Pine Knob traffic to be redirected

By Carolyn Walker

Traffic is going to be rerouted at Pine Knob Music Theatre this summer in an effort to subdue problems created by concert-goers.

The decision was made by Independence Township Supervisor Frank Ronk, Pine Knob officials and representatives of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department who met in a special meeting April 17. The meeting was held in response to issues raised

The meeting was held in response to issues raised by some 10 neighbors who attended the April 15 township board meeting.

The neighbors say that concert-goers urinate on their lawns, party and park at Bailey Lake School, loiter in their yards and sell tickets illegally in the road.

Police who patrol Pine Knob say they cannot enforce rules against concert-goers outside the theater grounds.

Together, the representatives agreed that the Pine Knob Road entrance to the theater should be closed and all traffic directed to the main gate off Sashabaw Road, Ronk said after the meeting.

He anticipates the change to begin at the onset of the concert season.

In addition, all traffic exiting Pine Knob will be directed south on Sashabaw to I-75, Ronk said.

Pine Knob plans to pay for more Oakland County Sheriff's deputies to patrol some concerts, Ronk added.

Holed up at Hallman's

By Julie LePere

Most people spend Sunday afternoon in a leisurely manner—reading, relaxing, catching up on household chores.

Cecil Wilmot spent his Sunday afternoon locked in Hallman's Apothecary.

He spent one-and-a-half hours in the store on Main Street, Clarkston, before being rescued by the combined efforts of Oakland County Sheriff's Department deputies; Marilyn Craft, a clerk at Hallman's; and Doreen Schwarze of Rudy's Market.

"I was in there buying a birthday card," said 83-year-old Cecil. "I saw the lights go out. . . . I walked to the front door, and it was locked."

He saw a woman outside the store, so he knocked on the glass door and told her the situa-

Council members take oaths

Four new members of the Clarkston Village Council were sworn into office on April 14.

And at that same meeting, the council unanimously reappointed several members to the village planning commission and zoning board of appeals.

New President Sharron Catallo and trustees Frank Millard, William Basinger and Eric Haven, who were elected on March 10, were sworn into office by acting-clerk Artemus Pappas.

Following the ceremony, the council reappointed Don Borngessor, John Steutzer and Gordon Spellbring to three-year terms on the planning commission.

In addition, Ted Thomson and Trustee James Schultz were reappointed to three-year terms on the zoning board of appeals.

Basinger was also appointed as the council representative to the cablecasting board.

tion.

She went to Rudy's and told Doreen, who called Marilyn and took up vigil outside Hallman's door.

Marilyn phoned employees of Hallman's who might have keys, but they either didn't have keys or weren't home.

"Finally, I called Oakland County and (the deputies) got him out at 3:45 (the store closes at 2 p.m. on Sunday)," she said. "He had set a newspaper on top of (the ashtrays) and was sitting there calmly reading them."

The lock-in delayed Cecil's son's birthday party that afternoon. In fact, one son heard of the situation on his police monitor but did not realize his own father was involved.

Through it all, Cecil wasn't worried. "I just sat down and waited," he said. 15475 Stayed August and a star a star

Springfield agrees to split school tax interest in the first state of the state

By Kathy Greenfield

Springfield Township and Clarkston Community Schools will split, 50-50, money the township makes from investing school taxes.

As far as he knows, the agreement is the first of its kind between a township and a school district, said William Jackson, business manager for Clarkston schools.

The split should provide almost enough money to cover the fee Springfield charges for collecting summer taxes, he said. The fee is expected to be $1,700 for this year's summer tax collection.

The proposal was approved by the Springfield Township Board on April 9 and by the Clarkston Board of Education on April 14.

The impetus came from a summer of 1985 court decision regarding the City of Grand Rapids and the Grand Rapids school district. The court ruled that the city had to repay all interest earned on the investment of school taxes.

The ruling pertained to a city, so it cannot be applied directly to townships, said Jackson.

A similar case is pending between Walled Lake schools and five townships, he added, but a court decision is not anticipated for two years.

Meanwhile, Jackson has sought agreements with Independence and Springfield townships, which collect the majority of taxes for Clarkston schools, and Waterford, White Lake and Orion townships.

So far, an agreement on the interest earned has been reached only with Springfield.

"This might be an ongoing thing unless the court or the Legislature decides for us," Jackson said.

The controversy centers on the investment of

Pine Knob traffic addressed

It is anticipated that the rerouting of Pine Knob traffic onto Sashabaw will force other drivers to detour around the facility to reach their destinations north or south when concerts let out.

"If this doesn't work out, we'll go back to the drawing board and try something else," said Ronk in response to questions about traffic congestion that will be created by the change.

"There'll be those people upset about it," he said, adding that he expects traffic to back up at the Sashabaw/I-75 ramps for up to an hour-and-a-half following concerts.

"Even the way Pine Knob is now, you can't get through. Hopefully the positive will outweigh the negative," he said.

While Ronk endorses the measures, George White, Pine Knob's director of community relations, says he is upset by the proposals.

He said he prefers to see an ordinance designed for dealing with ticket scalpers and other loiterers.

"There are problems that have been identified that can be cured with clarification of an enforceable ordinance," he said during a phone interview

The proposed corrective measures deal only with traffic and dust problems created for residents of Clarkston and Pine Knob roads, White said.

In addition, White said, Pine Knob has paid for 10,000 feet of dust control on Waldon and Pine Knob roads for several years.

That service is going to be stopped as a result of the changes, he said.

Ron Raymond, a neighbor who attended the board meeting seeking help concurs with White that the solutions won't address many of the problems.

'It didn't sound like it was going to do a whole lot to me," he said. "(It's) nothing that's enforceable. It all sounds rather noncommittal to me."

school taxes by the townships before they turn the money over to the districts.

By law, the townships are required to turn over taxes collected 10 business days after the first and 15th of the month, allowing investment time of 14 to 28 days.

"I proposed to Springfield Township that we settle it now, so there's no problem in the future," said Jackson. "It's a middle of the road approach. . . . The mutual agreement between the two parties should prevent (litigation)."

At the board of education meeting, board member Stephen Werner expressed concern that the interest would not totally cover the tax collection fee and asked why the district should not receive all of the interest earned.

Jackson responded that there would be no incentive for the township to invest the money if it could not keep half of the profits.

"I thought that was a pretty good approach for something that was not delineated by the court system," said board member Thomas Bills.

Board president Janet Thomas noted that it was important to maintain a good relationship with the township.

"It's a resolution to the problem," said Jackson.

Boards to meet over dinner

By Kathy Greenfield

Over 30 Independence Township and Village of Clarkston officials are planning to gather at a dinner meeting Tuesday, April 29, at the Deer Lake Racquet Club.

The meeting begins with a cash bar at 6 p.m. Dinner, at 7, is to be paid for by the township. A study session is planned at 8 p.m.

The purpose is to exchange "information on where we might be going down the road on our development," said Supervisor Frank Ronk.

Among the invited guests are the seven-member township board, the seven-member township planning commission, the five-member township zoning board of appeals, the nine-member township economic development corporation, the township attorney, the township planner, the township engineer and the seven-member Clarkston Village Council.

Ronk said he expects the meal to cost about $12 a

DDA outlined

Boundaries to be drawn

By Carolyn Walker

The establishment of a downtown development authority on Dixie Highway in Independence Township has inched closer to reality.

On April 15, the township board voted unanimously to seek a revised map of the proposed site.

Under the revision, the DDA would extend from the township's southern-most boundary on Dixie Highway to Foster Road. It would also include the area from Dixie down M-15 to the village limits, said Clerk Richard Holman.

The original DDA plans, as submitted at the meeting by planner Richard Carlisle, called for a northern boundary at Dollar Lake.

But the board asked him to extend the boundary to Foster Road to incorporate as much of the business district as possible, Holman said.

According to Holman, the establishment of a DDA would help create funds for improving water and sewer services in the DDA territory.

According to written information supplied by Carlisle, a Tax Increment Finance Authority (TIFA) established within the DDA would enable the township to capture increased tax assessments for improvements in the DDA district.

The amount returned to the DDA is based on the difference between state equalized values of businesses, which are frozen and redetermined after property values rise.

After the re-evaluation, the difference between the frozen valuations and the improved valuations is multiplied by the millage rate to determine the tax amount to be returned to the DDA, Holman said.

In this way, taxes are collected, but the money is used for improvements within the DDA and not sent to the county or other funds, Holman said.

Several steps must be taken before a DDA can be established in the township, Holman said.

First, the revised map designating the boundary lines must be established. Then a legal document quirement of the Michigan Open Meetings Act, Ronk said, and residents will be able to attend, but they cannot join in on the dinner.

"I don't know if there would be a lot of benefit to people there," he said, adding that no decisions would be made. "They can come in. I'm not sure they'll be allowed to participate. They can sit and listen."

Ronk compared the planned study session to a "think tank" and said the people who serve on the various boards and commission would have an opportunity to get to know each other.

"It will just be a kind of bull-session to get our thoughts together on where we're going," he said.

The racquet club is located on White Lake Road in Independence Township.

Believe it or not, the sunny days of spring are here. That can only mean one thing. People want more of that sunshine.

That's why daylight savings time was invented. Starting this Sunday, everyone will have one more golfing-, planning-, hiking- or whateverhour before nightfall.

Just remember, before you go to bed Saturday night, you'll have to set your clocks ahead one hour. Like the saying goes, "Spring forward, fall back."

PREPARING THE PINES: Neither rain, nor snow, nor sleet—all of which went on outside Monday—deterred members of the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club from their duties. Club members and friends packaged thousands of white pine seedlings for distribution this week to Clarkston elementary school children and community members. Date changed for CHS graduation

The graduation date for the Clarkston High School Class of 1986 has been changed.

Although printed annoucements ordered through the school say the class will march to "Pomp and Circumstance" on Sunday, June 15, at 1 p.m., they'll actually receive their diplomas on Thursday, June 12, at 7:30 p.m.

The only thing remaining the same is the location of the Thursday evening ceremony—the Pine Knob Music Theatre.

When the original date was set, it was tentative, said Mel Vaara, acting CHS principal and assistant superintendent of Clarkston schools.

Concerts scheduled at the music theater on Saturday and Sunday created a conflict that could only be settled by changing the CHS graduation date, he said. "I know it's not as convenient as a Sunday afternoon and it may prevent some relatives from coming, but there was just no recourse but to schedule it (Thursday) evening," Vaara said. "I hope the parents of the seniors will understand why we had to change it."

CHS graduations on weekend afternoons have become a Pine Knob tradition over the past decade. Previously, the ceremonies were held in the evening in the CHS gymnasium.

"If you have it in the gym, you can only give out two tickets per graduate," said Vaara, while at Pine Knob there is no limit on the number of family members and guests who may attend.

Those who ordered graduation announcements through the school will receive printed insertion cards with the actual date at no charge, he said.

must be drawn, a public hearing held and a resolution of intent to form a DDA must be signed. Following those steps, an ordinance must be adopted by the township board establishing the DDA.

Free seedlings

White pine tree seedlings will be distributed—for free—on Friday, April 25, by members of the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club. About 300 seedlings will be handed out begin-

About 300 seedings will be handed our beginning at 10 a.m. in front of the Pontiac State Bank's downtown Clarkston branch.

The club activity is in commemoration of Independence Township's 150th birthday and of Arbor Day in Michigan.

High cost of deputies questioned

By Carolyn Walker

A new contract with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department was begrudgingly approved by the Independence Township Board, said Clerk Richard Holman.

Under the new contract, police services to the township will stay the same but costs will go up, Holman said.

Currently, one to two deputies patrol the township depending on the shift and day of the week. Although the board approved the contract on April 15, they also authorized Trustee Dale Stuart to write a letter of protest against the "monopoly situation," Holman said.

Rates are expected to jump from $53,613 for each deputy per year to $55,326 per year as of April 2, Holman said. On April 1, 1987, the rates are expected to zoom to $59,722 per deputy, he added.

The cost per deputy includes police cars, uniforms, equipment and supervisory expenses.

Police expenses in Independence Township are paid for through a police millage. Currently, property owners pay 1 mill for police services. One mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation. Voters approved the 10-year tax in 1980.

Voters have repeatedly defeated attempts to increase the millage rate since 1976.

Holman anticipates that the cost of paying for police services may have to be supplemented from money in the general fund.

From April 1 to Dec. 31, 1985, before the township took charter status, the police fund was supplemented with $76,585 from the general fund, Holman said.

Ritters' carwash approved for Dixie Highway

By Carolyn Walker

A new, family-owned carwash has been approved for construction on Dixie Highway between Lingor and Parview roads.

On April 15, the Independence Township Board voted 6-1 to allow the facility as proposed by developers Fred and Sheila Ritter of Independence Township.

In doing so, the board authorized a zoning change for the 1.14-acre site from commercial status to Planned Unit Development (PUD).

PUD permits a variety of uses on a single parcel of land.

Trustee Carol Balzarini, a member of the board and the planning commission, voted against the matter in protest of a proposed 13-foot-tall sign to be erected at the carwash.

Last month, the planning commission voiced disapproval of the sign's height and recommended that Ritter erect a shorter, six-foot sign in accordance with a proposed ground sign amendment.

The amendment has been widely debated but not yet been approved by the board and is therefore not enforceable, said Clerk Richard Holman, explaining the decision to permit the higher sign.

In addition, the board plans to permit the construction of a 30-inch fence around a proposed detention basin, which would not retain water.

The approval of the carwash is dependent upon a written agreement between Ritter and the township in which the township would not be liable should an accident occur at the detention pond, Holman said.

The planning commission had recommended that Ritter build a four-foot cyclone or decorative fence along the detention pond.

Ritter proposes the shorter fence along with an eight-inch curb and hedge row between the pond and the fence, making for additional barrier, Holman said

The fence is to surround the steep sides of the pond. One side, which has a slow slope and can be walked on to exit the pond, will not be fenced.

After the meeting, Ritter said he hopes to have the building in place by fall. He plans to break ground this spring.

At the carwash, people will ride through a 120-foot-long tunnel in their cars, which will be washed mechanically, Ritter said.

Employees will help dry vehicles at the end of the cycle. The family-owned business, which includes the Ritters' children Matt and Sonja, will also offer a coin-operated vacuuming service, Ritter said.

COMMUNITY THANKS: AI Carter was guest of honor Sunday evening at a party honoring him for his many hours of volunteer work. Held at the Independence Township Senior Citizen Center, the open house was hosted by the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee (CAYAC). "I'm just overwhelmed that people care that much about me," said Carter, a former CAYAC president who has been nominated for the President's Volunteer Action Award by United States Congressman Bob Carr (D-East Lansing). Carter's volunteer activities have included work with almost a dozen different organizations over the past 25 years. "I didn't consider it service because I enjoyed it," Carter said. A brain tumor, discovered in November, has slowed his pace over the last few months. At the party, Carter said he should have been honoring those who attended because they have been so supportive during his illness. He's pictured cutting the party cake with his wife, Sylvia. Promoted workers

Two new employees have been added to the township payroll.

On April 15, the Independence Township Board approved the hiring of Arv Stegeman to the fire department's position of Clerk I.

Stegeman was formerly a part-time employee of the Village of Clarkston and has served as a part-time recording secretary for the board.

The township board also approved Ray Neubeck's promotion from custodian to Laborer I in the department of public works.

Neubeck will begin his new position after someone has been found to fill his custodial duties, said Clerk Richard Holman.

Garten escapes

Terry Lee Garten, 19, has escaped from minimum security at Ionia State Prison, according to St. Glenn Watson of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Garten, an Independence Township resident who escaped April 10 by digging under a fence, was sentenced to four to 30 years in jail on March 11 in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Charges against Garten stemmed from his involvement in several breakings and enterings in the Independence Township area, Watson said.

He made his escape with three other prisoners, according to Watson.

Garten was arrested by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies on Jan. 13 after he and an accomplice had allegedly broken into a residence in Lapeer County.

Joyce Gibbons has worked as a cashier at Wonder Drugs for 20 years and has become a friendly face to the customers.

"She's always joking around with people," said Cynde Guzman, a co-worker at the Independence Township store on M-15.

"She just talks to everybody, and she goofs around with everybody. And people will come in and say, 'Hi, Joyce,' and she doesn't know who all of them are, but they all know who she is."

The animals among us

Kathy Greenfield

On Thursday, I vacuumed, dusted, polished and picked up.

On Friday, at lunch time, we found the dog wallowing in a mud puddle. He was rinsed off and confined to the kitchen for an afternoon drying out period.

Early Friday evening, I put the fresh flowers in place and prepared snacks.

My guests arrived. Everything was going smoothly.

"Oh by the way, your cat was standing in the front yard eating a bird when I arrived," someone said.

"Oh, really?" I responded. "Well, what can I say . . . '

But the image hung with me. This strange guest greeting, I later thought, is something Stephen King could work into one of his spooky books.

Along with their finer attributes, cats have an unfortunate bird-killing instinct. Because the cat is mine, however, doesn't mean I condone the behavior.

I don't open the door and say, "OK, dear cat, go get 'em," and she doesn't respond with a nod of her head and a gleam in her eye.

But she continues stalking innocent birds-and I continue loving her.

Right now, I'm feeling pretty much the same way about my country.

From what I can gather from news reports, over 60 Libyans died when the United States bombed Libya last week. Libya's leaders claim only a couple of those were military types, and they, too, may have qualified as innocent victims.

We know that one of the innocents was a baby who had the unfortunate luck to be adopted by Khadafy and bombed by the United States.

It's another tragedy in a string of tragedies conducted by people against people in the name of patriotism to one country or another. We've reacted to terrorism with terrorism.

People have told me that to be against the bombing (explained by our president as something we had to do), I have to be able to come up with a better solution (we had to do something).

I, frankly, don't see anything wrong with simply not accepting it as a solution. As human beings, we could have done better.

It's understandable if a cat stalks a bird. It's OK if a dog wallows in the mud.

But right now many of the animals seem to be wallowing in the mud together-with dead birds in their mouths.

No one in the business end of a newspaper ever believed the two newspapers in Detroit would continue as they have the past five years.

When Gannett bought the Detroit News in February for $765 million, newspaper followers knew it was only a matter of time until a Joint Operating Agreement (JOA) would be proposed.

The real surprise is the timing . . . so soon.

Stu McTeer, advertising manager of our Clarkston News and former Free Press employee for 20 years, predicted the JOA the day the Gannett-News deal was cut.

He had followed the San Francisco and Pittsburg JOAs, and he was working for the Philadelphia Bulletin when no JOA was arranged enacted in 1970, is called the Failing Newspaper Act.

Monday's announcement said the Free Press is the failing newspaper. It lost $35 million, the News $20 million in five years. And, with profits being split 55-45 in favor of the News, the Free Press would appear to be the loser. However, if there are profits to split, as opposed to losing $35 million, Free Press (owned by Knight Ridder) is also a winner.

When it comes to losers, there will be plenty. Probably upwards of 1,000 in circulation, advertising and production personnel will lose their jobs.

McTeer, like many of us, just couldn't believe Gannett would allow it so soon. But, with the Free Press and News losing so many millions, stockholders had to be accounted for. The bottom line is all important.

Those of us involved in Michigan newspapering remember the predictions five years ago that in five years there would be only one daily newspaper in Detroit.

Many will say they made their deadline.

During those five years management of both papers told employees we know that their paper was losing money. However, our friends on the News and Free Press both reported management said the News was losing the most money.

Why should any deals be made? No morning competition. No evening competition. No weekend competition.

Some advertisers will gain a little. The major space buyers will no longer have to buy ads in both papers on weekends, however, that sweetness may be short lived as ad prices will raise.

To a great extent people buy and read newspapers, not for hard news, but for features, columnists, funnies, crossword puzzles, want ads, and grocery and dept store advertising.

The only loss these readers will experience is having to pay more to get it.

As we said, Detroit was headed for a one newspaper or joint newspaper future. The only guestion was when. Now we know when . . . too Soon.

Early in the service, the minister asked the little children to come forward and sit on the floor at his feet while he told them Easter meant more than Easter eggs.

It was my first trip to Emily's church since Christmas, at which time the minister did the same thing, except he told the kids Christmas meant more than Christmas trees. So I knew the routine.

Just before she went forward on Easter, I told Emily to be sure to sit where I could see her from where I was sitting. I told her that on Christmas she sat in the middle of around 30 children, several of them quite large, and my view of her was completely blocked.

I don't drive 130 miles to look at other people's grandchildren. On Christmas, I had to leave my pew and stand in the aisle, and then I could see only the top of Emily's head. For Easter, I didn't want to make such a goof of myself. Also, Easter was a good time to remind Emily that I. like to look at her. On Christmas, she didn't have a little sister, but now there is her three-month-old sister; Tricia. It is difficult for a four-year-old to understand why she is and some with the

"Hello Tricia, you little doll, this is your grandma talking to you, yes it is, it really is your grandma, yes it is..."

That is an exact quote, I swear to God. I took notes. A few days before Easter, Emily ran away to a neighbor's house. She said her parents didn't love her anymore. "When that little kid was born, that was it for me," Emily explained, pushing the open palms of both hands toward the ceiling.

I kiss and coo with Tricia the same way an alcoholic sneaks a drink. I keep looking around to see if Emily is watching. She often is, and I feel disloyal, as though I'd defected to Russia. And when I assure Emily that I love her as much as ever, she gives me a look that says, "Yeah, what about Afghanistan?"

So anyway, on Easter I told Emily to sit where I could see her, and half-way to the front of the church, she remembered. She began to walk backward, so she could maintain eye contact with me. And when she sat on the

She sat with her back to the minister. Twenty-nine other little kids sat facing the minister, listening to him explain the Resurrection, for about five minutes. Emily sat facing me, grinning all the time.

I don't know what the rest of the congregation thought. I was the only one who understood why Emily was being so rude to the minister. And I was the only one grinning bigger than she was.

Occasionally I receive terribly sad letters from grandparents who, because of a family squabble, are never allowed to see their grandchildren. I also hear from parents who are sad because their children's grandparents never want to see them.

I'm not sure why these unhappy people tell me their troubles. There is no way I can help them. In fact, it seems more likely that my babbling-grandfather columns would initiate them. Perhaps they just want me to realize that I'm a lucky.

Give peace a chance

We sat around the table, three generations in celebration last week. My parents. My husband and I. My children.

The occasion: my daughter's 13th birthday.

Honoring her passage from childhood to young adulthood, we carefully avoided the topic that was on everybody's minds: Libya.

As my daughter blew out the candles on her cake, the bombing and smoldering of that nation was only two days old.

On the night of the United States' strike against Khadafy, my daughter voiced a concern between questions about her upcoming party: "I wish we owned a bomb shelter," she said. "Do you think we'll go to war?"

She said it with a girlish giggle that betrayed her fear. Her chin trembled just a little and her eyes were alive with the realization that nuclear war could invade her lifetime.

It made my blood chill.

I remember being about her age and walking through a neighborhood bomb shelter with my family. At that time, the shelters were a new concept and making such treks was the trend.

The shelter was oval shaped, a nondescript color and barren except for shelves that would hold food and medical supplies.

As I remember, it was located next to a bowling alley, a place people went for fun. An irony of sorts.

ade ade ade

After we finished eating the cake and ice cream, my father, a veteran of World War II, told about the death of his best friend, Richard, at Guadalcanal.

I had heard the story before. They met when they were kindergartners, spent their boyhoods in adventures together, and were separated for the first and last time when Richard joined the Marines, my father the Army.

Richard was killed without ever getting a furlough home. He never saw his father again after he enlisted. He saw his mother only once before he was shipped overseas.

My father loved Richard.

It shows in his face when he remembers him. Some 40 years later, he still carries Richard's death notice in his wallet and still looks like he wants to cry at the memory.

During the 60s, my father and I used to debate the merits and demerits of the Vietnam War. Sometimes, we had difficulty understanding each other. We certainly never found any answers.

His experiences told him it was right and necessary to fight when needed by his country. How could one American dodge the war while another was fighting for his right to do so, he used to ask.

Zigmund Freed

Carolyn Walker

But I tended to sympathize with those who said the Vietnam War was wrong. Just what were we really fighting for, I countered.

Twenty years later we know these unspoken thoughts as we gather around a birthday table: His generation fought so mine wouldn't have to. My generation fought so our children wouldn't have to.

And yet we fight.

Is the bombing of Libya like the massacre at My Lai? Can we justify the deaths of children and innocent civilians? Is vengeance the answer?

Or, is the bombing of Libya more like the fight at Guadalcanal? Will it be the decisive measure that turns our troubled world around?

The chants of the 60s echo in my mind: My country right or wrong. Might is right. Two wrongs don't make a right. What if they gave a war and nobody came?

Give peace a chance.

New principal on tap for Andersonville

By Kathy Greenfield

A new principal will be in charge at Andersonville Elementary School for the 1986-87 school year. The change is part of a planned realignment of administrative duties for Clarkston Community Schools.

Superintendent Milford Mason announced the plan at the April 14 board of education meeting. The changes will take place when William Dennis retires this summer. Dennis is the administrative assistant in charge of auxiliary services.

"This neither creates more positions nor lessensthe number of positions," Mason said.

Instead, some administrators will have new job duties.

William Neff, now principal of Andersonville Elementary and administrator in charge of K-6 education, will move to the central office and become GREASE IS THE WORD: "Grease" comes to the Our Lady of the Lakes High School stage from April 24-26, and among those with prominent roles are sophomores Jennifer Dakroub and Quentin Chiappetta, both Clarkston area residents. The musical presentation marks the first time the high school has presented a major theatrical production. Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. They will be sold at the door. the administrative assistant in charge of K-12 administrative services.

"It's going to be different, but I'm looking forward to it," said Neff after the meeting. Among his duties will be conducting principals' meetings, evaluating the work of principals, supervising educational programs and child accounting.

Mel Vaara, now assistant superintendent in charge of 7-12 education and acting principal at Clarkston High School, will take over the duties now performed by Dennis, which include overseeing grounds and building maintenance and the bus garage and determining when school will close for inclement weather.

"It will remove a redundancy that exists when we enter a phase where curriculum matters are handled on a K-12 basis," said Mason. "Everyone will have duties K-12, as opposed to having a break between elementary and secondary."

The new principal for Andersonville Elementary is expected to be hired by July 1.

4 Clarkston teachers pink-slipped

Four teachers have received layoff notices for the 1986-87 school year from Clarkston Community Schools, but the layoffs may never take place.

"There's the possibility they could be recalled in June depending on staff retirements and leaves," said Conrad Bruce, administrative assistant in charge of personnel services.

In a unanimous vote on April 14, the school board approved the layoffs of Doris Bonnell, a fifthgrade teacher at North Sashabaw Elementary; Kari Cook, a second-grade teacher at Clarkston Elementary; Michael Kaul, a social studies teacher at Clarkston High School; and David Trombley, a math teacher at CHS.

The layoff notices were based on anticipated reduction in enrollment of about 100 pupils and the anticipated return from leaves of three higher seniority teachers, Bruce said.

A week or so ago, the layoff notices would have numbered seven or eight, he said, but since then three or four teachers have announced they will retire at the end of this school year.

Since January, six teachers have filed the necessary retirement papers, he said, which is "more than usual. They're taking advantage of the state incentive for early retirement."

Netters are tough this year

By Julie LePere

Competition is tough within the boys' varsity tennis team this year at Clarkston High School.

Since the season is still young, the positions aren't solidified. A first doubles player one week may play fourth singles the next week.

That's exactly what's happening.

The team is undefeated in the league with a 2-0 record, and the players are still challenging one another for different positions.

So far, so good, but the Wolves haven't yet played Lake Orion. The match between the two will determine the Greater Oakland Activities League title, said Coach Dick Swartout.

"We've won the matches we thought we would win." he said after beating Kettering on Friday and Mott two days earlier. "The outcome of the league depends on the match against Lake Orion."

The match against Lake Orion scheduled Monday was canceled due to inclement weather, but against Waterford Kettering Friday, nearly all the Wolves won.

Winning in the singles positions were Dan Travis, 6-1, 6-0; Peter Hollis, 6-0, 6-0; and Steve Wiedemann by default.

The winning doubles teams were Phillipe Duchene and Giovanni Finall, 6-3, 6-0; Hernando Hulleza and Steve Hollis, 6-1, 6-0; and Jeff Brock and Mike Johnson, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

NEW BIKING CLUB FOR CASUAL RIDERS: Jeff Noftz [left] of the Flying Rhinos biking club and Kinetic Systems and Ken Peterson talk before the bide ride begins. Every Saturday morning at 9:30 the group leaves from the Depot Park in Clarkston for a 17-20 mile ride, with a stop for brunch midway. The group is still looking for more members. "It's for people who aren't racers." said organizer Vic Bilicki, adding that bikers should have a 10-speed. He is also willing to give advice on proper riding techniques and bike maintenance. The cost is 50 cents, and the proceeds go to the American Youth Hostels. Participants should also remember to bring money for brunch.

Whitaker chooses Toledo

Choosing a college is a tough decision for any high school senior; but the choice was especially difficult for CHS basketball star Ed Whitaker. the basketball programs of different schools, Whitaker has decided to play for the University of Toledo in Toledo, Ohio, next fall.

CHS senior and All-State basketball player Ed Whitaker has decided to attend the University of Toledo next fell "I thought that they could help me out and I could help them out," he said. "It's a good school, in basketball and academics."

Toledo is a division-one school in the Mid-American Conference.

"I think it's an excellent place for Eddie to play," said Wolves basketball coach Dan Fife. "It's an excellent basketball school with a strong basketball tradition. And it's a quality school as far as education goes.

"I'm very proud of him. He's worked very hard to accomplish his goal of playing division-one basketball."

The 6-foot-3 All-Stater accumulated a whole list of personal basketball honors this year, as well as helping the Wolves to a 21-3 record, a share of the Greater Oakland Activities League title and a district championship.

Whitaker, who also plays varsity baseball, is glad his decision process is finished.

"It's just a hassle going through all the recruiting," he said. "I was glad to get it over with more than anything." basketball title last week.

The nine-member team defeated Coldwater, 54-47, in the final game of the state basketball tournament sponsored by the Michigan Recreation and Park Association and Budweiser.

In addition, two Pyramid players, Kevin Ogg and Tim Weiss, were selected to the All Tournament Team. Kevin Ogg also won the most valuable player award for Class C.

Manager-player Frank Collias, an Independence Township resident, was pleased with the win.

"It felt great," he said. "I'd never been to a state tournament before. Some of the guys used to play in Waterford, and they'd been to the state tournament 10 years in a row, but they'd never won. We went up there and we won it."

On the way to the finals, the Pyramids beak Frankenmuth, 99-70; Sturgis, 85-67, and Portland, 78-59.

Members of the team were Frank Collias, John Collias, Scott Gardiner, Jim Irwin, Chris Lori Rick McGowan, Kevin Ogg, Terry Weiss, Tim

Brothers win race

By Julie LePere

The Grabowski brothers are making a name for themselves in the world of all-terrain-cycles (ATC).

At the Silverdome Supercross two weeks ago, the brothers each placed in their classes.

Ten-year-old Chris, a fifth-grader at Bailey Lake Elementary, placed first out of five in the 60 modified engine class.

Derek, 16, placed second out of nine in the 200 two-stroke engine class.

"I just got the guy in the last lap," said Derek, a sophomore at Clarkston High School. "Right on the finish line, that's where I passed him."

The boys, who have been racing for two years, practice in a field near their home or in a course set up in their back yard.

"Chris got an ATC for his birthday when he was eight," said Derek. "(I) got one maybe a year after that."

The boys seem to thrive on the excitement, looking forward to weekend trips to Lapeer or Flint or even Ohio or Illinois.

But for their mother, Marlene, it's a different story

"I'm happy for them, but I'm a little leery," she said. "It's frightening sometimes because they go so fast. But they look forward to going (to races).'

Noise levels on track to increase

By Carolyn Walker

Conceptually speaking, the Independence Township Board has agreed to a weekend of increased sound levels at the Waterford Hill Race Track.

At the board's April 15 meeting, representatives of Group Promotions/GP Publishing Inc. sought a waiver from township rules dictating noise levels of no more than 80 decibels for the running of vintage cars.

Group Promotions proposes conducting the historic auto races on Aug. 1-3 in conjunction with the Meadow Brook Concours d'Elegance to be held at Meadow Brook Hall in Rochester Aug. 3.

Sound levels at the track off Dixie Highway have been a source of contention for track neighbors for several years. In response to their complaints, the township established the 80-decibel limit.

Representatives of Group Promotions indicated the noise-level restraints were prohibitive for the historic cars because their exhaust systems predate modern improvements regarding noise.

According to Holman, the board directed the promoters to return with information describing how high the decibel rate will need to go.

In addition, the township ordinance will need to be amended to provide a way for issuing the waiver, Holman said.

"It's still going to take some work and some time," he said.

The amendment is necessary so the township can avoid being accused of being "arbitrary" in future decisions on noise-waiver requests, Holman said, citing advice by township attorney Gerald Fisher.

Anyone seeking a waiver will have to meet the criteria of the amendment, Holman added.

In seeking their waiver, Group Promotions said they would consider making a monetary donation to SCAMP and would consider putting the vintage cars on display in the township or holding a parade of cars in connection with the township sesquicentennial.

Mezzo soprano shares memories

By Julie LePere

Rebecca Gould has devoted her life to a love of music, from singing with big bands to teaching piano.

"I had a wonderful life," the 82-year-old said during an interview at her Independence Township home.

Born in Toronto, Ohio, she left her home town after graduating from high school to attend the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y.

Rebecca, whose mother was a singer, began playing the piano at age 6 and began voice lessons at 16, but the musical career of the mezzo soprano really began in New York.

"I made music my forte, and I sang in seven different languages."

-Rebecca Gould

"If you please, I'm one of the favored ones who sang with the big bands," she said. "I sang with Ben Bernie, Paul Whiteman, Glen Miller. I sang with Bing Crosby and Crossman. I sang at Sheas Theater in Buffalo. That's where they had all the shows."

Rebecca shared her reactions to some of the famous people she knew in New York.

above us was a young man, an opthamologist, who was very good friends with Lucille Ball. In fact, she was his girlfriend.

"We would get together... She was a nut, just as she is today," she said, and laughed at the memory, before sharing an observation about another star.

"I sang on a radio show. . . . I sang with Kate Smith. She was crabby as a bear."

Rebecca sang other types of music as well. In Rochester and Buffalo, she sang in churches and temples, and she studied opera under Herbert Witherspoon who was the leading basso in the Metropolitan Opera Company.

"I knew the score for 'Madama Butterfly.' We worked on 'Madama Butterfly' for a whole month. I'm a mezzo soprano, but I had a three-octave range," she said. "I sang the low part."

Rebecca put all her energy into the work she loved.

"I made music my forte, and I sang in seven different languages," she said. "I sang in English, French, German, Italian, Russian, Hebrew and Swedish.

"I sang 28 shows a week for $28. Now, remember, that was a long time ago, and $28 paid the rent.

Rebecca Gould was a soloist for 11 years at Temple Beth Jacob in Pontiac. Before that, she sang in New York on the radio, in the theater and with big bands. "While it lasted, it was delightful," said Rebecca.

Delpha Dunn celebrates 80th

By Julie LePere

Not everyone celebrates her 80th birthday in such style as Delpha Dunn of Independence Township.

Her neighbors, headed by friend Thelma Potvin, gave her a birthday party April 16, complete with a cake and a balloon bouquet.

Delpha stays in good physical condition by working in her garden, camping up north two or three times a summer, and even trying new activities for excitement.

Last summer, she rode the Potvins' threewheeled ATV and the year before, she snowmobiled in the winter.

"It was great fun. As far as music is concerned, I had a wonderful life."

Reflecting on all she's done, Rebecca is satisfied, but a little sorry her career is over. "If I had it to do all over again, I wouldn't get a degree in voice. It's wonderful while it lasts, but when it's no longer there, it's frustrating," she said. "While it was there, it was delightful.

"I stopped singing at the age of 65, and I'll tell you why. When I was young, I was in Pittsburg, and I heard Madame Schumann Heinke, who was 75 years old, and she was pathetic. And I told myself when my voice becomes pathetic, I'd quit."

Rebecca moved to Michigan in 1943 in search of better job prospects. She came to Independence Township in 1981 to relax and teach piano to area children.

Now she teaches piano to about 10 students, down from her usual 30 due to health reasons. She hopes to add more students as her health improves:

"I like the students. I have had some wonderful ones," she said. "And they're good for me. They make me happy,"

"As a kid, I'd take care of babies. When I got older, I'd work in the fields."

-Delpha Dunn

"I feel pretty good," she said. ". . . I do drink a cold beer every once in a while. We (herself and the Potvins) go up north camping, and we drink a beer at night. . . . We have ourselves a ball."

About being 80, Delpha said, "I feel good. I don't have . . . pains. I don't suffer like that. I just can't hold out like I used to.

"I think the more exercise I do helps. I've worked all of my life. That's all I've done.

"As a kid, I'd take care of babies. When I got older, I'd work in the fields. When I was older, I'd go out to work.

"I worked in homes. Then I worked in a glove factory and a pants factory in Missouri. I worked at the GM foundry core room in Michigan."

 $\dot{\mathbf{r}}$

Delpha Dunn celebrated her 80th birthday with her niece Phyllis McIntosh and her neighbor Theima Potvin. Theima arranged a neighborhood birthday party for Delpha on April 16.

After Delpha married her late husband Francis in 1950, she stayed home and kept house.

She and Francis used to hunt and fish together, and she still continues the activites.

"I'm looking forward to a trip up north as soon 'as the weather breaks this spring," she said.

68 CHS pupils score 100

The 68 Clarkston High School sophomores who scored 100 percent in math and reading on the Michigan Educational Assessment Program were honored at an assembly at CHS last week.

The students received certificates of recognition signed by Gov. James Blanchard and presented by Mel Vaara, acting CHS principal and assistant superintendent of the district.

"I think it's an outstanding achievement to do that well on these tests, to score 100 percent," said Vaara.

The students are Christopher C. Bailey, Kelly M. Ballard, Michael A. Barnes, Christopher T. Bower, Rhonda G. Bowes, Martin E. Brown, David B. Carosella, Curtis J. Caruso, Andrew M. Just wondering

Dear Cat Paw:

I was just wondering how many people die each year from smoking cigarettes. Do you know or can you find out?

Wondering

Dear Wondering:

Researchers say cigarette smoking is the leading cause of death among adults throughout the world.

According to Worldwatch Institute, a Washington based non-profit research organization, 2.5 million deaths a year result from cigarette smoking. This exceeds the number who die from famine or war.

Dear Cat Paw:

I'm an alcoholic and some friends told me I'm addicted to some other drugs. How can that be when I don't use drugs?

Set Me Straight

Dear Set Me Straight:

I think what your friends are referring to is the fact that drugs from different classes are crosstolerant if they achieve the same physical effect.

For example, an alcoholic is at a particularly high risk of becoming dependent on sedatives because the chemical reactions of the two drugs are similar.

Once an individual has acquired a tolerance to certain drugs, he or she will automatically acquire an equivalent tolerance to other drugs of the same type.

Be sure to consult with a doctor, pharmacist or local treatment center if you have any questions about drugs and over-the-counter medications.

Dear Cat Paw:

Why do people get withdrawal symptoms when they quit using?

Shaking

Dear Shaking:

When any addictive drug is used regularly over a period of time, the body adjusts to the drug's effects, thus "working around" the drug.

Once this adjustment takes place, any drop in the *Chemicals Are Trouble. People Are Working.

Copyright 1985 Jeanette Sanders body's level of the drug will eventually cause withdrawal symptoms.

Total elimination of the drug is not necessary to cause withdrawal symptoms. Simply cutting back on use may bring on symptoms of withdrawal.

Severity of withdrawal has much more to do with how long and how regularly the addictive drug has been used than the amount used.

Dear Cat Paw:

How can marijuana affect a baby I will have much later when I don't plan on smoking grass anymore?

Future Mom

Dear Future Mom:

Marijuana causes chromosome breakage. Chromosomes carry the genetic information for each cell. The information is passed not only to offspring but to each new cell that is formed within the body.

Marijuana use can lead to chromosome breakage that affects the cells manufactured in the body, leading to mutations, tumors, virus disease, anemia and early aging.

Moderate use of marijuana can cause as much chromosome breakage in two years as would occur in 50 years.

Youth Assistance honors teens

Twenty-eight outstanding teenagers who live in the Clarkston school district were rewarded for a year's worth of volunteer work at a banquet April 17.

Three students, Amy Eiden, Renee Sommers and Heidi Vines, were given plaques by the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee for serving over 200 hours as candy stripers at Pontiac General Hospital.

Other award winners who received certificates from the organization included brother and sisters Joe, Ann, Elizabeth and Ruth Webb for their work on the remodeling of the Episcopal Church of the Resurrection on Clarkston Road.

David Tilley and brothers Keith and Todd Conklin were also given awards for volunteering their time on the construction of the church.

Certificate awards also went to several SCAMP

Visit Wheelock

An open house to celebrate the opening of new emergency facilites and a medical records department is planned Sunday, May 4, at Wheelock Memorial Hospital.

Hours are 2 to 5 p.m., when there will be tours, the IdentiChild Program, a doll clinic, a "Try Me" room, blood pressure clinic, refreshments and a drawing

The free IndentiChild Program provides a packet with height, weight, thumb prints and a photograph to be kept by parents.

Also for children, the doll clinic offers free health checkups for Cabbage Patch Dolls, Care Bears, teddy bears or other favorites; and the "Try Me" room allows first-hand experience with crutches, a wheelchair, a stretcher and other hospital related equipment.

Wheelock is located on M-15 in Goodrich.

volunteers and other candy stripers.

They included: Elizabeth Anne Brown, Jennifer Chester, Anne Christensen, Scott Clapper, Kris Douglas, Dana Dunn, Terri Essex, Deborah Gordon, Darren Keil, Sarah Hunter, Matt Laidler, Danny Moore, Amy Newmarch, Catherine Prucher, Britt Ried, Sara Schultz, Amy Weiler and Kenneth Wilder.

The Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee is sponsored by the Oakland County Probate Judges and has been in existence for 25 years, according to Garry Pullins, child welfare worker.

The organization sponsors the awards banquet annually. This year, the event was held before family and friends of the award winners at the Clarkston United Methodist Church on Waldon Road.

Students winning awards are nominated by adults must live in the Clarkston school district to be considered, Pullins said.

Incredible edibles Lunch box treat

A dessert that's great for packing in a lunch box was submitted to the Clarkston Community Women's Club cookbook "Incredible Edibles" by GayAnn Johnson of Clarkston.

OATMEAL CAKE

1¹/₄ cups boiling water

- 1 cup quick oatmeal
- 1¹/₂ cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup white sugar
- ¹/₂ cup shortening
- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons vanilla or orange extract

Pour boiling water over oatmeal and cool. Cream sugar and shortening. Add eggs and vanilla, mixing well. Add soda, salt and cinnamon to flour; stir in well. Add to sugar and shortening mixture, alternating with cooled oatmeal. Beat well. Pour into 9-by-13 inch pan. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

TOPPING

- 1 stick margarine 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 egg yolks
- ¹/₄ cup milk 3/4 cup broken nuts

Melt margarine in saucepan, remove from heat; add brown sugar, milk and egg yolks; mix until smooth and blended. Stir in nuts. Pour on top of cake and return to oven and bake an additional 15 minutes.

The "Incredible Edibles" cookbook, which costs $6, is for sale at the Independence Township Library, Village Bookstore, Carol's Village Grill, Gayanne's Floral Concept and Pontiac State Bank's downtown Clarkston branch.

The cookbook is a publication of the Clarkston Community Women's Club, a non-profit organization. The club uses the proceeds for community service projects.

Rita Wiley and Beth McDermott, Clarkston High School students, were recently elected to the Explorer Officers Association (EOA) of Clinton Valley Council.

Rita Wiley, 16, is the new vice chairman of Oakland County.

"I help the chairman, and I organize and keep track of old and new posts," said Rita, a member of Post 675.

A member of the CHS varsity choir and Ortonville Girl Scouts, Rita is also working on her senior life saving certificate.

Her future plans are in the field of medicine.

"I want to work the EEG (electroencephalograph) machines," she said. "I want to work in the medical field, but I can't stand the sight of people in real pain."

Beth, 15, is the secretary for the EOA cabinet and a member of Post 675.

"It's fun. We go camping, do fund raisers," she said. "We help out the Boy Scouts at the Silverdome."

A Girl Scout and a member of the CHS girls' chorus, Beth has other interests as well.

She reads, cross-stitches, water skis, rides horses and travels.

"I'm going to Washington, D.C., this summer for EPA (Explorers President Association). The best thing is my sister lives two hours away (from Washington), so she's going to visit me."

The Explorers, a coed, young adult division of the Boy Scouts of America, has over 1 million members nationwide and 2,900 in the Clinton Valley Council area.

Pact OK'd for 19

A three-year contract has been approved for the Clarkston Community Schools Special Education and and Media Paraprofessional Association.

On April 14, the board of education ratified the pact that covers July 1, 1985 through June 30, 1988.

Eleven special education aides and eight media aides are covered by the new contract which includes a raise of 38 cents an hour the first year, 37 cents an hour the second and 37 cents an hour the third.

When the contract ends during the 1987-88 school year, the base salaries for the three pay steps will be from $5.82 to $6.94 an hour.

This is the first year the aides have organized for union representation. Now affiliated with the Michigan Education Association and National Education Association the aides voted to join the union in November.

Bargaining has been ongoing between the school distric' and the union since January, said Bruce.

The settlement brings the total number of contracts negotiated since May 1985 to nine.

For the 1986-87 school-year, only the teachers' and (entral office secretaries' contracts remain to be settle 1, Bruce said.

New ground sign height limit propose

By Carolyn Walker

An amendment that would limit the height of ground signs in Independence Township is headed back to the planning commission from whence it came.

The township board voted 6-1 on April 15 to send the amendment to the commission for consideration of some newly added language.

The new language, as proposed by township planner Richard Carlisle and building director Kenneth Delbridge, addresses the proportions of ground signs, recommending a 3-to-1 ratio. It also sets standards for signs built on berms.

Under the proposed ratio, a sign could be three feet long for every one foot in height, said Clerk Richard Holman.

In addition, berms holding signs should not exceed the "average finished grade" by more than two feet within 15 feet of the sign, Holman added.

Trustee Carol Balzarini, frustrated by repeated problems with the amendment, voted against the motion to send it back to the commission.

"This has been at the board level at least six weeks," Balzarini said after the meeting. "Never once did they give any indication that they were going to shoot it down.

"I think they've done a disservice to the planning commission. I was very upset. I think there should be some specific direction (from the board to the commission)."

Last month, the board agreed informally with a planning commission recommendation that signs be no taller than six feet. Signs were formerly permitted to be 20 feet tall.

The commission is seeking lower sign limits to help enhance the look of the township.

After the board's first reading of the proposed amendment, as mandated for approval under the new charter status, a developer presented the township with a request for a sign 16 feet long.

The board then sought opinions from Carlisle and Delbridge on the length to height ratio and on height when built on a berm.

The new language substantially changes the amendment, said Holman, explaining the board's decision.

The commission is expected to review the new language before making a recommendation to the board. The township board will make the final decision.

Erin DuPree plays clarinet in the CHS band. She is also a planist.

Vicki Geyer performs as a percussionist in the CHS band, but the violin is her first love. In addition, "I can find my way around on the piano," she says.

To perform with other top musicians

Two CHS musicians honored

By Kathy Greenfield

Top honors for their musical prowess belong to Clarkston High School students Erin DuPree and Vicki Geyer.

Both were named to the Michigan Youth Arts Festival State Honors Band and Orchestra, and Erin was also selected as a State Youth Arts Soloist Candidate.

The honors resulted from their participation in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival with fellow CHS band students on March 22.

They plan to spend the weekend of May 10 at Western Michigan University. Kalamazoo, performing with other top high school musicians named to the honors band from across the state.

Erin was unable to audition for the clarinet soloist position because the tryout was scheduled during school hours "way across the state," she said. "It was an honor in addition to just being picked for the honors band," she said. "I was surprised."

Erin has studied clarinet eight-and-one-half years. In addition to band activities at CHS, she plays in the Michigan Youth Band that meets weekends at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and culminates its practices with a concert in May.

A senior at CHS, she plans to attend U of M in the fall and major in pre-medicine. Music, she said, will be a hobby.

Vicki has studied violin 10 years. She competed at the festival on her violin, but performs as a percussionist for the CHS band.

"I'm looking forward to seeing all my friends there from the previous season's orchestra—I was in the Michigan Youth Symphony," she said. "It's going to be cool."

A junior at CHS, Vicki plans to study at U of M and become a performing artist.

He's preparing students for the 21st century by Jim Banes

Edward Roger Bower was born almost 40 years ago in Jackson. The eldest of four brothers, he was raised in Galesburg, a small town just outside Kalamazoo.

He attributes his love for the outdoors to having grown up in this beautiful rural area.

Roger is a graduate of Western Michigan University. He is now working on an advanced degree program through Michigan State University.

He also has extensive work experience in the business community including work at the Upjohn Co., Dairy Techniques and International Research.

He has participated in many workshops including the National Science Foundation's workshop on environmental science.

Other noteworthy contributions include writing tests for Dr. Harry Wong's "Life Science" series of science texts, which he has recently completed.

Roger presently teaches biology and computer science at Sashabaw Junior High School.

As part of his personal philosophy of teaching, he attempts to produce knowledgeable students by giving them many lab and "hands on" experiences combined with a solid informational background.

A complete science background, he feels, is necessary for all students as we move toward the 21st century. As an extra effort, he has sponsored many camping and outdoor survival trips.

Because of his interest in continuing personal development, Roger belongs to the National Science Teachers' Association and to the Michigan Science Teachers' Association.

On a personal level, Roger has several hobbies that add a fresh dimension to his teaching.

"Roger Bower really enjoys working with young people and the feeling is mutual."

He is an excellent carpenter. He likes to travel, having done so through the eastern United States. He is an enthusiastic backpacker and scuba diver. He also enjoys photography, especially nature and microphotography.

His life recently entered a new phase when he married the former Kristi Rice.

By combining households, he now has five children, ages 20, 15, 15, 10 and 7. Apart from the eldest, Lee Rice, the children go to school in Clarkston. The new Mrs. Bower is a Holly kindergarten teacher.

Roger really enjoys working with young people and the feeling is mutual. Clarkston residents will be glad to know that he hopes to continue teaching here for many years to come.

An Apple for the Teacher is provided through a committee of the Clarkston Education Association. This week's author is Jim Banes, an English teacher at Sashabaw Junior High School.

Culinary kudos

Chris Cohoon, a culinary arts student at Oakland Community College, received a bronze medal at the Culinary Arts Show at Cobo Hall on Sunday.

Competing against 400 culinary arts students representing over five colleges in Michigan, Cohoon won the award for his "Chicken Liver Terine" entree.

Presently employed at Indianwood Golf and Country Club in Lake Orion, Cohoon will finish his OCC requirements in April for culinary arts.

A 1984 graduate of Clarkston High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cohoon of Ortonville Road, Independence Township.

Vets to benefit

Registrations are being taken for the Trophy Road Rally sponsored by the Oakland County Chapter 133 Vietnam Veterans of America (VVA) and the POW-MIA of Michigan.

The 10 a.m. rally and 7:30 p.m. 50s and 60s Sock Hop Dance are planned June 28 at the American Legion Post 108, 130 E. Drahner Rd., Oxford.

The event serves a dual purpose, to raise money for VVA expenses including newsletters and pamphlets and to encourage more people to join the organizations, said Patti Miller, a member of POW-MIA.

"It's basically to get people not to forget about. our guys... to help them get home," she said. "What little they do here all helps out."

Among the soldiers still missing in action from the Vietnam war is former Clarkston area resident James Carter.

The road rally and two dance tickets, if purchased in advance, are $30; the road rally alone is $15 a car, with a registration deadline of May 31; and dance tickets are $10 a person, by mail or at the door.

Registration forms are available in the Clarkston area at Rudy's Market, Tony's Auto Parts and the Waterford Hills Road Racing track; or by calling 628-9315.

The end of the school year is always marked by a flurry of activity. The University of Detroit's Clarkston campus is no exception.

Some people may be thinking by now, "I thought colleges have classes year round."

Almost all colleges do, but at our campus we only have classes in the fall and winter terms.

Of course, the end of the term means final exams.

In anticipation of exams and at the request of the students, there was a study skills seminar on Wednesday, March 26, after classes. It lasted one hour and about 17 students attended.

Six of our students were also involved in a conference on Main Campus on Thursday, April 3. The business dialogue was sponsored by the College of Business and Administration and the National Association of Manufacturers.

There have been signs of spring at this campus. The traditional American pastime, softball, invaded our ranks when our students played on two consecutive Tuesdays.

They haven't played since-a time-out was called for cold weather.

Student council has also been busy. We are having a spring semi-formal dance at the Deer Lake Racquet Club on April 24, continuing the tradition started last fall of having a dance at the end of the semester.

The Theatre Company came up from Main Campus on April 19 to put on two short plays, "Kites" and "Workout." The speech professor, David Regal, arranged for this performance.

Finally, U of D students are looking ahead to summer. They have been interviewing for co-op jobs and other summer jobs.

They are also going to build floats for the July 4th parade in Clarkston and the Springfield Township parade on Oct. 4.

Kay Ellis is a freshman attending the University of Detroit's Clarkston campus. She resides in Lake Orion.

Trustee ApMadoc requested that inquiries be made regarding the status of liability insurance for the village. She further requested that it be determined whether or not there were volunteer groups for projects in the Village Park such as cleaning out the stream area and painting the gazebo. Carolyn Walker from the Clarkston News offered to contact one group.

Trustee Basinger was asked to report on the liquor license renewal for the restaurant area in the Clarkston Mills.

President Catallo reported that $2100 from 1985 funds allocated by the county in the tri-party agreement would be spent on West Washington Street as the contract had been previously signed.

It was suggested that perhaps some of 1986 funds from the tri-party agreement could be used for improvements on Clarkston Road; namely, the steps at Robertson Court and Clarkston Road.

President Catallo reported that representation was needed for the Solid Waste Board. Suggested were: President Catallo, Trustee ApMadoc, and Mr. Ted Thomson.

President Catallo reported that Mr. Fessler's office called regarding grants for historical site preservation. A letter was written requesting consideration for such funds for streetscapes and gazebo completion.

Mr. Mike Powell, Village Engineer, and Messrs. Be-utel and Campbell were present to discuss the Pinehurst bridge.

Moved by ApMadoc, "That the Village request construction to start on the Pinehurst bridge by July 1, 1986." Seconded by Schultz. Motion carried.

Annual plant sale May 14 at NWOVEC Greenhouse

By Kathy Greenfield

A madhouse at the greenhouse is expected Wednesday, May 14, when the annual plant sale begins at the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center.

"This spring sale is very important for the kids because they've worked all winter on this, to get the plants to the point they are," said greenhouselandscaping instructor Donna Papatheodoropoulas.

"I want everyone in here in one pow, and I want the kids to see how hectic spring is (in a greenhouse) so they know," she added.

Hours of the sale are 8 to 10:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The greenhouse is inside the vocational school at 8211 Big Lake Rd., just south of I-75 and Dixie Highway, Springfield Township.

From years of experience, Papatheodoropoulas expects her students to respond well to the sale.

"They love all the people and the excitement," she said.

The geraniums, impatiens, marigolds, petunias, herbs, and more, will not be sold before May 14, although the greenhouse is open for the sale of houseplants from 8 to 10 a.m. and from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. whenever Clarkston schools are in session.

"The reason I hold the sale back that way is to give everyone the same chance to get out here and get the stuff that the students have grown," said Papatheodoropoulas.

She has some tips for those who purchase the flats of plants.

"Don't allow them to dry out. That's the biggest thing people do with their annuals. They let them sit in the sun and dry," she said.

"Another thing is, you pinch plants when you plant them—impatiens and petunias. Pinch the top of the plants off, then you'll have a nice full plant for the season.

"It means an extra couple weeks before the flowers come out, but it means a nice full garden in the fall, not a rangy petunia horror."

As the annual plant sale date nears, students in the greenhouse management and floral design course at the vocational school keep busy nur-

Summer child care program makes debut

By Kathy Greenfield

A new summer child care program will be available this year due to a joint effort between the Clarkston Community Education and Independence Township Parks and Recreation departments.

The program will provide care from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays for kindergartners through sixthgraders,

"We're really happy with the cooperative effort," said Jeanne Molzon, youth supervisor for community education.

"I just think it's a really excellent summer experience," she added. "If I had younger kids, I would choose this over having a baby-sitter in my home because of all the wonderful opportunities."

Parents can select a three- or five-day-a-week program that includes LatchKey care at Clarkston Elementary School from 7 to 10 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. and attendance at the Independence Oaks Day Camp from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

The LatchKey portion will be identical to what is offered at elementary schools in the Clarkston school district during the school year.

The children will be bused to the day camp daily. The camp activities will include those children have participated in over the 10 years the township's day camp has existed—swimming, backpacking, field trips and optional overnight campouts every two weeks.

The cost will be less than $1 an hour for one child, with a lower rate for each additional child from the same family.

The new program evolved because of parents' inquiries last year about summer child care. A survey resulted in a positive response for 70 or the 400 pupils presently enrolled in LatchKey, Molzon said.

"With the demand we have in this community for child care for working parents, it appears to be a necessity," she said.

Enrollments must be made during one of two meetings, scheduled Monday and Tuesdây, May_5 and 6, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Clarkston Elementary School, 6595 Waldon, Independence Township.

Representatives from community education and from the parks and recreation department will be available both evenings to explain the program and answer questions, Molzon said.

LANDSCAPING.

A baritone and tenor saxophone are used to bring forth the music by Todd Carter and Jennie Davis. At festival, the students will play "Little English Sulte" by Clare Grundman, "Old Diminion" by John Edmondson and "Sulte from Bohemia" by Vaclav Nelhybel.

Tim Garten adds some umph to the band with notes from the tuba.

Sound the trumpets!

By Kathy Greenfield

Douglas Doty is sounding the trumpets. The Sashabaw Junior High School Wind Eusemble is performing May 3 in the state band the wal and he's delighted.

As the band director at SMS (hory is proud of the achievement and proud of the 36 students in the wind ensemble.

"I think we have a good chance this year at state festival, being there are so many students who plawell," he said.

As far as Doty can determine, a junior high school band from the Clarkston school district has never before performed at a state festival.

In order to be eligible for the state festival, a band must have received a rating of I in the district festival.

The philosophy of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, which sponsors the band and orchestra festivals, is that bands should strive for excellence rather than compete against each other.

Accordingly, the bands are divided into classifications based on school enrollment and are rated by three judges.

Sashabaw is in the AA division for schools with the highest enrollments. The music the students must play is more difficult than selections for smaller schools, Doty said.

He attributes the band's success to several factors. Over half the members are on the school honor roll and many participate in school sports. "They are intelligent kids with a lot to say. During rehearsal, it's a good rehearsal because everyone is talking about how to improve," he said. "Everyone wants to do well."

Kelley Stickney keeps her eyes on the music as she practices with fellow members of the Sashabaw Junior High School Wind Ensemble during band class.

Another factor is homework.

Doty has been band director at SJHS since it opened in 1969. About five years ago, he started requiring his students to turn in practice cards signed by their parents.

The state band and orchestra association recommends 30 minutes a week of practice at home, but Doty's students must put in 200 minutes to receive an "A."

"Then the quality went up," he said, and an increase in enrollment followed.

This year, the 187 students in the four bands at CHS are the most ever. In 1969, there were 68 students in two bands.

"My goal next year, trying to get more incentive to work harder, is to get two bands to go to district festival," Doty said.
