence Township members of the Free Pentecostal Church of God won't be driving into Pontiac for services forever. On Feb. 24, the Independence Township Planning Commission gave unanimous final site plan approval to the 75-member congregation to begin construction of the 2,356-square-foot building on Clintonville Road near the Maybee Road intersection. According to Pastor Alonzo Miracle, the congregation spent months hosting garage sales and selling salt and pepper shakers to raise the over $40,000 needed to erect the building's shell. "We're not really sure how much it's going to cost to completely finish the church. We're going to begin construction as soon as the house that's now on the property is torn down," Miracle said.

State finals ahead for wrestlers

By Dan Vandenhemel

Clarkston High Schools' Greg Ellis and Al Wall qualified for the state finals of wrestling by placing at the state regionals at Rochester Adams Feb. 26.

Ellis remained undefeated at 46-0 with a championship at the regionals. Wall finished second as he lost to William Walters of Flint Northern, who is also undefeated.

Jeff Lawrence was the only other member of the Clarkston Wolves to make it to the regionals. He won one, but lost two tough matches before being dropped from competition.

"This is a great feeling," Ellis said. "I didn't think I would be undefeated so far in the season. The pressure to win is getting harder and harder."

The day started at 8 a.m. with the weigh-in and the first match of the day was at 11 a.m. Ellis was awarded his first match because his opponent was sick. He didn't get on the mats until 1:30.

"All that waiting Greg had to do didn't help at all," said coach Rick Detkowski. "Al did a great job so did Jeff. They both came back after injuries to advance this far. Jeff finished at 26-7 for the year, he had a real fine season. In another year he'll really be good."

Wall and Lawrence both missed over a month because of knee injuries and worked their way back into shape for the district tournament Feb. 16.

During the course of the year, Ellis has set three records, two belonging to his coach. He broke Detkowski's record for the most victories in a row (46) and the most in a season (46). Ellis also has the record for the most pins in one season at 33.

"It felt great setting the records," Ellis said. "I just wish they weren't his (Detkowski). He's been a big help all year."

Winning in pain, Clarkston's Al Wall holds on to beat Ken Jackson of Saginaw. The referee (lower left) signals two points for Wall in his first match of the regional tournament.

Wolverines run past Cougars again, 55-34

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Clarkston Wolverine basketball team came out on top for the second time this season against the Sashabaw Cougars.

The Wolverines' downed the Cougars 55-34, behind a 25-10 first quarter lead.

"Our game is the running game," said Wolverine coach Dave Smith. "When we get on a big floor, we're dynamite."

Clarkston used a swarming defense and a quick offense to open the big lead in the first quarter. The Cougars were able to stay even with the Wolverines the rest of the game.

"We played good for three quarters," said Cougar coach Lance Baylis. "In the first quarter we didn't hustle and played terrible defense. We switched to man to man defense in the second quarter and we played great."

Clarkston's Craig Hoisington led all scores with 16 points. Teammate Scott Riganon added 12 and Mike Walters hit for eight. Tom Ruelle led the Cougars with eight points and Dave Lederman and Dave Baren each scored six.

Despite the teams' records (Clarkston 4-10 and Sashabaw 2-12), both coaches had encouraging thoughts about the season.

"We are just about ready to peak," Smith said. "Our offense is off to a good start. This was a very unselfish game—the team was passing up 10-foot shots to give the ball to someone else with a better shot."

Baylis said everyone on the team has improved since the beginning of the year.

"It's been a vast improvement. Everyone knows the rules better and understands basketball more. They've come along very well. I've had people tell me that this looks like a totally different team from the start of the season," he said.

He hopes his players don't get labeled as losers or bench sitters because of their record.

"Many of the players have real potential down the road. People tend to label kids and that's not good."

Smith said Clarkston won only one game at home this year with part of the problem being the size of the gym.

"The gym is smaller than any one we've played. We can work and run the ball better on a larger floor. We don't have the room to spread out at home," he said.

The rivalry between the two schools shows on the faces of the Wolverines' Kevin Pitcher (left) and the Cougars' Dan Lewis.

All eyes follow Jim Muhleck's (No. 5) shot toward the basket. Dave Baren (No. 45) goes up to try to block the shot with Dale Traver waits for the rebound.

CHS skiers place 1st, 2nd

By Dan Vandenhemel

The girls' and boys' ski teams at Clarkston High School made strong showings at the Southeastern Michigan Championship Feb. 23.

The meet at Alpine Valley featured the top 35 schools in southern Michigan and the girls' team edged Lakeland High School 98-99 to capture the victory.

The boys' team finished second, 11 points behind East Lansing High School 117-128.

Lisa Burkemo beat out the other 100 skiers to win the slalom race. In the giant slalom, Kelly Fish was second and Stephani Brown finished sixth.

Andy Balzarini paced the boys' team with a third-place finish in the slalom and an eighth-place finish in the giant slalom. Craig McLeod was Clarkston's other top finisher with a ninth place in the slalom and 16th place in the giant slalom.

Other finishers for the girls were Heather Laurie, 18th; Amy Spaven, 24th; and Jennifer Hodges, 25th in the giant slalom.

Rick Whittaker helped the boys with a 17th-place finish in the giant slalom and an 18th in the slalom. Dave Huttenlocher added a 25th place for the boys in the slalom.

Up My Alley

Batter up!

By Dan Vandenhemel

Winter has lasted long enough. It's about time we start thinking of spring and summer.

When March rolls around, I forget about Christmas and about the snow and concentrate on baseball and softball.

I don't know what it is about those sports, but they are very exciting to me, at least.

The Detroit Tigers got me started on this baseball fascination. I was hooked when they won the World Series back in 1968.

That glory team of Mickey Lolich, Al Kaline, Mickey Stanley, Willie Horton, Norm Cash and many others had it all. They were the world's best professional baseball team.

It was decided right then that baseball would be my profession.

All through Little League, all through Senior League and high school the desire kept building.

Every February my mitt would be oiled and ready for the upcoming season.

By March, my mother was ready to kick me out of the house for bouncing a tennis ball off of the television screen. The ball came off the screen at different angles to help quicken my reflexes.

One spring, my baseball career ended in high school because of a freak accident and something call a fastball.

Doctors persuaded me to give up baseball after a knee injury. That, plus not being able to hit something I couldn't see was enough to tell me to get out.

A teacher I respected and liked a lot asked me to manage the girls' softball team for him.

At first, I didn't want to be around baseball or softball. Back then, softball was a lower sport. After a while I decided to do it anyway.

I'm glad I did. Not only did I discover softball took a lot of talent to play but just as much knowledge and teamwork as baseball.

The only difference in the sports is that softball can be played by the injured (me) and anyone over the age of 20.

There aren't many baseball leagues for people out of high school or not in college. With recreation leagues, a person can play as long as he wants.

In the softball league I was on a couple years ago, there was a pitcher who was 65 years old.

Between the Tigers, and of all the baseball and softball teams in the area, this should prove to be a great summer.

Young wrestlers top season's expectations

Clarkston Junior High ends season with 8-2 record

By Dan Vandenhemel

At the beginning of the season, wrestling coach Dave Stobbe didn't expect much from the Clarkston Wolverines.

The team finished with an 8-2 record despite having only six ninth-graders on the varsity team. The other nine positions were taken by seventh- and eighth-graders.

"We had a very young team this year," Stobbe said. "Of those six ninth-graders only two were returning from last year. The other four, this is their first year of wrestling."

Many of the wrestlers had strong seasons. Jason Valenzuela and Rob Lund led the team with 9-1 records. They were followed by Mike Norman with an 8-1 record and Pat Cassin with a 7-1 record.

Four wrestlers were tied with 6-1 records: Travis Tiernan, Brent Gwisdalla, Jeff Valenzuela and Pete Sans. Todd Edmunds finished with a 6-2 record.

"We had a really good season," Stobbe said. "With so many wrestlers having winning records, the team has to win a lot."

The highlight of the season for Stobbe was the victory against Sashabaw on Jan. 20.

They won the first six matches to jump out to a 27-0 and went on to win 44-20.

That was a real exciting meet," Stobbe said. "We were fortunate win for us. To beat Sashabaw at home is great."

"It's hard to get two wins in the same season against them, it doesn't matter what sport it is. The competition is so intense between the schools."

In the second meeting between the schools, Sashabaw came out on top 41-20 on Feb. 14.

"That match I can't make any excuses," said the coach. "They (Cougars) did a good job. I'm really happy with the record and the season. A lot of learning went on this season."

JV Wolves grab mythical GOAL title

By Dan Vandenhemel

If a trophy existed for junior varsity basketball teams, it would belong to the Clarkston Wolves. The team clinched the top spot in the Greater Oakland Activities League with a 41-26 victory over West Bloomfield Feb. 18.

"There is no league championship for the junior varsity," coach Tim Kaul said. "If there was we'd have it."

Then they took a 54-53 victory from Pontiac Northern last Friday, putting their record at 15-3 with two more games to go.

"At the start of the season, I figured we would be 11-6 right now," he said. "I thought we would be over .500 but not quite this good."

Defense, the strong point for the Wolves all season, has saved them when the offense faltered.

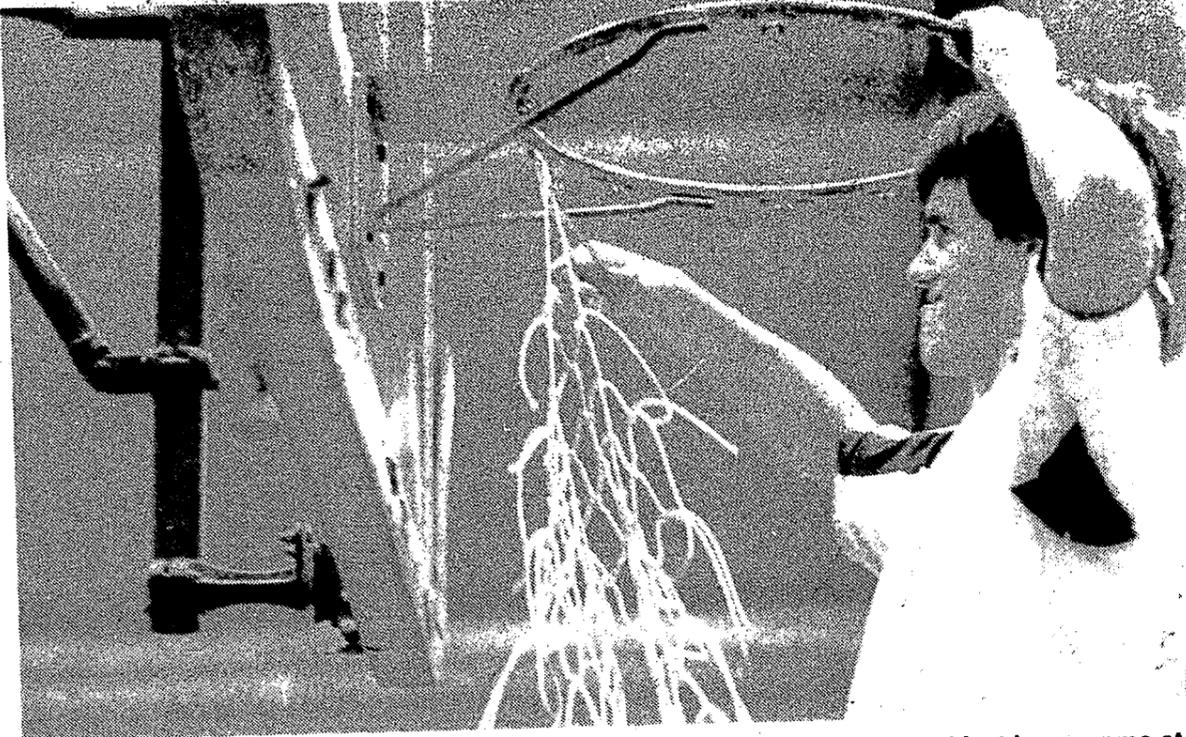

Opponents have averaged just over 43 points a game.

"We've had a terrible time shooting on the road," Kaul said. "At the start of the season we didn't have one dominating player. We've had good balance and picked each other up well from the bench."

Junior Joe Powe helped provide the Wolves with offense when it was needed, even though he suffered an ankle injury during the Lake Orion game Jan. 14.

"I expected to miss the rest of the season but only missed four games," Powe said. "The start of the season when we won, I think the first seven games, helped a lot. That let us get off on the right foot."

One of the steadiest players for the Wolves was sophomore Jim Acton.

Following the victory tradition, Clarkston's senior center Ray Kubani cuts the final string on the net after the Wolves' last home game of the season. They beat Pontiac Northern 71-55.

"I'd like to have done better on offense," Acton said. "But I'm glad we did as well as we did. Everyone worked hard so we could have a winning season."

Sophomore Robert Newblatt started the season on the bench, but by mid-season worked his way into the starting line up.

"I've been playing a lot the last few games," he said. "We came out knowing we didn't have a great (shooter) on the team, but we got by on hustle."

Cougars finish with 6-4 record

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Sashabaw Cougars finished their season with tough 34-29 loss to Lake Orion East Feb. 21.

With the loss, the Cougars finished with a 6-4 record. Two of those four losses were by less than six points.

"With a little luck, we could be 8-2," said coach Greg Alessi. "I think we did pretty well, though, in the last five matches we won four."

Six Cougars won in the Lake Orion meet. They were Brian Duncan at 79 pounds, Walt Svenkesen at 141, Mike Jasso at 148 and heavyweight Jeff McDonald. Winning by voids were Bill Hartley at 158 and Jason Vanderpool at 171.

Hartley went undefeated for the season with a 11-0 record and 10 pins. Svenkesen had the next best record at 9-2. Mike Grable at 108 pounds finished with an 8-2 record.

Tom King set a school record with an eight-second pin. He ended with a 8-5 record and all eight wins were by pins.

Others having winning seasons were McDonald at 7-3, Vanderpool at 5-1, Jasso at 6-4 and Duncan at 4-3.

"We had an inexperienced team this year," Alessi said. "But we are only losing five ninth-graders so we could be better next year."

The highlight of the season according to Alessi was the last Clarkston match. Sashabaw won the meet against the Clarkston Wolverines 41-30 on Feb. 14.

"I was really happy with that meet," he said. "They beat us pretty good the first time around and we came back to beat them at home."

CHS adds soccer to fall sports

With the help of the athletic booster club, Clarkston High School will add soccer to its fall sports program.

Athletic director Paul Tungate said there is a demand in the area for it and a group of parents went to the booster club asking for it.

"The booster club is going to cover the cost in the budget," he said. "Whatever it costs, the boosters will put that much back in the budget."

Tungate said the booster club set a budget ceiling of $3,000 and the school will stay under that price.

"We shouldn't have to go over that," he said. "We've checked other schools with the program and that is well within line."

There will be both a varsity and junior varsity team that will compete as independent teams the first year.

"West Bloomfield and Rochester have soccer programs now," Tungate said. "I think Lake Orion is also trying to start one up. We are hoping for 40 to 50 players try out for the teams."

Five hopefuls

They're on a roll.

The women's bowling team the Five Hopefuls from Howe's Lanes in Independence Township took over first place in the Michigan Women's Bowling Association tournament last weekend.

The team of Jenny Sansom, Wanda Timmons, Lisa Erkfritz, Shirley Kell and Betty Prevo shot 3136 with handicapp to lead the tournament that started Jan. 29 and runs to June 19.

The team portion of the tournament is held in Jackson every weekend at the Summitt Lanes.

"Right now we are in line for the $4,000 first-prize money," Sansom said. "Our scorekeeper said with that score we should drop down to around 10th place."

Last year 1,420 places were paid in the team event.

"Last year we didn't even get the bottom prize of $5 back," Sansom said. "We bowled terrible. Now we have a chance to win it all."

Gymnasts show off talents

An hour before the gymnastic exhibition at Independence Township Hall on Saturday, the gymnasts were warming up.

As they smoothed their routines, some talked about a bit of stage fright while others concentrate on limbering up and keeping the proper formation on the bars, mats and balance beam.

The students and instructors all work with the Pine Hills Academy of Music and Dance through classes offered by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department.

More classes are beginning for girls and there's a new class for boys.

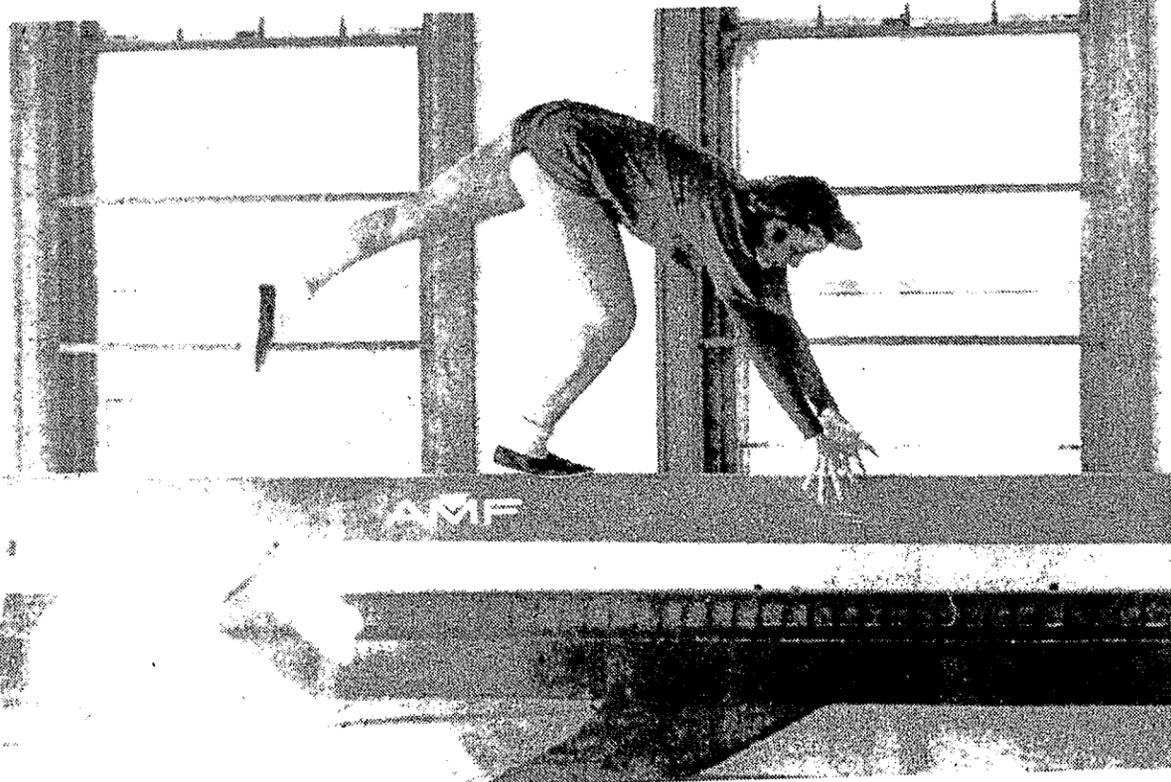

Call the parks and recreation department at 625-8223 or the academy at 625-4215 for more information.

hibition. She lives on Granger Road in Brandon Township.

-Peeking into the past-

The west side of Main Street in downtown Clarkston looked like this in 1903. At the far left is the home of Dr. Sutherland. Still standing, it has served most recently to house retail businesses although none are located there now. The next building visible (from the left) was a mill on the corner of Main and Depot streets. Local historians believe the original building still stands underneath the stonework added in later years to what is now called the Clarkston Emporium. The frame buildings in the next group are no longer standing. They once housed C.O.D. Smith's tinsmith shop (so named because of Smith's method of collection), Running's Pool Hall and Dr. Samuel Bump's dental office. (Photo courtesy of Bob Jones and the Clarkston Community Historical Society.)

$100 surprise

The $100 bill hidden in a pizza kit looked real good to the Brueck family of Middle Lake Road, Clarkston.

"It was in clear plastic under the first pizza crust. I saw it and thought it was fake. I couldn't believe we'd won. We never win anything." Ruth Brueck laughed, adding she and husband Jim have seven children.

"We haven't decided what we'll do with it yet. With seven kids we should probably buy more pizza."

Two of the Brueck children, Jim, a seventh-grader and John, an eighth-grader, are in the band at Clarkston Junior High so the family had first-hand knowledge of the Band Booster's fund raiser to sell pizza kits.

As a sales incentive, $100 was hidden in one of the kits.

In February, 145 kits were sold at $14.95 each, netting the Boosters $4 with each sale, according to a Booster spokesperson.

Recipe file

By Lorna Bickerstaff

Mrs. Bill (Karmen) Smith is sharing her Quiche recipe with us this week. My daughter Ann served the ham version at a shower with a tossed salad and received rave reviews from her guests.

Quiche

- 19-inch unbaked pie crust
- 6½ ounce can of tuna, or ham
- Garlic salt or powder to taste
- 2 c grated swiss cheese
- 4 eggs, beaten
- ½ c milk
- 1 T flour

Cut tuna or ham into small pieces and place on bottom of crust. Sprinkle very lightly with garlic salt or powder. Put cheese over meat. Beat eggs, add milk and flour. Mix together and pour over top.

Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees, turn heat down to 325 degrees and bake until golden brown, about 20 minutes.

Onions, mushrooms, etc., may be added.

Note: On our recipe for Cream Cheese Cake that was in a couple of weeks ago, the following should be added: "Cool cake before removing from springform pan." It can be placed in the refrigerator to cool.

It's even fun to watch as Jeremy Moore gets just one more ride on the dentist's chair in the dental assisting class at the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center in Springfield Township. At the far right is Deborah Spellicy who teaches the class.

Keeping Mr. Tooth Decay away

Proper nutrition and tooth brushing are the lessons of the day as members of the Clarkston Co-op Nursery make a Monday visit to the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center's dental assisting class.

The outing was to celebrate National Children's Dental Health Month and to give the class members some practical experience in working with youngsters, said instructor Deborah Spellicy.

There were some surprises.

When shown photos of food they were supposed to identify as "good" or "bad," many of the children had things to say like, "Ohhhh, that's good!" when chocolate cake, soda pop and candy appeared.

They were corrected, and the lesson went on.

Large sets of teeth, big enough for a giant, appeared and the children lined up to learn brushing skills.

But the most fun of all was the dentist's chair, where the rides were free.

Kendra Eichbrecht enthusiastically attacks the giant teeth as student Susan Fry watches.

Nora Kammer sticks her tongue out in concentration as she brushes away.

Mike Moore is absolutely fascinated with the tooth brushing demonstration. "He's just a little kid," explains Elizabeth Kalush, but then she offers to hold the teeth for Mike and give him some pointers.
