Levy mining project denied

By Marilyn Trumper

The Army Corps of Engineers denied the Edward C. Levy Co.'s proposal to mine 300 acres near the headwaters of the Clinton River, leaving the multi-million corporation's plan "...dead in the water," according to Gary Mannesto, corps chief of regulatory functions.

Their only alternative is to submit a new plan or file suit in federal court, he said.

The July 7 decision was based on a set of guidelines "...which when applied to the plan, did not pass the test," Mannesto said.

"We determined that was a high quality area that should not be sacrificed. There are a lot of other uplands areas that can be mined, other than that site, that would not result in destroying a high quality area like this."

The DNR's evaluation of the proposal is still underway. Two weeks ago the Michigan Environmental Review Board, which makes recommendations to the DNR, appointed a three-man subcommittee to further study the issue.

Because the corps denied the plan it doesn't matter what the DNR's decision is, according to Mannesto.

"If one approves the plan and the other denies the plan, they're dead in the water. We both have to approve it for it to fly, unless they want to take us to court," he said.

Levy's revised plan, submitted last November, included an environmental impact statement. The DNR said it found that plan more appealing.

Norman Hyman, attorney for Levy said, "We're not happy (with the corps') decision and we think they made a mistake."

Hyman disagreed with Mannesto's statement that a DNR decision will make no difference, but would not elaborate.

Since 1979 the Detroit-based firm has sought to mine acreage adjacent to Independence Township's Clintonwood Park and Independence Oaks County Park.

The 20-year plan outlined development of a 200-acre lake, 12-acre shallow wetlands, 80-acre upland habitat and 12-acre lake next to Clintonwood Park. It included a non-development 500-foot buffer zone along the river.

The controversial plan has been hotly debated locally and was twice the subject of a DNR public hearing at township hall.

Over 30 state and local environmental groups banded together to block the proposal. It was endorsed by the Michigan United Conservation Club.

Township residents in 1980 approved .5 mill for 10 years to finance condemnation of 80 acres owned by Levy, which were included in the mining plan.

Thomas stays

For the fourth year Janet Thomas has been elected president of the Clarkston school board by her fellow board members.

In a show of support the nomination included that she be unanimously elected, and all board members present cast their verbal votes in her favor.

"Thank you," said Thomas following the action at the board's annual organizational meeting Monday night.

The board also voted 6-0 to elect its other officers—Stephen Werner as vice president, Mary Jane Chaustowich as secretary and new board member Elaine Schultz as treasurer.

The seventh board member, Carolyn Place, was absent.

Kennel to close

A three-year battle to shut down a dog kennel in his neighbor's backyard is ending for David Endreszel.

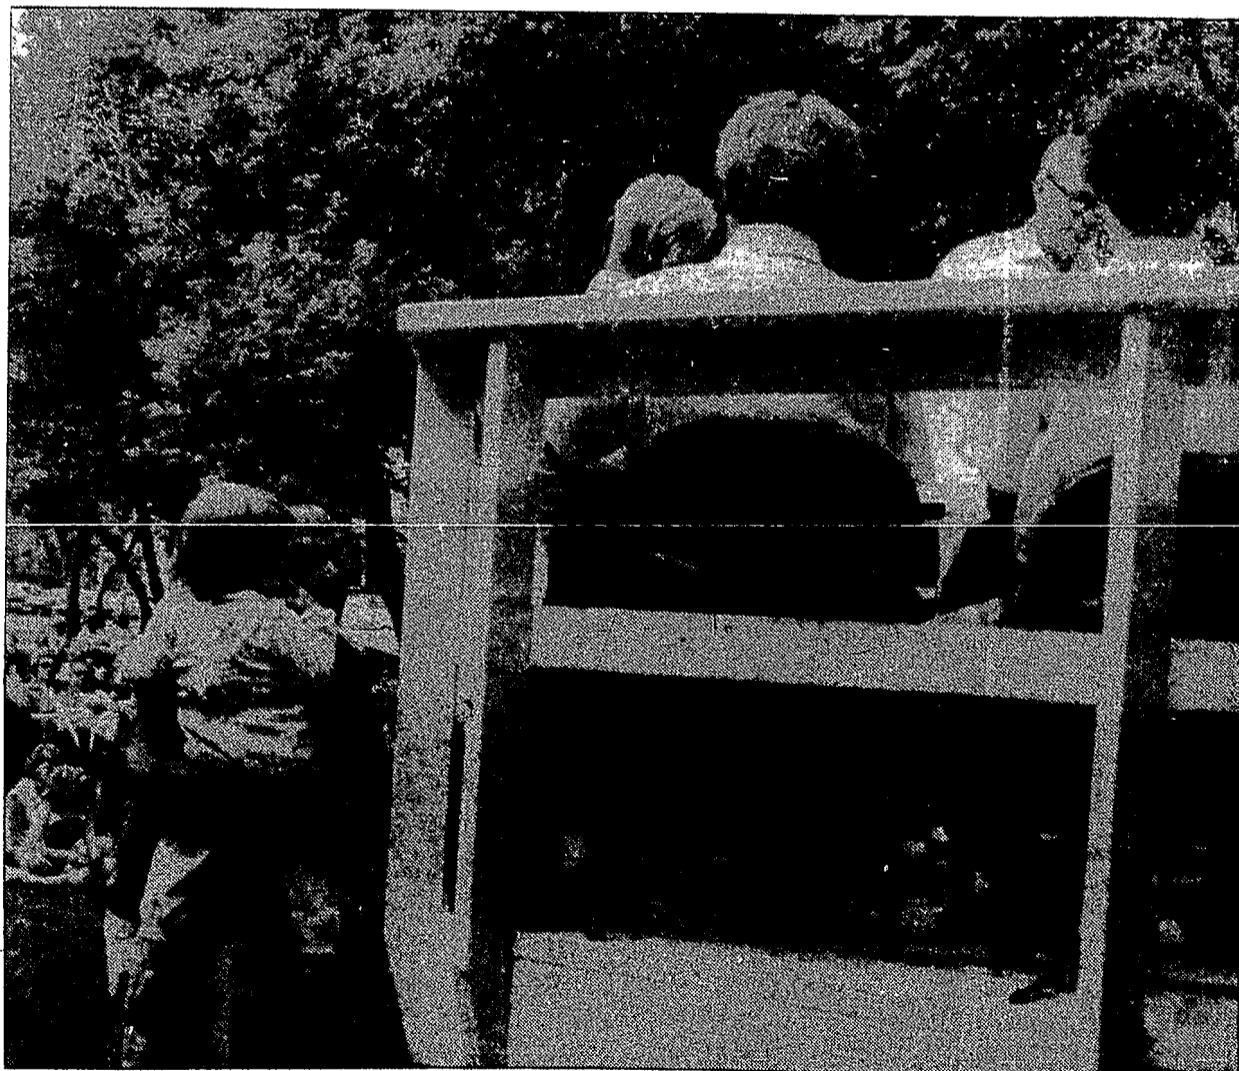

The Independence Township Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) ordered owners Jack and Jody Nelson to terminate the business at 8600 Pine Knob.

"We talked to the former owner, we brought him in, and he said there was a period of time when the kennel was not operating," said ZBA Chairman John Dunlop.

"It was not a continuing non-conforming use. The non-conforming use was abandoned when the business was not operating and because of that, we decided they could no longer run (the kennel)."

Endreszel did not want to comment on the ZBA's decision.

The Nelsons could not be reached for comment. They have until July 15 to close their business.

MUSICAL MYSTERIES: Getting a closer look at the band, Sarah Wallace is held by her great-uncle Tom Boyd, both of Clarkston-Orion Road, Clarkston. The band, made up of 31 members of the Pontiac Federation of Musicians, played to more than 450 people Friday at the village

Depot Road Park. There are two more hour-long Friday evening concerts this summer. Sponsored by the Clarkston Village Business Association, they're planned July 15 and July 21, beginning at 7. More photos are on Page 36. [Photo By Dan Vandenhemel]

Dusty road relief for Rattalee Lake residents

By Marilyn Trumper

The Independence Township Board's come to the rescue for some Rattalee Lake residents, and allocated 14 cents per foot for oiling a 3,400-foot section of the dusty road.

Unhappy with a private firm's application of a new biodegradable product designed to keep down dust, three families asked the board to help them finance a second application, this time with oil or chloride.

"Our long-term plan is to pave that section of road from M-15 to Allen Road," said John Rasmussen at the July 5 meeting. "And we'll probably be back next year to get some help from you there."

Our short-term plan is to get something on the road to keep the dust down."

Board members disagreed on financing and two feared it would be setting a precedent, voting 3-2 to allocate the funds.

Trustees Dale Stuart and Larence Kozma dissented. Supervisor James B. Smith and trustees William Vandermark and Daniel Travis voted "yes."

"We have had appeals from other neighborhoods where dust control is a problem, like Woodhull Lake where all the roads are dirt. They wanted us to pay a larger share because all the roads are dirt and we had to turn them down. I don't see how the board can see fit to make extra considerations here," Stuart said.

Kozma agreed.

"I think we will be setting a precedent. The Pine Knob Trail subdivision wanted us to pay a bigger percentage of their paving because the American Legion was at the end of a street there, and there was a lot of traffic."

"The board said it would not increase a percentage because we have to have the money there for others who request paving. Paving or dusting, it's the same principle," Kozma said.

Township Supervisor James B. Smith favored the allocation.

"I, for one, favor it because of the width of the road," Smith said. "It's twice as wide as the others and it's very difficult to get a lot of financial relief. Also because that's a heavily trafficked road."

4 more candidates

Four more people submitted applications for Independence Township clerk before the July 1 deadline, bringing the total number of candidates to 23.

Two of the four could not be reached for comment and one asked that his name not be published.

John Robb (R), 22, of Eston Road is a recent graduate of finance and accounting from the University of Arizona, Tucson.

The township board was expected to begin interviews Saturday, July 9, and Monday, July 11, and continue scheduling until all candidates have been questioned.

Mother dies from house fire injuries

Three weeks after a fire severely burned Jackie Price and destroyed her Harvard Road home, the 39-year-old Independence Township woman died at the Ann Arbor Burn Center.

Funeral services were held July 6 in Dayton, Ohio, according to Denny Willet, one of seven neighbors credited with rescuing the unconscious woman from a flame-engulfed back bedroom.

"We're trying to see if we can't arrange a service here for the neighbors. Mr. Price said he would like to do that," Willet said. "The services were held in Dayton because that's where most of the family lives."

Gerald Price, 40, was also injured in the fire and was released from Chelsea Hospital, Chelsea, to attend the funeral. He'd been there two weeks after a transfer from the Ann Arbor Burn Center.

Following the fire, the Prices' youngest son, J.J., 11, stayed with several neighborhood families. He has since moved to Dayton, Willet said.

Mrs. Price is survived by her husband, George; and three sons, Kent and Kevin, 19, and J.J.

End of an era:

Pine Knob concert goers can no longer BYOB

By Marilyn Trumper

At the Donna Summer concert July 11th an era ended at the Pine Knob Music Theatre.

Beer and wine was sold at concession stands and fans could not bring alcoholic beverages to concerts, according to George White, theater community relations director.

Concession stands are selling Michelob, Michelob Light, Stroh's and Stroh's Light for $1.50 a 16-ounce can. The price includes the dime deposit. Wine is sold by the plastic glass, but theater manager Steve Finkel did not have available information to quote prices.

"I had some woman call and ask me if she could bring kosher wine because that's all she could drink, and didn't think we could stop her under the First Amendment.

"I referred her to the Liquor Control Commission. I didn't know the answer," Finkel said. "I mean, how do you answer something like that?"

Ten lawn season-ticket holders wanted refunds, he said, adding "That's not a bad percentage compared to the thousands sold."

"They said they bought their tickets with the intent of bringing their own liquor. And when we notified the subscribers of the new law we gave them the option of a refund," he said.

Theater management notified the public of the ban on bringing their own bottles with Sunday newspaper ads and subscribers' mailings.

It will also be printed on the bottom of all CTC tickets beginning July 11, and fliers were given to all cars entering the theater, he said.

Finally, a sign over the theater entrance says no alcoholic beverages are allowed beyond that point.

Two weeks ago the Liquor Control Commission (LCC) extended the ski lodge's liquor license to cover the theater area, with four stipulations:

- Patrons must be 21 years old to buy beer and wine.

- Up to 150 security personnel must work to ensure minors are not drinking.

- Signs must be posted warning violators of dismissal.

- Beer and wine can be consumed and sold only in the designated theater area.

According to White, plastic beverage containers will no longer be allowed in the theater and soft drinks will be allowed in cans only.

Fans can still picnic, he said.

Township files lawsuit

Independence wants state to pay $10,000 reimbursement

Independence Township's has filed a lawsuit against the state, seeking reimbursement of $10,000 paid in overtime to firefighters.

The joint suit with Commerce Township was filed June 6.

Beginning in 1979 state law required townships to pay overtime to firefighters working over 54 hours in a scheduled work week.

The state agreed at that time to reimburse townships, but failed to do so following the past few years of budget belt-tightening, according to Fire Chief Frank Ronk.

"As long as we get our money back without having to raise taxes, I'll be happy," Ronk said. "But I don't know where the state's going to get it. That $10,000 would go back into our operating expenses.

"It's good they've joined with Commerce otherwise we'll never win. Independence just can't take on the state," Ronk said.

"I don't understand how the legislature voted in such a stupid law in the first place. It doesn't fit with any traditional department scheduling. It was a poor law," he added.

$30 school board salary holds

The $30-a-meeting salaries for the seven Clarkston school board members are holding firm.

The board voted 6-0 Monday night to keep their salaries the same for the 1983-84 year.

The state limits the number of school board meetings for which a member can be paid at $2, but the usual number each year is between 20 and 22, said Superintendent Milford Mason.

Board President Janet Thomas proposed that members be paid an additional $15 or $20 for other in-district meetings when they are asked or designated by the board to attend.

But after discussion, the idea was rejected.

Some members said those who give the extra time should be paid, but board member Stephen Werner convinced his fellows that should not be the case.

"The one thing that bothers me about the committee idea is we ask other people to sit on committees—teachers, members of the administration and members of the community—and they aren't being paid," he said.

New meeting time in August

Beginning in August, Clarkston school board meetings will begin informally at 7:30 p.m. on the second Monday of each month.

The official board meeting will follow at 8 p.m., the traditional time.

Board member David Kithil, elected in June, made the proposal.

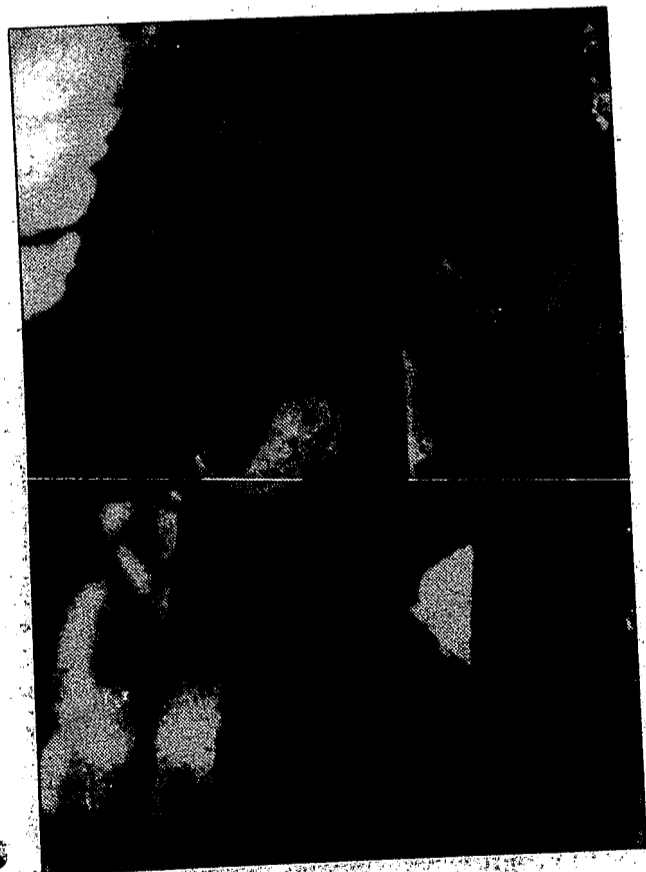

He suggested that two school board members and representatives of the district's administration staff and the teacher's union, the Clarkston Education Association, make up a panel willing to discuss topics raised by residents for the one-half hour period.

"David mentioned that just briefly before we came out (from the coffee room at the board office) and I think we all thought that was a good idea," said board President Janet Thomas.

"Dave's thinking was it would give varying points of view...the purpose of the whole thing is so we can all serve the community together."

While the possibility of meeting early on a trial basis was discussed, it was decided to keep the policy for a full year to see if residents would participate.

The vote, taken during the board's annual organization meeting Monday night, was 6-0 in favor of the proposal.

PRICE, FIRM: There seems to be little question about the cost of this piece of real estate nestled in the pines behind Independence Township Hall. The string from the price tag was worked into the nest over the July 4th weekend, leaving the tag outside for all to see. People watchers nest say they have yet to see a bird fly in, so they don't know the type. Maybe the improvements are geared toward resale.

Cable TV here by end of year

By Marilyn Trumper

While private negotiations are underway to purchase land to house the cable TV company's tower site, officials of Tribune United say the actual cable's expected to be installed in August.

"Then it will be another four months before the first subscriber is hooked up," said Jim Anderson, vice president and general manager. "First we have to decide what property we're going to buy and what our options are with local officials, and then draw the plan."

Independence Township awarded the cable franchise to Tribune United earlier this year.

Recently, officials on both sides have remained tight-lipped on negotiations to purchase property for the tower site, fearful of driving up the price if one parcel is singled out over the others.

The studio site location has yet to be decided, but the township board and Clarkston Village Council have appointed six members to the seven-member Cable TV Casting Board.

At Monday night's meeting, the Clarkston school board voted 6-0 to recommend new member David Kithil for the cable casting board.

The township board will have to approve the recommendation before it becomes official.

Irksome

Al Zawacky

Little things bother me.

I usually have the serenity to cope with the big problems. I realize there isn't a whole lot I personally can do to eliminate death and disease, balance the federal budget, or get the Russians out of Eastern Europe.

But life's minor hassles are different. They're irksome—maybe not at first, but after several years, their effect is cumulative. It might be because some of these are the kind of things that would be so easy to correct, but nobody ever bothers to try.

Take skinny drinking straws. Have you ever ordered, say, a strawberry daiquiri at a nice restaurant? Daiquiris are loaded with fruit pulp, and the straws they give you with them are obviously intended for decorative or stirring purposes. They're so narrow that even sipping water through them requires that the molecules march in single file. Try to drink a daiquiri through one of these straws, and it will invariably get clogged and wind up permanently attached to your tongue or lips.

LOUD RADIOS BOTHER me, too. There are these hosers who drive up the street with their windows rolled down and a radio blaring loud enough to be detected on a seismograph 10 miles away. I figure if you've got to play it that loud to get anything out of it, then it can't be good music.

Then there's the designated hitter rule. I still like baseball, but we're not on as good a terms as we were. There was real strategy involved in the old days when a manager had to decide whether or not to dump his pitcher for a pinch hitter. Besides, I always thought it was kind of interesting to watch a Denny McLain or a Mickey Lolich brandish a bat—even if they did bunt or ground out 90 percent of the time.

Factory-installed car clocks also have a place on my list, because I've never known anybody to have one that remained in working order for the life of the car, much less one that was reliably accurate. But a lot of people still wind up ordering them, knowing that if they don't, their brand new car will have a blank and functionless clock face on the dashboard where the clock would have gone. And when you're paying $10,000 for a car, it seems dumb and cheap not to spend another $75 or so to have a nice dashboard.

AS A RULE, most radio and TV commercials don't bother me, but there are exceptions. There's one out now featuring a bunch of cute little kids that touts the healthy benefits of drinking a soft drink without caffeine. That bothers me, because if their parents were really concerned about the kids' health, they'd have them drink fruit juice or milk, not some junky, sugar-saturated soft drink full of empty calories—caffeine or no caffeine.

It felt good to get these things off my chest.

Letter to editor

Johnny won't write now, either

What next! Now computers are needed to teach English composition. Handwriting is such a job!

Next, maybe, handwriting should be taught like basketball shooting skills or have the coach set up batting practice for crossing the t's or dotting the i's.

Workbooks and dittos ("choose one," "fill in the blanks") started the downfall of legible handwriting papers.

Few kids learned to write, let alone compose a sentence or paragraph.

Computers are fine in later work but not in the elementary—the literary world comes years after learning how, practicing how, revising how, expressing how, recording how, duplicating how to process words.

You don't carry a typewriter around in your pocket, nor are any students going to carry a computer around.

Let them be students and learn how to use basic skills that are sensible, first.

Even the astronauts had to start on the basics before they flew home in the "Challenger."

No wonder "Johnny can't read" and he won't be able to write either!

Why we buy

Kathy Greenfield

There are many ads on TV that get this kind of reaction in our home:

"Just think. If I use that brand of shampoo...drink that pop...use that lipstick...chew that gum...go to that gym...drink that coffee, I'll look just like Victoria Principal, always have fun, be surrounded by adoring friends, solve any problem instantly..."

We laugh a lot about the ridiculousness of it all.

So it was with interest that I read an article in the July 4 Newsweek titled "Selling It at the Movies."

The report noted there's fierce competition for appearances of brand-name products in movies.

Remember, we're not talking slick advertisements here, just simple use of a product in a movie.

It said that for a minimum of $50,000 Robert Kovaloff's Associated Film Promotions will agree to place a firm's products in at least five movies a year. Other such companies were also listed.

This year Kovaloff's company expects to gross more than $2 million casting brand names for Anheuser-Busch, General Mills and over 200 other products in 150 movies.

Some samples were listed: Jennifer Beals in "Flashdance" sipping Diet Pepsi; Sylvester Stallone in "Rocky III" telling his son to eat Wheaties, the Breakfast of Champions; the use of Pentax cameras in "Superman III."

Perhaps the most startling revelation was this:

"Kovaloff says he kept Budweiser and Milk Duds out of 'E.T.' because 'we didn't want little kids drinking our beer and we didn't know if we wanted an alien eating our candy.'"

"Mars, the maker of M&Ms, made the same decision, and it is a legendary mistake: after Hershey's Reese's Pieces landed the job of E.T. bait by default, its sales leaped by 65 percent."

Can you believe it?

As hard as I've tried, I can't remember actually seeing E.T. eat Reese's Pieces during the movie.

I also can't remember if I purchased that brand of candy after seeing the movie.

But I could have.

And you can bet I'll be paying more attention to subliminal messages on the big screen.

Jim's jottings

Entrepreneurs? Pshaw!

Apparently someone thought I: (1) Needed something to do in my spare time, or (2) Wanted to show me ways to make money or (3) Thought I had nothing better to do than read how practically everyone can make an extra $40,000 a year doing practically anything.

In my mail was this magazine, 'The 1983 American Entrepreneurs Association' out of Los Angeles. Just having that address makes the company suspect.

Blazing letters across the front read "The smart time to make lots of money is now—at the beginning of a boom."

This 50 page magazine has up to 15 business offerings on a page. The bottom line of each is request manual X-1234 and send $39.50 ($45 for non-members), or some dollar figure.

None of the 142 "How to make big money" ideas relate to newspapering. There is one on a fast print business. I tried that one and have a dormant machine to prove there is money in that business . . . I helped put it there.

A "Dive for a pearl" shop nets $37,000 a year. Do you believe that? How about $67,000 a year selling firewood? I didn't know all those people selling fireplace wood in our want ads were making that kind of money. They probably didn't know it either.

The manual for that one is $29.50, $34.50 for non-members.

The manual for sports forecasting is $75 for non-members, but it must surely be worth it. "$50,000 a year possible for working only 20 weeks" it says in bold print.

Balloon vending is really big, according to the magazine. The manual sales pitch has four success stories of up to $9,000 net for 3½ months work.

A person can apparently make so much money starting an executive search firm the magazine publisher's couldn't find enough zeros to list the possible income.

Oh, yes! Always it is 'possible' income, or 'others have made', or 'low investment now netting'. The word 'work' is mentioned only in passing.

Another often mentioned item is 'absentee owner' business . . . as in, you don't have to be smart or even on the premises to make a ton of money.

Trouble with this magazine is it promotes thoughts of riches for those who think all one has to do to make money is hang out his or her shingle.

Another thing about this magazine is it doesn't offer a manual for any price on what to do when your business fails . . . which happens to 80 percent of the would-be entrepreneurs.

Even with funds, enviromental clean-up long

Michigan's environment, which is crucial to economic growth, is under attack from toxic wastes.

Our state is second only to New Jersey in the number of toxic waste sites which pose a danger to human health and safety.

Last month I supported a move on the floor of the House of Representatives to secure more funding for the Environmental Protection Agency in 1984 and restore the agency's programs to their 1981 levels despite efforts by the Reagan Administration to gut the agency.

We were able to overcome the obstacle and get $410 million set aside for EPA's "superfund" program to clean up toxic wastes.

The EPA budget battle in the House was triggered by the administration's plans to cut funds to enforce the Toxic Substances Control Act and other key environmental laws by nearly a third.

Moreover, the administration's budget would have reduced grants to states for environmental protection, cuts which would have had a devastating effect on the individual states' ability to enforce basic environmental laws.

Fortunately, we won the fight in Congress.

In addition, I personally saw to it that the Great Lakes Environmental Laboratory in Ann Arbor will receive the same funding in 1984 that it received this year.

The administration had tried to eliminate all funding for the lab.

In addition, I personally saw to it that the Great Lakes Environmental Laboratory in Ann Arbor will receive the same funding in 1984 that it received this year. The administration had tried to eliminate all funding for the lab.

That was an important victory for the environment because the work of the Great Lakes lab is crucial to the entire region. The Great Lakes provide this country with 95 percent of its fresh water supply.

Most importantly, we have to move now to solve the problem of the dioxin contamination of our lakes and rivers.

Although scientists and doctors are still trying to determine its effects on human health, we do know that dioxin is one of the most toxic substances known.

Our experience with the PBB case a few years ago should have taught us how foolish it is to delay action.

Sen. Carl Levin, Sen. Don Riegle, Congressman Don Albosta and I have sent an urgent letter to EPA Administrator William Ruckelshaus urging him to approve a comprehensive dioxin study recommended by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

We also asked Ruckelshaus to make the dioxin a top priority of the EPA so we will know what to do to help protect the health and safety of the people in Michigan.

But saving a budget or keeping a lab open is only part of the battle.

The effort to clean up our environment requires a long-term commitment from all of us—private citizens, business and government.

We can't wait any longer. Our health, our homes and our jobs are all at stake.

State Bar tackles tough ones

by Jim Fitzgerald

According to the State Bar of Michigan, it is within my power to stop one person from becoming a lawyer. For humanitarian reasons, I should probably do it.

There are already too many lawyers, and that's why everyone is suing everyone and everything gets done too late because it was stalled in plugged courts for 10 years. All those lawyers have to make a living, so for some of them, no disagreement is too frivolous to litigate to the utmost. Any person with money is eligible to become a plaintiff or a defendant, and no other qualification—such as a legitimate grievance—is necessary.

SO I WAS TEMPTED to scoff and giggle when Michael Franck, executive director of the State Bar, sent me a form letter saying, in part: "The person whose name appears above has applied to be licensed as a lawyer in Michigan, and has provided your name as a reference. Before an applicant can be admitted to practice law in this state, the State Bar of Michigan Committee on Character and Fitness must conduct an investigation to determine the applicant's fitness to act as an attorney. . . . The application cannot be processed further until your reply is received."

(Those italics are mine and not Michael Franck's. There are absolutely no italics in the letter he sent me. In fact, to my knowledge, neither Michael Franck nor the entire State Bar of Michigan has ever at any time had italics. I don't want to be forced to hire a lawyer and go to court to prove I didn't pass off my italics as belonging to the State Bar of Franck.)

"The person whose name appears above" is a friend of mine. The Bar wants my opinion of him. If I don't give it, by the Bar's own admission in non-italicized words, my friend's application will be stopped dead and he will never become a lawyer. That seems terribly arbitrary, not to mention unfair. In the absence of a reply from me, will the Bar tell my friend why he wasted all that time going to law school?

The State Bar's insular attitude probably doesn't surprise one lawyer who often contacts the Free Press, withholding his name. He complains that the State Bar is a very closed corporation, tolerating neither dissent nor any real discussion. For one glaring example, he points to the Michigan Bar Journal, the Bar's official monthly magazine.

PROBABLY THE MOST IMPORTANT questions recently discussed in Michigan legal circles concern the appointment—and dis-appointment—of Dorothy Comstock Riley to the state Supreme Court. The court performed such an embarrassing flip-flop that one of its members felt constrained to apologize to the public. There were many charges that the justices acted politically instead of judiciously.

But five months later, the Michigan Bar Journal still has offered no comment on the crucial questions raised by the Riley case. Which is similar to a baseball magazine ignoring a World Series scandal.

The June Journal did contain some opinions from Riley and Chief Justice G. Mennen Williams. She wrote about divorce law, and Williams said that, because of ever-increasing litigation, the Supreme Court should have its own building. That's what I call really speaking out on the major issues facing the legal profession today.

The State Bar's magazine has also been mum on the infamous Judge William Beér and his double life. Too bad. Many lawyers admit they knew for years that Beér fathered nine children by one woman while married to another, but Beér wasn't bumped from the bench until after a non-lawyer complained about him to the Bar. It might be interesting if Executive Director Franck, for instance, wrote an article discussing that situation.

Nevertheless, having said all of the above, and despite my humanitarian impulses, I will pass up the opportunity to prevent one more lawyer. My friend is a fine, capable person and I will recommend that the Bar license him to join the legal game. I only hope he goes in as a replacement.

Sharing Mrs. Plumb memories

It was interesting to read in the recent issue of The Clarkston News about "The Plum House."

It brought back memories of the spritely English woman—Mrs. Plumb. Her husband was the local dentist.

She catered the luncheon served at our wedding, June 27, 1923, in the farm family home on Knox Road in Springfield Township.

The meal, following the 4 p.m. ceremony, was served to approximately 100 guests. There was a table for the wedding party and a number of small tables available.

Mrs. Plumb was "Queen of the Kitchen" (no one else allowed).

She prepared the entire home-cooked meal—chicken salad, Parker house rolls, peach and pear pickles, angel food cake and dark fruit cake which was also used in miniature ribbon-tied boxes for take-home as "dream" gifts.

My sister, Emily Beardslee, and her daughter,

Genevieve Parker, also share in these memories.

Genevieve was the 4-year-old ring bearer.

Interestingly, many years later, our 4-year-old granddaughter, Eileen Lacey, was the flower girl for Genevieve's daughter, Paula's, marriage to James Blanchard, the governor of Michigan.

His nephew, Jeffery Brooke, was the ring bearer. My husband, Hazen, and I have been residents for two years at the Chelsea Methodist Home and our 60th anniversary was observed with much participation by the capable staff.

On June 21st our nephews and nieces were our guests for dinner.

Unfortunately our son, John, and daughter, Martha, were unable to join us but they expressed their loving thoughts by furnishing a flower arrangement for the Sunday morning chapel services and a decorated cake to be served to all residents of the home.

It was a delightful occasion.

Jeannette Atkins

Some points of clarification

I would like to make a couple of points of clarification in regards to an article printed about me in the June 8 edition of The Clarkston News.

I feel that certain points in the article written about functional orthodontics may have been misinterpreted by the people of our community.

I would like to emphasize that although this method of straightening teeth often requires no extractions, there are many instances where teeth need to be removed in order to achieve a fine and long-lasting result.

I have seen many patients in my office who have had teeth removed, followed by orthodontic treatment with outstanding results.

Clarkston is fortunate to have two fine offices which specialize in orthodontics, that of doctors Charles Munk and Richard Dunlap on M-15, and doctors Stephen Hershey and Edward Bayleran on Sashabaw Road.

I have referred patients to both offices in the past, and will continue to do so in the future with confidence.

Jack C. Shader, D.D.S.

Tax bomb falls

On July 8 the treasurer dropped a bomb on the citizens of Independence Township...summer taxes.

I would like to know why the Clarkston school district cannot live within its budget just as the citizens of the district must try to live within their budgets.

I can imagine what the answer would be if I asked my employer for an advance to cover some unexpected expenses!

It is my opinion that with the obviously voracious appetites of the elected officials that they will find some way to increase the "bite" they will put on us in December as well.

However, I will remember them at the polls and will have an opportunity to register my displeasure with their insidious methods of tax collection then.

Norma L. White

News letter policy

We welcome our readers' opinions. Letters to the Editor must be at The Clarkston News office by noon Friday to be considered for the following week's paper. We reserve the right to edit all letters for the sake of brevity and clarity and to limit the number of letters from any one individual on any one issue. We don't publish open letters or copies of letters sent elsewhere. Letters must be signed and a phone number and address included. Names will be withheld on request.

Cheers for paraders

The Independence Township Fire Fighters' Association would like to extend our appreciation to all who participated in our annual Fourth of July Parade to make it such a success.

We'd also like to congratulate the Faith Baptist Church, Woodglen Estates and the Sunbeam Day Care Center for their winning float entries.

We are looking forward to seeing everyone again next year.

It's not too late for summer camp

CAMP INDEPENDENCE FOR AGES 6-12

Three options are available for the 6- to 12-year-olds who attend Camp Independence, the day camp program conducted by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department.

The next two-week session runs from July 25-Aug. 5, but campers can sign up and pay accordingly for the session presently underway.

The choices are: Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays; or all five days a week.

The camp is held at Independence Oaks County Park from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. A field trip and overnight campout are included in each session.

The fee is $36 for residents of the township and $40 for non-residents for the six days during the two-week period; and $60 for residents and $65 for non-residents for the 10 days.

Swimming, arts and crafts, sports, park exploration and archery are among activities.

For more information, call Camp Director Tori Campe at the parks and recreation office, 625-8223.

DAY AND NIGHT CAMP AT CAMP OWEKI

Camp Fire-North Oakland is still accepting boys and girls, grades 1 through 6, for their 1983 summer day camp session at Camp Oweki in Independence Township.

The sessions run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Openings are available for Pioneer Camp from July 18-22 and Purple People Week Aug. 1-5. The fee is $20 with a one-time summer membership fee of $2.50.

A new session of "Night Camp" is offered July 26-29 from 5 to 11 p.m. for fourth- through eighth-graders. The cost is $25.

For a camp brochure and registration information, call 338-4036.

MUSIC DAY CAMP FOR AGES 4-12

Registrations are now underway for Music Day Camp sponsored by Melissa's Keyboard Klassics.

Two sessions are planned for children ages 4 through 12, July 25-29 and Aug. 8-12, from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

The fee is $6 daily or $25 a week.

SCIENCE OLYMPIAD CAMP

There's still time to sign up for the Science Olympiad Camp sponsored by the Clarkston Schools Community Education Department.

Open to fifth-, sixth-, and seventh-graders, the camp runs for two weeks, from July 25 through Aug. 5, from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. daily.

Students are to investigate life science organisms, circuit puzzles, mystery powders, measurement and inquiry boxes.

On the last day of camp, the young scientists will test their knowledge in a science olympiad.

Cost is $30.

To register or for more information call the Clarkston Community Learning Center at 673-7756.

YMCA DAY CAMP FOR 4- TO 6-YEAR-OLDS

Mini-Tyke, a YMCA day camp for 4- to 6-year-olds, is underway at Colombiere Center and children can sign up for one, or both, of the remaining one-week sessions.

The $20 fee for YMCA members or $23 for non-members includes a one-half-hour swimming lesson in the outdoor pool and a snack each day.

The camp meets from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Mondays through Thursdays.

The theme of the July 18-21 day camp is "Far Away Lands and Places."

On July 25-28 the theme is "My Fantasy Friends" with activities planned around the Muppets, Star Wars, Superheroes and storybook friends.

Colombiere is located on Big Lake Road in Springfield Township.

Call the YMCA at 335-6116 for more information.

A 10-foot high wall of water comes up behind Brant Volberding as he makes a deep slalom cut on Deer Lake. Volberding and a group of friends also partake in barefoot skiing as they meet for fun in the sun on Independence Township's largest lake.

Deer Lake sets stage for skiers

By Dan Vandenhemel

Doug Schiete and friends, Phil Ball, and Brant and Scott Volberding, love to show off their water skiing abilities on Deer Lake.

On a calm and sunny day the group can be found on the lake together or with others barefoot skiing or "just having fun."

Phil, 19, along with his 14-year-old brother Dan hauls Phil's boat from Foxchase Lane, Independence Township, to the lake.

"We come out here two or three times a week," Phil said. "I think we take skiing a little more seriously than fun."

Schiete and the Volberdings live on Deer Lake and have different thoughts about skiing.

"I think it's a combination of both, serious and fun," said Scott, 17. "Our grandparents used to live here (on Deer Lake Road) and we came out all the time to ski. Now it's nice to flip by the beach."

The group claims not to be show-offs but when another skier starts, watch out.

"When we see someone else showboating, we have to go out and show them how it's done," said Doug, 17. "I guess you could call me a hot dog because I'm always trying new things, like barefooting on one foot."

Doug, Scott and Brant, 19, were taught how to bare foot by Todd Thompson and Jeff Smith.

"They showed us everything," Brant said. "Barefooting is fun but it bangs up your feet. You can have some pretty nasty falls while barefooting. You have to remember to close your eyes when you fall or your eyelids will fill up with water—that's painful."

For the recreational skier, major injuries are not common said Phil.

"It's real hard to get seriously hurt while skiing," he said. "But it does happen. When I was down at the University of South Florida-Tampa last year, I saw a couple of people killed. But most of the injuries are only bruises."

"Deer Lake is one of the nicest lakes around," he added. "But when the lake gets a little rough, we like to just go out, drive the boat around and have fun."

Archer points to league as hunting helper

By Dan Vandenhemel

Perched in a tree or posed at the target range are two places Dick Beardsley can be found with his bow and arrows.

For the past five years, the 39-year-old Tamarack

Park Road, Independence Township, resident has been hunting with a compound bow.

Last fall he joined an archery league at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

"The main reason I joined the league was to sharpen my hunting skills," he said. "When our team won the league it was great. This is just a great sport."

Beardsley practices three times a week.

"I'll shoot out here in my backyard or I'll go to the club since it is so close," he said.

"This isn't an easy sport. There are so many little things that you can do wrong with just your hand."

"Everything has to be the same, just like bowling. I'm a bowler too and I'd say archery is three times more complicated. If you can be consistent, you'll do better."

Such equipment as a stabilizer, counter balances, cable guards, kisser buttons, and a peep site help Beardsley hit where he is aiming.

In the winter league last year, he averaged 276 points out of 300. That put him in class A, only Class AA is higher.

"Archery can be very competitive," Beardsley said. "Most of the people in the leagues are there to sharpen their hunting skills. But some of them use automatic releases and scopes for better accuracy."

"This can be a family sport. You don't have to be big and strong to be a good archer. On our league last year there were quite a lot of women, and most of them were as good as or even better than the men."

"We had one team that had a father and his three sons, the youngest was 8 years old."

Beardsley has bagged three deer with a bow and arrow. He also hunts with a rifle.

"I'm into any kind of hunting," he said. "The main reason I joined the league was to improve my skills as a hunter so I don't wound any animals and let them die in the field. Deer hunting with the bow is more challenging. You get closer to nature."

Next spring, a wild boar hunting trip is planned to Tennessee.

"That's a bigger challenge yet," he said.

Drawing a bead on the target, Dick Beardsley gets set to let the arrow fly. Using a compound bow he can gain extra power without pulling harder on the arrow.

Leslie Electric zaps Waterfall Jewelers

By Dan Vandenhemel

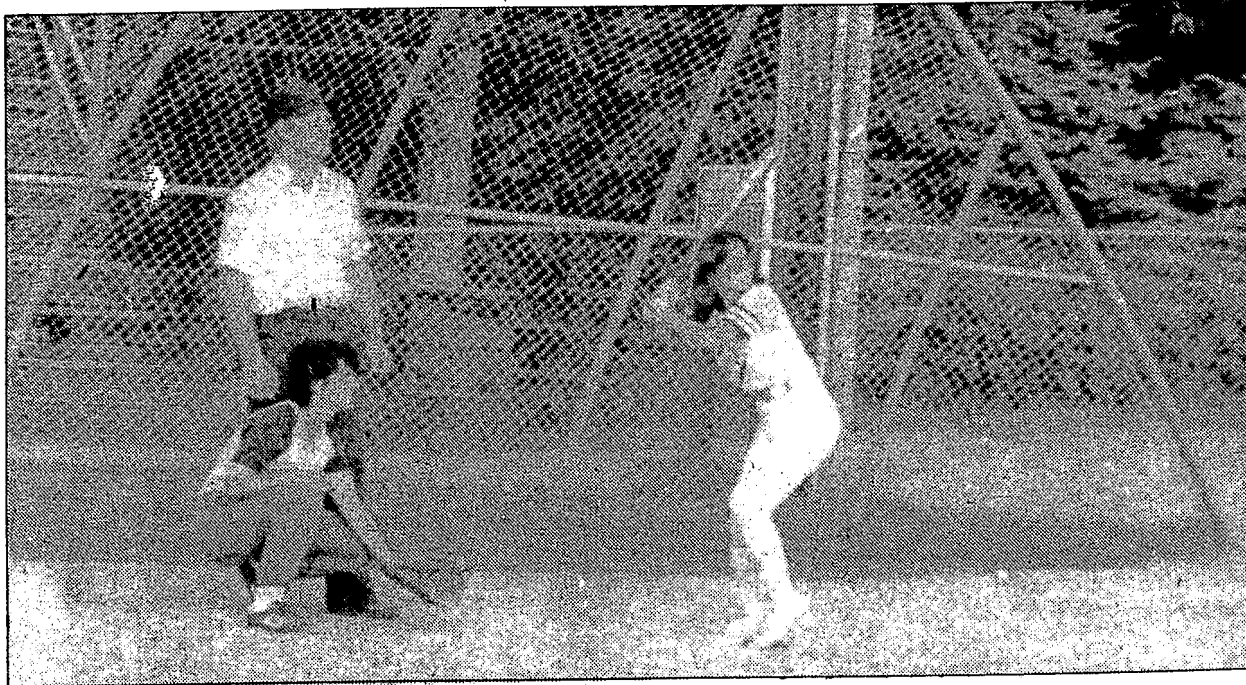

A 10-6 final score in a women's slo-pitch softball game doesn't sound out of the ordinary.

But after two and one-half scoreless innings, the bats started to boom as Leslie Electric downed Waterfall Jewelry 10-6 July 6 in the Independence Township

Women's Beta league at Clintonwood Park.

Electric jumped out to score three runs in the bottom of the third. That was the turning point, said Waterfall coach Al Kowalski.

"I figured both teams were real similar and the first team to score would probably win," he said.

Debby Wren of Leslie Electric is ready to get her swings against Waterfall Jewelers in a women's softball game. Catcher Adrenna Harley and umpire Mike Turk watch.

"Even though we came back to tie them in the fourth, and couldn't catch the ball in the fifth, the fourth was the turning point."

Electric scored four runs in the fifth to take an 8-3 lead.

"The fifth inning broke the game open for us," said Electric coach Dave Carlson. "We had a lot of good hitting."

Robin Morgan had only one hit in the game, but that came in the fifth with the bases loaded to drive in two runs. Vicki Morgan added three hits to pace the hitting attack.

For Waterfall, Sally Stewart led the offense with four hits and Cathy Pitts and Barb Facer each collected three hits.

Pitcher Tammy Carlson of Electric made the defensive play of the game in the sixth inning when she knocked the ball down and threw from her knees to get the runner at first.

"That was a very big play," coach Carlson said. "That kept Waterfall from scoring a lot of runs."

Electric is now 7-2 in the league and in third place. Waterfall is 4-5, good for fifth place.

The league is divided into three basic parts.

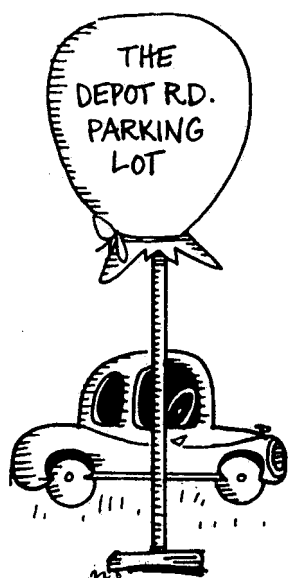

"The top four teams make the playoffs," Kowalski said. "Right now it's the top four teams, then the next two and the last four. We're in the middle two trying to move up. We WILL be in the playoffs. We're on the doorstep now."

Electric has won more games this year than they did all last year.

"This is the team's third year together," Carlson said. "Last year we were 5-15. The team is much more aggressive, and it shows."

Harold J. Bauer

Funeral service for Harold J. Bauer of Clarkston was held July 3 at the Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston, with the Rev. James Balfour officiating.

Bauer, 76, died July 1. He was the retired executive vice president of Pontiac Paint and Varnish Co. He also served as treasurer of Independence Township and as a trustee on the Independence Township Board.

Surviving are his wife, Lillian; children, Shirley Wilson of Clarkston and Sally Whitney of Grosse Pointe Farms; six grandchildren; and brothers, Melvin of Cleveland, Ohio, and Ralph of Chagrin Falls, Ohio.

Following the service, burial took place in Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township.

The family suggests memorial donations to Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association, Easter Seals or the Clarkston United Methodist Church.

Frank D. Green

Funeral service for former Clarkston resident Frank D. Green of West Branch was held July 12 at the Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston, with Loren Covarrubias officiating.

Green, 67, died July 9. He was a retired maintenance supervisor for Clarkston Community Schools, retired from the Independence Township Fire Department, retired from the Clarkston Police Department and a past commander of American Legion Campbell Richmond Post No. 63.

He served as a corporal in the United States Army during World War II.

Surviving are his wife, Eva; sons, Douglas of Davisburg, Larry of Atlanta, Melvin of Central Lake, and Herbert of Temple, Texas; 10 grandchildren; and one great-granddaughter.

Burial took place in Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township.

Joseph J. Madison

Funeral service for Joseph J. Madison of Independence Township was held July 8 at the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home, Independence Township, with the Rev. James Balfour officiating.

Madison, 79, died July 6. He was a retired employee of Fleet Carrier Corp.

Surviving are his wife, Eileen; children, Mrs. James (Marty) Wilson and Mike, both of Clarkston; grandchildren, Russ and Joe; and brother, Charles of Indiana.

Following the service burial took place in Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township.

Memorial tributes may be made to the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Coronary Care Unit.

Christine E. Warden

Funeral service for former Clarkston resident Christine E. Warden of Holly was held July 8 at the Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston, with the Rev. Roger Campbell officiating.

Mrs. Warden, 71, died July 5. She and her late husband, Gillette, were the former owners of Dixie Bait Shop on Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

Surviving are her children, Gillette Jr. of Clarkston, Ronald of Davisburg, Leon of Davisburg and Irene Jones of Clarkston; 19 grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren; brother, Ervin Ashbaugh of Pontiac; and sister, Myrtle Walz of Florida.

Following the service, burial took place in Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township.

Dropped objects cause injuries

By Marilyn Trumper

Deputy James Snover of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department thinks the recent dropping of a bowling ball from a Detroit expressway over-ramp sparked a series of similar occurrences the past few weeks in Independence Township.

Detective/Sgt. Roger Allen of the (OCSD) disagrees.

For several weekends vandals have dropped bottles into the windshields of cars passing below in on I-75 in Independence Township.

Early Saturday morning, July 9, the bottle-tossing activity expanded to Maybee Road.

A 21-year-old Waterford Township woman was injured when a thrown bottle smashed the windshield of the car she was driving.

She received six stitches on her forehead at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, Pontiac, according to police.

"It's nasty little kids," said Allen. "For years they've gotten their kicks throwing pumpkins and watermelons and cucumbers off expressway over-ramps at cars."

"It wasn't the Detroit thing that did it. They've done this for years. It's vandalism at its worst."

Snover, a road patrolman, says drivers should be wary when crossing under overpasses.

"It's a horrible thing, and at the least someone could get hurt. At the worst someone could be killed or we could have a multiple car pile-up."

Persons with information on the vandals are asked to call the OCSD at 858-4980.

Missy Sloan stretches out her 22-inch braids at arm's length. They had a date with the scissors at Shear Identity, just a hop, skip and a jump from home on Springfield Township's Big Lake.

For the first time in her life, 11-year-old Missy had her waist-length hair cut.

● Snip! Snip! Missy lets down her golden hair

By Marilyn Trumper

The Friday before the Fourth of July, for the first time in her 11 years, Missy Sloan got a haircut.

Two quick snips was all it took to relieve her blond head of two tightly banded 22-inch braids.

Celebrity ball game

John Denver is coming to Pine Knob Music Theater for three concerts, July 19-21.

And, while here, he and his road crew will help raise money for muscular dystrophy with a softball game against Pine Knob employees.

The game will be Wednesday, July 20, at 2 p.m. at Sashabaw Junior High.

Last year the Doobie Brothers played in the first charity softball game and helped raise $2,600 for the fight against MS.

Tickets are $1 at the field.

Found: eyeglasses

Missing some eyeglasses?

A pair of bifocals were found July 9 on Almond Lane, Independence Township, by a mail carrier. They are inside a black case.

To claim them, stop by The Clarkston News office, S.S. Main, Clarkston, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays or call us at 625-3370.

Wear safety belts

Wear those safety belts.

That's the message ringing loud and clear from Michigan's 1983 highway death toll.

According to statistics passed along to us by the Michigan Coalition for Safety-Belt Use, the state recorded 585 traffic deaths in the first half of 1983. Of that number, 381 were not motorcyclists or pedestrians and had seat belts available for use.

But a startling 95 percent—362 accident victims—were NOT buckled up.

Missy closed her eyes in a grimace when stylist Sallie Smith took the sharp silver shears to her head.

The moment of truth.

It wasn't too late to turn back.

No, Missy shook her head.

"I'm ready."

From just above the rubberbands, Sallie took the first cuts.

Snip! Snip!

The braids fell into her mom's waiting hands, cherished like the hood ornament off a first car.

Missy promptly shook the braids from confinement, the ragged hair falling across her shoulders.

She smiled, commenting how light her head suddenly felt.

Then over to the sink to wet the hair.

Back to the seat for a cut and style.

Then a perm to give the straight hair some pizzazz.

Hours later the Pollyanna tomboy's transformed into a chic, stylish lass.

"It will be easy to take care of now," Missy said. "It takes 15 minutes to a half-hour to dry. Now it will dry faster. I washed it last night and it was still damp this morning."

But that's not why Missy submitted to the shears.

"I wanted my hair to look like her's," she said, pointing to best friend Laura Wendt.

Hours later, proud and pleased friends Missy (left) and Laura Wendt hold up the cropped braids, while giving a look at their newly matching, stylish hairdos.

Red Sutherland Place in transition

By Kathy Greenfield

Sutherland Place is under transition.

Built in the early 1900s as the home of Dr. Sutherland, the red building at the south end of the Village of Clarkston's business district was purchased by James Kaminski about 1½ years ago.

Already open inside is Matteo's with select groceries and catering by owner Matthew Vocino.

Kaminski's restaurant, McGillacutty's, is due to open in the lower level at the end of July, to be followed by the Thistledown Tea Room on the second floor.

To reach McGillacutty's, patrons will walk behind the building, through a terraced rock garden, under a green awning where diners will be served in warm months, and through an old oak door.

Breakfast, lunch and dinner will be served seven days a week.

The focal point inside the 50-seat restaurant is the old stone wall.

Artwork will be featured, much of it by Kaminski, the lights are from an old school in Detroit's former Poletown, the glass windows are from Boston and the antiques are mostly from Detroit.

"Primarily we're trying to fill that gap here in Clarkston," Kaminski said. "The village restaurant where you can go in and grab an inexpensive meal—where you can grab breakfast and sit around with your friends in an intimate atmosphere."

"I want it to fit like an old shoe—I want it to be comfortable."

Kaminski came up with the restaurant's name while watching an old "I Love Lucy" rerun on TV. It is Lucy's maiden name.

"It just has a nice friendly ring," he said.

The pineapple, the symbol of hospitality, was chosen to adorn the McGillacutty's sign and to appear throughout the eatery.

On the menu will be a variety of omelets, soups, stews and salads. Desserts will include items like fresh fruit fluff. And a special will be served after 10 p.m.

"The pineapple is a prepared food item," Kaminski said. "It's a symbol of hospitality."

Kaminski's first restaurant was in Detroit, where he owned a bar and grill.

He moved to Clarkston in 1981 and opened the restaurant. He said he was looking for a place to open a restaurant. He found it in Clarkston. He said he was looking for a place to open a restaurant. He found it in Clarkston.

He and his wife, Pat, have lived in Clarkston for about four years. She is a medical technician with Advanced Medical, a research laboratory in Pontiac.

They lived in Minnesota before returning to Michigan with the goal of opening a restaurant.

Kaminski's job at Pine Knob led to their discovery of Clarkston and work toward opening McGillacutty's has been underway about two years.

"One thing I'm really happy about is I did take my time," he said. "I did have time to study Clarkston and learn, hopefully, what was lacking here."

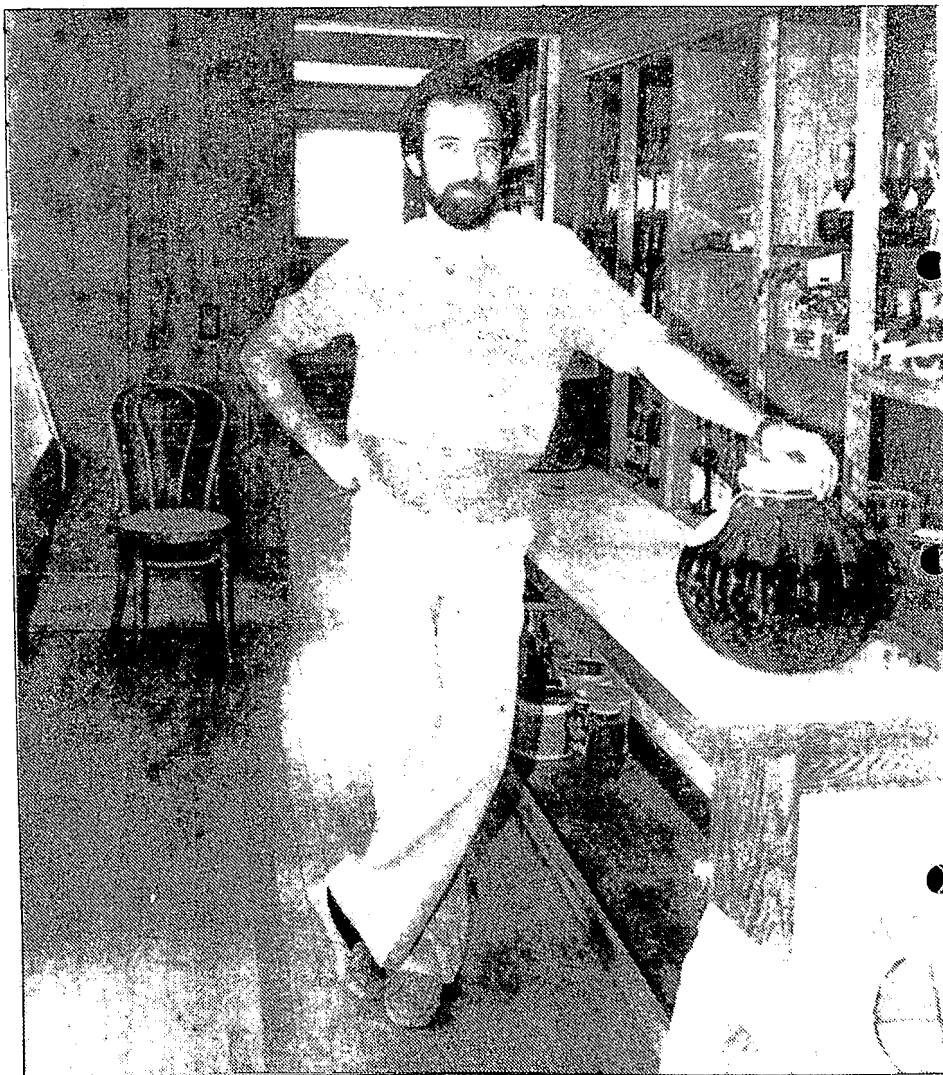

The sign announcing the arrival of McGillacutty's and Matteo's is in place in front of the Sutherland Place. Built in the early 1900s, the building was once the residence of Dr. Sutherland. Matteo's is open. The restaurant is to begin serving meals at the end of July.

Inside McGillacutty's, owner James Kaminski talks about plans for his restaurant due to open soon. Open seven days a week, the restaurant will serve breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Matthew Vocino is at home in his new shop, Matteo's in downtown Clarkston. His customers are too, he says. "I've noticed people are comfortable in here. They've said it themselves. They're not afraid to touch the wood and touch the bottles."

Select grocery opens

The oak display cases and shelves capture the European, country flavor of Matteo's Select Groceries and Services recently opened inside the Sutherland Place on Main Street in Clarkston.

Owner Matthew Vocino can cater a meal or sell customers elegant touches for entertaining, or dining, on their own.

"I noticed there was a lack of this kind of store in the area where people could buy fresh coffee beans, different kinds of pasta and an assortment of unusual kinds of cheeses—and I knew there was a market for them," he said.

"It's reintroducing the old flavor—the old world as far as European, getting rid of the high-tech feeling. People come in and they're greeted. They taste the cheeses..."

Matteo's was selected as the shop's name to reflect the old-world flavor. But while it is the Italian version of his first name, Vocino laughs as he admits he didn't know how to spell it.

A trip to the library solved the problem. "We got the correct spelling. We liked the way it looked in print," he said.

Inside Matteo's, bowls and glass jars hold almonds, pistachio nuts, imported candies and more.

Spices are sold by the ounce. There are 10 kinds of coffee beans, imported teas, specialty crackers, imported olives, noodles from Italy and Hazlenut Praline, the gourmet's peanut butter.

And there are loaves of Italian bread, pates, imported cheeses, salads—like marinated green beans with artichokes, and pasta and vegetables—and entrees like chicken with almonds and dill to be served hot or cold.

The dishes Vocino prepares will vary over the six days a week he's open.

His catering business, that's the "and services" part of the name, will also be conducted out of Matteo's.

"I've done two and I've done 250," he said. "I've done sauerkraut and knackwurst for bowling banquets and I've done Beef Wellington, but I tend to be on the upper half of that."

"I just did a party for the Fourth of July and I even supplied the fireworks," he added, noting that he'll take care of all details of a catered event from tables, linens and silverware to bartenders.

What's new in business

Vocino will also be working in kitchen management at McGillacutty's, the restaurant owned by his friend James Kaminski in the same building.

Formerly he worked at Machus Red Fox in Birmingham, as the kitchen manager two years and as dining room manager two years.

He and his wife, Deborah, are expecting their first child in September. She works for Linden Medical Supply in Southfield and will soon move to the new Troy branch of the business.

While the Vocinos now live in Southfield, they plan to move to a location between Troy and Clarkston to shorten the drives to work for both.

Winning pilots at the July 6 event were Bree Michelson, Matt Cunningham, John Jennings, Melissa Ruth, Shawn Grimes and Stephen Harlton. Prizes awarded were E.T. Totebags, Yoda posters and Garfield bookmarks.

The library is located at 6495 Clarkston—Orion, Independence Township.

CVP officers

New officers are at the helm of the Clarkston Village Players.

President is Linda Porter, vice president Marlene Sewick, treasurer Sandy Sanford, recording secretary Judy Rood and corresponding secretary Pamela Hill.

Committee chairpersons are historical, Barb Glover; script, Pat Thomas; ticket, Marlene Sewick; social, Cheri Broome; publicity, Sharon Taylor and Pamela Hill; financial/fund raising, Chuck Haskins; house, Denny Colwell; and scholarship, Homer Biondi.

Plays have also been selected for the coming season: "Dark Deeds at Swan's Place," a musical melodrama in October; "Gingerbread Lady," a comically sad production in December; "Don't Step on My Footprint," a satirical comedy presented in dinner-theater style in March; and "Chapter Two," a serious comedy in May.

Coming up is the third annual Summer Youth Theatre presentation, "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory," with a cast of 44.

Play dates are Friday, Aug. 26, at 7 p.m. and Saturday, Aug. 27, at 2 and 7 p.m. at the Depot Theatre on White Lake Road, Independence Township.

New arrivals

Tom and Cindy Burger of Livonia welcomed their first children—twins—into the world June 10.

Eric Robert weighed 5 pounds, 13 ounces and Evan Thomas weighed 5 pounds, 1 ounce. Both boys measured 18½ inches long.

Grandparents are Fred and Lois Beardsley of Oakhill Road, Brandon Township, and Ed and Margaret Burger of Detroit.

Keith and Alice Sherwood of Eastlawn Drive, Independence Township, welcomed their first child into the world June 17.

Melissa Kay was born at 7:57 p.m. at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. She weighed 7 pounds, 8½ ounces and measured 19½ inches long.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vandermark of DeWitt, formerly of Clarkston, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sherwood of Independence Township.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Weaver of Goodrich, Mrs. Beatrice Maddison of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hewes of St. Helen.

60 turn out for free sight, hearing test

Sixty people had their sight and hearing checked by volunteers at the Clarkston Lions free Hearing and Sight Testing mobile unit van July 4th.

"We feel it was very successful," said Lion Julius Dael. "We were able to find a few people who needed help, one needed glasses and couldn't afford them and the other one, a little girl, was having trouble with her hearing aid."

Both were Independence Township residents, he said.

The mobile van was set up before and after the Fourth of July parade Monday.

The Clarkston Lions donate money to Leader Dogs for the Blind, the Silent Children program at Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, and approximately 20 other agencies involved with vision and hearing.

Honors

Tracey Piazza has been awarded two music scholarships to attend Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp for summer study—one from the camp and one from the Clarkston Band Boosters.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Piazza of Big Lake Road, Springfield Township, Tracey will begin the ninth grade at Clarkston Junior High when school resumes in the fall.

Father-and-daughter team Jim and Sarah Schultz walked away with three ribbons from the North American Lily Society's International Lily Show at the Southfield Sheraton last weekend.

Sarah, 12, took a blue ribbon for her flower arrangement in the 16-and-under category titled "Our American Indian Heritage."

Jim won a third-place ribbon in the "From the Bible Lands" category and an honorable mention in "From Michigan, the Water Wonderland."

The Schultzes grow their lilies and other flowers at home on Robertson Court, Clarkston.

The competition was sponsored by the Michigan Regional Lily Society.

Ruth Lipmyer has been named to the dean's list for the past term at Madonna College, Livonia.

At camp

Edith Meyers is attending the Interlochen National Music Camp this summer.

She is a member of the junior division, for third-through sixth-graders. Talent exploration and development are the division's primary aims.

The camp has been on operation 56 years.

Cowdin-Romeo

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Cowdin of Independence Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jo, to officer candidate Ross V. Romeo of Ft. Benning, Ga. The bride-elect resides in Lubbock, Texas. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S.V. Romeo of Beverly Hills. Both are graduates of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. A fall wedding is planned.

Grall-Weyhing

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grall of Harrodsburg, Ky., announce the engagement of their daughter, Beverly Anne, to Robert Stephen Weyhing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Weyhing of Waterford Township. The bride-to-be is a graduate student at the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, in counseling psychology.

Her fiancé has a bachelor's degree from The Kings College, New York, and a master's degree from the University of Notre Dame. He is presently a therapist at the Riverwood Community Mental Health Center, Niles. The couple plan to reside in South Bend, Ind., following an August wedding in Harrodsburg.

Attending Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp during the first summer session are two local students.

Kristin Ried, a band major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Ried.

Stefanie Millis, a theater major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Millis.

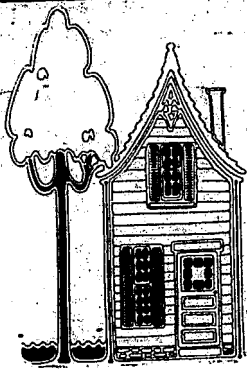

The camp is located 15 miles north of Muskegon in the Manistee National Forest.

Warthen-Verbos

Esther M. Warthen announces the engagement of her daughter, Bonnie Gall, to Thomas J. Verbos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Verbos of Plymouth. The bride-elect is a Pontiac resident and works at Oakland Diagnostic Laboratory, Southfield. Her fiancé works for Sweet's TV in Waterford Township. Bonnie is the daughter of the late Ernest H. Warthen and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prasil, Independence Township. A September wedding is planned.

Play for cat lovers

by Ann Glenn

Have you heard of the Gumbie Cat or Rum Tum Tugger or Mungojerrie and Rumpelteazer or Macavity?

These are marvelous cat characters from T.S. Elliot's "Old Possum's Book of Practical Cats."

The book has been put to incredible music and dance and back-alley-cat scenery and become the Broadway musical "Cats."

The show was successful in London and has now been sold out on Broadway in New York since opening. In fact, reservations several months hence are the order of the day.

Songs impart their wisdom, such as "Memory"—sung by a fading old lady cat, it goes:

Memory, turn your face to the moonlight
Let memory lead you...
If you find there what the meaning of happiness is
Then a new life will begin.

I can smile at the old days
I was beautiful then.
I remember when I knew what happiness was...
Let the memory live again

Daylight, I must wait for the sunrise...
When the dawn comes, tonight will be a memory too
And a new day will begin.

Sunlight through the trees in summer...
If you touch me you'll understand what happiness is
Look...a new day has begun.

There are Old Deuteronomy, an eternal cat who has spanned generations and "nine wives" and emerged wise as Old Testament sages, and the magician cat, Mr. Mistoffelees, who has his people fooled.

A song goes: "Well I never, did you ever, know a cat so clever as magical Mr. Mistoffelees!"

There is a scene about naming cats: "But I tell you a cat needs a name that's particular, a name that's particular and more dignified. Else how can he keep up his tail perpendicular?"

And another on how to address a cat: "Before a cat will condescend to treat you as a trusted friend, some little token of esteem is needed, like a dish of cream."

Elliot talks about a dog being a simple soul and undignified. He says, "A dog's a dog, a cat's a cat, and a cat is entitled to respect."

Deuteronomy sings this at the end: "You've seen us both at work and games, our habits and habitat. You've learned enough to take a view that cats are very much like you."

The popularity and message of this marvelous play is a delight and a thrill to all animal enthusiasts around the globe.

So if in New York, see the play. And this summer if you want some insights into yourself as well as the world of cats, adopt a cat!

STATE OF MICHIGAN COUNTY OF OAKLAND TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDINANCE NO. 109 AS AMENDED

FLOOD PLAIN MANAGEMENT ORDINANCE

THE TOWNSHIP BOARD OF THE TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE, COUNTY OF OAKLAND, STATE OF MICHIGAN, DOES HEREBY ENACT AND ORDAIN THE FOLLOWING:

Sec. 21-76. Intent and codification

(1) It is the intent of the Township in adopting this Ordinance to significantly reduce hazards to persons and damage to property as a result of flood conditions in the Township; to comply with the provisions and requirements of the National Flood Insurance Program; to protect human life, health and property from dangerous and damaging effects of flood conditions; to minimize public expenditures for flood control projects, rescue and relief efforts in the aftermath of flooding, repair of flood damaged public facilities and utilities, and the development of flood damaged homes, neighborhoods, commercial and industrial areas; to maintain stable development patterns not subject to the blighting influence of flood damage; to designate flood plains and institute flood plain development regulations and general development standards; to establish regulations concerning the same; and to provide for the administration of this Ordinance and to provide penalties for violation.

(2) The Independence Township Code is hereby amended by the addition of this Article IV of Chapter 21, as provided in this Ordinance.

Sec. 21-77. Definitions

The following words and phrases, when used in this Article, shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them:

Base Flood means the flood having a one (1%) percent chance of being equaled or exceeded in any given year.

Building Department means the Department of Building of the Township.

Flood or Flooding means a general and temporary condition of partial or complete inundation of normally dry land areas as a result of: (1) the overflow of inland waters; or (2) the unusual and rapid accumulation of run-off or surface waters from any source.

BOCA Code means the building code provisions of Chapter 7 of this Code.

Flood Boundary and Floodway Map means the official Map issued by the Federal Insurance Administration, where the boundaries of the areas of special flood hazards have been designated, hereinafter referred to as "FBFM".

Flood Hazard Area means land which on the basis of available flood plain information is subject to one (1%) percent or greater chance of flooding in any given year.

Flood Insurance Rate Map means the official Map of the Township, dated May 16, 1983, on which the Federal Insurance Administration has delineated both the areas of special flood hazards and the risk premium zones applicable to the community, hereinafter referred to as "FIRM".

Flood Insurance Study means the official report provided by the Federal Insurance Administration, containing flood profiles, the water elevation of the base flood, and may include a Flood Boundary-Floodway Map.

Flood Plain means any land area susceptible to being flooded.

Floodway means the channel of a river or other water course and the adjacent land areas which must be reserved in order to discharge the base flood.

Regulatory Flood Datum means the 100 year flood plain contour-line synonymous with base flood elevation.

Structure means anything constructed or erected which requires permanent location on the ground or attachment to something having such location, including, without limitation, a walled or roofed building, mobile home, or storage facility.

Substantial improvement means any repair, reconstruction or improvement of a structure, the cost of which equals or exceeds fifty (50%) percent of the market value of the structure either before the improvement or repair is started, or, if the structure has been damaged or is being restored, before the damage occurred. For the purpose of this definition, such term does not include any project for improvement of a structure to comply with existing state or local health, sanitary or safety code specifications which are necessary solely for the reason of assuring safe living conditions, or any alterations of a structure listed on the National Register of Historic Places or a state inventory of historic places.

Township means the Township of Independence, County of Oakland, State of Michigan.

Sec. 21-78. Interpretation of local ordinances

(1) The Army Corps of Engineers Flood Proofing Regulations, a technical guide cited in Appendix B of BOCA shall be utilized by the building official in the enforcement of Section 872.6 of BOCA.

(2) The most recent flood elevation data received from the Federal Insurance Administration shall take precedence over data from other sources.

Sec. 21-79. Requirements

(1) Where an area of special flood hazard has been identified on the FIRM, but no elevation data is available, new or substantially improved structures in the identified area shall meet the standards of one of the Sections 401.2 through 401.5 or 612.2.1 through 612.2.3, as applicable, of the Regulations of the Army Corps of Engineers.

(2) Where an area of special flood hazard has been identified on the FIRM, and elevation data is available;

(a) New and substantially improved residential structures shall meet the standards of one of the Sections 612.2.1 through 612.2.3, as applicable, of the Regulations of the Army Corps of Engineers; and

(b) New and substantially improved nonresidential structures shall meet the standards of one of the Sections 401.2, 401.3 or 612.2.1 through 612.2.3, of the Regulations of the Army Corps of Engineers; and

(3) First floor elevation information shall be provided to the Building Department for structures in the special flood hazard area as identified on the FIRM, indicating the elevation of lowest habitable floor, whether the structure contains a basement, and the elevation to which the structure has been "flood proofed". Information so provided shall be maintained in the records of the Building Department.

Sec. 21-80. Disclaimer of liability

The degree of flood protection required by this Ordinance is considered reasonable for regulatory purposes and is based upon engineering and scientific methods of study. Larger floods may occur on rare occasions. Flood heights may be increased by man-made or natural causes. Thus, approval of the use of land under this Article shall not be considered a guarantee or warranty of safety from flood damage. This Article does not imply that areas outside the flood hazard area will be free from flood damage. This Article does not create liability on the part of the Township or any officer or employee thereof for any flood damage that results from reliance on this Article, or any administrative decision lawfully made.

Sec. 21-81. Violations and penalties for noncompliance.

No development shall be permitted within a flood plain area without full compliance with the terms of this Ordinance and other applicable regulations. Any person, firm or corporation undertaking work on or improvement of property in violation of the provisions of this Article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, fined not more than Five Hundred ($500) Dollars for each such conviction, or shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not to exceed 90 days for each offense, or by both such fine and such imprisonment as determined by the Court.

Sec. 21-82. Repealer

All Ordinances and parts of Ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this Article are hereby repealed to the extent necessary to effectuate this Ordinance.

Sec. 21-83. Severability

Section 1.8 of this Code shall Apply.

TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

James B. Smith, Supervisor

Adoption and publication

This Ordinance is hereby made and adopted on this 5th day of July, 1983, by the Township Board of the Township of Independence, and duly published as required by law on the 13th day of July, 1983.

Cafeteria workers settle contract

The 26 members of the Clarkston schools Cafeteria Association have settled their labor contract.

The contract was ratified 6-0 by the board of education Monday night.

The two-year agreement was retroactive to the date the previous contract expired, covering July 1, 1982 to June 30, 1984.

A wage freeze was accepted by the employees for the 1982-83 school year and the average increase in salary for 1983-84 is 5.59 percent, said Administrative Assistant Conrad Bruce, chief negotiator for the district.

Helpers will receive 23 more cents an hour and cooks will receive 33 more cents an hour, he said.

In addition, there is a 3-cent-an-hour increase in longevity pay and the uniform allowance and insurance benefits stay the same.

-Business briefs- Rose named assistant fiscal director

New manager

Linda Fowler has been named acting manager of the Auburn Heights branch of Pontiac State Bank. A 12-year PSB employee, she resides in the Clarkston area. Previously, she served as assistant manager of the West Huron branch. She replaces Delores Carr, who retired.

Promoted: Hugh Rose

Hugh Rose has been named assistant director for fiscal affairs of Hurley Medical Center, Flint. Hurley's board of directors approved the promotion June 22.

Rose, 34, has been acting in the same position since January when Williamson George retired from the medical center.

A 1971 University of Michigan honors graduate, he is a certified public accountant. He began working at Hurley in 1976 as assistant controller for reimbursement.

As assistant director for fiscal affairs, his duties include management of all accounting and finance functions at the 600-bed hospital.

Rose is a former member of the board of directors of the Clarkston Village Players. He is also a member of the Independence Land Conservancy and the Clarkston United Methodist Church.

He resides in Independence Township.

BAIT leaders

The Business Association of Independence Township has elected new officers for 1983-84.

President is Stewart McTeer, vice president Marvin Zmudczynski, secretary Betty Simmons and treasurer Bud Grant.

Other board members are Claudia Jakus, Tom Ritter, Carol Ackerman, Conrad Bruce and Denise Schons.

'For Those Who Come After ...'

Advance book sales are now underway for Springfield: For Those Who Come After... Published by the Springfield Township History Book Committee, the book's pre-publication price is $15. Following actual printing in February, the cost will be $18.

The hardbound book, measuring 8 1/2-by-11 inches will have over 100 pages, more than 125 photographs and maps.

Beginning with the area's earliest settlers who travelled the Saginaw Trail, it will cover events local historical including the coming of the railroad in 1856 and the advent of the automobile in the early 1900s, moving up to the early 1940s.

For a brochure or more information, call Cathy Phillips, librarian, at the Springfield Township Library at 625-0595, or write the Springfield Township Historical Society, P.O. Box 203, Davisburg, MI 48019.

The fire that burned the Methodist-Protestant Church in Davisburg to the ground in 1916 is captured by an early photographer, and the photo is one of over 125 that will appear in the Springfield

Historical Society's history book. The church on Davisburg Road near Tindall Road was never rebuilt and a portion of its foundation can still be found on the property.

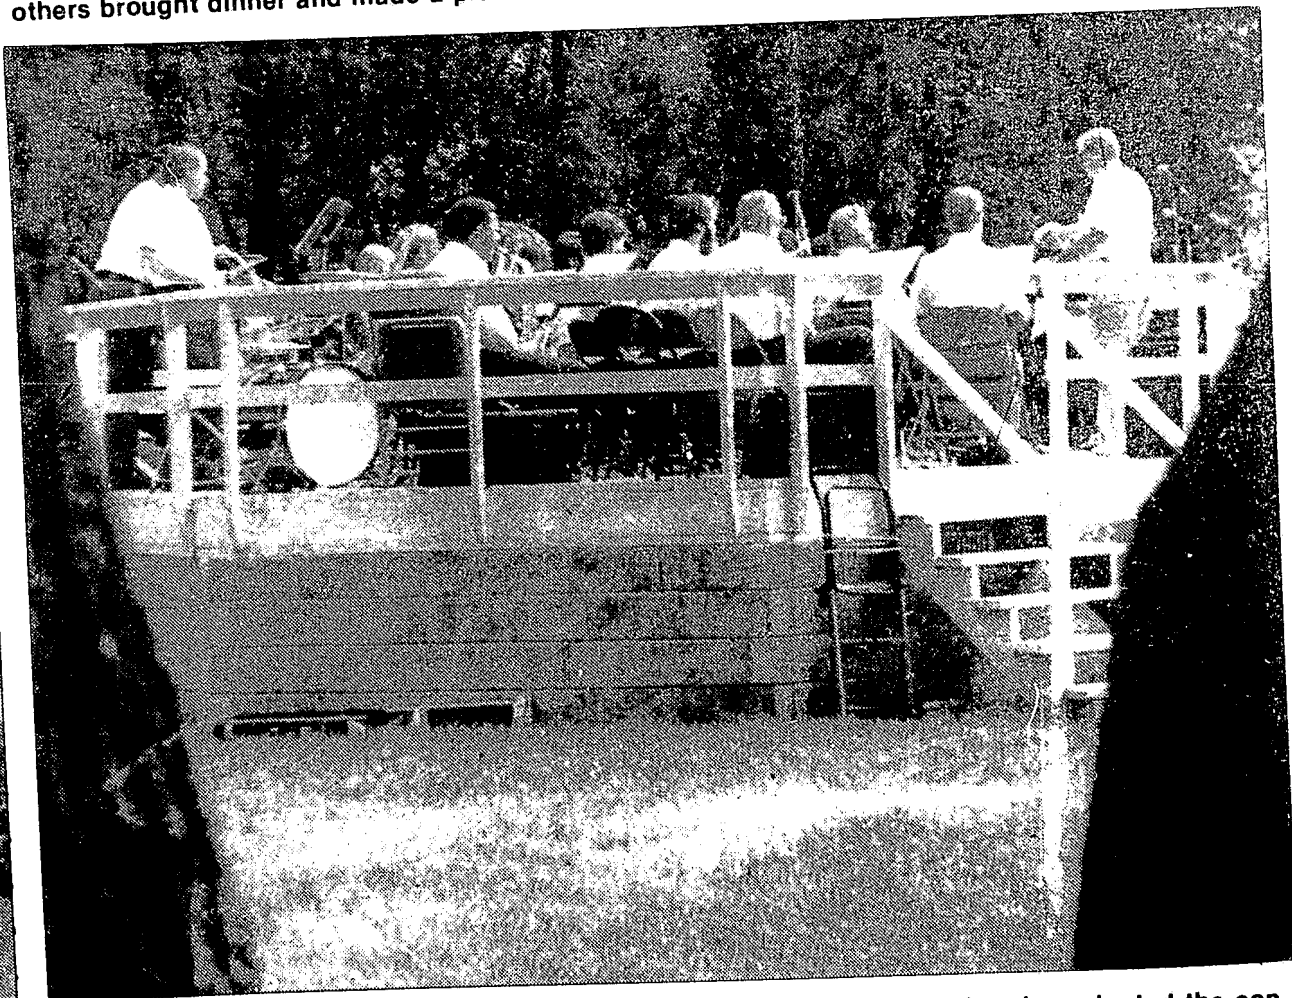

Music fills the air at the concert sponsored by the Village Business Association last Friday.

All ages of music lovers came to relax while others brought dinner and made a picnic of it.

Concert in the Park

Mary Pudduck of Pontiac is all set for a quiet evening as she reads a book while waiting for the Concert in the Park.

Jim Morris conducts the Clarkston Village Band during the second the Concert in the Park sponsored by the Village Business Association.

tion. He has arranged and conducted the concerts the last four years. The summer music program starts at 7 p.m. and lasts an hour.

CLARKSTON

The Place We Call Home

Supplement to The Clarkston News/Penny Stretcher

Wednesday, July 13, 1983

"I live in Clarkston."

One thing's for sure. When asked where they live, those who call Clarkston home answer with pride.

So in this, the first of a series of three Clarkston News special sections, we focus on what Clarkston means to those who live and work here.

Inside you'll find:

•THIS is Clarkston A child, teen-ager, adult and senior citizen answer the question, "What does Clarkston mean to you?"

•Great House Columnist Betty Duris looks at some of the assortment of Victorian homes in our community.

•Made in Clarkston The story of Moon Valley Rustics, a manufacturing business that stamps each piece with our town's name.

•A Night on the Town This month, we look at entertainment bargains.

•Where Have I Seen You Before? A close-up look at people you meet while shopping and doing business in Clarkston.

•Just for Fun An outline of recreational opportunities at Independence Oaks County Park.

•Government Elected officials and their duties are this month's topic.

•Photo Inquiry Residents respond to the question, "What do you like best about living in Clarkston?"

Putting the information all together, you'll learn some of the reasons people are proud of Clarkston.

Be sure to look for more parts of the whole as we continue exploring Clarkston with a special section in August and one in September.

Cassie Henning takes advantage of the basketball courts at Clintonwood Park to get in practice for the season. The 16-year-old says everything she needs in Clarkston is within walking or bike-riding distance.

Pretty, neat, well-kept

Cassie Henning runs around the green court at Independence Township Clintonwood Park, bouncing an orange basketball off the backstop and smiling when it slips neatly through the net.

The park's within walking distance for the 16-year-old junior at Springfield Christian Academy in Springfield Township.

"I play forward on the team there. I come here a lot to practice. I like to play. I live over on Ascension and walk here or ride my bike.

"That's one thing that's great about Clarkston. I can ride my bike anywhere. On hot days I ride downtown a lot to get an ice cream at Sweet Sue's, or up to Pierre's."

For Cassie, the park's draw is more than the basketball court.

"I like to play on the slides and just enjoy the quiet. It's so nice to just come here and sit."

"When I think about Clarkston, I think about the downtown, how pretty and neat and well-kept everything is. That's what it means to me."

Lois Sanders takes advantage of seating at a shaded picnic table at Parke Lake Beach and talks about what Clarkston means to her.

A 'Magic Kingdom'

Lois Sanders lies belly-down on the Parke Lake dock under the hot June sun.

At three in the afternoon she's lollygagging. "And enjoying every minute of it," the 47-year-old smiles. She appreciates vacation away from her teaching post at Waterford Adult Education as much as the students.

"We love this lake. We swim every day on it in the summer, and ice skate and cross-country ski in the winter."

The lake's just a step away from her home on Robertson Court in the Village of Clarkston, and Clarkston, Lois says, means many things.

"It's a good place to raise a family. It's heterogeneous, and that's what the world is like. My kids know not everyone is wealthy, that there are all kinds of people in the world. It's not like Bloomfield Hills or Grosse Pointe. There's a mix here.

"And," she said, "Clarkston means home. As far as the summers here, I never like to leave. We never schedule our vacation in the summer."

Husband Gary is a realtor.

"He loves Clarkston, and that makes it easy to sell. We've gotten two of our friends to move here. When people visit, he gives them the grand tour.

"He shows them all the lakes, Deer, Parke, the Mill Pond. He shows them the library, schools, churches, Our Lady of the Lakes, Deerwood subdivision and, of course, Main Street.

"If they're into tennis, he shows them the Deer Lake Racquet Club, and if they're into golf, Pine Knob.

"He calls it the 'Magic Kingdom'."

Four best buddies, Clark Eader, Scott Reynolds, Joseph Lee and Joe Yates, stand at the edge of a swamp at Clintonwood Park. Their idea of a good time: to catch snakes, frogs and turtles.

With freedom to roam

The surface of a stagnate green swamp glints against the noon sun and heats to a nose-wrinkling stink in Independence Township's Clintonwood Park.

Around the edge stand Joseph Lee and his three best buddies, eyeballing frogs, snakes and turtles.

They're in for an afternoon of adventure, as soon as Joseph, picking through the gravel at roadside, recovers his lost dime.

Rising to his feet he brandishes the lost coin.

For Joseph, Clarkston means freedom to roam.

"I like Clarkston. There are lots of fields where I can play with my friends. We fish, shoot BB-guns, climb trees and I ride my bike through the woods and trails."

He points to a woman's oversized blue and white Schwinn with a white woven basket strapped to the handlebars.

"That's my mom's bike. I jumped a ramp and cracked mine in half. It was a Huffy."

Joseph says he spends a lot of time at the park.

"We catch snakes, frogs and turtles. It's a lot of fun."

Sally Miller stands in the willow's shade outside the Independence Township Senior Citizen Center.

She's here to stay

For 62-year-old Sally Miller, Clarkston means listening to dogs fight raccoons at 3 a.m.

It means losing 15 pounds since moving from Detroit to the area two years ago.

It means picking fresh fruit and vegetables instead of going to the produce stand.

And it means lower blood pressure.

"I love Clarkston," Sally said, getting up from her bingo game at the Independence Township Senior Citizen Center.

"I came from Detroit—and will never go back. I like the quiet. I like the atmosphere. The people here are friendlier. You feel you can stop them in the street and they don't treat you like your a stranger."

The plusses outweigh any inconvenience, she said.

"There are so many different activities here for me. Here I go out in the country and buy my vegetables. In the city, you go to stores and it's like a jungle.

"My health is better since I've moved here. I was sluggish in the city. Here I feel better, my blood pressure's down."

Sally lives with her daughter's family on Rat-talee Lake Road, Springfield Township.

"They have five acres out there. I just love to get up in the morning and listen to my birds sing. I'll never go back."

Q

I like the small size of the community. I like the types of activities for the children here.

Fun awaits at Independence Oaks

By Dan Vandenhemel

In summer the splashing sounds of swimmers and quiet paddling of boaters fill Independence Oaks County Park on Sashabaw Road.

In winter gliding cross-country skiers criss-cross the park's paths.

Last year over 145,000 people used the park. Park Supervisor Ray Delasko credits its popularity to the family atmosphere.

"That's the big reason," he said. "It's safe to bring your family in here. The park is family-orientated, with the picnic areas, supervised beaches. We patrol the area to keep it safe."

Two of the main attractions at the 831-acre park are the 8½ miles of hiking trails and Crooked Lake.

Canoes, rowboats and paddle boats can be rented at the lake for leisurely explorations or for fishing, or park patrons can bring their own.

The four hiking trails are made up of different terrains and lengths. The new all-visitor trail is three-quarters mile long and is blacktopped.

"The trail was just completed and we still have the observation deck to build," Delasko said.

The Springlake Trail is the longest and has the toughest terrain at 3.2 miles. Lakeshore Trail is the shortest at 2.4 miles. Rockridge Trail at 2.7 miles is the intermediate trail.

During the winter the trails usually attract a large number of cross-country skiers.

"It's safe to bring your family

here. The park is family-oriented,

with picnic areas, supervised beaches"

"This was a bad winter because there wasn't any snow. The skiers didn't come out," Delasko said. "When they're out they can use the (fireplace-heated) shelter to stay warm."

There are three shelters that can be rented during the summer months ranging from $150 to $250 a day.

Twin Chimney Shelter located on Crooked Lake is the largest. For the $250 rental fee, as many as 275 people can fit in the shelter.

Pine Grove Shelter and Moraine Knoll Shelter cost $150 and can accommodate up to 150.

"The shelters are one of the unique features about this park," Delasko said. "With the surrounding area, Twin Chimney can have as many as 500 or 600 people at one time there. We have a lot of family reunions and church gatherings come out here."

The natural surroundings and the lake provide a natural habitat for the abundance of wildlife.

Just for Fun

Delasko said there are 15 or 20 deer that roam around and the spring-fed lake provides water for the animals.

"We have very little winter-kill here because of the lake," he said. "We have minks and muskrats here too."

Park Naturalist Kathleen Dougherty's programs run throughout the summer, telling and showing people about the park's nature.

The park is open seven days a week year-round except Christmas Day, from 7 a.m. to sundown in the summer and 8 a.m. to sundown in the winter.

A one-day park sticker is $2.50 a vehicle for county residents and non-residents pay $4.

An annual sticker is $15 for residents and $20 for non-residents.

Gene Carpenter's got a face few forget. Customers recognize the bald cashier from behind the counter at the Clarkston A&P where he's been watching his P's and Q's for the past 10 years.

"But I've got 39 years with this company. I guess I like it," he said. "It's the best I know how to do."

Behind a red apron, Carpenter quickly rings up and bags groceries and grinds coffee beans.

"I've done everything with this company. I was a store manager in Oxford, produce manager, assistant manager. I've done everything," he said.

Carpenter lives in Oxford.

Victorian essence

by Betty Duris

Clarkston has what Houston wants. Incredulous? A tiny mill village in Michigan has what the megalopian Texan is striving to incorporate?

Even by those fabled bigger-than-life Texas standards of measurement, this seems exaggeration. A bit like pitting David against Goliath.

But not so, according to a study by the National Association of Home Builders.

At a recent convention, builders and reporters were invited to tour some of the area's subdivisions and model homes on display.

"The Biggest Little Housing Boom in Texas" they call it.

Houston and the Dallas/Fort Worth areas rank first and second in the nation's new housing market—10,000 units this year, representing 20 percent of the countrywide production.

So the statistics are impressive, especially in light of the grim outlook elsewhere in the American housing picture in recent years.

The Texans are building.

But what are they building? What are the new architectural trends?

The sprawling terra cotta roofed ranches, the prairie-style bungalows, the J.R. Ewing oil baron estates still dot the landscape—but a new, gracious lady is "taming the west."

One of the most interesting reports to come out of the convention is the revitalization of the Victorian styling. Victorians of every variety are making a 1983 comeback.

Seems the Lone Star state has gone wild over gingerbread trim, fancy bays, multigabled roof lines and wraparound porches.

Unfortunately, some of the Victorians are not carefully executed. Discerning builders are looking to communities of extant Victorian styles for authenticity of design.

Clarkston qualifies.

Our village and environs, Independence and Springfield townships, boast a number of diversely styled Victorians—beautifully crafted, remarkably preserved models of 19th century elegance.

Those same architectural styles are currently enjoying renaissance in fashionable Houston today.

No better time than now to look with new appreciation at some of the grand dames that added aristocratic dimension to the pioneer land of the Saginaw Trail, the charmers that "tamed the Midwest."

Any summer evening stroll through the village will engender renewed respect for the craftsmen of the century past.

But have you ever wandered out into the

Don't miss the details including the porch trim on the Victorian on Dixie Highway that's the home of Boothby's gifts.

townships for an equally eye-pleasing meander past Victorians of every size and description?

What a delight to discover these stately Victorians at most every turn in any direction.

Red-bricked Centennial Farm at the corner of Davisburg and Bridge Lake roads is unique in its distinction as a 100-year, one-family-owned home, so recognized by the Michigan Historical Commission.

Its mansard roof, bracketed eaves, decorated entablature and hooded windows make it an artwork from any angle.

Alone, it would make the drive worthwhile.

But head out the old Saginaw Trail—Dixie Highway leads to others. The dignified Italianate near Maybee; the gracious Boothby gingerbread Victorian at the corner of White Lake Road.

North onto Davisburg Road a Victorian world opens up to the 20th century.

At first turn, a Gothic cottage, beige-yellow with brackets and pointed arch window trim.

In town, vintage homes abound, many with fishscale trim, tinsmithed roofs, wraparound porches, and gingerbread lace.

At the far end, near the Ormond Road outskirts of the community, a beautiful, quintessentially Victorian home stands nestled, complemented and completed by the equally stately pines which surround.

Clearly, in the village itself and in the townships outlying, Clarkston does seem to enjoy in generous abundance what Houston wants.

So Texans, if it's tasteful Victorians you'd like and authenticity of design you seek, update Horace Greeley's advice.

"Go east, young man," northeast—to Clarkston.

[Author Betty Duris resides in Independence Township. A former English teacher, she holds a master's degree in English with a minor in art history.]

Bargains, bargains everywhere

By Dan Vandenhemel

Do I have a deal for you.

For anyone on a fixed income who likes to count pennies, $17.96 can go a long way in Clarkston.

Being on a fixed income, and being physically active, I invented a fictitious afternoon and evening on the town to wear myself out without wearing out my wallet.

Setting out with a friend on our bikes (to save gas) we start our day at 1:30 p.m. by riding to Spring Lake Country Club on Maybee Road for a round of golf.

The friend, by the way, provides his or her own cash.

Since we are on bikes we can't carry our clubs and rent them for $1. The nine holes of golf costs $5.50 and gives us some much needed exercise.

If we wanted to save a little more, we could have driven to the Clarkston Golf Course on Eston Road and paid $5 for nine holes of golf.

Two hours later, back on our bikes, we head to Howe's Lanes on Dixie Highway to take advantage of their afternoon special—three games for $2.

With house bowling balls and 75-cent rental shoes, the next hour of fun costs only $2.75 to bring the total to $9.25.

The golf and the bowling are the most expensive items of the day and are still a good bargain.

Now it's 5 p.m. and suppertime.

MacDonald's is close enough—right in front of Howe's Lanes or there is the one on Sashabaw Road.

No matter, we're here. And the hamburger, large fries and small pop are filling and inexpensive—only $1.92.

The running total for the day, that is now four hours old, is $11.17.

Needing a little relaxation, a movie at the Clarkston Cinema is next on the agenda. But the movie doesn't start until 7 p.m.—over an hour away.

Howe's Lanes has the answer again with video games. With five tokens for $1 and the right games, an hour can go by fast.

Now we've spent $12.17, and the night is still young.

The movie lasts almost two hours. At $2 for admission, that works out to about 25 cents for every 15 minutes.

The time is 9 p.m. and we've spent $14.17 of our $17.96.

Getting hungry again, we set out to Sweet Sue's on Main Street for a hot dog. The bill comes to 99 cents, tax included.

Regaining our strength with the hot dog, we decide to pick up our tennis rackets and head out to Clintonwood Park. Since the park has lighted tennis courts, we could play all night if we wanted for free.

By 10 p.m., a chocolate shake from the Dairy Queen sounds good, so we leave Clintonwood and head for the DQ. We get there just before they close at 10:30 p.m. and order the small shake.

The 99-cent drink brings our total expenses to $16.15.

Being video game junkies, the two games inside Little Caesar's and Quik Pik on Main Street call to us.

The quarter in each machine adds another dollar to the total and uses yet close to another hour of time.

By 11:30 p.m. most everything is closed in Clarkston—except the Village Bakeshop.

The bakery is open 24 hours and pours a mean cup of coffee.

We end the long day with a small coffee, plus a refill, and a donut for 81 cents.

That brings our total to $17.96.

It's midnight.

After 10-and-one-half hours of biking, golfing bowling, tennis and a movie, plus food and video games, we're exhausted.

But we didn't spend a lot of money.

Government

Supervisor: James B. Smith

Independence Township Supervisor James B. Smith was elected to a four-year term in 1980.

Prior to that he served a long tenure as chairman of the planning commission.

As supervisor, he's the township assessor, a job delegated to a department head.

He's the mediator at township board meetings, and chief executive of the township. He chairs board meetings and is the chief elected officer of the township.

The supervisor calls special meetings, prepares the township budget and is responsible for maintaining spending within authorized limits.

In addition, he's liaison to county, state and regional government.

"People come to me with complaints that run the gamut of noise, roads, dumping, to encroachments and illegal signs—to economic activity like new businesses, subdivisions, nursing homes and hospitals.

"This is an important area in this job," Smith said. "Most of them are passed onto individual department heads, but it's a good way to keep abreast of what is concerning our citizens."

Treasurer: Frederick Ritter

Frederick Ritter served as a trustee four years before being elected Independence Township treasurer in 1978.

As treasurer, he's in charge of the township's money, and responsible for the banking, investing, tax collection and payment of bills.

In addition, he's the administrator of federal community development block grants.

"Most of the phone calls to my office are tax related," Ritter said. "For example, a taxpayer who wants to know what his taxes are or a real estate agent who wants to prorate a sale."

"I'm also responsible for anything the township sells as a service, whether it's building permits, activity in the rec program like discount amusement park tickets, dog tags and water and sewer billings. Anybody who owes any money to the township pays the treasurer."

Ritter makes the township's daily bank deposits.

"Money accumulated in the bank is invested short and long term so we can earn interest on it. I also work on a day-to-day basis with banks," he said.

“I’ve lived here over 30 years. It’s a nice village. Though I don’t live in the village I would like to. I don’t know of any other area I would want to live in.”

**”

—Lucille Shaw, housewife, Davisburg Road, Springfield Township

You know it’s local when the branded stamp says: MOON VALLEY RUSTIC, CLARKSTON.

These picnic tables are sold in a five-state area, according to manager Kim Beattie.

Built right here

By Marilyn Trumper
MOON VALLEY RUSTIC, CLARKSTON.

That’s the stamp on every rustic picnic table and yard swing, table and chair leaving the Dixie Highway factory that for 50 years has been manufacturing sturdy outdoor furniture.

The pine lumber is brought by rail from Oregon and British Columbia and trucked to Moon Valley Rustic Furniture Co. in Independence Township, where it’s cut, sanded, varnished and assembled.

Somewhere in Arkansas a family is sitting down to a picnic at one of manager Kim Beattie’s tables, and it bears the Clarkston stamp, branded in its side.

“Last year we had a dealer from Arkansas buy some of our work. That doesn’t happen very often. Usually a guy from that far away will buy only once,” Beattie said.

“We sell in a five-state area: Michigan, Ohio, (Illinois), Indiana and Pennsylvania, mostly to wholesalers. I’d say 85 to 90 percent is to

Made in Clarkston

dealers.”

The Beatties employ 16 people.

“Mostly college guys from the area,” Beattie said. “We keep five people on full-time year round in spite of our seasonal nature.”

The competition for Beattie is do-it-yourselfers that buy from lumberyards.

“I don’t think you can find any piece manufactured that’s any better or nicer than what we have,” he said. “We take pride in what we do here.”

Even the bolts are purchased locally, from Terry Machine in Waterford Township, he added.

Plant modernization. A key ingredient of Michigan's revitalization.

For the past 20 years, Detroit Edison has been involved in a massive program of modernization. Replacing old power plants dependent on diminishing gas and oil with new plants fueled by abundant, cost-efficient American-produced coal and uranium.

Today, this program is near completion. And that's good news. Good for businesses contemplating expansion. Good for attracting new businesses. Good for our state economy. Good for you.

Here's why.

☐ Abundant energy is a prime consideration for businesses interested in expanding or relocating to Southeastern Michigan. That means more jobs. More utilization of an already skilled and proven labor force.

☐ As more new businesses discover Michigan's plentiful advantages, such as our vast waterways, ideally located industrial parks, state-funded economic incentive programs, and, of course, lots of electricity, they will make our area's economy more vibrant. More stable. Plant modernization has helped to set the stage for economic recovery. And, even now, promising results are beginning to show.

☐ Naturally, the benefits of more new businesses and a strengthened state economy mean you enjoy a better standard of living. Plant modernization also means you enjoy a healthier standard of living through use of advanced technology to protect the environment.

Completion of our 20-year plant modernization program means the beginning of a new era for Southeastern Michigan. An era brimming with promise, opportunity and assurances of ample energy. Energy today, plus energy that will take all of us into the 21st century.
