Board OKs $10 million 1990 budget

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A $10.6 million budget for 1990 was approved by the Independence Township board Nov. 20 with little discussion.

The new budget will become effective Jan. 1 and ends Dec. 31, 1990.

Voting yes were Supervisor Frank Ronk, Clerk Joan McCrary, Treasurer John Lutz, Trustees Frank Millard, Daniel Travis and Mel Vaara. William Vandermark was absent.

The $10,604,930 budget for 1990 compares with a $8.7 million budget from 1989. Capital expenditures are included in the this year's budget which attributes to some of the increase, said McCrary.

Budget figures do not address specific items but give (See BUDGET, next page)

Holiday craft festival visits Springfield park

A variety of arts and crafts, displayed in an early 1800s storefront setting, will be featured at the Davisburg Christmas Craft Festival Dec. 1 to 3 at the Springfield Oaks Activities Center.

The ninth annual event will showcase musical instruments, Christmas ornaments, carousel animals, glass art and other handcrafted items. Craft-making demonstrations will be conducted throughout the festival.

Show hours are 3-8 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 1; 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 2; and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 3.

Five performances of the story "Christmas Memories" will be performed in a live nativity scene: 5:30 p.m. Friday; noon and 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission to the play is $1.

The Davisburg Christmas Craft Festival was created in 1981 by the Davisburg "Scotties" Home Extension Group to aid the community during the automobile layoffs. The festival is co-sponsored by Northwest Oakland Community Services, a non-profit organization, and the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission.

The Springfield Oaks Activities Center is at 12450 Andersonville Rd., near Hall Road, in Springfield Township. For more information call Helen Vergin at 634-9410 or Springfield Oaks at 625-8133.

Board approves township budget

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Springfield Township Board unanimously approved a $1.38 million budget for 1990 at a special meeting Oct. 25.

Not included in that amount is the budget for the parks and recreation department, which is to be considered at the Dec. 14 meeting.

Sherry Swindell, director of the parks and recreation department, requested $83,000 for the year, but the township board suggested $73,000.

The additional $10,000 is needed to finish the remodeling of a parks and recreation office in the Mill Pond building, said Swindell.

Roger Bower, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, is to submit a revised budget to the township board.

Adopted were budgets for the following: general fund, $848,185; fire fund, $149,100; police fund, $276,000; and Shiawassee Basin fund, $111,450.

Shiawassee Basin is a newly-purchased 400-acre park north of Davisburg Road, west of downtown Davisburg.

The general fund pays for such things as: salaries, supplies, maintenance, parks and recreation, library and roads.

In the general fund, the board decided to spend $33,000 more on road improvements than originally proposed at the Oct. 12 budget hearing.

Supervisor Collin Walls said some of the road improvement funds could be used to chloride roads, as requested by residents at an Oct. 12 public hearing.

The undesignated reserves fund, or savings account for the township, is $48,110.

Board asks for 5.6 more mills

Voters to decide Feb. 12, 1990

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Voters in the Clarkston school district will be asked to approve an additional 5.6371 mills for one year only on Feb. 12, 1990.

Facing an estimated $2 million in budget cuts next year, the Clarkston Board of Education unanimously adopted that rate at the Nov. 27 meeting.

One mill is $1 for every $1,000 assessed property valuation.

The one-year additional millage is needed to restore what the school district lost in state aid due to the Headlee Amendment, according to school officials.

The Headlee Amendment automatically rolls back the millage rate whenever property values increase at a rate higher than the rate of inflation.

If approved, the additional 5.631 mills will allow the district to levy a total of 38.78 operating mills. Voters approved 38.83 operating mills in June of 1988, but the district is allowed to levy only 34.9461 mills because of the Headlee rollback. The 5.631 could generate nearly $3 million extra for the district for one year.

Finance Director William Jackson said he favored the 5.6371 millage rate because it would help restore the district to the 1988 level of educational programs.

The additional millage would restore music, physical education, sports and extra curricular activities; plus it would eliminate the pay-to-participate policy in force this year. An unknown number of teachers would also be recalled to eliminate overcrowding in classrooms.

The board's move to hold an election on Feb. 12 was sooner than originally anticipated, forcing Jackson to present estimated figures.

Before the vote, Jackson explained Clarkston's finances and fielded questions for about 1 1/2 hours.

Presently Clarkston operates in the state's school funding formula; thus, it's an "in-formula" district, he said.

But if the student enrollment decreases and assessed property values increase next year, Clarkston will move "out-of-formula," which means the district won't suffer state aid fluctuations as it has in recent years.

To lower enrollment figures, Clarkston would have to transfer adult education figures -- 1989-90 figures are 233 -- to a neighboring school district. The program would continue to be run through the Clarkston Community Education program, but the enrollment transfer would mean a loss of about one-third of its funds to whichever district accepts the figures.

Other districts transfer enrollment figures, said Jackson. Lake Orion transferred figures to Brandon schools

DEREK WEDDLE, 6 1/2, is the first to put a hat and mittens into the box, which he hopes will fill with donations for children who need hats, mittens and socks.

Boy, 6 1/2, collects items for children

In the few weeks before Christmas, most young boys are thinking about what they'll find under the Christmas tree.

But Derek Weddle, 6 1/2, of Overlook, Clarkston, has his thoughts on others — particularly those less fortunate than himself.

Derek, who will turn 7 on Dec. 8, considers himself lucky to have a mother and grandparents who supply his needs.

But some kids aren't as fortunate. For instance, he was listening to radio station WLLZ-FM when he heard about kids in Children's Village, Pontiac, who wouldn't have toys unless outside groups donated them.

So Derek originally thought he'd give them some of his old toys, as well as collect used toys from his classmates at Clarkston Elementary School.

But when his mother, Beverly, checked with the children's home run by Oakland County, she found that the children most needed mittens, hats and socks.

So Derek's idea changed a little. He's now collecting the items through his grandfather, Del Lohff's, business: Kieft Engineering, Inc., 5852 S. Main, Independence Township.

Contributors may drop off items in a box at the lobby from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Another box is at Grace Lutheran Church, Pontiac.

The donations are to be divided among Children's Village, Lighthouse and Ennis and Associates, all in Pontiac, said Beverly.

this year, allowing Orion to become an out-of-formula district. Brandon school district would be the most likely choice to accept the enrollment figures from Clarkston because it is an in-formula district.

To homeowners in the Clarkston district, the extra millage would mean more in taxes.

For example, the owner of a $200,000 home assessed at half the market value ($100,000) would pay about $560 extra a year, said Jackson, adding that other factors could influence that amount.

The owner of a $100,000 home assessed at half the market value ($50,000) would pay about $280 extra a year.

Janet Thomas said she was thankful for Jackson's excellent presentation, and noted that most people want a complex situation explained in 10 items or less.

The audience applauded Jackson who explained at the beginning of the presentation that one staff member was on vacation, and the other had suffered an injury. He prepared his report in two weeks.

Superintendent Gary Haner said action must be taken as soon as possible because of the deadlines for the upcoming election.

After the meeting, Marilyn Allyn, director of Clarkston Community Education, said she and her staff had been preparing for the fact that enrollment from adult education would be transferred to another district. They've concentrated effort to increase preschool, LatchKey and the Job Training and Partnership Act program.

"Perhaps these can offset the loss," said Allyn. "We have supplied the general education fund equity."

Allyn estimated about $150,000 has been added to the general fund since 1982, when the adult education and community education programs were established.

During the meeting, Jackson stressed that the numbers in his report were all based on estimates that could change. For instance, he estimated that property values in the district would increase but about 15 percent for the 1990-91 school year.

Residents ask that education become top priority

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

On Nov. 27, for the second time in two weeks, parents packed the Clarkston school board room and listened to emotion-filled speeches by residents concerned about the state of Clarkston schools.

About 70 parents, members of the board and administrators again listened to William Bleisath and Robert Emick, who spoke at the Nov. 13 meeting.

Bleisath said proposed budget cuts would devastate the children of the Clarkston school district and that any differences that might exist between the board members should be put aside until the problem of school funding is put aside.

Emick said people sitting in the school board room were willing to work, and he urged the board to lead the team.

But the newcomer to the podium was Clarkston pediatrician James O'Neill, who said he has been in the area for about 30 years, and this was the third time he had spoken before the board.

"Once every 10 years is not too bad," said O'Neill, drawing laughter from the crowd.

But O'Neill's message to the board was of a serious nature.

He is worried about the schools, he said, but the board, administration and teachers are doing an excellent job.

"What is important is the excellence in education for our children; everything else is minor," he said. "We need to focus on the quality of the school system."

O'Neill said some ideas for education are like frosting on the cake -- for example, lottery money, funding from Lansing and lawsuits that have been filed on behalf of school districts. But they are not the answer.

"I know some people look at this (funding of schools) as a burden, but this is a privilege," said O'Neill.

When O'Neill went to school and church as a youngster, his father never had to tell him or his siblings that they must attend, he said.

"My father told us, 'You get to go to school, and you get to go to church,'" said O'Neill.

O'Neill told the audience his confidence in the Clarkston school system is very strong, and if anyone were to ask him what would be the best way to invest

"What is important is the excellence in education for our children; everything else is minor."

Dr. James O'Neill

$200, he would tell them to invest in the Clarkston schools.

For people who don't have a child in Clarkston schools, O'Neill said they also needed to be concerned about the schools because of property values and the value of human life.

"They are all our children and our community," he said.

O'Neill finished his speech bringing in a broader spectrum.

"The strength of our country will be in education and nothing else," he said. "The best thing you can do for a child is invest in something (education) no one can take away from your child."

Millage on agenda

Planning the millage election is the topic of discussion at a special Clarkston Board of Education meeting Monday, Dec. 4.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m. in the administrative offices on Clarkston Road, Independence Township.

School officials are to address the strategy for the Feb. 12, 1990, millage election, when voters will be asked to approve 5.6371 mills for school operations. One mill is $1 for every $1,000 assessed property valuation.

Private investors could solve fire bond problems

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Independence Township Fire Department may get some help from private investors in the search for a new central fire station.

Fire Chief Gar Wilson told township board members Nov. 21 that he was negotiating with a group of investors who would build a public safety complex and would lease it to the fire department.

Wilson declined to name the investors until after he received more financial information on the project.

In the meantime, Wilson suggested that the township sell two vacant fire department properties it owns to create funds if the project is approved.

After some discussion, board members voted 6-0 to advertise the sale of the properties at the price at which they were appraised.

Young yes were Supervisor Frank Ronk, Clerk Joan McCrary, Treasurer John Lutz, trustees Frank Millard, Daniel Travis and Mel Vaara. Trustee William Vandermark was absent.

The properties are:

■ An approximately 2 1/2-acre parcel in the southeastern corner of Waldon Road and M-15. The parcel has been appraised at about $209,000.

■ A 1 1/2-acre parcel just south of Rattalee Lake Road on M-15, appraised at about $30,000.

Wilson suggested that the township also sell the existing central fire station on Church Street, Clarkston, but board members decided to wait until other fire station options become available.

In describing the leasing option, Wilson said investors had identified potential sites that would be suitable for the department's geographical needs. The facility would be similar to the one planned earlier.

Another option is to locate a fire station in the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital structure, recently proposed for the southwest corner of White Lake Road and Dixie Highway.

Board members questioned whether a fire station could operate near a hospital and whether the site was in a good location.

Wilson acknowledged that the hospital site would slow response time to the Village of Clarkston and the

SEMCOCG conducts crash study

Traffic crashes are the leading killer in Southeast Michigan of young people ages 16 to 24. And while nothing rivals the physical pain and suffering those accidents cause, motorists are not the only victims.

In fact, more than $1.7 billion is lost each year in Southeast Michigan as a result of traffic crashes. The loss may involve property damage, medical and legal fees, funeral and other costs.

SEMCOCG, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, recently completed a study that characterizes the nature of auto crashes and drivers involved in them.

For example:

■ In the past seven years, traffic crashes in the region have increased by 28 percent, but fatal crashes have decreased by 20 percent.

■ A driver in Southeast Michigan is four times more likely to be involved in a crash driving between midnight and 3 a.m. than during the hours of 6-9 a.m. When alcohol is involved, the same driver is 70 times more likely to be involved in a crash between midnight and 3 a.m. than between the 6-9 a.m. period.

■ Driving on limited access freeways is five times safer than driving on non-freeways.

■ Drivers age 16 to 24 are four times more likely to be involved in a traffic crash than are drivers between ages 45 and 54.

■ About 60 percent of all bicycle accidents involve people age 16 or younger.

The study was funded by the Michigan Office of Highways Safety Planning and the U.S. Department of Transportation National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

north side of Independence Township.

"We don't care to move over that far in the corner, but if the numbers are right, it's a possibility," Wilson said.

Wilson told the board that a new fire station is needed soon.

"The problem still exists although the bond issue failed," Wilson said.

In November, voters turned down a $2 million bond issue that would have paid for the construction and furnishing of a public safety complex, housing the central fire station, an Oakland County Sheriff's Department substation and possibly a Michigan State Police post.

Well pump breaks, shuts down school

Clarkston Junior High students found they had a few extra hours to spend away from the books on Monday, Nov. 27.

Students were released from school at 12:15 p.m. because a well pump went out sometime between 6:30 and 8 a.m., and the building was without water, said Principal Duane Lewis.

The Oakland County Health Department made the school close down, he said.

"The situation was preventing the ladies (who serve lunch) from being able to wash their hands," said Lewis, adding that most of the lunches are served on Styrofoam, but the cleanup would be difficult.

Another problem, said Lewis, was that only two restrooms were available for the 752 students.

The big event

Julie Campe

Carefully, Harold the Wild Animal prepared himself. Using Irish Spring, he lathered up and rinsed off, ridding himself of that woodsy, sweaty, wild smell.

Next, he shaved the whiskers from his face, so it looked all neat and trim, and he sprayed on a little Obsession for Men, to replace any remnants of his own wild scent with a chemically-induced wild aroma. He dabbed a bit of Ban roll-on beneath his arms.

Then, he put a little bluish paste on a stiff brush and scrubbed his teeth, patiently getting the scraps of raw chicken, left from last night's meal, from between a bicuspid and a molar.

Finally, he was ready for his clothes, specially chosen for this rare event.

First, he slipped on his undershorts and a T-shirt, all crisp and white. The undershorts were a little baggy. Next, he pulled on his stretchy, Nylon-cotton socks. They clung to his legs and felt funny, but he was determined not to let it bother him.

Then, he put on his white Oxford shirt, freshly pressed. He carefully buttoned it, so as not to miss a buttonhole and reveal himself. No, no mistakes, he was doing just fine.

Then, he pulled up his pleated pinstriped trousers and put his arms through the suspenders. Yep, just like Kevin Costner in that film, "The Untouchables." No one would know his secret, especially after he put on his jacket, complete with shoulder pads. But first, the bright red tie, with little swirly designs on it.

Harold looked in the mirror. Yes, perfect. All he needed were his cordovan wingtip shoes and a little hair spray to catch that wild-but-not-too-wild look of the growth on his forehead.

Finally, he was ready. He practiced a few expressions in the mirror. Best to show his sparkly smile tonight, he thought.

Whistling, so as to appear casual and perfectly comfortable attending such a big event, he walked out of his hotel room and down the corridor toward the banquet room.

He was seated immediately, and he reminded himself to use silverware and to excuse himself from the table whenever he felt flatulence setting in.

At first, the evening progressed as planned. He laughed when a man named Floyd, who was sitting next to him, told a few jokes.

But then, Floyd and another guy, Bill, started telling jokes that weren't funny — about people who injured themselves and about humans who took advantage of other humans.

And then they stopped joking and started talking about their work. Floyd, it seemed, was helping to figure a way to kill thousands of people in a quick and easy way, without declaring war.

Harold was a little shocked and almost forgot to cut his too-cooked meat before eating it. But he remembered in time.

Bill appreciated Floyd's challenge and suggested poisoning the water supply of his targets.

Floyd said he had already thought of that, but it would kill too many innocent people. But most of the members of his committee were in favor of that idea, so it probably would end up as the solution, he said.

Harold was so shocked that he forgot to pick up his water glass and drink it like a human. Instead, he bent over and lapped it up with his tongue.

Floyd and Bill were shocked.

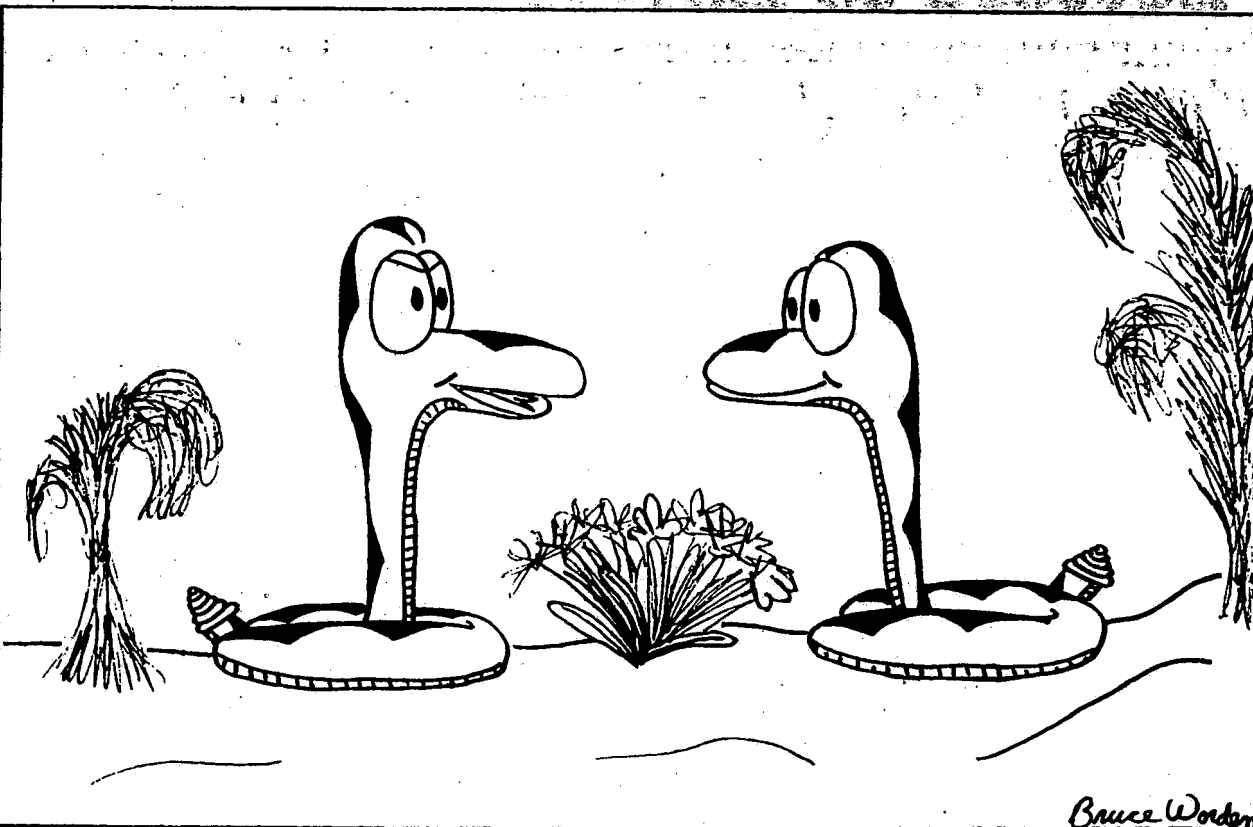

"That's disgusting," said Floyd.

"You're an animal!" yelled Bill.

And they abruptly left the table.

Harold was thrown out.

Jim's Jottings

Just a few unassociated notes this week.

Few believe me when I tell them I deer hunt. Most often I hear, "Did you take your gun this year?" I chuckle at the questioner's attempt to put down one of my recreational activities, just as I do when they chide my golf game.

However, we go into the woods before dawn and come out at dusk. We carry guns, but haven't shot them in half dozen years.

It's the other in-camp incidents, planned and unplanned, that keep us going back. Like: We opened the season with the dawn-to-dusk woods time. We relaxed with the pre-dinner interlude. Ate at 8 p.m.

The two oldest in camp, Pansy Baldwin and I, went to bed at 9:00. The four youngest, son Jim, Rob Gartner, Greg Davidson and Bob Offer went to Naubinway for a post-dinner interlude.

Back in camp at 11:00, Rob thought it cute to wake Pansy and tell him it was time to get up and get ready for the day's hunt. Pansy thought it was a short night, but arose to wash and ready. He looked at his watch, discovered the dupe and expounded threats to Rob, made loud references to his ancestry, and planned revenge until sleep returned.

Ted Turner, owner of CNN, TNN, MGM, the Atlanta Hawks, the Atlanta Braves, The Omni, etc., spoke to the National Newspaper Association convention we attended in Atlanta last month.

He's a candid speaker. Here are some quotes from my notes: Turner had been successful with his first cable tv channel of old reruns of old sitcoms. "I started the all-news network for the pure ol' hell of it. I'm surprised it worked."

And, "Why are we trying to put capitalism in China and Russia? We did it in Japan and they are kicking our..."

Incidentally, he says he's devoting most of his time now and in the future to the environment, 'saving the earth'. Look for him to devote a channel to it.

He wants to start a Plan for the Planet. There is none now, he says. He'd take money in the defense budget and assign it to toxic waste. He wants more people educated. He said, "Thinking women don't breed." That's how he'd fight over-population.

He said he's thinking of offering a $1.5 million prize for books on positive views of the future, half million for first place.

The only way to keep peanut butter around our house is to buy the crunchy kind.

Did the early snow/freeze catch you like it did me? Snow blower not attached to the tractor, bird feeder posts not in the ground, no salt for melting the ice, and no battery for the snowmobile. The only preparation I'd made was putting on an extra layer of fat to ward off the cold.

Letters to Editor

Poor notice of public meeting

I would like to voice my concerns about the recent Downtown Development Authority meeting held Nov. 20.

To start, the meeting was posted for the public on one door of the township annex sometime between 9:30 and 11 a.m. of the day of the meeting. Also, the residents that were directly affected by one item on the agenda were notified by mail only five days before the meeting. Not much in the way of notice for a public meeting.

To continue, the meeting was delayed over 20 minutes waiting for one board member to show up—he never did. Furthermore, after a presentation by the township engineer, a motion was presented, seconded and voted on without a chance for the public to speak. After a few dissenting opinions were voiced, only begrudgingly, was one person able to comment, and then the public was ignored.

There was no public forum, there were no agendas given out, nor little opportunity for the public to speak.

I question what the DDA wants to hide and why they are afraid of a truly "public" meeting, but more on that later.

Recipe additions

The following additions apply to two recipes for Romanian treats that appeared in last week's Clarkston News on Page 1 of section B, our special holiday section.

I would like to add some information about my recipes that might be of help to anyone who may want to try them.

I wouldn't want anyone to begin baking them and not have them turn out as delicious as my mother's always were.

The Sponge Cake may be mixed with an electric mixer. It should also be completed with a chocolate butter icing around the sides. Also watch the baking time.

For the Kiflik recipe: work with one ball of dough at a time, keeping the rest refrigerated.

Roll out into a circle, and then cut into pie shaped wedges. Place a spoonful of desired filling on the wide side of each wedge. Roll up, and placed on greased cookie sheet.

Let stand for 20 minutes. Then brush with beaten egg. (Also dry yeast may be used.)

Bake at 350 degrees anywhere from 10 to 20 minutes.

For the apricot and prune fillings, soak the pitted, dried fruit separately in a little water overnight.

Cook until soft, and drain. Add sugar (2 cups per box of fruit), and continue cooking until thick, stirring frequently to keep from scorching.

For the pineapple filling, just thicken crushed pineapple with either corn starch or flour.

For the peach, use a thick peach preserve.

These are time consuming to make, so if you are pressured for time, save them to make for another time.

Have a wonderful holiday.

Thanks for effort

I would like to thank Mr. Gary Voelker of North Oakland Cablevision for his assistance in attempting to have Andersonville Elementary and the Northwest Oakland Technical Center connected to the Clarkston schools computer system.

Mr. Voelker and his staff have been most courteous and helpful to the school district staff attempting to resolve this problem.

From This Perspective

A year in passing

Tracy King

One year ago this week, I cast my eyes upon Clarkston for the first time.

"Quaint," I said to myself. "Established."

As I turned my car around for a second pass through the village, I began to tick off the stories I expected to cover should I be lucky enough to be offered the job.

Features, I thought. Crafts and simpler people with long, tall tales to tell. Gentle work.

A few weeks earlier, I made some decisions about the career I had nurtured for seven years. I decided to close the book on my work as a television reporter and to seek out something more basic.

Reporting in a small town like Clarkston was about as basic as one could get, I decided.

I took the job.

On my second day as a staff reporter, I covered an Independence Township board meeting and felt the first jolt of surprise.

"A real government," I thought to myself, "with real problems and a skill at managing them."

I sat taller in my chair and turned my attention to the new, demanding practice of documenting a meeting without the aid of a video camera.

Over the next few weeks, I discovered a whole set of challenges. Writing longer, descriptive stories was new, as was a technique known as the "inverted pyramid", which requires a writer to put the most important information first and the rest of the story in descending order of importance.

Clarkston didn't seem so small when Independence and Springfield townships were thrown in, and the demands of covering my beats became real.

Recently, someone asked me, "How were you received here?"

I thought back to my reaction at uncovering "news" in the township and recalled the old thrill of the hunt when I set to reporting it.

"Like a bull in a china shop," I answered thoughtfully.

"Do you miss television?" Another question provoking thought.

I remembered the adrenalin of "going live" alright. I remembered the satisfaction of editing the story in time and the fun of mastering the use of natural sound in a story.

For a long time, working as a television reporter seemed like the best way to get at the true essence of "news."

But as a newspaper reporter in Independence Township, I've learned some things about news.

I still have trouble capturing good quotes from people who talk too fast. I still take horrible pictures; and I still forget to turn off my word processor at the end of the day.

But I've learned that "news" exists anywhere where people care about that which you write.

These days, I get a different feeling looking down Main Street.

There is "news" here. And features, and people with tall tales to tell.

Opinions

'If it Fitz . . .'

Small talk

Jim Fitzgerald

The mail brought a question from a woman who'd seen me in a local restaurant. She wondered if I knew I have a "shy look" on my face.

The fact is, I'm not so much shy as defensive. I see sort of a glazed, flinchy look to defend myself against an attack of small talk.

I am lousy at talking about nothing. I first realized this when I was a small boy getting my hair cut. The barber was continually asking what I learned in school that day. I couldn't think of an intelligent answer and, besides, I didn't believe he was really interested in my schooling. So I limited my answers to one syllable - mumbled. Or sometimes I pretended I didn't hear him.

My dad went to the same barber. One day they talked about me, and Dad came home to say: "The barber says you are a remarkable boy. He says he cut your hair three times before he realized you were a deaf-mute."

Today I use magazines to defend myself against barbers, but I can't live with my nose in a book. So I've taken on protective coloring that might easily be mistaken for shyness, rudeness, or even snobbishness. The idea is to discourage anyone from asking me how I like the weather.

Some people are expert at small talk. My wife is world champion. There are people who don't know my name, but know I don't wear pajamas because they bumped into her in a doctor's waiting room.

I don't mean to be sexist, but, according to my experience, there is no such thing as two or more women, even total strangers, sitting silently in the same room. They'll talk if they have to discuss the cracks in the ceiling. On the other hand, I stood in line for three years in the Army and never talked to the guy in front of me.

I don't know if there was a guy behind me because I never turned around. I was afraid he might be a barber.

I think a person with nothing to say shouldn't say it. I think silence is golden (you may quote me on that, if you wish). I think I'm doing a guy a favor if I don't ask him if he's had enough rain. I think it's friendly not to disturb a man who is obviously thinking about a big fish he almost caught. The man alone at the end of the bar is not necessarily a lonely soul who would love to hear why the Tigers blew the pennant. He may be seeing splendid reflections of his childhood in his beer.

My wife says I'm "just not friendly." Measured by the most popular yardstick, I guess I'm not. But there should be another measuring stick for us quiet types. After all, I'm willing to share great gobs of my silence with perfect strangers, free. Any stranger who says that isn't friendly isn't perfect.

I don't tell the garrulous man to shut up. He shouldn't tell me to speak up. That's simple courtesy, isn't it? Nowhere is it written on a stone tablet that it's a sin to enjoy silence. No law says a nightmare is more important to the soul than a daydream. A person should be awakened from neither except for good reason.

Hotels supply "Do Not Disturb" signs to hang on doorknobs. Until I hang such a sign around my neck, I must depend upon my "shy look" to ward off inane conversation. This look says plainly that I will faint dead if anyone asks if it is cold enough for me.

But if it's important, just knock on my nose.

Marvelous Merger: Phil Marcus Esser, my favorite troubadour, is singing in the back room of the Caucus Club, home of the world's greatest hash brown potatoes. Please don't misunderstand this plug. Several years ago, when Kathleen Landis was performing there, I also praised her along with the hash browns. The next evening, someone came in to hear "that new rock group, the Hash Browns."

Lake pollution from negligence

Contrary to what township engineers say about heavy rains causing the "cloudy appearance" (in English it is called "mud") in Cranberry Lake, the problems have been caused by Biltmore Properties being allowed to begin development of Cranberry Pointe (subdivision) before adequate measures were taken to insure protection of the lake.

The recent heavy rains were not the first we've ever had in Independence Township but this is the first time I've ever seen muddy water cascading across the road into the lake.

Before the development of Cranberry Pointe, heavy rains fell on the 33 acres of woods and brush and were retained by the natural ground cover until the water percolated into the soil or slowly filtered into the lake.

When earthmovers stripped away that cover and left bare soil and asphalt in its place, even a township engineer should have known that there would be a radical change in the way water moved from the hills to the lake.

After an outcry from lake property owners and other area residents, engineers and the developer did, after damage was done, make efforts to correct the problem. However, inadequate attention was given to avoid the problem.

Before any destruction was done to the hills above the lake, the overflow drain should have been approved and installed; and the sediment basin should have been completed and covered with sod.

Instead, the hills were razed; the basin was ignored, and the lake is now flooded with muddy water while our township engineers speak of the dastardly blow that Mother Nature has dealt us. These are the same people we pay to advise us on the development of our community.

Let's admit that we have all been negligent in matters concerning our environment. Lake residents have not adequately expressed our concerns and demands to local government representatives; township engineers have not been pro-active in protecting the lake, and the developer has done only the minimum that is required. Where do we go from here?

I propose that the township take immediate steps to pump the lake to its normal level before ice thickens. The developer should arrange for, and finance, a consultant to evaluate the damage that has already been done to the lake and propose a plan for long-term maintenance of the area; and the township should establish a trust fund, to be financed by owners of newly developed property draining into Cranberry Lake, to assure the long-term maintenance of the body of water. This could be done by a one-time fee paid when the house is bought.

Existing lake property owners should not be saddled with the expense of fighting pollution caused by new development.

Medical Board needs changes

"Bad apples" can spoil a whole barrel, or at least give that appearance.

In various professions, "bad apples" have tainted the reputations of many honest, hardworking and concerned people.

In the case of medicine, where our patients' trust, openness and cooperation are imperative to effective treatment, the bad apples are especially dangerous and damaging.

Our goal is, and always has been, to search out those who would taint the profession and deal with them as swiftly and severely as possible.

The problem, however, is this. Contrary to what many people believe, we physicians do not have the authority to "police" ourselves. We have no legal basis for doing so. The only route for disciplining physicians is through the state Board of Medicine in the Department of Licensing and Regulation.

Unfortunately, many times the Board of Medicine is not able to move as quickly as we would like.

For example, under the current system, a physician facing disciplinary action might continue to practice for years before the case is resolved. In the meantime, he or she may continue to be a threat to patients. This situation must change.

For more than five years, the 11,000 physicians of the Michigan State Medical Society have called on the state legislature to revamp the Board of Medicine to allow for more swift and sure disciplining of physicians.

At the beginning of this year, House Speaker Lewis Dodak appointed an ad hoc committee chaired by Rep. David Gubow to look into medical licensure and discipline. In testifying before that committee, we physicians asked that it consider investigating several changes.

Our suggestions include funding the Board of Medicine at a more appropriate level, increasing the investigative staff and increasing consumer representation in the board's disciplinary function.

Physicians also would like to see added legal counsel for the Board, separate from that of the Attorney General's office. We further suggest dividing the licensing and disciplinary functions of the board and the development of a prioritization system for investigating complaints.

The committee's report is expected before the end of the year. We physicians hope it will contain recommendations that will improve the medical profession itself and the lives of the consumers of medical care, our patients.

Rhoda M. Powsner, MD, Chairman

Changes in voting planned

There may be some changes in the way Independence Township residents cast their ballots in the next election.

At the suggestion of township Clerk Joan McCrary, board members discussed the purchase of punch card voting machines to replace the township's existing voting machines.

The voting machines were in need of repair and were cumbersome to work with, McCrary explained.

At 900 pounds, the 40-50 machines are difficult to transport, and local schools had difficulty storing them between elections, she added.

The punch card voting machines are about the size of a briefcase. The machines use cards that can be fed into township computers using special software to calculate results at 1,000 per minute.

Using a state formula requiring one machine for every 400 voters, McCrary suggested the township purchase one machine for every 300 voters to account for future growth, at a cost of approximately $55,000.

The board discussed the possibility of purchasing used machines from West Bloomfield Township, which was considering the switch to a more advanced system.

McCrary was directed to further investigate the switch and report to the board on her findings.

If approved, the new machines could be ready for the June election, McCrary said.

Thieves break into two Ridge Trail homes twice

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Four break-ins were reported in two homes on Ridge Trail, east of Sashabaw Road at Pine Knob Road, Independence Township, Nov. 25 and 26.

Win a Snoopy pass

Readers have a chance to see "Snoopy's World of Magic" free.

The show is billed as the "family entertainment event of the year" by officials at the Palace of Auburn Hills. All you have to do is count the number of Snoopys in this week's Clarkston News, and be the first person to turn in the correct tally.

The first two entries turned in, with the correct answer will win two tickets to either the December 13 or 14 show. Look in the November 29 issue for the entry form and count all the Snoopys -- they'll be placed throughout the paper. Good luck!

Although the break-ins occurred twice within two days at both homes, police couldn't say for certain that the thefts were related.

"We just don't know," said Detective Sgt. Robert Wark of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Police have no suspects at this time, Wark added.

The first break-in was noticed by the home's owner at about 8 a.m. and is thought to have occurred sometime after 6 p.m. the night before.

The front door to the home had been forced open, allowing the subjects to take a tool belt, sump pump, copper wire and a brass door lock set from inside. The merchandise was worth about $180, according to police reports.

A robbery at a neighboring home is thought to have occurred sometime between 8 p.m. and 8 a.m., according to the reports.

At this home, thieves made off with about $2,254 worth of merchandise, including three sets of curtains, a drill, a socket set, a tape measure and wallpaper. No sign of entry was apparent.

The following day, police received notice of another break-in at the first house.

This time, the subjects broke a basement window worth about $100 and stole a telephone, a burner unit, a rowing machine and flood lights.

Tire tracks leading to the back of the house were visible in the ground, police reports said.

The owner of the second house also reported a break-in on Nov. 26. In this incident, subjects entered the home by unlatching a basement window. Extension cords worth $70 were reported missing from the home.

Police are asking anyone who notices unfamiliar subjects or vehicles in the area to get a good description of what they see and call the sheriff's department at 858-4950.

Who can give the most cans?

CLASSES COMPETE for a pizza party in the Clarkston High School Student Council Can Drive. Julie Irish, Erich Becker and John King (standing) set about collecting the cans from participating fourth hour classes. The class contributing the most cans wins the pizza party; second place winners earn a doughnut party. The cans are taken to the Independence Township Senior Center for distribution.

BRIDGE LOAN TO THE RESCUE

QUESTION: I have just found a buyer for my home but he cannot close the purchase for three months. The replacement home I am buying has a closing date in only one month. In other words, there is a two month lag between the time I need the cash to purchase the replacement house and the time I will get the cash from the sale of my present home. Where do I go from here?

ANSWER: An experienced Realtor can often arrange interim financing, or what is known as a "bridge loan", for you. The money is advanced by your bank on a short term basis with interest computed daily. Your equity in your present home is the loan security.

'Old Board' deserves credit

As senior citizens we would like to thank the good Dr. Bliesath for the early warning about the upcoming millage request. We will be out in force or secure absentee ballots.

If by "cheapskates" you mean those of use who have paid our dues and do not like to see money squandered, we accept the stereotype.

What is wrong with our schools, other than low morale, which could be easily corrected with effective leadership? Anything terribly wrong with our schools must have happened during the past few years when the only part of our system that has really changed is the administration.

During more than 36 years of teaching in Clarkston High School, close to 10,000 students went through my classes — one of them turned out badly; the rest are good solid citizens including dozens of doctors and lawyers, hundreds of teachers, college professors, nurses and other professional business people and even an honest politician.

Yes, the members of the old Board "?" do have a little egg on their faces; after all they did hire the present administrators. But give them credit for taking over where the present administration has failed.

W. Leigh Bonner

Clarkston kids are number one

I for one voted "no" on Proposals A and B for two reasons:

1. I feel, just like the Lotto, there were unwritten rules, and the schools would not get 100 percent of the money.

2. I also feel that most of the funds would have been given to the Detroit school system, and I for one am tired of taking care of Detroit.

Everywhere we look, every paper and even television ads, push for quality education, but no one is willing to accept the expense that great education takes. If we are going to wait for our government to help fund the education for our children, then we are going to have undereducated children.

Clarkston has always taken pride in a quality education system. If we want quality education for our children, then we have to prove we are willing to support it.

I moved into Clarkston 20 years ago, a town that believed: "Clarkston kids are No. 1."

What has happened to us, are we that blinded by the anger of paying so many taxes in Michigan that we are willing to sacrifice our children? Direct your anger where it belongs — to Lansing or Washington.

To those who don't have children or are older, educating today's children is important to future savings and America's welfare.

If you think any new tax bill will support our schools better than we can, you are sadly mistaken; it will only go to the inner-city school districts. The government will play with our money just like they did the lottery money — no matter what any bill reads.

I do not like paying taxes; I am a single parent with an average income, but education is number one in my book, whatever the cost. It means children with the confidence to strive for the best; it is their livelihood; it is our future government; it is their right to have the best education available.

Every area of education is as important as the next — academics, sports, music, special programs, support groups and "say no" programs, teachers who educate, care and get involved, the best counselors and supportive parents.

Please, before you turn down another millage or bond proposal, think long and hard about what you are really saying: you are telling the young people of Clarkston that they are not important, that you would sacrifice their education to get even with the government politics.

Take a day to visit all our schools during school hours. See for yourself — our classes are overcrowded and programs outdated; we need new books and a high-tech education system if today's children are to be self confident, tomorrow's leaders and providers.

"Clarkston young people are No. 1."

Beverly J. Lund

State income tax made fairer

Retirees of the state of Michigan and local governments will now pay state income tax on retirement benefits as have retirees of private industry.

This group includes your state legislators and school employees, who previously were not taxed on the full amount of their retirement benefits.

Reference is made to the instructions for Line 51 on Page 7 of the 1989 Michigan Individual Income Tax Booklet, which will allow $7,500 single/$10,000 married deduction for the above group, the same as all other retirees.

I realize it was a federal court decision that required this change and not by any action of those who had previously reaped the benefits.

I welcome this group to the income taxpayers of Michigan.

Generous gifts

Here's a tribute to the people of North Oakland County who have pledged their outstanding support for United Way of Oakland County and its many agencies, programs and services.

I would like to extend my deepest appreciation to every single person who contributed to the 1989 campaign. Thanks to you, we raised $4.51 million.

To the hundreds of volunteers who gave their time to help us raise the funds in the plant and in the office for human-care services — thank you.

To the hundreds more volunteers who offer their skills to the United Way-supported agencies and provide the opportunity for people to receive the help they need — thank you.

To the 1989 Cabinet volunteers, your perseverance paid off — thank you.

To our loaned executives, David Stolzenfeld, Jane Turner, Roger Laramée, Connie Hooks and Kim Earl — thank you and thanks to their employers for sponsoring them.

And to every individual who signed a pledge card, wrote a check or reached into their pockets to give to the 1989 United Way campaign — thank you. You made my job as chairwoman so very rewarding.

Mail order gifts not always right

The holidays are coming, and along with them come an array of gourmet goodies that are often sent via mail to friends and relatives.

Problems arise when the gift arrives as a surprise, said Sylvia Treitman, home economist of the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

This may present a food safety hazard, especially when the recipient isn't at home when the package arrives or a package remains un-refrigerated for several days.

Reporter's Notebook

If anyone were to doubt the magnitude or significance of the Thendara Park paving project, they would only have to gaze upon the walls of Independence Township hall. The township has had the wording of the bond agreement made into a plaque, which hangs in reminder of what was (finally) accomplished.

An anniversary has been marked by a member of the Independence Township board. Trustee Mel Vaara announced Nov. 21 that he was marking a full two years of meetings as a board member. He received a light applause from the audience when he further added he had never missed a one.

All perishable foods need to be shipped with an adequate cold source, such as an insulated box with dry ice. Outside labeling is also essential giving details on perishability to ensure quicker handling.

When ordering gifts:

* Send all perishable food gifts via a reliable shipper who will provide an adequate cold source according to the particular item's need.

* Pre-warn gift recipient that a perishable food gift is on the way.

* Request that shipper label all food gifts appropriately — "perishable" and "refrigerate," when necessary.

* Inquire how the product you select will be shipped — length of time until delivered and if product is safe to consume unrefrigerated.

* Request guarantee information, if product arrives unsatisfactorily, will they replace it?

Do not use a perishable food gift if you suspect it was sent without an adequate cold source. Call your local Cooperative Extension Service for details on how individual foods should arrive for safe consumption.

For more help with your holiday food safety questions call the food hotline, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., at 858-0904.

Mark Twain: American humorist

Nov. 30 marks the birthday of Mark Twain, one of America's best-loved humorists, lecturers and writers.

He was born Samuel Clemens in 1835 in Florida, Mo. His work as a steamboat apprentice and pilot on the Mississippi River inspired his famous pen name, Mark Twain, adopted in 1863. "Mark twain" was a river term for a depth of two fathoms.

Twain's humorous articles and lectures brought him nationwide recognition, but it was his novels of boyhood adventure and innocence that became the toast of American fiction. Twain wrote most of his famous work after settling in Hartford, Conn., in 1870, including "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" and "The Prince and the Pauper."

Twain is quoted as saying, "I cam in with Halley's Comet in 1835. It is coming again this year, and I expect to go out with it."

True to his prediction, he died April 21, 1910, in Redding, Conn., one day after the comet was at its closest point to the sun.

Wrestlers ready for challenges

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Each season, the wrestling team has improved under Coach Scott Strickler. Each year they have climbed closer to becoming a power in their league and in Oakland County.

The start of the 1989-90 season provides the Wolves with a little different challenge than they might be used to — living up to their advance billing.

Two outstanding seasons in a row (17-4 two years ago and 15-4 last year) put Clarkston on just about everybody's hit list for the year. All will be gunning to knock down the Wolves. And they won't be grappling the Little Sisters of The Poor either.

"We've toughened up our schedule," the coach said. "We have a well-balanced team, but I hate to be overly optimistic."

Ten varsity letterwinners return from last year's squad. They include this season's co-captains John Terpstra

"We are hoping to bring home some iron. We're shooting for the top two."

Coach Scott Strickler

and Damon Michelsen, plus Jerry Anderson, Jerry Lawrence, Joel Davis, Mike Stanton, Tony Miller, Tim Kerr, Matt Boucard and Alex Martin. Two freshmen from Sashabaw Junior High also will wrestle for Strickler.

Winning form

TOM HOCKEY practices his form at Joe Sanders' karate class at Pine Knob Elementary. The class meets three times a week to perfect their martial arts skills. Once one family signs up for the program, others soon follow. See the next two pages for a story and photos on the class and its family spirit.

JOE WEBB has control over teammate Tony Miller during a recent Monday afternoon wrestling practice session in the Clarkston High School cafeteria.

The $164 pay-to-play fee hurt the team in the number of sophomores that turned out, the coach said. If the Wolves can avoid injuries, it probably won't affect this year's squad, he added.

Besides getting used to living up to their advanced billing, the Wolves also will be in unfamiliar territory this season — hosting five dual meets and a 12-team tournament on Jan. 27. Last year, Clarkston was home only once.

wrestling practice session in the Clarkston High School cafeteria.

In the Greater Oakland Activities League, the Wolves will have to beat the top-ranked team in the state to win the title. In the Oakland County meet, where Clarkston finished a surprising third a year ago, Strickler is looking for improvement and a trophy.

"We are hoping to bring home some iron," he said. "We're shooting for the top two."

Nine seniors on basketball team provide Wolves with leadership

Clarkston High begins the season against tough Pontiac Central

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Dan Fife plans on borrowing a page out of Sparky Anderson's playbook for the upcoming prep basketball season.

Just as the Detroit Tiger manager utilizes his entire roster by platooning, Clarkston High's coach will experiment with two players splitting time at one position.

With six returning players and nine seniors, Fife hopes to find the right combination to replace the top-notch talent he lost through graduation.

Gone from a year ago are starters Kevin McCormick, Darin Brandt, Scott Weeks and Jim Huttenlocher. Only the coach's son, Dugan, returns from the starting five during the 1988-89 season. That team tied for the Greater Oakland Activities League title with Pontiac Northern and finished with an overall record of 18-6.

On the plus side, Fife has the luxury of nine seniors out of the 13 players on the team.

"We will look for those guys to provide leadership," the coach said. "I'm cautiously optimistic. I know we'll play hard, and we've conditioned hard; but this will be the smallest we have been since I've been here."

The tallest player for the Wolves is Bill Knight, at 6-feet, 5-inches.

Clarkston figures to be strong in the backcourt, with Reggie Reed returning as well as Dugan. Both are excellent perimeter shooters, the coach said.

Others who are returning from a year ago are Kellie O'Neil, Gary Kaul, Wally Wyniemo and Marc Sander-son. Dereck Raymond, Scott Trekman, Ben O'Rourke, Mark Galbraith and Chris Wasilk round out the lineup for the Wolves.

As of Monday afternoon, Nov. 27, Coach Fife had yet to settle on a starting lineup. But regardless of the personnel executing the plays, he knows what it'll take for Clarkston to have a successful year on the hardwood.

"That thing we have to concentrate on is inside scoring and rebounding," he said.

The Wolves also will have to contend with their usual tough schedule, beginning with Pontiac Central on Tuesday, Dec. 5.

One more winner

One Sashabaw Junior High School award-winner was inadvertently omitted from last week's paper. Andy Howe should have been credited with the Coach's Award for football.

Family spirit shines through in karate class

BY PETER AUCHTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Joe Sanders is fond of saying, "The family that kicks together, sticks together."

Family members also learn respect, politeness and discipline besides the kicking in the fifth-degree black-belt's Clarkston Community Education-sponsored karate class.

As previously written in The Clarkston News, his students win in just about every national tournament they enter. It's the norm for the Clarkston Force to average more than one trophy or medal per person sent to a competition.

"I don't care about that," the teacher said emphatically. "Attitude is everything."

It's more important to Sanders that his students leave his class better people than Tae Kwon Do experts.

He's the first to yell at students who are lazy or not paying attention during practice sessions at Pine Knob Elementary. Students who don't perform properly must duck-walk a lap around the small gymnasium as "punishment" while the rest of the class claps in rhythm.

Conversely, he openly praises those students who do well. He's also the first on the scene when an occasional injury occurs, caring for the students as if they were his own.

"We have gotten hurt outside of class more than in," said Sharon Viner, whose two sons, Jason and Justin, also are in the program.

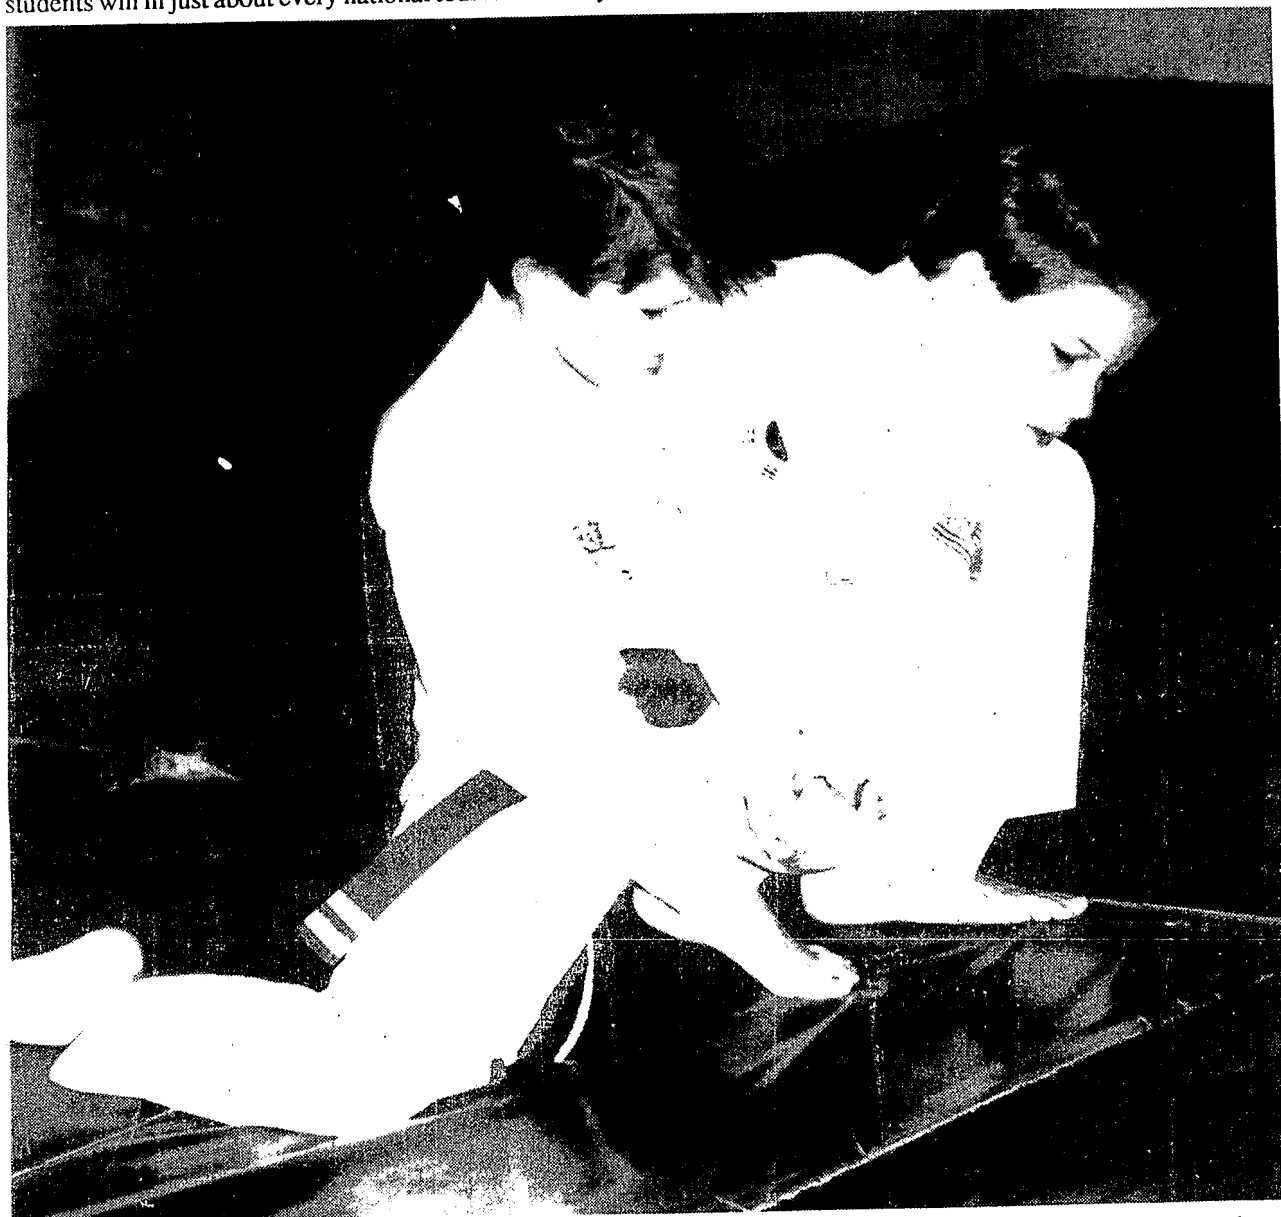

Whatever Sanders is doing, he's doing it to the satisfaction of his students. Class sizes continue to grow, as brothers, sisters and even mothers and fathers join his group for their three-times-a-week workouts after visiting a relative who already joined.

Jason was the first Viner to join Sanders' class. He began about four years ago. Justin picked it up a year later along with mom.

"I was here all the time (anyway), and I was used to exercise," Sharon said of her start in karate. "You kind of get hooked."

Once they were "hooked," the Viners began winning. Three shelves of medals and trophies from national tournaments are proof.

The Engelhard brothers, Eric and Brian, also have proven themselves in competition. Both have won 18 (See FAMILIES, next page) awards during their four years under Sanders tutelage.

TWO STUDENTS in Joe Sanders' class, Eric Engelhard and Vincent Ventimeglia square off during a recent Saturday morning session at Pine Knob Elementary.

ERIC ENGELHARD, along with his brother Brian, has won 18 trophies apiece during the four years they have been in Joe Sanders' class.

Both joined the program because "it looked fun," said Eric. And it still is fun today, added Brian.

The Cuthbertson brothers, Phil, Paul and Joe, also enjoy their karate class. Sibling rivalry make it even more fun, they said.

"(Joe) and I are big rivals," said Paul. "We always try to gain revenge. We have a lot of fun with it."

Joe was the first of the brothers to join; he began about two-and-a-half years ago. The others joined, in shortly, after watching their brother in action and hearing him brag about the class. Joe welcomed them with open arms.

"The more brothers the better," he said.

Soon backyard sparring sessions were underway, and the battles for supremacy in the Cuthbertson household had begun.

So far, Joe leads the way in trophies with 13 in six tournaments. Phil, the youngest of the three, has six trophies in four competitions. Paul has three in three tournaments.

While the shiny medals and large trophies are tangible items students have of their progress in class, Sanders said they are only side effects of what he is really trying to teach.

Josephine Snyder, for instance, has learned self defense moves that she has found useful.

"I'm a lot more confident now," she said. "I used to be afraid of my own shadow."

Her son, Michael Gouchenour, also participates in the class and offers his help outside of class when mom tries to perfect her moves, she said.

Both mother and son joined the group about four years ago and have yet to lose at a tournament. They have about 15 to 20 awards won between them.

Another mother and son duo, Linda and Brian Childers, also has done remarkably well in competition, winning about 44 awards.

The father-son team of Tom and Ian McCloskey round out the family groups at Sanders' class. The twosome have won a half dozen trophies between them.

But if the students don't have respect, politeness and discipline, it doesn't mean much to Sanders. Maybe they should rename the class, "How to be a Better Person 101."

"I never imagined myself saying 'Yes, Sir' to anybody," Josephine said with a smile. She addresses her teacher with proper respect nowadays -- just as the rest of her classmates do. Unless they want to duck-walk a lap around the gym, that is.

YOUNG STUDENTS practice their kicking skills during a Saturday morning session.

Wolves weren't pushovers

The year is rapidly coming to a close, so it's time for a little housecleaning around here at The News. On with the odds and ends:

First off, another winter sports season is upon us. Three cheers for the athletes in blue and gold.

Both the boys basketball and wrestling teams are in the enviable positions of living up to past performances.

As usual, the hoops team did well last season, finishing with an 18-6 record and will have to work hard to repeat that performance.

Same goes for the wrestling team. Two straight fantastic seasons lead to added pressure brought on by great expectations.

Stop by the high school for a home game or match this season. Both should provide entertaining moments, and who knows, this may be the start of something big for both clubs. (Similiar to the movie "Hoosiers" maybe?)

The football flap between Philadelphia Eagles Coach Buddy Ryan and Dallas Cowboys Coach Jimmy Johnson is hilarious if you ask me. I also think it's great for the fans, players and owners of NFL football alike.

First off, nothing beats watching a heated rivalry in action from a fan's perspective. It'll also help motivate those pitiful Cowboys to a new level of competitiveness. Right now, a rematch between these two teams probably would rank as one of the greatest of the decade. The owners come out winners in the end because they'd be the ones to profit off this "Game of the Decade" billing.

In case you're not a football fan, Johnson has accused Ryan of placing a bounty on Dallas' quarterback and kicker during their Thanksgiving Day game in Dallas. Of course, Ryan has denied the charge, saying his players just play rough. Well, Buddy, two can play that game, and I'd be willing to bet Johnson will have something special in store for you the next time these two teams meet. After all, Johnson is no angel. (Remember his days at the University of Miami?) This will be something worth watching. Stay tuned.

On the homefront, another football rivalry may heat up next season. I read in last week's Lake Orion Review (our sister publication here at Sherman Publications) that Lake Orion football players believed the Greater Oakland Activities League didn't offer them enough competition and they wished they could change leagues to the Macomb Athletic or Saginaw Valley.

Well, I don't know where these guys were when Lake Orion played at Clarkston this fall. Sure, the Wolves lost 14-10, but they played one heck of a ball game. The game wasn't decided until the final seconds. Our defense stopped the vaunted Lake Orion offense on four plays inside the two-yard line in the first half.

If anybody can do better than that, they should be playing the National Football League.

Had Clarkston pulled out that game in the end, the Wolves would have been GOAL champs. How easy can it be when you are that close to finishing second?

Yes, I'm looking forward to that game next fall already. Nothing beats a good football rivalry.

Soccer award winners

Award winners for the Clarkston High School varsity and junior varsity soccer teams were recently announced. A listing of winners follows:

Most Valuable Player — Dennis Miller; Most Improved Player — Matt Warren; Coaches Award — Chris Graves; Spirit Award — Dave Patterson; Junior Varsity MVP — Scott Rooney; Junior Varsity MIP — Chuck Jenks.

Season statistics

Dan Tassen was the leading goal scorer with 12. Kris Wickle had seven, plus four assists. Ryan Forbes, Devin DuPree and Jeremy Deloney all scored four apiece.

Rooney paced the JV squad with 15 goals, two assists.

Parental consent law is useless

Ninety-two percent (92%) of pregnancies among unmarried teens are unintended. $15 billion on A.F.D.C. assistance goes to families that begin by teenage birth. One million teenagers become pregnant each year.

Teenage abortions account for more than one-half of all abortions performed in this country. Sixty-seven percent (67%) of families headed by teenage mothers live below the poverty level. Their children will be the uneducated poor of the next generation.

Studies in Minnesota and Massachusetts show that 65% of the teens do tell a parent. Those who do not, give these reasons: (1) Incest; (2) Parent violence or abuse due to drugs, alcohol, and emotional instability; (3) Fear of being thrown out of the house. The laws in these states have not reduced teen pregnancy!

Rather than wasting valuable time and money on "parental consent," shouldn't we get to the root of this problem and provide all teens accurate information about contraception and sex education? AIDS babies are going to increase in tremendous numbers in the 90's; couldn't time and money be used more wisely to reduce this disaster?

Our State Representative (61st District) Mat Dunaskiss is on the Public Health Committee which is discussing this proposed law. He and our State Senators, Rudy Nichols (8) and Richard Fessler (17) believe the Parental Consent Bill HB5103 is going to help the people of their districts.

If you do not believe in this proposed law, call your State Legislators, House and Senate, and let them know.

Consumers can control costs

Consumers can make choices that will help control what they pay for automobile insurance.

Last year, auto insurance rates paid by Michigan motorists increased an average of 1.7 percent, compared to more than eight percent nationally.

Terry Buckles, president of Michigan Association of Insurance Companies, offers these tips to consumers:

- Select your car carefully — rates are based on factors including: cost, repairability, performance characteristics, and likelihood of being stolen.

- Coordinate personal injury protection coverage if you have other accident and health insurance.

- Choose higher deductibles on collision and comprehensive coverage.

- Choose a different type of collision insurance — but make sure you understand when you're covered and when you're not.

- If you have an older car, consider dropping both collision and comprehensive coverage. Policies generally cover no more than the actual cash value of the vehicle (depreciated value.)

- Drive carefully. Most traffic tickets and at-fault accidents will automatically increase your rates.

- Ask about special discounts. Most companies offer rate discounts for safety belt usage, anti-theft devices and insuring two or more vehicles under the same policy.

- Shop around. Look for the best combination of coverage, price and service. If you need background information about a particular company(s), call the insurance information hotline at 1-800-292-0712. Consultants will give you the firm's financial rating that has been assigned by an independent statistical organization, plus information about its size, number of years in business, etc.

MAIC is a non-profit, public affairs organization representing 48 property/casualty insurance companies in Michigan. The Association sponsors a number of consumer education and information programs.

It's flu season

It's that time again — warm apple cider by the fire and, unfortunately, the return of cold and flu season.

According to officials at the Rochester Hills MercyCare Family Medical Center, there are many reasons we become more susceptible to cold and flu "bugs" this season.

"About 60 or 70 percent of our patients at MercyCare have upper respiratory problems — colds or flu," said physician Richard Soskowski.

"We always expect an increase in these cases in the fall and winter months. The extremes in temperature often cause people to be more susceptible to these common health problems," he said.

"It may be 45 degrees one day, then 70 the next, and our systems may not be prepared for the sudden change."

Dr. Soskowski suggested these health tips for beating colds and flu this season:

- * Avoid close contact with friends or relatives who have contracted colds or the flu. Droplets from coughing and sneezing are major factors in spreading illnesses.

- * Get enough rest.

- * Eat regular, well-balanced meals.

- * Dress properly during the cold, wet days of fall.

Despite these precautions, you still may contract a cold or the flu. At the first signs of illness, such as sinus congestion, aches and pains, fever, dizziness or nausea, follow these tips:

- * Drink plenty of fluids

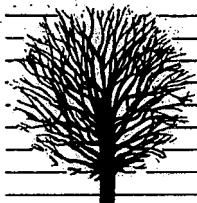

- * Take aspirin or a non-aspirin equivalent as directed. Use an equivalent such as Tylenol for children and adolescents because some studies have suggested a link between aspirin and Reyes Syndrome.

- * Use over-the-counter remedies as directed.

If your symptoms last more than four or five days, or if you have a fever persistently above 101 degrees, contract your physician.

Soskowski noted that people aged 65 or older, or chronically ill patients, should receive yearly flu vaccine shots in the fall. The flu strikes seniors particularly hard, and existing illnesses can hinder recovery from the flu.

Citizens for Orderly Growth

1990 goals
on the agenda

Doug
Carlson

Thursday night, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m., COG will be meeting in the Village Hall Annex, 375 Depot Road.

The primary reason for the meeting will be to plan our goals and objectives for 1990. As an example, we see our mission as evaluating the cost impacts of development, preserving the present openness and rural environment and providing leadership in preserving the integrity and character of Independence Township.

As we see it, our major areas of effort should be as follows:

1. The cost of growth — do a tax impact study to compare relative tax changes over several years for North Oakland County townships that have seen different rates and types of growth.

2. Planning — to review the township land use plan for the purpose of suggesting changes that would limit density and increase open space, and to encourage compatibility between existing and proposed land uses.

3. Education — how to educate people on the functions of local government as they affect land use and development. Examples include PUDs and zoning codes. In addition, how can COG serve as a conduit or liaison between citizens and local government. And, finally, how can we establish contact with local businesses, clubs and organizations to promote understanding of what we're trying to accomplish?

4. Partnerships — are there other organizations out there with similar interests with whom we might want to establish contact?

Other items on the agenda for the meeting include proposals on how we can provide recognition for COG within the community. And, finally, we will talk about the Auburn Mills Mall at I-75 and Baldwin Road, and the proposed development on the 140-acre parcel at the corner of Dixie Highway and White Lake Road.

As always, we will address issues of concern as brought forward by those in attendance.

COG is your group, and it can be effective and grow only with your active involvement and participation. Why not make an effort to join us and see for yourself what we're all about? The meeting will last no longer than 9 p.m.

Doug Carlson is the chairman for Citizens for Orderly Growth.

Opinion of Bill Myers

Does anyone here speak English?

William A. Myers is a retired Lapeer County editor and investments manager from Boca Raton, Fla.

Department of Language: Michigan prisons will have a system to punish unruly inmates. They will take away perks from those who are naughty. Senator Welborn of Kalamazoo explains, "It's going to provide a disincentive to prisoners from engaging in misconduct." In other words, we are going to disincentivize the prisoners to impact their behaviorizing misconductly.

A public official quoted in the County Press of Lapeer, Mich.: "I hope and pray we all come out of this with our reputations highly intact."

From another official, same paper: "The general consensus is . . ."

The paper's publisher, Bob Myers, who frequently rails against language abuse, was quoted in a story about a couple of reporters being added to the staff: "These hires will help us keep going in that direction."

A Ralph Nader associate explaining Nader's prediction of soaring gasoline prices and long lines at gas stations last summer: "We totally underestimated."

From the Traverse City (Mich.) Record-Eagle: "... nearly imminent." Jennifer Birdsong quips, "That's like calling a prospective mother in her seventh month 'very pregnant.'"

The president of the Institute for Liberty and Democracy, in a letter to the Wall Street Journal: "The point of my article . . . was to propose that unless certain reforms to promote public participation and government accountability are introduced as an integral part of structural adjustment plans, all actors playing in a mercantilistic society will adapt to its practices and impede transition to a competitive economy."

Head on a story in the Journal:

Teens in Business Discover Credibility Is Hard to Learn

The first eight paragraphs of the story concerned a 22-year-old man.

From the Manhasset (Long Island) Press: "The L.J. Hooker development team (came) to the village hall for the special scoping session Thursday . . . The purpose . . . was to establish starting point for developing a detailed scope for a project-specific Draft Environmental Impact Statement."

Allowing a year to figure out what they're talking about and to understand this new word, "scoping," do you think a spadeful of dirt will be turned in this century?

Some citizens were concerned with the extra traffic that would result, but they were assured that traffic engineers had come up with measures that would ameliorate the problem. A local hardhead, Pete Putre, asked how bringing more cars into the area could ever result in less traffic. The answer was that the engineers would design a "traffic flow."

Well, most traffic does flow. If it doesn't, it's known as a parking lot.

Sam Donaldson hassled Malcolm Forbes for spending so much money on his birthday party overseas. Sam bemoaned the $2 million spent on such a frivolous bash. Well, that's about the same amount ABC pays Sam each year, which produces considerably less enjoyment than a birthday party.

Gov. Dukakis's universal health insurance in Massachusetts is already in trouble, which is scarcely news. The socialists are phasing in a law that employers of more than five persons, who don't provide health insurance, must pay up to $1,680 a year per employee for the plan.

I think of all the mom-and-pop stores, all the little plants and one-horse businesses that $1,680 a year per worker could bankrupt. That's a raise of 84 cents an hour, or about 20 cents more for the run-of-the-mill worker in these small enterprises.

Ol' Doc Ruhmann, once my boss at First National in Lapeer, calls to chide me on arithmetic in a column about zero coupon bonds. He said imputed interest on a bond priced at 22 for two years at 7 percent would be $3.19. The column had it at $3.30.

Actually, two years compounded each six months would be $3.25.

Don't you have something better to do than read this?

My pretty niece, Meredith, who works with the Aid to Dependent Children bureau in northern California, sends me a few excerpts from letters the Welfare Department has gotten:

"Mrs. Jones has not had any new clothes for a year and has been visited by the clergy regularly."

"I am glad to report that my husband who is missing is dead."

"In accordance with your instructions, I have given birth to twins in the enclosed envelope."

You are cordially invited to a special seminar on PEARLS to be held in the LAPEER STORE at 7:00 P.M. on Monday, December 4th, and in the OXFORD STORE at 7:00 P.M. on Tuesday, December 5th.

Learn the difference between Natural Pearls, Cultured Pearls, and man made simulants. We'll show you how to distinguish. Learn how to care for and enhance pearls you already own. Find out how pearls are graded, what the various grading terms mean, and how to judge for yourself. Learn what a Keshi, Mabe, Biwa, and South Sea Pearl is. Understand the terms: orient, body color, overtones, luster, and texture. Learn what effect symmetry and size have on suitability and desirability of a pearl necklace.

We will serve (non alcoholic) 'Champagne Punch' and cookies, and help take the mystery out of Pearls for you. We hope you will join us and enjoy your participation. A question and answer period will be included.

VINCENT HERR sings before his Thanksgiving Feast at Discovery School on Nov. 21. (Photos by Sandra G. Conlen)

THANKSGIVING is celebrated by youngsters all over America, but on Nov. 21 these two pre-schoolers got an early start on their Thanksgiving feast. After the children performed, the feast was ready to eat.

AN INDIAN maiden, Carlie Trapp of Farm Road, Waterford Township, sings her praise of Thanksgiving along with her classmates at pre-school.

"I LOVE YOU" is the song that Jason Zuker sings to his mother, Colleen Zuker of Clinton, Independence Township. Jason and his preschool classmates performed Nov. 21 at Discovery School in Independence Township before sharing a Thanksgiving feast with family members.

Bureau warns: watch out for false credit

The Better Business Bureau of Detroit and Eastern Michigan continues to receive numerous inquiries from area consumers who have received promotional materials from several out of state companies offering credit cards.

These materials indicate that consumers have been "pre-approved" for a credit limit of as much as $5,000.

A review of the solicitation materials by the bureau shows that in order for consumers to receive the card, an application/processing fee ranging from $30 to $80 is required. The companies are offering their personal credit card.

Further, the credit card can only be used to purchase merchandise from the company's catalog. Most importantly, these materials are not a pre-approval for a major third-party credit card, i.e. Visa and/or Mastercard, as many consumers have reported.

The BBB suggests that consumers:

- * Read and clearly understand all information contained in the materials. In many of the reviewed solicitations, it states exactly what will be provided for the application/processing fee.

- * Contact the company if you have any questions concerning the promotional materials. If the company makes any oral promises, request that the information be placed in writing.

- * Exercise caution when providing personal information (financial institution, account numbers, social security number) to an unfamiliar company.

- * For those consumers who are interested in establishing credit, keep in mind that there are many local

In service

Navy Seaman Apprentice Jason M. Webster, son of Deby G. Epling of Lakewood, Independence Township, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command in Orlando, Fla.

A 1984 graduate of Waterford Mott High School, Pontiac, he joined the Navy in June 1989.

Navy Seaman Recruit Edward C. White, son of William L. and Georgeann F. White of Oak Hill Road, Springfield Township, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, San Diego, Calif.

A 1989 graduate of Clarkston High School, he joined the Navy Reserves in August 1989.

Senior Airman Lisa C. Street recently was graduated from the Noncommissioned Officer Preparatory Course at Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla.

Street, communications security accountant with the 2021st Communications Squadron, is the daughter of Beverly J. Street of Goodrich and James B. Street of Clarkston.

A 1985 graduate of Holly High School, she has been in the Air Force for almost three years.

Engagement

Samuel and Marilyn Arrington of Metamora announce the engagement of their daughter, Beth, to David Lohmeyer, son of John and Wanda Lohmeyer of Holly. Beth will graduate in May from Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, with a degree in secondary education. David, a 1988 graduate of Oakland University, Rochester, is currently living in Clarkston and is working for General Motors Corp. Truck as the service bulletin manager. An Aug. 4 wedding is planned.

Irwin and Burkett exchange vows

Jodi Lynn Irwin and Peter George Burkett exchanged marriage vows in a double-ring ceremony before 225 guests performed by the Rev. Douglas Trebilcock at the Clarkston United Methodist Church on July 15, 1989.

The bride wore a white satin gown and train decorated with pearls and lace and carried a bouquet of white and red roses, lilies of the valley and ivy.

Both bride and groom were escorted down the aisle by their parents, Cliff and Linda Irwin of Clarkston and Jerome and Gertrude Burkett of West Branch.

The maids of honor, twin sisters Lisa and Lori Irwin, were dressed in gowns of red satin and carried white roses. Honor attendants were Janeane Buckborough and Susan Colwell.

Attendant Sonja Ritter also sang several selections with Doug Doty providing the organ music and accompaniment.

Flower girl Kathleen Wright, 6, traveled to the wedding from Negaunee.

Best men Steve Deming and Shawn Tenant wore black tuxedos with white tucked shirts, red bow ties and red cummerbunds.

Groomsmen were John Vredenberg, Tom Watson and Jerry Burkett II. Carl Keith and Michael Duggan performed the ushering duties. Jerry Burkett III acted as ring bearer.

A dinner and reception were held at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

The bride is a graduate of Grand Valley State University, Allendale, and is presently teaching in the special education program at Davisburg Elementary School.

The groom, a criminal justice major and graduate of Grand Valley State University, is an officer for Oakland County Public Safety.

The newlyweds reside in Clarkston.

NEWLYWEDS: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Burkett.

Microwave Plus

Holiday treats

Betty Wagner

Is it true that the 80 percent of households that have microwaves have people living there who are proficient in microwave oven cooking? Or are people content to reheat, defrost, melt butter and cook an occasional vegetable and frozen, prepared entree in their full-size, full-featured microwave oven.

For the first time in eight years I will not be teaching a holiday microwave class. In fact, none of the classes that I had planned to teach for fall happened because of insufficient enrollment. So I can only assume that most people are satisfied with the microwave cooking knowledge they have.

But for those who wish to expand their microwave cooking know how, The Microwave Times offers a newsletter six times a year. The publication features seasonal recipes, micro quick and micro adapting sections, questions and answers and light microwave cooking.

Call toll free at 1-800-328-2846, or send $9.95 to The Microwave Times, Box 1271, Burnsville, MN 55337. As an added bonus for holiday hostess gifts or stocking stuffers, The Microwave Times has a supply of past Holiday issues — $1.50/issue of $5 for a set of four. Send check or money order to: Holiday Issues, Recipes Unlimited, Inc., Box 1271, Burnsville, MN 55337.

Here are a few holiday recipes from The Microwave Times:

MICROWAVE CARAMELS

- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 cups light corn syrup
- 2 cups (1 pint) whipping cream
- 1 tablespoon vanilla

1. Butter 13x9-inch pan; set aside. Place 1 cup butter in four-quart glass bowl.

2. Microwave (high), uncovered, 1 to 1 1/2 minutes or until melted. Stir in sugar, corn syrup and 1 cup cream.

3. Microwave (high), uncovered, 24 minutes. Add remaining cream; stir. Insert microwave candy thermometer.

4. Microwave (high), uncovered, 12 to 14 minutes or until mixture reaches 245 degrees (firm ball stage.) Stir in vanilla. Pour into pan. Cool completely, about six hours. Cut into squares and wrap individually in waxed paper. Sixty calories each. (Makes about 96 candies)

CHERRY ALMOND WHITE FUDGE

- 2 1/2 cups sugar
- 3/4 cup sour cream
- 2 tablespoons half & half
- 2 tablespoons light corn syrup
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 1/2 cup chopped almonds
- 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries, well drained

1. Combine sugar, sour cream, half & half, corn syrup and butter in two-quart glass mix 'n pour bowl. Mix well.

2. Microwave (high), uncovered, five to six minutes or until mixture boils, stirring once. Stir well and insert microwave candy thermometer.

3. Microwave (high), uncovered, five to six minutes or until thermometer registers 240 degrees. Remove from oven and let stand without stirring until 110 degrees, about two hours. Add vanilla and almond extract; beat until mixture begins to lose its gloss. Quickly stir in almonds and cherries. Pour into buttered eight-inch square baking pan. Let stand until firm, about one hour. Cut into squares. Fifty calories each. (Makes about 64 one-inch pieces)

TURKEY

And yes, you can take advantage of seasonally low turkey prices and successfully cook the low-fat meat in the microwave oven. For moist, flavorful meat with a brown, crisp skin, The Microwave Times recommends starting the turkey in the microwave, then completing the cooking in the conventional oven or on the grill.

1. Select a turkey under 15 pounds or whatever size fits in your microwave oven. Remove giblets and neck from turkey. Wash turkey and pat dry. Sprinkle cavity with salt. Stuff turkey with desired stuffing or leave unstuffed.

2. Place turkey breast-side-down in large glass baking dish. Cover loosely with wax paper.

3. Microwave (high) 20 to 30 minutes (2 1/2 minutes per pound.) Turn turkey breast-side-up. Cover with wax paper.

4. Microwave (high) 20 to 30 minutes (2 1/2 minutes per pound) or until turkey is just about done. Meanwhile, preheat conventional oven to 350 degrees. Remove wax paper and transfer turkey to clean baking pan or drain drippings from pan. Place in oven.

5. Bake 30 to 60 minutes or until golden brown and inner thigh area is done (thermometer registers 165 degrees.) Remove from oven; cover with foil. Let stand about 15 minutes before carving.

TIP: Turkey can be transferred to a covered grill for the baking in step five. Drippings from conventional oven-cooked turkey can be used for gravy. If necessary, add a little water to pan and microwave one to two minutes to help loosen any cooked-on drippings.

Recipes tested by Betty Wagner in a 650-watt microwave oven.

Parenting advice to help avoid childhood danger

Parents are often frightened of the possibility of their child being abducted. Your children, however, don't need to be scared — they must be informed of the potential dangers they may face. Begin talking with your children today.

Here's a way to start:

A stranger is anyone that both you and your child do not know very well. That does not mean that you have never seen that person before. Stress to your children that most strangers are good people, but you can't tell just by looking if a stranger is good or not.

Teach your children:

- Who a stranger is and to avoid all strangers.
- That delivery people are strangers.
- To never go into anyone's home without your permission each and every time.
- To let you know where they will be and to phone if they will be late.
- To go places with a friend.
- To use a codeword known only to both of you to be used in the event that plans change, and somebody else will be picking them up.
- To stay out of parking lots and not to take "short-cuts."
- Their full name, address (including city and state) and phone number (including area code.)
- How to make a long distance phone call, operator-assisted call and 911.

■ How to reach you at your place of employment. Parents are advised to:

- Encourage child/parent communication. Become your child's best friend.
- Know your children's friends.
- Listen carefully to your child's likes and dislikes of people.

■ Make it clear which homes children may visit and play.

- Become involved in your children's activities.
- Know where your children are at all times.
- Tell your children that if anything should ever happen, you will look for them, no matter how long it takes to find them.

■ Be consistent with house rules.

■ Make sure your school call you if your child is absent.

■ To stay close to you while shopping.

■ To go to the checkout counter for assistance if you become separated.

■ That adults should not ask children for directions or for assistance.

■ To never go near a car.

■ To run in the opposite direction of a stranger who approaches them on the street or in a car.

■ That if they are followed, they should run to people and in a lighted area. They should never try to hide.

■ Not to accept any gifts from strangers.

■ That if they are grabbed by anyone, to kick, bite, fight back and to yell, "This is not my mom!" or "This is not my dad!"

■ That no one has a right to touch any part of their body and that they should tell if anyone does.

■ To tell if another adult asks them to keep a secret.

■ That they can say "NO" to any adult in an uncomfortable situation.

■ That they should never acknowledge being home alone. They should respond "My mom or dad cannot come to the phone or door now. Please call (or come back) later."

How to sell wallpaper

Suzanne Baumann

A bed. Wooden headboard, lacy pillows. Tucked under the ruffled sheet is a brass hand mirror ... and a roll of wallpaper.

Flip.

Bathroom counter. A towel curls around multi-colored spheres of soap. Sand and assorted seashells are scattered casually about. Peeking out from their marble sink nest are ... three rolls of wallpaper.

No, this is not my house. Yours? Most likely not. Whose then? I don't rightly know. These are scenes from a wallpaper book: you remember, those books that look like over-fed three-ring binders with carrying straps on the spine — the ones filled with swatches of wallpaper and "do not cut" threats. They're not exactly quality reading material, but they do add some fun to remodeling.

I'm not about to belittle the wallpaper industry, but there seem to be certain elements that every company appears to follow. Through my observations, I have decided to share these basic rules with any reader who has ever considered a career in wallcovering swatchbook design and/or compilation.

The first thing a beginning compiler must do is decide upon a theme for his book. For instance, there's the "men's" theme. These books are usually filled with plaid, plaid and occasionally we'll see some plaid. These could be matched with optional borders in such manly patterns as mallard ducks, fox hunters and ships. A good men's wallpaper designer names these patterns after villages in Scotland.

Other books specialize in Oriental-style wallcoverings. These books must contain at least one of the following words — East, Orient or Asia — in the title. The books are supplied with page upon page of tightly-woven straw matting that, to the novice wallpaper buyer, all looks exactly the same. These are given authentic-sounding names; either Chinese (anything rhyming with any tense of the word "sing") or Japanese (the kind of phrases that come out when phrases such as "gee, wow, neat-o" or "sock it to me" are said too quickly.) Many of these names are just nonsense words left to the wallpaper namer to create.

Children's wallpaper has always been a good business. What new parent isn't dying to hang prints of pandas driving fire trucks or bunnies playing "ring around the rosie" in their child's room?

They have to come up before baby even gets home from the hospital. They need to get every penny's worth out of it before the baby grows up to hate it. Styles are usually names after some of the intelligent lyrics from children's songs, "hi ho the derry-o," for example.

Then, of course, there's the textured wallpaper, which people use to scratch their back with after they step out of the shower. These have names such as QX-73500LZ (textured papers are not to be confused with satin wallcoverings, which are named with adjectives such as "lovely," "nice," or "shiny.")

For the kitchen, there is American Country, loaded with block prints with descriptive, alliterative names like "Apples n' Alphabet" or "Hearts n' Heifers."

Or there's the French Provincial theme, where the designer puts a bunch of big gaudy flowers in the most horrid colors ever seen by the human eye, and calls it "Suzanne."

Let's not forget the "contemporary" books that are stuffed with patterns of little squares, ironically enough named "little squares."

If none of the standard methods seem to suit a wallpaper designer, her or she will usually develop a book of their own style and name their book after themselves.

That way, they can have their photograph on the inside cover with the small column describing themselves as a "world famous wallpaper artist." Even if they are not world famous, how many people follow wallpaper closely enough to know for sure?

So here's enough to hopefully get you started down the path to a new career in wallpaper design. I wish you all the best.

Outdoor fun available

Outdoor enthusiasts can get their fill of winter fun at Indian Springs Metro Park in White Lake and Springfield townships.

Sledding is available on moderate slopes, but no tobogganing isn't. There are groomed cross-country ski trails, covering more than 12 miles in a beautiful park setting. The Activity and Golf Center Building offers cross-country ski rental and has a heated lounge, restrooms and food service (weather permitting.)

The park also has a Nature Center, with seasonal exhibits and park naturalists on duty, and nature trails are available for self-guided hikes.

Park hours are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. For more information contact the Metro Park at 1-800-24-PARKS (toll-free) or 625-7870 (ski touring center).

A vehicle entry permit ($2 daily, $10 annual, $5 senior citizen) is required.

How to save money when buying a car

If you're one of the 35-45 million people who will buy a new or used vehicle this year, you will probably pay $500 to $5,000 more than you should.

"If you take the time to do your homework, understand the dealer's eight areas of profit, and learn the art of negotiating with a salesperson, you should be able to buy a vehicle for just $200 over the dealer's cost," says Sheldon Joppru, a former car dealer and the producer of "How to Buy a Vehicle Without Being Taken for a Ridel," a just-released videotape on how to save hundreds or even thousands when buying a new or used vehicle.

Here are a few tips from the one-hour video:

Do — determine the dealer's actual vehicle cost before negotiating your deal.

Don't — buy on impulse or show the salesperson your emotions.

Do — compare the dealer's finance rate to those of credit unions, banks and insurance companies.

Don't — buy unnecessary add-ons. Credit life, accident and health insurance, rustproofing and extended warranties are seldom worth the cost.

Pacia is well known in the Davisburg area because she ran the Davisburg Candle Factory for about 25 years. About 135 attended the party. Pacia's advice for a long healthy life is: "Don't be too quick to criticize, and just love and enjoy." (Photo by Sandra G. Conlen)

Business Brief

William K. Whitley

William K. Whitley, a Clarkston area resident, was appointed director of future transmission product assurance for Hydramatic Division, effective Oct. 1.

Whitley began his career with General Motors Corp. in 1968 as a summer student at Pontiac Motor Division in Pontiac. In 1973 he was promoted to detail engineer-project design; project engineer in 1974; senior project engineer in 1976 and supervisor, product engineering in 1980.

He was transferred to the Chevrolet-Pontiac-GM of Canada Group in Warren in 1985 as assistant staff engineer. In 1987, he was transferred to the Hydramatic Division in Ypsilanti and promoted to director, product assurance, the position held prior to his new assignment.

How to survive a storm in your car

The more you know about and prepare for winter storms, the better your chances are for survival in emergency situations.

This is especially true for those who must travel by car during an ice or snow storm.

Oakland County EMS/Emergency Management provides suggestions to help travelers avoid falling victim to ice storm ignorance.

Cars should be equipped with:

- * A container of sand
- * A shovel
- * A windshield scraper
- * Flares
- * Booster cables
- * Tow line or rope
- * A flashlight
- * A warm blanket
- * Heavy gloves, mittens
- * Overshoes
- * Extra woolen socks and a wool hat

Stranded drivers should remain calm and rationally plan their course of action, said Gail Novak, manager of the Oakland County EMS/Emergency Management. Once everyone is settled in the car, Novak offers these tips:

* Keep a portable radio handy for weather information and other emergency advice.

* Stay in vehicle where rescuers will find you.

* Put on flashers, raise hood of your car or hang a cloth off the aerial or out of the car window.

* Do not waste gas by running your heat. Exercise to maintain body heat by clapping your hands together and lifting your legs up and down. But do not overdo it. Exercise warms you, but it can also cause body heat loss.

* At night, turn the dome light on so work crews may spot you.

Training for volunteer special olympic coaches

Michigan Special Olympics, a sports program for the mentally impaired, will conduct a training school for volunteer alpine skiing coaches Saturday, Dec. 9, at Mt. Holly Ski Resort in Holly.

The training school is open to anyone interested in coaching special olympians in alpine (downhill) skiing. The session will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For registration information, contact Peggy Fogel-songer at (313) 232-1188 or contact the Michigan Special Olympics state office at Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, Michigan 48859, phone (517) 774-3911.

OFFICIAL NOTICE ORDINANCE NO. 101 (Amended 11/13/89) CLARKSTON HISTORIC DISTRICT ORDINANCE PREAMBLE

Pursuant to the Authority conferred by 1970 PA 169, providing for the establishment of historic districts; the acquisition of land and structures for historic purposes; the preservation of historic sites and structures; the maintenance of publicly owned historic sites and structures by local units and the creation of historic commissions;

The Village of Clarkston Ordains:

Section 1 - Short Title

This ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the Village of Clarkston Historic District Ordinance.

Section 2 - Purpose

The purpose of this ordinance is to (1) safeguard the heritage of the Village of Clarkston by preserving a district in the Village which reflects elements of its cultural, social, economic, political and architectural history; (2) stabilize and improve property values in such district; (3) foster civic beauty; (4) strengthen the local economy; (5) promote the use of the historic district for the education, pleasure and welfare of the citizens of the Village.

Section 3 - Definitions

A. "Certificates of Approval" shall mean the written approval by the Historic District Commission of plans for the new construction, substantial alteration, moving or demolition of a structure within an Historic District.

B. "Construction" shall mean the assemblage of materials in any definite pattern for the purpose of erecting or modifying a structure and/or any significant alteration of the existing ground level.

C. "Demolition" shall mean the destruction, all or in part, of a structure.

D. "Elevation" shall mean a scale drawing of all exterior sides of a structure which is to be constructed, altered or repaired.

E. "Exterior Surface Area of Any Wall" shall mean the plane described by that portion of any exterior elevation of a building extending from grade to the top of its cornice, parapet wall or eaves, and the entire width of the building elevation, excluding mansard roofs or awnings, measured in square feet.

F. "Exterior Surface Area of Any Roof" shall mean the plane described by that portion of any exterior elevation of a building extending from the top of a wall to the top of the roof, measured in square feet, excluding towers, roof signs, and similar projections. The exterior surface area of a flat roof shall mean the plane enclosed by the edge of the supporting walls, measured in square feet.

G. "Historic" shall mean over 50 years old or something so designated by the Historic District Commission.

H. "Historic District" shall mean a geographically defined area created by the Village of Clarkston for the purposes of preservation. The Village of Clarkston may establish more than one such Historic District. Historic structures within the District are related by historical, architectural or archaeological significance. For the purposes of clarification, a Historic District may also consist of a single structure unrelated to its surrounding in historical, architectural or archaeological significance.

I. "New Construction" shall mean any construction which:

1. In single family or multiple family residential zoning districts results in a new freestanding structure containing more than 1 story or more than 500 square feet in floor area; or
2. In all other zoning districts construction for which a building permit is required and which results in a new freestanding structure or the addition of a new structure to an existing structure other than to the rear wall as a rear wall is defined in the zoning ordinance.

J. "Ordinary Maintenance and Repair" shall mean the mending or restoration of any exterior siding or surface of an existing structure to a good or sound condition after weathering, deterioration, decay or damage, by the use of materials of the same general dimensions as the part or surface being restored. Examples include painting, weather-stripping, replacing gutters, replacing siding, etc.

K. "Structure" shall mean anything constructed or erected which requires permanent location on the ground or attachment to something having such location, including but not limited to, buildings, towers, statues, walls, markers and hitching posts.

L. "Substantial Alteration" means any construction, repair, remodeling or demolition affecting a structure which would result in:

1. The removal or reconstruction of at least 30% of the exterior surface area of any wall or supporting structure thereof, except on a rear wall as a rear wall would be determined under the zoning ordinance; or
2. The removal or reconstruction of at least 30% of the exterior surface area of any roof, or supporting structure thereof; or
3. Any combination of sub-paragraphs 1 or 2 above resulting in the removal or reconstruction of 15% of the total exterior surface area of the building or supporting structure thereof; or
4. The removal or relocation of any doors or windows, except those on a rear wall, as a rear wall would be determined under the zoning ordinance; or
5. The addition of a story to the structure; or
6. In areas zoned single family or multiple family residential any increase in the structure's floor area of 25% or more which affects the structure's exterior appearance; or
7. In areas zoned other than single family or multiple family residential, any increase in the structure's floor area which affects the structure's exterior appearance.

Section 4 - Historic District Boundaries

The Historic District or Districts shall be those areas shown and designated as such on the Village zoning map.

Section 5 - Regulation of Structures

No structures shall be constructed, substantially altered, moved, or demolished in an Historic District unless the requirements of this ordinance have been complied with.

Section 6 - Historic District Commission

A. In order to execute the purposes declared in this ordinance there is hereby created a commission to be called the Historic District Commission.

B. The Historic District Commission shall consist of five members whose residence is located in the Village of Clarkston. They shall be appointed by the Village Council for terms of office of three (3) years; provided that one (1) of the initial members shall be appointed for one year, two (2) for two (2) years, and two (2) for three (3) years. Subsequent members shall be appointed for terms of three (3) years as initial terms expire. The initial appointments shall begin as of the date of the passage of this ordinance. A shall begin as of the date of the passage of the Commission for any vacancy occurring in the membership of the Commission by the Village Council reason shall be filled by a person appointed by the Village Council for the remainder of the unexpired term.

At least two (2) members of the Commission shall be appointed from a list of citizens submitted by a duly organized and existing preservation society or societies, and one architect duly registered in the State, if the person resides in the Village of Clarkston and is available for appointment.

C. Duties and Powers of the Historic District Commission:

1. It shall be the duty of the Commission to provide a form to the applicant for the purpose of obtaining any necessary information about any proposed new construction, substantial alteration, demolition or moving of any structure within an Historic District. It shall have the power to pass upon such plans before such new construction, substantial alteration, demolition or moving is commenced and before a building permit, if required, is issued. In reviewing an application and plans to determine whether the same shall be approved by the Commission, the following criteria shall be applied:

(a) Proposed substantial alteration, demolition or moving involving an historic structure:

(1) Whether the applicant has made every reasonable effort to use the affected structure for its original intended purpose and, if so, has chosen a compatible use which requires minimal alteration of the structure.

(2) Whether the applicant has avoided, where possible, the removal or alteration of any historic building materials or distinctive architectural features or any other changes which would destroy the original character of the affected structures. To prevent the irreversible alteration of historic building materials, the sandblasting of wood siding and the painting of unpainted masonry, stonework and brick are prohibited without specific approval therefor by the Commission.

(3) Where the proposed alteration would create an earlier appearance which has no historical basis in an Historic District, such construction, alteration or repair shall be discouraged, but such basis alone shall not be grounds for denial of a certificate of approval.

(4) Changes which have taken place over the course of time in the development of a structure's present appearance which have thereby acquired a significance in their own right shall be recognized and respected.

(5) Whether the applicant, where reasonably possible, will repair rather than replace deteriorated architectural features and where replacement is necessary, whether such replacement is as similar in composition and texture as is possible and is based on a reasonably accurate duplication of the architectural feature.

(6) Whether every reasonable effort has been made to protect and preserve any archaeological resources which may be affected by the alteration, moving or demolition.

(7) Whether, where reasonably possible, the proposed alteration will be done in such a manner as to not impair the essential form and integrity of the structure in the event that such alterations are removed in the future.

(8) Where the substantial alteration includes an addition or a new story as defined in Section 3L(5) to (7), the criteria applicable to non-historic structures, set forth below in Section 6C1(b), shall also be applied to the proposed addition or new story.

(b) Proposed new construction or substantial alteration of non-historic structures:

(1) The construction shall be compatible with surrounding historic structures.

(2) The construction shall not intrude on the overall historic character of the streetscape or the historic district.

(3) Contemporary architectural styles, materials and methods of construction may be introduced into the district through new structures when they serve to develop the district as a vital, attractive neighborhood and are sensitive to the historic context.

(4) The Historic District Commission's review of new construction shall evaluate the compatibility of the proposal in the areas of height, scale, overall size, symmetry, setback, platforms (including, but not limited to porches, decks, balconies, etc.), sense of entry, shapes, historic limitations and size, placement and number of openings.

2. The Commission shall not pass on any changes to interior arrangements of structures nor shall it disapprove applications for certificates except pursuant to the standards set forth in this Section.

3. In case of an application for the substantial alteration, moving or demolition of a structure which the Commission deems so valuable that the loss thereof will adversely affect the public purpose of the Village, State or Nation, the Commission shall endeavor to work out with the owner an economically feasible plan for the preservation of the structure.

4. The provisions of Paragraph 6C1(a) of this section notwithstanding, an application for the substantial alteration, moving or demolition of a structure shall be approved by the Commission if it determines that any of the following conditions prevail and also determines that the proposed changes will materially improve such condition or conditions:

- (a) The structure constitutes a hazard to the safety of the public or its occupants;
- (b) The structure is a deterrent to a major improvement program which will be of substantial benefit to the Village;
- (c) Retention of the structure would cause undue financial hardship to the owner; or
- (d) Retention of the structure would not be in the interest of the citizens of the Village.

5. The Commission shall have the power to call in experts to aid in its deliberations within the limits of its budget.

6. The Commission shall have the power to issue a certificate of approval if it approves of the plans submitted to it for its review. The designated building inspector shall not issue a building permit, if one is required, unless a certificate of approval has been issued by the Commission.

7. If any approved plans are to be changed after the initiation of the new construction, substantial alteration, moving or demolition, such changes must have the approval of the Commission. The Historic District Commission shall endeavor to meet within ten (10) days of the proposed change in the approved plans. The failure of the Commission to approve or disapprove the change within the ten (10) days after receipt of all documents and plans reasonably necessary to reach a decision shall be deemed to constitute approval.

D. Rules of the Commission:

The Historic District Commission shall elect from its membership a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman whose terms of office shall be fixed by the Commission. The Chairman shall preside over the Commission and shall have the right to vote. The Vice-Chairman shall, in the absence or disability of the Chairman, perform the duties of the Chairman. The Commission shall also select a secretary who need not be a member of the Commission. The secretary shall keep a record of all correspondence, resolutions, proceedings and actions of the Commission and the Commission shall submit copies of its minutes to the Village Council on a quarterly basis.

At least three (3) members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of its business. The Commission shall adopt rules for the transaction of business which shall provide for the time and place of regular Commission meetings, and for special meetings upon request of the Chairman or at least two members of the Commission. All meetings of the Commission shall be open to the public and any person or his duly appointed representative shall be entitled to appear and be heard on any matter before it reaches its decision.

The Commission shall keep a record of its resolution, procedures and actions which shall be open to the public. The passage of any resolution, motion or other action by the Commission shall be by a majority vote.

Section 7 - Procedure for the Review of Plans

A. Applications:

1. New construction within an Historic District or the substantial alteration, moving or demolition of an existing structure, within a Historic District, requires the prior approval of the Historic District Commission. The Commission shall provide a form for such purpose, which form shall be made available at the Clarkston Village Hall and at the office of the designated building inspector.

2. If the proposed new construction, substantial alteration, moving or demolition is such that no building permit is required, the application for Commission approval shall be filed with the Village Clerk for transmission to the Commission.

3. If the proposed new construction, substantial alteration, moving or demolition is such that a building permit is required, upon application for such permit, the office of the designated building inspector shall provide the applicant with the supplemental form which is required to be submitted to the Commission. Upon the filing of such application with the building inspector's office, the building inspector shall immediately transmit the same, together with relevant plans and other information, to the Commission.

B. Procedures for Review and Approval of Plans:

1. The Historic District Commission shall endeavor to meet within ten (10) days after receiving any application, unless otherwise mutually agreed upon by the applicant and the Commission, and shall review the plans in accordance with the standards set forth herein. In reviewing plans which require a building permit, the Commission must confer with the applicant.

2. The Commission shall approve or disapprove such plans and, if approved, shall issue a certificate of approval which is to be signed by the Chairman, and the relevant plans, if any, shall be stamped by the Commission signifying its approval thereof, and such certificate and plans shall be transmitted to the building department if a permit is required. If a building permit is not required, the certificate of approval and approved plans, if any, shall be transmitted to the applicant.

3. If the Commission disapproves the application, it shall state its reasons for doing so and shall transmit a record of such action, and the reasons therefore, in writing to the building department and the applicant within 48 hours of its action. The Commission may advise the applicant in its transmittal of the changes in the proposed plans which are necessary to obtain Commission approval. The applicant may make modifications to any plans disapproval and shall have the right to resubmit his application thereafter for Commission approval.

4. The failure of the Commission to approve or disapprove of such plans within thirty (30) days from the date of application for a certificate of approval, unless otherwise mutually agreed upon by the applicant and the Commission or unless due to the applicant's failure to provide documents or plans reasonably necessary to the rendering of a decision by the Commission, shall be deemed to constitute Commission approval, and, if a building permit is required, the building department shall proceed to process such permit without regard to a certificate of approval.

5. After the certificate of approval has been issued and the building permit, if any, granted to the applicant, the designated building inspector shall from time to time inspect the new construction, alteration, moving or demolition approved by such certificate and shall take such action as is necessary to force compliance with the plans as approved.

Section 8 - Existing Structures

The Historic District Commission shall not have the power to request any changes to existing buildings or structures which do not meet the provisions of this ordinance at the time of its enactment.

Section 9 - Appeals

Any person or persons aggrieved by a decision of the Historic District Commission shall have the same rights of appeal concerning such decision as are granted to an applicant who is aggrieved by a decision of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Section 10 - Yard Variances

Due to peculiar conditions and construction in historic neighborhoods where structures were often built to the lot lines, where the Commission determines that it is in the public interest to allow a variance in order to retain a neighborhood's historic appearance, the Commission may recommend to the Zoning Board of Appeals that such variance to standard yard requirements be granted.

Section 11 - Acceptance of Gift or Grant

The Village of Clarkston may accept public or private gifts or grants for historic restoration or other historic purposes so long as such gifts or grants are not prohibited by law. The Village Council may appoint the Historic District Commission to administer said gifts or grants on behalf of the Village for the aforementioned purposes.

Section 12 - Historic District Commission Funds

The Village Treasurer shall be the custodian of funds of the Historic District Commission, including those administered by the Commission under Section 11, and authorized expenditures shall be certified to the Village Treasurer by the secretary of the Commission or some other designated member of the Commission.

Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed to prevent the ordinary maintenance or repair of any structure within a Historic District or require a certificate of approval therefore, nor shall anything in the ordinance be construed to prevent the construction, alteration, repair, moving or demolition of any structure under a permit issued by the Township Building Department prior to the passage of this ordinance.

Section 14 - Ordinance Violations

If the Historic District Commission has reason to believe that a violation of this ordinance has occurred, it will be the responsibility of the Commission to investigate the matter. If a violation is found to have occurred, the property owner shall be duly notified and be given thirty (30) days to rectify such alleged violation at his or her expense before court action is instituted.

Section 15 - Enforcement

The enforcement of this ordinance shall be the responsibility of the Independence Township Building Department or such other agency as may be designated by the Village Council.

Any person, firm, corporation or other entity violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to a fine of not more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars and imprisonment for up to 90 days in the county jail in the discretion of the court, plus the costs of prosecution.

Section 16 - Severance Clause

Provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed to be severable and should any section, paragraph, provision or part thereof contained in this ordinance be declared by the courts to be unconstitutional or otherwise invalid, such holding shall not affect the validity of this ordinance as a whole or any part hereof other than the part declared unconstitutional or invalid.

Section 17 - Effective Date

This ordinance shall take effect twenty (20) days after passage.

Made and passed this 13th day of November, 1989, by the Village Council of the Village of Clarkston.

Pet of the Week

Miniature Molly

Molly, a 4-year-old tan miniature poodle, weighs about eight pounds. She's just the right size for holding and cuddling.

Since she doesn't particularly like children or other animals, the shelter worker said Molly would be ideal in a home with older people.

Molly, who is not housebroken, may be adopted for $35. She is already spayed.

She can be seen at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

An Apple for the Teacher

Sally Lindeman, CJHS
math and art teacher

By Elizabeth Bisbikis

TRAVELING is one of Sally Lindeman's favorite pastimes.

Coming from a small town in northern Michigan, Sally Lindeman looked for an area with similar qualities when she began her teaching career.

Wanting the ambiance and charm of a small town and yet with access to a metropolitan area, she thought Clarkston was the logical choice. She settled here after graduating from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

She began teaching third grade at Andersonville Elementary School. This was the beginning of a varied career. Not one to remain in one place for long, Sally looked forward to changes, variety and challenges.

While at Andersonville, she experienced some of these as she taught fourth, fifth and sixth grades there.

Embarking on a junior high school career, she still enjoyed a variety of subjects and grades. Currently Sally teaches art and math at Clarkston Junior High School.

Sally maintains a wonderful rapport with students and is sympathetic to their needs. Relating to students is her forte.

Along with career changes, Sally likes the change of locale, also. She has become a worldwide traveler, having gone to Europe, South American, Mexico, Alaska and Hawaii.

Trips through most of the 48 states have been experiences she has thoroughly enjoyed. Her yearly treks have inspired her to search for more mystery and intrigue of ports unknown.

Sally enjoys sporting events as a participant and spectator. Presently, she is involved in school sports, either as a coach, time keeper or scorekeeper. She has boundless energy and enthusiasm, which carries over into her classroom.

Now that Clarkston is her home, she has acquired many friends and holds these friendships of colleagues and students in high regard.

Apple for the Teacher is provided by the Clarkston Education Association. This week's author, Elizabeth Bisbikis, is a first-grade teacher at Andersonville Elementary School.

Tie one on for the holidays

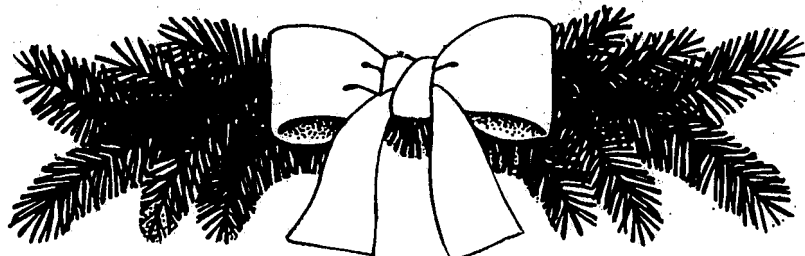

Project Red Ribbon is a holiday awareness campaign conducted by MADD chapters nationwide to symbolize hope for a less violent holiday season.

MADD is asking citizens to tie a red ribbon to their left car door mirror or antenna to serve as a reminder to anyone entering the car not to drink and drive.

The red ribbon also serves as a sign to the community that the car owner has chosen to make a difference in the struggle to eliminate the tragedy caused by drinking drivers.

The Michigan State Police, many Oakland County police and fire departments, EMS vehicles, limousines and taxi companies will be tying one on their vehicles as a way to let their communities know that they care.

MADD will be glad to provide ribbons to individuals who wish to participate if they send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: MADD/Oakland, 1520 S. Lapeer Rd., Lake Orion, MI, 48035.

IS YOUR WATER SAFE? ARE YOU SURE?

Even if it tastes fine - chances are it is not!

The Environmental protection agency estimates that "across the nation 350,000 tanks filled with gasoline will leak during the next five years. Active ingredients from 260,000 tons of pesticides and 42 million tons of fertilizer are spread annually on our farmlands. Dangerous chemicals are leaching out of as many as 16,000 landfills throughout America. One out of five of all municipal water systems has detectable levels of contaminants." Cornell University, in one study found that, "almost two thirds of rural household water supplies were considered unsafe."

Although Radon is a gas it can also contaminate your water. "Radon leads to more fatalities than any other drinking water contaminant." - So says the EPA

There Are Two Solutions!!

Bottled Water

- ✓It's expensive
- ✓It's inconvenient
- ✓75% begins as ground water
- ✓You can't shower in it

Home Water Purification

- ✓Costs 1-3c per gallon
- ✓Unlimited good water on demand
- ✓Removes organic contaminants
- ✓You can shower in it

Your Health Depends on it.

If orange juice tastes good, it's good for you

Health-conscious consumers worried about getting the daily requirement of vitamin C may remove one wrinkle from their furrowed brows—if they drink orange juice.

"If their morning six-ounce serving of orange juice tastes good, then it contains enough vitamin C to meet the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance (RDA)," U.S. Department of Agriculture research chemist Philip E. Shaw reported. That RDA is 60 milligrams.

Shaw said flavor loss parallels vitamin C loss in orange juice. And keeping the flavor in depends on how it's packaged and stored.

Shaw said that packaging orange juice in air-free containers extends the shelf life for vitamin C and flavor. Oxygen degrades vitamin C, called ascorbic acid, he said, in summarizing studies at the Citrus and Subtropical Research Laboratory of USDA's Agricultural Research Service in Winter Haven, Fla.

"Vitamin C will degrade in air-free containers, but at a slower rate," he said. Storage temperatures above 82 degrees F accelerate the loss. Fresh-squeezed orange juice stored in plastic bottles for up to three weeks at temperatures below 35 degrees F retains 90 percent of its original vitamin C value. Shaw said this juice has not been pasteurized or heat treated.

Other results reported by Shaw show that although "pasteurized premium" orange juice has been heat-treated, it is kept cold during storage and while on supermarket shelves. In a waxed cardboard carton, this product maintains high flavor and vitamin C up to the RDA for about 60 days.

Frozen concentrated orange juice retains both good flavor and vitamin C content for a year or more. Even after a year, a six-ounce serving still meets the RDA for vitamin C.

Juices packaged in paper boxes or plastic bottles stay fresh about four to six weeks. That is more than enough times to get to the consumer, still taste good and retain vitamin C.

Glass, tin or aluminum containers—being impermeable to air—allow juices to double their shelf life. Refrigeration further prolongs flavor, but when the product is marketed at room temperature for consumer convenience, flavor and vitamin C loss accelerates.

Flavor and vitamin C last for about six months in a 8-ounce soft carton of juice, popular for lunch bags. This juice loses some flavor for several reasons—the cartons are air permeable; the package liner absorbs the flavor; and the product is usually stored unrefrigerated.

The above information was provided by the Information staff of the Agricultural Research Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

witch, Annabelle, played by Melissa Sloan. The witches can be seen in "Annabelle Broom: The Unhappy Witch" on Saturday

Dec. 2, 10 a.m. in the CHS Band room. Tickets are available at the door. (Photos by Sandra G. Conlen)

Making merry

WITCH MABEL is played by Mark Young in "Annabelle Broom: The Unhappy Witch." Mark, posing for the camera during a mean witch scene, plans to boil the witch in oil.

JUST A TOUCH of elderberry in Annabelle's hair (played by Melissa Sloan) is observed by Peter (played by Scott Taylor), the young boy Annabelle has been ordered to terrorize. Tickets are available at the door. The cost is $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12.
