It's gratifying," she said. "I'm really flattered and pleased they have enough confidence in me to put up with the sixth year."

A board member 10 years, Thomas also served as treasurer three years.

The school board also unanimously re-elected Mary Jane Chaustowich secretary, a post she's held all six years she's been a member; and Elaine Schultz treasurer for the second straight year.

PK jockeys for liquor license

By Marilyn Trumper

It appears the Nederlander Corp. will be forced to pay upwards of $60,000 for a liquor license if the Independence Township Board doesn't grant their request to re-license the Pine Knob Ski Lodge.

Before a decision is made, the board wants to interview all candidates for the township's two available Class C licenses.

The lodge and its discotheque, Ice, have been without a liquor since the New York-based firm purchased the complex for $14 million in February from the Federal Bankruptcy Court, and was forced by the Liquor Control Commission to forfeit either the ski lodge or music theater's shared license.

During the late ski season the lodge sold liquor. but only through the trustee handling bankruptcy procedure, according to Tracy Allen, Nederlander Corp. attorney.

At the July 3 board meeting, Allen asked the board to place them on the waiting list for one of the township's two available Class C licenses; and a letter from the LCC asked Pine Knob be "...considered above all others" on the waiting list.

'I don't have any control over what the LCC writes," Allen told the board. "I do know we'd like to know if you're willing to consider us before we proceed. We'd like to keep the ski lodge open during the summer season. To close it would be a loss of revenue and make the facility essentially dormant.

"I'm sure you're wondering what we'll do if you decide to do nothing;" Allen said. "The going price in the market now is $60,000 for a liquor license. That's what we'd pay if we had to go hunting."

Trustee Dale Stuart warned against giving Pine

Knob the billing, "...considered above all others."
"I feel about this as I did when we had a request from Allie Assad for a liquor license," he said. "We do have a considerable number of people who have applied for liquor licenses, and we need to look at them all equally, allow them to give presentations and then decide. Pine Knob may turn out to be the best."

Supervisor, James B. Smith argued that Pine Knob serves people from perhaps four- to five-county

"I'd like to find out more specifically about what they have in mind and make sure the code deficiencies that exist there now are no more," he said.

"That lodge has had a license for a long time and it attracts a substantial business to the community," Smith said. "I do not feel we should favor them above all others. But we would like to know about what's [Continued on Page 4]

Commission disregards council; wants home

By Marilyn Trumper

The Village of Clarkston's Planning Commission disregarded the village council's order to look at an amendment that would allow the Ritter housemoving, asking them to review it for a possible spot in the commission's overall master plan review.

Instead, at the July 2 meeting, the commission approved wording for an amendment that would allow the 120-year-old house to relocate to downtown's historic Main Street with board of appeal variances.

The amendment has been sent back to the village council and was expected to be reviewed July 9.

"We don't expect to begin working on that (master plan) update until September," said Virginia Walters who chaired the planning commission meeting, explaining why the issue was passed back to the council.

"We meet only once a month and right now we're working on a land use development plan.

"The last couple of years, the village has proven it doesn't care about true preservation." —Susan Basinger

"We won't get to the ordinance review until 1985 in the middle or late, and it will take a lot of time to really go over the ordinance with the teeth it needs

"We felt, perhaps, (the council) was not aware of how long it would be before we'd get to the update, or how long the review would take if we start.

Hank and Jennifer Radcliff, the couple who hope to move the house, are working with a dwindling timetable.

Burger King Corp. intends to build a $600,000 fast-food restaurant on the site next to Ritter's Farm Market. The restaurant chain's inability to get the right traffic pattern information to Independence Township for site plan approval has delayed the project one month already.

The delay buys the Radcliffs extra time to try to get approval to move the Italianate cube house to

The house is destined for razing 30 days after Burger King receives site plan approval and completes sale of the property.

of the property. Marilyn Rosner, president of the Clarkston Community Historica Society, says the organization wants to see the home moved downtown and saved for posterity.

"There have been a lot of evasive tactics by the council and rather than take responsibility, they've put the issue back to the planning commission, the zoning board and back to the council which sends it back to the planning commission," Rosner said.

"(Their latest return to the planning commission) is just an effort to delay it again. The planning commission has been very supportive.

"I think it's time we place responsibility where responsibility lies—with the council."

Susan Basinger, an active member of the historical society, has been collecting petitions for the Radcliffs signed by over 50 people who want the house relocated downtown. "I feel the house is the best possible thing for this village. It's a style not represented here, but one that is found in the township and Springfield. It's a style typical of this area and I feel it belongs in the village.

'The last couple of years," Basinger said, "the village has proven it doesn't care about true preservation. The people want to be associated with it but they're not willing to go that extra mile."

Thendara road-paving snag of the 51-percent, but we'll have trouble on Algon-

By Marilyn Trumper

Thendara Park subdivision's $1.5 million road paving's hit a snag.

Chairman of the Road Committee, Clint Yerkes, is having trouble landing 51-percent of the property owners' signatures on five roads. They want to know exactly what the special assessment is going to cost before they sign and there's been no unit price determined yet, he said. At its July 3 meeting the Independence Township Board agreed to determine a unit price, and adopted a new policy, ordering all subdivisions that seek special assessments for road paving must receive 51-percent of all property owners' go-ahead in that subdivision, and 51-percent of all owners fronting each road.

"I don't think we'll have any trouble getting most quin," Yerkes said after the meeting. "There's a group of people on the east end that don't want the paving, they want things to remain the same. But we can always condemn the road. And by the way," Yerkes said. "I live on Algonquin."

The board's new policy doesn't deter those who want road paving, he said.

"I think they made the right decision and it seems like they want to help us," Yerkes said. "I don't feel to bad about it."

One-hundred property owners live on Thendara's 3.8 miles of private roads.

Currently 72 percent of the subdivision's property owners pay $135 a year in three $45 payments for snow removal and grading.

The subdivision pays an additional $3,000 to $4,000 a year for road work form its dues.

After lengthy discussion, the board directed the clerk to get engineering costs from Hubble Roth and Clark on what specs for the project's condemnsation might would cost.

It's estimated the township will invest $130,000 into Thendara's paving, and won't realize any payments on that loan to residents for at least two years, until the first money from special assessments is collected, according to Clerk Richard Holman.

Commission taps fire review firm

PAS first choice for spending/priority study

By Marilyn Trumper

It appears Independence Township will hire the Virginia consulting firm of Public Administration Services for a study on fire department spending and its priorities.

The study would include recommendations on constructing new stations, having a fire commission and developing a combined police/fire public service department.

James O'Neill, M.D., chaired the three-man committee that interviewed the two consulting firms, and at the July 3 board meeting said the committee unanimously recommends PAS. The anticipated $12,000 study will be paid from the fire department fünd.

Because their presentation included a possibility of setting up a fire commmission, public safety and combined millages," O'Neill said, explaining the committee's choice.

'We're also looking at incorporating EMS, down the road a major health care facility locating here (Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital's satellite), and how they will relate to the private sector.'

Trustee Dale Stuart said he didn't want to pay upwards of $12,000 for a study that could lead to spending more for in-depth reviews on independent

"That concerned me too," O'Neill said. "But I think we can eliminate that by writing the contract in such a way to prohibit it. PAS seemed to have a lot of knowledge about Michigan and municipal law.'

"I would be satisfied, provided we could get that contract," Stuart said.

Treasurer Frederick Ritter said he didn't want PAS's work to be dominated by the police fund and suggestions they look at a combined police/fire millage.

"I don't want to spend the fire department's money on a police study," he said.
"I have no great desire to see this lumped together anyway," O'Neill said. After discussion, the board voted 5-2 to have the township attorney draft contract language.

Clerk Richard Holman and Trustee Larence Kozma dissented.

"Because the perimeters weren't decided," Holman said, explaining his vote. "I have always supported the concept of a fire study, but I think we need to decide the issues.

"O'Neill made it clear at the beginning of the meeting he wanted to sit down with the board and the committee and decide what the study would encompass. I wanted to go with his recommendation," Koz-

After the meeting, Fire Chief Frank Ronk said he also endorses PAS.

"But only because if they (the Smith administration) feel the only way to progress is to do a study—then let's do a study," he said.

"But I'm not sure that the study should stop at the fire department. It should start at the top. The general fund is the top.'

The Independence Township Board wants competitive bids on the $60,000 estimated price tag for an underground sprinkling system in Lakeview Cemetery.

But if the $60,000 estimate is accurate, it would use almost half the township's $140,000 in the trust fund, designed to maintain the 150-year-old cemetery on White Lake Road long after the last plot is sold. That's projected for 15 to 20 years from now.

Thirty percent of the cemetery is still available for internments, according to George Anderson, director of the department of public works.

The $140,000 trust fund comes from grave openings and closing and plot sales, and the earned interest on investments.

At its July 9 meeting the Independence Township Board listened to Larry Rosso's plea to sprinkle

"There's a legitimate concern and personal interest," Rosso said, referring to the 200-plus signatures on a petition to sprinkle the cemetery. "There are emotions involved. Many of us have family

Rosso challenged the township for watering one part of the cemetery and not others.

"If there's an inconsistency, I'll take care of it Monday morning," said Anderson. "I don't think we should put a system in there. It'll last 20 years and we'll be back where we are right now.'

Currently half the cemetery could be serviced by a defunct sprinkling system, which Anderson speculates would cost $6,000 to repair. But it would strain and possibly drain the cemetery's well, he said.

After discussion, the board directed Anderson to get two more bids on the cemetery-wide underground sprinkling system to determine if his $60,000 estimate from Kieft Engineering was accurate.

Culvert breaks

Birdland drainage blamed

By Marilyn Trumper

Jon Abbott challenges poor drainage in Birdland Subdivision creates improper water runoff that's corroded the culvert under his driveway on Paramus-and he wants Independence Township to foot the $600 bill for repairs.

But the board, at its July 3 meeting, turned him down, saying they couldn't spend public money for private use, and argued Birdland's drainage problem wasn't the fault of the township.

"It's not," said Kenneth Delbridge, director of building and planning. "Birdland's been there for a long time. The drainage from there isn't the problem. I looked at the site and in my opinion it's from improper maintenance of the culvert."

According to Delbridge, the water problem which may have aggravated Abbott's problem stems from a property owner on Hummingbird Lane who filled in a ditch without a county permit. Delbridge says the ditch must be reopened to allow unrestricted water flow.

After the meeting, Abbott said he plans to request to be on the township board agenda again.

"I know I'm right on this thing," he said. "They said they didn't want to set a precedent, but they have because they gave my neighbor $4,000 a couple of proposed, and we'd like to know what you have in mind before considering you above all others.'

Trustee William Vandermark reminded the board its two remaining liquor licenses must last until the next allocation after the 1990 Census.

"I'm not in favor of giving them a license. I think it's better to turn them down," he said. Without a liquor license, I do think the business is in jeopardy," Allen said. "And as far as violations, any code violations would be part and parcel of the LCC's investigation. They'd have to be cleared up before a license would be granted.

"Liquor, is a significant part of the business,"

she finished. Pine Knob can't be considered for a Resort License unless no other licenses are available, according to Jerry Norris of the LCC.

And it's not eligible for a license that's granted when owners make $1 million in improvements for the same reason, he said.

But the LCC can waive the law if shown "good reason." Asked to define good reason, Norris said, "I don't know, I'm not a member of the commission."

After lengthy discussion, the board voted unanimously to invite all those on the liquor license waiting list to the Aug. 14 meeting to make their presentations.

The ganut

My son, whose new job is washing dishes at a restaurant, was at work a week or so ago when he came up with a better job title: china, silver and crystal glorifier.

He said he was working away at the dishwashing machine—and thinking—when the inspiration hit.

We laughed, because there's really nothing glorious about being a glorifier, but it sounds like there might be.

Some people from Clarkston were in Wisconsin a few weeks ago at a game between the Detroit Tigers and the Milwaukee Brewers.

Clustered together in the stands with a group of Tiger fans, the Clarkston people were yelling something like; "C'mon Kirk Gibson, hit one for Clarkston, Michigan.

From behind came a voice: "Did you say Clarkston, Michigan?"

In answer to the affirmative, the stranger asked another question: "Do you know Kathy Greenfield?"

Pause a moment, like I did when I was hearing the story, and try to figure out who in the heck would be asking that question in a sports stadium in Wisconsin. It should have been easier for me than for you, but I was momentarily stumped.

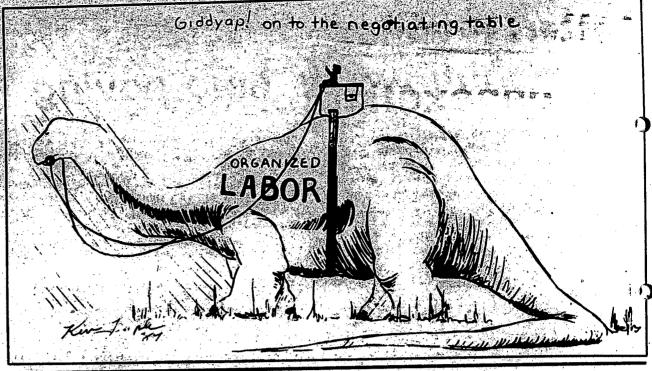

In response to my questioning look, I was given the answer: "It was your brother."

A Wisconsin resident but Michigan native, my brother had made it a point to see the Tigers in action there.

Didn't it seem strange to have a day off-and a Clarkston parade-in the middle of the week?

We had chop suey for lunch and pizza for dinner. Someone said hot dogs and apple pie would have been more in keeping with the 4th of July holiday.

But the menu seemed appropriate for a country made up of people from all over the

Circus deserves cheers

Congratulations are in order for members of the Independence Township fire department for hosting a super circus.

It all began a couple of years ago when firefighters Gary Tressel and Steve Ronk wanted something else to do during the July 4 weekend. After considering the possibilites, they chose a circus and the work began.

The end result was masterpiece of organization. Hundreds of people worked on the event and they all deserve praise for the end result, but special thanks belong to Tressel and Ronk who led the effort.

According to Ronk, 12,000 people attended the circus at Dixie Highway and Maybee roads in Independence Township. Ronk said even members of the sheriff's department were amazed that there wasn't one problem-no injuries, no accidents, no brawls in the beer tent.

The circus itself was a delight. And while tons of money was not made, each charity group that volunteered to work on parking and grounds maintenance will receive something, Ronk said.

His words bear repeating: "It was definitely a success for a first-year event, no doubt about that. The public just loved it. They thought it was great. We had people who told us we really had to make it an annual event."

Before the circus arrived there were some scary moments, Ronk said. Considering that expenses are expected to total around $65,000, that's understandable. The final figures won't be available until all the bills are in and paid, probably sometime this week.

We had a lot of people tell us we were crazy," said Ronk, "The first night when people came out of the tent and said it was great, we said, 'Phew!' "

From our observations, the circus is an event! that should stay. Breaking even the first year with some money for charities is an admirable accomplishment and it was good enough to keep generating excitement—and more money to support good causes.

For their unselfish giving to offer some good, clean family fun in our township and work to help others, we salute our fire department members.

Letters to editor

No annexation of Clarkston

Concern has been voiced in recent weeks by members of the Clarkston Village Council about fears of takeover by Independence Township, presumably by annexation of the village.

Michigan law and the State Boundary Commission agree that no Michigan law provides for annexation by either general law or charter townships of other municipalities.

Further, with one exception, no annexation of consolidation of two municipalities may occur without an affirmative referendum vote in each of the municipalities.

The one exception is in the annexation by a city of adjoining township acreage with a population of less than 100 residents—the device used by the City of Rochester, for example, to annex Parke Davis properties from Avon Township.

To my knowledge, the only discussion of cityhood

Huzzah! Huzzah! I hope we are among many letter writers taking time to express thanks to those responsible for arranging the local appearance, site preparation, sponsorship, publicity and general presentation of the M&M Circus.

My family and friends were thrilled by Thursday evening's performance. European-style circus is by far a better family-type and therefore a more enjoyable circus to us.

Our active and volunteer firemen whose total commitment to making our 4th of July memorable should be well-thanked.

The Band Boosters, Rotary and countless others should receive applause tool Those sponsors whose support was so critical should take bows year round.

I hope it will become a mid-summer tradition and that the community will sample this portion of true summer fun annually.

With regards to the recent 4th of July parade, I thought parades were for children and/or the young at heart. My 5-year-old doesn't vote!

If the politicians want to be in the parade; let them be creative and build a float. How much effort does it take to sit on the back of a courfesy car and wave?

Or is that just a sample of what they will do once in office, "SIT AND WAVE."

Laura Aulgur

The Clarkston (Mich.) News Wed., July 11, 1984. 7 Zigmund Freed by Dan Ziegler

Roads will benefit from gravel

That "Beer Bottle Hill" (now known as the Nunn land) has always been a barrier to usage. Part of the hill has already been used to improve our own Maybee Road.

Another hill, across from my house, was taken to build I-75—back before so many, now in our township, decided to move here.

Right today and since last fall, that same lowered-hill area on Waldon is being used in the repair of I-75.

In addition to the repairs on I-75, we need those other two cloverleaf circles to be put in at the northern side of I-75, Sashabaw intersection—to eliminate those left-hand turns.

That last circle put in, behind my house, has been a godsend on moving traffic out here.

The highway departments, county, state and federal, control the placements of traffic lights. A traffic signal has been needed out here at Sashabaw and Waldon for a long time. My corner has been changed, rearranged, improved and improved again.

It still needs a traffic light!
The roads of this state, this county, this township need improvements. Roads aren't made of "green cheese from the moon." It takes gravel, sand, fill dirt, concrete, black-top, etc. Humans change it around for the best usage for many—when it comes to ROADS.

Maybe you would like to go back to the old roads of only 20 years ago, or so, and/or to where you came from.

Again, many of you know that I had to lose half of my land for that nice I-75 that gets so many of you to work, and back home again.

How many remember how Maybee Road used to be? or Waldon? or any other road you, yourself, travel on?

Another thought—has someone had hindsight as to the value of that 50 acres now, years after Mr. Nunn bought it from a previous owner? Maybe, too, the problems of the elevation within the area was not considered by previous planning and zoning boards.

Throughout the 31 years we have owned our land, the zoning and planning boards have changed, rechanged, rechanged it again so many times, and never at our request—only "theirs."

Fishing for mice

A few weeks ago I came out strongly in favor of dilatory indolence for retirees. I was surprised at the large number of readers who responded to that column and smugly pleased that every letter writer except one agreed with me. The lone exception was the gentleman who started the indolence discussion in the first palce. He accused me of fishing for mice.

He is Donald Ollesheimer, a former Detroit area resident now busily retired in R. Myers. Fla. He said that at first he wasn't going to reply to my defense of dilatory indolence, but then he remembered something written many years ago by the late columnist H.C.L. Jackson in the Detroit News.

"Jackson said that putting out a daily column was a difficult task," Ollesheimer recalled. "Filling those column inches with words wasn't so hard, but to find topics that were interesting, day after day, required a lot of ingenuity. That was when he imparted the secret of his success. What he did was to write a story about some amazing thing that mice did. Byeryone had a 'mouse story, the believed. Everyone was anxious to tell it to him, and to d have material for more columns.

"Jim;; were you also fishing?" Ollesheimer asked.
"Was the paper in the typewriser looking unusually blank and long? Were you trying to find mice? Squask!"

OLLESHEIMER PRESUMED that my praise of dilatory indolence was a joke told only to get a rise - and column material - out of readers. Not true. I was sincere when I wrote that after I retire. I don't want to do anything more strenuous than read or gaze fondly upon my chikiren and grandchildren as they tell my great-grandchildren to let me sleep.

I was responding to an Ollesheimer statement that appeared in Don Jensen's retirement column in the Pree Press. Ollesheimer said he was bugged by retirees who didn't work. He said most of them suffered from "a post-65 disease called dilatory indolence. Some seem to have contracted this long before 65, and it infected their minds."

According to my dictionary, to be dilatory is to delay, procrastinate and miss deadlines. To be indolent is to avoid exertion. That is exactly what I want to achieve when I retire. I only hope I can afford to be that lazy.

I realize that some retirees who can afford dilatory indolence reject it in favor of volumeer work so they will feel that their life is still "worthwhile." That's OK; to each his own, I always say. But if the completion of 50 years of hard work doesn't make me feel worthwhile enough; I will assuage my conscience by getting a newspaper rouse for my wife.

Jim Fltzgerald.

ACCORDING TO MY MAIL, most retirees think I have the right attitude about dilatory indolence. Donald Ollesheimer, however, squeaks interestingly for the opposition. Listen to him: "You should take a walk through some of these retirement homes and communities. ... take a look at some of these poor souls that sat in their rocking chairs until the sickness (dilatory indolence) caught up with them. It is a disease, you know. It starts with continued watching of soap operas, the reading of sensationalist newspapers and indulging in overlong sessions of gossip. If feeds like a fungus on other people's troubles and sensitions so that there isn't time to experience any interest or enjoyment of your own. Soon the brain atrophies, the belly sags and the muscles become flaccid through disuse. The eyes develop a glazed look, the skin turns chalky and the lips keep muttering strange incantations to invisible thoughts. Retirement communities are filled with these diseased people.

Well! Perhaps some residents of retirement communities would like to respond to Ollesheimer, if they can stop watching soap operas long enough. I will publish the most interesting sequeaks the next time the paper in the typewriter looks unusually blank.

Clarifications on trip to Russia

I wish to thank Marilyn Trumper for the good job she did writing up what was a fairly lengthy discussion we had about my trip to the Soviet Union. As I got rolling I tended to jump from topic to topic but she kept up admirably.

I would like to amend some items in the story that probably got caught in the midst of my jumps.

First, we were not given icons by the women at the churches. We were given crosses, scarves, flowers and even one salt shaker, but no icons.

Also, the tree branches are symbols of the Pentecost, which we celebrated in Moscow.

There are 40, not 30, active churches in Moscow, with 130 more in the greater Moscow area.

There have been no more church closings that we heard of since the time of the early 1960s, at least in the Russian Orthodox church. The ones opened as museums were closed during or shortly after the revolution and consolidation of the Soviet regime.

It was not me but rather the leaders of the group of 270, the Rev. Bruce Rigdon and the Rev. John Lindner, who spoke to Alexei Bichkov, general secretary of the All Union Council of the Evangelical Christian Baptists about the incident at the Baptist church in Moscow.

I might add that in recent years the All Union Council has worked toward reunion and 67 congregations from the dissidents are now registered.

The description of the richness of the churches was specifically about St. Isaac cathedral in Leningrad. No others I saw had malachite columns and the abundance of gold leaf.

This cathedral was commissioned by Peter the Great. It was closed in 1928 and reopened as a museum in 1931. Other churches were well kept up and many still had the gold leaf and gilt icons they had acquired over the centuries.

While it was true that the Russian Orthodox church will celebrate 1,000 years in 1988, the Georgian and Armenian Orthodox have already celebrated 1,500 year anniversaries.

Lastly, the Armenian holocaust by the Turks was in 1915 rather than 1904.

Again, I appreciate the work Marilyn Trumper did and I appreciate the opportunity to add the above information and clarify what I said to Marilyn.

By the way, I have my slides back and am willing to take my show on the road.

Ball boy has a close-up look at tennis racquet club.

By Kathy Greenfield

Dressed in white tennis shorts, a blue T-shirt and proper shoes, Jason Tannehill is ready to begin.

It's his fourth day as a volunteer ball boy for the United States Tennis Association Women's Circuit of Michigan tournament at the Deer Lake Racquet

The 11-year-old Deerhill Road, Independence Township, resident meets with his group, all around his age, about a half hour before the matches are scheduled between the professional women tennis players from all over the world.

The sun beats down. The boys reach into a cooler filled with water and orange juice—and pop chunks of ice into their mouths.

They talk, lounge on chairs placed near the tennis net, and wait.

One spots a wasp flying about. They see more wasps going into the post hole smack in the middle of the net.

When the women organizing matches pause to give the group some last-minute instructions, the boys stress there's a potential problem. The organizers agree. The boys wait some more while the wasps are eliminated.

The referee makes the announcement: two minutes for a warm-up before the match between Linda Howell of the United States and Rebecca Bryant of

The ball boys snap to attention, giving all their concentration to the game and running full speed to pick up balls that bounce off the net and land in the court.

Jason's job is important. And he's glad he

'It's really been fun to watch them," he said.

women's tennis tournament held at the Independence

"There's a big difference between them. Some of them get really mad. Some of them just talk to

In position to watch every movement of the tennis ball, Jason's ready to spring into action.

Jason waits to catch the eye of another bail boy assigned to relay the tennis balls to the players, then whips it across court.

Golfer's dream

By Kathy Greenfield

Every golfer dreams of somehow, sometime hitting a hole-in-one.

Janet Thompson's moment came July 2 at the 15th hole at Spring Lake Country Club in Independence Township.

The 31-year-old Green Haven Road, Independence Township, resident began golfing about six years ago when her husband, Rick, bought her a set of clubs.

They consider the sport recreation and both took a vacation day from work last week to swing the clubs. It was not and they considered quitting after the ninth hole, but pushed onward.

Janet, who says she may give up her putter, was using a 4-iron on the 115-yard hole when she made the perfect hit. "I just felt sort of numb," she said. "We just sort of stared at each other. We didn't know what to say. In fact, it probably took about two hours to sink in, and then I thought, 'Well, where do I go from here? Do I retire or do I keep trying?' "

But back to the golf course.

"We were standing on the tee. I started jumping up and down and making a lot of noise," said Janet.
"Somebody came running up and said, 'I hope you brought a lot of money. You have to buy everyone in the bar a round of drinks.' I was glad I had my VISA

Janet couldn't wait to tell her family—all serious golfers, but none able to boast a hole-in-one.

"They decided they've all been working on it too hard," she said.

Eight or nine golfers have made holes-in-one at Spring Lake so far this season, but Janet was the first from the Clarkston area, said Gary Berschbach, pro shop manager.

While he walts for the matches to begin, Jason conserves his energy—and tosses a tennis ball into the air. Jason says he'd like to become a tennis pro himself one day.

olid statistics ease adjusting to college

By Dan Vandenhemel

The transition from high school to a major college campus can cause problems, especially if the person participates in sports.

The new surroundings, the class load and competing on the higher athletic level can add pressure to the student-athlete.

For Annette Ulasich, her freshman year at Grand Valley State College went better than expected.

The 19-year-old went to the college in Allendale, near Grand Rapids, on a half-paid tuition scholarship for basketball.

Ulasich's decision to attend Grand Valley over other schools that recruited her, including Wayne State and Central Michigan universities, was because she could play softball at Grand Valley. The others would not let her.

It was a good choice for the 1983 graduate of Clarkston High School. She led the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in hitting, with a hefty they have real long matches. It's fun most of the time. You have to run a lot."

Because of Jason, his family opened their home to tennis tournament participant Adriana Villigram of Argentina. She was a guest from Sunday through Thursday.

For Jason, the experience of getting to know a tennis professional enhanced his own participation.

"It's fun talking to her because she has an accent," he said. "I learned a lot about tennis. I played with her at a woman's house in Bloomfield Hills at a party. She tells you to calm down when you get mad. It's really nice.

For Jason's mother, Lou, the experience has also been positive.

'It's really been a delight," she said. I was really nervous because we've never done anything like that. She's just a super nice lady and it's been super fun for us to have her. She's very polite, very nice and it's really been fun. I'd do it again."

Tennis pro Adriana Villigram, computer ranked 170th in the world, left the Clarkston area Thursday for a tournament in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The 27-year-old had moved up in women's tennis, and the tournament in Brazil carries more prize money.

Shortly before her departure, she took a few minutes to talk about her stay, the first in Michigan.

'Very nice people, and the club, too, very nice," she said with a Spanish accent. "I like this area, all the United States. I like Miami. I like America. It's very nice for me. It's really different than other countries. If you need something the people will help you. In Europe, you need something it's really different. I like it, sure."

The USTA Women's Circuit in Michigan was sponsored by Tennis and Crumpets, with all profits to go to Children's Hospital, Detroit.

This is the first time the group sponsored a professional tennis match, but it's also active in amateur tennis and expects to donate $1 million to charity this year, said co-promoters Jane Greenawalt of West Bloomfield and Diane Dyla of Bloomfield Hills.

On the porch of their Deerhill Road home. Jason Tannehill and his mom, Lou, flank tennis pro Adriana Villigram of Argentina.

.471 average while playing third base.

"I was surprised to have batted that high," the Reese Road, Independence Township, resident said. "Hitting .300 is good; .471 is really good."

Starting every game at third and batting third, Ulasich also led the team in RBI's and doubles and hit the only home run for the Lakers. She was awarded the Golden Glove for the top fielder on the team.

Pitching was also a strong point for Ulasich. She posted a 3-1 record including a no-hitter against Hillsdale while posting an ERA of 1.04.

The pitching is on a lot better level," Ulasich said. "In high school the pitching was slower and I had a little trouble. The one thing about this year, I only struck out twice and that was near the end of the season."

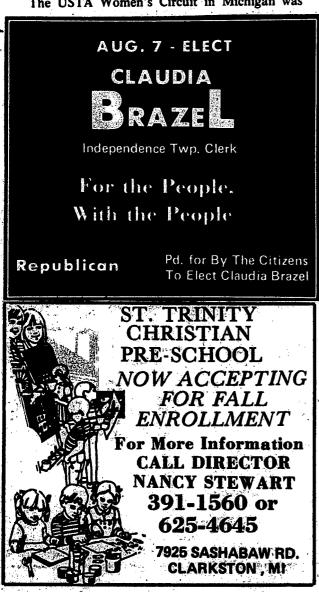

Part-time pitching duties were also a highlight of the season for the right-hander.

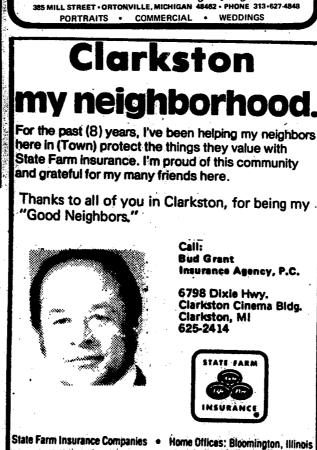

Her third start on the mound of the year was against Hillsdale. Ulasich was able to pitch a no-hitter with some good defensive help.

'It was almost a one-hitter," she said. "The last out of the game came when the batter hit the ball to right but the right-fielder threw her out at first. That happens in softball but not very much.'

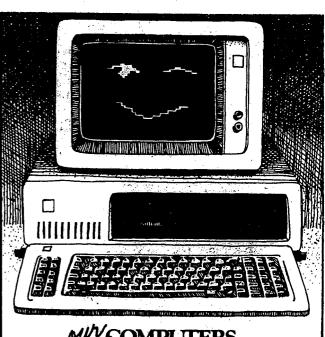

The basketball season was a quiet one for Ulasich. She played well but didn't receive a lot of court time.

"I didn't expect to see much (playing time)," she said. "Overall I'd say I'm better at softball but I like basketball. Hopefully I'll see more time next year in basketball and play well again in softball."

Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there.

A few notes from another vacation that went by too quickly. Ever wonder why it seems to take so long to get to the vacation spot?

Then again, how quickly the time goes when you're on the return trip?

Grayling hasn't changed much since last July. The person who invented pine scent deodorizers never took a deep breath in a pine forest.

Best thing about my vacation or vacations in general are the naps.

Fly fishing for trout on the Manistee River is a close second.

Didn't get a chance to try the hamburgers at Spike's Keg-o-Nails. They came highly recommend-

.I think my little dog firmly believes that walks along a sandy trail is what vacations are all about.

She's not the only one.

The Manistee is such a picturesque river, with the pine trees lining the twisted water and the dotted marshes and log jams.

Lots of deer tracks were spotted, but only one

No rattle snakes reported this year.

Phone calls back home produced smiles that lasted the entire week.

This was the 11th straight year for the family fly fishing vacation.

I'm glad my brother got a chance to come up for a short time. He really loves it there.

Hopefully this time next year I'll have another batch of memories to jot down.

Hard practices will soon be forgotten, for the Orange Crush players now have championship trophies to show for their work.

Crush earns soccer title

By Dan Vandenhemel

The very first state organized championship belongs to the Orange Crush, a Waterford youth soccer team made up primarily of Clarkston players.

Coached by Bill Deloney and Vern Boge, they downed a team from Romeo, July 1, at Schoolcraft College in Livonia to take the title for the under-10year-old division.

"They were pretty excited," Deloney said after the final game. "This is the first team in the Waterford area to win something like this."

To qualify for the tournament, the team had to play in a state recognized league and come in first. Sixteen teams statewide were eligible for the two-day

In the Waterford Parks and Recreation league the team finished with a perfect 8-0 record. Their name comes from the bright orange T-shirts they wear. They call themselves the Crush.

"About four years back, Independence and Waterford had a combined soccer league. Independence pulled out to form their own league,' Deloney said. "We decided, primarily me, that we should stay in Waterford because they were established.

The tournament started with a 2-1 victory in overtime over Plymouth in a preliminary game, June 19. That advanced Waterford to the quarterfinals.

Triumphs over Livonia and Huron Valley on June 30 opened the door to the finals.

"They were concerned... I told them, 'Hey, take this just one game at a time,' "Deloney said. "I don't know who was more excited, the kids or the parents." About 125 people followed the Crush to Livonia both days to show their support.

"We had a pretty good group of kids and parents." Deloney said. "I think we had more parents than most teams watching."

For the championship, the players each received a trophy as did Deloney. A traveling trophy was started and will be passed along to next years winner.

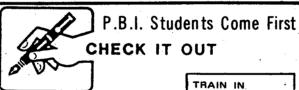

Players on the Crush from Clarkston were: Shane Brown, Dugan Fife, Bobby Doyle, Derek Hill, Patrick Forbes, Jamie Trapp, Mike Vagnetti, Steve Bennett, Aaron Phillips, Dave Warner and Jeremy Deloney.

Members from Waterford were: Jeremy Boge Dave Mark, Scott Mehlberg, Jamie Carey, Richard Larpenter and Matt Jeshuron.

Parents were a big help to coaches Bill Deloney and Vern Boge during the practice sessions for the Crushers. They were the defenders during ball handling drills. With the added help, the team of 8- and 9-year-olds came away with the first ever state soccer title for their age group.

School's out. As seniors graduate and celebrate and underclassmen just celebrate, I have time to sit back and think about all that has been accomplished this year with North Central.

It is with much relief that the end of internal evaluation is in view. Most of our reports have been completed and are in various stages of being typed, proofread, duplicated or packaged for our external team's visitation next fall.

As the internal evaluation is the segment of North Central that our staff works on the longest and hardest, the conclusion of this part of North Central brings enormous satisfaction, not to mention relief.

It is also a time for me to reflect on the areas of the report that I have proofread and am presently compiling:

These areas include some committee reports as well as individual staff reports.

You remember in my last letter I presented some strengths and weaknesses of the first reports completed. The major remaining areas include "Staff and Administration," "Student Services" and "Educational Programs."

Additional facts and opinions have surfaced in the remaining reports. Viewing these attributes helps to evaluate our high school more easily.

Because of your interest, I would like to share some of the main points made in the remaining reports.

STRENGTHS

- 1. The staff. The dedication and ability of the staff is a frequently mentioned comment. Faculty members willingly work with students and spend considerable time in curriculum development. The media and counseling staffs are cooperative and attempt to stay up to date. The high school administrators are well-qualified and dedicated.
- 2. The Board of Education. This group has established goals and priorities and has kept attuned to the needs and interests of the community. Maintaining full day sessions has been accomplished largely because of the board's ability to keep the district solvent.
- 3. Community Education. The expansion of the community education program has created an alternative to day school.
- 4. Support groups. The staff is made aware of students' health problems. The kitchen observes strict health and safety requirements. Bus service is reliable and has an excellent safety record.
- 5. Student rights and records. A student code of conduct is disseminated to all students, and due process is followed in all disciplinary problems. Student records are up to date and accurate.
- WEAKNESSES

 1. The physical plant. The physical organization and lack of space present problems in many areas. This is especially true of our media center, counselors' offices and secretarial workspace in the main office.
- 2. Lack of money. This is most obvious in lack of equipment such as up-to-date office equipment.
- 3. Staff. The high school lacks the number of staff needed to operate programs most efficiently. This is most apparent in the areas of counseling and media but it is also true in some subject areas. The use of teachers for supervision intensifies this problem. Many staff members teach six periods a day; some prepare for three or four different classes. This leaves little time for evaluation of programs and improvements.

4: Time management, Adequate time to evaluate programs is not provided. Many feel more teacher input into the curriculum would strengthen our programs. Administrators spend much of their day dealing with the attendance policy.

5. Communications. Lack of communication between various levels of education: staff, building administration, central administration and school board. Many feel there is a lack of appreciation for the accomplishments of all educators.

6. Procedures. There has been no preparation for a major disaster. In cases of illness, students must remain in the main office until home contacts can be made. Office secretaries must make decisions on what to do with ill students. First aid supplies are not readily available. Student records need to be kept in a safe place and follow-up studies need to be done on graduates.

7. Services. "Junk food" is served in the cafeteria in an effort to compete with fast food operations. Transportation safety is questionable because loading and unloading zones are not clearly designated.

9. Student problems. A variety of student problems—attendance, large classes, study hall, vandalism, discrepencies in judgmental standards, freedom of students to leave the building—need to be dealt with more effectively.

I am really proud of our staff, which has worked long and hard on this report. The next step in our North Central evaluation will take place next fall.

When school resumes, an external eviuation team will be assigned to visit our high school.

Before they arrive, we must send copies of all our reports to them. They will be able to learn a great deal about our school prior to their visitation.

Then in the middle of November, they will have the opportunity to visit us for two days and observe our school in operation.

What they actually will be doing is checking to see how accurately we have evaluated our own programs.

Were we able to pinpoint our strengths and weaknesses? Are our recommendations realistic? Is there a more efficient way to approach a problem?

These are some of the questions they will be asking as they compare our written reports with their observations.

After they visit, the external team writes reports, which eventually will be sent back to our school. Then begins our work of sorting through their evaluation and discussing it.

It is easily seen that, although a great deal of work has been accomplished, an enormous amount needs to be done before the end product will arrive back at our school.

We look forward to the challenges presented by our North Central evaluation.

Clarkston High School is committed to improving education any way it can; if we were not dedicated to the improvement of education, we wouldn't be

I'm looking forward to my next letter to you when I can tell you more about the external visitation.

Sincerely yours,

An Independence Township firefighter shares information with a deputy from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Men from both departments maintained 5,000-plus crowd at Clarkston's annual Fourth of July parade.

Celebrating freedom

By Marilyn Trumper

"This must be the whole crowd of people in Michigan," uttered a wide-eyed boy standing on the shady side of Clarkston's Main Street for Wednesday's Fourth of July Parade.

Deputies from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department estimate upwards of 5,000 patriots, many waving flags and balloons, lined the mile-long parade route for the 50-minute show of floats, antique cars, cheerleaders, marching bands, horses, clowns and this year's string of election candidates for everything from district judge to United States Congress.

Military men in full-dress and sailor whites stood proudly amid a crowd that yelled and clapped loudly when the engines of two Air Force jets flying overhead ripped through the sky, opening the annual Independence Day celebration.

For three hours before the parade, volunteers at the Masonic Lodge griddled pancakes, link sausage and eggs for breakfast. People lined up and down the block, and poured out onto Main Street well into the 10 a.m. hour for seats inside.

Dressed in Stroh's chef hats and aprons, cooks braved the kitchen's rising temperature and never missed a flip.

Tribune/United's Independence Cable Television filmed the parade with ground crews, and from a bird's-eye-view in a cherrypicker high above the crowd. There's no word on when that will air, according to one of their cameramen, who suggests subscribers watch the TV listing.

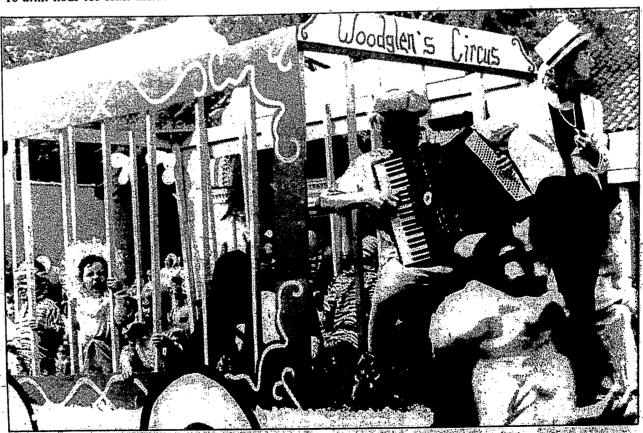

Jon Abbott of Paramus Drive, Independence Township, donated music from his 57-year-old Wurlitzer Band Organ which simulates a 20-piece marching band. Sounding like a merry-go-round calliope, for which it was designed, the organ filled downtown's Main Street with real oom-pah-pah and drew a steady circle of curious onlookers.

Later, dressed in the scarlet and gray of the Ohio Buckeyes, Abbott paid off a six-month bet and rode in Doug Pearson's University of Michigan float carrying a sign that said, "Only a Clown Would Bet Against

Carr nets light

A traffic light is on order for Dixie Highway at the entrance of the Harvard and Waterfall Plaza shopping centers, according to 6th District United States Congressman Bob Carr (D-Okemos).

Carr requested the light from the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) after holding two community meetings regarding traffic problems in the area just south of the Independence Township line.

The shopping centers are located across the highway from each other, south of Andersonville Road in Waterford Township. The light, to be in place before the end of the year, will have a left-hand turn signal and a left-turn lane will be added, according to Carr.

"My constituents want interim solutions as well as long-term reconstruction of the highway," he said. "It is simply too dangerous a road to wait for years before something is done."

Carr praised MDOT for being responsive in this case, but he added that more needs to be done.

"We are finally getting closer to a safer highway," he said.

School flashers

Flashing lights announcing school zones at Bailey Lake and Sashabaw elementary schools should be in place before summer's end, according to an Oakland County Road Commission spokesperson.

Cost of the school flashers on Pine Knob and Maybee roads is $7,953, with installation by road commission crews.

The project is part of the Tri-Party Program, in which township pays one-third of the cost, road commission one-third and Oakland County one-third.

Double fund raiser

Independence Township Clerk Richard Holman and Larry Rosso, a trustee candidate, are co-hosting a campaign fund raiser Saturday, July 21, at The Cookery in the Clarkston Mills Mall.

Tickets for the full breakfast that runs from 9:30 to 11 a.m., are $12.50 a person.

Both candidates are Republicans.

In his Army dress blues, Brad Collins suffers the heat while standing behind his folks watching the independence Day celebration on Main Street. Collins, a member of the Army's horse riding Caisson Platoon in Fort Meyers, Va., was home on leave.

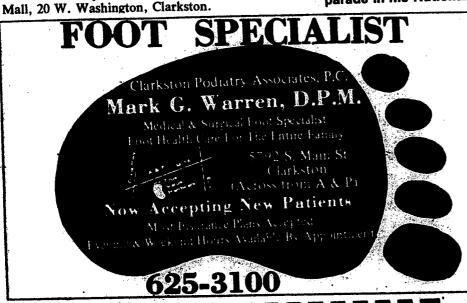

Visiting friends in Independence Township, Michael King from Ionia showed up for the parade in his National Guard uniform.

Military patriots

Tony Palazzola of Independence Township just ended his active duty with the United States Navy and is now in the reserves. But he showed up in his sallor whites for the July Fourth Parade. Says the Oak Hill Road resident, "i'm still proud of it."

All about LATAs, long distance calling, and Michigan Bell discounts.

LATA is a telephone term that's new to all of us.

Explaining that LATA stands for Local Access Transport Area doesn't help much, but LATAs are really very simple. They're telephone service areas. There are five LATAs in which Michigan Bell provides telephone service.

LATAs and long distance calling.

If you look at the map, you will see the five Michigan LATAs, including the LATA you are in. Now here's how LATAs work. When you place a long distance call from one LATA to another telephone number within the same LATA, Michigan Bell can carry the call for you over its own network. When you place a call from one LATA to another LATA, either in Michigan or another state, it will be handled by the long distance company that provides that service to you (not Michigan Bell).

For example, if you call from Detroit to Flint (two cities within the same LATA), Michigan Bell will still be able to handle the call as in the past. But if you call from Detroit to Traverse City (from a city in one LATA to a city in a different LATA), a long distance company other than Michigan Bell will carry the call. As you may know, there are now a number of different companies you may choose from to provide your long distance service.

Your long distance bill(s).

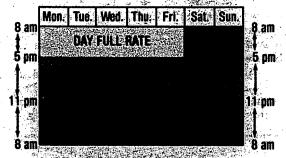

When you receive your Michigan Bell telephone bill, you'll find a page that lists your long distance calls handled by Michigan Bell. You may also find another page that lists long distance calls handled by other companies. This is because Michigan Bell may provide billing services for other long distance companies. Or you may receive a separate long distance bill directly from the company you've, selected to handle your long distance calls.

Long distance discount periods.

Michigan Bell continues to offer discounts on directdialed long distance calls within each of the five LATAs. We suggest you save the chart below as a reminder of the times when you save 30% to 50% off the Day Full Rate.

NOTE: When you begin a call during one rate period, your call will be charged at that rate; however, should that call-pass into a different rate period, your charges will change to the rate of the new period. For example, a weekday call that begins 10 minutes before 5 p.m. and ends 10 minutes after 5 p.m. will be billed at the full rate for the first 10 minutes and will be billed at the 30% discount rate for the last 10 minutes.

Save up to 50% on direct-dialed long distance calls. Schedule for direct-dialed long distance calls within Michigan LATAs.

*During the Evening Discount Period, you pay 30% less than the Day Full Rate Charge for direct dialed calls within each of the Michigan LATAs.

*During the Night and Weekend Discount Periods, you pay 50% less than the Day Full Rate Charge for directdialed calls within each of the Michigan LATAs.

More long distance discounts.

If you make a lot of direct-dialed long distance calls within 30 miles of your calling center and within your LATA, you may be interested in Circle Calling Service. By subscribing to this service, you get additional discount calling periods during which you can save 30% over the long distance rates in effect at the time of your call. The discount applies even when regular long distance discounts are in effect. No installer visit is necessary for Circle Calling.

We suggest you take a close look at the various Michigan Bell services available to you. At Michigan Bell, we're always ready to help in the selection of the service that's right for you.

Facts down the line. We suggest that you watch for further informational messages in your newspapers and in your monthly telephone bills. Because your telephone business office is busily engaged in normal day-to-day telephone service matters, we are providing this toll-free number as a source for answers to the questions you may have about your changing telephone company.

Friends' rolly helps Abboit win-prize

A trip to the World's Fair in New Orleans, La., belongs to Jon Abbott—thanks to some help from friends and neighbors.

Abbott won the all-expense-paid three-day trip for two from WJR-Radio last week

"What was really great, I just happened to be home;" he said. "1 came home early."

The phone rang at his Paramus Drive, Independence Township, home and a Clarkston woman told him his name was announced on the radio. There's a time limit on claiming the prize, so the woman hung up quickly and Abbott made the call.

The WJR line was busy. Then several other phone calls came through from people wanting to make sure he heard the announcement.

"I had four or five people rooting for me," he

Abbott called information, got another number for the radio station, and was triumphant in claiming the prize. "I finally got through, and Larry Rosso come running through the house (yelling), 'Ion, Jon!'" sale

Rosso was on the expressway when he heard his neighbor's name and he figured he had enough time to drive to his home and let him know.

While he's pleased he won; Abbott's in the midst of a busy summer. He had his eye on another prize offered in the contest.

"I wasn't planning on going to the fair. I told the girl at WIR. Really, I need a garment bag,' " he said. She didn't know how to take it. It was quiet for 10 or 15 seconds, it seemed like."

This isn't the first contest he's won. "I'm lucky, he said, matter-of-factly.

"I told the guys, "If you're clean-living, and go to church—and send in enough postcards—you win.

Fahrner, Hall share wedding vows

Friends and family numbering 100 saw Mary Fahrner and Thomas Hall wed the evening of June 1 inside Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church in Independence Township before the Revs. Bill and Jenny

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a southern belle gown of white lace with matching hat.

Maid of honor was the bride's siter Marcia Fahrner of Ann Arbor. Other attendants were the bridegroom's sister, Jan Smith of Pontiac, Lorie Freeman of Florida and Lorna Hall of Clarkston, the bridegroom's sister.

They wore gowns of light orchid Qiana with chiffon overlays.

Best man was Mike Mosher. Other attendants were Larry Smith, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, and Jeff and Ted Hall, brothers of the bridegroom.

Parents of the bride are Harry and Donna Fahrner of Clarkston. Parents of the bridegroom are Delray and Nina Hall of Independence Township.

At Roma's of Bloomfield 150 guests celebrated the couple's marriage.

They honeymooned in Nashville, Tenn., and Myrtle Beach, S.C.

They reside in West Bloomfield.

Couple wed in double-ring ceremony

Cynthia Ann Gregoire and Jon Edward Lewis exchanged marriage yows on Friday, June 15, at High Cliff State Park in Wisconsin.

The outdoor double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Albert Borns of New Holstein, Wisc. Music was provided by vocalist Patty Stevenson of Milwaukee, Wisc.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gregoire of New Holstein. She holds a bachelor's degree in occupational therapy from Mount Mary College, Milwaukee, and is employed at St. Luke's Hospital, Phoenix, Ariz.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Lewis of Clarkston. He holds a bachelor's degree in behavioral science from Grand Canyon College, Phoenix, and is currently in graduate school at Arizona State University while employed as a youth counselor at Camelback Hospital, Phoenix.

Attendants for the ceremony included Lori of the bride, and Terry and Todd Gregoire, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held at the High Cliff Supper

After a honeymoon in northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan, the couple returned to Pheonix.

Rev. Sommers Sr. retires from Maranatha

Church founder turns over responsibilities to son

By Kathy Greenfield

Thirty-six years ago the Rev. Philip Somers Sr. began working toward a goal that led to the founding of the Maranatha Baptist Church in Independence Township.

He's been pastor of Maranatha ever since-171/2 years—until June 30 when he retired and turned over the responsibilities to his son, the Rev. Philip Somers

Now 70, Somers leans back in the chair behind his son's desk at the church on Flemings Lake Road, Independence Township, and contemplates his fiveday-old retirement.

"It's already hard," he says. "It's a major adjustment that I wasn't anticipating. I have lived with major responsibilities since I was 17. My father died and left me with an invalid mother to take care of, so I've been in a position of responsibility for 53 years."

He talks about those early years without bitterness.

His father died during the depression, but Somers found a job, took classes to advance, got married, had two children and was moving ahead in a career in the General Motors Corp. research laboratory.

After World War II, he felt called to the ministry.

"I began to study for the ministry at age 33. That might be some help to people who think they can't start over," he says.

He worked and went to school, graduating from the Detroit Bible Institute and the Detroit Bible College. Two years after full-time Christian work, on March 13, 1950, he was ordained as a Baptist minister.

Somers was an assistant pastor at Beulah Baptist Church in Detroit, pastor of the Birkett Memorial Baptist Church in Detroit, worked in public relations at the Detroit Bible College and was pastor of the Marimont Baptist Church in Pontiac.

In 1967 the Maranatha Baptist Church was founded and in 1969 it moved to the new church building on Flemings Lake Road.

"Actually, this church started full-blown," Somers: says... "There was a group of 180 to 185 who wanted my son and me to pastor a church.

As a result, Philip Sr. and Philip Jr. have worked together 21 years. Five years ago, Philip Jr. became assistant pastor of Maranatha.

"The transition has been very smooth. All he had to do is change his title," Somers says, adding that the church also hired Bob Jones University graduate Steven Sanders as assistant to the pastor.

Somers is especially proud that all four of the children of he and his wife, Jeanne, are involved in the ministry.

"I think the best indication of what our ministry has been is our four children have followed in our footsteps by voluntary choice," he says.

Their three sons graduated from Detroit Bible College. Alan is a church pastor in San Bernardino, Calif., and David is assistant pastor at Five Points Community Church, Auburn Hills. Their daughter, Nancy, is the wife of a minister.

"I don't think we'd change a thing if we had the opportunity," he says.

The church has given Somers and his wife use of the parsonage for life and the parishoners named him pastor emeritus.

engagements and will teach at retreats and Bible conferences. He's also writing Bible study books and is working on a book he won't explain beyond "a personal experience one young man in the congregation has had in recent years.'

It's clear he'll miss the day-to-day contact with his 250 parishioners, but he's thankful for the life he's

"It's a very rewarding life in that you have an opportunity to minister to your people in times of stress and times of joy," he says. "Ministry's a very special calling."

To go with its new wetlands ordinance designed to eliminate appearances before the Army Corps of Engineers and the DNR Independence Township's established a $300 permit fee.

But it will refund money not used for engineering fees and environmental impact studies, if they're required, according to Treasurer Frederick Ritter.

Adopted this spring, the new law makes work in wetlands easier for small developers and individual homeowners, establishes the Wetlands Board which reviews proposed developments, and allows the

Winning geliers

Two Clarkston area girls were winners in the Oakland County Parks Junior Golf Invitational.

Laura Pociecha placed first in the 14-15 age division. The 14-year-old's scores were 119 and 124 during the two-day tournament at White Lakes Oaks and Springfield Oaks county golf courses.

In the age 12-13 division, Julie White took a second-place trophy. Her scores for the two rounds were identical 113s.

The 10th annual tournament drew 148 participants between the ages of 9 and 19.

Busload to see pope

A busload of Clarkston area residents who go to Toronto, Canada, to see Pope John Paul II—that's Mary Ann Shiff's goal.

Working through the Knights of Columbus in Independence Township, she's lined up 20 people for the Sept. 14-16 trip.

"I'm trying to get 20 more so we can fill a bus and get a bus to come right to Clarkston to pick us up, she said.

The tour, arranged through a travel agency, costs $169 a person and includes round trip motorcoach transportation, two nights of lodging, a welcome cocktail party, a dinner, and transfers to the site where the pope is to say an outdoor mass.

The deadline to sign up is July 15. Call Mary Ann Shiff at 625-5384 for more information.

New textbooks

New geometry textbooks are on order for Clarkston High School students.

The board of education unanimously approved the $4.155 expenditure for 300 books at Monday night's meeting.

The selection was recommended by a fivemember mathematics department committee, said Conrad Bruce, assistant to the superintendent.

'They felt it was the best book reviewed," he

Bruce noted the poor condition of the present textbooks which number 230, and said they can no longer be rebound and are not available for reorder.

Published by Scott, Foresman and Co., the books are titled "Geometry, Second Edition," and have a 1984 copyright.

Three new school assignments

Three new adminstrative assignments were unanimously approved by the Clarkston school board Monday night

George White was named principal of Pine Knob Elementary, a post he has held as acting principal since May when former principal John Reabe was reassigned to work with the superintendent. Previously, White was assistant principal of Sashabaw Junior High School.

Douglas Pearson was named assistant principal of the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education

Center, the post vacated when former assistant principal Alberta Ellis was appointed the new district curriculum director. Pearson was previously assistant principal at Clarkston Junior High School •John Reabe was named assistant principal at: Clarkston Junior High School.

The changes leave an opening for the assistant principal at Sashabaw Junior High School. The jobwill be posted and interviews conducted to fill the position before school begins in the fall, said Superintendent Milford Mason.

Director named

Alberta Ellis has been named curriculum director for Clarkston schools.

The former assistant principal at the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center was unanimously approved for the newly established post at Monday night's board of education meeting.

Eight candidates were interviewed for the job. and the interviewing committee made up of two teachers: two administrators and two board members recommended Ellis for the job, said Superintendent Milford Mason.

The position is equal to that of a central administrator, he said.

Sun is shining on American auto industry again - Reagan

BY CHARLOTTE WALL Review Staff Writer

Calling the construction and operation at the Orion Township General Motors Assembly Division plant a courageous investment, U.S President Ronald Reagan dedicated the facility last Thursday.

"In a time of great uncertainity, GM proved that they had faith in our contry and faith in our country's economy." said Reagan from the stage within a large cleared area of the plant.

"This plant represents the 'can do' spirit for which your industry and Americans have always been known," said Reagan.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the plant took place in October, 1980. Reagan remembered that the "Big Three" in the auto industry had lost $4 billion that year.

"We weathered that storm together," he told the plant's workers. "And now the sun is shining on a strong economy, and on an American automobile industry that is moving forward again."

The audience broke into applause at several points during Reagan's 15-minute speech.

At times, the president's sense of humor came through.

Noting that he had been at the GM Technical Center in Warren prior to coming to Orion, Reagan said he had a chance to take GM Chairman Roger B. Smith for a spin in a newly designed car.

"Roger Smith is a brave man," said Reagan. "I reminded him that I had been in the back seat for three-and-one-half years."

Reagan said the nation, like the auto industry has enjoyed an economic increase in the last two years.

"For the first time in over a decade, we're enjoying a strong economy, falling unemployment, and low inflation all at the same time," said Reagan.

The plant, located in southern Orion Township between Silverbell and Brown Roads, officially began production on Dec. 1, 1983.

The Cadillac deVille and Oldsmobile 98 are produced at the plant.

Currently, there are some 3,325 employees at the plant. At full production, the employee count will increase to 5,500 on two shifts.

A total of 157 robots are used in the plant's operation--138 are used during the welding operation and 19 are used in painting.

"The American automobile industry is back—back with pride, back with teamwork and back with performance that can and will make us number one," Reagan told the cheering employees.

Reagan pushes Americanism

By Marilyn Trumper

Over 2,000 workers at the GM Lake Orion Plant pressed into one corner of the production line "and gave President Ronald Reagan repeated rounds of applause during July 5th's dedication of the 4 month old plant

His message to labor was complimentary, thanking them for the spirit of cooperation with management that reflects the industry's determination to survive and triumph.

"And let me just share with you a conviction I feel deep in my bones: If we Americans keep working together to improve quality, and keep investing in America's technology to become more productive and hold down costs, then, yes, we can outcompete, outperform, and outsell the pants off anybody, anywhere in the world," Reagan said.

Although the UAW endorsed Walter Mondale for the Democratic presidential candidate, blue-collar workers in Orion applauded and cheered the president's speech, especially the parts that called for government de-regulation and how that's given GM and all automakers fertile ground for a comeback.

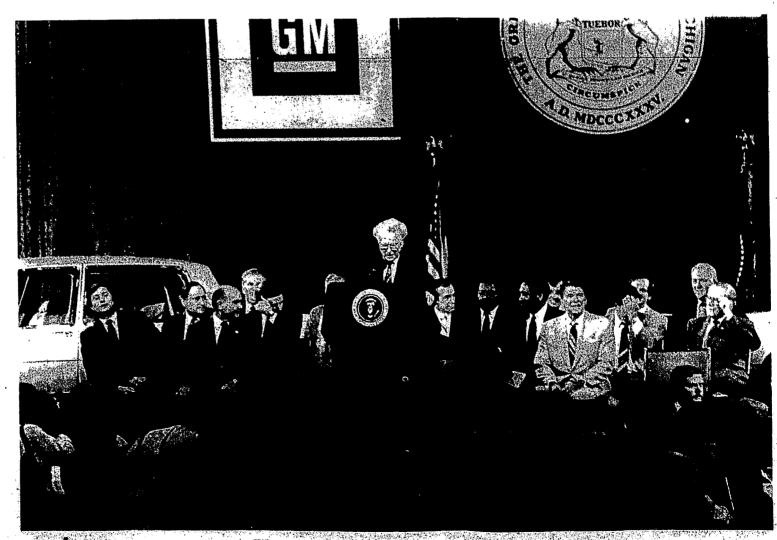

"Those selling the old, no-win notion that you can't have growth without high inflation have been proven wrong;" Reagan said. "They were wrong when they said inflation and interest rates couldn't come; down; wrong when they said recovery wouldn't come; wrong when they said the expansion couldn't last—and I think if they keep running down America they'll be wrong again, and again and again."

The president pointed to GM's 1983 production

"...General Motors has been reopening plants and putting on second shifts all over the country," he said. "I'm told that in the last 18 months, you've brought 90,000 men and women back onto the navroll.

"...We have every reason to be confident. Our country has recaptured the pride and community spirit that was for so long an essential part of our national character."

Touched by a wave

BY CHARLOTTE WALL Review Staff Writer

President Ronald Reagan won the heart of at least one Oakland County Sheriff's Department officer.

Deputy Fred Herman, a former Orion Township resident, said he will always remember last Thursday as a day the president took a minute from his busy schedule just to give Herman a smile and a wave.

On stage with the President

The occasion: a visit from U.S. President Ronald Reagan.

Reagan came to Orion to dedicate the plant, the area's newest General Motors Corporation facility.

On the stage inside the 77-acre plant, some three feet above the seating area, GM and government officials awaited the president's arrival.

U.S. Senators Carl Levin and Donald Riegle chatted amicably with GM President F. James McDonald and Gov. James Blanchard.

Plant Manager Leslie Richards, UAW Local 5960 President William Spencer, and UAW Local 5960 Shop Committee Chairman Paul Byford each drew rounds of applause from the nearly 2,000-strong workforce that turned out to greet Reagan.

Ben Maiback Sr., chairman of Barton-Malow Construction Company, had a place of honor on the stage. Maiback's company was the general contractor for the entire GMAD facility.

Orion Township Supervisor JoAnn VanTassel, State Rep. Mat Dunaskiss, State Senator Rudy Nichols, Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy and U.S. Rep. William Broomfield talked with the others on the platform as they waited for the nation's leader. Like those area representatives, Reagan is a Republican.

Out-of-town guests included Mayor Wallace Holland of the City of Pontiac and Wayne County Executive William Lucas.

Other members of the Orion Township Board had seats in the front section facing the stage.

Before the many officials took their places they mingled with the plant's employees, shaking hands, joking and chatting.

Though the local officials took some time to mix with the crowd, and perhaps do a little campaigning, the president did not.

He arrived by helicoptor outside the plant, then was whisked to the podium by a police-escorted limousine.

There, he was introduced by GM Chairman Roger B. Smith. Reagan dedicated the plant and he and Smith unveiled the official plaque commemorating the occasion.

Following his dedication talk, complimenting GM officials and employees for joining forces to make the plant's completion a success, Reagan was once again whisked away in the police-escorted limousine, to continue his trail across the country.

Covering the President

Reporters from The Lake Orion Review, Clarkston News and Oxford Leader, as well as their publisher, covered the visit of President Ronald Reagan to GM-Orion Thursday.

All carried cameras and note pads to bring you the photo-journalist coverage in this special section of the three newspapers.

Charlotte Wall represented the Lake Orion Review, Marilyn Trumper the Clarkston News, and Colleen Troy the Oxford Leader and Jim Sherman is the publisher.

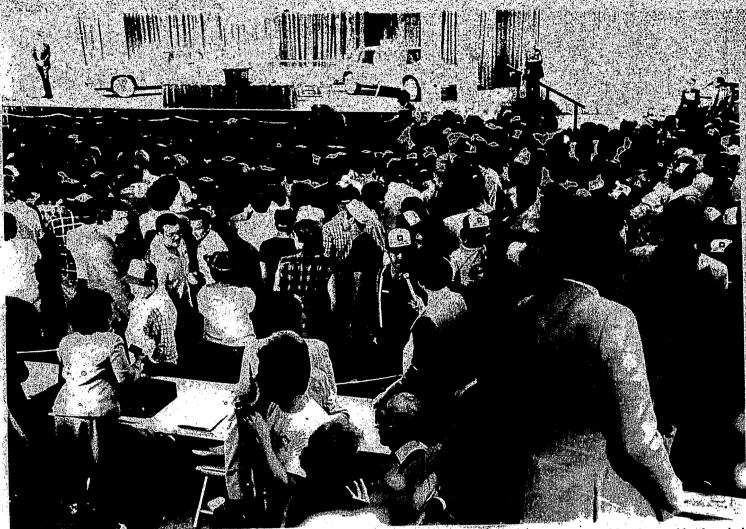

It took some special attention from Debbie Millen in the darkroom to bring out the best in the pictures.

Officials find him warm, impressive

BY CHARLOTTE WALL Review Staff Writer

Local government officials were touched by the reception President Ronald Reagan received Thursday when he visited the Orion Township General Motors Assembly Division plant.

But, they were also touched by the man who came to visit.

"I was sincerely moved," said Orion Township Clerk Katherine Jacobs. "He gave the impression of being a strong man, yet gentle and kind," she added.

Jacobs found his speech moving. "He didn't seem to be a phony," she said. "He seemed to really care about what was happening here and what he was saying about the event. Orion Township Supervisor JoAnn VanTassel said the president radiated a warm, friendly feeling while on

He turned and smiled at each of the persons on the stage with him as they were introduced. "I was impressed with how vigourous and healthy he is," said VanTassel. "When he shook hands, it was a strong firm handshake."

VanTassel said she felt good about the reception the crowd gave Reagan when he arrived.

When everyone was waiting, and the car came down the tracks, people began cheering before he was even visible," she said.

"It wasn't a perfunctory cheer, but a 'I really like this guy, and I'm glad he came to see me at my workplace' kind of cheer," said VanTassel.

State Rep. Mat Dunaskiss said he felt the reception

"I think people are satisfied with the job he's doing, and the reception he received when he visited showed that," said Dunaskiss.

VanTassel said she became aware of the president's responsibilities as she watched him during the Orion visit.

"He came in, then another man carrying a little black briefcase sat down in front of me," she said.

"I had the feeling that if Russia or anyone in the world decided to do something crazy, the president would have all the information he needs at hand.

Dunaskiss called Reagan's visit "the greatest moment" of his political career

"I've had a desire to meet him for a long time and to think that this occurred right here in our own township is just the greatest thing," said Dunaskiss.

"Reagan will go down as one of the great presidentright along with Kennedy, Franklin Roosevelt and Lincoln," said Dunaskiss. "He really turned this country

"I just can't get over the excitement," VanTassel said. "I thank the Lord that of all the people that have held this office, I was the one in it when the president

He would not have to travel back to Washington D.C. to take immediate action—he could act from right here," said VanTassel.

"It made me realize the responsibilities that man carries with him every single day.

That awareness increased VanTassel's pride in

"I told him I was very happy to have him here in Orion Township," she said.

One worker passed time reading a book.

GMAD Orion workers were given caps and flags for the dedication. Some got Mondale buttons, too. Chuck Stoop, an assembly line worker, wore his colors in his cap. Said Stoop, "it's the first time I've ever been this close to a president, I'm pretty excited about it."

The President takes time to meet Joey Taylor

BY JOYCE BONESTEEL Review Staff Writer

President Ronald Reagan looks better in person than he does on television, according to the John Taylor family of Orion Township. Taylor, his wife Carolynn and their three attractive children received a special invitation from the White House to meet the president when he came to the General Motors Assembly Division plant in Orion last Thursday,

The Taylors were singled out for the special honor because of their toddler son, Joey, and a letter his sister, Jenny, wrote to Reagan in June, 1983.

"I asked for help for Joey," Jenny said later. Her little brother was born with a heart defect. His great arteries were transposed, requiring major surgery within his first year of life.

They took him to Children's Hospital in Detroit the day he was born," Taylor says grimly.

Nobody expected this to happen, especially us," Carolynn adds. The doctors said there was no way to know it would happen.

"The pregnancy tests were normal; we thought he'd

Johnny, age 7. A temporary catheter containing a small balloon was inserted in the upper chamber of Joey's heart, allowing him more oxygen until he was strong enough to undergo

Unlike the rest of the family, Joey's skin was blue. "It was scary from the moment they told us he had to have surgery," Carolynn remembers. "We lived with

John, a supervisor at Ford Tractor in Romeo, had cal insurance benefits were due to end that August. "Joey was 12 days old," Taylor recalls.

"We went to Children's Hospital-Carolynn, Johnnie and I-to see him, and Jenny stayed at her grandma's house across the street.

"We came home, and Jenny said 'I wrote a letter to the president.' And we said, 'That's nice.' We humored Jenny mailed the letter June 16. Her parents didn't see the contents, and really didn't think Reagan would ever see them, either.

About two weeks later, the Taylors were shocked to receive a letter from a social security office in Baltimore.

"It was from a public relations person at social security," Carolynn explains. "He said he couldn't guarantee anything from the letter; he'd need forms, but he said he might be able to help us.

"It was November when we found out that Joey did qualify for SSI and medicaid.

On March 26, 1984, the Taylor baby successfully underwent major heart surgery.

"We walked in two hours after surgery," John begins, but his excited wife interrupts him.

"His lips were pink, his fingers were pink, and when he cried, he turned red!" she says. Joey came home one week after surgery. Today he needs no medication, and will return to the hospital for nual checkups. The Taylor family's happiness was enhanced when John was called back to work temporarily this June.

The icing on the cake came when they received the call from Washington, D.C., personally inviting them to meet President Reagan during the GMAD-Orion dedi-

to five strangers. It was a once-in-a-lifetime thing to thank someone like that for all his help."

They waved flags, whooping and hollering.

Hundreds of people crowded around the stage to catch a glimpse of one of the world's most recognized faces—U.S. President Ronald Reagan.

Even journalists in attendance, who are often a cynical lot, applauded his arrival.

Reagan's trip to Lake Orion, a first in Orion Township's history, created enough excitement in this area to reaffirm the sometimes shaky idea of patriotism in Am-

Barrett, a GMAD employee, figured the trip was part of a re-election campaign. "He wants us to vote for him, that's why he's here,"

Barrett has been at the Orion plant since it opened in December, working in the cushion department. Previously, she was laid off for 14 months. Guy Adams, who commutes to work from Flint everyday, was pleased to see Reagan visiting the plant.

"It's like a birthday or something," said the electrical inspector, whose 16 years seniority were threatened by a year layoff from Pontiac Motors.

Considering the layoff, Adams still supports Reagan, who he says had a lot to do with his being rehired. "Yeah, I do, all the way. He's helped us more than anyone we've had so far," he said.

Adams, who found himself craning for a view from the back of the crowd of hundreds of workers, said there were several who hadn't wanted to see the president. Those attending the half-hour dedication ceremony were drawn randomly. According to Adams, six out of each workroom were allowed to come to the official plant dedication. Those not chosen watched from closed-circuit televisions throughout the plant.

One angry worker, who found himself behind the curtain, said only 26 of the 76 workers in his department were allowed to see the president. "They should have worked it so we all could see being laid off for four years. From the moment Reagan and his entourage arrived by limousine into the still-shining new plant, the excit-

A reality many in the audience responded to, as they cheered, waved, and unabashedly showed their pleasure with the visit by the president of the United States.

Just in case

The Orion Township Fire Department was on the scene at the General Motors Assembly plant Thrusday, just in case they might be needed. According to Supervisor JoAnn Van Tassel, the plant requested that tankers be on stand-by while the president's helicoptor descended.

"It's my understanding that they were requested just in case there was any kind of accident or fire," said VanTassel.

She said plant officials wanted to make sure they would not have to call for help ifit was needed.

"The time factor was important," said VanTassel. "The trucks were there just in case anything happened, there would be immediate aid," she said.

Despite the fact that I had angrily argued about his administration just a day before, I was allowed to spend an afternoon in the same room with the president. I was not barred from entering. The notes I took were

It doesn't happen too often, but I got a lump in my throat, I looked at the people around me, all unique, all there because they really wanted to be. It struck me I have come from a time when patriotism is rather

Teamwork made visit safe

RY CHARLOTTE WALL

Review Staff Writer In only one week, General Motors employees put, together an audience seating area, a stage and all the needed security measures to ensure a safe and enjoyable visit for President Ronald Reagan. Reagan arrived in Orion last Thursday to dedicate the General Motors Assembly Division plant. According to Laurie Kay, a member of the plant's public relations team, the stage, audience area and press rooms had to meet White House specifications. About 30 persons worked on the stage area, said That group was from a Chevrolet plant based outside the Orion area. The press kits were put together by the GM public

In addition, Kay said the plant's officials wanted the day to be a special time for employees.

Souvenirs, including hats and flags, were ordered and given to employees prior to the visit. All employees, on both shifts, were treated to lunch

"Our catering company, Servomation, really worked hard on this," said Kay. The caterers also prepared the food for the press and president. Outside the plant, four parking light poles were removed to accomodate the president's helicoptors. Inside, the maintenance crews went "beyond the call of duty", ensuring that the plant projected a sparkling image.

"It was teamwork," said Kay. "All involved—the maintenance staff, the public relations team, everyone—did a great job."

"We wanted to ensure a safe visit for the president," said Kay. "The employees are proud of this plant, and they wanted the president to see that pride,"

Orion Township Fire Dept. set up three units in front of the GM plant.
