About 150 more students enrolled in Clarkston schools this year than expected, said William Neff, director of administrative services in the district.

Last year, they predicted a loss of about 46 students, and the preliminary numbers show an increase of about 106, he said at the Monday board meeting.

"The numbers are difficult to predict," he said, adding they will probably decrease by the fourth Friday count this month, which determines the amount of money per student the district will receive in state aid.

The added students mean several classes are overcrowded, and four elementary classrooms are split-levels, he said.

At Andersonville and Bailey Lake elementary schools, grades, three, four, five and six have some overcrowding problems, Neff said. Other problems are in grades two and five at Clarkston Elementary, grades three and four and North Sashabaw, and grades four and five at Pine Knob.

About six classes in each junior high school are too crowded, and 13 classes at the high school have too many students, he said.

Conrad Bruce, director of personnel services, said they're still correcting the class sizes in the secondary buildings.

"In the elementary, we missed by a lot," he said. "We projected continued growth in the township, but not for this much," he said.

Neff also commented.

"We can shift within the buildings, but we didn't get the 4.25 mills (rejected by voters in June), so we can't make any moves until we have a better picture on the overall enrollment."

Crafts & Cider this weekend

Music will mix with donuts, cider and crafts in Depot Park this weekend at the 13th Annual Crafts and Cider Festival in Clarkston.

Sponsored by the Clarkston Historical Society, the festival will feature the sale of coffee mugs in addition to the wares of about 60 artisans.

"We'll have all the usual good things, plus the mugs and the concert," said Jennifer Radcliff, president of the historical society.

Scheduled for noon to 6 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18, 19 and 20, the festival also includes a free sidewalk architectural tour of the Village of Clarkston on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Weather permitting, they expect to beat last year's attendance figure of 30,000 people, Radcliff said.

"We always just pray for good weather," she said.

The crafts at the festival include pottery, weaving, soft sculptures, jewelry, wood crafts, toys and watercolors. Some of the newer exhibitions include glass, wood and canvas chairs, graphic arts, photography, decorative enameled bird and flowers, and wooden doll furniture.

Local civic groups are to sell foods and treats; and the historical society is to sell the coffee mugs--the first in a series to be sold at each festival.

From noon to 1 p.m. Sunday, the 35-member Franklin Village Band is to play marches and selections from Broadway musicals, plus old favorites, said Radcliff.

The park is on Depot Road on the west side of Main Street and adjacent to Clarkston Village Hall.

Election will cost

The about $7,000 cost to hire workers for the Oct. 27 school millage election was unanimously approved by the Clarkston Community School Board Monday.

Usually, the schools don't have to pay for the workers because they store the voting machines for Independence Township in exchange for the election service, said Business Manager William Jackson.

Since it's a special school election, the school district is responsible for the cost, he said.

In the October election, voters will be asked to approve a 4.25 millage increase. The request was rejected by school district voters in June.

Search is on for post office site

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

The plan to build a post office to provide adequate space for current and future needs was put on hold by the United States Postal Service last fall because other projects received higher priority, said Alan Barnas, an independent real estate consultant with Treadwell Read Estate of Southgate.

"I convinced them to pursue this matter now rather than next year ... because there's very little land now and a year from now, there'll be even less, if any," Barnas said.

While there are a couple of sites under consideration, the goal is to offer an opportunity for other property owners to step forward, he said.

Plans for the new building, triple the current size, require about 3.5 acres with at least 400 feet of road frontage on or near M-15, north of Dixie Highway and south of I-75.

The first consideration would be vacant property, but a building that could be demolished would also be considered, he said.

"We're going to see what turns up, basically," Barnas said.

The tentative date for construction is two or three years away, he said, and after the new post office is built, the current building will be sold.

The current post office on M-15 north of the Dixie Highway intersection was built on about 2 acres in 1978. At that time, the post office was moved from the Village of Clarkston.

"The reason we need such a large site is because we don't want to be put in the same position we are now," said Barnas.

"When they get done, you're probably going to have a $2 1/2 million building," he added, noting that construction would be "state of the art" and would cost $80 to $100 a square foot.

Growth at the post office has been rapid since he became Clarkston postmaster in 1979, said William O. Kinsley II.

The national growth average is between 1 and 2 percent a month, and the Clarkston post office has been increasing at 3 to 4 percent rate, he said.

The Clarkston post office, which distributes mail for 48016 and 48095 zip code areas, should be as close to the village as possible "because of the identity," Kinsley said.

As he waits for the new building, Kinsley continues to cope with lack of parking and crowded quarters for the staff of 65.

"We're utilizing in our building every square inch that we can and still keeping the building as safe as we can," he said, noting that workers are on the job 14 hours a day and the number of routes have expanded by three in the past year to 25.

Register for cheese

Free cheese and other government surplus are available to low-income families in the area.

To register for 1987-88, applicants should bring proper identification and paperwork to the Mill Pond Building in Springfield Township on Wednesday, Sept. 30, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

For more information, call Neighbor for Neighbor at 634-8605.

Correction

CHS junior dies in car-bus

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A 16-year old Clarkston High School junior was killed last Thursday when the car she was driving collided with a school bus on Waldon Road in Independence Township.

Janis Lea Ridley of Independence Township was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident at about 11:45 a.m., said Accident Investigator Kim G. Rossman of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The passenger in Ridley's car, Nancy Christine Rush, 16, of Independence Township remains in serious condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital (POH). Rush is also a junior at CHS.

The bus driver, Jacqueline Larkin, 46, of Independence Township, was treated and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

No passengers were riding the school bus.

She saw Ridley's 1980 Pontiac Pheonix, traveling in the opposite direction, cross the yellow center line, according to police reports. Larkin braked and swerved to avoid the collision, but to no avail.

"From what the bus driver said she saw, the kids were distracted by something inside the car," said Rossman, adding there were no mechanical problems with the car.

"It's very tragic, but it was a simple accident," he said.

Tire tracks on Waldon Road showed where the bus brakes were used and an attempt was made to leave the road, said Rossman. They didn't find tire tracks for Ridley's car, so they assume she didn't see the bus and didn't know she was across the center line, he said.

Alcohol was not involved and all parties were wearing seat belts, said Rossman.

Ridley's car was totaled and the school bus was too damaged to drive, he said. To clear the site, Waldon Road was closed until 2:30 p.m.

After the accident, the bus was inspected by Michigan State Police Motor Vehicle Inspection Team, said Mel Vaara, assistant superintendent in charge of transportation at Clarkston Schools.

Any school vehicle involved in an accident is routinely inspected, and no problems were found with the bus, he said.

This is the second fatal accident involving a school vehicle in Vaara's tenure with the schools, he said,

"I only remember one in my 33 years here," he said.

"It's very tragic," he said. "I feel so sorry for the family. It's a very unfortunate situation. ... I didn't sleep very well last night. Our bus driver didn't either. They have a very difficult job, transporting the children."

Clarkston school vehicles are involved with about one accident per school year, said Vaara.

Rush's brother, Donald Rush, a former CHS student, said the girls may have been hurrying back to class from their lunch break. They may have been returning proofs of a photograph of themselves that had been taken by a professional photographer, he said.

"They were pretty good buddies," he said.

Nancy and Janis took turns driving each other to school, and they spent the night at eachother's houses, he said.

A longer lunch hour may have prevented the accident, he said.

"I'd like the school board to consider changing the lunch time or lowering the lunch prices or closing the campus," he said.

A half hour isn't much time to get lunch, and the school lunches are expensive, he said.

"There's absolutely no need for students to leave the campus, although I'm sure the restaurant owners would be screaming," he said.

Nancy is still in the Intensive Care Unit (ICU) at POH with a fractured leg and several cuts on her face, Rush said.

"She's surprising a lot of people at the hospital, physically," he said. "Nancy has always had a positive outlook on things. That's going to help her out."

She appreciates all the cards people have sent, he said, adding flowers aren't allowed in the ICU.

At CHS, juniors and seniors are allowed to leave the campus for lunch, said Principal Dr. Robert Burek. Sophomores are required to stay in the school building.

"Nothing's locked in concrete" about the school lunch policy, but he hasn't received any phone calls about changing it, he said.

The school was designed to serve 700-800 students, he said. With about double that number now, the cafeteria doesn't have the facilities to prepare enough food or seat that number of students, he said.

Death rocks high school

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

After her death last Thursday, 16-year old Janis Ridley was described as an "outstanding young lady" and a "quality person" by teachers and students at Clarkston High School, said Dr. Robert Burek, principal of Clarkston High School.

Janis was "a popular young lady with lots of close friends," said Burek after the car accident that killed Janis last week.

She was well respected by students and teachers, he said.

One of a set of triplets, Janis had hoped to become a police officer, said her sister Michell, 21.

"She shocked me when she told me that," said Michell. "But that's what she wanted to do." Janis shared some of the same friends with her triplet brothers, James and Jody, said Michell.

"Janis always had a lot of friends," she said. "She was very bubbly. You always knew when she was home because she'd always come in and say, 'Hi, guys!' Even if she had a bad day, she always made us feel good.

"She wasn't just my sister. She was my friend. She was always there when I wanted to talk to her."

Janis worked part time at Bonanza, and she liked listening to the radio and talking to friends, said Michell.

A member of the Zion's League Youth Group and Venture, Janis was active in her church, the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints in Waterford Township.

"Our church was so helpful," said Michell, adding the family appreciates all the support from friends and relatives and all of Janis' friends who showed their concern.

At CHS, school officials talked about her death to the student body in a group, in smaller groups and one-on-one when needed, said Burek.

"It's been a pretty somber day," he said. "Something like this takes a long time to recover from. It's just extremely unfortunate."

Janis is the daughter of Art and Char Ridley and the granddaughter of Mrs. Eulaylah Ridley and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson. Memorials may be made to the church.

4 from St. Dan's in pope choir

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

When more than 90,000 people gather at the Silverdome Sept. 19 to hear Pope John Paul II say mass, 1,200 of those will be adding a very special touch to the memorable occasion.

A 1,200-voice choir, with full orchestra, will perform 12 pieces during the mass, including a Polish and a Spanish song.

The 1,200 voices represent many parish choirs throughout the Archdiocese of Detroit. Four people, a soprano, alto, tenor and bass, were chosen from each choir.

Each is looking forward to the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity with excitement.

"It's a very rewarding thing to do," says Belch, who sings alto. "It's overwhelming to sing with that many voices."

The choir has been rehearsing in four groups since July, and putting in many individual hours as well listening to tapes and practicing.

Raguso, an attorney who sings bass in the choir, says they were further broken down into tenor 1 and 2, baritone and bass, for the Silverdome performance.

"With that many voices there is a lot of depth, plus there is the spiritual and religious aspect of it," he says. "It sounds beautiful, almost heavenly in a way.

"I don't know how many people get this kind of a opportunity," he adds.

For the Schulte family, the opportunity is five-fold.

John Schulte, an Independence Township resident and member of St. Daniel, was the tenor chosen to perform with the choir. His father and three brothers from a parish in Warren were also chosen to perform.

"It's a great honor to be part of that special day," she says. "I've been singing for years in choir and it's always been my special way of praying."

Crafts and Cider artist thrives on activity

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Every September, after the crowds and the cider and donuts are gone, and all that's left are the few unsold items in her crafts booth, Karen Tindall smiles--because she knows she can look forward to next year.

"Even though it's hectic now, after it's all over I can't wait until the next year," says the Holly Road, Springfield Township, resident.

In the week before the 13th Annual Crafts and Cider Festival in Clarkston, Karen is frantically finishing her fabric work.

"Deadlines are the hardest part," she says. "You have to be absolutely ready for a show, and I always think, 'One more day, and I'd have it all together.'"

If this year is anything like the past five years Karen has been in the Clarkston show, she'll need every item her nimble fingers can make.

"I almost always sell out, especially at Clarkston," she says. "Clarkston is a great show. It's such a nice atmosphere with the little park. That's my favorite show."

In honor of the festival this weekend, Karen designed and constructed three items, especially for Clarkston.

The Grandma Broom is filled with evidence of Karen's hard work. The broomstick is covered with fabric and the details abound in the image of a grandma over the bristles.

Her work is definitely "country," says Karen, adding she works in calico and country fabric. She combines quilting and stenciling with her fine needlework.

"I do just about any kind of fabric craft there is," she says. "I like doing everything. I like it that any time you hand-craft something, nothing ever turns out the same."

To keep up with the 10 to 12 shows a year she's in, Karen works 12 to 14 hours a day. Her husband Jay helps every now and then with the stuffing.

"I keep busy. I don't like to just sit and have nothing to do. I always have to have a project," she said. "It's what makes me happy, I guess."

Karen began sewing in junior high school in Holly schools. She made school clothes for her little sisters.

Then she began dressmaking from her home. Eventually, she and some co-workers at the Davisburg Candle Factory, where Karen worked for 20 years, entered a show with their collective work. She's been hooked ever since.

As Karen talks about her craft, puppies squeak and try to bark in her back yard--evidence of another hobby, sled dog racing and breeding.

In the winter, she and her family race the sled dogs in the northern part of the country and in Canada. In the new litter of puppies, they're hoping for a new lead dog, she says.

She's also a cake decorator and she accepts custom fabric orders after the holidays.

From childhood, Karen says, she was raised to be a hard worker.

"My mother was a single parent, and she worked all the time. I'm sure that had something to do with it," she says. "I always saw her on the go."

APPLES ARE KAREN TINDALL'S theme for her new creations for this year's Crafts and Cider Festival. She made three new items especially for Clarkston.

Springfield agrees to purchase 400-acre park

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Township is 98 percent of the way toward a new, 400-acre park.

A purchase agreement was signed Aug. 31 for the property just west of downtown Davisburg and north of Davisburg Road that the township calls Shiawassee Basin Preserve. A final name for the park has not been decided.

The property was sold to the township for $613,000 by Mary and Ed Barker of Springfield Township.

The township applied to Michigan Land Trust Fund for a grant to cover $525,000 of the cost. The land acquisition had to be completed by the end of 1987, according to the agreement, and the final papers must be approved by the State of Michigan.

The township would pay the remainder of the land cost from its general fund.

"Because we began discussing the potential of purchasing this property back in 1985, for each of the last two budget years we have set aside some funds for our down payment," Supervisor Collin Walls said.

Township planning consultant Richard Carlisle and Walls are looking at a master development plan for short, medium and long range use of the property, even as the ink is drying on the closing papers.

"We've known from the beginning that we don't have great amounts of money to develop the land," Walls said. "We would be looking at other state grants, federal money and even private sources."

"We feel it is important to preserve this sensitive land."
– Collin Walls

The 400-acre parcel has 300 acres of environmentally sensitive land, including wetlands, wildlife and the major portion of Long Lake, which is also undeveloped.

Walls said, "We feel it is important to preserve this sensitive land."

The wetlands portion might possibly have footpaths so people could enjoy the natural preserve, he said.

The other 100 acres, across from Davisburg Elementary School, is farmland and flatland, which Walls said would be ideal for recreational purposes, including ball fields and park areas.

When the state approves the final papers, the other 2 percent of the long-awaited land purchase will be in place.

Walls said the township is looking at as much as a 25-year development plan for the property.

Anti-blight ordinance reviewed

The anti-blight, or junk ordinance as it is known, was quietly brought up at the Springfield Township Board meeting Sept. 9, as a citizen committee was formed to review it.

"It is my opinion that enough time has passed to work calmly on this," Supervisor Collin Walls said.

Springfield Township residents attending a special meeting June 30 voiced loud and strong opposition to a proposed new anti-blight ordinance, which was subsequently killed. Several citizens then volunteered to form a committee to analyze the old anti-blight ordinance.

Board members unanimously agreed that it was time to work on the outdated ordinance, and suggested names in addition to those who had already volunteered.

Springfield Township residents who volunteered to work on the citizen committee to review the junk ordinance include: Beverly Slieff, Martin Stuetzer, Daniel Dankert and Val Garrison.

Residents suggested to also work on the committee include: O.D. Livermore, Larry O'Dell and Frank Meyers.

One member of the township board, Trustee Glen Vermilye, volunteered to work with the citizen committee.

Walls stressed that the board is not asking the committee to actually draft an ordinance, but rather to review the present ordinance and make suggestions to the board for changes.

Picture perfect

I've had this love-hate relationship with my driver's license. It's not the license itself, but rather the photograph.

Eight years ago, when it was snapped at the Secretary of State's office, I knew it was going to be horrible ... and it was.

"OK," I can remember thinking later at places where I had written checks, "I'll give you my license for ID, but please don't try to compare me with that horrible photo."

Somehow, people who did make the comparison always knew it was me. That, in itself, was unsettling.

The years marched on and, somehow, the photo improved with age. Once, when I was particularly frazzled, an ID checker even noted how good I looked in my license photo.

It got to the point that I felt flattered when people looked at my license and knew it was me.

Thus, I was not happy when the notice arrived that mail renewals are not allowed after eight years.

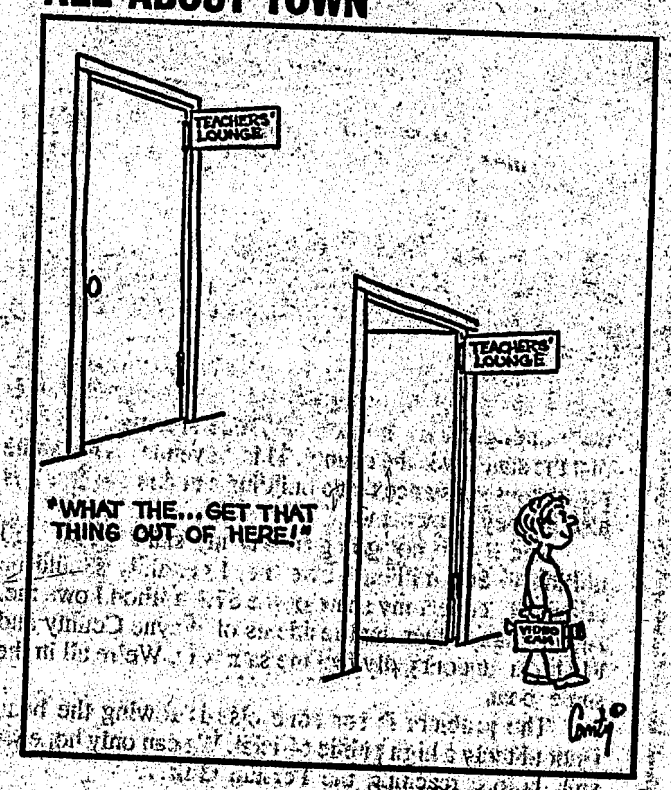

Not only would I have to take a test, but I would be required to stand in front of that camera again.

I figured I could at least do something to assure that my hair would look good in the photo-to-be. My hair stylist was on vacation.

They must be joking.

Letters to the editor

One of the best

I would like to thank all of the people of the Clarkston/Independence area for their support of the 1987 Clarkston Rotary Club Labor Day Parade.

It was gratifying to see the turnout of people on Church and Main Street who viewed this year's event.

I heard comments that this year's parade was the longest and one of the best ever.

Special thanks should go to Jerry McNally and his committee who organized the parade. Many months of preparation are needed to be successful.

Thanks to Del Lohff and Bill Foster for their fine job as parade starters. Thanks to Allan Ronquillo and his awards judging committee.

Thanks to Bob Cook and his crew in keeping the parade route on Main Street free of cars, stringing the ropes and assisting in crowd control.

Also thanks to all Clarkston Rotarians for their help, of whom there are too many to mention.

On behalf of the Clarkston Rotary Club thanks go to the following: Everyone who participated in the parade; everyone who came out to watch; the Oakland County Sheriff's patrol for their help in blocking off the parade route and in crowd control; Homer Biondi as our parade announcer; area newspapers for their coverage; the Independence Township Fire Department for the use of their ropes; the American Legion for their color guards; the Shriners and Masons for their little cars, etc.; Clarkston Junior High School for the use of their facilities; and thanks to any others that I may have missed.

Also thanks for the fine weather.

The Clarkston area is a great place to live and the support of our community is appreciated. A hearty thanks to all.

John Priebe, President
1987-88 Clarkston Rotary

Firefighters say thanks

In behalf of the Independence Township firefighters, I would like to extend my appreciation and thanks to all who participated for a very successful Labor Day pancake breakfast.

The help received from wives, girlfriends, The Clarkston News and several retired members of this department was greatly appreciated.

Altogether 913 people were served, allowing us to raise $1,000 to give to the National Institute for Burn Medicine.

A special thanks goes to the Sashabaw Junior High School for the use of their tables and chairs and to all who came down to the Village Park and joined us for breakfast this year.

Victims of burn injuries will benefit a great deal from your generosity.

Robert Cesario

'Public' praise

I just wanted to write and thank you for Pat Young's fine article regarding public access television production in Clarkston (The Clarkston News, 9/2/87).

The article was well written and enjoyable to read.

We enjoyed Pat's visit with us, and thank you again for yourcoverage of people who put the "public" in Public Access Cable TV in Clarkston.

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

Not being of sound mind, I make lots of notes. This is not a recent thing. I never did trust my memory. As a consequence, my untrained mind remembers very little.

Hazel calls it a "convenient" memory. Hazel was wrong once before, but I can't remember when and I didn't make a note of it.

A bad thing about this extended period of not relying on memory is that I frequently forget to look at my notes. The other day I forgot to wear my calendar to work. My faulty memory told me I had a meeting at the Big Boy at 8 a.m. with Senator Nichols.

After a half hour of waiting with increasing anger I returned to my office, ready to write something scathing about politicians having so little concern for their constituents and the press in a non-election year.

Then I looked at my calendar, which Hazel remembered to bring to the office, and found I was a day early for meeting the fine senator from the 8th district.

Besides writing every appointment, be it lunch, interview, or golf, in my calendar, I also write birthdays of my wife and children. I do remember our wedding anniversary, but we never celebrate it.

For very important events-golf, fishing, airport, etc-I write another note and put it with my wallet so I'll see it before I go to work. I never forget my wallet. It has my wife's picture in it.

Where was I, oh, yes. Memory failure thereof. I relate to all the people who say 'Memory fails me, but didn't I meet you in ---------.' The other day I asked Hazel when I started to work in Gladwin, my first newspaper job. I'd think I would remember something that auspicious.

Memory cannot be hereditary. My dad could remember the numbers of hundreds of railroad cars, all the train schedules in Durand, and name every gumshoe who tried to smell his breath during the depression.

Mother remembered every night all of her four children were out too late, every school grade below a B, and the whereabouts of each object that ever passed through our hands.

I think my memory failure dates to my early days in business when I decided I would not attempt to retain anything that seemed unimportant at the time. I said to myself, 'there is no reason to remember anything that can be looked up.'

So I started putting aside geographic and historical statistics. I decided learning the difference between effect and affect, capital and capitol, stationary and stationery wasn't necessary; I could check Webster's.

I talked myself into believing I had to remember just one thing, to look at my calendar each morning. Frankly, this has worked out pretty good, however there have been times I've forgotten to write this column. Was this one of them?

Group concerned with growth

I am writing to inform the residents of Independence Township of the formation of a group called "Citizens for Orderly Growth" (COG).

COG was started by a group of citizens who are concerned about the type, placement or scope of township development in the future and the impact of such development on the quality of life which we now enjoy.

During the last several years, Independence Township has undergone phenomenal growth as urbanization has spread northward along the I-75 corridor.

While growth and development are inevitable in a suburban area such as ours, they raise numerous issues and problems for current and future township residents.

We believe that area residents would agree that Independence Township offers a certain quality of life unattainable elsewhere in the Detroit metropolitan area, and that we all have a vested interest in preserving that quality of life.

It's for this fundamental reason that a group of township residents got together and decided to form a citizens' group to act as a forum for the exchange of individual and group concerns on the impact of future growth on our schools, neighborhoods, services, streets, lakes and commercial areas.

Thus, COG was formed for the purpose of holding informal meetings to entertain all viewpoints on the impact of growth on township life and to communicate such viewpoints, concerns and proposals to our township government.

After several meetings in each other's homes, for the purpose of getting organized and establishing a course of action, our group will now hold a public forum to allow others to express their ideas or concerns, to ask questions about our group and our goals or to just offer moral support.

The forum will be held 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 23, in the Activities Building of Clarkston Junior High School.

Friendly faces

Waitress serves smiles, too

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For Myra Stuart, making friends is part of her job.

Her customers almost seem like family, said Myra, who's been a waitress for three years at Elias Brothers' Big Boy on Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

"They're friendly," she said. "You can talk to them. You know about their kids, their grandkids. You know about their problems, as well as the good things in their lives.

"You get really involved with your customers. We have a lot of regulars, and they are nice, nice people."

The town may have something to do with it, said Myra, adding she's worked in a lot of restaurants in her 17 years in the business.

"Clarkston is a really nice community. In a bigger city, you might not have that closeness with your customers," she said.

Friendliness is part of the restaurant atmosphere, she said.

"If you go up and smile and are nice to them, you can lift them up. ... And they can do the same for me.

"Most people who go to restaurants are out for a good time. They're a little more relaxed, more friendly, more open."

Myra shared her philosophy on serving people.

"I treat people like I like to be treated," she said. "I don't want a sourpuss coming to my table. I don't bring my home problems to work--except my car. All my customers know about my car. It's a lemon."

Her manager, Larry Dean, describes her as "the smilingest employee I've ever seen.

"She's a joy to work with," he said.

Myra likewise appreciates her co-workers.

"I enjoy the people I work with. We've got a super good crew, and the managers are really nice," she said. "It makes it really pleasant to work here.

"The challenging thing is training the other waitresses. And when they're on their own, and they do good, it makes me feel good."

DO YOU KNOW SOMEONE who works in the Clarkston area and deserves recognition for a job well done? We'd like to share your praise. Drop us a line at The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston, MI 48016, or call 625-3370.

'If it Fitz . . .'

Can't we just payment?

Jim Fitzgerald

As a resident of both the State of Michigan and the County of Wayne, I wonder how much money I owe me.

The newspaper said, "Wayne County owes Michigan $50 million to $60 million." The same newspaper also said extra combat pay for 10,000 U.S. military members stationed in the Persian Gulf region "will cost the Pentagon roughly $1.1 million a month."

Nonsense. The Pentagon is a big building. Michigan and Wayne County are geographic areas most easily identified on a map. If a cement structure or a plot of ground owed me money, I wouldn't feel good about my chances of getting paid. How do you dun dirt?

It is taxpayers - you and me - who are paying our soldiers and sailors $1.1 million extra every month for risking their lives to implement President Reagan's policy of sending our military to foreign nations so there will be no danger of a military confrontation with foreigners. This policy was devised by the same White House adviser who advised the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries to drop fish in the ocean to prevent them from getting wet.

We can be sure there is no danger of our servicemen earning their combat pay by engaging in combat because, if there were, Congress would invoke the War Powers Act. The War Powers Act - the final act of a three-act musical drama - features the powerful wailing of mothers and widows. The first two acts feature our Marine barracks blowing up in Lebanon, our ships blowing up in the Persian Gulf, and rousing military music.

BUT YOU KNEW all that obvious stuff. You don't need me to tell you it's you - not a building or some acres of land - that deserves full credit for financing the governmental policies that make our lives such a joy to escape through alcohol.

Such mundane matters of state are mentioned only to furnish a contrast to the fascinating idea of my owing money to myself. On the national level, it seems impossible to avoid full payment of the taxes required to finance the diplomatic shedding of blood. But in Wayne County, there appears to be a way to avoid complete insolvency, if not insanity.

According to state Treasurer Robert Bowman, Wayne County taxpayers owe $50 ;million or $60 million to Michigan taxpayers. And don't worry yourself about that $10 million worth of vagueness. When the amount owed is more than $1 million, it isn't necessary to be precise. It is only necessary to work for the government, spend - or owe - someone else's money, and have no sense of fiscal responsibility.

OBVIOUSLY, as both a Wayne County and Michigan taxpayer, I owe some portion of the $50 million to $60 million debt to me. A mathematician, by dividing dollars by population and percentiles by decimals, could undoubtedly tell me exactly how much. But who wants to talk to a mathematician?

Suffice to say that, as much as I would like to get the money I owe me, I really can't afford to pay it. So I'm willing to forget it. Tear up the I.O.Me. Many other dual residents of Wayne County and Michigan undoubtedly feel the same way.

It should be noted that, because the county owes the state $50 million to $60 million, Treasurer Bowman is withholding a $7.1 million "revenue sharing payment" that the state owes the county. This "revenue" is not some mysterious substance that a building can dun dirt for. It is also money I owe me.

And if I'm not going to pay my share of the $50 million to $60 million I owe me, I certainly should be allowed to collect my share of the $7.1 million I owe me. Again, many other dual residents of Wayne County and Michigan undoubtedly feel the sam way. We're all in the same boat.

The problem is someone else is rowing the boat. Undoubtedly a high public official. We can only hope we sink before reaching the Persian Gulf.

Education is . . .

Until we can differentiate, prefer and do good rather than bad, we cannot call ourselves truly educated.

There must be a standard of behavior beneficial to both society and ourselves. Students of today are divided and confused by the methods of instruction more often than not.

Abysmal values of the twisting society around us is making evil look good and good look evil.

Albert Einstein once said, "It is essential that the student acquire an understanding of, and a lively feeling for values ... of the morally good. Otherwise he--with his specialized knowledge--more closely resembles a well-trained dog than a harmoniously developed person."

This "lively feeling for values" can be called the missing perception to education, good character development.

New school meetings on hold

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

Despite rumors to the contrary, all discussions and meetings regarding plans to seek voter approval of a new Clarkston High School have ceased, says Milford Mason, superintendent of Clarkston schools.

"The status of it right now is basically everything is on hold," Mason said. "We can't go any further and aren't going any further at the present moment because of the operational millage."

In June, school district voters defeated a request for an additional 4.25 mills for operational purposes. The 4.25-mill request will again appear on a special school district election ballot Oct. 27.

While the 4.25 mills would be used solely for operational purposes (supplies, salaries and building operation expenses), steps toward placing a tax request for a new high school on the ballot were dropped following the June ballot failure.

Board of education members agreed that if there was not enough money to operate the current educational program, it would be foolish to continue with architectural plans and a site search for a new high school, both necessary steps before going to the voters.

The most recent activity regarding a new high school involved soil borings in June to determine if a high school could be built on 130 acres off White Lake Road behind 40 acres at Dixie Highway and White Lake Road proposed for a branch of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, Mason said.

"We have to continually be involved in some degree in forward planning and examining that piece of property was done solely in that context," he said.

There have been no options taken to purchase the property, no money has exchanged hands and no purchase offer exists, Mason said.

"If any work has gone on on that site past July 1, then it is someone else performing it for other parties unknown," he said.

Sign removed

For years drivers on Dixie Highway have encountered a "Springfield, Reduce Speed" sign as they drove through the Springfield area near Davisburg Road.

But there has never been any speed limit posted.

The Springfield Township Board voted Sept. 9 to have the signs removed, following a suggestion from citizens.

The speed limit in the area is 55 mph.

Supervisor Collin Walls and Clerk J. Calvin Walters voted against the motion to remove the signs. The other five members of the board voted in favor of it.

Walls said he would be in favor of posting 45 mph speed limit signs rather than removing the reduce speed signs.

But most of the board agreed that people have ignored the reduce speed signs on Dixie Highway for years and would probably ignore the 45 mph speed limit as well.

Teachers recalled

Of the 18 school staff members laid off last year, 10 have been recalled so far due to resignations and illnesses.

The latest three were approved unanimously for recall at the Sept. 14 Clarkston school board meeting.

Speech therapist Janis Kirchgessner and music teacher Gloria Lacey are to fill positions left vacant by resignations. Math teacher Kelly Cutshaw was recalled due to an illness of a teacher.

Residents want answer before millage vote

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two residents demanded answers Monday from the Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education.

Their concerns centered on money and the board's intentions for the additional 4.25 mills that will face voters this October.

"I voted against the 4.25 mills in June," said Charles Hodges.

"I have two kids in class, and I'm very happy with their education, and I'd love to help with the millage, but I've never heard one person come forward and say what you're going to do with the 4.25 mills to make my child's education better."

He received one flier sent home in his child's backpack, he said, and the board should have sent more information before the millage election.

"After I voted against it, I felt guilty, and I came to the meetings," Hodges said.

"The millage makes a lot of difference to my budget, ... and I want to know that the administration is making a commitment to improve the education of my kids.

"I've only been here two years, but I found out that after the last millage increase, the administration got a big raise. That created a lot of bad feelings with the community.

"A lot of people out there aren't coming in to tell you what they think, but I think I speak for a lot of them.

"The taxpayers, the people, are the ones who own the school. We're the stockholders. We should have more information. ... You won't get away with that in business."

Another resident, John Livermore, also wanted to know more.

"What will 4.25 mills give us? Is it just going to maintain status quo? Will you be back next year for more?" he asked.

"You do have a serious public relations problem in this district.

"I feel like our children are being held hostage. If we don't give you this, they're going to suffer," he said.

School board President Janet Thomas responded.

"Money in itself does not solve all the problems," she said. "But when money is not available, there's nothing to cut but programs and people.

"I can tell you, there's very little money misspent in this district. ...We've attempted to make percentage cuts across the board, rather than devastate any one program.

The millage increase will not only help the district regain the conditions of last year, but will improve conditions, as well, she said.

About the raises, Thomas said, "We will never contend that the employees on this school district will not get a raise."

Most people like to criticize what "the other guy" is making, she said. "But the best way to improve education is to have excellent teachers in the class, excellent administrators in the buildings and excellent central office staff."

Thomas agreed the board has had trouble getting information to the voters, although they've sent fliers home, phoned people and have had lots of coverage in the newspaper.

"But how do you get the proper information to the people, and will they read it?" she asked.

"The problem is, until there is a problem, no one is concerned. ... But the problem has been developing over a number of years," she said, adding that Hodges and Livermore were right to challenge the school board, and she wished more people would get involved.

Crafts that children can make

Children who attend the Crafts and Cider Festival in Clarkston this weekend can make something to take home.

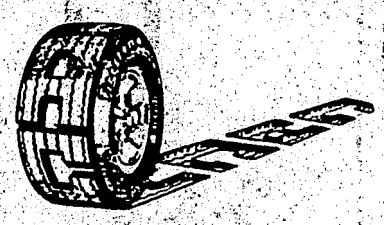

As a fundraising project, Clarkston Junior Miss constestants will help youngsters with a craft--or three--in their booth at the festival while mom and dad go shopping.

Parents can also stay with their children if they wish.

The fee is 30 cents a craft, said Barbara Hamaker, chairperson of the Junior Miss program, and eight to 10 crafts projects will be available for a range of ages.

The booth will also offer button making for $1 apiece. Youngsters can create something to place inside a pin-on button or they can bring pictures or photographs from home.

The festival is planned Friday through Sunday from noon to 6 p.m. in Depot Park, west of Main Street on Depot Road, in the Village of Clarkston.

Lake levels to be dropped

This fall might be a good time to clean up the shoreline along Woodhull and Oakland lakes in Independence and Waterford townships.

At the request of residents, the lake levels are to be lowered 3.5 feet, starting Sept. 30, pending approval from the Department of Natural Resources, said John Benedict, lake level technician at the Oakland County Drain Commission (OCDC).

The lakes should be back to their normal levels by Dec. 31, he said.

The residents along the lakes petitioned the OCDC to lower the level, so they can remove tree stumps, said Benedict.

Tree stumps can cause damage to boats in shallow parts of the lakes, as well as cause problems for water skiers, he said.

Residents should make note of the date, so they can remove their boating equipment from the water, and they should be prepared to work along the lakes while the weather's good, he said.

"This isn't going to happen that often, and they should avail themselves to do some work if possible," he said.

"If there's dry weather at the start, it's best to work on the shoreline because rain can really impede the progress," he said.

The lower levels would make it an ideal time for shoreline reconstruction, beach repair and general cleanup, he said.

For more information, call Benedict at 858-1083.

Budget meeting

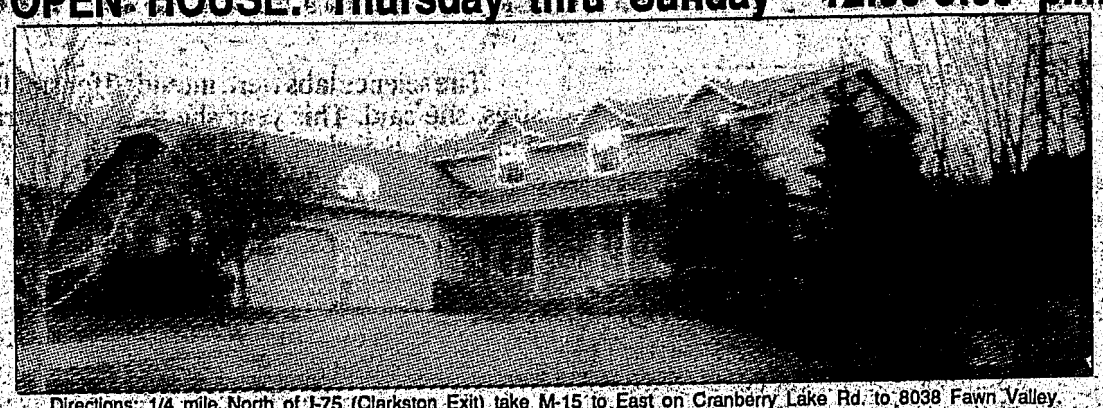

A special meeting to discuss the Springfield Township budget for 1988 is scheduled Thursday, Sept. 24, at 7 p.m. in the township hall.

The 1988 budget for Springfield, which is a charter township government, must be approved by Oct. 31, according to Supervisor Collin Walls.

At the Sept. 24 meeting, the township board will establish a preliminary budget. They must also hold a public budget hearing, which is advertised at least one week in advance.

The board has not set a date for the public hearing, which will likely be in late October after the regularly scheduled board meeting on Oct. 14.

Class size and lack of facilities were the concerns of three teachers who spoke in the public comment portion of the Monday night Clarkston school board meeting.

"I don't know whether the community really knows what this is all about," said Al Bartlett, Clarkston High School English teacher and president of the Clarkston Education Association.

"These class sizes are becoming a real problem," he said. "We have (18 empty positions) this year and 150 more students than anticipated," he said.

"As an English teacher, ... that creates tremendous problems," he said, adding he has 184 students in six classes, including 33 in a writing techniques class.

"That means I have less than two minutes to provide assistance to each student in any class," said Bartlett.

If students need help, they will have to see him before or after school, he said. And he will either have to lessen the number of assignments or shorten the length of assignments in order to grade all the papers.

"The community should be aware that the quality of education could suffer, and it has nothing to do with the dedication of the teachers," he said.

"I'm speaking for the students at the high school," she said. "Of course there's room in the building (to spread out the students); we have teachers missing."

The science labs were intended for small class sizes, she said. This year she has four extra students in each class, leaving her short two lab stations, and two lab kits for each class.

There's no money to get extra lab kits, and no space for the extra students to do their work, she said.

"The situation is hazardous," she said. "We're doing our students an injustice. ... I think other areas should suffer more than the students."

High school math teacher Jan Modesitt was also worried about learning materials and class size.

"The class sizes are no surprises to me," she said. "We've been working with these numbers since spring. ... So it's no surprise, it's just the horrendous reality of it."

With classes of 33 students, it's difficult to teach, she said.

"You're not going to get individualized instruction with these numbers," Modesitt said, adding the counselors had seen 753 students so far to balance some of the classes.

Some classes don't have math books, she said, so the few sets the principal was able to get stay in the classroom and may not be taken home at night by students.

"I happen to be very fond of books, math books in particular," she said. "The parents want to see books home at night. Well, we just don't have them. ... The programs adopted by the board, we have no money for.

"I think (the staff) in this school district has a reputation for bending over backwards to help in any way we can. But we've just about bent all we can."

Settlement allows storage units

Ending a lawsuit that goes back two or three years, the Springfield Township Board voted unanimously in favor of a plan of settlement with Savoie Insulation.

On Sept. 9, the board approved a site plan for new storage units and approved a consent judgment drawn up by the attorneys.

Originally Savoie requested that five acres of property behind Savoie Insulation, just south of Davisburg Road on the east side of Dixie Highway, be changed from residential to light industrial. The request was denied and Savoie sued.

The final settlement allows 1.8 acres to be zoned light industrial, with the added stipulation that it is only zoned for the planned self-storage units.

The remainder of the land will remain residential, with a wooded and wetland portion of the property to remain in its natural state.

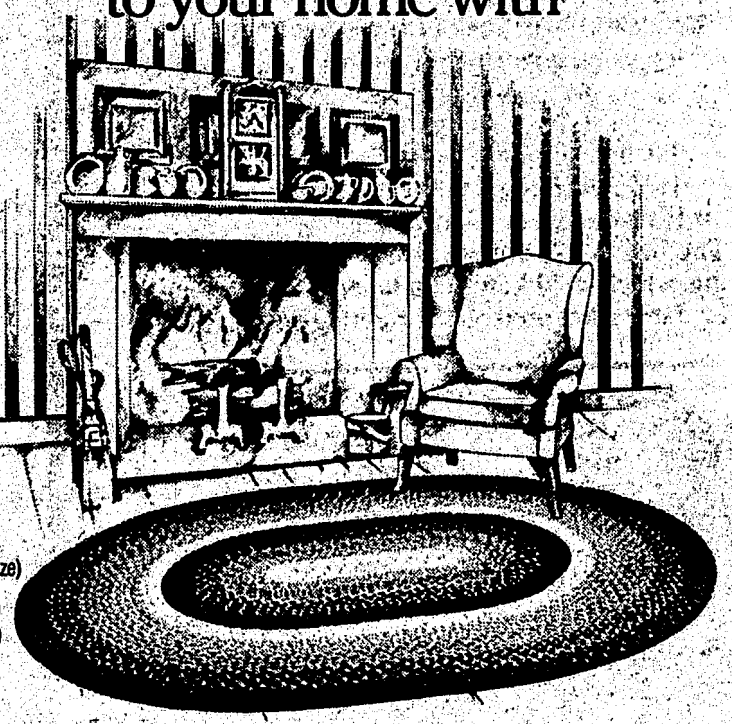

Builder Chuck Schuster and Del Lohff of Kieft Engineering were on hand at the board meeting, representing the Savoie family, to present plans for the new storage units.

The storage units, to be called Springfield Mini Storage, are to encompass 20,000 square feet. The exterior, which needed special approval by the board, is to be constructed of a masonry-like hard panel of quartz sand.

Construction is to begin as soon as possible.

Handicapped man succeeds in quest for van

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

David Watson recently reached a goal he set for himself over a year ago--acquiring a specially equipped van that would help him lead an independent life.

The Independence Township man was injured in a diving accident in 1980, shortly after graduating from Clarkston High School. The accident left him a quadriplegic, with limited use of his arms and hands.

In addition to learning to cope with life in a wheelchair, David revived the artistic talent he had shown in high school, and began painting again.

Through fundraisers organized by him and his parents, Henry and Rosemary Watson, donations and sales of his artwork, David raised the money necessary to purchase the 1987 Ford van.

Michigan Rehabilitation Services and the Handicappers Association supplied the special equipment, including a wheelchair lift and hand controls.

The van will allow David the mobility to go get to and from the Tree of Knowledge Bookstore he and his parents own in Linden, and he hopes it will help in his art career as well.

He recently entered four pieces of artwork in the Genessee County Fair and brought home three blue ribbons. He also won best in county and best in fair for his picture "Three Horses," done in a style called pointilism, a series of dots that are blended to create the picture.

The best in fair award entitles him to compete with other best in fair winners next year.

David also earned a blue ribbon at the fair for a poem he wrote, "If I Could," which describes the frustrations of a young man suddenly finding himself a quadriplegic.

But frustrations for David are giving way to better days as he continues to have success with his artwork and now has the van for mobility.

A Mount Morris gallery owner who saw David's work has asked for some of his art to display and an architect who wants to design barrier-free homes may consult with him.

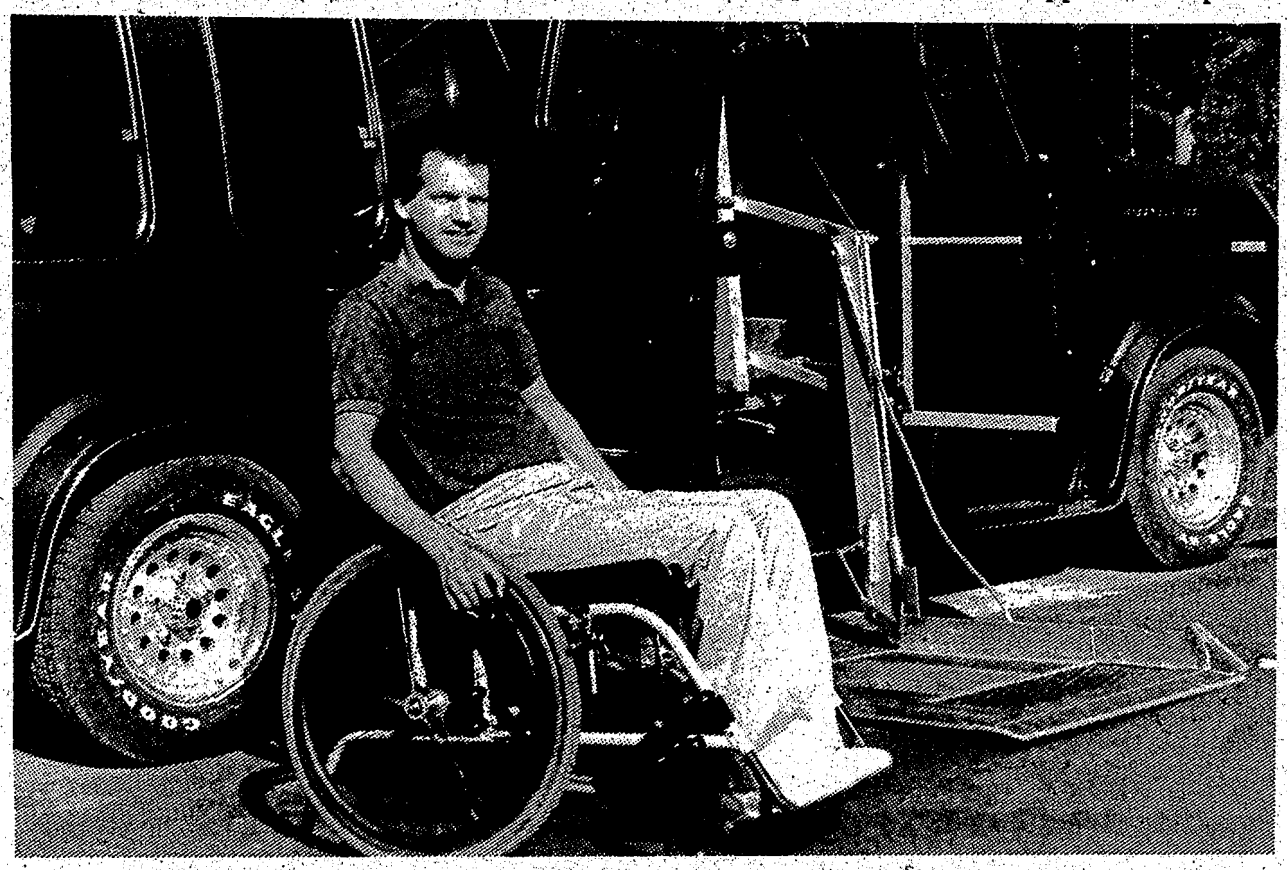

In addition, David is entering a motorcycle picture he completed in the Michigan Rehabilitation Services art show. The realistic picture of a motorcycle racer was drawn from memories of the days before David's accident when raced bikes.

He is also beginning a new series of duck paintings, and the Independence Township Library has expressed an interest in displaying his work.

"It looks like my art may be taking off," David says.

He says he is very thankful for all the help people gave him raising money for the van.

"Having the van is like new found freedom again," he says. "It's like being 16 again and getting your driver's license."

Excellence award

After 15 years of working with young girls, Ivy Lee Reinhardt was recognized with a national award.

Junior Chairperson of Chief Pontiac American Legion Post 377 in Independence Township, Ivy won the National President's Award of Excellence for a junior group.

"My first reaction was I was so honored to belong to such a great organization and to be a part of the girls," she said. "I just felt that with the help of all these girls that I had accomplished something really great."

She first got involved when her four daughters were younger, said the Orion Township resident. But she liked it so much, she continued even after her children had outgrown the 18-year-old upper age limit to belong in the group.

"I don't consider it work," she said. "It's a pleasure being with these girls. They do so much good."

The girls regularly visit three nursing homes and a veteran's hospital. They also support several charities and organize the post holiday parties.

"The smiles and looks you get because of the girls working with these people is more valuable than any money you could have," said Ivy.

"I see the happiness they bring to people. You always read in the papers about the bad things teenagers do, and I get to see what good they can do.

"The veterans mean a lot to me," she said. "Of course, my husband (Earl) is a veteran. And to get out and bring a little happiness to them--it's a good feeling."

Local quilters to put on show

Local quilt makers will be hosting a quilt show and seminar geared toward beginners and advanced quilt makers at Oakland University, Rochester, Sept. 25, 26 and 27.

After making seven quilts for the Springfield Township Sesquicentennial last year, the Davis House Quilters, headed by Springfield Township resident Helen Vergin, were asked to host the Michigan Sesquicentennial Quilt Show and Seminar.

Sponsored by the Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission, the three-day seminar includes courses for beginners to advanced and features designing, applique and stitching.

Scheduled for the Oakland Center at OU, the event is to be concluded with a quilt auction at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27.

Five of the Springfield sesquicentennial quilts are to be on display as well.

For more information on the show or seminar, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to H & D Associates, 2530 Woodcreek Lane, Davisburg, MI 48019.

Scoreboard

Basketball

Clarkston High Varsity
Wolves 92, Rochester Adams 50

Sept. 10--Four players reached double figures for the victors as the Wolves evened their record at 1-1.

Ali Fedio paced the team with 24 points and she also grabbed a team-high 18 rebounds. Jenny Grohs had 18 points.

Jackie Patrick scored 16 points, had 12 rebounds and eight assists for Clarkston. Michelle Baker made 10 points.

"It was a complete turnaround from the first game (of the season)," said Coach Dave McDonald.

Golf

Clarkston High Varsity
Waterford Kettering 170, Wolves 172

Sept. 8--Randy Nelson led the Wolves by shooting a 41 at the Pontiac Country Club.

Steve Stapleton was next with a 42, Pat Williams had a 44 and Jeff Brock, 45.

Clarkston High Varsity
Wolves 156, Hartland 162

Sept. 9--Four golfers finished the Spring Lake Country Club course with 39s to lead the Wolves over visiting Hartland.

Soccer

Clarkston High Varsity
Wolves 4, Waterford Kettering 2

Sept. 8--B.J. Deloney scored twice while Curt Caruso and Bill Cashin netted one goal apiece for the visiting Wolves as they cruised past GOAL rival Waterford Kettering.

Stu Smith and Corey Whisner shared the duties in goal and each was scored upon once.

Clarkston High Varsity
Wolves 8, Lakeland 0

Sept. 10--Clarkston swamped the visiting Lakeland team with five first-half goals including four by Cashin, who ended up scoring five times.

Clarkston High Varsity
Wolves 8, Lapeer West 0

With the victory, Clarkston ups its record to 3-2.

Clarkston High JV
Waterford Kettering 6, Wolves 1

Sept. 8--Shane Maroney scored the lone goal for the Wolves as they lost to GOAL rival Waterford Kettering.

Clarkston High JV
Wolves 3, Lapeer West 0

Sept. 11--Maroney netted one goal and Mike Reich scored two more to lead the Wolves over Lapeer West.

The victory improves the Wolves' record to 1-2 on the season.

Football

Clarkston High JV
Wolves 6, South Lyon 6

Sept. 10--John King's 65-yard run in the third quarter tied up the game and that's the way it remained as the Wolves' record moved to 0-1-1.

A 100-yard interception return in the first half gave visiting South Lyon the only points it would get all evening.

Clarkston had several chances to win the game, but never could capitalize.

"We never should have tied," said Coach John Craven. "We self-destructed every time we had the chance."

The play of the defensive unit impressed Craven, especially the improvement from week one when they faced Grand Blanc.

Basketball

9th grade basketball
Wolverines 39, Brandon 14

Sept. 9--Clarkston raced out to a comfortable 16-3 margin after one quarter and coasted to an easy victory at home.

Jenny McChesney scored 14 points to pace the victors. Beth Walker added seven more. Carrie Roeser had nine steals.

"The girls played well for the first time out," said Coach Dennis Bronson.

High emotions key for Cougars

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Adrenalin flowed through the veins of the visitors as they took the field at Clarkston High School Wednesday evening.

The annual clash between Clarkston and Sashabaw junior high schools was about to begin.

Sashabaw started the game with momentum and it kept building throughout the contest. The final score read: Cougars 30-Wolverines 0.

A week after a disappointing tie against Lakeland, Sashabaw was ready to redeem itself.

"The team felt a little down after the first game," said Cougars coach Tim Brennan. "They thought the tie was like a loss."

Despite the final score, the teams battled it out to the end. Sashabaw led 8-0 after one quarter and 14-0 at the half.

Eric Hund's 50-yard touchdown run midway through the third quarter gave the visitors some breathing room. Hund also ran in the conversion to give the Cougars a 22-0 advantage.

Another short 1-yard TD plunge in the final quarter closed out the scoring for the Cougars.

"The team was definitely up for this game," Brennan said of the annual clash of the junior highs.

The offensive line did a good job as did the quarterback for the Cougars, said Brennan.

As for the host Wolverines, the learning experience continues, said Coach Steve Himburg.

"They are a much better team than they showed," he said. "But they lack the game experience."

Clarkston had trouble moving the ball down the field through most of the game.

The potential for a good team is there but the Wolverines just haven't reached it yet, said Himburg.

"We didn't get it together," he said.

Joe Webb had a good game for the Wolverines offensively and Paul Herron was a standout defensively, said Himburg.

Sashabaw ups its record to 1-0-1 with the win and Clarkston falls to 0-2.

Both teams return to action Sept. 16. The Cougars travel to face Mason and the Wolverines will visit Lake Orion.

Flat performance by Wolves ends with loss to South Lyon

A week after a thrilling last-minute victory at home, Clarkston came back to earth Friday evening.

The Wolves landed with a thud in a prep football game against South Lyon. The host Lions won the game, 17-7.

"We (the coaches) tried to tell them all week it would happen," said Coach Kurt Richardson of his team's letdown this week.

South Lyon is a well-coached team, said Richardson. Clarkston didn't help out its cause by picking up 100 yards in penalties.

The Wolves fell behind, 7-0, in the first quarter and tied it on a 3-yard run by Stacy Turner. Josh Newblatt kicked the conversion.

Otherwise, the Wolves didn't do much offensively.

"We were flat," said Richardson.

Clarkston had a golden opportunity to get on the board early in the game when the Wolves recovered a fumble at the South Lyon 5-yard line.

A penalty and a few failed plays later, Clarkston was still scoreless. Richardson said the momentum probably switched hands right there.

"If we could have scored, it might have made a lot of difference," he said.

Mark Hetherington and Mark Oswald were singled out by Richardson for their fine defensive play.

Pontiac Northern is the next club on the schedule for the Wolves. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Pontiac Northern.

Time out

Positive thinking

Peter Auchter

Another football season is upon us. The Lions kicked off their season in Minnesota and promptly got their butts kicked.

The more things change, the more they stay the same it seems in the land of silver and Honolulu blue.

Sure it may seem early to write off the team. But somebody has to do it, so why not me?

Usually it takes me a long time before I even start to get pessimistic about Detroit's professional sports teams, but for some reason this year is different.

I can feel it. That's why I didn't bother to watch the opener on Channel 2 Sunday afternoon. To illustrate how bad things got, I did my wash instead.

The sad part of the whole situation is that the Lions are probably trying as hard as they can to win. They just seem to be lost in the big jungle of the NFL without any big guns to protect them.

Chuck Long isn't anything more than a pea shooter until he develops further and gets some quality players around him. Even Billy Sims on one leg would be a welcome addition right now.

But then I don't really want to be the heavy around here and depress everyone just as the season gets under way.

Let's try and find something positive out of the first game of the season:

The Lions will be allowed to play the remaining 15 games of their schedule.

Now that I think about it, there were a lot of positive things to come out of the game. I'm starting to feel better about the team and myself.

I might even wander over to the Silverdome and pick up a few tickets for an upcoming game if this positive trend continues.

Maybe after the city of Detroit recovers from its bout with Tiger Fever (after the World Series, that is), the area will be caught up in Lion Pneumonia.

This is how it will work. Some local radio station will begin a promotion that asks fans to guess how many fans will part with the big bucks for a few yucks at the Detroit Lions professional football team.

Participants in the contest will also be required to guess if the Lions will be able to outdraw the number of fans Madonna pulled into the Dome this summer.

The way they are playing now, it could be a very close race. If Madonna had decided to do two shows, she would have won in a landslide.

But then that's not a very positive way to think if you're a Lions fan like me.

Golf club champ

Gunnar Karlstrom, who will attend Michigan State University and play on the golf team, won the club championship over the weekend.

"This came as quite a pleasant surprise for us," said his mother, Maryann Karlstrom.

ARE YOU IN PAIN, SUFFERING
From An Ailment, Fatique
or Just Stress?
If Yes, Then Reflexology May Be For You . . .

Reflexology is a therapeutic technique in the Natural Health field, which deals with the nerve endings that are located in the hands & feet. These nerve endings act as reflexes to each gland, organ & part of the body. (7,200 nerve endings in one foot).

Toxic acid deposits form & crystallize causing blockage of proper blood & nerve supply to reach the reflex area. These deposits are caused by stress, improper diet, lack of exercise, injury to a gland, organ or part of body. These deposits are formed in other areas of the body, but more so in the hands & feet for they are the farthest from the heart.

Reflexology's purpose is to free these nerve channels which is done by the hands of the Reflexologist. Once these deposits are broken down - they are picked up by the blood stream, dissolved instantly & brought through the eliminating system. Since 24 qts. of blood pass through the heart every 3 minutes & the blood transfer is made in the hands & feet, one usually notices results during & after the 1st treatment.

Senior leadership should help golf club

A large group of seniors return to the varsity golf team at Clarkston High this fall.

The golf team is off to a good start this season with a 3-1 record. Last season the Wolves finished with a record that hovered around the .500 mark.

Rivals Lake Orion and Waterford Kettering both will field tough teams this season, said Chamberlain.

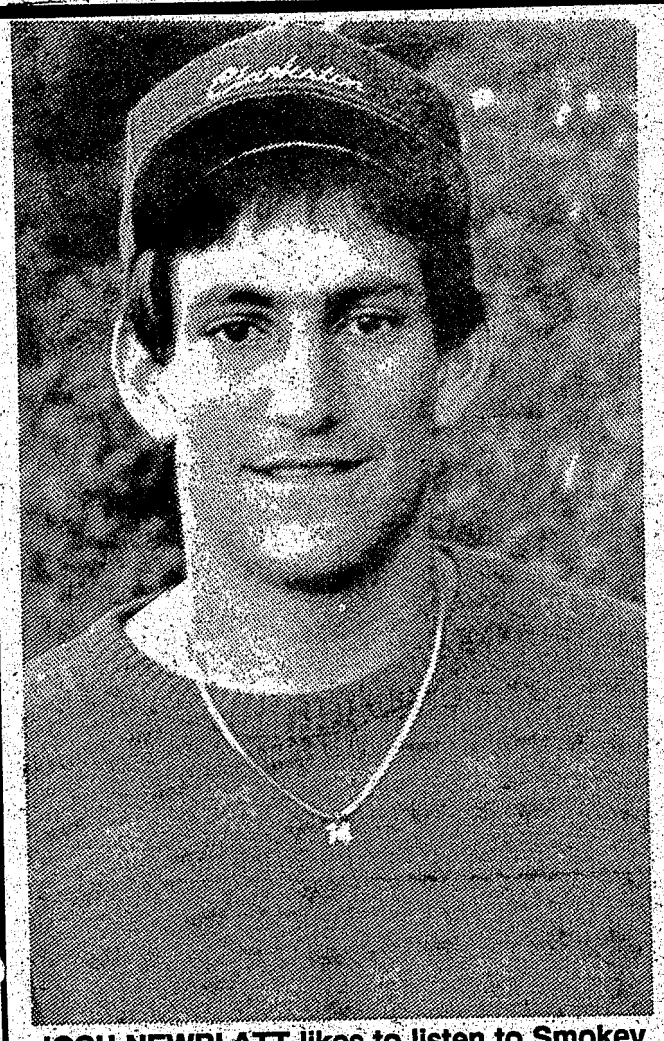

Brandon is a new addition to the Greater Oakland Activities League and not much is known about them, he said.

"I know that they have one excellent golfer," he said.

About 25 players are on this year's squad and that is a little more than Chamberlain had expected to carry before the season began, he said.

"We have to win at home this season," said Chamberlain, "and then take our chances on the road."

Clarkston High teammates

WSU freshmen meet again

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two freshman on the Wayne State volleyball team share a common bond--they were teammates at Clarkston High School.

Missy Odell and Wendy Cohoon, the only two freshmen on the squad, played together as Wolves and now will continue that role as Tartars at Wayne State.

Besides hailing from the same hometown, Odell and Cohoon are roommates on campus. So far, they said their decision to attend Wayne State was a good one.

"It's a nice campus," said Odell. "There are so many advantages here." The People Mover and Greektown are just two of the downtown attractions the new students have visited.

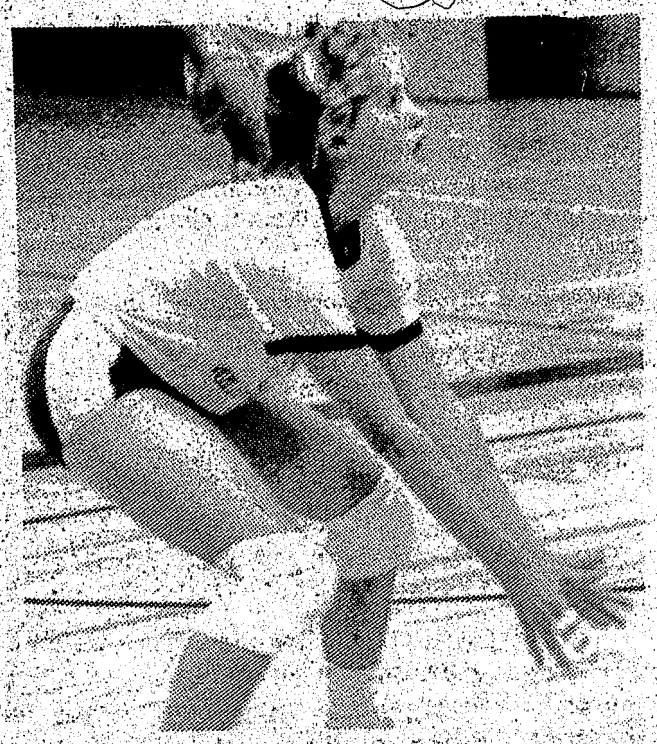

Wayne State's volleyball team is loaded with experienced and talented players, the Tartars are ranked in the top 15 NCAA Division II schools, so the Independence Township newcomers will have to wait their turn on the court.

"I thought that I wouldn't mind sitting around watching, but now that I'm here I want to play," said Cohoon.

While the first year usually is a learning experience, Odell and Cohoon are expected to star in the future for the Tartars.

"They are going to do great things," said Coach Matt Peck. "Once they get over the freshman jitters they will be fine."

The friendship and camaraderie of the Wayne State team attracted Odell and Cohoon to the Tartars. When everyone gets along well, it makes that much easier to take, said Odell. So does having an understanding coach.

WENDY COHOON played volleyball and ran track during her senior year at CHS.

"(Peck) is one of the best coaches," said Cohoon. "He knows when to yell at you and when not to."

Both of them discussed the advantages of the school until they were committed, said Cohoon. In effect, they talked each other into attending WSU.

Odell, an MVP in volleyball, softball and basketball for Clarkston High, probably will get a chance to start for the Tartars this season, said Peck.

Cohoon, who played volleyball and ran track for CHS, also will get a chance to perform but in a more limited role than Odell this year, he said.

The volleyball program at Clarkston High has impressed Peck and he said it was lucky he was able to obtain the talents of Odell and Cohoon.

"Even though their coach Nancy McCarrick has left, they should continue to do well," Peck said. "They have a good JV program too."

Wayne State participated in a tournament at Northern Michigan recently and Odell had to opportunity to play a little. She ended up with a block and hit in her limited time on the court.

"I have to get used to playing college ball," she said.

"We have a good sophomore and freshman class," said Peck. "This group is going to be full of surprises this year."

Clarkston schools bookkeeping is excellent

In the annual audit report Monday, representatives of Plante & Moran auditing firm praised Clarkston Community Schools for its bookkeeping.

"You should be pleased and proud," said Fred Hailer, certified public accountant. "Everything was in good shape."

It took the company 24 days to audit the books, one day less than last year, said Hailer.

"I think that's probably the best example of the shape of the books. The administration is to be commended for the condition of their records," he said.

For the year ending June 30, 1987, Clarkston schools spent $23,612,590 and collected $23,095,648 in revenues.

The district spent over $500,000 more than it brought in, but it started the fiscal year with a fund balance of $1,510,863, he said.

The fund balance now is $1,309,894 or 7 percent of the district's total expenditures. Since 1980, the district's fund balance has slowly declined, he said.

With the present revenues and present fund balance for the next year, the district has a fund balance with enough money to run the district for 12.5 days.

A fund balance, or the amount of unallocated money for the year, is important because it acts as a cushion for unexpected costs, he said.

School board President Janet Thomas said the fund balance is usually higher after a millage increase because the administration uses the fund balance to provide for the following years of uncertain costs. It's lower now because they don't have the extra money as a cushion, she said.

Springfield condo project to begin

Developers of Softwater Lake Condominiums got the green light from the Springfield Township Board to construct the first building of their project.

The approval, which was a reconsideration of the board's denial last month, came at the Sept. 9 board meeting in a 6-1 vote.

Trustee William Whitley opposed the approval, saying it would set a bad precedent because the site plan had not gone back to the planning commission first.

The three-phase project is located to the rear of Bavaria on the Waters off Dixie Highway. When completed, it will include 98 condominiums with access through the Bavaria project.

Developer John Attia and engineer George Sayed had requested the reconsideration for all of phase one, which includes four buildings, but board members said they would not reconsider the rest of the buildings in phase one until the site plan was taken back to the planning commission.

Building A was approved because it would be built on an existing basement built in the 1970s as part of the original Bavaria project and not completed. It has already met all the requirements of the township and the county.

Attia said work would begin on Building A "within a matter of weeks" and that he hoped to have one more building started before winter.

"I want to get busy," he said. "Time is important, too."

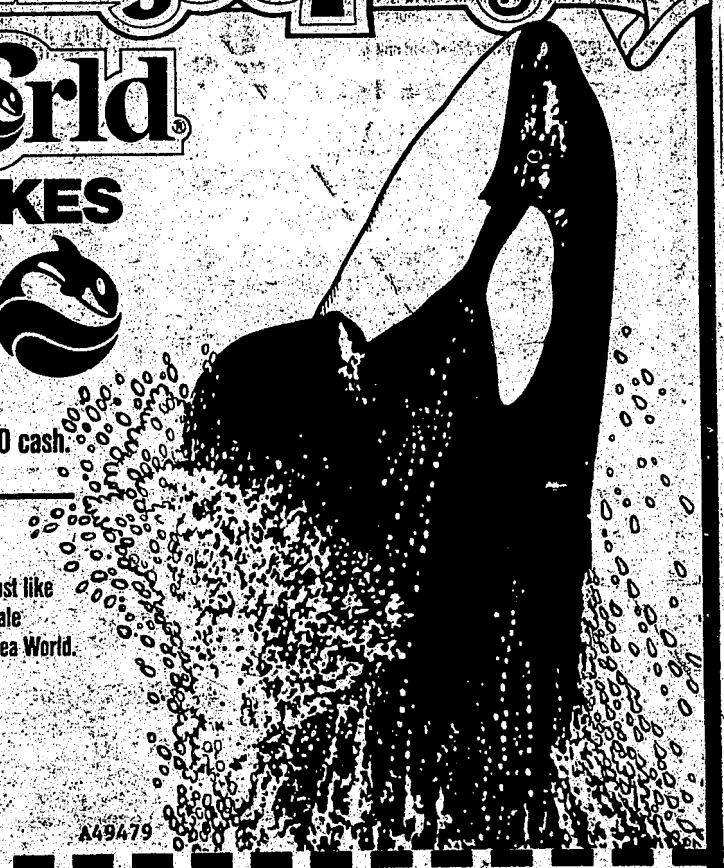

He said he would like to have an open house on the first completed condos by next spring.

For 84-year-old

Playing for pope is one more adventure

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Antonio Mastrantonio likes to laugh a lot. First, he gets a delighted look on his face; then, he giggles; and finally, he breaks into mild laughter.

At age 84, the Independence Township resident has a lot to laugh about.

Adventures have come his way, and he gets a kick out of life, he says.

—Antonio Mastrantonio

Next Saturday, he'll begin another adventure as a clarinet player in the Hamtramck Concert Band. The band is to play for Pope John Paul II and his audience.

A Catholic and Italian immigrant, Antonio is especially excited.

"I feel real good," he says, laughing. "I know he'll send me to heaven now."

Antonio feels "a little nervous" about playing for the pope, but he's a veteran performer and he knows it will pass.

"Once I start playing, I won't be nervous," he says. "Music--it relaxes you."

To prepare for the pope's visit, Antonio and the other band members practice until late at night.

Antonio, the oldest member in the band, doesn't get back to his Pinewood Drive home until about 11 p.m., says his daughter, Marcy Rotondo, with whom Antonio lives.

On the day of the performance, Antonio plans to awaken at 2 a.m., drive to the Oakland Mall, board a bus by 4 a.m. and take the bus to Hamtramck, where the band will warm up.

The band is to play concert songs for the crowd and a religious song for the pope, he said.

The schedule isn't much of an adjustment. He's used to keeping busy, he says.

Born in Italy, Antonio moved to the United States--Pennsylvania--when he was 14, and he worked full time from that age until his retirement 20 years ago.

WATCHING TIGER BASEBALL is one of musician Antonio Mastrantonio's favorite pastimes. The clarinet player is also proud of his four children, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He moved to Michigan 65 years ago when he began work as a gas welder for Chrysler.

A saxophone and clarinet player, he's practiced his music two hours every day since he was 19 years old.

He plays in two bands and his work includes stints on the Boblo Boat, performances in ethnic festivals at Hart Plaza and appearances in Thanksgiving Day parades.

The director of the Hamtramck Concert Band, Steve Woloson, reminded him last week that when Antonio first started with the band, only 14 musicians were members. Now, there are 14 clarinets.

"I have a lot of seniority," he says, laughing.

There's nothing like performing, he says.

"I like to make the people happy," he says. "It makes me happy, too."

Antonio also likes to keep physically fit. He rides a stationary bike two miles every day, plays volleyball every Friday and works out twice a week at the UAW physical fitness center.

"I like all the activities," says Antonio. "Being busy keeps my mind occupied. I don't want the days to catch up to me. ... I'm going to keep going as long as I can do it."

Antonio is glad to be living in the Clarkston area, he says, adding that he plans to move with his daughter's family to Holcomb Road, Clarkston.

"Clarkston is nice," he says. "People are friendly. People you don't even know say hello to you."

State fair champ sets sights on new goal

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Until last year, Kay Isbell had never attended the Michigan State Fair in Detroit.

This year, the Independence Township homemaker entered 14 categories in the craft and hobby competition at the fair and won 10 ribbons--including three blue first-place awards.

Isbell, 32, learned various crafts and hobbies at an early age from her mother and she hasn't stopped creating things since.

Her mother was a perfectionist and her attention to detail apparently rubbed off on her daughter.

"I'm just an old-fashioned girl," said the avid cook, who has collected more than 250 cookbooks since she was 13. Isbell also gardens and then cans whatever she produces.

The homemade ketchup she made with tomatoes grown in her own yard was one of the items she entered in the state fair competition.

A bumper crop of tomatoes has left Isbell with plenty to work with when she gets creative in the kitchen. Her ketchup is so tasty that her husband eats it plain and on potato chips.

Isbell admits that she is into "a little bit of everything" and never has the opportunity to become bored.

"I always have a couple of things going," she said. "I like to to everything but there are not enough hours in the day."

Ceramics, stitchery and cooking are just three categories Isbell entered at the fair. Her favorite, if she were forced to chose just one, would be the needlework.

The satisfaction of seeing a project develop line by line is incredible, said Isbell.

"It's like an addiction. You are driven to keep stitching until it's done," Isbell said. While the needlework is her favorite, it's also the toughest.

Michigan boasts a lot of top-notch homemakers that can turn out beautiful pieces of work, said Isbell. Some of those people are displaying their talents at the state fair.

Isbell was surprised at winning so many awards but was even more pleased with the state fair itself.

"It's clean and fun and there is lots to do for the whole family even if you don't like to go on the rides," she said.

Because she didn't care for the rides at the state fair during her first visit in 1986, Isbell was drawn to the Community Arts Building where the crafts and hobbies were displayed.

As she browsed through the exhibits, she wondered to herself why she hadn't entered a contest like this. She couldn't find a suitable answer, so this year, she did just that.

All of the entries had to be turned in two weeks before the state fair opened. Waiting to find out how she did was the hardest part of the contest for Isbell. But she wasn't alone in her curiosity.

"People were beating down the doors to get in to see how they did when the fair opened," she said.

The state fair puts a limit on the number of items each person can enter at 15. Isbell said she plans to enter something in 15 different categories next year in an effort to win the "Homemaker of the Year" award.

But to accomplish that goal, she will have to make better plans than she did this time around. Entrants have the entire year to prepare items for the state fair. Isbell said she won't wait until the last minute in 1988.

Because of her involvement with so many different crafts, Isbell was asked to judge entries in the 4-H fair recently. She enjoyed the chance to see what the younger generation was creating.

"These are the kids who will enter in the state fair in the future," she said.

False call leads firefighters on errant chase

BY CHARLOTTE WALL
Lake Orion Review Editor

False alarms called into local fire departments can play havoc with the lives of firefighters and citizens.

A mid-morning "false alarm" call Sept. 2 brought firefighters from two departments to a Baldwin Road home.

As personnel from the Orion Township Fire Department Station No. 3 and the Independence Fire Department hurried to the location of the fire, the caller, a young girl, phoned the Oxford Fire Department.

According to a dispatcher at the OFD, the dispatcher on duty that day had heard the Orion personnel send firefighters to the area the girl was giving.

The Oxford dispatcher said that the woman on duty told the girl that firefighters were on their way. She then said that if the call turned out be false, the youngster could be in trouble, even arrested, once the firefighters arrived. According to a report filed at the OFD, the youngster laughed and disconnected the call.

According to the dispatcher at the Lake Orion Police Department which answers calls for the OTFD, the original call regarding the fire came from a grandparent of the children who reside in the home near Stanton Road. The grandparent does not reside in Orion Township.

According to the grandparent, a sobbing youngster called to say the house was on fire, and she was unable to locate her parents. The frightened grandparent immediately called the OTFD emergency number.

Because no address was available for the house, the IFD also answered the call. According to an IFD dispatcher, the home was actually in their answering area.

Once the departments arrived in the vicinity of the home that was supposed to be burning, no flames could be found.

Further investigation indicated that the children who reside in the home were in school.

OTFD Chief Jeff Key said that very few false alarm calls come to the department. "We may get five or six a year," he said. "It's not a big problem."

But, it does tie up a firefighter's time, and that time could be better spent answering calls about real emergencies, he added.

He said in most cases, each station has the manpower to handle two calls at once.

In Independence, the problem is not widespread, but when the false alarms come in they do cause problems.

According to the dispatcher, that department also has enough manpower to handle more than one call at a time.

She said that parents should make their children aware of the problems that could be caused by phoning in a false alarm. Firefighters could be injured enroute to the blaze, and precious time is lost if a real emergency does take place while personnel is searching for the site of a false alarm.

She said another problem the IFD faces is caused by the new "programmable" telephones. "The emergency number for the police and fire departments are programmed into the phones," she said.

The problem is that young children are not aware of that system. "They push a number and they hear a ring," the IFD dispatcher said. "They are in awe when they hear a voice."

She said she recently answered a call from a 2-year-old who was playing with the telephone while his parents were sleeping. According to the dispatcher, the child enjoyed talking with her and did not want to leave the phone to get his parents when she tried to explain that she needed to speak with one of them.

Acting OFD Chief Jack LeRoy said the problem may be solved when the Emergency 911 service is instituted.

According to LeRoy, dispatchers will know if a call is not originating from the location being reported. "We will know where such calls are coming from," said the OFD dispatcher.

Regrets

David Kwasnick

Friday, Sept. 4, as I'm sure many of you know, marked the season opener for the Clarkston Senior High football team.

It was a thrilling game, with the Wolves pulling out a one point come-from-behind victory over Grand Blanc in the closing minutes.

This was definitely a proud day for Clarkston football. I am a member of the Wolves football team. I was proud.

I should have been prouder. More than anything I was mad, at both myself and others.

Because of it, I have this to say:

Dear Mr. Referee, I'm sorry. I'm sorry for a lot of things. I'm sorry I let my temper get the better of me and I pushed that kid the way I did.

And I'm sorry you threw me out of the game for fighting 10 minutes into the first quarter.

I suppose that maybe I can't blame you. After all, we are the Clarkston Wolves, the "Oakland Raiders" of Oakland County.

It's an image that seems here to stay, whether it's anybody's intention or not. But I guess that doesn't matter.

The football team each year brings is born with a sort of "dirty spoon" in its mouth. The cry of "Watch out for those cheap-shottin' Clarkston boys!" is echoed by opponents and believed by referees, regardless of its truth.

Beware, all of you junior high players in Clarkston and Sashabaw!

Whether you like it or not, the minute you become a varsity Wolf, your ideas of sportsmanship are going downhill! Just ask the referees.

That the whole thing has come to this is really a shame. Maybe that's what I'm sorriest about.

No longer must we go out and battle 11 opposing players. We must now take on four referees and an image tailor-made for quick penalty throwing, in addition to the other team.

Sure, what I did last week was stupid. I know that.

It cost us 15 yards at a time when we were driving toward the goal line. It also took me out of the game. I can't do any good sitting on my hands.

My actions didn't make the coaches too happy, either. They were angry and had every right to be.

All of this happened over a fight. It was a fight in which not even a punch was thrown. No one was knocked down or hurt. We shoved each other briefly, and I was ejected from the game.

I played football seven years in a different state and had never been thrown out of a game. In my first season with the Wolves, I was.

Is this a sign of things to come for the Wolves? I hope not.

Friend to friend

I want to fit in

ACTION AND EDUCATION AWARE WAR ON DRUGS

Dear Friend to Friend,

I'm a sophomore and I want to fit in desperately; however, it seems like all kids think that "getting trashed" is the "cool" thing to do.

I really don't feel comfortable in these situations. Being a new student does not help my situation any more.

It would help if I knew some people and who to hang around with. At my old school, I fit in with the "in crowd" and they accepted me for the person I was.

How can I become accepted in the "in crowd" in this school and have them accept my values.

The Outsider

Dear Outsider,

A lot more students have been in this situation than you think. Many people have overcome the pressures of being a sophomore and being new.

You can help yourself out by being active in school activities. Being aggressive and outgoing instead of sitting back, timid and shy, will help you overcome barriers.

There are a lot more people who feel the same way that you do about drugs and alcohol, but they are afraid to stand up to their friends.

Just be yourself and be friendly to others and others will relate to you and your feelings.

Dear Friend to Friend,

My parents have been separated for almost 10 years. My mother's boyfriend has lived with us for nine years. We get along great.

It's my father's girlfriend whom I don't get along with. I try so hard, but I guess she doesn't care. What should I do?

Unsigned

Dear Unsigned,

We don't know whether you are a male or female by your letter, but we would like to offer some possible explanations for you to consider.

If you are female, you may be jealous that your father's girlfriend is receiving the attention that you desire or perhaps your father is giving you the attention that she thinks she deserves.

Another possible explanation is that you may not have accepted the break-up of your parents.

In many blended families, the expectations for one another do not always measure up.

We think you should talk to your dad or perhaps his girlfriend about your feelings. They can't respond to you if they don't know or understand what you're feeling.

We hope things work out.

Dear Friend to Friend,

I feel like my world is falling apart and I can't stop it.

Six months ago, my sister and I found some porno video tapes in my dad's closet. Then my sister broke down and started crying, saying she has been molested by my father since the age of 3.

Come to find out, all my mother's younger sisters have been molested by him also.

I have the tolerance to deal with my problems by blocking them out, and what really scares me is that I don't know if this may have happened to me or not.

My mother is aware of what is going on, but she is denying everything. I feel like I should stay home and support her, but I feel like I want to leave.

How should I react to this situation?

Devastated

Dear Devastated,

We really share your pain. We know this is a real emotional ordeal you are now going through.

When your thoughts and expectations of your family prove to be unrealistic, it does feel like your world is falling apart.

We have received many letters from people in situations such as yours. We think you will find that talking with adults you can trust will help ease the pain.

We want to encourage you to seek professional help to help the whole family deal with this problem. It sounds as though everyone has been suffering silently alone.

We feel that we should emphasize that you are not the cause of the problem but the victim.

Many times in these family situations every-

New microwave accepts metal

Betty Wagner

The Micro-Fryer Pan is a metal pan specially designed for browning food on the range top, then finishing the cooking process in the microwave.

Revere says it gives "pan fried flavor with microwave speed." It also offers pan fried appearance and texture.

The following recipes were developed for the Micro-Fryer Pan by Anita Brown and Cindy Salvino of American Cooking Institute, Director Marilyn Schanze. They are reprinted with permission.

MEATBALLS WITH DIPPING SAUCE

1 pound lean ground beef
1 package meatball seasoning mix or comparable seasoning mix
2 tablespoons peanut oil
1 jar (9 ounces) sweet 'n' sour sauce
1 jar (8 1/2 ounce) creamy mustard dip 'um sauce

Combine ground beef with seasoning mix according to package directions. Shape into walnut-size balls.

Rangetop: Heat oil in Micro-Fryer Pan over medium heat. Add meatballs and brown for 2 to 3 minutes, turning meatballs to brown on all sides. Drain off fat.

Microwave: Microwave, covered, on high power for 3 to 4 minutes. Serve with desired sauces.

CHICKEN FAJITAS

2 boneless chicken breasts, skinned
and cut in half lengthwise
1/3 cup lime juice
1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons oil
1 medium onion, sliced
1/2 large green pepper, cut into strips
6 6-inch flour tortillas (wholewheat, if desired)
Sour cream
Salsa

Mix lime juice, Worcestershire sauce, garlic salt and pepper. Place chicken breasts in quart-size zip lock plastic bag and add marinade. Close bag. Marinade in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours or overnight.

Rangetop: Drain marinade from chicken breasts and pat with paper towel. Heat oil in Micro-Fryer Pan over medium high heat. Add chicken breasts and brown for 1 minute per side.

Microwave: Add onion and green pepper. Cover and microwave on high power for 3 1/2 to 4 minutes. Slice chicken breasts into thin strips.

Warm tortillas according to package directions. Place some of the chicken strips in tortilla with onion and pepper. Top with sour cream and salsa and roll tortilla around filling.

VEGETABLE CHEESE PIE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
5 eggs
1 cup ricotta cheese
1/4 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 10-oz. pkg. frozen chopped spinach, thawed
1/2 10-oz. pkg. frozen chopped broccoli, thawed
1/2 cup Cheddar cheese, grated
1/2 cup Monterey Jack or Swiss cheese, grated

Beat melted butter, eggs and ricotta cheese until well mixed. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Stir into egg mixture, blending well. Drain spinach and broccoli. Add to egg mixture. Stir in two remaining cheeses.

Rangetop: Spray Micro-Fryer Pan with a vegetable shortening spray. Heat over medium high heat. Add egg mixture and cook 2 minutes or until mixture just begins to brown and set.

Microwave: Cover pan and microwave on high power 3 to 5 minutes to complete cooking.

Obituary

Janis Lea Ridley

Janis Lea Ridley, 16, of Independence Township died Sept. 10 in an automobile accident. She was a junior at Clarkston High School.

Miss Ridley was an active member of Ventures and the Zion's League Youth Group at her church.

Surviving are her parents, Art and Char Ridley; brothers and sister, James, Jody and Michell; grandparents, Eulaylah Ridley and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson; and many aunts, uncles and cousins.

The funeral service was Sept. 14 at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Waterford Township. Arrangements were made by Coats Funeral Home, Waterford Township.

Memorials may be made to the church.

Business briefs

NATHAN CHASE, M.D., has joined the medical practice of Dr. Michael Baker on M-15 in Independence Township. Chase, who specializes in internal medicine, was graduated from Medical School at Wayne State University, Detroit, in 1984. He attended Michigan State University, East Lansing, for his undergraduate degree. Chase lives in Cranberry Lake Estates with his wife Pat. The 28-year-old is a Michigan native who grew up in a small town north of Toledo, Ohio.

Jackson earns title

William D. Jackson, director of business services for Clarkston Community Schools, recently earned the title of registered school business administrator.

This award is the highest professional status that can be awarded to a practicing school business administrator by the Association of School Business Officials International, of which the recipient is a member.

Patient No. 250,000

There was a surprise waiting for Kathy Cornett of Auburn Hills when she appeared at the Cowan Chiropractic Clinic for her 4:30 p.m. appointment Sept. 8.

As luck would have it, Cornett was Dr. John Cowan's quarter-millionth patient. Accordingly, she won a one-day round trip to Atlantic City, N.J., with $250 in spending money.

"You know how they say on the radio stations, 'I can't believe it' over and over?" said April Hillman, clinic office manager. "Well, that's what she did. She was really excited."

Cowan has been in practice since 1975, the last six years at his clinic on Sashabaw Road in Independence Township.

Smith's expands

Smith's Disposal of Independence Township has purchased Koop's Disposal.

The purchase has expanded the garbage disposal firm's customers to over 8,000 in Independence, Brandon and Waterford townships.

The majority of Koop's accounts involved dumpster service for businesses, said Leonard Smith, owner of Smith's Disposal of Northview Drive.

"We would like to take this time to welcome his customers to our own happy family and we will do our best to give them the same good service they are used to," Smith said.

Blaszkowski on staff

David Blaszkowski, of the Clarkston area, recently was named a purchase service assistant at Young and Rubicam Detroit.

Blaszkowski, a Michigan State University advertising graduate, will be responsible for assisting with media buys and administrative management of media buys for the Lincoln Mercury Dealer Association and Uniroyal Dealer Association accounts.

Young and Rubicam Detroit is the firm's second largest office in the United States, specializing in consumer directed communications.

Pet of the week

Here's Kitty-Kitty

She answers to the name of Kitty-Kitty. She responds to love and affection. And she's been displaced by a jealous family cat who didn't like her.

Kitty-Kitty is a 2-year-old domestic short hair, orange and white in color.

She's already spayed and litter trained. She likes other cats (even when they don't like her) and she's good with children. She's never been around dogs.

Kitty-Kitty can be adopted at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Charter Township of Independence
NOTICE OF PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting held on September 1, 1987, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence introduced an amendment to the following sections of Township Zoning Ordinance. #83: Sections 3.01, 7.02 and 7.03.

Planned Shopping Center. Two or more retail commercial and/or service establishments dealing directly with the consumer, served by a common parking area, and developed, or functional as one integrated development.

p. Planned Shopping Center.

One (1) for each one hundred-fifty square feet of usable floor area in excess of 15,000 square feet.

The Planning Commission is authorized to make adjustments from the formula specified in the above paragraphs based upon a finding that additional, or less, parking space is required, taking into consideration the mix of uses and the other standards in this section governing such uses.

Revise Section 7.03, Off-Street Parking Space Layout, Standards, Construction and Maintenance, as follows:

6. Plans for the layout of off-street parking facilities shall be in accordance with the following minimum requirements:

Parking Pattern	Maneuvering Lane Width	Parking Space Width	Parking Space Length
0° (parrallel parking)	12 feet	9.0 feet	24 feet
30° to 53°	15 feet (Ord. of 2-5-80)	9.0 feet	20 feet
54° to 74°	18 feet	9.0 feet	20 feet
75° to 90°	24 feet	9.5 feet	20 feet

The proposed zoning ordinance amendment will be voted upon on October 6, 1987, at the Township Hall Annex, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston, MI. A complete copy of the proposed rezoning is available from the Clerk's Office, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston, MI, Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

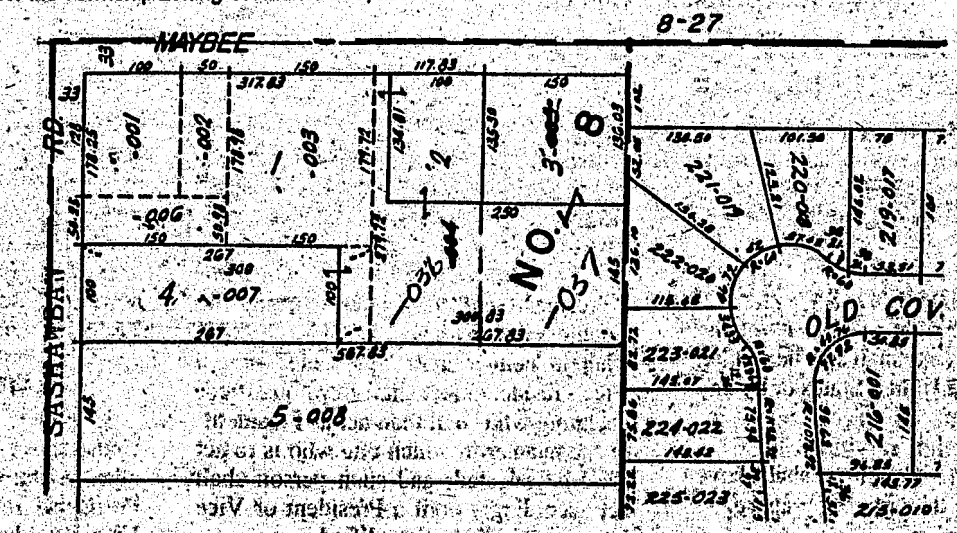

Respectfully submitted,
Richard A. Holman

Waterford school plans open house

The Waterford Village School is having an open house and all former pupils and staff members are invited.

The event includes an opportunity to tour the building from 7 to 8 p.m. and a program, with free refreshments, from 8 to 9 p.m. in the school at 4241 Steffens, off Andersonville Road, in Waterford Township.

The original school, which burned down in 1900, was built in 1872. It was replaced and several additions were made until 1968. Since then, the building has remained the same.

Senior citizens can request transportation to and from the festivities by calling the Waterford Senior Citizen Drop-In Center at 623-6500.

For those who drive to the open house, additional parking will be available at Our Lady of the Lakes off Dixie Highway.

For more information, call the Waterford Village School at 623-1091.

Craft tables for rent

The Andersonville Elementary PTO Craft Show will not be just limited to handmade items this year.

All new items and other arts and crafts will be considered. More than 50 tables will be available.

To obtain an application, call 625-0509 or 625-8672. The show will run Dec. 5-6.

Carwash cheer

On Saturdays, Sept. 19 and 26, the varsity and junior varsity cheering squads plan to be at Bowman Chevrolet, at the corner of Dixie Highway and M-15, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

They'll charge $2.50 per car and $5 per truck.

Also planned are a dance and flower sale at the high school and a pop can drive. The girls have opted for those kinds of activities rather than door-to-door sales of products, Conwell said.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY Spirit. Holy spirit. You make me see everything and who shows me the way to reach my ideal. Who gives me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrongs that are done to me and who are in all instances of my life with me in this short dialogue, I want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with you, and my loved ones, in your perpetual glory. Thank you for your love, amen. Say this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking for your favor. After the 3rd day your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it is. Promise to publish this prayer as soon as your wish has been granted. Wish granted. D.C. IIILX36-1

Marching along

The beat of high school marching bands will pulse from the Clarkston High School football field on Saturday, Sept. 26.

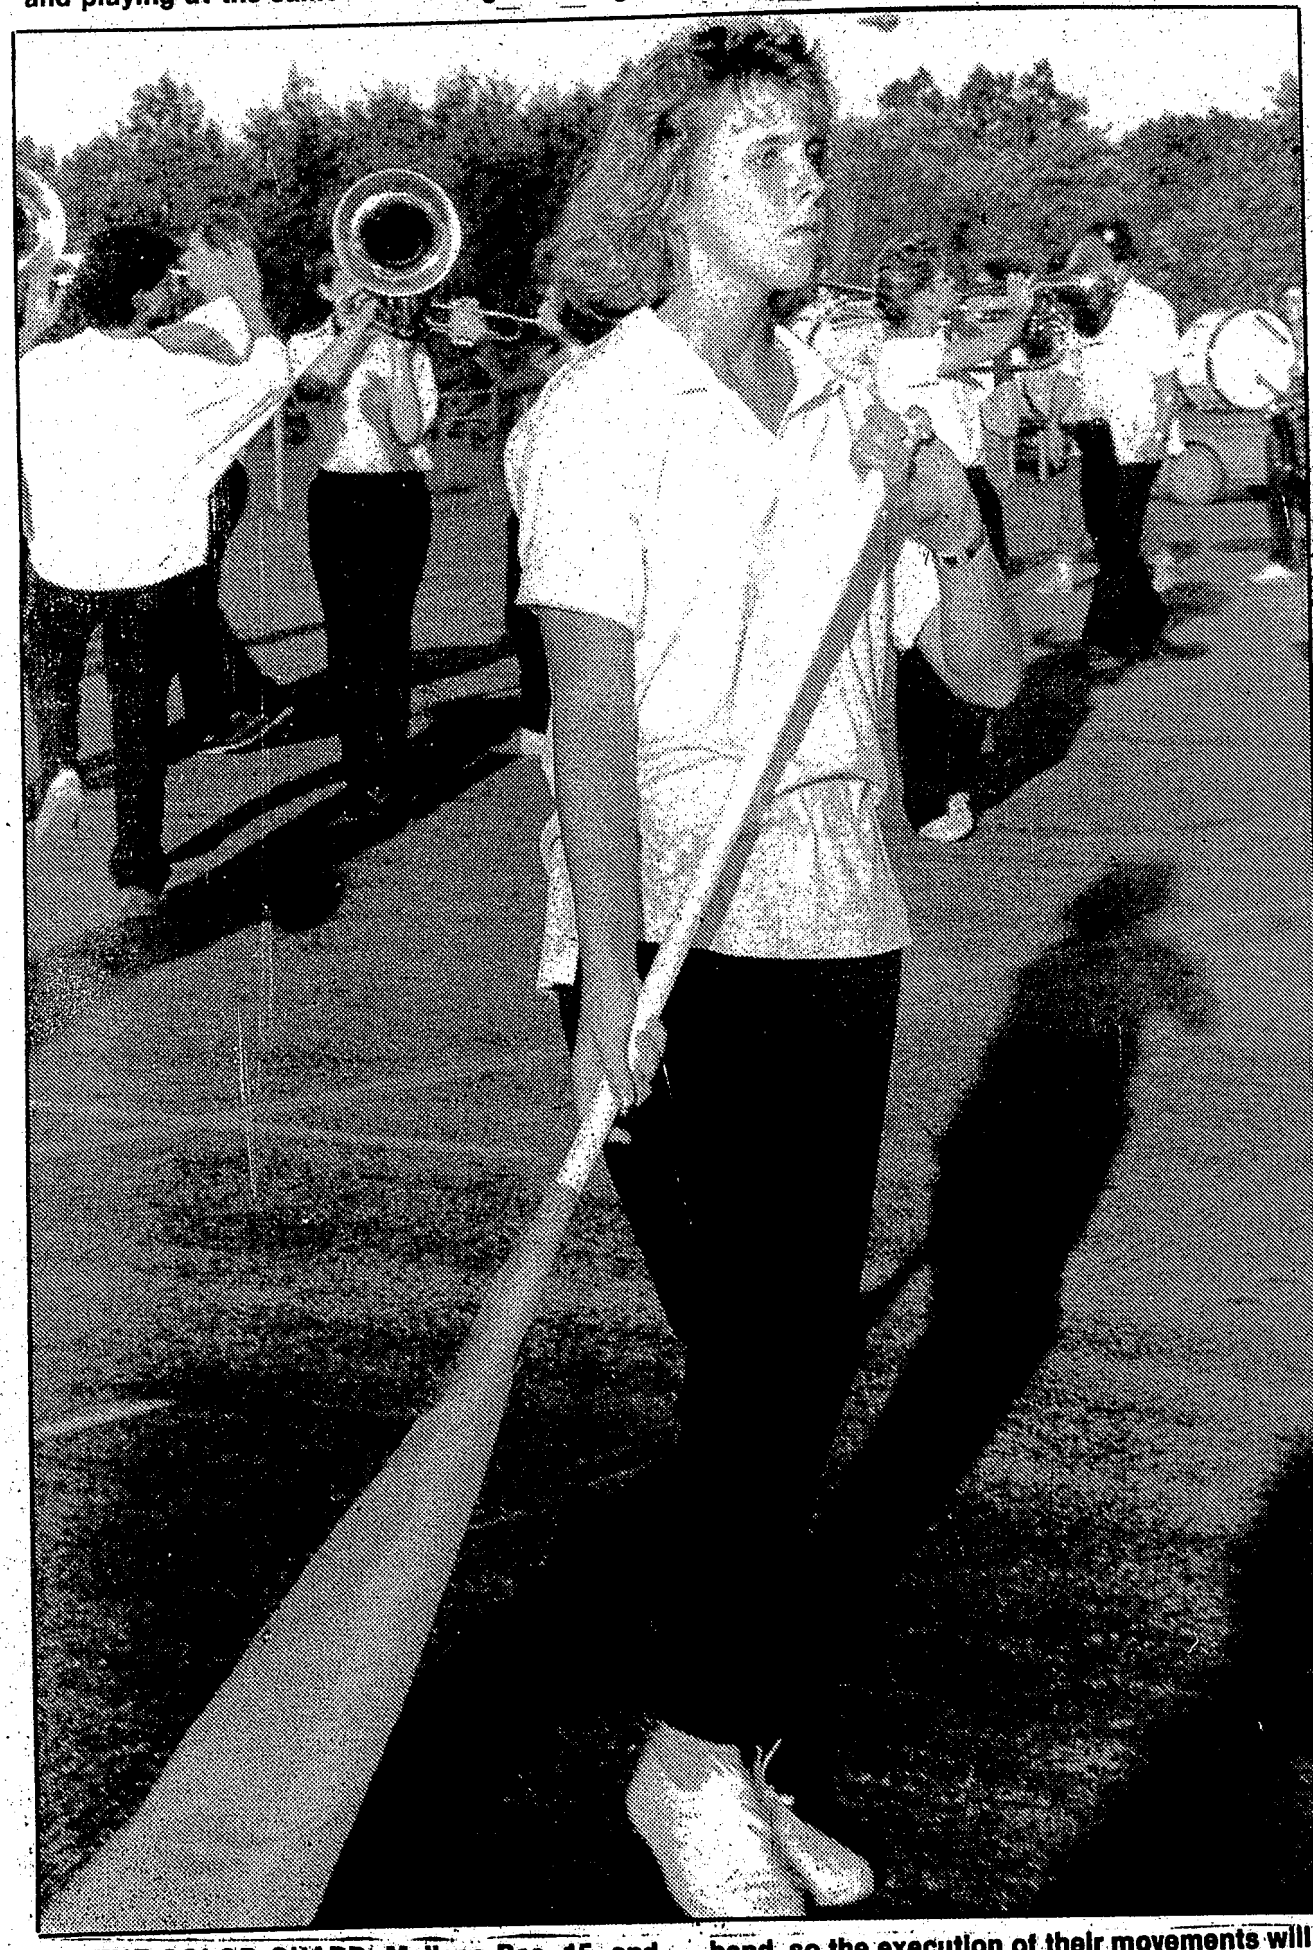

Sponsored by the Clarkston Band Boosters, CHS is hosting its 10th annual marching band invitational, featuring 18 bands, at 3 p.m.

The proceeds are to support Clarkston instrumental music programs from grades six through the high school.

The bands are categorized into three flights, according to the number of people in each band. While Clarkston is not competing, the band will perform in an exhibition after the competition.

Competing will be bands from the following high schools: Grand Blanc, Montrose, Dondero, Clio, Fenton, Bishop Foley, Woodhaven, John Glenn, Southfield, Linden, Ithaca, Milford, Flushing, Durand, Lakeview, Lakeland, Plymouth and Southgate.

Admission is $4 for adults and $2 for children and senior citizens.

IN THE COLOR GUARD, Melissa Bas, 15, and the other members practice with the marching band, so the execution of their movements will be as precise as possible.

The Constitution

We The People

of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New-York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

Section 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second Year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth Year, so that one third may be chosen every second Year; and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.

No Person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall chuse their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two thirds of the Members present.

Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, Trust or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

Section 4. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by Law appoint a different Day.

Section 5. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behaviour, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those Present, be entered on the Journal.

Neither House, during the Session of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Section 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been encreased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in Office.

Section 7. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be Law.

Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

Section 8. The Congress shall have Power To lay and collect Taxes, Duties, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow Money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes;

To establish an uniform Rule of Naturalization, and uniform Laws on the subject of Bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures;

To provide the Punishment of counterfeiting the Securities and current Coin of the United States;

To establish Post Offices and post Roads;

To promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Discoveries;

To consititute Tribunals inferior to the supereme Court.

To define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offences against the Law of Nations;

To declare War, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water;

To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two Years;

To provide and maintain a Navy;

To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces;

To provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the Laws of the Union, suppress Insurrections and repel Invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining, the Militia, and for governing such Part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States respectively, the Appointment of the Officers, and the Authority of training the Militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress,

To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square) as may, by Cession or particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock-Yards, and other needful Buildings;-And

To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof.

Section 9. The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a Tax or duty may be imposed on such Importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it.

No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

No Capitation, or other direct, Tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census or Enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

No Tax or Duty shall be laid on Articles exported from any State.

No Preference shall be given by any Regulation of Commerce or Revenue to the Ports of one State over those of another: nor shall Vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay Duties in another.

No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States; And no Person holding any Office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument,

Office, or Title, of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince, or foreign State.

Section 10. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.

No State shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing it's inspection Laws; and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the Use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Controul of the Congress.

No State shall, without the Consent of Congress, lay any Duty of Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, be elected, as follows.

Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

The Electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by Ballot for two Persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number by a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a Majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; A quorum for this purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two thirds of the States, and a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice President.

The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of the President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the Same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation or Inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be encreased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation: - "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Section 2. The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offences against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the supreme Court, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by Law; but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

The President shall have Power to fill up all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session.

Section 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States.

Section 4. The President, Vice President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III

Section 1. The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Court as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their Offices during good Behaviour, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services, a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office.

Section 2. The judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority; - to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls; - to all Cases of admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction; - to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party; - to Controversies between two or more States; - between a State and Citizens of another State; - between Citizens of different States; - between Citizens of the same State claiming Lands under Grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizens thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

In all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be Party, the supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction. In all the other Cases before mentioned, the supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

The Trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the Trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed.

Section 3. Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court.

The Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attainted.

ARTICLE IV

Section 1. Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof.

Section 2. The Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

A Person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on Demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

No Person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due.

Section 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

Section 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the Year One thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any Manner effect the first and fourth Clauses in the Ninth Section of the first Article; and that no State, without its Consent, shall be deprived of it's equal Suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All Debts contracted and Engagements entered into, before the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The Ratification of the Conventions of nine States, shall be sufficient for the Establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the Same.

The Word "the", being interlined between the seventh and eighth Lines of the first Page, the Word "Thirty" being partly written on an Erazure in the fiftienth Line of the first Page, The Words "is tried" being interlined between the thirty second and thirty third Lines of the first Page and the Word "the" being interlined between the forty third and forty fourth Lines of the second Page.

AMENDMENT I

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

AMENDMENT II

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

AMENDMENT III

No Soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

AMENDMENT IV

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

AMENDMENT V

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

AMENDMENT VI

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining Witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defence.

AMENDMENT VII

In Suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

AMENDMENT VIII

AMENDMENT IX

The enumeration of the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparge others retained by the people.

AMENDMENT X

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

AMENDMENT XI

The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State.

AMENDMENT XII

The Electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate; - The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted; - The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President - The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

AMENDMENT XIII

Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Section 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

AMENDMENT XIV

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Section 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

AMENDMENT XV

Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Section 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

AMENDMENT XVI

The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

AMENDMENT XVII

The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislatures.

When vacancies happen in the representation of any State in the Senate, the executive authority of such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, That the legislature of any State may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.

AMENDMENT XVIII

Section 1. After one year from the ratification of this article manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

Section 2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Section 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

AMENDMENT XIX

The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

AMENDMENT XX

Section 1. The terms of the President and Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and the terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3d day of January, of the years in which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.

Section 2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3d day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

Section 3. If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have died, the Vice President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to qualify, then the Vice President elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified; and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice President elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice President shall have qualified.

Section 4. The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may choose a Vice President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.

Section 5. Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect on the 15th day of October following the ratification of this article.

Section 6. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission.

AMENDMENT XXI

Section 1. The eighteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

Section 2. The transportation or importation into any State, Territory, or possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited.

Section 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by conventions in the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

AMENDMENT XXII

Section 1. No person shall be elected to the office of the President more than twice, and no person who has held the office of President, or acted as President, for more than two years of a term to which some other person was elected President shall be elected to the office of the President more than once. But this Article shall not apply to any person holding the office of President when this Article was proposed by the Congress, and shall not prevent any person who may be holding the office of President, or acting as President, during the term within which this Article becomes operative from holding the office of President or acting as President during the remainder of such term.

Section 2. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission to the States by the Congress.

AMENDMENT XXIII

Section 1. The District constituting the seat of Government of the United States shall appoint in such manner as the Congress may direct:

A number of electors of President and Vice President equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives in Congress to which the District would be entitled if it were a State, but in no event more than the least populous State; they shall be in addition to those appointed by the States, but they shall be considered, for the purposes of the election of President and Vice President, to be electors appointed by a State; and they shall meet in the District and perform such duties as provided by the twelfth article of amendment.

Section 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

AMENDMENT XXIV

Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote in any primary or other election for President or Vice President, for electors for President or Vice President, or for Senator or Representatives in Congress, shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State by reason of failure to pay any poll tax or other tax.

Section 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

AMENDMENT XXV

Section 1. In case of the removal of the President from office or of his death or resignation, the Vice President shall become President.

Section 2. Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of the Vice President, the President shall nominate a Vice President who shall take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both Houses of Congress.

Section 3. Whenever the President transmits to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives his written declaration that he is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, and until he transmits to them a written declaration to the contrary, such powers and duties shall be discharged by the Vice President as Acting President.

Section 4. Whenever the Vice President and a majority of either the principal officers of the executive departments or of such other body as Congress may by law provide, transmit to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives their written declaration that the President is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the Vice President shall immediately assume the powers and duties of the office as Acting President.

Thereafter, when the President transmits to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives his written declaration that no inability exists, he shall resume the powers and duties of his office unless the Vice President and a majority of either the principal officers of the executive department or of such other body as Congress may by law provide, transmit within four days to the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives their written declaration that the President is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office. Thereupon Congress shall decide the issue, assembling within forty-eight hours for that purpose if not in session. If the Congress, within twenty-one days after receipt of the latter written declaration, or, if Congress is not in session, within twenty-one days after Congress is required to assemble, determines by two-thirds vote of both Houses that the President is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the Vice President shall continue to discharge the same as Acting President; otherwise, the President shall resume the powers and duties of his office.

AMENDMENT XXVI

Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States, who are eighteen years of age or older, to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of age.

Section 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.
