Good voter turnout expected Monday

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

If absentee ballots are any indication, there will be a good voter turnout for the June 13 school election in Clarkston.

According to Independence Township Deputy Clerk Rosemary Howey, 140 absentee ballots had been taken out by Friday, June 3.

"For a school election, that is quite a bit," she said.

Voters who are unable to vote in person on election day can still get an absentee ballot at the Independence Township Hall. They can get a ballot by phone by requesting that an application for an absentee ballot be sent (which must be signed and returned). Or, they can appear at the township hall to request a ballot.

Absentee ballots must be picked up in person, and will be available until June 11. As with any election, the Independence Township Hall will be open between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. the Saturday before the election, but ballots must be returned no later than Monday, June 13, before the polls close.

The polls will be open on Monday, June 13, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., when voters will decide the fate of a 5.5 mill tax increase and a $5.2 million bond issue, as well as elect two school board members from a field of eight candidates. Also on the ballot are 13 candidates for two posts as Oakland Community College trustee.

Clarkston school district residents who reside in Independence Township will vote at their usual precincts. School district residents who reside in Springfield and White Lake townships will vote at Andersonville Elementary School. Those in Waterford Township will vote at Clarkston High School, Precinct 4.

"There is a tremendous amount of citizen effort (involved in this election) in an attempt to bring the issues out," said Clarkston Superintendent Milford Mason. "Everyone has done a super job in creating awareness of the need. I hope for the sake of children and the welfare of the schools that it will be a positive effort."

The 5.5-mill increase is for operating purposes at Clarkston schools. The bond issue is a request for permission to borrow $5,200,000 for repairs to school buildings. (See stories on Page 2.)

The eight candidates for the two four-year terms on the Clarkston Board of Education are: Karen E. Foyteck, Thomas L. Howard, Sheila J. Hughes, John H. Needham, Thomas Sokolnicki, Dwight Spiker, Paul Van Klaveren and Robert Wyatt. Needham is currently on the school board. The other current member whose term will expire is Thomas Bills. He is not seeking re-election.

Candidates on cable

Voters in Independence Township and Clarkston who have cable-TV can tune in Channel 65 Friday, June 10, at 6 p.m. and watch the Clarkston School Board Candidates Forum that took place last week.

The eight candidates vying on the June 13 ballot for the two four-year terms answered questions from audience members during the forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters of the Clarkston area (LMV-C).

"It just worked out extremely well. We were very pleased," said Betty Sans, LMV-C voter service coordinator with Patricia Rowe.

Voters who watch the program will be armed with better knowledge, she said. "It gives them a chance to be informed voters, (and) it gave the candidates an opportunity to express their viewpoints."

After eight years of serving as one of four Independence Township trustees, Dale Stuart has decided to call it quits.

"Frankly, I'm tired of being the only board member concerned about spending," said Stuart, using the word "frustrating" to describe his last four-year term.

"By what I could tell from the information in the community, it didn't look like any full-time official was going to be running opposed. ... I could not see that there would be any major improvement.

"This board, particularly under the administration of Tink Ronk, has spent money foolishly. ... This full-time administration has tried to run the township without the board."

But the community members don't seem concerned, he said.

"I don't know if it's apathy or what it is. There just needs to be more fiscal restraint in the community," he said.

Since the full-time officials are running unopposed, that gives them a message to continue running the township in the same way, he said.

"There's no reason for them to have restraint anymore. I'm concerned about the community, but I can't do it alone. ... I have run before because I felt my presence on the board might slow this down."

Giving examples of areas in need of improvement, Stuart cited past wage increases when data supporting an increase either wasn't available or went unheeded, and when bid procedures were violated possibly leading to higher costs or to being unfair to business people.

"It was not an easy decision (to quit). ... I just made up my mind it was not worth my time to do this," he said.

Stuart plans to continue with his Waterford Township law practice and might consider returning to the political arena in the future, he said.

5.5-mill increase on June 13 ballot

On June 13, voters will be asked to approve a 5.5 mill tax increase for Clarkston schools' operational expenses (such as staff salaries, classroom supplies and textbooks).

The wording on the ballot will be:

"Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Clarkston Community Schools, Oakland County, Michigan, be increased by 5.5 mills ($5.50 on each $1,000) on state equalized valuation for a period of 3 years, 1988, 1989 and 1990, to provide additional funds for operating purposes?"

For a homeowner with property assessed at $50,000 (which would be a home with a value of about $100,000, because the assessed value is one-half the market value), the 5.5 mills would raise the annual tax bill by $275, or 75 cents a day.

If that same homeowner qualifies for state and federal income tax credits (as over half of Michigan families do), the net cost would be less. For instance, if the income for the above homeowner is $68,500 or less, the cost of the tax increase after state relief and federal deductions would be between $33 and $77 per year.

If the millage passes, the school district would adopt Plan B, which restores programs and staff members to the 1986-87 level. This would mean reinstatement of approximately 35 teaching staff members and about a dozen non-instructional staff members, smaller classes, full school days (six-hour days at the high school and seven hours at the junior highs), plus full academic and student activity programs.

If the millage fails, the district will go to Plan A, which would keep all teacher and staff cuts made this spring in force.

It would shorten the school days by one hour, eliminate all extracurricular activities for high school and junior high school students, including sports. It would also eliminate band, drama, chorus, and all student activities such as student council at the high school. It would eliminate the SEARCH substance abuse program and half the counselors at the high school.

At the elementary level, it would eliminate music, physical education, foreign language, computer keyboarding, gifted program and reading support. It would also close the school media centers except for one day a week.

At all levels, further cuts would be necessary, including lack of textbook updating and fewer teaching supplies.

Bond issue sought for school repairs

If the $5.2 million bond issue is approved in the Clarkston school election, money will be used to cover safety code violations and major maintenance needs in the district, including major roof repairs in every building.

On the ballot, the bond issue will read:

"Shall Clarkston Community Schools, Oakland County, Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed Five Million Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($5,200,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefor, for the purpose of partially remodeling, partially re-equipping and improving existing school facilities and their sites?"

The bond would be repaid over 16 years. The rate for taxpayers the first year would be about 1/2 mill because it covers a portion of the year. The first-year cost for a homeowner with a $50,000 assessed valuation would be $25. In subsequent years, the rate is not expected to exceed .93 mill. For the same homeowner, the annual cost would then be $46.50 or less.

Corrections

The Clarkston Junior High School honor roll should have included the following names: ninth grade, Shannon Wiltse; seventh grade, Jill Studebaker; sixth grade, Nicholas Bielak.

The cutline beneath a Memorial Day Parade picture on Page 19 in last week's edition should have identified the marchers as members of Camp Fire.

CHS students speak out on election

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

During a drama production at Clarkston High School, students stepped over buckets backstage that were catching drips from leaking pipes.

When it rains, it is not uncommon at CHS and other Clarkston schools for students to circumnavigate buckets in halls and classrooms due to leaking roofs.

It is also not uncommon for students to share desks and books in overcrowded classrooms, or to stand in line for hours to see an overworked counselor, according to seven CHS students who called a press conference to let

"I thought it was wonderful when I came here from a smaller school and had all the extracurricular activities. It is very discouraging to think it will be taken away again."

Marie Powell

the public know why the upcoming school election is so important to their futures and the futures of all Clarkston students.

On June 13, voters in the Clarkston school district will decide the fate of a 5.5 mill increase that will bring Clarkston schools back to full days, smaller classes and a good range of academic and extra-curricular offerings.

Voters will also decide the fate of a $5.2 million bond issue, most of which is necessary just to cover safety code violations and make necessary repairs at aging buildings, such as roof repairs at virtually every school in the district.

The seven students who faced the press last Wednesday were members of "D-Bug" (Dr. Burek's Unity Group, which formed after a leadership conference that CHS Principal Dr. Robert Burek led last August), members of CHS Student Council, honor roll students and young adults who were active in the millage campaign.

They spoke not for any particular special interest group, but of the plight of all students in Clarkston.

"Foreign language classes have a lot more students, the interest is up," said Brian Rigonan. "Now, with the reduction in teachers and increase in class size, classes are too big for teachers to help individual students."

It is hard to hear, and hard to learn, he said.

"People are sharing books," added Jim Huttenlocher.

Another student, Marie Powell, said, "My French class has 35 people. It takes 10 to 15 minutes just to pass back papers."

"And in history, which is a required class, three people did not have desks at the beginning (of the semester)," added Kevin Ortwine.

Kirsten Kuehl pointed out that counselors have 400 students each. "If the millage doesn't pass, there will be 800 students per counselor, which will make it impossible to see one," she said.

"If the millage doesn't pass, their main job will be scheduling," added Huttenlocher.

"And if the millage doesn't pass, we are going to a five-hour day," pointed out Jami Lerner. She said it wouldn't be a matter of which elective to take, but how to schedule all the required classes.

"It will hurt our college preparation," added Powell.

And what will also hurt their college prep, Kuehl noted, is that the high school could lose its North Central accreditation. But if the millage passes, she added, advanced placement classes are planned for the curriculum.

"Marie and I both moved here at the same time and one of the reasons was a good education," Kuehl said.

"I thought it was wonderful when I came here from a smaller school and had all the extracurricular activities," Powell added. "It is very discouraging to think it will be taken away again."

Dane Davis said, "I hear a lot of people talk about transferring if the millage doesn't pass."

"The main thing is, if it doesn't pass, we'll lose

RAHI RAHI: CHS cheerleaders lead cheers to "vote yes" in the June 13 millage election at a kick-off rally in May. In the foreground are everything we've gained," said Huttenlocher.

And when you lose drama or music, "you cut out a full range of kids" at the high school, Kuehl said.

"We'll have teachers teaching minors they haven't taught in years because of switching teachers around," Rigonan added.

"You lose student council and all the activities it sponsors," Davis said.

"I think the school spirit will go down immensely," Kuehl added.

But it wasn't just athletics, extracurricular activities, or college prep academics that the students were concerned with. Huttenlocher noted that with only a five-hour day and 21 credits needed to graduate, it would not leave any slack for students who might fail a class or want to drop a class that didn't work out.

"You need every single credit you can take just to graduate," he said. "If you failed a class, you would have to go to summer school."

On the bond issue, the students described "cracks and drafts and leaking roofs" in deteriorating buildings.

No matter how good the education, Lerner said, building conditions like this take away from it.

To those who would vote no in the upcoming election, the students say, think twice, even if they don't have kids in school.

"It may sound corny, but we're the future leaders," said Kuehl.

"Education is the cornerstone," Rigonan added. "The whole community will suffer if (the millage) doesn't pass."

School funding is a statewide problem, they all said, and people should contact their state legislators to let them know their dissatisfaction with the system the way it is.

"People hear rumors, but don't know the facts," Powell said.

What people don't know is what they, the students, experience every day because of the budget crunch.

"The millage is basically for the kids and the kids need it," Rigonan said.

Will it pass? Rigonan said, "If (people) get the straight facts, I can't see how it won't."

"When it didn't pass before, only 36 percent of the yes voters showed up and it only lost by 239 votes," Ortwine said. So his message, and the message of all seven students at the press conference last Wednesday was: "Get out and vote."

"It doesn't just affect education," Lerner added. "It affects the overall quality of life."

Ronk part of group studying $25 fee

A proposed $25 vehicle registration fee would bring revenue for road improvements back to the communities of origin if approved by voters in the Aug. 2 primary election.

Independence Township Supervisor Frank Ronk is one of eight officials chosen by their peers to work with the Oakland County Road Commission to determine how much revenue would be generated in each community.

Ronk is one of four supervisors selected by the Oakland County Association of Township Supervisors to study the proposal, approved by the Oakland County Road Commission earlier this year. Four city managers were selected by the Oakland City Management Association.

The task is difficult in so short a time because the Secretary of State offices don't classify registrations by townships, said Ronk, adding they would start categorizing them into townships if voters approve the fee.

All the money from fees charged for registration of Independence Township vehicles would return to the township, less an undetermined administration fee of about 3 or 4 percent, he said.

While he has no estimates of the expected revenue for Independence Township, Ronk said the money could be used for townshipwide chloriding (without resident contributions) or the paving of some main roads. The possible projects would be prioritized by township officials and officials from the road commission, he said.

Ronk said he is unsure how voters will act on the issue because, while it would benefit more rural townships with lots of gravel roads such as Independence, residents are not in favor of paying more money.

"Our roads here are down to the point where we need some kind of supplemental funding," he said. "Most of the people around here say if we can do this without a millage, fine."

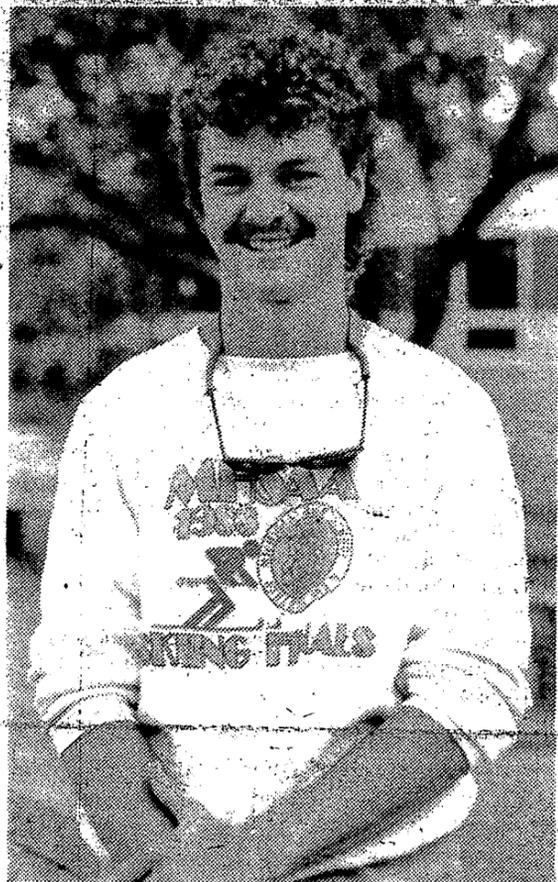

Beach lifeguard has a memorable Monday

BY JULIE CAMPE
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

Michael St. Charles Jr. doesn't consider himself a hero, but the 31-year-old man he saved from drowning on Memorial Day might think differently.

The Clarkston High School senior was one of four lifeguards on duty that day at Independence Oaks County Park, when he saw a man thrashing in the water about 50 yards in front of him.

"It looked like something was dragging him under," said Michael.

MICHAEL ST. CHARLES JR. is head lifeguard at Independence Oaks County Park, Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

A split second after Michael saw the trouble, he was in action.

"It was automatic. I hit the siren, jumped down, grabbed the surfboard and went out," he said. "I got out to him. He went below the surface for a few seconds. I grabbed him and flipped the board over (with the victim on top)."

When he and the 200-pound man reached the shore, there was a lot of spitting because the victim had swallowed a lot of water, Michael said. Plus, he had muscle spasms in his leg, so Michael massaged it until the fire department arrived four minutes later.

"I just calmed him down and had him lay down," he said.

In his two years of lifeguarding, it was the first near-drowning he was involved with.

"That was the first chance I had to go in the water all weekend. It was hot. The water was cold, but I never felt it," he said, and he was relieved when it was over.

"I never really knew how I was going to react when something came up," he said. "To me it was perfect. The other guards did what they were supposed to do (controlled the crowd and cleared the water)."

Every day at Independence Oaks, the guards do physical fitness activities - running and swimming. They're trained to react automatically, so his actions just came to him without a second thought.

The significance hit him later: "An hour-and-a-half after, I had trouble breathing, and I was shaking," he said.

But after all was over, he felt "great," Michael said. "It's all worth it."

The 18-year-old Whipple Shores Drive resident works 40 hours a week at the park, in addition to finishing his final year in high school. He's saving his money to pay for school at Oakland University, Rochester, where he plans to study journalism or advertising next fall.

He likes snow skiing, water skiing, fishing and guitar, but he especially likes swimming.

"I've lived on the lake all my life. I was born in the water," he said. "My mom said my first swimming lesson was at 18 months."

Wait-and-see agenda for board

The annual budget hearing for Clarkston Community Schools is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday, June 13, just prior to the board of education's regularly scheduled meeting at the administrative offices, 6389 Clarkston Rd.

At the regular 8 p.m. school board meeting, Superintendent Milford Mason said it will be a "wait and see" sort of evening.

June 13 is also election day, and polls are open until 8 p.m. Before results come in, the board will approve contracts for an addition to Clarkston Elementary School for the Oakland Intermediate School District-funded autistic program which will serve all northern Oakland County school districts.

The employee recognition program, a regular agenda item, will also take place.

But after that, most of the business depends on the outcome of the election, which may not be known until after 9 p.m.

Once election results are in, the board will set the millage rate for operational purposes and the debt bond. They will accept bids for three special education and three regular school buses. They will also adopt the school budget for the 1988-89 school year.

If the millage is successful, most of the teachers who were laid off will be recalled. If the millage is not successful, a few teachers will still be recalled, due to unanticipated resignations and retirements.

Leave them alone

Interfering with any wild animal can harm both people and animals. And when humans try to raise a wild animal, they often do more harm than good.

"People are poor substitutes for wildlife parents," said Kathy Thomas, assistant naturalist at the Independence Oaks Nature Center. She emphasized that it is better not to disturb the natural wildlife cycle.

A well-meaning human may be injured by a frightened, hurt animal. Dangers include contracting rabies, roundworm or other diseases.

The naturalists at the Independence Oaks Nature Center are happy to advise people who find baby animals. Call them at 625-6473.

Injured animals can also be taken to the nearest wildlife branch of The Michigan Humane Society.

Monday, two girls in a truck ran into a fence on Ennismore, Independence Township, and left before the owner could talk to them.

Tuesday, a $300 Fiberglass paddle boat was stolen from Andersonville Road, Independence Township.

Tuesday, a deputy shot and killed an injured deer that had been hit by a vehicle on Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

Tuesday, four tires worth $2,000 were stolen from a vehicle and $500 worth of windows were broken on two other vehicles at Bowman Chevrolet, Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

Wednesday, a $150 radar detector was stolen from a vehicle at Cherry Hill Lanes North, Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

Wednesday, a $750 welder was stolen from a garage on Mann Road, Independence Township.

Wednesday, a car overheated and burped on Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

Wednesday, a vehicle window was smashed and an $80 set of golf clubs stolen from the Sportsman's Bar, Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

Thursday, a vehicle window was damaged by a pellet or BB gun in Alexander's Restaurant parking lot, Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

Thursday, an $85 bicycle was stolen from Oak Park Street, Independence Township.

Friday, a $100 equalizer was stolen from a vehicle on Thendara, Independence Township.

Friday, someone threw a pop bottle at a vehicle on South Main Street, Clarkston, and broke the window.

Friday, deputies broke up a loud street party on Holcomb Road, Springfield Township. Alcoholic beverages were found in several cars, and two carloads of teens were told to go home. Four teens fled the scene on foot, leaving a van belonging to the parents of one of the teens. The parents, who were awakened by the deputy's phone call, were asked to pick up the van so it wouldn't be impounded.

Friday, two $65 video cassettes, "Strike Force" and "Beverly Hills Cop II," not returned by residents in Springfield Township and in Holly, were reported stolen from Papa's Pizza, Dixie Highway, Springfield Township.

Saturday, a $30 mailbox was damaged on Allen Road, Independence Township.

Sunday, a 17-year-old Independence Township teen received a ticket for possession of alcohol on Misty Hill, Independence Township.

Sunday, two $200 stereos were stolen from two vehicles on Shappie, Independence Township.

The above information was compiled from reports filed at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Rollover on I-75

A 59-year-old Chicago man was seriously injured June 6 when the truck he was driving rolled over on I-75, Independence Township.

About 2:20 p.m. Monday, David D. Andrews was driving through the construction zone on southbound I-75 just south of M-15 when the right rear wheels of his truck trailer went off the pavement, causing him to lose control of the vehicle and roll over, according to witnesses' statements in reports at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Andrews, who was wearing a seat belt at the time of the accident, was in stable condition June 7 at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Alcohol was not a factor, and no other vehicles were involved, according to the police report.

Many voters are expected Monday

Positions on the Clarkston Board of Education are part time. Regular meetings are scheduled the second Monday of each month, and special meetings are scheduled as needed. Board members are paid $30 per meeting, not to exceed 52 meetings a year.

The 13 candidates for two six-year Oakland Community College Board of Trustee positions are: Richard A. Blonde, Rochester Hills; James A. Doyon, Madison Heights; Edith L. Gonzales, Troy; David W. Hackett, Rochester Hills; Hurticene Hardaway-Shepherd, Pontiac; Michael R. Lewis, West Bloomfield; Ralph V. Maranda, Brandon Township; David Walker Meldman, Novi; Thomas S. Nelson, Pontiac; Ben E. Pearlman, Bloomfield Township; Gene P. Stanley, Pontiac; Lucius Theus, Bloomfield Township; Marcia Van Creveld, Farmington Hills.

Trustees for the five-campus college are elected on an at-large, non-partisan basis by voters living within the OCC college district, an area that includes Independence and Springfield townships. They are not paid for their service.

'If it Fitz ...'

Taken for a ride

Jim Fitzgerald

Remember the New Baltimore man whose stolen, partially stripped car was ticketed three straight days for illegal parking after the thief abandoned it on a Detroit street - and the cops said he had to pay the tickets? Update: What we have here is just one more example of how some government bureaucracies drive citizens crazy.

Patrick Stanley's 1987 Chevrolet disappeared from Greektown Sunday afternoon, April 24. He immediately reported the theft at the nearby First (Central) Precinct at Detroit Police Headquarters.

Four days later, he received a phone call from a private security officer who'd seen the car parked near Rivard and Warren. He'd had no trouble getting Stanley's identification from inside the car because a window was broken, the ignition smashed and the radio ripped out of the dashboard.

Any idiot could see it was a stolen, burglarized car. But there were three parking tickets under the windshield wiper, written on three different days by the same officer of the Municipal Parking Department.

Which poses questions the victim of the crime might well scream: Why in God's name didn't that officer, instead of writing the tickets, note the damage to the car and check to see if it was reported stolen? Don't the parking cops talk to the car-theft cops?

Why didn't the parking cop at least do what the security officer so easily did - notify Stanley where his car was? If the private officer hadn't done what the city officer wouldn't do, would Stanley's car still be parked illegally, getting a ticket a day?

Those are fair questions. Helen Irving, director of the Municipal Parking Department, has access to the name of the officer who issued those incredible tickets. She also has my phone number. I'd be pleased to publish her answers to those fair questions. (I'd also be tickled to report her explanation of why her department's deputy director, Frazier Kimpson, waited until March 1988 before paying $859 he owed on parking tickets dating back to June 1982. What a hoot.)

For Patrick Stanley, the frustration continues. I'd assured him one phone call would clear up the nonsense about his having to pay those tickets. Surely the City of Detroit, ever concerned with its public image, wouldn't treat a crime victim so roughly.

Big joke. The parking department's violations bureau told Stanley it would "investigate" his case if he supplied a copy of the stolen vehicle and recovery reports on his Chevrolet, which he could obtain from the First Precinct. The First Precinct told him to contact the records department. The records department told him to call another section.

Finally, Stanley was told he'd have to come to headquarters and pay $2 if he wanted proof his car was stolen and recovered.

"Great," Stanley told me. "I can go downtown and have my car stolen again (it's happened three times so far). Maybe I should take a cab."

Obviously, it would be less hassle to simply pay the stupid tickets. But Stanley is persisting. He made the trip and paid the $2 and, two weeks ago, sent the record copies to the parking department.

Now he's waiting while, assumably, the Great Investigation is under way. Did Stanley lie to the parking department, or was his car really stolen and abandoned in the path of a dedicated, but possibly slightly dumb, parking officer? I wonder how many investigators the violations bureau has assigned to the great mystery?

Another question for the crime victim to scream: Why in God's name didn't someone in the parking department simply phone someone in the car-theft department and ask if Stanley's car was reported stolen and stripped before it was ticketed three straight days?

And, upon receiving a yes answer, why didn't someone tell Stanley to forget the tickets, it was bad enough his car was stolen, and he shouldn't have to suffer any more grief?

Why? Because the job of too many government bureaucracies is to drive citizens crazy, not give them efficient service for their tax money.

Why I'm voting yes

Letters, we get letters, we get stacks and stacks of letters. Dear Perry, would you be so kind to fill my request and sing the song I like best?

Some people memorize poetry; others remember excerpts from great works of literature. Me? Out of nowhere, jungles, ditties and slogans pop into my stream of consciousness.

The one above introduced a weekly segment of the Perry Como Show on old-time TV. It kept running through my head as an astonishing number of letters floated into The Clarkston News office this week regarding the school election coming up June 13.

I believe that the schools need the money desperately, and I am 100 percent behind the 5.5 mill tax request and the $5.2 million bond issue that are on the Monday, June 13, Clarkston school district election ballot.

If you believe in hokey sayings, "Save Our Schools" would be appropriate in Clarkston's case.

One of the most upsetting things about this millage campaign and the two before has been listening to the attacks on board of education members.

In my job at The Clarkston News, I observed and wrote about school boards for eight years. This particular board is well balanced well balanced and caring. They have given a great deal in time and effort trying to maintain and improve education in Clarkston schools during some difficult times.

I've watched them agonize — sometimes for endless hours — over difficult decisions. I've attended study sessions as well as board meetings — and I'm absolutely certain there is no other citizen who is not employed by the school district or who does not sit on the board itself who has been to as many meetings as I.

I have seen a great deal of unfair criticism during public hearings, which the board opted to hold to find out what the residents of the district had on their minds.

Frankly, I think Clarkston is lucky to have a board it can trust.

It is significant that a letter from the board is part of the pages of letters in this week's edition. We have a good board, an honest board, and if they say the money is needed, they are telling the truth.

Vote yes — and feel good about it. You'll be supporting a vital part of what must be done to take care of today — and tomorrow.

We live in a conflicting society.

A friend of mine, he owns a small tool company, was wondering why one of his salesmen had so many cancellations of luncheon meetings with buyers in the Big 3.

So, Duane called 'em. "Your man doesn't drink, doesn't smoke and just eats vegetables. Who wants to go to lunch with a guy like that?"

Duane fired him. That's the way it is in the real world. Bunky!

I haven't had enough experience yet in talking in public about our new granddaughter. I made the comment recently to Edith Kalohn that Karen was the most beautiful granddaughter in the world.

Right behind me was Charlie Stilwell, who upon overhearing my remark, said: "Second! (most beautiful)." Edith cautioned me to be more careful.

The father of Charlie's granddaughter is Lee Stilwell. He calls his daughter, Little Nipper, and when he feeds her a bottle, it's Nipper nectar. Comy, but cute.

Here's an old Mark Twain yarn I've been meaning to pass along for years. In his early days his editor told him never to state anything he could not verify.

Sent out to cover an important social event not long afterward, Twain timed in the following story:

"A woman giving the name of Mrs. James, who is reported to be one of the society leaders of this city, is said to have given what was purported to be a party yesterday to a number of alleged ladies. The hostess claims to be the wife of a reputed attorney."

Letters to the Editor

Grad's opinion

As a 1980 graduate of Clarkston High School, I urge you to vote "YES" on June 13.

The Clarkston school system has provided me with a strong educational and athletic foundation. The educational foundation helped me to graduate from the University of Michigan, in four years, with a degree in business administration. The athletic foundation resulted in a career in the National Basketball Association.

The loss of 38 teachers as well as all extracurricular activities would be catastrophic to not only the students, but also the Clarkston community.

I would like the students at Clarkston High School to have the same opportunity for an excellent education that I had.

I strongly recommend a "YES" vote on June 13 for the benefit of the students and community.

Tim McCormick
Class of 1980

Quality necessity

Thank you so much for printing your Voters Guide in the May 25 issue of The Clarkston News.

We are now in the process of completing our absentee ballots for the June election, and the information provided in your guide has been invaluable.

We moved to Clarkston in November 1987. We love the community, the people and The Clarkston News. Although The Clarkston News did a story on us in the Feb. 18, 1987, issue, we were really not familiar with what a fine newspaper it is.

Our only regret is that it took us so long to find out. In any event, enclosed is our check for a one-year subscription. We will look forward to receiving our first issue in the mail.

One of the reasons we moved to Clarkston was because of our fine experiences with the Clarkston Community Schools' Music Department.

We travel the United States presenting lectures and workshops to thousands of young people every year. Some of our most positive experiences have occurred during our workshops at Sashabaw Junior High School.

The students, teachers and administrators all exhibited a sensitivity to what we were trying to accomplish. The students were extremely talented, intelligent and eager to learn.

They received positive reinforcement from their teachers, and, much to our amazement, the teachers received positive reinforcement from their administrators.

This doesn't happen very often, and we were extremely impressed with the potential for growth in this school system.

We were also delighted to see the tremendous parental support that these students were getting. Actually, the students really reflected the positive attitudes of their parents... the kind of people that we would like to have as neighbors. Hence, our move to Clarkston.

Even though we do not have children, we feel strongly about the importance of providing a quality education for the young people in our community.

We plan to vote "YES" for the millage this June. We encourage all of our new friends and neighbors in Clarkston to do the same.

Gene and Audrey Grier

Millage not answer

The Clarkston school district millage increase of 4.75 mills was rejected once by the voters in June of 1987 and a second time in October of 1987.

Now we are being asked to approve a millage increase for the third time in June of 1988, only this time the increase has increased to 5.5 mills.

The administration seems to think "perseverance" is the answer to getting a millage increase approved! Whatever happened to change, improvement and efficiency as prerequisites to requesting more money?

The following information has been taken from the Detroit Free Press, USA Today and the Oakland Press.

Did you know that Michigan ranks fourth highest in teacher salaries? Of the 51 states surveyed, Alaska, District of Columbia and New York were the only states where teacher salaries were higher. Thirty-six of the 51 states surveyed had a lower drop-out rate than Michigan and well over half of the states using ACT scores as an entrance measuring tool produced students with higher ACT scores than Michigan.

(USA Today, 2/26/88)

A recent survey of manufacturers evaluating high school graduates in the work place felt that the best way to improve school was to impose a required "core curriculum" of basic subjects, followed by mandatory graduation standards, elimination of teacher tenure and holding teachers accountable for student progress.

Revisions in school funding and providing more education ranked last. Michigan manufacturers made it very clear that the last thing they wanted to do is spend more money on a system that is turning out an average to below average product.

(The Oakland Press, 4/19/88)

Of the 100 selected Michigan school districts surveyed, Clarkston was the only one that replaced textbooks at 10-plus years.

(Detroit Free Press, 3/6/88)

This fact alone may result in teacher complacency, student boredom and minimum level achievement. A millage increase is not the answer!

Liquidation of assets, administrative and teacher salary reductions, head count reduction, elimination of all "frills and perks" are needed to demonstrate that this school system is serious about change, improvement and efficiency.

It is my opinion that if this administration would demonstrate a sincere effort to accomplish any or all of the above and prove the need still exists for additional millage funds for quality education, the voters would readily approve a millage increase.

Optimist support

This will confirm the Clarkston Area Optimist Club's support of our youth on the June 13 millage.

We strongly endorse both financial issues that appear on the ballot. We encourage our community to participate in this election.

Clarkston Area Optimist Club
(Henry Richardson, President)

Keep the strength

Careful review of the June 13th Clarkston Community Schools ballot issues (5.5 mills for school operations for three years and the $5,200,000 bond issue financed over 16 years), indicate the need for voter approval of both.

The Blue Ribbon Kids Committee succinctly addresses what we stand to lose if the above issues are not approved. These are such aspects of schooling as: 1. full day classes; 2. extracurricular activities; 3. curriculum choices; 4. high school accreditation.

These issues impact not only students and their families, but all people who make Clarkston the desirable place it is to work and live.

I believe strong communities have strong schools. Vote YES twice on June 13.

Kate Kuechle, President
Clarkston Area Jaycees

Too much to lose

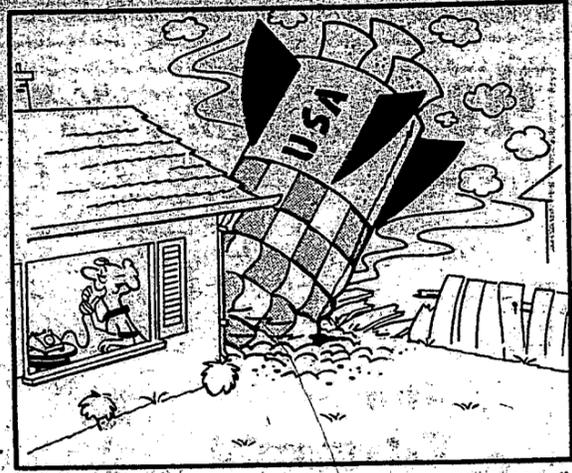

Although we could debate forever on what constitutes an adequate educational program, it will not change the fact that many people in Clarkston feel that if the millage fails the education system will no longer be the quality they want for their children. These people are already researching alternatives.

One obvious alternative is private schools, which many will choose. However, some people are committed to public schools for the following reasons:

Transportation - It is a major convenience to have your children be able to walk or take a bus to school. For working people and those without a car it is a necessity.

Although some public schools are cutting back or eliminating transportation (as we will probably have to

Fun Daze was fun

I would like to compliment Dick Greenfield and his crew for a job very well done in regard to Clarkston Fun Daze held at St. Daniel's church May 21.

With close to 500 people participating in the walks and runs, it was unbelievably well organized.

Many different groups participated, and it was a wonderful outing for all ages. The Senior Citizen Breakfast was superb and Nancy Kosinski did a bang up job soliciting raffle prizes.

Our family had a wonderful time.

Note from SCAMP

On behalf of the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corporation, we would like to extend our thanks to the many people who participated in our Clarkston Home Tour 6.

One hundred caring workers, including community groups, SCAMP parents and staff, and many others gave of their time to join us in our efforts to sponsor an enjoyable weekend. We couldn't do it without you!

We extend a special thank you to the home owners who graciously opened their homes for viewing; to Sharron and Clarence Catallo for hosting the Saturday evening reception; to Roma's of Michigan for providing the food for Saturday; to the Clarkston Cafe that, for the sixth year, hosted the Sunday reception; to the florists who did an outstanding job of adding their highlights to the homes; and to the many area businesses who offered monetary support or in-kind contributions.

This combined effort once again resulted in a successful fund-raiser for SCAMP. Over 450 people offered their support by touring the homes, and we are excited to announce that, together, we raised approximately $9,000.

Many special youth will have the opportunity to enjoy a rewarding summer because of your efforts.

Straight Answers to Tough Questions

What about the lottery money?

Editor's Note: "Straight Answers to Tough Questions" is the work of the Blue Ribbon Kids Committee, a pro-millage and pro-bond group of citizens working to promote the June 13 school election.

Q. How can a school district that claims to be financially strapped pay its new superintendent so much money?

A. Our new superintendent is chief executive officer of a $20 million-a-year business. His product is the preparedness of children in a very competitive world.

The position is one of great pressure from employees, students and the community. It is one of high visibility involving tough issues that cannot be dodged.

Our new superintendent, Gary Haner, is relocating from Pinckney with minimum relocation assistance, taking on a district that is twice as large and faces many challenges - all for an increase of $3,000 over his present salary.

While $74,000 is a good salary, this school system needs - and will demand - excellent results. The people of Bloomfield Hills pay their superintendent $100,400. They too, have high expectations. Pontiac, Birmingham, Southfield and Oak Park, all pay more than the Bloomfield rate.

We think our new chief executive will earn every penny of his $74,000.

Q. How can the average person that lives in Clarkston afford these taxes?

A. Of course nobody likes to pay more taxes, and in some cases they're a hardship. But many people who complain about taxes are feeling helpless about legislators and governments that take a large bite out of their income.

One of the few places where we really have a direct say on our taxes is during a school election, so schools get to bear the brunt of all that anger and helplessness.

The fact is - according to the Michigan Department of the Treasury - that the average adjusted gross income of households in the Clarkston school district is $31,569. This makes us 21 highest out of 526 school districts in the state, and ninth highest out of 28 in Oakland County.

Would you call this a poor school district?

Q. Why doesn't the school board do a better job of long-range planning? This school financing seems to be a mess.

A. Long-range planning in school finance is two-fold: 1. projections of expenses and 2. projections of revenues.

The first element - expenses - is fairly easy to anticipate for one-, two- or even five-year plans.

On the other hand, school revenue is not controlled by the board of education. The state funding formula is changed each year by Michigan just prior to - or even after - the beginning of the school year.

For example, the formula for the 1988-89 school-year had still not been completed as of June 1.

Headlee Amendment rollbacks are not known until late April, only two months before the new school fiscal year starts July 1.

Because of these factors, early projections of revenue for one year are difficult. Five-year projections are impossible.

Q. I'm on a fixed income and my taxes are too high already.

A. Many citizens on a fixed income are eligible to receive tax relief from the Michigan Homestead Property Tax Credit.

If you don't do your own taxes, ask your tax preparer if you are already getting some of your money back because of this law. It may return as much as 60 percent of your property tax cost back to you.

Eligible senior citizens are often reimbursed for 100 percent of their property taxes. Many of them are not aware of this fact because they do not prepare their own tax returns.

Q. What about all that lottery money that goes for education?

A. The lottery is one source of revenue for our state's school funding. It now contributes about 17 percent of the total.

Many of us believed that the lottery money would be an addition to the regular school aid - extra funds without extra taxes.

That has not been the case. When the lottery money began to go into the school aid fund, the state withdrew other money from it and added it to the state's general fund. The net effect has been a healthier general fund, but not necessarily a healthier school aid fund.

Q. Last fall you said there would be cuts, and then our school got new textbooks and a new teacher. How was that possible if we were in such bad financial shape?

A. Our school funds are based on the number of enrolled students. The official count is taken on the students in class on the fourth Friday of September.

Last year, that count exceeded our projections by over 100 students, giving us unexpected state aid money. This money was used to solve some critical problems, including the purchase of badly needed books and the hiring of two teachers to relieve overcrowded classrooms in elementary schools.

Grads honored

High praise from the principal preceded the awards ceremony for Clarkston High School seniors.

Dr. Robert Burek, speaking before approximately 120 students, said he considered the Class of 1988 unique.

"There are a special few classes that come along," he said while opening the awards ceremony at the high school gym June 2. "The Class of '88 is one of those."

For the next two hours, many of the students were called up in front of their peers, parents and friends to receive certificates, plaques and medals signifying their outstanding scholastic achievements.

One of the biggest rounds of applause erupted when CHS guidance counselor William Hartwell announced the appointments of Jane Selent and K.C. Baran to military academies.

The 11 graduates with the top 10 grade point averages also were singled out for praise from Burek.

"If you were going to start a corporation," he asked the crowd. "Wouldn't you like to hire one of them?"

In all, the Class of 1988 collected $137,000 worth of scholarships. The total topped last year by $17,000.

DR. ROBERT BUREK awards a medal to Kristi Martin during Senior Awards Night. A complete listing of the award winners will appear in the June 22 Clarkston News.

do in the future if the millage fails!), it is a "frill" most private schools do not offer AND WE DON'T WANT TO GIVE IT UP.

Support Personnel - Many children cannot grasp the "basics" taught in school due to learning disabilities, speech and language problems, emotional upsets, etc.

Our public school has personnel on staff and in the buildings which make it easier and more likely that a child will receive extra help when needed.

The AWARE group has helped wage a strong fight against substance abuse in our high school and community. If one of our children was spared from a drug overdose, it would be worth the millage increase many times. These are "frills" WE DON'T WANT TO GIVE UP.

Community Feeling - We meet many people through the community schools that we work with not only at school events, but also on church projects, neighborhood causes, fund-raisers and at community activities.

We enjoy going into town and seeing people we know. We enjoy that community feeling and WE DON'T WANT TO GIVE IT UP.

However, as we seek alternatives to what to do if the millage fails, we hear more and more often "We will move!" If we do not pass the millage, we are not only hurting the schools and children, we are hurting the community.

People who have said this are people who are involved in the community, who are room mothers, cub scout leaders, coaches, who seem to be at every event in the community. WE DON'T WANT TO GIVE THEM UP!

Maintain quality

The Clarkston/Independence Township area is one of the most desirable places in southeast Michigan to live in.

It has beautiful countryside, nice lakes and streams and good parks and recreation facilities.

Most of the development has been low density, high quality residential, and the master development plan calls for the rest of the community to develop that way. Add to that a bicycle path system that will tie all this together.

It should be a beautiful place to live for a long time. Unfortunately, we also have a school system that is under-funded.

1. We have one of the lowest millage rates in southeastern Michigan, next to last in Oakland County.

2. We are third from last in dollars per student in Oakland County. Our schools are not what they should be.

A. We need new textbooks.

B. Buildings need renovation.

C. Physical education programs have been cut at elementary schools.

D. Libraries should be open every day.

E. Foreign language and computer education are needed.

It is important to all of us that we maintain the character and quality of our community. Our school system is a very important part of that.

Vote "Yes" on the Clarkston School millage.

William D. Vandermark
Independence Township Trustee

Care for future

We are writing to encourage Clarkston school district residents to vote in favor of the 5.5 mill increase that the school district needs.

Some people may not wish to vote more taxes feeling it may create financial hardship; others are thinking that this election should wait until some form of tax reform is voted into law.

Financial hardship for senior citizens is alleviated by the rebate feature of the Michigan Property Tax Credit which reimburses property taxes paid in excess of 3.5 percent of your total income up to a maximum of $1,200 rebate.

Those under 65 go through the same procedure in applying for the rebate, but can obtain a refund for taxes in excess of approximately 6 percent of their income up to a maximum of $1,200. The rebate comes when the property owner files their state tax form. This means that a 5.5 mill increase costs you net 2 to 3 mills, depending on your income and age.

As far as tax reform - forget it as a quick cure! In the past 15 years there have been many attempts at tax reform; all save Headlee have failed. This is probably because most people perceive tax reform as a threat to local control, and in the end, would rather pay locally than to let Lansing fund us from afar.

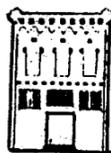

Current tax proposals are in the same boat. There are many proposals being promoted by many varying interests; at present not one has enough support to pass anytime soon. Further, a proposal that succeeds at the legislative level will then have to survive a constitutional amendment vote and be approved by Michigan voters. It will be a long time before effective change is made.

Help kids now

As responsible citizens, we should press for changes in the way that schools are funded - but this will take TIME. However, we are out of time as far as our children are concerned. They need a public school system that can give them the tools to survive in the job market and/or the university system NOW.

In order to provide these fundamental skills Clarkston schools needs the funding now.

The perception of our community as a pleasant and desirable place to live in no small way depends on the way we handle our civic responsibilities.

Currently we only have one way to finance our children's education. It is time for the community to step up and shoulder the responsibility for this next generation. They (the children) are a signature of our town and of us. They need our help now.

We should, just as our parents and grandparents did, provide for our children and our futures, and the way to do this is to vote YES for the millage request.

Terry and Betty Haran

Electives are vital

I have read the articles on the candidates for the Clarkston School Board that you have printed in your paper, along with the articles on the upcoming millage and bond issue.

I am almost embarrassed to admit I haven't felt very strongly over either of these issues before. I attended Clarkston all my life, and the ceilings leaked then, too.

But life has changed. I am divorced and I have two children in the schools. I am laid off from Pontiac Motors with 10 years seniority, and I know my children will not be working there without college degrees.

Yes, they can probably get college degrees on five hours a day classroom time, but what about the minor skills they need? Without the extra two hours of electives, who's going to fix the car, repair the clothes, build the new deck or appreciate music and art?

Think back to your high school days, parents, and remember all those electives you had, that you don't even realize you use today. This is one millage and bond issue I will be voting yes on!

I also would like to express my support for Robert Wyatt for the school board. I feel he has the skills badly needed in the coming years.

He is a civil engineer, with 14 years experience in solving building problems on limited budgets. He has the expertise needed now for dealing with our outdated buildings and repairs.

He is a caring parent, concerned over the curriculum changes that are occurring. I feel he will be a valuable asset to the school board. He also supports the millage and bond issues. Vote yes to Bob Wyatt!!

Beverly Merz

Realtors say yes

We support the millage to protect property values and to continue quality education. As realtors, property owners and parents, we find the Clarkston community uniquely quaint, beautiful and clean, "A town to raise kids in."

As parents we have come to expect quality education for our children. As owners we have come to expect Setting it straight

Last week we were offered distorted information in an effort to persuade us to vote against the proposed millage increase.

Pontiac and virtually every other in-formula (state aid receiving) school district has a millage rate at least 5.5 mills higher than our current rate. With the proposed millage we will be spending roughly $3,600/student.

This is considerably less than one year's tuition at a quality private school $200/student less than Waterford or Oxford and over $700 less than Rochester or Troy.

Rochester and Troy receive less than 2 percent of their budget from the state. Interestingly enough, most of us will recover up to 88 percent of this tax increase through federal tax deductions and the Michigan Homestead Tax Credit. Most senior citizens and the handicapped will recover the full amount of the increase.

If we don't like the way the state spends our state taxes, we need to write our state representative or state senator or elect new ones.

If we don't like the condition of our community school system, we have the opportunity to vote for needed money.

If we don't like how our schools spend the money, we should select two good school board candidates who we believe will best assure that our schools receive the maximum benefit for our money.

We cannot have blue ribbon schools on a noncompetitive budget and 10-year-old books anymore than a race car driver can win the Indianapolis 500 with a 10-year-old car, bald tires and enough money for gas to go less than the full 500 miles.

We need your yes vote on both millage and bond issue.

Needham support

I encourage you to vote for John Needham for Board of Education trustee on June 13.

For the past two years I've worked directly with John as a fellow board member and have found him to be thorough, open minded, decisive and hard working.

In 1986, when John first became a board member, the district was just beginning to have serious financial and facilities difficulties. Since that time he has dealt with these difficult issues with maturity, concern and sound judgment.

As we look forward to the several years ahead, the district will be well served by the leadership and dedication John provides.

Letter from board

Taxpayers of the Clarkston school district,
It has been said that, "Blessed are those who can give without remembering and take without forgetting."

So we must not forget as taxpayers those individuals who gave to us so we might be educated. Now it is our time to give so that our young people might receive.

Yes, it is true without this millage increase they will continue to receive and education. The issue then will be one of degree.

Will we allow our programs to be so limited as to be called meager?

Meager, yes, when we know that without this increase we will be losing 38 teachers, high school accreditation (students will be on a five-hour day), sports, music and other extracurricular activities. Worst of all, our reputation for academic excellence.

Pride exists in our community. Newcomers are impressed with the village, the rest of the area made up with lovely homes and open space, the friendliness of the people, the lakes and trees, planned development and, of course, the schools.

Clarkston has always offered a good basic education, more recently excellence in programing, and done it with less than many surrounding communities.

Now we are appealing to that sense of pride and responsibility. Our young people need the best education we can offer them. And in buildings that meet current safety codes.

Virtually all of our buildings need major roof repairs. That's why we're asking your support in the bond issue to correct code violations and finance major maintenance needs.

Our young people depend on all of us to be role models for them. Now is our time to give without remembering so they can take without forgetting.

Remember to vote yes twice on June 13 so our young people will not forget when it's their time to give, to educate the next generation.

would be stupid. For certainly, increasing taxes will absolutely not in itself assure better education.

Not long ago, a college for the hearing impaired advertised for a president who could not hear. Clarkston's School Board has the ability to hear, but they do not heed.

A majority of the voters told them that they do not want additional tax burdens, but the board was wiser than the majority so they chose to ignore us again - and again. We had voted not to have summer taxes, but we were ignored and we now have summer taxes.

It is always the same, they nag and intimidate until they have their way. If the board spent half as much time studying alternative financing methods as they do in pushing for increased millages, their time would probably result in a more just solution to the problem.

We must all live according to our incomes, but for some reason schools do not have to meet any guidelines - a little more intimidation of the voters and the voters will bail them out of the deficits they have created.

Teachers; no one has it so good as a teacher. Who else has the entire summer off with pay, plus another week at Spring Break and a week or more at Christmas time? Now they are to have their classes cut from six to five. Next, I suppose, they will want half a day but with increased wages.

Tenure comes early and so does Easy Street. What ever happened to dedication? Would taking on extra curriculum ever cross their minds? Students need time, not money.

There are numerous out of school activities available for those who wish to take advantage of them - and without cost. Others could be organized by anyone who really cares.

Property assessments are skyrocketing and will continue, cost of medical care rises daily, every item necessary to our very existence is increasing in cost and we have no control, no say what-so-ever.

Now we have the opportunity to at least keep this school burden, and I mean burden, from becoming even more cumbersome.

For those who think increased millage and improved education are synonymous, I am sure their donations to the school system will be accepted. For those of us who know they are not synonymous, we should make ourselves heard by again casting our votes against the millage increases on June 13.

George A. Heenan

Memory makers

Remember ...

Remember the days that you were in school?
Studying hard, but breaking some rules?
Getting involved, in after-school things,
Getting nervous for after that last bell would ring?
Your varsity letter, hearing the crowd,
The score-keeper yelling, "TOUCHDOWN," real loud.
The chant of the cheers, the response of the fans,
Having fun with your friends at the top of the stands,
Watching the ball go into the hoop,
And the shortstop grabbing that ball with a scoop.
Waiting and hoping for a winning score,
Cheering for the people out on the floor.
Volleyball players dig out the spike,
Hoping and praying that they'll do it right.
Jittery nerves before the game begins,
Yelling for Clarkston to "Go fight and win."
We're sure you remember these things from the past.
You can help us with a vote for the millage to pass.
Make us excited to return in September
And make our high school years ones to remember.
Help keep our sports at our school, CHS,
And to the '88 millage, we say "please vote yes!"

Andrea D'Alto

Resource at risk

As we look around our community of Clarkston, there are many "natural resources" to be grateful for.

Not just the natural beauty of the township, not just for the historical significance in which we all take pride, but for the resources that are more difficult to measure.

We are an involved community of people working hard to protect the environment, control growth and keep Clarkston the desirable community that it is.

However, it deeply concerns us that the best resource for the future of this community is at serious risk. The children of Clarkston need people to stand up and guarantee them a quality education.

Reduced educational hours, mass layoffs of teaching staff, enlarged class sizes, the threat of loss of accreditation in the high school and cuts in the very basic programs sell short, not just the children, but the entire community in the long run.

Stand up and be counted in your commitment. Your involvement is needed if we wish to keep this area intact for the future.

Vote YES on June 13 - a vote for the kids is a vote for Clarkston.

Denise and Gary Symons

'Quiz' reanswered

Thanks to The Clarkston News for publishing the quiz for the school board candidates. It really was informative. We think everyone should have a chance to review them.

Question 1 - The teacher union contract calls for a reduction in teaching periods for each teacher from six to five in the high school beginning in 1988-89. In view of this change and other budgetary constraints, specify three recommendations you would make to ensure continuation of quality education in the Clarkston Schools.

Until we read this we couldn't figure out why the schools were in so much trouble that they must cut school days to five periods. If the millage passes or not, high school teachers are only going to teach five periods!

Question 2 - State your assessment of the current school buildings.

Our answer to that is there is no excuse! To let buildings leak until they form mildew! We can only wonder at other things not being taken care of.

Question 3 - What do you feel is the most urgent issue to be addressed by the school board?

The 108-year school just east of Kansas City offers an athletic program that includes varsity sports as well as a physical training course.

Students at the academy range in age from seventh-graders through junior college students.

Play rec volleyball

A co-recreation summer volleyball league sponsored by Independence Township Parks and Recreation is seeking players.

Games will be played at Clintonwood Park on Clarkston Road in Independence Township where there are four sand courts.

Teams will call their own games. Winners and runners-up receive awards and all participants get T-shirts for playing.

Deadline to register is June 10. The Wednesday night games get under way June 15.

Call the parks and recreation office at 625-8223 for more information.

Discus is his event

CHAD SNOVER of the Clarkston area recently competed in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Conference track meet as a member of the Grand Valley State College team. He placed fourth in the discus with a throw of 183-10. Snover also throws the javelin. The junior is a biology major with a grade point average of 3.36.

Learn to swim

People from age 2 to adult can register for swimming lessons at Deer Lake Beach this summer.

Certified Water Safety Instructors will teach the courses at the beach on White Lake Road. There are two sessions: from June 20 to July 16 and from July 18 to Aug. 13.

Cost is $20 for the first person, $32 for the second and $40 for an entire family.

Registration will be taken at Deer Lake Beach from 11 a.m. until 8 p.m. through June 12.

Soccer recognition

A recent Clarkston High School graduate earned a letter for his participation in the soccer program at Central College in Kansas.

Michael Koslosky picked up the award at an annual sports banquet hosted by the school in McPherson, Kan.

Central College is a two-year Christian, liberal arts institution. Central is affiliated with the Free Methodist denomination.

Wolves lose to Falcons in districts

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Despite collecting just one hit, the varsity softball team gave Rochester fits during district play.

The Wolves trailed the whole game but managed to stay close and keep the pressure on the Falcons before losing, 2-1, at Waterford Mott June 4.

With the loss, the team bows out of the playoffs with a 20-15 record and thoughts of what could have been had they beaten Rochester.

"I thought that both teams played well," said Coach Carla Teare. "We just didn't get enough hits."

Greater Oakland Activities League foe Lake Orion eventually won the district at Waterford Mott by beating Rochester in the championship game.

Against Clarkston, Rochester scored all the runs it would need - and get - on a two-run home run by Katie Gray in the top of the second inning.

The Wolves, on two walks and a wild pitch, had a good chance to tie the game in their half of the second but couldn't convert.

Rochester pitcher Jenny Hampton then settled down and retired six straight Clarkston batters before getting in trouble in the fifth.

With one out, pinch-hitter Dana Austin was safe at first on an error. After another out, Marci Morgan walked. Kris Castillo got one run home with an RBI-single to center to cut Rochester's lead in half.

It was all the scoring the Wolves would do Saturday morning.

"We should have been able to score," the coach said. "(District games) are all like this, you have to hit."

The Falcons attempted to rally in the top of the sixth when it put runners on second and third with no outs, but they couldn't push any more over the plate against pitcher Heather Luchenbach.

Clarkston had one final chance to upend the Falcons in the bottom of the seventh when pinch-hitter Tisha Sherman led off with a walk.

The Wolves' fans started reminiscing about a repeat performance of Clarkston's last-inning victory against Waterford Mott the week before, but it was not to be. The next three batters went down in order to end the Wolves' season.

The loss didn't tarnish the team's accomplishments this year, said Teare. "I can't feel bad about the season. I'm not disappointed."

DANA AUSTIN tries to lay down a bunt to advance a runner into scoring position during a close 2-1 loss in district play at Waterford Mott.

9th graders ready to shine

With the combined talents of the hitters from Clarkston and the pitchers from Sashabaw, the junior varsity baseball team will be stocked with good athletes, said Cougars' Coach Tom Smith.

The ninth-grade teams wrapped up their seasons last week with banquets to honor the outstanding players on their respective clubs.

While the Wolverines struggled this season, finishing at 3-10, the team did end the year strong by winning three times in the second half of the schedule.

Coach Bill Bildstein said it was impossible to determine a winner for the Most Improved Player award because everyone on the team did better as the year progressed.

One of the more consistent hitters on a team filled with excellent batters was Jerrod Johnson. He set a school record with an incredible batting average of .611 and won the team batting championship.

Chad Hetherington was the top pitcher for Clarkston and he won the Most Valuable Player award.

Sashabaw logged its first winning record in a couple of years by going 8-6 this spring. The Cougars' strong points were pitching and defense.

Darrin Master led a strong mound corps with a 3-1 record. He struck out 23 batters in 22 innings of work and tossed a no-hitter. Next came Chris Wasilk who finished at 3-3. He paced the team with 39 whiffs in just 33 innings. Matt Smith was 2-2 as a pitcher and George Crouch had one save for the team.

As a team, Sashabaw collected 84 strikeouts on the year and gave up only 56 walks.

Mark Galbraith, with a batting average of .294, was named the team's most improved player and Master won the Coach's Award for sportsmanship.

Jimmy Jenkinson led the team in hitting with 12 hits, including four doubles and three triples. He also stole 10 bases and batted .387. The team voted him the Most Valuable Player.

Other top performers for Sashabaw included Mike Corcoran (.379 average), Ryan Roberts (.316, 6 RBI), Smith (.304, 11 runs scored), Master (15 runs scored, 19 stolen bases), Mike Stanton and Chris Wasilk (7 RBI each).

On defense, Tony Miller led Sashabaw with 81 putouts. The Cougars finished the season with a team fielding average of .912.

CHS senior to play ball with Eastern

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With several college coaches in hot pursuit, a Clarkston High School senior had a tough time deciding what college to attend.

Jeff Tungate finally picked Eastern Michigan University's full-ride scholarship offer as the best of the group.

Tungate turned in an excellent season last year as a junior when he compiled an 8-1 record as the Wolves' number one pitcher. The near perfect record brought plenty of attention when coaches from several colleges began actively recruiting him.

"It's great to get rid of all this pressure," the southpaw said the night after signing a letter-of-intent to play baseball for the Eastern Michigan University Hurons.

While waiting until the final moment didn't do his nerves much good, it did provide him with the opportunity to get the best possible deal.

"They gave me a real good deal," he said.

After a visit by an EMU coach to his home on Transparent Drive in Independence Township on May 30, Tungate finally could get a good night's rest.

"After the coach left our house Monday (May 30) I told my parents, 'That's the place for me,'" he said.

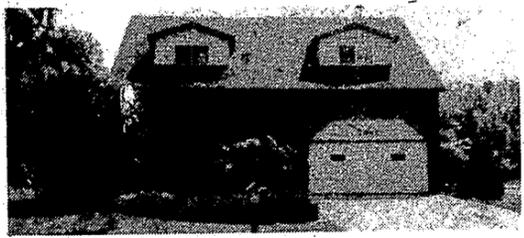

Starting the 1988 season as the varsity baseball team's top pitcher at Clarkston, Tungate admitted he struggled the whole season from the mound. But he didn't let his pitching affect his hitting as he hit over .400 for the season.

"Hitting-wise I had a good year," he said.

After the prep season ended with a disappointing 13-8 loss to Rochester Adams, the young pitcher got a little assistance from his future mentors.

Coaches at EMU gave him a few pointers and now he has started to throw the ball a lot harder again. He

WMU offers scholarship to township goalie

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With his future in mind, a Clarkston High School senior accepted a full-ride hockey scholarship from Western Michigan University.

Robert Laurie was a goalie on the Fraser Junior Red Wings' hockey team this past winter and saw considerable playing time.

Since he will graduate from Clarkston High School later this month, time was running out to make up his mind about his athletic and academic career.

"It was a tough decision," the Reese Road, Independence Township, resident said. "They (WMU) needed a goalie, so I decided to go."

Laurie helped the Junior Wings do extremely well in the second half of the season. They finished second in the state and fourth in the nation.

The WMU Broncos' decision to recruit Laurie wasn't totally based on the Clarkston High senior's athletic ability. Western began pursuing him more actively after he had already received an academic scholarship to the school.

Since NCAA rules prohibit a student from accepting both scholarships, Laurie chose the athletic instead of academic from the Broncos because it paid more.

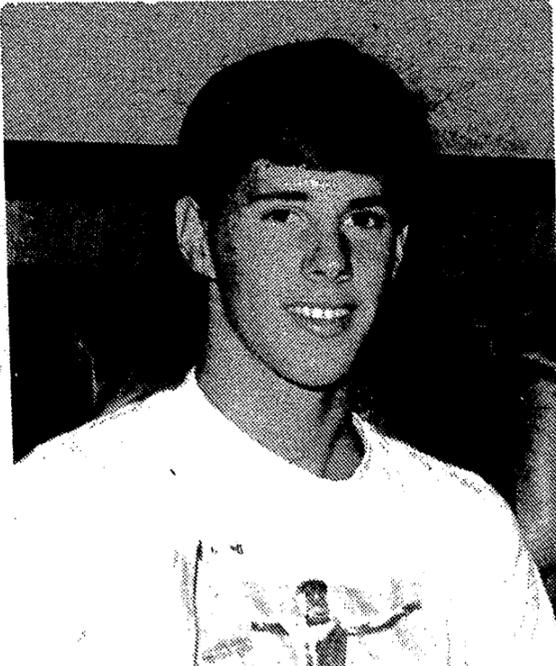

Laurie is one of the top 10 academic students at Clarkston High School in the Class of 1988. He has won several awards including the Michigan State University Award for Academic Excellence, Western Michigan University Academic Award and the Presidential Academic Fitness Award.

During his three years at Clarkston High School, he was active in soccer and skiing as well as being a member of the National Honor Society.

Interest from coaches at Western started slowly, he said, but gradually increased as the season wore on.

After assistant coaches from the school began watching Junior Wings' games, Western Michigan's athletic department offered him a hockey scholarship.

Laurie has played hockey for a number of years and has always looked forward to participating on a college level. His athletic resume heading off to Western is impressive.

ROBERT LAURIE is ready for a new experience when he heads off to play hockey for Western Michigan University next fall.

He attended the United States Olympic Training Center Midget Camp in Marquette last summer. He also was the top-rated goalie in the Bantam League in 1985.

Excited about joining a good program at Western, Laurie is ready to gain some experience during his freshman year.

"Hopefully I'll be the back-up goalie," he said. "The number one goalie will be a senior next year."

After his freshman campaign, the goalie position will be there for the taking, he added.

He visited the campus in Kalamazoo and watched the team play a couple of games last season. He was encouraged by what he saw.

"I liked it a lot," he said. "The team seemed pretty good."

Laurie plans to major in engineering while at Western Michigan University.

Tee off to help area SCAMP

Golfers can benefit Clarkston SCAMP, a five-week summer program for children and young adults with special needs, by taking part in a charity outing later this month.

The outing at Heather Highlands Golf Course in Holly on June 24 will include 18 holes of golf, cart, continental breakfast and luncheon featuring Lew Wint as master of ceremonies.

Tickets cost $60 for the complete outing and $20 for the luncheon only and are available at Clarkston area businesses including Tierra, Country Value Hardware, Speedy Printing and Savoy Insulation and at the Special Services Building of Clarkston schools. Tickets must be purchased by June 13.

Besides the golfers, area business owners can help out SCAMP by donating prizes, said Chairperson Buck Koptetz.

For $100, a person or business can sponsor a hole and have their name at the tee.

Also, major prize sponsors (donation of prize worth $100 or more at retail) are needed, as are secondary prize sponsors ($25 to $75) and door prizes.

The major and secondary sponsors will receive mention in the official program and on local cable television.

Indianwood opens New Course, starts addition

BY ELAINE STIEB

Lake Orion Review Staff Writer

Indianwood Golf and Country Club in Orion Township officially opened its "New Course" with a gala celebration on June 1. The course, measuring 6,883 yards, was designed by golf course architect Bob Cupp and PGA touring pro Jerry Pate.

Stan Aldridge, Indianwood's owner and president, joined Cupp and Pate at the first tee to start the opening round.

Scottish bagpipers serenaded media personalities Bill Bonds, Steve Garagiola, Frank Beckman and former Detroit Lions player Gary Danielson as they teed off. Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney L. Brooks Patterson and State Rep. Mat Dunaskiss also made an appearance.

The course was opened a year ahead of time. "The whole project has just flowed perfectly," said Aldridge. "We were our own contractors; we had our own people and our own equipment."

"The soil, which is mostly sand and gravel, was easy to work with," Aldridge added. "We were able to work year around. We might have missed only one or two half-days."

The course has 11 holes that are on or near water and it is prominently covered with trees and scrub areas. Though it's very similar to the famous Pine Valley course in New Jersey, many holes bear a strong resemblance to the courses of old Scotland.

Aldridge said that he spent a lot of extra time and money in saving the natural environment.

"Believe me, I fought to save trees. Sod was put down quickly so there wouldn't be any wash-outs," he added.

Accompanying the course will be an exclusive housing development. As planned, the total number of homes was projected at 300. But, Aldridge said, that figure may drop because the aesthetic look of the course is more important than the housing.

"I'm very pleased and excited at the chance to finally let people play the course, not to mention the new era that the club and membership are now entering," he said. "Building a new course made economic sense. It's hard to make money with a private club and my investment has been substantial here. It was a question of keeping it going as a hobby or trying to make it profitable."

First off the first tee, left to right, Jerry Pate, former U. S. Open champion, Bob Cupp, who has helped design more than 150 golf courses, and Stan Aldridge. Aldridge, practically a non-golfer, hit his tee shot over Indianwood Road, prompting him to remark, "Not much has changed in 8 years." He did the same thing on his first shot at the Old Course when he bought it in 1981.

"I also feel like I'm giving something back to the community. I'm preserving a special piece of history," he added.

With the opening of this second course, Indianwood will be one of only two other clubs in the Metropolitan Detroit area that offers 36 championship holes.

Aldridge bought the club in 1981 after it had fallen into a severe state of disrepair. Indianwood now ranks as one of the top ten clubs in Michigan.

Along with hosting the last six Michigan PGA Championships, it has been chosen to host the 1989 United States Women's Open Championship.

In preparation for that event, Aldridge has already started on a 30,000 square foot addition to the clubhouse. It's been designed by Bill Zmistowski, grandson of Wilfrid Reid. Reid was the original designer of Indianwood.

"When it's done, it will look like it's been there for 100 years," said Aldridge. "So many new clubs lose their tradition and look of continuity."

Included in the addition are new men and women's locker rooms and a mixed grill. A swimming pool is also planned.

Aldridge struggled with trying to compare the new course with the old one. "As to which one is best, I think it's subjective," he said. "The two have different personalities. The old course is phenomenal. It has such natural beauty."

Most people don't know that Cupp has also brought the old course up to modern standards. It was being remodeled at the same time the new course was being built. A hundred bunkers have been added.

Aldridge said that plans for the Women's Open are coming along smoothly. "We've been working on this for two years. There have been meetings with the township and the police and I don't foresee any problems," he added.

The golf writers from the two Detroit daily papers, Jack Saylor, News, left, and Jack Berry, Free Press, toasted the course with champagne on the first tee, as did the other golfers.

Three of the Aldridge's children teed it up with the first-offs. This is Katie hitting from the port side.

Hole-by-hole looksee

Come, play the New Course

By Jim Sherman, publisher

I have a 15 handicap and shot 49-52-101. I played with Kirby Hutchinson, Clarkston, 51-42-93, Jack Johnson, Troy, 51-48-99 and Mickey Hiatt, Oxford, 57-51-108.

Playing the 18-holes at the New Course of Indianwood Golf and Country Club you find yourself repeating phrases 18 times.

"Look at these tees!" "Wow, aren't these fairways full and lush?" "Such great greens, all the same texture, in great settings."

You also keep saying, 'I better hit this one straight, that rough looks impossible.'

So, as I take you on a hole-by-hole tour of the New Course accept it that this course is in immaculate condition, each hole is special in design, and all roughs are ugly with tall grass roughs, often on mounds of dirt left to grow as it was dumped from trucks . . . no grooming.

Also, all fairways are undulating, as are all greens. All holes have at least four tees-gold, blue, white and red. We played from the blues; 6171 yards. (Golds are 6,883, white, 5,491, red, 5,013.)

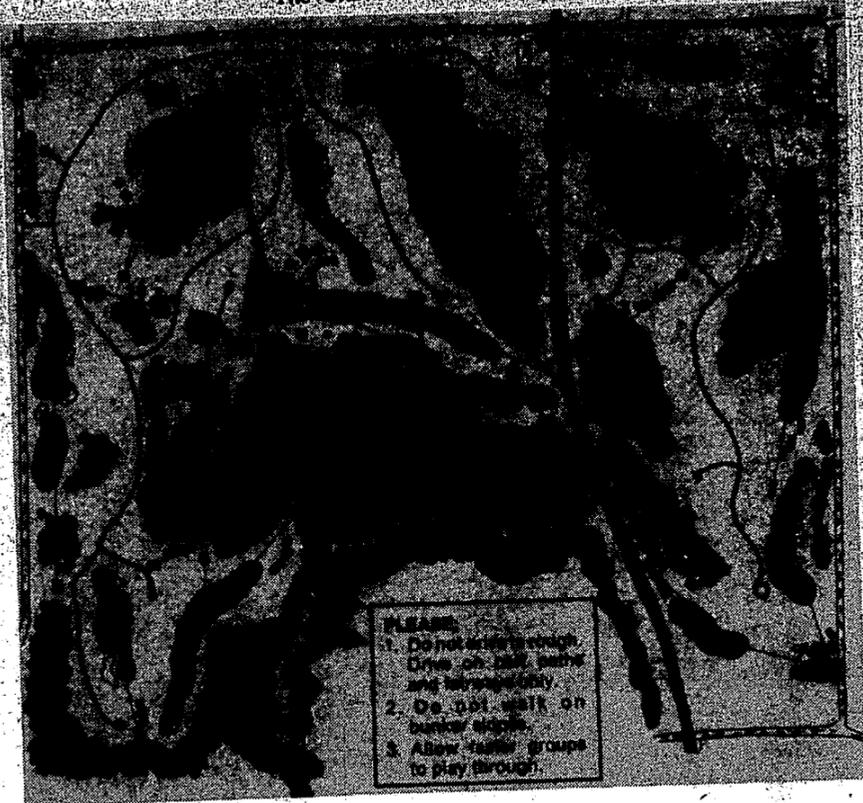

Number 1 hole is difficult only from the standpoint of it being the first hole. The landing area is wide enough, but Indianwood road draws slicer's balls. The fairway narrows and dips in front of the elevated green which has bunkers and trees left and right.

No. 2 is a 339 yard dogleg right that requires anything from a 4-iron to a driver to get over the lowlands and lake. The second shot is also over water to a narrow green banked against a hill. Hit short and you could have a 20-ft shot straight up to the green if you can find your ball. Oh, yes. A single large tree blocks your approach shot.

No. 3 has no fairway. It's 162 yards of cattails, reeds and water. You hit from hill to hill and don't hook. Balls fall far that miss on the left.

No. 4 is 525 yards needing two big hits short of the water. The fairway is relatively wide. A 12-ft wide river runs in front of this double-green that serves No. 4 and 13-homebound players have right of way. The green(s) must be 100 yards long, bunkered in back.

Of number 5, pro golfer and co-Indianwood golf course designer Jerry Pate said, "Maybe this tee ought to be 30 yards shorter." It's the number one handicap hole. You have to hit the ball a ton off the tee then hit 80 yards over a swamp and three sand traps. Thankfully there is a hill in back of the green to hit into.

No 6, 172 yards has tall rough nearly all the way, tee to green. There's a long, grass bunker on the right, trees and water on the left with little room for error off the tee.

No 7 has a deep pot bunker 310 yards off the tee, which no one has to worry about from the tee. It's a sharp dog leg left. Hit the ball long off the tee to even see the green. A two-island bunker runs along the left side of the approach fairway and trees on the right.

No. 8. It's 104 yards to the fairway over tall grass. Golf course owner Stan Aldridge loves tall grass, and he has plenty of it on New Indianwood (Old Indianwood, too). Course designer Bob Cupp remarked, after hitting his drive, "I won't find it, but I'm sure having fun." Smallish green is bunkered right-front and has a goose-neck entrance. You can't scuff a shot and roll the ball onto many greens at New Indianwood.

No 9 is 553 yards of ugly. One can only wonder what is between tee and fairway. Newman road is on the left as are high mounds of too thick grass. The fairway is like an hourglass, narrowing to nothing 250 yards out. The green is around the corner tucked behind a man-made hill of growth, and it's bunkered.

Number 10 is a simple wedge or nine iron, 112 yards. Fall short and you'll likely be in one of two bunkers or swamp, hit long and you'll be in one of four traps. It's a very elevated green.

No 11. It starts with 165 yards of cattails, reeds and water. After that it's 240 yards with water all the way on the right. Like all the rest of the holes, you can't play it safe left because of the tall grass.

The first people to play the New Course were Jerry Pate's father, Pate, Cupp, Aldridge, Indianwood pro Dave Zink, and Kirk, Keith, and Katie Aldridge. Mr Pate remarked, "They won't charge green fees at this course, they'll just make you buy your golf balls from them." I lost five golf balls, but found four. We were the 26th foursome.

No 12 is a dog leg left. From the tee it looks like the course ends abruptly. You can see no opening toward the green. It's one of the seven holes that does not have water on or near it. Hit a good drive, then look up to see a narrow, goose neck (angled) entrance to the green. You can hit over a 10-ft mound and stay on the rather large green.

No 13 shares a green with No. 4. It's 143 yards over a river. I hit a 7 iron into the river. It was enough club, but I hooked it. Hutchinson made an easy par, which he also did on 11 and 12.

No 14 is a double dog leg. There's water all along the right side, high, grass mounds on the left making the fairway appear very narrow. You might be able to roll a shot onto the small green. At least you could avoid the traps next to the trees on the right.

No 15. It's 80 yards over water, etc to a narrow fairway. Trees on the left; hills on the right at the landing area. Mahmoob trap in front of the green with opening on the right. Slicers beware! Narrow green.

No 16 is a dog leg left. I played it safe, hitting a 3-iron straight off the tee . . . through the fairway. Hutchinson hit a safe 5 wood . . . through the fairway. Hiatt remarked, "The toughest part is finding your ball after you hit it." No 16 is a target hole, just like most of them these days. What's really frightening about No. 16 is that you can't see the ugly stuff the last 80 yards to the green. Mounds, piles, clumps, heather.

No 17 slides toward Joslyn Road, which I hit. Bunkers catch balls on the right side of the sloping, curved fairway. The shot to the green is frightening . . . narrow opening, fall-off back and right, trees left. Hutchinson parred it, we had 6-6-8.

No 18, 456 yards downhill to a swamp, uphill to a huge 2-level green. Play your drive short of the water, put your next shot into it (I did). We were told Aldridge purposely kept the 18th green on the New Course smaller than No. 18 on the Old Course, but not by much.

During the afterglow, Chuck Kocsis, professional, Hall of Fame golfer, said the New Course is "The best in Michigan". Birmingham pro Ray Maguire called the front nine the best in Michigan. He was disappointed in No's 10, 11, and 12. "Though I may have expected too much."

Praise for the New Course at Indianwood came from golf professionals, club members, and celebrities who played the inaugural rounds Wednesday, June 1.

Channel 7 tv newsman Bill Bonds was in the second 4-some. His first, very short drive prompted Detroit News golf writer Jack Berry to comment, "Don't give up your night job."

Golfers got a special treat at the half-way house (tent) by Robin Johnson of Lake Orion. Robin, who said I'll pose for anyone with a camera, posed, but also gave hugs to all players on what she called "my hug" day.

should learn a lot during his stay at Eastern Michigan. "EMU will make you a good pitcher," he said of the excellent coaching staff.

Now that his technique has been improved, he hopes to turn in a good season pitching in a summer league before he heads off for school in the fall. Anything he can do to improve himself, he will.

"I'm going to work my tail off all summer," he said. "I've got the opportunity and I'm going to go for it."

The situation for the pitcher-first baseman is perfect for an incoming freshman, he said. Eastern Michigan has only one quality starting pitcher and nobody returning at first base. If he works hard during the summer months, he should be rewarded next spring.

"My goal is to be a starter as a freshman," he said. Tungate will probably major in business management or marketing at Eastern Michigan.

Run to help others

All proceeds from "The Rainbow Run" this weekend will help a Clarkston-based organization that fulfills the wishes of chronically ill children.

Rainbow Connection, a non-profit organization, will benefit from the the running and fitness clinic and races sponsored by Runnin' Gear and Brooks.

Clinic and race headquarters will be at Prescription Fitness, 6889 Highland Rd. in Pontiac.

On Friday, June 10, from 6 to 9 p.m. the clinic will feature specialists in the area of nutrition, exercise physiology, footwear, orthotics, conditioning and more. A carbohydrate dinner will be available from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

The runs are scheduled the following day on June 11. They will begin at 9 a.m. with a 1-mile fun run, followed by the start of the 5 kilometer and 10 kilometer. The course has some hilly sections, but it's mostly flat.

Race day registration at Prescription Fitness is from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. For more information, call Prescription Fitness at 666-1895.

Fife captures coach's award

When honoring prep coaches, Franklin Insurance Company allows the numbers to do the talking.

During six seasons as varsity basketball coach at Clarkston High School, Dan Fife has racked up an impressive amount of numbers - as in 103 victories.

For his outstanding coaching abilities, Franklin recently honored the Clarkston coach with a bronze "Select Circle" award.

The man who presented Fife with the award at the high school Monday morning was former CHS teacher and coach Gary Nustad.

Nustad is now a district manager for Franklin Insurance. He explained how basing the award on number of wins makes the selection process more impartial.

"It eliminates the politics that are sometimes involved in those 'Coach of the Year' awards," he said.

There are three levels to the "Select Circle" award - bronze, silver and gold. About 2,400 coaches around the country were honored by Franklin Life with a plaque and mention in a magazine called "Scholastic Coach" this year.

"It's kind of a unique award," Nustad said. "I think the coaches have appreciated it."

Fife credited his success to the players who have come up through the Clarkston school system.

Up to last season, the Wolves graduated an athlete who went on to play college basketball, he said.

"I've been very fortunate to have had very good kids," the basketball coach said. "It makes my job a lot easier."

Fife, a CHS and University of Michigan graduate, became involved in coaching after his five-year stay in the major leagues playing baseball. His first stop was at U-M. He spent three years as an assistant coach for the Wolverines.

Fife decided to step down from the college position because the travel time during the season kept him away from his growing family.

He returned to Clarkston and purchased Spring Lake Country Club so he could settle down and be with them.

It was only a matter of time before the yearning to return to coaching called. "I wanted to be involved," he said.

Time out

My view

Peter Auchter

My viewpoint is biased, I admit, but I want to get in my two cents worth on sports and the millage issue for Clarkston schools.

I'm concerned about the program should the millage fail for the third time on June 13. I'm concerned that much damage to the school system's reputation will be done before voters see the light.

I like sports at CHS. It's my job to cover the athletic events. But it's also more than that. I enjoy watching them play - win or lose. I'm also just as sure the kids enjoying playing as much as I like watching.

When I was in high school (I graduated in 1983) I didn't participate in any organized sports or many after-school activities. My one joy was writing, but there were no related activities at school. The newspaper was canceled when the teacher-adviser was laid off due to a millage failure.

Looking back, now I realize I should have found some other activity to fill up the hours after school. I would have made my high school days a little bit more bearable and a lot more enjoyable.

Extracurricular activities are to school what spices are to food - they enrich the experience.

When I went off to college, all the extras were there and I started having fun. I also started meeting a lot of new and interesting people I wouldn't have if I hadn't gotten involved.

I don't see any of those people from my early college days anymore - we have all gone our separate ways - but I can't help thinking of them every once and a while and laughing. As the saying goes, they taught me things you can't learn from books.

If the millage fails, Clarkston High School students will have a hard time learning things they do teach in books. The money won't be there to provide everyone with a copy, let alone get updated versions of texts.

Granted, I don't live here and don't pay taxes here, but I do work here and I have grown attached to the area.

When I was going to high school, I had the choice to participate or not in after-school activities such as sports.

My choice, at that time, was to sit on my butt and do nothing. Today, I realize it was a major mistake. If I could do it all over again, I would get involved. But I can't.

I admit, it's totally my fault. But if the Clarkston millage fails, kids won't have a legitimate chance to make that decision for themselves.

Without after-school activities, all the Clarkston kids will have is a one-sided education.

They will have no idea what it's like to work in groups for a common goal in a competitive atmosphere.

Hmmm, that sounds like what the real world is all about to me. What do you think?

Let the kids of Clarkston know your answer at the polls June 13.

We do care

Our answer to this one is simple, probably too simple, because we are not professional. (You must have professionals today for everything.)

Let's put some common sense back into running our schools. Get some realistic long-term plans. We have a big mess right now. The millage passing would be a Band-Aid approach. In a couple of years they would need more. We have to keep the horse before the cart and not sign contracts before the money is there to pay for them!

Money alone will not guarantee a good education for our children. We need cooperation among everyone, school board, teachers, bus drivers, taxpayers, etc. We have to start with trust. Put the complete facts on the table, not just what you want us to know.

Let it be known that we do care about kids! We would like to see fairness for everyone, above all the kids. Aren't they what this is all about?

More than books

As a graduating senior at Clarkston High School, I am aware of the upcoming millage election. Passage is necessary to continue many existing programs.

Clarkston has always been known for its excellent athletic program. Fortunately, I have been a participant in this program.

Sports are not only enjoyable for the students but also teach valuable moral lessons, especially in how to become both a gracious winner and loser.

Another fine program of the Clarkston school system is the music and drama department. Over the years, many talented students have benefited from the music program and have provided the community with many hours of entertainment.

One of Clarkston High School's biggest accomplishments each year is the production of a spring musical.

Chances that this great tradition will continue are quickly becoming slim. There have already been some music classes eliminated from the junior high schools and a few from Clarkston High School.

In order for these programs to continue to help enrich the students in the Clarkston community, people need to get out and vote "yes" in the spring millage election.

Education is more than academic classrooms and books. The younger generation needs your support; please give them a complete education.

Go for excellence

In reviewing all of the so-called Pro and Con letters published regarding the millage, the cost and what it can or can't do for each one of us, I am reminded of the words of a young president, the first born in our century.

He said with great clarity and challenge to us all, "Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country."

Those were wonderful and exciting times, everything and anything seemed possible and we as a nation and a people took up his challenge, we were blessed for 1,000 days.

There really were "new frontiers" - the Peace Corps, a rare Latin American policy, nuclear atmospheric test bans, a national commitment to educational excellence, a successful conclusion to the Cuban missile crisis and a commitment to land a man on the moon in his decade - which was done posthumously.

All of the above were possible because people cared, they did not calculate a dollar value for these efforts or call to duty, they knew it was right and they said "yes" and everything became possible.

Clarkston is a microcosm of the United States and the world. We have an opportunity on June 13 to tell our schools what we can and will do for them by saying an overwhelming YES to our millage.

Let us not stop there but begin by volunteering for committees, workshops, boosters, assistant coaching and on and on until they know that the word has gone forth, that we are prepared to go any place, pay any price, make any sacrifice to bring excellence to our children and community so that they may make that "dream" live again.

Please vote "YES" June 13 and then ask your schools what else you can do for them.

James A. O'Neill, M.D.

Another solution

A millage vote will be coming up soon. In light of this, I'd like to point out a few facts.

Cost of education has skyrocketed in the last 15 years. In 1973 the national average for educating a student was around $750 per year. Now it is close to $4,000 per student per year.

Part of this is due to increases in salaries, but a great deal has to do with the unbelievable increase in non-teaching personnel. According to a study done by William Bennett, U.S. Secretary of Education, non-teaching personnel, or "the blob" as he puts it, has increased 600% percent while teaching staff has only increased by 66 percent and administrative staff by 151 percent.

Instead of telling the kids they will no longer have sports or band, why not eliminate some of the non-teaching personnel? Eliminate those persons who only service a small number of the school population.

Getting rid of these staff members would not be as harmful to the students as eliminating their sports and band and increasing class sizes because you cut the teaching staff. I'm sure we could also operate with fewer administrators.

It appalls me that in light of the current financial situation the district can hire a superintendent at a salary package of $90,000 plus.

I think it is time public education get its priorities in order and put its monies where they will be most beneficial to the students. Public education is very inefficient and I'm sure if we made an attempt to make it more efficient we could save taxpayers a lot of money.

I find it most disturbing that the cost of education continues to escalate, yet this generation of children is the first to be less educated than their parents.

Alcohol messages

We, members of AWARE, offer our congratulations to those graduating this year. We respect all the hard work that has gone into your graduation.

We offer our congratulations also to the parents of this year's graduates. You have reason to be proud of the work done by your sons and daughters.

In this season when open houses help us celebrate the pride we feel in our graduates, we of AWARE urge you to use wisdom in planning your celebrations. It would be inappropriate to mark a major step into adult responsibility by acting irresponsibly.

Graduates, take advantage of the post-graduation party at Deer Lake Racquet Club. Let the community demonstrate its pride in and care for you.

To those planning open houses or other parties, we urge you to have alcohol-free celebrations.

We've heard the reasons given for having alcohol and urge you to think carefully about what is really being said.

1. "We will only serve it to the adults." This is legal, but is it the most responsible attitude? It reinforces the idea that to have a good time, adults need to have alcohol available. It also says to the graduates that their achievement alone is not sufficient for older adults to have a good time.

Let's honor the graduates by the joy we take simply in their accomplishment and by the responsible example we set for them.

Teacher resigns

A teacher who was suspended with pay pending the outcome of tenure hearings resigned from the Clarkston school district on May 27.

The tenure hearings, five of which had been held, were based on charges by a former student that the teacher engaged in an "improper, inappropriate sexual relationship" when she was 16 years old. In a written complaint dated Jan. 18, the former student stated that the sexual relationship took place during the 1981-82 school year.

Because the teacher's resignation has been accepted by the Clarkston Board of Education, the hearings have now been terminated.

The tenure hearings were initiated in February. In a letter dated Feb. 22 to the school board secretary, Superintendent Milford Mason recommended that the board proceed to a hearing to determine the truth or falsity of the charges and to discharge the teacher "if the charges are true."

The hearings were held under the tenure law of Michigan, which protects teachers from unreasonable dismissal. The hearings were closed, per the teacher's request, as allowed under the Michigan Open Meetings Act when public bodies discuss personnel matters.

Mason said the resignation was received and accepted by the board on May 27 and declined further comment.

Springfield official decides not to run

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff writer

Patricia Kramer, who has been treasurer in Springfield Township since 1974, is not seeking re-election this fall.

Kramer, a Republican, said, "Because of health reasons, I can't work full-time, and I feel it is a full-time job."

She said she didn't think it was fair to the township to consider the position of treasurer as a part-time job. "It was a tough decision not to run for re-election," she added.

Three people have filed petitions to run for the open treasurer's position.

Lois Stiles, currently the deputy treasurer of Springfield Township, and Ruth Ann Hines, currently a township board trustee, will fight for the Republican nomination in August.

Injury leads to career goal for honors grad

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

When Mary Blachura woke up after her left foot was nearly severed in a terrible accident two years ago, she told her mother to let the cheerleading coach know that she would be "out for a couple of weeks."

It wasn't that Mary didn't understand the severity of her injuries. She did. It's just that she "never thought it wouldn't be OK," she says.

It's that kind of intrepid spirit that took her through 10 surgeries, kept her on the honor roll throughout her junior year even though she missed most of the school year and has her plotting a college course that will someday make her a physical therapist. She's gotten to know a lot of them in the last two years.

Mary will graduate cum laude from Our Lady of the Lakes in Waterford on June 12. An Orion Township resident with a Clarkston mailing address, she has attended that school since first grade. She has participated in sports and is a member of the cheerleading squad.

She is also a member of the National Honor Society, was cited by the Society of Women Engineers for outstanding math and science and earned a Michigan State competitive scholarship based on her ACT scores.

But Mary's active school life took a drastic turn on a quiet country road in June of 1986, about a month before her sixteenth birthday.

She was riding behind a friend on an all-terrain vehicle on a gravel road when they were struck by a car. The car hit her leg, nearly severing the bottom half.

She lost the majority of the tissue around her left ankle, had multiple fractures and lost one artery. Of the two main arteries remaining, only one was working, barely.

She was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac and transferred to Harper Hospital in Detroit for reconstructive surgery the next day. During the first surgery, the large bone and the skin tissue were reconstructed.

She spent three weeks in the hospital and the rest of the summer at home, "not doing much," she says. The second surgery, to reconstruct the smaller bone, was not scheduled until October.

So she went back to school in August, cheerleading in a full-leg, non-weight-bearing cast, complete with metal rods in her leg sticking out the sides of it.

"After talking to all of (my physical therapists), I really thought that's the type of job I want to do. Many have already had accidents, too, and know what it's like."

"I would hop out there without my crutches to cheer, and then hop back," she says.

After the second surgery that fall, she developed osteomyelitis, a bone infection and a chronic disease she will always have, even though it is now dormant.

She entered Henry Ford Hospital and was in isolation because of the infection for about five weeks. Because she needed constant IVs, they implanted a broviac catheter in her and she was trained to do her own IVs.

The orthopedic surgeon wanted the metal left in her leg. The infectious disease doctor wanted it out. Her own body made the decision for them by rejecting the metal.

"I had to go back in the hospital when the metal started coming out of my leg by itself," Mary recalls.

She had been home about long enough to enjoy the Christmas holidays with her parents, Leon and Barbara Blachura, and her sisters, Sue Blachura and Kathy and Colleen Hammond. Now, she was headed back to the hospital for another lengthy stay, this time for three months.

At Henry Ford, they removed all the metal from her leg and left the leg open with the bone exposed while it healed. They also did a bone graft from her hip. Eventually, they put her into a walking cast.

By this time, it was too late to go back to school full time. She had kept up with her studies through a tutor who delivered assignments from teachers to her hospital bed. And though she never attended regular classroom lectures, she maintained a 3.8 grade point average her junior year.

"The teachers really went out of their way to help her," Barbara says.

Since it was too late for her own classes when she got out of the hospital that spring, she tutored younger pupils at Our Lady of the Lakes instead.

She was in the cast until May and was told she would probably go to physical therapy. But before the official therapy began, she started her own.

"I just started walking and exercising it," she says. "I didn't want to miss out on cheering again (in my senior year)."

Her senior year was more normal, she says. She didn't have further surgery, though she still faces more cosmetic and reconstructive surgery on her left leg. Doctors decided the risk was too great at this time.

Throughout her hospital stays, Mary says she got to talk to a lot of physical therapists.

"After talking to all of them, I really thought that's the type of job I want to do," Mary says. "Many have already had accidents, too, and know what it's like."

She will attend Grand Valley State near Grand Rapids this fall, because she says "they are the best in the state for physical therapy school."

After three years of regular college, Mary will apply for the physical therapy school. She says only 42 will be accepted the year she applies, and she hopes to be one of them.

After three more years of school, she will have a master's degree in physical therapy. (A master's degree is mandatory in Michigan for physical therapists, she says.)

Mary says she would like to minor in sports training and work in a sports-related field.

After interacting with physical therapists throughout her ordeal, Mary thinks that she, like many others who have been injured before entering the physical therapy field, will be better at her job because of it.

"I see people differently now," she says. Her mother adds, "I think it's made her more compassionate for others who are hurt."

Senior will

By the time you read this article, a very special day will be close at hand, or maybe it will have passed. No matter.

The day is June 10, and whatever the case, high school is over for the Graduating Class of Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Eight.

All that is left is the formality of graduation and the hoopla sure to follow. Everything else is done. They say the opera ain't over 'til the fat lady sings. Well, here in Clarkston, she's all out of breath.

As a soon-to-be former senior of CHS, I'd like to take this time to share with you my very own senior will; what I would, if I could, leave behind to my beloved alma mater and those within it.

So without further ado, please be seated. The reading is about to begin. "It's really a pity, too; you know, he looked so young."

I, David Kwasnick, graduating senior of diminished mind but great body do hereby bequeath the following: First and most importantly, I leave the entire Clarkston school district a successfully passed millage. I enjoyed my senior year; I hope others have this same opportunity.

For the administrators:

To Dr. Burek, I give you your very own home in Clarkston. It's awfully tough to be a principal from Grand Blanc.

To Ms. Gabier, well, this one's simple. I leave the hope that the corruption of high school is never conquered, lest she may have nothing to do. Happy hunting!

To Mr. Cooley, I leave an indirect gift - sign language lessons for the entire student body. This way they may now understand what you are saying with all those interesting hand motions during gym assemblies.

Ever seen anyone talk with his hands? Well, Mr. Cooley shouts with his.

For Clarkston varsity football coaches and cops, K.R. Richardson and "Mad Dog" Pierson;

To Coach Richardson, I leave continued GOAL championship teams and the satisfaction of being able to watch from the sidelines as they sweat on August afternoons.

To Coach Pierson, I leave the undying fear of every football player who has ever seen flashing blue lights in his rearview mirror late on a Saturday night.

For selected teachers:

To Mr. Rosso, self-described government teacher of the highest caliber, I leave students who really want to learn about government at 7:30 a.m. - or the rest of the day, for that matter.

To Mr. Ashmore, I leave comfort in the thought that I will not be in one of your computer science classes ever again. So computers aren't one of my strong points!

To Mrs. Denstaedt, I leave the title most befitting of your teaching style - high school professor.

To Miss Craig, student council adviser, I leave sainthood, as long as it doesn't come by martyrdom. And judging from the group you have to contend with, it just might.

Finally, to my beloved Professeur de Francais, Mrs. Arend, I leave several things. First, I leave my solemn promise that no, I in no way had a hand in stealing your French flag or typewriter, contrary to popular belief. Next, I leave a towel with which to dry your tears upon my departure. And finally, I leave you my word that, yes, I shall return. Scary, isn't it?

So ends the senior will of David Kwasnick, G.I.P.

What's Cooking

Pat Young

Tasty beef 'n' cabbage

This recipe is a special request of someone who loves cabbage rolls.

They are easy to make, and ideal this time of year if you want a hot meal, but not a hot kitchen, because they cook in a covered pan on the stove top, not in the oven. And you can save the rest of the cabbage for a cool coleslaw the next day.

STUFFED CABBAGE ROLLS

- 8 large cabbage leaves
- 1 pound lean ground beef
- 1 cup cooked rice
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup

Cook cabbage leaves in boiling salted water for a few minutes to soften, then drain and set aside. Combine beef, rice, onion, egg, salt and pepper with 2 tablespoons of the soup. (Add other fresh herbs or spices as desired.)

Divide meat mixture among cabbage leaves; roll and secure with toothpicks or string. Place cabbage rolls in skillet and pour remaining soup over.

Cook, covered, over low heat about 40 minutes. Stir often, spooning sauce over the rolls. Makes four servings.

Loehne, Johnson exchange their vows

Teresa Lynn Loehne and Erik James Johnson were united in marriage recently at St. Daniel Catholic Church, Clarkston.

The Rev. Charles Cushing performed the double-ring ceremony at 7 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Larry and Judy Loehne of Allen Hill Court, Independence Township. A 1986 graduate of Clarkston High School, she is employed by the 1st Maryland Mortgage Co. as a loan processor.

The bridegroom's parents are James and Gayanne Johnson of Clarkston Road, Clarkston. A 1986 graduate of Clarkston High School, he is serving in the United States Army as a medical laboratory technician.

For her March 25 wedding, the bride wore an iridescent crystalline organza gown with an open neckline, short fluted ruffle sleeves and a satin bodice with hand-sewn pearls and sequins. Fluted ruffles adorned the front panel of the skirt and the cathedral train.

Maid of honor was JoAnne E. Loehne of Sterling Heights. She wore a gown fashioned from emerald green lame.

Bridesmaids were Karen Dubre, cousin of the bride; Heather Johnson, sister of the bridegroom; Dawn Karjenki; and Charlene Cervantes.

Cousins of the bride Jamie Tuson and Eric S. Tuson served as junior bridesmaid and junior groomsman.

Best man was Eric Hofer. Groomsmen were Joseph Dubre, the bride's cousin; Larry J. Loehne, the bride's brother; Scott Wilson; and Randy Hetherington.

The reception was at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Maybee Road in Independence Township. Out-of-town guests from Texas, Iowa and Minnesota were in attendance.

The newlyweds are residing in Laurel, Md.

NEWLYWEDS: Teresa and Erik Johnson.

Langs celebrate 50th

Case and Katherine Lang of Waterford Township will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on June 18. Married in Pontiac, they have resided in Waterford Township all 50 years of their marriage. They are the parents of eight children, half of whom reside in the Clarkston area; 22 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild. The family plans to gather for the occasion.

Turks are golden

Willard and Margaret Turk, King Road residents in Springfield Township, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on May 29.

Their children and grandchildren honored them with a luncheon in the American Legion Hall on M-15, Independence Township. The 2:30 p.m. celebration was attended by about 100 friends and family members, including Willard's 96-year-old aunt, Anna Montroy of Detroit.

The Turks were married on May 29, 1938, in Corunna, Mich.

They have six children, Margaret Willis, Amanda Chandler, Willard Jr., Michael, Chris and Carol Turk. They also have 16 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Grads

Jeri DeShetler was graduated with honors from Nazareth College with a bachelor's degree in nursing.

A 1981 graduate of Clarkston High School, she is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital on the critical care/emergency room floor.

Sonya Funck graduates June 11 from the University of California, Santa Cruz, Calif., with a bachelor's degree in computer science.

She is employed by Metaware in Santa Cruz as a software engineer.

A 1982 graduate of Clarkston High School, she is the daughter of Glenn and Gwen Funck of Independence Drive, Independence Township.

Reed Palmer Swanson, a Clarkston area resident, received a bachelor's degree in political science May 8 at Methodist College in Fayetteville, N.C.

Clarkston area residents Shane R. Murton and Thomas J. Fenbert were among the 258 students who were graduated May 22 from Brother Rice High School, Birmingham.

Honors

MAINTAINING A 4.013 grade point average at Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes High School, Independence Township resident Jennifer DaKroub is to be one of three valedictorians at the June 12 commencement exercises. During her senior year, Jennifer was the Waterford Junior Miss and a member of National Honor Society, Student Council, the French Club, Drama Club, Debate Team and Forensics Team. She is also the recipient of the $500 Karen Wise Memorial Scholarship, a $100 U.S. Treasury Bond from the VFW Voice of Democracy and a $3,000 grant from Smith College, Northampton, Mass., where she plans to attend school in the fall.

James F. Bohl Jr. of Pine Knob Road, Independence Township, has been awarded a Community College Scholarship by the University of Michigan.

The $500 merit-based scholarship is one of sixty awarded in recognition of outstanding achievement by students who attend Michigan's public two-year colleges and transfer to the U-M's Ann Arbor campus.

Bohl has been a student at Oakland Community College.

Eaura M. Bruce is on the dean's list for the winter term at Michigan State University.

The 1986 graduate of Clarkston High School is attending the Lyman Briggs School, College of Natural Sciences at MSU.

Her parents are Tom and June Bruce of Ashare Court, Independence Township.

In service

Marine Cpl. Todd E. Collins and his wife, Marine Cpl. Patricia M. Kmiecik, reported for duty recently with the 2nd Force Service Support Group, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Collins is the son of Alfred and Joan Collins of Pine Knob Road, Independence Township.

Kmiecik joined the Marine Corps in November 1982. Collins is a 1980 graduate of Clarkston High School.

Golden celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Sage of Oxford celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary May 15 at the Oxford Hills Country Club. They were honored by their children, Jim Sage of Ohio and Neal and Karen Sage of Clarkston, and grandchildren, Terri, Kevin, Stephanie and David. The Sages were married May 14, 1938, in Pontiac. They have resided in Oxford since 1938.

Photo accolades

A Clarkston area resident is a third-place winner in the Summit Place "Exposure '88" photography contest, on display at the mall through Sunday, June 12.

The annual competition and show is co-sponsored by the amateur photographer group, Pontiac Photographic Society.

Summit Place, at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Roads, Waterford Township, is open daily from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sundays from noon to 5 p.m.

Legal aid for seniors

Have a question about your will, disability, housing issues or family problems? Free legal help is available to senior citizens in Oakland County.

Persons 60 years old or older are eligible for the free service, but a donation is requested.

The service, provided by Oakland Livingston Legal Aid, includes advice and counsel, referral, representations, negotiations and legal education and is paid for by the Area Agency on Aging.

For more information, call 548-8171 or write Oakland Livingston Legal Aide, 8430 W. 9 Mile Road, Oak Park, MI 48237.

Kiku Johnson, painted ceiling tiles. Art instructor Sally Lindeman said the art project will be ongoing, with future students adding more artistic tiles to the school's ceilings.

DWIGHT SPIKER FOR SCHOOL BOARD TRUSTEE

Dwight Spiker is a 22 year resident of Clarkston. He is married and has two children who have graduated from the Clarkston School System. He is an Independence Township Firefighter and Past President of the Volunteer Firefighters Association. He is the current president of the Clarkston Athletic Boosters Club. Even with all his varied interests he finds time to attend every school board meeting.

"Because of my continual attendance, I see the need for the community to develop a long range plan to insure our children a proper education. I also realize the Board of Education needs to change. New people are needed who are willing to work with the community through the Board of Education to make our schools quality places to learn. I feel that with a clear and concise plan, we, as a community, can accomplish this goal."

This handsome, black and tan doberman pincher was left on the doorstep of the Michigan Humane Society recently. They named him Ruffian, but that has nothing to do with his personality.

Ruffian has an excellent temperament. He is easy going, friendly to everyone, well mannered and housebroken. He is 3 years old and would need to be neutered before leaving the shelter.

Ruffian can be adopted at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The adoption fee for Ruffian is $30, plus a $35 neutering fee.

Remember When The Family Doctor Was Like Part Of The Family?

Remember what it was like when you had a family doctor? When you needed to see him — for whatever reason — he greeted you by name. He took the time to listen to you and explain things. And even as a child, you felt at ease and comfortable.

Those things you liked so much about the family physician are alive and well at MercyCare.

MercyCare Family Medical Center combines modern medicine with an old-fashioned concern for the patient. We offer diagnostic services on site and flexible hours to match your schedule.

If there's a need for more specialized care, you can be referred directly to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital-Pontiac and its staff of 450 physicians and 42 medical specialties.

When you choose your medical care, come to MercyCare Family Medical Center.

Odettes exchange vows on site of home-to-be

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Music was provided by the birds and the wind softly rustling the leaves. Mother Nature provided the decorations - a green canopy of tree limbs and a blanket of wild groundcover where the couple plan to build their home.

Such was the scene for the wedding of Michael Odette and Geri Bentfield on June 3, as they said their vows on the 2 1/2-acre lot they purchased in Cedar Valley Estates, east of Dixie Highway in Springfield Township.

They met 10 years ago when Mike was a police officer and Geri was a nurse. Mike is now an attorney, with his practice located in Oakhill Plaza on Dixie Highway, which he helped develop. Geri is his secretary.

"I just liked the setting," Geri says when asked why they chose to marry on their vacant lot. "We thought it would be a good idea, because it's where we are going to build our first home. It's pretty back in there."

The setting was natural, but everything else about the wedding was traditional.

Geri made her tea-length dress (she was afraid a long dress would drag on the ground), and carried a bouquet of roses, carnations, baby's breath and ivy. The men were in pastel tuxedos.

Judge Gerald McNally of the 52nd District Court married the couple, while a cluster of family and friends looked on.

Mike's son, Michael Jr., was the best man, and his younger son, Nick, was ring bearer. Maid of honor was Debbie Bastedo, Geri's best friend, and Debbie's daughter, Lexi, was flower girl. Mike's daughter, Amy, was bridesmaid.

Mike's parents, Louis and Betty Odette, came up from Georgia to attend. Geri's father and stepmother, Robert and Janet Wolfe of Waterford, were also there. Geri's mother and stepfather, Willa and Bobby Gardner of Florida, will watch the wedding later on a video taken

MICHAEL ODETTE and Geri Bentfield were married June 3 on the lot where they plan to build. Judge Gerald McNally (center) performed the ceremony. Young Nick Odette was ring bearer, Mike Jr. (left) was best man, and Amy Odette (right) was bridesmaid.

by family at the wedding.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party went across the street to the Old House Inn on Dixie Highway for a dinner reception. Geri planned the reception with the help of Inn owner Wanda Rothermel.

The Odettes will begin building their new home in Cedar Valley Estates next month, on the same spot where they were married.

"It's the first thing we bought together," Mike says, "And it's where we started our new life together."

Town Hall series has variety galore

Five speakers on five diverse topics have been selected for the Pontiac Town Hall 1988-89 Celebrity Series.

The October through March appearances are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. at Roma's of Bloomfield, 2101 S. Telegraph.

Pamela Mason opens the series Oct. 12 with "Now, That's Entertainment." An actress and author, she was married to the late film star James Mason.

Arthur Frommer will reveal "New Ideas in Travel" on Nov. 9. He is best known for his travel guide series, which began with "Europe on $5 a Day" (now "$25 a Day").

John Gross, a Channel 7 WXYZ-TV sports reporter, will talk about success and motivation. His topic is "It's a Fourth Down and You Have a Lifetime to Go."

Lorna Kelly, America's first woman art auctioneer, will share anecdotes about her years at Sotheby's auction house in New York and about her work with Mother Theresa in the slums of Calcutta. The lecture, planned Feb. 8, is titled "From Riches to Rags and Beyond."

Helen Thomas' topic on March 15 will be "The First One Hundred Days of the New Administration." The United Press International's Chief White House Correspondent has been covering presidents since Kennedy in 1961.

A network of volunteers has planned the lectures and luncheons. The non-profit group uses the proceeds to benefit other educational and cultural organizations.

Tickets are $37.50 for the five programs. They may be purchased by sending a check and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall, P.O. Box 1889, Pontiac, MI 48056.

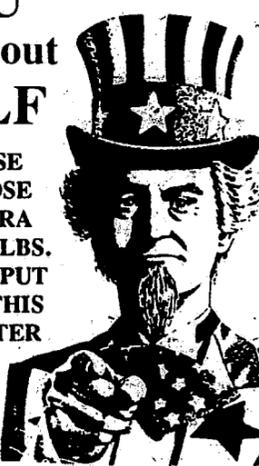

Celebrity Luncheons follow the lectures, at a cost of $8 each, with reservations limited to season ticket holders. Call 673-8506 for more information.

Michigan Bell Service Bulletin

Important: Action you must take if your phone number begins with

623 or 625.

Now you have a choice of long distance companies for Dial 1 Plus service.
Don't leave that choice to chance.

Watch the mail and make your choice soon.

If you have not already received it, you soon will be getting complete information from Michigan Bell by mail, along with a ballot listing your choices of Dial 1 Plus long distance companies. Your Dial 1 Plus options and the steps you should take are described in detail. And you will be given the date by which you must make your selection to avoid having a long distance company randomly selected for you.

If your phone number does not begin with one of the numbers above, don't worry. You will be notified when your area is ready for Dial 1 Plus service.

What is Dial 1 Plus?

Dial 1 Plus is simply dialing "1," plus the area code (when necessary), plus the telephone number to complete a long distance call outside of your LATA. Companies offering long distance service can now offer you the same Dial 1 Plus service previously available only to customers of AT&T.

Don't give up your right to choose.

As part of the restructuring of the telephone industry, you must choose a company for Dial 1 Plus service or such a company will be chosen for you. Should this happen, it will be a random selection by computer. We urge you to make your own choice—because a company selected at random will not necessarily be one that best serves your specific needs. The information you receive will include telephone numbers for the various long distance companies, so you can easily look into their services and charges before you make your choice.

Need more help? Let's Talk!

Michigan Bell cannot recommend a long distance company, but if you have any questions about Dial 1 Plus service, or if you have misplaced the ballot we mailed, just call the Michigan Bell Let's Talk Center at this toll-free number:

Jennifer Radcliff's election as president of the Michigan Historic District Network (MHDN) was a natural outgrowth of her growing interest in history and historic preservation.

The Main Street, Clarkston, resident is past president of the Clarkston Community Historical Society and a past board member of the MHDN.

"I was very honored that they asked me to be president," she said. "It's so pleasant to work with people who are already committed to the cause of preservation."

The MHDN is comprised of representatives from about 35 communities, plus about 200 other members, and the network allows the sharing of ideas and information, she said.

Radcliff has enjoyed learning about Clarkston as well as other communities.

"Each community reflects its own history and its own geography," she said, mentioning roads built around hills or lakes or on top of Indian trails.

"Each town is very different. They are similar in that most of them have the same limitations we do. There is limited growth so they have to work with what they have. They found it difficult to compete with strip malls," she said. "They have to keep that pride in being unique. Their major resource is their architecture and their history."

Radcliff first became involved in historic preservation because she was curious about Clarkston.

One of her first projects in the Clarkston historical society was the collection of old photos that became a book called "Heritage" and was sold for the bicentennial celebration.

Since then, historic preservation in Clarkston and in Michigan has come a long way, she said, mentioning past tendencies in the midwest to discard land and start over.

"If you had a lot of money and a bulldozer, you were listened to," she said. "Now preservation is a worthy goal and an economic tool."

"We're finally coming to terms with it. There is an end to how far you can sprawl out. ... It is an exciting time for preservation because there is so much going on. Preservation does not only concern architecture, she said, adding wildlife, lakes, plants and the air should also be considered.

Radcliff praised the Clarkston community for their efforts in preservation so far.

"I was very honored that they asked me to be president. It's so pleasant to work with people who are already committed to the cause of preservation."

Jennifer Radcliff

"The current mood in Clarkston with this village council and the new historic commission gives them an opportunity to join the movement toward preservation," she said. "They have their work cut out, and I wish them god's speed. They are in a perfect position to set the tone for future generations."

Her preservation advice to residents and developers is simple: "Treat it like the jewel it is."

"THE RESOURCES that went into building these structures are not replaceable. We cannot even find the lumber," says Jennifer Radcliff, who adds that unique architecture can add to a town's economic health and can contribute to community pride.

She could be Miss Grand Prix

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A familiar face will appear during the festivities at the Detroit Grand Prix this year.

Lisa Richardson, a 22-year-old Independence Township resident, is a semi-finalist in the seventh annual Miss Grand Prix Beauty Pageant to be held Wednesday, June 15.

The Lancaster Lake Court resident is a 1983 Oxford High School graduate and has been modeling since age 15.

From September through May, Lisa narrates and models for Chrysler Motors, so she travels all over the country with automotive shows.

The Grand Prix pageant is a good way to compete when she's not working for Chrysler, she said.

"This pageant is run very well. It's very prestigious," she said. "It's a good opportunity to meet people and make friends. You just have fun."

She and the 100 other women will be judged on beauty, personality, poise and a judge's interview, all of which Lisa considers good experience.

"You can set a goal and feel good about yourself and what you've done," she said.

Plus, the prizes are good. The winner will receive Isuzu Impulse for one year, a full-length mink coat, a trip for two to the Bahamas, a full modeling/acting scholarship, a $1,500 14-karat solid gold Movado watch, an all-expense-paid trip to the 1989 Grammy Awards Ceremony and a promotional modeling contract with Metro 25 Car Care Centers, which sponsors the pageant.

When she's not working, Lisa likes to relax, ride her bike, swim and work out - but she loves her work.

"It's really fun, and it's really good money," she said.

Obituary

Phyllis King Robinson

Phyllis King Robinson, former resident of Clarkston and recently of Venice, Fla., died early Saturday morning, June 4, of complications following heart surgery.

Born in Detroit on Dec. 5, 1912, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. King, a graduate of Central Michigan University, wife of Charles W. Robinson and mother of Kay Phyllis Robinson, Georgia King Woolston, Charles King Robinson and Isabel King Harwood.

While raising the children, Mrs. Robinson was active in the Clarkston Garden Club, Rotariannes, Clarkston Village Players and various other civic organizations.

A teacher in Clarkston public schools for almost 25 years, she taught kindergarten from the 1950s to 1970s.

After retiring in Venice, Fla., in 1973 with her husband, she involved herself in developing many Venice social events. She was an active member and volunteer at Trinity Presbyterian Church in Venice.

She was preceded in death by her daughter Kay Phyllis and is survived by her husband, her sister, Isabel Bullen of Venice, three children, nine grandchildren, and many relatives and friends.

A memorial service will be held July 14 at 11 a.m. at Calvary Lutheran Church, 6805 Bluegrass, Independence Township, with the Rev. Robert Walters officiating. Memorials may be made to Clarkston Community Schools.

Charter Township of Independence NOTICE

NOTICE OF PROCEEDINGS TO DETERMINE PUBLIC HIGHWAY

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the Charter Township of Independence, Oakland County, Michigan, acting upon Petition of 51% or more of the property owners along Westview Road, between Maybee Road and Pine Knob Road, and upon the written consent of the Oakland County Board of Road Commissioners, has commenced a circuit court action, entitled the Complaint of the Charter Township of Independence for Adjudication that Westview Road, between Maybee Road and Pine Knob Road, is a Public Highway, Oakland County Circuit Court Case No. 88-349858-CZ, seeking a determination by the Court that Westview Road, between Maybee Road and Pine Knob Road, in Independence Township, is a public highway. The road in question is situated in the northeast one-quarter of Section 35, in Supervisor's Plat No. 6 of Independence Township.

An Order for Hearing was entered by the Court setting a hearing in this case for: June 29, 1988, at 8:30 o'clock in the morning before the Honorable Richard D. Kuhn. At such hearing, if there are no objections to the Petition, the Court will be requested to enter Judgment determining that Westview Road, between Maybee Road and Pine Knob Road, is a public highway, and further determining the length and boundaries of such public highway.

A copy of the Complaint filed in the case may be examined at the offices of Richard A. Holman, Clerk, Charter Township of Independence, 90-N. Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan.

Myth: Barking dogs don't bite.
Reality: All dogs bite, and last year, more than 3,000 bit letter carriers. You can lose your home delivery if your dog is allowed to run loose. And if it bites a carrier or other person, you can be held liable for damages. So please, protect your pet, yourself, your letter carrier and your community. Keep your pets fenced or securely leashed.

H. Radcliff said his taxes went up 34% last year. J. Radcliff feels the businesses should stay open two nights a week to draw people into town after they get home from work. J. Wilford feels we have to stop talking town and form a Professional Advisory Group to look into making the Business District work.

K. Downing, NBD, said there are rumors of several old businesses leaving the Village. These should be checked into and the rumors straightened out—before it hurts the Village. Millard said, "Do you want us to start a rumor?"

Clarkston Chamber of Commerce could be approached to take on the Market study of the business district.

K. Downing, NBD, is there an avenue we can take to get the funds for this study?

Millard said maybe the avenue would be the Chamber of Commerce or the Township.

The Public Hearing was closed at 9:27 p.m. The water level of the Mill Pond was discussed by many of the residents that live on the upper and lower Mill Pond. They wanted to know what can be done about the water level. They wanted to know if the Village could try to talk to Mr. Adler and see if we could come to an agreement and get the water level back to what it should be.

President Catallo will call Mr. Adler and Mrs. Roth and try to set up a meeting and try to solve the water problem.

Millard made a motion to direct the attorney to research and compile complaint and accompanying documents for intern and injunctive relief regarding water level control of the Mill Pond; and unless current situation is resolved by Thursday through DNR intervention that the Attorney be authorized to file suit against Adler Investment - (owner of the Mill Pond and Dam). Seconded by Roeser. Roll: 6-Yes. 0-None. Motion carried.

Motion by Millard to grant the use of the Park to North Oaks Community Church on August 14, 1988 as previously requested. Seconded by Haven. Motion carried.

Motion by Roeser to have the Deer Lake Beach fenced on the South side of the road as well as the North side - not to exceed $700.00. Seconded by Symons. Roll: 6-Yes. 0-None. Motion carried.

Roeser made a motion to approve the use of the Park, June 12, 1988 for a Senior Class Party from 12:00-2:00 p.m. - Mr. Terpstar. Seconded by Haven. Motion carried.

Schultz made a motion to let Lisa Keschuck use the park for her wedding, June 18, 1988. Seconded by Millard. Motion carried.

Haven made a motion to let the Jaycees use the Village Hall for their meeting the third Wednesday of every month. Seconded by Millard. Motion carried.

Schultz made a motion to let John Abbott and Company to bring their old cars for display in the park after the fourth of July parade. Seconded by Symons. Motion carried.

Haven made a motion to pay Tim Wice $50.00 for hand delivery of flyers for the Village. Seconded by Catallo. Roll: 6-Yes. 0-None. Motion carried.

Motion by Millard to let St. Daniels close off Valley Park Dr. during the time of the Summer Festival. Seconded by Symons. Motion carried.

Millard would like the Budget Committee to work on DPW hours possible 20 hours—or check on a possible full time person.

Motion by Catallo "That the Village millage rate for the 1988-89 fiscal year be 8.4 mills; 7.4 for General Fund and 1.0 for the Sewer Bond and interest payments fund. This would result in a tax levy of $128,639.38 for the General Fund and $16,695 for the Sewer Bond and interest redemption Fund." Seconded by Schultz. Roll: 6-Yes. 0-None. Motion carried.

Motion by Millard to adjourn at 11:15 p.m. Seconded by Roeser. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Charter Township of Independence PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF PROCEEDINGS TO DETERMINE PUBLIC HIGHWAY

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the Charter Township of Independence, Oakland County, Michigan, acting upon Petition of 51% or more of the property owners along Eastview Road, between Maybee Road and Pine Knob Road, and upon the written consent of the Oakland County Board of Road Commissioners, has commenced a circuit court action, entitled the Complaint of the Charter Township of Independence for Adjudication that Eastview Road, between Maybee Road and Pine Knob Road, is a Public Highway, Oakland County Circuit Court Case No. 88-349857-CZ, seeking a determination by the Court that Eastview Road, between Maybee Road and Pine Knob Road, in Independence Township, is a public highway. The road in question is situated in the northeast one-quarter of Section 35, in Supervisor's Plat No. 6 of Independence Township.

An Order for Hearing was entered by the Court setting a hearing in this case for July 6, 1988, at 8:30 o'clock in the morning before the Honorable Gene Schnetz. At such hearing, if there are no objections to the Petition, the Court will be requested to enter Judgment determining that Eastview Road, between Maybee Road and Pine Knob Road, is a public highway, and further determining the length and boundaries of such public highway.

A copy of the Complaint filed in the case may be examined at the offices of Richard A. Holman, Clerk, Charter Township of Independence, 90 N. Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan.

Richard A. Holman, Clerk

Village of Clarkston

Village of Clarkston minutes of regular meeting, May 23, 1988, 375 Depot Road, Clarkston, Michigan 48016.

Meeting called to order by President Catallo at 7:35 p.m., followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Roll: Present - Schultz, Roeser, Millard, Haven, Symons and Catallo.

Absent - Basinger.

Haven made a motion to approve the minutes as presented. Seconded by Schultz. Motion carried.

The agenda was added to and approved.

The Public Hearing was opened at 7:40 p.m. on problems with the business district. The Village Hall was full with concerned residents. The Cable Company was there to tape the meeting.

Buck Kapietz reported on the Seminar he and John Stuetzer attended on Small Town Business problems. He feels that one-half of retail dollars are lost outside of the community.

John Stuetzer reported on Zoning - if that is the answer to the problem.

Buck Kapietz reported that the retail businesses that are left had a meeting to decide what they had to do to keep businesses in the Village.

Joan Kapietz turned in petitions with over 500 signatures of concerned residents. The petitions read "We the undersigned wish to express our concern over the decline in our Village Business District, and request the Village Council to take positive steps into improving the District for stores and customers."

Susan from the Village Bake Shop felt that rents are too high for small retail businesses.

Mr. Dunlap does not feel the Village is kept up in the Business District. The sidewalks and curbs are in bad shape and the litter is real bad in the downtown area.

D. Howard feels the problem is parking.

Millard from the Council feels we have to educate the public to use the facilities that are available for parking in the Village. We have two lots for parking - one on Depot Road and one on the northwest corner of Washington and M-15.

Mrs. Stone, 26 S. Main, Village Book Store, feels the Zoning and also the parking and the sidewalk decay is the problem people do not shop in the Village anymore.

C. Eberhardt, 6 N. Main, T-Shirt Shop, feels business people should all help each other and try to keep retail in the Village.

K. S.erson, 5 E. Church, has lived in the Village for years and when her family was small she could buy everything she needed right in the Village. Shoes, clothes, groceries, etc. Now there is very little she can buy in the Village because there are not many businesses left.

J. Radcliff, 11 & 16 N. Main St., said she could have rented her building for offices easily, but she wanted retail in the building. She screened all the people that applied before she found the tenants she wanted, which are retail.

B. Kopsack feels that when the Post Office went out and the Bank cut back on its hours, the customers did not come into the Village to shop.

Whitenbury, 175 Glenburnie, one of the owners of the Emporium, feels the retail shops close too early. Also the Mills put gates up so people could not stroll through the Mills.

Plastic surgeon opens office in Independence

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Fanny dela Cruz decided at age six that she wanted to be a doctor.

The decision was formulated in her young mind as she waited with her mother for up to eight hours in a Philippine medical clinic to be seen.

"I decided it must be an interesting field if people wait that long to see them," dela Cruz says. Her life has been geared toward medicine ever since.

What's New in Business

Dela Cruz, M.D., recently opened the Clarkston Plastic Surgery Center at 6825 Dixie Highway (in the offices of Dr. Harvey Rose), where she sees patients every Thursday.

Her main offices, including a complete outpatient surgical suite, are in the West Bloomfield Plastic Surgery Center. She also travels to outlying hospitals to visit patients.

Born in the Philippines, dela Cruz attended the University of the Philippines and graduated in 1967 from medical school. She completed full general surgery training with internal medicine at the Philippine General Hospital, U. of P.

"At that time, they would limit the number of females in training because they felt they would drop out of school and marry," dela Cruz says. "So I had to maintain a high average to get into the school."

Once in the medical school, dela Cruz says she had to remain a college scholar because the school still cut the number of doctors who completed.

When she finished her training, the rest of her family was in America and she was "home alone."

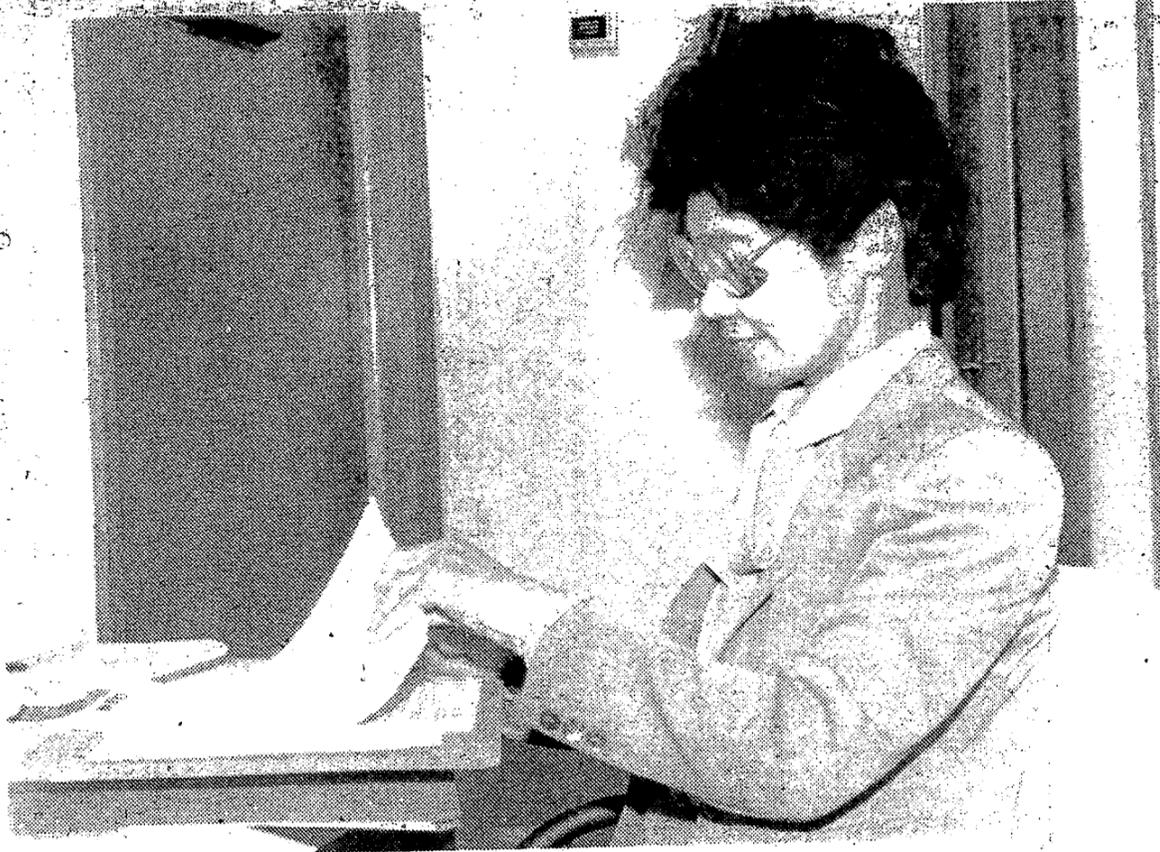

"The political and economic situation was bad there, so I decided to come here," she says.

The Philippines medical school is recognized by the American Medical Association, so she was recognized as an M.D., but she had to repeat residency in her specialized area to become board certified.

She studied general surgery and plastic surgery at Wayne State University in Detroit.

"I like plastic surgery because of the balance of reconstruction and aesthetics," she says. "I like to do something artistic in nature."

Dela Cruz took out a fellowship in cosmetic surgery at Straith Hospital in Southfield and then practiced with the clinic for three years before opening her own practice in West Bloomfield.

DR. FANNY DELA CRUZ, a plastic surgeon, goes over a patient's files in her new medical office at 6825 Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

She is a diplomate of the American Board of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. To maintain her board certification, she constantly attends seminars. She also enjoys lecturing to community groups about her profession and considers that her community service.

She does surgery of the hand as well as reconstructive and cosmetic surgery and says that plastic surgery covers a broad spectrum, including correcting congenital abnormalities or trauma patients after accidents.

But she says one of her favorite areas is breast reconstruction.

"There are many ways to mold a breast for a woman after surgery," she says. "It is very important for a woman, because it is a symbol of her femininity. It affects her psychologically to lose it."

Only a few doctors in Michigan do some of the reconstructive procedures dela Cruz does, such as using the patient's own tissue from the abdominal area to reconstruct the breast.

"I think it is exciting," she says. "It's like two operations in one - a tummy tuck and breast reconstruction at the same time."

One of dela Cruz's biggest goals is to put up a plastic surgery center geared toward women's needs, pulling together all the resources for women under one roof. For example, after a face-lift, a woman would be given a makeover to show her how to project her best self.

"It would be a full actualization, to obtain the fullest potential," she says. "In today's world, you have to look good, stay healthy and be smart."

The Hunter

By Tom Erickson
 Let thy waters
 Touch my brow.
 Ever so gently,
 Let your waters flow,
 Over my body; here and now ...
 Gently, gently washing
 The world's petty realities away.
 Let my sails slip
 Through thy surly grace.
 And
 Let me live, for just a minute;
 In this place.
 With the warmth of the sun
 Upon my face.
 And
 If I should ever die;
 Let me go,
 Within this grace.
 For surely,
 There will be a smile;
 Upon my face ...
 ... Content in just sailing;
 from place to place.

Sky's the limit

LEARNING IN A FUN atmosphere is the goal of the June 6 outdoor classrooms at Clarkston Elementary School. Organized by kindergarten teacher Geri Allison as a project for a graduate course at Oakland University, Rochester, she and teachers Pat Johnson and Maryann Dedrick put the plan into action with parent volunteers. Clockwise from left are: volunteer Pat Breen steadying the wood for Paul Grace; Lauren Giordano, gluing feathers, lace and macaroni; Chris Bolton (left) and Matt Bemlster studying water tricks; and Christy Ann Schroeder, molding homemade clay into bright shapes.
