Steady growth continues in '87

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

In the first half of 1987, building growth in Independence Township has remained steady and slightly below last year's record-breaking figures, said

Beverly McElmeel, director of the township building department.

The township has also met the pace of the rest of Oakland County, said Marlin Rubin, associate planner of the Oakland County Planning Department.

BLAZING BARN: Firefighters from Independence Township practice firefighting techniques while burning down a barn off Ortonville Road Sunday. A group of newly recruited firefighters observed. Capt. Steve Ronk, training officer, directed the training exercise with township firefighters, while Capt. Neil Ashley worked with the new trainees at the property.

"The county is doing very well in terms of residential construction," he said. "It always has."

While Novi is the fastest growing community in the county, all of Oakland is growing, he said.

"In the last few years, building has been very strong. It's stabilizing now," said Rubin.

"The commercial building has done well in the past few years due to the economic recovery of the state. Retail seems to be very strong still. . . . The economy is very good here."

From January through May of 1987, Oakland County issued 3,494 residential permits, compared to 3,608 in the first five months of 1986.

In the same period in 1987, 49 retail and 35 office permits were issued. In 1986, 30 retail and 44 office

Lake drowning

A 31-year old Pontiac man drowned at Independence Oaks about 7:42 p.m. Sunday.

Tommy Dewaine Devault was swimming with a group of friends at the beach in the park off Sashabaw Road, Independence Township, said Sgt. Robert Smith of the Oakland County Marine Division.

When his friends got out of the water, they didn't notice that Devault didn't go with them.

About 30 to 60 minutes later, they started to look for him, said Smith.

They found him about 60 feet offshore when a swimmer's foot touched his body, said Smith.

Rescuers tried cardio pulmonary resuscitation, but without success, he said.

Although they don't know yet why he drowned, the probable cause is listed as physical stress or exhaustion, said Smith.

"It's a common problem in the extreme heat conditions," he said. "When people are swimming, and they're hot, and they don't realize how exhausted they get."

Revised code gives athletes 2nd chance

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

Athletes caught abusing substances will be given a second chance under the revised Athletic Conduct Code proposed for Clarkston high school and junior high school students.

The revised code also covers penalties for students who violate criminal or civil laws.

The proposed changes were presented to the school board July 13 by former athletic director Paul Tungate, who was transferred to the position of Clarkston Junior High School principal, due to budgetary cuts, at the same meeting.

The changes include the choice of suspension from the team or the opportunity to participate in a substance abuse program for the first offense of abusing alcohol or drugs.

The second offense would result in suspension from all athletics for the school year.

Previously, a student caught using alcohol or drugs was suspended from the team for the remainder of the season.

"We felt it's more important that a student receive help in substance abuse than have us turn our backs on them," Tungate said.

Depending on the substance, students could opt to participate in the high school's SEARCH program, which deals with drug and alcohol abuse; in a program offered by the American Cancer Society; or in an alcohol abuse program.

The previous code did not cover criminal or civil offenses by students. According to the proposed code, the student's offense would be reviewed by the athletic director and the principal.

"The athlete could be suspended up to a season or up to a year, depending on the severity of that offense," said Tungate.

Changes to the policy were made after surveying school board members in May and June, and talking to the district's 53 coaches, secondary school principals and administrators William Neff and Mel Vaara, he said.

Tungate noted that the number of students affected by such a policy would be small.

Only seven high school athletes were suspended from teams for the season last year due to substance abuse and there were no suspensions at the junior high school level, he said.

Superintendent Milford Mason told the board that the revised Athletic Conduct Code was presented to make the board aware of the proposed changes.

The school board will review all school policies for the 1987-88 school year at its Aug. 10 meeting.

Township meets county pace permits were issued for January through May, said Rubin.

Independence Township is still growing, but at a slower rate than last year, said McElmeel.

With 142 new homes in Independence Township in the first six months of 1987, single-family residential building is below 1986 by 35 homes.

"Even though we were off in single family, we've picked it up in the multi-family development," said McElmeel.

By June, the township had issued building permits for 20 units compared to four in the same period last year.

"So it still appears that people are coming here," she said. "People are still interested in Independence Township and in Oakland County. I don't see it tapering off. It looks like last year was really the banner year, but everything else is solid."

Several subdivision plats are on the drawing board, said McElmeel, and some of the existing subs are sold out.

Also, one commercial permit has been issued so far this year, while three were issued by June in 1986.

Path gets green light

An easement for construction of a sidewalk in front of Clarkston Elementary School was granted July 13 by the Clarkston board of education to the Independence Township Board.

"I think it's a benefit to our residents and a benefit to our junior high students," said Assistant Superintendent Mel Vaara.

The 600-foot long, 8-foot wide safety path will connect to an existing path that ends at the Woodglen subdivision off Waldon Road.

Junior high school students who live on the north side of Waldon Road will now be able to use the path and cross with a safety guard in front of their school.

The easement was necessary to save some trees in front of the elementary school, which would have been destroyed if the path were built in the existing road easement.

The school board approved granting the easement in a 6-0 vote.

Thomas has board support

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

On July 13, Janet Thomas began her eighth year as president of the Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education.

Thomas was elected to the post during the school board's annual organizational meeting, which preceded the regular meeting.

"I'm pleased to have the support of the rest of the board because I respect all those people and it's nice to know that they're willing to re-elect you," she said after the meeting.

A certified public accountant, Thomas is beginning her 13th year on the board. She was re-elected by school district voters to her fourth four-year term on the seven-member school board on June 8.

Also on June 8, voters defeated a request for 4.25 new operational mills for the district, and Thomas said the biggest challenge will be getting the 4.25 mills passed during a special election "some time early in the school year."

At the July 13 organizational meeting, board members present voted unanimously to retain the existing slate of officers, which also includes Carolyn Place as vice president, Mary Jane Chaustowich as secretary and Elaine Schultz as treasurer.

Other action during the organizational meeting included the following:

- Board member Thomas Bills was appointed

Oakland Schools Designate to attend one meeting in February; Jean Thompson, the superintendent's secretary, was appointed assistant secretary to the board; board member Carolyn Place was appointed to the Oakland School Boards Legislative Committee; and district business manager William Jackson was appointed school elections administrator.

- The regular board meetings were set for the second Monday of each month at 8 p.m. at the administration office, 6389 Clarkston Rd. Place suggested conducting the meetings at school buildings on a rotating basis, but the board defeated her proposal in a 4-2 vote. Instead, the board agreed to consider conducting special meetings in the school buildings.

- Board salaries were continued at the current rate: $30 for each regular and special meeting, not to exceed 52 meetings a year.

- The board agreed to continue memberships in the Michigan Association of School Boards (annual fee, $2,800), National School Boards Association ($750), Metropolitan Detroit Bureau of School Studies Inc. ($1,700) and Michigan School Investment Association ($2,500).

Lawmakers for M-15 widening

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

While residents are concerned over the widening of M-15 to five lanes in Independence Township, so, too, are state lawmakers from the area.

State Rep. Mat Dunaskiss favors a boulevard approach for the area south of the Clarkston, north of Dixie Highway, he said.

"The boulevard . . . protects the integrity of the village and is better for businesses," he said. "It signals the entrance into the village. It's a definite break between the township and the village."

"It's a little more expensive," he said. "But we have to look at this as a program for 20 years, so we have to look at the best alternative."

Clarkston residents have legitimate concerns for the downtown district, he said.

"People do enjoy walking downtown and using the businesses, and you would hate to see that turned into a throughfare," he said.

State Senator Richard Fessler also hoped to preserve Clarkston while making M-15 safer for motorists, said Rick Simonson, Fessler's legislative aide.

"We'd like to see something less radical than five lanes," said Simonson.

"We are aware of the proposal for three lanes. We're not engineers, but that sounds better to us than five."

Fessler and Dunaskiss had met in the past year with the Clarkston M-15 committee, headed by Jerry Wilford, he said.

"We're working with the state to reroute traffic," said Simonson.

To reduce truck traffic in Clarkston, the state is considering the committee's suggestion to install lights at I-75 and M-15 and at I-75 and Dixie Highway, he said.

Independence Township is going to be a busy area with I-75 going to six lanes and expanding Dixie Highway, said Simonson.

"Projections are that traffic on M-15 is going to get worse," he said, and added they'd like to preserve the quaintness of the village.

"It's a recurring problem all over the state when trunklines go through communities," he said.

"At this point, we've got more questions than answers," he said.

Tot saved from pool

Sunday, a 3-year old Pontiac boy was saved from a near drowning in a Deerhill Drive, Independence Township, pool.

Noel Brent was at the bottom of the pool for about 30 seconds before an unidentified nurse, who happened to be at the pool, began life support procedures, said Gar Wilson, acting chief of the township fire department.

He was not breathing when they pulled him from the water, but he was breathing and had a heartbeat by the time the fire department arrived, said Wilson.

Brent was discharged Monday from St. Joseph's Hospital, Pontiac.

Patients are always sent to the hospital in these instances because complications could set in, said Capt. Neil Ashley of the fire department.

Number of contaminated wells up to 19

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Ten more wells were found to be contaminated on Northview Drive, Independence Township, after nine were discovered in May.

All contained ethyl ether, some contained freon-type compounds and one showed benzene—a non-chlorinated hydrocarbon, which is a cancer-causing substance associated with landfills or gasoline, said Lois Elliott-Wilson, environmental sanitarian from Michigan Department of Public Health (MDPH).

The contamination probably resulted from an old landfill north of Clarkston Road and east of Perry Lake Road, she said.

The testing on Northview Drive and Perry Lake Road isn't finished yet, she said, adding Northview testing could take until September.

They plan to test the peripheral areas, too, to define the area of contamination, she said, mentioning Wampole Drive, north of Clarkston Road and east of M-15.

"I hope people can just be patient and work with us," said Elliott-Wilson.

So far, the levels of contaminants they've found aren't dangerous, but they may indicate a possible future problem, she said.

"From my past experience, once I've seen these compounds, (I think) we will probably see in the future chemicals that we should be more concerned about," she said.

The water can be used to bathe and wash, but not to consume directly, she said.

Until a solution is found, residents will receive free bottled water on request, she said. The bottled water is to be paid for from the Super Fund, established by the Michigan Environmental Response Act, she said.

MDPH asked the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for information about the landfill and about water supply solutions.

If the DNR approves them, deeper wells might solve the problems, she said. Otherwise, they'll extend the township municipal water system. Either solution would be funded from the Super Fund, said Elliott-Wilson.

While MERA lists the landfill as a priority, it isn't bad enough to receive funding for cleanup, she said.

One Northview resident, Leonard Smith, tried to dig a deeper well, he said.

He spent $2,800 and drilled 85 feet and the new test was still positive for the contaminants, he said.

He's puzzled because three neighbors next to him have drilled 75-foot deep wells with success.

"I'm sitting in the middle here, and I can't believe that well is contaminated," he said.

MERA won't reimburse him because they say the well drilling didn't follow proper procedure; he doesn't understand what they mean, he said.

He had hoped the deeper well would prevent having to use bottled water.

"Can you imagine using bottled water for a year? That's a long time," he said.

Elliott-Wilson said specific methods should be used to drill wells in contaminated areas. Anyone, including Smith, who would like to try a deeper well should contact her first to make sure they don't allow the contaminants to migrate downward.

Smith's well should be properly abandoned—filled with a neat cement compound to plug the hole and prevent further contamination, she said.

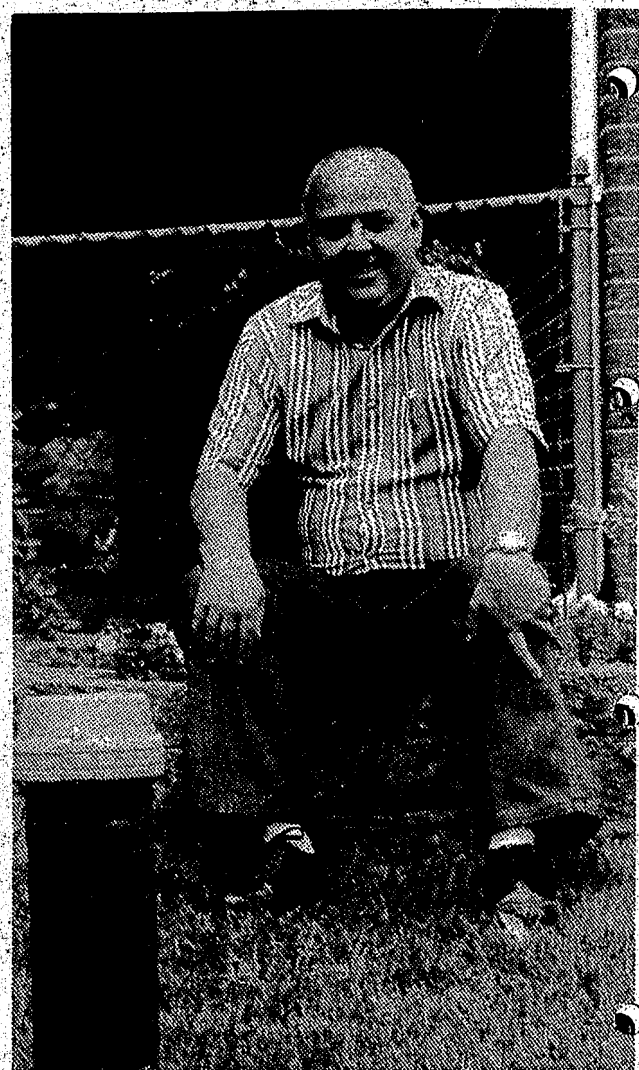

If it isn't, the contaminants could migrate to other wells at that level, she said.

Elliott-Wilson also said residents shouldn't worry about their health from the well water. At the levels they've found, it's not dangerous. They're just trying to prevent a dangerous situation, she said.

As an example, Elliott-Wilson told of what could happen if the benzene level were dangerous:

In 70 years, a person with 6.7 parts of benzene per billion parts of water would have one chance in 100,000 of contracting cancer, she said.

Only one well contained benzene but at a level well below the danger mark, she said.

Leonard Smith's new 85-foot well on Northview Drive was also found to be contaminated.

Youth camp plans announced

BY PAT YOUNG

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The plan for Michigan's first work-learn camp was presented at a news conference last week by Robert Lipsitz. Lipsitz, president of International Field Studies, is director of the new Michigan Department of Social Services program.

While Lipsitz announced plans for the program inside the Embassy Suites Hotel in Southfield, picketers from Springfield, Holly and Rose townships quietly demonstrated outside.

Camp Holly, a Girl Scout camp in Rose Township, is being considered for the first of three such camps, with other sites in north Oakland County also being considered. Lipsitz declined to name other sites.

Recent legislation proposed by Gov. James Blanchard provides funding for the DSS work-learn camps in Michigan, designed for males 15 to 17 years old.

"The work-learn camp program gives first-time property offenders a structured outdoor living experience to build skills and facilitate personal growth," Lipsitz said. "Our main goal is to expose selected male youth to a program which prevents further escalation into the state judicial system."

But the term "first offenders" was debated at the press conference, because youths in the program would be wards of the state, and by definition, wards of the state are no longer first-time offenders.

A representative of DSS agreed that "first offenders" was not an accurate description of the youths.

Many north Oakland County residents are strongly opposed to the proposed camp, citing experts who say the program is too expensive and won't work and that bringing juvenile delinquents from Wayne County and Detroit into their rural communities would have a detrimental impact on the area.

Lipsitz said that in the controlled outdoor environment, camp residents would be exposed to continuous exercises and experiences to improve self-concept and build social, pre-vocational and academic skills. He said the program also provides the opportunity for behavior learned in camp to be carried over into community living.

Youths would spend six months at the camp, which would have 80 to 100 beds. Two staff members would be assigned to live with every 10 youths.

The program, according to Lipsitz, is structured to include intensive small group interaction, daily group living and outdoor challenge programs (such as backpacking, canoeing and cross country skiing), therapeutic intervention and assessment, an educational program, community service, family involvement and post placement.

He said the camp would provide the least restrictive environment for youths with property offenses who are wards of the State of Michigan. Youths would be accepted into the program based upon detailed assessments of previous behavior, family, peer relationships and social adjustment.

The work-learn program, licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services, will be operated by International Field Studies. Lipsitz founded IFS in 1977 as a public, non-profit organization for educational and scientific purposes.

As director of the program, Lipsitz will receive a $170,000 salary for the 29-month state contract. IFS recently signed a $7.7 million contract with DSS. Cost per bed for operating the camp is estimated at $36,000 to $46,000 per year.

Residents of north Oakland County have objected to the cost of the program and to the way in which communication with the concerned public has been handled. They also have voiced objections to the way they say the program has been "ramrodded" through the system.

DSS officials acknowledged that the contract with IFS was accelerated far faster than typical DSS programs.

Lipsitz, who has degrees in natural resources and environmental education, has been actively involved in camping activities and youth programs for 15 years. His company, IFS, also trains camp counselors.

Lipsitz is associate executive director of the Fresh Air Society-Tamarack Hills Authority, West Bloomfield. He owns and runs recreational camps Tamarack and Maas in Groveland Township, and a camp in Brighton. He and his family, who own a home in Birmingham, spend their summers at one of the camps in Groveland Township.

He also said he has run camping programs for up to 35 juvenile delinquents at camps in the Holly area.

Plenty of time

Kathy

When I was a teenager, summer vacation from school was always eagerly anticipated.

No homework. No getting up around 6 a.m. to get ready in time to catch the school bus. And all kinds of time to read piles of books and magazines at my leisure.

Worked in there somewhere was a week with a friend who had moved up north—one summer she'd come to my house; the next, I'd go to hers.

Jobs were not as plentiful for teens as they are now. During all but one of those years, my paid employment involved baby-sitting and picking cherries when I visited my friend whose father managed orchards.

My mother always had a major house cleaning project. I always knew I'd spend some of the time weeding the garden and helping with the canning of fruit and tomatoes.

I can remember devising massive mental lists of things I wanted to accomplish over the summer, such as get a good tan and lose five pounds and clean my closet.

As an adult, my vacations have fallen into the traditional definition of going somewhere other than home after a car ride or a plane ride.

This year, however, I decided a week off spent mostly at home would be nice.

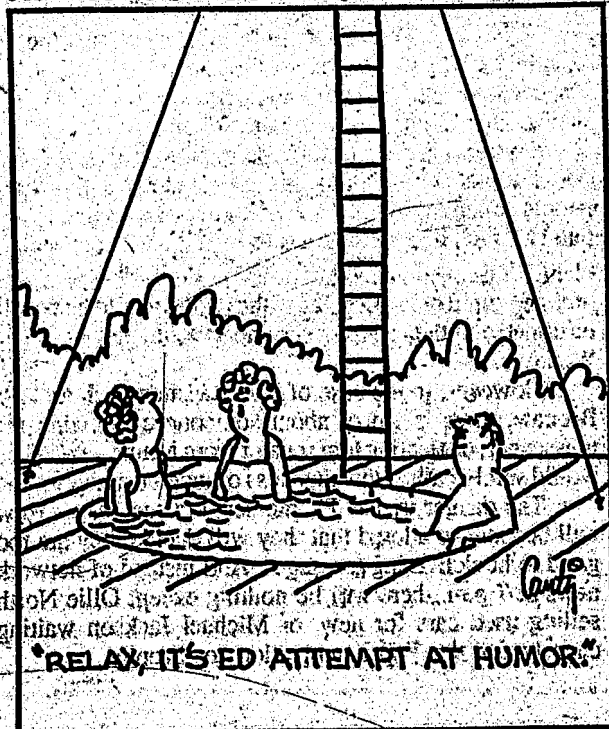

Then I found myself falling into the old pattern of making mental lists.

As plans ballooned for my brief respite from work, I decided to sit back and enjoy the fantasy by just letting the list grow.

During my vacation, I will strip wallpaper and manicure my nails and loll around at the beach and read a couple of books and clean the basement and iron every piece of cotton clothing I possess and spend time with my nephews and spend time with my parents and hold the newest baby I know and go antiquing and refinish at least three pieces of furniture and go to a movie or two and eat dinner at a good restaurant and go shopping and sleep in and weed all the flower beds and pile rocks for a future rock garden and go on long walks and go sailing and clean the refrigerator and . . .

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

Naturally, the following, entitled "The BC problem" is anonymous.

A newly married couple was looking for a home out in the country. After finding one they liked, they rented it, and moved in to make it their home.

After moving in, the young wife noticed that the bathroom did not have a commode. So, she decided to write the owner about it. Being extremely timid, modest and bashful, she hesitated about spelling out the words; "bathroom commode."

So, she referred to it as "B.C." When the landlord got the letter he was puzzled as to what the initials stood for. Finally, he decided that "B.C." stood for Baptist Church, so he wrote her the following:

Dear Madam, I regret the delay very much in answering your letter. In reply, well, there is a very nice little BC just 4 miles down the road due east from the house you have rented. It will seat 200 people.

The four mile distance is a little bit unfortunate, that is if you are in the habit of going regularly. But, no doubt you will be interested to know that many people just take their lunch and make a day of it. They usually arrive pretty early and stay pretty late and enjoy the fun and fellowship.

The last time my wife and I went there was 3 years ago. We were just a little bit late and had to stand up. This did not bother me very much since I am in the habit of standing quite a bit of the time. But it was rather inconvenient for my wife as she has arthritis in both knees.

It might interest you also to know that a box supper is being planned in the near future to raise funds to push seat the BC. This is a long felt need as some of the seats are cracked and rough and a person does like to sit in comfort while he meditates.

A friendly usher always meets you when you arrive at the BC and takes you to a seat.

Many years ago, when my wife and I were living in the little house you have rented, the men and women did not sit together. But now in these modern times, family groups, along with personal friends all come and sit for meditation.

Many people resolve to attend the BC only at Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Mother's Day. It is a known fact that persons who do not go very often don't do so much when they do go.

I would like to add that it pains me very much not to go more often, but it is surely no lack of desire on my part. As we grow older it seems more of an effort, particularly in cold weather.

In conclusion, I'll add that I hope to see you there soon.

The landlord.

Letters to the editor

Camp Holly protests pour in

Editor's note: We received 24 letters from residents of Springfield Township who oppose the purchase of Camp Holly by the state Department of Social Services for a youth offenders' camp. Following is a sampling of the letters:

I would like to voice my opposition to the proposed Holly detention facility. This facility, or any like it, seems to be a waste of our money.

A greater concern of mine is that it will pose a serious threat to our community.

Please, if this kind of expenditure is warranted, then let's get to the root of the problem and put the money in a Wayne County family program, not just sidestep the problem.

Roger Campbell

This letter is in regards to the detention facility proposed for Camp Holly in Holly, Mich.

As a resident of Springfield Township, I would like to state that I am highly opposed to the proposal. Camp Holly is 1 1/2 miles from our home, and I am concerned about the well-being of my family and property.

Our home and cars have been burglarized and vandalized three times in the past five years by area juveniles.

I feel the risk of this happening will triple if the camp harbors juveniles sent there for that very reason, as these juveniles will undoubtedly be second or third time offenders, and Springfield Township has very minimal police protection. We also rely on volunteer fire protection.

The township has enough problems with our own youngsters without Wayne County sending their juveniles to our back yard for rehabilitation.

As for the contractor (International Field Studies), I disagree with their plans for small "informational meetings."

These meetings should be held in an open forum. We residents and the media have a right to know what is discussed and decided at every meeting. We are the ones who must live with the solution.

Debbie Hagen

As a concerned citizen, I am very curious about the future safety and well-being of my family and community if the "POSED" detention facility is located at Camp Holly.

We do not have the police protection required for such a facility. Our schools are also too close to this facility.

It does not serve our community in any positive way and should be re-evaluated for the people's sake.

Shirley M. Campbell

We are tax paying residents of Springfield Township who are strongly opposed to the establishment of a work and learn camp to be located primarily at Camp Holly or any north Oakland County location.

My objections are:

We chose Springfield Township for our retirement home and a secure investment in our home. If this camp comes into being, we feel the value of our home will be severely lowered; plus our security of safety in our retiring years will be hindered because of improper police and fire protection.

We are also worried about the tremendous tax responsibility which on a fixed income would hurt us tremendously.

Mrs. Harold Shepherd

Mr. Harold Shepherd

I am writing in regards to the work and learn facility that is being proposed in Rose Township at Camp Holly.

I live on Weber Road bordering the camp and I am deeply opposed to this proposal.

I am greatly concerned for the well-being of our family if such a facility is put on over there. We are home alone quite a lot, meaning myself and daughter.

How would you feel if three- and four-time youth offenders lived across the street from you in a camp that is unfenced?

I understand that there is a high percentage of walk-aways from these camps. It would increase crime in our area, not to mention those kids that might be put in our area schools.

What about the added traffic on our rural country roads?

We moved out of the city of Pontiac to get away from all the crimes and confusion. Now they're bringing it out to us.

How would you like one of these camps (unfenced) in your back yard? We belong to Residents Against Ineffective Detention (RAID) and will do all we can to stop this action.

Judith A. Crawley

I am 13 and I am writing this letter to protest Camp Holly.

I live a mile and a half away from the proposed site and one of the reasons I moved out here was to get away from the kind of trouble we will have if they put in this camp.

Shannon Booth

I support no to Camp Holly. Be realistic. Do you really think that criminals can be rehabilitated in a camp six months when Mayor Coleman Young could do nothing with them?

These type of people have no respect for grass and trees let alone the property of area citizens and their children.

Leave Wayne County's problems in Wayne County.

No to Camp Holly or any camp in Oakland County.

Janice Foster

I am a resident of Springfield Township and a registered voter in said community.

As a resident, I feel I must express my concerns in the matter of Camp Holly being used as a juvenile detention facility.

Some of these concerns are:

1. The tax responsibility on the community.
2. Lack of security at the camp.
3. Inadequate police and fire protection.
4. Medical facilities are not readily available.

Thanks to rescuers

While staying with our daughter and son-in-law, Dan and Betsy Travis, my husband suffered a fatal heart attack on July 13. The Clarkston Fire Department and local rescue units responded almost immediately and did everything humanly possible to try and save my husband, Ed Olson.

It is with a sad heart full of gratitude to all who tried so valiantly to help, that I express my thanks and those of our daughter and her loving family.

Polka lovers say thanks

We just want to thank all the people who help to organize and sponsor the Clarkston Concerts in the Park. Our family has attended them for many years. The concerts are always very good!

However, the last concert featuring the Jacob Ramig Polka Band brought back many fond memories to my husband and I. While we were dating and in our first year of marriage we belonged to a Dance Club, and the Polka Band played many of our favorites from the Club. This Polka Band was outstanding!

We again thank all of you who are responsible for the concerts. Clarkston is a wonderful place to live! Please have the Jacob Ramig Polka Band back in the summer of 1988.

TV messengers

Jim Fitzgerald

An unfamiliar face was being interviewed on NBC-TV news by Tom Brokaw. I had no idea what made him important enough for Brokaw to bring him into my living room. I waited patiently for the man's name to be printed across the bottom of the TV screen.

It turned out his name was Thunderstorm Warning.

I write silly stuff like that for a serious purpose. Actually, it turned out the man was Sen. George Mitchell, D-Maine. But do you realize how serious it is that the interviewer - Brokaw - was well known to me and millions of other viewers, but the person being interviewed - a U.S. senator - was probably a complete stranger to every viewer except his wife?

Brokaw was seeking serious opinions from a member of the world's most exclusive club, the U.S. Senate. Only 100 people belong to it. They are our nation's most important leaders, not only because they make the laws, but also because they question the lieutenant colonels who enable us to live in a nation that appreciates the value of a military posture, an earnest frown and sincerely crooked teeth.

IT HAS BEEN suggested that Lt. Col. Oliver North would make a great TV spokesman for commercial products. "He is very impressive. He has the courage to say, 'Of course I lied. This is why I lied,'" said a New York booking agent who represents such talented clients as John Ehrlichman, whose Watergate lying earned him the ultimate rewards: prison term, book contract and TV talk show appearances.

North sounds like a perfect answer for Chrysler the next time it's caught with its odometers down. Lee Iacocca shouldn't be the Chrysler spokesman for stupidity forever - tourists at the Statue of Liberty might begin running for cover every time the wind blows.

Polls indicate most citizens would believe Ollie North if he said odometers were set back so communist car buyers wouldn't suspect that the contras used new Plymouths to commute between freedom fighting in Nicaragua and racetrack betting in Miami.

Speaking of suspecting, it was recently reported that someone cut off the hands of the late Gen. Juan Peron and stole relics from his tomb. Does anyone know where Michael Jackson was at the time? Some old Peron bones might make Jackson feel better about not being able to buy the Elephant Man's decayed remains.

Anyway, at the Hillberry Theatre, just before the curtain went up on a swell production of "Snoopy," a small boy entered the row where I was seated. I stood up to let him by and he sat down in my seat.

WHICH I MENTION only to illustrate that not all members of the media receive the instant recognition and respect accorded Tom Brokaw, who is better known than the senator from Maine or anywhere else.

For most sectors of the media, there is always worry about someone "shooting the messenger." This means people angered by bad news sometimes blame - and punish - the press for delivering it. Actually, they should blame those responsible for creating the bad news. If the press reported only good news, the public would be poorly informed and thousands of reporters would be working at Wendy's.

However, in the case of TV newsmen such as Tom Brokaw, there is worry about someone canonizing the messenger, or electing him senator from Maine - except he would surely balk at the huge loss of income and prestige.

The danger is that TV messengers such as Brokaw will become so adored that they will decide they are too good to be delivering messages. And instead of network news at 7 p.m. there will be nothing except Ollie North selling used cars for new, or Michael Jackson waiting eagerly for the Pepsi generation to atrophy.

Faith from Arizona

I thought I would let you know how pleased I am at getting my Clarkston News. I enjoy reading about the home town. I especially enjoyed the articles about Virginia Vliet Radkte, as I was her school bus driver, and she was our dear friend and babysitter for quite a few years. She has always been a very hard worker and caring person. We sure love her.

I was also very interested in the young girl that was going on kidney dialysis. I wish to tell her to have faith and not get discouraged. You see, last August 28 I went on dialysis for a kidney disease and on June 4, 1987 I was put on the National Kidney Transplant list. On June 27, I received a call from the Phoenix transplant center of a possible kidney and a call back a half-hour later told me to be at the hospital in Phoenix at 7 a.m. sharp on June 28. At 4 p.m. that afternoon, I received a new kidney. Today I am back at our travel trailer in a park after two weeks in the hospital. Doing just fine with a longer lease on life.

My family and I are very, very grateful for the family that donated their deceased loved one's organs so that I and others may live longer. God has answered all our prayers and we are very thankful. I would greatly appreciate it if you could pass this message on to that young girl and her family and also let people know how important it is to be an organ donor.

Glad tax failed

Failure of the millage increase (4.25-mill) proposal in June of this year was a pleasant surprise.

Clarkston school district residents have finally recognized that "throwing good money after bad" does not improve inadequate management.

Possibly they remembered that in 1981 when they did approve a millage increase the only result was increased administration and teacher salaries. What about the kids?

Clarkston school district expenditure per pupil is one of the lowest in Oakland County while the administration enjoys exorbitant salaries and a plush administration building.

Show "us," administration that you can make do with the funds you already have while maintaining a quality education for our children. This will take innovative management and possible salary concessions.

The automobile, textile, steel, etc., industries have all made wage and salary concessions, sold assets, consolidated, etc., and changed the way they conduct their business to meet new challenges.

Why can't our educational system do the same? What exempts them from practicing good management policies? It's easy to ask for more money!

Don't try to threaten residents with the possibilities of reduced property values or "second class" quality of education for their children as a result of the school millage failure.

Property values will not be affected and as for "second class quality of education," this can only be the result of poor administration.

Insurance status quo

Liability insurance of $1 million with an umbrella policy of an additional $1 million has been deemed sufficient by the Clarkston board of education.

Financial director William Jackson presented a letter to the board on July 13 from the district's insurance agent listing the costs of increased coverage.

"I told them I thought $1 million would be sufficient due to our budgetary problems," Jackson said.

A vote of the board would have been required to change the policy and the board opted to take no action.

New bus to roll

A special education bus with 163,000 miles on the odometer has been put to rest.

On July 13 in a 6-0 vote, the Clarkston board of education approved the purchase of a 20-passenger diesel bus with a Ward body and 1987 GMC chassis for $21,957.

The bid from Ride Equipment Co., Saginaw, was the lowest of two submitted from three requested by transportation director Mel Vaara.

Vaara said the special education bus travels about 21,400 miles each year. The retired bus was a 1979 converted Dodge van.

*Education

Clarkston Pride*

PHANTOM STRIKES: Bright yellow signs dotted downtown Clarkston Wednesday morning. They link Clarkston pride with athletics in an apparent reaction to the July 13 board of education meeting in which athletic director Paul Tungate was transferred to assistant principal of Clarkston Junior High School and his full-time athletic director post was eliminated. The change was one budget cut following the June 8 ballot defeat of 4.25 new operational mills. We wonder if the phantom sign painter was criticizing the board's action or supporting the passage of the millage expected to reappear on a special election ballot early in the 1987-88 school year—or both.

Biking inspires waitress

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Besides biking, waitressing at the Nickelodeon is probably Kathleen Spress' favorite pastime.

"I guess I really don't even consider it a job," said the Goodrich resident. "It's more fun for me. Maybe that's why I enjoy it so much."

She started working at the Nickelodeon, M-15, Independence Township, 11 years ago after her youngest son Steven went to school, she said, adding she plans to work a few more years still.

"I absolutely love it. . . . It's my ex-family. It's become a big part of me. Especially when women get to be my age and their children go to college, their job gets to be important. . . . They're wonderful to me here."

"I like the way we dress—the old fashioned dresses—and meeting the varieties of people who come in, from families to the elite. . . . I think that's what makes you interesting, a lot of variety."

Variety shows up in other areas of her life, too. For her 38th birthday, Steven and her other son Todd bought her a 10-speed bicycle. Ever since, she has ridden 7-10 miles a day.

"That I really love," she said. "That's my passion."

"That always makes me feel I've achieved something every day when I bike. . . . Everyone needs some kind of a goal, even a little one, to keep you going."

She also loves the flowers she plants annually around her home, and she likes to swim, boat and water ski on the lake she lives on, said Kathleen.

Kathleen seems to bring the enjoyment of her life to work.

"She is an absolute sweetheart," said Lori Masserang, and Independence Township resident who always asks for Kathleen when she eats at the Nickelodeon.

"My husband and I have been going there for years, and she's so pleasant all the time. She really is a happy person," said Lori.

"When you've had a harried day, it's nice to be treated like royalty. And she's always like that," she said.

Kathleen shared her philosophy on waitressing.

"When someone goes out to eat, you want to make their evening as enjoyable as possible. That's my purpose," she said, adding there's no such thing as smiling too much.

Do you know someone who works in the Clarkston area and deserves recognition for a job well done? We'd like to share your praise. Drop us a line at The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main St., Clarkston, MI 48016, or call 625-3370.

'Heat kills'

Summer is a season of increased activity for most people. We often are more hurried to get somewhere, so we try to rush through all the stops we have to make—a quick stop at the grocery store or running in to pay a bill or pick up a card for someone.

It is at these times that we put our loved ones in a potentially deadly situation. We leave them in the car on a hot summer day while we run our errands.

"People do not realize the severity of this situation or how frequently harm is done to our loved ones," said Dee Heinzerling, Chairperson of the Oakland County "Heat Kills" public awareness campaign.

The campaign is like others around the country that attempt, with the cooperation of private industry, to get warning signs placed in parking lots notifying people of the potential danger.

Most of us don't realize how hot the inside of a parked car can be. Although there are many variables, it's safe to say the temperature inside a parked car can reach more than 100 degrees in just 10 minutes, even with the windows slightly open.

"What happens to people and animals when they are left in cars at these temperatures for too long is called heat stress," said Carl Anderson, Manager of Oakland County's Animal Control Department.

"The body's temperature rises to dangerously high levels and irreparable brain damage, stroke and possible death can be caused in as few as 20 minutes," he said.

The treatment for people or animals is to lower the body temperature immediately. The best way is to place an ice pack on the back of the neck or immerse the entire body in a tub of cool water if available, he said. And always seek professional medical attention as soon as possible, said Anderson.

"We hope by bringing this situation to people's attention and reminding them of the danger of leaving people and pets in parked cars that maybe a life can be saved," said Heinzerling.

For more information on the Oakland County "Heat Kills" campaign, contact Heinzerling at 644-1468 or 644-3740 or Sal Nahera, 858-1395.

Village plans anti-demolition law

A special meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. August 3 at the Village Hall on an anti-demolition ordinance.

The Clarkston Village Council decided at its July 13 regular meeting to hold a joint session with the planning commission to consider the issue.

The anti-demolition ordinance should not be confused with the controversial historical ordinance, said Trustee Frank Millard.

"It's based on it, but it's not (the historical ordinance)," he said.

One of the differences in the anti-demolition ordinance is that it prohibits destruction of historical homes in the entire village, not just the historic district, Millard said.

The planning commission has already recommended approval of the new ordinance.

The special meeting was set up so that the village council and the planning commission could settle some minor differences, said President Sharron Catallo.

But for now, everything is still up in the air. "We don't even know what needs to be done; whether it should be an ordinance or a zoning change," Catallo said.

The Village Hall is located on 375 Depot Road.

Satisfied customers are the best advertising for a new company, that's why builder Tim Warner goes out of his way to please people.

His hard work was recognized by Consumers Power July 15 when they presented his house-building company with an energy efficiency award.

The Energy Efficiency Home Award program began last year, and Warner, an Independence Township resident, is the first recipient of the award from Oakland County, said Michael Bridges, a community services administrator for Consumers Power.

"The object is to encourage energy conservation and energy efficient home construction," said Bridges. "We want our consumers to use energy wisely."

"Even though energy costs have been falling, it's still a good idea to have energy concerns at the top of the list around the house," he said.

Qualifications for the award include an energy-efficient furnace and water heater, 9 to 12 inches of insulation in ceilings and 6 inches of insulation in walls.

To meet current building codes, the insulation levels are half what the award requires, Bridges said.

During the July 15 ceremony, the homeowner received a certificate and Warner a plaque.

Warner, who lives on Chapel View Drive, won the award for a house he built in Thendara Park. His company is currently working on four other homes in that area.

Warner, 33, started his own company five years ago with the goal of building homes people could be proud of.

What he accomplished in the process, was building homes that were extremely energy efficient. People moving into homes that double their living space but cut their energy bill in half is not uncommon, Warner said.

The reason for the reduction of the bill is the extra insulation Warner insists be installed on the walls and attic. In addition, foam caulking is used around all windows and doors and any cracks in the walls to completely seal up the house.

Warner didn't get into the construction business to build energy efficient homes.

"We want to build a quality product," said Warner. "I want to have a reputation as a quality home builder."

Winning the award from Consumers Power came as a pleasant surprise for him, Warner said.

One of the ways he makes his homes more efficient is paying attention to the little details.

Warner said that has been the key to the success for his company.

"People hardly ever do what is expected of them, they do what's 'inspected,'" he said.

He leaves no spot unprotected when it comes time to put insulation on a home his company is building.

Tim Warner stands in front of a house his construction company recently completed in Independence Township. He won an energy efficiency award from Consumers Power for the energy saving tactics he uses when building homes.

For example, most builders install the bathtub and shower before insulation is put in place. Once that's done, most people won't bother to insulate behind it. Warner has the insulation put in first.

"All of the good builders are (insulating houses better) now, the others are just doing their customers a disservice," said Warner.

Most homes built today need only an insulation rating of R18 through R24 to pass the building codes. Warner homes usually are usually double that standard.

dard.

Those figures might not mean much to the average consumer who wants to build a home, but satisfied home owners knows it translates into lower energy bills.

It's for that reason, Warner always uses the last house he completed as a model for prospective customers.

"I won't go around telling people how good my company is, our work will brag for us," Warner said.

Rifle shooters enter State games

Clarkston girls shooting for the gold

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The opportunity to capture a gold medal at the first Great Lakes State Games, enticed two Independence Township residents to bypass a national competition in favor of this Olympic-style event.

Hope and Cary Newport, of Ennismore Drive in Independence Township, entered the State games as rifle shooters.

The sisters will compete in the smallbore rifle event July 30 in Marquette instead of going to an annual national competition outstate.

The Great Lakes State Games were created as part of the Michigan Sesquicentennial celebration and will take place July 31 through August 2 on the campus of Northern Michigan University in Marquette.

Athletes can compete in 25 different events ranging from basketball to figure skating. The Games are open to all Michigan residents.

"My goal is to get the first gold medal (from the State Games)," said Hope, who will attend the University of Tennessee in the fall.

Her younger sister Cary, a junior at Clarkston High, has the same goal of winning a gold medal. Instead of causing problems, the family connection helps make them better shooters, said their mother, Diane.

"It's nice to have two shooters in one family because the competition is always there," she said.

Since their parents were hunter safety instructors, Hope and Cary were introduced to rifle shooting at an early age.

Both have competed in various events in the Midwest for the past four years and have filled a wall in their home with plaques they have won.

Hope qualified for an Olympic tryout in California with her excellent marksmanship this year but didn't attend.

If she qualifies again next year, Hope will travel to California for a shot at the Olympics, her mother said.

Most of the shooting contests take place during the first four months of the year, said Cary.

"Everything gets scheduled around shooting," she said of her family's hectic schedule.

Most of the dog days in the summer are spent practicing at a shooting range. According to the Newports, practice is something one can't get enough of.

"You can't be a weekend shooter," said Hope. Another reason summer is a slow season for

Cary (left) and Hope Newport will compete in the Great Lakes State Games July 30 in the smallbore shooting event. The sisters passed up an opportunity to enter a national event for the chance of winning a gold medal in the Olympic-style festival in Marquette.

shooting is due to the equipment the participants must wear.

Two sweatshirts and a leather shooting jacket are standard equipment. The thick clothing prevents the shooters' heartbeat from disrupting his or her aim, the Newports explained.

The bulls-eye on the targets the rifle shooters must hit from 50 yards away is no bigger than the tip of a needle.

The Newports usually practice three to five days a week and then compete on the weekend during the January through April shooting season.

Almost every available weekend is spent at one event or another, said Hope.

"After that, you're ready for a break," she said. During the summer the Newports have more free time and the State Games gives them the perfect opportunity to hone their skills.

The games don't officially begin until July 31, but due to a scheduling conflict, the shooting finals will occur the day before.

While the competition at the State Games should be hot and heavy, the Newports are looking forward to it.

"I love going to a new range and then coming back to tell people (in her shooting club) about it," said Hope.

First torch run comes to town

As a prelude to the State Games, an inaugural Torch Run, patterned after the Olympic Torch Run, is scheduled for July 22-31, 1987.

The torch will be carried on a path through the state winding its way into Pontiac. From there it will proceed north on Dixie passing through Pontiac, Waterford and Independence Township.

The torch will be in Independence Township on July 23 at approximately 2 p.m.

The Torch Run will begin in Lansing on July 22. The torch will be lit from Michigan's sesquicentennial flame burning at our State's Capitol.

The torch will proceed from Lansing to Mount Pleasant in two caravans; one covering the eastern portion of the state and another the west.

The two will reunite in Mount Pleasant and continue to the Mackinac Bridge. After crossing the bridge, the Torch Run will again divide, this time into three flames. One will proceed north to Sault Saint Marie, the second will begin in Menominee and the third in Ironwood.

All three segments will meet in Marquette on July 31 and will culminate as the Olympic-style torch is carried to the State Games Opening Ceremonies to officially open the Games for competition.

Construction not complete for course

Construction of a golf course at Indian Springs Metropark remains on schedule as work begins on Phase II.

The second nine holes of this project consists of the second nine holes, road parking lot, and an irrigation system with a pump house.

Play at the course is not expected until sometime in 1988.

This improvement was announced by James Clarkston, Chairman of the Huron, Clinton Metropolitan Authority, who represents Oakland County on the HCMA board.

Sign up for football

Registration for the Clarkston Chiefs football league occurs August 3 at the American Legion Hall on M-15.

Children 8-years old through 14 are invited to sign up from 6-8 p.m. that night. The fee is $25 for one child, $30 for two or more. Physicals will cost $3.

A cut-off limit of 44 players per unit and 14 cheerleaders per squad will be used, and there will be no waiting list.

New players and cheerleaders must bring a copy of their birth certificates.

My goal in life is to write a script for a Miller Lite beer commercial.

I'll bet anybody around that these ads—shown one-right-after-another—could draw a better Nielson rating than a lot of other so-called comedy shows now on the airwaves.

Miller started its famous series of commercials by using past and present sports stars doing funny things while drinking a beer that's less filling and tastes great. (I drink it because it tastes great just in case anybody wants to know what side of the fence I'm standing on.)

But, all good things must come to an end and so the ad company in charge moved onto a new series to promote Miller Lite.

Instead of many different famous personalities hawking their beer, Miller Lite has just one—Joe Piscopo.

There are approximately a half dozen new commercials out starring Piscopo as various different characters who happen to love Miller Lite.

There was the spoof on a big-time wrestler, a hot-shot basketball player, a bossy football coach, a Bruce Lee imitation and a 'rap' star. (I hope I haven't missed any because these commercials are classic pieces.)

What Miller Lite needs to continue this trend of innovative commercials is a spoof on sportswriters.

Piscopo, of course, is perfectly suited for the role. I would write the script but, I wouldn't even ask to be paid for my artistic contributions. (Maybe a case of complimentary beer would be a nice gesture.)

Props would be no problem. Miller Lite would supply Piscopo with one of those beautiful plaid blazers that Bob Uecker wears and he'll be ready.

The set would be a simple desk sitting in front of the camera. Piscopo would be slaving away over an old beat up Olympia typewriter as the commercial begins.

The graphics on the screen would say, "Scoops Piscopo."

As the camera zooms in on Piscopo's forehead beads of sweat start to form as he hits a writing block as deadline nears.

He can hear the impatient and unsympathetic sports editor pacing in the background waiting for the story to be completed.

Frustration begins to set in as he realizes that time is running out. He wonders why he didn't listen to his mother and become a cowboy.

Suddenly, he looks up from his typewriter and stares into the camera with a blank look on his face.

Then, slowly, a small smile begins to work its way across his face. He finally breaks through the mental block and completes his assignment seconds before deadline.

After he completed his task, Piscopo reaches into a desk drawer pulls out a can of Miller Lite and says, "After eight hours of watching sporting event after sporting event—and then having to remember what happened—I need a refreshment that won't fill me up" as he walks away, whistling joyfully.

"Miller Lite tastes great and is less filling," Piscopo would say as he heads off into the distance. "That's one point even my editor agrees with me on."

Merchants sparkle in sweep

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Shutouts in slow-pitch softball are rare, but the Clarkston Merchants nearly had two in one day last week.

The senior citizen softball team blanked the Sterling Heights Falcons 1-0 at Clintonwood Park July 15 and then whipped them in the second game 9-2.

Sterling Heights had to rally for two runs in the final inning to avoid the embarrassment of another shutout.

Clarkston ups its record in the "A" division of the Northeast/northwest Senior Citizen Softball League to 6-3 with the double-header sweep.

In the first game, the only run scored on an error. That was one of the few errors in the opening game, said one of the players, Ray Koskela.

Bob Waddell was the winning pitcher for the Merchants. He had previously thrown a no-hitter in a World Series Tournament game.

The Merchants defense continued to sparkle in the second game of the day. Clarkston turned a picture-perfect double play to end a Sterling Heights scoring threat in the first inning.

Just as in the first game, errors were the downfall of the visitors.

A dropped fly ball in right field opened up the floodgates in the bottom of the second inning when the Merchants scored seven runs to blow the game wide open.

Waddell had the big hit in the inning with a bases loaded double that knocked in two runs.

Jim Button tripled in another run and later came home on an error in the third inning to close out the scoring for the victors.

Sterling Heights had good scoring chances in the final three innings of play but were only able to cash in during the seventh inning.

The Merchants turned another double play in the fifth to end one threat and Sterling Heights left two runners on in the sixth.

Mental mistakes allowed the visitors to plate a couple of runs to ruin Waddell's bid for back-to-back shutouts.

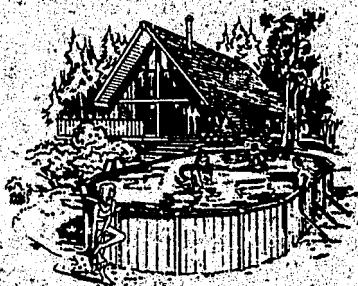

While the "A" team was sweeping its games from Sterling Heights the "B" team lost to Novi by a score of 14-6.

The game was close in the early stages—the score was once tied at 4-4—but too many errors contributed to the Merchants' demise.

Obedience is dog's strong point

BY PAT YOUNG

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Michele Viviano is enjoying her final year in 4-H, and so is Babe, her 1½-year-old Labrador retriever.

Nineteen-year-old Michele has been a 4-H'er for nine or 10 years, first working in crafts, then showing horses and this year, as she reaches the upper age limit for 4-H, she decided to show her dog in showmanship and obedience classes.

"It's a lot easier than horses," she says.

Michele is a member of the Davisburg Triple B's 4-H Club, which includes young people from the Davisburg and Clarkston area. She lives on Oakhill Road in Groveland Township with her parents, Karen and Mike, and her brother, Michael.

She acquired Babe as a 5-week-old bundle, after talking her mom into it.

Her aging Irish setter immediately "got his nose out of joint" over the puppy, Michele says, but they get along fine now.

"I used to take Fire (the Irish setter) to obedience class, not for 4-H, but just to learn obedience," Michele says. "He loved it. He just didn't take it seriously."

Babe loves the classes and the attention, too, but Babe takes it seriously.

"I took her to a 4-H fun match at Springfield Oaks in June," Michele says. "She placed third in subnovice and first place in showmanship. We also tried novice, which is off the leash work, and she placed first in novice."

Subnovice work, Michele explains, is all done on the leash, and she will enter Babe in the subnovice class July 25 at the Michigan 4-H dog show.

The state dog show will be at Michigan State University, East Lansing, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the MSU horse show grounds. 4-H'ers from all over the state will be demonstrating the skills they've learned and taught their animals through the 4-H dog program.

There are a variety of events including obedience, showmanship and leader dog puppy classes, where members demonstrate how well their animals have learned the basic skills they'll need later to become leader dogs for the blind.

It takes a lot of work to condition animals for the show ring.

Michele Viviano, 4-H member from Groveland Township, will show her Labrador retriever, Babe, at the Michigan 4-H dog show in East Lansing on July 25. More information about the dog show is available by calling the Cooperative Extension Service at 858-0889.

"First, you start with the basics, like sitting, staying, down," Michele says. "You work with the dog every day, getting into leash work, then getting him to stay on the-leash without moving."

If a dog even moves when he's not supposed to in the show ring, it means lost points, she says.

Michele has had help training Babe from several 4-H leaders including dog obedience trainer Marge Rollins.

"We're just going to try to do our best at the state show," Michele says. "We're just going to have fun."

She will return to MSU this fall, without Babe, to attend college. Her love of animals is reflected in her career goals.

Michele plans to major in animal science and horse management. She wants to manage a barn following graduation.

"I want to work with horses," she says, "But I enjoy all animals."

Teens receive state 4-H honors

BY ALISA NASS

Clarkston News Special Writer

When Erika Elliott and Ron Keen joined 4-H nine years ago, little did they imagine their involvement would lead to state side recognition.

Erika was chosen Michigan's top horse project member and Ron Michigan's 1987 leadership award winner, June 25, during 4-H Exploration Days at Michigan State University.

The two competed against 4-H project members from five Michigan districts for state honors and will attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Ill., this December to compete for national honors.

State awards were based on past involvement in 4-H and oral interviews.

"What they're looking for is your commitment, service and leadership," said Erika.

Erika, 17, is the only child of Gordon and Kristine Elliott of Davisburg, and is a member of the Knight Riders 4-H club.

Through 4-H, the Elliotts are hosting an exchange student from Denmark this summer. Trina Dele is in the United States for six weeks as part of the 4-H International Exchange program.

Since arriving, Trina has attended 4-H activities and Exploration Days, and like Erika, she is a long-time member of 4-H.

Erika joined 4-H after her family moved to Davisburg from Pontiac, and she convinced her parents to buy her a pony.

All of the neighbor kids were mobile on ponies, said her mother, adding that was one reason they let Erika have one.

"I always wanted a pony, and they decided I needed to know how to take care of it, and 4-H was the best way to learn," said Erika.

Since that time she has won numerous awards and has been involved in raising, showing and judging horses as well as working with the Horseback Riding for Handicappers program for the past three years.

Erika's interest in 4-H is limited not only to horses, but if a project area interested her, she would always try it once, she said.

So far, she has tried cooking, pencil drawing, poetry, basket weaving and dry flower arranging.

"It (4-H) grows on you. Once you're involved it kind of takes you over, plus you meet more people, and they get you involved," she said.

"One thing just leads to another," said her mother.

Currently Erika is teaching the county Senior Novice and Junior teenagers in horse judging competition. She was part of a four-member team that placed fifth in the National horse judging in Louisville, Ky.

Working with younger 4-H members is important, said Erika, adding she can share her past experiences.

"It's kind of like passing on your knowledge," she said.

"What they're looking for is your commitment, service and leadership."

—Erika Elliott

Erika, a senior this fall at Flint Powers Catholic High School, would like to study bio-engineering Michigan Technological University, Houghton.

Ron Keen, 17, Michigan's 1987 leadership award winner, is also looking forward to the trip.

"He's worked very, very hard to accomplish what he's accomplished, and we're proud of him," said his mother.

Ron, the son of Ron and Mary Keen of Davisburg, has a brother, Robert, 9, also involved in 4-H.

Ron will be a senior this fall at Holly high School and is interested in studying Fish and Wildlife Management after graduation.

He is a member of the Davisburg Busy Bee's, Interstate, Livestock and Service 4-H clubs. Conservation, shooting sports, swine, poultry and rabbits are some of the 58 project areas he has participated in.

"When he (Ron) was eight, this was a big 4-H area," said his mother. So when it was sign up time, he just had to sign up, she said.

Ron's first project area, rabbits, is still his primary interest, evident by the trophies he's won—over 300.

Ron raises 12 breeds of rabbits, mainly Netherland Dwarfs and Standard Chinchillas.

"Rabbits has taken me to places I probably wouldn't have seen," said Ron. He has shown his rabbits in seven surrounding states.

Ron has been president, vice-president and general club liaison to the midwest of the American Rabbit Breeders Association. He has also been president and secretary of Michigan Rabbit Breeders Association and a member of the State 4-H Rabbit Developmental Committee.

For Ron, 4-H has given him responsibility and leadership he might not have had otherwise, he said.

It also gives him the opportunity to meet people, share the knowledge he's gained and help people with problems, he added.

Ron Keen, Michigan's 1987 leadership award winner for 4-H, is greeted by these two goats who wonder if he brought anything to eat. Ron's primary 4-H project area is rabbits.

Friend to friend

I think my boyfriend's an alcoholic

Dear Friend to Friend:

Six years ago when my sister was my age, she got pregnant by a guy she wasn't allowed to be seeing.

They got married (he was in college and she quit high school). My parents were MAD! It took them a long time to even talk to her again.

Well, anyway they don't allow me to do anything. I am allowed to date but only after they interrogate the guy beforehand. This is very embarrassing.

It would be different if they were interested in him as a person, but it isn't like that—they question him as to what his intentions are.

They only like the guys I can't stand—they don't know what they are REALLY like, just the image they let my parents see.

Why can't they trust my judgment? This just gets me angry. I won't do the same thing my sister did! But if this keeps up, maybe I will just to get out of this house!

Frustrated

Dear Frustrated:

Although we can understand your frustration, we would like you to think about a couple of things.

First of all, part of growing up is to be able to put yourself in someone else's spot to see their point of view. Your parents probably were mad at your sister, but they were also hurt and worried about her.

They felt betrayed by your sister because they trusted her and they felt she let them down. Consequently, this made them want to protect you from following the same course of action.

They are doing it because they care about you! Second, you have to determine what goals you want from life. A good career possibly? A chance to travel and see the world? Have a happy, well-planned family? Drop out of school and try to make ends meet on welfare?

What you get out of life is up to you! You can't blame decisions you make on your parents; and doing things out of anger doesn't change how it will affect you.

Not being "trusted" by your parents can really create ill feelings between you. We suggest that you try an open, honest approach with your parents.

Try sitting down with them and talking to them about how you feel. Don't blame—this shuts down communication.

For example—"I feel I have earned your trust by..." instead of "You don't trust me because of what my sister did."

Show them you are responsible by making responsible decisions rather than "running away."

Good luck and let us know what happens!

Dear Friend to Friend:

My boyfriend acts like an alcoholic. He drinks to get drunk several times a week. Not that he acts bad or real mean when drunk, but he ignores me.

When I tell him he should do something about his drinking, he gets mad and says that he's not an alcoholic because he goes to school every day and also has a job.

He also says he doesn't have to drink if he doesn't want to. What can I do?

Looking for Help

Dear Looking:

You are probably right about your boyfriend. He sounds like he has a serious drinking problem to us.

Since we assume he's a teenager, too, we think that he's certainly at risk of being an alcoholic if he isn't one already.

It's not easy trying to help someone else with a drinking problem. Usually they do deny having a problem just as your boyfriend does.

Like him, they have all sorts of "proof" to show they can handle themselves and the booze.

In the end, perhaps all you can do is not get sucked into the kind of life he's leading. No matter how much you like him or want to help him, you perhaps don't want to sacrifice your life to help someone who refuses to look at his behavior or accept help.

Sometimes breaking up with such people may force them to accept help or to look at the way their behavior drives other people away.

Letters to Friend to Friend are answered by a panel of Clarkston High School students working under the sponsorship of Aware, a community group devoted to action and education against chemical dependency.

Students can submit letters by placing them in the designated "problem locker" at CHS, Clarkston Junior High or Sashabaw Junior High. The locker is available for use during summer months.

Letters can also be sent to Friend to Friend in care of The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston, MI 48016.

Missing

David Kwasnick

Missing: the first half of my summer. Has anybody seen it? Does anybody know where it is? If so, please contact me. I'd love to have it back.

Summer; it's such a strange thing. It's the only season of the year able to transcend the laws of time. When else does time move so quickly? It's as though minutes were seconds, hours now minutes, and so on. The whole thing is confusing.

Personally, I think summer has its own set of time tables, different from all others. Or, at least, that's how it feels. It's kind of like wondering why it's light outside so late at night and not knowing about daylight saving time. Anyway, effective immediately, the public should be made aware of these facts.

During "Summer Time" (What else would you call it?) seconds used by themselves and not numbering more than 30 are done away with. The smallest unit of time is the minute. The minute is made up of what used to be 30 seconds and cannot be broken down into smaller increments. (These increments would be useless, anyway, since nobody moves that fast in the summer.)

Next comes the hour. It is made up of no more than 35 minutes, and gets progressively faster and faster as the summer passes by. The day is made up of 15 hours, the week of 4 days, and the month of 2 1/2 weeks. Since the days and weeks are based upon the hour, they also get faster and faster as the summer wears on. (Isn't that the way it usually feels, regular time?)

The month is the largest division of Summer Time since, of course, there is no place for a year in the summer. However, the year is used in another type of time besides regular—a time that seems to drag on forever. I'll give you a hint, does the term "school year" ring a bell.

Threefold learning

by Barbara Glover

Ann Craven and her twin sister, Joanne, were born in Munising and raised in Rogers City.

Ann was graduated from Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, in 1973 with a bachelor's degree in education. Currently, she is working on a degree in learning disabilities at Oakland University, Rochester.

Ann Craven believes in creating and maintaining a positive learning environment.

During her 10 years with the Clarkston schools, Ann has taught at many instructional levels including a special trainable program and grades one through five.

Presently Ann is in her fifth year of teaching in an upper educable mentally impaired classroom at Clarkston Elementary where she finds the job very challenging but equally rewarding.

Ann believes in creating and maintaining a positive learning environment.

"I feel it is important for the children to learn individually, competitively and cooperatively," she says.

Ann is married to John Craven, a teacher and coach at Clarkston Junior High School. They have two sons, Sean, 10, and Jason, 8.

The Craven family enjoys family oriented activities such as camping, traveling, cross country skiing and attending sporting events.

Members of the Clarkston United Methodist Church, the Cravens are also new members of the Clarkston Community Historical Society.

For relaxation from her very busy schedule, Ann enjoys reading and taking long walks.

An Apple for the Teacher is provided through a committee of the Clarkston Education Association. This week's author is Barbara Glover, a sixth grade teacher at Clarkston Elementary School.

Microwave-plus

Pies in a jiffy

Betty Wagner

Picnic time is always enhanced with delicious finishes in the form of pies.

But few cooks want to heat up the kitchen during the summer to bake even their favorite pie. Microwave owners can have their favorite pie and a cool kitchen in record time.

The following recipes are courtesy of Whirlpool Corp.

SOUTHERN PECAN PIE

- 1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
- Dried beans
- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 3 beaten eggs
- 1 cup dark corn syrup
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup pecan halves

Do not prick pie shell. Place heavy plastic wrap inside of pie shell. Add dried beans to about 1-inch depth in pie plate.

Cook, uncovered, at medium high (70 percent power) for 8 minutes, turning dish once. Carefully lift plastic wrap and beans from shell. Cook shell, at 70 percent power, 3 more minutes. Set aside.

Place butter in 4 cup Pyrex measure or 1 quart mixing bowl. Melt at high for 1 minute. Add flour; blend well. Cool slightly; stir in eggs, corn syrup and sugar.

Cook, uncovered, at medium (50 percent) for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add vanilla. Turn into prepared pie shell. Arrange pecans over top.

Cook, uncovered, at medium low (30 percent) for 8 minutes or until just set. Give plate one-half turn during cooking.

KEY LIME PIE

- 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 egg yolks
- 1/2 cup lime juice
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 teaspoon grated lime peel
- Few drops green food coloring
- 4 egg whites
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup whipping cream, whipped
- 1 9-inch baked pie shell*

In 1 1/2 quart Pyrex bowl, combine gelatin, 1/2 cup sugar and salt. In mixer bowl, beat egg yolks, lime juice and water; stir into gelatin.

Cook at medium (50 percent power) for 4-5 minutes or until just bubbly, stirring every 30 seconds.

Add lime peel and food coloring; mix well. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon.

When gelatin mixture nearly mounds, beat egg whites to stiff peaks. Gradually add 1/2 cup sugar; beat to stiff peaks. Fold mixture into egg whites; fold in whipped cream.

Pile into baked pastry shell. Chill until firm. Garnish with additional whipped cream and lime wedges.

*To bake pie shell, prick shell all over bottom and around sides. Cook at medium high (70 percent) for 8-9 minutes. Turn half way through. Cool.

Micro tip: To bake a frozen pie, unwrap and place the pie in the microwave oven. Cut slits in the top crust to vent. Microwave at high power for 10 minutes to defrost, then place the pie plate on a baking sheet; place in a preheated conventional oven at 425 degrees for 20 minutes.

Tasha can be adopted at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The adoption fee for Tasha is $25.

PASSING TIME: The benches around Clarkston's newly installed town clock provide a perfect resting and meeting place. On a sunny Wednesday, Michaelene Hearn and her daughter Erin take advantage of the moment.

The 1909 Seth Thomas clock was provided through the fundraising efforts of the Independence Township Sesquicentennial Council. It was unveiled during a dedication ceremony on July 4.

Senior citizens meet for myriad of activities

BY PETER AUCHTER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Day-in and day-out, the senior citizen center in Independence Township buzzes with activity.

From making useful crafts to playing softball, senior citizens can do just about anything their hearts desire, says the center's coordinator Rina Chemin.

The building, located on the grounds of Clintonwood Park, is equipped with pool tables, cable television, a wood shop and an organ. The center also has tables, chairs and a kitchen so members can just sit around and talk if they wish.

Membership is $5 a year for residents ($2 for a spouse) and $10 for non-residents. The fee allows the seniors use of the building and includes a subscription to a monthly newsletter outlining upcoming activities.

The senior center fields three softball teams and two volleyball teams, and the seniors play golf at Spring Lake Country Club one day a week and go on fishing trips to Big Lake on another.

There are also monthly pool shooting tournaments, card games and field trips. One of the favorite spots for the seniors to travel is Tiger Stadium, said Chemin.

Two day trips are scheduled each month and, during baseball season, one is usually to Tiger Stadium, said Chemin. Extended trips also are offered. The seniors will be going to Mackinac Island in October, for example.

For those with musical interests, the six-piece band "The Senior Strummers" calls the center its home base.

On Friday mornings, all of the interested seniors gather at the center for a sing-a-long.

But the center's activities are not all fun and games, said Chemin. Some are educational.

There are monthly speeches on medical topics, such as high blood pressure, to better inform the seniors on what they can do to lead healthy lives.

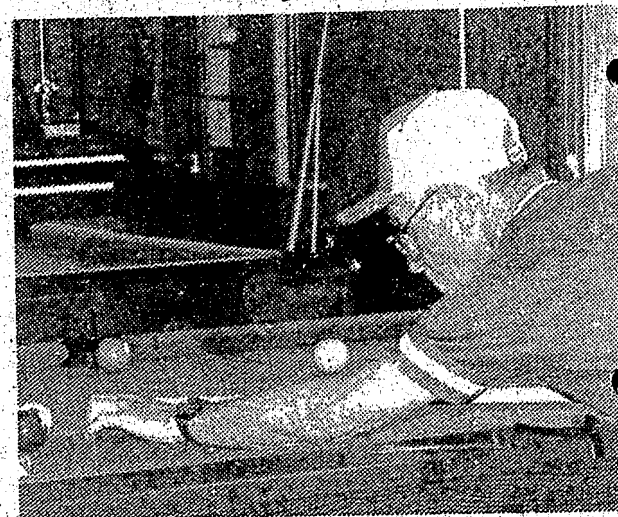

Chemin said the center tries to have as many roast-type dinners during the summer months as possible, including an annual Pig Roast.

For more information on the senior citizen center, call 625-8231.

The senior citizen center in Clintonwood Park provides Independence Township's older residents with a place for their many activities.

Nothing could be better!

BY FRANK RONK

Supervisor, Independence Township

Independence Township is a great place to live.

We are fortunate to have most all of the services offered in our area that a well-rounded community should have to accommodate the needs of the residents for their day-to-day living.

I enjoy the rolling hills that make up most of our township, and the lakes add so much to the beauty across the landscape of the area.

Most of the buildings in the township are well kept and the people take pride overall in the maintenance of their property.

The Village of Clarkston is important to me in that it is still the hub of activity for the most populated area of Independence Township and it has such a neat setting in the valley around the pond.

Our schools are located strategically across the area they serve and we enjoy, as residents of the Clarkston Community School District, the privilege of an excellent educational system.

I cannot compare living in any other community with living in Independence Township and the Village of Clarkston because I have never lived out of this community.

I have always enjoyed living here; and even with the many changes that have taken place over the past 50 years, I don't know of any other place I might want to live.

Village life: something for everyone

Village President Sharron Catallo presides over Clarkston Village Council meetings at Village Hall, 375 Depot. The council meets the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

BY SHARRON CATALLO
President, Village of Clarkston

When I was asked to write about what it is like to live in Independence Township, more specifically the Village of Clarkston, my first inclination was to put it off for a while because it would be such an easy project.

Now as I sit here with pen and paper, I realize a description of village life is as diverse as the people who live here.

So, I will not presume to know what all the other residents of the village feel about living in this community, but I will expand on what I enjoy about residing in Clarkston.

There is a close-knit neighborhood atmosphere; over-the-fence discussions about weather, gardens and children; and people you can count on, at times when you need them most.

There is a beautiful park, where people gather for winter walks, spring weddings, summer concerts and an autumn fair.

We are fortunate enough to have one of the 16 existing downtowns in Oakland County and we know how it feels to have businesses where people know us by name.

There are residents who have lived here forever and those who are just beginning village living, with a multitude of occupations and lifestyles. This very special mixture is what makes Clarkston a vital community.

It's a place you can walk down the streets and see an area that existed much the same over a hundred years ago.

You can stop and visit at the fire station, meet a friend at the coffee shop or walk to a meeting at the township or village hall.

There is something for everyone in the Village of Clarkston—it's a special place.

On keeping the positive image...

BY MILFORD MASON

Superintendent, Clarkston Schools

Perception is often reality for many people. This is true of our community and certainly our schools.

Having lived and worked in Clarkston for more than a quarter century, I'm fully aware of the positive comments made by my colleagues and friends about our community and schools.

One first reacts with good feelings. But then, because of an awareness of the issues, problems and challenges that are always present, one realizes the charge that the perception carries with it.

As a result, a lot of school employees and a host of parents and citizens work just a bit harder to assure that the perception carries with it a degree of reality. That's what makes our school system unique.

The continuing development of the township and the area within the school district have brought new challenges for the schools.

In the last few months, the district has seen dramatically increasing property values while the cost of living has remained relatively low.

Those two factors, coupled with an archaic system of funding schools in Michigan has produced the opposite of what one might logically expect in the fiscal integrity of our schools.

The district's only recourse is to ask its citizens for financial assistance or proceed to dismantle what has been a solid, basic educational program.

Perception may best be defined as "awareness of elements of the environment through sensation." Over the years, many citizens of Clarkston have worked diligently to make the perception of our school system also the reality.

But to make it so, we must press for a greater sensitivity to the elements of the changing environment in Clarkston and the demands it puts upon us in the school system.

cond Monday of each month at 8 p.m. at the district administration office, 6389 Clarkston Rd., Independence Township.

During the program, the children have a chance to feel llama wool.

Dick and Janet Kleber of Independence Township have five llamas, but they brought Rudy [right], 5, a guanaco llama, and Foster Grant ("Shades"), 4, to the preschool story hour at the library July 15.

Lauren Timmeran, 2, finds her mother Maria provides a good seat to view the llamas. Lauren came with her brother Eric, 3½.

Llamas at the library

Photostory
by Julie Campe

Some of the preschoolers at the Independence Township Library found as much enjoyment in the grass as in the llamas owned by the Klebers of Independence Township. From left, Amanda VanKleek, 3; Katie Rose, 4½; and April Preseau, 3, are entertained by the grass July 15.

Books, films, pigs, sheep, llamas, costume parties, Christmas tree decorations and magicians—many children in the area are familiar with all of the above.

They're part of the regularly scheduled events for children at the Independence Township Library, 6495 Clarkston Rd.

The number of children using the facilities and programs has increased, said Anne Rose, head of children's services at the library.

As the township grows, so does the library—in circulation and in the registration for programs, she said.

With more children using the facilities, they've expanded the programs to separate them into age groups, she said.

In the summer, a reading program for elementary school age kids offers book suggestions and speakers or films, she said.

The program also includes voluntary book reports, projects and talent shows.

In the preschool story hour, sometimes a special visit from an unusual person or animal accompanies a story, said Rose.

The library also hosts an annual Halloween party for elementary age children, a Christmas party for children up to third grade and baby-sitting workshops for 11-year-olds and up, she said.

For seventh-graders and older, they have computer picks—custom book choices made by a computer based upon a questionnaire completed by each person.

During the school year, children do homework at the library and use the reference area, she said, adding they'll help in any way they can.

But the best part about the children's services is the potential to be found in the children, said Rose.

"These are our future people," she said. "And they're here on a voluntary basis. . . . It gives us lots of scope for helping them with recreational or educational things."

Community education offers classes for all ages, interests

BY ALISA NASS

Clarkston News Special Writer

The opportunity to earn a high school diploma, along with job placement, enrichment classes and child care are some of the services offered by Clarkston Community Education.

The program was started in January 1982 and is part of Clarkston Community Schools.

"It's just increased significantly every year," said Ginny Farmer, coordinator of adult and alternative education.

"We've had tremendous support from the community, also from K-12 administrators as well as the board of education and the superintendent. Because of this support the program continues to grow," she said.

Some 1,100 volunteers play an important role in the success of the program. Each school building involved in the program has a volunteer coordinator, said Jeanne Molzon, coordinator of youth programs.

A brochure with a complete list of classes and services offered by community education will be available in mid-August. The brochure is sent to all residents with a Clarkston mailing address.

Any questions regarding receiving a brochure or about community education can be directed to the Learning Center at 674-0993 after Aug. 3.

Just for fun: Swim, picnic and play ball in trio of township parks

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Providing entertainment for residents age 18 months and up is a year-long goal of the Independence Parks and Recreation Department, said coordinator Sheryl Stickley.

By offering more than 250 programs during each year, the department can suit just about anybody's needs, said Stickley. The plan seems to be working.

"All of the programs have been going over real well," she said.

"We have everything from competitive leagues to arts and crafts," she added.

Two brochures are published (spring/summer and fall/winter editions) and mailed to all Independence Township residents.

They include information on all of the activities offered. Additional copies are available at the department's Main Street office.

The most popular adult programs sponsored by the parks and recreation department are the summer and fall softball leagues. More than 100 teams are currently playing ball.

For younger children, parks and recreation offers a playground or day camp program at local schools or Independence Oaks County Park to keep kids busy during the day while parents are working.

"These programs work ideally with the latchkey program since there are so many working couples in Independence Township," said Stickley.

Another popular program is swimming lessons. Stickley said enrollment has been outstanding this summer for the classes at Deer Lake.

For those who like to plan their own activities, Independence Township boasts three different sites residents can visit to "get away from it all."

Clintonwood Park, on Clarkston Road, is a 120-acre facility with picnic sites, restrooms, basketball courts, softball fields, tennis courts, volleyball nets and playground equipment.

When the weather gets hot, Deer Lake becomes a popular spot for residents to cool down. The 140-acre lake off White Lake Road, has a beach and boat launching area open to residents for a nominal fee. Sailing, water skiing and windsurfing are popular activities, said Stickley.

Sashabaw Plains Park, off Maybee Road, has soccer fields, picnic sites, a baseball field and playground equipment.

The 15-acre facility is used for limited soccer league play during the spring and fall during the week. Youth softball takes place there during the spring as well.

Golf courses about around Clarkston town

BY PETER AUCHTER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Beautiful scenery and low prices are just two advantages golfers enjoy when playing at a Clarkston area course.

There are four courses around and another on the way, providing golfers with many different options.

Golfers can spend a leisurely day at the Spring Lake, Pine Knob, Clarkston or Springfield Oaks golf courses.

Business has been booming lately, said area golf course owners.

One reason was the warm weather this spring that helped get the golfing season off on the right foot.

"We are having a good year. The weather has been excellent," said Dan Fife, owner of the Spring Lake Course on Maybee Road in Independence Township, adding that the number of golfers has increased over last year.

Golf leagues dominate the afternoon schedule at Spring Lake, playing 3:30 until 6:30 p.m. weekdays, Fife said. Lessons are not available.

The cost to golf at Spring Lake is $6.75 for nine holes on weekdays and $7.50 on weekends.

Golf carts can be rented for $8 for nine holes or $16 for eighteen holes. The country club course also has complete clubhouse, pro-shop and dining room facilities.

The Clarkston Golf Course on Eston Road in Independence Township also has experienced some growth due to the warm weather this spring.

"A lot of new people have been coming out," said Jean Frechette, who owns the course with her husband Paul.

Area golfers are lucky because they can find many good courses within a 10-mile radius of Clarkston, Frechette said.

One of the advantages to golfing at the Clarkston golf course is the beautiful scenery.

"The view here is pretty," said Frechette. "It's pretty high up and you can see a lot."

Lessons are available at the course by appointment only and cost $10 per session.

The cost is $5.75 for nine holes during the week at the Clarkston golf course and a dollar more on weekends. Club rental is available for $1.50.

Golfers can choose between a pull cart ($1.50 for nine holes) or riding cart ($8).

During the week, Clarkston offers seniors and juniors a discount: $3.75 for nine holes.

Besides a complete pro-shop, the Clarkston course has a restaurant, bar and banquet rooms.

Even though the course at Springfield Oaks County Park off Andersonville in Springfield Township is owned by the public, the conditions rival those at a private club, said Gary Berschbach, manager of the course.

On top of that, Springfield Oaks is one of few courses around that offers seniors a discount, and that accounts for a lot of their business, said Berschbach.

"We really are pretty busy right now," said Berschbach. "We have all that we can handle."

The cost for nine holes during the week at Springfield Oaks is $5.75 for nine holes and $9.50 for 18. During the weekend, rates are $6.75 and $12 respectively.

Pull carts, rental clubs and a full-service restaurant are available as well.

The final course in the Clarkston area is one nestled in the woods off Waldon Road in Independence Township.

Pine Knob has been favorably compared to other courses in Northern Michigan by golfers who have played both, said Matt Daubner, owner of the course.

One hole in particular—the 10th—leaves many of the golfers who visit Pine Knob with a lasting impression of the course's beauty as they tee off high on a hill that overlooks a large wooded area that surrounds the green.

There are a lot of things that make Pine Knob a good golf course, said Daubner.

"It's very scenic and there is a lot of water and woods around," he said. "It's a pleasant place to be."

Lessons are offered by the course pro for $15 per half hour. A pro shop and banquet facilities are also available.

Weekday fees at the course for nine holes are $11 and $18 for 18 holes. Tack on an extra $2 to the 18-hole fee on the weekends.

Pine Knob offers a special rate every day of $25 for two people playing nine holes with a cart after 6 p.m.

With the warm weather everyone has enjoyed so far this season, golfers have been flocking to the course, said Daubner.

"More and more people are coming out as they are finding out about golf," he said.
