Troubled intersection

By Dan Vandenhemel

The statistics are piling up; so are the cars. The intersection at Maybee Road and Dixie Highway has seen an increase in accidents over the last two years.

In 1981 the intersection ranked fifth in Independence Township with nine accidents.

In 1982 it jumped to third place with 14.

"Without question that's a bad corner," said township Supervisor James B. Smith. "I'm not surprised it's up there in ranking. I think many of the accidents are caused by the M-15 and Dixie intersection when the traffic slows up."

Margaret Priebe of Oakland Office Machine at M-15 and Dixie Highway sees the number of cars coming through the corner at Dixie and M-15.

"It's a hairy area to be in," she said. "My own feeling is that the cars don't stop on Dixie. It seems like the cars are farther down the road at the light here. Both lights are scary spots."

The 14 collisions are a long way from the 63 at one of the county's busiest crossroads, Telegraph and 12 Mile Road.

"That isn't really a significant number of accidents," said Dennis Pajot of the Oakland County Road Commission. "That is not one of the most frequent areas on our list. It's low on the list. As of now nothing is in the program to look into it. Dixie Highway is a state trunk line and if any work is to be done on the intersection, the state will have to be involved."

Pajot said a number of factors could be causing the accidents with some of them not solely related to the intersection.

"Our number one concern is safety," he said. "But if there is a concern about the corner then I could pass it on to the traffic safety department and they'll look into it."

Last year the worst intersection in the township was at Waldon and Sashabaw with 20 accidents.

The Maybee and Sashabaw intersection was a close second with 19.

Both figures are comparable to the total accidents the previous year.

They've all got big future plans

Seven summa cum laude graduates honored

By Kathy Greenfield

The Class of 1983 from Clarkston High School boasts seven top students, all achieving cumulative grade point averages of 3.8 to 4.0.

The practice of honoring all the summa cum laude graduates rather than only naming the top two valedictorian and salutatorian has been underway at CHS for at least 10 years, said Principal Dom Mauti.

"It's pretty hard to identify just two students out of a class of 421," he said. "We feel there are more students who deserve the credit than just one or two."

The grade points averages are figured at the end of the first semester.

Each student was presented with a gold summa cum laude pin during an honors assembly this week.

The grade point averages and future plans of each student are:

3.950—Amy Selvala. She plans to attend the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and major in engineering.

3.896—James Zeleznik. He plans to attend Oakland University, Rochester, and major in computer engineering.

3.893—Marget Nelson. She plans to attend Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, and major in communications.

3.885—Jeffrey Blagg. He plans to attend Michigan State University, East Lansing, and major in computer science.

3.879—Kathy Mullen. She plans to attend Oakland University, Rochester, and major in physical therapy.

3.866—Michael Suran. He plans to attend the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and major in computer science and accounting.

3.812—Jane Coleman. She plans to attend Michigan State University, East Lansing, and major in chemistry.

Say goodbye

All of Independence Township is invited to say goodbye to Clerk Christopher Rose, Thursday, June 16, at 6:30 p.m.

The Independence Township Republican Club is hosting a farewell tea at the Senior Citizen Center Carriage House at Clintonwood Park, 5980 Clarkston-Orion, Independence Township.

Rose resigned three weeks ago to take the post of town manager in Littleton, N.H.

Sheriff's log

Wednesday, thieves stole $600 worth of tires from Randy Hosler Pontiac, 7151 N. Main, Independence Township.

Wednesday, vandals caused $500 in damages when they broke the glass in a gas pump at the Sunoco Service Station, 48 N. Main, Clarkston.

Thursday, thieves stole two bikes worth $591 and $275 from Andersonville Road, Independence Township.

Friday, thieves caused an unknown amount of damage when they smashed the windshield of a car on Andersonville Road, Independence Township, and attempted to steal the t-top.

Friday, thieves stole rims worth $63 from the Rademacher Chevy Inc., 6750 Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

Saturday, two masked thieves entered the Sunshine Food Store, 10759 Dixie Highway, Springfield Township, and stole $20 worth of beer.

Saturday, vandals threw an unknown type of missile off the I-75 overpass and smashed the windshield of a car traveling below on Clarkston-Orion Road, Independence Township.

Saturday, vandals caused an unknown amount of damage when they smashed a lawn statue on Parview Road, Independence Township.

Saturday, thieves broke into a garage on Ennismore Road, Independence Township, and stole a $500 lawn mower and $59 battery.

Sunday, thieves stole a $320 lawn mower from a garage on Fox Chase Lane, Independence Township.

Monday, vandals caused an unknown amount of damage when they threw a bottle off the Sashabaw Road overpass and smashed the windshield of a car below on I-75, Independence Township.

Tuesday, vandals caused an unknown amount of damage when they threw an unknown type of missile off the Holcomb Road overpass and hit a tractor-trailer truck below on I-75.

This information came from reports at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

She's the tops

Clarkston Junior High School's 12-year-old Peggy Agar was named "first in individual problem solving" at the international problem solving competition in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Joette Kunse's prized C.A.T. kids (Clarkston's Academically Talented) took sixth place overall in the competition against 30 schools.

Lone thief sought

Police are looking for a white male, approximately 16 years old, believed responsible for the armed robbery Friday evening of Tina Marie Salon of Beauty, 5879 Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

The boy entered the salon in the Independence Commons shopping center shortly after 6:30 p.m. and held the owner and lone customer at gunpoint while he emptied the cash drawer, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department report.

The thief fled on foot. No one was injured. It is not known how much money was stolen. He was dressed in blue jeans and a navy blue, hooded sweat shirt, the report said. Police later questioned and released an Independence Township teen-ager in connection with the robbery.

Candidates and millage up to voters

By Kathy Greenfield

On the ballot in the Clarkston school district election Monday, June 13, will be seven school board candidates and a 5-mill renewal proposition.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

In some cases, the voting location is different from township elections. Voters can check their voter registration cards which list the location for school elections.

Five candidates are vying for two four-year terms expiring in 1987 on the Clarkston board of education: William L. Medlin, Sara Lou Reabe, incumbent Fernando Sanchez, Elaine Keeley Schultz and incumbent Janet R. Thomas.

Two candidates are running for the one year remaining in the four-year term expiring in 1984 vacated by Addison Hubbard when he moved to Indiana in March: Thomas J. Azoni, who was appointed by the board to fill the position until the election, and David Kithil.

The ballot question is for a renewal of 5 mills for 10 years. The millage provides about $1.75 million a year.

The 1982-83 budget for the district is $13.69 million, and the operational millage rate (including the 5 mills) is 31.29 mills, or $31.29 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

The wording of the ballot proposal follows:

MILLAGE RENEWAL PROPOSAL

"Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Clarkston Community Schools, Oakland County, Michigan, be increased by 5 mills ($5 on each $1,000) on state equalized valuation for a period of 10 years, 1983 to 1992, inclusive, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating purposes (this being a renewal of 5 mills for operating purposes which expired with the 1982 tax levy)?"

The school board candidates were asked by The Clarkston News to answer two questions in writing in 100 words or less and to provide biographical information including their age, length of residence in the community, spouse's name, names of children and ages, occupation, place of employment and education.

Their responses follow.

Thomas Azoni

Thomas Azoni, 30, resides at 5730 Kingfisher, Independence Township. He is a trial attorney with the law firm of Buchanan and Buchanan, West Bloomfield.

He has a bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and he was graduated cum laude from the Detroit College of Law in 1977.

A township resident four years, he and his wife, Elizabeth, are the parents of 5-month-old Lauren. They are members of the Clarkston United Methodist Church.

Azoni was appointed to the school board in March to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Addison Hubbard.

What programs would you eliminate or reduce in order to balance the school district budget?

"Two points must be emphasized. First, the 1983-84 proposed budget is a truly balanced budget. No additional cuts are planned.

"On the contrary, proposals are being discussed to increase the funding of certain programs (for example, computer education) and to recall as many teachers as possible.

"Secondly, the board's policy is not to eliminate programs entirely, but to make across-the-board cuts to minimize the impact on any single group of children.

"After all, it is the high quality of our 'non-essential' programs such as athletics and the scholastically gifted programs that attract young families with children in the area."

Why do you feel you should be elected?

"I believe my training as a lawyer has given me the ability to find workable solutions to the difficult financial problems facing the school district.

"I was appointed to the school board during a most difficult period in the contract negotiations with the teachers.

"Together with my colleagues on the board, we were able to arrive at a contract which fairly compensates the teachers yet preserves the financial integrity of the school system.

"This impartial approach to problem-solving led not only to my appointment to the board of education, but also led to an endorsement of my candidacy by the Clarkston Education Association."

David Kithil

David Kithil, 43, resides at 7973 Pine Ridge, Independence Township. He is employed by the Eastman Kodak Co. as a district manager for business products.

He has a bachelor's degree from the College of Emporia, Emporia, Kansas.

He and his wife, Lorna, are the parents of Jenny, 17; Susan, 15; and Steven, 10.

Kithil states that during the past two-and-one-half years he has attended nearly all school board meetings.

He and his wife have served as the Clarkston coordinators for Citizens United to Restore Education (C.U.R.E.).

He is a member of the Clarkston Athletic Boosters and has participated in the P.T.O. He is presently chairman of the Clarkston United Methodist Church Scholarship Committee.

What programs would you eliminate or reduce in order to balance the school district budget?

"The Clarkston schools presently have a very good, no-frills basic program. I do not favor reducing or eliminating any part of this program. In fact, I feel that certain areas such as computer education need expansion in order to prepare our students for their future.

"If circumstances beyond our local control such as additional Executive Order cuts make it necessary for us to adjust our program, I would favor making small program reductions in all areas.

"I feel that we should continue to offer as full a program as possible, and that a balanced budget should be achieved only through consolidation, not elimination of programs."

Why do you feel you should be elected?

"Through my involvement in school board meetings and C.U.R.E. I have come to understand the serious problems that confront our school district.

"I believe that my 19 years of business experience has prepared me to deal with the financial problems facing our schools.

"Additionally, with my own children presently attending the elementary, junior high and high school I will be sensitive to the needs of students at all levels.

"If I am elected to this one-year term it is my intention to seek re-election next year."

William L. Medlin

William L. Medlin, 32, resides at 7152 Snow Apple, Independence Township. An employe of the Ford Motor Co. 14 years, he has also been a realtor with Group One Inc. two-and-one-half years.

A 1968 Clarkston High School graduate, he attended Oakland University, Oakland Community College and the Ford Management Training Center.

Medlin has lived in the Clarkston area for about 25 years. He and his wife, Judith, are the parents of 4-year-old Keith.

What programs would you eliminate or reduce in order to balance the school district budget?

"Clarkston operates a basic, no-frills program. Therefore, any reductions or eliminations would jeopardize the quality of education in the district.

"With the increase in state aid and the additional millage possible with the Headlee roll up, the possibility of balancing the budget is increased.

"If there was still a deficit, it may be necessary to look at non-academic areas for reduction to maintain a balanced budget."

Why do you feel you should be elected?

"I feel that I should be elected because it is time for new ideas and perspectives.

"Having lived in the community for 25 years has enabled me to get to know a great many people in the district.

"I feel that the school board should be more responsive to the needs of the taxpayers and the children of the community."

Sara Lou Reabe

Sara Lou Reabe, 55, resides at 7660 Allen, Independence Township. She is a teacher at Mason Junior High School in Waterford Township and has been in education over 30 years.

She attended Clarkston High School and received her master's degree from Oakland University as a reading specialist.

A resident of the area most of her life, she has lived in the township 15 years. She has five children, four of whom have graduated from college and one presently attending college.

Voters always come through

There's a grand calmness about the 5-mill tax renewal question on the Clarkston school district election ballot June 13.

Fact is, as far back as anyone can remember, district voters have never defeated a renewal request.

When we asked Assistant Superintendent Mel Vaara what would happen if the 5-mill renewal was defeated, he said, "The community's going to support us. We're not looking at alternatives."

We concur with Vaara's opinion that the voters will come through.

There's an abundance of community support for children in the Clarkston area.

It continues to be a desirable place to live because it's a good environment for raising children and when they're grown, that attitude of caring for young people doesn't diminish.

For the record, the 5-mill renewal is for 10 years for operating purposes. It provides about $1.75 million to the school district yearly.

During the 1982-83 school year, the total operating budget was $13.69 million.

Including the 5 mills, district residents pay 31.29 mills a year for operating purposes and an additional 1.4 mills for debt payment.

One mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation, so a district resident with a home assessed at $40,000, or one-half market, value would pay annual Clarkston school taxes of $1,307.60 for the total 32.69 mills.

CLARKSTON NEWS LETTER POLICY

We welcome our readers' opinions. Letters to the Editor must be at The Clarkston News office by noon Friday to be considered for the following week's paper. We reserve the right to edit all letters for the sake of brevity and clarity and to limit the number of letters from any one individual on any one issue. We don't publish open letters or copies of letters sent elsewhere. Letters must be signed and a phone number and address included. Names will be withheld on request.

Jim's Jottings

Dodging the questions

A couple observations over the airways.

Recently Senator Reigle was asked to comment on whether he thought President Reagan would seek re-election. WJR's J.P. McCarthy was asking the questions.

Naturally, Sen. Reigle did not answer the question. Direct answers are not really expected when interviewing politicians.

The Senator began by talking of the age of Mr. Reagan, and how old he would be at the next presidential oath-taking. He said several people when they get that age tend to be forgetful, particularly on details.

Reigle mentioned a meeting of heads of state when Reagan didn't have some of these details memorized, but knew only highlights of the policy.

Continue supporting millage

This coming Monday, I plan to vote to renew the millage that helps support Clarkston Community Schools, and urge all our district's citizens to join me.

Our high school has a full seven-period day, unlike several around us, and like the wealthier districts to the south.

We have a solid academic program, good vocational education opportunities, and a good athletic program, in spite of lean times and state aid cutbacks.

We have a good, dedicated teaching and administrative team. The two-year contract recently concluded without a strike was responsibly conservative.

Our public schools offer a quality education for all, regardless of their ability to pay.

That's certainly more American than the M-X, and far more vital to our nation's health and future.

Robert Walters

P.S. Janet Thomas has been a responsible school board member and deserves to be re-elected.

'Kids still count in Clarkston'

A few years ago, bumper stickers appeared that stated "Kids Still Count in Clarkston."

They still do. Kids are our most precious commodity. On June 13, 1983, we are asked once again to support them.

A "yes" vote on the 5-mill renewal will mean a lot for our children and ourselves:

- The current staff reduction of 28 teachers can be reduced.

- Moderate class sizes can be maintained.

- As a community, we can continue to ensure the value of our individual property which is so much related to the quality of our schools.

- We can meet the demands for tomorrow by training young people who will be prepared for its technology. To do this, we can expand our curriculum in areas like science and math (perhaps even expand computer education).

- We can prevent an increase in future unemployment by working for the goals above.

In short, a "yes" vote will provide us with what this community has always wanted—a quality educational system that meets its needs and those of its children.

"Kids Do Count in Clarkston." Of this, we can all take pride.

Al Bartlett, President
Clarkston Education Association

Wait a minute

by Kathy Greenfield

By Monday morning I'd had it, so I took the time before I embarked through the pouring rain to work to be sure I had an umbrella.

On numerous occasions the week before and the week before that I spent half my time with my clothes drip-drying while I was wearing them.

During off-work hours, family members' time was divided between staying indoors because it was raining and going outside to mow the lawn.

The grass was growing so fast you could almost watch it, just like cornstalks.

Someone came into The Clarkston News office and suggested I write something nasty about the rain.

He said to blame it on President Reagan because he's getting blamed for everything else.

I saw ducks swimming in a pool created by the rain on a sidewalk.

This has to be a great year for trilliums growing in wooded areas along the roadside. If the rain keeps up, the wildflowers won't have to be protected by law anymore.

I tried with limited success to take photographs from underneath an umbrella.

I can't remember seeing healthier flowers—or weeds—in my flower beds.

Then, wonder of wonders, the sun was shining Monday evening.

The person who said, "If you don't like the weather in Michigan just wait a minute" must have been predicting springtime 1983.

by Jim Sherman

McCarthy asked the Senator if he was saying senility was going to be brought into the campaign. Reigle repeated the concern he'd already voiced. He avoided the word senility.

I wonder if the Senator was testing the waters for the Democratic party, if he believes the president is into a stage of forgetfulness, or if he was forgoing the senior vote in favor of juniors?

He's too much a politician to not have had something in mind when he voiced his thoughts over 50,000 watts.

I realize I listen to (and refer to) WJR radio too often. I've tried Cozy radio, WWJ talk radio, music of the 50's radio, and even CKLW, but during my listening hours, early morning, WJR has it.

Except for weather. Nothing personal.

Nothing about their being able to read charts, study air movements, observe meteors, or look at computer printouts.

It's just that when it's raining a weather person should at least be able to suggest there might be a hint of rain in the forecast.

About 11:30 Monday, May 30 the weather person gave a report on WJR. "Partly cloudy today with chance of rain Tuesday."

The next call to WJR was from Triple A in Dearborn. The man said, "It's raining on Southfield in Dearborn."

I realize the weather people are in Flint, but they should have a way of telling if it's raining when it's raining.

Yes, I know! I should read the weather forecasts and map in the daily newspapers. They are always right.

Vote 'yes' on the school millage tax renewal

We've found that most people realize that a school millage renewal does not mean any new taxes to the individual taxpayer, however, most people do not realize what a defeat of the renewal would mean to our school system.

These 5 mills have provided $1.75 million in programs and services to our school system which, if not renewed on June 13 by a YES vote, would result in severe cuts affecting all the "Kids in Clarkston." Thanks to the citizens of Clarkston, since 1981 when all the surrounding schools in northern Oakland County have been forced to drastically cut the programs they offer, Clarkston has been able to avoid shortened school days for our students and still maintain extracurricular activities.

Although many cutbacks have been made, we believe our students are still provided with a good, basic, no-frills education in Clarkston.

Since 1978-79 our state government has cut a quarter of a billion dollars from the K-12 state education budget, forcing our school board to compensate for the cuts in state aid by cutting many teachers, delaying needed repairs to buildings, decreasing supplies, eliminating many auxiliary employees and increasing class sizes.

This is the fault of our state government whom we are lobbying through C.U.R.E. (Citizens United to Restore Education) to restore funds to education.

We hope you will vote YES on June 13 for the 5-mill renewal to maintain the educational quality for our students and the desirability of living in a community with a good school system.

Get out to the election polls

With the school board election approaching quickly, I wish to encourage the voters in this district to make a concerted effort to get to the polls on Monday, June 13.

Our elected school board officials play an important role in the education of our children and it is our duty to bring new and concerned members to the board.

In March, the board appointed Thomas Azoni to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Addison Hubbard.

He was chosen over nine applicants to fill the vacancy.

He has since been instrumental in the contract negotiations with the teachers and is diligently attempting to save the gifted program in the Clarkston schools.

I feel the election of Thomas Azoni to the Clarkston school board would be an investment in the educational system in Clarkston.

Leslie Alan Lupovich

Kithil endorsed for the board

We are writing to publicly endorse the candidacy of David Kithil and his election to our school board.

In addition to an excellent knowledge of financial matters and broad business understanding, we have seen in Dave a sincere desire to work hard to provide his children and ours with a quality education.

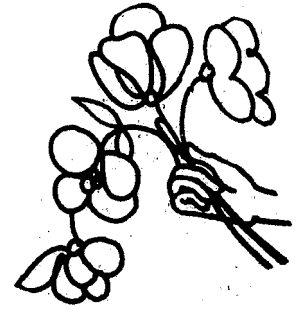

Clarkston schools can be well served by encouraging a thoughtful and concerned citizen to participate in formulating board policy and procedures.

Please support David Kithil, vote June 13 for your children and our schools.

Betsy and Dan Travis

Bouquet

Paper drive thanks

A bouquet of thanks to the community for their support of the paper drive for Clarkston Elementary. Our proceeds were $530.

If you want to clean out your garage, St. Daniel Church is having a paper drive this weekend, June 10 and 11.

Please continue saving your papers. The elementary school is having another paper drive Nov. 11 and 12.

Connie John, Chairperson
PTO Ways and Means Committee

Kithil favored again for seat

This is to express our endorsement of Dave Kithil as a candidate for the Clarkston School Board.

It has been our privilege to know the Kithil family virtually from the day they moved to Clarkston, and they quickly established themselves as people who contribute to the community in which they live.

Dave's active involvement in matters concerning the schools is well known to everyone who knows him.

In addition, Dave recently chaired a scholarship committee at the Clarkston United Methodist Church and did a fine job in leading the group in the development of a church scholarship program.

Dave is also vice president of the men's group in the church.

In short, Dave is a person who becomes actively involved and, once involved, sees things through to a fair and logical conclusion.

In our view, Clarkston is fortunate to have a person of his caliber as a candidate for school board.

'If it Fitz...'

Blue on Blues

by Jim Fitzgerald

Some time ago I wrote about an elderly Flint man who said his Blue Cross-Blue Shield policy was canceled for no reason, with no notice. Since then, I have many times wished I never heard of Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Lots of people who thought they were insured have been shocked to learn from their doctors that the Blues refused to pay their medical bills. None of these people received any warning, beyond regular billing, that they faced cancellation. All of these people wrote or phoned me to gripe about the lousy service they get from the dirty rotten Blues.

After a while, I began to feel like a jerk. I kept telling those angry people what a Blues executive told me: Yes, it's Blues policy not to notify subscribers when they've been canceled for allegedly not paying their premiums. Yes, sometimes errors are made and subscribers are cut off unfairly. But "usually it takes no more than a day or two" after the mistake is discovered for those people to be reinstated.

Don't believe it.

Some Blues executives living on Cloud 99 may think it takes only a day or two, but Blues employees who field customer complaints know the truth, and they tell it: It will probably take from several weeks to 90 days for an application for reinstatement to be reviewed and acted upon, no matter how quickly a back payment is made.

IN THE MEANTIME, the cut-off subscribers are without health insurance, no matter how vehemently they insist the only reason they didn't pay their bill was they never received it. If they have the money, they can pay their medical fees themselves and hope to be reimbursed if and when the Blues reinstate them. If they don't have the money—and many don't—they can put off non-emergency health care and hope they don't get hit by a truck before holy reinstatement day arrives, if ever.

I heard from one woman forced to take a long-planned vacation with no medical insurance. She was so worried she couldn't have a good time. And then there's Abraham Krosnick of Oak Park. The Blues canceled him even though he'd paid his premium and had the canceled check to prove it.

It was a computer error, a Blues customer-service representative told Krosnick, and he would certainly be reinstated—in 90 days or so. When Krosnick's daughter complained to me, I told her to phone the Blues vice-president who gave the "a day or two" estimate. But she couldn't get beyond his secretary. So I phoned him, and he quickly apologized to Krosnick who, like magic, was indeed reinstated in a day or two.

Marvelous. When a subscriber who proves he paid can't get quick reinstatement without the aid of a cranky columnist, it's easy to believe the run-around given to canceled customers who swear they didn't receive bills but can't prove it.

THE BLUES STOPPED sending cancellation notices to save money. They justify the move by pointing out that every year 25,000 of their five million subscribers automatically cancel their coverage by ignoring a premium bill, and only a handful of those 25,000 ever claim they were cut off by mistake.

That's not good enough. The 4,975,000 subscribers whose premiums are usually paid on time deserve an official warning of impending cancellation. They shouldn't have to learn from their doctor that they've had no medical insurance for three months.

On April 28, in answer to a complaint from the Area Agencies on Aging Association of Michigan, Blues President Richard Whitemer wrote the usual limp explanation, but then added: "Nevertheless, we are aware that such a cancellation, even if only temporary, can be a concern for these few subscribers. We are in the midst of an internal review of this program and we expect a decision to be made in the near future."

I hope that decision is to resume cancellation warnings. Even if there are only a few of them, I worry about people who lose their medical insurance without knowing it. Also, I'm sick of everyone singing the dirty rotten Blues to me.

What programs would you eliminate in order to balance the school district budget?

"I don't think it is necessary to eliminate any program to balance the budget, just better management of funds.

"Our teachers are dedicated to the education of all children.

"Clarkston has always been and still is a 'no-frills' school district.

"The children need healthy bodies as well as healthy minds. It is time we provide physical education coordinators within our system.

"Clarkston must continue to keep pace with the 'world of computers.' Our potential work force must be trained for the world of tomorrow. We must not have an outdated curriculum."

Why do you feel you should be elected?

"I feel we need a change. Board members should represent the taxpayers and not central administration.

"I have the qualifications to serve as a board trustee, the knowledge of how a school district functions and how to implement educational curriculum into board policy.

"I have the interest and the time to devote to the position.

"I have a definite interest in the progress and the future of our school system.

"Public education is the backbone of our democracy. I have faith in the public education system and want to serve the taxpayers as a representative."

Fernando Sanchez

Incumbent Fernando Sanchez, 59, resides at 5173 Sashabaw, Independence Township. He is an employe of the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corp. in the Fiero Plant, Pontiac.

He and his wife, Marcella, have resided in the township 28 years. They have had seven children go through the Clarkston school system and one child currently in the high school.

Sanchez, who has served 15 years on the Clarkston board of education, is a member of the Clarkston Athletic Boosters and the Knights of Columbus.

What programs would you eliminate or reduce in order to balance the school district budget?

"I would try to maintain as many programs as possible, but the C.A.T. 'Gifted Program' is one I would eliminate or try to make self supporting.

"At home when we are trying to balance the budget, we cut out the frills. It should be the same with the school district. For example: SCAMP is a self-supporting organization."

Why do you feel you should be elected?

"I would like the school system to maintain the basic programs of reading and writing.

"I feel there should be an improvement in the mathematics area and would like to see some training in computers.

"Also, I feel the continued involvement of citizens and parents to assure the board of the wants and needs of the community is very important.

"My past experience on the board will be very helpful in achieving these goals."

Elaine Keeley Schultz

Elaine Keeley Schultz, 34, resides at 4682 Clinton Drive, Independence Township.

A Clarkston High School graduate, she attended Pontiac Business Institute and Oakland Community College.

She has lived in the Clarkston area all of her life except the 20 months she spent in Germany with her husband while he served in the United States Army.

She and her husband, Luther (Skip), are the parents of Heidi Lynn, 11½; and Jason Edward, 10.

What programs would you eliminate or reduce in order to balance the school district budget?

"I do not feel that any programs should be eliminated or drastically reduced in Clarkston.

"We have never been a district with frills and I don't feel we can cut any further in the area of programs.

"I would look at the area of administrative positions and try to combine some positions in order to reduce costs."

Why do you feel you should be elected?

"I have been involved with the Clarkston school district for 22 of my years as a student, secretary in the board of education office and an involved parent.

"I feel the next step for a concerned individual such as I is the board of education.

"I am not currently employed outside of my home; thus I have the time and energy to investigate issues facing the board of education and vote accordingly."

Janet R. Thomas

Incumbent Janet R. Thomas, 44, resides at 5614 Warbler, Independence Township. She is employed by Harold Paper Co., division of Copco Paper, as administrative manager in charge of accounting and personnel, office management and purchasing.

She has a bachelor's degree from the University of Detroit in accounting.

Residents of the community 15 years, she and her husband, Michael, have four children: Gina, 20; Carrie, 18; Kim, 15; and Kevin, 12.

Thomas has served on the board of education eight years. She is president of the board, a post she has held three years.

For seven years she has been the Clarkston board representative on the Oakland County School Board Association Legislative Committee, four years as designate to Oakland Schools and two years on the association finance committee.

She has also served four years on the Oakland School Board Association Board of Directors and is currently treasurer.

She is a member of St. Daniel Church and the Clarkston Community Women's Club.

What programs would you eliminate or reduce in order to balance the school district budget?

"Since the purpose of education is to develop the full potential of each student, it is preferable to cut across the board rather than eliminate programs that are effecting positive educational experiences.

"Whenever possible I would prefer consolidation of course offerings or a reduction in the number of sections rather than elimination.

"Consortiums with other districts should continue to be explored as a means of cutting costs. This has been done successfully.

"Continual review will maintain the strength and relevance in the curriculum we desire.

"Non-instructional costs must continue to be evaluated to effect possible savings."

Why do you feel you should be elected?

"During the eight years I have served on the board, I have demonstrated my willingness to spend the time and effort necessary to be an informed board member.

"I can bring an understanding of school finance; an awareness of the diverse opinions of the public; experience dealing with school problems; and knowledge that with a thorough planning and evaluation we can maintain a strong curriculum during this critical period.

"I am committed to public education and believe I should be re-elected because I can continue to make positive contributions and I am willing to spend the time necessary to do so."

Kammer fund safe; Smith's glad

By Marilyn Trumper

The state legislature's voted to keep hands-off $16 million in the Kammer Land Trust fund—which means the Oakland County Parks Department may yet see purchase of 308 acres of the proposed Edward C. Levy Co. gravel mine.

"That's the first step. We've still got Levy," said township Supervisor James B. Smith, who panicked weeks ago upon learning the state's plan to dip into the fund and finance a summer jobs program for youth.

"I guess the government finally decided it's more important to save the fund."

"I feel much better. I think (the victory) was a mutual effort of senators (Phillip) Mastin and (Richard) Fessler and myself testifying before the committee.

Reading clinic offered by Oakland

For the first time, a reading clinic conducted by Oakland University for pupils in grades K-6 is coming to Clarkston.

The program is scheduled Mondays through Thursdays, June 27 to July 19, from 1 to 2:30 p.m. at Pine Knob Elementary, 6020 Sashabaw.

Pupils will be asked to appear on Thursday, June 23, for an initial screening.

The clinic is staffed by experienced teachers completing a master's degree program at OU.

Each teacher will work with two students under the direction of Dorsey Hammond, professor of education at the university.

The clinic is open to all pupils, regardless of their reading skills, but those experiencing some difficulty in reading are urged to apply.

At the completion of the program, parents will have a conference with the teacher and a written report of the pupil's progress.

There is a $15 fee for the program. The application deadline is Thursday, June 16.

Enrollment is limited to the first 40 students who apply.

For more information call Oakland University at 377-3065.

Independence ponders hiring township manager

By Marilyn Trumper

Independence Township's exploring the concept of hiring a township manager, and it's become an issue among board members.

At a special meeting May 30, Supervisor James B. Smith proposed outgoing Clerk Christopher Rose for the job, but Rose declined.

"I told them I had considered it, was in support of the concept, thought it would be a good move for the township and that I was flattered, but did not want to accept it at this time," Rose said after the meeting.

Rose resigned as township clerk three weeks ago to take the job of town manager in Littleton, N.H. His last day here is to be July 1.

If the board appoints a township manager, Smith has indicated his job as supervisor would become part time.

It's expected the clerk and treasurer would remain full time, but following an election that could change with a vote of the people at the annual meeting in April, Rose said.

According to Rose, a township manager can be hired by board vote without a public hearing.

In addition, there is no specific list of duties for the job, with the township manager's authority determined by the board.

Unlike the eight township managers in

"...it's something needed as a basic step in growth in the township"

—James B. Smith

Michigan, the duties of the seven superintendents running charter townships in the state are specifically spelled out by the law, Rose said.

Trustee Daniel Travis favored hiring a township manager, Trustee Larence Kozma and Treasurer Frederick Ritter were against the plan. Trustees Dale Stuart and William Vandermark were absent.

"With all due respect to the clerk, he's made the decision to leave. And I'm against developing a position to entice him to stay when he's made the decision to move," Ritter said after the meeting.

"Whatever it is that's caused him to move wouldn't go away. It will still be there."

In addition, Ritter said he's unsure how much Independence Township needs a manager. "I don't agree with the concept of a part-time supervisor getting a part-time salary. I'm concerned that would preclude a number of people for that position."

Ritter also expressed concern over the past two years' tight budget controls, and said another salary would decrease the general fund.

He disagreed with the argument a township manager would escape political controls saying, "He would be just as political as the board that appointed him."

Kozma agreed.

"It was thrown out in concept without specifics. As it's thrown out, I have problems with it," Kozma said.

"There's the claim that the job (of supervisor) is just too much for one person to administer, and the proposal is to make it not quite part time, not quite full time so the supervisor can do other things.

"My position is that's why we have a full-time supervisor," Kozma said.

And the change would allow only retirees or the very rich to run for office, he said.

Supervisor Smith favored the plan.

"I feel it's something needed as a basic step in growth in the township," he said. "It will bring into the township a person with technical administrative knowledge."

After discussion, the board tabled the issue for further consideration at a later date.

The concept's at work in 8 locations in state

By Marilyn Trumper

With its population of 20,000, Independence will be blazing trails in state history if it hires a township manager.

No other township of comparable size has the position, according to John La Rose, deputy director of the Michigan Township Association.

"Really, it doesn't have so much to do with the population as it does with the mixture of board members," he said.

"It depends how ready they are to turn over some of their responsibilities to the manager. It allows a board to meet as a village council would meet. It frees them of a lot of responsibility and allows them to concentrate on the job of being an elected official."

Unlike charter townships run by superintendents with specific responsibilities spelled out by law, a township manager's duties are mandated by the board.

To date, eight townships in the state have managers:

- Ada Township, Kent County; population 6,000.
- Cascade Township, Kent County; population 10,000.
- Chocoy Township, Marquette County; population 5,685.

- East China Township, St. Clair County; population 3,300.

- Genoa Township, Livingston County; population 9,200.

- Saginaw Township, Saginaw County; population 33,000.

- St. Joseph Township, Berrien County; population 10,000.

- Northville Township, Wayne County; population 12,987.

Traditionally the offices of clerk, treasurer and supervisor become part time when a manager is hired, he said.

Saginaw Township Manager Robert Holman says that's the way his community operates, but until five years ago it still had a full-time treasurer.

"Except for the clerk, treasurer and supervisor, all other departments are under me. And that's only because by law the supervisor is the supervisor, the clerk the clerk and treasurer the treasurer.

"And I have some authority over those departments too like regarding punctuality, vacation time and other things."

The clerk and treasurer's salaries are $10,000 a year and the supervisor's $12,000, he said.

Holman's salary is $38,000.

Located just outside the city of Saginaw, the township is 28 square miles.

"The manager really takes the place of the supervisor on a day-to-day basis and leaves the clerk and treasurer alone.

"The public continues to see the supervisor, the person they elected to office, as the one they take their problems to. And for the most part, I'm removed from the politics.

"My job is administrative, not political," Holman said.

"There's more stability between elections when you have one person in charge who sets policy. But of course, I'm at the mercy of the board. If they decide I'm out, I'm out."

AIDS:

Mysterious killer has been reported in one county resident

BY AL ZAWACKY
Leader, Review Editor

Oakland County has logged its first case of AIDS—the mysterious, usually fatal disease that destroys an individual's immune system. Statewide, six cases of the disorder have been reported, all in the Metro Detroit area, according to Harry McGee, field epidemiologist at the Michigan Department of Public Health in Lansing.

AIDS—short for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome—accounted for two deaths in Michigan last year, according to McGee.

But the disease poses little threat to the general population in Oakland County or elsewhere, he added.

All six Michigan cases to date fall in one of the AIDS high risk groups: homosexuals, Haitians, intravenous drug abusers and hemophiliacs.

However, the disorder's apparently long incubation period—possibly as long as a year—could mean that more individuals in the state are infected without being aware of it.

By means that have researchers baffled, AIDS attacks and destroys the body's immune system, leaving the victim open to a host of rare cancers and infections.

"People in good health will all of the sudden come down with infections that wouldn't affect a normal, healthy person with a normal immune system," McGee said.

Over 1,300 cases nationwide have been reported, and the disorder has been blamed for 500 deaths. Ten to 15 new cases nationwide are being reported every week, McGee added.

"We're apparently dealing with an infectious agent transmitted from person to person," he said.

"AIDS appears to be similar to hepatitis B, in that it seems to be transmitted by blood and possibly body fluids."

McGee said the AIDS outbreak has created definite concern among state and national health officials.

The nation's top health official, Dr. Edward N. Brandt Jr., recently declared AIDS to be the 'No. 1 priority' of the U.S. Public Health Service.

But prospects for a vaccine or effective treatment anytime soon are cloudy.

"The answer could come tomorrow, or it could be years away," McGee said.

Health questions? 'Ask the Doctor'

"Ask the Doctor," a program offering community residents an opportunity to ask a doctor questions about their health and health care, is being sponsored by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac.

Dr. John Pridmore, a member of the medical staff at St. Joseph Mercy, will lead the discussion and answer participants' questions.

The program will be held at the Mature Minglers Site at 1020 East Square Lake Rd., Bloomfield, on Wednesday, June 15, at 11 a.m.

The program is free and open to the public. For further information, phone St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's Department of Outreach at 858-3155.

Assertiveness for Seniors' slated for June 15

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac will sponsor a program entitled "Assertiveness for Seniors" on Wednesday, June 15, at 1:30 p.m.

Psychologists Karen Chapin and Deborah Stern, members of St. Joseph Mercy's department of mental health, will discuss ways in which people can express themselves in a more positive and assertive manner.

The program will be held at the Oakland Community College Highland Lakes campus in Union Lake. It is free and open to the public.

For further information, call St. Joseph Mercy's Department of Outreach at 858-3155.

We just HAD to move!

This is just two semesters' accumulation of paperwork for Mary Carol Ridgeway. At 48, she went back to school to get her high school diploma and is one of 10 graduates from this year's Clarkston adult education program.

Never too late to graduate

By Marilyn Trumper

At the age of 48, Mary Carol Ridgeway is finally graduating from high school.

As a teen she was three credits short of receiving a diploma, got married, and never went back until last fall when she jumped feet first into the Clarkston Community Education program.

School became a priority when a store she'd worked at for 10 years closed.

"I started looking for a job and found out all they wanted was someone with a high school degree and experience," Ridgeway said.

"Then my mom read about Clarkston's program in The Clarkston News and I was committed. I wanted to finish."

Ridgeway began with classes in oral communication, consumer economics, total office procedures, earth science, reading—and parenting.

After raising six children Ridgeway laughs and says, "I got an A-plus in that class."

There's a bonus with this Pomp and Circumstance and a graduating class of 10.

Ridgeway's youngest son John, 19, is graduating through adult education at Walled Lake.

"I beat him by two days," Ridgeway beams.

Right now she's working part-time for a cleaning company.

"But I'm not dedicating my life to folding clothes," she laughs. "I think I'll take another office class next fall—and who knows, maybe college. I'd like to get into an office and work. I've got a long way to go before 65 comes up."

"I could work awhile," she said, real matter-of-factly.

Contract settled

Independence Township AFSCME workers have reached a tentative agreement in the proposed three-year contract which goes before the union for ratification Thursday.

According to Linda Richardson, president of the 18-member local 2727 Chapter B, the contract outlines a specific hourly raise for workers.

In past years, negotiations have gone into the fall, "...so really we're quite early," Richardson said. Negotiations began in January.

New officers

The Independence Township Republican Club has elected new officers for the '83-84 year.

Jon Gaskell is president; Tom Ritter, vice president; Lillian Higgins, secretary; and Holly Stephens, treasurer.

Board members

Two Clarkston area residents have been elected to the board of directors of Family and Children Services of Oakland.

R. Kirk McLaughlin will serve as treasurer and Cindy Love is one of eight new members of the board.

The non-profit agency provides counseling for families and individuals.

The agency has offices in Pontiac, Berkley, Southfield, Walled Lake and the Clarkston-Waterford area.

"An individual suffering from sacroiliac strain may not be able to stand straight without experiencing sharp pain."

One of the more common areas of injury to the back is the slipping of the sacrum or tailbone, in relation to the bones of the hip.

This is commonly referred to as sacroiliac strain. Many times there is widespread ligament and muscle strain. The sciatic nerve can become involved which can create further disability. An individual suffering from sacroiliac strain may not be able to stand straight without experiencing sharp pain.

A similar condition can be found along any part of the spine.

For example, if the strain is located in the upper back, the arms and shoulders may become involved. Heightened pain, whether lying, standing or sitting, may be caused by motion. If left untreated this pain and strain may cause further damage and complications.

Corrective chiropractic adjustments to the involved vertebrae can bring about rapid relief of the symptoms and correction of the disorder.

You or someone you know may be suffering needlessly from upper and lower back pain at the risk of furthering complications. Please give our office a call if back injury is suspected.

-Independent view- Billboard birthday

Don Kevern may have thought the quiet, dignified surprise 50th birthday party tossed by friends last week was it.

Wrong.

Yet to come are a cake presented this week during choir practice at the Clarkston United Methodist Church...and a billboard.

That's right, the thousands of motorists who pass by the corner of M-59 and Pontiac Lake Road will know "Nifty Don is Fifty."

"That's the closest one we could get," said David Galley explaining the location of the sign.

As Galley put it, "he'll get roasted again."

Kevern, who resides on Hummingbird Lane in Independence Township, is the principal of West Bloomfield's East Hills Junior High School.

His official birthday is June 14.

'Rough night' leads to ban on band

Pine Knob Music Theatre got off to a high and low start in its 1983 season with the first two acts.

Three soldout days of the Beach Boys was a "fun show," according to George White, community relations director, and went off without a hitch.

Monday's Arrowsmith concert was a "rough night" and 60 fans were evicted from the outdoor music theater.

Theater manager Steve Finkel was on the line to New York announcing Pine Knob never again wants to see the heavy metal rock band.

"Never, never EVER!" Finkel said when contacted by The News.

"They're the worst I've seen in the seven years I've been here—and they'll never play at any of our venues anywhere. I thought Black Sabbath was bad. I thought Ozzie Osbourn was bad. But they're the worst."

Finkel criticized the stage crew for refusing to turn down the sound following complaints from theater neighbors.

"And I'd like to apologize to the Clarkston community for that. They'll never play here again."

Pine Knob parallel

Clerk Christopher Rose's move to Littleton, N.H. as town manager is already drawing parallels to his Independence Township post.

Just three miles to the east of Littleton is a hill called Pine Knob.

"I can't get away from it," Rose laughed, referring to the Pine Knob in Independence, a $9-million complex on Sashabaw Road with music theater, golfing, ski resort and gourmet restaurants.

No shortage of ways to spend

The $35,400 in federal funds from the Jobs Bill program may pay for part of a master drainage study for Independence Township.

That's what Supervisor James B. Smith is shooting for.

According to Smith, the township has applied for an additional $69,000 from the county's $900,000 "special projects fund" to finance the rest of the project, and $18,000 for the Maybee Road Park.

Communities throughout Oakland County are applying on a competitive basis for that $900,000 surplus, Smith said.

Independence is already guaranteed the $35,400, Smith said.

The Jobs Bill program is designed to create jobs in the community, Smith said, and township engineers Hubble, Roth and Clark have indicated the job of drafting a master drainage plan will allow them to put "...a number of fieldmen and draftsman back on the payroll who have been laid off."

Clarkston Village has been allocated $2,500, and plans to use the funds to pay an employee to install park playground equipment and make sidewalk repairs.

In addition, Trustee David Raup is seeking $30,000 from the $900,000 surplus to complete the park gazebo and finance a footbridge over the river.

Trustee Fontie ApMadoc has asked for $125,000 from the surplus to implement planner Betty Lee Francis' renovation plan for the downtown district.

Clerk Rose and family say goodbye

By Marilyn Trumper

"I've always been a person who cries easily. I'll do a lot of crying in the next month."

—June Rose, wife of the Independence Township clerk, Christopher.

Boxes are stuffed with belongings. The organization for moving has begun.

By July 1, it's expected Christopher Rose will be at his town manager's post in Littleton, N.H., pounding the sidewalks and scrutinizing want ads to find a place for his family to stay.

June, their daughters Maggie, 2, and Abby, 4, will follow soon after.

They've called Independence Township home for 10 years and Chris, re-elected to three consecutive terms, has been clerk for six years.

He's lived in Independence Township all his life. It's time to say goodbye.

"People call here and I can only take so many of those calls at one time. I've always been a person who cries easily, and I'm going to do a lot of crying this next month," June said, her eyes welling with tears.

"We're going to miss a lot of people—and I don't want to say goodbye.

"I wish this last month were over. This is going to be hard for us to wrap up. It's an emotional time.

"I went into the office today to take pictures of everyone at their desk, and started to cry. I had to walk away."

The challenge of mastering a new job and learning a new form of government are what appeal to Chris.

"I don't think I'll have the same pressures there that I have on my time here," he said. "And I don't have to worry about politics, about being re-elected."

"There's a lot of room to grow and progress and that's what (the Littleton town fathers) want. They want Chris to make the job what he wants to make it," June said.

Littleton boasts a strong grassroots movement. Last year 1,600 voters came out for the three-day-long annual meeting and reviewed the 148-page annual report.

"Their form of government is totally different than the one here. They operate under the second oldest state constitution," Chris said. "I'm really looking forward to learning."

clerk has resigned his post to take the job of town manager in Littleton, N.H., and they're saying goodbye to the Clarkston area.

June says the Roses are the kind of people who "...like to sit home at night and work on a puzzle with the girls."

"They're very close to their father, and we think this new job will give him more time with them."

And Abby, June says, was ready to move upon receiving the news that Littleton has a McDonald's.

When the Roses are established, and the folks from Clarkston come to Littleton for a visit, "...everyone will have a place to stay," June said.

Summer classes begin June 20 at NWOVEC

Summer School '83 at the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center begins Monday, June 20.

Classes meet Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. through July 28.

Registration is now taking place in the following programs: computer assisting accounting; dental assisting; electronics; heating, air conditioning and refrigeration; metal machine trades; recreational and utility vehicle services; retailing and marketing; and total office procedures systems.

High school students entering their junior or senior year in the fall, graduates under the age of 20 as of Sept. 1, and people out of school without a diploma are eligible to enroll tuition-free.

They must pay a $10 lab fee at the time of registration.

High school graduates over the age of 20 must pay a tuition and materials fee of $145.

Tuition students will be admitted to classes not filled by non-tuition students and will initially be placed on a waiting list.

Notification of acceptance into classes will take place the week of June 15.

All students registering for computer accounting must have one year of bookkeeping, accounting or the equivalent, and those registering for total office procedures must have one year of typing or the equivalent.

Students must register in person at the center, 8211 Big Lake, Springfield Township. For more information, call 625-5202.

Wolves upset highly rated Waterford Township in district finals

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Clarkston Wolves upset the Waterford Township Skippers 1-0 Saturday to capture their second district title in three years.

With Annette Ulasich pitching for the Wolves and Chris Dietz going for Township, the game figured to be a pitchers' duel.

The teams combined for only six hits, five by Clarkston and one for Township.

Clarkston scored the lone run of the game in fifth inning on Stephanie Wagner's RBI double.

The inning started with Becky Buhl leading off with a double. Dawn Willett went in to run for her but was thrown out at third on a bunt by Julie Marshall.

With the outfield playing around to right field, Wagner lined a shot down the left field line for the game winner.

Township loaded the bases in the seventh inning but a good running catch by shortstop Buhl behind third base ended the game.

"The defense was important in the win," said coach Carla Teare. "We played flawless defense. It was the best we've ever had."

The other major factor in the victory was Ulasich. She pitched in the semifinal game earlier in the day against Waterford Mott and won 3-0.

"She has been our most consistent pitcher," Teare said. "She has good endurance, I wasn't worried about her. Julie Marshall is also an outstanding pitcher and was ready if we needed her to come in."

Clarkston might have been looking forward to playing Township during the game with Mott. Twice before, the Wolves mercied Mott.

"The girls were a little down during the game," Teare said. "But once the Township game started, I've never seen so much enthusiasm. The kids wanted the game so badly."

"This wasn't a case of one player carrying the rest of team. Everyone contributed through both games. Annette pitched great but our defense caught the ball. I couldn't ask for anything more."

The Wolves will host the regional tournament at Clintonwood Park Saturday. They will play Midland Dow High School at 11 a.m.

The victors will meet the winners of the Lapeer West-Lanse Creuse North game at 1 p.m.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and students at the gate.

Wolverines

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Clarkston Wolverines' 10-game winning streak came to an end last Wednesday at the hands of the Sashabaw Cougars.

The 2-1 victory by Sashabaw was the second of the baseball season over Clarkston.

Jim Ruell led off the second inning with a triple for Sashabaw and scored on the sacrifice bunt by Kevin Krupp.

Steve Weidemann scored the winning run on a passed ball in the fifth inning.

Clarkston scored its lone run in the fourth inning when Scott Giroux stole home.

"Both teams played well," said Sashabaw coach Jim Koslosky. "The boys really wanted to beat them bad. They put a little extra into it."

Sashabaw finished with a record of 5-7. Clarkston has a 11-2 record with one game left.

Dave McDonald's Clarkston team, lost the first game of the season to Sashabaw 7-4, then reeled off the next 10 victories.

"This has been an excellent season for us," McDonald said. "You have to give them credit. I'm not sour about the losses to them, but we wanted to win."

One reason Clarkston had the winning streak is the pitching. Steve Atkinson is 7-0 and Mike Walter has a 1.54 ERA.

"Another thing is that we didn't walk anybody," McDonald said. "We averaged around one walk a game and that's great, especially in junior high."

Sashabaw left-hander Ed Adkins picked up the win in both games against Clarkston. He and Ruell were leading pitchers for the Cougars.

throw. Sashabaw wins the game 2-1 to stop the 10-game winning streak by Clarkston.

"It was great. That's our objective every year, to beat Clarkston," Koslosky said. "We've done it the last two years now."

"I thought our pitching was OK this year," Koslosky said. "We only got blown out in two games. We were in all the other games. We hit a little better than I thought we would. Ruell led the team with a .488 average and 12 RBI's."

On the other side of the field, Clarkston's Giroux led with .413.

Clarkston set school records for most consecutive wins; Atkinson tied for most wins by a pitcher; Walters had the lowest ERA; and the team has committed the fewest errors.

"This has been just a fantastic season for us," McDonald said. "If we win the last game, we'll have the best winning percentage in the school's history. We didn't have much speed or power. I hoped to get good pitching and defense. What I got was beyond what I expected."

Clarkston avenges early loss to Sashabaw

By Dan Vandenhemel

In the first meeting between Sashabaw and Clarkston junior highs in softball, the Sashabaw Cougars came from behind in the seventh inning to win.

But last Wednesday, the Clarkston Wolverines got their revenge with a 12-6 victory.

Sashabaw was on the verge of a big rally in the seventh again with the bases loaded, one out, and their best hitter, Sue Stefanski, at the plate.

She sent a line drive into the outfield. But Clarkston center fielder Sue Lovelady made an outstanding catch and doubled the runner at second to end the game.

"That was the turning point I guess," said two more were by one run. We were close most of the games, but the record doesn't show that."

Stefanski led Sashabaw with a .452 average with two home runs and 28 stolen bases. Michelle Taulbee and Lisa Spina followed with .407 and .400 respectively.

Clarkston's leading hitters are McCreery, Lovelady and Kelly Cruz.

"McCreery is the best all-around player I've got," said Rupprecht. "My catcher Michelle Sprung was great. That was the key to the whole season—without a catcher, you can't do much."

"This year I had a well-rounded team," she said. "They will be going into the high school with a lot of experience."

Clarkston scored in every inning but the fifth on the way to their overall record of 8-4.

They were led by winning pitcher Lisa McCreery with three hits, and Alysa Gettig and Laurie Brandt with two hits apiece.

The loss put Sashabaw's overall record at 7-6.

"Our record doesn't show how good we were," Foster said. "Two of the losses were by two runs and Sashabaw coach Nancy Foster. "I'm not saying we would have won if it fell in but things would have been a lot different."

"That was a fantastic catch," said Clarkston coach Holly Rupprecht. "We didn't fall apart in the last inning like we did the first time we played them."

Records fall for Sashabaw at county meet

By Dan Vandenhemel

Records were made to be broken.

At the Oakland County ninth-grade track meet May 28, the Sashabaw Junior High Cougars set new school and meet records.

Jennifer Farough won the 110-yard and 330-yard low hurdles to help the Cougars girls' track team to an eighth-place finish overall. She set a new meet record in the 330-yard hurdles with a time of 0:47.6.

A school record for Sashabaw was also set by Brenda Lawson in the 2-mile run. She placed sixth in the meet with 13:16.86.

And the girls' 440-yard relay team of Karen Jordan, Ruth Acton, Jamie Giroux and Farough placed third but set a school record with 0:54.46.

The Sashabaw boys' team finished ninth overall and Mike Petherbridge ran the 330-yard low hurdles in 0:34.15, good for third in the meet and a new school record.

In the 2-mile run, Jeff Toretta didn't place in the top six but set a record with 10:58.9.

The girls' team at Sashabaw finished with a 5-2 record.

"This team is second only to the team that won the county meet two years ago," said coach Chris

Krueger. "We've had more depth this year. There were nine girls that we counted on to come through in the meets. Last year it was just a few."

For Kelly Burnette's boys' track team at Sashabaw, their 6-2 record and their performance surprised a few teams.

"When we beat Rochester Van Hoosen they were 6-0 at the time," Burnette said. "The coach came up to me and asked where the team came from."

"This was a good season because we did what we set out to do, supply the high school with some good track athletes."

Wolverines deserve praise despite record

By Dan Vandenhemel

The records are not good indicators of how hard the Clarkston Junior High boys' and girls' track teams worked this season, according to Mike Taylor.

The boys finished with a 2-5 record and the girls at 1-6.

The season came to an end at the Oakland County ninth-grade track meet May 28 at Milford.

Shivonne DeBoer ran her way to a third-place finish in the 880-yard run. Her time of 2:34 is a new school record.

Other school records set during the year were by Sue Kithil in the 2-mile run and Nancy MacLennan in the 330-yard low hurdles.

For the boys, Todd Edmunds, John Luvera, Eric Johnson and Rod Parke teamed to finish sixth in the 440-yard relay.

"I'm not disappointed with the way we ran," Taylor said. "When we set three school records with only 11 girls on the team, that's not bad."

"In the last meet of the year at Rochester Van Hoosen, I let some of the kids switch events or drop one if they wanted. Kithil was only 8 seconds off the record in the 2-mile and I let her run in just that instead of the mile too," he said. "The old record of 14:23 was set in 1979 and Sue ran away with it. Her 13:58.79 is almost 25 seconds better."

Taylor said the boys' team was close in many of the meets but couldn't seem to finish on top.

"It would not have taken much to finish at .500," he said. "The guys jelled together near the end."

"They made some little mistakes that cost us some points. But looking back, both teams really tried to work hard. They wanted to come out and help work on the track after the season."

"This is the best group I've had in setting up for the meets too. That tells you something about the kids."

Up My Alley

Midnight rendezvous

By Dan Vandenhemel

There is only one thing worse than having your car break down at 2:30 in the morning. And that's waiting for the tow truck until 4:15 a.m.

Friday night, my car bit the dust again. This time the wheel fell off. Luckily I was coming up to a stop light when it happened.

At first I thought the tire had dropped into one of the many potholes because the corner of the car went down about six inches.

Only after putting the car in reverse to move it out of the hole did I discover it was a little more serious.

With the tire being held on by only the top ball joint, I tried to back the car off the road.

Well, after 10 minutes of jockeying the car around I moved it maybe 3 feet and it had turned sideways in the road.

Being 30 miles from home didn't help matters but I was only a mile from a friend's house. As soon as I started walking toward her house, a car pulled over and offered me a ride.

Not thinking too clearly, I jumped in and immediately wanted to get out.

The guy was obviously drunk and drove like it. After 5 seconds of white-knuckle riding, I told him to stop at the light because there was a phone there.

OK, so I lied. There wasn't a phone there but I felt safer walking to Michelle's house. The first phone call was to AAA. The dispatcher said he'd send the closest wrecker service. That was at 2:30 a.m.

She drove me back to the car and waited until the tow truck came.

In the meantime four cars stopped to see if we needed help, but no tow truck.

A half hour went by when a police car stopped to see what the trouble was.

I'll never again say, "Where are they when you need them" because they were right there.

They called AAA to see what the holdup was and the truck was reported to be on another run.

The police were nice enough to stay with us until the wrecker finally came.

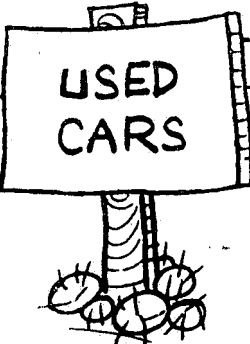

Once in the truck going to the service station, being tired and frustrated, I asked the driver what took him so long to get there.

"I was at another accident," he said with a yawn. It sounded like the accident was he fell back to sleep after he got the call way back at 2:30 a.m.

Center mural competition starts

Artists' renditions of Clarkston life past and present can find a permanent spot on the walls of the newly opened Clarkston Community Learning Center.

A mural competition is underway sponsored by the Clarkston Community Education Department its advisory council.

Deadline for entries is July 15.

Meet legislators

Residents interested in asking their legislators questions may attend the Meet Your Legislator Night sponsored by the Oakland Landlords Association.

The event is planned Friday, June 10, at Roma's of Bloomfield on Telegraph Road in West Bloomfield.

Nine legislators are to be in attendance including State Rep. Mat Dunaskiss (R-Lake Orion), whose territory includes Independence and Springfield townships.

Following dinner, each legislator will have a few minutes to speak and a moderator will then field questions from the audience, according to Lee Todd, member of the association.

TYPEWRITER RIBBON, ADDING MACHINE TAPE. The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main St.

"The purpose is to assist with development of the learning center as a comprehensive center for all kinds of things including cultural arts," said Kathleen O'Donnell, community education director.

A $10 entry fee must accompany the artist's 11-by-14 or larger design.

The renderings should reflect aspects of life in the community of Clarkston—its history, culture, architecture, business and/or people.

Cash awards and gift certificates will be presented to those who win the contest.

The grand opening this fall of the center will feature a reception for the artists whose works are selected.

The center is located at 5275 Maybee in Independence Township.

Entry forms may be obtained at the center or by calling 673-7756.

Also wanted are contributions of cash or gift certificates for the award fund. Call Michelle Gaskill, president of the council, at 625-8010.

Stereopticon

Gone, but not forgotten

by Betty Duris

Maybe because it was Memorial Day. Or maybe it was because of something Marilyn Rosner had said.

Whatever the reason, this past Memorial Day I found myself driving through intermittent rain to the northeast quadrant of the township, to Dartmouth Road.

Alone, under late afternoon leaden skies, I found myself at Case Cemetery.

Always on that day I take lilacs to the cemetery. Another cemetery. At Christmas it's fresh pine or cedar bows, usually daisies in early May, and in September, birthday roses. But always on Memorial Day, I take lilacs to the cemetery.

This year it was different.

Oh, I took lilacs as planned. Not flags nor war memorials nor commemorative wreaths—it's not that kind of remembrance.

I arranged the backyard bouquet, dusted off the stone, smoothed the grass, and felt much better for my visit.

But on the way home I kept recalling Marilyn's story of a cemetery in Independence Township that had in time past fallen prey to age and vandalism and indifference.

My pilgrimage of many years duration is to a cemetery impeccably groomed; a cemetery of tree-lined, meandering roadways; of flowering shrubs; of tulip beds and rose gardens.

"Gone but not forgotten"—that mournful phrase—sadly but aptly describes its reflected care.

More lamentable still, a description, "Gone AND forgotten." This seemed to have been the fate of Case Cemetery.

Marilyn Rosner is doing something about that.

Her Clarkston Community Historical Society committee, along with an assist from the township board, has begun the long and tedious task of restoring and preserving the old cemetery.

Already in place is a new fence to protect the 30-yard square from further trespass or destruction.

An expert will be called in to research the sites and restore the markers to a new dignity and proper placement.

Then the grooming and maintenance deserving a historic landmark will complete the project.

So this Memorial Day I also visited Case Cemetery.

A battered, crudely wrought wooden sign hanging from corssbeam timbers marked the entrance.

An anonymously placed American flag stood sentinel at the gate.

The fence did its job. It kept me out.

I managed to tramp through the surrounding myrtle and viny undergrowth, occasionally challenging the chain link barrier for a better look at the worn markers.

A few stood erect. Most, like a fallen house of cards, were in tumbled disarray.

"Catherine," in a curved horseshoe design, the most imposing upright read. "June 15, 177__, Died May 12, 1854."

Nearby stood a simple stone tablet—"David J. Swett," inscribed in large letter carvings. "Born March 9, 1810, Bath, N.H. Died February 9, 1882, Brandon, Mich." Underneath, what appeared to be a quote from scripture had weathered indiscernible.

A misty rain began as I reached the far corner of the grounds.

There, just inside the fence, a once proud granite leaned precariously, propped into position by a gnarled tree limb wedged into the ground.

At the opposite end an eerie sight puzzled me.

An isolated grave stone rested outside the fence. It appeared to be sandstone, with no inscription at all, identified only by the side lines of the sculpting chisel.

I started to leave as the rain intensified, but some forgotten gesture drew me back.

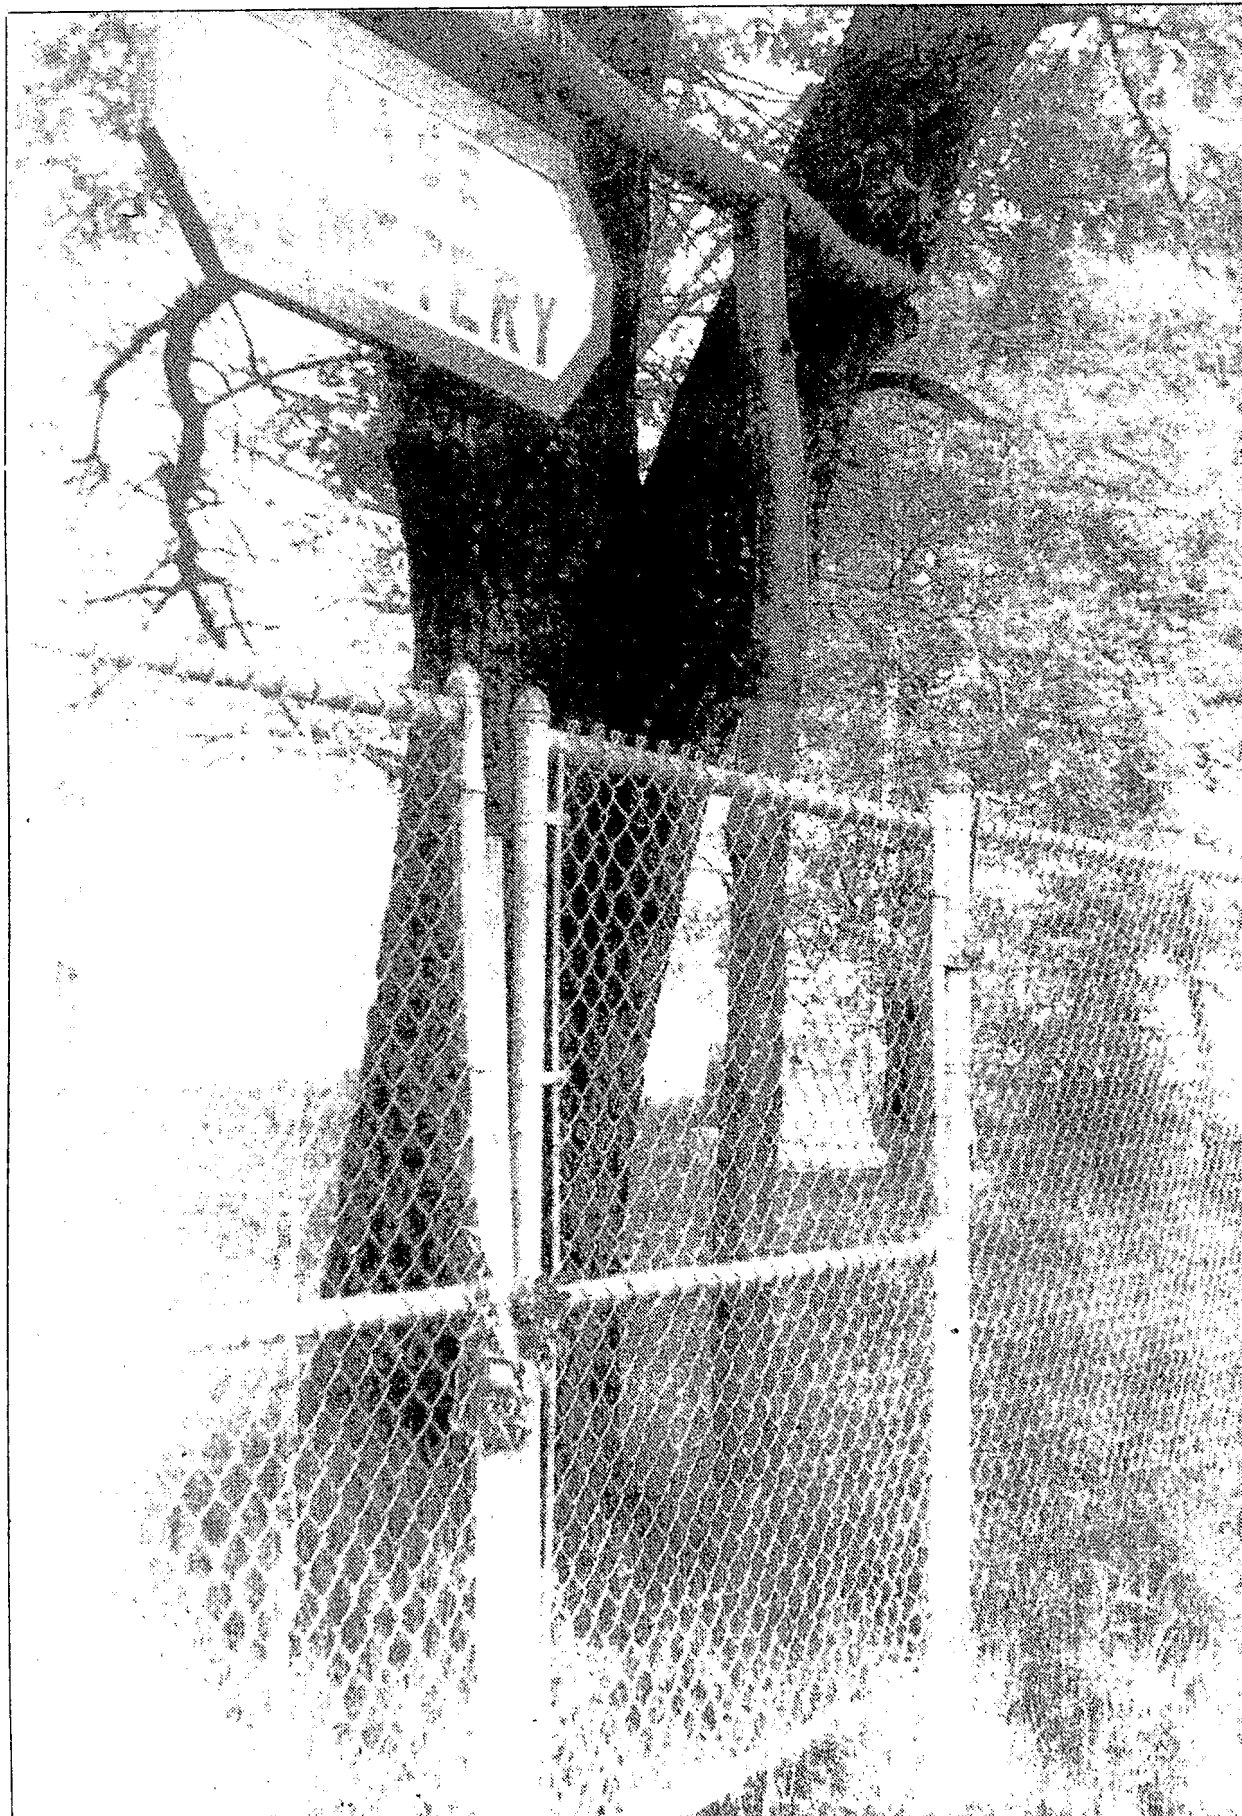

Braving the ire of a disgruntled yellow jacket and moving aside some rusty discarded Bud cans, I snapped off a few nearby yellow and white blooms.

Hurrying back toward the now rain-drenched flag, I placed a bouquet of wild flowers at the gate.

Express to coach soccer clinic June 15

The Express is coming to town.

Members of the professional soccer team, the Detroit Express, will be coming to the Clarkston High School to help with the First Annual Clyde Watson Soccer Camp.

Watson, a member of the Express, has been helping the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department with its soccer league.

The camp starts June 15 and runs weekdays through the 21st.

The CHS football field will be the setting and the camp is to meet from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

It is open to all ages for a cost of $35 a person.

The price includes individual instruction from the Express, an Express T-shirt, an Express painter hat and one ticket to an Express game.

Those interested should register at the recreation department or call 625-8223 by June 14.

Counselor of year

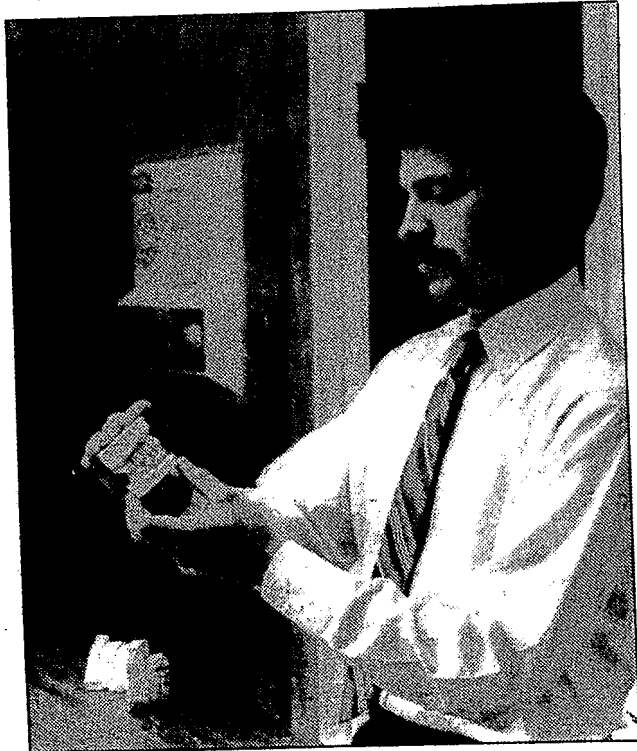

Dr. Thomas K. Stone has been named 1983 Counselor of the Year by the Oakland Area Counselors Association.

A professor and admissions counselor at the Highland Lakes Campus of Oakland Community College in Union Lake, Stone was recognized for his work in math anxiety, computer-assisted guidance and Human Potential Seminars.

Stone is a nationally certified counselor, certified Human Potential Seminar trainer, officer of several professional associations and a counselor in private practice.

He is a three-time graduate of Wayne State University.

Stone and his wife, Arlene, reside on Robertson Court, Clarkston.

molds of the patients' mouths help Dr. Jack Shader tell how the teeth are aligned.

Alternative teeth-straightener

A new procedure called functional orthopedics offers an alternative method for teeth straightening, according to dentist Jack Shader.

He has been using the procedure for about three years in his dental practice located on Sashabaw Road in Independence Township.

"It is fairly well known in Europe," he said. "It has really picked up in popularity the last five years."

The differences between orthodontics and functional orthopedics are the patient does much of the work himself, less time is spent in braces and teeth are rarely pulled, he said.

"First we give them a simple retainer with adjustable screws," Shader said. "They do the adjustment themselves at first but have to come into the office once a month for a check up."

"A normal orthodontist will pull some teeth so the others will have space to straighten out. With this (orthopedics) we adjust the teeth and sometimes the bones and muscles so the teeth will have more room."

Shader said when teeth are extracted there can be problems.

"The bones usually move inward," he said. "It almost looks like they were punched in the mouth. If they have any kind of nose, it will enhance it."

With functional orthodontics, on the average about one year is saved from wearing braces, he said, with the retainers worn six to 12 months and the braces from 12 to 18 months.

"The retainers save most of the time, but there is nothing better than braces for rotating and straightening the teeth," Shader said.

"The nicest thing about this is that the kids cooperate. The unsightly headgear isn't needed with the retainer, and the kids love that," he said. "When you get the kids to cooperate, you've got it made."

Big furry deal

Everybody loves Garfield and some lucky person will win this bigger-than-life-size version during the Ortonville Countryfest planned June 24, 25 and 26. Here, 2½-year-old Stefanie Thompson chats with the furry fellow. Garfield is being used by the owners of Willow Pointe Flowers & Gifts, 425 M-15, Brandon Township, to promote the Countryfest. He will adorn their float in the parade on June 25 at 10 a.m. in downtown Ortonville and they'll distribute tickets for the drawing during the parade. People may also visit the shop now to see Garfield on display and register for the giveaway June 26 at the Countryfest.

Mail Express comes to town

To compete with other over night package delivery companies, the US Post Office has come up with Express Mail Next Day Service.

The Clarkston Post Office started the service March 26 and Post Master William Kinsley says it is becoming more popular everyday.

"There has been a dramatic increase in this office," he said. "In the near future I can see deliveries on Sundays and holidays too."

To mail a letter or package up to 2 pounds costs $9.35. The post office can handle a package as large as 70 pounds.

"If the package is here by 2, it can be delivered to 90 percent of the United States by the next day," said Connie Keeley of the post office. "We are hooked up with the Detroit airports. It's a new network."

There are eight types of Express Mail offered in Clarkston.

What's new in business

"The two main types are the post office to post office and the post office to home," Kinsley said. "If you need something earlier in the day than the normal delivery, you can arrange to pick it up at the post office."

Dave Morris hangs the Express Mail banner at the Clarkston Post Office on M-15 in Independence Township.

The overnight mail service started in the area March 26.

Swordfight heralds summer reading

A kick-off to remember awaits children who enroll for the Independence Township Library's Summer Reading Program.

On Saturday, June 18, the Knights of Olde will battle it out in swordfights at Independence Township Hall's third floor from 2 to 4 p.m.

The event is free, but those who attend must be members of the reading club.

For children in grades one through six, the club meets weekly at the library beginning June 22.

When youngsters sign up, they can also guess the number of marbles inside the fat glass jar at the library, with the winner to be announced the first day.

The library is located at 6495 Clarkston-Orion, Independence Township.

For more information, call 625-2212.

Honors

Numerous academic honors at Alma College were received by three Clarkston High School graduates this year.

Laura Acton was graduated summa cum laude with a bachelor's degree and she received departmental honors in education.

She was also one of three students nominated for the Barlow Trophy. Although she did not receive the trophy, nomination itself is considered an honor. Her mother, Paula Bare Acton, received the Barlow in 1957.

Laura was also one of 29 elected to receive Senior Leadership Awards. Her campus activities included being copy editor of the weekly student newspaper, volunteer at the Gratiot County Mental Health Center, volunteer track and field coach for Alma Middle School, section captain for Mother's March of Dimes and a tutor for Cambodian children and a Turkish student.

She was also a member of several campus organizations and the Gamma Delta Alpha Honor Society.

Jane Acton, a sophomore, received a President's Cup award for the highest academic average in her class.

She was also introduced as the charter president of Alma's Kappa Alpha chapter of Alpha Mu Gamma, a foreign language honorary society.

The Acton sisters' parents are John and Paula Acton of Sashabaw Road.

Freshman Penny Mueller received the President's Cup award for having the highest academic average in her class.

She also was selected as Alma's Outstanding Freshman Chemistry Student for 1982-83. She received a copy of the 64th edition of the "Handbook of Chemistry and Physics" and an award certificate.

Penny is the daughter of Wayne and Juanita Mueller of Parview Road.

In addition, the three women were also named to the college dean's list for the winter term ending April 15.

Rekawek, DeBuysser exchange vows

Traditional vows with a full wedding mass united Elizabeth Joan Rekawek and Randall Ray DeBuysser in marriage May 20.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Yast at St. Anthony de Padue Catholic Church, South Bend, Ind.

Bouquets of white carnations with dusty rose ribbons and bows decorated the altar. A similar bouquet was placed on the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The bride wore a white Swiss cotton ribbed voile wedding gown. Its fitted bodice was accented with layers of cotton lace.

A wreath of tiny white silk flowers and angel's lace held the waist-length, lace-trimmed veil. She carried a bouquet of five white orchids.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Theresa Rekawek of Ortonville. Bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Mary Sue Rekawek of Clarkston, and Jacqueline Johnson of Bloomfield Hills.

Their gowns, sewn by the bride's mother, were street-length, peasant-style dresses of medium-dusty rose cotton.

Best man was Craig Hamilton. Groomsmen were Ric DeBuysser, the bridegroom's brother, and Kevin Swartz, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The wedding party was held at the Erskine Park Club House.

The bride's parents are Janusz and Elizabeth Rekawek of Transparent Road, Independence Township.

The bridegroom's parents are Francis and Irene DeBuysser of South Bend, Ind.

The bride graduated from Clarkston High School in 1979. Her husband is employed as a manufacturer's representative by Fultz and Stromberg Sales Company.

Following a wedding trip to resorts along Lake Michigan including Point West, Holland; The Homestead, Glen Arbor; and the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island; the newlyweds made their home in South Bend.

An Apple for the Teacher
by Janet Mack

23 years of service

Editor's note: Designed to give teachers in the Clarkston school district recognition, An Apple for the Teacher is the work of a Clarkston Education Association committee. The columns appear bi-weekly. This week's author is Janet Mack, a teacher at North Sashabaw Elementary School.

Marlene Sewick, a teacher in the Clarkston schools for 23 years, was born in Detroit and raised in Walled Lake.

She earned her bachelor's and master's degrees at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

Marlene's classroom experiences include 12 years at Andersonville where she worked with fourth-, fifth- and sixth-graders.

The past 11 years have been spent at North Sashabaw Elementary in the fifth grade.

She has also involved herself in the sixth-grade outdoor education program at North Sashabaw, devoting many hours to the planning as well as participating in the actual week out at camp.

Among Marlene's extracurricular interests are bowling, reading and crafts such as crocheting and hand-painting tablecloths and napkins.

A private person with a great fondness for the whole human race, Marlene has a puckish sense of humor.

Many people in the community recognize Marlene as an active, visible member of the Clarkston Village Players.

The Players have benefited from Marlene's participation as president, vice president, secretary and director. She has also appeared in many productions.

Marlene has served on the negotiating team for the Clarkston Education Association and has served this group in other important capacities as well.

Marlene on her education philosophy says, "I would like children to leave my classroom with a good, basic foundation in writing skills.

"They should be able to express themselves in a manner reflecting good grammar and spelling.

"I also would like them to leave with the idea that a little hard work will go a long way in life."

Marlene Sewick

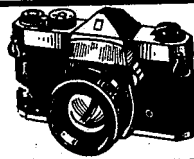

April 31 was the big day for 10 Clarkston High School students—they were named to the 1983-84 varsity cheerleading squad. Seated in the bottom row (from left) are Paula Ziolkowski, senior; Fe Red, senior; Deanna Stuart, senior;

John E. Masterson

Funeral service for John E. Masterson of Springfield Township was held June 4 at St. Daniel Catholic Church with the Rev. Charles Cushing officiating.

Masterson, 58, died June 1. He was vice president in charge of purchasing at Volkswagen of America and former assistant director of purchasing at Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corp.

A member of St. Daniel Catholic Church, he was on the board of directors of the Girls & Boys Clubs of Metro Detroit and on the board of trustees at Hillsdale College.

He was a Navy flier during World War II, earning the Distinguished Flying Cross and three air medals during the battles of Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Surviving are his wife, Beryle; children, Warren of Clarkston, Christopher of Ohio, Mrs. Randon (Patricia) Haight of Farmington, Mrs. George (Rebecca) Saad III of Texas and Daniel of Utah; and three grandchildren.

Following the service, burial took place in All Saints Cemetery, Waterford.

Memorial tributes may be made to the John Masterson Memorial Brain Tumor Research Fund, c/o University Hospital, Ann Arbor, MI 48109.

Arrangements were made by the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home, Independence Township.

Arthur H. Hughlett

Funeral service for Arthur H. Hughlett of Independence Township was held June 7 at the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home with Dr. James Anderson officiating.

Hughlett, 61, died June 4. A veteran of World War II, he was a retired employe of General Motors Truck & Coach. He attended Kirk in the Hills church.

Surviving are his wife, Mary; children, Mrs. Dennis (Diane) Patrick of Williamsburg, Ky., and James of California; and sisters, Avis Annibal of Flint, Deema Mallory of Lake Orion and Ezma Joy Hughes.

Following the service, burial took place in Otawa Park Cemetery, Independence Township.

-Ann's ark-

by Ann Glenn

We came along 131 in Kalamazoo and saw one deer bound across the highway.

Another was in an island surrounded by highway. A third was about to cross one highway to the island, then perhaps cross again.

What can you do to alert traffic from a car?

We put on our hazard lights, slowed down, used stop hand-signals from both windows, proceeded to a point of visibility and safety, and motioned cars to stop.

I moved toward the intersection and noticed around the curve that a fourth deer was struggling to escape into the brush.

He had been hit, or he had run into the oncoming car. The car stopped; the man was shaken.

Another car stopped and the man grabbed the deer by one hind leg. The other hind leg was completely broken off.

The deer struggled furiously.

I grabbed a beach towel from our van and ran to the scene. We rolled the deer to his side, one person held the front legs, one the hind leg, and I blindfolded him with the towel and held his head and neck.

My husband directed traffic and freed the other deer from danger. Another woman went to the phone.

From 9-3 on a work day the state Department of Natural Resources should be called; you can try the police or an emergency veterinary clinic and hope for help.

Sometimes no one cares, or no one will take the responsibility.

I held firmly, and talked quietly to the deer.

The men at the feet and I talked. The one who hit the deer said it made a horrible scream on impact that he would never forget.

The other man commented on the exquisite creature and the tragedy and the impossibility of hunting such beauty.

Three people, total strangers, communed about the glory of nature and of life and tragedy, and prayed in our own ways for peace for this creature.

What are the most important first aid measures?

1. Immobilize the animal.
2. Blindfold and tie or tape the mouth.
3. Stop bleeding with pressure on the wound or the artery above.
4. Call for help.

As you help, more questions will arise: Should the animal be destroyed or healed?

This deer, in my opinion, could have survived in a preserve on three legs and been a visual lesson in care and responsibility for humans.

Should people who have the means be given permits for missions of mercy like this? I believe so.

The nubles on his head were velvet and soft, his eyes full of life, and his coat sleek and gorgeous over rippling muscles.

SYNOPSIS

Of Action Taken by the Independence Township Board Special Meeting - May 31, 1983

The meeting was called to order at 7:40 p.m. Roll: Kozma, Ritter, Rose, Smith, Travis, present; Stuart, Vandermark, absent.

1. Discussed the possible appointment of a Township Manager and tabled action on this to a later agenda.
2. Closed the meeting to discuss labor negotiations.
3. The meeting was closed for a short time, the meeting reopened.
4. The meeting adjourned, the time being 9:00 p.m.

All votes were unanimous unless otherwise indicated. Special meetings of the Township Board are called as necessary with notices of the meetings posted on the doors of the Township Hall at least 18 hours in advance of the meeting.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the proposed variance may be examined at the Independence Township Building Department during regular hours each day Monday thru Friday until the date of the Public Hearing.

Respectfully submitted
Christopher L. Rose, Clerk
Beverly A. McElmeel, Secretary to the Building Official

The sheriff arrived and agreed to shoot the deer. I gave the deer a love, thanked the men and left before the shot was fired.

I was shaken with tragedy and sadness but uplifted by the caring of people who stopped and helped ease the pain.

-Business briefs- Cookery opens

Clarkston's newest restaurant, The Cookery, opens Thursday, June 9, in the Clarkston Mills Mall.

It was formerly Foxys at the Mill, the Harris O. Machus Enterprise restaurant opened two years ago.

The Cookery, according to owner/manager Ned Barker, will boast a menu filled with Michigan products and regional American cooking.

Honorary degree

Donald H. McPherson was one of three individuals recognized with the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering at the Lawrence Institute of Technology's 51st commencement June 5.

A Clarkston area resident, he is a vice president of General Motors Corp. and group executive of its North American Car Group.

'The Nutcracker'

Clarkston's Cynthia Carroll, 16, appears as the "Dewdrop" in "Waltz of the Flowers" during the Michigan Youth Ballet's production of the second act of "The Nutcracker." Performances are scheduled at 2 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday, June 11, at the Pontiac Central High School Auditorium. Other Clarkston area residents dancing in the play are Cynthia Carroll, Rusty Toth, Monica Schramm, David and Amy Poole, Shalae Montney and Heather Locher. The performance is under the direction of Theresa Lee Narsch of the Theresa Lee School of Ballet in Waterford Township. Tickets, available at the door, are $5 for adults and $3 for students. Father's encouragement leads to scholarship

By Marilyn Trumper

Ten years ago Bill Smith's doctor told him to get some exercise.

Needing a partner, he encouraged his then 7-year-old daughter Mary to play tennis.

Father and daughter played together for some time.

"The day before he died he went down on the court with you," his widow Ingrid reminds Mary, now 17.

Bill Smith died a decade ago. But the tennis went on.

Today, Mary's ranked second in the South East Michigan Tennis Association for girls 18 and under, and 37th in the Westerns which includes seven midwestern states.

"He always was proud of Mary. When she was just a kid she was out there playing catch with the boys. But, oh God yes, he would be proud of her now," her mother said, watching Mary through the glass overlooking tennis courts at the Deer Lake Racquet Club.

Below, dressed in light blue pants with striped top, the blond-haired, blue-eyed Mary is volleying yellow tennis balls with a partner.

She rarely misses.

And on returns soundly hits the ball.

She practices two to three hours a day, seven days a week, and studies under pro Trish Faulkner.

Mary's partner, Sue Brozovich, is the number one player for the boys' tennis team at Waterford Kettering High School.

Mary, a senior at Clarkston High School, received a full tennis scholarship to Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Two weeks ago the partners won a doubles tournament at the Franklin Racquet Club.

"College will tell a lot whether I'll go pro or not," Mary said. "I'm excited to see how I do. Right now I'm looking at majoring in sports medicine. I just don't know."

But what she gets from tennis, Mary does know.

"I could write a book about that," she said. "The competition, it's something to do, it's a lot of fun, you're always learning something, it's self-gratifying—and you can see yourself get better."

Mary Smith brings the racquet down on the tennis ball and sends it out of her partner's reach on the courts at Deer Lake Racquet Club. Mary, who lives on Eastlawn Drive in Independence Township, has a full scholarship to Eastern Michigan University as a member of the tennis team, and is ranked second for her age group in the South East Michigan Tennis Association.

Ian Macy's Pueblo village includes a church and an animal pen. The garden is from his mom's collection of dried flowers.

Allen Brown's project features the Woodland Indians. He rolled clay to make a teepee and also made a canoe.

A papier mache shark painted with enamel is only part of Matt Marsden's science project. He also has a poster and charts listing species.

Amy Seaman's canoe for Woodland Indians is fashioned from an envelope and staples. She borrowed the figures from her brother.

Powwow projects

Many times parents think the work halts as the school year nears its end, but that isn't so says Clarkston Elementary School teacher Sharon Wenger.

"We're still going strong," she says.

Her third-graders recently completed year-end projects about Indians and animals that included reports and displays.

She's proud of their work, and so are the children.

Those pictured here with their projects were chosen as a representative sampling of the class.

The dolls are souvenirs from Wendy McFald's trip to Colorado. She adorns the miniature homeland of Pueblo Indians with clay and twigs.

Matt Seltz cut clay into pieces and stacked them up for a Pueblo adobe hut. The ladder is from twigs tied together.

Nathan Smith's mountain came from a truck set and his ladders and Pueblo adobe houses are fashioned from clay.

Independence fund raiser has many winners

There were numerous winners on both sides in the Independence Township Parks and Recreation fund raiser for junior baseball and youth softball.

The $3,932 raised will be used on field improvements.

E.J. Miller of Romeo took first prize in the raffle drawing and is the owner of a new 19-inch color TV. The name of Paul Verhey of Snowapple Road, Independence Township was drawn second. He also won a TV.

As incentive to sell tickets, the parks and recreation department offered prizes to those with the most sales.

The top overall salesperson is Jason Ruth, with 172 sales. Jason, who lives on Peach Drive, is the new owner of a 10-speed.

Top boy and girl winners are Derek Bildstein of Waldon Road with 160 tickets and Brenda Jeffrey with 120 tickets.

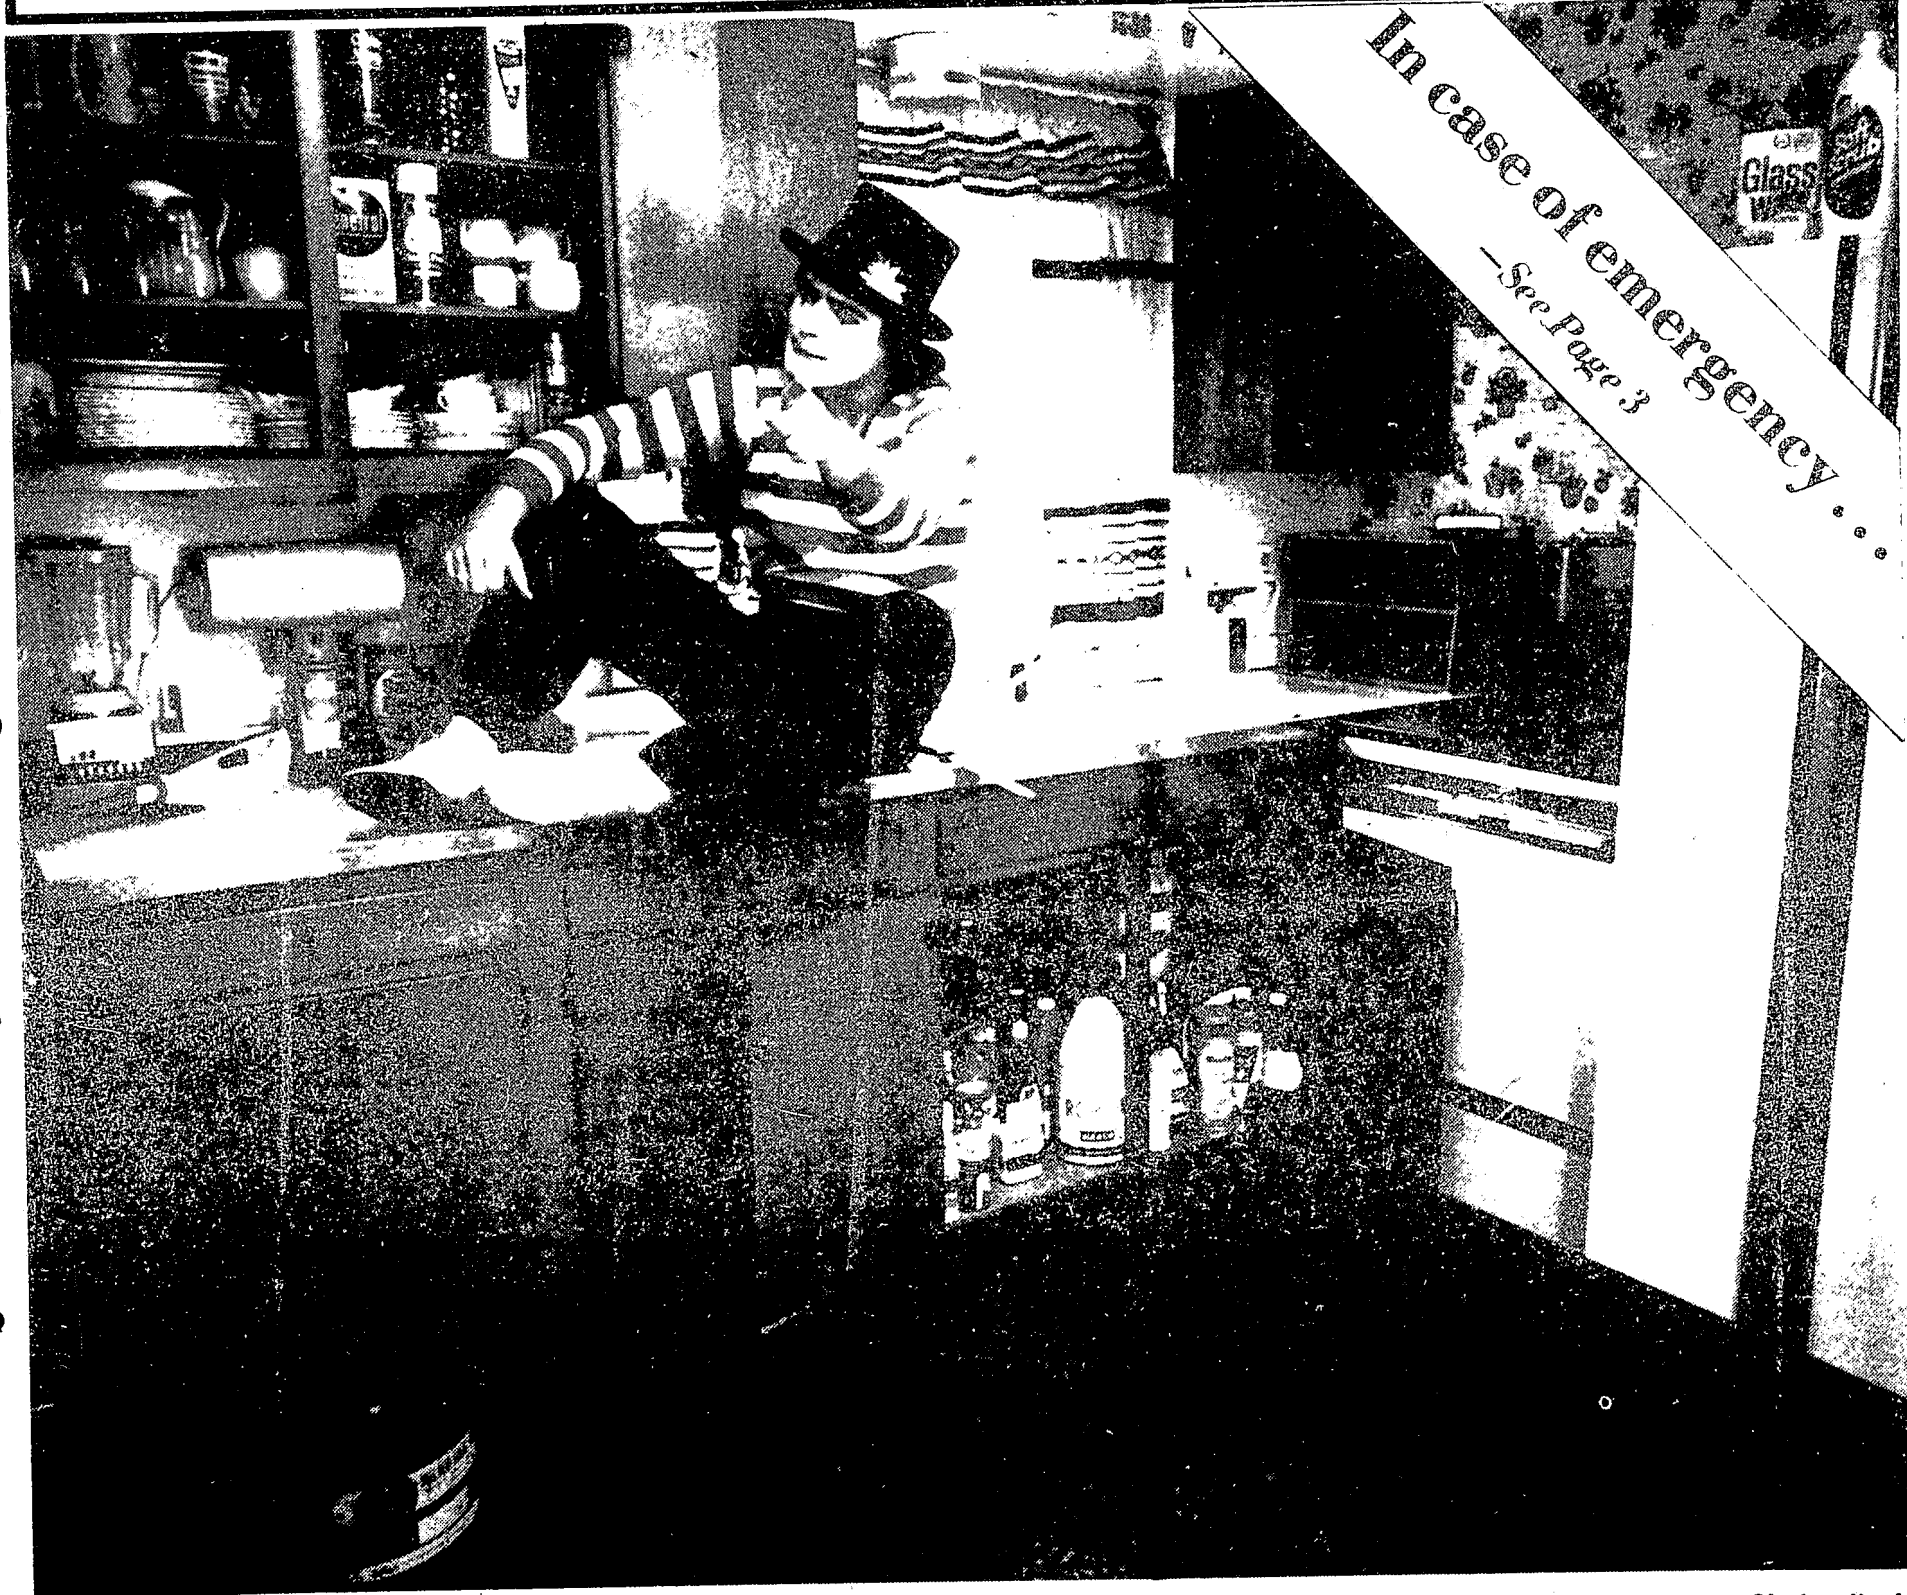

Thomas Alonzi of Perry Lake Road with 100 tickets and Paul Yuergens of Peaceful Valley with 100 tickets tied for the second place with the biggest number of sales and Amy Weiler of Reese Road, took second place for the girls with 20 tickets sold.

They all won AM-FM radios.

Happy the Mime's advice

"This kitchen is not safe for children," says Happy the Mime with the look on his face, his pointing finger and thumb down. Circle all of the things that are bad for you.

CHILDREN'S CORNER:

Beware of poisons!

Did you know that an awful lot of people get real sick and die from touching or tasting things they shouldn't?

They're called poisons.

Poisons can be mom's household cleansers and dad's gasoline.

The drugs that your parents take can hurt you if you take them.

Poisons not only make you sick and go to the hospital, but they can kill you. We don't want that to happen, do we?

Here are some tips you can tell mom and dad about that will help poison-proof your home:

- Don't keep bleaches and strong detergents under the sink.

- Keep the medicine chest cleaned out of old medicine regularly and flush old medicines down the toilet.

- Keep insect sprays, weed killers, gasoline and car products, turpentine, paint and paint products in a locked place.

- Keep alcoholic beverages covered and out of reach.

If you know of a friend who has swallowed something and feels very sick, call a doctor immediately.

If you can, call the Poison Information Center. (The phone number—858-7373—is listed in the telephone book.)

Don't wait to get help!

Remember, most poisonings can be prevented if we all help to poison-proof our homes.

Specialty— Medical care for athletes

By Marilyn Trumper

A Clarkston High School Wolf approaches home plate.

There's the pitch.

Crack!

A line drive to left field.

He drops the bat, rounds first and in a pile of dust slides into second.

When it settles he's safe.

But his ankle's not.

Writhing in pain he's carried off the field to Dr. Daniel M. Bielak's office on Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

An X-ray and examination later, Bielak offers the diagnosis: a sprain.

According to Bielak's colleague Michael Therriault, athletic director of the Clarkston Sports Medicine Clinic, a doctor not specializing in sports medicine might prescribe cold soaking and tell the player to "...stay off it."

"We'd do just the opposite," Therriault said. "We would encourage him to use it providing it wouldn't harm him. Put him on an icing regimentation to control the swelling and initiate rehabilitation with specific exercises to strengthen the ankle and regain the complete range of motion. Then we'd support it so as not to cause further damage.

"Most athletes interested in competing will take the time to work on their injury. That's why recovery is so much faster than with a non-athlete," he said.

The theory is applied to athletic injuries like fractures, torn ligaments and muscles.

Therriault says he's responsible for the rehabilita-

TO YOUR HEALTH

by Dr. Shelby Baylis

One of the most important contributors to happiness is developing a healthy feeling of self-worth. This feeling is usually formed in childhood by parents, peers or relatives patting you on the back for good deeds, high marks in school, or perhaps excelling in a sport or craft. For those lacking in self-esteem, however, a retraining or pinpointing or self-defeating behavior is necessary to enable you to elevate your opinion of yourself and create a healthy personality.

Here are some signs of negative habits outlined in a current issue of Boardroom Reports that may be giving you problems:

- Frequently mentioning the names of important friends or expensive possessions in an attempt to borrow importance.
- Demeaning others instead of pointing out their good qualities.
- Constantly apologizing for your actions is another. If you think you are wrong most of the time, you may lack confidence. Instead choose a role model, someone you admire and imitate that person's successful techniques.
- The other side of this behavior is denying your own shortcomings and problems. Insisting you don't need anyone's advice alienates others. A good remedy is to try and talk over difficulties with friends and get a new perspective.
- When you interpret people's general comments as being critical of you or your actions, it can also cause problems. Avoid taking everything personally, and try to accept what people say at face value.
- And finally, speak up if you have an opinion on something. Repressing your feelings can lead to serious physical illness.

If you see some of these characteristics in your personality, try to work on them one at a time. Above all - do something even if it means blundering occasionally. To avoid choice and obligation deepens self-contempt. Try to establish goals and pursue them to achieve better mental health.

Phone call away—poison information

By Kathy Greenfield

The red telephone rings. Staff pharmacist Randy Sue Coombe clears her throat before quickly answering the 8:30 a.m. call at the Poison Information Center inside St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

A busy toddler dumped powdered bleach on the floor and was found playing in it.

Her voice calm, Coombe assures the father the steps he's taken are correct—he had given the child some milk and bathed him—and tells him what to look for to be sure the child didn't eat any.

Among the 5,000 calls last year, those involving household cleaners were the most common, said Kim Sveska, assistant director of pharmacy and poison and drug information at the hospital.

In second place were inquiries about plants.

Medicine taken by children on their own dropped to third place, a change he credits to better-informed parents and the child-proof caps required by law.

The Poison Information Center is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The telephone number (858-7373) is listed in the phone book, but many of the calls are referred by doctors, Sveska said.

The center that officially serves all of Oakland County was established in the early 1960s and was taken over by the hospital's pharmacy department in 1976.

The people who answer the calls are pharmacists or pharmacy interns.

At their fingertips are microfiches that list brand names and generic names of medicines and products ranging from cosmetics to detergents, their ingredients and suggested treatment.

There are also books and files. Together all the sources provide about 200,000 references, providing more complete information than is available to the average physician, Sveska said.

"(But) we do not have the pretense we're treating patients. We're giving first aid information over the phone," he said.

Sveska's proud that the six-member staff volunteers time to give lectures on poison prevention.

Pamphlets and brochures on poison prevention including one that lists poisonous plants are also free for the asking.

And, he said, no story about poison information would be complete without mentioning syrup of ipicac which causes vomiting, a necessary treatment in many cases.

"You should always have Ipecac in your home—everyone with small children from birth to age 5," he said. "It saves a lot of trouble."

If a parents suspects a child ate something poisonous, Sveska also suggests they call the Poison Information Center before taking action.

... drugs, too

Questions about drugs can be asked by telephone by calling the Drug Information Center at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Last year, 1,000 people in Oakland County dialed the number—858-3055—seeking information.

The most common call goes something like this: "I'm taking five or six or 10 medicines. Will you help explain them to me?" Sveska said.

"Usually during the conversation it comes out they have a stomachache or headache."

Serving to inform and soothe, the pharmacists and pharmacy interns who take the calls can discuss side effects and help determine if a doctor should be called.

"We're not involved in making a judgment on whether or not they should take the medication," Sveska said.

The service also takes calls asking for identification of illegal drugs.

"The average parent who calls us and says, 'I found a capsule or tablet in my child's draw, many times it is this—a combination of caffeine, phenylpropranol and ephedrine,'" he said, explaining that the capsule is a mild stimulant that can cause problems if taken in large dosages.

The drug information center takes calls from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Behind pharmacist Randy Sue Coombe sits the screen that displays information about such poisonous items as cosmetics, household cleaning supplies and plants.

Health is not a matter of good luck

Maintaining good health is an individual responsibility that should not be left to chance. One of the most vital assets to staying well is knowing how to handle emergencies.

Here's a test that can help you find out how much you know about first aid and coping with emergencies. This is not a pass or fail test. Its purpose is to give you an idea of how well you're doing in one of the aspects of healthy living.

- What is the first priority for the victim in all emergencies?
 - Check for broken bones
 - Check for breathing
 - Check for bleeding
- What should you do to control bleeding from a wound?
 - Apply pressure directly to the wound
 - Run cold water over the wound
 - Apply a tourniquet
- The best place to check the pulse of a person in an emergency is at the:
 - Upper arm
 - Neck
 - Wrist
 - Thigh
- In the case of providing first aid to burns, what is the best treatment?
 - Grease or ointments
 - Water
 - Sprays
- After an accident, there is no sign of blood. The victim has cold, moist skin and feels pain and tenderness in the abdomen. The victim probably has:
 - Pulmonary arrest
 - An infection
 - An internal injury
 - Cardiac arrest
- What action should be taken in case of electrocution?
 - Turn off power at the source
 - Disconnect the power supply by pulling the
- cable away, handling only the insulated portion
- Knock the electrical contact away from the victim or the remove the victim from the contact point with a dry non-conductor
- A dislocation is a displacement of a bone end from the joint. It is recommended never to try to replace a dislocated bone yourself.
 - True
 - False
- For which of the following eye injuries should medical attention be sought?
 - Black eye
 - Chemical burn
 - Eye wound
 - All of the above
- Which of the following statements are not recommended first aid actions for frostbite?
 - Rub and massage the areas affected by frostbite
 - Warm the victim gently by placing affected areas in warm water
 - Allow the victim to smoke
 - Do not apply ointments to the affected areas
- In which cases of poisoning in conscious victims should vomiting be induced?
 - Medications and vitamins, poisonous plants and other substances
 - Corrosive acids and alkalis
 - Petroleum products

Homebound can receive assistance

By Kathy Greenfield

State licensed in mid-March, North Oakland Home Health Care is ready to serve homebound people who require intermittent nursing care.

Administrator of the non-profit organization is Maria Baylis of Independence Township.

The reasons for establishing the health care business with services fully reimbursed by Medicare are twofold.

"Number one, there's just nothing out in this area—the two biggest (home health care firms) are in Southfield," she said.

"And it is an alternative to hospitalization—that's really what it should be."

In three words, Maria Baylis sums up the reactions of those who receive the services offered by North Oakland Home Health Care: "They love it."

Patients are frequently referred to the service by their doctors, although people can call and ask if they would be eligible.

A doctor must sign a referral and a registered nurse must visit the patient before he or she is accepted.

Following acceptance, a nurse will usually visit the patient two or three times a week to assist with medical needs.

An aide will visit an additional two or three times a week for up to two hours a day to assist with personal hygiene, light housekeeping and meal preparation.

Also available are speech, physical and occupational therapists and a social worker.

"It's really a big help and it's something that's really needed for the elderly," Baylis said. "They love it."

While the services are also available for young people who have been injured, the majority of patients are elderly.

Baylis remembers the comments of a person her husband, family physician Dr. Shelby Baylis, referred to a home health care service.

"A patient came in and said, 'I just never had anybody who thought that much about me, to care enough to send someone out to help me,'" she said. "They think the world of the doctor who referred them."

Many times elderly people are kept in the hospital although all they need is assistance with changing a medical dressing, especially if they live alone.

With home health care, that service can be provided by a visiting nurse, who will go to the home daily if necessary.

It can also take the place of a hospital stay in some cases.

"And the patients get better (faster) in a home setting," Baylis said, listing another advantage.

She noted that the requirements to be licensed are stringent.

But, she said, the services save Medicare money because a one-day stay in a hospital can cost as much as a full week of home health care services.

The business serves patients who live north of 15 Mile Road.

The North Oakland Home Health Care office is located at 7736 M-15 in Independence Township. Call 625-5865 for more information.

QUESTION

Why should I have cavities filled in my child's primary teeth? The teeth will come out later anyway.

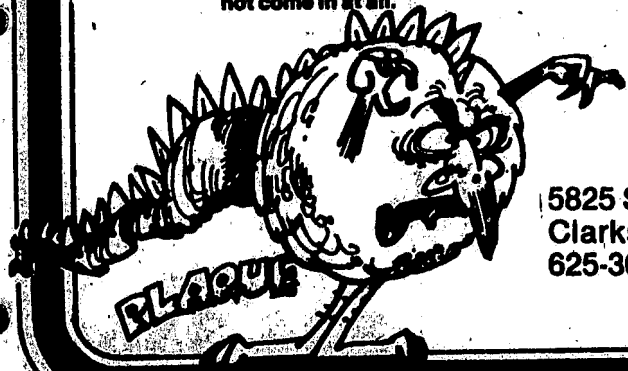

ANSWER

An infected tooth can harm your child's health - allowing decay and infection to spread in the jaws. Primary teeth are needed...

- for eating. Healthy teeth are necessary for biting and chewing food.
- for appearance. The teeth help give shape and form to the face.
- for speaking. Primary teeth are necessary to help your child speak clearly.
- to hold the space for the incoming permanent teeth.

If a primary tooth is lost too early, the adjoining teeth drift into the open space. If this happens, the permanent teeth may

- 1) erupt out of position and need to be straightened with braces,
- 2) become impacted (locked within the gums and jawbone) and not come in at all.

FOOT TUNE-UPS FOR SUMMER

Summer! What a great time of year. The community is enjoying the outdoors. After waiting for a break in the weather, people of all ages are seen walking, jogging, biking, playing tennis and baseball. The outdoors are alive again!

Every year in Oakland County, more people who want to be in the best possible shape, begin exercise programs. Some train for competition, others for self satisfaction. One of the biggest disappointments at this time of year are the aches and pains of increasing our activity. The most common question asked in my office is, "Why does my foot hurt now? It never hurt before." Well, let's think like a foot for a moment. Feet are designed to support our body weight and they function to move ourselves forward. When we begin to run, jump, pivot, etc., we put a greater work load upon our feet than we previously did. Therefore, overuse syndromes appear, resulting in pain.

To avoid these painful situations, may I suggest the following:

- 1) STRETCH EXERCISES (STRETCH BEFORE AND AFTER ACTIVITY)
- 2) FOR ACTIVITY START SLOW GRADUALLY INCREASE YOUR SPEED AND STRENGTH
- 3) APPLY BANDAIDS OR

MOLESKIN AND/OR VASELINE JELLY OVER THOSE AREAS WHERE BLISTERS USUALLY OCCUR.

- 4) PROPER SHOES AND PROPER FIT ARE A MUST. (BREAK IN A NEW PAIR OF SHOES BEFORE YOU RUN FOR MILEAGE OR COMPETE IN A TENNIS MATCH)
- 5) IF PAIN BEGINS, IT MEANS YOUR BODY IS REACTING TO STRESS. (AT THIS TIME YOU WOULD BE BEST TO CONTINUE YOUR ACTIVITY AT A LATER TIME. STOP - REST NOW!)

My office will be happy to give you an excellent set of complimentary stretching exercises. Please call or stop by.

I am always available to consult with anyone concerning sports injuries or any other foot and ankle problems.

Wishing you a safe and enjoyable Spring and Summer!

Sincerely
Dr. Mark Warren

In practice in the Clarkston area for one and a half years. Practice includes complete Adult Medical Care and Care of Adolescents above age 14.

Scope of Services:

1. Care of Hypertensives
2. Treatment of Diabetic Conditions, Asthma, Heart problems, Bladder and Kidney Problems.
3. General office medicine including allergic reactions, minor bruises and sprains, colds, ear infections.
4. Yearly Physicals and Pap Smears including school physicals for older adolescents.

6. All other aspects of Care of the elderly.
7. Stress related problems and some counseling.

X-Ray facilities are available in the building.

Some laboratory exams are done in the office.

Dr. Coleman is on Staff at Pontiac General Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital of Pontiac. When hospitalization is required, a patient is admitted to one of these hospitals. When the opinion or care of another physician such as a surgeon or gynecologist is needed, this is of course sought. Such specialists as cardiologists are consulted as needed.

Philosophy of Practice:

Dr. Coleman is an advocate of Intense Primary Care. When a new patient is seen for medical services, an attempt is made to identify environmental and stress-related causes. Talking time may be needed to get a true picture of the problem. Medications are prescribed only when necessary. When the person's health problem has been dealt with full explanation is given. This includes causes of the problem, medications needed, side-effects of medications and, of course, ways to keep healthy. Even though most of us are not familiar with medical knowledge, it is felt that we should be participants in our own Health Care.

Trend: adults in braces

By Marilyn Trumper

Maybe your folks couldn't afford to fit you with braces as a youngster.

Maybe you were too vain to garland your teeth in silver.

Maybe you didn't know anything could be done to correct that crooked and irregular spaced mass.

Well it can—and according to orthodontist Edward Bayleran, it's never too late.

"Twenty to 25 percent of our patients are adult," said Bayleran, who has offices in Independence Township and Birmingham. "We have both men and women (patients), but mostly women. Certainly women started it, but more and more men are coming into our office."

Dental insurance is one of the biggest reasons given for the growing trend toward treating adults.

That, and as adults they're able to afford braces, he said.

"And then a lot of people didn't realize something could be done. People are more and more being exposed to information, and you have to credit dentists for being aware of the problem. They're better educated than ever before, and know where to send people who need help."

The introduction of "lingual" braces, those fitted from behind the teeth, have played a big part in adult orthodontics, Bayleran said.

The invisibility appeals to adults who don't want a mouth of silver traditionally seen in teenagers.

"Those are used only in special instances where the malocclusion (poor bite) allows them to be used. Not everyone can wear them.

"The cosmetic trade-off is that it's a little bit more expensive, is more difficult and consequently takes longer."

Tom Ritter, owner of Ritter's Farm Market, flashes a pearly white smile held by a silver retainer.

His smile's dazzling

"I'm a dazzler, huh?" laughed Tom Ritter, rolling a tongue over the top row of his straight pearly white teeth, held by a silver retainer.

At the age of 39, after just nine months of braces, the Independence Township market owner boasts a new look.

The retainer stays for two more years.

"The first year I wear it 24 hours. The last year only at night," Ritter said.

"I had my son up at Dr. Munk's office. He looked at my teeth and said, 'Have you ever considered doing anything to correct that?'"

"I told him, 'No. I'm 39 years old and running around with a mouth full of braces doesn't appeal to me. And besides, I've had this mouth for 39 years. Can something be done?'"

"He said, 'It'll be a snap. There's a new variety (of braces) we put in from behind. No one will every know you've got them on.'"

"In seven months there was a drastic change," Ritter said, offering a look at a white casting of crooked teeth taken in the office of orthodontist Charles Munk last fall.

Then again, he flashes a mouth of straight teeth.

Would Ritter have swallowed his vanity and submitted to silver braces if the hidden variety hadn't been proposed?

"Yeah. I think I would have," he said. "It would just have been a matter of time."

With a little hesitation, Gayann Johnson offers a look at silver braces.

Her head stops aching

At first, wearing braces bothered Gayann Johnson.

And she was thankful no one stared.

"Because," she laughs, "I'm just vain."

But she's over that hurdle and at the age of 40, Johnson's gaining evenly spaced teeth. And she's lost 15 years of headaches.

"I didn't get the braces for cosmetic reasons but for medical reasons. I was born with spaces between my teeth. It's a hereditary, medical problem.

"I was having trouble with my jaws. They were misaligned and I was in a lot of pain. I had headaches all the time. I don't have the pain anymore and it feels terrific," she said.

Johnson, a Clarkston village resident, has eight months down and a year to go before the braces come off.

And she's still smiling.

1. B—Check for breathing. This is done by feeling the chest and abdomen, listening for breathing and holding a mirror to the victim's mouth. In the case of unconsciousness, you must establish that the victim is breathing before you can begin to treat other injuries. If not breathing, artificial respiration should be administered by a trained person.

2. A—Apply pressure directly over the wound. Bleeding from an open wound has to be stopped quickly to prevent further loss of blood and weakening of the victim. The wound should be covered with a clean dressing to help prevent infection.

3. B—The pulse, in many injuries, is a vital indication of the victim's condition. The side of the neck below the jaw (carotid pulse) is often the easiest to locate in an emergency situation.

4. B—The importance of cooling burned areas cannot be overemphasized. Without cooling treatment, heat will remain in the burned area for several minutes and will cause further tissue destruction. The burned or scalded part should be soaked in cool water for at least 11 minutes after the accident. Gently running water provides the best initial treatment. The victim should be taken to the hospital in all but very minor cases.

5. C—It is important to recognize the signs of a potential internal injury. Reassure the victim. Get him to rest in the most comfortable position, with head slightly lower than the body. Get the victim to the hospital as soon as possible.

6. D—If the victim is still in contact with the source of electricity, contact must be broken or the power removed immediately. Do not touch the victim while in contact with electricity or you risk electrocution yourself. Even with minor shocks, it is important to seek medical attention as soon as possible.

7. A—True. Blood vessels, nerves and other tissues may be damaged further by careless handling. The body part should be immobilized and the victim should be taken to the hospital as soon as possible.

8. D—All eye injuries can be serious, involving risk of infection, damage to eye and skull, and possible loss of sight. Medical aid should be sought in all cases.

9. A & C are not recommended treatments for frostbite. In the case of rubbing, frostbitten tissue becomes fragile and skin may be rubbed off, resulting in an open wound that may lead to infection. Smoking actually constricts the blood vessels in the parts of the body most often affected (ears, nose, hands and feet), thus further damaging the tissue.

10. The answer is A. In all cases of poisonings, transport the victim to the hospital immediately for further treatment. The following guidelines are recommended:

Type of poison	Treatment
•Medications and vitamins, poisonous plants, rodent poisons, weed killers, fertilizers, etc.	•Dilute by having victim drink a glass of water or milk. •Induce vomiting, by giving victim syrup of ipecac —Children under 1 year, 2 teaspoonsful —Children over 1 year, 1 tablespoonful —Adults—2 tablespoonsful
•Corrosive Acids and Alkalis—drain cleaners, oven cleaners, metal cleaners and polishes, strong detergents)	•Do not induce vomiting. It is important that corrosive chemicals do not come in further contact with tissues of the esophagus, throat and mouth.
•Petroleum products—gasoline, kerosene, benzene, naphtha, lighter fluid, mineral spirits, paint thinner, turpentine, some furniture products, car care products)	•Do not induce vomiting unless advised to do so by a poison information center (858-7373) or local hospital emergency room. Petroleum products may be breathed into lungs during vomiting, causing further problems.

Nutrition Awareness Day at Pine Knob Elementary School draws long lines for the special lunch. The

Clarkston school district served 1,476 lunches of protein in a pita with alfalfa sprouts and exotic fruits to teachers pupils at the five elementary schools.

With so many different filling choices, the pupils have to wait their turn to build their own version of the pita sandwich with alfalfa sprouts, cheese, tomatoes and meat.

Clarkston kids celebrate Nutrition Awareness Day with lunch

Exotic fruits.
Alfalfa sprouts.
Protein in a pita.

These items are not usually seen on an elementary school lunch menu, but for pupils in the Clarkston School district they were there during Nutrition Awareness Day in late May.

"The main objective of the lunch was to have the parents, teachers and the students more aware of nutrition," said Mary Claya, the district's food service director.

Last year, the sale of snack foods at the elementary schools triggered a controversy over the quality of the children's diets.

"As a result of the controversy, the food service program did appoint an advisory committee," Claya said. "Through the course of the meetings, the parents concluded it's not the food service's job to teach nutrition. We wanted to involve our teachers more so this is how we've done it.

"This is a start, let's put it that way. Everyone's excited about it—the teachers and the parents," she said.

The exotic fruit consisted of fresh pineapple, melon, kiwi, prunes, strawberries and raisins.

The pupils made pita bread sandwiches with cheese, lettuce, tomatoes and the alfalfa sprouts.

Teachers at the elementary schools—Pine Knob Elementary, Bailey Lake, Andersonville, North Sashabaw and Clarkston—devoted part of their lesson plans to nutrition.

"The teachers had a free hand to do what they wanted with nutrition," Claya said. "All the teachers brought a different light on the subject."

Federal guidelines state school lunches must include at least one-third of children's daily nutritional requirements.

"In our program, we offer a wide choice of food," Claya said. "It's never the same. They have 25 different choices on the menu. The Nutrition Day gives them a break from the hot dog, hamburger and pizza.

A total of 1,476 lunches were served at the five schools.

"The kids really enjoyed it," Claya said. "We were overwhelmed with positive compliments."

tion and assessment of athletic injuries while Bielak makes the diagnosis and prescribes treatment.

"People have this glorious idea of what athletic injuries are. There's not any aura around them. A sprain's a sprain whether it's done on the ball field or getting out of a car.

"We just treat the injuries more aggressively," he said.

In addition to treatment there's prevention, Therriault said, like doing more in a sports physical than checking for high blood pressure, heart murmur and a hernia.

"We give a physical we're very proud of that includes a family history, (blood) study, urine analysis, EKG, complete joint and posture exam, manual tests for strength and flexibility, a full physical exam and a percentage of body fat analysis.

"If we determine, for example, that there's a muscle imbalance, that one of your legs is more flexible than the other, we will give you exercises to correct that.

"Otherwise, how can an athlete operate at peak performance?" Therriault said.

POH celebrates 30th

With 32 beds and 33 employees, Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital (POH) opened its doors in June 1953.

Today, celebrating its 30th anniversary, POH is equipped with 308 beds, over 1,100 employees, making it the fourth largest osteopathic hospital in Michigan and the eighth largest in the United States.

In celebrating the anniversary, an awards benefit was held Thursday.

Cindy Territo, public relations for POH, says that three special awards were presented to members of the POH staff.

The award winners were Benjamin Dickinson, D.O.; John McCabe, president, Blue Cross and John A. Riley, retired vice president; and D.A. Deshaw, executive director of Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

"All proceeds from the banquet were dedicated to the purchase of a 'C' arm fluoroscope, an X-ray unit designed to assist doctors in surgery," she explains.

POH is also a teaching hospital and is approved by the American Osteopathic Association.

"We have 20 internships and 45 residency positions available," Territo says. "There are 12 specialized programs for residency."

In explaining about the facility, Territo mentions that POH is staffed 24 hours a day and treats about 32,000 patients per year in the emergency department.

"The emergency department is the medical center for one of the largest Advance Life Support Systems in Michigan and guarantees treatment within 15 minutes," she says.

The facility offers education information to patients in a variety of areas including programs on disease, injury prevention, nutrition and promoting good health.

In a booklet explaining the facility it says that "all of Pontiac Osteopathic's facilities are ever mindful of this primary purpose; providing quality health care to you—our community."

50 N. Perry St. (at Huron St.) Pontiac, MI 48058

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital has a rich history and development over the past 30 years. Since its inception, in a small two-story house on Auburn Avenue to the recently renovated and expanded modern structure at 50 North Perry Street in downtown Pontiac, POH has continually improved and increased its services to meet the sophisticated and growing needs of the people in north Oakland County. We are the fourth largest osteopathic hospital in Michigan, and the eighth largest in the United States, with a medical staff of over 200 and more than 1,200 employees.

Our modern emergency medicine department, physical and occupational therapy department, and the obstetrics and pediatrics departments are located in the hospital's recently completed south wing. The ancillary and out-patient services include one-day minor surgery, x-ray testing, physical and occupational therapy, cardiology testing, laboratory testing, and speech pathology therapy.

The hospital emergency department is a trauma center for all of north Oakland County. Doctors, nurses and technicians provide prompt treatment around the clock for all injuries and illnesses. The Emergency Department treats over 32,000 patients each year. Its staff of physicians and nurses are all certified in advanced cardiac life support treatment. The emergency department is the medical center for one of the largest Advanced Life Support Systems in Michigan.
