Cop contract remains unsettled

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Retroactive pay will not be part of the proposed police protection contract between the village and Independence Township, the village council decided Sept. 28.

The two municipalities bickered over the wording in the contract for nine months and the village hasn't received the extra service outlined in the proposed contract, council members said.

"I hope that (Independence Township) doesn't expect retroactive pay," said Trustee Frank Millard. "I don't want to pay for something that we haven't received."

Village council members noticed that the proposed contract states that payment will begin when service starts, so they said they don't have to pay it.

Additionally, council members said they were tired of being rejected by the Independence Township Board on this issue.

Last year, the village paid Independence Township, which contracts from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the equivalent of 1 mill for police protection.

One mill is $1 for every $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

The new contract called for an increase of 1.5 mills for additional police protection. Specifically that would include four hours of traffic control in the village each weekday and emergency service.

Last fall, township voters approved an extra 1.5 mills in taxes for the police fund, to increase the total taxes for police coverage to 2.5 mills in the township.

Putting the best feet forward

For the 11th year in a row, men, women and children will Walk for SCAMP on Sunday, Oct. 11.

After gathering pledges per mile and registering at Clarkston's Depot Park from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., they will depart in 15-minute intervals on their "maxi" 10-mile walks or "mini" three-mile walks from Clarkston's Depot Park.

The event is the largest fundraiser for Clarkston SCAMP, a five-week summer day camp program in Independence Township for handicapped children and young adults from northern Oakland County.

Last year, the walk raised $17,000 of the $59,000 cost of the camp program for about 200 SCAMPers.

"The community really comes together for SCAMP during walk time," said Bunny Newmarch, secretary-coordinator for the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corp.

"We get so much involvement from the schools and the kids. It's a chance for them to do something really positive for SCAMP and for themselves," she said.

Pledge sheets are available at the Clarkston school district's five elementary schools and at the district's special services building adjacent to Clarkston High School.

For more information, call special services at 625-3330.

Village, township haggle over cop contract

Money for the village police coverage comes out of the village's general fund.

If the contract dispute isn't settled soon, the village will only pay 1 mill for its police protection this year since it is no different from the year before, said President Sharron Catallo.

"(Independence Township) knows what we were looking for and have refused to give it to us," said Millard.

"We gave them everything they wanted and got nothing in return," said Trustee William Basinger.

Village attorney John Steckling was directed by the village council to add the pro-ration wording into the contract. Steckling cautioned that this tactic would further hamper the negotiations between the village and township.

"Why do we always get cast into the little brother/little sister role when dealing with the township?" asked Steckling.

"We gave them everything they wanted and got nothing in return."

Village Council Trustee*

Talk then turned to contacting the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to find out how much it would cost to provide the village with adequate coverage.

"We should take the first step and have some formal communication with the sheriff's department," Basinger said.

Millard said it would cost $60,000 a year to have one full-time deputy patrol the village.

"What's wrong if we ask (the sheriff's department) a few questions?" said Trustee Eric Haven. "Let's see what kind of response we get."

The main problem that concerned the village council was emergency protection.

Basinger said a study showed that the village averaged only one emergency call per month.

Catallo said she would talk with the township officials and try to resolve the problems. But the village council members are not optimistic.

"There is no room for argument," said Basinger. "They will just toss it back to us."

Growth leads to drop in phone bills

More than 1,400 customers in Clarkston's rural zones will have bills reduced by as much as $1.69 a month due to growth in the community.

The more customers that each zone gets, the cheaper it is for Michigan Bell to provide phone service, said Vince Fordell, local corporate affairs manager.

"It may sound strange but our costs do go down as density increases," he said, and the savings are then passed on to the consumer.

Fordell said customers with one-party service will see a $1.69 reduction in phone bills, while two-party service will be lowered $1.34.

Michigan Bell will send written notification to the Clarkston customers affected.

All of the areas served by Michigan Bell are constantly surveyed and reviewed to keep the bills as low as possible, said Fordell.

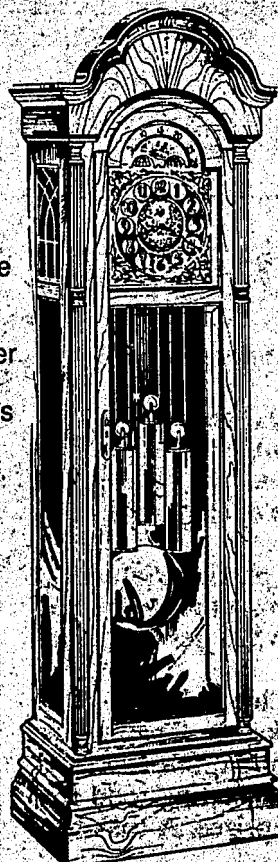

"Any time that we can give money back, it's good news," Fordell said. "People usually are not aware that we do things like that."

Aneurysm victim fights to recover

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

RECOVERING FROM SURGERY following an aneurysm a year ago, Bob Lynady receives 24-hour support from his wife Kathy and their children, Bobby, 10, and Becky, 8.

Kathy Lynady is a small woman with a ready smile. Her brown eyes are warm and friendly. But her countenance belies the trials she and her family have overcome.

Talking from home on her Holcomb Road, Independence Township, she recalls only too well the events of the past year.

"It's been hard," she starts with a steady voice and frank gaze.

Her husband, Bob, watches her from his chair in the living room, and Kathy looks at him with a smile.

On Friday morning Aug. 8, 1986, Bob fainted at work and awakened with a terrible headache. His co-workers at A & P called Kathy and called an ambulance for Bob.

At St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, doctors found an aneurysm in Bob's brain.

An aneurysm is a blood vessel that gets really large and either breaks or leaks--kind of like a water balloon that gets too full, Kathy later explained to her two children.

After several tests, Bob underwent surgery to remove the damaged portion of the blood vessel. A second operation removed a blood clot that had developed. A third operation replaced a plate in Bob's skull that had first been installed after a car accident about eight years ago.

He remained in the hospital for seven months, in and out of the intensive care unit (ICU). When he was not in the ICU, the kids could visit a couple of hours a day, Kathy says.

"It was hard for them to understand that they couldn't go see Daddy when he was in ICU," she says.

"And it was really hard for me with him being in the hospital and raising two kids and keeping house and all.

"I was scared. And I had to take it day by day. I still do."

Fellow '66 CHS grads rally to help

When the Clarkston High School Class of '66 heard what happened to their classmate Bob Lynady, they wanted to help.

The aneurysm Bob suffered a year ago had left him unable to work or care for himself or his wife and two children.

"We've just been concerned about Bob, and we wanted to help him out," said Denise (Novotney) Howard, one of the organizers of a benefit dance for Bob on Oct. 17.

"I've known him since the third grade," she said.

Linda (Bennett) Ryan, another organizer, also met Bob in the third grade at Clarkston Elementary School.

"Clarkston was a lot smaller in those days," said Linda. The high school had fewer kids, and with a graduating class of about 200, everybody knew everybody else, and they knew them well.

"We've always been pretty tight," said Denise. "It seems whenever something has gone wrong with any of us, we help--even if we haven't seen each other in a long time."

The class first joined together to help classmate Dick Cranick when he lost both legs in a farm auger while still in high school, she said.

It was a benefit dance then, too.

"When something happens, we pull together," said Denise. "Plus, it's been great getting together again. We're all basically the same people."

The benefit dance is planned Saturday, Oct. 17, from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Deer Lake Racquet Club. Tickets are $25 per couple or $13 for singles.

Deer Lake Racquet Club is donating the banquet room; a disc jockey is donating his services to play music from the '50s and '60s; and local merchants are donating food for hors d'oeuvres and raffle prizes. A cash bar will be available.

To donate money or goods or to buy tickets, contact Linda at 625-5261 or Denise at 625-7617.

Tickets are also available at the Clarkston Cafe or the following organizers: Chris Torr, Dianne (Martin) Wilson, Linda (Nolen) Kaul, Modest (Woodard) DeRoseau, Mike Madison, Sue (Woodcomb) Bradley, and Steve and Darlene (Craven) Barnett.

SPI expands

A magazine devoted to seniors in Oakland County was acquired this week by Sherman Publications Inc. of Oxford. SPI publishes The Clarkston News.

The Mature American, which was started in 1984, circulates 10,000 copies to 156 locations. It's available in several restaurants, apartment complexes, nutrition centers, senior centers, nursing homes, libraries, clinics and hospitals.

It is a monthly publication formerly owned by McKerr Associates Inc. of Bloomfield Hills. It is distributed the last week of each month.

Created by Anne McCarter and Ellen Kershenbaum, The Mature American has doubled in size. It has a tabloid newspaper format and it contains items of retirement interest: Social Security, fiction, poetry, travel, health, finance, cartoons, etc.

Jim Sherman, SPI publisher, said Kershenbaum would continue with the magazine as business/office manager. The editing would be done in SPI offices.

Of the magazines purchase, Sherman said, "It's another medium to reach readers. The Mature American is like a newspaper, yet it is different enough to give us some diversification. We know there is a large number of seniors who enjoy reading the types of articles featured in this magazine."

Youth detention camp contract struck down

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An opinion released Monday by the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office says a contract between the state and a private company to run a proposed youth detention camp is invalid because the state didn't follow legal procedures.

According to Richard Thompson, chief assistant prosecuting attorney, the Department of Social Services (DSS) violated Michigan law by entering into the contract without giving the Oakland County Board of Social Services a chance to review the contract and make recommendations. The county must enforce its statutory obligation, Thompson said, which means they have to take legal action. He said the prosecutor's office will wait for the county board to meet and review the decision before taking any action.

In July, DSS signed a $7.753 million contract with a private, non-profit camp management company, International Field Studies, to run the first of three proposed work and learn camps for juvenile delinquents.

The 27-month contract was signed July 6 by IFS and by the state on July 7. The county board received a letter on July 6 outlining the proposed contract, which gave the board no time to review it, according to Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson's statement.

According to the prosecutor's files, DSS knew in April of the proposed plan to build and run the detention camps. On May 5, the state administrative board approved the DSS-IFS contract even though the contract had not been reviewed locally.

"As far as I know, I have a legally binding contract."

~Robert Lipsitz
IFS President

By law, the county social services board must review and submit recommendations on any contracts between the state and private agencies within the county. One of the reasons, Thompson said, is because 50 percent of the funds for the program would come from the county.

North Oakland County has been considered a prime area for the camps, with Camp Holly in Rose Township one of the top choices of DSS Director C. Patrick Babcock.

The choice has met strong resistance from residents, who fear security problems and question whether the program is the best way to solve a youth crime problem. Most of the offenders at the camp would be teens from Wayne County.

Thompson said IFS was the sole recipient of the contract, which specifies payments to IFS back to May 6, 1987. The opinion issued Monday from the prosecutor's office did not specifically address the payments.

Thompson said, "It would be up to the courts to decide. If IFS performed a lot of things, the court might say that even though the contract is invalid, IFS would be entitled."

He added, however, that they had found very little actual cost incurred up to this time. And, he said, a retroactive payment of $500,000 in the contract "would be inappropriate" in the opinion of the prosecutor's office.

An alternative to litigation, Thompson said, would be for DSS to start over and follow the proper procedure.

"The purpose for giving the county board the opportunity to review the contract is for the board to make recommendations," Thompson said. "There must be an honest appraisal by DSS of these recommendations."

When contacted about the opinion, IFS president Robert Lipsitz said, "If DSS redoes the contract, we would enter into a new contract, depending on what changes were made."

"The way I understand it, the county board can only make recommendations," he added. "They cannot actually approve or reject a contract."

He also said from his last meeting with DSS, he understood "they felt everything they did was legal."

"I'm an outsider on this whole thing. As far as I know, I have a legally binding contract," he said.

Famous
last thoughts

Kathy Greenfield

It all started when my school calendar ran out of months.

During the few-day gap before I replaced the calendar on my kitchen wall right next to the telephone, there were some things I should have been writing down.

Not to worry, I'll remember, thought I. Famous last thoughts.

The Wednesday after work started out much like other Wednesdays after work.

Some people wind down during their drives home. Because I work so close to where I live, I frequently use cooking time for that purpose.

So there I was, chopping, blending and thinking when my mind wandered across apples ... apple crisp ... the apple dish I was supposed to prepare for a Wednesday dinner with a club I belong to.

Oh-my-gosh, thought I, that could be this Wednesday. I asked around and found out that I was, indeed, supposed to be somewhere else that evening, in a half-hour, with a homebaked dessert.

The choices: Toss the dinner I was in the middle of preparing in the trash. Or finish it. Bake the necessary dessert. And arrive an hour or so late for dinner—but just in time for dessert. Give up entirely and go sit in the closet.

As it all turned out, I came up with another solution after finishing the dinner I was preparing, which is just as good heated up the next day.

About five minutes before I was due with my dessert, I hopped in the car and drove to the bakery.

"What do you have with apples in it?" I asked. I seriously considered cutting muffins in quarters before hopping back in my car and driving to the next bakery.

They didn't have anything lavish with apples inside either.

"I can't believe you came home without some kind of dessert," said my better-half when I reappeared, now many minutes late, at our doorstep.

We went back to the bakery and bought something with raspberries in it. I tried soothing my frayed psyche with this thought: Fruit is fruit.

Picture a table laden with sumptuous apple desserts homemade with loving care. Picture me slinking in with something else, tasty but not quite right.

After that, things got better ... until someone mentioned something that made me remember we were supposed to be somewhere else at 9 p.m. And I was supposed to call after work to verify our appearance.

Luckily, many of the people I know have very understanding natures. We arrived at that destination only a few minutes late.

I'm pondering jotting notes—in indelible ink—on my underarm between my elbow and left hand.

TRAGEDY PAYS A VISIT
By Bruce A. Stewart

The raindrop hits the water while the children play.
The school bus disappears through the dirt and seasoned hay.
Things go unchanged as tragedy pays a visit.
Most think not twice until it's someone close or is it?
We take for granted those in pain.
Like children playing until terror reigns.
Death eats at souls who long for their brother.
Here one eternity vanished into another.
Life is taken so young and so kind.
It's hard to be religious when life's on the line.
Tragedy pays a visit and many may die.
Stepping back we let it go by.
A terrible thing we think for a day.
Tomorrow comes and feelings part their way.
For those who feel and those who don't.
It's unfortunate that I feel
and the next man won't.
We know it's unforgiving, cruel and true.
But it's compassion and love that sees us through.
Tragedy paid a visit
but you graciously declined.
It's not that easy.
You may be next in line.

Jim's Jottings

You don't have to be a golfer to enjoy the Treetops course at Sylvan Resort.

In fact, you will probably enjoy it more not being a golfer.

Scenery is the thing. And, if you have time to drive to Gaylord in the next two weeks do so; turn east on M-32 just past Hidden Valley Resort and turn left on Wilkinson road 3 miles to the Resort.

Drive up the entrance to the ski-golf (skiing came first) resort and to the Ale Haus. You don't have to go in or buy anything. You can walk around the restaurant and look over the huge valley.

It was awesome Saturday and when fall's full colors peek, the scene should be breathtaking, and 90 percent prettier yet if the sun is out.

Treetops golf course was designed by the famed architect Robert Trent Jones, Sr. ... who undoubtedly loves courses and hates golfers.

It is an unwalkable course for modern man even if they'd let you. Animals shun those hills. Jones elevated every green, making a simple 7-iron shot and 5-wood slammer. He put islands in lakes for tees, greens in lakes, crevices in front of greens and traps where there aren't crevices.

How about a par-3, 201 yard hole with absolutely nothing between tee and green except a sand trap in front of the green and a very deep hole?

Treetops opened April 2 ... I think it's significant they waited until after April Fool's Day. The starter told us every tee time has been taken since the opening. Of course, he also told us 70,000 people had gone through and that's impossible.

There are four tees at Treetops, red for ladies, white for men, blue for professionals and black for those who like to suffer.

To read the distances on the card, one would think black isn't bad at 7,046 yards. And, the starter told us (20-men) to play the blues "to really appreciate the course", 6,399 yards. After one hole of blues, we switched to white, 5,817 yards.

After a half dozen holes, we golfers were complaining that this was the longest 5,817 yards we'd ever seen. We pounded the ball off the tee, pounded woods toward the green and chipped several yards on holes like the 362 yard number 9.

I keep saying we because we played a 'scrambles' instead of playing our own ball. We wanted to get home in September.

We paid $50 each to play Treetops, which has been using a house trailer for a proshop this year. The clubhouse will be finished for spring.

Besides giving (?) you a scorecard when you tee off, you get a booklet with all the distances to everywhere except the Big Mac bridge. It even tells you where to play your tee shot.

Would I like to play it again? Certainly. I'd like to have my wife see the color, and I'd like to prove to her we don't go north to have fun playing golf.

Pope and Porta's are gone

Jim Fitzgerald

If I'd been able to talk to Pope John Paul II while he was in my neighborhood Saturday, I would have asked him why he doesn't use a lectern. And I would have asked for a favor concerning portable toilets.

God only knows how many millions were spent to make the pope's visit to Detroit, and other U.S. cities, comfortable and safe. In fact, some people insist God must be angry about all that spending on pomp instead of on feeding and sheltering poor people.

That's an interesting - if interminable - argument to which we shall return. But first, my point is that if there's enough money to rent a private Porta-John for each person who sees the pope, there is surely enough money to buy him a lectern - a little reading desk - to hold the manuscript from which he reads his speeches.

There was Pope John Paul II, surely our most esteemed visitor since Vanna White, encased in a bullet proof compartment 30 feet above his Hart Plaza audience, surrounded by enough Secret Service men to stock 20 Brooks Brothers stores with dark suits, and receiving enough adulation to turn the head of a statue.

And the pope was holding the floppy pages of his speech in both hands, shuffling sheets of paper as he read.

When is the last time you saw a big shot - Lee Iacocca, for instance - read a speech in that manner? If they can't read it from a Teleprompter, they at least have a lectern.

IT WASN'T JUST at Hart Plaza that Pope John Paul II held the whole speech in his hands. He did the same thing in Hamtramck and on other stops on last week's tour. Obviously, that's the way he wants it, and I wonder why.

Certainly he isn't trying to appear humble - poorly equipped - just like you or me. Not a man whose $350,000 Popemobile is flown to wherever he needs a ride.

Another thing I would have asked the pope concerns the hundreds of portable toilets installed downtown for his speech. Most of them went unused because the crowd was much smaller than expected. Media coverage of the unused johns implied criticism should go to the lunkheads who forecast an audience of 500,000 and got only 35,000. Anyone can be wrong, but a 465,000 shortfall is ridiculous.

Anyway, I would have asked the pope to use his influence to have a few of those Porta-Johns kept downtown permanently. Especially in the Cadillac Square area, near the handsome new bus station where the only john is for bus drivers only.

Since downtown Hudson's closed, people who don't frequent saloons have almost no place to go. I've seen street people urinate in doorways. More fastidious sufferers wonder if they can hold on long enough to get a job as a bus driver.

IF THIS CITY can provide hundreds of Porta-Johns for pope fans who don't show up, why not a couple for everyday downtown visitors whose mission, while not religious, is no less human. It would have been a grand opportunity for Pope John Paul II to ease the suffering of common Men and Women.

Finally, about spending millions on pope pomp instead of feeding and sheltering the needy: Many Catholic leaders defend it by saying they can raise millions for the pope visit, but not for the poor. Also, there is the trickle-down theory - a visit from the pope will inspire people to be more charitable.

And Detroit Archbishop Edmond Szoka flipped the question on the press: "I think we could say that all the money the media is spending on this (pope visit) might better be shared with the poor, as well."

Which suggests another question for the pope: If he knew there'd be no media coverage, would he come calling anyway?

HER PRACTICE EMERGENCY phone call completed to firefighter Dan DeLongchamp, Lisa Zumwalt prepares to return to her seat during the Independence Township Library's Babysitting Workshop. The two-session class ended Saturday, but due to popular demand it will again be offered early next year, said Children's Librarian Anne Rose.

Hearing set for Spring Lake sewer

Public comment is wanted regarding a proposed sewer on Waterford Road, Independence Township, to serve the Spring Lake Sewer District.

At the Sept. 15 meeting, the township board approved the following: Acceptance of the petition from developer Ronald Harmon on Maybee Road to build the sewer, declaration of the township's intent to install the sewer and the designation of a special assessment public hearing.

The hearing was set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 6, in the Township Hall Annex, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston.

At that time, the board will hear objections to the petition, objections to the improvements and objections to the special assessment district.

The sewer is to follow Waterford Road and is to connect the existing Dixie Highway sewer to the developer's 60-acre Maybee Road building site.

Harmon is to pay the entire construction cost, estimated at $420,000. The township will be responsible for maintenance.

Residents cannot hook up to the sewer because the sewer system requires a pump station, said George Anderson, director of the Department of Public Works.

Residents along Waterford Road rejected the gravity flow system, which would have allowed them to connect at anytime in the future, because the sewer would have cut across some of the residents' private property, he said.

The board voted 5-1-1 to approve the plan. Trustee Daniel Travis abstained because he was a member of the Waterford Sportsmen's Club—one of the property owners who objected to the project.

Trustee Carol Balzarini voted no because the township has a policy against pump stations for sewers and she said the board should abide by it.

Mathematics teacher succumbs to cancer

BY KATHY GREENFIELD
Clarkston News Editor

The students and staff at Clarkston High School paid tribute with a moment of silence Monday to teacher Linda Dennis who died Sept. 27.

Mrs. Dennis, 47, had taught mathematics and German 19 and one-half years for Clarkston Community Schools, the majority of that time at CHS.

She had been ill with cancer for almost eight years.

On Monday morning, a eulogy written by CHS Mathematics Department Chairperson Jan Modesitt was read to the students and staff at the high school.

Included were praise for Mrs. Dennis' commitment to teaching and high standards.

"She was a multi-faceted and multi-talented woman whose time on this earth will be measured in contributions made, not in the number of years lived," Ms. Modesitt wrote.

"Her humor, her strength and her commitment to life have been sources of strength to her family, her friends, her co-workers and to her students.

SINCE GRADUATING FROM Eastern Michigan University in 1962, Linda Dennis had worked as a teacher.

"She will be missed; she will be remembered; she will be regarded as a woman who insisted on 'quality of life' throughout her years—even through her lengthy battle to overcome cancer."

In addition to her devotion to teaching, Mrs. Dennis was active in her church, Calvary Lutheran of Independence Township, several Masonic and Shriners organizations, and the Detroit Swiss Society.

She and her husband, Richard, worked as co-editors of the newspaper for the Elf Khurafeh Temple of Saginaw, a Shriners organization.

She had been a teacher since graduating from Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, in 1962, with posts in Huron Valley and Pontiac before joining the Clarkston school district staff.

She is also survived by her son, Kevin; and parents, Ella Heinrich and Fred Heinrich.

Historic district law back to hearing stage

A public hearing to discuss the Historic District Ordinance/Anti-Demolition Ordinance is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 12, at the Clarkston Village Hall, 375 Depot.

A publishing error in the public notice was recently discovered regarding the Sept. 7 public hearing.

The notice should have said the historic district ordinance, which includes the anti-demolition wording, would be discussed. No one from the public attended the hearing on anti-demolition.

Trustee Douglas Roeser guessed at why no one bothered to show up.

"People probably just said, 'I'm not going to bulldoze my house so it's not going to affect me,'" he said.

Village attorney John Steckling said the hearing was required to give all residents the opportunity to speak out now, instead of later.

Since the error was minor, the village council didn't have to hold another public hearing, but it will anyway, Roeser said.

"Let's operate in good faith," he said.

The anti-demolition ordinance reduces the scope of controversial historic district ordinance and only deals with substantial alteration, demolition and moving of a structure in the village's historic district.

The document is based on the old historic district ordinance, even though it's watered down, so a new public hearing should be conducted, Steckling said.

Planners seek more parking spaces

A deficiency in parking spaces and landscaping and a concern over traffic problems were the cited reasons for tabling plans for two office buildings on one Sashabaw Road site in Independence Township.

On Sept. 24, the township planning commission voted to table the request for special land use and conceptual site plan approval.

Developers Tim Warner and Nancy Caruso proposed building a two-story, 29,000-square-foot building in architect Gary Jackson's 52nd District Courthouse style and a 2,400-square-foot building, possibly for a bank.

The buildings were proposed for 2.62 acres on the west side of Sashabaw Road between Caruso's Deli and Paul Eghigian's residential property.

Township planning consultant Richard Carlisle said he didn't mind the concept of two offices on one site, but the offices were too large to leave enough space for parking, landscaping and water retention.

Commission member Brent Bair listed concerns with the size of the buildings, the two access points to the site and the proximity of the curb cuts to the adjacent delicatessen entrance.

"We're talking density here, and density relates to square footage," he said. "I'm not opposed to two structures if they meet the requirements."

Warner said they planned a change in the presented plans—to build first the smaller building, at the front of the property, and to downsize the second building to be built a few years later.

Commission member Jo Fussman said if it was going to be a phased project, the commission needed to see the phases in the plans.

In a 4-0 vote, the commission tabled the requests and asked the petitioner to return with the changed plans. Chairperson Joseph Figa abstained because he's involved with the builder outside of the commission.

COG seeks to provide the people's voice

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Condominiums, traffic, zoning and police protection are some areas of concern for a group of Independence Township citizens.

What began as living room discussions a few months ago turned into a formal organization called Citizens for Orderly Growth (COG), said Chairperson Douglas Carlson, a Phelan Drive resident.

With a core group of about 20 people, COG went public last Wednesday with a meeting that attracted 45 people and doubled the number of COG members who paid their $10 dues, he said. After the meeting, he explained the group's purpose.

"We want to be a sounding group to pass information to the township," said Carlson. "We want to work with the township."

COG members are concerned with the growth in the community and the affect the growth will have on the area, he said.

They hope to act as a liaison between the government and the individuals of the community, he said, adding that they eventually would like to have at least one representative from every voting precinct as well as representatives from neighborhoods or living areas.

The township officials "just don't have the time or the resources to go out into the town and see what people want as a group," he said.

"We have the manpower. We have the resources, and we have the energy. We want to be an arm of the government, if you will."

So far, the members of the group have a small list of specific concerns, but they plan to search out the concerns of the entire population of Independence--around 20,000 people, he said. A survey or other means will be used.

Carlson talked about a few of the issues. "People are concerned with condominiums," said Carlson. "We all know condos are coming. There's a need for them, but how many?"

The Sashabaw Corridor is important because of the growth potential, he said.

"Dixie Highway is another worry for many people," he said. "It's a terribly dangerous road. Some people can't even get onto it."

"With all this growth, we'll need more services," he said, mentioning police, fire, garbage, schools, recreation and traffic control.

"Any of these can specifically destroy the character of Clarkston (if not monitored)."

"I personally get a little bit antsy when I see them cut down the lot sizes. ... That scares me," he said, citing the growth of Rochester Hills and Auburn Hills as an example. "Everything's gone there. The trees are gone. The green is gone. It's all houses."

Carlson, supervisor of the training section for body and chase engineering at Ford Motor Co., has worked with township officials on salary reviews and a personnel manual adopted this month by the board.

With three children in Clarkston schools, he's familiar with the district, he said.

Other COG members are equally qualified, he said. Among them are Neil Wallace and Holly Stephens, former chairperson and vice-chairperson respectively of the township planning commission who were not reappointed to their posts by the township supervisor.

But Carlson cautioned that COG is not a political group.

"We did not form this to make (Wallace and Stephens) get back on the planning commission. That has nothing to do with it, although their experience makes them valuable members."

Directing township growth in a way that suits the residents of the community is the whole goal, he said.

"Development is coming. It's not here yet, but it will be soon, and we should be ready for it," he said.

COG's next meeting is 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 21, in the Clarkston Elementary School multipurpose room.

"It's a working meeting," he said. "People are welcome to sit in and observe or join. ... We plan to get the action going."

'Just Say No' is their cry

Students unite to share anti-drug message

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

While the rest of the student body went about the business of changing classes, socializing in the halls along the way, 40 students filed into a lecture room at Clarkston High School to pioneer a new effort to fight drug abuse among young people.

The 40 students, 10th- through 12th-graders at CHS, were either nominated by teachers or volunteered themselves for the "Just Say No" Club and were attending the group's first meeting Sept. 23.

They had to exhibit several qualities to be among this elite group. They had to have leadership qualities, handle themselves well in front of a group and be alcohol and drug free.

These students would be spreading the word to fourth- through ninth-graders about the physical and emotional effects of drugs.

They would be telling them to "just say no," just as they had, and in the process, they would be setting an enviable example for their own peers in the high school.

"These kids are special," said Katie MacKay, coordinator of the S.E.A.R.C.H. program at CHS and co-sponsor of the new club along with Ned Burdick, CHS physics teacher.

"The school is helping us get T-shirts for the club and we're hoping that there will be other little 'perks,' such as some organization treating them to breakfast, to help show our appreciation and let them know how special they are," she said.

Clarkston-area pediatrician James O'Neill spoke to the group about drug abuse.

"Most of you are 'street smart' about drugs,

FORTY CHS STUDENTS joined forces to form a new "Just Say No" Club. Following You've survived," he said. "But the kids at the elementary and junior high level don't have the 'street-smarts' yet. It's up to you to convince them that it's the right decision to say no."

The students signed up for the grade level they wanted to talk to before leaving the meeting. They would all go through four hours of training conducted by the Lake Orion School District before actually becoming a presenter in the classroom.

Lake Orion, MacKay explained, has been doing this program for two years now and is hoping to expand it throughout northern Oakland County.

The Clarkston Optimist Club was picking up half the cost of the $100 fee for the program, and MacKay said she was still looking for an organization to pick up the other $50.

"You really have to have a lot of confidence in yourself to do this," Burdick told the students at the end of the meeting. "It takes a lot of guts to do what you're doing."

"The peer pressure is always there, even for adults," he said. "But you can be a lean, mean drug-free machine."

HOLDING A SMALL PORTION of the books for the Friends of the Library used book sale are [from left] Jerry Wilford, Mary Flemming, Librarian James Hibler and Jane Lamb.

Annual sale is book lovers' delight

The annual Friends of the Independence Township Library used book sale holds benefits for shoppers and the community alike, says Library Director James Hibler.

The sale is planned Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 1-3, in the Clarkston Masonic Hall at the corner of Main and Washington streets in the village.

Book lovers will enjoy the bargains—paperbacks for 25 cents and hardcovers for $1 or less, and Saturday's prices of 10 cents for any book.

"There are some good hardcovers and good paperbacks that people will be interested in," Hibler says.

The sale of books donated by community members usually raises between $500 and $750 for the Friends.

The money is used to help pay for children's programs at the library, such as the Summer Reading Program and holiday parties.

"It's something that's real helpful to the library," says Hibler.

In addition, the shoppers and the Friends always have fun, he says. "We get lots of people from all over who love to browse through books."

Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Nan's to cut for charity

A charity cutathon with all proceeds going to the charity which receives the most votes from customers is planned Monday, Oct. 8, at Nan's Beauty Salon.

Hair cuts, manicures, makeup application, ear piercing and electrolysis will be available for $5 apiece from noon to 8 p.m. at the salon at 4194 Airport Rd., Waterford Township.

"We wanted to do something for charity, plus we thought it would be a good way to introduce new people to the salon—just a fun thing to do for the fall," said Nancy LaFave, manager.

Clients will be served on a first come, first served basis.

2 hurt in car crash

Two people were injured in a rear-end collision Monday, Sept. 21, on Clarkston Road, Independence Township.

About 4:55 p.m. Monday, Joseph Martin Ashley, 16, of Greenville, Independence Township, and his passenger, Richard Ashley, 19, were stopped in the northbound Clarkston Road lane waiting to turn left onto Greenville.

They were hit by a car driven by Melissa Marie Opria, 24, of South Eston Road, Independence Township, who was unable to stop, according to reports at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

According to police reports, Opria had swerved to avoid a collision with a car beside her, but she was unable to stop on the wet pavement during the rainy weather.

Richard Ashley and Opria were treated and released from Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Neither was wearing a seat belt. Alcohol was not a factor, the police report said.

Opria received a ticket for being unable to stop her car.

Caring continues

Now that Bob's home, Kathy takes him to therapy twice a week to help him walk. Mostly, he gets around in a wheelchair, with the help of ramps built by their church, Calvary Lutheran on Bluegrass Drive in Independence Township.

He needs 24-hour-a-day care, provided by Kathy. Just this month, Bob's insurance company agreed to pay for a nurse for eight hours once a week—an opportunity for Kathy to go grocery shopping or perform any other errands.

Hopefully, Bob's physical capabilities will begin to return, says Kathy. At home, they work on his memory and do other exercises. When the kids come home, they tell him about their day.

"It's so hard on them because they remember what Daddy was like before," she says.

And so does she. He was healthy and energetic and playful, she says.

Remembering, Kathy's voice wavers, and she begins to cry.

"I wish this had never happened," she says.

But her voice strengthens when she talks about all the help they've received.

From the family, their 10-year-old son, Bobby, mows their large lawn, and their 8-year-old daughter, Becky, helps where she can, too.

Also supportive have been Bob's parents, Hilka and Bob Lynady, 27-year residents of Pear Street, Independence Township, and Bob's sister Adele and her husband Jerry Powell of M-15, Independence Township.

Kathy's mother, Rose Weiss of Redford, helps on her days off, says Kathy, as do her father, Richard, and her brothers, Tom, Harold and Pat.

Bob's co-worker Sharon Hughes and others have aided, too, she says.

Except for the four years Bob served in the Navy after high school, he had worked at the A & P stores on M-59 and on M-15 since he was 16 years old.

"A lot of very caring people have helped," says Kathy. "All of their prayers have really helped, too."

Even Bob's classmates from CHS are banding together to give support—planning a benefit dance Oct. 17 at the Deer Lake Racket Club, with donations of food and raffle prizes from area merchants.

"I think it's wonderful what all his classmates are doing for Bob and I and the kids. They're terrific," says Kathy.

She smiles again at Bob. He smiles back.

Sept. 24--Ever since a season-opening loss to Grand Blanc, the Wolves defensive unit has been perfect. The only points scored on Clarkston since then came on a long interception return.

The Captains were the Wolves' latest victims. Kevin Keilitz scored the game's first touchdown with a three-yard run. John King ran in the two-point conversion to give Clarkston an 8-0 advantage.

Dane Davis later scored on a quarterback sneak to up the lead to 14-0.

Glen Adams picked up 20 yards on a fourth-and-eight play to keep yet another drive going for Clarkston in the second quarter. King eventually scored the touchdown on that drive.

A pass from Davis to Lance Lewis on the two-point conversion attempt was good.

The score remained 22-0 at halftime in favor of Clarkston.

Another run by King in the second half, plus a PAT by Tony Simmons closed out the scoring.

The offensive and defensive units drew praise from Coach John Craven.

Nolan Golub and Tony Simmons (2 fumble recoveries) were singled out for their defensive prowess.

Wolves split against Hartland

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Wolves had an up side and a down side in their cross country meet against Hartland Sept. 24.

A powerful combination of three runners for the Wolves led them to their fourth victory, this time at home.

Sonja Schaffer, Kate Conlen and Lisa Palazzola ran first, second and third in the girls meet to lead Clarkston to a 19-39 win over the visitors.

"That's a pretty impressive 1-2-3 punch," said Coach Mike Kaul.

Schaffer won the race with a time of 21:09.

Jenny Mahler ended up sixth in the competition with 22:41.

While the victories keep piling up for the girls team, the Wolves won't be tested until they face Lake Orion Oct. 6 at home, said Kaul.

Brighton also appears as a very strong team on the Clarkston schedule, the coaches said.

As the season nears its midway point, the Wolves are still not running at full strength. Several key performers from last season are out with various ailments, said Coach Mike Taylor.

While the boys team lost to a much larger Hartland squad, improvement was seen by the coaches.

The Wolves lost 15-48 to Hartland. Jim Hotary was the top runner for Clarkston. He finished with 18:28 for sixth place.

"That was one of his better times," said Kaul.

Four other runners on the team finished the course in less than 20 minutes. While the times still are not great, the coaches remain optimistic. "Things are getting better," said Kaul. "We have a very young team."

Sean Cervantez, Jason Wenger, Mike Kovalesky and Tom Holiday ran well against Hartland.

Time out

A stitch in time

Peter Auchter

The National Football League players who decided to strike Sept. 21 will soon know how amateur grapplers feel when they watch big-time wrestling.

Rejects and free agents will replace the professional players while they are on strike. Their show will be just as faked and silly as the so called "professional wrestlers."

These players will degrade the game of football just as the big-time wrestlers do for the sport of wrestling.

The only major difference is that I doubt these rejects will be able to draw 90,000 people to the Silverdome like Wrestlemania III did.

If they draw more than nine people, it will be a minor miracle.

Of course, those folks that have purchased season tickets are stuck and have to go to the games or forfeit the money they forked over for their prime seats.

But other people on the street would be insane to buy tickets to watch the Lions "scab" team perform.

If the Lions themselves can't win, how can the rejects do any better?

Are our rejects better than anybody else's? What would make Detroit a hot market for losers?

These questions will be answered on the football field in the coming weeks unless the players and owners call in Pope John Paul II to mediate the problem.

It would be a blessing for all the football fans around the globe to end this strike early. In that way, we could avoid "scab" football.

Who is right in this battle between the owners and players? Neither side!

The players are asking for more freedom to become millionaires (why don't they buy lotto tickets like me and you?) and the owners don't want to part with any of their precious funds.

Both sides are equally greedy. That's why a settlement will take a long time. Both sides need to get hit hard in the pocketbook before they begin bargaining in "good faith."

Until that time, we the fans will get the runaround and be forced to watch "scab" football if we are hooked on the pro game.

Personally, I'd vote to watch the Tigers, but I don't want to make that public in fear of jinxing the team in its quest for the World Series title.

Knitting is a fun occupation that could fill the void left by the football strike. With all the cold weather in front of us, this time-killer could be quite practical as well.

Then on Mondays at the office instead of exchanging stories about what the football teams did the day before, we could exchange patterns.

Now wouldn't that be fun! (Let's hope the strike ends soon.)

CHS grad wins title

A former golf state champion and Clarkston resident recently won the club championship at Meceola Country Club in Big Rapids.

Teri Thomson defeated the defending champion Marilyn Keigley after three sudden death holes to win the title.

Thomson, 29, is a 1976 graduate of Clarkston High School. She currently resides in Big Rapids and works as a general manager of a Big Boy Restaurant.

Golfing is something that Thomson has done for most of her adult life, said her mother, Annie Thomson.

"Her father introduced her to the sport," she said. "He would be very proud of her right now."

Winning the club championship wasn't the first time in her career as a golfer that Thomson has done the remarkable.

She sank her first hole-in-one when she was 15 years old.

Thomson has been golfing since she was 10. When she was younger, she traveled to various tournaments during the summer months to hone her skills.

Thomson has two brothers and they are both avid golfers as well. But neither have been able to match the skill of their sister, said their mother.

The club championship match with Keigley was tied after five holes. After nine, Keigley was up by one.

A spectacular birdie on 17 helped put Thomson in the lead, but Keigley was able to knot up the contest and force the overtime.

Both women bogied the first two holes in OT before Thomson won it with a birdie on the 21st hole.

"Nobody would be more proud than her father," said Annie Thomson. "We all know what a great golfer she is."

Speedier players spark soccer resurgence

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An infusion of speedier players at the midfield position has led to a resurgence of the Wolves prep soccer team.

The latest example was an easy 8-0 victory over Lapeer East at home Friday evening.

B.J. Deloney and Jim Brueck scored two goals apiece to pace the rout for the Wolves, now 4-7.

Chris Blimka, Darren Brandt, Bill Cashin and Matt Zabel added one apiece for Clarkston.

The lineup had to be adjusted several times during the early parts of the season when several players were ill, said Coach Neil Granlund.

Several new players were added to the team and others were moved around, he said, and the result has been a better soccer team.

"Things started to look very good in the Brandon game," Granlund said.

The Wolves lost that game 2-0 in the last 10 minutes, a difficult loss because the Wolves played so hard, he said.

Another reason the team has improved, the coach said, is the players are learning how to work together to achieve their goals.

The play of left-wingers Cashin and Brandt has been a bright spot for the Clarkston offense.

"Cashin can get a nice shot off the left wing and he works well with Brandt," said Granlund. "They are a strong point on the team."

As for the rout over Lapeer East, a team consisting of only 13 players, Granlund said it's only a matter of time before other teams pull away from them.

"They will get run down when other teams substitute on them," he said.

ZACH BROWN grimaces as he collides with a Lapeer East player while going for the ball in Friday's 8-0 romp at Clarkston High School. The win upped the team's record to 4-7.

Cagers win 2

Things continue to improve for the girls basketball team as the season progresses, said Coach Dave McDonald.

Clarkston routed both its prep basketball opponents last week to up its record to 4-2.

"We will remain competitive this season," he said. "We have a young team and I think we are better than I thought (at the start of the season)."

Clarkston defeated Brandon, 59-36, behind another outstanding performance from Ali Fedio. She scored 21 points and grabbed 17 rebounds to pace the team.

Jackie Patrick also played well, tossing in 10 points and pulling down 12 boards.

The Wolves traveled north Sept. 24 to face Holly and once again came away with a win. Clarkston won the game in a breeze 66-29.

Michelle Baker had the best game of her prep career, said McDonald of his starting guard. Baker netted 10 points, dished off six assists and grabbed 11 rebounds to pace the club.

Fedio contributed 16 points and 15 rebounds to the winning cause for Clarkston.

Both sophomores called up from the junior varsity squad, Sue McKoin and Rhonda Jokisch, played against Holly.

Jokisch scored nine points and McKoin added six more to help the team along.

"Things are coming along well," said McDonald. "The schedule allowed us to develop."

One good sign for the Wolves was the impressive play of the Flint Northern team they almost defeated a few weeks back, said McDonald.

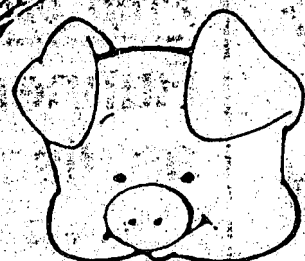

The Flint team recently beat the sixth-ranked team in the state, yet barely slipped past Clarkston.

Consistent play keys 7-3 record for golf club

Senior leadership has brought the Wolves varsity golf team success this season.

The outstanding play of Ken Mercier, Randy Nelson, Steve Stapleton, Jeff Brock and Rob Wilson has paced the Clarkston High club to a 7-3 record.

"Mercier has the best average on the team right now," said Coach Jim Chamberlain.

Chamberlain said the close losses the Wolves have suffered on the road this season hurt the most.

Course familiarity provides a team with an advantage, said Chamberlain. That's why he said the team must take its chances when playing on the road.

In the Greater Oakland Activities League, Lake Orion is the team to beat, said Chamberlain.

Clarkston squared off with Lake Orion on the road Sept. 29. Results were not available at press time.

Earlier last week, the Wolves defeated Waterford Kettering, 156-171, Sept. 24 at Spring Lake Country Club.

Mercier paced the victors with a 36. Nelson

Early dramatics for Wolves

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Usually, the Wolves save the dramatics for the fourth quarter.

Clarkston didn't wait that long Friday night, but the result was the same—another prep football win.

Rob Karp blocked a punt in the second quarter and Chris Locher scooped it up and raced 30 yards for the winning touchdown in a 14-12 win over Waterford Kettering on the road.

While he was happy to record the win that makes Clarkston 3-1, Coach Kurt Richardson still saw room for improvement.

"We had too many penalties," he said. "We stopped ourselves, Kettering didn't do it."

Clarkston was called for nine penalties and was backed up 88 yards.

The Wolves opened the scoring in the first quarter on a 2-yard run by Mike Gilbert. Ken Phipps kicked the conversion to give the visitors a 7-0 lead with 36 seconds left in the quarter.

A 42-yard pass play from Josh Newblatt to Joe Herron set up the touchdown.

Kettering answered that score in the second stanza when Matt Lewis snared a 35-yard pass from Jim Miller with 8:12 left before halftime.

The PAT kick was no good, leaving Clarkston in front by a point.

The Wolves' drive stalled the next time they had the ball, so they were forced to punt.

The Captains began their drive on their own 33-yard line. Clarkston shut them down and forced Kettering to punt the ball back.

That's when Karp and company got their hands on the ball to block it.

"That just goes to show you how important the play of the special teams are," Richardson said.

Richardson credited the blocked-punt play to Coach Kurt Norman. Norman brought the play with him from Hillsdale College.

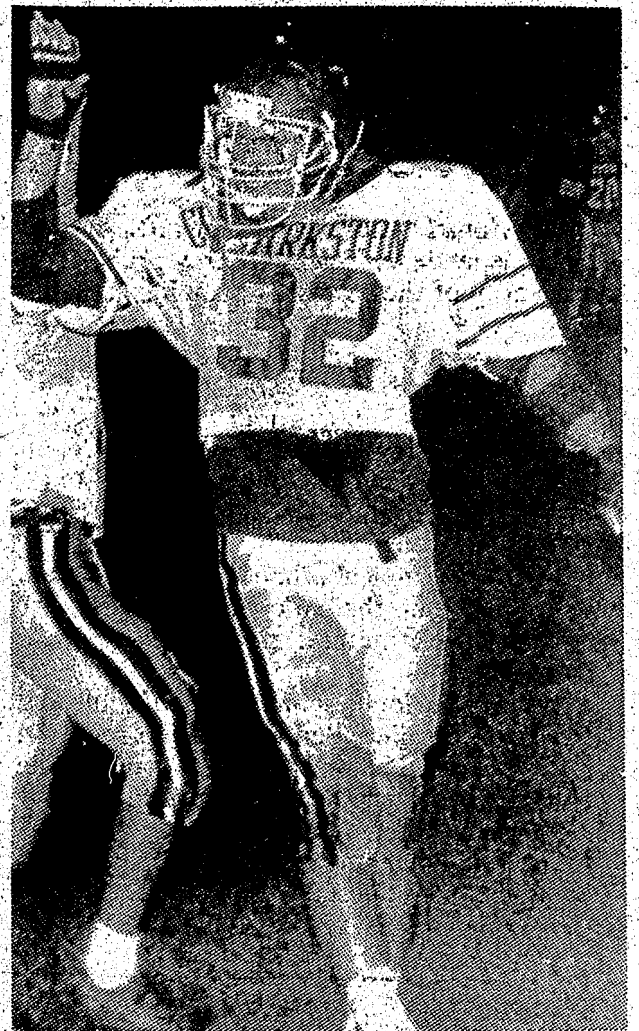

After Locher's TD, Phipps kicked the conversion, and Clarkston led, 14-6. That was all the scoring they would do. But the game was far from over.

With less than six minutes to play, Kettering scored on a 1-yard plunge by Scott Eriksen. The Captains opted for the two-point conversion to tie the game but failed.

Newblatt's interception with 1:29 left in the game sealed the win for Clarkston.

Richardson singled out the play of Newblatt and Gilbert offensively and Newblatt and Mark Oswald on the defensive side.

Clarkston returns home for a game against Waterford Mott on Friday evening.

MIKE WELLS looks for someone to celebrate with after the Wolves' thrilling win over Kettering.

54-lot subdivision wins 1st approval

Plans for a 121-acre subdivision off Sashabaw Road, Independence Township, drew praise from the majority of the township planning commission.

The commission approved the tentative preliminary plat in a 4-1 vote Sept. 24.

Backing up to Independence Oaks on the west side of Sashabaw and north of Clarkston Road, the subdivision--Sashabaw Creek Meadows--is to contain 54 lots and a natural park with ponds.

The future neighborhood association may choose to develop the park with landscaping or they may leave it natural, said developer M.A. Benson III.

Some of the lots rest on the side of a hill, and some are in a valley, Benson said. To raise the lower lots above the flood plane, the plan is to dig a few ponds in the park and use the soil to fill in the lower areas.

Township planning consultant Richard Carlisle said he liked the subdivision plans.

"From a planning standpoint, we're very pleased with the road layout and the way it loops around," he said. "I think you've done a very nice job with this topography."

Commission member Jo Fussman said a boulevard entrance would be preferable to the two entrances shown.

Chairperson Joseph Figa said the county park probably would be enclosing its property with a fence. He complimented the plans.

"It's a well thought-out plan. It fits the topography well," he said.

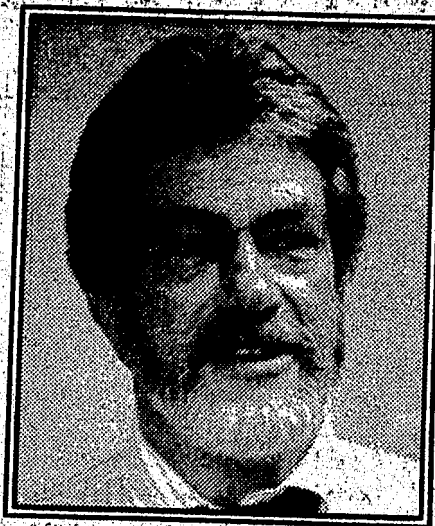

Trustee Carol Balzarini cast the lone dissenting vote.

"I was opposed in the beginning to rezoning this from (rural residential), and I'm opposed to developing it as (suburban farm residential)," she said.

Ozzie Jackson, co-owner of the developing company Trinity Investments, said construction could start in a year or two.

Trinity also developed Chestnut Hills subdivision off Maybee Road in Independence Township.

MT. BETHEL United Methodist Church marks the crossing of the country roads, Jossman and Bald Eagle Lake, in Groveland Township.

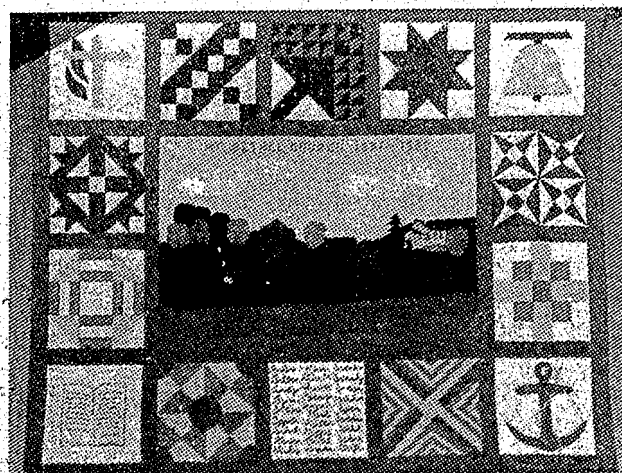

Church historian Helen Austin and the other congregation members will celebrate the church's 150th birthday Oct. 11. During the ceremony, the oldest congregation members will be recognized as honorary trustees: William Sutton, Nora Hine and Gladys Keasey.

white church upon a hill.

Mt. Bethel United Methodist Church in Groveland Township is a "country church" serving country people, says Helen Austin, a member since 1934.

As the church celebrates its 150th birthday this year, one can envision the people who have attended the services over the years--farmers and pioneers and people who enjoy country living, says Helen, a Kier Road, Springfield Township, resident who keeps a record of such things.

"I'm a clipper, so I save things from the newspaper," she says, adding other members have saved photographs and church directories and all will contribute to the church's historical book.

Not much has changed in the way of doing things, she says.

In the beginning of October, the congregation still holds an annual harvest dinner, a tradition where each member contributes "real home-made" food, she says.

Starting with old-fashioned roasted turkey, the members bring homemade dressing and buttery mashed potatoes and home-grown squash and dozens of pies.

"Nothing's frozen or canned," Helen says. She plans to bring four raspberry pies made with berries she grows herself.

According to Helen's research, the church was established in the winter of 1837-38 by a Rev. Smith. The congregation probably met in the schoolhouse, she says.

In 1840, the men of the church built a hewn log 22-by-30 foot church at the present site on Bald Eagle Lake Road.

In 1870, the log church was replaced by a New England-type frame structure, built under the supervision of Horace Mathby and financed with contributions from the congregation. Sarah

Youth Assistance meeting covers the years

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It was a time to reflect on the silver anniversary and to look ahead to programs in the 26th year of Clarkston Area Youth Assistance as about 80 supporters, sponsors and volunteers gathered for the annual luncheon meeting on Sept. 21.

Following the luncheon, at the Clarkston United Methodist Church, Chairman Merelyn Mallett said she was excited about plans for 1987-88.

A teen drop-in center, begun last May on a trial basis, will be scheduled twice a month on a regular basis starting Oct. 10 and continue through April at Clarkston High School.

MERELYN MALLET, chairman of the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee, chats with volunteers following the annual meeting and luncheon on Monday.

Open to grades 9-12, the center offers students a place to gather and socialize, according to Nancy Deloney, who reported on youth involvement at the luncheon. Activities such as sports, dancing and games are offered at the center.

Mallett said she is also excited about the PLUS program this year.

"We have a new chairman, Jane Frick, who is following in her son's footsteps," she said. "Paul was the chairman before."

PLUS, a program in which a volunteer establishes a one-to-one relationship with a child who needs an extra supportive relationship, is always in need of volunteers who are willing to spend the time to help, she said.

The Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee, established in 1961 by a resolution of the Independence Township Board, has continued through the efforts of hundreds of adult volunteers working for the betterment of children and their families in the Clarkston school district.

When Robert Cross, chief of Oakland County Youth Assistance, spoke briefly at the luncheon, he reaffirmed the purpose of the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee.

"This committee of volunteers meets monthly to develop programs aimed at the prevention of delinquency in the Clarkston Community School District," he read from the annual report. "Our goal is directed toward building children's sense of self-worth, strengthening families through education, healthy recreation and counseling."

Also speaking was Judge Norman Barnard of the Oakland County Probate Court, who praised the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee as "one of the outstanding programs in Oakland County."

In 1986, the CAYAC counselor received 41 referrals and other consultative cases.

Judge Barnard praised the program, which he said helps many youths and hopefully spares them from going through the court system.

CAYAC also sent 76 children to Camp Oakland and Michigan Christian Youth Camp and provided financial aid to six students attending SCAMP and other church and special education camps in the 1986-87 year. Much of the money for the camp program is raised by an annual bowlathon.

"When you have so many programs aimed at prevention of delinquency, you never know how many lives we have touched," said Kenneth Leslie, who reported on the camping program.

Counseling and family education programs are other active areas of CAYAC.

Following the luncheon, which was prepared and served by United Methodist Women, a special presentation was made to CAYAC charter member, Rev. Alexander Stewart, who is retiring and moving from the area this fall.

Garry Pullins, child welfare worker with the Oakland County Probate Court Juvenile Division, is the one paid worker with CAYAC. He stressed the importance of volunteers and said they are always looking for more people to get involved.

The one sad note in the annual report was the loss of Al Carter, a long-time member of CAYAC and former chairman.

A memorial fund has been set up in his name, with money to go to the camp fund. Said Mallett, "Al's first love was camp."

Mallett introduced other CAYAC officers for 1987-88: Steve Himburg, vice chairman; Jackie Fromm, secretary; Kay Robertson, treasurer.

Hungry for sales?

A craft show with a different twist is the latest offering at the Springfield Oaks Activities Center on Andersonville Road at Hall Road in Springfield Township.

The Starving Artist Craft Show and sale is planned from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 4. Admission is $1.50.

The 65 exhibitors, selected from 100 entries, cannot sell anything for over $25.

"The idea is, I'm bringing in the best from the state," said Jan Sullivan, show promoter.

The show was fashioned after a popular craft show in Miamisburg, Ohio, she said.

There are many people with many complex problems in our community. There are sick, elderly, homeless people, teenage alcoholics and battered women and children - right in your neighborhood.

So once a year we ask you to give as generously as you can. Your United Way gift does more things for more people who really need help than any other single gift you can give.

Microwave-plus

Glorious afternoon

Betty Wagner

Thanks to Fred and Doreen Schwarze of Rudy's Market, I spent a glorious afternoon viewing and sampling specialty foods. Some of the foods lend themselves particularly well to microwave cooking.

Carousel Candies has introduced Apple Dipping Caramel. The caramel is packaged in a 20-ounce plastic container with microwave and traditional heating instructions.

No refrigeration is necessary and the contents can be reheated repeatedly. The idea is to heat the caramel in the tub, then simply dip in apples, apple chunks or marshmallows.

To create other yummys, drizzle melted caramel over sweet rolls, cakes and ice cream.

Chef Paul Prudhomme's representative, Dudley Passman from New Orleans, was cooking up samples of bronzed chicken. (I hadn't heard this term before.)

Bronzing is more suitable for home preparation than blackening as the former uses lower temperatures.

Here is my microwave version of Dudley's recipe.

BRONZED CHICKEN BREAST WITH VEGETABLES—Serves 4

- 1 chicken breast, boned, split and skinned
 - 2 tablespoons unsalted butter
 - Poultry Magic*
 - 1 cup cauliflower flowerettes
 - 1/2 red pepper, cut into strips or chunks
 - 1/2 yellow pepper, cut into strips or chunks
- Add butter to browning dish. Melt at high for 1 minute. Dip chicken pieces in butter, then coat with Poultry Magic. Set aside.

Preheat browning dish and remaining butter at high for 4 minutes. Place chicken pieces in browning dish, pressing down on each to make contact with bottom of dish.

Microwave at high for 2 minutes; turn and microwave (high) for 1 to 2 more minutes or until chicken is done.  Remove from dish.

Add cauliflower to browning dish. Cover; microwave at high for 2 minutes. Stir. Recover; microwave at high for 2 more minutes or until nearly tender crisp.

Stir in pepper strips; cover and microwave (high) for an additional minute.

Reheat chicken breasts, if necessary, at 80 percent power for 30 to 45 seconds. Arrange chicken pieces, cauliflower and peppers on two plates.

Serve with buttered, colored pasta or red skinned potatoes for extra color.

*Poultry Magic, a product of Chef Paul Prudhomme, can be found at many meat counters.

Some people are concerned about eating chicken. Chicken needs to be cooked to 180 degrees F throughout. Check with a quick-reading thermometer or be sure flesh is no longer pink. Then enjoy!

OTHER FINDS AT THE SHOW:

- ~Weight Watchers microwave popcorn with 1 gram of fat.
- ~To go along with the popcorn, you may choose Molly McButter, all natural butter flavor sprinkles at one-fourth the calories of butter or margarine. Molly is also delicious sprinkled on a micro-baked potato.

OTHER INTERESTING SHOW PRODUCTS, not necessarily microwavable:

- ~Sans Sucre de Paris--sugar free cheesecake mousse--loved by my husband, Ron.
- ~Sweet'Low Lite Pancake Mix.
- ~Familia, Genuine Swiss Muesli--A dry cereal that I fell in love with in Ireland.
- ~Da Vinci's Alfredo & Pesto Pasta Sauce.
- ~Cincinnati Recipe Chili Mix and Hook & Ladder Chili.
- ~Try Me's Tiger Sauce and Original Gourmet concentrated Barbeque Sauce, a sauce base designed for you to add some of your own ingredients.
- ~Devonsheer's Garden Fresh Vegetable Toast--use as a base for mini microwave pizzas.
- ~Hodgson Mill's 13 Bean Soup Mix and whole grain mixes and pastas and dry yeast.
- ~Quibell's bottled in America Mineral Spring Water--a product dear to my heart as it comes from high up in the "Appalachians of Wild and Wonderful West Virginia," my birth state.
- ~Vitari, a creamy frozen fruit treat that is 99 percent fruit and juice.
- ~Celestial Seasoning's After Dinner Tea, Amaretto Nights.

David Kwasnick

I'm sorry to say
That today,
My column is not here.

This week's been tough
(Too much homework and stuff)
However, do not fear.

Next week there will be,
For all to see,
Something you won't want to miss.

And, may I add,
That you'll be glad,
It's not a poem as lousy as this.

Board of Education
Clarkston Community Schools

We have examined the general purpose financial statements of Clarkston Community Schools as of and for the year ended June 30, 1987, as listed in the table of contents. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The general purpose financial statements referred to above do not include the General Fixed Assets Account Group, which should be included to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. The amount that should be recorded in the General Fixed Assets Account Group is not known.

In our opinion, except for the effect on the financial statements of the omission described in the preceding paragraph, the general purpose financial statements referred to above present fairly the financial position of Clarkston Community Schools at June 30, 1987 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

REPORTING ENTITY - The accompanying general purpose financial statements have been prepared in accordance with criteria established by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board for determining the various governmental organizations to be included in the reporting entity. These criteria include oversight responsibility, scope of public service and special financing relationships.

FUND ACCOUNTING - The accounts of the District are organized on the basis of funds and account groups, each of which is considered a separate accounting entity. The operations of each fund are accounted for with a separate set of self-balancing accounts that comprise its assets, liabilities, fund balance, revenues and expenditures. Government resources are allocated to and accounted for in individual funds based upon the purposes for which they are to be spent and the means by which spending activities are controlled. The various funds are grouped, in the combined financial statements in this report, into generic fund types in two broad fund categories as follows:

GOVERNMENTAL FUNDS - Governmental funds are those funds through which most school district functions typically are financed. The acquisition, use and balances of the School District's expendable financial resources and the related current liabilities are accounted for through governmental funds.

General Fund - The General Fund is used to record the general operations of the School District pertaining to education and those operations not provided for in other funds. Included are all transactions related to the approved current operating budget.

Special Revenue Funds - Special Revenue Funds are used to account for the proceeds of specific revenue sources that are restricted to expenditure for specified purposes. Included in the District's Special Revenue Funds are the following:

Northwest Oakland County Vocational Center Fund - The Northwest Oakland County Vocational Center Fund is administered by the Clarkston Community Schools under an agreement with the Oakland County Intermediate School District and is used to record all transactions of the Center for vocational education purposes.

School Service Funds - The School Service Funds are used to segregate, for administrative purposes, the transactions of a particular activity from regular revenue and expenditure accounts. The School District maintains full control of these funds. The School Service Funds maintained by the School District are the Food Services and the Athletic Funds. The annual operating surplus or deficit generated by the Athletic Fund is transferred to or from the General Fund.

Maintenance, Equipment and Repair Fund - The Maintenance, Equipment and Repair Fund is used to segregate, for administrative purposes, expenditures related to major repairs and improvements to existing buildings and equipment. No expenditures for new construction are made from this fund.

Debt Retirement Funds - The Debt Retirement Funds are used to record tax and interest revenue and the payment of interest, principal and other expenses on long-term debt.

Building and Site Funds - Building and Site Funds are used to record bond proceeds or other revenue and the disbursement of monies specifically designated for acquiring new school sites, buildings, equipment and for major remodeling and repairs. The funds are kept open until the purpose for which the fund was created has been accomplished.

FIDUCIARY FUNDS - Fiduciary funds are used to account for assets held by the School District in a trustee capacity or as an agent. Agency funds are custodial in nature (assets equal liabilities) and do not involve measurement of results of operations.

Activities (Agency) Fund - The School District presently maintains an Activities Fund to record the transactions of student groups for school and school-related purposes. The funds are segregated and held in trust for the students.

ACCOUNT GROUPS - Account groups are not funds - they do not reflect available financial resources and related liabilities or the measurement of results of operations - but are the District's accounting records of the general long-term debt. The General Long-term Debt Account Group is used to record the School District's outstanding bonded debt, long-term notes payable and other noncurrent obligations of the School District.

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING - Governmental funds and the Agency Fund utilize the modified-accrual basis of accounting.

CLARKSTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 1987

Modifications in such method from the accrual basis are as follows:

- a. Property taxes and other revenue are recognized in the accounting period when they become measurable and available to finance operations.

Properties are assessed as of December 31 and the related property taxes are levied and become a lien on July 1 for approximately 50 percent of the taxes which are due September 15 and December 1 for the remainder of the property taxes which are due on February 14. The final collection date is February 28 after which they are added to the county tax rolls. Other revenue is recorded when received.

- b. Principal and interest on general long-term debt is not recorded as an expenditure until its due date.

- c. The noncurrent portion of vested sick and accumulated vacation days and self-insured liabilities are reflected in the General Long-term Debt Account Group.

CASH EQUIVALENT INVESTMENTS - Cash equivalent investments are stated at cost. See Note 3 for additional investment information.

INVENTORIES - Inventory in the General Fund, consisting of teaching and gasoline supplies purchased for the 1987-88 school year, is stated at cost. The School Service Funds' inventory consists of food and supplies and is stated at cost. Disbursements for other inventory-type items are recorded as expenditures at the time of purchase.

GENERAL FIXED ASSETS - General fixed assets are recorded as expenditures in the General, Special Revenue or Building and Site Funds in the year payment is made or expenditure accrued.

LONG-TERM LIABILITIES - Long-term liabilities expected to be financed from governmental funds are accounted for in the General Long-term Debt Account Group, not in the governmental funds.

ELIMINATIONS - The total data presented in the combined financial statements is the aggregate of the data for all the fund types and account group shown on each of the respective statements. No consolidating or other eliminations were made in arriving at the totals; therefore, they do not represent consolidated information.

NOTE 2 - BUDGETS

The School District formally adopted and amended General, Building and Site, Debt Retirement, Maintenance, Equipment and Repair, Food Services, Athletic and Northwest Oakland County Vocational Center Funds' budgets by function for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1987. The budget information presented on the combined statement of revenues, expenditures and changes in fund balances - budget and actual is the final budget adopted. The Special Revenue Funds' budget information on page 4 of the financial statements is a summarization of detailed budget information adopted.

NOTE 3 - CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENT INVESTMENTS

The School District's cash and cash equivalent investments at June 30, 1987 are composed of the following:

	CASH	CASH EQUIVALENT INVESTMENTS
Deposits in interest-bearing accounts	$ -	$1,702,154
Investments	-	850,000
Petty cash and cash on hand	2,500	-
Total	$2,500	$2,052,154

DEPOSITS - The above deposits were reflected in the accounts of the bank (without recognition of checks written but not yet cleared or of deposits in transit) at $1,765,633. Of that amount, $200,157 was covered by federal depository insurance coverage and $1,565,476 was uninsured and uncollateralized.

The School District believes that due to the dollar amounts of cash deposits and the limits of FDIC insurance, it is impractical to insure all bank deposits. As a result, the School District evaluates each financial institution it deposits School District funds with and assesses the level of risk of each institution; only those institutions with an acceptable estimated risk level are used as depositories.

INVESTMENTS - The School District is authorized by Michigan Public Acts 217 and 367 of 1982 to invest surplus monies in U.S. bonds and notes, certain commercial paper, U.S. government repurchase agreements, bankers' acceptances and mutual funds and investment pools that are composed of authorized investment vehicles. The School District's investments are categorized below to give an indication of the level of risk assumed by the entity at June 30, 1987.

Risk Category 1 includes those investments that meet any one of the following criterion:

- a) insured, or
b) registered, or
c) held by the School District or its agent in the School District's name.

Investments that do not meet the above criterion would be uninsured, unregistered and held by the broker's or dealer's trust department or agent. Risk Category 2 includes such investments that are held in the School District's name; Risk Category 3 includes such investments that are not held in the School District's name.

	CATEGORY			CARRYING AMOUNT	MARKET VALUE
Commercial paper	$850,000	$ -	$ -	$850,000	$850,000

CLARKSTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 1987

NOTE 5 - LAND CONTRACT RECEIVABLE

The District sold land for $215,000 in a prior year. This land had been purchased by the Building and Site Fund and financed through proceeds from a 1958 bond issue. All debt related to the purchase of the land had been paid off prior to the sale of the land. Terms of the contract dated May 16, 1986, included a $40,000 downpayment, monthly interest payments of $1,604 and a balloon principal payment of $175,000 due May 16, 1989.

The District has recorded the sale in the Building and Site Fund. The District has recorded deferred revenue equal to the land contract receivable.

NOTE 6 - WORKERS' COMPENSATION CLAIMS

The School District is partially uninsured for workers' compensation claims. Under the plan, the School District's maximum loss is limited to an amount equal to a percentage of the normal workers' compensation premiums. Losses in excess of this limitation are insured up to an aggregate limit of $3,000,000. At June 30, 1987, the School District has $20,000 in the General Long-term Debt Account Group for claims filed but not yet paid. The difference between the amount computed at rates ranging from 95 percent to 135 percent of the normal premium and the payments actually made or accrued for claims filed represents the exposure of the School District to future claims for past liabilities. That exposure approximates $872,000 at June 30, 1987.

NOTE 7 - INTERFUND RECEIVABLES AND PAYABLES

FUND DUE TO	FUND DUE FROM
	FOOD SERVICES	DEBT RETIREMENT	TOTALS

Northwest Oakland County	67,312	-	67,312

NOTE 8 - RETIREMENT PLAN

Substantially all school district employees are covered by the Michigan Public School Employees' Retirement System. The District is required to contribute a fixed percentage, as determined for all districts by the State of Michigan, of gross wages of the participants to the Retirement Fund. The District's contribution to the plan for the year was approximately $728,000. Information as to the actuarially computed value of vested benefits as compared to plan assets is not determined on a district basis by the Retirement System. The State of Michigan is responsible for the adequacy of funded contributions and payment of benefits.

Rain or shine, 27 employees were on the job

For perfect attendance last year, 27 employees were honored by the Clarkston school board. Applause followed the reading of the names at the Sept. 21 meeting.

INDY ARRIVED on a train from Maryland.

A hobo no more

This 6 1/2-month-old husky mix arrived in town on a train from Maryland, huddled hungry and thin in a freight car.

But he's been nurtured and groomed, and now he's ready to prove he can be a good housepet instead of a hobo.

Indy, as the blue-eyed puppy is called, is housebroken and responds to commands such as no and come. He appears intelligent and would be easy to train to further commands.

Indy can be adopted at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The adoption fee for Indy is $25 plus a $25 neuter fee.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY Spirit. Holy spirit. You make me see everything and show me the way to reach my ideals. You give me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrongs that are done to me and you are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you, and my loved ones, in your perpetual glory. Amen. Persons must pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking for your wish. After the 3rd day your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then, promise to publish this dialogue as soon as your favor has been granted. Thanks St. Jude for favors received. Past ministers to join in party

Ogden donated $700—a lot of money at that time, says Helen.

On July 14, 1947, the church was struck by lightning during an electrical storm and it burned to the ground, she says. Everything was destroyed.

The present church was built in 1949, with the same basic floor plan as the previous churches, she says.

Some of the changes include the Parsons Room, a fitting name for the pastor's office built with money donated by the Parson family; the modern spacious kitchen in the basement where the turkeys will roast for the harvest dinner; two bathrooms; a nursery; and the large dining room, now decorated with drawings by the Sunday School children celebrating the 150th birthday.

Helen is comfortable in the church setting. She points out the areas where church members lovingly labored to make the building better.

Nine women worked on a quilted wall hanging; a member who is an electrician wired the building for lights and sound; many men finished the interior and laid the carpet and painted the walls. One woman donated the stained glass windows.

A poster on the wall says "Our Babies" and is a cradle roll. "That's our future church," says Helen.

"We're a small church, an old-fashioned church," she says. "We're not rich. But we're proud of it."

"It's been a struggle. It's hard because it's slow. But good things come slow, and sometimes they last longer."

The 150th birthday celebration is planned at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 11. Some of the 10 living past ministers will join the present minister, the Rev. Scott A. Harper in the celebration, and a tea reception by the United Methodist Women will follow.
