AROUND THE WORLD ON A HORSE: The theme for the annual Oakland County 4-H Fair Parade is Around the World with 4-H, and the High Horizon club from Milford tells the story on horseback. Pictured are three of the four riders who dressed in native costumes of Europe, Egypt, Hawaii and Russia. The parade kicked off the fair that continues through Aug. 3 at the Springfield Oaks Activities Center on Andersonville Road in Springfield Township.

• Criminal acts increase in summer

By Carolyn Walker

Warm weather brings out not only the sun-bathers and golfers but the vandals and larcenists as well.

Area law enforcement officials, 52nd District Court Judge Gerald McNally and Oakland County Sheriff Lt. Glenn Watson agree there is an increase in criminal activity during the summer months.

According to McNally and Watson, there are upsurges in vandalisms, assaults, breaking and enterings, and traffic incidents following the arrival of summer.

Both men attribute the activity to people having more spare time, longer daylight hours, warm weather and often, increased drinking.

"Start drinking, start partying, start fighting," is how Watson puts it.

"Folks are out and about," he says of potential vandals and robbers. "They'll steal anything that's not nailed down."

There is frequently an increase in the thefts of bicycles, lawn furniture and boating equipment in Independence Township, according to Watson, who says, "We get quite a bit of crime out there."

In contrast, Springfield Township does not display any increased trends, he says, adding that the reason is unknown.

Springfield's biggest problem is the breaking and entering of residences and businesses, he says, but the amount of such crimes stays fairly constant throughout the year.

McNally agrees with Watson about the factors contributing to increased crime during summer months.

"There are a lot of considerations," he says.

Among the reasons McNally cites are tourists, baby sitters, open garages and unattended residences which have previously been occupied, suggesting their owners are away.

He also attributes many of the problems to people having what he calls "more dead time."

Chief Bailey recuperating at home

Chief Dale Bailey, of the Independence Township Fire Department, returned home Monday from Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Bailey, who was hospitalized after complaining of back pains over a week ago, is recovering from surgery during which his left kidney was removed.

The nature of Bailey's illness is currently unknown pending tests, Bailey said during a phone interview from his home.

"I'm pretty weak," Bailey said. "I'm improving. I'm sure a fighter. I won't give up."

Bailey said he does not yet know when he will be able to return to work.

In his absence, Fire Marshall/Assistant Chief Gar Wilson is running the department.

Marshall reminds citizens of laws

Complaints by citizens and several near-misses between cars and mopeds are behind a list of law-reminders drawn up by Village Marshall Charles Smalley.

Rules governing the use of mopeds and recreational vehicles are going virtually ignored by many parents and youth, according to Smalley.

In addition, many automobile drivers are failing to obey laws regarding no right-turn-on-red signals and no U-turns, he said.

According to Smalley, tickets are to be issued for the following infractions, with offenders being sent before 52nd District Court Judge Gerald McNally:

•All mopeds must be registered at the Michigan Secretary of State office.

•All operators of mopeds must be 15 years of age and have a license issued by the Secretary of State office.

•All moped operators must wear a helmet when operating such vehicles.

•Mopeds are for one person only. No passengers, parcels or clinging articles are allowed on a moped.

•Parents are to be held liable and will be cited for allowing anyone to operate these vehicles off their own property. Fines could run from $30-$90.

•Mopeds are not allowed on any bicycle paths.

•Recreational vehicles (3- or 4-wheelers) are to be operated only on the owner's private property or property where the operator has received permission to ride from the land owner.

•Automobile drivers parking over the white lines on village streets will be ticketed.

•Drivers making U-turns on village streets or turning right on a red light when a no-right-turn-on-red sign is posted are to be cited.

•Bicycles are not allowed to be ridden on sidewalks in downtown Clarkston. They must be parked at a bike rack in the village parking lot at Washington and Main. Violators will be ticketed.

"We are asking for the cooperation of all parents and drivers to work together and help save lives," Smalley said. "Let's keep Clarkston safe."

Two face exams

Two Pontiac men charged with felonies related to gross indecency at an I-75 rest stop in Springfield Township faced a preliminary examination July 25 before 52nd District Court Judge Gerald McNally.

Gary Allen pleaded guilty to reduced charges of disorderly person, namely indecent or obscene conduct, according to a district court spokesperson. He was fined $100.

George Sexton pleaded not guilty to the five-year gross indecency between males charges.

McNally found sufficient cause to send Sexton's case to Oakland County Circuit Court. Sexton was ordered to appear before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Robert Templin on Aug. 13.

Summer time for more crime

In addition, alcohol related crimes, especially drunk driving, are seen frequently in his courtroom during the summer months, he says.

Citing Pine Knob Music Theatre as a facility which brings many people to the area, McNally and Watson disagree on the effect the facility's patrons have on local crime.

Open only during the summer months, Pine Knob Music Theatre draws thousands of concert-goers and employs its own security staff as well as several officers from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Watson says police deal with an increase in illegal drugs, larcenies from autos parked at the facility, and disorderly conduct during and following concerts.

Often, the severity and frequency of the crimes are related to the nature of the group performing, Watson says, citing hard rock groups as bringing out the worst offenders.

McNally, however, says things have quieted down at Pine Knob over the past few summers.

"We really don't have many problems with Pine Knob now," he says. "They're (Pine Knob patrons) being more considerate."

McNally cites as an example a recent concert canceled by singer Phil Collins after just a few songs because of illness.

Police issued only one ticket related to the cancellation, he says. "Ten or 12 years ago you would have had a minor riot."

Jury just short of finding them innocent

Cafe's insurance company settles

By Carolyn Walker

While the jury was out reaching a decision in a lawsuit against the Clarkston Cafe, the cafe's insurance company agreed to settle for an undisclosed amount.

That, according to co-owner Lee McNew, was just as the jury was about to announce its decision that they had found the cafe innocent of any wrong-doing in serving liquor to a man who was subsequently involved in a fatal accident.

"The whole thing was just crazy," McNew said, of the three-week trial in which the Main Street eatery and two men were sued under the Michigan Dram Shop act. "The trial is over and we are greatly relieved."

The act states that any licensed restaurant or bar can be held accountable for serving liquor to an obviously intoxicated patron who later hurts others, or is hurt, in an accident.

The lawsuit stemmed from a Brandon Township accident in which three teenagers were killed and a fourth severely injured in October 1979.

According to McNew, Don Powell allegedly hit the teenagers' Volkswagen six hours after he had been drinking at the Clarkston Cafe.

Powell was named in the lawsuit along with Don Ferguson, who was allegedly tailgating the Volkswagen and also hit it.

The jury awarded $25,000 against Ferguson and $100,000 against Powell for each victim, McNew said. She said she was not "at liberty" to discuss the settlement figures to which her insurance company agreed.

McNew called the trial "very stressful."

"You don't know how the jury is going to decide," she said. "We went through all of this testimony. The whole thing was so very frustrating."

There should be a cap on how much money can be awarded in such a lawsuit, McNew said, adding that too many people are suing because they think they can be awarded huge sums of money.

"As a result insurance rates are going crazy," she said. "There is something to be said for individual responsibility these days."

Road status divides residents

Some want public, some private

By Carolyn Walker

Private versus public roads. Pavement versus improved grading. Township versus county special assessments.

These are some of the issues dividing residents of the Merrie Oaks Subdivision near Lake Oakland.

Approximately 20 people turned out at an Independence Township public hearing July 23 to discuss whether or not to turn Oakgrove Road and Hillcrest Road over to Oakland County for paving.

Petitions from supporters of both sides of the issue were presented to the township board on June 18.

The drive to turn the roads over to the county was initiated by resident Bruce McClellan, who has lived in the subdivision 18 years.

"This is what I've been told is the easiest and most sure way of accomplishing something," he says of his efforts to have the two roads paved.

In order to convert the roads to the county, the township must first accept a petition from residents which represents 51 percent of the land owners and 51 petitions to attorney Gerald Fisher for review.

No decision will be made on the issue of road conversion until Fisher has determined their validity and made a recommendation.

"There's a lot that can happen to the surrounding area if the county gets the roads"

percent of the land abutting the roads.

The county would then be responsible for funding paving of the roads using taxpayers' money, says Dennis Pajot of the road commission.

Pajot adds that the county, being short of money, could in turn approve a special tax assessment for the subdivision residents to fund the paving.

A series of public hearings would be mandated before such a special assessment, he says, adding that the conversion of the roads does not guarantee their being paved.

At the heart of the ownership issue is the status of the American Legion Post 377, which owns over 51 percent of the property abutting Oakgrove.

The legion need not be assessed if the owners agree to maintain their current status and use only Mary Sue Street for traffic, not Edgewood which is blocked off, McClellan says.

McClellan has secured 11 signatures on a petition requesting the change to county status.

In opposition to the change is Caroline Carson, president of the subdivision association. She represents over 20 citizens who wish to maintain the privacy of all the roads in the subdivision.

As an alternative, road paving which would maintain the private status could be funded through a township special assessment authorized by a 1972 act, she says.

Several residents fear increased traffic, and loss of control and natural beauty if the county takes over, according to Carson.

"There's a lot that can happen to the surrounding area if the county gets the roads," she says. "It's the public versus private issue that I'm concerned about."

Carson submitted a petition with 27 signatures to the township board.

Following nearly three hours of arguments from the two sides, the township board agreed to send the

Festival finds new home for '86

What ho? The Michigan Renaissance Festival has found another home?

Ah, 'tis true.

The Renaissance Festival is scheduled to be held on the grounds of Colombiere Center in Clarkston, weekends and Labor Day from Aug. 17 through Sept. 29, for the last time this year.

Its owners have purchased 180 acres off Dixie Highway and Lahring Road in Holly, according to festival director Margaret Mauti, who adds that the new property more conveniently links Flint and Detroit.

The event is to be held on the new land beginning in 1986.

Mauti cites improved accessibility, the potential for expansion and a more convenient location as the reasons for the move. And, the Holly property is still "like leaving the 20th century," she adds.

"It's to our benefit for permanency to have our own property," Mauti says. "We have enjoyed working with Colombiere."

This will be the sixth year the festival has been held on the grounds of Colombiere Center in Springfield Township.

The event, modeled after Shakespeare's era, features games, food and craft sales.

Future festivals are scheduled to begin and end on the same dates as this year's festival, Mauti says,

Amphitheater planned at Independence park

By Dan Vandenhemel

To go with the newly finished Nature Center, Independence Oaks County Park is getting an amphitheater.

The Irwin and Sadie Cohn Amphitheatre should be under construction later this year at a total cost of about $25,000 to $28,000.

The amphitheater is a project of the non-profit Oakland Parks Foundation. There was an initial donation of $7,500 from the Cohn Foundation. The building site is land formerly owned by the Cohn family.

Construction of the outdoor amphitheater at Independence Oaks should begin later this year.

The structure, drawn by James Scott, is a project of the Oakland Parks Foundation.

The structure was designed by James C. Scott, a trustee of the Oakland Parks Foundation and principal landscape architect of James C. Scott and Associates in Bloomfield Hills.

The amphitheater will seat approximately 200 people and will sit about 100 yards from the Nature Center.

Jan Pung, of the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission, said it will complement the Nature Center.

"Being right there, we'd be able to take people into the environment for our educational programs," she said. "It can definitely be an asset to the park. One nice thing about it is it's going to be privately funded with donations."

Independence Oaks is a 1,034 acre park on Sashabaw Road in Independence Township.

For information on the amphitheater project, contact Fran Greenebaum at the Oakland Parks Foundation at 335-2771.

Teen bound over to circuit court

An 18-year-old Pontiac man accused of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling July 12 has been bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court.

The suspect waived a preliminary examination before 52nd District Court Judge Gerald McNally on July 25, a court spokesperson said.

Because of this age and previously unblemished record, attorneys will most likely attempt to have the suspect placed in a county youth training program, the spokesperson added.

The 15-year felony charges stem from an incident in which the suspect allegedly broke into an Independence Township house along with an accomplice.

The suspect was apprehended by the owner of the house, who arrived home to find the robbery in progress. The accomplice escaped.

Bond for the suspect, set at $1,000, was posted by his father.

He is scheduled to appear before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Richard Kuhn on August 13.

Rockin' with mom Carolyn Walker

"At last, a real rock concert," said my 12-year-old as she settled into a chair at Pine Knob Music Theatre recently for an Air Supply show.

In her mind, she had weathered her share of easy-listening music.

"She's ready to boogie," I thought. "To get down and give rein to those adolescent urges to jump and shout."

I was ready to join her.

Much to my surprise, however, she restrained herself.

She sat quietly at first, slumped down in the seat teenage-fashion. An impish grin was on her face as she surveyed the stage and crowd.

"You see that guy in the band with the long hair and the leopard jacket? The one with the red tennies just like yours?" she asked me. "He looked better before he took his sunglasses off."

"Hmmm," I thought. "This may not be easy. Perhaps she has more of her father's and grandfather's conservative natures in her than I realize."

She couldn't know, I rationalized, that we were carrying on a fine family tradition that night. That her mother had rocked with her mother before her to some of the legends of 1960s' rock 'n' roll.

It just didn't seem possible that it had been 20 years since my own mother, sister and I thrilled to a police escort out of Cobo Hall with Herman's Hermits, I thought. Or that it had been two decades since we actually breathed the SAME air as John, Paul, George and Ringo.

It was mother who maneuvered the car through throngs of wild fans when we accidentally found ourselves trapped in the limousine motorcade of Herman's Hermits. "Wave...just wave," she said, as they threw themselves onto our Pontiac. "Isn't this great!"

The supreme 1960s' teenage experience was yet to come, however.

At mother's urging and against father's better judgment, father joined us for an August 1965 trip to the Beatles concert at Olympia stadium in Detroit.

"I wouldn't go down there...to Detroit...in that mob...to see..." he said, emphasizing his displeasure at the thought of occupying a room full of thousands of screaming teens.

Mother, however, prevailed after establishing certain guidelines. There would be no screaming (not even for Ringo). There would be limited squealing. And, we would have to share her opera glasses.

It sounded reasonable.

After listening to my disgruntled father bad-mouth the parking conditions, we arrived to find our seats in the first row of the balcony, miles from center stage, in front of a girl crying, "John. John. John."

Her screaming must have reminded my father that refuge could be found in that other room.

Lacking the enthusiasm of my free-spirited mother, he passed on the opportunity to breathe the SAME air as the Fab Four, electing instead to breathe the air in the stadium bathroom, where he loitered until the end of the three-hour concert.

Ask my parents, and they'll tell you they bought Beatle tickets to enrich their children's memories. That life should be spent, well, getting down and boogieing.

And yes, by George (John, Paul and Ringo), it's a fine family tradition.

Yeah, yeah, yeah.

Zigmund Freed

by Dan Ziegler

Suzjots

by Susan Sherman

Dad came up to me the other day and said, "Susan, you really haven't learned the business until you write Jottings." Dad has told us kids for years what a chore it is to come up with Jottings, week after week. He's right. This is my third attempt to write a story worth printing.

For all the misinformed people, working for the family is not all what it is cracked up to be. You feel you have to be the best in whatever you do. A lot of the time, I felt I was being talked to, for what I thought were trivial things, but most likely were of major importance to the boss... not to mention, my accomplishments and mistakes being printed whenever the mood strikes him.

Being the youngest daughter of the boss is worse than just being the boss' daughter. My brother and sister never had to learn half the things I have learned. I started at the Leader when I could walk, or sometime not too long after. I helped my mother address papers. I did that until I was tall enough to reach the table tops where I helped the workers gather the stuffed papers. Next, I became a stuffer, next a layout artist, then a darkroom technician.

They tried me in the front office but that was my sister's job. The only one she has had to learn. Dad even put me in sales once. I'm going to revolt when he says I have to run the press.

Next month I'm headed back to college. By the way, for all those college students who have tried the universities' 4-year plans and went into overtime, just tell whoever asks you that you are on the 10-year plan and hope to finish early.

***

Is anyone out there getting tired of Pine Knob? I sure am. I have enjoyed going to concerts during the summer and have seen many groups, but the place is going down hill.

Personally I believe $3.50 is way too much money just to park your vehicle. Why doesn't somebody find a parking substitute? For example, a nearby resident could open a field that is close enough to walk to and from. This person could charge half the price and then maybe you could turn the way you want to when leaving the parking lot.

My friend and I tried to protest last week by giving the money-taker one dollar and fifty cents in 10 pennies, 5 dimes, 3 nickels and 3 quarters. The money-taker refused it.

In fact she dumped it back in our car and said she would like another dollar bill and two quarters. As far as I am concerned money is money.

One other thing about Pine Knob. Did anyone else hear a 'skip' as in a recording, during the 4th song at the REO Speedwagon concert?

We discourage copies of letters sent elsewhere, and require all letters be signed and include a phone number and address. We may withhold names on request, but will not publish unsigned letters. Address all letters to: Letters to the Editor, The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston, MI 48016.

Several help with T-ball team

Special thanks to Tony and Debbie Detowski for sponsoring Clarkston Disposal's T-ball team.

They bought the kids their first-place trophies and took them to Chuck E. Cheese to celebrate our wonderful season after the last game. They also provided shirts and hats for the members of the team.

Also deserving thanks are Bill and Lynn Rohlfing for buying all the stirrups for their uniforms. Mike Godoshian for getting all the kids baseball pants and all the parents for providing the juice or pop after every game as the kids' treats.

Thanks, too, for all the support from the parents. We couldn't have done it without them.

The big buzz

Kathy Greenfield

I know, from personal experience, way too much about mosquitoes.

The majority of my childhood was spent near swamps (real estate ads would say ponds) in the greater Rochester, Mich., area.

Growing up around swamps had advantages. I actually saw little legs sprout on tadpoles on the way through the fascinating evolution into frogs and toads.

When school lessons came along describing food chains and the balance of nature, I was prepared. Among examples were the birds eating tadpoles. I always wanted to run out and chase away the birds feasting in the swamp, but my parents explained what would happen if every tadpole grew into an adult.

The bodies of water were also wonderful for ice skating and rafting.

The two swamps I grew up around have since been filled—and I've always had mixed feelings about that.

The reason I was glad had to do with mosquitoes. In every patch of shade and when night fell, we were always surrounded by the blood-thirsty beings. We never sat around outside after dark.

About mosquitoes, I know this: Only the females "bite"; they're worse during wet years; some years they're giant-size and others a smaller variety thrives; right before it rains they become fierce; and they're the only things I can think of that I don't mind killing.

I began thinking about mosquitoes last weekend while on a camping trip. We doused ourselves with insect repellent when dusk fell and sat outside after dark around a camp fire.

In the middle of the night, the repellent stopped working. Why, somebody please tell me, do the insects buzz around their intended victims' ears?

"Just bite me and get out of here," I snarled while pulling the sheet over my head.

It didn't work.

Last week I read every word of a news release about mosquitoes that arrived at my office from the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

From there, I gleaned the following fascinating information:

• Mosquitoes draw blood with a flexible, hollow snout. They spit saliva into the wound to thin the blood and make it easy to draw. The saliva irritates skin and causes the itch, redness and swelling.

• It is said that mosquitoes turned back the army of Julian the Apostate, the fourth-century Roman emperor, and stopped the huge elephants of Saporon, King of Persia from A.D. 241-272.

• Repellents don't drive mosquitoes away, they simply jam their sensors so they aren't able to tell whether or not you're a good meal.

'If it Fitz . . .'

Why do such things?

Jim Fitzgerald

"Young white punks from the suburbs think they can p--- on our neighborhood," said Carol Weisfeld, a 39-year-old psychology teacher who lives in Lafayette Park on the east edge of downtown Detroit. "But you probably can't quote me in the newspaper."

Not quite. Free Press policy decrees it would be poor taste to fill in the blanks in the above paragraph. Also, it would be too vulgar to reproduce here the anti-vulgarity poster created by Carol's husband, Glenn, and their six-year-old daughter, Miriam.

The poster shows the familiar ghostbuster-type circle with a thick line slashed diagonally through the center. In this case, the line blocks out that part of a man's anatomy which is the source of a stream.

The irony is escape-proof. So-called civilized families are invading the private property adjacent to family residences to commit acts that can't be pictured or commonly described in a family newspaper.

Urinating men are far from the worst of it. Listen to Carol Dmitruk, a 36-year-old park resident currently on maternity leave from her city job.

The 200 home-owning residents of the LaSalle, Joliet, Nicolet and Lafayette Co-ops are at the mercy of city bureaucrats trying to attract and make money from suburbanites. Our yards, trees and buildings are used as restrooms and garbage dumps by people who use our private parking spots while attending ethnic festivals, Grand Prix, fireworks and other downtown events.

"When people stumble into our neighborhood, they steal lawn furniture, bicycles, hot and cold barbecues, toys, flowers and automobiles. They park on our shrubs and lawns, drive through our playground and double-park overnight, blocking in two or three cars.

"Our dignity is most offended by men and women who find nothing wrong with dropping their drawers and pretending they're dogs in front of six-year-old residents. These suburbanites are well-dressed, drive nice cars and sometimes have their children with them!"

Weisfeld added: "On weekends we are hostages to our private parking lots. If we dare drive away for awhile, we lose our places for the day." Once her husband protested against an invader and was threatened with a tire iron.

And Dmitruk wasn't kidding about the stolen barbecues. Just this Wednesday, in 6 p.m. daylight, a resident left food cooking on a portable grill for a minute while she ducked into her home. When she returned, grill and food were gone.

"I don't know what these suburbanites are thinking," Weisfeld said. "Maybe they think we're all on welfare, or in public housing, and deserve to be trashed."

Co-op residents have formed a cleanup squad and hired a security officer on a motor scooter, but this barely dents the problem. Police try to help but usually arrive too late because, understandably, larger crimes require their attention.

White skin, station wagons and alligator shirts don't prove the trashers are from the suburbs, of course. But the evidence is strong. "They sure aren't downtowners," Dmitruk said.

Wherever they're from—Bloomfield Hills or the west side of Detroit—their lack of common decency is incredible. Anyone that ignorant would hardly be impressed by the obvious question: "Would you like people to p--- on your front lawn?"

I don't know what to do about such jerks. I know what to call them, but the Free Press doesn't have enough blanks.

County to modify road curves

By Carolyn Walker

Hazardous curves on Clarkston Road have prompted action by the Oakland County Road Commission.

A section of the road, between Clintonville and North Eston roads, contains two dangerous, sharp curves, said Bill McEntee, environmental concerns coordinator for the commission.

Before November, the angles of the curves are scheduled to be "smoothed out" and the intersection at Clintonville and Clarkston roads is to be modified into more of a T-shape, he said.

Clintonville Road currently merges in a fairly straight line with Clarkston Road.

The commission estimates the work, to be funded by the county, could cost between $500,000 and $600,000, McEntee said. A specific figure will not be available until a bid has been accepted by the commission later this month.

The work is to include modifying the curves, some drainage improvements and the removal of several trees.

Clarkston Road is considered a high-priority road for improvements because of its record of frequent accidents and poor road conditions near the curves, McEntee said.

McEntee was one of several road commission employees to address the issue at a three-hour public informational session Friday in the Independence Township Hall Annex.

The session, not a formal meeting, was held to allow people to stop by and ask questions. Approximately 11 residents participated.

Rape suspect bound over by judge

A 23-year-old suspect in an alleged rape case was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court following his preliminary examination before 52nd District Court Judge Gerald McNally Thursday.

Dan Dando was charged with the felony of criminal sexual conduct following an incident which allegedly took place in a field behind Pine Knob Elementary School in Independence Township.

According to a report at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the suspect, a Pontiac resident, offered a ride to a 28-year-old Pontiac woman who was walking along Baldwin in Pontiac.

The woman accepted the ride and the two drove around for a while before stopping to talk in Independence Township.

The suspect is scheduled to appear before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Richard Kuhn on August 13, according to a court spokesperson.

Bond for the subject was set at $15,000. He was released on bond when it was posted July 25, the spokesperson said.

'We are the world'

Children are learning to understand handicaps during Vacation Bible School at Calvary Lutheran Church this week. Taking chalk in their hands, [from left] Ruth Parker, Ryan

Schroeder and Beth Eby attempt to write their names over their heads with their backs turned to the chalkboard. The results are similar to those of some learning disabled pupils, explains session leader Holly Wollerman, a special education teacher in Oxford.

When children can't hear, they are taught to speak with sound vibrations as a guide, says Cheryle Diehl, a former teacher at the Day School for the Deaf. She illustrates by saying the word "ball" and letting a youngster feel the sound.

In keeping with the theme of learning about handicaps at Bible school, the youngsters are working all week on sign language for the song "We Are the World." The children and their group leaders put in their first practice session Monday. On Sunday, they plan to sing and sign the finished product during the 9:30 a.m. church service.

Cross-state bike trek 'low key'

By Dan Vandenhemel

Sunburn, sleeping bags, side roads and sightseeing were all part of the Sanderson family's cross-state bicycle trip.

Bob and Karen Sanderson, their sons Rob and Marc, and their friends Dave Ziegler and Jeff Ryan took off from the shores of Lake Michigan at Holland on June 23. By June 28, they were in Grosse Ile, just south of Detroit.

A total of almost 300 miles in five days left the Sanderson clan tired but not sore.

"It was about 45-50 miles a day on the road," Bob said. "On the Wednesday, there was an optional century (100-mile) ride that I went on, too."

This is the fourth annual trek across the state called Peddle Across Lower Michigan. Organized in Ann Arbor, the event has grown by about 300 entrants.

"We were camping on the grounds of small high schools along the way," Bob said. "A thousand people is a lot for this. They might limit the number next year."

The Sandersons, of Holcomb Street, Clarkston, were usually on the road by 9 a.m. and they took a leisurely pace.

"Seeing the small towns was nice," Karen said. "They encouraged you to take your time."

Of all the miles traveled, only one flat tire could be counted as a mishap for the Sandersons—except for a dinner in Dexter.

"That night they decided to have fried fish and they ran out of gas to cook the fish," Bob said. "There were people waiting in line for two hours to eat."

But the problems were minor and the outing was fun; and the Sandersons are planning a return trip next year.

"It's really a family ride. It's low key," Sanderson said.

Sports

Bob Sanderson and his bicycle fitted for his 6-foot-7 frame made the Holland-Detroit ride without any trouble. The trip took his family five days.

Softball team shows opponents no mercy

By Dan Vandenhemel

Randy Armstrong is taking his softball team on the road.

The Waterford Recreation team sponsored by Clarkston Family and Sports Medicine, and coached by Armstrong and Denny Davis, qualified for the 15-years-old-and-under regional championship in Wisconsin, Aug. 3.

The team of 13 girls, including Stacey Shurtz and Kim White of Independence Township, won the Detroit District championship, July 12-13. There are only eight teams going to the tournament in Wisconsin.

"We're basically playing high school teams

"After we won in Detroit, we played at tournament in Mt. Clemens the next weekend and mercied everybody," Armstrong said.

Holding their own in an 18-years-old-and-under league, the team finished with an 11-9 record.

"We wanted to play in an older league for the competition," Armstrong said. "We're basically playing high school teams and all these girls are under 15 years old."

Shurtz is mainly the designated hitter and sees action as catcher and first baseman. White plays the outfield even though this is her first year in a fast-pitch league.

"She played for Springfield Christian Academy and they play slow pitch," Armstrong said. "She's a real good athlete and is doing a real good job. Shurtz is a solid hitter and is helping."

Shurtz played last year for Sashabaw Junior High and is going to Clarkston High School in the fall.

Armstrong said the team is basically a collection of all-stars from the surrounding area.

"It's like taking the best players from Waterford Mott, Kettering and Clarkston," he said. "We wanted to have a good team to take to tournaments.

"The leagues in Waterford are very strong," he added. "That's why kids come here from other areas, for the competition."

Coach Randy Armstrong meets with his team at the last practice before their upcoming 15-years-old-and-under softball regional tournament in Wisconsin.

Up My Alley

Shady strike

Dan Vandenhemel

The dog days of summer are coming up and major league baseball could be looking for shade.

Players set an Aug. 6 strike date if they don't iron out contract problems with management. The poor men who play a kid's game are unhappy with what the owners are asking.

Aug. 6 could be the last game of the season for baseball. What that would do is mess up the predictions a friend, John, and I make every year in April. We try to pick what team is going to win each division and who will win the World Series.

I usually get two of the four divisional winners right; and if I get one of the two teams in the World Series correct, it is a very good year.

Last year, along with picking the Tigers to win everything, I also had Kansas City and San Diego right.

John has made it a habit of not making many mistakes. For the last three years, he hasn't missed a team. He's even picked the number of games the World Series would go in two of the three years.

I knew something was up when we were at a Tiger game a few years ago and before the first pitch was thrown, he said Richie Hebner would hit a home run in the ninth inning to win the game for Detroit. Sure enough, that's what happened.

Since then his name's been Johnny the Pollock. I don't know if I'm getting better or John's in a slump but we picked three of the same teams.

My early season choices were the New York Mets and the San Diego Padres in the National League and the Kansas City Royals and the Toronto Blue Jays in the American League. I said Toronto would beat San Diego in the World Series in seven games.

John's choices were also the Mets and Padres and Kansas City but he went with the Tigers instead of Toronto. He went with the Tigers over the Mets in six games.

As it looks now, one week before the players might walk out, only Toronto would make it for me and for John, nobody.

If nothing else, another baseball strike would make it harder for our choices to come true. Besides, if they did strike the only team in town would be the Lions.

THE FACT THAT MIDAS STOCKS 1025 DIFFERENT GOLD MUFFLERS IS SOMETHING THE COMPETITION WOULD LIKE TO KEEP QUIET.

Midas manufactures and stocks more different mufflers than any other muffler chain. And when you have that many mufflers, it's no wonder our competitors would rather we keep quiet.

Because unlike Midas, they can't assure you they'll have the muffler that's made to the exact specifications of your car.

Nor can any other muffler chain back its mufflers with a guarantee that's good in as many locations as Midas.

If anything should ever go wrong with your Gold Muffler, Midas will replace it free for as long as you own your car.

At over 1400 locations. In all 50 states.

So if you want the right muffler for your car, come to Midas.

With 1025 different mufflers in stock, we should have no problem keeping your car quiet. Which is something our competition would rather not hear.

Anthony Thompson's fancy Mexican hat has been in his family for years, he says. Dress-up days are regular events during the day camp sessions. In honor of the Mexican theme, the children also broke a pinata and shared the treats found inside.

Some lively stepping's going on as [from left] Jeremy Gill, Justin Whittaker and Shawn Grimes dance to the tune of the "Mexican Hat Dance." The boys were among about 65 youngsters at the Independence Township Day Camp session July 24 at Independence Oaks County Park.

Activities go for 1 more week

There is one more week for day camp through the Independence Township Parks and Recreation.

The program centers on outdoor activities and education at Independence Oaks County Park on Sashabaw Road. Some of the events include hiking, fishing and swimming.

The camp runs from Aug. 5-9. There are two times available, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; or 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Cost for the 10 a.m. start is $30 for residents and the earlier start is $45 for residents. There is an additional $4 charge for non-residents.

Kindergarten through sixth-grade pupils can attend. They are asked to bring a sack lunch, gym shoes, towel and swimsuit daily.

To register, call the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department at 625-8223.

Township runners show off at state meet

By Dan Vandenhemel
Some Independence Township runners made their marks in East Lansing on July 19.

Of the over 1,000 youths who participated in the Hersey Track Meet at East Lansing High School, 21 were township runners.

Two of the local youngsters brought home ribbons: Steve Kithil placed eighth with a softball throw in the 11-12-year-old class, and Kim Toretta placed sixth in the 800 meter run for 13-14-year olds.

The top eight finishers in each event received ribbons.

Just missing awards by placing ninth were Beth Walker for the 800 meter run in the 11-12-year-old division and Meredith Green for the 1,600 meter run for the 13-14-year-olds.

Other athletes who did well were 11-12-year-olds Steve Tungate in the 800 meter run, Leslie Mix in the standing long jump, and the 4-by-100 meter relay team of Guy Passmore, Bryson Menke, Evan Moen and Aaron Meyer.

This is the fourth time the Independence

Township Parks and Recreation Department has sent athletes to the event. The state meet traditionally ends a three-week track clinic hosted by township.

Coaches for the township clinic for 9-17-year-olds were Mike Taylor, Chris Krueger and Gordy Richardson.

"The emphasis of the program is on education," Taylor said. "We want to teach the kids about track. We were kind of disappointed because we didn't have any 9- and 10-year-olds in the Hersey meet. We somehow have to reach more kids. Next year, we might have an advanced class and one for the beginners."

Tie game is only blemish

Only a tie ball game blemished the near-perfect mark Clarkston Disposal put on the slate for Independence Township boys' T-ball this summer.

Coached by Sandy Knake and Tim Hodge, Clarkston Disposal finished in first place with an 11-0-1 record. They were just ahead of Dandy 76, which had an 11-1 mark.

"It was really neat watching these kids playing," Knake said. "They were so much fun trying to catch a fly ball. We had a lot of little kids. Some of them have never played before. The bigger kids on the team were helping out on the base paths."

The team's tie game was against the All-Stars who finished third with a 9-2-1 record. The score was 23-23 and even an extra inning couldn't determine a victor.

Motel leveled

By Dan Vandenhemel

As of July 20, the Oakland Motel on Dixie Highway was reduced to rubble.

John Marshall, owner of the property the 12-unit building stood on, said it wasn't a profitable business.

"The Oakland Motel has gone down hill the last two or three years quite a bit," he said. "I didn't want anything associated with my name that is half good and half bad."

Marshall has owned the property five years and has had a for sale sign on it almost a year. He owns One Way Industries, an injection mold business in Madison Heights.

The building was demolished because the land was more valuable without the building, he said.

"A lot of people were interested in the land when it was a motel," Marshall said. "I don't think I could have gotten the full value out of it."

Marshall, a Springfield Township resident, owns two pieces of property at the site, totaling over two acres. The price tag is $485,000.

"Everything is happening around it," he said. "I don't think any other property has 400 feet of frontage. I think this will open up a new area. Maybe a restaurant or some other business would be interested in the property."

SCAMP director resigns

With his sights set on new goals, SCAMP Director James Butzine has announced he is leaving his post with the 10-year-old organization.

"It's time to just take a break. I just think I've given SCAMP everything that I can," he says. "It's time to move on."

Butzine says he plans to concentrate on his private therapy position with the Maple Clinic in Ortonville and possibly to investigate programs which might service the needs of general education students, especially preschool or early grade school youth.

He plans to continue in his current counseling capacity with the Clarkston school system, he adds.

Butzine, an Independence Township resident, has been the only director of SCAMP during its 10 years of existence.

SCAMP is a summer day-camp program for children with handicapping conditions or special needs.

Pick Your Own Blueberries at Mish's Farm. Chrissie's Mom Did.

Chrissie's mom comes here every year. She knows the nutritional value of our sun-ripened blueberries. "They're much sweeter than the berries found in stores." She also enjoys the serenity of our wide open spaces and being near nature. We have become friends and that's important to her and to us. But most of all, she loves Chrissie and doing something good for her family.

Annual parade kicks off 4-H fair

Fair runs until Aug. 3 at Springfield Oaks Activities center

Everyone loves a parade including Belle Diehl of Diehl's Orchard in Holly. The parade kicked off the annual the Oakland County 4-H Fair. The route took the floats and marchers through Springfield Township starting at the Springfield Oaks Activities Center.

A boy and his dog even made it into the parade. Horses, goats, dogs, rabbits and more horses took part in the opening march, July 27. Almost 15 4-H groups participated in the parade.

A 4-H parade wouldn't be the same with out a number of horses lining the route.

4-H queen and king, Molly Jacob and Joel Visnack, take a back seat before the start of the parade.

START LOOKING: The 4-H group Homesteaders from Davisburg are one of the starting groups at the annual Oakland County

4-H Fair parade in Springfield Township, July 27. One of the leaders looks for prizes in a pouch as their flag flows down the driveway of

She resides on Pine Ridge Drive, Independence Township.

***

Shari Ashton has been awarded the Hoover Scholarship from Tri-State University in Angola, Ind.

An electrical engineering major at Tri-State, she received the scholarship in recognition of high academic achievement.

The Hoover Scholarship is a private scholarship established for Tri-State University by the Hoover Foundation in North Canton, Ohio.

A graduate of Clarkston High School, Shari is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ashton of Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

***

Onalee Wolfe, a Clarkston area resident, is on the Pontiac Business Institute dean's list for the spring term.

She is one of 23 students at the Oxford school with a 3.75 or better grade point average.

Bryan-Brumm

Nancy Jane Bryan of Oxford and Gregg Edward Brumm of Bloomfield Hills plan to be married Sept. 7 at Christ Church Cranbrook. Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. John Bryan of Oxford, graduated from Clarkston High School in 1974. She attended Michigan State University, East Lansing, and is a premium programs supervisor with Intergroup Marketing & Promotions Inc., a subsidiary of D'Arcy Masius Benton & Bowles. Gregg is the chief financial officer for Advanced Computer Management in Troy.

Wilson, Warner married July 20

Sharon G. Wilson and Roy A. Warner III were married July 20 at the Calvary Lutheran Church of Independence Township.

For the 10 a.m. ceremony, the bride wore a cream color full-length gown.

Maid of honor was Brenda Alexander. Bridesmaids were Gwendelynn and Victoria Wilson, daughters of the bride. They wore full-length peach dresses.

Best man was Gerald Gauthier of Waterford. Groomsmen were Russell Friend of Columbus, Ohio, and Rob White of Middleville. Ushers were Tom Gotschall and Kurt Maslowski, brothers of the bride.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maslowski of Drayton Plains. The bridegroom's father is Roy Warner of Clare.

Burnette-Sanchez

Voris and Lawrie Burnette of East Washington Street, Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kelly Louise, to Stephen Charles Sanchez, son of Fernando and Marcella Sanchez of Sashabaw Road, Independence Township. The bride-to-be graduated from Clarkston High School in 1975 and from Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn., in 1978. She is employed by Pontiac General Hospital in the laboratory and by Clarkston Community Schools as a substitute teacher. Her fiance graduated from CHS in 1975 and is employed by General Motors Corp. in Orion Township. A November wedding is planned.

Chapman elected

Clifford Chapman, the band director at Clarkston High School, has been elected president of District 4 of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

The district includes the counties of Livingston and Oakland, excluding the area east of highways I-75 and M-24.

Chapman was elected to the office at MSBOA's annual meeting held recently on the campus of Michigan State University.

The 51-year-old association has nearly 1,600 members throughout Michigan.

Club notes

Several awards were won by the Junior Auxiliary of Chief Pontiac Post No. 377 at the 65th Annual Department of Michigan American Legion Auxiliary Convention held in Grand Rapids.

The Chief Pontiac post is located on Edgewood Road in Independence Township.

The junior auxiliary won the Best History and Scrapbook Award, the Junior Chaplain Prayer Book Award and the Ada Bogart Award for the Best Junior Pressbook.

April Reinhardt of Lake Orion won the Foreign Relations Doll Dressing Contest and Michael Bevens of Oxford won the Poppy Poster Contest in his age group.

April was presented to the convention delegation where she gave a speech on her year as Junior President of Michigan.

Attending the convention were several members of the post's auxiliary and legion including Auxiliary President Bea Hockey and Commander Lee Puckett.

Several awards were received by the auxiliary for all their work and the contributions they have made in their programs for children and youth and for veterans.

METAL OBSERVATION: Charles Wamsley watches instructor Dennis Moore cast molds in the Metallurgical Engineering "exploration" during Michigan Technological University's Summer Youth Program. The Clarkston area resident is one of about 1,200 students expected to visit the Houghton campus this summer to participate in week-long courses. The program is designed to introduce students to academic and professional fields not usually studied at their home schools. Charles is a 10th-grader at Clarkston High School. He is the son of Charles and Judy Wamsley.

Microwave-plus

Vacationing with your microwave

Betty Wagner

The microwave oven doesn't just belong in the home kitchen.

This efficient, cool appliance is especially missed during holiday time, so cottagers often transport their home oven or invest in a smaller compact model for their vacation retreat.

A visit to the boat-camper show last winter revealed a number of mobile homes equipped with microwave and micro/convection ovens. Even cabin cruisers and large sailing yachts offer these ovens as an option.

A must for operating the microwave or micro/convection is a power source, so unless a generator is available, the galley chef of a small sailboat can only use these appliances in harbors where electrical hook-up is provided.

The two hearty main dishes presented below are family favorites that evolved during 10 summers of cooking aboard a sailboat. They may be cooked in a gas or electric oven, in an alcohol or propane oven or in a microwave oven.

The recipes use ingredients that can be kept in the pantry. When fresh ingredients are available, they are preferred. There are times, however, when a grocery store is not just around the corner or when there is no time to dash out to the store.

You and your family may be pleasantly surprised at how tasty these dishes are with preserved ingredients.

Don't wait for a vacation away from home to sample these boating favorites. Each can provide a nucleus for a quick, easy meal during a busy summer day.

TEXAS PIE

A Mexican favorite that is sure to satisfy hungry appetites after a day on the water.

- 1 15-oz. can no-bean chili
- or 1 pound ground beef, browned*
- 1 12-oz. can Mexican corn, undrained
- 1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
- 1 tablespoon taco seasoning mix
- 2 tablespoons chopped green chilies, optional

Mix all the ingredients together in a 1 1/2 quart round Pyrex or microwave plastic dish, being careful not to mound ingredients in the center of the container.

Microwave at 80 percent power, or reheat setting, for 7 to 10 minutes or until bubbly and heated through.

Stir after 5 minutes to distribute heat throughout ingredients.

TOPPING:

- 1 8 1/2-ounce package corn muffin mix
- 1 tablespoon instant onion
- Paprika

While meat mixture is cooking, prepare muffin mix according to directions. Add the instant onion. Let rest 4 to 5 minutes.

Drop muffin mix by the tablespoonful around the meat mixture, ending with one spoonful in the center. Sprinkle with paprika, if desired.

Microwave at 100 percent, or high power, for 6 to 8 minutes or until muffins are barely set. Turn dish several times while cooking. Let dish stand for 5 minutes to set muffins.

*No-bean chili makes a nice substitute for ground beef. If using ground beef, brown in microwave oven at high power for 4 to 5 minutes, stirring often.

CLAM QUICHE

A tasty treat for mariners and land lovers alike.

1 9-inch pie shell prebaked in the conventional or microwave oven. If baking in the microwave, prick crust well and microwave at high power for 6 minutes, turning two times.

- 2 tablespoons bacon bits or chips
- 1 15-ounce can condensed clam chowder, New England style
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 4 teaspoons minced instant onion or 1/4 cup chopped fresh onion
- 2 teaspoons parsley flakes
- 1/2 cup sour cream*
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

6 1/2 oz. can minced clams, drained
4 slices American processed cheese

In a 4-quart Pyrex measure or microsafe bowl, combine bacon bits, chowder, clams, eggs, spices and sour cream. Microwave at 50 percent or medium power for 6 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes.

Pour heated mixture into the prebaked pie crust. Microwave at 50 percent power for 8 to 10 minutes, or until quiche is almost set.

Turn several times to ensure even cooking. Place cheese slices on top of quiche. Microwave at 50 percent power for 1 to 1 1/2 minutes. Let stand for 5 minutes to allow quiche to set.

*Use fresh sour cream or add a packet of sour cream sauce mix to 1/2 cup milk and beat with a fork. Let stand to thicken before adding a clam mixture.

If you drink while pregnant, what are the effects?

Dear Cat Paw:
How many people die or get sick from smoking?
Coughing

Dear Coughing:
Over the past 20 years deaths from smoking-related illnesses have doubled. Some 500,000 die annually from smoking-related causes.

Some 147,000 die from cancer, 240,000 from heart disease, 61,000 from respiratory diseases other than cancer, 4,000 from injuries such as fires and 15,000 from other smoking-related causes.

The survey adds that 4,000 infants die each year because of maternal smoking habits. 🐾

Dear Cat Paw:
If you drink and take drugs while pregnant, what are the effects on your baby?
No Name

Dear No Name:
You run the risk of permanently harming your baby if you use drugs and drink while pregnant.

If you drink heavily during pregnancy, you may have a baby with Fetal Alcohol Syndrome. These babies may be mentally retarded and may have deformities of the face, heart and limbs.

Some researchers have shown a higher risk of decreased birth weight and even miscarriage.

A recent study says that babies born weighing less than 5½ pounds are 40 times more likely to die in their first month of life than larger babies and are much more prone to serious disease. 🐾

Dear Cat Paw:
Does tobacco have the same effect internally as cigarettes?
A Concerned Chewer

Dear Concerned Chewer:
Snuff and chewing tobacco use can lead to oral cancer. Physicians, dentists, parents, school officials and others say smokeless tobacco is popular with youngsters across the nation.

Preliminary results of a dentist's survey of 200 seventh- and eighth-grade boys shows 43 percent have tried snuff and chewing tobacco and 18 percent use it regularly.

The stuff is dangerous—you should be concerned. 🐾

Whatever business you're in, it pays to be alert.

Take advantage of Alert, Consumers Power's new Business Energy Efficiency program. You can improve your profitability and competitive position by maximizing the value you receive from your energy dollar.

It's simple: If you own or operate a non-manufacturing commercial facility or apartment building, just call your local Consumers Power office. A trained consultant will conduct an evaluation of more than 35 factors of energy use in your place of business.

The consultant then returns for a personal explanation of a computerized report. It details recommended improvements, expected savings, estimated costs and projected payback period. The average fee is less than $17 per month—and payment may be made over 12 months interest-free.

Whatever business you're in, it pays to be alert. Call Consumers Power today for a commercial energy use analysis.

We can help.

Helping hand for special needs students

by John Tucker

Gene Lewis came to Michigan in 1971 to accept the counselor position in the special needs program at the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center (NWOVEC).

Since 1973, Gene has served as coordinator of special needs programs, modifying and expanding vocational education programs for handicapped and disadvantaged students served by NWOVEC.

During Gene's stay, offerings have expanded from seven to 17 programs.

Gene was raised in Ohio. He attended Heidelberg College to receive a bachelor's degree and Kent State University for his master's.

Before coming to Michigan, Gene taught third and sixth grade and also served as elementary school counselor in Euclid, Ohio.

Gene comes from a long line of educators. His grandfather taught in a one-room school for many years, several aunts and uncles are teachers and his mother is retiring from teaching.

In addition, his brother Larry teaches elementary school in Sunnydale, Calif.; another brother, Duane, is principal at Clarkston Junior High; and his sister-in-law teaches at Clarkston Elementary School.

Sandra, his wife, is director of JUMP-N-TOTS Nursery School and Day Care Center in White Lake Township. She also serves as president of the Waterford branch of the American Association of University Women.

Sandra and Gene have two sons, Scott, a junior at Waterford Kettering, and Matt, a freshman at Pierce Junior High in Waterford.

The Lewises are members of the Bethel United Church of Christ in Waterford Township where Gene serves as church school superintendent, classroom teacher for grades two, three and four, and also sings in the choir.

Gene continues to seek ways to better serve special needs students. Every year, he has developed or expanded programs and services that will benefit students in their pursuit of entry level job skills.

In addition to his work at NWOVEC, Gene is very active in professional organizations. During 1985, he will serve as president of the Michigan Occupational Special Needs Association and also serve on the planning committee of the Michigan Occupational Education Association.

In his free time, Gene enjoys camping and traveling with his family. At home, Gene enjoys working with stained glass.

Editor's note: An Apple for the Teacher is provided through a committee of the Clarkston Educational Association.

This week's author is John Tucker, an admission's counselor at the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center.

Michigan State Housing Development Authority

New Rates 1 to 9%

We've Cut the Interest Rates!

The Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) has reduced the interest rates on its Home Improvement Loans effective May 6, 1985.

The old rates were 3 to 10 percent, based on your annual adjusted income.

The NEW RATES are now 1 to 9 PERCENT, based on adjusted annual income.

Eligible homeowners can borrow up to $15,000, with 15 years to repay, for most kinds of permanent improvements: insulation, roofing, plumbing, room additions, electrical systems, painting, siding, handicapper access, and many others.

Annual Adjusted Income*	New Interest Rate
Less than $6,000	1%
$ 6,000 - 6,999	2
7,000 - 7,999	3
8,000 - 8,999	4
9,000 - 9,999	5
10,000 - 10,999	6
11,000 - 11,999	7
12,000 - 12,999	8
13,000 - 20,000	9

* Adjusted annual income means gross income at the time you apply for a loan, minus $750 for each member of the household living in the same dwelling unit.

For more information, contact MSHDA Home Improvement Loans, P.O. Box 30044, Lansing, MI 48909; telephone (517) 373-8017.

Community cable guide

Four programs are featured this week on cable-TV Channel 11. The shows are broadcast from the Clarkston studio of Tribune/United Cable Communications.

Wednesday through Saturday
July 31 through Aug. 2

7pm—"Who is Randy Dorfman?" A swastika touches off a violent conflict between a teenager and his father in this week's "This is the Life" episode sponsored by St. Trinity Lutheran Church of Independence Township. The program includes an introduction and conclusion by the Rev. Michael Klafehn, pastor of St. Trinity.

7:30pm—"Waterford Oaks Activities Center," a presentation by the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Department.

8pm—"Simmer with Sandy," a cooking show prepared by the latest production class from Tribune/United's Clarkston studio.

8:30pm—"The Amazing Grace Show," a Bible story presented by the Rev. Clarence Bell of the First Baptist Church of Clarkston.

Next Week, Monday through Friday
Concerts in the Park, filmed in Clarkston's Depot Park in July, air all week. Tune in to cable Channel 11 during the day for the evening's time schedule.

7pm—"Elm Street Divided," next week's episode in the "This is the Life" series, is the story of the death of a little boy that brings together a black and a Mexican family who had let prejudice divide their neighborhood.

Programs on cable Channel 11 begin at 7 p.m. weekdays only. Other times, the station features a billboard with community service announcements and the schedule of the evening's programs, updated daily at 2 p.m.

Smooth roads ahead

Several area roads are scheduled for improvements this year, following agreements between local governments, the Oakland County Board of Commissioners and the Oakland County Road Commission.

In the Village of Clarkston, Washington Street is to receive repairs and curb placement at a cost of $3,000.

In Independence Township, Stickney Road at Pine Knob Road is to be improved for sight distance and Perry Lake Road is scheduled for 0.2 mile of paving at a total cost of $45,000.

Springfield Township is scheduled for two improvements: the paving and graveling of a shoulder at the Ellis Road approach to Davisburg Road, and improved drainage on Hillsboro Road for a total cost of $23,100.

Under the tri-party plan, the costs are to be divided evenly among the township board or village council, road commission and county general government, says Dennis Pajot of the road commission.

After bids have been accepted on the proposals in August or September, construction will begin, Pajot says.

Logo competition

The Lake Orion Art Center is sponsoring a creative logo contest.

Deadline for entries is Sept 15. A $50 bond is the prize for the logo selected by the judges.

Simplicity is desired, because the design is to be reduced and used on the center's stationery.

Entries must be done in black and white on 8-by-11-inch paper with the artist's name, address and phone number on the back. They can be sent to the Lake Orion Art Center, 115 S. Anderson, Lake Orion, MI 48035.

For more information call Therese Becker at 391-1093 or Joan Brace at 693-9105.

Join parade for Carrie Nation

Parade participants are wanted for the 12th annual Carry Nation Festival and Parade in Holly on Saturday, Sept. 7.

Floats, marchers and costumed pets and their owners can take part. The parade theme is "Good Old Summertime."

There will be trophies for the following categories: Best of Show, Best of Theme, Best High School Band, Best Youth Presentation—float, Best Youth Presentation—marching or otherwise, and Best Equestrian—all horse units included.

There will also be a best of show prize in the pet category and ribbons will be awarded to all parade participants.

Serving as grand marshalls for the 10 a.m. parade are WDIV's Dwayne X. Riley and his wife, Sharon. Riley has been with Channel 4 for 26 years.

To register for the parade, call Rosie Melton at 634-8727 or write her at 11040 Buckhorn Lake Rd., Holly, MI 48442.

Long John Silver, a.k.a. Homer Biondi, captivates the imaginations of school children participating in the Independence Township Library Books and Buccaneers summer reading program. His pet stuffed parrot maintains a respectful silence.

This pirate is all eyes. Well, almost.

Dan Ely watches the antics of Long John Silver.

"What do you know about pirates?" asks the ominous Long John Silver. And from the audience of school children comes this quiet response, "They smell." Taken aback by the comment, Long John regains his dignity by telling the onlookers that children constitute his favorite meal. His all-in-fun threats didn't faze this smiling pirate. Members of the library's summer reading club dressed in pirate and gypsy costumes for a party at the library July 24.

Jayna Johnson is just a little leery.

Do you think they're sharing tales of the sea?
