Grandfather charged

BY DENNIS CARTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The grandfather of a five year old boy, who was allegedly sexually abused by his father and a friend, has also been charged with molesting the child.

Terry, 46, (his last is being withheld because it is the same as the child's) of Deerfield Township, Lapeer County, was arraigned on one count of first-degree criminal sexual conduct in 71st District Court in Lapeer Aug. 23.

According to Lapeer court officials, the details of the charges against the grandfather are being suppressed because of the age of the boy.

The boy's father, David Lewis Simpson III and the father's friend Paul Matthew Salvino, both 23, of Independence Township are set to face arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court Sept. 4 on two counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and two counts of first-degree child abuse.

Prosecutors allege Simpson and Salvino forced the boy to have oral sex with them at Salvino's stepfather's Independence Township home. The child had testified to this on video at the pre-exam Aug. 15.

Magistrate Michael Sharkey set the bond at $10,000 for the grandfather and scheduled a pre-exam for Aug. 30 before Judge John T. Connolly.

Defense attorney Donald H. Poniatowski attained a low bond for his client by arguing that the suspect is a 28-year employee of General Motors and a 12-year resident of Lapeer County.

After the arraignment, the grandfather was released after posting 10 percent of the $10,000 bond.

Dillon named to SJHS post

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Assistant Editor

A Utica native has been named to the post of assistant principal at Sashabaw Junior High School.

On Aug. 26, Michael K. Dillon was unanimously approved by the Clarkston Board of Education. He was selected from a field of 95 applicants, which included two from the Clarkston school district.

Dillon will be filling the assistant principal position, previously vacated by Jean Lang. Lang was named SJHS principal this month, after former principal Dave Reschke accepted the position of director of curriculum and staff development for the Clarkston school district.

Dillon has spent his entire teaching career in the Rochester school district. Spanning 12 years, Dillon has taught a variety of math courses at the middle school, junior high and high school levels.

His most recent job was teaching algebra and eighth grade math at Reuther Middle School in Rochester.

Dillon owns a master's degree in school administration from Wayne State University, Ypsilanti, and a bachelor's of science degree in mathematics from Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant.

While in Rochester, Dillon also served as the men's varsity basketball coach from 1984-1989, and women's varsity basketball coach from 1982 to 1984.

This experience should come in handy because one of his new duties will be acting as athletic director at SJHS.

Dillon is married to wife, Jan, a Rochester school teacher, and has a 22-month-old daughter. The couple is presently awaiting the arrival of a second child.

The new vice principal told the board that he's looking forward to a new start in Clarkston.

"I'm thrilled to be part of the Clarkston Community Schools family," he said, at the meeting. "We've got a lot of hard work ahead and I'm looking forward to working with Dr. Lang in such a prominent school.

"I'm really looking forward to the upcoming school year," he added.

Golf course wary of weather

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Nearly two weeks after a bolt of lightning killed a man and injured two others at Heather Highlands Golf Course, the management is finding that some golfers still aren't heeding Mother Nature.

Course Manager Pat Sacka said he's amazed at some of his more foolhardy patrons.

"To show you how stupid some people are, I had a group of 12 people playing in the lightning, two days after the accident," he said. "It was probably the worst lightning that I've seen all year, and these guys were the only ones out of 120 golfers not to take cover."

Sacka's golf course is still reeling from an Aug. 15 storm that resulted in the death of Bob Sparks, 45, of Rankin, Mich. He was one of three golfers hit by lightning, while standing under a tree to shelter them from the rain.

The bolt reportedly hit the ground, near the tree, and entered the men via their feet. Sparks' companions, Joe Schmidt, 40, of Grand Blanc and Gerald Quick, 57, of Bad Axe were treated and released from their respective hospitals.

Sacka said his personnel are a lot more wary of poor weather, following the accident.

"We've always monitored the weather conditions, but more so now," he said. "Every time it gets a little cloudy, we get jumpy."

Sacka said Heather Highlands hasn't made any changes in safety precautions because the existing ones are sufficient. He said the main office usually sounds air horns around the course, whenever poor weather is approaching. Sacka added that their are signs posted on the premises indicating what to do and where to go, in case of bad weather.

He said the conditions the day of the accident were unusual and caught everyone off guard.

"It had just began to sprinkle when the lightning struck," he said. "There's was no thunder, just lightning."

Despite the golf course's precautions, Sacka said it's difficult to warn all the golfers to take shelter or to come back to the club house.

"It's hard to tell golfers to come in when your dealing with a 168-acre course," Sacka said, "and there's always those few who don't take your advice anyway."

Despite the accident, Sacka said there hasn't been a drop off in attendance. He said about 500 have been playing the course everyday this summer.

According to Sacka, the lightning strike was the first real calamity to ever occur at the course in its 30-year history.

For now, he said his personnel will continue to monitor the weather and direct their patrons where to go in the event of poor weather.

"The lightning-accident may have been a once in a lifetime occurrence, but we just can't take that chance," Sacka said.

Elementary school road improvements slated

By the middle of fall, Pine Knob Elementary School should be equipped with a passing lane and a traffic signal on Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

On Aug. 20, the Independence Township Board unanimously passed a resolution of financial support for the upcoming improvements. The resolution was necessary to obtain Tri-Party funds, which will pay for project.

The improvements are estimated to cost about $60,000. The Tri-Party partners will each pay a third of the bill. The partners include Independence Township, the Oakland County Board of Commissioners and the Board of the Road Commission for Oakland County.

Independence Trustee Mel Vaara said construction should start soon and be completed within a month and a half.

Heavy trucks to pay hefty price

The drivers of overweight trucks will have to abide by the law or pay the penalty in Independence Township.

On Aug. 20, the Independence Township Board unanimously approved an ordinance that will help combat the problem of overloaded trucks bypassing weigh stations on I-75.

The ordinance stems from the fact that a lot of trucks drivers traveling with too much weight have been avoiding the township's weigh stations on I-75. According to Sgt. Joe Quisenberry of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, these violators usually take gravel roads, causing potential traffic hazards due to the trucks' size.

From now on, an Oakland County deputy, with training in weight regulations and scales, will be roaming secondary roads in search of "backroad runners."

If a vehicle is pulled over, the deputy has the option of weighing the vehicle with a portable scale or using a stationary scale at the nearest weigh station.

If the vehicle is found to be too heavy, by standards set by the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, the driver will be issued an appearance ticket. The driver must also make arrangements to lighten the loads before he can proceed.

All unloaded materials are the sole responsibility of the owner of the vehicle.

If a vehicle is found to be carrying more than 1,000 pounds over its limit, the company will be fined 3 cents for each pound over the standard. For each additional 1,000 pounds the truck is overweight, the fee per pound is raised by an additional three cents.

The only exception to the rule is when the load is more than 10,000 pounds overweight. Then the owner is fined 20 cents per pound over the limit.

However, the judge at 52nd District Court, Independence Township, will have the final say in the total cost of the fine when the violating company appears in court.

A 31-year-old Independence Township man was seriously injured in a motorcycle accident Saturday, Aug. 17.

About 3:30 p.m., Frankie Dean Vanluven, 31, was driving north on Clarkston Road, Independence Township, when he lost control of his motorcycle and struck the ditch near Flemings Lake Road.

Vanluven was listed in stable condition Aug. 23 at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. He was wearing a helmet at the time of the accident, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Teen hurt in rollover

A Springfield Township teen was injured in a rollover accident Monday, Aug. 19.

About 9:40 a.m., Courtney Foster, 16, was driving west on Davisburg Road near Ormond Road when she lost control of her vehicle.

The car then started spinning and rolled completely over, landing on its four wheels.

Foster, who was not wearing a seat belt, was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital. She was ticketed for failing to use due care and caution, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Think About It

Excitement for summer's end

Amanda Peske

Fall fashions are finally in full swing at all the department stores, and school orientation is now over for some students. It's time once again to get pictures taken and see all the other kids you haven't had time to see all summer.

It's also time to discover who will be a new student and find out who will not be returning.

The sad fact is more and more each year some students are making the mistake of not returning to school, choosing to drop out.

Just the other day I saw a couple of girls I had not seen in a few years. I was never friends with them, but I do remember seeing them around school. When I told my friends that I had seen them, just as a topic of conversation, they informed me that the girls dropped out of school.

I was shocked! I wanted to find them and ask them why. There was so much I wanted to know.

I couldn't imagine why someone would want to do such a thing. I do admit school is important to me, maybe more so than to some, but to drop out of school is almost as bad as suicide. Both will ruin your life.

If you dropped out of school can you imagine what life would be like? You could go to the mall everyday. But think about it. The mall gets kind of old after awhile, and you only can spend so much money, especially when you don't have a job because no one will hire you for the reason that you dropped out of school.

Everywhere you go or whatever you do, most things require money. Unless you have someone you can bribe some cash off, you're in a dead-end situation.

If you stay in school, the possibilities are endless. There is so much to offer. You can even become a star. Just join drama and there are many avenues you could travel. Singer extraordinaire or the dramatizing actor or actress.

For me it has been the experience of a lifetime. Without the Youth Volunteer Service at CHS, the only thing I would be working on this summer, instead of a story, would be a tan. Working at the newspaper I'm getting experience for my future career.

At school you have wonderful administrators, who, if you have the will and the enthusiasm, will help you anytime you need them. That is what they are there for.

Then of course you always have your friends. When you don't drop out of school you increase your chances of meeting more people, developing strong friendships, and being invited out with them for a great night on the town.

Friends are a large part of school. They are what keep you going in tip-top shape. Without them it is kind of hard to be content.

I remember last year when I had this best friend who went to a different school and was always at my house. We were such good friends she called my mom, "mom." Things got real bad because she lied to me about some things and was always depressed. I couldn't handle it so I told her that I didn't want to be friends with her anymore. I tell you one thing, through all that mess, my friends at CHS were the greatest people in the world. I could never imagine partying without them.

It's friends like this who have made school bearable. The activities have also helped a lot. I've met other classmates who I never even knew existed and also some great administrators like Dr. Burek, who I'm going to miss a great deal.

There is so much to look forward to. You have college, the all-time adventure. Freedom, independence, no parents! You can't do that when haven't graduated from high school.

Even for those older people who never finished high school or did and want to go to college it's never to late to learn. No matter how old you are you can always be just a little bit wiser. There's nothing you can't conquer.

I don't want this article to sound like an advertisement or a commercial, but don't be a fool, stay in school!

Soviet finds host family

Last week, Soviet exchange student Vladimir Weksler was a boy without a home.

This week, he may be one of the most popular teens in Oakland County.

Two days after his dilemma was featured in stories in the Clarkston News and the Oakland Press, Vladimir was provided with a home. And a hundred or so admirers, as well.

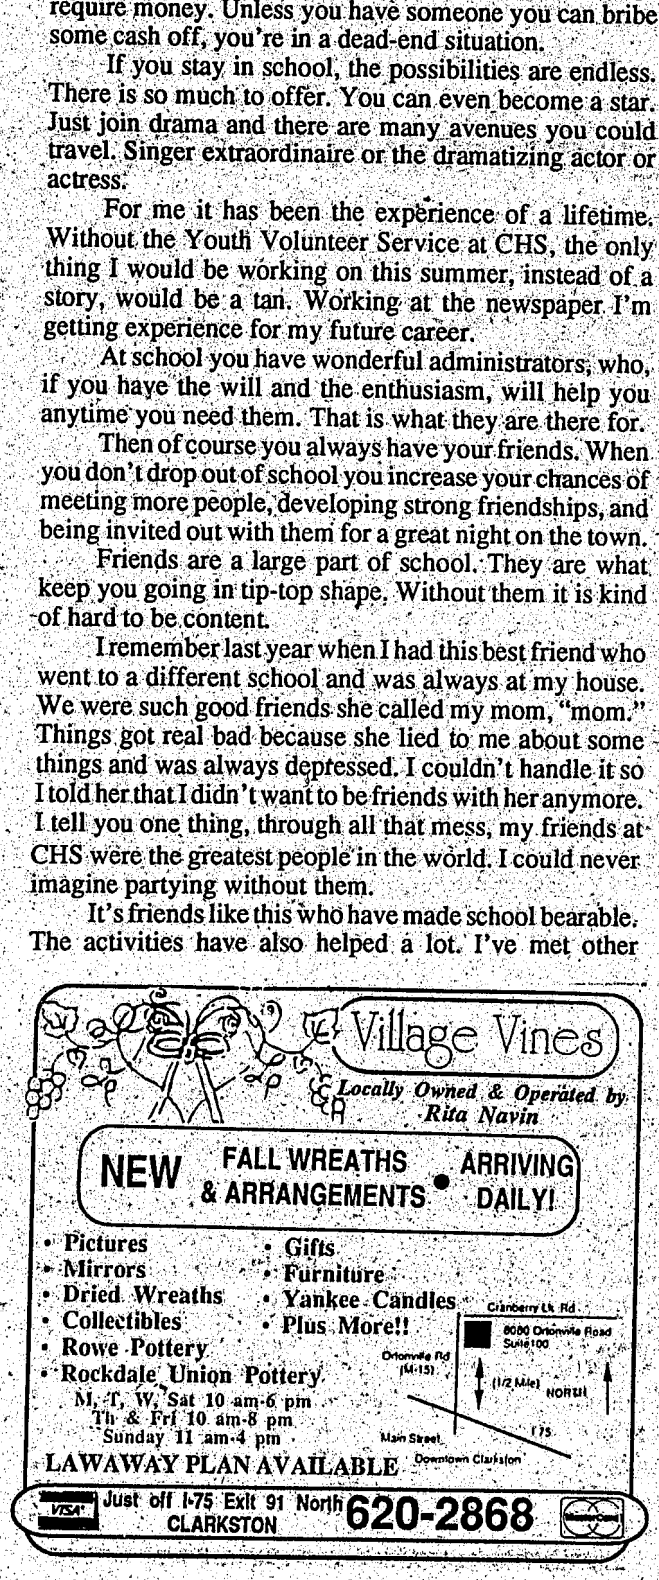

Heightened by the attempted coup in his homeland, over a hundred eager families contacted Alice Chamberlain, a community coordinator with the International Education Forum (IEF) exchange program, offering to take the 17 year old in.

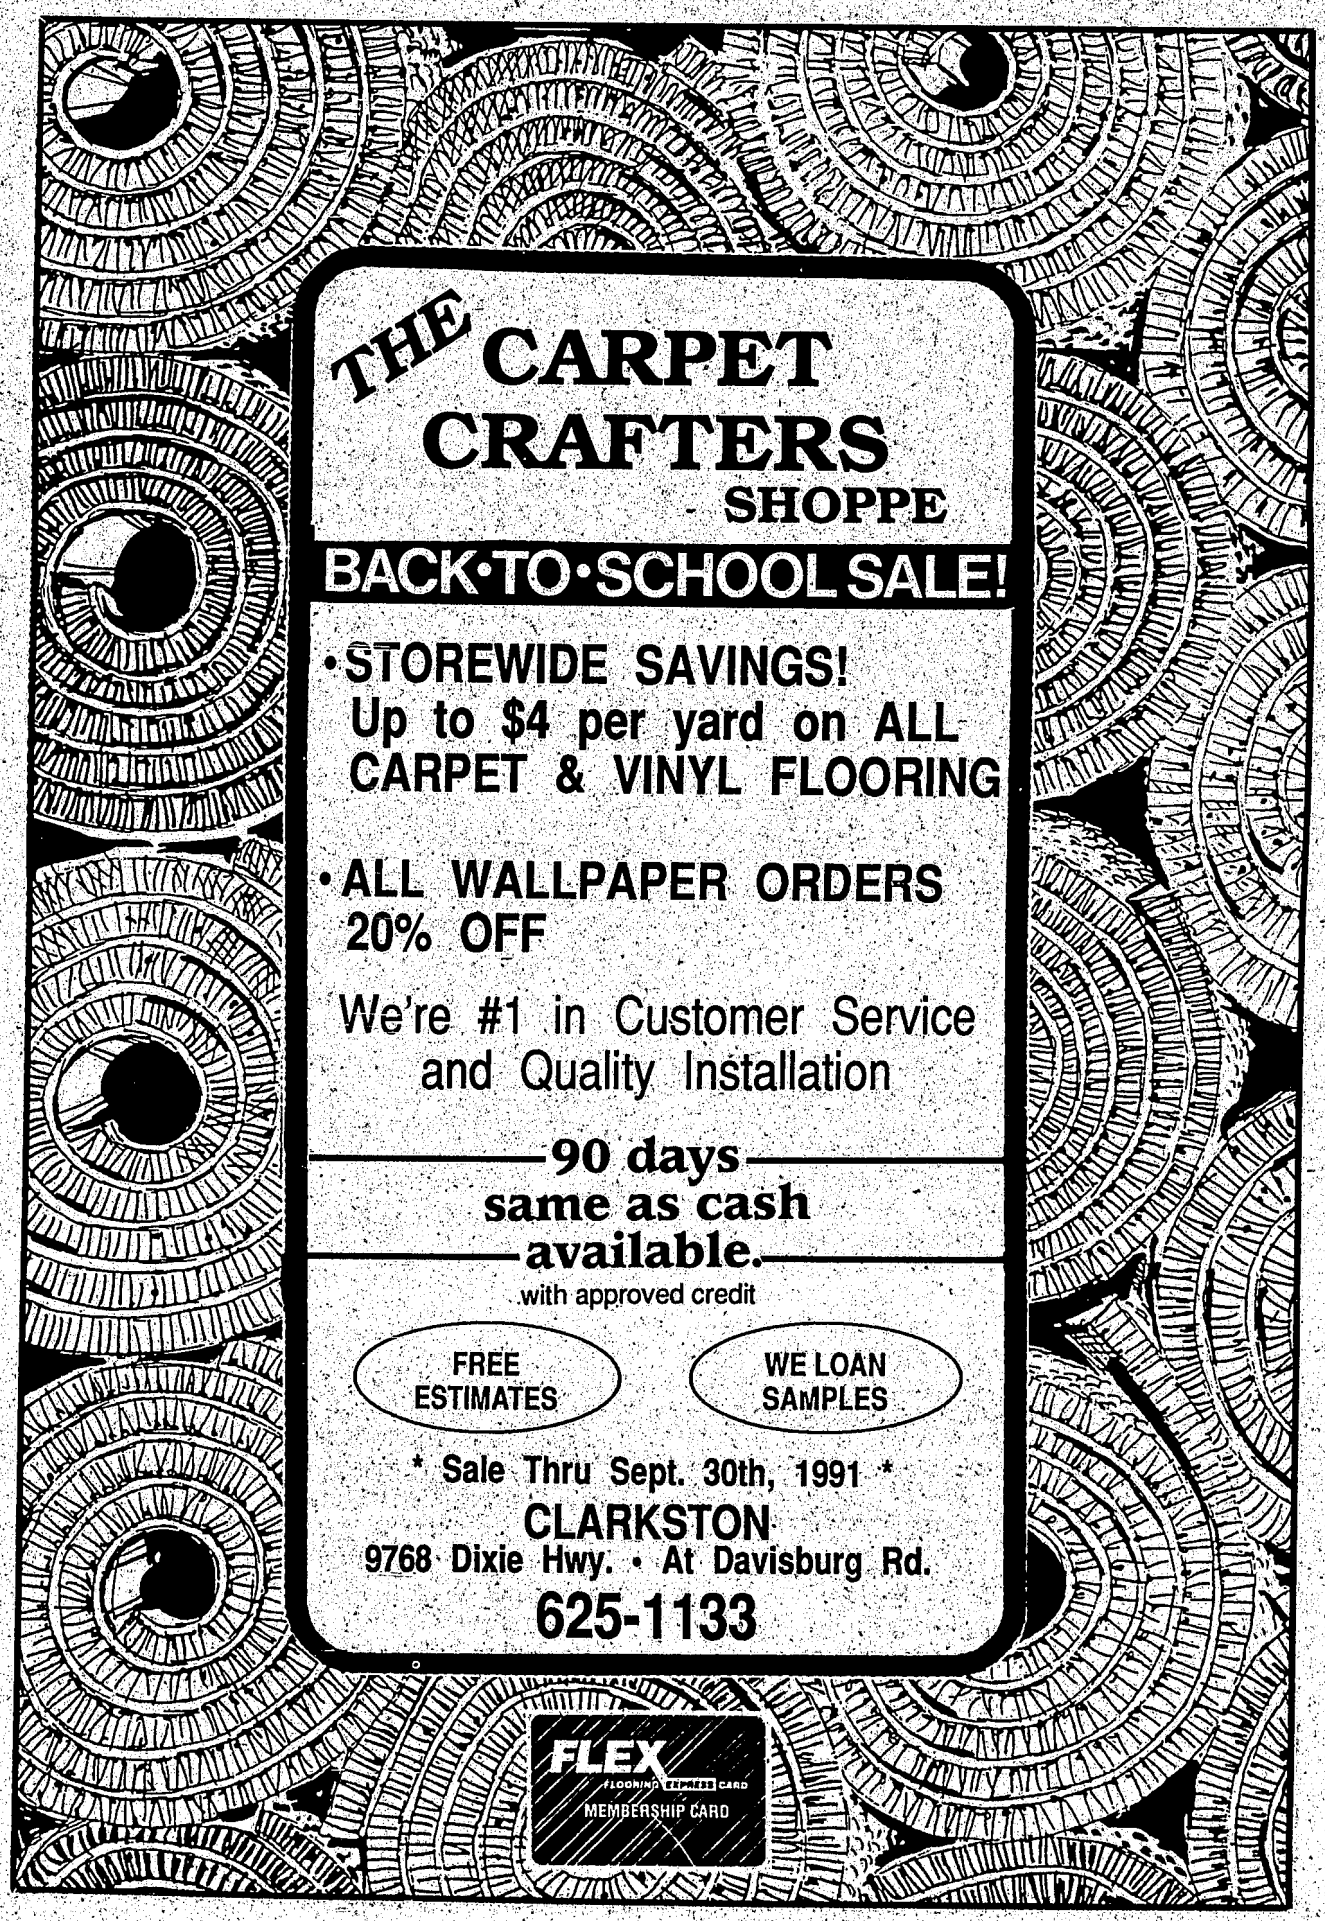

However, only one lucky family won the right to be called his host family.

During his senior year at Clarkston High School, Vladimir will be staying with Duane and Sharon McCatty of Green Haven Drive, Independence Township.

While registering for classes last week, Vladimir said he was eager for classes to begin.

Kids say the darndest things

Curt McAllister

A couple of weeks ago, I was asked to talk to a group of children at the Kinder-Care Learning Center in Waterford Township. I was told I'd be talking to kids about the world of journalism and my own personal experiences.

Unbeknownst to me, I was about to walk into my own rendition of "Kindergarten Cop."

I had just entered the main room, when three cute little 5-year-olds ran up to me and asked if I was the guest speaker. After telling them I was, they found it necessary to run around the room and alert the other 18 students that their guest speaker had arrived.

It took the two teaching aids about five minutes to round up the precocious mites and have them sit on the carpeted floor.

While I sat waiting, amused by the spectacle of teachers chasing students, a little boy came up to me and informed me of a fact he had recently discovered.

"You know what," he stammered. "I came from my momma's belly."

Shocked, I responded, "Yeah, so did I."

At the time, it was the only thing I could think to say.

Once the group had settled down, the instructor told the youngsters my name and what I did professionally.

"You mean your not the policeman?" one little boy asked.

"No, I'm a reporter," I said.

The response I received was much like that of a gallery witnessing a golfer miss a short putt.

"Awwww," they said in unison.

After picking my ego up from the floor, I desperately tried to explain my profession in the simplest way possible. Most of the questions I fielded from the group were good, but more than once I was thrown a curve.

"What did you say your name was again?" one little girl asked.

"Curt," I responded.

"How tall are you?" another little boy asked.

Before I could respond, the teaching aid told the group to ask questions only pertaining to newspapers. Apparently, not everyone had listened to her order as a little girl raised her hand.

"Are you married?" she asked.

"No," I said. "But I will be soon."

My response caused a group of four girls to break into the giggles.

At this point, the teaching aid decided it was time to break for lunch and she had the kids thank me for my time there.

Even though I was there for only 15 minutes, I felt I had made about 20 new friends because several of them stopped to talk to me on my way out. I was told about big sisters, new puppies and a day at the beach.

I left the building feeling good about myself and my profession, but a little envious. In my mind, I envisioned the policeman coming to visit later that day and the kids climbing all over each other to talk to him.

Who knows, maybe I'd struck a nerve with one of them, causing him or her to blurt out, "You mean your not the reporter?"

Awwww.

Letter to the Editor

OLHSA work gives perspective

When I saw a man pass out from hunger on the steps of Pontiac's Baldwin Shelter, I realized my problems were not so bad after all.

Through my work at the Oakland Livingston Human Service Agency (OLHSA), I found there are a lot of people in need, and I am able to help some of them.

OLHSA is a community action agency. Their programs help low-income, elderly and handicapped people become self-sufficient.

I'm a retired truck driver. My wife and I were living on our Social Security checks. When my wife became seriously ill, we used up every bit of our savings. I was scared, and I needed money — fast.

OLHSA then hired me as a part-time worker to help with maintenance chores, deliveries and other duties.

My work with OLHSA nowadys means delivering food to the Head Start children. It helps me appreciate the good in my life when I see how much it means to these kids to get a simple meal.

Just wanted to let everyone know how good OLHSA has been to me. The money helps, but more important, I like the work I do, and I like the people I work with at OLHSA.

I've never worked for better people. Even though the money I make is a lifesaver, it means more to me to be a part of this organization. I can make a difference to so many lives.

Jim's Jottings

Straight down the middle

Jim Sherman

One day newspaper friend Dick Milliman said, "Why don't you join the Seniors Golf Association of America (SGAA) so I can get a new t-shirt?" Knowing he needed a new shirt, I joined.

This golfing group has a tournament once a month. They play great golf courses in Hawaii, Naples, Colorado, etc. Their August stop was Boyne Highlands, a golf complex that makes the "great" course list.

Over 120 golfers, about 72 of them men, competed for three days. This was my first experience swinging sticks with nothing but seniors. And, looking them over, I felt young. Some even called me 'kid'. I turned 65 Aug 10.

Age 65 is not a 'senior' in SGAA. 75 is.

The first tee is interesting. One will tell of the ointment they applied to various joints before coming out. During practice swings you'll hear, "I'll be all right when I get this arthritis worked out." One will be adjusting his hearing aid.

Then they hit their drive. Straight down the middle, 230 to 250 yards . . . then each found something to complain about. Inevitably there would be a complaint after each shot. They were full of compliments when one of my shots went where it was intended, but they could always have done better with their own.

We played with Dr. John Case, of San Antonio, one day. He said, "My game went to hell three years ago when I was 75. My handicap went from a 3 to a 13." At the end of the round he said, "I played terrible! I hit one shank and three-putted one green."

He shot a 78 . . . his age. We played with a retired banker from Minnesota and Tampa . . . he shot his age, 73. I shot 93, 96 and 88. We were in the same flight. I didn't stay for the presentations.

You hear comments all the time about the flat-bellied golfers on tour . . . These senior golfers don't have long belts.

They also don't take a beer at the turn or when the beer-snack cart comes around.

All we met and played with were gentlemen and serious golfers. They walked off distances, checked the wind, noted the raised green, the traps, flag position, picked a club and hit the golf ball where they wanted it to go.

I watched in envy.

These seniors have made whatever adjustments they have had to to improve their game. Some putt facing the pin, some at 45-degrees. Some use long putters, some short. Few have big golf bags. Back swings are three-quarters at most. No John Dalys here.

Their swings are developed to avoid hurt. One senior golfer's back hurt so bad he couldn't stand staight. At one point he fell to his knees and had to be helped up. He scored a 75.

Driving home from Boyne Highlands I came to some conclusions about my golf game: I need to complain more; I need to hurt more; and, I certainly

Abortion fight

Jim Fitzgerald

Would it be bad taste to suggest that Operation Rescue should erect a human shield preventing arousable males from seeing sexy females, thus preventing glints that are only a blink away from abortions?

I'm referring to the old saying: "I knew you when you were only a glint in your father's eye." Would it be proper to once again rehash that bromide as it applies to the beginning of a relationship that might lead to an abortion instead of a birth?

Operation Rescue is the extra-zealous anti-abortion group that recently gained extensive publicity by using their bodies - and the bodies of their young children - to block the entrance to a Kansas clinic that performs abortions. Dare I wonder if an Operation Rescue mother would throw her child between potential glinters and glintees?

No matter how you feel about it, the abortion debate is serious stuff. So would it be crude to make light of that debate's excesses by saying some pro-lifers believe a man can destroy a potential life by blinking? Your opinion of the appropriateness of that exaggeration depends on your taste, and tastes differ. For an example of what I mean, let me briefly digress to Sen. Ted Kennedy and the Historic Holly Hotel restaurant in Holly.

I'm not kidding. According to the hotel's August-September newsletter, "The Ted Kennedy Dinner" will be offered Aug. 26-30. There'll be lots of seafood and "a free floating key-chain" for each diner. And there's a verse describing Ted: "He's Got Jack's Charm/And Bobby's Fervor/But If He Drives You Home/Bring a Life Preserver."

Arlene Biggs of Farmington Hills sent me the Holly Hotel newsletter along with a note: "I realize the Kennedy dynasty has altered since the Camelot days, becoming a source of chronic speculation, embarrassments and fictions. But the truth is that some years ago, at Chappaquiddick, a young woman named Mary Jo Kopechne drowned in a hideous accident. I know she was somebody's daughter. She was real. I know she was mourned . . . there is something ugly and repulsive about basing a menu upon a hard act to swallow."

It's a matter of taste. What do you think?

Now back to the glint in your father's eye. Several years ago, I wrote that some anti-abortion forces were so extreme they made a guy feel guilty of murder for breaking a date. I said I expected pro-lifers to propose pro-glint legislation, claiming life begins at perception rather than conception.

I thought that was as absurd as I could get. But then came 1991 and the Supreme Court ruled that family-planning clinics that accept federal money can't even whisper "abortion" to clients. So naturally I had to write that these clinics should also be forbidden to advise welfare fathers to rub their sore eyes, for fear of destroying glints.

Was that as far as I'd have to go to match my absurdity with an anti-abortion absurdity? No, thanks to the Operation Rescue members who instructed their children to lie down in front of moving cars - risk their young lives - to prevent entrance to a clinic that offers help that is legal to women with unwanted and perhaps life-threatening pregnancies.

Obviously, it must be said that glints are too easily blinked or rubbed away, and the only viable way to eliminate glint abortions is to prevent the glints from glowing in the first place. Operation Rescue should assign its children to singles bars where they could strategically position their bodies so as to prevent male customers from seeing a female liable to arouse glints in their eyes.

The Operation Rescue goal should be future generations of children who would be told: "I knew you when you were only a blank stare in your father's eye."

Onward and Upward. Abortion is here to stay, legal or not, safe or risky, no matter how absurd the anti-choice ideologues get. So let's quit jumping all over each other.

It would be good taste to let a glint be our reminder to lighten up.

Attendance is vital

Students at Clarkston Senior High will begin the 1991-92 school year with a new attendance policy in place.

The Board of Education approved the recommendation of of the CHS attendance committee to cap absences at 15 per semester. A group of 10 teachers served on the committee, which researched other Oakland County districts.

The committee developed a philosophy of attendance after studying our own statistics. Average daily attendance was 90 percent during the 1990-91 school year.

With 10 percent of our students "gone" on a daily basis, the committee went to work in developing its beliefs.

Regular attendance in all classes is a student's best assurance for success in a high school academic program and one of the school district's best assurances to protect and enhance academic standards. Excessive absenteeism keeps the individual student from taking full advantage of this opportunity.

Every member of a class contributes to the total learning process for all students in the classroom. One insightful question from an individual student or an original contribution to a class discussion may be valuable to the understanding of the group or to another person in the class.

This is the process by which we learn how others think and what they believe. A student who is absent misses this part of education. We are also concerned that there is a direction correlation between absenteeism and early drop out from school.

We are in the business of education. A part of that concerns itself directly with facts, ideas and concepts. Another part deals directly with the attainment of habits and patterns of living that will be beneficial to the individual students during the remainder of their lives.

Teaching the habit of prompt and regular attendance is, therefore, one of our most direct responsibilities of parents and educators.

Local Boards of Education are responsible for establishing the calendar for each school year. The calendar is determined and published well in advance, so that all phases of educational planning can be coordinated.

Students and parents should be greatly concerned with their vacation plans or activities unrelated to school that interfere or conflict with this school calendar.

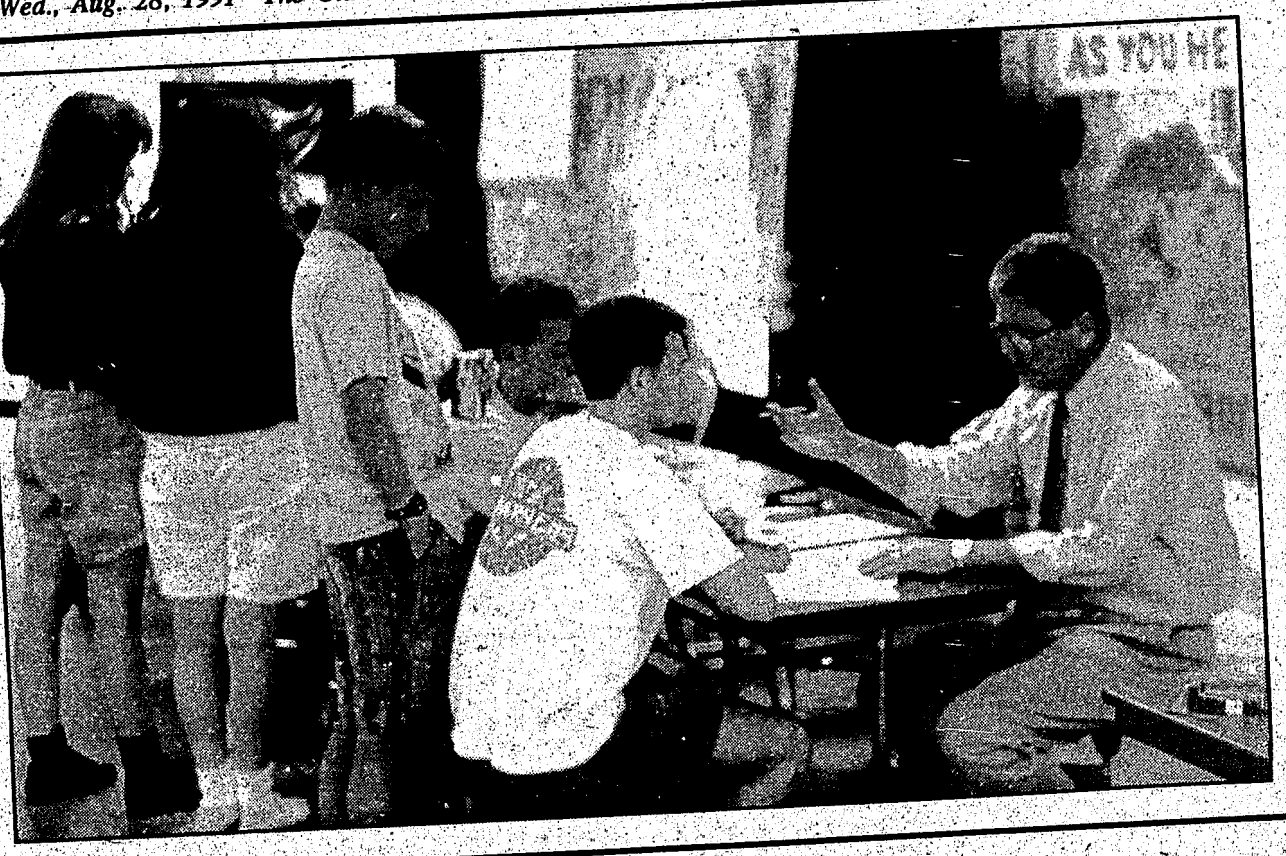

Employers, universities and all other public agencies have placed the issue of attendance on the same level as performance. One must be present in order to be working toward one's fullest potential.

Clarkston High School, in its goal for excellence in the 1990's, is in step with preparing our students for the real world of work.

Ginny Farmer is the assistant vice principal at Clarkston High School. This is the first part to a two-part column on the new attendance policy.

Making amends

TWELVE prisoners enlisted in Camp Nichols cleared overhanging branches from the safety paths along Clarkston Road Aug. 26. Day care ordinance receives approval

A proposed Day Care ordinance is one approval away from being ratified in Independence Township.

On Aug. 20, the Independence Township Board unanimously granted first-reading approval to the proposed zoning ordinance amendment.

The current township ordinance doesn't specifically address day cares, but includes them with nursery schools as a special land use in residential zones.

According to Township Planner Dick Carlisle, the inadequacy of present township ordinances to regulate day cares prompted this proposal. He said this amendment should upgrade the township's standards and comply with new state standards in regards to day cares.

In the proposed amendment, three types of day care facilities are outlined. They include; the family day care home, a group day care home and a day care center.

Under the proposal, a family day care home is defined as a private home with six or less children under supervision for less than 24 hours. This type of facility can't be regulated by the township or the state.

A group day care home, on the other hand, can be regulated. It's defined as a private home with between seven and 12 children. They will be confined to residential areas. Carlisle said they will most likely be allowed on the fringes of subdivisions and developments, so not to invade the sanctity of numerous, neighboring homes.

A day care center is defined as a facility, other than a residence. Catering to more than six children, it will also be regulated by the state. The location of these types of facilities will most likely be in commercially zoned areas.

Carlisle said this ordinance would not only help the township, but the community as well.

"By defining these types of facilities, we can gauge the appropriate area in which to allow them," he said. "We want to protect the privacy of residents and not allow for an inappropriate facility to be put in their back yards."

Final approval is scheduled to come before the township board at the Sept. 3 meeting.

Crash injures woman

A 40-year-old Waterford woman was injured Aug. 17 when another vehicle struck her car from behind.

About 8:20 a.m. Saturday, Sandra Kay Yates was driving north on Dixie Highway, Independence Township, and was slowing to turn into a gas station. She was then struck from behind by a vehicle driven by Michael Mass, 26, of Independence Township.

Yates was treated and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. Mass was ticketed at the scene, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. Both parties were driving without wearing seat belts.

Driver strikes tree

Michael Kelly, 28, of Union Lake lost control of the vehicle he was driving Aug. 17 and struck a tree.

About 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Kelly was heading north on White Lake Road near Dixie Highway, Independence Township, when his vehicle left the road. He was treated and released from Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Kelly, who was not wearing a seat belt, was ticketed at the scene for traveling at speeds too fast, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Attorney stars in cable-TV musical solo show

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

A Clarkston attorney has found that he's just as comfortable in front of a TV camera as he is in front of a judge or jury.

Thomas Raguso, a general practice trial lawyer in Clarkston and an Independence Township resident, recently arranged and performed a solo musical show for Independence-Clarkston Channel 65 cable-TV Channel 65. The program airs 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 10, and Friday, Sept. 13.

Called "Tom Raguso: Singer of Songs," the program is filled with the baritone-tenor's renditions of standard music and favorites by such artists as Frank Sinatra, Englebert Humperdink and Nat King Cole.

The show came into being with help from Joel Burnell at United Cable's public access studio, said Raguso.

"It was fun," he said of the taping. "Everything seemed to fall into place."

Raguso said he sang as a boy and again in Fraternity Sing at Michigan State University, where his group won a trophy each year. But then he entered law school and didn't sing for 15-20 years.

> "It was fun. Everything seemed to fall into place."
> Tom Raguso

Then one day at St. Daniel Catholic Church, Clarkston, Joan Weger mentioned that the choir needed more male vocalists. He should give it a try, she said, though she had not heard him sing.

With her prodding, he joined and has been singing ever since.

"I really enjoyed it to the point that I started taking some lessons so I'd know what I was doing," he said.

In addition to church, he has sung in piano bars and for special events — including Clarkston High School's 50th reunion this year and with the senior citizen's Melody Makers in Clarkston's Fourth of July Parade.

Raguso and his wife, Sherrill, have three children: Kevin, who is married to Wendy; Leslie, who is married to Mike Mann; and Tony, who is married to Teresa.

BARITONE-tenor Tom Raguso uses his voice to woo judges and juries as well as to entertain audiences with their favorite ballads.

Tony and Teresa have an 18-month-old daughter named Ashleigh, who hasn't quite joined her grandfather in the spotlight.

"She watches me practice," said Raguso. "She's microphone-shy right now."

If she's anything like her grandfather, she might not take up the art for three or four more decades.

Canning tomatoes? Use lemon juice, too

The acidity of different varieties of tomatoes varies greatly; therefore, the U.S. Department of Agriculture now recommends the addition of bottle lemon juice to assure a safe product.

The addition of two tablespoons of lemon juice per quart of tomatoes or one tablespoon per pint is an important safeguard, but it doesn't eliminate the need for following other safe canning procedures, according to Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension.

Processing times for canning tomatoes need to be followed carefully, said Treitman.

If you haven't canned for two or more years, you should get updated canning information, she said.

The 32nd edition of the Ball Blue Book is a reliable, USDA-approved guide to follow. It's available at stores that carry canning supplies as well as at the Cooperative Extension Service.

For more information, call the Cooperative Extension Service at 858-0904.

New youth pastor joins Free Methodist Church

THE REV. Glenn Rupert says his first few days as youth pastor of Clarkston Free Methodist Church, formerly Drayton Heights Free Methodist Church, have been "great." In addition to settling into his home, he's played a little basketball, he said.

A new youth pastor has been appointed at the Clarkston Free Methodist Church off Maybee Road, Independence Township.

The Rev. Glenn Rupert officially began his duties at the church on Aug. 14. His responsibilities include leading the senior teens, young teens and singles at the church.

He and his wife, Karrie Jo, moved from Seattle, Wash., to accept the position. They now make their home in the youth parsonage on Guyette Street, Independence Township.

Rupert said he was "led here by God," but he also was familiar the church's pastor, Roger Allen, from the days when Allen was executive director of Free Spirit, a traveling music group. Rupert sang and played the keyboard in Free Spirit, and his wife also sang in the group.

Born in Oregon, Rupert was raised in Sacremento, Calif. He was a church music major with a physical education minor at Seattle Pacific University, Wash.

His first two weeks in the Clarkston area reminded him of Seattle, he said.

"It rained and rained," he said.

However, the Clarkston area is a change from the growing city he left on the Pacific Ocean.

"It's more relaxed than Seattle city," he said. "It's a little slower paced, but I like that."

Back in 1910, "caring" meant Pontiac residents raising $25,000 to build "Oakland County's First Hospital" in what was then a village of 5,000 people.

Five years later, caring meant the Oakland County Hospital Association donating the hospital to the thriving industrial center of Pontiac...and Oakland County Hospital became Pontiac City Hospital, which was changed to Pontiac General Hospital in 1931. Today, new communities all over Oakland County look to the same hospital for caring in the 1990's for services such as:

- Complete care for new mothers and babies, including family-centered birthing and northern Oakland County's leading intensive care unit for newborns.
- Satellite centers offering walk-in medical care and diagnostic services.
- Expanded programs in physical rehabilitation, county-wide psychiatric services and cardiac care.
- State-of-the-art laser and outpatient surgery.

With these new "caring" services and a patient base throughout Oakland County, our hospital has earned a new name.

This multi-faceted, contemporary cross represents the international symbol for compassionate, community oriented health care. The repeating lines, which comprise the cross, signify the diversified parts of the North Oakland Medical Center, a medical facility with many aspects, affiliates, divisions, services, and organizations all working together for the people of the North Oakland County area.

Cagers will court wins through team play

Fall sports preview

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Defense and playing team basketball will be the keys to the Clarkston girls' varsity basketball fortunes this fall.

"We need to tighten up our defense and learn to play on both sides of the court," said Clarkston coach Larry Mahrle, who adds, "and they have to work together."

The Wolves lost All-Greater Oakland Activities Leaguer Jennifer McChesney (who played several positions) and point guard Beth Walker to graduation, but return some key players from last year's 16-5 squad, which finished second behind Waterford Kettering in the Greater Oakland Activities League.

Juniors Alyson McChesney (12.6 points and 7.5 rebounds per game in 1990), Heather Steinhelper (8.9 points and 5.2 rebounds) and Courtney Whittaker (6.6 points and 4.4 rebounds) will provide both height and experience in the Wolves' front court. McChesney and Steinhelper were regular starters last season and Whittaker started six times.

Two other juniors, Shannon Jenks and Leslie Allen, also will see some action underneath.

"We have a strong inside game," said Mahrle.

Senior Stacey Tinkis, the team's captain, will start at point guard. Junior Heather Austin and sophomores Laura Seitz and Anne Brueck will vie for the other guard slot.

Mahrle expects the Wolves to have a balanced scoring attack, emphasizing good passing and shot selection, along with setting picks.

Defensively, the coach said his team will mainly use a man-to-man defense and is mobile enough to use an occasional press.

The Clarkston and Kettering clashes have developed into one of the best rivalries in the area and Mahrle plans on more of the same.

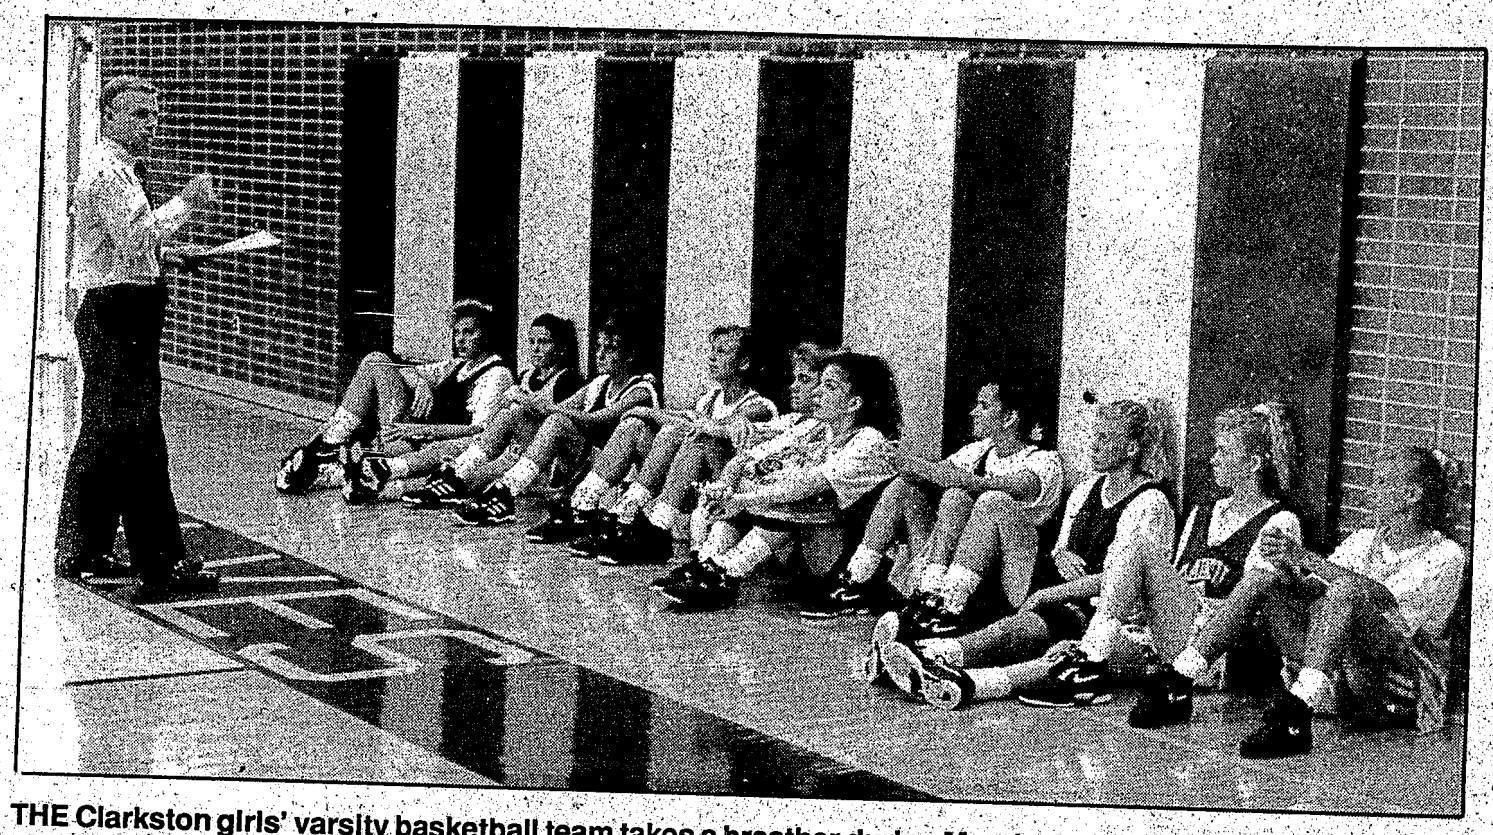

"Kettering is the team to beat," said Mahrle. "They have two starters back and their 6th and 7th players. And their JV was 18-1.

Mahrle also plans on Pontiac Northern to be tough. The Huskies will return all five starters.

The Wolves certainly have had plenty of competition in summer scrimmages. Clarkston played against Detroit Martin Luther King, Flint Powers, Plymouth Salem and Birmingham Marion, all rated in the top 15 in the state by the Detroit News.

"We played well under the circumstance. We were competitive," said Mahrle about the scrimmages. He added, "I'm very positive and upbeat about the season."

The Wolves will find out how strong they are quickly, playing always-tough West Bloomfield in their home opener, Thursday, Aug. 29.

THE Clarkston girls' varsity basketball team takes a breather during Monday's practice and listens to Principal Bob Burek discuss changes in rules. Burek, who will soon become the superintendent of Fenton schools, is also a basketball referee and has annually discussed the rules with Clarkston girls' and boys' teams.

New attitude, coach kick off soccer season

Fall sports preview

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A new coach, new players and a new attitude unfold Thursday, Aug. 29 when the Clarkston varsity boys' soccer team hosts West Bloomfield in the season opener.

"We should be competitive, a little better than I thought we'd be. There is some talent here," said first year Wolf coach Dan Fitzgerald.

Last season, the Wolves finished 4-13-1.

But some key returning veterans joined by several players from last year's undefeated JV squad helps make this season look brighter.

"We're looking better. We have a new attitude and better outlook," said senior forward and third-year varsity player Devin DuPree.

Coach Fitzgerald said the squad does have some inexperienced players in a few positions, but also points out that his players are "very coachable and hard-working."

The Wolves will be using a 4-back defensive alignment.

"Hopefully, defensively we'll be pretty good so we won't give up many goals," said Fitzgerald. "We won't give away a lot of stupid goals. We'll make the other teams earn them."

Senior Scott Strawsburg and junior Mike Miller will be sharing goalkeeper duties.

Fitzgerald has been impressed with junior Steve Bennett, who will be the sweeper (defensive rover). Senior Rob Sloan will play in the key center fullback position.

Offensively, junior Scott Rooney will be the Wolves' center midfielder. Last season Rooney, an All-Greater Oakland Activities League selection as a sophomore, was a forward. This season Fitzgerald said he needs Rooney's skills as a passer, but said Rooney will also get the green light to score if he sees an opening.

Third-year varsity player Jeremy Deloney will join Rooney at midfield.

DuPree and junior Aaron Phillips should get plenty of opportunities to score from their forward positions.

The Wolves recently crushed Bloomfield Hills Andover, 7-0, in a scrimmage, but Fitzgerald said the only way to judge players is in a real match situation. That real season begins with the opener against West Bloomfield and the Lakers are one of the toughest teams on the Wolves' schedule.

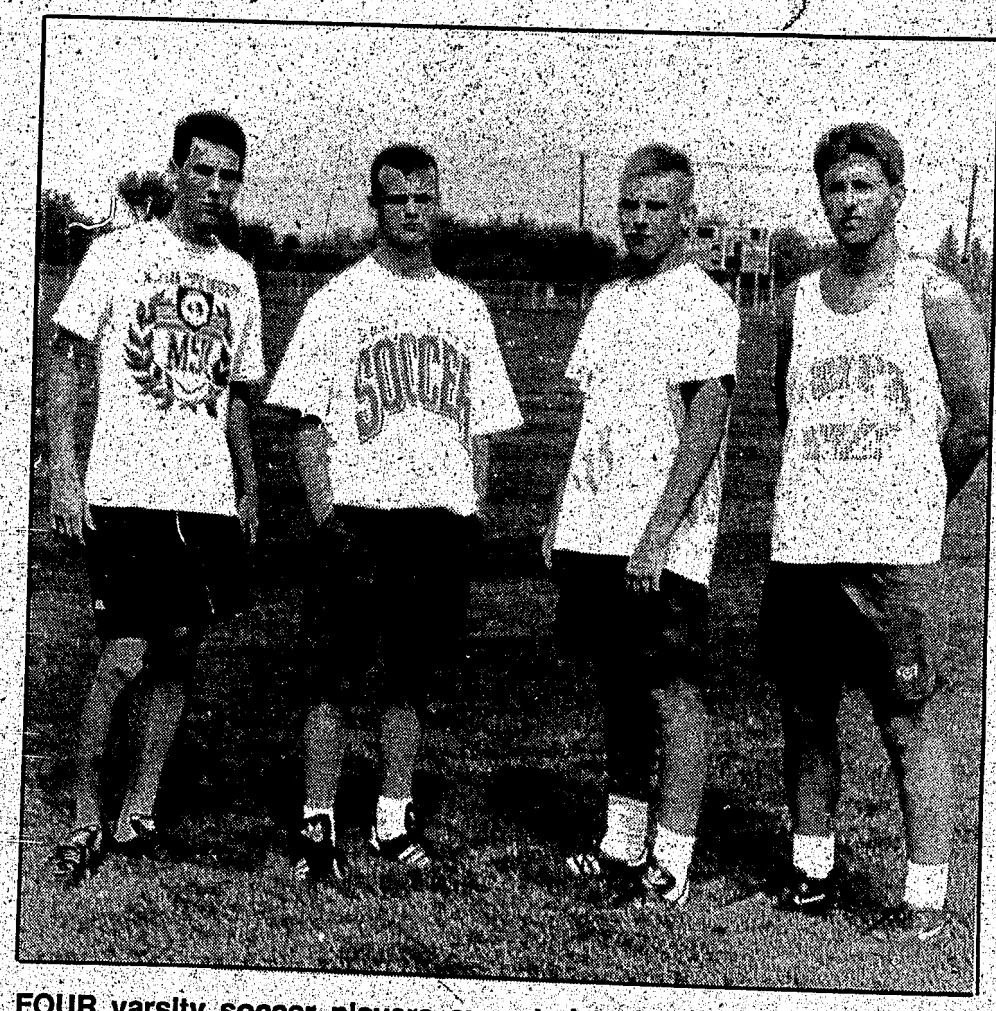

Fitzgerald, an all-state player in Illinois who previously coached at Oxford and Rochester High Schools and works with Olympic development players, doesn't know much about the Wolves' GOAL opponents this season.

Deloney, however, knows the foes in the GOAL and said, "It could go any way. The teams are about even."

The Wolves hope to be the ones to go beyond that eveness.

"We won't give away a lot of stupid goals. We'll make the other teams earn them."

Coach Dan Fitzgerald

FOUR varsity soccer players expected to be keys to the Wolves' success are from left, Rob Sloan, Scott Rooney, Devin DuPree and Jeremy Deloney.

Netters will again chase Dragons in GOAL

Fall sports preview

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The tennis strings of the Clarkston varsity girls' team have been playing second fiddle to Lake Orion for about a decade.

And even though all of the top players for the Wolves return, the Dragons again will be the team to beat in the Greater Oakland Activities League.

In the nine years Dick Swartout has coached Clarkston, Lake Orion has finished first every time, and the Wolves have either finished second outright or tied for second.

Lake Orion's conquests haven't been limited to Clarkston.

"No one else in the league has beaten them either," said Swartout.

Last year, Lake Orion stopped Clarkston 7-0 and 5-2 in match play.

The Wolves will find out quickly how they fare against the defending champs, matching up with the Dragons in the season opener Sept. 6 at Clintonwood Park.

Dragon Kristin Plunkett, the No. 1 singles player in the GOAL last season, returns for her senior year.

Plunkett will most likely be doing battle again with Clarkston sophomore Kristy Swartout (All-GOAL in 1990), the coach's daughter.

SENIOR tennis players from left are Katie Morris, Caroline Allison, Tracey Ortwine, Heather Shaw, Jessica Miller and Buffy Deuel.

Senior Caroline Allison is expected to play at No. 2 and senior Heather Shaw at No. 3. Allison (All-GOAL last year) and Shaw (honorable mention last year) will each be earning their fourth varsity tennis letter.

Third-year player senior Jessica Miller will be playing at No. 4.

Two other third-year players, senior Tracey Ortwine and Katie Morris will most likely team up at No. 1 doubles.

Sophomore Amanda VanKlavern will be playing at No. 2 doubles.

Coach Swartout said the second spot on the No. 2 doubles and both spots on the No. 3 doubles team are up for grabs.

One of those trying to earn a spot is Naoko Kida, an exchange student from Japan.

The coach said the most talented players do not compete at No. 3 doubles, but a point's a point in team scoring.

"The No. 3 doubles is often the deciding point in close matches," said Swartout.

He added that Lake Orion's depth is major reason for their success.

"Lake Orion has good athletes at the second and third doubles," said Swartout.

Swartout, who says his squad is "a real happy group" but "needs to be more aggressive," also has compliments for the Wolves.

"They all have good ground strokes," said Swartout. "And they have good senior leadership. I'm going to hate to see those people (the six returning seniors) go."

But there's still plenty of tennis left before they go.

Coach scores ace

Dick Swartout spends much of his time coaching tennis, but he still had time to stroke his first hole-in-one Aug. 15.

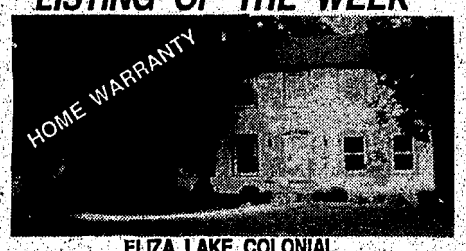

Swartout, a Sashabaw Junior High School teacher and Clarkston High School girls' and boys' tennis coach, sank the ace at on the par-3, 191-yard fourth hole with a 6-iron at Genesee Hills in Grand Blanc.

Swartout finished the nine holes with a 38.

The shot was witnessed by Marc Swartout and Mike Olivier.

Swartout joins another Clarkston coach who last year made his first ace, boys' golf coach Jim Chamberlain.

Swinging from the Heels

Lefty

James Gibowski

Last Sunday morning, I was celebrating unforgettable memories at my 20th high school reunion. But 10 hours later, I was mourning the death of a man who sparked many of those memories.

After sharing a terrific time with my Bay City All Saints' Class of '71 classmates which lasted until 2 a.m., I awoke later that morning to visit my high school basketball coach who I heard had taken a turn for the worse in his battle against cancer.

Just before noon, before my drive back to Clarkston, I entered the Bay Medical Center in Bay City.

I asked at the front desk if visitors were allowed to see Russell "Lefty" Franz. I was told I could.

While the elevator was taking me up to the fourth floor, I went over in my mind what I was going to talk about with Lefty.

The elevator doors opened and I headed to room 483. When I got there, I stood in the doorway and saw that no one was in the room and the bed was neatly made up.

Startled, I then walked a few paces to the nurse's station where I inquired about Lefty.

Another nurse appeared and asked me, "Are you a member of the family?"

I replied, "No, I was one of his players."

She then said, "Mr. Franz died earlier this morning."

I cried as I walked back to my car, too numb to shout at the person who had given me wrong information at the front desk.

And I cried on my drive back to Clarkston.

It was difficult to comprehend the transition from reliving stories with classmates I hadn't seen for years to the blunt knowledge that Lefty was dead.

Because after all, in many ways, Lefty was Bay City All Saints High School.

All Saints began in 1968-69, after three smaller Catholic schools merged, St. Stan's (where Lefty first coached on the varsity level), St. James and St. Joseph's. One year the rivals hated each other, the next year the merger forced those rivals to attend classes together, walk through the halls together, compete in sports together.

I was a sophomore during that first year of the school's existence. I played JV basketball that year and was fortunate to travel with the varsity team. Fortunate because I was a witness to how Lefty and his varsity players were the catalysts in speeding up a smooth merger of the three schools.

COACH Lefty Franz enjoys a Class B 1970 district championship with his son John and Bay City All Saints guard Alan Laskowski. The Saints that year then won the regionals and quarterfinals before losing to River Rouge in the state's semifinals.

That first season Lefty, whose boisterousness on the sidelines was known by refs throughout the state, led his team to the state's quarterfinals and the whole school was caught up in the frenzy of "March Madness."

The following year I was a member of the varsity team which reached the state's semifinals, losing to River Rouge at Jenison Field House in East Lansing.

And as the frenzy continued, we no longer thought of ourselves as being from St. Stan's or St. James or St. Joseph's.

We were from All Saints.

A few years later, we were just as proud being All Saints alumni when Lefty and his team won back-to-back Class C state championships in 1974-75 and he was twice named the state's coach of the year.

After one year away from coaching, Lefty then took over as coach at Pinconning and planned to continue coaching there this December.

In 37 years of coaching, Lefty finished with an incredible 545-215 record in basketball (He also was 138-23 as a baseball coach and 55-53-5 in football). Lefty's brother Sam, who also died of cancer, won 526 games as a basketball coach.

I have other memories and anecdotes about Lefty that could easily fill more columns.

And all those memories point to how I was very fortunate to be one of the hundreds of players that suited up for a Lefty Franz-coached team.

I will miss you, coach.

QUESTION: I have just been transferred and need to buy a home fast. I know the area I'd like to live in. What's the best action to take now?

ANSWER: The quickest method of selecting a home is knowing ALL that's available on the market. You won't get that information by charging around from one "For Sale" sign to another. Your best course is to seek help from a REALTOR-Preferably, one who is active in your selected neigborhood.

Be candid about your finances and what you can afford. This information will come out sooner or later and you'll waste your time looking at houses beyond your means.

BEING CANDID with your Realtor about financial facts will save you both time and money.

Sanders offers crash course in karate

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

There's still time to join a karate class offered through Clarkston Community Education.

The classes are filled with students, parents, senior citizens and others. Sometimes entire families sign up, according to Karen Ohrnberger, who coordinates the program.

Classes are offered 6-7:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays at Pine Knob Elementary School, 6020 Sashabaw Road, Independence Township. Cost for four weeks is $25. Call Ohrnberger at 394-0114 or Jeanne Molzon at community education at 674-3141 for more information.

The classes are taught by Joe Sanders, a fifth-degree black belt master in Tae Kwon Do and Hapkido Karate.

Sanders, who first taught in Clarkston in October 1985, has been teaching two and three classes per week during the school year in addition to his job with the K-mart finance department, said Ohrnberger.

"There's nobody in youth enrichment who has taught seven consecutive years — plus he goes year round," said Ohrnberger.

Sanders was named Instructor of the Year for all of Oakland County's community education programs in 1986. And in 1989 he received Clarkston Community Education's Instructor of the Year Award.

According to Ohrnberger, karate instructions help students develop concentration, coordination, self-confidence and self-discipline. Plus, she said, Sanders stresses academic achievement.

Teachers have noticed behavioral and academic improvement in students enrolled in his classes, as well, she said.

In addition, students are trained to participate in tournaments such as the annual U.S. Open Tae Kwon Do Karate championships in Akron, Ohio, and St. Louis.

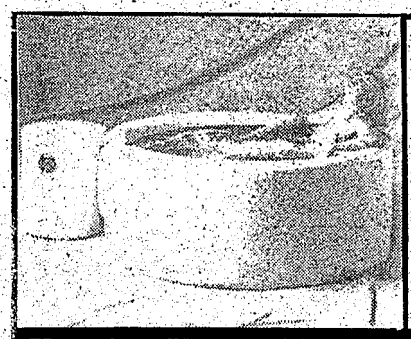

In 14 straight tournaments, Sanders' students have received six team championships and 831 trophies.

"It is so good for the kids," said Ohrnberger, adding that it can strengthen family ties.

She noted a karate class motto: "The family that kicks together will stick together."

JOE SANDERS, fifth-degree black belt master in Tae Kwon Do and Hapkido Karate, gives a brick breaking demonstration during the 20th Annual U.S. Open Tae Kwon Do Karate Championship in Akron, Ohio. Sanders, an Independence Township resident, is in his seventh year of teaching the discipline through Clarkston Community Education.

Ernie and Paul listeners' (un)magic number

[Only 35 games left (after Tuesday night's game against California) to listen to Ernie Harwell and Paul Carey broadcast Tiger games on the radio. Ernie and Paul have teamed up for 19 years. That's longer than many marriages. Tiger owner Tom Monaghan, club president Bo Schembechler and the stooges at WJR have demanded a divorce from Ernie after this season (Paul will be retiring on his own). Thousands of loyal Ernie and Paul listeners will be suffering through that divorce beginning next spring. - By James Gibowski -]

Bagpipers bring Scottish tradition to Clarkston

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

If you're fond of the bagpipe, it's not necessary to travel to the moors of Scotland to hear this instrument's haunting melodies.

A bagpipe troupe has come to the Clarkston area, and already they're looking for new blood to carry on this ancient art.

The group practices 7-11 p.m. every Thursday at the Cedar Crest Academy on Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

With eight men and two women, the group is comprised of players from all over Oakland County. And of these 10 players, six claim to have had Scottish descendants.

"When I play the bagpipes, I feel like I'm blowing life into something that's alive."

Larry Bond

The troupe is entering its first full year of playing under the instruction of Don Varella, a 62-year-old New Zealand native with 48 years of bagpipe experience under his belt.

Varella said the bagpipe has always been considered the ugly duckling of musical instruments because most people don't understand it or play it properly.

"The bagpipe is the most maligned instrument in history because a lot of poor players play it in public," Varella said, laughing. "And believe me, nothing sounds worse than a bagpipe played poorly."

According to Webster's Dictionary, a bagpipe is a wind instrument consisting of a reed melody pipe and from one to five drones with air supplied continuously either by a bag with a valve-stopped mouth tube or by bellows.

According to the group's members, a person learning to play the bagpipe needs strength, stubbornness and a great deal of patience. Varella said prior musical experience is not a prerequisite when learning to play the bagpipe.

"Just because a person may be naturally adept with a wind or stringed instrument, doesn't mean he or she is going to be a good piper," the instructor said. "Some of the strangest and most unlikely people have an aptitude for this instrument.

"For example," Varella added, "I tried to teach a bassoonist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra the bagpipe a while back, and he quit after three months."

Varella said he usually teaches newcomers the fundamentals before letting them touch a set of bagpipes. A person begins with a practice chanter, which allows the individual to practice proper blowing and "finger-hole" techniques. A couple of tunes can be played on this device.

Next, the person is provided with the "goose," or the bag, to develop a sense of timing of when to squeeze air into the instrument.

MEMBERS of the Clarkston bagpipe troupe include; Larry Bond, Kent Maynard, Don Mills, Julie Robertson, and Instructor Don Varella.

After working with these devices for several months, the person is given the opportunity to play the bagpipes, which can be purchased for anywhere from $600 to $4,000.

"The music really stirs the soul."

Julie Robertson

When asked what inspires them to play such an exotic and difficult instrument, the group's members had similar replies.

"Learning to play takes a long time to learn, but, after a while, it becomes an obsession," said Kent Maynard of Waterford. "You find yourself reaching for your bagpipes during your spare time."

Larry Bond of Goodrich concurs.

"It's a type of music that takes a lifetime to develop," Bond said. "When I play the bagpipes, I feel like I'm blowing life into something that's alive."

Julie Robertson of Oxford has taken a bagpipe class in Canada and found the instrument to be addictive.

"There's been times where I've quit playing the bagpipe and then find myself hearing them off in the distance," she said. "The music really stirs the soul."

Varella said the bagpipe is slowly gaining popularity in the United States, but it's a love-hate relationship.

"People either love the bagpipe or they don't," he said. "For those with an ear for the instrument, it's a sound that's impossible to forget.

"The bagpipe is the most maligned instrument in history because a lot of poor players play it in public."

Don Varella

"I don't know of many other instruments that has the same effect on a person than the bagpipe," he added.

For more information on the group, call John Lydick at 673-8936.

Re-opened health food store makes connection

BY DENNIS V. CARTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Business at a recently reopened health food store has been ..., well, healthy.

According to Nancy Galbraith, who reopened The Health Food Connection, formerly called Simply Natural, business has far surpassed her expectations.

"I opened Simply Natural back in 1980 and owned it for three years. I just reopened this store in July, and business has been really great," said Galbraith.

Galbraith, who reopened the store with her daughter-partner Terri Taber, has been happy to see a lot of the her former customers coming back.

"A lot of the customers who came into the store back in the early '80s have told me how bad they had missed the store because it is something they felt was needed in the community," she said.

According to Galbraith, she first opened the store because of concern for her own health and the health of others.

What's new in business

"Being health conscious has moved to center stage of a lot more peoples' thinking since I had the store the first time. Eating health food and concern for the environment is at a higher level now — which is good," Nancy said.

Even though the store was a business that Galbraith had once owned, it took a lot of hard work to reopen.

"Things have really changed a lot since I first owned the store," she said. "I did a lot of studying to get ready to reopen. It took about six weeks just to get the ordering done. I have a lot of supplements for body building, so I ordered a lot of books to be sold here which will help the customers who need them to get started."

Galbraith gives a lot of the credit for the reopening to her daughter.

"Terri has really been the key to me reopening the store. Without her, this would have never happened. She has really done a lot of work and has been very supportive in the reopening," she said.

Health Food Connection, in Waterfall Plaza on Dixie Highway, has a variety of health foods, vitamins, body-building supplements, bulk health foods and healthy snacks.

"Healthy snacks are something a lot of people had been asking for, so I have stocked a wide variety of them," said Galbraith. "We have pretty much what anyone would need, but if we don't have it, I will order it. I have had a lot of people ask for certain items, and I now stock them. Having people tell me what they want or need is the best way for me to service my customers."

According to Galbraith, the location in the Clarkston area and in the plaza has been a major plus.

"The response here has been overwhelming. This location is perfect, and the people here are so nice. It truly is a perfect place to open a business," said Galbraith.

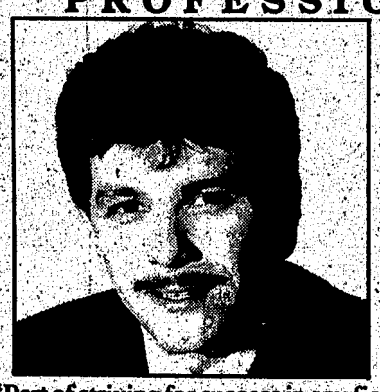

NANCY Galbraith restocks the shelves in The Health Food Connection. Galbraith recently re-opened the health food store in Waterfall Plaza on Dixie Highway.

Because of the growing attention to health and health foods, the store is larger now than it was when Galbraith first opened it.

"The health food industry has really grown in the last 11 years," she said. "I really want to be able to give my customers what they want."

Taking into account what the ancient Romans said about "a healthy mind and a healthy body," a stop by the Health Food Connection could prove to be a healthy investment of time.

Charter Township of Independence
NOTICE OF PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting of the Township Board held on August 20, 1991, the Board proposed an amendment to the Township's Zoning Ordinance, Section 5.23, regarding day care facilities regulation, as follows:

Proposed Day Care Facilities Regulations

Section 5.23 Day Care Facilities.

1. Intent. It is the intent of this section to establish standards for day care facilities which will insure compatibility with adjacent land uses and maintain the character of the neighborhood.

2. Definitions. The following definitions shall apply in the construction and application of this section:

a. "Family Day Care Home": A private home in which one (1) but not more than six (6) minor children are received for care and supervision for periods less than twenty-four (24) hours a day unattended by a parent or legal guardian, excepting children related to an adult member of the Family. It includes a home that gives care to an unrelated child for more than four (4) weeks in a calendar year.

b. "Group Day Care Home": A private residence in which seven (7) but not more than twelve (12) children are received for care and supervision for periods less than twenty-four (24) hours a day unattended by a parent or legal guardian, excepting children related to an adult member of the Family. It includes a home that gives care to an unrelated child for more than four (4) weeks in a calendar year.

c. "Day Care Center": A facility, other than a private residence, receiving more than one (1) or more children for care and supervision for periods less than twenty-four (24) hours, and where the parents or guardians are not immediately available to the child.

3. Application of Regulations.

a. A State licensed Family Day Care Home shall be considered a residential use of property and a permitted use in all residential districts.

b. The Planning Commission may, by issuance of a special land use permit, authorize the establishment of Group Day Care Homes and Day Care Centers in the various zoning districts in accordance with the schedule provided in Section 5.23.3.c. herein, and subject to the applicable standards herein.

Pet of the Week

CANDIE is a 4-year-old German shepherd who's looking for a new owner.

Candie is sweet

Candie is as sweet as sugar and she's looking for a home.

This 4-year-old German shepherd-mix weighs 53 pounds and is scheduled to be spayed. Because of her size, she's not recommended for families with small children.

Her adoption fee is $35.

To see Candie, visit the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Road, Rochester Hills, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Canning book revisions

If you're planning to begin canning your garden harvest, you may want to get a copy of the latest canning guidelines.

The "Complete Guide to Home Canning" published by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in 1989 contains some inaccurate information, according to the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

For instance, the USDA no longer recommends home-canning smoked fish.

In addition, procedures, processing times and recipes have been changed for better safety.

To get a copy of the changes to the 1989 guide, call 858-0904.

Animal clinic receives conceptual approval

A local veterinarian has received the first approval necessary for renovation of his South Main Street clinic.

On Aug. 22, the Independence Township Planning Commission granted conceptual site plan approval to the Clarkston Animal Medical Center. The motion passed 4-0, with Daniel Travis and Chairman Brent Bair absent from the meeting.

Currently known as the North Oaks Animal Clinic, the center is operated by veterinarian Bruce Harlton. His plans call for renovating the existing center and building another structure at the rear of the one-acre parcel.

The property is presently zoned commercial.

Approval was granted subject to the dumpster being shown on future plans and the submittal of an improved landscaping plan for the front of the property.

The plans are scheduled to go before the planning commission three more times before final approval is given.

Keep football fans cheering with dips

Football season is a great time to take a dip — to the living room, family room or whatever armchair athletes gather to watch the game.

Armed with chips and vegetable dippers, they can dip, dunk and munch as they please without missing a bit of the action.

This fall, fuel football fans with two fast and far from ho-hum dips created by PACE picante sauce home economists. Great served hot or at room temperature, both dips take their garden-fresh flavor and spicy jalapeno "heat" from PACE picante sauce, in the cook's choice of mild, medium or hot.

Black Bean-Bacon Dip is a crowd-pleasing blend of beans, bacon, garlic, cream cheese and picante sauce that's especially good with vegetable dippers such as carrots and bell peppers. Crabby Con Queso is a richly flavored mix of cheese, veggies, picante sauce and imitation crab meat that tastes great with tortilla chips.

BLACK BEAN-BACON DIP

6 slices bacon, diced
1 medium onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 can (16 ounces) black beans, drained
2/3 cup PACE picante sauce
1-1/2 ounces cream cheese, cubed
1-1/2 teaspoons cumin
Chopped cilantro

Cook bacon in skillet until crisp; remove and reserve. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Add onion and garlic; cook until tender. Transfer to food processor; add beans and process until smooth. Return to skillet; add remaining ingredients. Cook until cheese melts; stir in bacon. Sprinkle with cilantro to serve. Makes 1-3/4 cups.

CRABBY CON QUESO

3/4 cup chopped onion
3/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 garlic clove, minced
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
1/2 cup PACE picante suace
1/2 pound process cheese spread, cubed
1/4 pound imitation crab meat, finely shredded
1/2 cup chopped tomato

Saute onion, green pepper and garlic in oil until tender. Add picante sauce and cheese; cook and stir until cheese melts. Stir in crab and tomato. Makes 2 cups.

Prohibition under this subsection may be determined prior to the ignition of a fire, or following ignition by order of extinguishment.

(4) Open burning in three acre parcels. After first applying for and obtaining a permit from the Fire Department, open burning shall be permitted on parcels of land which are three acres or more in area, subject to land in an accordance with the following:

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting of the Township Board held on August 20, 1991, the Board proposed an amendment to the Township's Zoning Ordinance, Section 5.04, Signs, as follows:

(The following Ordinance language is intended to replace the current Section 5.04 Signs)

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP

SECTION 5.04

SIGNS

(1) INTENT AND PURPOSE.

The intent of this Ordinance is to regulate the location, size, construction, and manner of display of signs and outdoor advertising in order to minimize their harmful effects on the public health, safety and welfare. While this Ordinance recognizes that signs and outdoor advertising are necessary to promote commerce and public information, failure to regulate them may lead to poor identification of individual businesses, deterioration and blight of the business and residential areas of the Township, conflicts between different types of land use, and reduction in traffic safety to pedestrians and motorists.

To achieve its intended purpose, this Ordinance has the following objectives:

(a) To prevent the placement of signs in a manner that will conceal or obscure signs or adjacent businesses;

(b) To keep the number of signs messages at the level reasonably necessary to identify a business and its products;

(c) To keep signs within a reasonable scale with respect to the buildings they identify;

(d) To reduce visual distraction and obstructions to motorists traveling along, entering or leaving streets;

(e) To promote a quality manner of display which enhances the character of the Township;

(f) To prevent the proliferation of temporary signs which promote visual blight.

(2) DEFINITIONS.

The following definitions shall apply in the construction and application of this section:

(a) Building Frontage - The portion of a building which principally relates to the public right-of-way.

(b) Sign - A name, identification, description, display, light, balloon, banner or illustration which is affixed to, or painted, or otherwise located or set upon or in a building, structure or piece of land and which directs attention to an object, product, place, activity, person, institution, organization or business and which, is visible from any public street, sidewalk, alley, park or public property. The definition includes interior and exterior signs but not signs primarily directed at persons within the premises of the sign owners. The definition does not include goods displayed in a business window. The definition does not include religious symbols or paintings which do not display lettering and do not advertise a business, product or service.

1. Billboard - Any sign which contains a message unrealted to or not advertising a business transacted or goods sold or produced on the premises or place where the sign is located.

2. Ground Sign - A sign which is attached to or part of a completely self-supporting structure. The supporting structure shall be placed in or below the ground surface and not attached to any building or any other structure whether portable or stationary.

3. Logograph Sign - A sign which consists of symbols, words, pictures, letters or other graphic elements arranged in a generally recognizable fashion used to represent a particular trade, corporation, profession or business: including but not limited to corporate emblems, trademarks, logos and barber poles. Any words or letters included in a logograph shall be incidental to the graphic elements.

4. Portable Temporary Sign - A single or double surface painted or poster panel type sign or some variation thereof, which is temporary in nature, easily movable, not mounted on wheels, and not permanently attached to the ground.

5. Projecting Sign - A sign which is affixed to any building wall and the horizontal sign surface is not parallel to the building wall.

6. Real Estate Sign - A temporary sign placed upon property for the purpose of advertising to the public the sale or lease of said property.

7. Roof Sign - Any sign wholly erected to, constructed or maintained on the roof structure of any building.

8. Wall Sign - Any sign that shall be affixed parallel to the wall or printed on the wall of any building; provided, however, said wall sign shall not project above the top of the wall or beyond the end of the building. For the purpose of this ordinance, any sign display surface that is affixed flat against the sloping surface of a mansard roof shall be considered a wall sign. A wall sign shall also include an illuminated window sign.

9. Window Sign - Any sign installed inside a window and intended to be viewed from the outside.

(c) Sign Surface - That part of the sign upon, against, or through which the message is displayed or illustrated.

(d) Total Surface Area of the Sign - The sum total of all exterior surfaces of the sign, computed in square feet. In the case of a broken sign (a sign with open spaces between the letters, figures, numbers or symbols) the total surface area shall be measured by multiplying the height of the individual letters or combination of letters by the distance between the outer edges of the two (2) furthermost letters. In all other cases, the total surface area of the sign shall be computed by measuring the sign at its highest point and at its widest point for the purpose of determining a rectangle or triangle within which the entire sign area may be contained, and then multiplying said height and width dimensions with the resultant product being the total surface area where the rectangle is used for computation, and the said resultant product multiplied by one-half (½) being the total surface area where the triangle is used for computation; in the alternate, total surface area of the sign shall be computed by measuring the diameter of a circle within which the entire sign area may be contained, and then multiplying said diameter by 3.14, with the resultant product being the total surface area of said sign. In every instance where this Ordinance contains a square footage requirement concerning signs, said square footage requirement shall be deemed to include the total sign, unless otherwise stated, and should said total sign have two or more faces or surfaces, the square footage requirement shall be divided by the number of faces or surfaces exposed and no surface area shall be larger than its pro rata share of the total as reflected by said division.

We Are
SIDING And GUTTER Specialists
We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. But what we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We don't get your job and sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability and someone that will still be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.
