THE FINAL MOMENTS of senior year are celebrated by Brad Gaulin, Romy Tappero (center) and Kim Toretta after Clarkston High School's graduation held June 7 on the Pine Knob Music Theatre stage. About 460 were graduated from CHS this year.

CHS alumnus is fatally stabbed

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

From all accounts, Patrick Walsh, 19, was a good natured, kind person who loved computers and enjoyed making people laugh.

"He was a very giving, loving type of person," said his mother, Linda Lapinski, an Ellis Road, Springfield Township, resident. "He was kind and considerate, an easy going person."

Patrick Walsh was a 1987 graduate of Clarkston High School, where he served as editor of the school newspaper.

Friends and family were still reeling June 13 from the June 9 brutal stabbing death of Walsh in Grand Rapids. Walsh, a 1987 graduate of Clarkston High School, was a student of liberal arts and Russian studies at Grand Valley State University, Allendale, just outside of Grand Rapids.

"People are just outraged that this happened for no reason at all because no money was taken from his wallet," said Lapinski. "His car wasn't stolen. It's just a wasted life."

Walsh, whose school term had recently ended, was living off campus. About 5 a.m. last Friday, he was on his way to Vie de France, where he was employed as a baker, when he was fatally stabbed in the heart outside a Stop-N-Go convenience store at the corner of Michigan Street and College Avenue on the northeast side of Grand Rapids.

He ran back into the store, shouting that he had been stabbed. He died about two hours later at Butterworth Hospital, according to Grand Rapids police.

According to the police report, a witness at a nearby gas station called the convenience store to report four suspicious-looking black males around Walsh's car.

Apparently, Walsh was already on his way to the car

Issues fail

Voters elect newcomers to fill two school seats

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It was wet and rainy and cold for the Monday, June 12, school election, but about 34 percent of registered voters turned out anyway.

Voters in the Clarkston district voted 3,420 to 1,933 to defeat a $68.8 million bond proposal for a new high school and other building improvements.

Also voted down was the Headlee override, 3,198 to 2,196. The override would have allowed the school district levy the 38.83 mills voters approved in last year's election. One mill is $1 for every $1,000 assessed property valuation.

The vote tabulations are not official until the Oakland County Board of Canvassers certifies the numbers, which takes about a week.

Voters also elected two newcomers -- Karen Foyteck and Paul VanKlaveren -- to fill seats on the school board.

Karen Foyteck led all vote getters with 1,872. Paul VanKlaveren received 1,862 votes. Other candidate vote totals are: Robert Wyatt, 1,665; Shelia Goins Hughes, 1,256; Doreen Wright, 1,128; and incumbent Stephen Werner, 1,027.

While Werner's position was one spot up for grabs on the board, the other vacancy occurred when Carolyn Place decided not to run for re-election after serving for 16 years on the board.

In the unofficial count, 5,353 voters turned out for the election -- about 34 percent of Independence Township's 16,000 registered voters. Some Springfield Township residents who live in the Clarkston school district also voted in the election.

According to Rosemary Howey, in charge of elections in Independence Township, this was a good voter turnout for a school election.

"This is considered as good a turnout and as large as a state primary election," said Howey.

The good voter turnout didn't bring positive results

Thoughtful thief

The saying that "one man's junk is another man's treasure" likely motivates many to attend garage sales.

At one recent Independence Township garage sale though, even the marked down items were passed over by a burglar at the residence.

A homeowner on Clarkston Road, Independence Township, called police June 11 to report that a three-man packers tent had been stolen from his yard.

The tent was being used to store items featured in a garage sale that weekend.

Although the tent was stolen, all of the garage sale items that had been stored inside the tent were found stacked neatly on the resident's front porch.

The tent was worth about $125, the owner told police. The value of the untouched garage sale items depends on who you ask.

Two new members sit on Clarkston school board for current board member Stephen Werner, however, who sought re-election and was ousted from his seat in Monday's election.

Werner was disappointed in the election results but said he would remain involved with education in Clarkston. He's a member of Clarkston Foundation for Public Education, a newly formed group involving community fundraising efforts.

Foyteck and VanKlaveren both said they were wet and cold and tired from being outside at the voting polls on Monday.

"I think we have a lot of work ahead of us," said Foyteck. "We need to keep integrity in our programs -- some creativity is needed."

Foyteck was excited and pleased with being chosen to serve on the board.

"I'm thankful to those who supported me," she said.

This was VanKlaveren's third attempt at gaining a seat on the board, and he was also thankful to his supporters.

"There were wonderful people behind me, and I couldn't have done it without them," he said. "This is a sweet and sour situation -- I'm happy I won and sad about the bond."

The biggest job now is to get funds to continue programs already in existence, he said.

"Now I want to start a working relationship with other members. We need communication between each other and the community," he said.

"I think we have a lot of work ahead of us. We need to keep integrity in our programs -- some creativity is needed."

Board rejects 305-unit manufactured home sub

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A 305-unit manufactured home sub was effectively killed by the Independence Township board June 6, making the courts the only recourse for developer Gregory Christopher.

Members voted 4-2 to accept recommendations of the township planning commission to deny a rezoning for the project.

Voting yes were trustees Frank Millard, Daniel Travis, Mel Vaara and William Vandermark. Supervisor Frank Ronk and Treasurer John Lutz voted no. The clerk's position is temporarily vacant.

In casting no votes, Lutz and Ronk spoke strongly in favor of the project.

"I would say to you, Mr. Christopher, that you were mistreated by the planning commission and in your presentation," Ronk said after the vote. "You came to us and stated your case; you were a fair man about conducting changes as we asked for them.

"(The development) would have well served the community and provided affordable housing for our young people," he said.

Ronk also stated that, should the developer take the matter to court, he would have Ronk's support.

When contacted after the vote, Christopher said he hadn't decided what his course of action might be.

"I would say to you, Mr. Christopher, that you were mistreated by the planning commission and in your presentation."

Supervisor Frank Ronk

"My first objective was to work with the township," Christopher said. "I haven't decided yet (whether to take it further.) I'll review it real carefully."

Christopher first approached the township with plans for his manufactured home community in September of 1988. He planned to transform the gravel pit now on the Mann Road site into a 76-acre community of 1,000- to 1,900-square-foot dwellings, each with uniform siding and shingle roofs with no wheels or trailers.

During the months of negotiations with the township, Christopher made many compromises.

Instead of zoning the area for mobile homes, which would have given the state control over the project's development, Christopher petitioned for planned unit development (PUD) zoning, which would have given the township control over many development aspects.

A PUD is a rezoning that's tied to a specific site plan and needs approval from the township planning commission and the township board.

The density of the project was scaled to half as much as allowed by state regulations. In addition, Christopher offered to pave Mann Road leading up to the development.

The plan was met with strong opposition from nearby residents who were concerned with the image and traffic that the development would create.

In addition, many planners argued that the development didn't meet PUD requirements, it wouldn't create enough of a tax base, and that the paving of Mann Road would kill too many trees, among other concerns.

When asked whether he expected such opposition from residents and township officials, Christopher answered, "It's tough in any township. You just do your best to work with them."

Lake Orion man charged in break-in

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A man found with a brand new cash register in his vehicle has been charged in the robbery of an Independence Township convenience store.

After Pontiac police stopped a car driven by Jeffrey Cornell Wilson, 22, of Lake Orion on June 12, they noticed a large cash register in the back seat, according to a report at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Inside the cash register was a check made out to the Hop In store on Clarkston and Eston roads, Independence Township.

A check with the store officials revealed that someone had broken into the store June 11 and stolen the cash register and $300 in cash, as well as knocked over several cigarette displays.

Wilson was charged by Pontiac police with receiving and concealing stolen property. He was also charged with breaking and entering by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Police are now hoping to question a woman who was with Wilson when he was stopped in Pontiac. The woman, thought to have fled to Arizona, has been identified as a new employee at the Hop In store.

The store was entered after someone smashed a small hole in the window in the front and unlocked the front door.

The subject then reportedly located several hidden keys to the cash register and attempted to open the register drawers and several safes.

About $300 in cash was taken from the store office; as the subject attempted to remove the cash register, several cigarette displays were knocked over.

The subject left the same way he entered, the report said.

Friday storm stops Springfield's phone

After a rain storm knocked out the township switchboard last weekend, Springfield Township Supervisor Collin Walls had to conduct some of his business calls from his wife's real estate office.

Only one line was working in township offices on Davisburg Road Monday morning, June 12, after the storm on Friday, June 9. Wolverine Telecom, Sterling Heights, hooked up one line for temporary use until the switchboard could be repaired.

But Walls didn't seem to mind the trip across the street to his wife's business, Walls Real Estate.

"I don't want to tie up the (township's) only incoming phone line," he said Monday, as he returned calls.

Full phone service was restored Monday afternoon.

Springfield teen is murdered in Grand Rapids

when the call came. One witness saw one of the men approach Walsh, but police have no suspects yet, said Lt. Vern Snyder, commander of the detective unit of the Grand Rapids Police Department.

"We're starting to get some tips," he said. "We went public in the area Friday. ... It would be premature to say that we've got anything promising."

The motive is puzzling since nothing was stolen, he said, adding that it may have been an aborted robbery attempt.

Snyder discounted a racially motivated slaying.

"The people who were observed happened to be black males, and the victim happened to be a white male," he said. "There is nothing to lead us to speculate that it was (racially motivated)."

Another possible motive is violence for the sake of violence -- such as the "wilding" that took place in Central Park, New York City, N.Y. in April.

That could be the case, said Snyder, who added, "Nothing amazes me anymore."

Another stabbing death occurred Sunday, June 11, in Grand Rapids, a city of 200,000. But the stabbings were unrelated, said Snyder.

A Silent Observer program has been set up to give rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the responsibles, he said.

"People are just outraged that this happened for no reason at all because no money was taken from his wallet. His car wasn't stolen. It's just a wasted life."

Linda Lapinski

"We're still following up on a lot of tips. ... We're optimistic we'll end up with a suspect. We clear 90 to 90 percent of homicides here," he said.

Meanwhile, friends and family of Walsh are trying to cope with Walsh's sudden and violent death.

His fiance, Lynn M. Wolf of Bangor, said Walsh was a hard worker and was fun-loving.

When he was a student at CHS, he served as editor of the school newspaper, and his skill with the Macintosh computer helped him with layout and design.

Wolf met Walsh when she was a reporter on the college newspaper, and he showed up to do layout.

"He was very friendly," she said. "He makes friends so easily. ... Everyone who knew him loved him. He was just one of those rare people that everything inside him is good."

She liked his sense of humor, she said.

"He had such a love for life. He liked to make people laugh. He just liked to see people happy," Wolf said.

Roommates, acquaintances from the dorm and long-time friends have helped her and Walsh's family, she said.

Walsh's mother, Lapinski, said she appreciated all that friends and relatives have done.

One friend flew them to Grand Rapids in 40 minutes when they received the phone call from the hospital last Friday, she said.

"The neighbors have been wonderful," she said. "We've gotten an influx of food, and the neighbors cut the lawn."

A memorial fund was set up by Clarkston resident Rockwood Bullard, an attorney, in Walsh's name to fund the Silent Observer reward in Grand Rapids.

If no one is convicted, and the money isn't used there, it will be donated in Walsh's name to the Ileitis and Colitis Foundation, which funds research and treatment for such diseases as Crohn's disease, a debilitating digestive disorder from which Walsh suffered.

To contribute, call Bullard at 625-0454 or 652-1444 or write: Patrick Walsh Memorial Fund in care of Lyon Colbert and Bullard, 431 Sixth St., Rochester, MI 48063.

In addition to his mother and fiance, Walsh is survived by his stepfather, Wayne Lapinski; brothers, Billy Walsh, Matt Lapinski and Rich Lapinski; sister, Julie Walsh; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gugler of Oak Grove, Ark., and Mrs. Sally Walsh of Sarasota, Fla.; great-grandmother, Mrs. Antoinette Gugler of Ocala, Fla.; and many aunts and uncles.

"Everyone who knew him loved him. He was just one of those rare people that everything inside him is good."

Opinions

A few tips

Julie Campe

Now that summer's out, I thought I'd share a few helpful hints with kids (and their parents) who want their pictures to appear in the paper.

1. If one of our photographers shows up at, for instance, Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department's day camp to cover arts and crafts or outdoor games, there's no need for you to wave your hand two inches in front of the camera lens just as we're about to snap the picture.

The picture of your hand, which will undoubtedly turn out overexposed and out of focus, will not be used in the paper. And that action will not endear you to the photographer, thus lessening the chances of a printable photograph of yourself.

2. If the photographer is not focusing on you or your group at a particular moment, don't feel obligated to jump up and run to the group under the photographer's eye, waving your arms wildly in the background.

It's not necessary to run back and forth, following the direction of the photographer's lens. He or she will not take that photograph and will instead make his way through the group until a suitable subject is found. So it's better if you don't leave your spot at all.

3. If you do find yourself the subject of the photographer's eye, just continue to concentrate on your task. There's no need to look up and grin into the camera, as you would for your parents or your grandparents.

Newspaper photographers are supposed to get action shots, not posed shots, so no matter how often you pose -- even if the photographer snaps that shot -- it will not appear in the paper.

There's also no need to make gestures behind your friends' backs -- those do not make better pictures from a photographer's point of view.

4. If your picture is taken but does not appear in the paper, don't feel offended. The Clarkston News uses a dozen or more rolls of film per week, and only a few shots from each roll ever make it to the printed page.

(Note to parents: No, you can't have the negatives from the photos we don't use, nor can you have prints from photographs that don't appear in the paper. But you can order prints of pictures that do appear in the paper by calling our business office.)

If your photo wasn't used, it probably means your eyes were closed, or your hat made half of your face too dark to identify you, or the photographer misjudged the lighting or the focusing.

5. If you keep active, chances are you'll appear in the paper the next time a photographer shows up at your event. One of the publisher's goals is to make sure that each Clarkston area child's picture appears in the paper at least once before he or she graduates from high school. So we're always looking for photo opportunities.

6. If you find that a photographer has shown up at your event, just continue your work. If you're really enjoying yourself, and it shows in your expression, enthusiasm or effort, chances are the photographer will want to take your picture.

7. If you follow these tips and let us know about your next outing, we'll try our best to take your picture.

Education sometimes blocks learning

I hope all of the college-bound high school graduates reflect a little this summer and try not to let their upcoming education interfere with their learning.

Up until now, they've probably heard that they have to have the right grade point average to get into the right school, and they have to know exactly what they're going to do with the next 50 years of their life so they won't waste time studying the wrong thing in college.

They've also been told to maintain a high GPA even in college, so they can finish "in time," and some have probably even heard that they should be sure to pick a college major that will let them get the right job—a job in which they can make the most money after graduation—something like engineering or computer science. And don't forget, "service industries" will be big, very big in the future.

Well, not to worry. It is not possible to study the "wrong thing" in college. Every subject is worthy of thought.

And students should try to keep a good grade point average because it sometimes means they're learning the subject matter. However, sometimes it only means they're competent at giving teachers what they want to hear.

Instead of just going for an "A," students should think for themselves and try to get every morsel of thought from an assignment. They might end up with an "A" anyway, but even if they don't, they'll at least gain something longer lasting than any "A."

And students shouldn't worry too much about getting the right job after college. If they're responsible and hard working, they'll have enough money to meet their needs.

But they should worry about the time when their basic needs are met. Then what?

Maybe we don't have the luxury today of seeking higher education for the sake of learning. Maybe classes are too expensive now, and practical students should only think of college as a sort of job training, where the quicker they finish the training, the sooner they're in the workforce, and the sooner they can ... What?

What's the hurry? And what's the point?

Education can still prepare students for jobs, but more importantly, it can prepare them for life.

College is the time and place to pick up ideas and interests that will intrigue for a lifetime—if students take care not to let college get in their way.

Yeah, let's not question the ethics of any more politicians.

Aren't some of the older baseball playing Detroit Tigers really blaming Tom Monaghan for the bad year . . . for his not re-signing Gibson? The Tigers have no menace at the plate for pitchers to pitch around.

Pansy Baldwin and I went fishing last week. An Engadine local said we had to be out real early in the morning or late in the evening to catch fish. We hit the water at 3 p.m. caught pike and walleye by 4 and were out of the mosquitos by 5. Pansy told the local the only way he'd be on the water at 9 p.m. would be if it was Canadian Club and water. If fish see the same sunset we do, they'll watch it instead of bothering bait.

When ABC television checked out Indianwood Golf and Country Club for camera positions they said, "It'll be really nice shooting this." They can put one big boom up on the south side and one on the north side and shoot nearly all the holes. Oh, yes, when defending U. S. Women's Open champion Liselotte Neumann toured the course last week, she gave it high marks, too. Nancy Lopez is due at Indianwood this week, but she won't get to play the Old Course because of an outing. Commercial time for her.

Did you read where there is a surplus of meat this spring and a shortage of charcoal. Seems mosquitos are big enough this year to put on a spit. Takes about four for a meal. 10 minutes to a pound. Gravey's thin, though.

Michigan's inland lake levels are up, the great lakes are down. When you figure it out call me.

I don't think I ever drive through Tuscola and Saginaw counties without remarking how flat the land is.

Had directions to a place in Troy recently . . . "When you get to an ugly green, 2-story building on Rochester Road, turn east." I had no trouble finding either place. On the other hand, lots of folks think the green glass buildings in Troy are ugly.

A couple seasons each year I make a list of 'things to do' for that season. You know, paint, prune, etc. for summer. Few ever get done because the list of things not written down is longer, and at the time more important, than the first list. My senior friends tell me not to worry, it'll all be there tomorrow. So far, they're right.

Letters to the Editor

Congratulations

Congratulations to the Clarkston area senior citizens as the result of the Monday, June 12, millage election. You have won again.

It's good for ALL Clarkston area citizens to make their feelings known at the ballot box, for this is the proper media for responsible government.

To the school board, you forgot who your customers are, for the customers are always right; they are the taxpayers who vote!

To the YUPPIE renters, please buy real estate and become a mature taxpayer. Clarkston area real estate brokers shall be glad to show you area property. Be happy. Be a proud property owner.

To the voters who did not vote, please try again

Jim Leaver,

Thanks to SCAMP home tour helpers

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corporation, I would like to extend a BIG THANK YOU to the many individuals who helped make our Clarkston Home Tour 7 a success!

Once again over 100 volunteers offered their time and talents to help us sponsor an enjoyable weekend. We couldn't do it without you!

I would like to extend a special thank you to the homeowners who were willing to open their homes to us. to Sharron and Clarence Catallo for hosting the Saturday evening reception and Moon Lake Banquet Catering for the wonderful food on Saturday, to the Clarkston Cafe who once again hosted our special Sunday reception, to Ron Wagner who did the design and layout of our tour book and advertising, and the staff at The Clarkston News who wrote the articles on the homes, to the florists for their beautiful arrangements in the homes, the many area businesses and all those who offered their support by touring the homes.

A special thank you is also extended to the co-chairpersons, Mary and Steve Himburg and Mary and Frank McGeogh, and their committee who gave 110 percent to organize this major event. You did a great job!

With your help, we raised $6,700 which will ensure a rewarding summer experience for 200 special youth in our communities. Thank you for caring!

'If it Fitz . . .'

Those were the days

Jim Fitzgerald

In last week's mail I received an autographed photo of Jimmie Allen. I would like to tell you it came from Exxon, the great oil spiller, but it didn't. It came from Patty Lewis of Birmingham.

The photo is about 50 years old. Lewis sent it with a clipping of a column I wrote about Jimmie Allen in 1979. It's interesting to be reminded again that a segment of the oil industry once was smart enough to employ a man like Allen. And it's astonishing to learn that someone went 10 years without wrapping trash in something I'd written. Such longevity surely speaks volumes for my increasing talent, not to mention plastic trash bags.

Jimmie Allen starred in a radio show sponsored by the Richfield Oil Co., which, in the 1930s in Michigan, sold Hi-Speed gasoline. In those days, Jimmie Allen was to Hi-Speed what Jack Armstrong was to Wheaties and Little Orphan Annie was to Ovaltine. If you don't remember any of those connections, you shouldn't be reading this column without parental guidance.

Jimmie Allen was an airplane pilot. He wasn't an airline captain with 22 assistants and a movie theater in his fuselage. Jimmies head protruded permanently from an open cockpit. He flew by the seat of his control tower.

First airborne Dodge sedan

Children were enthralled by the dashing image of Jimmie Allen. I badgered my father to buy gas at the Hi-Speed station so I could get a free picture of Jimmie Allen's plane, or some such lagniappe. But it wasn't only the freebies that enticed me. I was convinced that any gasoline associated with Jimmie Allen had to be the most powerful propellant since Buck Rogers was goosed. It seemed entirely possible that Jimmie Allen's brand could put my dad behind the wheel of the world's finest airborne Dodge sedan.

Jimmie Allen disappeared beyond the horizon many years ago, along with Hi-Speed gas. If he were still around today, I don't know who he'd work for. I can't picture Jimmie doing loop-the-loops while apologizing for Exxon being dumb enough to employ some guy who couldn't steer an oil tanker straight enough to avoid hitting a state.

Currently, Exxon spokesmen are asking us to believe there is no connection between the increasing cost of gasoline and the biggest, most devastating oil spill in North American history. Despite overwhelming evidence to the contrary, they want us to believe that, from the moment the Exxon Valdez struck a reef, Exxon has been doing the swiftest, most efficient job possible of cleaning up the pollution.

Most of all, Exxon would like us to believe that our environment - the land, air and water we hold in trust for our grandchildren - isn't threatened by the unholy greed that condones the transport of oil in mammoth, non-compartmentalized, easy-to-puncture tankers.

Dark suits, red ties, smirks

Jimmie Allen would have been enraged at the thought of fish and birds being greased to death to enrich stockholders. He would have publicly demanded that his bosses shape up or hire someone else to advertise their product. Children would have forced their parents to rally behind Allen and boycott the bad guys until they woke up and smelled the blood on their gas pumps.

In the 50-year-old picture of Jimmie Allen, he is smiling openly and wearing goggles and a leather helmet that fastens under his chin. Today, spokesmen for the oil industry wear dark suits, red ties and smirks. Can you imagine anyone wanting an autographed picture of the Exxon executive who went on TV to promise that the Valdez oil spill would be sopped up overnight?

Today's gasoline companies would like to be trusted the way I trusted Jimmie Allen. But there's no more free oil check, no more free wipe of the windshield, no more free air, and no more hope that a million-dollar-per-year executive really worries about killing birds with oil spills. It's way too late for oil barons to slip into helmet and goggles.

And there doesn't seem to be any Jimmie-Allen-type heroes around to put a stop to the oily greed. Too bad. Our grandchildren may never forgive us.

The Roads We Travel

Big Brother may be watching

Brent Bair

In my last column I suggested that we might eventually see TV cameras along our roads that would be used to automatically check traffic flow and watch for problems such as stalled cars or accidents.

Another method of checking vehicle movements that is being researched and that we might see more of in the future is to uniquely tag or identify each vehicle and then be able to automatically read that identification as the vehicle passes observation points.

This is known as Automatic Vehicle Identification (AVI), and it can be accomplished through the use of several devices.

1. A vehicle could be equipped with a radioactive transponder that emits a unique coded sequence. As the vehicle passes over a sensor, the sensor reads the code and relays the vehicle's identification back to a computer.

2. A vehicle could be equipped with a transponder that emits a unique acoustical, radio, or even microwave signal. Again, detection equipment placed along the roadway would detect and record the signal as the vehicle passes by.

3. Magnetic or reflective strips with color coded bars could be placed on vehicles and could be read by magnetic, infrared, or optical scanners. You've seen the use of the bar codes on your groceries as the checkout person passes the groceries over a sensor that reads the code. Railroads have also been using this method to mark their boxcars and keep track of their location.

The use of AVI by the railroads makes sense, but where else might it be used in he future? Consider the following.

1. Just like with the railroads, being able to track the movement of trucks could provide substantial benefits to the trucking industry through more efficient vehicle management.

2. It may be possible to enhance road revenues by automatically charging a fee or toll for the use of selected roads. Some freeways might be converted to toll roads without the construction and staffing of toll booths. The Delaware River Port Authority in Philadelphia used special stickers on the side windows of commuter vehicles to tell automatic collection equipment that the vehicle was eligible for a lower fare.

3. Weigh stations along the Interstates that check for size and weight violations could be automated with an AVI system.

4. The transportation of hazardous materials or valuable cargo subject to hijacking could be more carefully monitored.

5. Stolen vehicles could be tracked. In fact, some vehicles have already been equipped with special transponders that can be activated by police and then used to locate the vehicle and apprehend the thieves. Thus far, the recovery rate has been very high.

While AVI may be used extensively for freight movement, it will probably have only limited applications for private passenger cars.

The reason is the concern regarding the potential for invasion of privacy.

None of us wants the feeling that "Big Brother" is watching us.

Brent Bair is chairperson of the Independence Township Planning Commission.

Residents voice traffic, water concerns

Woodglen #3 approved by Independence Board

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Woodglen Estates #3 drew tentative approval from the Independence Township board June 6, amidst protests from two nearby residents.

Board members voted unanimously to give tentative preliminary plat approval to the 11-lot subdivision, planned for Waldon Road between Woodglen #2 and Pine Tree Valley.

A tentative preliminary plat is a plan showing lot and street arrangements; the developer must also indicate water, sewer and drainage plans.

The project, proposed by developer Arnold B. Gee of Independence Township, would consist of 15,000-square-foot lots; Almond Lane would be connected to Pine Tree Valley on the east and Woodglen #2 on the west.

The board acted on the advice of the township planning commission, which reviewed the proposal in May before a crowded audience, who voiced disapproval of some aspects of the development.

"I'm concerned about traffic and the small children in the area. In a closed sub, we have a dead end, and children feel free to play there."

Rosemary Lewis

Board members asked why residents opposed the project and stated concern for residents paying the cost of changing from wells to a municipal water system.

Although most residents in Pine Tree Valley and Woodglen #2 are now served by wells, they will be required to hook up to a water system after Woodglen #3 is built, said Richard Carlisle, township planning consultant.

Pine Tree Valley and Woodglen #2 were built with that understanding, Carlisle explained. The township board heard from only two residents.

"Almond Lane going through is no problem," said the Pine Tree Valley resident. "As for the water and sewer, most of us have been there less than two years. I don't recall anything being in (the deed) about us having to switch."

Township Attorney Gerald Fisher told the residents that the requirement was included in deed restrictions for the area, not in the deed.

Another resident said she was still concerned about the effect of connecting the three developments with Almond Lane.

"I'm concerned about traffic and the small children in the area," said Rosemary Lewis of Pine Tree Valley.

"In a closed sub, we have a dead end, and children feel free to play there," she said.

Lewis also asked whether restrictions placed on things like boats, trailers and landscaping would be enforced in the new development. She was told that they would be.

The developer is now required to submit a final plat proposal to the township board.

Meeting to help taxpayers appeal

Residents who are appealing their local property assessments to the state Tax Tribunal may want to show up at an informational meeting 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 20.

Sponsored by state Rep. Mat Dunaskiss and the Oakland County Taxpayers Association, the meeting is to be held at the Independence Township Senior Citizens Center in Clintonwood Park, Clarkston Road.

The meeting is free, and its purpose is to help residents prepare for their hearing, said Dunaskiss.

Appointments OK'd

Three environmental positions were considered by the Independence Township board June 6.

Bob Pilarcik was unanimously reappointed to his position on the Wetlands Board as his term was about to expire.

The purpose of the five-member Wetlands Board is to review potential developments of wetland areas in the township and to protect the function of wetlands as retention areas for flooding.

In addition, board members unanimously appointed Trustee Frank Millard as board representative to both the Walters Lake Improvement Board and the Van Norman Lake Improvement Board.

Man, 40, hits tree, seriously injured

An Ann Arbor man was injured in an accident on Main Street, Clarkston, June 7, after hitting a tree.

Nathan John Nakamura, 40, was traveling north on Main Street near Washington about 8:30 a.m. last Wednesday when he began to feel dizzy and attempted to pull over, according to an Oakland County Sheriff's Department report.

The report said Nakamura woke up after hitting a maple tree on the east side of the roadway.

Nakamura, who was not wearing his seat belt when he hit the tree, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. He was later transferred to the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor where he was listed in good condition on June 12.

Nakamura was not ticketed in the accident.

Springfield limits trucks to 7 roads

Vehicles with two or more axles are limited to traveling specific roads in Springfield Township, thanks to a new ordinance approved June 8.

The board voted unanimously last week to adopt an ordinance designating truck routes for the following roads: Andersonville Road; Davisburg Road between Dixie Highway and western township boundary line; Dixie Highway; East Holly Road; I-75; Oakhill Road between Dixie Highway and the northern township boundary line; and Ormond Road.

Two gravel roads were also designated for truck travel: Tindall Road between East Holly Road and the northern township boundary line and White Lake Road.

Exempt from the ordinance are farm machinery, emergency vehicles, public utility vehicles and Oakland County Road Commission vehicles. Pick up and deliveries and service calls also fall within exemption.

If vehicles travel on non-designated routes, the driver could be charged with a misdemeanor and fined $500 or jailed for 90 days.

Four pupils honored at Bailey Lake

Four Bailey Lake Elementary School pupils received special awards June 9 from their principal, Doris Mousseau.

Winning the Michigan Elementary and Middle School Principals Association Award is Lisa Herron, who is an "A" student in Kay VanNatta's Room 13.

Imaginative and always willing to take the initiative, she is part of a group that has produced several excellent plays for Room 13, according to Mousseau. She also helps design bulletin boards and was voted to the All STARS team, comprised of students who challenge the school staff to a softball game the end of each year.

Regina White, also in VanNatta's Room 13, was given a special Principal's Award, said Mousseau.

An excellent student and citizen, she is the school spelling champion and represented the school in the districtwide spelling bee, as well as the Lawrence Technological University, Southfield, spelling bee.

Regina also has a good attitude and a wonderful sense of humor, said Mousseau.

Another special Principal's Award winner is Robby Hukka, 10, who is in his first year at Bailey Lake.

With an "A" and "B" average on his report card, he routinely goes the extra mile with his classwork, according to his teacher, Howard Wright in Room 8.

Robby has become a strong leader in the classroom and has earned friendship and respect by his open friendliness and consistently positive attitude.

Sports are his biggest interest, and he has memorized a long list of statistics for several professional sports.

The last Principal's Award was given to Stephanie Schoemer, 11, from Butch Alterman's Room 12.

She demonstrated the highest academic qualities this year, earning all "A's" and easily making the honor roll. She also attended math enrichment classes, and she was selected captain of the ALL STARS softball team.

"TREASURE ISLAND" by Robert Louis Stephenson set the theme for lunch in Mrs. Glover's 6th grade class at Clarkston Junior High. Branden Reeves sipped on "Buccaneer's Bloody Punch" and sailed into a main course of pizza. For dessert – "Capt. Flint's Finger Jello." (Photo by Sandra G. Conlen)

Students plant 50 trees and shrubs

Thanks to some ambitious teens and a helpful parent volunteer, around 50 new trees and shrubs found homes on the grounds of Clarkston Junior High School June 6.

Parent Chuck Myers orchestrated the planting effort, and members of CJHS' student government dug in with enthusiasm and energy, said Pat Brumback, advisor for student government.

Organized by the student government, the entire student body sold cheese and sausage last fall to raise money for school beautification and other projects.

About $2,000 was raised for the trees and shrubs, which cost about $1,000. The remaining $1,000 will be used to purchase woodchips and perennials, to be planted in fall, said Brumback.

Myers was helpful, and the students have been great all year, she said.

"They're a real nice group of kids," she said. "They've really done some nice things this year. They're to be congratulated."

Student earns high school credit as a volunteer

Sharing between young, old

"We make a living by what we get, but we make life by what we give." ~Winston Churchill

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Sarah Taylor has some special friends waiting two days a week to welcome her to Grovecrest Nursing Home where she serves as a volunteer.

One patient always has a lot to tell her, she said.

"I've learned more history from her," said Sarah, a junior at Clarkston High School.

So far, her experiences at the Independence Township nursing center have been rewarding, she said.

Sarah volunteered in a nursing home last summer while at Pine Trail, a Christian camp she attended near Saugatauk.

She liked cheering people up and taking patients outside for a walk and is performing similar tasks at Grovecrest, she said.

Sometimes she finds patients who aren't eager to have her there.

"Some don't want to talk; those are the ones you need to talk to most," she said.

Activities Coordinator Erin Ardell said Sarah has had success in building one-to-one relationships with about four patients. They look forward to Sarah's visits.

Olive Lampman, 91, said, "I appreciate what Sarah does. She's such a nice girl."

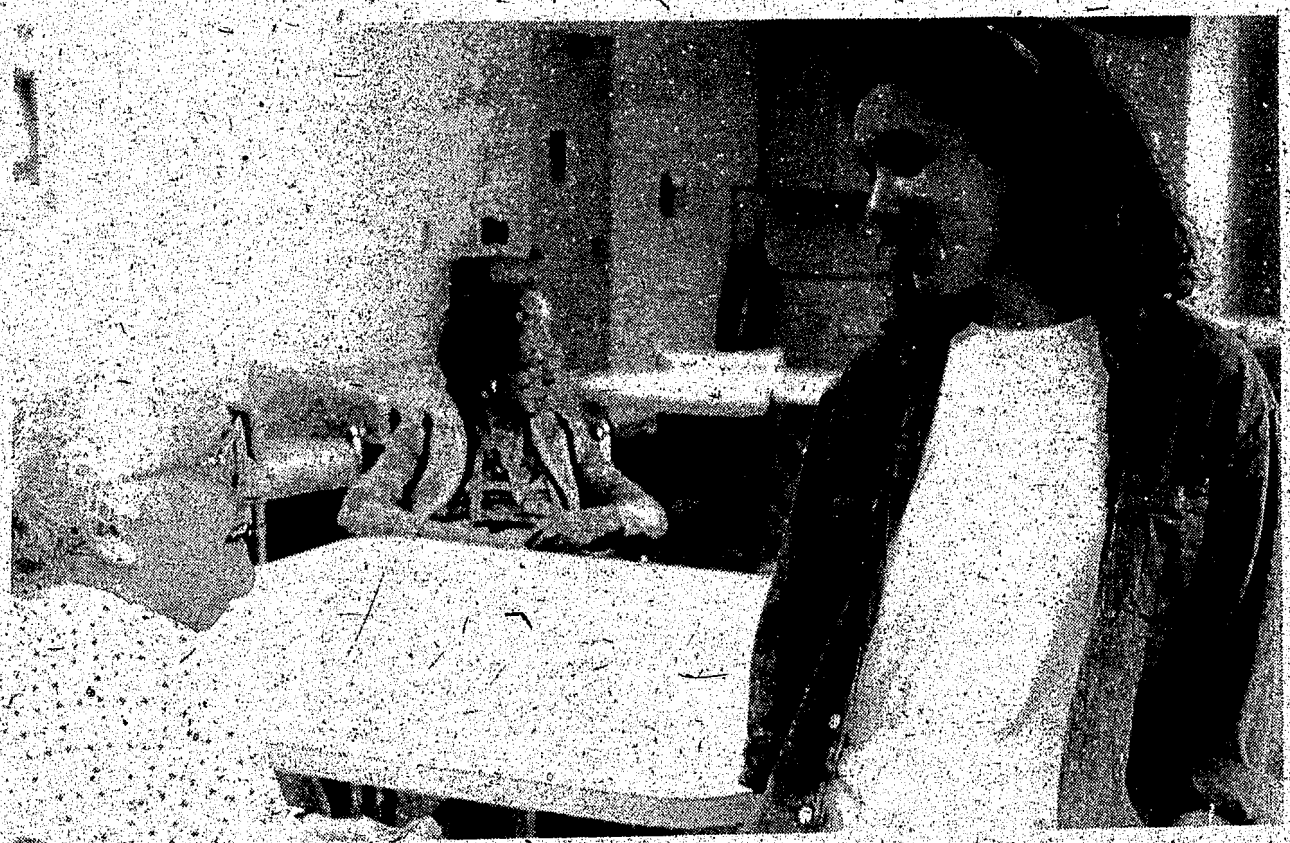
Sarah said she feels comfortable with older people since working at the nursing home.

"It has given me insight into my own life. I'm not afraid to grow old," she said.

The Volunteer Service Program at Clarkston High School is in its first semester, and already it has success stories like Sarah's.

When Principal Robert Burek introduced the idea of a volunteer program last year, Jeanne Molzon knew she wanted to be part of it. She's now coordinator of the volunteers.

Community service lets the students explore and develop career options and earn high school credit at the same time, said Molzon. Sarah Taylor is just one of 21 students placed throughout the community as a volunteer.



OLIVE LAMPMAN has a big smile when volunteer Sarah Taylor arrives to help her down to the activities room at Grovecrest Nursing Home in Independence Township.

More volunteers may be involved next year -- the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce is to contribute to the program by mailing information about it to 500 businesses which may participate.

That's good news for Sarah, who said she may like to try a different volunteer activity next year.

But for now, her experiences at Grovecrest have given her a taste of one career option.

DON LINDSEY looks forward to beginning his career as a professional baseball player.

Kansas City picks township resident

Left-handed pitcher ready for challenge

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Before the first of two draft days for professional baseball recently, Don Lindsey wasn't too nervous.

After all, he didn't expect to be chosen until the later rounds. All he could do is wait and watch the proceedings on ESPN.

The second day, however, brought the butterflies out in full force for the Curtis Lane, Independence Township, resident.

"I had trouble sleeping the night before," he said. As the second day drew to a close, he began to wonder if it would ever happen. "It was 5 o'clock and I was getting antsy."

The Kansas City Royals made his day, however, by selecting him in the 22nd round. Lindsey, a 1986 graduate of Waterford Kettering High School, recently completed his third year at Michigan State University, East Lansing. He looks forward to his new career.

"It should be a great experience," he said. "Kansas City has a great minor league system. I've heard nothing but good things."

The left-handed pitcher signed his first professional contract June 8 and reported for duty two days later.

"It's going to be a rough time," he said of starting in the minor leagues. "But every kid's dream is to get this shot. I've worked a long time for it."

His latest stint on the mound came as a pitcher on the Michigan State baseball team. While the Spartans didn't enjoy a successful spring season, and Lindsey didn't finish with a winning record, he still believes he accomplished a lot.

In Big Ten games, the pitcher averaged six innings in eight starts and finished with a fine 3.15 earned run average. He also lost 5-0 to rival University of Michigan (ranked 16th best in the nation at the time) and 2-0 to the Wolverines after tossing a no-hitter until the seventh inning.

"It should be a great experience. Kansas City has a great minor league system. I've heard nothing but good things."

Apparently someone within the Royals organization took note of his talent. Now the rest is up to him. But he's not alone in his battle to beat the odds and break into the major leagues.

"Everyone has been really supportive," he said. "Especially my girlfriend."

Time Out

Good move

Peter Auchter

For once, I learned my lesson. I stayed away from predicting a boxing match. My foot stayed as far away from my mouth as humanly possible. As of today, I won't have to eat my words. (Considering the paper these words appear on, I'm thankful.)

Thomas Hearns and Sugar Ray Leonard fought to a draw in their 12-round title fight Monday. Gee, what a gas! I wonder if they will let us watch them bicker and banter all over again before their next encounter for untold millions.

The people I feel sorry for most are the poor fellows who watched the match on closed-circuit television at an area venue. What a ripoff. Where's sudden-death overtime when you need it?

After the regulation 12 rounds of boxing, jabbing, talking, bleeding, belting and running around, I believe a winner should emerge. If not, let them go at it until there is a winner.

In extra rounds the winner is the first person to knock the other one down. Not out, just down. We don't want anybody to get killed before they collect their untold millions, just beat up enough to keep the local plastic surgeon in business for the next year or so.

After all the hype the Hearns-Leonard people created for "The War," it seems the boxing world has been put on hold until these two get into the ring again. Kind of like a network television's cliffhangers. Everybody is waiting for more. At least those of us who were interested in the first place, that is.

Oh well, at least my face isn't red today.

My experience in predicting fights began and finished with an all-time low of picking Marvin Hagler over the Sugarman a few years back. At the time, Leonard was coming off one of his many retirements and I thought he would finally get popped — and good. But, unfortunately, I was wrong and Hagler was washed up.

Since I'm older and wiser now, I'm sticking with sure things when making sports predictions. Like the Pistons will be world champs; the Tigers won't win the division and the sun will rise in the morning. It's a sure thing. Trust me.

Alert boaters can prevent accidents

Boaters who keep an alert lookout and practice water safety procedures can help prevent fatalities, injuries and damaging accidents.

Michigan boat accidents killed 56 people in 1987, the latest figures available. Failure to post a lookout, reckless operation and hazardous waters were primary causes of boating accidents, investigators said.

Michigan has about 750,000 registered boats -- more than any state -- but many owners have had no formal training in boat safety and operation," said Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan safety manager.

The number of watercraft increases every year, so it becomes critical that every owner learn and obey the nautical rules of the road, he said.

With Michigan's summer boating season well underway, other tips to help "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" from lakes and rivers include:

- Know your boat's capacity -- don't overload.
- Wear a personal flotation device approved by the Coast Guard. Michigan law requires life jackets for each person on board.
- Fire extinguishers must be carried on motorboats with enclosed engines and are recommended for all watercraft.
- Check the weather forecast before before leaving home, and monitor a marine radio frequency for sudden warnings while underway.
- Carry a basic tool kit for minor engine repairs.
- Prepare a float plan with your destination and expected time of return. Leave it with someone reliable, and notify that person of any changes.
- Follow safety procedures when fueling.
- Keep a fire extinguisher, navigation lights, horn distress flares and other safety equipment in good repair.

Spring Cleanup tentatively planned for summer

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston New Staff Writer

The growing costs of the annual Spring Cleanup in Independence Township will require digging deep into some pockets, but board members said they want to conduct the program anyway.

An audit of township finances, completed at the end of June, will reveal whether the township can afford the project's estimated $45,000 cost.

During an earlier board meeting in April, former Clerk Richard Holman told the board that nothing had been budgeted for the spring cleanup and that the township couldn't afford it. He said he was opposed to dipping into the township's regular fund balance for the cost.

"I hope funds are available because (the cleanup) is a great service to the community," said Trustee William Vandermark during the board's June 6 meeting.

Department of Public Works Director George Anderson told the board that if the money was available, he wanted to increase the cleanup to three weekends but decrease the hours of operation.

Anderson said the changes would eliminate double time overtime on Sundays and reduce the work force on the days of the cleanup.

Under Anderson's plan, the cleanup would tentatively be held Saturdays, July 15, 22 and 29, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

In past years, Spring Cleanup was a whole weekend when residents could haul refuse to the DPW building on Flemings Lake Road.

When first established, it was free; but rising landfill costs prompted the township board to charge a fee in recent years.

Anderson said residents would be charged the same fees as last year; the amount varies based on what type of refuse is disposed of.

Participants in the annual cleanup are required to prove residency in the township.

Anderson told the board that he had received two equal bids -- one from BFI Waste Systems and the other from Clarkston Disposal -- and that he recommended Clarkston Disposal because the company was run locally.

The board agreed that any action on approving the cleanup should wait until the audit is completed.

Cyclist can't avoid hitting deer

A deer ran out onto Ormond Road in Springfield Township June 6, injuring a motorcyclist who swerved to avoid hitting it.

LeeGrant Lawrence Meldrum, 41, of Highland, was traveling west on Ormond Road near Big Lake Road about 7:30 a.m. last Tuesday.

A deer ran from the north across Ormond Road in front of Meldrum, who was unable to avoid striking it, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department report.

Meldrum was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with serious injuries, where he was treated and later released.

The deer was also injured in the accident.

Ordinance requires big address numbers

Residents in Springfield Township will need to display addresses with visible numerals at least 3 inches high starting Friday, July 14.

An ordinance approved unanimously by the Springfield Township board June 7 will help emergency and fire units find homes more easily in times of emergency, according to Fire Chief Marlan Hillman.

The ordinance requires that address numbers be displayed conspicuously on the face of the building or home and must be visible to people from the roadway -- placed no more than 75 feet from the traveled portion of the road.

The numbers may be placed on the mailbox only if the box is located on the property, and numbers must appear on both sides of the box.

The ordinance was introduced at Hillman's suggestion.

Without visible address numbers, emergency vehicles have a difficult time finding the emergency, Hillman said.

"If it's a fire, you can tell by the smoke; but if it's a medical emergency, there's nothing there," he said.

"Sometimes we have gone right on by," he said. "And then we have to turn around and go back."

The fire department isn't the only group that's had problems locating numerals, Hillman added. The inspectors from the building department have also expressed difficulty in finding addresses.

CJHS students honored with department awards

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

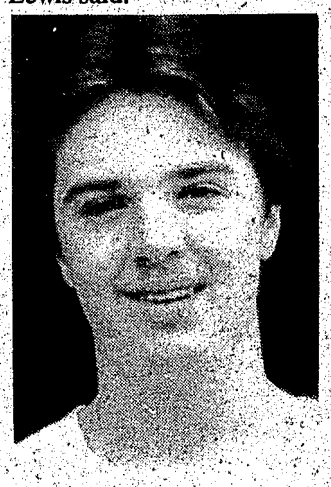
Both were active in athletics. Both were leaders in the school in some way.

Both Devin DuPree and Caroline Allison recently won the principal's award at Clarkston Junior High School.

Principal Duane Lewis had plenty of good things to say about his two top selections, as well as the other students who were considered for the school's top honor.

DuPree was a leader in music and every boys athletic program, the principal said. He made the honor roll all three years, had a 4.0 grade point average (GPA) through three marking period, was a member of the Student Council and was named the Most Valuable Player on the junior varsity soccer team.

"I had some good candidates, but Devin stood out," Lewis said.



Shawn Oswald

Others who were in the running for the award were Sean Halleran, Nathan Pomeroy, Jesse Killion, Matt Seitz, Jason Kinzler, Rick Detkowski and Jamie Young.

The decision for the girl's half of the award, proved a little more difficult.

"There were many finalists," the principal said. "It was a much tougher choice."

Allison made the honor roll for three years, earned all 1's or 2's in citizenship, owns a 3.85 GPA, is a member of the student peer crisis team and earned a varsity letter in tennis.

"She's quiet, but you always know she is in your school," the principal said. "She seems to be highly thought of by her classmates."

Other finalists for the girl's half of the award were Susan McNally, Srica McMullen, Jennifer Andryco, Jayna Rose, Jessica Miller and Carrie McKee.

When choosing candidates for the principal's award, Lewis uses the following criteria:

* Academics.
* Students who teachers say put forth an effort.
* Involved in the "life of the school."
* Shows leadership in school.
* Personality.

Clarkston Junior High's spirit award, dubbed the Bud McGrath Award in honor of a former teacher-counselor-coach, went to Shawn Oswald.

"You had to know Bud to appreciate who he was," Lewis said. "He stressed strong values and wanted kids to be polite. A very special person."

Lewis said Oswald is that type of person.

The student helps out in the front office at school as an aide, attends many sporting events to cheer his classmates and is an honor roll student.

"He always has a smile on his face," the principal said.

A committee annually selects the winner for the McGrath award. Lewis wasn't on the committee this year.

Dog days almost here

The "dog days," the hottest period of the northern hemisphere's summer, usually last about 40 days.

Generally considered the period between July 3 and Aug. 15, the dog days get their name from Sirius, the dog star. Sirius rises simultaneously with the sun during this period, and the ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Romans believed that the star added to the sun's heat and caused hot weather.

The ancients also believed that dogs were driven to madness during this time and that the dog days were detrimental to humans' well-being.

Departmental honors won by Sashabaw students

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Sometimes it's not what you say but what you do. Such was the case for the principal's award winners from Sashabaw Junior High.

Bryan Hambell and Wendy McFalda were recently tabbed as the top students of their class by Principal Dave Reschke. The decision wasn't easy, though.

"It was difficult this year," the principal said. "There was quite a crew of (qualified candidates)."

When the winners were announced, the student body applauded the decision, Reschke said.

The principal's award is presented annually to a boy and girl who make a positive impression on the principal during their time at Sashabaw. Good citizenship, academic performance, attendance and leadership through involvement in extra curricular activities and community service determine the winners.

Reschke will remember Hambell as a quiet leader and a poised student. McFalda's academic achievements, strong pride in the school and participation in extra curricular activities caught the principal's eye.

When the time came to choose two winners for the Cougar Spirit Award, assistant principal Vince Licata knew who to turn to.

"With eight girls on my list and five boys, it was a difficult decision," he said. "I could have picked a couple of others but Kristi (Bailey) and Mark (Peterson) rose to the top."

Kristi -- who was active in band, played basketball and was an aide for special education -- always was in a good mood, Licata said.

Mark played football, basketball and baseball, earned perfect marks in math and was helpful to others, the assistant principal said.

The spirit award, given to a boy and girl annually who represent most clearly the ideas Sashabaw stands for: success, perseverance, participation, growth and overall winning attitude.

Other award winners for Sashabaw in 1989 follow:

Poetry Corner

In Memory of Tim Parke

By Juli Parke

The phone call,
The one that was expected
But not this soon,
Came this morning.
It shattered our thoughts
And most of all our hope.
Our hope that tomorrow
Would be better than today,
And somehow,
God would hear our tears
And take away our hurt.
But he didn't ...
He took you away instead
And left us with a hurt
So deep and painful
No amount of time
Could ever take it away.
So now
We have to learn to put on a smile
And go through life without you.
Learn to put aside
the things we used to do together, though no matter how little
Always meant a lot.
But our love for you
Will always remain
In our hearts.
And the good times that we shared
Will now be the memories
We look back upon
To help fill the emptiness ...
Now that you're gone.

Juli Parke, a 1989 Clarkston High School graduate, is a Clarkston Road, Independence Township, resident.

Something to sing about

Amid the bad news about declining numbers of songbirds in North America, ornithologists are finding a bright spot.

According to National Wildlife magazine, more than 20 varieties of songbirds seem to be expanding their ranges in this country.

Cardinals, house finches and American robins are among the birds whose home territory is growing. Researchers attribute the songbird spread to the dramatic increase in the number of Americans who put out bird feeders during the winter months.

Area woman cooks up a new catering business

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

While owning a restaurant was her objective, the start-up costs were prohibitive. So a Clarkston area woman decided to do the next best thing.

Beverly Rabe, a para-professional in food service at Pontiac Northern High School, recently opened the catering business, "Dinner at Eight."

The 1974 Clarkston High School graduate officially opened June 1 and will work out the kinks in her spare time until school lets out for the summer, when she'll have more time to devote to her business.

Since graduating from high school, Rabe has been involved in the food service business in one way or another. One of her many stops included a stay as a cook at Carol's Village Grill in downtown Clarkston.

Working with Rabe in "Dinner at Eight" are chef Stuart M. Toland and waiter Brian Clancy.

What's New in Business

Toland, originally from California, trained with master chefs in Colorado and worked at the Grand Hotel in Mackinaw Island during the summer two years ago.

Clancy, who has studied French service, is well versed in service procedure, Rabe said. He was working at the Palace of Auburn Hills on opening night.

Rabe earned a two-year management degree in food service from Oakland Community College and has taken courses toward a bachelor's degree in vocational education at Wayne State University, Detroit.

Over time, she's amassed a collection of cookbooks numbering more than a hundred. There's cajun cooking, bread books, health food tips and many more ideas to be found in her cooking library.

As a result, her catering service offers something others don't, she said.

"We cover it all," she said. "There are no set menus and no set prices."

Rabe thoroughly enjoys cooking, and it has rubbed off on her two children, five-year-old Heather and three-year-old Christopher. Already, Heather is a whiz at French toast and cooking eggs any style, her mother said.

Rabe's catering service can handle dinner parties of two to 30 people, she said. Smaller more intimate gatherings are preferred, however, since it allows more personal service.

Although the business name is "Dinner at Eight," Rabe welcomes brunches, after glows and, of course, dinners.

Her work begins with the customer's initial phone call requesting service. A menu and theme are hashed out and prepared. Pastries, breads, wedding cakes, French quisine or cajun are just a sampling of what "Dinner at Eight" offers.

Although the business name is suggestive, Rabe said she is willing to serve dinner at anytime -- not just at eight.

Rabe works out of her Brandon Township home.

BEVERLY RABE of Brandon Township and Stuart Toland show off a few of the many cook books they own and use to make tasty treats for the clients of "Dinner at Eight."

Insect zappers

Researchers have discovered that many plants have insect-zapping capabilities.

National Wildlife magazine reports members of the sunflower family, including daisies and marigolds, produce chemicals that are poisonous to insects.

When these chemicals sop up sunlight, they become highly toxic. But their poison loses its punch in the dark. One plant pesticide is more toxic to mosquito larvae than the outlawed chemical DDT.

Clarkston Road site condo plan wins first approval

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A plan for six site condominiums in the southeast corner of Clarkston and Pine Knob roads drew little dissent from Independence Township Planning Commission members.

Their consideration of the project was so routine, in fact, that developer James Mleczko asked members to give the plan both conceptual and final approval during the commission's meeting June 8.

Although the motion for final approval was not put forward, members did vote unanimously to give Pine Valley Estates site condominiums conceptual approval with a few conditions.

Site condominiums are like homes in a subdivision, except the homeowner owns only his house and the small "building envelope" onto which the house is built. The condominium association, comprised of homeowners, owns all the property between and around houses and is responsible for such things as lawn and road maintenance.

Mleczko's development consists of six detached condominium units on lots ranging from a half acre to one-and-a-half acres, each with a separate drive onto the public road. Four of the units exit onto Clarkston Road; the other two exit onto Pine Knob Road.

The major point of discussion among commission members was whether the condos should share driveways in an effort to reduce conflicts on the roads.

"Why can't we have just one entrance onto Clarkston Road to serve all four sites?" questioned Fussman.

During half the year, driveways on parts of Clarkston and Pine Knob roads are blocked to safeguard the homes from Pine Knob traffic in the evenings.

Mleczko told members that the sites can't accommodate an access road -- the condos can't be moved back because of wetlands, and an access road in front would violate township setback requirements.

Also, sharing driveways is sometimes difficult for neighbors to work out, Mleczko said.

Several alternatives for the access roads were discussed, including a compromise that would require three drives for the six units.

In drafting the motion to approve the project, members added the driveway compromise to the motion in a separate 5-2 vote.

Voting yes on the addition were Chairperson Brent Bair, Joseph Figa, Jo Fussman, Richard Oppmann and Daniel Travis. Voting no were Steve Secatch and Bruce Mercado.

"That's too much burden on the developer," said Mercado. "I don't think I can support the (motion to approve) if that's attached.

"Combining drives doesn't look like a rural area," Secatch said.

Planning commission members also questioned why the developer chose to build site condos instead of another type of development.

The benefit to the developer is that he can bypass plat laws, which can be time consuming, explained Richard Carlisle, township planning consultant.

The benefit to the township is that more input can be exerted through master deed bylaws (used with site condos) as opposed to subdivision requirements.

Township planners told the developer that they wanted to see a landscape plan when he comes back for final approval.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

TAKE NOTICE, That the Michigan Department of Natural Resources proposes to hold a formal public hearing at the Springfield Township Hall, 650 Broadway, Davisburg, Michigan, at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, the 21st day of June 1989.

The purpose of this hearing is to secure the views of interested persons concerning the following application for permit:

Application for Permit 89-14-174 under the Inland Lakes and Streams Act, Act 346, Public Act of 1972, as amended, by AHR Packaging Consultant Corporation, 225 Garfield, Detroit, Michigan 48201, to seek authorization to dredge an area 30 feet wide by 2,600 feet long to remove approximately 23,000 cubic yards of materials to be used as berms around the lake and in low wetland areas on Schmitt Lake, T4N, R8E, Section 33, Springfield Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

The application may be reviewed in the Pontiac District Office, Land and Water Management Division, 2455 North Williams Lake Road, Pontiac, Michigan, during normal office hours.

The hearing will be held pursuant to Section (6) of the cited statute. The hearing will not be a court-type proceeding; witnesses will not be sworn, and there will be no cross-examination. Public Hearings are primarily informational and are held to encourage the expression of views and presentation of facts.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources will, upon written request, provide a copy of the Deparment's decision of this application.

Struggles, pride and tears from graduation

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

They took a little longer to reach their destinations, but their struggles only made graduation day more meaningful.

On June 8, 41 students were graduated in Kirchgessner Theatre, Clarkston High School, and the auditorium was filled with family members who hugged and cried and smiled with joy over their students' accomplishment.

It was like any graduation ceremony -- filled with anticipation, tears and pride -- but much more intense.

Students who don't attend regular high school in Clarkston schools can earn credits toward graduation in three programs: Adult Performance Level (APL), Students Trying and Reaching Individual Victories through Education (S.T.R.I.V.E.), the traditional 16-credit high school program for students 18-years and older.

Most students in these programs encountered roadblocks, such as leaving school because of pregnancy, family problems, learning disabilities, low self-esteem or dropping out to help with family finances.

Whatever the reason for not completing regular graduation requirements, these graduates received their diplomas with pride and thanksgiving to those who helped them achieve their goals.

Shellee Friend said she had left school and home because she wanted to do other things. When she realized she wanted to come back home, her parents told her she was welcome back only if she returned to school.

"Thanks, Mom and Dad, for giving me a second chance," Friend said during her graduation speech.

Each of the eight graduate speakers gave thanks to instructors or family members who had helped them in times when the students had needed encouragement reaching their goal of graduation.

Speaker Alison Weilant told the audience how frightened she was when she found out she was pregnant, but she soon found help and consolation from being involved in the S.T.R.I.V.E. program.

She said all of the teachers gave her respect and love, and her parents were understanding and supportive.

Understanding and support seemed to be the intangible glue that binds the program together.

Interim director of Community Education, Marilyn Allen said, "Forty-five percent of our APL students have gone on to college."

She also added that most of the grads will come back to help other students in the program. They will offer to help get the students through the tough times, be it homework or just talk.

NORMA CASSIDY, mother of five and grandmother of six, receives warm congratulations from Marilyn Allen, interim director of community education.

Following is a list of graduates:

An Apple for the Teacher

Sharon Steinhelper, social worker

By Dorothy Leaming

An involvement in the arts is a thread woven throughout the life of Sharon Steinhelper, school social worker.

Sharon not only has a master's degree in social work but also has a master's degree in art education, both from Wayne State University, Detroit.

Her interests early on were jewelry design and weaving, but she has found that the two disciplines are a good blend.

Sharon has roots in Oakland County. She attended elementary school in Walled Lake and later graduated from the Pontiac schools, where she designed the yearbook cover and scenery fro school plays.

She has taught junior and senior high school art in Livonia and has also taught basic art to Waterford and Clarkston adult education students.

For four years prior to her employment with the Clarkston schools, Sharon worked for a local mental health agency where she was engaged in individual and family counseling as well as running parent groups.

During her six years with Clarkston schools, she has been assigned to Clarkston Elementary School, to the SPICE program and to the special education programs at Pine Knob.

A recent summer found Sharon teaching art with the SCAMP program. The 1988-89 year has been a "learning year," Sharon states, in as much as she has been with the new program for the autistically impaired children housed at Clarkston Elementary School.

Sharon's office walls are papered with the bold and colorful productions of the young students with whom she works. She loves art and children and finds her work at Clarkston Elementary challenging and rewarding.

Sharon's office walls are papered with the bold and colorful productions of the young students with whom she works.

Not surprisingly, she attends conferences of the Art Therapy Association locally or sometimes far afield. She serves on the school's health and elementary substance abuse committee.

Travel has been another of Sharon's interests, and she has been to Europe while she was teaching. More recent family trips have been to Williamsburg, New York, Myrtle Beach and California.

Sharon and her husband, Chuck, have been Clarkston residents for 17 years. They have a 16-year-old daughter, Celeste, and a 14-year-old daughter, Heather.

In those rare moments when Sharon is not involved with her daughters' athletic and musical activities, you might find her engaged in her personal art endeavors, woodworking. When there is more time available, she would like to go back to jewelry making. Presently, she's active in the Clarkston Athletic Booster's Club.

Her decorating tastes run to "anything country," and she has been known to frequent rural Indiana lanes in pursuit of just the right quilt. She is a knowledgeable gardener and enjoys music, biking, swimming and camping in the summer.

Sharon has not stinted of her talents. She has taught at the Methodist vacation church school and was a leader with the Campfire organization for several years. She has been active in the Parent Teacher Organization and related activities when her children were younger.

Those of us who work with her truly appreciate her quiet and conscientious ways. With Sharon it is a matter of still waters running deep.

An Apple for the Teacher is provided through a committee of the Clarkston Education Association. This week's author, Dorothy Leaming, is a social worker in Clarkston schools.

How to get your car ready for summer vacation

You're a thousand miles from home. The car's packed with the kids inside, bags in the trunk, the trailer behind and luggage rack on top. Suddenly you hear a clunk, rattle and clink. What do you do?

AAA Michigan Emergency Road Service Manager Robert Tellier recommends first that you don't put yourself in such a position on vacation trips.

Instead, he said, give your vehicle a summer travel check now, or at least just before you leave.

"Many steps you'd take to prepare your car for winter are the same to follow for summer," said Tellier. "Many motorists don't bother with summer safeguards. But it's just as important since the Michigan Department of Transportation estimates motorists drive 2 billion more miles in summer than in winter.

"Your most important tool for vehicle maintenance is the owner's manual," advises Tellier. "But too many car owners never take it out of the car's glove compartment."

The manual is provided to inform a driver of exactly what procedures must or should be completed, and at what intervals for a particular make and model car.

AAA Michigan's Emergency Road Service receives an average of 100 calls an hour for assistance, so proper preparation for long trips may reduce the need for help.

AAA Michigan's summer maintenance checklist includes:

*TIRES - If you have snow tires, remove them. If not, rotate tires, Check for wear, tear, and proper inflation.

*RADIATOR - Check coolant; replace every two years. Follow procedures in owner's manual.

*OIL - Keep to full level and change at regular intervals recommended in owner's manual.

*HOSES, BELTS - Look for swollen, cracked or frayed hoses and replace if worn. Check whether belts are loose, frayed or cracked.

*AIR FILTER - Clean or replace if needed.

*TRANSMISSION - See owner's manual for intervals to change transmission fluid.

*ENGINE - Also, see owner's manual for frequency of tune-ups. Peak engine performance is critical when your car is subjected to heavier-than-normal loads for long periods at highway speeds -- such as vacation trips.

AAA Michigan Safety and Traffic Manager Robert V. Cullen suggests also:

*WINDSHIELD WIPERS - If they streak or squeak, replace before the next heavy rain.

*WINDSHIELD WASHER - Keep a full reservoir of solvent; it is always vital to see clearly.

*HEADLIGHTS - Replace if needed. Wipe headlights each time the windshield is cleaned.

Cullen also recommends taking a first aid kit and emergency tools.

A positive note

Kristen Bilicki

It's amazing how quickly moods can switch. I went to bed in a bad mood and woke up in an even worse mood. Then it switched suddenly.

Various people complained of the terrible predicaments they found themselves in. Oddly, it cheered me up.

"I had such an awful morning," said one, who then told me about working late, not having the time to study, eat or sleep. Then another person told me of the fight she had with her parents.

The complaints continued until the point where they all seemed funny.

At this time next week, school will be over for the summer. Sleeping in slightly, no tests. These are all the positives; what we need is optimism.

Talking with other caged students, they all seem tired, and tempers are on edge. They flair up and tame again. Like a spring storm, they lack consistency. The rain pours, and thunder beats; then it slows, and the sun peeks out, only to be stifled again by the consuming dark sky.

Perhaps as a group, all our negative emotions can, like this morning, seem ironic and funny.

We should weigh the pros and cons.

First the bad news. Cons: My glasses are broken, and so is my car. I need to review for final exams. I didn't get enough sleep, but then again even if I slept for 16 hours it wouldn't be enough.

My orthodontist forgot to put a hook on my braces. (Unless you have braces, this frustration cannot be appreciated.) Worst of all, I cannot seem to stop myself from senselessly bickering with the people I love.

Now the lighter side. Pros: Only three days left until school is over and summer is on its way!

So maybe if I continue to find my friends' problems humorous it could spill over into my troubles. It's always good to end on a positive note. So here I go: I'm very sorry, Jay!

Kristen Bilicki is a junior at Clarkston High School.

Opinion of Bill Myers

No excuse

William A. Myers is a retired Lapeer County editor and investments manager from Boca Raton, Fla.

The Rev. Carl Moses and his wife Mary Ellen had spent a lifetime as missionaries in Central America and the Caribbean. Their reward for all this was the inner joy and satisfaction from having served the Lord as messengers of the faith for nearly half a century.

I had known Carl and Mary Ellen since their school days in Lapeer, Mich., where we all grew up. Later, when I was running the newspaper there, Carl was our special feature writer on Central America, and we paid him a little to write articles for the paper. It helped them eke out a living, these occasional $5 checks.

Missionaries then depended on gifts from fellow churchmen back home, and Carl's parish was mostly poor people. Good people, but poor. The evangelical set, Methodist Protestants, as they were known then, never did seem to attract the rich.

Well, anyhow, for health and political reasons, Carl and Mary Ellen came to the U.S. this spring. In 50 years of work, they had saved $15,000.

They had a chance to buy a used mobile home up in central Florida, near one of their sons. Their savings would pay for it and leave them some money to replace an aging car and a little furniture.

I had acted as custodian for Carl in a savings plan I had rigged up for him, and I wrote him a check for the whole thing, drawn on the bank in Lapeer.

Carl made a deal for the house trailer, and a closing date was set for May 1. On Apr. 25, Carl took the check to Barnett Bank to open an account and asked when the check would clear.

"Not for a week," the bank told him. "It's from out of state."

Carl called me. "That won't be until after May 1, and that's the closing date. I'm afraid the fellow will sell it to someone else."

He said he didn't deposit the check and asked what he should do.

"Take it back tomorrow morning," I said. "Go back in a couple of days, and every day after that, and find out if it has cleared. It shouldn't take anything like a week."

In the mail a few days later, I got my April bank statement from First of America, Lapeer. The check for $15,000 which Carl deposited Apr. 26 in Florida was charged to my account on Apr. 28 and credited by the Federal Reserve on the same day to Barnett.

Not seven days, but two. If Carl had taken Barnett at their word, he wouldn't have tried to draw funds until May 3, two days after his deadline for closing. Barnett would have had the use of the money from Apr. 28 to May 3. At 10 percent, that was $20 worth of interest taken from the hide of a good man who didn't deserve that sort of treatment.

Oh, I know that this time of clearing checks has been shortened by law to much less than it used to be. And I know banks do a lot of free work, and they have to make money somehow. But in this case, it did seem heartless and unfair.

Carl learned on Apr. 28 that the check was cashed, and the deal went through for his home, and I was glad. It will be the first time in their whole life they have had a house of their own.

Biting irony

The crocodile is one of nature's high powered predators. The reptile's cavernous mouth and powerful jaws leave little to chance.

But despite being well endowed with teeth, crocodiles can't chew. International Wildlife magazine reports their long, sharp teeth serve mainly as survival weapons and clamps. A crocodile can eat only what it can swallow whole.

Speed demons on highways

If it seems to you that Michigan drivers really are zipping along on the freeways, your perceptions may be right.

About 55 percent of Michigan motorists said they drive faster than the 55-mph speed limit on urban freeways, according to a University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, study.

Almost half of the respondents believed they could drive at least 10 mph over the speed limit on urban freeways before they were likely to get a ticket.

The driving habits and attitudes of state residents are reported in the 1988 Omnibus State Safety Survey, directed by Alexander C. Wagenaar, associate research scientist at the U-M Transportation Research Institute.

The telephone survey of 760 respondents provides information on public attitudes towards a broad range of highway safety topics.

A majority of the respondents in the 1988 survey supported a curfew law that would prevent persons under age 18 from driving between 11 p.m. and 5 a.m. unless they could show a need to drive to work or school. Similarly, nearly three quarters favored an 11 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew law for persons over age 70 unless they could pass a medical examination that proved they were fit to drive at night.

A majority was against reducing the hours for selling alcoholic beverages or holding restaurants, bars, stores or private hosts liable for damages or injuries caused by drunk customers or guests.

Charter Township of Springfield
TRUCK ROUTE ORDINANCE
ORDINANCE NO. 58

AN ORDINANCE TO DESIGNATE AND CLASSIFY CERTAIN STREETS AS TRUCK ROUTES; TO PRESCRIBE WEIGHT LIMITATIONS ON TOWNSHIP ROADS; TO LIMIT TRUCK TRAVEL AND TYPES OF VEHICLES; TO REGULATE ROUTING IN THE CASE OF PICK UP, DELIVERY, OR SERVICE CALLS; TO PROVIDE FOR SPECIAL PERMITS AND ROUTING INSTRUCTIONS IN EXCEPTIONAL CASES; TO PROVIDE FOR EXCEPTIONS IN CERTAIN INSTANCES AND PROVIDE FOR APPROPRIATE SIGNS.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF SPRINGFIELD ORDAINS:

ARTICLE I. Short Title.

Section 1.1. Short Title.

This Ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the "Truck Route Ordinance".

ARTICLE II. Definitions:

Section 2.1 Definitions Incorporated By Reference.

The definitions found in the Uniform Traffic Code for cities, townships, and villages in Michigan previously adopted by Springfield Township Ordinance No. 15A, and the definitions found in Act 300, Michigan Public Acts of 1949, as amended, are hereby adopted and incorporated into this Ordinance by reference.

Section 2.2. Additional Definitions.

In addition, the following terms shall have the following meanings for purposes of this ordinance:

"Township", shall mean the Charter Township of Springfield, Oakland County, Michigan.

"Township Board", shall mean the Township Board of the Charter Township of Springfield.

ARTICLE III. Truck Routes.

Section 3.1. Designation of Truck Routes.

The following streets and roads located in the Township are designated as truck routes:

Andersonville Road;

Davisburg Road between Dixie Highway and the western Township Boundary line;

Dixie Highway;

East Holly Road;

Interstate 75;

Oakhill Road between Dixie Highway and the northern township boundary line;

Ormond Road;

Tindall Road between East Holly Road and the northern township boundary line;

White Lake Road.

Section 3.2. Prohibitions.

Subject to certain exceptions hereinafter set forth, no person, partnership, firm, or corporation shall operate or have or cause to be operated or hauled any commercial vehicle, including motor truck, truck-tractor, trailer, or semi-trailer, having more than two axles, on any street, road, or highway in the Township other than those designated herein as truck routes.

Section 3.3. Exceptions.

This Ordinance shall not apply to fire trucks or other emergency vehicles, public utility vehicles, Oakland County Road Commission vehicles, vehicles on emergency business involved in the saving of life or property, or to farm tractors incidentally moved upon a Township street, road, or highway.

Section 3.4. Pick ups, deliveries, and service calls.

A vehicle which would otherwise be restricted to truck routes and which is making pick ups, deliveries, or service calls in the Township, including a vehicle going to and from construction sites, on streets other than designated truck routes shall restrict its travel on streets not designated as truck routes to a minimum and shall not be driven or moved on other than truck routes except when making pick ups, deliveries, or service calls in the Township. Said vehicle shall be driven in such a manner as to leave a permitted truck route and proceed to its destination or destination in the Township by the most direct route from the nearest permitted truck route unless a route has been designated by the Township Board or traffic engineer, in which event such route so designated shall be followed, and upon completion of its pick ups, deliveries, or service calls shall return to the nearest permitted truck route by the most direct route. This section shall not be interpreted as permitting a vehicle otherwise restricted to a truck route from entering the Township by other than a truck route.

Section 3.5. Leaving or returning to place of business.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent a truck, tractor, trailer or semi-trailer from leaving or returning to its customary storage location at a place of business at a commercial or industrial location in the Township, not on a truck route, provided the most direct route to and from a truck route is utilized.

Section 3.6. Special Permits.

The Township Board shall have authority to grant a written permit in special cases which would otherwise be in violation of the provisions of this Ordinance. Said permit shall describe the vehicle, the time and dates of travel, and the route to be taken by the vehicle. The Township Board may restrict or prescribe conditions of operation and routes of vehicles when necessary to insure against undue damage to the road foundations, surfaces, structures or installations, and may require a reasonable inspection fee and such other security as may be deemed necessary to compensate for any damages caused by movement.

This Section shall not be deemed to preempt the statutory authority of the Oakland County Road Commission and Michigan Department of Transportation with regard to streets and roads under their jurisdiction. Nothing in this Section shall be deemed to affect the obligation of a person, partnership, firm, or corporation to secure permits required by the Michigan Department of Transportation or Oakland County Road Commission as required by law.

Section 3.7. Signs.

The Oakland County Road Commission is hereby authorized and is directed to procure and post the necessary signs as required by the laws of the State of Michigan to give notice of the terms of this Ordinance.

ARTICLE IV. Miscellaneous.

Section 4.1. Authority of Traffic Engineer.

The provisions of this Ordinance shall not be interpreted as restricting the duties and powers of the Traffic Engineer to prohibit the use of designated streets by truck or other commercial vehicles, to impose limitations as to weight of vehicles on designated streets, or to perform such other duties or to exercise such other powers vested in him by the Uniform Traffic Code for Cities, Townships, and Villages, as previously adopted by Springfield Township Ordinance No. 15A.

Section 4.2. Relation to Zoning Ordinance.

Nothing herein shall be construed as authorizing or legitimizing any business or operation which would otherwise be in violation of the Springfield Township Zoning Ordinance.

Section 4.3. Severability.

If any article, section or provision of any section of this ordinance shall be held void, ineffective, or unconstitutional, such clause shall not affect the validity of any other sections hereof.

Section 4.4. Penalties.

Any person who violates the provisions of this Ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, before a court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $500.00 and costs of prosecution or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed 90 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Section 4.5. Effective Date.

This Ordinance is declared to be an emergency ordinance, and shall become effective upon publication.

Charter Township of Springfield
ORDINANCE NO. 57
BUILDING NUMBERING ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO SECURE THE PUBLIC HEALTH, SAFETY, AND WELFARE OF THE RESIDENTS AND PROPERTY OWNERS OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF SPRINGFIELD, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN, BY REQUIRING THE NUMBERING OF BUILDINGS WITHIN THE TOWNSHIP, PRESCRIBING THE DIMENSIONS THEREOF, AND TO PROVIDE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF SPRINGFIELD, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN, ORDAINS:

Section 1: Name. This ordinance shall be known and cited as the Springfield Township Building Numbering Ordinance.

Section 2: Purpose. The purpose of this Ordinance is to provide for the ready identification of residential and commercial buildings by ambulance, fire, police, and other services in the event of emergency.

Section 3: Placing of Numbers on Buildings.

(a) It shall be the joint duty of the owner and occupant(s) of every building, dwelling and structure in Springfield Township to display and maintain conspicuously the numerical street address assigned by Detroit Edison or Springfield Township to that building, dwelling or structure in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance.

(b) The numerical street address shall be conspicuously displayed and maintained on the face of the building, dwelling or structure (or any permanent fixture nearer to the roadway or street to which the number is assigned) in such a manner as to be readily visible to persons located on the roadway or street to which the number is assigned. If the numbers on the face of the building or on the fixture are not readily visible to persons located on the roadway or street, it shall be the joint duty of the owner and occupant(s) to display supplementary numbers located so as to be thus readily visible. In any event, the numbers placed in accordance with the provisions of this Section 3(b) shall not be more than seventy-five (75) feet distance from the travelled portion of the roadway or street to which the number is assigned. The display of numbers required by this Section 3(b) may be satisfied by placing numbers on a mail receptacle at the roadside, but only if (1) such mail receptacle is situated on the property on which the building, dwelling or structure lies, and (2) the numbers are placed on both sides of the mail receptacle.

(c) The numbers shall be not less than three (3) inches in height and shall contrast with the immediate background on which they are mounted.

(d) Numbers required by this Ordinance shall be displayed as provided herein prior to the first request for inspection for any permit required in connection with construction of the building, dwelling or structure to which the numbers are assigned.

Section 4: Penalty. Any persons, firm, or corporation which violates any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof in a court of competent jurisdiction be subject to a fine of not more than One Hundred and 00/100 ($100.00) Dollars, subject to the discretion of the court.

Section 5: Severability. The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be severable, and if any section, provision, phrase, word, or part of this Ordinance shall be held void, ineffectual, or unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining sections, provisions, phrases, words, or parts of this Ordinance.

Section 6: This Ordinance shall take effect thirty (30) days following the date of publication.

YES: Walls, Walters, Stiles, Oaks, Strole, Bloom, and Vallad.

NO: None.

Here's what to do if your car breaks down

*Pull off the road as far to the right as possible.
*Turn on emergency warning flashers immediately.
*Stay with the car.
*Lift the hood.
*Tie a white cloth on the door handle nearest the traveled lane to signal help.
*Keep a roll of dimes and list of emergency phone numbers in your glove box.
*If you belong to an auto club, always carry your membership card.
*If stranded outside Michigan, check the local white pages for the nearest service station.
*If someone stops to help, do not accept a ride, but ask the good Samaritan to phone for help.
*At night, set flares behind the car to warn others.
*A CB radio can help in a hurry. Use Channel 9 for help.
*A cellular phone enables you to make emergency calls for yourself.

lakes, ponds, streams, wetlands, floodplains, steep slope, groundwater, trees, and wooded areas.

h. Stormwater management will preserve natural drainage characteristics, enhance site aesthetics, and promote the creative use and design of stormwater management system and facilities. Stormwater management will not substantially reduce or increase the natural retention or storage capacity of any wetland, water body or water course, or cause alterations which could be expected to increase flooding or water pollution on or off site.

i. Sites which include use or storage of hazardous materials or waste, fuels, salt, or chemicals will be designed to prevent spills and discharges of polluting materials to the air or to the surface of the ground, groundwater or nearby water bodies, with a specific plan to achieve such objectives being incorporated as part of the site plan submission.

(Renumber 7 to 6 with the following modifications)

6. Conformity to Approved Site Plan Required.

a. Upon Final Approval of a site plan by the Township Planning Commission, the petitioner shall construct the site plan improvements in complete conformity with the approval plan.

b. Upon Final Site Plan Approval by the Planning Commission, a building permit may be obtained subject to review and approval of the construction and/or engineering plans by the Township Engineer.

c. Final Site Plan Approval is valid for a period of one (1) year from the date of Planning Commission action within which time all necessary Building or Construction Permits shall be secured and construction substantially commenced. The Planning Commission may grant an extension on Site Plan approval for up to one (1) year. All requests for extensions shall be made in writing at least thirty (30) days prior to expiration and include a statement of why the extension is necessary and confirmation of ability to complete construction in conformity with the Site Plan as approved.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Charter Township of Independence

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE

At a regular meeting held on June 7, 1989, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence proposed a new section to the Code of Ordinances of the Charter Township of Independence.

The proposed ordinance pertains to the Consumers Power Company Gas Franchise.

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY GAS FRANCHISE ORDINANCE

ORDINANCE NO.

AN ORDINANCE granting to CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to lay, maintain and operate gas mains, pipes and services on, along, across and under the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, subject to approval from any other governmental entities having jurisdiction, and to do a local gas business in the CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN, for a period of thirty years.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN ORDAINS:

SECTION 1. GRANT TERM. The Charter Township of Independence, Oakland County, Michigan ("Township"), grants to the Consumers Power Company, a Michigan corporation, its successors and assigns ("Grantee") the right, power and authority to lay, maintain and operate gas mains, pipes and services on, along, across and under the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local gas business in the Township for a period of thirty (30) years.

SECTION 2. CONSIDERATION. In consideration of the rights, power and authorization hereby granted, said Grantee shall faithfully perform all things required by the terms hereof.

SECTION 3. CONDITIONS. No highway, street, alley, bridge or other public place used by said Grantee shall be obstructed longer than necessary during the work of construction or repair, and shall be restored to the same order and condition as when said work was commenced. All of Grantee's pipes and mains shall be so placed in the highways and other public places as not to unnecessarily interfere with the use thereof for highway purposes. In the undertaking of such activities, Grantee shall secure any and all necessary approvals of public entities having jurisdiction.

SECTION 4. HOLD HARMLESS. Grantee shall at all times keep and save the Township free and harmless from all loss, costs and expenses, and provide legal representation, resulting and necessitated by reason of the negligent construction and maintenance of the structures and equipment hereby authorized, except where the loss results from actions of Township employees. In case any claim is made or action is commenced against the Township on account of the permission herein given and/or Grantee's action pursuant to such permission, Grantee shall, upon notice, defend the Township and save it free and harmless from all loss, cost and damage arising out of such negligent construction and maintenance.

SECTION 5. EXTENSIONS. Grantee shall construct and extend its gas distribution system within said Township, and shall furnish gas to applicants residing therein in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations.

SECTION 6. FRANCHISE NOT EXCLUSIVE. The rights, power and authority herein granted, are not exclusive. Either manufactured or natural gas may be furnished hereunder, as approved in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations.

SECTION 7. RATES. Grantee shall be entitled to charge the inhabitants of Township for gas furnished therein, the rates as approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission, to which Commission or its successors and authority and jurisdiction to fix and regulate gas rates and rules regulating such service in the Township, are hereby granted for the term of this franchise. Such rates and rules shall be subject to review and change at any time upon petition therefor being made by either the Township, acting by its Township Board, or by said Grantee, in accordance with applicable law.

SECTION 8. REVOCATION. The franchise granted by this Ordinance is subject to revocation upon sixty (60) days written notice by the party desiring such revocation.

SECTION 9. MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, JURISDICTION. Grantee shall, as to all other conditions and elements of service not herein fixed, be and remain subject to the reasonable rules and regulations of the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successors, applicable to gas service in the Township.

SECTION 10. EFFECTIVE DATE. This ordinance shall take effect upon the day after the date of publication following adoption, provided however, it shall cease and be of no effect after thirty days from its adoption unless within said period the Grantee shall accept the same in writing filed with the Township Clerk.

At a regular meeting held on June 7, 1989, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence authorized a first reading of a proposed amendment to the Township Zoning Ordinance #83.

The proposed amendment pertains to Article XXX, Schedule of Regulations, Footnote "O".

ARTICLE XXX, Schedule of Regulations, Footnote o. should be amended to read:

o. Site requirements for motor vehicle collision repair in the MH (Heavy Industrial) District.

(items 1-4 under footnote o. remain unchanged).

The proposed ordinance amendment will be voted upon on June 20, 1989, at 7:30 p.m. at the Independence Township Hall Annex, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, MI 48016.

Respectfully Submitted,
Catherine S. DeRousha
Deputy Clerk

The proposed ordinance will be voted upon on June 20, 1989, at the Independence Township Hall Annex, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, MI 48016. A complete copy of the proposed ordinance is available for inspection in the Clerks Office, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, MI, Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Deputy Clerk

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Charter Township of Independence

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting held on June 7, 1989, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence authorized a first reading of a proposed amendment to the Township Zoning Ordinance #83.

The proposed amendment pertains to Section 5.18 of the Zoning Ordinance, Environmental Performance Standards.

SECTION 5.18

ENVIRONMENTAL PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

1. Purpose.

Environmental performance standards are established in order to preserve the short and long-term environmental health, safety, and quality of the Township. No use, otherwise allowed, shall be permitted within any district which does not conform to the following standards of use, occupancy, and operation. These standards are established as minimum requirements to be maintained.

2. Airborne Emissions.

A. Smoke and Air Contaminants. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to permit the emission of any smoke or air constaminant from any source whatsoever to a density greater than that permitted by Federal Clean Air Standards and those standards promulgated by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources according to Act 348 of 1965 as amended. There shall not be discharged from any source whatsoever such quantities of air contaminants or other material which cause injury, detriment or nuisance to the public or which endanger comfort, repose, health, or safety or persons or which cause injury or damage to business or property.

B. Odors. Any condition or operation which results in the creation of odors of such intensity and character as to be detrimental to the health and welfare of the public or which interferes unreasonably with the comfort of the public shall be removed, stopped, or so modified as to remove the odor.

C. Gases. The escape or emission of any gas which is injurious or destructive, harmful to person or property, or explosive shall be unlawful and shall be abated.

3. Noise.

A. Noise which is objectionable as determined by the Township due to volume, frequency, or beat shall be muffled, attenuated, or otherwise controlled, subject to the following schedule of maximum noise levels permitted:

Octave Band in Cycles Per Second	Along Residential District Boundaries Maximum Permitted Sound Level in Decibels	Along All Non-Residential District Boundaries Maximum Permitted Sound Level in Decibels
0 to 150	70	70
150 to 300	60	66
300 to 600	52	60
600 to 1200	46	53
above 2400	34	41

B. In addition, objectionable sounds of an intermittent nature, or sounds characterized by high frequencies, even if falling below the aforementioned decibel readings, shall be so controlled so as not to become a nuisance to adjacent uses.

C. Air-raid sirens and related apparatus used solely for public purposes are exempt from this requirement. Noise resulting from temporary construction activity shall also be exempt from this requirement.

4. Vibration.

A. No use shall generate any ground transmitted vibration in excess of the limits set forth in (d) below. Vibration shall be measured at the nearest adjacent lot line.

B. The instrument used to measure vibrations shall be a three-compartment measuring system capable of simultaneous measurement of vibration in three mutually perpendicular directions.

C. The vibration maximums set forth in (d) below are stated in terms of particle velocity, which may be measured directly with suitable instrumentation or computed on the basis of displacement and frequency. When computed, the following formula shall be used:

$$PV = 6.28\ FxD$$

Where

PV = Particle velocity, inches-per-second

F = Vibration frequency, cycles-per-second

D = Single amplitude displacement of the vibration, inches

The maximum velocity shall be the vector sum of the three components recorded.

D. Table of Maximum Ground-Transmitted Vibration.

Particle Velocity, Inches-Per-Second
Along Non-Residential District Boundaries	Along Residential District Boundaries
0.10	0.02
0.20	0.02

E. The values stated in (d) may be multiplied by two for impact vibrations, i.e., non-cyclic vibration pulsations not exceeding one second in duration and having a pause of at least two seconds between pulses.

F. Vibrations resulting from temporary construction activity shall be exempt from the requirements of this section.

5. Use, Storage and Handling of Hazardous Substance; Storage and Disposal of solid, liquid, and sanitary wastes.

A. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or other legal entity to pollute, impair or destroy the air, water, spils or other natural resources within the Township through the use, storage and handling of hazardous substances and/or wastes or the storage and disposal of solid, liquid, gaseous and/or sanitary wastes.

B. Any person, firm, corporation, or other legal entity operating a business or conducting an activity which uses, stores or generates hazardous substances shall obtain the appropriate permits or approval from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Michigan Fire Marshal Division, or other designated enforcing agencies.

C. Any person, firm, corporation or other legal entity operating a business or conducting an activity which uses, stores or generates hazardous substances shall complete and file a Hazardous Chemicals Survey on a form supplied by the Township in conjunction with the following.

(1) Upon submission of a site plan; and

(2) Upon any change of use or occupancy of a structure or permise.

(3) Upon any change of the manner in which such substances are handled, and/or in the event of a change in the type of substances to be handled.

D. All business and facilities which use, store, or generate hazardous substances in quantities greater than 100 kilograms per month shall comply with the following standards:

(1) Above-ground Storage

(a) Primary containment of hazardous substances shall be product-tight.

(b) Secondary containment of hazardous substances shall be provided for all facilities. Secondary containment shall be sufficient to store the substances for the maximum anticipated period of time necessary for the recovery of any released substance.

(c) Outdoor storage of hazardous substances is prohibited except in product-tight containers which are protected from weather, leakage, accidental damage and vandalism. Secondary containment shall be sufficient to store the substance for the maximum anticipated period of time necessary for the recovery of any released substance, including an allowance for the expected accumulation of precipitation.

(d) At a minimum, state and federal agency requirements for storage, leak detection, recordkeeping, spill prevention, emergency response, transport, and disposal shall be met.

(2) Underground Storage

(a) Existing and new underground storage tanks shall be registered with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources in accordance with federal and state requirements.

(b) Installation, operation and maintenance of underground tanks shall be in accordance with requirements of the Township Fire Department, the Michigan Fire Marshal Division, and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

(c) Out-of-service abandoned underground tanks shall be emptied and removed from the ground in accordance with the requirements of the Township Fire Department, the Michigan Fire Marshal Division, and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

(d) At a minimum, state and federal agency requirements for storage, leak detection, recordkeeping, spill prevension, emergency response, transport, and disposal shall be met.

E. All site plans for business or facilities which use, store or generate hazardous substances shall be reviewed by the Township Fire Department, Township's Engineer and any other appropriate experts determined necessary by the Planning Commission prior to approval by the Planning Commission.

6. Outdoor Storage

Outdoor storage of goods, materials and equipment shall be prohibited unless otherwise specifically permitted in this Ordinance. For those uses where the outdoor storage of goods, materials, and equipment is permitted either by right or through a variance granted by the Zoning Board of Appeals, the following conditions shall apply:

A. The location and size of areas for such storage, nature of items to be stored therein, and details of the enclosure, including description of materials, height, and typical elevation of the enclosure shall be provided as part of the information submitted under Section 5.12, Site Plan Review.

B. Such storage shall not be located within the area between the front face of the building, as extended across the entire width of the lot, and the street right-of-way, or in any required side or rear yard.

C. Such storage shall not be located in any required parking, roads, drives, driveways, or loading space.

D. Such storage shall be strictly and clearly incidental to the principal use and only products and materials owned or produced by the principal business, and equipment owned and operated by the principal use shall be permitted for storage. Such storage shall not be permitted as a principal use of a lot.

E. The area for such storage shall be screened from view on all sides in a manner as approved by the Planning Commission during the site plan review process.

7. Trash Containers.

Outside trash disposal containers shall be screened on four (4) sides with an opaque fence or wall at least as high as the trash container, but no less than six (6) feet in height, and shall be constructed of material which is compatible with the architectural materials used in the site development. Gates which provide access to the container for maintenance shall be made of an opaque material also compatible with the architectural material used in the site development. The dumpster or other trash container shall be located in a manner which is accessible to the disposal vehicles, does not interfere with vehicular circulation or parking, and does not create an adverse impact to neighboring properties. The Township may further require internal storage and/or the use of trash compactors where, in the determination of the Planning Commission, the public health, safety, and welfare is served.

8. Electrical Disturbance, Electromagnetic, or Radio Frequency Interference. No use shall:

A. Create any electrical disturbance that adversely affects any operations or equipment other than those of the creator of such disturbance.

B. Cause, create, or contribute to the interference with electronic signals (including television and radio broadcasting transmission) to the extent that the operation of any equipment not owned by the creator of such disturbance is adversely affected.

9. Glare and Exterior Lighting.

A. Glare from any process (such as or similar to arc welding or acetylene torch cutting) which emits harmful ultraviolet rays shall be performed in such a manner as not to be seen from any point beyond the property line, and as not to create a public nuisance or hazard along lot lines.

B. The design and/or screening of the development shall insure that glare from automobile and commercial or industrial vehicle headlights shall not be directed into any adjacent property, particularly residential property.

C. Exterior lighting shall be located and maintained to prevent the reflection and glare of light in a manner which creates a nuisance of safety hazard to operators of motor vehicles, pedestrians, and neighboring land uses. This provision is not intended to apply to public street lighting.

D. Exterior doors shall be located, operated, and maintained so as to prevent any glare and light from creating a nuisance or safety hazard to operators of motor vehicles, pedestrians, and neighboring land uses.

10. Stormwater Management, Water Course Protection, and Soil Erosion Control.

A. Stormwater Management. All developments and earth changes subject to review under the requirements of this Ordinance shall be designed, constructed, and maintained to prevent flooding and protect water quality. The particular facilities and measures required on-site shall reflect the natural features, wetlands, and watercourses on the site; the potential for on-site and off-site flooding, water pollution, and erosion; and the size of the site.

Stormwater Management shall comply with the following standards:

(1) The design of storm sewers, retention facilities, and other stormwater management facilities shall comply with the standards of the Independence Township Engineering Design and Standards Ordinance.

(2) Stormwater management conveyance, storage and infiltration measures and facilities shall be designed to prevent flood hazards and water pollution related to stormwater runoff and soil erosion from the proposed development.

(3) The use of swales and vegetated buffer strips is encouraged in cases where the Planning Commission deems to be safe and otherwise appropriate as a method of stormwater conveyance so as to decrease runnoff velocity, allow for natural infiltration, allow suspended sediment particles to settle, and to remove pollutants.

(4) Alterations to natural drainage patterns shall not create flooding or water pollution for adjacent or downstream property owners.

(5) Discharge of runoff from any site which may contain oil, grease, toxic chemicals, or other polluting materials is prohibited. If a property owner desires to proposed measures to reduce and trap pollutants, the owner must meet the requirements of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and Independence Township, based upon professionally accepted principles, such a proposal shall be submitted and reviewed by the Building and Planning Director, with consultation of appropriate experts.

(6) Drainage systems shall be designed to protect public health and safety and to be visually attractive, taking into consideration viable alternatives.

(7) Wetlands may be used for stormwater detention if the following conditions are met:

(a) Stormwater runoff discharged to wetlands must be diffused to non-erosive velocities before it reaches the wetland.

(b) The wetland does not have significant wildlife habitat or ecological values which would likely be impaired or destroyed.

(c) The wetland has sufficient holding capacity for stormwater, based upon calculations prepared by the proprietor and reviewed and approved by the township engineer.

(d) Adequate on-site soil erosion control is provided to protect the natural functioning of the wetland.

(e) Adequate private restrictions approved as to form by the Township attorney are established so as to insure that the wetland is not disturbed or impaired in the future relative to the needed storage capacity.

B. Watercourse Protection and Soil Erosion Control. All developments and earth changes subject to review under the requirements of this Ordinance shall be designed, constucted and maintained to protect Township watercourses in accordance with the Independence Township Wetlands and Watercourse Protection Ordinance, the Inland Lakes and Streams Act, 1972 P.A. 346, as amended, the Flood Plain Regulatory Act, 1929, P.A. 245, as amended, the Goemaere - Anderson Wetland Protection Act, 1979 P.A. 203, any other applicable law, ordinance or regulation, and the following additional standards:

(1) In conjunction with development or earth change activities, soil erosion control measures shall be installed between the disturbed area and any watercourses (including rivers, streams, creeks, lakes, ponds and other watercourses), wetlands, or roadways on or near the site.

(2) Cutting, filling, dredging, removal and grading shall be minimized and the natural topography of the site shall be preserved to the maximum feasible extent, except where specific findings demonstrate the major alterations will still meet the purposes and requirements of this Ordinance.

(3) All development and other earth changes shall be designed, constructed and completed in such a manner that the exposed area of any disturbed land is limited to the shortest possible period of time.

(4) Sediment resulting from accelerated soil erosion shall be removed from runoff water before it leaves the site of the development or earth change.

(5) Temporary and permanent soil erosion control measures designed and constructed for the conveyance of water around, through and from the development or earth change area shall be designed to limit the water flow to a non-erosive velocity.

(6) Temporary soil erosion control measures shall be removed after permanent soil erosion control measures have been implemented. All developments and earth change areas shall be graded and stablized with permanent soil erosion control measures.

(7) If lakes, ponds, rivers, creeks, streams, or other watercourses and wetlands are located on or near the site, erosion control measures which trap sediment shall be provided. Straw bale berms may be used as temporary stormwater diversion structures but will not be considered sufficient by themselves for trapping sediment on-site. The use of sediment basins, sediment traps, filter fabric, and rock filters in lieu of straw bale berms shall be strongly encouraged. Other measures may be required if reasonably determined to be necessary to protect a watercourse or wetland.

(8) When it is not possible to permanently stabilize a disturbed area after an earth change has been completed or where significant earth change activity ceases, temporary soil erosion control measures shall be implemented within thirty (30) calendar days.

(9) Permanent soil erosion control measures for all slopes, channels, ditches, or any disturbed land area shall be completed within fifteen (15) calendar days after final grading or the earth change has been completed, or sooner if the Planning Commission or Building Director finds that control measures must be implemented on an expedited basis in order to protect the environment and/or any impacted property. All temporary soil erosion control measures shall be maintained until permanent soil erosion control measures are implemented.

(10) Vegetated buffer strips shall be created or retained along the edges of all lakes, ponds, creeks, streams, other watercourses, and wetlands, when reasonably determined to be necessary to protect the watercourse.

(To be added to Article III Definitions)

Hazardous substances. Hazardous substances include hazardous chemicals as defined by the Michigan Department of Public Health and the Michigan Department of Labor; flammable and combustible liquids as defined by the Michigan Department of State Police, Fire Marshal Division; hazardous materials as defined by the U.S. Department of Transportation; and critical materials, polluting materials, and hazardous waste as defined by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Petroleum products and waste oil are subject to regulation under this section.

The proposed ordinance amendment will be voted upon on June 20, 1989, at 7:30 p.m. at the Independence Township Hall Annex, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, MI, 48016. A complete copy of the proposed amendment is available for review in the Clerk's Office, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, MI, 48016, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Respectfully Submitted,
Catherine S. DeRousha
Deputy Clerk

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Charter Township of Independence

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting held on June 7, 1989, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence authorized a first reading of a proposed amendment to the Township Zoning Ordinance #83.

The proposed amendment pertains to Section 5.12 of the Zoning Ordinance, Site Plan Review.

SECTION 5.12
SITE PLAN REVIEW

1. Site Plan Review in Use Districts Required.

g. All single-family, two-family and multiple family residential uses subject to the Michigan Condominium Act, PA 59 of 1978, as amended.

2. Application for Site Plan Review.

b. Site Plan Drawings and Illustrations. Plans required by Section 5.12 of the Township Zoning Ordinance shall contain all of the following data, as applicable:

(1) General Information.

(a) Sheet size shall be at least 24" x 36" with plan view drawn to a scale of 1" = 50' for property less than three (3) acres or 1" = 100' for property three (3) or more acres.

(b) Applicant and owner names, addresses, and telephone numbers.

(c) Date (month, day, year), including revisions.

(d) Title block.

(e) Scale.

(f) Northpoint.

(g) Location map drawn at scale of 1" = 2000' with north point indicated.

(h) Registered Architect, Engineer, Surveyor, Landscape Architect, or Planner's professsional seal.

(i) Gross acreage.

(j) Legal description.

(k) Zoning classification of applicant's parcel and all abutting parcels.

(l) Proximity to major thoroughfares and section corners.

(2) Physical Features

(a) Existing and proposed lot lines, building lines, buildings, structures, and parking areas on the site and within 100 feet of the site.

(b) Centerline, existing and proposed right-of-way lines and lanes of any street abutting the property.

(c) Location of existing and proposed traffic and pedestrian circulation facilities including:

-Access drives.
-Service drives.
-Fire lanes.
-Street intersections.
-Acceleration, deceleration and passing lanes and approaches.
-Sidewalks, safety paths, and other pedestrian trails and walkways.
-Curbing.

(d) Location of existing and proposed off-street parking indicating dimensioned parking spaces and maneuvering lanes, calculations of the number of parking spaces required and provided, and the method of surfacing.

(e) Location of existing and proposed service facilities including:

-Well site.
-Septic systems, drainfields and waterwaste treatment systems.
-Water mains, hydrants, pump houses, and building services and sizes.
-Sanitary sewers and pumping stations.
-Storm water management facilities and structures including storm sewers, swales, retention and detention basins, drainageways and other facilities, including calculations for sizes.
-Location of all easements.
-Common post office box facilities.

(f) A general indication of site grading.

(g) Dimensioned floor plans and typical elevation views for all buildings.

(h) Exterior lighting locations, typical detail, and illumination patterns.

(i) Location and description of all existing and proposed landscaping, berms, fencing and walls, including quantity and size of all proposed landscaping.

(j) Trash receptacle pad location and method of screening.

(k) Location of transformer pads, compressors, air conditioners, generators, refrigeration units, and similar equipment and method of screening.

(l) Ground, wall and directional sign locations and detail.

(m) Location of existing and proposed areas, tanks and containers for the storage, loading and disposal of chemicals, hazardous substances, salt, and fuels.

(n) Identification of any variances requested.

(o) Any other pertinent physical features.

(3) Natural Features.

(a) Soil characteristics of the parcel to at least the detail provided by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service "Soil Survey of Oakland County, MI" 1980.

(b) On parcels of more than one acre, existing topography with a maximum contour interval of two feet. Topography on the site and beyond the site for a distance of 100 feet in all directions shall be indicated.

(c) Location of existing drainage courses and associated bodies of water, on and off site, and their elevations.

(d) Location of existing wetlands to at least the detail indicated on the Independence Township Wetland Inventory Map and identification of any Wetlands Board action.

(e) Location, size and type of all single trees having a diameter breast height (d.b.h.) of four (4) inches or greater. Wooded acres shall be delineated by symbolic lines tracing the spread of the outermost branches and shall be described as to the general sizes and kinds of trees contained.

(f) Location of slopes greater than 18 percent (one foot of vertical elevation for every 18 feet of horizontal distance.)

(4) Additional Requirements for Multiple Family, Cluster and PUD Developments.

(a) Density calculations by type of unit.

(b) Type and number of units in each building.

(c) Carport locations and details.

(d) Amount, type and location of recreation spaces and recreation facilities to be provided.

(e) Details of Community Building and fencing of swimming pool.

(5) Additional Requirements for Commercial and Industrial Developments.

(a) Loading/unloading areas.

(b) Total and useable floor area.

(c) Number of employees in peak usage.

3. Site plan Review and Approval Authorized.

The Township Building and Planning Department and/or Planning Commission shall review and approve or review and deny all site plans submitted under this Ordinance. Specific standards and procedures for consideration of each case are set forth herein.

4. Procedures for Submission and Review of Application.

a. General Requirements. The applicant shall complete and submit the required number of copies of an application for Site Plan Review, site plans, and other information where applicable. Compliance with the requirements of the Township Zoning Ordinance is mandatory. The applicant or his representative must be present at each scheduled review or the matter will be tabled for a maximum of two consecutive meetings due to lack of representation.

b. Conceptual and Final Site Plan Approval. The procedure for processing the site plan included two phases:

(1) The first phase is called Conceptual Approval, the intent of which is to present a generalized site plan to the Planning Commission for consideration and approval of the overall idea of the development. Wherein the applicant intends any requests for Zoning Ordinance variations to the Zoning Board of Appeals, only Conceptual Approval is permitted by the Township Planning Commission conditioned upon favorable action by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

(2) The second phase is called Final Site Plan Approval and can only be given after Conceptual Approval and Zoning Board of Appeals action, where necessary. The Final Site Plan approved by the Planning Commission shall contain all required information as mandated by this Ordinance and as may be required by the review comments of any reviewing agency and/or Township Department. Wherein a permit is required under the Township Wetlands and Watercourse Ordinance, Final Site Plan approval by the Planning Commission shall be conditioned upon obtaining a wetlands permit.

c. Specific Procedures. The procedure for the review and approval of Conceptual and Final Site Plans shall be as follows:

(1) Two (2) copies of the Application for Site Plan Review must be obtained from the Township Building and Planning Department. The applicant is asked to keep one copy for records. The applicant shall return the original and one (1) copy of the application to the Township at least fourteen (14) days prior to the next regularly scheduled meeting for the purpose of discussing the site plan.

Application fees as found in the Township's Fee Resolution must be paid when the application is submitted and sufficient escrow accounts must be established to cover the review costs.

(2) Accompanying the completed applicaiton shall be thirteen (13) copies of the site plan to be reviewed.

(3) The Township Building and Planning Department shall submit the site plan to the Township Engineer, Township Planner, Fire Department and other appropriate Township Departments for review and recommendations.

(4) The applicant shall submit the site plan to the following agencies for approval, when such approval is required by law, ordinance, or regulation for specific site improvements or facilities or environmental permits: Oakland County Road Commission, Michigan Department of Transportation, Oakland County Drain Commissioner, Oakland County Health Department, Michigan Department of Public Health, and/or Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

(5) All Conceptual Site Plans shall be considered within sixty (60) days of placement on the first available Planning Commission agenda. The Planning Commission will consider the Conceptual Site Plan for approval, revision, or disapproval at a scheduled meeting:

(a) Upon determination of the Planning Commission that a Conceptual Site Plan is in compliance with the Zoning Ordinance and other plans or regulations, the Conceptual Site Plan shall be granted Conceptual Approval. Following Conceptual Approval, the petitioner shall resubmit the site plan to the Planning Commission for Final Site Plan Approval.

(b) Upon determination of the Planning Commission that a Conceptual Site Plan is in compliance, except with minor revisions, said changes shall be so indicated. When these changes have been adequately provided, the petitioner shall resubmit the Conceptual Site Plan to the Planning Commission for Final Site Plan Approval.

(c) If extensive revisions to the Conceptual Site Plan are necessary to meet Zoning Ordinance requirements, the site plan shall be disapproved and the applicant requested to prepare an alternate site plan. In this case, "DISAPPROVAL" shall be written on the plan and reasons for disapproval indicated in the Planning Commission's resolution.

(d) Final site plan approval with conditions or contingencies does not constitute final approval. Final approval will not be provided until all contingencies have been met, as determined by the Township Building and Planning Department.

(6) When a site plan is reviewed and approved or denied by the Planning Commission, and all steps completed, three (3) copies of the site plan shall be marked by the Planning Commission for the following distribution:

(a) One (1) copy returned to the applicant signed by the Chairman including any conditions of approval.

(b) Two (2) copies forwarded to the Building Department for filing.

(Renumber 6 to 5 with the following modifications)

5. Standards for Granting a Site Plan Approval.

C. Site planning and design of specific improvements will accomplish, to the extent reasonably feasible, the preservation and protection of existing natural resources and features such as

Dandy Lion Nursery School Summer Information Sheet

Dandy Lion is preparing for our summer program. Our summer session will run from June 5th through August 25th. Along with our regular preschool program we will be offering a variety of specialty programs.

Our program will maintain the same components of unstructured playtime, snack, and outdoor activities; however there will be a structured time which will emphasize the following areas:

CREATIVE MOVEMENT: movement to music encourages group participation, large motor development, music skills, positive self-concept, auditory skills, imagination, verbalization, and socialization.

ARTS AND CRAFTS: projects encourage creativity, fine motor development, self-awareness, cause and effect, perception, verbalization and just clean (well, often messy) fun!

COOKING: cooking activities encourage good nutrition, develop math skills, enhance fine motor skills, cause and effect, develop large motor skills, verbalization and socialization.

PUPPETS: We will create puppets and use our puppet stage to encourage group participation, language skills, self confidence, imaginative skills, fine motor skills and socialization.

Women's Health Center treats the whole person

Women's Health Center of Clarkston opened in April of 1987 by Dr. Susan Coleman, offers primary care for adults with an emphasis on women. May male patients come in too.

Coleman, a practicing internist in the area for seven and a half years, said many of her older patients, plus many new male patients, come to the clinic located in Pine Ridge Place, 7650 Dixie Hwy. She estimates that 15 percent of her patients are male.

"A lot of them have fun with it when the come in," Coleman said.

Many female patients at Women's Health Center appreciate the comprehensive health care that is available at the clinic. Breast examination and education and a new low-dose mammography system are offered in private, comfortable surroundings. There is also an on-site laboratory and ultra sound available.

Psychological counseling services are offered at the center by Dr. Gayle Beck, a psychologist.

In addition to Coleman, another board-certified internist, Dr. Caroline Coco, joined the staff last fall.

Coco said she is seeing a lot of influenza this season due to the warmer temperatures.

"People with coughts that last longer than a week should be seen by a doctor," she added.

Especially the "bread winners" of the family tend not to seek medical care, she said. People need to be more aware of diet and health and have regular physicals.

Also on the staff at Women's Health Center is Julie Johnson, a nurse practitioner. She is a registered nurse with advanced training to provide comprehensive health care to people of all ages in collaboration with the doctor.

Johnson works with patients of all ages, but also specializes in geriatrics and in diabetics.

She has developed a special interest in working with diabetics, including diet and home management of diabetes. She emphasizes that it is important for all diabetics to monitor their blood sugar.

A weight management program is in its final stages of development and will be introduced to patients of the center. The first session will begin in July, 1989.

Coleman and others on the staff also work with perimenopausal people (ages 40-55), and offer osteoporosis prevention.

"I have trained the staff on how to deal with patient concerns so that the office works as a team," Coleman said. "The nurses work as a team with Dr. Coco, myself and Mrs. Johnson. They have answered patient questions and provided clinical support in increasing amounts."

Coleman takes pride in her expanding Health Center and in her well-trained staff.

Men and women can get all their needs taken care of at one place," she said. "Plus, we treat the whole person."

Dress has special meaning for student

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

Beth Reoch, 18, sat pushing material beneath the sewing machine arm, all the while keeping an eye on her baby, cooing in a carry seat beside her.

Around them, students in Yvonne Wilson's home economics class at Clarkston High School bustled out for a change of classes, and new students entered to take their places.

Beth, a senior, worked steadily, nearly oblivious to the commotion. When her visitor arrived, she looked up with a soft smile, her brown eyes still alert for any change in movement from the baby.

"Hi," she said, her smile growing broader. Her baby smiled, too. And Beth responded by picking her up and conversing with her in a dancing voice reserved for mothers and their infants.

It was an unusual day for both of them. Normally,

"Remarkable mother for all she's had to do. She's kept up her grades and continued school. ... I'm really tickled with her."

Yvonne Wilson

Beth's mother, Janice Hoopingarner, took care of 8-month-old Samantha while Beth attended her final classes at CHS.

But this day, Samantha went to school with Beth because Beth had just finished making her daughter's christening dress, and it was time to try it on for size before the actual christening in mid-June.

Beth, a Hillsboro, Springfield Township, resident, had attended classes until delivering Samantha Oct. 2, and she resumed classes as soon as possible. But it's been difficult, she said.

"I always want to be with her," Beth said.

Somehow, she managed to cope, even though tougher times are yet to come. Samantha is to undergo heart surgery in a few months. And even with the special care her daughter needs, Beth had to concentrate on school work.

"It was hard, but I hung in there," said Beth.

Gathering up the antique white dress, Beth gently pulled it over Samantha's head, and Samantha came up blinking, erupting into a wide smile as soon as she saw her mother's face.

"She's gorgeous," said Beth. "This is the first time it's been on her."

Some of the students observed the fitting, and the teacher, Wilson, helped pull Samantha's arms through the holes before joining the other students.

"I think I'm taking on the trades of my great-grandmother. She was great. She used to make all of our clothes."

Beth Reoch

"I couldn't have done it without Mrs. Wilson," said Beth. "I used a pattern, but we just did a mix-matching. ... I never really knew how until she showed me."

Her teacher helped in other ways, too, she said.

"She's a really sweet person," said Beth. "Anything you want to say, you can talk to her."

Wilson encouraged her and taught her the necessary skills to turn sewing into a useful hobby, said Beth.

"This is the first thing I've ever made anything -- ever. It feels great," said Beth, adding that she's now working on summer shirts.

"I think I'm taking on the trades of my great-grandmother. She was great. She used to make all of our clothes. ... She passed away a few years ago."

Wilson said Beth's creation is the first christening dress to be made in one of her classes. A difficult project, the dress takes skill and patience.

"Sometimes they catch on real quick," said Wilson. "She did the sewing herself. ... It turned out so well. Some kids have a talent."

Beth is talented in other ways as well, she said.

"Remarkable mother for all she's had to do," said Wilson. "She's kept up her grades and continued school. ... I'm really tickled with her."

Inventor's 'Silent Call' alerts deaf to alarm, cry

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Staff Writer

When a baby cries late at night, most parents will wake up to check that everything is all right. But for deaf parents, it can be difficult to know when the baby cries.

Some may spend the whole night sleeping with a hand on the baby's chest. Others may wind a string from the baby's wrist to their own.

A device offering a reassuring alternative has been introduced by an Independence Township company.

Silent Call, formed by 21-year General Motors veteran George Elwell, offers a system that alerts the deaf with vibrations.

Elwell runs the business from his Clarkston Road home. He got the idea, in part, from his brother-in-law, who is deaf -- but even more from a Christian need to do something helpful.

Since then, his strong faith has been put to many tests in the face of what seemed like insurmountable obstacles.

"I knew just enough about electronics to be dangerous," he explains. "I knew nothing about patents, marketing or advertising."

The process was especially difficult because of the market it addressed.

What's New in Business

The device was designed primarily for the deaf community. A receiver is worn close to the body so that if the doorbell or phone rings, or if a smoke detector is activated, the wearer will feel vibrations as the device is activated by radio frequencies.

In addition to the vibrations, the signal also triggers a small light with a symbol to show where the ringing is coming from. The device is activated by sound when it's used to hear a baby crying.

Elwell and an engineer first spent months buying toys to see if the concept would work. Then they conducted a long search for a company to build a prototype, and with that done, they prepared to face the deaf community.

None of the marketing companies Elwell contacted were interested, so he entered the deaf community himself. He had practically no knowledge of sign language.

"I felt like 'here comes a used car salesman,'" Elwell says.

With help from his brother-in-law, Elwell eventually gained the trust of the deaf community, but another obstacle existed in finding a way for the deaf to afford the device.

Although Silent Call is half the price of any other system like it, the deaf are "notoriously underpaid," Elwell says.

Despite the obstacles, the company has made tremendous strides since it entered the marketplace two years ago.

More than 30 dealers and distributors, including Michigan Bell, now sell the device around the world.

Silent Call was accepted as an entry in the 7th Annual Michigan New Product Awards competition this year and could receive state or federal grants for the research of new products.

The company has already developed another new product called Med-A-Call, a wireless paging system for caretakers.

Elwell regularly calls upon what he calls the three P's -- prayer, planning and perseverance.

"If I put all this effort into something appealing to most of the American people, I would be extremely successful," he says.

Although he sometimes muses over his decision to abandon "the easy way," he says he has benefited from the obstacles he has encountered.

"That's where prayer comes in," he says. "If you're lacking -- ask for guidance.

"GM was very good to work with; it was the most rewarding 21 years of my life, but I needed to make that test, to walk in faith," he says.

INVENTOR George Elwell's device will alert the deaf if a smoke detector, phone or doorbell is sounding. The device is worn on the hip and vibrates when it receives radio signals. It is especially helpful to the deaf by alerting them to the cries of infants.

TAFFY is a bit shy but is eager to make friends. (Photo by Peter Auchter).

Sweet as candy

Taffy has a personality that's just as sweet as her name sounds.

She's a golden retriever mix and is good with children. Golden retrievers have a reputation for gentleness.

She's one year old and has lived inside and outside at her previous owner's home.

Taffy can be adopted can be adopted at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The adoption fee for Taffy is $35. She's been spayed.

Be alert for better motorcycle safety

As Michigan's 186,000 motorcycles join millions of cars and trucks on the state's major travel routes this summer, All drivers should be more alert.

By observing basic safety rules and carefully scanning all directions, automobile drivers and motorcycle riders alike can enjoy an accident-free traffic mix, according to Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan safety and traffic manager.

More than 110 fatalities and 5,000 injuries occur in Michigan annually from accidents involving motorcycles or specialty vehicles such as mopeds and motor scooters.

Motorcycles are involved in seven percent of all road deaths, although they represent only three percent of the registered motor vehicles in Michigan.

Fifty-eight percent of motorcycle accidents involve other vehicles. Many were attributed to the car or truck driver violating the right-of-way of the motorcyclist.

"Part of the problem is that motorists don't always see motorcycles until it is too late; then they can't yield," said Cullen. "This is especially true at intersections, where more than 45 percent of all motorcycle accidents take place."

He said cycle riders can avoid accidents by:

● Maintaining a lane position slightly to the left of center. It gives riders a better view of the road ahead, while making motorcycles more visible to automotive drivers.

● Maintaining a three-second gap when following another vehicle at speeds under 40 mph. (Use a 4-6 second distance at higher speeds or if roads are wet.)

● Approaching intersections with caution, especially where a motorist's vision may be obscured by parked vehicles or other objects. Riders shouldn't assume other drivers will see them and yield at an intersection.

Healthy Helpings

Vegetables for variety

Tracy King

When the weather gets warm, likely the easiest and most enjoyable ideas for meals come hot off the grill.

While a simple barbecued chicken, plain steak or burgers or a more extravagant shish-ke-bob are not the most healthful entrees, the grilled items are a summertime tradition and hard to pass up.

One way to add some balance to the meal is with a colorful vegetable side dish.

Two of my favorite summertime vegetable recipes can be prepared quickly while the entree is grilling and provide a nice contrast of flavors.

My source for these recipes is my mother-in-law, Liz King, who has provided our family with many enjoyable warm-weather meals on her porch in Florida.

PEPPER STIR-FRY

2 Tablespoons Olive Oil
Three large green peppers
Two large red peppers
Two large yellow peppers
One red onion
Broccoli, about one bunch
Sweet pea pods, about 1/2 pound
Low sodium soy sauce, about 3 tablespoons
One lime

Core and seed peppers, and cut them into long strips, about 3/8 inch wide. Thinly slice onions. Snip the ends from the pea pods. Separate the broccoli florets, and chop a portion of the stem into bite-size pieces. Cut lime into quarters.

Heat oil over medium high heat in a wok or deep skillet.

Add onion; stir fry for one minute; add remaining vegetables.

Sprinkle soy sauce and about half the lime over vegetables. Cook until tender-crisp, about 10-12 minutes, stirring frequently.

Throughout cooking, add more soy sauce and lime juice to taste. If pan appears dry, sprinkle water over vegetables.

Serve warm. (5-6 servings)

GINGER-GLAZE CARROTS

1 pound fresh carrots
Salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/3 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon powdered ginger

Slice carrots about an inch long, and quarter each slice to make thin strips. Add carrots to rapidly boiling salted water, and cook until tender, about 8-10 minutes. Drain.

In medium saucepan over low-medium heat, melt together butter, brown sugar and ginger, stirring frequently until mixture starts to bubble. Add carrots and cook about 5 minutes.

Serve warm. (4 servings)

Clarkston High School

Clarkston

Michigan

This Certifies that

Agnes Jean Goodrich

has satisfactorily completed the Course of Study as prescribed by this Institution and in testimony thereof this is awarded by the authority vested in the Board of Education.

Diploma

Given at Clarkston, Michigan, this 19th day of June A.D. 1929

A 1929 DIPLOMA from Clarkston High School is larger even than this reproduction (reduced in size) shows. Pictured in the center of the document is a drawing of the former school building, which now houses offices for Independence Township Hall. Agnes (Goodrich) DeNise brought in her diploma to share with more recently graduated students. "I bet they don't give diplomas like that now," she said. And she's right. Diplomas now are much smaller, and not many have been around as long as Agnes'.

The CHS class of 1929 meets for 60th reunion

Smiles and good conversation filled Agnes Goodrich DeNise's daughter's house during the 60th class reunion of the Clarkston High School Class of 1929 May 29.

The group talked about "everything," said Agnes, who brought a copy of the 1929 CHS diploma and a copy of photos of her class to The Clarkston News office following the reunion.

In 1929, students attended school in the building that now houses offices for Independence Township, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston.

On June 19, 1929, 14 CHS seniors were graduated during a ceremony at the Clarkston Episcopal Church, the last class to be graduated from there. The Class of 1930 was graduated from the new school.

Of the Class of 1929, only five have passed away – a good sign, said Agnes.

The class last met for a reunion on May 19, 1979, said Agnes. This time, only four members of the class and some of their spouses could make it for the luncheon at Agnes' daughter's house on Belford Road, Holly.

In addition to Agnes, attending this year's reunion were: Bernadine (Bailey) Miller and her husband, Clark; Esther (McGregor) Tompos and her husband, Stephen; and Helen (Tindall) Frazier.

Following is a list of members of the class:

Former Clarkston students meet for 60th reunion

THE CLASS OF 1929 shows the faces of the 14 members of the senior class at Clarkston High School. Five have since passed away, according to Agnes (Goodrich) DeNise.

Liberty Bell

The Liberty Bell, a popular symbol of American freedom, was first sounded on July 8, 1776, after a reading of the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia. It was not rung on July 4 as many believe.

Ordered in 1751 by the Pennsylvania Provincial Assembly, the bell was cast in London, England. Delivered in 1752, it cracked immediately during testing and had to be recast twice before being hung in the State House (later renamed Independence Hall).

The bell bears the inscription "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." Not until 1839 was it given the name "Liberty Bell" by the anti-slavery movement.

The Liberty Bell was severely cracked in 1846, while being rung to celebrate George Washington's birth date, and it has not been rung since.

Seniors celebrate friend's return

Ora McDonald was warmly welcomed when she returned to the Clarkston area for a visit at the Independence Township Senior Citizens Center recently.

She was treated to a celebration by friends and relatives at the senior center in Clintonwood Park, Clarkston Road.

McDonald resided in the Clarkston area from 1940 until she left to live with her daughter, Jo Alexander, in Quinnesec in the upper peninsula.

She suffered a stroke in November, 1987, and was unable to care for her home on Cranberry Lake Road, Independence Township.

Since she's been gone, friends have missed her, especially friends at the township senior center, where McDonald often fished and played Bingo.

Friends and family had cake and coffee ready to greet McDonald when she arrived.

Obituaries

Deci M. Hunley

Deci M. Hunley, 75, of Independence Township died June 10. She was a retired tool repair person from General Motors Corp. Truck and Coach.

She is survived by her daughter, Barbara S. Wilkins of Drayton Plains; grandchildren, Kathy Schleiss, Ted Pankey and Laura Wixom; three great-grandchildren; sisters, Elizabeth Wilson of Wis., Margaret Fiock of Ind., and Fred Eyer of Ill.

The funeral was Monday, June 12, at the Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston, with the Rev. Robert Hodgman officiating. Burial was at Ottawa Park Cemetery, Independence Township.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Steve Smith

Steve Smith, 37, of Clarkston died June 11. He owned and operated Clarkston Contracting, Inc.

He is survived by his wife, Beth; daughter, Karrie Ann; brothers, Michael Smith of Holly and Richard Smith of Florida; sisters, Rebecca Cairo of Arizona and Caroline Smith of Texas; and many nieces and nephews.

The funeral was set for 1 p.m. Wednesday, June 14, at the Lewis E. Wint and Son TRUST 100 Funeral Home, Clarkston.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Karrie Ann Smith Trust.

Patrick Walsh

Patrick Walsh, 19, of Springfield Township died June 9. He was a student at Grand Valley State University, Allendale, and a 1987 graduate of Clarkston High School. He was also a member of St. Daniel Catholic Church, Clarkston.

Mr. Walsh is survived by his mother, Linda Lapinski, and stepfather, Wayne Lapinski of Springfield Township; brothers, Billy Walsh, Matt Lapinski and Rich Lapinski of Springfield Township; and sister, Julie Walsh of Springfield Township.

He is also survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gugler of Oak Grove, Ark., and Mrs. Sally Walsh of Sarasota, Fla.; great-grandmother, Mrs. Antoinette Gugler of Ocala, Fla.; aunts, Barbara Asplin of Crystal Beach, Fla., Mary Beth Gugler of Tampa, Fla., and Kathy Lee King of St. Joseph; uncles, Gary Gugler of Naples, Fla., and Wesley Gugler of Drayton Plains.

The funeral was Tuesday, June 13, at St. Daniel Catholic Church, Clarkston, with the Rev. Charles Cushing officiating. Burial was at [illegible] Cemetery, Independence Township.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Patrick Walsh Memorial Fund, in care of Lyon, Colbert and Bullard, 431 Sixth St., Rochester, MI 48063, or to the Goyette Funeral Home, 155 N. Main St., Clarkston, MI 48016.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY Spirit. Holy spirit. You make me see everything and show me the way to reach my ideals. You give me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrongs that are done to me and you are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desisre may be. I want to be with you, and my loved ones, in your perpetual glory. Amen. Persons must pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking for your wish. After the 3rd day your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as your favor has been granted. Thanks St. Jude for favors received. !!!LX23-2*

TO THE OXFORD Prophet: Hear, and recieve warning, and instruction. Anyone can write Bible verses, but it is the anointing that breaketh the yoke of bondage: which anointing you have not; neither has God given you words to speak, but you prophesy of your own heart; you walk in the spirit of error, you are decieved, grieving God's spirit and elect. Prophets have names mister, and come out openly, with signs and wonders following: not confusion. Shut up Kay! !!!CX45-2*

WHO IS ON THE LORD'S side? Let him hear what the spirit saith unto the churches. Be ti known unto you that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crusify, whom God raised from the dead, is the stone which is set at nought of you builders, which is the head of the corner. For there is none other name (no other way or gospel) under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved. But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fullfilled that is written; "They hated me without a cause." "I am the true vine and my father is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away. And every branch that beareth fruit, he purges it, that it may bring forth more fruit. If any man serve me, let him follow me. And where I am , there shall also my servant be. If any serve me, him will my father honor. For the word of God is sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder the soul and spirit, and is a descerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. Do not think that I have come to send peace on earth but to send a sword-not peace. And a man's foes shall be they of his own household (church): He that taketh not his cross and follows me is not worthy of me: He that findeth (keeps) his life shall lose it. And he that loses his life for my sake shall find it. And if any person hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not. For I came not to judge the world, but to save it. He that rejects me, and receives not my words, has one that judges him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day. For I have not spoken of myself, but the father, which sent me, he gave me a commandment, "What I should say, and what I should speak." Hearing you shall hear, and shall not understand. And seeing you shall see, and not perceive: for the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; giving heed to Jewish fables and commandments of men, that turn from the truth, professing to know God; but in works (faith in Christ) they deny him, being abominable (idol worshippers of gold and silver) and disobedient (not doing the word from the heart) and unto every good work (rightly dividing the truth) reprobate. A brutish man knows not; neither does a fool understand this. When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed forever. "My Mother and my brothers are these which hear the word of God, and do it. All things are delivered to me of my Father; and no man knows who the Son is but the Father; and who the Father is but the Son and he to whom the Son will reveal Him. !!!LX23-2*

SCHOOL'S OUT now, but even before the last day on June 13, these students were practicing their favorite summertime activity—hanging out. From left are Stacia Rose, 12, Kiley Maltrott, 12, and Terry Heard, also 12, who were caught with a cool drink of pop on a hot day on the shady step of Carol's Village Grill on Main Street, Clarkston.
