Teachers, board ratify contract

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Clarkston teachers will receive a 6.25 percent pay raise and a change in insurance beginning in August.

The elements are part of a new two-year contract ratified by both teachers and the school board in separate sessions May 29. The contract affects 298 members of the Clarkston Education Association, the teacher's union, starting in August of 1990.

Teachers approved the contract on a vote of 165 to 48. The board of education unanimously approved the package in a special meeting, several hours later.

The teacher contract is characterized by both sides as a "give and take" document.

Though the teachers will receive raises, they will also accept a major change in the districts' insurance package, which is expected to save the district an estimated $135,000.

Teachers will receive a 6.25 percent increase in August. The following August, teachers will see a 6.5 percent raise.

As part of the new insurance package, teachers will pay a deductible for claims. The district uses a Blue Cross Messa insurance policy, which will be changed from Supercare Two to Supercare One.

Under Supercare One, teachers will pay a $50 deductible for individual policies, or a $100 deductible for full family policies.

The change is an important one for the district, said CEA president Bill Curtis.

"Of the 28 districts in the county, Clarkston ranks towards the bottom of the pay scale," Curtis said. "(Insurance) was one of the few perks we received. To help the district contain costs, we changed our insurance coverage.

"It was not done easily on either side," Curtis added.

Memorial Day quiet in area

Independence and Springfield townships successfully survived the Memorial Day weekend casualty-free this year.

This is quite an accomplishment considering that Memorial Day weekend is one of the most accident-laden times of the year. AAA authorities estimate that Americans traveled nearly 920 million miles during this three-day period.

Across the state, 11 people died in traffic accidents, as of Monday evening. In comparison, AAA reports indicate that 15 people lost their lives on Michigan roadways during the 1989 Memorial Day weekend.

Correction

In the May 16 edition of The Clarkston News, Dean VanderKolk's name was misspelled in a story about mimes. Also, the story should have said that VanderKolk and fellow mime Shawn Smith entertained a group of West Germans in the United States and that they belong to a band called "Project G.O.D.," which recently released an album called "Reach Out."

5 honored at annual community awards breakfast

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

Laughter mixed with sincere expressions of thanks at the Fifth Annual Michigan Week Community Awards Breakfast at 7:30 a.m. May 23.

In conjunction with Independence Township and the Village of Clarkston, five awards were given at the ceremony at Spring Lake Country Club, Maybee Road, Independence Township.

George White presented the Citizen Award to Jan and Durham Downs, who have lived in the area with their four sons since 1983.

The two volunteered more than 1,000 hours to issues concerning Clarkston Community Schools, said White, mentioning in particular their work on millage campaigns.

Since schools are an integral part of any community, the Downs have contributed much, he said.

"Jan and Durham have played a very active role in the quality of life in the community," White said.

Independence Township Supervisor Frank Ronk presented the Volunteer Award to Robert J. Pilarcik for his work on the Independence Land Conservancy.

"He works hard for the community," said Ronk. "He's worked hard for the school over the years. ... In the conservancy, he is one of the key people who keeps it going."

"(The Conservancy) is going to preserve some of the things in the community that won't be taken away by the growth."

In accepting the award, Pilarcik noted that many volunteers were in the audience.

"For me, land preservation and volunteering in general is a form of prayer," he said. "It's an act of love. I love this community. I love its surroundings, and I love its people."

For the Property Beautification Award, Mary Himburg made the presentation to Margaret Roth of Lehman Investment, which renovated an auto dealership on M-15, just north of the Village of Clarkston, turning it into a retail and office building.

Himburg said the changes not only improve that particular site, but "it improves the whole surrounding area."

Roth, who accepted the award in place of her son, Ed

Adler, was pleased with the award.

"I, myself, could not believe that we had that ugly building sitting there, so I told my son, 'We have to do something about it,'" she said, laughing.

Bruce Mercado presented the Business Person Award to Richard Detkowski of Clarkston Disposal.

"He makes a significant impression on our community by improving the environment," said Mercado, mentioning Detkowski's early involvement with curbside recycling.

In addition to his own business, Detkowski has served as a speaker about recycling and solid waste management in general, said Mercado.

Detkowski said he was honored to receive the award and thanked his wife, Cherri, for putting up with his long hours at work.

"I miss meals, and she has to take care of everything," he said.

Jon Abbott presented the Historic Preservation Award to Alex and Peggy Bruni, for their restoration of an historical home on Main Street, Clarkston, and for Peggy's involvement with the Clarkston Community Historical Society.

"The Brunis did a beautiful job," said Abbott, about the house. "They've had the joy of living in that house for eight months while they went through all this."

ACCEPTING the property beautification award is Margaret Roth of Lehman Investments.

SUPERVISOR Frank Ronk of Independence Township presents Robert Pilarcik with the volunteer award for Pilarcik's work toward preserving land in the area.

RICK DETKOWSKI gave credit to his wife, Cherri, when he received the business person award for his contribution to the cause of recycling. She kept the household running while he worked long hours in his Clarkston Disposal business, he said.

AFTER breakfast Wednesday, May 23, award-winners talk before getting their pictures taken. At left are Peggy and Alex Bruni, winners of the historical preservation award. At right are Jan and Durham Downs, winners of the citizen award.

Environmental concerns targeted by area group

The first meeting of her new environmental group had drawn 25 people to her living room, she says.

Name of Clarkston Oaks grocery store uncertain after Kroger announces buy-out of Great Scott!

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Officials don't know yet if the vacant Great Scott! building at Clarkston Oaks plaza, Dixie Highway, Independence Township, will become a Kroger or remain a Great Scott!

Two weeks ago, Kroger Co. announced an agreement to purchase a majority of the Meadowdale Foods' Great Scott! stores.

According to Great Scott! officials, a contract could be finalized within two to three months. It will take that long to work out various technicalities such as government filings and union arrangements.

Under the proposed agreement, Kroger will acquire most of the operating assets of Meadowdale's Great Scott! retail division, including 30 operating Great Scott! stores and four new stores under construction. In the deal, a third company, Foodland Distributors, will also acquire the operating assets of Meadowdale's Abner Wolf Distributors' wholesale division, as well as the four remaining Great Scott! retail locations.

Great Scott! currently operates 34 supermarkets in the metropolitan Detroit area and has four additional stores under construction that Kroger expects to complete and open. Kroger, which currently operates 29 supermarkets in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, expects to operate most of the acquired Great Scott! stores under the Kroger name.

However, it hasn't been determined yet if the vacant store at Maybee Road and Dixie Highway will remain a Great Scott! or be converted to a Kroger.

According to Ron Sperlock, merchandising manager at Kroger Co., the decision of store designation probably won't come about until the finalization of the contract.

"We've yet to look at the specific numbers of stores to see which ones could gain the Kroger name or remain Great Scott!," Sperlock said. "We'll take a look at the stores once a contract has been closed, but it'll probably take two to three months to get through this process."

When asked if a transfer of title could affect the proposed July opening of the Clarkston Oaks store, Paul Coleman, director of communications at Meadowdale's, said he had no comment until a contract settlement had been reached.

Ed Boutros, the developer of Clarkston Oaks, said he probably would be notified of the store's opening date within a couple of weeks. He added that the building would probably be converted to a Kroger, but it wouldn't have to be modified to accommodate a different supermarket.

"I've viewed one of Kroger's 'new generation' stores in Garden City, and it's very similar to today's Great Scott! supermarkets," he said. "The store is going to be very, very nice and far different from any Kroger you've ever seen."

Environmental group is formed

destroyed in the back of the (Waterford) neighborhood." Though her call to "save the earth" joins a chorus of others on this Earth Day anniversary, her voice has been yelling longer, and perhaps louder, than many others.

Her children have been hearing about her fight since the day they were born, she says.

"We can't stop development," Tammy admits. "But if we don't have trees, lakes and fresh water — do you know where our water supply comes from?" she demands.

"Lake Huron," she answers. "Can you imagine what that water has to go through?"

"I'm not a professional," she admits. "All I do is read. But, see, it's information that is going to help us."

In an effort to share information, Tammy has fought to organize the environmental group in her neighborhood.

Though the group has no formal name yet, meetings will be held regularly to pool information, determine target areas of improvement and take action.

Fast-food restaurants rank high on the hit list: Tammy invited local Burger King and McDonald's representatives to the group's first meeting.

"Burger King is really doing great," Tammy comments, "(but) we're going to go and get into McDonald's face."

Grocery stores are another target; Food Town has consented to purchase canvas bags for customers requesting them, and the group hopes to get the new A & P and Great Scott managers to do the same thing.

"I'd like to see Clarkston get a trash day," she adds, ticking off several other environmental concerns.

"We're going to come up with what bothers us most and target that and go down the list," she says.

"I'd like to see Clarkston really getting into this," Tammy muses. "It seems that if the village started together to believe in ideas, we could work together."

"We need to start caring again," she adds.

The group's next meeting has been set for June 19. To attend, or to receive more information, call 623-2685.

Summer begins

Julie

A stream of consciousness before Memorial Day weekend:

While there are no clowns or free candy or huge decorated floats in Clarkston's Memorial Day Parade, it is my favorite of all Clarkston's parades. It's not that I don't like the festivity of the other occasions — but I like the solemnity of the Memorial Day observation.

Each year, veterans of war march, as do family members of those missing in action. Then, at Lakeview Cemetery afterward, someone recites the Gettysburg Address, and the roll call of Clarkston's war dead is read — the list of names goes on and on.

Next, the Clarkston High School marching band plays. For one piece, trumpeters are spaced throughout the cemetery, so their clear notes sound like they're floating in on the wind.

On Memorial Day — and other days, too — family members can be seen tending to their loved ones' graves.

Sometimes, it's an elderly woman, all alone, carefully planting geraniums at the grave of her deceased husband.

Other times, children accompany a parent or two, and while the adults are planting and raking, the children scramble around, racing for the water spigot or trying to make out now-faded gravestones.

Eventually, they ramble back to their parents. Perhaps it is a time for children to learn about their family history. Or maybe it is just a peaceful day spent out of doors and out of school.

The smell of freshly-cut grass reminds me of childhood. When I was really young, I didn't pay attention too much to grass stains on my clothing.

But later, I noticed how grass was slick if you slid on it. It would leave shiny green streaks — sometimes mixed with brown from moist dirt — on clothes. It was only much later that I remembered before I slid that those stains were difficult for my mother to remove in the laundry. By that age, I didn't do much sliding on the grass anyway.

Occasionally, my neighbor Cindy Criger and I would sit on a hill and chew on long pieces of grass — the type with the seeds still on the ends. We thought we were kind of like characters from television Westerns, I guess. But the grass never tasted very good — kind of bitter, instead of sweet, which I expected.

We would chew and think and talk.

Cindy and I talked about many things — all important. Like Bobby Sherman. (Remember him? The blue-eyed vocalist that sometimes found his way onto posters in adolescent girls' bedrooms.)

Or whether to include frogs in our animal cemetery that already included cats (yes, we decided). Or to include butterflies (yes). Or flies — after we killed them (yes — their wings are kind of pretty if they're not broken). Or mosquitoes (no, definitely, no).

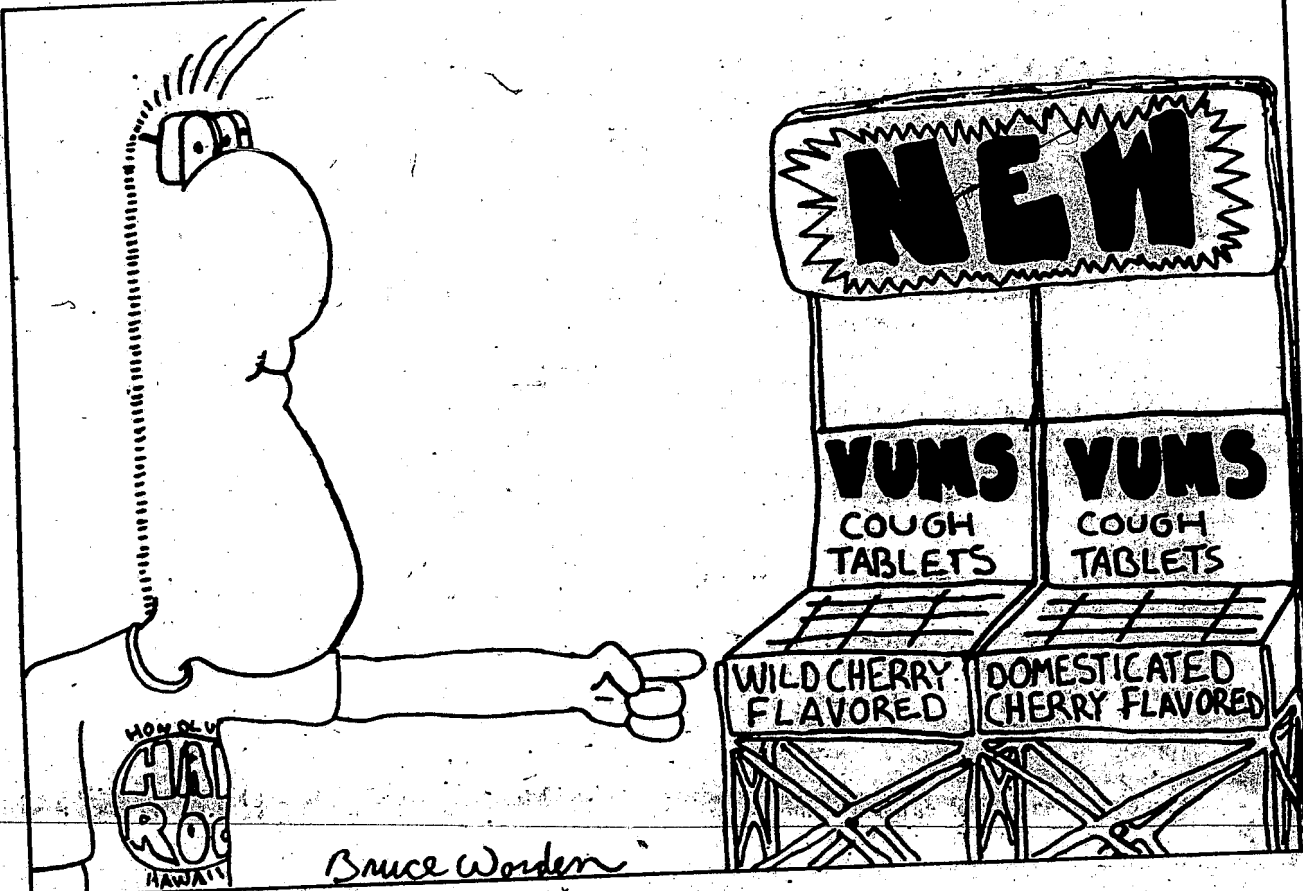

Once, we were watering the wildflowers we had transplanted in the animal cemetery, when I unknowingly watered a sweat-bee nest.

Those small insects let me know in a hurry that I was flooding them — they stung me a dozen times or more on my stomach. I dropped the water hose and ran as fast as I could toward home. Cindy ran along with me part of the way, offering ice or whatever. But I just kept running, and she, I'm afraid, was left to return and turn off the water.

Cindy has always been a dependable friend.

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

An ex-truck driver with 20 years experience told me it was common to drive 36 hours without sleep, sometimes 48. He said they learn the trick of altering their log. He learned to live without sleep. He got off the road because his wife was constantly worrying about him. An accident in a heavy fog might have helped with the decision.

I think blue herons are the most skittish birds in the world. They have great delicacy and grace on land or in flight. It's great to watch them, but I can never get very close.

I think it's wonderful how something as fleshy and pliable as your tongue can do such a great job as a toothpick. And, it's so handy, too.

Did the American public really ask all the car manufacturers to put bulbous, bulging backs and road-kill-scooping fronts on so many models?

I wish flowering crab trees stayed in bloom longer and that lilacs lasted more than a day or two in a vase. Along the same line, a field of dandelions is beautiful, but they lose that beauty when scattered about my yard.

Driving west on I-69 past Durand you can see perhaps the highest wooden obscuring-wall in the world to the left, just west of the "Scen" outdoor theater. It was put up years ago to stop railroad personnel on the Grand Trunk from spending undue time in that area switching cars around after shows started.

Grandson Danny, 5, came into his house after playing with a neighbor boy. Mother asked, "What have you been doing?" Danny said, "I learned how to be sent home and Steven learned how to be sent to his room."

A golf outing had been planned for months. Came the week of the "event" and Dick Light's brother died. Dick said he'd still be making the trip because, "My brother was a golfer and he'd understand." It was just a light remark (no pun intended). Dick attended the funeral.

Did you see where a Rochester Hills man was arrested when he tried to board a plane for Paris with $700,000 in cash in his luggage? Then, at his arraignment he said he could not afford an attorney and asked the court to appoint one? And we taxpayers will pay for it.

In the same newspaper there was a short article that said, "Legislation is pending in the state Senate that would allow motorists to pass school buses while children are getting off the bus when children don't have to cross the street." No mention of the idiot senator who proposed that head-on crash, child-killing law. Who knows which way a kid will walk? Come on, reporters, tell us who did it!

The person who proposed the above piece of legislation should take the advice of the old philosopher who said, "silence is the best and surest way to hide ignorance." I'll now show you how quiet I can be.

Letters to the Editor

Attack was unjust

A letter published in the May 23rd edition of The Clarkston News under the guise of "Setting it Straight" marks a new low in political dialogue in the Village.

The letter, which appeared above Harold Goyette's signature, dealt with a recent denial of a zoning change for the Goyette funeral home and residence.

Typically, I would not dignify such a letter with a response; however, I feel compelled to come to the defense of the Village of Clarkston Planning Commission Chairperson, Stephen Arkwright, as the accusations and innuendoes were so despicable.

In an attempt to make his point, Mr. Goyette saw fit to personally attack the integrity of Mr. Arkwright based primarily on his being "a member of our community for less than two years," (in actuality the Arkwrights have lived in the village for four years) and his place of employment.

Mr. Goyette clearly implied that Mr. Arkwright was unduly influenced by myself in this matter, merely because we happen to work for the same firm.

While it is true we are both proud members of same financial services company; my duties include supervision of 55 branch offices spread throughout 12 states. Mr. Arkwright, on the other hand is entrusted with the enormous responsibility of managing individual and corporate financial affairs locally.

I regret that I haven't had the opportunity to interact professionally or socially with Mr. Arkwright in over a year other than a chance meeting at the Clarkston Cafe on May 21.

Mr. Goyette may rest assured that neither his name, nor business, was mentioned at that time.

Clearly, Mr. Goyette had sought favorably zoning solely for his particular piece of property and individual business. When he was denied preferential treatment he became unreasonably upset.

I remind Mr. Goyette, "Ours is a nation of laws, not men."

Privilege, when it involves the law, must be granted by the citizenry, not demanded on the grounds of tenure.

It is most unfortunate that Stephen and his wife Jennifer after unselfishly contributing their time and efforts to our community, must be subjected to such a personal attack based solely on their relative newness to the village and the coincidences of Mr. Arkwright's employment.

Mr. Goyette allowed his disappointment to turn into an unwarranted personal attack and he owes the Arkwrights an apology.

Downs and Hughes for board seats

There are several reasons why the team of Downs/Hughes makes sense for Clarkston's school board.

School board members are supposed to be advocates for the kids, and that's what both Durham Downs and Sheila Hughes believe.

They have children within our school system and are more familiar than most citizens about what goes on inside our buildings.

Second, they regularly attend school board meetings and are thoroughly familiar with the tough issues facing Clarkston.

Personally, I question the motives of candidates who have never struggled through some of our "marathon" board meetings.

These meetings reveal a lot about how the board operates and what needs to be done to change it.

Lastly, no one in Clarkston has worked harder for the kids. Whether it's volunteer time in the buildings or committee work in the district, Downs and Hughes have been committed to spending time to make things better for Clarkston schools.

They know the issues, and they can smoothly step into leadership positions that will make a difference in Clarkston. Please give them your vote on June 11.

Reaching a comfortable cruising altitude and air speed, the pilot announces a flying time of three hours and 45 minutes.

Groaning inwardly, I adjust my legs and arms into the tiny seat, careful not to encroach on the elbow space shared with my overweight seat mate.

Quickly, I engage my air-survival tactics, and reach for the thick book I have packed for the purpose.

About every chapter or so, the pilot interrupts. "New Mexico on the left," he clips. "Lake Tahoe in the distance."

My seat mate safely asleep, I lean to the window and ponder our position.

Amazing, that we can traverse the country within the span of a few book chapters, I muse, rethinking what now appears to be a very short flight.

What a small world. I think back to another time, a few months ago, when I recalled thinking the very same thing.

It was a train, and another long trip. We had traveled the entire length of Italy and were beginning the long slope across the southern end.

The terrain was stark, rural and lifeless. Had we reached the ends of the earth?

"Excuse me," interrupted a rare English speaking passenger. "Do you work for Apple Computer? Pat, stupefied, answered yes. We both think of the logo on his t-shirt.

"I start with them in two weeks," the young American, continued, explaining he had been working at the company while a student at the University of Michigan.

"You're Steve Horowitz!" Pat shouted.

I gaped at him, openmouthed.

"I've heard a lot about you," Pat said excitedly.

Steve Horowitz's girlfriend came over at the sound of the commotion and we all began to talk at once.

"You live where?" I gasped. She lived two streets away from us in West Bloomfield.

What a small world, we all exclaimed over and over again.

Smiling at this memory, I finally arrive in sunny California. Feeling refreshed from the short flight that has transported me across the country, I stroll down the San Jose tarmac towards the baggage area.

"Tracy! Tracy!" someone shouts.

No. It can't be. Two friends from Pat's office.

"What a small world," they say.

I know, I say smugly, I know.

Debs can be a problem

Jim Fitzgerald

It's possible that co-worker relationships are slightly strained in the Detroit law offices of Charfoos & Christensen. Or maybe not. Lawyers are well known for battling fiercely in the legal arena and soon after enjoying a pleasant lunch together.

Whatever. My May 9 column commented on the financial difficulties of Larry Charfoos of Charfoos & Christensen. He'd just been hit with a court order to repay $500,000 in bank loans and, according to the newspapers, the judgment came in just one of several lawsuits seeking $1.3 million from Charfoos for defaulted loans.

"It's a matter of cash flow and it is no big problem," Charfoos said, adding that business was never better at his law firm. I was impressed - even awed - and wondered if perhaps Charfoos had simply left the $1.3 million in his other pair of pants.

A few hours after that column was published, I was faxed a message from Sharon Lutz, managing shareholder at Charfoos & Christensen, which lists 12 lawyers on its masthead, with Larry on top. I think Lutz's position is similar to Douglas Brackman's on television's "L.A. Law." She probably sits at one end of the long table and worries about the bean count.

A week later, I heard from Lutz again, this time by certified letter. I was getting the impression she had a message for me and wouldn't mind if I shared it with you. So here are excerpts:

"The default judgments which have been obtained against (Larry Charfoos) are based on personal loans to him and/or his wife and/or Gazelle. I understand that Gazelle is a cosmetic business of Mr. Charfoos and/or his wife along with other private investors, NONE of whom are members of this law firm.

"PLEASE in the interest of fairness and accuracy, continue to make perfectly clear the distinction between the law firm of Charfoos & Christensen, P.C. and Mr. Charfoos' personal financial dealings.

End of message. It's interesting to note that the managing shareholder only understands that Gazelle is a cosmetic business, etc. In legalese, does that mean there's some question about it? If so, why doesn't Lutz simply ask the lawyer at the other end of the table? Or, according to my understanding, she could ask Arnie Becker and/or Stewart Markowitz and/or Ann Kelsy and/or Victor Sifuentes and/or Michael Kuzak to ask him.

In that May 9 column, in further awe, I mentioned Peter Spivak as another apparently successful Detroit lawyer with financial problems. Spivak said it was through a mere "glitch" that he was $327,207 behind in mortgage payments. And, for some unknown reason, I was prompted to recall a long-ago experience with a wealthy deadbeat who claimed it was simply smart business to operate on, and earn interest off, other people's money as long as possible.

There was a reassuring reaction from John F. Muller, the lawyer listed first on the masthead of the Birmingham firm of Muller, Muller, Richmond, Harms, Myers & Scroli, P.C. In closing, in gratitude, I quote Muller:

"Congratulations on your article regarding society's attitude toward payment of their obligations. Thirty some years ago I was introduced to the field of commercial collections when I worked my way through law school at Dun & Bradstreet Inc. Today, our firm is one of the largest commercial firms in the country. Everyday we see examples of people using every trick in the book to avoid payment of obligations.

"Through the years I have seen the public's attitude change from being proud to pay one's obligations to where now it seems, it is a good business practice if you can avoid paying your creditors. People were embarrassed to file bankruptcy. Today it seems they take this route as the easy way out.

"Repeatedly, we see people living luxuriously at the expense of their creditors. Unfortunately, public opinion seems to accept this as the American Way. It was refreshing to have a voice in the wilderness cry out for integrity - even if it results in a few less dollars in one's pocket. I hear that we are in the minority."

Merci beaucoup

We want to express our appreciation to Mrs. Freda Meyland, a French teacher at Clarkston High School, and Dr. Robert Burek, the principal at Clarkston High School, for allowing our son, Michael, to attend second-year French class during the first hour of the 1989-1990 school year at Clarkston High School.

Michael was able to continue his French studies and learned much vocabulary and grammar. Mrs. Meyland encouraged our son and spent much extra time to include him in her class. We certainly thank Mrs. Meyland for her extra effort. She is an excellent French teacher.

The highlight of Michael's year of French was the trip that he took to Quebec with the Clarkston High School French classes.

Mrs. Carol Arend, another French teacher at Clarkston High School, planned this five-day bus trip along with Mrs. Meyland. The 22 students who journeyed to Quebec, Canada, from May 10-14 were able to use their knowledge of the French language as they experienced French culture.

Michael had a wonderful time and learned so much from the trip. Both Mrs. Arend and Mrs. Meyland receive our high praise for making such a trip possible. They really do care about their students and want them to learn the French language!

Encore, merci beaucoup a Mrs. Freda Meyland, Mrs. Carol Arend, et Dr. Robert Burek pour la classe francaise et le voyage a Quebec! C'est fantastique!

Tom, Carolyn and Michael Romein

Saturn dealership could be in by fall in Springfield

BY SANDRA G. CONLEN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Springfield Township Board welcomed General Motors' answer to Japanese automobile competition

SATURN MOVES into the neighborhood of LaVon Drive and Dixie Highway in Springfield Township.

by approving a rezoning for an Al Serra Saturn dealership. The board voted 6-0 May 24 to rezone, 14 acres of residential property on Dixie Highway and LaVon Drive to planned unit development (PUD). A PUD is a rezoning tied to a specific site plan.

Clerk Calvin Walters was absent from the special meeting.

Serra's son, Joseph, who is the dealer operator for Al Serra Chevrolet in Grand Blanc, was pleased with the board's approval.

"We're really excited about this," he said. "The location speaks for itself. It's a dynamite area."

Joseph Serra's enthusiasm extended to the township board.

"The township has been super to work with," he said.

The dealership could open this fall, according to dealership officials.

At the May 10 meeting, the board said approval would be granted if the architectural firm, Thomblinson, Harburn Associates of Flint, beefed up landscaping between the dealership and the adjacent residential area.

The township ordinance requires landscaping between non-residential parcels and residential parcels to block 80 percent of the light that could filter through the shrubs.

The architects added 25 percent more plants on the residential side — or east side — of the building site, which is next to a residential home.

At the May 24 meeting, Supervisor Collin Walls commented on the improved plans.

"That particular project will have 100 percent opacity (now)," he said.

In addition, the Al Serra Saturn dealership is to pay for the construction of a school bus turnaround for residents on LaVon Drive. The dealership is also to be responsible for snow and ice removal for the bus stop, if the Road Commission of Oakland County doesn't take care of it.

Only one LaVon resident, James Carlton, was present at the May 24 meeting.

"We're really excited about this. The location speaks for itself. It's a dynamite area."

Joseph Serra

Carlton said he was concerned about bright lights on the lot. Plus, his property value may fall if the dealership is built, he said.

Officials told him the lighting was designed to be directed away from the residential area.

After the meeting, Joseph Serra said he hoped area residents' concerns would disappear soon.

"I think they'll be pleased once they see it," he said.

Still openings for Clarkston SCAMP

Openings are still available for Clarkston SCAMP, a five-week summer day camp for youths with special needs.

The program runs 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, June 25-July 26, and is open to special and general education students, preschool through young adult.

SCAMP, under the direction of staff specially trained to work with children and youth, offers such opportunities as swimming, art, music, motor skills, field trips, overnight camping, academic games and more.

Palace Gardens: new adversary for Pine Knob

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With the announcement of the planned 50-acre, 17,000-seat "Palace Gardens" amphitheater, a third outdoor concert facility has thrown its hat into the county's entertainment arena.

Despite the fanfare, Pine Knob's top brass isn't ready to panic in light of a new facility.

Planned to open in May 1991, the Palace Gardens is to be located on Harmony Road, adjacent to the Palace of Auburn Hills.

It is to offer a pavilion with a seating capacity of 7,500 and room for 10,000 more people on an open lawn. Three oversize video screens, suspended from the pavilion roof, are to be provided for the convenience of the "lawn goers," and 42 premium suites are to encompass the higher confines of the pavilion.

The facility is the brainchild of the Palace's owners: Bill Davidson, Robert Sosnick and David Hermelin. The Palace Gardens amphitheater is being designed by Rossetti Associates, which also designed the Palace of Auburn Hills.

Despite the hoopla surrounding the new concert facility and its ramifications on the "outdoor market,"

"With the amount of new acts coming out in the various fields of music, there shouldn't be a problem with an added facility."

John J. Nederlander
Pine Knob General Manager

Pine Knob General Manager John J. Nederlander isn't worried about his site's future.

"With the amount of new acts coming out in the various fields of music, there shouldn't be a problem with an added facility," Nederlander said. "The Palace Gardens and Pine Knob are virtually the same size in terms of patronage, and I hope it does well."

Nederlander, whose family operates 32 theaters and amphitheaters throughout the U.S., said Pine Knob isn't concerned with trying to compete with the Palace Gardens, and operations will continue as usual in Clarkston.

"We'll continue to do what we've been doing since our family took over ownership nearly five years ago," he said. "I don't see real competitiveness between the other facilities because all of the operators are friends. There isn't a cut-throat mentality amongst us."

However, Nederlander added that he thought there were too many similar facilities within the same general area.

"I really feel that they (Palace officials) should have put the facility in another state in order to (be) beneficial to them," Nederlander said. "There are a lot of outdoor venues in this part of the state and they might have made out better financially if they were located elsewhere."

Despite the added facility, Nederlander said that ticket and concession prices will remain constant and not drop to sway concert goers.

"No, our prices won't drop. We have to keep in sync with everyone else," Nederlander added. "We're rebuilding the 'New Pine Knob,' and we've got to cover our costs due to the renovations. We hope the patrons understand that and come out to see our refurbished facility."

A Frank's Nursery store received its first approval to locate in White Lake Commons, Independence Township.

The township planning commission voted unanimously May 24 to give conceptual site plan approval to the business, which is planned for the new shopping center at the southeast corner of Dixie Highway and White Lake Road.

The conceptual approval was contingent on the following improvements: increased landscaping at the corner of the building and alongside the west wall facing White Lake road, a "hidden" rear location for the outdoor storage shed, and the installation of a seasonal shade to drape over a low wall surrounding the outdoor sales area.

Requested by Weatherford/ Walker Construction for phase two of the shopping center development, Frank's is proposed for the northwest corner of the 25-acre parcel. The nursery is to have an outdoor sales area, to be located between Frank's and the rest of the center.

The outdoor sales area is to be enclosed by a two-foot brick "knee" wall with a four-foot wrought iron fence attached to the front of the store. According to engineer Dan Klevinger, all purchases will be conducted within the main building, but larger items will be required to exit the building's rear door.

The 6,000-square-foot store is to look similar to the other storefronts within the shopping center. Plans also call for an outdoor storage facility in the rear of the building.

Registration begins for summer programs

With Summer Playground, Day Camp and LatchKey, Clarkston-area children can look forward to a fun summer.

The Day Camp and Summer Playground are offered by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department. Pre-registration is required for each two-week Day Camp session.

In Day Camp, children can participate in arts and crafts, games, physical activities, special theme weeks, field trips, concentrated sports areas, swimming and overnight camping.

For working parents, Latchkey is provided 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. by Clarkston Community Education before and after both programs.

Registration for LatchKey began May 29 at the community education center, 5275 Maybee Rd., Independence Township. The center is open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Call 674-3141 for more information.

Registration for the playground and day camp programs takes place at the Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston. Call 625-8223 for more information.

Registration for fall LatchKey begins June 26 and runs throughout the summer at the community education center.

Reporter's Notebook

Leslie Wirpsa, a 1980 Clarkston High School graduate, was heard reporting news from South America on National Public Radio Friday, May 25. When a CHS student, she was named winner of the Daughter of the American Revolution leadership award, and she also was Clarkston's Junior Miss. Attempts to reach her through NPR were futile.

After almost a year of work, the contract between the school district and the teacher's union was ready for a vote. Now all that was needed was teachers.

A contract vote by teachers was forced to be pushed back a week because not enough rank and file union members showed up to vote May 22.

By law, one person over half the total members in the union must cast ballots in a ratification vote.

Clarkston Education Association President Bill Curtis called the incident an "unusual occurrence."

The new vote has been set for May 29.

After the Fifth Annual Michigan Week Community Awards Breakfast, the Clarkston Melody Makers hung around the Spring Lake Country Club to pack up their belongings.

"The song has ended, but the melody lingers on," one member was heard to say.

Ron Davis of National Bank of Detroit served as the master of ceremonies for the Community Awards Breakfast May 23. At the end of the program, he revealed his inspiration: Lew Wint, who spoke at the Jaycees in Pontiac 23 years ago, and Davis was a member.

"That's the only Jaycees meeting I remember," Davis said. "I found myself in awe listening to Lew Wint."

Alex Bruni, who with his wife Peggy won the Historic Preservation Award at the Community Awards Breakfast May 23, did not exactly thank Bob Pilarcik for selling him the historic house on Main Street, Clarkston.

The renovation of the house took months of hard work, Bruni told Pilarcik, who won the Volunteer Award at the breakfast.

A representative of a bottled water company last week said he once delivered a bottle of water to a Flint ambulance company and saw a goldfish swimming in the upside-down bottle. That did not stop the employees from drinking the water, he said.

An unidentified woman called the News office on Thursday, May 17, to report the discoloration of the Mill Pond's water in the Miller Road area of Clarkston.

She contested that the sediment just off shore had taken on an orange-ish tint and suspected foul play of an "unnatural" origin.

Independence Township Clerk Joan McCrary said that no one had called her regarding the Mill Pond. She added that the recent intense rain was probably the culprit behind the discoloration of the Mill Pond's muck, which was more of an off-brown tint than orange.

Reporter's Notebook is compiled by staff members of The Clarkston News.

athlete: Jamie Law
spring sport: softball positions: third baseman, shortstop, pitcher statistics: batting about .245 with two triples and two homers (one grand slam) awards: most valuable player for JV softball team (sophomore year) other sports played: volleyball
idol: Volleyball coach Gordie Richardson

g.p.a.: 2.8
best moment in spring sports: "When I hit my first home run. It was the first time I really got a hold of one in a long time."
toughest pitcher faced: Julie Clarkson of Mott advice given to athlete taking your place: "Have a good attitude. Don't take things too seriously. Think positive, even if you make errors, and don't be intimidated."
what will you miss the most: "Playing with everyone. I made a lot of new friends and we became a team."
what will you miss the least: "All the running we have to do."
coach's comment: (Coach Carla Teare) "Jamie is one of our tri-captains. She's very spirited, a good leader. She comes through in key situations and has been a real pleasure to coach."
future plans: Will attend Central Michigan University, possibly majoring in nursing.

athlete: Sarah Kortege
spring sport: track
events: 100 meter high hurdles, 300 low hurdles

g.p.a.: 3.3
best moment in spring sports: "When I mastered 4-stepping for the hurdles."

toughest opponent: Pontiac Northern's Nikisha Mitchell advice given to athlete taking your place: "Work hard, don't give up. Just grin and bear it when the coaches yell at you."
what will you miss the most: "Goofy things we all do during practices."
what will you miss the least: "The 300 hurdles."
coach's comment: (coach Gordie Richardson) "Sarah has worked unbelievably hard for three years. She's not the most gifted athlete, but she never complains. She works to be a successful member of the team and has fun doing it."
teammate's comment: (Michelle Darby) "When I think of Sarah, I think of a dedicated, hard-working runner with the fastest arms of any hurdler I've seen. And best of all, she's a friend to anyone who needs one."
future plans: attend Western Michigan, majoring in special education

athlete: Michelle Folwell
spring sport: track
events: 100, 200, 400 meter dashes and four different relay teams statistics: 100 (12.7), 200 (27.2), 400 (61.4)

1989 for the 1600 relay
other sports played: volleyball idols: her two coaches and her mother, Norma, and father, Bob
g.p.a.: 3.5
best moment in spring sports: anchoring the 1600 relay in a win over Pontiac Northern this year, and last year taking the baton in third place and finishing first while anchoring a 1600 relay toughest opponent: Pontiac Northern's Nikkia Hannah advice given to athlete taking your place: "Work hard in practice so you can perform well in meets. Don't get down on yourself if you do badly in one event."
what will you miss the most: "The competition and not being together with all the friends and coaches."
what will you miss the least: practices and getting nervous before a meet coach's comment: (coach Gordie Richardson) "Michelle's an outstanding athlete with unlimited potential. She's very good at all events. There isn't anything we've asked that she hasn't attempted to do. She'd probably even be a great long jumper."
teammate's comment: (Celeste Steinhilber) "I'd take Michelle on my relay team any day. She's capable of doing anything she sets her mind on doing. She's the strongest all-around track individual I'll ever know."
future plans: go to college and study to be an accountant, get married and have a family.

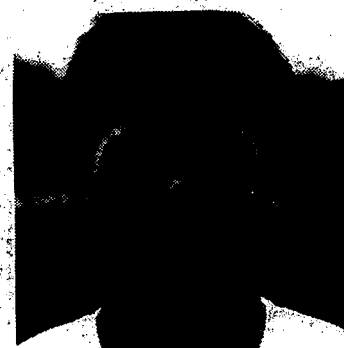

athlete: Wally Wyniemko
spring sport: track
events: discus, shot put, heavy-man relay statistics: discus (135 feet, 9 inches), shot put (37 feet, 8 inches)

g.p.a.: 3.3
best moment in spring sports: "Playing with the new people, the ninth and 10th graders."
toughest opponent: Brandon advice given to athlete taking your place: "Have fun and don't worry about winning."

what will you miss the most: "The games. I won't be playing next year."
what will you miss the least: "How much it takes up my time."
coach's comment: (coach Kelly Gabriele) "Nancy is my best ball handler. She's a very enthusiastic player and will go far in the sport."
teammate's comment: (Sabre Lachman) "Nancy has been a great help to the team."
future plans: Attend the University of Rhode Island, probably majoring in business.

athlete: April Ferguson
spring sport: soccer position: mid-fielder and forward statistics: scored two goals this season idol: Sue Cohoon
g.p.a.: 2.0
best moment in spring sports: "The time I got two goals in the same game against Mott."
toughest opponent: Brandon advice given to athlete taking your place: "Play tough and take numbers."

what will you miss the most: "The way we all stuck together. We only had 11 players and played our best every time."
what will you miss the least: "Playing in the cold, when it's 30 degrees and snowing."
coach's comment: (coach Kelly Gabriele) "April is always up and willing to play. She's very supportive of the sport and her teammates."
teammate's comment: (Sue Cohoon) "April works harder for the team than for herself. She only has two goals because she has more assists."

athlete: Ian Halleran
spring sport: tennis position/event: No. 2 singles statistics: No. 3 singles sophomore and junior years, No. 2 senior year awards: GOAL champion for No. 3 singles in 1989, GOAL champion for No. 2 singles in 1990, also has won some junior-tourney trophies idol: Lee Iacocca
g.p.a.: 3.6

best moment in spring sports: "Going through last season undefeated and winning the league."
toughest opponent: West Bloomfield's Chuck Selinger advice given to athlete taking your place: "When you get a lead, don't think about the next game, think about the next shot. Play each point. Don't get too relaxed."
what will you miss the most: "Competition."
what will you miss the least: "The practices necessary in order to be a good player."
coach's comment: (Coach Dick Swartout) "Ian improved a lot over the three years that he played at Clarkston."
teammate's comment: (Keith Turner) "Ian is a good person and friend. Off the court he is fun to be with. He has also put up with the criticism I gave him after matches."
future plans: Attend Michigan State University and study international business.

Senioritis

Spring athletes save best for last

Clarkston spring sports coaches were asked to choose two senior athletes for profiles. (Note: the softball team only had one senior this season, and the boys' track coach, Walt Wynnemko, selected three of his seniors).
Next week, The Clarkston News will wrap up the varsity spring sports season with stories, and the following week will feature a spring sports photo essay.

athlete: Scott Kane
spring sport: tennis position/event: No. 3 doubles idols: His parents, Arlene Longroy and Ron Kane
g.p.a.: 2.6
best moment in spring sports: "Being involved in league tennis, playing against a bunch of different players."
toughest opponent: "All of them. They all give you a good run for the money."
advice given to athlete taking your place: "Work hard and keep your eye on the ball."

what will you miss the most: "The people I play with."
what will you miss the least: "Cold weather, especially in the regionals."
coach's comment: (Coach Dick Swartout) "Scott always gave it a good effort whenever he played."
future plans: Study electrical engineering at Oakland University.

athlete: Kevin Keilitz
spring sport: baseball
position/event: pitcher, outfielder
statistics: 423
awards: Most Valuable Player - 9th grade other sports played: football (mvp - 10th grade), all-GOAL, Heart Award
idol: His father, Dan, and football coach Kurt Richardson
g.p.a.: 2.9
best moment in spring sports: "This year's batting average. It's the first time I've hit real well."

toughest opposing pitchers: Keener's Tim Miller and Mott's Bret Hayward advice given to athlete taking your place: "Don't get down on yourself. At the beginning of the year I was 0 for 8. So, keep a positive attitude."
what will you miss the most: "All the friends I've met from opposing teams."
what will you miss the least: "Our record."
coach's comment: (Coach Roy Warner) "Kevin is an excellent competitor. He has played outfield and pitched for us. Kevin is a team leader. He is hitting .400 this season."
future plans: Central Michigan business administration. Plan on playing baseball.

athlete: Larry Liford
spring sport: baseball
position: first baseman statistics: .425, one homer idol: Will Clark
g.p.a.: 2.5
best moment in spring sports: Hitting my home run toughest pitcher faced: Bret Hayward of Mott advice given to athlete taking your place: "Work hard and have enthusiasm."

what will you miss the most: "Competition in high school."
what will you miss the least: "There's nothing wrong. I kind of like it all."
coach's comment: (coach Roy Warner) "Larry is an excellent team player. He has made the adjustment to different positions. Larry has been an offensive spark for us for two years, hitting .400 both years."
teammate's comment: (Corey Olsen) "Larry's a great hitter. He can hit just about anybody."
future plans: this summer playing American Legion baseball

Swinging from the Heels

James Gibowski

Playing by the book

Lance Lewis began the spring sports season the way he wanted to, running over hurdles.

Tonya Dylag began it the way she didn't want to, away from the net.

Lewis, a tall senior who is one of Clarkston High School's top 10 students, started his third and last varsity track season with an ease that matched the way he glides over hurdles.

Dylag, a short freshman who was trying to raise her grades, could only imagine what it was like to be a goalkeeper the first time for the varsity girls' soccer team.

And even though Lewis entered the season with a 3.95 grade point average while Dylag was trying to raise hers to a 2.6, both had a good grasp of the important mix of athletics, competition, books and homework.

Lewis never had to worry about grades and academic eligibility. He always worked hard. Or as he puts it, "Keeping focused."

Dylag, on the other hand, admits that, "If I have a chance to get lazy, I will."

Before you start subtracting Dylag's g.p.a. from Lewis', let me assure you that when you speak with Dylag, she comes across as bright and articulate.

In fact, her grades were always high enough to be eligible to play soccer this spring. But they weren't good enough for her father, Joseph, who expected more from his daughter.

"I think he made a good decision," said Dylag about her father prohibiting her to play at the start of the season.

Dylag, who said she usually gets at least all B's, had one A, a few B's, a few C's and one D on her first semester report card.

So, while the soccer team hit the field in late March and early April, Dylag was hitting the books.

She earned all B's on her new report card, and on April 25 about halfway through the season, she arrived at practice in hopes of becoming the soccer team's new goalkeeper.

Her coach, Kelly Gabriele, was so quickly impressed with Dylag's performance that she put the freshman in goal against a highly-ranked Brandon team the next day. The Wolves lost the game, 5-0, but Gabriele realized at that point she probably found her goalie for the next three years.

"She's a fighter," said Gabriele.

In the following three games after the Brandon loss, Dylag and her Wolf teammates on defense fought off all the shots on goal for three-straight shutout victories.

Dylag, who ran track in seventh and eighth grades and played some soccer on an Independence Township Recreation Department league, thinks her success on the soccer field will help her concentration in the classroom.

"Once your body gets stimulated, your mind's free to get more active. Since I've started sports, I'm doing better in school," said Dylag.

Lewis, sounding like Dylag's father, gives the freshman some advice:

"If she really wants to play soccer, then she has to study as much as she can," says Lewis, who agrees with the freshman that sports can sometimes help an athlete become a better student.

"Sports budgets my time," said the senior, who recently placed fourth in the 300 low hurdles at regionals (40.75). "It cuts down on my free time but it helps get me going on my homework."

Lewis, who will attend the University of Michigan this fall, said if he wasn't running track he probably would be home "sitting around and watching TV" and "still doing my homework at 8 or 9 o'clock."

Lewis not only values the competition in track over a late-afternoon dose of television, he also values the friends he made and the fun times he has had.

The senior says a good education should always take precedence over athletics, but he also points out how important both of them have been during his high school career. So much so, that if he had to choose between his present g.p.a. without sports or a lower g.p.a. with sports, he would choose the latter.

And besides, adds Lewis, "Colleges are looking more and more at well-rounded students."

What does Dylag think about all of this?

The freshman, who is proud of earning her first varsity letter this spring, said she hopes someday to get a scholarship and play college soccer.

And no one knows better than Dylag (and Lewis), that means spending a lot of time stopping shots on goal and continuing to hit the books.

Girls' track team means business in GOAL

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

If the Clarkston girls' track team were in business instead of the Greater Oakland Activities League, its biggest hurdle would be anti-trust legislation instead of hurdles on a track.

By winning its third straight GOAL championship on May 22 at Brandon, the Wolves have now captured the title five of the last six years.

Clarkston earned 190 points to finish ahead of Pontiac Northern's 150. Lake Orion was third with 73.5, followed by Kettering with 37.5, Mott 33 and Brandon 8.

"We scored more points than we thought we would," said girls' head coach Gordie Richardson. "Our team really came together and performed very well with good times."

Good times for the Wolves meant bad times for the rest of the GOAL teams. Clarkston won seven events, including first-second-third-place finishes in the 800 and 1600 meter runs.

Senior Jenny Mahler captured both the 1600 (5:34.8) and 3200 (12:56.6) runs, senior Michelle Folwell won the 100 meter dash (13.0), freshman Rachel Seifferlein won the shot put (29-5) and senior Sonya Schaffer broke the tape in the 800 run (2:24.9).

Folwell and Schaffer joined teammates junior Carrie Roeser and senior Celeste Steinhelper to win the 1600 relay (4:11.1) and the Wolves won the 3200 relay (10:21.5) with the team of Roeser, freshman Kim Michalek, senior Lisa Palazzola and Schaffer.

Other Clarkston athletes who placed were:

high jump: 3. Steinhelper (4-11) shot put: 2. Stacey Secatch (29-0), 6. Michelle Wade (27-0) discus: 3. Secatch (87-2), 4. Seifferlein (82-10 1/2), 5. Wade (74-11) long jump: 5. Tracy Chamberlain (14-2 3/4) 100 high hurdles: 6. Cara Rayner

(17.98)
800 relay: 2. Jody Lopucki, Chamberlain, Secatch, Schaffer (1:54.25)
1600 run: 2. Schaffer (5:36.9), 3. Roeser (5:41.81)
400 relay: 3. Lopucki, Kathleen Morris, Secatch, Chamberlain (54.47)
400 run: 2. Folwell (1:00.46), 3. Melissa Fletcher (64.3), 6. Steinhelper

(1:05.4)
300 low hurdles: 2. Michelle Darby (50.17), 5. Eve Martin (52.37)
800 run: 2. Mahler (2:29.77), 3. Roeser (2:31.87)
200 dash: 2. Folwell (26.9), 4. Lopucki (28.93), 6. Morris (29.84)
3200 run: 2. Palazzola (12:57.92), 5. Michalak (13:31.37)

Wolverine girls win, boys edged

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston seventh and eighth grade girls' track team crushed Mason May 24, but the Wolverine boys were edged by the visitors.

The girls topped Mason 88-35 and the boys lost 68-56.

CLARKSTON ninth-grade third baseman Leslie Allen attempts to put the tag on Sashabaw's Jenny Akers. Both girls collided, and Akers made it safely to third. Sashabaw won both games of the softball doubleheader on May 23.

Sashabaw duo no-hits Crary

Jeff Marshall and Mike Wood combined on a no-hitter over Crary to help Sashabaw's ninth-grade baseball team raise its record to 8-2.

The Cougars crushed Crary on May 22, 12-2, and had no problems in shutting out Brandon, 11-0, on May 15.

Marshall started and pitched five innings and was relieved by Wood, who closed out the last inning.

Chris Combs, who is batting about .677 for the season, had three hits, two intentional walks and two RBI. Aaron Phillips had a double, single and four RBI.

Tom Doyan, Matt Smith, Steve Bennett, Brent Hummel and Steve Cohoon each had one hit for the Cougars. Cohoon also had four stolen bases, upping his total for the year to 14.

In the 11-0 win over Brandon, Combs batted out four hits and one RBI, Bennett had a double and four RBI and Marshall smacked two triples for two RBI.

In addition, Dave Brazel had two hits, Dan Scheib had one hit and one RBI, Hummel tripled and Jayson Weatherington singled.

Scheib, 2-0, picked up the win by pitching the first three innings. Phillips pitched two innings in relief.

Recreation Roundup

FLASHBACK TO SUMMER VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

There will be an outdoor volleyball tournament June 17 in conjunction with the Flashback to Summer Picnic. The tournament is open to co-rec quad teams and will be played on the sand courts at Independence Oaks on Sashabaw Road. Participants will be treated to sandwiches, beverages T-shirts and plenty of volleyball.

The cost is $10 per player and there will be cash prizes for first and second place teams. The top two teams also earn a berth at The Michigan Sports Festival in Battle Creek, August 3-5.

The deadline to register is June 15, with a maximum of 20 teams to be accepted on a first come, first serve basis.

FLASHBACK TO SUMMER

There's something for everybody at the Flashback to Summer Picnic at Independence Oaks County Park on Sunday, June 17.

Some of the events planned are a fishing derby for all ages, co-rec volleyball tournament, trading card show (1968 World Champion Detroit Tigers Jim Northrup and Denny McLain will be present to sign autographs), live entertainment all day (The Boys Band, Mr. Simon leading "Simon Says," a barbershop quartet, Checkers the Clown, and many others), games, swimming, boating, and remote-controlled sailboat races. Plus, a lounging contest and chore relay for fathers.

The cost is $4 per resident vehicle and $6 per non-resident vehicle.

SAFETY TOWN

Parents can register their children for Safety Town, a program designed to teach safety to 4, 5, and 6 year olds. For two weeks, two hours a day, children will learn with actual practice aspects of safety...strangers, poisons, bicycles, railroad crossings, bus, playground, toys, water, traffic, child safety seats, animals and more. These important messages will be taught by teachers, police officers and fire fighters.

MINI-SPORTS FESTIVAL

Volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis and soccer tournaments will be featured at the Mini-Sports Festival June 22-24 at Clintonwood Park. Winners of many of these tournaments will win berths to the Michigan Sports Festival Aug. 3-5 in Battle Creek.

After tournament action on Saturday, June 23, players and fans are invited to stay around and enjoy entertainment provided by a disc jockey.

YOUTH SOCCER REGISTRATION

Registration for boys and girls (6-19 years old) who would like to play soccer this fall or next spring begins June 2 at the Soccerfest at Clintonwood Park. Those registering June 2 through July 13 may take advantage of a special rate. Those registering July 16 through July 31 will be charged a regular rate.

The season is tentatively scheduled to begin in late August for the under-8, under-10 and under-12 leagues. The travel league teams may begin as early as mid-August. To receive a flyer on youth soccer, call the rec department.

UMPIRES NEEDED

There will be an umpire clinic May 29, May 31 and June 9 for anyone interested in umpiring in the Jr. Baseball and Youth Softball leagues. Umpires are needed for the program. Umpires should be 14 years or older. Umpire's pay will range from $7 to $10 per game, depending on the type of baseball or softball league.

WALK MICHIGAN

Independence Township Parks and Recreation will again be offering participants a chance to take part in the Walk Michigan program.

Prizes are to be awarded by drawing at the conclusion of each walk. Names will also be entered in the season finale drawing each time a person walks. The winner of the season finale drawing receives a free weekend at Mackinac Island on Labor Day weekend. The purpose of this program is to promote good health.

The dates for the walks are as follows:

June 4 - 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. - Clintonwood Park

June 13 - 7 p.m. - Sashabaw Plains

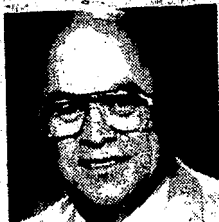

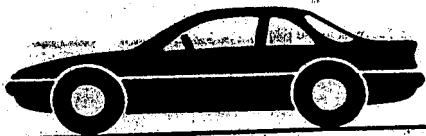

June 17 - 4 p.m. - Independence Oaks

Walkers should plan to show up ready to walk at the announced date, time and location. Pre-registration is not required.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

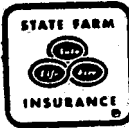

Call 625-8223 or stop by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston. The office is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Soccerfest a kick for families

A soccer match between the Birmingham Cobras and Livonia Paragons is one of the highlights in the second annual Soccerfest.

The Soccerfest, sponsored by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department, is a type of season-ending picnic for the hundreds of participants in the youth soccer program. The event will be held at Clintonwood Park June 2 from 10:15 a.m. through 4 p.m.

The Cobras and Paragons, two adult men's teams from the Great Lakes league, will square off at 3 p.m.

The day gets underway with some matches from the under-8 division, from 10:15 a.m. to 11 a.m.

From 11 a.m. to noon and 12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m., soccer players can sharpen their skills at two free skills clinics.

Soccer competition continues from 12:45 p.m. to 1:45 p.m. with an under-12 match between Independence Township and Rochester, followed by the Cobras vs. Paragons match-up.

In addition, there will be a special visit by some members of Detroit's new professional soccer team, The Detroit Rockers, who will be present to talk to the young players and give out free tickets and handouts.

Some of the all-day activities of the event include games, photos and participation patches available for pick-up, raffle prizes and registration for fall and 1991 spring soccer.

A lunch and beverages will be served. All members of the family are invited to attend. Soccer balls, volleyball equipment, basketballs, horseshoes, etc. will be provided. Those wishing to play tennis should bring their own equipment.

Pre-registration cost for the Soccerfest is $2 per person or maximum $10 per family (those registering the day of the event will pay $1 more per person or $5 more per family).

Tickets can be purchased at the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department. For more information, call 625-8223.

Boys' tracksters 2nd in GOAL

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

One first-, five second- and seven third-place finishes sparked the Clarkston boys' track team to a second place in the Greater Oakland Activities League meet.

Pontiac Northern won the May 22 meet with 167 points, Clarkston had 105, host Brandon 83, Kettering 75, Lake Orion 67 and Mott 26 (10 points were awarded for first-place finishes; 8 for second, 6 for third, 4 for fourth, 2 for fifth and 1 for sixth).

Wally Wyniemko was the lone Wolf to capture a first when he threw the discus 124 feet, one inch.

Finishing second were Jason Kinzler in the 400-meter dash (57.05) and Paul Krause in the shot put (46-0).

Three Wolf relay teams also placed second: Jason Wenger, Paul Brisson, Devin Dupree and Kellie O'Neil in the 3200 relay (8:17); Brett Kinzler, Chris Figa, Jason Kinzler and Dane Davis in the 800 relay (1:33.2); Brett Kinzler, Figa, Lance Lewis and Dane Davis in the 400 relay (45.23).

Finishing third for the Wolves were: Ron Gibson, pole vault (12-6); Brett Kinzler, 100 dash (11.58); Wenger, 1600 run (4:34.93); Dan Griffiths, high jump (6-2);

Lewis, 300 low hurdles (41:17); Jason Kinzler, 200 dash (23.52); Dane Davis, Lewis, Joel Davis, Jason Kinzler, 1600 relay (3:29.68).

Brisson finished fourth in the 3200 run (10:18.05). Placing fifth were Brad Warner, shot put (43-10 1/4); O'Neil, 1600 run (4:38.24); Jim Haviland, 3200 run (10:19.14). Wolves finishing sixth were Shawn Caputo, 110 high hurdles (20.81) and Dupree, 800 run (2:03).

Pontiac Northern's Damon Gandy dominated the meet, winning the long jump (21-3 1/3) and the 100 (11.1), 200 (22.4) and 400 (49.6) dashes. Northern won 12 of 17 events.

REAL ESTATE UPDATE

SELL HOME YOURSELF?

QUESTION: Doesn't it make sense for me to sell my house on my own? This way I can pocket the Realtor's commission. Right?

ANSWER: Wrong! It's not that simple. For one thing, the typical buyer is no fool. He'll expect you to deduct the commission for HIS benefit before you even start serious negotiations. Then you're on your own to handle some tough bargaining, curiosity seekers, credit checks and intricate financial arrangements. In the long run, you'll find that a Realtor will sell it for the best price and in the shortest amount of time. You've got a lot invested in your home. It makes sense to sell it the professional way.

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE THE BUYER. Sell the professional way.

Luckily, Eberhardts enjoy restoration, renovation

'A wooden house like that, you never find the end of the work' — Larry Eberhardt

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

New decorating techniques blend with old-fashioned restoration skills in Larry and Carol Eberhardt's historical home at 38 E. Washington Street, Clarkston.

The Eberhardts and their children, Kelly, 20, Dan, 17, and Mike, 12, have lived in the near 3,000-square-foot house for eight years and have restored and redecorated most of the house.

"It's pretty intact," said Carol. "We've tried real hard to keep everything as original as we could."

Fortunately, Larry and Carol are suited to the task. Larry is an upholsterer, and Carol, who owns a wholesale silk-screening business, was previously an interior designer with lots of experience with wallpaper, paint and colors.

The Greek Revival house was originally built at the northeast corner of Main and Church streets in Clarkston — where Morgan's service station now sits, said Carol.

As near as they can figure, it was built in the 1800s

Home tours raise money for SCAMP

The eighth annual Clarkston CAMP Home Tour June 2 and 3 offers a peak at lifestyles in some of Clarkston's most interesting homes.

This year's tour is comprised of four historic village homes and two newer homes, including a home built in 1870, which has been renovated and enlarged while maintaining its authenticity, and a beautifully restored 1873 Methodist Church, now used as a single-family home.

The event begins at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 2, with a Golden Patron Tour. Tickets are $50 and include a champagne reception at the "Church."

One Sunday, June 3, tours are 1-4 p.m. The $15 tickets include a complimentary reception at the Clarkston Cafe.

Registration, ticket sales and free shuttle bus service are provided in the parking lot at the corner of Washington and Main streets in the Village of Clarkston.

The home tour is a fund-raising event sponsored by the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corp., a non-profit organization. All proceeds go toward the operation of the five-week Clarkston SCAMP program — a day camp for about 200 mentally and physically handicapped young people in northern Oakland County that's in its 15th year.

and was moved to its current tiny lot on Washington Street in the 1920s.

"I know it caused a terrible row here when they moved it," said Carol, shaking her head at the vision that comes to her mind of the probable sight — horses hauling the two-story building and depositing it within five feet of the neighbor's house on Washington Street.

"Needless to say, the house has stayed here," said Carol.

Since then, the house's history includes a stint as a telephone office room for Bell Telephone, a period when a widow rented rooms out to school teachers, and a fire.

In recent history, it was a rental house and had been vacant two years when the Eberhardts moved from their rural Rattalee Lake Road home to the house in town.

The couple immediately dug into the challenge before them, though the project took about six years to complete — if you can call it that.

"A wooden house like that, you never find the end of the work," said Larry. "You get done painting, you have to do more next year."

They removed a chain-link fence that surrounded the entire property and installed a wooden stockade fence around the backyard only. They removed asbestos siding and "PermaStone" to reveal the clapboards still intact. With an invention by Carol's father, they pulled the clapboards off without breaking them and sprayed insulation inside — doing the work themselves.

Inside, "plaster was just hanging in hunks in here," said Carol.

They stripped all the downstairs woodwork before painting it and put a thin coat of drywall in the dining room and foyer. They installed all new wiring, plumbing and insulation.

Many have helped along the way, said Larry.

"The people are just friendlier than heck around here," he said. "All the neighbors want to help you if you have a problem. ... The kids love it here."

The Eberhardts also created a completely new kitchen and found a wood floor beneath the linoleum, which they restained and polished. Behind the kitchen, they added a bathroom and a laundry room.

"We lived in the mess. ... There were lots of times when we thought we were camping out here, it was so awful," Carol said.

Before the downstairs renovations, the family of five shared one bathroom upstairs and did laundry in the basement.

After the changes, said Carol, "it was like living in luxury."

Now that the space is livable, the two can enjoy decorating it while planning minor alterations.

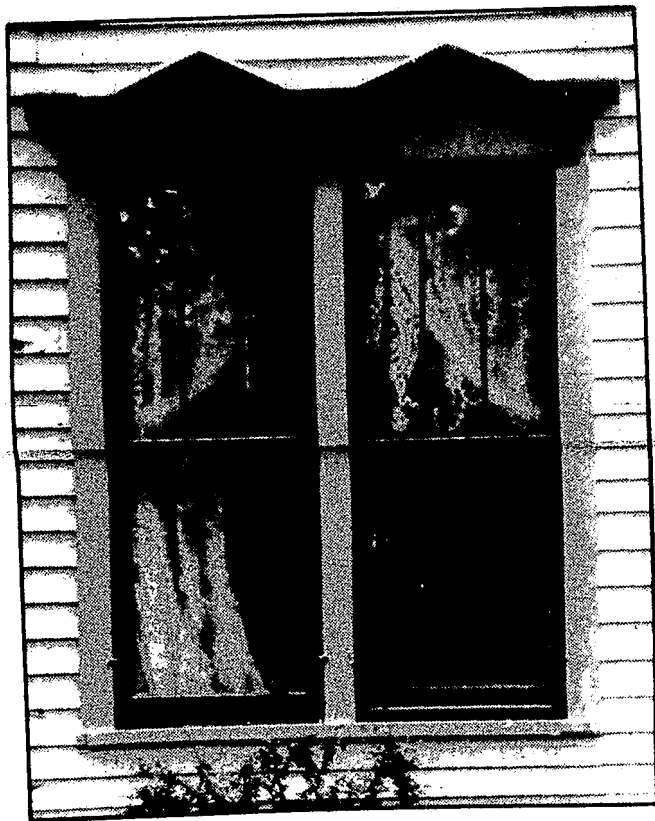

"I like to putter around the house," said Larry. "There's never an end to puttering. There's always something to do, especially with Carol. ... She's got some good ideas. I don't know what she's going to think up next."

According to Carol, the upstairs bathroom is the next on her list.

But for now, it's nice to appreciate the fruits of their labor. All in all, the hard work has been worth it, said Carol.

"It's not easy living in an old house," she said. "Since we've lived here, we haven't gone on vacation because we can't afford it. We put every dime into the house."

"We do it because we love it. It's something Larry and I can do together."

GINGERBREAD trim around the windows perk up the Eberhardt house.

The Other Side of Things

Life in the fast lane

Ashley Ball

For most people, life in the fast lane means executive dads, high-achieving moms, kids who (besides making straight A's in their spare time) play soccer, ski and take lessons in piano, golf, tennis and gymnastics. That's on Saturdays. Weekdays are usually more structured.

For me, life in the fast lane means the drive-thru at a fast-food restaurant. After all, as you've probably often asked yourself, "What could be faster?"

A turtle, that's what!

Actually, drive-thru food is only fast if you order what's ready to go. If you want something different, you have to wait ... and wait ... and wait in a little parking place out in the boonies that's been designated for trouble makers.

Then, when somebody finally brings out your special order without pickles on Friday (which you ordered on Wednesday), you find out it's someone else's special order without mayonnaise. And that person drove off on Thursday!

It doesn't matter, though, that the drive-thru is not always fast. My family goes there for the great moments of adventure.

Like the other night when the traffic in the drive-thru was bumper to bumper, inching along. The front end of the car ahead of us set off the speaker box, which immediately started asking intimidating questions like: "May I help you?"

Feeling obligated to respond to the speaker box, which was still in the distance, the lady in the car leaned out the window and yelled her order ahead to the speaker box. The man in the car ahead of her thought the speaker was re-confirming his order so he re-yelled his order back to the speaker box! It was amazing watching these two adults, at the mercy of a speaker box, scream food orders back and forth into the night air.

And there was the time we drove up to a drive-thru window and the girl taking the order asked, "Is this to go?" I'M NOT KIDDING!

There have been classic moments, too — like the time my dad got tired of ordering chicken nuggets for my sister who, in turn, would never eat them because she complained there was elastic (rubbery gristles) in them. Exasperated, my dad ordered: "chicken nuggets without the elastic this time."

The speaker box was silent for several seconds, then responded calmly, "Yes, sir, chicken nuggets without the elastic." There was another pause, then, sounding puzzled, the speaker box asked:

"Do you usually order them with elastic at this location?"

And there was the time my mother didn't have a good grip on the food and dropped it between the serving window and the car. That's what you call bacon and cheddar on pavement.

And who could forget the time my sister reached out for the food at the Taco Bell window? She couldn't reach it ... stretched further ... lost her balance and FELL OUT THE CAR WINDOW!

That, of course, is what you call Laura and burrito on pavement.

I'll admit that it takes some skill, a little patience and, certainly, a car to keep up with life in the fast food lane. But, hey! Look at the bright side — unless the speaker box gets really pushy and specifically ASKS, no one there will ever know whether or not you play tennis; ski or even if you make straight A's.

Ashley Ball is an eighth-grader at Clarkston Junior High.

White, DeFazio wed in Georgia

Jennifer J. White and Douglas A. DeFazio exchanged wedding vows at The Holy Cross Catholic Church, Atlanta, Ga. The Rev. Cayet N. Mangiaracina officiated at the traditional double-ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m. March 31, 1990.

The bride's gown of ivory satin featured bouffant sleeves and a bustled back, centered with self-fabric roses. The fitted bodice was appliqued with seed pearls and lace. The full floor-length skirt fell into a semi-cathedral train also appliqued with lace.

The bride's sister, Jacqueline Kowalczyk of St. Louis, Mo., was the honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Mary Louise Wilson; Linda DeFazio, sister of the groom; and Erin Vaughan, niece of the bride.

Edward Blacka Jr., cousin of the groom, was honor attendant. Groomsmen were Mike Chiodo, Jim Mercurio and Tony DeFazio, brother of the groom.

The dinner-reception was immediately following the ceremony at the Peachtree Holiday Inn, Atlanta, Ga.

The bride's parents are Otto and Norma White of Hummingbird Lane, Independence Township. A 1978 Clarkston High School graduate, she graduated in 1982 from Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant. She teaches French and English in Clarkston High School, Clarkston, Ga.

The bridegroom's parents are Donald and Mary Louise DeFazio of Warrington, Pa. The groom graduated from Hempfield Senior High School, Greensburg, Pa., and Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Indiana, Pa. He is employed as project director of Industrial Hygiene at Cape Environmental Management, Atlanta, Ga.

Following a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple are at home in Tucker, Ga.

Honors

Two Alma College, Alma, seniors from Independence Township are new members of honoraries at Alma.

Ruth Acton has been selected for membership in Phi Beta Kappa, America's most prestigious scholastic honorary society. A 1986 graduate of Clarkston High School, she is the daughter of John and Paula Acton of Sashabaw Road. She is a degree candidate for a bachelor of arts in international business administration and French.

Colleen Moore has been selected for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership honor society. A 1986 graduate of Frankfurt International School of Oberersul, West Germany, she is the daughter of Harry and Carol Moore of Caribou. She received a bachelor of arts degree summa cum laude in political science and history in April.

Mark D. Colwell of Princess Lane, Independence Township, was among 551 students earning a perfect 4.0 grade point average for the 1990 winter term at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Colwell, a Clarkston High School graduate, is studying undergraduate courses.

Mark A. Johnson of Clarkston is among 23 students at the University of Michigan-Flint inducted into the Beta Gamma Sigma business honor society.

Membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest scholastic honor that School of Management students can achieve.

Staci Cool of Clarkston has been named to the dean's list at Baker College of Flint.

Sally Kubani of Allen Road, Independence Township, was recently inducted in Phi Theta Kappa honor society at Oakland Community College-Auburn Hills.

Kubani is majoring in mental health social work and plans to earn an associate's degree from OCC. Afterward, she plans to work on a bachelor's degree at Wayne State University, Detroit. Currently, she's serving an internship at Lourde's Nursing Home, Waterford Township.

To qualify for the honor society, Kubani needed letters of recommendation from three faculty members, plus a minimum 3.5 grade point average. She also had to complete a special project.

She is the mother of Mary, Ray and Gary and is the wife of Vic.

Ronald A. Gibson of Clarkston, has been nominated for the Naval Academy by Congressman Bob Carr. Gibson, son of Ronald and Viola, is a student at Clarkston High School.

Kiku Mae Johnson of Clarkston is among the students who competed in the Sixth Congressional District High School Arts Competition.

Winners of the contest will be honored by Congressman Bob Carr in a special ceremony at East Lansing City Hall.

An overall winner and four runners up will be selected from among the 31 entrants.

Principal Robert Burek recently announced the selection of seven students as Students of the Month at Clarkston High School.

The seven were nominated by a faculty member and confirmed by a faculty committee.

They are Chris Bragan, son of Robert Bragan of Springfield Township; Mark Call, son of Ron and Trish Call of Shelly Drive; Tammy Erkfriz-Sansom, daughter of Jack and Jenny Sanson of Eston Road; Derek Hackbardt, son of Phil and Lorrie Hackbardt of Frankwill; Amy Hewelt, daughter of Tim and Jacki Hewelt of Havelock; Robin Link, daughter of Joseph and Ruth Barnett of Squirrel Hill Court; Susan McNally, daughter of Gerald and Carol McNally of Oak Forest; and Craig Petty, son of Charlene Petty of Genoa.

This month's selection concludes the Students of the Month program for 1989-90. More than 150 student have been so recognized in the past three years.

The Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms announced recently that Alexander McDougall Lawson of Clarkston has been selected to receive a Citizen of the Year award.

Lawson was selected for criteria such as being active in local, state and national gun rights issues, writing editors, significant financial support to the movement, contacting legislators or appearing for public testimony.

The Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms is a national organization with nearly 500,000 members as well as more than 130 members of Congress serving on their National Advisory Council.

Sandra L. Coulter, daughter of Carl and Barbara Coulter of Transparent Drive, Independence Township, has been named to the dean's list for the fall and winter terms at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Coulter achieved a cumulative grade point average of 3.8.

Rachel Young, a Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio, sophomore, was tapped for membership in Ivy Ring and Pick and Pen, junior honor societies.

A French major, Young is the daughter of James and Carolyn Young of Holcomb Road, Clarkston.

John L. Powe has completed his studies at Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, and is presently serving an internship as special events coordinator for the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department.

John has recently been awarded a $250 scholarship from CMU and a $1,000 scholarship from the Michigan Parks and Recreation Association.

He is a 1984 graduate of Clarkston High School and is the son of Barbara Weber and John H. Powe, both of Clarkston.

Junior Bert D. Skelton of Shappie Road, Independence Township, was one of 143 Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, students to earn straight A's in the spring semester.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Millis of Perry Lake road, Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Stefanie Ann Millis, to Bradley E. Mathisen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Mathisen of Clarkston Road, Clarkston. The bride-elect and her prospective bridegroom are Clarkston High School graduates now attending Oakland Community College. An August 1990 wedding is planned.

Pet of the Week

Safeguarding a home

To help safeguard a home from wildfires, the following safety tips are offered:

- Keep grass mowed to 100 feet of your home and outbuildings.
- Prune the branches off all conifers (spruce, pine) to six to 10 feet above the ground.
- Store all firewood and other flammable materials at least 25 feet from any building.
- Use fire-resistant shingles and skirting around foundations and porches.
- Provide easy access to your house for fire trucks; have the house number clearly visible from the street.
- Keep roof and gutters clear of leaves and pine needles. Install a spark arrestor screen, with holes no larger than a half-inch, over fireplace or wood stove chimneys. This will prevent sparks from igniting debris on the roof and gutters.

Winslo's winning ways

Winslo has a lot of energy and will need to live in a home with older children. In his exuberance, he might knock over younger children.

The male terrier mix is about 1 1/2 years old and weighs 63 pounds.

His $70 adoption fee includes neutering.

Winslo can be seen at the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

~By Sandra G. Conlen

WINSLO has a lot of puppy ways in his personality, so he needs a home with older children.

Healthy Helpings

Apricots for energy

Tracy King

There are never enough hours in a day to do everything, but do-ahead snacks that provide quick energy could be a priority.

The following recipes feature dried apricots, which are packed with vitamin A, potassium, dietary fiber and iron.

The Dried Apricot Oat-Nut Snack Mix is a blend of nuts, rolled oats, oat bran, apricots and raisins tossed in a cinnamon-honey coating.

It's healthier than store-bought snacks because it's low in fat, sugar and sodium. It also makes a good cereal or ice-cream topping.

APRICOT OAT-NUT SNACK MIX

20 servings

- 3 cups rolled oats
- 2 cups oat bran
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup walnut halves, broken
- 1 cup almonds, chopped or slivered
- 1/2 cup raw sunflower seeds
- 5 tablespoons vegetable oil

- 3/4 cup honey, melted
- 1 1/3 dried apricots, quartered (6 ounce)
- 3/4 cup raisins

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. In a large bowl, combine rolled oats and next six ingredients; toss well.

Drizzle oil over mixture and toss until coated.

Drizzle melted honey and continue tossing until coated; mixture should be clumpy.

Divide mixture onto two cookie sheets, spreading evenly.

In top third of oven, bake 20 minutes. Remove from oven; stir with wooden spoon, mixing thoroughly. Continue to bake 30 minutes more, stirring every 10 minutes.

Return snack mix to bowl; add dried fruits. Toss gently and cool.

Can be stored for two weeks in airtight containers or frozen up to two months.

APRICOT NUT SUPREME BROWNIES

Makes 18 brownies

- 4 ounces white chocolate or white baking bars

- 1/3 cup margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- 3/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

- 1 cup dried apricots, quartered and divided
- 1/2 cup slivered almonds, divided

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In small saucepan, melt white chocolate and margarine over low heat.

Stir constantly until mixture becomes a curdling consistency; remove from heat.

Add sugar, eggs and extract; stir quickly to blend.

In a separate bowl, combine flour, baking powder and salt. Stir into white chocolate mixture; add half the apricots and almonds to the batter.

Pour into greased 10 1/2" x 7" x 1 1/2" pan, and sprinkle the top with the remaining apricots and almonds.

Bake 25 minutes or until golden and brownies begin to pull away from the edge of the pan.

Pupil designs earth pledge card

Flowers, cookies show appreciation

Lonnie Elswick's design was used on Earth Day pledge cards.

Lonnie Elswick, a senior at Kettering High School in Waterford, helped fifth-grade students throughout the Clarkston school district make pledges for Earth Day 1990.

Lonnie, an advertising and design student at the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus, designed the pledge card that high school kids gave — along with white pine seedlings — to the fifth-graders in honor of Earth Day.

The youngsters were to sign the pledge cards return them with their parents' signatures, verifying that they planted their seedlings. As a reward, the pupils were given a poster.

The seedlings and posters were paid for with money raised in the 1970s from a project called "Bottles for Building."

Lonnie said he spent two days planning and designing before sending the card to be printed in the print shop at the tech. center.

"I did the art work, and the print shop did the typesetting," Lonnie said.

Lonnie said he has plans for his talents. After graduation, he'll return for another year of studies at the tech. center. Then, he plans to attend Oakland Community College, followed by the Center for Creative Studies.

—By Sandra G. Conlen

Teachers at Clarkston High School had good reason to smile May 23.

Students in the Blue and Gold Club showed their appreciation that day by giving the faculty lots of treats: coffee or juice, a flower, a pin and a certificate. Baked goods were also donated by the students, and later pupils gave teachers handwritten notes of appreciation.

"The handwritten note really makes it special," said senior Lisa Brinn, who handed out the items to a few of her favorite teachers.

"They have gone out of their way to help me," she said.

Principal Bob Burek said it took the students about six weekly meetings to prepare for the fourth annual event.

Teacher Becky Craig said she woke up on Wednesday looking forward to the day because of Teacher Appreciation Day.

"It's one of my favorite days," she said.

Obituaries

Dillard Brewer

Dillard Brewer, 74, of Davisburg, died May 24, 1990. Mr. Brewer is survived by his wife, Millie; children Anna Marie Burling, Janet Bostian, Betty Warden, Bonnie Andrews, Margaret Wilfang, Robert Brewer, Pauline Ryerse, Nina Curry, Judy Potter, Cindy Felice, Dixie Janette and Sharon Mielke; 28 grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren; brothers Omer Brewer and Emery Brewer and sisters Elsie Fields, Wanita O'Brien and Zada Butler.

The funeral was May 26 at the Old Fashion Pentecostal Church in Clarkston with the Rev. Wesley Norton officiating.

Arrangements were entrusted to Lewis E. Wint & Son TRUST 100 Funeral Home, Clarkston.

Memorial Tributes may be made to Hospice of Southeastern Michigan.

Jerry Ann Buehrig

Jerry Ann Buehrig, 71, of Clarkston died May 22, 1990. She was born and raised in Pontiac and worked as a registered nurse at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, where she met her husband, Clarkston physician Robert Buehrig.

Mrs. Buehrig also worked with her husband in his office on Main Street, Clarkston, above O'dell's Drug Store (now Hallman's) and later served as a private-duty nurse for friends.

The family resided for the most part on Overlook, Clarkston, and then on Reese Road, Independence Township. They also lived in Japan for three and a half years while Dr. Buehrig was commander in chief of a hospital there.

Mrs. Buehrig, who was an artist, had been a member of the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club, the Chatham Dance Club and the Clarkston Dance Club. She also spoke frequently to schools and community groups about the Orient and art and was previously involved with Cub Scouts.

Mrs. Buehrig is survived by her husband, Robert Buehrig; children, Cappy Buehrig of Chester, S.C., Bobette Coulter of Frederick, Md., Heidi Bass of Jackson, and Chip Buehrig of Port St. Lucie, Fla.; nine grandchildren; and a sister, Betty Jane Trebilcock of Palm Harbor, Fla.

The funeral was May 24 at Clarkston United Methodist Church, Clarkston, with the Rev. Douglas Trebilcock officiating. Burial was at Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Michigan Heart Association, P.O. Box LV-160, Southfield, MI 48076.

Norman L. Jarvis

Norman L. Jarvis, 76, of Pontiac died May 27, 1990. He is survived by brothers Raymond Jarvis of Clarkston and Bruce Jarvis of Drayton Plains; and sisters Peggy Bancroft of Mesa, Ariz., Constance Tarran of Rochester, Barbara Little of Birmingham and Ellen Thayer of Drayton Plains.

The funeral was Wednesday, May 30 at the Goyette Funeral Home with the Rev. Douglas Trebilcock officiating.

Memorial Tributes may be made to the Michigan Cancer Foundation or Heart Funds.

James E. Robbins

James E. Robbins, of Davisburg, died May 21, 1990. He was 69.

Mr. Robbins owned and operated Robbins Hoist Installation & Sportscycle.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy; children Cary Robbins of Pontiac, Dick and Betty Robbins of Warren and Jim R. of Rochester; grandchild Chris Robbins of Florida; sisters Catherine Simmons of Wayne, Bernice Swathell of Atlanta, MI., and Edna and Bob Hurley of Mt. Clemens; also brother Glen and his wife Edna Roe of Howell. He is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

The funeral was Thursday, May 24 at the Lewis E. Wint & Son TRUST 100 Funeral Home, Clarkston, with Pastor Karen Knight officiating. Burial was in White Chapel Cemetery.

Memorial Tributes may be made to the American Lung Association.

FLAGS UNFOLD and blow in the breeze as veterans enter Lakeview Cemetery for the beginning of the Memorial Day services. Citizens paused throughout the United States

Monday to honor those who have fought in war. (Photo by Sandra G. Conlen)

Remembering the past

FLAGS ADORN gravestones in Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township, marking those who served in branches of the armed services.

A SALUTE to fellow soldiers, who now lay at rest in Lakeview Cemetery and other spots around the world, is given by veterans attending the memorial services May 28.
