DNR denies Levy Co. mining plan

By Marilyn Trumper

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) denied the Edward C. Levy Co.'s 20-year plan to mine 300 acres near the headwaters of the Clinton River which essentially kills the controversial project and leaves officials of the multi-million Detroit-based firm with one appeal: a federal court battle.

"That's very good news," said Independence Township Supervisor James B. Smith. "We've done our homework and it's paid off."

Norman Hyman, attorney for Levy, says he doesn't know if his client will appeal the decision, but that corporate officials were disappointed with the outcome of the four-year-long struggle.

The eight-page denial issued late Aug. 17 said the DNR might look favorably on the plan if:

- Levy is able to obtain a mining permit at the local level for land not zoned for mining.

- If it can be shown there's no "prudent or feasible" alternate site.

- And finally, if the county fails to purchase approximately 300 acres in that area it selected for inclusion with Independence Oaks County Park.

In late July local officials looked grave following a Michigan Environmental Review Board recommendation that the DNR approve the plan with stipulations.

Because it's rare the DNR acts opposite a MERB recommendation, Smith said he'd braced for approval of the plan. That would have still meant a court battle because the Army Corps of Engineers denied the plan two weeks earlier. A DNR denial adds more weight to the township's case should an appeal be filed.

"(The decision) took a lot of guts on the (DNR division chief's) part," he said.

"Legally the DNR can't approve a plan for an illegal use, and Levy never came before the township to get a permit to mine, which he needs.

"Talk about shooting yourself in the foot."

Florida man wants part of PK

By Marilyn Trumper

Florida developer Conrad Wagner has offered Pine Knob Investment Co. a $2- to $3-million loan to buy Borg Warner's interest in the Pine Knob golf course.

The property includes the two exclusive restaurants, the Hamburger Mansion and La Veranda.

Charles Collins, the trustee handling the bankruptcy in federal court, is expected to hear the offer Friday, Aug. 26. He has filed for borrowing power, according to his attorney Ronald Rose.

Collins, who has full control of the $30-million complex, does not have to consult Pine Knob partners Gary Francell and Joseph Locricchio on his decision, according to attorney David Howell who has represented the partners in the past.

Locricchio and Borg Warner attorneys could not be reached for comment.

Sources close to Pine Knob say rumors of the loan were heard as early as one month ago, and indicated the Florida developer's overture could mean similar future piecemeal investments in the music theater and ski hill.

CASTLES IN THE SAND: Chris Kortge, Stephen Crocker and John Schultz fit three in a castle and work against time to finish their sandy, architectural wonder. The trio entered Independence Township's Parks and Recreation Department's sandcastle building competition

Sunday at Deer Lake Beach. They won the group category prize and received ribbons for their day-long efforts.

Proposed condos designed for handicapped

By Marilyn Trumper

If all goes according to plan Springfield Township will be the home of a condominium development designed specifically for the physically handicapped.

Developer Thor Olafsson is proposing Viking Village Condominiums, a 100-unit, 25 building development on 35 acres at Big Lake and Andersonville roads.

"I named it Viking Village because handicapped people have the courage to overcome as did the vikings," he said.

The Springfield Township Board unanimously gave Olafsson a cluster option to build at its Aug. 10 meeting. He expects to break ground this fall.

The price tag for each home will be between $40,000 and $60,000, he said.

"I will work with each person individually and design the home to meet their specific needs," he said after the meeting.

Doors and halls will be wide, and have ramps to accommodate wheelchairs, light switches will be lowered and rooms will have emergency lights.

"There are even voice-activated lights that can be installed to turn on and off with the sound of a voice," he said.

Olafsson said he knows of no similar developments in the area, adding, "There's next to nothing in the way of handicapped housing and it's needed."

-Correction-

The dates were incorrectly listed in last week's Clarkston News for the Clarkston Village Players Youth Theater production of "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory."

The play is to be presented Friday and Saturday, Aug. 26 and 27, at the Depot Theatre on White Lake Road, Independence Township.

Play times are 7 p.m. Friday, and 2 and 7 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children under age 12. They may be purchased in advance or at the door. Phone 625-4859 for more information.

On committee

Sue Toretta of Eckles Road, Independence Township, is the newest member of the Safety Path Advisory Committee.

The Independence Township Board unanimously approved the appointment Aug. 8.

State sued over senior housing

By Marilyn Trumper

Determined to license his proposed $30 million senior citizens complex, Clarkston Place, developer Hugh Garner filed suit last week against the State of Michigan.

In a show cause hearing Aug. 17, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge George La Plata ordered the state to show why it should not immediately issue a license. The state has 30 days to respond, according to Garner.

Garner's letter of intent to build senior housing at I-75 and Dixie Highway has been in state files for a year. When officials in Lansing announced his application would be reviewed comparatively with 13 others, Garner was at a loss for strategy and indicated early on he wanted to avoid a court battle.

"I didn't want to take on the entire world, and this way the other 13 applicants are not involved," he explained the lawsuit. "I want the court to order the state to issue the license—or not issue the license. I'm very optimistic. I think the judge understands our plight."

The state agreed to review the applications jointly, acting on an attorney general opinion, which forces Garner to compete for the available 424 beds apportioned to northwest Oakland County.

On another front, the Independence Township Planning Commission tabled Garner's request for site plan approval Aug. 11.

Township engineers disagree with Garner on whether a 10-year or 110-year flood plan is required, he said.

Judge stops cul-de-sac

Calls conflict-of-interest charge 'heresay'

By Marilyn Trumper

Independence Township Supervisor James B. Smith has been cleared of conflict of interest charges regarding a proposed 53-acre development off Reese Road. The property abuts 40 acres owned by Smith.

"Although that's not the most important thing," Smith said. "The important thing is that the court upheld our 600-foot cul-de-sac limit."

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frank Mester called the conflict of interest charges "heresay" Aug. 17 and denied engineer Bernard Feldhauser's request for a 1,000-foot cul-de-sac.

Feldhauser represents Reese Development Co., owner of the proposed 17-lot, 3-acre minimum, subdivision.

Attorney for the developers, Roger Canzano, maintains a cul-de-sac is the only way to economically develop the land and indicated the partners will appeal.

Smith, on record strongly opposing cul-de-sacs, denied Feldhauser's charges of conflict and said his 40-acre farm had been for sale long before the developers made their proposal.

"I really don't think all the evidence was considered and I really believe the township's cul-de-sac ordinance is unreasonable," he said.

New beginning

By Marilyn Trumper

The Shindler Road name change to Woodland Trail is hailed as a "new beginning" by Joe Gorka, one of 12 homeowners on the rural road that gained state-wide attention two years ago when officials discovered a nearby toxic dump site.

At the Aug. 10 Springfield Township Board meeting, Supervisor Collin Walls announced no public hearing will be needed to rename the road as earlier thought.

"It's relatively routine from here on in," Walls said.

Nine of the 12 families living on the road in the township's southwest quadrant signed a petition to change the street name, wanting to eliminate stigmas associated with toxic waste.

"For the first time in a long time we have reason to be optimistic," Gorka said. "We have a solid handle on the problem, and feel others can learn from what we've gone through. We can be a model for other communities far as who to talk to and where."

"Now we'd like to start a new beginning."

In 1981 the Department of Natural Resources indicated that despite clean-up efforts, high concentrations of toxic contaminants remained at the site off Shindler road, in Springfield and Rose townships.

Detected in highly localized areas were high levels of PCB (polychlorinated biphenyls), a suspected carcinogen, and toxic metals like lead.

1st computer buy

Springfield Township's catching up with the space age.

On Aug. 10, the board unanimously approved purchase of a $6,351 IBM Personalized Computer and $1,100 worth of programs.

The machine will serve as a word processor and eventually will hold the township's accounts, tax roll, assessing information and voters' registration, according to Clerk J. Calvin Walters.

"We've been looking at them a long time," Walters said. "It's going to make things a lot easier."

Standing in the alley where they recovered a woman's stolen purse are Mark Arsenault, Paul Postal and Matt Racosky.

Purse-finders

Trio tracks down owner

By Marilyn Trumper

Poking around gargage bins, sidestepping 6-inch deep chuck holes and kicking shards of red-clay brick, Mark Arsenault, Matt Racosky and Paul Postal searched for empty bottles in the alley behind Main Street.

Instead of bottles this hot summer afternoon, they found the strewn contents of a woman's purse complete with credit cards and a driver's license.

But no money.

The 13-year-old sleuths grabbed a phone book and poured over the listed Kyles searching for a Dorothy on Roberston Court.

They found her husband Bert, made the call, and returned the purse to its owner.

According to Clarkston Village Enforcemnt Officer Charles Smalley, there was no money in the purse when it was stolen from Sweet Sue's, a popular Clarkston eatery. Dorothy had lunched there and returned to work, leaving her purse behind.

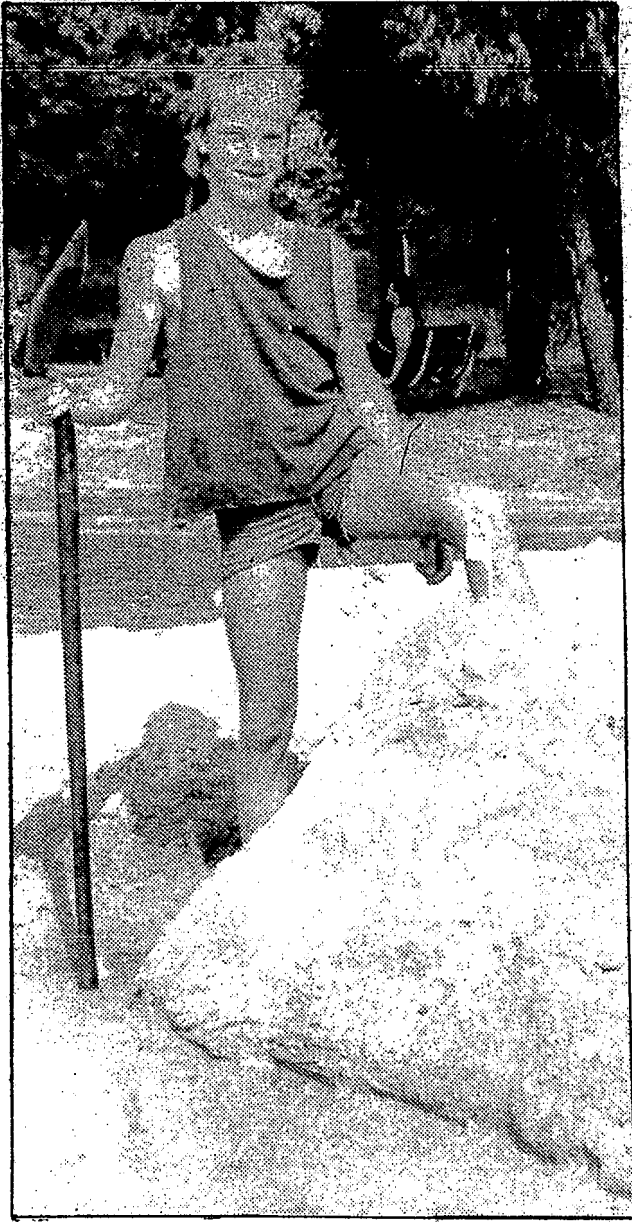

For their efforts, the boys got no reward, but they said that's OK.

"We figured she'd really like to get her stuff back," Mark said.

BACK IN TIME: Three-year-old Stacy Harold of Bloomfield, with her hair adorned in a Renaissance-style wreath, was one of the over 250 people at the Renaissance Feast at the Colomblere Center Saturday. The feast cost $150 per couple with the proceeds going to benefit the University of Detroit campus located at the center, the first suburban campus for the university. The menu included fruits, vegetables, chicken, ribs, cheeses, and breads along with desserts, all finger-foods in the Renaissance tradition.

Matt Shepanek uses a shovel to build a mound of sand for his castle. The undertaking takes four hours.

Castle-building draws all ages

For hours Sunday afternoon, architects labored in the hot sun at Deer Lake Beach building sand castles on the shore—not in the sky.

Oh they were elaborate with twig drawbridges, syrupy brown water in the moats and fieldstone reinforced walls.

A trio of youths made elaborate mosaic sculptures and plucked greens from the fence to symbolize trees for their castle.

A foursome from the University of Michigan used schoolmate Stephen Crocker from England as architectural advisor on their castle.

"Who better to 'ave than someone with first 'and knowledge of castles?" he laughed.

From noon to 5 p.m. they worked, knees dug deep in the sand for leverage. They molded castle walls with trowels and dug deep with shovels.

Then the judging took place.

•Winners in the 7 and under category: Steven Hunkele and Chris Wood with their tower-dominant castle, created by filling pails with sand and tipping them upside down.

•Winners in the 7 to 14 category: David Saffron, Jim Meloche and Joe Meloche, with the intricate stonework, trees and mosaic sculptures.

English heritage paid off for the college men winning the group category: Chris Kortge, John Schultz, Stephen Crocker and Tommy Tucker.

Winners received ribbons.

The contest was sponsored by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department.

Cable TV head-in site chosen

By Marilyn Trumper

Ending months of speculation, property behind Rademacher Chevrolet at M-15 and Dixie Highway has been selected as Independence Township's head-in cable TV site.

According to Manuel Copado, commercial marketing director for Multi-Cablevision, the studio site will be elsewhere but should be within two miles of the head-in site for best reception.

Information from Multi-Cablevision, a division of Tribune/United, describes the site as "clean" for signals and says it has land contours that allow interference-free signals, a concern because of the number of microwave paths running through the township.

The company has struck a lease agreement with Rademacher Chevrolet to use the land.

In addition, officials are scheduled to appear Sept. 8 before the zoning board for a variance needed to erect a 100-foot tower. Structure height is restricted to 30 feet in the ordinance.

The head-in houses $250,000 worth of electronic components needed to receive and send out signals, the transmitting tower and receiving dishes.

DNR denies Levy

Since 1979 Levy sought to mine acreage adjacent to Independence Township's Clintonwood Park and Independence Oaks County Park.

The proposal was hotly debated locally and twice the subject of a DNR public hearing at township hall.

Over 30 state and local environmental groups banded to block the plan. It was endorsed by the Michigan United Conservation Club.

Township residents in 1980 approved .5 mill for 10 years to finance condemnation of 80 acres owned by Levy, which were included in the mining plan.

Rumph Chiropractic Clinics

We first substantiate whether a patient's complaint can be treated with chiropractic. This is based on the initial examination.

Lines of communication with patients are always open and straightforward. Therefore their progress is followed continuously.

Our clinical findings closely correlate with studies done in major universities indicating that chiropractic helps eliminate nerve impingements and relieves pain caused by spinal subluxations (nerve root compression often referred to simply as a "pinched nerve.")

Chiropractic is not expensive compared to traditional fees in health care today.

Our Success Rate Is High

Chiropractic

— It Pays!

Missing a few days of work, or not being able to live a normal life style at home or work is expensive. Chiropractic fees fall well within the guidelines of other professionals in the health care field. And of course it depends on the seriousness of the condition the doctor is treating. We have a very conservative fee schedule in our clinic and openly explain our fee schedules at any time.

Go home and do something

Several years ago the police chief of Manassas Park, Va. sent the following letter to a Parent-Teacher Association meeting. He titled it an "Open Letter to Teenagers." We first published it 10 years ago and would like to repeat it.

Always we hear the plaintive cry of teenagers: "What can we do? Where can we go?"

The answer is.... "Go home."

Hang the storm windows, paint the wood-work. Rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Shovel the walk. Wash the car. Learn to cook. Scrub some floors. Repair the sink. Build a boat. Get a job.

Help the minister, priest, or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And then when you are through—and not tired—read a book.

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your village does not owe you recreation facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something.

You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again.

In plain, simple words: "Grow up; quit being a crybaby; get out of your dream world.... Start acting like a man or lady."

Sunday was my birthday. There was no standing-room-only celebration at the Silverdome, followed by a wine and cheese party at the London Chop House. So don't feel bad about missing anything.

The official moment arrived at about 2:35 p.m., at which time I marked the occasion by finishing my salad at Bill Knapp's restaurant in Warren.

Later at home, I consumed a dieter's fragment of chocolate cake, opened a few very functional presents, finished my cup of coffee and went to work.

Ho-hum.

IT WASN'T ALWAYS this way, you know. Several years back, it seemed like every birthday was a milestone, and the next one was always something to look forward to.

It was a big deal to turn 13 and officially become a teen-ager. But all I could think about was turning 16 and getting my driver's license.

Then, when I turned 16, I wanted to be 18 and old enough to vote and drink.

That's since changed, of course, now that the drinking age has been raised. But even when I turned 18, there remained a certain magic about the age 21. Until you reach that plateau, you still don't quite feel entitled to all the rights and privileges of adulthood.

Closing on 30

Al Zawacky

BUT THAT'S WHEN birthdays start losing their significance. When you're 21, who wants to be 22? I turned 27 last weekend, and have no reason to look forward in breathless anticipation to 28. Thirty actually scares me.

I suppose, if one lives long enough, birthdays do begin to take on milestone stature again. There's got to be some satisfaction in making it to 70 or 80, particularly if your health is still good.

But—in the large chasm stretching from the early 20s to those later landmarks, birthdays are a zilch. Nice, but nothing to get terribly excited about.

On the other hand, I guess there's nothing to dread about them. It's worth remembering that even turning 30 in three years beats the heck out of the alternative.

Jim's jottings

Semantic fencing

If you should happen inadvertently to see a letter or memo from your boss describing you in flattering terms, don't run out and start spending the raise you are sure must be forthcoming.

The boss may be speaking with forked tongue.

E. James Brennan, a St. Louis personnel consultant, reports in Personal Journal that employee-relations executives, in order to write frankly about people without fear of the communications falling into the hands of those being written about, sometimes use a secret language of their own.

Some tongue-in-cheek examples of phrases whose true meaning is supposedly shared by those in-the-know:

First the code, then the translation.

'Exceptionally well-qualified'—Made no serious blunders yet.

'Careful thinker'—Won't make a decision.

'Strong principles'—Stubborn.

'Spends extra hours on the job'—Miserable home life.

'Average employee'—Not too bright.

'Active socially'—Drinks too much.

'Zealous attitude'—Opinionated.

'Takes pride in his work'—Conceited.
'Uses logic on hard problems'—Finds another to do the job.

'Forceful'—Argumentative.

'Not the desk type'—Did not go to college.

'Conscious'—Scared.

'Meticulous attention to detail'—Nit picker.

'Of great value to the organization'—Gets to work on time.

Broken silence

Kathy Greenfield

At the end of winding, wooded trails big enough for a single vehicle, alongside a quiet stream sat the cabin.

That's where we spent nearly a week on vacation.

We were guests of our neighbors. The two families broke the solitude with people noise and a bit of dirt bike roaring.

But that was nothing compared to the helicopters and booms brought on by the National Guard Camp attendees in Grayling.

The sounds were nothing new, for we lived in Grayling for a couple of years.

But it's the kind of thing that always takes you by surprise.

Imagine looking up and seeing green, obviously military helicopters flying above the treeline.

Consider the visual impact of driving past a trail in the middle of a forest and seeing a tank filled with camouflage-clad military men holding rifles.

It felt like I was watching a movie, because my reaction was "this can't be real."

Then I think about countries I read about filled with conflict. Places where the guns are really loaded, where war isn't a game.

Places where the night quiet is broken by helicopter noise and grenade booms that signal danger.

Perhaps I should be glad people are training for military conflicts, just in case.

Maybe it should be soothing that when young men are called to serve their country they can go into war zones with some working knowledge.

But it isn't.

The thought sends shivers up and down my spine.

'If it Fitz...'

Beware wanton kneelers

by Jim Fitzgerald

Citizens of Walled Lake can breathe easier since the arrest and jailing of four people for playing peace games. Unfortunately, the situation isn't that secure in Marquette.

There were also four people arrested near Marquette for playing peace games at the K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base. Their crime included kneeling and praying. But three of them were quickly released and, at this very moment, are free to wantonly kneel and pray in unsuspecting communities anywhere in Michigan or all of the United States. You should be on the lookout for them.

Everyone knows what war games are. Military-type people gather together to shoot guns and other weapons. Tanks and planes and aircraft carriers are often used. It's just a game, but participants must really pretend they're playing for keeps or it isn't any fun.

The twofold purpose of war games is to practice for real war and to impress onlookers with a mighty show of force. It is hoped that the onlookers will be so frightened, they will never raise a hand against the war-game players.

Peace games are not nearly as well known and popularly accepted as war games. In fact, people arrested for kneeling and praying are never specifically charged with playing peace games because most police and prosecutors don't recognize a peace game when they see it. Instead, peace-game players are usually charged with trespassing.

PEOPLE ARE never arrested for playing war games, of course. That's because the war-game players are only practicing how to kill people; they never pretend to do anything worse, such as trespass.

The twofold purpose of peace games is to practice for real peace and impress onlookers with a mighty show of pacificism. It is hoped that the onlookers will be so enamored, they will touch hands with the peace-game players and ask to join the game.

Among the four peace-game players arrested at Walled Lake were such notorious kneelers and prayers as a Catholic priest and a Methodist minister. A nervous public, leery of becoming enamored, was reassured when a newspaper photo revealed that police didn't take the two clergymen into open court without first chaining their hands together.

The minister and the priest, along with two women, had trespassed on property owned by Williams International Corp., a manufacturer of cruise-missile engines. To commemorate the 38th anniversary of the atomic destruction of Nagasaki ("One cruise equals 16 Nagasakis"), they put burning candles and red dye in Williams' reflecting pool. For this, they got 30 days in jail plus $250 fines.

So, for a month, Walled Lake is a safer place to live. The candles and dye symbolized the Nagasaki victims who leaped into the river to ease the pain of their burns and turned the water red with their blood. It's too bad all those people were killed by an atom bomb, of course. But do we live in a civilized society, or don't we? When Williams executives look into their reflecting pool, they shouldn't have to see the debris of peace games. They should have to see themselves.

WAR GAMES are much more socially acceptable than peace games. Sure, war games also leave debris behind. Sometimes that debris even explodes and kills bird-watchers. And it can't be denied that war games damage the environment and cost taxpayers millions of dollars. But at least war games don't trespass.

War games provide the practice required if a nation is to have the capability of killing lots of people and frightening onlookers. War games are an integral part of a wise national defense policy.

On the other hand, peace games are nothing less than a blatant, unforgivable violation of this nation's "No Trespassing" signs.

Don't you forget it. Also, remember what happened in Marquette and, for Christ's sake, be on the lookout for wanton kneelers and prayers.

Taxpayer objects to lobbyist

In regards to your article "Kammer lands $10,000 grant," in my opinion it is a sad state of affairs when after years of formulating the laws of this state an abdicated legislator turns to lobbying so that he can take advantage of the loop holes he helped to put into the law.

And sadder still when a school superintendent motivates his school board to acquiesce in paying your hard-earned tax dollars to a lobbyist.

Why not, Mr. Mason, if the law is not fair concentrate your efforts to change it?

It seems to me to be a better example to the youth of this township than to pay tribute to a lobbyist, yearly or otherwise, so that he may, by possible nefarious use of the citizens' hard-earned tax dollars, wine and dine some of his former colleagues imploring them to make end runs around the laws they create.

Congratulations on Levy win

After years of discussion and deliberation the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has finally denied the permit application of the Edward C. Levy Co. for a gravel mining operation in Independence Township.

The proposed Levy project would have abutted park land in the township and rested on the headwaters of the Clinton River watershed system, threatening not only the local environment, but the environment of a large portion of Oakland County.

The people of Independence Township, their elected officials, the ONTOP organization and the Clinton River Watershed Authority are to be commended for their tireless efforts to prevent approval of this project. They made visits to Lansing, to public hearings, to the DNR and the Michigan Environmental Review Board.

They organized an effective letter writing drive to the DNR and MERB in protest of the mining project. Most importantly they all continued to work together to stop Levy despite the many legal delays in the permit application reviewing process.

My sincere congratulations to all of those people who worked so hard to protect this environmentally sensitive area.

Thanks to medics

I would like to express my gratitude and admiration to our fine team of medics who saved my husband Arthur's life last Wednesday evening when he had a heart attack. They were here within three minutes of the call and were very capable and kind.

Name: Mary Carol Ridgeway

Adult High School Graduate: Class of 1983

College Scholarship Winner: Detroit College of Business

"I am very proud to have been a part of the first graduating class of the Clarkston Adult Education Program.

The program provided an opportunity for me to finish my high school education with a wide variety of subjects taught by excellent teachers, in a setting that is relaxed and comfortable with people of various backgrounds and ages.

As children, the choice of education is made for us by our parents and the government. As adults the choice is ours! The hardest thing about going back to school as an adult is calling for the counseling appointment.

Having this learning experience behind me, I now feel college will be much easier."

Wolves hit field for 1st practice

By Dan Vandenhemel

The movements of stretching, jumping, running, and hitting go with the sounds of groaning and grunting.

It's Monday and the Clarkston High School football team marks its first day of practice.

Football captains Craig Kulaszewski and Rob Mortimore lead the calls of exercises before the team breaks up into groups by position.

Tackling dummies and blocking pads are scattered around the field.

"Now we'll be teaching them offense and looking for the right persons in the right spots," head coach Walt Wyniemko said. "With the more contact, we'll be able to know if we're right or wrong."

Last year Clarkston finished with a 6-3 record, good for third place in the Greater Oakland Activities League (GOAL).

Two of the three losses were to state playoff teams, Rochester and Bloomfield Hills Lahser. The third loss was to Waterford Kettering.

"Going into the Rochester game, they knew they had to beat us to win the GOAL," Wyniemko said. "We didn't lose to a bad team. Realistically we should have finished 7-2."

This year Romeo and Sterling Heights Stevenson games are scheduled the first two weeks.

For the last seven years, those two teams were tied for fifth in the Detroit metro area for winning percentage.

"In the last seven years, they have lost about 15 games between them," said Wolves' assistant coach George Porritt. "If they lose two games a year, it's a bad year. Our schedule this year is a lot tougher than it has been in the past."

Wyniemko and coaches Porritt, Kurt Richardson and Mike Schumborg will select 41 players for the varsity team.

"We have about 192 in the full football program," Wyniemko said. "That's in the junior varsity and the two freshmen teams also."

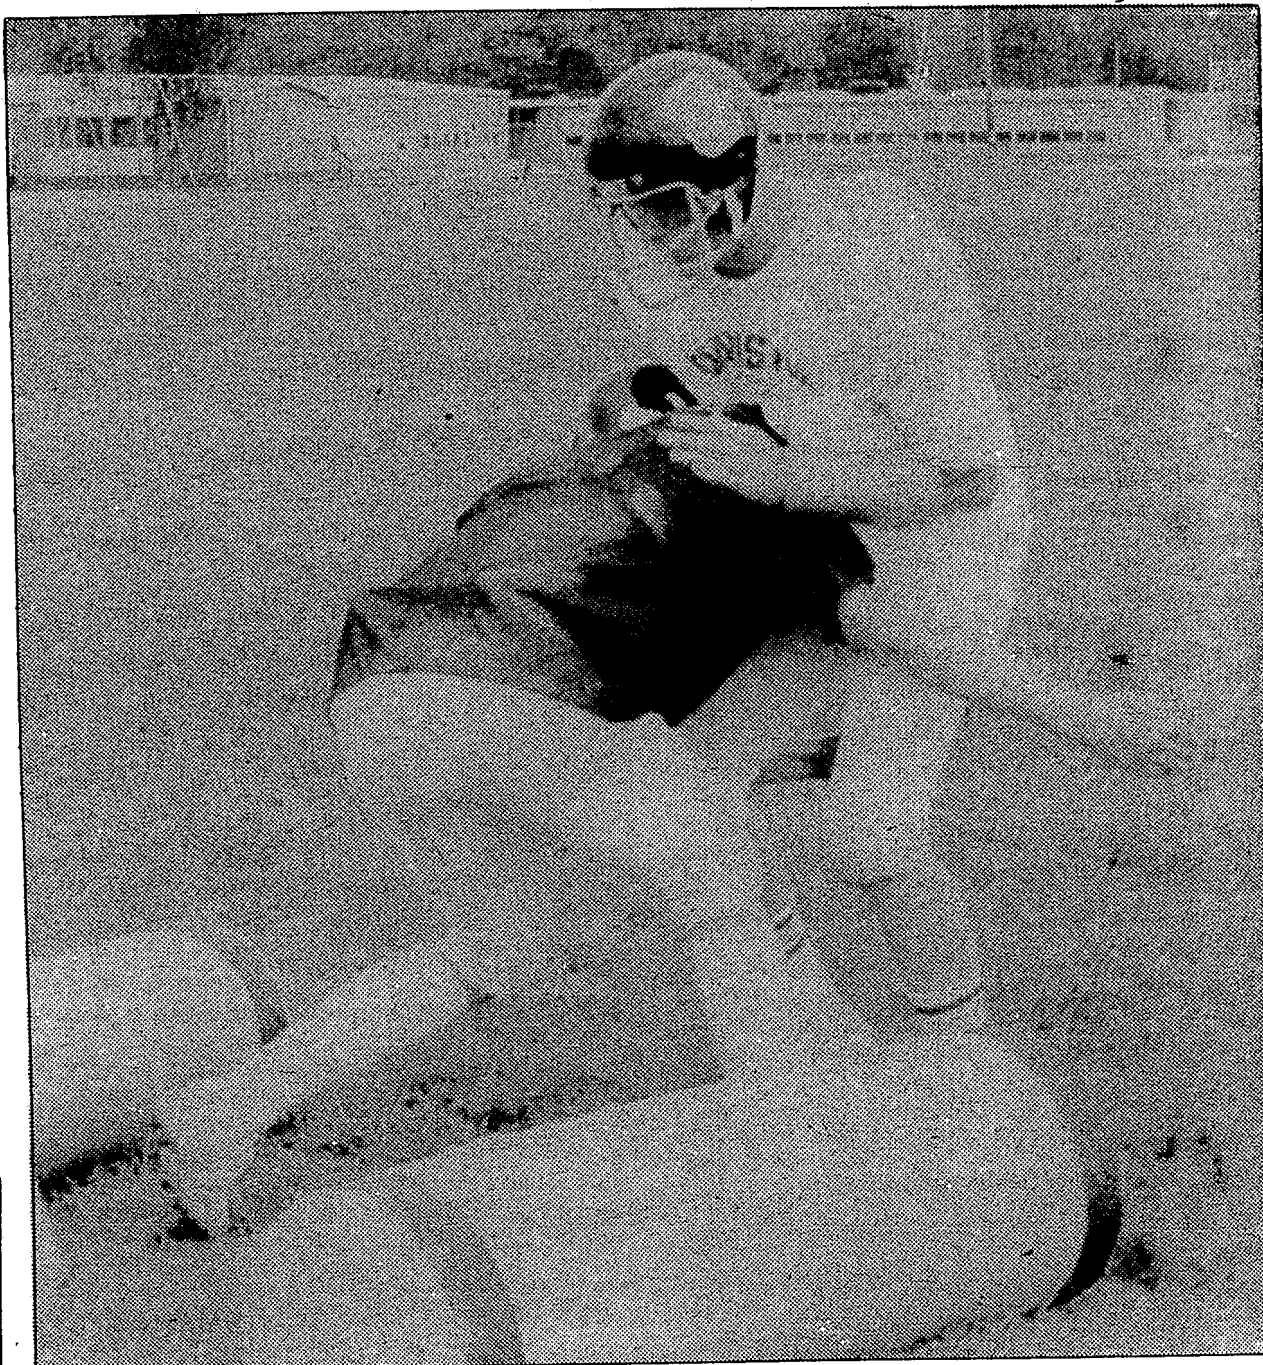

"We have a policy of not cutting any player. If they cut themselves, OK, but if they want to be on the team they will be."

"All I want is for them to give 100 percent," he said. "We consider this a business. We ask just to give what you can, a full day's job. If you don't, you're just cheating your employer, you're cheating your teammates."

Wyniemko said seven players should be the big factors for the Wolves this season: captains Craig

Kulaszewski at quarterback and Rob Mortimore at linebacker, Mike Harbaugh at guard, Dave Newblatt at running back, Chris Bruce at tight end, Kurt Botdorf at defensive back and Dan Harken at tackle.

"It's too early to tell how well we'll do but those players should be the key to the season," he said. "We have the opportunity to be as good as anybody."

It's football season again for the Clarkston High School Wolves. The varsity team has 41 players with the another 54 on junior varsity. The Wolves open the season at Romeo Sept. 9.

Sports

CHS follows bouncing basketball at camp

By Dan Vandenhemel

A week-long basketball camp at Michigan State University can add up to a foot full of blisters, but for eight hopefuls to the Clarkston High School girls' basketball team, it was well worth it.

"They played a lot of basketball," said coach Dave McDonald. "They were tired and they got some blisters but it was good experience."

The players were Sue Kevirtis, Lyn Klingler, Julie Beamer, Janet Herron, Laura Hurren, Kim Ottman, Denise Giroux, and Bridget Kilcline.

The eight players formed one of 20 teams at MSU's annual camp that started Aug. 8 and ended last Friday.

"Most of these camps cost around $150," McDonald said. "They stayed in the dorms and did a little swimming but they did a lot of resting."

Eleven games in the five-day period, two a day, and if there was time a game in the evening.

"There were some demonstrations on the side that helped," McDonald said. "Some speakers came in and talked about motivation and nutrition too."

The team finished with a 7-4 record against teams that were great competition for the girls, McDonald said.

The games consisted of 10-minute-long running quarters which makes the game go a little quicker.

"You couldn't take your time on free throws or other things," he said. "We scored 40 points most of the time, so we could put points on the board."

"The girls learned a lot about team concepts," he said. "MSU's basketball team was there and they split up and one member of the team helped the teams in the camp.

"The girls said they liked it. I had to send in the roster of people going back in April and eight is all that showed any interest. Now we would have had a bunch go."

Orioles knocked out of tourney

By Dan Vandenhemel

Moe's Orioles were swamped 10-0 by Lansing Waverly and knocked out of the state playoffs.

Moe's, in the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Pony League, were held to only four hits at the game in Allen Park Aug. 8.

Singles by Mark Hurst, Tony Burns and Ed Atkins and a double by Bob Henry were the only offense the Orioles could generate.

"The pitcher they had was unbelievable," said coach Jerry Harbaugh. "He was a varsity pitcher for Lansing Sexton High School. We were just over-matched."

"Lansing played 41 games during the summer," Harbaugh said. "It makes a difference when you play that many games. They had some good boys out there on the field."

On their way to a 15-1 final record, Moe's won their league title, league playoff and the district championship.

"They were really up for the game, but I don't think they were nervous at all," he said.

"Tony Burns again played great defense at short-stop, so did Jim Ruelle in center. Mark Taylor and Brian Harbaugh both played good defense in right field. Lansing kept them busy all day out there."

"We had a good season, a good game at Lapeer (district game) and a good game at Allen Park. The kids came out of Allen Park with their heads held high," Harbaugh said.

Caddying rewards

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Buick Open at Warwick Hills in Grand Blanc is over for this year, but for 16-year-old Chris Hunter the memory will last and so will the rewards.

The Deer Hill Court, Independence Township, resident caddied for professional golfer Lou Graham.

"A friend of mine is a tour caddy. He caddies for David Peoples and he talked to Graham last week at the PGA tournament in Los Angeles," Hunter said.

"Graham has been using local caddies since his regular caddy smashed his Cadillac," he said. "It was really nice, Lou came up to me on Wednesday and knew my name before I even talked to him."

For his five days of lugging Graham's golf bag and umbrella around the course, Hunter received, $240 or about 20 percent of Graham's $1,120 winnings, a new Ping putter and about 30 golf balls.

Part of the money went for a new set of woods for the junior at Clarkston High School.

"They are really good clubs," Hunter said. "Most of the pros on tour use them. With them and the experience I got from following Lou around should help my game."

Graham finished tied for 44th at three under par. But after back-to-back 74s on Friday and Saturday, he gave the putter to Hunter.

"He wasn't putting at all. He made most of the greens in regulation but couldn't putt," Hunter said. "I didn't know if he was kidding or not (when he gave me the putter)."

On the par 3 third hole on Saturday, Graham reached the green in one but four-putted. After the round he told Hunter to take the putter because he never wanted to see it again.

"I just tried to pep him up," said Hunter. "There is an incredible amount of pressure on the tour. I just told him, 'OK now we are going to have to get down to work.' That broke the tension and relaxed him."

Every time Graham wanted or needed a new golf ball, he gave the old one to Hunter.

With the large crowds and the pressure of being on tour, being nervous played a big part in Hunter's experience.

"I think I was more nervous than he was on the first hole," Hunter said. "The first hole each day was the toughest."

But Hunter's toughest moment was yet to come. After Graham's adventures while putting, he let Hunter read two putts on Saturday and most of them on Sunday.

"I hoped they would break the way I thought they would," he said. "The first time he made the putt and the second time he missed. But I think he had confidence in me to let me read them on Sunday."

Hunter has been a caddy at Warwick Hills for four years. His brother Andy, 14, is also a caddy but didn't have enough rounds of golf logged to caddy for a pro. Instead he was a standard bearer, carrying the signs showing what the golfers scores are.

"They only took the top 12 caddies with the most rounds," Hunter said. "I was 11th. Out of the 12 golfers, only Lou and Larry Ziegler were name players."

"Lou liked me enough to give me his home phone number and let him know if I'd like to caddy for him again next year here," he said.

Historic district ballots in mail

Property owners in Clarkston's 174-home historic district should have received ballots to vote on reimplementation of the historic ordinance in Monday's mail.

Those who did not are asked to phone Carol Eberhardt, village council trustee, at 625-1166.

Deadline for ballots is Labor Day weekend.

Included in the package is a cover-letter explaining the vote.

The proposed law is almost an exact replica of the first. It too outlaws aluminum siding, a critical point in the controversy that split the district last fall and ended when council repealed the ordinance.

The Historic District Ordinance and Historic District Commission regulated and approved all construction and repairs in the village's historic district.

The law was on village books for a year before its repeal last November, following complaints from residents unhappy with the commission's decision-making and council's inability to control the powerful body.

The repeal disbanded the commission.

Nanjo's Pizza wants to dance

Eat a little pizza.
Drink a little beer.
And dance a little too.

If Nanjo's Pizza gets its way, they'll soon have dancing to go with the food and drink.

The pizzeria at 10063 Dixie Highway, Springfield Township, has requested a dance permit, and the township board authorized an inspection before making its recommendation to the Liquor Control Commission (LCC).

"(Management) says it will move the tables after dinner hours and have dancing there," said Clerk J. Calvin Walters.

"We want the fire chief to go out and inspect the area and find out exactly where they're going to stack the tables so they're not in front of exits."

The LCC has the final decision, Walters said.

● Charles Sitton leaves town

By Marilyn Trumper

Charles Sitton drops his huge hulk into a chair and lights a Lark cigarette.

"They call me Charles, Charlie, Chuck, and the Old Slave Driver," he laughs, his blue eyes twinkling.

At 67, the colorful Clarkston character is starting a new life in Minnesota and saying goodbye to the Pontiac area, his bread-and-butter for the past 30 years.

He's been active in the Optimist Club, an organization geared to helping youth, and organized the Oxford chapter. For eight years Sitton sold advertising for The Clarkston News, then worked circulation at her sister papers, The Oxford Leader and The Lake Orion Review. For years during the holiday season he was a landmark at Ritter's Farm Market on Dixie Highway where he sold Christmas trees.

"I used to do a lot of public speaking," Sitton said. "I'll never forget one man, a rabbi, introduced me as the only man who could be Sitton, standing and talking at the same time."

Through his newspaper job Sitton struck a friendship with Ed Adler, vice-president of Food Town, headquartered in the Village of Clarkston.

"He used to come in and pick up our ads," Adler said. "He always seemed to be up and never seemed to be in a bad mood."

"I first met him about 15 years ago when I was involved in politics. Charlie always had his hand in that."

Mel Larsen, former chairman of the Republican Party and a state legislator for six years, enjoys a long friendship with Sitton.

"He is a good friend and certainly one of the most honest and frank people I've ever met in my life," Larsen said.

"He's as political astute as anyone I know, and on my inner-circle of advisors. He's a delightful man."

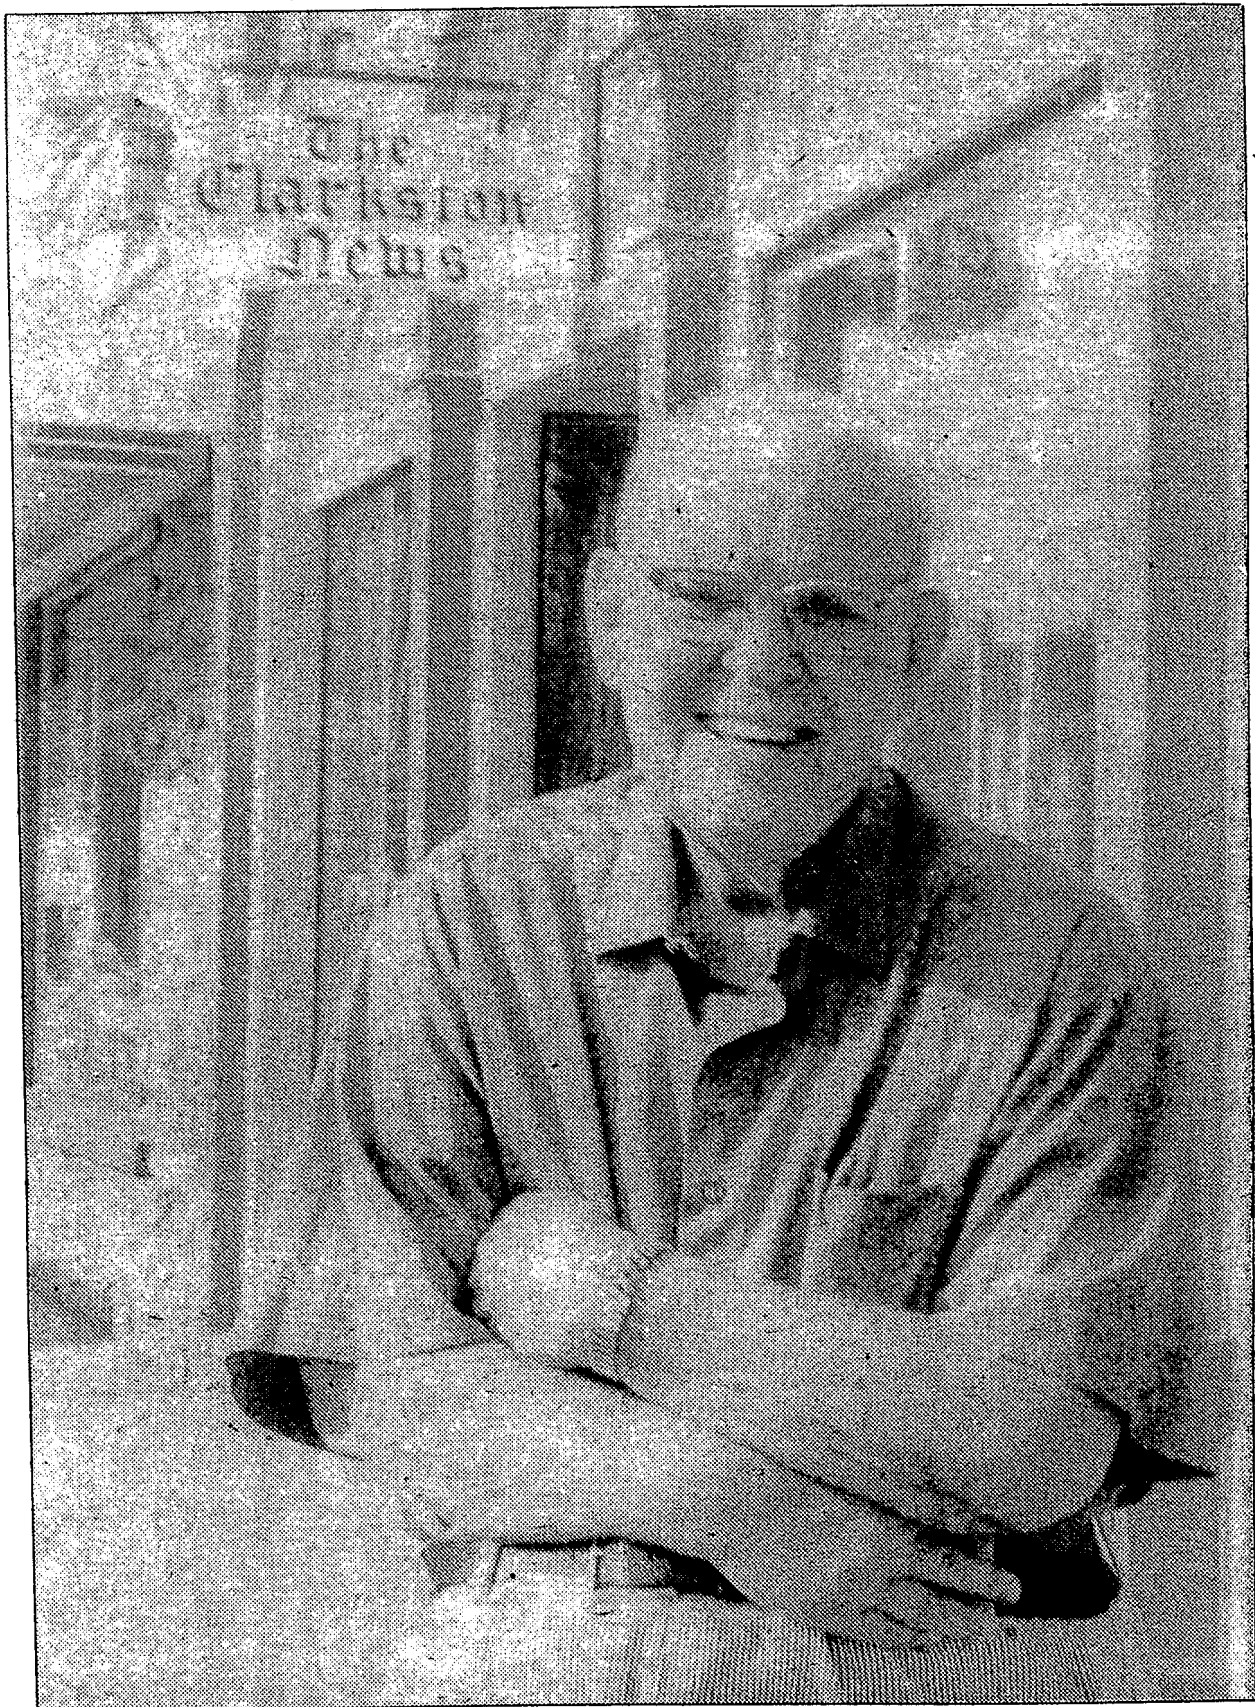

Sitton laughs when asked if he's a staunch Republican.

"I'm an independent. Although I had one man tell me once, 'Charlie, you know more about politics than anyone I know.' And I never ran for office.

"(I didn't because it's) more fun. More exciting to put people in office that you feel can do a little bit better job."

Charlie's job is done here.

He left last week for a life of fishing and hunting on the lakes of Minnesota.

Charlie Sitton, a colorful Clarkston-area character, is leaving after 30-years. He says he'll miss the Lakeland Drug Store and Farmer's Market in Waterford Township, and the Optimist Club in Oxford.

Last craft call

Had you planned to sell food or offer services at the Crafts and Cider Festival?

The deadline to reserve space is Sept. 1.

Contact Denise Symons at 625-8823.

The Clarkston Community Historical Society's annual Crafts and Cider Festival is scheduled Sept. 16, 17 and 18 from noon to 6 p.m. in Depot Road Park, Clarkston.

Clarkston Community Schools needs certified teachers in foreign language, math and English for fall high school completion classes.

Interested persons should call 673-7756.

Labor Day weekend events

The American Legion's succulent golden corn sold each Labor Day weekend is worth remembering.

So are the light and airy pancakes hand-flipped by Independence Township firefighters.

And the parade—a hit with all ages.

Independence Township Firefighters, The Clarkston Rotary and the American Legion present this schedule of events for Labor Day weekend, Sept. 3, 4 and 5:

● Saturday, Sept. 3—Fire department's water-ball competition at noon, in Depot Road Park, Clarkston. Watch the fearless dressed in slickers battle it out with neighboring departments.

● Monday, Sept. 5—Pancake breakfast sponsored by the Independence Township Firefighters Association; proceeds go to Muscular Dystrophy; donations: $3 adult and $2 children for all-you-can-eat pancakes, orange juice, sausage, coffee, milk and apple sauce; at Fire Station One, 3 E. Church, Clarkston.

● Monday, Sept. 5—Labor Day Parade sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary; 10 a.m.; from Clarkston Junior High School, down Church Street, north on Main Street to Clarkston-Orion Road.

● Monday, Sept. 5—Annual Corn Roast sponsored by the American Legion, 8041 M-15, north of Clarkston.

Jr. Miss says thanks to her many sponsors

Taking her cue from florist Harvey Craft, Clarkston's Junior Miss 1983 Martha Huttenlocher learns flower arranging. Harvey, owner of Waterford Hill Greenhouse on Dixie Highway, Independence Township, donates flowers to the Jr. Miss pageant each year. Martha dropped by to thank him for his support before she leaves for college. In her 10-month reign Martha's been in Clarkston's Fourth of July Parade, represented Jr. Miss in the World's Largest Breakfast in Battle Creek and attended the state pageant in Marshall. In two hours last week, Martha thanked over 17 Clarkston-area businesses for supporting Jr. Miss.

Check stress

Stress reduction through Holistic education is the theme of a conference planned by the American Holistic Association at Colombiere Center in Springfield Township.

The weekend retreat is planned Friday through Sunday, Sept. 9-11, and participants can stay on campus or commute.

Included will be workshops conducted by F. Paul Pearsall, PhD, on stress; Leonard Portner, M.D., on vitamins, minerals and herbs; Steven Goren, PhD, on positive attitudes; Jacqui Kendall, MS, on developing creative powers; Charly Heavenrich, MBA, on exercise; Jude Cotter, PhD, on sexuality; and Tim Brolus on nutrition.

The fees, which include meals and snacks as well as the workshops, are $155 for commuters and $250 (single) or $240 (double) per person.

For a brochure or more information, call the American Holistic Association, 31500 Northwestern Highway, Farmington Hills, at 626-4110.

Hewko graduates

Annetta Marla Hewko recently received a bachelor's degree in engineering/management science from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. While at Northwestern, she was a member of the Society of Women Engineers, Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, president of the Ethnic Students Club, dormitory vice president, and a member of the varsity cross country and track teams. Her interest in theater led her to be stage manager of "Abelard and Heloise" and to have a major role in "Little Foxes." She participated in the cooperative engineering education program working as a corporate manufacturing engineer at Western Publishing Co. in Wisconsin. She has accepted a position with Hewlett-Packard as a product marketing engineer for the Computer Support Division in Cupertino, Calif. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. L.O. Hewko of Whipple Tree Lane, Independence Township.

Extra work

Donna Chimino of Independence Township looks at chemical density in a chemical engineering laboratory, one of 40 "explorations" of the Summer Youth Program at Michigan Technological University, Houghton. The program began in 1973 to provide learning opportunities in academic fields not usually studied in junior and senior high schools. Donna will be a senior this fall at Lake Orion High School.

Junior highs host open house

Anxious about junior high?
Worried about starting the seventh grade?
Or maybe you're an eighth- or ninth-grade newcomer with nothing around that's familiar?
To assuage those fears, Sashabaw and Clarkston junior highs offer open houses on Tuesday, Aug. 30, at 7:30 p.m.
Both schools promise remarks by administrators, copies of schedules, student handbooks and locker combinations. Time will be given for students to tour the building, locate their classrooms and lockers.

Officials ask older brothers and sisters previously enrolled not to attend, but all parents are encouraged to come.
Clarkston Junior High is located at 6300 Church. (625-5361)
Sashabaw Junior High is located at 5565 Pine Knob Lane. (674-4169)

New arrival

Jim and Wanda Allard of Independence Township are new grandparents.
Jason James was born Aug. 17 in South Bend, Ind. He weighed 8 pounds, 12½ ounces and measured 22 inches long.

Parents are Kim and Kathy Allard.
Jason was greeted at home by his sister Barbara May, 2.
Great-grandparents are Howard and Mary Allard of Clarkston.

In service

Douglas J. Stoos completed satellite communications terminal repair at the U.S. Army Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga.
The course is designed to provide enlisted personnel with working knowledge in performing support maintenance of satellite communications ground terminal systems.
Stoos is a 1978 graduate of Huron Valley Lakeland High School in Milford.
He is the son of James and Kathleen Stoos of Lindholm Road, Springfield Township.
***
Marine Pfc. Daniel Budrow has been promoted to his present rank while serving with 1st Force Service Support Group, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

He is the son of Earl and Sharon Budrow of Crosby Lake Road, Independence Township.
***
Bruce A. May received practical work in military leadership at the U.S. Army ROTC advanced camp, Fort Lewis, Wash.
The six-week camp, attended by cadets normally between the third and fourth year of college, includes instruction in communications, management and survival training.
May is an ROTC cadet and a student at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant.
He is the son of Patrick and Norma May of Waumegah Drive, Independence Township.

Honors

Mercedes Sanchez and Dayna Swanson received all A's during the fall semester at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant.
Sanchez, a junior, resides on Sashabaw Road.
Swanson, a senior, resides on Snowapple Drive.
***
Leslie Wirpsa is one of 174 students named to the dean's list at Kalamazoo College.
Students must achieve a 3.5 grade point average or better on a 4.0 scale for this honor.
Leslie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson of Perry Lake Road, Independence Township.
***
Christopher N. Mills, a senior in civil engineering at Michigan Technological University, Houghton, has been initiated into Chi Epsilon National Honor Fraternity.

Chi Epsilon recognizes students who display outstanding academic performance in civil engineering.
He's also been named editor of the fraternity's monthly newsletter.
Mills is a 1979 Clarkston High School graduate.
He is the son of Dolores Alonzi of Independence Township and Albert Mills of Florida.
***
Also on the CMU honors list are sophomore Alyson Dunlop of Oneida Road, senior Susan McIntyre of Clarkston-Orion Road, junior Donald Rush of Clarkston-Orion Road, senior Gall Tate of Pheasant Run Road and sophomore Karen Thomas, who has a post office box number.

Mason, Mercado

Couple share wedding vows

Marcia Anne Mason became the bride of Bruce Philip Mercado July 9 at Clarkston United Methodist Church, in a ceremony officiated by the Rev. James Balfour.
The bride wore a multi-ruffled sheer gown with a lace bodice embroidered with seed pearls and a matching lace hat with blusher and trailing twin veils.
Bridesmaids were Nancy Mason, Diana Mercado and Kathryn Armstrong. Groomsmen were James Mercado, Gary Mason and Gary Gulish, with Gordon Mason and Matt Mercado as ushers. Honor attendants were Tammie Heazlit and Brian Murphy. Flower girl was Michelle Mason and ring bearer was Kevin Mason.
Parents of the bride are Milford and Jo Anne Mason of Independence Township. The groom's parents are Philip and Marion Mercado of Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce P. Mercado

Give orchids or onions

Vote your best, worst building

What does a project that exemplifies quality, good taste and design excellence deserve? An orchid, of course.

But what about bad examples of architecture, landscaping, signage and interior design? For those, an onion.

The second annual Orchids and Onions community service program wants nominations for each category.

Sponsored by the American Society of Interior Designers, the awards program is to encourage public awareness of the environment.

Categories include historic preservation, graphic design and signage, landscape design, environmental planning, energy conservation and interior design in public buildings.

Ballots are available now through Labor Day, Sept. 5, or those interested may submit their nominations by letter, indicating the reason the nomination deserves an onion or orchid and the nomination category.

Letters should be mailed to: Orchids & Onions, 29145 Telegraph, Southfield, MI 48034. For more information call 353-9880.

Prankster phone-caller still trying to hire students

The prankster phone-caller trying to hire kids and giving the Clarkston School Board a bad name is at it again—but he's changed methods.

In a weekend call to an Independence Township woman, the man announced himself a member of the board and asked about hiring her school-age children.

Finding them too young to work, he offered the woman a $5-an-hour baby-sitting job.

Alerted to the prank phone calls from stories in the news, she asked for his name and the man hung-up.

Again, Clarkston Schools Superintendent

Milford Mason warns residents.

"What we're trying to do is make people aware that this individual is doing it and that he has no connection with the school board.

"There's no way to combat this type of thing, only hope that through the paper we can forewarn people," he said.

Do You:

For Getting Your Individual Retirement Account on Track:

A NATURAL COMBINATION: JOHN HANCOCK AND U.S. GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

John Hancock U.S. Government Securities Fund, Inc. is an investment company seeking to provide current income and security of principal of portfolio investments through investments primarily in securities of the United States Government and its agencies. Government guarantees do not extend to shares of the fund.

The fund may be used for Individual Retirement Accounts which allow everyone in the United States who is a wage earner to make tax deductible contributions of up to $2,000 per year to their own personal retirement plan. Earnings on I.R.A. accounts are exempt from Federal income taxes and compound tax free until withdrawn.

Open house to sell Clarkston

'We're going to . . . have some fun with it . . .'

There are advantages to living in the Clarkston area beyond the purchase of a nice home, and Ron Lahr of L.H.R. Evans & Associates Realtors wants to show potential buyers what's in store.

He's sponsoring what he calls a new marketing approach on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 27 and 28, at a house located at 7827 Deer Hill, Independence Township.

There'll be displays by local merchants, free hors d'oeuvres, baked goods and a hot air balloon at the open house for the contemporary, four bedroom, energy-efficient home built into a hill.

The home will also be partially furnished and there will be floral displays.

"We would like to tell them the story of Clarkston. If they like Clarkston they're going to buy houses here and they're going to shop here," he said.

The Deer Hill home is one of many listed by Evans & Associates in the Clarkston area, Lahr said, and there will be information available on them as well.

He's contacted General Motors executives to encourage them to visit.

What's new in business

"We're going to try to have some fun with it and get as many people as possible," he said. "I live in Clarkston and I'm partial to it."

The home will be open from noon to 5 p.m. both days.

For more information call Lahr at 674-4191.

LA VERANDA RISTORANTE

presents

A REVIEW OF OUR DISCERNING CRITICS FOR 1982

WILLIE NELSON —

"My nights at LaVeranda were some of the high points of my summer tour. Can't wait to get back."

OLIVIA NEWTON-JOHN —

"The place was so beautiful I had to enjoy it with all my friends" (So she threw a party at LaVeranda. video camera, et al)

HENRY MANCINI —

"An ambiance that is unmatched and the homemade pasta is great."

JOAN RIVERS —

"I wish I had a few more nights at Pine Knob because I could have a few more dinners at LaVeranda."

WAYNE NEWTON —

"Some of the finest Italian food in the country."

KENNY LOGGINS —

"My wife Eva and I loved the place and we can highly recommend the scampi."

SHIRLEY EDER —

"Raves for the new LaVeranda restaurant. The Italian food is divine. the ambiance is dress-up and elegant. the service is wonderful."

MOLLY ABRAHAM —

"LaVeranda may just be the prettiest restaurant in the area. Its interesting cuisine equals its smashing looks; but LaVeranda's food proves it's more than just a pretty place."

Carla's moves

Bright colorful decor and a larger work area are two reasons Carla's Hair Salon moved.

Owner Carla Dutcher moved her business to 8500 Dixie Highway in Springfield Place Aug. 16.

She had been at 10757 Dixie Highway, near Holly Road, for six years.

"This location is much better," Dutcher said. "It's closer to Clarkston and to our clientele."

The 4-mile move south gives the salon a chance to grow, she said.

Dutcher has expanded to three full-time hair dressers and a manicurist.

"The clients think it's fantastic," she said. "The response has been great. The decor here is great. I love it and the customers love it."

Carla's Hair Salon will begin new hours starting Sept. 12. The salon will be open Monday through Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with the exception of Wednesday when it will be open until 8 p.m.

Current hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

Ann Bixby and owner Carla Dutcher (far right) look on as Sue Todd cuts the hair of Julie Ker-ton of Main Street, Independence Township. Carla's Hair Salon moved Aug. 16.

For $3.35 a week, you can reach 15,000 people in over 4000 homes every week with an advertising message on this page. Call 625-3370 and place your message today!

The Camp Fire Summer Fest at Camp Oweki Aug. 20 brought visitors to the camp. Areas were set up for wood carving, weaving, fingerprinting, an obstacle course clowns, and the Camp Fire display. The busiest area was with the clowns. District director Jill Eising said the fest was to get the community excited about Camp Fire and to kick off their recruitment drive. Close to 100 people attended.
