Sportscaster inspires kids

By Chris Gerbasl

John Gross related the story of a teenage girl who had become involved in smoking, drinking, lying and stealing.

Then he told of the girl's failure in school, E's and F's on her report card, and that brought some laughter from Gross' seventh-grade audience at Clarkston Junior High.

"It was my daughter," Gross said, silencing the crowd. "And there's nothing funny about it. My daughter is a recovering alcoholic. I took her in for treatment when she was 16. And she said she was going to try acid and cocaine next."

It was a somber moment during an otherwise upbeat presentation by Gross, a Channel 7 sportscaster.

SPRING HAS SPRUNG: Robins aside, there's no surer sign of the approach of warm weather than the first boats filled with people fishing in Deer Lake. This duo's boat was one of several dotting the lake on Saturday afternoon. (Photo by Kathy Greenfield)

According to the hands of Father Time, it's spring, or at least pretty danged close. (Mother Nature hasn't made up her mind yet: 70 degrees one day, snow the next.)

On Sunday, April 5, or Saturday before bedtime, clock owners across the land are supposed to move time forward an hour. (The "spring forward" or "spring forward, fall back" fame.)

In easy to understand terms, this is the time of the year when we all lose an hour of sleep.

Park plans win board's OK

By Julie Campe

Timothy Doyle is happy about the new parks and recreation master plan for Independence Township.

"I think it's a fine plan," said the township parks and recreation director. "It really does recognize and address the needs of the township. . . . I've prepared the master plans in the past 12 or 15 years. . . . With the projected growth in the area, I thought it would be best if an outside group came in and took a look."

"This is a more realistic plan," he said. "A lot of things are very attainable."

At a special meeting March 26, the Independence Township board unanimously approved the master plan prepared by the Snell Environmental Group of Lansing for a $10,100 fee.

The plan recommends several actions:

- Establish a parks and recreation board or commission within the next 1-2 years.
- Secure additional full-time park and recreation staff within the next five years or as demand requires.

The following positions should be considered: assistant park director, additional park maintenance worker, additional park laborer, program assistant for recreation and program assistant for senior citizens programs.

• Establish a millage for parks and recreation within the next five years.

• Develop and/or update master plans for all parks within the township.

• Develop a market feasibility study for Bay Court Camp within the next one to two years.

The study should determine the feasibility and user demand of: music camps, theater performing arts; special sports camps (soccer, Lacrosse); special youth programs; school camp programs; special retreats.

• Physical site improvements and land acquisitions.

Carr to observe Geneva arms talks

When President Reagan talks to the Soviets in Geneva this year, Congressman Bob Carr (D-East Lansing) will be watching.

Carr was appointed by House Speaker Jim Wright as one of 20 official Congressional observers to the arms control talks to be held in Switzerland. The precise date has not been set.

As an observer, Carr will be responsible for monitoring the progress of the talks between the United States and the Soviet Union.

"These arms control talks are very important to the future of our country and our world," said Carr. "It is imperative that we bring the escalating arms race under control. With this appointment, I will be able to monitor first-hand the progress of these talks."

"The appointment carries a tremendous amount of responsibility," he said. "I am gratified that my colleagues have chosen me to be part of the team that represents them in Geneva."

"Since I came to Congress, I have worked hard to bring reason and common sense to the area of arms negotiations. I will continue to do that to reduce the threat of war between the superpowers."

Carr's 6th District encompasses an area between Pontiac and East Lansing and includes Independence and Springfield townships. He is member of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Commerce, State, Justice and the Judiciary that funds the Arms Control Disarmament Agency.

Congressman Bob Carr (D-Mich.) is to be one of 20 observing the arms talks in Geneva between the Soviets and the U.S.

Center tops list

road and beach expansion at Bay Court Camp; paying the parking lot entrance at Deer Lake Park; tennis court lighting at Clintonwood Park; parking and soccer field improvements at Clintonwood Park; beach house expansion and restrooms at Deer Lake Park.

The acquisitions should include: 15-20 acres in Walters Lake area in northeast quarter of the township; another 10-15 acres in Clarkston vicinity.

A community center is the township's highest priority, but due to the high cost, it's listed for future consideration in the master plan, said Doyle. If the township should receive money for it, the center would supersede other acquisitions and improvements, he said.

About $40,000 for the community center has been raised through Bottles for Building, a program that existed about 10 years ago to recycle bottles and save the money for a center.

The master plan is a set of guidelines and goals, said Doyle. "It doesn't mean we have to follow them, although I personally think we should do all the things in there."

Building use OK'd

A new business may soon open on Sashabaw Road near Flemings Lake Road.

Paul S. Holler, owner of the property and existing building, received final site plan approval from the Independence Township planning commission March 26 for the freeway service zoning.

Although he doesn't know what commercial store he will open, he does not plan to cater to the Pine Knob Music Theatre crowd—no liquor, he said.

Allowable uses for the building include: drug stores, restaurants, gift shops and retail stores for expressway travelers, not including drive-through restaurants or gas stations.

In a 4-0 vote, the planning commission approved the final site plan, subject to final engineering plans. Richard Oppmann was absent.

The building rests on a lot 232.65 feet by 279.9 feet.

Public hearing for cops' fate

By Julie Campe

The Clarkston Village Council is seeking help from Clarkston residents to decide the fate of its police contract with Independence Township.

The council members set a public hearing for Monday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. in Clarkston Village Hall, 375 Depot.

"A public hearing would be good if enough people would show up," said Trustee Frank Millard at the March 23 meeting.

The council is considering accepting the township's request for an additional 1.5 mills to pay for the double police coverage in effect since Jan. 1. The township voters approved the millage increase last November. The township contracts with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department for coverage.

One mill is $1 for every $1,000 in assessed property valuation.

The village currently pays 1 mill or $14,000 for its coverage, and the contract expires in 1988, said council President Sharron Catallo. The additional 1.5 mills for a total 2.5 mills would cost about $35,000.

Millard listed the council's options: Pay the additional 1.5 mills; pay an additional amount, but not the entire 1.5 mills, in exchange for specific coverage such as early morning traffic control; or keep the current contract until it expires next year, and take action then.

If the village wanted to contract for its own service, $60,000 would provide one officer 40 hours a week, said Millard, adding they're getting a good deal with current coverage.

"My personal opinion is the whole shot (of 2.5 mills) is worth it," said Millard. "(Oakland County) gives excellent service, and they want to provide service here.

"We're getting seven days a week coverage, 24 hours a day for one half the cost of one man. We don't have to worry about liability or insurance," he said.

Trustee Fontie ApMadoc agreed, but other council members did not.

"I will not blindly pay that money," said Catallo. "I'd like specific coverage."

She added that all the village needs is selective traffic enforcement and a car to answer emergency calls.

Trustee Douglas Roeser asked where they would find the money to pay the extra 1.5 mills.

Treasurer Artemus Pappas said the budget would not allow it, and the residents would have to pay more money.

Fourth-graders at Pine Knob Elementary School surround their teacher, Joy McCurdy, during a surprise birthday party they staged for her last Friday. In addition to a "My Teacher has Class" helium balloon, the children gave her a dozen long-stemmed red roses.

Kids toss party for teacher

By Pat Young

Confetti littered the floor. Student-scrubbed notes competed for space on the blackboard with the day's assignments. Paper signs hung askew everywhere.

It was not a normal Friday afternoon in Room 20 at Pine Knob Elementary School, but fourth-grade teacher Joy McCurdy didn't mind.

The students had planned a surprise birthday party for her March 27, with a little help from some of the mothers and members of the school staff.

While other children played on the school grounds during afternoon recess, the students from McCurdy's classroom spent the time frantically decorating the room for the party.

Several mothers, including Sheila Hughes, Janet Schieb and Barb Schilling, helped with the preparations, and another mother, Karen Wormnest, prepared a huge birthday cake for the occasion.

The students arranged for the school staff to keep McCurdy from returning to her room for about 10 minutes following recess. For the students, it seemed like hours while they waited for her to appear.

They squealed excitedly and skittered from one hiding place to another. A few scribbled last minute birthday wishes on cards and signs.

When the surprised teacher entered her classroom, she was greeted by the hugs of 28 pairs of arms, a dozen long-stemmed red roses and a helium balloon that said "My Teacher has Class." Each student had contributed money for the gifts.

A rousing rendition of the "Happy Birthday" song was just a tad unrehearsed, but no matter. The wishes were genuine.

One birthday greeting read: "You're the best teacher in the whole world."

And Christina Hernandez echoed the sentiments of her classmates when she said they all planned the party because their teacher is "special."

The feeling is apparently mutual. "It makes you feel that they appreciate everything you do," McCurdy said while students and mothers busily passed out cake and ice cream.

"I've told them all year they're a very special class," she said. "I'm a lucky teacher."

Board deadline

The deadline is 4 p.m. Monday, April 6, for Clarkston school board candidates to file petitions to appear on the June 8 ballot.

Up for election are two four-year terms on the board of education.

The seats are currently held by board president Janet Thomas and board treasurer Elaine Schultz. Both have indicated they are running for re-election.

As of Monday, two petitions had been turned in, said William Jackson, district administrator in charge of the election.

To obtain a spot on the ballot, candidates must turn in petitions with 20 verifiable signatures of registered voters in the school district.

Petitions are available weekdays from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the district administration office, 6389 Clarkston Rd., Independence Township.

Also on the June 8 ballot, voters will be asked to approve an additional 4.25 mills in taxes and renew 3.79 mills. One mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

School district residents who are not registered voters have until May 11 to register in time for the June 8 election. They may register at the Township Hall where they reside or at any Secretary of State office.

Improvements outlined for Springfield parks

By Pat Young

Five-year objectives and immediate goals are outlined in the new Springfield Township Recreation Master Plan.

The new master plan was unanimously adopted on March 11 by the township board and on March 23 by the parks and recreation commission.

The update was due, according to Director of Parks and Recreation Sherry Swindell. The original master plan was created in 1979 and the Department of Natural Resources requests an update every five years.

"I've worked on it (with the parks commission) for the two years I've been at Springfield Township," Swindell said. "It's gone through many suggestions and revisions from the planning commission and the township board, too."

Swindell said the most important part of the plan is the plan of action. Immediate goals include improvements at several Springfield Township parks.

Planned for Holcomb Road Park are additional picnic facilities and a small pavilion. Green Lake Park priorities include additional playground equipment and repairs to existing equipment.

Creation of an ice skating rink and building a gazebo are goals for Mill Pond Park in 1987-88. Installation of new picnic tables and park benches, a group grill and additional playground equipment and a survey for Mill Pond renovation are also targeted for the community park.

Karl Schultz Park, which contains the township's playing fields, will see improvements to the fields and repairs to the restrooms. Also scheduled are installation of playground equipment, a park sign, a group grill and new seeding around the building, if the budget allows.

Activities scheduled in Springfield Township this year include swim, tennis and golf lessons, summer day camp, a basketball clinic, a one-day senior citizen program and a one-day Great Escape day camp program.

A possible snow and ice sculpting contest next winter has also been discussed.

Long-range goals of the master plan include acquiring property for adult softball fields, soccer fields and for a larger community park.

"One of the things we're looking into is changing the storage building at Mill Pond Park into a community center and senior citizen facility," said Swindell.

Currently, the basement of the township hall is used for many activities and some senior citizens activities take place at Springfield Oaks Activities

Center in the Oakland County park.

"One of the highest priorities of the master plan is acquisition of land," Swindell said. "Our community park is only eight acres and the national standard for community parks is 20 to 50 acres."

Another park problem, Swindell noted, is that Karl Schultz Park does not have large enough field areas for adult regulation softball.

The Springfield Parks and Recreation Commission is comprised of Bob Clark, chairman; Betty Hull, treasurer; Linda Kolasz, secretary; Roger Bower, Charles Going, Glenn Guilds and Swindell.

Opinions

Time for change

Kathy Greenfield

I'm almost astonished to realize I've called Clarkston home for nearly 11 years.

One fact keeps the astonishment just this side of total.

What was once commonly identified by friends and family as my comfortable home is taking on the look of old shoes, the kind only your feet appreciate.

My psyche loves my house. It feels good. And all is fine as long as I can keep my eyes slightly out of focus or only sit in the chairs that keep chipped woodwork paint or slightly worn wallpaper out of viewing range.

Accordingly, I decided it was time to get serious, beginning with the dining room.

I borrowed more than a dozen wallpaper books, in groups of three, overnight or longer. The final selection came from the original batch borrowed. I decided on a pattern not considered the first time through. That process took over a month.

This was after many, many stimulating conversations with my spouse that went something like this:

"Well, what do you think?"

"I hate it."

"What do you mean?"

"Can't you find something without flowers?"

Finally, one sunny Saturday, I tried again.

"Well, what do you think?"

"I like it."

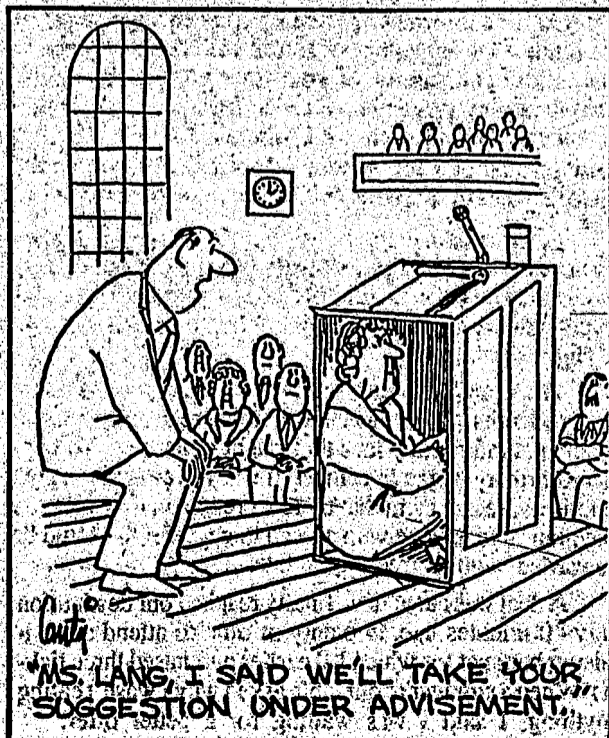

I was too stunned to ask if he meant he was too tired of the whole process to be discriminating anymore. Later, I decided asking, "Are you sure?" would have been foolish.

Before the new wallpaper can be hung, several things have to take place. The old wallpaper has to be stripped. Holes have to be patched. The ceiling has to be painted. The woodwork has to be sanded.

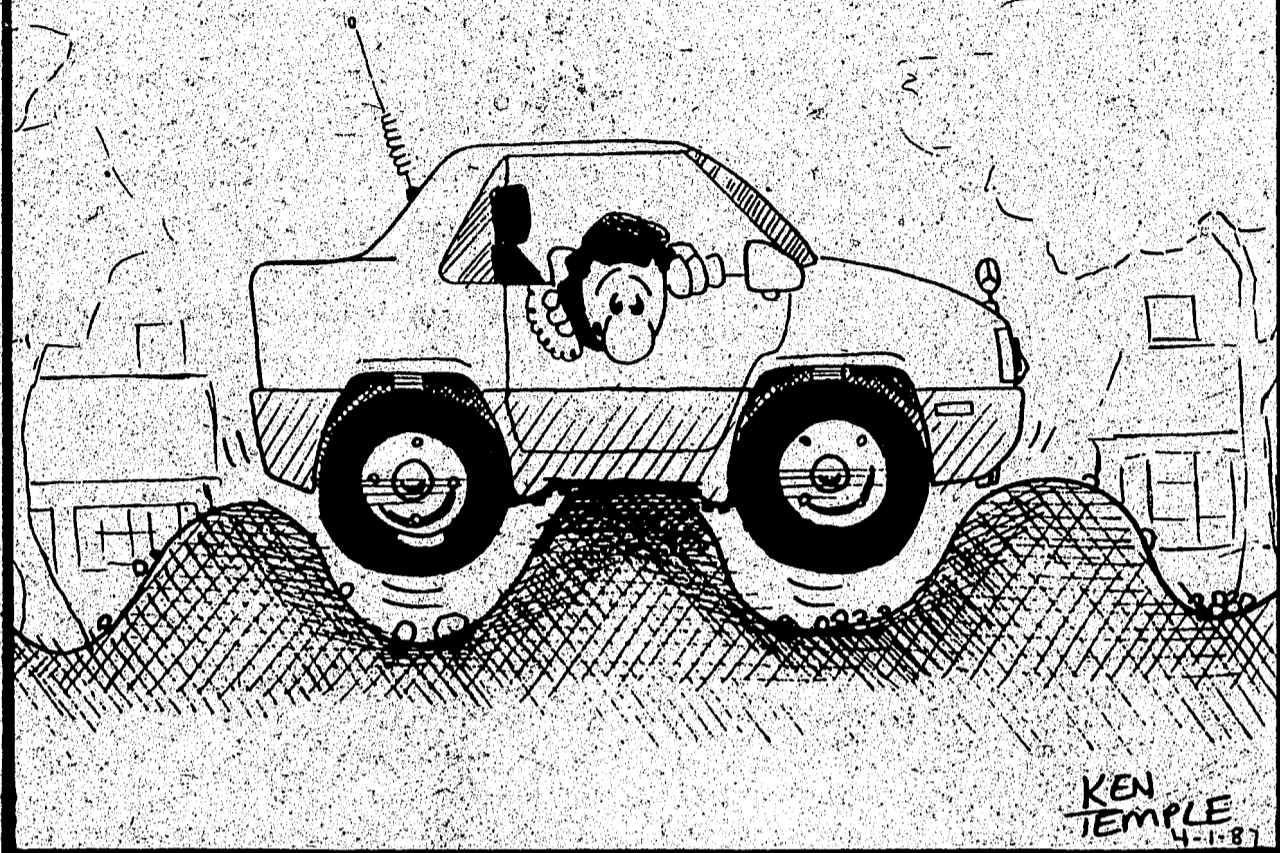

Yesterday, I was looking at the windows. The room has four windows, each with nine little panes (pains?) surrounded by wood trim. We're changing the trim color from green to beige.

Good grief. What if I don't like it?

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

Major merchandisers, and some minor ones, no longer rely on personal service to gain business. But, you already know that.

You probably also know that personal service is the major selling point in Japan. A company there that bends over backward to serve a customer, keeps that customer through thick and thin.

That's part of the reason an American company has trouble selling to the Japanese, though the price may be lower. They don't really want to call Benton Harbor to get service on their Whirlpool.

A Washington Post article says service is viewed by Japanese as essential for success by businesses.

Compare your treatment in American supermarkets to this: Japanese supermarkets have 2 or 3 people ringing up and bagging groceries. Some stores deliver with each bag stapled shut. Dry ice is inserted alongside frozen food to assure against spoilage.

Television shops normally send a technician to install and fine-tune a newly purchased set. The last one I bought I carried out of the store and put in the trunk of my car.

Car salesmen are known to bring new models around to customers' homes for test drives and loaners are available for people whose cars are in for repair.

I've never had a new model brought around to test drive, and seldom been encouraged to drive one before forking over the money.

Never, too, has a dealer offered a loaner. One salesman, George Harold, used to loan me his car. Usually, "It's do you have a ride back?"

Japanese barbers often massage the customer's back as part of an ordinary haircut. We probably would look askance at a barber putting his hands on our back.

Many department stores wrap everything they sell. K mart, Hudsons, etc. have plastic bags with big advertisements on the side. At Christmas time some major stores sell you a box and charge for the wrapping.

Of course, this Japanese service isn't free. The people who bag groceries are paid. The bicyclists who deliver pizza, the person who delivers home videos, the man who delivers a rented tailcoat, the deliverer of health foods get paid.

And, that's another reason unemployment is low and why prices are high.

This has caused some department stores to eliminate the greeter at the entrance who used to bow and welcome each customer.

Still, we could do with a return of some of the services American businesses used to provide, like more clerks to help us find shoelaces, and more smiles for obvious reasons ... but don't try to massage me.

'If it Fitz . . .

Flight doesn't pacify Tricia

Jim Fitzgerald

For our flight to Florida, I tried hard to ensure a problem-free journey. I bought tickets two months in advance, I got our seat assignments and boarding passes several days before the departure date. There were six people in our party but we required only five seats because 14-month-old Tricia is still a lap child.

It was cozy. Northwest Airlines put 11 people in our five seats.

The problem wasn't the ordinary type of overbooking routinely handled at airline bribe counters inside the airport. That's where passengers are offered free flights for sometime later if they will give up the seats they bought for right now.

Airlines book more passengers than they have seats so they won't get stuck with an empty seat if a passenger dies of old age while looking for a parking place within 50 miles of the airport. And when not enough passengers die or are otherwise prevented from claiming their seats, it is bribe time.

FOR OUR FLIGHT, Northwest must have figured on plenty of passengers perishing previous to parking. A crudely lettered sign posted at the departure gate counter urged: "Ask about free flights!" Passengers willing to wait five hours for the next flight could fly to Ft. Myers at no charge. There were several eager takers.

We could have saved $900. We could also have spent the afternoon chasing around the airport behind Tricia, who recently learned how to walk but doesn't yet know how to stop. She walks like the late Jimmy Cagney, with arms bent, hands flopping, knees twitching and feet played.

Tricia also sucks on a pacifier in a manner unlike any other child. If she'd been a breast-fed baby, her mother would have needed L-shaped breasts. The pacifier nipple points straight up into the roof of Tricia's mouth so that the shield sticks out between her lips, looking like half a yellow cookie, and the handle is pressed tightly against her chin. To believe it, you have to stare at it, and strangers often do.

Also present was five-year-old Emily, who loves to yank her little sister all over the landscape because Tricia is the first mechanical doll Emily has owned that doesn't require batteries.

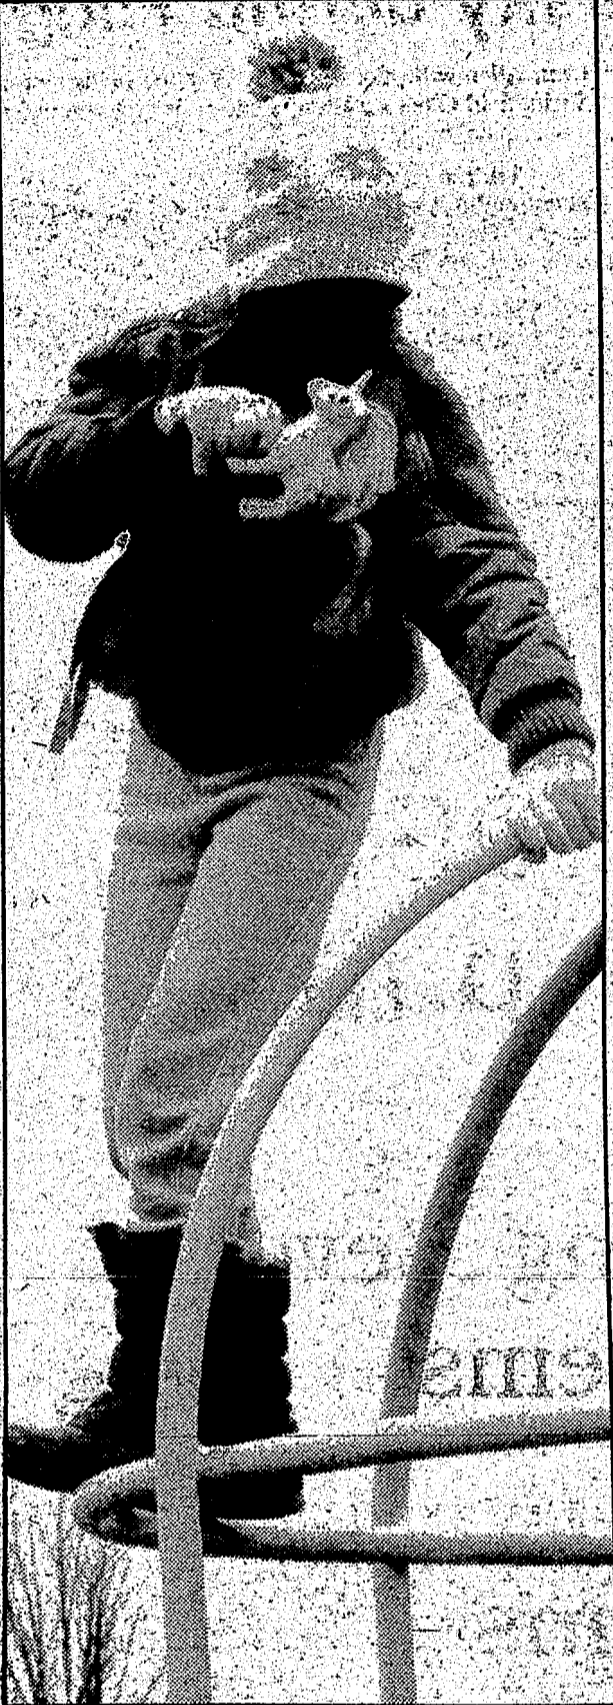

IN VIEW OF these circumstances, the adult members of our party voted to keep traveling before we lost our momentum, not to mention our minds. Besides, we didn't want to encourage Northwest to treat the loss of $900 in such a cavalier manner. If that's a sensible way to run a business, why don't theaters sell more tickets than they have seats?

So we confirmed our seat assignments and boarded the plane. One advantage of flying with small children is that, out of compassion of your troubles, you're granted early-boarding privileges. One disadvantage is that this extends the amount of time a 14-month-old girl is required to sit on a lap and yelp because she wants to run down the aisle and amaze strangers with the position of her pacifier.

Another advantage is you'll already be seated when someone comes along with documented proof that you are in his seat. It happened at all five of our seats, and our documented proof was equally valid. "My goodness," said a flight attendant.

We retained our seats by claiming possession is twelve-tenths of the law. Also, we threatened to leave Tricia behind for any laps that might replace us. The on-board bribery began in earnest. It was advertised over the public address system that there were too many people on the plane and anyone who agreed to get off now would be rewarded with a free flight later.

A deal was cut and we finally reached our destination only 40 minutes late, in plenty of time to attend a fund-raising banquet for which I'd earlier purchased three tickets. When a stranger at our table asked why I wasn't tearing anything, I said I was waiting for a better offer.

5,000 marshmallows to fall from the sky during Fling

Five to six thousand marshmallows will drop from the sky and around 2,000 Easter eggs will be hidden in the grass as part of activities planned to delight children at the Easter Spring Fling.

Co-sponsored by Springfield Township Parks and Recreation, Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission and Springfield Area Jaycees, the event will take place April 11.

Activities begin at noon at Springfield Oaks Activities Center, 12451 Andersonville Rd., with a coffee and donut fundraiser sponsored by the "Young at Heart" senior citizens group of Springfield Township.

From noon to 2 p.m., the McDonald's "Hamburger" will be on hand to greet children, courtesy of McDonald's Restaurants.

Families are invited to "Walk with the Easter Bunny" at 12:30 p.m. This is a Walk Michigan event co-sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan and the Michigan Recreation and Park Association. Walk participants may register to win a trip to Mackinac Island.

The Easter egg hunt will be at 1 p.m., sponsored by the Springfield Area Jaycees. They hard boiled and dyed approximately 2,000 eggs for the event.

Children will be separated into three categories for the egg hunt: preschoolers, ages 5-7 and 8-12.

A highlight of the Easter Spring Fling will be the marshmallow drop at 2 p.m. Oakland County Clerk

Lynn Allen will pilot his plane over the fields behind Springfield Oaks Activities Center, dropping 5,000 to 6,000 marshmallows.

Children (recommended age of 8-12) will collect marshmallows and turn these in for a bag of Easter candy. There is a limit of one bag per child, and a total of 1,000 bags of candy to be given away.

Colored marshmallows will earn special prizes for their finders. There are 300 special prizes to be given away.

Other activities and games are planned for the event, according to Sherry Swindell, Springfield Township Parks and Recreation director.

'Dolly' is grand finale for teaching career

By Julie Campe

"Hello, Dolly," "Fiddler on the Roof," "West Side Story," "Guys and Dolls"—all bring fond memories for choreographer Nancy Albyn.

The Clarkston High School English teacher of 17 years has choreographed her last CHS musical with "Hello, Dolly" and plans to retire this year.

The faculty and students will miss her, said her colleagues.

"She has been absolutely invaluable to me for the years of work," said Barb Gibson, communications teacher and drama director.

"She's going to be missed greatly; however, we certainly wish her well," said Gibson. "We know wherever she'll be she'll make friends and will be a valuable member of the community. She's that kind of person. She's just a super lady."

For Albyn, choreography was a natural outgrowth of dancing.

"I've always been a dancer and loved it," she said. "Actually, Mrs. Kettler was the choreographer for 'Fiddler on the Roof.' She hurt her back, and she knew I was a dancer. So she asked me to fill in, and I never gave her a chance to get her job back."

"Dancing gives me a lot of freedom," she said. "If you're dancing, you're in touch with yourself, and you're not worrying about things that don't really matter. It feels good."

She enjoys sharing her knowledge with students because it combines her favorite things: teaching, creativity and dance.

"(Choreography) is a very creative thing, trying to create steps that the kids can do that fit the music and fit the show and will entertain people," she said. "It's hard, but I enjoy doing it. It takes time and effort, but it's creative, so it's not a chore."

This year's production of "Hello, Dolly" is fun to choreograph, said Albyn.

"The show itself is a very upbeat show," she said. "It has a lot of sprightly music. This particular show's highlight, from a choreographer's view, is the waiter's gallop in the second act. These boys do a good job with it. They've really worked hard."

Albyn has choreographed 15 high school musicals and found it difficult to choose a favorite.

"The most challenging was 'West Side Story,'" she said. "And I suppose that was my favorite because it had the most dancing in it."

Albyn could choose her favorite aspect of teaching and did so without hesitation.

"The kids," she said. "You know, it's always so great when you finally get through to somebody and they understand, and their minds are opening."

"I'm going to miss (teaching), but I'm not going to pine for it," said Albyn. "I'm going to be busy doing many other things. My life has been a series of careers, and when one ends another begins."

When this one ends, she and her husband Dick plan to move to North Carolina, where they'll both continue with one of their favorite hobbies: writing.

Albyn likes to write short stories, and Dick Albyn is just now finishing an architecture book—a collaboration with others—for the Michigan Sesquicentennial, she said.

They also plan to travel, among other places, to China. Nancy is learning to speak Chinese and practices with a cassette tape on her way to school every morning, she said.

"Hello, Dolly" marks the last choreography by Nancy Albyn at Clarkston High School. The last performances are scheduled for April 2, 3 and 4 at 8 p.m. in the CHS Little Theatre. Tickets are $4.50 for adults and $3.50 for students. The Thursday, April 2, performance is $3, and the proceeds, except royalties, are to benefit the John J. Kirchgessner Scholarship Fund in memory of the CHS principal who died last year.

Speakers inspire kids to 'Go for the Gold'

high's "Going for the Gold" week, designed to motivate students to set goals and always try their best.

The week has featured several speakers who have overcome adversity in their lives, including Charles Ferry, an author of junior high novels, Kelly Saunders, a recovering drug abuser, George Vines, who survived the World War II Holocaust and Steve Himburg, who coaches the junior high's football team from a wheelchair.

Gross has been involved in similar presentations since 1981. His own experience with his daughter was a vivid illustration of the message he tried to get across to the students.

"You can master anything if you can master yourself," he told them. "What makes the difference between a student who becomes a druggie and one who makes the National Honor Society?"

"I realized there are no secrets, instead there are principles," he said. "There are three principles: number one, set goals and aim high; number two, believe in yourself; and number three, work hard and never give up."

In keeping with the theme of the week, Gross brought along 1984 Olympic gold medalist wrestler Steve Fraser. When Fraser started wrestling in eighth grade, he had minimal talent, but he said he worked thousands of hours to attain his gold medal goal.

"I was just an average, Joe Blow person from Hazel Park, Michigan," said Fraser. "I had no special athletic ability or intelligence. I wasn't a gifted child. It took 16,000 hours of training for me to be able to compete at the world level."

"The number one thing you have to do is get the dream in your head of what you want to achieve," he said.

Fraser's work took him from a "terrible" sophomore year in high school to a state title as a senior and a full athletic scholarship to the University of Michigan.

Olympic gold medal-winning wrestler Steve Fraser signs a few autographs after a presentation at Clarkston Junior High. Fraser, sportscaster John Gross and karate performer Chun Siev spoke to students about setting goals and always striving to reach them.

students at Romeo High School. Siev excelled away from the classroom as well, as he hoped to become a top kick-boxer. But three years ago, he lost his left eye when he got poked during a football game.

Rather than giving up athletics, Siev turned to forms karate, in which he displays various kicks and moves in short routines. "After I lost my eye, I didn't want to just sit back and feel sorry for myself," Siev said. "I thought if I can't become a champion at kick-boxing, I want to become a champion at forms karate."

"Once we got to the United States, we knew we could get to where we wanted to get to," he said. Siev summed up the goal of the week. "All I can tell you is, work hard."

Dixie apartment site plan on hold

Density, landscaping and site access held up the final site plan for phase two of Lancaster Lakes Apartments, formerly Lancaster on the Lakes, off Dixie Highway.

At the March 26 meeting, the Independence Township planning commission tabled the request for final site plan approval for phase two.

The action followed a presentation by Dick Fay, representing Lancaster developer Fox Corporation.

Fay's plan included an increased density to 300 total units rather than the 276 total units originally planned.

He suggested the commission approve the site plan pending density approval by the township attorney and minor landscaping change approval by the building department.

Since he does not own property for a Maybee Road extension across Dixie Highway, another road access is not possible at this time, said Fay.

Instead, the commission should give approval to convince the township of the need for a Maybee Road extension and to hurry them, he said.

The council tabled the site plan until the density, landscaping and road access are investigated.

"What you've started is a very nice development," said Chairperson Joseph Figa. "We'd like to see it from our attorney about the density and the others."

Phase two is to begin when phase one is 90 percent filled—sometime around August or September, said Fay.

Planners say 'no' to rezoning

It appears that more than 121 acres north of Clarkston Road on Sashabaw Road will remain in a rural residential zoning.

A rezoning request from rural residential, with a 3-acre minimum lot size, to suburban farm residential, with a 1.5-acre minimum lot size, was recommended for denial by the Independence Township Planning Commission on March 26.

The township board has final say on rezonings. "The commission had mixed feelings about it," said Chairperson Joseph Figa. "They were concerned with the density and traffic in the area."

The developers, Benson/Benson/Jackson, had plans to build a subdivision, said Figa.

"That would mean a higher density, but in this particular area there's 1,200 plus acres of open area," he said, mentioning the nearby Independence Oaks and Clintonwood Park.

The commission voted 3-0 to recommend denial. Figa abstained because he deals with one of the petitioners outside of the commission. Carol Balzarini, Jo Fussman and Brent Bair voted "no." Richard Oppman was absent.

The developers could not be reached for comment.

Take a hike with 'Walk Michigan' for fun and health

Walk Michigan is celebrating its second year with an expanded program.

Independence and Springfield townships are once again getting involved in the program, which began last year with three walks. This year communities are scheduling up to eight Walk Michigan events. All are about one-mile long and there is no fee for participation.

The Walk Michigan program is co-sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan and the Michigan Recreation and Park Association. It was organized to promote good health and to spotlight the recreational opportunities available throughout Michigan.

The first walk in Springfield Township is scheduled April 2 at the Springfield Oaks Activities Center on Andersonville Road, according to Parks and Recreation Director Sherry Swindell. The walk will take place around noon, following the monthly meeting of the Northwest Parks and Recreation Association.

"It will be an opportunity for people to meet the parks and recreation directors and Oakland County Parks and Recreation Manager Ralph Richard," Swindell said.

Springfield Township's second walk will be a "Walk with the Easter Bunny" on April 11 in conjunction with an Easter Spring Fling planned that Saturday at Springfield Oaks Activities Center.

In May, Swindell said she hopes to coordinate two of the walks with elementary schools in Springfield Township. And in June, she plans to challenge members of local service organizations to walk.

"It's a way to promote health and fitness, and to get people out to enjoy the parks," she said.

Independence Township Parks and Recreation would also like to encourage members of the community to participate in the Walk Michigan program, according to parks and recreation Director Timothy Doyle.

The Independence Township walks will begin with a walk in conjunction with Clarkston's first Fun Daze run May 16. The walk is to start at 10 a.m. in Depot Park, Clarkston.

Independence's second walk is planned May 30 at Clintonwood Park, also at 10 a.m. The third walk will be 2 p.m. the same day at Independence Oaks.

On June 7 there will be an 11 a.m. walk at Clintonwood Park, and on June 13 there will be a 7 p.m. walk, again at Clintonwood.

A pancake breakfast sponsored by the Independence Senior Citizens will precede the final scheduled walk at 9 a.m. on June 16 at Clintonwood.

Participants for any Independence Township walks are encouraged to pre-register with Parks and Recreation by calling 625-8223. Walks will be postponed in the event of inclement weather.

An added bonus for Walk Michigan participants throughout the state is a chance to win a trip to Mackinac Island.

Every time participants walk, they will register by filling out cards. Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan will pay for Mackinac Island trips for up to 100 Walk Michigan participants and a friend. The names are to be randomly selected from each participating park and recreation department.

Winners will receive accommodations on Mackinac Island, meals, an official Walk Michigan jacket, and the opportunity to join in the annual Governor's Labor Day Bridge Walk across the Mackinac Bridge.

Baseball preview:

Wolves are young, but have the talent

By Chris Gerbaal

Losing a considerable amount of talent and having only five seniors on his Clarkston baseball team doesn't seem to alter coach Roy Warner's outlook on the varsity season.

"We're always going to try to win every game," he said. "We don't worry about who we play, we're always trying to play perfect."

The Wolves weren't perfect last year, but they had an excellent 20-6 record, were second in the Greater Oakland Activities League and won the George Gary Tournament.

Some Clarkston varsity baseball players play pepper indoors. The Wolves are coming off a 20-6 season and a second-place showing in the Greater Oakland Activities League and will be looking to improve on that under coach Roy Warner.

Among last year's graduates were Jim and Tom Ruelle, Mike Walters, Ed Whitaker, Steve Atkinson, Ed Atkins and Rusty Swan. Warner said those losses will make a difference.

"We won't have as much power as last year," he said. "We'll score one run at a time, every time we get the advantage and any way we can. I think we can score one at a time because of our foot speed. We'll try to take some bases this year."

The five seniors are fairly secure in their positions, although Warner has had two less practice weeks than usual, partly because of the early season opener, next Tuesday against Lapeer East.

Dave Larkin started at catcher last season, Rob Ronk played second base, Gary Ritch was at third and Jeff Billig handled centerfield. Shawn McCracken, who played junior varsity ball a year ago, will see action at shortstop or second base.

The rest of the team is made up of 11 juniors, the most prominent being Jeff Tungate, Stacy Turner and Josh Newblatt, who moved from JV to varsity late last season.

Turner plays outfield and third base, while Newblatt is a first baseman and outfielder. Tungate, along with Ritch, are Warner's top two pitchers at this stage, although he said he could use as many as seven pitchers early.

"We usually have six weeks (of practice) and it will affect how advanced the pitchers are for opening day," Warner said.

The rest of the pitching prospects include Jeff Briggs, a transfer student from Clio, Jim Shuttlesworth, Zach Brown, Aaron Hesse and Billig.

Backing up Larkin will be Mark Galan and Mike Peel and competing for the outfield spots are Doug Bronson and Randy Nelson.

The biggest problem in practice has been the lack of hitting time against live pitching. The hitters may need a game or two under their belts before they get their timing down.

Once the season does begin, Warner expects a competitive GOAL. Clarkston was second to Waterford Kettering in 1986.

"It's going to be balanced again," said Warner. "Everybody seems to be in the same situation. Every school has at least one good pitcher. It's going to be very balanced."

Softball preview:

Clarkston looks for right combination

Coach Carla Teare might not decide on Clarkston's softball lineup until shortly before the season opener next Tuesday.

With the volleyball season going a little longer than usual, Teare hasn't had much practice time to decide the best positions for her players.

Still, with six players returning from last year's 23-8 league co-champions, the Wolves expect to be competitive.

"This team could definitely have a good year," said Teare. "We need consistency with our pitching. Consistency is the key. It'll be a big plus if we have that."

"Hitting is another question mark," she said. "I know the seniors coming back are good hitters. But I'm not sure about the others. We're a little bit behind."

Gone to graduation from a year ago are rubber-armed pitcher Terri Sherman and three-fourths of the infield.

Teare anticipates senior Missy Odell stepping into Sherman's role and handling most of the mound duties. On the receiving end of Odell's tosses should be junior Stacey Shurtz, who started at catcher last season. Shurtz is trying to get over a pulled quadriceps muscle.

The infield is another question. Some of last year's outfielders, who are now seniors, may be moved in because of their experience. Returning are Jessica Shoup, Beth Tilley, Kelly Laidig and Maggie Gdula.

"I have no set lineup yet," said Teare. "We have a scrimmage this weekend and I'll get a good look at them. That will help show who's a gamer and who's not and who comes along in a game. It'll tell me a lot."

Kelly Laidig takes fielding practice at Clarkston last week. Laidig is one of five seniors on the Wolves' softball team, which went 23-8 last season.

Burek calls shots at finals

When March Madness ended for state high school teams at Crisler Arena last Saturday, Clarkston principal Dr. Robert Burek had the best seat in the house.

Actually, he had to stand. And run. Burek officiated the Class A championship game between Detroit Cooley and Detroit Southwestern, which Cooley won in overtime, 82-77.

"In city ball, they bang a lot inside and it's a different kind of ball than I'm used to," said Burek, who has officiated boys basketball for 22 years. "It was a difficult game to call. But I enjoyed myself.

"Physically, it's the concentration in front of 13,000 people," he said. "Of course, there's hundreds that look on top of you and there's a lot of media. It's making sure you're concentrating. You're really challenged. You have to put everything else outside of you."

Burek has been to the state finals twice before as a referee, in 1974 and 1975. He didn't expect to be selected again and was surprised when he received a letter in January telling him he was among 11 picked for the finals, two for each of the four class championships plus three alternates.

A committee of state tournament managers, athletic directors and principals makes the choices. Burek did not know until 10:30 p.m. Friday that he would be handling the Class A game.

Leading up to the finals, he worked a Class A district in Owosso, a "B" regional in Flint and a "B" quarterfinal game at Crisler last Wednesday. He officiated about 20 contests during the regular season.

"I worked about one night a week. It's really fun," said Burek. "I played sports in high school, played baseball in college. I wanted to stay around the athletic scene."

Burek has also worked at the college level and, for a while, had thoughts of becoming a Big Ten ref, but he decided that would be too time-consuming.

He may not get another shot at a championship game, but Burek could officiate through the state semifinals in years to come. He will at least continue his game-a-week pace next season.

Clarkston principal Dr. Robert Burek officiates boys basketball on the side and last Saturday officiated the Class A state championship game at Crisler Arena in Ann Arbor.

"It's an avocation," he said. "It's how I get away. Some guys fish, some guys hunt. I like to officiate."

Softballers

Teare said she does like what she sees in the other eight juniors on the squad.

"They all look good. They'll help mold a team," she said.

The Saturday scrimmage is at Mount Clemens Chippewa Valley and Teare wants to look at two or three players at each position. Clarkston then hosts Lapeer East in a doubleheader April 7 in the season opener.

Teare will know much more after those two games about whether the Wolves can repeat as league champs.

They shared the title with Waterford Mott last year and another league foe, Waterford Kettering, was the state runner-up. Clarkston lost to Rochester Adams in the districts, 1-0.

"More so than the league, I'd like to win districts," Teare said. "Our league is tough, it prepares us more. I would love to win league, but nothing's more exciting than to continue in districts and the states. It's one loss and you're out and it's exciting and the kids love it, too."

Soccer preview:

Kickers have experience on their side

In only its third year of existence, Clarkston's girls soccer program is looking to get over the hump this season.

The Wolves had a 4-8-1 record a year ago, but with a few breaks, they could have fared better.

"We had a lot of problems with teams we should have beat," said coach Hana Olsen, citing two losses to Milford among others.

But Olsen has eight players returning from last year's roster and several are three-year "veterans" of the program.

"I think we'll be pretty strong," she said. "I'm hopeful that the offense will be a lot stronger. It wasn't quite what I'd like it to be (last year). You need aggressive girls and they seem to be very aggressive this year."

Olsen is hoping to get more aggressive midfield play this season and should get it from Nan Stingley, Shelly Purdy and Ashley Adams. If they need any prodding, Olsen will look to senior Maggie Sans, who she calls the team's motivational leader.

Swift Stacy Stricklin and senior Ruth Webb will be two of the top forwards and Tracey Piazza, Paula Gulian and Brigitte Brown will handle the defensive chores.

Olsen is fortunate to have her top goalie back, Joanne Beck, and she'll be backed up by Sue Haran.

The Wolves must overcome the loss of Suzy Learmont, who saw considerable action a year ago, but suffers from a knee injury.

Olsen said her team should be in fine condition, thanks to the work of assistant coach Derek Brown, who has been running the team hard in practice.

The Wolves will get an early test when they open the season April 7 at Brandon, a team they struggled against last year. They'll also face Waterford Kettering and Waterford Mott, schools which have added soccer this year.

"Our goal is to beat Milford and Brandon for sure this year," Olsen said.

Clarkston hosts Lake Orion April 9, but in a minor setback, the Wolves will play all their home games at Sashabaw Junior High because the Clarkston field needs work.

Clarkston soccer players run through an intrasquad scrimmage last week. Coach Hana Olsen is hoping experience can help the Wolves go over the .500 mark this year, just the third season for the program.

The express is coming

The Clarkston-Orion Express is ready to roll. The family bicycling group got its name from its route. On Saturdays, beginning April 4, the group will meet weekly at 9:30 a.m. at Clarkston's Depot Park for a 25- to 35-mile hike to Lake Orion and back.

There is a 75-cent-a-person fee, which is donated to American Youth Hostels. The group also stops in Lake Orion or Clarkston for brunch. Participants must have 10-speed bicycles.

Vic Bilicki of Independence Township, the leader of the express, encourages family participation.

"What we're doing is trying to promote safer biking, teaching people how to ride a bike in a group," he said.

The educational aspect also includes teaching participants how to ride along roadsides, how to shift, how to go up and down hills, and the proper equipment to wear while riding.

"We kind of cater to everybody," he said. "If somebody is falling behind, we don't lose them."

This is the group's second year for Saturday morning bike hikes. Bilicki is a member of the Bicycle Club of American Youth Hostels, which meets in Berkley. Other members are on the weekly rides to offer assistance.

Kinetic Systems bicycle shop of Clarkston provides support services for the Clarkston-Lake Orion Express. For more information, call Kinetic at 625-7000.

The end

Chris Gerbasi

I am here to repent. To atone for my sins. To beg forgiveness.

No, I'm not a board member of the PTL club. I simply want to confess that I have unjustly snubbed professional wrestling.

When I came to Clarkston 10 months ago, I vowed to never allow a pro wrestling story on these sports pages. It was fake, I thought, an insult to anyone's intelligence, mindless entertainment that certainly did not belong on a sports page.

I was a pro wrestling atheist. A heathen.

But praise Hulkster! I have seen the light. A vision came unto me, a vision of 93,000 people at the Silverdome, the most people to watch anything, anywhere indoors in the history of mankind. It was a religious experience.

How could 93,000 people be wrong? The pope may have a hard time drawing more people come September.

Now I believe. In truth, justice and the American way, as Hulk Hogan might say. Pro wrestling is for me. I just hope I've turned my life around in time, so that God doesn't call me home.

But there's more to confess. Yes, memories of the simple days of Big Time Wrestling. Of watching Flying Fred Curry, Haystacks Calhoun and the possessor of the cocoa-butt, Bobo Brazil.

I tried to suppress these memories for too long. Now it's clear what I must do. Shortly after the vision, I heard a voice. It was the voice of King Kong Bundy, calling to me. He said I should become a ring announcer.

So my life calls. Say halleluiah to the World Wrestling Federation! Oh, it won't be easy breaking into the ring announcing business, but it's something I feel strongly about. I am a born-again wrestlemaniac and I will devote the rest of my life to upholding the integrity and nobility of professional wrestling.

April Fools.

*****
*"I'm so glad we had this time together,
Just to have a laugh or sing a song,
Seems we just get started and before you know it,
Comes the time we have to say, 'So long.'
Good night, everybody."—Carol Burnett (while tugging on her ear).*

This is my last column for The Clarkston News. No April Fool's joke. First Cat Paw, now me. Where will it end? I don't think I can say it any better than Carol, but it's been fun.

Thanks to anyone and everyone who plays sports, likes sports, watches sports, knows sports, appreciates sports or reads sports. Sports aren't life and death, but they're a lot of people's lives.

Special thanks to Clarkston athletic director Paul Tungate, Springfield Christian athletic director Dave Vanaman and, most importantly, all the coaches and athletes who made covering their sports a pleasure and who gave me some excitement through their success. They're the ones I've really worked for during my stay here. Thanks for your time.

Service awards

Know anyone worthy of a community service award?

Nominations are being accepted by the Michigan Week Community Awards Committee for the following categories: citizen, volunteer, business person, historic preservation and property beautification. The awards are to be given in conjunction with Independence Township and the Village of Clarkston.

The second annual program, a breakfast at Deer Lake Racquet Club, Independence Township, is scheduled Wednesday, May 20. Master of Ceremonies is to be William Belaney of Pontiac State Bank, and the program will feature dining entertainment, award presentations and a speaker highlighting the sesquicentennial events, said Chairperson Christine Downing.

Held during Michigan Week, this year's program will also celebrate the Michigan Sesquicentennial, she said.

Nomination forms are available at Township Hall, 90 North Main St., Clarkston; the Village Hall, 375 Depot Rd., Clarkston, or the Clarkston area offices of Pontiac State Bank.

To help organize or for more information, call Downing at 625-5041.

Two promoted

Two fire department employees were promoted by the Independence Township board March 17.

Ralph Przybylski was promoted to driver/engineer and Mike Fahrner to shift captain.

Due to the absence of Chief Dale Bailey and another employee because of illnesses, the promotions were requested by acting Chief Gar Wilson.

The promotions do not include pay raises at this time, said Wilson.

The board unanimously approved the promotions.

Anke Ossenberg is back in town for her second visit

German student pursues theology studies here

By Pat Young

Retracing her steps to Clarkston from a visit several years ago, Anke Ossenberg of West Germany chose Clarkston's Calvary Lutheran Church as part of a theological experience this month.

When Anke completed her 13 years of pre-education in West Germany, comparable to completing high school in America, she decided to "do something different" before beginning theological studies at the University of Munster.

Through a contact of her godfather, she came to Clarkston in August 1983 to visit for several months in the Deerwood area home of Jim and Martha Matthews. At that time, she met the Rev. Robert Walters when she worshipped in Calvary Lutheran Church.

Walters, who boasts German ancestry and also speaks German, later visited Anke and her family in their hometown of Evingsen-Altena, a small town in north-central West Germany. Walters and his wife, Bey, were on a church group tour at the time.

When it came time for Anke to decide where to spend the first of two six-week practicums required for her training, she wrote to "Pastor Bob."

Walters said he was delighted to have Anke at the church. She arrived March 5 and is again staying with the Matthews family until she returns to West Germany on April 22 to continue her studies.

Anke began studying theology in October 1984 and must complete six years of study, followed by two years in practical church service, before she is ordained as a minister in West Germany.

During her first six years of study, she is required to complete two six-week practicums "experiencing" life and getting to know people who would be like her congregation.

"Normally, you'd pick a church in Germany or live with a farm family or work in a factory," Anke

"If you're in one community in West Germany, you go to that Protestant church. There are not so many different kinds of churches, just Protestant and Catholic."

—Anke Ossenberg

says. "But I picked this church to be more open, to get new ideas."

It's many different experiences, Walters adds. "A little bit of community life."

During her visit so far, Anke has observed Walters, getting an idea what life is like as a pastor.

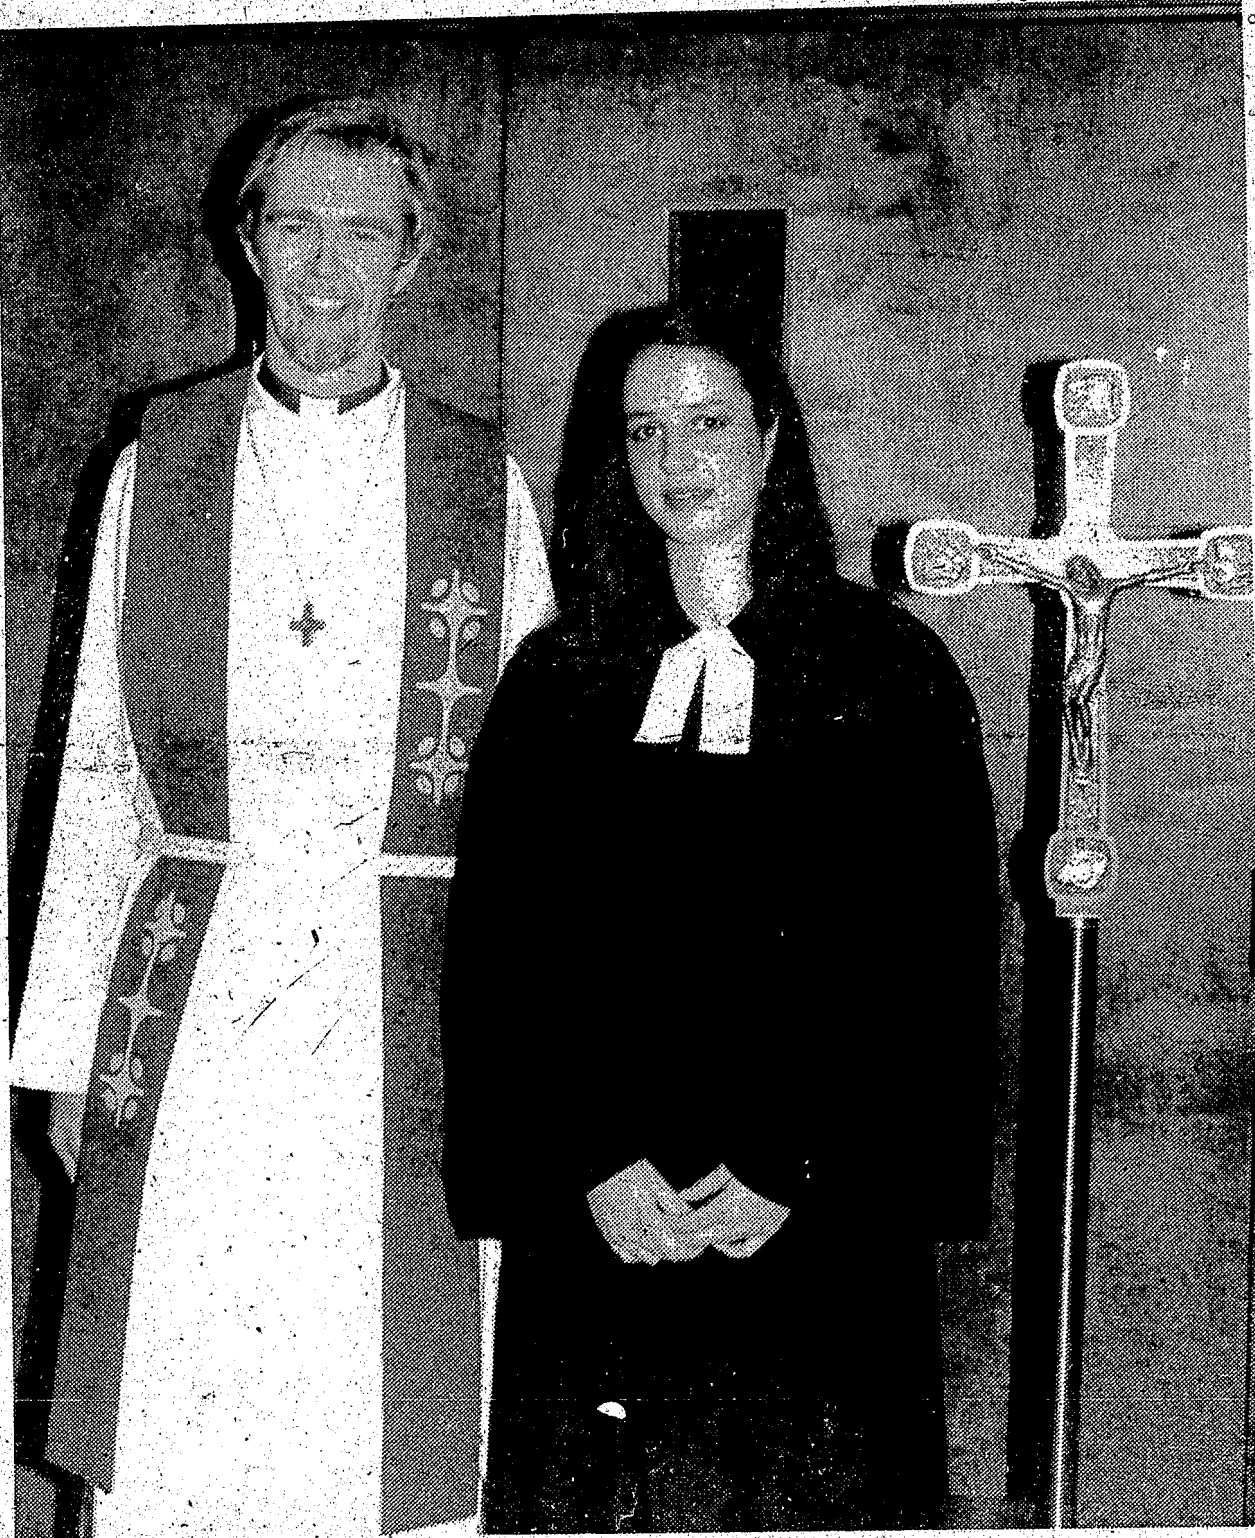

She has attended a church council retreat, given a children's sermon, read a lesson during the church service and accompanied Walters on hospital visits and consultations, among other activities.

She will also prepare a sermon, which she will deliver at the April 5 worship service.

"Here, you have so many churches and can choose," Anke says. "If you're in one community in West Germany, you go to that Protestant church. There are not so many different kinds of churches, just Protestant and Catholic."

"I think life in church here is livelier, more active. The members are doing more for their church because they know they have to support it."

In West Germany, she points out, the difference is that about 8 to 10 percent of your income-tax goes to

Anke Ossenberg, a theology student from West Germany, is visiting Calvary Lutheran Church of Clarkston. At Rev. Robert Walters urging, she brought with her the robe she is wearing, used in her church in West Germany, and given to her by a great-uncle who is also a minister.

your church, if you are a member of a church.

The raven-haired, 23-year-old student speaks fluent English and fits comfortably into the church community. Sometimes wearing blue jeans, she rides a bicycle to the church, and with a warm smile, greets parishioners she has already come to know well. But family and friends await her return to Germany.

Anke's parents, Magdalene and Friedrich, own a "skittle alley," a bowling alley, in Evingsen-Altena and live in a large home attached to it. Her grandmother, Helene Schmiedel, lives in the same village.

Her sister, Annette, is a lawyer for a bank. Six years older than Anke, she is married to Frank Moldenhauer.

But probably most anxious for Anke's return is her boyfriend, Peter Edelbrock, also one of the 45,000 students attending the University of Munster. He is to graduate with a degree in physics this spring.

They met eight years ago in scouting, the same international organization that Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts enjoy in America.

Anke brought with her to America a robe, or vestments, given to her by a great-uncle who was also in the ministry.

When she leaves April 22, she will take with her many memories of her experience at the Calvary Lutheran Church in Clarkston. She will have spent most of the Lenten period with the church, and the minister she calls "Pastor Bob."

"I am thankful that the people here are very nice," Anke says. "They have been very helpful, friendly and hospitable."

Microwave-plus

For the everyday cook

Betty Wagner

Pat Hutt has been cooking with the microwave since 1960. That's before most of us even knew about microwave ovens.

Her years of experience as a free-lance consultant to the microwave industry have been aptly reproduced into three microwave cookbooks.

Her first book, "Microwave Cooking Starts Here!" is a must for a 40th birthday gift. The print is large and, therefore, easy to read without granny glasses.

The book contains easy to prepare, tasty recipes for the everyday cook.

ROASTED STUFFED CHICKEN

Prepare package stuffing mix or your favorite bread stuffing.

3 1/2 to 4 pound chicken

MICROSHAKE Natural Chicken

1. Wash and stuff chicken.
2. Place in 5-by-8-inch glass loaf pan, breast side down. Sprinkle with MICROSHAKE to enhance the browning effect. Cover loosely with plastic wrap.
3. Microwave for 8 minutes a pound at high (100 percent power).
4. Turn breast side up one-half way through cooking time and sprinkle with MICROSHAKE. Do not cover in the second half of cooking.
5. Let stand 5 to 7 minutes.

Hints: We have found that by using a loaf pan, the wings and legs are held close to the bird and there is no need to truss the legs. By covering the bird with plastic wrap during the first half of the cooking, the joint areas become completely cooked and there are no pink areas.

Pat's second book, "Pat Hutt & the Magical Clay Pot," suggests ways to get conventional results with your microwave oven by cooking in a clay pot.

The book addresses selection of a clay pot, advantages of using one, use and care and how to successfully microwave in one.

CLAY POT PAELLA

Serves 4 to 6

12 ounces medium shrimp, uncooked
2 chicken breasts, boned

8 ounces sweet Italian sausage
6 thin slices onion
2 cups chicken broth
1 cup long grain rice, uncooked
1 large tomato, skinned and cubed
1 small sweet red pepper, cut into strips
1/4 teaspoon garlic paste
1 clove garlic, crushed
1/2 teaspoon saffron, crushed
1/4 teaspoon dried oregano, crushed
1/4 teaspoon pepper

1. Soak a clay pot in tap water for 10 to 15 minutes.
2. Bone and cube chicken breast. Cut into large 1-inch chunks. Cut sausage in half and squeeze casing from middle to remove meat. Cut onion slices in half. Place chicken, sausage, onions and garlic in the base of clay pot.
3. Skin and cube tomato. Place in small bowl. Add pepper strips, saffron, pepper and oregano. Set aside.
4. Microwave chicken meat mixture, uncovered, at high (100 percent power) for 5 1/2 minutes. Stir once.
5. Add rice, tomato mixture, broth and garlic paste to clay pot. Stir.
6. Microwave, covered, at medium (50 percent power) for 30 minutes. Stir well half way through cooking time.
7. Stir from bottom to top. Add shrimp. Microwave, covered, at medium (50 percent) power for 5 minutes.
8. Let stand covered 5 minutes.

Hints: You may add 6 mussels in shells at step 7. Mussels should be open after standing time. If not, return to microwave, covered, for 2 to 3 minutes or until shells open. For a colorful touch when company comes, leave the tails attached to the shrimp.

Pat's third book, "More Microwaving with Pat Hutt," contains oven wattage information, Pat's comments between sections and calories per serving for some recipes.

'NO WORK' PASTRY SHELL

1 cup plus 2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup corn oil
2 tablespoons cold water

1. In a mixing bowl, combine flour and salt. Mix well.
2. Add oil and water and stir well. Shape into a ball. Roll out between wax paper and transfer to a pie plate.

3. Prick the sides and bottom of the crust with the tines of a fork.

4. Microwave for 6 or 7 minutes at medium high (70 percent power).

Hints: If your oven does not have 70 percent power, microwave for 5 minutes at high (100 percent power), giving the dish a one-quarter turn twice.

'NO WORK' TWO CRUST PASTRY SHELL

1. Double the quantities of the single crust "No Work" pastry shell.

2. Roll the crusts between wax paper. Transfer to pie plate, bake and fill the bottom crust with fruit. Top with top crust. Brush the top crust with milk and sprinkle with sugar.

3. Microwave for 6 to 8 minutes at high (100 percent power) or until fruit is just tender.

4. Preheat conventional oven to 400 degrees. Bake microwaved pie 12 to 15 minutes to crisp the bottom crust and brown the top.

If you're in a hurry, you may substitute an already made-refrigerated pie crust and obtain wonderful results.

For a delicious apple pie, I used 4 to 5 Granny Smith apples, unpeeled, thinly sliced and tossed with cinnamon, sugar and 1 tablespoon flour. Add to prebaked bottom shell and continue according to Pat's recipe.

Home economist Betty Wagner resides in Independence Township. Her Microwave Plus cable-TV show airs at 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday on Independence-Clarkston channel 11.

Rizzo-Farough

Vincent and Georgina Rizzo of Iroquois Court, Independence Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Teresa A. to Darin L. Farough, the son of former Clarkston residents Ronald Timothy and Lavonne Farough. The bride-elect is a 1983 Clarkston High School graduate. She is employed by Ken-Tec Engineering as a draftsman. Her fiancé is a 1981 graduate of Kiski Springs School, Pennsylvania. He is self-employed in carpeting sales and installation. A June wedding is planned.

In service

Marine Pvt. Phillip Patterson has completed 11-week recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

A 1986 graduate of Clarkston High School, he joined the Marine Corps in November 1986. His parents are Gerald and Phyllis Patterson of Dvorak Road, Independence Township.

AMERICAN DREAM: Patriotism was on the minds of John and Gloria Johnson when they named their 30-foot Pearson sailboat. "We chose 'Ol' Glory' because of the flag and because we live in Independence Township," said Gloria Johnson. "We could have put Clarkston, but we live in Independence Township." They purchased the boat in February and it's docked in Fairhaven. "We drive out there every weekend and do a little work—or just look at it," she said. During April, the Johnsons plan to set sail on Lake St. Clair.

16 winners named in Pinewood race

Sixty-two cars raced in Cub Scout Pack 341's Pinewood Derby on March 12 in the Bailey Lake Elementary School multipurpose room.

Every boy who participated received a ribbon. Boys who won first, second and third place in their divisions also received a gold, silver or bronze medal. Each overall pack winner received a trophy.

Tiger Cub winners were: first, Mike Critzon; second, Nicholas Drake; and third, Charlie Vincent.

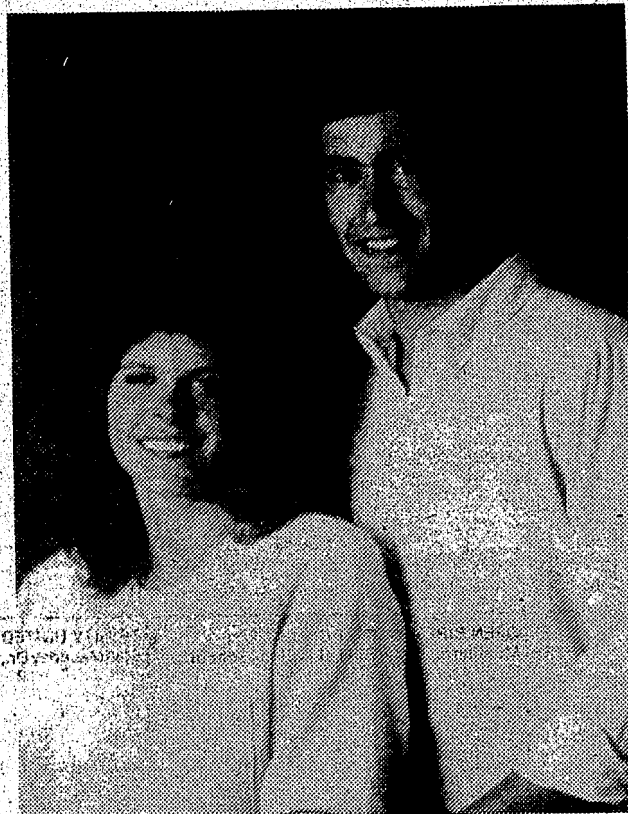

Wolf winners were: first, Brent Zorka; second, Eric Rood; and third, Adam Mauro.

Bear winners were: first, Jon Dean; second, Brad Bailey; and third, Jesse Laycock.

Webelos winners were: first, Jevin Tappero; second, Marty McGeogh; and third, Mike Bills.

Trophy and overall pack winners were: first, Brent Zorka; second, Eric Rood; and third, Jevin Tappero.

Best car design (voted on by the boys) winner was: Jevin Tappero.

Topous-Emond

James Topous of Marietta, Ga., and Emily Borton of Waterford Township announce the engagement of their daughter Teri C. to Christopher J. Emond, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Emond of Manchester, N.H. The bride-elect, a 1981 graduate of Clarkston High School, is employed by E.F. Hutton of Houston, Texas. Her fiancé is a student at the University of Houston. An April wedding is planned.

New arrivals

Doug and Vicki Holmes welcomed their third child into the world March 13.

Nicholas Stephen was born at Crittenton Hospital, Rochester. He weighed 7 pounds 3 ounces and measured 21 3/4 inches long.

He was greeted at home on Newberry Road, Waterford Township, by 4-year-old Megan and 2-year-old Christopher.

Grandparents are Betty Martin of Waterford, Dennis Martin of Pontiac and Joyce Garrison of Pontiac.

It's a boy for Mr. and Mrs. David Charboneau Jr. of Waterford Township.

David Gerard was born at 12:10 a.m. March 12 at Pontiac General Hospital. He weighed 7 pounds 7 ounces and measured 20 3/4 inches long.

He was greeted at home by his big sister, Lindsay, 4.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Charboneau of Canton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Filbert of Clarkston.

Great-grandmother is Mrs. Lois Sadler of Clarkston.

The pack extends many thanks to Jim Deevey, who conducted the races, Jeanette Millen, who handled the awards, Jon Zorka, who repaired one of the tracks, and to all the others who helped run and judge the races.

Honor

Mary Anne (Barks) Jacobs has been selected from the 1,200-member student body at Siena Heights College, Adrian, as one of the college's outstanding leaders.

She will be listed in the 1987 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

Jacobs is the daughter of Kenneth and Jeanette Barks of Warbler Drive, Independence Township. She is a 1981 graduate of Clarkston High School.

At college

Lisa Young was among 13 students at Adrian College, Adrian, honored March 25 with induction in the Golden Gavel Honor Society.

Membership in the society recognizes outstanding service and leadership to the Adrian College community.

A junior at Adrian majoring in fashion merchandising and French, Young was graduated from Clarkston High School in 1984. She is the daughter of James and Carolyn Young of Holcomb Street.

Carolyn Chenoweth, a candidate for June graduation from Michigan State University, East Lansing, was nominated for outstanding senior by the MSU faculty.

Her degree is in biochemistry, and she plans to attend the University of Michigan Law School, Ann Arbor, in August.

The daughter of Kay and Phil Chenoweth of Warbler Drive, Independence Township, she is a 1983 Clarkston High School graduate.

Reunion

Pontiac Central High School, Class of 1962—The 25th reunion is planned in August at the Deer Lake Racquet Club in Independence Township. For more information, call Ginny Norvell London at 258-1536.

Golden anniversary

Connie and Harold (Bud) Hicks of Pine Knob Trail, Independence Township, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Feb. 14 with a small surprise party. Township residents for many years, they were married in Fort Wayne, Ind. They have two sons. Jon and his wife Judy reside in California and Darryl and his wife Evelyn are residents of Tennessee. Their grandchildren are Jennifer and Jason of California and Christopher and Zackary of Tennessee.

He helps kids with reading

by Karen Simmons

Dennis Wagester has his roots in Romeo farmlands.

He grew up there, graduated from Romeo High School, earned a bachelor's degree from Northern Michigan University, Marquette, and finally a master's degree in reading from Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

These days he is a Holly resident. He and his wife, Kathie, have two children, Melissa, 14, and Steve, 12. Kathie has taught special education and works as a Resource Room teacher at the Benjamin Sherman Middle School in Holly.

Wagester, a Clarkston teacher for 20 years, has taught upper elementary children at Bailey Lake. For the past 10 years, he has taught reading-thinking skills to this age group at Bailey Lake and Clarkston elementary schools.

"I get a lot of satisfaction out of seeing students overcome obstacles," he says.

He was a consultant for "States and Regions," a social studies text for fourth-graders recently published by Harcourt Brace Jovanovich Inc.

"I get a lot of satisfaction out of seeing students overcome obstacles."

—Dennis Wagester

More recent summers have found him teaching in a reading clinic where he uses his skills gained from experience and education.

Golfing, snowmobiling and photography occupy his spare time. An elder at the Holly Presbyterian Church and chairman of the property committee, he has been a moving force behind the recent rehabilitation of that building.

Not surprisingly, both Kathie and he read just about anything they can get their hands on including best-sellers.

A Joan Rivers fan, Wagester says he likes people who have a well-developed sense of humor.

With his boundless energy, good will toward others, curiosity and intuitive ways, Wagester has a special influence on those lives he touches.

An Apple for the Teacher is provided through a committee of the Clarkston Education Association. This week's author is Karen Simmons, a first-grade teacher at Bailey Lake Elementary.

EUROCOACH

Finally - A
Motor Home
With Enough
Storage To Carry Almost Anything...
Including The Kitchen Sink

*But That's Only Half
The Story*

The other half is that the Eurocoach has the same amount of underfloor storage on its other side, enough on both sides to just about fill nine 20 cu. ft. refrigerators.

Plus, the Eurocoach has 90 gallon fuel, fresh water and holding tank capacities. It's built on the new John Deere chassis that has greater weight-carrying capacity and a unique floating sway-bar suspension for better road-handling and stability.

Besides these great features, Champion's Eurocoach also gives you quality, heavy-duty, steel-cage construction. Plus, it has a unique insulating/adhesive foam to bond the fiberglass exterior panels to the steel frame. The foam insulates, keeps out dust and reduces road noise.

For more information, see the people at Thompson RV.

$100 bonds for speech winners

Eleven students accepted the challenge of the Clarkston Optimist Club by participating in the organization's first Oratorical Contest.

Each student presented a speech March 18 on the topic "Promise Yourself" from the podium in the Clarkston High School Little Theatre.

The winners of first-place prizes of $100 savings bonds were Carrie Slade, a 10th-grader at Clarkston High School, and Jamie Young, a seventh-grader at Clarkston Junior High.

They also received medals, as did second-place winners Kim Kolody and Robbie Isgrigg, both eighth-graders at CJHS; and third-place winners, Carolyn Allison, an seventh-grader at CJHS, and Scott Williamson, an eighth-grader at CJHS.

Certificates were presented to all contestants, who included Natalie Burge, Michelle Davis, Carrie Roeser, Jeff Smithers and Debbie Sparks. All are eighth-graders at CJHS with the exception of Burge, a CJHS seventh-grader.

Contest rules required that the speeches be 4- to 5-minutes long and that participants be under age 16 by Dec. 31.

"We were very pleased, as a club, with the participation and with the quality of the speeches," said Duane Lewis, youth activities chairman.

Judges for the contest were Ron Del Bello, a speech, mass media and cable television teacher at Hazel Park High School; Kathy Greenfield, editor of The Clarkston News; and Narce Richardson, an educator with the Pontiac school district.

Slade and Isgrigg are to participate in the Optimist's regional contest April 4 in Detroit. Normally, the first-place winners compete, but Young had a previous engagement, Lewis said.

The local contest is to be an annual event sponsored by the Clarkston Optimist Club, which was chartered in August 1986.

At the Clarkston Optimist Club's breakfast meeting March 23, Jamie Young presented his contest-winning speech on "Promise Yourself." Young is a seventh-grader at CJHS.

SCAMP bazaar wants historical displays

Clarkston SCAMP and Summit Place are pleased to announce details of the 1987 Charity Bazaar, "Michigan, Look About You!"

Charitable, non-profit organizations are invited to participate in the bazaar, Oct. 5 through 10, which the promoters say is one of Oakland County's most successful fund-raising events of its type.

Booth rental rates begin at $9 a day.

The 1987 theme, "Michigan, Look About You!" allows participants to highlight some aspect, city, region, festival or historical event in Michigan during the sesquicentennial year. Creativity on the theme could earn participants up to $360 in $90 daily prizes.

Coordinators for this year's bazaar are Sandy Scutt (394-0190), Joann Taylor (625-7890) and Bunny Newmarch (625-3330).

Applications are available upon request, or interested participants may attend a training and information session at 10 a.m. May 22 in the Summit Place Community Room.

Further information on the 1987 Summit Place Charity Bazaar is available by contacting any of the coordinators or by calling 682-0123.

10pm—MESC Job Show: The new program series is produced by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Century-old decorating techniques

Nineteenth century do-it-yourselfers used simple tools—brushes, combs, sponges, feathers, rags and putty.

They altered the paint they applied to their bare, box-like walls and furniture built with the least expensive woods.

Some imitated high-class marbles, rosewood and bird's-eye grains; others created less realistic but thoroughly delightful patterns.

Designers and decorators have revived these paint finishes in the most luxurious settings, yet they can easily be copied by twentieth century do-it-yourselfers.

On Tuesday, April 7, at 7 p.m. in Clarkston Elementary's multipurpose room, Jackie Lundgren will conduct a workshop sponsored by the Clarkston Community Historical Society.

Lundgren, who teaches historic painting methods at Greenfield Village, will demonstrate some of these techniques and provide painted wooden boxes for experimentation.

There is a small material fee. Space is limited. For further information or to reserve a place, call 625-2032.

Student honors

February Students of the Month have been announced by Clarkston High School Principal Robert Burek.

The following students were honored at a luncheon in Alexander's Restaurant March 26:

Rhonda Bower, daughter of Peggy and Ronald Bower; Coreen Hummel, daughter of Douglas Hummel and Alice Etenhoffer; Gary Jackman, son of Tom and Theresa Jackman; James Petherbridge, son of Robert and Theresa Petherbridge; Margaret Sans, daughter of Arthur and Elizabeth Sans; Michelle Sexton, daughter of Michael and Luanne Sexton; and Emily Winfield, daughter of Douglas and Martha Winfield.

Based on academic performance, staff members nominate students to a committee of teachers and administrators, who make the final selection.

Village of Clarkston Synopsis

Village of Clarkston minutes of regular meeting, March 23, 1987, 375 Depot Road, Clarkston, Michigan 48016.

Meeting called to order by President Catallo at 7:39 p.m. followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Roll: Present - Roeser, ApMadoc, Millard, Catallo. Absent - Schultz, Basinger and Haven.

Minutes of last meeting were approved.

The agenda was added to and approved.

Millard made a motion to pay the bills totaling $47,993.41. Motion carried.

Merelyn Mallet explained to the Council about Youth Assistance.

Ed Adler asked if the Council could do something about the small road sign at Depot Road.

ApMadoc made a motion that we re-allocate 1984 Planning and Management Funds #670 Planning and Management - This time we will make it to the balance needed - $550.28 to #120 Drainage Improvements. Balance $120.82 - lets re-allocate to 1984 Downtown revitalization $110 - That would give us a balance of $2,882.62. I would like to see us get some lighting started, but first let's see about the Main Street parking lot tree. Seconded by Millard. Motion carried.

Motion by Millard to let the DPW purchase a two horsepower Compressor not to exceed $400.00. Motion carried.

ApMadoc made a motion to use General Funds monies of $21,896.42 to pay the sewer principle and insurance payment due April 1, 1987. This will be repaid from the Sewer Bond and Interest Fund in April, 1987. Seconded by Millard. Motion carried.

Motion made to close the meeting at 10:30 p.m. Seconded by Millard. Motion carried.

Court clerk retires after career of 27 years

By Pat Young

Jean Davis raised only one child of her own, but she helped thousands of neglected children, from newborns to 19-year-olds, find a better life.

The Independence Township woman retired March 27 after nearly 27 years with the Oakland County courts. For 18½ of those years, she worked with children.

Davis began her career as an account clerk with Friend of the Court May 2, 1960. She transferred to probate court Sept. 1, 1968, where she worked until her retirement last Friday.

"I sort of transferred from working with the parents to working with the kids," Davis says.

At the time of her transfer, it was called juvenile court, she explains. After undergoing reorganization years back, it is now called probate court, but she worked in the juvenile division.

As a probate court account clerk, Davis was responsible for keeping all records on foster children. She kept track of where they were placed, paid foster parents and private agencies for boarding, and paid foster children's other expenses, such as clothing and medical bills.

"I think the best part of the job was dealing with the foster parents. They're our mainstay," Davis says. "It takes a very special kind of person to be a foster parent."

A retirement party honoring Davis took place March 26 in the Spring Lake Country Club, one day prior to her last day at work.

"I'm sorry to see her go," says Earl Koonce, assistant administrator fiscal officer. He was Davis' boss for most of the years she worked in probate court.

"She's been very dedicated, a very valuable employee to the court," he adds.

Now that she's retired, Davis says there will be time to play more golf with her husband, Richard, who is also retired. There will also be more time to spend with her daughter, Cynthia, and granddaughter, Michelle, who share the Davis home on Amy Drive.

"I'll just take each day as it comes," Davis says. "Maybe we'll do some traveling next winter."

Davis views her retirement with mixed emotions. "I'm going to miss the people I worked with," she says. "But after 27 years, it was time."

Jean Davis of Independence Township retired March 27 after nearly 27 years as an account clerk with the Oakland County courts.

CHS soprano named one of 15 state finalists

Michelle Blomberg, a senior at Clarkston, was chosen as a state finalist in the solo division at the recent Solo & Ensemble competition in Flint.

By Chris Gerbas

Clarkston senior Michelle Blomberg has been in the Madrigal singing class for two years, but you might say she was in a class by herself two weekends ago.

Blomberg was selected as a state finalist in the solo division at the State Solo & Ensemble Music Competition in Flint March 21.

She is one of only 15 soloists chosen to attend a two-day workshop and recital at Western Michigan University May 9-10. From the group, one will be picked to perform that weekend at the Youth Arts Festival.

"I didn't really expect to make it that far," said Blomberg, who has been singing since sixth grade.

The soprano was judged on two songs, "Nymphs and Shepherds" and "The Sweetest Flower That Blows." Blomberg credits voice teacher Doris Williams and chorus teacher Grayce Warren for her development.

"My congratulations to Michelle, as she has a lovely voice and has trained very hard to get to this high level of perfection," said Warren. "I am very proud of all those students who attended the State Solo & Ensemble."

Aside from Blomberg, Clarkston sopranos Jennifer Fenton and Lori Neff also received a performance rating of I, the highest, as did alto Amy Travis and the soprano-alto-tenor-bass quartet.

Earning a II rating at the competition were Rachel Young (alto), the Sophomore Ensemble, the Girls Select ensemble and the Madrigal Singers.

Travis, Young and the Sophomore Ensemble also each received a I in sight reading.

Blomberg is used to being in select company singing with the Madrigals the last two years. The Madrigals are a group of 16 students who had to audition to make the class.

"It's a major goal for people in chorus," Blomberg said. She had always been involved with chorus and also took private voice lessons for two years. Although she won't be majoring in music at Oakland University next fall, she hopes to participate in some choirs at the school.

"I've always liked to sing," she said. "I like to use my voice and making music. I enjoy the feeling that I'm making music."

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT, Holy Spirit, you who make me see everything & shows me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive & forget the wrong that is done to me and you who are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with you & my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Thank you for your love, Amen. Thank you for your love towards me and my loved ones. Pray the prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish, after the third day your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this prayer as your favor has been granted. Wish granted. ILLX34-2

Snow White (played by Jenny French) ate the poisoned apple and she's down in a trance as the Seven Dwarves gather to figure out what to do next. The place is the stage in the multipurpose room at North Sashabaw Elementary, the French-speaking stars are ninth-grade students of Jim Tyrrell from North Sashabaw Junior High School and the audience is fifth-graders, who are in the midst of studying French for six weeks. Filling the roles of the Seven Dwarves are Robin Buday, Tammy Clark, Mark Frasa, Shannon Hutchins, Jennifer Leech and Nikol Westphal.

That's entertainment

Before the audience sings French songs, they laugh at a joke made by teacher Jim Tyrrell.

Wendy Zoss portrays Cinderella at work in her wicked stepmother's house. Although the plays "Cinderella" and "Snow White and the Seven Dwarves" were presented in French, the fifth-graders had no problem following the familiar story lines. They also had help from English-speaking narrators.
