School board reinstates $1.6 million in budget

BY TRACY KING Clarkston News Associate Editor

The deep budget cuts that slashed Clarkston school programs and staff last year will be reinstated in the school budget for 1990-91 — including money that could eliminate pay-to-play requirements and could reinstate the high school SEARCH program.

School board members unanimously voted to approve $1.6 million worth of reinstatements in their regular meeting April 9.

The budget cuts were made in June 1989 after residents voted down a Headlee override, which would have given the school district more money from local

The school board vote does not actually reinstate the programs; rather the items will be included in the budget to be reviewed in June.

The April 9 vote does immediately allow for the recall of 27 certified staff members, including 13.5 class-

Although 16.5 teachers were laid off as a result of the budget cuts, 3.5 have already been reinstated.

The 13.5 teachers that will be recalled will be allocated to areas where they are needed, explained Bill Neff, director of administrative services. It's likely they will be used at the elementary and junior high level, he

Seven to run for two school seats

BY TRACY KING Clarkston News Associate Editor

Seven candidates will run for two positions on the Clarkston Board of Education.

The two separate positions will become available in June; one is a four-year term and the other is a one-year

The deadline for officially declaring candidacy was April 9 at 4 p.m. Those interested in the position were required to turn in petitions with at least 20 signatures and affidavits of identity.

The affidavits will now be examined by Independence Township officials to determine their validity.

Running for the one-year term are:

■ Durham Downs of Allen Road, Independence

Kurt Karlstrom of Tappin Court, Independence Township.

Dennis Walters of Phelan Drive, Independence Township.

Running for the four-year term are:

■ Donald Brockman of Meyers, Independence Township.

■ Sheila Hughes of Parview, Independence Township.

entire school administrative staff. Although the staff recommended some change in the way some programs are to be reinstated, no new areas were included in the recommendation.

'I'm always happy to come before the board to put things back together," Neff said.

He explained that it was important for the board to improve the reinstatements as soon as possible, so that school administrators could plan staffing needs and building schedules for the upcoming year.

But some board members said they were uncomfortable approving the reinstatements because they haven't yet seen the overall budget for 1990-91.

The reinstatements were just pieces of a bigger tle (the budget) that the board had no knowledge of, argued President Janet Thomas.

Added Secretary Mary Jane Chaustowich, "I get so nervous dealing with these types of figures without knowing the fund equity."

Trustee Paul Van Klaveren stated that the process is (See REINSTATEMENTS, next page)

Easter Egg Hunt

The Easter Chicken once again will make an appearance at the 11th annual Easter Egg Hunt 11 a.m. Saturday, April 4, at Sashabaw Presbyterian Church.

Set for children ages 2 through sixth grade, the event includes coffee and a bake sale for adults. Kids can search for eggs, candy and prizes.

The hunt is planned for church property, 5300 Maybee Road, next to North Sashabaw Elementary School, in Independence Township.

June school budget will include reinstatements

"I've never felt comfortable with the process because I didn't get the information until tonight," he said.

"You're asking me to approve something I have no knowledge of.

Superintendent Gary Haner emphasized that, with the exception of staff recalls, the board vote would only put the reinstatements into the budget. Details of the reinstatements and their amounts can be evaluated during budget review, he added.

The board decided it would approve curriculum reinstatements separately and only after evaluating the entire curriculum budget.

The entire $1.6 million worth of reinstatements include cuts that were made in non-personnel areas, nonacademic areas, support services and classroom teachers.

New budget restores teachers, programs

The following budget restorations were recommended to the school board by the administrative staff. These items will be included in the 1990-91 budget, which will be evaluated by the board in June.

hood is still uncertain. After three years of planning, the battle is still underway.

The issue is to appear before Judge Gene Schnelz in Oakland County Circuit Court April 12.

The township board voted 4-3 April 3 to pursue litigation and to deny approval for the manufactured home subdivision proposed by developer Gregory Chris-

Voting to continue litigation were trustees Frank Millard, Daniel Travis, Mel Leroy Vaara and William Vandermark.

Voting no were Supervisor Frank Ronk, Clerk Joan McCrary and Treasurer John Lutz.

In September 1988, Christopher requested a 76-acre parcel on Mann Road near Clintonville Road be used for a 305-unit mobile home park. He had requested a rezoning to planned unit development (PUD), which would have given the township control over the developing stages. A PUD is a rezoning tied to a specific site plan and requires planning commission and township board approval.

The planning commission and the township board denied his request.

On June 29, 1989, Christopher filed a lawsuit in Oakland County Circuit Court, charging the township. with discrimination by not offering affordable housing for

After the complaint was filed, the township was given 21 days to answer. Board members asked for an extension of time to respond -- a common practice, said township attorney Gerald Fisher.

"Based upon all circumstances, this is a very difficult case," he said.

In the three years the project has been in the works, residents and some township board and planning commission members have been vocally opposed. About 50 residents were present at each related hearing, voicing concerns about cutting down trees, widening the roads, rezoning, tax unfairness and traffic problems.

After months of negotiating between attorneys, another offer was made to the township board. Christopher was willing to go to 3.9 mobile home units per acre, down from the original four units per acre.

That reduction would have eliminated seven of the 305 units. Other proposals made by Christopher included increasing landscaping, establishing an entrance with a paved road consistent with the township's desires and providing additional amenities for recreational purposes,

Residents oppose rezoning 75 acres near lake

BY RENEE GLOVINSKY Clarkston News Staff Writer

More than 50 area residents protested the rezoning of 75 acres off Michigamme Road at a heated Independence Township Board meeting April 3.

The board voted 4-3 to adopt the rezoning from rural residential — which requires a three-acre minimum lot size - to suburban farm residential, which requires a oneand-a-half-acre minimum lot size.

Voting yes were: Supervisor Frank Ronk, Treasurer John Lutz and trustees Daniel Travis and Mel Vaara. Voting no were: Clerk Joan McCrary and trustees Frank Millard and William Vandermark.

Eight acres rezoned on M-15

Owners of an eight-acre parcel off M-15 are one step closer to their goal of developing a small subdivision near Deerwood III subdivision.

The Independence Township Board unanimously adopted the rezoning of the parcel from rural residential to suburban residential April 3. Suburban residential zoning requires 33,000-square-foot minimum lot sizes, while rural residential zoning requires three-acre minimum lot sizes.

Owners Richard and Carol Campbell plan to develop the land into eight home sites. If submitted as a subdivision, it will require plat approvals from the planning commission and the township board. If submitted as site condominiums, it needs only planning commission

The land, with steep, wooded hills and wetlands, is already served by municipal water and sewer lines. Entrances to the site are from Elkrun Court and M-15.

The planning commission voted Feb. 26 to recommend approval to the township board because the project conformed to the township's master plan.

"We, as a board, are not here to destroy Walters Lake."

Supervisor Frank Ronk

quested the rezoning to eventually build 42 homes on the site, which is northwest of Walters Lake and south of Thendara Park. Of these, seven or eight of them are to be on the southeast corner of the property on Walters Lake. Any construction would need further township approval. Before the vote, McCrary voiced her concerns.

"I am against doubling the density," McCrary said. "Even if you only rezone it tonight, it's forever. It (the land) butts three-acre parcels and should remain three Residents' written and verbal concerns included: Increasing population on Walters Lake and on the roads, road maintenance, dangerous traffic, sewage disposal, wetlands area, density of land, trees, overcrowding the Bailey Lake Elementary School and general poliution.

'It seems that every time a wetlands gets destroyed, (it's) for the sake of a house or road," said Shelley Steinhart of Thendara, Independence Township.

Joanne Hiscox of Thendara said, "The area is very hilly with beautiful ravines. I question the one-and-ahalf-acre lot size. There is a deep ravine, and I am not sure how they could adequately put a lot there of that size."

Others voiced concern over the lake run off. Ronk assured the residents that the lake will be kept

"We don't have control over the mistakes made in the past," said one Michigamme resident, "But we do have control over the future."

'We, as a board, are not here to destroy Walters Lake," said Ronk.

Sewer hearing for Green Acres subdivision

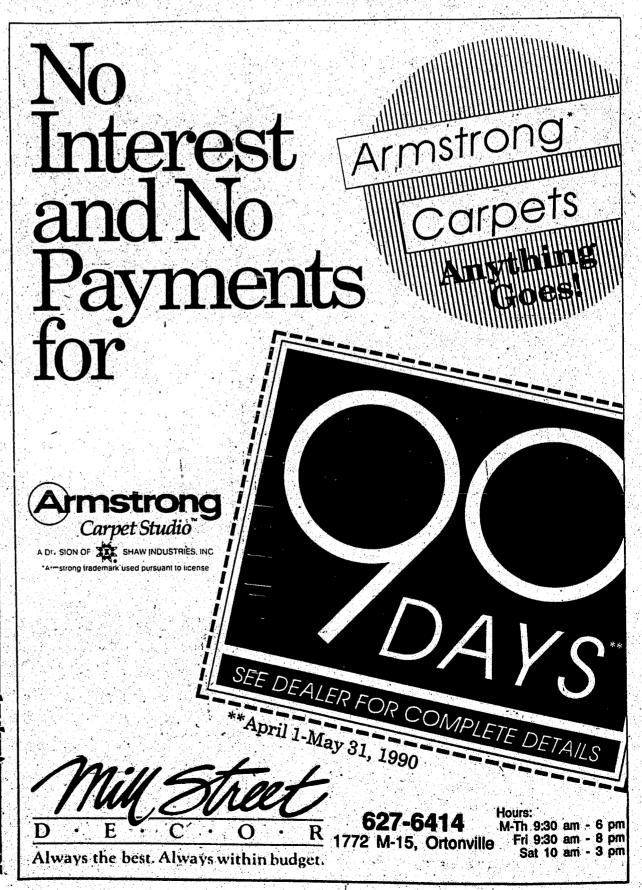

Residents in the Green Acres subdivision of Independence Township have a chance to voice opinions on a $166,915 sewer project at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 17, at township annex.

The public hearing on the assessment roll for the project is to take place at 90 N. Main St., Clarkston.

At a public hearing Feb. 6, residents had the opportunity to voice opinions on the necessity of the sewer and the creation of a special assessment district.

The sanitary sewers are to be installed for Langle Drive, Church Street and Townview Street, and the residents are to be taxed to pay for the sewers.

To object, a person must file a written statement with the township clerk before the hearing is over.

Wetlands to be untouched in new site condo plan

BY RENEE GLOVINSKY Clarkston News Staff Writer

Despite opposition from a few Waterford Township residents, the Independence Township Planning Commission unanimously approved the final site plan for nine site condominiums March 22.

Planned for 11.78 acres on the south side of Andersonville Road, east of Nelsey Road, the plan called for a public road to be built in a flood plain on the site, which abuts Lotus Lake.

The parcel contains more than five acres of wetlands that are to remain untouched, but Waterford residents voiced disapproval of the project at a recent Independence Township Wetlands Board hearing.

Before the wetlands board meeting, the Michigan

"The owners have seemed to preserve the natural vegetation of the land."

Chairman Brent Bair

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) had approved the plans for the road to the site. According to the Independence Township Wetlands Ordinance, that road lies in the wetlands "buffer zone," a 25-foot zone surrounding the protected area.

Residents demanded that the township wetlands board revoke the DNR approval, but the township has no jurisdiction over the DNR, said Beverly McElmeel, director of the township building department.

At the planning commission meeting, commission members referred to letters about the project — many from Waterford Township residents. Some accused the commission of "rubber stamping" such projects. A few letters were unsigned.

"I won't even read a letter that hasn't been signed or addressed," said Chairperson Brent Bair.

Although Waterford residents were upset with the plan, Waterford government officials had no complaints at all, said commission member Daniel Travis, after the meeting

Of the nine lots, five will be on the water, said McElmeel.

These are healthy-sized lots, which are bigger than the lots already surrounding Lotus Lake," she said.

Site condominiums are single-family homes similar to those in a platted subdivision. The term condominium refers to a type of ownership, rather than a type of structure. The residents will own their own home, but the property between the homes will be owned jointly by all the residents.

Developers Robert and Tamara Berryman, residents of Independence Township, said each of the nine homes will be on one acre of land. Each home is to be custommade with a minimum of 3,500 square feet. Prices have not been set yet, and construction won't begin until the frost season has ended, said Tamara Berryman.

After the meeting, Bair said the site plan met ordinance requirements.

"We do recognize the concerns of those who live on the lake," he said.

"We were concerned about the impact on the wetlands, but these concerns were thoroughly covered by the wetlands board," he said, adding that commission members were also concerned about lake access. However, only lots that front on the lake will have lake access.

The density was "not excessive." Bair said. And since "private roads tend to get neglected," the commission members were glad to see a public road access the

Thoreau wouldn't be surprised

Julie Campe

I don't know if Henry David Thoreau would appreciate the name of an upcoming shopping center in Orion Township — though he would not be surprised.

"Shops on Waldon Pond" is in the works for the southeast corner of Waldon and Baldwin roads. True, it does front Waldon Road, and, yes, there is a small pond on property. So it does have a non-Thoreauvian basis for its name — especially since it's spelled differently.

But still — the developers removed a thick grove of trees on the parcel (perfectly legal) to make room to build. And the pond that previously was swampy and enveloped by cattails now looks naked with its surrounding vegetation removed.

In contrast, Thoreau's Walden Pond is now a public park, with its vegetation preserved in Concord, Mass.

But Thoreau, too, was experienced with the changes wrought by "civilization."

Note the contrast of his Walden Pond when he was a child and then later when he lived there for a year as a man.

As a child:

"When I first paddled a boat on Walden, it was completely surrounded by thick and lofty pine and oak woods, and in some of its coves grape vines had run over the trees next the water and formed bowers under which a boat could pass. The hills which form its shores are so steep, and the woods on them were then so high, that, as you looked down from the west end, it had the appearance of an amphitheatre for some kind of sylvan spectacle."

As a man:

"But since I left those shores the woodchoppers have still further laid them waste, and now for many a year there will be no more rambling through the aisles of the wood, with occasional vistas through which you see the water. ... How can you expect the birds to sing when their groves are cut down?

"Now the trunks of the trees on the bottom, and the old log canoe, and the dark surrounding woods, are gone, and the villagers, who scarcely know where it lies, instead of going to the pond to bathe or drink, are thinking to bring its water, which should be as sacred as the Ganges at least, to the village in a pipe, to wash their dishes with! — to earn their Walden by the turning of a cock or drawing of a plug!"

Thoreau would have been a great proponent of Earth Day—if for nothing else than for people to take notice of the nature. Read on:

"The cars never pause to look at it (Walden Pond); yet I fancy that the engineers and firemen and brakemen, and those passengers who have a season ticket and see it often, are better men for the sight. The engineer does not forget at night, or his nature does not, that he has beheld this vision of serenity and purity once at least during the day. Though seen but once, it helped to wash out State-street and the engine's soot."

(From "The Ponds," a chapter in Thoreau's... "Walden.")

Editorial

Nearly circled by newspaper arms

We have a better feeling toward the claustrophobic these days.

We also have more sympathy for the people who feel extra pressures on their head and body.

Our awareness is in business as opposed to the physical person.

In a matter of just three months we (our publications) have been nearly surrounded by a Superman of the corporate world.

Capitol Cities, owners of The Oakland Press, bought The Lapeer County Press to our north in early January.

In late March, they bought out The Reminder newspapers in Ortonville, Clarkston, Waterford and Rochester. All that's left to complete this circle-the-opposition effort is to the east. What the giant Cap Cities have is a "C," and living in the center of that "C" as we do is worrisome.

To have a company with that much money (power) hovering over you creates that sensation on the back of our neck you get in a warning sort of way. Wondering warning. What will they do to lure advertisers away from the hometown newspaper of all Sherman Publications ... Oxford, Clarkston, Lake Orion and Auburn Hills?

Some of the advertising has already been lost by their undercutting our price, like Springfield Township legal notices.

That's the likely approach. Sell cheaper. They can afford it with Capital Cities owning radio station WJR, ABC network and much more and selling for $512 a share on the New York Stock Exchange.

. We feel like we're living in the path of Big Foot, and he's about to complete his step.

Capital Cities will not be able to "get us" with better news coverage. Our publications do a thorough job of writing what is happening in its community. Governments, sports, human interest stories, special features and pictures are done as well by us and anyone — witness our numerous news awards.

Cap Cities has recognized our writers' abilities and have made an approach. They were even brazen enough to make the contact at the reporter's workplace.

That is another way of getting us.

We know this is America. We know the saying that competition is good. We also know there is a saying about fairness. We don't see anything fair in a war of the giants vs. the pygmies ... Cap Cities vs. Sherman Publications.

Of course, big does not always win. Our publications have strong public acceptance. Advertisers have given us exceptional support, which makes it obvious our products have helped them.

Our classifieds, now averaging over 1,000 a week, also prove reader support of our publications.

And it's not like we' haven't had competition before. There's been the Oxford-Orion Times, Waterford Times, The Reminder newspapers, The Pied Piper, The Oakland Press and all the coupon and yellow page advertising dollar seekers.

Our publications continued to grow with their presence, and we are up to the challenge big money (power) can exert. They may find a way of offering something different, but they can't offer anything better. JAS

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

Ed Perlberg, publisher of the Arenac County Independent in Standish, had to do some grocery shopping while Mrs. Perlberg was ill.

It is an unfamiliar chore for him and he gave the following account in his column:

"Amazing Lady" made it as easy as possible. Enter store, turn right, go up and down aisles, everything on the list was almost lined up.

Remember that one word. Almost.
Who would guess that tomato paste wouldn't be near the tomatoes?

The list said green beans. There were four kinds, each in about three sizes.

Who would ever think there are "cold things"

at both ends of a store?

Ground chuck, Ground beef, Hamburg, All looked alike to the Old Editor. Guess they weren't.

Pork Chops. Holy Toledo, there were little ones, big ones, butterfly, with tenderloin, thick ones, thin ones . . . not a single one 6" thick. And, we'd guess, they all came off the same pig.

At least 1,000 cereal boxes stared at me . . . and nary a box of what Old Editor had been told to get "because Brett liked it." Old Editor has served Brett breakfast . . . did not want to be without what he was supposed to have,

Parsley flakes. How would anyone know what they were let alone find them. (Incidentally, to the incapable, the spice and flavoring area may be the most frightening of all.)

Old Editor counted 'em. Twelve different choices of tuna cans.

There was only one area that could be handled professionally . . . cookies, snacks and ice cream.

Now, you might say, how did we survive? For those as incapable as the Old Editor, take heart.

There is help in the hinterlands.

"Amazing Lady's" list is a must. Without a hint of where to start Amazing Lady would have not had a chance to recover ... she'd have starved to death.

Then there's the fantastically capable stocking pesonnel in the stores. They can give you at least a hint of where almost anything is.

Ladies from the neighborhood. An unbelievable help and, with a little attention, you can learn when they shop.

Nice young ladies. What a delight. Many of them just can't pass by an obviously distraught, apparently lost, nearly in tears old man without asking if they can help. Suppose they think of their dad...or grandpa... in the same fix.

Well, we did survive , . . and with a great graduation exercise.

On one Saturday afternoon the Old Editorswept through a rather expensive, complicated list including vanilla extract and Eagle Brand Condensed Milk (You think that's easy? How would you guess this was hidden a half-block away from all the other milk in the store?) without a single back track.

Did it all in less than 30 minutes.

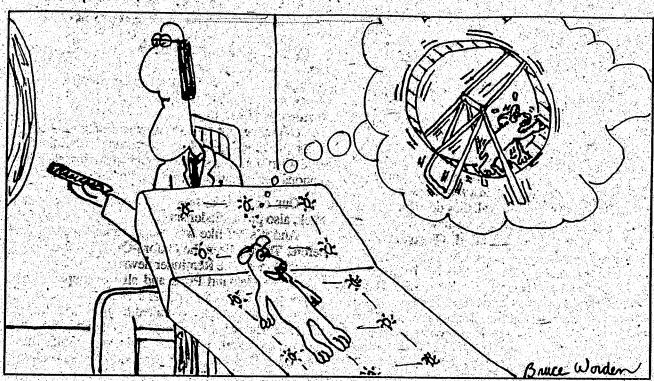

Then came the greatest moment of all.

Neighbor Helen Savage and the Old Editor were chatting across from the egg rack. She mumbled something about an item. "Next aisle about half way up on the left side," we heard ourself say. The Old Editor had directed a lady to something in the grocery store. Rivaled the satisfaction of selling a half-dozen page ads.

End of story?

the king of the silver screen — promoting videos.

I planned to pose my first question as something like, "Roger. Buddy. How could you?"

With the question out, somewhat more tactfully, Ebert answered that he believed videos actually enhanced the popularity of movies overall.

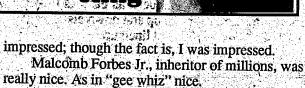

Good point, I decided. His fascinating conversation and familiar sweater-vest charmed me throughout the rest of the meal.

I also met Malcomb Forbes Jr.

This was some Kentucky Derby event, and Male was at Churchill Down's making a scheduled appearance.

I dutifully interviewed him, trying not to look

Tracy King

He asked me for my business card, which I gave him, numbly, and a few weeks later I received a box in the mail.

There was a forest green scarf inside with Capital Tool printed all over it. There was also a handjotted note from Malcomb inside, the contents of which will remain between me and Malc forever.

High school offered me a few brushes with fame.

I shared the same educational building with Andrea Yaegar, the young, pony-tailed tennis pro.

Her sister, Suzy, was my age. I was frequently disappointed that her parents wouldn't let her spend the night at my house; though I was allowed to come over to their house to play.

I remember slinking around trying to avoid their dad, Roland, who I remember as very, very strict.

Then there's Allison LaPlaca, the star of "Open House" on the Fox Television Network.

She attended my junior high and high school. She'd even probably remember me, as we spent a lot of time giving each other the evil-eye, maintaining designs on the same boy.

Yep. She's famous now.
But I'll bet she hasn't met Roger Ebert.

If it Fitz..

Enough to pretend to

Jim Fitzgerald

Just my luck. When it was decided this newspaper needed an aging Irish back-page columnist as publisher, I was out of town, I was roughing it (our VCR was duct-taped) on Marco Island in southwest Florida, sitting on a screened-in porch with my back to the Gulf of Mexico and my nose pressed against a sliding glass door.

So Neal Shine got the power to staunch the alarming flow of multicolored international cholera maps on Free Press pages, and I got a six-pack of tacos.

I thought only beer came in six-packs, but learned differently at Emily's Restaurant, located in the living room of the $1,000-per-week, five-room, two-bath, one-swimming-pool, air-conditioned condo where our six-member party sought safe shelter from surrounding 7-Eleven stores.

Emily, my 8-year-old granddaughter, ran a fast-food, drive-through operation. She slid open the porch door, took my order and instructed me to drive my chair to the next window to pick up my tacos. I didn't want tacos, and kept ordering chicken, but Emily proclaimed I like tacos better. (From her grandmother, Emily inherited the astonishing ability to know more about me than I do. During a vacation pillow shortage, for instance, Grandma proclaimed I don't like pillows anyway, which was news to me. For the 35 years of our marriage. I have foolishly used two pillows for proper sleep. The truth is Emily likes tacos better than chicken, and Grandma likes sleeping without a pillow. And when I protest this bizarre usurpation of my preferences, they say I don't know what I'm talking about, as opposed to what they're proclaiming about.)

Anyway, vacation time was pretend time. Its most memorable manifestation occurred in the swimming pool when I pretended to be a whale, which required considerable underwater bumping into Emily and her 4-year-old sister, Tricia. When I surfaced, Tricia screamed, "GWANDPA'S ALL WED!" Tricia wasn't commenting on my domestic problems. She was dropping her r's, as usual. She meant "Grandpa's all red." I was bleeding.

The whale's nose had apparently been nicked by a small stray foot. The blood was flowing off my chin onto my chest. The pool and adjacent lounge chairs contained many frowning strangers, several of them permanent condo residents with great disdain for transients who muck up their heated water.

On another day, one "owner" had enforced a pool rule against the immersion of children young enough to use diapers while not knowing they aren't wearing any. When the infant's father complained to the complainer, advising her to get a life and stop ruining a little kid's vacation, he was strongly confronted with various local and state health laws that threatened him with life in prison.

What would those dedicated pool guards think of the great white blubbery senior citizen dripping blood as he slowly emerged from the water, groping for the nearest towel? I couldn't resist walking stiff-legged, with both arms extended. In answer to startled glances, I explained I was a lost movie sequel in search of Roman numerals.

Blame it on the grandchildren. Like the bathroom that opened off my bedroom. There was a second door opening off a hallway, and both doors locked from the inside only. So Tricia locked them both, and no one could get in. My wife said condo management probably had an answer to the problem, because "this must happen a lot."

I pointed out that Tricia somehow had managed to lock the doors from the inside while remaining outside. No one was inside. I didn't think that happened a lot, and management agreed, suggesting a locksmith.

Grandchildren. Emily often wields a pad of yellow adhesive note paper. One day, she stuck a note to her mother's stomach while she was lying down. It said: "There's a baby inside here."

Oh my. There really is, due out in September. On next ye is vacation, around the pool, the great while whale will have an added problem.

Which only proves things usually turn out for the better. I'm going to be too busy to be publisher:

And too cwazy.

Letters to Editor

Township should act ethically

For the past several weeks The Clarkston News and other local newspapers have included articles regarding the plight of a group of senior citizens who purchased cruise tickets through the Independence Township of-

Information in the articles suggested that after the conclusion of the trip, the senior citizens discovered that they were party to a lawsuit, a suit dealing with the bankruptcy of the original travel agency secured by the

The details of the suit and the complexities of the litigation need not be rehashed as the story has been printed several times.

In reading the articles one cannot help arrive at the conclusion that the legal issues in the case resulted in the finding against the senior citizens who had purchased tickets from a company involved in bankruptcy.

Yet, further reading of articles clearly indicates that the citizens did not know anything of the travel agency difficulties as they had dealt only with the township

It would also appear that the township, once made aware of the difficulty with the original travel agency, canceled their agreement and moved to a second agency for the scheduling of the cruise. This fact, too, was accomplished without the knowledge of the senior citi-

However, appearances suggest that the township scheduled the trips with the names of the senior citizens thus removing the township as having any association or connection with the contracted tour. This, too, may be a common procedure.

Regardless of procedure, past practice, or legal jurisdiction in this case, one thing is obvious.

The senior citizens are caught in a situation for which they are not at blame or at fault.

Their involvement in the case was an "unknowing" involvement, and it is such cases as this which cause citizens to be suspicious of governmental practice and/or agencies.

While the legal aspects of the case may be correct, and while the case in the minds of the township might be considered "closed," there remains a very clear moral

Should senior citizens be required to pay punitive damages in a case in which their involvement was only by association with the township?

The township appears to be involved in a situation of moral and ethical practices.

The township must relook at the aspects of this case and consider the far-reaching effects of its action - or

I urge the board to meet with those parties who have been innocently involved in this case, and I appeal to them to resolve the conflict with the use of open discussion, remediation and fair play.

A few positive traits of young people

There are times when we hear so many negative stories about young people.

However, I would like to share some positive feelings about high school students and teachers from across the Detroit area who were recently in Washington, D.C., to participate in the Close Up Foundation government studies program.

For a full week, the about 776 participants from the Detroit-area-had-the opportunity to visit Washington to develop a better understanding of our democratic process. While here, they saw and questioned Congressional proceedings, journalists and government officials and shared their views with students from other areas of the country.

They returned home with a deeper awareness of their responsibilities as citizens and the realization that a single individual can make a difference. Their enthusiasm for involvement in the democratic process is to be ad-

The experience in Washington was possible only through the strong support of their parents; teachers and schools. Also, various companies and organizations helped make Close Up fellowships available to students in economic need

All those who helped make the opportunity a reality deserve special recognition.

Cars unwarranted

I recently learned that Independence Township leases 10 automobiles at $329 per month each, or (multiplied by 10) $3,290 a month, or (multiplied by 12) for $39,480 per

Now due to my most recent tax increase, I wondered if perhaps there is fiscal irresponsibility in the township government.

The 10 new leased Chevrolets caught my eye.

If this is the way my township government is handling my tax dollars, perhaps I should check it out. I tried, but I was stonewalled by Supervisor Tink Ronk.

If these visible 10 Chevrolets are any indication, how much more waste exists that we as taxpayers cannot

How many extra employees are there due to the same type of management?

In review of the newspaper article at the time of the township meeting, I see the vote was unanimous.

Was there any question of where the 10 department heads are going to drive to justify this expense? Or is this furnishing a car at a cost of $5,000 (plus insurance) an employee benefit?

How many miles per month should a vehicle be driven to justify its expense? Wouldn't it be more prudent to pay mileage rather than provide a vehicle?

At 24 cents per mile (which is what the federal government pays) a vehicle would have to be driven 1,370 miles per month to cover the $329 lease cost. This does not even take into consideration insurance, fuel or main-

At 15 miles per gallon for gas furnished at $1 per gallon, we have another $91 per month.

Now you might say that the 15 mpg is a little low, but they did not lease Grand Ams, which were a lower bid, because they needed heavier cars, so the mileage is going

To carry this one step further, we divide the 1,370 miles by 20 work days for 68 miles each day.

The township is six square miles. In order to travel 68 miles, each car would have to travel across the township 11.3 times, or 10 cars 113 times.

In two years, the township is committed to $155,000 for 10 cars. Who are these 10 people who need to drive 68 miles every working day and spend 2.3 hours driving?

What would the township clerk need to be out driving across the township 11 times every working day for? Or the supervisor, or the treasurer, or the DPW head who has how many trucks to his disposal?

Now, Mr. Ronk, if you would like to supply me with the information I requested, perhaps I can understand the need for these 10 cars.

If the township trustees can shed any light on this, I would be happy to think that you are not fiscally irrespon-

It is important for the taxpayer to remember that all of the basic figures must be multiplied by 10.

Lease and gas at $420 per month (multiplied by 10) is $4,200, (multiplied by 12 months) is $50,400.

When you vote, remember the incumbents did this. C.L. Weber

Survey: Springfield 'a good place to do business

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Township is a good place to do business, said about 67 percent respondents to a recent survey.

The majority of respondents rated the township as an "excellent" to "good" place to do business.

The Michigan Business Retention and Expansion

Study for Springfield Township, prepared by Michigan

Survey shows good business climate

Businesses considering moving into Springfield Township will have some helpful information about the business climate in the township.

A survey was recently conducted in the township with the help of Michigan Bell.

John Peterson, Michigan Bell economic development manager, told Springfield business people April 4 that the survey shows Springfield is a good place to do business.

Below is a partial list some of the findings from the survey, which pertain to business retention and and expansion in Springfield Township:

69 percent of firms responding to the survey began operation in Springfield Township.

47 percent of the firms were established after

■ 68 percent of the survey businesses own or lease enough space for expansion.

■ 24 percent of the firms plan a facility expansion at their existing location, with most of these firms planning to start the expansion within the next year.

■ 85 percent firms were not familiar or had no contact with Small Business Administration financing programs.

Bell and conducted by Springfield Township residents, reached the above conclusion after conducting a survey of community business members.

About 130 businesses were contacted; and 54 business responded to the survey. Respondents were interviewed personally by volunteers, or they answered the questions privately.

"The report confirmed what I believed it would," said Supervisor Collin Walls after the meeting.

Although Walls was pleased with the survey results, he was more pleased with Doug Lewan, planning and development coordinator for Springfield Township.

"I can't say how lucky we were when we hired Doug," Walls said. "He is exceptional."

Lewan was hired in 1988, and he spearheaded the survey project, Walls said.

The results of the survey were presented April 4 at the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus on Big Lake Road, Springfield Township.

John Peterson, economic development manager for Michigan Bell, presented some of the statistical findings to the audience, and a published book was given to the survey participants.

Peterson said Michigan Bell generally does the survey for manufacturing businesses in communities, but Springfield is the first community to involve home-based businesses.

Michigan Bell has surveyed more than 50 communities in the last five years, he added.

"I commend you people for taking on this task," Peterson said. "There (are) not many communities that would provide you with a snapshot of their business community."

From the survey results it was discovered that about 30 percent of businesses now located in Springfield are planning to expand in another location.

"You need to work with them to stay," said Peterson. But statistics from the survey continued to prove that businesses were satisfied with the Springfield area.

Respondents like the quality of life in Springfield; 88 percent listed it as positive, Peterson said.

The statistics show that 63 percent of the firms think the local government and services offered are good.

The relationship between government and business "set the floor" for a business economy, he said.

"We don't see this in other communities, not to this

"The report confirmed what I believed it would."

Supervisor Collin Walls

degree of satisfaction with local government," Peterson said. "This paints a pretty good picture of doing business

"As a beginning this provides an excellent base for growth," Walls said.

Recommendations were provided by Michigan Bell after the survey was completed.

■ The township planning and development coordinator should continue to visit local businesses.

■ The Springfield Township Economic Development Committee (STEDC) should identify home-based businesses in the township and should help supply them with any special business they may have.

The survey recommendations also stated communications must be improved if local government and business relations are to be improved.

Following are the communication recommendations:

■ The township newsletter should be used to inform residents and businesses of township plans, programs, meetings and news; and the Planning Development (See SURVEY, next page)

QUESTION: Do you have any suggestions on how to prepare a home for its best showing?

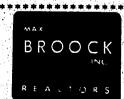

ANSWER: Don't just sell a house — sell a home! For evening inspection, brighten your home from the front porch light on through all the rooms in the house. Little decorator touches a vase of flowers, a plant, small pillows — can add much to the comfortable feeling.

If it's winter, a crackling fire (in the fireplace) adds irresistable charm. A working fireplace is a major attraction to home buyers.

A large mirror can make a room look larger, reflect and magnify many of your best selling points. Turn off the TV and turn on soft background music. Create that subtle, livedin atmosphere.

DON'T JUST SELL A HOUSEsell a home. Subtle show-manship can help set the right atmosphere.

Deadline nears for community awards

If you know any outstanding residents who contribute to the community, the deadline is fast approaching to nominate them for an award.

Friday, April 27, is the last day to submit nominations for the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce Community Awards.

Nomination forms are available at the Independence Township Hall, the Clarkston Village Hall and the National Bank of Detroit branches in the Clarkston area.

Categories are the following; citizen, business person, property beautification, volunteer, historic preservation.

Awards will be presented at the Michigan Week Community Awards Breakfast Wednesday, May 23, at the Spring Lake Country Club, Maybee Road, Independence Township. Tickets to the breakfast are $10 each or $80 for a table of 10. Tickets may be purchased at the same locations that nomination forms are available.

Opinion of Bill Myers

Claiming residency

Moving to a more benign clime? Sometime you'll want to consider changing your legal residency. Biggest reason for lots of people is a better tax rate, such as Florida, which has no state income tax.

Some think they have to live in Florida over 6 months a year to qualify for a change of residence. Not so. Some people don't live 6 months in ANY state. They flit about a lot

Taking as a premise "Home is where the heart is," there are still a number of things you can do to prove your heart is in Florida, say, and not in Connecticut. There are some simple moves to make. You don't have to do all of them to qualify. The most important:

1. File Declaration of Domicile with county Clerk at the courthouse.

2. Notify city or township clerk in former residence that you've moved.

3. Register and vote in the new state.

4. Change car registration and driver's license to your new state.

5. File Federal income tax from your new state.
6. File Intangible tax return (personal property, or whatever it's called) from your new state.

Switching bank accounts, drawing up a new will and such moves are somethings suggested, but often not done.

Swinging from the Heels

Detroit's emerald

April 11, 1990

Dear Tom Monaghan, Mayor Coleman Young, Governor James Blanchard, Commissioner Fay Vincent, Bo Schembechler, Larry King, George Will and Clarkston News Readers:

If you think Tiger Stadium is just a stadium, you might as well tear it down.

And while the wrecking ball is still hot, you might as well take it to Wrigley Field and Fenway Park and also demolish those old stadiums. (Hey, Tom, you could call it the Domino Theory of Wrecking Baseball History).

But if you think of 78-year-old Tiger Stadium as being loaded with history, a Detroit landmark, a living field of dreams for players and a great place for generations to watch a game, then the only thing that should be wrecked is this talk of abandoning Tiger Stadium.

I realize the stadium is old, but it has never been proven that it is a safety hazard (I haven't heard any talk from the French about knocking down the Eiffel Tower because it's old).

From interviewing some of the Tiger players last year, I also realize that the facilities (locker rooms, weight training room, etc.) within the stadium are also old and confining. That made me think about why the players sometimes see the stadium differently than the fans. After all, they spend much of their time inside the clubhouse.

So these comments of the players took a little sting out of my 100 percent devotion to save Tiger Stadium (it dropped to 90 percent).

But my feelings are again back to 100 percent because of the new Cochrane Plan proposed by the Tiger Stadium Fan Club.

According to the fan club, the Cochrane Plan (which costs $26 million compared to $180 million for a new stadium) will preserve the field and all its uniqueness while creating space and expanding concession stands, rest rooms, clubhouses, offices, elevators, dining areas and storage space.

In addition, seats in the upper and lower decks would not be disturbed (including those terrific-buy $4 centerfield bleacher seats), and a new third deck would hold 73 luxury boxes for 1,200 patrons. The construction of the third deck would also eliminate the need for many of the upper deck posts.

Those posts. They are still being used as an excuse to tear down the stadium. But there is really a very small percentage of fans who ever have to sit behind a post, especially when 90-plus percent of the games are far from being soldout.

Because of the economical, historical and sensible ideas evident in the Cochrane Plan, I see prior excuses for abandoning Tiger Stadium lose their validity.

Maybe the scariest thing about the new plan is that Tiger management refuses to check it out. Tiger vice-president Bill Haase has told the media that the Tigers are committed to a new stadium and are not interested in renovating Tiger Stadium. The fan club has also made attempts to present the plan to owner Monaghan, but Monaghan has turned all stadium matters over to Haase.

Judy Davids, who with her architect husband John created the Cochrane Plan, said that some of Michigan's best architects think the plan is terrific.

She also told me that one of baseball's best architects of words, Ernie Harwell, also likes the idea.

After seeing the plan, Harwell stated, "I don't speak for the Tiger ball club, but as an individual and a devotee of the stadium, I like the plan."

So, whose opinion do you trust, Monaghan's or Harwell's? Who's the better baseball man?

If you don't know the answer to that, then you don't know what the Tigers and Tiger Stadium mean to Detroit and Michigan.

Monaghan's success with Domino's Pizza deserves credit, but what kind of businessman refuses to consider a plan that might save his business $154 million?

Unless, of course, he plans on Michigan taxpayers footing the bill. Doesn't he know there is a large section of voters who like Tiger Stadium and many others who still remember what it took to finance the Silverdome?

But along with the business side of the question, there is the question of Monaghan's heart for the stadium and the city of Detroit.

When Monaghan inherited a soon-to-be world championship team in 1984 as a first-year owner, he said he always dreamed about playing shortstop for the Tigers. Because of his comment, my first impression of him was that he was a baseball man. I feel differently now. I think of him as a pizza king who happens to own the Tigers.

Most of the rumors about a new stadium place the new site outside of Detroit. I would see that move as another way of giving up on the city.

I hope Tiger management isn't counting on larger crowds by changing sites. The continuing great attendance at Tiger and Red Wing games in the city and the poor attendance at the Pontiac Lions games should be a red flag.

Detroit tries to call itself the renaissance city, but tearing down Tiger Stadium and moving away would add insult to the city's image. What's next, destroying Greektown and the Detroit Institute of Arts?

I have previously lived for several years in the beautiful and thriving city of Seattle. That city is called the Emerald City, but its stadium, the Kingdome, is an awful place to play and watch a game.

Hasn't the Tiger management figured out yet that Tiger Stadium is one of Detroit's most precious emeralds?

Since the Cochrane Plan makes so much sense, I now feel that if the Tigers abandon Tiger Stadium, I will abandon my allegiance to the Tigers.

That would be difficult to do.

You see, Tom, I, too, always wanted to play shortstop for the Tigers. But always in Tiger Stadium.

Sincerely, James Gibowski

P.S. My reason for mailing this letter to great baseball fans Larry King and George Will is that I think Tiger Stadium also deserves national attention, and I heard George tell Larry over the air that he hates artificial surface and wished Comiskey Park would have been saved (Was Comiskey the beginning of the Domino Theory ...? Aren't you glad Monaghan doesn't own the Cubs?). And if you two, as I am, also want to be card-carrying members of the Tiger Stadium Fan Club, then you can write to it at P.O. Box 441426, Detroit, MI 48244-1426.

Clarkston splits opening games

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI Clarkston News Staff Writer

Erin McAuliffe's winning goal against Fenton gave the Clarkston girls' soccer team a split of its opening two games.

Clarkston 2, Fenton 1 (April 7 at Clarkston)

With about five minutes remaining in the game, McAuliffe broke to the center from just outside the penalty area and then nailed an unassisted shot into the right-hand corner of the goal,

The Wolves and Fenton were tied at the half. Freshman Sadie Caruso scored the first Clarkston goal from close range.

Sophomore Christy Mitchum played the entire game in goal, stopping about 10 Fenton shots.

"We definitely improved in our second game," said new Wolf coach Kelly Gabriele. "We were first to the ball, passing the ball well and playing as a team. Everybody played well."

Gabriele praised her team's defense but also sees room for improvement.

"Our defense is good, but they have to talk more to each other."

Lakeland 7, Clarkston 1 (April 6 at Clarkston)

Clarkston's defense played a strong second half but couldn't come back from a lop-sided first half against Lakeland.

Lakeland jumped out to a 5-0 lead at the half.

McAuliffe, a senior, broke the shutout with a goal. Lakeland then finished the scoring with two more goals.

Clarkston could only manage about four shots on goal against the tough Lakeland defense.

Sue Cohoon was the goalkeeper for the Wolves in the first half and Mitchum tended goal in the second half.

Gabriele said the season opener was a new experience for many members of her young team.

CLARKSTON'S Nancy Caracella dribbles the ball against a Lakeland opponent in the Wolves season

"A lot of them are new to the team and weren't sure how to react," said

The coach said the fact that Lakeland had about twice as many players hurt Clarkston as far as stamina, but she also mentioned that Lakeland had "perfect timing" with its passes.

ADULT SOFTBALL REGISTRATION INFORMATION

Registration for the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Adult Summer Softball Leagues is underway. Leagues are available for men, women and co-rec teams, including divisions for men's 35 and over teams, women's 30 and over teams, and for men's and women's teams of all ability levels.

Games — played at Clintonwood Park — are scheduled to begin in mid-May, with weekday and weekend leagues available.

MOTHER/DAUGHTER FASHION SHOW

The second annual Mother/Daughter Fashion Show is 12:30-2 p.m. Saturday, May 5, at Clintonwood Park. The $7 tickets include a choreographed fashion show, a "lite" lunch, an essay contest and an open fashion show for those who wish to come dressed in their chosen fashions.

Inter-generational fashion teams are encouraged (i.e. mother, daughter and grandmother). Plus, there's face painting for the daughters and personal image consulting for the moms.

To be model in the choreographed fashion show, register by Monday, April 23. The 12 modeling couples will be drawn from those registered by this date. Essays written by daughters expressing what makes their mother special are due by Wednesday, May 2. Only 125 tickets will be sold for this event, so early registration is advised.

SAFETY TOWN

Safety Town is a safety awareness program designed for 4-, 5-, and 6-year-olds that has proven effective in reducing needless deaths and accidents among children.

This early childhood development program introduces all types of safety education. It is a 20-hour course (two hours per day for two weeks, Monday through Friday, beginning July 23). Children learn safety behavior through their own involvement. Sponsors are needed to offset the costs involved to start up this program. Those wishing to be a sponsor should call the recreation office.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

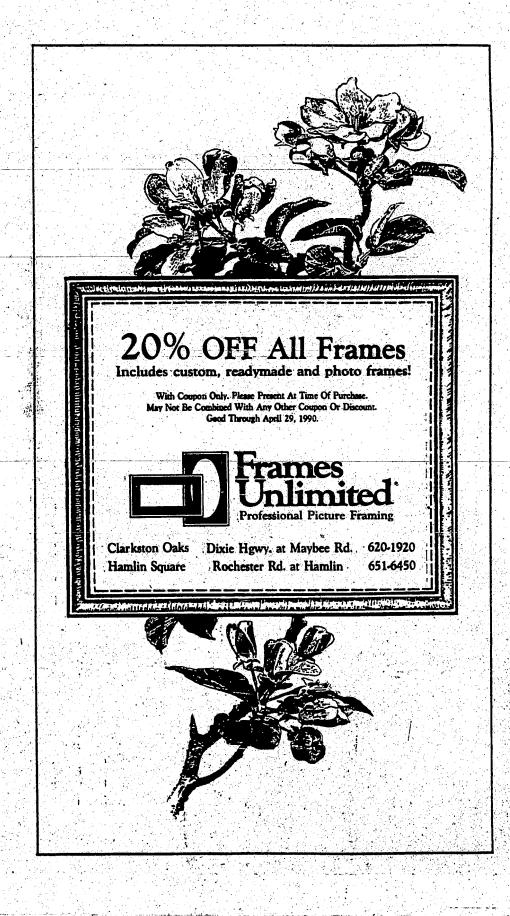

Call 625-8223 or stop by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston. The office is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

SWING SAFELY. INTO GOLF SEASON

- Do stretching exercises before golfing to keep muscles limber and prevent sprains.
- Never walk ahead of a player lining up a shot or stand close enough to be struck by a golf club.
- Wait until the group ahead has left the putting green before hitting a shot in that direction.
- Always yell "fore" if your ball is headed in the direction of others.
- Never throw a golf club.
- Drive golf carts at safe speeds, especially on steep hills.
- Never golf in a storm. If stranded, stand in a low-lying area. Never take shelter under a tree or hold onto golf clubs.
- Drink plenty of water in warm weather.
 Dress in pastel colors to deflect heat.

Friday the 13th fosters fear

Forget walking under ladders or crossing the path of a black cat. That double whammy of bad luck, Friday the 13th, is right around the corner.

Even people who think themselves entirely unsuperstitious may show slight symptoms of unease when the 13th falls on a Friday, as it will in April 1990.

Fear of Friday the 13th evolves from 'triskaidekaphobia," fear of the number 13, and the long-held notion that Fridays are unlucky.

The uneasiness about 13 may be related to the fact that 13 sat down to the Last Supper, that the Romans associated 13 with death and misfortune or that 13 is one more than 12, a number of completeness.

The additional number, 13, has the connotation of dangerously exceeding proper limits, of going beyond a natural cycle or starting on a new and uncertain course.

Every year has at least one Friday the 13th, but never more than three. Two Fridays in 1990 fall on the 13th day, the one in April and another in July.

Two injured in Dixie collision

Two men were seriously injured in a two-car collision Saturday, April 7, in Independence Township.

Kirk Nelson, 24, of Rochester was rushed to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, where he was in very serious condition Monday, said Robert Aranosian, head of the emergency room at POH.

He is suffering from severe head and chest injuries," said Aranosian.

Paul Majeski, 38, of Warren was released from POH on Monday, April 9.

About 2:38 a.m. Saturday, Nelson, who was driving a 1982 Pontiac, was struck broadside on Dixie Highway, south of White Lake Road, by Majeski, who was driving a Pony Express van, according to a report made by Oakland County Sheriff deputies John Kress and Mark Newman.

Both drivers were the lone occupants in their ve-

Due to conflicting statements from witnesses as well as Majeski, it is still uncertain in which direction each vehicle was headed.

Both drivers were wearing seat belts, according to the report. The accident is under investigation.

Mobile home lawsuit continues

"I wanted to settle with the township," said Christopher, after the meeting. "I think some folks on the board had different ideas of what they want to happen."

At the April 3 meeting, Ronk noted that Independence has the least number of mobile units when compared to the surrounding areas. The township's only mobile home park -- 179 units on Clintonville, south of I-75, is also owned by Christopher.

A few board members favored the manufactured home subdivision and said if the township did not grant a PUD, the courts could grant approval of the project --which would put control over the development out of the township's hands and into the state's hands. Plus, court battles are expensive.

"Why put this off any longer," said Ronk. "We should just make a decision.'

Millard, who suggested having a referendum and allowing the people to vote on the issue, voiced disapproval.

"The residents of the township in the prior hearings were unanimously opposed," he said, after the meeting. "He (Christopher) brought it in under PUD, where certain criteria must be met. The planning commission studied the issue and felt that it didn't sufficiently meet all PUD requirements -- mainly benefiting the community.

One reason I ran for this job is because government takes controversial issues and slides them under the rug. People should be given a say, if not a vote.'

A pre-trial hearing is set for 8:30 a.m. Thursday, April 12, before Judge Gene Schnelz.

The outcome of the case is uncertain; said Fisher. "The judge could order the mobile home park at a higher density, or he could authorize the original offer of four units per acre," he said.

Ancient Ukrainian egg decorating made easy

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN Clarkston News Staff Writer

The ancient ritual of egg decoration came from the pagan rite that brought the sun god from darkness into the light of spring.

The art of Ukrainian egg decoration evolved from a pagan rite to represent a Christian rite to celebrate "The Great Day," or the first day of spring. Springtime promised riches to people who worked the land.

Eggs are decorated and given as gifts to bless marriages and friendships; and to ward off illness or storms. The egg represents the sign of life from which all things

Ukrainian Easter egg decorating has been passed from generation to generation. Listed below are the steps. to follow for creating one of the special eggs:

- * Make dyes in advance so that they can be used at room temperature.
- * Protect the table with newspaper, tissue, or plastic. * Clean hands are a must. Do not use any hand
- creams. In handling the egg use tissue or paper toweling.

* When selecting an egg, check for any cracks or weak spots, by holding to the light. Use eggs with strong

- * Use fresh raw eggs, or blown out eggs with a small amount of beeswax covering the hole. The blown out eggs will float, and must be anchored in the dye. Cherie Hartwick, of Tierra in Clarkston, suggests filling empty spice bottles with water for use in anchoring the eggs.
 - * Use eggs at room temperature.
- * Draw the basic design lightly on the egg with a pencil before applying the wax lines. A rubber band can be placed on the egg for use as a guide in drawing lines.
- * Never erase pencil marks because it will cause scratches on the egg and the dye will not take perfectly over scratches.
- * Heat the head of a kistka (writing tool). The kistka, a wooden stick with a small copper funnel on the end of it, is held about one-half inch from the flame of a candle.
- * Place the kistka in the beeswax, or scrape it across the block of beeswax and draw it quickly across the egg to start the design process.
- * Draw the design in stages, and use dyes in sucession starting with the lightest dyes first and ending with the darkest. The design and color becomes sealed in wax allowing the color to remain until the finale product is completed.
- * Dry the egg completely between each different
- * When the egg is finished with design and dye, place the egg close to the candle flame. As the wax melts, wipe the egg gently with a cloth allowing the colors and design to be shown.

Ukrainian egg decorating kits and tools are available at Tierra Arts and Design on Main Street in Clarkston. The only other area that carries the egg decorating items are located in Hamtramck, said Cherie.

Country Greens sprouts new antique business

BY TRACY KING Clarkston News Associate Editor

Visitors to Country Greens, a florist at 25 S. Main St. in Clarkston, will find plenty more than the usual flowers and plants beginning in April.

The shop is dedicating half of its large space to the sale of antiques.

Three antiques dealers have set up displays and will sell their wares on consignment from Country Greens.

Country Greens Owner Susan Essmaker says the decision seemed natural.

"Ever since we've been here people have come into the shop saying 'OK, where is everything; where are all the antiques in Clarkston?" Susan recalls.

'We'd point them in all different directions until we decided to do this," she adds.

The half of Country Greens devoted to antiques has often been home to other shops, Susan explains. At one time, the space was used as a barbershop; another time it housed a health-food store.

Although Country Greens is selling the antiques, Susan emphasizes that the shop will continue its fullservice floral operation, as well.

"Antiques have been a hobby of mine," Susan admits. "It's like dealing in my first love in an atmosphere of my

Susan notes that she was careful in her choice of antique dealers for Country Greens, as she is "fussy" about the reputation of both her shop and of Clarkston.

What's New in Business

All three dealers operate from the Great Midwestern Antique Emporium, Waterford Township, and the Plymouth Antiques Mini Mall.

The front of the shop displays pieces collected by Mike and Debra Eaves, as part of their company called Anglia Antiques.

The collection includes furniture items, wicker, lighting structures, picture and mirrors among others.

The items are often placed throughout the Eaves home until "we're tired of them and it goes out," Debra

"This whole building lends itself to antiques," she adds. "I'd like to see the whole town spring up with antiques.'

The middle of the room is dedicated to items belonging to Marti Wallen and her business called Just Plain Folk.

Marti also buys and sells most of her antiques from the Antique Emporium and Mini Mall.

The back of the room houses a display of items owned by Harriet Gales, as part of her company Antiques and Unusual.

A former professor and hospital administrator, Harriet now collects folk art, particularly tramp art.

Many of her pieces are "things that are out of the ordinary," Harriet says.

All three of the displays add even more vitality to the store, Susan says.

"I think it's a natural," she adds. "We've gotten a wonderful response as we set up.

"It's a kind of revitalization."

ANTIQUES are now for sale at Country Greens on Main Street, Clarkston. The antiques are sold on consignment for dealers

Microwave Plus

Easter treats that won't add pounds

Betty Wagner

Easter dinner needn't be the time for adding back the pounds that you have so assiduously shed in preparation for swimsuit weather.

You can choose a delicious ham substitute with reduced fat, bake the sweet potatoes in the microwave and even serve an attractive dessert with little fat but enough taste to satisfy an appetite for Easter sweets.

Turkey ham tastes like ham, may be decorated with pineapple rings, cloves and maraschino cherries like ham and may be baked in the microwave oven — but it contains almost half the fat and less salt per serving.

Heat the turkey ham as you would heat a canned ham. Select a small to medium turkey ham, as large hams do not cook well in the microwave because of the high water content of a large mass. And this is not the time to use a temperature probe.

TURKEY HAM

- 1 turkey ham, fully cooked
- 4 maraschino cherries, drained 4 slices unsweetened pineapple
- 4-6 whole cloves
- 1. Place turkey ham in a shallow microwavable baking dish. Place pineapple rings and cherries in a decorative pattern on the meat; push in the cloves.
- 2. Cover with vented plastic wrap. Microwave at 50 percent (MEDIUM) for 6-8 minutes per pound. Check toward end of cooking time to prevent overheating. SWEET POTATOES AND YAMS from "Microwaving Fruits and Vegetables" by Barbara Methven and Sara Jean Thoms, 1981 by Cy DeCosse Inc. 1-4 potatoes (6-7 ounces each)
- 1. Wash and prick with fork. Place in oven on microwavable paper towel. Rearrange once. Let stand 3
- 2. Microwave at HIGH for the following times: 1 potato, 3-5 minutes; 2 potatoes, 5-9 minutes; 3 potatoes, 6 1/2-10 minutes; 4 potatoes, 8-13 minutes.
- Tip: Remove skin and mash with some fruit juice to moisten, and add cinnamon.
- BERRY PAVLOVAS from "Eating Good, Looking Good," a special presentation of the Microwave Cooking Library, Minnetonka, Minn.
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 4 egg whites (1/2 cup); room temperature
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla 1 package (0.8 ounces) sugar-free vanilla pudding and pie

1 can (16 1/2 ounces) blackberries, drained

- 1. Heat conventional oven to 250 degrees. Line baking sheet with parchment paper. Trace six 3 1/2-inch circles on paper, Set aside. Sift powdered sugar and cornstarch together. Set aside.
- 2. Place egg whites, cream of tartar and vanilla in large mixing bowl. Beat at high speed of electric mixer until soft peaks begin to form.
- 3. Add powdered sugar mixture, 1 tablespoon at a time, while beating at high speed. Beat until mixture is stiff and glossy.
- 4. Spread about 1/2 cup meringue mixture over each circle on prepared baking sheet, mounding slightly around edges. Bake for 2 hours. Turn oven off. Do not open door. Let meringues stand in oven for 1 hour. Remove from oven and cool to room temperature. Set aside.
- 5. Combine pudding mix and milk in 4-cup measure. Stir with whisk to combine. Microwave at HIGH for 4-6 minutes or until mixture thickens slightly and comes to a boil, stirring with whisk every 2 minutes. Place plastic wrap directly on surface of pudding. Chill until cold, about 4 hours.

6. Peel paper carefully from meringues. Place meringues on serving platter. Spoon about 1/4 cup pudding into each meringue. Top evenly with blackberries.

Tip: Use sugar-free chocolate pudding and fresh or defrosted raspberries. According to researchers, ellagic acid predominantly found in raspberries, strawberries and some other berries may inhibit genetic damage caused by tobacco smoke and other carcinogens in the atmosphere. So enjoy eating berries!

Radio games

It's Wednesday morning, and I've missed the bus again. So my dad is bringing me to school on his way to work. We sort of have a routine on these days. As we walk out into the garage, my dad is cheerful. He says I should let him drive me every morning and that I could sleep almost an hour later.

We climb into his already-warm Suburban; then I turn the radio on. My dad is always very cheerful until I

On this particular morning, Def Lepperd is pounding out "Hysteria." I can see my dad wince, but he doesn't say anything. I take his silence as a cue that it's safe to turn the volume up. He gives me a "look." I realize I guessed wrong. I turn the volume back down but switch the sound. to the front speakers. My dad doesn't notice.

As we leave our neighborhood and turn onto M-15 toward the Village of Clarkston and Clarkston Junior High, we chit-chat loudly over the front speakers about the day we both face ... the report he has to finish and the test that I just remember I have in Mr. Bronson's algebra class. The one I forgot to study for. Somehow, I begin to feel my dad will have the better day.

Suddenly, a half-crazed DJ screams, "You won! You're the third caller!"

A hysterical female voice answers, "No way! Oh, my word, you've got to be kidding! I won! No way! You're not kidding me, are you? I won! Oh my word!" My dad is wincing again.

Then the DJ screams, "What's yer name?" "Iam Thewinnernotyou! I don't believe it!" "Where are you from, Iam!" (They're both hyper,

"АААААССИННИННИННИННИН!"

"Is that in Pontiac?" the DJ asks hysterically. "No ... I mean ... uh ... I'm from ... uh ... Novi!" "Iam ... you just won your choice of Alice Cooper, Milli Vanilli, or Wetakeyourmoney Butwedontsing tick-

"АААААСНИННИННИНН!"

"And now another 54-in-a-row on theeeeeeee best music mix, 99.5 THE FOX."

Visibly frustrated now, my dad begins to switch the "You're the twenty-first caller!" Switch.

"You've just won tickets to see ..." Switch.,

"I'm the winner?" Switch.

In a helpful gesture, I reach out to take over the dial. Luckily, I hit a good song immediately ... "Killer Legions in the Path of Death." I sit back to enjoy it.

My dad doesn't. He lurches for the dial again. "For crying out loud, Ashley, this is a RADIO! It's supposed to play MUSIC. Can't you find any MUSIC on it?"

I instinctively switch to 93.1 which suddenly transforms our wonderfully rocking Suburban into a slowmoving elevator complete with easy listening Muzak. The orchestra seems loud, though, so I turn the volume down and switch it to the back speakers. My dad relaxes and apologizes for yelling. We smile and resume our conversation.

My dad and his music. I guess there's just no accounting for taste.

Easter, time for food safety: 'Ham it up right!'

With Easter quickly upon us, many consumers find this time of year confusing when it comes to shopping and preparing the traditional Easter ham, says Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

Not only are there many varieties to pick from, but the storage life and method of preparation may differ from one variety to another.

To be sure you are serving a well-prepared ham and safeguarding your families' health, be aware that all hams are not alike and that reading the label for preparation method and storage time is essential.

The following information will help to make your Easter dinner preparation easier.

These are the four basic types of ham and some tips on preparation and storage:

Legislation could cut waiver

Legislation amending a state law that allows some school children to waive the required measles vaccination is being prepared by state Rep. Mat Dunaskiss, who represents the Independence and Springfield township areas, and Rep. Nancy Crandall of Norton Shores.

The proposal, drafted in response to a measles outbreak in Michigan, would confine immunization waivers to medical exemptions or religious convictions.

The current version of the public health codes was written more than 10 years ago and allows for a third type of exemption based simply on other personal objections, according to Crandall.

"Many people have become complacent about being immunized because they don't perceive measles as a threat anymore. It no longer is safe to provide such an open-ended waiver for children entering schools."

Duanskiss said his interest in the legislation was sparked by the major measles outbreak in Oakland County, when more than 300 students had to be vaccinated.

"Another problem relates to insurance companies that refuse to cover the cost of vaccinations for children over six years of age," he said. "We need to inform the insurance industry about the importance of this issue,"

Douglas Hoch, medical director at the Muskegon

OFFICIAL NOTICE Charter Township of Independence NOTICE OF APPROVED ZONING ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting held on April 3, 1990, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence approved the following text amendment to the Township Zoning Ordinance #83: STATE OF MICHIGAN

COUNTY OF OAKLAND
CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

TEXT AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE An Ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 83, as amended, the Charter Township of Independence Zoning Ordinance, as amended, for the purpose of amending Article XXX, Schedule of Regulations, to amend Footnote (b) to establish minimum setbacks from bodies of water, and to add a definition of fordinary high water mark."

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1 of Ordinance

Footnote (b) of Article XXX of the Zoning Ordinance shall be amended by inserting the following as new paragraphs added to existing language: The placement of structures on lots or parcels which abut a lake, stream, pond, or river shall be regulated in order to promote: proper use and protection of land; preservation of wetlands and the adjacent upland forming an inseparable part of the wetland; protection of water and natural resources; proper on-site disposal of wastewater; minimization of erosion and sedimentation into adjacent bodies of water; and protection of the economic value of adjacent land uses

In any district where lots or parcels abut a lake, stream; pond, or river, the minimum setback of any principal or attached accessory structure from the ordinary high water mark shall be fifty. (50) feet. The minimum distance of any septic system from the ordinary high water mark shall be one hundred (100) feet:

Unless and until the ordinary high water mark has been established by law and/or by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the Director of Building and Planning shall in the first instance determine the location of ordinary high water mark in the administration of this provision, with such decision being appealable to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Section 2 of Ordinance The following definition shall be inserted in alphabetical order

under Article III, Definitions:

Ordinary High Water Mark: The line between upland and bottomland which persists through successive changes in water levels, below which the presence and action of the water is so common or recurrent that the character of the land is distinguished from the upland as evidenced in the soil, the configuation of the surface of the soil and vegetation.

Section 3 of Ordinance All other regulations specified in the Zoning Ordinance, excepting those set forth above, and all other provisions of the Zoning Ordinance, shall remain in effect, amended only as provided above.

Section 4 of Ordinance All proceedings pending and all rights and liabilities existing acquired, or incurred at the time this amendatory ordinance takes effect, are saved and may be consummated according to the law in force when they were commenced.

Section 5 of Ordinance The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon publication in the manner prescribed by

CERTIFICATION

The foregoing Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence, at a meeting of the Board duly called and held on the 3rd day of April, 1990, to be effective upon publication as provided by law.

County Health Department, said he strongly supports such legislation.

'We have not had any recent measles cases in the Muskegon area, but we continue to see vaccine waivers for reasons other than religion." Hoch said. "Medical waivering really is rare. As an example, people who are allergic to eggs cannot be given measles shots.

"No vaccine is 100 percent effective," he said. "You are best protected from contagious diseases when most of your neighbors also have been immunized.'

John Richards of the Michigan Department of Public Health said the legislation would be a step forward in reducing the number of measles cases.

"Our records for the first part of 1990 show more than a third of reported measels cases were due to vaccine

He said 265 cases were documented as of March 23, religious reasons.

OFFICIAL NOTICE Charter Township of Independence NOTICE OF APPROVED ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting of the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence held on April 3, 1990, the Board approved an amendment to Ordinance No. 65 of the Township's Code of Ordinances.

The approved amendment pertains to the Water Supply System.

STATE OF MICHIGAN COUNTY OF OAKLAND CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDINANCE NUMBER 65

AMENDMENT TO WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM ORDINANCE An ordinance to amend Article II of Chapter 20 of the Independence Township Code of Ordinances to provide for a capital connection charge as part of the schedule of fees and charges for the Township Water System.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS TO AMEND THE INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP CODE OF ORDINANCES:

Section 1 Of Ordinance Article II of Chapter 20 of the Independence Township Code of Ordinances shall be amended by adding a section 20-26; which shall read as follows:

Sec. 20-26 Capital Connection Charge

(a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (c) of this section, a capital connection charge in the amount of $1,000.00 per unit shall be paid prior to making a private connection to the water system.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) Each single-family residence, including a detached, attached and multi-family residence, shall constitute one unit. (2) For all other uses, units shall be determined based upon the Unit Assignment Factors applied by the Oakland County Department of Public Works, dated September 15, 1988, and as the same shall be amended from time-to-time, provided, however, there shall be a minimum of one unit for any use. (c) For residential developments, the capital connection charge required to be paid under this section shall be reduced as

(1) If a water improvement to serve a property has been finances in whole or in part by a special assessment district, there shall be a reduction of the capital connection charge to the extent of the principal amount paid in relation to the particular property to which the connection is to be made.

(2) If the developer of the property to which a connection is to be made has provided the source of water and the transmission mains to serve the property, there shall be a reduction of the capital connection charge equal to the amount expended to provide such facilities (to the extent of the charge). If the water source and transmission lines are intended to serve several residences; the reduction shall be spread over the several residences,

Section 2 Of Ordinance All other provisions of the Independence Township Code of Ordinances shall remain in effect, amended only as provided

Section 3 Of Ordinance The provisions of this amendatory ordinance are herebyordered to take immediate effect upon publication. CERTIFICATION

The foregoing ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence at a meeting duly called and held on the 3rd day of April, 1990.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

By: Joan McCrary, Clerk

Introduced: March 6, 1990 Adopted: April 3, 1990 Effective: April 11, 1990 Published in the Clarkston News on: April 11, 1990

OFFICIAL NOTICE The Following Resolution Was Adopted By The State Boundary Commission APRIL 3, 1990

WHEREAS, the State Boundary Commission approved petition Docket #88-1-1 for the Incorporation of the Village of Clarkston as a Fifth Class City, AND

WHEREAS, more than 5% of the registered voters of the area approved for incorporation have signed and filed a valid petition within the 45 day time limit, asking for an election on the Commission approved incoproation, as authorized in Public Act 191, as amended, AND

WHEREAS, Public Act 191 of 1968, as amended, gives the Boundary Commission the authority to order such an election,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT: The voters in the area approved for incorporation by the Boundary Commission approve or reject this incorporation at a special election, to be held on May 21, 1990.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT: Registrations shall be accepted until 2:00 p.m., EDT, Monday, April 23, 1990.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT: Absent voters' applications deadline shall be 2:00 p.m., EDT, Friday, May 18, 1990.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT: The State Boundary Commission shall prescribe the ballot for the question and the Clarkston Village Clerk shall print the ballots for the election, and shall conduct and direct the election in compliance with the general elections laws, while the Oakland County Board of Canvassers shall certify the election results to the Boundary Commission. (For the question of incorporation to be adopted, it must receive an affirmative majority vote.) Should voters approve the question, the effective date for the Commission's February 6, 1990 Findings of Fact and Order shall be June 3, 1990, and in such event, the Commission will call an election for the purpose of electing a charter commission.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT: The Village of Clarkston shall pay the costs of the election.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Charter Township of Independence NOTICE OF HEARING ON SPECIAL ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR THE GREEN ACRES SUBDIVISION SEWER IMPROVEMENTS PROJECT

The Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence has previously determined to construct the following sev improvements in the Charter Township of Independence: Green Acres Subdivision Sewer Improvements

The improvements consist of the acquisition and installation of sanitary sewers and related sewer improvements for Langle Drive, Church Street and Townview Street in the Green Acres Subdivision in the Charter Township of Independence; and to assess the cost thereof to a special assessment district consisting of the following described lands:

Description of Special Assessment District The Green Acres Subdivision Sewer Improvements Special Assessment District shall consist of lots 1 through 24 of the Green Acres Subdivision located in Section 20, T.4N., R.9E, parcels 08-20-356-001, 08-20-356-012 and 08-20-356-013 abut-ting Church Street and parcel 08-20-304-007 at the end of Townview, all located in the Charter Township of Independence. A public hearing was held on February 6, 1990, at which time all interested persons were given the opportunity to be heard relative to the making of said improvements and to the special assessment district therefor.

A special assessment roll assessing $166,915 of the cost of said improvements to the aforesaid special assessment district has been prepared and filed in the office of the Township Clerk.
PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that a public hearing will be held on Tuesday, April 17, 1990, at the Township Hall, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan, at 7:30 p.m. at which time any interested person will be given the opportunity to object to the special assessment roll as prepared by the Township Supervisor. A person objecting to the special assessment roll shall file the objection in writing with the Township Clerk before the close of the hearing or within such further time as the Township Board may grant.

Appearance and protest of the special assessment at the hearing is required in order to appeal the amount of the special assessment to the Michigan Tax Tribunal. An owner of or party in interest in property to be assessed, or his or her agent, may appear in person to protest the special assessment, or may protest the special assessment by letter filed with the Township Clerk at or prior to the time of the hearing, in which case appearance in person is not required. If the special assessment is protested as provided above, the owner or any party having an interest in the real property may file a written appeal of the special assessment with the Michigan Tax Tribunal or other court of competent jurisdiction with in 30 days after the confirmation of the special assessment roll. The plans and cost estimate of the improvements are on file with the Township Clerk for public inspection.

Once the bunny leaves, what about those eggs?

What do you do with a basket of colorfully-dyed Easter eggs the day after Easter?

"The answer to this commonly asked question depends on how long the eggs have been out of refrigeration and how carefully they have been handled during this time," says Sylvia Treitman, home economist of the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service. •

Leftover hard cooked Easter eggs that remain uncracked and have been out for "hunting" or display lessthan two hours at room temperature may safely be used for eating or in preparing other recipes. They should be consumed within two to three days, and kept unpeeled in the refrigerator. It is also very important to follow basic sanitation procedures such as washing hands and using clean utensils when preparing eggs for dying and later

Some tips to keep Easter-egg time safe and fun:

- Make a written map of where you have hidden
- - Hide Easter eggs in clean places protected from pet access, dirt or other obvious sources of bacteria.
- - After cooking hard eggs for decorating, air-cool in refrigerator in their shells in an open container. Water cooling is not recommended because of the possibility that germs could penetrate the eggshell.
 - Discard any dyed eggs that have become accidentally cracked.

- Cook eggs properly to prevent shells from cracking. Cracked shells allow bacteria to enter the egg.

Use pure food coloring or dyes formulated with food grade colorants.

For further information on Easter egg safety or other food questions, contact the Food and Nutrition Hotline, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., 858-0904.

FOR SALE: 2 MANUAL wheel chairs; computer and printer, $250; king-size bed. Call Linda 628-0175. IIILX14-3 hear the Spirit of the Lord. And Solomon said, "Lord God of FOR SALE: Changing table, stroller needs belt, Hide-a-bed, Israel, there is no God like thee in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keeps covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with all their heart." Hear this, saith the Lord, have turned up the fire of your lust. O shepherds that have no ear to hear, that will be hot against you to bring you to nought to make manifest the intent of your heart and show your shame. Why have you fail-ed to speak my word! Because you cannot hear. You have let the wiles of the devil scatter my truth, keeping your doctrines of vanity rather than My word. You have changed sides looking to your own, trusting in the arm of the flesh and esteeming men rather than me, saith the Lord. You are cunning workman that prepare graven images. You have idols of gold and doctrines of vanities that corrupt and turn my sheep to remaining in sin and even taking pleasure in it. I have waited for you to return unto Me, seeing your abominations. I have begun to give you over to your vanities and idols of gold that you want and have refused to turn from. HA! HA! Let them deliver you since you refuse my truth who have no ears to hear and no eyes to see. You will be in derision and who will deliver you? Call upon your gods that you have made! I called and you did not answer (even now your ears are dull) but even more made your neck stiff against my word polluting it with your vain imaginations to disobey and destroy faith in Me. There is no God beside Me! There is none other deliverer! I alone am He and there is none else! Now be it so! I have risen against your abominations. The cries have come to my ears. Walk in the light of your fire that you have kindled. AH! AH! ALSI ALSI Against whom do you sport yourselves? (IChr. 16 26 27 29) IIII Y14.2* 16.26,27,29). !!!LX14-2*
