Shopping center (finally) gets commission OK

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A 100,000 square-foot shopping center, slated for the southwest corner of Sashabaw and Waldon roads, cleared a one-and-a-half-year hurdle May 10 by receiving final site plan approval from the Independence Township planning commission.

"I think this is going to be one of our finest shopping centers. I feel good that we've went 180 degrees since we first started this project."

Joseph Figa

On a unanimous vote of 7-0, the planning commission recommended that the project go before the township board for final approval.

The proposed shopping center, Independence Towne Square, will feature a 40,000 square-foot Food Towne store. The remaining space will be rented out to various businesses. Some of the space, already spoken for, will be occupied by an M & R drug store, a Hallmark gift shop, a restaurant, and a fitness club.

The shopping center's developers, Independence Partners, methodically went through the 21 items of concern brought up by the planning commission in a previous meeting. Most of the items were landscape oriented and the changes seemed to satisfy the planning commission.

"I'd have to say that the landscaping plans of this project is one of the best we've seen in the township. This shopping center will definitely enhance the Sashabaw corridor," said Township Planner Richard Carlisle.

Commission members Jo Fussman and Joseph Figa concurred with Carlisle's statements.

"I think this is going to be one of our finest shopping centers," Figa said. "I feel good that we've went 180 degrees since we first started this project."

Charges likely for SJHS teen found with gun

A 14-year-old Sashabaw Junior High School student is facing civil charges and possible suspension for brandishing a pistol at school, on Friday, May 11.

According to Assistant Principal Vince Licata, a couple of students reported to him that they saw the youth carrying the .25 caliber pistol in his pocket. Junior high officials immediately called the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and charged the youth with carrying a concealed weapon.

Licata said that the boy took the gun from his mother's possession because he was expecting trouble from some Pontiac youths after school. During the initial search, the gun was not retrieved until later when it was found near the school's gymnasium.

The student is being held in Oakland County's Children's Village pending completion of a hearing that is scheduled to continue today before Oakland Probate Judge Barry Grant.

In terms of his possible suspension from Sashabaw Junior High, the Discipline Review Committee will hear his case on Friday, May 18.

"I'm really pleased and excited about the center," Fussman said. "All of these added touches in terms of landscaping should make it an excellent shopping center."

Don't forget to vote

Village residents can cast their ballot on the issue of cityhood at the Village Hall, 370 Depot Road on Monday, May 21.

The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The vote for cityhood, if passed on May 21, continues the process for becoming a city. It does not mean the village becomes a city after the Monday vote.

In the continued process for cityhood, another election will be held. The election is ordered by the Boundary Commission, and held to elect nine Charter Commissioners whose job is to draft a proposed charter for the new city.

After the Charter Commissioners agree upon a proposed charter, it is submitted to the state for approval.

If the charter is approved by the state, an election date is set for an election on the approval of the charter, and to also elect officials for the new city.

Tentative contract reached between teachers and district

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The Clarkston teacher's union and school officials have reached agreement on a tentative two-year contract beginning in the 1990-91 school year.

The settlement was reached in a mammoth bargaining session ending at 2:30 a.m. May 9.

The contract still must be ratified by rank and file teacher union members and approved by the school board before becoming final.

The talks were described as "friendly, open and cooperative" and focused on insurance, salary and class size, according to representatives from both sides.

"There was a lot of give and take," said Conrad Bruce, director of administrative services. "We evaluated a lot of issues, though the process was quite informal."

"We did a very conscientious job together," said Bill Curtis, president of the Clarkston Education Association, the teacher's union. "We tried to address every concern we were aware of and what was fair to everyone."

Both sides declined to reveal details of the contract until after union members and the school board have voted.

The school district and the union engaged in continuous bargaining, a new procedure, which resulted in the an agreement reached much earlier than in previous years.

Talks this year began last April and were completed in May. In past years, the talks would begin in the spring with hopes of completing them sometime in August.

"The superintendent wanted to try a new process," Bruce explained. "It's been quite successful."

The contract document was reviewed article by article, which was also new to negotiations this year.

The last time the contract was reviewed in such detail was during 1979-82 negotiations, Bruce said.

Six or seven subcommittees were formed to investigate various topics within the contract, Bruce explained.

"The subcommittees do the legwork," he said. "A lot of the background information and new ideas come out of subcommittee—the hard bargaining didn't take place until the last couple of months."

There were differences in the style of negotiating, as well, added Curtis.

"It was a lot more open around the table," Curtis said. "Traditionally, in years past, each side had a single spokesman who couldn't act without adjournment and caucusing. This year we threw out a lot of ideas and just brainstormed.

"We're optimistic that this will pave the way for more open and friendly negotiations in the future," Curtis said.

The union covers 295 employees within the school system.

Rudy's Market changes hands

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The sale of Rudy's Quality Market on Main Street, Clarkston, is now official.

Rudy's, as the store will still be known, was sold to four co-owners effective May 14.

Negotiations to sell Rudy's had been underway for approximately six months and were contingent upon the transfer of a liquor license from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

The store's new owners, John Esshaki, Jim Esshaki, Robert Esshaki and Laith Jonna, have begun operations in the facility.

The store will remain a full-service grocer and will offer quality meats, fine wines, prepared salads and a full deli.

Previous owners Fred and Bob Schwarze could not be reached for comment.

The new owners have operated facilities in Sterling Heights and Farmington Hills.

A view against Clarkston cityhood

Residents will pay higher taxes with cityhood

STEVE SECATCH wants the Village of Clarkston remain a village within Independence Township because of the services provide.

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Steve Secatch of South Main Street would like to see the Village of Clarkston remain a village, with Independence Township supplying its services.

"We're one community now, and if we become a city we will be two communities," Secatch said.

The village pays for services from the township, and if cityhood passes the village may find increased costs, he said.

"The township is subsidizing the village," Secatch said. "We (the village) can't provide for police, library, fire and Emergency Medical Service (EMS)."

Secatch serves as a fireman in West Bloomfield and is a member of the Independence Township Planning Commission. He moved to the village about four years ago and lived in Springfield Township for ten years before moving to his current address.

Secatch said there is no predicting what may happen to the cost of services purchased from the township once the village becomes a city.

"If we are legally separated the attitude could change," he said. "For 10 years it could go real good (purchasing services from the township), but 20 years from now — you don't know."

The village has never provided costly services, he said.

At present the village pays $55,000 for fire protection from the township, and $49,000 for police protection.

"I don't know of any community that's a half-square-mile that runs its own fire department," he said.

The tri-party fire department for Keego Harbor, Sylvan Lake and Orchard Lake have a budget of $170,000, he said.

"It's experience that puts out a fire," Secatch said.

"And there's no water in the village."

Village residents receive their water from individual wells on the homeowners property.

For the 3 mills ($55,000) village residents pay to the township for fire protection they receive experienced help, and if the village had to start up its own fire department there would be no comparison, he said.

"I'm looking at the worst case scenario," he said.

"It's better than not looking at it."

Secatch said some comments have been made about not having a voice in township government, but village residents can get elected to the township board.

"I think our vote does count," he said. "We have a voice in the township now."

Secatch likes what he sees happening on the village council too.

"I think the village council is doing a good job," he said.

If the village does become a city Secatch would get more involved in a city government.

"I care about the village too," he added.

When it comes to preservation Secatch said the village isn't the only place attempting to save historic structures.

Secatch became part of a committee formed about eight months ago which is attempting to adopt an ordinance for saving structures in the township area dating from 1872 and before.

The ordinance will probably not be in place before another 1 1/2 years because research on each home is needed before it is passed, he said.

After seeing a couple of historic structures come down because of subdivisions being built, it was a realization that it was time to put an ordinance in effect, he said.

"I guess you learn from our mistakes," Secatch said.

A view in favor of Clarkston cityhood

Cityhood needed to preserve village boundaries

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Robert F. Whitmer moved to Clarkston about three years ago. He's now fighting for cityhood because he wants to see the quality of life within the village boundaries saved, he said.

Whitmer, an attorney, is concerned that if cityhood is not passed the Village of Clarkston will be taken over by Independence Township, which is certain to become a city, he said.

He channeled his concern into a group that has submitted a weekly column to The Clarkston News called "Keeping Clarkston Small."

Whitmer said the township keeps growing and he sees its needs take the form of more taxation. In the village life is established.

"In the village we support what is mature," he said. "From the petunia's to the picket fences the village radiates a special charm."

Whitmer moved to Michigan from Akron, Ohio where he was raised, and he likes life in the Village of Clarkston.

"This is a superior lifestyle," Whitmer said.

He has worked in the Troy area, and when he tells people where he lives they will often remark about the quality of life in Clarkston as being desirable, Whitmer said.

"People know about its lifestyle," he added.

Whitmer has personally taken the time to canvass about 100 homes in the village, inquiring about cityhood.

Some of the people have preconceived ideas about what cityhood would mean to the village, he said.

"I'm acquainted with bigger government and the aspects of government, and I see this (cityhood) as a good thing," he said.

Whitmer said the issue of cityhood has to do with preservation, and the fact that the village was established before the township.

"Some have toiled their whole lives for this," he said. "We have forebearers to answer to."

Whitmer said he has heard cityhood referred to as a doughnut with the village being the hole in the doughnut if cityhood passes.

"It's not a hole, but a nucleus and the rings are the township," he said.

The township provides many services, such as, fire, police and sewer maintenance to the village, but Whitmer doesn't think that cityhood would be detrimental to the services provided by the township, he said.

"It's been a good partnership," he said. "It shouldn't be fatal to incorporate."

Whitmer said the government structure should remain the same if cityhood passes, and some advantages will come from the village incorporating.

State revenue sharing could possibly mean the city of Clarkston would run a budget surplus, he said.

Whitmer envisions city government as being more responsive to the needs of the half-square-mile village boundaries, he said.

"I don't know a decent argument against cityhood."

Whitmer said. "This is an incredibly important vote for village residents."

He then went on to paraphrase a quote from a famous writer who lived in a village, or hamlet.

"It's to be or not to be," he said. "But I urge people to vote yes."

ROBERT WHITMER favors turning the Village of Clarkston into a city. Village residents will vote on the cityhood issue May 21.

The ballot

What it says:

For the purpose of voting on the proposed incorporation of the Village of Clarkston as a fifth class city.

What it means:

The residents of the Village of Clarkston have an opportunity to vote on whether or not the village will become a fifth class city. A fifth class city is based on the number of inhabitants, between 750 and 2,000 residents, within the territory.

The Village of Clarkston has about 1,000 residents.

A fifth class city also has only one voting precinct.

Township jobs could be affected by cityhood

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The Clarkston cityhood decision could change the face of township government.

According to state law, appointed and elected officials must live in the area in which they serve.

If Clarkston becomes a city, six township officials now serving on various boards would be in non-compliance, because they live in Clarkston, not Independence Township.

Though the May 21 vote would continue the cityhood process, a cityhood charter must be completed and approved. The process could take more than a year, during which time some of those township terms would expire.

The six living in the village and serving on township boards include Supervisor Frank Ronk, Board Trustee Frank Millard, Planning Commission member Jo Fussman, Planning Commission member Steve Secatch, Wetlands Board member Harry Mosher and Cablecasting Board member Gary Tressel.

The only full-time job that would be affected is that of the township supervisor, Frank Ronk.

Though Ronk declined to say what he would do if I would."

Millard is currently campaigning for an Oakland County Commissioner seat, and does not plan to work with the board if his bid is successful.

However, he says township positions should not be a factor in the upcoming cityhood election.

"Unfortunately, this may affect other people as they look at the people serving on the board living in the village," Millard commented. "It just basically boils down to the fact that people have a right to vote on the issue."

"The township, in my view, doesn't have a say in the matter," Millard said.

Jo Fussman's planning commission term would also expire before cityhood would become final, but says she would like to continue her work with the township.

"If I could," Fussman said.

She added that she's not in favor of cityhood, and feels that village views are represented well now.

"I think the village has a fair share of representation in the township relative to population," Fussman said.

Village officials say if cityhood becomes a reality, they would welcome the village residents that want to serve.

"The village always needs planning commissioners and other appointees," said Village President Sharron Catallo. "Those who served the township in such capacity would be welcomed to seek such positions with village government."

"If I really wanted the job, I would move to the township."

Supervisor Frank Ronk

cityhood becomes reality, he says he does have options available to him.

"If I really wanted the job, I would move to the township," Ronk said.

Ronk said he was aware of cityhood when he ran for his seat, but didn't think it was likely.

"I guess I didn't feel the boundary commission would approve it, but they did," Ronk said.

Though Millard's term would expire before cityhood could become a reality, he too was aware of it's possibility.

"I thought my being on the board might lessen the transition," Millard said. "It's not my career being on the township board, but if I could help with the negotiations,

Keeping Clarkston Small

It's up to you

Citizens for Clarkston

On Monday May 21, village voters will determine the destiny of the Village of Clarkston.

A "Yes" vote will not make the village a city. It will only allow the cityhood process to continue with the later election on nine charter commissioners to draft a charter.

Only if you approve that charter, at yet another election, would we become a city.

A "NO" vote, on the other hand would permanently end the cityhood process.

Clarkston has had small boundaries and small government for 100 years. These have proved essential to preserving the unique character of the village through local control of zoning, ordinances and taxes.

Unfortunately, due to surrounding growth and development which are beyond its control, Clarkston must now change the form of that government in order to survive.

Over the last 20 years, development and growth have caused many townships to become cities in order to take advantage of cityhood powers or to prevent being absorbed by some other city.

For this reason it is inevitable that all or part of Independence Township will someday become a city.

Clarkston, if it remains a village, would undoubtedly be absorbed as part of such a city and vanish forever.

Thus, your vote on May 21 will determine Clarkston's destiny since it will decide whether the cityhood process can continue or whether this opportunity, and eventually the village, will be lost.

Also your vote, as one of only a few hundred, can decide the form a city government would take if a later charter election does come to pass.

Finally, your vote, as one of just hundreds, can decide who you want to run your local government.

In the end, that is what the upcoming cityhood election is all about — your vote.

A small government makes your vote count more.

A large government makes your vote smaller, just one of many thousands. Cityhood will assure that you keep a small local government, responsible to you for all local taxes, thus preserving and strengthening the power of "your vote."

On Monday, May 21, it's up to you. Use your vote wisely; vote "YES" for Clarkston.

Citizens for Clarkston is comprised of an informal group of Clarkston residents who are in favor of cityhood. Village residents agree to vote on the issue May 21.

Five to receive honors at May 23 breakfast

Time is running short to buy tickets for the Fifth Annual Michigan Week Community Awards Breakfast.

Sponsored by Independence Township and the Village of Clarkston, the breakfast is planned for 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 23, at the Spring Lake Country Club, Maybee Road, Independence Township.

Tickets are $10 per person or $80 for a table of 10 and are available at the offices of Independence Township, Village of Clarkston and the National Bank of Detroit. The deadline to buy tickets is Monday, May 21. For more information, call Denise Schons at 625-3776.

Following are this year's award winners:

Citizen: Jan and Durham Downs, who have been instrumental in the successful school millage elections over the past three years, have been members of the Blue Ribbons Kids Committee. Together they volunteered over 1,000 hours to enter voter history over more than 14,000 school district voters onto a computer data base.

Both are also active in the Clarkston Band Boosters. Last year Durham Downs co-chaired the Citizens Facility Review Committee for the Clarkston Community School District.

Property beautification: Lehman Investment Co., Ed Adler, won the award for Clarkston Crossing, a retail and office center on M-15, just north of the Village of Clarkston.

According to Mary Himburg, presenter of the award, the renovation of the large commercial building has improved the community. Lehman Investments also maintains its property well — on M-15, as well as its office building at 39 S. Main St., Clarkston, and the Clarkston Mills at 20 W. Washington St., Clarkston.

Volunteer: Robert J. Pilarcik has served as a president and board member of the Independence Land Conservancy, which owns land in the township purely for the preservation of the landscape and natural resources of the community.

Business person: Rick Detkowski, with his Clarkston Disposal company, has initiated a curbside recycling project, which is a result of hours of work on county and state committees that deal with the problems of solid waste disposal and recycling.

Historic preservation: Peggy and Alex Bruni have spent eight months renovating their 1856 home on Main Street, just north of the Independence Township Hall, restoring it to its original beauty. In addition, Peggy Bruni is in her second year as treasurer of the Clarkston Community Historical Society.

Fred York, well driller and servicer, has a 10-year plan to retire to the Roscommon area. His first plan was to already be there drilling wells. Regardless, he says the area is booming with building. One contractor, he said, is building 100 cabins, 24x30 this summer. Fred said a friend has drilled 50 wells so far in 1990 in the Roscommon-Houghton Lake area.

Grandson, Danny, who'll be 5 in June, entered a Hop-for-Muscular Dystrophy charity through his pre-school. He came to Momma and Grandma for pledges. They were to guess how many times he'd hop in two minutes. They asked for a time trial. The little redhead hopped all of one and a half seconds and asked, "Is that two minutes?" From that, and knowing his unpredictableness, Momma decided to pledge 50 cents a hop. Then she changed it to 25, then to 10 cents, knowing the active one could break the bank. Of course, he could just watch the others, too. Danny hopped 226 times in 120 seconds. The only other time he moves that fast is toward a squeeze bottle in our refrigerator.

I surprise myself by the attention I show when Bob Ross and Alexander Warren are painting on public television.

I do not surprise myself with how quickly I change television stations when a chef comes on to prepare some supposedly edible dish wearing a 6-day growth of beard. Better he should stay in the kitchen, or shave.

Do dentists realize patients feel they are recommending a particular toothbrush when they give one out? I do. However, I don't feel any recommendation when the barber gives me a lollipop.

At a toast-roast of retiring Oxford teacher-coach Elmer Ball recently, assistant superintendent Tony Bronzo said, "The difference between a superintendent of schools and Big Foot is that there have been two certified sightings of Big Foot." He may remain an assistant . . . forever.

The trouble with people who talk too fast is that they often say something they haven't thought of yet.

Weather watchers take note: The moon and the weather may change together, but change of the moon does not change the weather. And, from twelve 'till two tells what the day will do.

Will Rogers said, "I tell you folks, all politics is applesauce." Dick E. Bird News adds, "And in most cases the apples were rotten!"

Boy, it's tough being a Detroit Tiger fan. They are only weak in nine positions. I haven't put Sparky in one of the positions yet. How can a team search so many years for a third baseman and not find one? Cecil Fielder is the exception on the team. He'll strike out more than he hits, but he is giving the team the long ball. It's beginning to look like another 100-game loss season. Woe is me, and them.

EARLY MORNING IN THE ELECTRIC EEL'S RESIDENCE

Paper is used for... many things

A little while back we asked readers what are some ways to re-use a newspaper. Surely, we thought, there had to be other uses for a newspaper besides being informed of local news and advertising.

And we were right. We received a number of responses. Some were straightforward, some comical. Some people signed their names to the uses, others must have been too embarrassed.

Regardless, as we stated we would print the responses - here they are:

* "I shred the paper and put it between vegetable rows," said Willard Hennin, of Pontiac. He claims the paper fertilizes, keeps weeds down and keeps earthworms happy. His cucumbers are larger and more numerous because he puts fence wire on a post with shredded newspaper heavily around the base, causing plenty of moisture retention for roots.

* Deborah Barlow, of Oxford, likes to read the paper but has a number of other uses for it, including lining her parakeet cage, washing windows, wrapping her potatoes, boot maintenance and critter repellent.

"... Or, do you have real leather boots," she wrote, "that are damp from rain and need to return to natural shape - do not dry near forced air . . . simply crunch up newspaper sheets and stuff into boots until desired shape is achieved, remove when dry or replace as newspaper soaks up water from the leather," and

"... Take a medium layer of newspapers and lay in the bottom of your garbage cans. Now drop about 1/2 cup bleach onto newspapers and allow to soak in - no dogs or other critters will mess with your cans of trash."

* Rodney Robertson, of Auburn Hills, was creative with his suggestions. "As an artist and a father of two small children I find using newspapers for projects helps me save money and recycle paper. Paper mache projects ranging from elephant foot tree planters to window ducks allow me to be creative and to spend fun time with my kids

"I also use the paper as a drop cloth when I paint or do other messy projects."

Rodney also says any paper, including a newspaper, can be turned into an envelope. We received his suggestions in an envelope made of newspaper.

* Alfred Bransdorfer, publisher of The Clare Sentinel newspaper wrote us this: "I will be happy to respond to your request on what to do with your newspaper."

"I have a cat and your paper would be just the right size to fit in the litter box. While I don't have a bird your paper would be ideal for lining the bird cage."

"I'm sure you have a number of vets in your area that could use your newspaper to line the bottoms of the cages."

"Perhaps you might contract with some of the dairy farmers to use in the barns."

Here are the other responses we received:

* Shred up and use for cattle bedding: Bea Walters, Oxford.

* Take to St Joseph's Catholic Church's recycling bin (open day and night): Mr and Mrs Tom Schiermbock, Oxford.

* Layer papers on baby's high chair - keeps the chair clean and when the top paper gets too dirty, throw it away. The paper is the perfect size for the chair: Carla Viebicke, Orion.

* Take papers and milk containers to the Michigan Humane Society. The paper is used for animal bedding; the tops are cut off milk jugs and used for water and food containers: Mrs D Lumnford, Rochester Hills.

* Store newspapers in the freezer because a full freezer is more efficient to run than an empty freezer. The added bonus is there are no piles of newspapers around the house, but still available for wrapping, packing boxes, painting or window cleaning: Marilyn Elsarelli, Lakeville.

* Lay paper in the garden, between rows before mulching, to keep weeds down. Good ground or whole in a compost pile. "It's wood and turns to pulp anyway." In the bottom of flower pots, helps flowers grow. Good for starting fires in fireplace: Wilson Garner, Auburn Hills.

* Used in gardens keeps weeds down and moisture in, they also degrade into the soil. The paper is also sent to a friend in Kalkaska. In return the Kalkaska Leader comes here: Dawn Furlong, Oxford.

* Save for Boy Scouts recycling; use them to start a fire in the pot-belly stove; take them to work; wrap covers and also to pack boxes, for filler: Pamela Coldwell, Oxford.

* Use paper as a plant water-catcher; bike repair drop cloth; telephone message slate. "Our residence hall is having a contest for recycling. The floor that collects the most papers wins, so every week our newspapers are collected in hopes that our floor will take the cake." Barb Patterson, student at Michigan State University.

And, finally, here are the other uses we found:

- * To make pinatas
- * To carry logs
- * To hide Easter eggs
- * To make a four-leaf clover
- * To find a date
- * To cover up ugly things
- * To puff up a book bag
- * To cut out letters for secret messages
- * To wrap ham and sausages
- * To fold up and kill bugs
- * To use as a hat
- * To use as curtains
- * To wrap your used gum
- * To use for insulation

Letters to the Editor

Quote is revealing

Finally, some truths are emerging from the Clarkston School Board.

To quote Thomas in a newspaper story dated April 5, "The scenario has changed; the new scenario is that is you have a strong feeling that is different than the rest, then you will pay for it."

What is going on within the Clarkston School Board?

And to quote Thomas once more "My concern was that last year we had money and then it was gone and we were in a devastated mode again."

Could this situation have been created because the board approved EVERYONE in the Clarkston school system an exorbitant increase in pay and benefits and this action then left no monies with which to operate the Clarkston schools?

Or possibly this action, along with many others that the public isn't even aware of, created this devastation mode.

Look at advantages

Most all the talk for cityhood for the village starts with the question: "What are the disadvantage of becoming a city?"

Understandably, folks in the village would like someone to say there is no chance their taxes will go up.

Of course, there can be no such guarantees, but then the township cannot guarantee its taxes won't increase in the coming years.

In fact, the township faces the increased cost of a growing government with more personnel and higher salaries. And, the township faces the need to install and improve roads, sewers, and the like, to support the profit hungry outsiders speculating and developing land at a pace that seems to be out of control.

The rumors that this new form of government necessarily means that there will be some added, but unspecified, cost should be ignored. The origin and reason for this rumor campaign is, at best, suspect.

The real question should be: "What disadvantages does the village avoid by cityhood?"

Simply put, the village will control its own destiny, rather than be at the mercy of the township.

If the township followed through on plans to become a city which included the village, the residents of the village would have a severely diminished influence on what occurs in town.

The township has demonstrated that it has very different interests than the village, and very, very different ideas about the future.

Without cityhood, the fundamental protection of the village's unique character and what it means for the entire community will be lost.

When the village becomes a city, it will not divide the community.

Rather, the continuing vitality of Clarkston that will result for cityhood will benefit us all.

It is for that reason that I urge the village residents to vote "YES" to become a city...even though my house happens to be in the township.

PTO excellent example to kids

We would like to recognize the Pine Knob Parent Teacher Organization for the many hours they spend doing things for the children at Pine Knob school.

The computer helpers, assisting classroom teachers, running dittos, picture ladies and popcorn helpers are just a few of the many things they do to help us on a daily basis.

The numerous hours they spent on the school fair and the fall fund-raiser are an example of their dedication to the children and Pine Knob school.

We certainly appreciate them.

From This Perspective

The nature of government

Tracy King

I have often been heard complaining about the nature of government in our country.

"It's so political," I say.

"What else," my colleagues answer. "They're politicians; that's what they do."

I'll grant them that, but in the case of Clarkston's cityhood issue, playing politics can be very expensive.

Certainly there are many pros and cons for cityhood. Opponents and proponents of the move have worked diligently to compile information supporting both views.

But as that information is disseminated to the public, several large discrepancies can be noted, especially in the area of financing the new city's services.

A letter to The News from the Clarkston Village Council says the "benefits of cityhood will result in little or no increase in the cost of government."

The council attributes this to the Michigan Municipal League, which has represented a number of other cities and villages.

The letter also states that "contracts with the township for most of these services would best serve the citizens of both."

Has it been determined that contracts with the township would continue?

A letter from the Committee to Preserve the Village, of which some township representatives are a part, claim that cityhood would be very expensive.

The letter lists increased costs such as $32,900 for fire service, $34,979 for library fees and $323,315 for police coverage, all which the township now provides.

Have the village and township become so divided that they have failed to discuss the result of cityhood among themselves?

The whole cityhood issue has its foundation in this atmosphere of uneasiness between the village and township.

Claims of the village's "power grab" have been aired, as have charges that "Clarkston must change the form of government in order to survive."

Two governing bodies living in supposed co-existence of one another could have liasons or at least an occasional joint meeting or two to discuss business that affects both sides.

Communication may not settle the "land-grabbing" issue between the two sides, but it would at least allow for a consensus on the cost of cityhood should it occur.

Officials should not rely on a complicated and potentially costly cityhood procedure to structure relations as they should exist.

Racism remark wasn't literal

Jim
Fitzgerald

A man who knows Mayor Coleman Young well, and me a little, politely suggested it was unfair of me to write that Young's "only reaction to justified criticism is to holler racism."

The mayor's friend was right, of course. I often exaggerate to make my point. When I take my grandchildren to Kmart, I don't actually buy them whatever they want. If it won't fit in the car, it stays.

If I don't believe the mayor blames only racism for all criticism - and I don't - then I shouldn't contribute to that widely held perception. But why do so many people have that perception? The mayor's friend - let's call him Henry, which isn't his name - offers an interesting explanation.

Henry puts much of the blame on the youth and lack of historical perspective of the reporters and editors - white and black, print and electronic - who decide what the public is told, and not told, about Young's statements and actions.

Henry, who is white, said Young often draws upon his history when responding to reporters' questions. It's a history that goes all the way back to antiracism activism in the 1930s. It's a history, Henry said, that justifies Young's contention that racism is often "just one component" of the motives that compel people to bash him and Detroit. And it's a history not shared by much of the media covering the mayor's day-by-day activities.

The result, Henry said, is that the press "jumps on the racism angle" - it makes good headlines - and ignores the other motives - political, economical, etc. - that Young also ascribes to the bashers.

Henry was responding to the recent column in which I denied a reader's charge that I am a "rotten racist." Some contrasting response certainly strengthened my agreement with Henry and Young that racism is still out there, as foul and unfair as ever. Listen to a reader from Bellaire:

"Don't tell me about black folks. I had to quit my job because of them and couldn't wait to get the hell out of Detroit. I'm glad you choose to live in Detroit even if they do steal your cars. I hope they keep it up. I'll be waiting to hear that you got mugged or your wife got raped, then you'll have something to write about."

But most of the response to that column was gratifying. It's nice to know so many black readers don't think I'm a racist. I was particularly grateful for a conversation with a black man who has held two of the highest political offices in Michigan, and whom I've always admired. He deserves the same privacy given Henry, so let's call him John. John has been a friend and supporter of Young for around 45 years, but he's wavering.

In the last few years, Young's arrogance "has been driving me crazy," John said. He is particularly upset by the mayor's hostility toward the press for reporting the investigations clouding his administration. "You fellows should report that stuff; the public has to know what's going on."

Finally, there was this observation from a former state legislator, a white man (who also deserves privacy) with a long history of fighting racism and reading my stuff:

"Though all that history of civil rights regression (under Ronald Reagan), it has always been a source of encouragement to read the sharp writings of yours and a small handful of other champions of common sense and individual freedoms."

Re: Hizzoner the Mayor: His arrogance is to be deplored, of course. But who would you replace him with? I saw no one in the last election who could come close to coping with that awesomely complex, problem-loaded job. Did you?

No.

Rezoning decision was the right one

In response to the letter to the Editor of May 9, titled "Denial Unfair," I am confused as to what some people see the duties of the village government to be.

I don't think that anyone would disagree that the Goyettes are very good people, citizens and neighbors and that it is very important to do everything possible to help nurture the business climate in and around Clarkston. However, the decision that the council made regarding the Goyette Funeral Home was the only decision that could be made.

The village council, as well as all government, is charged with the responsibility and duty, of making, interpreting and enforcing the laws, rules and ordinances of their jurisdiction. That is exactly what the council did in this case.

There are several reasons that it would not have been appropriate for the council to give approval to the Goyette request:

1. The current funeral home property is non-conforming to the existing ordinance. This means no changes are to be made to the property unless it is made to conform with the existing ordinance.
2. The proposal that was made would have not only kept the funeral home property non-conforming, but it would also have made the residential lot next-door non-conforming. The result being that we would now have two properties non-conforming rather than one.
3. The proposal was not a rezoning request as stated in the letter to the editor. It was a request for special use. If the village were to allow rezoning of properties for such cases, our attorneys would be spending a lot of time in court defending spot zoning cases against the village. This is an area that the council should try to avoid.

It should also be noted that the village spent a lot of time and effort trying to make this work for the Goyettes, and that it was a very difficult situation for the council. As difficult as it was, I applaud the council for keeping emotions and feelings out of their decisions and basing them on our existing laws and ordinances. I am very sympathetic to the Goyette situation, but I do believe that the council did what they have been elected to do.

I also feel that it is very unfair to insinuate that the council is attempting to put the final nail into the coffin of another village business as stated in "Denial Unfair."

Supportive parents

The students and staff of Bailey Lake Elementary School are extremely fortunate to have such an active, caring and thoughtful group of parents supporting our school!

We have always had tremendous parental involvement at Bailey Lake and the 1989-90 school year has been no exception.

Leading the way with undying enthusiasm, our P.T.A. has been extremely supportive this year.

The contributions they have given to our school in time and financial resources are too numerous to mention in this letter, but they include the Book Fair and reading incentive programs, Santa's Secret Shop, roller skating parties, the Variety Show, Ice Cream Social, School Fair, Picture Lady Program and activities surrounding our 25-year celebration.

The breakfast and luncheon they provided last week for Teacher's Recognition Week were enjoyed by all, and the basket filled with goodies!

Thank You for all you have done for us this past week and throughout the year.

The Bailey Lake Staff

Support cityhood

Over the last two years, I have ardently supported cityhood for the Village of Clarkston.

As the cityhood election nears, it occurs to me that I have never stated why I am so personally committed to this issue so that the validity of my motives might be fully understood and be beyond question.

I have been employed by the State of Michigan as an Assistant Attorney General for over 16 years.

During my tenure in this position, I have worked with, and had the opportunity to observe the workings of, government at all levels: federal, state and local.

The one most important lesson I have learned from this experience is that larger government usually does not provide greater efficiency, just greater bureaucracy and higher taxation.

The cardinal principle of American government is a government "of the people, by the people and for the people."

Small, largely volunteer, local governments still fulfill this goal.

They have few employees, no bureaucracy, and simple straightforward meetings with few complexities and ample time for all to be heard. They are responsible only to a small group of voters who can directly affect their makeup and decisions.

The citizens of Clarkston must act to assure that we never lose our small local government. The only way we can achieve such assurance is by changing its form.

This may technically change the name of our government from that of a village to that of a city.

However, our citizens, though the careful drafting and approval of a city charter can preserve what Clarkston's government is and should always remain — a government "of the people."

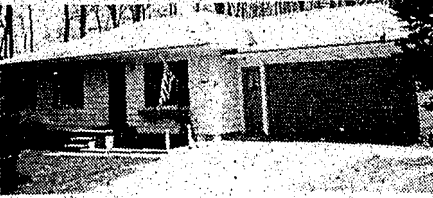

Vote "YES" for Clarkston on May 21.

Every effort to improve counts

I am an active member of the Clarkston High School Environmental Concerns Group. I am not writing as a representative of the whole group because I have seen what we have accomplished and I trust in our group's integrity.

This integrity is important in my approach to helping the environment.

I've never tried to convince myself that all of a sudden I would be able to stop using all products that are hazardous to the environment.

But I am convinced of my ability to search out alternatives or try and reduce my use of those products.

Still there are times when I am caught off guard and I am forced to use styrofoam or polyurethane.

In these instances I don't feel overwhelming guilt because I am conscious of what I am doing.

I swallow my pride a bit and use only what I must. I can take comfort in knowing that these instances are becoming less commonplace in my life.

Also, my parents fertilize the lawn. They also pay the bills so I have little say in the matter.

But I am confident that my parents don't overuse it or dispose of it in an unsafe manner.

The number of things that are environmentally unsafe is too large to imagine never using them. But these numbers should not discourage people from trying.

I have learned that we all produce hazardous waste. Because of this fact, I would never point an accusing finger at anyone because of their practices or livelihood. My purpose in joining Environmental Concerns Group was to educate myself on how I can help the environment, not to offend people from a low-phosphate soap box.

I thank the Clarkston High School Environmental Concerns Group, Bottles for Buildings, and EMEAC Groundwater Leadership Team for providing me with many positive experiences and opportunities.

Steve Christensen

Approve rezoning

I still cannot believe that the rezoning request from the Goyette Funeral Home was denied by the Clarkston Village Council.

Especially after a village attorney had looked at all aspects of the request and said there was no reason why this request would not be granted.

Why did this attorney mysteriously disappear and another village attorney appear at the meeting that was to approve this request?

Please reconsider. A business that has served this community for many, many years with loving personal service is striving to grow with the community and to continue to improve their service to this village and community.

The village council should be encouraging this growth and improved service to the betterment of our community.

Cityhood keeps village the center

The referendum on incorporation for the Village of Clarkston offers village residents their last, best chance to preserve the character and quality of life in the village, while extending a measure of protection against encroaching township growth and taxes.

The proposal to incorporate carries much to recommend it: permanent political boundaries for a mature community; an increase in revenue sharing from the State of Michigan; a safe haven from a service-hungry township and its inevitable appetite for higher taxes; an unalterable village community more responsive, at reduced cost, to the needs of its citizens.

In addition to these undeniable virtues to incorporation, there is an equally important, but less perceived, set of intangibles conferred by the quest to become a city.

"Clarkston," a borderless but recognizable community to outsiders calling to mind an unhurried lifestyle amid a beautiful natural and architecturally-unique setting, gains its special character from the village.

The village, in turn, lends this special quality out, at no cost, to the entire township, which benefits thereby. But it is critical that Clarkston keep its core, the village, in order to preserve the cultural identity that ripples from within the village to the community proper.

If village residents were to forsake this opportunity at self-preservation, the township could offer its gambit at incorporation, dissolving the village and rendering indistinct the special relation that the heart bears to the whole. What was once the Village of Clarkston would be no more than a thoroughfare connecting one indistinguishable North Oakland County community to another.

Metaphorically, the Village of Clarkston is many things converging on one idea: an island in the stream, the eye of the storm, a heart of hearts.

It is in the interests of the Village of Clarkston and of Independence Township as a whole, to have a center that can hold. To keep it a village we must make it a city.

As a resident of the Village of Clarkston with more than a passing interest in the cost and quality of life in this community, I urge fellow village residents to vote "yes" for village incorporation May 21.

Robert F. Whitmer

Vote yes for self-determination

What kind of life do we want in the village?

Do we want to decide how much we pay in taxes and for what do we pay them?

For our part Janette and I want to keep the values that make this community the Clarkston we have known and enjoyed over the past 20 years.

As the May 21st Clarkston cityhood vote approaches, the key issue is self-determination.

We are concerned that some village residents may wonder — why vote — why not wait and see what the outcome of the election is before making up their minds?

The answer is, this could be the only chance you are going to get. If the cityhood process for the village does not go forward now there is a distinct possibility that the township would, at some time in the near future vote to become a city and absorb the village.

This is not what we want.

In short, vote yes on the 21st and be part of the process that will assure the future of our village as we know it.

Jim and Janette Hitchcock

Handicapped are employable, too

Handicapped people must not let others' opinions be a guide to their own self-worth. I believed in myself and what I could accomplish — and I found an agency to support me.

I refused to believe local businesses when the owners told me I was not capable because I was in a wheelchair. No one would hire me. They assumed because I'm sitting down there's something wrong with me.

They wouldn't take the chance to see what I can do. Now thanks to Oakland Livingston Human Service Agency, I am living independently and working at a job that I love.

It's all because of the HAPEN program (handicapped adults preschool education network). They trained me to be a teacher's aide in a Head Start program.

I like to get right out of my wheelchair and on the floor to play with these great kids! The teachers seem pleased with my work, so my self-confidence is growing every day.

Thanks again, OLHSA, for looking at the whole of me, and giving me a chance and the skills to move ahead.

Small government retains character

On Monday, May 21, 1990, you will have the opportunity to vote in one of the most important elections ever held by the Village of Clarkston — and election that will decide the future of the Village itself.

The ballot question is whether the Village should continue the process by which it could become a city.

Thus far, Clarkston has been able to retain its character because the village has a small local government responsible directly to you as one of a group of only several hundred voters.

Were it to be absorbed by the township as part of a larger city in the future, your vote would become only one of the 15,000 represented by that much larger government.

While the township may have no such plans at the present time, its officials have said that Clarkston should be a part of their city if there is to be any city.

The cityhood process began over two years ago. During the intervening period, the Village Council has gathered hundreds of pages of documents and talked to dozens of other communities and authorities on this issue.

In the end, we have become firmly convinced that cityhood is the only way to absolutely assure that the village and its unique character will continue to exist.

Unless we act first it will be too late.

There are those who claim that cityhood will be too expensive or that we are merely making a "power grab."

As to the first assertion, the Michigan Municipal League (which represents hundreds of both cities and villages) says the benefits of cityhood will result in little or no increase in the cost of government.

Further, the State Boundary Commission reviewed 18 statutory criteria for cityhood, including the cost and adequacy of services if we became a city and found the village currently meets all of those criteria.

Village officials are, of course, also taxpayers who need to be concerned about the cost of government. That is precisely why we have chosen to devote hundreds of hours a year to our positions on a mostly volunteer basis.

The trustees do not receive salaries, fringe benefits, cars or payments for attending special meetings.

Rather, only $25 per regular meeting, a maximum of $600 per year.

As to the argument that we are attempting a "power grab" the only township powers cityhood would transfer to the village are performing village property assessments, collecting county and school taxes and conducting state and national elections.

As a village, we already have the power, if we chose to do so, to provide any of the other township services such as fire and parks and recreation.

However, even after cityhood, we believe contracts with the township for most of these services would best serve the citizens of both.

Moreover, whatever additional powers cityhood confers would be exercised by whomever you would elect to the new city council positions.

The present council members would all lose their positions upon cityhood. If we wished to continue to serve our community, we would have to run for the new council.

We have worked hard to obtain the right for you to vote on the cityhood issue. We have also held numerous hearings at which any and all citizens have been able to openly discuss the issues and present their views.

This opportunity to maintain the character of the village we all love so dearly and to secure its future will probably never come again. For the sake of Clarkston and our way of life, say "YES" to cityhood.

The Clarkston Village Council

Cityhood could be costly move

The Committee to Preserve the Village of Clarkston has collected these figures from various service agencies. There has been no factual information provided to village residents on cityhood.

Vote no on May 21, or based on current services, there will be additional costs.

Why should we, as village residents, pay more, or the same, for reduced services?

If we preserve the village and vote no as residents of the village we:

- *Preserve the historic Village of Clarkston
- *Keep a village voice in township policy and representation and maintain voting rights in the township.
- *Maintain one community.
- *Have continuity of services to preserve our safety and welfare.

*Continue to receive all services provided by the township.

*All township general fund services currently cost village residents $24,547, plus the contract for police and the voted fire millage.

Village residents currently use 10 percent of the fire service (based on actual runs) but only pay for five percent of the total cost. The current cost is $58,827; the city cost is $91,728; the increased cost is $32,901.

In the area of assessing, independent contractors must be hired, at $29 per parcel, to replace the current service provided by the township. The current cost is $11,912; the city cost is $16,443; the increased cost is $4,530.

The current police service will be terminated. A new county contract for 24-hour coverage, seven days-per-week would be a significant cost increase. The current cost is $49,020; the city cost is $372,335; the increased cost would be $323,315.

An additional fee for library services as they now exist will be charged. An increased cost of $34,979 will result.

An additional $10 per person non-resident fee for every parks and recreation activity will be assessed. The current lease for the operation of Deer Lake will be terminated. Cityhood would eliminate any obligation by the township to provide services to the senior citizens. The increased cost, based on 1989 usage, would be $3,000.

The Committee to Preserve the Village of Clarkston

Reporter's Notebook

Supervisor Collin Walls of Springfield Township showed his humor when he recently sent a letter to Phil Lichok, an Oakland County sheriff's deputy who volunteered with the May 5 cleanup of the township. In part, it read:

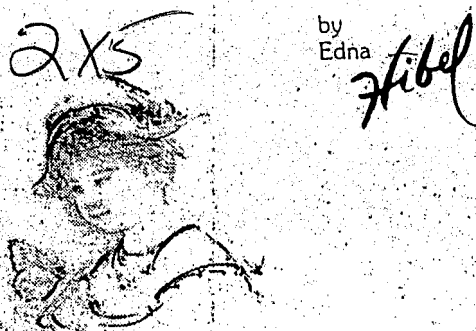

"You sure picked a crazy way to spend your day off. Next time we get a load of muddy tires I'll be sure to give you a call."

"Please accept the thanks of the Springfield Township Board and the whole community for your help on Saturday. ... You will have to wait for heaven for a complete reward, but I hope it is a long time coming."

Clarkston-area students and their parents have an opportunity to get a preview of college life from people who ought to know — former Clarkston High School students who now attend college.

The College Forum is set for 7 p.m. Thursday, May 24, at the high school. It is sponsored by the Clarkston Academic Boosters, National Honor Society and the Clarkston Foundation.

Students and parents may choose three sessions — each is comprised of a panel of students.

Following are the panel categories: larger Michigan public universities, smaller Michigan public universities, private colleges, out-of-state universities and schools for specialized training.

The students in the panel are to address student life, academic pressures, faculty support, alcohol use on campus, food quality and more.

In addition, CHS counselor William Hartwell will be on hand to answer questions about financial aid, testing, applications, scholarships and course requirements.

Suggestions for following state law on leashes

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Spring's warm temperatures have motivated thousands to forsake the indoor life and take to the great outdoors. Unfortunately, humans aren't the only creatures running free these days.

Reports of confrontations between citizens and unleashed dogs have already started to circulate in and around the township. What steps should an individual take when confronted by a wandering dog? And what recourse can be taken up afterwards to correct the situation?

Under state guidelines, a leash law has been in existence for more than 70 years. In 1919, Public Act 339 was passed stipulating that all dogs be restrained by a leash once they leave the owner's property.

Section 519 of the Independence Township zoning code also calls for "the adequate fencing or a restrictive device" for pets under a section designated for the maintenance of animals. In the way of township assistance, any pets reportedly running loose are referred to the Oakland County Animal Control.

Carl Anderson, commander of the county Animal Control Department, said that spring has caused a significant rise in the number of dog-related incidents.

"We've had quite a few calls on dogs due in part to the warm weather coming on," Anderson said. "They're (dogs) more apt to run in packs this time of the year because the females are in heat."

According to Anderson, his department receives between 700 and 800 complaints per month regarding dogs. He also cited that Oakland County receives about 1,000 calls per year for dog bite incidents.

Anderson offers a few tips for the people who find themselves standing toe to toe with a stray dog.

"Always stand still when you're confronted by a dog, and never look him in the eye because they take it as a challenge," he said. "You should talk to it in a calm, low voice. Most of the time, a dog will sniff your leg and just walk off. But don't take off immediately because no person can outrun a dog."

Clarkston Postmaster Mickey Gonzalez is well aware of the damage a dog can inflict, and he tells his carriers to avoid any type of confrontational situation.

"We just let the dogs alone unless they become aggressive," Gonzalez said. "Our carriers can use their bags as a shield and ward them off with their dog repellent."

"Always stand still when you're confronted by a dog, and never look him in the eye because they take it as a challenge."

HOME - A BLUE CHIP INVESTMENT

435 QUESTION: One normally refers to stocks and bonds as blue chip investments. Shouldn't real estate be included in this category?

ANSWER: A well-built home in a good neighborhood is, indeed, a blue chip investment. In fact, real estate values have consistently increased far more than the value of stocks and bonds. And housing values have always more than kept abreast of the general rise in consumer prices.

There is no reason to believe that this situation will change in the future. There is an increasing demand for homes. Also, real estate tax breaks allow you to keep more of what you earn. It's a blue chip investment — plus!

Groundwater, environment must be protected from toxic materials

BY DON WOODWARD

About 25 years ago — in 1963 to be exact — workers began to use a site near the Los Alamos Laboratory in New Mexico for dumping radioactive waste on the ground.

"No problem" was the prediction. "It's safe."

Laboratory calculations indicated the wastes would be quickly bound up in the soil. The toxic material would travel no more than three meters at the most.

You already know what comes next. Eight years later, tests by another federal laboratory, the Argonne National Laboratory, identified the radioactive material in an aquifer more than two miles away from the dump site.

Two miles in eight years instead of three meters in, let's say, a thousand years. Quite a difference. A meter, incidentally, is about 39 inches. A mile — 63,360 inches.

In the remote area of Los Alamos, the now dangerous aquifer is not used for drinking water, and it never has been. But the basic problem revealed by this example is not limited to the desert in New Mexico.

Two reports in the February issue of Environmental Science and Engineering magazine document the same type of miscalculations in other places.

The mistakes could occur anywhere organic wastes are dumped. The fault lies in the method used to predict how far and how fast poisonous waste material will travel underground. Conventional methods can seriously underestimate the hazards.

Unfortunately for us and the environment, the toxic materials include products used in our households as well as radioactive materials used at Los Alamos.

It is here in Independence Township where most of the homes rely upon wells for drinking water.

At this point in time, most of us are aware of damage to the environment caused by the modern way of life.

The shocking Valdez tank accident spilled nearly 11,000 gallons of oil in Alaska.

A recent rupture of a pipeline near Freeport, Pa., threatened drinking water for miles along the Allegheny River.

Remember these newsmaking spills? Now think about Michigan. Every year an estimated 11 million gallons of used motor oil are spilled on the ground by citizens and businesses in Michigan. And it goes into the ground and eventually into the groundwater.

But no headlines. No TV crews.

Our society unquestionably creates dangerous waste materials, some of it by necessity and some of it by careless habit.

Here, for example, are a few of the household products that contaminate our groundwater (possibly our drinking water) either directly or indirectly: paint and paint thinners, motor oil, antifreeze, insecticides, weed killers, batteries, and bathtub, shower and tile cleaners.

Common sense says we are not going to do without these useful products, and we will continue to throw out anything left over. What's the answer?

Our organization has found some solutions, and we are in the process of discovering others. We are called the Independence Township Groundwater Leadership Team, a group of people who want to take care of our environment in a sensible way.

We are currently exploring solutions developed around the country, and we are also using our heads to come up with solutions of our own.

Energetic and concerned students of Clarkston High School have joined us and are setting up presentations to younger students in other schools.

Chances are, you'll hear from us in one way or another in the weeks ahead. We hope so. We'd like to share ideas with you and keep you informed about our progress.

How fast will the program move? How far will it go? No one knows.

But one thing is for sure: we hope it goes more than three meters.

Don Woodward is a member of the Independence Township Groundwater Leadership Team.

Road name change draws protests from residents

SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Home will feel the same, but street names will be different for Bridge Lake Road residents if the Road Commission for Oakland County (RCOC) approves name changes made by the Springfield Township Board.

Residents unhappy with the thought of the name changes spent more than an hour in discussion with the board May 9.

Members voted 7-0 on three name changes, and 6-1 on one change before sending the recommendations to RCOC, which has the final say.

The board voted on suggested names sent in by

"What you name a road can affect the property values."

Carol Dennis

residents who live on four sections of the road.

The southern most portion of the road has been named Locust Grove Road. The portion of Bridge Lake Road, which is sometimes referred to as the service drive is now Clark Road. This change to Clark Road will also include the portion of Big Lake Road from Dixie Highway to the former Bridge Lake Road.

The stretch of Bridge Lake between I-75 and Dixie is now Old Pond Road.

The portion from Dixie Highway to the Bridge Lake, or south of the lake, has been named Cobblestone Lane, and the portion north of the lake will remain Bridge Lake Road.

The only portion of the road to not receive a unanimous vote from the board was Old Pond Road. Dennis Vallad voted no on the name.

Old Pond Road was the only suggestion received from residents along the northern portion of the road.

No suggested name was received by the section south of the lake, so audience and board members agreed on Cobblestone Lane after Pudding Stone Lane, a name Trustee Margaret Bloom favored, was rejected.

The board took a decisive action to make the name change recommendations that were first brought to the township board's attention in the 1960s.

Supervisor Collin Walls said a letter dated 1964 was sent from the RCOC to former Supervisor John Carey suggesting a name change for Bridge Lake Road. The item was also discussed again in the 1970s, but no action was taken.

Bridge Lake poses a problem for emergency vehicles because the road was dissected by I-75 when the highway was constructed in the early 1960s, and a bridge connecting the north and south part of the road collapsed over 30 years ago. Thus, four different sections of the road exist.

Trustee Nancy Strole supported the name change and quoted Walls, "It's not a matter of if, it's a matter of when," in referring to a possible tragedy that may result from an emergency vehicle being unable to find a home because of the different sections of road.

Frank Emerson, who lives on the service drive section of Bridge Lake, said three incidents requiring emergency vehicles at his home were delayed because of the road consisting of the many sections.

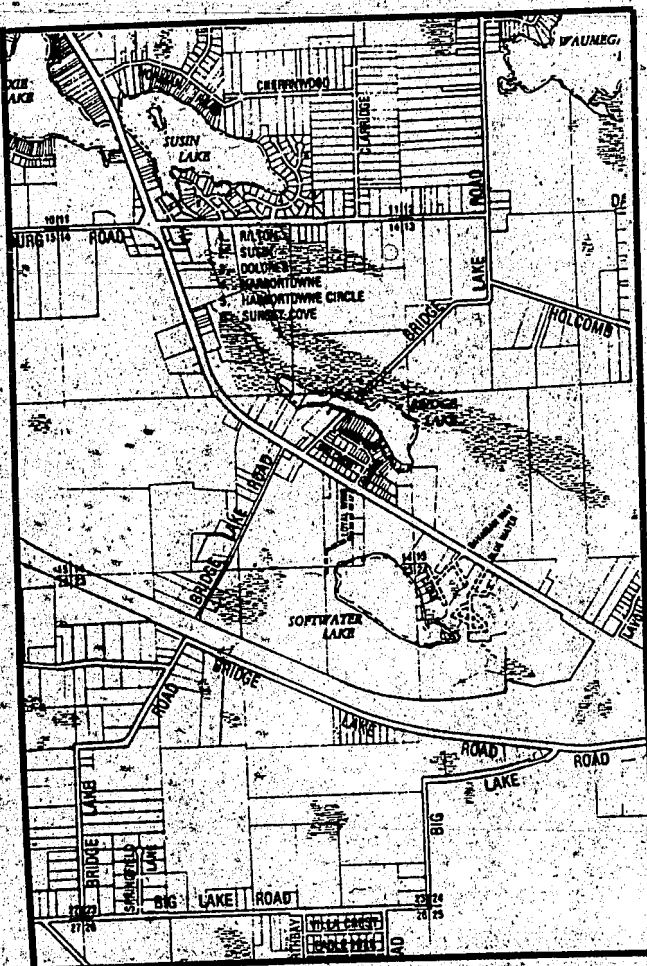

Trustee Charles Oaks who also serves as a volunteer fireman said he would not want to lose time getting to an emergency call because of confusion with what section of Bridge Lake he should be on.

"I would not want to lose one minute," he said. One Bridge Lake resident said it would be easier to change the house numbers and leave the name of the road alone.

But Walls said the house numbers were given out by Detroit Edison and could not be changed by the township or road commission. Only two houses on Bridge Lake Road are out of sequence, he added.

"What you name a road can affect the property values," said Carol Dennis of Bridge Lake Road during public discussion before the board took action to give the sections new names.

FOUR SECTIONS of Bridge Lake Road will have new names.

Soccer team wins, loses its share of shutouts

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

You live by the shutout and you die by the shutout.

The Clarkston girls' soccer team won its third consecutive shutout by stopping Mott, but then lost the next two matches via the shutout.

The shutout string was then stopped in a 5-1 loss against a tough Brandon squad.

Because of injuries, the Wolves

(typical of the whole season) played with only 11 players in three of the last four matches.

Brandon 5, Clarkston 1
(May 14 at Brandon)

Brandon took a 3-1 advantage into halftime and then added two more goals for a 5-1 GOAL victory.

Clarkston's Karen Lowe broke the shutout when she scored from near the penalty area.

Brandon had 21 shots on goal compared to the Wolves' 12.

Amy Fouchey had 34 clears on defense for Clarkston.

Despite the loss, Clarkston coach Kelly Gabriele said, "Everybody played a beautiful game."

Gabriele noted that hardly any teams have scored against the tough Blackhawks this season.

Oxford 2, Clarkston 0
(May 11 at Oxford)

Clarkston could only manage 11 shots on goal as host Oxford won the GOAL match-up, 2-0. The two teams tied, 2-2, when they previously met in Clarkston.

Lake Orion 3, Clarkston 0
(May 9 at Lake Orion)

Lake Orion stopped 10 Clarkston shots en route to a 3-0 GOAL victory.

The loss stopped the three consecutive shutout string by freshman Wolf goalkeeper Tonya Dylag.

Lake Orion, which had 16 shots on goal, led 2-0 at the half.

"We weren't up for the game," said coach Gabriele. "It was a bad day for everyone."

Clarkston 1, Mott 0
(May 8 at Mott)

Who says freshmen and seniors don't get along?

Freshman Sadie Caruso took a pass from senior April Ferguson and nailed a shot past the Mott goal in the lone score for a Clarkston GOAL victory.

The goal was scored in the first half and the tough Clarkston defense took care of the rest of the match, allowing only two shots on goal to help freshman goalkeeper Dylag get her third straight shutout.

Offensively, the Wolves had 32 shots on goal, with Caruso's being the only one reaching the net.

Netters smash Brandon, get edged by Kettering

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston netters had no problem with Brandon but lost four 3-set matches to get edged by Kettering.

Clarkston 5, Brandon 2
(May 9 at Brandon)

The Wolves swept the singles to clinch a GOAL victory.

No. 1 seed Keith Turner crushed Jeff Schmidt, 6-1, 6-0; No. 2 Ian Halleran had no problems with Tim Alderson, 6-3, 6-1; No. 3 Jason Gross walloped Mark Frank, 6-0, 6-1; and No. 4 Marc Swartout demolished Jason Quisenberry, 6-0, 6-1.

In doubles, the Blackhawk No. 1 team of Jeff Auten-Primo Tongko stopped Craig Coxen-Chris Harkins, 6-1, 6-3; Clarkston's No. 2 Renny/Abraham-Kevin Brown edged Brian/Bridgeman-Scott Randall, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3; Brandon No. 3

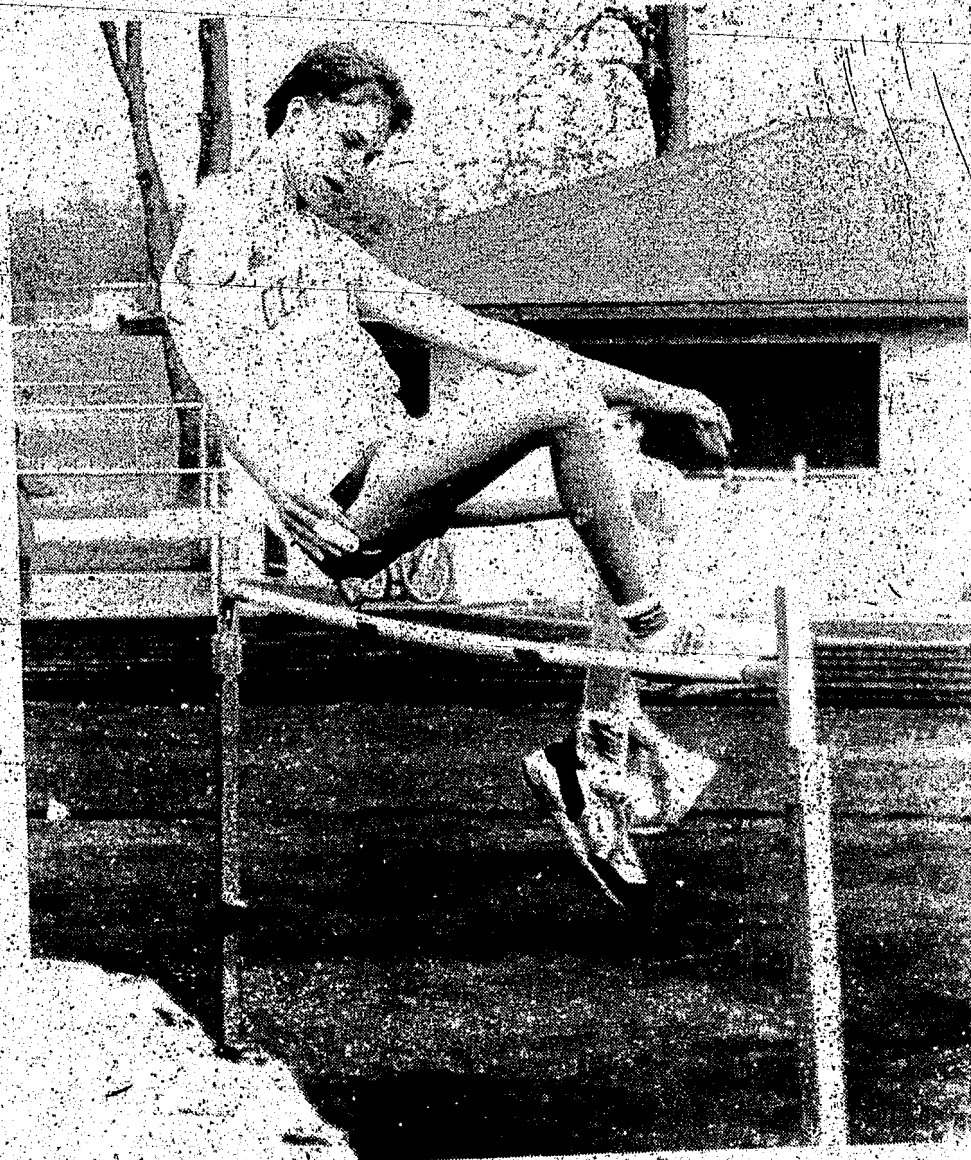

Aaron Elowsky-Andrew Ferreri defeated Scott Kane-Matt Babcock, 6-3, 6-2.

Kettering 4, Clarkston 3
(May 8 at Clarkston)

All four Clarkston losses were in three sets in a 4-3 Kettering GOAL win. A week earlier the Wolves had stopped Kettering, 5-2.

No. 1 Turner, who has lost only one match this season, blasted Kettering's James Greig, 6-1, 6-0; Kettering No. 2 Mike Morgan came back to stop Halleran, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1; No. 3 Gross smashed Bob Lorenz, 6-1, 6-1; Kettering No. 4 Moricio Talamas fought back for a 6-7, 7-5, 6-1 win over Swartout.

In doubles, Kettering's No. 1 team of Tim Higgins-Dan Brown stopped Grant Manley-Coxen, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1; Kettering No. 2 Ron Fuller-Matt Couture defeated Abraham-Matt Nowak, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2; Clarkston's No. 3 Harkins-Brown stopped Jason Windell-Aaron Wright.

WOLVERINE Keith Conklin easily clears the bar in the high jump.

Walls aces Pine Knob

Ortonville's Doug Walls became the third person this year to sink a hole-in-one at the Pine Knob Golf Course.

Walls, a 20-year golfer, sank his first ace on May 13, using a 7-iron on the 163-yard seventh hole. He completed his round with an 81. One of the shot's witnesses was George Smith.

On April 28, Bill Nelson of Bloomfield Hills used a 9-iron on the 165-yard third hole for his first hole-in-one, which helped him finish with an 82. Bob Reason and Scott Corano were witnesses.

Matt Daubner, the club pro, aced the 175-yard 15th hole with a 5-iron on Easter Sunday, April 15. It was the Rochester resident's first hole-in-one and was witnessed by his wife, Debbie. Daubner fired a 74.

Roeser, Folwell spark Wolves to 2nd place

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Carrie Roeser and Michelle Folwell each won three events to pace the Wolves to a second-place finish in the third annual Clarkston Invitational Girls' Track Meet May 12.

Livonia Stevenson won the meet with 162 points, followed by Clarkston 117, Lahser 63, Avondale 54, Kimball 39, St. John's 36 and Marian 24. The Wolves had won the event the first two years.

Folwell won the 100 meter dash (12.91, a meet record), 400 dash (1:02.63) and joined teammates Roeser, Sonya Schaffer and Celeste Steinhilper to win the 1600 relay (4:20.9). Folwell, a senior, also placed third in the 200 (27.58).

Along with the 1600 relay victory, Roeser, a junior, won the 1600 run (5:40.17, a meet record) and teamed up with Lisa Palazzola, Jenny Mahler and Schaffer to win the 3200 relay (10:20.85).

Clarkston's Celeste Steinhilper placed second in the high jump (4-9) because she had more misses than winner Gail Crewe of Livonia Stevenson, but both girls matched a 1988 height to tie for the meet record.

Other meet records set this year were Stevenson's Jess Ann Martin in the shot put (36-1) and the discus (116-10 1/2); Stevenson's Lisa Christensen in the 100 high hurdles (16.03) and the 300 low hurdles (48.63) and Lahser's Chera Robinson in the 200 dash (27.19).

Cougars pick up where they left off in win

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Steve Cahoun, batting with the bases loaded and his team ahead 3-0, waited a long time before he finally took a swing. In fact, the Sashabaw ninth-grader waited a whole day.

Sashabaw and its rival Clarkston started the game on May 10 but sleet and cold became so bad while Cahoun was batting that the umpires called off the game, which was continued the next day with Cahoun still at bat.

When Cahoun finally batted, he made it safely on a Wolverine error, scoring two runners for a 5-0 Sashabaw lead in the first inning.

Sashabaw again lit up the scoreboard with five runs in the third en route to a 14-7 victory. It was the first loss of the year for Clarkston, giving the Wolverines a 6-1 record. The Cougars raised their record to 6-2.

Before Cahoun got up in the first, Tom Doyan walked, stole second and scored on Chris Combs' single. With two outs, Matt Bartley doubled, driving in Combs. Aaron Phillips walked and Jerry Anderson followed with a RBI single. Mike Wood then walked, setting the stage for Cahoun.

Clarkston came back to score two runs in the second when Scot Marusz singled, Jeremy Doty tripled home Marusz and Gary Young singled in Doty.

But the Cougars matched Clarkston with two of their own in the bottom of the second. Matt Smith tripled, Combs walked and then Craig Ginter and Bartley both made it safe on errors, which brought in the two runs.

Sashabaw upped its lead to 12-2 in the third with five big runs. Cahoun was hit by a pitch, stole second and advanced on a ground out. Smith made it to first on catcher's interference, Combs was safe on an error and Ginter doubled in two runs. Bartley was safe on an error and Phillips singled in one run.

The Wolverines cut the deficit to 12-6 with four in the fourth. Jeff Galley walked, Brad Patterson singled, the runners advanced on a wild pitch and Young was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. David Poole's single drove in two runs and two more were scored on an error and a fielder's choice.

Clarkston scored its last run in the fifth when Patterson made it safely on an error, stole second and then came home on a single by Jason Roughton.

Sashabaw closed out the scoring when Doyan was safe on an error, Smith singled, Combs brought home Doyan on a sacrifice fly and then Bartley doubled home Smith.

Dave Drazel, 1-0, started and picked up the win, giving up six hits, three earned runs, three walks and striking out one in four innings. Vice Tortonesi pitched the last three innings, allowing two hits, two walks, one unearned run and struck out four.

Adam Rice started for the Wolverines and suffered the loss. He was relieved by Eric Carlson in the third inning. Nine of the 14 runs were unearned.

Sashabaw outhit Clarkston, 9-8. Smith, Combs and Bartley each smacked two hits. Ginter, Phillips and Jerry Anderson all had one hit. Ginter and Bartley both had three RBI and Smith scored three runs.

Doty, Gordon Briggs, Roughton, Chris Colburn, Marusz, Patterson, Young and Poole each had one hit for Clarkston.

Clarkston made eight errors while Sashabaw made two.

Sashabaw coach Dave Johnson not only was happy with his team's defense, but also pointed out his team's speed. Sashabaw runners stole eight bases against Clarkston, upping its stolen base total to 66 for eight games.

"You can't win with eight errors," said Clarkston coach Jerry Ostrom.

Master a master over Andover

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's varsity baseball team "mercied" Andover but the Wolves didn't receive any mercy from Milford or Pontiac Northern.

Milford 4, Clarkston 1
(May 11 at Milford)

Some decent pitching by Clarkston starter Todd Bennett and reliever Dugan Fife wasn't enough as the Wolves could only manage three hits against Milford in a 4-1 non-league loss.

Host Milford scored once in the first, twice in the second and one more in the fifth.

The Wolves avoided a shutout in the seventh on doubles by Fife and Derek Raymond. Larry Liford was the only other Wolf to get a hit, a single.

Bennett suffered the loss, pitching four innings, allowing two hits, three runs, three walks while striking out three. Fife pitched two innings, giving up three hits and one run.

Clarkston 12, Andover 0
(May 8 at Clarkston)

Clarkston erupted for 12 runs and Darren Master pitched a 3-hitter as the Wolves "mercied" Andover, 12-0, in five innings.

Master picked up the win, allowing three walks while striking out two in the non-league game.

Kevin Keilitz drove in all of the runs the Wolves would need when he knocked in Mike Stanton and Jim Jenkinson for a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning.

Clarkston scored three in the second when a Liford triple drove in Jack Garnett, Chris Wasilk and Jenkinson.

The Wolves lit the scoreboard for five in the third on a series of walks and a Liford double. Liford had four RBI for the afternoon.

Clarkston closed the scoring with two more in the fourth when Keilitz walked, Fife tripled him home and then Mike Brueck singled in Fife.

Liford, Fife, Keilitz and Brueck each had two hits.

The Clarkston defense only committed one error.

Pontiac Northern 6, Clarkston 2
(May 7 at Pontiac Northern)

Pontiac Northern jumped to an early lead and the Wolves couldn't come back in GOAL action.

Pontiac Northern scored three times in the second and held on from there.

The Wolves got on the scoreboard with one in the third when Brueck cracked a solo home run.

But the hosts countered with one in the third for a 4-1 bulge and then upped their lead to 6-1 after five.

Clarkston closed out the scoring with one in the sixth when Raymond walked and Garnett tripled him home.

Todd McLaughlin, Keilitz, Garnett, Brueck and Stanton each had one hit for the Wolves.

Keilitz started and went three innings, picking up the loss. He allowed four runs, five hits and struck out three. Wasilk pitched three innings, giving up five hits, two runs and two walks.

Girls take first by just a second

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Only one second made the difference between a team win or a loss.

And for the Clarkston girls' track team, that one second meant a 68-60 victory over Pontiac Northern May 8 in Pontiac.

With Clarkston holding a slim 63-60 lead going into the meet's last event, it was due or die for both teams in the 1600 relay.

But the Wolves 4:11 in the relay edged Pontiac's 4:12 for the team win.

Clarkston took seven of 12 places in the field events to take a 21-15 lead.

From that point on, the two teams continually switched leads until the Wolves clinched it in the last race.

Besides the win in the 1600 relay, the Wolves also won the 3200 relay (11:75), discus (Stacey Secatch with an 86-11), shot put (Rachel Seifferlein with a 30-8 1/3), 100 meter dash (Michelle Folwell at 13.06), 1600 run (Carrie Roeser at 5:52), 800 run (Roeser at 2:40) and 3200 run (Jenny Mahler at 13:37).

Other Wolves who placed and their events were:

discus: 2. Seifferlein (81-6) shot put: 2. Michelle Wade (27-4), 3. Secatch (26-2 1/2)

long jump: 3. Cara Rayner (12-10 1/2)

high jump: 2. Steinhilper (5-0)

1600 run: 2. Mahler (5:56.42)

400 run: 2. Folwell (1:01.44), 3. Sonya Schaffer (1:03.61)

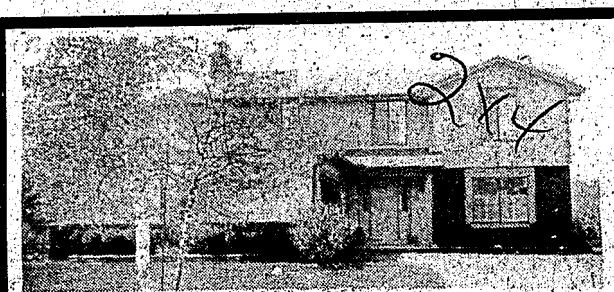

300 low hurdles: 3. Tracy Chamberlain (52.68)

800 run: 2. Schaffer (2:40.22), 3. Mahler (2:50.7)

200 dash: 3. Folwell (28.11)

3200 run: 2. Lisa Palazzola (13.58), 3. Kim Michalak (14.27)

JV baseball team's streak snapped at 13

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's JV baseball winning streak was stopped at 13 with an 8-3 loss to Milford.

Clarkston had no problems with Pontiac Northern for its 12th straight and then had a huge last inning against Andover for its 13th straight victory.

Milford 8, Clarkston 3 (May 11 at Clarkston)

Clarkston outhit Milford, 9-7, but four Wolf errors spelled doom, as Milford stopped the hosts 13-game winning streak.

"Our defense made three key errors which led to four of their runs," said Clarkston coach Kurt Richardson.

Clarkston grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first when Matt Seitz singled, stole second and later scored on Jeremy Burke's sacrifice fly.

Milford struck for four in the third on two doubles, two Wolf errors and a walk.

Clarkston cut the deficit to 4-3 in the bottom of the inning when Nick Shires smacked a solo home run, Dave Smith singled and then was doubled home by Matt Underwood. However, it would be the end of the scoring by the Wolves.

Milford scored once in the sixth on an error and two singles and then crossed the plate three times in the seventh on a single, two walks and a double.

Seitz and Shires both had two hits while Smith, Craig Garnett, Burke, Underwood and Kevin Mull each had one.

Seitz, 4-1, suffered his first loss of the year, giving up five runs, four hits, one walk and striking out two in six innings. Mull pitched the last inning, allowing three hits, three runs, two walks and struck out three.

Clarkston 16, Andover 7 (May 10 at Andover)

Down 7-6 going into the last inning, Clarkston racked up 10 runs in the top of the seventh for a 16-7 victory.

"We didn't play good defense but showed great character in the seventh by scoring 10 runs," said coach Richardson after his team's 13th straight win.

Dave Hernandez started the seventh-inning eruption with a single, Jason Jarvis doubled, Sean Halleran walked and Shires cleared the bases with a double. Jon Wyniemo doubled home Shires, Seitz singled and stole second and then Smith walked. Burke was safe on a fielder's choice, scoring Wyniemo. Mike Corcaran walked, Hernandez singled again, Halleran walked again and Shires singled for the rest of the runs.

Andover led 5-3 going into the sixth but the Wolves scored three in the top of the sixth for a 6-5 advantage. Andover then regained the lead with two in the bottom of the inning and then the Wolves put the game away in the seventh.

Clarkston scored once in the first when Seitz singled, stole second and third and scored on Underwood's sacrifice fly.

The Wolves scored once in the second when Jarvis walked, stole second and was doubled home by Halleran and added another run in the fifth when Seitz walked, stole second and scored on Halleran's ground out.

Three more Wolf runs were scored in the sixth on a pinch hit single by Mark White, a double by Mull, a Shires' double and a Smith single.

Shires was 4-for-5, Seitz and Hernandez each had two hits and Smith, Burke, Jarvis and Halleran all had one.

Underwood started for the Wolves, giving up five hits, three runs, and struck out one in one inning. Corcaran pitched 5 2/3 innings, allowing four hits, four runs, three walks and whiffed six Andover batters. Seitz pitched one-third of an inning, giving up one hit.

Clarkston 6, Pontiac Northern 1 (May 7 at Clarkston)

Wolf pitchers Garnett and Burke combined for a 2-hitter and batters Seitz and Underwood combined for five hits to pace Clarkston to a 6-1 win over Pontiac Northern.

Garnett went 6 1/3 innings, giving up two hits, one run, six walks while striking out six. Burke mopped up, getting the last two outs.

Clarkston scored one run in each of the first three innings. In the first, Seitz was safe on an error, stole second and scored on a ground out.

In the second, Hernandez singled, stole second and came home on Seitz's single.

In the third, Burke singled, stole second and scored on Underwood's single.

Pontiac Northern scored its lone run in the fifth on a single and three straight walks.

The Wolves closed out the scoring in the sixth with three runs on singles by Seitz, Smith and Mull and a double by Underwood.

Seitz was 3-for-4 and Underwood was 2-for-3 with 3 RBI. Mull, Burke, Smith and Hernandez each had one single.

Recreation Roundup

VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

The Clintonwood Sun Volleyball Tournament takes place May 19. The early-season tournament is open to co-rec quads' teams and will be treated to hot dogs, beverages, T-shirts and plenty of volleyball. Clintonwood Park is located minutes from Pine Knob Music Theatre. The cost for participating is $10 per player and there will be cash prizes for first and second place teams. The deadline to register is May 17.

UMPIRES NEEDED

There will be an umpire clinic May 29, May 31 and June 9 for anyone interested in umpiring in the Jr. Baseball program. Umpires are needed for the program. Umpires should be 14 years or older.

COACHES NEEDED

Coaches are needed for youth teams (boys and girls, ages 7-10) who play either Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday mornings. The season begins June 16 with a kickoff Saturday and will run through July. Those who would like to volunteer to coach but do not have a great deal of baseball or softball knowledge will be able to attend a coaching clinic to help. Those interested should call the recreation office.

SPONSORS NEEDED

Sponsors are needed for two youth programs that provide constructive activities for youngsters between the ages of 4 and 16.

More than 1,200 children participate in the summer's Jr. Baseball and Youth Softball program. Sponsors are needed to provide uniforms for a team of 15 players.

In addition to being good advertising, sponsors will see their names in the newspaper weekly, will receive a sponsor-appreciation plaque at the season-fine picnic for all teams, will have an advertisement included in a yearbook that is given to all participants and will have their name listed in the parks and recreation brochure as a Recreation Supporter. The brochure is mailed out to more than 17,000 households in Independence Township.

Safety Town, a new program that is designed to teach safety to children between ages 4 and 6, is also in need of sponsors. The program has proven effective in other communities in reducing needless deaths and accidents among children. This 20-hour program will introduce the youngsters to all types of safety education. Sponsors are needed to offset the costs involved in the initial set up of this program. There are a variety of sponsorship opportunities available.

CLINTONWOOD SUN VOLLEYBALL

Now is the time to start registering for outdoor volleyball leagues and tournaments — a variety of power and recreational leagues take place at Clintonwood Park. Players must be 16 years old to participate.

The league days will be: women's power - Monday evenings; co-rec mixer - Tuesday evenings; co-rec recreational - Wednesday evenings; men's power - Thursday evenings. All matches begin the week of June 4, with the deadline to register May 25. Leagues will be filled on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Co-rec, men's, women's and high school girls tournaments are to be held throughout the summer.

WALK MICHIGAN

Independence Township Parks and Recreation will again be offering participants a chance to take part in the Walk Michigan program.

Prizes are to be awarded by drawing at the conclusion of each walk. Names will also be entered in the season finale drawing each time a person walks. The winner of the season finale drawing receives a free weekend at Mackinac Island on Labor Day weekend. The purpose of this program is to promote good health.

The dates for the walks are as follows:

May 19 - 1 p.m. - Depot Park
May 27 - 1 p.m. - Clintonwood Park
June 4 - 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. - Clintonwood Park
June 13 - 7 p.m. - Sashabaw Plains
June 17 - 4 p.m. - Independence Oaks

Walkers should plan to show up ready to walk at the announced date, time and location. Pre-registration is not required.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Call 625-8223 or stop by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department, 90 N. Main St., Clarkson. The office is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Fun Daze:

Fifth annual family day in downtown Clarkston focuses on healthy lifestyles, children, fun

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

The Fifth Annual Fun Daze incorporates a few changes, but some things have remained the same, such as the intense community involvement in the event.

The day centers around 10K and 5K runs and one-mile and 5K fun walks, but activities for the entire family run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The theme, "Fun for the health of it," explains the focus of the event this year. Booths on all aspects of health will be on display in addition to the usual children's games and bike safety checks. For more information, call 625-8223.

Following is a schedule of events:

Runner Registration: For runners who did not pre-register, 8:30 a.m. is the deadline in Depot Park, 375 Depot Rd., Clarkston. The cost is $4 for the one-mile Fun Walk. The $12 cost of the 5K and 10K runs and the 5K walk includes a T-shirt.

Healthy Lifestyles Fair: 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; sponsored by the Women's Health Center, Dixie Highway, Independence Township. Booths include Red Cross Blood Drive sponsored by the Clarkston Area Jaycees, blood pressure check, health education, mammography and self-examination; nutrition, measurement of percent of body fat, fat and fiber in food, matching personality to style of exercise, diabetes and care for the elderly, fitness equipment, dentistry, children and adult orthodontics.

while the one-mile Fun Walk takes participants around the peaceful Mill Pond in Clarkston. Games for kids are provided in Depot Park during the races. (Clarkston News file photo by Sandra G. Conlen)

Weekend activities benefit Foundation

Clarkston area aerobic dancers are slated to participate in a six-hour marathon to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

The event is set for 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday, May 20, at the Deer Lake Racquet Club, Clarkston. Non-dancers may pledge money per half-hour class, or dancers may present a $5 minimum donation at the door.

Athletes may also participate in other activities over the weekend that will count toward hours for the Foundation.

At 7-10 p.m. Friday, May 18, tennis mixers and racquetball mixers are planned, with pizza following the events.

On Sunday, an Air-dyne bike ride for 30 minutes is planned, and people may pledge money per minute. A swim-a-thon at the indoor pool calls for pledges per lap.

And a walleyball mixer is tentatively set for Friday and Sunday.

Registration is required by calling Kyle Howard or Beth Woodhull at 625-8686. The Deer Lake Racquet Club is on White Lake Road, Independence Township.

Cystic fibrosis is the number one killer of children and young adults in America. For more information on the Foundation, call 1-800-292-7169.

Answers to last week's puzzle

Tom Hoyes resides in Independence Township. His "Home Movies and Entertainment" cable-TV program airs on Independence-Clarkston Channel 65.

Mike Hennessy, who with Mike McIntyre created and organized the first run in 1987, said he hopes this year's course will be a permanent one.

Independence Township Parks and Recreation Director Ann Conklin is also helping to organize this year's run.

Along with the 10K race, there will be a 5K race, both 5K and 10K walks and a one-mile fun run and walk.

The 5K and 10K runs and walks begin at 10 a.m. while the one-mile fun run and walk starts at 9:30 a.m.

Hennessy said the 5K race will be "virtually flat," while the 10K will be flat for the first three miles and then hilly for the last three. He labels the 10K as challenging.

Pre-registration has already expired, but participants will also be able to register the day of the race by 8:30 a.m. Registration will take place at Depot Park, which is close to where the race will start and finish.

According to Hennessy, last year about 500 people participated with close to 100 running in the 10K, 175 in the 5K and the rest in the one mile event. Hennessy said he expects at least the same number to run or walk this year.

Prizes will be given to the overall first, second and third-place finishers in the 10K and 5K and to first, second and third-place finishers within each age division (14 and under, 15-18, 19-29, 30-34, 35-39, 40-44, 45-54, 55 and over).

Runners can also collect pledges, with the donations being turned over to the CROP WALK (the CROP WALK takes place May 20).

CROP walk Sunday, May 20 Fun Daze runners may take pledges for 10K run

The day after Fun Daze is marked by the annual CROP Walk for Hunger, which begins at Clarkston United Methodist Church at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 20.

Registration for the 10K walk is at 1:30 p.m. at the church on Waldon Road, Clarkston.

Walkers in the CROP Walk are to collect pledges of money for each kilometer walked. One-fourth of the money is to fight hunger in the Clarkston area. The remaining money is to fight world hunger, said the Rev. William Schram, one of the organizers of the event.

The goal this year is to collect $10,000, said Schram, adding that hunger is a worldwide crisis.

Every 60 seconds, 28 people die from hunger or hunger-related disease, he said, explaining that the CROP Walk money is desperately needed in some parts of the world.

In the Clarkston area, the local proceeds will prevent hunger, but in some parts of the world the CROP money actually can prevent death.

Worldwide, the walk is sponsored by the Church World Service, which had a $1.7 million income — $1.4 million of that came from 114 community walks in Michigan in 1989.

Locally, the walk is sponsored by the following churches: Sashabaw Presbyterian, Clarkston United Methodist, St. Daniel Catholic, Calvary Evangelical Lutheran, North Oaks Community, church of the Resurrection Episcopal, First Church of God, Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic, Atonement Presbyterian and Drayton Heights Free Methodist.

For more information, call 623-2673 or one of the above churches.

THE 10K and 5K runs begin in Depot Park, Clarkston, as do the one-mile and 5K fun walks. The one-mile Fun Walk is a trip around Clarkston Mill Pond. The 5K and 10K courses takes runners through downtown Clarkston and south to Middle Lake Road. Both runs backtrack on a safety path through Depot Park and then to Deer Lake. The 5K ends up in Depot Park, but the 10K run continues on Holcomb Road to Valley Park Drive, which leads to a challenging, hilly and scenic run through the quiet subdivision and then heads back to Depot Park. Aid stations are spaced throughout the course. About 500 runners are expected to participate.

Health, wellness contribute to total family fun

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

The Fifth Annual Fun Daze incorporates lots of new features while still maintaining the original focus of the event, according to organizers Ann Conklin and Brent Cooley.

"The whole purpose of Fun Daze is to provide an opportunity for total family fun," said Cooley, who will serve as master of ceremonies for the day.

Sponsored by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department, the Clarkston Rotary Club and the Women's Health Center, the event still includes involvement from all segments of the community.

For instance, the Clarkston Area Jaycees are sponsoring a Red Cross Blood Drive this year, in addition to helping provide children's games as they have in the past.

As in past years, the Clarkston Area Optimists are sponsoring the Bike Safety Check for youngsters. And the Clarkston Rotary Clowns — the only troupe in Rotary International worldwide — are to make an appearance, too.

Cooley, who is assistant principal at Clarkston High School, said students in service groups at the school may also help out, including about 30 kids from Interact, the Rotary-sponsored school service club.

"The whole purpose of Fun Daze is to provide an opportunity for total family fun."

Brent Cooley

"It's a focus on health and wellness."

Ann Conklin

"The whole idea was to get the school and community clubs working together," explained Conklin, director of the township parks and recreation department. "Rotary got the ball rolling, and they've stayed with it. They've provided a lot of people power."

This year, the Women's Health Center of Clarkston helped provide the theme: "Fun for the health of it."

"It's a focus on health and wellness," said Conklin. The health center is sponsoring a Healthy Lifestyles Fair, which is comprised of booths on blood pressure, mammographies, nutrition, fat and fiber, percentage of body fat, matching personality to exercise type, diabetes, care of the elderly, dentistry, orthodontics and more.

Other contributions to health include the karate demonstration and the dance demonstration or the cloggers. "Everybody's health and wellness might be different," said Conklin.

Each year, the proceeds from the event go toward a community project, such as the "historical district" banners from last year's revenue. Different — possibly seasonal — banners may be purchased this year, said Cooley.

To generate additional proceeds, items from area merchants will be raffled, he said.

"We have a very generous community," he said, adding that more than 100 items were donated.

New to Fun Daze this year are two contests for children. An essay contest open to grades 5-8 centers on the question: How can my doctor help me in the 1990s? A drawing contest open to grades K-4 asks students to draw how they look when healthy and when sick.

The day of the race, three entries will be selected from each age group at random for prizes.

The contests were added to involved even more segments of the community, said Conklin, adding that she's glad parks and recreation could be involved so highly this year.

"It was just our turn," she said. "It's for the betterment of the entire community."

"The whole idea was to get the school and community clubs working together."

Ann Conklin

'Universal language' of mimes surpasses barriers

FADING TO BLACK are Clarkston residents Shawn Smith and Dean VanderCoke.

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

If silence is golden, then the mime team of Shawn Smith and Dean VanderCoke should provide 14-karat entertainment during the upcoming Fun Daze.

Both Smith, 22, and VanderCoke, 23, are Independence Township residents and graduates of Clarkston High.

"The mime is a universal language and something we'd like to keep doing for as long as possible."

Shawn Smith

School. The two young men met in high school and have been "silently expressing themselves" ever since.

For the past four summers, the duo has worked with the Oakland County Parks and Recreation in entertaining campers, senior citizens and various church organizations. At this time, both men are in their senior years of college and see mime as part-time work.

"We really enjoy performing, even though it's only part-time right now," said Smith. "The mime is a universal language and something we'd like to keep doing for as long as possible."

Smith said that he and VanderCoke would like to return to Europe to practice their mime techniques.

"We went to West Germany a couple of years ago, and the people loved it," Smith said. "Mime can break down all the barriers that a difference in language can create."

Besides sharing a love for mime, Smith and VanderCoke perform in the same Christian rock band, "Reach Out." As musicians, the duo has cut two albums and are looking for their break in the field of contemporary Christian rock.

The duo will be "miming" on the Saturday segment of Fun Daze. They will be conducting a "strolling mime" performance through the streets of Clarkston from 2-2:30 p.m. and then take their act to the stage 2:30-3 p.m. in Depot Park.

REASONS FOR AUTOPSY

Unlike the impression you might have from television, most autopsies are not performed because of the suspicion of foul play. Rather, they are done primarily for purposes of medical discovery. Death may be natural, but if it is unexpected or the cause is a rare disease, doctors may request an autopsy.

In some instances, an autopsy may be of help to the deceased's descendants, as when it affords early detection of an hereditary disposition toward a certain disease. Occasionally, a family will be unsure why a patient died. They will order an autopsy to see if physician negligence had anything to do with death; or, yes if some kind of foul play was involved.

A medical examiner is charged with investigating all unnatural or otherwise questionable deaths. He may be called if a person has died an accidental, unexplained, or bizarre death; if death occurred without a doctor present; or if there is suspicion of violence or murder.

Healthy lifestyles offered with fun at Fun Daze

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Fun is, of course, the focus of this year's Fun Daze festivities; but getting healthy also plays prominently this year.

Recognizing the trend toward health is the Women's Health Center of Clarkston, a major co-sponsor of this year's Fun Daze.

"People are using sidewalks, and safety paths are being used more," says Health Center Director Mike Mosharo. "The community is growing, and so is the awareness of health. This facility has become fully aware of that."

The Women's Health Center has organized a Healthy Life Styles Fair for Fun Daze.

A huge tent will feature booths of activities, information and testing from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Participants may be tested for blood pressure, anemia and a percentage of body fat. They can learn about weight management, fat and fiber in foods, the nutritional value of foods, and which type of exercise suits different personalities.

A special area will be designated for teaching women breast self-examinations, and a nurse practitioner will be on hand to instruct on diabetes and care for the elderly.

A special dental section offers tips on making a trip to the dentist or orthodontist a less threatening experience.

In addition, the American Red Cross is sponsoring a blood drive, and participants can pick up a variety of free health aids, such as nutrition and exercise cards and cards demonstrating breast exams.

Another feature of the Fun Daze Healthy Lifestyles they are healthy and also when they're sick.

The winners of the contests will be unveiled during the Fun Daze event.

"The fair offers a great time to have fun and get some information at the same time," says Mosharo. "Our facility will answer questions people might not otherwise have an opportunity to ask."

Environmental awards

Two volunteers at Independence Oaks County Park, Independence Township, were honored recently by the Michigan Alliance for Environmental and Outdoor Education (MAEOE).

The two won Volunteer Service Awards from MAEOE for their work at the park on Sashabaw Road.

Mary Karshier and Lee Deneweth approached the Independence Oaks Nature Center staff in 1986 and offered their talents and services in establishing, monitoring and maintaining a Bluebird Trail at the park.

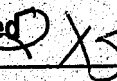

Since that time, they have given nearly 1050 hours in service to the project. Recently, they have expanded their efforts to include other parks in the Oakland County park system.

One wheel is better than two for unicyclists

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Unicyclists are unique. Nearly everyone has learned how to ride a tricycle and then later a bicycle. But transportation via one wheel is another story.

However, for Clarkston High School juniors Grant Manley and Al Manser, one wheel has been enough for about the last four years.

Many Clarkston residents at one time have probably seen the two in town riding their unicycles and more will get the chance to see them at this Saturday's Fun Daze events.

How unique are unicyclists?

Manley and Manser belong to the Clarkston Unicyclists, which totals three members. The other one-wheeler is Manley's uncle, Gregg Smith, who introduced the unicycle to his nephew about four years ago.

Manser at that time also had a unicycle but his friend Manley didn't know he, too, had one, a coincidence befitting unicyclists.

Manser has appeared with his unicycle in the Fourth of July and Labor Day parades. Manley has been in those two parades plus being in a past Fun Daze event. Both of them have also performed on their 3-foot unicycles before the Rotary Club.

Some fellow Clarkston High School students in a speech class also saw some skills with a unicycle during a demonstration speech. Manley said he fell during the class but still received an "A" because the teacher said he made a great recovery and completed the speech.

It wasn't the first time Manley had ever fallen. He noted that he also took a spill during one parade just as he was announced to the crowd by Brent Cooley.

Many people, especially children, have also fallen, fallen in love just watching the two ride the one-wheel objects. They said many adults have stopped them for a while, encouraging them to give their children a closer look at unicycling.

Children aren't the only ones captivated by a unicycle. The two teenagers say riding a unicycle sometimes is one way to catch the eye of a girl.

"I don't think it hurts," smiles Manley, who also plays tennis for the Wolves when not riding a unicycle. "They sometimes stop and look."

Manser, who competes on the varsity track team, says many people also greet him with a simple "hi" on the streets.

But before the glory comes practice, practice, practice and a few bruises.

"You have to want to learn how to do it," says Manser.

Both of them say they can travel a maximum of two miles without stopping.

"You get tired quicker than when riding a bicycle. You can't go as far and your legs get tired," said Manley.

Manser and Manley do have the advantage of easily riding on different surfaces, including dirt, cement, grass, sand, a skateboard ramp and even travel down a stairway.

In addition, they can do the bunny hop and juggle.

Both of them are still working on trying to go backwards.

Some people may think that going from two wheels to one is a step backward in itself, but for Manley, Manser and those children that want to get a closer look, riding a unicycle is a fun way of going back to the future.

UNICYCLISTS Grant Manley (left) and Al Manser are two of three members of the Clarkston Unicyclists. The team will display their considerable skill during the Fun Daze events. The riders say the one-wheeled vehicle is more difficult than the two wheeled version because a shorter distance is covered with more leg power.

Watering methods critical to garden's success

As gardeners throughout Michigan and the Midwest are aware, water is often the critical factor in gardening success. Even in a normal summer, watering often makes the difference between a lush, productive garden and one that's struggling to survive.

Hugh Price, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University, says some times are more critical for water than others.

"Just after seeds are sown, the soil around them needs to be kept moist so they germinate quickly and the roots don't dry out," he points out. "Newly transplanted vegetable plants have very limited root systems, so they, too, need frequent watering to help them get established."

Once plants are growing well, the next critical time is when they are flowering and producing the fruits, tubers or seed pods that we harvest.

For instance, when potatoes are setting tubers, tomatoes and peppers are producing fruits, onions are forming bulbs and sweet corn is being pollinated, insufficient water will mean reduced yields.

At other times, plants may merely make little growth. The often-quoted rule for watering gardens is an inch of water per week for growing plants. That inch includes any rain that falls.

"The kind of soil you have has a lot to do with how often and how long you need to irrigate," Price says.

Water moves quickly into light, sandy soils, which also dry out more quickly after rain or irrigation than soils with a higher clay content.

So you can generally apply larger quantities of water at one time to sandy soils but usually have to water plants more often.

Because water seeps into clay soils slower, you must apply it slower or it will just run off or form puddles.

An advantage of lighter soils is that it's almost impossible to overwater plants on sandy soils, whereas clay soils tend to hold moisture and remain saturated much longer.

"Overwatering certainly hasn't been a problem in Michigan the past couple of years," Price observes. "But in a normal year when significant amounts of rain do fall, overirrigating can cause roots to rot and plants to wilt and die."

Plant roots need air as well as water to function, he explains, and overirrigating, especially on heavy soils, can drive all the oxygen out of the plant root zone. If enough roots die, the whole plant dies.

Allowing for differences in soil type, Price recommends watering established gardens infrequently—every seven to 10 days, for instance—but deeply.

"Deep watering promotes deep root growth," he explains. "That in turn, helps plants better withstand dry weather. Frequent, shallow watering results in shallow roots that are very susceptible to drying out during dry weather."

A two-inch layer of organic material slows the evaporation of moisture from the soil and so conserves water and reduces the frequency of irrigation needed.

For cool-weather crops such as broccoli, cauliflower or cabbage, a mulch also helps keep the roots cool.

A fringe benefit of mulching—with an organic mulch or black polyethylene—is that it also helps control troublesome annual weeds, Price notes.

That means fewer plants are competing for the available moisture.

Black plastic also warms the soil for early spring planting.

This speeds seed germination and helps warm-weather crops get established and begin to grow more quickly.

Two become MSU dancers

Two 1989 Clarkston High School graduates were selected for the Michigan State University Dance Team recently.

Jennifer Davis and Kellee Duty, both former CHS Pom Pon squad members, were among the 160 to audition at MSU in East Lansing.

Of the 17 team members, 11 were returning dancers, so Davis and Duty were among the six new members named to the MSU Motion.

The dance team also includes two other CHS alumni: Angie Barker, a junior who will start her third year on the team; and Kara Kurz, a sophomore who will begin her second year on the team.

The team is to perform on the sidelines during MSU football and basketball games. Since it is a school club and not a sport, the team may perform at many functions, said Davis, who rooms with Duty at MSU.

Davis said she was "surprised" to make it because there were so many qualified people.

"I was really happy that we both made it," she said, adding that her friendship with Duty won't suffer from such extensive contact with each other.

"We get along really well," Davis said. "I don't know if I could live with anyone else, actually."

Motion. The girls, 1989 Clarkston High School graduates, are roommates at MSU.

SCENARIO winners Ashley Ball (right) and Carla Merritt, both students in William Rathburg's English Class at Clarkston Junior High School, were asked to outline a world problem in narrative form. Ashley's second-place scenario now advances to competition at the national level.

Forecasting using scenario

Two Clarkston Junior High students have been named state winners in the annual Scenario Contest conducted by the Michigan Future Problem solving program in Ann Arbor.

Ashley Ball, an eighth-grader, won second place for her entry on the shrinking rain forest. Carla Merritt, also an eighth-grader, placed fifth for her story on medical advances. Both are students in William Rathburg's English class at CJH.

Tammy Luscumb and Ryan Moore, also students in Rathburg's class, received recognition as semifinalists in the contest. Kristy Barefoot, Audrey Schlaff and Matt Wenger, students in Barb Glover's English class, were also named semi-finalists.

A scenario is a short story using character and plot development to describe one possible future outcome of a serious problem that exists today.

Ashley's entry, entitled "Elynira's Garden," now advances to the national competition at the International Future Problem Solving Conference at Washington State University in St. Louis in June.

Planning ahead at Career Day

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Psychology and law enforcement were the two most popular occupations chosen by Clarkston High School students on Career Day May 1.

Students attended two 25-minute seminars, choosing among 20 careers.

This year's Career Day was expanded. Last year's program only included careers in the health field.

William Hartwell, director of guidance at the high school, was pleased with the event. He said about 750 students took part in the seminars, with 60 percent being sophomores, 20 percent juniors and 20 percent seniors.

Hartwell said Clarkston students also get information about career choices during nine-week units in ninth grade and six-week units in 11th grade.

Instructors were professionals from within and outside the Clarkston area.

Hartwell said about 240 students attended psychology, and about 200 went attended law enforcement. Psychology was held in the cafeteria, and law enforcement was conducted in the auditorium. All of the other seminars took place in classrooms.

The director of guidance said the next popular choices were General Motors salaried occupations, retail and merchandising, lawyer and legal assistants, and travel and tourism, with about 100 students going to each one of those seminars.

Hartwell said home building and remodeling and computer and communication technology then followed in popularity.

The other 12 careers represented were early childhood education, automotive service, banking and finance, veterinarian and animal care, dentist and dental hygienist, journalism and newspaper, chef and restaurant management, photography, pharmacy, executive secretary, nursing and dietitian.

Hartwell said he was surprised that law enforcement had such a large turnout. He was, however, not surprised that the careers which tended to be more specific in nature were not as heavily attended.

Hartwell said money was on the minds of many students in their selections.

"It was not 'how can I help humanity' but rather 'how much can I make,'" said Hartwell.

He said the 20 careers were "spread out between different salaries," which helped to give students more options.

Hartwell pointed out that career choices for students vary from year to year.

Computer class for beginners

Clarkston Community Education has a class for those who feel left behind in the high-tech computer age.

A four-week computer class for beginners has been scheduled to begin Wednesday, May 23 at Sashabaw Junior High School at 6:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m.

The class will give students a chance to become acquainted with the IBM computer and various software applications.

The course fee is $40. Students may register by contacting Community Education, 5275 Maybee Road. (674-0993)

Pet of the Week

BLUE will be tickled pink if he finds a new home.

Ol' blue eyes

With blue eyes, this male husky mix has an appropriate name: Blue.

Blue, 18 months, is housebroken and likes other dogs. The large dog is also good with children.

He'll need to be neutered before he leaves the shelter, so his adoption fee is $70.

Blue can be seen at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Honors

Lisa Herron of Ellis Road, Springfield Township, won a $200 savings bond and plaque for a poster she designed for the Huron-Clinton Metroparks Earth Day contest.

The poster theme Lisa chose was "They Were Here First," and the poster depicted the world and animals.

"It's important to save the animals and the world," Lisa said. "We have to live in it."

Lisa plans to plant white pine seedlings with her parents, Judy and Glenn Herron, at their home as a continuation of Earth Day.

She has other hobbies, too.

"I like to draw and play the piano," she said. "And I like to bike ride around the neighborhood with my sister."

Her sister, Christa, is 14.

Project Closeup

Five Clarkston High School students got a firsthand look at how the federal government operates.

The five, students in Jim Wenger's government class, recently spent six days in Washington, D.C., as part of the Closeup program.

From Feb. 25 to March 3, the students participated in a full schedule of events, which included lectures, classes, sightseeing, visits to Senate and House chambers and appointments with Michigan congressmen.

According to the students, highlights of the trip included the changing-of-the-guard at Arlington National Cemetery, the Vietnam Memorial, a Supreme Court session and an unexpected elevator ride with Sen. Edward Kennedy.

The trip was open to interested students who could raise the necessary $800 costs, part of which was offset by community contributions.

The Closeup Foundation organizes the special trip for thousands of high school students each year from their headquarters in Washington D.C.

—By Tracy King

GOVERNMENT took on new meaning for five students recently traveling to Washington, D.C. The trip, organized by government teacher Jim Wenger in cooperation with the Closeup Foundation, included visits to the Supreme Court, Congressional chambers, sightseeing, lectures and classes. Those participating in the experience were (from left) Brian Matusz, Matt Forster, Derek Hackbart, Jason Yoder and Derek Diederich. The Closeup Foundation is headquartered in Washington, D.C.

The Other Side of Things

The bride was beautiful in a yellow bus

Ashley Ball

Recently, a school bus stopped in front of Clarkston Elementary School, and a police car stopped behind it. The bus driver, a tall blond woman, got out of the bus and swaggered back toward the police car. The policeman got out of his cruiser. Then, to everyone's surprise, the tall blond bus driver pulled a silver-blue gun from her belt and shot the officer right in the badge with a ping-pong ball.

After these two adults chased the ping-pong ball all over the parking lot, they laughed and walked in to the school. Nothing about the scene surprised me. After all, the tall blonde was MY SCHOOL BUS DRIVER ... Jenny Sansom. And she was completely in character.

Jenny drives Bus 44 and is so popular that EVERYONE wants to ride her bus.

"Why would anyone want to ride this woman's bus?" you ask.

Well, for lots of reasons:

* You will have fun. I guarantee it! It's better than riding the Magnum at Cedar Point.

* You will meet new people. So far, I've met Officer Jones, Officer Myron, Officer Smith ...

* You will discover new roads. Before riding Bus 44, I had never been out of the state ON MY WAY TO SCHOOL IN THE MORNING.

Jenny loves her job. On holidays, she decorates the bus and wears costumes. She displays her younger rider's artwork with pride and always has a hug for a kindergartner who is a little sad about going to school.

But the most unusual thing that ever happened on Bus 44 was Jenny's wedding. I'M NOT KIDDING ... SHE GOT MARRIED ON THE BUS!

It happened on a Friday morning just after she'd skidded to a halt in front of CJHS. I had wondered, when I got on the bus that morning, why she had been wearing a long, flowing wedding gown complete with veil and seed pearls. But, for Jenny, it wasn't that unusual.

Anyway, Jenny announced that she was getting married. About that time the groom stepped onto the bus along with the bus barn superintendent, who would be conducting the ceremony.

Things fell into place quickly after that. The CJHS band surrounded the bus. Jenny straightened her veil in the rear view mirror then exited the bus and gave last minute instructions to Mrs. Matthews who was in charge of the band.

The bus barn superintendent and the groom took their places at the front of the bus as the band began playing "The Wedding March." Suddenly, the back door of the bus swung open, and there she was — the bride, in her beautiful white wedding dress, climbing into the back of the bus. It was a Kodak moment.

Jenny was lovely as she made her way down the aisle, though occasionally tripping over book bags and gym shoes. On the up side, however, it was a good crowd ... three in every seat.

We couldn't really hear the vows since the band accidentally played through the whole ceremony. But it was beautiful, and Jenny was so happy. They were the perfect couple.

Caught on short notice, we didn't have any rice to throw but a lot of kids had brought their lunch, so we quickly divided everything up and threw what we had ... peanut butter sandwiches, raisins, potato chips, Rice Krispie bars, box drinks.

Just then, the first bell rang. We quickly wished Jenny and her groom well as they set off for their honeymoon in PONTIAC. Then we scattered off to our first classes.

It had been a beautiful, romantic experience. Our Jenny ... a bride. We just hope the new Mrs. Forbus will be the same fun-loving Jenny we've always known.

(Of course, Jenny's wedding was not really held on the bus, but if it had been, I'm sure it would have been just like I described it ... a fairy tale wedding aboard Bus 44.)

Ashley Ball is an eighth-grade student at Clarkston Junior High School.

Independence rainfall higher than average

Independence Township got more than its share of rain in 1989, according to statistics from the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

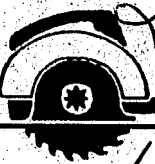

In 1989, 37.04 inches of rain were reported at I-75 and Ortonville Road in Independence Township, compared with the countywide average of 33.8 inches.

The rainiest area in the region was a three-station cluster in north Oakland County, including the Independence Township location, as well as stations at Rochester Road and University Drive in Rochester and Opdyke and Auburn roads in Pontiac.

The driest area in 1989 was a series of five reporting stations extending up the Detroit River shoreline from Zug Island to the City-County Building.

The annual rainfall at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, considered by many to be the region's official measure, was registered at 29.26 inches in 1989. However, at I-96 and Wixom Road in Wixom, an estimated 42.54 inches of rain fell. And a rain gauge atop the City-County Building in Detroit measured only 16.88 inches of rain.

Of the more than 90 gauges in the region, 29 measured 10 percent more than what was measured at the airport. Another 10 gauges measured 10 percent less than what fell at the airport.

WHO IS ON THE LORD'S SIDE? To The Churches! Hear ye this word which I take up against you, even a lamentation, O House of Israel! The virgin of Israel is fallen; She shall no more rise; she is forsaken upon her land; there is none to raise her up. For thus saith the Lord God: the city that went out by a thousand shall leave a hundred, and that which went forth by a hundred shall leave ten, to the house of Israel! For thus saith the Lord unto the house of Israel, seek ye me and ye shall live! Now the lamentation! (Amos 5:8) (Amos 5:7-you) (Amos 5:12-you) (Amos 5:18,19) (Amos 5:15) (Amos 5:7-you) (Amos 5:14) (Amos 5:21,22) (Amos 10-you) (Amos 5:11) (Amos 5:23,24) (Amos 5:26) (Amos 5:16,17) (Amos 5:27A) And though you say "The Lorth liveth" surely you swear falsely. O Lord are not your eyes upon the truth? Thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou has consumed them but they have refused to receive correction: They have made their face harder than a rock: They have refused to return! Therefore I have said "Surely these are poor, they are foolish: For they know now the way of the Lord, nor the judgement of their God." How shall I pardon you for this? The children have forsaken me said the Lord and sworn by them that are no gods and when I fed them (the word of the Lord) to the full they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots houses (denominations) (followers of men rather than Christ and His Word) Behold! Therefore I have smitten My hand at your dishonest gain which you have made, and at the blood which has been in the midst of thee. Can your heart endure, or can your hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with you? I the Lord have spoken it and will do it! (Mat 5:13) (Luke 14:33-35). Woe to you that are at ease in Zion and trust in the mountain of Samaria and hate the truth of God's word! IILX20-1*
