New millage vote set for Oct. 27

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

On Tuesday, Oct. 27, Clarkston school district voters will be asked to approve an additional tax of 4.25 mills.

Following the recommendation of Superintendent Milford Mason, the board voted 7-0 Monday night to approve the special election date and the amount.

The millage will be earmarked for operational purposes, in other words for the day-to-day operation of the school district. If voters approve the tax increase, property owners will pay an additional $4.25 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

School district voters rejected an identical millage request on the June ballot, and Mason noted that it was tempting to request a lesser amount in October.

He also said a case could be made for requesting a higher amount due to the belief that the state will again next year, as this year, restrict increases in the state aid formula by 3.5 percent or less.

Public hearing set

Complaints, comments and suggestions are wanted about the water traffic on Deer Lake in Independence Township.

A public hearing is scheduled with the Department of Natural Resources at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 25, at the Kirchgessner Auditorium in Clarkston High School, 6595 Middle Lake Rd., Independence Township.

Oral and written comments will be accepted. To submit comments before the meeting, send them to the Department of Natural Resources Law Enforcement Division, Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909 or call (517) 335-3414.

Helping hand

When the Clarkston area lost its phone service for about an hour and a half Sunday, the Independence Township Fire Department relied upon radio service from other police and fire departments.

Firefighters from Independence asked the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and the four bordering fire departments to radio the Independence department if they received calls for them, said Fire Chief Gar Wilson.

They didn't receive any serious calls in which time would have been an important factor, he said.

"We were fortunate," he said.

"If there's a problem, and people don't get through, it may be the phone," said Wilson, adding they should call the sheriff's department or bordering fire departments if they run into trouble.

The Headlee Amendment is also expected to roll back the tax rate in 1988-89 because the rate of inflation is expected to be lower than the increase in property value.

This year, the Headlee Amendment caused the school district's tax rate to drop from 33.33 mills to 32.194 mills and the rate is [See MILLAGE, Page 2]

Busy schedule for Labor Day

Planning ahead for Labor Day? A host of activities in and around Clarkston can provide fun for all ages.

On Sunday, Sept. 6, at noon, the Independence Township Firefighters Association is sponsoring a waterball competition with various area fire departments. Spectators usually get wet, too. The place to be is Clarkston's Depot Park parking lot on Depot Street.

On Monday, Sept. 7, from 7 to 10 a.m., the firefighters will put on their annual pancake breakfast in Clarkston's Depot Park. Adults pay $4 and children pay $3 for all the pancakes you can eat, sausage, milk and orange juice.

On Monday, Sept. 7, the annual Labor Day Parade sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club begins at 10 a.m. The parade starts at Clarkston Junior High School and heads west on Church Street and north on Main Street to Miller Road.

On Monday, Sept. 7, at noon, the annual Corn Roast begins at the American Legion Post No. 63 at 8041 M-15, just north of the Village of Clarkston and the I-75 overpass.

For further information on the pancake breakfast, call the fire department at 625-1924.

Unlawful soliciting no problem in township

Only one phone call was received last week about unlawful soliciting in Independence Township, said Clerk Richard Holman.

Apparently, a salesperson would not leave a residence, he said, adding the company, Sunsation, did not have a township permit to solicit door-to-door.

He advised the resident to call the Oakland County Sheriff's Department (OCSD), he said.

If others have problems, they should first call the township office to see if the salesperson has a township permit, said Holman.

If there is no permit, the OCSD is to be notified. If a permit has been issued, the township will ask the resident to call the OCSD if the salesperson is causing problems. The township can also talk to the salespeople the next time the company requests a permit, he said.

To help keep solicitors away, free "No Solicitors Allowed" signs are available at the township office, 90 N. Main, Clarkston.

Usually, the township receives 10 to 12 complaints a year about people soliciting door-to-door, Holman said, adding the last complaints followed a group called PIRGIM, who did not have a township permit.

Because of their First Amendment right to free speech, solicitors are allowed to solicit in the township if they are registered, he said.

"Usually, it's not a problem," Holman said.

Millage heads back to voters

expected to drop to 31.53 in 1988, Mason said. Mason also listed several reasons for choosing Oct. 27.

If voters approved the tax increase, there would be eight working days before the second marking period to reinstate programs and staff to previous levels, he said, adding that most secondary school changes would probably have to wait until the second semester.

In addition, all school buildings would have had their fall open houses prior to the 27th, the Tuesday date would allow time for handling last-minute details on a working day, the Big Three/UAW negotiations would probably be over and the date would allow time for an eight-week campaign.

Six board members contacted before the meeting had said they felt comfortable with the date, Mason said.

Two board members made brief comments before the date and millage amount were approved.

"I'm comfortable with the date. I think there's some logic to it," said John Needham.

Board President Janet Thomas noted that the board has talked about the return of the millage to the ballot so frequently that there was no need for further discussion.

After the vote, Mason said a list of 98 possible election volunteers had been compiled from names on sign-in sheets at previous meetings and from six nominations by each building principal.

Mason also said he wanted involvement by the board of education and students in the planning sessions that are to begin "right after Labor Day."

Clarkston High School senior Corey Whisner said that 25 fellow students had already agreed to work on publicity for the millage campaign.

"We'll be sending stuff to the newspapers and putting up fliers," he said.

HOT AIR BALLOONS will fill the sky Aug. 22

Festival in the clouds

BY PAT YOUNG

Clarkston News Staff Writer

As a dozen colorful hot air balloons slowly took shape in the field behind Springfield Oaks Youth Activities Center, representatives of the news media, some with apprehensive expressions on their faces, prepared for an unforgettable experience.

The occasion was a media preview of the second annual Hot Air Balloon Festival planned Aug. 22 from 10 a.m. to midnight at Springfield Oaks.

Members of the media were given highlights of the upcoming festival by Oakland County Chief of Parks Dan Stencil.

Then they were offered hot air balloon rides by the participating balloonists on hand at the Aug. 12 press conference.

"We hope to create some excitement for the Hot Air Balloon Festival," Stencil said. "It was started last year as a Springfield Township sesquicentennial event. This year, we will celebrate Michigan's sesquicentennial. We are building the festival to be an annual event."

Stencil outlined some of the festival events including a classic car show, arts and crafts sale, historical tours, carnival games, puppet shows, clowns, a moonwalk, pony rides and an animal petting farm.

There will also be a barbecue and other food concessions, a combination roller skating/dance party, a square dance and kite flying demonstrations.

The balloon competition, with around 30 balloonists, will take place at 6 p.m. Alternate flight date, in case of unfavorable weather, is Aug. 23 at 6 p.m.

The weather cooperated on the evening of [See BALLOONS, Page 30]

WHILE PREVIEWING THE BALLOON Festival, a dozen balloonists took members of the news media up for a taste of what's to come this Saturday at the second annual Oakland County

Hot Air Balloon Festival at Springfield Oaks Youth Activities Center near Davisburg. More information on the festival is available by calling 858-0906.

County Hot Air Balloon Festival scheduled from 10 a.m. to midnight this Saturday at Springfield Oaks Youth Activities Center on Andersonville Road, Springfield Township.

Fire avoided

A hot electrical panel in a Clarkston business could have become a fire last Friday, but the fire department was called before the building could ignite, said Chief Gar Wilson of the Independence Township Fire Department.

"We were very lucky," he said.

The manager of Max Brook Realty had noticed it Thursday night and called the fire department Friday--on the business line, said Wilson.

When firefighters opened the panel, it was glowing red, he said.

"It's a wonder it didn't catch fire overnight," he said. "They were real fortunate that it didn't extend past the electrical box."

An electrician was called to fix the problem, said Wilson.

If an electrical box or wires are ever hot, the fire department should be called to check them, he said.

"It makes our job a lot easier if we can catch it in that state rather than when the wall's on fire," he said.

Four-car crash

No one was injured in a four-car accident at 6:45 p.m. Saturday on Sashabaw Road, just north of I-75 in Independence Township.

A driver didn't stop when the traffic ahead of him slowed and he ran into the car in front of him, causing three collisions, according to the report at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The driver, Michael Wayne O'Donnell of Mount Clemens was given tickets for speeding and for driving without a license, according to the police report.

Most of the cars involved were on the way to the Echo & The Bunnymen concert at the Pine Knob Music Theatre.

The new telephone was making little beeps whenever anyone dialed. The new computer system added its foreign clicks and the "mouse" used to give directions to the computer squeaked now and then.

"I feel like a cat," said I.

Needless to say, the comment drew some polite looks of incredulity from my co-workers at The Clarkston News. People just don't run around saying things like that, I guess.

I, too, wondered why the words sprang from my lips. Then I started thinking about the cat in my life.

Sometimes in the evening when the dog is exhausted from a day of hyperactivity, he finds a spot outside the traffic pattern and stretches his long body out for a snooze.

The cat, who has avoided his zippy path all day, makes a leap for my lap. She shuts her eyes, turns on her motor and purrs a song of contentment.

The only thing I can imagine that could compare to a purring cat is meditation. The cat is the guru. The rhythm of her purring encourages relaxation and all a person has to do is flow with it.

Outside influences can break the flow: someone knocks on the door, someone calls the dog, someone decides a snack is in order and the dog springs into action to conduct the serious business of snack share coaxing.

All purring stops. The cat's eyes flash open and her ears move. Her muscles tighten.

On the alert, she's ready to dash away to the peace of a window sill overlooking tree-tops or to a magazine basket in the corner with enough room to accommodate a meditating cat.

Sometimes, she decides to stay put, but her body language has changed. Then, even the smallest of noises necessitates identification. Her ears keep on moving and she doesn't return to her previous rag doll state of relaxation.

That's something to look forward to ... tomorrow.

Jet ski woes

Two recent incidences prompt this note requesting closer monitoring by township officials of the jet ski regulation on Deer Lake.

The first and most serious involved a water skier being harassed by a jet skier following too closely and refusing to allow more distance even after signals from the skier and the towboat.

The second is of the nuisance variety involving noise and pollution. A recent house guest announced he was awakened by jet ski noise--the time, before 8 a.m.!

The maneuverability that makes the jet ski so inviting to many also allows dangerous crisscrossing and unpredictable boating procedures.

The droning jet ski motor, multiplied by its growing number, has become a real noise factor on the lake.

Some degree of regulation, whether certain hours or designated days, must be pursued to protect Deer Lake boaters and the jet skiers as well.

Omit the fence

The Mill Pond is the most peaceful lake around here that I know of.

It's beautiful, especially the depth, the willow trees all around, the different shades. It's serene.

It's too bad the fence by the parking lot was put up just recently. It's obstructing the view. It's causing a lot of aesthetic problems with some of us.

I've been here so many times before there was a fence. To me, Clarkston is well-behaved. We don't need that fence.

This is a jewel for this community, and they should polish it and keep the sparkle going.

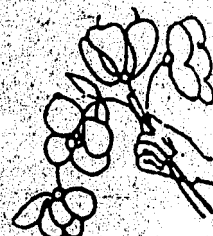

Even removing the two segments by the water would help so it wouldn't interrupt the line of vision along the pond.

Also, a garbage can is needed by the benches.

Tuneful tribute

Editor's note: As a tribute to Sherrill Bailey, a second-grade teacher at Clarkston Elementary, her pupils modified the words to "Rubber Ducky," the song originally performed by Kermit the Frog of TV's "Sesame Street" fame.

The children sang the tune for Miss Bailey at their end-of-school party in June and agreed they'd like to share their tribute with a wider audience through The Clarkston News.

The phrase "mad minutes" refers to an exercise in which the children tried to complete a series of math problems in 60 seconds. Blue squares were used in the classroom as rewards for good behavior.

The tribute follows:

"Oh Miss Bailey, you're the one
"You made second grade so much fun
"Oh Miss Bailey, we're awfully fond of ...
"Oh Miss Bailey, we're awfully mad (minutes) about you!"

Friendly faces

Movies are her hobby and her job

BY JULIE CAMPE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

"Crocodile Dundee," "Tough Guys" and "Wanted Dead or Alive" are some of Tanya Selhost's favorite video movies.

As the manager at Discount Video, Dixie Highway, Independence Township, Tanya has seen a lot of them.

Her all-time favorite movie, though, is "Better Off Dead" with John Kusak.

"I love John Kusak," she said. "Anything he's in is good."

He was also in the "Sure Thing," she said, for the benefit of those of us who may not be up on the new star.

"This is great," she said. "I'm supposed to be a friendly face, and I love the shoot 'em ups."

If you ask, Tanya will recommend a movie for just about any taste, especially for children.

A child development major at Oakland Community College, Tanya's favorite children's movie is "The Never Ending Story." Also, Disney movies are good and so is "Flight of the Navigator," she said.

Tanya likes "The Boy Who Could Fly," but some parents think it's too sad for children, she said.

She loves her job and she loves recommending movies, she said.

"I love the customers. When I went away to school, they sent me cards," Tanya said.

She attended Southern Florida State University last year, and she even ran into a few customers on the beach.

"They're great. I get to know a lot of different customers, not just one adult, but their families and their kids," she said.

"I like working with the owner, Bob Lewis, and our employees. ... Bob is fair. He's like working with a friend instead of an employer. And he trusts you."

Tanya's co-worker, Janet Mercier, likes to work with Tanya, she said.

"She's really friendly, and she's really caring. ... She's great with customers," said Janet. "They all love her."

Eventually, Tanya would like to work with children, possibly elementary education. For now, though, she's glad to have a job she enjoys.

"I love it," she said, adding she likes to work with the public.

"I'm a lot like my dad, I guess," she said.

"He just lives every day like it's going to be his last day."

'If it Fitz . . .

We get another idea from the Coast

Jim Fitzgerald

There is going to be a contest at the Pontiac Silverdome to see who is best at doing the most annoying thing in the world. Cash prizes will be awarded to the champion annoyer. Incredibly stupid behavior will be honored and rewarded.

I am not making this up. In fact, many people would argue that this competition involves an activity that is more than annoying, it is assaultive. Besides buggin' you mentally, it could hurt you physically.

Of course, there has always been considerable debate - even within my own mind - as to what is really the most annoying thing in the world. Many people vote for that old cliché - the sound of fingernails scratching a blackboard. Or maybe a dripping faucet or running toilet.

THE OTHER DAY I turned around and gave my dirtiest look to the woman sitting behind me. I almost told her to be quiet. But just in time I realized I had no right to tell her to stop driving me crazy. We weren't in a movie theater, we were on a city bus.

The woman was cracking her gum. At the movies, I would be justified in suggesting that she shut up so I could hear the actors. Common courtesy dictates she should respect my wishes. But there is apparently nothing discourteous about cracking gum on a city bus. Everyone who sits behind me does it.

For me, gum cracking used to be the most annoying thing in the world. Even ahead of tailgating trucks and motorists who ignore warning signs and never leave a closed lane until the last second and then expect me - who obediently merged into the adjacent lane five miles earlier - to stop and let them go in front of me.

Obviously, these freeway louts, besides irritating my psyche, could also cause damage to my car or body. So maybe I should hate them more than gum crackers. But at least I understand why some drivers behave stupidly - they are in a hurry to get somewhere. I don't understand why people crack gum.

Especially, I don't understand gum crackers who have no regular rhythm to their cracking. There may be one second between cracks, or two minutes. You never know when the next crack will be, but you are waiting for it, and dreading it. And just when you are encouraged to believe the gum has been swallowed, it cracks. That drives me absolutely nuts.

BUT NOT AS NUTS as the most annoying thing in the world, the awful thing to be featured at the Silverdome. I mean the sound of a car audio system played at maximum volume with the windows down while the owner drives through town slowly, making enough rock, rap or whatever noise - allegedly musical - to split human heads and wobble tall buildings.

A news release from Mickey Shorr's Car Audio says: "Hi-fi, stereo rigs capable of window-shattering, ear-scalding sounds will compete at the Silverdome on Sunday, Aug. 30, for cash prizes and hundreds of trophies. Crank-It-Up Contests are judged on a number of factors, including loudness (sound pressure level), with one point being awarded for each decibel recorded up to a maximum of 140 points. By comparison, a jet airplane taking off makes a noise measured at 130 decibels; a heavy-metal rock band usually peaks at 115 decibels; the threshold of pain is about 120. The peak decibel level recorded in a Crank-It-Up Contest this year was 151."

Crank-It-Up contests started in California (of course) in 1979 and are sponsored by the NACA (National Auto-sound Challenge Association). Can you believe there's actually an organization that encourages people to act like idiots and annoy - assault - innocent bystanders? It's enough to make a sane person seek solace from a gum cracker.

I'll be at the Silverdome Aug. 30 unless I can find something more fun to do. Such as submit my mouth for use in a NTPA (National Tooth Pulling Association) contest. No anesthetic.

CJHS assistant principal job split three ways

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

The duties of assistant principal at Clarkston Junior High School have been split between three people.

Paul Tungate will work half time as assistant principal and half time as athletic director for high school and junior high school sports programs.

Virginia Farmer, director of the Clarkston Learning Center for the Community Education Department, will assume the assistant principal's duties in the afternoon and oversee some evening programs.

Keith Conklin, a teacher at CJHS, will receive some release time from his teaching duties to assume some assistant principal's duties and some athletic program responsibilities.

Tungate's position of full-time athletic director was eliminated following budget cuts after the defeat of the 4.25 mill tax increase on the June ballot.

Prior to the latest decision, Tungate was to work full-time as assistant principal at CHS.

He called the most recent solution "40 percent better" and "a step in the right direction."

He said he will be working from 7 a.m. to noon as assistant principal at CJHS and from noon to 4 p.m. as athletic director from his office at Clarkston High School.

Tungate said he will also be present at all major sporting events, which means his job will entail more than full-time time hours.

"As I've said before, I'm willing to do this" until the millage passes, he said, referring to the 4.25 mill tax request that will appear on a special school election ballot Oct. 27.

Tungate credited the Clarkston Athletic Booster Club with smoothing the way for the change.

Superintendent Milford Mason agreed.

The decision to make the changes was "based on the meeting that I had with the athletic boosters and their concern," he said.

Booster club members would have preferred that Tungate be reinstated to full-time athletic director, but Mason said he tried to come up with a compromise.

Tungate, Farmer and Conklin "are going to go above and beyond to help out in this situation," he said. "It's not a perfect situation, and I would not characterize it to be a perfect situation."

The booster club makes significant contributions to the athletic program in the school district each year by selling items in the concession stand and donating profits for supplies and programs.

This year, the club is paying for supplies to begin a basketball program for seventh and eighth grade girls, said club president Dwight Spiker at Monday night's school board meeting.

"We will support the girls program and get it started," he said. "We'll be looking at the boys program, but I can't say what will happen right now."

Springfield sends condo proposal back to go

BY PAT YOUNG

Clarkston News Staff Writer

While his son videotaped the proceedings, developer John Attia was turned down by the Springfield Township Board on his request for a site plan approval for new condominiums.

On Aug. 12, Attia and engineer George Sayed requested site plan approval for phase one of Softwater Lake Condominiums.

The board voted 5-1 not to approve the proposal due to inaccuracies in the plans. Patricia Kramer was absent, and Trustee Charles Oaks said he voted no because construction should be allowed on the existing basement in phase one of the proposal.

The three-phase project, located to the rear of Bavaria on the Waters off Dixie Highway, is to include 98 condominiums with access through the Bavaria project.

Phase one would have 24 units, with the first building constructed on an existing basement built in the 1970s as part of the original Bavaria project and not completed.

Township Supervisor Collin Walls briefly explained the history of the project to the audience.

"What was initially a 300-plus apartment complex was divided into three separate entities, one of which is the land Mr. Attia is wanting to develop, and the other two are Blue Water Bavaria and Bavaria on the Water apartments and condos," Walls said. "A fourth portion of the original project to the west of this is a separate condominium project called Bavarian Village Condos."

The current sewage system, originally designed for 450 units and owned and operated by Oakland County, is adequate for the development project, Walls said.

Clerk J. Calvin Walters asked about acceleration and deceleration lanes on Dixie Highway.

Walls said there are none, but said the township could ask Oakland County about the possibility.

Though Attia asked only for approval to begin building in phase one, and "conceptual approval" for the whole project, the board was concerned with omissions and errors on the plans.

"There are significant differences in the topography between the plans and the actual land," Walls said.

The action forces Attia and Sayed to go back to the planning commission with the plans.

"We are in agreement that the project can be handled on the land," Walls said, "but in their haste to get the project rolling, the planning commission missed a few things."

Attia, obviously unhappy with the decision, said, "All I'm asking for tonight is permission to go on with building A. The basement is already there. If we have to keep coming back, it could be next year before we start."

Kramer recovering from surgery

Springfield Township Treasurer Patricia Kramer has been in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, recuperating from surgery.

Due to Kramer's illness, the township board voted Aug. 12 to temporarily raise the deputy treasurer's salary from a part-time rate of $6.20 an hour to a full-time rate of $1,500 per month, or just under $10 an hour.

Lois Stiles, who serves as Springfield Township deputy clerk, has had to assume the responsibilities of the treasurer since the first part of July, when Kramer became ill.

The board members present voted unanimously to grant Stiles the full-time pay for August and September. They plan to consider the situation again at the September meeting, pending further information on when Kramer will be able to assume her duties.

Kramer has served as treasurer of Springfield Township since 1974. Her current term of office expires in November 1988.

Furniture outlet opens 2nd store

Moon Valley Rustic Furniture is expanding into a second location.

The furniture company, located on Dixie Highway in Independence Township, received site plan approval for its second site from the Springfield Township Board on Aug. 12.

On hand at the meeting were Moon Valley representatives Red Beattie, his son Kim Beattie and son-in-law Don Brown, and Grant Ward, surveyor for the new project.

The second location, in Valentine's Industrial Park off Andersonville Road, has two proposed buildings and one for next year. The buildings would be used primarily for storage and for some assembly, with the main business remaining on Dixie Highway.

Shots fired

After firing shots from a semi-automatic rifle Sunday, Ronald Johannes Barnett, 28, surrendered peacefully to police.

He began firing when he arrived at his Pinoak Road, Brandon Township, home and found his wife and five friends moving her belongings from the Barnetts' trailer home, which has a Clarkston mailing address, according to Sgt. Anthony Valet of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

His wife, Tina, was planning to move in with her mother, said Valet.

Before the shooting, Tina, 22, passed Barnett on her way to the trailer. Barnett was driving in the opposite direction, and he waved, according to the police report.

A few minutes later, as Tina and her friends were packing her car, witnesses heard tires screeching, and Barnett jumped out of his car.

Barnett yelled, "My wife's ripping me off," according to witnesses.

Everyone ran for cover.

Witnesses saw Barnett take a gun from his wife's belongings in the car, and they heard a shot. Then they saw Barnett fire again into the ground. Two witnesses saw Barnett point the Colt AR 15 at them.

Seven deputies responded when neighbors called, and Barnett dropped his gun, placing his hands above his head.

No one was injured, said Valet.

Barnett was arraigned Monday in the 52nd District Court by Judge Gerald McNally.

He was charged with three counts of felonious assault, which carries a maximum sentence of four years, and the use of a firearm in the commission of a felony, which carries an automatic two-year sentence, said Valet.

The preliminary exam was scheduled Aug. 28 at the 52nd District Court.

Budget cuts may cause CHS to lose accreditation

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

It's too soon to tell if Clarkston High School's accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools is in jeopardy, said CHS Principal Dr. Robert Burek.

The accreditation question surfaced at Monday night's board of education meeting when CHS student Jeremy Roberts addressed the school board.

Roberts asked if there were any plans to make improvements to the media center. He said it was his understanding that the school could lose its accreditation because of inadequacies in the media center.

Board President Janet Thomas said there were no plans to make improvements to the media center because the district was in the position of having to make budget cuts due to the failure of the 4.25 mill tax request on the June ballot.

She went on to say the school was not in danger of losing its accreditation when administrative assistant William Neff asked permission to speak.

"It is accurate that in the last correspondence (North Central) indicated we had to show some kind of effort" to improve the book selection and hire an additional staff member, Neff said.

He also said he and Burek planned to meet with a representative from North Central to find out if a solution could be reached that would consider the district's current financial difficulties.

Thomas responded by criticizing the communication between the administration and the school board.

"I really think the board of education should have been made aware of the fact ...," she said. "It should not have been brought up by a student."

Neff said he had decided to wait until after the meeting with the representative from North Central before informing the board.

"I felt the three of us had to sit down face to face, and that would get more done," he said.

After the meeting, Burek said the meeting is planned at North Central's headquarters in Ann Arbor within the next two weeks.

"It's a little premature to say that Clarkston is in a position to lose its accreditation," he said, adding that North Central has noted the need for a better book selection and two media specialists at the high school rather than one for a number of years.

"Whether or not that's going to be sufficient to challenge our accreditation, we'll know in a couple of weeks," he said.

The high school is also accredited by the University of Michigan and there have been no problems with that accreditation, Burek said, noting that North Central has more rigorous requirements.

The process of working to improve areas criticized by the accrediting institutions is common in most school districts "unless you happen to be flush with dollars," Burek said.

Seniors to get extra funds for maintenance of vans

Holly and Independence township senior citizen vans will benefit from a decision made Aug. 12 by the Springfield Township Board.

Due to a new ruling by the South East Michigan Transit Authority (SEMTA), the township can no longer charter a SEMTA bus.

Consequently, the board voted 6-0 (Treasurer Patricia Kramer was absent) to divide its SEMTA allocation equally between Holly and Independence townships for the operation and maintenance of their senior citizen vans.

Springfield Township senior citizens use both township vans, Supervisor Collin Walls said prior to the vote.

The Springfield Township SEMTA allocation is $4,099 through the end of June 1988. Half is to go to Holly and half to Independence, providing Independence Township gets approval from SEMTA.

Holly has been using SEMTA funds for several years for maintenance and operation of their senior van, Walls said, but Independence Township's senior citizen van expenses have been covered by its parks and recreation funds.

Contacted after the decision, Independence Township Supervisor Frank Ronk said the township would "definitely apply to SEMTA to make that program fly."

LOUNGING AROUND in her rubber ring at Deer Lake, Erin Wilke, 4, of Eastlawn Avenue, Independence Township, finds Friday afternoon a relaxing day.

WHEN THE JUNIOR AUXILIARY members conduct bingo games at two nursing homes and at the veterans hospital in Battle Creek, Kim

McClusky usually does the calling. As she shouts out the numbers at the Grovecrest Continuing Care Center in Independence Township, center residents Arthur and Agnes Walser check their cards.

Super volunteers

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

With pride in her voice, Ivy Lee Reinhardt talks about the many good deeds performed by the seven girls who make up the Chief Pontiac No. 377 Junior Auxiliary.

She says such things as, "They bring a lot of love and smiles to the people" and "To them, it doesn't seem like work. They enjoy it."

Reinhardt and her husband Earl, Lake Orion residents, have served 15 years as the adult advisers to the Juniors from the post on Edgewood Drive in Independence Township.

Girls whose parents are members of the Legion are eligible for membership from birth to age 18. Current members, who range in age from 10 to 15, are Shannon and Tara Chapple, Kim McClusky, Heather Rollison and Kim and Krista Ruditus. Although not a member yet, Nikole Rutterbush also joins the group frequently.

The seven girls participate in a remarkable number of charitable activities year round.

They visit the Grovecrest nursing homes in Independence Township and Pontiac for bingo and snacks twice each month, travel every other month to Lapeer's Oakdale School for the Handicapped for a pizza party and to Battle Creek to visit the veterans hospital for a bingo game for 200 and the Legion Villa to visit their "adopted" veteran.

"These girls really are special to me because of all the volunteer work they do," said Reinhardt. "I like to see the people's eyes light up when they come in."

This year, they raised $3,200 for Muscular Dystrophy at their 10th annual fundraiser. They also raised $1,000 for special education bowlers and $500 for Cystic Fibrosis.

The list continues with donations to the Humane Society, Children's Heart Surgery Fund, Leader Dogs for the Blind, Penrickton School for Blind Children, Beaumont Silent Children, Animal Rescue League, Cancer Fund, Ruth Alden Clothes Drive and a fund for a veteran hurt in an airplane crash.

They've even adopted a wallaby at the Detroit Zoo.

In addition to their outings, the girls meet each month for planning sessions and to make tray favors for holidays. To raise funds, they conduct bake sales during the Legion fish fries and put on an annual flea market and candy sale.

It's no surprise that the incredible seven won the Best Junior Unit award last month at the annual American Legion Auxiliary Department Convention in Lansing.

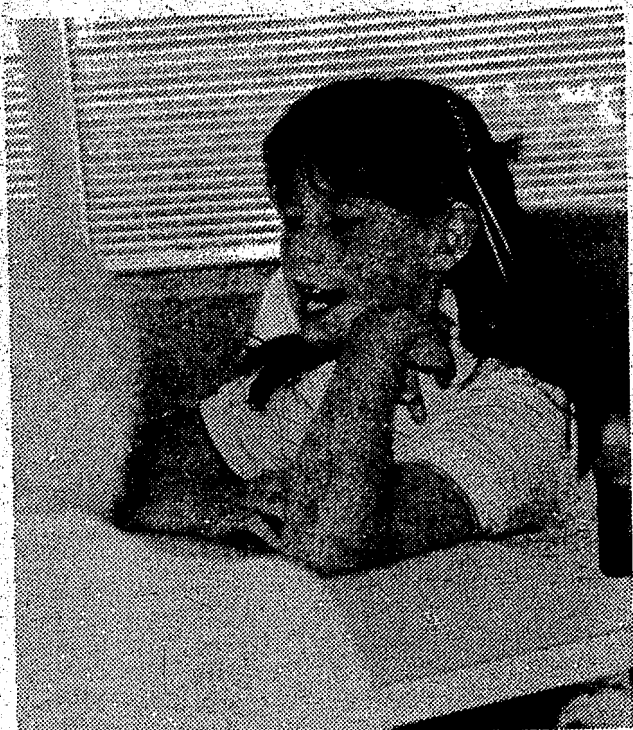

Likewise, their own Kim McClusky was named Junior of the Year for Michigan.

"She was picked out of probably 2,000 girls for all her volunteer work," said Reinhardt.

When she was named winner of the award, she was surprised--and her mother cried, said Kim. The sixth-grader at Manley Elementary in Waterford summed up her experiences as a Junior with: "It's fun."

Other award winners were April Reinhardt, now 18 and a member of the adult auxiliary, for her prayer book, foreign relations scrapbook; Poppy poster and Poppy publicity scrapbook; Heather Rollison for her history book, history scrapbook and Poppy poster; and Shannon Chapple as Department Junior Miss Poppy.

But the most impressive part of all is the girls' willingness to visit places that, in general, have few young visitors, said Reinhardt. "I just would like people to know what seven girls have done for so many," she said.

NIKOLE RUTTERBUSH REPEATS B-10 as she helps a care center resident work with her bingo card.

Township boy skates for fun

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With a hockey net sitting next to the garage and a wooden goalie not far away during the summer months, it's not hard to figure out Jayson Weatherington's favorite sport.

Jayson, 12, has been on skates since he was three years old, when his parents sent him off for figure skating lessons at the Lakeland ice rink.

While he didn't enjoy the figure skating, he did like the ice and the hockey players he saw using the rink after one of his lessons. Soon he joined them and hockey has become his favorite activity.

"I just like playing the game," said Jayson, who will enter Sashabaw Junior High in the fall.

For the fourth time in as many years, Jayson, a defenseman, traveled to Michigan Technological University in the Upper Peninsula for a hockey training camp. Kids from as far away as Alaska attended.

Jayson spent a week living in the dorms and learning about the fundamentals of ice hockey.

Between skating, swimming and meetings, Jayson didn't have much time to do much else but eat and sleep. He has attended various other camps in the past as well.

Because so few good teams are around the area, Jayson spends most of the season on the road. Once the season begins, Jayson will travel across the state playing teams in Port Huron to Inkster.

He has played for teams at Lakeland, Birmingham and Warren in the past. This year, he will probably play for the Lakeland team.

The highlight of his young career came about two years ago while he was playing for the Birmingham team in the Adray League. Jayson's club won a state title.

Play-off time is when hockey gets interesting for Jayson. "I like going to tournaments," said Jayson.

Coming home

The major league baseball welcomed back a former Clarkston High student with open arms and booming bats.

Howe, who returned to the major leagues after overcoming drug problems and a suspension for that abuse, currently is playing for the Texas Rangers as a relief pitcher.

His first two decisions this season were bad ones—both were losses. But the slow start hasn't discouraged his parents Virgil and Barb Howe, of Independence Township.

"There was never any doubt about his ability," said Virgil Howe, adding, "Steve's glad to be back in the major leagues."

Howe, a left-handed pitcher, broke into major league baseball with the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1980 and finished that season as the Rookie of the Year.

Since that time, however, Howe had fallen on hard times and was eventually suspended from the big leagues for his drug abuse.

The Texas Rangers offered Howe a job this summer, with random drug testing, and he spent several weeks in the minor leagues working himself back into shape.

Currently, Howe is working as a relief pitcher for the Rangers just as he had for the Dodgers earlier in his career.

Howe will return home for a weekend series against the Detroit Tigers Aug. 28-30. The Howe family is planning to attend the Friday and Saturday contests in hopes of seeing their son in action, Virgil said.

JAYSON WEATHERINGTON SAYS playing hockey on ice is a lot better than the street version of the game

Jayson's team had just completed a six overtime semi-final game but ran out of gas in the championship contest. "We killed them," Jayson said of his team's fortunes in the state championship game.

Another reason Jayson likes playing in tournaments is that the level of competition rises sharply when American teams travel into Canada.

"It's a lot harder to play the kids from Canada," Jayson said adding that the Canadiens take the game more seriously and practice more often. That is something Jayson would like to emulate.

During the summer months, Jayson plays street hockey with neighborhood kids to keep his skills sharp.

But street hockey is just something to pass the time until winter comes because nothing can replace hockey on ice. His reasoning is simple.

"You can skate a lot faster on ice than you can run (on the street)," Jayson said.

Seniors finish on sour note

The Clarkston Merchants finished the season on a sour note Aug. 12, losing the championship of a senior softball league game on the final day.

At the end of the regular season, both the Merchants and the Warren Raiders were tied with 10-3 records in the Northwest/Northeast Senior Citizen Softball League. A tie-breaker had to be scheduled.

Clarkston had to travel down to Warren to play the Raiders for the title. Earlier in the year, the Merchants defeated the Warren team twice. The third time wasn't a charm for Clarkston.

Warren scored nine runs in the opening inning and coasted to a 21-1 victory.

Due to injuries, Warren used three of their youngest players as runners for the rest of the team, said the Merchants' Ray Koskela, a player on the team.

Clarkston didn't help its cause, either, by making several key errors in the field.

"We played our worst game of the year defensively," said Koskela.

The loss snapped a seven-game winning streak for the Merchants. Clarkston had swept a double-header from Oak Park Aug. 5 to earn the division tie with Warren.

While the rout wasn't the best way to end the season, the members of the Clarkston team still could be proud of what they accomplished, said Koskela.

The Merchants participated in a World Series Tournament and finished in third place, for example. They also finished second in their division, two games ahead of the third-place team.

To help make the team stronger for next season, the Merchants will begin going after younger players.

"Most of the players on the Warren team have been recruited from a large area," said Koskela.

Seniors age 55 and over who have had baseball experience and are interested in playing softball for the Merchants should contact Manager John Thomas at the Senior Citizens Center on the grounds of Clintonwood Park.

What constitutes an activity being considered a recreational activity or an athletic event?

Maybe a better question would be, what is an athlete? A football player with arms the size of tree trunks who lumbers around maiming people? Or a petite gymnast with enough flexibility to become a human pretzel in a matter of seconds?

The answer varies greatly by the group of people you ask. Being biased is a part of life--we all are to some extent.

The problems develop when people let bias blind them to what is going on in the world and let it rule their lives. We need to become a little flexible and keep an open mind.

One of the more popular features in The Clarkston News during the school year is the Prep Profile column. Seniors at CHS, and occasionally Springfield Christian Academy, are honored for their athletic ability.

Football, basketball, baseball and track participants plus a host of others too numerous to mention were singled out for praise and glory during the past season.

Since I'm still relatively new to The Clarkston area, I had no idea what my predecessors did or thought about this feature. Then again, I really don't give a hoot what they thought. I'm my own person and will make my own decisions.

I like Prep Profile, and the few athletes who I interviewed for it last spring when I started this job seemed to like it as well. Besides that, it was fun to do.

While I liked the column the way it was, I still felt the need to add my own personal touch. Maybe add a few off-the-wall questions to throw people off. Or better yet interview new people.

It has been brought to my attention, by more than one source so far this summer, that a glaring error needs to be addressed. A group of people are being shunned like fashion designers in a nudist camp.

What's the big fuss? No one has ever interviewed a cheerleader for a prep profile. The general public feels that it's time things changed.

If we can't get rid of apartheid in South Africa, then maybe we can make the prep profile column a little more unbiased, a little more fair. It will make us all sleep a little easier at night. That and no more month-long heat waves.

Before anybody labels me as being totally insensitive to the situation, let me say in my defense that I have no qualms about interviewing cheerleaders for Prep Profile (I never had a problem with it, but people must assume sportswriters are anti-cheerleaders).

I also want to see an end to apartheid in South Africa.

While some might argue that cheerleading isn't a sport, I'd ask them what they would call it.

The girls may never catch a game-winning touchdown pass or hit a seventh inning home run, but they do have to keep the fans entertained when the home team isn't doing so well.

Back flips, tumblers and coordinated dance routines are all a part of what they must learn. They have to learn to work together, as a team, just as the football or basketball players must do.

They have to perform in front of crowds and feel the same butterflies the players on the field or court do. They end up with the same muscle aches as the players do. So why shouldn't these athletes get their fair turn in the spotlight?

Well I'm glad I had the opportunity to clear the air on the situation. I feel a lot better now that I have it off my chest.

If any other group feels like it doesn't exist, please let me know what I can do to rectify the situation.

I really do want to help. After all, I'm a pretty sensitive guy when it comes to that kind of stuff.

While he sometimes dreamed the golfer's dream of a hole-in-one, D. Jack Cavalier had decided it would never happen to him. Then came Aug. 3.

Cavalier was on his weekly golf outing with fellow Elks League members at the Pontiac Country Club. His hole-in-one occurred on the eighth hole.

"I never had one, so I didn't know what to do," said Cavalier, adding that there was "a lot of screaming and hollering, that sort of thing."

Cavalier, of Waterford Township, retired from the engineering section of Pontiac Motor Division last year. He now works as a realtor for Max Broock in Clarkston.

An off-and-on-golfer for about a dozen years, he golfs just once a week with the Elks League.

First-place was a familiar position for the Clarkston High School Pom Pon squad this summer.

The 20 girls in the group brought home an award for the best overall in camp this summer. As individuals, they won 82 ribbons, including 55 firsts and 26 second-place finishes.

The pom pon camp was at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor from Aug. 3-7.

At the camp, the girls had to compete as a group as they would during the school year and perform a routine, said Coach Mary Jean Cox.

After that, they all competed individually and everyone did well, Cox said.

"They all did just fantastic," said Cox of the team's efforts. The pom pon squad may travel to Florida for the Nationals this winter if they can raise enough money.

The girls on the pom pon squad are Sandy Coulter, Kellee Dudy, Kristin Gilbert, Lori Irwin, Julie Beardsley, Laura Postal, Tisha Sherman, Chris Shaller, Andrea Tassen, Jenny Davis, Margot Coxen, Gina Zanotti, Tracy Shaver, Peggy Agar, Chris Cole, Jill Gamble, Rachel Young, Kathy Lamphere, Maria Rovere and Michele Rosenburger.

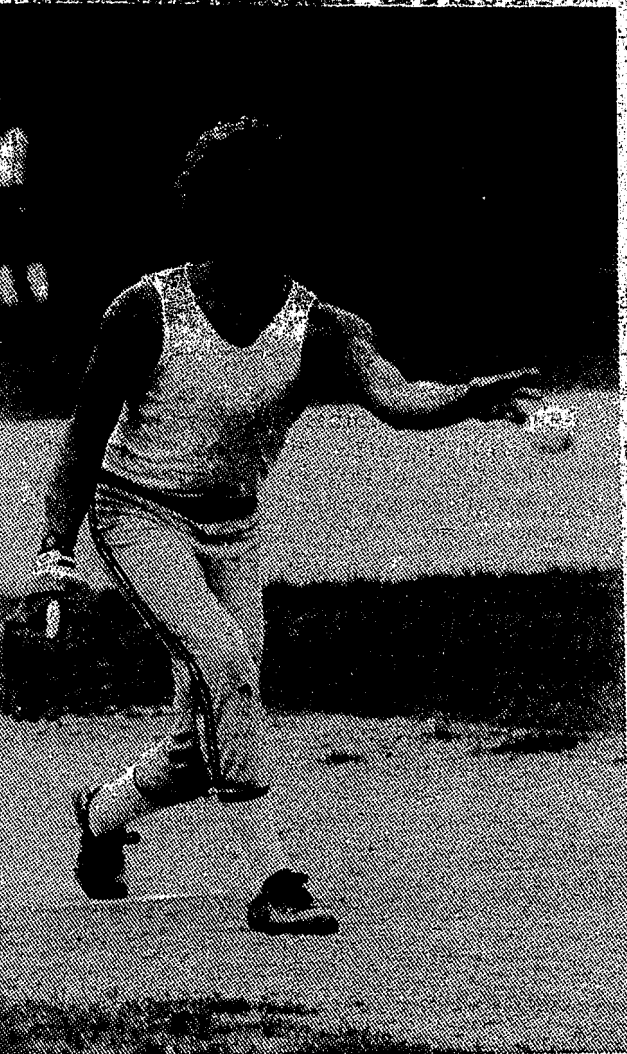

Adult football

An adult touch football league would like a team from Clarkston to join them for the upcoming fall season.

The seven-man league plays its games on Mondays and Wednesdays or a double-header one night a week at Pontiac's Jaycee Park.

The season begins in early September and team enrollment is $125. For more information on how to join, call Richard at 857-7980 or 334-9018.

Sportsmanship made state games a success

BY PETER AUCHTER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Positive attitudes and sportsmanship abounded at the recent Great Lakes State Games, said an Independence Township resident who took part in the Olympic-style festival.

From little 10-year-old figure skaters to 77-year-old people in the Volksmarch, the 22 sporting events had something for everybody, said Rick Knas of Old Sturbridge Trail.

Knas, 38, participated in the 110-meter high hurdles and brought his 7-year-old daughter along on the trip to Marquette, the site of the games.

She liked the atmosphere so much that she will enter one of the events next year, said Knas.

The experience they had in Marquette on the campus of Northern Michigan University is something they will never forget, he said.

"It was really exciting," said Knas of the state games that were held July 31 through Aug. 2. "It's as close as I'll ever come to competing in the Olympics."

Approximately 3,700 athletes participated in the events and 20,000 people filled the stands to watch them, said Knas.

The opening ceremonies got the state games off to a good start, he said.

A thousand colored balloons were released as the participants marched into the stadium wearing their official Great Lakes State Games sweatshirts as the crowd cheered them on.

They all watched as the torch run, which passed through Independence Township on its way to Marquette, was completed as the torch bearer ran into the stadium.

"There was a lot of electricity in the air,"

Knas said of the opening ceremonies. "It was like something you would see on television."

The opening ceremonies were completed without a hitch, but the many competitors woke up to a driving rain the following day, Knas said.

People were so keyed up about competing in the state games that nothing short of a natural disaster was going to stop them, he said.

"I heard one guy say that he was going to run even if it snowed," said Knas, who works at Cottage Hospital in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Fortunately, the rain let up and the games resumed. Knas finished third in his age bracket (30-39) and earned a bronze medal.

The event was the first time he had attempted hurdling since his high school days at Melvindale, said Knas.

While Knas admits his time in the race wasn't that good, he'll take it. Next year he hopes to improve his time but not his standing.

Knas figures that next year more people will hear about the state games and decide they want to enter. That will increase the level of competition. Knas plans on improving his time but with more runners entered he isn't counting on winning a medal again. But that doesn't bother him at all.

"I would rather have a better time and not win a medal than have a slower time and take a medal," Knas said. The state games were meant to be a constructive activity, not a highly competitive one.

While the committee in charge of the Great Lakes State Games plans on moving the event to a different site every year, Knas said Marquette was the ideal place.

"The whole community was behind (the games) in Marquette," Knas said. Posters welcoming the participants could be seen in the restaurants in town.

Besides winning a bronze medal at the state games, Knas also had the opportunity to make some new friends. As it turned out, one of the men who beat Knas in the high hurdles is a coach at Grosse Pointe South High School.

"Now I have someone to train with," said Knas.

While he enjoyed every minute he spent up in Marquette competing, Knas said he would have liked to watch a few other events but was too busy preparing for his event.

"This is the best thing that Michigan has going for it," he said. "These games drew positive-thinking people."

People join RAID to protest detention camps

BY PAT YOUNG

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Over 500 residents opposed to youth detention camps in the North Oakland County area signed up as new members of RAID (Residents Against Ineffective Detention) at the Oakland County 4-H Fair in Springfield Township Aug. 3-8.

The new members hailed from 30 communities, many from the Clarkston area, according to RAID spokesperson Nancy Strole.

RAID members manned a booth at the fair, not only soliciting new members, but also collecting signatures on a giant "greeting card" to send to Gov. James Blanchard, Strole said.

RAID, formerly known as Residents Against Youth Camps, was formed by concerned residents in May when the Michigan Department of Social Services proposed establishment of work-and-learn detention facilities for teenage male offenders, primarily from Detroit and Wayne County.

DSS signed a 29-month, $7.75 million contract with International Field Studies, a non-profit camp management company, to run the first of three proposed camps.

Camp Holly, a Girl Scout camp in Rose Township owned by Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council, is one of the sites being strongly considered by IFS for the first camp.

But Bill Reddish, director of properties for Michigan Metro Girl Scouts, said IFS has not contacted them about purchasing the property since May.

"We told them we wouldn't rent," Reddish said. "We want to sell, but there was a big difference in our asking price and their offer."

Reddish declined to say what the asking price was, and Robert Lipsitz, president of IFS, has declined to name other sites in north Oakland County that his company is looking at for the camp.

According to Reddish, at least three other groups, a church, a university and a Chicago corporation that wants a retreat, have looked at the 235-acre Camp Holly property. One has made an offer.

"That's not to say we won't sell to IFS," Reddish said, adding that he has known Lipsitz for many years, and that he personally feels the camp program will work.

"The long-time investment is worth it if it keeps kids out of trouble," Reddish said.

There has been strong criticism by professionals as well as residents of the area that the program is too expensive and isn't the answer to the problem with juvenile delinquents. The cost has been reported to be anywhere from $36,000 to $46,240 per bed per year for Michigan taxpayers.

Michigan Metro Girl Scouts has owned the property in Rose Township for almost 50 years, Reddish said, and has operated it as a camp, but they have more land than they currently need.

They operate three other camps in the area, including one large camp in the Ortonville area.

"We need the money (from the sale of Camp Holly) for capital improvements to the other camps," he said. "There's a lot of things we need to keep current with camping."

The North Oakland County Girl Scouts are not involved with the Camp Holly property.

60 exhibitors coming to craft show

Nearly 60 exhibitors of unique crafts and art will be on hand to display their wares at the 13th annual Crafts and Cider Festival in Depot Park the weekend of Sept. 18-20.

The wide range of crafts will include pottery, weaving, soft sculptures, jewelry, wood crafts and toy, watercolors and many other items.

Some of the newer exhibitions will include glass, wood and canvas chairs, graphic arts, photography, decorative enameled birds and flowers and wooden doll furniture.

Artists from as far as Washington and Alabama will participate in this year's event.

Society volunteers will again be conducting free sidewalk architectural tours of the Village of Clarkston Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

To raise funds for the many projects carried throughout the year, the Clarkston Community Historical Society will once again sell fresh cider and donuts at the Historical Society's pavilion.

Hot air balloons ready for liftoff

Aug. 12 for the media preview.

Among the balloonists on hand at the media event were two female pilots, several commercial pilots, including the E.F. Hutton balloon pilot, and private balloonists, including Howard Steele of Independence Township.

"My wife, Michelle, and I enjoy watching balloons, and would go to different events," Steele said, explaining how he got into ballooning. "After I went for my first ride, I thought, 'I've got to do this again.'"

Steele finally bought his own balloon, and he plans to participate in the festival competition Aug. 22.

"There is no sensation of movement, and no noise, other than the burner. It's like floating," Steele said, describing the experience of ballooning as pilots began the process of inflating their balloons for flight.

Steele did not bring his balloon to the press conference but, instead, helped fellow balloonist John Raya.

With Raya, as with many balloonists, flying is a family affair.

His son is a student pilot at age 14 and his wife chases the balloon in the van. (Chase vehicles are a necessary part of ballooning, since balloons do not return to their point of departure.) Raya's two younger children are crew members.

"Once you try ballooning, you'll never forget it for the rest of your life," Steele said.

Raya's Father and Son Construction Co. balloon slowly took shape and then floated quietly off to the west, joining others on the horizon.

A passenger in one balloon, obviously on her first ride, echoed Steele's words about an unforgettable experience in her own way, saying "Oh, my god!" as the balloon slowly lifted past the treetops at Springfield Oaks. Spectators and festival-goers will have a chance to see the balloons again inflate and lift off on Saturday at the Oakland County Hot Air Balloon Festival.

Springfield Oaks Youth Activities Center is on Andersonville Road at Hall Road in Springfield Township. There is no entrance fee for the festival, but fees will be charged for some activities. Sponsors of the event are the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission, FM 104/WOMC, E.F. Hutton and the Springfield Township Parks and Recreation Department.

More information about the festival is available by calling 858-0906.

Bike rodeo tests riders skills

An obstacle course for two-wheel bicycle riders and information on motorized bike safety highlight the upcoming second annual Bike Rodeo sponsored by the Clarkston Optimist Club.

The rodeo is planned Saturday, Aug. 29, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the parking lot and field at Clarkston Junior High School off Waldon Road. Members of the Flying Rhino bicycle club will oversee the course.

There is no charge for participation and certificates will be awarded to children who complete the obstacle course.

Registrations will be taken the morning of the event beginning at 9:30 and continuing until the rodeo ends. Children must bring their own bikes.

Adults are welcome to test their skills as well, said Rafael Hernandez, community service director for the Optimists.

Last year, the rodeo consisted of the obstacle course with several bicycle skill tests. The motorized bike safety lecture was added this year.

Information on 4-wheelers, Sprees and dirt bikes will be provided by representatives from Proffer Sales of Burton, and Hernandez encourages parents to come along and listen.

"We welcome the adults to come there and see what's going on and learn something," he said. "If they can get a little instruction on what are the laws, maybe some of the kids won't have the problems they're having."

Proffer Sales is also providing prizes. "All the kids who go through the course, we'll put their name in a drawing and there's going to be gloves, hats, things like that, given away," said Hernandez.

For more information on the rodeo, call Hernandez at 766-5163 (Flint) weekdays or at 625-2901 evenings.

Charity bazaar

All non-profit organizations, civic groups and church auxiliaries are welcome to participate in the 1987 Summit Place Charity Bazaar on Oct. 5-10.

The annual event is sponsored by the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corp. and all proceeds will benefit the Clarkston SCAMP day camp program for handicapped persons in northern Oakland County.

For more information, call the Summit Place at 682-0123.

Teens recite fashion ABCs

BY JULIE CAMPE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The miniskirt is back.

Revived, again, from its popularity in the '60s, it's quickly gaining loyal wearers this season.

Fashion trends change from season to season, year to year and decade to decade. Sometimes the old styles return, but with slight alterations. Even taboo clothing is OK at times.

For instance, there was a time when you'd be labeled a nerd if you wore black socks with shorts.

Now, it's OK, just as long as they're not pulled up. They must look like they've just fallen down, as if the elastic were missing, leaving them bunched down around your ankles.

"Don't ever pull your socks up," said Kathy Krier, 15, a Clarkston High School sophomore from Old Cove Road, Independence Township. "You'll look geeky."

If you're not going to wear your socks down at your ankles, it's best not to wear any socks at all.

"No socks," said Julie Walsh, 14, of Ellis Road, Independence Township, when asked about foot apparel.

For the rest of the body, extra large and baggy items are required--oversized shirts and jackets.

"Airborne jackets, like in 'Top Gun' are in," said Claire Hulleza, 15, of Fox Chase Lane.

Besides miniskirts, balloon skirts are the style, said Kathy.

"A balloon skirt is poofy," she said. "The hem's tucked under to make it balloon out."

Leopard is in, too, as in pattern, not fur, said Debbie Bellows, 15, of Heath Avenue, Independence Township.

She doesn't have a leopard item yet, but she plans to get one before school starts.

"My mom thinks it's outrageous," she said. "She doesn't like the way I dress. ... My sister likes really conservative. Who wants to look like their sister? I wear what I want."

Kathy babysits to make the money for some of her clothes, she said.

"If my mom buys it, she has to like it. But if I buy it, it doesn't matter," she said.

Denim, as always, is still fashionable. But to be really cool, you have to wear frosted or stone washed jeans, said every teen who talked about fashion.

Some things are out of style this year, said Debbie.

"Reebok's out. Converse is in," she said. And it's not OK anymore to color your

[See SURFER, Page 38]

THE MINISKIRT, of stone washed denim, is one of Kathy Krier's favorite items, along with a bright multi-colored sweater and white sneakers.

Debbie Bellows wears a red and white striped blouse with red beads, red flats and a stone washed denim skirt with a red belt.

CLAIRE HULLEZA, 15, wears a khaki skirt, plaid blouse, huraches shoes, and her favorite accessory--a silver rope necklace from her boyfriend Rich Jones.

BUNCHED DOWN AROUND the ankles, Kathy's socks and white sneakers have the perfect elements of style this year.

New principal stresses SJHS school spirit

BY PAT YOUNG

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Dave Reschke officially took over as principal of Sashabaw Junior High School on July 1, following the retirement of Gus Birtsas.

Reschke has served as assistant principal at Sashabaw for the last three years, coming to Clarkston schools from the Waterford school district.

In addition to his position as assistant principal, he has been director of the gifted program for the past two years, a position he says he enjoyed very much.

Vince Licata, who was assistant principal at Clarkston Junior High School, has been transferred to Sashabaw as the new assistant principal.

"We're very fortunate to have someone with his skills," Reschke says.

Administrators at both junior highs will have their hands full this school year, with the addition of sixth grade to the junior high level. Formerly, the junior highs included seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

"We're in a transition to a middle school philosophy," Reschke says. "I think we're going to move forward in that transition and work with the teachers in the concepts of middle school. It will be a little bit new for people."

"We need to be reminded that all junior high kids are still youngsters. You can't force sixth-graders to grow up too soon, and it's OK to be youngsters," he says. "Eighth- and ninth-graders can be moved forward a little faster."

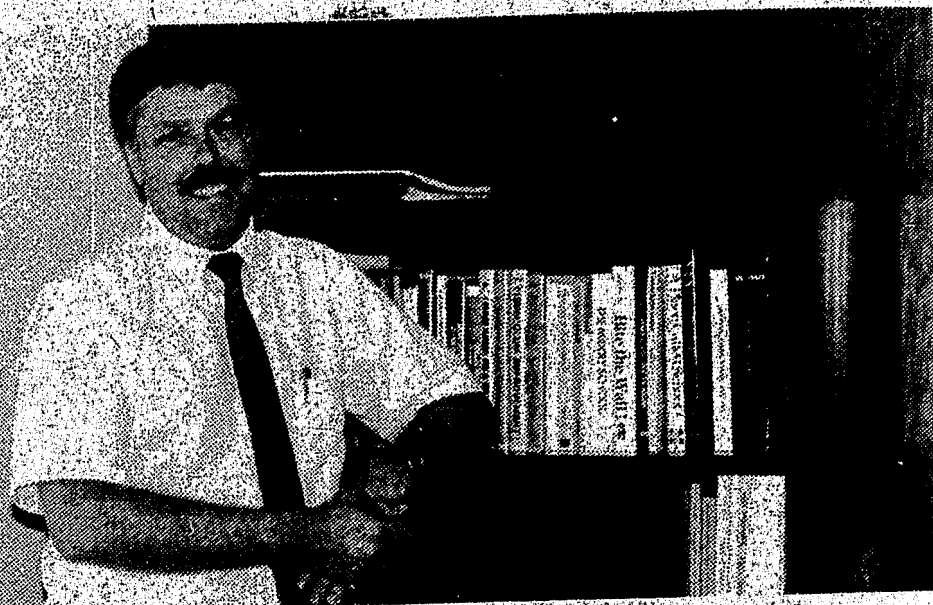

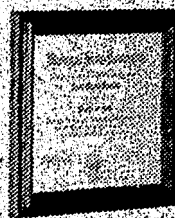

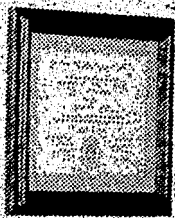

Some programs will be geared for two levels--sixth- and seventh-graders, and eighth- and ninth-graders, almost in an "upper and lower school" environment, Reschke says. But he is quick to add the intent is not to divide the student body.

"One of our strong points is school spirit," he says. One step he is taking to ensure unity is the addition of a sixth-grade position in student government.

Three areas Reschke says he will stress this year, as they were last year, are: academics, orderliness and friendly school environment.

"We sponsored a 'Friendship Week' last year, and have a school improvement group made up of teacher volunteers," he says. "They will continue to work along those lines again this year."

He speaks with pride of the school programs, saying, "I think we've always had a strong academic environment."

DAVE RESCHKE readies for the 1987-88 school year at Sashabaw Junior High School, where he begins his new duties as principal. He served three years as assistant principal.

"We've had a lot of options for kids," he continues, naming music, drama, industrial arts and basics as a few examples.

Reschke was graduated from Bloomfield Hills High School in 1965 and from Eastern Michigan University in 1970. He received his master's degree from Michigan State University in 1977, with a major in curriculum and instruction.

He is a PhD candidate at MSU, majoring in education administration with a minor in curriculum.

He has been active in staff development and curriculum planning throughout his career in education, and was instrumental in planning the incorporation of the sixth grade at the junior high level for the 1987-88 school year.

Reschke lives with his wife, Roxanne, and daughter, Katie, on Deerhill Drive in Independence Township.

"I particularly like to see the (junior high school) age group. You get to see them grow up from youngsters to young adults," Reschke says of being a junior high school administrator. "And it's fun to be at a school that lets them do that."

"The thing I like best about being an administrator is seeing good teaching, and I've seen good teachers here (at Sashabaw)," he says.

Reschke speaks highly of his predecessor.

"I appreciate the fact that I'm inheriting the good school and all the good things Mr. Birtsas established," he says. "He's the originator of the 'Cougar Pride,' and it's neat to step into that."

Surfer items are tops for guys

hair purple or orange. But it's OK to bleach it or tint it, she said.

For guys, surfer items are the only things to hang around in, said Tom Duty, 13, of Surrey Lane, Clarkston.

You're "out of it" if you don't know what surfer items are, but Tom politely explained.

"Swatches, surf cords, skateboards, bermuda shorts," he said.

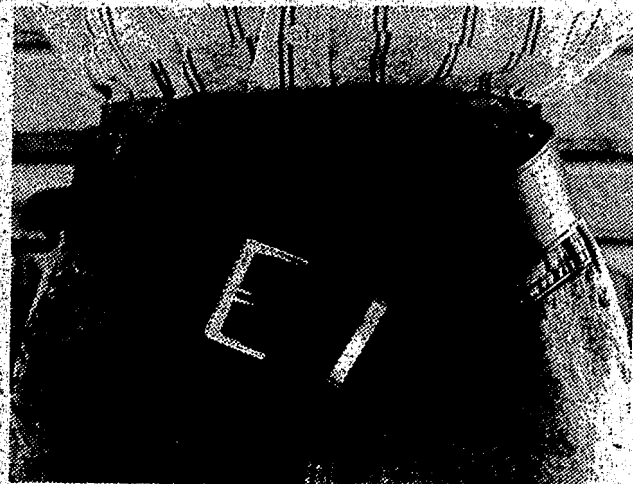

Kids around here only "Hang 10" on their skateboards, but the proper clothing is essential, said Tom.

And it's not enough to just have a Swatch (a brightly colored watch), but you must have a Pop Swatch, said Britt Ried, 14, of Surrey Lane, Clarkston. Pop Swatch bands pop out, so you can hang them from your wrist or your jacket, he said.

To complete the surfer image, one element is an absolute must, said Justin Roettger, 13, of Hawks Road, Waterford Township.

"The most important thing for school is a tan," he said. "If you don't have a tan, you can't go to school."

DETAILS, LIKE THIS red leather belt, draped on the hips, can make an outfit, says Debbie.

It's OK to be scared, says social worker

As students are refurbishing fall wardrobes and gathering up school supplies for the upcoming school year, there is another area they should be preparing--their attitudes.

"It's really important for kids, in anything they start new, to start with a positive feeling," says Jim Butzine, Clarkston High School social worker.

Just block out the past, Butzine suggests, especially if there was a bad experience associated with it, and come in with a new "I can do it" attitude.

"It's hard for all of us to do that, to give ourselves a new chance," Butzine says. "A positive attitude is the beginning of a new turn."

Another bit of back-to-school advice Butzine offers, especially to students starting in a new school, is to understand that "it's OK to be scared of a new experience."

Share that feeling with other kids, Butzine says, because others are having the same feelings.

"Students ought to be asking themselves, 'what can I learn in here to help me as a person?'" Butzine says. "It should be part of their mind set when they enter a class."

"They really need to focus on the present, not the past," Butzine adds.

Students should never be afraid to ask questions, Butzine says. "If they don't want to

"Try not to let it get you down," he adds. "Make it a challenge, not a hassle."

Butzine also suggests setting goals.

ask in class, stop and ask a teacher later. Teachers are very accessible."

But the most important thing, he adds, is a positive attitude. "Don't let past negative attitudes pull you down."

Butzine encourages parents to be positive, too. It will help their students maintain positive attitudes, he says.

Watch for school calendars

Families with children enrolled in Clarkston Community Schools should receive a copy of the school calendar by the end of this week.

In its 12th year of publication, the calendar is a popular item, said Barbara Banker, community services co-ordinator and calendar editor.

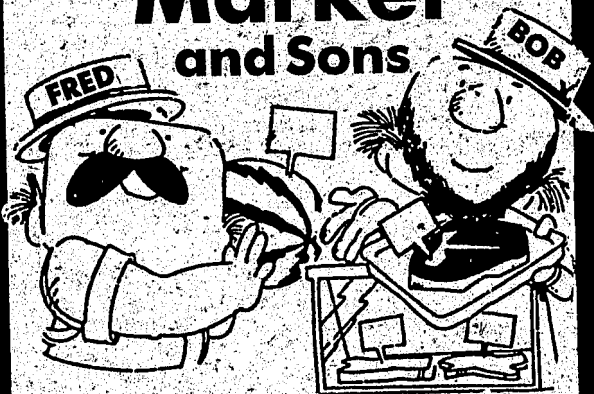

"I do think, judging from the calls, and everything, it's the number one thing people use from the district," she said.

Along with photographs of students, most of which are reprinted from The Clarkston News, the calendar lists dates of "everything from conferences to open houses and musicals and athletic events," Banker said.

Written information includes policies and available educational programs.

Residents without children enrolled in school can pick up a free copy of the calendar at any school or at The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston.

Readers picnic

An annual awards picnic at Indian Springs Metropark capped off the summer reading program at the Springfield Township Library.

More than 130 kids participated in the program and 66 of them earned paperback books and certificates for reading 12 or more books.

A total of 1,630 books were read by all the children in the program--ages 3 to 13.

A Michigan sesquicentennial stuffed bear was raffled off at the picnic and 3-year-old Sydney Bassett was the lucky winner.

Kindergarten bound?

Registration and screening for kindergarten eligible children who have not attended a previous screening will be held Aug. 26 and 27 between 9 a.m. and noon and 1 to 2:30 p.m.

The screening will be at Sashabaw Junior High School. Parents should bring their child's birth certificate and completed health form if available.

Maybe the way to solve the school prayer issue is for parents to start taking their kids to church.

The teachings of Christ can enrich your children's education. And their lives. So bring your family and share the joy of prayer and divine worship with us.

Friend to friend

We fight all the time

Dear Friend to Friend,

I live with my grandparents. I lost my folks two years ago. Me and my grandfather, we get along good, but me and my grandma fight all the time.

I love my grandma very much and don't like to fight with her, but the generation gap is too big. We fight about everything. What should I do?

The New Kid in Town

Dear New Kid,

We are questioning whether it is truly a "generation gap" or if, instead, your grandmother is really concerned about your behavior.

You must still be dealing with a variety of emotions, such as anger, hurt and abandonment over the loss of your parents.

Coupled with that, you have a new set of emotions of learning to deal with a new set of "parents."

You may not be aware of all the emotions you are experiencing and you might not be dealing with them appropriately.

Many times, feelings of this magnitude are hard to express, so instead of taking it out on your grandmother, maybe you should consider talking this out.

This might mean a professional counselor. Sometimes friends and family can't be objective enough to help you.

We also suggest you try to put yourself in your grandmother's shoes. She is probably dealing with a similar set of emotions.

Try talking these feelings out, although given the state of the relationship, a family counselor may be necessary.

We know that this is an extremely difficult situation for you to be in and we strongly urge you to begin to deal with all of these feelings.

Good luck, and please write again and let us know how you are doing.

Dear Friend to Friend,

I have a friend who will be a senior in high school this fall. The problem is that he is dating a girl 21 years old.

I say she is using him to stay young. I told him I thought it was very odd for a full-grown woman in college to want to go out with a high school student. What do you think?

Concerned Friend

Dear Concerned Friend,

We can understand your concern and many of us have mixed emotions over the "age gap" issue.

On one end, people who are three, four, five or more years different in age have nothing in common but a physical attraction. Also, we are all operating under society's standards that dictate that young people who date should be of the same age group.

But on the other hand, we realize that some of the social values are changing and that people who are not the same age can go together and enjoy the same things and truly like each other.

It is much more acceptable for older women to go with younger men and many successful relationships and marriages feature differences in ages.

We know from experience that seniors in high school will very rarely listen to others about who they should date.

If he is enjoying this relationship and if you want your friendship to continue, you should probably back off from this subject.

Letters to Friend to Friend are answered by a panel of Clarkston High School students under the sponsorship of Aware, a community group devoted to action and education against chemical dependency.

Students can submit letters by placing them in the designated "problem locker" at CHS, Clarkston Junior High or Sashabaw Junior High. The problem lockers remain open during the summer months.

Letters can also be sent to Friend to Friend in care of The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston, MI 48016.

Waiver granted

Cedar Valley Estates, a new subdivision which received tentative preliminary plat approval from the Springfield Township Board in March, was back before the board Aug. 12.

Howard Miller, developer, and project engineer Joe Wyzynajty, of Cornerstone Engineering in Fenton, requested a waiver of design standards in order to leave the land in as natural a state as possible.

Without the waiver, they said they would have to regrade retention areas where there are now natural depressions, sometimes in the middle of lots.

The new sub, at Dixie Highway and Holly Road, is comprised of two commercial lots and 13 single family residential lots, all at least two and one-half acres.

The board voted 6-0 to grant the waiver, and also gave approval to the final preliminary plat.

The next step, according to Township Supervisor Collin Walls, is a presentation of detailed construction plans and a request for final plat approval from the township board.

"The developer wanted originally to build in 1987," Walls said, "but realistically, it may be early 1988."

Pet of the week

Anything but . . .

His name is Rebel, but he's anything but one.

He loves people, especially children, and he loves other animals, especially other dogs and cats. He's housebroken, and he's anxious to be someone's loving pet.

Rebel is a 2-year-old black and tan, medium-haired mixed shepherd, probably with collie or husky. He has one brown eye and one blue eye.

Rebel can be adopted at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The adoption fee for Rebel is $25 plus a neuter fee of $30.

Honors

Four area students won Recognition of Excellence Awards from Eastern Michigan University for 1987.

Winners of the $1,000 scholarships must have earned a 3.5 grade point average in high school or community college and demonstrate outstanding leadership ability. Preference is given to high school students who score at least 20 on the American College Test or 900 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

The students who won were Cheryl L. Arama, Amy Ashton, Jill Freeland and Laura Manser.

Gerl Speace recently received the Wayne State University, Detroit, College Merit Scholarship of full tuition for two years.

A 1985 Clarkston High School graduate, Speace earned a 3.9 grade point average at Oakland Community College and received an associate's degree in liberal arts.

A journalism major, she is employed as a student journalist at Pontiac Oakland County Legal News.

She is the daughter of Bernard and Pauline Speace of South River Drive, Independence Township.

In service

Army Spec. 4 Thomas M. Paddock, son of Sharon and James Paddock of Tucson Boulevard, Independence Township, has arrived for duty at the United States Army Electronic Proving Ground, Fort Huachuca, Ariz.

Paddock, a single channel radio operator, is a 1983 graduate of Pontiac Northern High School.

His wife, Kim, is the daughter of Terry and Debra Hillie of Pontiac.

Cadet Christopher L. Start, son of William P. and Barbara R. Start of Deer Ridge Drive, Independence Township, received practical work in military leadership at the U.S. Army ROTC advanced camp, Fort Bragg, N.C.

The six-week camp, attended by cadets normally between their third and fourth year of college, includes instruction in communications, management and survival training.

Successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from college results in a commission as a second lieutenant in either the U.S. Army, Army Reserve or National Guard for the cadet.

Start is a student at Virginia Military Institute in Lexington.

Darrell T. Palmiter has been elevated to the rank of Chief Petty Officer in the United States Navy at the age of 25.

Palmiter, a 1979 Clarkston High School graduate, is stationed at Muir Island, Calif., where he serves as a computer instructor.

He was one of 140 naval personnel to pass the test for chief out of 3,000 tested.

His wife, Suzanne (Hill), was also graduated in 1979 from CHS. He is the son of Tom and Pat Palmiter of Cranberry Lake Road, Independence Township.

On the job

Belinda Kay Palmiter has achieved the status of journeyman wood model maker at General Motors Engineering Center in Warren.

The promotion follows nearly four years of school and on-the-job training.

A 1981 graduate of Clarkston High School, she is the daughter of Tom and Pat Palmiter of Cranberry Lake Road, Independence Township. She resides in St. Clair Shores.

SMART-SMILEY: Clifford and Dolores Smart of Independence Township announce the engagement of their daughter Jean to Jim Smiley, son of Alton and Arlene Smiley of Marlette. The bride-to-be, a 1983 Clarkston High School graduate, attends Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, and is president of the CMU New Life Singers. Her fiancé also attends CMU and is vice president of the CMU New Life Singers. A May 1988 wedding is planned.

New arrivals

Mark and Carol Richard, of Baybrook, Waterford, welcomed their second child into the world June 17.

Todd Stephen Richard was born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. He weighed 8 pounds and 5 ounces and measured 19 1/2 inches long.

Waiting at home to greet his new brother was Adam, 2.

Grandparents are Bill and Betty Richard and Howard and Pauline Quertermous, all of the Clarkston area.

It's a boy for Steven and Michelle (Dearborn) Andrews, of Kalamazoo.

The couple's first child, Matthew Steven, was born Aug. 13 in the Borgess Medical Center in Kalamazoo. He tipped the scales at 8 pounds and 8 ounces.

Matthew is the first grandchild for Harry and Delores Dearborn of Independence Township and Vincent and Clare Andrews of Gaylord.

"BIRTHDAY BALLOON" TAKES on new meaning as Cecil Bell of Independence Township prepares to take flight. The hot air balloon ride was a 70th birthday gift for the Peach Drive, Independence Township, resident. The gift-givers, his daughters Marilyn Bell of Wayne and Carol Barhart of Clarkston, went along for the ride. "It was fun. It really was," said Barhart, despite an exciting landing in a field near Rochester. The balloon skimmed the top of an apple tree, which provided four apples as souvenirs. Bell's wife, Lois, rode in the chase car.

Beating the clock

Betty Wagner

"The After Five Cook" is the title of Thayer Wilson Wine's first cookbook that will be published this fall.

Thayer grew up in Clarkston. After college, she went to Chicago where she studied cooking with several chefs and attended various cooking schools.

She has always loved to cook and is now food editor of The Jackson Sun in Jackson, Tenn.

Each week, besides the feature story and nutrition column, Thayer writes the After Five Cook, which features quick and easy recipes. She is gathering these columns together for a book.

While in town visiting her mother, Mrs. Marjorie Wilson, Thayer appeared on the Microwave Plus cable TV program and cooked some of her recipes.

"The After Five Cook" offers whole menu suggestions, so for the program Thayer prepared:

Medallions of Pork with Mushroom Sauce
Steamed Broccoli
with Lemon-Buttered Crumbs
Tossed Salad With Vinaigrette Dressing
Fresh Blueberries With Lemon Yogurt

MEDALLIONS OF PORK WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE

Serves 4

- 1 pound pork tenderloin
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter, divided
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Freshly ground pepper
- 2 tablespoons minced shallots
- 1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
- 1/3 cup Madeira wine
- 1 cup chicken stock
- 1 1/2 teaspoons red wine vinegar

1. Cut pork tenderloin crosswise into eight 1 to 1 1/2 inch chunks. Place each chunk, cut side up on board.

Flatten with broad side of a wide-bladed knife or rolling pin to a thickness of 1/4 inch. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

2. Heat oil and 1 tablespoon of the butter in a large non-stick skillet. Saute medallions of pork 4-5 minutes on each side; remove to a platter a keep warm.

3. Let skillet cool slightly. Add shallots to remaining fat in pan and cook 1 minute. Add mushrooms and cook 1 minute.

4. Add Madeira, chicken stock and vinegar; bring to a boil and boil rapidly until liquid is reduced by half. Turn off heat. Cut remaining tablespoon of butter into small chunks and stir into sauce. Adjust seasoning to taste with salt and pepper or more vinegar, if desired.

STEAMED BROCCOLI WITH LEMON-BUTTERED BREAD CRUMBS

1 bunch broccoli

Melted butter

Whole wheat crumbs

Melt butter in microwave oven. Add bread crumbs and grated lemon peel to taste. Cut broccoli flowerettes into similar size pieces. Split thick stems.

Cut stalk into broccoli nickels. Place in microwavable casserole dish. Cover with lid or plastic wrap, venting one edge. Microwave at high power for 6-8 minutes a pound. Top with lemon buttered crumbs before serving.

SALAD WITH VINAIGRETTE DRESSING

1 bunch romaine lettuce, washed, dried and torn into pieces
Chopped fresh tomato

1 tablespoons red wine vinegar

1/4 teaspoon Dijon mustard

2 tablespoons olive oil

Place vinegar, mustard and oil in a small jar. Shake well to combine. Just before serving, pour over lettuce and tomato and toss.

Race raises $1,000 for Clarkston SCAMP

More than $1,000 was raised during the third annual Meadow Brook Historic Races for SCAMP at the Waterford Hills Road Racing Track.

SCAMP, a summer camp for emotionally and physically disabled children in Oakland County, had volunteers serve ice cream sundaes to the spectators at the Concours in Clarkston's Depot Park July 31.

"The whole event went really well," said SCAMP's Bunny Newmarch. "There were lots of good workers involved."

SCAMP volunteers were able to raise $527 during the Concours. GP/Publishing, Inc., which co-produces the Historic Races with Waterford Hills Road Racing Inc., donated $500 from the event's proceeds to SCAMP for the second year.

"We hope to increase our support for (SCAMP) each year as the races themselves grow and prosper," said Michael Sheridan, president of GP/Publishing.

SCAMP is run by the North Oakland Funding Corp. which is made up of a volunteer board of directors. The program receives its funding strictly through donations from corporations, concerned individuals and special events such as the Meadow Brook Historic Races.

Funds raised throughout the year for the summer program make it possible for SCAMP to offer the students enriching activities such as overnight camping trips to Independence Oaks County Park, swimming instruction, field trips and arts and crafts.

For information about donating time or financial support to SCAMP, contact Newmarch at 625-3330.

SCAMP VOLUNTEERS prepare ice cream sundaes for the spectators at the Concours in Depot Park for the recent Meadow Brook Historic Races at Waterford Hills.

Take care of hair

Brenda Ward

It always seems to me that just about everything looks better in the summer.

In clothes and makeup you can get away with less. To highlight and compliment minimal fashions and makeup, people often make the most of their hair.

For some professional pointers, I spoke with hair designer Carolyn Sexton. Carolyn has been in the business for more than seven years and is also the manager of a busy Independence Township salon. Here's what Carolyn had to say.

It is really a toss up in deciphering the most sought after summertime services. Haircuts, of course, then perms and highlighting.

"The haircuts I'm doing a lot for women are a little bit longer now. A lot of people are going for a stacked look that adds lots of volume right into the cut. Men's cuts are the styles the guys can do at home easily every day," said Carolyn. "The cut is most important when it comes to looking great everyday."

Perms remain ever popular. Modern techniques and formulations allow great freedom in controlling your results.

So with perms, it is easy to get just what you want if you express yourself completely to your stylist. Carolyn stresses communication between client and stylist for the best results.

"I'm seeing a lot of men becoming much more concerned with their hair," said Carolyn. "The benefits of perming, color or highlighting are a well groomed or more youthful appearance and styling ease."

I have always found subtle variations of color in hair very attractive for men and women. For some of us, this is natural.

For the rest of us, hair highlighting is a subtle yet attractive change especially popular in the summer.

I asked the expert and she replied, "Everybody likes lighter hair for summer. The best results are obtained by having a professional do this service for you because the placing of highlights is really an art. There is a new technique called woodgraining. It's for people with dark brown to black shades of hair. Warm red tones are added, the traditional blonde shades would be too dramatic. Highlights should be gradual color changes to look natural."

Hair coloring can certainly be quite enhancing for men as well as women.

Carolyn's woodgraining technique was done on my naturally black hair. I have always been a grade A chicken when it came to haircolor.

I must say, though, I love auburn wine colored highlights in my hair and have received many compliments. It was fun to be a little daring.

Carolyn's last advice was about taking special care of summer hair. Just as you can overdo sun exposure to the skin, hair is no exception.

"Remember after you have any type of chemical service done, ask your stylist for recommendations on the products to keep your hair healthy. Good conditioning is of the utmost importance, she said. Carolyn offers this easy home deep conditioning treatment.

"Apply your favorite conditioner to clean (wet) hair. Comb through, don't rinse out. Leave this on while sunbathing. Spritz with water frequently to keep hair wet. (You can wrap hair with a towel to prevent drips.) This is a good version of a heat conditioning treatment and works while you work on your tan."

She also warns against intense prolonged exposure from the sun for colored, permed or bleached hair. Cover it up with pretty scarfs, hats or even pulling it up on top of your head or back in a ponytail or pretty french braid.

"The emphasis now is on quality service for your clients, not quantity as in how many customers you do," Carolyn said.

The trend now is getting a good style for your type and condition of hair, then knowing all the right products and tools to use so you can achieve good results at home.

The service orientated salons for hair care, the ones that consider the clients total needs, are certainly the front-runners for 1987.

Thank you to Carolyn Sexton. I found her friendly as well as informative.

It's not always true about blondes having more fun—I'm certainly enjoying my summer with a little bit of red!

Next time, one dozen beauty tricks not to be without. Have a good week!

Surviving are his children, Mary Lou Taylor of Florida, Ruth Ann Couture of Ortonville and Dan Althouse of Colorado; grandchildren, Jeff, Mike, Tom, Ami, Heidi and Dan; great-grandchildren, Jasmine, Jessica, James and Madeline; brothers, Robert and Arnold, both of Florida; and sisters, Vera and Alice, both of Leonard.

The funeral was Aug. 10 at the Williams Lake Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Jack Pepples and Stephen Anthony officiating. Burial was in Lakeville Cemetery, Lakeville. Arrangements were made by the Lewis E. Wint & Son Funeral Home.

Memorials may be made to the Hospice of Huron Shores.

Eugene Bordinat Jr.

Eugene Bordinat Jr. died Aug. 11 at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit. Bordinat, 67, of Independence Township, retired as vice president, design, for Ford Motor Company in November 1980.

"Gene Bordinat was a giant among automotive designers for two decades and left an indelible mark on the industry," said Ford Chairman Donald E. Petersen, adding that he was responsible for the design of many successful products at Ford ranging from the Ford Mustang and the Lincoln Town Car to the Ford Falcon.

"He played an important role in the company's growth and development and had the respect of people throughout the auto industry," Petersen said. "We shall miss him."

Bordinat is survived by his wife, Teresa, and two brothers, Philip of Morgantown, W. Va., and David of Okemos.

Funeral services will be private. Memorials may be made to the Gene Bordinat Scholarship Fund at the Center for Creative Studies-College of Transportation and Design, 245 E. Kirby, Detroit, Mi. 48202.

Bordinat had been associated with the automotive industry literally all his life. He was born Feb. 10, 1920, in Toledo, Ohio, where his father was works manager for Willys Overland.

He attended high school in the Detroit area, studied at the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills, and attended the University of Michigan. He was also a student of the former General Motors Design School in Detroit.

At the close of his freshman year at the University Michigan in 1939, he took a summer job in the styling operation at General Motors. By the close of the summer he found himself so absorbed in car design that he never returned to college.

In 1942, he became a supervisor of the tank program at GM's Fisher Body Plant. Following World War II, during which he was a cadet with the Army Air Force, he returned to GM as a senior designer.

He joined Ford in 1947 as supervisor of advanced styling, and subsequently served as supervisor of exterior styling, manager of Lincoln-Mercury styling, Mercury chief stylist and chief stylist in the Lincoln-Mercury studio. He was elected a vice president of Ford in May of 1961.

After retirement, Bordinat remained active in the automotive world. He appeared at many car shows, and was recently the guest of honor at the Straits Area Auto Show in St. Ignace.

He was also writing a book about his career at Ford, entitled "My Days at the Court of Henry II." But he had shelved the manuscript and never completed the book.

"It was fun to start writing, but then you're into nine months of rewrites and editing. It's hard work," Bordinat said in an interview shortly before his death. "How important is this? I could be doing other things known as retirement. When you reach 67, you wonder how many nine-month chunks you have left."

AFTER RETIREMENT, Gene Bordinat had remained active in the automotive world.

John B. Holdridge

John B. Holdridge, 71, of Independence Township died Aug. 7. He was retired from GM Truck and Coach after 42 years of service.

Surviving are his children, Mrs. Steve (Charlene) VanBrocklin and Raymond Holdridge, both of California, Robert Winter, Mrs. Donald (Mary Lou) Trulu and Mrs. David (Jackie) Carter, all of Ortonville, and Dodi Moultrup of Waterford; 22 grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; and sisters, Doris Gage of Grand Blanc and Wilma Hefflinger of Swartz Creek.

The funeral was Aug. 10 at Grace Lutheran Church, Pontiac, with the Rev. Robert Tewes officiating. Burial was in Ottawa Park Cemetery, Independence Township. Arrangements were made by the Lewis E. Wint & Son Funeral Home, Independence Township.

Louis B. Livingston

Louis B. Livingston, 77, of Waterford Township died Aug. 14. He was retired from the Pontiac Motor Engineering Department.

Mr. Livingston was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Pontiac. He was past master and member of the Roosevelt Masonic Lodge No. 510 of Pontiac and a member of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. He was a graduate of GM Tech.

Surviving are his wife, Norine; children, Sharon McGee of Oklahoma and Robert Livingston of Clarkston; grandchildren, Mrs. Robert Pendergrass, Kevin McGee, Louis Scott Livingston, Eric David Livingston, Keith Wharry Livingston and Mrs. Robert O'Neill; sister, Ella Sue Bradley; and brother, William Robert Livingston.

The funeral was Aug. 17 at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac. Burial was in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery, Pontiac.

Memorials may be made to the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

A CONSUMER SHOPPING TIP

When waterproofing your basement, make sure your contractor's reputable. Read your contract carefully before signing. Question all language you don't understand. Be prepared to remove your own interior basement walls if contract so states. And don't let a salesman tell you soil conditions and water table are irrelevant. They're important.

UNDER THE SHADE on the deck behind the senior center, June Denton (left) of Oakhill Road, Brandon Township, and Irma Shivlie of zen Flea Market. The goods ranged from home-made food to used clothing and appliances.

Goodies for sale

CURTIS LEMASTER INTENTLY examines the variety of items at the flea market on Friday.

Originally from Kentucky, LeMaster now resides in Pontiac.

A BASEBALL BAT AND BALL are some of the treasures that Arthur Walster finds Friday. He and his wife Agnes live at the Grovecrest nursing home on Clintonville Road, Independence Township.
