Autumn stroll

GOLDEN LEAVES of autumn brighten the eight-mile Walk for SCAMP by Karen Beutler of Independence Township, her son Bryon and David VanBibber, a friend of the family from Lapeer. Bryon, who attends the Harrington School in Pontiac, is also a SCAMPer.

Wanted: Armchair sleuths

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A few Miss Marples might help stop the increasing number of break-ins in rural areas of Independence Township, and detectives are hoping area residents will help investigators.

The armchair sleuths don't even have to be established amateur detectives like mystery-writer Agatha Christie's character, but a little information sure would help, said Detective Sgt. Douglas Hummel of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

"We're being hit again," he said. "About three years ago, they were hitting up in the Oakhill, Reese, Allen road areas. And we're getting hit hard again. So far, we don't have a lot to go on."

Criminals struck at two houses around 9:30 a.m. Oct. 17. On Reese Road, an alarm scared them away. On

M-15 north of Rattalee Lake Road, the criminals were successful but were surprised by a sleeping homeowner, said Hummel.

Just a week prior, criminals broke into a house on Oakhill Road, again in the daytime, and again at a house surrounded by trees and difficult to see from the road.

Homes in other rural townships such as Addison, Oakland and Orion are being robbed as well, he said.

The thieves' plays are probably something like this: Randomly knock on a door or ring a doorbell. If someone answers, ask for a Susan Smith (or another name) or ask where she lives or ask for directions to I-75 or to M-15 "or anything that comes to mind," said Hummel.

If no one answers, they break in.

Homeowners can help police by writing down information, such as the make and color of the car, the license plate number and a description of the suspicious people, if anyone comes to their doors.

Hummel suggested keeping a notebook and pencil by the door, and if anything suspicious occurs, write down the information.

"It may be innocent or it may be something," he said. "You may hear later that a neighbor's house was broken into."

The same is true for the car. Keep a pad of paper and a pencil in the car in case a suspicious car or person is seen along the road. Most people know who their neighbors are or know the types of cars and people who live in their neighborhood, he said. Often, the suspicious vehicle is indeed the car used in the crime.

Any information should be reported to the sheriff's department at 858-4960 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. or 858-4950 at other times.

"People should be watching," said Hummel. "It is going on. Right now, we don't have any good, clear suspects on it."

AIDS patients in schools addressed

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

One and a half years after a committee of teachers, administrators and representatives of the Oakland County Health Department first sat down to discuss a communicable disease policy, Clarkston schools have a new, revised policy in place.

The board of education unanimously adopted the revised district Communicable Policy at its October meeting.

"There is so much emotion involved," said William Neff, director of administrative services. "We wanted to get this procedure in workable condition so we could handle a situation before it comes up," especially in light of the publicity serious diseases such as AIDS have received recently.

The district has always had a policy on common diseases such as chicken pox and measles. The symptoms are stated, along with the incubation period and how many days the child should remain out of school. The same policy holds true for staff.

But when it came to serious diseases, the policy wasn't very comprehensive, Neff said. It didn't have a good procedure for diseases such as AIDS or hepatitis.

The revised policy is in accordance with Michigan Health Statutes and with the Michigan Department of Education model on communicable diseases. It also reflects recent court decisions on dealing with communicable diseases.

With more serious diseases, the immediate human outcry was "get them out of here," Neff said. "But we found out that's not the way it happens."

When the committee was laboring on the policy, it was noted that a person with AIDS, for instance, may have been carrying the disease for two years prior to diagnosis. Thus, immediate dismissal from school in a fit of emotion is not the answer.

Clarkston has not yet had a serious case such as AIDS identified, but if it does, the policy is now clear.

If the attending physician says the student or staff member is capable of being in the school, he or she must be permitted to remain while a review takes place.

A review committee would consist of the attending physician, a second physician of the district's choice or from the Oakland County Health Department, a parent or guardian of a student, or in the case of staff, the employee.

The review committee might decide that the student or employee may stay at school, or stay at school in a restricted environment, or that he or she may not return at all. A recommendation would go to the superintendent.

If the decision is that he or she may not return and a parent or employee appeals the decision, the person in

Lower speeds wanted

Two more 25 mph residential speed limits are being set in Springfield Township.

The township board approved residents' petitions, which will be sent to the Oakland County Road Commission, for Rattalee Lake Road from Sherwood to Bigelow Road and for Kier Road on the township line from Oakhill Road to Ellis Road.

Another petition from residents of Big Lake Road from Andersonville Road west to Hillsboro, which is paved, was turned down.

"I cannot see a 25 mile per hour speed limit on that stretch of road," said Supervisor Collin Walls.

Speeding is a problem in the area, he said, and the police could be contacted about ticketing violators.

question must remain out of school until the board of education hears the appeal.

It's a difficult thing and not easily handled even with a policy in place, Neff said. "We're dealing with two different things here, the everyday and the serious disease."

With the serious one, he added, there is bound to be emotion.

Congressman tackles Sashabaw bridge project

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

About $1.2 million in federal money may be used to improve the I-75, Sashabaw Road intersection, but specific plans aren't ready yet, according to state officials.

U.S. Rep. Bob Carr (D-Lansing) said the money from the Federal Highway Trust Fund is extra money to the state. It doesn't take away from anything the state normally receives.

"I've been working with the township officials on this for a while," he said.

Sashabaw Road in Independence Township has needed improvements for a long time, but a Catch-22 situation existed. State highway officials wouldn't widen the bridge unless the road was widened, Carr said, and county road commission officials wouldn't widen the road unless the bridge work was done.

"I thought I would get things off dead center," said Carr. "Now people really ought to turn their attention to the Oakland County Road Commission."

John Baxter, resident engineer from the Michigan Department of Transportation, said he didn't know if the money would be used to widen the bridge or not.

"Right now, we don't know what we're going to do," he said. "We're looking to do something as quick as we can to improve that situation."

Options include widening the Sashabaw bridge over I-75, which would be expensive and would take a long time, or adding ramps. The latter would provide a short-term solution for Pine Knob traffic problems, said Baxter.

A meeting was scheduled Oct. 19 on the use of the money, he said.

John Jay, spokesperson for the Oakland County Road Commission, said all activity so far has been between the state highway department and the township.

He added that the county would probably become involved if the project gets under way.

"At this point, we're not involved and don't know anything about it," he said.

Robbers steal from assistant prosecutor

The assistant Oakland County Prosecutor wasn't immune from the crime in his Deerwood, Independence Township, neighborhood Oct. 13.

Items were stolen from several vehicles last week in the neighborhood off M-15 north of I-75, and a $2,000 cellular phone, owned by Oakland County, was stolen from a county-owned 1988 Pontiac Bonneville in Richard Thompson's driveway, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department report.

Thompson, who won the August primary and will appear on the Nov. 8 ballot as the Republican candidate for county prosecutor, told deputies the crime occurred between 10 p.m. Oct. 12 and 8:45 a.m. Oct. 13.

According to the police report, a slim-Jim was used on the left door to gain entry to the locked vehicle.

The cellular phone company was notified of the theft, and service to the phone was stopped. Unless the microchip is altered, the phone won't work.

Library bond issue is on ballot

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Library patrons were upset when they first heard that the library operating millage request was off the Nov. 8 ballot, said James Hibler, director of the Independence Township Library.

"When some people heard the millage was off the ballot, they were concerned and a little bothered," said Hibler. "They thought that everything connected to the library was off the ballot."

But voters will be asked to approve a bond issue to raise enough money for a library addition. The request for a one-half mill to operate the library was dropped from the ballot when township officials found the ballot wasn't big enough to hold four township issues, four state proposals and one county proposal.

One mill is $1 for every $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

Once they understood, Hibler heard "a sigh of relief" from the library users, he said, adding that someday, the voters will be asked to approve an operating millage.

"I would guess that would come on a future ballot -- something in the next year or two. ... That's up to the township board, but they've been very supportive of both the bond issue and the millage issue," he said.

In the meantime, the library will continue to be funded from the township general fund.

Right now, Hibler and members of the Love My Library committee are working on the bond ballot issue.

At 4,000 square feet, the library is deficient for a community of this size, said Hibler, comparing Independence to Orion Township, a similar size community that recently built a new 29,000-square-foot library.

"We really can't do everything public libraries are doing these days," he said. "Our library is really lacking. ... If we could add another 16,000 or 20,000 square feet, we could give more service to the people."

Architectural designs haven't begun, but if the bond issue is approved, the addition would allow more room for books and materials, separate rooms for a children's area, study area for students and researchers, quiet study area, local history, personal computers and typewriters, and improved handicapped access.

Walkers for SCAMP all heart

The spirit of Clarkston SCAMP was on the march Sunday during the group's 12th annual Walk for SCAMP.

Helping others was their aim, and the 350 participants gathered $18,000 in pledges for the five-week summer camp that serves 200 handicapped children and young adults from northern Oakland County.

When the rain hit hard around 1 p.m., several walkers were still out completing their end of the bargain.

"We didn't get rained out, but we got rained on," said Nancy Weightman, coordinator of the walk with Jackie Pascoe.

When the vans rolled to bring the soggy walkers home, no one would quit. They accepted pieces of plastic to carry over their heads and kept going.

Back at Depot Park, volunteers were covering their check-in stations and preparing the hot dogs and snacks for the returning walkers.

"The workers were incredible. They wouldn't come in," said Weightman. "They said as long as the kids were out there, they were staying."

The walk is the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corporation's largest single fund-raiser and workers and walkers represent the entire geographic area.

"It just shows the several communities of very caring people willing to take time to help others," said Weightman.

Opinions

Roads need 25 bucks

There is one county-wide proposal on the Nov 8 ballot. It says, "Shall a $25 motor vehicle registration fee be imposed on each motor vehicle registered to an owner residing in the county of Oakland, with revenues therefrom being used exclusively in Oakland County . . . for ten years?"

The question was put on the ballot by the county commissioners at the request of the Oakland County Road Commission (OCRC).

This body voted May 12 to return all these $25 fees to the city, village, or township where the vehicle is registered for road use. The OCRC also agreed that these monies would be spent on projects approved by the local community.

This sounds good, but may be impractical, even wrong. For one thing, local bodies may not agree on the use of the money. Another thing, county, long-range planning may be better than local planning.

But, we really feel the OCRC will find some way to spend 'their' money the way they judge best. . . just as they always have, which hasn't been all bad.

After all, they are in the 'road business'. They know the heavily traveled roads of today, and developers and county planners let them know where the congestion will be tomorrow.

In their 2-year study of road needs in Oakland county the OCRC concluded an additional $75 million a year is needed for 10 years to put county roads in the proper condition.

County executive Dan Murphy says they need something less than that. We feel the $75 million figure is a "wish" number, offered knowing they couldn't get it all. You know, like labor negotiations or political action and special interest groups making requests of various governments and agencies.

The $25 per vehicle request will not give the OCRC all the $75 million they requested.

The $25 will give the OCRC about $20 million additional funds. That's a pretty good sum of money and will go quite a way in improving our road systems . . . which certainly need improving.

One would almost get the idea in driving around the county this summer all the roads are being improved right now. Of course, this is not the case. There are many holey gravel and blacktop roads, vision obstructed corners, nondraining ditches, and roads that are too narrow in Oakland.

When the OCRC planned to have this question on the August primary ballot, we opposed its passage at that time. Now, after reading and hearing much more about it, we favor approving the county proposition, "Motor Vehicle Registration Fee." JAS

Mystic's mystique

Kathy Greenfield

The words "Clarkston's mystic" jumped off the computer screen and made me laugh as I was merrily editing copy for this week's Clarkston News. Mystic, not mystic, was what it was supposed to say.

Finding such an error was too good to keep to myself, so I told the writer. We both chuckled. "Can you imagine what the Clarkston mystic would look like?" said I. "This is good enough for a column, but I would never do that to you."

"Why not?" Pete said. "It's OK with me. You should write it!"

We talked some more about how such an error can happen -- it was late at night, he briefly questioned the word but rushed onward to finish the story. It was a series of events we both understand only too well.

And we noted that such a mistake can be truly funny only if we catch it before it becomes part of the permanent record.

But enough of the grinding realities and on to the Mystic of Clarkston.

Down a narrow wooden staircase that creaks under step of man or beast and beyond a dust-covered door sits a room in the basement of a centennial home.

The room has a crystal ball view and the brightness of a map on the wall offers a brief shock to the eyes. It shines with points of 1,000 lights from an illuminated street map of all areas known as "Clarkston."

The mystic, a slender man with neatly trimmed gray beard, is happy most of the time. When in his mystical magical room, he wears a bright blue wizard's robe and a backward baseball cap.

Since the truths he seeks are beyond human understanding, he can feel the vibrations of the community through the basement walls.

They're good vibrations, what else?

Support cause

By William Schram

Tuesday, Oct. 25, is the Wear Red/Substance Free Day during Red Ribbon Week. As a sign of community support for drug-free lifestyles, AWARE and the Clarkston Optimists are asking adults and children to wear either a strip of red ribbon or red clothes on that day.

Elementary schools will have ribbon available for students. Churches have been asked to consider having ribbon available on Oct. 23. Businesses are being asked to display red ribbons at their place of business.

We're all in this together.

The second, and harder part, is to make Tuesday, Oct. 25, a substance free day. In other words, no drugs, alcohol, tobacco or caffeine.

Red Ribbon Week stresses the theme "The choice for me, drug free." We are asking people to make that choice on substance free day. Teach, by example, that children and adults can make the choice to be substance free.

Nicotine and caffeine were included for several reasons. First, nicotine and caffeine are the most widely used addictive substances. Second, nicotine-caused cancer is a leading cause of death by substance abuse.

Third, what better way to show that a hard choice to be substance free is possible than to take it seriously enough to give up something.

Lastly, the difficulty some of us have giving up our morning coffee can teach us something about how easily drugs can get their hooks into people's lives, and how hard it is to become substance-free after addiction occurs.

We urge people to support Red Ribbon Day and Substance Free Day by what you do wear and what you don't do.

William Schram is chairperson of AWARE, a committee of Clarkston Area Youth Assistance.

This boy with the red hair lives on the brink. One minute you want to kiss him, the next kick him. The latter is gaining.

Last Saturday we had the little rascal all day, along with 4-month-old Karen, Hazel's clean playmate. Hazel has a thing about bathing babies. I think she loves getting splashed by naked babies playing in a tub of shallow water.

It was the first time I've "sitted" Danny. I figured Hazel had enough to do with her granddaughter, what with the bath, feeding, cooing and rocking, that I'd keep Danny out of doors.

We could take the pontoon boat out of the water, give him a ride in the back of the pickup (enclosed), get some popcorn at Oxford Lumber, go to the office for something, mow the lawn, go for an ice cream cone and pick up pine cones.

That should bring us to around lunch time, after which it would be his nap time and my time in front of the tube and the M vs MSU football game.

All went about as planned, too. Except . . . at the office he got into the office candy jar quicker than a mosquito finds the hole in the window screen. I've vowed to let him have his way most of the time, so I suggested he put some in his pockets. "That's a good idea, granpa," he said.

The popcorn from the lumber yard lasted until we got into the pickup. That's when he spilled it. He also knocked over a vase of flowers spilling the water on the floor, got his pants wet while getting a drink from the kitchen sink (I have no idea how he did it), and dropped a bench on my head when I was bent over behind the pickup. He thought that was funny.

Danny thinks a refrigerator door should be open, and every edible thing in it devoured . . . now. Then at meal time he isn't hungry.

He likes whatever is behind any closed door. He likes whatever is at the bottom of his toy box. He likes stools moved some other place in the next room. And, he thinks the toys in the basement should be upstairs and vice versa.

He's just at an age when he knows when he has to go to the bathroom, but "I don't need any help, granpa". Shortly you hear a chair dragged across the floor and water running. He has learned to cup his hand under the faucet to get a drink . . . one hundred times a day.

But there are times. Like when he slid across the pickup seat, getting very close to me, and said, "I like you, granpa." And, when he sits on my lap while mowing the lawn with the tractor and he sneaks a kiss on my cheek.

It sure makes you forget he dropped a bench on your head.

Letters to the Editor

Hard knocks best Here's to 35 more

Regarding the "Parent questions football decisions" story, if my dad would have gone before the school board on my behalf I would have:

1. Disowned him
2. Been so embarrassed I would have become a hermit.

No wonder there are so many screwed up kids running around today! If I can't play, I'll take my ball and go home! For shame!

I played sports in school. Sometimes I was a starter; sometimes I was cannon fodder. But my daddy never had to speak on my behalf. That's what's called the school of hard knocks.

Is daddy going before the president of the company if sonny doesn't get the raise or advancement promised? Some people need a lot of growing up.

Fondest memories

I would sincerely like to thank the Clarkston school system or whoever is responsible for once again allowing students to build floats and having the Homecoming parade.

Many of my fondest memories of high school are focused around building the floats. This is a time when many new friends are made and everyone has the chance to participate.

I could never understand what was gained by deleting these important events. The classes who caused problems in the past never suffered, only the innocent classes that followed did.

Thank you again!

Jodi Allen Norton
1978 Clarkston graduate

Dear Jim Sherman, publisher:

I am ashamed of you resorting to repeating columns of "not too important stuff" after only 35 years and some 1,700 of them. (Jim's Jottings, Oct. 5)

Never have I repeated a column in its entirety even after 45 years and some 2,340 columns of trivia. I do go back on my own once in a while just to check and see if my philosophy has changed over the years. I regret to report that it has not.

I must admit that I have had an advantage over you. You had to write to make a living. I have been doing it mostly for fun. Had I been dependent on my writings for food, I'm afraid I would be a lot thinner today than I am.

As a half-hearted "hack" to a real "hack" I offer my congratulations on 35 years of journalistic endeavor. Please don't repeat too much -- you have too much on the ball to let that talent go to waste.

Here's hoping you have 35 more years of winning friends and influencing people.

Show you care

Hostile and infuriated are only a few words that come to mind after reading the front page of the Oct. 5 edition of The Clarkston News about the absence of the library millage in the next election.

The literacy rate in this country has been declining since the 1880's (90 percent) and today (80 percent), and the Independence Township board decides that the issue is not that important. They can improve the parks, but when it comes to learning, they say NO!

The Roads We Travel

Path to paving

Brent Bair

In my last column, I discussed how many miles of gravel public roads we have in Independence Township and the problems of keeping them in a smooth condition.

If it has reached the point where paving your gravel road is really what you want, what can you do to get it paved?

If you live on a public subdivision street in the township, a special assessment procedure is available. The first step is to check with your neighbors to see if there is interest in chipping together to pay for the paving.

Next, contact the Subdivision Improvement and Development Division of the Oakland County Road Commission (OCRC) and ask for an informational meeting.

OCRC staff will hold that meeting in your area in the evening so everyone interested can make it. An expression of interest will initially be required with a petition representing 51 percent of the footage of the adjoining property being ultimately required.

Cost estimates and preliminary plans will be prepared after staff has walked the area, obtained soil borings, gathered data regarding sewers, and so on.

Preliminary assessment roles will be prepared indicating an estimate of how much each property owner will have to pay. Everyone will then be invited to an administrative meeting. The legal petition mentioned above will be issued requiring the 51 percent.

The validity of the signatures will be held and a hearing on objections will also be held. If the petition is determined to be valid, bids will be taken for the work to determine the actual cost (as opposed to the original estimate).

Following a public hearing on the apportionment of the actual costs among the property owners, the bid will be awarded and the work will commence.

Unfortunately, all of the above takes time; 16 to 24 months. It is possible for the township to initiate a special assessment without the petition and 51 percent requirement, but generally they are reluctant to do that unless there are some unusual circumstances.

If you live on a County Primary gravel road (Clintonville) or mile-type local road (Holcomb, Oak Hill, Allen or Pine Knob), the above process won't work.

Too many people from other areas also use those roads, and thus you do not enjoy the majority of benefits of the paving and cannot be required to pay all the cost.

Your only alternative is to petition the township and hope that they and the road commission can figure out a way to pay for it.

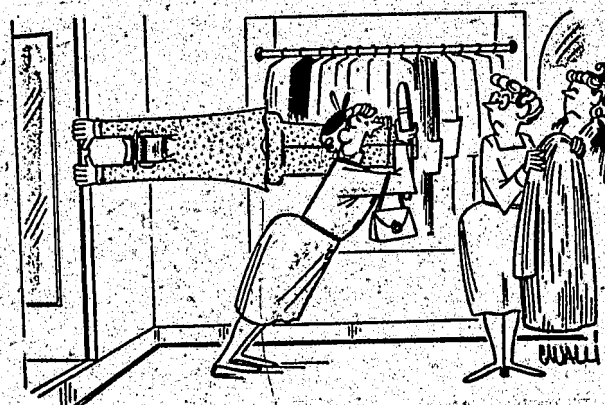

In a previous column I gave you some average costs for road improvements. I'll repeat those that are pertinent to the above:

Pave gravel subdivision street -- $170,000 per mile.
Pave primary or local road, no problems -- $600,000 per mile.

Pave primary or local road with terrain or soil problems -- $800,000 per mile.

Next week: What about the next three years?

Brent Bair is chairman of the Independence Township Planning Commission.

'If it Fitz ...'

Tough sailing

Jim Fitzgerald

I'm worried about Kathleen Ford, widow of Henry the Second. Why can't the poor dear enjoy the benefit usually derived from owning a yacht?

According to the Wall Street Journal, a trust agreement provides that Kathleen Ford inherited from her husband, among other things, "1 million on his death, an additional $2 million six months later, and all the income from the trust (which, another filing by the trust's attorney says, has about $325 million in assets) for the rest of her life. Should the annual after-tax income from the trust ever fall below $1.5 million, inflation adjusted, the trustees are to dip into principal to make up the difference."

Also, Kathleen Ford gets to live forever in trust-owned Ford homes in Palm Beach, Grosse Pointe Farms and London's Eaton Square, and she can order the trust to buy her as many as three more homes, "decorated and furnished to her liking," during her lifetime.

That sounds as if The Widow Ford should be able to make ends meet without asking the government for food stamps. But wait. Buried deep in the Wall Street Journal article was this parsimonious restriction on her quality of life:

"The trust agreement further specifies that Kathleen Ford is to be given sufficient money to maintain 'the standard of living to which she has become accustomed during her marriage' ... but that isn't a blank check. The document specifies that, in defining her accustomed standards, and 'use and benefit derived from the Southern Breeze or any other yacht owned directly or indirectly' by Henry Ford 'shall be excluded.'"

HUD boating, yet

Do you realize what that exclusion means? It means, if Kathleen Ford wants to travel by water between one of her U.S. homes and her London home, she may have to go by rowboat.

What's this cheap business about yachts, anyway? If

Henry Ford wanted his widow to have up to six homes and an after-tax income of at least $1.5 million per year, why not a yacht? What did he expect her to anchor off the coast of Maine in - HUD boating?

I can't help wondering if the trouble is that Kathleen never formed a close attachment to any yacht owned directly or indirectly by Henry Ford. I say that because of something I first wrote about in 1979, a year before Kathleen became Henry's third wife.

At that time, dissident shareholders in the Ford Motor Co. filed a lawsuit charging Henry with wasting company money by, among other alleged extravagances, giving his "good friend" Kathleen's fireplace a ride in a company airplane. Really.

"Smoking or non-smoking?"

This was shortly after my wife and I moved into a big city high-rise apartment, leaving behind a rural home with a much-beloved fireplace. My wife said that, if I really loved her, the way Henry loved Kathleen, I would have flown the fireplace to the high rise.

My answer was that Henry probably had no choice because Kathleen was attached to the fireplace. Only a few months earlier, Henry's second wife, Cristina, had testified in a divorce settlement action that she was attached to everything Henry owned. So maybe Kathleen was attached to the fireplace, and couldn't leave home without it, a circumstance that certainly would require using a company plane rather than a commercial flight. It would be too awkward to ask a TWA ticket agent for a seat for a fireplace.

"Smoking or non-smoking?"

"Does the chimney give you a hint?"

So anyway, that was probably Kathleen's mistake - she didn't become sufficiently attached to a yacht owned directly or indirectly by Henry. So he left her the world but no yacht to sail around in.

Poor dear. We should all chip in and buy her an oar.

More Letters

Clarkston is growing, and one of the most important aspects of any community is the library. Ours is 18 years old and obviously inadequate to serve this community.

The library runs programs for everyone, especially the pre-kindergarten reading program. This is the place children start to learn and grow. Reading is knowledge, and when eight people decide that printing a paper ballot would be too difficult, I am outraged and question their dedication to the community.

They think they may inconvenience the voter. Better a little inconvenience now than waiting two years. In two years the new library could be completed. Instead we are inconvenienced by waiting.

The question of the March 7 (tentative) ballot is something that may not even happen. This community can not wait for your bureaucracy, Mr. Holman and the board. If there is anyone on the board who really cares about the people of Independence, we will see the paper ballot on election day.

To the people of Independence, please don't ignore the problem. If we tackle it now the problem will not be a problem, only a reminder that the people took action and won. If you don't, you are the ones who make yourselves suffer and wait.

These are a couple of the big "ifs" so if you have ever checked out a book, audio tape, video tape, magazine or microfilm from the library, I charge you to take action now!

One good woman

We have the privilege on Nov. 8 to vote, not only for President of the United States, but also for local positions and issues that affect us day to day. I urge you to vote for Nancy Strole for trustee in Springfield Township.

I have had the privilege of getting to know Nancy. She has the energy and ability to make a difference in Springfield. Nancy Strole is concerned about the quality of life in our community, concerned for the citizens of Springfield and what they want this township to be.

Over the past years, the state has tried, and a few times succeeded, in making our area a dumping ground. Nancy Strole worked with a group of residents to form RAID to fight a juvenile detention facility that the state wanted to operate in Holly. Because of RAID, we are not getting Wayne County's juvenile problem.

Voting for Nancy Strole for trustee in Springfield Township will elect a woman who believes that a township's trustees are accountable to its residents. Financial responsibility is a critical element, and she believes the people should be informed and aware of financial decisions affecting Springfield.

Nancy believes that people live in Springfield because they want a rural environment, and she is committed to keeping it that way.

I urge you to vote on Nov. 8, and I recommend voting for Nancy Strole for trustee, Springfield Township.

Books important

High on the list of priorities of a group of Clarkston women who got together in 1954 and formed the Clarkston Women's Club was the establishment of a library. Begun only six months after the formation of the club, the library was first housed in an old schoolhouse.

For 10 years the women's Club worked hard to keep its doors open. The library was placed under the jurisdiction of Independence Township in 1965, and the club remained faithful in its support.

A community-wide campaign was launched in 1967 for a new library. Club members persevered. Money was raised to contribute to the building fund and to present their annual gift to the library. We are proud to say we have continued this tradition of an annual gift through 1988.

On April 12, 1970, the new library on Clarkston Road opened, funded by local contributions and grants. We are now, for the first time, being asked to support the library through our tax dollars.

It is obvious to everyone that our building is too small and lacking in material, as well as space. While the library has stood still, Independence Township has exploded with growth. It looks like the library that time forgot.

Support of the library is still a top priority of the Women's Club. We want the doors to stay open, but this time, wide enough to be of value to the community.

Please approve the bond issue on Nov. 8.

Barb Richards, library representative
Clarkston Community Women's Club

Vote for Gorka

I was very pleased to see the letter in last week's Clarkston News by Theresa Willockx, Davisburg, in support of Joe Gorka for Springfield Township treasurer on the Nov. 8 ballot.

I have been a resident of Springfield Township since 1959 when my husband, Charlie, and I started the Davisburg Candle Factory. I've known Joe Gorka for a long time, and he shares the love for Springfield Township and its rural character that so very many of us do.

Joe has worked in our community as a volunteer over the past 10 years. He's helped solve problems such as cleaning up the toxic dump, eliminating the threat of a state prison, and increasing police services for the township.

Why is it so easy for some people to be THIN?

Ever notice how easily thin people turn away seconds, snacks and desserts? Doesn't it make you crazy every time they say "No, thanks, I'm full."

Thin people think differently about food. They eat to nourish themselves, period. Stress and nerves don't send them running to the refrigerator. And when they celebrate, they don't reach for chocolate and rationalize, "I deserve it."

Because thin people have a different attitude about eating, food doesn't have any power over them.

Permanent Results for Chronic Dieters

Now you can learn to think about food the way a thin person does with THE ANTI-DIET PROGRAM. If you're a chronic dieter in search of permanent results, THE ANTI-DIET PROGRAM is for you.

Because of the unusual nature of THE ANTI-DIET PROGRAM, it can produce success where ordinary diets fail. Listen to this woman from Elizabeth, New Jersey: I was desperate before beginning and highly skeptical because other approaches had failed. Luckily I forced myself to go and it worked!...The program was a remarkably effective approach to gaining control over my body and eating.

Thousands of other people across the country have achieved striking results with THE ANTI-DIET PROGRAM—without diet, deprivation, or struggle. You won't have to count calories, take supplements, prepare special meals or follow a strict menu. THE ANTI-DIET PROGRAM changes your thinking, not your lifestyle.

No-Obligation Preview Session

Developed by a psychotherapist after successful work with overeaters, THE ANTI-DIET PROGRAM is now available locally.

To find out more about this unique program, come to our two-hour Preview Session. Admission is $10. Space is limited, so please call early to reserve your seat.

Springfield ponders $904,725 budget

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Increases in the 1989 budget for Springfield Township drew some concern from at least one township resident and a member of the township board.

A public hearing on the 1989 budget preceded the regular board meeting on Oct. 12. A special board meeting to discuss and adopt the budget is scheduled at 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 27, in Township Hall, 650 Broadway in Davisburg.

The tentative budget, yet to be revised, reflects $904,725 in the general fund. The fund covers salaries, township hall operations, building department, etc., plus about $40,000 for chloriding, which will now be completed in 1988, and $100,000 for improvements on Dixie Highway, now projected to cost the township $50,000.

Supervisor Collin Walls suggested that the 1989 general fund figure be lowered to $814,725, reducing it by the $90,000 in road improvements.

The $814,725 figure is approximately $22,500 over last year's budget.

Included in the general fund is a recommended library budget of $65,700. The library had requested a budget of $80,300. The general fund also includes a suggested parks and recreation budget of $90,955. Parks and recreation had requested $94,955. Both departments have operational millage questions on the November ballot.

Also recommended were a police fund of $261,700 and fire department fund of $133,900.

Springfield Township resident Noel Maxam expressed concern about increases in the general fund budget. And Trustee Charles Oaks said he thought the budget was "a bit high," especially the hospitalization expenses for township employees. He suggested they look into alternative insurance companies.

The budget is to be discussed and officially adopted at the Oct. 27 meeting, which meets the Oct. 31 legal deadline for township budget approval.

More Letters

He's worked to protect our environment and preserve our rural setting through five years as chairman of the planning commission. He's improved the community by working for better school services and involving our young people in constructive activities with the Davisburg Rotary and parks and recreation.

As Springfield Township treasurer, Joe Gorka can help manage our community's growth by using his business experience and financial capabilities to make sure we control the size and cost of our government and get the most for our present tax dollars.

We in Springfield Township are very fortunate to have someone of Joe Gorka's caliber interested in our community and our welfare. I will be supporting Joe Gorka for Springfield Township treasurer on Nov. 8.

There are several candidates running for office this election year. One candidate in particular stands out in my mind as being a winner ... Nancy Strole.

Nancy is running for one of the Springfield Township trustee positions. Nancy has been a leader in North Oakland County for a long time. She is one candidate whom we can all rely on to make the right decisions for our community. She has a tremendous amount of experience and insight as to what is happening in government today.

Nancy Strole was the co-founder and spokesperson for RAID (re: proposed Camp Holly facility), and I know how hard she worked to defeat the project. She has been active as a Springfield Township representative on the Holly prison fact-finding committee.

She has also lobbied for our best interests at the state and local levels. She has prepared presentations for committees of the United States Congress and testified on public issues before the Michigan State Legislative committees.

Nancy Strole is well educated with a background in political government. She received a B.A. in international studies and communication. She cares about the quality of life in North Oakland County and is an active leader in the community.

When you go to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 8, vote for Nancy Strole for Springfield Township trustee. She is the one qualified candidate whom we can depend on to make our community the best that it can be.

Nancy has given much of her own personal time and energy for our community. Now let's support her in her quest for Springfield Township trustee. Cast your vote for Nancy Strole.

Parks need help

Springfield Township is a quality community with a promising future. The time has come to offer the residents of Springfield Township the opportunity to secure the future of parks and recreation in their community.

During the past three years, the parks and recreation department has increased services and programs. In 1988 alone, approximately 10,000 people have used a township park or participated in a recreation program or special event.

Springfield Township Parks and Recreation has offered 25 different recreation programs and special events in 1988.

With the increase in demand for this needed community service comes an increase in expenses. Consequently, the parks and recreation budget has increased. Federal Revenue Sharing grant money has traditionally been used to help fund the parks and recreation budget. That program was discontinued by the federal government in 1986 and is no longer available.

For the past two years, the parks and recreation department has been funded primarily through contributions from the township general fund. Now we are faced with a problem--the township general fund can no longer keep pace with the budget increases of an expanding parks and recreation department.

We are asking the voters of Springfield Township to approve 1/2 mill on the Nov. 8 ballot to help alleviate this problem. The 1/2 mill is for operating, maintenance and development of parks and recreation facilities and programs for a period of five years.

An approved millage guarantees that a pre-determined percentage of each tax dollar will be used for parks and recreation. This will ensure that parks will continue to be maintained, programs will continue to operate and funds can be set aside for the development of additional facilities.

One-half mill will cost the average homeowner whose SEV is $40,000 about $20 annually, or fifty cents per $1,000 of the property's State Equalized Value. One-half mill will generate approximately $65,000.

A millage will aid in the development of needed recreation facilities such as ball fields, soccer fields, bicycle paths, walk paths, playground equipment, etc. There is already a big demand for these facilities.

A YES vote to the parks and recreation millage question on Nov. 8 is imperative for the survival of the parks and recreation department.

We have come too far, and have so much potential for future growth to let this opportunity slip by. Your investment in open space preservation and recreation facilities will achieve great dividends not only today but for future generations.

Every voter has the opportunity to make Springfield Township a satisfying place in which to live and spend leisure time. Please support the parks and recreation millage on Nov. 8.

Sherry Swindell, Chairman

Friends of Springfield Township Parks Committee

She's accountable

I would like to take this opportunity to inform the voters of Springfield Township of a very conscientious candidate running for trustee.

After having worked with Nancy Strole on the Camp Holly issue (the Department of Social Services' brainstorm to use Camp Holly as a juvenile detention camp) for 18 months, I can't think of a better candidate.

Never has there been a more qualified or resourceful candidate in my 11 years in this township. I'm very thankful to have had the chance to work with her.

Nancy was co-founder of RAID (Residents Against Ineffective Detention). She was author of the Prison Fact-Finding Committee's report to the community. She lobbies for Springfield citizens' interests at all state and local levels.

Nancy is interested in the views and opinions of the residents of Springfield Township. So voters, for a voice in our local government, cast your ballot for Nancy Strole for Springfield Township trustee on Nov. 8.

Vote for quality

Currently, there are four people running for the position of judge in the Second District Court of Appeals in Michigan. That district comprises the area you live in.

Having assisted in passing the law to fill this need for additional judges, and knowing Judge Richard D. Kuhn personally, I would like to take this opportunity to recommend him to you for your consideration.

Judge Kuhn resides in Waterford Township, Oakland County and has been a Circuit Judge for over 15 years. The position he seeks is a judicial opening created by legislation in 1986 rezoning the burgeoning case load at the Appellate Court level.

As a Circuit Judge, Judge Kuhn has demonstrated time and again his ability to handle case loads in a prompt, expeditious and fair manner. At all times he has displayed both a courteous and genuine concern for litigants before him, not the least of which has included a deep and abiding interest for victims of crime.

At the same time, Judge Kuhn has displayed his interest in community leadership through his volunteerism in many activities. At various times he has been active in the Optimists, Kiwanis, United Fund and Chamber of Commerce, to name just a few.

In the final analysis, the quality of justice in any legal system depends upon the quality of its judges. Fair. Firm. Experienced. Accessible. Efficient. Sensitive. Impartial. Integrity. These are just a few of the ways one could describe Circuit Judge Richard D. Kuhn.

I highly recommend him to you on Nov. 8 for the Michigan Court of Appeals, Second District.

Best man for job

Joe Gorka's candidacy for treasurer of Springfield Township brought to my mind his many past contributions to our community.

I have been neglectful in thanking him for his past efforts, such as his five plus years of work resulting in our newly adopted township master zone plan, his tireless efforts at state, county and local level to correct toxic dump sight problems and his on-going dedication and work at maintaining the "country" environment of Springfield Township.

Joe Gorka has always had support and answers for our residents' needs, but more importantly, he has provided his personal time and follow-up to ensure that our interests were met by our township, county and state government agencies.

Thanks, Joe Gorka! You have my support for your candidacy of Springfield Township treasurer. Not only are you the best qualified for the job, but you're the best qualified to sit on our township board and cast your vote in our community's best interests.

Coaching isn't easy

The last thing our Clarkston Wolves Varsity Football team needed right now was someone "ripping" their coaching staff for decisions made in regards to who quarterback their team.

I get more and more amazed at some Wolves fans who thrive on "kicking a dead dog." What if our Wolves were 5-2 instead of 2-5? Would the same criticism be entered? We love to make excuses for a team's poor record.

The Clarkston (Mich.) News Wed., Oct. 19, 1988 11

Hey Wolves fans -- there are some 50-plus football players and coaches out there every afternoon working their tails off to try and satisfy this community. It just so happens they lack a lot of talent, size and speed that we are used to.

But you better believe their hearts are into it. It's easy to show up for practice and be enthusiastic when you're winning. What about when you're not? It's tough to do, but these kids are proud to be Wolves and so are their coaches.

Coaches' jobs aren't easy -- especially in Clarkston where winning is expected. These guys are hired to make decisions about their players (who plays where and how much) and they make the decisions that will be best for their team.

We all make decisions every day. Coaches do also, and need our support -- not our criticism.

It isn't fair to the kids on the team when these situations make the local newspaper -- their minds should be able to be on the task at hand and not on who's trying to get their coaches "fired."

By the way guys, congratulations on coming back with a big victory last Friday after the news came out last week. That shows a lot of character from both our coaches and players.

Some of us out here respect the job you guys are doing (coaches and kids) and aren't going to rip into your coaches just because your wins don't outnumber your losses.

All of you are winners in my mind. GO WOLVES!

Agreement reached in Pine Knob sale

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

By December, new owners may be in control of 330 acres at Pine Knob. The property includes the golf course, two restaurants and a residential development.

Clarkston resident Alex Bruni said negotiations are completed, and he and his partners have a contract to purchase the balance of Borg-Warner Equities holdings at Pine Knob. The agreement should be finalized in December.

"I'm very optimistic and very pleased," said Bruni. "It's kind of a dream come true, although it's not true yet, I might add."

Bruni, Dr. Harley Robinson and another partner who wishes to remain undisclosed, plan to develop the property as a private country club, Bruni said.

With homes on 162 acres, restaurants LaVeranda and the Mansion on 21 acres of commercial property, and the golf course on 153 acres, the complex is ideal for a high quality development, he said.

In the latest phase of Pine Knob Manor Homes -- single family houses built as site condominiums -- 31 of the 50 sites have been sold since December 1987, said Bruni, who has been involved in the Pine Knob development since 1981. Plans are under way for a subsequent phase in the residential area.

21-condominium plan OK'd

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A new development on Eliza Lake in Springfield Township received approval from the Springfield Township Board last week to begin phase one.

The 21-unit site plan is for Osprey Bay on Eliza Lake, west of I-75 between Rattalee Lake and Davisburg roads. Phase two, not yet OK'd pending Department of Natural Resources approvals for wetlands use, is to include another six units.

Developers Marvin Gottlieb, Marvin Heidenrich and Jeanne Moore Mair received approval last month from the board for a special use request. The development is proposed as a site condominium, under the Michigan Condominium Act, and as a cluster development.

Plans for Osprey Bay on Eliza Lake include 15 lakefront, single family residences, with a ratio of land to house of 1.5 acres, but not all the houses will be on that much land. There will be "common ground" for all sites, including six more lakeview sites with two attached dwellings per site.

Mair described the development as a way to use "unusual, beautiful land that you don't want to pull apart."

One board member, Charles Oaks, expressed concern about use of the wetlands, saying, "Why have a wetlands law if you can get a permit to use it?"

But Del Lohff, engineer for the development, explained that the Wetlands Act says the DNR will look at the site and decide, not that wetlands cannot be used.

Mair told the board that development of phase one would begin this year.

"We're hoping the DNR approval will follow closely and we can just continue on," she said.

The board granted site plan approval to phase one pending approval of the legal documents by the township attorney, Gregory Need, and approval of the plans by the township engineer.

Business Briefs

PR honor for Hood

ERIC L. HOOD was recently awarded a first place by the Central District of the Public Relations Society of America for the development and implementation of a corporate communications program.

Hood is vice president of Eisbrenner and Co., a Birmingham public relations firm. An Independence Township resident since the mid-1950s, he attended Clarkston schools and graduated from Oakland University. His three daughters now attend Clarkston schools. Hood was honored at a luncheon held at the St. Regis Hotel for his work on behalf of Blue Care Network's announcement of its new name in 1987. The project involved many phases of internal and external communications, graphic design and media relations for a statewide campaign that renamed six regional health maintenance organizations.

Zoning nix sticks

Density and water quality were two concerns of the Springfield Township Board when they turned down a rezoning request last month. They stuck by their denial this month when developers Mark Reis and Jim Kabana asked the board to reconsider.

The rezoning request was to turn 1 1/2-acre residential lots into 1/2-acre lots on the south side of Softwater Lake in Springfield Township, behind the Bavaria apartment and condominium developments on Dixie Highway.

The request involved 55 acres of land, about 20 of which are under water and the other 35 are usable.

But board members said 1/2-acre lots were too dense for the area and expressed concern about contamination to Softwater Lake, which is spring fed but has no outlet.

In his arguments for reconsideration by the board, Kabana pointed to similar developments that are nicely maintained.

"We want to be the front door to Springfield Township," he said.

He also criticized areas of the township with larger lots and "unmowed grass." But with this statement, he hit a nerve, and one member of the audience responded.

"This is farm country out here," said Springfield Township resident Steve Jantz. "Have you ever seen a rabbit living on a nice mowed lawn?"

The board took no action on the developers' request to reconsider, thereby sticking to their earlier decision to deny the rezoning.

Township changes logo

A new look is in store for the official letterhead on Springfield Township stationery.

Approval for a new logo was granted by the township board at its October meeting.

The logo is already being used by Springfield Township Parks and Recreation, featuring a rural scene. It was designed by a Holly artist Kathy Bacon about three years ago at the request of the parks and recreation commission.

Bacon, who owns Kathy's Artist-Tree in Holly, was paid about $35 for the Springfield logo design. The old logo was created in 1976 during the nation's bicentennial celebration.

Springfield eases steps for temporary dwellings

The placement of temporary dwellings on private property in emergencies will now be easier in Springfield Township.

On Oct. 12, the township board unanimously approved two amended articles to the township's zoning ordinance. One, Article 17, was a revision of the zoning board of appeals duties and process, mostly prompted by changes in legislation.

The other, Article 14, allows emergency temporary dwellings (mobile homes) due to fire or other natural disasters to be permitted by a committee rather than going to the board of appeals, which would be more time consuming.

The committee would include a building official and two elected township officers.

Conditions of temporarily placing a mobile home on property include a time limit of not more than one year, a bond posted in the amount of $1,000 and the required hook-up to well and septic.

$1,500 donation goes to youth assistance

Clarkston Area Youth Assistance received approval for a $1,500 donation from the Clarkston Board of Education on Oct. 10.

CAYA operates with sponsorship of the Oakland County Probate Court, the townships of Independence and Springfield, the Clarkston school district and the Village of Clarkston.

The $1,500 donation from Clarkston schools is the same as last year.

"Clarkston Area Youth Assistance is a unique program," said Garry Pullins, youth assistance social worker.

He briefly described to the board and audience how he and a committee of around 40 volunteers work through various programs to keep juveniles out of the courts, build children's sense of self-worth and strengthen families.

Among the projects of the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee are a camping program for needy children; counseling; a big-brother, big-sister type PLUS program; a youth recognition banquet; sponsorship of AWARE's drug abuse programs; family education programs open to the public; and a shoplifting prevention program offered to every fifth grade classroom in the school district.

TOTING WALKING STICKS they found in the woods while on the eight-mile walk are Travis Boyd (left) and Michael Eberle, Bailey Lake Elementary pupils. "We're just using them because our legs are a little bit tired," said Michael, who had Squirt in his water bottle.

100 students want to share drug-free message

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Last year, 35 Clarkston High School students united to spread the word about the dangers of drug abuse to third- through ninth-graders.

This year, there were 100 students eager to spread the message and to set a shining example for their own classmates.

This year's "Just Say No" program kicked off with a rally in the CHS auditorium on Oct. 11. The students in attendance had been nominated by teachers and staff or by their own classmates. They had to exhibit special qualities, such as leadership, and be drug and alcohol free.

Katie MacKay, sponsor of the group and coordinator of the S.E.A.R.C.H. program at the high school, told them, "You are reflective of a different lifestyle. Not only do you make an impact on junior high and elementary kids, but on your own peer group."

The students will go through two, two-hour evening sessions of training before giving presentations to the younger students at area schools.

For those who aren't comfortable talking in front of groups, there are other projects, such as making posters, helping with the organization of a communitywide Just Say No rally tentatively planned for Oct. 29 or designing T-shirts for the Just Say No program participants.

T-shirts and other perks, including a breakfast, are some of the material rewards of being part of the group. Self-satisfaction is another kind of reward.

"There is a sense of mission," CHS Principal Dr. Robert Burek told them. "You are special people. Not many high schools would have close to 10 percent of the student body here. There is a sense of caring."

He also said if such a program had been held in the '70s, "people would have laughed at us." In the early '80s, "not many would have showed up." Times are changing, he added. Teenagers are standing up for values.

Superintendent Gary Haner, who also spoke to the group, cited an example of an Olympic swimmer who gave up drugs because he realized he was setting a bad example for younger kids.

Also on hand to speak before the students was the Rev. Bill Schram, spokesperson for the community AWARE group which fights drug abuse. The group is active in Just Say No activities, and is co-sponsoring the communitywide Just Say No Rally in conjunction with a nationwide "Red Ribbon Week" campaign.

But all these projects cost money, and MacKay is looking for sponsors to help with this year's Just Say No program. Last year, several area organizations and merchants helped with the costs of T-shirts, breakfast and training manuals.

Training will take place at the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus for Clarkston and other area students. The Just Say No program is an effort throughout all of north Oakland County.

High school students will not only provide healthy role models for other students, but will also help disseminate information about drugs and heighten awareness of the positive aspects of leading a drug-free life.

Clarkston High Junior Varsity
Wolves 49, Brandon 8

Oct. 13—John Terpstra made 9 1/2 tackles, intercepted three passes and returned one for a touchdown to spearhead the Wolves' rout.

Jason Kinzler scored the first two touchdowns for the victors. Terpstra added his 33-yard interception return near the end of the first half to propel Clarkston into the intermission with a 21-0 advantage.

Jerrod Johnson scored twice in the second half. Darren Master and Tony Miller collected the other two touchdowns. Miller, normally a defensive player, switched over to play fullback for a down late in the game just as the Chicago Bears' William "The Fridge" Perry did during his rookie year. Miller managed to ramble into the end zone from 18 yards out during his moment in the limelight to close out the scoring.

David Marks converted 6-of-6 extra-point attempts. Chad Hetherington kicked the other one. Marks, a sophomore, has kicked 19 straight successful extra-point attempts.

Brandon scored its only touchdown of the game in the third quarter.

Defensively, several players besides Terpstra turned in excellent performances for the Wolves, said Coach John Craven.

Mike Moller made a team-high 10 tackles. Greg Heaton and Damon Michelsen played well at their linebacking positions.

Besides keeping the team's unbeaten string alive, the victory was special for the junior varsity squad.

"This clinches the GOAL (Greater Oakland Activities League) for the second season in a row," the coach said.

Sashabaw Junior High
Cougars 20, Mason 6

Oct. 12—Kevin Heidisch scored two touchdowns to pace Sashabaw over Waterford Mason.

Jon Wyniemko threw a 23-yard pass to Jeremy Burke for the third touchdown. Dan Lamroux and Brian Miller finished off Mason by tackling the quarterback in the end zone for a safety.

Brian Davis and Heidisch were the top performers on defense, combining for 30 tackles.

Clarkston Junior High
Wolverines 20, Pierce 20

Oct. 12—Two touchdowns by Dan Griffiths and another by Matt Seitz sparked the Wolverines in the second half as they rallied to tie Pierce.

A missed extra-point attempt near the end of the game prevented Clarkston from winning. The team's record is 4-1-2.

Oct. 13—Although the Wolves picked up their third defeat in the process, Coach Debbie Wilson was encouraged to see a host of players contribute offensively.

Jenny Graham, Carrie Roeser and Beth Walker scored nine points apiece to pace the hosts. Roeser also had numerous steals on the night.

Stacey Secatch provided the team with good defense throughout the game, the coach said.

After a couple of easy weeks of play, Kettering's talent finally tested the Wolves.

"We needed a good challenge," she said. "It was a good lesson for us. We need to work on getting more consistent."

Clarkston's record now stands at 8-3.

Wolves eager to begin districts

Boys soccer team plays host during post-season battles

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With only two games left before the playoffs, the varsity soccer team has its sights set on redemption.

A good draw placed the Wolves in the upper bracket of their district, meaning they earned home-field advantage for all their games leading up to the title match, should they make it that far.

"We will be ready for the tournament," said Coach Neil Granlund. "The players are looking forward to it."

Last week, with three games in five days, the team seemed sluggish and struggling.

Host Oxford topped the Wolves, 3-2, on a late goal Friday evening to drop Clarkston's record to 5-10. The Wildcats opened the scoring with two quick goals in the first half, while defending the goal with the sun at their backs.

When the teams switched sides at halftime, so did the momentum. Clarkston clearly dominated the final 40 minutes of play and outscored their opponents 2-1 as B.J. Deloney and Mike Reich scored goals, but it wasn't enough to pull out a victory.

Clarkston had one goal called back by the officials due to an elbowing call early in the second half.

"We didn't give 100 percent in the first half," the coach said. "But we did in the second half."

One bright spot for Granlund last week was the inspired play of Deloney and Matt Mellen.

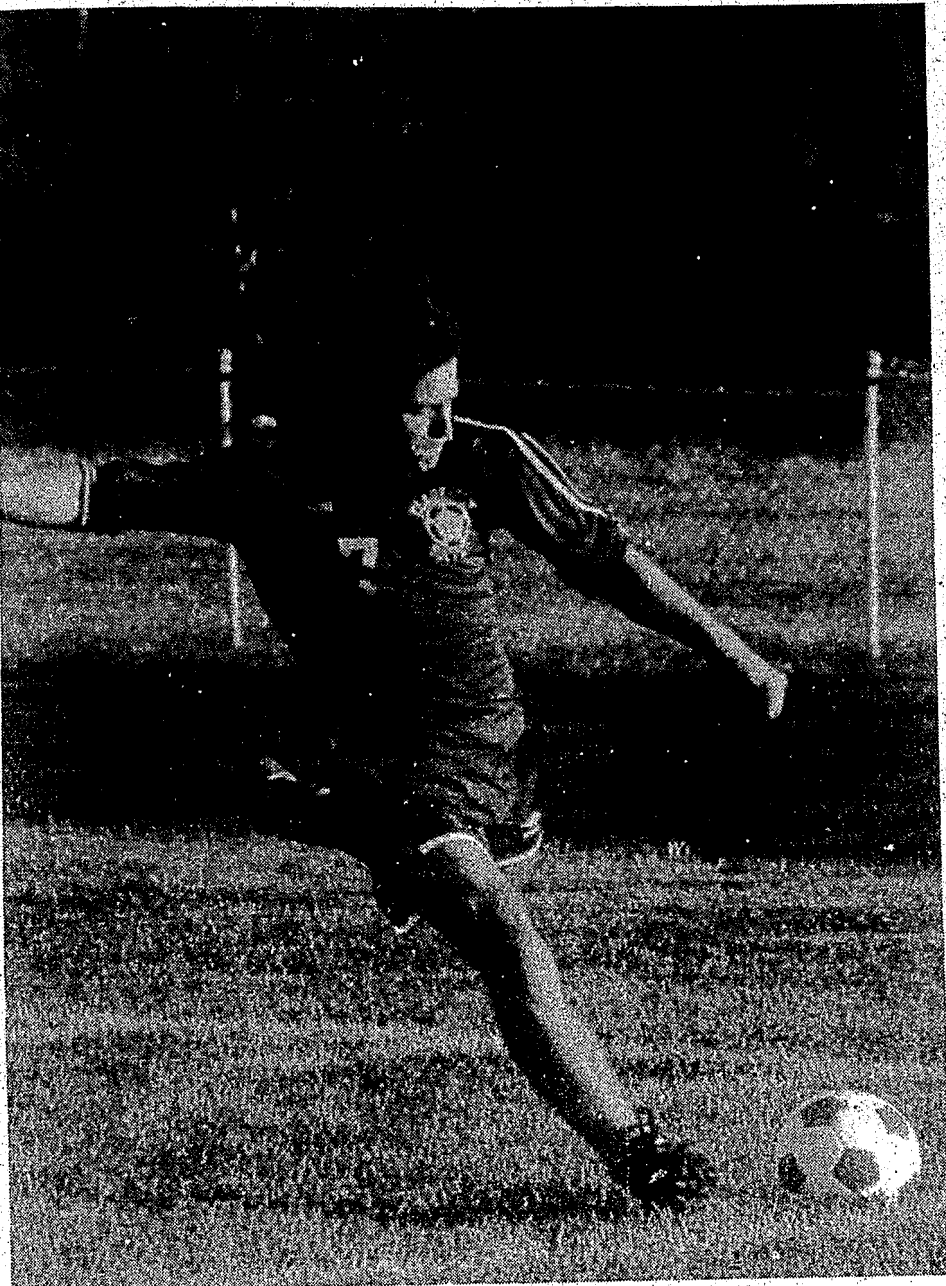

"They work together well," he said. "Things are beginning to gel."

A day earlier, the Wolves lost, 4-0, to the Greater Oakland Activities League champion Lake Orion on the road.

On Monday, Clarkston hosted Milford and won, 5-1. Deloney scored twice to pace the victors.

Clarkston closes out the regular season Oct. 20 with a road game at 4 p.m. against Lakeland.

ANDY LAFLEUR puts the ball back in play off a free kick for the Wolves during a non-league soccer contest between Clarkston and Oxford. The host Wildcats downed the Wolves 3-2 on a late goal.

Kettering stops Clarkston cold in 1st battle for GOAL title

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Waterford Kettering registered the first knock-down punch in the annual heavyweight fight for the Greater Oakland Activities League title in girls basketball.

The visiting Captains converted their outside shots against Clarkston's zone defense consistently, but the home team's sharpshooters didn't reciprocate. The Wolves sank only 16-of-46 shots.

A strong performance by the second-team made the final score respectable as Clarkston lost its first league game, 53-46, on Oct. 13.

Wolves' head coach Larry Mahrle wasn't too surprised at the outcome.

"They (Kettering) are a strong club," he said. "They are not rated sixth or seventh in the state for nothing."

Celeste Steinhelper and Susan McKoin scored 14 points apiece to pace Clarkston's offense. Steinhelper was especially strong in the first half when she netted eight points to keep the score close. Kelly Avenall led the scorers off the bench with six points.

The loss snaps a four-game winning streak for the Wolves and drops their overall record to 7-4. Clarkston is 3-1 in the GOAL.

Steinhelper and McKoin combined to score Clarkston's first five points, putting them out in front, 5-

2, early in the game. The Wolves appeared ready to blow out Kettering, but just the opposite happened when Clarkston's shooters went cold.

"We missed three or four layups early in the first quarter," said the coach. "You have to convert those. Basketball is peaks and valleys. We had a chance to get up and didn't."

Kettering took full advantage of the situation. They built up a comfortable 16-9 edge by the end of the first quarter. The Captains were never seriously threatened the rest of the way. By halftime, the visitors were out in front, 32-19.

Clarkston outscored its opponent 27-21 in the second half, but it wasn't enough to overcome earlier offensive lapses.

"I thought that defensively we did what we wanted to," said Mahrle. "We got the shots (offensively) we wanted and didn't convert."

Kettering's head coach Charlie Shires was glad to see his troops stay unbeaten in GOAL play.

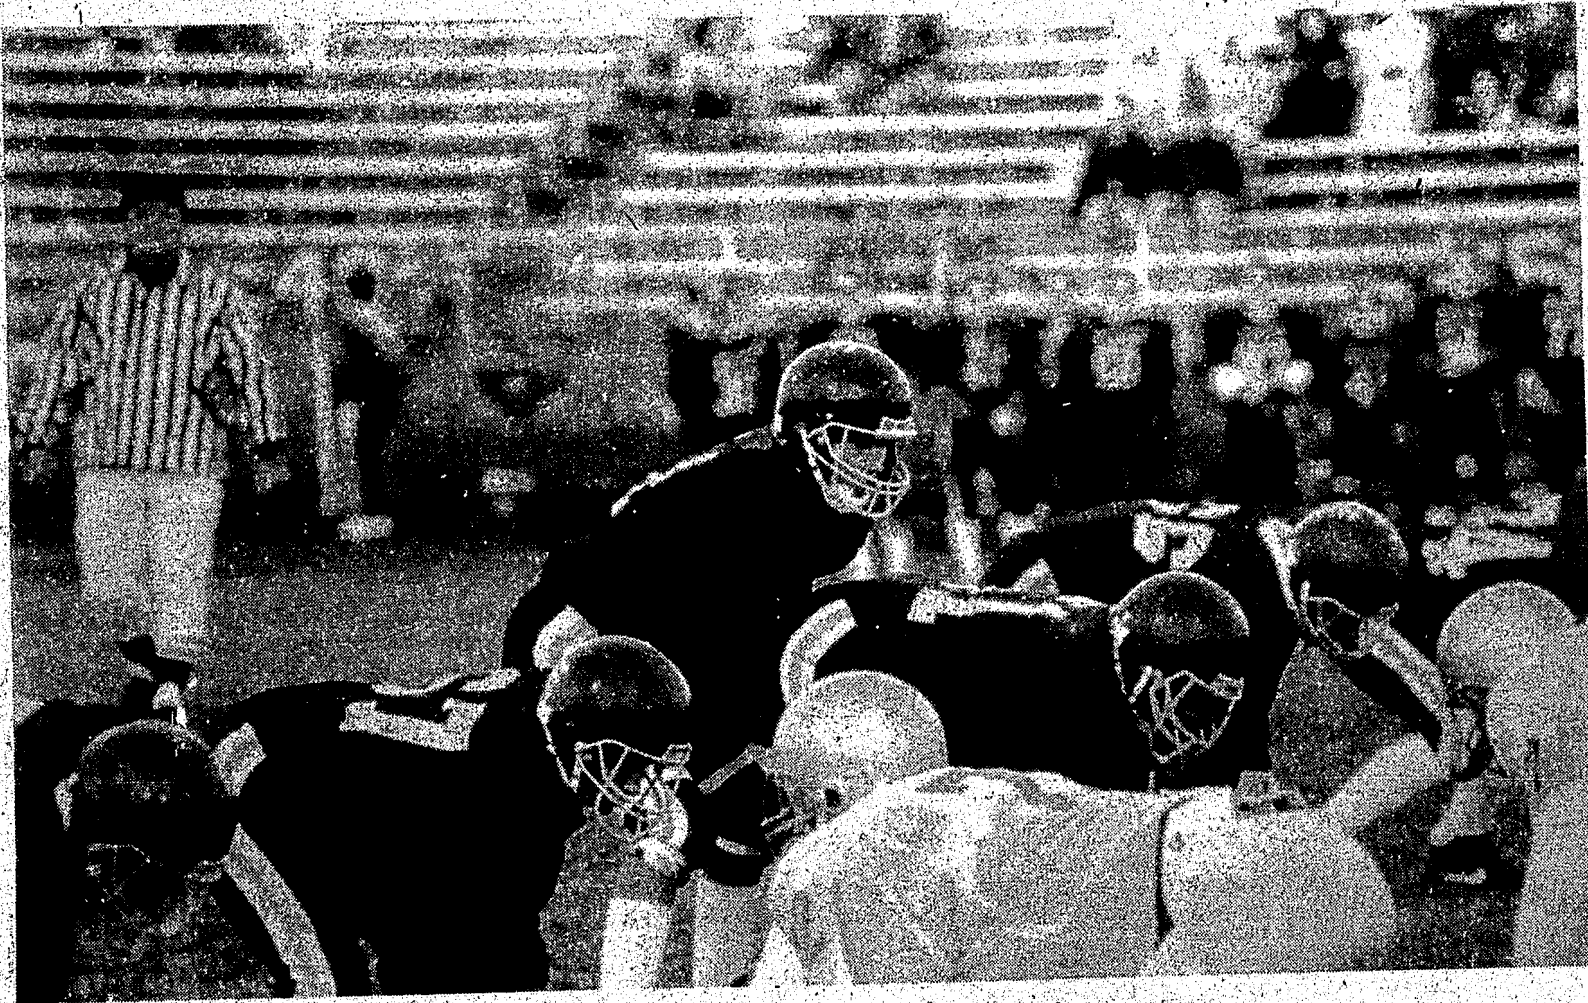

"I'm very pleased with the outcome," he said. "They (Clarkston) are getting better all the time, and they played hard."

After hosting Brighton Tuesday evening (results unavailable at press time), the Wolves travel to Waterford Mott for another GOAL contest. The junior varsity game gets under way at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Another victory

CHAD HETHERINGTON stands over center and calls out the signals for the Wolves' next play during a junior varsity football game against Brandon at Clarkston High Oct. 13. The home team won 49-8 for its seventh straight win this season.

Cross country team tops Brandon to win league title with spotless record of 5-0

By sweeping the first three places against Brandon, the girls cross country team completed a sweep of Greater Oakland Activities League squads.

The Clarkston High School Wolves finish the GOAL with a perfect 5-0 record thanks to a 19-36 victory at Brandon Oct. 11.

Sonya Schaffer (21 minutes, 44 seconds), Lisa Palazzola (22:24) and Nicole Chinavare (23:07) ran a strong race for the Wolves placing first through third, respectively, said Coach Mike Taylor. Emily Winfield also did well, finishing fifth with a time of 23:33.

While the final result wasn't unbelievable, the weather conditions the girls raced under certainly were. "It was incredible," said Taylor. "One minute you needed an umbrella and the next you were taking off your jacket."

The Wolves suffered only their second loss of the season Oct. 13 on the road against powerful Lakeland despite Schaffer's season-best time of 20:11. Palazzola finished in third place, just behind Schaffer with a time of 20:53.

"We ran pretty well," said the coach. "But we didn't match up well."

With the loss, Clarkston's overall record fell to 5-2. The only other defeat was against highly-rated Brighton midway in September.

At the Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard Invitational Saturday, the Wolves were hindered by an injury to their top runner, Schaffer, forcing her to miss the meet.

On the bright side, three of the four entrants for Clarkston finished with season-best times.

Palazzola was the top runner for the Wolves in seventh place. Chinavare was next in 11th place. Both won medals.

Winfield also ran the course well and set a personal-best record. Bree Michelsen continued to improve and knocked her time under 25 minutes at the meet.

The girls now will prepare for the Oxford Invitational Friday afternoon where they have enjoyed great success in years past.

The following week, the team will host the GOAL meet at Independence Oaks for the fourth consecutive year.

Wolves bounce back with win

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

After three straight disappointing losses, the varsity football team desperately needed a boost. For the second time this season, Brett Kinzler provided it.

Kinzler caught the opening kickoff, saw a break big enough to drive a truck through and raced into the end zone for a 79-yard touchdown run only 11 seconds into the game Friday night against Brandon.

His play set the tone for Clarkston's first victory since Sept. 16 when it beat Waterford Mott, 15-14, on a touchdown scored by Kinzler on a kickoff return.

Teammates swarmed around Kinzler, cheering at the top of their lungs and exchanging high-fives, when he walked off the field after scoring. The Wolves were overdue for a victory, making the 24-0 win over the Black Hawks especially sweet.

"It feels great," said Kinzler after the game. "We wanted to win this one pretty bad. We knew we had to win."

Brandon couldn't move the ball on its first offensive possession and had to punt. Clarkston took over on its own 36-yard line and promptly marched the ball down the field for another touchdown.

John King ran the ball three times for 23 yards during the 64-yard scoring drive and eventually hit paydirt on a 4-yard scamper with 4:44 left in the first quarter. Ken Phipps kicked his second straight successful extra-point attempt to put Clarkston in front, 14-0.

On Brandon's next series, King made an excellent tackle on a runner in the backfield for a six-yard loss to knock the Black Hawks out of field goal range. Two plays later the hosts turned the ball over on downs.

Clarkston, by now dominating the game, marched down the field again to score its final touchdown. A 19-yard screen pass from Dugan Fife to Kinzler capped the 68-yard drive.

Kinzler ran the ball six times for 30 yards and caught two passes for 24 yards as the Wolves' main offensive weapon on this particular series of plays.

Another successful kick by Phipps on the extra-point attempt pushed Clarkston's lead to 21-0 with 7:04 left in the half.

Brandon put together a mild scoring threat just before the intermission, but the drive ended on Clarkston's 41-yard line.

The Wolves closed out the scoring in the third quarter on their first offensive drive of the second half.

Clarkston moved the ball from its own 33-yard line to Brandon's 2-yard line but couldn't punch it into the end zone. In fact, a fumbled handoff and a tackle in the backfield pushed the Wolves back to the 7-yard line before Phipps was called on to kick a field goal.

Phipps converted the 25-yard chip shot with 2:08 left in the third stanza. A 15-yard pass play from Fife to Alexander Menzies and a 22-yard run by Kinzler were the key plays in the drive.

Brandon never seriously threatened Clarkston for the rest of the game.

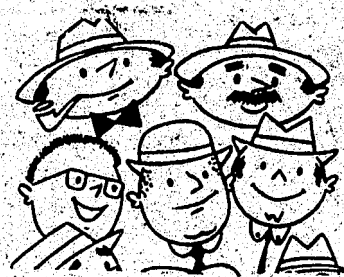

"The defense played well," said Kinzler.

Coach Kurt Richardson said nobody on the team stood out, they all played a good game.

"They deserved a victory," he said. "All of them did good."

Time Out

Sweet victory

Peter Auchter

For the first time in three long, long weeks, Friday night was party time in Clarkston.

Yes, folks, the football team is back on the winning track. Everything is all right with the world again.

Sweaty players were whooping and hollering it up on the buses, hanging out the windows and loudly informing the coaching staff they wanted to stop off at the A & W restaurant for a victory celebration. Who would pick up the tab was the only thing left to decide.

All the frustrations the players built up through a three-game losing streak to Greater Oakland Activities League rivals surfaced in the form of high-fives, huge smiles and lots of joyful noise.

The Wolves were so primed for a victory Friday night against league foe Brandon, I personally thought they were going to scream themselves silly after Brett Kinzler's electrifying 79-yard scamper with the opening kickoff for an early touchdown.

What a way to start the game! Just make sure you don't run over the reporter, OK guys?

Clarkston added two more touchdowns and a Ken Phipps field goal to ice their first victory in October. All of a sudden standing in the cold weather and wet grass didn't seem so grueling. It was almost fun.

Probably the happiest man on the field was Clarkston's head coach Kurt Richardson. As soon as the final gun sounded, he was all smiles. It was nice to be able to ask positive questions for a change instead of the same old, "Coach, what went wrong this week?"

During my two seasons of covering Clarkston football for the News, the victory ranks as the biggest in my mind. At least it affected the players' mood the most.

With Clarkston's strong tradition in football (along with many other sports), I believe the team forgot what it was like to lose. Sure the Wolves could handle a defeat against a ranked opponent now and then, but they were totally unaccustomed to dropping games against league opponents. It didn't sit well at all.

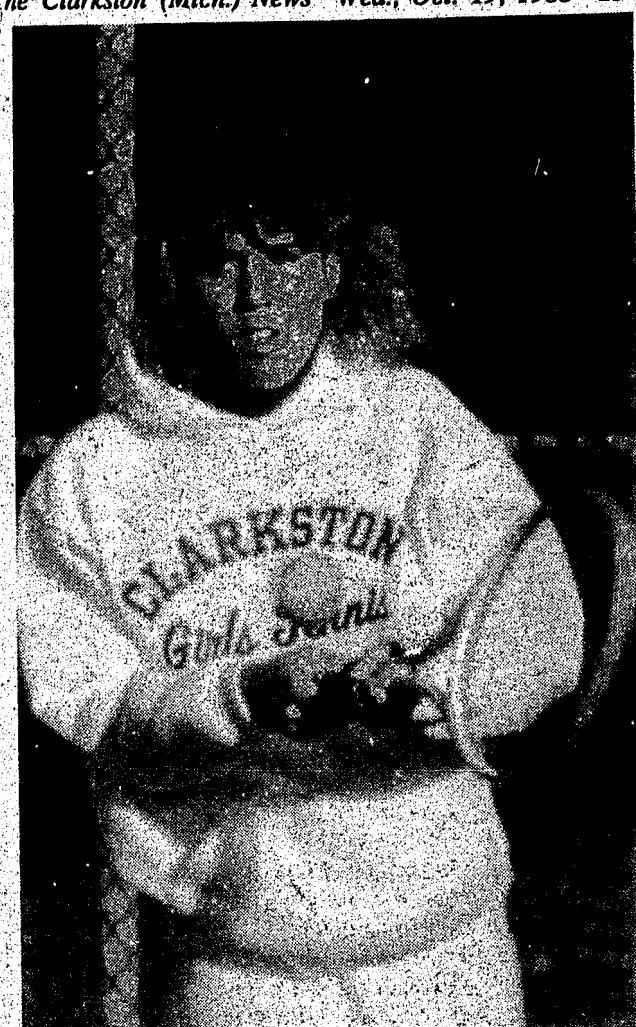

All victories are sweet, but the Brandon game was extra special for the players. They now know, no matter how they finish the season, what it means to be a winner.

Clarkston still has two games left on its 1988 schedule and neither team will be a pushover.

First, they travel to face Flint Central Friday evening. At 5-2 Central probably won't make the playoffs, but the team should be a stiff test for the Wolves, who have been susceptible to the big play against talented teams.

Then the Wolves host North Farmington, a team knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten last weekend, for another gridiron battle.

It will be rough, but the future looks bright for Clarkston football.

KIM K. MORRIS keeps her eye on the ball as she smacks it back over the net during first-round action at the Class A girls tennis regional at Waterford Oaks Friday morning. As a team, Clarkston didn't fare well, with only Katie Riegan, at No. 4 singles, and the doubles team of Debbie Bellows and Jenny Brown winning in the first-round. Riegan was bounced from the tournament from the eventual winner in her bracket, said Coach Dick Swartout.

Cross country team seeks respect

Boys squad works hard to eliminate negative image of program

Before the season began, the boys cross country team's goal for 1988 was simple -- win a dual meet.

The team, winless in the Greater Oakland Activities League (GOAL) a year ago, accomplished their preseason goal early in the fall and now have their sights set on completing a successful campaign.

"Our goal at the beginning of the season was respect," said Clarkston High School Coach Mike Taylor. "Over the weekend, I have nothing to complain about."

The Wolves took on a competitive field at the Ann Arbor-Gabriel Richard Invitational Saturday and finished fifth of 11 teams.

Individually, Jason Wenger ran his best time of the season and won a medal with his 10th-place finish.

Earlier in the week, Clarkston traveled to face GOAL foe Brandon and lost 21-35. Wenger, in third place, was the top runner for the Wolves, crossing the finish line in 17 minutes, 56 seconds. Paul Brisson was next with a 18:12 clocking.

The loss drops Clarkston's record to 2-3 in the GOAL.

Since both teams had enough runners, a rarity at Clarkston the last few years, a junior varsity meet was scheduled at Brandon.

Brandon won 21-36 but Steve Tungate (20:44), Kevin James (20:51) and Duane Poole (20:52) all ran good races and finished fourth through sixth, respectively.

Two days after the Brandon meet, the Wolves took a 17-44 beating against a talented Lakeland squad.

"We didn't match up too well," Taylor said. Wenger finished in fifth place and Brisson sixth as the top runners for Clarkston.

Clarkston's overall record is 2-5.

CHS moves to adopt new honors program

Weighted honor points at Clarkston High School will be replaced by Advanced Placement classes following action by the Clarkston school board last week.

The board voted to support the recommendation from a committee of faculty and administration to abolish the weighted honor classes.

Since their establishment five years ago, weighted honor classes had some problems, such as computation of class standings and differences in curriculum when replacement teachers took over.

The system will be phased out by 1992, when this year's incoming freshmen are seniors. Instead, AP classes, which have already been started at the high school, will be broadened.

AP is a nationally recognized, externally driven curriculum that colleges recognize, according to Brent Cooley, CHS assistant principal.

Weighted honor point classes were an internal program within the district.

Tree tops are sold

Ken Williams of Independence Township was the high bidder and winner of approximately 500 face cords of wood from a parkland acquired last year by Springfield Township.

Williams, who has a sand and gravel business, bid $3,000 to remove the tree tops in a one-year period. The second highest bidder was Carroll Rogers of Springfield Township with a bid of $2,002.

Williams indicated that he would use his family and his Bobcat, a small front-end loader, to remove the wood.

The tree tops are on about 70 acres of the 395-acre park, Shiawassee Basin Preserve. They are left over from a logging operation.

Apples for excellence to go school staff

Forty-five administrators, teachers and staff members of Clarkston Community Schools received awards for perfect attendance during the 1987-88 school year.

Assistant Superintendent Mel Vaara presented the awards during the October board of education meeting. He said some of the staff had not missed a day in years. Every recipient received a brass apple for his or her desk.

Administrators receiving the award were: Conrad Bruce, Robert Brumback, Robert Burek, Brent Cooley, John Hayden, William Jackson, Duane Lewis, Vincent Licata, Daniel Manthei, Milford Mason, Doris Mousseau, William Potvin and Mel LeRoy Vaara.

Instructors receiving the award were: James Chamberlain, Clifford Chapman, William Curtis, William Holmes, Scott Irwin, Charles Keegan, Christian Krueger, Gloria Lacy, Dale Lage, Ralph Lewis, Wiladean Moore, Thomas O'Brien, John Reabe, Gordon Richardson, Catherine Roller, Gregory Seaman, Debbie Shotwell and Joseph Wiechec.

Other employees and staff members receiving awards were: Kevin Bickerstaff, Bonnie Campbell, Mary Girvin, Donna Jones, Sarah Brown, Jeffrey Shook, John Greaves, Alton Hamilton, Gerald Langdon, Herbert May, Stephen Partlo, Frederick Vess, Rick Carpenter and John Ruelle.

Food to be distributed

Butter and flour are to be distributed next week through the Oakland and Livingston Human Service Agency.

Income eligible residents who did not register in September may register the day of distribution. They must bring proof of total household income for the last 90 days, Social Security card and some type of ID.

Senior citizens who attend a senior center should contact their center for pickup date and time. Homebound seniors should contact their nearest center to register for delivery.

Homebound residents under 60 years old should call 666-3974.

The local pickup site is the Springfield Township Parks and Recreation office at 650 Broadway in Davisburg. Times are 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Snow removal needed

Snow plowing around the Springfield Township Hall, library and two fire stations will be up for bids this year.

The township board voted to advertise for bids on the plowing contract. Interested persons with plows may contact the township, 634-3111 or 625-4802, for more information.

Medal arrives, stirs senior's memory

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Sometimes it takes a long time to say, "Thank you." Forty-eight years ago, American soldiers successfully helped the Chinese fight off a Japanese invasion during World War II.

A few weeks back, an Independence Township veteran found out firsthand how much the Chinese appreciated the Americans' presence in their time of need.

Guido Rizzuto of Heath Avenue was flabbergasted when he opened a handsome royal blue velvet box and discovered a pair of stick-pin wings from the Chinese Air Force.

"We didn't know anything about this," he said of the medal presented by General Chen Hsing-Ling.

As Rizzuto remembers it, the Chinese Air Force did mention something about awarding medals once the war was over, but nothing ever came of it. He was overjoyed to be going home; picking up a medal was the last thing on his mind, he said.

Two years ago, a medallion sent to all United States servicemen arrived in the mail from the Chinese government. The award jogged the memory of a fellow U.S. Air Force member, who began asking questions. Through his prompting, officials checked into the matter and discovered that the Air Force wings were still in existence and waiting to be claimed.

"Wow, 40 years later. It's a good thing that he remembered," Rizzuto said. "It surprised us."

When the wings arrived, Rizzuto wrote the Chinese officials back, thanking them for sending the medals after all those years. Last week, he received a thank-you note for his thank-you note. He's enjoyed the correspondence tremendously.

Retired from the Pontiac Post Office since 1976, and Pontiac State Bank since 1986, the 32-year resident of Independence Township keeps in touch with the world through a citizens band radio hooked up in his bedroom.

Post cards from around the world decorate the walls, all from people he's met through the radio. Some even are so generous as to send samplings of their currency.

There also is a large map of the world with a red dot marking every city he's contacted. He now has friends in places from the Netherlands to Columbia, South America.

"I talk to people all around the world," he said. "It keeps you going."

Rizzuto grew up in Pontiac when the area was still farmland. The 67-year-old remembers when construction on the General Motors Truck and Coach Plant began.

In 1942, he was drafted into the armed forces and was shipped out to Fresno, Calif., for training with the 10th Air Force Unit.

Before receiving his call to duty, Rizzuto never had been outside of Michigan. The three-day, three-night train ride across the country to the training center excited him, since he had never seen mountains or an ocean before.

For a year-and-a-half he trained in California. He then drew an assignment in Calcutta, India.

"It was fast training," he said.

During the war, his unit's job involved moving supplies, fuel and livestock to wherever they were needed in the China-Burma-India area. His missions usually took him across the Himalaya Mountains, an especially dangerous location considering the constant presence of Japanese fighter planes.

To commemorate his experience, Rizzuto has a chunk of the mountainside preserved in his home and an oil-painting of an American plane outrunning the enemy through peaks and valleys of the mountain range hanging on the wall.

During his three-plus years of service abroad, Rizzuto managed to learn the Indian language. He still speaks it today, and without an American accent, much to the amazement of India natives.

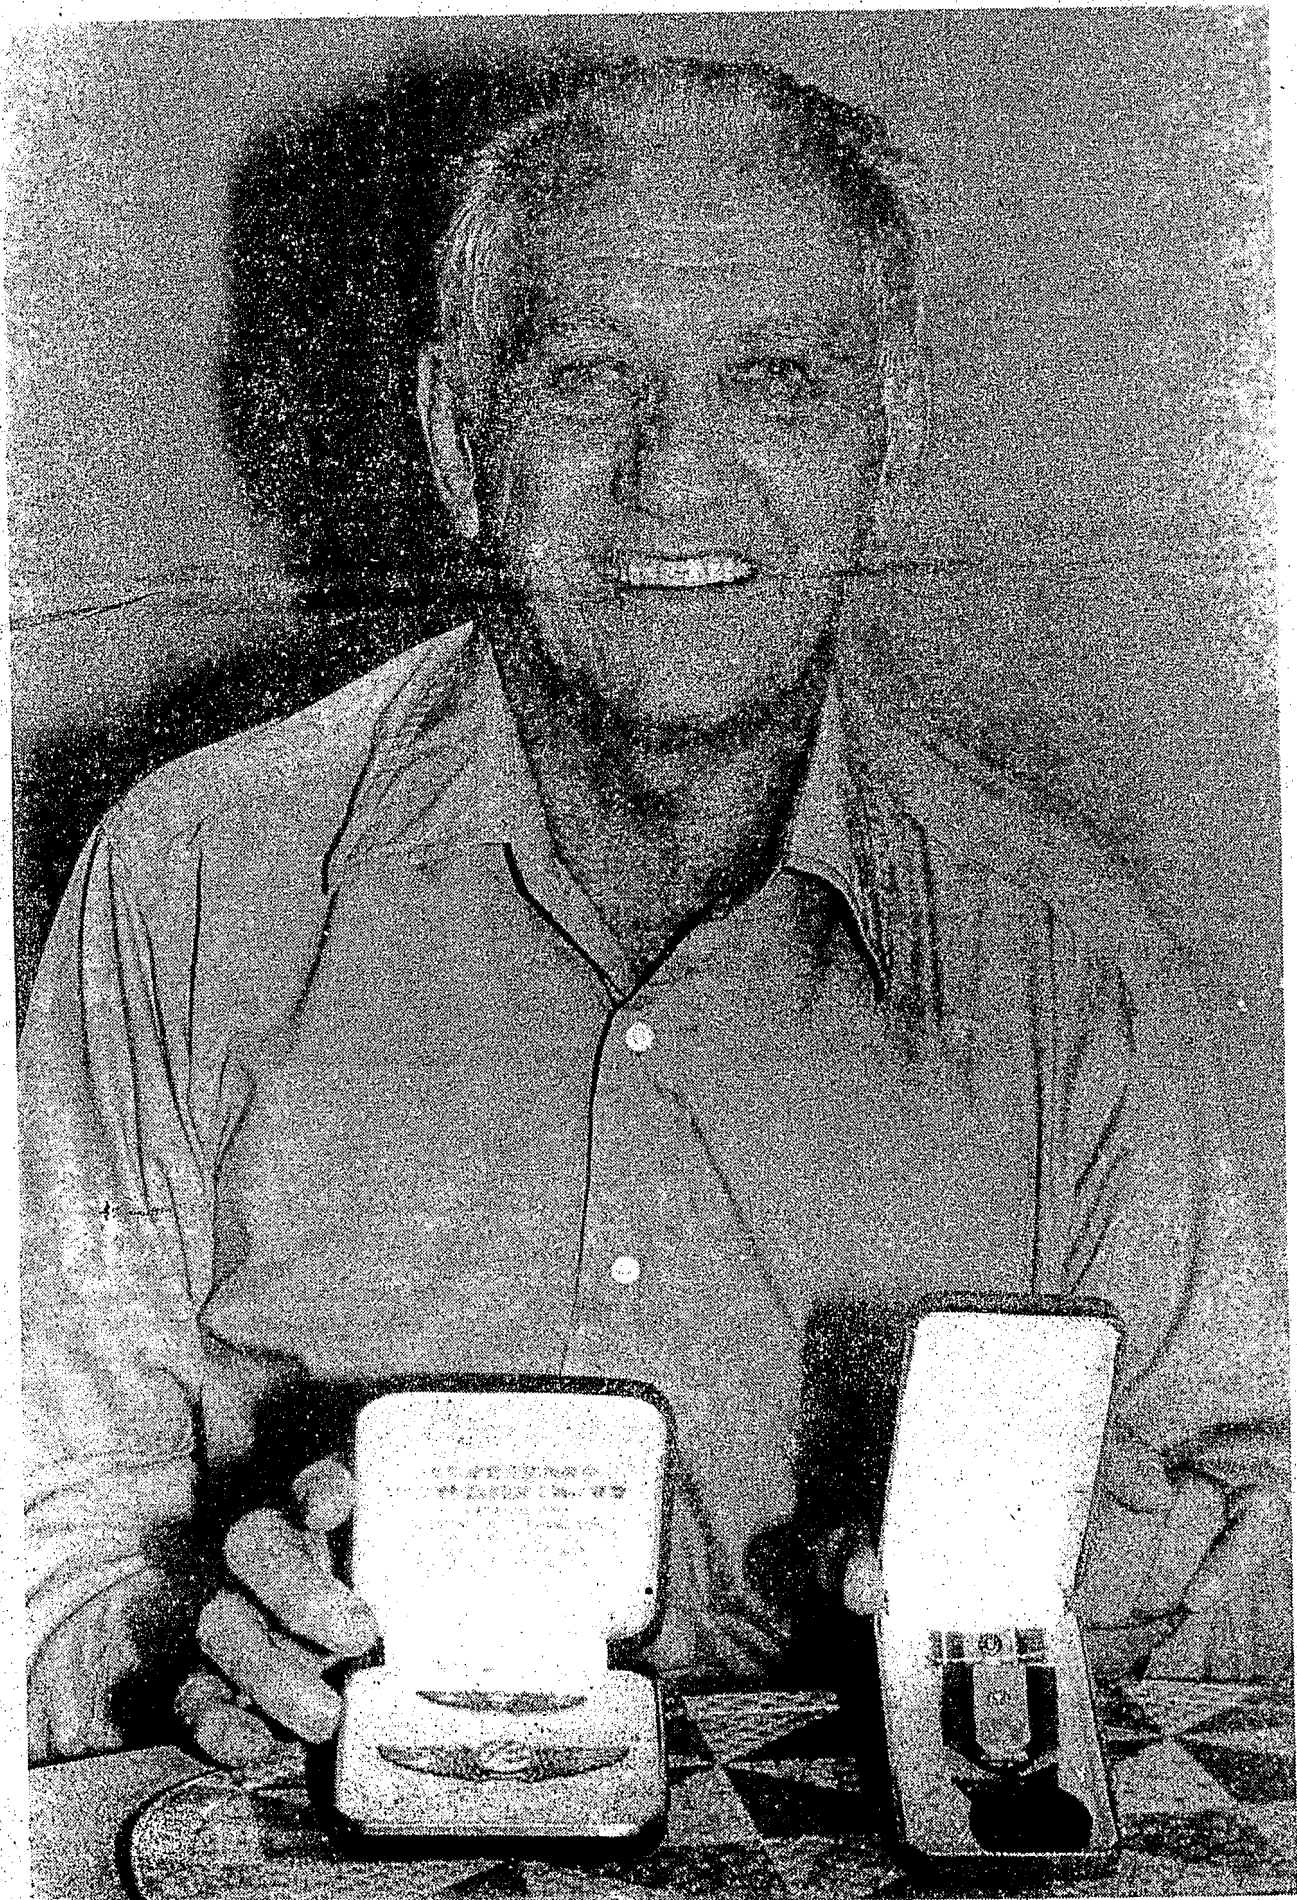

"I'm amazed it sticks with me," he said. "In my estimation if I could do it all over again I'd have learned a language in school. It's very interesting. That's the best thing you can do."

He also brought back numerous items from the areas he visited while in the service, as well as plenty of memories -- good and bad.

"I lost a lot of buddies," he said of the war. "I don't regret (going), but it was a war and you lose people."

Someday, if possible, he'd like to return to China and see for himself how the area has changed over the last 40 years.

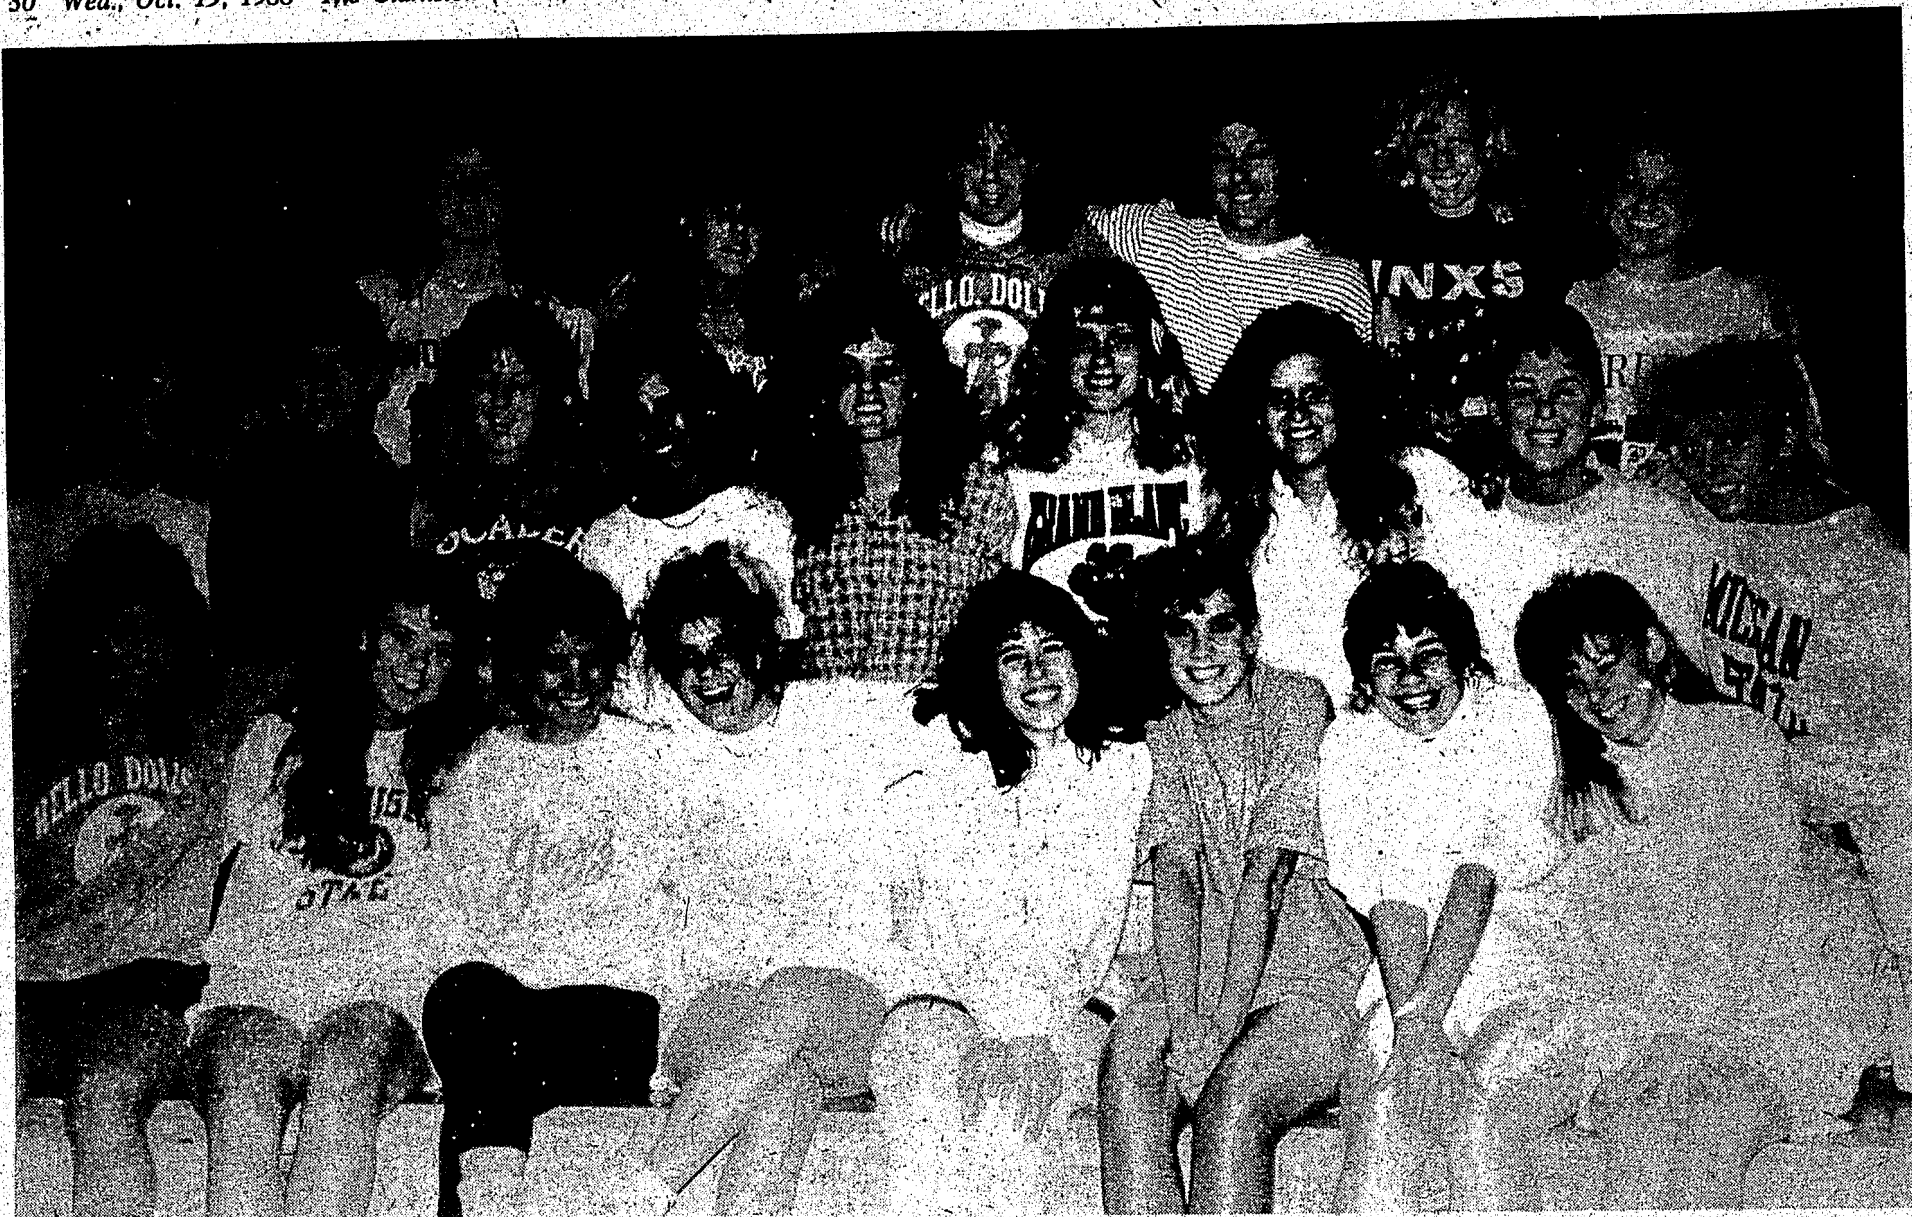

"I enjoy seeing people and different things," he said. "It's fun."

GUIDO RIZZUTO of Heath Avenue, Independence Township holds an award from the Chinese Air Force in his right hand and the one from the Chinese government in his left.

TWENTY-TWO girls from the Clarkston area will compete in the annual Junior Miss tournament at Clarkston High School beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday. The theme for the show will be from the Broadway hit "Cats." Tickets are $5 for the competition and can be purchased from any Junior Miss contestant or from organizer Barb Hamaker. She can be reached at 625-4041.

BRAKE PRICES?

UNTIL THEY PULL THE WHEELS, THEY'RE PULLING YOUR LEG.

Think about it. How do some brake places know what your next job'll cost if they've never seen your brakes to begin with? Answer: they don't.

Fact is, there's no way anyone can figure out exactly what the price will be. There are just too many possibilities.

That's why at Midas, we pull all four wheels before every brake job. To get inside your brakes. To inspect them. To positively determine what's gone wrong. From a nine dollar can of fluid to a new master cylinder.

And when we're finished, we'll give you a pinpoint estimate of the entire job. With a price that won't go up when the job's done. That's our promise to you.

So when it comes time to pay, you'll have a leg to stand on.

Hunters put catches to good cause

BY PAT YOUNG
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A special purpose led to a hunting trip in Newfoundland for Clark Cumming of Springfield Township and friend Ron French of Brandon Township in September.

"We had to bring back meat," Cumming says with a smile. And they did -- two caribou and two moose.

That meat plus elk from New Mexico, venison and pheasant from Michigan, and Lake Superior whitefish transformed into a delicious chowder were all part of a special benefit Thursday, Oct. 13.

Cumming and French along with another friend, Marv Wiley, decided to have a benefit for Children's Hospital in Detroit.

They involved another friend, Ed DePoorter and his wife, Pat, who donated their restaurant, Four Seasons Inn at 10816 Dixie Highway in Springfield Township, for the occasion.

The Four Seasons had the catering and kitchen capabilities to accommodate more than 110 people who paid $20 each to attend.

"Every penny of every dollar went to the hospital," says Wiley, who was "chief cook" for the occasion. "Everything was donated for the benefit."

Over 50 merchants donated items for door prizes and an auction at the benefit, which the hunters had been planning since July or August.

"My sister (Lola Bergantino) collected all those donations from merchants in only one week," Cumming says. "I think we only had two people turn us down."

"I think it's an idea the friends sat down and concocted over a beer one night," says Bergantino, who works at Cumming's business near Davisburg. "Clark is

Dinner aids children

A benefit dinner of wild game last week at the Four Seasons Inn, Springfield Township, netted $3,000 for the Detroit Children's Hospital.

Ticket sales totaled $2,800, according to Lola Bergantino, who worked on the benefit.

She works for her brother, Clark Cumming of Springfield Township, one of several friends who organized the event.

Bergantino added that Cumming "threw in the other $200 to make an even $3,000" for the Children's Hospital.

a very generous guy, and I think they all wanted to do something to benefit kids."

Cumming has four children of his own. Wiley has one, French has four and the DePoorters have two. But there may have been more than just a "soft spot for kids" behind the benefit, though Cumming is slow to admit it.

Almost exactly one year ago his daughter, Angela, now 17, was injured in a car accident and was a patient at Children's Hospital in Detroit.

Cumming brushes off his own involvement, instead saying, "We knew we had a good cook with Marv."

Wiley is quick to share the cooking credits with the DePoorters, adding that they were also the hosts for the dinner.

Bergantino marvels at how many people helped with the event.

"I can't believe how generous everyone has been," she says. "When you see people start giving like that, it makes you want to do even more."

Party for spooks

A Halloween costume party for children in kindergarten through sixth grade is planned from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 27, in Springfield Oaks Activity Center, 12451 Andersonville Rd.

A Vampire Magic Show will highlight the event, featuring the "Magic of Don Jones" and starring Jonathan Haglund as the vampire magician.

Children will be treated to cider and donuts at this special Halloween event. There will also be a costume contest, with winners in many categories receiving prizes. And all children who attend will be given a "fright pak" to take home.

Tickets are a $3 donation per child and are limited to 150 children. Registration will be in advance, at the Springfield Township Library, 10900 Andersonville Rd., or at the Springfield Township Parks and Recreation office, 650 Broadway in downtown Davisburg.

The Halloween costume party is co-sponsored by the Springfield Township Library, Springfield Township Parks and Recreation, and Oakland County Parks and Recreation.

Haunted house opens

All the usual Halloween spirits will be on hand to scare visitors at Springfield Township's haunted house.

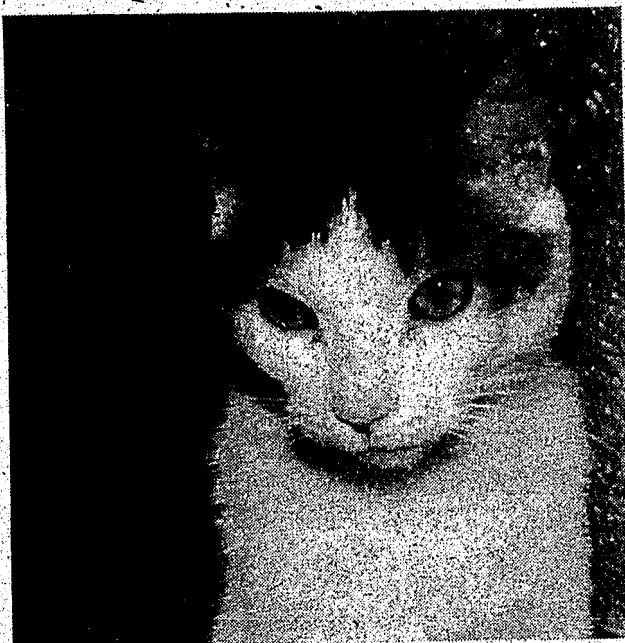

The haunted house will be open in the building at Mill Pond park on Davisburg Road just east of downtown Davisburg from Oct. 26-30. Hours will be from 6 to 9 p.m. nightly.

Admission is $2 per person. The haunted house will also be open on Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. at half price for children ages 12 and under.

The haunted house is being put on by volunteers, and all of the proceeds will help support the Friends of the Springfield Township Parks Committee.

More information is available by calling Sherry Swindell at 634-0412 or 625-9622.

Pet of the Week

How about Heathcliff?

Need a good friend and a great conversationalist? Someone to cuddle? How about adopting Heathcliff, a 1-year-old orange and white short-haired cat.

He loves people and is very vocal about wanting attention. He is also good around other cats and dogs and would be great with children. Heathcliff loves being held and cuddled. What he doesn't like is being temporarily homeless.

Heathcliff may be adopted at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The adoption fee for Heathcliff is $25. He is already neutered.

Bike for St. Jude's

A bikeathon to raise money for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is ready to roll from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 29, at Indian Springs Metropark in Springfield and White Lake townships.

Coordinator of the fund-raiser is Robert Strickler of Springfield Township.

He became involved after receiving a telephone call from Indiana. Strickler liked the idea of helping the hospital founded by entertainer Danny Thomas to combat catastrophic diseases that afflict children.

The bikeathon will consist of a 4-mile course. Participants will gather pledges per mile and then cycle around the course as many times as they wish.

"It's a good cause. How can you turn down kids?" said Strickler. His goal is to raise at least $1,000 for the hospital.

There will be prizes for the top pledge-gatherers and refreshments. Rain date is Saturday, Nov. 6.

Pledge sheets for the bikeathon may be picked up at the service desk at K mart on Dixie Highway in Waterford Township, where Strickler is assistant manager. For more information, call 625-0928 or 674-2236.

Food for Thanksgiving

Low income individuals or families can sign up through Saturday, Oct. 22, for a Thanksgiving Food Basket from Lighthouse in Pontiac.

Names will be taken from 9 a.m. to noon in the gymnasium of All Saints Episcopal Church on Exchange Street at Orchard Lake Road, Pontiac. The baskets will be distributed Nov. 21 and 22.

Lighthouse is also looking for volunteers to help sort, pack and present the baskets, beginning Nov. 14. It is projected that holiday food will be presented to 4,000 to 4,500 people.

The organization was formed in 1972 to provide food, clothing and emergency funds to those in need. It serves residents of Pontiac and northern Oakland County.

For more information on volunteering or receiving a basket, call 335-2462.

Microwave Plus

Apple answers

Betty Wagner

Last weekend, I was with a friend who needed to follow a low fat, low sugar and low sodium diet. Unfortunately, many food preparation methods use far more of these ingredients than are necessary for taste.

The microwave oven provides an opportunity to cook foods that can be low in fat, sugar and salt without sacrificing taste.

Michigan apples are the basis of two easy, nutritious recipes, low in fat, salt and sugar. One is a meal starter, the other an ender.

APPLE CHOWDER

Webster says a chowder is a "thick soup usually of onions and potatoes and often clams and milk." My chowder is thick and contains yogurt. It may be served hot, warm or cold, depending on the weather.

1 pound Jonamac Michigan apples (a cross between Jonathan and McIntosh)

2 to 2 1/2 cups unsweetened apple juice

1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

1/8 teaspoon both cloves and allspice

1 cup low fat vanilla yogurt

Cinnamon sticks, if desired

Core and peel apples. Slice in even-size pieces. Place in 3-quart Pyrex casserole dish. Cover; microwave at high 5 minutes or until soft enough to mash.

Add 2 cups apple juice. Pour into blender or food processor and puree. Add more juice depending on thickness desired. Add spices. Heat if chowder will be served hot. Stir in yogurt, garnish with cinnamon sticks and serve.

HEALTHY APPLE DUMPLING

This is an adaptation of Big Peach Dumpling using apples instead of peaches and less than half the sugar and butter.

1 pound Jonamac Michigan apples, cored, peeled and evenly sliced

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 teaspoon cinnamon

2 tablespoons butter, melted

3/4 cup flour

1/3 cup granulated sugar

3/4 cup skim milk

1/4 cup rolled oats

2 tablespoons unsweetened apple juice

Low fat vanilla yogurt, low fat frozen yogurt or ice milk

Place sliced apples in a 2-quart Pyrex dish. Toss with lemon juice and cinnamon. Cover; microwave at high for 3 to 4 minutes. Stir after half the time.

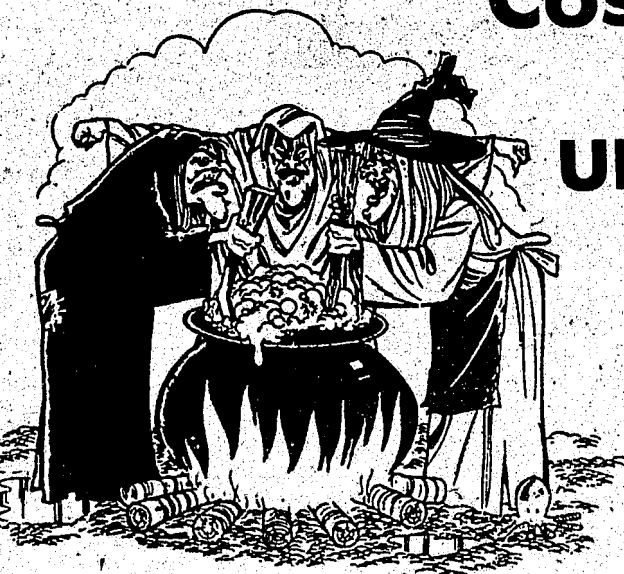

Combine melted butter, milk, flour and sugar. Pour over partially cooked apples. Combine oats and apple juice. Sprinkle over apples.

Microwave, uncovered, at high 5 to 6 minutes. Rotate dish 1/2 turn after 2 1/2 minutes. Serve hot with low fat vanilla yogurt, low fat frozen yogurt or ice milk.

Home economist Betty Wagner resides in Independence Township. Her cable-TV program "Microwave Plus" airs on Independence-Clarkston Channel 65.

Clarkston: Past, present and future

BY GARY HANER
Superintendent
Clarkston Community Schools

My recent return to Clarkston exemplified my very positive reflections on Clarkston from nearly 20 years ago -- both as a community in which to reside and as a school district from which my daughter will graduate.

...A community that was near the attractions of the metropolitan area, yet was typified by a "mill pond" environment -- a quaint village, little industry, subdivisions of homes, area churches, local control of government, and shared enjoyments in a family lifestyle, which included parades, ball games, concerts, charitable events and many other "warm" activities.

...A school system where educators still cared for "kids," where school was a safe environment, where basics had always been important -- but reasonable "extras" were provided by a supportive community, and most of all where employees and students alike looked forward to spending another day together.

Many people appear surprised when I share my positive observations about how little Clarkston has really changed during my absence.

...Sure, there are more homes and people, but we still have little industry and family activities are still the primary focus for most of our residents.

...Kids still come first in school, we offer more "extras" than in times past, the demands on our educators are greater than before, our schools are still safe, fun places to be, and the quality of our educational system is still reflected in the desirability of homes in our community and corresponding property values.

As the saying goes, "hindsight is 20-20." The past is easy to recall and the present is, while open to debate, rather easily observed. The future is, however, not so easy to consider.

While we don't know what tomorrow will bring, we must make plans for years to come. Our community must GARY HANER became superintendent of Clarkston schools on July 1. From 1966 to 1971, he was a sixth-grade teacher in the Clarkston school district, moving on to administrative positions in other communities. Before accepting the top post in Clarkston, he was superintendent of Pinckney Community Schools, a district near Ann Arbor.

consider topics such as: roads, pollution, economic development, zoning and many others of similar magnitude.

Our schools, meanwhile, face ongoing concerns for: a curriculum that is at the same time both basic and progressive, quality instruction for success for all children, the social needs of children, which now include such critical topics as substance abuse and AIDS, hiring the best employees available and providing new buildings with ever decreasing governmental support. The list could go on and on!

If we can't "look into the future," how can we plan for it? First, by committing ourselves to certain basics. Basics for which Clarkston is well known -- again both as a community and as a school district.

We can assure one another that through shared commitment we will continue to maintain and promote the things mentioned above that make us unique.

Our schools must continue to meet the needs of children -- academically and socially! Our environment must be safe. Our educators must continue to offer quality, accountable instruction.

Our curriculum must reflect both basic and progressive thinking. Our buildings must be physically secure with adequate space to enhance the educational process.

No, no one can "look into the future"! However, by sharing our resources; school board, employees, community and, yes, even our students, we can maximize our future options.

I believe that the Clarkston Community Schools are not only schools of quality, but schools that are on the cutting edge of being leaders of other schools that have limited financial resources.

But we must remember; the schools are a microcosm, a very real reflection of the community in which they are located.

Therefore, I offer to you both a commitment and a challenge for the future.

A commitment to lead our district in continuing our very positive current programs while evaluating the options as to where we would like to be 10 years from now and beyond.

A challenge that real success in the process will not only come with your commitment and assistance -- if you are not already involved, you are invited to join us in our shared efforts.

Our kids and our community depend on each one of us doing our part!

From recession to building boom

Dramatic changes have occurred in Independence over past 5 years

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Five years ago, the effects of the recession were still apparent: Men and women were laid off from their jobs, new subdivision developments stood dormant and local business owners were trying desperately to survive.

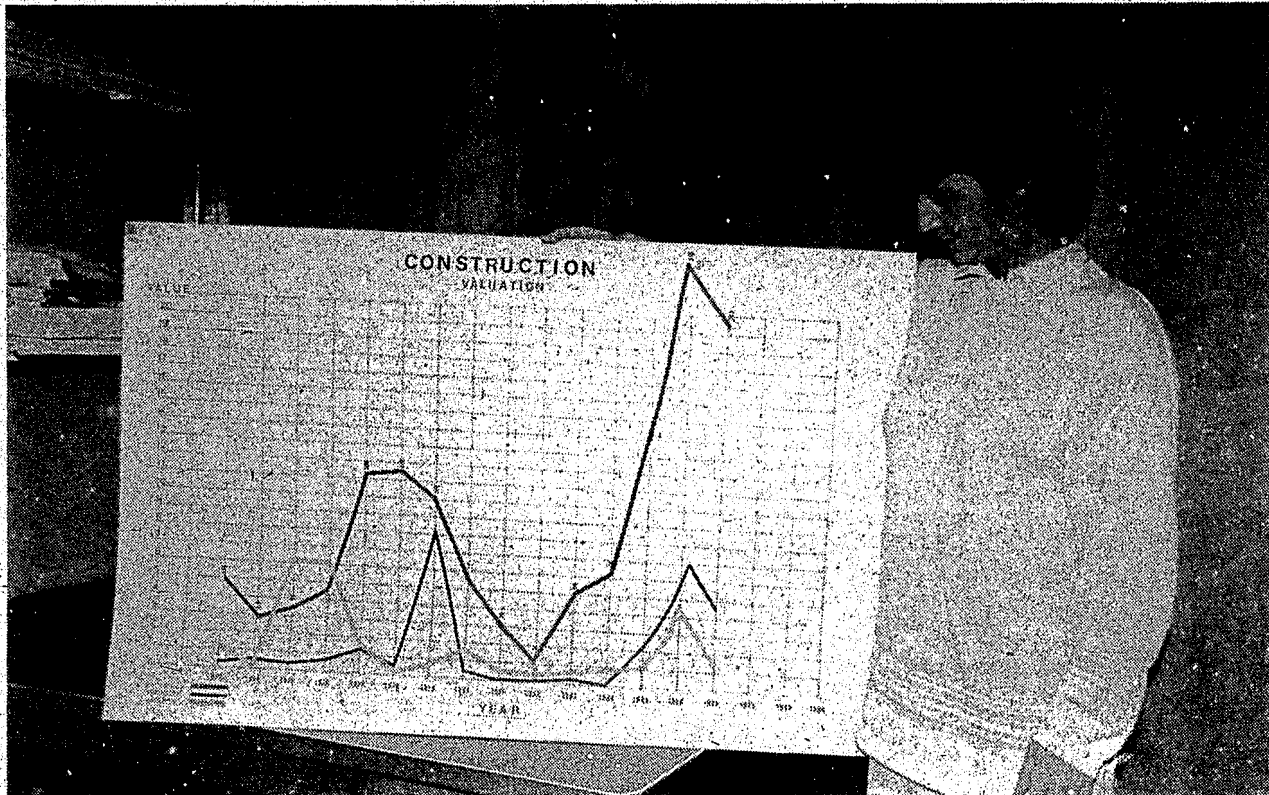

Since then, interest rates have dropped, property values have soared, new businesses have opened in Oakland County and workers have moved to be near their new jobs. Independence Township has found itself in the midst of a building boom.

"It's very obvious that people want to come to Independence Township," said Beverly McElmeel, director of the township building and planning department. "We have an excellent school system. We have a community where the value is high; it's going to appreciate. The location is good. You've got Flint in one direction, and Pontiac is nearby. If you work in the City of Detroit, it's not that far away."

"The Village (of Clarkston) is very pleasing," she said. "It's a big draw. You've got a lot of things going for you to move into this community. You have the rural character of some areas that we are preserving. It's a very well-planned community."

In 1988, growth remains steady in the township, although new residential construction has dropped from the 1986 record-breaking year of 318 new single family houses worth $31 million in construction. State equalized valuations (SEV) for the same year showed similar high numbers at $296.18 million -- a 12 percent increase or $35.6 million higher than the 1985 valuation.

With only nine residential permits, 1982 broke records for the slowest year in new residential construction. Subsequent years marked slow recovery, said McElmeel.

LINDA GEE, secretary in the Independence Township Building Department, holds the construction chart that shows 1986 residential construction skyrocketing off the graph.

Leading up to the peak year of 1986, 74 housing permits were issued in 1984 and 166 in 1985, a sign that people were employed again, she said.

"People were probably starting to feel secure," McElmeel said. "Interest rates were probably down...."

Times were starting to be good. People started buying again. People were starting to feel, 'Hey, let's take a chance. Let's do it.' Money started circulating again."

Following the peak, residential building activity (See GROWTH, Page 6)

More growth

remained in the 200s, with 244 houses in 1987 and over 200 expected in 1988, said McElmeel.

Likewise, township SEV was $331.8 million and $379 million for 1987 and 1988, respectively, said Connie Lipka, appraiser in the township assessing office. The 1988 figure represents nearly a 28 percent increase in SEVs over two years.

"The economy recovered somewhat, and people took advantage of it while they could," said Lipka. "There were a lot more first-time buyers and a lot more first-time owners who were building."

The stable economy set the stage for rapid construction, said McElmeel.

"We could really see the progress after the recession," she said. "We've had four really good years. ... The economy has just boomeranged for the entire nation. We got well."

While new single family residential construction has decreased, construction of condominiums and apartments has filled the need for housing, she said.

The condominium projects in progress this year are: Clarkston Bluffs on Dixie Highway at Waterford Hill, going for around $150,000 each; Newport on Clarkston Road, around $150,000; Pine Knob Manor Homes off of Waldon Road, over $200,000; Independence Valley off Sashabaw Road, $150,000; and Steeple Ridge on Perry Lake Road at Clarkston Road.

Lancaster Lakes Apartments off Dixie Highway across from Maybee Road are also under construction.

Single family developments in progress include: Independence Valley, first phase of 13 lots at Pine Knob and Sashabaw roads; and Deerwood III, the third stage of the M-15 subdivision, north of I-75.

"Anywhere there's vacant lots available, there's activity going on," said Lipka. "We're finding that, with a lot of the subdivisions, they're filling up and expanding."

Certain areas are more popular than others, she said. "It seems to be right now that Deerwood is the place to live."

Further, home sizes have increased significantly in recent years. In 1985, the average home size was around

Bit of heaven: For most, growth hasn't changed Clarkston community's mystique

If you lead a good life, go to Sunday School and Church, say your prayers every night, when you die you'll go to Clarkston.

— Sign at Clarkston High School

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Whether it's compliments or complaints, residents express strong opinions when describing the quality of life in and around Clarkston.

Anyone reading the photo-copied sign hanging on the back wall of the concession stand inside Clarkston High School can tell some residents think highly of Clarkston. Inscribed in Old English lettering is the saying above that could be expressed in capsule form: "Clarkston is like Heaven."

"I like it just the way it is," says Ruth Briggs, a 34-year Independence Township resident. "There have been a little too many changes. I'd like to see things stay the same."

Friendly people, a small-town atmosphere and open lands attracted her to the area many years ago. The Tappan Drive resident believes the same qualities still attract families looking for a good home to Clarkston.

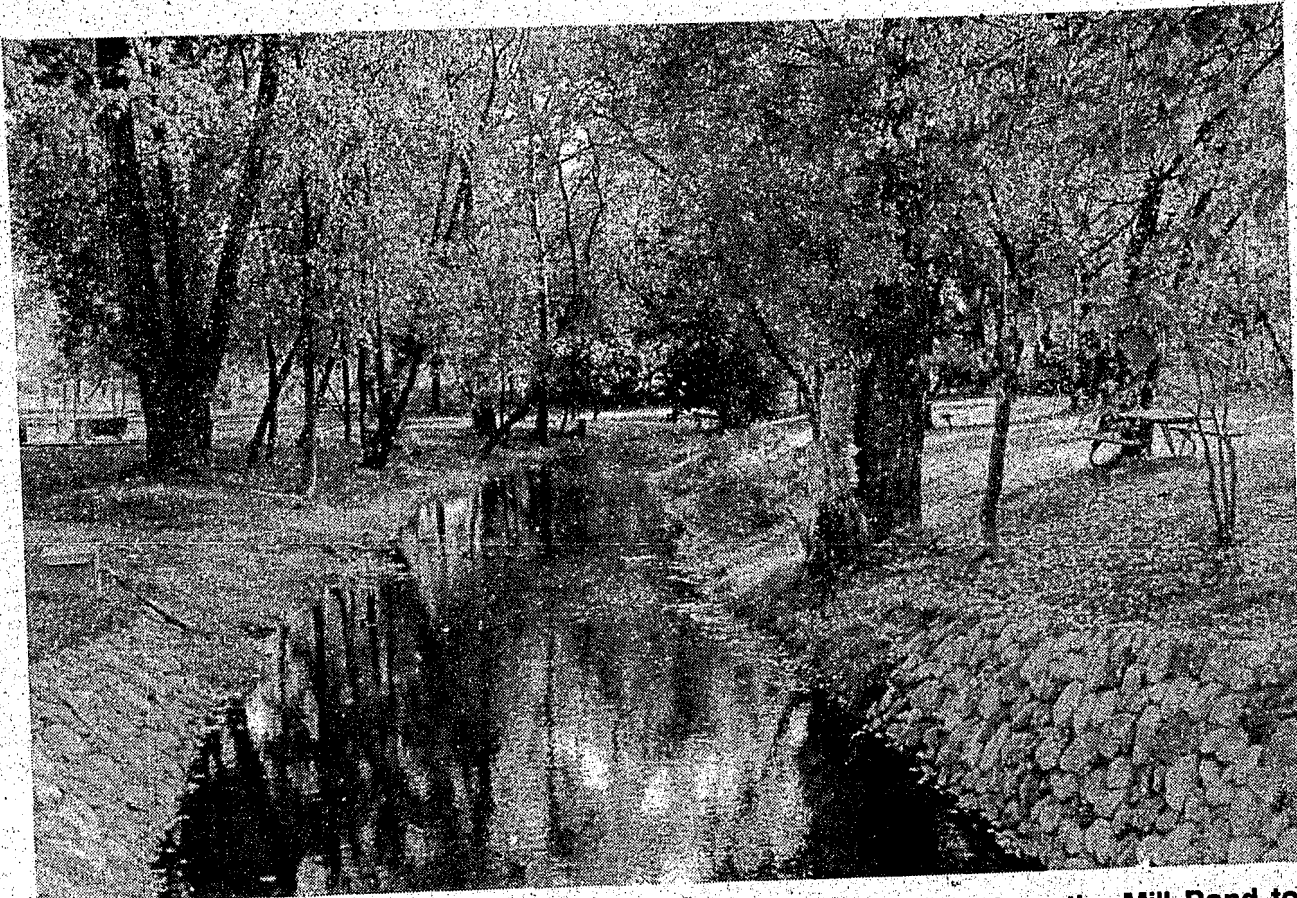

Greg Post of Fay Drive, Independence Township, agrees with Briggs, saying the area has a lot to offer new residents.

"There are a lot of nice people who live here," he said. "Also, the schools have high academics."

While the proximity of friends and relatives made it an easy decision, Randy Keller of Old Cove Road, Independence Township, admitted the rural tone made it an attractive place to escape from the rat race of the city.

But, according to one long-time resident, Clarkston is creeping closer to becoming an urbanized area.

When Guido Rizzuto moved to his Heath Drive, Independence Township, residence in 1956, Maybee

PART OF THE CLINTON RIVER chain, the Millstream winds through the Clarkston De-

Road wasn't paved and there were plenty of open spaces. Over the years he has seen Clarkston evolve into what it is today. As far as he's concerned, the modernization process hasn't affected the charm.

"It's progress, and you can't stop it," he said. "But pot Park on its way from the Mill Pond to Cemetery Lake in the Village of Clarkston.

the planning commission has to watch it. I-75 comes from a congested area out of Detroit and we will be another congested area (if growth is left unchecked)."

The area does exude a certain charm to visitors and 1,400 square feet. Now, most new homes are 2,500 square feet, with many over 4,000 square feet.

With the residential growth came commercial developments, and several large projects are under way in the township, said McElmeel.

Construction is to begin this year on: Mt. Zion Temple on Maybee near Clintonville and I-75; Great Scott shopping center on Dixie across from Maybee Road; and Independence Pointe shopping center on M-15 at I-75.

More of the same is expected for the next year, but single family residential building is likely to decrease even more, McElmeel said.

"We're still going to be active, but it just won't be as much as 1988," she said. "It's kind of a wait and see program to predict what's going to happen. It's booming in Oakland County. That's why I say Independence Township will be strong. We will receive the effects of that."

"We've had four good years already. Normally, you go into the next cycle, and it differs. You can't stay up there all the time. ... The next year will tell us a lot."

"Anywhere there's vacant lots available, there's activity going on. We're finding that with a lot of the subdivisions they're filling up and expanding."

AUTUMN LEAVES, once the brilliant colors are spent, fall onto yards and ponds, like the one in this rural Reese Road setting in Independence Township.

Independence Township

By Pat Young

A portfolio of rural settings and rolling hills
Studded with lakes, like so many gems.
Winding roads weave business corridors together
And lead to a village called Clarkston.
Every corner is brought to life
By a mix of friendly folks who call this home.
Historic homes reflect heritage past
While schools look to the children and the future.
Families picnic in parks and back yards
That delights year round:
In spring,
Life renews with baby ducks and budding trees.
When summer sizzles,

Lakes beckon boaters and swimmers
And trails threading neighborhoods and parks
Tempt bikers and joggers.
Autumn offers colorful shows
That city concrete can't provide.
And when the leaves are spent,
They fall
On lakes and countryside that soon provide
A winter wonderland for skiers and skaters.
When the metropolitan area grew outward
Toward Independence Township...
The people embraced the prosperity,
But kept the country.

Pat Young is a staff writer for The Clarkston News.

People want Village of Clarkston to stay same

new home buyers alike, but the residents and elected officials will have to work at it to keep Clarkston's mystique intact heading into the 1990s, he said.

Regarding all the publicity over the lack of retail business in the downtown shopping district lately, Rizzuto blames the residents.

"I've seen people shopping elsewhere and not downtown," he said.

He also would like to see some sort of bypass road built to direct the ever-increasing truck traffic flow away from the downtown area in an effort to keep Main Street a two-lane highway through town.

Although he will soon be moving away, Adam Shackel of Princess Lane in Independence Township enjoys the community's wooded areas and is saddened by the township's growth.

"It's the area, the woods, that are great," he said. "But they are ripping it apart."

Bill Vaudt of M-15 in Independence Township enjoys the historic look of the village and hopes it will never change.

"I think that it's beautiful," he said. "Especially when they decorate it with Christmas lights. It ought to stay like that."

The three-year resident moved to Independence for the country atmosphere. Unfortunately, the growth rate of the township is increasing faster than he wants it to.

Another three-year township resident took issue with the high volume of traffic moving through Clarkston.

"The traffic is terrible," said Norman Larson of Sunnydale Drive. "Widening M-15 is obvious and they have to put in a few more traffic signals."

The population explosion around Clarkston hasn't gone over well with Phil Paradise. The town he once knew is gone.

He moved to Vinewood Street in Independence Township in 1974. A small, friendly town and open spaces originally attracted him to Clarkston. But progress has wiped out the village's charm as far as he is concerned.

"I wouldn't move in if I had to do it now," he said. "Too much politics. I know a lot of people who think (Clarkston) is another Birmingham. The people want it to be that."

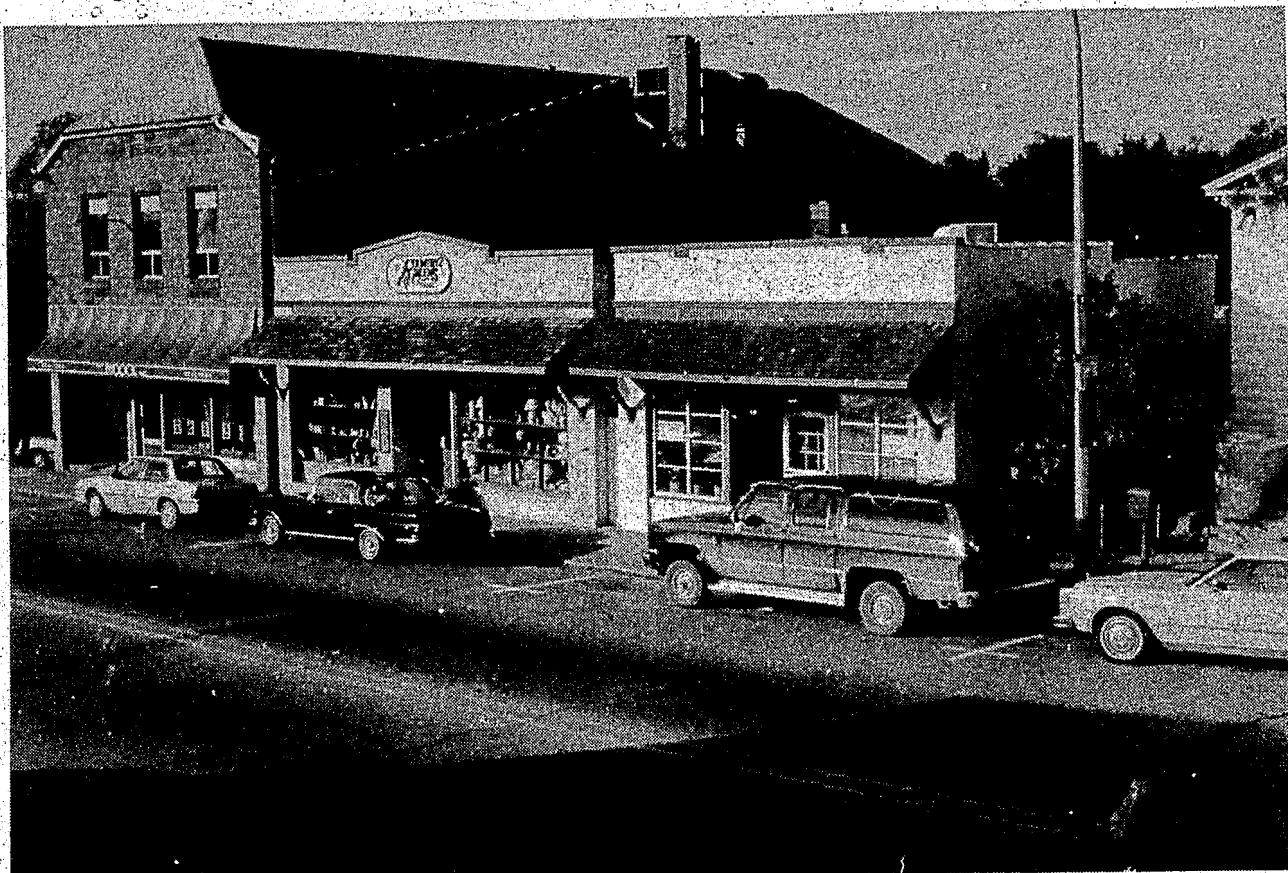

Jason Yoder of Deer Lake Road in Independence Township also sees the second-coming of Birmingham in Clarkston but doesn't consider it a threat to the village's mystique.

"It's mainly in the village," he said. "The little expensive shops ... are geared to be like Birmingham."

An excellent school system and a small town that doesn't resemble a suburb like Royal Oak more than balance out Clarkston's bad points in Yoder's mind.

"It's nice that it's not a Birmingham," he said.
