There possibly has been no one like Chris Wasilk in the history of Clarkston Community Schools.

Wasilk, a Clarkston High School senior who will graduate June 12, hasn't missed a day of school since his first day of kindergarten at North Sashabaw Elementary School 13 years ago.

That means he has gone to school for more than 2,300 straight days. In other words, Wasilk (who currently is playing on the varsity baseball team) is the Lou Gehrig of the Clarkston school system. Gehrig played in a record 2,130 straight major league games.

Wasilk said he first thought about his streak while attending Sashabaw Junior High.

"I didn't start thinking about it until ninth grade," said Wasilk, who received a plaque for the streak at Sashabaw's graduation.

High school Principal Bob Burek said he doesn't know of any other student in the school's history who had the same streak.

Wasilk missed a few class hours over the years but never a complete day. His parents, Len and Nancy Wasilk of Pelton Road in Independence Township, always scheduled any medical appointments after school or maybe during the last period in school. And family vacations always occurred when school wasn't in session.

Wasilk said his parents never forced him to go to school.

"If I told them I was sick, they'd let me stay home," said Wasilk, who never had "a major cold."

The senior has had a few medical problems, but they all took place when school wasn't in session.

He broke his arm in August before starting third grade but went to school wearing a cast. He had stomach flu in junior high but it was during Christmas vacation. He again had the flu last year, but it also happened during Christmas vacation.

Wasilk said a major incentive for his streak is "not wanting to miss anything" in school.

He said two days he's especially glad he didn't miss were the day after his Sashabaw Junior High School ninth-grade football team defeated arch-rival Clarkston Junior High, 30-0, and the school day after this year when his varsity basketball team won its 20th straight game.

This basketball season, Wasilk shot the winning basket with two seconds left in a dramatic win at Pontiac Northern — another school day-after he didn't want to miss.

Wasilk said his classmates didn't always know about his streak, but "most everybody does now."

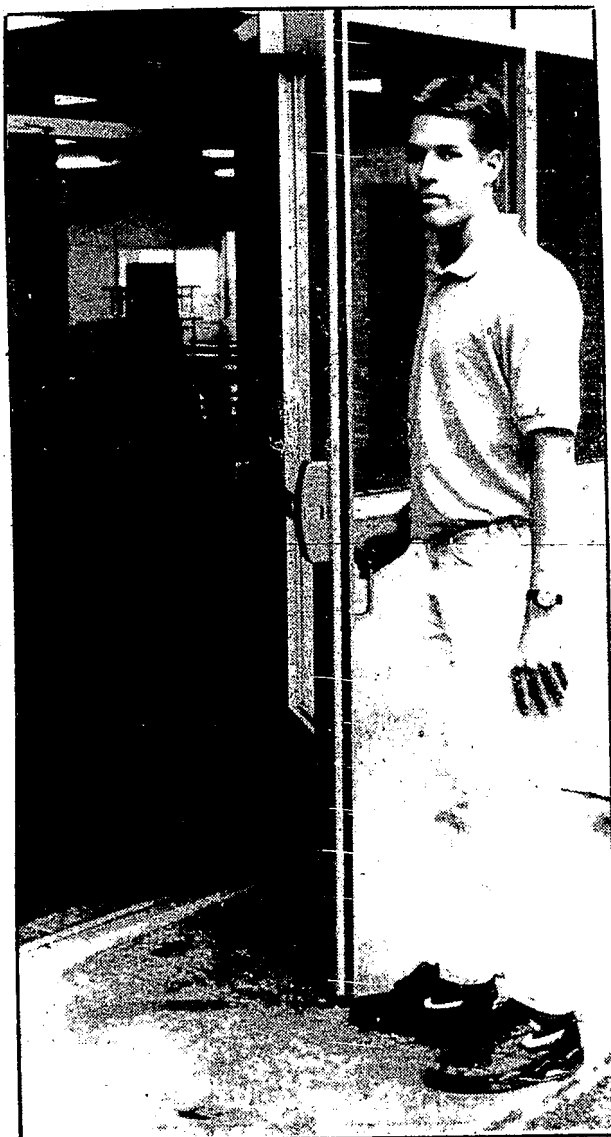

He probably wishes some of his buddies weren't aware of it; they've been jokingly telling Wasilk that they might "kidnap" him one day to stop the streak.

"That's been going around a lot. I don't think it's very funny," said Wasilk, adding, "I'd like to keep that hushed."

Wasilk said he also was suspicious of friends during the winter who would call and tell him school was canceled because of snow. He would double check to make sure.

Tim Wasilk, Chris' 13-year-old brother, also gives his older brother some hassles.

"He tells me, 'you're going to miss a day,'" said

FOR the past 13 straight years, Chris Wasilk hasn't missed a day of school. Wasilk has opened the door every day at North Sashabaw Elementary (kindergarten), South Sashabaw Elementary (grades 1-3), Pine Knob Elementary (4-6), Sashabaw Junior High (7-9) and Clarkston High School (9-12).

Wasilk.

Tim Wasilk has missed a few days himself. Chris said about his brother's absences, "I think he fakes it a lot."

The high school plans to give Wasilk a special award during graduation. Assistant Principal Ginny Farmer kidded Wasilk by telling him what the award might be.

Farmer told him, "Maybe we'll have to get you a Corvette."

"I'll take it," replied Wasilk, adding, "preferably a red one."

Wasilk, who admitted he'll be "happy once it's all over," won't be streaking to graduation parties in a red Corvette.

But his classmates will certainly have another streak by which to remember him.

Cleanup days begin Saturday

Spring cleaning is getting a boost this weekend from Independence and Springfield townships and the Village of Clarkston.

Independence Township offers special dumping for three consecutive Saturdays, beginning May 4. Springfield Township offers a similar cleanup day as well on Saturday, May 4.

And the Village of Clarkston also has set Saturday, May 4, as community cleanup day.

For details, see below:

Independence Township

For the next three weekends, area residents will be given an opportunity to throw away the finds of spring cleaning.

In Independence Township, May 4, 11 and 18 have been designated as cleanup days.

Independence Township residents may bring their trash to the Department of Public Works building, 6050 Flemings Lake Road, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Proof of residency will be required before dumping is allowed.

Because of the tremendous cost of disposal, small fees will be charged. Dumping fees include: automobile, $5; auto with single-axle trailer, $10; pickup truck or van, $10; pickup truck with single-axle trailer, $25; flatbed single-axle truck, $25; dual-axle trailer, $25 and 5-yard dump truck, $25.

Fuel oil drums, barrels, propane cylinders, storage tanks, chemicals and car batteries are not allowed to be dumped. Tires will be accepted for $2 each.

Tickets for dumping may be obtained at the township treasurer's office, township hall, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston. Tickets also will be on sale at the dump site the days of cleaning.

For more information, call 625-5111.

parts of the country.

The burial and private gathering at Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township, April 29 was followed by a memorial service at the Church of the Resurrection. The Long-time Clarkston, resident Herbert N. Rose died Thursday, April 25, when he was struck behind by a truck while riding his bicycle in Alma.

No charges have been filed against the driver, although the investigation continues.

Rose, 63, a retired engineer from General Dynamics and former columnist for The Clarkston News, was a devoted and expert rider who had distinguished himself in bicycling events in many

Rev. Roger Derby of the All Saints Episcopal Church conducted the service.

Attending were Rose's wife, Anne; brothers, Robert and Arthur; sister, Alethea; sons, Bruce and Alan; and granddaughter, Katherine Anne, along with many friends and relatives.

Rose pursued a wide variety of activities: reading, especially Shakespeare; theater, including occasional performances with the Clarkston Village Players; good food and good music of any origin; and entertaining his granddaughter.

Also, Rose's house and grounds on Holcomb Road were constantly being improved and remodeled, thanks to his own skill and that of his good friend, Paul Ilg.

Bicycling had been a passion for about 10 years; he belonged to and supported a number of bicycling organizations and was a lifetime member of the League of American Wheelmen.

During 1990, Rose covered more than 7,500 miles, including many annual organized events such as the Tour of the Scioto River Valley in Ohio and the People Powered Vehicle rally in Waterford. Bicycle art decorates his Clarkston home; his many official patches are modestly displayed on the walls of the downstairs bathroom.

Rose's triumph was participating twice in the annual Christmas/ New Year's ride over the entire length of the Baja peninsula; a mountain and desert trek of more than 1,200 miles.

At the time of his death, he was training for his longest ride ever, to Anchorage, Alaska. His plan was to join a group that bicycles annually from Montana to Anchorage, but he intended to start from Clarkston and ride to Montana.

His children described their father as having a great sense of humor and fondly remember the family's year in Florida when Rose, an engineer, worked on the Apollo program.

Alan Rose of Otisville is the son of Herb Rose.

Trunks, suitcases wanted as props

Organizers of the post-graduation party for Clarkston High School seniors are looking for old trunks and suitcases.

The theme for this year's party is Escape on the Orient Express. The suitcases and trunks would be used as props at the Deer Lake Racquet Club, the site of the party.

Party organizers say they will do their best to return trunks and suitcases upon request; otherwise, they will be donated to other organizations that need them.

If you have suitcases or trunks that may be used, call Beverly Lund at 674-2990 after 6 p.m. on weekdays.

Organizers also will accept donations of other items dealing with trains or the Orient Express.

Three ticketed

Selling alcohol to minors

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Three Independence Township businesses were ticketed for selling alcohol to minors two weeks ago.

The April 19 sting was conducted by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. They were assisted by an 18-year-old Clarkston High School senior in the operation.

The three Dixie Highway establishments ticketed by the undercover officer included: Sam's Town Bar, The Liquor Cabinet and the Oakland County Sportsman's Bar.

The businesses and the employees caught selling were issued appearance tickets. Their fines will be determined in the 52nd District Court, Independence Township.

At the Sportsman's Bar and Sam's Town Bar, the undercover officer and his young accomplice were seated together at the bar when the drinks were purchased. In both occasions, the bartenders neglected to ask the high school student for identification. They were cited as soon as the youth paid for the drinks.

In The Liquor Cabinet, the cashier didn't check the teen's identification before selling him some beer. According to the police report, this was the store's fourth violation in the past three years. It was also the third violation issued the cash register operator since 1989.

All of the establishments have been reported to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Orion man robbed

in Independence

A 27-year-old Lake Orion man was robbed by four men in Independence Township April 28.

Michael Naylor of Heights Road had $250 stolen after accepting a ride home from the four.

According to a police report at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Naylor had attended a wedding reception that evening. He later went to Hooter's Bar in Brandon Township with a few friends.

While at Hooter's, his friends left him and Naylor attempted to find a ride home. Around 2:30 a.m., he approached four men in the parking lot and asked them for a ride. They agreed to take him home.

Minutes later, the driver pulled off of Hadley Road, south of M-15, so his friends could urinate. Naylor decided to do so as well. The driver then put a knife to Naylor's throat and demanded his money.

Naylor gave the man his wallet and the foursome sped off. The victim said he was unable to identify the men or the vehicle because he was intoxicated at the time of the crime.

Board may amend township loitering ordinance

Pine Knob Music Theater to crack down on rowdy loiterers

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

During show time, loiterers could be prohibited from the premises of the Pine Knob Music Theater.

This concept is only one approval away from law in Independence Township. On April 16, the township board unanimously approved the first reading of an amendment to its loitering ordinance, which would ban non-ticket holders from Pine Knob's property while a show is in progress.

The amendment was suggested by the management of the New Pine Knob Theater, which is now owned and operated by the Palace of Auburn Hills. The management said this action will help cut down on the rowdiness and vandalism that occasionally exists in the amphitheater's parking lots.

However, this is only one of the two actions that Palace management wants the board to put into law.

The second request is that the board ban independent ticket sales altogether. The township already has scalping regulations, but the Palace wants to go one step further. It doesn't want anyone selling tickets, despite the price.

Board members voiced displeasure with this proposal.

"This is a big windfall," said Clerk Joan McCrary. "How many times have you gone to Pine Knob with someone needing a ticket? I mean we've all done it, and it's not illegal."

Trustee Daniel Travis agreed. He said this type of action could be cause a lot patrons to absorb the cost of unused tickets if a member of their group is unable to go. He suggested that Pine Knob officials look into refunding tickets if they want the board to consider this type of suggestion.

Tom Trzos, director of information, facilities and bookings at Pine Knob, said stopping all independent ticket sales would make things easier for security.

"It's difficult to enforce if a person is selling at face value or at an elevated price," he said. "This type of restriction would take the question out of the situation."

Trzos said that extra tickets could be given to another person, such as a friend, prior to the concert.

He added that refunding tickets would be out of the question because the money is part of a contractual agreement between the facility and the artist. As soon as a ticket is sold, Trzos said, the money is immediately dispersed among the active participants.

Supervisor Frank Ronk said township officials will continue discussions with Palace management to better serve the public and Pine Knob.

Animals should be on leashes or in carrying crates. For more information, call the church at 625-2325 or Karel Howse at 625-7292.

Assessment freeze to be felt in some budgets

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Though property owners may be celebrating a one-year assessment freeze enacted by the Michigan Legislature this month, school and municipal officials are reacting otherwise.

Senate Bill 19 freezes 1992 real property assessments at 1991 levels, a move expected to save state taxpayers about $386 million. House joint Resolution H allows voters to decide in the 1992 general election if 1993 assessments should be limited to the inflation rate or five percent, whichever is less.

"In-formula" schools may be reimbursed for some of the revenue lost through the freeze; however, out-of-formula schools (which will likely include Clarkston) would receive no reimbursement, according to Clarkston Schools Business Director Steve Lenar.

"There is nothing planned or even thought of for out-of-formula districts," Lenar told school board members during a special meeting April 29.

Lenar told the board that the district could expect to be without $1.5 million dollars in the 1992-93 school year as a result of the freeze.

Because the money represents future tax income, the loss is not necessarily a revenue cut. However, because the district's five-year plan consists of simply moving forward the same program without additions, the loss of income will require action, Lenar said.

"Starting with the next school year, we'll have to start looking at some ways to balance the budget," Lenar said.

The loss of assessment tax revenue is also expected to affect local municipalities, which depend on the income for a variety of services.

Because the legislation takes affect in 1992, some planning is possible; but the impact will be felt, said Independence Township Supervisor Frank Ronk.

"We don't know how it will impact us, but we know it will," Ronk said.

The township budget calendar should allow officials to fully realize the impact of the assessment freeze in October, Ronk said. The next concern will come at the end of the freeze in 1993, he added.

"We can freeze '92 assessments at '91 rates, but what happens in 1993?" Ronk queried. "Property still inflates, and the assessor will look like the bad guy as properties are brought back up to market value."

"Legislators didn't do what we wanted in terms of tax reduction," Ronk added. "There should be more to it than that."

Springfield Township Supervisor Colin Walls agreed. "The legislators have done a great disservice to

"The legislators have done a great disservice to taxpayers in this state."

Supervisor Colin Walls

taxpayers in this state," Walls said. "Obviously this is only a temporary freeze for one year. That's not what taxpayers are asking for -- they want a reduction in property taxes."

Walls didn't expect the legislation to greatly impact the township budget, saying there was "ample time to budget for it."

"It's not a reduction in money," he explained. "It's money we don't have and should not have planned on spending it."

Though the legislation is scorned by some local school and government officials, state Rep. Thomas Middleton, 61st District, said the move is a step toward a permanent tax-cutting plan.

"This compromise gives property owners a temporary break from spiraling assessments and lays the groundwork for a lasting solution to Michigan's worsening tax problem."

"The agreement should be kept in perspective," Middleton added. "It does not provide a tax cut or address the funding of schools. Those are separate issues that will be addressed later."

"I weighed the valid concerns expressed to me by school and municipal officials against the public's understandable outcry for tax relief," Middleton continued. "The magnitude of the assessment increases recently forced on many property owners convinced me to vote for the plan."

Stubborn bacteria shows in tests

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Water problems continue to plague students and staff at Clarkston High School.

Unusually high levels of bacteria were first detected by Oakland County Health Department officials April 18 in a routine water check.

Despite a thorough cleaning of water lines to the wells that supply water to the building, traces of the stubborn bacteria still remained on Tuesday, April 23.

There have been no reports of illness resulting from the infected water.

Officials worked on the lines again this past weekend, said Assistant Superintendent Mel Vaara.

"We worked all weekend and flushed all the water from the lines on Friday night and Saturday," Vaara said.

Chlorine was rinsed through the lines to kill whatever bacteria existed, Vaara added.

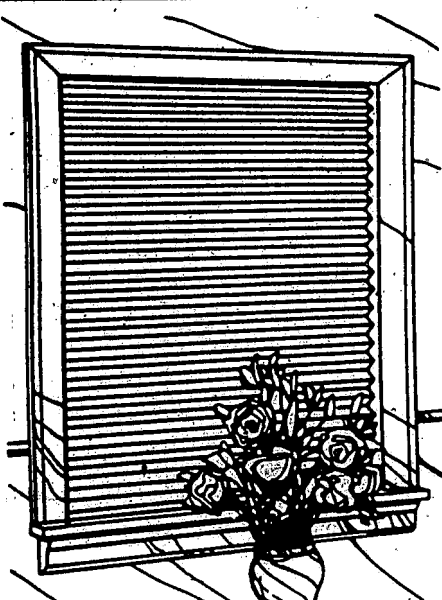

Tests taken April 29 were expected to give the all-clear sign, he said. Officials had hoped to get the system running a week earlier.

"The health department can't figure out what the problem is," said Vaara. "The well water is great."

Vaara added that outside lines used to water parts of the school property might be causing the problem. School officials have now begun to clean out those tanks once a week, Vaara said.

Students are drinking bottled water until the water system is clear.

Man surprises thieves, thrown down steps

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A 25-year-old man was injured when he surprised thieves in his Pine Knob Lane, Independence Township, residence.

Matthew Covarrubias was treated and released from Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital April 25, after engaging one of the prowlers.

According to a police report at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department (OCSD), Covarrubias came home at 2:15 a.m. and found a large, white male in his kitchen. The men scuffled, resulting in Covarrubias being thrown down the basement steps. He reportedly injured his back in the tumble.

While returning up the steps, the homeowner saw two other white men flee out the door.

The home was ransacked, and it's uncertain if the thieves got away with any merchandise. Covarrubias, however, was able to take a pillow case full of valuables from the thief during their fight.

A get-away vehicle wasn't seen or heard near the home.

Police discovered that the thieves gained entry to the home through a pried-open back window.

Covarrubias' assailant was described as being about 30 years of age, 6 feet tall and about 220 pounds. He had black, curly hair and wore a mustache. The man was reportedly wearing a pair of gray sweat pants and a blue wind breaker.

Any leads should be reported to the OCSD at 625-8311.

30-seconds: photo albums

Julie Campe

The Thinker has been posing hypothetical questions again. Little things — and big things — set him off.

Remember that earthquake in California two years ago? His sister, Alex, was in Candlestick Park for the World Series at the time, so we knew she was safe. However, others dashed from their homes with only a few belongings before the structures crashed to the ground or erupted in flames.

Even after the reconstruction effort was well underway, The Thinker was thinking:

"If you had only 30 seconds to grab belongings before abandoning your house, what would you take?" he would ask.

Being well acquainted with this often-fun game, I would answer.

"Well, photo albums, maybe shoes or my camera or possibly a book or two," I think I said.

"Book? Which book?"

"Well, I don't know. I guess I wouldn't grab a book. They can all be replaced. ... What would you take if you had only 30 seconds?"

And he'd answer, considering carefully. To this day, I'm convinced that if an earthquake hit Michigan, The Thinker would be prepared. As soon as he felt the earth shake, he would grab photo albums and financial information and run outside.

Throughout the year, The Thinker asks all sorts of questions.

"If you could eat only one food for the rest of your life, what would it be?" is one of his favorites.

"Potatoes — absolutely," I always answer, though I usually point out that I'd probably die quickly since potatoes don't provide all the necessary nutrients.

The Thinker, though, thinks that sort of talk ruins the game.

Besides, he's usually already thinking of another question: "If you could have only one type of dessert for the rest of your life, what would it be?"

"Vanilla ice cream with real vanilla bean specs," I say. "And what about you?"

"There was a time that I would have chosen chocolate ice cream, but now I like warm cinnamon doughnuts with late fall cider," he answers. "Or those sugar cookies you make — such a light flavor. They're addictive. Or maybe those pecan sandies that Grace makes. I could eat a dozen a day."

Only one dessert, I remind him.

"Well, if I have to pick one, I guess it's the cinnamon doughnuts," he says gravely.

Whew! Glad that decision is finished. But he's on to another question.

"What if you were limited to three books to read for the rest of your life — what would you choose?"

Actually, that is a question I love to consider.

"Literature?" I ask. "Or is non-fiction part of this?"

"Literature," he says.

"Probably a collection of Shakespeare — something I can sink my teeth into time and time again, maybe a collection of Dickens, and for the third ...

"Say. How come I can read only three books for the rest of my life? Who's making that rule? And where am I?"

But The Thinker claims those questions don't matter and demands my answer.

By now, though, I have a few questions of my own.

"What if you could wear only one shirt for the rest of your life — it would be cleaned each day — which would you choose?"

Cleanup days a boon to area

The environment is still a top priority of the Clarkston Village Council, the Independence Township Board and the Springfield Township Board.

All three municipalities have designated a community clean-up day that should inspire residents to pick up trash along the roads and to dispose properly of their own rubbish.

In Clarkston, residents are asked to meet at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 4, at the village's Depot Park to help clean up litter in the park, stream, wetlands, downtown and other areas. Volunteers will be provided with coffee, cider and doughnuts. (To further help, bring your own boots, gloves, shovels, rakes, etc.)

For a small fee in Independence, residents may dump trash 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays, May 4, 11 and 18, at the Department of Public Works, 6050 Flemings Lake Road.

Cost ranges from $5 per car to $25 for large trucks. The township will take tires for a $2 fee each. It will not accept fuel oil drums, barrels, propane cylinders or storage tanks, automobiles, chemicals or car batteries.

In Springfield, Spring Cleanup takes place 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, May 4, at the Springfield Oaks Activities Center, 12451 Andersonville Road.

At this time, residents may dump refuse for a small fee ($1 per car, $5 per pickup truck, $10 per large truck), but no commercial dumping is allowed.

This is an excellent time to get rid of used tires, the rim on or off, but the township won't accept brush, stumps, flammable liquids, oil, paint, concrete or brick.

The dedication of the council and the two township boards to help the environment in this way deserves praise. JLC

Tinkering with ad violates rights

Though well-intentioned, the Clarkston Village Council's attempt to tinker with the lay-out of a resident's newspaper advertisement is out of bounds.

Last week, the council questioned whether Michael Lorimer of Main Street was violating the village's zoning ordinance by receiving business calls at his single-family residence. (Commercial use of residentially zoned property is not allowed.)

Though council members did not come to a consensus on the question, they decided that Lorimer should change the looks of his advertisement in The Clarkston News to make it clear that his home is not a business — and that is where the problem begins.

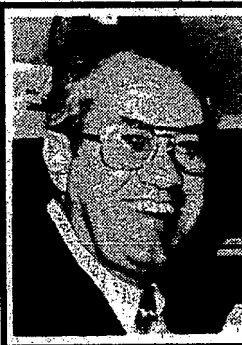

If Lorimer is violating the ordinance, then village officials should ticket him and tell him to stop. They have taken no such action.

Therefore, the council should not dictate the looks of his advertisement. That is in direct violation of Lorimer's First Amendment rights — freedom of speech.

That amendment guarantees the right of Lorimer, and any other advertiser, to design an unclear or clear ad, a vague or precise ad, a cluttered or uncluttered ad.

The council's strong, consistent record of preserving the zoning uses in the village deserves respect. But the council also should respect the First Amendment rights of its residents. JLC

Jim's Jottings

CAREFREE, ARIZONA: We have been here 12 days now and the temperature has yet to hit 90.

I know ... you're concerned for us that the weather gods have held old sol's rays in the 80s for these 12 days, but we're surviving.

Actually, one of those days there was a high, thin layer of clouds that made golfing weather conditions only a little better than fantastic.

I know ... you're glad it's us and not you who have to endure 11 sunny, 80-88 degree days with no mosquitos, flies or other insects.

But remember, at any time those road runners on the golf course or in our neighborhood can turn on us, and the coyotes' nighttime calls could keep us awake, and there's always the worry of a charging javelina.

I'm writing this on the sunlit patio with the sounds of hummingbirds fluttering at their sweetwater-feeder a few feet away. Very disturbing. Hard to concentrate.

Things (the economy) in Arizona are coming to life, only here they're saying it's coming after a 4-year lull as opposed to the 10-12 month recession in Michigan.

Unemployment has dropped, primarily due to government hiring, though government is on a major (they say) cutback-in-spending gig.

Homebuilding is starting up again and banks are back in a profit mode. The announced closing of a major Air Force facility is an economic negative as is the lingering savings and loan debacle.

Time, 2-4 years, should see Arizona booming again. Hopefully, Arizona will experience some good, clean government in the future. The AZ SCAM scandal (payoffs, bribes to officials) is beyond a laughing matter.

Like Michigan, the big thing getting taxpayer attention is planning, zoning and taxes (sales tax 6.7 percent). One difference is water fights.

In this area, with six new golf courses in four years, locals are picketing and protesting 'water grabbers,' claiming developers are depleting the aquifer. Both sides have experts to prove there is either no water or plenty of water.

Development continues.

How many horses should be allowed on various size lots is the big question in Cave Creek, with horseowners ahead at the moment.

I think I'll write a letter to the editor of the Foothills Sentinel in Cave Creek, telling the council how we handle such controversy in Michigan ... wait till there's a meeting with few people in the audience and vote the motion.

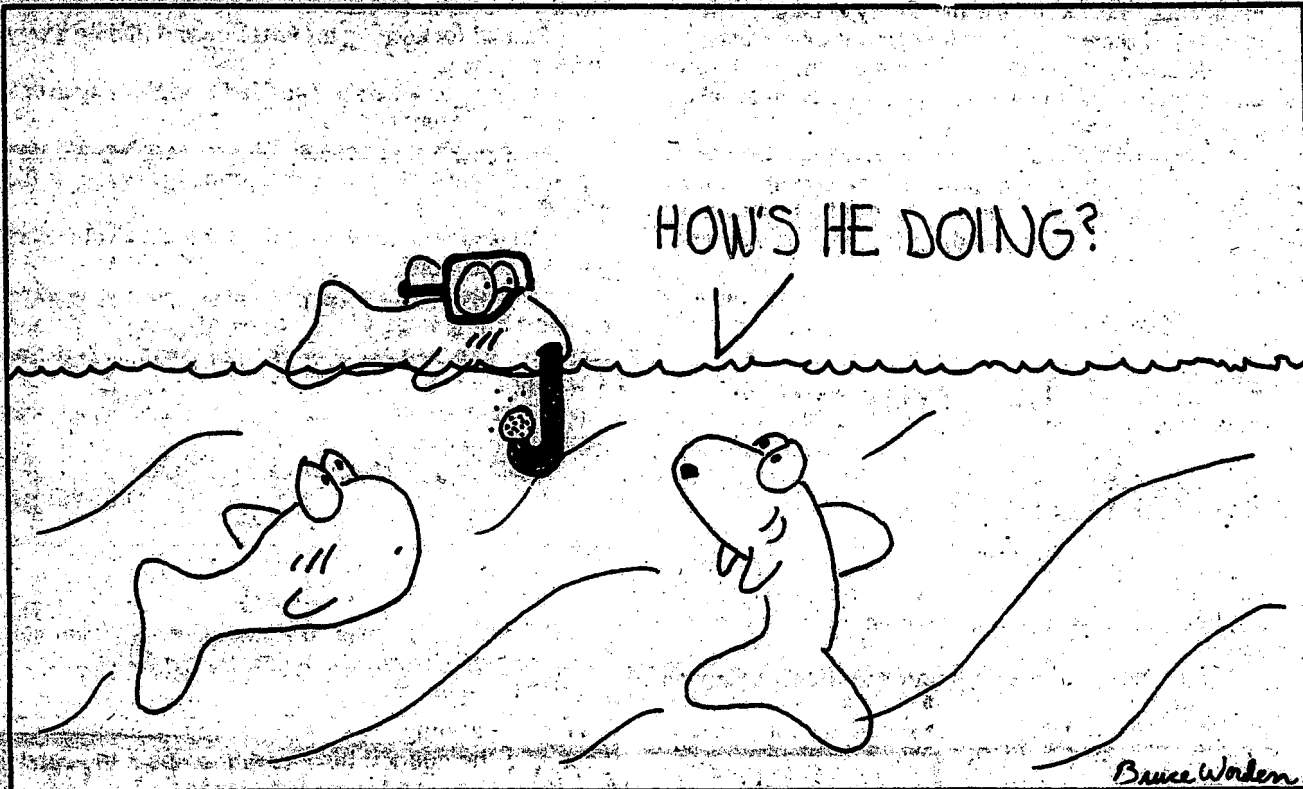

However, they did that in Cave Creek and the board was recalled. That's something like Michigan, too.

Ah, well! It's 11:10 a.m. and the watered fairways and undulating greens are calling. Temperature 81 degrees. I'm playing Eagle Creek, where I had an eagle 3 on a par 5 last week.

I know ... you're glad it's me and not you.

Township, village and school officials generally do a pretty good job of keeping things running smoothly about town.

But, after spending a lot of my waking hours in the Clarkston area, I have noticed a couple of things that could stand improving.

Take elementary schools, for instance. Why can't the district's five elementary schools be located according to what their name suggests?

Pine Knob Elementary School is on Sashabaw Road, not Pine Knob Road; Pine Knob Road is where Bailey Lake Elementary School sits. Wouldn't North Sashabaw be better on Sashabaw Road?

I could say the same thing about Clarkston Elementary, which is on Wasdon Road rather than Clarkston Road, but the name of the school fits the town in general so I won't bring it up.

Andersonville Elementary School is, indeed, on Andersonville Road; but it's still not easy to find. All those twists, turns and branch-offs.

The town could use more parking spaces at the post office. There are, what, about eight spaces to park at the post office? It wouldn't be so bad if the path for dropping letters into the box weren't the same line for cars trying to leave and make room for more patrons.

Every time I've been to the post office all eight people whose cars are parked outside were inside waiting in line. The lines move slowly inside the post office; and when you do come upon a post office teller, he or she is usually grumpy -- likely from hearing people complain about the parking situation.

There needs to be some sort of foliage -- tuplis, pansies or even wildflowers -- down along White Lake Road, especially toward Andersonville Road. Is it too late for planners to require some sort of boulevard thing down there?

I think it's time for the school board to schedule bi-monthly meetings. I took the schools beat because, wow, only one meeting a month. The township, planning commission and even the village, have at least two a month.

Nobody warned me that the one regularly scheduled meeting would be filled with enough stuff to last three or four solid, busy hours.

Even with the regularly scheduled meeting, the board ends up meeting one or two other times a month for special meetings to handle the overflow.

Keeping track of the dates and times of these meetings -- not to mention the content -- is almost detective work.

Seriously, now. The area could use more stoplights along M-15. One literally takes one's life in one's hands turning left from Clarkston, Army and Cranberry Lake roads.

And, I don't think I'm asking too much, how about some of those kiosks that sell hot dogs and frozen ices and stuff, in various places downtown?

Masters of getting lost fly Disorient Express

Jim Fitzgerald

Our Southwest Airlines flight was scheduled to leave Chicago's Midway Airport for Detroit at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. Our party of five arrived at Midway about half a day early because we'd just spent the weekend getting lost on highways, in hotel corridors and restaurant aisles, and during the long journey from bed to bathroom. We wanted to leave plenty of time to recover from getting lost in the airport entrance.

I'll tell you what happened after we settled down at Gate A12 for the long wait for our plane, coming in from Houston. But be warned that this is not a pleasant story. Promise not to cry.

Around 4 p.m., a sign announced our flight was delayed. At 6 p.m., it said the same thing. After pleading ignorance for two hours, Southwest personnel finally put an estimate on the delay: Because of bad weather in Texas, we'd be lucky to fly Southwest before 10 p.m., if ever that night. The story was equally discouraging at other airlines.

We decided it would be quicker to rent a car and drive to Detroit. While my brother-in-law Bill retrieved our luggage and turned in our tickets for later refunds, I sped down the concourse to the car rental counters. Most of them said it was against policy to allow one-way trips to Detroit. Hertz said OK, but there'd be an added $250 drop-off charge. The Dollar agency wanted $150 extra.

Why the hell do car rental companies bother having a nationwide chain of outlets, which they continually brag about, if customers must bring the car back where they got it? If, in a city the size of Detroit, there is no chance of anyone renting a car to drive back to Chicago, rental cars might as well be tethered in their backyards.

But one member of our party was Terrible Jean, my much, much older sister. Even though she appears healthy, there is no denying that, by all reasonable actuarial measurement, her time is limited. I figured her children might resent it if Terrible Jean were forced to spend her final years in a Chicago airport, waiting for the weather to clear up in Houston. So I accepted Dollar's deal to let us drive a Buick for five hours for a disgusting $210.

But wait. As I headed for the Buick, I heard my name called over the public address system. Before I could get to a phone, I saw my wife, Pat, and my much, much younger sister, Linda, returning down the concourse. They said that back at Gate A12, Southwest had suddenly, with no explanation, resurrected our flight. We could still get on it if we hurried, hurried, hurried.

We canceled the Dollar rental deal and, gasping, made it on time to the plane -- where my wife announced that, in the rush, she'd left her purse, containing everything important she owned, way back at the security gate. At this point, Linda, a mere 50-year-old surrounded by aging old poops, tossed aside her shoes and sprinted back for the purse. My wife collapsed into the plane and I stood at the entrance, imploring the man in charge not to leave without Linda.

It should be pointed out that Linda, a San Antonio resident, had flown into the same airport two nights earlier and waited over two hours, past midnight, for two brothers-in-law to pick her up. They were late because, for the first 60 miles of their motor trip, they were headed in the exact wrong direction. Linda was a trifle cranky by the time they arrived, even though she'd made several warm friends among the airport cleaning crew. She was determined not to risk the 265-mile drive to Detroit with such incredibly lousy navigators.

The security guard wouldn't give her Pat's purse because Linda couldn't remember the address on Pat's driver's license. Pat had to be called back off the plane to claim the lousy purse.

Winded and perspiring, we were finally all aboard by 7 p.m. The plane didn't take off until 7:35 because it wasn't until then that the copilot arrived. To make me feel better, a flight attendant gave me a free drink. I spilled every drop of it on my shirt and squished all the way to Detroit.

The purpose of the Chicago trip was to attend a cousin's wedding reception and proudly enhance the Fitzgerald family reputation for industrial-strength freeloading. I'll write about that as soon as I can stop crying.

Letters to the Editor

Library board now needed

It's ironic that Frank Ronk, the Independence Township supervisor, who, as he put it, "takes care of his people," would replace a library director who is highly qualified, hardworking and successful with someone whose only pertinent credential (other than a master's degree, which is the most basic requirement) is that she once lived in Clarkston.

According to The Clarkston News report on April 24, Mollie Lynch has had absolutely no experience managing a public library or performing the functions that are specific to public libraries.

Some of the other candidates who applied for the job certainly had more appropriate qualifications.

This is another sign of the township board's disrespect for the library and the people who work there.

The staff at the library, which includes two professionals, was not even introduced to the candidates. Also, the supervisor has excluded the library staff from being involved with other decisions related to the new library building.

I guess he thinks he knows what's best for everyone, even though he doesn't use the library or care whether it is managed according to modern professional standards.

It seems to me that he is more concerned about protecting his own power and control than with taking care of anyone else.

It's time for the library to have an elected library board so that it will be governed by people who are dedicated to the special concerns of the library and are not afraid to work with knowledgeable, progressive librarians.

Miss friends, newspaper

Please note the address change so that we can continue to keep in touch with our friends in Clarkston.

I'd like to say thank you for doing such a great service to the community by publishing such a fine newspaper.

One of my favorite sections has been Ashley Ball's wonderful column — she has the style and skill that is going to take her far. I look for her to do some great things, and I can say "I knew her when ..."

I think of you all as my friends and wish there was a local paper in my new town. (There kind of is but it is nothing compared to what I'm used to!)

Consider party alternative

I would like to inform you and the committee members for the senior lock-up night that I am opposing the hypnotist and casino entertainment chosen for the night.

It is time for the silent majority to be heard. Enough is enough.

A committee formed this year revised our mission statement and has written down belief statements.

If you truly believe "All individuals have worth, value and dignity," please consider the student who will have a life-long problem by exposure to such "entertainment." Think again about the alternative suggested.

Just last week there was a news program reporting the problems some teens have with gambling.

Do we need to take something as serious as gambling and hypnosis and call it harmless fun for our kids?

I am a mother of two girls, one who will be entering 10th grade next year. I also volunteer in the schools; currently I work at Sashabaw Junior High School. I am looking forward to working at the high school next year.

I am not looking to stir things up, just to say that our community standards have got to be higher than what this chosen entertainment states.

I am all for keeping the kids safe and finding a way to interest them.

Some of the letters in The Clarkston News state that we are against fun. Not true.

Statements have been misquoted, and they are saying we have not spoken our views formally to you or to the school board.

I, myself, made a phone call to one of the volunteers with my objections.

I am not knocking the volunteers who have worked on this. I know what it is like to work on these jobs and then have someone say or imply they could do better or whatever.

I just want you to know how I feel about this particular activity.

Thank you for considering an alternative.

Post-graduation plans travel full steam ahead

Seniors to escape on Orient Express in this year's party

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

About 60 parents are assisting graduating Clarkston High School seniors in their escape on the Orient Express June 12.

Of course, the seniors won't really be traveling on the famous luxury route between Istanbul and Paris; but they might as well be for all their experiences that evening.

Following the June 12 graduation exercises, an estimated 350 seniors will gather at the Deer Lake Racquet Club for their night on the Orient Express.

Several committees of parents have been working since February to orchestrate the theme for this year's post-graduation party.

Areas within the racquet club will be made to look

"We know we're doing something for the last time for our kids. It's the highlight of their high school experience."

like the locations the train frequented on its stops.

The food, too, will represent countries known to passengers on the train: Chinese, French and Italian, among them.

The theme for this year's post-graduation party was selected by a committee of 12 students, who narrowed suggestions from six to three. Parent committees took the idea from there.

The students will have 16 events and activities to enjoy throughout the evening — including full use of racquet club facilities.

A highlight of the post-graduation party is the raffle, chock-full of cash prizes and other items donated by a variety of retail stores, organizations and citizens.

About 60 parents will be on hand for four-hour supervisory shifts throughout the evening.

Other parents are working on clean-up crews or on the ways and means committee, which works to solicit donations for the party.

Students are orchestrating this year's senior dinner, which also falls under the post-graduation umbrella.

The senior dinner is planned for June 9 at Mitch's II in Waterford.

The post-graduation party is put on and sponsored by parents of students in the senior class, say organizers. Though the school supports the party, it is not a school function.

"We know we're doing something for the last time for our kids," says co-chair Becky McChesney. "It's the highlight of their high school experience."

Though Becky and co-chair Cricket Bishop admit the party has been a lot of work, and not without controversy, it is all worth it, they say.

"It will all be worth it to see their faces that night," says Cricket.

Tickets for the post-graduation party go on sale at the high school May 28. The $10 cost of the ticket includes a commemorative T-shirt.

Teens become Eagle Scouts

Two Independence Township teens have earned Eagle Scout status from the Boy Scouts of America (BSA).

Joe Romzek, 17, and Ben Montey, 14, were honored at an awards banquet in the Springfield Oaks County Park last week. Both are members of Troop 189, which is based out of the Calvary Lutheran Church, Independence Township.

Both teens needed to acquire 21 merit badges and complete one service project for the honor.

Romzek, an official Eagle Scout since December, has been involved in BSA for 8 years. His service project was to help clean up a few of the township's safety paths.

Montey has been involved in BSA for four years. His service project was to help landscape the grounds around the Episcopal Church of the Resurrection on Clarkston Road, Independence Township.

Developer to trim units in 'Waldon Lake' plan

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The developers of Waldon Lake Estates have trimmed their number of units to ease concerns of the Independence Township Planning Commission.

Buzz Silverman, president of Holtzman and Silverman, said the next set of plans will include 100 units instead of the 126 previously proposed around Gulick Lake. The developer is expected to re-seek preliminary site plan approval within the next two months.

The 151-acre site is on the south side of Waldon Road. It encompasses the former Camp Fire Girls' encampment, Camp Oweki, and 30 acres belonging to Waldon Road resident John Borsh.

According to Larry Sampson, council president of the North Oakland Camp Fire Association, the camp was listed for sale because of money constraints. He said the 40-year-old camp's usage had dropped off dramatically, and a lot of the facilities needed dramatic renovations.

The land is contracted to be sold to Holtzman and Silverman if the proposal gains township approval.

Originally proposed for cluster lotting, the developers will be re-seeking preliminary site plan approval. Their first attempt fell short March 21. Many of the

"We were concerned with the preservation of the site's natural beauty, but they've (developers) proven to be sympathetic toward our wishes."

concerns included wetlands preservation, wildlife displacement and added traffic to Waldon Road.

Cluster lotting is the legal reduction of lot sizes in those areas with public sewer services provided. The minimum lot sizes for cluster lotting is 12,000 square feet.

Silverman said the new proposal will feature single-family, detached homes with 100-foot lot widths. The style of homes is planned to be eastern seaboard colonial, and the property is to feature several beach clubs and nature trails.

Silverman said it took quite a while for his firm to find a site as aesthetically pleasing as this one.

"We've looked at various individual sites in Independence Township over the past several years, and this one is by far the prettiest," he said. "This parcel really maximizes the land's natural amenities, and it has quick access to a nearby expressway. We think this could be a model development."

Sampson said he was impressed with the plan's concern for preservation.

"I was impressed with the overall plan," he said. "We were concerned with the preservation of the site's natural beauty, but they've (developers) proven to be sympathetic toward our wishes."

Sampson added that the money received from the sale of the camp would go toward the continuation of children's programs within the North Oakland Camp Fire Association.

Take precaution with household hazardous waste

Many hazardous wastes may be found in the home. To keep the wastes out of landfills and ground water, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments offers the following list of typical household hazardous wastes and suggested ways to dispose of them.

Used motor oil: Recycle or take to a local service station or oil collection site.

Anti-freeze: Dilute with a large amount of water and pour down a drain to a sewage treatment plant. If you have a septic tank, don't pour more than one gallon per week down the drain.

Car batteries: Take them to a local service station or battery collection site.

Latex-based paint: Allow paint in the can to dry until it is solidified. Put the can with your weekly household garbage to be taken to a sanitary landfill. If the paint contains any mercury, save it for collection at a community hazardous waste collection day or take it to a licensed hazardous waste contractor.

Oven cleaner: Try first to completely use the product, even if it means sharing it with a friend or neighbor. If you must dispose of a can that still contains cleaner, do so during a community collection campaign. It can also be taken to a licensed hazardous waste contractor.

Drain cleaner: Heavily dilute these products with water and pour them down a drain to a sewage treatment plant. Don't, however, pour it down a drain connected to a septic tank. Instead, give it to someone who can use the drain cleaner or dispose of it during a community household hazardous waste collection campaign.

Toilet bowl cleaner: Flush it down the drain, diluted with extra water. If you have a septic tank and a large amount of the cleaner to dispose of, take it to a hazardous waste collection site.

Pesticides: Don't ever attempt to casually throw away these products. Instead, leave them with a licensed hazardous waste contractor or save them for a collection program in your community.

Medicines: Most medicines can be diluted and flushed down a drain to a sewage treatment plant. If the medicine is an antibiotic, however, it should be treated with caution. Dispose of it only during a collection campaign or with a licensed hazardous waste contractor.

Aerosols: If the cans are empty, they can be disposed of with your regular household garbage. If any of the product remains in the can, dispose of it only with a licensed hazardous waste contractor or during a collection program.

Pool chemicals: All spa and pool chemicals should be disposed of with caution. Take them only to a collection program or to a licensed hazardous waste contractor.

Remember to read product labels. Some products may damage a septic system. Share any unwanted products with a friend or neighbor. Disposing of any empty can is safer than disposing of a full can. Recycle mercury batteries, motor oil, brake and transmission fluid. Try alternatives that are safer than hazardous products.

Is your home as safe as you think?

To contribute to a cleaner, safer environment and to make your home safer in general, take the following steps:

- Take an inventory of hazardous products in your home.
- Check for key words on the labels such as caution, danger, warning or poison.
- Abide by label instructions for proper handling.
- Rely on alternatives to hazardous products. For example, allow plain ammonia to work overnight on a dirty oven.
- Dispose of all hazardous products properly.
- Recycle and reuse any products — hazardous or otherwise — whenever possible.

Cleanup days

trash at the Springfield Oaks Youth Activity Center on Andersonville Road. Drop-off time is set for 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

All items must be bundled, bagged or boxed if possible. Dumping fees are: $1 per car, $5 per pick-up truck and $10 for a large truck.

Items not accepted at the clean-up site include: brush, stumps, flammable liquids, oil, paint, concrete and bricks.

Tires, however, will be accepted.

Township employees also will assist in the removal of junk vehicles from township residences, at no cost. The title to the vehicle must be furnished to prove ownership.

For more information on Springfield's clean-up day, call 625-4802 or 634-3111.

Village of Clarkston

Volunteers are asked to help rid the results of those in Clarkston who don't give a hoot and pollute.

The Clarkston Village Council is sponsoring its second annual Pickup Day Saturday, May 4. The day is one way to help clean up litter in the village park, stream, wetlands, downtown and other areas.

Those interested should meet at the Depot Park on Depot Road at 9 a.m. Coffee, cider and doughnuts will be provided. Picnic tables and pop will be available for those who wish to bring a picnic lunch.

Volunteers are asked to bring their own equipment, such as boots, gloves, shovels, rakes and other items. For more information, call 625-1559 or 625-3770.

A little help for a friend

EARTH Day is a good time to talk about helping the earth. Clarkston High School sophomores Kathy Jackman (from left), Stacy Carr and Staci Hill — members of the CHS Environmental Concerns Group — talk to fifth-graders in Herley Moore's class at Andersonville Elementary School. The teenagers showed a filmstrip about the planet and gave each student a white pine tree to take home and plant (with the help of a parent and planting instructions). When the girls asked the class, "How can you help save the earth?" nearly all of the pupils raised their hands with ideas. Their suggestions included: using a carpool, turning off the water when you brush your teeth (saves 5 gallons of water each time), keeping Saddam Hussein from burning oil, using chemicals that are friendly to the earth, using only aerosol sprays that have no CFCs, picking up garbage if you see it lying on the ground, and planting trees. Hunting hearing canceled in Orion

No one unlocks door of meeting room

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An administrative blunder in Orion Township resulted in 12 people getting wet and a public hearing getting canceled.

On April 23, a hearing was planned to examine hunting safety around Heather Lakes Estates, which straddles Independence and Orion townships. However, no one arrived to open the Orion Township Hall. After nearly half an hour after the meeting was slated to begin, it was postponed.

The public hearing was scheduled by a Michigan Department of Natural Resources committee to give residents an opportunity to speak on the hunting that occurs around Heather Lakes Estates.

Orion Township Clerk Marie English said that she and Supervisor JoAnn VanTassel were out of town at the time of the hearing. She said that no one was notified to unlock the doors for the meeting.

Resting in Independence and Orion townships, the subdivision is located near the intersection of Clarkston and Baldwin roads.

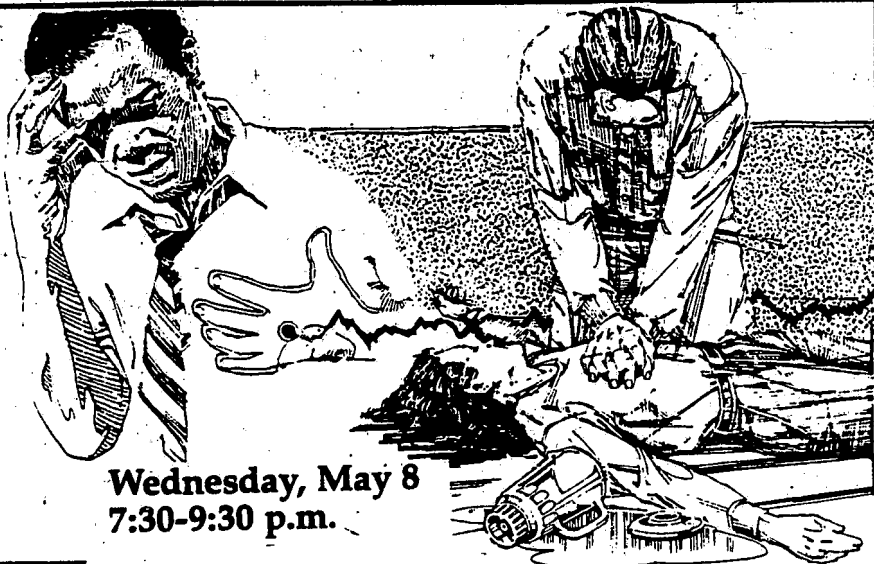

The controversy revolves around the shooting of geese near Heather Lake. Apparently, the birds have become so numerous on the lake that they've become a nuisance.

However, a large number of residents feel that all types of hunting should be banned around the lake because of safety considerations. They contend that the land is far too developed to allow the continuance of gunplay.

Another public hearing will be announced at a future date.

Earth tip

You can use up to 150 gallons of water washing your car with a hose. A trigger nozzle on your hose will save at least 20 gallons of water.

Wolves enjoy taking walks on the wild side

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Ball four. Ball four. Ball four. Ball four. Ball four. Ball four. Ball four.

Lake Orion varsity baseball pitchers allowed seven walks in the sixth inning to help Clarkston score six times en route to a 13-10 Wolf victory.

The Wolves also helped themselves by smacking four extra-base hits. Dugan Fife belted a 2-run homer, Kevin Juzysta tripled and Chad Hetherington and Jim Jenkinson both doubled. Juzysta and Hetherington also singled.

"The hitting was the key to the victory," said Clarkston coach Roy "Pops" Warner, whose team went to 4-4 overall and 3-1 (tied for first) in the Greater Oakland Activities League with the victory.

Other Wolf hitters were Mark White with two singles and Chris Wasilk and Mike Stanton each with one single.

The Dragons led 5-2 in the top of the second, but the Wolves scored twice in their second and third to take a 6-5 lead.

Lake Orion regained the lead with three in the fourth, but then the Dragon pitchers couldn't find the plate (including three straight walks with the bases loaded) in the bottom of the fourth. The Wolves scored six and never trailed after that.

Southpaw Derek Wiley, 3-0, picked up the win, giving up 10 hits and nine runs (only two were earned) while walking four and striking out four in six innings of work. Darren Master relieved Wiley, giving up one hit and one run in one inning on the mound, striking out one Dragon.

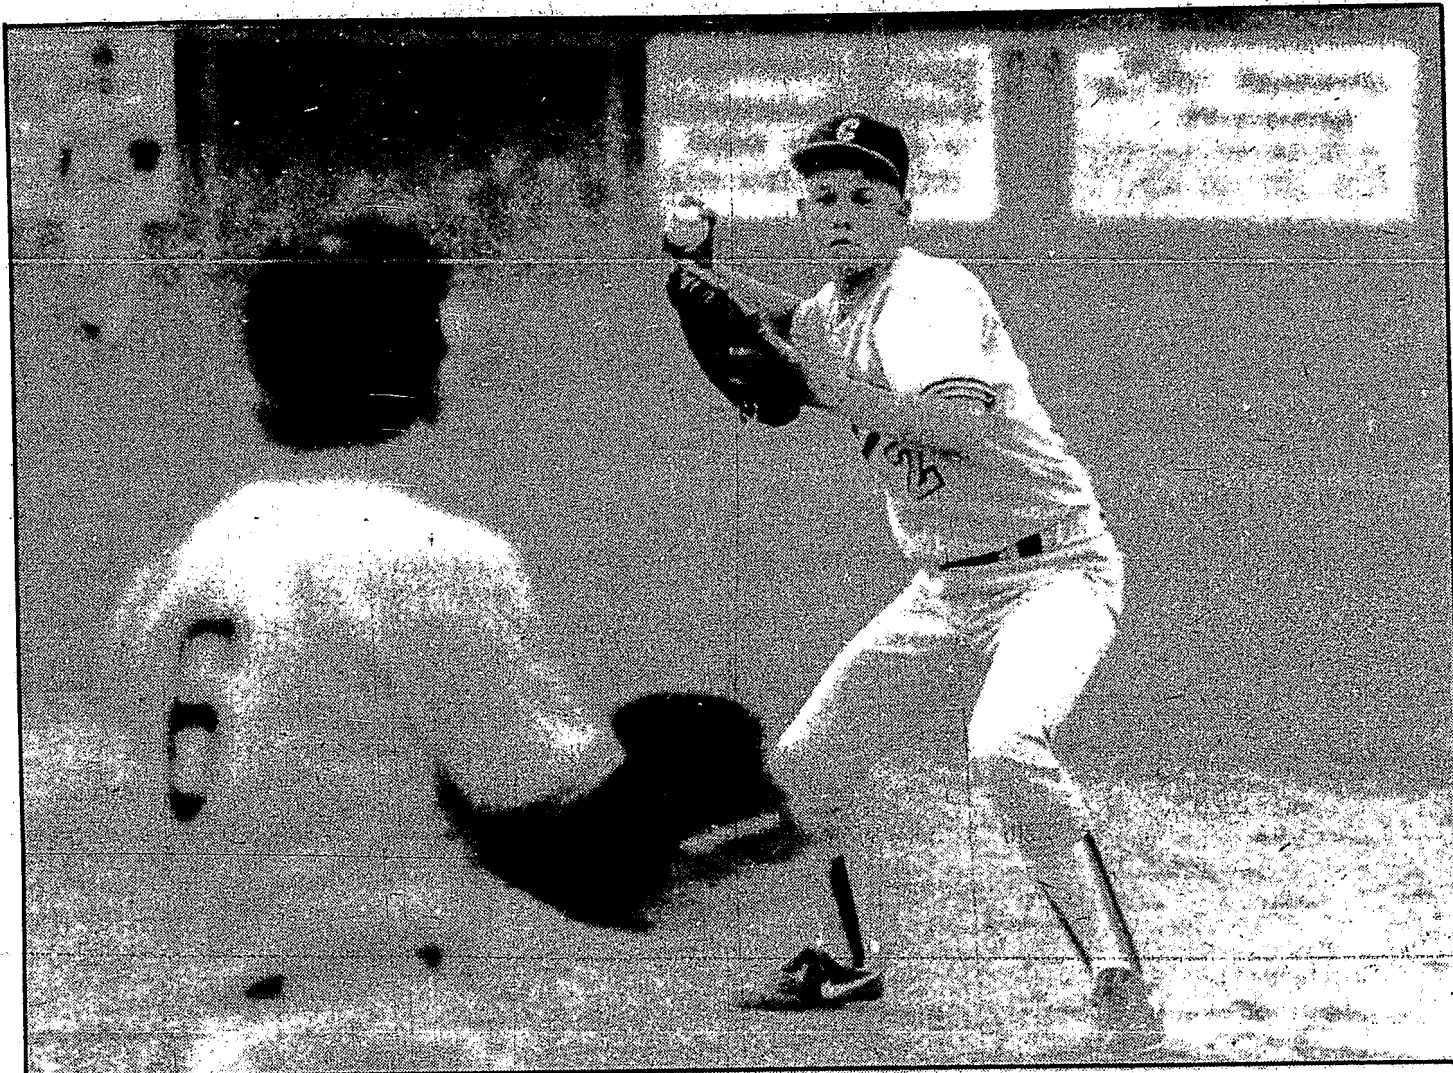

The teams started the second game of the scheduled doubleheader, but it was called because of darkness and will be continued at a later date.

Rochester 3, Clarkston 2
(April 23 at Rochester)

Clarkston outhit Rochester but the hosts edged the Wolves, 3-2.

"It's tough to lose a one-run ball game to the No. 1 team in the county," said Clarkston coach Roy Warner. "The secret to beating Rochester ... one more hit in the sixth."

With Clarkston trailing 3-0 going into the sixth, the Wolves scored twice on doubles by Kevin Juzysta and Chad Hetherington, but Derek Wiley and Darren

FIRST baseman Kevin Mull goes wide to come up with the ball before tossing it to pitcher Matt Seitz covering first, during varsity action against Lake Orion.

Master struck out to end the rally.

The Wolves had eight hits. Hetherington singled in addition to his double, Jenkinson had two singles and Juan Chavez, Dugan Fife and Mike Stanton each had one single.

Wolf pitching held Rochester to five hits. Kevin Mull, 0-1, pitched five innings and scattered four hits, allowed three runs (two earned), walked five and struck out two.

Mike Corcoran relieved Mull, threw for one inning, giving up one hit while walking one and striking out one.

Clarkston 13, Waterford Kettering 1
(April 22 at Waterford Kettering)

Darren Master threw a one-hitter and the Wolves smacked four extra-base hits to lambaste Waterford Kettering, 13-1.

Master, 1-1, walked two and struck out two in six innings.

"It was a great pitching performance by Darren Master," said Clarkston coach Roy Warner.

The coach also enjoyed his team's offensive punch. "The bats are coming to life," said Warner.

Chad Hetherington had the biggest bat of the day, slamming a fourth-inning solo home run.

The Wolves put the game out of reach by scoring seven times in third. Derek Wiley walked, Chris Wasilk doubled and Mike Stanton singled both base runners home. Matt Underwood was safe on an error, Kevin Juzysta doubled in Stanton, Jim Jenkinson walked and Dugan Fife singled in Underwood and Juzysta. Wiley, Wasilk and Stanton all walked, scoring Fife.

Hetherington had two hits for the afternoon, his homer and a single. Underwood had two singles, Wasilk, Jenkinson and Juzysta each doubled and Fife and Stanton singled.

Diamond splitters make pitch

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's varsity softball team split doubleheaders with Lake Orion and Rochester, and dropped a single game against Waterford Kettering.

The split with the Dragons gave the Wolves a 3-2 mark in the Greater Oakland Activities League.

Clarkston 7, Lake Orion 3 (April 25 at Clarkston-1st game)

Clarkston took a 7-1 lead after three innings and Wolf pitcher Jenny McChesney held the Dragons to only two more runs in the opening game of a GOAL doubleheader.

"We had a couple key hits and capitalized on Orion's errors to get the win," said Clarkston coach Carla Teare.

The Dragons outthit the Wolves (5-4), but Clarkston used four Lake Orion errors to its advantage.

Jenny McChesney, 1-1, pitched all seven innings for the Wolves, walking none and striking out two. The three runs she gave up were unearned.

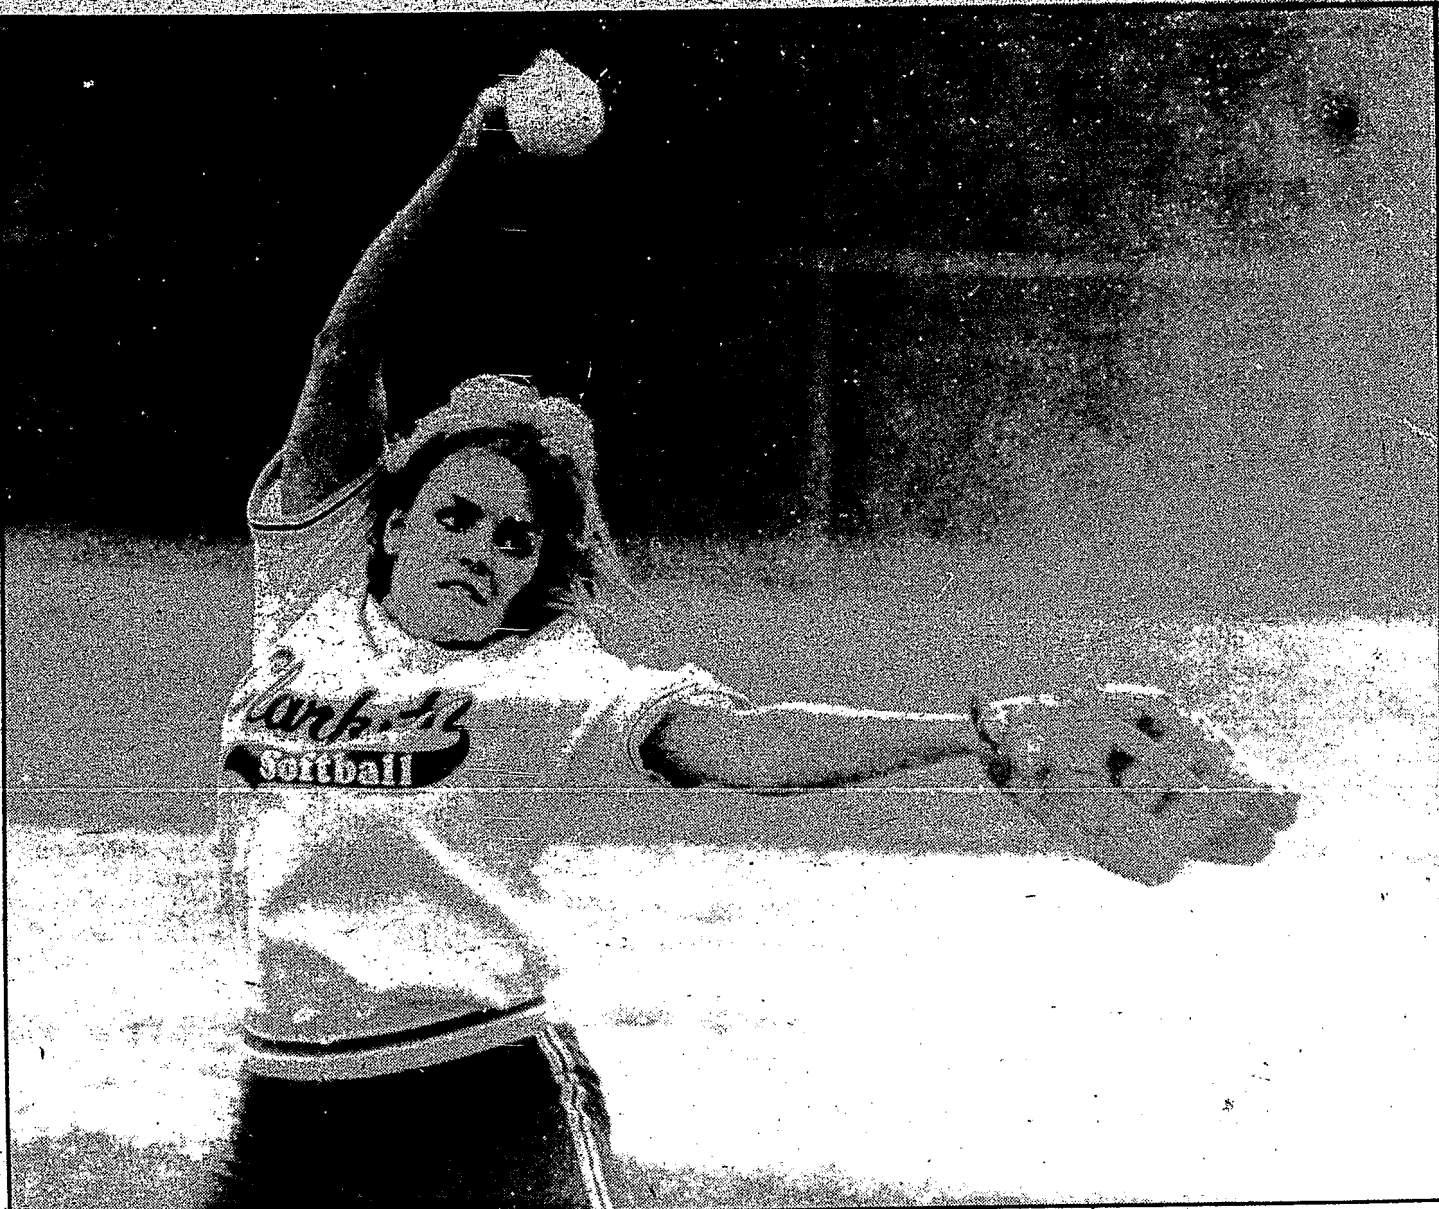

Jenny McChesney also had two singles and sister Alyson McChesney and Beth Walker each had one single.

Lake Orion 2, Clarkston 1 (April 25 at Clarkston-2nd game)

Clarkston was held to only two hits as the Dragons gained a split with a 2-1 win in the nightcap.

Lake Orion scored its two runs in the third.

The Wolves broke the shutout with one in their sixth. Beth Walker walked, advanced to second on a wild pitch and then came home on Jenny McChesney's single.

JENNY McChesney got all wound up about beating GOAL rival Lake Orion last week.

Becky Kosek's double was the only other Wolf hit.

Colleen Cruz, 4-2, pitched well but still took the loss. She gave up seven hits and walked six.

"We played a nice defensive game, but we did not hit the ball. We needed a couple of more hits to win the game," said coach Carla Teare.

Rochester 3, Clarkston 0 (April 23 at Rochester-1st game)

Clarkston could only manage three hits in the opener of a doubleheader as Rochester handed the Wolves their first shutout of the season, a 3-0 decision.

"Rochester had a couple of timely hits and we did not have many runners or hits in this game," said coach Carla Teare.

Heather Austin, Candy Polenz and Alyson McChesney had the three Wolf hits, all singles.

Jenny McChesney, 0-1, suffered the loss. She gave up seven hits, three runs (two earned), walked one and struck out four.

Clarkston 16, Rochester 9 (April 23 at Rochester-2nd game)

Clarkston outslugged Rochester for a 16-9 win, but Wolf coach Carla Teare will most remember a diving catch by Heidi Parrott.

Parrott's heroics happened while the two teams were tied at 9-9.

"Heidi made the defensive play of the season in the bottom of the sixth with a diving catch," said Teare. "We then scored seven runs in the top of the seventh to win the game. I'll remember that outstanding catch for a long time."

Parrott didn't just help the Wolves defensively, she also contributed two hits, along with Becky Kosek, Alyson McChesney, Jenny Bruce and Kim Choops. Jenny McChesney and Beth Walker each had one single.

Rochester actually outthit the Wolves (13-12) but the hosts made five errors while Clarkston only made two.

Colleen Cruz, 4-1, pitched the first five innings, giving up 12 hits, nine runs (seven earned) and two walks, while striking out one. Jenny McChesney preserved the win by cleaning up in the last inning, allowing one hit and one walk.

Waterford Kettering 8, Clarkston 3 (April 22 at Waterford Kettering)

Waterford Kettering, one of the state's highly-ranked Class A teams, struck for five runs in the fourth to stop Clarkston, 8-3.

"The fourth inning was the deciding factor," said coach Carla Teare. "We played even with them the rest of the game."

The Wolves scored all three of their runs in the fifth to close the gap to 6-3, but two Captains touched home in the sixth.

Clarkston scored when Alyson McChesney walked, Jenny Bruce and Heidi Parrott were both safe on an error, Kim Choops' sacrifice fly brought in Alyson McChesney and Bruce and Parrott both scored on passed balls.

Colleen Cruz, 3-1, suffered her first loss of the season. She threw four innings, allowing seven hits, six runs and one walk. Jenny McChesney pitched the final two innings, giving up two hits and two runs, while walking one and striking out one.

Close games abound in Bay City

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's varsity softball team outscored its opponents, 9-8, but still lost two of three close games at the Bay City All Saints Tournament, April 26-27.

Clarkston's overall record went to 7-5 after the three games.

Waterford Mott won the tournament, which featured 20 teams. Ten of the 20 teams were ranked in the state.

Clarkston 2, Flushing 1 (April 26 at Bay City)

Clarkston outthit Flushing (8-3) but lost its tournament opener, 2-1.

The Wolves led 1-0 after four innings, but Flushing tied it in the fifth and went ahead with one in the sixth.

Jennifer McChesney, 1-2, was the hard-luck loser on the mound. In addition to scattering only three hits, she didn't allow a walk and struck out one.

Clarkston scored its lone run in the fourth when Becky Kosek singled, stole second, went to third on a ground out and then scored on a passed ball.

Alyson McChesney had a double and a single for the Wolves. Kosek and Candy Polenz each had two singles and Jenny McChesney and Heidi Parrott both singled.

Clarkston 5, Bay City Western 2 (April 27 at Bay City)

Clarkston led 5-2 early and held on for a win over Bay City Western in its second game at the Bay City All Saints Tournament.

Jenny McChesney, 2-2, not only picked up the win on the mound by giving up only four hits and one walk while striking out six, she helped her cause at the plate.

"Beth Walker and Jenny McChesney were great 1-2 batters today. They combined for five hits and four runs," said Clarkston coach Carla Teare. "Beth was on base every at bat today."

Bay City Western opened the scoring with two in the top of the first.

But Clarkston took the lead for good with three in the bottom of the first. Walker walked, Jenny McChesney singled and Becky Kosek advanced them with her sacrifice. Alyson McChesney's single drove in the two baserunners and Jenny Bruce singled in Alyson McChesney.

The Wolves scored two more in their second. With two outs, Walker was safe on an error, Jenny McChesney singled and Kosek drove both runners in with a single to centerfield.

Bay City All Saints 4, Clarkston 3 (April 27 at Bay City)

It took Bay City All Saints, the state's No. 3 rated Class D team, extra innings to edge Clarkston, 4-3.

All Saints led 3-0 in the second, Clarkston tied it in the fifth, but the Cougars broke the tie in the eighth.

"We came from behind but couldn't hold on for the win in extra innings," said Clarkston coach Carla Teare. "We played good defense and got out of some difficult situations."

Clarkston scored one in fourth when Heidi Parrott singled, stole second and then scored when All Saints' second baseman made an error.

The Wolves scored two in the fifth with two outs when Becky Kosek was safe on an error, Alyson McChesney singled to center and Parrott drove in both teammates with a single up the middle.

The Wolves had five hits, all singles, from Jenny McChesney, Alyson McChesney, Jenny Bruce, Heidi Parrott and Colleen Cruz.

Cruz pitched the first six innings, allowing three runs (two earned), four hits and three walks, while striking out one Cougar. Jenny McChesney, 2-3, pitched two innings, giving up two hits, one run and three walks, while striking out one.

Wolverines win some, lose some ... big

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston Junior High's ninth-grade softball team trounced Brandon, 26-10, to even its season record at 2-2.

The Wolverines comfortably led 12-0 in the top of the fourth inning, but the Blackhawks avoided a mercy finish at that point with nine runs in the bottom of the inning.

But Clarkston ended the game by scoring three in its fifth and 11 more in the sixth.

"We overcame a tough defensive fourth inning to come back and mercy Brandon," said Clarkston coach Karen Czarnecki.

Erin Patterson led the Wolverines' 19-hit attack with a double and three singles. Amy Bishop smacked a double and a pair of singles and Amanda VanKlaveren stroked three singles.

Kristi Witmer and Anne Brueck each had a pair of singles. Gabrielle Bielak, Sheila Pomeroy and Megan Mulloy all had a single. Mulloy also had a sacrifice fly.

Brueck picked up the win, allowing seven hits while walking seven and striking out one.

Waterford Kettering 24, Clarkston Junior High 5
 (April 23 at Clarkston)

Waterford Kettering scored nine first-inning runs and that's all the Captains needed in a 24-5 five-inning mercy victory over Clarkston Junior High.

Kettering outhit the Wolverines, 15-

Coach Karen Czarnecki still saw a plus in the contest.

"I'm proud of scoring five runs against our league's best pitcher," said Czarnecki.

Amy Bishop paced Clarkston's hitters with a double and two singles. Erin Patterson had a double and a single. Kristi Witmer doubled and Gabrielle Bielak and Amanda VanKlaveren each singled.

Laura Seitz suffered the loss, pitching the first two innings. Patterson took the mound in relief the last five innings.

Girls run past Dragons

The varsity girls ran all over Lake Orion in a league track meet, topping the Dragons, 86-42.

A few days later, the squad placed 13th at the West Bloomfield Invitational, Clarkston 86, Lake Orion 42 (April 23 at Clarkston).

The Wolves won 11 events against the Dragons to win their third straight dual meet.

Senior Tracy Chamberlain and freshman Angie Brown had a big day on the track, each were in four winning events.

Chamberlain won the long jump (14-6 3/4) and the 300 meter low hurdles (51.77). Brown won the 100 dash (13.16) and the 200 dash (27.50), and both joined each other on winning 800 and 400 relay teams.

The two were joined by Stacey Secatch and Missy Fletcher in the 800 (1:55.0) and Secatch and Cara Rayner in the 400 (55.07). Secatch, a triple winner, also won the discus (91-4).

Coach Gordie Richardson was also pleased with the winning 3200 relay team of Melissa Mutter, Heather Schaffer, Carrie Roeser and Kristin Stanton.

"They ran it in their best time of the year," said Richardson, whose Wolves ran the eight ovals in 10:46.76.

Clarkston girls 13th out of 18 teams

(April 27 at the West Bloomfield Invitational)

Clarkston girls placed in four events to finish 13th at the West Bloomfield Invitational.

"We're more of a dual team," said Clarkston coach Gordie Richardson about his team who does better when team depth is more important than specialization. The Wolves were 3-0 in dual meets, including 2-0 in the Greater Oakland Activities League, going into Saturday's invitational.

Tracy Chamberlain placed twice for the Wolves. The senior was fifth in the long jump (14-feet, 1 3/4-inches) and sixth in the 300 meter low hurdles (50.0 seconds).

Sophomore Rachel Seifferlein took fifth in the shot put (32-2 1/2) and the shuttle hurdle relay team took sixth (1:15.15).

Former Wolf extends streak for Pioneers

Jeff Tungate, a Clarkston High School graduate, increased his Oakland University school-record hitting streak to 19 games Saturday, April 27, in a split of a double-header against visiting Ferris State University.

The split gave the Pioneers a 20-14 overall record and put them in a three-way tie for first in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference with Ferris and Grand Valley State, with all three having 7-3 league records.

Tungate is the son of Anne and Paul Tungate of Transparent Drive in Independence Township.

Coug's pile up 20-plus runs against Mott, Lapeer

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Sashabaw Junior High's ninth-grade softball team amassed 45 runs in two games to crush Waterford Mott and Lapeer West. The two wins upped the Cougars' record to 2-3.

Sashabaw Junior High 23, Waterford Mott 11

(April 25 at Sashabaw)

Cathy Podzikowski had a big day at the plate and on the mound to help the Cougars down Waterford Mott, 23-11.

Podzikowski pitched an 8-hitter (striking out nine and walking 10) for the win, while helping her cause by slamming a fifth-inning grand slam and three singles.

"Cathy is getting stronger on the mound every day. She is also doing well at the plate with her grand slam. All the girls are becoming confident in the batter's box," said Sashabaw coach Lori Nelson.

Mott tied the game up at 2-2 in the top of the second, but the Cougars pulled away with seven runs in the third and fourth innings and six more in the fifth for the mercy win.

Along with Podzikowski's four hits, Shawna Greene pounded four singles, Jenny O'Rourke cracked three singles, Becca Bartlett had two singles and Jami Denapoli, Jenny Wisser, Marisa Hernandez and Shana Linesman each had singles.

Sashabaw 22, Lapeer West 12

(April 24 at Sashabaw)

Lapeer West led 6-3 at one point, but

Sashabaw went on a terror and scored 19 runs in three innings for a mercy win over the visitors, 22-12.

"The girls are getting more confident. They are learning to play together as a team," said Cougar coach Lori Nelson about her team's first victory of the season.

Bartlett and Greene paced the Cougars hitting attack with each pounding three singles. Podzikowski had a double and Janae Cooley, O'Rourke and Linesman all singled.

North Carolina signs Clarkston wrestler

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Damon Michelsen will become a Tar Heel this summer.

Michelsen, a Clarkston High School senior who won the 171-pound individual wrestling state championship this year and a week later joined his teammates in winning the team state championship, has received a three-quarters full-ride scholarship for four years from the University of North Carolina.

The scholarship will pay for everything (fees, tuition, etc.) except room and board.

"I enjoyed the campus and the weather. I felt most comfortable there. I'm pretty excited," said Michelsen, who also visited Michigan State University, Lake Superior State University and Central Michigan University. Michelsen also talked with the University of Michigan and the University of Wisconsin, among others.

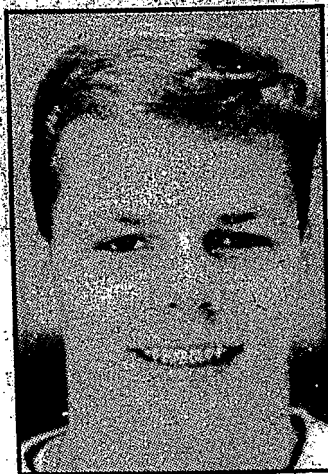

Bill Lamb, the Tar Heels' wrestling coach, flew in to Michigan from North Carolina to sign Michelsen.

North Carolina first showed interest in the Clarkston wrestler when Tar Heel assistant coach Mark Manning saw him wrestle at the Oakland County Meet, which was won by the Wolves.

Tar Heel wrestlers have been rated in the nation's top 20 nine of the past 10 years, and in the top 10 during three of those years.

North Carolina coaches plan on Michelsen, at first, wrestling in the 177-pound division, and then eventually moving up in few years to 190.

Michelsen said he may be red-shirted, which will depend on how he fares in opening practices, but said the Tar Heels seriously think he will soon be a starter. "They obviously expect me to make a big contribution," said Michelsen, who has a 3.0 G.P.A. at Clarkston.

Clarkston coach Scott Strickler said Lamb not only was impressed with Michelsen's wrestling abilities but also his personality and his scholastic aptitude.

Michelsen won't be the only Oakland County on the North Carolina squad next season. He will be joining Tar Heel veterans Dean Moscovic of Independence Township and Chane Camera of Rochester.

The University of North Carolina is mostly known for its basketball and coach Dean Smith.

"And he thought Clarkston was a basketball school," added Strickler.

Michelsen is the son of Adamine and Brent Michelsen of Oak Hill Road in Independence Township.

Brent Michelsen has seen his son wrestle every match since he was 8-years-old. Obviously, he won't be able to make the 12-hour drive to Chapel Hill, N.C.

"I'll send him videos," said the future Tar Heel.

But sometimes Michelsen will wrestle a little closer to home. There is a good chance that North Carolina will be competing at a national tournament in Ann Arbor next year.

If Michelsen comes back to Michigan to wrestle, his match might not end in a draw, but he might end up speaking in a North Carolina drawl.

Recreation Roundup

TRADING CARD SHOW

Trading card vendors are still needed for the Jr. Baseball/Youth Softball Kick-off Trading Card Show, Saturday, June 15.

More than 1,500 youths and their parents will participate. One highlight of the show will be a visit from some well-known area athletes who will sign autographs. There also will be a sports memorabilia raffle.

PRE T-BALL CLINIC

This clinic is one way to introduce 5 and 6-year-old boys and girls to baseball or softball.

Although these children may not be ready to participate in Jr. Baseball/Youth Softball Leagues, the clinic gives them an opportunity to learn the basics of the game. Participants will learn proper throwing, batting and fielding techniques.

The fee is $20 for residents. The program is set to begin June 18 and run through July 30 (no class July 2). The class will be on Tuesdays from 3 to 4 p.m. at Clarkston High School.

WALK MICHIGAN

Participants in any of the rec. department's free "Walk Michigan" walks not only will get some exercise but will have a chance to win a free trip for two to Mackinac Island over Labor Day weekend.

At the conclusion of each day's walk will be drawings for prizes. The Grand Prize winner will be drawn from all entrants of the 1991 Walk Michigan program.

The next scheduled walk is Monday, May 6, at Clarkston High School from 6:30-7 a.m. and 2:30-7:30 p.m. This is an indoor walk.

ADULT SOCCER LEAGUE

The rec. department is looking for adult men's and women's soccer teams to play soccer this summer at Clintonwood Park. Divisions are under-16, under-19, and open teams. Anyone can play, no matter what their age or ability is.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Call 625-8223 or stop by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston. The office is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Notice of Township Clean-Up Days

The Charter Township of Independence will sponsor Township Clean-Up Day on the following Saturdays: May 4, 11 and 18, 1991, at the Department of Public Works, 6050 Flemings Lake Road, from 8:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

Township residents may bring their trash to the DPW building for disposal. Proof of residency will be required before dumping will be allowed.

Because of the tremendous cost of disposal, the Township is forced to charge a fee for the dumping. Fees are as follows:

Vehicle	Per Load
Automobile	$ 5.00
Auto w/single axle trailer	10.00
Pickup truck or van	10.00
Pickup truck w/single axle trailer	25.00
Flatbed single axle truck	25.00
Dual axle trailer	25.00
5 yd. dump truck	25.00

The following material will not be allowed to be dumped:

Fuel oil drums, barrels, propane cylinders, or storage tanks; automobiles or vehicles of any kind; no chemicals of any kind or car batteries. There will be a $2.00 fee per tire.

Tickets for dumping may be obtained at the Township Treasurer's Office, located at the Township Hall, 90 N. Main Street, Clarkston, MI. Tickets will also be on sale at the dump site the days of the clean-up.

JV continues its heavy-hitting attacks

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's JV baseball team continued its lusty hitting in a doubleheader sweep of Lake Orion to raise its record to 9-0.

The Wolves have been averaging about 10 runs a game this season.

Clarkston 9, Lake Orion 6
(April 25 at Lake Orion - 1st game)

A five-run third inning sparked Clarkston to a 9-6 win over the Dragons in the opener.

With Clarkston trailing 2-1, Tom Doyon, who also doubled in the game, started the third with a solo homer. Scott Matusz squeezed in the second run and Nick Shires singled in two more and Brent Brundridge singled in the fifth run.

Four Wolves pounded a pair of singles: Matt Smith, Nick Shires, Eric Carlson and Brent Brundridge. Jason Jarvis and Chris Colburn each had a single.

Carlson, 2-0, picked up the win by going 6 2/3, allowing six runs (four earned), seven hits, walking five and striking out three. Eric Ryan pitched to the last batter, striking out the Dragon.

Clarkston 11, Lake Orion 4
(April 25 at Lake Orion - 2nd game)

Craig Garnett threw a five-hitter and the Wolves drilled 15 hits to crush Lake Orion, 11-4, in the nightcap.

"Garnett was strong after a shaky start," said Clarkston Coach Kurt Richardson.

Garnett, 2-0, allowed three runs in the first but gave up only one more in the fourth. He walked two and struck out six.

Clarkston scored three in the first and then the Dragons tied it in the bottom of the inning. But the Wolves scored two more in the second, one in the fourth and five times in the sixth to put it away.

Ten different Wolves had hits. Scott Matusz banded out a double and a single, Tom Doyon, Nick Shires, Jason Jarvis and Chris Combs each had a pair of singles and Eric Carlson, Jeff Galley, Scott Jenkinson, Matt Smith and Dan Eby each had one single.

Clarkston 13, Rochester 1
(April 23 at Clarkston)

Rochester and Clarkston were tied at 1-1 going into the third, but the Wolves exploded for eight in the third and four more in the fourth for a 13-1 victory.

"Everybody hit well and Aaron Phillips settled down after a shaky start to pitch an excellent game," said Wolf coach Kurt Richardson.

Phillips, 1-0, picked up his first win of the season by tossing a two-hitter in the five-inning game. Phillips' only run allowed was unearned and he walked two while striking out five.

Tom Doyon singled and had three RBI, Scott Matusz had a double and single, Matt Smith and Jason Jarvis both had a pair of singles and Scott Jenkinson, Jeff Galley and Dan Eby each had one single.

Clarkston 3, Waterford Kettering 0
(April 22 at Clarkston)

Eric Ryan struck out 15 Captains in seven innings and threw a 2-hit shutout to help Clarkston to a 3-0 win over visiting Waterford Kettering.

"It was a great pitching performance by Eric," said Clarkston coach Kurt Richardson. Ryan, 3-0, only walked three.

The Wolves got all the runs they needed in the third, scoring all three of their runs. Matt Smith opened the inning with a double, Chris Colburn was safe on a sacrifice bunt and Tom Doyon's single drove in Smith. A Jason Jarvis single brought in Colburn and Ryan squeezed home Doyon.

Smith finished the game with a single and a double, Jarvis had two singles and Doyon and Ryan each had one single.

Photographer honored

Beth Sayles Richards of the Clarkston area recently was recognized as one of the top awarded photographers in this year's print competition.

Richards, owner of Sayles Studio, Waterford Township, was honored at the annual Professional Photographers of Michigan convention at the Grand Traverse Resort, Traverse City.

Sayles Richards

Her print entitled "New Horizons" received the Best of Category Award at the local Detroit competition earlier this year.

Richards said she and her husband, Tom, were proud of the entries because three of four featured their children, Colleen, Allison, Kathleen and Laura.

The Professional Photographers of Michigan is an affiliate of the Professional Photographers of America Association, a national organization devoted to the advancement of professional photography through educational programs, trade show exhibits and print competitions.

Richards' prints will travel to the national judging in Des Plaines, Ill., where her entry, "new Kid on the Old Block" will be awarded one merit in recognition of photographic excellence, putting her nearer to her master of photography degree.

The rebate increase, from 3 cents to 5 cents, began on Earth Day, April 22, under the "Mr. Re-Bag It" program. The company also will extend the refund policy to reused plastic bags and cloth bags.

The Kroger Co., the nation's second-largest supermarket chain, currently recycles 60 percent of its office paper (10 tons a year), all of its cardboard boxes (15,000 tons a year), and all of its bakery boxes. Its egg cartons are 100 percent recycled.

Kroger recycles 2 million pounds of fat from the meat department and cooking oils from its delis each year. The recycled fat is used by a renderer to make candles and other items.

One of Kroger's 78 Michigan stores is on Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

Promoted to manager

Sally Polley

ent agency, said he was enthused at the phenomenal growth of the agency, making it one of the largest in the state.

Sally Polley, a Village of Clarkston resident, has recently been promoted to manager of Commercial Lines Department of Michigan Educators Insurance Agency/ Great Lakes Insurance Managers in Birmingham.

Polley has more than 25 years of insurance experience and resides in Clarkston with her husband, Gary, and two sons.

Top drivers compete

Two Clarkston-area residents are to compete May 4 in the Road Commission for Oakland County's (RCOC) annual Snow Plow Rodeo.

To compete in the finals, Bill Fisher Jr. of District No. 3 - Lake Orion and Gerry Runkle of District No. 2 - Davisburg had to finish in the top four in their districts.

The top drivers in each district service center are to maneuver 7-cubic-yard trucks through a 10-event obstacle course that tests their accuracy, precision, maneuverability and speed. The event is planned for the RCOC Maintenance Headquarters at Pontiac Lake Road and Civic Center Drive, Pontiac.

The event is open to the public.

Reunions

A 20-year reunion is coming up Memorial weekend for all Clarkston High School Madrigal Singers.

Planned for Sunday, May 26, at the Deer Lake Racquet Club, the reunion begins at 6 p.m. Cost is $25 per person and includes a buffet dinner, entertainment and a keepsake program.

To ensure a seat, organizers suggest sending your payment now to: Miss Grayce Warren, c/o Clarkston High School, 6595 Middle Lake Road, Clarkston, MI 48346.

Singers, past and present, are encouraged to bring their parents and families as well. Also, be prepared to sing.

For more information or to give your or a friend's whereabouts, call Gerry Stevenson at 673-6875.

The East Detroit High School class of 1969 will hold its 25th reunion on Aug. 9.

For information, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: E.D.H.S. Reunion Committee, c/o Mr. Jan L. Hemme, 3400 Lonyo, Detroit, MI 48209.

Rebate increased

The Kroger Co. announced April 23 that it increased its rebate on reused bags to 5 cents and would distribute informational and educational tabloids on the environment to its customers.

PAYING 10% OR MORE FOR YOUR MORTGAGE?

REFINANCE AT OLD KENT.

If you're paying 10% or more in mortgage interest, you should see us about refinancing at today's low rates. You could save thousands of dollars over the term of your mortgage — and lower your monthly house payments, too.

Get a Home Equity Line of Credit at No Additional Charge.

When you refinance, you may also qualify for our Home Equity Line of Credit — with no additional fees. So you can borrow for the things you need, like home improvements or a new car, at an interest rate that's much lower than most installment loans or credit cards. And the interest may be tax-deductible, too.

Check into Refinancing — with The Refinancing Checklist.

We can tell you how much you may be able to save by refinancing. All we need is some basic information about your current mortgage. The following checklist tells you what we need to know. Bring the information into any Old Kent office — and we'll determine how much you may save by refinancing at our rates.

There's no charge for this service. So why not do it today? After all, you have nothing to lose — and a lot to gain.

Book provides all for hittin' the trail

BY TRACY KING
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Ignore the frequent rain showers — April is the start of the hiking season in Michigan.

And, according to Independence Township author Jim DuFresne, the month offers pleasures that other seasons do not.

"Streams may be swollen and trails a little muddy in places, but the wildflowers are blooming in profusion; fiddleheads are emerging from a damp layer of leaves; and ducks and geese are migrating through the region," writes DuFresne.

These and other tempting descriptions can be found in DuFresne's latest book, "Fifty Hikes in Lower Michigan," recently published by Backcountry Publications.

DuFresne's friend and fellow outdoor enthusiast, Howard Meyerson, writes in the book's foreword that when he heard DuFresne was writing the guide, he said "You've got to be kidding. There aren't that many."

As documented in DuFresne's book, not only are there 50 hikes in Lower Michigan, most are within a two-to-three-hour drive and are almost always under four hours away.

The guide ranks the hikes, provides necessary and not-so-necessary information about each, and does it in an easy-to-use, thorough and readable fashion.

DuFresne emphasizes that it was not his intention to describe each trail step-by-step but to provide a guide offering well-planned adventures.

"In this hectic world of raising families and maintaining houses and marriages where both spouses work, we never seem to have enough time to venture outdoors," he says. "What little time we do carve out for a hike or a weekend backpacking trip is rare and valuable."

As a full-time outdoor writer, DuFresne had already hiked a good portion of the treks in the book for other purposes. After Backcountry Publications contacted him, he set to work earnestly on the remaining hikes last summer.

Some — including a 22-mile long hike — he completed in one day.

"By the end of the summer I was in super walking shape," DuFresne says. "We'd drop my car at the other end; I'd put my daypack on and buzz right through."

Walking for something like one mile every 20 minutes, DuFresne described his experiences as "almost like marathoning."

The hikes in DuFresne's book range from gentle warm-ups and "walks" to three-day backpacks, challenging the most experienced hiker.

The book has been divided into six areas: Southeast, Lake-Huron, Heartland, Lake-Michigan, Sleeping Bear Dunes and Pere Marquette.

Tips on when to hike, what to bring, what to avoid, what to wear and how to best use the book are all included.

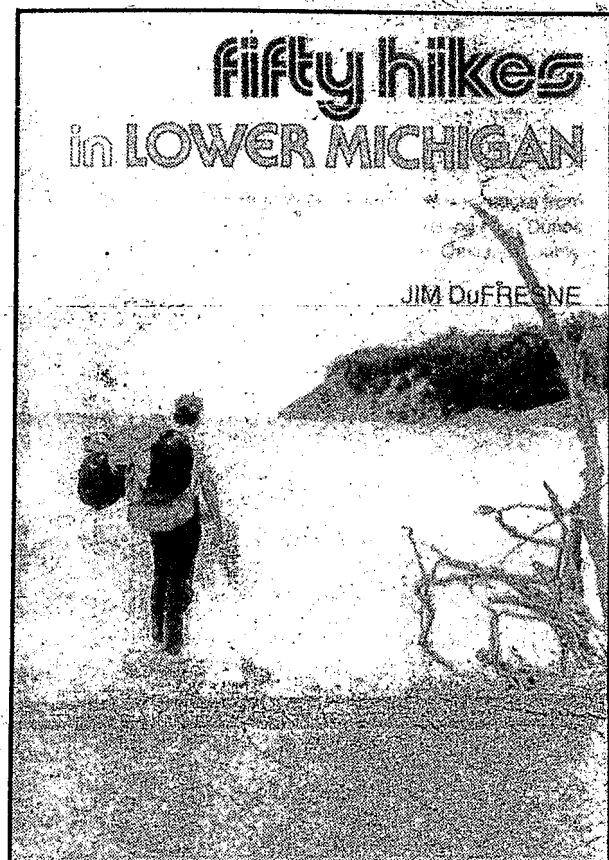

DuFresne also ranks the hikes in the book, a practice he says is natural.

"We rate movies and cars and books, even washing machines and motels," he explains. "Why not trails? What I am presenting here is one man's opinion of the best 50 walks, hikes and backpacking treks. ... It's the opinion of person, you might say, who's been down the trail."

According to DuFresne, good trails provide excellent scenery, a variety of terrain, good markings and good escape within a reasonable distance.

So what are the best hikes according to DuFresne?

Read the book and find out. It is available in local book stores or by sending $12.95 plus $2.50 for shipping to: Backcountry Publications, P.O. Box 175, Woodstock, VT 05091.

Vocalists take high honors at area festivals

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

Clarkston vocalists performed well at the March 22 District Choir Festival at Berkley High School and in the April 13 State Solo and Ensemble Festival at the University of Michigan-Flint campus.

Director Grayce Warren was pleased with the results.

"Every choir has gone to festival and done well," she said, adding that this is only the second year that all six of Clarkston High School's choirs have competed.

In addition, the choirs received the top rating in sight reading, showing their deep musical knowledge background.

Further, the Girls Select Ensemble and the Barbershop Ensemble meet once a week after school — not much rehearsal time, though both groups performed well. Plus, two-thirds of each group is not in a regular choir class during the day, said Warren.

To help prepare, Robert Martin of Southfield High School worked with the Barbershop group March 8, and Thomas Marsh, a retired adjudicator, worked with Varsity Concert Choir.

All soloists prepared for the competition outside of class.

Following are the results of the district choir festival, in which the Varsity Concert Choir, Girls Select Ensemble and girls from Mixed Choir, and Barbershop Ensemble participated.

In the rating scale, I is highest score, and IV is the lowest score.

The Varsity Concert Choir received scores of I, II and II for performance and I in sight-reading, giving the group a II for a final score.

The Barbershop Ensemble, which meets after school, also received scores of I, II and II for performance and I in sight-reading. The ensemble, too, ended up with a II final rating.

The Girls Select Ensemble, which also meets after school, received I, II and II in performance and II in sight-reading. The select group finished with a II final rating.

At the state festival, four individuals earned the highest rating possible, with one group and many individuals earning II ratings and one person ending up with a III.

Earning I ratings as soloists were alto Erin Freeman, who earned a I in each performance and sight-reading; and soprano Jessica Miller, Carrie Monroe and Jeff Waite, all with the same scores as Freeman.

Earning II ratings were Pella Lazaris, Carrie McKee, Robert Taylor, Scott Taylor, Holly Walker and the Madrigal Singers.

Heather Carr finished with a III, having earned a III in performance and a II in sight-reading.

Altos are Cheralyn Evans, Stacy Galazen, Amy Hester, Natalie Luhrs, Kim Morris, Regina Nicholson, Sarah Sese, Angela Sweet and Janet Turner.

Members of the Varsity Choir include Soprano I's Nina Gern, Pellyia Lazaris and Holly Walker; soprano II's Michele Biggs, Heather Hubbard, Jessica Miller, Lynn Parkinson, Audrey Roche, Angela Shaul and Jenna Smith.

Also in the choir are alto I's Ann Biegan, Heather Coxen, Karan Dunham, Debbie Grain, Brooke Manuel, Cheri Stumpf and Wendy Warchock; alto II's Stacie Akehurst, Melissa Ferguson, section leader Amy Hester, Regina Nicholson and Angela Sweet; tenors Jeff Jones, Robert McNeil and Danny Porter; basses Scott Alcorn, Bruce Avenall and Jason Freeland.

Members of the Madrigal Singers are sopranos Heather Flor, Kathleen Manser, section leader Carrie Monroe and Britt Ried; altos Camille D'Anna, Erin Freeman, Anissa Howard and section leader Robin Link; tenors Kirk Cohoon, John Haden, Gerald Kenyon and section leader Jeffrey Waite; and basses section leader Christopher Erickson, Christopher Merz, Robert Taylor and Scott Taylor.

Madrigal accompanist is Jessica Miller, and public relations person is Michelle Huber.

Self-esteem begins with self, says speaker at CHS

Child psychologist Michael S. Karpovich, 29, used humor and story-telling to talk to Clarkston High School pupils about self-esteem in March.

Karpovich, who is dyslexic, told the CHS students that he was short in high school and very shy, and often he was teased.

"They called me mean names, and I believed it," he said, adding that one group of bullies often gave him "swirlies"; that is, they flushed his head in the toilet — nine times, in fact.

"When you have short hair like that, the toilet paper gets stuck," Karpovich cracked, then again turned serious.

SENIOR Kim Kolody gives a hand to speaker Mike Karpovich at Clarkston High School. Karpovich's presentation was paid for through a scholarship from Phi Delta Kappa, Oakland County Chapter, and Drug Free Schools grant money.

"Every time they would flush, I would cry," he said. "They would tease me and make me feel smaller than I already was. ... I was scared in school a lot."

But then he signed up for a speech class and took a lesson from one of his own speeches. He learned to talk loudly and look people in the eye. He also told himself each day that he loved himself.

"That was a huge lie," he said. "I would walk around school saying, 'Darn, I'm good' — I didn't believe it. ... but it became almost true."

"Now it is true. I do love myself. But as a nerd, I do stupid things — it's in the bylaws," he quipped.

Switching smoothly between humor and stark truth, Karpovich made his point.

"These guys that flushed me, I always thought they were pretty self-assured, that they ruled the school," he said. "I was wrong. They hated themselves."

Since high school, two of the bullies died in separate drinking and driving accidents; one shot himself in the head three years ago; and one has been in prison almost since graduation, said Karpovich.

"The weirdest thing — when they died, I cried," said Karpovich.

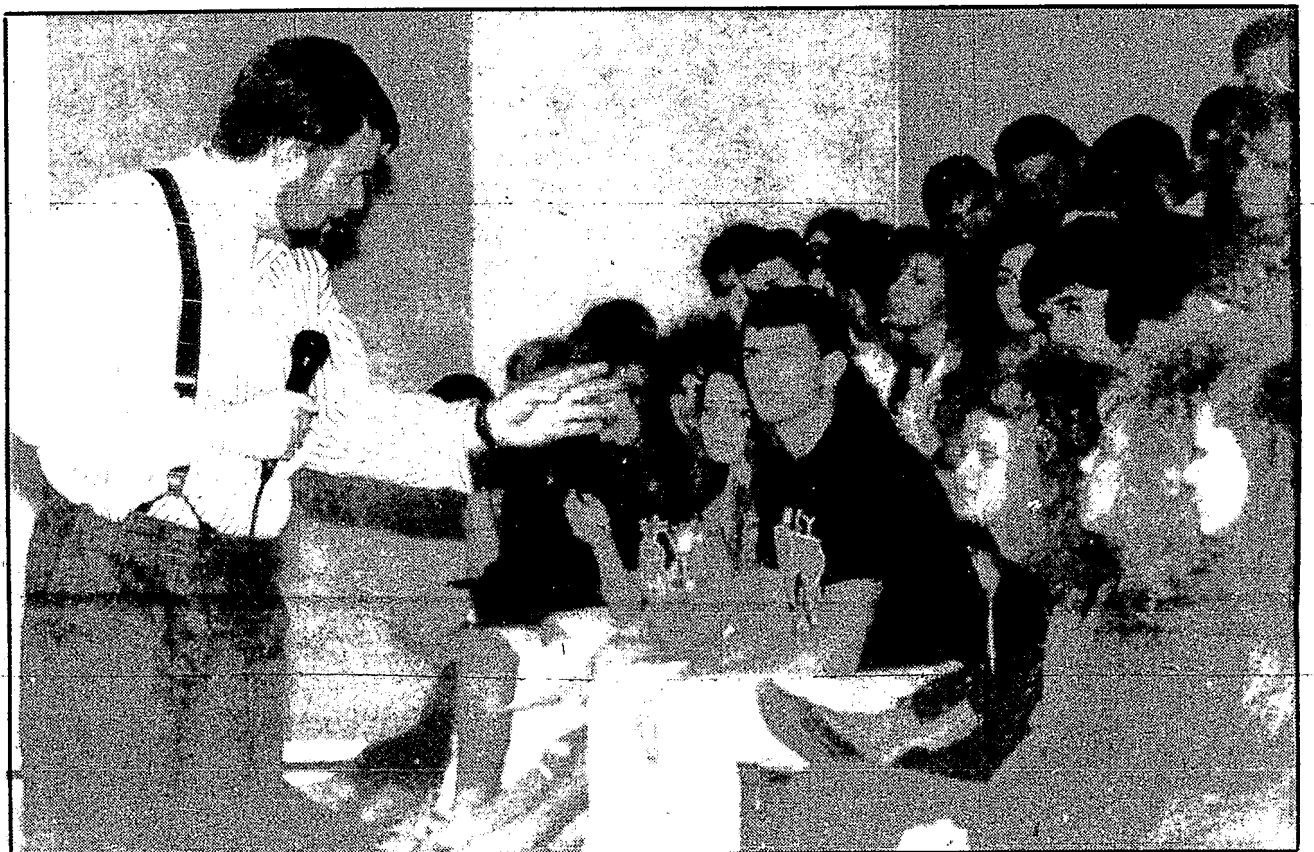

Reflecting on the turns in his own life, he said, "The best thing that happened to me was I was flushed down the toilet nine times."

He explained that each person has something inside that he calls "yuck" — bad grades, mean friends, abuse, divorce.

"Yuck can do two things to you. It can make you weaker, or it can make you stronger," he said. "Go to the bottom of your yuck bucket and pull out the gold."

"You might not have parents at home who believe in your potential; you might not have friends who believe in your potential. But you do have one person who believes in you. Go home and look in the mirror. Tell yourself you love yourself. Lie if you have to. Cry if you must," he said.

—By Julie Campe

CLOAKED in humor, the message of Mike Karpovich still is clear. "Some people feel if you cut someone down, it will make you bigger," he said. "But there are some leaders among you who say nice things to people."

Compliment people on things because some people never get compliments. If you would have said hi to me in the hall (in high school), it would have changed my life," Karpovich has been a public speaker for 10 years.

"Let's discuss your Career in Real Estate Sales"

QUESTION: I have sold my home and plan to move about 200 miles from here. The median home price is $70,000 in the new town. I can't afford to spend over $55,000. Do you see any ray of hope?

ANSWER: By all means! When you see MEDIAN home prices quoted, you have to remember that this is the middle price. If the median is $70,000, it means that half the homes sold for more than that figure (like $90,000) and HALF SOLD FOR LESS (like $50,000).

The best way to know what is available is to contact a local Realtor there (we can help you) and see what individual homes are valued at. You are only interested in ONE home.

Deborah L. Stingley

month internship at the Hyatt Atlanta-Airport.

Debbie is the daughter of David and Sharon Stingley of Independence Township. She is a 1985 graduate of Clarkston High School.

Engaged to Bradley Hugh Karnafel, also a CMU student, majoring in political science, Debbie is planning a spring wedding after graduation. Brad is the son of Mrs. Judy Karnafel of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Karnafel of West Branch.

New arrival

The arrival of a new baby girl marked five generations in the female line of Michelle Johnson's family.

Mark and Michelle Johnson of Paramus, Independence Township, welcomed their new daughter on Jan. 27, 1991.

Megan Christine Johnson was born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. She weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces, and measured 20 inches long.

She has a step-brother, Marcus, age 11.

Grandparents are Mike and Penny Nyberg of Lake Orion and Bob and Marilyn Johnson of Clarkston. Great-grandparents are Bob and Zelda Grant of Pontiac and Mary and Neil Cairns of Waterford.

Megan's great-great grandmother is Freda Flynn of Pontiac.

The five-generation link of first-born females includes little Megan; her mother, Michelle; Michelle's mother, Penny; Penny's mother, Zelda; and Zelda's mother, Freda.

FIVE generations gather for a photo with the newest in the line of first-borns. Sitting is Michelle Johnson with her great-grandmother, Freda Flynn, who holds Megan, born Jan. 27. Standing are Michelle's mother, Penny Nyberg (left) and Michelle's grandmother, Zelda Grant.

Seventh-grader places 14th in state bee

Lisa Vallad of Springfield Township placed 14th in the statewide spelling bee, after winning the area competition.

Vallad, 12, is a seventh-grader at Clarkston Junior High School. She competed against 33 seventh- and eighth-graders in the April 9 competition at Lawrence Technological University (LTU), Southfield.

The spelling bee was sponsored by LTU and the Detroit News. An eighth-grader won the state spelling bee championship title.

At school

Six Clarkston High School students were honored with a lunch for themselves and their parents at Alexander's Restaurant. The six were named students of the month by Principal Robert Burek.

They include Jenni Andryco, daughter of Andrew and Shirley Andryco of Davisburg Road, Springfield Township; Andrea Carlson, daughter of Jeri Carlson of South River, Independence Township; Kevin Chambers, son of Ronald and Linda Chambers of East Church Street, Clarkston; Stephanie Forbus, daughter of Martha Forbus of Oak Park, Independence Township; Sean Halleran, son of John and Lisa Halleran of Clarkston Road; and Mark Harbert, son of Larry Harbert of Foster Road.

Engagement

Joseph and Helen Marcucci of Novi announce the engagement of Diane J. Marcucci to Thomas C. Lowry of Independence Township. Diane currently works as a mechanical engineer for ITT on site at Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn. She is a graduate of Lawrence Technological University, Southfield. Tom, son of James C. Lowry of Lake Orion and Patience A. Lowry of Clarkston, works on site at Ford Motor Co. as a computer systems analyst. He was graduated from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, and is an active member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. The couple also own and operate "DJCOMP" music services of Oakland County. They are planning a June 29 wedding in Novi.

At college

Heidi Parrott of Clarkston has been accepted for admission at Bethany Lutheran College, Mankato, Minn. She is the daughter of Scott and Sandra Parrott.

Jeffrey Shupe of Deerwood Road, Independence Township, is a member of the 1991 Taylor University, Upland, Ind., track and field team.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shupe, Jeffrey is a sophomore majoring in biology and is a Clarkston High School graduate who competes in sprints.

Engagement

Gary and Sandy Nelson of Clarkston announce the engagement of their daughter, Michelle Lynn Nelson, to Daren Scott Alli of Auburn Hills, son of Jack and Doris Alli of Waterford. The bride elect is a graduate of the Oakland Community College School of Nursing and is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Northern Michigan University, Marquette. He is employed in the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. An August 1991 garden wedding is planned at the Pine Knob Mansion.

Honors

Donna Cataldo was named to the dean's list at Michigan State University, East Lansing, for the winter term.

A freshman studying physical sciences at MSU, Donna was graduated from Marian High School in 1990.

She is the daughter of Sam and Barbara of Hadley Road, Independence Township.

Medal awarded

1st Lt. James A. Gentile of the 4th Squadron, 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment, received The Air Medal with Valor from Capt. Peter Curry of the 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment.

Gentile, son of Donald and Bertie Lou Gentile of Dark Lake Drive, Independence Township, was awarded the medal for heroism displayed while serving as the Aeroscout Platoon Leader to Palehouse Troop in aerial reconnaissance Feb. 24 during Operation Desert Storm.

According to his commander's recommendation, Gentile displayed extraordinary leadership as the flight lead conducting a movement to contact. He was leading the spearhead against the Iraqi Republican Guard when his flight came under sudden attack by enemy ground forces. His decisive action under fire assured mission accomplishment while averting disaster.

Gentile, 26, was graduated from Clarkston High School in 1982, attended Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, on an Army ROTC scholarship and earned a bachelor of science degree in International Business from EMU in 1986.

Gentile was promoted to the rank of Captain effective May 1.

Selecting, handling transplants carefully is key

The keys to success with vegetable transplants are selection of healthy, young plants and careful handling.

The result, says Michigan State University Extension horticulturist Bernard Zandstra, is plants that will grow well and start producing weeks earlier than if they'd been sown in the garden from seed.

"In fact," he notes, "in many parts of Michigan, using transplants is the only way to assure that warm-season crops such as tomatoes have time to mature and produce a crop."

Use a list of MSU-recommended varieties to select cultivars that are well suited to local growing conditions, he advises.

Recommended variety lists are available at county Cooperative Extension Service offices.

Select healthy transplants by looking for stocky, compact plants with dark green, healthy-looking foliage.

Avoid wilted, discolored or insect-damaged plants or those that show leaf spots or other signs of disease.

Avoid transplants that already have flowers or fruits on them, Zandstra advises. Transplants need to concentrate their energies on establishing a large, strong root system.

If they've already switched from vegetative growth to fruit production, they will not be able to do this and will struggle to produce fruit on an inadequate root system.

Ease transplants into the garden in gradual stages. Start by setting them outdoors in a protected area for a few hours on warm, sunny days and decreasing watering to begin to accustom them to outdoor conditions.

This process, called hardening, reduces the amount of transplant shock the plants suffer when they're set in the garden.

"Handle plants so as to avoid injuring their stems or roots as much as possible," Zandstra says. "If plants were grown in peat pots, soak the pots completely before planting.

"Then bury each pot completely under the soil. If part of the pot is left exposed, it will serve as a wick and dry out the pot and the soil mix around the roots."

Plants in multicompartment containers should be well-watered and then carefully removed from their individual cells.

If two or more plants were grown in one container, they need to be divided. When the soil mix is dry, cut the plants apart with a sharp knife.

Cutting does less damage to the roots than tearing subterranean caterpillars from snipping the transplants off at the soil surface.

Watering may be necessary to prevent wilting of newly set plants.

Frost protection may be necessary in the spring for warm-weather crops such as tomatoes, eggplant and peppers.

Cool-weather crops such as members of the mustard family — cabbage, Brussels sprouts, Chinese cabbage and broccoli — will tolerate cool temperatures and can be planted earlier.

Normally, plant cool-season crops when the soil temperature at a depth of six inches is above 55 degrees.

Hold off planting warm-season crops until the soil temperature is above 65 degrees and the average date of the last frost in your area is past.

That information, too, is available at your local extension office.

"No matter how careful you are, some root damage is likely to occur, and it will take plants a while to recover," Zandra says. "So it may seem that newly transplanted plants are just sitting there, not doing much. Once they get over the shock of being transplanted and get their root systems established, they'll start producing top growth."

To promote quick rooting, Zandra advises giving plants a dose of starter fertilizer at transplanting. Starter fertilizers are high in phosphorus, the most important nutrient for root growth.

"No matter how careful you are, some root damage is likely to occur, and it will take plants a while to recover."

Bernard Zandstra

the plants apart, Zandra explains. And a dry soil ball is much easier to cut than a wet one.

Newly set transplants may need protection of various kinds. If cutworms have been a problem, putting cutworm collars around transplants may be a good idea.

A three-or-four-inch strip of lightweight cardboard shaped into a circle and pushed into the soil around pepper plants and other cutworm favorites will prevent the

What are the bubbles in beer?

Beer drinking is a national pastime, but many have misconceptions about the bubbles in the beverage.

Each bottle of beer holds two bottle's worth of carbon dioxide, the gas that gives beer its fizz.

Carbon dioxide dissolves in the liquid much as sugar dissolves in coffee.

"The pressure under a bottle's cap or inside a can from this dissolved carbon dioxide is about 30 pounds per square inch, about the same as an inflated tire," says Craig Bohren, a member of the American Association of Physics Teachers.

Pulling a tab or opening a bottle's cap allows the carbon dioxide to emerge from the liquid as it bubbles.

"But bubbles need a rough surface on which to form, such as microscopic scratches in a bottle," adds Bohren.

"These spots are nucleus points," he says. "Where you see a small stream of bubbles endlessly form and drift upwards is one of those points."

When you shake a bottle or can of beer, more dissolved carbon dioxide comes in contact with available nucleus points.

Opening the beer at this point allows a great gush of bubbles to form almost instantaneously. This mass of bubbles erupts from the bottle or can in a geyser of foam.

According to Bohren, the pressure inside a bottle of beer that's been shaken does not rise.

"That gush of foam is from an almost explosive growth of bubbles, not an increase in internal pressure," he says. "That's just a myth that simply isn't true."

If you're planning a community event, don't forget to inform the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce. Write P.O. Box 938, Clarkston, MI 48347 or call 625-8055.

Texas sheet cake can satisfy

Betty Wagner

March was Nutrition month, and I shared my enthusiasm for healthy eating. But there are times when we can satisfy our sweet tooth without feeling guilty.

In fact, some schools of thought recommend that we not give up all sweet endings in the name of health, or we may be tempted to overindulge.

Here is a recipe for Texas Sheet Cake that I served at a recent party. Some of the guests asked for the recipe. It's not a microwave recipe, but it cooks about as quickly as one.

To add spark to the old standby recipe, here is a secret developed by Theresa Benninger, sales consultant for the Auburn Argus newspaper, which is owned by Sherman Publications, Inc., owner of The Clarkston News.

TEXAS SHEET CAKE

2 cups granulated sugar
2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 sticks margarine or butter
1 cup water
4 tablespoons cocoa
2 eggs
1/2 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon baking soda

Topping:

1 stick margarine or butter
4 tablespoons cocoa
6 tablespoons milk
1 1-pound box confectioner's sugar
1 cup chopped walnuts

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Grease and flour a 15 1/2-by-10 1/2-inch jelly roll pan.

Mix together 2 cups sugar, flour and salt. Set aside. Place 2 sticks margarine, water and 4 tablespoons cocoa in a saucepan. Bring to a boil; then remove from heat. Stir in sugar mixture, then whole eggs one at a time, stirring after each.

Mix sour cream with baking soda. Add to batter. Pour into prepared pan. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes or just until top is set and springs back.

For topping: Melt 1 stick of margarine. Add 4 tablespoons cocoa and milk. Bring to a boil. Remove from heat; beat in confectioner's sugar. Stir in walnuts. Pour over baked cake and spread over top.

Theresa's Variation: Add 3/4 cup fresh frozen raspberries to frosting. Substitute 1 cup chopped pecans for walnuts. Pour over cooled cake; spread over top.

Home-economist Betty Wagner resides in Independence Township. Her "Microwave Plus" cable-TV show appears on Independence-Clarkston Channel 65.

Ideas to contribute to young children

April is "The Month of the Young Child." To help celebrate, the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service provides a list of ideas:

- Volunteer for a children's agency.
- Be a chaperon for a local school or day care center.
- Make a donation to a child care center.
- Urge a local business to start up child care services for employees.
- Donate some new clothing for children to the community clothes bank.
- Give a book to your local library in honor of your own child or another in the community.
- Hold a shower for the neo-natal nursery at the local hospital.
- Visit a local agency that serves children and families.

■ Take a bag of safe toys to the homeless shelter for the children who are there.

■ Join the local PTA and support your school.

■ Make a donation to the local child abuse prevention agency.

■ Donate baby food to the local food bank.

■ Call the cooperative extension office to get information about child development and good nutrition for young children (858-0895).

■ Smile at a child.

■ Spend time with a child doing anything.

■ Tie a purple ribbon around your car antenna to show your commitment to Michigan's young children.

Running for the roses

The dream of many a jockey and many a horse owner, the Kentucky Derby is held annually on the first Saturday in May.

Inaugurated in 1875, the running of "American's premier" thoroughbred horse race takes place at Churchill Downs in Louisville, Ky.

The Derby field is limited to 3-year-old horses. Fillies carry a total of 121 pounds and colts 126 pounds.

Originally set at 1 1/2 miles, in 1896 the length of the race was reduced to one-and-a-quarter miles or 10 furlongs.

The Kentucky Derby is the first jewel in American's coveted "Triple Crown," traditionally followed by the Preakness, run a week later in Baltimore, Md., and the Belmont, three weeks later on Long Island in New York.

On Saturday, May 4, this year, the beautiful thoroughbreds will once again "Run for the Roses."

Early start makes it easy to eat right

The influx of fast food restaurants, convenience foods and prepared carry-out foods could affect your child's health habits, according to the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

"Children need to be taught good nutritional habits at a young age to avoid problems with obesity or eating disorders," says Sylvia Treatman, home economist for the service.

"Many youngsters are growing up with the idea that a snack has to come in a pre-packaged container, machine or from a fast-food establishment," she adds.

Families where both parents work are forced towards "convenience cooking" rather than concern over good nutrition.

These foods can contain higher fat, sodium and sugar ingredients than those prepared from scratch.

Here are a few tips on how to help your child develop healthy eating habits early:

■ Encourage regular mealtimes with family together at the table rather than in front of the television.

■ Buy snacks that are low in fat, sugar and salt. Include plenty of fresh fruit and veggies, unbuttered popcorn, yogurt or whole grain muffins.

■ Limit "fast food meals" and teach children to be selective even at fast food restaurants, opting for fresh salad, fruit and low-fat milk when available. Steer away from greasy hamburgers, fries and heavy dressing.

■ Teach children to eat slowly by providing a relaxed atmosphere for eating.

■ Encourage children to help or make their own nutritious snacks.

For an informative recipe booklet entitled "Nutritious Snacks," send 75 cents to the Cooperative Extension Service, 1200 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac, MI 48341.

Pupils discover chopsticks, chow

BY LAURIE LOSIEWICZ

Almond chicken, chow mein, egg rolls and fortune cookies were featured in a celebration feast at Sashabaw Junior High School recently.

The party was a climax to a special unit on China in Trish Moore's class.

Before the party, each student created a placemat, complete with a paper fan to make the meal even more festive. Adding to the ambiance of the repast was a "chopsticks usage" lesson given by Moore, and 90 percent of the class used the utensils.

As part of the lessons on China, students constructed a Great Wall of China, using plastic foam and "popcorn," made a colorful Chinese zodiac, designed dozens of colorful lanterns and streamers, and learned about the customs and everyday lifestyle of the Chinese.

Students who participated in the learning and growth experience are: Scott LaBrie, Brian Thompson, Billy Folden, Scott Hanewacker, Cara Bogart, Jackie Guibard, Anne Wcislo, Scott Speagle, Matt Lorion, Jeff Ferguson, Tracy Warner and Kirk Smith.

Laurie Losiewicz is a reporter for the Auburn Argus.

Business briefs

Just for mother

Mother's Day means reservations will be accepted at The Clarkston Cafe, noon to 6 p.m.

Normally closed on Sundays, The Cafe is at 18 S. Main St., Clarkston.

Chef Gary Grzywacz plans a limited Mother's Day menu that includes prime rib, steak, shrimp with Chinese black bean sauce, roast pork loin with sun-dried tomatoes and basil sauce, veal chop with morel butter, and a selection of fresh fish.

Children's portions and high chairs are available.

Employees recognized

Clarkston schools were recognized recently for their employees' support of United Way of Oakland County.

A Bronze Award — for those organizations that reached 40 percent employee participation and pledge an average gift of $50 — was given to Pine Knob Elementary School, Oakland Technical Center-Northwest and Special Services.

An Achievement Award — for noteworthy employee campaign performance — was given to Andersonville Elementary School, Bailey Lake Elementary School, Board of Education, North Sashabaw Elementary School and Sashabaw Junior High School.

The money will fund programs offered by 57 charities under the United Way umbrella, as well as United Way's three-year drug and alcohol initiative.

Township resident stars as 'Vera'

A play at the Oakland Community College's Smith Theatre stars Independence Township resident Cara Remond.

Remond, a Bristol Parke Drive resident, plays Vera in "Ten Little Indians" by Agatha Christie.

She also has appeared in "The Sorcerer and the Apprentice," "Crimes of the Heart," "Moonchildren" and "Plaza Suite."

Remond, 23, is a student and a waitress.

The play is set for 8 p.m. May 9, 10, 11, 17 and 18 at Smith Theatre, Oakland Community College-Orchard Ridge Campus, 27055 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington Hills.

Tickets, at $7 and $5, are available at the door or by calling 471-7700.

The "ten little Indians" refers to the nursery rhyme and the cluster of statuettes on the mantelpiece of a weird country house off the English coast where eight assorted guests are invited for a weekend by a mysterious host. Each is accused of murder and as each Indian statuette topples, so do the bodies. Mystery and excitement abound.

For more information, call 471-7700.

Exchange student finds warmth in cold climate

BY BETTY WAGNER
Clarkston News Special Writer

Lina Castrillon loves to be warm. She comes from Barranquilla, Colombia, near the Caribbean Sea.

She wanted to experience the United States with an interesting family, in a lively community.

So as her sister, Monica, did 3 years ago, Lina became an exchange student with Youth For Understanding.

Monica lived with Karen and Charlie Weaver and their children, Missy and Neil of Independence Township. Missy and Neil have since gone on to college and career.

But Lina wanted a unique experience of her own — and in a warmer climate than Michigan's. She was placed with a family in Farmville, N.C. last August. She liked the family, made friends at her new school, and still keeps in touch by phone and mail.

"In the beginning it was so nice to see everything so white and calm."

Lina Castrillon

But Farmville had 5,000 people, didn't have a movie theater, and was 45 minutes from the closest city.

Exchange students are not permitted to drive in the United States. So the isolated community prevented Lina from experiencing much of what U.S. teen-agers take for granted — movies, meeting with friends and participating in after-school sports and activities.

When the Weavers visited Lina last December, they saw the limited view she was getting of U.S. life and culture. Karen and Charlie invited her to live with them. And, because the Weavers had been Monica's parents, the transfer came through in two weeks — just in time for Christmas.

"Our Christmas present," says Karen.

Lina attended private schools in Colombia but attends Clarkston High School in Clarkston, which was a struggle.

In the U.S., "I wanted to be in the public, typical American school," she says.

But by December, Clarkston High School's foreign exchange student quota was full. Jim Butzine was instrumental in over ruling the quota, says Karen.

"It was a love gift," she explains. "They had no obligation to take her. They have been very nice."

Lina, 18, graduated from her Colombian high school last June. At Clarkston she takes senior classes — government, computers, family living, pre-calculus and speech. She says computer class challenges her the most; pre-calculus keeps her mind working; and speech is the most fun.

In speech class, "it's easier to get to know how the people are," she says. "There are more opportunities to talk to people."

Exchange programs need host families

Foreign high school students will be arriving soon into the Clarkston area as part of two exchange programs, and the sponsoring organizations urgently need local host families.

One program is sponsored by International Education Forum, a non-profit organization based in Bay Shore, N.Y.

About 500 students from France will spend about three weeks in the area during July and August.

For more information, attend a meeting on Thursday, April 25, at Learning For Everyone, Waterford Plaza, 5719 Dixie Highway, Waterford.

A mini-seminar is planned for 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served. For more information, call 623-7742.

A program sponsored by Pacific Intercultural Exchange (PIE) involves students from Spain, Germany, Japan, France, Denmark, Yugoslavia, Italy, Argentina, Brazil, the Soviet Union, Colombia, France, New Zealand and other countries.

CHARLIE and Karen Weaver have enjoyed many good times as an international family with Lina Castrillon (center) of Barranquilla, Colombia.

And through her speeches she gets an opportunity to tell the positive story of life in Colombia, to dispel some of the stereotypes.

Lina originally avoided Michigan because of the weather. Monica had told her about the snow and cold. Since Lina lives near the ocean in Colombia, she spends much of her time outdoors. Before coming to Michigan, she had never seen snow or been cold.

"In the beginning it was so nice to see everything so white and calm," says Lina. She enjoyed making snowmen and going sledding. But then she got tired of snow, cold and being indoors.

"In the house, the snow is beautiful because in the house you're warm," she says.

Karen adds that the only time during the winter that Lina was warm was during the aerobic classes the two attended.

Lina plans to stay with the Weavers until July. Karen and Charlie will miss the joy, humor and new-found baking skills she has brought to their home.

Plus, "Lina has a wonderful sense of humor," says Karen.

She adds that Lina and Charlie have fun teasing each other.

As for Charlie's opinion of Lina as a daughter, he says, "I can't think of a better reason for delaying being an empty nester."

When Lina returns to Colombia, she plans to live at home with her parents and Monica and attend Northern University.

Lina says it's going to be sad leaving the Weavers because they're very nice.

"I didn't want to have the same family as my sister did," she says. "But I found even with the same family, my experience is very different."

The Clarkston
News
625-3370

Photos by Tracy King

BROTHERS Stanley and Eugene Jerome marvel over a nude photograph in the upcoming "Brighton Beach Memoirs" to be performed at the Depot Theater, Clarkston.

The brothers are portrayed by Dean Vanderkolk (left) and Greg Kaza. The serious comedy runs May 3, 4, 10, 11, 16, 17 and 18 at 8 p.m.

Theatrics

HELEN Naum portrays Nora, who, in this scene of "Brighton Beach Memoirs," plans with her sister to move from her uncle's house.

A FAMILY feud is portrayed by (from left) Karen Stankye, Gordon Bardell and J.J.

Allen. Tickets for "Brighton Beach Memoirs" can be purchased for $6 at Tierra Arts, Clarkston. The performance runs on various dates between May 3 and May 18.
