Center in Springfield Township. People came from as far away as Monroe to try out for roles on the royal court, as street people or as entertainers. The festival recreates a Renaissance country village in the midst of a bountiful harvest celebration. It's open weekends from Aug. 20 through Sept. 25.

Vandals strike township beach

Vandalism at Deer Lake Beach has cost Independence Township over $500 this season, according to Timothy Doyle, director of parks and recreation.

"Whatever we put up, they take down," says lifeguard Jim Zeleznik. "They come in after dark."

Vandals have pulled down volleyball posts, attempted to break into the lifeguard hut, removed signs warning swimmers to stay out of the boat channel and torn down four parking posts that had been cemented into the ground.

"The biggie was they broke all the lights out at the beach, the two spotlights and the one on the roof over the door to the hut," Zeleznik said. "They got glass all over the beach."

An earlier attempt to break into the hut this spring was successful, Doyle said, and thieves took $350 worth of bullhorns.

Storm blasts Independence; topples trees

By Kathy Greenfield

A severe thunderstorm struck Independence Township early Friday morning, knocking down trees and electrical wires in several areas.

Hardest hit was the Birdland subdivision where one tree was uprooted on Warbler Lane, two utility poles were downed and power lines fell to the ground from the weight of large branches.

It was the worst case of damage to Detroit Edison lines in Oakland County, said Ralph Mertz, director of customer and marketing services.

"That's about as bad as we get," he said.

The storm resulted in about 12,000 customers in Oakland County without electrical service in a belt that passed through Highland, White Lake, Waterford, Independence and Orion townships, he said.

Joy Curry of Warbler Lane was in bed at around 6 a.m. when the storm hit and rain started coming in the window.

"I reached up to shut the window and the tree came down. It was just a loud bang, crashed, crunched," she said. "I panicked. I layed there. My sister went and got my dad up."

The damage was contained to the roof.

A large oak tree that fell in the yard and on the roof of the Herb Lape residence at the corner of Waldon Road and Almond Lane knocked out the power in the home and damaged a roof antenna.

"I didn't (hear the tree fall). My wife did," he said. "She said it was just a cracking-like sound. I was still asleep."

Between 40 and 50 calls came into the Independence Township Fire Department regarding storm damage, said Fire Chief Frank Ronk.

"Wires and trees are down from one end of the township to the other," he said.

The fire department made about 15 runs to check arcing wires from calls that came in from 5 to 7 a.m.

A shed on Middle Lake Road lost its roof and some yard umbrellas were moved from the road, Ronk said.

Judging from the phone calls, the most damage in the township came in a path from Dixie Highway, across Overlook and Middle Lake roads, through Paramus Road, the Birdland subdivision, down Snowapple Drive and Flemings Lake Road and on to Mary Sue Street, he said.

A severe thunderstorm warning was in effect for Independence Township area beginning at about 5:45 a.m., said Mike Baltzell, weather service and radar

5-year debate ends

Village council adopts new sign ordinance

By Marilyn Trumper

The Clarkston Village Council put to rest a five-year-old debate July 25 by unanimously adopting a sign ordinance that allows overhanging and marquee signs.

"I want the privilege of making the motion," said Trustee Carol Eberhardt, former president of the Village Business Association.

Eberhardt, a village business owner, had a strong hand in revamping the five-page law which takes effect 20 days after publication.

"And when it does, we're having a potluck dinner on the sidewalk outside the store and taking down the aquarium sign (inserts)," Eberhardt said.

In the past, management balked at removing the inserts advertising a business that moved out almost five years ago, because the sign would lose its non-conforming status and have to be removed altogether.

"Every day," said Eberhardt, describing how often customers come into her store One More Time looking for the aquarium shop.

"Half of them get mad. Others want to know if the fish are in the backroom or if we have a basement here."

On the council passing the law, Eberhardt said: "I feel like I've won a battle. (It) was one of the reasons why I went on the council. I felt at the beginning the council was not supportive to the businesses and knew we needed a change of attitude."

Last fall during ordinance discussions a majority of the council wanted to outlaw overhanging signs.

"Persistence and logic" changed that, said Eberhardt. "They had to understand we weren't going to give up. The sign ordinance is and was important to businesses; it's one of the few written for a specific group."

"It's tough enough to do business in this town already with the economy and the way things are. We didn't need another strike against us."

The new law allows canopies to advertise the business and window signs, but the size of both are restricted.

It outlaws flashing, revolving or rotating signs.

Vote of people by U.S. mail

Ballots are expected to go out this week to 174 property owners in Clarkston's historic district for a vote on re-implementation of the controversial historic district ordinance.

Included with the ballots is a cover-letter explaining the vote and "...the fact that this is their last chance to voice their opinion," said Carol Eberhardt, village council trustee and chairperson of the seven-member committee reviewing the proposed law. "We want to put this to rest once and for all."

A copy of the ordinance is included in the packet.

Deadline for ballots is Labor Day weekend, she added.

The proposed law is almost an exact replica of the first, and it too outlaws aluminum siding, a critical point in the controversy that split the district last fall and ended when the council repealed the ordinance.

The Historic District Ordinance and Historic District Commission regulated and approved all construction and repairs in the village's historic district.

The law was on village books for a year before its repeal last November, following complaints from residents unhappy with the commission's decision-making, and complaints of council's inability to control the powerful body.

The repeal disbanded the commission.

Blossom attention

Clarkston Village Trustee Fontie ApMadoc's found money to hire a teen to water the municipal flower beds.

On July 25, the council voted unanimously to hire a teen at $4-an-hour to water flowers in the Main Street parking lot and Depot Road Park.

The salary will come from community development funds.

-Correction-

In last week's Clarkston News, the name of the road the Independence Township Board had previously agreed to pay 14 cents a foot toward oiling was incorrectly stated.

The correct road is Rattalee Lake Road.

State stalls senior complex

By Marilyn Trumper

Developer Hugh Garner is forced to wait another four weeks to learn if a state license will be granted for his proposed $30 million senior citizen complex, Clarkston Place.

The state, acting on an opinion issued by the attorney general's office July 22, agreed to comparatively review the 13 applications for senior citizens housing in northwest Oakland County.

Garner is competing for licensing and the available 424 beds apportioned for the area.

"I don't know what I'm going to do yet," Garner said. "I know I don't want to sue the county or the state—and that's what they want me to do."

"It just isn't fair. I'll probably decide in the next week or so."

Officials at the state level indicated it will be at least four weeks before a decision is made.

Garner's letter of intent to build senior housing at I-75 and Dixie Highway has been in state files for a year.

Herb Lape didn't wake up when an oak tree fell to the ground behind his home at the corner of Waldon Road and Almond Lane, but his wife heard the crash, he says.

For-sale sign angers woman

Follows Youth Corps mowing

By Marilyn Trumper

A team from the Michigan Youth Corps spent two days clipping grass, cleaning and removing small trees from private property abutting Maybee Road Park.

The next day a for-sale sign went up on the five acres, and neighboring resident Roberta Buckmaster is not happy.

"Why didn't they go into the park and cut saplings and clean up instead of on the lot?" Buckmaster said. "Then as soon as it's done, the sign goes up. There's something fishy there. Something's not right."

"Coincidence," says Director of Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department Timothy Doyle, explaining the sign's appearance after the lot was cleaned.

"The contractor (hired to level the fields) was to be out there Monday. Then called and said it wouldn't be until Tuesday. He hasn't been there yet."

"My people are patiently waiting for him to start work so they can get out there and do the seeding and trimming and everything we do. Until then, they worked on the lot," Doyle said.

Independence Township agreed to cut the grass on the five acres in front of the park as part of a trade-off.

For cutting the grass, the township can use the adjoining lot to the east for additional parking and to get earth-moving equipment into the park and bypass the park's entrance road, saving its wear, Doyle said.

The township sends the tax bill for the five-acre commercial parcel to an E. Ravet and A. Sklar in Southfield. Neither could be reached for comment.

specialist with the National Weather Service.

The storm was indicated on radar and such warnings are issued when straight line winds are expected to reach in excess of 55 mph, he said.

"That's why we put out the severe thunderstorm warning. We expected that to happen and it did," he said.

Shocking find

Myrtle Boadway was jolted awake Friday morning at about 5:30.

"I heard this big bang. It was so loud I thought, 'Oh, it must be somewhere in the neighborhood,'" she said.

Later when she was out picking up branches downed in the storm behind her home on Deer Lake Road, she noticed two large stones that looked like they had been thrown and some clumps of sod.

Then she spotted a furrow in the lawn about 3 feet long and 4 to 5 inches deep and saw chunks of cement broken off an old well pit.

Apparently, she said, the damage was from lightning that hit a large elm tree, traveled down the tree and dug up the yard, she said.

"And that was just about 25 feet from my bed!"

School views welcome before board meeting

By Kathy Greenfield

An experiment by the Clarkston school district begins Monday, Aug. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building, 6389 Clarkston-Orion Rd.

Two members of the school board, two full-time administrators and two teachers will be ready to hear comments regarding education in Clarkston schools.

The setting will be less formal than a regular school board meeting, said school board President Janet Thomas.

"It's giving another opportunity for the people of the community to tell those responsible for the decisions affecting the educational system what they see as weak areas, what they see as strengths and changes they feel are worth considering in a less-structured arena than something called a meeting," she said.

For one-half hour prior to the regular school board meeting, topics chosen by those attending will be open for discussion.

She listed some possibilities—the summer tax levy, increasing graduation requirements or school bus schedules.

"I hope after it's used for a while people become relaxed enough to mention anything they want to," she said.

No decisions will be made during the informal gatherings, but the exchange of ideas could serve a positive purpose for those working in the district as well as those who are served by it.

"People you normally talk to are your friends, neighbors, basically the same group of people," she said. "Each of us will have an opportunity to listen to the points of view we may never run into."

At the suggestion of new member David Kithil, the board decided last month to begin the informal gatherings in August and to continue them one year.

The discussion group will meet at 7:30 p.m., one-half hour before all regularly scheduled board meetings on the first Monday of each month.

"I'm absolutely sure it's going to start out as something that's very, very slow," said Thomas. "But as soon as people realize what it's for it will become a very useful tool."

Holman named clerk

By Marilyn Trumper

Richard Holman is the new Independence Township clerk.

The board unanimously appointed the 29-year-old Clinton Drive resident from a list of 22 candidates at a special meeting July 28.

"I appreciate your vote of confidence and look forward to working with you," Holman told the board.

He's expected to start work in two weeks.

Township Supervisor James B. Smith praised the candidates for "...going through the ordeal of open selection," and said three people had withdrawn their applications.

Casting private ballots, board members first named their five favorite candidates, which narrowed the field down to nine.

From that list they named their top three choices, and the number of candidates dropped to six.

From that list, board members wrote down their top two choices.

In the final list, Supervisor James B. Smith selected Holman and Burke A. Ried; Treasurer Fredrick Ritter chose Holman and Carol Eberhardt; Trustee Daniel Travis named Holman and Carol Balzarini; Trustee Larence Kozma named Holman and Claudia Brazel; and Trustee Dale Stuart named Holman and Claudia Brazel.

The balloting ended with the nomination of a clerk.

"Although it's viewed as a political appointment I don't look at it as a political decision," said Treasurer Frederick Ritter, discussing the nomination.

"I see it as my opportunity to appoint someone who in my mind can come into the job with an open mind...and someone with whom I have good chemistry. I have to work with this person on a daily basis.

Clerk Richard Holman was appointed by the Independence Township Board last week.

"There are 22 candidates and it's a difficult decision. But I see where I can take some heat off the board and make the nomination. I move we appoint Richard Holman clerk."

Holman replaces Christopher Rose who resigned after a six-year term to take the town manager job in Littleton, N.H.

He and his wife Becky have two daughters, Erica, 3½, and Jessica, 8 months.

Holman is resigning from his appointed post as treasurer for the City of Wixom.

He has a master's degree in public administration from Wayne State University.

More prank calls

Somebody is still calling Clarkston school district residents, saying he's a representative of the school board and telling people he's looking for children to employ.

There are no such jobs and no one has been authorized to make such calls, said school board President Janet Thomas.

From people she's talked to, the description of the caller sounds the same.

He's an older man with a pleasant-sounding voice. He asks if the person has children who may be interested in a job.

In the only known cases, he talks with a parent and when questions are asked, like 'Do I know you?' or a child is summoned to the telephone he hangs up.

The calls should be handled like any other prank call, Thomas said. Hang up immediately.

The Number One Priority

YOUR HEALTH..

In today's fluctuating economy we are all being forced to re-evaluate our priorities. Many necessities are fast becoming luxuries as inflation rises and caution is replacing speculation. There is added pressure, accompanied by stress, for us to be at our best, in order to stay on top of things.

We're giving this gentle reminder that your health is the number one priority. When your health is failing you are not succeeding. Our part in helping you succeed is getting you healthy and strong. Who can afford to take a leave of absence for a hospital stay?

While many other health programs can benefit you, the requirements are often so demanding that often the stress outweighs the benefits. Chiropractic, on the other hand, is as easy as showing up at the office and lying down on a comfortable adjusting table. The benefits are a properly functioning nervous system that controls every function in your body and a body that adapts to the world around you.

In this time of hectic schedules and demanding responsibility, doesn't chiropractic care make sense?

People can voice opinions in old-fashioned way

The Clarkston school district's plan for informal sessions so residents can discuss concerns or present ideas in an informal setting might just work.

While we've never been to an old-style town meeting it sounds like this could be the same type of event.

We see some advantages.

People will be able to talk without having to consider the rules of a formal meeting.

They won't have to march up to a microphone like they do at large school board meetings.

Rather than making three phone calls or visits residents can reach representatives of the board, administration and teaching staff with one visit.

Ideas and thoughts can be presented that perhaps would not fit into a formal meeting where decisions are supposed to be made.

We also see some disadvantages.

There will be a time constraint of one-half hour with the sessions beginning at 7:30 p.m. and the school board meetings at 8 p.m.

Special interest groups could take over any discussion period, making it difficult for individuals to talk.

We're glad the board has decided to conduct the discussion groups for one full year prior to the regular school board meetings on the first Monday of each month. It will give the idea a sound test.

We applaud the district for trying something different in an effort to get to know the people they serve.

And we're tickled that a solution to getting closer to the people harkens back to times past.

Smith denies oil precedent

Your article in the July 27 issue regarding road oiling is incorrect.

The road for which the board agreed to pay 14 cents per foot for oiling at its July 5 meeting was Rattalee Lake Road, not Allen Road, as reported.

Rattalee is a 120-foot right-of-way road with all but two relatively short areas paved. It carries an increasing volume of inter-highway and Independence-Springfield township traffic unrelated to local residential use.

The oil approved by the board at the July 19 meeting was for a private, unpaved road with a 40-foot right-of-way generating only intra-subdivision traffic.

It is not my opinion that a precedent for such subdivision subsidies had been set by the decision on Rattalee Lake Road.

While recognizing the plight of property owners on unpaved subdivision roads, I do not believe it is within the township's economic means to finance such extra subsidies until or unless a voted millage such as was rejected by the voters at the Nov. 4, 1980, election is approved by our citizens.

Splitting the 50s

Kathy Greenfield

They call it the generation gap. But there really are few differences, just spinoffs in different directions.

Take the attire of punk rockers and square dancers, for instance.

Remember the 50s? The anklets, stiff half slips of yards and yards of netting, bright red lipstick, white T-shirts, flat shoes with straps?

The punk rockers have taken over the anklets, red lipstick and T-shirts.

The square dancers do-si-do with their netted slips flying while shuffling along in their flat shoes.

I have personal contact with both.

I remember shaking my head in dismay when the sensationalism of the punk rock scene mode of dress first appeared.

Aside from ripped shirts and pants and wild colors, there were the weirdos who poked safety pins through their cheeks. Disgusting.

Time passed and the styles filtered into places like the Midwest, perhaps modified, perhaps just more reflective of the mainstream that would never receive the full splash of media attention.

Our laundry holds a few items that surprise me every time I run by them—shirts that must have escaped from the rag collection, formerly lost white anklets that the washing machine must have blurred out after holding them during the years between toddler and teen.

Then there was the shopping outing to provide proper attire for a concert. Things that would suit only a teen-ager ready to rock.

It was so much fun for my teen putting the costume together that we all ended up enjoying it.

On to square dancing.

My husband and I have been taking lessons for nearly a year. Now we're to the point where I'm going to have to succumb to the costume part or I won't look serious.

"When I get my square dancing outfit, you can borrow it," I told my daughter. "It fits right in with the rest of this stuff."

"No way," she said.

I can guarantee I won't be wearing her white anklets either.

The gap widens.

Jim's jottings

Nobody's fault

by Jim Sherman

Taking items from the spindle....
Congress just repealed the law to withhold taxes on interest and dividends.

But, did you know the first modern-day federal income tax law, adopted back in 1913, provided for withholding at the source on income from certain bonds, mortgages and other types of investments, but not from salaries or wages?

Then there's the story about four people, named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody and Nobody. There was an important job to be done and Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it.

Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it. Somebody got angry about that, because it was Everybody's job.

Everybody thought Anybody could do it, but Nobody realized that Everybody wouldn't do it. It ended up that Everybody blamed Somebody when Nobody did what Anybody could have.

Leisure time and how Americans spent it was the subject of a recent study sponsored by United Media Enterprises. Some findings were:

•Media leaders spend their leisure time reading newspapers. They also read more magazines than the general public.

•Reading a newspaper and watching television are the most popular daily leisure time activities in America.

•Regardless of the number of leisure hours available, seven out of 10 Americans feel rushed at least sometimes.

•The average number of hours the general public has available per week for leisure time is 32.

How likely is it that one's income tax return will be audited? Not very. In 1982, IRS reveals, only 1.55 percent of the individual tax returns were audited, down from 1.77 percent in 1981, and 2.02 percent in 1980.

Where you live can help determine the likelihood of your being audited. In Manhattan, New York, for example, 2.21 percent of 1982 individual returns were audited, whereas in Boston it was only 1.12 percent, about half the Manhattan percentage.

Monday is a hard way to spend one-seventh of your life.

And... why can't life's big problems come along when you are nineteen and know everything?

Early harvest by cops

Even Independence Township marijuana smokers are finding it tough to finance their vice in this economy.

So tough, they've taken to homegrown.

And the Oakland County Sheriff's Department's taken to taking their homegrown.

Last week deputies confiscated 16 healthy stalks of cannabis from Pine Knob Trail in the southern quadrant of the township.

The plants were tagged and sent to the department's property room.

No arrests will be made.

It's hard to prove they were intentionally planted, according to police.

Magic marijuana.

What's in a name?

The Clarkston Village Council did a double take looking at the cover of Independence Township's new ordinance book, held neatly in a ring binder with a sophisticated cross-reference.

Independence was spelled Undependence.

He does.

Tinkle, tinkle, tinkle.

It goes on all night long.

Later, full of food and drink, the guests grow quiet.

A lone tinkle, tinkle, tinkle resounds.

It's the groom.

'If it Fitz. . .'

Birthday greetings?

by Jim Fitzgerald

The first sentence of a letter recently received said: "On August 5th, you'll be celebrating something special—your 57th birthday."

How nice, I thought. It was three weeks until my birthday, and already a friend was sending me best wishes.

But then I read a succeeding sentence: "Mr. Fitzgerald, of course I don't know whether you're married or single, or whether or not you have children."

Of course? The writer knew my age and birth date, but not whether I'm married or have children? What kind of a friend was that to be wishing me a birthday?

The signature said my birthday greeter was R. Michael Howard, president of the JCPenney Life Insurance Company. I noted that R. Michael Howard has a period after his first initial and a space between that initial and his middle name and also between his middle name and his last name. And I wondered whatever happened to the periods and spaces that used to clearly distinguish JCPenney from a typographical mishmash.

James Cash Penney founded the J.C. Penney empire in 1902 and remained active in its operation almost until his death, at the age of 95, in 1971. He and I go back a long way together.

When I was a small boy, my father bought the family clothing from J.C. Penney. He bought life insurance from Harry Hickey who was best man at my parents' wedding. J.C. Penney wasn't even invited to the church, let alone the reception.

When I was a teenager, I swept floors at a J.C. Penney store. I remember they were creaky wooden floors and required regular oiling. Also, before each sweeping I had to spread kitty litter on the floor to keep the dust off the merchandise. This was done each morning without benefit of an environmental impact study.

Later, when I sold and wrote newspaper advertising, my best customer was a J.C. Penney store. And if I'd ever left the periods and spaces out of J.C. Penney's name, the store manager wouldn't have paid for the ad.

Back in any of those old days, I would have been thrilled to receive birthday greetings from James Cash Penney. I always admired him because he was a firm believer in newspaper advertising and never competed with Harry Hickey. It is not thrilling to have R. Michael Howard remember my birthday.

For one thing, he said if I don't buy $5,000 worth of JCPenney life insurance by Aug. 5, it will cost me more on Aug. 6 and forever after. I hate deadlines, and I especially hate a deadline that coincides with what is supposed to be a happy occasion. Thanks to R. Michael Howard, I can spend my birthday feeling dumb for blowing forever the chance to buy $5,000 worth of life insurance for $20.70 a month.

Speaking of dumb, the birthday card from R. Michael Howard said I would be allowed to "EXAMINE YOUR POLICY FOR 30 FULL DAYS AT NO RISK TO YOU." (The capital letters are R. Michael Howard's; he probably got them from the same place he's hiding JCPenney's periods and spaces.)

Now, I realize there's not much a doddering old fool of 57 can do to amuse himself in the twilight of his insurable years. But spend 30 full days reading one insurance policy? Is R. Michael Howard sure I can stand the excitement?

When asked, I usually answer that I don't want anything for my birthday. But this year I do. I want, please God, to be taken off the mailing list of every clothing firm that sells insurance, and every gasoline company that sells shoes. I want to never again receive a stupid letter from a friendly corporation that warmly inserts my name into the middle of each paragraph to show that it really knows all about me—except it doesn't know I died five years ago.

And I want each of you who receives birthday greetings from the JCPenney Insurance Company to use its postage-paid return envelope to send this column to the "attention of RMHoward." And a note asking if he knows how to keep the dust off his insurance.

The 41-car North Oaks Corvette Concours at Rademacher's lot on Saturday included cars from all around Michigan. Jimmy Nichols' winning 1966 custom Corvette (foreground) was a colorful attraction and also tied for the Best-of-Show award.

North Oaks vice president, Joe Tolbert, cleans and puts the finishing touches on a storage bin prior to the concours judging. Tolbert's efforts yielded him a third place.

Vettes aplenty

Despite a soggy beginning, the North Oaks Corvette Concours attracted 41 entrants to Rademacher Chevrolet's parking lot Saturday.

Those who braved the morning's weather and the ones who arrived the night before put on a colorful five-hour exhibition which included almost every Corvette model from the 1953 introductory year to the latest 1984 offering.

More than 150 persons visited the show which ended around 5 p.m. under sunny skies.

Of 11 club members with cars entered eight received trophies in approximately 17 different class divisions.

The club members who placed first in their individual divisions included club president Tim Wilson, Mike Ellis, and Jimmy Nichols whose car was also tied for the Best-of-Show award.

Tom Brown of Independence Township also scored a first place with his recently purchased red 1967 Corvette.

About 60 club members and their families helped put on the day's event, from parking and concession sales to the computing of the point totals.

Runners make their way down Dixie Highway near M-15 Friday afternoon as part of the benefit Run for the U.S. Olympics. The relay started at Hart Plaza in Detroit Thursday morning and finished at the Mackinac Bridge Sunday afternoon with a party.

Jane Bovee shrugs her shoulders as she makes her way along the race route. She ran in the fourth leg of the relay on Friday.

Hart Plaza to Mackinac

Relay rallies for Olympics

By Dan Vandenhemel

Jane Bovee of Springfield Township did her part Thursday to help raise money for the 1984 Summer Olympics to be held in Los Angeles, Calif.

She was among runners participating in a four-day run that started at 8:30 a.m. Thursday at Hart Plaza in Detroit and ended up at the Mackinac Bridge Sunday at 2 p.m.

Bovee ran in the fourth leg of the Olympic relay from the corner of Sashabaw Road and Dixie Highway in Waterford to Rattalee Lake Road in Springfield Township, a total of nine miles. The relay consisted of 32 legs over a distance of 301.4 miles.

"I've been running for about five years so this wasn't too bad," she said. "I was just scared of being the last one to finish the leg—I was scared to death. I finished in 81 minutes and the time limit is 90. I thought I used up all the time."

Bovee said about 12 runners participated in the fourth leg and over 200 started at Hart Plaza.

John Whalen of the Detroit to Mackinac Olympic Relay organization said he expected 1,800 in the race.

"The relay is a symbolic gesture for the Olympics. Most of the people that paid the $6 entry fee are running twice. A lot of them want to be at the bridge when it's over. We're hoping to raise $50,000 for the Olympics," he said.

The relay worked its way up Dixie Highway early Thursday afternoon. The event was topped off with a party in Mackinac City Sunday afternoon.

Bovee said her husband Gordon was registered to run with her but sprained his ankle last week.

"I tried to talk some others into running but they couldn't make it," she said.

For her efforts she'll receive a T-shirt and a certificate saying she completed a leg of the journey.

Over 200 Clarkston SCAMPers lined up Wednesday to get autographs from Detroit Tigers Kirk Gibson (above) and Dave Rozema at Sashabaw Junior High School. This is Rozema's second trip to the annual autograph session and Gibson's fourth. The five-week summer camp program for children and youths with special needs came to an end last week.

Perfection

T-ball team ends season with 10-0 mark

By Dan Vandenhemel

Undefeated.

A season ending 10-0 record. The Springfield Coney junior boys T-ball team boasts the perfect mark and first place in the league.

Coach Trudy Locher said she never has enjoyed a season more in her three years of coaching.

"The first two years I coached a Widget team, the next oldest level," she said. "Last year we finished undefeated, too, but this was the best."

Out of the 10 games, only one went the full five innings.

"Our closest game was July 22 against Taperooney. We won 25-22," Locher said. "Every other game we won by mercy. In this league the most runs you can score in an inning is 10 and the way it worked out, the other teams couldn't catch up in the last couple of innings."

Locher said the team of 7- to 8-year-olds didn't seem upset that they didn't play a full game. They were just glad they won.

"We had our picnic last Monday (July 25) and all the kids said they really liked the season," she said. "Our sponsor, John Ewald of Springfield Coney, invited us to his restaurant and said he was going to buy each player a trophy. The township gives a sponsor trophy."

"It was such a joy to watch this team," she said. "You can see more development in the younger kids than in the older players. They're still at the stage where they will listen and respect you. They get cocky when they get older."

Locher felt the parents were a major reason the team finished without a loss.

"The parents supported the kids 100 percent," she said. "That made it easier for me. It can be very tense at times. I told the parents at the start of the season that I'm a stickler for good sportsmanship. I didn't want the kids goofing around and neither did they."

Sheila Moore scores the first run for E.F. Hutton in the Maxi-Miss softball league playoff finals. Hutton went on to down Bonanza 10-3 on Thursday at Clintonwood Park.

E.F. Hutton grabs 2 titles

By Dan Vandenhemel

The softball season came to an end last week as the Maxi-Miss and the Mighty-Miss leagues held play-offs.

E.F. Hutton, sponsoring teams in both leagues, came away with two first place trophies.

In the older Maxi-Miss (14-17), Hutton downed Bonanza Restaurant 9-3 on Thursday.

"We finished tied for second with Bonanza during the regular season and then came back to win the playoffs," said Jean McCreey who coaches the team with her husband, Mike. "That's the second year in a row that we did that. Bonanza scored two runs on the seventh inning and I started to get a little nervous but it was never really close."

Bonanza came into the game after a hard-fought, come-from-behind victory the previous night against Nan's Coufferes.

"I think we were a little flat from the night before," said coach Jim Conway. "Nan's was undefeated and we scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh."

In Mighty-Miss, E.E. Hutton topped off a 12-0 season with the 8-3 playoff victory over Waterford Lumber.

"After the first few games of the season, I thought we had a chance to be undefeated," said manager Bob Taylor. "Our pitcher Judy Trzcinski was keeping the ball low. Waterford Lumber was the toughest competition we've faced all year."

"All I can say about this game was it was a good game between two good teams," said Waterford Lumber's coach Dave Ragatz. "It was an exciting game. We finished second in the league and second in the playoffs, but at the start of the season I thought we could win it all. Then vacations came up and we lost of couple of games but it was a good season."

Sign up set for Chiefs

The Clarkston Chiefs will be holding registration and giving physicals Monday, Aug. 8.

The session marks the beginning of the organization's 13th year in the Suburban Midget Football League.

Physicals will cost $2 a person and the sign-up fee is $20 a family from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the American Legion Post on M-15, Independence Township.

"The $20 charge covers the entire family, be it one player, two players or 20 players," said Clarkston Football Association President Gary Bass.

"We're expecting around 150 to sign up this year," he said. "Last year we only had about 120."

The Chiefs have three teams: the freshman squad for 8- to 9-year-olds; the junior varsity team for 10- to 11-year-olds; and the varsity team for 12- to 13-year-olds.

"Most of the players come from the Clarkston school district," Bass said. "But there are some from outside the area. We encourage them to play for the team in their area to make it more convenient for them."

The Chiefs play four of their seven games at Clarkston High School, the opener Sept. 17 at 5 p.m.; and Sept. 25, Oct. 23 and 30 at 1 p.m.

Admission to the games is free.

People watching

By Dan Vandenhemel

People are strange.

Not weird so much as different.

Of course you can find a weird one now and then but the uniqueness of the human race is what living day-to-day brings.

People are individuals, period.

Very few people are the completely the same. Real close friends, those you have a lot in common with, are still different in one sense or another.

It's amazing the number of different types of people there are. Short people, fat people, beautiful people, funny people, all types.

With the number of people in the world, the Olympics should look into the sport of people watching.

I'm sure every country has its experts in the field, and a good number of amateurs.

A good place for training would be any shopping mall or in a park.

Any school can be used too. I remember two guys sitting in the student center at the St. Clair County Community College in Port Huron. They were holding up numbers, judging the girls that passed by.

You know, like the scores the figure skaters or divers get from the judges in Olympic competition.

True, their act wasn't in the greatest taste but for people watchers it was a good opportunity to watch them.

Sitting in a mall across from a set of stairs is a perfect spot. You can see everyone watching everyone else.

One of the best sights I saw in a mall was when a girl lost her balance on the bottom step because she had turned around to look at a guy walking up the stairs. She didn't fall but was embarrassed enough to crawl under the steps.

I guess I'm more of a watcher of people who watch people than just a plain people watcher.

Judging people by what they look like isn't fair, I never thought it was. But to watch their reaction to something they see says much more about them than their appearance.

All blondes aren't dumb. Neither are the guys who look like they pump iron for a living.

That's the fun thing about people watching. You can't really stereotype them.

To find out what they are like is fun too—but that's another story.

Orioles win, advance in state playoffs

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Pony League baseball team, Moe's Orioles, is headed to the state semifinals in Allen Park Monday.

The team of 15- to 16-year-olds earned the right by defeating Lapeer 12-2 Monday in Lapeer to win the district title.

"We merced them in the fifth inning," said coach Jerry Harbaugh. "It wasn't really a blowout, but the boys just started hitting. We won the first game of the tournament when Midland called and said they couldn't make it, so we won on a forfeit."

The throw from shortstop barely beats Tony Burns of Moe's Orioles to first. Pontiac Photo's first baseman Ted Wilson makes the stretch for the out. The Orioles beat Pontiac Photo 3-2.

Pitcher Shawn Graham allowed only five hits, struck out nine and walked three in the victory. Jim Kaiser and Tom Ruelle each contributed with two-run triples.

"On defense, Tony Burns made all kinds of plays at shortstop," Harbaugh said. "He was like a vacuum out there. He helped keep them off the bases. This was really a team victory though. All 14 players got in the game and contributed."

The win brings the Orioles' record to 12-0 for the season. They finished the regular season with a 9-0 mark and won their two games in the league playoffs.

In the playoff final last Thursday, the Orioles edged Pontiac Photo 3-2 in eight innings.

Mark Hurst singled to drive in Jim Ruelle with the winning run with one out.

"You can't take anything away from Pontiac," Harbaugh said. "They played a tough game. Our last three games were the closest."

Pontiac Photo coach Gerry Wilson had compliments for both teams.

"I felt we would have beaten them if we got the breaks," he said. "But they played well and we played well."

Ersco lands tourney crown

For only the second time in six years, a team from Clarkston has won the Clintonwood Invitational Softball Classic.

The two-day, round-robin tournament featured 14 men's and women's teams.

Ersco members Gary Musgraver and Paul Jones were chosen Most Valuable Players, in the tournament.

Also on the Ersco roster are Jim Ely, Rick, Reed, Robert Fliwa, Larry Kline, Steve Prykurki, Steve Smith, Paul White, Ron Sampson, Don Jones, Randy Woudy, Leonard Szwedki, Kendall Turnball and John Sampson.

Finishing second in the men's division was Wendy's from East Lansing.

The winner in the women's was Waterman's Gang from Pontiac. In second was Kid's from Detroit.

Pacesetter elects Johnson president

Bruce Johnson has been elected to the position of president and chief executive officer of Pacesetter Bank-Southeast, which has a Clarkston branch on Dixie Highway.

Bruce Johnson

He was elected to the post by the board of directors of Pacesetter, an affiliate of Old Kent Financial Corp., a $3.6 million statewide holding company.

Johnson joined Old Kent Bank and Trust Co. in May 1974.

He received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Ferris State College in 1975 and his master's degree in business administration from Western Michigan University in 1981. In June he graduated from the Stonier Graduate School of Banking.

Currently Grand Rapids residents, he and his family are in the process of moving to Grand Blanc.

Clarkston ponders sewer fund excess

Clarkston Village has $426,000 at the county in excess sewer construction funds, and the council's weighing how best to spend it.

Trustee Jon Gaskell at the July 25 meeting agreed to investigate the possibility of calling in bonds sold years ago to finance the sewer system. This would eliminate the village's sewer bill paid from the general fund, according to Treasurer Artemus Pappas.

Another alternative would be to use the fund to offset an expected sewer payment hike, he said.

"The county had to refigure the cost of our payments because of a new cost on the interceptor system," Pappas said. "That means our bill will be more, and we can use that money to offset a raise."

The council's expected to discuss the item at its next meeting on Monday, Aug. 8, in the Clarkston Village Hall, 375 Depot.

Cash for contract

With little discussion at the July 25 meeting, the Clarkston Village Council voted unanimously to allocate its final payment of $37,050 in 1982-83 federal revenue sharing to pay for contracting the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

"That's what we spend it on every year," said Trustee Fontie ApMadoc.

Not one member of the public was present at the public hearing.

Springfield orders basements filled

Measures are underway to fill two open basements in the Blue Water Bavarian condominium development in Springfield Township.

The township board sent letters to the K and L Construction Co. of Flint and to the firm's attorney informing them the basements would be filled with a bill sent later, according to Supervisor Collin Walls.

After the June 30 deadline was not met, the board voted July 13 to take bids and award a contract at the Aug. 10 meeting.

"The economy is probably what stopped construction," Walls said. "No one was buying the condos."

The basements are located west of Dixie Highway near I-75 in Springfield Township.

The developer could not be reached for comment.

War against unemployment begins

Independence Supervisor Smith heads Greater Pontiac Consortium

By Kathy Greenfield

Independence Township has joined hands with the City of Pontiac and the townships of Pontiac, Orion, Waterford and White Lake in an effort to fight unemployment through job training.

And at the helm of the Greater Pontiac Consortium is Independence Supervisor James B. Smith.

The consortium was formed in order to become a service delivery area for the federal Job Training Partnership Act approved by the legislature and signed by the president in 1982.

"The reason we got into it, I had a call from (State Sen. Phil Mastin, D-Pontiac) late in February. We discussed this upcoming bill and the particular implications we attach to having it concentrate in the local area," said Smith.

"In the past under CETA (Comprehensive Employment Training Act) we received under a full-county administration a percentage of the funds which seemed to be lower than the percentage of unemployed residing in the six-community area."

As of Dec. 31, the unemployment rate was 42 percent in the consortium area, Smith said.

In order to become one of the state's 26 service delivery areas, the proposal had to be submitted and approved by the governor. The move separated the consortium from the remainder of Oakland County which will have funds administered through a county office.

Annually the consortium expects to receive between $3 million and $4 million with additional grants and funding for identifying needs, scoring applicants, providing necessary skills and supplementing academic training, and placement in private industrial occupations.

If the program that is eventually established works well, more money will be received. If it's not working, funds will be taken away, Smith said.

Other funds could come from the "Nickle an Hour" program at General Motors and the other major automotive firms.

At GM 5 cents for each hour worked was placed into a fund for job re-training and Smith said he believes the fund now has about $132 million.

When Smith became township supervisor he retired from Howard & Smith Inc., an operational and educational systems and equipment firm, but he still serves as chairman of the board.

While active in his company, he saw a similar job training program work for sheetmetal workers re-

Jobless rate in 6-community area—42 percent trained to work in the computer field.

"They have taken scores of journeymen sheetmetal workers who have been on welfare three or four years and put them on some of the highest paying jobs," he said.

The possibilities with the federal training program are similar, he said, and he's excited about them.

As an example of how the program could work, he mentioned robotics repair. If an unemployed person was tested and found able to do the job but math skills were lacking, the person could begin working immediately as a trainee and take the math courses in the evening.

Financial assistance toward the person's salary would be given to the firm hiring the person and the class would be paid for with the federal funds.

When the training period ended, the person would possess new skills and, most likely, a new job with the private industry firm.

"Many of these people we know from demographic studies are people who can't expect to get back their old jobs," Smith said, and he expects that to help some of the unemployed in Independence, approximately 16 percent of the labor force.

The act carries another positive factor for job seekers.

"This provides a very great incentive in a community for economic development. It can subsidize training programs," he said. "In other words, you bring in the plant and we'll train the employees—that's a big incentive."

The new federal program is different from CETA in two main ways.

Many former CETA employees were hired in jobs created by local governmental units to take advantage of the funding. The main thrust in the new program is to work with private industry, said Smith.

CETA was also geared more to low-income jobs than the new program will be, according to Smith.

"IS NOT ONLY FOR QUILTERS"

"The purpose... is to provide funds and programs at all levels rather than just entry level," he said.

The new program goes into effect Oct. 1.

The consortium has recommended appointment of 37 persons for a private industry council which will run the program.

Included on the council that was expected to be approved by the state legislature this week are Independence Township businessman Thomas Rademacher and the principal of the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center, Daniel Manthel.

Other members were chosen from names submitted by large and small businesses, the education field, labor unions, community organizations, rehabilitation agencies, and the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The next step is a two-year operational plan that must be submitted to the state by Aug. 31 to be implemented Oct. 1.

Kim Smith reads over the menu at the Cookery inside the Clarkston Mills Mall. It's one of the best places to dine in Clarkston because they treat her like an adult, she says.

Inside one of her favorite shops, Janet Lamm receives some assistance from Jan Sutton, co-owner of the Daisy Chain gift shop in the Clarkston Corners shopping mall.

Teens shop where they're treated right

By Marilyn Trumper

Kids are consumers too.

With fistfuls of change and dollar bills they buy ice cream at Sweet Sue's, comic books at Hallman's and footballs at Coach's Corner.

Stores in the Village of Clarkston are within walking and bike-riding distance for a contingent of local youth.

How they're treated makes a difference in where they spend their money.

Sixteen-year-old Kim Smith lives on Townview, in the hills west of the village.

She eats at The Cookery because they treat her well.

She's too young to order a bottle of sparkling wine.

And money earned for baby-sitting won't quite cover the cost of a roasted quail dinner.

But she can afford the acclaimed Cookery Burger with fries—and does.

Once there she's promptly seated.

The waitress is quick and efficient.

And most important, Kim says she's treated like an adult.

There are other places in Clarkston she patronizes based on that.

"Sometimes you go into a place, and feel like (the help's) watching you. You feel like they don't want you there. They see a kid and think, 'Oh no. Here comes a kid.'"

"I feel funny, and don't stay there long."

One gift shop in the village is just the opposite, Kim said.

"I like to go into The Daisy Chain. They let you look around even if you don't want to buy anything, and don't watch you closely."

And Kim frequents the plant shop, Country Greens, because she likes owner Laurie Stern.

"She's a fun lady. She helps you and talks to you. I like that."

Kim's friend, 16-year-old Janet Lamm of Robertson Court, Clarkston, spends her money at Daisy Chain in the Clarkston Corners.

"They're always willing to help you and they trust me a lot. I've gone to the credit union and gotten change for them," Janet said.

She also frequents the Village Bakeshop.

"Because, it's always open. You can run down there at any time of the day or night with friends," she said.

Bridge club celebrates 25th

"Twenty-five years of friendship and lousy cards!"

That's what the anniversary cake for an Independence Township bridge club said when the group celebrated in June.

The club was founded in the summer of 1958 by Carolyn Birtsas, Sharon Cooper (now of Greenville), Pat Dennis and Kay Robertson.

Between the four of them, they had five children. They met in the daytime and brought their children along, so club meetings didn't last long.

Along with the three women who still reside in the Clarkston area, current members are Louise Mauti, Marty Johnston, Sandy Connors, Mary Ellen Hanson and Gini Schultz.

Others who participated over the years and attended the anniversary party were Linda Kenyon of Ceresco, Lucille Kroninger of Oxford, Pat Johnson and charter member Sharon Cooper.

Former members Judy Batanni of Greendale, Wisc., and Dorothy Taylor of Marquette were unable to attend but sent long, informative letters.

Twenty-fifth anniversary invitations were sent to all who had been involved with a note of encouragement to attempt to dress as they did 25 years ago. Four did.

Bridge was attempted during the celebration, but most of the time was spent reminiscing.

The evening ended with a large salad made up of an ingredient contributed by each partygoer, and the appropriately decorated cake.

Musical note

Plans for many projects and activities in support of the Clarkston High School Marching Band have begun.

Be on the lookout for sales of painters' hats. The white hats will be decorated with blue and gold lettering that says Clarkston and an Old English-style C on top.

All parents of ninth- through 12th-grade band students are invited to a Mexican Pizza Tasting Fest on Tuesday, Aug. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Clarkston High School cafeteria.

This will also be a time to sign up for the Invitational jobs.

For more information call 625-8568.

Club notes

Alice Rioux was hostess to the veterans of World War I and Auxiliary of Barracks No. 2803 at her home on Davisburg Road on July 9 for the first of the summer picnics.

Weather was pleasant, food was plentiful, fellowship and entertainment were superb.

Some surprise guests attended including past department president Adeline Steiger from Florida, Debbie Karns from Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Van Duesen from Union Lake, Clifford Pierce, and Joseph Hughes from the Lansing Barracks.

The second summer picnic will be Aug. 13 at the Iva Landon Hughes home on Oak Hill Road.

Veterans come, one and all.

Honors

Ann Glover was one of 14 Michigan State University, East Lansing, students recently nominated for the prestigious Daniel Rosenthal Memorial Scholarship.

The award is presented annually to the outstanding legislative aide in the Michigan legislature.

It was established by Rosenthal's parents in memory of their son who died in 1977. He was one of the first to volunteer in the legislative aide program organized through MSU's Service Learning Center.

This year's winner was Ann Parker of Okemos.

Glover, a senior business/French major, served as an aide to Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland) updating legislative materials and handling constituent and special research projects.

"Ann was an exceptional intern," a Faust aide said. "Because she is a self-starter, she required very little training."

At MSU, Glover is a member of AIESEC, an international business club which promotes international understanding and cultural awareness through internships abroad.

A 1978 Clarkston High School graduate, she is the daughter of Barbara Glover of Sunnysdale Road, Independence Township.

Mark Edward Thompson has been selected for inclusion in Outstanding Young Men of America for 1983.

The program recognizes the achievements and abilities of men between the ages of 21 and 36, and honors their civic and professional contributions to the community, state and nation.

Mark and his wife, Beverly, live in Independence Township at the home of his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Clancy Thompson of Winell Road.

Connors-Geiger

Sandra Connors of Independence Township and Barton Connors of Pontiac announce the engagement of their daughter, Shelley Kathleen, to Neal Brittan Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Geiger of Lake Orion. Shelley, a 1976 graduate of Clarkston High School and 1981 graduate of Michigan State University, East Lansing, lives in Austin, Texas. She is employed at the Miller Blueprint Co. Her fiancé, a 1971 graduate of Pontiac Northern High School and 1977 graduate of the Center for Creative Studies, Detroit, also lives in Austin. He is employed by Vasquez Design Group. The couple plans a September wedding.

New arrivals

Eric Anthony weighed in at 6 pounds, 7 ounces. Waiting to greet his brother at home on Whipple Lake Road, Independence Township, was Adam, 2½.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doran and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scislowicz, all of Royal Oak.

Great-grandparents are Edna Doran of Madison Heights, Naomi Campbell of Lake Linden, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scislowicz of Lakeland, Fla., and Lillian Tulak of Royal Oak.

Wayne and Kathy Thompson of Goodrich are the parents of their first child.

Nicolas Patrick was born July 7 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. He weighed 8 pounds, 10½ ounces and measured 20½ inches long.

Grandparents are Patrick and Jean Thompson of Goodrich and Bill and Barb Humphreys of Ortonville.

Great-grandparents are Louis Sr. and Rose Humphreys of Pontiac, Gladys Porritt of Clarkston and Estelle Thompson of Clarkston.

ON EXHIBIT: Michelle Law's "Deanie" is one of more than 200 works of art by students from throughout the United States on exhibit in Washington, D.C. Michelle, a Clarkston High School senior, was the winner of an art competition in the 6th Congressional District coordinated by Congressman Bob Carr. She's pictured here with her parents, Mrs. and Mrs.

Charles Law of Hubbard Road, following the selection of her painting in May. The exhibit is located on Capitol Hill. It's part of "An Artistic Discovery," the annual art competition sponsored by the Congressional Arts Caucus and conducted by members of Congress in their districts to encourage and recognize the rich artistic talent of young Americans, Carr said.

Don't watch TV Aug. 11, learn how to use it

When cable TV comes to the Clarkston area, residents will have access to a public channel.

But will they use it?

Tribune/United, the cable communications firm presently installing the local lines, wants to make sure they do.

On Thursday, Aug. 11, a Community Access Orientation Meeting is planned by the Cable TV firm at Oakland University from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Varner Recital Hall, south of the Kresge Library on the campus in Rochester.

It's free and "it leads to something more free," said John Hammond, manager of program services.

"Essentially this meeting is saying, 'If you want to get involved with public access, this is how you do it,'" he said. "The whole purpose of this is to give people hands-on experience so that when the equipment comes in people will know how to use it."

The meeting includes ideas on how to get involved with public access programming, samples of programs put on in other communities, and an opportunity to sign up for a free introductory "Hands On" course.

The first subscriber to the Independence-Clarkston cable system is expected to be signed up in December with the system available townshipwide in the following few months.

The least expensive package includes the public access channel, providing virtually every cable-TV subscriber with an opportunity to view locally produced programs.

For more information on the Community Access Orientation Meeting, call 549-1290.

Road repairs underway soon

Independence Township is in for some new cement this summer.

The Michigan Department of Transportation is expected to begin construction of an $85,000 park-and-ride lot at I-75 and Sashabaw Road this month, according to public information officer Tom Shavner.

In addition, this month bids are scheduled to be let for 11 miles of repairs on I-75 from University Drive to Independence Township.

They include shoulder work, joint repair, safety upgrading, and resurfacing and railing replacement on eight bridges.

For $3.35 a week, you can reach 15,000 people in over 4000 homes every week with an advertising message on this page. Call 625-3370 and place your message today!

Day camp 'prom'

Many of the boys opt to watch rather than dance during the "prom" at Camp Independence. Counselors Laura Acton and Larry Bush spin their partners as Tim Berger (left) and Kim Linberg stand safely behind a picnic table. The day camp program is conducted by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department at Independence Oaks County Park. Activities include arts and crafts, swimming, hiking and compass work, archery, organized games and nature awareness sessions with the park naturalist. Tori Campe is the director.
