Burek given grand send-off at CHS

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Retiring generals and corporate presidents would be hard pressed to receive the type of bon voyage given to Dr. Robert Burek last week.

Students and faculty packed the Clarkston High School gymnasium to pay tribute to their outgoing principal during a pep assembly Sept. 6. Originally slated as an assembly for the fall sports teams, the hour-long program quickly turned into a farewell party.

Burek, who will be taking over as Fenton's superintendent of schools later this month, was presented with a bevy of gifts from those in attendance.

The presents included: team-signed balls from the girls varsity basketball and varsity football teams, a Clarkston varsity letter from athletic director Paul Tungate, a school sweatshirt from the student council and a plaque from the Interact Club.

"I'm overwhelmed."

Principal Bob Burek

The Clarkston cheerleading and pom-pon squads also provided Burek with a couple of personal routines.

During the assembly, Burek was given several standing ovations. He was also met with several spontaneous calls of, "We love you, Dr. Bob!"

Surrounded by signs emblazoned with messages of well wishes, Burek addressed the students for the final time.

"I'm overwhelmed," he said, shakily. "This is, by far, the finest moment in my professional life. You are very special. I told your predecessors this five years ago, and you've lived up to my expectations.

"From the bottom of my heart, I'd like to thank you for helping make this school what it is today," he added. "I'll never forget you."

Afterward, Burek was engulfed by several students looking to hug or offer a handshake to their departing principal. Smiling, he obliged them all.

Dog nabbed on Sashabaw Road

A local man had his dog stolen this past weekend, and he's looking to get him back.

Brian Lennon of Sashabaw Road reported to deputies with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department that his yellow Labrador retriever, Bear, was "dognapped" Sunday afternoon.

Lennon's neighbor reportedly saw a burly man with red or blond hair coax the dog into his faded, navy blue pickup. She was unable to make out the license plate but said the truck appeared to have faded lettering on the side of the doors.

Lennon said a couple of his neighbors have also had their dogs swiped in the past couple of years. He said his purebread was probably taken because hunting season is coming up and Labradors are excellent hunting dogs.

Anyone with information about the incident is asked to call the Oakland County Sheriff's Department at 625-8391.

Simpson, Salvino face pre-trial Oct. 3

BY DENNIS V. CARTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

David Lewis Simpson III and his friend Paul Matthew Salvino, both 23, of Independence Township were arraigned in Oakland County Circuit Court Sept. 4 on charges of sexually abusing Simpson's 5-year-old child.

According to Jean Gibson, assistant prosecutor, the two men are charged with two counts each of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and two counts each of first-degree child abuse.

The two men face a pre-trial before Judge Robert C. Anderson in Oakland County Circuit Court at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 3.

According to Gibson, the two stood mute at the arraignment and did not waive a jury trial. She also said that their attorneys did not enter a motion for a forensic exam for the two, which would have searched for medical evidence in the case.

The charges stem from alleged events that took place July 23 at Salvino's step-father's residence on Circle Drive, Independence Township.

Police were called to the residence after a neighbor reported hearing screams from the house and saw suspicious activities.

During the pre-exam in Independence Township last month, Simpson's 5-year-old son testified on video tape while the courtroom was cleared. His testimony led to the Sept. 4 arraignment.

Both men are being held in the Oakland County jail with a $200,000 cash bond each.

If convicted, the men could face maximum sentences of life in prison for the first-degree criminal sexual conduct charges and 15-year maximum sentences on the first-degree child abuse charges.

Simpson is also facing neglect charges as is the child's mother, Carolyn Dean of Caro. The identity of the boy, who does not share his mother or father's names, is being withheld to protect the child.

Thendara residents urge township to fight lawsuit

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

About 15 Thendara Park residents are imploring the Independence Township Board to battle a property owner in court instead of settling on a consent judgment.

The board took no action but is to vote Sept. 17 on the issue.

On Sept. 3, the residents attended a public hearing to voice their opinions over the impending lawsuit filed by property owner Ruth Manning.

Manning, who wants to build a single family home on a 10,800-square-foot lot at the corner of Thendara Park and Algonquin roads, has taken the township to court after the zoning board of appeals twice denied her variance request.

The township board is presently looking at the possibility of a consent judgment, which gives Independence reasonable architectural control over construction of the home. Manning would also be required to pay her share of the assessment for road improvements made over the past year.

> "You should be backing the zoning board's decisions."
> John Dunlap

Many of the residents say the property is unbuildable because of the small lot size, which is made up of four parcels. They also don't like the idea of a small residence sitting at the entrance of their development.

John Dunlap, a member of the Independence Township Zoning Board of Appeals, said the township should take the gamble in Oakland County Circuit Court.

"I want to know why we aren't going to court over this matter? You should be backing the zoning board's decisions," Dunlap said. "I understand that if we go to court ... we're rolling the dice, but let's let the judge decide."

Pine Knob libel verdict overturned

Two developers of the Pine Knob recreational center in Independence Township were not libeled in a 1979 series of newspaper articles, according to a Michigan Supreme Court decision released Aug. 26.

In a 5-1 vote, the court overturned a $3 million libel verdict against The Detroit News stemming from articles about suspected organized crime connections of the developers, Gary Francell and Joseph Locricchio.

The court ruled that the partners failed to prove that the articles by the newspaper had defamed them by implication.

Justice James L. Brickley, in writing for the majority, said, "A litigant alleging defamation by implication, like any other libel plaintiff, must demonstrate a statement or implication capable of defamatory meaning and prove falsity and fault by, at minimum, a preponderance of the evidence."

In the 52-page decision, Brickley said Francell and Locricchio were required to prove that the articles were untrue and prove that any incorrect implications from the articles had hurt their reputations.

"Unfortunately, an inescapable implication of the Pine Knob series conforms to the facts developed at trial: They had numerous financial and social connections with reputed organized crime figures," Brickley wrote.

In 1979, The Detroit News published a series of articles that — according to the libel lawsuit — falsely implied that the two partners were connected to organized crime, were tied to two unsolved murders, and had taken part in questionable financial transactions.

Locricchio and Francell were indicted on bank loan fraud charges but pleaded guilty to lesser charges.

In a dissenting court opinion, Justice Charles L. Levin said the jury had enough evidence to conclude the the articles created implications that had defamed Francell and harmed his reputation.

MARSHMALLOWS and pretzels make good craft materials, finds Tyrone Saincone, 9.

Kids' connection between home and school fun, secure

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

Carefully, Tyrone Saincone, a 9-year-old third-grader, connects marshmallows with pretzels. He sticks out his tongue, as if it will help guide his hands.

Later, when the girls in Kids Connection judge the boys' creations, Ty explains that he has made a tractor with hay and people on Halloween night.

When the judging is finished, he begins eating his creation, even sharing a few morsels with those who were unfortunate enough to make smaller scultpures during edible arts and crafts.

A first-grade girl does not want to leave when her mother arrives during the judging to take her home. Eventually, clutching her marshmallows and pretzels, she acquiesces. Afterall, she'll be back tomorrow.

Linda Irwin smiles.

As project coordinator of Kids Connection for Clarkston Community Education, Irwin finds the scene at Andersonville Elementary School familiar.

"They're happy here," she says of the children who play in a supervised setting during Kids Connection after school until their parents can pick them up.

"They're safe. They know Mom and Dad will be here," Irwin says.

Parents, too, like this option in child care.

"They like the idea of the program here where children can stay at the school, play and feel welcomed and secure," she says.

The program, formerly called LatchKey, is busier than ever this year. No more space is available at Pine Knob Elementary, and only scattered spaces are available at Andersonville, Bailey Lake, Clarkston and North Sashabaw elementary schools.

Through the program, parents may drop their school-age children off at school as early as 7 a.m. and may pick them up as late as 6 p.m., paying by the hour.

When the pupils aren't in school, they go to a special room in the building, used for a few hours by Kids Connection, says Irwin.

In some cases, where space isn't available, such as for kindergartners, the pupils are bused to a facility where space does exist.

"Our dream is to have a half-day kindergarten program in every building," says Irwin. "We don't like the busing. ... We could be a lot larger if we had more space."

However, the trend is toward a larger need for such child care, she says.

"I don't think the need will drop. It's too difficult to get by without two incomes," she says, adding that the area is growing, too, contributing more children to the schools.

The program supports itself completely by the fees paid by the parents. Of course, the school district helps out by squeezing a few extra hours of space out of some of the classrooms in the buildings, she says.

While at Kids Connection, pupils may play outdoors, in the gym or in the Kids Connection classroom. They may choose games, puzzles, stories or play of their own creation.

"They can join in the group, or they can sit and talk off to the side," says Irwin. "We help them with their homework."

Plus, they get a snack, sometimes helping to prepare it themselves.

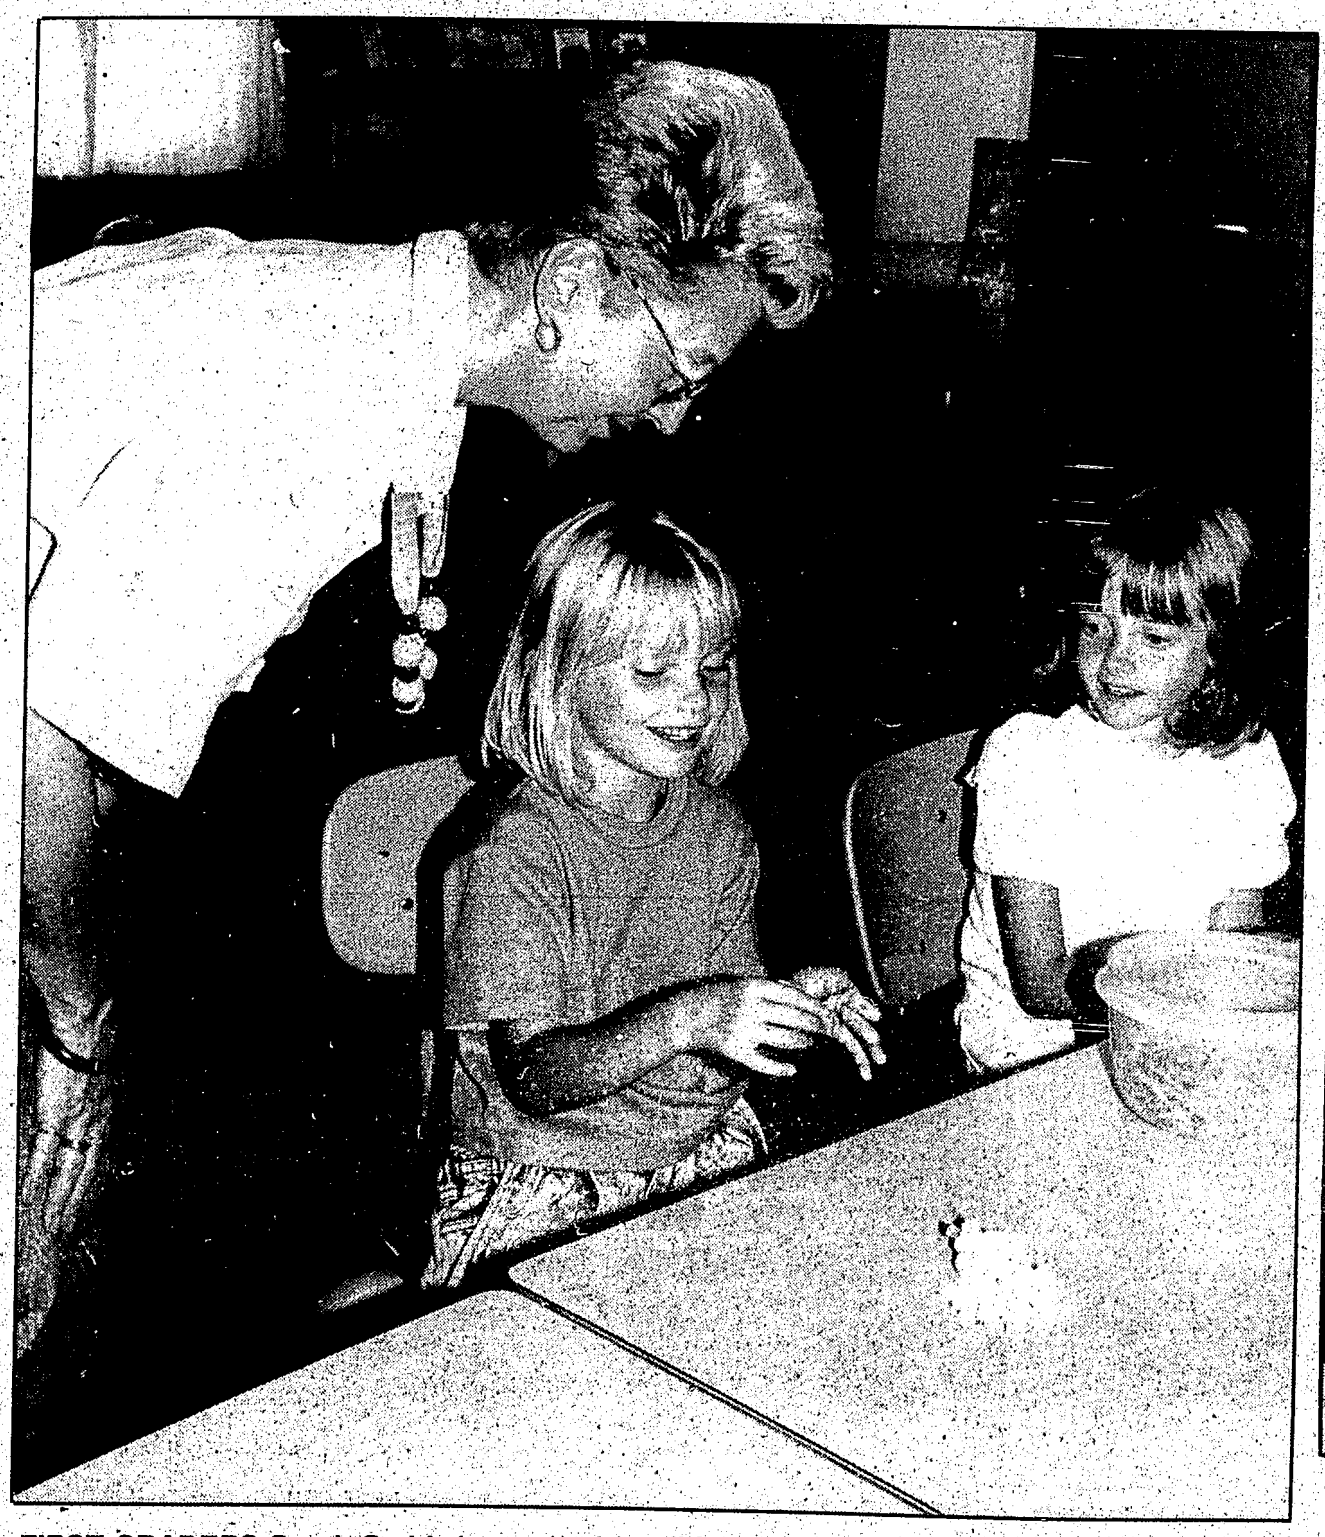

Evelyn Hooper, who assists Andersonville coordinator Sharon Witala, says the children are pleasant and relaxed.

First-grader Kyle Kobe, 6 3/4, even helped her wash dishes last week, proudly telling her that he knew how to vacuum, too.

Kyle smiles a lot when playing with the other children in the program.

Later, he explains why he likes Kids Connection so much.

"The thing is you can play a lot, and you can eat. You can make stuff. I wish I lived here," he says.

FIRST-GRADERS Sarah Smith (center) and Amanda Chandler, both 6, explain their edible creations to Linda Irwin, coordinator of Kids Connection for Clarkston schools.

WITH a bowl of marshmallows at his disposal, Kyle Kobe, 6 3/4, makes a tank with pretzel axles during Kids Connection at Andersvonille Elementary School Sept. 6.

New sign ordinance: Garage sale signs still OK; new rules for new businesses

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

After four years of planning and deliberation, a new sign ordinance has finally found its way into the books in Independence Township.

The ordinance was unanimously approved by the Independence Township Board Sept. 3.

The intent of the 11-page ordinance is to regulate the location, size, construction and manner of display of signs and outdoor advertising to minimize their harmful effects on the public. It covers six varieties of signs and how they are mandated to appear from now on.

The new ordinance covers all new signs erected in the township. Existing signs won't be affected by this ordinance, unless a sign is renovated or a business takes on new ownership.

Due to the length and complexity of the ordinance, a few of its regulations will be outlined. Copies of this ordinance can be obtained at the clerk's office in Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston.

Under the "general conditions" segment of the ordinance, the following regulations will cover all types of signs.

- All signs must advertise a business or service on the premises upon which the sign is located.
- No sign shall be illuminated by other than electrical means. Neon signs are prohibited.
- Electrically illuminated signs cannot be bright enough to interfere with vehicular traffic or aesthetics of the property.
- To preserve the quality of the surrounding landscape, signs will not be allowed that interfere with scenic views.
- Signs attached to roofs and natural features, containing flashing or revolving parts, and mounted on moving vehicles are prohibited.
- Non-illuminated interior window signs, real estate signs, and poli[illegible] signs erected 14 days prior to election are allowed in the township.

Under the "permitted ground signs" section of the ordinance, the following items have been approved.

- Within all non-residential zoning districts, only one ground sign shall be permitted.
- Within all residential districts, only one ground sign shall be permitted at the entrance for the purpose of identifying the development.
- All ground signs shall be set back a minimum of 15 feet from all road rights-of-way.
- The ratio of the width to height of the sign face at the widest and highest points shall not exceed three to one.
- For ground signs constructed on a landscaped berm, the berm shall not exceed a height of three feet above the average finished grade within a 15 foot radius of the location of the sign.

Under this segment, all signs in residentially zoned districts will be limited to four feet in height. The remaining zoning districts will be allowed to have six-foot signs.

Under the "wall signs" section, these signs will be limited to one per premise or per tenant in shopping centers. No wall sign shall be erected to extend above the top of the wall to which it is attached, nor extend beyond the ends of the wall to which it is attached.

"This was a culmination of four years hard work by the planning commission, and it's nice to see its passage."

Trustee Daniel Travis

The vertical dimension of a wall sign shall not be in the excess of six feet.

Temporary signs such as real estate and garage sale signs have been approved in the ordinance. Portable temporary signs for functions related to civic activities or non-profit organizations are limited to one per premise. These signs cannot exceed four feet in height and must be removed after a seven-day period.

Billboards will only be allowed in areas zoned heavy industrial. Its height can't exceed 20 feet above the level of the road upon which the billboard is directed.

Billboards will be limited to a "single face" style with a total surface area not exceeding 200 square feet. Their roadway setbacks have been fixed at a minimum of 50 square feet. Billboards also can't be located within 250 feet of any residentially zoned area.

"Specialty signs," which include directory signs, logographs, restaurant menu boards and changeable copy signs are also covered under the new ordinance.

The new sign ordinance will be policed by the Independence Township Building Department. The department's employees will decide if a sign is in violation of the ordinance and will be responsible for removing abandoned signs.

A sign is considered abandoned if it is located on a parcel 120 days after the business or activity has vacated the property.

Trustee Daniel Travis said he was pleased and relieved at the ordinance's approval.

"This was a culmination of four years hard work by the planning commission, and it's nice to see its passage," he said.

Not just for farmers

Julie Campe

It's always fun when the latest edition of "The Old Farmer's Almanac" comes out.

The 1992 edition by Robert B. Thomas observes the 200th anniversary of the publication, the oldest continuously published periodical in North America. This issue is the largest ever.

As usual, it is filled with trivia, facts, trends, recipes, gardening tips and lots of articles.

In the line of stories, for instance, it tells:

■ How to become immortal: Endorse a controversial product, as did physician-legislator Joseph Guillotin during the French Revolution, or discover a disease, as did Alois Alzheimer in 1906.

■ How to keep your boiled lobsters from dying in agony: Put them on ice for 15 minutes and then suddenly drop them into water brought to a rolling boil — they won't wriggle or thrash for more than 30 seconds. (However, since lobsters don't have a a cerebral cortex, their ability to experience pain is "nonexistent," according to scientists, so this may actually be an unnecessary precaution.), and

■ Weird Competitions You Can Enter: One example: The Coon-Dog Barking Contest first Saturday after the Fourth of July in Saluda, N.C. (Just bring your hound dog — doesn't even have to be a purebred, as long as it's not cocker spaniel — to town).

As for facts and trivia, get a load of these:

■ According to the Environmental Protection Agency, the following levels are acceptable in our food: an average of two maggots per 17.5-ounce can of tomatoes, 35 fruit fly eggs per eight ounces of golden raisins, one live insect in each of two containers of green coffee beans or two dead bugs in five containers, and one rodent hair per 100 grams of chocolate.

■ If you are chatting with a friend in a coffee shop and you are American, you probably touch each other twice an hour. If you are English, you probably do not touch each other at all. If you are French, you touch each other 110 times an hour. If you are Puerto Rican, you touch each other 180 times an hour.

■ If you keep a loaded handgun or rifle in your home, the weapon is about 43 times more likely to kill you or a family member than it is to protect you against an intruder.

■ In 1982, there were 3 million VCRs in America. In 1992, an estimated 75 million are in America. In comparison, there were 142 million televisions in 1982 and an estimated 180 million in 1992.

■ If the world were a village of 1,000 people, it would have five soldiers, seven teachers, one doctor and three refugees driven from home by war or drought.

The book also offers unconventional uses of salt:

■ Boil eggs in salty water and they'll peel easily.

■ Drop peeled apples, pears and potatoes in cold, lightly salted water, and they won't turn brown.

■ To clean a really greasy pan, first put salt in it and wipe it with a paper towel.

Readers of "The Old Farmer's Almanac" submitted the following gardening tips:

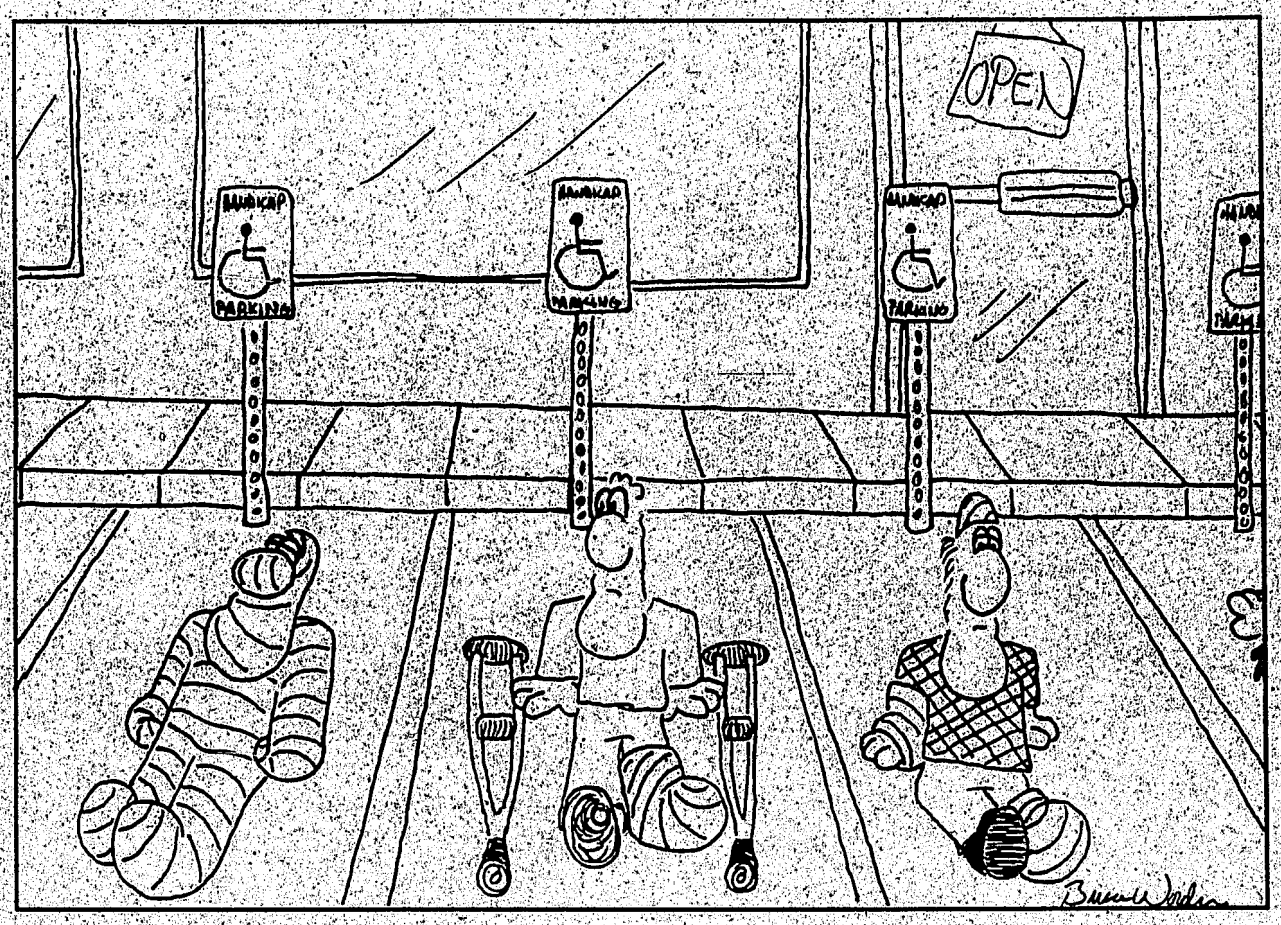

■ To keep aphids away from roses, plant garlic and mint around the roses.

■ Save toilet paper tubes, cut them in half, fill with potting soil, and stand up in a tray. Use for planting seeds. When young plants are ready, plant them, tube and all. The tube helps stop cutworms.

And the book predicts that 200 years from now, the following will still be with us: gridlock, television commercials, crime, taxes, the generation gap and toilet training.

Perhaps we can add "The Old Farmer's Almanac" to that list.

A couple stories of raccoons and prayers

What would you do if you woke up from a sound sleep, in the middle of the night, and saw what appeared to be a raccoon in your bedroom?

Well, let me tell you what Bill Offer, of Oxford, did.

It was closing in on 4 a.m. when he awoke and saw this animal walking across their bedroom window sill . . . on his wife's side.

She stirred a little and Bill cautioned her to stay still, though he doesn't believe she awakened.

It was quite dark and the Offers do not have any of those little night-lights that some of us use to avoid toe stubbing in our nocturnal walks.

Bill couldn't hear the animal, but assumed, after waiting a while, that it had left the bedroom.

He started through the house, where there was more light from the moon and outdoor light. He saw something make a turn toward the basement stairs, and followed.

Just as he took the last step he saw the raccoon turn into a fireplace and disappear.

Ah, ha! What it was and where it came from was clear. With the fireplace blocked, Bill investigated. The critter had taken a drink in both bathrooms and helped itself to a loaf of bread. But, that's about all.

It liked the story, and I liked Suzan Hodge's remark when Bill related his experience to her.

Sue said something like, "That's nothing. I had five in my garage one night this week."

Story tellers like Bill should ask questions first so they will know how much they have to embellish their yarn.

You can count on Herb Thurber to have a comment for about any topic. Talking to a grocer about education, he said, "If you were to sell a piece of meat that's as bad as they graduate you'd be put in jail."

Herb repeated a comment he heard from a man about to commit a little fraud: "If we get caught, diamonds or handcuffs, they both shine."

-----0-----

I'm having difficulty describing the warm, emotional feeling I had recently when I stopped to chat with Aldo Sorbelli.

We were at Oxford Hills Golf and Country Club. We've known each other for many years, played golf together and visited often through those years.

Aldo's about 75 and most of his rounds of golf are under that figure, which is where we differ greatly. Golf, though, is what we have in common . . . until now.

Aldo, a caring and consciencious individual, said, "You know, Jim, I include you in my prayers every day."

Almost incredulously, I responded, "You do?" "Yeah," he said. "I pray for you and . . ." he named some other friends.

This happened over a month ago, and I still get that satisfying chill every time I think of Aldo praying for me.

What a nice thing to do for someone.

Bill of Rights: For all of us -- individually

BY DON RUSH

The Bill of Rights is probably the single most provocative and daring work man has ever produced. Though nearly 200 years old, this document, above all others, guarantees our freedom. Personal freedom.

These written words are our birth rights as Americans. These are the words that grant us the rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness as decreed in The Declaration of Independence, which was signed 14 years earlier.

The Bill of Rights was written several years after the Constitution of the United States. It was added to the Constitution to prevent government abuse upon the individual.

"The conventions of a number of the States having, at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added: And as extending to the ground of public confidence in the Government, will best insure beneficent ends of its institution . . ."

In other words, some folks way back in the late 1700s, were concerned that government could and probably would abuse the powers granted it by the Constitution.

The idea of individual self worth, is something that has set us apart from the rest of the world. The idea of personal freedoms, the freedom to our own property (which includes our individual bodies), makes us different.

Americans are the mongrels of the world. A very small percent of us are purebred this or that; we are a breed unto ourselves. We have an attitude, an air about us. And that air is individualism.

The individual can work for the individual — he or she doesn't have to work for the masses. They can choose to, but they don't have to.

Maybe now, more than any other time in the history of the world, we can see why our individual rights are something we don't want to give up, something we should fight for, something we should make sure our government or special interest groups don't chip away at.

Now, because we are all watching the apparent fall of the biggest social blunder of all time -- communism. Communism, a social ill, is based on the individual working for the good of the masses. Communism never thought of the individual, except that he/she would be taken care of.

Not so in this union.

Think about this . . . isn't this some sort of coincidence: the 200th birthday of the great rights of mankind and the crumbling of communism all within months of each other? Isn't there some sort of poetic justice in this? Isn't there a light flashing over all our heads signaling we've got something special here?

Now, more than ever, each and every man, woman and child who is benefiting from the Bill of Rights should become acquainted with them. More than ever, this is not the time to take the great rights for granted. Below are the ten rights that have forever changed the world. Please read them to yourselves and your families.

Sept. 17 has been proclaimed Bill of Rights day, although the document was actually ratified Dec. 15, 1791.

Don Rush, a former Independence Township resident, is assistant to the publisher.

200 years old and going strong

First Amendment . . . Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Second Amendment . . . A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and beat Arms, shall not be infringed.

Third Amendment . . . No Soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

Fourth Amendment . . . The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

Fifth Amendment . . . No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or Naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

Sixth Amendment . . . In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defence.

Seventh Amendment . . . In suits at comon law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact, tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

Eighth Amendment . . . Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

Ninth Amendment . . . The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparge others retained by the people.

Tenth Amendment . . . The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

Banish thoughts of aging by counting up blessings

Jim Fitzgerald

Someone suggested that I, as a senior citizen, should urge everyone to patronize next week's Beary Beary Best Bazaar and Raffle, which benefits senior citizens who have much bigger problems than I do. OK. But first, my most comparatively minor problem: When does a citizen - especially me - become senior?

When I was very young, I thought grandparents were automatically senior citizens. Then, at age 43, I became a grandfather, and I certainly wasn't a senior citizen. I was a young father whose oldest child just happened to grow up too fast. Even those member-hungry senior-citizen organizations were the most relaxed admission standards require that you be at least 50. I didn't qualify.

To buttress my youth, I told lame jokes. I said I didn't mind having a grandchild, but I wasn't so sure about sleeping with a grandmother.

Flash forward 22 years, to Labor Day 1991. I was sitting on the floor, playing with my latest grandchild, 10-month-old Adam Fitz. As usual, I was getting a kick out of being a grandpa. But I wasn't feeling like a senior citizen.

An adult entered the room with news from a Flint hospital: "Congratulations, you're a great-grandfather." That first grandchild, Michele, had just given birth to Grace Elizabeth Guerra, 7 pounds, 20 inches. Oh my.

Now the lame joke is, I don't mind having a great grandchild, but I'm not so sure about having a grandmother for a daughter.

And I'm still not so sure about being a senior citizen. At 65, I'm old enough to ride free on city buses. But first I must go to the City-County Building and formally apply for a senior citizen's bus pass. I won't do it.

I told my wife the city is already deep in the red, thanks partly to a transportation system that requires huge tax subsidies. I said I could afford the fare, so I'd decided to be a generous, civic-minded fellow and forgo the freebie.

She said I just didn't want to officially declare myself a senior citizen. She is right.

Anyway, forget me. There is an elderly woman, recently out of the hospital, who was discovered lying on the floor in an unfurnished downtown apartment. A few blocks away, there was a terminally ill old man dying alone.

These citizens needed help and received it through the Downtown Senior Citizens' Center. Furniture was moved into the woman's home, and she was given housekeeping aid. The dying man was eased through his last days by caring volunteers who visited him, arranged care for his dog, and became his friends.

That's typical of the splendid work done by the nonprofit downtown center, which is on the fourth floor of the Central United Methodist Church at Adams and Woodward. Noon meals are offered daily, along with a variety of recreation and social aid programs. There's a special van for the handicapped, parties, trips and classes.

Around 400 oldsters are registered. According to executive director Mary Jane Hock, "half are over 70 years old and 80 percent are living below the poverty level. The most salient fact is that only 22 of these people live with someone else. Most spent their lives working in low-paying or non-Social Security kinds of jobs and have left their neighborhoods and old homes to live cheaply in downtown high-rises converted from former commercial buildings and in very old apartment buildings and boarding houses."

Each year the center stages the Beary Beary Best Bazaar and Raffle to raise money for trips and craft supplies. "New and used clothing and baked goods are sold, prizes raffled, a jazz band plays, and the Oldsters Acting Troop performs," Hock said.

This year's bazaar is Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 11 and 12, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., at the church. If you're downtown, stop in. Or send a check to DSCC, Central United Methodist Church, 23 E. Adams, Detroit 48226.

It would make a lot more sense than worrying about whether being a great-grandfather makes me a senior citizen, or just the same old poop who sometimes forgets who very lucky I am.

Letter to the Editor

Who's killing the goose?

Recently, two major supermarket chains have offered a 10 percent discount to senior citizens on one day of the week. Some elderly people, on small fixed incomes, must appreciate the opportunity to save $20 or more per month.

However, according to an employee of one of the stores, some shoppers are killing the goose.

When a 70-year-old person is checked out with a load of baby items or $300 worth of groceries for two people, a tore manager might contact "Believe It or Not," but he is more apt to simply realize that the 10 percent offer has gone amok.

One elderly man, taking advantage of a special sale, was being checked out with a load of Pampers. This was not 10 percent day, but he insisted that, since he had been in the store that week on the special day, he felt that he was entitled to the discount. Some may think that he may have been incontinent, but it is more likely that he was inconsiderate.

The 10 percent days may soon be gone because they may have originally been intended to attract senior citizens long enough to familiarize them with a particular store and make them regular customers.

However, I wouldn't like to think that a less desirable quirk of human nature might be responsible for the demise of the goose.

Presidents' residence

The White House — the symbol of the American presidency throughout the world — celebrates its 199th birthday this year.

In the historic home, every president except George Washington has lived and conducted the business of the United States.

The White House cornerstone was laid on Oct. 13, 1792, following a nationwide competition for the design of an executive mansion.

Irish architect James Hoban won the contest with a plan based on the country houses of the British Isles. The mansion later became known as the "White House" because its sandstone structure was painted white.

In August 1814, the White House was burned to the ground by British troops. Before escaping, First Lady Dolley Madison was able to rescue the 1797 Gilbert Stuart portrait of George Washington that now hangs in the East Room.

After the fire, the White House was restored under Hoban's supervision. Today, it receives more than 1.5 million visitors each year.

Most schools report rise in student enrollment

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Six of the eight public schools in the Clarkston school district are reporting rises in student attendance so far this year.

William Neff, director of administrative services for the school district, provided the Clarkston Board of Education with an attendance report Sept. 9. He said that there are presently 5,650 students attending school in the district.

This is an increase of more than 126 students at this time last year. The number also represents a surplus of 90 students than earlier projected by Stanfred, a district-hired projection service.

The individual totals for the schools and how they compare to last year's totals are as follow: Andersonville Elementary, 401 (+11); Bailey Lake Elementary, 708 (+69); Clarkston Elementary, 483 (-15); North Sashabaw Elementary, 493 (+17); Pine Knob Elementary, 629 (+28); Clarkston Junior High, 739 (+8); Sashabaw Junior High, 979 (+23) and Clarkston High School, 1,218 (-15).

Neff said the statistics show that the population of elementary schools are getting larger each year, while the two middle schools remain about the same and the high school drops off.

Neff said that the district can expect a lot more students because of the new mobile home park on Mann Road. So far, the park has produced 45 new students this year.

They are presently attending school at either North Sashabaw Elementary, Sashabaw Junior High or Clarkston High School. Neff estimates that the mobile home park will account for 226 new students by January of 1992.

The rise in students is presently overburdening a couple of schools. At Bailey Lake Elementary, three classes exceed the teachers' contractual levels in class size. North Sashabaw and Pine Knob Elementary also claim one fourth-grade class a piece over contractual standards.

At Sashabaw Junior High, the largest junior high in the county, three sixth-grade classes are above contractual limitations.

For now, the schools will look to shuffle students to classes that can accommodate a few extra pupils.

The school district appears to be slowly working its way back up to the enrollment levels of the 1970s. During this decade, about 7,000 students attended school in the district. In the 1980s, the number plummeted, but a resurgence is occurring in this decade.

Neff said he isn't surprised by the rise in this year's enrollment.

"We did expect an increase in students this year," he said. "We've been telling the community for the past two years that our projections showed more students coming in and overcrowding our existing schools.

"Now, we have to face increased class sizes in our present facilities," he added.

"We've been telling the community for the past two years that our projections showed more students coming in and overcrowding our existing schools. Now, we have to face increased class sizes in our present facilities."

New fire code means new rules

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

There's a little more to burning your leaves these days if you're an Independence Township resident.

On Sept. 3, the Independence Township Board unanimously approved the second reading of a fire prevention code, which, among other things, regulates open burning. The ordinance will go into effect this week.

This fall, open burning is allowed Tuesdays, Thursdays and the first and third Saturdays each month from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15. A permit is required (call 625-1924).

According to Fire Chief Gar Wilson, the regulation of open burning will help improve safety and prepare area residents for a statewide ban of burning that will probably go into effect in 1995.

Wilson said the eventual statewide ban is being recommended for environmental purposes.

The other sections of the township's fire prevention code deal with fire equipment and personal storage yard standards.

Under the open burning segment of the fire code, an individual must obtain a permit from the Independence Township Fire Department before burning on his or her property. This permit will give the individual permission to burn for an entire year on the days designated by the township.

Individuals with fewer than three acres must also obtain a metal container before burning on their land.

No open burning shall be allowed in or on any public road right-of-way or safety path. Materials burned in the fire must also be from that particular site.

Bonfires and campfires are permitted as long as they don't burn for more than three hours.

Other provisions about open burning include:

- The burning may not being within 50 feet of any structure.
- The burning may not be used for waste disposal purposes.
- All burnings must be supervised by a person at least 14 years old.

Under an added amendment, open burning of yard waste in Independence will only be permitted during the following times:

- On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays during the periods of of March 1-15, May 15-30, and December 1-15.
- On Tuesdays, Thursdays and the first and third Saturdays of the month during the period of Sept. 15 through Nov. 15. No burning shall be permitted on Oct. 30 and 31 because they are Devil's Night and Halloween.

The hours for open burning during these days will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. These hours will be extended to 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. during daylight savings time.

At this time, there is no punishment for offenders. Wilson said people not abiding by the rules will be told where they can get a permit.

Permits can be obtained by calling the fire department at 625-1924.

Stricklin appointed to planning commission

An area real estate broker has been selected to fill Harry Mosher's seat on the Independence Township Planning Commission.

Rainee Stricklin was unanimously approved by the Independence Township Board Sept. 3. She will be replacing Mosher, who retired in July due to health problems.

Stricklin has been a member of the township's board of review for the past four years. She has lived in the Independence Township area for more than 20 years.

Supervisor Frank Ronk said Stricklin should be beneficial to the planning commission.

"Rainee's done a yeoman's job on the board of review," Ronk said. "If she puts the effort into the planning commission that she did on the board of review, she'll be a great asset."

Stricklin will attend her first planning commission meeting Sept. 12. The newly elected commissioner will be taking over Mosher's term, which expires Dec. 31, 1993.

Day care governed by ordinance

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The regulation of day care facilities will no longer be a mystery in Independence Township.

On Sept. 3, the Independence Township Board voted unanimously to approve the second reading of and adopt a day care ordinance, which goes into effect upon publication.

The amendment was OK'd because the existing township ordinance didn't specifically address day care but included them with nursery schools as a special land use in residential zones.

According to township planning consultant Richard Carlisle, the amendment should upgrade the township's standards and comply with new state standards for day care facilities.

Under the new amendment, three types of day care are outlined. They include; a family day care home, a group day care home and a day care center.

Under the ordinance amendment, a family day care home is defined as a private home with six or fewer children under supervision for less than 24 hours. This type of facility can't be regulated by the township or the state.

A group day care home, on the other hand, can be regulated. It's defined as a private home with between seven and 12 children. They will be confined to residential areas. Carlisle said they will most likely be allowed on the fringes of subdivisions and developments so not to invade the sanctity of numerous, neighboring homes.

The amendment should upgrade the township's standards and comply with new state standards for day care facilities.

A day care center is defined as a facility other than a residence. Catering to more than six children, it will also be regulated by the state. The location of these types of facilities will most likely be in commercially zoned areas.

Unemployed financial advice

Gone are the days when a loyal employee could count on a long-time career with one employer.

If you have been the unlucky recipient of a "pink slip," keep in mind that unemployment need not lead to financial disaster. A positive outlook and wise financial decisions can minimize the damage, says the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

Unemployment insurance benefits are for everyone

As a rule, if you have lost your job through no fault of your own and are actively seeking another job, you are entitled to unemployment benefits. Since each state has different eligibility requirements, you will need to check with your local unemployment office to see if you qualify.

Make the most of your sovereigns pay

If you receive a severance package, you may have to choose between taking the funds in one lump sum or stretching them out over several weeks or months.

CPAs generally recommend that you opt for the lump sum so that you can invest the money and start earning interest right away. What's more, if your former employer's financial stability is questionable, taking a lump sum gives you one less thing to worry about.

Protect your 401(k) and pension funds

When you leave a job, you may receive a sizable sum from your tax-deferred 401(k) retirement plan or pension plan. Because this money is earmarked for retirement, an early withdrawal could trigger trouble.

To avoid hefty taxes and penalties, it's best to roll over the proceeds of your 401(k) or other pension plans into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). Any money you don't roll over is taxed as ordinary income. If you are under age 59 1/2, you may be hit with a 10 percent penalty as well.

If you think that you may be forced to use some of your retirement savings to meet living expenses, invest your funds in a liquid account. This way, your money will not be tied up in a long-term investment, and taxes and penalties will be due only on the amount you actually withdraw.

Staying insured

Employers with 20 people or more are required to offer medical insurance to departing employees. Regardless of whether you are fired or leave a company voluntarily, you and your dependents can continue to receive health coverage for up to 18 months, providing you pay for it yourself.

If your spouse works, it may be cheaper for you to get family coverage under your spouse's plan. But find out if your spouse's coverage will last for the duration of your unemployed period.

If you have a family to protect and most of your life insurance came from an employer's policy, you should also consider picking up life insurance coverage. Term insurance is generally the least costly way to go.

Manage your debt carefully

If you can't meet your monthly payments, talk to your creditors. Most are willing to work with responsible borrowers. Explain your situation and offer to send smaller payments.

Some lenders may agree to rewrite your loan to lower your monthly payments; others my even offer a forebearance agreement that allows you to pay nothing or interest only for a few months.

Day care governed by ordinance

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The regulation of day care facilities will no longer be a mystery in Independence Township.

On Sept. 3, the Independence Township Board voted unanimously to approve the second reading of and adopt a day care ordinance, which goes into effect upon publication.

The amendment was OK'd because the existing township ordinance didn't specifically address day care but included them with nursery schools as a special land use in residential zones.

According to township planning consultant Richard Carlisle, the amendment should upgrade the township's standards and comply with new state standards for day care facilities.

Under the new amendment, three types of day care are outlined. They include; a family day care home, a group day care home and a day care center.

Under the ordinance amendment, a family day care home is defined as a private home with six or fewer children under supervision for less than 24 hours. This type of facility can't be regulated by the township or the state.

A group day care home, on the other hand, can be regulated. It's defined as a private home with between seven and 12 children. They will be confined to residential areas. Carlisle said they will most likely be allowed on the fringes of subdivisions and developments so not to invade the sanctity of numerous, neighboring homes.

A day care center is defined as a facility other than a residence. Catering to more than six children, it will also be regulated by the state. The location of these types of facilities will most likely be in commercially zoned areas.

Unemployed financial advice

Gone are the days when a loyal employee could count on a long-time career with one employer.

If you have been the unlucky recipient of a "pink slip," keep in mind that unemployment need not lead to financial disaster. A positive outlook and wise financial decisions can minimize the damage, says the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

Unemployment insurance benefits are for everyone

As a rule, if you have lost your job through no fault of your own and are actively seeking another job, you are entitled to unemployment benefits. Since each state has different eligibility requirements, you will need to check with your local unemployment office to see if you qualify.

Make the most of your sovereigns pay

If you receive a severance package, you may have to choose between taking the funds in one lump sum or stretching them out over several weeks or months.

CPAs generally recommend that you opt for the lump sum so that you can invest the money and start earning interest right away. What's more, if your former employer's financial stability is questionable, taking a lump sum gives you one less thing to worry about.

Protect your 401(k) and pension funds

When you leave a job, you may receive a sizable sum from your tax-deferred 401(k) retirement plan or pension plan. Because this money is earmarked for retirement, an early withdrawal could trigger trouble.

Residents hope township spurns condo project

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

A small group of Independence Township residents are presently playing the waiting game with developers who are determined to put a condominium project in their backyards.

The developers, pushing a 93-unit condominium development dubbed the "Pines of Clarkston," have yet to make their intentions known after their proposal was nixed for the second time by the Independence Township Planning Commission in July.

The petitioners, headed by the Wineman and Komer Building Co. in Southfield, are seeking to convert a 33-acre parcel near the intersection of Maybee Road and Dixie Highway from single-family residential to a planned unit development (PUD).

A PUD is a rezoning of a parcel of land in accordance with a specific site plan. It allows different uses on one site and requires approvals from the planning commission and township board.

In early April, the petitioners tried to sell the planning commission on a 105-unit condominium project and were unanimously shunned. On July 25, they came back with another plan, which would trim the $150,000 units by 12.

Again, they were denied on a vote of 5-1. The commissioners voting in favor of the motion said that a condominium development would not be appropriate because a lot of the area's existing condos are still vacant.

The developer's attorney told the planning commission that his clients may seek a lawsuit if they are denied any further.

The developers presently have two options. They could re-submit another set of plans to the planning commission or take their PUD before the township board for approval. In PUDs, the township board has final say and, historically, they follow the recommendations of their planning commission.

Sherril Bailey, an owner of one of the three homes abutting the property on Maybee Road, said she is strongly opposed to the condominiums.

"My neighbors and I are going to fight this thing," she said. "We've all invested a lot of money into our homes, and I don't think we should be pushed out by an out-of-town developer.

"This project is going to drastically affect our properties values," she added. "Who do you know that wants to live next to large-scale condominiums?"

Neighbor Tom Treece concurs with Bailey.

"I bought my house several years ago, knowing that this land was zoned single-family residential, and I'd like it to stay that way," Treece said. "If they rezone that land, it's going to put me in a bind. Those condos could cause the value of my home to go down because they aren't selling real well around here."

Bailey went on to say that the residents near the proposed site will consider legal action if the developers obtain their rezoning from the township.

For now, however, it's uncertain what the developers plan to do next. Officials at the Wineman and Komer Building Co. refused to comment.

Whatever happens, Bailey said she and her neighbors will be there to put their two cents worth in.

"We're just three families and we want to remain in the Clarkston area. We chose it because it's one of the prettier areas we've seen," she said. "If someone could prove to me that another condominium development would be beneficial to our community, I'd back down.

"But no one has stepped forward yet," she added.

B&B issue up again

The bed and breakfast issue has resurfaced in Clarkston but under different conditions.

The Clarkston Zoning Board of Appeals is to meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 12, at the Village Hall to hear a request by Joan and Floyd Kopietz for the use change of a non-conforming commercial property at 155 N. Main St. The couple wish to convert a former funeral home into a five-room bed and breakfast.

Several months ago the village council turned down a request to establish a bed breakfast on Main Street, but that was with residential rather than non-conforming commercial property.

Funding group formed to aid ailing cancer patient

BY DENNIS V. CARTER
Clarkston New Staff Writer

Friends and relatives of an area cancer patient have shown her what friends are for.

Holli Schilling of Independence Township was diagnosed with breast cancer after a bone scan in June this year.

The cancer was in the fourth stage and had moved onto her spinal cord. According to Schilling, she was told that it was in the final stage.

Schilling wasn't put on chemotherapy but was prescribed a prescription drug called Tamoxifen, which her insurance doesn't cover.

Friends, family and former co-workers of at Dunlap Realtors ERA in Clarkston formed the North Oakland County Branch of "That's What Friends are For" to help finance Schilling's medical expenses.

Dorothy Walker serves as treasurer for the non-profit organization.

"We put this together specifically to help Holli," said Walker. "She has medical bills that her insurance won't cover, and we are hoping that she will eventually be able to have a bone marrow transplant. We want people to know about her situation."

According to Schilling, all other means of medical treatment must be exhausted before the Autuglous (bone marrow transplant) procedure can be administered.

"Autuglous has been used for about 15 years and has been successful in other cases, but the state of Michigan looks upon it as experimental, so my insurance won't cover it," explained Schilling.

According to Schilling, insurance companies in 42 other states cover this type of treatment, which has led the group to push for coverage in Michigan.

"We are starting petition drives to have insurance companies in Michigan cover this type of medical treatment," she said. "Other states do, and this is important for people who need this type of medical care."

The fund-raising organization has several projects in the works. One is a Bowl-a-thon set for Sunday, Oct. 27, at the 300 Bowl on Cass Lake Road, Waterford Township.

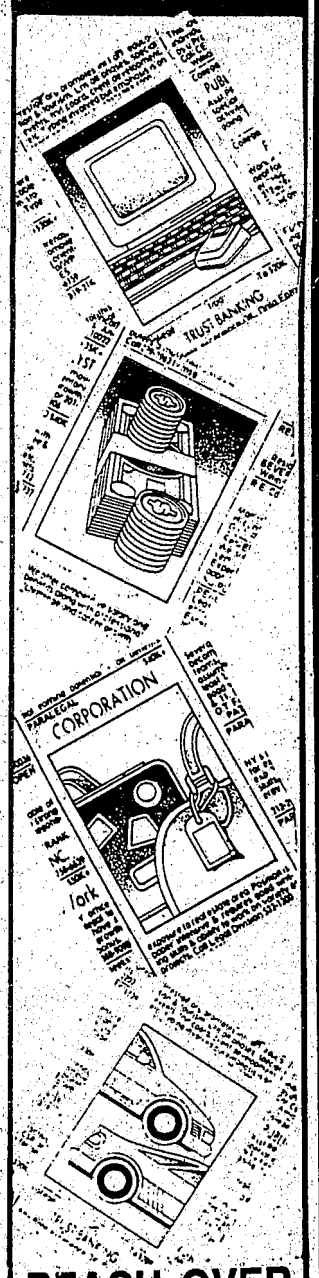

Sponsors and those wishing to make pledges should contact Tari Garcia at 625-0200 or Becky Kelly at 394-0246.

According to Walker, any contribution will be appreciated, and the non-profit organization will give receipts for all donations.

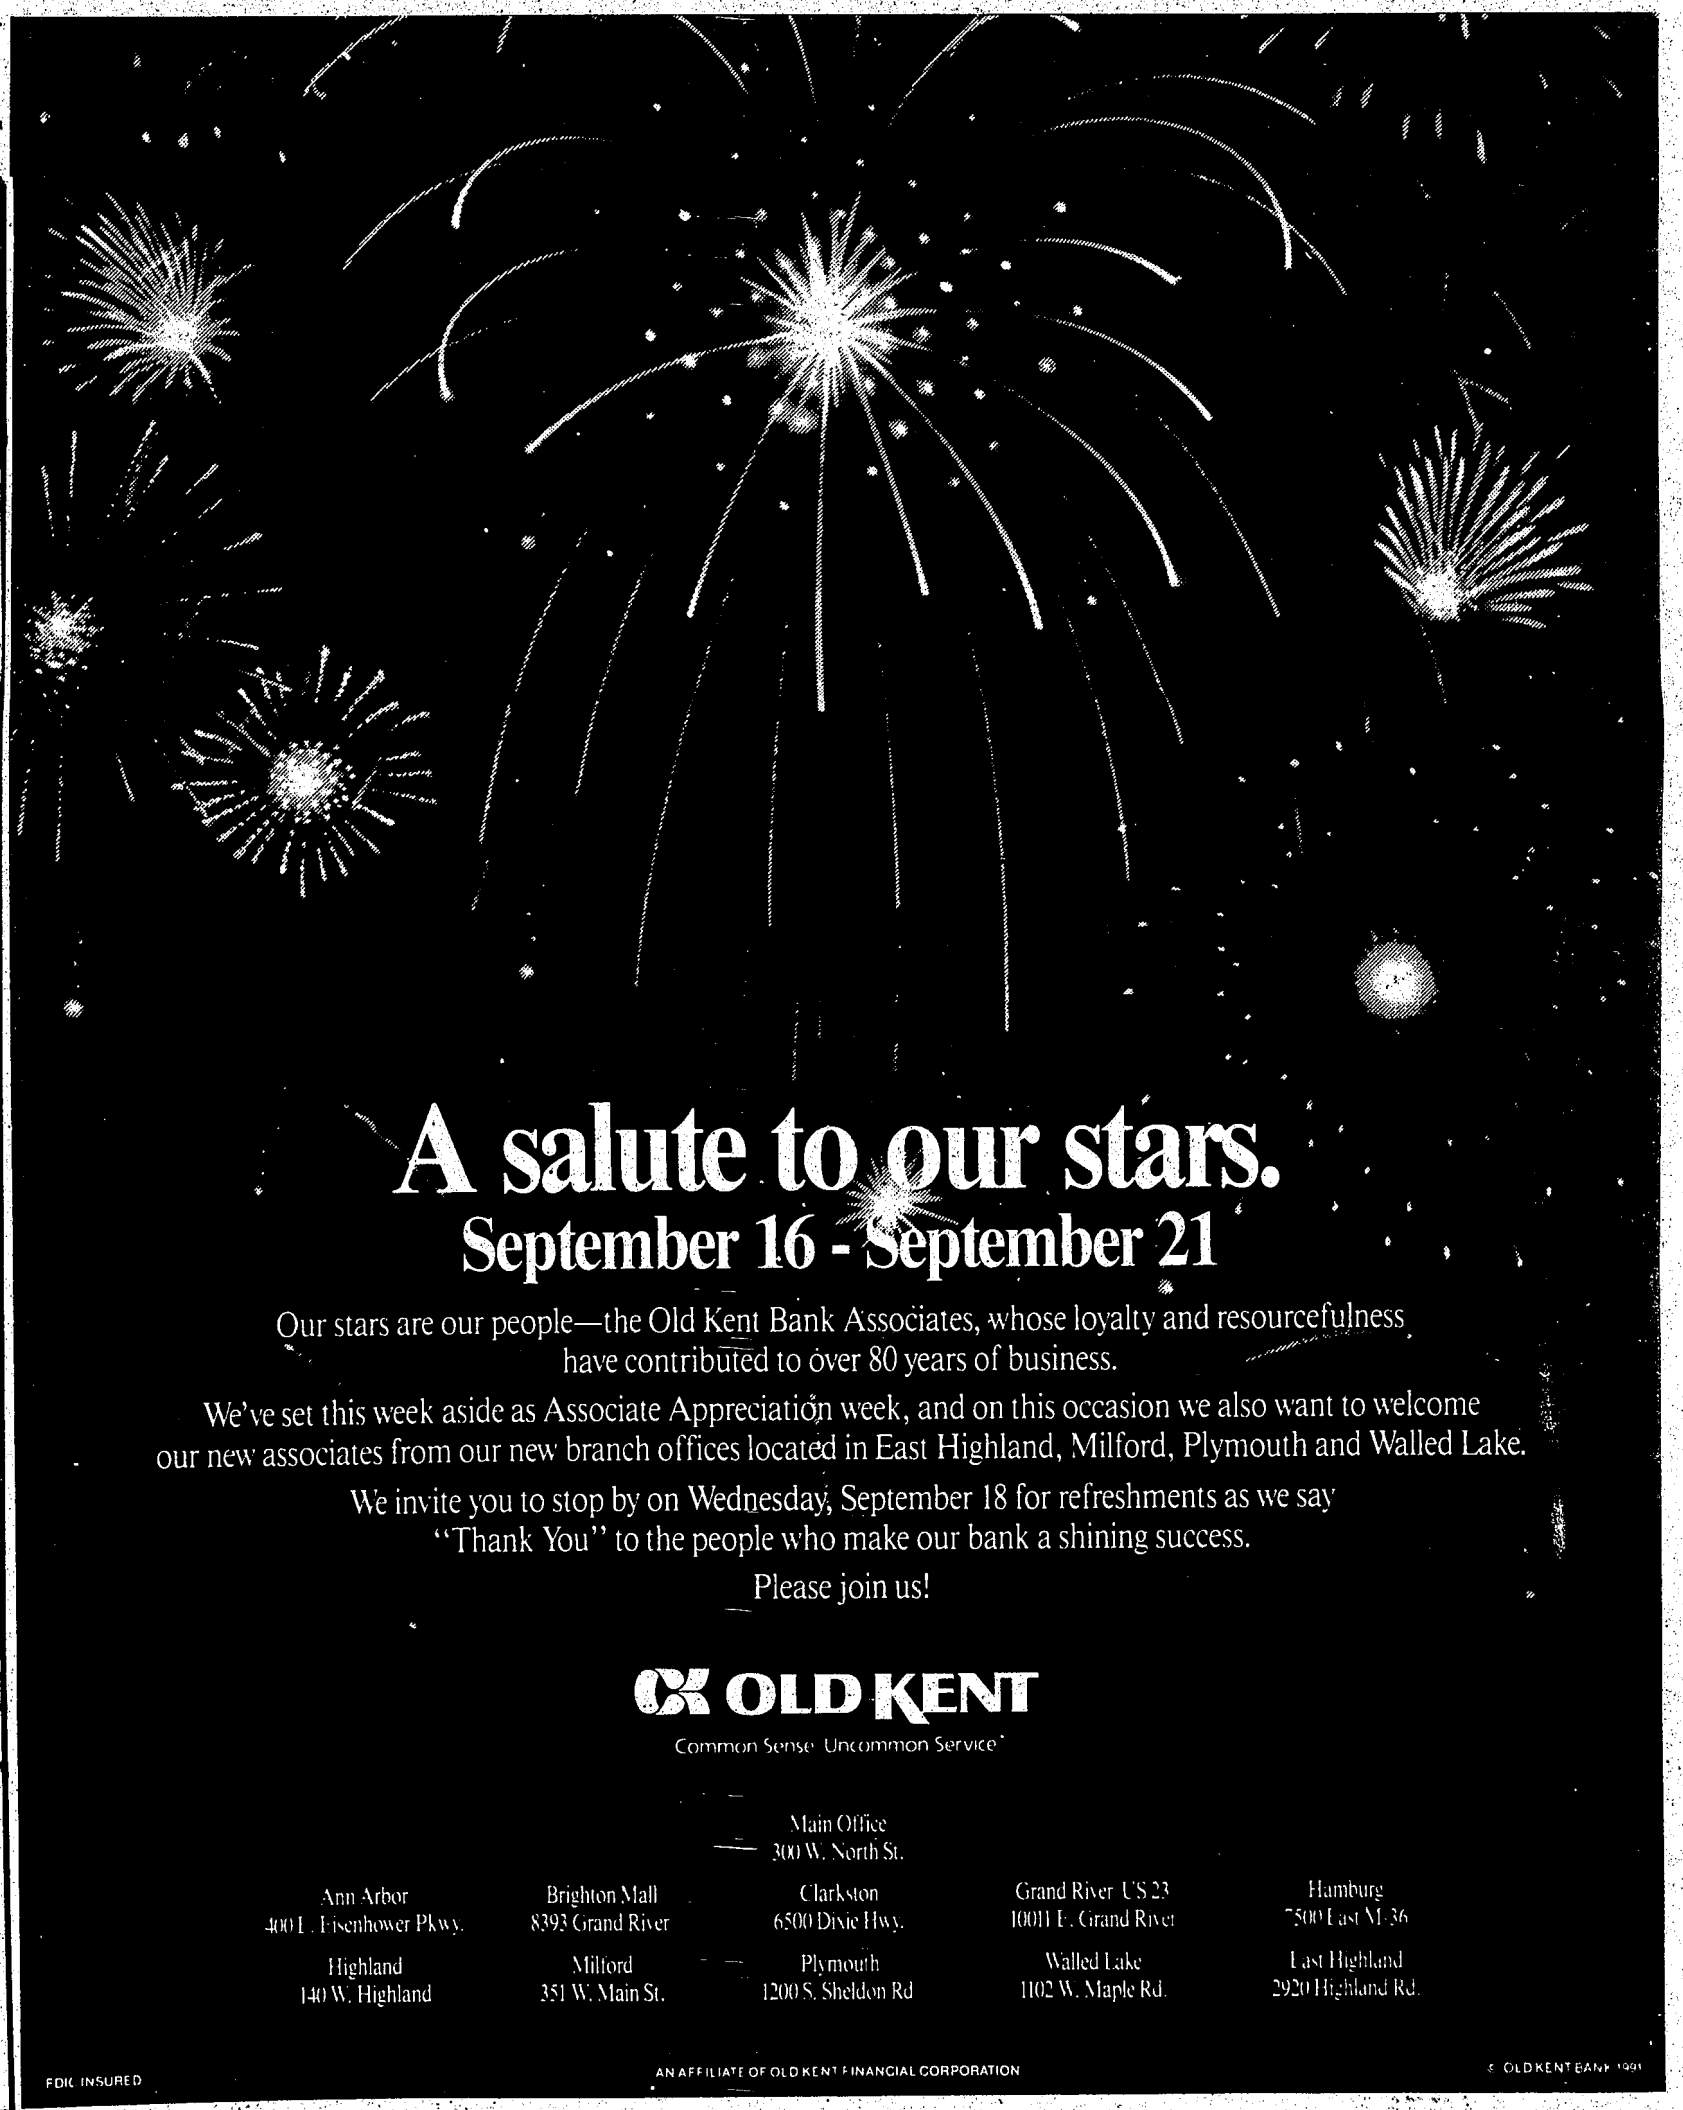

"We want the public to know we are on the up and up," she said. "We are totally a non-profit organization dedicated to helping Holli in her situation. We just want the people to know that we are doing this because we care about Holli — that's what friends are for."

Wolves lasso Colts

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Troy defenders had their sights on quarterback Dugan Fife Friday night.

But the far-sighted Colts disastrously overlooked Wolf center Nathan Smith, guards Tom Duty and Dave Hernandez and tackles Steve Hunkele, Jason Hovanec and Andy Lampela.

Excellent pass protection gave Fife plenty of time to pick apart the Colts as the Wolves topped Troy, 30-13, in the season opener.

"They got better as the night went along," said a pleased Clarkston head coach Kurt Richardson about his offensive line, which is without a returning starter.

Clarkston led 14-0 after the first quarter and 22-7 at the half. Troy closed to within 22-13 after three quarters but was shut out in the final quarter.

The most beautiful drive of the night was not the ride home for the Colts. Rather, it was the third Clarkston touchdown drive which increased the lead to 22-7 with 4:28 left in the half.

If that drive is a sign of things to come, all remaining Wolf opponents are in for trouble and it's a main reason why Richardson feels he has a playoff-bound team.

In that drive, Jon Wyniemko made one of his nine catches on the night (he totaled 83 yards), Jeremy Burke snared another one for 15 yards and Dave Smith grabbed another one and bounced off a defender for 21 yards. These catches were complemented with some strong running by halfback Dan Griffiths, who later got into the air act by culminating the drive by catching an 8-yard TD pass from Fife. And to top it all, Fife faked out the Colts on an uncontested bootleg to the left side for the PAT.

"He (Fife) called that one," said Richardson about Fife, who he describes as "a major college defensive back" to go along with his quarterbacking skills.

"I felt good, confident," said Fife, a fourth-starter at quarterback who turned down many college football offers in order to play basketball at the University of Michigan next year. "The only worry was the inexperience of the line, but they're for real. We've got the time to throw."

THE Troy defensive line saw plenty of this Sept. 6, quarterback Dugan Fife and the Wolf offensive line coming right at them. (Related photo on page 21)

Fife took advantage of that time, connecting on 14 of 24 passes for 168 yards. And of those 10 incompletions, nearly all of them were catchable passes.

The 6-foot, 3-inch quarterback also rushed for 50 yards on 11 carries.

"Their strength is Dugan. Even when you put pressure on him, he's able to create things," said first-year Troy coach Gary Griffith, who could have been thinking about one of the night's most exciting plays when Fife was chased out of the pocket and evaded Colt after Colt. It was the type of play when a quarterback scrambles 40 yards, with only about 10 of the 40 downfield.

Coach Richardson said about Fife's Fran Tarkenton imitation, "It was the best run I saw since Mike May in 1985."

Troy could only manage 53 yards in the air, completing three of seven passes.

"Clarkston outplayed us in every phase of the game," said Griffith. Griffith, however, said "We stopped their running game."

But Griffith must have forgotten about Griffiths, who rushed 21 times for 82 of the Clarkston 159 yards (Troy rushed for 158 yards, with about 115 of those yards by halfback Kris Lapado).

Clarkston opened the scoring in the first quarter when Fife hit Wyniemko for a 2-yard touchdown. Matt Smith kicked the PAT.

The Wolves made it 14-0 in the quarter on a 3-yard run by fullback Brian Davis. Matt Smith kicked the PAT.

Lapado's 7-yard touchdown run and a Mike Mitchell kick cut the lead to 14-7. But that beautiful Wolf drive made it 22-7 at the half.

A 17-yard Lapado run cut the Colts' deficit to 22-13 in the third quarter.

CLARKSTON kicker Matt Smith avoided this would-be tackler and dove into the endzone for a PAT.

But Clarkston's defense dug in and Fife hit pay dirt from 1-yard out in the final quarter. Kicker Matt Smith then showed he could do more than just boot the ball as he plunged into the right corner of the endzone for the PAT.

Other rushers for the Wolves were Steve Black with 16 yards on three carries, Justin Tappero totaled five on two carries and Eric Ryan ran once for one.

Luke Fedio also caught one pass for 33 yards.

Leading tacklers for the Wolves were Jeff Tyrell and Fife with six, Nick Shires with five, Ryan with four and Nathan Smith, Chris Combs, E.J. Stumph and Black with three.

Orion netters continue string over Wolves

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Lake Orion varsity girls' tennis team is like the Ever-ready battery bunny.

It's still going and going and going.

The Dragons shut out Clarkston 7-0 Sept. 6 in the season opener at Clintonwood Park.

Lake Orion is already on its way for a ninth straight Greater Oakland Activities League title. Clarkston has finished second during those last eight years.

"They're good all the way down," said Clarkston coach Dick Swartout about the Dragons' depth, noting that Clarkston's "fourth and fifth" doubles also lost to the Wolves (the fourth and fifth doubles were exhibition matches and did not count in the overall team standings).

Dragon coach Cal Darby said in some ways he is a little astonished about his team's string of GOAL championships.

"It's a little surprising because we dominate that sport," said Darby. But he added, "We work hard at practice."

The Dragons also worked hard in the sweep against the Wolves, especially in many of the first sets.

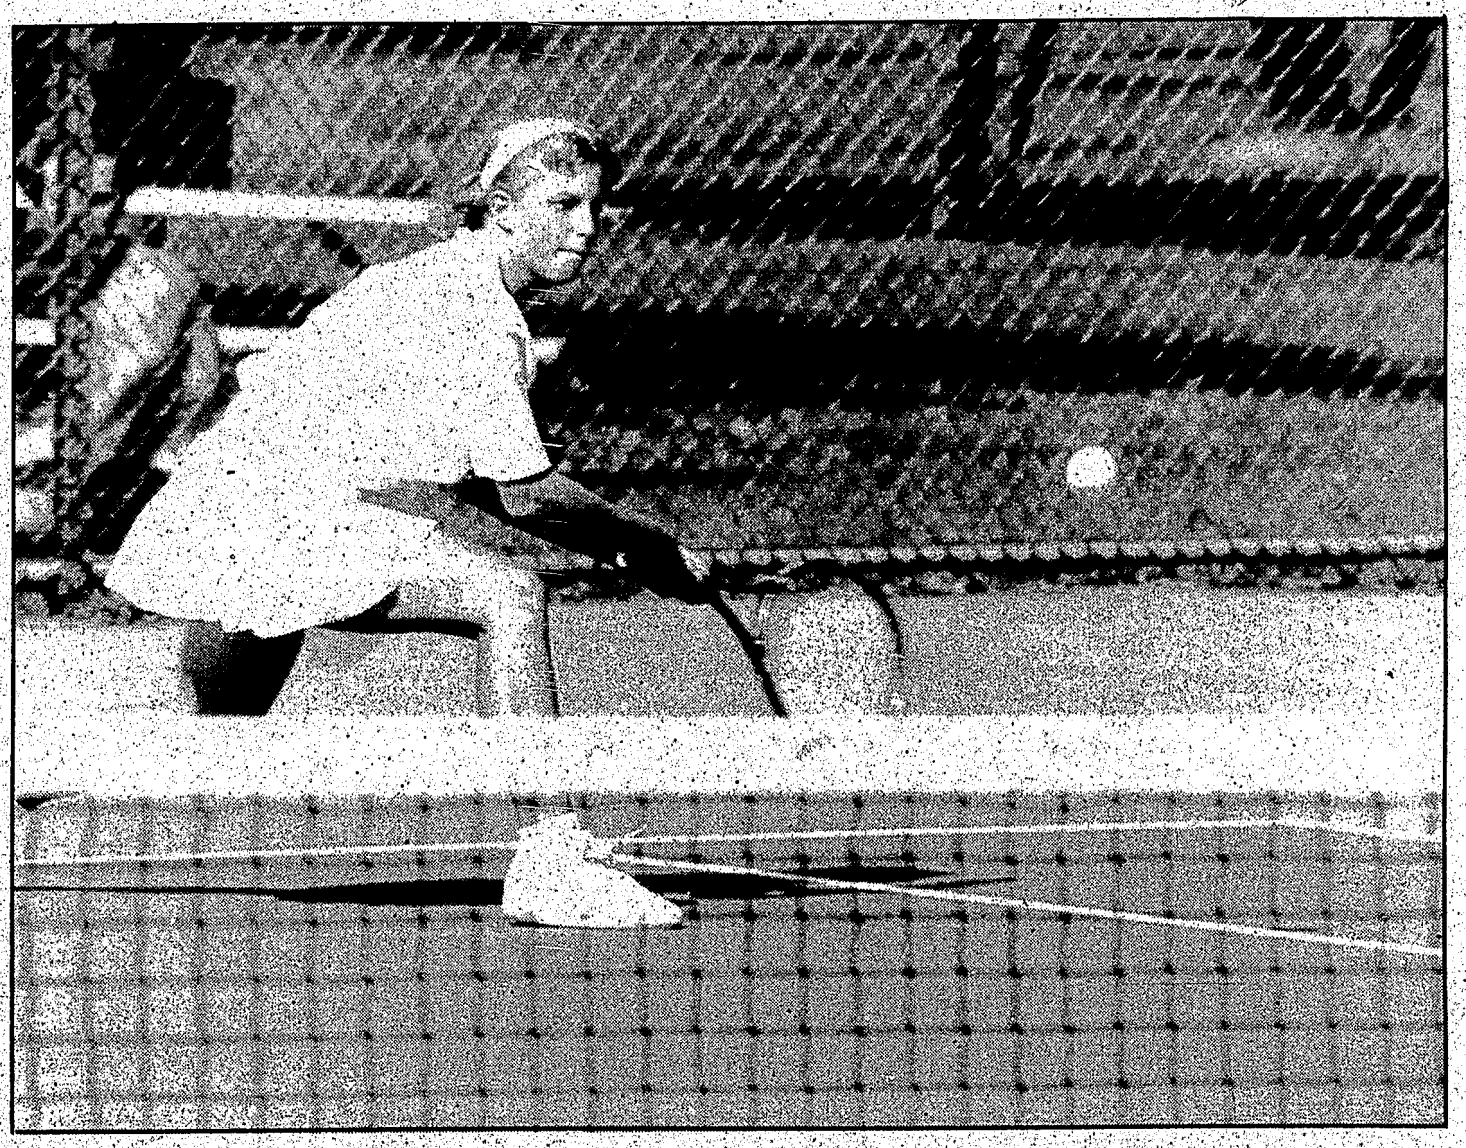

No. 1 seed senior Kristen Plunkett topped sophomore Kristy Swartout 6-0, 6-1. No. 2 Kyna Getsinger ousted Caroline Allison 6-4, 6-3. No 3. Jamie Rop defeated Heather Shaw 7-5, 6-2. No. 4 Paula Mejta stopped Jessica Miller 7-5, 6-1.

The Dragons' No. 1 doubles team of Krista Peterson and Courtney Plunkett defeated Katie Morris and Amanda VanKlaveren 6-1, 6-1. No. 2 doubles Christine Baily and Pam Simmons topped Tracey Ortwine and Naoko Kida 6-4, 6-0. No. 3 Laurie Moses and Nicky Vitta stopped the freshman team of Jody Weatherington and Kelly Wall 6-1, 6-2.

Last year the Dragons also blanked the Wolves 7-0 the first time around but Clarkston narrowed the gap to 5-2 in the second meeting.

"We always play better the second time," said Swartout.

That second time will be at the Dragons' courts Sept. 18.

Cagers edged in OT

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI

Heather Steinhelper gave her team sudden life, but a few minutes later it was sudden death for the Clarkston varsity girls' basketball team Sept. 5.

After host Rochester went up by three points with only nine seconds remaining in regulation, Steinhelper nailed her second 3-pointer of the evening with three seconds left to knot up the game at 43-43 and send it into overtime.

Courtney Whittaker's basket briefly put the Wolves ahead, but Rochester's Emily Eichenberg scored four of her total eight points in OT to help the Falcons to a 49-45 non-league victory.

"We had an off-night shooting, but played very hard," said Clarkston coach Larry Mahrle about the game that seesawed all evening. "Rochester is a very good basketball team."

The "off-night" was the Wolves' shooting, hitting on only 14 of 51 shots (27 percent) from the field.

The Wolves also didn't help themselves from the charity line, sinking 15 of 28 (54 percent). Rochester converted on 11 of 17 (64 percent).

Mahrle said a fairly small number of turnovers (18) helped the Wolves stay in the game.

"The Big Three" of Clarkston, juniors Steinhelper (5-10), Alyson McChesney 5-10) and Courtney Whittaker (5-9), also helped keep Clarkston in the game as they have been all season.

Steinhelper scored a game-high 20 points (11 in the fourth quarter) with eight rebounds and four steals, Whittaker netted 12 points with 10 boards and McChesney had 11 points and nine rebounds.

Guard Laura Seitz scored two. Seitz played outstanding on defense, holding the Falcons' leading scorer (Holly Sims) to six points.

Jessica Schell was the only Falcon in double-figures, scoring 12.

The loss dropped Clarkston's record to 3-1 and raised Rochester's to 2-0.

Clarkston 64, Flint Kearsley 35
(Sept. 3 at Clarkston)

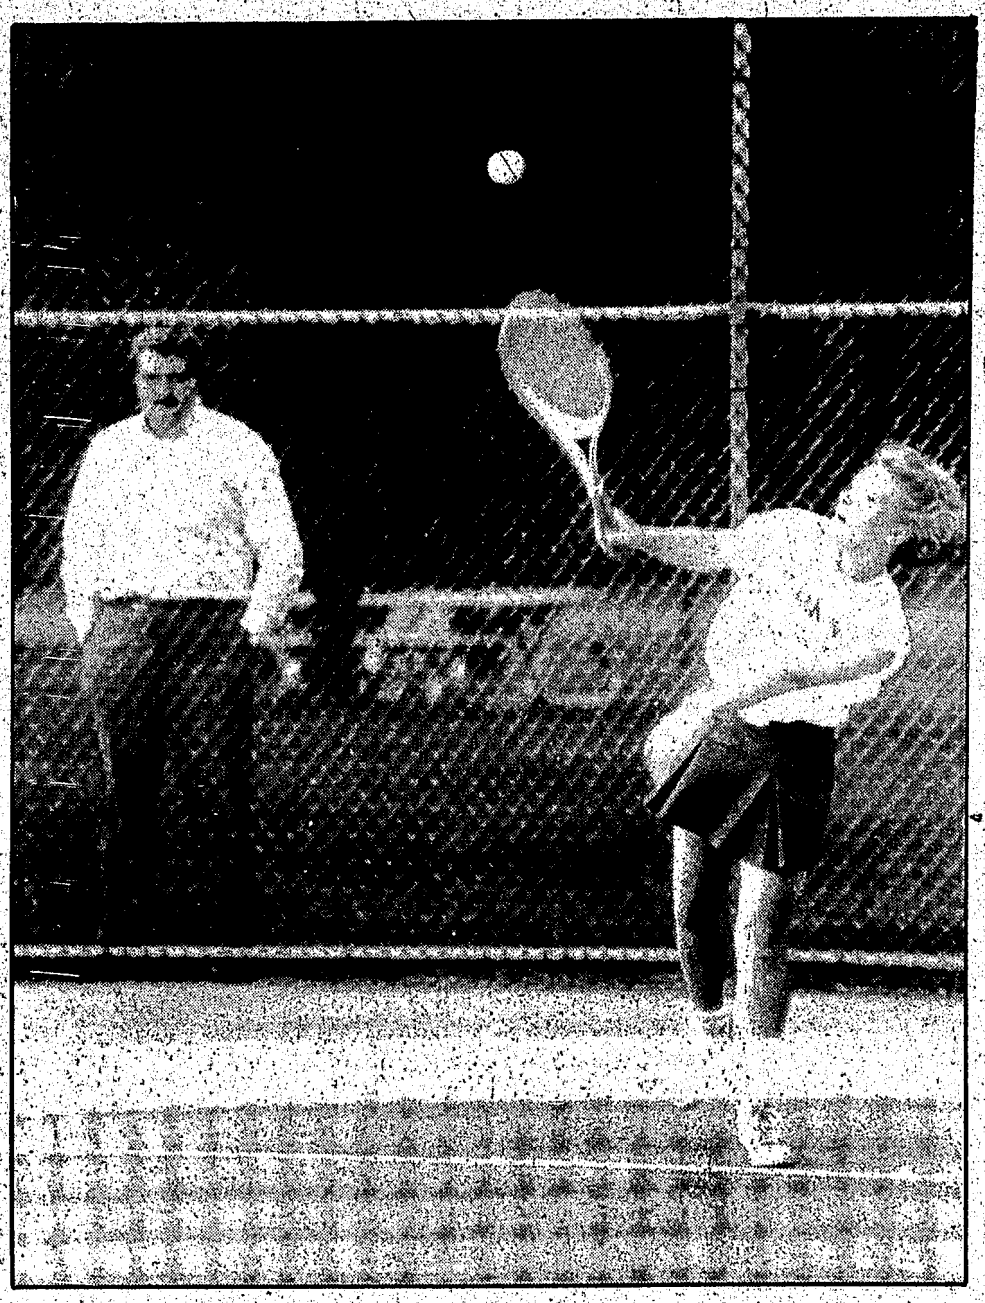

The Wolves crushed Flint Kearsley, 64-35, in Sept. 3 non-league action at Clarkston.

Clarkston stormed out to an 18-7 lead after the first quarter, continued to pour it on with a 31-12 bulge at the half and then took a whopping 50-22 advantage into the final quarter.

Courtney Whittaker paced all scorers with 18, Heather Steinhelper had 14 and Shannon Jenks netted 14.

Alyson McChesney added seven, Leslie Allen five, Stacey Tinkis four and Laura Seitz two.

Kearsley was led by Jenni Shock with eight.

Eagles reach finals of Labor Day tourney

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Christian's soccer team was runner-up at its own tournament.

The Eagles won two matches before losing to Holly in the Division 3 finals of the annual Springfield Christian Academy Labor Day Soccer Invitational.

The hosts won their Sept. 3 opener by edging Lutheran East, 1-0. Brian Cooper scored the winning goal with an assist from Kevin Bell. Goalkeeper Dennis Hopkins earned the shutout.

Hopkins also shut out the Eagles' second-round opponent Sept. 5 in a 2-0 win over Baptist Park. Tim Phillips and Tom Parsons each scored a goal. Wes Pyke had two assists and Brian Cooper had one.

Holly won the title match with a 7-4 win. Hopkins was in goal the first half (seven saves) but went on offense in the second half, scoring two of the Eagles' goals. Pyke also had a pair of goals. Goalkeeper Andy Vanaman made five saves in the second half.

Hopkins and Pyke were selected on the all-tournament team.

Ernie and Paul listeners' (un)magic number

Only 23 games left (after Wednesday night's game against the Red Sox), 23 more games to savor the voices of Ernie Harwell and Paul Carey. Ernie has broadcasted about 5,000 Tiger games and Paul has done it for about 2,500. They still sound as good (if not better) than ever.

Tiger management and WJR again displayed their unclassiness when they didn't discuss an upcoming day (Sept. 29) of ceremonies for the broadcasters at Tiger Stadium. Instead, Ernie and Paul first heard about the day from Detroit newspaper reporters on a trip in Seattle.

Instead of the Tigers and WJR giving a day to Ernie, they should give him many more days behind the booth next season, as he desires.

Giving a day for someone (after 31 years of top-notch work) and then firing them is typical of the "new direction" by the three Detroit stooges, Tom Monaghan, Bo Schembechler and J.P. McCarthy. WJR's McCarthy, who knew Ernie was going to be fired months before it was let out publically but still pretended to be "shocked" when it happened, will be the emcee at the day.

Golfers top defending champs

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Improvement on the Clarkston varsity golf team is as obvious as sand in a trap.

The Wolves raised their regular-season and Greater Oakland Activities League record to 2-0 with a one-sided victory over Brandon Sept. 5, two days after edging defending GOAL champ Lake Orion.

Clarkston 152, Brandon 175
(Sept. 7 at Goodrich CC)

It was the same course but a different team.

Last season, Clarkston shot a 172 at Goodrich Country Club. But this season, the Wolves shaved off 20 strokes in a 152-175 blasting of the host Blackhawks.

"We're a little smarter this season," said Clarkston coach Jim Chamberlain, pointing out that his players have been getting better marks in "golf course management."

The smartest one of all against the Blackhawks was Pete Luster. The senior's 36 on the par-35 course earned him medalist honors.

And his Wolf teammates weren't far behind. Freshman Jayson Buchmann fired a 37, senior Jeff Coxen shot a 39 and senior Dave Studt had a 40.

Derek Bildstein also shot a 44 and Mike Brown had a 45 (only the top four scores of six golfers count in total team strokes).

Brandon was paced by Tom Lafluer's 41.

Clarkston 164, Lake Orion 166
(Sept. 2 at Spring Lake CC)

The Wolves held off defending GOAL champs Lake Orion, 164-166.

The narrow victory came just one week after the Wolves bettered the Dragons by 16 strokes at the West Bloomfield Invitational won by Clarkston (18 holes were played at the invitational).

"They were surprised," said coach Jim Chamberlain about his players' reaction to how the Dragons greatly improved within one week. "We need still need to work some more."

But even with Lake Orion's improvement, the Wolves did win and it was a big one.

"It was a good way to start the season," said Chamberlain, whose Wolves lost twice to the Dragons last year.

Pete Luster was the medalist with a 38 on the par-36 Spring Lake Country Club course. Teammates Derek Bildstein, Jayson Buchmann and Dave Studt all shot a 42.

Junior Dave Smith, in his first varsity match, shot a 44 and Jason Jarvis had a 50.

The top golfer for the Dragons was Pat Marcus who shot a 40.

JV cagers lose shooting touch against Falcons

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A cold third quarter helped host Rochester top Clarkston, 39-30, in JV basketball action Sept. 5.

It was the first loss of the year for the 3-1 Wolves.

"We couldn't execute our shots and only scored three points in the third quarter," said coach Janet Swan.

Rochester led 27-17 at the half and the third quarter would have been a good opportunity for the Wolves to catch up because the Falcons themselves only scored four points in that span.

Lisa Goforth was the leading scorer for Clarkston with 13, followed by Erin Patterson with nine, Rebecca Bartlett three, Sadie Caruso and Shawna Greene each with two and Shannon Binkley with one.

Clarkston 47, Flint Kearsley 22
(Sept. 3 at Clarkston)

The Wolves jumped out to an 18-4 lead and coasted to a 47-22 victory over visiting Flint Kearsley.

Lisa Goforth paced Clarkston with 12 points and Erin Patterson netted 11 with some strong rebounding.

Shawna Greene added eight, Jennifer Wuotinen six, Shannon Binkley and Amy Bishop both had four and Becky Hoover had two.

The Wolves shot a strong 70 percent from the free-throw line.

PUBLIC NOTICE
"BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW"

Notice of Public Hearing on Increasing Property Taxes

The Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence will hold a public hearing on a proposed increase in the operating tax millage rate to be levied in 1991 as follows:

FUND	MILLS
General	0.1127
Fire	0.0353
Police	(0.1855)
Library	0.0375
Safety Path	0.0000
Total Increase	0.0000

The hearing will be held on Tuesday, September 17, 1991, at 7:30 p.m. at the Independence Township Hall Annex, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan.

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from ad valorem property taxes 0.000% over such revenues generated by levies permitted without holding a hearing. Calculated as follows:

FUND
General	10.46%
Fire	1.43%
Police	(8.84%)
Library	5.40%
Safety Path	0.00%
Total Increase	0.00%

If adopted, the millage rates will increase operating revenues and millage in some funds, and decrease operating revenues and millage in the Police fund that resulting overall millage to be paid for Independence Township purposes will be the same.

The taxing unit publishing this notice, and identified below, has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

Bigger Colts too much for JV Wolf gridders

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's JV football team couldn't quite overcome a bigger Troy squad, losing to the Colts, 22-16, in the season opener Sept. 5.

"They were much bigger than us," said Clarkston coach John Craven.

The Colts big offensive line helped pave the way for some long drives on the ground. This ate up much time on the clock, bitting into the Wolves' time of possession.

"I was pleased with our offense. We moved the ball well but didn't have the ball that much," said Craven, whose Wolves totaled 253 yards on offense.

In one 18-minute span, Clarkston only had the ball for five plays.

Troy took a 6-0 lead in the first quarter, culminating a 40-yard drive with a 5-yard touchdown run.

The Colts extented their lead to 14-0 at the start of the second quarter after a 65-yard touchdown off a sweep.

Clarkston made it 14-8 before halftime when quarterback Kevin Dankert capped an 85-yard drive by scoring on a one-yard sneak. The touchdown was set up by 22-yard and 17-yard passes from Dankert to Jeremy Fife. Dankert also passed to Fife for the PAT.

After a scoreless third quarter, Troy went ahead 22-8 with 11 minutes left in the game on a 20-yard touchdown run.

But Clarkston wasn't through. Dankert hit Josh Watson for 10 yards and then passed to Fife for a 75-yard score with 4:06 remaining.

"It was a tremendous catch," said Craven about Fife's TD. "It was a streak pattern, a kid from Troy tipped it up, he (Fife) caught it and then evaded another player."

Kevin Covert's PAT cut the Troy lead to 22-16.

The Wolves held the Colts on the next series, taking over at their own 40. They then marched down to the Troy 35 before being stopped on downs.

Dankert was nine of 19 passing for 167 yards. Fife caught five of those passes for 124 yards.

"Our offensive line gave Dankert tremendous protection," said Craven.

Clarkston rushed for 86 yards. Leading rusher was Joe Davis with 55 yards on 19 carries.

Wolverines edge Holly

Rich Bevins' interception of a Holly pass on the Wolverine 3-yard line with nine seconds left preserved a 12-8 victory for the Clarkston Junior High School ninth-grade football team.

The Sept. 5 game at the Clarkston High School football field was the season opener for the Wolverines.

Jason Graves scored from six yards out for the only touchdown in the first half. The PAT failed.

Holly went ahead 8-6 in the third quarter.

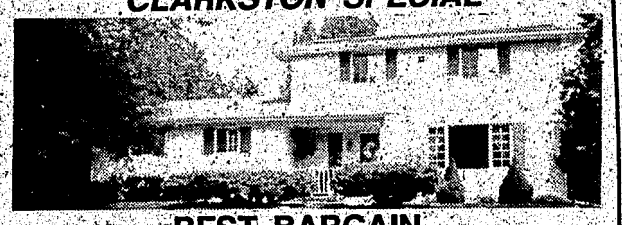

But midway through the fourth quarter, Graves scored again, this time from 38 yards out. The PAT failed.

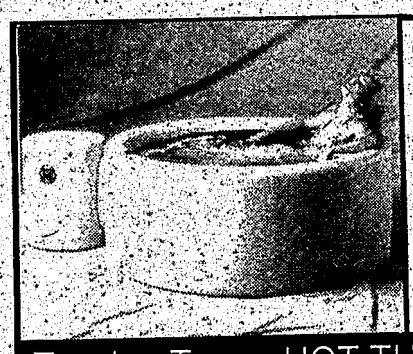

Holly drove deep into Wolverine territory, but Bevins grabbed the interception.

Bevins rushed for 126 yards and Graves ran for 104.

Jason Moshier led Clarkston in tackles with seven and Pat Mulligan had two interceptions.

Two shutouts help Wolf kickers take 3rd

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's varsity soccer team won two of three matches for a third-place trophy in the Springfield Christian Labor Day Soccer Invitational.

Clarkston, which improved its record to 3-1 after the tourney, competed in the eight-team Division I part of the round-robin tourney which featured three divisions.

The Wolves topped Chippewa Valley 5-0 in the opener Sept. 3, lost to eventual champion Saginaw Heritage 3-1 Sept. 5, and then shut out Livonia Franklin 3-0 Sept. 7.

Midfielder Scott Rooney and forward Aaron Phillips were selected on the all-tournament team.

Phillips opened the tournament for the Wolves by scoring the first two goals against Chippewa Valley. Devin DuPree assisted on the first goal and goalkeeper Mike Miller had a rare assist on the second.

Chris Colburn put the Wolves ahead 3-0 before the half on goal, with Scott Rooney assisting.

Jeremy Deloney made it 4-0 in the second half by blasting a penalty kick.

Chuck Schoen, with an assist from Phillips, scored the match's final goal.

Goalkeepers Scott Strawsburg (who was injured early in the match) and Miller shared the shutout. Miller tended goal for the rest of the tournament.

"We pretty much dominated," said Clarkston coach Dan Fitzgerald.

But the Wolves hit a roadblock by the name of Saginaw Heritage in the second match.

Heritage led 3-0 before Rooney scored with about seven minutes left in the match. Deloney assisted on the Wolves' lone goal.

"We gave up a couple of silly goals," said Fitzgerald. "But I was encouraged that we didn't give while being down 3-0."

Penalty kicks helped the Wolves place third in a win over Livonia Franklin.

Deloney opened the scoring with a penalty kick. He then nearly converted on another penalty kick before the half but hit the crossbar.

With about eight minutes remaining in the match, the Wolves again got another shot at a penalty kick. This time Rob Sloan banged it in for a 2-0 lead.

"There was a lot of pressure on him," said Fitzgerald about Sloan's crucial goal.

Rooney then put the match out of reach with about two minutes left when he knocked in his fourth goal of the young season. Jeremy Johns earned the assist.

Hall walking starts up again

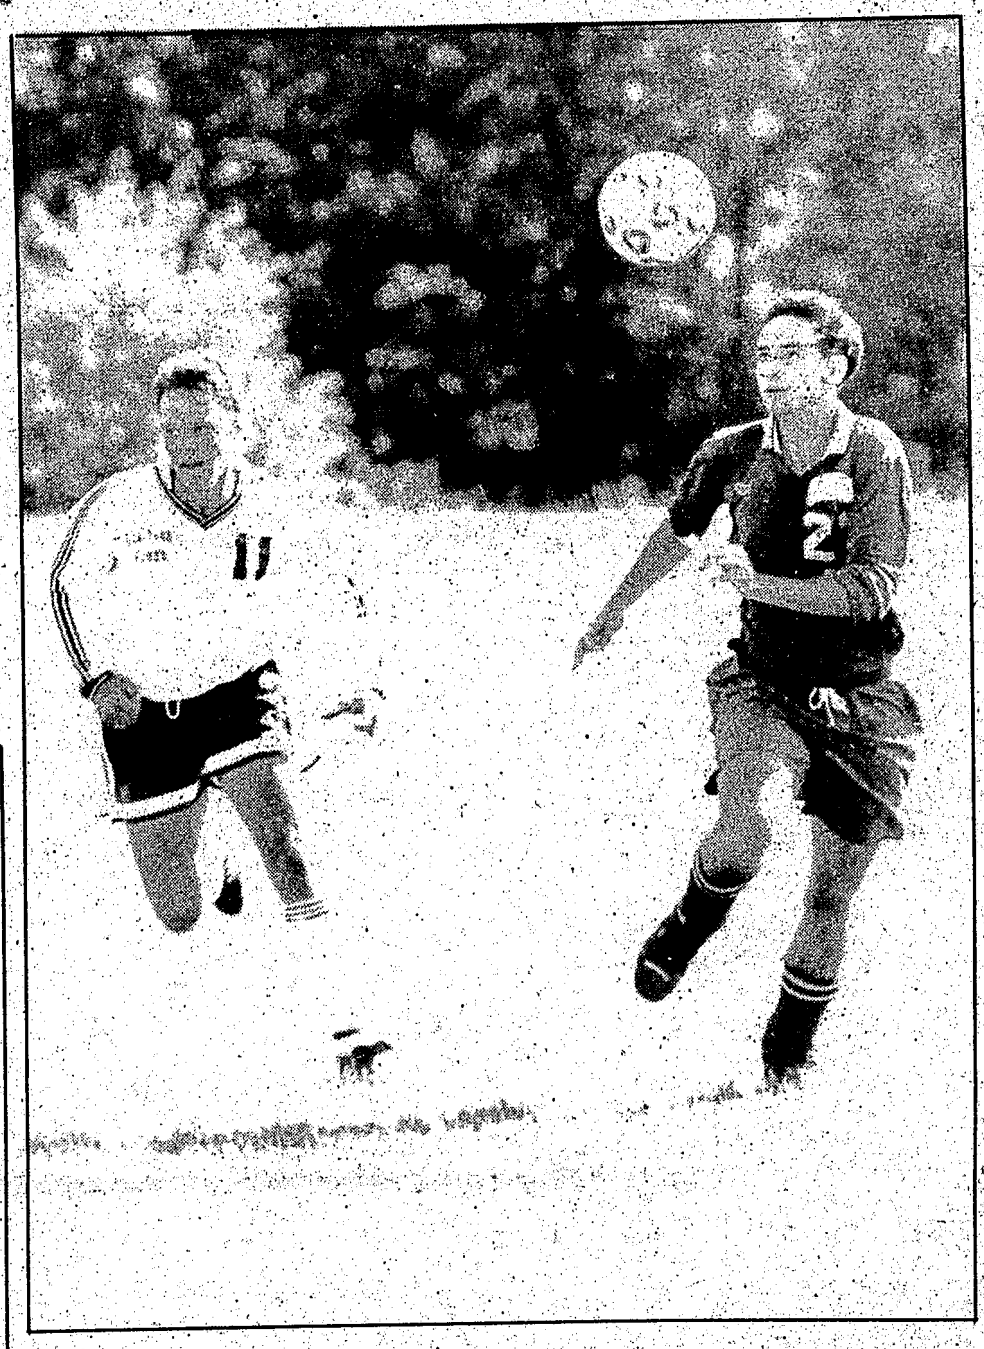

Even if it rains or snows this fall, you won't have to give up exercise.

Two Clarkston school buildings are open during the week so people can walk the halls for exercise.

Beginning Monday, Oct. 7, Clarkston High School off Waldon Road and Sashabaw Junior High School off Maybee Road will be open 4:30-8:30 p.m.

The buildings will be closed during Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter vacations. The program runs through May 1, 1992.

For more information, call 625-4402.

GAME ROOM AT CLINTONWOOD PARK

Interested in sharpening your skills in billiards, euchre, checkers, chess, pinochle and backgammon?

If so, you can come to Game Room Night at Clintonwood Parks' Senior Citizen Center 6-8 p.m. Tuesdays. The activities are open to all ages. Cost is $1 at the door.

Players must bring their own chess, backgammon and checker games.

GYMBOREE

Childhood only happens once and Gymboree plays it up: during each 45-minute, age-appropriate class, children three months to four years old and their parents enjoy the bright bubbles and rhythmic songs of Parachute Time plus Gymboree mascot Gymbo the Clown.

The nations leading parent-child play program includes trained teachers, over 40 peices of special play equipment, plus parenting information, tips and resources.

Join over 1 million families world-wide who have experienced the magic of exploring, learning and growing up at Gymboree. You can register at the rec. department.

FALL TREE ENTHUSIASTS

Attention environmentalists and tree-planting enthusiasts: the rec. department has planting areas available at Clintonwood, BayCourt and Sashabaw Plains Parks for those interested in donating trees or shrubs.

Those making tree donations become eligible for various prize drawings throughout the year.

CHS pupils take summertime look at world affairs

BY DENNIS V. CARTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Despite language and cultural differences, friendship were cultivated by three Clarkston High School students who attended the White Water Conference on World Affairs.

The June 9-14 conference at the University of Wisconsin, White Water, was sponsored by Rotary International.

The conference for the three CHS students — Susan McNally, Adam Kirk and David Studt, all seniors this year — was paid for by the Clarkston Rotary Club.

The three, who appreciated that the Rotary Club had selected them, said they would encourage any student to attend the conference if given a chance.

DAVID Studt (left), Susan McNally, and Adam Kirk, all seniors at Clarkston High School, attended the White Water Conference on World Affairs this summer.

"It was really a great experience," said Studt. "I learned a lot of things about other countries and made a lot of friends. It was kind of funny. It seemed like we were there only about 15 minutes and were already making friends."

Some 1,200 students from 48 countries were represented at the conference, in addition to students from each of the 50 United States.

"It was strange to hear the perception the students from other countries have of the students in the United States," said McNally. "They think we're kind of stupid. It taught me not to sterotype other people, just by how they had sterotyped us as Americans. They have the impression that all we do is drink and never go to school. I was really surprised at how negatively they looked at us as nation.

"But after we were able to make friends with them and got a chance to talk, they found out we were not like what they thought we were; and we found out they were not like what we thought they were," she said. "It was a real learning experience, both at the seminars and during our free time."

During the conference, the students attended about six hours a day of seminars covering such topics as the world's environment, nuclear power, economics and geography.

"I was surprised at how much I learned about problems in the rest of world that I never thought much about," said Kirk. "I became really interested in the idea of nuclear power. I found that seminar to be one of the most interesting and informative. I guess I really hadn't thought much about it until the conference. In fact, I found myself thinking and talking about a lot of subjects I hadn't really given much thought to until then."

"When I got back from the conference, I was wishing it had lasted longer," he said. "I was learning a lot and making a lot of new friends. It was quite a experience."

During each day at the conference, the students divided into discussion groups of about 30 to openly talk about a host of subjects.

"I liked the open forum group talks we had each day," said Studt. "It gave us a chance to learn about the students from the other countries and talk about how we could help solve some of the world's problems. It was very informative and gave us the freedom to express our ideas with each other."

Each night at the conference, social events such as dances and talent shows were held to allow the students to meet and make friends. On the last day of the conference, students could ask questions and share ideas during an open forum.

"While we were there, there was a good mix between seminars and social activities," said Kirk. "It gave us a chance to learn a lot and still allowed us the freedom to meet the other students in a social atmosphere. I feel anyone attending a conference like this will do nothing but benefit from it."

At the end of this year, these three CHS students will be embarking on their college careers, with Kirk and Studt planning on attending Michigan State University, East Lansing, and McNally heading to St. Mary's of Notre Dame.

All three expressed the feelings that the experience at the conference will have them looking at college in a different light.

"They have the impression that all we do is drink and never go to school. I was really surprised at how negatively they looked at us as nation."

CHS bands face full schedule

BY DONN COLBRUNN

Those of us who have been involved with Band Boosters for several years sense an exciting air of anticipation for the 1991-92 school year.

With the largest band ever, we are looking forward to new enhancements to our marching band show this fall, including the addition of baton twirler Carrie McAlister.

We are also excited about the honor and opportunity for our band students to participate in the Midwest Conference Performance in Ann Arbor in January 1992.

In addition to our other booster activities, we are sponsoring the sale of Gold C Savings Spree Coupon Books for $9 during September. Profits from the sale will be used for band activities. The books offer discounts at hundreds of area businesses, such as two-for-the-price-of-one dining, 50 percent off services, merchandise and entertainment.

Coupon books may be purchased through band students or by calling 625-6153.

Following is a schedule of events for the upcoming season.

Donn Colbrunn is president of the Clarkston Band Boosters.

Full of praise

HUNDREDS showed up for the annual Community Praise Festival in Clarkston's Depot Park. Sponsored by the Independence Township Minister's Association, the festival featured musical performances by area church members, such as the Rev. Roger Allen and his wife, Sheryl. The two are with the Clarkston Free Methodist Church on Winell at Maybee Road. (Photo by Cathy Hefner)

BURGLAR PROOF EXTERIOR DOOR

RELO WORLD LEADER IN RELOCATION

THERE ARE ways to make your front and rear entrance doors burglar-proof. Do it!

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

QUESTION: Our home was robbed last night. The burglar entered through a back door by using a credit card to slide the pin back, according to the police. What's the best kind of a burglar-proof lock for exterior doors?

ANSWER: On all hinged exterior doors, you should use a dead-lock. A separate pin on the flat side of the latch tongue stays stuck in the strike even when a burglar pushes back the latch tongue.

For maximum security, you can equip exterior doors with an automatic dead-lock plus a separate night lock. In the latter, the lock and strike fit together like a mortise and tenon joint, and there is no way a burglar can pry them apart.

Business Brief

Digging in

IT'S OFFICIAL. An 11,000-square-foot addition to Maranatha Baptist Church on Flemings Lake Road, Independence Township, was begun Sunday, Sept. 8. Dan Sanders, chairman of the Deacon Board, takes his turn with the shovel, while about 240 people watched the 11 a.m. groundbreaking ceremony. Youngster Jensyn Cone, at right, makes sure she gets a close-up view of the proceedings. Also on hand were charter members Johnnie Cooper (left, with camera) and Alice Shelton, Assistant Pastor Steve Sanders (from left) and Pastor Glen Currie. Other board members at the ceremony were (pictured from left, after Sanders) Gunther Kuklinski, Ron Shelton, Bill Beeman, Tom Anderson, Al Hand, Norm Swingle, Jim Van Horn and Jim Knakal. Breaking ground

Groundbreaking for a new 11,000-square-foot addition to Maranatha Baptist Church took place Sept. 8.

The church addition on Flemings Lake Road, Independence Township, is to include a 400-seat auditorium, two new nurseries, new bathrooms an expanded kitchen and more Sunday school rooms.

Construction began immediately on the new Sunday school rooms, and the new sanctuary is to begin in the spring.

LAKE METAMORA LAKEFRONT

Large channel lot with dock. Walk-out finishable lower level to beautiful Lake Metamora. Upstairs, enjoy 1,508 square feet of quality featuring 3 bedrroms, 2 baths, and a 1st floor laundry. Vaulted ceilings througout add to the spacious atmosphere, while doorwalls from the Great Room and Master Bedroom lead out to extensive decking. This home was built with energy savings in mind, and includes Anderson Windows and 2x6 walls.

For a showing of this incredible home call.

Ragweed allergy season nothing to sneeze at

Health highlight

You don't need a calendar to tell when summer is almost over. Just ask anyone who's allergic to ragweed.

For most people in Michigan, the symptoms appear like clockwork in August and September, when ragweed pollen production is at its peak. Noses struggle for air, eyes water and itch, throats get scratchy and heads throb — all punctuated by frequent bouts of sneezing and wheezing.

In the Midwest, an estimated 10 percent of the population is believed to suffer from ragweed sensitivity, a major cause of seasonal hay fever throughout much of the United States. Symptoms of ragweed pollinosis, or hay fever, are triggered by exposure to airborne pollen, which causes the body to release histamine and other body chemicals. The release then causes inflammation and excess fluid to accumulate in the lining of the nasal passage, the sinuses and eyelids.

While far from life-threatening, hay fever is a major health problem, according to William Solomon, chief of the Division of Allergy at the University of Michigan.

Ragweed hay fever can have significant effects on the lifestyle of those who are highly allergic. Secondary symptoms include sleeplessness at night and lack of vigor during the day.

In severe cases, the condition can force sufferers to relocate to seek relief from hay fever symptoms that resist treatment by antihistamines or other drugs. Among the areas in the Unites States that are less contaminated by ragweed pollen are the wooded regions in the northern part of Michigan.

Ragweed accounts for at least 95 percent of the airborne pollen in the Midwest during late summer and early fall, but other types of pollen produce hay fever symptoms in other seasons. Grass pollen, for example, is the major pollen allergen in the Midwest between late May and mid-July.

Other allergen sources that produce hay fever symptoms include airborne mold spores and particles of animal skin, hair and feathers. Even house dust, or the microscopic mites that infest the dust, can cause year-round nasal allergy.

There's reason to believe the cause of hay fever is at least partially hereditary.

"About 50 percent of hay fever sufferers have immediate relatives who also suffer," Solomon said.

Sensitivity to pollen usually emerges in childhood, often about age six, though some people will suddenly develop hay fever later in life.

Symptoms of hay fever and respiratory infections, while often similar, can have marked differences. For example, in bacterial infections, the nasal discharge is thick and puslike; in hay fever, it is usually colorless and watery.

Also with an allergy, the mucous membrane of the nose is usually pale and swollen; in an infection, the nose becomes red and inflamed. In addition, a nasal allergy often produces intense nose, throat and eye itching, unlike symptoms of the common cold.

Specialized techniques are used to determine whether a person suffers from ragweed sensitivity or some other type of allergy.

Skin tests, in which a physician pricks the patient's skin through drops of sterilized allergen extracts, are often helpful. If the skin turns red and itchy, the patient is sensitive to the allergen applied there.

Comparing such tests with the times and places that symptoms occur often allows a remarkably precise diagnosis.

Once the allergy is diagnosed, it can be treated many ways. In mild cases, over-the-counter drugs may provide relief.

But the first plan of attack is to separate the person from the allergen. In the case of ragweed, this can be done if an individual stays inside a closed building with central air conditioning as much as possible during peak pollen season, Solomon said.

Sufferers also can suppress their symptoms with medications in the form of pills, capsules, nose drops and nasal sprays which dry up secretions or counteract sneezing, itching, eye irritation and nasal stuffiness. The most frequently prescribed drugs are antihistamines, which decrease nasal congestion and relieve itching by suppressing histamine effects, which in turn prevents hay fever symptoms.

When these measures fail, a physician may prescribe immunotherapy, in which the person is injected with a sterile, non-irritating extract of the allergen in gradually increasing doses, usually over several years.

"About 50 percent of hay fever sufferers have immediate relatives who also suffer."

Back in 1910, "caring" meant Pontiac residents raising $25,000 to build "Oakland County's First Hospital" in what was then a village of 5,000 people.

Five years later, caring meant the Oakland County Hospital Association donating the hospital to the thriving industrial center of Pontiac...and Oakland County Hospital became Pontiac City Hospital, which was changed to Pontiac General Hospital in 1931. Today, new communities all over Oakland County look to the same hospital for caring in the 1990's for services such as:

- Complete care for new mothers and babies, including family-centered birthing and northern Oakland County's leading intensive care unit for newborns.
- Satellite centers offering walk-in medical care and diagnostic services.
- Expanded programs in physical rehabilitation, county-wide psychiatric services and cardiac care.
- State-of-the-art laser and outpatient surgery.

With these new "caring" services and a patient base throughout Oakland County, our hospital has earned a new name.

This multi-faceted, contemporary cross represents the international symbol for compassionate, community oriented health care. The repeating lines, which comprise the cross, signify the diversified parts of the North Oakland Medical Center, a medical facility with many aspects, affiliates, divisions, services, and organizations all working together for the people of the North Oakland County area.

Trips, classes and more offered to senior citizens

Seniors in the Springfield Township area have a lot of activities planned especially for them.

A list of events follows, but for more information, call Sherry Swindell, director of the township parks and recreation department, at 634-0412.

Frankenmuth trip

Sign up immediately for a trip to Frankenmuth. The bus leaves about 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 19, from the Davisburg Mill Pond Park, and returns about 5 p.m. Cost is $12, which does not include lunch. The trip includes a stop at Bronner's Christmas store plus browsing in the shops in downtown Frankenmuth.

Movie and lunch

If 20 or more sign up for this trip on Thursday, Sept. 26, a bus will be used. Participants are asked to meet at the Mill Pond Park at noon, with the bus leaving at 12:15 p.m. for Showcase Cinemas in Auburn Hills. Cost is $3 for transportation, $3.50 for the movie (your choice of 14 showing), plus lunch. Pay by Friday, Sept. 20.

Crochet class for beginners

A six-week class is set for 1-3 p.m. Wednesdays, Sept. 18 through Oct. 23, at the Springfield Community Center, Mill Pond Park, 495 Broadway.

Such patterns as potholders, afghans and sweaters will be provided, and students will learn to single- and double-crochet stitches and granny squares.

Each person should bring an F, G or H hook, scissors and four-ply yarn. A light color is best for beginners (no variegated yarn). Cost is half price for seniors at $15. Minimum of six people needed to hold the class.

Financial planning seminar scheduled

A five-week financial planning seminar is planned for 10 a.m. to noon on Fridays, Oct. 4 through Nov. 1. Geared to adults and senior citizens, the cost is $43.75 per person plus an $18 manual. Topics include assets, liabilities and net worth, goal establishment and cash flow, budgets, cash planning, risk management, insurance and investments.

Registration required by Friday, Sept. 27.

Rug-braiding class

A six-week class on braiding rugs is set for 2-4 p.m. Tuesdays, Sept. 17 through Oct. 22, at the Springfield Township Community Center at the Mill Pond Park.

Participants should bring material (need not be new) scissors, straight pins, tape measure, sturdy needle and thread to the first class. All material should be clean and non-wrinkled. Material may be rags, garage sale items or nearly anything.

Cost is half price for seniors, $15. Minimum of six people needed for class.

Garden Corner

Final garden chore: Take soil sample

Having a soil test done and following the lab's recommendations for fertilizing and liming can take some of the guesswork out of gardening.

It also can save you money and keep unneeded nutrients out of surface and ground water. All those benefits make a soil test one of the best bargains around.

Fall is a good time to soil test, says Darryl Warncke, Extensions soils specialists at Michigan State University, East Lansing. It's a slow time for soil test labs, as a general rule, so you tend to get your results back more quickly than during the big spring rush.

"A change in fertilizer practices may make a big difference in the garden's productivity, giving the gardener a much better return on his or her gardening efforts."

Darryl Warncke

Results from testing this fall will still be valid next spring, he notes — soil potassium and phosphorus levels and soil pH are not likely to change drastically over the winter. Get your soil tested now, and you'll have the results next spring, when you need them.

"Gardeners who routinely apply a complete fertilizer in the spring, use a high-phosphorus starter solution at planting time and give plants a nitrogen booster in July may find their soil potassium and phosphorus levels are high enough that they can skip the spring application altogether," Warncke says.

"Others may find that they've been drawing nutrients out of the soil without replacing them at adequate levels," he says. "In the first case, the gardener will save time, money and effort by fertilizing according to soil test recommendations. In the second, a change in fertilizer practices may make a big difference in the garden's productivity, giving the gardener a much better return on his or her gardening efforts."

The soil pH — the measure of soil acidity — is crucial, Warncke notes. Whether the soil is acid, neutral or alkaline affects the availability of nutrients to plants.

"Most garden plants do best in a soil that's neutral to slightly acidic," Warncke explains. "As the pH goes up or down from there, various nutrients become less available to plants, and deficiencies may occur, even though the nutrients are present in adequate quantities."

Having a fall soil test done gives you a chance to start soil treatments to adjust soil pH, Warncke suggests. Soil pH changes slowly over time. Starting treatment in the fall gives it a chance to have some effect on pH before you plant next spring.

For information on how to take a soil sample, a container to send it to the MSU Soil Testing Laboratory, and a bulletin to help you make the best use of the results, contact your county Cooperative Extension office. In Oakland County, the number is 858-0887.

The above information was provided by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service. For more information, call Darryl Warncke at 517/355-0210.

PUBLIC NOTICE

"BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW"

State of Michigan
County of Oakland
Charter Township of Independence

TEXT AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE
(Provisions Governing Landscaping)

An ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 83, as amended, the Charter Township of Independence Zoning Ordinance ("Zoning Ordinance"), for the purpose of comprehensively revising the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance governing landscaping.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1 OF ORDINANCE

Section 5.13 of the Zoning Ordinance shall be amended to read as set forth on the attached and incorporated sheets, in place of and to supersede the current Section 5.13 in its entirety.

SECTION 2 OF ORDINANCE

Except as specified above, the Zoning Ordinance shall remain in full force and effect.

SECTION 3 OF ORDINANCE

The provisions of this ordinance are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Section 5.13. Landscaping.

1. Intent. The intent of this section is to promote the public health, safety, and welfare and improve the visual appearance of the Township by requiring landscaping for each development for which site plan and subdivision plat review is required.

It is further the intent of this section to achieve the following:

a. Minimize noise, air, and visual pollution.

b. Improve the overall aesthetics and appearance, divide the expanse of pavement, and define parking areas and vehicular circulation within off-streeet parking lots and other vehicular use areas.

c. Require buffering of residential areas from more intense land uses and public road rights-of-way.

d. Prevent soil erosion and soil depletion and promote subsurface water retention.

e. Encourage an appropriate mixture of plant material, such as evergreen and deciduous trees and shrubs, to protect against insect and disease infestation and produce a more aesthetic and cohesive design.

f. Promote the integration of existing woodlands in landscape plans.

g. Protect and preserve the appearance, character, and value of the community.

2. Definitions. The following definitions shall apply in the construction and application of this section:

a. Berm. A landscaped mound of earth which blends with the surrounding terrain.

b. Buffer. A landscaped area composed of living material, wall, berm, or combination thereof, established and/or maintained to provide visual screening, noise reduction, and transition between a residential use and conflicting land uses.

c. Conflicting non-residential land use. Any non-residential use, such as office, commercial, industrial, research, parking or public road right-of-way land use which abuts a residential land use.

d. Conflicting residential use. Any residential land use developed at a higher density which abuts a residential land use developed at a lower density.

e. Greenbelt. A landscaped area, established at a depth equivalent to the minimum required front yard setback within a Zoning District, which is intended to provide a transition between a public road right-of-way and an existing or proposed land use.

f. Opacity. The state of being impervious to sight.

g. Plant material. A collection of living evergreen and/or deciduous, woody-stemmed trees, shrubs, vines and ground cover.

(1) Large Tree: A self-supporting deciduous and/or evergreen woody species with a well-defined central stem, normally growing to a minimum height of thirty-five (35) feet at maturity.

(2) Small Tree: A self-supporting deciduous and/or evergreen woody species with a well-defined stem, or multi-stem, normally growing to a maximum height of thirty-five (35) feet at maturity.

(3) Large Shrub: A self-supporting deciduous and/or evergreen woody species, normally branced near the base, bushy, and not more than fifteen (15) feet in height at maturity.

(4) Small Shrub: A self-supporting deciduous and/or evergreen woody species, normally branched near the base, bushy, and not more than six (6) feet in height at maturity.

(5) Vine: A type of woody-stemmed plant chosen for its habit of climbing, creeping, twining around supports and flat surfaces.

(6) Ground Cover: A low-growing deciduous and/or evergreen species chosen for a very low, spreading green cover, usually dense and rapid growing, reaching a height of three (3) feet or less at maturity.

Applications of Requirements. These requirements shall apply to all uses for which site plan review is required under Section 5.12 of this Ordinance and subdivision plat review as required under the Subdivision Control Ordinance.

No site plan or subdivision plat shall be approved unless a landscape plan is provided which meets the requirements set forth herein.

4. Landscape Plan Requirements. A separate detailed landscape plan shall be required to be submitted to the Planning Commission as part of the site plan reivew and tentative preliminary plat review. The landscape plan shall demonstrate that all requirements of this Section are met and shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, the following items:

a. On parcels of , the professional seal of the Registered Landscape Architect who prepared the plan.

b. Location, spacing, size, and root type (bare root (BR) or balled or burlapped (BB)) and descriptions for each plant type proposed for use within the required landscape area.

c. Minimum scale: 1" - 50' for property less than three acres or 1" - 100' for property three acres or more.

d. On parcels of more than one (1) acre, existing and proposed contours on-site and 50 feet beyond the site at intervals not to exceed two (2) feet.

e. Typical straight cross section including slope, height, and width of berms and type of ground cover, or height and type of construction of wall, including footings.

f. Significant construction details to resolve specific site conditions, such as tree wells to preserve existing trees or culverts to maintain natural drainage patterns.

g. Details in either text or drawing form to ensure proper installation and establishment of proposed plant materials.

h. Identification of existing trees and vegetative cover to be preserved.

i. Identification of grass and other ground cover and method of planting.

j. Identification of landscape maintenance program including statement that all diseased, damaged, or dead materials shall be replaced in accordance with standards of this Ordinance.

5. Screening Between Land Uses.

a. Upon any improvement for which a site plan is required, a landscape buffer shall be constructed to create a visual screen at least six (6) feet in height along all adjoining boundaries between either a conflicting non-residential or conflicting residential land use and residentially zoned or used property. A landscape buffer may consist of berms and/or living materials so as to maintain a minimum opacity of at least eighty (80) percent. Opacity shall be measured by observation of any two (2) square yard area of landscape screen between one (1) foot above the established grade of the area to be concealed and the top or the highest point of the required screen. The plantings must meet this standard based upon reasonably anticipated growth over a period of three (3) years.

b. Where there is a need to provide a greater noise or dust barrier or to screen more intense development, a solid wall or fence shall be required. Such wall or fence shall be a minimum of six (6) feet in height as measured on the side of the proposed wall having the higher grade.

A required wall shall be located on the lot line except where underground utilities interfere and except in instances where this Zoning Ordinance required conformity with front yard setback requirements. Upon review of the landscape plan, the Planning Commission may approve an alternate location of a wall. The Planning Commission and the Building Department shall approve the construction materials of the wall or fence which may include face brick, poured-in-place simulated face brick, precast brick face panels having simulated face brick, stone or wood.

6. Parking Lot Landscaping.

a. Required Landscaping Within Parking Lots. Separate landscape areas shall be provided within parking lots so as to break up the broad expanse of pavement, guide the circulation of vehicular and pedestrian traffic, and moderate the changes to the micro climate which results from additional pavement. The following requirements shall be met:

(1) There shall be a minimum of one (1) tree for every eight (8) parking spaces.

(2) Landscaping shall be arranged in curbed islands within the parking lot which shall not be less than fifty (50) square feet in area.

(3) A minimum distance of three (3) feet from the backside of the curb and the proposed landscape plantings shall be provided. Where vehicles overhang a landscape island or strip, a minimum distance of five (5) feet from the backside of the curb and the proposed landscape plantings shall be provided.

(4) The Planning Commission, at its discretion, may approve alternative landscape plantings at the perimeter of parking lots where landscaping within parking lots would be impractical due to the size of the parking lot or detrimental to safe and efficient traffic flow, or would create an unreasonable burden for maintenance and snowplowing.

b. Required Landscaping at the Perimeter of Parking Lots. Separate landscape areas shall be provided at the perimeter of parking lots in accordance with the following requirements:

(1) Parking lots which are considered to be a conflicting land use as defined by this Section shall meet the screening requirements set forth in Section 5.13.5.

(2) Parking lots shall be screened from view with a landscaped berm at least three (3) feet in height along the perimeter of those sides which are visable from a public road. The Planning Commission, at its discretion, may approve alternative landscape plantings or a solid wall in lieu of a landscape berm.

7. Greenbelts. A greenbelt, as defined in this Section, shall be provided in accordance with the following requirements:

a. The greenbelt shall be landscaped with a minimum of one (1) tree for every thirty (30) lineal feet, or fraction thereof, of frontage abutting a public road right-of-way. Non-ornamental deciduous trees within a greenbelt shall be a minimum caliper of three (3) inches or greater. Evergreen trees within a greenbelt shall be a minimum height of eight (8) feet.

b. If ornamental deciduous trees are substituted for either non-ornamental deciduous trees or evergreen trees, they shall be provided at a minimum of one (1) tree for every twenty (20) lineal feet, or fraction thereof, of frontage abutting a public road right-of-way. Ornamental deciduous trees within a greenbelt shall be a minimum caliper of two (2) inches or greater.

c. In addition to the required trees within the greenbelt, the remainder of the greenbelt shall be landscaped in grass, ground cover, shrubs and other natural landscape materials.

d. Access drives from public rights-of-way through required greenbelts shall be permitted, but such drives shall not be subtracted from the lineal dimension used to determine the minimum number of trees required.

8. Site Landscaping. In addition to any landscape, greenbelt and/or parking lot landscaping required by this section, 12 to 15 percent of the site area, excluding existing public rights-of-way, shall be landscaped. Such site area landscaping may include a combination of the preservation of existing tree cover, planting of new trees and plant material, landscape plazas and gardens and building foundation planting beds. Site area landscaping shall be provided to screen potentially objectionable site features such as, but not limited to retention/detention ponds, transformer pads, air conditioning units, and loading areas. The determination with regard to the precise amount of landscaping within the range of 12 to 15 percent of the site area shall be made in the discretion of the planning commisison, taking into consideration the following standards:

(a) The extent of landscaping required in order to promote compatibility, and preserve the character of the site, in relation to the immediately surrounding area and in relation to the general area in which the property is situated;

(b) The size of the property;

(c) The particular features of the property, including those matters which would constrain and those matters which would lend themselves to landscaping in excess of 12 percent;

(d) The particular needs and desires of the property owner with regard to utilization of the land area which would otherwise be devoted to landscaping in excess of 12 percent;

(e) The need for landscaping in excess of 12 percent for screening and/or other relationship purposes with adjoining property;

(f) The concentration of landscaping in specified areas of the property resulting in the lack of uniform disbursement of landscaping on the site;

(g) Other factors considered and applied by the Planning Commission for the purpose of protecting and/or promoting the public health safety and welfare and particularly delineated in the minutes of the Planning Commission.

9. Subdivision and Site Condominium Landscaping. Landscaping for single-family residential subdivisions and site condominiums shall be provided in accordance with the following requirements:

a. Street Trees. The frontage of all internal public or private streets shall be landscaped with the equivalent of one (1) tree for every fifty (50) lineal feet, or fraction thereof. Such street trees shall meet the minimum size and spacing requirements set forth in Section 5.13.12 and shall be an appropriate species for a street environment. The Planning Commission may determine that existing trees which are preserved will meet all or part of the street tree requirement.

b. Screening Between Land Uses. Where a subdivision or site condominium contain uses which are defined as conflicting land uses by this Section, the screening requirements set forth in Section 5.13.5 shall be met.

c. Screening From Public Roads. Where a subdivision or site condominium abuts a public road right-of-way located outside of the proposed subdivision or site condominium, the screening requirements set forth in 5.13.5 shall be met.

d. Other Site Improvements. A landscape plan for a subdivision or site condominium development shall also include landscaping details of the entrance to the development, stormwater retention and/or detention areas, community buildings and other recreational areas, and any other site improvement which would be enhanced through the addition of landscaping.

10. Screening of Trash Containers.

a. Outside trash disposal containers shall be screened on all sides with an opaque fence or wall, and gate at least as high as the container, but no less than six (6) feet in height, and shall be constructed of material which is compatible with the architectural materials used in the site development. The Planning Commission, at its discretion, may approve alternative methods of screening.

b. Containers shall be consolidated to minimize the number of collection sites, and located so as to reasonably equalize the distance from the building they serve.

c. Containers and enclosures shall be located away from view insofar as possible.

d. Containers and enclosures shall be situated so that they do not cause excessive nuisance or offense to occupants of nearby buildings.

e. Concrete pads of appropriate size and construction shall be provided for containers or groups of containers having a capacity of six 30-gallon cans or more. Aprons shall be provided for loading of bins with a capacity of 1.5 cubic yards or more.

f. For storage of recyclable materials, the enclosure area and pad size shall be increased to amply accommodate the extra materials and their containers.

g. Screening and gates shall be of a durable construction.

11. Landscape Elements. The following minimum standards shall apply:

a. Quality. Plant material shall be of generally acceptable varieties and species, free from insects and diseases, hardy to Oakland County, conform to the current minimum standard of the American Association of Nurserymen, and shall have proof of any required governmental regulations and/or inspections.

b. Composition. A mixture of plant material, such as evergreen deciduous trees and shrubs, is recommended as a protective measure against insect and disease infestation. A limited mixture of hardy species is recommended rather than a large quantity of different species to produce a more aesthetic, cohesive design and avoid a disorderly appearing arrangement.

c. Berms. Berms shall be constructed with slopes not to exceed a 1:3 gradient. Berm slopes shall be protected with sod, seed, or other form of natural ground cover.

d. Coordination With Utilities. Provision shall be made to coordinate landscaping with existing and proposed underground and overhead utility lines so as to avoid interference with plant growth.

e. Existing Trees. The preservation and incorporation of existing trees in a landscape plan is encouraged. Where existing trees are used to satisfy the requirements of this Section, the following requirements shall apply:

(1) Paving, or other site improvements, shall not encroach upon the dripline of the existing tree(s) to be preserved.

(2) If existing plant material is labeled "To Remain" on site plans by the applicant or required by the Township, protective techniques, such as, but not limited to, fencing or barriers placed at the dripline around the perimeter of the plant material shall be installed during construction. No vehicle or other construction equipment shall be parked or stored within the dripline of any plant material intended to be saved. Other protective techniques may be used provided such techniques are approved by the Township.

(3) In the event that healthy trees which are used to meet the minimum requirements of this Ordinance or those labeled to remain are cut down, destroyed, damaged, or excavated at the dripline, as determined by the Township, the Contractor shall replace them with trees which meet Ordinance requirements.

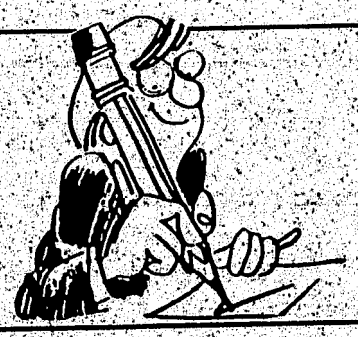

f. Stormwater Retention and Detention Ponds. The integration of stormwater retention and detention ponds in the overall landscape concept is recommended. Ponds with a natural, rather than square or rectangular, design and appearance shall be encouraged.

g. Installation, Maintenance, and Completion.

(1) All landscaping required by this Ordinance shall be planted before obtaining a Certificate of Occupancy or the appropriate financial guarantee such as cash, letter of credit, and/or certified check shall be placed in escrow in the amount of the cost of landscaping to be released only after landscaping is completed.

(2) All landscaping and landscape elements shall be planted, and earth moving or grading performed, in a sound workmanlike manner, according to accpeted planting and grading procedures.

(3) Landscaping required by this Ordinance shall be maintained in a reasonably healthy condition, free from refuse and debris. All unhealthy and dead material shall be replaced within one (1) year of damage or death or the next appropriate planting period, whichever comes first. All landscaped areas shall be provided with a readily available and acceptable water supply.

12. Minimum Size and Spacing Requirements. Where landscaping is required the following schedule sets forth minimum size and spacing requirements for representative landscape materials, unless otherwise specified in this Section:

COUNTY OF OAKLAND
CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE
RESOLUTION GOVERNING OPEN BURNING OF YARD WASTE

RECITATIONS:

The Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence has adopted ordinance code provisions for the purpose of regulating open burning in the Township.

Such ordinance provisions contemplate the adoption of a resolution providing standards and guidelines relative to the open burning of yard waste.

This Resolution is adopted for the purpose of providing such standards and guidelines.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the following standards and guidelines shall apply to the open burning of yard waste, including, without limitation, leaves and twigs:

1. The open burning of yard waste shall be permitted only upon application for and the receipt of a permit from the Independence Township Fire Department.

2. Open burning of yard waste shall be permitted only during the following periods of time:

(a) On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays during the periods March 1-15, May 15-30 and December 1-15.

(b) On Tuesdays, Thursdays and the first and third Saturdays of the month during the period September 15 thru November 15, provided, however, no burning shall be permitted on October 30 and/or October 31.

3. If atmospheric conditions require, in the discretion of the Fire Department, the right to burn during such periods may be cancelled on a day-to-day basis.

4. Open burning shall be permitted only during the hours of 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. on the days permitted, above, provided, however, such hours shall be extended to 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. during daylight savings time.

5. No flammable liquids shall be burned, and no flammable liquids shall be used to start a fire.

6. Open burning shall not be permitted within 50 feet of any structure and/or within the public right-of-way and/or on a pedestrian sidewalk and/or safety path.

Section 4 of Ordinance

Except as expressly amended, above, the Charter Township of Independence Code shall remain in full force and effect as adopted and amended prior to the effectiveness of this ordinance.

Section 5 of ordinance

This ordinance shall be effective immediately upon publication.

Respectfully Submitted,
Joan E. McCrary

Scholarship formed

A new scholarship was announced Sept. 3 and is open to all Oakland County residents.

The Nippondenso/ Oakland Schools Education Foundation was formed to provide the college scholarships.

Nippondenso Co., Ltd., endowed $200,000 to the fund, with $50,000 installment supplements in 1992 and 1993.

Primarily intended to assist outstanding Oakland County high school students — those who have shown academic excellence and meaningful community involvement and have a need for financial support — the fund also provides scholarships for secondary education summer arts programs at Interlochen and Blue Lake. It also may be used by adults who meet the criteria.

For more information, write to Jackie Moase-Burke at Oakland Schools after No, 1.

Nippondenso Co., Ltd., of Japan, a worldwide supplier of automotive electrical components, has had offices in the Southfield area since 1969.

Pet of the Week

BEAMER is a clean-shaven kitty in search of a home.

Bashful Beamer

Beamer is a little on the shy side, and he's looking for a home.

This 5-year-old Persian is silver colored and housebroken. He's been neutered and his front paws have been declawed.

Beamer was a stray, and because of his mangy condition he's been shaved from the neck down.

His adoption fee is $25.

To see Beamer, visit the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Road, Rochester Hills, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

–Curt McAllister

Business brief

New recruiter

A new Air Force recruiter has been appointed to serve the Clarkston area, as well as other parts of Oakland County.

Staff Sgt. Ann McKinley of Jackson started duties July 22 as a recruiter based in the Air Force office on M-59, Waterford Township.

Formerly a dental technician at Plattsburgh Air Force Base, N.Y., she will be a recruiter in the area for four years.

Her goal, she said, is to recruit capable young Americans to serve their country through the Air Force. Mostly, she speaks at high schools, open houses and parades in the Clarkston, Holly, Milford and Walled Lake areas.

We Are SIDING And GUTTER Specialists
We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. But what we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We don't get your job and sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability and someone that will still be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.

Last days of August

Photos by Julie Campe

ANDREW Butora, 7, of Andersonville Road, Springfield Township, doesn't mind giving a ride to his sister, Ashley, 16 months. The two descended upon Clintonwood Park, Independence Township, with their cousins about a week before school started.

THE STAIRS occupy Elizabeth Crandell, 2, of Meyers, Independence Township. The toddler spent the day with her cousins at Clintonwood Park but didn't try any of the slides or other attractions, preferring only the stairs.

JIMMY Swanson, 3, of West Bloomfield finds it easy to make friends at Clintonwood Park. He took a break from watching his grandfather, Henry Leeds, play softball and, as he ran to the playground equipment, shouted, "Hi. My name is Jimmy Swanson. Do you want to play?"
