Condo taping quashed by commission

Independence resident Michael Clark was not allowed to video tape the controversial Deer Lake condominium hearing before a joint meeting of the planning commission and village council last week.

Clark was ordered to take his equipment out of the room by township planning commission Chairman Neil Wallace.

The planning commission voted 9-0 to end the filming. The council voted 4-3 to allow it.

Clark, seated to the side of the room, continued filming and left the room only when motioned to do so by two uniformed deputies from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department standing outside the door.

Informed by deputies the township has a right to dictate what happens on its property, Clark agreed to remove the cassette from the camera. He was told he'd be arrested for trespassing if he continued filming.

"If the township board gives me approval, and Mr. Wallace maintains his irrational position, then I find no alternative than to file a suit," said Clark after the meeting.

"They should be bigger people than that and I can't imagine where they're coming from. What I wanted to do was no different than sitting in my own home and taping off cable TV when they start broadcasting the meetings. I don't know where they get this 'official' records stuff."

In the meeting, Wallace remained steadfast despite Clark's assurance he had township board approval.

"I don't think it should be in the best interest of the township there be more than one official record during this controversial issue," Wallace said. "As I understand it Mr. Clark approached the township board. I don't think we as a lesser body should be setting a precedent."

"I don't think anything less than an official

KEEP THE FIRE BURNING: The Olympic flame has a sizable following as runners carry the torch up Dixie Highway on its way to Flint and eventually to Los Angeles for the 1984 Summer Olympics. Bicyclists, other runners and Michigan State Police cars kept pace with the torch as residents line the route to cheer and applaud its arrival. The torch started its relay in New York in early May. It made its appearance in Independence Township May 21 at 7 p.m.

All new fire board in hopper

By Marilyn Trumper

Independence Supervisor James B. Smith says he thinks "ultimately" the township will establish a five-member Fire Board under state law to oversee the fire department, and a village/township fire district with its own millage to finance operations.

"We've established the fire committee or commission or task force or whatever you want to call it to provide greater flexibility. To what degree of intensity we want to use them has yet to be decided. It hasn't been spelled out," he said.

"Ultimately I think we'll have a fire board, but the final decision will be a (township) board decision, not one made by me unilaterally."

Two weeks ago the Independence Township Board appointed a three-man committee to study what a fire commission would do—then appointed them to the commission.

The commission would act as a buffer, Smith said, depoliticizing and defusing relations between the fire chief and board.

Brandon Township's Fire Department operates under a Fire Board, and has since 1954, according to its Chief James Frantz, the department's first full-time employe 10 years ago.

Under the act, the township and village create a fire district with a maximum of 2.5 mills assessed for operations and a maximum of 10 mills assessed for equipment, housing and buildings, Frantz said.

Currently the two-station, seven-firefighter department operates on a 2.9-mill annual levy which generates $303,000.

The fire board consists of two members appointed by the township from the township, two by the village from the village and the fifth representing both. They have three-year staggered terms.

On Brandon's Fire Board are an attorney, a businessman, a finance director for Buick Motor Division, a General Motors Corp. supervisor and a Royal Oak firefighter.

"It is supposed to be a non-political board of concerned citizens with knowledge in business, and they have been," Frantz said. "When they developed the constitution their responsibilities are to govern the operation of the Brandon Fire Department. That's their sole purpose."

"There's none of this, 'Well I'm a Democrat, and the board's a Democrat, so I won't have any trouble getting this through.'"

Their duties, according to the act, are to prepare the annual budget, policies and codes of conducts and establish duties and procedure—and "...anything the township board sees fit," said Frantz. "Municipalities may authorize them to do anything they want them to do: To hire or fire or interview, with the approval of the mother board."

"They can operate in place of, or in conjunction with, the mother board."

Frantz said he's had no problems, and there have been times the township board disagreed with the fire board's recommendation.

"Around budget time," Frantz laughed, "you'll always hear the township board not all members of the township board, say '...the fire department has too many expenses,' and they compare us to Independence, Groveland, Oxford and Addison."

"But I guess they (the Fire Board) accept my opinions. I like it. They make the decisions to purchase or not to purchase. It's a yes or a no and I know what I'm dealing with."

"It's a pleasure working. You look forward to the meetings."

Under the act the Fire Board must hold monthly public meetings at the fire hall.

Memorial parade

"Let no ravages of time testify to coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided Republic."

Remember our veterans as they're recognized in Clarkston's Memorial Day Parade, Monday, May 28 at 10 a.m.

The parade begins at Church and Buffalo streets, goes on to Main Street, to Washington Street, west to Holcomb and on to Lakeview Cemetery where memorial services will be held.

Commanders Leon Johnston and Ed Ayotte request no horses, autos, bikes, pets or floats because of the solemn purpose of the parade.

PK ski lodge wants liquor

License lost in bankruptcy sale transfer in January

By Marilyn Trumper

Pine Knob's ski lodge has no liquor license—and its owners want one.

When bought from the bankruptcy trustee in January, the Nederlander Corp.'s PKS partnership acquired the ski lodge, and the PKP partnership, the music theater.

Both could not share the ski lodge's liquor license which was extended last year to allow the sale of beer, wine and mixed drinks at the music theater, according to Nederlander attorney Tracy Allen.

"So it was agreed (the license) would go to the music theater," Allen said.

Now, according to Independence Township Clerk Richard Holman, Nederlander wants one of the township's two remaining Class C licenses and has been directed by Holman to apply to the state.

"We're not sure what we're going to do yet," Allen said. "I'm more concerned about getting the music theater open right now than the ski lodge."

According to Jerry Norris of the state's Liquor Control Commission, Nederlander has three options:

- To apply outright for one of the township's two available licenses.

- To apply directly to the state for a special license that's granted when owners make $1 million in improvements to the land or buildings. It's expected Nederlander would qualify. The township's building and planning department estimates the New York-based firm has invested $2 million since January.

- To apply for one of the state's 25 resort licenses issued each year, independent of the Class C licenses regulated by the census count.

Asked if the ski lodge would be profitable without a liquor license, Allen had no comment.

Currently Nederlander owns the single license. The complex's other two resort licenses for the restaurants La Veranda and the Mansion, are owned by Borg-Warner Equities which acquired the other half of Pine Knob in the bankruptcy settlement.

FATAL CRASH: A 53-year-old Burton woman was killed Friday afternoon in Springfield Township when she drove her car off northbound I-75 and onto the grass where it rolled once. She was thrown from the car, according to reports at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. Dead is Mary Anna Pinna. There were no passengers in the car and no other cars were involved. The accident remains under investigation, according to police.

5 firms targeted for fire study

By Marilyn Trumper

As agreed earlier this month, the Independence Township Board is hiring a consulting firm to analyze the fire department, and at the May 15 meeting selected five companies to submit bids for the study.

"Personally I think it's a slap in the face to the fire chief," said the firefighters union President Michael Fahrner after the meeting. "Why do you need someone to come in from the outside and tell you what you need when you have someone who's already being paid to do that."

"The supervisor said it was to get someone in who's neutral to make the decision. If they don't think (Chief Frank Ronk) is doing the job, they should get someone in they feel can do the job. Right now, there's 40 to 50 years' experience between the guys making the recommendations."

The supervisor, clerk and treasurer will send proposals to Cresap McCormick Paget of Chicago, Public Administration Service of Virginia, Touche-Ross & Co. of Detroit, Plante and Moran of Southfield and Bartell Associates of Pennsylvania—and any others they feel appropriate.

Unbinding cost estimates gathered by Supervisor James B. Smith showed the study could cost anywhere from $3,000 to $20,000, depending on which firm is hired. The $20,000 figure reflects plane fare and hotel accommodations from the out-of-town firms, Smith said.

Two weeks ago when the board approved the concept of a study, firefighters objected to using fire department money to finance it.

Fahrner remains steadfast in his agreement. "I can't see them spending anything on this," he said.

Commission denies condos

Board has final township say, council holds its decision

By Marilyn Trumper

Before a standing-room-only crowd of over 100 people, the Independence Township Planning Commission unanimously recommended denial for Frank Walker's plan to build 27 condominiums on Deer Lake, on property shared by Independence and the Village of Clarkston.

The township board makes the final decision on the rezoning of its 1.67 acres.

The village council postponed its vote on the fate of the 3.81 acres in Clarkston off White Lake Road.

After the meeting Walker said he wasn't disappointed.

"I kind of expected it," he said, adding he'll go before the township board. "We still feel we want to do something for the Village of Clarkston, the people who've lived here 30, 40 and 50 years and give them a place to stay.

"Not the people who've lived here eight and 10 years," he said.

He challenged the objections of those in opposition.

"I have no plan to build docks, or a marina or anything like that. Those were all preconceived ideas of the people who were there," he said.

Residents of neighboring Deer Lake Homeowners Association, Green Acres Subdivision and individual homeowners on White Lake Road and other streets opposed the plan, saying it would increase boat traffic on Deer Lake and vehicle traffic on White Lake Road. They also called its cul-de-sacs a fire hazard and claimed Walker was unable to prove hardship.

Walker, owner of Frank J. Walker Developer Inc., proposed traditional English tudor condominiums on approximately 6 acres, centered around an existing pond. An artist's rendering shows slate roofs, sculpted chimneys, brick, stucco and timber facades with leaded glass and slate roofs.

Walker indicated the condominium owners would forfeit lake rights in their deed restrictions and that he would give the 50-foot strip of land on Deer Lake to the Independence Land Conservancy as a scenic easement.

"Normally the petitioner has to demonstrate a need or hardship for a rezoning, and that hasn't been shown here. It appears to me that this is spot zoning. Other than that I don't have any objections," said Oscar Lindstrom of Phelan Drive.

Ron Wagner, president of the Deer Lake Homeowner's Association, said his board unanimously objected to the proposed plan.

He argued against multiple zoning around Deer Lake and said the developer must show hardship for a rezoning.

"Lake property is always marketable," Wagner said. "This is nothing more than an excuse to maximize the profits of the developer."

"This is all zoned single family in the township and village according to their master plans, and I think we should keep it that way. It's 12-and-a-half times the density of Deer Lake Farms and, let's face it, deed restrictions don't work and they're difficult to enforce."

Mel Vaara of Green Acres Subdivision opposed the plan.

"Ten years ago I sat on the planning commission where (its chairman) is sitting right now and we were sued for $1 million each because we wouldn't grant 1,500 apartments on Deer Lake," Vaara said.

"The planning commission prevailed. The citizens prevailed, and the zoning did not change. I'd be opposed."

Village Trustee Fontie ApMadoc agreed she'd already made up her mind and after public pressure, agreed not to vote.

"I think the condominiums are a good idea," she said. "There are a lot of people like myself who want to live in Clarkston, but don't want the responsibility of keeping a place up."

Henry Woolfenden of Main Street agreed. "We need good, quality senior housing," Woolfenden said. "I think this is a substantial, potentially marketable development."

After almost three hours of discussion the Independence Township Planning Commission voted unanimously to recommend denial, based on planner Richard Carlisle's concerns which included:

- Steep sloping that contributes to poor drainage on the site.

- The township's 10-acre minimum in an R-2 district.

- The master plan that calls for single family zoning on that site.

- The single family residences located to the east and west of the proposed site.

Via letter, Carlisle recommended the commission deny, and said the site lends itself to cluster housing or development under a Planned Unit Development, which the township doesn't have.

If the township board denies Walker's request for rezoning and the village approves it, Walker said he might build condominiums in the village's portion.

Cable hookups

Independence Township residents were supposed to begin cable-TV hookups Tuesday.

Scheduled to begin last weekend, hookups were delayed until Tuesday because the attorneys failed to meet and agree on a final language change, according to Jim Anderson, vice president and general manager of the township's $2.5 million system.

With guarantees for a $1 million letter-of-credit to ensure its system will be built, the Independence Township Board unanimously approved Tribune/United's sale of 224 limited partnerships.

In addition, at the May 15 meeting, Anderson said underground cable in Thendara Park Subdivision and its surrounding areas was scheduled for construction, as were portions along Waldon Road.

The sale of the limited partnerships was designed to raise $23 million to help build the Independence system, and the system of the 11-community consortium in southern Oakland County, Anderson said.

township record should be kept, especially one that could be altered by someone, especially if this were potential litigation," Wallace finished.

Clark sat quietly.

"No, I don't plan on leaving," he said.

"You can stay Mr. Clark, but your equipment has to go," Wallace said.

"I want my objections for the record," Clark said. "In the past this body and the township board have had television news cameras, cable cameras, still cameras, reporters and photographers. What I'm doing is no different. It's a public meeting."

Jon Gaskell, village council trustee, agreed.

"To me it's a public meeting and should be public to anything," Gaskell said.

Council Trustee James Schultz agreed.

"Isn't that what one of the big selling points of cable is—to cover the board meetings so everybody can see them? Seems to me there'd be no problem unless you've got something to hide."

"Besides, all the reporters here are doing the same thing."

Portions of the standing-room-only crowd of over 100 people loudly applauded.

Council President Carol Eberhardt and trustees Sharon Catalo and Fontie ApMadoc voted to have Clark remove his equipment.

Gaskell, Schultz and trustees David Raup and Ethel Sinclair voiced no objection.

When Clark still refused to move his equipment the police were called.

New zoning OK'd

With 35 minutes of discussion at its April 30 meeting, the Clarkston Village Council voted 5-1 to amend its zoning ordinance and allow apartments in a commercial district.

The new law takes effect 30 days after publication, according to President Carol Eberhardt, and would allow Hank Radcliff to rent the second floor of the 120-year-old home he proposes to move downtown from its Dixie Highway site next to Ritter's Farm Market.

Trustee James Schultz was the lone dissenter, favoring stronger language in the law, according to Eberhardt.

Schultz could not be reached to comment.

Buck Kopjetz, owner of Tierra Arts & Design, says he favors the change.

"We hope to go for a variance for living on the second floor above the warehouse," he said, speaking of the Main Street store.

"As it stood before now, that would have been an illegal use."

After the meeting, Independence Township Supervisor James B. Smith said the board gave the issue to attorney for research and did not make a decision.

The attorney was given no working deadline to report back to the board, Smith said.

"In terms of a board meeting being video taped, it's different than airing a live meeting," Smith said, indicating cable TV broadcasts of board meetings would be live.

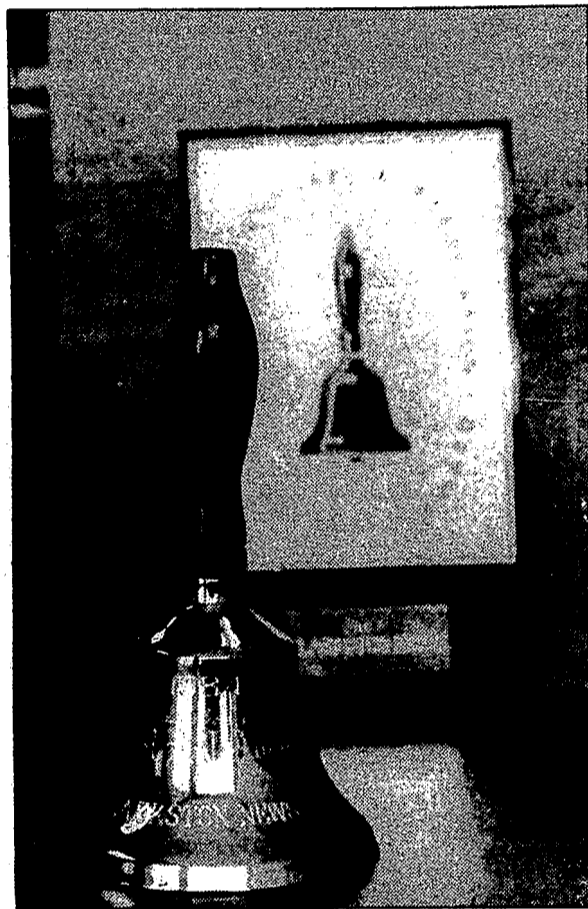

"(Private) tapings can be taken out of context if not done by a recognized and astute journalist. We can't have 36 video cameras. It would create a great deal of confusion, no more than we could have everyone come in and set up a tape recorder on a tripod, and tape the meeting."

Trustee William Vandermark disagreed, and elaborated after the meeting.

"It's the democratic process," Vandermark said. "I don't see anything wrong with it. There's no reason at all the township board shouldn't or couldn't be taped, as long as it doesn't get out of control. It has to be regulated."

News honored by schools

The School Bell Award consists of a plaque and an engraved brass school bell, a replica of the old-fashioned bell that stood on the classroom teacher's desk.

The Clarkston News won recognition for its school coverage May 18 at the 25th presentation of the Michigan Education Association's School Bell Awards.

Bettina Gregory, ABC-TV senior correspondent in Washington, made the presentation to Clarkston News editor Kathy Greenfield at the awards dinner at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn.

"The judges commended the paper's wide variety of topics, the extensive use of pictures and the high percentage of direct quotes from all those concerned with education," Gregory said. "Said one judge, 'very few opinions and recommendations are attributed to confidential, or unnamed sources.' Another, writing for the panel, said 'We note that the Clarkston schools marketing communications committee characterized the coverage as 'a tremendous asset.' We, the judges agree.'"

The Clarkston News was nominated for the award by the Clarkston Education Association.

Thirty-four awards were presented in five categories—AM radio stations, television stations, weekly newspapers, daily newspapers and special awards.

Of the 12 weekly newspapers receiving School Bell Awards, two others are located in Oakland County, The Lake Review and the Novi-Walled Lake News.

The award was established in 1959 "to provide a suitable channel for recognition of newspapers, radio and television stations by educators; to give recognition to the communications media; and to salute the strong working relations between the schools and mass media."

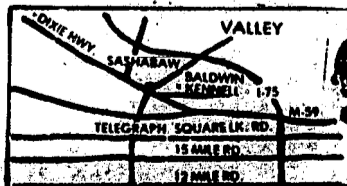

The Clarkston News previously won School Bell Awards in 1973 and 1975.

1,591 LOADS OF TRASH: That was the tally after last weekend's Spring Cleanup in Independence Township where residents could take junk and dump it free of charge next to the DPW building on Flemings Lake Road. Said DPW director George Anderson: "It was a roar-

Fair success

We would like to thank all the volunteers who helped make our school fair such a success.

Special thanks go to the booth chairpeople for their extra efforts; to the teachers who gave their time; the PTO board members who, as always, gave more than their share of effort; and to our school secretary who helps us all.

Also thank you to Hahn Chrysler Plymouth, Rademacher Chevy and Randy Hosler Pontiac for their support.

Last, but not least, there are not enough ways to thank Nancy and Bill Bildstein for their time, their effort and their continual enthusiasm.

Between them they made this fair possible and made it a day of fun for all of us.

See you next year!

Romance in a picnic lunch

Kathy Greenfield

"Quick," was the challenge, "come up with something to make for a picnic at the zoo."

"No problem," said I. "Peanut butter, and jelly sandwiches, carrot and celery sticks, cookies and fruit."

That's when she called me unromantic.

Rising to the challenge, I said I knew someone reputed to have a wonderful recipe for chicken salad. That was a start. A phone call later the recipe was in hand.

My romantic friend added homemade date-nut bread, fresh fruit and wine.

OK, OK, so it sounded better. But not necessarily more romantic.

All I could think about was lugging that stuff all over the zoo before it was time to have lunch.

See, with my lunch you could pack everything in a little paper sack...and walk through the park holding hands.

The morning of the zoo trip you could zip together the peanut butter and jelly...and have time for a bubble bath.

Cutting up all those dates and nuts, fooling around with chicken, cutting up celery, and compiling a salad? Time consuming, but not romantic.

And if your true love said the bread surrounding the peanut butter was a little soggy, who'd care? You'd laugh together.

But if oohs and aahs didn't greet the romantic luncheon—well, you can imagine.

My friend accused me of being a typical married woman.

I didn't argue. Experience is almost always the best teacher.

Jim's Jottings

Liar's chance

Jim Sherman

Why can't people let us tell them of our illness, trip, or experience without them trying to top it?

It's like the old saying, "The first liar doesn't have a chance."

Come up with a need for an operation to correct repeated splitting of hairs and the listener will tell you he/she knows six persons with like problems, but only two died, thought three needed amputations, and the other is showing improvement under psychiatric care.

Note the listener didn't mention knowing anyone who had not only survived the separation of his hair, but also experienced a change in personality that brought him much happiness.

No, no. Good news is not repeated under these circumstances. And you thought it was just newspapers that carried only bad news. Newspapers have been brought into disrepute by imitating their readers.

I have an 80-plus year old friend who had to have the veins near his temples scraped, or cleaned or whatever they do to increase the flow of blood.

After having one side done with absolutely no problems, he told his experience to a friend, and mentioned having to have the other side done.

The now-ex-friend said something like, "Oh, that's too bad. You know (they always throw in a 'you know') George, our former neighbor, God, (He, too, is mentioned often in these testimonials) Bless him, had exactly the same thing.

"He got through the first operation just fine, then died on the operating table during the next one."

This is a true reaction, and thank God, (giving due credit) all went just as well the second time, allowing him to continue playing golf five days a week.

Now, I know the friend was not being mean, and to her, not even thoughtless. But, it was.

The point is, let the teller have his/her glory and your sympathy, laughter, and understanding. Then, make a note of who you extended this courtesy to. Wait a suitable length of time... after recovery, after you return from a trip, or after a reasonably long pause.

Don't come right back with another knock-knock joke. Don't tell them how much more they'd have enjoyed Hawaii if they'd gone in October, and don't tell them the fish you caught were more in number, greater in length, and better of taste.

Remember this when I return from my Arkansas bass fishing trip and tell you of the lunger that dragged our 40-ft. houseboat three miles to the edge of the dam before someone cut the line, thus saving seven lives. Wait a lifetime before you try to top my story.

Seniors need proposed condo

Thursday night, May 17, I was made to realize that at 62, I am a "SENIOR CITIZEN." I find this a very depressing idea. I have thought of myself as a very active, useful person with no designation of age. Some days I feel 45 and others I feel 145.

I have always contended that people have the right to speak up and vote the way they feel is right, but at a joint meeting of the township planning commission and the village council a very young man told me that I was prejudiced and biased, and should not be allowed to vote on the proposed rezoning for condominiums on property in both the village and township.

I spoke up for the need of such type of housing for those who are "OLDER," who no longer are able or have the desire to assume the maintenance of too large a house and yard.

To me, it is almost funny, because that night I was a TIRED OLD WOMAN (145) and could not think of a quick response, but at 5:30 the next morning I awakened in a rage. How dare this young man say I should not vote because I was biased?

I was voted into office by people who know I will do the best for the concerns of my constituents.

Do you know 30 percent of all village residents are over 60 and many of us have lived here for years, long before many of you found our beautiful area.

We were a wonderful, peaceful little village until I-75 was opened and many others found our lovely township and village. Now, in our village, we have both traffic and identity problems.

I heard many of you titter (a wonderful, old-fashioned word) when the price of $100,000 to $150,000 was mentioned.

You obviously do not believe that some SENIOR CITIZENS can afford that amount. You must see all of us in SENIOR CITIZEN low-income housing or in nursing homes. PHOOEY!

All SENIOR CITIZENS would rather be independent, but at the same time some of us cannot keep up the continuing maintenance. You are young enough to do your own work or have children to mow that lawn, etc., etc., and we, your elders, cannot find reliable younger people to help us.

I want you to know, with all of this spouting off about the need of condos within walking distance of the village, unfortunately this is not the place for me. When I have to sell, I have been and will continue to look for a retirement set-up, starting with a cottage or apartment with nursing facilities. I need this because I have a progressive illness.

Now for the last dig. Why did you have to single me out, THE ONLY PERSON OVER 60. On both boards that were to vote, there were certainly enough younger people to vote against me.

Furthermore, I question the educational background of any young American who would state that an elected official does not have the right to vote on an issue because he/she has an opinion.

Later May 19, Today I am officially 62, and a very lonely person because my four children and 10 grandchildren are spread all over the United States.

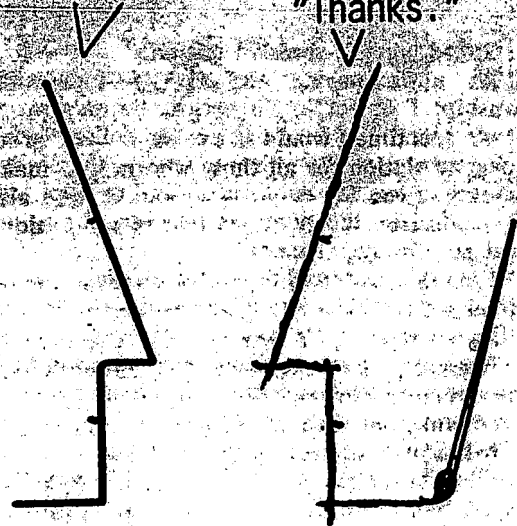

If it were not for two other very thoughtful "SENIOR CITIZENS" taking me out for dinner, it would be a sad day, indeed.

Fontle M. ApMadoc
Not as a councilwoman, but as one of your "Senior Citizens"

By the way, I am going to vote at our village meeting, but again, I am the only "Senior Citizen" on the village council.

"Keep working at it. You're improving."

"Thanks."

Village bias on Walker plan

At the join public hearing on the Walker Condos, several differences between the township and village officials were evident.

The township was both well-organized and able to stay on the point.

More importantly, there was an apparent bias amongst the village officials. What else would explain the village officials' apparent readiness to ignore the facts and delay their ruling.

This developer asks that the White Lake Road property be rezoned for multiple-residential dwellings. The proposed new zoning would abandon the current zoning for single-family dwellings.

Yet, the entire area is single-family zoning because the township and village have planned it that way.

And, there is no reason to change it. The density and traffic hazards that will result from this development are unwarranted.

The precedent set by this spot zoning is dangerous for the entire community. The only "reason" anyone gave for allowing the project was the need for senior citizens to have condominiums in the community.

But the multiple-residential zoning classification will not limit the development to condominiums or senior citizens or 27 units. Once rezoned, the property could just as easily be developed as rentals for young singles.

But these are not proper factors for making the decision to change the village law to accommodate the developer. If the village officials rely on the sales pitch and ignore the various adverse effects on the entire community, they will be acting irresponsibly.

This proposal points up the close and dependent nature of the relationship between the township and the village.

Perhaps it was time that the entire community be made one, officially. That would assure that the entire community was taken into consideration when such important decisions are made.

'If It Fltz...'

Up in smoke

Jim Fitzgerald

United Airlines gave me a choice on the eight-hour flight from Chicago to Honolulu. My wife and I could sit together in a smoking area, or separately in a non-smoking area. I made the wrong choice.

I quit cigarettes in 1953, long before the U.S. surgeon general declared that tobacco could hasten my demise. But I still enjoy an occasional cigar if I can find somewhere to smoke it without blowing fumes into innocent faces. It isn't easy.

I feel least like an evil polluter if I light up while sitting in the middle of a vacant lot, or while hunched inside a murky saloon where the air is already so contaminated that the addition of one more cigar is as inconsequential as spitting into a rainstorm.

Certainly, I realize it would be better for my health if I never frequented saloons, but it's almost impossible to find a piano bar in the middle of a vacant lot. And I figure the extra years gained by living a completely smokeless life wouldn't be worth the awkward inconvenience of resting my chin on my hands with no place to put my elbows.

ANYWAY, my sporadic cigar habit inclines me to sympathize with people hooked on cigars (sporadic cigars are handmade out of shredded thousand-dollar bills by CIA agents stationed in Havana to poison Fidel Castro by covertly blowing the fumes of burnt American money up his nose). So I decided, and my wife agreed, that being able to hold hands while the plane plunged into the Pacific would be worth the slight eye and nose irritation of sitting among smokers. After all, we foolishly told each other, a huge 747 couldn't be worse than a murky saloon.

My wife sat on my left and I was encouraged when an elderly woman took the seat on my right and sighed that she'd just flown into Chicago from Pittsburgh while seated in a non-smoking section. "I can stand an hour or two without a cigaret, but I'm not sure I can go eight hours," she said, understandably thinking she was talking to another butt sucker. "This won't be so bad," I whispered to my wife. "The dear little old lady will only light up once every hour or so."

For the next eight hours, the dear little old lady lit a new cigaret every 15 minutes. So did everyone else in the smoking section except my wife and I (cigars are forbidden on all commercial planes, a discrimination that makes as much sense as claiming one cigar emits more noxious fumes than 123,467 cigarets). I think smokers smoke more on airplanes than on the ground because when they see a smoking-allowed sign they feel compelled to obey it without interruption.

My wife strolled into the non-smoking section in search of relief, but found none. She did find several passengers, including a pregnant woman, complaining that, because of the confined space with no walls between sections, non-smoking sections offer no real protection from the smoking sections. They were right.

AS WITH my CIA cigars, cigarets should be smoked where they won't offend non-smokers, and it can't be done on a plane where every passenger is trapped inside the same Thermos bottle. People who can't quit smoking for eight hours should have to swim to Honolulu. And any airline too greedy to forbid such an unfair, unhealthy situation has a lot of gall calling itself, as United does, "the official airline of the U.S. Olympic team."

Oh well. I switched seats with my wife so I could look out the window at the beautiful clouds and the awesome ocean sparkling in the sunlight. And a voice on the intercom suggested all window shades should be pulled down to darken the cabin for the showing of a Tom Selleck movie.

Selleck is arguably the world's worst actor, but United substitutes him for the Pacific Ocean. I couldn't wait to reach the island of Oahu, thousands of miles from the artificiality of the mainland, and bury my toes in the sand of Waikiki Beach. And when I did, I was told the beach was man-made and the sand was imported from California. Probably by the CIA.

Board isn't doing its job with fire department

Spend, spend, spend! I object!

As a tax-paying resident of Independence Township, I object to Supervisor Smith's proposal that we spend our hard-earned tax dollars to hire a management consulting firm to analyze the needs and efficiency of our fire department and to help "defuse and depolitize" the relations between our township board and fire department.

I am sick and tired of elected officials who fail to do their job and then buy their way out of a mess with my tax dollars.

Evidently there is some misunderstanding by some present board members as to why they were elected and what their duties are.

Mr. Smith receives completely adequate compensation for the duties he is to perform as supervisor and I expect him to do his job.

The duties for a supervisor of a General Law Township, such as ours, are not as clearly defined by law as those of a Charter Township but there are provisions both legally and traditionally for determining the supervisor's role.

The supervisor is legally responsible for the duties of assessment unless an assessment officer is provided. Independence Township employs such an officer, full time.

The supervisor is also responsible, under the Uniform Budget Act, for the township's budget unless a finance director is designated. This township employs a full-time finance director.

In a traditional sense the supervisor is deemed responsible for the overall supervision and management of all township services, departments and personnel unless otherwise directed by the township board.

Why should this township indebt itself to a consulting firm to perform the duties inherent of the board and/or supervisor? Especially when other duties have already been delegated to paid personnel.

The supervisor, the treasurer and clerk have been maintained as full-time positions for the purpose of providing a continuing and knowledgeable resource service for the betterment of this township and its citizens.

It is their job to get along with other township service units and workers, to be aware of total township needs and to investigate and communicate their findings with the four board members who are not full time.

I feel this is not being done in this township.

I also object to the failure of Mr. Smith and other board members to consult with the fire chief before taking steps toward setting up a fire commission and hiring a consultant. No wonder there is animosity between town hall and the fire department!

I wonder, too, about another recent board proposal to investigate becoming a city or hiring a township superintendent/manager. In order to clarify the aspects of such an endeavor I urge other citizens of the community to do as I have done and request a seat on the task force being assembled to look into these governmental concepts.

We must participate in our local government to ensure that our needs and desires as a community are met. We must avoid "political cronyism" in appointments and assure that commissions, task forces, and the board itself are truly representative of this township and not the single-minded "I'll support you, if you support me" type of thinking.

The same holds true for our school board which presently seeks to establish the administrative position of curriculum coordinator.

Why not utilize community resources and place decisions concerning the curriculum in the hands of parents, teachers and taxpayers?

The kids in Clarkston need smaller classroom sizes, more enrichment material and teachers who are paid well for their professional services, not more administrators.

There, I've said it all.

Claudia Brazel

Reabe removal good idea

As parents who have spent many hours within the building at Pine Knob School, we feel that some areas need to be clarified in regard to the removal of Mr. John Reabe as principal in our building.

When Mr. Reabe was notified of the possibility that his contract might not be renewed, he was given the option of choosing either a closed or an open hearing.

Mr. Reabe made the choice to have the hearing closed. Therefore, all of the proceedings were treated as confidential.

Because the atmosphere in the building had deteriorated to the extent that it was beginning to affect the performance of the staff in their relationships with the students, drastic measures were necessary.

The school board made a mind-searching decision, and it was decided that the best solution to the problem was to remove Mr. Reabe from the building.

We, as parents, feel that the staff at Pine Knob has handled themselves very professionally throughout all of the problems at the school.

We feel that we have excellent teachers and staff, and we are proud of the job that they have done with our children.

The school is a much more pleasant place to come to since Mr. George White has been our acting principal.

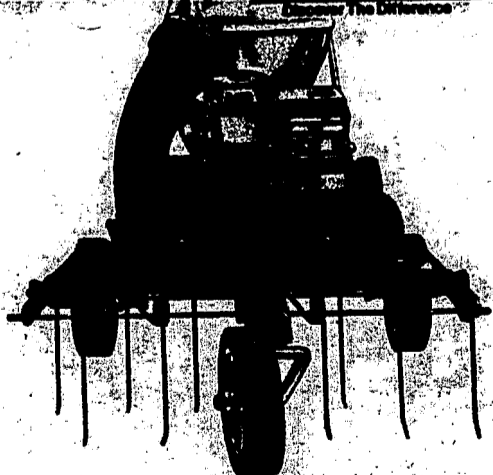

We know that the decision to remove Mr. Reabe from our building was a difficult one for the school board to make, but we feel that it was the right decision, and we support the school board's action.

Arson

Car fires big problem

Car fires are Independence Township's biggest arson problem, according to Investigator David Pement of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

"Especially at the isolated DD Ranch at Clintonville and Mann roads. And most of the time it's for insurance fraud," he said. "They drive them back in there at night, strip off of them what they want in the dark and then set them on fire."

Grass fires, too, are a problem.

"Most of the time it's juveniles," he said, explaining a new law that makes arson of a prairie field a felony punishable by four years in prison.

The week of May 13 through 19 is "Arson Awareness Week," according to Pement.

Of the 6,064 fires in Oakland County last year, 559 were intentionally set and 776 were suspected arson.

Costs due to arson topped $60 million last year, while indirect costs for funerals, medical, legal and lost wages exceeded that amount.

Multipurpose rooms

Editor's note: On June 11, Clarkston school district voters face two local questions—allowing the district to borrow $1.75 million to build a multipurpose room on each of the five elementary schools and the renewal of a 4-mill property tax (4 mills are $4 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation).

William Neff, administrative assistant in charge of elementary education, has compiled a list of frequently asked questions and answered them.

He'll prepare another question-answer column for publication in the June 6 Clarkston News.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE MULTIPURPOSE ROOM ISSUE.

Q. Why did the school district spend considerable money for architectural work and drawings before getting voter approval to build multipurpose rooms?

A. It is necessary for a school district to do the necessary work to present to the State Superintendent of Instruction a preliminary qualification of bonds at least 60 days prior to the election. The Superintendent of Instruction must give his approval of the project on the basis of work presented. It then becomes necessary to spend funds to have this "first step" prepared to fulfill state ruling.

Q. Why is it necessary to have multipurpose rooms? Haven't we done well all of these years without them?

A. Clarkston is the only school district of the 28 school districts not to have a multipurpose and physical education program. Students are not being taught physical education skills appropriate to their developmental level. Parent surveys have also listed as a goal the creating of multipurpose rooms, a physical education program and greater emphasis upon performing arts. The performing arts are being neglected due to the lack of multipurpose rooms with stages. The five elementary schools are limited in the use of the senior high auditorium to two times a year. The school district has been severely hampered over the years in many areas by lack of multipurpose rooms. The district has done without but not well.

Q. What will actually be provided with this money? To what extent will it be equipped?

A. The $1,750,000 will pay for completed structure with heating, kitchenettes, lavatories, stage and storage. It is not anticipated that this money will provide physical education teachers, physical education equipment, chairs, tables, stage curtains or lighting.

Q. Where will the money come from to equip the multipurpose room for educational programs?

A. This will come from the district operating funds over a period of years. Money will come from building teaching supply and capital outlay of funds to purchase chairs, tables, stage curtains, lighting, P.A. system, etc. It is anticipated that parent groups (PTA and PTO) will also make funds available to purchase some of the items listed above.

Q. Will there be trained physical education teachers hired or will our current teachers be expected to teach physical education?

A. Yes. There will be 2.5 or 3 trained physical education teachers hired relieving the current classroom teachers from having to teach physical education.

Q. Will the physical education program be similar to ones that we may be familiar with?

A. No. A curriculum will be developed with assistance from the Michigan State University Physical Education and Health Department which will teach skills appropriate for each developmental level K-6. The program will include rhythm, dance, health and physical exercise. Team games will be a small part of the program but competitive sports will not be emphasized.

Q. What uses will be made of the multipurpose room by school and community groups?

A. Physical education programs, drama, dance, concerts, lectures, after school recreation, community use, civic meetings, spelling contests, summer programs, adult community education.

Q. When will construction begin?

A. June-July 1984.

Q. When will the multipurpose rooms be completed and in use?

A. September 1985.

Softball

Clarkston High School Varsity
Richmond 5, Wolves 4

May 20—In the completion of the rained-out Royal Oak Dondoro tournament, the Wolves lose a close game in eight innings to undefeated Class B powerhouse Richmond. Stephanie Wagner collects two hits and drives in two runs while Laura Hurren scores twice and steals two bases. The Wolves' record drops to 16-6.

Wolves 6, Rochester Adams 3

May 19—The Wolves collect only three hits but get eight walks during the victory. Hurren, Julie Marshall, Sue Stefanski and Dawnaree DeBoer collect the RBI's.

Wolves 3, West Bloomfield 2

May 19—Kristen Tiahrt ties the score with a base hit in the seventh inning and Hurren drives her in with a sacrifice.

Rochester 5, Wolves 4

May 19—Kelli Keating has two hits and Sue Castillo two RBI's as the Wolves hit the ball hard but right at people for the loss.

Waterford Kettering 5, Wolves 4

May 18—The Wolves lose by their most unpopular score, 5-4, in the eighth inning against Kettering. Hurren tallies two hits and Wagner has three RBI's in the defeat.

Wolves 3, Waterford Mott 2

May 16—It's a big come-from-behind win for the Wolves as Roseann Hirneisen drives in two in the seventh inning for the triumph.

Wolves 2, Troy Athens 0

May 16—In the shutout under the lights for the Wolves at Clintonwood Park, Kim Stiff supplies most of the offense with two hits.

Baseball

Clarkston High School Varsity
Wolves 5, Lake Orion 0

May 21—The Wolves take the first game of the double-header behind the strong pitching of sophomore Mike Walters. Kurt Bottorff supplies the offensive punch with three hits and two RBI's. The Wolves record is 14-3 overall and 9-2 in the league.

Wolves 6, Lake Orion 5

May 21—Randy Bailey singles in the winning run with two out in the eighth inning to move the Wolves one step closer to the league title. Scott Carter doubles with two out in the eighth before Bailey connects for the winner. Carter and Rob Newblatt each have three hits and Mike Galley and Grag Molzon collect two apiece.

Wolves 8, Waterford Kettering 7

May 18—Mike Harbaugh goes the full seven innings for the victory and adds two hits to give the Wolves a one-game lead over Kettering in the league race.

Wolves 2, Waterford Mott 0

May 16—Walters pitches his first game at the varsity level. He holds Mott to just three hits and strikes out six.

Sashabaw Junior High Cougars
Cougars 8, Crary 7

May 17—The Cougars score five runs in the second inning and hold on to the lead as Jeff Billig picks up the win. Keith Mercier punches a double and drives in three runs for the offense as their record goes to 7-1.

Cougars 5, Mason 4

May 15—Andy Roy collects four hits including the game winner in the bottom of the 10th inning. John Miller pitches the last four innings for the victory.

Clarkston Junior High Wolverines
Grand Blanc 10, Wolverines 9

May 18—The Wolverines lose the game in the eighth inning despite three-hit performances by Craig Chamberlain and Rob Ronk. Pete Hollis, Bob Harrison, Scott Emery and Jim Turk each adds two hits as their record slips to 4-5.

Wolverines 10, Pierce 9

May 17—The Wolverines score three times in the bottom of the seventh to steal the victory. Hollis and Galley each post three hits and Gary Ritch collects two more.

Lake Orion 10, Wolverines 2

May 15—The Wolverines lose the first game of the double-header with Chamberlain, Ronk and Harrison connecting for the only hits.

Wolves 8, Lake Orion 4

May 15—They split the double-header with Wolverines Chamberlain, Galley, Todd Zeller and Hollis collecting hits.

GOAL championship in reach

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Greater Oakland Activities League title is only one game away for the Clarkston varsity baseball team.

With a double-header sweep of Lake Orion, the Wolves need only win their last game against Pontiac Northern, May 29, to clinch the title.

They went in front of the league with a win over second-place Waterford Kettering, May 18.

In the double-header sophomore Mike Walters, recently called up from the junior varsity, pitched a three-hit shutout in the Wolves' 5-0 victory. Kurt Bottorff lead the hitters with three hits and two RBI's.

The Wolves jumped out to a three-run lead in the first and added two more in the sixth to put the game away.

Mike Harbaugh gets a high-five from catcher Rob Newblatt after finishing off Waterford Kettering in the seventh inning for the Wolves' close, 8-7, victory.

"We're just taking one game at a time... We'll worry about the league next week."

—Roy Warner

In the second game the Wolves won, 6-5, on Randy Bailey's run-scoring single in the bottom of the eighth inning. He drove in Scott Carter who doubled with two outs.

Again the Wolves jumped out to quick lead and led, 5-1, going into the fifth inning. The Dragons scored once in the fifth and three times in the sixth to knot the game at 5-5. Mike Harbaugh picked up the win in relief of starter Todd Olsen.

In the game against Kettering, Harbaugh pitched seven innings for the 8-7 triumph. He collected two of the four hits for the Wolves.

"That game, both teams had a lot of errors," coach Roy Warner said. "We got a lead in that game, too, but it was the day of the prom and I think we let up a little. We had six errors."

The pre-district game and district opener come before the GOAL title is decided this year. The Wolves play Rochester in the pre-district May 22 and if they win, play Pontiac Central May 25.

"We're just taking one game at a time," Warner said. "Right now it's the state playoffs. We'll worry about the league next week."

Clarkston stands one game behind

Wolves need help to share league title

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Clarkston varsity softball team needs a little help if it wants to own part of the Greater Oakland Activities League title.

The Wolves have a 6-3 league record, good for a tie with Waterford Kettering for second place in the GOAL. Alone in first place is Waterford Mott, a full game in front.

With three games left in the schedule, the Wolves would have to beat Lake Orion twice, Pontiac Northern once, and have Kettering beat Mott for a three-way tie for first.

The Wolves grabbed control of the league when they beat Mott, 3-2, May 16. But a tough 5-4 loss to Kettering two days later forced the need of help from Kettering.

"We would have had a tie for first if we won the rest of our games," coach Carla Teare said. "Now we've got second place for sure if we win the rest and all three of us will be in first if Kettering beats Mott."

Kettering took the game from the Wolves with two out in the bottom of the eighth inning on a couple of hits and a throwing error. Laura Hurren led the hitting attack with two hits and one RBI and Stephanie Wagner had three RBI's.

Mott started its contest against the Wolves with two runs in the opening inning. A three-run sixth inning pushed Clarkston into the lead.

Jill Griffis led off the inning with a triple and Kelli Keating drove her in with a ground out. Then a walk to Hurren and two straight singles by Sue Castillo and Wagner loaded the bases. Catcher Roseann Hirneisen singled to drive in Hurren and Castillo for the come-from-behind victory.

"I think the kids thought it was the state title game and that's why we lost three of the next six games," Teare said.

Mott had handled the Wolves in the two prior meetings, 4-1 and 3-1. But with a 16-6 record the Wolves have been playing solid softball.

"Four losses have come by one run in the last inning and the other two we lost to Mott by a couple," Teare said. "We're always in the game, always making the game close. We're not hitting that much, but our defense is good."

Golf outing to boost scholarship

It's time to dust off the golf clubs, head to the links and help raise money for the B.J. Hanson Scholarship Fund.

The $1,000 scholarship is in honor of the former science teacher and athletic director at Clarkston High School. This is the fifth year for the award given to a student excelling in athletics and science.

The event is planned June 15 at the Spring Lake Country Club golf course starting at noon.

Cost is $11 for nine holes or $15 for 18 holes with portions going to the scholarship fund.

Deadline to enter is June 12. For more information contact athletic director Paul Fungate at 625-0906.

Four runners qualify for state track finals

By Dan Vandenhemel

Four members of the Clarkston Wolves girls' track team are headed to the state finals after placing high at the state regional track meet at West Bloomfield.

Ronnie Barnard, Jennifer Farough, Dina

Gwisdalla and Kim Ottman will be going to the finals in Jackson, June 2, for the 880-yard and 1,600-yard relays. Farough also qualified for the 100-yard high hurdles and the 300-yard low hurdles.

The Wolves finished fifth overall out of 16 teams at the regionals. Coach Gordy Richardson said his only disappointment was the injury of Bridgett Kilcline which made her unable to participate in the meet. Kilcline is suffering from stress fractures in both legs.

"We think she got hurt in the Lake Orion-Waterford Mott meet (May 8)," Richardson said. "Everybody is asking me how good could we have done with her in the regionals. We could have finished as high as second place. It would have been nice to have Bird (Kilcline) in the lineup but the other kids did great jobs, all of them were in four events, too."

Placing at the regionals were: Barnard, sixth in the 200-yard dash; Ottman, fifth in the 100-yard dash; Shivonne DeBoer, fourth in the shot put; and Sandy Craig, fourth in the high jump.

The Wolves finished the season with a 6-1 record but had only 20 members on the team.

"We only started with about 25 girls," Richardson said. "A couple got jobs, ran into other interests. All the excuses I felt were legitimate. That's all I can ask for. But the 20 that finished all worked hard. With girls you can always count on that, that they will go after it, give their best."

Improvement key to Wolves

By Dan Vandenhemel

Track is different in one sense than other sports in that it is an individual event.

Winning scores are nice and help pad the ego but doing your best is all you can ask for from an athlete.

The words are those of Clarkston Wolves boys' track coach Walt Wyniemko. But he was not making excuses for the Wolves' showing this season.

The Wolves finished the regular season with a 2-4 record and made only six points at the state regional meet, May 19.

"No, we didn't get many points but we did run good times," he said. "There were a lot of runners out there who could perform. Pontiac Northern won everything: the relays; they placed one, two, three in the 100-yard dash."

Placing at the regional meet were Joe Powe, a fourth in the high jump, and the 880-yard relay team of Steve Morris, Shawn MacCartey, Craig Kulaszewski and Jeff Davis were sixth.

Throughout the season, the Wolves got strong performances from Jeff Toretta in the 1-mile and 2-mile runs, Powe, the relay teams, Chad Snover and Steve Morris in the shot put and discus, and MacCartey in the long jump and relays.

"We've got a young team yet," Wyniemko said. "We've got a lot of sophomores on the team but the times kept getting better. That's one of our major goals at the start of the year, is to improve our times."

"The relay team ran their best time at the regionals. Eric Thomas ran his fastest in the 440-yard run at the regionals. It's encouraging to see things like that."

"Hopefully we can stay together and have a real good season next year. All you can do is try your best and hope everything else falls into place."

The runner and the torch as it makes its way through Independence Township.

Up My Alley

Carry on

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Olympic tradition lives on. Or a better term is carries on.

The official Olympic Torch made its way through Independence Township Monday night on its way to Los Angeles via Dixie Highway.

Township residents came out all along the route to cheer and applaud the effort put forth by the torch carriers.

Some came with sandwiches, others with cameras as they waited for the flame to pass by.

At the corner of Dixie Highway and White Lake Road there were easily 100 people standing, sitting, lying on the ground, waiting for the torch.

I'm sure this will happen and already has happened all along the over-3,000-mile route. Senior citizens, children, adults all came out just for a glimpse of the tradition that has been around since the beginning of the games. They wanted to be a part of it.

The Olympic flame is symbolic of the games. Generation after generation of people have watched the international event. The athletes change from year to year, so do the countries. But the spirit of the Olympics remains.

The competition between human beings, the sportmanship, that comes across in victory as well as defeat, are what the Games are there for.

But over the past 16 years, politics has inched its way on to the scene, making the Olympics almost a battleground, not a sports arena.

Most recently the pullout of the United States in 1980 and now the Soviet Union this year have hurt the games.

There is a simply enthusiastic feeling about the games.

Every four years the sight of the torch making the long trip up the steps at the opening ceremony brings out the desire of everyone to be a part of it.

Commission wants new garbage day

With trash at curbside Sunday night for Monday morning garbage pickup, Main Street takes on a look members of the Clarkston Planning Commission don't like.

Via letter at the May 14 meeting, the commission requested the council ask trash collection firms to change their pickup days so Main Street is uncluttered on weekends.

According to President Carol Eberhardt, the council agreed that wasn't in its power.

"We talked about it, and told them we couldn't do it," she said after the meeting.

Trustee Sharon Catalo introduced a proposed ordinance amendment to allow historic buildings in the Village of Clarkston.

The proposed law would not provide carte blanche freedom, according to President Carol Eberhardt, but would allow owners of historic homes to apply for a historic variance.

If approved, Hank Radcliff could seek new approval to relocate the historic 120-year-old Ritter home on Dixie Highway to Clarkston's Main Street, just north of the municipal lot at Washington.

He was denied two variances by the zoning board of appeals last week.

At the May 14 meeting, "the council was unanimous and passed it onto the planning commission to draft it," said Eberhardt. "If it's going to be, it has to be very tightly structured."

Principal Reabe asks for reinstatement now

By Kathy Greenfield

A letter headed "Re: John Reabe—Wrongful Termination" was read by an attorney representing the reassigned principal at last week's Clarkston board of education meeting.

The attorney, Joseph Fabrizio of Fabrizio and Webster of Bloomfield Hills, then presented each board member with a copy of the letter.

Reabe was removed from his post as Pine Knob Elementary principal following a 5-0 decision by the board April 26 to reassign him for the remainder of the school year and to direct the administration to prepare a plan of improvement for Reabe, with input from him.

Since then he has worked on curriculum materials at Andersonville Elementary and been an observer at Sashabaw Junior High School.

The letter, signed by attorney Douglas Webster, included "strong exception" to comments in a prepared statement read at the board's April 26 meeting, mention of good evaluations received by Reabe, objections to the lack of a "due process hearing" where witnesses would be under oath and subject to cross-examination and the denial of a request by Reabe to present witnesses on his behalf.

"...we urge that Mr. Reabe be immediately restored to his former or a like position in the school district," the letter concluded.

School board President Janet Thomas called the charge that Reabe was denied witnesses a "blatant untruth."

"Mr. Reabe knew he could bring witnesses or anyone he so chose," she said. "He was not denied that right."

Judy Locher, a parent, also read a letter asking why Reabe was "abruptly removed" from his post as Pine Knob Elementary principal and praising his work.

Judy France, president of the parent-teacher group at Pine Knob, supported the school board's action. She said the atmosphere at the school had improved since George White took over as acting principal.

"I think it's really a commendable thing that you did," she told the board. "He (Reabe) had to be removed from our building and I hope he does not come back."

Locher responded with another question.

Mrs. Karpovck leaves school after 20 years

By Marilyn Trumper

Phyllis Karpovck drops the school office phone into its cradle and offers a sympathetic moan.

One of elementary students at Pine Knob won't be making the class field trip to Upland Hills Farm.

She did battle with chicken pox—and lost.

"That's too bad," Mrs. Karpovck said sadly, putting herself in the shoes of a 6-year-old. "You know some of these kids look so forward to these field trips, and now she may never see Upland Hills."

An aide pops her head in the door and asks for nametags.

Mrs. Karpovck suggests using construction paper.

"And what can I do for you, Chris?" she asks a young boy standing before the counter, then sells him a folder.

A parent asks a question.

She answers.

The phone rings.

She answers it.

For 20 years 62-year-old Mrs. Karpovck's nursed bloody noses, played referee, sold pencils, offered advice and given generous doses of motherly love to the more than 586 pupils at Pine Knob each year.

She's legendary for knowing every kid on a first-name basis.

After 20 years, her job ends June 30 with retirement.

"I always thought retirement was something that happened to other people—not to me," Mrs. Karpovck laughs. "I didn't think I'd ever get old. I always thought I'd stay 40, that's a good age."

"I thought, 'How could I possibly be that old, and to have gotten that old so fast?' Sixty-two seems soooo old when you are younger."

Unlike many retirees who hold visions of travel and adventure in their new leisure time, Mrs. Karpovck says she'll take over the job of cleaning the house, a job her husband inherited two years ago when he retired.

"We'll do it together now," she said, her brown eyes sparkling from behind glasses.

"And I enjoy reading. I also enjoy writing letters. I have about 10 people, friends and relatives, whom I correspond with. I enjoy crafts and have a couple of women's groups I belong to. They hold lunches and things like that and I always say, 'Oh, I wish I could go to that.' Now I'll be able to."

When word filtered down to the kids that Mrs. Karpovck was leaving, one little girl marched into the office and said, "I've come to talk some sense into you."

"I thought that was the cutest thing," Mrs. Karpovck smiles. "These kids are wonderful. They come up and give me a hug, drop by to chat and asked me not to leave. Ask them how old they think I am and they say 40. I'm the age of some of their grandmothers, but they don't relate to me as a grandmother."

But she's not quitting Pine Knob cold-turkey.

"I'll be back volunteering. I couldn't just leave these kids," Mrs. Karpovck smiles. "I couldn't retire and go to Florida like so many other retirees do. I couldn't leave the area."

"I think I'll probably volunteer until I'm old. That's probably at the age of 80. But it keeps going up all the time," she smiles.

In 1966 Phyllis Karpovck hired in at the Pine Knob Elementary as an aide/librarian. In 1976 she began working in the office. Called "Mrs. Karpovck," by almost everyone, she's legendary for knowing every kid on a first-name basis. After 20 years, she's retiring.

Retirement party

Come to the retirement party for Phyllis Karpovck, Pine Knob Elementary School's secretary.

Put on by the school's PTO, the Open House-Dessert Social is planned in the Sashabaw Junior High School lunchroom on Tuesday, May 29, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Karpovck has been the school's secretary 18 years.

Winners

By Dan Vandenhemel

Duty called before the awards ceremony began, and Dr. James O'Neill, winner of the Super Person Award, spent the entire evening at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital—and missed the presentation.

The sixth annual Community Awards Ceremony was held May 19 at the Deer Lake Racquet Club.

Toastmaster Tom Ritter said it would be useless to describe the things O'Neill has done without revealing his name because everybody in the building would his identity after a few words.

"His very presence in the community is felt," Ritter said. "He has attended to all our needs at one time or another."

The crowd of 125 watched as 21 awards went out for jobs well done in the Clarkston area.

Distinguished Service Awards went to Jeanette K. Morrison, the Clarkston Community Women's Club and the Pine Knob Maintenance Crew.

The Outstanding Creative Arts Award went to Dorothy Neff; the Outstanding Educator Award to Kathleen O'Donnell; the Outstanding Government Official Award to Kenneth Delbridge.

The Outstanding Young Citizen Award was won by Freda Mae Franklin, Catherine A. Rauth, Kevin Morse, Mark Heil, Dale Scott Davis, Julie Beamer and Jay Smith.

Others awarded certificates were James Hibler, Patricia Evans, Sandy Sanford, Greg Scaman, Pat Brumback, Anne Rose, Beverly Clemo and Charles Barnett.

The ceremony is not without its touching moments. Sandy Sanford gives Pete Rose a kiss after he presents her certificate for nomination for the Creative Arts Award.

The Distinguished Service Award for an individual goes to Jeanette K. Morrison.

The Outstanding Educator is Kathleen O'Donnell.

Kenneth Delbridge starts toward the podium to accept the award as Outstanding Government Official.

Join reading club

Kids can sign up now for eight-week membership in the 1984 Summer Reading Club program at the Independence Township Library.

Each week a special event is planned for first-through sixth-graders who also read books on their own as part of the club's activities.

There is no charge for membership or weekly meetings.

The colorful Wizard of the North is to appear the first week, performing magic of the Renaissance.

Also planned are a Wild Reptile Show and, at the Grand Finale, face painting by the Oak Clowns.

2 new scouts

The Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council has two new members-at-large, both from the Clarkston area.

Thomas Azoni and Carol Eberhardt were elected to the posts at the council's 63rd annual meeting May 2.

Azoni, of Kingfisher Lane, was elected to fill an unexpired term, from 1983-1986. An attorney, he is vice president of Buchanan & Buchanan and a graduate of the Detroit College of Law and the University of Michigan.

A member of the Clarkston Community Education Council, he has also served on the Clarkston board of education and as an adviser to the Clarkston Village Players.

Eberhardt, of East Washington Street, was elected to fill a 1984-1987 term. She is president of the Clarkston Village Council and has served the Girl Scout council as recognition task force chairman, program task force chairman and Junior troop leader.

She has served on the Michigan and Waterford Jaycees auxiliaries and boards of directors.

As a member of the Girl Scout council, she will also serve as board parliamentarian.

Club celebration

The Golden Age Club of Waterford Township celebrates its 25th anniversary in October.

The anniversary committee wants to contact former members, especially charter members.

Anyone with information may call 623-0874 or 332-6778, or write the Golden Age Club, 5860 Andersonville Rd., Waterford, MI 48095.

Special mass honors 77 POW-MIAs

For Michigan's 77 Prisoners of War and men Missing in Action (POW-MIAs) from the Vietnam War, the Candle of Hope will burn at Colombiere Center inside the chapel at a special service Sunday, May 27.

The candle is passed from one place of worship to another in Michigan so no one will forget the men are still unaccounted for, according to Janis Ledogar of Springfield Township, who lost a brother in the war.

The special mass is scheduled for 11:30 a.m., Colombiere Retreat-Conference Center, 9075 Big Lake, Springfield Township.

Honor

Three Clarkston area students have been inducted into Sigma Iota Epsilon, a scholastic business and management honorary, at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant.

Receiving the honor were sophomore Alyson Dunlop, junior William Innis and senior Jodie Langdon.

Leeser-Craft

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Leeser of Charlotte announce the engagement of their daughter, Karla J., to Steven Craft, son of Kenneth Craft of Indiana and Marilyn Craft of Independence Township. The bride-to-be holds a bachelor's degree in applied mathematics from Ferris State College. She is employed by the Auto Owners Insurance Co., Lansing. Her fiancé holds a bachelor's degree in marketing from Ferris State College. He is employed by Selective Copy Machines, Oak Park. An August wedding is planned.

New arrival

It's a boy for Eddy and Beth Reeder of Houston, Texas.

Elliot Austin was born March 1. He weighed 9 pounds, 11 ounces and measured 21 inches long.

Grandparents are Betty Bond of Brandon Township and Dale Bond of Independence Township, Janet Dowden of Tennessee and Nat Reeder of California.

Butts, Scramlin exchange vows

Under an outdoor arch, next to a horse and buggy, Vickie Butts of Davisburg and Brian Scramlin of Holly were married May 5 at the home of the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Scramlin.

The bride wore a floor-length ivory lace gown and carried a fan with ivory roses and blue baby roses.

Matron of honor was Joan Kelch of Davisburg. Bridesmaid was Dee Skinner of Holly. They wore floor-length gowns of ivory lace over blue fabric.

Flower girl was Cindy Kelch of Davisburg. Ring bearer was Corey Butts of Davisburg.

James Johnson of Holly served as best man. Kevin Scramlin also attended the bridegroom.

The reception was held at Oakhill Estates, Holly. The bride is a Holly High School graduate. Her parents are Elma Kinnick of Davisburg and Warren Kinnick of Tennessee.

The bridegroom, also a Holly High graduate, is employed by Scramlin Brothers Stock Farm. His parents are Richard and Shirley Scramlin of Holly.

Married in May: Vickie Butts and Brian Scramlin.

VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON Public Notice of Budget Hearing For Federal Revenue Sharing

Village of Clarkston will hold a Public Hearing at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 11, 1984 at the Village Hall, 375 Depot Rd., for purposes of hearing written and oral comments from the public concerning the proposed Annual Federal Revenue Sharing Budget for fiscal year 1984/85, and the use of Federal Revenue Sharing funds as contained in that budget.

General Revenue Sharing is a program of general fiscal support from the Federal Government to State and Local Governments with only limited federal requirements on how the money should be spent. Decisions on the use of these funds are made at the local level by the Village Council and persons closest to local problems. Revenue Sharing regulations require a hearing on the proposed use of these funds in relation to the annual budget before its adoption.

All interested citizens, groups, senior citizens and organizations are encouraged to attend and submit comments.

Conservatory's birthday a tribute to founder

By Louise Hodgson
Clarkston News Special Writer

One of the highlights of the 25th year celebration of the Clarkston Conservatory of Music was an evening of piano concertos at the Colombiere Center in Springfield Township on May 13.

Four talented students from the Lincoln Park Music Center in Chicago, winners of numerous prizes for performance, played selections from the classic piano concerto repertoire. Their master-teacher Denis Moffat played the orchestral accompaniment on a second piano.

Dave Gute played the dazzling Cesar Franck Symphonic Variations with clean technique and a sure sense of the contour of music.

There was excitement as he built up toward the end, and in the tender parts he brought out the melodic line beautifully. This young Guatemalan bears watching.

Whe Do Kim, from Korea, played the very demanding Rachmaninoff First Piano Concerto with power and virtuosity that belied her frail appearance.

Her sensitive phrasing, graceful, expressive playing, singing tone and instinct for finding the melody in complex figurations made me wish she had selected less of a showpiece and something that would better display her fine musical sense.

Troy Niehardt played the first movement of the Liszt Concerto No. 1 with appropriate thunder and grand sweep. His technique is clean, though a bit choppy at times. The delicate parts were nicely done.

Anne Vandenberg played the first movement of the Grieg Concerto. She played octaves well and the slow passages sweetly. She built up to a nice climax in the cadenza. She shows promise, and with more study with Denis Moffat will no doubt learn to integrate the parts into an organic whole, as he does so masterfully.

The star of the evening, on the second piano, was Denis Moffat. As well as a master at the keyboard, he is a composer, teacher, vocal coach, conductor—a many-faceted musician.

His accompanying was at times more exciting than the solo. He didn't play the notes—he played the music, and his impressive technique was used only to serve musical ends. These talented young musicians are fortunate to have him as their teacher.

The concert was followed by a private reception in the fascinating home of Sharon and Clarence Catalo, which they lovingly created out of one of Clarkston's old churches.

The celebration of the Silver Anniversary of the Clarkston Conservatory of Music is also a celebration of the untiring efforts of Ivan Rouse, its founder, director and member of the piano faculty, to maintain the highest artistic standards in musical instruction.

Clarkston has reason to be proud of Ivan Rouse and his Conservatory of Music.

Fair projects

Patrick Zaremba's at work making a diagram of his project, "Force and Inertia." The wooden ship takes off when the piece of yarn holding a taut rubber band is burned through with a match. Then the ship zips across a lineup of round pieces of wood.

Friday afternoon Sashabaw Junior High School students put their projects in place for the annual school fair held that evening. Eighth-grader Mark Harett's project is a study called

"Thermal Properties of Fabrics" which measures the insulation properties of different types of material. [Photos by Kathy Greenfield]

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTE that on June 11, 1984 at 7:30 p.m. at 6389 Clarkston Road the Board of Education of the Clarkston Community Schools will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1984 of an additional proposed millage rate of .2324 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Education has the complete authority to establish that 33.3300 mills be levied in 1984 for operating purposes if an election renewal proposed of 4.0000 mills receives a favorable vote.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1984 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982 by 0.71 percent.

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the school district. State equalized valuation will not be finalized until after the fourth Monday in May. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Education must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valuation.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate for operating purposes. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Education may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

The Board of Education has proposed this millage for operating purposes in recognition of the responsibility to maintain and sustain an effective educational program for the community.

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education.

Mary Jane Chaustowich
 Secretary

Permits needed for new pool

Building department inspects for safety

Installing a pool this year? Don't forget to get permits from the Independence Township Building Department.

According to its director Kenneth Delbridge, building, plumbing and electrical permits are needed to ensure safety and structural inspections.

"We check the electrical hook-ups, circulation and heating pumps to make sure they're grounded, the structural integrity of the pool to make sure it's not going to collapse and check to be sure it's guarded and fenced," Delbridge said.

"All pools have to be fenced," he said, excluding above-ground pools over four feet tall, which are in themselves a fence.

"If they have a ladder, they have to have the ladder fold up and lock," he said.

Permits cost approximately $60, according to Delbridge.

"Most people comply. We have a few that don't," he said. "But if there's a person with a pool that doesn't meet code and a child drowns, they're in a lot of trouble."

Early deadline

WITH DEEPEST Gratitude I extend this word of thanks for all the many kind acts of sympathy expressed by thoughtful friends. Special thanks to Tom Griffin and all at Sparks Griffin Funeral Home, to all at Jacobson's Flowers for all the assistance that was given. Reverend Peacock from the Methodist Church for his touching sermon and speech, those at Vannelli who made our lunch so enjoyable and his class of '31 for their living memorial. Gale would have been pleased to have gone home to be with his parents and loved ones on such a beautiful day. Frances Pat Wright ILLX-20-2

Noah's Ark

Making their way over the ramp under the watchful eye of Noah are the pair of reindeer, played by Evan Moen and Todd Peterson.

The role of the angel belongs to Andy Nichols. Here, he shows Noah and his family a rainbow, a symbol of good fortune at the end of the ark's long journey.

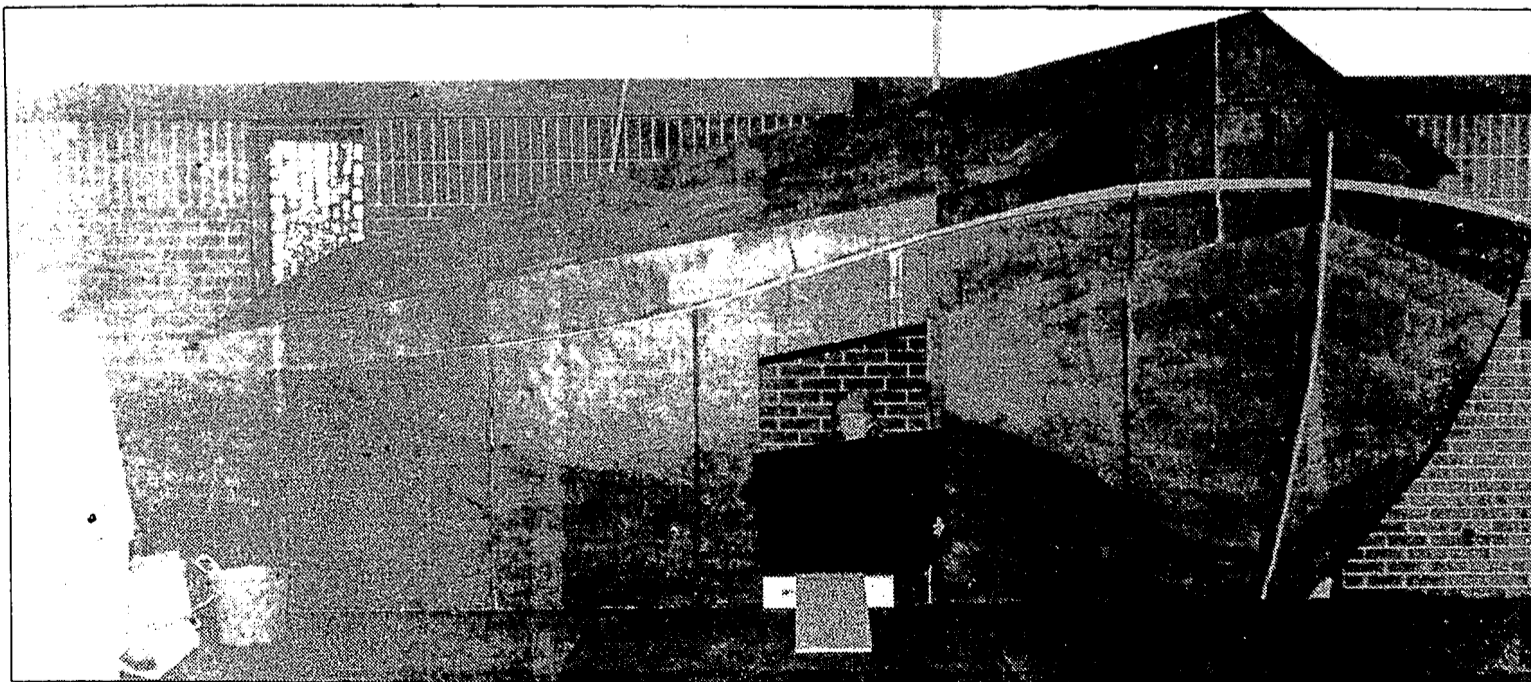

Leading the lions to the ark is Mark Simmons, who plays Noah's son Shem. Dan Eby and Joel Lowe are the lions.

Noah and his wife, played by Steve Kiso and Amy Newmarch, seek guidance from an angel before the building of the ark begins during the dress rehearsal Saturday.

The people and animals are loaded in Noah's ark...and up goes the hatch. Sandy Nelson directed the play, "Noah's Flood or The Deluge" presented by 25 youngsters during the Calvary Lutheran Church services

May 13. "Excellent," she said about their performances. "It was just adorable." Creator of the 30-foot puzzle-like cardboard and Velcro ark with wooden frame was Ned Parsons. First performed in Manchester, England, the play originated during medieval times.
