Fight against group homes

Board adopts own standards

By Marilyn Trumper

If the Macomb Oakland Regional Center pursues plans to build a group home for retarded adults at Oak Hill and Perry Lake roads in Bloch Equestrian Village, Independence Township is suing.

Charging excessive concentration with its existing group homes, and with Trustee William Vandermark saying "...I really feel (the state) is testing us," the board directed its attorney Sept. 18 to file suit if MORC pursues building on the three acres.

In addition, the board established three standards to define excessive concentration:

•If the number of beds exceed .4 percent of the population of the entire township or in any of the four census tracts used in the United States Census. (Currently there are 21,572 residents in the township, making the acceptable number of beds 86.3. There are 103 existing beds.)

•If the number of beds in each quadrant of the township exceeds another by more than one bed. (The concentration in the northwest quadrant is now considerably higher than the others.)

•If the number of group homes in the entire township or in each census tract exceeds .2 percent of the total homes. (Currently, there are 6,160 homes, making the acceptable number of group homes 12. There are 16 existing group homes.)

"It seems to me the time is ripe for us to establish a policy where the state has established none," said [Continued on Page 2]

2 thieves sought

Deputies from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department seek two men suspected of breaking into the Clarkston Cafe at 5:30 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 23.

According to reports, police on routine patrol saw movement inside the restaurant at 18 S. Main, in downtown Clarkston, and investigated.

One deputy entered through the back door, saw two men inside the restaurant, and watched them leave through the front door on Main Street. He radioed for his partner to head them off, and 10 seconds later when the second deputy arrived at the restaurant's front door, the two men were gone.

Suspecting they'd entered apartments adjacent to the cafe, police questioned residents and found the apartment where two men matching his description lived, reports said.

Obtaining a search warrant, deputies entered the apartment and found it empty.

A chair was found in the kitchen directly under a skylight leading to the roof.

Police have the names of the two suspects and reports indicated they'd be questioned.

Nothing was reported taken in the break-in.

Ritter home freed for move

Hank and Jennifer Radcliff landed final site plan approval to move the 120-year-old historic Ritter home to downtown Clarkston.

The house moving is planned the second week in October, according to Radcliff, who said he has permits needed from the state to lower streetlights and utility wires for the over-mile-long move.

After two hours of discussion at its Sept. 24 meeting, the Clarkston Village Council unanimously gave the Radcliffs approval, contingent upon proper bonding to insure the home and site completion; the inclusion of a swail, a dip in the earth to collect water runoff on the north property line; and a bond to protect the village parking lot if it's damaged.

According to Radcliff, the movers have indicated they'll enter the vacant lot north of the municipal parking lot, through the parking lot itself.

The Italianate cubed home's current site is targeted for a $600,000 fast-food Burger King restaurant, next to Ritter's Farm Market.

The council's approval ends five months of review of the Radcliffs' plans before local boards.

Township orders big cats out

By Marilyn Trumper

Independence Township wants William Murdock to get rid of his tiger and bobcat, and they're giving him 30 days to do it.

Murdock, whose son has the federal permits needed to have both animals at their northwest township home, refused to comment, saying only, ..I've heard nothing from the township."

On Sept. 18, the Independence Township Board agreed the zoning ordinance allows exotic animals only in recreational zoning like zoos, and voted 6-1 to have the giant cats removed or force the issue in court.

Supervisor James B. Smith, a former neighbor of Murdock's, abstained.

'There are foster homes in places like California that boards animals like declawed tigers and domesticated bears," Smith said, "although it is expensive."

According to township attorney Gerald Fisher, the issue is one of public safety.

"If we get a tiger or bobcat and someone gets hurt, then where are we?," Fisher said after the meeting. "I belive the township has some obligation to protect the safety of the township and its citizens.'

After notification, Murdock has 30 days to remove the animals, or 15 days to indicate he'll need more than 30 days, Fisher said.

"And we'll give him time."

Murdock says his 1-year-old, 200-pound tiger Athena has been declawed, and can't live in a zoo with other tigers.

Raised in captivity from birth, it's caged on the family farm. Murdock said in an earlier interview that Athena wrestles with his son like a dog and rides in the cab of his son's pick-up truck. One township official reported Murdock himself will put his head in the tiger's mouth like a lion tamer.

Federal law allows endangered species to be domesticated if they're raised in captivity from birth.

All-time high

The number of classified ads reached an alltime high in The Clarkston News and Penny Stretcher last week.

More people in northern Oakland County placed ads in these papers than ever, 801.

The previous high was 791 a year ago. The 801 was 30 higher than the previous week.

It's results that make our classifieds popular. Plain and simple, our ads get results," said publisher Jim Sherman.

M-15-work done

For a week, drivers in the mile-long M-15 corridor south of Clarkston village struggled with traffic funneled into one lane.

The county, using state dollars, paved road shoulders on M-15.

Work was expected to end Sept. 24, according to Dennis Pajot, public information officer for the Oakland County Road Commission.

township attorney Gerald Fisher. "Because of that we are forced to establish our own."

Fisher said the standards were determined by several factors.

'One of the most important things was looking at the percentage of group homes in other communities in Oakland County," he said.

In statistics provided by MORC, Pontiac was identified as having a heavy consentration of group homes, and Pontiac's figures are at the .4 percent of the total population, he said, adding that there were very few other municipalities with concentrations that heavy and many with no group homes at all.

Supervisor James B. Smith agreed that density standards must be established.

"The state always falls back on its 1,500 rule, that if no group home can be located within 1,500 feet of another group home, then there is no excessive concentration," he said.

Readying for ski season

By Marilyn Trumper

New owners of Pine Knob, the Nederlander Corp., are gearing up for the '84 ski season and have begun renovating Ice, the flashy art deco disco, into a ski lodge described as "...a warm room with lots of cushy chairs" by Elizabeth Roach, publicity director.

A month ago Pine Knob officials requested old pictures of the lodge in its heyday, including the fireplace, proposing to restore it to the original from the pink and mauve chromed marble disco.

That plan's changed.

"At least at this point we're not putting the fireplace back," Roach said. "It's not on the top of the priority list. We're laying new carpeting, getting rid of the marble and chrome and putting in warmer tones. We want people to feel comfortable coming in with their ski boots on, and they weren't (when Ice was open).'

According to Roach, Nederlander intends to open the lodge restaurant, which was in a state of construction and never used when Nederlander bought half of the complex for $14 million in a bankruptcy sale last February.

Nederlander's targeted a Thanksgiving Day opening, and hired a new mangagment team to get the 22-year-old lodge back on its feet.

According to Roach, they've bought a dozen new snow guns and intend to open a ski shop. There are a lot of things that need repair, that were just allowed to deteriorate," Roach said "The first priorty is to get those in order."

Pit seeks mining extension

Board names 4-man committee to review request

By Marilyn Trumper

Blount Materials of Michigan, operators of Salem Gravel Pit on Oak Hill Road, have requested a year-to-year extension to continue mining the 200-acre site, but Independence Township isn't agreeing right away and instead named a fourman committee to review the proposal.

In addition, the Alabama-based corporation wants its $48,000 escrow account which grows by $3,000 each month to be placed in an interest-bearing

"You have until April of 86 to continue mining, and that was based on the estimate you would remove 2 million tons of gravel when the consent judgment was agreed to in May of '82," said Trustee Larence Kozma."I feel (the judgment) is an appropriate document, not there to be altered. I'm not in favor of extending (the mining). It think it's premature."

Trustee Dale Stuart agreed, adding, "As far as the request for an interest bearing account, that's not the responsibility of this township. And besides, that money was designed to cover engineering costs to monitor reclamation, and reclamation itself if

After a four-day bargaining marathon in 1982, Blount and the township agreed to a consent judgment with a 1986 reclamation deadline.

Jim Scott, site manager, says they've only mined 25 percent of the anticipated 2 million tons of gravel.

You were generous giving us that market two years ago," Scott told the board. "We've gotten out 550,000 tons of stone in the last two years and an insurmountable amount of sand, but sand doesn't sell."

Scott says they must begin reclaiming the site now to meet the '86 deadline, unless granted an exten-

After lengthy discussion, the board agreed to have Clerk Christopher Rose, Trustee William Vandermark, Supervisor James B. Smith and township attorney Gerald Fisher review Blount's proposal and report back to the board.

Trustee Dale Stuart was the lone dissenter, still maintaining an extension is premature.

According to Smith, Blount has met all terms of the reclamation spelled out in the consent judgment.

"He is a big contractor on the international market," Smith said. "I think if there were a violation we'd have someone from Alabama here in 48 hours."

1984-85 tax rate down 6.7 %

By Marilyn Trumper

There's some good news about '84-85's tax collec-

The average Independence Township tax bill will be $15 to $16 less than last year, according to Assessor David Sherrill. In addition, the overall millage rate is down 6.7 percent from 1983. And the township's picking up the sewer ad valorem tax again this year.

On Sept. 17, the board unanimously adopted the 1984-85 tax rate, which includes the last collection year for the township's property purchase tax, Voters approved the five-year millage in 1979 to buy 80 acres from the Edward C. Levy Co. targeted for part of its defunct 300-acre mining operation adjacent to Clintonwood Park.

And for the third year running residents won't be paying a sewer ad valorem tax.

Again, the township board's agreed to use a portion of $1.2 million in excess sewer construction funds and dollars from past levies to meet '84's $212,000 sewer debt payment. Next year's levy is at the mercy of findings by Bendizinki & Co. Since February the Detroit-based firm's been conducting a sewer and water rate study to determine the fate of the $1.2 million sewer fund and water fund.

Below is a list of the township's five millage rates, not including sewer, and their expected yields:

•General fund: 1.2086 mill; $300,038.

•Police: .9866 mill; $262,000. •Fire; 2.5882 mills; $724,000.

Property purchase: .2959; $82,800.Safety path: .4286; $114,000.

A homeowner with property assessed at $40,000, or half the market value, will pay approximately $220 in township taxes this year.

-Sheriff's log—— Auditors praise school district

Auditors from Plante and Moran of Southfield presented the Clarkston school district with a "clean bill of health" for its financial records.

In the report at the Sept. 10 board of education meeting, auditor James Bayson pointed out the opinion paragraph.

'This is what is referred to as a clean statement," he said. "It's the best statement an auditing firm can give. Basically, the district is getting a clean bill of health.'

Highlights of the report for the fiscal year that ended in June include revenues of $20 million and expenditures of $18.7 million, leaving a fund balance of

Of the $3.1 million, $1.9 million is in the general fund, used to operate the school district; with the remainder for projects including remodeling for energyefficiency and for debt retirement.

Of the $1.9 million in the general fund, $720,000 is designated for sick and vacation pay for district employes, leaving a surplus of $1.2 million.

Copies of the audit are available for public inspection at the district's administration office on Clarkston Road, or those with questions may call business manager William Jackson at 625-4402.

The district is also required by law to print the report in a newspaper of general circulation. It is to appear in The Clarkston News' Oct. 3 edition.

Board gives clerk cable power

Should the government declare an emergency situation for tornadds, downed power lines or a nuclear disaster, it will be Independence Township Clerk Richard Holman programing the local cable television channel with information on where to go and what to do.

On Sept, 18, the board unanimously agreed to give the responsibility to Holman, but delayed a formal decision until fire Chief Frank Ronk makes inquiries with officials at Tribune/United, owneroperator of the township's system.

'He wanted more information on procedure," 🔾 Holman said after the meeting.

No gasoline will be available at the site.

The board approved the plan but denied Nicholson's request for a waiver of the acceleration and deceleration lanes.

"The only way to waive those is if they can prove hardship other than financial," Walls said. "They have a one-way driveway set up and there is nothing physical standing in the way of the lanes.'

leaves staff short

Independence Township firefighter Gordon Mason injured his knee while off duty one week ago, and the department's been picking up the slack with overtime pay, according to Chief Frank Ronk.

"The money's there, and we'll continue to do it that way until-he's back, which should be in about a week," Ronk said.

"I don't think that's going to be a problem, not as far as I'm concerned," he said after the Sept. 18 board meeting where Supervisor James B. Smith made reference to the overtime pay.

"We have to cover all the stations around the clock, and that's the only way we can do that."

Should another firefighter be out with injuries and cut manpower even more, Ronk indicated a station may be closed as it was two years ago when a staff shortage occurred.

No plug Greenfield

You'll be thrilled to know the 1985 Men of MSU calendars are now for sale at book stores throughout the state.

You'll be more thrilled to know Marty Karabess, 24, and Tom Johnson, 25, who produce the calendars say they have 6,000 sold and have tentative plans for a reprint in October.

Good grief.

Unlike you, however, I don't have to rush to a bookstore to satisfy my curiosity about what September (why not, it's the month I was born) looks like.

The producers of this bit of sexist trivia were thoughtful enough to send me a copy in the mail-hoping, no doubt, that I'd give their product a plug.

That's not exactly what this is.

Nevertheless, I will tell you about September. He's a blue-eyed blond, although I cannot tell you shades of the colors because the photographs are in black and white. He has straight, white teeth. He's wearing a buttondown collar shirt with the top two buttons unbuttoned and a polo player embossed on the front. His arms are crossed and about half of his watch and wristband are showing. He is, succinctly stated, a cute kid.

Are you thrilled, or what?

The calendar aside, the most fascinating part about this whole effort to receive publicity came with the calendar, not in it.

They're quotes from the creators, and they speak for themselves:

"Karabees says, ... They wanted to do it, whether to gain experience for careers in modeling or just to have a better opening line at parties, you know, "Hi, I'm Mr. October."

'As to plans for a 1986 calendar, Johnson won't say for sure, "This is an idea that will never die. Just like we used to say about freshman girls—there's a new crop every year—there will always be guys to photograph on the campus of Michigan State.'

Makes your heart go pitter-patter, doesn't it, for the cuteness of it all.

I know it's unrealistic to think that someday people might seriously begin to judge others by many things beyond appearance.

You'll never hear anyone say something like, "My favorite movie star is Joe Cool. I love his heart of gold.".

Still, it gives me pause to think that they expect to sell 12,000 copies of this collection of posed photos of young men.

Don't blame board for tax commen

The Independence Township Board sets policy and conducts its official business in only one manner-by adoption or rejection of motions.

In a recent editorial, your newspaper indicated that the township board blamed the newspapers for the failure of the proposed police millage.

YOU ARE WRONG!

It is inaccurate reporting to blame the entire board for the personal views expressed by individual board members.

Missing Kozma sign will return

Last Sunday morning, I found my "Kozma for Judge" sign had been stolen from the front yard of my Clarkston Road home. Not knocked down, hit by a car, or vandalized ... stolen!

The entire 4-by-8-foot sign, frame and supports were completely gone! Later in the day, I learned that several other "Kozma for Judge" signs had been stolen the same morning.

I support Larry Kozma for District Judge because he will renew respect for the law. I will replace the sign again and again and again, if necessary, because it's important that my friends and neighbors know how I feel.

Jim's Jottings

Still good, but different

Jim Sherman

Like the rest of us, the Marine Band has changed over the last 25 years. Still great, but changed.

I remember when they were coming to Rochester 25 years ago. A volume of instructions preceded their arrival. The stage had to be exactly set, steps to a definite height, no one (absolutely no one) could be seated after the 8 o'clock starting time.

It was so military even the ladies' minks saluted.

It was also very impressive. There was no movement amongst band members, even to turn a page of music. Discipline, precision, and patriotism reigned all over the place.

So did goose bumps.

A few years after the Marine Band was in Rochester, the Oxford Lions Club sponsored the U.S. Navy Band to Oxford. By comparison, the men in blue were laid back. If the Marines were stiff, the Navy was gelatin.

September 14 the Marine Band returned to Rochester, this time to Meadow Brook Hall's Baldwin Pavilion. The Band appeared as part of Oakland University's celebration of their 25th year.

- Forty seven times during the ceremony the musicians were referred to as "The President's Own." Certainly it's a great recognition, but one mention would have sufficed.

- Oh, yes, they were the "President's Own" 25 years ago, too, just as they have been since being established by an act of Congress in 1798.

But, as I said, they've changed. They are less military. They have women. There's a harpist, which they didn't have 25 years ago and which must make marching go slow.

And, they are not quite as showy, though I don't remember their uniforms resembling a third world generalisimo quite as much . . . lots of braids, buttons, and too-long sleeves.

What came out of the horns, drums, cymbals and even the harp was outstanding.

I swear no group can play "The Stars and Stripes Forever" just like the Marine Band does. They play John Philip Sousa's great march as a finale, probably all the time. For an encore the other branches of service are recognized by their songs.

The Marine Band's encore, a wait of 25 years, was too long.

Two newspaper giants have appeared in Clarkston's downtown with the installation of vending machines on the corner of Washington and Main to compete with Detroit and Oakland County's three major dailies.

The New York Times' blue and white paper box appeared next to the new Wall Street Journal's Army green box on the same day, next to established boxes of The Detroit Free Press, The Detroit News and the Oakland Press.

In the shadow of all that awesome power, we ain't shakin'

It's a good bet the New York Times or Wall Street Journal won't announce the engagement of two Clarkston High School grads, or the birth of their baby some years later. Or the score of a football game between fierce rivals, Sashabaw and Clarkston junior highs. Or the crowning of this year's homecoming queen. Or report the lowdown on new playground equipment for Clarkston's Depot Road Park, and print the letter thanking the trustee who pushed the purchase.

Few of the dailies do.

It's a good bet they won't report who new Rotary officers are, who's turning 90 and where the cards can be sent, or what new businesses have opened and who's keeping shop.

And they won't have the ads for local service station tune-up specials, two-for-one pizza coupons, the Lions Las Vegas Night or boiled ham bargains at the local butcher.

That's our job. And we do it well. We are Clarkston's paper.

Officials from both new papers assure us their presence is a test to see if their product has a market in Independence Township, And both appeared on the same day, because they share the same distributor.

There must be a market for the Times and the Journal.

Their boxes are empty, or nearly empty every day.

We welcome the new additions.

It's good healthy competition for the market, and good for readers to have several versions of the news available for comparison.

Target: Cityhood

For some reason, there seems to be a certain segment in this community who has chosen to take the topic of cityhood and turn it into a controversial issue.

I would like to take this opportunity to let the village residents know that there is no "issue" on cityhood. The village council is merely educating themselves on the pros and cons of cityhood, attempting to inform the public, and to get public input on this matter. At no time has there been discussion on actually petitioning the boundary commission for this new form of government. Please let me assure those that feel that the village council is pushing for cityhood, that this is not the case at all.

I applaud the village council trustees for taking the time to thoroughly study this form of government.

The Village of Clarkston should be proud of their trustees, whose only concern is what is best for this community.

The best and only real chance for controlling and eliminating the federal budget deficits is to re-elect President Reagan and send to Congress people like Tom Ritter, candidate for the 6th Congressional District, who will support the president's programs.

My No. 1 laziest dream

deep into my eyes and sang of her great love for me. This was on stage at Mr. Tee's. The song was Jacques Brel's haunting "No Love, You're Not Alone." The occasion was the realization of my No. 1 laziest dream.

My No. 2 laziest dream is to be a first base coach in the big leagues. I wrote about that once before, and a first base coach responded heatedly, saying I was nuts for thinking he had the second easiest job in the world. But he coached for a slo-pitch team, and that's not nearly the same as, say, the Detroit Tigers. I have always been proud that my father called me the laziest bum on earth. Admittedly, I didn't do anything to achieve this status, but that's the name of the game, and I didn't make the rules. If I worked hard, I'd naturally ruin any chance of being the laziest bum on earth. However, there would be no chance of becoming the most ambitious go-getter on earth because the competition is too stiff. I believe in setting realistic goals.

The world is crammed with peole who enjoy working 20 hours every day. They are always bragging about it sets me to dreaming about being a sex object for a lovely songstress or, at least, coaching first base in the big leagues.

Some people like to stop along the way to smell the roses. Tlike to pick the roses, take them home, put them in water and then engage them in a drooping contest.

The most important function of a first base coach is to pat the butt of every teammate who reaches first base safely. This can be strenuous in a slo-pitch league, where every offensive player reaches first base every inning. But the traffic isn't nearly that heavy in the big leagues.

A complete lack of responsibility is essential to true laziness. By the time baseball players reach the big leagues, they know they're not supposed to get picked off first base, so the coach doesn't have to tell them. All he has to do is keep the seat of their pants dusted. I think that would be marvelous employment for a man who can't get anyone to pay him for out-drooping roses.

BUT AN EVEN more marvelous job is to be one of

The lovely woman with the splendid voice looked in newspapers. Just reading about them wears me out and the handsome young men whose only function is to sit on sing at them, or dance around them. By 1984, I feared I'd grown too old and ugly ever to realize my No. 1 laziest dream. But Barbara Bredius, Detroit's finest vocalist, made it come true.

She and the redoubtable Phil Marcus Esser are staging a reprise of the best songs from the many hit shows they've enhanced during the last 10 years - music by such supremely talented composers as Jacques Brel, Cole Porter, Kurt Weill, Bob Dylan and Michael Smith. And at one point, Barbara lures a man out of the audience and sings to him. Last Friday, he was the laziest bum on earth.

My wife said it was fortunate that I was looking up at Barbara, so some of my chins disappeared. She also said I was a clod for taking droopy bows when I should have been helping Barbara down the stage steps. Beware the wrath of a jealous woman who fears being married to a star of stage-sitting, not to mention someone else's sex

Religion and politics are not inseparable

Just a few thoughts for your digestion-or indigestion...

RELIGION AND POLITICS: I can't resist commenting on this subject again, not after President Reagan was quoted recently as saying that the two are inseparable. He is dead wrong.

There is nothing wrong with forming political opinions on the basis of religious values. Most everyone does this on occasion. But when one takes to the political arena, he or she should be careful to use only secular arguments to present their case.

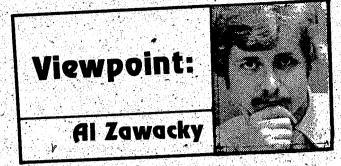

I find nothing more annoying than to hear a person make a purely political statement—even when I am in agreement—and then ascribe to this viewpoint the authority of God or the Bible.

Democratic politics is the art of compromise. Without compromise, there can be do democratic process, and anyone who claims his viewpoint to be a pure and uncorrupt revelation from the Almighty is obviously not going to be inclined to meet anyone

There is certainly no harm in the traditional mixing of religious custom with public ceremony. The Republic is not placed in danger, for example, by the words "In God We Trust" on our coins; or by the opening of sessions of Congress or the Supreme Court with prayers; or by the President swearing upon the Bible when he takes the oath of office.

But to clothe political viewpoints in the linen of religious authority is dangerous and devisive. History provides us with more than a few examples.

COMPARABLE WORTH: Incredible that such a dumb idea should win the endorsements of both the Democratic Party and the Democratic nominees for president and vice president. The notion that some faceless bureaucrat with a magic formula can judge what a given job or commodity is "worth" is absolute Econ 101 is again called into session. The other day, I paid $6 for a pizza. Now, what was that pizza "worth?" That depends on whether you ask me or the pizzeria owner.

The pizzeria guy obviously felt the $6 was worth more to him than the pizza, or he wouldn't have made the trade. As for myself, being famished, the pizza was worth more to me than having the $6 in my wallet. Implicit in every economic transaction is this difference of opinion over "worth."

When bureaucrats set wages or prices in place of this working of the market, the end result is the long lines, shortages and shared poverty typical of backward socialist economies.

Now, what is a librarian "worth?" A plumber? A truck driver; waitress, auto worker, or carpenter? Whatever an employer is willing to pay for their services—period.

Comparable Worth advocates like to point out that jobs viewed as "women's work" traditionally pay less, and are fond of citing a statistic that indicates that women, on the average, receive only 62 cents for every dollar earned by men.

Discrimination, to be sure, exists—but the people who use this figure to support Comparable Worth schemes are doing the mathematical equivalent of quoting out of context. They fail utterly to take into account other economic differences between men and women that have nothing to do with discrimination.

For example, the average man works 8.3 hours more a week than the average woman; he has held his present job 73 percent longer; and he is 11 times less likely to quit working. These factors obviously account for much of the disparity between men's and women's earnings.

Comparable Worth is a blueprint for economic disaster.

Hot lunch-Tuesdays in jeopardy

By Marilyn Trumper

Newly reinstated hot-lunch Tuesdays at the Independence Township Senior Citizens Center are in jeopardy, and Supervisor James B. Smith speculates few of the 42 seniors served each day come more to socialize than because they need the lunch.

Senior center Director Rina Chemin disagrees with Smith, and says half of those served have limited incomes and depend on the lunch to survive.

At its Sept. 18 meeting the township board agreed not to bail out the Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency (OLHSA) again, like it did with this month's $432 donation to reinstate hot lunches on Tuesdays through September.

Tuesday lunches ended in June when the federally-backed OLHSA ran out of money and eliminated one of the five days it serves a hot meal at the center. The program is expected to return full force when it lands its '85 funding in October.

Smith says he's putting the ball back in OLHSA's

"Many of the people do not go to the senior center because they need it, it's a social gathering," he said. "The sign asking for a 65-cent contribution for lunch is stuck way back in the corner.

"It is a serious problem. As a board we don't want to cut back on food for those who can't afford it. Those who use (the lunch program) should increase their donation, or at least make one," Smith said.

Until two weeks ago, before lunch donations increased to 75 cents, seniors were asked to voluntarily donate 61 cents for each meal, with OLHSA picking up the $2.39 difference. The average donation is 51 cents, according to Chemin, adding that's the median for Oakland County.

"By law, OLHSA won't let us put the box in the open. It's supposed to be in an inconspicuous place where people can't see how much they're putting in," Chemin said. "We can't force them to pay, only ask for a suggested donation. We hope they will put in what they can afford."

Chemin says there seniors who depend on the center's lunches.

"I think it's half and half. Some need it, and some don't. Those who do, don't want anyone to know they need it. Those who come to socialize help to cover

'There's a lot of feeling in not wanting people to know you need, especially in this area.'

According to Chemin, the OLHSA site hostess documents which seniors qualify and which don't.

The board doesn't want to set precedent supplementing OLSHA. Trustee Dale Stuart described it as "...opening Pandora's box."

On that, Chemin agrees.

'In a way it's good and in a way it's bad. It's going to force OLHSA to appropriate its money differently, but that will mean they'll have to make cuts somewhere else. Someone always hurts somewhere when you cut a meals program.

On the other hand, it was nice of the township to pick up the cost when it did. Perhaps the township board will reconsider when the new supervisor takes

Smith says he'll "...have a heart-to-heart talk with OLHSA and see if they can't come up with the money someplace."

Township authorizes repair of two tankers

By Marilyn Trumper

Filling in the board on what he termed "somewhat of an emergency situation," Independence Township Fire Chief Frank Ronk says two front-line pumpers developed leaks in their 1,000-gallon-tanks and require immediate repairs—repairs with a $45,000 pricetag.

Once authorized by the board shortly after Sept. 28 when bids return, work is expected to take 60 to 80 days, Ronk said.

Both pumpers are 15 years old, but the first was overhauled a few years ago and needs to have the tank replaced. The second needs to be completely overhauled, giving it at least eight to 10 more years of life, according to Ronk.

Supervisor James B. Smith requested Public Administration Service to review the bids and make recommendations on Ronk's proposal. The Virginia-based firm was hired in July to study the fire department's operation and investment policies, and how it should utilize its $800,000 surplus.

After the meeting, Ronk commented on Smith's request.

Candidate brunch

A Sunday Brunch fund raiser is planned for Carol Balzarini, candidate for Independence Township trustee.

It's planned Sept. 30 from noon to 2 p.m. at 6900 W. Church St., Clarkston. The cost is $10 a person.

Reservations may be made by calling Karen Ohrnberger at 394-0114, Mary Jane Scharfenkamp at 625-2032 or Janet Thomas at 625-8900 by Wednesday, Sept. 26.

"This is an emergency situation. If one of those holes develops into an inch-wide leak in the middle of the night, they'll be rendered useless. We have to have them repaired as soon as possible."

According to Ronk, $25,000 is budgeted for repairs. The difference will come from a contingency fund, he said, adding, "There's adequate funding to cover it."

Waldon Glenn review's back

38-home subdivision hifs snag

Developer Mike Hofer, owner of Welcome Homes, has run into problems with his proposed 38-home subdivision on 10 acres off Waldon Road, east of Walters Road.

On Sept. 13, the Independence Township Planning Commission agreed with its engineers' request, and ordered a second tentative preliminary plat review for Waldon Glenn subdivision. Concerns are drainage, road grades and the size and feasibility of a retention pond, according to engineer Tom Biehl of Hubble Roth & Clark.

According to Biehl, the roads are shown to be at a steep 10-percent grade when county specifications ask for an 8-percent grade.

In addition, a proposed retention pond located on top of a hill would flood a house below if its walls were to break, and Biehl said he isn't sure the lots are big enough to hold the retention pond, if it's determined a bigger pond is needed.

He also cited problems with drainage, and indicated under the current proposal a subdivision located east would suffer with heavy runoff from Waldon Glenn subdivision's lots 21 through 33.

"This is the time to raise the concerns, during tentative review," Biehl said. "We recommended the township not approve it until these questions are answered."

Hofer could not be reached for comment.

Old, but for sale

Independence Township wants to sell its obsolete bookkeeping machine to the highest bidder.

At its Sept. 18 meeting, the board agreed to place ads in two trade papers to see if there's a market.

Clerk Richard Holman proposed selling the machine for parts, arguing it would not be appropriate to make the sale to another municipality.

"But the board felt it best to see if there's a market," Holman said after the meeting.

10,000 bulbs to beautify Clarkston, school

By Kathy Greenfield

Making Clarkston and the vocational school's grounds a showcase of spring flowers is their goal, and with 10,000 bulbs for tulips, daffodils and hyacinths ready to be planted and people to plant them, beauty is only a winter away.

The plan for the project evolved through the efforts of several people: Dennis Snell, garden manager of Bordine's Clarkston store; Donna McCall, greenhouse landscaping program instructor at Clarkston's Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center; and Fontie ApMadoc, village council trustee and chairperson of the beautification committee.

Snell wanted to recognize the first National Flower Bulb Day of the Netherlands Bulb Institute on Sept. 20. McCall and her students were preparing shrub and flower beds at the vocational school on Big Lake Road. ApMadoc called to arrange for students to plant the bulbs she donates annually for the village.

Through a series of telephone calls, they all got together on the project. When the plans were finalized, there were enough bulbs ($800 worth) to plant at the school, the village park on Depot Road and around the village signs on Main Street.

And there were enough to fill the village parking lot at Main and Washington streets with thousands of bulbs to create a burst of spring color.

The Clarkston Farm and Garden Club donated some money, the village provided some, there were some private donations, the vocational school bought some bulbs and Bordine's provided enough to double their buying power.

We had somebody at work come up with this idea, 'Clarkston, the Community of Bulbs,' " said Snell. "Ultimately we could have Clarkston a springtime showcase.

"We really are trying to stimulate some community action, to get the community involved to beautify the city.

For those who want to buy bulbs to plant in their own flower beds, they may be planted now through October and even into early November if the season stays mild, Snell said.

Mass planters

Somebody has to plant the 10,000 bulbs destined to create springtime beauty in Clarkston and at the vocational school.

And the chosen ones are students in the landscaping and greenhouse program at Clarkston's Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center.

While watching her students prepare the new shrub and flower beds at the school, instructor Donna McCall laughed as she remembered her students' reactions.

"When I told the kids the number of bulbs, their eyes rolled back into their heads. They've seen the infamous bulb digger and they thought of pushing it in 5,000 or 6,000 times," she said.

When told the number had increased to 10,000 bulbs, she laughed again.
"It's 10,000 now, huh?" she said. "Don't tell the kids.'

The students had already worked out designs for landscaping the school when they discovered there would be a multitude of bulbs, and the plans were revised to accomodate the change. When the flowers bloom, they'll be visible from I-75 and Dixie Highway.

'It's a good opportunity for the kids to learn some mass planting," said McCall. "Between Clarkston and this we'll give Holland a run for its

The mass planting technique does not involve a bulb digger, she said. Instead, the soil is scraped off to the correct level, bulbs are put in place and the soil is replaced.

Students at the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center mark Sept. 20, National Flower Bulb Day, by preparing the areas that will hold a multitude of bulbs. From left are Daniel Minton of Holly High, Fred Glasco of Clarkston High, and Frank Bellizio of Holly:

Tiger bandwagon gains speed

By Dan Vandenhemel

This is the year of the Tiger, the Detroit Tigers to be exact. Each time the team steps on the playing field they seem to set another record.

The first of hopefully three victory celebrations happened Sept. 18 as the Tigers clinched the Eastern Division championship with a 3-0 triumph over

With all their success this season starting with (the much written about 35-5 start and Jack Morris' no-hitter, to the three-game sweep of Toronto, the bandwagon has been rolling.

Clarkston's expert on the Tigers, Barb Gibson, Kirk's mother, has seen the impact on the area.

"It's funny, people that didn't have any interest are listening to the games now," said the speech teacher at Clarkston High School. "My friends have always shown an interest, now everybody is.

few games this year.

"It's infectious. It's fun winning," she said. "No matter what they are doing, either up or down, in first or not, people like the Tigers."

Everyone is trying to hitch a ride on the Tiger train. Stores and restaurants are pushing Tiger mementos to take advantage of the incredible season. Tiger glasses are being given away by Little Caesar's and McDonald's. While spokesmen for McDonald's won't reveal how the sales are going, the glasses at the pizza restaurant are disappearing.

"Since the Tigers won, the sale of glasses has doubled," said Julie Haller, manager of the Little Caesar's on M-15 near Dixie Highway. "Our first week, we sold about 170 glasses. After they won, it's about 300." Another advertising ploy is the sale of Tiger Bread. Bonnie Bakers of Ferndale is marketing white bread in a tiger-striped orange and black wrapper.

Most stores carry the bread but it's not selling at some markets.

"It's not going well here," said Doreen Shwarze of Rudy's Market on Main Street, Clarkston. "It not any more expensive than any other bread. I know it's going great at the Farmer Jack's in Waterford. They have a huge display in the middle of the floor.

While the bakers and the restaurants are taking advantage of the Tiger fortunes, the fans are scooping up most anything to commemorate the winning ways of their home team.

The movie, made for cable TV last summer, centers on an aging ball player for the Detroit Tigers.

The producers of the movie were looking for people to fill up the stands at Tiger Stadium and advertised for extras.

"My mom (Nan McCabe) saw the ad in the paper and told me about it," Kevin said. "There were about 200 of us at the park."

During the four hours of taping in Detroit, the group of extras moved around the ball park for shots from different locations.

When Kevin told his friends about being in a picture they thought he was joking.

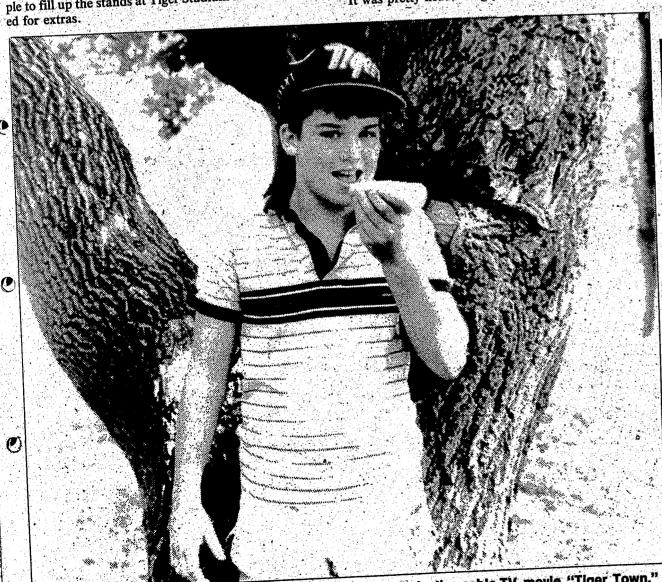

'They didn't believe me at first," Keyin said. "I was a little embarrassed.' But he turned out to be a big attraction at school. Last year while in sixth grade at Pine Knob Elementary, all the sixth-graders in the school sat down to

"It was pretty fun watching them work," he said. "It was pretty near seeing yourself on TV.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This forecast on Friday's upcoming Waterford Kettering-Clarkston varsity football game was found Monday morning in The Clarkston News mail slot. The forecaster identified himself only as "The Seer—peerless prognosticator of perfect pigskin predictions." Well, we'll see about his being "perfect." But as long as we keep receiving these anonymous forecasts, we'll keep printing them.

Greetings from the Seer, the Most High, Most Mighty, Most Perfect. Having already established myself as a forecasting genius in other parts of Oakland County, I've decided to make myself known to you hose heads out in Clarkston. What got me motivated was the fact that I was the only person around to correctly predict the Wolves' upset victory over Northern last week (Would the Seer lie to you?). Curious about what's going to happen Friday?

Read on . . Waterford Kettering at Clarkston (Sept. 28): the 84 Captains may be only a shadow of their former selves, but this is still a very formidable ball club, capable of putting points on the board.

The Wolves, after a shabby showing in Sterling Heights, showed a lot of guts against Northern last week. They'll need more of the same against this old rival, and the Seer thinks they'll come up with it. Don't look for a low-scoring contest Friday, and don't look for a blowout either way. Here's what you can look for—Clarkston by six.

Receiver Erik Kline can also toss the football as he did here in the Wolves' stunning 21-20 overtime victory against Pontiac Northern.

Wolves win stunner by one

By Dan Vandenhemel

Tears were running down the cheeks of Pontiac Northern football players as they watched the Clarkston Wolves celebrate their come-from-behind victory in the middle of the field.

The Wolves had just won a dramatic 21-20 contest in overtime against the Greater Oakland Activities League rivals, Sept. 21.

"This is a great emotional victory for us," said Wolves' coach Walt Wyniemko. "It was a total team

And that it was, the entire team made crucial plays to enable the comeback and raise the Wolves' record to 2-1. Pontiac Northern is 1-2.

In the overtime, the Wolves' offensive line opened a gapping hole and quarterback Mike Galley walked to the end zone from the 7-yard line. Galley's extra point conversion clinched the triumph and started the celebrations.

The defense played a consistent game and came up with the big play in the overtime. After the Huskies scored a touchdown in their extra possession, the defense stopped the two-point conversion try and handed the game to the offense.

"This is a great emotional victory for us."

-Walt Wyniemko

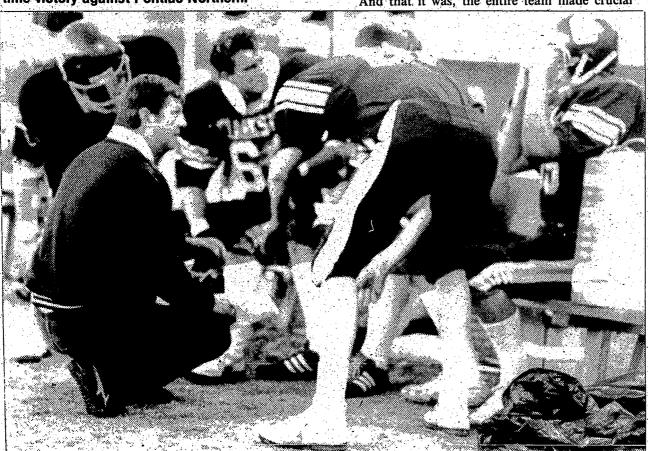

For tie scores in high school football, there is a four-play overtime period. A coin flip determines which team gets the ball first on the 10-yard line. If they score, the other team has one last chance with the ball. If neither team scores, they keep playing until someone does.

The game didn't begin in earnest for the Wolves until late in the fourth quarter. They trailed the Huskies the entire game until a scoring drive of 84 yards started with less than three minutes left in the Galley hit receiver Erik Kline over the middle for a 21-yard touchdown strike with 1:16 remaining then sprinted around the end for the two-point conversion to knot the score at 14-14.

The Wolves didn't enter the end zone until four minutes were gone in the final quarter. Again Galley and Kline hooked up for the score from 8 yards out. The point after fell short and the Wolves trailed 8-6.

Northern scored on an 11-yard pass play with 2:56 left in the game and missed the conversion to set up Clarkston's comeback,

Wolves' coach Walt Wyniemko has a quick meeting with the offensive line early during game with Pontiac Northern. The talk must have helped, as the Wolves rallied to win.

Runners pace their team

By Dan Vandenhemel

The Clarkston Cross Country teams are starting to look familiar.

The boys' and the girls' teams have strong frontrunners in Jeff Toretta and Kathleen McInnis and a number of solid runners following them.

Toretta and McInnis are always near the front of the meets but the supporting racers mingle in with the rest of the performers.

The Wolves had little trouble against Lapeer East, Sept. 20. The boys won, 19-36, while the girls ran unopposed.

Toretta won his race with a time of 17:50 with Dan Baily in third, Todd Hammacker in fourth and Bruce Wall and Mark Gilbert tying for fifth to clinch the victory. Their record is 2-4.

McInnis paced the girls' race in 20:12. Lapeer East only had three girl runners so no score was kept. The Wolves' record is 3-2.

Earlier in the week, both teams lost to Lake Orion with Toretta placing third in the boys' 22-33 loss. McInnis won her race and Trisha Johnson was fourth in a 28-29 defeat.

Once again

"By Dan Vandenhemel

The Detroit Tigers finally rewarded those diehard fans who have followed them through the worst of times to the good times.

After 12 long years, the fans have something to cheer about.

For those who have been locked in the bathroom for the past week, Sept. 18 was when the Tigers clinched the Eastern Division Championship. That halfpennant is the first thing the people of Detroit have had to cheer about since the Lions moved to Pontiac.

That Tuesday night, I'll admit I got wrapped up in the Tiger game. While sitting on the couch, I was pretending to be reading about the Chou Dynasty in China, but watching the MASH finale for the third time and listening to the ball game on the radio.

The ketchup song, "Anticipation," was the main feeling in the room. You knew the Tigers were going to win the title, the question was when.

Shortly after Hawkeye returned from the psychiatric ward and before the 4077th had to relocate because of a fire, the Tigers won the game.

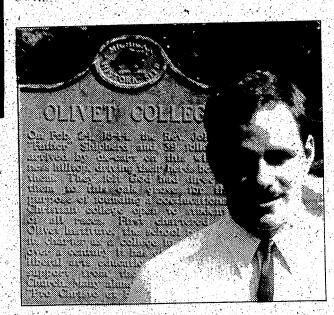

Around 10:07 Willie Hernandez blew the third strike past Jim Sunberg to end the guessing.

The last time a pennant-clinching game went in Detroit's favor was in 1972 against the Boston Red Sox.

None of the details are sharp or the date clear about the triumph, just the memories of sitting in the same room listening to the radio voice of Ernie Harwell proclaiming the good news.

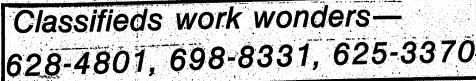

Last week, Harwell had another chance to say the Tigers won a title.

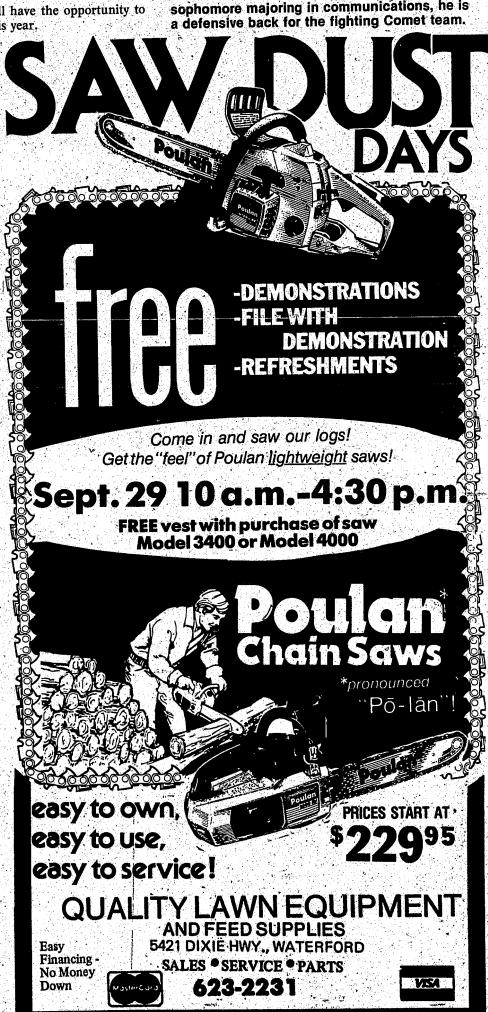

Let's hope Harwell will have the opportunity to say that two more times this year.

Women, too, are getting their kicks on the soccer field. The newly formed soccer league in Waterford Township has a team made up of Independence Township residents.

Soccer: not iust for men

By Dan Vandenhemel

Soccer is the fastest growing sport in America. People are involved from the youth leagues all the way to the professional ranks.

Now the women are taking to the field.

The Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department has entered a team in the women's soccer league through the recreation department in Waterford Township.

With ages ranging from 19 to the middle 40s, the team of 18 players has a 2-2 record halfway through the season.

"They've come out here for exercise, for fun, for an alternative to jogging," said coach Hadyn Cook. "We ran a clinic in the winter and only two from that are on this team. The majority are beginners."

Since the season's start a month ago, Cook has taught the women the basics of the game, everything from kicking the ball to passing it. Their games are on Tuesday or Thursday at the Bailey Lake Elementary School on Pine Knob Road. When they don't have a game, they're practicing for two hours.

"They've come a long way in a month," he said.
"We won the first two games but now we need another practice to remind them of some things like not to bunch up around the ball,"

The league has four teams, two from Waterford, one from Lake Orion and Clarkston. The cost to play was $20 and that included a shirt. The players had to buy their own shoes, shin guards, socks and shorts.

"They can buy adequate shoes for about $10," Cook said. "I didn't want to tell them to buy (expensive shoes) for eight games and find out they didn't like it"

This is the first year a women's team has been formed and the reaction by the players couldn't be better, said Cook:

"They are really enthusiastic about playing," he said. "They're a fun bunch to work with."

25 YEARS AGO Sept. 24, 1959

On Tuesday morning, in the presence of about 75 persons, Dr. Don Stackable of 14 N. Main turned the first spade of earth for the foundation of his new medical building. The three doctors of the Clarkston Medical Clinic, Drs. Rockwood Bullard, John Naz and Robert Buehrig were on hand to congratulate Dr. Stackable upon his new undertaking. Refreshments were served with Bob Parker of the Clarkston Cafe doing the catering.

The members of the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club are working hard to make their annual rummage sale on Oct. 9-10 the biggest and best ever. General chairman of the sale is Mrs. N.E. Maytag. Assisting her are Mrs. Frank Lambert, Mrs. William Sharpe and Mrs. Edward Seeterlin.

Dredging of the Upper Mill Pond will be done this fall, the Independence Township Board decided after a public hearing Monday night.

However, another important factor in cleaning the pond—sanitary sewer connections for the homes at its north end—is not even in the planning stages.

Negotiations are underway for a community center in the Hawk Tool Co. property. Clarkston Village President Keith Hallman has been negotiating with owners of the property and seeking support from various businesses and governmental agencies to rent space in the proposed center.

Three Clarkston boys have joined the service—Mike Dennis Jeaves Oct. 8 for the Great Lakes Naval Base in Illinois, Dave Whitehead leaves Sept. 6

Three other hard working salespeople were so close to the 1,000,000.00 in closed sales, that by a drawing, Bob gave another free trip to Hawaii. . . the lucky winner was Norma Barkulis.

Dear Cat Paw: .

What is your definition of "abuse"?

Wondering

Abuse is: "The use of any drug to the point that it damages the user's health, job, education, personal relationships, judgments, or ability to cope with daily life."

Dear Cat Paw:

I'm getting strung out and not hurting anyone. So what's the harm?

Teenager

Dear Teenager:

There is a lot you are missing.

1. You miss-out on the important experiences of transition from child to adult.

2. You may never learn to cope with life on its own without drugs. 3. You may find yourself an adult one day without the skills to solve personal problems and make decisions, or function in social or professional situations.

4. You may also not develop hormally physically due to drugs, for example brain damage, reproductive organ damage, and lungs and heart development and

5. You may also lack mundane abilities like math and typing since drugs hamper classroom performance. 🎎

Dear Cat Paw:

What can we do as parents to keep our children drug free? Young Mom

Dear Young Mom:

Spend all the time you can with your children, especially activities with a purpose like camping or painting the house.

Organize the household so kids have real responsibilities. The trick is to use chores that are clearly essential to make kids feel needed.

Encourage your children to bring home their friends. Let them influence each other at your house where you may be able to put a word in on behalf of moderation.

Parenting is a tough but forgiving business. It's possible to make blunders and still turn out people who can function. Aim in the right direction and keep trying. Many families are doing it. 🚜

Yard man retires from Larson

By Dan Vandenhemel

Building a home and traveling are the next items on Edsel Haag's agenda.

His retirement from the Larson Co. in Independence Township on Sashabaw Road became official Sept. 1.

The 61-year-old Haag lives in Rochester and has worked at the Larson Co. for over two years. He worked 35 years at Chrysler Corp. before retiring three years ago.

Haag served as yard manager for the clay piping distributing company.

"It took a good half a year to learn the job here," Haag said. "Now (secretary Linda Retzlaff) will be in charge. It'll take the new guy a year to learn everything.

"I was a pattern maker at Chrysler. I was working with wood. Now I was selling plumbing supplies and material to contractors. There was so much more to learn."

He and his wife, June, plan to build a house near Higgens Lake in the northern lower pennisula and move there in the fall.

"Maybe if things work out right, we might spend some time in Florida, too," he said.

"After I started going up there and learning about it, man it was fun," he says. "I get a case of bear fever every year."

He's bagged three over the last four years. This year, the male bear was about 21/2 years old, weighed 155 pounds and was 66 inches tall.

The bear skin is destined to become a rug for his 71/2-year-old grandson, Daryl Fox of Clarkston. His 1983 catch is now a bear rug that belongs to his 14-year-old grandson, Scottie Wyman of Massachusetts.

"He's as excited as I am," says Morse about Daryl's reaction.

Harbor area of the Upper Peninsula where they enjoy a quiet vacation. Jerry enjoys simple pleasures. His philosophy is "enjoy what you have and don't worry about what you don't have.'

The Clarkston community can have a double dose of satisfaction in Jerry's situation.

Here is a Clarkston educational product whose life and beliefs are a valuable lesson not only to Clarkston children but to all of us.

Editor's note: An Apple for the Teacher is provided through the efforts of a Clarkston Education Association committee. Its purpose: "To acquaint or reacquaint the community with members of the Clarkston school district's teaching staff who represent a highly trained and diversely talented resource and in whom we can all take pride." This week's column was written by Barbara Glover, a sixth-grade teacher at Clarkston Elementary School.

Born in Saginaw, Mich., Jerry Ostrom is the youngest of six children. When he was 4 his family moved to the Clarkston area. He is a bonafide product of Clarkston schools, K through 12. It was Bud McGrath who urged Jerry to go to college. He followed Bud's advice and received his bachelor's degree from Central Michigan University in 1973. Seven years later he earned his master's degree in education from Oakland University.

Jerry was hired as a permanent substitute teacher in the fall of 1973.

His comment, "It was a real experience," leaves one wondering; but Jerry recalls that he learned a lot.

The following year he was assigned to teach sixth grade at Clarkston Elementary School, where he has taught for nine years.

Jerry believes that students should be allowed a certain amount of freedom while the teacher maintains control of the classroom.

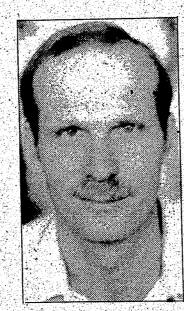

Jerry met Jane, his wife, while subbing at Bailey Lake School. The Ostroms have two sons; Jason, a 5-year-old, and Jared, under 1 year of age. Family is Jerry's first priority.

High on the list, though, comes gardening which he learned from his father. Sometimes this is a family activity, and he finds it very relaxing.

Ierry began his 17th year of hardball in the spring of 1984. He feels he has met many wonderful people while enjoying this activity.

And, finally, Jerry is a basketball player. He admits it is getting harder to keep up with the younger players, but he continues to play in the Clarkston recreation league.

Summers usually find the Ostroms in the Copper

130-IN MEMORIUM

IN LOVING memory of our husband and father, Arnold Leach, who passed away one year ago, September 28 1927 one year ago, September 28, 1983. They say time heals all sorrow, and helps us to forget, but time so far has only proved, how much we miss him yet. God gave us strength to fight it and courage to heal the blow, but what it meant to lose him, no on will ever know. Sadly missed by his wife, children and grand-children.!!!RX-38-1* arching bands—16 of them—come to Clarkston High School's football field Saturday, Sept. 29. Beginning at 5:30 p.m., about five hours of entertainment are in store.

Band Contest Sept. 29. Playing at the football game sharpened their skills.

Admission is $3.50 for adults and $2 for students. The ticket booth opens at 4:30 p.m.

"If you enjoy music and watching kids out there doing the very best they can, it's worth it," said Judy Kerns, band booster president.

"It's amazing what kids can do. It's exciting. We have some bands with 250 students, and you get that may kids out doing the same thing at the same time. and it's fascinating."

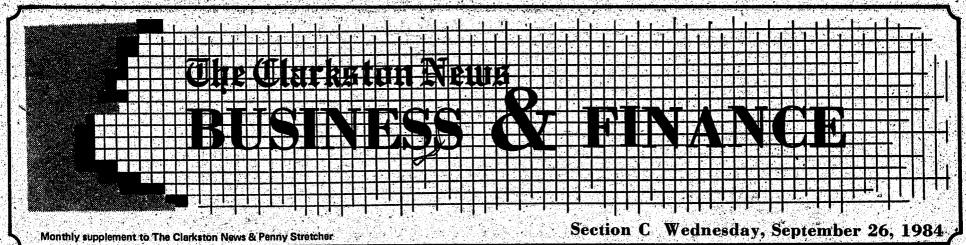

Each band puts on a 15-minute show for the competition. They march in sychronization, with the smoothness of a dance routine, and perform an opening number, a drum solo, a concert piece and a closing number.

This year, the invitational takes on an international flavor with two bands from Canada.

As the host, the CHS band does not compete, but does perform at the end of the competition. Part of their show includes a firebird formation; and Kerns said it's worth seeing.

The invitational is the largest fund raiser for the band boosters. They sell tickets and provide a concession stand. The bands that play pay an entry fee. At last year's event, they made about $5,000 for uniforms, music and instruments.

Independence Township's Planning Commission recommends denial of a rezoning request for an auto parts store on Maybee Road, east of Sashabaw. Two Pontiac developers sought to split the 2.71-acre parcel and rezone it from C-2 to C-1, which has no minimum lot size restriction. The Independence Township Board will make the final decision.

Plans are on the drawing board to renovate the Pine Knob Ski Lodge to its former lounging glory. The Nederlander Corp., new owners of the Pine Knob Complex, announce plans to remodel the flashy art deco disco Ice to the original lounge. They're asking for old photos from area skiers to give them working blueprints.

Developer Frank Walker's back before the Clarkston Village Planning Commission seeking the OK to build $200,000-a-unit condominiums on Deer Lake. Walker contends condo developments aren't provided for in the zoning ordinance. It's left to the village attorney to decide if the law discriminates against multiple zoning.

Sam Binno requested a liquor license transfer to his name for Ritter's Farm Market on Dixie Highway in Independence Township, Binno, a West Bloomfield businessman, expects to buy the family-run 55-year-old market in two weeks.

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital officials say they'll appeal the state's denial of its proposed $34 million satellite hospital in Independence Township. The appeal is to go first to the state, then to the courts if necessary.

Opinions of local bar managers differ as the Liquor Control Commission weighs outlawing happy hour two-for-one drink specials. Most agree it won't hurt their business.

Denied by Independence Township the right to mine sand and level 50 acres off Sashabaw Road, developer Charles Nunn is expected to file a $2 million lawsuit in federal court. The suit, according to his attorney Irving Keene, will charge violation of his client's constitutional right to use his property without just compensation.

After five months, Burger King Corp. lands final site plan approval for its proposed $600,000 fast-food restaurant on Dixie Highway, next to Ritter's Farm Market. Construction is scheduled to begin in 30 days, depending on the weather.

Detroit Cellular Communications in Springfield Township gets the high-sign from the Springfield Township Board to erect four offshoot antennas on its communications tower at East Holly Road and I-75.

BAIT leader shares tips

By Kathy Greenfield

From the helm of the 45-member Business Association of Independence Township (BAIT), Stewart McTeer sees the business climate improving but stresses the need to keep local residents aware of the many services available in their community.

McTeer was elected by the association's board of directors to his second one-year term as president last week

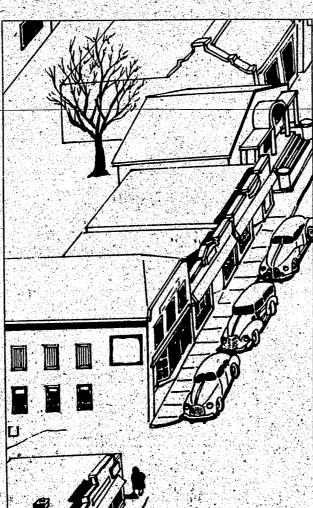

"Business has been good in the last year, overall," he said. "Most merchants on a scale of one to 10 were probably six in the last few years. Now they're eight.

"Independence Township is really one of the choice markets in Oakland County. The median income of Independence Township in townships over 25 square miles, it's fourth in Oakland County—Bloomfield Township, West Bloomfield, Oakland, then Independence. Two of those townships are just about tops in the nation.

"My biggest concern is the attitude of some of the merchants," he said. "They have extremely low visibility. They're not known in the community."

His knowledge about marketing and advertising are inherent to his career. He's worked three years at The Clarkston News, where he's advertising manager.

Prior to moving to the area, he worked four years as classified advertising manager at the Philadelphia Bulletin, and before that he was a 20-year employe of The Detroit Free Press, where he served as classified advertising manager and northwest retail advertising manager.

Designed by Eric Bennett, of Bennett & Bennett Advertising, a custom-illustrated "Romancing Clarkston" T-shirt will index and name each village business in a '40s mood. This illustration is a portion of the original drawing inprogress.

Clarkston News advertising manager Stewart McTeer is just beginning his second year as president of the 45 member Business Association of Independence Township.

For 12 years, he spoke on marketing at Columbia University.

Romancing

Clarkston

By Marilyn Trumper

Jim Kaminiski, president of the Clarkston Business Association, has kicked off an advertising campaign designed to pull shoppers into the downtown and pull the business district together.

And according to Kaminiski, business owners are saying go for it.

"We're 'Romancing Clarkston,' 'Kaminiski said from offices in his red gothic Sutherland Building south of town. "We're selling the romance of Clarkston just like Good Afternoon Detroit when they were filming here a few weeks ago. When it aired, they showed Rudy feeding his pigeons, the Mill Pond, the restaurants. We're pushing the high-fashion gift and clothing shops. The things that make the town what it is."

The nucleus of the campaign is a custom illustrated Romancing Clarkston T-shirt designed by Eric Bennett. Co-partner with sister Anne in Bennett & Bennett Advertising, they're also housed in the Sutherland Building.

The T-shirt shows a detailed Main Street in the '40s, with bulbous-fendered cars along the curb. When completed, each business will be numbered and indexed on the shirt, and Kaminiski wants every downtown store to stock them for sale.

"We're tossing around a lot of ideas and one of them is to build an advertising fund by generating predicted: Economy slows by Jim Sherman Clarkston News Publisher

One of the companies that tracks the economy is Trends Research. They've been at it many years, graphing what's happened, happening and what will happen economically.

Trends forecast the recession that started in 1979 and, while the economy has taken an upturn in the last year, they say the downturn is not

They have predicted right along that the last quarter of 1984 and the first quarter of 1985 will see a bottoming of the recession.

Those businesses that subscribe to Trends, and believe them, have undoubtedly benefited. Hiring has probably been kept to a minimum, capital outlay curtailed, and belts generally left tight.

Those businesses that looked to auto profits and production, the upturn in construction and new equipment purchases in the past year, and mistook black ink for excess profits are likely being taken aback by current economic news.

Now, just as Trends and some other economists (there's always economists who go both ways) predicted, a slowdown has started . . . and obviously General Motors and the UAW did not help matters.

Nevertheless, without GM and UAW, housing starts have plummeted nationally, retail sales declined two of the last three months, and personal income growth has had the least growth

The one good bit of economic news is rumor. Word from the east, Washington, is that interest rates may decline.

Whatever savings that might bring to borrowers, news from the insurance industry will likely eat it up. Casualty, fire, and other necessary insurances, except workers' comp., are expected to go up 15 to 25 percent this year.

Seems their investments, about a third of each dollar of premium goes to insurance company investments, are not showing adequate profit, according to one of our insurance peddlers.

Good economic news, while hard to find now, should certainly be coming by spring. The GM strike is over, spring brings housing starts and upbeat thinking, and big spenders will be ready to risk capital knowing Ronald Reagan will be at the helm four more years.

McTeer: 'It's a lot friendlier' membership increase and greater participation of the existing members. Healthy retail areas are vital to a community, he said.

"I feel that a strong business organization is critical to the success of the township, because it is a very desirable area from the standpoint of marketing," he said. "It makes it a target area, even

'A lot (of businesses) tend to feel people want to shop locally, and I feel in a lot of cases the businesses have not worked in building up an identity. That's the biggest danger they've got.

"It doesn't do any good to say (residents are) fleeing over the borders to go to the shopping centers. You have to get them to do business here.

BAIT's function is to promote business in Independence Township and to encourage more businesses to locate there. "To show Independence Township as an extremely wonderful place to locate your business in," is how McTeer puts it.

Working toward those goals, BAIT pays for a glossy magazine every two years that promotes the Clarkston area. It occasionally gets involved in politics, but only to protect the interests of its members, McTeer said.

The club also provides a scholarship for a Clarkston High School senior each year, usually has an annual dinner-dance for socializing, and has two or three mass meetings a year with speakers on: business topics.

On a personal level, McTeer couldn't be more pleased about living in the area.

Before this, we lived in Huntington Valley outside of Philadelphia, which is absolutely gorgeous," he said. "This is every bit as nice as that, plus we have

"I enjoy having people tell me what a marvelous school system Clarkston has. I enjoy showing off the village. Personally, I've found people to be compassionate, friendly and a lot of other things."

His enthusiasm also covers the business side.

"We have excellent businesses in the community, anything you can imagine you can get in In-dependence," McTeer said. "We have excellent banking facilities, excellent medical facilities, excellent retail facilities, almost anything you can possibly imagine, from shoe repair to buying a car.

'The service is certainly better than you can get in any other area. It's a lot friendlier."

sales of the T-shirts," Kaminski said.

The business association is eveing a full-page ad in Monthly Detroit for $1,500, and have been approached to advertise by the Christian Science Monitor.

'Let's face it, retail sales are down," Kaminiski said. "I've seen the traffic in (stores here). Good Afternoon Detroit's feature was a step in the right direction. We need to let people know we're here just like Birmingham does.'

Kaminski wants more businesses to open in the village, and says Dear to Heart, a high-fashion women's clothing store scheduled to open soon in his building, is a welcome addition.

The Fourth Street Playhouse lost its spot in Royal Oak and was out here looking for a new site," he said, of the professional theatrical group that's earned its respect in metropolitan Detroit competition. "I know they'd like to get their hands on the church across the street, but it's not available."

He speculates 75 percent of village businesses participate in the association, and says he's in the process of designing a logo, "a country-style heart;" to give participants identity. The transparency will go on their windows, he said.

Right now the group is gearing up for Christmas and plan banners across Main Street to show what's going on in town...

'What we're looking to do is develop some real strong imagery," Kaminiski said.

Domino's pizza

Ask Darrell Touchton if his 3-year-old daughter, Candice, likes his pizza and he breaks into a grin.

"She loves it," he says. "She loves to eat it for breakfast. She loves it cold, hot, any way she can get Touchton is the manager of Domino's Pizza that opened Sept. 13 in the Waterfall Plaza on Dixie Highway in Waterford Township.

The Ann Arbor-based pizza chain is now growing by two stores a week in the metropolitan Detroit area, he says, and it expects to have 2,000 stores in the United States by the end of the year.

Touchton is proud of the product.

Each pizza is made to order with sauce made from pear tomatoes grown in California, nine spices and parmesan cheese; the dough is always fresh; they're topped with three types of cheese; and only American mushrooms are used, he says.

Touchton is also proud of the service.

"We make the pizza from scratch, so there is room for human error—we're all human," he says. "If for any reason somebody's not satisfied, if they tell. me they're not satisfied I'll do whatever it takes. I'll either make them another one at no charge or I'll refund their money."

Domino's Pizza manager Darrell Touchton shows his expertise at preparing dough for pizza toppings inside the new shop opened Sept. 13 at the Waterfall Plaza.

To assure satisfaction, follow-up phone calls are made to customers each day.

Domino's delivers within a two-mile radius (bound by Waldon, Clintonville, White Lake and Silver Lake roads), and there is no delivery charge. If delivery takes over 30 minutes. $3 are deducted from the cost, and over 35 minutes the pizza is free. For telephone orders, they guarantee the pizza will be ready in 10 minutes.

Customers must order two pizzas, but they can request that one of the two be prebaked for finishing later.

Downey's chips

Downey's Potato Chips are a dream come true for Rosemary Hogarth, whose new business is located in the Waterfall Plaza.

"It's always been a dream. I wanted to own my own chip place," she said.

She and her husband, Mac, have lived in White Lake Township 11 years. They own the shop with their children, Rebecca of Brighton, Elizabeth of Walled Lake and Kevin, who lives at home.

Downey is Rosemary's maiden name. Her brother, Richard, has been in the potato chip manufacturing business 30 years in Ohio with a firm called Conn's.

"I always liked his chips so well. He has a very good chip," Rosemary said. "I got to the point where I didn't like other chips. There's just a quality there that you don't have elsewhere."

She'd stopped eating chips, only indulging when she could bring them back from visits to her brother's or to her nephew's, the person responsible for developing the small-batch method used to create the chips at Downey's.

Freshly dug potatoes are kept in a cool storeroom. They're carried to the washer and peeler, then carried again to the slicer. From there, it's into the frier.

The chips are made every day from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and customers are welcome to watch through a viewing window. The shop hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9-7 Friday, and 9-5 Saturday.

The shop is unique in Michigan, Rosemary said. And, as far as she knows, they make the only chips sold in clear bags. Customers can also purchase metal canisters and bring them back for refills.

They come with sour cream or barbecue flavoring, unsalted or regular.

"One of the things people like about our chips is we do salt lightly," she said. "We've been very well received here and everyone in this mall has been so supportive. I just can't get-over it."

Before opening the shop, Rosemary worked as a secretary for the Cherry Hill school district in Inkster. She took a leave of absence from her job, just in case the chips didn't go over. She laughs and says she doesn't think she'll be going back.

The point when she knew she'd succeed came before the shop opened. The family was busy working in the building, when through the back door came a mother mallard and her 10 ducklings. She sat down with her babies and stayed awhile before getting up and moving on.

"I really loved that," Rosemary said. "I didn't know they nested here at all. That was really something. It was a very good omen. It meant even nature had accepted us."

Showing their truck cap stock and how it looks on a truck, are Nikki Smith (left), Murrel and Ralph Sargent. The brothers and sister opened Line Haul in June. The camper manufacturing company sells and makes truck caps.

Line Haul makes truck caps

In mid-June, Nikki Smith and her two brothers opened Line Haul, a manufacturing and retail truck cap company abutting southbound I-75 off Sashabaw Road, next to Morrow Processing.

"I'm not sure people know we're here," Smith said. "And we'd like them to know it.

"We manufacture and sell aluminum truck caps and will special order fiberglass truck caps.

"We also take special orders for most any kind of cap, RV, truck, and truck parts and accessories."

Line Haul offers slider windows, tailgate guards and step bumpers.

"We're in a good position because we manufacture our own," Smith said. "We checked around and didn't find anyone else in the area who does."

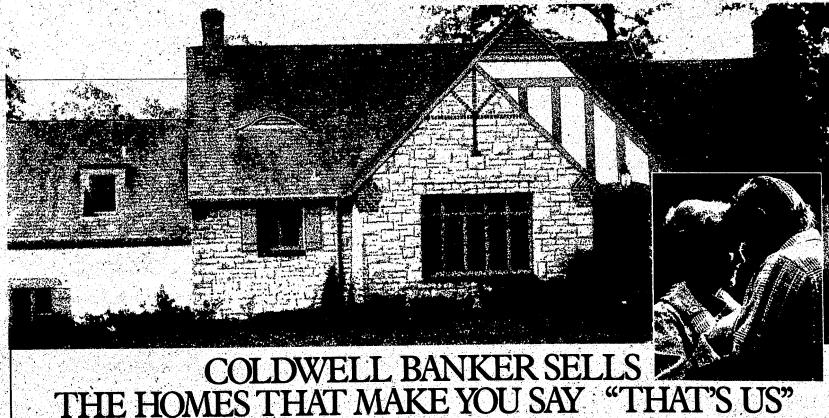

She and brothers Ralph and Murrel Sargent have similar shops in Fenton and Alma.

"This is the third cap sales lot in the past 10 years," Smith said, referring to the Clarkston site. "We offer excellent quality at a reasonable price."

Special orders take a week, and there's a selection of open stock available for on-the-spot sale, she said.

Line Haul offers the following styles: cargo, double-bubble, radius windows and awning windows—and truck caps with side access doors often purchased by tradesmen.

They're open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and are located at the end of the service drive that runs beside Clarkston Auto Body on Sashabaw Road. (625-7325)
