M-15 mall plans nixed second time

By Julie Campe

Variances to allow a shopping center off M-15 near I-75 were denied by the Independence Township Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) for the second time Dec. 10.

About 50 people created standing room only at the rehearing, ordered by Judge Robert Anderson of Oakland County Circuit Court after the ZBA denied a variance request in July.

The minutes from that meeting would not have been appropriate in court, said township attorney Gerald Fisher. The rehearing was necessary for the record, and a court reporter took minutes.

The 3.69-acre site at the northeast corner of M-15 and Northview Drive, Independence Township, is owned by W-H Investments.

The ZBA decision came after almost two hours of discussion.

At the meeting, seven people expressed opposition to the project.

Ted Thomson of North Main Street, Clarkston, and a member of the village ZBA, said the project would create traffic problems, and parking in a residential zoning may be illegal.

"The project is just too big for the size of the area," he said. "I think that's the real guts of the issue tonight."

Donald Moody of Northview Drive said he had nothing against the developers, but he had "a real problem with two acres of parking in residential, especially since I live in that neighborhood."

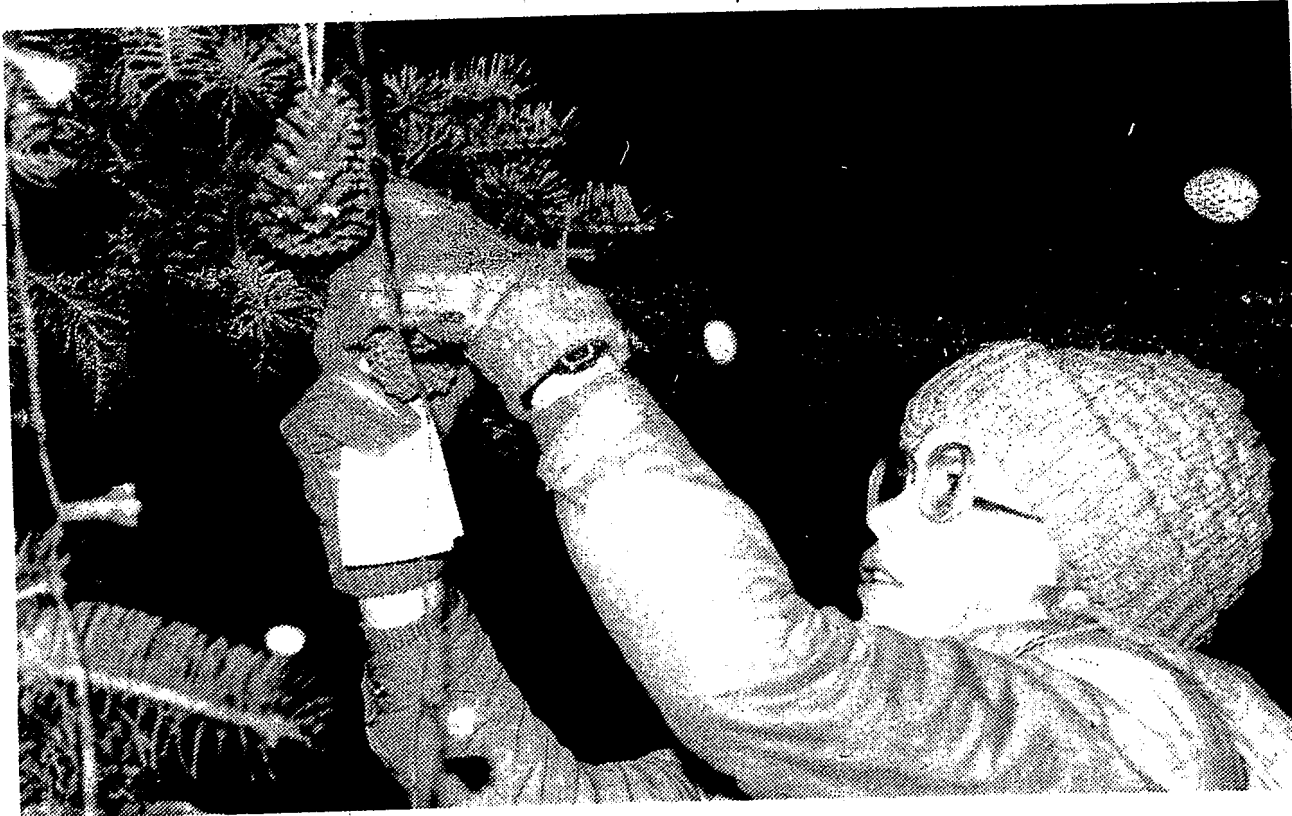

Village President Sharron Catallo presented a letter from the Clarkston Village Council asking the ZBA to consider traffic problems in its decision. The council is opposed to the project, she said.

Jo Fussman, a village resident who serves on the township planning commission, voiced support for the proposal. A shopping center at the location is necessary and valid, she said.

Crash kills teen

A 19-year-old Independence Township man died last Friday from injuries suffered in an auto accident Dec. 10 in Brandon Township.

William Ray Foust died at 9:25 a.m. Friday at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, said the hospital's assistant administrator Brien Fausone.

Foust was a passenger in a car driven by Rodney Brewer, 23. According to the traffic report, Brewer was traveling eastbound on Seymour Lake Road near Dartmouth Road at about 10 p.m. last Wednesday.

The report said Brewer crossed the center line on a curve and hit a westbound car driven by Mark Romano, 27, also of Independence Township. Brewer and Romano were in stable condition at POH as of Monday. A possible citation charge is pending against Brewer.

Foust's family requested that his organs be donated, said Fausone. His heart went to the University of Michigan medical center and his liver went to the University of Pittsburgh medical center.

Fausone said other organs may be also be donated.

New shoes belong to 130 youngsters

Thanks to the efforts of the Clarkston Goodfellows, about 130 local needy youngsters are wearing new shoes.

As the culmination of the annual Goodfellow Paper drive conducted earlier this month by members of Clarkston Rotary and the Independence Township Fire Department, most of the shoes were selected and purchased Saturday at Kinney Shoes on Dixie Highway.

The Clarkston Rotary Clown Troupe made it into a party and two church groups added their touch of warmth with gloves and hats for the youngsters.

"It was a good day," said Dick Beardsley, Rotarian and chairperson of the Christmas Shoe Project Committee. "You have a good feeling about being able to do something like that, especially this time of the year."

Beardsley had words of praise for the helpfulness of Kinney's staff, managed by Craig Boyse; for Dorothy Fancher and Billie Glennie who distributed mittens and gloves from the Episcopal Church Women of the Church of the Resurrection; and for Joyce Butler who distributed hats and caps from the Lutheran Church Women of Calvary Lutheran Church.

Rotary members who assisted with the shoe distribution were Harold Goyette, Dick Loughman and Dick Greenfield; and the club's clown troupe members who provided entertainment were Beardsley, Peter Buchanan, Henry Flores, Steve McCausland, Tom Murphy and Floyd Seal.

ZBA retains denial in second mall hearing

"This area will be developed," said Fussman. "I think we have the opportunity now to see that a quality development (is constructed)."

She praised the design and the planned indoor locations for shipping and receiving and dumpsters.

The proposal was further complicated by earlier ZBA approvals for a shopping center at the same site, also by W-H investments.

At the beginning of the meeting, Richard Carlisle, township planner, spoke about the earlier approvals.

In February 1984, the ZBA approved variances for the non-conforming status with several conditions including that the approval applied only to the plans as submitted, Carlisle said.

Since variances are valid for six months, in February 1986, the variances were reaffirmed, he said.

In July 1986, the ZBA denied the variances on the final plans submitted because the plans had changed, he said.

The shape and placement of the buildings were different and smaller and the layout of the parking lot was different with fewer spaces extending further into the area zoned residential, Carlisle said.

Parvin Lee, attorney for W-H, said the essential plans had not changed and that traffic in Clarkston would not be increased, but reduced, because the store would service residents north of the village.

"The things we requested for variances in 1984 are the same," he said. "The reasons are the same. There can be no reason to find today that these variances aren't needed and appropriate when they were needed and appropriate in 1984. The township should keep their share of the bargain and do the right thing."

Also, on the promise that the variances would be granted, W-H had deeded to the Clarkston Land Conservancy 41 acres of residential behind the shopping center property, he said.

With the denial of the variances, W-H plans to regain the 41 acres, and there's no telling what development will go there, he said.

Deeded to the land conservancy, the property could not be developed.

In making a motion to deny the variances, Chairman John Dunlop presented his reasons.

"This ZBA is not bound by a previous board's decision at this point in time," he said.

No hardship exists to warrant a change, and the plans are different than the plans in the first ZBA approval, he said.

The board denied, 4-1, the zoning request.

Lutz, Dunlop, Brent Bair and Robert Newlin voted for the denial.

"Although it's needed in the area, the intensity of the development is too strong for the property," said Lutz.

McCrary supported the project, voting "no." Traffic is going to be a problem for any development at that location, she said.

The parcel rests on portions of land zoned highway commercial, motor vehicle service station and planned shopping center.

Lee refused comment after the meeting. W-H Investments owner Ron Helin also refused comment.

Lee plans to add to the complaints on an existing lawsuit against the township and ZBA in Oakland County Circuit Court, said Fisher after the meeting.

Springfield increases most salaries 5 percent

By Pat Young

Salaries for Springfield Township employees and elected officials will reflect at least a 5 percent raise in 1987.

The 1987 standard salary grade structure was set by the board at the Dec. 10 township board meeting, with employees salaries as follows:

Secretary, $12,000; office coordinator, $13,900; assessor, $26,000; building inspector, $13,200.

Township Supervisor Collin Walls recommended that elected officials salaries remain at the same level as 1986, "because I don't feel it is appropriate to raise them after going charter and after raising millage to the maximum."

The motion to keep elected officials salaries at the same level was defeated, 4-3.

"If employees are entitled to a raise, we are too," said Clerk J. Calvin Walters.

"I agree. It should be 5 percent for everyone," said Treasurer Patricia Kramer.

A new motion made by Trustee William Whitley to increase elected officials salaries by 5 percent was passed, 4-3, with "yes" votes from Walters, Kramer, Whitley and Trustee Ruth Ann Hines and "no" votes from Walls and trustees Charles Oaks and Glen Vermilye.

Their salaries for 1987 are as follows: clerk, $27,100; treasurer, $27,100; supervisor, $30,500. Trustees will be paid $850 plus $63 per township board meeting attended.

Kramer suggested that the part-time deputy clerk's salary be raised from $5 per hour to $7 per hour, but her motion was defeated, 2-5.

"A man in a comparable job wouldn't have to start out at $5 per hour," she said.

A new motion by Whitley to raise the deputy clerk's salary 5 percent, to $6.30 per hour, was passed unanimously.

Planning commission and board of appeals salaries were also set for 1987.

"I have enjoyed the benefit of wage increases, but the planning commission and board of appeals salaries have not changed since 1971," said Walls. "If nothing else than to say thank you for a job well done, I would suggest $35 per meeting."

Members of the planning commission and board of appeals are currently paid $25 per meeting.

A new motion to increase the salaries more than Walls suggested, to $40 per meeting, was made by Kramer and passed unanimously.

By a vote of 4-3, recording secretaries salaries for the board of appeals, planning commission and township board will remain the same as 1986. They earn $25 per meeting plus $5 for typing the minutes.

Independence raises salaries for supervisor, clerk, treasurer

By Julie Campe

With little discussion and no public comment, the Independence Township Board approved raises for the clerk, treasurer and supervisor, effective Jan. 1, 1987.

Supervisor Frank Ronk's salary increased from $40,000 to $42,500. The salaries for Clerk Richard Holman and Treasurer John Lutz increased from $34,500 to $38,000.

"I think the township is getting outstanding service from these guys," said Ronk, about Holman and Lutz.

Trustee Dale Stuart, who left the meeting before the salary discussion, requested the issue be tabled until the next meeting.

The board decided to act on the increases at the Dec. 2 meeting.

They approved, 6-0, the increase for the treasurer. Stuart was absent.

They approved 5-0-1 the increase for the clerk. Lutz, Ronk and Trustees Carol Balzarini, Daniel Travis and William Vandermark voted "yes." Holman abstained.

They approved, 5-0-1 the increase for the supervisor. Ronk abstained.

The supervisor's raise was in keeping with other non-union employee raises and was a reward for a number of accomplishments, said Holman after the meeting.

The trustees, paid $4,856 a year, did not receive pay raises.

"Salary increases are not necessary for the trustees," said Vandermark.

"It's just fun being here," said Balzarini.

"It's educational," said Travis.

Village files sign lawsuit

By Julie Campe

The Clarkston Village Council plans to file a lawsuit seeking the removal of the lighted yellow muffler sign at Clarkston Road and Main Street.

Last spring, the council mistakenly issued a permit to install the sign. To correct the error, they asked owner Gus Voss to remove the sign and offered to pay the removal costs.

Voss refused, saying the sign was necessary for his business. Without it, he would probably go out of business, he said.

Seven months of negotiations followed, but no agreement was reached.

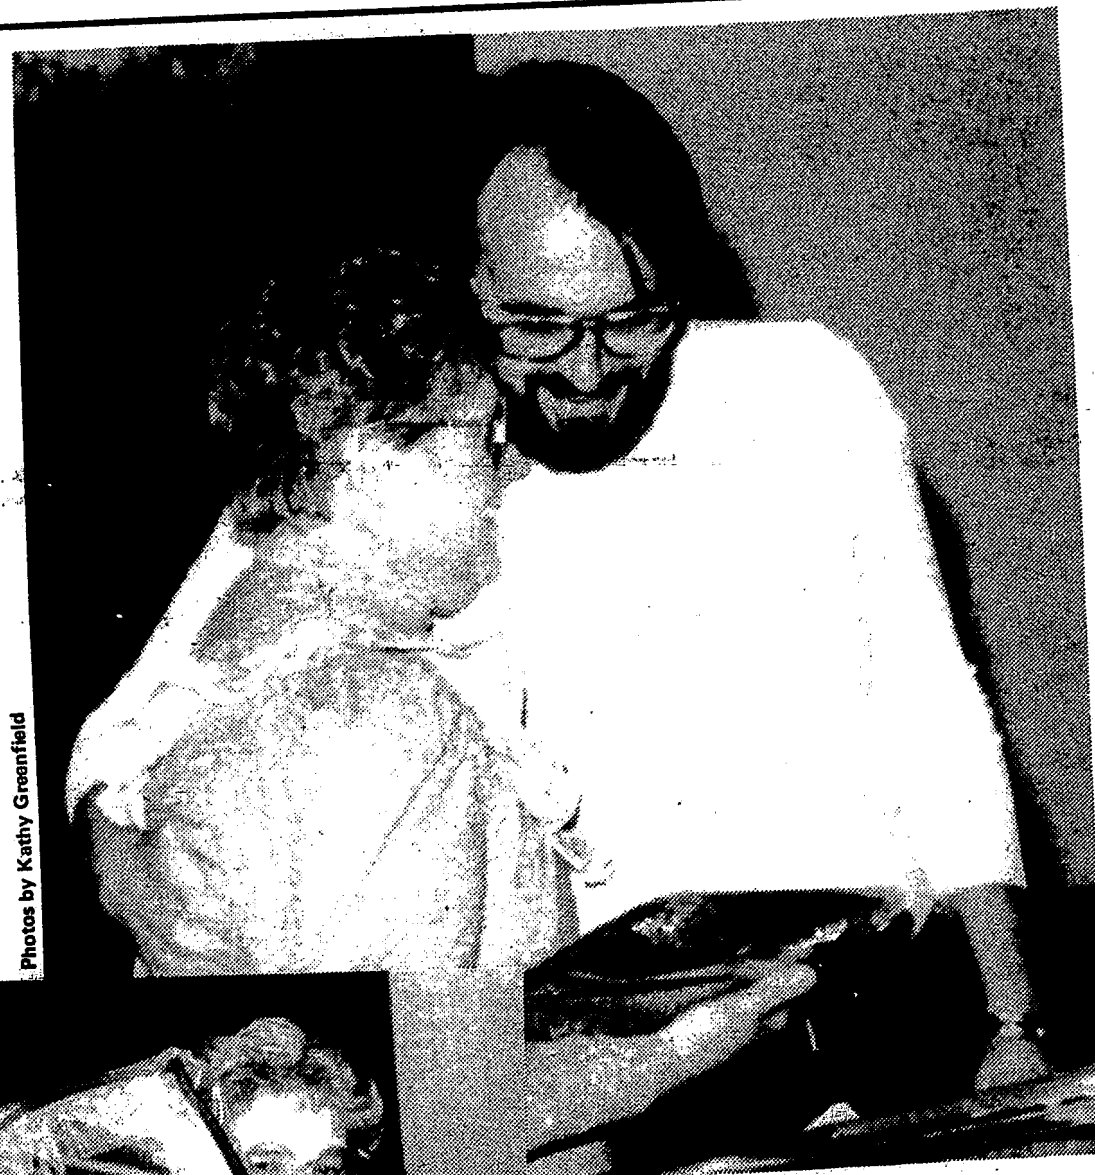

When the council first discussed the matter in April, it was decided the building permit for the sign was issued in error because it constitutes an improvement to a non-conforming use.

The muffler shop-gas station occupies a site zoned residential but used for a business. According to the zoning ordinance, no commercial improvements may be made.

Voss and his attorney Leo James refused comment on the lawsuit.

The suit is to be filed in Oakland County Circuit Court this week, said village attorney John Steckling.

At the Dec. 8 meeting, the council voted, 7-0, to file the lawsuit.

Sesqui-tribute

Springfield Township's Sesquicentennial Finale was a night of tributes for Helen Vergin, the coordinator of the township's 150th birthday celebration in 1986. Between dinner and dancing Saturday, Supervisor Collin Walls (in photo above) provided a hug and presented a plaque and a proclamation from the township board crediting Vergin for her efforts. "This sesquicentennial started in the mind of one person. Some of us have a dream; Helen had a vision. That vision lived and became real because of Helen," Walls said.

Oaks keeps firefighter job

Hines is out as deputy clerk

By Pat Young

Two new trustees on the Springfield Township Board faced the question of conflict of interest at the Dec. 10 board meeting over working part-time for the township.

Charles Oaks, because of the current shortage of firefighters, was allowed to retain his job with the fire department. Ruth Ann Hines was denied permission to work in the township office.

Hines resigned her position as deputy clerk and

She lost, but won

Linda Kolasz, who narrowly lost a bid for a seat on the Springfield Township Park Commission in the November election, will serve on the park commission anyway.

Kolasz was chosen to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of newly elected township board member Charles Oaks. Oaks resigned his seat on the park commission when he took his position on the board.

The vote to place Kolasz on the park commission came at the Dec. 10 township board meeting, following a statement by Township Supervisor Collin Walls that the park commission had suggested Kolasz for the position.

The motion to place Kolasz on the commission passed 6-1, with Oaks voting against it.

"I don't feel it was opened up to the public," Oaks said.

"If anyone was interested, they would have let us know," responded Treasurer Patricia Kramer.

Two other new faces on the Springfield Township Park Commission are Roger Bower and Betty Hull, who won their seats in the November election.

Oaks resigned his position as volunteer firefighter following their election as trustees in November, due to the conflict of interest. But both asked the board for permission to stay on.

A suggestion by Clerk-J. Calvin Walters that Hines remain in the office part time and act as recording secretary for the planning commission was opposed by Treasurer Patricia Kramer.

"I strongly oppose her retaining a position in the office," Kramer said. "Just dropping the name deputy clerk does not change the conflict of interest."

Trustee Glen Vermilye and Supervisor Collin Walls concurred.

"It is my opinion that a trustee is elected by the people and cannot be an employee of the township at the same time," Vermilye said.

"I concur. I do not believe it is in the township's best interest," said Walls.

The motion failed in a vote of 3-3. By law, the vote would have to pass by two-thirds of the board members, with Hines abstaining.

A motion that Oaks remain on the fire department passed, 6-0.

"I still feel it comes down to a conflict of interest, though it is not directly related to office administration such as in Ruth Ann's case," said Vermilye.

"But Charlie would not be working for another township board member," said trustee William Whitley.

"I am in favor of Charlie remaining on the fire department for now," said Kramer, "because of the emergency nature and shortage of fireman. But, if there is a time when there is no shortage, I feel Charlie should resign."

Oaks, by law, abstained from the voting.

Said the Fire Chief Marlan Hillman before the vote, "I'd have a problem if Charlie isn't allowed to continue."

Listless list makers

Kathy Greenfield

Because we've memorized the words of the song, most of us know that Santa Claus makes a list and checks it twice.

What's good for Santa has to be good for the rest of us, so I started making list requests of members of my family weeks ago.

It didn't do any good.

My daughter brought catalog items to my attention. She'd whip a page by me and say, "I'd like that."

"I'll remember," I thought. (Ho, ho, ho.)

The most memorable of my forgettings took place in a store that has copies of its catalogs at the door. As I was wandering around trying to connect items represented by drawings in the catalog with the real things, a salesperson offered some advice.

"You should have your daughter mark X's next to the things she wants in the catalog. That's what a lot of people do," he said.

I thanked him for his helpful suggestion.

What I didn't tell him was his idea would work just fine in a one-catalog house. I think we're on everybody's mailing list. At last count, the catalogs in our house were, I'm certain, quietly multiplying in numerous corners.

My son's list, which I took by force, included in its entirety a gift certificate for music tapes, a gadget to heat water in a cup, a wall full of stereo equipment and a Lamborghini (car or motorcycle, either one). I admire his sense of humor.

As the season rolled on, lists kept popping up in conversations.

One person I know keeps his list in his shirt pocket on a file card along with several other file cards filled with important information. He said he had about 11 items on the list.

Taken back by such a show of organization, I didn't ask for details.

The other noteworthy list involved a 3-year-old whose mother said, "My daughter has only three things on her list."

Since 3-year-olds usually can't write, I asked for specifics. At the top of her list was a talking teddy bear.

That's when I decided to rejoice that I don't have to deal with lists from little girls who know—for sure—that Santa is checking his list twice to find out who's naughty and nice.

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

Too many columnists make up a Christmas gift list each year, including this columnist. Lists like the 10-best whatever - news stories, films, blondes, arms deals, and versions of flu. Columnists just can't resist the magnetic field of cynicism during this 'goodwill toward men' season.

So, here goes. May Santa bring President Reagan a flooded basement. That will force the Poinsettias and Norths into the Rose Garden where the President can see them while shaking hands with Japanese imports.

We wish the gift of a person like H. Ross Perot to lead America's steel, appliance, auto, textile, toy, heavy machinery, farm equipment, watch, camera, printing press, etc. makers.

I'd like Santa to give Senator Levin the tools it takes to bring the necessary changes in the new tax law.

Oh, by the way, Santa, in case you're reading this, thank you for not giving us a national or state-wide election every year. And, if you can, please limit the number of unannounced, but already-running-for-office candidates to the bare minimum in 1987.

For the builders of the Zilwaukee Bridge and the People Mover in Detroit, send additional buckets of glue to give them the necessary strength, and some outstanding public relations firm to convince us both are safe.

Let Bill Lucas and Dick Chrysler find the jobs they want, but not in the public sector.

Santa, send something to cleanse the acid rains, to clear polluted waters, to renew toxic lands, and to purify the air. That's probably asking too much, so just have someone invent a way to send shocks to people who litter roadsides.

We can't let a Christmas go by without wishing gifts for our professional sports teams. Like ending pollution, asking for pennant winning seasons is too much, so perhaps the flair of a Mark Fydrich for the Tigers and a Bobby Layne for the Lions could be put in the Monaghan and Ford stockings.

Give the Detroit News and the Free Press their joint operating agreement. Cut out the competition. Let's have bottom line journalism. Bring on middle of the road/don't rock the boat editorials. If it's good enough for USA Today, it's good enough for everybody.

Speaking of not rocking the boat, Santa, provide each member of the General Motors board of directors a big "Yes" stamp for approving the chairman's decisions. Decisions like "Let's over produce cars in 1986 and then we can cut interest rates and lay off a whole bunch of people in 1987 after we've flooded the market."

But, Santa, what this world needs more than anything else is better bumper/back window stickers. Sayings like Honk if you (heart) Jesus and Baby on Board signs. You know, the ones that get you right here.

Letters to the editor

Lake association founder writes

I was quite interested in last week's article on "Deer Lake User Problems." I had no notification of the township meeting so my comments may be redundant.

I formed the Deer Lake Property Owners Association (DLPOA) a number of years ago and served as its first president.

The association was formed to protect the natural beauty of the lake while preserving the recreational rights of the entire township. That includes sailors, motorboaters, swimmers, ice fishermen, etc.

The DLPOA one-vote-per-lot method of voting allows the township, lakefront homeowners and outlot subdivisions each one vote. This was necessary to ensure larger subdivisions would not control voting by their greater number of homeowners. I still agree with this method.

The by-laws also state that each outlot subdivision must be represented on the board, ensuring their voice in decision-making. I assume this is still the case.

As I recall, the township preferred not to have a presence on the board, but they still retain their one vote.

The DLPOA has been involved in seeding the lake with fish, stopping improper development around the lake and controlling development by keeping builders in check.

It also makes sure a nearby greenhouse maintains proper control over its fertilizing, attends seminars on weed control and general care of lakes sponsored by the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and makes sure the sheriff's department maintains its presence. These are just a few of the totally volunteer activities of this group.

A number of years ago, we worked with the township and DNR to implement at the township beach a method of reducing traffic on Deer Lake and it seemed to work and satisfy all interested parties.

The method used by the DNR throughout the state to control traffic on lakes is to limit the number of parking spaces available for car/trailer parking. When the lot is full, no additional boats enter Deer Lake. I believe it may be time to further reduce the present parking lot size.

Today's concerns come from two areas.

First, the introduction of Jet Skis to Deer Lake. I agree, they are noisy and have been operated in a dangerous fashion.

The other concern arose from new residents who neglected to review their subdivision and Deer Lake restrictions pertaining to their use of the lake.

As an example, Deer Lake Farms and Deer Lake Pines are not allowed to store or anchor boats on their respective outlots overnight. That includes anchoring offshore. These laws are enforced to reduce boat traffic on our small lake.

I am sorry if some residents listened to their developer or real estate broker when they purchased houses rather than reading the restrictions that have been around for a long time. Their criticism of the DLPOA is yet another example of their not reviewing the facts first.

We have a saying around the lake, "Look before you leap." It's a better lake because of the DLPOA.

Ronald Turner

It is not clear why the attorney was taking this position, but it was certainly clear to everyone how he felt about the project.

Because this project would have a profound negative impact on our community, it is imperative that it isn't "settled" and permitted to be built.

We don't need yet another consent judgment. We need a vigorous, unbiased defense of this lawsuit.

Perhaps just for this case, the zoning board of appeals should have its own attorney to assure that its decision will have the fighting chance it deserves.

Worth defending

Most of the citizens on hand for the special "court-ordered" Independence Township Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) hearing last Wednesday were surprised to hear the township attorney all but tell the board how to vote on the shopping center proposal.

The majority of the ZBA is to be commended for sticking to their prior decision, despite the lack of support of their attorney.

Cheers for lights

I want to give my personal thanks to the Clarkston Rotary Club for our new Christmas decorations in the village.

They are the BEST and you did an outstanding job stringing the lights on the big tree.

For those who contributed to the light boxes on the street light poles, you worked a miracle. The village council has tried for years to get Detroit Edison to install the boxes.

I cannot remember when I had as much fun as I did at your Christmas party. However, I did expect to win the car.

Thank you, again. Have a Merry Christmas.

Fontie ApMadoc

'If it Fitz . . .

Compare these two trips

Jim Fitzgerald

"I suppose this is a foolish trip," my wife said as we drove north Sunday afternoon through sleet, snow and slush that, in some spots, made at least one lane of I-75 impassable. "It would have made good sense to stay home on a day like this."

"Compared to Frank Beckmann, we are completely sane. He is really foolish," I said in my best italics.

At that moment, WJR sports director Beckmann was on my car radio, broadcasting the Detroit Lions football game from Pittsburgh. The night before, he'd been in Honolulu to broadcast the Michigan-Hawaii game. He'd flown out of Hawaii at 1:30 a.m. Detroit time; changed planes in Dallas, and landed in Pittsburgh just in time for a rented limousine to speed him to Three Rivers Stadium for the 1 p.m. kickoff.

BECKMANN WENT THROUGH all that so three WJR broadcasters, instead of only two, could tell listeners about a meaningless contest between two teams that both, after Pittsburgh's victory Sunday, have 5-9 records.

Honolulu was about 40 degrees warmer than Pittsburgh. It is debatable whether even an important football game requires three radio announcers. They often spend most of the time apologizing to each other for interrupting. But there's no debating that both Detroit and Pittsburgh are lousy, and assigning three broadcasters to their game - with one of them rushing from Hawaii for the occasion - was overkill similar to resurrecting Van Patrick to broadcast a game between two kindergarten teams.

In fact, I've been following the Lions since Dutch Clark was quarterback in 1935, and the 1986 edition must be the most hapless and boring in Detroit history. And they are coached by a guy who seems to speak the truth only by accident.

But nevertheless, Frank Beckmann flew 10 hours, went without sleep and exhausted himself to the point of giddiness, just so WJR listeners could hear three, instead of only two, descriptions of how the Lions lost yet another game.

The next thing I expect to hear is that Beckmann interrupted a Paris vacation to fly to Newark to go to the dentist.

BUT WHAT ABOUT my own foolishness? Where was I going on a snowy freeway in Michigan while the Lions were going nowhere in Pittsburgh? I was going to the Showbiz Pizza Time in Flint, of course.

When my wife and I entered the dining area, a young redheaded girl greeted us with astonishment. "What are you doing here?" she asked. I explained that every Sunday after church I always drive 140 miles to eat pizza and watch Chuck E. Cheese and other huge furry animals play musical instruments. I told the redhead I was just as surprised to see her as she was to see me.

I was lying. The redhead was my granddaughter Melissa, celebrating her 14th birthday with three younger grandchildren and their parents. No one thought Grandma could persuade Grandpa to make the trip because he hates pizza and the Lions were on T.V. But they didn't know what Grandpa knew - on Thanksgiving I quietly gave up on the Lions for life, and the Pizza Showplace sells beer.

It was 10-month-old Tricia's first look at gorillas playing saxophones, and I wanted to be there to make sure five-year-old Emily didn't mislead her. I say the large furry musicians are robots, but Emily says they are real people wearing animal suits. She's wrong, isn't she?

On the drive home, as I barely avoided skidding into a ditch, my wife asked if the harned trip was worth the delightfully surprised look on Melissa's face, or was it foolish?

I said I didn't feel as foolish as Frank Beckmann should feel. Thanks, Frank, for making my Sunday better.

Garage door fence raises voices of protest

By Pat Young

Garage door fences don't necessarily make good neighbors. Some of the neighbors in Holly Greens Industrial Park on Enterprise Road in Springfield Township are downright irate about the prospects of such a fence.

Concerns were voiced by residential and commercial neighbors alike at the Springfield Township Board's Dec. 10 meeting.

Following the airing of the protests, the board voted to reconsider the matter in January.

In November, the board voted to allow Clark Cummings to build a fence of garage doors around his poured walls and cement business scheduled for construction in Holly Greens.

The action, approved 4-1 with Clerk Calvin Walters voting no, allowed the township to work toward a final settlement of a consent judgment in a lawsuit filed when Cummings was operating his business out of a residential area.

A consent judgment allows the parties involved in the lawsuit to work out a solution to the case, which then becomes part of the court record.

"If there is going to be a change in our decision, we need to make it quickly so the consent language will reflect it," said Township Supervisor Collin Walls.

At least half a dozen concerned Springfield Township citizens examined pictures of the fence and a blueprint of the plan on display at the meeting.

"My residential property borders Holly Greens," said Bob Kickel, "and it would be very visible. I object to this type of screening, and feel it is looking backward rather than forward at developing Springfield Township. It isn't conducive to light, modern commercial property and certainly not to residential property."

Kickel went on to say it "lacks standardization" and would "stick out like a sore thumb."

Marge Reuter of the Springfield Estates Mobile

"I object to this type of screening, and feel it is looking backward rather than forward at developing Springfield Township."

—Bob Kickel

Home Park, a member of the planning commission, agreed.

"I wonder if the township board was in violation of zoning ordinances when they made this decision," Reuter said. "Why wasn't the planning commission involved?"

Walls said the board was not in violation because it was approved as part of a consent judgment, but in retrospect, it might have been wiser to send it to the planning commission.

"I just can't answer that right now," he said.

"Knowing the type of equipment Cummings uses, the bumping and nicking is going to cause the fence to rust," Reuter said. "It won't look like the picture in a year."

"I feel our property (Springfield Estates Mobile Home Park) and Holly Greens upgrades Springfield Township," she added. "This would tear down what we're working toward."

Reuter suggested cyclone fencing with evergreens for screening.

"Let's keep the valuation up in the township," she said.

Leonard Grossman of Holly Greens Associates was another vocally opposed member of the audience.

"I own lots in Holly Greens Two, and it's highly restrictive," he said. "Unfortunately, there are no deed restrictions in Holly Greens One. I oppose this, because if this were to be suggested in my park, I would not permit it."

"I have also had personal experience with this type of fence. And they just don't look right."

"Other than my own self-interest, I ask the board to say no, because it will depreciate the value of property. I agree with Marge. I'd like to be a good neighbor. I would ask that Mr. Cummings be a good neighbor, too."

Responding to the suggestion of evergreens, Trustee William Whitley said, "I've heard evergreens are hard to get in quantity and are cost prohibitive. We should offer economically feasible alternatives."

"I've had second thoughts about voting for the garage door fence," Whitley said, "and suggest the board reconsider."

The motion to reconsider the November decision was passed unanimously.

"I feel personally that, because of last month's decision, I have a moral obligation to sit down with Mr. Cummings and talk about alternatives," said Walls. "I will do my best to find an economically feasible solution to this."

Planner switch

Glen Vermilye, Springfield Township trustee, resigned his position as township representative on the planning commission. His announcement came at the Dec. 10 township board meeting.

"I feel the planning commission has competent people to carry on," he said.

Vermilye, who has served 14 years on the commission, also said he felt it was time to step down.

A unanimous vote by the board at that meeting named new township trustee Ruth Ann Hines to fill the vacant seat on the Springfield Township Planning Commission.

Zoning map changes in store for Springfield

By Pat Young

A new zoning map and a few changes in the ordinances are in the works for Springfield Township.

First reading on the new zoning map, prepared by the Springfield Township Planning Commission, was conducted at the Dec. 10 township board meeting.

The board will have a special meeting to continue discussion on the zoning map at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 18.

Over 50 percent of the map, including the northwest and southwest quarters plus the Indian Springs Metropark area, was discussed and agreed upon during the Dec. 10 meeting.

At least this portion, and possibly more following the Dec. 18 meeting, will be scheduled for second reading at the January board meeting.

Cable purchases add up to $21,597

By Julie Campe

A mobile video unit and other equipment are to be added to the public access studio at the United Cable office in Independence Township.

New beach path due

A new safety path to Deer Lake Beach is planned on White Lake Road from Depot Park in Clarkston.

The present path is crumbling, said Trustee Fontie ApMadoc at the Dec. 8 meeting.

The Clarkston Village Council approved spending about $6,000 on the project from 1987 its Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) budget of $6,341.

The $6,000 plus a balance of $2,000 from the 1986 CDBG budget should be enough to fix the path next year, said ApMadoc.

The remaining $341 is to be used for sidewalk repairs and tree planting on the west side of Holcomb Street.

Community development money may be used for low to moderate income areas and community service projects, if they meet federal regulations, said ApMadoc.

The area on the west side of Holcomb is the only location designated low to moderate income, she said.

The township board approved spending $21,597 on the equipment at the request of the township cablecasting board.

Clarkston Community Schools is to provide and maintain a van for the mobile video unit, said Bruce Harlton, chairman of the cablecasting board.

The new equipment will allow the video-taping of parades and sports, he said.

"It's not just for remote locations, but it can be used as a backup for studio equipment," said Harlton.

Computers to create on-screen graphics and printing are also to be purchased.

"It put our public access studio back on its feet, so to speak," said Harlton. "We're very pleased with it. It was a very significant move. I'm very pleased with the township's decision."

In a 4-1 vote, the township board approved the purchases at a special meeting in November. The money is to come from the township's Improvement Revolving Fund.

Supervisor Frank Roñk, Clerk Richard Holman and trustees Carol Balzarini and William Vandermark voted "yes." Treasurer John Lutz and Trustee Daniel Travis were absent.

Trustee Dale Stuart voted "no."

Since cable revenues go into the general fund, and there's not enough money in the general fund for the equipment, the request should be denied, he said.

"The second reading will be the last chance for public input on the map," said Collin Walls, township supervisor.

A major change in the northwest quarter of the map allows for 1½- and 2½-acre parcels where there now exist 20,000-square-foot residential lots.

A change in the ordinance, also already agreed upon, would stipulate standardized square footage for all new housing throughout the township: 1,000 square feet for a one-story home; 1,250 for bi- and tri-level and 1½-story homes; and 1,500 for two-story homes.

"I've heard this (square footage) debated more than any in the last year," said Walls. "Size is not the indicator of quality and value in itself. As I understand it, the market area will dictate the quality of the house."

One resident of the township, Ed Masters of Bridge Lake Road, expressed concern for farmers.

"I feel agricultural areas were ignored in the 1973 map and are being ignored now," he said. "This is a basic industry in Springfield Township. This farmer, at least, requests that his land be designated agricultural."

There were only a few other comments on the zoning map from the audience during the lengthy board meeting.

"This map is the culmination of a process going on for some time," said Walls in a later interview. "The new zoning map is the result of three things."

"One, it is a feeling on the part of the planning commission and the township board that the present map (developed in 1973) is not currently appropriate for Springfield Township."

"Secondly, it is the intent that the new map is to more closely follow the current and past development patterns in the community."

"Also, the new map is intended to more adequately reflect the natural features and constraints of the land itself," he said. "We now have a great deal more information available to us than in 1973 when the existing map was developed."

Council may sue township

By Julie Campe

The Clarkston Village Council may sue Independence Township if the township doesn't eliminate a sidwell number, or lot number, issued by the township for tax purposes.

The township is to reply by the first January village council meeting, or the lawsuit will be filed in Oakland County Circuit Court, the council members decided at their Dec. 8 meeting.

The sidwell number was issued—against the law—for lot 41, or Clarkston Corners on Main Street, Clarkston, said village attorney John Steckling.

In effect, the extra sidwell number splits the property, contrary to the village ordinance, making a "mockery out of the ordinance," he said.

"We have mutual reasons as governments to stick together," he said. "It could happen to them."

The number was issued before he took office, said township Supervisor Frank Ronk after the meeting.

"I personally don't see any problem the way it is right now, or the way it was then," he said. "The way it was the other way, the assessor thought it best to issue a separate sidwell number (for billing purposes)."

In 1979, the owner asked to remove 27 feet from the rear yard to add it to lot 60, to be used for parking, said Steckling.

The village denied the split because it would make lot 41 non-conforming.

The owner apparently sold the property, and the new owner asked the township for a sidwell number for the extra property, he said.

By giving the number, the assessor at that time allowed the owner to sidestep the ordinance, said Steckling.

Gas station owner gets truck driving wish

By Julie Campe

Just in time for the holidays, Richard "Dick" Morgan had a wish come true.

The owner of Morgan's Service in Clarkston drove an 18-wheel truck for about 15 minutes Monday.

The wish was granted by Central Transport after Jim Payne, the firm's vice president, read the "Friendly Faces" article in The Clarkston News.

In the article, Dick said he would like to drive a big truck, not for a living, but just around the block.

So Payne, a customer of Dick's for 15 years, arranged the surprise with Central Transport president Larry Thomas and Pontiac terminal representative Donald Berquist.

"Dick is a fine fellow and nice to deal with," said Payne.

Before the surprise, Berquist presented Dick with a company hat and coffee cup. He also gave a cup to Dora, Dick's wife.

The whole situation caught Dick off guard. He smiled a lot, and accused his son John of trickery.

Berquist was smiling, too. "I don't know whose day it made better, his or mine," he said.

The 58-foot-long truck was an 18-wheel 10-speed, 4 inches wider than the normal truck, said the driver Donald Montgomery.

"It's the biggest trailer allowed on the highway," he said.

Dick described the ride as "very exciting."

Dick poses with Donald Berquist, in front of the 18-wheel wish-come-true parked in front of Dick's Main Street service station. Berquist gave Dick a company hat and coffee cup.

After his drive, Dick Morgan sits behind the wheel, savoring the last moment.

Wyniemko steps down as coach

By Chris Gerbas

Walt Wyniemko resigned last week as Clarkston High School football coach after eight seasons.

Wyniemko guided the Wolves to an 8-1 record this past season and nearly into the state playoffs. He will remain as the boys track coach and a teacher at the school.

"I'm looking for some new opportunities in life," he said. "I'm going to look at some other jobs in coaching, at different levels."

"I thought it was for the best for myself and my family (at this time)," he said, adding that he did not have any immediate plans.

In his eight seasons, Wyniemko compiled a 44-28 record for a .611 winning percentage and his teams twice won the Greater Oakland Activities League championship.

"They've been eight great years," Wyniemko said. "I've enjoyed working with the kids. Clarkston has had three all-staters and two of them have come in the eight years I've been here."

"They've been great individuals to coach, they're not only good players, but good people."

A successor has not been named. Principal Dr. Robert Burek said Monday he was not sure if a resignation had been formally submitted. Paul Tungate was out of town at an athletic director's conference.

"Walt has done a tremendous job for the school district and the kids," said Clarkston Schools superintendent Milford Mason. "I appreciate his contribution to the athletic community."

Ironically, Wyniemko's last season was also one of his best, as the Wolves won the GOAL title and narrowly missed out on making the playoffs for the first time since 1977.

But the season was also plagued by controversy. Senior Mike Norman was kicked off the team early in the season for chewing tobacco, a ruling that was challenged, unsuccessfully, by Norman's parents.

Wyniemko's last game as coach, against West Bloomfield Oct. 31, was stopped with 54 seconds left when a fight broke out and both benches emptied on to the field. Clarkston won, 42-7.

A Jan. 13 basketball game between Clarkston and West Bloomfield was subsequently canceled and West Bloomfield will not be on the Wolves' 1987 football schedule.

Wyniemko said the incident had no bearing on his decision to resign.

Clarkston grapplers grab meet triumph

For the first time in several years, Clarkston wrestlers captured an invitational meet, winning at Ferndale last Saturday.

Nine Wolves took home medals as the team totaled 152.5 points in the eight-team competition. East Detroit was runnerup with 128.5 points and host Ferndale was third with 123 points.

Clarkston coach Scott Strickler said the Wolves had not won a tournament since about 1982. Clarkston also led the meet all day, from the opening match.

"The two key matchups were at 119 and 132 pounds, where we wrestled the second-place team (East Detroit)," Strickler said. "Both of our guys won by falls and that kind of locked it up for us."

Winning those matches were Dave London (119) and Rob Lund (132). Each of them pinned three opponents during the meet.

Troy Castle also won his weight division, at 198 pounds.

Finishing second were Mark Ice (105), Chris Luzi

(112) and Matt Stark (185).

Jim Tedder (155) and Jason Campbell (167) came in third and 98-pounder Eric Wall was fourth.

"Our competition is really strong," said Strickler. "When we go to these tournaments, we've faced tougher competition than the other schools."

"We are a good tournament team. Everybody contributed."

Some of that tough competition came Dec. 11 when the Wolves got bounced by Rochester, 45-24. Clarkston's dual meet record is 2-4.

Luzi and Tedder won their matches by decisions and Campbell and Castle pinned their opponents.

Strickler sees last week's action as a good tuneup for this weekend's county meet. The meet will take place Friday and Saturday at two sites, Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge and Auburn Hills campuses.

"They've got the attitude that they're winners now. They know they can win," he said.

Cagers drop second game

Clarkston couldn't find the basket in its game at Pontiac Central and lost to the Chiefs, 52-40, Dec. 9.

The Wolves connected on just 14 of 64 shots from the floor (22 percent) and 12 of 25 at the free throw line (48 percent) to drop to 0-2.

"It's hard to beat teams when you score 40 points," said Clarkston coach Dan Fife.

The Wolves scored 46 in their opening game at Redford Catholic Central.

"We're in a terrible slump," said Fife. "The kids, it looks like they're shooting frustrated. As you score, you become more confident. But we didn't play particularly well."

The game was tied at 12 after one quarter and Central led 22-19 at halftime, but outscored Clarkston 13-6 in the third quarter. Willie Sims had 26 points for the Chiefs.

Dan Jokisch led Clarkston with 18 on six-for-25 shooting. He was six for 12 at the charity stripe. Jim Hall added nine points, but the only numbers Fife's concerned with have to do with wins and losses.

"The only noteworthy stat is we're 0-2 and that's not typical here," he said. "The way we're shooting, we couldn't beat any grade-school team."

The Wolves have 20 days between games to "regroup," but the schedule won't get any easier.

The Catholic Central Christmas tourney, which will also have Howell and Southgate Aquinas, rather than Wayne Memorial, will be followed by trips to Detroit Country Day and Pontiac Northern.

Fife and his players have their work cut out for them.

Skating preview:

Skiers want shot at states

By Chris Gerbas

A trip to the state finals in any high school sport would be considered a sign of success, but for Clarkston's skiers, it may have been a lowlight last season.

The Wolves performed well to qualify for the finals, but the girls team was ninth out of 10 teams and the boys group was 10th.

Coach Don Balzarini and his teams naturally want to make a return visit.

"We should have a pretty strong boys team," he said. "The girls, we'll see. There's a lot of 10th graders who look like pretty good skiers. I'm always hopeful we'll go to the state finals. I'd be disappointed if we didn't."

The Wolves spent a couple of weeks on strength and conditioning exercises in the halls of the high school.

They moved outdoors to Pine Knob last week for some actual work on the skis, in preparation for the season opener against Detroit Country Day Jan. 5 at the Knob.

Graduated from last year's teams are consistent performers such as Steve Zoss, Mike May, Lori Walker and Jennifer Farough.

But Balzarini has a number of skiers with state final experience and another season under their belts.

"We have so many of about equal ability returning, it's hard to pick out any individuals," said Balzarini.

Senior Jeff Roeser was 43rd in the state giant slalom last year and 44th in the slalom. Alex Yarber, another senior, will be on the slopes again after breaking a leg during last season.

Balzarini is also expecting good things from junior Todd Roeser and sophomores Robbie Brown and Mark Chiuchiarelli.

For the girls, junior Shelly Purdy had the highest finish in the finals among returners. She was 25th in the slalom.

Seniors Laura Howse and Serena Brown were 28th and 34th, respectively, in the giant slalom.

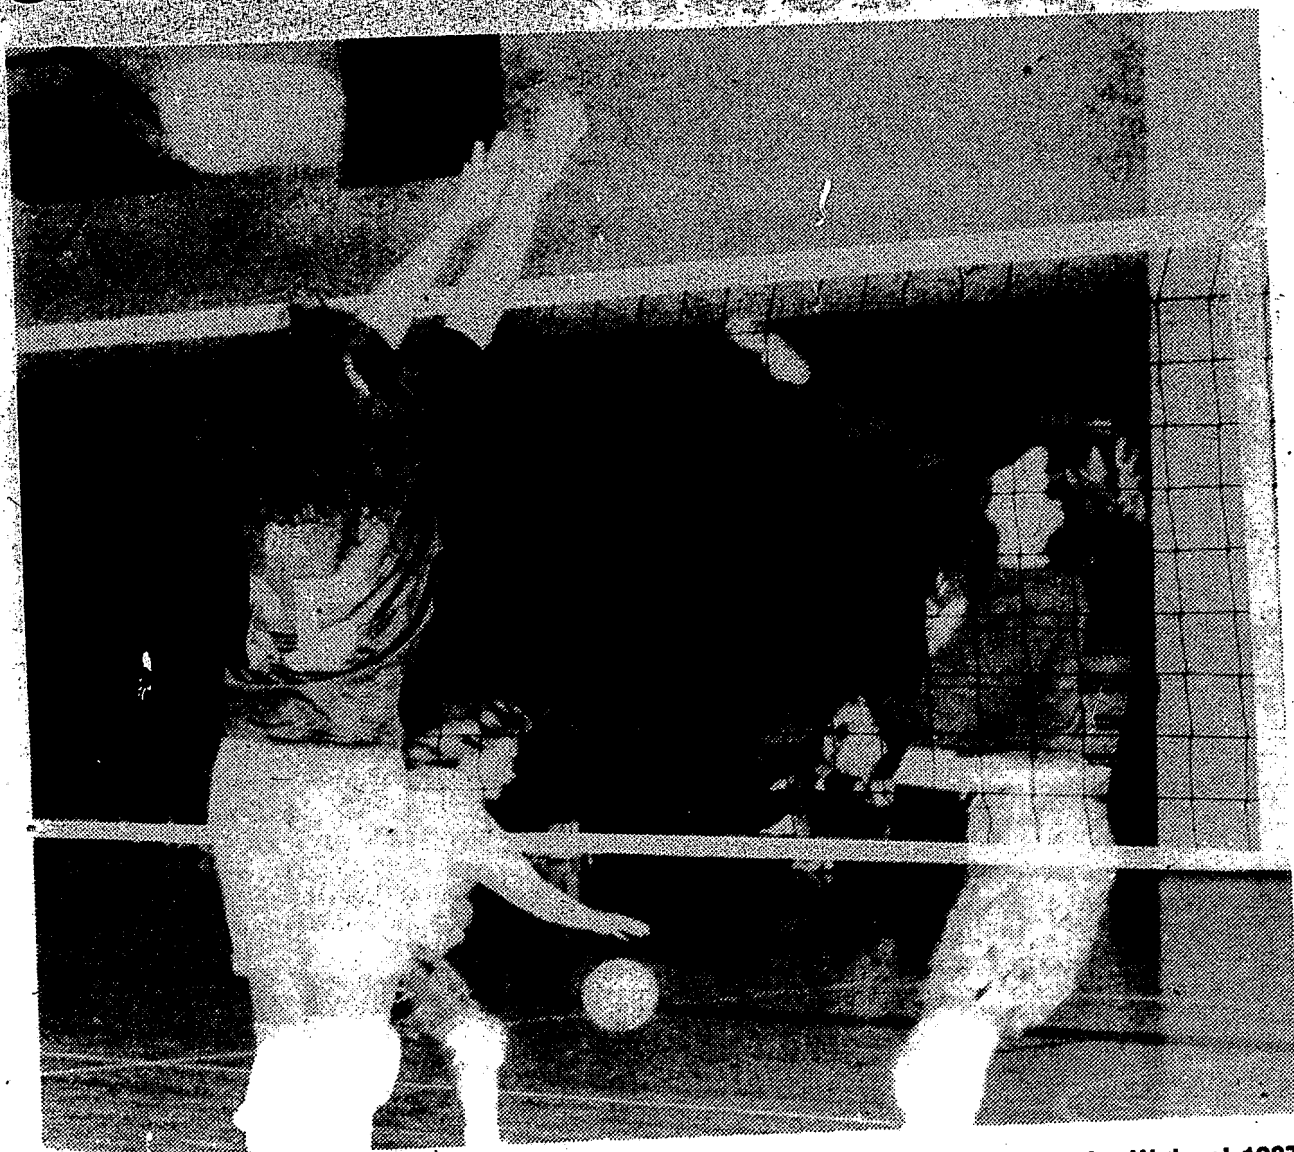

Suzy Learmont, who was the most improved skier on the squad as a junior, injured her knee at the finals and may not ski this year.

It seems the Wolves will have a blend of experience and new faces.

Balzarini expects his teams to be at the top of the eight-team Pine Knob Division in the Southeastern Michigan Ski League, with challenges coming from Bloomfield Hills Andover and Rochester Adams.

Clarkston spikers loaded with veterans

Clarkston's Tara Carncross slams the ball over the net in a hitting drill last week. Carncross is one of only three juniors on the Wolves' 1987 volleyball roster.

A 33-5 record might be hard to improve, but Clarkston's senior-dominated volleyball team will give it a shot.

Coach Nancy McCarrick has nine seniors on her 12-player team.

Four of those seniors, co-captain Wendy Cohoon, Maggie Gdula, Gina Houck and Missy Odell, started as juniors last season.

"Obviously, we'll depend on them a lot since they got a lot of playing time last year," said McCarrick. "As for the others, we don't know who's going to do what yet."

Rounding out the seniors are co-captain Coreen Hummel, Shelly Heyman, Kelly Laidig, Beth Tilley and Jessica Shoup. The lone juniors are Tara Carncross, Ali Fedio and Jane Selent.

"I think we'll miss the outside hitting of (graduates) Michelle (Taulbee) and Kecia (Powell)," McCarrick said. "But we're an even team. We don't have any superstars."

"We hit real well and we block real well," she said. "Our weakness might be back row play, but hopefully that will come around."

She hopes it comes around in time for Clarkston's season debut at the Rochester Kiwanis Tournament Dec. 27.

Last year, the Wolves tied with Lake Orion for the Greater Oakland Activities League championship and bowed out in the district finals to West Bloomfield.

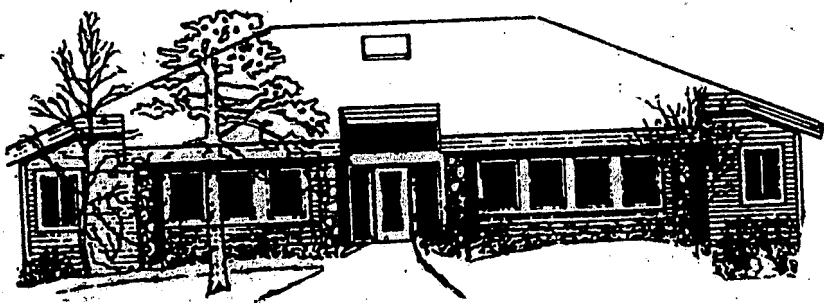

They have won or shared the league title three years in a row. They split their two matches with the Dragons, each winning on their home courts before noisy, full houses.

McCarrick again expects Lake Orion to challenge her team for the championship.

"They should be good again," she said. "It was a wild and exciting thing last year. I hope it's like that again."

Reggie Reed is stopped in his tracks by a Rochester Reuther defender. Reed poured in 21 points to help Clarkston Junior High to a 59-50 victory.

Wolverines get first victory

Jason Brown's 10 third-quarter points sparked a Clarkston burst as the Wolverines beat Rochester Reuther, 59-50, in junior high basketball Dec. 11.

The game was tied 23-23 at the half, but Clarkston outscored Reuther 20-8 in the decisive third quarter.

Reuther got to within seven points, 57-50, with just 50 seconds remaining.

The Wolverines, 1-1, were coming off a 62-37 loss to Van Hoosen Dec. 5.

"We worked hard this week," said coach Bill Bildstein. "We rebounded well tonight and ran the offense well."

Brown had 22 rebounds to go with his 17 points and eight steals. Bill Knight had 16 boards.

"He (Brown) was open all night long," said Bildstein. "We were patient and we ran it (the offense)."

Reuther got off to a 19-11 lead in the second quarter, but the Wolverines rallied behind Reggie Reed to tie the game. Reed had a game-high 21 points.

Kevin Caldwell, who scored 12 points for Reuther in the first half, was held to two in the second half.

Walk indoors

Even though Clarkston High School will be closed to walkers during the holidays, another school will be open for winter exercise in the new year.

Starting Jan. 5, Sashabaw Junior High School will be open 6 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday for people who would like to walk inside in the winter months, said Mel Vaara, assistant superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools.

Dec. 20 is the last day to walk in CHS until Jan. 5, he said.

Hold the mayo

Chris Gerbasi

The Lions played like a bunch of sandwiches Monday.

If you don't know what that means, you're not alone.

Let me explain: I went to the Lions-Bears game and as is mandatory for every sporting event I attend, there were loud, annoying "fans" sitting directly behind me rooting for the visiting team.

I've come to expect this over the years, but visiting team fans are a tenacious group. They wear you down, especially when their team is winning, with their cheering, their obscenities and their loudness.

By the end of a game, if my team won I want to laugh in their face for an hour or so and, if their team won, I want to pound their melons.

Monday I wanted to do some pounding after the Lions blew a 13-3 lead and lost yet another frustrating game, 16-13.

But the Chicago fans behind me did give me a new derogatory term, sandwiches.

I don't know what it means, I don't know where it came from, but at one point a guy behind me yelled at the Bears, "You bunch of sandwiches!"

Not to be outdone, I chimed in, yelling at the Lions, "Don't be a sandwich!" I said, not knowing what I was saying.

Maybe I'm just out of touch. Maybe "sandwich" is an obscene slang term that I haven't heard before.

Anyone who can enlighten me as to the origin of this insult will win lunch with yours truly at the deli of their choice. For sandwiches, of course.

As for the game itself, it was good to see Chuck Long in the lineup. He played fairly well, but even he could not escape the Lions tradition.

What the Lions do in a game is suck you in, toy with you, make it appear as if they're playing well. They'll get a lead and give you a false sense of security.

You become comfortable, content and they'll hang on as long as possible before they stab you and twist the knife slowly, spilling your emotions in the stands, losing and leaving you a bitter, crumpled human being.

But I die hard. I must be a masochist.

Speaking of sandwiches, I was thinking about how many could fit in the "Refrigerator," William Perry.

We were born on the same day and are the same age, but somehow, we grew at different rates. He grew up in the south and they must feed people differently down there.

If I had an appliance nickname, it would probably be "Cuisinart."

The most awkward part of this job is trying not to become too familiar with the people I write about.

I'm never sure how to address a coach, "Mr.," "Mrs.," "Coach" or their first name. And after talking to a coach or player several times, you feel as if you know them, even though you don't.

It's particularly hard covering high school teams because everyone is so appreciative of publicity and I find myself pulling for Clarkston teams and individuals. The whole problem, of course, is that I may lose my objectivity.

But I'm sorry to see Walt Wyniemo step down as Clarkston's football coach.

Winning over 60 percent of your games is a fine record at any level. But from what little I know about him, he seems like the quiet, unassuming type.

He may have never endeared himself with reporters looking for long-winded postgame interviews, but he also never used "I" and he rarely singled out players. Everything was "we" and "us."

Good luck to him in his next football endeavor.

Chemical dependency: solutions

By Pat Young

Sis Wenger, who coordinated four days of workshops on chemical dependency in the Clarkston area last month, distributes an orange pamphlet to people who have questions on chemical dependency.

The opening paragraph says it all:

"Chemical dependency, including alcoholism, is a physical illness which has an effect on the entire

"It will take a lot of work, and it has to be a community effort to fit all the pieces together."

—Al Dicken

family. It is a health problem, not a moral problem, nor the symptom of a psychological problem. The disease is one of the most treatable illnesses, but can be fatal if not arrested. Although victims never intend to become addicted—and are not responsible for their disease—they are responsible for their own recovery."

Recovery rates are high—better than 80 percent—but recovery frequently takes intervention on the part of someone who cares.

Intervention is an act of love on the part of family and other significant people in the addicted person's life. They plan how they will confront the dependent person with the reality of his or her condition in a factual, concerned, non-judgmental manner.

When they intervene and say, "We're here because we love you," they are helping that person "raise the bottom." A chemically dependent person does not have to "hit bottom" to get help, and intervention is an excellent way to keep them from getting all the way to "the bottom."

The process of intervention begins when one person, usually the spouse or an older son or daughter, calls the intervention professional, and the professional asks the caller to assemble a group of people who are significant to the chemically dependent person.

"Power is the issue in intervention," said Wenger. And there are some powerful tools: emotion, love, objective power.

The intervention group may be small or large, but should include young family members.

"Even 6- or 7-year-olds should be included," Wenger said. "They need to heal, too, and they've been left out too long."

"Don't turn your head if a kid needs help."

—Jayne Bannister

Besides, young children tend to "tell it like it is."

The group learns why the person they care so much about has resisted all efforts of help, and how they, often unconsciously, have "enabled" that person to go on using chemicals.

One person, now recovering for several years, who experienced such an intervention said, "When they did the intervention and made their speeches all full of love and worry, I thought, 'What right do they have to take over my life?'

"I said I would go into treatment and I did, but I was mad for the first three days.

"Then I realized how grateful I was that someone had loved me enough to do for me what I couldn't do for myself. And now I can see that this has drawn our whole family closer together."

There are many types of treatment, outpatient and inpatient, long-term residential, half-way houses, and there are programs like Alcoholics Anonymous (AA), Al-Anon and Alateen to offer continuing support.

Al-Anon is a support group for the families of chemically dependent people and Alateen is for the children of alcoholics and other drug dependent people.

AA is for the addicted person. It is a fellowship of men and women, of all ages and from all walks of life,

The Highest Price of all who share their experiences, strengths and hopes with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others recover from alcoholism.

The only requirement for membership is a desire to stop drinking. There are no dues or fees. AA is not allied with any sect, denomination, organization or institution. Their primary purpose is to stay sober and help other alcoholics achieve sobriety.

AA's 12 steps to recovery are used in many treatment programs:

1. We admitted that we were powerless over alcohol, that our lives had become unmanageable.
2. Came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.
3. Made a decision to turn our will and loves over to the care of God as we understood Him.
4. Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.

5. Admitted to God, ourselves and another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.

6. Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

7. Humbly asked Him to remove our shortcomings.

8. Made a list of all persons we had harmed, and became willing to make amends to them all.

9. Made direct amends to such people wherever possible, except when to do so would injure them or others.

10. Continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong, promptly admitted it.

11. Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God, as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.

12. Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to alcoholics, and to practice these principles in all our affairs.

But in addition to intervention and treatment, there must be options for change.

"We need to do things to change parents and adults," said Wenger. "It is our society today which

"The churches would like to help take the lead against the social stigma."

—The Rev. Bill Schram

gives permission for drinking."

James Crowley, president of Community Intervention Inc., expounded further when he wrote, "We can turn the tide of drug abuse around, but it takes balance. It means more than a careful consideration of each problem that arises.

"There has to be balance throughout the system, throughout the community, and across generations. We can be more successful in keeping our own children away from alcohol and other drugs if the families of our children's peers also do this.

The series, Part IV

This story dealt with the fourth and final workshop in a series co-sponsored by the Clarkston Community Schools and the Clarkston Area Chemical People.

The workshops, which took place on four consecutive Mondays in November, were coordinated by Sis Wenger and Associates. A drug education consultant and trainer, Wenger is also founder of the Henry Ford Hospital Maplegrove Community Education Program.

Persons interested in more information about the drug abuse problem can contact the Rev. Bill Schram, chairperson of the Clarkston Area Chemical People, or Linc Smith or Katie MacKay, co-coordinators of the S.E.A.R.C.H. program at Clarkston High School, aimed at helping students affected by substance abuse.

There are numerous places in the Clarkston area that help with the problem of chemical addiction.

Clarkston High School offers assistance through a program called S.E.A.R.C.H. (Support, Education, Awareness, Resources for Chemical-Free Health), co-directed by Linc Smith and Katie MacKay. It is the first line of intervention for students with a problem.

S.E.A.R.C.H. directs them to help, and educates them about drug abuse during a 10-week program. S.E.A.R.C.H. gives a number of presentations throughout the school year to all students at the high school.

The high school also has a number of support groups. The aftercare group is for students who have been through treatment. The concerned person group is for students who are concerned about another person with a drug problem.

Another support group is for parents, and meets the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month from 7 to 9 p.m. It is for all parents of adolescents, to talk about adolescent-related issues, not just drug-related issues.

Treatment and education on chemical dependency is available for people of all ages at the Consortium for Human Development Counseling Center, 5645 Sashabaw Rd., and Clinical Resources Inc., 5885 Ortonville Rd.

The Consortium, a nationally accredited clinic, is funded by the Oakland County and Independence Township to assist low- and moderate-income families, according to James Evans, founding director.

Outpatient services, including individual, family and group counseling and educational classes, as well as employee assistance programs for area corporations are offered at the Consortium.

Clinical Resources also offers outpatient services such as individual, family and group counseling, according to director Peter Keelin, a clinical

Here's where to find help

Solutions exist in chemical dependency fight

"We will be more successful in preventing our kids from driving drunk if we are also willing to confront our adult friends who do."

Instead of balance, he said, we have a swinging pendulum that touches various extremes from generation to generation. In order to change anything, then, the first thing people must do is come together.

That is what the people of Clarkston did when teachers, parents, administrators, ministers, business people and volunteers came together to attend the chemical dependency workshops.

Wenger suggested a networking structure that could continue the process begun in the workshops. It would be a community council, of sorts, with representatives from businesses, clergy, parents, schools, service clubs, the legal system, police, medical and mental health people, social welfare, recreation and others.

The purpose of the council would be to learn the problems, discuss values and resources, and to communicate.

"You need a cohesiveness in the community in order to make a difference," Wenger said. "It's a massive job."

The job to be done involves the "three A's"—raise awareness high enough to change attitudes and take appropriate action.

It was the workshop participants who offered possible solutions to the problems of chemical dependency.

At the end of the final day, Wenger and Clarkston High School S.E.A.R.C.H. program co-coordinators Linc Smith and Katie MacKay had the participants work in groups. Their suggestions could well provide some answers for tomorrow.

Student group spokesperson Kelly Saunders said, "We have to create an atmosphere of not using."

Dody Savas expressed concerns for the elementary school parents group that reaching parents is the

"We need to promote chemically free fun activities, and to let kids know it's OK to talk about a problem."

—Bill Curtis

biggest roadblock.

"Bombard them with the facts," she said. Her group also supported Wenger's recommendation of support groups in schools for children of alcoholics, divorced children and "new kids."

Secondary school parents, with Mary Beth Huttenlocher as spokesperson, suggested expanding help groups in the schools; perhaps even using parent volunteers and para-professionals to help counsel.

Junior high staff spokesperson Jayne Bannister said, "Don't turn your head if a kid needs help." The group recommended after-school groups where kids could find "just someone to talk to."

Tom Brown, speaking for the elementary school staff, said, "We would like to see more developmentally appropriate programs (of drug education) adapted to the elementary school and throughout the system."

Religious group spokesperson the Rev. Bill Schram said, "The churches would like to help take the lead against the social stigma." His group voiced support for promoting non-alcoholic parties and social events.

Tim St. Aubian, speaking for the clinicians group, said, "We have to bridge the gap. Few people debate the cost of treatment, but more must be done to get involved with the problems."

Bill Curtis, senior high school spokesperson, said, "We need to promote chemically free fun activities, and to let kids know it's OK to talk about a problem."

These and other groups speaking voiced support for the idea of a networking council, and all pledged support for ongoing programs to fight the drug problem. Education, awareness, support groups and communication were high on the list of all groups speaking.

"This is the beginning of that networking system," said Linc Smith at the conclusion of the program. "We've all had the same education for four weeks. We speak the same language."

He said a meeting is planned Jan. 14 that will "continue the dialogue" begun during the workshops and set the networking process in motion.

Al Dicken, director of the Student Service Center in West Bloomfield and health coordinator for that school district, talked about support groups and interjected a bit of his own philosophy on the drug problem.

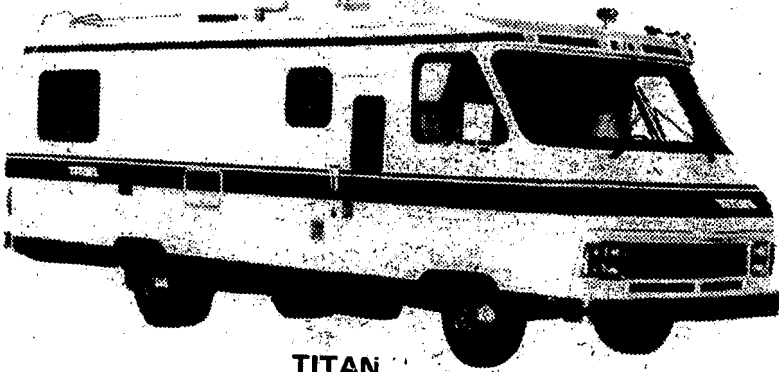

"When you work with this problem, the whole thing can be very awesome and frustrating," he said. "But look at the young kids. How many kids do you have to turn around to make it worth it?"

"We didn't make this problem overnight, and it won't go away overnight," he continued. "It will take a lot of work, and it has to be a community effort to fit all the pieces together."

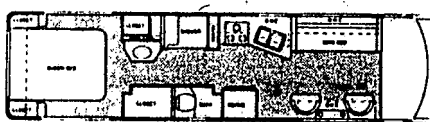

"If everyone here takes some of this information and impacts just one person, you can make a difference."

Emil Hansen, 92, squeezes a ball after his physical fitness class at Calvary Lutheran Church.

Clarkston man has 92nd birthday

By Julie Campe
Emil Hansen turned 92 years old on Dec. 13, and he's in great health.

The day before his birthday, he graduated from a physical fitness class for senior citizens.

The whole class helped celebrate his birthday, with cake and decorations and song.

"He's a perfect example of what fitness (experts tell you)," said Carol Lippincott, teacher of Body Recall, sponsored by the Clarkston Ambulatory Care Center.

"He stays healthy. He stays active," she said.

The Clarkston resident talked about why he's in such good condition.

"I worked an awful lot," he said. "I've always been busy."

When he was a boy, he and his six brothers worked in his father's meat market in Nebraska. Eventually, he opened his own meat market, as did all of his brothers, he said.

When he could no longer butcher meat, he found other ways to keep busy.

He was a groundskeeper for parks and yards in Nebraska.

Three years ago, he moved next door to his son on Holcomb Road, and until this year, he kept his own garden.

"Emil is living proof that work won't kill you," said Elsie Davis, a member of Body Recall.

Also, he's never smoked or drunk, he said.

And two years ago, he received a pace-maker.

"That has done wonders for me," he said.

"Everybody's been so good to me," said Emil, mentioning Dennis and Peggy Myers, friends from Calvary Lutheran Church.

Clarkston girls win trophies

By Kathy Greenfield

Heather Schmidt and Kari Upham agree, meeting Piston superstar Isiah Thomas was the best part about winning in their age groups in the Oakland County division of Detroit Edison's 20th Annual Electric Safety Poster and Comic Strip Contest.

In separate interviews, the girls talked about the posters they created for the contest and the awards ceremony Dec. 8 in Detroit for the 61 winners from over 14,500 entries.

Heather, a second-grader in Pat Andrus' class at Andersonville Elementary School, said she liked meeting Isiah Thomas "because he's on TV and stuff."

The poster she designed for the classroom assignment showed an octopus' face on a plug with a "whole bunch of arms like an octopus has" representing an overloaded outlet. Her caption was "The Electrical Octopus Likes to Make Fires. Don't Overload."

The trophy Heather won is on display on top of the TV in the family room at home, sharing the space with her mom's collection of cats and, during the holiday season, a manger scene.

"This is the first time I got one," said Heather, showing her pride in winning a trophy.

Her parents, Ted and Kathy, and her grandparents were among those who accompanied her to the awards ceremony.

"They thought it was neat, too," Heather said.

Kari, an eighth-grader at Clarkston Junior High School, submitted her comic strip poster as a required Art I project for Sally Lindeman's class.

As established by the contest rules, her strip featured Isiah Thomas and an octopus, representing too many cords plugged into one socket.

Kari found out she was a winner in the contest while at eighth-grade camp.

"We were playing Bingo and (Miss Lindeman) walked in and said, 'I'd like to congratulate Kari Upham for winning the contest,' and I said, 'What contest?' " said Kari.

Her nonchalance turned to nervousness when she arrived at the awards ceremony and saw the crowd of people.

"I started laughing at first because I tripped going up the stairs," she said about meeting Isiah Thomas. "He was really sweet... more normal than I thought he would be."

Kari said she won several awards for her artwork while in elementary school, and the poster contest award will join several baseball trophies she keeps in her bedroom.

Her parents, Carol and Mike, and sister, Kristi, were among those attending the awards ceremony with Kari.

"They thought it was kind of neat for me to win out of so many people," she said. "My mom was really proud. My dad took about a million pictures."

Kari Upham didn't realize the poster assignment was for a contest. "It was weird because I didn't expect it at all," she said, "and then when I got the letter from (Detroit Edison), I kind of got excited."

Heather Schmidt really likes the trophy she won in the Detroit Edison safety poster contest. She sums up her reaction to winning in a word: "Surprised."

DDA expansion is on agenda

The entire Lancaster on the Lakes apartment complex may be included in the Independence Township Downtown Development Authority (DDA). The DDA Board has recommended new boundary lines to include the complex on Dixie Highway to correct a mistake in the original boundary drawings, said DDA Chairperson Gerald Darnell. The drawings had omitted a portion of the Lancaster property. "The benefit would be the DDA can capture any tax increment increase as a result of development done in that area," said Darnell. While revenue from the downtown area can be earmarked for that area only, it doesn't mean an increase in taxes, he said. It's a financing plan, and nothing involves a tax increase for anyone as a result of the DDA.

The district includes Dixie Highway from the southern township limits to White Lake Road and M-15 from Dixie Highway to Paramus.

Improvement plans include sewer, water, lighting and landscaping projects to be completed by 1992.

A public hearing regarding the boundary change is scheduled Dec. 23 at 6 p.m. A second meeting to accept or deny the change is scheduled Dec. 31.

Incredible edibles

Cakes fit for holiday feasting

Holiday time is wonderful dessert time. Accordingly, a pair of cakes worthy of sinking your teeth into are this week's selections from the "Incredible Edibles" cookbook published by the Clarkston Community Women's Club.

Alice Kelley of Ferndale submitted the Italian Cream Cake recipe and Rum Cake is from the kitchen of Carolyn Canady of White Lake.

ITALIAN CREAM CAKE

1 stick margarine
2 cups sugar
2 cups flour, sifted
1 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup vegetable oil
5 egg yolks
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
5 egg whites, beaten stiff
1 cup coconut
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Icing:
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 box confectioners sugar
1/2 stick margarine

Cream margarine and oil. Add sugar and beat until smooth. Add egg yolks and beat well. Sift dry ingredients; add alternately with buttermilk to creamed mixture.

Stir in vanilla, coconut and nuts. Fold in egg whites. Pour batter into 3 greased and floured 9 inch pans. Bake at 350 degrees approximately 25 minutes. Cool in pans 5 minutes before removing.

Icing: Beat cream cheese with butter until very smooth. Add sugar and mix well. Add vanilla and beat until smooth. Apply icing to cooled cake layers. Sprinkle chopped nuts on top.

RUM CAKE

Cake:
1 cup chopped nuts
1 yellow cake mix
1 package Jello instant vanilla pudding mix
4 eggs
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup dark rum
Glaze:
1/4 pound (1 stick) butter
1/4 cup water
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup rum (or more)

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Grease and flour pan (Bundt). Sprinkle nuts in bottom. Mix cake ingredients and pour over nuts. Bake 1 hour. Cool.

Invert on serving plate, prick top with fork, then drizzle and smooth glaze over top and sides. Allow cake to absorb glaze and repeat until glaze is used up.

Proceeds from the sale of "Incredible Edibles" cookbooks are used on community service projects. The $6 books are available at the Independence Township Library, Village Book Store, Carol's Village Grill, Gayanne's Floral Concept and Pontiac State Bank's downtown Clarkston branch.

Elementary school wants media specialist

A plea for a full-time media specialist was brought before the Clarkston board of education Dec. 8 by Len Loveless, representing the teachers at Pine Knob Elementary School.

Of the five elementaries in the district, Bailey Lake is the only one with a full-time media specialist, a decision made several years ago when Bailey Lake had the largest enrollment, according to Loveless.

Now, he said, Pine Knob can claim the status of having the largest enrollment and he urged the board to follow its precedent.

"We feel the students at Pine Knob are receiving second-class citizen status because of the inequity," Loveless said.

Media specialists oversee the media centers, or libraries. They work with books, audio-visual equipment and computers.

Citing financial considerations, board President

Janet Thomas said that while there is "no question there should be a full-time media specialist at all schools," the plan is to continue with the same staffing for the school year.

The district currently has six media specialists on staff—one full-time at the high school, two junior highs and Bailey Lake Elementary; one who covers both Clarkston and North Sashabaw elementaries; and one who covers both Andersonville and Pine Knob elementaries.

As of Nov. 30, enrollment in the district was as follows:

Andersonville Elementary—404
Bailey Lake Elementary—627
Clarkston Elementary—584
North Sashabaw Elementary—475
Pine Knob Elementary—652
Clarkston Junior High School—602

psychologist. They, too, work with area corporations' employee assistance programs.

Keelin says they use and recommend support groups such as AA (Alcoholics Anonymous). And as with all outpatient treatment services, they refer people to inpatient services when necessary.

Inpatient services in the area include Colombiere Center on Big Lake Road, Fox Center on Woodward Avenue in Pontiac and Oxford Institute on Draher Road.

According to Smith, students in the S.E.A.R.C.H. program are also referred to Henry Ford Hospital Maplegrove Center in West Bloomfield.

Ongoing support and treatment are an important part of recovery, and support groups such as AA are an invaluable segment of nearly every program.

The area AA number is 332-3521, where anyone can call for assistance. The office is located at 1899 Telegraph Rd.

In Clarkston there are several AA-related meetings every week.

Landscaper moves to Dixie Highway

A commercial-wholesale landscaping business owned by Tom Lowrie received site plan approval from the Springfield Township Board on Dec. 10.

Plans for the landscaping business at 9571 Dixie Highway included Lowrie's use of a residence on adjacent property, use of a small building on the business property for an office and plans to build an elaborate pole barn structure for the business, according to Springfield Township Supervisor Collin Walls.

"As would be expected, the plan also calls for extensive landscaping," Walls said.

Lowrie, who is moving his existing business from

Waterford Township, has already begun operating at the new location on Dixie Highway.

The only concern voiced by the township board was a 250-gallon above-ground fuel tank that would be used for fueling equipment.

The site plan was approved unanimously, with the additional stipulation that Lowrie build a slightly dished concrete slab under the tank to avoid spillage and contamination of ground water.

Charter Township of Independence Notice of Proposed Code Ordinance Amendments

At a special meeting of the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence to be held on Tuesday, December 23, 1986, the Board will consider the adoption of an ordinance on an emergency basis.

The proposed ordinance amendment pertains to the Development Plan and Tax Increment Financing Plan for the Township's DDA district.

The proposed ordinance reads as follows:

STATE OF MICHIGAN
COUNTY OF OAKLAND

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE
ORDINANCE TO APPROVE AND ADOPT A DEVELOPMENT PLAN AND TAX INCREMENT FINANCING PLAN FOR THE DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT DISTRICT.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE, COUNTY OF OAKLAND, STATE OF MICHIGAN, ORDAINS:

Section 1 of Ordinance. Ordinance Adoption.

CHAPTER 22

ECONOMIC GROWTH PROMOTION

ARTICLE III. Approval and Adoption of Development Plan and Tax Increment Financing Plan.

Section 22-51. Determination of Public Purpose.

Following a duly noticed public hearing on the Development Plan and Tax Increment Financing Plan for the Downtown Development District (together referred to as "the Plan"), and having made the findings set forth below, the Township Board has found and determined that the Plan constitutes and seeks to accomplish a public purpose, and that the Plan is consistent with and seeks to accomplish the intent and purpose declared by the Board for the establishment of the Downtown Development Authority in Article II, Section 22-17 of this Chapter:

(a) The Tax Increment Financing Plan is consistent with Sections 14 and 15 of Act 197, P.A. 1975, as amended.

(b) The Development Plan meets the requirements set forth in Section 17 (2) of Act 197, P.A. 1975, as amended.

(c) The proposed method of financing development is feasible, and the Authority has the ability to arrange the financing.

(d) The development is reasonable and necessary to carry out the purposes of Act 197, P.A. 1975, as amended.

(e) The land included within the development area to be acquired for the extension of Maybee Road, and any easements required as indicated in the Development Plan, are reasonably necessary to carry out the purposes of the Plan and of Act 197, P.A. 1975, as amended, in an efficient and economically satisfactory manner.

(f) The Development Plan is in reasonable accord with the Master Plan of the Township.

(g) Public services, such as fire and police protection and utilities, are or will be adequate to service the project area.

(h) Changes in zoning, streets, street levels, intersections, and utilities are reasonably necessary for the project and for the Township.

Section 22-52. Approval of Plan.

(a) Premised upon the findings and determinations made in Section 22-51, above, and upon the further finding that pursuit and execution of the Plan appears to be in the best interest of the Charter Township of Independence, the Plan, in the form made a part of the Township Board minutes on the date this Ordinance was adopted, is hereby approved and adopted.

(b) No amendment of the Plan shall be effective unless and until submitted to and approved by the Township Board in accordance with the procedures set forth in Act 197, P.A. 1975, as amended.

Section 2 of Ordinance. Declaration of Emergency.

In view of the fact that the Development Plan and Tax Increment Financing Plan have been based and calculated upon utilizing the initial assessed value of all real and personal property in the Township as of December 31, 1985, and upon capturing tax increment revenues to be derived based upon increases in assessments during the calendar year 1986, and taking into consideration that such premises would be materially undermined if this Ordinance were not effective prior to December 31, 1986 inasmuch as inclusion of the tax increment revenues for such one year period would be in the public interest of the Downtown Development District and the Township of Independence, it is hereby declared that this is an emergency Ordinance which shall be finally passed by the Township Board at the same meeting at which it is introduced, to be effective immediately upon publication following such meeting.

Section 3 of Ordinance. Incorporation is Part of Ordinance Code.

This Ordinance shall be codified as designated above, as part of the Independence Township Code of Ordinances.

The proposed code ordinance amendment will be voted on December 23, 1986, at the Township Hall Annex, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan. A complete copy of the proposed text amendment is available at the Clerk's Office, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan, Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Richard A. Holman
Township Clerk

New program honors students

A Monday lunch hour for five Clarkston High School students was a special occasion.

The five were honored during a luncheon Dec. 8 at Alexander's as the first "Students of the Month" in a new program organized by the school staff and administration.

The first "Students of the Month" were: Jennie Davis, daughter of Bruce and Marjean Davis of Columbia Road; Kristi Martin, daughter of Joseph and Barbara Martin of Deerwood Circle; Lori Stenborg, daughter of Peter and Gail Stenborg of Church Street; Michele Sweet, daughter of Walter and Arlene Sweet of Susin Lane; and Rachel Young, daughter of James and Carolyn Young of Holcomb Road.

The students were chosen on the basis of leadership, grades, attitude and participation, said Dr. Robert Burek, principal.

"We have outstanding young men and women at Clarkston High School, and it is our purpose in the program to recognize superior effort on their part and initiate more recognition for achievement in the classroom," Burek said. "We hope to see additional such activities develop in the months ahead."

Faculty in the building recommend students to a committee of staff and administration, which makes the final selection based on a series of criteria focusing on achievement and excellence in the student body.

This month's students and their mothers were guests of the school Dec. 8 at Alexander's. Burek said the new program will continue each month, with lunch at various area restaurants.

"It's worth the work," said Jennie Davis during the lunch.

"I'd just like to thank Dr. Burek and the staff for starting the program," said Rachel Young.

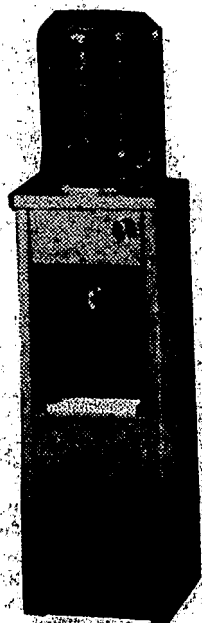

"I think it's really an honor," added Kristi Martin. "I hope the program will continue."

What happens in smoke-filled room?

Dear Cat Paw:

I remember reading something in Cat Paw about what happens to people when they're in the same room with people who smoke. I'm trying to get my parents to quit smoking and hope that when they read that article they might try to quit. Could you print it again?

Grateful Daughter

Dear Grateful Daughter:

I'm happy to oblige. Here is the article and I hope it helps, although it has been my experience that people don't quit smoking until they are good and ready.

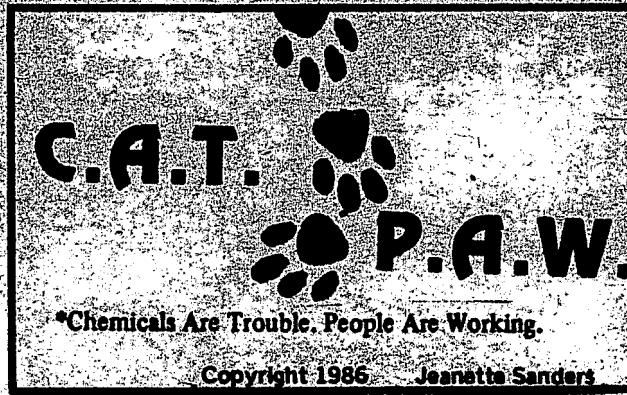

It doesn't matter to smokers who they hurt as long as they can continue their habit.

Here are the facts from the American Lung Association:

Cigarette smoke pollutes air in enclosed places and affects the non-smoker present. Inhaling secondhand smoke makes the heart beat faster, the blood pressure go up and the level of carbon monoxide in the blood increase.

There is more cadmium in the smoke that drifts off the burning end of the cigarette than in the drag the smoker takes. Large doses of cadmium have been related to hypertension, chronic bronchitis and emphysema.

Smoke from an idling cigarette contains even more tar and nicotine than an inhaled one. The amount of carbon monoxide in the blood of non-smokers doubles in a poorly ventilated room filled with cigarette smoke.

Even outside the room, the inhaled carbon monoxide stays in the body for three or four hours. The non-smoker is forced to breathe smoke from the burning end of the cigarette as well as the smoke exhaled by the smoker.

Researchers have found that respiratory infections, especially pneumonia and acute bronchitis, are twice as common in young children whose parents smoke at home compared to those with non-smoking parents.

Dear Cat Paw:

I found some yellow round pills with a heart cut out of the middle. Do you have any idea what these pills are and what they do? I didn't get them and can't imagine where the children got them.

Upset Mom

Dear Upset Mom:

I can't be certain, but it sounds like you are describing 5 milligram Valium. If the pills are indeed Valium, they are barbiturates. Why not take the pills to your local pharmacy or physician for an accurate analysis?

Dear Cat Paw:

What do they mean by psychoactive drug? Why is it different from others?

Don't Understand

Dear Don't Understand:

A psychoactive drug is a natural or synthetic substance that affects mental processes and alters mood and/or behavior.

It is a so-called mind altering drug. Drugs that do not affect mental processes or alter mood or behavior are not psychoactive.

Cat Paw author Jeanette Sanders, a Springfield Township resident, is a state certified drug abuse counselor and a member of the Clarkston Area Chemical People.

ners through adults signed up for the Dec. 6 program offered at Bailey Lake Elementary by Clarkston Community Education.

'Twas super

Allison Prudhomme decorates a Christmas card tree by first painting it green.

Brad Preston makes a candy cane ornament for a Christmas tree. Many of the Super Saturday classes involved holiday crafts.

Christmas music

"Sing and Rejoice" is the theme of the Clarkston High School vocal music department's Christmas concert.

The concert is to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the CHS Little Theatre on Thursday, Dec. 18.

The voices of about 150 students will be heard in the Chorales, Girls Select Ensemble, Barbershop Ensemble, Mixed Chorus, Madrigal Singers and Variety Concert Choir.

Traditional caroling with the audience and the choirs is part of the program.

The concert is open to the public. There is no admission fee, but donations will be accepted. For more information, call the high school at 625-0900.

The Schultz family brings ornaments from home to hang on the Christmas tree at Main and Washington streets in Clarkston. As carolers sang, they put their creations in place during Family Night on Friday. From left are 2-year-old Jon, 5-year-old Katie and their dad, Stephen. In the background are a delighted Aaron Spencer, 2, and his dad, Don. The hour of songs, cider and donuts was sponsored by Buck and Joan Kopletz, owners of Tierra Arts in Clarkston.

All in the family

Among a group of Clarkston High School students who add their singing voices to the caroling 'round the Christmas tree are Elizabeth Vaughn and Marty Brown.

Angela Ruth wards off the frosty weather with hot cider and a donut.

Shari deBauclair's daughter Tara snuggles for warmth as Shari leads the carolers. She is a manager at Tierra Arts.
